<sup>3</sup>But Jeremiah answered them, "Tell King Zedekiah this: <sup>4</sup>Here is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: You have weapons of war in your hands to defend yourselves against the king of Babylon and the Babylonians, who are all around the city wall. But I will make those weapons useless. Soon I will bring them into the center of this city. <sup>5</sup>In my anger, my very great anger, I myself will fight against you with my great power and strength. <sup>6</sup>I will kill everything living in Jerusalem—both people and animals. They will die from terrible diseases. <sup>7</sup>Then, says the Lord, I'll hand over Zedekiah king of Judah, his officers, and the people in Jerusalem who do not die from the terrible diseases or battle or hunger, to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. I will let those win who want to kill the people of Judah, so the people of Judah and Jerusalem will be killed in war. Nebuchadnezzar will not show any mercy or pity or feel sorry for them!"

Lord says: I will let you choose to live or die.<sup>9</sup> Anyone who stays in Jerusalem will die in war or from hunger or from a terrible disease. But anyone who goes out of Jerusalem and surrenders to the Babylonians who are attacking you will live. Anyone who leaves the city will save his life as if it were a prize won in war.<sup>10</sup> I have decided to make trouble for this city and not to help it, says the Lord. I will give it to the king of Babylon, and he will burn it with fire.’

You must judge people fairly every morning.

Save the person who has been robbed from the power of his attacker.

If you don’t, I will become very angry.

My anger will be like a fire that no one can put out, because you have done evil things.

<sup>13</sup>“Jerusalem, I am against you, you who live on top of the mountain over this valley, says the Lord.

You say, “No one can attack us or come into our strong city.”

<sup>14</sup>But I will give you the punishment you deserve, says
the Lord.

I will start a fire in your forests that will burn up everything around you!”

Judgment Against Evil Kings

This is what the Lord says: “Go down to the palace of the king of Judah and prophesy this message there: <sup>2</sup>“Hear the word of the Lord, king of Judah, who rules from David’s throne. You and your officers, and your people who come through these gates, listen! <sup>3</sup>This is what the Lord says: Do what is fair and right. Save the one who has been robbed from the power of his attacker. Don’t mistreat or hurt the foreigners, orphans, or widows. Don’t kill innocent people here. <sup>4</sup>If you carefully obey these commands, kings who sit on David’s throne will come through the gates of this palace with their officers and people, riding in chariots and on horses. <sup>5</sup>But if you don’t obey these commands, says the Lord, I swear by my own name that this king’s palace will become a ruin.”

“You are tall like the forests of Gilead, like the mountaintops of Lebanon.

But I will truly make you into a desert, into towns where no one lives.

<sup>7</sup>I will send men to destroy the palace, each with his weapons.

They will cut up your strong, beautiful cedar beams and throw them into the fire.

<sup>8</sup>“People from many nations will pass by this city and ask each other, ‘Why has the Lord done such a terrible thing to Jerusalem, this great city?’<sup>9</sup> And the answer will be: ‘Because the people of Judah quit following the agreement with the Lord their God. They worshiped and served other gods.’”

Judgment Against Jehoahaz

<sup>10</sup>Don’t cry for the dead king or be sad about him.
But cry painfully for the king who is being taken away, because he will never return or see his homeland again.

<sup>11</sup>This is what the Lord says about Jehoahaz son of Josiah who became king of Judah after his father died and who has left this place: “He will never return. <sup>12</sup>He will die where he has been taken captive, and he will not see this land again.”

Judgment Against Jehoiakim

<sup>13</sup>“How terrible it will be for one who builds his palace by doing evil,
who cheats people so he can build its upper rooms.
He makes his own people work for nothing and does not pay them.
<sup>14</sup>He says, ‘I will build a great palace for myself with large upper rooms.’
So he builds it with large windows and uses cedar wood for the walls, which he paints red.

<sup>15</sup>“Does having a lot of cedar in your house make you a great king?

Your father was satisfied to have food and drink.

He did what was right and fair,
so everything went well for him.

<sup>16</sup>He helped those who were poor and needy,
so everything went well for him.

That is what it means to know God,”
says the Lord.

<sup>17</sup>“But you only look for and think about what you can get dishonestly.

You are even willing to kill innocent people to get it.
You feel free to hurt people and to steal from them.”

<sup>18</sup>So this is what the Lord says to Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah:

“The people of Judah will not cry when Jehoiakim dies, saying: ‘Oh, my brother,’ or ‘Oh, my sister.’

They will not cry for him, saying:

‘Oh, master,’ or ‘Oh, my king.’

<sup>19</sup>They will bury him like a donkey, dragging his body away

and throwing it outside the gates of Jerusalem.

<sup>20</sup>“Judah, go up to Lebanon and cry out.

Let your voice be heard in Bashan.

Cry out from Abarim,

because all your friends are destroyed!

<sup>21</sup>Judah, when you were successful, I warned you, but you said, ‘I won’t listen.’

You have acted like this since you were young;

you have not obeyed me.

<sup>22</sup>Like a storm, my punishment will blow all your shepherds away and send your friends into captivity.

Then you will really be ashamed and disgraced because of all the wicked things you did.

<sup>23</sup>King, you live in your palace, cozy in your rooms of cedar.

But when your punishment comes, how you will groan like a woman giving birth to a baby!

Judgment upon Jehoiachin

<sup>24</sup>“As surely as I live,” says the Lord, “Jehoiachin son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, even if you were a signet ring on my right hand, I would still pull you off. <sup>25</sup>I will hand you over to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and to the Babylonians—those people you fear because they want to kill you. <sup>26</sup>I will throw you and your mother into another country. Neither of you was born there, but both of you will die there. <sup>27</sup>They will want to come back, but they will never be able to return.”

Why will Jehoiachin and his children be thrown out and sent into a foreign land?

“Write this down in the record about Jehoiachin:

He is a man without children,
a man who will not be successful in his lifetime.
And none of his descendants will be successful;
none will sit on the throne of David or rule in Judah.”

The Evil Leaders of Judah

“How terrible it will be for the leaders of Judah, who are scattering and destroying my people,” says the Lord.

<sup>2</sup>They are responsible for the people, so the Lord, the God of Israel, says to them: “You have scattered my people and forced them away and not taken care of them. So I will punish you for the evil things you have done,” says the Lord. <sup>3</sup>“I sent my people to other countries, but I will gather those who are left alive and bring them back to their own country. Then they will have many children and grow in number. <sup>4</sup>I will place new leaders over my people, who will take care of them. And my people will not be afraid or terrified again, and none of them will be lost,” says the Lord.

The Good Branch Will Come

<sup>5</sup>“The days are coming,” says the Lord,
“when I will raise up a good branch in David’s family.
He will be a king who will rule in a wise way;
he will do what is fair and right in the land.

<sup>6</sup>In his time Judah will be saved,
and Israel will live in safety.

This will be his name:
The Lord Does What Is Right.

<sup>7</sup>“So the days are coming,” says the Lord, “when people will not say again: ‘As surely as the Lord lives, who brought Israel out of Egypt ... ’<sup>8</sup>But people will say something new: ‘As surely as the Lord lives, who brought the descendants of Israel from the land of the north and from all the countries where he had sent them away ... ’ Then the people of Israel will live in their own land.”

False Prophets Will Be Punished

<sup>9</sup>A message to the prophets:

My heart is broken.

All my bones shake.

I’m like someone who is drunk,

like someone who has been overcome with wine.

This is because of the Lord and his holy words.

<sup>10</sup>The land of Judah is full of people who are guilty of adultery.

Because of this, the Lord cursed the land.

It has become a very sad place, and the pastures have dried up.

The people are evil and use their power in the wrong way.

<sup>11</sup>“Both the prophets and the priests live as if there were no God.

I have found them doing evil things even in my own Temple,” says the Lord.

<sup>12</sup>“So they will be in danger.

They will be forced into darkness where they will be defeated.

I will bring disaster on them in the year I punish them,” says the Lord.

<sup>13</sup>“I saw the prophets of Samaria do something wrong.

Those prophets prophesied by Baal
and led my people Israel away.

<sup>14</sup>And I have seen the prophets of Jerusalem do terrible things.

They are guilty of adultery and live by lies.

They encourage evil people to keep on doing evil,
so the people don’t stop sinning.

All of those people are like the city of Sodom.

The people of Jerusalem are like the city of Gomorrah
to me!”

<sup>15</sup>So this is what the Lord All-Powerful says about the prophets:

“I will make those prophets eat bitter food and drink poisoned water, because the prophets of Jerusalem spread wickedness through the whole country.”

<sup>16</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says:

“Don’t pay attention to what those prophets are saying to you.

They are trying to fool you.

They talk about visions their own minds made up,
not about visions from me.

<sup>17</sup>They say to those who hate me:
‘The Lord says: You will have peace.’

They say to all those who are stubborn and do as they please:

‘Nothing bad will happen to you.’

<sup>18</sup>But none of these prophets has stood in the meeting of angels to see or hear the message of the Lord.

None of them has paid close attention to his message.

<sup>19</sup>Look, the punishment from the Lord will come like a storm.

His anger will be like a hurricane.

It will come swirling down on the heads of those wicked people.

<sup>20</sup>The Lord’s anger will not stop until he finishes what he plans to do.

When that day is over, you will understand this clearly.

<sup>21</sup>I did not send those prophets, but they ran to tell their message.

I did not speak to them, but they prophesied anyway.

<sup>22</sup>But if they had stood in the meeting of angels, they would have told my message to my people.

They would have turned the people from their evil ways and from doing evil.

<sup>23</sup>“I am a God who is near,” says the Lord.

“I am also a God who is far away.”

where I cannot see him,” says the Lord.

“I fill all of heaven and earth,” says the Lord.

<sup>25</sup>“I have heard the prophets who prophesy lies in my name. They say, ‘I have had a dream! I have had a dream!’ <sup>26</sup>How long will this continue in the minds of these lying prophets? They prophesy from their own wishful thinking. <sup>27</sup>They are trying to make the people of Judah forget me by telling each other these dreams. In the same way, their ancestors forgot me and worshiped Baal. <sup>28</sup>Is straw the same thing as wheat?” says the Lord. “If a prophet wants to tell about his dreams, let him! But let the person who hears my message speak it truthfully! <sup>29</sup>Isn’t my message like a fire?” says the Lord. “Isn’t it like a hammer that smashes a rock?”

<sup>30</sup>“So I am against the false prophets,” says the Lord. “They keep stealing words from each other and say they are from me. <sup>31</sup>I am against the false prophets,” says the Lord. “They use their own words and pretend it is a message from me. <sup>32</sup>I am against the prophets who prophesy false dreams,” says the Lord. “They mislead my people with their lies and false teachings! I did not send them or command them to do anything for me. They can’t help the people of Judah at all,” says the Lord.

The Sad Message from the Lord

<sup>33</sup>“Suppose the people of Judah, a prophet, or a priest asks you: ‘Jeremiah, what is the message from the Lord?’ You will answer them and say, ‘You are a heavy load to the Lord, and I will throw you down,’ says the Lord.” <sup>34</sup>A prophet or a priest or one of the people might say, ‘This is a message from the Lord.’

That person has lied, so I will punish him and his whole family.
<sup>35</sup>This is what you will say to each other: ‘What did the Lord answer?’ or ‘What did the Lord say?’ <sup>36</sup>But you will never again say, ‘The message of the Lord,’ because the only message you speak is your own words. You have changed the words of our God, the living God, the Lord All-Powerful. <sup>37</sup>This is how you should speak to the prophets: ‘What answer did the Lord give you?’ or ‘What did the Lord say?’ <sup>38</sup>But don’t say, ‘The message from the Lord.’ If you use these words, this is what the Lord says: Because you called it a ‘message from the Lord,’ though I told you not to use those words, <sup>39</sup>I will pick you up and throw you away from me, along with Jerusalem, which I gave to your ancestors and to you. <sup>40</sup>And I will make a disgrace of you forever; your shame will never be forgotten.”

Life Lessons

Jeremiah 24:1–26:24

Situation

Unless they turned from their sins, God vowed to exile Judah into Babylon for seventy years. Although the king threatened Jeremiah, the priests gradually believed that Jeremiah spoke with God's authority.

Observation

God promised protection for his people if they turned from their sin. If not, they would suffer his fierce wrath.

Inspiration

True confession cannot happen without repentance. Many times we don't confess our sin because we're not ready to let go of it. When I was a young Christian, I remember telling the Lord that I was sorry about particular sins I had committed and then thanked Him for already forgiving them. But that was all I did.

I reached a milestone in my spiritual life when I began to say, "Lord, thank You for forgiving those sins. I know they did not please You, and I never want to do them again." That can be hard to say because sometimes we want to commit certain sins again. But we betray a lack of spiritual maturity when we want to eliminate the penalty of sin but retain the pleasure. For your confession to be genuine, you must turn from your sins. (From Truth for Today by John MacArthur)

Application

Be thankful for a patient and loving God who forgives you when you are willing to honor and obey him. But don't take his graciousness lightly. Express your gratefulness for his mercy.

The Good and Bad Figs

Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon captured Jehoiachin son of Jehoiakim and king of Judah, his officers, and all the craftsmen and metalworkers of Judah. He took them away from Jerusalem and brought them to Babylon. It was then that the Lord showed me two baskets of figs arranged in front of the Temple of the Lord. <sup>2</sup>One of the baskets had very good figs in it, like figs that ripen early in the season. But the other basket had figs too rotten to eat.

I answered, “I see figs. The good figs are very good, but the rotten figs are too rotten to eat.”

<sup>4</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word to me: <sup>5</sup>“This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: ‘I sent the people of Judah out of their country to live in the country of Babylon. I think of those people as good, like these good figs. <sup>6</sup>I will look after them and bring them back to the land of Judah. I will not tear them down, but I will build them up. I will not pull them up, but I will plant them so they can grow. <sup>7</sup>I will make them want to know me, that I am the Lord. They will be my people, and I will be their God, because they will return to me with their whole hearts.

<sup>8</sup>“But the bad figs are too rotten to eat.’ So this is what the Lord says: ‘Zedekiah king of Judah, his officers, and all the people from Jerusalem who are left alive, even those who live in Egypt, will be like those rotten figs. <sup>9</sup>I will make those people hated as an evil people by all the kingdoms of the earth. People will make fun of them and tell jokes about them and point fingers at them and curse them everywhere I scatter them. <sup>10</sup>I will send war, hunger, and disease against them. I will attack them until they have all been killed. Then they will no longer be in the land I gave to them and their ancestors.”

A Summary of Jeremiah's Preaching

This is the message that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah. It came in the fourth year that Jehoiakim son of Josiah was king of Judah and the first year Nebuchadnezzar was king of Babylon.<sup>2</sup>This is the message Jeremiah the prophet spoke to all the people of Judah and Jerusalem:

<sup>3</sup>The Lord has spoken his word to me again and again for these past twenty-three years. I have been a prophet since the thirteenth year of Josiah son of Amon king of Judah. I have spoken messages from the Lord to you from that time until today, but you have not listened.

<sup>4</sup>The Lord has sent all his servants the prophets to you over and over again, but you have not listened or paid any attention to them. <sup>5</sup>Those prophets have said, "Stop your evil ways. Stop doing what is wrong so you can stay in the land that the Lord gave to you and your ancestors to live in forever. <sup>6</sup>Don't follow other gods to serve them or to worship them. Don't make me, the Lord, angry by worshiping idols that are the work of your own hands, or I will punish you."

<sup>7</sup>"But you people of Judah did not listen to me," says the Lord. "You made me angry by worshiping idols that were the work of your own hands, so I punished you."

<sup>8</sup>So this is what the Lord All-Powerful says: "Since you have not listened to my messages,<sup>9</sup>I will send for all the peoples of the north," says the Lord, "along with my servant Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. I will bring them all against Judah, those who live there, and all the nations around you, too. I will completely destroy all those countries and leave them in ruins forever. People will be shocked when they see how badly I have destroyed those countries. <sup>10</sup>I will bring an end to the sounds of joy and happiness, the sounds of brides and bridegrooms, and the sound of people grinding meal. And I will take away the light of the lamp. <sup>11</sup>That whole area will be an empty desert, and these nations will be slaves of the king of Babylon for seventy years.

<sup>12</sup>“But when the seventy years have passed, I will punish the king of Babylon and his entire nation for their evil,” says the Lord. “I will make that land a desert forever. <sup>13</sup>I will make happen all the terrible things I said about Babylonia—everything Jeremiah prophesied about all those foreign nations, the warnings written in this book. <sup>14</sup>Even the Babylonians will have to serve many nations and many great kings. I will give them the punishment they deserve for all their own hands have done.”

Judgment on the Nations

<sup>15</sup>The Lord, the God of Israel, said this to me: “My anger is like the wine in a cup. Take it from my hand and make all the nations, to whom I am sending you, drink all of my anger from this cup. <sup>16</sup>They will drink my anger and stumble about and act like madmen because of the war I am going to send among them.”

<sup>17</sup>So I took the cup from the Lord’s hand and went to those nations and made them drink from it. <sup>18</sup>I served this wine to the people of Jerusalem and the towns of Judah, and the kings and officers of Judah, so they would become a ruin. Then people would be shocked and would insult them and speak evil of them. And so it has been to this day. <sup>19</sup>I also made these people drink of the Lord's anger: the king of Egypt, his servants, his officers, all his people, <sup>20</sup>and all the foreigners there; all the kings of the land of Uz; all the kings of the Philistines (the kings of the cities of Ashkelon, Gaza, Ekron, and the people left at Ashdod); <sup>21</sup>the people of Edom, Moab, and Ammon; <sup>22</sup>all the kings of Tyre and Sidon; all the kings of the coastal countries to the west; <sup>23</sup>the people of Dedan and Tema and Buz; all who cut their hair short; <sup>24</sup>all the kings of Arabia; and the kings of the people who live in the desert; <sup>25</sup>all the kings of Zimri, Elam, and Media; <sup>26</sup>and all the kings of the north, near and far, one after the other. I made all the kingdoms on earth drink from the cup of the Lord's anger, but the king of Babylon will drink from this cup after all the others.

<sup>27</sup>“Then say to them, ‘This is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: Drink this cup of my anger. Get drunk from it and vomit. Fall down and don't get up because of the war I am sending among you!’

<sup>28</sup>“If they refuse to take the cup from your hand and drink, say to them, ‘The Lord All-Powerful says this: You must drink from this cup. <sup>29</sup>Look! I am already bringing disaster on Jerusalem, the city that is called by my name. Do you think you will not be punished? You will be punished! I am sending war on all the people of the earth, says the Lord All-Powerful.’

<sup>30</sup>“You, Jeremiah, will prophesy against them with all these words. Say to them:

‘The Lord will roar from heaven and will shout from his Holy Temple.
He will roar loudly against his land.

He will shout like people who walk on grapes to make wine;

he will shout against all who live on the earth.

<sup>31</sup>The noise will spread all over the earth, because the Lord will accuse all the nations.

He will judge and tell what is wrong with all people, and he will kill the evil people with a sword,” says the Lord.

<sup>32</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says:

“Disasters will soon spread from nation to nation.

They will come like a powerful storm from the faraway places on earth.”

<sup>33</sup>At that time those killed by the Lord will reach from one end of the earth to the other. No one will cry for them or gather up their bodies and bury them. They will be left lying on the ground like dung.

Roll around in the dust, leaders of the people!

It is now time for you to be killed.

You will fall and be scattered, like pieces of a broken jar.

<sup>35</sup>There will be no place for the leaders to hide;

they will not escape.

<sup>36</sup>I hear the sound of the leaders shouting.

I hear the leaders of the people crying loudly, because the Lord is destroying their land.

<sup>37</sup>Those peaceful pastures will be like an empty desert, because the Lord is very angry.

Their land has been destroyed because of the terrible war he brought, because of his fierce anger.

Jeremiah's Lesson at the Temple

This message came from the Lord soon after Jehoiakim son of Josiah became king of Judah.<sup>2</sup>This is what the Lord said: "Jeremiah, stand in the courtyard of the Temple of the Lord. Give this message to all the people of the towns of Judah who are coming to worship at the Temple of the Lord. Tell them everything I tell you to say; don't leave out a word.<sup>3</sup>Maybe they will listen and stop their evil ways. If they will, I will change my mind about bringing on them the disaster that I am planning because of the evil they have done.<sup>4</sup>Say to them: 'This is what the Lord says: You must obey me and follow my teachings that I gave you.<sup>5</sup>You must listen to what my servants the prophets say to you. I have sent them to you again and again, but you did not listen.<sup>6</sup>If you don't obey me, I will destroy my Temple in Jerusalem as I destroyed my Holy Tent at Shiloh. When I do, people all over the world will curse Jerusalem.'"

<sup>10</sup>Now when the officers of Judah heard about what was happening, they came out of the king's palace and went up to the Temple of the Lord and took their places at the entrance of the New Gate. <sup>11</sup>Then the priests and prophets said to the officers and all the other people, "Jeremiah should be killed. He prophesied against Jerusalem, and you heard him yourselves."

<sup>12</sup>Then Jeremiah spoke these words <sup>12</sup>to all the officers of Judah and all the other people: "The Lord sent me to say everything you have heard about this Temple and this city. <sup>13</sup>Now change your lives and start doing good and obey the Lord your God. Then he will change his mind and not bring on you the disaster he has told you about. <sup>14</sup>As for me, I am in your power. Do to me what you think is good and right. <sup>15</sup>But be sure of one thing. If you kill me, you will be guilty of killing an innocent person. You will make this city and everyone who lives in it guilty, too! The Lord truly sent me to you to give you this message."

<sup>16</sup>Then the officers and all the people said to the priests and the prophets, "Jeremiah must not be killed. What he told us comes from the Lord our God."

<sup>17</sup>Then some of the older leaders of Judah stood up and said to all the people, <sup>18</sup>"Micah, from the city of Moresheth, was a prophet during the time Hezekiah was king of Judah. Micah said to all the people of Judah, 'This is what the Lord All-Powerful says:

Jerusalem will be plowed like a field.
It will become a pile of rocks, and the hill where the Temple stands will be covered with bushes.'

<sup>19c</sup>“Hezekiah king of Judah and the people of Judah did not kill Micah. You know that Hezekiah feared the Lord and tried to please the Lord. So the Lord changed his mind and did not bring on Judah the disaster he had promised. If we hurt Jeremiah, we will bring a terrible disaster on ourselves!”

<sup>20</sup>(Now there was another man who prophesied in the name of the Lord. His name was Uriah son of Shemaiah from the city of Kiriath Jearim. He preached the same things against Jerusalem and the land of Judah that Jeremiah did. <sup>21</sup>When King Jehoiakim, all his army officers, and all the leaders of Judah heard Uriah preach, King Jehoiakim wanted to kill Uriah. But Uriah heard about it and was afraid. So he escaped to Egypt. <sup>22</sup>Then King Jehoiakim sent Elnathan son of Acbor and some other men to Egypt, <sup>23</sup>and they brought Uriah back from Egypt. Then they took him to King Jehoiakim, who had Uriah killed with a sword. His body was thrown into the burial place where poor people are buried.) <sup>24</sup>Ahikam son of Shaphan supported Jeremiah. So Ahikam did not hand Jeremiah over to be killed by the people.

Life Lessons

Jeremiah 27:1–29:32

Situation

Jeremiah responded to the false prophets. One false prophet, Hananiah, said that the “yoke” of Babylon would be broken in two years.

Observation

After seventy years the people would seek for God and would find him (29:10–14). We, too, need to trust him for the future and seek him in all our circumstances.

Inspiration

“If only you knew ...” are God’s words to us.

No lectures. No speeches. No homilies on how far he has come to help. No finger-pointing at our past. None of that. Just an appeal. An appeal for trust. “If only you knew ...”

“If only you knew that I came to help and not condemn. If only you knew that tomorrow will be better than today. If only you knew the gift I have brought: eternal life. If only you knew I want you safely home.”

If only you knew.

What wistful words to come from the lips of God. How kind that he would let us hear them. How crucial that we pause to hear them. If only we knew to trust. Trust that God is in our corner. Trust that God wants what is best. Trust that he really means it when he says, “I have good plans for you, not plans to hurt you. I will give you hope and a good future”

(Jeremiah 29:11).

If only we could learn to trust him.

But how hard it is. We quiver like the bird on the ledge, ducking the hand that comes to help. We forget that he is the pilot and we are his passengers.

We accuse, falsely. We reject, naively.

If only we knew.

When he washed the disciples’ feet, he was washing ours; when he calmed their storms, he was calming yours; when he forgave Peter, he was forgiving all the penitent. If only we knew.

He still sends pigeons to convince the lost and music to inspire the dance.

He still makes our storms his path, our graves his proof, and our souls his passion.

He hasn’t changed. He trims branches so we can bear fruit; he calls the sheep that we might be safe; he hears the prayers of crooks so we might go home.

His thunder is still gentle.

And his gentleness still thunders.

If only you knew “the free gift of God and who it is that is asking you ...”

The gift and the Giver. If you know them, you know all you need. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Nebuchadnezzar Is Made Ruler

The Lord spoke his word to Jeremiah soon after Zedekiah son of Josiah was made king of Judah. <sup>2</sup>This is what the Lord said to me: “Make a yoke out of straps and poles, and put it on the back of your neck. <sup>3</sup>Then send messages to the kings of Edom, Moab, Ammon, Tyre, and Sidon by their messengers who have come to Jerusalem to see Zedekiah king of Judah. <sup>4</sup>Tell them to give this message to their masters: ‘The Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: “Tell your masters: <sup>5</sup>I made the earth, its people, and all its animals with my great power and strength. I can give the earth to anyone I want. <sup>6</sup>Now I have given all these lands to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, my servant. I will make even the wild animals obey him. <sup>7</sup>All nations will serve Nebuchadnezzar and his son and grandson. Then the time will come for Babylon to be defeated, and many nations and great kings will make Babylon their servant.

<sup>8</sup>““But if some nations or kingdoms refuse to serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and refuse to be under his control, I will punish them with war, hunger, and terrible diseases, says the Lord. I will use Nebuchadnezzar to destroy them. <sup>9</sup>So don’t listen to your false prophets, those who use magic to tell the future, those who explain dreams, the mediums, or magicians. They all tell you, ‘You will not be slaves to the king of Babylon.’ <sup>10</sup>They are telling you lies that will cause you to be taken far from your homeland. I will force you to leave your homes, and you will die in another land.

<sup>11</sup>But the nations who put themselves under the control of the king of Babylon and serve him I will let stay in their own country, says the Lord. The people from those nations will live in their own land and farm it.” ”

<sup>12</sup>I gave the same message to Zedekiah king of Judah. I said, “Put yourself under the control of the king of Babylon and serve him, and you will live. <sup>13</sup>Why should you and your people die from war, hunger, or disease, as the Lord said would happen to those who do not serve the king of Babylon? <sup>14</sup>But the false prophets are saying, ‘You will never be slaves to the king of Babylon.’ Don’t listen to them because they are prophesying lies to you! <sup>15</sup>‘I did not send them,’ says the Lord. ‘They are prophesying lies and saying the message is from me. So I will send you away, Judah. And you and those prophets who prophesy to you will die.’”

<sup>16</sup>Then I, Jeremiah, said to the priests and all the people, “This is what the Lord says: Those false prophets are saying, ‘The Babylonians will soon return what they took from the Temple of the Lord.’ Don’t listen to them! They are prophesying lies to you. <sup>17</sup>Don’t listen to those prophets. But serve the king of Babylon, and you will live. There is no reason for you to cause Jerusalem to become a ruin. <sup>18</sup>If they are prophets and have the message from the Lord, let them pray to the Lord All-Powerful. Let them ask that the items which are still in the Temple of the Lord and in the king’s palace and in Jerusalem not be taken away to Babylon.

<sup>19</sup>“This is what the Lord All-Powerful says about those items left in Jerusalem: the pillars, the large bronze bowl, which is called the Sea, the stands that can be moved, and other things. <sup>20</sup>Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon did not take these away when he took as captives Jehoiachin son of Jehoiakim king of Judah and all the other important people from Judah and Jerusalem to Babylon. <sup>21</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says about the items left in the Temple of the Lord and in the king's palace and in Jerusalem: <sup>22</sup>'All of them will also be taken to Babylon. And they will stay there until the day I go to get them,' says the Lord. 'Then I will bring them back and return them to this place.'"

The False Prophet Hananiah

It was in that same year, in the fifth month of Zedekiah's fourth year as king of Judah, soon after he began to rule. The prophet Hananiah son of Azzur, from the town of Gibeon, spoke to me in the Temple of the Lord in front of the priests and all the people. He said: <sup>2</sup>“The Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: ‘I have broken the yoke the king of Babylon has put on Judah. <sup>3</sup>Before two years are over, I will bring back everything that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took to Babylon from the Lord's Temple. <sup>4</sup>I will also bring back Jehoiachin son of Jehoiakim king of Judah and all the other captives from Judah who went to Babylon,’ says the Lord. ‘So I will break the yoke the king of Babylon put on Judah.’”

<sup>5</sup>Then the prophet Jeremiah spoke to the prophet Hananiah in front of the priests and all the people who were standing in the Temple of the Lord. <sup>6</sup>He said, “Amen! Let the Lord really do that! May the Lord make the message you prophesy come true. May he bring back here everything from the Lord's Temple and all the people who were taken as captives to Babylon.

<sup>7</sup>“But listen to what I am going to say to you and all the people. <sup>8</sup>There were prophets long before we became prophets, Hananiah. They prophesied that war, hunger, and terrible diseases would come to many countries and great kingdoms. <sup>9</sup>But if a prophet prophesies that we will have peace and that message comes true, he can be recognized as one truly sent by the Lord.”

neck and broke it. <sup>11</sup>Hananiah said in front of all the people, “This is what the Lord says: ‘In the same way I will break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. He put that yoke on all the nations of the world, but I will break it before two years are over.’” After Hananiah had said that, Jeremiah left the Temple.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord spoke his word to Jeremiah after the prophet Hananiah had broken the yoke off of the prophet Jeremiah’s neck. <sup>13</sup>The Lord said, “Go and tell Hananiah, ‘This is what the Lord says: You have broken a wooden yoke, but I will make a yoke of iron in its place!’” <sup>14</sup>The Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: I will put a yoke of iron on the necks of all these nations to make them serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and they will be slaves to him. I will even give Nebuchadnezzar control over the wild animals.’”

<sup>15</sup>Then the prophet Jeremiah said to the prophet Hananiah, “Listen, Hananiah! The Lord did not send you, and you have made the people of Judah trust in lies. <sup>16</sup>So this is what the Lord says: ‘Soon I will remove you from the earth. You will die this year, because you taught the people to turn against the Lord.’”

A Letter to the Captives in Babylon

This is the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem to the older leaders who were among the captives, the priests, and the prophets. He sent it to all the other people Nebuchadnezzar had taken as captives from Jerusalem to Babylon. <sup>2</sup>(This letter was sent after all these people were taken away: Jehoiachin the king and the queen mother; the officers and leaders of Judah and Jerusalem; and the craftsmen and metalworkers from Jerusalem.) <sup>3</sup>Zedekiah king of Judah sent Elasah son of Shaphan and Gemariah son of Hilkiah to Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. So Jeremiah gave them this letter to carry to Babylon: <sup>4</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says to all those people I sent away from Jerusalem as captives to Babylon: <sup>5</sup>“Build houses and settle in the land. Plant gardens and eat the food they grow. <sup>6</sup>Get married and have sons and daughters. Find wives for your sons, and let your daughters be married so they also may have sons and daughters. Have many children in Babylon; don’t become fewer in number. <sup>7</sup>Also do good things for the city where I sent you as captives. Pray to the Lord for the city where you are living, because if good things happen in the city, good things will happen to you also.” <sup>8</sup>The Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: “Don’t let the prophets among you and the people who do magic fool you. Don’t listen to their dreams. <sup>9</sup>They are prophesying lies to you, saying that their message is from me. But I did not send them,” says the Lord.

<sup>10</sup>This is what the Lord says: “Babylon will be powerful for seventy years. After that time I will come to you, and I will keep my promise to bring you back to Jerusalem. <sup>11</sup>I say this because I know what I am planning for you,” says the Lord. “I have good plans for you, not plans to hurt you. I will give you hope and a good future. <sup>12</sup>Then you will call my name. You will come to me and pray to me, and I will listen to you. <sup>13</sup>You will search for me. And when you search for me with all your heart, you will find me! <sup>14</sup>I will let you find me,” says the Lord. “And I will bring you back from your captivity. I forced you to leave this place, but I will gather you from all the nations, from the places I have sent you as captives,” says the Lord. “And I will bring you back to this place.”

<sup>16</sup>But the Lord says this about the king who is sitting on David’s throne now and all the other people still in Jerusalem, your relatives who did not go as captives to Babylon with you.

<sup>17</sup>The Lord All-Powerful says: “I will soon send war, hunger, and terrible diseases against those still in Jerusalem. I will make them like bad figs that are too rotten to eat. <sup>18</sup>I will chase them with war, hunger, and terrible diseases. I will make them hated by all the kingdoms of the earth. People will curse them and be shocked and will use them as a shameful example wherever I make them go. <sup>19</sup>This is because they have not listened to my message,” says the Lord. “I sent my message to them again and again through my servants, the prophets, but they did not listen,” says the Lord.

Powerful, the God of Israel, says this about Ahab son of Kolaiah and Zedekiah son of Maaseiah: “These two men have been prophesying lies to you, saying that their message is from me. But soon I will hand over those two prophets to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he will kill them in front of you.<sup>22</sup>Because of them, all the captives from Judah in Babylon will use this curse: ‘May the Lord treat you like Zedekiah and Ahab, whom the king of Babylon burned in the fire.’<sup>23</sup>They have done evil things among the people of Israel. They are guilty of adultery with their neighbors’ wives. They have also spoken lies and said those lies were a message from me. I did not tell them to do that. I know what they have done; I am a witness to it,” says the Lord.

<sup>29</sup>Zephaniah the priest read the letter to Jeremiah the prophet.<sup>30</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word to Jeremiah:<sup>31</sup>“Send this message to all the captives in Babylon: ‘This is what the Lord says about Shemaiah the Nehelamite: Shemaiah has prophesied to you, but I did not send him. He has made you believe a lie.<sup>32</sup> So the Lord says, I will soon punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite and his family. He will not see the good things I will do for my people, says the Lord. None of his family will be left alive among the people, because he has taught the people to turn against me.”

Life Lessons

Jeremiah 30:1–33:26

Situation

Jeremiah did not just preach doom and gloom. He told the people to hope in God, who would restore them.

Observation

Christians must never lose all hope. Our belief in Jesus Christ gives us hope for the future.

Inspiration

For thousands of years, using his wit and charm, man had tried to be friends with God. And for thousands of years he had let God down more than he had lifted him up. He's done the very thing he promised he'd never do. It was a fiasco. Even the holiest of the heroes sometimes forgot whose side they were on. Some of the scenarios in the Bible look more like the adventures of Sinbad the sailor than stories for vacation Bible school. Remember these characters?

Aaron. Right-hand man to Moses. Witness of the plagues. Member of the "Red Sea Riverbed Expedition." Holy priest of God. But if he was so saintly, what is he doing leading the Israelites in fireside aerobics in front of the golden calf?

The sons of Jacob. The fathers of the tribes of Israel. Great-grandsons of Abraham. Yet, if they were so special, why were they gagging their younger brother and sending him to Egypt?

David. The man after God's own heart. The King's king. The giant-slayer and songwriter. He's also the guy whose glasses got steamy as a result of a bath on a roof. Unfortunately, the water wasn't his, nor was the woman he was watching.

And Samson. Swooning on Delilah's couch, drunk on the wine, perfume, and soft lights. He's thinking, She's putting on something more comfortable. She's thinking, I know I put those shears in here somewhere.

Adam adorned in fig leaves and stains of forbidden fruit. Moses throwing both a staff and a temper tantrum. King Saul looking into a crystal ball for the will of God. Noah, drunk and naked in his own tent.

These are the chosen ones of God? This is the royal lineage of the King? These are the ones who were to carry out God's mission?

It's easy to see the absurdity.

Why didn't he give up? Why didn't he let the globe spin off its axis?

Even after generations of people had spit in his face, he still loved them. After a nation of chosen ones had stripped him naked and ripped his incarnated flesh, he still died for them. And even today, after billions have chosen to prostitute themselves before the pimps of power, fame, and wealth, he still waits for them.

It is inexplicable. It doesn't have a drop of logic nor a thread of rationality.

And yet, it is that very irrationality that gives the gospel its greatest defense. For only God could love like that.

Hope—Proverbs 13:12; Isaiah 40:31; Jeremiah 29:11; Romans 15:13; Hebrews 11:1.

Promises of Hope

These are the words that the Lord spoke to Jeremiah.<sup>2</sup>The Lord, the God of Israel, said: “Jeremiah, write in a book all the words I have spoken to you.<sup>3</sup>The days will come when I will bring Israel and Judah back from captivity,” says the Lord. “I will return them to the land I gave their ancestors, and they will own it!” says the Lord.

<sup>4</sup>The Lord spoke this message about the people of Israel and Judah: <sup>5</sup>This is what the Lord said:

“We hear people crying from fear.

They are afraid; there is no peace.

<sup>6</sup>Ask this question, and consider it:

A man cannot have a baby.

So why do I see every strong man holding his stomach in pain like a woman having a baby?

Why is everyone’s face turning white like a dead man’s face?

<sup>7</sup>This will be a terrible day!

There will never be another time like this.

This is a time of great trouble for the people of Jacob, but they will be saved from it.”

<sup>8</sup>The Lord All-Powerful says, “At that time

I will break the yoke from their necks and tear off the ropes that hold them.
Foreign people will never again make my people slaves.

<sup>9</sup>They will serve the Lord their God and David their king, whom I will send to them.

<sup>10</sup>“So people of Jacob, my servants, don’t be afraid.
Israel, don’t be frightened,” says the Lord.

“I will soon save you from that faraway place where you are captives.

I will save your family from that land.
The people of Jacob will be safe and have peace again;
there will be no enemy to frighten them.

<sup>11</sup>I am with you and will save you,”
says the Lord.

“I will completely destroy all those nations
where I scattered you,
but I will not completely destroy you.
I will punish you fairly,
but I will still punish you.”

<sup>12</sup>This is what the Lord said:

“You people have a wound that cannot be cured;
your injury will not heal.

<sup>13</sup>There is no one to argue your case and no cure for your sores.

So you will not be healed.

<sup>14</sup>All those nations who were your friends have forgotten you.

They don't care about you.
I have hurt you as an enemy would.
I punished you very hard, because your guilt was so great and your sins were so many.

<sup>15</sup>Why are you crying out about your injury?

There is no cure for your pain.

I did these things to you because of your great guilt, because of your many sins.

<sup>16</sup>But all those nations that destroyed you will now be destroyed.

All your enemies will become captives in other lands.

Those who stole from you will have their own things stolen.

Those who took things from you in war will have their own things taken.

<sup>17</sup>I will bring back your health and heal your injuries," says the Lord,
"because other people forced you away.

They said about you, 'No one cares about Jerusalem!'"

"I will soon make the tents of Jacob's people as they used to be,

and I will have pity on Israel's houses.

The city will be rebuilt on its hill of ruins,
and the king's palace will stand in its proper place.

<sup>19</sup>People in those places will sing songs of praise.

There will be the sound of laughter.
I will give them many children so their number will not be small.
I will bring honor to them so no one will look down on them.

<sup>20</sup>Their descendants will be as they were in the old days.

I will set them up as a strong people before me, and I will punish the nations who have hurt them.

their ruler will come from among them.

He will come near to me when I invite him.

Who would dare to come to me uninvited?" says the Lord.

<sup>22</sup>"So you will be my people, and I will be your God."

He is angry and has gone out to punish the people.
Punishment will come like a storm crashing down on the evil people.

<sup>24</sup>The Lord will stay angry until he finishes punishing the people.

He will stay angry

until he finishes the punishment he planned.

When that day comes,
you will understand this.

The New Israel

The Lord says, “At that time I will be God of all Israel’s family groups, and they will be my people.”

“The people who were not killed by the enemy’s sword found help in the desert.
I came to give rest to Israel.”

<sup>3</sup>And from far away the Lord appeared to his people and said,

“I love you people
with a love that will last forever.
That is why I have continued
showing you kindness.

<sup>4</sup>People of Israel, I will build you up again, and you will be rebuilt.

You will pick up your tambourines again and dance with those who are joyful.

<sup>5</sup>You will plant vineyards again on the hills around Samaria.
The farmers will plant them and enjoy their fruit.

<sup>6</sup>There will be a time when watchmen in the mountains of Ephraim shout this message:

‘Come, let’s go up to Jerusalem to worship the Lord
our God!’”

“Be happy and sing for the people of Jacob.

Shout for Israel, the greatest of the nations.

Sing your praises and shout this:

‘Lord, save your people,

those who are left alive from the nation of Israel!’

<sup>8</sup>Look, I will soon bring Israel from the country in the north, and I will gather them from the faraway places on earth.

Some of the people are blind and crippled.

Some of the women are pregnant, and some are ready to give birth.

A great many people will come back.

<sup>9</sup>They will be crying as they come,

but they will pray as I bring them back.

I will lead those people by streams of water on an even road where they will not stumble.

I am Israel’s father, and Israel is my firstborn son.

<sup>10</sup>“Nations, listen to the message from the Lord.

Tell this message in the faraway lands by the sea:

‘The one who scattered the people of Israel will bring them back, and he will watch over his people like a shepherd.’

<sup>11</sup>The Lord will pay for the people of Jacob and will buy them back from people stronger than they were.

<sup>12</sup>The people of Israel will come to the high points of Jerusalem and shout for joy.

Their faces will shine with happiness about all the good things from the Lord:

the grain, new wine, oil, young sheep, and young cows.

They will be like a garden that has plenty of water, and they will not be troubled anymore.

<sup>13</sup>Then young women of Israel will be happy and dance, the young men and old men also.

I will change their sadness into happiness;

I will give them comfort and joy instead of sadness.

<sup>14</sup>The priests will have more than enough sacrifices, and my people will be filled with the good things I give them!” says the Lord.

“A voice was heard in Ramah of painful crying and deep sadness:
Rachel crying for her children.
She refused to be comforted,
because her children are dead!”

<sup>16</sup>But this is what the Lord says:

“Stop crying;
don’t let your eyes fill with tears.
You will be rewarded for your work!” says the Lord.
“The people will return from their enemy’s land.

<sup>17</sup>So there is hope for you in the future,” says the Lord.

“Your children will return to their own land.

‘Lord, you punished me, and I have learned my lesson.

I was like a calf that had never been trained.

Take me back so that I may come back.

You truly are the Lord my God.

<sup>19</sup>Lord, after I wandered away from you,

I changed my heart and life.

After I understood,

I beat my breast with sorrow.

I was ashamed and disgraced, because I suffered for the foolish things I did when I was young.’

<sup>20</sup>“You know that Israel is my dear son,

The child I love.

Yes, I often speak against Israel,

but I still remember him.

I love him very much,

and I want to comfort him,” says the Lord.

Put up signs to show you the way home.

Watch the road.

Pay attention to the road on which you travel.

People of Israel, come home,

come back to your towns.

How long will you wander before you come home?

The Lord has made something new happen in the land:

A woman will go seeking a man.”

<sup>23</sup>The Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: “I will again do good things for the people of Judah. At that time the people in the land of Judah and its towns will again use these words: ‘May the Lord bless you, home of what is good, holy mountain.’ <sup>24</sup>People in all the towns of Judah will live together in peace. Farmers and those who move around with their flocks will live together in peace. <sup>25</sup>I will give rest and strength to those who are weak and tired.”

<sup>26</sup>After hearing that, I, Jeremiah, woke up and looked around. My sleep had been very pleasant.

<sup>27</sup>The Lord says, “The time is coming when I will help the families of Israel and Judah and their children and animals to grow. <sup>28</sup>In the past I watched over Israel and Judah, to pull them up and tear them down, to destroy them and bring them disaster. But now I will watch over them to build them up and make them strong,” says the Lord.

‘The parents have eaten sour grapes,
and that caused the children to grind their teeth from
the sour taste.’

<sup>30</sup>Instead, each person will die for his own sin; the person who eats sour grapes will grind his own teeth.

The New Agreement

<sup>31</sup>“Look, the time is coming,” says the Lord,
“when I will make a new agreement with the people of Israel

and the people of Judah.

<sup>32</sup>It will not be like the agreement
I made with their ancestors
when I took them by the hand
to bring them out of Egypt.

I was a husband to them,
but they broke that agreement,” says the Lord.

<sup>33</sup>“This is the agreement I will make with the people of Israel at that time,” says the Lord:
“I will put my teachings in their minds
and write them on their hearts.

I will be their God,
and they will be my people.

<sup>34</sup>People will no longer have to teach their neighbors and relatives

to know the Lord,
because all people will know me,
from the least to the most important,” says the Lord.
“I will forgive them for the wicked things they did,
and I will not remember their sins anymore.”

The Lord Will Never Leave Israel

<sup>35</sup>The Lord makes the sun shine in the day and the moon and stars to shine at night.
He stirs up the sea so that its waves crash on the shore.

The Lord All-Powerful is his name.

This is what the Lord says:

<sup>36</sup>“Only if these laws should ever fail,”

says the Lord,

“will Israel’s descendants ever stop being a nation before me.”

“Only if people can measure the sky above and learn the secrets of the earth below, will I reject all the descendants of Israel

because of what they have done,” says the Lord.

The New Jerusalem

<sup>38</sup>The Lord says, “The time is coming when Jerusalem will be rebuilt for me—everything from the Tower of Hananel to the Corner Gate. <sup>39</sup>The measuring line will stretch from the Corner Gate straight to the hill of Gareb. Then it will turn to the place named Goah. <sup>40</sup>The whole valley where dead bodies and ashes are thrown, and all the terraces out to the Kidron Valley on the east as far as the corner of the Horse Gate—all that area will be holy to the Lord. The city of Jerusalem will never again be torn down or destroyed.”

Jeremiah Buys a Field

This is the word the Lord spoke to Jeremiah in the tenth year Zedekiah was king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar. <sup>2</sup>At that time the army of the king of Babylon was surrounding Jerusalem. Jeremiah the prophet was under arrest in the courtyard of the guard, which was at the palace of the king of Judah.

<sup>3</sup>Zedekiah king of Judah had put Jeremiah in prison there. Zedekiah had asked, “Why have you prophesied the things you have?” (Jeremiah had said, “This is what the Lord says: ‘I will soon hand the city of Jerusalem over to the king of Babylon, and he will capture it. <sup>4</sup>Zedekiah king of Judah will not escape from the Babylonian army, but he will surely be handed over to the king of Babylon. And he will speak to the king of Babylon face to face and see him with his own eyes. <sup>5</sup>The king will take Zedekiah to Babylon, where he will stay until I have punished him,’ says the Lord. ‘If you fight against the Babylonians, you will not succeed.’) <sup>6</sup>While Jeremiah was in prison, he said, “The Lord spoke this word to me: <sup>7</sup>Your cousin Hanamel, son of your uncle Shallum, will come to you soon. Hanamel will say to you, ‘Jeremiah, you are my nearest relative, so buy my field near the town of Anathoth. It is your right and your duty to buy that field.’”

<sup>8</sup>“Then it happened just as the Lord had said. My cousin Hanamel came to me in the courtyard of the guard and said to me, ‘Buy for yourself my field near Anathoth in the land of Benjamin. It is your right and duty to buy it and own it.’ So I knew this was a message from the Lord.

people, the Israelites, out of Egypt using signs and miracles and your great power and strength. You brought great terror on everyone.<sup>22</sup>You gave them this land that you promised to their ancestors long ago, a fertile land.<sup>23</sup>They came into this land and took it for their own, but they did not obey you or follow your teachings. They did not do everything you commanded. So you made all these terrible things happen to them.

<sup>24</sup>“Look! The enemy has surrounded the city and has built roads to the top of the walls to capture it. Because of war, hunger, and terrible diseases, the city will be handed over to the Babylonians who are attacking it. You said this would happen, and now you see it is happening.<sup>25</sup>But now, Lord God, you tell me, ‘Buy the field with silver and call in witnesses.’ You tell me this while the Babylonian army is ready to capture the city.”

<sup>26</sup>Then the Lord spoke this word to Jeremiah: <sup>27</sup>“I am the Lord, the God of every person on the earth. Nothing is impossible for me.<sup>28</sup>So this is what the Lord says: I will soon hand over the city of Jerusalem to the Babylonian army and to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, who will capture it.<sup>29</sup>The Babylonian army is already attacking the city of Jerusalem. They will soon enter it and start a fire to burn down the city and its houses. The people of Jerusalem offered sacrifices to Baal on the roofs of those same houses and poured out drink offerings to other idols to make me angry.<sup>30</sup>From their youth, the people of Israel and Judah have done only the things I said were wrong. They have made me angry by worshiping idols made with their own hands,” says the Lord.<sup>31</sup>“From the day Jerusalem was built until now, this city has made me angry, so angry that I must remove it from my sight. <sup>32</sup>I will destroy it, because of all the evil the people of Israel and Judah have done. The people, their kings and officers, their priests and prophets, all the people of Judah, and the people of Jerusalem have made me angry. <sup>33</sup>They turned their backs to me, not their faces. I tried to teach them again and again, but they wouldn't listen or learn. <sup>34</sup>They put their hateful idols in the place where I have chosen to be worshiped, so they made it unclean. <sup>35</sup>In the Valley of Ben Hinnom they built places to worship Baal so they could burn their sons and daughters as sacrifices to Molech. But I never commanded them to do such a hateful thing. It never entered my mind that they would do such a thing and cause Judah to sin.

<sup>36</sup>“You are saying, ‘Because of war, hunger, and terrible diseases, the city will be handed over to the king of Babylon.’ But the Lord, the God of Israel, says about Jerusalem: <sup>37</sup>I forced the people of Israel and Judah to leave their land, because I was furious and very angry with them. But soon I will gather them from all the lands where I forced them to go, and I will bring them back to this place, where they may live in safety. <sup>38</sup>The people of Israel and Judah will be my people, and I will be their God. <sup>39</sup>I will make them truly want to be one people with one goal. They will truly want to worship me all their lives, for their own good and for the good of their children after them.

<sup>40</sup>“I will make an agreement with them that will last forever. I will never turn away from them; I will always do good to them. I will make them want to respect me so they will never turn away from me. <sup>41</sup>I will enjoy doing good to them. And with my whole being I will surely plant them in this land and make them grow.”

disaster to the people of Israel and Judah. In the same way I will bring the good things that I promise to do for them.<sup>43</sup> You are saying, ‘This land is an empty desert, without people or animals. It has been handed over to the Babylonians.’ But in the future, people will again buy fields in this land.<sup>44</sup> They will use their money to buy fields. They will sign and seal their agreements and call in witnesses. They will again buy fields in the land of Benjamin, in the area around Jerusalem, in the towns of Judah and in the mountains, in the western hills, and in southern Judah. I will make everything as good for them as it once was,” says the Lord.

The Promise of the Lord

While Jeremiah was still locked up in the courtyard of the guards, the Lord spoke his word to him a second time: <sup>2</sup>“These are the words of the Lord, who made the earth, shaped it, and gave it order, whose name is the Lord: <sup>3</sup>Judah, pray to me, and I will answer you. I will tell you important secrets you have never heard before.” <sup>4</sup>This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says about the houses in Jerusalem and the royal palaces of Judah that have been torn down to be used in defense of the attack by the Babylonian army: <sup>5</sup>“Some people will come to fight against the Babylonians. They will fill these houses with the bodies of people I killed in my hot anger. I have turned away from this city because of all the evil its people have done.

<sup>6</sup>“But then I will bring health and healing to the people there. I will heal them and let them enjoy great peace and safety. <sup>7</sup>I will bring Judah and Israel back from captivity and make them strong countries as in the past. <sup>8</sup>They sinned against me, but I will wash away that sin. They did evil and turned away from me, but I will forgive them. <sup>9</sup>Then “Jerusalem” will be to me a name that brings joy! And people from all nations of the earth will praise it when they hear about the good things I am doing there. They will be surprised and shocked at all the good things and the peace I will bring to Jerusalem.”

<sup>10</sup>“You are saying, ‘Our country is an empty desert, without people or animals.’ But this is what the Lord says: It is now quiet in the streets of Jerusalem and in the towns of Judah, without people or animals, but it will be noisy there soon!

<sup>11</sup>There will be sounds of joy and gladness and the happy sounds of brides and bridegrooms. There will be the sounds of people bringing to the Temple of the Lord their offerings of thanks to the Lord. They will say,

‘Praise the Lord All-Powerful, because the Lord is good!
His love continues forever!’

They will say this because I will again do good things for Judah, as I did in the beginning,” says the Lord.

<sup>12</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: “This place is empty now, without people or animals. But there will be shepherds in all the towns of Judah and pastures where they let their flocks rest. <sup>13</sup>Shepherds will again count their sheep as the sheep walk in front of them. They will count them in the mountains and in the western hills, in southern Judah and the land of Benjamin, and around Jerusalem and the other towns of Judah!” says the Lord.

The Good Branch

<sup>14</sup>The Lord says, “The time is coming when I will do the good thing I promised to the people of Israel and Judah.

<sup>15</sup>In those days and at that time,
I will make a good branch sprout from David’s family.
He will do what is fair and right in the land.

<sup>16</sup>At that time Judah will be saved,
and the people of Jerusalem will live in safety.
The branch will be named:

The Lord Does What Is Right.”

<sup>17</sup>This is what the Lord says: “Someone from David’s family will always sit on the throne of the family of Israel. <sup>18</sup>And there will always be priests from the family of Levi. They will always stand before me to offer burnt offerings and grain offerings and sacrifices to me.”

<sup>23</sup>The Lord spoke his word to Jeremiah, saying: <sup>24</sup>“Jeremiah, have you heard what the people are saying? They say: ‘The Lord turned away from the two families of Israel and Judah that he chose.’ Now they don’t think of my people as a nation anymore!”

<sup>25</sup>This is what the Lord says: “If I had not made my agreement with day and night, and if I had not made the laws for the sky and earth, <sup>26</sup>only then would I turn away from Jacob’s descendants. And only then would I not let the descendants of David my servant rule over the descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. But I will be kind to them and cause good things to happen to them again.”

Jeremiah 34:1–35:19

Situation

Nebuchadnezzar attacked Jerusalem with a huge army. King Zedekiah of Judah fought for survival.

Observation

In chapter 35 the author contrasted faithless Judah and the faithful Recabites. The obedience of the latter would be rewarded.

Inspiration

Did you know it's not faith plus obedience that equals salvation, but obedient faith that equals salvation? True faith is verified in your obedience to God.

Because Jesus is Lord, He demands obedience. There is no faith without obedience. Paul said to the Roman Christians, "I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world" (Romans 1:8). And why was their faith spoken of throughout the world? Romans 16:19 explains, "Your obedience has become known to all." In the beginning, it is your faith that is spread abroad, but in the end it is your obedience.

Faith that excludes obedience won't save anyone. The delusion that it will causes many people to take the broad road that leads to destruction (Matthew 7:13–14). That's like building a religious superstructure on sand (Matthew 7:21–29). Build your life in obedience to Christ. Then you'll know that you belong to Him. (From Truth for Today by John MacArthur)

Application

Have you ever promised to do something for the Lord if he would grant your request? Then you're making a demand on God; he doesn't work that way. He wants us to be loyal and obedient constantly. His answer to our prayers reflects his perfect will for us.

Exploration

Obedience—Genesis 2:16–17; Exodus 8:25–29; Joshua 11:15; 1 Samuel 15:1–3, 9; Matthew 23:23–24; Romans 6:17.

A Warning to Zedekiah

The Lord spoke his word to Jeremiah when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon was fighting against Jerusalem and all the towns around it. Nebuchadnezzar had with him all his army and the armies of all the kingdoms and peoples he ruled.<sup>2</sup>This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, said: “Jeremiah, go to Zedekiah king of Judah and tell him: ‘This is what the Lord says: I will soon hand the city of Jerusalem over to the king of Babylon, and he will burn it down!’<sup>3</sup>You will not escape from the king of Babylon; you will surely be captured and handed over to him. You will see the king of Babylon with your own eyes, and he will talk to you face to face. And you will go to Babylon.<sup>4</sup>But, Zedekiah king of Judah, listen to the promise of the Lord. This is what the Lord says about you: You will not be killed with a sword.<sup>5</sup>You will die in a peaceful way. As people made funeral fires to honor your ancestors, the kings who ruled before you, so people will make a funeral fire to honor you. They will cry for you and sadly say, ‘Ah, master!’ I myself make this promise to you, says the Lord.”

<sup>6</sup>So Jeremiah the prophet gave this message to Zedekiah in Jerusalem.<sup>7</sup>This was while the army of the king of Babylon was fighting against Jerusalem and the cities of Judah that had not yet been taken—Lachish and Azekah. These were the only strong, walled cities left in the land of Judah.

Slaves Are Mistreated

<sup>8</sup>The Lord spoke his word to Jeremiah. This was after King Zedekiah had made an agreement with all the people in Jerusalem to free all the Hebrew slaves. <sup>9</sup>Everyone was supposed to free his Hebrew slaves, both male and female. No one was to keep a fellow Jew as a slave. <sup>10</sup>All the officers and all the people accepted this agreement; they agreed to free their male and female slaves and no longer keep them as slaves. So all the slaves were set free. <sup>11</sup>But after that, the people who had slaves changed their minds. So they took back the people they had set free and made them slaves again.

Lord, to war, to terrible diseases, and to hunger. I will make you hated by all the kingdoms of the earth. <sup>18</sup>I will hand over the men who broke my agreement, who have not kept the promises they made before me. They cut a calf into two pieces before me and walked between the pieces. <sup>19</sup>These people made the agreement before me by walking between the pieces of the calf: the leaders of Judah and Jerusalem, the officers of the court, the priests, and all the people of the land. <sup>20</sup>So I will hand them over to their enemies and to everyone who wants to kill them. Their bodies will become food for the birds of the air and for the wild animals of the earth. <sup>21</sup>I will hand Zedekiah king of Judah and his officers over to their enemies, and to everyone who wants to kill them, and to the army of the king of Babylon, even though they have left Jerusalem. <sup>22</sup>I will give the order, says the Lord, to bring the Babylonian army back to Jerusalem. It will fight against Jerusalem, capture it, set it on fire, and burn it down. I will destroy the towns in Judah so that they become ruins where no one lives!”

The Recabite Family Obeys God

When Jehoiakim son of Josiah was king of Judah, the Lord spoke his word to Jeremiah, saying:<sup>2</sup> “Go to the family of Recab. Invite them to come to one of the side rooms of the Temple of the Lord, and offer them wine to drink.”

<sup>3</sup>So I went to get Jaazaniah son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah. And I gathered all of Jaazaniah’s brothers and sons and the whole family of the Recabites together. <sup>4</sup>Then I brought them into the Temple of the Lord. We went into the room of the sons of Hanan son of Igdaliah, who was a man of God. The room was next to the one where the officers stay and above the room of Maaseiah son of Shallum, the doorkeeper in the Temple. <sup>5</sup>Then I put some bowls full of wine and some cups before the men of the Recabite family. And I said to them, “Drink some wine.”

<sup>6</sup>But the Recabite men answered, “We never drink wine. Our ancestor Jonadab son of Recab gave us this command: ‘You and your descendants must never drink wine. <sup>7</sup>Also you must never build houses, plant seeds, or plant vineyards, or do any of those things. You must live only in tents. Then you will live a long time in the land where you are wanderers.’ <sup>8</sup>So we Recabites have obeyed everything Jonadab our ancestor commanded us. Neither we nor our wives, sons, or daughters ever drink wine. <sup>9</sup>We never build houses in which to live, or own fields or vineyards, or plant crops. <sup>10</sup>We have lived in tents and have obeyed everything our ancestor Jonadab commanded us. <sup>11</sup>But when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon attacked Judah, we said to each other, ‘Come, we must enter Jerusalem so we can escape the Babylonian army and the Aramean army.’ So we have stayed in Jerusalem.”

<sup>12</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word to Jeremiah: <sup>13</sup>“This is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: Jeremiah, go and tell the men of Judah and the people of Jerusalem: ‘You should learn a lesson and obey my message,’ says the Lord. <sup>14</sup>Jonadab son of Recab ordered his descendants not to drink wine, and that command has been obeyed. Until today they have obeyed their ancestor’s command; they do not drink wine. But I, the Lord, have given you messages again and again, but you did not obey me. <sup>15</sup>I sent all my servants the prophets to you again and again, saying, “Each of you must stop doing evil. You must change and be good. Do not follow other gods to serve them. If you obey me, you will live in the land I have given to you and your ancestors.” But you have not listened to me or paid attention to my message. <sup>16</sup>The descendants of Jonadab son of Recab obeyed the commands their ancestor gave them, but the people of Judah have not obeyed me.’

<sup>17</sup>“So the Lord God All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: ‘I will soon bring every disaster I said would come to Judah and to everyone living in Jerusalem. I spoke to those people, but they refused to listen. I called out to them, but they did not answer me.’”

<sup>18</sup>Then Jeremiah said to the Recabites, “This is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: ‘You have obeyed the commands of your ancestor Jonadab and have followed all of his teachings; you have done everything he commanded.’

<sup>19</sup>So this is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says:

‘There will always be a descendant of Jonadab son of Recab to serve me.’”

Jeremiah 36:1–32

Situation

When he heard Jeremiah's prophecy, King Jehoiakim instructed his aide to burn Jeremiah's message. The king also issued a decree to arrest Jeremiah and Baruch the scribe, but God aided them.

Observation

Pride blinds people and can endanger a person's spiritual life.

Inspiration

Thousands of years before Jesus was called the Lamb of God, God promised forgiveness.

"Someday," God confided to Jeremiah, "these people will be my people and I will be their God."

"And someday," wrote David, "the mistakes of men will be tossed, not under a rug, or behind the sofa, but far, far away. As far as the east is from the west."

And do you know what? That someday came. On a garbage heap outside of Jerusalem.

Someday the almighty God, who has every right to make me burn forever, will look past my apathy, point to the cross and invite me to come home ... forgiven ... forever. (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Jehoiakim Burns Jeremiah's Scroll

The Lord spoke this word to Jeremiah during the fourth year that Jehoiakim son of Josiah was king of Judah: <sup>2</sup>“Get a scroll. Write on it all the words I have spoken to you about Israel and Judah and all the nations. Write everything from when I first spoke to you, when Josiah was king, until now. <sup>3</sup>Maybe the family of Judah will hear what disasters I am planning to bring on them and will stop doing wicked things. Then I would forgive them for the sins and the evil things they have done.”

<sup>4</sup>So Jeremiah called for Baruch son of Neriah. Jeremiah spoke the messages the Lord had given him, and Baruch wrote those messages on the scroll. <sup>5</sup>Then Jeremiah commanded Baruch, “I cannot go to the Temple of the Lord. I must stay here. <sup>6</sup>So I want you to go to the Temple of the Lord on a day when the people are giving up eating. Read from the scroll to all the people of Judah who come into Jerusalem from their towns. Read the messages from the Lord, which are the words you wrote on the scroll as I spoke them to you. <sup>7</sup>Perhaps they will ask the Lord to help them. Perhaps each one will stop doing wicked things, because the Lord has announced that he is very angry with them.” <sup>8</sup>So Baruch son of Neriah did everything Jeremiah the prophet told him to do. In the Lord's Temple he read aloud the scroll that had the Lord's messages written on it.

Josiah was king, a special time to give up eating was announced. All the people of Jerusalem and everyone who had come into Jerusalem from the towns of Judah were supposed to give up eating to honor the Lord. <sup>10</sup>At that time Baruch read to all the people there the scroll containing Jeremiah's words. He read the scroll in the Temple of the Lord in the room of Gemariah son of Shaphan, a royal secretary. That room was in the upper courtyard at the entrance of the New Gate of the Temple.

<sup>11</sup>Micaiah son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, heard all the messages from the Lord that were on the scroll. <sup>12</sup>Micaiah went down to the royal secretary's room in the king's palace where all of the officers were sitting: Elishama the royal secretary; Delaiah son of Shemaiah; Elnathan son of Acbor; Gemariah son of Shaphan; Zedekiah son of Hananiah; and all the other officers. <sup>13</sup>Micaiah told those officers everything he had heard Baruch read to the people from the scroll.

<sup>14</sup>Then the officers sent a man named Jehudi son of Nethaniah to Baruch. (Nethaniah was the son of Shelemiah, who was the son of Cush.) Jehudi said to Baruch, "Bring the scroll that you read to the people and come with me."

So Baruch son of Neriah took the scroll and went with Jehudi to the officers. <sup>15</sup>Then the officers said to Baruch, "Please sit down and read the scroll to us."

So Baruch read the scroll to them. <sup>16</sup>When the officers heard all the words, they became afraid and looked at each other. They said to Baruch, "We must certainly tell the king about these words." <sup>17</sup>Then the officers asked Baruch, "Tell us, please, where did you get all these words you wrote on the scroll? Did you write down what Jeremiah said to you?"

<sup>20</sup>The officers put the scroll in the room of Elishama the royal secretary. Then they went to the king in the courtyard and told him all about the scroll. <sup>21</sup>So King Jehoiakim sent Jehudi to get the scroll. Jehudi brought the scroll from the room of Elishama the royal secretary and read it to the king and to all the officers who stood around the king. <sup>22</sup>It was the ninth month of the year, so King Jehoiakim was sitting in the winter apartment. There was a fire burning in a small firepot in front of him. <sup>23</sup>After Jehudi had read three or four columns, the king cut those columns off of the scroll with a penknife and threw them into the firepot. Finally, the whole scroll was burned in the fire. <sup>24</sup>King Jehoiakim and his servants heard everything that was said, but they were not frightened! They did not tear their clothes to show their sorrow. <sup>25</sup>Elnathan, Delaiah, and Gemariah even tried to talk King Jehoiakim out of burning the scroll, but he would not listen to them. <sup>26</sup>Instead, the king ordered Jerahmeel son of the king, Seraiah son of Azriel, and Shelemiah son of Abdeel to arrest Baruch the secretary and Jeremiah the prophet. But the Lord had hidden them.

<sup>27</sup>So King Jehoiakim burned the scroll where Baruch had written all the words Jeremiah had spoken to him. Then the Lord spoke his word to Jeremiah: <sup>28</sup>“Get another scroll. Write all the words on it that were on the first scroll that Jehoiakim king of Judah burned up. <sup>29</sup>Also say this to Jehoiakim king of Judah: ‘This is what the Lord says: You burned up that scroll and said, “Why, Jeremiah, did you write on it ‘the king of Babylon will surely come and destroy this land and the people and animals in it'?"<sup>30</sup> So this is what the Lord says about Jehoiakim king of Judah: Jehoiakim's descendants will not sit on David's throne. When Jehoiakim dies, his body will be thrown out on the ground. It will be left out in the heat of the day and in the cold frost of the night.<sup>31</sup> I will punish Jehoiakim and his children and his servants, because they have done evil things. I will bring disasters upon them and upon all the people in Jerusalem and Judah—everything I promised but which they refused to hear."

<sup>32</sup> So Jeremiah took another scroll and gave it to Baruch son of Neriah, his secretary. As Jeremiah spoke, Baruch wrote on the scroll the same words that were on the scroll Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire. And many similar words were added to the second scroll.

Situation

When Jeremiah prophesied against the king, the king imprisoned him on the false charge of treason. After a lengthy stay in prison, King Zedekiah released Jeremiah.

Observation

The world hates to hear what God says. As a result, unbelievers will sometimes accuse God's servants falsely.

Inspiration

Honestly—have you said, “Thanks, Lord, for this test”? Have you finally stopped struggling and expressed to Him how much you appreciate His loving sovereignty over your life? I submit that one of the reasons our suffering is prolonged is that we take so long saying “Thank You, Lord” with an attitude of genuine appreciation.

How unfinished and rebellious and proud and unconcerned we would be without suffering! Here are two statements on suffering I heard years ago and shall never forget:

Pain plants the flag of reality in the fortress of a rebel heart.

When God wants to do an impossible task, He takes an impossible individual—and crushes him.

May these things encourage you the next time God heats up the furnace!

Jeremiah in Prison

Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had appointed Zedekiah son of Josiah to be king of Judah. Zedekiah took the place of Jehoiachin son of Jehoiakim. <sup>2</sup>But Zedekiah, his servants, and the people of Judah did not listen to the words the Lord had spoken through Jeremiah the prophet.

<sup>3</sup>Now King Zedekiah sent Jehucal son of Shelemiah and the priest Zephaniah son of Maaseiah with a message to Jeremiah the prophet. This was the message: “Jeremiah, please pray to the Lord our God for us.”

<sup>4</sup>At that time Jeremiah had not yet been put into prison. So he was free to go anywhere he wanted. <sup>5</sup>The army of the king of Egypt had marched from Egypt toward Judah. Now the Babylonian army had surrounded the city of Jerusalem. When they heard about the Egyptian army marching toward them, the Babylonian army left Jerusalem.

leave us alone.’ They will not! <sup>10</sup>Even if you defeated all of the Babylonian army that is attacking you and there were only a few injured men left in their tents, they would come from their tents and burn down Jerusalem!”

<sup>14</sup>But Jeremiah said to Irijah, “That’s not true! I am not leaving to join the Babylonians.” Irijah refused to listen to Jeremiah, so he arrested Jeremiah and took him to the officers of Jerusalem. <sup>15</sup>Those rulers were very angry with Jeremiah and beat him. Then they put him in jail in the house of Jonathan the royal secretary, which had been made into a prison. <sup>16</sup>So those people put Jeremiah into a cell in a dungeon, and Jeremiah was there for a long time.

<sup>17</sup>Then King Zedekiah sent for Jeremiah and had him brought to the palace. Zedekiah asked him in private, “Is there any message from the Lord?”

Jeremiah answered, “Yes, there is. Zedekiah, you will be handed over to the king of Babylon.” <sup>18</sup>Then Jeremiah said to King Zedekiah, “What crime have I done against you or your officers or the people of Jerusalem? Why have you thrown me into prison? <sup>19</sup>Where are your prophets that prophesied this message to you: ‘The king of Babylon will not attack you or this land of Judah?’ <sup>20</sup>But now, my master, king of Judah, please listen to me, and please do what I ask of you. Do not send me back to the house of Jonathan the royal secretary, or I will die there!”

<sup>21</sup>So King Zedekiah gave orders for Jeremiah to be put under guard in the courtyard of the guard and to be given bread each day from the street of the bakers until there was no more bread in the city. So he stayed under guard in the courtyard of the guard.

Life Lessons

Jeremiah 38:1–28

Situation

Judah's leaders had persecuted Jeremiah repeatedly for faithfully proclaiming God's message. In this passage, the prophet was thrown into a well to die. A Cushite, Ebed-Melech, was willing to stand up for Jeremiah and plead for his life.

Observation

Followers of Christ should expect to be persecuted. Commitment to God will not always make life easy.

Inspiration

Today many of us think we are doing God a favor when we tell another about Christ, even though we were commanded to do so. And we think we are suffering real persecution when someone makes light of our faith.

There are places in the world where Christians can still be jailed for sharing their faith or face the death penalty for leading a lost soul to Christ, but they are few and far between. Most people don't care what others believe in, or if they believe in anything.

The Christian faith has become a cheap faith because we too often live as if it has no value. We complain when the preacher runs over a few minutes on the Sunday sermon and consider it a great inconvenience to return to services once or twice more in the same week. No wonder so much of the world does not consider our faith relevant when we are not even willing to give of our time, much less our freedom or lives, for what we say we believe in.

Think about it. Have you ever been persecuted for sharing your faith in Christ? Has your faith cost you anything? If not, perhaps you had better re-examine your faith to see if it measures up.

(From Unto the Hills by Billy Graham)

Application

Are you going through a difficult time because of your faith in Christ? Do people look down upon you or exclude you because of your faith? Do you know some Christians who are undergoing persecution or having particularly tough times? Pray for these people. Pray for strength to endure for yourself and others, then band together with others in need.

Jeremiah Is Thrown into a Well

Shephatiah son of Mattan, Gedaliah son of Pashhur, Jehucal son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur son of Malkijah heard what Jeremiah was telling all the people. He said:<sup>2</sup>“This is what the Lord says: ‘Everyone who stays in Jerusalem will die from war, or hunger, or terrible diseases. But everyone who surrenders to the Babylonian army will live; they will escape with their lives and live.’<sup>3</sup>And this is what the Lord says: ‘This city of Jerusalem will surely be handed over to the army of the king of Babylon. He will capture this city!’”

<sup>4</sup>Then the officers said to the king, “Jeremiah must be put to death! He is discouraging the soldiers who are still in the city, and all the people, by what he is saying to them. He does not want good to happen to us; he wants to ruin us.”

<sup>5</sup>King Zedekiah said to them, “Jeremiah is in your control. I cannot do anything to stop you.”

<sup>6</sup>So the officers took Jeremiah and put him into the well of Malkijah, the king’s son, which was in the courtyard of the guards. The officers used ropes to lower Jeremiah into the well, which did not have any water in it, only mud. And Jeremiah sank down into the mud.

<sup>9</sup>“My master and king, these rulers have acted in an evil way. They have treated Jeremiah the prophet badly. They have thrown him into a well and left him there to die! When there is no more bread in the city, he will starve to death.”

<sup>11</sup>So Ebed-Melech took the men with him and went to a room under the storeroom in the palace. He took some old rags and worn-out clothes from that room. Then he let those rags down with some ropes to Jeremiah in the well. <sup>12</sup>Ebed-Melech the Cushite said to Jeremiah, “Put these old rags and worn-out clothes under your arms to be pads for the ropes.” So Jeremiah did as Ebed-Melech said. <sup>13</sup>The men pulled Jeremiah up with the ropes and lifted him out of the well. And Jeremiah stayed under guard in the courtyard of the guard.

Zedekiah Questions Jeremiah

<sup>14</sup>Then King Zedekiah sent someone to get Jeremiah the prophet and bring him to the third entrance to the Temple of the Lord. The king said to Jeremiah, “I am going to ask you something. Do not hide anything from me, but tell me everything honestly.”

<sup>15</sup>Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “If I give you an answer, you will surely kill me. And even if I give you advice, you will not listen to me.”

<sup>16</sup>But King Zedekiah made a secret promise to Jeremiah, “As surely as the Lord lives who has given us breath and life, I will not kill you. And I promise not to hand you over to the officers who want to kill you.”

<sup>17</sup>Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “This is what the Lord God All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: ‘If you surrender to the officers of the king of Babylon, your life will be saved. Jerusalem will not be burned down, and you and your family will live. <sup>18</sup>But if you refuse to surrender to the officers of the king of Babylon, Jerusalem will be handed over to the Babylonian army, and they will burn it down. And you yourself will not escape from them.’”

<sup>19</sup>Then King Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, “I’m afraid of some Jews who have already gone over to the side of the Babylonian army. If the Babylonians hand me over to them, they will treat me badly.”

<sup>20</sup>But Jeremiah answered, “The Babylonians will not hand you over to the Jews. Obey the Lord by doing what I tell you. Then things will go well for you, and your life will be saved. <sup>21</sup>But if you refuse to surrender to the Babylonians, the Lord has shown me what will happen. <sup>22</sup>All the women left in the palace of the king of Judah will be brought out and taken to the important officers of the king of Babylon. Your women will make fun of you with this song:

‘Your good friends misled you and were stronger than you.
While your feet were stuck in the mud,
they left you.’

<sup>23</sup>“All your wives and children will be brought out and given to the Babylonian army. You yourself will not even escape from them. You will be taken prisoner by the king of Babylon, and Jerusalem will be burned down.”

have been talking to you, or you will die.<sup>25</sup> If the officers find out I talked to you, they will come to you and say, ‘Tell us what you said to King Zedekiah and what he said to you. Don’t keep any secrets from us. If you don’t tell us everything, we will kill you.’<sup>26</sup> If they ask you, tell them, ‘I was begging the king not to send me back to Jonathan’s house to die.’”

<sup>27</sup>All the officers did come to question Jeremiah. So he told them everything the king had ordered him to say. Then the officers said no more to Jeremiah, because no one had heard what Jeremiah and the king had discussed.

<sup>28</sup>So Jeremiah stayed under guard in the courtyard of the guard until the day Jerusalem was captured.

Jeremiah 39:1-18

Situation

After Zedekiah had ruled Judah for eleven years, the Babylonians captured Jerusalem. The Babylonians deported the rich and powerful from the conquered land and left the poor behind.

Observation

Note the contrast in this chapter. Zedekiah had his sons killed and his eyes put out. Jeremiah, however, was rewarded by deliverance, according to God's promise to him. However, both had to face the possibility of death during the time of siege and destruction.

Inspiration

If you've attended a memorial service, you've heard the words [Psalm 23]. If you've walked through a cemetery, you've read them. They're quoted at the gravesides of paupers, carved on the headstones of kings. Those who know nothing of the Bible know this part of the Bible. Those who quote no scripture can remember this scripture, the one about the valley and the shadow and the shepherd.

Why? Why are these words so treasured? Why is this verse so beloved? I can think of a couple of reasons. By virtue of this psalm, David grants us two important reminders that can help us surrender our fear of the grave.

We all have to face it. In a life marked by doctor appointments, dentist appointments, and school appointments, there is one appointment that none of us will miss, the appointment with death. “Everyone must die once and be judged” (Hebrews 9:27). Oh, how we’d like to change that verse. Just a word or two would suffice. “Nearly everyone must die ...” or “Everyone but me must die ...” or “Everyone who forgets to eat right and take vitamins must die ...” But those are not God’s words. In his plan everyone must die, even those who eat right and take their vitamins.

I could have gone all day without reminding you of that. We do our best to avoid the topic. One wise man, however, urges us to face it squarely: “We all must die, and everyone living should think about this” (Ecclesiastes 7:2). Solomon isn’t promoting a morbid obsession with death. He is reminding us to be honest about the inevitable.

Moses gave the same exhortation. In the only psalm attributed to his pen, he prayed, “Teach us how short our lives really are so that we may be wise” (Psalm 90:12).

The wise remember the brevity of life. Exercise may buy us a few more heartbeats. Medicine may grant us a few more breaths. But in the end, there is an end. And the best way to face life is to be honest about death. (From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

The Fall of Jerusalem

This is how Jerusalem was captured: Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon marched against Jerusalem with his whole army and surrounded the city to attack it. This was during the tenth month of the ninth year Zedekiah was king of Judah.<sup>2</sup>This lasted until the ninth day of the fourth month in Zedekiah's eleventh year. Then the city wall was broken through.<sup>3</sup>And all these officers of the king of Babylon came into Jerusalem and sat down at the Middle Gate: Nergal-Sharezzer of the district of Samgar; Nebo-Sarsekim, a chief officer; Nergal-Sharezzer, an important leader; and all the other important officers.

<sup>4</sup>When Zedekiah king of Judah and all his soldiers saw them, they ran away. They left Jerusalem at night and went out from the king's garden. They went through the gate that was between the two walls and then headed toward the Jordan Valley.<sup>5</sup>But the Babylonian army chased them and caught up with Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho. They captured him and took him to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, who was at the town of Riblah in the land of Hamath. There Nebuchadnezzar passed his sentence on Zedekiah.<sup>6</sup>At Riblah the king of Babylon killed Zedekiah's sons and all the important officers of Judah as Zedekiah watched.<sup>7</sup>Then he put out Zedekiah's eyes. He put bronze chains on Zedekiah and took him to Babylon.

<sup>15</sup>While Jeremiah was guarded in the courtyard, the Lord spoke his word to him: <sup>16</sup>“Jeremiah, go and tell Ebed-Melech the Cushite this message: ‘This is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: Very soon I will make my words about Jerusalem come true through disaster, not through good times. You will see everything come true with your own eyes. <sup>17</sup>But I will save you on that day, Ebed-Melech, says the Lord. You will not be handed over to the people you fear. <sup>18</sup>I will surely save you, Ebed-Melech. You will not die from a sword, but you will escape and live. This will happen because you have trusted in me, says the Lord.’”

Jeremiah 40:1–45:5

Situation

Except for 52:31–34, chapters 40–44 are chronologically the last writings in the Book of Jeremiah. They recount the fall of Jerusalem (in 586 B.C.) and its aftermath of destruction.

Observation

After the fall of Jerusalem, Jeremiah ministered to the remnant in Palestine and Egypt. They may have lost hope, but God looks at the big picture.

Inspiration

It's impossible to pass through life without experiencing times when you cannot see your way through a deep valley. Times when the package delivered at the back door comes delivered in the ugly wrapping of death or affliction or illness or even divorce... . John Selden, the old British jurist and scholar, put it even more bluntly, "Pleasure is nothing else but the intermission of pain."

You may find yourself enjoying the intermission. Today, you may be smiling. Your heart may be light and merry. Perhaps answers to prayer have come beautifully and deliberately. You are swept away in delight. But it's also quite possible that you are caught in the grip of affliction. You may be going through some of the hardest days of your life. You may be wondering Why? Why me? Why this trial?

When you persevere through a trial, God gives you a special measure of insight. You become the recipient of the favor of God as He gives to you something that would not be learned otherwise.

(From Wisdom for the Way by Charles Swindoll)

Application

If you're undergoing a trial in your life, try to look at the big picture. Reflect on your current situation and ask God to help you see it from his view. Spend a day alone with God and ask him to help you understand his perspective for life.

Jeremiah Is Set Free

The Lord spoke his word to Jeremiah after Nebuzaradan, commander of the guards, had set Jeremiah free at the city of Ramah. He had found Jeremiah in Ramah bound in chains with all the captives from Jerusalem and Judah who were being taken away to Babylon.<sup>2</sup> When commander Nebuzaradan found Jeremiah, Nebuzaradan said to him, “The Lord your God announced this disaster would come to this place.<sup>3</sup> And now the Lord has done everything he said he would do. This disaster happened because the people of Judah sinned against the Lord and did not obey him.<sup>4</sup> But today I am freeing you from the chains on your wrists. If you want to, come with me to Babylon, and I will take good care of you. But if you don’t want to come, then don’t. Look, the whole country is open to you. Go wherever you wish.”<sup>5</sup> Before Jeremiah turned to leave, Nebuzaradan said, “Or go back to Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan. The king of Babylon has chosen him to be governor over the towns of Judah. Go and live with Gedaliah among the people, or go anywhere you want.”

Then Nebuzaradan gave Jeremiah some food and a present and let him go.<sup>6</sup> So Jeremiah went to Gedaliah son of Ahikam at Mizpah and stayed with him there. He lived among the people who were left behind in Judah.

The Short Rule of Gedaliah

<sup>7</sup>Some officers and their men from the army of Judah were still out in the open country. They heard that the king of Babylon had put Gedaliah son of Ahikam in charge of the people who were left in the land: the men, women, and children who were the poorest. They were the ones who were not taken to Babylon as captives. <sup>8</sup>So these soldiers came to Gedaliah at Mizpah: Ishmael son of Nethaniah, Johanan and Jonathan sons of Kareah, Seraiah son of Tanhumeth, the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, Jaazaniah son of the Maacathite, and their men.

<sup>9</sup>Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, made a promise to them, saying, “Do not be afraid to serve the Babylonians. Stay in the land and serve the king of Babylon. Then everything will go well for you. <sup>10</sup>I myself will live in Mizpah and will speak for you before the Babylonians who come to us here. Harvest the wine, the summer fruit, and the oil, and put what you harvest in your storage jars. Live in the towns you control.”

<sup>11</sup>The Jews in Moab, Ammon, Edom, and other countries also heard that the king of Babylon had left a few Jews alive in the land. And they heard the king of Babylon had chosen Gedaliah as governor over them. (Gedaliah was the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan.) <sup>12</sup>When the people of Judah heard this news, they came back to Judah from all the countries where they had been scattered. They came to Gedaliah at Mizpah and gathered a large harvest of wine and summer fruit.

<sup>13</sup>Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers of Judah still in the open country came to Gedaliah at Mizpah. <sup>14</sup>They said to him, “Don’t you know that Baalis king of the Ammonite people wants you dead? He has sent Ishmael son of Nethaniah to kill you.” But Gedaliah son of Ahikam did not believe them.

<sup>15</sup>Then Johanan son of Kareah spoke to Gedaliah in private at Mizpah. He said, “Let me go and kill Ishmael son of Nethaniah. No one will know anything about it. We should not let Ishmael kill you. Then all the Jews gathered around you would be scattered to different countries again, and the few people of Judah who are left alive would be lost.”

<sup>16</sup>But Gedaliah son of Ahikam said to Johanan son of Kareah, “Do not kill Ishmael! The things you are saying about Ishmael are not true.”

In the seventh month Ishmael son of Nethaniah and ten of his men came to Gedaliah son of Ahikam at Mizpah. (Nethaniah was the son of Elishama.) Now Ishmael was a member of the king's family and had been one of the officers of the king of Judah. While they were eating a meal with Gedaliah at Mizpah, <sup>2</sup>Ishmael and his ten men got up and killed Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, with a sword. (Gedaliah was the man the king of Babylon had chosen as governor over Judah.) <sup>3</sup>Ishmael also killed all the Jews and the Babylonian soldiers who were there with Gedaliah at Mizpah.

<sup>10</sup>Ishmael captured all the other people in Mizpah: the king's daughters and all the other people who were left there. They were the ones whom Nebuzaradan commander of the guard had chosen Gedaliah son of Ahikam to take care of. So Ishmael son of Nethaniah captured those people, and he started to cross over to the country of the Ammonites.

<sup>11</sup>Johanan son of Kareah and all his army officers with him heard about all the evil things Ishmael son of Nethaniah had done. <sup>12</sup>So they took their men and went to fight Ishmael son of Nethaniah and caught him near the big pool of water at Gibeon. <sup>13</sup>When the captives Ishmael had taken saw Johanan and the army officers, they were glad. <sup>14</sup>So all the people Ishmael had taken captive from Mizpah turned around and ran to Johanan son of Kareah. <sup>15</sup>But Ishmael son of Nethaniah and eight of his men escaped from Johanan and ran away to the Ammonites.

<sup>16</sup>So Johanan son of Kareah and all his army officers saved the captives that Ishmael son of Nethaniah had taken from Mizpah after he murdered Gedaliah son of Ahikam. Among those left alive were soldiers, women, children, and palace officers. And Johanan brought them back from the town of Gibeon.

The Escape to Egypt

<sup>17-18</sup>Johanan and the other army officers were afraid of the Babylonians. Since the king of Babylon had chosen Gedaliah son of Ahikam to be governor of Judah but Ishmael son of Nethaniah had murdered him, Johanan was afraid that the Babylonians would be angry. So they decided to run away to Egypt. On the way they stayed at Geruth Kimham, near the town of Bethlehem.

While there, Johanan son of Kareah and Jezeiah son of Hoshaiah went to Jeremiah the prophet. All the army officers and all the people, from the least important to the greatest, went along, too. <sup>2</sup>They said to him, “Jeremiah, please listen to what we ask. Pray to the Lord your God for all the people left alive from the family of Judah. At one time there were many of us, but you can see that there are few of us now. <sup>3</sup>So pray that the Lord your God will tell us where we should go and what we should do.”

<sup>4</sup>Then Jeremiah the prophet answered, “I understand what you want me to do. I will pray to the Lord your God as you have asked. I will tell you everything he says and not hide anything from you.”

<sup>5</sup>Then the people said to Jeremiah, “May the Lord be a true and loyal witness against us if we don’t do everything the Lord your God sends you to tell us. <sup>6</sup>It does not matter if we like the message or not. We will obey the Lord our God, to whom we are sending you. We will obey what he says so good things will happen to us.”

<sup>7</sup>Ten days later the Lord spoke his word to Jeremiah. <sup>8</sup>Then Jeremiah called for Johanan son of Kareah, the army officers with him, and all the other people, from the least important to the greatest. <sup>9</sup>Jeremiah said to them, “You sent me to ask the Lord for what you wanted. This is what the God of Israel says: <sup>10</sup>‘If you will stay in Judah, I will build you up and not tear you down. I will plant you and not pull you up, because I am sad about the disaster I brought on you. <sup>11</sup>Now you fear the king of Babylon, but don’t be afraid of him. Don’t be afraid of him,’ says the Lord, ‘because I am with you. I will save you and rescue you from his power. <sup>12</sup>I will be kind to you, and he will also treat you with mercy and let you stay in your land.’

<sup>13</sup>“But if you say, ‘We will not stay in Judah,’ you will disobey the Lord your God. <sup>14</sup>Or you might say, ‘No, we will go and live in Egypt. There we will not see war, or hear the trumpets of war, or be hungry.’ <sup>15</sup>If you say that, listen to the message of the Lord, you who are left alive from Judah. This is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: ‘If you make up your mind to go and live in Egypt, these things will happen: <sup>16</sup>You are afraid of war, but it will find you in the land of Egypt. And you are worried about hunger, but it will follow you into Egypt, and you will die there. <sup>17</sup>Everyone who goes to live in Egypt will die in war or from hunger or terrible disease. No one who goes to Egypt will live; no one will escape the terrible things I will bring to them.’

<sup>18</sup>“This is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: ‘I showed my anger against the people of Jerusalem. In the same way I will show my anger against you when you go to Egypt. Other nations will speak evil of you. People will be shocked by what will happen to you. You will become a curse word, and people will insult you. And you will never see Judah again.’

<sup>19</sup>“You who are left alive in Judah, the Lord has told you, ‘Don’t go to Egypt.’ Be sure you understand this; I warn you today <sup>20</sup>that you are making a mistake that will cause your deaths. You sent me to the Lord your God, saying, ‘Pray to the Lord our God for us. Tell us everything the Lord our God says, and we will do it.’ <sup>21</sup>So today I have told you, but you have not obeyed the Lord your God in all that he sent me to tell you. <sup>22</sup>So now be sure you understand this: You want to go to live in Egypt, but you will die there by war, hunger, or terrible diseases.”

So Jeremiah finished telling the people the message from the Lord their God; he told them everything the Lord their God had sent him to tell them.

<sup>2</sup>Azariah son of Hoshaiiah, Johanan son of Kareah, and some other men were too proud. They said to Jeremiah, “You are lying! The Lord our God did not send you to say, ‘You must not go to Egypt to live there.’”<sup>3</sup>Baruch son of Neriah is causing you to be against us. He wants you to hand us over to the Babylonians so they can kill us or capture us and take us to Babylon.”

<sup>4</sup>So Johanan, the army officers, and all the people disobeyed the Lord’s command to stay in Judah. <sup>5</sup>But Johanan son of Kareah and the army officers led away those who were left alive from Judah. They were the people who had run away from the Babylonians to other countries but then had come back to live in Judah. <sup>6</sup>They led away the men, women, and children, and the king’s daughters. Nebuzaradan commander of the guard had put Gedaliah son of Ahikam son of Shaphan in charge of those people. Johanan also took Jeremiah the prophet and Baruch son of Neriah. <sup>7</sup>These people did not listen to the Lord. So they all went to Egypt to the city of Tahpanhes.

supposed to die. He will make prisoners of those who are to be taken captive, and he will bring war to those who are to be killed with a sword. <sup>12</sup>Nebuchadnezzar will set fire to the temples of the gods of Egypt and burn them. And he will take the idols away as captives. As a shepherd wraps himself in his clothes, so Nebuchadnezzar will wrap Egypt around him. Then he will safely leave Egypt. <sup>13</sup>He will destroy the stone pillars in the temple of the sun god in Egypt, and he will burn down the temples of the gods of Egypt.”

Disaster in Egypt

Jeremiah received a message from the Lord for all the Jews living in Egypt—in the cities of Migdol, Tahpanhes, Memphis, and in southern Egypt. This was the message:<sup>2</sup>“The Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: You saw all the terrible things I brought on Jerusalem and the towns of Judah, which are ruins today with no one living in them.<sup>3</sup> It is because the people who lived there did evil. They made me angry by burning incense and worshipping other gods that neither they nor you nor your ancestors ever knew.<sup>4</sup> I sent all my servants, the prophets, to you again and again. By them I said to you, ‘Don’t do this terrible thing that I hate.’<sup>5</sup> But they did not listen or pay attention. They did not stop doing evil things and burning incense to other gods.<sup>6</sup> So I showed my great anger against them. I poured out my anger in the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem so they are only ruins and piles of stones today.

<sup>7</sup>“Now the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: Why are you doing such great harm to yourselves? You are cutting off the men and women, children and babies from the family of Judah, leaving yourselves without anyone from the family of Judah.<sup>8</sup> Why do you want to make me angry by making idols? Why do you burn incense to the gods of Egypt, where you have come to live? You will destroy yourselves. Other nations will speak evil of you and make fun of you.<sup>9</sup> Have you forgotten about the evil things your ancestors did? And have you forgotten the evil the kings and queens of Judah did? Have you forgotten about the evil you and your wives did?

These things were done in the country of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem.<sup>10</sup> Even to this day the people of Judah are still too proud. They have not learned to respect me or to follow my teachings. They have not obeyed the laws I gave you and your ancestors.

<sup>11</sup>“So this is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: I am determined to bring disasters on you. I will destroy the whole family of Judah.<sup>12</sup> The few who were left alive from Judah were determined to go to Egypt and settle there, but they will all die in Egypt. They will be killed in war or die from hunger. From the least important to the greatest, they will be killed in war or die from hunger. Other nations will speak evil about them. People will be shocked by what has happened to them. They will become a curse word, and people will insult them.<sup>13</sup> I will punish those people who have gone to live in Egypt, just as I punished Jerusalem, using swords, hunger, and terrible diseases.<sup>14</sup> Of the people of Judah who were left alive and have gone to live in Egypt, none will escape my punishment. They want to return to Judah and live there, but none of them will live to return to Judah, except a few people who will escape.”

<sup>15</sup>A large group of the people of Judah who lived in southern Egypt were meeting together. Among them were many women of Judah who were burning incense to other gods, and their husbands knew it. All these people said to Jeremiah,<sup>16</sup> “We will not listen to the message from the Lord that you spoke to us.<sup>17</sup> We promised to make sacrifices to the Queen Goddess, and we will certainly do everything we promised. We will burn incense and pour out drink offerings to worship her, just as we, our ancestors, kings, and officers did in the past. All of us did these things in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem. At that time we had plenty of food and were successful, and nothing bad happened to us.<sup>18</sup> But since we stopped making sacrifices to the Queen Goddess and stopped pouring out drink offerings to her, we have had great problems. Our people have also been killed in war and by hunger.”

<sup>19</sup>The women said, “Our husbands knew what we were doing. We had their permission to burn incense to the Queen Goddess and to pour out drink offerings to her. Our husbands knew we were making cakes that looked like her and were pouring out drink offerings to her.”

<sup>20</sup>Then Jeremiah spoke to all the people—men and women—who answered him. <sup>21</sup>He said to them, “The Lord remembered that you and your ancestors, kings and officers, and the people of the land burned incense in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem. He remembered and thought about it. <sup>22</sup>Then he could not be patient with you any longer. He hated the terrible things you did. So he made your country an empty desert, where no one lives. Other people curse that country. And so it is today. <sup>23</sup>All this happened because you burned incense to other gods. You sinned against the Lord. You did not obey him or follow his teachings or the laws he gave you. You did not keep your part of the agreement with him. So this disaster has happened to you. It is there for you to see.”

<sup>24</sup>Then Jeremiah said to all those men and women, “People of Judah who are now in Egypt, hear the word of the Lord: <sup>25</sup>The Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: You and your wives did what you said you would do. You said, ‘We will certainly keep the promises we made. We promised to make sacrifices to the Queen Goddess and to pour out drink offerings to her.' So, go ahead. Do the things you promised, and keep your promises.<sup>26</sup>But hear the word of the Lord. Listen, all you Jews living in Egypt. The Lord says, 'I have sworn by my great name: The people of Judah now living in Egypt will never again use my name to make promises. They will never again say in Egypt, "As surely as the Lord God lives ..."' <sup>27</sup>I am watching over them, not to take care of them, but to hurt them. The Jews who live in Egypt will die from swords or hunger until they are all destroyed. <sup>28</sup>A few will escape being killed by the sword and will come back to Judah from Egypt. Then, of the people of Judah who came to live in Egypt, those who are left alive will know if my word or their word came true. <sup>29</sup>I will give you a sign that I will punish you here in Egypt,' says the Lord. 'When you see it happen, you will know that my promises to hurt you will really happen.' <sup>30</sup>This is what the Lord says: 'Hophra king of Egypt has enemies who want to kill him. Soon I will hand him over to his enemies just as I handed Zedekiah king of Judah over to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, who wanted to kill him.'"

A Message to Baruch

It was the fourth year that Jehoiakim son of Josiah was king of Judah. Jeremiah the prophet told these things to Baruch son of Neriah, and Baruch wrote them on a scroll: <sup>2</sup>“This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says to you, Baruch: <sup>3</sup>You have said, ‘How terrible it is for me! The Lord has given me sorrow along with my pain. I am tired because of my suffering and cannot rest.’”

<sup>4</sup>The Lord said, “Say this to Baruch: ‘This is what the Lord says: I will soon tear down what I have built, and I will pull up what I have planted everywhere in Judah. <sup>5</sup>Baruch, you are looking for great things for yourself. Don’t look for them, because I will bring disaster on all the people, says the Lord. You will have to go many places, but I will let you escape alive wherever you go.’”

Life Lessons

Jeremiah 46:1–49:39

Situation

Since the Book of Jeremiah is not arranged chronologically, this section of Scripture would historically follow the events of Jeremiah 25. Jeremiah anticipated Nebuchadnezzar's conquest (25:9).

Observation

God not only ruled Judah, but all nations. God doesn't just rule over Christians, but over the whole world.

Inspiration

You and I are called upon, at times, to announce coming judgment. There is no way that we can be faithful to God and avoid the judgmental aspects of our ministry. We must recognize that sin must be dealt with. It is impossible to be biblical and at the same time sugar-coat the message of the Gospel. The Gospel cuts right into the heart of man and into his sinfulness. As Oswald Chambers has put it, "If there is no tragedy at the back of human life, no gap between God and man, then the Redemption of Jesus Christ is 'much ado about nothing.'"

... When you and I are called upon to minister for God, one part of our message has to be to pluck up and to break down, to overthrow and destroy, to announce the coming judgment of God against sin.

Jeremiah's message did not end there. He was also called upon to build and to plant. There was also the message of mercy. Whenever God announces judgment, there is always also the great truth that righteousness and peace have met together. There is the merciful aspect of God. Mercy and truth have kissed each other, because those two things come together in the Cross of Jesus Christ.

... You and I are called upon, in our ministry in witnessing to others, to make clear the judgment of God against sin and the mercy of God who has provided the way out of that sin. (From Words of Fire, Rivers of Tears by David M. Howard)

Application

Is there someone God wants you to witness to? As he brings people into your life, take time to get to know them. Let them get to know you. As you become friends, ask God to show you the right time to share Christ with them. And let your life portray the truth of what you say.

Messages to the Nations

The Lord spoke this word to Jeremiah the prophet about the nations:

<sup>2</sup>This message is to Egypt. It is about the army of Neco king of Egypt, which was defeated at the city of Carchemish on the Euphrates River by Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. This was in the fourth year that Jehoiakim son of Josiah was king of Judah. This is the Lord's message to Egypt: and march out for battle!

<sup>4</sup>Harness the horses and get on them!
Go to your places for battle and put on your helmets!
Polish your spears.
Put on your armor!
<sup>5</sup>What do I see?
That army is terrified,
and the soldiers are running away.
Their warriors are defeated.
They run away quickly without looking back.
There is terror on every side!” says the Lord.
<sup>6</sup>“The fast runners cannot run away;

the strong soldiers cannot escape.
They stumble and fall in the north, by the Euphrates River.

like strong, fast rivers?

like strong, fast rivers.

Egypt says, 'I will rise up and cover the earth.
I will destroy cities and the people in them!'

Chariot drivers, drive hard!

March on, brave soldiers—soldiers from the countries of Cush and Put who carry shields,

soldiers from Lydia who use bows.

<sup>10</sup>“But that day belongs to the Lord God All-Powerful.

At that time he will give those people the punishment they deserve.

The sword will kill until it is finished, until it satisfies its thirst for their blood.

The Lord God All-Powerful will offer a sacrifice in the land of the north, by the Euphrates River.

people of Egypt!

You have prepared many medicines,
but they will not work;
you will not be healed.

<sup>12</sup>The nations have heard of your shame, and your cries fill all the earth.

One warrior has run into another;
both of them have fallen down together!”

<sup>13</sup>This is the message the Lord spoke to Jeremiah the prophet about Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon’s coming to attack Egypt:

<sup>14</sup>“Announce this message in Egypt, and preach it in Migdol.

Preach it also in the cities of Memphis and Tahpanhes: ‘Get ready for war,
because the battle is all around you.’

<sup>15</sup>Egypt, why were your warriors killed?
They could not stand because the Lord pushed them down.

<sup>16</sup>They stumbled again and again and fell over each other.
They said, ‘Get up. Let’s go back to our own people and our homeland.
We must get away from our enemy’s sword!’

‘The king of Egypt is only a lot of noise.
He missed his chance for glory!’”

He says, “As surely as I live,
a powerful leader will come.
He will be like Mount Tabor among the mountains, like Mount Carmel by the sea.

to be taken away as captives, because Memphis will be destroyed.

It will be a ruin, and no one will live there.

<sup>20</sup>“Egypt is like a beautiful young cow, but a horsefly is coming from the north to attack her.

are like fat calves, because even they all turn and run away together;
they do not stand strong against the attack.
Their time of destruction is coming;
they will soon be punished.

The enemy comes closer and closer.
They come against Egypt with axes like men who cut down trees.

<sup>23</sup>They will chop down Egypt’s army
as if it were a great forest,” says the Lord.
“There are more enemy soldiers than locusts;
there are too many to count.

<sup>24</sup>The people of Egypt will be ashamed.
They will be handed over to the enemy from the north.”

<sup>25</sup>The Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: “Very soon I will punish Amon, the god of the city of Thebes. And I will punish Egypt, her kings, her gods, and the people who depend on the king. <sup>26</sup>I will hand those people over to their enemies, who want to kill them. I will give them to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and his officers. But in the future, Egypt will live in peace as it once did,” says the Lord.

A Message to Israel

<sup>27</sup>“People of Jacob, my servants, don’t be afraid;
don’t be frightened, Israel.

I will surely save you from those faraway places and your children from the lands where they are captives.

The people of Jacob will have peace and safety again,
and no one will make them afraid.

because I am with you,” says the Lord.

“I will completely destroy the many different nations
where I scattered you.

But I will not completely destroy you.

I will punish you fairly,

but I will not let you escape your punishment.”

A Message to the Philistines

Before the king of Egypt attacked the city of Gaza, the Lord spoke his word to Jeremiah the prophet. This message is to the Philistine people.

“See, the enemy is gathering in the north like rising waters.

They will become like an overflowing stream and will cover the whole country like a flood, even the towns and the people living in them.

Everyone living in that country will cry for help;
the people will cry painfully.

<sup>3</sup>They will hear the sound of the running horses and the noisy chariots and the rumbling chariot wheels.

Parents will not help their children to safety, because they will be too weak to help.

<sup>4</sup>The time has come to destroy all the Philistines.

It is time to destroy all who are left alive who could help the cities of Tyre and Sidon.
The Lord will soon destroy the Philistines, those left alive from the island of Crete.

The people from the city of Ashkelon will be made silent.

Those left alive from the valley,
how long will you cut yourselves?

<sup>6</sup>“You cry, ‘Sword of the Lord, how long will you keep fighting?
Return to your holder.
Stop and be still.’

when the Lord has given it a command?
He has ordered it to attack Ashkelon and the seacoast.”

A Message to Moab

This message is to the country of Moab.

This is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says:

<sup>1</sup>How terrible it will be for the city of Nebo, because it will be ruined.

The town of Kiriathaim will be disgraced and captured; the strong city will be disgraced and shattered.

Men in the town of Heshbon plan Moab's defeat.

They say, 'Come, let us put an end to that nation!'

Town of Madmen, you will also be silenced.

The sword will chase you.

<sup>4</sup>Moab will be broken up.

Her little children will cry for help.

On the road down to Horonaim, cries of pain and suffering can be heard.

<sup>6</sup>Run! Run for your lives!

Go like a bush being blown through the desert.

<sup>7</sup>You trust in the things you do and in your wealth, so you also will be captured.

The god Chemosh will go into captivity and his priests and officers with him.

<sup>8</sup>The destroyer will come against every town;
not one town will escape.

The valley will be ruined,
and the high plain will be destroyed,
as the Lord has said.

because she will surely leave her land.
Moab's towns will become empty,
with no one to live in them.

<sup>10</sup>A curse will be on anyone who doesn't do what the Lord says, and a curse will be on anyone who holds back his sword from killing.

<sup>11</sup>“The people of Moab have never known trouble.
They are like wine left to settle;
they have never been poured from one jar to another.
They have not been taken into captivity.
So they taste as they did before,
and their smell has not changed.

<sup>12</sup>A time is coming,” says the Lord,
“When I will send people to pour you from your jars.
They will empty Moab's jars and smash her jugs.

<sup>13</sup>The people of Israel trusted that god in the town of Bethel,
and they were ashamed when there was no help.
In the same way Moab will be ashamed of their god Chemosh.

<sup>14</sup>“You cannot say, ‘We are victorious!’

... you cannot say, 'We are warriors!

We are brave men in battle!'

<sup>15</sup>The destroyer of Moab and her towns has arrived. Her best young men will be killed!' says the King, whose name is the Lord All-Powerful.

<sup>16</sup>'The end of Moab is near, and she will soon be destroyed.

<sup>17</sup>All you who live around Moab, all you who know her, cry for her. Say, 'The ruler's power is broken; Moab's power and glory are gone.'

<sup>18</sup>'You people living in the town of Dibon, come down from your place of honor and sit on the dry ground, because the destroyer of Moab has come against you. And he has destroyed your strong, walled cities.

Judgment has come to all the towns of Moab, far and near.

<sup>25</sup>Moab's strength has been cut off,
and its arm broken!" says the Lord.

<sup>26</sup>"The people of Moab thought they were greater than the Lord, so punish them until they act as if they are drunk.

Moab will fall and roll around in its own vomit,
and people will even make fun of it.

<sup>27</sup>Moab, you made fun of Israel.
Israel was caught in the middle of a gang of thieves.
When you spoke about Israel, you shook your head and acted as if you were better than it.

<sup>28</sup>People in Moab, leave your towns empty and go live among the rocks.
Be like a dove that makes its nest
at the entrance of a cave.

<sup>29</sup>"We have heard that the people of Moab are proud, very proud.

They are proud, very proud, and in their hearts they think they are important."

<sup>30</sup>The Lord says,
"I know Moab's great pride, but it is useless.
Moab's bragging accomplishes nothing.

<sup>31</sup>So I cry sadly for Moab, for everyone in Moab.
I moan for the people from the town of Kir Hareseth.

<sup>32</sup>I cry with the people of the town of Jazer for you, the grapevines of the town of Sibmah.

In the past your vines spread all the way to the sea,
as far as the sea of Jazer.

But the destroyer has taken over your fruit and grapes.

<sup>33</sup>Joy and happiness are gone from the large, rich fields of Moab.
I have stopped the flow of wine from the winepresses.
No one walks on the grapes with shouts of joy.
There are shouts,
but not shouts of joy.

<sup>34</sup>“Their crying can be heard from Moabite towns, from Heshbon to Elealeh and Jahaz.
It can be heard from Zoar as far away as Horonaim and Eglath Shelishiyah.

Even the waters of Nimrim are dried up.

<sup>35</sup>I will stop Moab from making burnt offerings at the places of worship and from burning incense to their gods,” says the Lord.

<sup>36</sup>“My heart cries sadly for Moab like a flute playing a funeral song.

It cries like a flute for the people from Kir Hareseth.
The money they made has all been taken away.

<sup>37</sup>Every head has been shaved and every beard cut off.
Everyone’s hands are cut,
and everyone wears rough cloth around his waist.

<sup>38</sup>People are crying on every roof in Moab and in every public square.

There is nothing but sadness, because I have broken Moab like a jar no one wants,” says the Lord.
<sup>39</sup>“Moab is shattered! The people are crying!
Moab turns away in shame!
People all around her make fun of her.
The things that happened fill them with great fear.”

“Look! Someone is coming, like an eagle diving down from the sky and spreading its wings over Moab.
<sup>41</sup>The towns of Moab will be captured, and the strong, walled cities will be defeated.
At that time Moab’s warriors will be frightened, like a woman who is having a baby.
<sup>42</sup>The nation of Moab will be destroyed, because they thought they were greater than the Lord.
<sup>43</sup>Fear, deep pits, and traps wait for you, people of Moab,” says the Lord.
<sup>44</sup>“People will run from fear, but they will fall into the pits.
Anyone who climbs out of the pits will be caught in the traps.
I will bring the year of punishment to Moab,” says the Lord.

<sup>45</sup>“People have run from the powerful enemy and have gone to Heshbon for safety.
But fire started in Heshbon;

a blaze has spread from the hometown of Sihon king of Moab.

It burned up the leaders of Moab and destroyed those proud people.

<sup>46</sup>How terrible it is for you, Moab!

The people who worship Chemosh have been destroyed.

Your sons have been taken captive, and your daughters have been taken away.

<sup>47</sup>“But in days to come,

I will make good things happen again to Moab,” says the Lord.

This ends the judgment on Moab.

A Message to Ammon

This message is to the Ammonite people.

This is what the Lord says:

“Do you think that Israel has no children?

Do you think there is no one to take the land when the parents die?

If that were true, why did Molech take Gad’s land and why did Molech’s people settle in Gad’s towns?”

“The time will come when I will make Rabbah, the capital city of the Ammonites, hear the battle cry. It will become a hill covered with ruins, and the towns around it will be burned.

Those people forced Israel out of that land, but now Israel will force them out!” says the Lord.

<sup>3</sup>“People in the town of Heshbon, cry sadly because the town of Ai is destroyed!

Those who live in Rabbah, cry out!

Put on your rough cloth to show your sadness, and cry loudly.

Run here and there for safety inside the walls, because Molech will be taken captive and his priests and officers with him.

<sup>4</sup>You brag about your valleys and about the fruit in your valleys.

You are like an unfaithful child who believes his treasures will save him.

You think, ‘Who would attack me?’

<sup>5</sup>I will soon bring terror on you from everyone around you,”
says the Lord God All-Powerful.

“You will all be forced to run away, and no one will be able to gather you.

<sup>6</sup>“But the time will come when I will make good things happen to the Ammonites again,”
says the Lord.

A Message to Edom

<sup>7</sup>This message is to Edom. This is what the Lord All-Powerful says:

“Is there no more wisdom in the town of Teman?
Can the wise men of Edom no longer give good advice?

Have they lost their wisdom?

<sup>8</sup>You people living in the town of Dedan, run away and hide in deep caves,
because I will bring disaster on the people of Esau.
It is time for me to punish them.

<sup>9</sup>If workers came and picked the grapes from your vines,

they would leave a few grapes behind.

If robbers came at night,
they would steal only enough for themselves.

<sup>10</sup>But I will strip Edom bare.

I will find all their hiding places,
so they will not be able to hide from me.
The children, relatives, and neighbors will die,
and Edom will be no more.

<sup>11</sup>Leave the orphans, and I will take care of them.
Your widows also can trust in me.”

<sup>12</sup>This is what the Lord says: “Some people did not deserve to be punished, but they had to drink from the cup of suffering anyway. People of Edom, you deserve to be punished, so you will not escape punishment. You must certainly drink from the cup of suffering.” <sup>13</sup>The Lord says, “I swear by my own name that the city of Bozrah will become a pile of ruins! People will be shocked by what happened there. They will insult that city and speak evil of it. And all the towns around it will become ruins forever.”

<sup>14</sup>I have heard a message from the Lord.
A messenger has been sent among the nations,
saying,
“Gather your armies to attack it!
Get ready for battle!”

<sup>15</sup>“Soon I will make you the smallest of nations, and you will be greatly hated by everyone.

<sup>16</sup>Edom, you frightened other nations, but your pride has fooled you.

You live in the hollow places of the cliff and control the high places of the hills.

Even if you build your home as high as an eagle’s nest,

I will bring you down from there,” says the Lord.

<sup>17</sup>“Edom will be destroyed.

People who pass by will be shocked to see the destroyed cities,

and they will be amazed at all her injuries.

<sup>18</sup>Edom will be destroyed like the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah

and the towns around them,” says the Lord.

“No one will live there!

No one will stay in Edom.”

Jordan River

to attack a strong pen for sheep,

I will suddenly chase Edom from its land.

Who is the one I have chosen to do this?

There is no one like me,

no one who can take me to court.

None of their leaders can stand up against me.”

<sup>20</sup>So listen to what the Lord has planned to do against Edom.

Listen to what he has decided to do to the people in the town of Teman.

He will surely drag away the young ones of Edom.

Their hometowns will surely be shocked at what happens to them.

Their cry will be heard all the way to the Red Sea.

and spreading its wings over the city of Bozrah.
At that time Edom's soldiers will become very frightened,
like a woman having a baby.

A Message to Damascus

<sup>23</sup>This message is to the city of Damascus:

“The towns of Hamath and Arpad are put to shame, because they have heard bad news.

They are discouraged.

They are troubled like the tossing sea.

The people want to run away;

they are ready to panic.

The people feel pain and suffering,
like a woman giving birth to a baby.

<sup>25</sup>Damascus was a city of my joy.

Why have the people not left that famous city yet?

<sup>26</sup>Surely the young men will die in the city squares, and all her soldiers will be killed at that time,” says the Lord All-Powerful.

<sup>27</sup>“I will set fire to the walls of Damascus, and it will completely burn the strong cities of King Ben-Hadad.”

A Message to Kedar and Hazor

<sup>28</sup>This message is to the tribe of Kedar and the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon defeated. This is what the Lord says:

“Go and attack the people of Kedar, and destroy the people of the East.

<sup>29</sup>Their tents and flocks will be taken away.
Their belongings will be carried off—their tents, all their goods, and their camels.
Men will shout to them,
‘Terror on every side!’

<sup>30</sup>“Run away quickly!

People in Hazor, find a good place to hide!” says the Lord.

“Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has made plans against you and wants to defeat you.

<sup>31</sup>“Get up! Attack the nation that is comfortable, that is sure no one will defeat it,” says the Lord.
“It does not have gates or fences to protect it.
Its people live alone.

<sup>32</sup>The enemy will steal their camels and their large herds of cattle as war prizes.
I will scatter the people who cut their hair short to every part of the earth, and I will bring disaster on them from everywhere,”
says the Lord.

<sup>33</sup>“The city of Hazor will become a home for wild dogs;
it will be an empty desert forever.
No one will live there,

and no one will stay in it.”

A Message to Elam

<sup>34</sup>Soon after Zedekiah became king of Judah, the Lord spoke this word to Jeremiah the prophet. This message is to the nation of Elam.

<sup>35</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says:

“I will soon break Elam’s bow, its greatest strength.

<sup>36</sup>I will bring the four winds against Elam from the four corners of the skies.

I will scatter its people everywhere the four winds blow;

its captives will go to every nation.

<sup>37</sup>I will terrify Elam in front of their enemies, who want to destroy them.

I will bring disaster to Elam and show them how angry I am!” says the Lord.

“I will send a sword to chase Elam until I have killed them all.

<sup>38</sup>I will set up my throne in Elam to show that I am king, and I will destroy its king and its officers!” says the Lord.

<sup>39</sup>“But I will make good things happen to Elam again in the future,” says the Lord.

Jeremiah 50:1–51:64

Situation

Jeremiah foretold the fall of Babylon. The powerful and arrogant Babylonians would be conquered by a power from the north. Under the Messiah, Israel would rise again and would regain her preeminent status among nations.

Observation

God gave his people something to hope in. A new Israel, led by God's chosen Messiah, would arrive after Babylon was crushed.

Inspiration

Do you have the hope of the coming again of the Lord Jesus Christ? Then you should live it—a pure life, a godly life, a surrendered life, a consecrated life. There's a sense in which we're sanctified when we receive Christ. There's a sense in which we grow in the grace and knowledge of Christ in progressive sanctification. But one day we shall see Jesus face to face, and total sanctification is when we're perfect, as He is perfect. We shall see Him as He is.

... I know sometimes we get a little anxious and wonder if Jesus is really going to come back... He has appointed a day. God knows the day. It's all set. He will be back right on time—He won't be an hour late or an hour early.

... We are to be constantly thinking about His coming....

... People say, “Well, Christ is coming back—let’s quit all these activities that we’re involved in.” No! He may not come in our lifetime. Let’s do our best to help reach our fellow man for Christ. His return should be our incentive toward work.

(From Peace with God by Billy Graham)

Application

Trusting Jesus gives us hope. Did you trust him to work out your day’s worth of headaches, to get you to work safely, to help you get your homework done, or to get along with your spouse? When you pray, go over each detail of your day. Who will you see and talk to? What projects need to get done? Where will you drive ... ? Don’t live any part of your day without letting God know you are looking to him for stamina.

A Message to Babylon

This is the message the Lord spoke to Babylon and the Babylonian people through Jeremiah the prophet.

<sup>2</sup>“Announce this to the nations.
Lift up a banner and tell them.
Speak the whole message and say:
‘Babylon will be captured.

The god Bel will be put to shame,
and the god Marduk will be afraid.
Babylon’s gods will be put to shame,
and her idols will be afraid!’

<sup>3</sup>A nation from the north will attack Babylon and make it like an empty desert.
No one will live there;
both people and animals will run away.”

<sup>4</sup>The Lord says, “At that time
the people of Israel and Judah will come together.
They will cry and look for the Lord their God.

<sup>5</sup>Those people will ask how to go to Jerusalem and will start in that direction.
They will come and join themselves to the Lord.
They will make an agreement with him that will last forever,

an agreement that will never be forgotten.

<sup>6</sup>“My people have been like lost sheep.
Their leaders have led them in the wrong way and made them wander around in the mountains and hills.

They forgot where their resting place was.

<sup>7</sup>Whoever saw my people hurt them.
And those enemies said, ‘We did nothing wrong.
Those people sinned against the Lord, their true resting place,
the God their fathers trusted.’

<sup>8</sup>“Run away from Babylon, and leave the land of the Babylonians.
Be like the goats that lead the flock.

<sup>9</sup>I will soon bring against Babylon many great nations from the north.
They will take their places for war against it, and it will be captured by people from the north.
Their arrows are like trained soldiers who do not return from war with empty hands.

<sup>10</sup>The enemy will take all the wealth from the Babylonians.

Those enemy soldiers will get all they want,” says the Lord.

<sup>11</sup>“Babylon, you are excited and happy,
because you took my land.
You dance around like a young cow in the grain.
Your laughter is like the neighing of male horses.

<sup>12</sup>Your mother will be very ashamed;
the woman who gave birth to you will be disgraced.
Soon Babylonia will be the least important of all the nations.

She will be an empty, dry desert.

no one will live there.

She will be completely empty.

Everyone who passes by Babylon will be shocked.

They will shake their heads when they see all her injuries.

<sup>14</sup>Take your positions for war against Babylon, all you soldiers with bows.

Shoot your arrows at Babylon! Do not save any of them,

because Babylon has sinned against the Lord.

Babylon has surrendered, her towers have fallen,
and her walls have been torn down.

The Lord is giving her people the punishment they deserve.

You nations should give her what she deserves;
do to her what she has done to others.

<sup>16</sup>Don't let the people from Babylon plant their crops or gather the harvest.

The soldiers treated their captives cruelly.

Now, let everyone go back home.

Let everyone run to his own country.

<sup>17</sup>The people of Israel are like a flock of sheep that are scattered from being chased by lions.

The first lion to eat them up was the king of Assyria.

The last lion to crush their bones was Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon.”

<sup>18</sup>So this is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel,
says:

“I will punish the king of Babylon and his country as I punished the king of Assyria.

<sup>19</sup>But I will bring the people of Israel back to their own pasture.

They will eat on Mount Carmel and in Bashan.

They will eat and be full on the hills of Ephraim and Gilead.”

<sup>20</sup>The Lord says,

“At that time people will try to find Israel’s guilt, but there will be no guilt.

People will try to find Judah’s sins,
but no sins will be found,

because I will leave a few people alive from Israel and Judah,
and I will forgive their sins.

Attack the people who live in Pekod.

Chase them, kill them, and completely destroy them.

Do everything I commanded you!” says the Lord.

country;

it is the noise of much destruction.

<sup>23</sup>Babylon was the hammer of the whole earth, but how broken and shattered that hammer is now.
It is truly the most ruined of all the nations.

<sup>24</sup>Babylon, I set a trap for you, and you were caught before you knew it.
You fought against the Lord,
so you were found and taken prisoner.

<sup>25</sup>The Lord has opened up his storeroom and brought out the weapons of his anger, because the Lord God All-Powerful has work to do in the land of the Babylonians.

Break open her storehouses of grain.
Pile up her dead bodies like heaps of grain.
Completely destroy Babylon and do not leave anyone alive.

<sup>27</sup>Kill all the young men in Babylon;
let them be killed like animals.

How terrible it will be for them, because the time has come for their defeat;

it is time for them to be punished.

<sup>28</sup>Listen to the people running to escape the country of Babylon!

They are telling Jerusalem

how the Lord our God is punishing Babylon as it deserves

for destroying his Temple.

<sup>29</sup>“Call for the archers to come against Babylon.
Tell them to surround the city,
and let no one escape.
Pay her back for what she has done;
do to her what she has done to other nations.
Babylon acted with pride against the Lord,
the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>30</sup>“So her young men will be killed in her streets.
All her soldiers will die on that day,” says the Lord.

<sup>31</sup>“Babylon, you are too proud, and I am against you,”
says the Lord God All-Powerful.

“The time has come for you to be punished.

<sup>32</sup>Proud Babylon will stumble and fall, and no one will help her get up.
I will start a fire in her towns, and it will burn up everything around her.”

<sup>33</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says:

“The people of Israel
and Judah are slaves.
The enemy took them as prisoners and won’t let them go.

<sup>34</sup>But God is strong and will buy them back.
His name is the Lord All-Powerful.
He will surely defend them with power
so he can give rest to their land.
But he will not give rest to those living in Babylon.”

<sup>35</sup>The Lord says,

“Let a sword kill the people living in Babylon and her officers and wise men!

<sup>36</sup>Let a sword kill her false prophets, and they will become fools.

Let a sword kill her warriors, and they will be full of terror.

<sup>37</sup>Let a sword kill her horses and chariots and all the soldiers hired from other countries!
Then they will be like frightened women.

Let a sword attack her treasures,
so they will be taken away.

<sup>38</sup>Let a sword attack her waters
so they will be dried up.

She is a land of idols,
and the people go crazy with fear over them.

<sup>39</sup>“Desert animals and hyenas will live there, and owls will live there,
but no people will ever live there again.
She will never be filled with people again.

<sup>40</sup>God completely destroyed the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah

and the towns around them,” says the Lord.

“In the same way no people will live in Babylon, and no human being will stay there.

<sup>41</sup>“Look! An army is coming from the north.
A powerful nation and many kings are coming together from all around the world.

<sup>42</sup>Their armies have bows and spears.
The soldiers are cruel and have no mercy.
As the soldiers come riding on their horses,
the sound is loud like the roaring sea.
They stand in their places, ready for battle.
They are ready to attack you, city of Babylon.

<sup>43</sup>The king of Babylon heard about those armies, and he became helpless with fear.
Distress has gripped him.
His pain is like that of a woman giving birth to a baby.

Jordan River
to attack a strong pen for sheep,
I will suddenly chase the people of Babylon from their land.
Who is the one I have chosen to do this?
There is no one like me,
no one who can take me to court.
None of their leaders can stand up against me.”

<sup>45</sup>So listen to what the Lord has planned to do against Babylon.
Listen to what he has decided to do to the people in the city of Babylon.
He will surely drag away the young ones of Babylon.
Their hometowns will surely be shocked at what happens to them.

<sup>46</sup>At the sound of Babylon’s capture, the earth will shake.
People in all nations will hear Babylon’s cry of distress.

This is what the Lord says:

“I will soon cause a destroying wind to blow against Babylon and the Babylonian people.

<sup>2</sup>I will send foreign people to destroy Babylon like a wind that blows chaff away.

They will destroy the land.

Armies will surround the city

when the day of disaster comes upon her.

Don't even let them put on their armor.

Don't feel sorry for the young men of Babylon, but completely destroy her army.

<sup>4</sup>They will be killed in the land of the Babylonians and will die in her streets.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord God All-Powerful did not leave Israel and Judah, even though they were completely guilty in the presence of the Holy One of Israel.

Don't stay and be killed because of Babylon's sins.

It is time for the Lord to punish Babylon;

he will give Babylon the punishment she deserves.

<sup>7</sup>Babylon was like a gold cup in the Lord's hand that made the whole earth drunk.

The nations drank Babylon's wine, so they went crazy.

<sup>8</sup>Babylon has suddenly fallen and been broken.

Cry for her!

Get balm for her pain,
and maybe she can be healed.

<sup>9</sup>“Foreigners in Babylon say, ‘We tried to heal
Babylon,
but she cannot be healed.
So let us leave her and each go to his own country.
Babylon’s punishment is as high as the sky;
it reaches to the clouds.’

<sup>10</sup>“The people of Judah say, ‘The Lord has shown us to be right.
Come, let us tell in Jerusalem
what the Lord our God has done.’

<sup>11</sup>“Sharpen the arrows!
Pick up your shields!
The Lord has stirred up the kings of the Medes, because he wants to destroy Babylon.
The Lord will punish them as they deserve
for destroying his Temple.

<sup>12</sup>Lift up a banner against the walls of Babylon!
Bring more guards.
Put the watchmen in their places,
and get ready for a secret attack!
The Lord will certainly do what he has planned and what he said he would do against the people of Babylon.

<sup>13</sup>People of Babylon, you live near much water and are rich with many treasures, but your end as a nation has come.

It is time to stop you from robbing other nations.

<sup>14</sup>The Lord All-Powerful has promised in his own name:
‘Babylon, I will surely fill you with so many enemy soldiers they will be like a swarm of locusts.

They will stand over you and shout their victory.’

<sup>15</sup>‘The Lord made the earth by his power.
He used his wisdom to build the world and his understanding to stretch out the skies.

He makes clouds rise in the sky all over the earth.
He sends lightning with the rain and brings out the wind from his storehouses.

<sup>17</sup>‘People are so stupid and know so little.
Goldsmiths are made ashamed by their idols, because those statues are only false gods.
They have no breath in them.

When they are judged, they will be destroyed.

<sup>19</sup>But God, who is Jacob’s Portion, is not like the idols.
He made everything,
and he chose Israel to be his special people.
The Lord All-Powerful is his name.

<sup>20</sup>‘You are my war club,
my battle weapon.
I use you to smash nations.
I use you to destroy kingdoms.

<sup>21</sup>I use you to smash horses and riders.
I use you to smash chariots and drivers.

<sup>22</sup>I use you to smash men and women.
I use you to smash old people and young people.
I use you to smash young men and young women.
<sup>23</sup>I use you to smash shepherds and flocks.
I use you to smash farmers and oxen.
I use you to smash governors and officers.

<sup>24</sup>“But I will pay back Babylon and all the Babylonians for all the evil things they did to Jerusalem in your sight,” says the Lord.

<sup>25</sup>The Lord says, “Babylon, you are a destroying mountain,
and I am against you.
You have destroyed the whole land.
I will put my hand out against you.
I will roll you off the cliffs,
and I will make you a burned-out mountain.

People will not take any rocks from Babylon to use for the foundation of a building, because your city will be just a pile of ruins forever,”
says the Lord.

<sup>27</sup>“Lift up a banner in the land!
Blow the trumpet among the nations!
Get the nations ready for battle against Babylon.
Call these kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz to fight against her.
Choose a commander to lead the army against

Babylon.

Send so many horses that they are like a swarm of locusts.

<sup>29</sup>The land shakes and moves in pain, because the Lord will do what he has planned to Babylon.

He will make Babylon an empty desert, where no one will live.

<sup>33</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says:

“The city of Babylon is like a threshing floor, where people crush the grain at harvest time.

The time to harvest Babylon is coming soon.”

<sup>34</sup>“Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has defeated and destroyed us.

In the past he took our people away, and we became like an empty jar.

He was like a giant snake that swallowed us.
He filled his stomach with our best things.

Then he spit us out.

<sup>35</sup>Babylon did terrible things to hurt us.

Now let those things happen to Babylon,” say the people of Jerusalem.

“The people of Babylon killed our people.

Now let them be punished for what they did,” says
Jerusalem.

<sup>36</sup>So this is what the Lord says:

“I will soon defend you, Judah, and make sure that Babylon is punished.

I will dry up Babylon’s sea and make her springs become dry.

<sup>37</sup>Babylon will become a pile of ruins,
a home for wild dogs.

People will be shocked by what happened there.
No one will live there anymore.

<sup>38</sup>Babylon’s people roar like young lions;
they growl like baby lions.

I will give a feast for them and make them drunk.

They will shout and laugh.
And they will sleep forever and never wake up!” says
the Lord.

<sup>40</sup>“I will take the people of Babylon to be killed.
They will be like lambs,
like sheep and goats waiting to be killed.

The pride of the whole earth has been taken captive.
People from other nations are shocked at what happened to Babylon, and the things they see make them afraid.

<sup>42</sup>The sea has risen over Babylon;
its roaring waves cover her.

<sup>43</sup>Babylon’s towns are ruined and empty.
It has become a dry, desert land,
a land where no one lives.

People do not even travel through Babylon.

<sup>44</sup>I will punish the god Bel in Babylon.
I will make him spit out what he has swallowed.
Nations will no longer come to Babylon;
even the wall around the city will fall.

<sup>45</sup>“Come out of Babylon, my people!

Run for your lives!

Run from the Lord’s great anger.

<sup>46</sup>Don’t lose courage; rumors will spread through the land, but don’t be afraid.

One rumor comes this year, and another comes the next year.

There will be rumors of terrible fighting in the country, of rulers fighting against rulers.

<sup>47</sup>The time will surely come when I will punish the idols of Babylon,
and the whole land will be disgraced.
There will be many dead people lying all around.

<sup>48</sup>Then heaven and earth and all that is in them will shout for joy about Babylon.

They will shout because the army comes from the north
to destroy Babylon,” says the Lord.

<sup>49</sup>“Babylon must fall, because she killed people from Israel.

She killed people from everywhere on earth.

<sup>50</sup>You who have escaped being killed with swords, leave Babylon! Don’t wait!
Remember the Lord in the faraway land and think about Jerusalem.”

<sup>51</sup>“We people of Judah are disgraced, because we have been insulted.
We have been shamed, because strangers have gone into the holy places of the Lord’s Temple!”

<sup>52</sup>So the Lord says, “The time is coming soon
when I will punish the idols of Babylon.
Wounded people will cry with pain
all over that land.

<sup>53</sup>Even if Babylon grows until she touches the sky, and even if she makes her highest cities strong,

I will send people to destroy her,” says the Lord.

<sup>54</sup>“Sounds of people crying are heard in Babylon.
Sounds of people destroying things are heard in the land of the Babylonians.

and making the loud sounds of the city become silent.
Enemies come roaring in like ocean waves.
The roar of their voices is heard all around.

<sup>56</sup>The army has come to destroy Babylon.
Her soldiers have been captured, and their bows are broken, because the Lord is a God who punishes people for the evil they do.

He gives them the full punishment they deserve.

<sup>57</sup>I will make Babylon’s rulers and wise men drunk, and her governors, officers, and soldiers, too.

Then they will sleep forever and never wake up,” says the King, whose name is the Lord All-Powerful.

<sup>58</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says:

“Babylon’s thick wall will be completely pulled down and her high gates burned.

The people will work hard, but it won’t help;
their work will only become fuel for the flames!”

A Message to Babylon

<sup>59</sup>This is the message that Jeremiah the prophet gave to the officer Seraiah son of Neriah, who was the son of Mahseiah. Seraiah went to Babylon with Zedekiah king of Judah in the fourth year Zedekiah was king of Judah. His duty was to arrange the king's food and housing on the trip. <sup>60</sup>Jeremiah had written on a scroll all the terrible things that would happen to Babylon, all these words about Babylon. <sup>61</sup>Jeremiah said to Seraiah, "As soon as you come to Babylon, be sure to read this message so all the people can hear you. <sup>62</sup>Then say, 'Lord, you have said that you will destroy this place so that no people or animals will live in it. It will be an empty ruin forever.' <sup>63</sup>After you finish reading this scroll, tie a stone to it and throw it into the Euphrates River. <sup>64</sup>Then say, 'In the same way Babylon will sink and will not rise again because of the terrible things I will make happen here. Her people will fall.'"

The words of Jeremiah end here.

Life Lessons

Jeremiah 52:1–34

Situation

Jerusalem fell to the Babylonians after a two-year siege. The Babylonians blinded King Zedekiah, looted the Temple, and destroyed the city. Many Israelites were exiled to Babylon. God completely fulfilled Jeremiah's prophecy.

Observation

True to his word, God punished unrepentant Israel through conquest by Babylon.

Inspiration

There is a window in your heart through which you can see God. Once upon a time that window was clear. Your view of God was crisp. You could see God as vividly as you could see a gentle valley or hillside. The glass was clean, the pane unbroken.

You knew God. You knew how he worked. You knew what he wanted you to do. No surprises. Nothing unexpected. You knew that God had a will, and you continually discovered what it was.

Then, suddenly, the window cracked. A pebble broke the window. A pebble of pain.

Perhaps the stone struck when you were a child and a parent left home—forever. Maybe the rock hit in adolescence when your heart was broken. Maybe you made it into adulthood before the window was cracked. But then the pebble came....

Whatever the pebble's form, the result was the same—a shattered window. The pebble missed into the pane and shattered it. The crash echoed down the halls of your heart. Cracks shot out from the point of impact, creating a spider web of fragmented pieces.

And suddenly God was not so easy to see. The view that had been so crisp had changed. You turned to see God, and his figure was distorted. It was hard to see him through the pain. It was hard to see him through the fragments of hurt.

You were puzzled. God wouldn't allow something like this to happen, would he? Tragedy and travesty weren't on the agenda of the One you had seen, were they? Had you been fooled? Had you been blind?

The moment the pebble struck, the glass became a reference point for you. From then on, there was life before the pain and life after the pain. Before your pain, the view was clear; God seemed so near. After your pain, well, he was harder to see. He seemed a bit distant ... harder to perceive. Your pain distorted the view—not eclipsed it, but distorted it...

When you can't see him, trust him. The figure you see is not a ghost. The voice you hear is not the wind.

Jesus is closer than you've ever dreamed. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

The Fall of Jerusalem

Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he was king in Jerusalem for eleven years. His mother's name was Hamutal daughter of Jeremiah, and she was from Libnah. <sup>2</sup>Zedekiah did what the Lord said was wrong, just as Jehoiakim had done. <sup>3</sup>All this happened in Jerusalem and Judah because the Lord was angry with them. Finally, he threw them out of his presence.

Zedekiah turned against the king of Babylon. <sup>4</sup>Then Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon marched against Jerusalem with his whole army. They made a camp around the city and built devices all around the city walls to attack it. This happened on Zedekiah's ninth year, tenth month, and tenth day as king. <sup>5</sup>And the city was under attack until Zedekiah's eleventh year as king.

<sup>6</sup>By the ninth day of the fourth month, the hunger was terrible in the city; there was no food for the people to eat. <sup>7</sup>Then the city wall was broken through, and the whole army of Judah ran away at night. They left the city through the gate between the two walls by the king's garden. Even though the Babylonians were surrounding the city, Zedekiah and his men headed toward the Jordan Valley.

took him to the king of Babylon at the town of Riblah in the land of Hamath. There he passed sentence on Zedekiah.<sup>10</sup> At Riblah the king of Babylon killed Zedekiah's sons as he watched. The king also killed all the officers of Judah.<sup>11</sup> Then he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and put bronze chains on him, and took him to Babylon. And the king kept Zedekiah in prison there until the day he died.

<sup>12</sup>Nebuzaradan, commander of the king's special guards and servant of the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem on the tenth day of the fifth month. This was in Nebuchadnezzar's nineteenth year as king of Babylon.<sup>13</sup> Nebuzaradan set fire to the Temple of the Lord, the palace, and all the houses of Jerusalem; every important building was burned.<sup>14</sup> The whole Babylonian army, led by the commander of the king's special guards, broke down all the walls around Jerusalem.<sup>15</sup> Nebuzaradan, the commander of the king's special guards, took captive some of the poorest people, those who were left in Jerusalem, those who had surrendered to the king of Babylon, and the skilled craftsmen who were left in Jerusalem.<sup>16</sup> But Nebuzaradan left behind some of the poorest people of the land to take care of the vineyards and fields.

<sup>17</sup>The Babylonians broke into pieces the bronze pillars, the bronze stands, and the large bronze bowl, called the Sea, which were in the Temple of the Lord. Then they carried all the bronze pieces to Babylon.<sup>18</sup> They also took the pots, shovels, wick trimmers, bowls, dishes, and all the bronze objects used to serve in the Temple.<sup>19</sup> The commander of the king's special guards took away bowls, pans for carrying hot coals, large bowls, pots, lampstands, pans, and bowls used for drink offerings. He took everything that was made of pure gold or silver.

<sup>20</sup>There was so much bronze that it could not be weighed: two pillars, the large bronze bowl called the Sea with the twelve bronze bulls under it, and the movable stands, which King Solomon had made for the Temple of the Lord.

<sup>24</sup>The commander of the king's special guards took as prisoners Seraiah the chief priest, Zephaniah the priest next in rank, and the three doorkeepers. <sup>25</sup>He also took from the city the officer in charge of the soldiers, seven people who advised the king, the royal secretary who selected people for the army, and sixty other men from Judah who were in the city when it fell. <sup>26</sup>Nebuzaradan, the commander, took these people and brought them to the king of Babylon at the town of Riblah. <sup>27</sup>There at Riblah, in the land of Hamath, the king had them killed.

So the people of Judah were led away from their country as captives. <sup>28</sup>This is the number of the people Nebuchadnezzar took away as captives: in the seventh year, 3,023 Jews; <sup>29</sup>in Nebuchadnezzar's eighteenth year, 832 people from Jerusalem; <sup>30</sup>in Nebuchadnezzar's twenty-third year, Nebuzaradan, commander of the king's special guards, took 745 Jews as captives.

In all 4,600 people were taken captive.

Jehoiachin Is Set Free

<sup>31</sup>Jehoiachin king of Judah was in prison in Babylon for thirty-seven years. The year Evil-Merodach became king of Babylon he let Jehoiachin king of Judah out of prison. He set Jehoiachin free on the twenty-fifth day of the twelfth month. <sup>32</sup>Evil-Merodach spoke kindly to Jehoiachin and gave him a seat of honor above the seats of the other kings who were with him in Babylon. <sup>33</sup>So Jehoiachin put away his prison clothes, and for the rest of his life, he ate at the king's table. <sup>34</sup>Every day the king of Babylon gave Jehoiachin an allowance. This lasted as long as he lived, until the day Jehoiachin died.

Introduction

You're looking for Jeremiah? Come, look out the window. That's him. That's him walking through the rubble. Shoulders stooped, step slow.

He's a tired man. I knew him when he was young.

But that was long ago.

That was before the walls fell.

That was before the enemy came.

Look at him sort through the stones. He does this all day. He'll spot a dish that once sat on a table or a sandal once worn by a child. Each item he clutches, not to keep but to mourn. He'll hold the plate to his chest and fall on his knees and wail. Sobbing erupts like cloudbursts. He'll stay there and weep until he has mourned the memory of the object, and then he'll place it back on the pile and move on.

Soon he sees another item, and the weeping starts all over again.

Some people think he's crazy. Some people think he's lost what little sense he had.

I don't. I don't think him insane. After all, didn't he tell us this would happen? No, he's not crazy. He's just sad.

I told him the other day, I said, "Jeremiah, write these things down. These feelings that you have. This sorrow that you feel—write it down."

He looked at me from under those bushy eyebrows and said, "Maybe you're right ... maybe you're right. I just don't want the people to forget."

I told him to write it down. I hope he will.

Life Lessons

Lamentations 1:1-22

Situation

Lamentations was read publicly each year to remind the Jews that their sin had caused the destruction of Jerusalem. The book recorded both the faithfulness of God and the repentance of the people.

Observation

Sin brings punishment. But sorrow, confession, and repentance bring healing and wholeness.

Inspiration

A vast number and variety of human emotional experiences come under the general label, “sorrow.” Marie, a friend of mine and a member of my congregation, shared these intimate feelings with me upon the death of her husband: “No two sorrows are the same. I lost my son as a teenager; I lost my daughter in her twenties. Now my husband has passed away. Each grief has been painful, but each grief has been different.”

Over and over I’ve seen sorrow, and over and over again I have witnessed this one fact: God does comfort good people when bad things happen to them. It is possible to be happy even in a world where sorrow casts its long, gray shadow.

Trouble never leaves us where it finds us; sorrow will change our tomorrow. But God inspires us to become better people, not bitter ones. He shows us the negative can be turned into a positive, a minus into a plus, and that's what the cross is all about.

How can we find relief from grief? How can we turn our mourning into a morning? (1) Realize what you can do for yourself! (2) Realize what God can do for you! (From The Be (Happy) Attitudes by Robert Schuller)

Application

What sorrows have you known? Have you experienced the death of a loved one, a ruined life, or regrettable mistakes? If your heart is grieving, turn to God for comfort and assurance. He hears your cries, tears, and disappointments.

Exploration

Comfort from God—Psalm 23:1-4; 94:19; 119:50, 52; Isaiah 66:13; 2 Corinthians 1:3-5; Philippians 2:1; 2 Thessalonians 2:16-17.

If you are overdrawn at a bank, a fine must be paid. If you are overdrawn with God, a penalty must be paid as well. The fine at the bank is a hassle. But the penalty from God is hell. —Max Lucado (The Great House of God)

Jerusalem Cries over Her Loss

Jerusalem once was full of people, but now the city is empty.
Jerusalem once was a great city among the nations, but now she is like a widow.
She was like a queen of all the other cities,
but now she is a slave.

<sup>2</sup>She cries loudly at night,
and tears are on her cheeks.
There is no one to comfort her;
all who loved her are gone.
All her friends have turned against her and are now her enemies.

<sup>3</sup>Judah has gone into captivity where she suffers and works hard.
She lives among other nations,
but she has found no rest.
Those who chased her caught her when she was in trouble.

<sup>4</sup>The roads to Jerusalem are sad, because no one comes for the feasts.

No one passes through her gates.
Her priests groan,
her young women are suffering,
and Jerusalem suffers terribly.

<sup>5</sup>Her foes are now her masters.
Her enemies enjoy the wealth they have taken.
The Lord is punishing her for her many sins.
Her children have gone away
as captives of the enemy.

<sup>6</sup>The beauty of Jerusalem has gone away.
Her rulers are like deer
that cannot find food.
They are weak
and run from the hunters.

<sup>7</sup>Jerusalem is suffering and homeless.
She remembers all the good things from the past.
But her people were defeated by the enemy,
and there was no one to help her.
When her enemies saw her,
they laughed to see her ruined.

<sup>8</sup>Jerusalem sinned terribly, so she has become unclean.
Those who honored her now hate her,

because they have seen her nakedness.
She groans
and turns away.

<sup>9</sup>She made herself dirty by her sins and did not think about what would happen to her.
Her defeat was surprising,
and no one could comfort her.
She says, “Lord, see how I suffer,
because the enemy has won.”

<sup>10</sup>The enemy reached out and took all her precious things.
She even saw foreigners enter her Temple.
The Lord had commanded foreigners never to enter the meeting place of his people.

<sup>11</sup>All of Jerusalem’s people groan, looking for bread.
They are trading their precious things for food
so they can stay alive.
The city says, “Look, Lord, and see.
I am hated.”

<sup>12</sup>Jerusalem says, “You who pass by on the road don’t seem to care.
Come, look at me and see:
Is there any pain like mine?
Is there any pain like that he has caused me?
The Lord has punished me on the day of his great anger.

<sup>13</sup>“He sent fire from above that went down into my bones.
He stretched out a net for my feet and turned me back.
He made me so sad and lonely that I am weak all day.

<sup>14</sup>“He has noticed my sins;
they are tied together by his hands;
they hang around my neck.
He has turned my strength into weakness.
The Lord has handed me over to those who are stronger than I.

<sup>15</sup>“The Lord has rejected all my mighty men inside my walls.
He brought an army against me to destroy my young men.
As if in a winepress, the Lord has crushed
the capital city of Judah.

<sup>16</sup>“I cry about these things;
my eyes overflow with tears.
There is no one near to comfort me,
no one who can give me strength again.
My children are left sad and lonely,
because the enemy has won.”

<sup>17</sup>Jerusalem reaches out her hands,
but there is no one to comfort her.

The Lord commanded the people of Jacob to be surrounded by their enemies.
Jerusalem is now unclean like those around her.

<sup>18</sup>Jerusalem says, “The Lord is right,
but I refused to obey him.
Listen, all you people,
and look at my pain.
My young women and men
have gone into captivity.

<sup>19</sup>“I called out to my friends,
but they turned against me.
My priests and my older leaders have died in the city while looking for food to stay alive.

<sup>20</sup>“Look at me, Lord. I am upset and greatly troubled.
My heart is troubled,
because I have been so stubborn.
Out in the streets, the sword kills;
inside the houses, death destroys.

<sup>21</sup>“People have heard my groaning, and there is no one to comfort me.
All my enemies have heard of my trouble,
and they are happy you have done this to me.
Now bring that day you have announced

so that my enemies will be like me.

<sup>22</sup>“Look at all their evil.

Do to them what you have done to me because of all my sins.

I groan over and over again,
and I am afraid.”

Life Lessons

Lamentations 2:1–22

Situation

Jeremiah's second lament spoke of affliction and deliverance. Solomon's Temple symbolized God's presence in Israel. Its destruction represented God's rejection of his people because of their stubborn sinfulness.

Observation

God cares more about how we worship him than where we worship him.

Inspiration

If we ponder who God really is before we carelessly utter any remark before or about Him, surely we will render a more considered, respectful utterance. This is no different from the respect we would show the distinguished stranger if we knew his true identity. When once we see Him as He really is, the trite or casual remark no longer seems appropriate.

In fact, when we know the God who is, our first reaction is to hide from the awfulness of His presence. We want to see the face of God, until the presence of His glory draws near. Then, we want Him to hide us in the cleft of a rock. His presence is like peals of thunder and fierce winds of a violent storm, and we reconsider the foolishness of our whim to see Him. He is a holy God. Not only holy—but holy, holy, holy. “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord God Almighty, who was, and is, and is to come” (Revelation 4:8).

... Let us reconsider who God is—His power, His wealth, His wisdom, His glory, His honor, His Praise. Let us take our cue from the living creatures, elders, and the angels. Let us not approach the God who is holy, holy, holy with caprice or unthinking casualness.

Let us come into His presence with praise and thanksgiving, but also in sober recognition that we are in the presence of the Holy. “Let us then approach the throne of grace with confidence” (Hebrews 4:16), but with the bearing and respect we would show to the One whose identity we have learned: the God who is, who created all things, in whom we have our being.

When you come apart to meet with God, consider these statements as you begin your time in His presence. Pause and meditate upon them:

- Father, I come to meet with You... Meet with me.
- Lord Jesus, I come to meet with You... Meet with me.
- Holy Spirit I come to meet with You... Meet with me.

Enter into the presence of God who is with the respect and honor and praise He is due. (From Walking with Christ in the Details of Life by Patrick Morley)

Application

Worship God in prayer and song. Find a song that lifts your heart to God; sing it throughout the day.

Thank God often for his help and love for you.

The Lord Destroyed Jerusalem

Look how the Lord in his anger has brought Jerusalem to shame.
He has thrown down the greatness of Israel from the sky to the earth;
he did not remember the Temple, his footstool,
on the day of his anger.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord swallowed up without mercy
all the houses of the people of Jacob;
in his anger he pulled down
the strong places of Judah.
He threw her kingdom and its rulers down to the ground in dishonor.

<sup>3</sup>In his anger he has removed all the strength of Israel;
he took away his power from Israel
when the enemy came.
He burned against the people of Jacob like a flaming fire
that burns up everything around it.

<sup>4</sup>Like an enemy, he prepared to shoot his bow, and his hand was against us.
Like an enemy, he killed
all the good-looking people;

he poured out his anger like fire on the tents of Jerusalem.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord was like an enemy;
he swallowed up Israel.
He swallowed up all her palaces and destroyed all her strongholds.
He has caused more moaning and groaning for Judah.

<sup>6</sup>He cut down his Temple like a garden;
he destroyed the meeting place.
The Lord has made Jerusalem forget the set feasts and Sabbath days.
He has rejected the king and the priest in his great anger.

<sup>7</sup>The Lord has rejected his altar and abandoned his Temple.
He has handed over to the enemy
the walls of Jerusalem's palaces.
Their uproar in the Lord's Temple was like that of a feast day.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord planned to destroy the wall around Jerusalem.
He measured the wall and did not stop himself from destroying it.
He made the walls and defenses sad;
together they have fallen.

<sup>9</sup>Jerusalem's gates have fallen to the ground;

he destroyed and smashed the bars of the gates.
Her king and her princes are among the nations.
The teaching of the Lord has stopped, and the prophets do not have visions from the Lord.

<sup>10</sup>The older leaders of Jerusalem sit on the ground in silence.
They throw dust on their heads and put on rough cloth to show their sadness.
The young women of Jerusalem
bow their heads to the ground in sorrow.

<sup>11</sup>My eyes have no more tears,
and I am sick to my stomach.
I feel empty inside,
because my people have been destroyed.
Children and babies are fainting
in the streets of the city.

<sup>12</sup>They ask their mothers,
“Where is the grain and wine?”
They faint like wounded soldiers
in the streets of the city and die in their mothers’ arms.

<sup>13</sup>What can I say about you, Jerusalem?
What can I compare you to?
What can I say you are like?
How can I comfort you, Jerusalem?
Your ruin is as deep as the sea.

No one can heal you.

<sup>14</sup>Your prophets saw visions, but they were false and worth nothing.
They did not point out your sins to keep you from being captured.
They preached what was false and led you wrongly.

<sup>15</sup>All who pass by on the road clap their hands at you;
they make fun of Jerusalem and shake their heads.
They ask, "Is this the city that people called the most beautiful city,
the happiest place on earth?"

<sup>16</sup>All your enemies open their mouths to speak against you.
They make fun and grind their teeth in anger.
They say, "We have swallowed you up.
This is the day we were waiting for!
We have finally seen it happen."

<sup>17</sup>The Lord has done what he planned;
he has kept his word
that he commanded long ago.
He has destroyed without mercy,
and he has let your enemies laugh at you.
He has strengthened your enemies.

<sup>18</sup>The people cry out to the Lord.

Wall of Jerusalem,
let your tears flow
like a river day and night.
Do not stop
or let your eyes rest.

<sup>19</sup>Get up, cry out in the night,
even as the night begins.
Pour out your heart like water in prayer to the Lord.
Lift up your hands in prayer to him for the life of your children who are fainting with hunger on every street corner.

<sup>20</sup>Jerusalem says: "Look, Lord, and see to whom you have done this.
Women eat their own babies,
the children they have cared for.
Priests and prophets are killed in the Temple of the Lord.

<sup>21</sup>"People young and old lie outside on the ground.
My young women and young men have been killed by the sword.
You killed them on the day of your anger;
you killed them without mercy.

<sup>22</sup>"You invited terrors to come against me on every side,

as if you were inviting them to a feast.
No one escaped or remained alive on the day of the Lord's anger.
My enemy has killed
those I cared for and brought up.”

Life Lessons

Lamentations 3:1-66

Situation

Jeremiah's sorrow and consolation represented the nation's agony. Surrounded by sin and sorrow, Jeremiah saw hope in God's steadfast love and mercy.

Observation

God renews our lives day by day.

Inspiration

The fog of the broken heart.

It's a dark fog that slyly imprisons the soul and refuses easy escape. It's a silent mist that eclipses the sun and beckons the darkness. It's a heavy cloud that honors no hour and respects no person. Depression, discouragement, disappointment, doubt ... all are companions of this dreaded presence.

The fog of the broken heart disorients our life. It makes it hard to see the road. Dim your lights. Wipe off the windshield. Slow down. Do what you wish, nothing helps. When this fog encircles us, our vision is blocked and tomorrow is a forever away. When this billowy blackness envelops us, the most earnest words of help and hope are but vacant phrases.

If you have ever been betrayed by a friend, you know what I mean. If you have ever been dumped by a spouse or abandoned by a parent, you have seen this fog. If you have ever placed a spade of dirt on a loved one's casket or kept vigil at a dear one's bedside, you, too, recognize this cloud.

If you have been in this fog, or are in it now, you can be sure of one thing—you are not alone. Even the saltiest of sea captains have lost their bearings because of the appearance of this unwanted cloud....

Think back over the last two or three months. How many broken hearts did you encounter? How many wounded spirits did you witness? How many stories of tragedy did you read about? ...

The list goes on and on, doesn't it? Foggy tragedies. How they blind our vision and destroy our dreams. Forget any great hopes of reaching the world. Forget any plans of changing society. Forget any aspirations of moving mountains. Forget all that. Just help me make it through the night!

The suffering of the broken heart....

Seeing God ... does wonders for our own suffering. God was never more human than at this hour. God was never nearer to us than when he hurt. The Incarnation was never so fulfilled as in the garden.

As a result, time spent in the fog of pain could be God's greatest gift. It could be the hour that we finally see our Maker... Maybe in our suffering we can see God like never before.

The next time you are called to suffer, pay attention. It may be the closest you'll ever get to God. Watch closely. It could very well be that the hand that extends itself to lead you out of the fog is a pierced one. (From No Wonder They Call Him the Savior by Max Lucado)

Application

Send a note to someone who is overwhelmed by his or her lot in life. Assure that friend of your prayers. Include a Scripture verse that tells of God's love.

The Meaning of Suffering

I am a man who has seen the suffering that comes from the rod of the Lord's anger.

<sup>2</sup>He led me into darkness, not light.

<sup>3</sup>He turned his hand against me again and again, all day long.

<sup>4</sup>He wore out my flesh and skin and broke my bones.

<sup>5</sup>He surrounded me with sadness and attacked me with grief.

<sup>6</sup>He made me sit in the dark, like those who have been dead a long time.

<sup>7</sup>He shut me in so I could not get out;
he put heavy chains on me.

<sup>8</sup>I cry out and beg for help,
but he ignores my prayer.

<sup>9</sup>He blocked my way with a stone wall and led me in the wrong direction.

<sup>10</sup>He is like a bear ready to attack me, like a lion in hiding.

<sup>11</sup>He led me the wrong way and let me stray and left me without help.

<sup>12</sup>He prepared to shoot his bow and made me the target for his arrows.

<sup>13</sup>He shot me in the kidneys with the arrows from his bag.

<sup>14</sup>I was a joke to all my people, who make fun of me with songs all day long.

<sup>15</sup>The Lord filled me with misery;
he made me drunk with suffering.

<sup>16</sup>He broke my teeth with gravel and trampled me into the dirt.

<sup>17</sup>I have no more peace.
I have forgotten what happiness is.

<sup>18</sup>I said, “My strength is gone, and I have no hope in the Lord.”

<sup>19</sup>Lord, remember my suffering and my misery, my sorrow and trouble.

<sup>20</sup>Please remember me and think about me.

<sup>21</sup>But I have hope when I think of this:

<sup>22</sup>The Lord’s love never ends;
his mercies never stop.

<sup>23</sup>They are new every morning;
Lord, your loyalty is great.

<sup>24</sup>I say to myself, “The Lord is mine, so I hope in him.”

<sup>25</sup>The Lord is good to those who hope in him, to those who seek him.

<sup>26</sup>It is good to wait quietly for the Lord to save.

<sup>27</sup>It is good for someone to work hard while he is young.

<sup>28</sup>He should sit alone and be quiet;
the Lord has given him hard work to do.

<sup>29</sup>He should bow down to the ground;
maybe there is still hope.

<sup>30</sup>He should let anyone slap his cheek;
he should be filled with shame.

<sup>31</sup>The Lord will not reject his people forever.

<sup>32</sup>Although he brings sorrow,
he also has mercy and great love.

<sup>33</sup>He does not like to punish people or make them sad.

<sup>34</sup>He sees if any prisoner of the earth is crushed under his feet;

<sup>35</sup>he sees if someone is treated unfairly
before the Most High God;

<sup>36</sup>the Lord sees
if someone is cheated in his case in court.

<sup>37</sup>Nobody can speak and have it happen unless the Lord commands it.

<sup>38</sup>Both bad and good things come by the command of the Most High God.

<sup>39</sup>No one should complain
when he is punished for his sins.

<sup>40</sup>Let us examine and see what we have done and then return to the Lord.

<sup>41</sup>Let us lift up our hands and pray from our hearts to God in heaven:

<sup>42</sup>“We have sinned and turned against you, and you have not forgiven us.

<sup>43</sup>“You wrapped yourself in anger and chased us;
you killed us without mercy.

<sup>44</sup>You wrapped yourself in a cloud, and no prayer could get through.

<sup>45</sup>You made us like scum and trash
among the other nations.

<sup>46</sup>“All of our enemies open their mouths and speak against us.

<sup>47</sup>We have been frightened and fearful, ruined and destroyed.”

<sup>48</sup>Streams of tears flow from my eyes, because my people are destroyed.

<sup>49</sup>My tears flow continually, without stopping,

<sup>50</sup>until the Lord looks down and sees from heaven.

<sup>51</sup>I am sad when I see what has happened to all the women of my city.

-- I nose who are my enemies for no reason hunted me like a bird.

<sup>53</sup>They tried to kill me in a pit;
they threw stones at me.

<sup>54</sup>Water came up over my head,
and I said, "I am going to die."

<sup>55</sup>I called out to you, Lord, from the bottom of the pit.

<sup>56</sup>You heard me calling, "Do not close your ears and ignore my gasps and shouts."

<sup>57</sup>You came near when I called to you;
you said, "Don't be afraid."

<sup>58</sup>Lord, you have taken my case and given me back my life.

Now judge my case for me.

<sup>60</sup>You have seen how my enemies took revenge on me and made evil plans against me.

<sup>61</sup>Lord, you have heard their insults and all their evil plans against me.

<sup>62</sup>The words and thoughts of my enemies are against me all the time.

they make fun of me with songs.

for what they have done.

<sup>65</sup>Make them stubborn, and put your curse on them.

<sup>66</sup>Chase them in anger, Lord,
and destroy them from under your heavens.

Life Lessons

Lamentations 4:1–5:22

Situation

Jeremiah described the people's fate. He also told what they had done to deserve such punishment. The sins of the prophets, priests, and people had brought about the city's destruction.

Observation

God does not leave his people in destruction and judgment. God will restore.

Inspiration

I came into this world physically alive but spiritually dead, I learned to live my life independent of God. Essentially, that is what constitutes the flesh. I had neither the presence of God in my life nor the knowledge of God's ways, so I learned to cope and defend myself as I was being conformed to this world. This learned independence is what makes the flesh hostile toward God. That is why the flesh and the Spirit are in opposition to one another.

Being children of God, the presence of the Holy Spirit restrains us so we will not do the things that we please. If there were no moral restraints and no boundaries to govern our behavior, we would drive ourselves into moral decadence. Imagine the air traffic controller saying to the pilot, "You have my permission to land any time and any place you want."

God wants us free, but freedom is not license. I believe we are free by the grace of God to live a responsible life. In the early part of the twentieth century, a rigid fundamentalism had left our churches frozen in legalism. In the '50s it began to thaw, and the Jesus People movement of the '60s and '70s melted it into license for many. The pendulum had swung from the justice of God to the mercy of God... There's always a price to pay for license. True freedom doesn't lie in the exercise of choices, but in the consequences of the choices made. You may reserve the right to tell a lie, but you'll be in bondage to it because you'll have to remember the nature of the lie and to whom you told it. You may choose to rob a bank, but you will always be looking over your shoulder, fearing you may be caught. That's bondage. (From Walking with Christ in the Details of Life by Patrick Morley)

Application

The Attack on Jerusalem

See how the gold has lost its shine, how the pure gold has dulled!
The stones of the Temple are scattered at every street corner.

<sup>2</sup>The precious people of Jerusalem were more valuable than gold, but now they are thought of as clay jars made by the hands of a potter.

<sup>3</sup>Even wild dogs give their milk to feed their young, but my people are cruel
like ostriches in the desert.

<sup>4</sup>The babies are so thirsty their tongues stick to the roofs of their mouths.
Children beg for bread,
but no one gives them any.

<sup>5</sup>Those who once ate fine foods are now starving in the streets.
People who grew up wearing nice clothes
now pick through trash piles.

<sup>6</sup>My people have been punished more than Sodom was.

Sodom was destroyed suddenly,
and no hands reached out to help her.

<sup>7</sup>Our princes were purer than snow, and whiter than milk.
Their bodies were redder than rubies;
they looked like sapphires.

<sup>8</sup>But now they are blacker than coal, and no one recognizes them in the streets.
Their skin hangs on their bones;
it is as dry as wood.

<sup>9</sup>Those who were killed in the war were better off than those killed by hunger.
They starve in pain and die,
because there is no food from the field.

<sup>10</sup>With their own hands kind women
cook their own children.
They became food
when my people were destroyed.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord turned loose all of his anger;
he poured out his strong anger.
He set fire to Jerusalem, burning it down to the foundations.

<sup>12</sup>Kings of the earth and people of the world could not believe that enemies and foes

could enter the gates of Jerusalem.

<sup>13</sup>It happened because her prophets sinned and her priests did evil.

They killed in the city
those who did what was right.

<sup>14</sup>They wandered in the streets
as if they were blind.
They were dirty with blood, so no one would touch their clothes.

<sup>15</sup>“Go away! You are unclean,” people shouted at them.
“Get away! Get away! Don’t touch us!”
So they ran away and wandered.
Even the other nations said, “Don’t stay here.”

<sup>16</sup>The Lord himself scattered them and did not look after them anymore.
No one respects the priests or honors the older leaders.

<sup>17</sup>Also, our eyes grew tired, looking for help that never came.
We kept watch from our towers for a nation to save us.

<sup>18</sup>Our enemies hunted us, so we could not even walk in the streets.
Our end is near. Our time is up.
Our end has come.

<sup>17</sup>Those who chased us were faster than eagles in the sky.
They ran us into the mountains and ambushed us in the desert.

<sup>20</sup>The Lord's appointed king, who was our very breath, was caught in their traps.
We had said about him, "We will be protected by him
among the nations."

you who live in the land of Uz.
The cup of God's anger will come to you;
then you will get drunk and go naked.

He will not send you into captivity again.
But the Lord will punish the sins of Edom;
he will uncover your evil.

A Prayer to the Lord

Remember, Lord, what happened to us.

Look and see our disgrace.

<sup>2</sup>Our land has been turned over to strangers;
our houses have been given to foreigners.

<sup>3</sup>We are like orphans with no father;
our mothers are like widows.

<sup>4</sup>We have to buy the water we drink;
we must pay for the firewood.

<sup>5</sup>Those who chase after us want to catch us by the neck.

We are tired and find no rest.

<sup>6</sup>We made an agreement with Egypt and with Assyria to get enough food.

<sup>7</sup>Our ancestors sinned against you, but they are gone;
now we suffer because of their sins.

<sup>8</sup>Slaves have become our rulers, and no one can save us from them.

<sup>9</sup>We risk our lives to get our food;
we face death in the desert.

<sup>10</sup>Our skin is hot like an oven;
we burn with starvation.

<sup>11</sup>The enemy abused the women of Jerusalem and the girls in the cities of Judah.

<sup>12</sup>Princes were hung by the hands;
they did not respect our older leaders.

<sup>13</sup>The young men ground grain at the mill, and boys stumbled under loads of wood.

<sup>14</sup>The older leaders no longer sit at the city gates;

the young men no longer sing.

<sup>15</sup>We have no more joy in our hearts;
our dancing has turned to sadness.

<sup>16</sup>The crown has fallen from our head.
How terrible it is because we sinned.

<sup>17</sup>Because of this we are afraid, and now our eyes are dim.

and wild dogs wander around it.

<sup>19</sup>But you rule forever, Lord.
You will be King from now on.

<sup>20</sup>Why have you forgotten us for so long?
Have you left us forever?

<sup>21</sup>Bring us back to you, Lord, and we will return.
Make our days as they were before,

<sup>22</sup>or have you completely rejected us?
Are you so angry with us?

she In this poem the city of Jerusalem is described as a woman.

The Book of Ezekiel

Introduction

Out of the ruins of Jerusalem came a gutsy preacher named Ezekiel. He was among the Jews taken to Babylon after the fall of his country. He left behind his city. He left behind his Temple. He left behind his home.

But he didn't leave his faith.

He announced it to everyone who would listen. For twenty-two years he paced the streets proclaiming both sides of the faith.

The bad side? Turn or burn. Forgive me for being so direct, but Ezekiel was.

The good side? Turn and learn. God has a great plan for his people. A great city. Justice will reign and worship will be restored. Unlike Jerusalem, God's city is eternal. Who will be in God's city? Ezekiel answers that with the final words of the book—The Lord Is There.

Out of the ruins came Ezekiel. Out of the ruins came the promise. Out of the ruins came the new hope.

Is your life in ruins? Look ahead to God's city: The Lord Is There.

Life Lessons

Ezekiel 1:1–3:27

Situation

Ezekiel, a priest who had favor in God's eyes, suffered because of the sin of the whole nation. In exile, he preached to fellow Jewish captives.

Observation

God ordains our position so that we can show God's love to those around us.

Inspiration

What we want is relief. We want our problem or heartache to just go away. And yet the biblical message of rest is that your relief may come from the power you gain when you accept your suffering. Your relief may come from the strength you develop from serving in spite of it.

Remember, Jesus said, "Take My yoke (suffering) upon you and learn of Me, for I am meek and lowly in heart and you shall find rest for your souls."

If you are bewildered, badgered, broken, or battered as you try to make your way along the freeways of life, take a rest. You'll find a quiet calm awaiting you when you accept what you cannot change, and serve the very people who contribute to your pain. (From Little House on the Freeway by Tim Kimmel)

Application

Is your life discouraging? Is the difficulty unavoidable? God has placed you where you can help others. Encourage others who have the same illness you have. Share Christ with those who have also experienced the loss of a loved one. Get to know others who are recovering from a problem you have faced and share with them what has helped you.

Ezekiel's Vision of Living Creatures

It was the thirtieth year, on the fifth day of the fourth month of our captivity. I was by the Kebar River among the people who had been carried away as captives. The sky opened, and I saw visions of God.

<sup>2</sup>It was the fifth day of the month of the fifth year that King Jehoiachin had been a prisoner. <sup>3</sup>The Lord spoke his word to Ezekiel son of Buzi in the land of the Babylonians by the Kebar River. There he felt the power of the Lord.

spread out above. Each had two wings that touched one of the other living creatures and two wings that covered its body.<sup>12</sup>Each went straight ahead. Wherever the spirit would go, the living creatures would also go, without turning.<sup>13</sup>The living creatures looked like burning coals of fire or like torches. Fire went back and forth among the living creatures. It was bright, and lightning flashed from it.<sup>14</sup>The living creatures ran back and forth like bolts of lightning.

<sup>19</sup>When the living creatures moved, the wheels moved beside them. When the living creatures were lifted up from the ground, the wheels also were lifted up.<sup>20</sup>Wherever the spirit would go, the living creatures would go. And the wheels were lifted up beside them, because the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels.<sup>21</sup>When the living creatures moved, the wheels moved. When the living creatures stopped, the wheels stopped. And when the living creatures were lifted from the ground, the wheels were lifted beside them, because the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels.

living creature also had two wings covering its body. <sup>24</sup>I heard the sound of their wings, like the roaring sound of the sea, as they moved. It was like the voice of God Almighty, a roaring sound like a noisy army. When the living creatures stopped, they lowered their wings.

The Lord Speaks to Ezekiel

He said to me, “Human, stand up on your feet so I may speak with you.”<sup>2</sup> While he spoke to me, the Spirit entered me and put me on my feet. Then I heard the Lord speaking to me.

<sup>3</sup>He said, “Human, I am sending you to the people of Israel. That nation has turned against me and broken away from me. They and their ancestors have sinned against me until this very day. <sup>4</sup>I am sending you to people who are stubborn and who do not obey. You will say to them, ‘This is what the Lord God says.’ <sup>5</sup>They may listen, or they may not, since they are a people who have turned against me. But they will know that a prophet has been among them. <sup>6</sup>You, human, don’t be afraid of the people or their words. Even though they may be like thorny branches and stickers all around you, and though you may feel like you live with poisonous insects, don’t be afraid. Don’t be afraid of their words or their looks, because they are a people who turn against me. <sup>7</sup>But speak my words to them. They may listen, or they may not, because they turn against me. <sup>8</sup>But you, human, listen to what I say to you. Don’t turn against me as those people do. Open your mouth and eat what I am giving you.”

<sup>9</sup>Then I looked and saw a hand stretched out to me, and a scroll was in it. <sup>10</sup>He opened the scroll in front of me. Funeral songs, sad writings, and words about troubles were written on the front and back.

Then the Lord said to me, “Human, eat what you find; eat this scroll. Then go and speak to the people of Israel.”<sup>2</sup> So I opened my mouth, and he gave me the scroll to eat.

<sup>3</sup>He said to me, “Human, eat this scroll which I am giving you, and fill your stomach with it.” Then I ate it, and it was as sweet as honey in my mouth.

<sup>4</sup>Then he said to me, “Human, go to the people of Israel, and speak my words to them. <sup>5</sup>You are not being sent to people whose speech you can’t understand, whose language is difficult. You are being sent to Israel. <sup>6</sup>You are not being sent to many nations whose speech you can’t understand, whose language is difficult, whose words you cannot understand. If I had sent you to them, they would have listened to you. <sup>7</sup>But the people of Israel will not be willing to listen to you, because they are not willing to listen to me. Yes, all the people of Israel are stubborn and will not obey. <sup>8</sup>See, I now make you as stubborn and as hard as they are. <sup>9</sup>I am making you as hard as a diamond, harder than stone. Don’t be afraid of them or be frightened by them, though they are a people who turn against me.”

<sup>10</sup>Also, he said to me, “Human, believe all the words I will speak to you, and listen carefully to them. <sup>11</sup>Then go to the captives, your own people, and say to them, ‘The Lord God says this.’ Tell them this whether they listen or not.”

<sup>12</sup>Then the Spirit lifted me up, and I heard a loud rumbling sound behind me, saying, “Praise the glory of the Lord in heaven.” <sup>13</sup>I heard the wings of the living creatures touching each other and the sound of the wheels by them. It was a loud rumbling sound. <sup>14</sup>So the Spirit lifted me up and took me away. I was unhappy and angry, and I felt the great power of the Lord.

<sup>15</sup>I came to the captives from Judah, who lived by the Kebar River at Tel Abib. I sat there seven days where these people lived, feeling shocked.

Israel's Warning

<sup>16</sup>After seven days the Lord spoke his word to me again. He said, <sup>17</sup>“Human, I now make you a watchman for Israel. Any time you hear a word from my mouth, warn them for me. <sup>18</sup>When I say to the wicked, ‘You will surely die,’ you must warn them so they may live. If you don’t speak out to warn the wicked to stop their evil ways, they will die in their sin. But I will hold you responsible for their death. <sup>19</sup>If you warn the wicked and they do not turn from their wickedness or their evil ways, they will die because of their sin. But you will have saved your life.

<sup>20</sup>“Again, those who do right may turn away from doing good and do evil. If I make something bad happen to them, they will die. Because you have not warned them, they will die because of their sin, and the good they did will not be remembered. But I will hold you responsible for their deaths. <sup>21</sup>But if you have warned those good people not to sin, and they do not sin, they will surely live, because they believed the warning. And you will have saved your life.”

<sup>22</sup>Then I felt the power of the Lord there. He said to me, “Get up and go out to the plain. There I will speak to you.” <sup>23</sup>So I got up and went out to the plain. I saw the glory of the Lord standing there, like the glory I saw by the Kebar River, and I bowed facedown on the ground.

He spoke to me and said, “Go, shut yourself up in your house.
<sup>25</sup>As for you, human, the people will tie you up with ropes so that you will not be able to go out among them. <sup>26</sup>Also, I will make your tongue stick to the roof of your mouth so you will be silent. You will not be able to argue with the people, even though they turn against me. <sup>27</sup>But when I speak to you, I will open your mouth, and you will say to them, ‘The Lord God says this.’ Those who will listen, let them listen. Those who refuse, let them refuse, because they are a people who turn against me.

Life Lessons

Ezekiel 4:1–7:27

Situation

Before the fall of Jerusalem in 586 B.C., God told Ezekiel about the impending judgment.

Observation

Israel's idolatry needed to be judged. God will not tolerate anything that displaces him in our lives.

Inspiration

What is idolatry? Idolatry is anything that comes between us and God. Joshua told his people that their nation would be destroyed if they persisted in idolatry, and their souls would suffer eternal death. He said, "You must make your decision today. You must decide whether you want to serve the idols of this life, or the living God." "Choose you this day," said Joshua, "as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord" [Joshua 24:15]. What about you? Are you taking your stand with Joshua? No matter what the cost? I am asking you to choose this day whom you will serve. Our families cannot choose Christ for us. Our friends cannot do it. God is a great God, but even God can't make the decision for us. He can help, but only we can decide. We have to make our own choice. (From Day by Day with Billy Graham by Joan W. Brown)

Application

We don't see many people worshiping idols today. However, we do see career, cars, money, and pleasure crowding God out of people's lives. No one is immune from such temptation. Be aware of selfish desires for material wealth or social status. Have only one concern: a right relationship with God.

The Map of Jerusalem

“Now, human, get yourself a brick, put it in front of you, and draw a map of Jerusalem on it. <sup>2</sup>Then surround it with an army. Build battle works against the city and a dirt road to the top of the city walls. Set up camps around it, and put heavy logs in place to break down the walls. <sup>3</sup>Then get yourself an iron plate and set it up like an iron wall between you and the city. Turn your face toward the city as if to attack it and then attack. This is a sign to Israel.

<sup>4</sup>“Then lie down on your left side, and take the guilt of Israel on yourself. Their guilt will be on you for the number of days you lie on your left side. <sup>5</sup>I have given you the same number of days as the years of the people’s sin. So you will have the guilt of Israel’s sin on you for three hundred ninety days.

<sup>6</sup>“After you have finished these three hundred ninety days, lie down a second time, on your right side. You will then have the guilt of Judah on you. I will give it to you for forty days, a day for each year of their sin. <sup>7</sup>Then you will look toward Jerusalem, which is being attacked. With your arm bare, you will prophesy against Jerusalem. <sup>8</sup>I will put ropes on you so you cannot turn from one side to the other until you have finished the days of your attack on Jerusalem.

yourself. You will eat it the three hundred ninety days you lie on your side. <sup>10</sup>You will eat eight ounces of food every day at set times. <sup>11</sup>You will drink about two-thirds of a quart of water every day at set times. <sup>12</sup>Eat your food as you would eat a barley cake, baking it over human dung where the people can see.” <sup>13</sup>Then the Lord said, “In the same way Israel will eat unclean food among the nations where I force them to go.”

<sup>14</sup>But I said, “No, Lord God! I have never been made unclean. From the time I was young until now I’ve never eaten anything that died by itself or was torn by animals. Unclean meat has never entered my mouth.”

<sup>15</sup>“Very well,” he said. “Then I will give you cow’s dung instead of human dung to use for your fire to bake your bread.”

<sup>16</sup>He also said to me, “Human, I am going to cut off the supply of bread to Jerusalem. They will eat the bread that is measured out to them, and they will worry as they eat. They will drink water that is measured out to them, and they will be in shock as they drink it. <sup>17</sup>This is because bread and water will be hard to find. The people will be shocked at the sight of each other, and they will become weak because of their sin.

Ezekiel Cuts His Hair

“Now, human, take a sharp sword, and use it like a barber’s razor to shave your head and beard. Then take scales and weigh and divide the hair.<sup>2</sup> Burn one-third with fire in the middle of the city when the days of the attack on Jerusalem are over. Then take one-third and cut it up with the knife all around the city. And scatter one-third to the wind. This is how I will chase them with a sword.<sup>3</sup> Also take a few of these hairs and tie them in the folds of your clothes.<sup>4</sup> Take a few more and throw them into the fire and burn them up. From there a fire will spread to all the people of Israel.

<sup>5</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: This is Jerusalem. I have put her at the center of the nations with countries all around her.<sup>6</sup> But she has refused to obey my laws and has been more evil than the nations. She has refused to obey my rules, even more than nations around her. The people of Jerusalem have rejected my laws and have not lived by my rules.

<sup>7</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says: You have caused more trouble than the nations around you. You have not followed my rules or obeyed my laws. You have not even obeyed the laws of the nations around you.

<sup>8</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says: I myself am against you, and I will punish you as the nations watch.<sup>9</sup> I will do things among you that I have not done before and that I will never do anything like again, because you do the things I hate.<sup>10</sup> So parents among you will eat their children, and children will eat their parents. I will punish you and will scatter to the winds all who are left alive. <sup>11</sup>So the Lord God says: You have made my Temple unclean with all your evil idols and the hateful things you do. Because of this, as surely as I live, I will cut you off. I will have no pity, and I will show no mercy. <sup>12</sup>A third of you will die by disease or be destroyed by hunger inside your walls. A third will fall dead by the sword outside your walls. And a third I will scatter in every direction as I chase them with a sword. <sup>13</sup>Then my anger will come to an end. I will use it up against them, and then I will be satisfied. Then they will know that I, the Lord, have spoken. After I have carried out my anger against them, they will know how strongly I felt.

<sup>14</sup>“I will make you a ruin and a shame among the nations around you, to be seen by all who pass by. <sup>15</sup>Then the nations around you will shame you and make fun of you. You will be a warning and a terror to them. This will happen when I punish you in my great anger. I, the Lord, have spoken. <sup>16</sup>I will send a time of hunger to destroy you, and then I will make your hunger get even worse, and I will cut off your supply of food. <sup>17</sup>I will send a time of hunger and wild animals against you, and they will kill your children. Disease and death will sweep through your people, and I will bring the sword against you to kill you. I, the Lord, have spoken.”

Prophecies Against the Mountains

Again the Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“Human, look toward the mountains of Israel, and prophesy against them. <sup>3</sup>Say, ‘Mountains of Israel, listen to the word of the Lord God. The Lord God says this to the mountains, the hills, the ravines, and the valleys: I will bring a sword against you, and I will destroy your places of idol worship. <sup>4</sup>Your altars will be destroyed and your incense altars broken down. Your people will be killed in front of your idols. <sup>5</sup>I will lay the dead bodies of the Israelites in front of their idols, and I will scatter your bones around your altars. <sup>6</sup>In all the places you live, cities will become empty. The places of idol worship will be ruined; your altars will become lonely ruins. Your idols will be broken and brought to an end. Your incense altars will be cut down, and the things you made will be wiped out. <sup>7</sup>Your people will be killed and fall among you. Then you will know that I am the Lord.

<sup>8</sup>“But I will leave some people alive; some will not be killed by the nations when you are scattered among the foreign lands. <sup>9</sup>Then those who have escaped will remember me, as they live among the nations where they have been taken as captives. They will remember how I was hurt because they were unfaithful to me and turned away from me and desired to worship their idols. They will hate themselves because of the evil things they did that I hate. <sup>10</sup>Then they will know that I am the Lord. I did not bring this terrible thing on them for no reason.

your feet, and groan because of all the hateful, evil things the people of Israel have done. They will die by war, hunger, and disease. <sup>12</sup>The person who is far away will die by disease. The one who is nearby will die in war. The person who is still alive and has escaped these will die from hunger. So I will carry out my anger on them. <sup>13</sup>Their people will lie dead among their idols around the altars, on every high hill, on all the mountain tops, and under every green tree and leafy oak—all the places where they offered sweet-smelling incense to their idols. Then you will know that I am the Lord. <sup>14</sup>I will use my power against them to make the land empty and wasted from the desert to Diblah, wherever they live. Then they will know that I am the Lord.”

Ezekiel Tells of the End

Again the Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“Human, the Lord God says this to the land of Israel: An end! The end has come on the four corners of the land. <sup>3</sup>Now the end has come for you, and I will send my anger against you. I will judge you for the way you have lived, and I will make you pay for all your actions that I hate. <sup>4</sup>I will have no pity on you; I will not hold back punishment from you. Instead, I will make you pay for the way you have lived and for your actions that I hate. Then you will know that I am the Lord.

<sup>5</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: Disaster on top of disaster is coming. <sup>6</sup>The end has come! The end has come! It has stirred itself up against you! Look! It has come! <sup>7</sup>Disaster has come for you who live in the land! The time has come; the day of confusion is near. There will be no happy shouting on the mountains. <sup>8</sup>Soon I will pour out my anger against you; I will carry out my anger against you. I will judge you for the way you have lived and will make you pay for everything you have done that I hate. <sup>9</sup>I will show no pity, and I will not hold back punishment. I will pay you back for the way you have lived and the things you have done that I hate. Then you will know that I am the Lord who punishes.

day has arrived. Don't let the buyer be happy or the seller be sad, because my burning anger is against the whole crowd. <sup>13</sup>Sellers will not return to the land they have sold as long as they live, because the vision against all that crowd will not be changed. Because of their sins, they will not save their lives. <sup>14</sup>They have blown the trumpet, and everything is ready. But no one is going to the battle, because my anger is against all that crowd.

<sup>15</sup>“The sword is outside, and disease and hunger are inside. Whoever is in the field will die by the sword. Hunger and disease will destroy those in the city. <sup>16</sup>Those who are left alive and who escape will be on the mountains, moaning like doves of the valleys about their own sin. <sup>17</sup>All hands will hang weakly with fear, and all knees will become weak as water. <sup>18</sup>They will put on rough cloth to show how sad they are. They will tremble all over with fear. Their faces will show their shame, and all their heads will be shaved. <sup>19</sup>The people will throw their silver into the streets, and their gold will be like trash. Their silver and gold will not save them from the Lord's anger. It will not satisfy their hunger or fill their stomachs, because it caused them to fall into sin. <sup>20</sup>They were proud of their beautiful jewelry and used it to make their idols and their evil statues, which I hate. So I will turn their wealth into trash. <sup>21</sup>I will give it to foreigners as loot from war and to the most evil people in the world as treasure, and they will dishonor it. <sup>22</sup>I will also turn away from the people of Israel, and they will dishonor my treasured place. Then robbers will enter and dishonor it.

also end the pride of the strong, and their holy places will be dishonored.<sup>25</sup>When the people are suffering greatly, they will look for peace, but there will be none.<sup>26</sup>Disaster will come on top of disaster, and rumor will be added to rumor. Then they will try to get a vision from a prophet; the teachings of God from the priest and the advice from the older leaders will be lost.<sup>27</sup>The king will cry greatly, the prince will give up hope, and the hands of the people who own land will shake with fear. I will punish them for the way they have lived. The way they have judged others is the way I will judge them. Then they will know that I am the Lord.”

Life Lessons

Ezekiel 8:1–11:25

Situation

God spoke through his servant Ezekiel. He showed the Israelites the reason for their exile.

Observation

God hates idolatry. He hates anything that gets in the way of a relationship with him. And self-centeredness, at its root, is idolatry.

Inspiration

The self-centered see everything through self. Their motto? “It’s all about me!” The flight schedule. The traffic. The dress styles. The worship styles. The weather, the work, whether or not one works—everything is filtered through the mini-me in the eye.

Selfishness.

Such a condition can be fatal.

Listen to the words of James. “Where jealousy and selfishness are, there will be confusion and every kind of evil” (James 3:16).

Need proof?

Let’s examine one newspaper. Today’s edition. How many examples of selfishness will we find in the first few pages?

1. A teenage girl died in a car wreck. Her boyfriend was challenged to a race on a city street. He took the dare and wrapped the car

- around a telephone pole.
2. The largest petroleum company in the world has filed for bankruptcy. Executives allegedly knew the ship had leaks but told no one until they had time to make huge profits.
  3. A prominent citizen is put in jail for child pornography.

Selfishness is to society what the Exxon Valdez was to scallops and sea otters—deadly. Is it any wonder that Paul writes: “Do nothing from selfishness or empty conceit, but with humility of mind regard one another as more important than yourselves; do not merely look out for your own personal interests, but also for the interests of others” (Philippians 2:3–4, NASB).

At first glance the standard in the passage seems impossible to meet. Nothing? We shouldn’t do anything for ourselves? No new dress or suit. What about going to school or saving money—couldn’t all of these things be considered selfish?

They could, unless we are careful to understand what Paul is saying. The word the apostle uses for selfishness shares a root form with the words strife and contentious. It suggests a self-preoccupation that hurts others. A divisive arrogance. In fact, first-century writers used the word to describe a politician who procured office by illegal manipulation or a harlot who seduced the client, demeaning both herself and him. Selfishness is an obsession with self that excludes others, hurting everyone.

Looking after your personal interests is proper life management. Doing so to the exclusion of the rest of the world is selfishness.

Application

Idols come in attractive packages today. You can identify them when they keep you from worship, consume your tithes, or become what you are most proud of. What can you do? Take time to evaluate what may be idols in your life. Pray that God will help you remove them from your life.

Ezekiel's Vision of Jerusalem

It was the sixth year, on the fifth day of the sixth month of our captivity. I was sitting in my house with the older leaders of Judah in front of me. There I felt the power of the Lord God. <sup>2</sup>I looked and saw something that looked like a human. From the waist down it looked like fire, and from the waist up it looked like bright glowing metal. <sup>3</sup>It stretched out the shape of a hand and caught me by the hair on my head. The Spirit lifted me up between the earth and the sky. He took me in visions of God to Jerusalem, to the entrance to the north gate of the inner courtyard of the Temple. In the courtyard was the idol that caused God to be jealous. <sup>4</sup>I saw the glory of the God of Israel there, as I had seen on the plain.

<sup>5</sup>Then he said to me, "Human, now look toward the north." So I looked up toward the north, and in the entrance north of the gate of the altar was the idol that caused God to be jealous.

<sup>6</sup>He said to me, "Human, do you see what they are doing? Do you see how many hateful things the people of Israel are doing here that drive me far away from my Temple? But you will see things more hateful than these."

<sup>7</sup>Then he brought me to the entry of the courtyard. When I looked, I saw a hole in the wall. <sup>8</sup>He said to me, "Human, dig through the wall." So I dug through the wall and saw an entrance.

<sup>9</sup>Then he said to me, "Go in and see the hateful, evil things they are doing here.”<sup>10</sup> So I entered and looked, and I saw every kind of crawling thing and hateful beast and all the idols of the people of Israel, carved on the wall all around.<sup>11</sup> Standing in front of these carvings and idols were seventy of the older leaders of Israel and Jaazaniah son of Shaphan. Each man had his pan for burning incense in his hand, and a sweet-smelling cloud of incense was rising.

<sup>12</sup> Then he said to me, “Human, have you seen what the older leaders of Israel are doing in the dark? Have you seen each man in the room of his own idol? They say, ‘The Lord doesn’t see us. The Lord has left the land.’”<sup>13</sup> He also said to me, “You will see even more hateful things that they are doing.”

<sup>14</sup> Then he brought me to the entrance of the north gate of the Temple of the Lord, where I saw women sitting and crying for Tammuz.<sup>15</sup> He said to me, “Do you see, human? You will see things even more hateful than these.”

<sup>16</sup> Then he brought me into the inner courtyard of the Temple. There I saw about twenty-five men at the entrance to the Temple of the Lord, between the porch and the altar. With their backs turned to the Temple of the Lord, they faced east and were worshiping the sun in the east.

<sup>17</sup> He said to me, “Do you see, human? Is it unimportant that the people of Judah are doing the hateful things they have done here? They have filled the land with violence and made me continually angry. Look, they are insulting me every way they can.”<sup>18</sup> So I will act in anger. I will have no pity, nor will I show mercy. Even if they shout in my ears, I won’t listen to them.”

Vision of the Angels

Then he shouted with a loud voice in my ears, “You who are chosen to punish this city, come near with your weapon in your hand.”<sup>2</sup> Then six men came from the direction of the upper gate, which faces north, each with his powerful weapon in his hand. Among them was a man dressed in linen with a writing case at his side. The men went in and stood by the bronze altar.

<sup>3</sup> Then the glory of the God of Israel went up from above the creatures with wings, where it had been, to the place in the Temple where the door opened. He called to the man dressed in linen who had the writing case at his side. <sup>4</sup> He said to the man, “Go through Jerusalem and put a mark on the foreheads of the people who groan and cry about all the hateful things being done among them.”

<sup>5</sup> As I listened, he said to the other men, “Go through the city behind the man dressed in linen and kill. Don’t pity anyone, and don’t show mercy. <sup>6</sup> Kill and destroy old men, young men and women, little children, and older women, but don’t touch any who have the mark on them. Start at my Temple.” So they started with the older leaders who were in front of the Temple.

<sup>7</sup> Then he said to the men, “Make the Temple unclean, and fill the courtyards with those who have been killed. Go out!” So the men went out and killed the people in the city. <sup>8</sup> While the men were killing the people, I was left alone. I bowed facedown on the ground and I cried out, “Oh, Lord God! Will you destroy everyone left alive in Israel when you turn loose your anger on Jerusalem?”

<sup>9</sup>Then he said to me, “The sin of the people of Israel and Judah is very great. The land is filled with people who murder, and the city is full of people who are not fair. The people say, ‘The Lord has left the land, and the Lord does not see.’ <sup>10</sup>But I will have no pity, nor will I show mercy. I will bring their evil back on their heads.”

<sup>11</sup>Then the man dressed in linen with the writing case at his side reported, “I have done just as you commanded me.”

The Coals of Fire

Then I looked and saw in the dome above the heads of the living creatures something like a sapphire gem which looked like a throne. <sup>2</sup>The Lord said to the man dressed in linen, “Go in between the wheels under the living creatures, fill your hands with coals of fire from between the living creatures, and scatter the coals over the city.”

As I watched, the man with linen clothes went in. <sup>3</sup>Now the living creatures were standing on the south side of the Temple when the man went in. And a cloud filled the inner courtyard. <sup>4</sup>Then the glory of the Lord went up from the living creatures and stood over the door of the Temple. The Temple was filled with the cloud, and the courtyard was full of the brightness from the glory of the Lord. <sup>5</sup>The sound of the wings of the living creatures was heard all the way to the outer courtyard. It was like the voice of God Almighty when he speaks.

The Wheels and the Creatures

living creatures, one wheel by each living creature. The wheels looked like shining chrysolite.<sup>10</sup>All four wheels looked alike: Each looked like a wheel crossways inside another wheel.<sup>11</sup>When the wheels moved, they went in any of the directions that the four living creatures faced. The wheels did not turn about, and the living creatures did not turn their bodies as they went.<sup>12</sup>All their bodies, their backs, their hands, their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes all over. Each of the four living creatures had a wheel.<sup>13</sup>I heard the wheels being called “whirling wheels.”<sup>14</sup>Each living creature had four faces. The first face was the face of a creature with wings. The second face was a human face, the third was the face of a lion, and the fourth was the face of an eagle.

<sup>18</sup>Then the glory of the Lord left the door of the Temple and stood over the living creatures.<sup>19</sup>As I watched, the living creatures spread their wings and flew up from the ground, with the wheels beside them. They stood where the east gate of the Temple of the Lord opened, and the glory of the God of Israel was over them.

<sup>20</sup>These were the living creatures I had seen under the God of Israel by the Kebar River. I knew they were called cherubim.

<sup>21</sup>Each one had four faces and four wings, and under their wings were things that looked like human hands.<sup>22</sup> Their faces looked the same as the ones I had seen by the Kebar River. They each went straight ahead.

Prophecies Against Evil Leaders

The Spirit lifted me up and brought me to the front gate of the Temple of the Lord, which faces east. I saw twenty-five men where the gate opens, among them Jaazaniah son of Azzur and Pelatiah son of Benaiah, who were leaders of the people.<sup>2</sup> Then the Lord said to me, “Human, these are the men who plan evil and give wicked advice in this city of Jerusalem.<sup>3</sup> They say, ‘It is almost time for us to build houses. This city is like a cooking pot, and we are like the best meat.’<sup>4</sup> So prophesy against them, prophesy, human.”

<sup>5</sup> Then the Spirit of the Lord entered me and told me to say: “This is what the Lord says: You have said these things, people of Israel, and I know what you are thinking.<sup>6</sup> You have killed many people in this city, filling its streets with their bodies.

<sup>7</sup> “So this is what the Lord God says: Those people you have killed and left in the middle of the city are like the best meat, and this city is like the cooking pot. But I will force you out of the city.<sup>8</sup> You have feared the sword, but I will bring a sword against you, says the Lord God.<sup>9</sup> I will force you out of the city and hand you over to strangers and punish you.<sup>10</sup> You will die by the sword. I will punish you at the border of Israel so you will know that I am the Lord.<sup>11</sup> This city will not be your cooking pot, and you will not be the best meat in the middle of it. I will punish you at the border of Israel.<sup>12</sup> Then you will know that I am the Lord. You did not live by my rules or obey my laws. Instead, you did the same things as the nations around you.”

<sup>13</sup>As I prophesied, Pelatiah son of Benaiah died. Then I bowed facedown on the ground and shouted with a loud voice, “Oh no, Lord God! Will you completely destroy the Israelites who are left alive?”

Promise to Those Remaining

<sup>14</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me, saying, <sup>15</sup>“Human, the people still in Jerusalem have spoken about your own relatives and all the people of Israel who are captives with you, saying, ‘They are far from the Lord. This land has been given to us as our property.’”

<sup>16</sup>“So say, ‘This is what the Lord God says: I sent the people far away among the nations and scattered them among the countries. But for a little while I have become a Temple to them in the countries where they have gone.’”

<sup>17</sup>“So say: ‘This is what the Lord God says: I will gather you from the nations and bring you together from the countries where you have been scattered. Then I will give you back the land of Israel.’”

<sup>18</sup>“When they come to this land, they will remove all the evil idols and all the hateful images. <sup>19</sup>I will give them a desire to respect me completely, and I will put inside them a new way of thinking. I will take out the stubborn heart of stone from their bodies, and I will give them an obedient heart of flesh. <sup>20</sup>Then they will live by my rules and obey my laws and keep them. They will be my people, and I will be their God. <sup>21</sup>But those who want to serve their evil statues and hateful idols, I will pay back for their evil ways, says the Lord God.”

Ezekiel's Vision Ends

<sup>22</sup>Then the living creatures lifted their wings with the wheels beside them, and the glory of the God of Israel was above them. <sup>23</sup>The glory of the Lord went up from inside Jerusalem and stopped on the mountain on the east side of the city. <sup>24</sup>The Spirit lifted me up and brought me to the captives who had been taken from Judah to Babylonia. This happened in a vision given by the Spirit of God, and then the vision I had seen ended. <sup>25</sup>And I told the captives from Judah all the things the Lord had shown me.

Life Lessons

Ezekiel 12:1–28

Situation

Although Jerusalem was about to be destroyed, the Jews remained blind to their own disobedience and rebellion.

Observation

The Israelites refused to obey God. They would not believe that God's warnings of destruction applied to them, and they resented Ezekiel's message of judgment against them.

Inspiration

Resentment is allowing your hurts to turn into hates. When those hates simmer in your heart, they create bitterness, and you are the one who suffers. Forget those hurts!

When you have a relationship in need of repair, the first key to improvement is to examine your own heart. Look at your own heart—remember who you are and who God called you to be. Did the Father call you to be angry? to be bitter? Or did he call you to be loving and forgiving?

An itinerant preacher from Nazareth can do something for the hurt that is in your heart. Maybe you're trying to rebuild an estranged relationship... . Maybe you've been trying to find God for longer than you can remember. There was something about this Nazarene preacher that made people cluster around him like he was God's gift to humanity. He is your gift as well. (From The Inspirational Bible, “Resentment”)

Application

Isn't it amazing how blind we are to the truth of God's Word? God requires repentance from our sins and obedience to his will. Anger and resentment loom. Yet, like the Israelites, we are prone to think that judgment or discipline won't happen to us. Ask God to give you a clean slate in service and obedience to him.

Exploration

Obedience to God—1 Samuel 15:22; Psalm 1; John 14:15; Romans 3:21–26; 2 Corinthians 5:18–21; Hebrews 12:4–29.

Ezekiel Moves Out

Again the Lord spoke his word to me, saying:<sup>2</sup>“Human, you are living among a people who refuse to obey. They have eyes to see, but they do not see, and they have ears to hear, but they do not hear, because they are a people who refuse to obey.

<sup>3</sup>“So, human, pack your things as if you will be taken away captive, and walk away like a captive in the daytime with the people watching. Move from your place to another with the people watching. Maybe they will understand, even though they are a people who refuse to obey. <sup>4</sup>During the day when the people are watching, bring out the things you would pack as captive. At evening, with the people watching, leave your place like those who are taken away as captives from their country. <sup>5</sup>Dig a hole through the wall while they watch, and bring your things out through it. <sup>6</sup>Lift them onto your shoulders with the people watching, and carry them out in the dark. Cover your face so you cannot see the ground, because I have made you a sign to the people of Israel.”

<sup>7</sup>I did these things as I was commanded. In the daytime I brought what I had packed as if I were being taken away captive. Then in the evening I dug through the wall with my hands. I brought my things out in the dark and carried them on my shoulders as the people watched.

saying: <sup>9</sup>“Human, didn’t Israel, who refuses to obey, ask you, ‘What are you doing?’

<sup>10</sup>“Say to them, ‘This is what the Lord God says: This message is about the king in Jerusalem and all the people of Israel who live there.’ <sup>11</sup>Say, ‘I am a sign to you.’

“The same things I have done will be done to the people in Jerusalem. They will be taken away from their country as captives. <sup>12</sup>The king among them will put his things on his shoulder in the dark and will leave. The people will dig a hole through the wall to bring him out. He will cover his face so he cannot see the ground. <sup>13</sup>But I will spread my net over him, and he will be caught in my trap. Then I will bring him to Babylon in the land of the Babylonians. He will not see that land, but he will die there. <sup>14</sup>All who are around the king—his helpers and all his army—I will scatter in every direction, and I will chase them with a sword.

<sup>15</sup>“They will know that I am the Lord when I scatter them among the nations and spread them among the countries. <sup>16</sup>But I will save a few of them from the sword and from hunger and disease. Then they can tell about their hateful actions among the nations where they go. Then they will know that I am the Lord.”

The Lesson of Ezekiel’s Shaking

<sup>17</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>18</sup>“Human, tremble as you eat your food, and shake with fear as you drink your water. <sup>19</sup>Then say to the people of the land: ‘This is what the Lord God says about the people who live in Jerusalem in the land of Israel: They will eat their food with fear and drink their water in shock, because their land will be stripped bare because of the violence of the people who live in it. <sup>20</sup>The cities where people live will become ruins, and the land will become empty. Then you will know that I am the Lord.”

The Visions Will Come True

<sup>21</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>22</sup>“Human, what is this saying you have in the land of Israel: ‘The days go by and every vision comes to nothing’? <sup>23</sup>So say to them, ‘This is what the Lord God says: I will make them stop saying this, and nobody in Israel will use this saying anymore.’ But tell them, ‘The time is near when every vision will come true. <sup>24</sup>There will be no more false visions or pleasing prophecies inside the nation of Israel, <sup>25</sup>but I, the Lord, will speak. What I say will be done, and it will not be delayed. You refuse to obey, but in your time I will say the word and do it, says the Lord God.”

<sup>26</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>27</sup>“Human, the people of Israel are saying, ‘The vision that Ezekiel sees is for a time many years from now. He is prophesying about times far away.’

<sup>28</sup>“So say to them: ‘The Lord God says this: None of my words will be delayed anymore. What I have said will be done, says the Lord God.”

Life Lessons

Ezekiel 13:1–14:23

Situation

Ezekiel continued to prophesy about the destruction of Israel. He warned the people not to listen to false prophets or to worship idols.

Observation

Israel abandoned God's covenant.

Inspiration

Everything begins with God the Father. The initiative of grace is his alone. It is he who in sheer love desired both to show himself to mankind (which is “revelation”) and to bring mankind to himself (which is “redemption”).

In both he acted through Jesus Christ. It is through Christ that he has revealed himself to us, and it is through Christ that he has redeemed us for himself.

It is inconceivable, therefore, that there could ever be either a higher revelation than God has given through the person of Jesus Christ his son, or a fuller redemption than he has achieved through the work of Jesus Christ our Saviour. Both are perfect and complete. (From Understanding Christ by John Stott)

Application

Do you demonstrate your right relationship with God even in small areas—like driving? Do you observe the speed limit? Does your driving change when you see a police car? Be diligent to obey God even in small areas.

Ezekiel Speaks Against False Prophets

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“Human, prophesy against the prophets of Israel. Say to those who make up their own prophecies: ‘Listen to the word of the Lord. <sup>3</sup>This is what the Lord God says: How terrible it will be for the foolish prophets who follow their own ideas and have not seen a vision from me! <sup>4</sup>People of Israel, your prophets have been like wild dogs hunting to kill and eat among ruins. <sup>5</sup>Israel is like a house in ruins, but you have not gone up into the broken places or repaired the wall. So how can Israel hold back the enemy in the battle on the Lord’s day of judging? <sup>6</sup>Your prophets see false visions and prophesy lies. They say, “This is the message of the Lord,” when the Lord has not sent them. But they still hope their words will come true. <sup>7</sup>You said, “This is the message of the Lord,” but that is a false vision. Your prophecies are lies, because I have not spoken.

<sup>8</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says: Because you prophets spoke things that are false and saw visions that do not come true, I am against you, says the Lord God. <sup>9</sup>I will punish the prophets who see false visions and prophesy lies. They will have no place among my people. Their names will not be written on the list of the people of Israel, and they will not enter the land of Israel. Then you will know that I am the Lord God.

saying, “Peace!” when there is no peace. When the people build a weak wall, the prophets cover it with whitewash to make it look strong.<sup>11</sup> So tell those who cover a weak wall with whitewash that it will fall down. Rain will pour down, hailstones will fall, and a stormy wind will break the wall down.<sup>12</sup> When the wall has fallen, people will ask you, “Where is the whitewash you used on the wall?”

<sup>13</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says: I will break the wall with a stormy wind. In my anger rain will pour down, and hailstones will destroy the wall.<sup>14</sup> I will tear down the wall on which you put whitewash. I will level it to the ground so that people will see the wall’s foundation. And when the wall falls, you will be destroyed under it. Then you will know that I am the Lord.<sup>15</sup> So I will carry out my anger on the wall and against those who covered it with whitewash. Then I will tell you, “The wall is gone, and those who covered it with whitewash are gone.<sup>16</sup> The prophets of Israel who prophesy to Jerusalem and who see visions of peace for the city, when there is no peace, will be gone, says the Lord God.” ’

False Women Prophets

<sup>17</sup>“Now, human, look toward the women among your people who make up their own prophecies. Prophecy against them.<sup>18</sup> Say, ‘This is what the Lord God says: How terrible it will be for women who sew magic charms on their wrists and make veils of every length to trap people! You ruin the lives of my people but try to save your own lives.<sup>19</sup> For handfuls of barley and pieces of bread, you have dishonored me among my people. By lying to my people, who listen to lies, you have killed people who should not die, and you have kept alive those who should not live.

<sup>20</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says: I am against your magic charms, by which you trap people as if they were birds. I will tear those charms off your arms, and I will free those people you have trapped like birds. <sup>21</sup>I will also tear off your veils and save my people from your hands. They will no longer be trapped by your power. Then you will know that I am the Lord. <sup>22</sup>By your lies you have caused those who did right to be sad, when I did not make them sad. And you have encouraged the wicked not to stop being wicked, which would have saved their lives. <sup>23</sup>So you will not see false visions or prophesy anymore, and I will save my people from your power so you will know that I am the Lord.”

Stop Worshiping Idols

Some of the older leaders of Israel came to me and sat down in front of me.<sup>2</sup> Then the Lord spoke his word to me, saying:<sup>3</sup> “Human, these men want to worship idols. They put up evil things that cause people to sin. Should I allow them to ask me for help?”<sup>4</sup> So speak to them and tell them, “This is what the Lord God says: When any of the people of Israel want to worship idols and put up evil things that cause people to sin and then come to the prophet, I, the Lord, will answer them myself for worshiping idols.<sup>5</sup> Then I will win back my people Israel, who have left me because of all their idols.”

<sup>6</sup>“So say to the people of Israel, “This is what the Lord God says: Change your hearts and lives, and stop worshiping idols. Stop doing all the things I hate.<sup>7</sup> Any of the Israelites or foreigners in Israel can separate themselves from me by wanting to worship idols or by putting up the things that cause people to sin. Then if they come to the prophet to ask me questions, I, the Lord, will answer them myself.<sup>8</sup> I will reject them. I will make them a sign and an example, and I will separate them from my people. Then you will know that I am the Lord.

<sup>9</sup>“But if the prophet is tricked into giving a prophecy, it is because I, the Lord, have tricked that prophet to speak. Then I will use my power against him and destroy him from among my people Israel.<sup>10</sup> The prophet will be as guilty as the one who asks him for help; both will be responsible for their guilt.<sup>11</sup> Then the nation of Israel will not leave me anymore or make themselves unclean anymore with all their sins. They will be my people, and I will be their God, says the Lord God.”

Jerusalem Will Not Be Spared

<sup>12</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>13</sup>“Human, if the people of a country sin against me by not being loyal, I will use my power against them. I will cut off their supply of food and send a time of hunger, destroying both people and animals. <sup>14</sup>Even if three great men like Noah, Daniel, and Job were in that country, their goodness could save only themselves, says the Lord God.

<sup>15</sup>“Or I might send wild animals into that land, leaving the land empty and without children. Then no one would pass through it because of the animals. <sup>16</sup>As surely as I live, says the Lord God, even if Noah, Daniel, and Job were in the land, they could not save their own sons or daughters. They could save only themselves, but that country would become empty.

<sup>17</sup>“Or I might bring a war against that country. I might say, ‘Let a war be fought in that land,’ in this way destroying its people and its animals. <sup>18</sup>As surely as I live, says the Lord God, even if those three men were in the land, they could not save their sons or daughters. They could save only themselves.

<sup>19</sup>“Or I might cause a disease to spread in that country. I might pour out my anger against it, destroying and killing people and animals. <sup>20</sup>As surely as I live, says the Lord God, even if Noah, Daniel, and Job were in the land, they could not save their son or daughter. They could save only themselves because they did what was right.

<sup>21</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: My plans for Jerusalem are much worse! I will send my four terrible punishments against it—war, hunger, wild animals, and disease—to destroy its people and animals. <sup>22</sup>But some people will escape; some sons and daughters will be led out. They will come out to you, and you will see what happens to people who live as they did. Then you will be comforted after the disasters I have brought against Jerusalem, after all the things I have brought against it. <sup>23</sup>You will be comforted when you see what happens to them for living as they did, because you will know there was a good reason for what I did to Jerusalem, says the Lord God.”

Life Lessons

Ezekiel 15:1–20:44

Situation

God intended to destroy Jerusalem for its idolatry and rebellion. He compared the idol-worshiping city to a useless vine. God told Ezekiel that he would burn the city into a charred stalk.

Observation

Lack of faith leads to disaster.

Inspiration

During the reign of Oliver Cromwell, the British government began to run low on silver for coins. Lord Cromwell sent his men on an investigation of the local cathedral to see if they could find any precious metal there. After investigating, they reported: The only silver we could find is in the statues of the saints standing in the corners.

To which the radical soldier and statesman of England replied: Good! We'll melt down the saints and put them into circulation!

Not bad theology for a proper, strait-laced, Lord Protector of the Isles, huh? In a few words the direct order states the essence ... the kernel ... the practical goal of authentic Christianity. Not rows of silver saints, highly polished, frequently dusted, crammed into the corners of elegant cathedrals. Not plaster people cloaked in thin layers of untarnished silver and topped with a metallic halo. But real persons. Melted saints circulating through the mainstream of humanity. Bringing worth and value down where life transpires in the raw....

It's easy to kid ourselves. So easy. The Christian must guard against self-deception. We can begin to consider ourselves martyrs because we are in church twice on Sunday—really sacrificing by investing a few hours on the “day of rest.” Listen, my friend, being among the saints is no sacrifice ... it's a brief, choice privilege. The cost factor occurs on Monday or Tuesday ... and during the rest of the week. That's when we're “melted down and put into circulation.” That's when they go for the jugular. And it is remarkable how that monotonous work-week test discolors many a silver saint. “Sunday religion” may seem sufficient, but it isn't....

Doing battle in the steaming jungle calls for shock troops in super shape. No rhinestone cowboys can cut it among the swamps and insects of the gross world system. Sunday-go-to-meetin' silver saints in shining armor are simply out of circulation if that's the limit to their faith. Waging wilderness warfare calls for sweat ... energy ... keen strategy ... determination ... a good supply of ammunition ... willingness to fight ... refusal to surrender, even with the elephants tromping on your airhose.

And that is why we must be melted! It's all part of being “in circulation.” Those who successfully wage war with silent heroism under relentless secular pressure—ah, they are the saints who know what it means to be melted.

(From Encourage Me by Charles Swindoll)

Application

If you were melted down to your essence, what impurities would you find? Think of one area of weakness and work this week to become faithful where once you were faithless. Trust God to supply your needs.

Story of the Vine

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“Human, is the wood of the vine better than the wood of any tree in the forest? <sup>3</sup>Can wood be taken from the vine to make anything? Can you use it to make a peg on which to hang something? <sup>4</sup>If the vine is thrown into the fire for fuel, and the fire burns up both ends and starts to burn the middle, is it useful for anything? <sup>5</sup>When the vine was whole, it couldn't be made into anything. When the fire has burned it completely, it certainly cannot be made into anything.”

<sup>6</sup>So this is what the Lord God says: “Out of all the trees in the forest, I have given the wood of the vine as fuel for fire. In the same way I have given up the people who live in Jerusalem <sup>7</sup>and will turn against them. Although they came through one fire, fire will still destroy them. When I turn against them, you will know that I am the Lord. <sup>8</sup>So I will make the land empty, because the people have not been loyal, says the Lord God.”

The Lord's Kindness to Jerusalem

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying:<sup>2</sup>“Human, tell Jerusalem about her hateful actions.<sup>3</sup>Say, ‘This is what the Lord God says to Jerusalem: Your beginnings and your ancestors were in the land of the Canaanites. Your father was an Amorite, and your mother was a Hittite.<sup>4</sup>On the day you were born, your cord was not cut. You were not washed with water to clean you. You were not rubbed with salt or wrapped in cloths.<sup>5</sup>No one felt sorry enough for you to do any of these things for you. No, you were thrown out into the open field, because you were hated on the day you were born.

<sup>6</sup>“When I passed by and saw you kicking about in your blood, I said to you, “Live!”<sup>7</sup>I made you grow like a plant in the field. You grew up and became tall and became like a beautiful jewel. Your breasts formed, and your hair grew, but you were naked and without clothes.

<sup>8</sup>“Later when I passed by you and looked at you, I saw that you were old enough for love. So I spread my robe over you and covered your nakedness. I also made a promise to you and entered into an agreement with you so that you became mine, says the Lord God.

<sup>9</sup>“Then I bathed you with water, washed all the blood off of you, and put oil on you.<sup>10</sup>I put beautiful clothes made with needlework on you and put sandals of fine leather on your feet. I wrapped you in fine linen and covered you with silk.<sup>11</sup>I put jewelry on you: bracelets on your arms, a necklace around your neck,<sup>12</sup>a ring in your nose, earrings in your ears, and a beautiful crown on your head. <sup>13</sup>So you wore gold and silver. Your clothes were made of fine linen, silk, and beautiful needlework. You ate fine flour, honey, and olive oil. You were very beautiful and became a queen. <sup>14</sup>Then you became famous among the nations, because you were so beautiful. Your beauty was perfect, because of the glory I gave you, says the Lord God.

Jerusalem Becomes a Prostitute

<sup>15</sup>“But you trusted in your beauty. You became a prostitute, because you were so famous. You had sexual relations with anyone who passed by. <sup>16</sup>You took some of your clothes and made your places of worship colorful. There you carried on your prostitution. These things should not happen; they should never occur. <sup>17</sup>You also took your beautiful jewelry, made from my gold and silver I had given you, and you made for yourselves male idols so you could be a prostitute with them. <sup>18</sup>Then you took your clothes with beautiful needlework and covered the idols. You gave my oil and incense as an offering to them. <sup>19</sup>Also, you took the bread I gave you, the fine flour, oil, and honey I gave you to eat, and you offered them before the gods as a pleasing smell. This is what happened, says the Lord God.

<sup>20</sup>“But your sexual sins were not enough for you. You also took your sons and daughters who were my children, and you sacrificed them to the idols as food. <sup>21</sup>You killed my children and offered them up in fire to the idols. <sup>22</sup>While you did all your hateful acts and sexual sins, you did not remember when you were young, when you were naked and had no clothes and were left in your blood.

<sup>23</sup>“How terrible! How terrible it will be for you, says the Lord God. After you did all these evil things, <sup>24</sup>you built yourself a place to worship gods. You made for yourself a place of worship in every city square. <sup>25</sup>You built a place of worship at the beginning of every street. You made your beauty hateful, offering your body for sex to anyone who passed by, so your sexual sins became worse and worse. <sup>26</sup>You also had sexual relations with the Egyptians, who were your neighbors and partners in sexual sin. Your sexual sins became even worse, and they caused me to be angry. <sup>27</sup>So then, I used my power against you and took away some of your land. I let you be defeated by those who hate you, the Philistine women, who were ashamed of your evil ways. <sup>28</sup>Also, you had sexual relations with the Assyrians, because you could not be satisfied. Even though you had sexual relations with them, you still were not satisfied. <sup>29</sup>You did many more sexual sins in Babylonia, the land of traders, but even this did not satisfy you.

<sup>30</sup>“Truly your will is weak, says the Lord God. You do all the things a stubborn prostitute does. <sup>31</sup>You built your place to worship gods at the beginning of every street, and you made places of worship in every city square. But you were not like a prostitute when you refused to accept payment.

<sup>32</sup>“You are a wife who is guilty of adultery. You desire strangers instead of your husband. <sup>33</sup>Men pay prostitutes, but you pay all your lovers to come to you. And they come from all around for sexual relations. <sup>34</sup>So you are different from other prostitutes. No man asks you to be a prostitute, and you pay money instead of having money paid to you. Yes, you are different.

The Prostitute Is Judged

<sup>35</sup>“So, prostitute, hear the word of the Lord. <sup>36</sup>This is what the Lord God says: You showed your nakedness to other countries. You uncovered your body in your sexual sins with them as your lovers and with all your hateful idols. You killed your children and offered their blood to your idols. <sup>37</sup>So I will gather all your lovers with whom you found pleasure. Yes, I will gather all those you loved and those you hated. I will gather them against you from all around, and I will strip you naked in front of them so they can see your nakedness. <sup>38</sup>I will punish you as women guilty of adultery or as murderers are punished. I will put you to death because I am angry and jealous. <sup>39</sup>I will also hand you over to your lovers. They will tear down your places of worship and destroy other places where you worship gods. They will tear off your clothes and take away your jewelry, leaving you naked and bare. <sup>40</sup>They will bring a crowd against you to throw stones at you and to cut you into pieces with their swords. <sup>41</sup>They will burn down your houses and will punish you in front of many women. I will put an end to your sexual sins, and you will no longer pay your lovers. <sup>42</sup>Then I will rest from my anger against you, and I will stop being jealous. I will be quiet and not angry anymore.

<sup>43</sup>“Because you didn’t remember when you were young, but have made me angry in all these ways, I will repay you for what you have done, says the Lord God. Didn’t you add sexual sins to all your other acts which I hate?

you: "The daughter is like her mother."<sup>45</sup> You are like your mother, who hated her husband and children. You are also like your sisters, who hated their husbands and children. Your mother was a Hittite, and your father was an Amorite.<sup>46</sup> Your older sister is Samaria, who lived north of you with her daughters; your younger sister is Sodom, who lived south of you with her daughters.<sup>47</sup> You not only followed their ways and did the hateful things they did, but you were soon worse than they were in all your ways.<sup>48</sup> As surely as I live, says the Lord God, this is true. Your sister Sodom and her daughters never did what you and your daughters have done.

<sup>49</sup>“This was the sin of your sister Sodom: She and her daughters were proud and had plenty of food and lived in great comfort, but she did not help the poor and needy.<sup>50</sup> So Sodom and her daughters were proud and did things I hate in front of me. So I got rid of them when I saw what they did.<sup>51</sup> Also, Samaria did not do half the sins you do; you have done more hateful things than they did. So you make your sisters look good because of all the hateful things you have done.<sup>52</sup> You will suffer disgrace, because you have provided an excuse for your sisters. They are better than you are. Your sins were even more terrible than theirs. Feel ashamed and suffer disgrace, because you made your sisters look good.

<sup>53</sup>“But I will give back to Sodom and her daughters the good things they once had. I will give back to Samaria and her daughters the good things they once had. And with them I will also give back the good things you once had<sup>54</sup> so you may suffer disgrace and feel ashamed for all the things you have done. You even gave comfort to your sisters in their sins.<sup>55</sup> Your sisters, Sodom with her daughters and Samaria with her daughters, will return to what they were before. You and your daughters will also return to what you were before.<sup>56</sup> You humiliated your sister Sodom when you were proud,<sup>57</sup> before your evil was uncovered. And now the Edomite women and their neighbors humiliate you. Even the Philistine women humiliate you. Those around you hate you.<sup>58</sup> This is your punishment for your terrible sins and for actions that I hate, says the Lord.

God Keeps His Promises

<sup>59</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: I will do to you what you have done. You hated and broke the agreement you promised to keep.<sup>60</sup> But I will remember my agreement I made with you when you were young, and I will make an agreement that will continue forever with you.<sup>61</sup> Then you will remember what you have done and feel ashamed when you receive your sisters—both your older and your younger sisters. I will give them to you like daughters, but not because they share in my agreement with you.<sup>62</sup> I will set up my agreement with you, and you will know that I am the Lord.<sup>63</sup> You will remember what you did and feel ashamed. You will not open your mouth again because of your shame, when I forgive you for all the things you have done, says the Lord God.”

The Eagle and the Vine

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“Human, give a riddle and tell a story to the people of Israel. <sup>3</sup>Say, ‘This is what the Lord God says: A giant eagle with big wings and long feathers of many different colors came to Lebanon and took hold of the top of a cedar tree. <sup>4</sup>He pulled off the top branch and brought it to a land of traders, where he planted it in a city of traders.

<sup>5</sup>“The eagle took some seed from the land and planted it in a good field near plenty of water. He planted it to grow like a willow tree. <sup>6</sup>It sprouted and became a low vine that spread over the ground. The branches turned toward the eagle, but the roots were under the eagle. So the seed became a vine, and its branches grew, sending out leaves.

<sup>7</sup>“But there was another giant eagle with big wings and many feathers. The vine then bent its roots toward this eagle. It sent out its branches from the area where it was planted toward the eagle so he could water it. <sup>8</sup>It had been planted in a good field by plenty of water so it could grow branches and give fruit. It could have become a fine vine.’

<sup>9</sup>“Say to them, ‘This is what the Lord God says: The vine will not continue to grow. The first eagle will pull up the vine’s roots and strip off its fruit. Then the vine and all its new leaves will dry up and die. It will not take a strong arm or many people to pull the vine up by its roots. <sup>10</sup>Even if it is planted again, it will not continue to grow. It will completely dry up and die when the east wind hits it in the area where it grew.’”

Zedekiah Against Nebuchadnezzar

<sup>11</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>12</sup>“Say now to the people who refuse to obey: ‘Do you know what these things mean?’ Say: ‘The king of Babylon came to Jerusalem and took the king and important men of Jerusalem and brought them to Babylon. <sup>13</sup>Then he took a member of the family of the king of Judah and made an agreement with him, forcing him to take an oath. The king also took away the leaders of Judah <sup>14</sup>to make the kingdom weak so it would not be strong again. Then the kingdom of Judah could continue only by keeping its agreement with the king of Babylon. <sup>15</sup>But the king of Judah turned against the king of Babylon by sending his messengers to Egypt and asking them for horses and many soldiers. Will the king of Judah succeed? Will the one who does such things escape? He cannot break the agreement and escape.

<sup>16</sup>“As surely as I live, says the Lord God, he will die in Babylon, in the land of the king who made him king of Judah. The king of Judah hated his promise to the king of Babylon and broke his agreement with him. <sup>17</sup>The king of Egypt with his mighty army and many people will not help the king of Judah in the war. The Babylonians will build devices to attack the cities and to kill many people. <sup>18</sup>The king of Judah showed that he hated the promise by breaking the agreement. He promised to support Babylon, but he did all these things. So he will not escape.

<sup>19</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says: As surely as I live, this is true: I will pay back the king of Judah for hating my promise and breaking my agreement. <sup>20</sup>I will spread my net over him, and he will be caught in my trap. Then I will bring him to Babylon, where I will punish him for the unfaithful acts he did against me. <sup>21</sup>All the best of his soldiers who escape will die by the sword, and those who live will be scattered to every wind. Then you will know that I, the Lord, have spoken.

<sup>22</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: I myself will also take a young branch from the top of a cedar tree, and I will plant it. I will cut off a small twig from the top of the tree’s young branches, and I will plant it on a very high mountain. <sup>23</sup>I will plant it on the high mountain of Israel. Then it will grow branches and give fruit and become a great cedar tree. Birds of every kind will build nests in it and live in the shelter of the tree’s branches. <sup>24</sup>Then all the trees in the countryside will know that I am the Lord. I bring down the high tree and make the low tree tall. I dry up the green tree and make the dry tree grow. I am the Lord. I have spoken, and I will do it.”

God Is Fair

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“What do you mean by using this saying about the land of Israel:

‘The parents have eaten sour grapes,
and that caused the children to grind their teeth from
the sour taste’?”

<sup>3</sup>“As surely as I live, says the Lord God, this is true: You will not use this saying in Israel anymore. <sup>4</sup>Every living thing belongs to me. The life of the parent is mine, and the life of the child is mine. The person who sins is the one who will die.

<sup>10</sup>“But suppose this person has a wild son who murders people and who does any of these other things. <sup>11</sup>(But the father himself has not done any of these things.) This son eats at the mountain places of worship. He has sexual relations with his neighbor's wife. <sup>12</sup>He mistreats the poor and needy. He steals and refuses to return what was promised for a loan. He looks to idols for help. He does things which I hate. <sup>13</sup>He lends money for too much interest and profit. Will this son live? No, he will not live! He has done all these hateful things, so he will surely be put to death. He will be responsible for his own death.

<sup>14</sup>Now suppose this son has a son who has seen all his father's sins, but after seeing them does not do those things. <sup>15</sup>He does not eat at the mountain places of worship. He does not look to the idols of Israel for help. He does not have sexual relations with his neighbor's wife. <sup>16</sup>He does not mistreat anyone or keep something promised for a loan or steal. He gives bread to the hungry and clothes to those who have none. <sup>17</sup>He keeps his hand from doing wrong. He does not take too much interest or profit when he lends money. He obeys my laws and lives by my rules. He will not die for his father's sin; he will surely live. <sup>18</sup>But his father took other people's money unfairly and robbed his brother and did what was wrong among his people. So he will die for his own sin.

<sup>19</sup>But you ask, 'Why is the son not punished for the father's sin?' The son has done what is fair and right. He obeys all my rules, so he will surely live. <sup>20</sup>The person who sins is the one who will die. A child will not be punished for a parent's sin, and a parent will not be punished for a child's sin. Those who do right will enjoy the results of their own goodness; evil people will suffer the results of their own evil.

<sup>21</sup>But suppose the wicked stop doing all the sins they have done and obey all my rules and do what is fair and right. Then they will surely live; they will not die. <sup>22</sup>Their sins will be forgotten. Because they have done what is right, they will live. <sup>23</sup>I do not really want the wicked to die, says the Lord God. I want them to stop their bad ways and live.

<sup>24</sup>“But suppose good people stop doing good and do wrong and do the same hateful things the wicked do. Will they live? All their good acts will be forgotten, because they became unfaithful. They have sinned, so they will die because of their sins.

<sup>30</sup>“So I will judge you, people of Israel; I will judge each of you by what you do, says the Lord God. Change your hearts and stop all your sinning so sin will not bring your ruin. <sup>31</sup>Get rid of all the sins you have done, and get for yourselves a new heart and a new way of thinking. Why do you want to die, people of Israel? <sup>32</sup>I do not want anyone to die, says the Lord God, so change your hearts and lives so you may live.

A Sad Song for Israel

“Sing a funeral song for the leaders of Israel. <sup>2</sup>Say:

‘Your mother was like a female lion.
She lay down among the young lions.
She had many cubs.

<sup>3</sup>When she brought up one of her cubs,
he became a strong lion.
He learned to tear the animals he hunted,
and he ate people.

<sup>4</sup>The nations heard about him.
He was trapped in their pit,
and they brought him with hooks to the land of Egypt.

<sup>5</sup>“The mother lion waited and saw that there was no hope for her cub.
So she took another one of her cubs and made him a strong lion.

<sup>6</sup>This cub roamed among the lions.
He was now a strong lion.
He learned to tear the animals he hunted,
and he ate people.

<sup>7</sup>He tore down their strong places and destroyed their cities.
The land and everything in it were terrified by the sound of his roar.

<sup>8</sup>Then the nations came against him from areas all around,
and they spread their net over him.
He was trapped in their pit.

<sup>9</sup>Then they put him into a cage with chains and brought him to the king of Babylon.
They put him into prison
so his roar could not be heard again on the mountains of Israel.

<sup>10</sup>“Your mother was like a vine in your vineyard, planted beside the water.
The vine had many branches and gave much fruit, because there was plenty of water.

<sup>11</sup>The vine had strong branches,
good enough for a king’s scepter.
The vine became tall
among the thick branches.
And it was seen, because it was tall
with many branches.

<sup>12</sup>But it was pulled up by its roots in anger and thrown down to the ground.
The east wind dried it up.
Its fruit was torn off.
Its strong branches were broken off and burned up.

<sup>13</sup>Now the vine is planted in the desert,

in a dry and thirsty land.

<sup>14</sup>Fire spread from the vine's main branch, destroying its fruit.

There is not a strong branch left on it that could become a scepter for a king.'

This is a funeral song; it is to be used as a funeral song.”

Israel Has Refused God

It was the seventh year of our captivity, in the fifth month, on the tenth day of the month. Some of the older leaders of Israel came to ask about the Lord and sat down in front of me.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>3</sup>“Human, speak to the older leaders of Israel and say to them: ‘This is what the Lord God says: Did you come to ask me questions? As surely as I live, I will not let you ask me questions.’”

<sup>4</sup>“Will you judge them? Will you judge them, human? Let them know the hateful things their ancestors did. <sup>5</sup>Say to them: ‘This is what the Lord God says: When I chose Israel, I made a promise to the descendants of Jacob. I made myself known to them in Egypt, and I promised them, “I am the Lord your God.”’ <sup>6</sup>At that time I promised them I would bring them out of Egypt into a land I had found for them, a fertile land, the best land in the world. <sup>7</sup>I said to them, “Each one of you must throw away the hateful idols you have seen and liked. Don’t make yourselves unclean with the idols of Egypt. I am the Lord your God.”

<sup>8</sup>“But they turned against me and refused to listen to me. They did not throw away the hateful idols which they saw and liked; they did not give up the idols of Egypt. Then I decided to pour out my anger against them while they were still in Egypt. <sup>9</sup>But I acted for the sake of my name so it would not be dishonored in full view of the nations where the Israelites lived. I made myself known to the Israelites with a promise to bring them out of Egypt while the nations were watching. <sup>10</sup>So I took them out of Egypt and brought them into the desert. <sup>11</sup>I gave them my rules and told them about my laws, by which people will live if they obey them. <sup>12</sup>I also gave them my Sabbaths to be a sign between us so they would know that I am the Lord who made them holy.

<sup>13</sup>“But in the desert Israel turned against me. They did not follow my rules, and they rejected my laws, by which people will live if they obey them. They dishonored my Sabbaths. Then I decided to pour out my anger against them and destroy them in the desert. <sup>14</sup>But I acted for the sake of my name so it would not be dishonored in full view of the nations who watched as I had brought the Israelites out of Egypt. <sup>15</sup>And in the desert I swore to the Israelites that I would not bring them into the land I had given them. It is a fertile land, the best land in the world. <sup>16</sup>This was because they rejected my laws and did not follow my rules. They dishonored my Sabbaths and wanted to worship their idols. <sup>17</sup>But I had pity on them. I did not destroy them or put an end to them in the desert. <sup>18</sup>I said to their children in the desert, “Don’t live by the rules of your parents, or obey their laws. Don’t make yourselves unclean with their idols. <sup>19</sup>I am the Lord your God. Live by my rules, obey my laws, and follow them. <sup>20</sup>Keep my Sabbaths holy, and they will be a sign between me and you. Then you will know that I am the Lord your God.”

<sup>21</sup>“But the children turned against me. They did not live by my rules, nor were they careful to obey my laws, by which people will live if they obey them. They dishonored my Sabbaths. So I decided to pour out my anger against them in the desert. <sup>22</sup>But I held back my anger. I acted for the sake of my name so it would not be dishonored in full view of the nations who watched as I brought the Israelites out.<sup>23</sup> And in the desert I swore to the Israelites that I would scatter them among the nations and spread them among the countries,<sup>24</sup> because they had not obeyed my laws. They had rejected my rules and dishonored my Sabbaths and worshiped the idols of their parents.<sup>25</sup> I also allowed them to follow rules that were not good and laws by which they could not live.<sup>26</sup> I let the Israelites make themselves unclean by the gifts they brought to their gods when they sacrificed their first children in the fire. I wanted to terrify them so they would know that I am the Lord.’

<sup>27</sup>“So, human, speak to the people of Israel. Say to them, ‘This is what the Lord God says: Your ancestors spoke against me by being unfaithful to me in another way.<sup>28</sup> When I had brought them into the land I promised to give them, they saw every high hill and every leafy tree. There they offered their sacrifices to gods. They brought offerings that made me angry and burned their incense and poured out their drink offerings.<sup>29</sup> Then I said to them: What is this high place where you go to worship?’” (It is still called High Place today.)<sup>30</sup> “So say to the people of Israel: ‘This is what the Lord God says: Are you going to make yourselves unclean as your ancestors did? Are you going to be unfaithful and desire their hateful idols?<sup>31</sup> When you offer your children as gifts and sacrifice them in the fire, you are making yourselves unclean with all your idols even today. So, people of Israel, should I let you ask me questions? As surely as I live, says the Lord God, I will not accept questions from you.

<sup>32</sup>“What you want will not come true. You say, ‘We want to be like the other nations, like the people in other lands. We want to worship idols made of wood and stone.’”<sup>33</sup> As surely as I live, says the Lord God, I will use my great power and strength and anger to rule over you.<sup>34</sup>I will bring you out from the foreign nations. With my great power and strength and anger I will gather you from the lands where you are scattered.<sup>35</sup>I will bring you among the nations as I brought your ancestors into the desert with Moses. There I will judge you face to face.<sup>36</sup>I will judge you the same way I judged your ancestors in the desert of the land of Egypt, says the Lord God.<sup>37</sup>I will count you like sheep and will bring you into line with my agreement.<sup>38</sup>I will get rid of those who refuse to obey me and who turn against me. I will bring them out of the land where they are now living, but they will never enter the land of Israel. Then you will know that I am the Lord.

<sup>39</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: People of Israel, go serve your idols for now. But later you will listen to me; you will not continue to dishonor my holy name with your gifts and gods.<sup>40</sup>On my holy mountain, the high mountain of Israel, all Israel will serve me in the land, says the Lord God. There I will accept you. There I will expect your offerings, the first harvest of your offerings, and all your holy gifts.<sup>41</sup>I will accept you like the pleasing smell of sacrifices when I bring you out from the foreign nations and gather you from the lands where you are scattered. Then through you I will show how holy I am so the nations will see.<sup>42</sup>When I bring you into the land of Israel, the land I promised your ancestors, you will know that I am the Lord.<sup>43</sup>There you will remember everything you did that made you unclean, and then you will hate yourselves for all the evil things you have done.<sup>44</sup>I will deal with you for the sake of my name, not because of your evil ways or unclean actions. Then you will know I am the Lord, people of Israel, says the Lord

God.””

Life Lessons

Ezekiel 20:45–24:27

Situation

God told Ezekiel of Jerusalem’s impending judgment. He compared Jerusalem to a woman who has prostituted herself for pleasure and money. As punishment, Jerusalem would suffer greatly from foreign invaders. Despite the punishment brought upon Jerusalem, some righteous Israelites would survive and honor God.

Observation

God planned severe judgment for the Israelites because of their godless and immoral lifestyles. This was their last chance to repent.

Inspiration

People with marital problems have told me they have found it more difficult to forget than to forgive. With the best will in the world, they have tried to forgive and forget, but it has not always been possible. “Time is a great healer,” as they say, and gradually the wounds heal in most cases. And it takes a considerable amount of concentration on the part for a person with a failing memory to remember all the things he is supposed to forget. They just tend to drip away in the end, or become so confused with other things that there is more fantasy than reality left.

Now, think of something else. God doesn’t have a failing memory. He doesn't overlook sin and He is eternal, so that what we call the past is the present to Him, and what hasn't happened yet is in the now with Him. If this is confusing, it is also sobering, because it means the considerable mind of God is fully aware of all that has gone by in our lives. And all that has gone past includes an awful lot of sin—"a multitude of sins."

This is serious beyond description because people are responsible beings who must stand before God and give an answer for their sins. No evasion, no postponement, no tricky defense lawyer. Just man and God and a multitude of sins. But one thing we need to remember: God can "put away sin," "hide it in the depths of the sea," "remove it as far as the east is from the west," and "remember it no more." All because Christ's sacrifice for sin is applicable to all who come to Him in repentance and faith. (From Getting into God by Stuart Briscoe)

Application

If secret sins mar your relationship with God, deal with them immediately. Confess your sin, get it out of your life, seek help, and ask God to free your spirit from guilt.

Babylon, the Lord's Sword

<sup>49</sup>Then I said, “Ah, Lord God! The people are saying about me, ‘He is only telling stories.’”

Then the Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“Human, look toward Jerusalem and speak against the holy place. Prophecy against the land of Israel. <sup>3</sup>Say to Israel: ‘This is what the Lord says: I am against you. I will pull my sword out of its holder, and I will cut off from you both the wicked and those who do right. <sup>4</sup>Because I am going to cut off the wicked and those who do right, my sword will come out from its holder and attack all people from south to north. <sup>5</sup>Then all people will know that I, the Lord, have pulled my sword out from its holder. My sword will not go back in again.’

<sup>6</sup>“So, human, groan with breaking heart and great sadness. Groan in front of the people. <sup>7</sup>When they ask you, ‘Why are you groaning?’ you will say, ‘Because of what I have heard is going to happen. When it happens, every heart will melt with fear, and all hands will become weak. Everyone will be afraid; all knees will become weak as water. Look, it is coming, and it will happen, says the Lord God.’”

<sup>8</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>9</sup>“Human, prophesy and say, ‘This is what the Lord says:

A sword, a sword,
made sharp and polished.

<sup>10</sup>It is made sharp for the killing.
It is polished to flash like lightning.

“You are not happy about this horrible punishment by the sword. But my son Judah, you did not change when you were only beaten with a rod.

<sup>11</sup>The sword should be polished.

It is meant to be held in the hand.
It is made sharp and polished, ready for the hand of a killer.

<sup>12</sup>Shout and yell, human, because the sword is meant for my people,
for all the rulers of Israel.
They will be killed by the sword,
along with my people.
So beat your chest in sadness.

<sup>13</sup>“The test will come. And Judah, who is hated by the armies of Babylon, will not last, says the Lord God.’

<sup>14</sup>“So, human, prophesy and clap your hands.
Let the sword strike
two or three times.
It is a sword meant for killing,
a sword meant for much killing.

This sword surrounds the people to be killed.

<sup>15</sup>Their hearts will melt with fear, and many people will die.
I have placed the killing sword
at all their city gates.
Oh! The sword is made to flash like lightning.
It is held, ready for killing.

<sup>16</sup>Sword, cut on the right side;
then cut on the left side.

Cut anywhere your blade is turned.

<sup>17</sup>I will also clap my hands and use up my anger.
I, the Lord, have spoken.”

Jerusalem to Be Destroyed

<sup>18</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>19</sup>“Human, mark two roads that the king of Babylon and his sword can follow. Both of these roads will start from the same country. And make signs where the road divides and one way goes toward the city. <sup>20</sup>Mark one sign to show the road he can take with his sword to Rabbah in the land of the Ammonites. Mark the other sign to show the road to Judah and Jerusalem, which is protected with strong walls. <sup>21</sup>The king of Babylon has come to where the road divides, and he is using magic. He throws lots with arrows and asks questions of his family idols. He looks at the liver of a sacrificed animal to learn where he should go. <sup>22</sup>The lot in his right hand tells him to go to Jerusalem. It tells him to use logs to break down the city gates, to shout the battle cry and give the order to kill, and to build a dirt road to the top of the walls and devices to attack the walls. <sup>23</sup>The people of Jerusalem have made agreements with other nations to help them fight Babylon. So they will think this prediction is wrong, but it is really proof of their sin, and they will be captured.

<sup>24</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says: ‘You have shown how sinful you are by turning against the Lord. Your sins are seen in all the things you do. Because of this proof against you, you will be taken captive by the enemy.

<sup>25</sup>“You unclean and evil leader of Israel, you will be killed! The time of your final punishment has come. <sup>26</sup>This is what the Lord God says: Take off the royal turban, and remove the crown. Things will change. Those who are important now will be made unimportant, and those who are unimportant now will be made important. <sup>27</sup>A ruin! A ruin! I will make it a ruin! This place will not be rebuilt until the one comes who has a right to be king. Then I will give him that right.’

The Punishment of Ammon

<sup>28</sup>“And you, human, prophesy and say: ‘This is what the Lord God says about the people of Ammon and their insults:

A sword, a sword
is pulled out of its holder.
It is polished to kill and destroy,
to flash like lightning!

<sup>29</sup>Prophets see false visions about you and prophesy lies about you.
The sword will be put on the necks of these unclean and evil people.
Their day of judging has come;
the time of final punishment has come.

<sup>30</sup>Put the sword back in its holder.
I will judge you in the place where you were created,

in the land where you were born.

<sup>31</sup>I will pour out my anger against you and blast you with the fire of my anger.
I will hand you over to cruel men,
experts in destruction.

<sup>32</sup>You will be like fuel for the fire;
you will die in the land.
You will not be remembered,
because I, the Lord, have spoken.”

The Sins of Jerusalem

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“And you, human, will you judge? Will you judge the city of murderers? Then tell her about all her hateful acts. <sup>3</sup>You are to say: ‘This is what the Lord God says: You are a city that kills those who come to live there. You make yourself unclean by making idols. <sup>4</sup>You have become guilty of murder and have become unclean by your idols which you have made. So you have brought your time of punishment near; you have come to the end of your years. That is why I have made you a shame to the nations and why all lands laugh at you. <sup>5</sup>Those near and those far away laugh at you with your bad name, you city full of confusion.

<sup>6</sup>“Jerusalem, see how each ruler of Israel in you has been trying to kill people. <sup>7</sup>The people in you hate their fathers and mothers. They mistreat the foreigners in you and wrong the orphans and widows in you. <sup>8</sup>You hate my holy things and dishonor my Sabbaths. <sup>9</sup>The men in you tell lies to cause the death of others. The people in you eat food offered to idols at the mountain places of worship, and they take part in sexual sins. <sup>10</sup>The men in you have sexual relations with their fathers’ wives and with women who are unclean, during their time of monthly bleeding. <sup>11</sup>One man in you does a hateful act with his neighbor’s wife, while another has shamefully made his daughter-in-law unclean sexually. And another forces his half sister to have sexual relations with him. <sup>12</sup>The people in you take money to kill others. You take unfair interest and profits and make profits by mistreating your neighbor. And you have forgotten me, says the Lord God.

<sup>13</sup>“So, Jerusalem, I will shake my fist at you for stealing money and for murdering people. <sup>14</sup>Will you still be brave and strong when I punish you? I, the Lord, have spoken, and I will act. <sup>15</sup>I will scatter you among the nations and spread you through the countries. That is how I will get rid of your uncleanness. <sup>16</sup>But you, yourself, will be dishonored in the sight of the nations. Then you will know that I am the Lord.”

Israel Is Worthless

<sup>17</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>18</sup>“Human, the people of Israel have become useless like scum to me. They are like the copper, tin, iron, and lead left in the furnace when silver is purified. <sup>19</sup>So this is what the Lord God says: ‘Because you have become useless like scum, I am going to put you together inside Jerusalem. <sup>20</sup>People put silver, copper, iron, lead, and tin together inside a furnace to melt them down in a blazing fire. In the same way I will gather you in my hot anger and put you together in Jerusalem and melt you down. <sup>21</sup>I will put you together and make you feel the heat of my anger. You will be melted down inside Jerusalem. <sup>22</sup>As silver is melted in a furnace, you will be melted inside the city. Then you will know that I, the Lord, have poured out my anger on you.”

Sins of the People

<sup>23</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>24</sup>“Human, say to the land, ‘You are a land that has not had rain or showers when

God is angry.’<sup>25</sup> Like a roaring lion that tears the animal it has caught, Israel’s rulers make evil plans. They have destroyed lives and have taken treasure and valuable things. They have caused many women to become widows.<sup>26</sup> Israel’s priests do cruel things to my teachings and do not honor my holy things. They make no difference between holy and unholy things, and they teach there is no difference between clean and unclean things. They do not remember my Sabbaths, so I am dishonored by them.<sup>27</sup> Like wolves tearing a dead animal, Jerusalem’s leaders have killed people for profit.<sup>28</sup> And the prophets try to cover this up by false visions and by lying messages. They say, ‘This is what the Lord God says’ when the Lord has not spoken.<sup>29</sup> The people cheat others and steal. They hurt people who are poor and needy. They cheat foreigners and do not treat them fairly.

<sup>30</sup>“I looked for someone to build up the walls and to stand before me where the walls are broken to defend these people so I would not have to destroy them. But I could not find anyone.<sup>31</sup> So I let them see my anger. I destroyed them with an anger that was like fire because of all the things they have done, says the Lord God.”

Samaria and Jerusalem

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“Human, a woman had two daughters. <sup>3</sup>While they were young, they went to Egypt and became prostitutes. They let men touch and hold their breasts. <sup>4</sup>The older girl was named Oholah, and her sister was named Oholibah. They became my wives and had sons and daughters. Oholah is Samaria, and Oholibah is Jerusalem.

<sup>9</sup>“So I handed her over to her lovers, the Assyrians, that she wanted so badly. <sup>10</sup>They stripped her naked and took away her sons and daughters. Then they killed her with a sword. Women everywhere began talking about how she had been punished.

<sup>11</sup>“Her sister Jerusalem saw what happened, but she became worse than her sister in her sexual desire and prostitution. <sup>12</sup>She also desired the Assyrians, who were all soldiers in beautiful uniforms—handsome young captains and lieutenants riding horses. <sup>13</sup>I saw that both girls were alike; both were prostitutes.

<sup>14</sup>“But Jerusalem went even further. She saw carvings of Babylonian men on a wall. They wore red <sup>15</sup>and had belts around their waists and turbans on their heads. They all looked like chariot officers born in Babylonia. <sup>16</sup>When she saw them, she wanted to have sexual relations with them and sent messengers to them in Babylonia. <sup>17</sup>So these Babylonian men came and had sexual relations with her and made her unclean. After that, she became sick of them. <sup>18</sup>But she continued her prostitution so openly that everyone knew about it. And I finally became sick of her, as I had her sister. <sup>19</sup>But she remembered how she was a young prostitute in Egypt, so she took part in even more prostitution. <sup>20</sup>She wanted men who behaved like animals in their sexual desire. <sup>21</sup>In the same way you desired to do the sinful things you had done in Egypt. There men touched and held your young breasts.

God's Judgment on Jerusalem

<sup>22</sup>“So, Jerusalem, this is what the Lord God says: You are tired of your lovers. So now I will make them angry with you and have them attack you from all sides. <sup>23</sup>Men from Babylon and all Babylonia and men from Pekod, Shoa, and Koa will attack you. All the Assyrians will attack you: handsome young captains and lieutenants, all of them important men and all riding horses. <sup>24</sup>Those men will attack with great armies and with their weapons, chariots, and wagons. They will surround you with large and small shields and with helmets. And I will give them the right to punish you, and they will give you their own kind of punishment. <sup>25</sup>Then you will see how strong my anger can be when they punish you in their anger. They will cut off your noses and ears. They will take away your sons and daughters, and those who are left will be burned. <sup>26</sup>They will take off your clothes and steal your jewelry. <sup>27</sup>I will put a stop to the sinful life you began when you were in Egypt so that you will not desire it or remember Egypt anymore.

<sup>28</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: You became tired of your lovers, but I am going to hand you over to those men you now hate. <sup>29</sup>They will treat you with hate and take away everything you worked for, leaving you empty and naked. Everyone will know about the sinful things you did. Your sexual sins <sup>30</sup>have brought this on you. You have had sexual relations with the nations and made yourselves unclean by worshiping their idols. <sup>31</sup>You did the same things your sister did, so you will get the same punishment, like a bitter cup to drink.

You will drink the same cup your sister did,
and that cup is deep and wide.
Everyone will make fun of you,
because the cup is full.

<sup>33</sup>It will make you miserable and drunk.
It is the cup of fear and ruin.
It is the cup of your sister Samaria.

<sup>34</sup>You will drink everything in it, and then you will smash it and tear at your breasts.

I have spoken, says the Lord God.

<sup>35</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says: You have forgotten me and turned your back on me. So you will be punished for your sexual sins.”

Judgment on Samaria and Jerusalem

<sup>36</sup>The Lord said to me: “Human, will you judge Samaria and Jerusalem, showing them their hateful acts? <sup>37</sup>They are guilty of adultery and murder. They have taken part in adultery with their idols. They even offered our children as sacrifices in the fire to be food for these idols. <sup>38</sup>They have also done this to me: They made my Temple unclean at the same time they dishonored my Sabbaths. <sup>39</sup>They sacrificed their children to their idols. Then they entered my Temple at that very time to dishonor it. That is what they did inside my Temple!

<sup>40</sup>“They even sent for men from far away, who came after a messenger was sent to them. The two sisters bathed themselves for them, painted their eyes, and put on jewelry. <sup>41</sup>They sat on a fine bed with a table set before it, on which they put my incense and my oil.

<sup>42</sup>“There was the noise of a reckless crowd in the city. Common people gathered, and drunkards were brought from the desert. They put bracelets on the wrists of the two sisters and beautiful crowns on their heads. <sup>43</sup>Then I said about the one who was worn out by her acts of adultery, ‘Let them continue their sexual sins with her. She is nothing but a prostitute.’ <sup>44</sup>They kept going to her as they would go to a prostitute. So they continued to go to Samaria and Jerusalem, these shameful women. <sup>45</sup>But men who do right will punish them as they punish women who take part in adultery and who murder people, because they are guilty of adultery and murder.

<sup>48</sup>“So I will put an end to sexual sins in the land. Then all women will be warned, and they will not do the sexual sins you have done. <sup>49</sup>You will be punished for your sexual sins and the sin of worshiping idols. Then you will know that I am the Lord God.”

The Pot and the Meat

The Lord spoke his word to me in the ninth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month. He said: <sup>2</sup>“Human, write down today’s date, this very date. The king of Babylon has surrounded Jerusalem this very day. <sup>3</sup>And tell a story to the people who refuse to obey me. Say to them: ‘This is what the Lord God says:

Put on the pot; put it on and pour water in it.

<sup>4</sup>Put in the pieces of meat,
the best pieces—the legs and the shoulders.
Fill it with the best bones.

<sup>5</sup>Take the best of the flock, and pile wood under the pot.
Boil the pieces of meat until even the bones are cooked.

<sup>6</sup>“This is what the Lord God says:
How terrible it will be for the city of murderers!
How terrible it will be for the rusty pot whose rust will not come off!
Take the meat out of it, piece by piece.
Don’t choose any special piece.

<sup>7</sup>“The blood from her killings is still in the city.
She poured the blood on the bare rock.

She did not pour it on the ground where dust would cover it.

<sup>8</sup>To stir up my anger and revenge,
I put the blood she spilled on the bare rock so it will not be covered.

<sup>9</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says:
How terrible it will be for the city of murderers!
I myself will pile the wood high for burning.

<sup>10</sup>Pile up the wood and light the fire.
Finish cooking the meat.
Mix in the spices,
and let the bones burn.

<sup>11</sup>Then set the empty pot on the coals so it may become hot and its copper sides glow.
The dirty scum stuck inside it may then melt and its rust burn away.

<sup>12</sup>But efforts to clean the pot have failed.
Its heavy rust cannot be removed,
even in the fire.

<sup>13</sup>“By your sinful action you have become unclean. I wanted to cleanse you, but you are still unclean. You will never be cleansed from your sin until my anger against you is carried out.

<sup>14</sup>“I, the Lord, have spoken. The time has come for me to act. I will not hold back punishment or feel pity or change my mind. I will judge you by your ways and actions, says the Lord God.”

The Death of Ezekiel's Wife

<sup>15</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>16</sup>“Human, I am going to take your wife from you, the woman you look at with love. She will die suddenly, but you must not be sad or cry loudly for her or shed any tears. <sup>17</sup>Groan silently; do not cry loudly for the dead. Tie on your turban, and put your sandals on your feet. Do not cover your face, and do not eat the food people eat when they are sad about a death.”

<sup>18</sup>So I spoke to the people in the morning, and my wife died in the evening. The next morning I did as I had been commanded.

<sup>19</sup>Then the people asked me, “Tell us, what do the things you are doing mean for us?”

<sup>20</sup>Then I said to them, “The Lord spoke his word to me. He said, <sup>21</sup>“Say to the people of Israel, This is what the Lord God says: I am going to dishonor my Temple. You think it gives you strength. You are proud of it, and you look at it with love and tenderness. But your sons and daughters that you left behind in Jerusalem will fall dead by the sword. <sup>22</sup>When that happens, you are to act as I have: you are not to cover your face, and you are not to eat the food people eat when they are sad about a death. <sup>23</sup>Your turbans must stay on your heads, and your sandals on your feet. You must not cry loudly, but you must rot away in your sins and groan to each other. <sup>24</sup>So Ezekiel is to be an example for you. You must do all the same things he did. When all this happens, you will know that I am the Lord God.’

<sup>25</sup>“And as for you, human, this is how it will be. I will take away the Temple that gives them strength and joy, that makes them proud. They look at it with love, and it makes them happy. And I will take away their sons and daughters also. <sup>26</sup>At that time a person who escapes will come to you with information for you to hear. <sup>27</sup>At that very time your mouth will be opened. You will speak and be silent no more. So you will be a sign for them, and they will know that I am the Lord.”

Life Lessons

Ezekiel 25:1–32:32

Situation

The prophets knew that God reigned over all the world. When these seven nations failed to acknowledge God as their king, they were punished.

Observation

We are never beyond the reach of God's judgment. God condemns pride and arrogance wherever it appears.

Inspiration

There are two kinds of pride. One is the opposite of humility; it is very bad. The other is the opposite of shame; it is very good.

The kind of pride that is the opposite of humility leaves God and other circumstances out of our successes. It claims that whatever we have achieved, we have achieved by our own virtue.

The essence of this kind of pride is self-centeredness and selfishness and it is condemned by Scripture. This does not mean, however, that the Bible is opposed to the self. The self is one of God's good creations; selfishness is worshiping the creation rather than the creator.

Bad pride is the kind of selfishness that always wants to be center stage, that takes all the credit, that leaves God out, that gives no thanks to other people, that goes it alone. It is the opposite of what God desires for us....

By contrast, the kind of pride that is the opposite of shame has to do with a job well done, with excellence, with striving for the best, with rising above mediocrity. In a Christian, this kind of pride attempts to give of its best to the Master.

People who misunderstand the difference between the two kinds of pride may have a misimpression of the Christian faith. Christianity is not opposed to excellence. It is not opposed to putting forth your best effort, excelling, and achieving. No, it is only opposed to a person's thinking he can excel without God's help.

Selfish pride is the opposite of thankfulness and gratitude. It shows no gratitude to God for a healthy body, a healthy mind, good parents, a good national heritage, a good diet, and a thousand other blessings over which the person has no control. A person filled with selfish pride thinks he has created himself through his own efforts...

The other kind of pride, the kind that is opposite to shame, doesn't crawl out between the mattress and springs and say, "I'm a worm; step on me." It doesn't finish playing a solo and say, "It was nothing." It is not unable to accept a compliment.

The pride that is opposite to shame can say thank you and give credit where credit is due. It can thank God for his gifts and, at the same time, acknowledge good work when it is done. The person who can accept a compliment is not arrogant. He knows where his dexterous fingers come from, who gave him his mind and his sense of rhythm...

When Michelangelo walked away from the Sistine Chapel, he knew he had done a beautiful work, and he was proud of it. Yet when a person looks at the ceiling of that chapel, he is always drawn toward God. He is inspired to worship God, not Michelangelo. The art is great, but because it is aimed at glorifying the heavenly Father, the observer is moved to worship. (From “Two Kinds of Pride” by Jay Kesler in Practical Christianity)

Application

Have you been successful? Do people praise your achievements? Give credit to God in thankful prayer for each gift he has given you.

Prophecy Against Ammon

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying:<sup>2</sup>“Human, look toward the people of Ammon and prophesy against them.<sup>3</sup>Say to them, ‘Hear the word of the Lord God. This is what the Lord God says: You were glad when my Temple was dishonored, when the land of Israel was ruined, and when the people of Judah were taken away as captives.<sup>4</sup>So I am going to give you to the people of the East to be theirs. They will set up their camps among you and make their homes among you. They will eat your fruit and drink your milk.<sup>5</sup>I will make the city of Rabbah a pasture for camels and the land of Ammon a resting place for sheep. Then you will know that I am the Lord.<sup>6</sup>This is what the Lord God says: You have clapped your hands and stamped your feet; you have laughed about all the insults you made against the land of Israel.<sup>7</sup>So I will use my power against you. I will give you to the nations as if you were treasures taken in war. I will wipe you out of the lands so you will no longer be a nation, and I will destroy you. Then you will know that I am the Lord.’”

Prophecy Against Moab and Edom

<sup>8</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: ‘Moab and Edom say, “The people of Judah are like all the other nations.”’<sup>9</sup>So I am going to take away the cities that protect Moab's borders, the best cities in that land: Beth Jeshimoth, Baal Meon, and Kiriathaim. <sup>10</sup>Then I will give Moab, along with the Ammonites, to the people of the East as their possession. Then, along with the Ammonites, Moab will not be a nation anymore. <sup>11</sup>So I will punish the people of Moab, and they will know that I am the Lord.'

Prophecy Against Edom

<sup>12</sup>'This is what the Lord God says: 'Edom took revenge on the people of Judah, and the Edomites became guilty because of it. <sup>13</sup>So this is what the Lord God says: I will use my power against Edom, killing every human and animal in it. And I will destroy Edom all the way from Teman to Dedan as they die in battle. <sup>14</sup>I will use my people Israel to take revenge on Edom. So the Israelites will do to Edom what my hot anger demands. Then the Edomites will know what my revenge feels like, says the Lord God.'

Prophecy Against Philistia

<sup>15</sup>'This is what the Lord God says: 'The Philistines have taken revenge with hateful hearts. Because of their strong hatred, they have tried to destroy Judah. <sup>16</sup>So this is what the Lord God says: I will use my power against the Philistines. I will kill the Kerethites, and I will destroy those people still alive on the coast of the Mediterranean Sea. <sup>17</sup>I will punish them in my anger and do great acts of revenge to them. They will know that I am the Lord when I take revenge on them.'''

Prophecy Against Tyre

It was the eleventh year of our captivity, on the first day of the month. The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“Human, the city of Tyre has spoken against Jerusalem: ‘The city that traded with the nations is destroyed. Now we can be the trading center. Since the city of Jerusalem is ruined, we can make money.’ <sup>3</sup>So this is what the Lord God says: I am against you, Tyre. I will bring many nations against you, like the sea beating its waves on your island shores. <sup>4</sup>They will destroy the walls of Tyre and pull down her towers. I will also scrape away her ruins and make her a bare rock. <sup>5</sup>Tyre will be an island where fishermen dry their nets. I have spoken, says the Lord God. The nations will steal treasures from Tyre. <sup>6</sup>Also, her villages on the shore across from the island will be destroyed by war. Then they will know that I am the Lord.

Nebuchadnezzar to Attack Tyre

cover you with their dust. Your walls will shake at the noise of horsemen, wagons, and chariots. The king of Babylon will enter your city gates as men enter a city where the walls are broken through. <sup>11</sup>The hoofs of his horses will run over your streets. He will kill your army with the sword, and your strong pillars will fall down to the ground. <sup>12</sup>Also, his men will take away your riches and will steal the things you sell. They will break down your walls and destroy your nice houses. They will throw your stones, wood, and trash into the sea. <sup>13</sup>So I will stop your songs; the music of your harps will not be heard anymore. <sup>14</sup>I will make you a bare rock, and you will be a place for drying fishing nets. You will not be built again, because I, the Lord, have spoken, says the Lord God.

<sup>15</sup>“This is what the Lord God says to Tyre: The people who live along the seacoast will shake with fear when they hear about your defeat. Those of you who are injured and dying will groan. <sup>16</sup>Then all the leaders of the seacoast will get down from their thrones, take off their beautiful needlework clothes, and show how afraid they are. They will sit on the ground and tremble all the time. When they see you, they will be shocked. <sup>17</sup>They will begin singing a funeral song about you and will say to you:

‘Tyre, you famous city, you have been destroyed!
You have lost your sea power!
You and your people had great power on the seas.
You made everyone around you afraid of you.

<sup>18</sup>Now the people who live by the coast tremble, now that you have fallen.

The islands of the sea
are afraid because you have been defeated.’

<sup>19</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: I will make you an empty city, like cities that have no people living in them. I will bring the deep ocean waters over you, and the Mediterranean Sea will cover you. <sup>20</sup>At that time I will send you down to the place of the dead to join those who died long ago. I will make you live with the dead below the earth in places that are like old ruins. You will not come back from there or have any place in the world of the living again. <sup>21</sup>Other people will be afraid of what happened to you, and it will be the end of you. People will look for you, but they will never find you again, says the Lord God.”

A Funeral Song for Tyre

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“Human, sing a funeral song for the city of Tyre. <sup>3</sup>Speak to Tyre, which has ports for the Mediterranean Sea and is a place for trade for the people of many lands along the seacoast. ‘This is what the Lord God says:

Tyre, you have said,
“I am like a beautiful ship.”

<sup>4</sup>You were at home on the high seas.
Your builders made your beauty perfect.

<sup>5</sup>They made all your boards of fir trees from Mount Hermon.
They took a cedar tree from Lebanon to make a ship’s mast for you.

<sup>6</sup>They made your oars from oak trees from Bashan.
They made your deck
from cypress trees from the coast of Cyprus and set ivory into it.

<sup>7</sup>Your sail of linen with designs sewed on it came from Egypt
and became like a flag for you.
Your cloth shades over the deck were blue and purple and came from the island of Cyprus.

<sup>8</sup>Men from Sidon and Arvad used oars to row you.
Tyre, your skilled men were the sailors on your deck.

<sup>9</sup>Workers of Byblos were with you, putting caulk in your ship's seams.
All the ships of the sea and their sailors came alongside to trade with you.

<sup>10</sup>“Men of Persia, Lydia, and Put were warriors in your navy and hung their shields and helmets on your sides.
They made you look beautiful.

<sup>11</sup>Men of Arvad and Cilicia guarded your city walls all around.
Men of Gammad
were in your watchtowers and hung their shields around your walls.
They made your beauty perfect.

<sup>12</sup>“People of Tarshish became traders for you because of your great wealth. They traded your goods for silver, iron, tin, and lead.

<sup>13</sup>“People of Greece, Tubal, and Meshech became merchants for you. They traded your goods for slaves and items of bronze.

<sup>14</sup>“People of Beth Togamah traded your goods for work horses, war horses, and mules.

<sup>15</sup>“People of Rhodes became merchants for you, selling your goods on many coastlands. They brought back ivory tusks and valuable black wood as your payment.

<sup>16</sup>“People of Aram became traders for you, because you had so many good things to sell. They traded your goods for turquoise, purple cloth, cloth with designs sewed on, fine linen, coral, and rubies.

<sup>17</sup>“People of Judah and Israel became merchants for you. They traded your goods for wheat from Minnith, and for honey, olive oil, and balm.

<sup>18-19</sup>“People of Damascus became traders for you because you have many good things and great wealth. They traded your goods for wine from Helbon, wool from Zahar, and barrels of wine from Izal. They received wrought iron, cassia, and sugar cane in payment for your good things.

<sup>20</sup>“People of Dedan became merchants for you, trading saddle blankets for riding.

<sup>21</sup>“People of Arabia and all the rulers of Kedar became traders for you. They received lambs, male sheep, and goats in payment for you.

<sup>22</sup>“The merchants of Sheba and Raamah became merchants for you. They traded your goods for all the best spices, valuable gems, and gold.

carried the things you sold.
You were like a ship full of heavy cargo
in the middle of the sea.

<sup>26</sup>The men who rowed you brought you out into the high seas, but the east wind broke you to pieces

in the middle of the sea.

<sup>27</sup>Your wealth, your trade, your goods, your seamen, your sailors, your workers,
your traders, your warriors, and everyone else on board sank into the sea
on the day your ship was wrecked.

<sup>28</sup>The people on the shore shake with fear when your sailors cry out.

<sup>29</sup>All the men who row leave their ships;
the seamen and the sailors of other ships stand on the shore.

<sup>30</sup>They cry loudly about you;
they cry very much.
They throw dust on their heads and roll in ashes to show they are sad.

<sup>31</sup>They shave their heads for you, and they put on rough cloth to show they are upset.
They cry and sob for you;
they cry loudly.

<sup>32</sup>And in their loud crying
they sing a funeral song for you:
“No one was ever destroyed like Tyre, surrounded by the sea.”

<sup>33</sup>When the goods you traded went out over the seas, you met the needs of many nations.
With your great wealth and goods,
you made kings of the earth rich.

<sup>34</sup>But now you are broken by the sea and have sunk to the bottom.
Your goods and all the people on board have gone down with you.

<sup>35</sup>All those who live along the shore are shocked by what happened to you.
Their kings are terribly afraid,
and their faces show their fear.

<sup>36</sup>The traders among the nations hiss at you.
You have come to a terrible end,
and you are gone forever.”

Prophecy Against the King of Tyre

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying:<sup>2</sup>“Human, say to the ruler of Tyre: ‘This is what the Lord God says:

Because you are proud,
you say, “I am a god.
I sit on the throne of a god
in the middle of the seas.”
You think you are as wise as a god, but you are a human, not a god.

You think you can find out all secrets.

<sup>4</sup>Through your wisdom and understanding you have made yourself rich.
You have gained gold and silver and have saved it in your storerooms.

<sup>5</sup>Through your great skill in trading,
you have made your riches grow.
You are too proud because of your riches.

<sup>6</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says:

You think you are wise
like a god,

<sup>7</sup>but I will bring foreign people against you but I will bring foreign people against you,

the cruelest nation.

They will pull out their swords and destroy all that your wisdom has built,
and they will dishonor your greatness.

<sup>8</sup>They will kill you;
you will die a terrible death
like those who are killed at sea.

<sup>9</sup>While they are killing you, you will not be able to say anymore, “I am a god.”
You will be only a human, not a god,
when your murderers kill you.

<sup>10</sup>You will die like an unclean person;
foreigners will kill you.

I have spoken, says the Lord God.”

You were an example of what was perfect, full of wisdom and perfect in beauty.

<sup>13</sup>You had a wonderful life,
as if you were in Eden, the garden of God.
Every valuable gem was on you:
ruby, topaz, and emerald,
yellow quartz, onyx, and jasper,
sapphire, turquoise, and chrysolite.

Your jewelry was made of gold.
It was prepared on the day you were created.

<sup>14</sup>I appointed a living creature to guard you.
I put you on the holy mountain of God.
You walked among the gems that shined like fire.

<sup>15</sup>Your life was right and good from the day you were created, until evil was found in you.

<sup>16</sup>Because you traded with countries far away, you learned to be cruel, and you sinned.
So I threw you down in disgrace from the mountain of God.

And the living creature who guarded you forced you out from among the gems that shined like fire.

<sup>17</sup>You became too proud because of your beauty.
You ruined your wisdom
because of your greatness.
I threw you down to the ground.
Your example taught a lesson to other kings.

<sup>18</sup>You dishonored your places of worship through your many sins and dishonest trade.
So I set on fire the place where you lived,
and the fire burned you up.
I turned you into ashes on the ground for all those watching to see.

<sup>19</sup>All the nations who knew you are shocked about you.
Your punishment was so terrible,
and you are gone forever.”

Prophecy Against Sidon

I am against you, Sidon, and I will show my glory among you.
People will know that I am the Lord
when I have punished Sidon;
I will show my holiness by defeating her.

<sup>23</sup>I will send diseases to Sidon, and blood will flow in her streets.
Those who are wounded in Sidon will fall dead, attacked from all sides.
Then they will know that I am the Lord.

God Will Help Israel

<sup>24</sup>“No more will neighboring nations be like thorny branches or sharp stickers to hurt Israel. Then they will know that I am the Lord God.

of Israel from the nations where they are scattered. I will show my holiness when the nations see what I do for my people. Then they will live in their own land—the land I gave to my servant Jacob. <sup>26</sup>They will live safely in the land and will build houses and plant vineyards. They will live in safety after I have punished all the nations around who hate them. Then they will know that I am the Lord their God.”

Prophecy Against Egypt

It was the tenth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, on the twelfth day of the month. The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“Human, look toward the king of Egypt, and prophesy against him and all Egypt. <sup>3</sup>Say: ‘This is what the Lord God says:

I am against you, king of Egypt.
You are like a great crocodile that lies in the Nile River.
You say, “The Nile is mine;
I made it for myself.”

<sup>4</sup>But I will put hooks in your jaws, and I will make the fish of the Nile stick to your sides.
I will pull you up out of your rivers,
with all the fish sticking to your sides.

<sup>5</sup>I will leave you in the desert, you and all the fish from your rivers.
You will fall onto the ground;
you will not be picked up or buried.
I have given you to the wild animals and to the birds of the sky for food.

<sup>6</sup>Then all the people who live in Egypt will know that I am the Lord.

“Israel tried to lean on you for help, but you were like a crutch made out of a weak stalk of grass. <sup>7</sup>When their hands grabbed you, you splintered and tore open their shoulders. When they leaned on you, you broke and made all their backs twist.

<sup>8</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says: I will cause an enemy to attack you and kill your people and animals. <sup>9</sup>Egypt will become an empty desert. Then they will know that I am the Lord.

“Because you said, “The Nile River is mine, and I have made it,” <sup>10</sup>I am against you and your rivers. I will destroy the land of Egypt and make it an empty desert from Migdol in the north to Aswan in the south, all the way to the border of Cush.

<sup>11</sup>No person or animal will walk through it, and no one will live in Egypt for forty years. <sup>12</sup>I will make the land of Egypt the most deserted country of all. Her cities will be the most deserted of all ruined cities for forty years. I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, spreading them among the countries.

<sup>14</sup>I will bring back the Egyptian captives and make them return to southern Egypt, to the land they came from. They will become a weak kingdom there. <sup>15</sup>It will be the weakest kingdom, and it will never again rule other nations. I will make it so weak it will never again rule over the nations. <sup>16</sup>The Israelites will never again depend on Egypt. Instead, Egypt’s punishment will remind the Israelites of their sin in turning to Egypt for help. Then they will know that I am the Lord God.”

Egypt Is Given to Babylon

<sup>17</sup>It was the twenty-seventh year of our captivity, in the first month, on the first day of the month. The Lord spoke his word to me, saying:<sup>18</sup>“Human, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon made his army fight hard against Tyre. Every soldier’s head was rubbed bare, and every shoulder was rubbed raw. But Nebuchadnezzar and his army gained nothing from fighting Tyre. <sup>19</sup>So this is what the Lord God says: I will give the land of Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. He will take away Egypt’s people and its wealth and its treasures as pay for his army. <sup>20</sup>I am giving Nebuchadnezzar the land of Egypt as a reward for working hard for me, says the Lord God.

<sup>21</sup>“At that time I will make Israel grow strong again, and I will let you, Ezekiel, speak to them. Then they will know that I am the Lord.”

Egypt Will Be Punished

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“Human, prophesy and say, ‘This is what the Lord God says:

Cry and say,
“The terrible day is coming.”

<sup>3</sup>The day is near;
the Lord’s day of judging is near.
It is a cloudy day
and a time when the nations will be judged.

<sup>4</sup>An enemy will attack Egypt, and Cush will tremble with fear.
When the killing begins in Egypt,
her wealth will be taken away,
and her foundations will be torn down.

<sup>5</sup>Cush, Put, Lydia, Arabia, Libya, and some of my people who had made an agreement with Egypt will fall dead in war.

Those who fight on Egypt’s side will fall.
The power she is proud of will be lost.
The people in Egypt will fall dead in war from Migdol in the north to Aswan in the south, says the Lord God.

<sup>7</sup>They will be the most deserted lands.

Egypt's cities will be the worst of cities that lie in ruins.

<sup>8</sup>Then they will know that I am the Lord when I set fire to Egypt and when all those nations on her side are crushed.

<sup>9</sup>“At that time I will send messengers in ships to frighten Cush, which now feels safe. The people of Cush will tremble with fear when Egypt is punished. And that time is sure to come.

<sup>10</sup>“This is what the Lord God says:

I will destroy great numbers of people in Egypt through the power of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon.

<sup>11</sup>Nebuchadnezzar and his army,
the cruelest army of any nation,
will be brought in to destroy the land.
They will pull out their swords against Egypt and will fill the land with those they kill.

<sup>12</sup>I will make the streams of the Nile River become dry land,
and then I will sell the land to evil people.
I will destroy the land and everything in it through the power of foreigners.
I, the Lord, have spoken.

Egypt's Idols Are Destroyed

<sup>13</sup>“This is what the Lord God says:

I will destroy the idols and take away the statues of gods from the city of Memphis.

There will no longer be a leader in Egypt, and I will spread fear through the land of Egypt.

<sup>14</sup>I will make southern Egypt empty and start a fire in Zoan and punish Thebes.

<sup>15</sup>And I will pour out my anger against Pelusium, the strong place of Egypt.
I will destroy great numbers of people in Thebes.

<sup>16</sup>I will set fire to Egypt.
Pelusium will be in great pain.
The walls of Thebes will be broken open,
and Memphis will have troubles every day.

<sup>17</sup>The young men of Heliopolis and Bubastis will fall dead in war, and the people will be taken away as captives.

<sup>18</sup>In Tahpanhes the day will be dark when I break Egypt's power.
Then she will no longer be proud of her power.
A cloud will cover Egypt,
and her villages will be captured and taken away.

<sup>19</sup>So I will punish Egypt, and they will know I am the Lord.”

Egypt Becomes Weak

<sup>20</sup>It was in the eleventh year of our captivity, in the first month, on the seventh day of the month. The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>21</sup>“Human, I have broken the powerful arm of the king of Egypt. It has not been tied up, so it will not get well. It has not been wrapped with a bandage, so it will not be strong enough to hold a sword in war. <sup>22</sup>So this is what the Lord God says: I am against the king of Egypt. I will break his arms, both the strong arm and the broken arm, and I will make the sword fall from his hand. <sup>23</sup>I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, spreading them among the countries. <sup>24</sup>I will make the arms of the king of Babylon strong and put my sword in his hand. But I will break the arms of the king of Egypt. Then when he faces the king of Babylon, he will cry out in pain like a dying person. <sup>25</sup>So I will make the arms of the king of Babylon strong, but the arms of the king of Egypt will fall. Then people will know that I am the Lord when I put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon and he uses it in war against Egypt. <sup>26</sup>Then I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, spreading them among the countries. Then they will know that I am the Lord.”

A Cedar Tree

It was in the eleventh year of our captivity, in the third month, on the first day of the month. The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“Human, say to the king of Egypt and his people:

‘No one is like you in your greatness.

<sup>3</sup>Assyria was once like a cedar tree in Lebanon with beautiful branches that shaded the forest. It was very tall; its top was among the clouds.

<sup>4</sup>Much water made the tree grow; the deep springs made it tall. Rivers flowed around the bottom of the tree and sent their streams to all other trees in the countryside.

<sup>5</sup>So the tree was taller than all the other trees in the countryside. Its limbs became long and big because of so much water.

<sup>6</sup>All the birds of the sky made their nests in the tree’s limbs. And all the wild animals gave birth under its branches. All great nations lived in the tree's shade.

<sup>7</sup>So the tree was great and beautiful, with its long branches,
because its roots reached down to much water.

<sup>8</sup>The cedar trees in the garden of God were not as great as it was.
The pine trees
did not have such great limbs.
The plane trees
did not have such branches.
No tree in the garden of God was as beautiful as this tree.

<sup>9</sup>I made it beautiful
with many branches, and all the trees of Eden in the garden of God
wanted to be like it.

<sup>10</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says: The tree grew tall. Its top reached the clouds, and it became proud of its height. <sup>11</sup>So I handed it over to a mighty ruler of the nations for him to punish it. Because it was evil, I got rid of it. <sup>12</sup>The cruelest foreign nation cut it down and left it. The tree's branches fell on the mountains and in all the valleys, and its broken limbs were in all the ravines of the land. All the nations of the earth left the shade of that tree. <sup>13</sup>The birds of the sky live on the fallen tree. The wild animals live among the tree's fallen branches. <sup>14</sup>So the trees that grow by the water will not be proud to be tall; they will not put their tops among the clouds.

None of the trees that are watered well will grow that tall, because they all are meant to die and go under the ground. They will be with people who have died and have gone down to the place of the dead.

<sup>15</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: On the day when the tree went down to the place of the dead, I made the deep springs cry loudly. I covered them and held back their rivers, and the great waters stopped flowing. I dressed Lebanon in black to show her sadness about the great tree, and all the trees in the countryside were sad about it. <sup>16</sup>I made the nations shake with fear at the sound of the tree falling when I brought it down to the place of the dead. It went to join those who have gone down to the grave. Then all the trees of Eden and the best trees of Lebanon, all the well-watered trees, were comforted in the place of the dead below the earth. <sup>17</sup>These trees had also gone down with the great tree to the place of the dead. They joined those who were killed in war and those among the nations who had lived under the great tree’s shade.

<sup>18</sup>“So no tree in Eden is equal to you, Egypt, in greatness and honor, but you will go down to join the trees of Eden in the place below the earth. You will lie among unclean people, with those who were killed in war.

“This is about the king of Egypt and all his people, says the Lord God.”

A Funeral Song

It was in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the twelfth month, on the first day of the month. The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2c</sup>“Human, sing a funeral song about the king of Egypt. Say to him:

‘You are like a young lion among the nations.
You are like a crocodile in the seas.
You splash around in your streams and stir up the water with your feet, making the rivers muddy.

<sup>3c</sup>“This is what the Lord God says:

I will spread my net over you, and I will use a large group of people to pull you up in my net.

<sup>4</sup>Then I will throw you on the land dropping you onto the ground.
I will let the birds of the sky rest on you and all the animals of the earth eat you until they are full.

<sup>5</sup>I will scatter your flesh on the mountains and fill the valleys with what is left of you.

<sup>6</sup>I will drench the land with your flowing blood as far as the mountains, and the ravines will be full of your flesh.

<sup>7</sup>When I make you disappear,
I will cover the sky and make the stars dark.
I will cover the sun with a cloud,
and the moon will not shine.

<sup>8</sup>I will make all the shining lights in the sky become dark over you;

I will bring darkness over your land,
says the Lord God.

<sup>9</sup>I will cause many people to be afraid when I bring you as a captive into other nations, to lands you have not known.

<sup>10</sup>I will cause many people to be shocked about you.
Their kings will tremble with fear because of you when I swing my sword in front of them.
They will shake every moment
on the day you fall;
each king will be afraid for his own life.

<sup>11</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says:
The sword of the king of Babylon will attack you.

<sup>12</sup>I will cause your people to fall by the swords of mighty soldiers, the most terrible in the world.
They will destroy the pride of Egypt and all its people.

<sup>13</sup>I will also destroy all Egypt's cattle which live alongside much water.
The foot of a human will not stir the water, and the hoofs of cattle will not muddy it anymore.

<sup>14</sup>So I will let the Egyptians' water become clear.
I will cause their rivers to run as smoothly as olive oil,
says the Lord God.

<sup>15</sup>When I make the land of Egypt empty and take everything that is in the land, when I destroy all those who live in Egypt,
then they will know that I am the Lord.'

<sup>16</sup>“This is the funeral song people will sing for Egypt. The women of the nations will sing it; they will sing a funeral song for Egypt and all its people, says the Lord God.”

Egypt to Be Destroyed

<sup>17</sup>It was in the twelfth year of our captivity, on the fifteenth day of the month. The Lord spoke his word to me, saying:
<sup>18</sup>“Human, cry for the people of Egypt. Bring down Egypt, together with the women of the powerful nations; bring them down to the place of the dead below the earth to join those who go to the place of the dead. <sup>19</sup>Say to them: ‘Are you more beautiful than others? Go lie down in death with those who are unclean.’ <sup>20</sup>The Egyptians will fall among those killed in war. The sword is ready; the enemy will drag Egypt and all her people away. <sup>21</sup>From the place of the dead the leaders of the mighty ones will speak about the king of Egypt and the nations which help him: 'The unclean, those killed in war, have come down here and lie dead.'

<sup>22c</sup>Assyria and all its army lie dead there. The graves of their soldiers are all around. All were killed in war, <sup>23</sup>and their graves were put in the deepest parts of the place of the dead. Assyria's army lies around its grave. When they lived on earth, they frightened people, but now all of them have been killed in war.

<sup>24c</sup>The nation of Elam is there with all its army around its grave. All of them were killed in war. They had frightened people on earth and were unclean, so they went down to the lowest parts of the place of the dead. They must carry their shame with those who have gone down to the place of the dead. <sup>25</sup>A bed has been made for Elam with all those killed in war. The graves of her soldiers are all around her. All Elam's people are unclean, killed in war. They frightened people when they lived on earth, but now they must carry their shame with those who have gone down to the place of the dead. Their graves are with the rest who were killed.

<sup>26c</sup>Meshech and Tubal are there with the graves of all their soldiers around them. All of them are unclean and have been killed in war. They also frightened people when they lived on earth. <sup>27</sup>But they are not buried with the other soldiers who were killed in battle long ago, those who went with their weapons of war to the place of the dead. These soldiers had their swords laid under their heads and their shields on their bodies. These mighty soldiers used to frighten people when they lived on earth.

<sup>28</sup>“You, king of Egypt, will be broken and lie among those who are unclean, who were killed in war.

<sup>29</sup>“Edom is there also, with its kings and all its leaders. They were mighty, but now they lie in death with those killed in war, with those who are unclean, with those who have gone down to the place of the dead.

<sup>30</sup>“All the rulers of the north and all the Sidonians are there. Their strength frightened people, but they have gone down in shame with those who were killed. They are unclean, lying with those killed in war. They carry their shame with those who have gone down to the place of the dead.

<sup>31</sup>“The king of Egypt and his army will see these who have been killed in war. Then he will be comforted for all his soldiers killed in war, says the Lord God. <sup>32</sup>I made people afraid of the king of Egypt while he lived on earth. But he and all his people will lie among those who are unclean, who were killed in war, says the Lord God.”

Life Lessons

Ezekiel 33:1–36:38

Situation

Ezekiel acted as a watchman and preached about hope, comfort, and restoration. The people felt bad about their sins but refused to quit sinning. They treated Ezekiel's message as entertainment.

Observation

God promises to forgive and restore if we turn to him in repentance.

Inspiration

Without any question, forgiveness is the key relational issue in the Bible. It is essential to our relationship with God, with others, and even with ourselves. Forgiveness is central to emotional and spiritual growth.

Scripture teaches us that grace and salvation are unconditional. This is absolutely true in the sense that there is no way we can earn God's grace or love; there's nothing we can do in order to achieve it; there are no conditions of merit we must meet in order to receive it. Our salvation is given to us freely as the gift of God's love. But when we read Scripture carefully, we discover that before God forgives us, he expects us to forgive others. It seems as if God has made us psychologically so that we are not able to receive his forgiveness unless we first forgive.

In Luke 6:37, Jesus states this principle: "Forgive, and you will be forgiven." Again and again he stresses this. In what we call the Lord's Prayer, he said, "Forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors" (Matthew 6:12). A couple of verses later, he explains, "If you forgive men when they sin against you, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if you do not forgive men their sins, your Father will not forgive your sins" (vv. 14-15).

... Again and again we get this message that Jesus expects us to be as willing to forgive others as he is to forgive us. This ... points to a basic biblical, emotional, psychological, and spiritual principle—if we want to receive forgiveness without giving forgiveness, we're asking God to violate his own moral nature. We're asking him to violate principles he has built into us.

If you find it hard to believe that forgiveness is a need God has built into us, look at the opposite of forgiveness—resentment. When we resent someone, we destroy our relationship with that person, of course. We also destroy our own physical health. Any doctor [will] tell you about diseases and physical disorders that are closely tied to resentment. It literally eats holes in us, and that's a living metaphor of what it does to our relationships.

God's laws are a given of existence. They are built into our muscles, brains, personalities, and social interactions. His highest law, love, is what brought the world into being, and love is nourished by forgiveness. The opposite of love is hate, and hate is kept alive through resentment.

So if we're looking for emotional, spiritual, and physical well-being, forgiveness is central. (From “Forgiveness: The Cure for Resentment” by David Seamands in Practical Christianity)

Application

The tough part of forgiveness is actually doing it. Merely thinking about forgiving someone accomplishes nothing. Forgiveness requires action. Ask God to help you forgive someone. Show you have forgiven that person by your actions. God will bless you.

Exploration

Forgiveness—Leviticus 26:13; 1 Chronicles 21:8; Matthew 6:14–15; John 20:23; Romans 12:17–21.

Ezekiel Is Watchman for Israel

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying:<sup>2</sup>“Human, speak to your people and say to them: ‘Suppose I bring a war against a land. The people of the land may choose one of their men and make him their watchman.’<sup>3</sup>When he sees the enemy coming to attack the land, he will blow the trumpet and warn the people.<sup>4</sup>If they hear the sound of the trumpet but do nothing, the enemy will come and kill them. They will be responsible for their own deaths.<sup>5</sup>They heard the sound of the trumpet but didn’t do anything. So they are to blame for their own deaths. If they had done something, they would have saved their own lives.<sup>6</sup>But if the watchman sees the enemy coming to attack and does not blow the trumpet, the people will not be warned. Then if the enemy comes and kills any of them, they have died because of their own sin. But I will punish the watchman for their deaths.’

<sup>7</sup>“You, human, are the one I have made a watchman for Israel. If you hear a word from my mouth, you must warn them for me.<sup>8</sup>Suppose I say to the wicked: ‘Wicked people, you will surely die,’ but you don’t speak to warn the wicked to stop doing evil. Then they will die because they were sinners, but I will punish you for their deaths.<sup>9</sup>But if you warn the wicked to stop doing evil and they do not stop, they will die because they were sinners. But you have saved your life.

<sup>10</sup>“So you, human, say to Israel: ‘You have said: Surely our law-breaking and sins are hurting us. They will kill us. What can we do so we will live?’ <sup>11</sup>Say to them: ‘The Lord God says: As surely as I live, I do not want any who are wicked to die. I want them to stop doing evil and live. Stop! Stop your wicked ways! You don’t want to die, do you, people of Israel?’

<sup>12</sup>“Human, say to your people: ‘The goodness of those who do right will not save them when they sin. The evil of wicked people will not cause them to be punished if they stop doing it. If good people sin, they will not be able to live by the good they did earlier.’ <sup>13</sup>If I tell good people, ‘You will surely live,’ they might think they have done enough good and then do evil. Then none of the good things they did will be remembered. They will die because of the evil they have done.

<sup>14</sup>Or, if I say to the wicked people, ‘You will surely die,’ they may stop sinning and do what is right and honest. <sup>15</sup>For example, they may return what somebody gave them as a promise to repay a loan, or pay back what they stole. If they live by the rules that give life and do not sin, then they will surely live, and they will not die. <sup>16</sup>They will not be punished for any of their sins. They now do what is right and fair, so they will surely live.

The Fall of Jerusalem Explained

<sup>21</sup>It was in the twelfth year of our captivity, on the fifth day of the tenth month. A person who had escaped from Jerusalem came to me and said, "Jerusalem has been captured." <sup>22</sup>Now I had felt the power of the Lord on me the evening before. He had made me able to talk again before this person came to me. I could speak; I was not without speech anymore.

<sup>27</sup>"Say to them: 'This is what the Lord God says: As surely as I live, those who are among the city ruins in Israel will be killed in war. I will cause those who live in the country to be eaten by wild animals. People hiding in the strongholds and caves will die of disease. <sup>28</sup>I will make the land an empty desert. The people's pride in the land's power will end. The mountains of Israel will become empty so that no one will pass through them. <sup>29</sup>They will know that I am the Lord when I make the land an empty desert because of the things they have done that I hate.'

<sup>30</sup>"But as for you, human, your people are talking about you by the walls and in the doorways of houses. They say to each other: 'Come now, and hear the message from the Lord.' <sup>31</sup>So they come to you in crowds as if they were really ready to listen. They sit in front of you as if they were my people and hear your words, but they will not obey them. With their mouths they tell me they love me, but their hearts desire their selfish profits. <sup>32</sup>To your people you are nothing more than a singer who sings love songs and has a beautiful voice and plays a musical instrument well. They hear your words, but they will not obey them.

<sup>33</sup>“When this comes true, and it surely will happen, then the people will know that a prophet has been among them.”

The Leaders Are like Shepherds

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“Human, prophesy against the leaders of Israel, who are like shepherds. Prophesy and say to them: ‘This is what the Lord God says: How terrible it will be for the shepherds of Israel who feed only themselves! Why don’t the shepherds feed the flock? <sup>3</sup>You eat the milk curds, and you clothe yourselves with the wool. You kill the fat sheep, but you do not feed the flock. <sup>4</sup>You have not made the weak strong. You have not healed the sick or put bandages on those that were hurt. You have not brought back those who strayed away or searched for the lost. But you have ruled the sheep with cruel force. <sup>5</sup>The sheep were scattered, because there was no shepherd, and they became food for every wild animal. <sup>6</sup>My flock wandered over all the mountains and on every high hill. They were scattered all over the face of the earth, and no one searched or looked for them.

<sup>7</sup>“So, you shepherds, hear the word of the Lord. This is what the Lord God says: <sup>8</sup>As surely as I live, my flock has been caught and eaten by all the wild animals, because the flock has no shepherd. The shepherds did not search for my flock. No, they fed themselves instead of my flock. <sup>9</sup>So, you shepherds, hear the word of the Lord. <sup>10</sup>This is what the Lord God says: I am against the shepherds. I will blame them for what has happened to my sheep and will not let them tend the flock anymore. Then the shepherds will stop feeding themselves, and I will take my flock from their mouths so they will no longer be their food.

<sup>11</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: I, myself, will search for my sheep and take care of them. <sup>12</sup>As a shepherd takes care of his scattered flock when it is found, I will take care of my sheep. I will save them from all the places where they were scattered on a cloudy and dark day. <sup>13</sup>I will bring them out from the nations and gather them from the countries. I will bring them to their own land and pasture them on the mountains of Israel, in the ravines, and in all the places where people live in the land. <sup>14</sup>I will feed them in a good pasture, and they will eat grass on the high mountains of Israel. They will lie down on good ground where they eat grass, and they will eat in rich grassland on the mountains of Israel. <sup>15</sup>I will feed my flock and lead them to rest, says the Lord God. <sup>16</sup>I will search for the lost, bring back those that strayed away, put bandages on those that were hurt, and make the weak strong. But I will destroy those sheep that are fat and strong. I will tend the sheep with fairness.

<sup>20</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says to them: I, myself, will judge between the fat sheep and the thin sheep. <sup>21</sup>You push with your side and with your shoulder, and you knock down all the weak sheep with your horns until you have forced them away. <sup>22</sup>So I will save my flock; they will not be hurt anymore. I will judge between one sheep and another. <sup>23</sup>Then I will put over them one shepherd, my servant David. He will feed them and tend them and be their shepherd. <sup>24</sup>Then I, the Lord, will be their God, and my servant David will be a ruler among them. I, the Lord, have spoken.

<sup>25</sup>“I will make an agreement of peace with my sheep and will remove harmful animals from the land. Then the sheep will live safely in the desert and sleep in the woods. <sup>26</sup>I will bless them and let them live around my hill. I will cause the rains to come when it is time; there will be showers to bless them. <sup>27</sup>Also the trees in the countryside will give their fruit, and the land will give its harvest. And the sheep will be safe on their land. Then they will know that I am the Lord when I break the bars of their captivity and save them from the power of those who made them slaves. <sup>28</sup>They will not be led captive by the nations again. The wild animals will not eat them, but they will live safely, and no one will make them afraid. <sup>29</sup>I will give them a place famous for its good crops, so they will no longer suffer from hunger in the land. They will not suffer the insults of other nations anymore. <sup>30</sup>Then they will know that I, the Lord their God, am with them. The nation of Israel will know that they are my people, says the Lord God. <sup>31</sup>You, my human sheep, are the sheep I care for, and I am your God, says the Lord God.”

Prophecy Against Edom

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: <sup>2</sup>“Human, look toward Edom and prophesy against it. <sup>3</sup>Say to it: ‘This is what the Lord God says: I am against you, Edom. I will stretch out my hand against you and make you an empty desert. <sup>4</sup>I will destroy your cities, and you will become empty. Then you will know that I am the Lord.

<sup>5</sup>“You have always been an enemy of Israel. You let them be defeated in war when they were in trouble at the time of their final punishment. <sup>6</sup>So the Lord God says, as surely as I live, I will let you be murdered. Murder will chase you. Since you did not hate murdering people, murder will chase you. <sup>7</sup>I will make Edom an empty ruin and destroy everyone who goes in or comes out of it. <sup>8</sup>I will fill its mountains with those who are killed. Those killed in war will fall on your hills, in your valleys, and in all your ravines. <sup>9</sup>I will make you a ruin forever; no one will live in your cities. Then you will know that I am the Lord.

<sup>10</sup>“You said, “These two nations, Israel and Judah, and these two lands will be ours. We will take them for our own.” But the Lord was there. <sup>11</sup>So this is what the Lord God says: As surely as I live, I will treat you just as you treated them. You were angry and jealous because you hated them. So I will punish you and show the Israelites who I am. <sup>12</sup>Then you will know that I, the Lord, have heard all your insults against the mountains of Israel. You said, “They have been ruined. They have been given to us to eat.” <sup>13</sup>You have not stopped your proud talk against me. I have heard you. <sup>14</sup>This is what the Lord God says: All the earth will be happy when I make you an empty ruin. <sup>15</sup>You were happy when the land of Israel was ruined, but I will do the same thing to you. Mount Seir and all Edom, you will become an empty ruin. Then you will know that I am the Lord.”

Israel to Come Home

“Human, prophesy to the mountains of Israel and say: ‘Mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord. <sup>2</sup>This is what the Lord God says: The enemy has said about you, “Now the old places to worship gods have become ours.”’ <sup>3</sup>So prophesy and say: ‘This is what the Lord God says: They have made you an empty ruin and have crushed you from all around. So you became a possession of the other nations. People have talked and whispered against you. <sup>4</sup>So, mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord God. The Lord God speaks to the mountains, hills, ravines, and valleys, to the empty ruins and abandoned cities that have been robbed and laughed at by the other nations. <sup>5</sup>This is what the Lord God says: I speak in hot anger against the other nations. I speak against the people of Edom, who took my land for themselves with joy and with hate in their hearts. They forced out the people and took their pastureland.’ <sup>6</sup>So prophesy about the land of Israel and say to the mountains, hills, ravines, and valleys: ‘This is what the Lord God says: I speak in my jealous anger, because you have suffered the insults of the nations. <sup>7</sup>So this is what the Lord God says: I promise that the nations around you will also have to suffer insults.

<sup>8</sup>“But you, mountains of Israel, will grow branches and fruit for my people, who will soon come home. <sup>9</sup>I am concerned about you; I am on your side. You will be plowed, and seed will be planted in you. <sup>10</sup>I will increase the number of people who live on you, all the people of Israel. The cities will have people living in them, and the ruins will be rebuilt. <sup>11</sup>I will increase the number of people and animals living on you. They will grow and have many young. You will have people living on you as you did before, and I will make you better off than at the beginning. Then you will know that I am the Lord. <sup>12</sup>I will cause my people Israel to walk on you and own you, and you will belong to them. You will never again take their children away from them.

<sup>13</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: People say about you, “You eat people and take children from your nation.” <sup>14</sup>But you will not eat people anymore or take away the children, says the Lord God. <sup>15</sup>I will not make you listen to insults from the nations anymore; you will not suffer shame from them anymore. You will not cause your nation to fall anymore, says the Lord God.”

The Lord Acts for Himself

<sup>16</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me again, saying: <sup>17</sup>“Human, when the nation of Israel was living in their own land, they made it unclean by their ways and the things they did. Their ways were like a woman’s uncleanness in her time of monthly bleeding. <sup>18</sup>So I poured out my anger against them, because they murdered in the land and because they made the land unclean with their idols. <sup>19</sup>I scattered them among the nations, and they were spread through the countries. I punished them for how they lived and what they did. <sup>20</sup>They dishonored my holy name in the nations where they went. The nations said about them ‘These are the people of the Lord, but they had to leave the land which he gave them.’ <sup>21</sup>But I had concern for my holy name, which the nation of Israel had dishonored among the nations where they went.

<sup>22</sup>“So say to the people of Israel, ‘This is what the Lord God says: Israel, I am going to act, but not for your sake. I will do something to help my holy name, which you have dishonored among the nations where you went. <sup>23</sup>I will prove the holiness of my great name, which has been dishonored among the nations. You have dishonored it among these nations, but the nations will know that I am the Lord when I prove myself holy before their eyes, says the Lord God.

<sup>24</sup>“I will take you from the nations and gather you out of all the lands and bring you back into your own land. <sup>25</sup>Then I will sprinkle clean water on you, and you will be clean. I will cleanse you from all your uncleanness and your idols. <sup>26</sup>Also, I will teach you to respect me completely, and I will put a new way of thinking inside you. I will take out the stubborn hearts of stone from your bodies, and I will give you obedient hearts of flesh. <sup>27</sup>I will put my Spirit inside you and help you live by my rules and carefully obey my laws. <sup>28</sup>You will live in the land I gave to your ancestors, and you will be my people, and I will be your God. <sup>29</sup>So I will save you from all your uncleanness. I will command the grain to come and grow; I will not allow a time of hunger to hurt you. <sup>30</sup>I will increase the harvest of the field so you will never again suffer shame among the nations because of hunger. <sup>31</sup>Then you will remember your evil ways and actions that were not good, and you will hate yourselves because of your sins and your terrible acts that I hate. <sup>32</sup>I want you to know that I am not going to do this for your sake, says the Lord God. Be ashamed and embarrassed about your ways, Israel.

<sup>33</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: This is what will happen on the day I cleanse you from all your sins: I will cause the cities to have people living in them again, and the destroyed places will be rebuilt. <sup>34</sup>The empty land will be plowed so it will no longer be a ruin for everyone who passes by to see. <sup>35</sup>They will say, “This land was ruined, but now it has become like the garden of Eden. The cities were destroyed, empty, and ruined, but now they are protected and have people living in them.” <sup>36</sup>Then those nations still around you will know that I, the Lord, have rebuilt what was destroyed and have planted what was empty. I, the Lord, have spoken, and I will do it.’

<sup>37</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: I will let myself be asked by the people of Israel to do this for them again: I will make their people grow in number like a flock. <sup>38</sup>They will be as many as the flocks brought to Jerusalem during her holy feasts. Her ruined cities will be filled with flocks of people. Then they will know that I am the Lord.”

Life Lessons

Ezekiel 37:1–39:29

Situation

Ezekiel preached a message of hope to the exiles in Babylon. Yet, they were as unresponsive as dead bones.

Observation

God miraculously restores and reunites his people. He shows ultimate triumph over the evils of world powers. His might always prevails in world affairs.

Inspiration

Instead of seeing [God's sovereignty] as doing away with our free will, we should rejoice. God is in total control. No move of nation against nation is done apart from His choosing. God looks at our past lives from a completely different perspective. God was accomplishing His will even through our own failures and sin. Are people free to choose for or against God? They are not free in the sense that they are unbiased toward God. Everyone is born with a bias against God. It certainly is not a fifty-fifty choice; that is, one does not grow up with as good a chance to choose for God as against Him. A person will choose against Him every time unless God moves first. Within His sovereignty there is clear indication of man's freedom throughout the Scriptures, but man's freedom has boundaries whereas God's sovereignty does not.

It is foolish to think that a man could turn aside the purposes of God. If you were standing on the top of a cliff with the water rushing in from the ocean, could you imagine yourself jumping down and pushing back the waves into the ocean? Of course not. Could you stand in a storm and as the bolt of lightning came through the sky, grab it and change its course? Of course not. Still more foolish is the thought that you could push back or change the determination of the Almighty.

Not only is God's will sovereign, but His power is, as well. That power may be called the creative energy of His nature. The sovereign power of God and God's other attributes work together. God's great power works within the realm of His holiness. My son once asked me why the Lord did not go ahead and save the devil—we would all be better off! That sounds good when you consider God's sovereign power, but does not fit with God's holiness. It might fit with God's mercy but not with His justice. God, being totally just, will have all things made right and fair when we see Him face to face. My failure, sin and confusion do not change His chosen ends. What would it profit a man to spend any time trying to buck God's will? Could he win? Never! (From The God You Can Know by Dan DeHaan)

The Vision of Dry Bones

I felt the power of the Lord on me, and he brought me out by the Spirit of the Lord and put me down in the middle of a valley. It was full of bones. <sup>2</sup>He led me around among the bones, and I saw that there were many bones in the valley and that they were very dry. <sup>3</sup>Then he asked me, “Human, can these bones live?”

I answered, “Lord God, only you know.”

<sup>4</sup>He said to me, “Prophecy to these bones and say to them, ‘Dry bones, hear the word of the Lord. <sup>5</sup>This is what the Lord God says to the bones: I will cause breath to enter you so you will come to life. <sup>6</sup>I will put muscles on you and flesh on you and cover you with skin. Then I will put breath in you so you will come to life. Then you will know that I am the Lord.’”

<sup>7</sup>So I prophesied as I was commanded. While I prophesied, there was a noise and a rattling. The bones came together, bone to bone. <sup>8</sup>I looked and saw muscles come on the bones, and flesh grew, and skin covered the bones. But there was no breath in them.

<sup>9</sup>Then he said to me, “Prophecy to the wind. Prophecy, human, and say to the wind, ‘This is what the Lord God says: Wind, come from the four winds, and breathe on these people who were killed so they can come back to life.’” <sup>10</sup>So I prophesied as the Lord commanded me. And the breath came into them, and they came to life and stood on their feet, a very large army.

<sup>11</sup>Then he said to me, “Human, these bones are like all the people of Israel. They say, ‘Our bones are dried up, and our hope has gone. We are destroyed.’ <sup>12</sup>So, prophesy and say to them, ‘This is what the Lord God says: My people, I will open your graves and cause you to come up out of your graves. Then I will bring you into the land of Israel. <sup>13</sup>My people, you will know that I am the Lord when I open your graves and cause you to come up from them. <sup>14</sup>And I will put my Spirit inside you, and you will come to life. Then I will put you in your own land. And you will know that I, the Lord, have spoken and done it, says the Lord.’”

Judah and Israel Back Together

<sup>15</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me, saying, <sup>16</sup>“Human, take a stick and write on it, ‘For Judah and all the Israelites with him.’ Then take another stick and write on it, ‘The stick of Ephraim, for Joseph and all the Israelites with him.’ <sup>17</sup>Then join them together into one stick so they will be one in your hand.

<sup>18</sup>“When your people say to you, ‘Explain to us what you mean by this,’ <sup>19</sup>say to them, ‘This is what the Lord God says: I will take the stick for Joseph and the tribes of Israel with him, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and I will put it with the stick of Judah. I will make them into one stick, and they will be one in my hand.’ <sup>20</sup>Hold the sticks on which you wrote these names in your hand so the people can see them. <sup>21</sup>Say to the people, ‘This is what the Lord God says: I am going to take the people of Israel from among the nations where they have gone. I will gather them from all around and bring them into their own land.

<sup>22</sup>I will make them one nation in the land, on the mountains of Israel. One king will rule all of them. They will never again be two nations; they will not be divided into two kingdoms anymore. <sup>23</sup>They will not continue to make themselves unclean by their idols, their statues of gods which I hate, or by their sins. I will save them from all the ways they sin and turn against me, and I will make them clean. Then they will be my people, and I will be their God.

<sup>24</sup>“My servant David will be their king, and they will all have one shepherd. They will live by my rules and obey my laws. <sup>25</sup>They will live on the land I gave to my servant Jacob, the land in which your ancestors lived. They will all live on the land forever: they, their children, and their grandchildren. David my servant will be their king forever. <sup>26</sup>I will make an agreement of peace with them, an agreement that continues forever. I will put them in their land and make them grow in number. Then I will put my Temple among them forever. <sup>27</sup>The place where I live will be with them. I will be their God, and they will be my people. <sup>28</sup>When my Temple is among them forever, the nations will know that I, the Lord, make Israel holy.”

Prophecy Against Gog

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying, <sup>2</sup>“Human, look toward Gog of the land of Magog, the chief ruler of the nations of Meshech and Tubal. Prophecy against him <sup>3</sup>and say, ‘The Lord God says this: I am against you, Gog, chief ruler of Meshech and Tubal. <sup>4</sup>I will turn you around and put hooks in your jaws. And I will bring you out with all your army, horses, and horsemen, all of whom will be dressed in beautiful uniforms. They will be a large army with large and small shields and all having swords. <sup>5</sup>Persia, Cush, and Put will be with them, all of them having shields and helmets. <sup>6</sup>There will also be Gomer with all its troops and the nation of Togarmah from the far north with all its troops—many nations with you.

<sup>7</sup>“Be prepared. Be prepared, you and all the armies that have come together to make you their commander. <sup>8</sup>After a long time you will be called for service. After those years you will come into a land that has been rebuilt from war. The people in the land will have been gathered from many nations to the mountains of Israel, which were empty for a long time. These people were brought out from the nations, and they will all be living in safety. <sup>9</sup>You will come like a storm. You, all your troops, and the many nations with you will be like a cloud covering the land.

<sup>10</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: At that time ideas will come into your mind, and you will think up an evil plan. <sup>11</sup>You will say, “I will march against a land of towns without walls. I will attack those who are at rest and live in safety. All of them live without city walls or gate bars or gates. <sup>12</sup>I will capture treasures and take loot. I will turn my power against the rebuilt ruins that now have people living in them. I will attack these people who have been gathered from the nations, who have become rich with farm animals and property, who live at the center of the world.” <sup>13</sup>Sheba, Dedan, and the traders of Tarshish, with all its villages, will say to you, “Did you come to capture treasure? Did you bring your troops together to take loot? Did you bring them to carry away silver and gold and to take away farm animals and property?” ’

<sup>14</sup>“So prophesy, human, and say to Gog, ‘This is what the Lord God says: Now that my people Israel are living in safety, you will know about it. <sup>15</sup>You will come with many people from your place in the far north. You will have a large group with you, a mighty army, all riding on horses. <sup>16</sup>You will attack my people Israel like a cloud that covers the land. This will happen in the days to come when I bring you against my land. Gog, then the nations will know me when they see me prove how holy I am in what I do through you.

<sup>17</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: You are the one about whom I spoke in past days. I spoke through my servants, the prophets of Israel, who prophesied for many years that I would bring you against them. <sup>18</sup>This is what will happen: On the day Gog attacks the land of Israel, I will become very angry, says the Lord God. <sup>19</sup>With jealousy and great anger I tell you that at that time there will surely be a great earthquake in Israel. <sup>20</sup>The fish of the sea, the birds of the sky, the wild animals, everything that crawls on the ground, and all the people on the earth will shake with fear before me. Also the mountains will be thrown down, the cliffs will fall, and every wall will fall to the ground.<sup>21</sup>Then I will call for a war against Gog on all my mountains, says the Lord God. Everyone's sword will attack the soldier next to him.<sup>22</sup>I will punish Gog with disease and death. I will send a heavy rain with hailstones and burning sulfur on Gog, his army, and the many nations with him.<sup>23</sup>Then I will show how great I am. I will show my holiness, and I will make myself known to the many nations that watch. Then they will know that I am the Lord.'

The Death of Gog and His Army

“Human, prophesy against Gog and say, ‘This is what the Lord God says: I am against you, Gog, chief ruler of Meshech and Tubal. <sup>2</sup>I will turn you around and lead you. I will bring you from the far north and send you to attack the mountains of Israel. <sup>3</sup>I will knock your bow out of your left hand and throw down your arrows from your right hand. <sup>4</sup>You, all your troops, and the nations with you will fall dead on the mountains of Israel. I will let you be food for every bird that eats meat and for every wild animal. <sup>5</sup>You will lie fallen on the ground, because I have spoken, says the Lord God. <sup>6</sup>I will send fire on Magog and those who live in safety on the coastlands. Then they will know that I am the Lord.

<sup>7</sup>“I will make myself known among my people Israel, and I will not let myself be dishonored anymore. Then the nations will know that I am the Lord, the Holy One in Israel. <sup>8</sup>It is coming! It will happen, says the Lord God. The time I talked about is coming.

<sup>9</sup>“Then those who live in the cities of Israel will come out and make fires with the enemy’s weapons. They will burn them, both large and small shields, bows and arrows, war clubs, and spears. They will use the weapons to burn in their fires for seven years. <sup>10</sup>They will not need to take wood from the field or chop firewood from the forests, because they will make fires with the weapons. In this way they will take the treasures of those who took their treasures; they will take the loot of those who took their loot, says the Lord God.

<sup>11</sup>“At that time I will give Gog a burial place in Israel, in the Valley of the Travelers, east of the Dead Sea. It will block the road for travelers. Gog and all his army will be buried there, so people will call it The Valley of Gog’s Army.

<sup>12</sup>“The people of Israel will be burying them for seven months to make the land clean again. <sup>13</sup>All the people in the land will bury them, and they will be honored on the day of my victory, says the Lord God.

<sup>14</sup>“The people of Israel will choose men to work through the land to make it clean. Along with others, they will bury Gog’s soldiers still lying dead on the ground. After the seven months are finished, they will still search. <sup>15</sup>As they go through the land, anyone who sees a human bone is to put a marker by it. The sign will stay there until the gravediggers bury the bone in The Valley of Gog’s Army. <sup>16</sup>A city will be there named Hamonah. So they will make the land clean again.’

<sup>17</sup>“Human, this is what the Lord God says: Speak to every kind of bird and wild animal: ‘Come together, come! Come together from all around to my sacrifice, a great sacrifice which I will prepare for you on the mountains of Israel. Eat flesh and drink blood! <sup>18</sup>You are to eat the flesh of the mighty and drink the blood of the rulers of the earth as if they were fat animals from Bashan: male sheep, lambs, goats, and bulls. <sup>19</sup>You are to eat and drink from my sacrifice which I have prepared for you, eating fat until you are full and drinking blood until you are drunk. <sup>20</sup>At my table you are to eat until you are full of horses and riders, mighty men and all kinds of soldiers,’ says the Lord God.

<sup>21</sup>“I will show my glory among the nations. All the nations will see my power when I punish them. <sup>22</sup>From that time onward the people of Israel will know that I am the Lord their God.

<sup>23</sup>The nations will know Israel was taken away captive because they turned against me. So I turned away from them and handed them over to their enemies until all of them died in war.
<sup>24</sup>Because of their uncleanness and their sins, I punished them and turned away from them.

<sup>25</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says: Now I will bring the people of Jacob back from captivity, and I will have mercy on the whole nation of Israel. I will not let them dishonor me. <sup>26</sup>The people will forget their shame and how they rejected me when they live again in safety on their own land with no one to make them afraid. <sup>27</sup>I will bring the people back from other lands and gather them from the lands of their enemies. So I will use my people to show many nations that I am holy. <sup>28</sup>Then my people will know that I am the Lord their God, because I sent them into captivity among the nations, but then I brought them back to their own land, leaving no one behind. <sup>29</sup>I will not turn away from them anymore, because I will put my Spirit into the people of Israel, says the Lord God.”

Life Lessons

Ezekiel 40:1–42:20

Situation

God gave Ezekiel, a priest, the measurements of Solomon's Temple. The Temple had been destroyed at the beginning of the captivity.

Observation

God reveals his perfect kingdom. The details of his vision gave the Jews hope for a restored worship and show us the importance of true God-centered worship.

Inspiration

The Holy of Holies, you'll remember, was a part of the Temple no one could enter. Jewish worshipers could enter the outer court, but only the priests could enter the Holy Place. And no one, except the high priest on one day a year, entered the Holy of Holies. No one. Why? Because the shekinah glory—the glory of God—was present there.

If you were told you were free to enter the Oval Office of the White House, you would likely shake your head and chuckle, "You're one brick short of a load, buddy." Multiply your disbelief by a thousand, and you'll have an idea how a Jew would feel if someone told him he could enter the Holy of Holies. "Yeah, right. You're one bagel short of a dozen."

No one but the high priest entered the Holy of Holies. No one. To do so meant death. Two of Aaron's sons died when they entered the Holy of Holies in order to offer sacrifices to the Lord (Leviticus 16:1-2). In no uncertain terms, the curtain declared: “This far and no farther!”

What did fifteen hundred years of a curtain-draped Holy of Holies communicate? Simple. God is holy ... separate from us and unapproachable. Even Moses was told, “You cannot see my face, because no one can see me and live” (Exodus 33:20). God is holy, and we are sinners, and there is a distance between us.

Isn't this our problem? We know God is good. We know we are not, and we feel far from God. The ancient words of Job are ours, “I wish there were someone to make peace between us, someone to decide our case” (Job 9:33).

Oh, but there is! Jesus hasn't left us with an unapproachable God. Yes, God is holy. Yes, we are sinful. But, yes, yes, yes, Jesus is our mediator. “There is one God and one way human beings can reach God. That way is through Jesus Christ, who is himself human” (1 Timothy 2:5). Is not a mediator one who “goes between”? Wasn't Jesus the curtain between us and God? And wasn't his flesh torn?

What appeared to be the cruelty of man was actually the sovereignty of God. Matthew tells us: “But Jesus cried out again in a loud voice and died. Then the curtain in the Temple was torn into two pieces, from the top to the bottom” (27:50-51).

It's as if the hands of heaven had been gripping the veil, waiting for this moment. Keep in mind the size of the curtain—sixty feet tall and thirty feet wide.

One instant it was whole; the next it was ripped in two from top to bottom. No delay. No hesitation.

What did the torn curtain mean? For the Jews it meant no more barrier between them and the Holy of Holies. No more priests to go between them and God. No more animal sacrifices to atone for their sins.

And for us? What did the torn curtain signify for us?

We are welcome to enter into God's presence—any day, any time. God has removed the barrier that separates us from him. The barrier of sin? Down. He has removed the curtain.

But we have a tendency to put the barrier back up. Though there is no curtain in a temple, there is a curtain in the heart. Like the ticks on the clock are the mistakes of the heart. And sometimes, no, oftentimes, we allow those mistakes to keep us from God. Our guilty conscience becomes a curtain that separates us from God.

As a result we hide from our Master ...

Somewhere, sometime, somehow you got tangled up in garbage, and you've been avoiding God. You've allowed a veil of guilt to come between you and your Father. You wonder if you could ever feel close to God again. The message of the torn flesh is you can. God welcomes you. God is not avoiding you. God is not resisting you. The curtain is down, the door is open, and God invites you in.

Don't trust your conscience. Trust the cross. The blood has been spilt and the veil has been split. You are welcome in God's presence.

The New Temple

It was the twenty-fifth year of our captivity, at the beginning of the year, on the tenth day of the month. It was in the fourteenth year after Jerusalem was captured. On that same day I felt the power of the Lord, and he brought me to Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup>In the visions of God he brought me to the land of Israel and put me down on a very high mountain. On the south of the mountain there were some buildings that looked like a city. <sup>3</sup>He took me closer to the buildings, and I saw a man who looked as if he were made of bronze, standing in the gateway. He had a cord made of linen and a stick in his hand, both for measuring. <sup>4</sup>The man said to me, "Human, look with your eyes and hear with your ears. Pay attention to all that I will show you, because that's why you have been brought here. Tell the people of Israel all that you see."

The East Gateway

<sup>5</sup>I saw a wall that surrounded the Temple area. The measuring stick in the man's hand was ten and one-half feet long. So the man measured the wall, which was ten and one-half feet thick and ten and one-half feet high.

<sup>6</sup>Then the man went to the east gateway. He went up its steps and measured the opening of the gateway. It was ten and one-half feet deep.<sup>7</sup>The rooms for the guards were ten and one-half feet long and ten and one-half feet wide. The walls that came out between the guards' rooms were about nine feet thick. The opening of the gateway next to the porch that faced the Temple was ten and one-half feet deep.

<sup>8</sup>Then the man measured the porch of the gateway. <sup>9</sup>It was about fourteen feet deep, and its side walls were three and one-half feet thick. The porch of the gateway faced the Temple.

<sup>10</sup>On each side of the east gateway were three rooms, which measured the same on each side. The walls between each room were the same thickness. <sup>11</sup>The man measured the width of the entrance to the gateway, which was seventeen and one-half feet wide. The width of the gate was about twenty-three feet. <sup>12</sup>And there was a low wall about twenty-one inches high in front of each room. The rooms were ten and one-half feet on each side. <sup>13</sup>The man measured the gateway from the roof of one room to the roof of the opposite room. It was about forty-four feet from one door to the opposite door. <sup>14</sup>The man also measured the porch, which was about thirty-five feet wide. The courtyard was around the porch. <sup>15</sup>From the front of the outer side of the gateway to the front of the porch of the inner side of the gateway was eighty-seven and one-half feet. <sup>16</sup>The rooms and porch had small windows on both sides. The windows were narrower on the side facing the gateway. Carvings of palm trees were on each side wall of the rooms.

The Outer Courtyard

<sup>17</sup>Then the man brought me into the outer courtyard where I saw rooms and a pavement of stones all around the court.

Thirty rooms were along the edge of the paved walkway. <sup>18</sup>The pavement ran alongside the gates and was as deep as the gates were wide. This was the lower pavement. <sup>19</sup>Then the man measured from the outer wall to the inner wall. The outer court between these two walls was one hundred seventy-five feet on the east and on the north.

The North Gateway

<sup>20</sup>The man measured the length and width of the north gateway leading to the outer courtyard. <sup>21</sup>Its three rooms on each side, its inner walls, and its porch measured the same as the first gateway. It was eighty-seven and one-half feet long and forty-four feet wide. <sup>22</sup>Its windows, porch, and carvings of palm trees measured the same as the east gateway. Seven steps went up to the gateway, and the gateway's porch was at the inner end. <sup>23</sup>The inner courtyard had a gateway across from the northern gateway like the one on the east. The man measured it and found it was one hundred seventy-five feet from inner gateway to outer gateway.

The South Gateway

<sup>24</sup>Then the man led me south where I saw a gateway facing south. He measured its inner walls and its porch, and they measured the same as the other gateways. <sup>25</sup>The gateway and its porch had windows all around like the other gateways. It was eighty-seven and one-half feet long and forty-four feet wide. <sup>26</sup>Seven steps went up to this gateway. Its porch was at the inner end, and it had carvings of palm trees on its inner walls.<sup>27</sup>The inner courtyard had a gateway on its south side. The man measured from gate to gate on the south side, which was one hundred seventy-five feet.

The Inner Courtyard

<sup>28</sup>Then the man brought me through the south gateway into the inner courtyard. The inner south gateway measured the same as the gateways in the outer wall.<sup>29</sup>The inner south gateway's rooms, inner walls, and porch measured the same as the gateways in the outer wall. There were windows all around the gateway and its porch. The gateway was eighty-seven and one-half feet long and forty-four feet wide.<sup>30</sup>Each porch of each inner gateway was about forty-four feet long and about nine feet wide.<sup>31</sup>The inner south gateway's porch faced the outer courtyard. Carvings of palm trees were on its side walls, and its stairway had eight steps.

<sup>32</sup>The man brought me into the inner courtyard on the east side. He measured the inner east gateway, and it was the same as the other gateways.<sup>33</sup>The inner east gateway's rooms, inside walls, and porch measured the same as the other gateways. Windows were all around the gateway and its porch. The inner east gateway was eighty-seven and one-half feet long and forty-four feet wide.<sup>34</sup>Its porch faced the outer courtyard. Carvings of palm trees were on its inner walls on each side, and its stairway had eight steps.

<sup>35</sup>Then the man brought me to the inner north gateway. He measured it, and it was the same as the other gateways.<sup>36</sup>Its rooms, inner walls, and porch measured the same as the other gateways. There were windows all around the gateway, which was eighty-seven and one-half feet long and forty-four feet wide.<sup>37</sup> Its porch faced the outer courtyard. Carvings of palm trees were on its inner walls on each side, and its stairway had eight steps.

Rooms for Preparing Sacrifices

<sup>38</sup>There was a room with a door that opened onto the porch of the inner north gateway. In this room the priests washed animals for the burnt offerings.<sup>39</sup> There were two tables on each side of the porch, on which animals for burnt offerings, sin offerings, and penalty offerings were killed.<sup>40</sup> Outside, by each side wall of the porch, at the entrance to the north gateway, were two more tables.<sup>41</sup> So there were four tables inside the gateway, and four tables outside. In all there were eight tables on which the priests killed animals for sacrifices.<sup>42</sup> There were four tables made of cut stone for the burnt offering. These tables were about three feet long, three feet wide, and about two feet high. On these tables the priests put their tools which they used to kill animals for burnt offerings and the other sacrifices.<sup>43</sup> Double shelves three inches wide were put up on all the walls. The flesh for the offering was put on the tables.

The Priests' Rooms

<sup>44</sup>There were two rooms in the inner courtyard. One was beside the north gateway and faced south. The other room was beside the south gateway and faced north.<sup>45</sup> The man said to me, "The room which faces south is for the priests who serve in the Temple area,<sup>46</sup> while the room that faces north is for the priests who serve at the altar. This second group of priests are descendants of Zadok, the only descendants of Levi who can come near the Lord to serve him.”

<sup>47</sup>The man measured the inner courtyard. It was a square—one hundred seventy-five feet long and one hundred seventy-five feet wide. The altar was in front of the Temple.

The Temple Porch

<sup>48</sup>The man brought me to the porch of the Temple and measured each side wall of the porch. Each was about nine feet thick. The doorway was twenty-four and one-half feet wide. The side walls of the doorway were each about five feet wide.

<sup>49</sup>The porch was thirty-five feet long and twenty-one feet wide, with ten steps leading up to it. Pillars were by the side walls, one on each side of the entrance.

The Holy Place of the Temple

The man brought me to the Holy Place and measured its side walls, which were each ten and one-half feet thick.<sup>2</sup>The entrance was seventeen and one-half feet wide. The walls alongside the entrance were each about nine feet wide. The man measured the Holy Place, which was seventy feet long and thirty-five feet wide.

<sup>3</sup>Then the man went inside and measured the side walls of the next doorway. Each was three and one-half feet thick. The doorway was ten and one-half feet wide, and the walls next to it were each more than twelve feet thick.<sup>4</sup>Then the man measured the room at the end of the Holy Place. It was thirty-five feet long and thirty-five feet wide. The man said to me, "This is the Most Holy Place."

<sup>5</sup>Then the man measured the wall of the Temple, which was ten and one-half feet thick. There were side rooms seven feet wide all around the Temple.<sup>6</sup>The side rooms were on three different stories, each above the other, with thirty rooms on each story. All around the Temple walls there were ledges for the side rooms. The upper rooms rested on the ledges but were not attached to the Temple walls.<sup>7</sup>The side rooms around the Temple were wider on each higher story, so rooms were wider on the top story. A stairway went up from the lowest story to the highest through the middle story.

<sup>8</sup>I also saw that the Temple had a raised base all around. Its edge was the foundation for the side rooms, and it was ten and one-half feet thick.<sup>9</sup>The outer wall of the side rooms was about nine feet thick. There was an open area between the side rooms of the Temple <sup>10</sup>and some other rooms. It was thirty-five feet wide and went all around the Temple. <sup>11</sup>The side rooms had doors which led to the open area around the outside of the Temple. One door faced north, and the other faced south. The open area was about nine feet wide all around.

<sup>13</sup>Then the man measured the Temple. It was one hundred seventy-five feet long. The private area, including the building and its walls, was in all one hundred seventy-five feet long. <sup>14</sup>Also the front of the Temple and the private area on its east side were one hundred seventy-five feet wide.

<sup>15</sup>The man measured the length of the building facing the private area on the west side, and it was one hundred seventy-five feet from one wall to the other.

The Holy Place, the Most Holy Place, and the outer porch <sup>16</sup>had wood panels on the walls. By the doorway, the Temple had wood panels on the walls. The wood covered all the walls from the floor up to the windows, <sup>17</sup>up to the part of the wall above the entrance.

All the walls inside the Most Holy Place and the Holy Place, and on the outside, in the porch, <sup>18</sup>had carvings of creatures with wings and palm trees. A palm tree was between each carved creature, and every creature had two faces. <sup>19</sup>One was a human face looking toward the palm tree on one side. The other was a lion's face looking toward the palm tree on the other side. They were carved all around the Temple walls.

with wings were carved. The walls of the Holy Place <sup>21</sup>had square doorposts. In front of the Most Holy Place was something that looked like <sup>22</sup>an altar of wood. It was more than five feet high and three feet wide. Its corners, base, and sides were wood. The man said to me, “This is the table that is in the presence of the Lord.” <sup>23</sup>Both the Holy Place and the Most Holy Place had double doors. <sup>24</sup>Each of the doors had two pieces that would swing open. <sup>25</sup>Carved on the doors of the Holy Place were palm trees and creatures with wings, like those carved on the walls. And there was a wood roof over the front Temple porch. <sup>26</sup>There were windows and palm trees on both side walls of the porch. The side rooms of the Temple were also covered by a roof over the stairway.

The Priests' Rooms

Then the man led me north out into the outer courtyard and to the rooms across from the private area and the building.<sup>2</sup>These rooms on the north side were one hundred seventy-five feet long and eighty-seven and one-half feet wide.<sup>3</sup>There was thirty-five feet of the inner courtyard between them and the Temple. On the other side, they faced the stone pavement of the outer courtyard. The rooms were built in three stories like steps and had balconies.<sup>4</sup>There was a path on the north side of the rooms, which was seventeen and one-half feet wide and one hundred seventy-five feet long. Doors led into the rooms from this path.<sup>5</sup>The top rooms were narrower, because the balconies took more space from them. The rooms on the first and second stories of the building were wider.<sup>6</sup>The rooms were on three stories. They did not have pillars like the pillars of the courtyards. So the top rooms were farther back than those on the first and second stories.<sup>7</sup>There was a wall outside parallel to the rooms and to the outer courtyard. It ran in front of the rooms for eighty-seven and one-half feet.<sup>8</sup>The row of rooms along the outer courtyard was eighty-seven and one-half feet long, and the rooms that faced the Temple were about one hundred seventy-five feet long.<sup>9</sup>The lower rooms had an entrance on the east side so a person could enter them from the outer courtyard,<sup>10</sup> at the start of the wall beside the courtyard.

There were rooms on the south side, which were across from the private area and the building.<sup>11</sup>These rooms had a path in front of them. They were like the rooms on the north with the same length and width and the same doors.<sup>12</sup>The doors of the south rooms were like the doors of the north rooms. There was an entrance at the open end of a path beside the wall, so a person could enter at the east end.

<sup>13</sup>The man said to me, “The north and south rooms across from the private area are holy rooms. There the priests who go near the Lord will eat the most holy offerings. There they will put the most holy offerings: the grain offerings, sin offerings, and the penalty offerings, because the place is holy.<sup>14</sup>The priests who enter the Holy Place must leave their serving clothes there before they go into the outer courtyard, because these clothes are holy. After they put on other clothes, they may go to the part of the Temple area which is for the people.”

Outside the Temple Area

<sup>15</sup>When the man finished measuring inside the Temple area, he brought me out through the east gateway. He measured the area all around.<sup>16</sup>The man measured the east side with the measuring stick; it was eight hundred seventy-five feet by the measuring stick.<sup>17</sup>He measured the north side; it was eight hundred seventy-five feet by the measuring stick.<sup>18</sup>He measured the south side; it was eight hundred seventy-five feet by the measuring stick.<sup>19</sup>He went around to the west side; it measured eight hundred seventy-five feet by the measuring stick.<sup>20</sup>So he measured the Temple area on all four sides. The Temple area had a wall all around it that was eight hundred seventy-five feet long and eight hundred seventy-five feet wide. It separated what was holy from that which was not holy.

Life Lessons

Ezekiel 43:1–48:35

Situation

God's glory had been present in Solomon's Temple (2 Chronicles 2–7), but it departed before Jerusalem fell to the Babylonians.

Observation

God requires his people to be holy (v. 12). Therefore, as believers, we should be completely devoted to him and separated from sin.

Inspiration

It is possible to establish convictions regarding a life of holiness, and even make a definite commitment to that end, yet fail to achieve the goal... . This is what we must do if we pursue holiness: We must correct, mold, and train our moral character.

Discipline toward holiness begins with the Word of God... . Discipline toward holiness begins then with the Scriptures—with a disciplined plan for regular intake of the Scriptures and a disciplined plan for applying them to our daily lives... . Every Christian who makes progress in holiness is a person who has disciplined his life so that he spends regular time in the Bible. There simply is no other way.

Satan will always battle us at this point... . A disciplined intake of the Word of God not only involves a planned time; it also involves a planned method... . But if we are to pursue holiness with discipline, we must do more than hear, read, study, or memorize Scripture. We must meditate on it... simply thinking about it and its application to life—is a practice we develop through discipline... The most important part of this process is the specific application of the Scripture to specific life Situations... You can readily see that this structured training in holiness is a lifelong process. So a necessary ingredient of discipline is perseverance... If we would succeed in our pursuit of holiness we must persevere in spite of failure.

Application

Are you completely dedicated to God? Is there an area of life you have not committed to him? What sin still stays with you? Lust, gossip, selfishness, an unrepentant or unforgiving heart? Talk to your minister about how you can overcome these sins.

Exploration

Glory of God—Exodus 15:11; 40:34–35; Deuteronomy 5:24; Psalm 8:1; Luke 2:9, 14; Hebrews 1:3; Revelation 21:23.

The Lord Among His People

Then the man led me to the outer east gateway,<sup>2</sup> and I saw the glory of the God of Israel coming from the east. It sounded like the roar of rushing water, and its brightness made the earth shine.<sup>3</sup> The vision I saw was like the vision I had seen when the Lord came to destroy the city and also like the vision I had seen by the Kebar River. I bowed facedown on the ground.<sup>4</sup> The glory of the Lord came into the Temple area through the east gateway.

<sup>5</sup>Then the Spirit picked me up and brought me into the inner courtyard. There I saw the Lord's glory filling the Temple. <sup>6</sup>As the man stood at my side, I heard someone speaking to me from inside the Temple. <sup>7</sup>The voice from the Temple said to me, "Human, this is my throne and the place where my feet rest. I will live here among the Israelites forever. The people of Israel will not make my holy name unclean again. Neither the people nor their kings will make it unclean with their sexual sins or with the dead bodies of their kings."<sup>8</sup> The kings made my name unclean by putting their doorway next to my doorway, and their doorpost next to my doorpost so only a wall separated me from them. When they did their acts that I hate, they made my holy name unclean, and so I destroyed them in my anger. <sup>9</sup>Now let them stop their sexual sins and take the dead bodies of their kings far away from me. Then I will live among them forever.

<sup>10</sup>"Human, tell the people of Israel about the Temple so they will be ashamed of their sins. Let them think about the plan of the Temple. <sup>11</sup>If they are ashamed of all they have done, let them know the design of the Temple and how it is built. Show them its exits and entrances, all its designs, and also all its rules and teachings. Write the rules as they watch so they will obey all the teachings and rules about the Temple. <sup>12</sup>This is the teaching about the Temple: All the area around the top of the mountain is most holy. This is the teaching about the Temple.

The Altar

<sup>13</sup>“These are the measurements of the altar, using the measuring stick. The altar’s gutter is twenty-one inches high and twenty-one inches wide, and its rim is about nine inches around its edge. And the altar is this tall: <sup>14</sup>From the ground up to the lower ledge, it measures three and one-half feet. It is twenty-one inches wide. It measures seven feet from the smaller ledge to the larger ledge and is twenty-one inches wide. <sup>15</sup>The place where the sacrifice is burned on the altar is seven feet high, with its four corners shaped like horns and reaching up above it. <sup>16</sup>It is square, twenty-one feet long and twenty-one feet wide. <sup>17</sup>The upper ledge is also square, twenty-four and one-half feet long and twenty-four and one-half feet wide. The rim around the altar is ten and one-half inches wide, and its gutter is twenty-one inches wide all around. Its steps are on the east side.”

<sup>18</sup>Then the man said to me, “Human, this is what the Lord God says: These are the rules for the altar. When it is built, use these rules to offer burnt offerings and to sprinkle blood on it.

<sup>19</sup>You must give a young bull as a sin offering to the priests, the Levites who are from the family of Zadok and who come near me to serve me, says the Lord God. <sup>20</sup>Take some of the bull's blood and put it on the four corners of the altar, on the four corners of the ledge, and all around the rim. This is how you will make the altar pure and ready for God's service. <sup>21</sup>Then take the bull for the sin offering and burn it in the proper place in the Temple area, outside the Temple building.

<sup>22</sup>“On the second day offer a male goat that has nothing wrong with it for a sin offering. The priests will make the altar pure and ready for God's service as they did with the young bull. <sup>23</sup>When you finish making the altar pure and ready, offer a young bull and a male sheep from the flock, which have nothing wrong with them. <sup>24</sup>You must offer them in the presence of the Lord, and the priests are to throw salt on them and offer them as a burnt offering to the Lord.

<sup>25</sup>“You must prepare a goat every day for seven days as a sin offering. Also, the priests must prepare a young bull and male sheep from the flock, which have nothing wrong with them. <sup>26</sup>For seven days the priests are to make the altar pure and ready for God's service. Then they will give the altar to God. <sup>27</sup>After these seven days, on the eighth day, the priests must offer your burnt offerings and your fellowship offerings on the altar. Then I will accept you, says the Lord God.”

The Outer East Gate

Then the man brought me back to the outer east gateway of the Temple area, but the gate was shut. <sup>2</sup>The Lord said to me, “This gate will stay shut; it will not be opened. No one may enter through it, because the Lord God of Israel has entered through it. So it must stay shut. <sup>3</sup>Only the ruler himself may sit in the gateway to eat a meal in the presence of the Lord. He must enter through the porch of the gateway and go out the same way.”

<sup>4</sup>Then the man brought me through the outer north gate to the front of the Temple. As I looked, I saw the glory of the Lord filling the Temple of the Lord, and I bowed facedown on the ground.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord said to me, “Human, pay attention. Use your eyes to see, and your ears to hear. See and hear everything I tell you about all the rules and teachings of the Temple of the Lord. Pay attention to the entrance to the Temple and to all the exits from the Temple area. <sup>6</sup>Then speak to those who refuse to obey. Say to the people of Israel, ‘This is what the Lord God says: Stop doing all your acts that I hate, Israel! <sup>7</sup>You brought foreigners into my Holy Place who were not circumcised in the flesh and had not given themselves to serving me. You dishonored my Temple when you offered me food, fat, and blood. You broke my agreement by all the things you did that I hate. <sup>8</sup>You did not take care of my holy things yourselves but put foreigners in charge of my Temple. <sup>9</sup>This is what the Lord God says: Foreigners who are not circumcised in flesh and who do not give themselves to serving me may not enter my Temple. Not even a foreigner living among the people of Israel may enter.

<sup>10</sup>“But the Levites who stopped obeying me when Israel left me and who followed their idols must be punished for their sin. <sup>11</sup>These Levites are to be servants in my Holy Place. They may guard the gates of the Temple and serve in the Temple area. They may kill the animals for the burnt offering and the sacrifices for the people. They may stand before the people to serve them. <sup>12</sup>But these Levites helped the people worship their idols and caused the people of Israel to fall, so I make this promise: They will be punished for their sin, says the Lord God. <sup>13</sup>They will not come near me to serve as priests, nor will they come near any of my holy things or the most holy offerings. But they will be made ashamed of the things they did that I hate. <sup>14</sup>I will put them in charge of taking care of the Temple area, all the work that must be done in it.

<sup>15</sup>“But the priests who are Levites and descendants of Zadok took care of my Holy Place when Israel left me, so they may come near to serve me. They may stand in my presence to offer me the fat and blood of the animals they sacrifice, says the Lord God. <sup>16</sup>They are the only ones who may enter my Holy Place. Only they may come near my table to serve me and take care of the things I gave them to do.

<sup>17</sup>“When they enter the gates of the inner courtyard, they must wear linen robes. They must not wear wool to serve at the gates of the inner courtyard or in the Temple. <sup>18</sup>They will wear linen turbans on their heads and linen underclothes. They will not wear anything that makes them perspire. <sup>19</sup>When they go out into the outer courtyard to the people, they must take off their serving clothes before they go. They must leave these clothes in the holy rooms and put on other clothes. Then they will not let their holy clothes hurt the people.

<sup>20</sup>“They must not shave their heads or let their hair grow long but must keep the hair of their heads trimmed. <sup>21</sup>None of the priests may drink wine when they enter the inner courtyard. <sup>22</sup>The priests must not marry widows or divorced women. They may marry only virgins from the people of Israel or widows of priests. <sup>23</sup>They must teach my people the difference between what is holy and what is not holy. They must help my people know what is unclean and what is clean.

<sup>24</sup>“In court they will act as judges. When they judge, they will follow my teachings. They must obey my laws and my rules at all my special feasts and keep my Sabbaths holy.

<sup>25</sup>“They must not go near a dead person, making themselves unclean. But they are allowed to make themselves unclean if the dead person is their father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or a sister who has not married. <sup>26</sup>After a priest has been made clean again, he must wait seven days. <sup>27</sup>Then he may go into the inner courtyard to serve in the Temple, but he must offer a sin offering for himself, says the Lord God.

<sup>28</sup>“These are the rules about the priests and their property: They will have me instead of property. You will not give them any land to own in Israel; I am what they will own. <sup>29</sup>They will eat the grain offerings, sin offerings, and penalty offerings. Everything Israel gives to me will be theirs. <sup>30</sup>The best fruits of all the first harvests and all the special gifts offered to me will belong to the priests. You will also give to the priests the first part of your grain that you grind and so bring a blessing on your family. <sup>31</sup>The priests must not eat any bird or animal that died a natural death or one that has been torn by wild animals.

The Land Is Divided

“When you divide the land for the Israelite tribes by throwing lots, you must give a part of the land to belong to the Lord. It will be about seven miles long and about six miles wide; all of this land will be holy. <sup>2</sup>From this land, an area eight hundred seventy-five feet square will be for the Temple. There will be an open space around the Temple that is eighty-seven and one-half feet wide. <sup>3</sup>In the holy area you will measure a part about seven miles long and three miles wide, and in it will be the Most Holy Place. <sup>4</sup>This holy part of the land will be for the priests who serve in the Temple, who come near to the Lord to serve him. It will be a place for the priests’ houses and for the Temple. <sup>5</sup>Another area about seven miles long and more than three miles wide will be for the Levites, who serve in the Temple area. It will belong to them so they will have cities in which to live.

<sup>7</sup>“The ruler will have land on both sides of the holy area and the city. On the west of the holy area, his land will reach to the Mediterranean Sea. On the east of the holy area, his land will reach to the eastern border. It will be as long as the land given to each tribe. <sup>8</sup>Only this land will be the ruler’s property in Israel. So my rulers will not be cruel to my people anymore, but they will let each tribe in the nation of Israel have its share of the land.

enough, you rulers of Israel! Stop being cruel and hurting people, and do what is right and fair. Stop forcing my people out of their homes, says the Lord God. <sup>10</sup>You must have honest scales, an honest dry measurement and an honest liquid measurement. <sup>11</sup>The dry measure and the liquid measure will be the same: The liquid measure will always be a tenth of a homer, and the ephah will always be a tenth of a homer. The measurement they follow will be the homer. <sup>12</sup>The shekel will be worth twenty gerahs, and a mina will be worth sixty shekels.

Offerings and Holy Days

<sup>13</sup>“This is the gift you should offer: a sixth of an ephah from every homer of wheat, and a sixth of an ephah from every homer of barley. <sup>14</sup>The amount of oil you are to offer is a tenth of a bath from each cor. (Ten baths make a homer and also make a cor.) <sup>15</sup>You should give one sheep from each flock of two hundred from the watering places of Israel. All these are to be offered for the grain offerings, burnt offerings, and fellowship offerings to remove sins so you will belong to God, says the Lord God. <sup>16</sup>All people in the land will give this special offering to the ruler of Israel. <sup>17</sup>It will be the ruler’s responsibility to supply the burnt offerings, grain offerings, and drink offerings. These offerings will be given at the feasts, at the New Moons, on the Sabbaths, and at all the other feasts of Israel. The ruler will supply the sin offerings, grain offerings, and fellowship offerings to pay for the sins of Israel.

<sup>18</sup>“This is what the Lord God says: On the first day of the first month take a young bull that has nothing wrong with it. Use it to make the Temple pure and ready for God’s service.

<sup>19</sup>The priest will take some of the blood from this sin offering and put it on the doorposts of the Temple, on the four corners of the ledge of the altar, and on the posts of the gate to the inner courtyard. <sup>20</sup>You will do the same thing on the seventh day of the month for anyone who has sinned by accident or without knowing it. This is how you make the Temple pure and ready for God's service.

Passover Feast Offerings

<sup>21</sup>“On the fourteenth day of the first month you will celebrate the Feast of Passover. It will be a feast of seven days when you eat bread made without yeast. <sup>22</sup>On that day the ruler must offer a bull for himself and for all the people of the land as a sin offering. <sup>23</sup>During the seven days of the feast he must offer seven bulls and seven male sheep that have nothing wrong with them. They will be burnt offerings to the Lord, which the ruler will offer every day of the seven days of the feast. He must also offer a male goat every day as a sin offering. <sup>24</sup>The ruler must give as a grain offering one-half bushel for each bull and one-half bushel for each sheep. He must give a gallon of olive oil for each half bushel.

<sup>25</sup>“Beginning on the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when you celebrate the Feast of Shelters, the ruler will supply the same things for seven days: the sin offerings, burnt offerings, grain offerings, and the olive oil.

Rules for Worship

“This is what the Lord God says: The east gate of the inner courtyard will stay shut on the six working days, but it will be opened on the Sabbath day and on the day of the New Moon.<sup>2</sup>The ruler will enter from outside through the porch of the gateway and stand by the gatepost, while the priests offer the ruler’s burnt offering and fellowship offering. The ruler will worship at the entrance of the gateway, and then he will go out. But the gate will not be shut until evening.<sup>3</sup>The people of the land will worship at the entrance of that gateway in the presence of the Lord on the Sabbaths and New Moons.<sup>4</sup>This is the burnt offering the ruler will offer to the Lord on the Sabbath day: six male lambs that have nothing wrong with them and a male sheep that has nothing wrong with it.<sup>5</sup>He must give a half-bushel grain offering with the male sheep, but he may give as much grain offering with the lambs as he pleases. He must also give a gallon of olive oil for each half bushel of grain.<sup>6</sup>On the day of the New Moon he must offer a young bull that has nothing wrong with it. He must also offer six lambs and a male sheep that have nothing wrong with them.<sup>7</sup>The ruler must give a half-bushel grain offering with the bull and one-half bushel with the male sheep. With the lambs, he may give as much grain as he pleases. But he must give a gallon of olive oil for each half bushel of grain.<sup>8</sup>When the ruler enters, he must go in through the porch of the gateway, and he must go out the same way.

<sup>9</sup>“When the people of the land come into the Lord’s presence at the special feasts, those who enter through the north gate to worship must go out through the south gate. Those who enter through the south gate must go out through the north gate. They must not return the same way they entered; everyone must go out the opposite way. <sup>10</sup>The ruler will go in with the people when they go in and go out with them when they go out.

<sup>11</sup>“At the feasts and regular times of worship one-half bushel of grain must be offered with a young bull, and one-half bushel of grain must be offered with a male sheep. But with an offering of lambs, the ruler may give as much grain as he pleases. He should give a gallon of olive oil for each half bushel of grain. <sup>12</sup>The ruler may give an offering as a special gift to the Lord; it may be a burnt offering or fellowship offering. When he gives it to the Lord, the inner east gate is to be opened for him. He must offer his burnt offering or his fellowship offering as he does on the Sabbath day. Then he will go out, and the gate will be shut after he has left.

<sup>13</sup>“Every day you will give a year-old lamb that has nothing wrong with it for a burnt offering to the Lord. Do it every morning. <sup>14</sup>Also, you must offer a grain offering with the lamb every morning. For this you will give three and one-third quarts of grain and one and one-third quarts of olive oil, to make the fine flour moist, as a grain offering to the Lord. This is a rule that must be kept from now on. <sup>15</sup>So you must always give the lamb, together with the grain offering and the olive oil, every morning as a burnt offering.

Rules for the Ruler

his land to any of his sons, that land will belong to the son and then to the son's children. It is their property passed down from their family. <sup>17</sup>But if the ruler gives a gift from his land to any of his servants, that land will belong to the servant only until the year of freedom. Then the land will go back to the ruler. Only the ruler's sons may keep a gift of land from the ruler. <sup>18</sup>The ruler must not take any of the people's land, forcing them out of their land. He must give his sons some of his own land so my people will not be scattered out of their own land.”

The Special Kitchens

<sup>19</sup>The man led me through the entrance at the side of the gateway to the priests' holy rooms that face north. There I saw a place at the west end. <sup>20</sup>The man said to me, “This is where the priests will boil the meat of the penalty offering and sin offering and bake the grain offering. Then they will not need to bring these holy offerings into the outer courtyard, because that would hurt the people.”

<sup>21</sup>Then the man brought me out into the outer courtyard and led me to its four corners. In each corner of the courtyard was a smaller courtyard. <sup>22</sup>Small courtyards were in the four corners of the courtyard. Each small courtyard was the same size, seventy feet long and fifty-two and one-half feet wide. <sup>23</sup>A stone wall was around each of the four small courtyards, and places for cooking were built in each of the stone walls. <sup>24</sup>The man said to me, “These are the kitchens where those who work in the Temple will boil the sacrifices offered by the people.”

The River from the Temple

The man led me back to the door of the Temple, and I saw water coming out from under the doorway and flowing east. (The Temple faced east.) The water flowed down from the south side wall of the Temple and then south of the altar. <sup>2</sup>The man brought me out through the outer north gate and led me around outside to the outer east gate. I found the water coming out on the south side of the gate.

<sup>3</sup>The man went toward the east with a line in his hand and measured about one-third of a mile. Then he led me through water that came up to my ankles. <sup>4</sup>The man measured about one-third of a mile again and led me through water that came up to my knees. Then he measured about one-third of a mile again and led me through water up to my waist. <sup>5</sup>The man measured about one-third of a mile again, but it was now a river that I could not cross. The water had risen too high; it was deep enough for swimming; it was a river that no one could cross. <sup>6</sup>The man asked me, “Human, do you see this?”

Then the man led me back to the bank of the river. <sup>7</sup>As I went back, I saw many trees on both sides of the river. <sup>8</sup>The man said to me, “This water will flow toward the eastern areas and go down into the Jordan Valley. When it enters the Dead Sea, it will become fresh. <sup>9</sup>Everywhere the river goes, there will be many fish. Wherever this water goes the Dead Sea will become fresh, and so where the river goes there will be many living things. <sup>10</sup>Fishermen will stand by the Dead Sea. From En Gedi all the way to En Eglaim there will be places to spread fishing nets. There will be many kinds of fish in the Dead Sea, as many as in the Mediterranean Sea.<sup>11</sup> But its swamps and marshes will not become fresh; they will be left for salt.<sup>12</sup> All kinds of fruit trees will grow on both banks of the river, and their leaves will not dry and die. The trees will have fruit every month, because the water for them comes from the Temple. The fruit from the trees will be used for food, and their leaves for medicine.”

Borders of the Land

<sup>13</sup>This is what the Lord God says: “These are the borders of the land to be divided among the twelve tribes of Israel. Joseph will have two parts of land.<sup>14</sup> You will divide the land equally. I promised to give it to your ancestors, so this land will belong to you as family property.

<sup>15</sup>“This will be the border line of the land: “On the north side it will start at the Mediterranean Sea. It will go through Hethlon, toward Lebo Hamath and on to the towns of Zedad,<sup>16</sup> Berothah, and Sibraim on the border between Damascus and Hamath. Then it will go on to the town of Hazer Hatticon on the border of the country of Hauran.<sup>17</sup> So the border line will go from the Mediterranean Sea east to the town of Hazar Enan, where the land belonging to Damascus and Hamath lies on the north side. This will be the north side of the land.

<sup>18</sup>“On the east side the border runs south from a point between Hauran and Damascus. It will go along the Jordan between Gilead and the land of Israel and will continue to the town of Tamar on the Dead Sea. This will be the east side of the land.

<sup>19</sup>“On the south side the border line will go east from Tamar all the way to the waters of Meribah Kadesh. Then it will run along the brook of Egypt to the Mediterranean Sea. This will be the south side of the land.

<sup>20</sup>“On the west side the Mediterranean Sea will be the border line up to a place across from Lebo Hamath. This will be the west side of your land.

<sup>21</sup>“You will divide this land among the tribes of Israel. <sup>22</sup>You will divide it as family property for yourselves and for the foreigners who live and have children among you. You are to treat these foreigners the same as people born in Israel; they are to share the land with the tribes of Israel. <sup>23</sup>In whatever tribe the foreigner lives, you will give him some land,” says the Lord God.

Dividing the Land

“These are the areas of the tribes named here: Dan will have one share at the northern border. It will go from the sea through Hethlon to Lebo Hamath, all the way to Hazar Enan, where Damascus lies to the north. It will stop there next to Hamath. This will be Dan’s northern border from the east side to the Mediterranean Sea on the west side.

<sup>3</sup>“South of Asher’s border, Naphtali will have one share. It will go from the east side to the west side.

<sup>5</sup>“South of Manasseh’s border, Ephraim will have one share. It will go from the east side to the west side.

<sup>7</sup>“South of Reuben’s border, Judah will have one share. It will go from the east side to the west side.

<sup>8</sup>“South of Judah’s border will be the holy area which you are to give. It will be about seven miles wide and as long and wide as one of the tribes’ shares. It will run from the east side to the west side. The Temple will be in the middle of this area.

<sup>9</sup>“The share which you will give the Lord will be about seven miles long and three miles wide. <sup>10</sup>The holy area will be divided among these people. The priests will have land about seven miles long on the north and south sides, and three miles wide on the west and east sides. The Temple of the Lord will be in the middle of it. <sup>11</sup>This land is for the priests who are given the holy duty of serving the Lord. They are the descendants of Zadok who did my work and did not leave me when Israel and the Levites left me. <sup>12</sup>They will have as their share a very holy part of the holy portion of the land. It will be next to the land of the Levites.

<sup>13</sup>Alongside the land for the priests, the Levites will have a share about seven miles long and three miles wide; its full length will be about seven miles and its full width about three miles. <sup>14</sup>The Levites are not to sell or trade any of this land. They are not to let anyone else own any of this best part of the land, because it belongs to the Lord.

City Property

<sup>15</sup>The rest of the area will be about one and one-half miles wide and seven miles long. It will not be holy but will belong to the city and be used for homes and pastures. The city will be in the middle of it. <sup>16</sup>These are the city's measurements: the north side will be about one mile, the south side about one mile, the east side about one mile, and the west side about one mile. <sup>17</sup>The city's land for pastures will be about four hundred thirty-seven feet on the north, four hundred thirty-seven feet on the south, four hundred thirty-seven feet on the east, and four hundred thirty-seven feet on the west. <sup>18</sup>Along the long side of the holy area there will be left three miles on the east and three miles on the west. It will be used to grow food for the city workers. <sup>19</sup>The city workers from all the tribes of Israel will farm this land. <sup>20</sup>This whole area will be square, seven miles by seven miles. You shall give to the Lord the holy share along with the city property.

<sup>21</sup>“Land that is left over on both sides of the holy area and city property will belong to the ruler. That land will extend east of the holy area to the eastern border and west of it to the Mediterranean Sea. Both of these areas run the length of the lands of the tribes, and they belong to the ruler. The holy area with the Holy Place of the Temple will be in the middle. <sup>22</sup>The Levites’ land and the city property will be in the middle of the lands belonging to the ruler. Those lands will be between Judah’s border and Benjamin’s border.

The Other Tribes’ Land

<sup>24</sup>“South of Benjamin’s land, Simeon will have one share. It will go from the east side to the west side.

<sup>25</sup>“South of Simeon’s land, Issachar will have one share. It will go from the east side to the west side.

<sup>26</sup>“South of Issachar’s land, Zebulun will have one share. It will go from the east side to the west side.

<sup>27</sup>“South of Zebulun’s land, Gad will have one share. It will go from the east side to the west side.

<sup>28</sup>“The southern border of Gad’s land will go east from Tamar on the Dead Sea to the waters of Meribah Kadesh. Then it will run along the brook of Egypt to the Mediterranean Sea.

<sup>29</sup>“This is the land you will divide among the tribes of Israel to be their shares,” says the Lord God.

The Gates of the City

<sup>30</sup>“These will be the outside borders of the city: The north side will measure more than one mile. <sup>31</sup>There will be three gates facing north: Reuben’s Gate, Judah’s Gate, and Levi’s Gate, named for the tribes of Israel.

<sup>32</sup>“The east side will measure more than one mile. There will be three gates facing east: Joseph’s Gate, Benjamin’s Gate, and Dan’s Gate.

<sup>33</sup>“The south side will measure more than one mile. There will be three gates facing south: Simeon’s Gate, Issachar’s Gate, and Zebulun’s Gate.

<sup>34</sup>“The west side will measure more than one mile. There will be three gates facing west: Gad’s Gate, Asher’s Gate, and Naphtali’s Gate.

<sup>35</sup>“The city will measure about six miles around. From then on the name of the city will be The Lord Is There.”

The Book of Daniel

Introduction

If you are a Jew in Babylon, you've got reason to be depressed. Jeremiah was right all along. All those times you thought he was one taco short of a platter, he was telling the truth!

Jerusalem is in ashes. The Temple is in ruins. And you and the rest of your people are in captivity.

Your captors mock you, "Sing us a song about Jerusalem!" (Psalm 137:3). But you don't sing. You hang your harps on the poplar trees and sit on the banks of the river, watching the water and your days pass by.

Who can sing songs about the Lord in a foreign country?

Daniel can.

Though he was only a teenager when taken captive, he remembers well the songs of his youth. Somewhere in his early years he came to believe that God was sovereign. Nothing happens without his permission. Nothing happens outside of his plan.

But even Daniel could not have imagined the plans God had for him. Prime minister of the court. Interpreter of dreams. Prophet. Teacher. Ruler. A lifelong voice for God among pagan people.

But though the central character of the book is Daniel, the hero is God. "There is a God in heaven ..." Daniel told the king (2:28), and it was that God in heaven who sustained Daniel and the people while in captivity.

That God, by the way, still reigns.

And anytime God's people have hung up their harps, listen carefully.

God always has a Daniel who remembers how to sing.

Life Lessons

Daniel 1:1-21

Situation

Daniel and his Israelite friends were exiled to Babylon. Servants of the king prepared them to serve in the royal court.

Observation

It is possible to be obedient to God even when surrounded by people who are disobedient to his Word.

Inspiration

Whereas Ezekiel spent his days preaching (and acting out) sermons to the Jewish exiles, Daniel was recruited for a job in the king's palace.

In fact, Daniel's life in the palace more closely resembles that of the ancient character Joseph, who also rose to a position of prominence in a foreign government. As this chapter underscores, Daniel achieved success without bending his own principles of integrity. Somehow he managed to thrive in an environment marked by ambition and intrigue, while still holding to his high-minded Jewish ideals. . . .

Taken together, the Biblical prophets offer not one, but many models of how a person can serve both God and the state. On the one extreme stand men like Amos and Elijah, who, as outsiders, railed against the evils of society. Others, such as Jeremiah and Nathan, gave occasional counsel to kings, but kept a safe distance. Isaiah and Samuel, however, became official advisors of kings. And in this book the prophet Daniel shows that a person can keep pure even while working within a tyrannical regime.

For at least sixty-six years, Daniel served pagan kings with great diligence and resourcefulness. Yet he never once compromised his faith, even when threatened with death. The Bible offers no better model of how to live among people who do not share or respect your beliefs. (From Discovering God by Philip Yancey)

Daniel Taken to Babylon

During the third year that Jehoiakim was king of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came to Jerusalem and surrounded it with his army.<sup>2</sup>The Lord allowed Nebuchadnezzar to capture Jehoiakim king of Judah. Nebuchadnezzar also took some of the things from the Temple of God, which he carried to Babylonia and put in the temple of his gods.

<sup>3</sup>Then King Nebuchadnezzar ordered Ashpenaz, his chief officer, to bring some of the Israelite men into his palace. He wanted them to be from important families, including the family of the king of Judah.<sup>4</sup>King Nebuchadnezzar wanted only young Israelite men who had nothing wrong with them. They were to be handsome and well educated, capable of learning and understanding, and able to serve in his palace. Ashpenaz was to teach them the language and writings of the Babylonians.<sup>5</sup>The king gave the young men a certain amount of food and wine every day, just like the food he ate. The young men were to be trained for three years, and then they would become servants of the king of Babylon.<sup>6</sup>Among those young men were Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah from the people of Judah.

Abednego.

<sup>8</sup>Daniel decided not to eat the king's food or drink his wine because that would make him unclean. So he asked Ashpenaz for permission not to make himself unclean in this way.

<sup>9</sup>God made Ashpenaz, the chief officer, want to be kind and merciful to Daniel, <sup>10</sup>but Ashpenaz said to Daniel, "I am afraid of my master, the king. He ordered me to give you this food and drink. If you begin to look worse than other young men your age, the king will see this. Then he will cut off my head because of you."

<sup>14</sup>So the guard agreed to test them for ten days. <sup>15</sup>After ten days they looked healthier and better fed than all the young men who ate the king's food. <sup>16</sup>So the guard took away the king's special food and wine, feeding them vegetables instead.

<sup>17</sup>God gave these four young men wisdom and the ability to learn many things that people had written and studied. Daniel could also understand visions and dreams.

<sup>18</sup>At the end of the time set for them by the king, Ashpenaz brought all the young men to King Nebuchadnezzar. <sup>19</sup>The king talked to them and found that none of the young men were as good as Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. So those four young men became the king's servants. <sup>20</sup>Every time the king asked them about something important, they showed much wisdom and understanding. They were ten times better than all the fortune-tellers and magicians in his kingdom! <sup>21</sup>So Daniel continued to be the king's servant until the first year Cyrus was king.

Situation

Because the astrologers were unable to interpret his dream, King Nebuchadnezzar ordered all of the wise men to be killed.

Observation

Even though astrologers and psychics don't have all the answers, God does.

Inspiration

It is one thing to thank God privately for a specific answer to prayer, but what would Daniel say in the presence of the king? Would he be a different man in the presence of Nebuchadnezzar than in his own room and among his friends? He had an opportunity to acquire tremendous prestige and advance his professional life. He was a man of gifts and abilities who now had the opportunity of receiving praise from the ruler of the then-known world.

Yet as he stood in the presence of the pagan king Nebuchadnezzar, Daniel's first statement was much like what he prayed alone. He kept the king waiting to hear the dream and the interpretation until he had given praise to God. "There is a God in heaven who reveals secrets," he told the king (Daniel 2:28).

Throughout the Jews' captivity in Babylon, the phrase the God of heaven apparently was the main designation used for the living God, and it contrasted Him with all other gods. He is not a god who is stuck in a temple or a god of one nation. He cannot be limited. He is the God of all the heavens, the God of the universe, the Creator.

We must remember that Daniel's using this term was an affront to Nebuchadnezzar because Daniel was saying in effect, "You have overcome Jerusalem, but the God of heaven, the God that the Jews worship, is a greater God than your god, O Nebuchadnezzar." It took great courage to make this speech.

And having so much opportunity for personal aggrandizement, Daniel discounted his own cleverness ... , "The understanding did not come because I am wise and clever, but because the God of Heaven, who is a living God, revealed it to me." One of the big dangers and temptations in Christianity today is to be infiltrated with the cult of cleverness, but Daniel carefully removed the praise from himself and placed it upon God.

We now see clearly the answer to our earlier question. Daniel's first action, not only when he was alone but also when he was in the presence of the king and the surrounding culture, was to praise God. (From The Complete Works of Francis Schaeffer by Francis Schaeffer)

Nebuchadnezzar's Dream

During Nebuchadnezzar's second year as king, he had dreams that bothered him and kept him awake at night.<sup>2</sup> So the king called for his fortune-tellers, magicians, wizards, and wise men, because he wanted them to tell him what he had dreamed. They came in and stood in front of the king.

<sup>3</sup>Then the king said to them, "I had a dream that bothers me, and I want to know what it means."

<sup>4</sup>The wise men answered the king in the Aramaic language, "O king, live forever! Please tell us, your servants, your dream. Then we will tell you what it means."

<sup>5</sup>King Nebuchadnezzar said to them, "I meant what I said. You must tell me the dream and what it means. If you don't, I will have you torn apart, and I will turn your houses into piles of stones.<sup>6</sup> But if you tell me my dream and its meaning, I will reward you with gifts and great honor. So tell me the dream and what it means."

<sup>7</sup>Again the wise men said to the king, "Tell us, your servants, the dream, and we will tell you what it means."

<sup>8</sup>King Nebuchadnezzar answered, "I know you are trying to get more time, because you know that I meant what I said.<sup>9</sup> If you don't tell me my dream, you will be punished. You have all agreed to tell me lies and wicked things, hoping things will change. Now, tell me the dream so that I will know you can tell me what it really means!"

<sup>12</sup>When the king heard their answer, he became very angry. He ordered that all the wise men of Babylon be killed. <sup>13</sup>So King Nebuchadnezzar’s order to kill the wise men was announced, and men were sent to look for Daniel and his friends to kill them.

<sup>14</sup>Arioch, the commander of the king’s guards, was going to kill the wise men of Babylon. But Daniel spoke to him with wisdom and skill, <sup>15</sup>saying, “Why did the king order such a terrible punishment?” Then Arioch explained everything to Daniel. <sup>16</sup>So Daniel went to King Nebuchadnezzar and asked for an appointment so that he could tell the king what his dream meant.

<sup>17</sup>Then Daniel went to his house and explained the whole story to his friends Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. <sup>18</sup>Daniel asked his friends to pray that the God of heaven would show them mercy and help them understand this secret so he and his friends would not be killed with the other wise men of Babylon.

<sup>19</sup>During the night God explained the secret to Daniel in a vision. Then Daniel praised the God of heaven. <sup>20</sup>Daniel said:

“Praise God forever and ever, because he has wisdom and power.

<sup>21</sup>He changes the times and seasons of the year.

He takes away the power of kings and gives their power to new kings.
He gives wisdom to those who are wise and knowledge to those who understand.

<sup>22</sup>He makes known secrets that are deep and hidden;
he knows what is hidden in darkness,
and light is all around him.

<sup>23</sup>I thank you and praise you, God of my ancestors, because you have given me wisdom and power.
You told me what we asked of you;
you told us about the king's dream."

The Meaning of the Dream

<sup>24</sup>Then Daniel went to Arioch, the man King Nebuchadnezzar had chosen to kill the wise men of Babylon. Daniel said to him, "Don't put the wise men of Babylon to death. Take me to the king, and I will tell him what his dream means."

<sup>25</sup>Very quickly Arioch took Daniel to the king and said, "I have found a man among the captives from Judah who can tell the king what his dream means."

<sup>26</sup>The king asked Daniel, who was also called Belteshazzar, "Are you able to tell me what I dreamed and what it means?"

<sup>27</sup>Daniel answered, "No wise man, magician, or fortune-teller can explain to the king the secret he has asked about. <sup>28</sup>But there is a God in heaven who explains secret things, and he has shown King Nebuchadnezzar what will happen at a later time. This is your dream, the vision you saw while lying on your bed:<sup>29</sup>O king, as you were lying there, you thought about things to come. God, who can tell people about secret things, showed you what is going to happen.<sup>30</sup>God also told this secret to me, not because I have greater wisdom than any other living person, but so that you may know what it means. In that way you will understand what went through your mind.

<sup>31</sup>“O king, in your dream you saw a huge, shiny, and frightening statue in front of you.<sup>32</sup>The head of the statue was made of pure gold. Its chest and arms were made of silver. Its stomach and the upper part of its legs were made of bronze.<sup>33</sup>The lower part of the legs were made of iron, while its feet were made partly of iron and partly of baked clay.<sup>34</sup>While you were looking at the statue, you saw a rock cut free, but no human being touched the rock. It hit the statue on its feet of iron and clay and smashed them.<sup>35</sup>Then the iron, clay, bronze, silver, and gold broke to pieces at the same time. They became like chaff on a threshing floor in the summertime; the wind blew them away, and there was nothing left. Then the rock that hit the statue became a very large mountain that filled the whole earth.

<sup>36</sup>“That was your dream. Now we will tell the king what it means.<sup>37</sup>O king, you are the greatest king. God of heaven has given you a kingdom, power, strength, and glory.<sup>38</sup>Wherever people, wild animals, and birds live, God made you ruler over them. King Nebuchadnezzar, you are the head of gold on that statue.

<sup>39</sup>“Another kingdom will come after you, but it will not be as great as yours. Next a third kingdom, the bronze part, will rule over the earth.<sup>40</sup>Then there will be a fourth kingdom, strong as iron. In the same way that iron crushes and smashes things to pieces, the fourth kingdom will smash and crush all the other kingdoms.

<sup>41</sup>“You saw that the statue’s feet and toes were partly baked clay and partly iron. That means the fourth kingdom will be a divided kingdom. It will have some of the strength of iron in it, just as you saw iron was mixed with clay. <sup>42</sup>The toes of the statue were partly iron and partly clay. So the fourth kingdom will be partly strong like iron and partly breakable like clay. <sup>43</sup>You saw the iron mixed with clay, but iron and clay do not hold together. In the same way the people of the fourth kingdom will be a mixture, but they will not be united as one people.

<sup>44</sup>“During the time of those kings, the God of heaven will set up another kingdom that will never be destroyed or given to another group of people. This kingdom will crush all the other kingdoms and bring them to an end, but it will continue forever.

<sup>45</sup>“King Nebuchadnezzar, you saw a rock cut from a mountain, but no human being touched it. The rock broke the iron, bronze, clay, silver, and gold to pieces. In this way the great God showed you what will happen. The dream is true, and you can trust this explanation.”

<sup>46</sup>Then King Nebuchadnezzar fell facedown on the ground in front of Daniel. The king honored him and commanded that an offering and incense be presented to him. <sup>47</sup>Then the king said to Daniel, “Truly I know your God is the greatest of all gods, the Lord of all the kings. He tells people about things they cannot know. I know this is true, because you were able to tell these secret things to me.”

position in his kingdom. Nebuchadnezzar made him ruler over the whole area of Babylon and put him in charge of all the wise men of Babylon.<sup>49</sup> Daniel asked the king to make Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego leaders over the area of Babylon, so the king did as Daniel asked. Daniel himself became one of the people who stayed at the royal court.

Situation

Although at one time he praised God, Nebuchadnezzar had an image of gold erected in the area of Babylon.

Observation

Pride and arrogance led Nebuchadnezzar to command all the officials to worship the image or face death. Undoubtedly it was a way for the king to promote submission to his authority.

Inspiration

Ever wonder why churches are powerful in one generation but empty the next? Perhaps the answer is found in Proverbs 15:25: “The Lord will tear down the proud person’s house.”

God hates arrogance. He hates arrogance because we haven’t done anything to be arrogant about. Do art critics give awards to the canvas? Is there a Pulitzer for ink? Can you imagine a scalpel growing smug after a successful heart transplant? Of course not. They are only tools, so they get no credit for the accomplishments.

And the message of the Twenty-third Psalm is that we have nothing to be proud about either. We have rest, salvation, blessings, and a home in heaven—and we did nothing to earn any of it. Who did? Who did the work? The answer threads through the psalm like a silk thread through pearls.

“He makes me ...”

“He leads me ...”

“He restores my soul ...”

“You are with me ...”

“Your rod and Your staff ... comfort me ...”

“You prepare a table ...”

“You anoint my head ...”

We may be the canvas, the paper, or the scalpel, but we are not the ones who deserve the applause. And just to make sure we get the point, right smack-dab in the middle of the poem, David declares who does. The shepherd leads his sheep, not for our names' sake, but “for His name's sake.”

Why does God have anything to do with us? For his name's sake. No other name on the marquee. No other name up in lights. No other name on the front page. This is all done for God's glory.

The Gold Idol and Blazing Furnace

King Nebuchadnezzar made a gold statue ninety feet high and nine feet wide and set it up on the plain of Dura in the area of Babylon.<sup>2</sup> Then he called for the leaders: the governors, assistant governors, captains of the soldiers, people who advised the king, keepers of the treasury, judges, rulers, and all other officers in his kingdom. He wanted them to come to the special service for the statue he had set up.<sup>3</sup> So they all came for the special service and stood in front of the statue that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.<sup>4</sup> Then the man who made announcements for the king said in a loud voice, “People, nations, and those of every language, this is what you are commanded to do:<sup>5</sup> When you hear the sound of the horns, flutes, lyres, zithers, harps, pipes, and all the other musical instruments, you must bow down and worship the gold statue that King Nebuchadnezzar has set up.<sup>6</sup> Anyone who doesn’t bow down and worship will immediately be thrown into a blazing furnace.”

<sup>7</sup> Now people, nations, and those who spoke every language were there. When they heard the sound of the horns, flutes, lyres, zithers, pipes, and all the other musical instruments, they bowed down and worshiped the gold statue King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

<sup>8</sup> Then some Babylonians came up to the king and began speaking against the men of Judah.<sup>9</sup> They said to King

Nebuchadnezzar, “O king, live forever! <sup>10</sup>O king, you gave a command that everyone who heard the horns, lyres, zithers, harps, pipes, and all the other musical instruments would have to bow down and worship the gold statue. <sup>11</sup>Anyone who wouldn’t do this was to be thrown into a blazing furnace. <sup>12</sup>O king, there are some men of Judah whom you made officers in the area of Babylon that did not pay attention to your order. Their names are Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. They do not serve your gods and do not worship the gold statue you have set up.”

<sup>13</sup>Nebuchadnezzar became very angry and called for Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. When they were brought to the king, <sup>14</sup>Nebuchadnezzar said, “Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, is it true that you do not serve my gods nor worship the gold statue I have set up? <sup>15</sup>In a moment you will again hear the sound of the horns, flutes, lyres, zithers, harps, pipes, and all the other musical instruments. If you bow down and worship the statue I made, that will be good. But if you do not worship it, you will immediately be thrown into the blazing furnace. What god will be able to save you from my power then?”

<sup>16</sup>Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered the king, saying, “Nebuchadnezzar, we do not need to defend ourselves to you. <sup>17</sup>If you throw us into the blazing furnace, the God we serve is able to save us from the furnace. He will save us from your power, O king. <sup>18</sup>But even if God does not save us, we want you, O king, to know this: We will not serve your gods or worship the gold statue you have set up.”

<sup>19</sup>Then Nebuchadnezzar was furious with Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and he changed his mind. He ordered the furnace to be heated seven times hotter than usual.

<sup>20</sup>Then he commanded some of the strongest soldiers in his army to tie up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego and throw them into the blazing furnace.

<sup>21</sup>So Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego were tied up and thrown into the blazing furnace while still wearing their robes, trousers, turbans, and other clothes. <sup>22</sup>The king's command was very strict, and the furnace was made so hot that the flames killed the strong soldiers who threw Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego into the furnace. <sup>23</sup>Firmly tied, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego fell into the blazing furnace.

<sup>24</sup>Then King Nebuchadnezzar was so surprised that he jumped to his feet. He asked the men who advised him, "Didn't we tie up only three men and throw them into the fire?"

They answered, "Yes, O king."

<sup>25</sup>The king said, "Look! I see four men walking around in the fire. They are not tied up, and they are not burned. The fourth man looks like a son of the gods."

<sup>26</sup>Then Nebuchadnezzar went to the opening of the blazing furnace and shouted, "Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, come out! Servants of the Most High God, come here!"

So Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came out of the fire. <sup>27</sup>When they came out, the governors, assistant governors, captains of the soldiers, and royal advisers crowded around them and saw that the fire had not harmed their bodies. Their hair was not burned, their robes were not burned, and they didn't even smell like smoke!

<sup>28</sup>Then Nebuchadnezzar said, "Praise the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. Their God has sent his angel and saved his servants from the fire! These three men trusted their God and refused to obey my command. They were willing to die rather than serve or worship any god other than their own.<sup>29</sup> So I now give this command: Anyone from any nation or language who says anything against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego will be torn apart and have his house turned into a pile of stones. No other god can save his people like this.”<sup>30</sup> Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego in the area of Babylon.

Life Lessons

Daniel 4:1-37

Situation

When King Nebuchadnezzar had a strange dream, he asked Daniel to interpret it.

Observation

God has an eternal kingdom. He brings earthly kings under his control.

Inspiration

It is quite evident that Daniel loved this reprobate. God had revealed to him the future of his friend, Nebuchadnezzar, through this tragic, terrible dream. As he wrestled with the meaning of the dream, he didn't want to tell the king what he had learned. He was undoubtedly very troubled when he said, "My lord, if only the dream applied to your enemies and its meaning to your adversaries!" (Daniel 4:19).

Daniel gives us a superb pattern of how to teach the judgment of God to people. It needs to be done with a broken heart, with a true concern, pointing out the consequences with mercy. I have a lot of friends in the ministry who can't wait to get to the passages on judgment, because they come on with great vengeance. One thing is missing—the tears.

Years ago in London there was a large gathering of notables for a concert. One of the invited guests was a famous preacher, Caesar Milan. A young lady charmed the audience that night with her singing. After the concert Milan went up to her and graciously, but very boldly, said to her, “I thought as I listened to you tonight how tremendously the cause of Christ would be benefited if your talents were dedicated to His cause. You know, young lady, you are a sinner in the sight of God, but I am glad to tell you that the blood of Jesus can cleanse you from all sin.”

The lady became so angry at the preacher that she stomped her feet and walked away. As she was leaving he said, “I mean no offense. I will pray that God’s Spirit will convict you.”

Now that’s not exactly my style of witnessing, but here’s the rest of the story. The young lady went home, but she couldn’t sleep. The face of the preacher appeared before her, and his words rang through her mind. About two o’clock in the morning she got out of bed, took a pencil and piece of paper, and with tears rolling down her face, Charlotte Elliot wrote:

Just as I am without one plea,
But that Thy blood was shed for me,
And that Thou bidst me come to Thee,
O Lamb of God, I come, I come.

That song has been sung by choirs throughout the world as an invitation to accept Jesus Christ. . . . A few words by a man who preached the judgment of God with a broken heart resulted in tens of thousands of new Christians declaring their faith. I wonder what would happen if that would be our modus operandi in the ministry today. (From The Handwriting on the Wall by David Jeremiah)

Nebuchadnezzar's Dream of a Tree

King Nebuchadnezzar sent this letter to the people, nations, and those who speak every language in all the world:

I wish you peace and great wealth!

<sup>2</sup>The Most High God has done miracles and wonderful things for me that I am happy to tell you about.

<sup>3</sup>His wonderful acts are great,

and his miracles are mighty.

His kingdom goes on forever, and his rule continues from now on.

<sup>4</sup>I, Nebuchadnezzar, was happy and successful at my palace, <sup>5</sup>but I had a dream that made me afraid. As I was lying on my bed, I saw pictures and visions in my mind that alarmed me. <sup>6</sup>So I ordered all the wise men of Babylon to come to me and tell me what my dream meant. <sup>7</sup>The fortune-tellers, magicians, and wise men came, and I told them about the dream. But they could not tell me what it meant.

<sup>8</sup>Finally, Daniel came to me. (I called him Belshazzar to honor my god, because the spirit of the holy gods is in him.) I told my dream to him. <sup>9</sup>I said, "Belshazzar, you are the most important of all the fortune-tellers. I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in you, so there is no secret that is too hard for you to understand. This was what I dreamed; tell me what it means. <sup>10</sup>These are the visions I saw while I was lying in my bed: I looked, and there in front of me was a tree standing in the middle of the earth. And it was very tall. <sup>11</sup>The tree grew large and strong. The top of the tree touched the sky and could be seen from anywhere on earth. <sup>12</sup>The leaves of the tree were beautiful. It had plenty of good fruit on it, enough food for everyone. The wild animals found shelter under the tree, and the birds lived in its branches. Every animal ate from it.

<sup>13</sup>“As I was looking at those things in the vision while lying on my bed, I saw an observer, a holy angel coming down from heaven. <sup>14</sup>He spoke very loudly and said, ‘Cut down the tree and cut off its branches. Strip off its leaves and scatter its fruit. Let the animals under the tree run away, and let the birds in its branches fly away. <sup>15</sup>But leave the stump and its roots in the ground with a band of iron and bronze around it; let it stay in the field with the grass around it.

“Let the man become wet with dew, and let him live among the animals and plants of the earth. <sup>16</sup>Let him not think like a human any longer, but let him have the mind of an animal for seven years.

<sup>17</sup>“The observers gave this command; the holy ones declared the sentence. This is so all people may know that the Most High God rules over every kingdom on earth. God gives those kingdoms to anyone he wants, and he chooses people to rule them who are not proud.’

<sup>18</sup>“That is what I, King Nebuchadnezzar, dreamed. Now Belteshazzar, tell me what the dream means. None of the wise men in my kingdom can explain it to me, but you can, because the spirit of the holy gods is in you.”

Daniel Explains the Dream

<sup>19</sup>Then Daniel, who was called Belteshazzar, was very quiet for a while, because his understanding of the dream frightened him. So the king said, “Belteshazzar, do not let the dream or its meaning make you afraid.”

Then Belteshazzar answered, “My master, I wish the dream were about your enemies, and I wish its meaning were for those who are against you! <sup>20</sup>You saw a tree in your dream that grew large and strong. Its top touched the sky, and it could be seen from all over the earth. <sup>21</sup>Its leaves were beautiful, and it had plenty of fruit for everyone to eat. It was a home for the wild animals, and its branches were nesting places for the birds. <sup>22</sup>O king, you are that tree! You have become great and powerful, like the tall tree that touched the sky. Your power reaches to the far parts of the earth.

<sup>23</sup>“O king, you saw an observer, a holy angel, coming down from heaven who said, ‘Cut down the tree and destroy it. But leave the stump and its roots in the ground with a band of iron and bronze around it; leave it in the field with the grass. Let him become wet with dew and live like a wild animal for seven years.’”

<sup>24</sup>“This is the meaning of the dream, O king. The Most High God has commanded these things to happen to my master the king: <sup>25</sup>You will be forced away from people to live among the wild animals. People will feed you grass like an ox, and dew from the sky will make you wet. Seven years will pass, and then you will learn this lesson: The Most High God is ruler over every kingdom on earth, and he gives those kingdoms to anyone he chooses.

<sup>26</sup>“Since the stump of the tree and its roots were left in the ground, your kingdom will be given back to you when you learn that one in heaven rules your kingdom. <sup>27</sup>So, O king, please accept my advice. Stop sinning and do what is right. Stop doing wicked things and be kind to the poor. Then you might continue to be successful.”

The King's Dream Comes True

<sup>28</sup>All these things happened to King Nebuchadnezzar. <sup>29</sup>Twelve months later as he was walking on the roof of his palace in Babylon, <sup>30</sup>he said, “I have built this great Babylon as my royal home. I built it by my power to show my glory and my majesty.”

<sup>31</sup>The words were still in his mouth when a voice from heaven said, “King Nebuchadnezzar, these things will happen to you: Your royal power has been taken away from you. <sup>32</sup>You will be forced away from people. You will live with the wild animals and will be fed grass like an ox. Seven years will pass before you learn this lesson: The Most High God rules over every kingdom on earth and gives those kingdoms to anyone he chooses.”

<sup>33</sup>Immediately the words came true. Nebuchadnezzar was forced to go away from people, and he began eating grass like an ox. He became wet from dew. His hair grew long like the feathers of an eagle, and his nails grew like the claws of a bird.

<sup>34</sup>At the end of that time, I, Nebuchadnezzar, looked up toward heaven, and I could think normally again! Then I gave praise to the Most High God; I gave honor and glory to him who lives forever.

God's rule is forever, and his kingdom continues for all time.

<sup>35</sup>People on earth are not truly important.
God does what he wants with the powers of heaven and the people on earth.
No one can stop his powerful hand or question what he does.

<sup>36</sup>At that time I could think normally again, and God gave back my great honor and power and returned the glory to my kingdom. The people who advised me and the royal family came to me for help again. I became king again and was even greater and more powerful than before. <sup>37</sup>Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, give praise and honor and glory to the King of heaven. Everything he does is right and fair, and he is able to make proud people humble.

At the height of his power, Belshazzar, king of Assyria, was judged by God for his corrupt and worldly lifestyle, which included desecrating the Temple goblets in a wild party. Not far from where I live are some of the most luxurious beach communities in all the world. The finest in homes, furnishings, clothing, automobiles, restaurants, artworks, yachts, and craftsmanship can be found in the Newport Beach-Balboa Island-Laguna Beach region. If you ever want to witness materialism on parade, just visit that elegant stretch of real estate.

While driving on the Balboa Peninsula to meet a man for lunch one day, I found myself momentarily behind a bright red Porsche, a beautiful little German-made sports car, meticulously cared for by the owner, who was whipping in and out of traffic. Obviously, he was familiar with the road. As I pulled up behind him to wait for a traffic light, I noticed several appointments on him and his car that revealed he was very much at home in the chic scene. As I smiled at his clever license plate, personalized, of course, I caught a glimpse of the lettered frame that bordered it—which told me volumes about the man’s lifestyle, had I had any doubt up to that point. It contained eight words: He who dies with the most toys wins! That, friends and neighbors, is “materialism to the max,” as some teenagers would say. Before we can ever expect to build a life that is meaningful and fulfilling, we must see the futility of materialism. . . .

The idea, then, is to live a pure and godly life, walking in righteousness and letting the power of the Spirit flow through us. Because God’s grace frees us from the guilt of sin, we can be plugged into His liberating power. We are free! Now that is the way to walk. And I’ll tell you, it is a marvelous way to live. Talk about having a blast!

The Writing on the Wall

King Belshazzar gave a big banquet for a thousand royal guests and drank wine with them. <sup>2</sup>As Belshazzar was drinking his wine, he gave orders to bring the gold and silver cups that his ancestor Nebuchadnezzar had taken from the Temple in Jerusalem. This was so the king, his royal guests, his wives, and his slave women could drink from those cups. <sup>3</sup>So they brought the gold cups that had been taken from the Temple of God in Jerusalem. And the king and his royal guests, his wives, and his slave women drank from them. <sup>4</sup>As they were drinking, they praised their gods, which were made from gold, silver, bronze, iron, wood, and stone.

<sup>5</sup>Suddenly the fingers of a person's hand appeared and began writing on the plaster of the wall, near the lampstand in the royal palace. The king watched the hand as it wrote.

<sup>6</sup>King Belshazzar was very frightened. His face turned white, his knees knocked together, and he could not stand up because his legs were too weak. <sup>7</sup>The king called for the magicians, wise men, and wizards of Babylon and said to them, "Anyone who can read this writing and explain it will receive purple clothes fit for a king and a gold chain around his neck. And I will make that person the third highest ruler in the kingdom."

became even more afraid, and his face became even whiter. His royal guests were confused.

<sup>10</sup>Then the king's mother, who had heard the voices of the king and his royal guests, came into the banquet room. She said, "O king, live forever! Don't be afraid or let your face be white with fear!" <sup>11</sup>There is a man in your kingdom who has the spirit of the holy gods. In the days of your father, this man showed understanding, knowledge, and wisdom like the gods. Your father, King Nebuchadnezzar, put this man in charge of all the wise men, fortune-tellers, magicians, and wizards. <sup>12</sup>The man I am talking about is named Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar. He was very smart and had knowledge and understanding. He could explain dreams and secrets and could answer very hard problems. Call for Daniel. He will tell you what the writing on the wall means."

<sup>13</sup>So they brought Daniel to the king, and the king asked, "Is your name Daniel? Are you one of the captives my father the king brought from Judah?" <sup>14</sup>I have heard that the spirit of the gods is in you, and that you are very smart and have knowledge and extraordinary understanding. <sup>15</sup>The wise men and magicians were brought to me to read this writing and to explain what it means, but they could not explain it. <sup>16</sup>I have heard that you are able to explain what things mean and can find the answers to hard problems. Read this writing on the wall and explain it to me. If you can, I will give you purple clothes fit for a king and a gold chain to wear around your neck. And you will become the third highest ruler in the kingdom."

<sup>17</sup>Then Daniel answered the king, "You may keep your gifts for yourself, or you may give those rewards to someone else.

But I will read the writing on the wall for you and will explain to you what it means.

<sup>18</sup>“O king, the Most High God made your father Nebuchadnezzar a great, important, and powerful king.

<sup>19</sup>Because God made him important, all the people, nations, and those who spoke every language were very frightened of Nebuchadnezzar. If he wanted someone to die, he killed that person. If he wanted someone to live, he let that person live. Those he wanted to promote, he promoted. Those he wanted to be less important, he made less important.

<sup>20</sup>“But Nebuchadnezzar became too proud and stubborn, so he was taken off his royal throne. His glory was taken away.

<sup>21</sup>He was forced away from people, and his mind became like the mind of an animal. He lived with the wild donkeys and was fed grass like an ox and became wet with dew. These things happened to him until he learned his lesson: The Most High God rules over every kingdom on earth, and he sets anyone he chooses over those kingdoms.

<sup>22</sup>“Belshazzar, you already knew these things, because you are a descendant of Nebuchadnezzar. Still you have not been sorry for what you have done. <sup>23</sup>Instead, you have set yourself against the Lord of heaven. You ordered the drinking cups from the Temple of the Lord to be brought to you. Then you and your royal guests, your wives, and your slave women drank wine from them. You praised the gods of silver, gold, bronze, iron, wood, and stone that are not really gods; they cannot see or hear or understand anything. You did not honor God, who has power over your life and everything you do. <sup>24</sup>So God sent the hand that wrote on the wall.

‘Mene, mene, tekel, and parsin.’

<sup>26</sup>“This is what the words mean: Mene: God has counted the days until your kingdom will end. <sup>27</sup>Tekel: You have been weighed on the scales and found not good enough. <sup>28</sup>Parsin: Your kingdom is being divided and will be given to the Medes and the Persians.”

<sup>29</sup>Then Belshazzar gave an order for Daniel to be dressed in purple clothes and to have a gold chain put around his neck. And it was announced that Daniel was the third highest ruler in the kingdom. <sup>30</sup>That very same night Belshazzar, king of the Babylonian people, was killed. <sup>31</sup>So Darius the Mede became the new king when he was sixty-two years old.

I recently read a story of a woman who for years was married to a harsh husband. Each day he would leave her a list of chores to complete before he returned at the end of the day. "Clean the yard. Stack the firewood. Wash the windows...."

If she didn't complete the tasks, she would be greeted with his explosive anger. But even if she did complete the list, he was never satisfied; he would always find inadequacies in her work.

After several years, the husband passed away. Some time later she remarried, this time to a man who lavished her with tenderness and adoration.

One day, while going through a box of old papers, the wife discovered one of her first husband's lists. And as she read the sheet, a realization caused a tear of joy to splash on the paper.

"I'm still doing all these things, and no one has to tell me. I do it because I love him."

That is the unique characteristic of the new kingdom. Its subjects don't work in order to go to heaven; they work because they are going to heaven. Arrogance and fear are replaced with gratitude and joy. (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Daniel and the Lions

Darius thought it would be a good idea to choose one hundred twenty governors who would rule his kingdom.<sup>2</sup> He chose three men as supervisors over those governors, and Daniel was one of the supervisors. The supervisors were to ensure that the governors did not try to cheat the king.<sup>3</sup> Daniel showed that he could do the work better than the other supervisors and governors, so the king planned to put Daniel in charge of the whole kingdom.<sup>4</sup> Because of this, the other supervisors and governors tried to find reasons to accuse Daniel about his work in the government. But they could not find anything wrong with him or any reason to accuse him, because he was trustworthy and not lazy or dishonest.<sup>5</sup> Finally these men said, “We will never find any reason to accuse Daniel unless it is about the law of his God.”

<sup>6</sup>So the supervisors and governors went as a group to the king and said: “King Darius, live forever!<sup>7</sup> The supervisors, assistant governors, governors, the people who advise you, and the captains of the soldiers have all agreed that you should make a new law for everyone to obey: For the next thirty days no one should pray to any god or human except to you, O king. Anyone who doesn’t obey will be thrown into the lions’ den.<sup>8</sup> Now, O king, make the law and sign your name to it so that it cannot be changed, because then it will be a law of the Medes and Persians and cannot be canceled.”<sup>9</sup> So King

Darius signed the law.

<sup>10</sup>Even though Daniel knew that the new law had been written, he went to pray in an upstairs room in his house, which had windows that opened toward Jerusalem. Three times each day Daniel would kneel down to pray and thank God, just as he always had done.

<sup>11</sup>Then those men went as a group and found Daniel praying and asking God for help. <sup>12</sup>So they went to the king and talked to him about the law he had made. They said, “Didn’t you sign a law that says no one may pray to any god or human except you, O king? Doesn’t it say that anyone who disobeys during the next thirty days will be thrown into the lions’ den?”

The king answered, “Yes, that is the law, and the laws of the Medes and Persians cannot be canceled.”

<sup>13</sup>Then they said to the king, “Daniel, one of the captives from Judah, is not paying attention to you, O king, or to the law you signed. Daniel still prays to his God three times every day.” <sup>14</sup>The king became very upset when he heard this. He wanted to save Daniel, and he worked hard until sunset trying to think of a way to save him.

<sup>15</sup>Then those men went as a group to the king. They said, “Remember, O king, the law of the Medes and Persians says that no law or command given by the king can be changed.”

<sup>16</sup>So King Darius gave the order, and Daniel was brought in and thrown into the lions’ den. The king said to Daniel, “May the God you serve all the time save you!” <sup>17</sup>A big stone was brought and placed over the opening of the lions’ den. Then the king used his signet ring and the rings of his royal officers to put special seals on the rock. This ensured that no one would move the rock and bring Daniel out. <sup>18</sup>Then King Darius went back to his palace. He did not eat that night, he did not have any entertainment brought to him, and he could not sleep.

<sup>19</sup>The next morning King Darius got up at dawn and hurried to the lions' den. <sup>20</sup>As he came near the den, he was worried. He called out to Daniel, "Daniel, servant of the living God! Has your God that you always worship been able to save you from the lions?"

<sup>21</sup>Daniel answered, "O king, live forever! <sup>22</sup>My God sent his angel to close the lions' mouths. They have not hurt me, because my God knows I am innocent. I never did anything wrong to you, O king."

<sup>23</sup>King Darius was very happy and told his servants to lift Daniel out of the lions' den. So they lifted him out and did not find any injury on him, because Daniel had trusted in his God.

<sup>24</sup>Then the king commanded that the men who had accused Daniel be brought to the lions' den. They, their wives, and their children were thrown into the den. The lions grabbed them before they hit the floor of the den and crushed their bones.

<sup>25</sup>Then King Darius wrote a letter to all people and all nations, to those who spoke every language in the world:

I wish you great peace and wealth.

<sup>26</sup>I am making a new law for people in every part of my kingdom. All of you must fear and respect the God of Daniel.

Daniel's God is the living God;
he lives forever.
His kingdom will never be destroyed,
and his rule will never end.

<sup>27</sup>God rescues and saves people and does mighty miracles
in heaven and on earth.
He is the one who saved Daniel from the power of the lions.

<sup>28</sup>So Daniel was successful during the time Darius was king and when Cyrus the Persian was king.

Through a vision, God told Daniel about the coming of the Messiah and the final judgment. Daniel didn't understand everything he saw, because some of the events would take place five hundred years later.

Observation

God always fulfills his prophecies. Christians can have confidence in him no matter how bleak the world may seem.

Inspiration

Thousands of people today are excited about Bible prophecy. The revelation of what the Bible says about events past, present, and future, has become more prominent in the themes of books, sermons, and conferences. The Second Coming of Christ is becoming a closer and closer reality for those of us who study the Bible and the world scene.

The entire plan for the future has its key in the resurrection. Unless Christ was raised from the dead, there can be no kingdom and no returning King. When the disciples stood at the place Jesus left this earth, which is called the place of ascension, they were given assurance by angels that the Christ of resurrection would be the Christ of returning glory....

The resurrection is an event which prepares us and confirms for us that future event when He will return again.

Yes, Jesus Christ is alive.

Obviously Christ's physical resurrection is an essential part of God's plan to save us. Have you given yourself to this living Christ? ...

If you trust the resurrected Christ as your Lord and Savior, He will be with you when you die, and will give you life with Him forever. Because of the resurrection, you can be "Born Again." (From How to Be Born Again by Billy Graham)

Daniel's Dream About Four Animals

In Belshazzar's first year as king of Babylon, Daniel had a dream. He saw visions as he was lying on his bed, and he wrote down what he had dreamed.

<sup>2</sup>“Daniel said: “I saw my vision at night. In the vision the wind was blowing from all four directions, which made the sea very rough. <sup>3</sup>I saw four huge animals come up from the sea, and each animal was different from the others.

<sup>4</sup>“The first animal looked like a lion, but had wings like an eagle. I watched this animal until its wings were torn off. It was lifted from the ground so that it stood up on two feet like a human, and it was given the mind of a human.

<sup>5</sup>“Then I saw a second animal before me that looked like a bear. It was raised up on one of its sides and had three ribs in its mouth between its teeth. It was told, ‘Get up and eat all the meat you want!’

<sup>6</sup>“After that, I looked, and there before me was another animal. This animal looked like a leopard with four wings on its back that looked like a bird's wings. This animal had four heads and was given power to rule.

<sup>7</sup>“After that, in my vision at night I saw in front of me a fourth animal that was cruel, terrible, and very strong. It had large iron teeth. It crushed and ate what it killed, and then it walked on whatever was left. This fourth animal was different from any animal I had seen before, and it had ten horns.

<sup>8</sup>“While I was thinking about the horns, another horn grew up among them. It was a little horn with eyes like a human’s eyes. It also had a mouth, and the mouth was bragging. The little horn pulled out three of the other horns.

<sup>9</sup>“As I looked, thrones were put in their places, and God, who has been alive forever, sat on his throne.

His clothes were white like snow,
and the hair on his head was white like wool.
His throne was made from fire, and the wheels of his throne were blazing with fire.

<sup>10</sup>A river of fire was flowing from in front of him.
Many thousands of angels were serving him,
and millions of angels stood before him.
Court was ready to begin,
and the books were opened.

<sup>11</sup>“I kept on looking because the little horn was bragging. I kept watching until finally the fourth animal was killed. Its body was destroyed, and it was thrown into the burning fire. <sup>12</sup>(The power and rule of the other animals had been taken from them, but they were permitted to live for a certain period of time.)

<sup>13</sup>“In my vision at night I saw in front of me someone who looked like a human being coming on the clouds in the sky. He came near God, who has been alive forever, and he was led to God. <sup>14</sup>He was given authority, glory, and the strength of a king. People of every tribe, nation, and language will serve him. His rule will last forever, and his kingdom will never be destroyed.

The Meaning of the Dream

<sup>15</sup>“I, Daniel, was worried. The visions that went through my mind frightened me. <sup>16</sup>I came near one of those standing there and asked what all this meant.

“So he told me and explained to me what these things meant: <sup>17</sup>“The four great animals are four kingdoms that will come from the earth. <sup>18</sup>But the holy people who belong to the Most High God will receive the power to rule and will have the power to rule forever, from now on.”

<sup>19</sup>“Then I wanted to know what the fourth animal meant, because it was different from all the others. It was very terrible and had iron teeth and bronze claws. It was the animal that crushed and ate what it killed and then walked on whatever was left. <sup>20</sup>I also wanted to know about the ten horns on its head and about the little horn that grew there. It had pulled out three of the other ten horns and looked greater than the others. It had eyes and a mouth that kept bragging. <sup>21</sup>As I watched, the little horn began making war against God’s holy people and was defeating them <sup>22</sup>until God, who has been alive forever, came. He judged in favor of the holy people who belong to the Most High God; then the time came for them to receive the power to rule.

<sup>23</sup>“And he explained this to me: ‘The fourth animal is a fourth kingdom that will come on the earth. It will be different from all the other kingdoms and will destroy people all over the world. It will walk on and crush the whole earth. <sup>24</sup>The ten horns are ten kings who will come from this fourth kingdom.

After those ten kings are gone, another king will come. He will be different from the kings who ruled before him, and he will defeat three of the other kings. <sup>25</sup>This king will speak against the Most High God, and he will hurt and kill God's holy people. He will try to change times and laws that have already been set. The holy people that belong to God will be in that king's power for three and one-half years.

<sup>26</sup>“But the court will decide what should happen. The power of the king will be taken away, and his kingdom will be completely destroyed. <sup>27</sup>Then the holy people who belong to the Most High God will have the power to rule. They will rule over all the kingdoms under heaven with power and greatness, and their power to rule will last forever. People from all the other kingdoms will respect and serve them.’

<sup>28</sup>“That was the end of the dream. I, Daniel, was very afraid. My face became white from fear, but I kept everything to myself.”

Daniel's dreams symbolized the future rise and fall of Greece. By overthrowing human power, God would triumph and establish his kingdom.

Observation

The chapters in this book have given rise to various interpretations. Some Old Testament prophecies would have their fulfillment in the near future, others in the far future. But one thing is certain: The nations and the future are under God's ultimate control.

Inspiration

Jesus has said the same to us. Just prior to his crucifixion, he told his disciples that he would be leaving them. "Where I am going you cannot follow now, but you will follow later" (John 13:36).

Such a statement was bound to stir some questions. Peter spoke for the others and asked, "Lord, why can't I follow you now?" (v. 37).

See if Jesus' reply doesn't reflect the tenderness of a parent to a child: "Don't let your hearts be troubled. Trust in God, and trust in me. There are many rooms in my Father's house; I would not tell you this if it were not true. I am going there to prepare a place for you. . . . I will come back and take you to be with me so that you may be where I am going" (John 14:1-3).

Reduce the paragraph to a sentence and it might read: “You do the trusting and I’ll do the taking.” A healthy reminder when it comes to anticipating the return of Christ. For many, the verb “trust” is not easily associated with his coming.

Our pre-K minds are ill-equipped to handle the thoughts of eternity. When it comes to a world with no boundaries of space and time, we don’t have the hooks for those hats. Consequently, our Lord takes the posture of a parent, “You do the trusting and I’ll do the taking.” This is precisely his message in these warm words of John 14. Let’s ponder them for a bit.

All of his words can be reduced to two: Trust me. “Don’t let your hearts be troubled. Trust in God, and trust in me” (v. 1).

Don’t be troubled by the return of Christ. Don’t be anxious about things you cannot comprehend. Issues like the millennium and the Antichrist are intended to challenge and stretch us, but not overwhelm and certainly not divide us. For the Christian, the return of Christ is not a riddle to be solved or a code to be broken, but rather a day to be anticipated.

Jesus wants us to trust him. He doesn’t want us to be troubled, so he reassures us with these truths. (From When Christ Comes by Max Lucado)

Application

Many people like to predict future events and the timing of them. However, even though we are given some information in the Scriptures, we aren’t expected to know all the exact dates. We are expected, though, to study the Scriptures to the best of our ability and live every day as if the Lord were coming back that day.

Daniel's Vision

During the third year of King Belshazzar's rule, I, Daniel, saw another vision, which was like the first one.<sup>2</sup>In this vision I saw myself in the capital city of Susa, in the area of Elam. I was standing by the Ulai Canal<sup>3</sup>when I looked up and saw a male sheep standing beside the canal. It had two long horns, but one horn was longer and newer than the other.<sup>4</sup>I watched the sheep charge to the west, the north, and the south. No animal could stand before him, and none could save another animal from his power. He did whatever he wanted and became very powerful.

<sup>5</sup>While I was watching this, I saw a male goat come from the west. This goat had one large horn between his eyes that was easy to see. He crossed over the whole earth so fast that his feet hardly touched the ground.

<sup>6</sup>In his anger the goat charged the sheep with the two horns that I had seen standing by the canal.<sup>7</sup>I watched the angry goat attack the sheep and break the sheep's two horns. The sheep was not strong enough to stop it. The goat knocked the sheep to the ground and then walked all over him. No one was able to save the sheep from the goat,<sup>8</sup>so the male goat became very great. But when he was strong, his big horn broke off and four horns grew in place of the one big horn. Those four horns pointed in four different directions and were easy to see.

became very big. It grew to the south, the east, and toward the beautiful land of Judah. <sup>10</sup>That little horn grew until it reached to the sky. It even threw some of the army of heaven to the ground and walked on them! <sup>11</sup>That little horn set itself up as equal to God, the Commander of heaven's armies. It stopped the daily sacrifices that were offered to him, and the Temple, the place where people worshiped him, was pulled down. <sup>12</sup>Because there was a turning away from God, the people stopped the daily sacrifices. Truth was thrown down to the ground, and the horn was successful in everything it did.

<sup>13</sup>Then I heard a holy angel speaking. Another holy angel asked the first one, "How long will the things in this vision last—the daily sacrifices, the turning away from God that brings destruction, the Temple being pulled down, and the army of heaven being walked on?"

<sup>14</sup>The angel said to me, "This will happen for twenty-three hundred evenings and mornings. Then the holy place will be repaired."

<sup>15</sup>I, Daniel, saw this vision and tried to understand what it meant. In it I saw someone who looked like a man standing near me. <sup>16</sup>And I heard a man's voice calling from the Ulai Canal: "Gabriel, explain the vision to this man."

<sup>17</sup>Gabriel came to where I was standing. When he came close to me, I was very afraid and bowed facedown on the ground. But Gabriel said to me, "Human being, understand that this vision is about the time of the end."

<sup>18</sup>While Gabriel was speaking, I fell into a deep sleep with my face on the ground. Then he touched me and lifted me to my feet. <sup>19</sup>He said, "Now, I will explain to you what will happen in the time of God's anger. Your vision was about the set time of the end.

<sup>20</sup>“You saw a male sheep with two horns, which are the kings of Media and Persia. <sup>21</sup>The male goat is the king of Greece, and the big horn between its eyes is the first king. <sup>22</sup>The four horns that grew in the place of the broken horn are four kingdoms. Those four kingdoms will come from the nation of the first king, but they will not be as strong as the first king.

<sup>23</sup>“When the end comes near for those kingdoms, a bold and cruel king who tells lies will come. This will happen when many people have turned against God. <sup>24</sup>This king will be very powerful, but his power will not come from himself. He will cause terrible destruction and will be successful in everything he does. He will destroy powerful people and even God’s holy people. <sup>25</sup>This king will succeed by using lies and force. He will think that he is very important. He will destroy many people without warning; he will try to fight even the Prince of princes! But that cruel king will be destroyed, and not by human power.

<sup>26</sup>“The vision that has been shown to you about these evenings and mornings is true. But seal up the vision, because those things won’t happen for a long time.”

<sup>27</sup>I, Daniel, became very weak and was sick for several days after that vision. Then I got up and went back to work for the king, but I was very upset about the vision. I didn’t understand what it meant.

Daniel 9:1-27

Situation

While Daniel was in exile, he read Jeremiah 25:11-12 and Jeremiah 29:10. He realized that Israel's seventy-year punishment was almost over. Daniel knew his people had been unfaithful, but he asked God to forgive them. Daniel received another vision about the end times and the fate of Israel.

Observation

God answers our prayers and reveals his plan for us when we ask for guidance.

Inspiration

How can we worship in prayer? By first reflecting upon who God is and thanking Him for the things He has revealed about Himself. To worship in prayer is to allow our spirits to feast upon what God has revealed concerning His acts in the distant and recent past, and what He has told us about Himself. Slowly, as we review these things in a spirit of thanksgiving and recognition, we can sense our spirits beginning to expand, to take in the broader reality of God's presence and being. Slowly our consciousness is able to accept the fact that the universe about us is not closed or limited, but is in fact as expansive as the Creator meant for it to be. As we enter into worship we remind ourselves of how great He is.

In the light of God's majesty, we are called to an honesty about ourselves: what we are by contrast.

This is the second aspect of prayer: confession. Spiritual discipline calls for a regular acknowledgment of our true nature and the specific acts and attitudes of the recent past that have not been pleasurable to God as He has sought our fellowship and our obedience.

“God be merciful to me a sinner” is an abbreviated version of the prayer of confession. We need the daily humbling experience of being broken before God as we face up to our imperfection, our propensity to seek evil ways.

Daniel's Prayer

These things happened during the first year Darius son of Xerxes was king over Babylon. He was a descendant of the Medes. <sup>2</sup>During Darius' first year as king, I, Daniel, was reading the Scriptures. I saw that the Lord told Jeremiah that Jerusalem would be empty ruins for seventy years.

<sup>3</sup>Then I turned to the Lord God and prayed and asked him for help. I did not eat any food. To show my sadness, I put on rough cloth and sat in ashes. <sup>4</sup>I prayed to the Lord my God and told him about all of our sins. I said, "Lord, you are a great God who causes fear and wonder. You keep your agreement of love with all who love you and obey your commands.

<sup>5</sup>"But we have sinned and done wrong. We have been wicked and turned against you, your commands, and your laws. <sup>6</sup>We did not listen to your servants, the prophets, who spoke for you to our kings, our leaders, our ancestors, and all the people of the land.

<sup>7</sup>"Lord, you are good and right, but we are full of shame today—the people of Judah and Jerusalem, all the people of Israel, those near and far whom you scattered among many nations because they were not loyal to you. <sup>8</sup>Lord, we are all ashamed. Our kings and leaders and our fathers are ashamed, because we have sinned against you.

<sup>9</sup>"But, Lord our God, you show us mercy and forgive us even though we have turned against you. <sup>10</sup>We have not obeyed the Lord our God or the teachings he gave us through his servants, the prophets. <sup>11</sup>All the people of Israel have disobeyed your teachings and have turned away, refusing to obey you. So you brought on us the curses and promises of punishment written in the Teachings of Moses, the servant of God, because we sinned against you.

<sup>12</sup>“You said these things would happen to us and our leaders, and you made them happen; you brought on us a great disaster. Nothing has ever been done on earth like what was done to Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup>All this disaster came to us just as it is written in the Teachings of Moses. But we have not pleaded with the Lord our God. We have not stopped sinning. We have not paid attention to your truth. <sup>14</sup>The Lord was ready to bring the disaster on us, and he did it because the Lord our God is right in everything he does. But we still did not obey him.

<sup>15</sup>“Lord our God, you used your power and brought us out of Egypt. Because of that, your name is known even today. But we have sinned and have done wrong. <sup>16</sup>Lord, you do what is right, but please do not be angry with Jerusalem, your city on your holy hill. Because of our sins and the evil things done by our ancestors, people all around insult and make fun of Jerusalem and your people.

<sup>17</sup>“Now, our God, hear the prayers of your servant. Listen to my prayer for help, and for your sake do good things for your holy place that is in ruins. <sup>18</sup>My God, pay attention and hear me. Open your eyes and see all the terrible things that have happened to us. See how our lives have been ruined and what has happened to the city that is called by your name. We do not ask these things because we are good; instead, we ask because of your mercy. <sup>19</sup>Lord, listen! Lord, forgive! Lord, hear us and do something! For your sake, don't wait, because your city and your people are called by your name.”

Gabriel's Explanation

<sup>20</sup>While I was saying these things in my prayer to the Lord, my God, confessing my sins and the sins of the people of Israel and praying for God's holy hill, <sup>21</sup>Gabriel came to me. (I had seen him in my last vision.) He came flying quickly to me about the time of the evening sacrifice, while I was still praying. <sup>22</sup>He taught me and said to me, “Daniel, I have come to give you wisdom and to help you understand. <sup>23</sup>When you first started praying, an answer was given, and I came to tell you, because God loves you very much. So think about the message and understand the vision.

<sup>24</sup>“God has ordered four hundred ninety years for your people and your holy city for these reasons: to stop people from turning against God; to put an end to sin; to take away evil; to bring in goodness that continues forever; to bring about the vision and prophecy; and to appoint a most holy place.

<sup>25</sup>“Learn and understand these things. A command will come to rebuild Jerusalem. The time from this command until the appointed leader comes will be forty-nine years and four hundred thirty-four years. Jerusalem will be rebuilt with streets and a trench filled with water around it, but it will be built in times of trouble. <sup>26</sup>After the four hundred thirty-four years the appointed leader will be killed; he will have nothing. The people of the leader who is to come will destroy the city and the holy place. The end of the city will come like a flood, and war will continue until the end. God has ordered that place to be completely destroyed.<sup>27</sup> That leader will make firm an agreement with many people for seven years. He will stop the offerings and sacrifices after three and one-half years. A destroyer will do terrible things until the ordered end comes to the destroyed city.”

Daniel 10:1–12:13

Situation

Daniel lived in a time of persecution, but he found comfort in knowing that God transcended the political limits and destiny of Israel.

Observation

Daniel realized that there are events that take place beyond human understanding. Daniel was comforted to know that God will not forget those who follow him.

Inspiration

In their high expectations of politics, many Christians also misjudge the source of true societal reform. In reality, it is impossible to effect genuine political reform without reforming individual, and eventually, national character.

While it has a moral responsibility to restrain evil, government can never change the hearts and minds of its citizens. Attitudes are forged by spiritual forces, not by legislation. “All history, once you strip the rind off the kernel, is really spiritual,” said historian Arnold Toynbee. Values change when spiritual movements stir the hearts of people and when fresh winds of reason stir their minds. (From Against the Night by Charles Colson)

Daniel's Vision of a Man

During Cyrus' third year as king of Persia, Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, received a vision about a great war. It was a true message that Daniel understood.

<sup>2</sup>At that time I, Daniel, had been very sad for three weeks. <sup>3</sup>I did not eat any fancy food or meat, or drink any wine, or use any perfumed oil for three weeks.

<sup>7</sup>I, Daniel, was the only person who saw the vision. The men with me did not see it, because they were so frightened that they ran away and hid. <sup>8</sup>So I was left alone, watching this great vision. I lost my strength, my face turned white like a dead person, and I was helpless. <sup>9</sup>Then I heard the man in the vision speaking. As I listened, I fell into a deep sleep with my face on the ground.

<sup>10</sup>Then a hand touched me and set me on my hands and knees. I was so afraid that I was shaking. <sup>11</sup>The man in the vision said to me, "Daniel, God loves you very much. Think carefully about the words I will speak to you, and stand up, because I have been sent to you.” When he said this, I stood up, but I was still shaking.

<sup>12</sup>Then the man said to me, “Daniel, do not be afraid. Some time ago you decided to get understanding and to humble yourself before your God. Since that time God has listened to you, and I have come because of your prayers. <sup>13</sup>But the prince of Persia has been fighting against me for twenty-one days. Then Michael, one of the most important angels, came to help me, because I had been left there with the king of Persia. <sup>14</sup>Now I have come to explain to you what will happen to your people, because the vision is about a time in the future.”

<sup>15</sup>While he was speaking to me, I bowed facedown and could not speak. <sup>16</sup>Then one who looked like a man touched my lips, so I opened my mouth and started to speak. I said to the one standing in front of me, “Master, I am upset and afraid because of what I saw in the vision. I feel helpless. <sup>17</sup>Master, how can I, your servant, talk with you? My strength is gone, and it is hard for me to breathe.”

<sup>18</sup>The one who looked like a man touched me again and gave me strength. <sup>19</sup>He said, “Daniel, don’t be afraid. God loves you very much. Peace be with you. Be strong now; be courageous.”

When he spoke to me, I became stronger and said, “Master, speak, since you have given me strength.”

<sup>20</sup>Then he said, “Daniel, do you know why I have come to you? Soon I must go back to fight against the prince of Persia. When I go, the prince of Greece will come, <sup>21</sup>but I must first tell you what is written in the Book of Truth. No one stands with me against these enemies except Michael, the angel ruling over your people.

In the first year that Darius the Mede was king, I stood up to support Michael in his fight against the prince of Persia.

Kingdoms of the South and North

<sup>2</sup>“Now then, Daniel, I tell you the truth: Three more kings will rule in Persia, and then a fourth king will come. He will be much richer than all the kings of Persia before him and will use his riches to get power. He will stir up everyone against the kingdom of Greece. <sup>3</sup>Then a mighty king will come, who will rule with great power and will do anything he wants. <sup>4</sup>After that king has come, his kingdom will be broken up and divided out toward the four parts of the world. His kingdom will not go to his descendants, and it will not have the power that he had, because his kingdom will be pulled up and given to other people.

<sup>5</sup>“The king of the South will become strong, but one of his commanders will become even stronger. He will begin to rule his own kingdom with great power. <sup>6</sup>Then after a few years, a new friendship will develop. The daughter of the king of the South will marry the king of the North in order to bring peace. But she will not keep her power, and his family will not last. She, her husband, her child, and those who brought her to that country will be killed.

<sup>7</sup>“But a person from her family will become king of the South and will attack the armies of the king of the North. He will go into that king’s strong, walled city and will fight and win. <sup>8</sup>He will take their gods, their metal idols, and their valuable things made of silver and gold back to Egypt. Then he will not bother the king of the North for a few years. <sup>9</sup>Next, the king of the North will attack the king of the South, but he will be beaten back to his own country.

<sup>10</sup>“The sons of the king of the North will prepare for war. They will get a large army together that will move through the land very quickly, like a powerful flood. Later, that army will come back and fight all the way to the strong, walled city of the king of the South. <sup>11</sup>Then the king of the South will become very angry and will march out to fight against the king of the North. The king of the North will have a large army, but he will lose the battle, <sup>12</sup>and the soldiers will be carried away. The king of the South will then be very proud and will kill thousands of soldiers from the northern army, but he will not continue to be successful. <sup>13</sup>The king of the North will gather another army, larger than the first one. After several years he will attack with a large army and many weapons.

<sup>14</sup>“In those times many people will be against the king of the South. Some of your own people who love to fight will turn against the king of the South, thinking it is time for God’s promises to come true. But they will fail. <sup>15</sup>Then the king of the North will come. He will build ramps to the tops of the city walls and will capture a strong, walled city. The southern army will not have the power to fight back; even their best soldiers will not be strong enough to stop the northern army. <sup>16</sup>So the king of the North will do whatever he wants; no one will be able to stand against him. He will gain power and control in the beautiful land of Israel and will have the power to destroy it. <sup>17</sup>The king of the North will decide to use all his power to fight against the king of the South, but he will make a peace agreement with the king of the South. The king of the North will give one of his daughters as a wife to the king of the South so that he can defeat him. But those plans will not succeed or help him. <sup>18</sup>Then the king of the North will turn his attention to cities along the coast of the Mediterranean Sea and will capture them. But a commander will put an end to the pride of the king of the North, turning his pride back on him. <sup>19</sup>After that happens the king of the North will go back to the strong, walled cities of his own country, but he will lose his power. That will be the end of him.

<sup>20</sup>“The next king of the North will send out a tax collector so he will have plenty of money. In a few years that ruler will be killed, although he will not die in anger or in a battle.

<sup>21</sup>“That ruler will be followed by a very cruel and hated man, who will not have the honor of being from a king’s family. He will attack the kingdom when the people feel safe, and he will take power by lying to the people. <sup>22</sup>He will sweep away in defeat large and powerful armies and even a prince who made an agreement. <sup>23</sup>Many nations will make agreements with that cruel and hated ruler, but he will lie to them. He will gain much power, but only a few people will support him. <sup>24</sup>The richest areas will feel safe, but that cruel and hated ruler will attack them. He will succeed where his ancestors did not. He will rob the countries he defeats and will give those things to his followers. He will plan to defeat and destroy strong cities, but he will be successful for only a short time.

<sup>25</sup>“That very cruel and hated ruler will have a large army that he will use to stir up his strength and courage. He will attack the king of the South. The king of the South will gather a large and very powerful army and prepare for war. But the people who are against him will make secret plans, and the king of the South will be defeated. <sup>26</sup>People who were supposed to be his good friends will try to destroy him. His army will be swept away in defeat; many of his soldiers will be killed in battle. <sup>27</sup>Those two kings will want to hurt each other. They will sit at the same table and lie to each other, but it will not do either one any good, because God has set a time for their end to come. <sup>28</sup>The king of the North will go back to his own country with much wealth. Then he will decide to go against the holy agreement. He will take action and then return to his own country.

<sup>29</sup>“At the right time the king of the North will attack the king of the South again, but this time he will not be successful as he was before. <sup>30</sup>Ships from the west will come and fight against the king of the North, so he will be afraid. Then he will return and show his anger against the holy agreement. He will be good to those who have stopped obeying the holy agreement.

<sup>31</sup>“The king of the North will send his army to make the Temple in Jerusalem unclean. They will stop the people from offering the daily sacrifice, and then they will set up the destroying terror. <sup>32</sup>The king of the North will tell lies and cause those who have not obeyed God to be ruined. But those who know God and obey him will be strong and fight back.

<sup>33</sup>“Those who are wise will help the others understand what is happening. But they will be killed with swords, or burned, or taken captive, or robbed of their homes and possessions. These things will continue for many days. <sup>34</sup>When the wise ones are suffering, they will get a little help, but many who join the wise ones will not help them in their time of need. <sup>35</sup>Some of the wise ones will be killed. But the hard times must come so they can be made stronger and purer and without faults until the time of the end comes. Then, at the right time, the end will come.

The King Who Praises Himself

<sup>36</sup>“The king of the North will do whatever he wants. He will brag about himself and praise himself and think he is even better than a god. He will say things against the God of gods that no one has ever heard. And he will be successful until all the bad things have happened. Then what God has planned to happen will happen. <sup>37</sup>The king of the North will not care about the gods his ancestors worshiped or the god that women worship. He won’t care about any god. Instead, he will make himself more important than any god. <sup>38</sup>The king of the North will worship power and strength, which his ancestors did not worship. He will honor the god of power with gold and silver, expensive jewels and gifts. <sup>39</sup>That king will attack strong, walled cities with the help of a foreign god. He will give much honor to the people who join him, making them rulers in charge of many other people. And he will make them pay him for the land they rule.

obey him. <sup>44</sup>But the king of the North will hear news from the east and the north that will make him afraid and angry. He will go to destroy completely many nations. <sup>45</sup>He will set up his royal tents between the sea and the beautiful mountain where the holy Temple is built. But, finally, his end will come, and no one will help him.

The Time of the End

“At that time Michael, the great prince who protects your people, will stand up. There will be a time of much trouble, the worst time since nations have been on earth, but your people will be saved. Everyone whose name is written in God’s book will be saved. <sup>2</sup>Many people who have already died will live again. Some of them will wake up to have life forever, but some will wake up to find shame and disgrace forever. <sup>3</sup>The wise people will shine like the brightness of the sky. Those who teach others to live right will shine like stars forever and ever.

<sup>5</sup>Then I, Daniel, looked, and saw two other men. One was standing on my side of the river, and the other was standing on the far side. <sup>6</sup>The man who was dressed in linen was standing over the water in the river. One of the two men spoke to him and asked, “How long will it be before these amazing things come true?”

<sup>7</sup>The man dressed in linen, who stood over the water, raised his hands toward heaven. And I heard him swear by the name of God who lives forever, “It will be for three and one-half years. The power of the holy people will finally be broken, and then all these things will come true.”

<sup>8</sup>I heard the answer, but I did not really understand, so I asked, “Master, what will happen after all these things come true?”

closed up and sealed until the time of the end. <sup>10</sup>Many people will be made clean, pure, and spotless, but the wicked will continue to be wicked. Those wicked people will not understand these things, but the wise will understand them.

<sup>11</sup>“The daily sacrifice will be stopped. Then, after 1,290 days from that time, the destroying terror will be set up. <sup>12</sup>Those who wait for the end of the 1,335 days will be happy.

<sup>13</sup>“As for you, Daniel, go your way until the end. You will get your rest, and at the end you will rise to receive your reward.”

Belteshazzar Another name for Daniel.

roof In Bible times houses were built with flat roofs. The roof was used for drying things such as flax and fruit. And it was used as an extra room, as a place for worship, and as a cool place to sleep in the summer.

Introduction

“It’s only puppy love,” adults used to say, commenting on your early love life. You wanted to shout back, “No! This is the real thing!” And it was real for you, the puppy. But soon you forgot that love and moved on to another.

A few years later in high school, you found another and were head-over-heels-in-love and going steady. You pledged devotion to each other—emotions and sexual attraction pulled you two together. And when the breakup occurred, you thought you would die ... but you didn’t. In fact, you survived to experience several other relationships, some pretty serious. Through each experience you learned a bit more about love—true love.

Today you chuckle at youthful infatuation and have to bite your tongue to avoid saying something about puppy love. Over the years, you have learned that real love—true love—is more than emotions, sex, fun, dating, and feeling good. Real love—lasting love—involves giving, serving, listening, and being there. At the foundation lies commitment: the solid decision to stick with that person through everything—no matter what.

The Book of Hosea is a love story involving a very unlikely couple: Hosea, the prophet of God, and Gomer, a prostitute. Hosea marries Gomer, even though he knows that she will be unfaithful to him. And when she is ... well, I’ll let you read for yourself.

This profound book, however, holds a deeper love story—God’s love for his people, mirrored by this very human couple. As you read, look for traces of yourself in Gomer and her actions. And watch God, through Hosea, display true love.

Life Lessons

Hosea 1:1–3:5

Situation

Hosea illustrates God's enduring desire for his people. The first three chapters, Hosea's personal life story, symbolize God's relationship with Israel.

Observation

When we turn away from God, he does not wait for us to come back to him. He pursues us and desires that we be reunited with him.

Inspiration

In his book, Sky Pilot, Ralph Conner tells of a young man who wandered from a good home in Scotland to one of the ranches in the wild west. One day, as the pilot was making his rounds and going from shack to shack, he heard someone singing Psalm 23. He made his way to the shack from whence the sound was coming, and there found the young man dying. He had been brought up in a good Christian home, but now he lay dying an early death through the sins he had committed.

The pilot spoke tenderly to the lad, and then he was asked to read a letter which had come to the boy from his mother that very day. He read it, and the letter closed something like this: "And oh! Davie laddie, if ever your heart should turn homeward, remember the door stands widely open, and there is nothing but joy that you will bring to us all."

That is the distinctive message of the parable of the prodigal son. There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner who repents. (Told by F.W. Boreham in The Prodigal. From Prodigals and Those Who Love Them by Ruth Bell Graham)

Application

Have you ever wandered from God the way Gomer did from Hosea? How did God initiate reconciliation with you? Did he convict you or use friends to encourage you? Thank God for his faithfulness to bring you back into fellowship with him.

Exploration

Endurance—Matthew 10:22; Mark 13:13; 2 Timothy 4:5–8; Hebrews 3:6; Revelation 14:12.

The Lord spoke his word to Hosea son of Beeri during the time that Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah were kings of Judah and Jeroboam son of Jehoash was king of Israel.

Hosea's Wife and Children

<sup>2</sup>When the Lord began speaking through Hosea, the Lord said to him, “Go, and marry an unfaithful woman and have unfaithful children, because the people in this country have been completely unfaithful to the Lord.” <sup>3</sup>So Hosea married Gomer daughter of Diblaim, and she became pregnant and gave birth to Hosea's son.

<sup>4</sup>The Lord said to Hosea, “Name him Jezreel, because soon I will punish the family of Jehu for the people they killed at Jezreel. In the future I will put an end to the kingdom of Israel <sup>5</sup>and break the power of Israel's army in the Valley of Jezreel.”

<sup>6</sup>Gomer became pregnant again and gave birth to a daughter. The Lord said to Hosea, “Name her Lo-Ruhamah, because I will not pity Israel anymore, nor will I forgive them. <sup>7</sup>But I will show pity to the people of Judah. I will save them, but not by using bows or swords, horses or horsemen, or weapons of war. I, the Lord their God, will save them.”

<sup>8</sup>After Gomer had stopped nursing Lo-Ruhamah, she became pregnant again and gave birth to another son. <sup>9</sup>The Lord said, “Name him Lo-Ammi, because you are not my people, and I am not your God.

God's Promise to Israel

<sup>10</sup>“But the number of the Israelites will become like the grains of sand of the sea, which no one can measure or count. They were called, ‘You are not my people,’ but later they will be called ‘children of the living God.’ <sup>11</sup>The people of Judah and Israel will join together again and will choose one leader for themselves. They will come up from the land, because the day of Jezreel will be truly great.

“You are to call your brothers, ‘my people,’ and your sisters, ‘you have been shown pity.’

God Speaks About Israel

<sup>2</sup>“Plead with your mother.

Accuse her, because she is no longer my wife, and I am no longer her husband.

Tell her to stop acting like a prostitute,
to stop behaving like an unfaithful wife.

<sup>3</sup>If she refuses, I will strip her naked and leave her bare like the day she was born.

I will make her dry like a desert,
like a land without water,
and I will kill her with thirst.

<sup>4</sup>I will not take pity on her children, because they are the children of a prostitute.

<sup>5</sup>Their mother has acted like a prostitute;
the one who became pregnant with them has acted disgracefully.

She said, ‘I will chase after my lovers, who give me my food and water,
wool and flax, wine and olive oil.’

<sup>6</sup>So I will block her road with thornbushes;
I will build a wall around her so she cannot find her way.

7... ..

'She will run after her lovers,
but she won't catch them.
She will look for them,
but she won't find them.
Then she will say, 'I will go back to my first husband, because life was better then for me than it is now.'

<sup>8</sup>But she does not know that I was the one who gave her grain, new wine, and oil.
I gave her much silver and gold,
but she used it for Baal.

<sup>9</sup>“So I will come back and take away my grain at harvest time
and my new wine when it is ready.
I will take back my wool and linen that covered her nakedness.

<sup>10</sup>So I will show her nakedness to her lovers, and no one will save her from me.

<sup>11</sup>I will put an end to all her celebrations:
her yearly festivals, her New Moon festivals, and her Sabbaths.
I will stop all of her special feasts.

<sup>12</sup>I will destroy her vines and fig trees, which she said were her pay from her lovers.
I will turn them into a forest,
and wild animals will eat them.

<sup>13</sup>I will punish her for all the times
she burned incense to the Baals.

She put on her rings and jewelry and went chasing after her lovers, but she forgot me!”
says the Lord.

<sup>14</sup>“So I am going to attract her;
I will lead her into the desert and speak tenderly to her.

<sup>15</sup>There I will give her back her vineyards, and I will make the Valley of Trouble a door of hope.
There she will respond as when she was young,
as when she came out of Egypt.”

<sup>16</sup>The Lord says, “In the future she will call me ‘my husband;’
no longer will she call me ‘my baal.’

<sup>17</sup>I will never let her say the names of Baal again; people won’t use their names anymore.

<sup>18</sup>At that time I will make an agreement for them with the wild animals, the birds, and the crawling things.

I will smash from the land
the bow and the sword and the weapons of war, so my people will live in safety.

<sup>19</sup>And I will make you my promised bride forever.
I will be good and fair;
I will show you my love and mercy.

<sup>20</sup>I will be true to you as my promised bride, and you will know the Lord.

<sup>21</sup>“At that time I will speak to you,” says the Lord.

“I will speak to the skies,
and they will give rain to the earth.

<sup>22</sup>The earth will produce grain, new wine, and oil;
much will grow because my people are called Jezreel.

<sup>23</sup>I will plant my people in the land, and I will show pity to the one I had called ‘not shown pity.’

I will say, ‘You are my people’
to those I had called ‘not my people.’
And they will say to me, ‘You are our God.’”

Hosea Buys a Wife

The Lord said to me again, “Go, show your love to a woman loved by someone else, who has been unfaithful to you. In the same way the Lord loves the people of Israel, even though they worship other gods and love to eat the raisin cakes.”

<sup>2</sup>So I bought her for six ounces of silver and ten bushels of barley. <sup>3</sup>Then I told her, “You must wait for me for many days. You must not be a prostitute, and you must not have sexual relations with any other man. I will act the same way toward you.”

<sup>4</sup>In the same way Israel will live many days without a king or leader, without sacrifices or holy stone pillars, and without the holy vest or an idol. <sup>5</sup>After this, the people of Israel will return to the Lord their God and follow him and the king from David’s family. In the last days they will turn in fear to the Lord, and he will bless them.

Life Lessons

Hosea 4:1–5:15

Situation

Israel disobeyed. The national leaders had failed to teach God's Law to the people. Many of God's chosen people sold their bodies in prostitution, which in turn led to national destruction.

Observation

People who have genuine faith and love for God will try to obey God.

Inspiration

To be a Christian is, in a sense, to be a man without a country. If you truly are obedient to Christ—if you take the Scriptures to heart and attempt to live them—you will inevitably come into conflict with the world. You belong to no one but Christ, while those in the world give themselves to people, possessions, institutions, and idols other than to Christ. To be a Christian is to stand apart and yet to remain within—to dare to be different. You look at everything through the prism of Scripture, and things look different when viewed biblically.

Success in the world means power, influence, money, prestige. But in the Christian world, it means pleasing God. This quest for obedience may lead you to do things that are wholly contrary to what the world wants and rewards...

Obedying his commandments means reading and understanding Scripture, then determining that you are going to live exactly as Scripture teaches. I don't believe anybody can do that, because it is almost impossible not to be caught up every day in the ways of the world. But you can make an effort to live biblically. That is how the process of sanctification works—learning how to obey God, how to listen for his commands in your life. It is reading the Scripture and allowing it to soak into you. It is understanding the requirements of God's commandments and then gradually, day by day, in large ways and small, allowing that understanding to control the actions of your life....

If I had to pick the one thing ... that has caused the most failure in obeying God, it would be that we figure God's time is our Bible study, our prayer time, the meeting with our prayer group, and Sunday morning church service. That's just not true. God's time is every moment of our lives. Bible study and church simply prepare us for the rest of the moments of our lives.... We don't put him on and take him off like a suit of clothes.... If we would "wear" him all day long, we would discover obedience becoming a reflex reaction. (From "The Quest for Obedience" by Charles Colson in Practical Christianity)

Application

Does obedience to God come easier—or harder—at certain times of the week? In certain places? Among certain people? In order to obey God faithfully, you may need to make changes in your heart and in your life. Make a change and declare a new start today.

Exploration

Obedience—Genesis 2:16–17; Exodus 8:25–29;
Joshua 1:6–8; 1 Samuel 15:22; Matthew 23:23–24;
Luke 17:7–10.

The Lord's Word Against Israel

People of Israel, listen to the Lord's message.
The Lord has this against you who live in the land:
“The people are not true, not loyal to God, nor do those who live in the land even know him.

<sup>2</sup>Cursing, lying, killing, stealing and adultery are everywhere.

One murder follows another.

<sup>3</sup>Because of this the land dries up, and all its people are dying.
Even the wild animals and the birds of the air and the fish of the sea are dying.

God's Case Against the Priests

<sup>4</sup>“No one should accuse or blame another person.
Don't blame the people, you priests,
when they quarrel with you.

<sup>5</sup>You will be ruined in the day, and your prophets will be ruined with you in the night.
I will also destroy your mother.

<sup>6</sup>My people will be destroyed, because they have no knowledge.
You have refused to learn,
so I will refuse to let you be priests to me.
You have forgotten the teachings of your God,
so I will forget your children.

<sup>7</sup>The more priests there are,
the more they sin against me.
I will take away their honor and give them shame.

<sup>8</sup>Since the priests live off the sin offerings of the people,
they want the people to sin more and more.

<sup>9</sup>The priests are as wrong as the people, and I will punish them both for what they have done.
I will repay them for the wrong they have done.

<sup>10</sup>“They will eat but not have enough;
they will have sexual relations with the prostitutes,
but they will not have children,
because they have left the Lord to give themselves to <sup>11</sup>prostitution, to old and new wine,
which take away their ability to understand.

God's Case Against the People

<sup>12c</sup>My people ask wooden idols for advice; they ask those sticks of wood to advise them!
Like prostitutes, they have chased after other gods and have left their own God.

<sup>13</sup>They make sacrifices on the tops of the mountains.
They burn offerings on the hills,
under oaks, poplars, and other trees,
because their shade is nice.

So your daughters become prostitutes, and your daughters-in-law are guilty of adultery.

<sup>14c</sup>But I will not punish your daughters for becoming prostitutes, nor your daughters-in-law
for their sins of adultery.

I will not punish them,
because the men have sexual relations with prostitutes and offer sacrifices with the temple prostitutes.
A foolish people will be ruined.

<sup>15c</sup>Israel, you act like a prostitute, but do not be guilty toward the Lord.

Don't go to Gilgal or go up to Beth Aven.

Don't make promises,
saying, 'As surely as the Lord lives ...'

<sup>16</sup>The people of Israel are stubborn like a stubborn young cow.
Now the Lord will feed them like lambs in the open country.

<sup>17</sup>The Israelites have chosen to worship idols

The Israelites have chosen to worship idols, so leave them alone.

<sup>18</sup>When they finish their drinking, they completely give themselves to being prostitutes;
they love these disgraceful ways.

<sup>19</sup>They will be swept away as if by a whirlwind, and their sacrifices will bring them only shame.

God's Word Against the Leaders

“Listen, you priests.
Pay attention, people of Israel.
Listen, royal family,
because you will all be judged.
You have been like a trap at Mizpah and like a net spread out at Mount Tabor.

<sup>2</sup>You have done many evil things, so I will punish you all.

<sup>3</sup>I know all about the people of Israel;
what they have done is not hidden from me.
Now that Israel acts like a prostitute,
it has made itself unclean.

<sup>4</sup>“They will not give up their deeds and return to their God.
They are determined to be unfaithful to me;
they do not know the Lord.

<sup>5</sup>Israel's pride testifies against them.
The people of Israel will stumble because of their sin,
and the people of Judah will stumble with them.

<sup>6</sup>They will come to worship the Lord, bringing their flocks and herds,
but they will not be able to find him,
because he has left them.

<sup>7</sup>They have not been true to the Lord;

they are children who do not belong to him.
So their false worship will destroy them and their land.

<sup>8c</sup>Blow the horn in Gibeah and the trumpet in Ramah.
Give the warning at Beth Aven,
and be first into battle, people of Benjamin.

<sup>9</sup>Israel will be ruined on the day of punishment.
To the tribes of Israel
I tell the truth.

<sup>10</sup>The leaders of Judah are like those who steal other people's land.
I will pour my punishment over them like a flood of water.

<sup>11</sup>Israel is crushed by the punishment, because it decided to follow idols.

<sup>12</sup>I am like a moth to Israel, like a rot to the people of Judah.

<sup>13c</sup>When Israel saw its illness and Judah saw its wounds,
Israel went to Assyria for help and sent to the great king of Assyria.
But he cannot heal you or cure your wounds.

<sup>14</sup>I will be like a lion to Israel, like a young lion to Judah.

I will attack them
and tear them to pieces.
I will drag them off,
and no one will be able to save them.

<sup>15</sup>Then I will go back to my place until they suffer for their guilt and turn back to me.
In their trouble they will look for me.”

Life Lessons

Hosea 6:1–10:15

Situation

God called Hosea to be a living parable to Israel. God loved his people despite their unfaithfulness.

Observation

God wants us to be faithful to him. It hurts him to see us wander away.

Inspiration

Don't build your house on a career. Don't build your house on a thrill. Don't build your house on a talent. Don't build your house on one solitary earthly relationship. Don't pursue things that don't last. Build your house on the only thing that can last: faith.

Do you have faith? If you have faith, then you have what it takes to tackle your problems before they tackle you. If you have that confident hope, then you will know how to handle whatever life brings you.

One thing no one can take away from you is your faith. This world can and may take everything you have. But no one can take away your faith. Grab that faith; clutch tightly that anchor of the soul.

Make your faith an independent dogged faith, firmly planted in God's sacrificed Son on the hill of Calvary. It can never be taken away from you. (From The Inspirational Bible, "Faith")

Application

Write down one Situation in which your faith is being tested. Pray about this Situation and ask God to strengthen your faith in this specific area. Thank God for how he is going to help your faith grow through this circumstance.

Exploration

Faithfulness—Psalm 31:23; Habakkuk 2:4; 1 Corinthians 16:13; Galatians 5:22; 2 Thessalonians 1:3; 2 Timothy 2:2; Revelation 2:10.

The People Are Not Faithful

“Come, let’s go back to the Lord.
He has hurt us, but he will heal us.

He has wounded us, but he will bandage our wounds.

<sup>2</sup>In two days he will put new life in us; on the third day he will raise us up so that we may live in his presence <sup>3</sup>and know him.
Let’s try to learn about the Lord;
he will come to us as surely as the dawn comes.
He will come to us like rain,
like the spring rain that waters the ground.”

<sup>4</sup>The Lord says, “Israel, what should I do with you?
Judah, what should I do with you?
Your faithfulness is like a morning mist,
like the dew that goes away early in the day.

<sup>5</sup>I have warned you by my prophets that I will kill you and destroy you.

My justice comes out like bright light.

<sup>6</sup>I want faithful love more than I want animal sacrifices.
I want people to know me more than I want burnt offerings.

<sup>7</sup>But they have broken the agreement as Adam did;
they have been unfaithful to me.

<sup>8</sup>Gilead is a city of people who do evil;
their footprints are bloody.

<sup>9</sup>The priests are like robbers waiting to attack people;
they murder people on the road to Shechem
and do wicked things.

<sup>10</sup>I have seen horrible things in Israel.
Look at Israel's prostitution;
Israel has become unclean.

<sup>11</sup>“Judah, I have set a harvest time for you when I will make the lives of my people good again.

When I heal Israel,
Israel's sin will go away,
and so will Samaria's evil.
“They cheat a lot!
Thieves break into houses,
and robbers are in the streets.

<sup>2</sup>It never enters their minds that I remember all their evil deeds.
The bad things they do are all around them;
they are right in front of me.

Israel's Evil Kings

<sup>3</sup>“They make the king happy with their wickedness; their rulers are glad with their lies.

<sup>4</sup>But all of them are traitors.
They are like an oven heated by a baker.
While he mixes the dough,
he does not need to stir up the fire.

<sup>5</sup>The kings get so drunk they get sick every day.
The rulers become crazy with wine;
they make agreements with those who do not know the true God.

<sup>6</sup>They burn like an oven;
their hearts burn inside them.
All night long their anger is low,
but when morning comes, it becomes a roaring fire.

<sup>7</sup>All these people are as hot as an oven;
they burn up their rulers.
All their kings fall,
and no one calls on me.

Israel and the Other Nations

<sup>8</sup>“Israel mixes with other nations;
he is like a pancake cooked only on one side.

<sup>9</sup>Foreign nations have eaten up his strength,
but he doesn't know it.
Israel is weak and feeble, like an old man,
but he doesn't know it.

<sup>10</sup>Israel's pride will cause their defeat;
they will not turn back to the Lord their God or look to him for help in all this.

<sup>11</sup>Israel has become like a pigeon—easy to fool and stupid.
First they call to Egypt for help.
Then they run to Assyria.

<sup>12</sup>When they go, I will catch them in a net,
I will bring them down like birds from the sky;
I will punish them countless times for their evil.

<sup>13</sup>How terrible for them because they left me!
They will be destroyed, because they turned against me.

I want to save them,
but they have spoken lies against me.

<sup>14</sup>They do not call to me from their hearts.
They just lie on their beds and cry.
They come together to ask for grain and new wine,
but they really turn away from me.

<sup>15</sup>Though I trained them and gave them strength, they have made evil plans against me.

<sup>16</sup>They did not turn to the Most High God.
They are like a loose bow that can't shoot.
Because their leaders brag about their strength, they will be killed with swords,
and the people in Egypt
will laugh at them.

Israel Has Trusted Wrong Things

“Put the trumpet to your lips and give the warning!
The enemy swoops down on the Lord’s people like an eagle.

The Israelites have broken my agreement and have turned against my teachings.

<sup>2</sup>They cry out to me,
‘Our God, we in Israel know you!’

<sup>3</sup>But Israel has rejected what is good, so the enemy will chase them.

<sup>4</sup>They chose their own kings without asking my permission.
They chose their own leaders, people I did not know.
They made their silver and gold into idols,
and for all this they will be destroyed.

<sup>5</sup>I hate the calf-shaped idol of Israel!
I am very angry with the people.
How long will they remain unclean?

<sup>6</sup>The idol is something a craftsman made;
it is not God.
Israel’s calf-shaped idol will surely be smashed to pieces.

<sup>7</sup>“Israel’s foolish plans are like planting the wind, but they will harvest a storm.

Like a stalk with no head of grain,
it produces nothing.
Even if it produced something,
other nations would eat it.

<sup>8</sup>Israel is eaten up;
the people are mixed among the other nations and have become useless to me.

<sup>9</sup>Israel is like a wild donkey all by itself.
They have run to Assyria;
They have hired other nations to protect them.

<sup>10</sup>Although Israel is mixed among the nations,
I will gather them together.
They will become weaker and weaker as they suffer under the great king of Assyria.

<sup>11</sup>“Although Israel built more altars to remove sin, they have become altars for sinning.

<sup>12</sup>I have written many teachings for them, but they think the teachings are strange and foreign.

<sup>13</sup>The Israelites offer sacrifices to me as gifts and eat the meat,
but the Lord is not pleased with them.
He remembers the evil they have done,
and he will punish them for their sins.
They will be slaves again as they were in Egypt.

<sup>14</sup>Israel has forgotten their Maker and has built palaces;

Judah has built many strong, walled cities.
But I will send fire on their cities and destroy their strong buildings.”

Israel's Punishment

Israel, do not rejoice;
don't shout for joy as the other nations do.
You have been like a prostitute against your God.
You love the pay of prostitutes on every threshing floor.

<sup>2</sup>But the threshing floor and the winepress will not feed the people,
and there won't be enough new wine.

<sup>3</sup>The people will not stay in the Lord's land.
Israel will return to being captives as they were in Egypt,
and in Assyria they will eat food that they are not allowed to eat.

<sup>4</sup>The Israelites will not give offerings of wine to the Lord;
they will not give him sacrifices.
Their sacrifices will be like food that is eaten at a funeral;
it is unclean, and everyone who eats it becomes unclean.
Their food will only satisfy their hunger;
they cannot sacrifice it in the Temple.

<sup>5</sup>What will you do then on the day of feasts and on the day of the Lord's festival?

<sup>6</sup>Even if the people are not destroyed

Even if the people are not destroyed,
Egypt will capture them;
Memphis will bury them.
Weeds will grow over their silver treasures,
and thorns will drive them out of their tents.

<sup>7</sup>The time of punishment has come,
the time to pay for sins.
Let Israel know this:
You think the prophet is a fool,
and you say the spiritual person is crazy.
You have sinned very much,
and your hatred is great.

<sup>8</sup>Is Israel a watchman?
Are God's people prophets?
Everywhere Israel goes, traps are set for him.
He is an enemy in God's house.

<sup>9</sup>The people of Israel have gone deep into sin as the people of Gibeah did.
The Lord will remember the evil things they have done, and he will punish their sins.

<sup>10c</sup>When I found Israel, it was like finding grapes in the desert.
Your ancestors were like finding the first figs on the fig tree.
But when they came to Baal Peor, they began worshipping an idol, and they became as hateful as the thing they worshipped.

“Israel’s glory will fly away like a bird;
there will be no more pregnancy, no more births, no more getting pregnant.

<sup>12</sup>But even if the Israelites bring up children,
I will take them all away.
How terrible it will be for them
when I go away from them!

<sup>13</sup>I have seen Israel, like Tyre, given a pleasant place.
But the people of Israel will soon bring out their children to be killed.”

<sup>14</sup>Lord, give them what they should have.
What will you give them?
Make their women unable to have children;
give them dried-up breasts that cannot feed their babies.

<sup>15</sup>“The Israelites were very wicked in Gilgal, so I have hated them there.
Because of the sinful things they have done,
I will force them to leave my land.
I will no longer love them;
their leaders have turned against me.

<sup>16</sup>Israel is beaten down;
its root is dying, and it has no fruit.
If they have more children,
I will kill the children they love.”

<sup>17</sup>God will reject them, because they have not obeyed him;

they will wander among the nations.

Israel Will Pay for Sin

Israel is like a large vine that produced plenty of fruit.
As the people became richer,
they built more altars for idols.
As their land became better,
they put up better stone pillars to honor gods.

<sup>2</sup>Their heart was false, and now they must pay for their guilt.
The Lord will break down their altars;
he will destroy their holy stone pillars.
<sup>3</sup>Then they will say, "We have no king, because we didn't honor the Lord.
As for the king,
he couldn't do anything for us."

<sup>4</sup>They make many false promises and agreements which they don't keep.
So people sue each other in court;
they are like poisonous weeds growing in a plowed field.

<sup>5</sup>The people from Israel are worried about the calf-shaped idol at Beth Aven.
The people will cry about it,
and the priests will cry about it.
They used to shout for joy about its glory,

<sup>6</sup>but it will be carried off to Assyria as a gift to the great king.

Israel will be disgraced,
and the people will be ashamed for not obeying.

<sup>7</sup>Israel will be destroyed; its king will be like a chip of wood floating on the water.

<sup>8</sup>The places of false worship will be destroyed, the places where Israel sins.
Thorns and weeds will grow up and cover their altars.
Then they will say to the mountains, “Cover us!”
and to the hills, “Fall on us!”

<sup>9</sup>“Israel, you have sinned since the time of Gibeah, and the people there have continued sinning.
But war will surely overwhelm them in Gibeah, because of the evil they have done there.

<sup>10</sup>When I am ready,
I will come to punish them.
Nations will come together against them,
and they will be punished for their double sins.

<sup>11</sup>Israel is like a well-trained young cow that likes to thresh grain.
I will put a yoke on her neck and make her work hard in the field.
Israel will plow,
and Judah will break up the ground.

<sup>12</sup>I said, ‘Plant goodness, harvest the fruit of loyalty,

plow the new ground of knowledge.
Look for the Lord until he comes and pours goodness on you like water.<sup>7</sup>

<sup>13</sup>But you have plowed evil and harvested trouble;
you have eaten the fruit of your lies.
Because you have trusted in your own power
and your many soldiers,

<sup>14</sup>your people will hear the noise of battle, and all your strong, walled cities will be destroyed.
It will be like the time King Shalman destroyed Beth Arbel in battle, when mothers and their children were bashed to death.

<sup>15</sup>The same will happen to you, people of Bethel, because you did so much evil.
When the sun comes up,
the king of Israel will die.

Life Lessons

Hosea 11:1–14:9

Situation

Although Israel abandoned God, God still loved the nation. Through anger and punishment, God desired to show favor to Israel.

Observation

Although at times we tend to be ungrateful, faithless, and loveless toward God, he remains devoted to us.

Inspiration

Farmers in ancient Israel used to train an inexperienced ox by yoking it to an experienced one with a wooden harness. The straps around the older animal were tightly drawn. He carried the load. But the yoke around the younger animal was loose. He walked alongside the more mature ox, but his burden was light. Read [Matthew 11:30.] In this verse Jesus is saying, “I walk alongside you. We are yoked together. But I pull the weight and carry the burden.”

I wonder, how many burdens is Jesus carrying for us that we know nothing about? We’re aware of some. He carries our sin. He carries our shame. He carries our eternal debt. But are there others? Has he lifted fears before we felt them? Has he carried our confusion so we wouldn’t have to? Those times when we have been surprised by our own sense of peace? Could it be that Jesus has lifted our anxiety onto his shoulders and placed a yoke of kindness on ours?

And how often do we thank him for his kindness? Not often enough. But does our ingratitude restrict his kindness? No. “Because he is kind even to people who are ungrateful and full of sin” (Luke 6:35).

In the original language, the word for “kindness” carries an added idea the English word does not. Chiefly it refers to an act of grace. But it also refers to a deed or person who is “useful, serviceable, adapted to its purpose.” “Kindness” was even employed to describe food that was tasty as well as healthy. Sounds odd to our ears. “Hey, honey, what a great meal. The salad is especially kind tonight.”

But the usage makes sense. Isn't kindness good and good for you? Pleasant and practical? Kindness not only says good morning, kindness makes the coffee. Again, doesn't Jesus fit this description? He not only attended the wedding, he rescued it. He not only healed the woman, he honored her. He did more than call Zacchaeus by name; he entered his house.

Hasn't he acted similarly with you? Hasn't he helped you out of a few jams? Hasn't he come into your house? And has there ever been a time when he was too busy to listen to your story? The Bible says, “Whoever is wise will observe these things, and they will understand the lovingkindness of the Lord” [Psalm 107:43, NKJV]. Hasn't God been kind—pleasantly useful—to you? And since God has been so kind to you (you know what I am about to say), can't you be kind to others?

Paul's question is for all of us: “Do you think lightly of the riches of His kindness and tolerance and patience, not knowing that the kindness of God leads you to repentance?” [Romans 2:4, NASB]. Repentance from what? Certainly from ungodliness, rebellion, and sin. But can't we equally state that God's kindness leads to repentance from unkindness? (From A Love Worth Giving by Max Lucado)

Application

Take time right now to thank God for his incredible mercy even when you are ungrateful. Prayerfully list the ways God has shown mercy and kindness to you recently. Think of at least two ways you can extend God's kindness to others.

God's Love for Israel

“When Israel was a child, I loved him, and I called my son out of Egypt.

<sup>2</sup>But when I called the people of Israel, they went away from me.
They offered sacrifices to the Baals and burned incense to the idols.

<sup>3</sup>It was I who taught Israel to walk, and I took them by the arms, but they did not understand that I had healed them.

<sup>4</sup>I led them with cords of human kindness, with ropes of love.
I lifted the yoke from their neck and bent down and fed them.

<sup>5</sup>“The Israelites will become captives again, as they were in Egypt,
and Assyria will become their king,
because they refuse to turn back to God.

<sup>6</sup>War will sweep through their cities and will destroy them and kill them because of their wicked plans.

<sup>7</sup>My people have made up their minds to turn away from me.

The prophets call them to turn to me,
but none of them honors me at all.

<sup>8</sup>“Israel, how can I give you up?
How can I give you away, Israel?
I don’t want to make you like Admah or treat you like Zeboim.
My heart beats for you,
and my love for you stirs up my pity.

<sup>9</sup>I won’t punish you in my anger, and I won’t destroy Israel again.
I am God and not a human;
I am the Holy One, and I am among you.
I will not come against you in anger.

<sup>10</sup>They will go after the Lord, and he will roar like a lion.
When he roars,
his children will hurry to him from the west.

<sup>11</sup>They will come swiftly like birds from Egypt and like doves from Assyria.
I will settle them again in their homes,”
says the Lord.

The Lord Is Against Israel

<sup>12</sup>Israel has surrounded me with lies;
the people have made evil plans.
And Judah turns against God,
the faithful Holy One.

What Israel does is as useless as chasing the wind;
he chases the east wind all day.
They tell more and more lies and do more and more violence.
They make agreements with Assyria, and they send a gift of olive oil to Egypt.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord also has some things against Judah.
He will punish Israel for what they have done;
he will give them what they deserve.

<sup>3</sup>Their ancestor Jacob held on to his brother's heel while the two of them were being born.
When he grew to be a man,
he wrestled with God.

<sup>4</sup>When Jacob wrestled with the angel and won,
he cried and asked for his blessing.
Later, God met with him at Bethel and spoke with him there.

<sup>5</sup>It was the Lord God All-Powerful;
the Lord is his great name.

<sup>6</sup>You must return to your God;
love him, do what is just,
and always trust in him as your God.

<sup>7</sup>The merchants use dishonest scales;
they like to cheat people.

<sup>8</sup>Israel said, "I am rich! I am someone with power!"
All their money will do them no good because of the sins they have done.

<sup>9</sup>“But I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt.
I will make you live in tents again as you used to do on worship days.

<sup>10</sup>I spoke to the prophets and gave them many visions;
through them, I taught my lessons to you.”

<sup>11</sup>The people of Gilead are evil, worth nothing.
Though people sacrifice bulls at Gilgal, their altars will become like piles of stone in a plowed field.

<sup>12</sup>Your ancestor Jacob fled to Northwest Mesopotamia where he worked to get a wife;
he tended sheep to pay for her.

<sup>13</sup>Later the Lord used a prophet to bring Jacob’s descendants out of Egypt;
he used a prophet
to take care of the Israelites.

<sup>14</sup>But the Israelites made the Lord angry when they killed other people, and they deserve to die for their crimes.
The Lord will make them pay for the disgraceful things they have done.

The Final Word Against Israel

People used to fear the tribe of Ephraim;
they were important people in Israel.
But they sinned by worshiping Baal,
so they must die.

<sup>2</sup>But they still keep on sinning more and more.
They make idols of their silver, idols that are cleverly made,
the work of a craftsman.
Yet the people of Israel say to each other,
“Kiss those calf idols and sacrifice to them.”

<sup>3</sup>So those people will be like the morning mist; they will disappear like the morning dew.
They will be like chaff blown from the threshing floor, like smoke going out a window.

<sup>4</sup>“I, the Lord, have been your God since you were in the land of Egypt.
You should have known no other God except me.
I am the only one who saves.

<sup>5</sup>I cared for them in the desert where it was hot and dry.

<sup>6</sup>I gave them food, and they became full and satisfied.
But then they became too proud and forgot me.

<sup>7</sup>That is why I will be like a lion to them, like a leopard waiting by the road.

<sup>8</sup>I will attack like a bear robbed of her cubs, ripping their bodies open.

I will devour them like a lion and tear them apart like a wild animal.

<sup>9</sup>“Israel, I will destroy you.
Who will be your helper then?

<sup>10</sup>What good is your king?
Can he save you in any of your towns?
What good are your leaders?
You said, ‘Give us a king and leaders.’

<sup>11</sup>So I gave you a king, but only in anger, and I took him away in my great anger.

<sup>12</sup>The sins of Israel are on record, stored away, waiting for punishment.

<sup>13</sup>The pain of birth will come for him, but he is like a foolish baby who won’t come out of its mother’s womb.

<sup>14</sup>Will I save them from the place of the dead?
Will I rescue them from death?
Where is your sickness, death?
Where is your pain, place of death?
I will show them no mercy.

<sup>15</sup>Israel is doing well among the nations, but the Lord will send a wind from the east,
coming from the desert,
that will dry up his springs and wells of water.

He will destroy from their treasure houses everything of value.

<sup>16</sup>The nation of Israel will be ruined, because it fought against God.
The people of Israel will die in war;
their children will be torn to pieces, and their pregnant women will be ripped open.”

Israel Returns to God

Israel, return to the Lord your God, because your sins have made you fall.

<sup>2</sup>Come back to the Lord and say these words to him:
“Take away all our sin and kindly receive us,
and we will keep the promises we made to you.

<sup>3</sup>Assyria cannot save us, nor will we trust in our horses.
We will not say again, ‘Our gods,’ to the things our hands have made.
You show mercy to orphans.”

<sup>4</sup>The Lord says,
“I will forgive them for leaving me and will love them freely, because I am not angry with them anymore.

<sup>5</sup>I will be like the dew to Israel, and they will blossom like a lily.
Like the cedar trees in Lebanon,
their roots will be firm.

<sup>6</sup>They will be like spreading branches, like the beautiful olive trees and the sweet-smelling cedars in Lebanon.

<sup>7</sup>The people of Israel will again live under my protection.

They will grow like the grain,
they will bloom like a vine,
and they will be as famous as the wine of Lebanon.

<sup>8</sup>Israel, have nothing to do with idols.

I, the Lord, am the one who answers your prayers and watches over you.

I am like a green pine tree;
your blessings come from me.”

<sup>9</sup>A wise person will know these things, and an understanding person will take them to heart.
The Lord’s ways are right.

Good people live by following them, but those who turn against God die because of them.

The Book of Joel

Introduction

“Hey!”

“Listen up!” “I’m talking to you!”

What gets your attention? For some, a touch on the arm. For others, a shout from the street. But some people seem oblivious to everything and everyone.

Distractions, daydreams, worries, and concerns can consume us. They make it difficult to hear or think about anything else. Sometimes we need a wake-up call, something to grab our attention and put us on the right track.

The people of Judah needed such a call.

They were coasting.

Prosperous and complacent, they had become self-centered. Taking God for granted, they had turned to idols. So, through Joel, God sends a wake-up call, a divine attention-getter, to shake them out of their lethargy and sin. Joel predicts a devastating plague of locusts that will destroy the land unless the people repent and turn back to God.

God does what it takes to get our attention. Does he have yours?

Life Lessons

Joel 1:1–3:21

Situation

The prophet Joel cautioned Israel about God's impending judgment for its spiritual complacency and religious neglect. When the people prospered, they abandoned God or minimized the importance of him in their life.

Observation

God always gives us a chance to repent before he inflicts discipline. Like a loving parent, God's purpose is not to punish but to correct and nurture.

Inspiration

I'd seen that silly light burning on the car panel for days. And for days I'd ignored it. Too busy. "I'll take the car to the mechanic tomorrow." But tomorrow never became today. The light continued to burn, vainly waving red flags before my blind eyes. Something was wrong, but I had too many things to do.

"Next time I'll pay attention," I mumbled to myself. The flashlight I was waving must have looked like a dancing firefly to the oncoming traffic. The Situation was not pretty: a cold winter night, stranded on a lonely highway in rural Brazil with my daughter and pregnant wife.

My breath became smoke as I stood on the shoulder flagging cars. I promised myself I would never ignore a warning again.

Warnings. Red lights in life that signal us of impending danger. They exist in all parts of life. Sirens scream as a marriage starts to sour; alarms blare when a faith weakens; flares go up to alert us of morals being compromised.

They manifest themselves in a variety of ways: guilt, depression, rationalizations. A friend might confront. A Scripture might sting. A burden might prove too heavy. Regardless of how they may arrive, warnings come with the same purpose: To alert. To wake up.

Unfortunately, they are not always heeded. All of us have learned to cover our ears and shield our eyes at the right moment. It's amazing how adept we can be at keeping them out. Warnings can be as blunt as a sledgehammer and we still turn our heads and whistle them away. We have just enough of the rascal in us to believe we are the proverbial exception to the rule.

Are you close to the falls? Are your senses numb? Are your eyes trained to turn and roll when they should pause and observe?

Then maybe you need to repair your warning detector.

Divine warnings. All inspired by God and tested by time. They're yours to do with as you wish. They are red lights on your dashboard. Heed them and safety is yours to enjoy. Ignore them and I'll be looking for you on the side of the road.

(From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

Application

What warning signs should alert you to trouble?
What attitude or action have you failed to confront?
Is it hard to persevere? Yes! But it is so important.

Locusts Destroy the Crops

The Lord spoke his word to Joel son of Pethuel:

<sup>2</sup>Older leaders, listen to this message.
Listen to me, all you who live in the land.
Nothing like this has ever happened during your lifetime or during your ancestors' lifetimes.

<sup>3</sup>Tell your children about these things, let your children tell their children, and let your grandchildren tell their children.

<sup>4</sup>What the cutting locusts have left,
the swarming locusts have eaten;
what the swarming locusts have left,
the hopping locusts have eaten,
and what the hopping locusts have left,
the destroying locusts have eaten.

<sup>5</sup>Drunks, wake up and cry!
All you people who drink wine, cry!
Cry because your wine
has been taken away from your mouths.

<sup>6</sup>A powerful nation has come into my land with too many soldiers to count.

It has teeth like a lion,
jaws like a female lion.

<sup>7</sup>It has made my grapevine a waste and made my fig tree a stump.
It has stripped all the bark off my trees and left the branches white.

<sup>8</sup>Cry as a young woman cries when the man she was going to marry has died.

<sup>9</sup>There will be no more grain or drink offerings to offer in the Temple of the Lord.
Because of this, the priests,
the servants of the Lord, are sad.

<sup>10</sup>The fields are ruined;
the ground is dried up.
The grain is destroyed,
the new wine is dried up,
and the olive oil runs out.

<sup>11</sup>Be sad, farmers.
Cry loudly, you who grow grapes.
Cry for the wheat and the barley.
Cry because the harvest of the field is lost.

<sup>12</sup>The vines have become dry, and the fig trees are dried up.
The pomegranate trees, the date palm trees, the apple trees—
all the trees in the field have died.

And the happiness of the people has died, too.

<sup>13</sup>Priests, put on your rough cloth and cry to show your sadness.

Servants of the altar, cry out loud.

Servants of my God,
keep your rough cloth on all night to show your sadness.

Cry because there will be no more grain or drink offerings to offer in the Temple of your God.

<sup>14</sup>Call for a day when no one eats food!

Tell everyone to stop work!

Bring the older leaders and everyone who lives in the land to the Temple of the Lord your God, and cry out to the Lord.

<sup>15</sup>What a terrible day it will be!

The Lord's day of judging is near,

when punishment will come like a destroying attack from the Almighty.

<sup>16</sup>Our food is taken away while we watch.

Joy and happiness are gone from the Temple of our God.

<sup>17</sup>Though we planted fig seeds, they lie dry and dead in the dirt.

The barns are empty and falling down.

The storerooms for grain have been broken down, because the grain has dried up.

<sup>18</sup>The animals are groaning!
The herds of cattle wander around confused, because they have no grass to eat;
even the flocks of sheep suffer.

<sup>19</sup>Lord, I am calling to you for help, because fire has burned up the open pastures,
and flames have burned all the trees in the field.

<sup>20</sup>Wild animals also need your help.
The streams of water have dried up,
and fire has burned up the open pastures.

The Coming Day of Judgment

Blow the trumpet in Jerusalem;
shout a warning on my holy mountain.
Let all the people who live in the land shake with fear, because the Lord's day of judging is coming;
it is near.

<sup>2</sup>It will be a dark, gloomy day, cloudy and black.
Like the light at sunrise, a great and powerful army will spread over the mountains.

There has never been anything like it before,
and there will never be anything like it again.
<sup>3</sup>In front of them a fire destroys;
in back of them a flame burns.
The land in front of them is like the garden of Eden;
the land behind them is like an empty desert.
Nothing will escape from them.

<sup>4</sup>They look like horses, and they run like war horses.

<sup>5</sup>It is like the noise of chariots rumbling over the tops of the mountains, like the noise of a roaring fire burning dry stalks.
They are like a powerful army lined up for battle.

<sup>6</sup>When they see them, nations shake with fear, and everyone's face becomes pale.

<sup>7</sup>They charge like soldiers;
they climb over the wall like warriors.
They all march straight ahead and do not move off their path.

<sup>8</sup>They do not run into each other, because each walks in line.
They break through all efforts to stop them and keep coming.

<sup>9</sup>They run into the city.
They run at the wall and climb into the houses, entering through windows like thieves.
<sup>10</sup>Before them, earth and sky shake.
The sun and the moon become dark,
and the stars stop shining.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord shouts out orders to his army.
His army is very large!
Those who obey him are very strong!
The Lord's day of judging is an overwhelming and terrible day.

No one can stand up against it!

Change Your Hearts

<sup>12</sup>The Lord says, "Even now, come back to me with all your heart.

Go without food, and cry and be sad.”

<sup>13</sup>Tearing your clothes is not enough to show you are sad;

let your heart be broken.

Come back to the Lord your God, because he is kind and shows mercy.

He doesn't become angry quickly,
and he has great love.

He can change his mind about doing harm.

<sup>14</sup>Who knows? Maybe he will turn back to you and leave behind a blessing for you.

Grain and drink offerings belong to the Lord your God.

<sup>15</sup>Blow the trumpet in Jerusalem;
call for a day when no one eats food.

Tell everyone to stop work.

<sup>16</sup>Bring the people together and make the meeting holy for the Lord.

Bring together the older leaders,
as well as the children,

and even babies that still feed at their mothers' breasts.

The bridegroom should come from his room,
the bride from her bedroom.

<sup>17</sup>The priests, the Lord's servants, should cry between the altar and the entrance to the Temple.
They should say, "Lord, have mercy on your people.
Don't let them be put to shame;

don't let other nations make fun of them.
Don't let people in other nations ask,
'Where is their God?'"

The Lord Restores the Land

<sup>18</sup>Then the Lord became concerned about his land and felt sorry for his people.

<sup>19</sup>He said to them:
"I will send you grain, new wine, and olive oil,
so that you will have plenty.
No more will I shame you
among the nations.

<sup>20</sup>I will force the army from the north to leave your land and go into a dry, empty land.
Their soldiers in front will be forced into the Dead Sea,
and those in the rear into the Mediterranean Sea.
Their bodies will rot and stink.
The Lord has surely done a wonderful thing!"

<sup>21</sup>Land, don't be afraid;
be happy and full of joy,
because the Lord has done a wonderful thing.

<sup>22</sup>Wild animals, don't be afraid, because the open pastures have grown grass.
The trees have given fruit;
the fig trees and the grapevines have grown much fruit.

<sup>23</sup>So be happy, people of Jerusalem; be joyful in the Lord your God.
Because he does what is right,
he has brought you rain;
he has sent the fall rain
and the spring rain for you, as before.

<sup>24</sup>And the threshing floors will be full of grain;
the barrels will overflow with new wine and olive oil.

The Lord Speaks

<sup>25</sup>“Though I sent my great army against you—those swarming locusts and hopping locusts, the destroying locusts and the cutting locusts that ate your crops—

I will pay you back
for those years of trouble.

<sup>26</sup>Then you will have plenty to eat and be full.
You will praise the name of the Lord your God,
who has done miracles for you.
My people will never again be shamed.

<sup>27</sup>Then you will know that I am among the people of Israel,
that I am the Lord your God,
and there is no other God.
My people will never be shamed again.

<sup>28cc</sup>After this,
I will pour out my Spirit on all kinds of people.
Your sons and daughters will prophesy,
your old men will dream dreams,
and your young men will see visions.

<sup>29</sup>At that time I will pour out my Spirit also on male slaves and female slaves.

<sup>30</sup>I will show miracles
in the sky and on the earth:
blood, fire, and thick smoke.

<sup>31</sup>The sun will become dark,
the moon red as blood,
before the overwhelming and terrible day of the Lord comes.

<sup>32</sup>Then anyone who calls on the Lord will be saved,
because on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem
there will be people who will be saved,
just as the Lord has said.
Those left alive after the day of punishment are the people whom the Lord called.

Punishment for Judah's Enemies

“In those days and at that time, when I will make things better for Judah and Jerusalem,

<sup>2</sup>I will gather all the nations together and bring them down into the Valley Where the Lord Judges.

There I will judge them,
because those nations scattered my own people Israel and forced them to live in other nations.

They divided up my land

<sup>3</sup>and threw lots for my people.
They traded boys for prostitutes, and they sold girls to buy wine to drink.

<sup>4</sup>“Tyre and Sidon and all of you regions of Philistia! What did you have against me? Were you punishing me for something I did, or were you doing something to hurt me? I will very quickly do to you what you have done to me. <sup>5</sup>You took my silver and gold, and you put my precious treasures in your temples. <sup>6</sup>You sold the people of Judah and Jerusalem to the Greeks so that you could send them far from their land.

<sup>7</sup>“You sent my people to that faraway place, but I will get them and bring them back, and I will do to you what you have done to them. <sup>8</sup>I will sell your sons and daughters to the people of Judah, and they will sell them to the Sabean people far away.” The Lord said this.

God Judges the Nations

<sup>9</sup>Announce this among the nations:
Prepare for war!
Wake up the soldiers!
Let all the men of war come near and attack.

<sup>10</sup>Make swords from your plows, and make spears from your hooks for trimming trees.
Let even the weak person say,
“I am a soldier.”

<sup>11</sup>All of you nations, hurry, and come together in that place.
Lord, send your soldiers to gather the nations.

<sup>12</sup>“Wake up, nations, and come to attack in the Valley Where the Lord Judges.

There I will sit to judge
all the nations on every side.

<sup>13</sup>Swing the cutting tool, because the harvest is ripe.
Come, walk on them as you would walk on grapes to get their juice,
because the winepress is full and the barrels are spilling over, because these people are so evil!”

<sup>14</sup>There are huge numbers of people in the Valley of Decision, because the Lord's day of judging is near

in the Valley of Decision.

<sup>15</sup>The sun and the moon will become dark, and the stars will stop shining.

<sup>16</sup>The Lord will roar like a lion from Jerusalem;
his loud voice will thunder from that city,
and the sky and the earth will shake.

But the Lord will be a safe place for his people,
a strong place of safety for the people of Israel.

<sup>17</sup>“Then you will know that I, the Lord your God, live on my holy Mount Zion.
Jerusalem will be a holy place,
and strangers will never even go through it again.

A New Life Promised for Judah

<sup>18</sup>“On that day wine will drip from the mountains, milk will flow from the hills,
and water will run through all the ravines of Judah.
A fountain will flow from the Temple of the Lord and give water to the valley of acacia trees.

<sup>19</sup>But Egypt will become empty, and Edom an empty desert,
because they were cruel to the people of Judah.
They killed innocent people in that land.

<sup>20</sup>But there will always be people living in Judah, and people will live in Jerusalem from now on.

<sup>21</sup>Egypt and Edom killed my people, so I will definitely punish them.”

The Lord lives in Jerusalem!

cutting...locusts These are different names for an insect like a large grasshopper. The locust can quickly destroy trees, plants, and crops, and in this destruction Joel sees a warning. God will cause this type of destruction when he punishes his people.

swarming ... locusts These are different names for an insect like a large grasshopper. The locust can quickly destroy trees, plants, and crops, and in this destruction, Joel sees a warning. God will cause this type of destruction when he punishes his people.

Valley of Decision This is like the name “Valley Where the Lord Judges” in 3:2 and 3:12.

The Book of Amos

Introduction

Ever met a “justa”? “Just a salesman.” “Just a secretary.” “Just a farmer.” or “Just a custodian.” “Just a” implies that one’s calling or occupation is fairly insignificant, not very important in the grand scheme of things. We would feel much better if we could say with pride: world-class athlete, high-powered politician, best-selling author, brain surgeon, dynamic evangelist, CEO, television star, or rocket scientist. Self-esteem would soar, people would take notice, and God could use us to change the world. Being a “justa” feels small and ordinary.

By most standards, Amos would be considered a “justa.” After all, he wasn’t a prophet or priest or the son of either. He was just a shepherd, a small businessman in Judah. Who would listen to him?

But instead of making excuses, Amos obeyed and became God’s powerful voice for change.

God has no “justas.”

God has often used “justas”—shepherds, carpenters, fishermen ... Whatever your station in life, God can use you. Check out Amos’s example and God’s message and be willing to be used by your Lord.

Amos wasn’t much. He was a “justa” ... just a servant of God. But that was enough.

Life Lessons

Amos 1:1–2:16

Situation

God called Amos, a shepherd from Judah, to prophesy against the Northern Kingdom (Israel). Amos' prophecy preceded the Assyrian captivity.

Observation

God holds people accountable for their actions. He judged the Israelites for their evil works, and he will also examine our works.

Inspiration

The wrath of God is His righteous indignation and fury against sin and unrepentant sinners. Although we would rather think of His love, mercy, and grace, God's wrath is as much a divine perfection as any of His other attributes: "It is not the ignoble outburst that human anger so often is, a sign of pride and weakness, but it is holiness reacting to evil in a way that is morally right and glorious."

God's wrath is revealed in Hades and in the lake of fire, which is the same as hell.

No man or woman has to go to hell. God provided deliverance at enormous cost, but individuals must receive God's salvation by faith.

If a person refuses mercy, there is no alternative but wrath. If one doesn't want to go to heaven on God's terms, there is no other place but hell.

The contemplation of the wrath of God should give us compassion for the lost and desire to see them fleeing to the arms of Jesus. We should pray, give, and go out in active evangelism to our relatives, neighbors, and friends.

(From Alone in Majesty by William MacDonald)

Application

How do you react when you consider God's wrath? Does it cause you to have compassion for those who right now are outside God's love and forgiveness? Think of one or two people you can pray for and with whom you can share Jesus' saving grace.

Exploration

God's Judgment—Exodus 34:7; 1 Samuel 2:3; Job 34:10; Psalm 9:7; Romans 2:5–6; Hebrews 10:30–31.

“As drastic as it may appear, God will actually allow a person to experience hell on earth, in hopes of awakening his faith. A holy love makes the tough choice to release the child to the consequences of his rebellion.” —Max Lucado (The Great House of God)

These are the words of Amos, one of the shepherds from the town of Tekoa. He saw this vision about Israel two years before the earthquake. It was at the time Uzziah was king of Judah and Jeroboam son of Jehoash was king of Israel.

“The Lord will roar from Jerusalem;
he will send his voice from Jerusalem.
The pastures of the shepherds will become dry, and even the top of Mount Carmel will dry up.”

Israel's Neighbors Are Punished

The People of Aram

<sup>3</sup>This is what the Lord says:

“For the many crimes of Damascus,
I will punish them.
They drove over the people of Gilead with threshing boards that had iron teeth.

<sup>4</sup>So I will send fire upon the house of Hazael that will destroy the strong towers of Ben-Hadad.

<sup>5</sup>I will break down the bar of the gate to Damascus and destroy the king who is in the Valley of Aven, as well as the leader of Beth Eden.

The people of Aram will be taken captive to the country of Kir,” says the Lord.

The People of Philistia

<sup>6</sup>This is what the Lord says:

“For the many crimes of Gaza,
I will punish them.
They sold all the people of one area
as slaves to Edom.

<sup>7</sup>So I will send a fire on the walls of Gaza that will destroy the city’s strong buildings.

<sup>8</sup>I will destroy the king of the city of Ashdod, as well as the leader of Ashkelon.

Then I will turn against the people of the city of Ekron, and the last of the Philistines will die,” says the Lord
God.

The People of Phoenicia

<sup>9</sup>This is what the Lord says:

“For the many crimes of Tyre,
I will punish them.
They sold all the people of one area
as slaves to Edom,
and they forgot the agreement among relatives they had made with Israel.

<sup>10</sup>So I will send fire on the walls of Tyre
that will destroy the city’s strong buildings.”

The People of Edom

<sup>11</sup>This is what the Lord says:

“For the many crimes of Edom,
I will punish them.
They hunted down their relatives, the Israelites, with the sword,
showing them no mercy.
They were angry all the time and kept on being very angry.

<sup>12</sup>So I will send fire on the city of Teman
that will even destroy the strong buildings of Bozrah.”

The People of Ammon

<sup>13</sup>This is what the Lord says:

“For the many crimes of Ammon,

I will punish them.
They ripped open the pregnant women in Gilead so they could take over that land and make their own country larger.

<sup>14</sup>So I will send fire on the city wall of Rabbah that will destroy its strong buildings.
It will come during a day of battle,
during a stormy day with strong winds.

<sup>15</sup>Then their king and leaders will be taken captive;
they will all be taken away together,” says the Lord.

The People of Moab

This is what the Lord says:

“For the many crimes of Moab,
I will punish them.
They burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime.

<sup>2</sup>So I will send fire on Moab that will destroy the strong buildings of the city of Kerioth.

The people of Moab will die in a great noise,
in the middle of the sounds of war and trumpets.

<sup>3</sup>So I will bring an end to the king of Moab, and I will kill all its leaders with him,” says the Lord.

The People of Judah

“For the many crimes of Judah,
I will punish them.
They rejected the teachings of the Lord and did not keep his commands;
they followed the same gods
as their ancestors had followed.

<sup>5</sup>So I will send fire on Judah, and it will destroy the strong buildings of Jerusalem.”

Israel Is Punished

<sup>6</sup>This is what the Lord says:

“For the many crimes of Israel,
I will punish them.
For silver, they sell people who have done nothing wrong;
they sell the poor to buy a pair of sandals.

<sup>7</sup>They walk on poor people as if they were dirt, and they refuse to be fair to those who are suffering.
Fathers and sons have sexual relations with the same woman,
and so they ruin my holy name.

<sup>8</sup>As they worship at their altars, they lie down on clothes taken from the poor.
They fine people,
and with that money they buy wine to drink in the house of their god.

<sup>9</sup>“But it was I who destroyed the Amorites before
them,
who were tall like cedar trees and as strong as oaks—
I destroyed them completely.

<sup>10</sup>It was I who brought you from the land of Egypt and led you for forty years through the desert

so I could give you the land of the Amorites.

<sup>11</sup>I made some of your children to be prophets and some of your young people to be Nazirites. People of Israel, isn't this true?" says the Lord.

<sup>12</sup>"But you made the Nazirites drink wine and told the prophets not to prophesy.

<sup>13</sup>Now I will make you get stuck, as a wagon loaded with grain gets stuck.

<sup>14</sup>No one will escape, not even the fastest runner. Strong people will not be strong enough; warriors will not be able to save themselves.

<sup>15</sup>Soldiers with bows and arrows will not stand and fight, and even fast runners will not get away; soldiers on horses will not escape alive.

<sup>16</sup>At that time even the bravest warriors will run away without their armor," says the Lord.

Life Lessons

Amos 3:1–6:14

Situation

Through Amos, God warned Israel of the judgment that would come upon the nation for its disobedience.

Observation

Despite continued discipline, Israel continued to turn away from God.

Inspiration

When my family lived in Rio de Janeiro, I owned a ham radio. I kept it in the utility room on top of the freezer. When we traveled, I always unplugged the radio and disconnected the antenna.

Once, when we were leaving for a week-long trip, I remembered I hadn't unplugged the radio. I ran back in the house, pulled the plug, and dashed out again.

But I pulled the wrong plug. I unplugged the freezer. . . . For seven days, then, a freezer full of food sat in a sweltering apartment with the power off.

When we came home, . . . guess who got fingered as the one who had unplugged the freezer—and who therefore would be responsible for cleaning it? You got it. So I got to work.

What is the best way to clean out a rotten interior? I knew exactly what to do. I got a rag and a bucket of soapy water and began cleaning the outside of the appliance. I was sure the odor would disappear with a good shine, so I polished and buffed and wiped. When I was through, the freezer could have passed a Marine boot-camp inspection. It was sparkling.

But when I opened the door, that freezer was revolting.

(Are you wondering, “Now what kind of fool would do that?” Read on and you’ll see.)

No problem, I thought. I knew what to do. This freezer needs some friends. I’d stink, too, if I had the social life of a machine in a utility room. So, I threw a party. I invited all the appliances from the neighborhood kitchens. It was hard work, but we filled our apartment with refrigerators, stoves, microwaves, and washing machines. It was a great party. A couple of toasters recognized each other from the appliance store. Everyone played pin the plug on the socket and had a few laughs about limited warranties. The blenders were the hit, though; they really mixed well.

I was sure the social interaction would cure the inside of my freezer, but I was wrong. I opened it up, and the stink was even worse!

Now what?

I had an idea. If a polish job wouldn’t do it and social life didn’t help, I’d give the freezer some status!

I bought a Mercedes sticker and stuck it on the door. I painted a paisley tie down the front. I put a “Save the Whales” bumper sticker on the rear and installed a cellular phone on the side. That freezer was classy. It was stylish. It was ... cool. I splashed it with cologne and gave it a credit card for clout...

Then I opened the door, expecting to see a clean inside, but what I saw was putrid—a stinky and repulsive interior.

I could think of only one other option. My freezer needed some high-voltage pleasure! I immediately bought it some copies of Playfridge magazines—the publication that displays freezers with their doors open. I rented some films about foxy appliances.... I even tried to get my freezer a date with the Westinghouse next door, but she gave him the cold shoulder.

After a few days of supercharged, after-hours entertainment, I opened the door. And I nearly got sick.

I know what you're thinking. The only thing worse than Max's humor is his common sense. Who would concentrate on the outside when the problem is on the inside?

Do you really want to know?

A homemaker battles with depression. What is the solution suggested by some well-meaning friend? Buy a new dress.

A husband is involved in an affair that brings him as much guilt as it does adventure. The solution? Change peer groups. Hang out with people who don't make you feel guilty!

A young professional is plagued with loneliness. His obsession with success has left him with no friends. His boss gives him an idea: Change your style. Get a new haircut. Flash some cash.

Case after case of treating the outside while ignoring the inside—polishing the case while ignoring the interior. And what is the result?

The homemaker gets a new dress, and the depression disappears ... for a day, maybe. Then the shadow returns.

The husband finds a bunch of buddies who sanction his adultery. The result? Peace ... until the crowd is gone. Then the guilt is back.

The young professional gets a new look and the people notice ... until the styles change. Then he has to scurry out and buy more stuff so he won't appear outdated.

The exterior polished; the interior corroding. The outside altered; the inside faltering. One thing is clear: Cosmetic changes are only skin deep.

... You change your life by changing your heart.
(From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

No one enjoys being disciplined. Yet, it is often through the discomfort of chastisement that we return to the right path. Make your life easier: repent of your sin before God must bring discipline. If you are being disciplined, correct the wrong quickly.

Exploration

Discipline—Job 5:17; Psalm 39:11; 94:12; Proverbs 3:11–12; Jeremiah 30:11; Hebrews 12:7–10.

Warning to Israel

Listen to this word that the Lord has spoken against you, people of Israel, against the whole family he brought out of Egypt.

<sup>2</sup>“I have chosen only you out of all the families of the earth, so I will punish you
for all your sins.”

<sup>3</sup>Two people will not walk together unless they have agreed to do so.

<sup>4</sup>A lion in the forest does not roar unless it has caught an animal;
it does not growl in its den
when it has caught nothing.

<sup>5</sup>A bird will not fall into a trap where there is no bait;
the trap will not spring shut
if there is nothing to catch.

<sup>6</sup>When a trumpet blows a warning in a city, the people tremble.
When trouble comes to a city,
the Lord has caused it.

<sup>7</sup>Before the Lord God does anything, he tells his plans to his servants the prophets.

<sup>8</sup>The lion has roared!
Who wouldn't be afraid?
The Lord God has spoken.
Who will not prophesy?

<sup>9</sup>Announce this to the strong buildings of Ashdod and to the strong buildings of Egypt:
“Come to the mountains of Samaria, where you will see great confusion and people hurting others.”

says the Lord.

“Their strong buildings are filled with treasures they took by force from others.”

<sup>11</sup>So this is what the Lord God says:

“An enemy will take over the land and pull down your strongholds;
he will take the treasures out of your strong buildings.”

<sup>12</sup>This is what the Lord says:

“A shepherd might save from a lion's mouth only two leg bones or a scrap of an ear of his sheep.
In the same way only a few Israelites in Samaria will be saved—
people who now sit on their beds and on their couches.”

<sup>13</sup>“Listen and be witnesses against the family of Jacob,” says the Lord God, the God All-Powerful.

<sup>14</sup>“When I punish Israel for their sins,
I will also destroy the altars at Bethel.
The corners of the altar will be cut off,
and they will fall to the ground.

<sup>15</sup>I will tear down the winter house, together with the summer house.
The houses decorated with ivory will be destroyed, and the great houses will come to an end,” says the Lord.

Israel Will Not Return

Listen to this message, you cows of Bashan on the Mountain of Samaria.

You take things from the poor and crush people who are in need.
Then you command your husbands,
“Bring us something to drink!”

<sup>2</sup>The Lord God has promised this:
“Just as surely as I am a holy God, the time will come when you will be taken away by hooks, and what is left of you with fishhooks.

<sup>3</sup>You will go straight out of the city through holes in the walls, and you will be thrown on the garbage dump,” says
the Lord.

<sup>4</sup>“Come to the city of Bethel and sin;
come to Gilgal and sin even more.
Offer your sacrifices every morning,
and bring one-tenth of your crops every three days.

<sup>5</sup>Offer bread made with yeast as a sacrifice to show your thanks,
and brag about the special offerings you bring, because this is what you love to do, Israelites,” says
the Lord God.

<sup>6</sup>“I did not give you any food in your cities, and there was not enough to eat in any of your towns,

but you did not come back to me,” says the Lord.

<sup>7</sup>“I held back the rain from you three months before harvest time.
Then I let it rain on one city
but not on another.
Rain fell on one field,
but another field got none and dried up.

<sup>8</sup>People weak from thirst went from town to town for water,
but they could not get enough to drink.
Still you did not come back to me,” says the Lord.

<sup>9</sup>“I made your crops die from disease and mildew.
When your gardens and your vineyards got larger, locusts ate your fig and olive trees.
But still you did not come back to me,” says the Lord.

<sup>10</sup>“I sent disasters against you,
as I did to Egypt.
I killed your young men with swords,
and your horses were taken from you.
I made you smell the stink from all the dead bodies,
but still you did not come back to me,” says the Lord.

<sup>11</sup>“I destroyed some of you as I destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah.
You were like a burning stick pulled from a fire,
but still you did not come back to me,” says the Lord.

<sup>12</sup>“So this is what I will do to you, Israel;

because I will do this to you, get ready to meet your God, Israel.”

<sup>13</sup>He is the one who makes the mountains and creates the wind and makes his thoughts known to people.
He changes the dawn into darkness and walks over the mountains of the earth.
His name is the Lord God All-Powerful.

Israel Needs to Repent

Listen to this funeral song that I sing about you, people of Israel.

<sup>2</sup>“The young girl Israel has fallen, and she will not rise up again.
She was left alone in her own land,
and there is no one to help her up.”

<sup>3</sup>This is what the Lord God says:

“If a thousand soldiers leave a city, only a hundred will return;
if a hundred soldiers leave a city,
only ten will return.”

<sup>4</sup>This is what the Lord says to the nation of Israel:

“Come to me and live.

<sup>5</sup>But do not look in Bethel or go to Gilgal,
and do not go down to Beersheba.
The people of Gilgal will be taken away as captives, and Bethel will become nothing.”

<sup>6</sup>Come to the Lord and live, or he will move like fire against the descendants of Joseph.
The fire will burn Bethel,
and there will be no one to put it out.

<sup>7</sup>You turn justice upside down, and you throw on the ground what is right.

<sup>8</sup>God is the one who made the star groups Pleiades and Orion;

he changes darkness into the morning light,
and the day into dark night.

He calls for the waters of the sea
to pour out on the earth.

The Lord is his name.

<sup>9</sup>He destroys the protected city;
he ruins the strong, walled city.

<sup>10</sup>You hate those who speak in court against evil, and you can't stand those who tell the truth.

<sup>11</sup>You walk on poor people, forcing them to give you grain.
You have built fancy houses of cut stone,
but you will not live in them.
You have planted beautiful vineyards,
but you will not drink the wine from them.

<sup>12</sup>I know your many crimes, your terrible sins.
You hurt people who do right,
you take money to do wrong,
and you keep the poor from getting justice in court.

<sup>13</sup>In such times the wise person will keep quiet, because it is a bad time.

<sup>14</sup>Try to do good, not evil,

so that you will live,
and the Lord God All-Powerful will be with you just as you say he is.

<sup>15</sup>Hate evil and love good;
be fair in the courts.
Maybe the Lord God All-Powerful will be kind to the people of Joseph who are left alive.

<sup>16</sup>This is what the Lord, the Lord God All-Powerful, says:

“People will be crying in all the streets;
they will be saying, ‘Oh, no!’ in the public places.
They will call the farmers to come and weep and will pay people to cry out loud for them.

<sup>17</sup>People will be crying in all the vineyards, because I will pass among you to punish you,” says
the Lord.

The Lord’s Day of Judging

<sup>18</sup>How terrible it will be for you who want the Lord’s day of judging to come.
Why do you want that day to come?
It will bring darkness for you, not light.

<sup>19</sup>It will be like someone who runs from a lion and meets a bear, or like someone who goes into his house and puts his hand on the wall, and then is bitten by a snake.

<sup>20</sup>So the Lord's day of judging will bring darkness, not light;

it will be very dark, not light at all.

<sup>21</sup>The Lord says, "I completely hate your feasts;
I cannot stand your religious meetings.

<sup>22</sup>If you offer me burnt offerings and grain offerings,
I won't accept them.

You bring your best fellowship offerings of fattened cattle,
but I will ignore them.

<sup>23</sup>Take the noise of your songs away from me!
I won't listen to the music of your harps.

<sup>24</sup>But let justice flow like a river, and let goodness flow like a stream that never stops.

<sup>25</sup>"People of Israel, you did not bring me sacrifices and offerings
while you traveled in the desert for forty years.

<sup>26</sup>You have carried with you your king, the god Sakkuth, and Kaiwan your idol,
and the star gods you have made.

<sup>27</sup>So I will send you away as captives beyond Damascus," says the Lord, whose name is the God All-Powerful.

Israel Will Be Destroyed

How terrible it will be for those who have an easy life in Jerusalem,

for those who feel safe living on Mount Samaria.

You think you are the important people of the best nation in the world;

the Israelites come to you for help.

<sup>2</sup>Go look at the city of Calneh, and from there go to the great city Hamath;
then go down to Gath of the Philistines.

You are no better than these kingdoms.

Your land is no larger than theirs.

<sup>3</sup>You put off the day of punishment, but you bring near the day when you can do evil to others.

<sup>4</sup>You lie on beds decorated with ivory and stretch out on your couches.

You eat tender lambs and fattened calves.

<sup>5</sup>You make up songs on your harps, and, like David, you compose songs on musical instruments.

<sup>6</sup>You drink wine by the bowlful and use the best perfumed lotions.
But you are not sad over the ruin of Israel,

<sup>7</sup>so you will be some of the first ones taken as slaves.
Your feasting and lying around will come to an end.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord God made this promise; the Lord God All-Powerful says:

“I hate the pride of the Israelites, and I hate their strong buildings, so I will let the enemy take the city and everything in it.”

<sup>9</sup>At that time there might be only ten people left alive in just one house, but they will also die. <sup>10</sup>When the relatives come to get the bodies to take them outside, one of them will call to the other and ask, “Are there any other dead bodies with you?”

That person will answer, “No.”

Then the one who asked will say, “Hush! We must not say the name of the Lord.”

<sup>11</sup>The Lord has given the command;
the large house will be broken into pieces,
and the small house into bits.

<sup>12</sup>Horses do not run on rocks, and people do not plow rocks with oxen.
But you have changed fairness into poison;
you have changed what is right into a bitter taste.

<sup>13</sup>You are happy that the town of Lo Debar was captured, and you say, “We have taken Karnaim by our own strength.”

<sup>14</sup>The Lord God All-Powerful says, “Israel, I will bring a nation against you that will make your people suffer from Lebo Hamath in the north to the valley south of the Dead Sea.”

Life Lessons

Amos 7:1–9:15

Situation

Amos saw God's coming judgments on Israel through two visions. After each vision, he prayed that God would be merciful.

Observation

God sent his prophet Amos to warn the people of Israel to repent of their sins. God gives us these examples to teach us that he hates sin.

Inspiration

The task of the prophet is to nurture, nourish, and evoke a vision of an alternative to the dominant system. The prophet must generate hope for something that lies beyond the present order. We need a vision of an alternative future that will energize us and motivate us to act, a vision of possibilities that will make our blood run hot and give us the courage to revolt against the way things are.

A prophet's vision can replace people's numbness with energy. The possibility of a glorious "might be" can enable us to live in ways that appear dangerous to the custodians of the status quo. With vision, the dead bones can come alive. The psychically dead can be resurrected. The spiritual sleepers can be awakened. Out of sorrow for the death of the old can come a new dynamism to us; through the message of the prophet we can come to believe in a new heaven and a new earth. The apathy that works in people in dying societies can be dispelled. There can be passion. There can be a “new song” (Isaiah 42:10), and the fatigue that is so evident among those in the present order can be overcome. . . .

All of this energy comes from the message of the prophet. The people of the dying society can be “born again.” The prophet’s hope can generate the dynamism for change. (From Wake Up America by Tony Campolo)

Application

Use Sundays as a chance to get to know God better. Go to church faithfully. Worship and listen attentively. Spend Sunday building relationships with others in your church or spending time with your family.

The Vision of Locusts

This is what the Lord God showed me: He was forming a swarm of locusts, after the king had taken his share of the first crop and the second crop had just begun growing.<sup>2</sup>When the locusts ate all the crops in the country, I said, “Lord God, forgive us. How could Israel live through this? It is too small already!”

<sup>3</sup>So the Lord changed his mind about this. “It will not happen,” said the Lord.

The Vision of Fire

<sup>4</sup>This is what the Lord God showed me: The Lord God was calling for fire to come down like rain. It burned up the deep water and was going to burn up the land.<sup>5</sup>Then I cried out, “Lord God, stop! How could Israel live through this? It is too small already.”

<sup>6</sup>So the Lord changed his mind about this too. “It will not happen,” said the Lord God.

The Vision of the Plumb Line

<sup>7</sup>This is what he showed me: The Lord stood by a straight wall, with a plumb line in his hand.<sup>8</sup>The Lord said to me, “Amos, what do you see?”

I said, “A plumb line.”

Then the Lord said, “See, I will put a plumb line among my people Israel to show how crooked they are. I will not look the other way any longer.

<sup>9</sup>“The places where Isaac’s descendants worship will be destroyed, Israel’s holy places will be turned into ruins, and I will attack King Jeroboam’s family with the sword.”

Amaziah Speaks Against Amos

<sup>10</sup>Amaziah, a priest at Bethel, sent this message to Jeroboam king of Israel: “Amos is making evil plans against you with the people of Israel. He has been speaking so much that this land can’t hold all his words. <sup>11</sup>This is what Amos has said:

‘Jeroboam will die by the sword, and the people of Israel will be taken as captives out of their own country.’”

<sup>12</sup>Then Amaziah said to Amos, “Seer, go back right now to Judah. Do your prophesying and earn your living there, <sup>13</sup>but don’t prophesy anymore here at Bethel. This is the king’s holy place, and it is the nation’s temple.”

<sup>14</sup>Then Amos answered Amaziah, “I do not make my living as a prophet, nor am I a member of a group of prophets. I make my living as a shepherd, and I take care of sycamore trees.

<sup>15</sup>But the Lord took me away from tending the flock and said to me, ‘Go, prophesy to my people Israel.’ <sup>16</sup>So listen to the Lord’s word. You tell me, ‘Don’t prophesy against Israel, and stop prophesying against the descendants of Isaac.’

<sup>17</sup>“Because you have said this, the Lord says:

‘Your wife will become a prostitute in the city, and your sons and daughters will be killed with swords.

Other people will measure your land and divide it among themselves,

and you will die in a foreign country.

The people of Israel will definitely be taken from their own land as captives.”

The Vision of Ripe Fruit

This is what the Lord God showed me: a basket of summer fruit.

<sup>2</sup>He said to me, “Amos, what do you see?”

I said, “A basket of summer fruit.”

Then the Lord said to me, “An end has come for my people Israel, because I will not overlook their sins anymore.

<sup>3</sup>“On that day the palace songs will become funeral songs,” says the Lord God. “There will be dead bodies thrown everywhere! Silence!”

<sup>4</sup>Listen to me, you who walk on helpless people, you who are trying to destroy the poor people of this country, saying,

<sup>5</sup>“When will the New Moon festival be over so we can sell grain?
When will the Sabbath be over so we can bring out wheat to sell?
We can charge them more and give them less,
and we can change the scales to cheat the people.

<sup>6</sup>We will buy poor people for silver, and needy people for the price of a pair of sandals.
We will even sell the wheat that was swept up from the floor.”

<sup>7</sup>The Lord has sworn by his name, the Pride of Jacob, “I will never forget everything that these people did.

<sup>8</sup>The whole land will shake because of it, and everyone who lives in the land will cry for those who died.

The whole land will rise like the Nile;
it will be shaken, and then it will fall like the Nile River in Egypt.”

<sup>9</sup>The Lord God says:

“At that time I will cause the sun to go down at noon and make the earth dark on a bright day.

<sup>10</sup>I will change your festivals into days of crying for the dead,
and all your songs will become songs of sadness.
I will make all of you wear rough cloth to show your sadness;

I will make you shave your heads as well.

I will make it like a time of crying for the death of an only son,
and its end like the end of an awful day.”

<sup>11</sup>The Lord God says: “The days are coming when I will cause a time of hunger in the land.

The people will not be hungry for bread or thirsty for water,
but they will be hungry for words from the Lord.

<sup>12</sup>They will wander from the Mediterranean Sea to the Dead Sea,
from the north to the east.

They will search for the word of the Lord,
but they won't find it.

<sup>13</sup>At that time the beautiful young women and the young men will become weak from thirst.

<sup>14</sup>They make promises by the idol in Samaria and say, 'As surely as the god of Dan lives ...'
and, 'As surely as the god of Beersheba lives, we promise ...'
So they will fall
and never get up again."

Israel Will Be Destroyed

I saw the Lord standing by the altar, and he said:

“Smash the top of the pillars
so that even the bottom of the doors will shake.
Make the pillars fall on the people’s heads;
anyone left alive I will kill with a sword.
Not one person will get away;
no one will escape.

<sup>2</sup>If they dig down as deep as the place of the dead,
I will pull them up from there.
If they climb up into heaven,
I will bring them down from there.

<sup>3</sup>If they hide at the top of Mount Carmel,
I will find them and take them away.
If they try to hide from me at the bottom of the sea,
I will command a snake to bite them.

<sup>4</sup>If they are captured and taken away by their enemies,
I will command the sword to kill them.
I will keep watch over them, but I will keep watch to give them trouble, not to do them good.”

<sup>5</sup>The Lord God All-Powerful touches the land, and the land shakes.
Then everyone who lives in the land cries for the dead.
The whole land rises like the Nile River and falls like the river of Egypt.

<sup>6</sup>The Lord builds his upper rooms above the skies;
he sets their foundations on the earth.
He calls for the waters of the sea
and pours them out on the land.

The Lord is his name.

<sup>7</sup>The Lord says,
“Israel, you are no different to me than the people of Cush.

I brought Israel out of the land of Egypt, and the Philistines from Crete,
and the Arameans from Kir.

<sup>8</sup>I, the Lord God, am watching the sinful kingdom
Israel.

I will destroy it
from off the earth,
but I will not completely destroy Jacob’s descendants,” says the Lord.

<sup>9</sup>“I am giving the command to scatter the nation of Israel among all nations.
It will be like someone shaking grain through a strainer, but not even a tiny stone falls through.

<sup>10</sup>All the sinners among my people will die by the sword—
those who say,
‘Nothing bad will happen to us.’

The Lord Promises to Restore Israel

<sup>11</sup>“The kingdom of David is like a fallen tent, but in that day I will set it up again and mend its broken places.
I will rebuild its ruins
as it was before.

<sup>12</sup>Then Israel will take over what is left of Edom and the other nations that belong to me,”
says the Lord,
who will make it happen.

<sup>13</sup>The Lord says, “The time is coming when there will be all kinds of food.

People will still be harvesting crops
when it's time to plow again.
People will still be taking the juice from grapes
when it's time to plant again.
Wine will drip from the mountains and pour from the hills.

<sup>14</sup>I will bring my people Israel back from captivity; they will build the ruined cities again,
and they will live in them.
They will plant vineyards and drink the wine from
them;
they will plant gardens and eat their fruit.

<sup>15</sup>I will plant my people on their land, and they will not be pulled out again from the land which I have given them,” says the Lord your God.

Teman ... Bozrah Since Teman was in northern Edom and Bozrah was in southern Edom, this means the whole country will be destroyed.

Bashan Amos compares the rich, lazy women of Samaria to well-fed cows from Bashan, a place known for its rich animal pastures.

Lo Debar ... Karnaim These were two not especially significant cities that the Israelites had captured in war.

end The Hebrew word for “end” sounds like the Hebrew word for “summer fruit.”

Dan ... Beersheba Dan was the city farthest north in Israel, and Beersheba was the city farthest south.

The Book of Obadiah

Introduction

I know how to make you mad. I don't want to. I don't intend to. But if I desired to, I would know how to do it.

I would insult your family.

I wouldn't insult you. I would insult your family. I'd mock your mother. I'd make fun of your father. I'd criticize your kids. Again, I'm not going to. But if I did, I know what would happen.

You'd get angry. If there is any shred of loyalty in your heart, you'd tell me to mind my own business.

Even if I were right.

Even if my accusations were accurate. No matter. You'd tell me to quit sticking my nose in your business. When it comes to the family, we look out for our own. God does the same.

God's children, the Jews, weren't the best of children. They were stubborn, rebellious, and forgetful. Over the years God dished out the discipline and correction. But through all the stresses and strains, God's love for his children was stubborn.

Edom, a powerful nation, enjoyed picking on Israel. Here in Obadiah, we see God rising to the defense of his children. He says, in effect, Mess with them and you mess with me.

It's a small book with a huge message. God cares for his children.

Life Lessons

Obadiah 1–21

Situation

A bloody feud between Edom and Israel continued from the days of Esau and Jacob (Genesis 25:19–34). Obadiah denounced Edom's cruelty and pride, and then prophesied about its destruction. He also prophesied that Israel would be restored as a nation with extended territory.

Observation

God always protects and takes care of his children. With God on their side, his children are never underdogs.

Inspiration

I have never met a Christian who had lost his salvation. However, I have met plenty who had lost their assurance. Our security rests in the hands of an unconditionally loving heavenly Father. One who gave His best to insure our fellowship with Him forever. Our assurance rests in understanding and acceptance of these glorious truths.

For some people, the problem is erroneous teaching; for others, the problem is guilt. But whatever the reason, the result is the same, a lack of assurance. And when assurance goes, the basic building blocks of the relationship go also.

More is at stake than assurance. The very gospel itself comes under attack when the eternal security of the believer is questioned. Placing the responsibility for maintaining salvation on the believer is adding works to grace. Salvation would no longer be a gift. It would become trade—our faithfulness for His faithfulness.

This is a far cry from the good news Jesus preached and Paul heralded. Their gospel was salvation by faith—and only by faith.

The salvation spoken of by Jesus and Paul takes place at one moment in time yet seals the believer for all time. This faith moves the Judge not only to forgive and pardon the sinner, but to adopt him into His own family as well.

... Why the mercy? Why the kindness? The only answer is love—love of such magnitude that all human illustrations fall short, love that is unconditional at its core with no hidden agendas and no fine print. God's love is such that He accepts us just the way we are but refuses to leave us there...

God has gone to great lengths to make our relationship with Him possible. Doing so cost Him His Son. But the sacrifice of His Son did far more than merely provide us with the possibility of such a relationship; it guaranteed the permanency of that relationship as well.

Your salvation is secure. My prayer is that you would experience the assurance of this precious and costly gift.

(From Eternal Security by Charles Stanley)

The Lord Will Punish the Edomites

<sup>1</sup>This is the vision of Obadiah.

This is what the Lord God says about Edom:

We have heard a message from the Lord.
A messenger has been sent among the nations,
saying,
“Attack! Let’s go attack Edom!”

The Lord Speaks to the Edomites

<sup>2</sup>“Soon I will make you the smallest of nations.
You will be greatly hated by everyone.

<sup>3</sup>Your pride has fooled you,
you who live in the hollow places of the cliff.
Your home is up high,
you who say to yourself,
‘No one can bring me down to the ground.’

<sup>4</sup>Even if you fly high like the eagle and make your nest among the stars,
I will bring you down from there,” says the Lord.

<sup>5</sup>“You will really be ruined!
If thieves came to you,
if robbers came by night,

they would steal only enough for themselves.
If workers came and picked the grapes from your vines,
they would leave a few behind.

<sup>6</sup>But you, Edom, will really lose everything!
People will find all your hidden treasures!

<sup>7</sup>All the people who are your friends will force you out of the land.
The people who are at peace with you will trick you and defeat you.
Those who eat your bread with you now are planning a trap for you, and you will not notice it.”

<sup>8</sup>The Lord says, “On that day
I will surely destroy the wise people from Edom, and those with understanding from the mountains of Edom.

<sup>9</sup>Then, city of Teman, your best warriors will be afraid, and everyone from the mountains of Edom will be killed.

<sup>10</sup>You did violence to your relatives, the Israelites, so you will be covered with shame and destroyed forever.

<sup>11</sup>You stood aside without helping while strangers carried Israel’s treasures away.
When foreigners entered Israel’s city gate and threw lots to decide what part of Jerusalem they would take,

you were like one of them.

Commands That Edom Broke

<sup>12c</sup>Edom, do not laugh at your brother Israel in his time of trouble or be happy about the people of Judah when they are destroyed.

Do not brag when cruel things are done to them.

<sup>13</sup>Do not enter the city gate of my people in their time of trouble or laugh at their problems
in their time of trouble.
Do not take their treasures
in their time of trouble.

<sup>14</sup>Do not stand at the crossroads to destroy those who are trying to escape.
Do not capture those who escape alive and turn them over to their enemy
in their time of trouble.

The Nations Will Be Judged

<sup>15c</sup>The Lord's day of judging is coming soon to all the nations.

The same evil things you did to other people will happen to you;
they will come back upon your own head.

<sup>16</sup>Because you drank in my Temple, all the nations will drink on and on.
They will drink and drink
until they disappear.

<sup>17</sup>But on Mount Zion some will escape the judgment, and it will be a holy place.
The people of Jacob will take back their land from those who took it from them.

<sup>18</sup>The people of Jacob will be like a fire and the people of Joseph like a flame.
But the people of Esau will be like dry stalks.
The people of Jacob will set them on fire and burn them up.
There will be no one left of the people of Esau.”
This will happen because the Lord has said it.

<sup>19</sup>Then God's people will regain southern Judah from Edom;
they will take back the mountains of Edom.
They will take back the western hills
from the Philistines.
They will regain the lands of Ephraim and Samaria, and Benjamin will take over Gilead.

<sup>20</sup>People from Israel who once were forced to leave their homes

will take the land of the Canaanites, all the way to Zarephath.

People from Judah who once were forced to leave Jerusalem and live in Sepharad will take back the cities of southern Judah.

<sup>21</sup>Powerful warriors will go up on Mount Zion, where they will rule the people living on Edom's
mountains.

And the kingdom will belong to the Lord.

Edom The Edomites were the people who came from Esau, Jacob's twin brother. They were enemies of the Israelites.

people of Jacob... Joseph The people who came from Jacob and Joseph, or the Israelites.

people of Esau The people who came from Esau, or the Edomites.

The Book of Jonah

Introduction

He had every right to run (he thought). Why should he go to that stinking city? He hated the place. Why should he warn the Ninevites about God's judgment? After how they had treated his people, they deserved to be wiped out. The last thing Jonah wanted was for his enemies to receive God's blessing.

So he ran ... as fast and as far as he could away from what God wanted him to do.

But God had other plans.

You know the story: God stirred up a storm. Jonah bailed out of the boat and ended up in the belly of the fish.

God gave Jonah time to think over his actions and attitudes. For the first time Jonah didn't complain, he prayed. (Probably the only time anyone ever prayed for a fish-burp.)

The prayer was answered and Jonah eventually traveled to hated Nineveh. He preached to the people there. Though his odor wasn't appealing, his message was and the Ninevites repented. God relented (as Jonah knew he would), and Jonah fumed, furious over the turn of events. He sulked.

We can be so difficult.

But God can be so patient.

The Book of Jonah is more than a fascinating account of one man's futile attempt to run away from God. It is a story of God's love for even the most unlovable, despicable people we can imagine—and of our responsibility to tell them the Good News.

Life Lessons

Jonah 1:1–2:10

Situation

God told Jonah to preach to the Assyrians in Nineveh. Jonah knew that if he preached to them, they would have an opportunity to avoid God's wrath. Jonah hoped to see these enemies punished by God, so he ran away.

Observation

Running away from God can't be done. Jonah discovered that. God's dominion extends everywhere.

Inspiration

How infinitely more difficult it is for us to grasp what Jesus meant when He said: "God is Spirit." Jesus knew! His mind was not limited as our minds are limited. His eyes were not focused on the mud puddle of life. He knew full well the borderless reaches of the Spirit, and He came to try to give us some understanding of its wonders, its comfort, and its peace.

The spirit is not something bound in a body. The Bible declares that God is a Spirit—that He is not limited to body; He is not limited to shape; He is not limited to boundaries or bonds; He is absolutely immeasurable and undiscernible by eyes that can see only physical things. The Bible tells us that because He has no such limitations He can be everywhere at once—that He can hear all, see all, and know all.

He can be everywhere at once, heeding the prayers of all who call out in the name of Christ; performing the mighty miracles that keep the stars in their places and the plants bursting up through the earth and the fish swimming in the sea. There is no limit to God. There is no limit to His wisdom. There is no limit to His power. There is no limit to His love.

If you have been trying to limit God—stop it! You wouldn't try to limit the ocean. You cannot limit the universe. You wouldn't be bold enough to try to change the course of the moon, or to stop the earth as it turns on its axis! How everlastingly more foolish it is to try to limit the God who created and controls all these wonders! (From Peace with God by Billy Graham)

Application

Did you ever try to run away from your shadow as a child? You can't run from God either. When God tells you to go somewhere, listen and follow. Where is God sending you to tell others about him—to your family, next door, your coworkers? Will you run from God's call?

Exploration

Sovereignty—Job 37:23; 38–41; Revelation 19:16.

God Calls and Jonah Runs

The Lord spoke his word to Jonah son of Amittai: <sup>2</sup>“Get up, go to the great city of Nineveh, and preach against it, because I see the evil things they do.”

<sup>3</sup>But Jonah got up to run away from the Lord by going to Tarshish. He went to the city of Joppa, where he found a ship that was going to the city of Tarshish. Jonah paid for the trip and went aboard, planning to go to Tarshish to run away from the Lord.

<sup>4</sup>But the Lord sent a great wind on the sea, which made the sea so stormy that the ship was in danger of breaking apart. <sup>5</sup>The sailors were afraid, and each man cried to his own god. They began throwing the cargo from the ship into the sea to make the ship lighter.

But Jonah had gone down far inside the ship to lie down, and he fell fast asleep. <sup>6</sup>The captain of the ship came and said, “Why are you sleeping? Get up and pray to your god! Maybe your god will pay attention to us, and we won’t die!”

<sup>7</sup>Then the men said to each other, “Let’s throw lots to see who caused these troubles to happen to us.”

When they threw lots, the lot showed that the trouble had happened because of Jonah. <sup>8</sup>Then they said to him, “Tell us, who caused our trouble? What is your job? Where do you come from? What is your country? Who are your people?”

<sup>9</sup>Then Jonah said to them, “I am a Hebrew. I fear the Lord, the God of heaven, who made the sea and the land.”

<sup>10</sup>The men were very afraid, and they asked Jonah, “What terrible thing did you do?” (They knew he was running away from the Lord because he had told them.)

<sup>11</sup>Since the wind and the waves of the sea were becoming much stronger, they said to him, “What should we do to you to make the sea calm down for us?”

<sup>12</sup>Jonah said to them, “Pick me up, and throw me into the sea, and then it will calm down. I know it is my fault that this great storm has come on you.”

<sup>13</sup>Instead, the men tried to row the ship back to the land, but they could not, because the sea was becoming more stormy.

Jonah's Punishment

<sup>14</sup>So the men cried to the Lord, “Lord, please don't let us die because of this man's life; please don't think we are guilty of killing an innocent person. Lord, you have caused all this to happen; you wanted it this way.” <sup>15</sup>So they picked up Jonah and threw him into the sea, and the sea became calm. <sup>16</sup>Then they began to fear the Lord very much; they offered a sacrifice to the Lord and made promises to him.

<sup>17</sup>The Lord caused a big fish to swallow Jonah, and Jonah was inside the fish three days and three nights.

While Jonah was inside the fish, he prayed to the Lord his God and said, <sup>2</sup>“When I was in danger,

I called to the Lord,
and he answered me.
I was about to die,
so I cried to you,
and you heard my voice.

<sup>3</sup>You threw me into the sea, down, down into the deep sea.
The water was all around me,
and your powerful waves flowed over me.

<sup>4</sup>I said, ‘I was driven out of your presence, but I hope to see your Holy Temple again.’

<sup>5</sup>The waters of the sea closed around my throat.
The deep sea was all around me;
seaweed was wrapped around my head.

<sup>6</sup>When I went down to where the mountains of the sea start to rise,

I thought I was locked in this prison forever,
but you saved me from the pit of death,
Lord my God.

<sup>7</sup>“When my life had almost gone,
I remembered the Lord.
I prayed to you,
and you heard my prayers in your Holy Temple.

<sup>8</sup>“People who worship useless idols give up their loyalty to you.

<sup>9</sup>But I will praise and thank you while I give sacrifices to you, and I will keep my promises to you.
Salvation comes from the Lord!”

<sup>10</sup>Then the Lord spoke to the fish, and the fish threw up
Jonah onto the dry land.

Life Lessons

Jonah 3:1–4:11

Situation

Jonah finally obeyed God and preached in Nineveh. The people and their king responded immediately, and God had compassion on them.

Observation

God's words can have a transforming effect on people, causing them to repent from their sins.

Inspiration

Violent strife and conflict have haunted the human race to one degree or another since the day Adam and Eve first chose to rebel against God.

At those times, death rides through every city and town bringing suffering and death. But sometimes, just as suddenly, we enter a time of peace and relative calm. Why? ... because many have listened to His message of warning and turned to Him in repentance and faith.

A good example of this is seen in God's dealings with the people of the ancient Assyrian capital of Nineveh. They were an evil, pagan people who worshiped idols and often fought against God's people. God sent the prophet Jonah to Nineveh to proclaim His coming judgment to them: "Go to the great city of Nineveh and proclaim to it the message I give you... . Forty more days and Nineveh will be overturned." But when the king of Nineveh heard Jonah's message, he repented and ordered the whole people to repent as well. As a result God's judgment was averted. Only later, when evil increased in the generations after Jonah and the people failed to repent, did God's judgment finally fall on Nineveh. God's judgment is often this way. Some day it will come in all its fullness and finality, but in the meantime it may be that God's hand of judgment will pause when we repent. (From Storm Warning by Billy Graham)

Application

If God tells you to speak to others about their actions, take courage. You might be surprised at how many accept your words and repent.

Exploration

Repentance—2 Kings 22:19; Matthew 3:8; Acts 17:30.

God Calls and Jonah Obeys

The Lord spoke his word to Jonah again and said, <sup>2</sup>“Get up, go to the great city Nineveh, and preach to it what I tell you to say.”

<sup>3</sup>So Jonah obeyed the Lord and got up and went to Nineveh. It was a very large city; just to walk across it took a person three days. <sup>4</sup>After Jonah had entered the city and walked for one day, he preached to the people, saying, “After forty days, Nineveh will be destroyed!”

<sup>5</sup>The people of Nineveh believed God. They announced that they would stop eating for a while, and they put on rough cloth to show their sadness. All the people in the city did this, from the most important to the least important.

<sup>6</sup>When the king of Nineveh heard this news, he got up from his throne, took off his robe, and covered himself with rough cloth and sat in ashes to show how upset he was.

By command of the king and his important men: No person or animal, herd or flock, will be allowed to taste anything. Do not let them eat food or drink water. <sup>8</sup>But every person and animal should be covered with rough cloth, and people should cry loudly to God. Everyone must turn away from evil living and stop doing harm all the time. <sup>9</sup>Who knows? Maybe God will change his mind. Maybe he will stop being angry, and then we will not die.

<sup>10</sup>When God saw what the people did, that they stopped doing evil, he changed his mind and did not do what he had warned. He did not punish them.

God's Mercy Makes Jonah Angry

But this made Jonah very unhappy, and he became angry. <sup>2</sup>He prayed to the Lord, "When I was still in my own country this is what I said would happen, and that is why I quickly ran away to Tarshish. I knew that you are a God who is kind and shows mercy. You don't become angry quickly, and you have great love. I knew you would choose not to cause harm."<sup>3</sup>So now I ask you, Lord, please kill me. It is better for me to die than to live."

<sup>4</sup>Then the Lord said, "Do you think it is right for you to be angry?"

<sup>5</sup>Jonah went out and sat down east of the city. There he made a shelter for himself and sat in the shade, waiting to see what would happen to the city. <sup>6</sup>The Lord made a plant grow quickly up over Jonah, which gave him shade and helped him to be more comfortable. Jonah was very pleased to have the plant. <sup>7</sup>But the next day when the sun rose, God sent a worm to attack the plant so that it died.

<sup>8</sup>As the sun rose higher in the sky, God sent a very hot east wind to blow, and the sun became so hot on Jonah's head that he became very weak and wished he were dead. He said, "It is better for me to die than to live."

<sup>9</sup>But God said to Jonah, "Do you think it is right for you to be angry about the plant?"

Jonah answered, "It is right for me to be angry! I am so angry I could die!"

<sup>10</sup>And the Lord said, "You are so concerned for that plant even though you did nothing to make it grow. It appeared one day, and the next day it died. <sup>11</sup>Then shouldn't I show concern for the great city Nineveh, which has more than one hundred twenty thousand people who do not know right from wrong, and many animals, too?"

The Book of Micah

Introduction

Sometime ago I did something I hadn't done in years. I listened to the airline attendant as she gave her warnings. I normally tune her out. I usually bury my nose in a book or magazine and ignore her cautions. But this time I didn't.

I didn't, because the day before a commercial plane had gone down. As I boarded the flight I realized that if this plane crashed I would not know what to do.

So I listened. As she held up a seat belt, I buckled mine. As she described the oxygen mask, I looked up to see where it was stored. When she pointed to the exit doors, I turned to find them. That's when I noticed what she notices on every flight. No one was listening!

No one was paying attention. I was shocked. I seriously considered standing up and getting everyone's attention and shouting, "You guys better listen up. One mishap and this plane becomes a flaming mausoleum. What this lady is telling you might save your life!"

I wondered what would happen if she used more drastic means. What if she took a gasoline drenched doll and set it on fire? What if the in-flight screen portrayed images of desperate people scrambling to deboard a blazing plane? What if she marched up and down the aisle yanking away the papers and snatching the magazines, demanding that the passengers listen if they wanted to survive this flying inferno?

She would lose her job. But she would be doing us a favor. Love cautions the loved.

The Book of Micah is a warning. God's prophet warns of the terrible judgment which awaits all who ignore God. "Be prepared,” he pleads, and then explains how to prepare.

I wonder if he noticed what I noticed on the plane. Most people don't listen to warnings. Let's be the exception.

Life Lessons

Micah 1:1–2:13

Situation

Micah, a prophet from Judah, prophesied to both Israel and Judah. The people told him to be quiet.

Observation

Micah's message to the sinful people was not well received because it pointed out the worthless idols that the people worshiped instead of the one true God.

Inspiration

The New Age is, in fact, another storm warning indicating man's search for "transcendence" without regard for righteousness. Whether it's Dianetics, est, Unity, Gaea, Transcendental Meditation, Taoism, ufology, crystalology, goddess worship, reincarnation, harmonics, numerology, astrology, holistic healing, positive thinking, or any of a hundred "consciousness raising" techniques of our day, the modern age is in search for some mystical "divine unity," a search which actually testifies to the failure of modern secular humanism to satisfy the spiritual hunger of the soul.

Humanity was designed for a relationship with God. As the body craves oxygen, so the spirit craves God. We all have a passionate desire to know God and to communicate with Him, but ever since Eden we have been guilty of sin, and nothing but repentance—by humbling ourselves before the cross of Christ—will ever bring us back into fellowship with Him.

The real disaster of the cult of humanism and its New Age and other expressions is not just the foolishness of placing one's trust in such a frail, finite, and limited creature but that it separates man from the authentic source of power and meaning. David's lament in Psalm 10 has never been truer than today: "The wicked in his proud countenance does not seek God; God is in none of his thoughts" (Psalm 10:4, NKJV).

Many people have decided that there is no room for God in their lives, no need of Him. The God of Jacob is too confining. The problem, however, is that denying the existence of God cannot make Him go away any more than denying the existence of the Internal Revenue Service makes the tax man go away. Many people who have imagined a god of their own choosing will be horrified when they have to stand before the true God of heaven. For God is, and His is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. No pious idealism, no New Age fantasy, and no amount of denial can ever change that fact. . . .

In this age of humanism, man wants to believe that he can become his own god. The remark attributed to Protagoras, that "man is the measure of all things," is the central tenet of human ideology. But it is the ultimate deception of Satan: to rob men of their relationship with the God of the universe through a lie as old as Eden, that "You will be like God" (Genesis 3:5).

Because it springs from false theology, and especially because it is inspired by the deceiver himself, the New Age movement will not bow before God. Rather, it tries to manufacture its own infinitely forgiving and fallible god designed on the pantheistic concept of the oneness of man with the universe. . . . New Agers are terrified by their own mortality, and they want to believe that somehow the soul will survive. Of course it will but not as they imagine.

Someday the New Age gurus will die, even as we all must die, and their bodies will return to the earth from which God made it. Then what remains, their eternal spirits, will stand before the true and righteous and all-knowing God of creation and explain why they felt compelled to run so hard to escape the God who loved them and gave His Son as a sacrifice. They can explain why, instead, they publicized beliefs which are an abomination in the eyes of a jealous God, and they will hear His reply.

On that day, sincerity will mean nothing; hard work will mean nothing; good intentions will mean nothing. God judges every man, woman, and child by the standard of the only God-Man who ever lived, Jesus Christ. Jesus, the Innocent Lamb of God, pledged His innocence for us, to stand between our sin and the judgment of God the Father. (From Storm Warning by Billy Graham)

Application

Turn on the television or radio, pick up a magazine or a newspaper, and you will find teachers and gurus offering instant salvation and freedom. We are daily bombarded by false teachers and their teaching. In such an environment, concentrated study of God's Word becomes crucial. An extensive and thorough knowledge of God's Word is our only means of defense. Begin a habit of studying God's Word diligently.

Samaria and Israel to Be Punished

During the time that Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah were kings of Judah, the word of the Lord came to Micah, who was from Moresheth. He saw these visions about Samaria and Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup>Hear this, all you nations;
listen, earth and all you who live on it.
The Lord God will be a witness against you,
the Lord from his Holy Temple.

<sup>3</sup>See, the Lord is coming out of his place;
he is coming down to walk on the tops of the mountains.

<sup>4</sup>The mountains will melt under him, and the valleys will crack open,
like wax near a fire,
like water running down a hillside.

<sup>5</sup>All this is because of Jacob's sin, because of the sins of the nation of Israel.
What is the place of Jacob's sin?
Isn't it Samaria?
What is Judah's place of idol worship?
Isn't it Jerusalem?

The Lord Speaks

<sup>6</sup>“So I will make Samaria a pile of ruins in the open country, a place for planting vineyards.
I will pour her stones down into the valley and strip her down to her foundations.

<sup>7</sup>All her idols will be broken into pieces;
all the gifts to her idols will be burned with fire.
I will destroy all her idols, and because Samaria earned her money by being unfaithful to me, this money will be carried off by others who are not faithful to me.”

Micah's Great Sadness

<sup>8</sup>I will moan and cry because of this evil, going around barefoot and naked.
I will cry loudly like the wild dogs and make sad sounds like the owls do,

<sup>9</sup>because Samaria's wound cannot be healed.
It will spread to Judah;
it will reach the city gate of my people,
all the way to Jerusalem.

<sup>10</sup>Don't tell it in Gath.

Don't cry in Acco.
Roll in the dust
at Beth Ophrah.

<sup>11</sup>Pass on your way, naked and ashamed, you who live in Shaphir.
Those who live in Zaanan won't come out.
The people in Beth Ezel will cry,
but they will not give you any support.

<sup>12</sup>Those who live in Maroth will be anxious for good news to come, because trouble will come from the Lord,
all the way to the gate of Jerusalem.

<sup>13</sup>You people living in Lachish, harness the fastest horse to the chariot.
Jerusalem's sins started in you;
yes, Israel's sins were found in you.

<sup>14</sup>So you must give farewell gifts to Moresbeth in Gath.
The houses in Aczib will be false help to the kings of Israel.

<sup>15</sup>I will bring against you people who will take your land,
you who live in Mareshah.
The glory of Israel
will go in to Adullam.

<sup>16</sup>Cut off your hair to show you are sad for the children you love.
Make yourself bald like the eagle, because your children will be taken away to a foreign land.

The Evil Plans of People

How terrible it will be for people who plan wickedness, who lie on their beds and make evil plans.

When the morning light comes, they do what they planned,
because they have the power to do so.

<sup>2</sup>They want fields, so they take them;
they want houses, so they take them away.
They cheat people to get their houses;
they rob them even of their property.

<sup>3</sup>That is why the Lord says:
“Look, I am planning trouble against such people, and you won’t be able to save yourselves.
You will no longer walk proudly,
because it will be a terrible time.

<sup>4</sup>At that time people will make fun of you and sing this sad song about you:
“We are completely ruined;
the Lord has taken away my people’s land.
Yes, he has taken it away from me and divided our fields among our enemies!”

<sup>5</sup>So you will have no one from the Lord’s people to throw lots to divide the land.

Micah Is Asked Not to Prophecy

<sup>6</sup>The prophets say, “Don’t prophesy to us!
Don’t prophesy about these things!
Nothing to make us feel bad will happen!”

<sup>7</sup>But I must say this, people of Jacob:
The Lord is becoming angry about what you have done.

My words are welcome to the person who does what is right.

<sup>8</sup>But you are fighting against my people like an enemy.
You take the coats from people who pass by;
you rob them of their safety;
you plan war.

<sup>9</sup>You’ve forced the women of my people from their nice houses;
you’ve taken my glory
from their children forever.

<sup>10</sup>Get up and leave.
This is not your place of rest anymore.
You have made this place unclean,
and it is doomed to destruction.

<sup>11</sup>But you people want a false prophet who will tell you nothing but lies.
You want one who promises to prophesy good things for you if you give him wine and beer.

He's just the prophet for you.

The Lord Promises to Rescue His People

<sup>12c</sup>“Yes, people of Jacob, I will bring all of you together;
I will bring together all those left alive in Israel.
I will put them together like sheep in a pen,
like a flock in its pasture;
the place will be filled with many people.

<sup>13</sup>Someone will open the way and lead the people out.
The people will break through the gate and leave the city where they were held captive.
Their king will go out in front of them,
and the Lord will lead them.”

Life Lessons

Micah 3:1–5:15

Situation

Micah continued his prophecies to Judah and Jerusalem. He rebuked the present leaders but promised a perfect future leader, Christ.

Observation

God promises that one day all weapons of war will be done away with and God's people will live in total peace.

Inspiration

The Lord's promise that in "the last days" there will be peace symbolized by turning weapons into productive tools has been a hope of many Christians through the centuries including Toyohiko Kagawa, who was born in Japan in 1888.

At the age of fourteen, he enrolled in an English class taught by a Presbyterian missionary. Although he had been warned by relatives not to be influenced by Christianity, he could not resist. One year later he confessed his faith in Christ and was baptized. The real test of his faith came when Japan declared war on Russia. He was conscripted into the military along with other students, but his conscience would not permit him to train with a rifle. "All he could hear in his mind were the words of Jesus, 'Love your enemies,' and all he could see was Christ dying without resistance on the cross." His stand created an uproar. His instructor physically assaulted him, and he was attacked by fellow students.

Following his college years, Kagawa took seminary training. But he soon left his studies in order to reach out with the gospel to the impoverished and destitute slums in the city of Kobe. He lived with the people in a tin hut with a dirt floor and bamboo walls, and quickly became known among the people as “the Christian.” But despite all his sacrifice, Kagawa realized that what the impoverished people in the inner-city needed most was not handouts but organizational strength. After studying for a time in America, he returned to Japan and organized labor unions and relief programs. Then, “in 1928 he initiated the ‘Kingdom of God Movement,’ a daring nationwide evangelistic campaign to win a million Japanese to Christ.”

Once again, however, Kagawa’s faith was tested by nationalism and militarism. When Japan attacked Manchuria in 1931, he made a public apology: “To my brethren in China, Forgive the sin of Japan. Though Japanese Christians have not the power to oppose military force, some of them regret the sin of Japan. I wish the day of reconciliation may soon come.” He was even more distressed by the bombing of Pearl Harbor in 1941 and the U.S. retaliation—a retaliation that seemed incomprehensible to him because it was coming from a “Christian” nation.

Kagawa lived out his life seeking to beat swords into plowshares. He wanted to stop the senseless killing and to raise the standard of living of the poor. He seemed to meet with little success in light of the military build-up in both the East and the West. At times he seemed to be one lone Christian against the rest of the world—a man whose motto was the hymn, “Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross.” (From Stories of Faith by Ruth A. Tucker)

Application

Christians should pray for peace and harmony in the world. Pick up today’s newspaper and pray for an area of the world where people are suffering from the horrible consequences of war. Pray that your fellow Christians there will stand strong in their difficult circumstances.

Exploration

Pursue Peace—Psalm 34:14; Matthew 5:9; Mark 9:50; Romans 12:18; Colossians 3:15; Hebrews 12:14.

The Leaders of Israel Are Guilty of Evil

Then I said,
“Listen, leaders of the people of Jacob;
listen, you rulers of the nation of Israel.
You should know how to decide cases fairly,

<sup>2</sup>but you hate good and love evil.
You skin my people alive and tear the flesh off their bones.

<sup>3</sup>You eat my people’s flesh and skin them and break their bones;
you chop them up like meat for the pot,
like meat in a cooking pan.

<sup>4</sup>They will cry to the Lord,
but he won’t answer them.
At that time he will hide his face from them, because what they have done is evil.”

<sup>5</sup>The Lord says this about the prophets who teach his people the wrong way of living:

“If these prophets are given food to eat,
they shout, ‘Peace!’
But if someone doesn’t give them what they ask for, they call for a holy war against that person.

<sup>6</sup>So it will become like night for them, without visions.
It will become dark for them, without any way to tell the future.

The sun is about to set for the prophets;
their day will become dark.

<sup>7</sup>The seers will be ashamed;
the people who see the future will be embarrassed.
Yes, all of them will cover their mouths,
because there will be no answer from God.”

Micah Is an Honest Prophet of God

<sup>8</sup>But I am filled with power, with the Spirit of the Lord,
and with justice and strength, to tell the people of Jacob how they have turned against God,
and the people of Israel how they have sinned.

<sup>9</sup>Leaders of Jacob and rulers of Israel, listen to me,
you who hate fairness and twist what is right.

<sup>10</sup>You build Jerusalem by murdering people;
you build it with evil.

<sup>11</sup>Its judges take money to decide who wins in court.
Its priests only teach for pay, and its prophets only look into the future when they get paid.

But they lean on the Lord and say,
“The Lord is here with us,
so nothing bad will happen to us.”

<sup>12</sup>Because of you,
Jerusalem will be plowed like a field.
The city will become a pile of rocks, and the hill on which the Temple stands will be covered with bushes.

The Mountain of the Lord

In the last days
the mountain on which the Lord's Temple stands will become the most important of all mountains.
It will be raised above the hills, and people from other nations will come streaming to
it.

<sup>2</sup>Many nations will come and say,
"Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord,
to the Temple of the God of Jacob,
so that he can teach us his ways,
and we can obey his teachings."
His teachings will go out from Jerusalem,
the word of the Lord from that city.

<sup>3</sup>The Lord will judge many nations;
he will make decisions about strong nations that are far away.

They will hammer their swords into plow blades and their spears into hooks for trimming trees.
Nations will no longer raise swords against other nations;
they will not train for war anymore.

<sup>4</sup>Everyone will sit under his own vine and fig tree,
and no one will make them afraid,
because the Lord All-Powerful has said it.

<sup>5</sup>All other nations may follow their own gods, but we will follow the Lord our God forever and ever.

<sup>6</sup>The Lord says, “At that time,

I will gather the crippled;
I will bring together those who were sent away,
those whom I caused to have trouble.

<sup>7</sup>I will keep alive those who were crippled, and I will make a strong nation of those who were sent away.

The Lord will be their king in Mount Zion from now on and forever.

<sup>8</sup>And you, watchtower of the flocks, hill of Jerusalem, to you will come the kingdom as in the past.
Jerusalem, the right to rule will come again to you.”

Why the Israelites Must Go to Babylon

<sup>9</sup>Now, why do you cry so loudly?
Is your king gone?
Have you lost your helper, so that you are in pain, like a woman trying to give birth?

<sup>10</sup>People of Jerusalem, strain and be in pain.
Be like a woman trying to give birth, because now you must leave the city and live in the field.

You will go to Babylon,
but you will be saved from that place.
The Lord will go there and buy you back from your enemies.

<sup>11</sup>But now many nations have come to fight against you, saying, "Let's destroy Jerusalem.
We will look at her and be glad we have defeated her."

<sup>12</sup>But they don't know what the Lord is thinking;
they don't understand his plan.
He has gathered them like bundles of grain to the threshing floor.

<sup>13</sup>"Get up and beat them, people of Jerusalem.
I will make you strong as if you had horns of iron and hoofs of bronze.
You will beat many nations into small pieces and give their wealth to the Lord, their treasure to the Lord of all the earth."

So, strong city, gather your soldiers together, because we are surrounded and attacked.
They will hit the leader of Israel in the face with a club.

The Ruler to Be Born in Bethlehem

<sup>2</sup>“But you, Bethlehem Ephrathah, though you are too small to be among the army groups from Judah,
from you will come one who will rule Israel for me.
He comes from very old times,
from days long ago.”

<sup>3</sup>The Lord will give up his people until the one who is having a baby gives birth; then the rest of his relatives will return to the people of Israel.

<sup>4</sup>At that time the ruler of Israel will stand and take care of his people with the Lord’s strength and with the power of the name of the Lord his God.
The Israelites will live in safety, because his greatness will reach all over the earth.

<sup>5</sup>He will bring peace.

Rescue and Punishment

Assyria will surely come into our country and walk over our large buildings.

We will set up seven shepherds,
eight leaders of the people.

<sup>6</sup>They will destroy the Assyrians with their swords;
they will conquer the land of Assyria with their swords drawn.

They will rescue us from the Assyrians when they come into our land,
when they walk over our borders.

<sup>7</sup>Then the people of Jacob who are left alive will be to other people like dew from the Lord or rain on the grass—
it does not wait for human beings;
it does not pause for any person.

<sup>8</sup>Those of Jacob's people who are left alive will be scattered among many nations and peoples.
They will be like a lion among the animals of the forest, like a young lion in a flock of sheep:
As it goes, it jumps on them and tears them to pieces,
and no one can save them.

<sup>9</sup>So you will raise your fist in victory over your enemies,
and all your enemies will be destroyed.

<sup>10</sup>The Lord says, "At that time,
I will take your horses from you and destroy your chariots.

<sup>11</sup>I will destroy the cities in your country and tear down all your defenses.

<sup>12</sup>I will take away the magic charms you use so you will have no more fortune-tellers.

<sup>13</sup>I will destroy your statues of gods and the stone pillars you worship so that you will no longer worship what your hands have made.

<sup>14</sup>I will tear down Asherah idols from you and destroy your cities.

<sup>15</sup>In my anger and rage,
I will pay back the nations that have not listened.”

Life Lessons

Micah 6:1–7:20

Situation

These chapters include both an indictment of Israel for her sin and a promise of future blessing.

Observation

Micah knew that sacrifices were outward expressions of inner faith and trust. What God desired most of all was for Israel to relate to him in a heartfelt, personal way—not just in some superficial, ritualistic fashion.

Inspiration

In my closet is a varsity football jacket. I earned it by playing two years of high-school football. It, too, is a symbol. It's symbolic of sweat and work and long hours on the practice field. The jacket and a sore knee are reminders of something I could do twenty years ago. Do you think if I put the jacket on now I'd instantly be twenty pounds lighter and a whole lot faster? Do you think if I wore that jacket into the office of a coach he'd extend his hand and say, "We've been waiting for a player like you. Go out there and suit up!"?

Hogwash. That jacket is merely a memoir of something I once did. It says nothing about what I could do today. It alone doesn't transform me, empower me, or enable me.

Neither does your heritage, even if you're a descendant of John Wesley.

Neither does your communion service, even if you double up on the wafers.

Neither does your baptism, even if you got dunked in the Jordan River.

Please understand. Symbols are important. Some of them, like communion and baptism, illustrate the cross of Christ. They symbolize salvation, demonstrate salvation, even articulate salvation. But they do not impart salvation.

Putting your trust in a symbol is like claiming to be a sailor because you have a tattoo or claiming to be a good husband because you have a ring or claiming to be a football player because you have a letter jacket.

Do we honestly think God would save his children based upon a symbol?

What kind of God would look at a religious hypocrite and say, “You’ve never loved me, sought me or obeyed me, but because your name was on the roll of a church in the right denomination I will save you”?

On the other hand, what kind of God would look at the sincere seeker and say, “You dedicated your life to loving me and loving my children. You surrendered your heart and confessed your sins. I want to save you so badly. I’m so sorry, your church took communion one time a month too many. Because of a technicality, you are forever lost in hell”?

Hogwash. Our God is abundant in love and steadfast in mercy. He saves us, not because we trust in a symbol, but because we trust in a Savior. (From

In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

Application

What are you trusting to save you from your sins? The blood of Jesus Christ and his sacrifice alone? Or are you adding to it some symbol, tradition, or religious practice? What God wants is a personal relationship, not an external connection only. Make sure you are connected to him by faith. If you are trusting in Christ alone for your salvation, then study the Scriptures to find a proper place for symbols, ceremonies, and observances.

The Lord's Case

Now hear what the Lord says:

“Get up; plead your case in front of the mountains;
let the hills hear your story.

<sup>2</sup>Mountains, listen to the Lord's legal case.
Foundations of the earth, listen.
The Lord has a legal case against his people,
and he will accuse Israel.”

<sup>3</sup>He says, “My people, what did I do to you?
How did I make you tired of me?
Tell me.

<sup>4</sup>I brought you from the land of Egypt and freed you from slavery;
I sent Moses, Aaron, and Miriam to you.

<sup>5</sup>My people, remember the evil plans of Balak king of Moab and what Balaam son of Beor told Balak.
Remember what happened from Acacia to Gilgal so that you will know the Lord does what is right!”

<sup>6</sup>You say, “What can I bring with me when I come before the Lord,
when I bow before God on high?

Should I come before him with burnt offerings, with year-old calves?

<sup>7</sup>Will the Lord be pleased with a thousand male sheep?
Will he be pleased with ten thousand rivers of oil?
Should I give my first child for the evil I have done?
Should I give my very own child for my sin?"

<sup>8</sup>The Lord has told you, human, what is good;
he has told you what he wants from you:
to do what is right to other people,
love being kind to others,
and live humbly, obeying your God.

<sup>9</sup>The voice of the Lord calls to the city, and the wise person honors him.
So pay attention to the rod of punishment;
pay attention to the One who threatens to punish.

<sup>10</sup>Are there still in the wicked house wicked treasures
and the cursed false measure?

<sup>11</sup>Can I forgive people who cheat others with wrong weights and scales?

<sup>12</sup>The rich people of the city do cruel things.
Its people tell lies;
they do not tell the truth.

<sup>13</sup>As for me, I will make you sick.
I will attack you, ruining you because of your sins.

<sup>14</sup>You will eat, but you won't become full;
you will still be hungry and empty.
You will store up, but save nothing, and what you store up, the sword will destroy.

<sup>15</sup>You will plant, but you won't harvest.
You will step on your olives,
but you won't get any oil from them.
You will crush the grapes,
but you will not drink the new wine.

<sup>16</sup>This is because you obey the laws of King Omri and do all the things that Ahab's family does;
you follow their advice.
So I will let you be destroyed.
The people in your city will be laughed at,
and other nations will make fun of you.

The Evil That People Do

Poor me! I am like a hungry man, and all the summer fruit has been picked—there are no grapes left to eat, none of the early figs I love.

<sup>2</sup>All of the faithful people are gone;
there is not one good person left in this country.
Everyone is waiting to kill someone;
everyone is trying to trap someone else.

<sup>3</sup>With both hands they are doing evil.
Rulers ask for money,
and judges' decisions are bought for a price.
Rich people tell what they want,
and they get it.

<sup>4</sup>Even the best of them is like a thornbush;
the most honest of them is worse than a prickly plant.
The day that your watchmen warned you about has come.
Now they will be confused.

<sup>5</sup>Don't believe your neighbor or trust a friend.
Don't say anything,
even to your wife.

<sup>6</sup>A son will not honor his father, a daughter will turn against her mother, and a daughter-in-law will be against her mother-in-law;

a person's enemies will be members of his own family.

The Lord's Kindness

<sup>7</sup>Israel says, "I will look to the Lord for help.
I will wait for God to save me;
my God will hear me.

<sup>8</sup>Enemy, don't laugh at me.
I have fallen, but I will get up again.
I sit in the shadow of trouble now,
but the Lord will be a light for me.

<sup>9</sup>I sinned against the Lord,
so he was angry with me,
but he will defend my case in court.
He will bring about what is right for me.
Then he will bring me out into the light,
and I will see him set things right.

<sup>10</sup>Then my enemies will see this,
and they will be ashamed,
those who said to me,
'Where is the Lord your God?'
I will look down on them.
They will get walked on, like mud in the street."

Israel Will Return

<sup>11</sup>The time will come when your walls will be built again, when your country will grow.

<sup>12</sup>At that time your people will come back to you from Assyria and the cities of Egypt, and from Egypt to the Euphrates River, and from sea to sea and mountain to mountain.

<sup>13</sup>The earth will be ruined for the people who live in it because of their deeds.

A Prayer to God

<sup>14</sup>So shepherd your people with your stick; tend the flock of people who belong to you.
That flock now lives alone in the forest in the middle of a garden land.
Let them feed in Bashan and Gilead
as in days long ago.

<sup>15</sup>“As in the days when I brought you out of Egypt,
I will show them miracles.”

<sup>16</sup>When the nations see those miracles, they will no longer brag about their power.
They will put their hands over their mouths,
refusing to listen.

<sup>17</sup>They will crawl in the dust like a snake

They will crawl in the dust like a snake, like insects crawling on the ground.
They will come trembling from their holes to the Lord
our God
and will turn in fear before you.

<sup>18</sup>There is no God like you.
You forgive those who are guilty of sin;
you don't look at the sins of your people who are left alive.
You will not stay angry forever,
because you enjoy being kind.

<sup>19</sup>You will have mercy on us again;
you will conquer our sins.
You will throw away all our sins into the deepest part of the sea.

<sup>20</sup>You will be true to the people of Jacob, and you will be kind to the people of Abraham as you promised to our ancestors long ago.

watchtower ... flocks This probably means a part of Jerusalem. The leaders would be like shepherds in a tower watching their sheep.

The Book of Nahum

Introduction

Remember the playground bully? He was big and tough and he enjoyed pushing kids around. Everyone was afraid of him (even some of the teachers, you thought)—he seemed invincible. But over the next few years, the other boys grew past him—bigger, stronger, faster. Then the bully didn't seem so tough or frightening as before.

Assyria was the bully of the Middle East, the conqueror of many nations including Israel. This nation's power, epitomized by Nineveh, the capital city, was awesome and overwhelming. Proud and defiant, Assyria plundered, oppressed, and slaughtered its victims.

Enter Nahum, the prophet.

Nahum pronounced God's judgment upon this prideful and wicked people, exclaiming that powerful Assyria would be utterly destroyed. His prediction was fulfilled within fifty years.

This book provides strong testimony to God's ultimate power and justice—he calls all people to live under his rule: nations, cities, parents, neighborhood bullies ... and you.

Perhaps you don't have to remember a bully. There may be one in your world today. Huge debt, ugly guilt. Bossy employer. If so, remember what Nahum announced thousands of years ago: Your father is bigger than any bully.

3. The Cause and Inevitability of the Destruction 3:1-19

Life Lessons

Nahum 1:1–3:19

Situation

The Assyrian Empire conquered Israel and harassed Judah. God offered to free Judah from Assyrian oppression by destroying Assyria's wicked capital, Nineveh.

Observation

God doesn't want people to fail; rather, he gives them opportunities to repent and enter Heaven. But if they persist in sin, they will be punished.

Inspiration

God has no needs. Human love, as Plato teaches us, is the child of Poverty—of want or lack; it is caused by a real or supposed good in its beloved which the lover needs and desires. But God's love, far from being caused by goodness in the object, causes all the goodness which the object has, loving it first into existence and then into real, though derivative, loveability. God is Goodness. He can give good, but cannot need or get it. In that sense all His love is, as it were, bottomlessly selfless by very definition; it has everything to give and nothing to receive. (From The Problem of Pain by C. S. Lewis as quoted in The Quotable Lewis)

Application

Do you feel empty? Overwhelmed? Do you wonder why you have to face difficult trials? Memorize Nahum 1:7 and take confidence in God who remains good.

Exploration

God's Judgment—1 Chronicles 13:10–14; Psalm 75:8; Matthew 24:51; Romans 2:5–11.

This is the message for the city of Nineveh. This is the book of the vision of Nahum, who was from the town of Elkosh.

The Lord Is Angry with Nineveh

<sup>2</sup>The Lord is a jealous God who punishes;
the Lord punishes and is filled with anger.
The Lord punishes those who are against him, and he stays angry with his enemies.

<sup>3</sup>The Lord does not become angry quickly, and his power is great.
The Lord will not let the guilty go unpunished.
Where the Lord goes, there are whirlwinds and storms, and the clouds are the dust beneath his feet.

<sup>4</sup>He speaks to the sea and makes it dry;
he dries up all the rivers.
The areas of Bashan and Carmel dry up, and the flowers of Lebanon dry up.

<sup>5</sup>The mountains shake in front of him, and the hills melt.
The earth trembles when he comes;
the world and all who live in it shake with fear.

<sup>6</sup>No one can stay alive when he is angry;
no one can survive his strong anger.

His anger is poured out like fire;
the rocks are smashed by him.

<sup>7</sup>The Lord is good, giving protection in times of trouble.
He knows who trusts in him.

<sup>8</sup>But like a rushing flood,
he will completely destroy Nineveh;
he will chase his enemies until he kills them.

<sup>9</sup>The Lord will completely destroy anyone making plans against him.
Trouble will not come a second time.

<sup>10</sup>Those people will be like tangled thorns or like people drunk from their wine;
they will be burned up quickly like dry weeds.

<sup>11</sup>Someone has come from Nineveh who makes evil plans against the Lord and gives wicked advice.

<sup>12</sup>This is what the Lord says:

“Although Assyria is strong and has many people,
it will be defeated and brought to an end.
Although I have made you suffer, Judah,
I will make you suffer no more.

<sup>13</sup>Now I will free you from their control and tear away your chains.”

<sup>14</sup>The Lord has given you this command, Nineveh:
“You will not have descendants to carry on your name.

I will destroy the idols and metal images that are in the temple of your gods.

I will make a grave for you,
because you are wicked.”

<sup>15</sup>Look, there on the hills, someone is bringing good news!

He is announcing peace!

Celebrate your feasts, people of Judah,
and give your promised sacrifices to God.

The wicked will not come to attack you again;
they have been completely destroyed.

Nineveh Will Be Defeated

The destroyer is coming to attack you, Nineveh.
Guard the defenses.
Watch the road.
Get ready.
Gather all your strength!

<sup>2</sup>Destroyers have destroyed God's people and ruined their vines, but the Lord will bring back Jacob's greatness like Israel's greatness.

<sup>3</sup>The shields of his soldiers are red;
the army is dressed in red.
The metal on the chariots flashes like fire when they are ready to attack;
their horses are excited.

<sup>4</sup>The chariots race through the streets and rush back and forth through the city squares.
They look like torches;
they run like lightning.

<sup>5</sup>He calls his officers, but they stumble on the way.
They hurry to the city wall,
and the shield is put into place.

<sup>6</sup>The river gates are thrown open, and the palace is destroyed.

<sup>7</sup>It has been announced that the people of Nineveh will be captured and carried away.

The slave girls moan like doves and beat their breasts, because they are sad.

<sup>8</sup>Nineveh is like a pool, and now its water is draining away.
“Stop! Stop!” the people yell, but no one turns back.

<sup>9</sup>Take the silver!
Take the gold!
There is no end to the treasure—piles of wealth of every kind.

<sup>10</sup>Nineveh is robbed, ruined, and destroyed.
The people lose their courage, and their knees knock.
Stomachs ache, and everyone’s face grows pale.

<sup>11</sup>Where is the lions’ den and the place where they feed their young?
Where did the lion, lioness, and cubs go without being afraid?

<sup>12</sup>The lion killed enough for his cubs, enough for his mate.
He filled his cave with the animals he caught;
he filled his den with meat he had killed.

<sup>13</sup>“I am against you, Nineveh,” says the Lord All-Powerful.
“I will burn up your chariots in smoke,
and the sword will kill your young lions.
I will stop you from hunting down others on the earth, and your messengers' voices will no longer be heard.”

It Will Be Terrible for Nineveh

How terrible it will be for the city that has killed so many.

It is full of lies and goods stolen from other countries.
It is always killing somebody.

<sup>2</sup>Hear the sound of whips and the noise of the wheels.
Hear horses galloping and chariots bouncing along!

<sup>3</sup>Horses are charging, swords are shining,
spears are gleaming!
Many are dead;
their bodies are piled up—
too many to count.
People stumble over the dead bodies.

<sup>4</sup>The city was like a prostitute;
she was charming and a lover of magic.
She made nations slaves with her prostitution and her witchcraft.

<sup>5</sup>“I am against you, Nineveh,” says the Lord All-Powerful.

“I will pull your dress up over your face and show the nations your nakedness and the kingdoms your shame.

<sup>6</sup>I will throw nitny garbage on you and make a fool of you.
I will make people stare at you.

<sup>7</sup>Everyone who sees you will run away and say, ‘Nineveh is in ruins. Who will cry for her?’
Nineveh, where will I find anyone to comfort you?’

<sup>8</sup>You are no better than Thebes, who sits by the Nile River with water all around her.
The river was her defense;
the waters were like a wall around her.

<sup>9</sup>Cush and Egypt gave her endless strength;
Put and Libya supported her.

<sup>10</sup>But Thebes was captured and went into captivity.
Her small children were beaten to death
at every street corner.
Lots were thrown for her important men,
and all of her leaders were put in chains.

<sup>11</sup>Nineveh, you will be drunk, too.
You will hide;
you will look for a place safe from the enemy.

<sup>12</sup>All your defenses are like fig trees with ripe fruit.
When the tree is shaken, the figs fall into the mouth of the eater.

<sup>13</sup>Look at your soldiers.
They are all women!

The gates of your land are wide open for your enemies;
fire has burned the bars of your gates.

<sup>14</sup>Get enough water before the long war begins.
Make your defenses strong!
Get mud,
mix clay,
make bricks!

<sup>15</sup>There the fire will burn you up.
The sword will kill you;
like grasshoppers eating crops, the battle will completely destroy you.
Grow in number like hopping locusts;
grow in number like swarming locusts!

<sup>16</sup>Your traders are more than the stars in the sky, but like locusts, they strip the land and then fly away.

<sup>17</sup>Your guards are like locusts.
Your officers are like swarms of locusts that hang on the walls on a cold day.
When the sun comes up, they fly away,
and no one knows where they have gone.

<sup>18</sup>King of Assyria, your rulers are asleep;
your important men lie down to rest.
Your people have been scattered on the mountains, and there is no one to bring them back.

<sup>19</sup>Nothing can heal your wound;

your injury will not heal.
Everyone who hears about you applauds, because everyone has felt your endless cruelty.

Nineveh The capital city of the country of Assyria. Nahum uses Nineveh to stand for all of Assyria.

destroyer The Babylonians, the Scythians, and the Medes destroyed Nineveh.

He This probably means the king of Assyria.

lions' The symbol of Assyria was the lion.

Thebes A great city in Egypt.

The Book of Habakkuk

Introduction

Here's a challenge. Find one sincere seeker whom God ignored. Search the Bible for one honest person spurned by heaven. Go ahead. Flip the pages. Examine the Scriptures. Read the stories. Where in the Bible did God turn away the genuine heart? Where in history did God spurn the authentic soul?

Thomas came with doubts. Did Christ turn him away?

Moses had his reservations. Did God tell him to go home?

Job had his struggles. Did God avoid him?

Paul had his hard times. Did God abandon him?

And Habakkuk had his questions. Tough questions. Get-down-and-get-honest type of questions.

Lord, how long must I ask for help and you ignore me? (1:2).

How can you put up with those evil people? (1:13).

Did God tell him to talk to someone else?

No. God never turns away the sincere heart. Tough questions don't stump God. He invites our probing. And that is what Habakkuk did. He probed. As well as speaking for God, he spoke to God. He dared to ask his own troubling questions.

Were all his questions answered? I don't know. But I do know Habakkuk was satisfied. You might want to underline his declaration of devotion found in chapter three:

Fig trees may not grow figs, and there may be no grapes on the vines. There may be no olives growing and no food growing in the fields. There may be no sheep in the pens and no cattle in the barns. But I will still be glad in the Lord; I will rejoice in God my Savior (vv. 17-18).

Mark it down. God never turns away the honest seeker. Go to God with your questions. You may not find all the answers, but in finding God, you know the One who does.

Life Lessons

Habakkuk 1:1–3:19

Situation

Judah was making alliances with other nations. God was bringing judgment on Judah through the Babylonians. Habakkuk prophesied at the same time as Jeremiah.

Observation

In the face of great trouble, Habakkuk brought his questions to God. After hearing God's answer, he responded with a prayer of faith (3:2). He asked God to do great miracles.

Inspiration

Have you ever seen someone unconscious? Such a person will usually have vital signs but is not aware of anything that is occurring. There is also a lack of any perception of reality.

There is a difference between revival and resuscitation. Resuscitation is used on a person who is dead and whom the doctors are trying to bring back to life. Revival is for a person who is alive but unconscious. Spiritually, we can be unconscious and completely out of touch with the Spirit of God. We may be unaware of the God who made us and what He wants to do in and through us.

When one comes to Christ in faith and is born again, he or she is brought back from the dead into life. But when revival occurs, a person who is already a Christian is brought back from the brink of apathy, of taking God for granted, of ignoring God and trying to live under one's own power and strength. This can be deadly for others, because the Christian in need of revival is not producing any fruit for God.

We have not seen a revival in America since shortly after the turn of the twentieth century. But, as the hymn says, "Lord, send a revival and let it begin with me." If we are to see a revival in our nation, it must begin in the hearts of individual believers. What are you doing in your daily walk with God that will bring revival to your life? (From Unto the Hills by Billy Graham)

Application

What are three Situations that could depress you or make you anxious today? Give them to God in prayer. Ask God to help you trust him and give you the strength to do his will.

Exploration

Strength Through Prayer—Matthew 21:21-22;
James 1:5-6.

This is one piece of luggage God hates. He doesn't dislike arrogance. He doesn't disapprove of arrogance. He's not unfavorably disposed toward arrogance. God hates arrogance. —Max Lucado (Traveling Light)

This is the message Habakkuk the prophet received.

Habakkuk Complains

<sup>2</sup>Lord, how long must I ask for help and you ignore me?
I cry out to you about violence,
but you do not save us!

<sup>3</sup>Why do you make me see wrong things and make me look at trouble?
People are destroying things and hurting others in front of me;
they are arguing and fighting.

<sup>4</sup>So the teachings are weak, and justice never comes.
Evil people gain while good people lose;
the judges no longer make fair decisions.

The Lord Answers

<sup>5</sup>“Look at the nations!

Watch them and be amazed and shocked.
I will do something in your lifetime that you won't believe even when you are told about
it.

<sup>6</sup>I will use the Babylonians, those cruel and wild people who march across the earth and take lands that don't belong to them.

<sup>7</sup>They scare and frighten people.
They do what they want to do and are good only to themselves.

<sup>8</sup>Their horses are faster than leopards and quicker than wolves at sunset.
Their horse soldiers attack quickly;
they come from places far away.
They attack quickly, like an eagle swooping down for food.

<sup>9</sup>They all come to fight.
Nothing can stop them.
Their prisoners are as many as the grains of sand.

<sup>10</sup>They laugh at kings and make fun of rulers.
They laugh at all the strong, walled cities and build dirt piles to the top of the walls to capture
them.

<sup>11</sup>Then they leave like the wind and move on.

They are guilty of worshipping their own strength.”

Habakkuk Complains Again

<sup>12</sup>Lord, you live forever, my God, my holy God.
We will not die.

Lord, you have chosen the Babylonians to punish people;
our Rock, you picked them to punish.

<sup>13</sup>Your eyes are too good to look at evil;
you cannot stand to see those who do wrong.
So how can you put up with those evil people?
How can you be quiet when the wicked swallow up people who are better than they are?

<sup>14</sup>You treat people like fish in the sea, like sea animals without a leader.

<sup>15</sup>The enemy brings them in with hooks.
He catches them in his net and drags them in his fishnet.
So he rejoices and sings for joy.

<sup>16</sup>The enemy offers sacrifices to his net and burns incense to worship it, because it lets him live like the rich and enjoy the best food.

<sup>17</sup>Will he keep on taking riches with his net?

Will he go on destroying people without showing mercy?

I will stand like a guard to watch and place myself at the tower.
I will wait to see what he will say to me;
I will wait to learn how God will answer my complaint.

The Lord Answers

<sup>2</sup>The Lord answered me:

“Write down the vision;
write it clearly on clay tablets
so whoever reads it can run to tell others.

<sup>3</sup>It is not yet time for the message to come true, but that time is coming soon;
the message will come true.
It may seem like a long time, but be patient and wait for it,
because it will surely come;
it will not be delayed.

<sup>4</sup>The evil nation is very proud of itself;
it is not living as it should.
But those who are right with God will live by trusting in him.

<sup>5</sup>“Just as wine can trick a person, those who are too proud will not last,
because their desire is like a grave’s desire for death,
and like death they always want more.
They gather other nations for themselves and collect for themselves all the countries.

<sup>6</sup>But all the nations the Babylonians have hurt will laugh at them.

They will make fun of the Babylonians and say, 'How terrible it will be for the one that steals many things.

How long will that nation get rich by forcing others to pay them?'

<sup>7</sup>“One day the people from whom you have taken money will turn against you.

They will realize what is happening and make you shake with fear.

Then they will take everything you have.

<sup>8</sup>Because you have stolen from many nations, those who are left will take much from you.

This is because you have killed many people, destroying countries and cities and everyone in them.

<sup>9</sup>“How terrible it will be for the nation that becomes rich by doing wrong, thinking they will live in a safe place
and escape harm.

<sup>10</sup>Because you have made plans to destroy many people,

you have made your own houses ashamed of you.
Because of it, you will lose your lives.

<sup>11</sup>The stones of the walls will cry out against you, and the boards that support the roof will agree that you are wrong.

<sup>12c</sup>How terrible it will be for the nation that kills people to build a city,
that wrongs others to start a town.

<sup>13</sup>The Lord All-Powerful will send fire to destroy what those people have built;
all the nations' work will be for nothing.

<sup>14</sup>Then, just as water covers the sea, people everywhere will know the Lord's glory.

<sup>15c</sup>How terrible for the nation that makes its neighbors drink, pouring from the jug of wine until they are drunk
so that it can look at their naked bodies.

<sup>16</sup>You Babylonians will be filled with disgrace, not respect.

It's your turn to drink and fall to the ground like a drunk person.

The cup of anger from the Lord's right hand is coming around to you.

You will receive disgrace, not respect.

<sup>17</sup>You hurt many people in Lebanon, but now you will be hurt.

You killed many animals there,
and now you must be afraid because of what you did to that land, those cities, and the people who lived in them.

The Message About Idols

<sup>18</sup>“An idol does no good, because a human made it;
it is only a statue that teaches lies.

The one who made it expects his own work to help him, but he makes idols that can't even speak!

<sup>19</sup>How terrible it will be for the one who says to a wooden statue, ‘Come to life!’

How terrible it will be for the one who says to a silent stone, ‘Get up!’

It cannot tell you what to do.

It is only a statue covered with gold and silver;
there is no life in it.

<sup>20</sup>The Lord is in his Holy Temple;
all the earth should be silent in his presence.”

Habakkuk's Prayer

This is the prayer of Habakkuk the prophet, on shigionoth.

<sup>2</sup>Lord, I have heard the news about you;
I am amazed at what you have done.
Lord, do great things once again in our time;
make those things happen again in our own days.
Even when you are angry,
remember to be kind.

<sup>3</sup>God is coming from Teman;
the Holy One comes from Mount Paran.

Selah

His glory covers the skies, and his praise fills the earth.

<sup>4</sup>He is like a bright light.
Rays of light shine from his hand,
and there he hides his power.

<sup>5</sup>Sickness goes before him, and disease follows behind him.

<sup>6</sup>He stands and shakes the earth.
He looks, and the nations shake with fear.
The mountains, which stood for ages, break into pieces;
the old hills fall down.
God has always done this.

<sup>7</sup>I saw that the tents of Cushan were in trouble and that the tents of Midian trembled.

<sup>8</sup>Lord, were you angry at the rivers, or were you angry at the streams?
Were you angry with the sea
when you rode your horses and chariots of victory?

<sup>9</sup>You uncovered your bow and commanded many arrows to be brought to you.

Selah

You split the earth with rivers.

<sup>10</sup>The mountains saw you and shook with fear.
The rushing water flowed.
The sea made a loud noise,
and its waves rose high.

<sup>11</sup>The sun and moon stood still in the sky; they stopped when they saw the flash of your flying arrows
and the gleam of your shining spear.

<sup>12</sup>In anger you marched on the earth;
in anger you punished the nations.

<sup>13</sup>You came out to save your people, to save your chosen one.
You crushed the leader of the wicked ones and took everything he had, from head to toe.

Selah

<sup>14</sup>With the enemy's own spear you stabbed the leader of his army.

His soldiers rushed out like a storm to scatter us.
They were happy
as they were robbing the poor people in secret.

<sup>15</sup>But you marched through the sea with your horses, stirring the great waters.

<sup>16</sup>I hear these things, and my body trembles;
my lips tremble when I hear the sound.

My bones feel weak,
and my legs shake.

But I will wait patiently for the day of disaster that will come to the people who attack us.

<sup>17</sup>Fig trees may not grow figs,
and there may be no grapes on the vines.

There may be no olives growing and no food growing in the fields.

There may be no sheep in the pens and no cattle in the barns.

<sup>18</sup>But I will still be glad in the Lord;
I will rejoice in God my Savior.

<sup>19</sup>The Lord God is my strength.

He makes me like a deer that does not stumble
so I can walk on the steep mountains.

For the director of music. On my stringed instruments.

Teman ... Paran God is seen as again coming from the direction of Mount Sinai. He came from Sinai when he rescued his people from Egypt.

sea ... victory This is probably talking about the Israelites crossing the Red Sea.

The Book of Zephaniah

Introduction

Rain can be depressing—constant dripping, wet clothes, mud, gray skies, and distant thunder. After many days of rain, we listen intently for positive clues in weather reports and search the skies for a sunny break in the clouds. We look for signs of change.

God's spokesman, Zephaniah, had nothing but doom and gloom to tell the people of Judah. Most of his prophecies, and thus most of this book (two and one-half chapters to be exact), tell of God's terrible judgment upon the nations, including Judah herself. His words, like the steady pounding of rain, continued to beat the depressing truth that God was not happy with the way people had flaunted his laws and had worshiped idols and he would punish their sin, wiping out entire nations.

That constant negative, and truthful, message would be enough to depress even the most positive optimist.

Suddenly, a ray of hope broke through the clouds. Check out the last eleven verses of the book. God says: "At that time I will gather you; at that time I will bring you back home. I will give you honor and praise from people everywhere when I make things go well again for you, as you will see with your own eyes" (3:20).

Hear God's Word through his faithful prophet—surely he will judge sin. But there is hope, deliverance, and salvation for those who trust in him. The storm is over; take a walk in the sun!

Life Lessons

Zephaniah 1:1–3:20

Situation

Zephaniah prophesied during the reign of King Josiah and warned the Israelites that their sins would bring God’s approaching judgment.

Observation

After prophecies involving judgment, Zephaniah spoke of future blessings.

Inspiration

To whom was he [God] speaking when he said, “I love you people with a love that will last forever” (Jeremiah 31:3)? Was he playing games when he said, “Nothing ... will ever be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ” (Romans 8:39)? Buried in the seldom-quarried mines of the minor prophets is this jewel:

The Lord your God is with you; the mighty One will save you. He will rejoice over you. You will rest in his love; he will sing and be joyful about you. (Zephaniah 3:17)

Don’t move too quickly through that verse. Read it again and prepare yourself for a surprise.

The Lord your God is with you; the mighty One will save you. He will rejoice over you. You will rest in his love; he will sing and be joyful about you. (Zephaniah 3:17)

Note who is active and who is passive. Who is singing, and who is resting? Who is rejoicing over his loved one, and who is being rejoiced over?

We tend to think we are the singers and God is the “singer.” Most certainly that is often the case. But apparently there are times when God wishes we would just be still and (what a stunning thought!) let him sing over us.

I can see you squirming. You say you aren’t worthy of such affection? Neither was Judas, but Jesus washed his feet. Neither was Peter, but Jesus fixed him breakfast. Neither were the Emmaus-bound disciples, but Jesus took time to sit at their table.

Besides, who are we to determine if we are worthy? Our job is simply to be still long enough to let him have us and let him love us.

(From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you feel unworthy of God’s love? Allow yourself to bask in his love, his rest, and yes, even his song for you! Take time today to sit quietly before the Lord and ask him to show you how much he cares personally about you.

Exploration

God’s Love—Psalm 36; John 3:16; Romans 5:8; 8:39; Ephesians 1:4–5; 1 John 4:10–11.

This is the word of the Lord that came through Zephaniah while Josiah son of Amon was king of Judah. Zephaniah was the son of Cushi, who was the son of Gedaliah. Gedaliah was the son of Amariah, who was the son of Hezekiah.

The Lord's Judgment

<sup>2</sup>“I will sweep away everything from the earth,” says the Lord.

<sup>3</sup>“I will sweep away the people and animals; I will destroy the birds in the air and the fish of the sea. I will ruin the evil people, and I will remove human beings from the earth,” says the Lord.

The Future of Judah

<sup>4</sup>“I will punish Judah and all the people living in Jerusalem. I will remove from this place all signs of Baal, the false priests, and the other priests.

<sup>5</sup>I will destroy those who worship the stars from the roofs, and those who worship and make promises by both the Lord and the god Molech,

<sup>6</sup>and those who turned away from the Lord, and those who quit following the Lord and praying to him for direction.

<sup>7</sup>Be silent before the Lord God, because the Lord's day for judging people is coming soon.

The Lord has prepared a sacrifice;
he has made holy his invited guests.

<sup>8</sup>On the day of the Lord's sacrifice,
I, the Lord, will punish the princes and the king's sons and all those who wear foreign clothes.

<sup>9</sup>On that day I will punish those who worship Dagon, those who hurt others and tell lies in the temples of their gods.

<sup>10</sup>“On that day,” says the Lord,
“a cry will be heard at the Fish Gate.
A wail will come from the new area of the city,
and a loud crash will echo from the hills.

<sup>11</sup>Cry, you people living in the market area, because all the merchants will be dead;
all the silver traders will be gone.

<sup>12</sup>At that time I, the Lord, will search Jerusalem with lamps.

I will punish those who are satisfied with themselves, who think, ‘The Lord won't help us or punish us.’

<sup>13</sup>Their wealth will be stolen and their houses destroyed.
They may build houses,
but they will not live in them.
They may plant vineyards,
but they will not drink any wine from them.

The Lord's Day of Judging

<sup>14</sup>“The Lord's day of judging is coming soon;
it is near and coming fast.
The cry will be very sad on the day of the Lord;
even soldiers will cry.

<sup>15</sup>That day will be a day of anger, a day of terror and trouble,
a day of destruction and ruin,
a day of darkness and gloom,
a day of clouds and blackness,

<sup>16</sup>a day of alarms and battle cries.
‘Attack the strong, walled cities!
Attack the corner towers!’

<sup>17</sup>I will make life hard on the people; they will walk around like the blind,
because they have sinned against the Lord.
Their blood will be poured out like dust,
and their insides will be dumped like trash.

<sup>18</sup>On the day that God will show his anger, neither their silver nor gold will save them.

The Lord's anger will be like a fire that will burn up the whole world;
suddenly he will bring an end, yes, an end to everyone on earth."

The Lord Asks People to Change

Gather together, gather,
you unwanted people.

<sup>2</sup>Do it before it's too late,
before you are blown away like chaff,
before the Lord's terrible anger reaches you,
before the day of the Lord's anger comes to you.

<sup>3</sup>Come to the Lord, all you who are not proud, who obey his laws.
Do what is right. Learn to be humble.
Maybe you will escape
on the day the Lord shows his anger.

Philistia Will Be Punished

<sup>4</sup>No one will be left in the city of Gaza, and the city of Ashkelon will be destroyed.
Ashdod will be empty by noon,
and the people of Ekron will be chased away.

<sup>5</sup>How terrible it will be for you who live by the Mediterranean Sea,
you Philistines!
The word of the Lord is against you,
Canaan, land of the Philistines.
“I will destroy you

so that no one will be left.”

<sup>6</sup>The land by the Mediterranean Sea, in which you live, will become pastures, fields for shepherds, and pens for sheep.

<sup>7</sup>It will belong to the descendants of Judah who are left alive.

There they will let their sheep eat grass.

At night they will sleep
in the houses of Ashkelon.

The Lord their God will pay attention to them and will make their life good again.

Moab and Ammon Will Be Punished

<sup>8</sup>“I have heard the insults of the country of Moab and the threats of the people of Ammon.
They have insulted my people and have taken their land.”

<sup>9</sup>So the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says,
“As surely as I live,
Moab will be destroyed like Sodom, and Ammon will be destroyed like Gomorrah— a heap of weeds, a pit of salt, and a ruin forever.

Those of my people who are left alive will take whatever they want from them;
those who are left from my nation will take their land.”

<sup>10</sup>This is what Moab and Ammon get for being proud, because they insulted and made fun of the people of the Lord All-Powerful.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord will frighten them, because he will destroy all the gods of the earth.
Then everyone in faraway places will worship him wherever they are.

Cush and Assyria Will Be Destroyed

<sup>12</sup>“You Cushites also will be killed by my sword.”

<sup>13</sup>Then the Lord will turn against the north and destroy Assyria.
He will make Nineveh
a ruin as dry as a desert.

<sup>14</sup>Flocks and herds will lie down there,
and all wild animals.
The owls and crows will sit on the stone pillars.
The owl will hoot through the windows, trash will be in the doorways,
and the wooden boards of the buildings will be gone.

<sup>15</sup>This is the happy and safe city that thinks there is no one else as strong as it is.
But what a ruin it will be,
a place where wild animals live.

All those who pass by will make fun and shake their fists.

Jerusalem Will Be Punished

How terrible for the wicked, stubborn city of Jerusalem, which hurts its own people.

<sup>2</sup>It obeys no voice;
it can't be taught to do right.
It doesn't trust the Lord;
it doesn't worship its God.

<sup>3</sup>Its officers are like roaring lions.
Its rulers are like hungry wolves that attack in the evening,
and in the morning nothing is left of those they attacked.

<sup>4</sup>Its prophets are proud;
they are people who cannot be trusted.
Its priests don't respect holy things;
they break God's teachings.

<sup>5</sup>But the Lord is good, and he is there in that city.
He does no wrong.
Every morning he governs the people fairly;
every day he can be trusted.
But evil people are not ashamed of what they do.

<sup>6</sup>"I have destroyed nations;
their towers were ruined.
I made their streets empty
so no one goes there anymore.
Their cities are ruined;

no one lives there at all.

<sup>7</sup>I said, ‘Surely now Jerusalem will respect me and will accept my teaching.’

Then the place where they lived would not be destroyed,

and I would not have to punish them.

But they were still eager to do evil in everything they did.

<sup>8</sup>Just wait,” says the Lord.

“Some day I will stand up as a witness.
I have decided that I will gather nations and assemble kingdoms.

I will pour out my anger on them,
all my strong anger.

My anger will be like fire
that will burn up the whole world.

A New Day for God’s People

<sup>9</sup>“Then I will give the people of all nations pure speech so that all of them will speak the name of the Lord and worship me together.

<sup>10</sup>People will come from where the Nile River begins;
my scattered people will come with gifts for me.

<sup>11</sup>Then Jerusalem will not be ashamed of the wrongs done against me, because I will remove from this city

those who like to brag;
there will never be any more proud people on my holy mountain in Jerusalem.

<sup>12</sup>But I will leave in the city the humble and those who are not proud, and they will trust in the Lord.

<sup>13</sup>Those who are left alive in Israel won't do wrong or tell lies;
they won't trick people with their words.
They will eat and lie down with no one to make them afraid.”

A Happy Song

<sup>14</sup>Sing, Jerusalem.
Israel, shout for joy!
Jerusalem, be happy and rejoice with all your heart.

<sup>15</sup>The Lord has stopped punishing you;
he has sent your enemies away.
The King of Israel, the Lord, is with you;
you will never again be afraid of being harmed.

<sup>16</sup>On that day Jerusalem will be told,
“Don't be afraid, city of Jerusalem.
Don't give up.

<sup>17</sup>The Lord says: God is with you.

“The Lord your God is with you;
the mighty One will save you.
He will rejoice over you.
You will rest in his love;
he will sing and be joyful about you.”

<sup>18</sup>“I will take away the sadness planned for you, which would have made you very ashamed.

<sup>19</sup>At that time I will punish all those who harmed you.
I will save my people who cannot walk and gather my people who have been thrown out.
I will give them praise and honor in every place where they were shamed.

<sup>20</sup>At that time I will gather you;
at that time I will bring you back home.
I will give you honor and praise from people everywhere
when I make things go well again for you, as you will see with your own eyes,” says the Lord.

roofs In Bible times houses were built with flat roofs. The roof was used for drying things such as flax and fruit. And it was used as an extra room, as a place for worship, and as a cool place to sleep in the summer.

Sodom ... Gomorrah Two cities God destroyed because the people were so evil.

The Book of Haggai

Introduction

C.S. Lewis wrote, “You can’t get second things by putting them first; you can get second things only by putting first things first” (God in the Dock). Wise advice about setting priorities. Unfortunately, it’s easy to focus on second, third, fourth, fifth, or sixth “things” instead.

What should be first? A person’s relationship with God.

God’s message through the prophet Haggai hit the Jews where it hurt—right in their priorities. They had returned to Jerusalem from exile in Babylon with the challenge of rebuilding the Temple. They had begun the work but somewhere along the line had left the task.

The Temple was not just another building or church edifice; it was the holy place where sacrifices were made and people met with God. And it symbolized the nation’s close relationship with the Almighty.

A shabby Temple indicated a break in that relationship. And that’s exactly what had happened—the people had built fine homes for themselves while leaving God’s house in ruins.

Priorities. Values. God’s people had it wrong.

Have you made a value check lately? Discover what God told the Jerusalem Jews through Haggai, and make sure you are putting first things first.

Life Lessons

Haggai 1:1–2:23

Situation

Twenty years passed since Israel's return from Babylon. But the people quickly forgot the lessons exile had taught them. They worked hard, but their crops failed. They earned money, but it was never enough.

Observation

If God gives you a task, follow it through. Don't make excuses or settle for halfhearted work.

Inspiration

In deciding my life's priorities, I should keep three things in mind—my relationship to God, my relationship to other people, and my relationship to myself.

Priority 1: Glorifying God. ... [Our] chief purpose is to know God and to glorify him forever. The first commandment says, "You shall have no other gods before me" (Exodus 20:3). God should come first in everything. This does not mean our faith should be fanatical pursuit of heaven to the detriment of everything else in the world. But the first question we should always ask is, Does this glorify God? If it doesn't glorify God, don't do it.

Priority 2: Loving others. God cares for the world so much that he gave his only Son to save it (John 3:16). Because of this, we can serve him by caring for the people around us. This means living the life of Christ. How do we do that? By being gentle, humble, kind, and forgiving (Colossians 3:12–17).

Priority 3: Living in the light. Paul said, “Let the peace of Christ rule your hearts, ... [and] let the word of Christ dwell in you richly” (Colossians 3:15, 16). We should choose activities that enable us to be conscious of God all the time. We don’t have to walk around with our hands folded. But we should worship God on Sunday and carry the experience with us into Monday.

In deciding what to do ... these three priorities should guide us. But we have to use our judgment, which we can do through education, practice, and experience. Then, like Jesus, we will grow in wisdom and stature (Luke 2:52).

(From “Deciding Life’s Priorities” by Oswald Hoffman in Practical Christianity)

Application

List your top ten priorities for today. Where does Bible reading and prayer fall on the list? Did you plan time just to enjoy the world around you (the world God gave you)? Shift and sort your priorities until your schedule reflects his desires.

Exploration

It Is Time to Build the Temple

The prophet Haggai spoke the word of the Lord to Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, the governor of Judah, and to Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest. This message came in the second year that Darius was king, on the first day of the sixth month:

<sup>2</sup>“This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: ‘The people say the right time has not come to rebuild the Temple of the Lord.’”

<sup>3</sup>Then Haggai the prophet spoke the word of the Lord: <sup>4</sup>“Is it right for you to be living in fancy houses while the Temple is still in ruins?”

<sup>5</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: “Think about what you have done. <sup>6</sup>You have planted much, but you harvest little. You eat, but you do not become full. You drink, but you are still thirsty. You put on clothes, but you are not warm enough. You earn money, but then you lose it all as if you had put it into a purse full of holes.”

<sup>7</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: “Think about what you have done. <sup>8</sup>Go up to the mountains, bring back wood, and build the Temple. Then I will be pleased with it and be honored,” says the Lord. <sup>9</sup>“You look for much, but you find little. When you bring it home, I destroy it. Why?” asks the Lord All-Powerful. “Because you all work hard for your own houses while my house is still in ruins! <sup>10</sup>Because of what you have done, the sky holds back its rain and the ground holds back its crops. <sup>11</sup>I have called for a time without rain on the land, and on the mountains, and on the grain, the new wine, the olive oil, the plants which the earth produces, the people, the farm animals, and all the work of your hands.”

<sup>12</sup>Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel and Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and all the rest of the people who were left alive obeyed the Lord their God and the message from Haggai the prophet, because the Lord their God had sent him. And the people feared the Lord.

<sup>13</sup>Haggai, the Lord’s messenger, gave the Lord’s message to the people, saying, “The Lord says, ‘I am with you.’” <sup>14</sup>The Lord stirred up Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, the governor of Judah, and Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and all the rest of the people who were left alive. So they came and worked on the Temple of their God, the Lord All-Powerful. <sup>15</sup>They began on the twenty-fourth day of the sixth month in the second year Darius was king.

The Beauty of the Temple

On the twenty-first day of the seventh month, the Lord spoke his word through Haggai the prophet, saying,<sup>2</sup>“Speak to Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the rest of the people who are left alive. Say,<sup>3</sup>‘Do any of you remember how great the Temple was before it was destroyed? What does it look like now? Doesn’t it seem like nothing to you?’<sup>4</sup>But the Lord says, ‘Zerubbabel, be brave. Also, Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest, be brave. And all you people who live in the land, be brave,’ says the Lord. ‘Work, because I am with you,’ says the Lord All-Powerful.<sup>5</sup>‘I made a promise to you when you came out of Egypt, and my Spirit is still with you. So don’t be afraid.’

<sup>6</sup>“This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: ‘In a short time I will once again shake the heavens and the earth, the sea and the dry land.<sup>7</sup>I will shake all the nations, and they will bring their wealth. Then I will fill this Temple with glory,’ says the Lord All-Powerful.<sup>8</sup>‘The silver is mine, and the gold is mine,’ says the Lord All-Powerful.<sup>9</sup>‘The new Temple will be greater than the one before,’ says the Lord All-Powerful. ‘And in this place I will give peace,’ says the Lord All-Powerful.”

for the Lord. If that fold touches bread, cooked food, wine, olive oil, or some other food, will that be made holy?”

The priests answered, “No.”

<sup>13</sup>Then Haggai said, “A person who touches a dead body will become unclean. If he touches any of these foods, will it become unclean, too?”

The priests answered, “Yes, it would become unclean.”

<sup>14</sup>Then Haggai answered, “The Lord says, ‘This is also true for the people of this nation. They are unclean, and everything they do with their hands is unclean to me. Whatever they offer at the altar is also unclean.

<sup>15</sup>“Think about this from now on! Think about how it was before you started laying stones on top of stones to build the Temple of the Lord. <sup>16</sup>A person used to come to a pile of grain expecting to find twenty basketfuls, but there were only ten. And a person used to come to the wine vat to take out fifty jarfuls, but only twenty were there. <sup>17</sup>I destroyed your work with diseases, mildew, and hail, but you still did not come back to me,’ says the Lord. <sup>18</sup>‘It is the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, the day in which the people finished working on the foundation of the Temple of the Lord. From now on, think about these things: <sup>19</sup>Do you have seeds for crops still in the barn? Your vines, fig trees, pomegranates, and olive trees have not given fruit yet. But from now on I will bless you!’”

The Lord Makes a Promise to Zerubbabel

<sup>20</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word a second time to Haggai on the twenty-fourth day of the month. He said, <sup>21</sup>“Tell Zerubbabel, the governor of Judah, ‘I am going to shake the heavens and the earth. <sup>22</sup>I will destroy the foreign kingdoms and take away the power of the kingdoms of the nations. I will destroy the chariots and their riders. The horses will fall with their riders, as people kill each other with swords.’ <sup>23</sup>The Lord All-Powerful says, ‘On that day I will take you, Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, my servant,’ says the Lord, ‘and I will make you important like my signet ring, because I have chosen you!’ says the Lord All-Powerful.”

The Book of Zechariah

Introduction

You wake with a start, sweating profusely. You aren't sure what the dream was about, you just know it was bad. You remember trying to run in the dream, but not being able to move your legs. It was pure fantasy, but it felt real and it was enough to wake you up.

Dreams can be caused by indigestion, anxiety, desires, concerns, and other mental and emotional conditions. Dreams can be fun, entertaining, and even enlightening. But they can also invoke fear, stress, and outright terror.

Zechariah, God's prophet in Jerusalem more than five hundred years before Christ, had a series of nighttime experiences that kept him awake for a week. More than mere dreams, these were visions of God's future plans for his people, including a description of the Messiah. Through these visions God gave his message to Zechariah, who then faithfully relayed them to his family, friends, neighbors, countrymen ... and us.

As you read Zechariah, take hope in knowing that God controls the future, your future, and that the King is coming. Then get a good night's sleep.

Life Lessons

Zechariah 1:1–6:8

Situation

The exiles returned from Babylon to rebuild the Temple. Enemies, however, thwarted and stalled the project. Zechariah motivated the people and encouraged them to resume their work.

Observation

God provides the strength we need to accomplish great deeds for him.

Inspiration

There is great power in dreaming big. Such vision implies a long-term approach to ministry. Many leaders suffer from having to constantly rethink their vision because it was so small they accomplished it quickly, or so insignificant it barely seemed worth the effort. God's vision for your life, though, is grand. His vision is not one you are likely to accomplish in a year or two. A few Christian visionaries have learned that once you catch His vision, it will outlive you. Your role is to grasp it, articulate it, and see that it gets acted upon. Your responsibility is not to see it come to a conclusion. Work toward that end, but do not feel incomplete if it is not fully accomplished in your lifetime. Along the way, simply being part of making that vision become reality will seem like sufficient reward.

Dreaming big, through God's enablement, is also one means of allowing the Church to see and to flaunt

God's power and majesty. His desires are so much better and more meaningful than our own that when we envision them and fully support them, the spiritual and emotional empowerment is incredible. People become genuinely excited over the grand possibilities. The magnitude of the task is dwarfed by the realization that He wants to do it, and He intends to make it happen through you.

The Lord Calls His People Back

In the eighth month of the second year Darius was king, the Lord spoke his word to the prophet Zechariah son of Berekiah, who was the son of Iddo. The Lord said, <sup>2</sup>“The Lord was very angry with your ancestors. <sup>3</sup>So tell the people: This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: ‘Return to me, and I will return to you,’ says the Lord All-Powerful. <sup>4</sup>Don’t be like your ancestors. In the past the prophets said to them: This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: ‘Stop your evil ways and evil actions.’ But they wouldn’t listen or pay attention to me, says the Lord. <sup>5</sup>Your ancestors are dead, and those prophets didn’t live forever. <sup>6</sup>I commanded my words and laws to my servants the prophets, and they preached to your ancestors, who returned to me. They said, ‘The Lord All-Powerful did as he said he would. He punished us for the way we lived and for what we did.’”

The Vision of the Horses

<sup>7</sup>It was on the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, which is the month of Shebat, in Darius’s second year as king. The Lord spoke his word to the prophet Zechariah son of Berekiah, who was the son of Iddo.

<sup>8</sup>During the night I had a vision. I saw a man riding a red horse. He was standing among some myrtle trees in a ravine, with red, brown, and white horses behind him.

<sup>9</sup>I asked, “What are these, sir?”

The angel who was talking with me answered, “I’ll show you what they are.”

<sup>10</sup>Then the man standing among the myrtle trees explained, “They are the ones the Lord sent through all the earth.”

<sup>11</sup>Then they spoke to the Lord’s angel, who was standing among the myrtle trees. They said, “We have gone through all the earth, and everything is calm and quiet.”

<sup>12</sup>Then the Lord’s angel asked, “Lord All-Powerful, how long will it be before you show mercy to Jerusalem and the cities of Judah? You have been angry with them for seventy years now.” <sup>13</sup>So the Lord answered the angel who was talking with me, and his words were comforting and good.

<sup>14</sup>Then the angel who was talking to me said to me, “Announce this: This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: ‘I have a strong love for Jerusalem. <sup>15</sup>And I am very angry with the nations that feel so safe. I was only a little angry at them, but they made things worse.’

<sup>16</sup>“So this is what the Lord says: ‘I will return to Jerusalem with mercy. My Temple will be rebuilt,’ says the Lord All-Powerful, ‘and the measuring line will be used to rebuild Jerusalem.’

<sup>17</sup>“Also announce: This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: ‘My towns will be rich again. The Lord will comfort Jerusalem again, and I will again choose Jerusalem.’”

The Vision of the Horns

<sup>18</sup>Then I looked up and saw four animal horns. <sup>19</sup>I asked the angel who was talking with me, “What are these?”

He said, “These are the horns that scattered the people of Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.”

<sup>20</sup>Then the Lord showed me four craftsmen. <sup>21</sup>I asked, “What are they coming to do?”

He answered, “They have come to scare and throw down the horns. These horns scattered the people of Judah so that no one could even lift up his head. These horns stand for the nations that attacked the people of Judah and scattered them.”

The Vision of the Measuring Line

Then I looked up and saw a man holding a line for measuring things. <sup>2</sup>I asked him, “Where are you going?”

He said to me, “I am going to measure Jerusalem, to see how wide and how long it is.”

<sup>3</sup>Then the angel who was talking with me left, and another angel came out to meet him. <sup>4</sup>The second angel said to him, “Run and tell that young man, ‘Jerusalem will become a city without walls, because there will be so many people and cattle in it. <sup>5</sup>I will be a wall of fire around it,’ says the Lord. ‘And I will be the glory within it.’”

<sup>6</sup>“Oh no! Oh no! Run away from Babylon, because I have scattered you like the four winds of heaven,” says the Lord.

<sup>7</sup>“Oh no, Jerusalem! Escape, you who live right in Babylon.” <sup>8</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: “After he has honored me and sent me against the nations who took your possessions—because whoever touches you hurts what is precious to me—<sup>9</sup>I will shake my hand against them so that their slaves will rob them.”

Then you will know that the Lord All-Powerful sent me.

<sup>10</sup>“Shout and be glad, Jerusalem. I am coming, and I will live among you,” says the Lord. <sup>11</sup>“At that time people from many nations will join with the Lord and will become my people. Then I will live among you, and you will know that the Lord All-Powerful has sent me to you. <sup>12</sup>The Lord will take Judah as his own part of the holy land, and Jerusalem will be his chosen city again. <sup>13</sup>Be silent, everyone, in the presence of the Lord.

He is coming out of the holy place where he lives.”

The Vision of the High Priest

Then he showed me Joshua, the high priest, standing in front of the Lord's angel. And Satan was standing by Joshua's right side to accuse him. <sup>2</sup>The Lord said to Satan, "The Lord says no to you, Satan! The Lord who has chosen Jerusalem says no to you! This man was like a burning stick pulled from the fire."

Then the angel said to Joshua, "Look, I have taken away your sin from you, and I am giving you beautiful, fine clothes."

<sup>5</sup>Then I said, "Put a clean turban on his head." So they put a clean turban on his head and dressed him while the Lord's angel stood there.

<sup>6</sup>Then the Lord's angel said to Joshua, <sup>7</sup>"This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: 'If you do as I tell you and serve me, you will be in charge of my Temple and my courtyards. And I will let you be with these angels who are standing here.

<sup>8</sup>"Listen, Joshua, the high priest, and your friends who are sitting in front of you. They are symbols of what will happen. I am going to bring my servant called the Branch. <sup>9</sup>Look, I put this stone in front of Joshua, a stone with seven sides. I will carve a message on it,' says the Lord All-Powerful. 'And in one day I will take away the sin of this land.'

<sup>10</sup>"The Lord All-Powerful says, 'In that day, each of you will invite your neighbor to sit under your own grapevine and under your own fig tree.'"

The Vision of the Lampstand

Then the angel who was talking with me returned and woke me up as if I had been asleep. <sup>2</sup>He asked me, “What do you see?”

I said, “I see a solid gold lampstand with a bowl at the top. And there are seven lamps and also seven places for wicks. <sup>3</sup>There are two olive trees by it, one on the right of the bowl and the other on the left.”

<sup>4</sup>I asked the angel who talked with me, “Sir, what are these?”

<sup>5</sup>The angel said, “Don’t you know what they are?”

“No, sir,” I said.

<sup>6</sup>Then he told me, “This is the word of the Lord to Zerubbabel: ‘You will not succeed by your own strength or power, but by my Spirit,’ says the Lord All-Powerful.

<sup>7</sup>“Who are you, big mountain? In front of Zerubbabel you will become flat land, and he will bring out the topmost stone, shouting, ‘It’s beautiful! It’s beautiful!’”

<sup>8</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word to me again, saying, <sup>9</sup>“Zerubbabel has laid the foundation of this Temple, and he will complete it. Then you will know that the Lord All-Powerful has sent me to you.

<sup>10</sup>“The people should not think that small beginnings are unimportant. They will be happy when they see Zerubbabel with tools, building the Temple.

“(These are the seven eyes of the Lord, which look back and forth across the earth.)”

<sup>11</sup>Then I asked the angel, “What are the two olive trees on the right and left of the lampstand?”

<sup>12</sup>I also asked him, “What are the two olive branches beside the two gold pipes, from which the olive oil flows to the lamps?”

<sup>13</sup>He answered, “Don’t you know what they are?”

“No, sir,” I said.

<sup>14</sup>So he said, “They are symbols of the two who have been appointed to serve the Lord of all the earth.”

The Vision of the Flying Scroll

I looked up again and saw a flying scroll.

<sup>2</sup>The angel asked me, “What do you see?”

I answered, “I see a flying scroll, thirty feet long and fifteen feet wide.”

<sup>3</sup>And he said to me, “This is the curse that will go all over the land. One side says every thief will be taken away. The other side says everyone who makes false promises will be taken away. <sup>4</sup>The Lord All-Powerful says, ‘I will send it to the houses of thieves and to those who use my name to make false promises. The scroll will stay in that person’s house and destroy it with its wood and stones.’”

The Vision of the Woman

<sup>5</sup>Then the angel who was talking with me came forward and said to me, “Look up and see what is going out.”

<sup>6</sup>“What is it?” I asked.

He answered, “It is a measuring basket going out.” He also said, “It is a symbol of the people’s sins in all the land.”

<sup>7</sup>Then the lid made of lead was raised, and there was a woman sitting inside the basket. <sup>8</sup>The angel said, “The woman stands for wickedness.” Then he pushed her back into the basket and put the lid back down.

<sup>9</sup>Then I looked up and saw two women going out with the wind in their wings. Their wings were like those of a stork, and they lifted up the basket between earth and the sky.

<sup>10</sup>I asked the angel who was talking with me, “Where are they taking the basket?”

<sup>11</sup>“They are going to Babylonia to build a temple for it,” he answered. “When the temple is ready, they will set the basket there in its place.”

The Vision of the Four Chariots

I looked up again and saw four chariots going out between two mountains, mountains of bronze.<sup>2</sup>Red horses pulled the first chariot. Black horses pulled the second chariot.<sup>3</sup>White horses pulled the third chariot, and strong, spotted horses pulled the fourth chariot.<sup>4</sup>I asked the angel who was talking with me, “What are these, sir?”

<sup>5</sup>He said, “These are the four spirits of heaven. They have just come from the presence of the Lord of the whole world.<sup>6</sup>The chariot pulled by the black horses will go to the land of the north. The white horses will go to the land of the west, and the spotted horses will go to the land of the south.”

<sup>7</sup>When the powerful horses went out, they were eager to go through all the earth. So he said, “Go through all the earth,” and they did.

<sup>8</sup>Then he called to me, “Look, the horses that went north have caused my spirit to rest in the land of the north.”

Situation

God wanted his people to enjoy life. He gave many encouraging promises that would allow Israel to rejoice because of God’s love for them.

Observation

Religious ceremonies, while sacred and orderly, are meant to make us rejoice in God.

Inspiration

Worship is a function of the spiritual health of a congregation. A church may have a beautiful choir singing uplifting songs with theologically correct words, a tremendous organ, and a beautiful sanctuary. But if the people's hearts are far from God and there is no foundation of prayer, worship does not take place. It is an empty experience. A healthy spiritual life results from a church's individual and corporate prayer life, the presenting of the gospel in both word and action, the presence of community and theological soundness.

Our experience of God in worship depends on our commitment and attitude toward God. Developing an attitude of worship is not a matter of aesthetics or strategy, but an awareness of the presence of God's Spirit. A service that fosters this attitude includes no parts simply as aesthetic decoration. Every part helps concentrate people's attention on their union with Christ. In fact, the beauty of a service often has little to do with how conducive it is to worship. In many simple forms of worship, aesthetic elements are missing, but worship takes place because God is pleased to be there.

Our personal receptivity also affects our worship experience. We can go into a service one morning and get nothing out of it, not because the service is mediocre but because we are not open to receiving God's Spirit. If we are not ready to listen and worship, it doesn't matter how wonderful the service is.

Our individual backgrounds also influence our experience. We can get tired of one style of worship. If I were shut up in a room and listened to nothing but the nine Beethoven symphonies for three years, I would become utterly immune to them. People who attended unstructured church services as children may go to a liturgical service and discover a tremendous freedom in that style of worship. Other people who have been hardened by a liturgical pattern will come alive in a free-style Situation....

We need to find the style of worship that scratches where we itch, and we should not be afraid of changing worship styles if we find ourselves in a rut. The psalmist said, “Sing to the Lord a new song” (Psalm 149:1). God is a fountain of endless novelty. He is a source of constant freshness, like a symphony that uses the same themes but constantly unfolds new meanings, new ways of combining things. (From “Developing an Attitude of Worship” by Richard Lovelace in Practical Christianity)

What forms of worship do you enjoy most? Are there some forms that bore you? What can you contribute to worship? Let your heart be open to God’s direction.

A Crown for Joshua

<sup>9</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me, saying, <sup>10</sup>“Take silver and gold from Heldai, Tobijah, and Jedaiah, who were captives in Babylon. Go that same day to the house of Josiah son of Zephaniah, who came from Babylon. <sup>11</sup>Make the silver and gold into a crown, and put it on the head of Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest. <sup>12</sup>Tell him this is what the Lord All-Powerful says: ‘A man whose name is the Branch will branch out from where he is, and he will build the Temple of the Lord. <sup>13</sup>One man will build the Temple of the Lord, and the other will receive honor. One man will sit on his throne and rule, and the other will be a priest on his throne. And these two men will work together in peace.’ <sup>14</sup>The crown will be kept in the Temple of the Lord to remind Heldai, Tobijah, Jedaiah, and Josiah son of Zephaniah. <sup>15</sup>People living far away will come and build the Temple of the Lord. Then you will know the Lord All-Powerful has sent me to you. This will happen if you completely obey the Lord your God.”

The People Should Show Mercy

In the fourth year Darius was king, on the fourth day of the ninth month, which is called Kislev, the Lord spoke his word to Zechariah.<sup>2</sup>The city of Bethel sent Sharezer, Regem-Melech, and their men to ask the Lord a question.<sup>3</sup>They went to the prophets and priests who were at the Temple of the Lord All-Powerful. The men said, “For years in the fifth month of each year we have shown our sadness and gone without food. Should we continue to do this?”

<sup>4</sup>The Lord All-Powerful spoke his word to me, saying, <sup>5</sup>“Tell the priests and the people in the land: ‘For seventy years you went without food and cried in the fifth and seventh months, but that was not really for me.<sup>6</sup>And when you ate and drank, it was really for yourselves.<sup>7</sup>The Lord used the earlier prophets to say the same thing, when Jerusalem and the surrounding towns were at peace and wealthy, and people lived in the southern area and the western hills.’”

<sup>8</sup>And the Lord spoke his word to Zechariah again, saying, <sup>9</sup>“This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: ‘Do what is right and true. Be kind and merciful to each other.<sup>10</sup>Don’t hurt widows and orphans, foreigners or the poor; don’t even think of doing evil to somebody else.’

<sup>11</sup>“But they refused to pay attention; they were stubborn and did not want to listen anymore.<sup>12</sup>They made their hearts as hard as rock and would not listen to the teachings of the Lord All-Powerful. And they would not hear the words he sent by his Spirit through the earlier prophets. So the Lord All-Powerful became very angry.

<sup>13</sup>“When I called to them, they would not listen. So when they called to me, I would not listen,” says the Lord All-Powerful. <sup>14</sup>“I scattered them like a hurricane to other countries they did not know. This good land was left so ruined behind them that no one could live there. They had made the desired land a ruin.””

The Lord Will Bless Jerusalem

The Lord All-Powerful spoke his word, saying, <sup>2</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: “I have a very strong love for Jerusalem. My strong love for her is like a fire burning in me.”

<sup>3</sup>This is what the Lord says: “I will return to Jerusalem and live in it. Then it will be called the City of Truth, and the mountain of the Lord All-Powerful will be called the Holy Mountain.”

<sup>6</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: “Those who are left alive then may think it is too difficult to happen, but it is not too difficult for me,” says the Lord All-Powerful. <sup>7</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: “I will save my people from countries in the east and west. <sup>8</sup>I will bring them back, and they will live in Jerusalem. They will be my people, and I will be their good and loyal God.”

<sup>9</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: “Work hard, you who are hearing these words today. The prophets spoke these words when the foundation was laid for the house of the Lord All-Powerful, for the building of the Temple. <sup>10</sup>Before that time there was no money to hire people or animals. People could not safely come and go because of the enemies; I had turned everyone against his neighbor. <sup>11</sup>But I will not do to these people who are left what I did in the past,” says the Lord All-Powerful.

<sup>14</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: “When your ancestors made me angry, I planned to punish you. I did not change my mind,” says the Lord All-Powerful. <sup>15</sup>“But now I will do something different. I am planning to do good to Jerusalem and Judah. So don’t be afraid. <sup>16</sup>These are the things you should do: Tell each other the truth. In the courts judge with truth and complete fairness. <sup>17</sup>Do not make plans to hurt your neighbors, and don’t love false promises. I hate all these things,” says the Lord.

<sup>18</sup>The Lord All-Powerful spoke his word to me again. <sup>19</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: “The special days when you give up eating in the fourth, fifth, seventh, and tenth months will become good, joyful, happy feasts in Judah. But you must love truth and peace.”

<sup>20</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: “Many people from many cities will still come to Jerusalem. <sup>21</sup>People from one city will go and say to those from another city, ‘We are going to pray to the Lord and to ask the Lord All-Powerful for help. Come and go with us.’ <sup>22</sup>Many people and powerful nations will come to worship the Lord All-Powerful in Jerusalem and to pray to the Lord for help.”

<sup>23</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: “At that time, ten men from different countries will come and take hold of a Judean by his coat. They will say to him, ‘Let us go with you, because we have heard that God is with you.’”

In 12:10 the prophet foretold a future outpouring of the Holy Spirit as repentant people seek his grace.

Inspiration

Where the grace of God is missed, bitterness is born. But where the grace of God is embraced, forgiveness flourishes. In what many believe to be Paul's final letter, he urges Timothy to "be strong in the grace we have in Christ Jesus" (2 Timothy 2:1).

How insightful is this last exhortation. Paul doesn't urge Timothy to be strong in prayer or Bible study or benevolence, as vital as each may be. He wants his son in the faith to major in grace. Claim this territory. Dwell on this truth. If you miss anything, don't miss the grace of God.

The longer we walk in the garden, the more likely we are to smell like flowers. The more we immerse ourselves in grace, the more likely we are to give grace. Could this be the clue for coping with anger? Could it be the secret is not in demanding payment but in pondering the payment of your Savior?

Your friend broke his promises? Your boss didn't keep her word? I'm sorry, but before you take action, answer this question: How did God react when you broke your promises to him?

You've been lied to? It hurts to be deceived. But before you double your fists, think: How did God respond when you lied to him?

You've been neglected? Forgotten? Left behind? Rejection hurts. But before you get even, get honest with yourself. Have you ever neglected God? Have you always been attentive to his will? None of us have. How did he react when you neglected him?

The key to forgiving others is to quit focusing on what they did to you and start focusing on what God did for you.

But, Max, that's not fair! Somebody has to pay for what he did.

I agree. Someone must pay, and Someone already has.

You don't understand, Max, this guy doesn't deserve grace. He doesn't deserve mercy. He's not worthy of forgiveness.

I'm not saying he is. But are you? (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

Application

In what ways has God showered his grace on you? Take time to thank him for this undeserved gift. Now, think of the people in your life—whether it's a friend, a family member, a coworker, or a neighbor—who need grace from you. Write down how you specifically can show grace to them this week.

Punishment on Israel's Enemies

This message is the word of the Lord.

The message is against the land of Hadrach and the city of Damascus.
The tribes of Israel and all people belong to the Lord.

<sup>2</sup>The message is also against the city of Hamath, on the border,
and against Tyre and Sidon, with their skill.

<sup>3</sup>Tyre has built a strong wall for herself.
She has piled up silver like dust and gold like the mud in the streets.

<sup>4</sup>But the Lord will take away all she has and destroy her power on the sea.
That city will be destroyed by fire.

<sup>5</sup>The city of Ashkelon will see it and be afraid.
The people of Gaza will shake with fear, and the people of Ekron will lose hope.
No king will be left in Gaza,
and no one will live in Ashkelon anymore.

<sup>6</sup>Foreigners will live in Ashdod.

foreigners will live in Ashdod,
and I will destroy the pride of the Philistines.

<sup>7</sup>I will stop them from drinking blood and from eating forbidden food.
Those left alive will belong to God.
They will be leaders in Judah,
and Ekron will become like the Jebusites.

<sup>8</sup>I will protect my Temple from armies who would come or go.
No one will hurt my people again,
because now I am watching them.

The King Is Coming

<sup>9</sup>Rejoice greatly, people of Jerusalem!
Shout for joy, people of Jerusalem!
Your king is coming to you.
He does what is right, and he saves.
He is gentle and riding on a donkey,
on the colt of a donkey.

<sup>10</sup>I will take away the chariots from Ephraim and the horses from Jerusalem.
The bows used in war will be broken.
The king will talk to the nations about peace.
His kingdom will go from sea to sea, and from the Euphrates River to the ends of the earth.

<sup>11</sup>As for you, because of the blood of the agreement with you

I will set your prisoners free from the waterless pit.

<sup>12</sup>You prisoners who have hope, return to your place of safety.
Today I am telling you that I will give you back twice as much as before.

<sup>13</sup>I will use Judah like a bow and Ephraim like the arrows.
Jerusalem, I will use your men to fight the men of Greece.
I will use you like a warrior's sword.

<sup>14</sup>Then the Lord will appear above them, and his arrows will shoot like lightning.
The Lord God will blow the trumpet, and he will march in the storms of the south.

<sup>15</sup>The Lord All-Powerful will protect them;
they will destroy the enemy with slingshots.
They will drink and shout like drunk men.
They will be filled like a bowl used for sprinkling blood at the corners of the altar.

<sup>16</sup>On that day the Lord their God will save them as if his people were sheep.
They will shine in his land like jewels in a crown.

<sup>17</sup>They will be so pretty and beautiful.
The young men will grow strong on the grain and the young women on new wine.

The Lord 's Promises

Ask the Lord for rain during the springtime rains.
The Lord is the one who makes the clouds.
He sends the showers and gives everyone green fields.

<sup>2</sup>Idols tell lies;
fortune-tellers see false visions and tell about false dreams.
The comfort they give is worth nothing.
So the people are like lost sheep.
They are abused, because there is no shepherd.
<sup>3</sup>The Lord says, "I am angry at my shepherds, and I will punish the leaders.
I, the Lord All-Powerful, care for my flock, the people of Judah.
I will make them like my proud war horses.

<sup>4</sup>From Judah will come the cornerstone, and the tent peg,
the battle bow,
and every ruler.

<sup>5</sup>Together they will be like soldiers marching to battle through muddy streets.
The Lord is with them,
so they will fight and defeat the horsemen.

<sup>6</sup>"I will strengthen the people of Judah and save the people of Joseph.
I will bring them back,

because I care about them.
It will be as though
I had never left them, because I am the Lord their God,
and I will answer them.

<sup>7</sup>The people of Ephraim will be strong like soldiers;
they will be glad as when they have drunk wine.
Their children will see it and rejoice;
they will be happy in the Lord.

<sup>8</sup>I will call my people and gather them together.
I will save them,
and they will grow in number as they grew in number before.

<sup>9</sup>I have scattered them among the nations, but in those faraway places, they will remember me.
They and their children will live and return.

<sup>10</sup>I will bring them back from the land of Egypt and gather them from Assyria.
I will bring them to Gilead and Lebanon until there isn't enough room for them all.

<sup>11</sup>They will come through the sea of trouble.
The waves of the sea will be calm,
and the Nile River will dry up.
I will defeat Assyria's pride and destroy Egypt's power over other countries.

<sup>12</sup>I will make my people strong, and they will live as I say," says the Lord.

Lebanon, open your gates so fire may burn your cedar trees.

<sup>2</sup>Cry, pine trees, because the cedar has fallen, because the tall trees are ruined.
Cry, oaks in Bashan,
because the mighty forest has been cut down.

<sup>3</sup>Listen to the shepherds crying because their rich pastures are destroyed.
Listen to the lions roaring because the lovely land of the Jordan River is ruined.

The Two Shepherds

<sup>4</sup>This is what the Lord my God says: “Feed the flock that are about to be killed. <sup>5</sup>Their buyers kill them and are not punished. Those who sell them say, ‘Praise the Lord, I am rich.’ Even the shepherds don’t feel sorry for their sheep. <sup>6</sup>I don’t feel sorry anymore for the people of this country,” says the Lord. “I will let everyone be under the power of his neighbor and king. They will bring trouble to the country, and I will not save anyone from them.”

<sup>7</sup>So I fed the flock about to be killed, particularly the weakest ones. Then I took two sticks; I called one Pleasant and the other Union, and I fed the flock. <sup>8</sup>In one month I got rid of three shepherds. The flock did not pay attention to me, and I got impatient with them. <sup>9</sup>I said, “I will no longer take care of you like a shepherd. Let those that are dying die, and let those that are to be destroyed be destroyed. Let those that are left eat each other.”

<sup>10</sup>Then I broke the stick named Pleasant to break the agreement God made with all the nations. <sup>11</sup>That day it was broken. The weak ones in the flock who were watching me knew this message was from the Lord.

<sup>12</sup>Then I said, “If you want to pay me, pay me. If not, then don’t.” So they paid me thirty pieces of silver.

<sup>13</sup>The Lord said to me, “Throw the money to the potter.” That is how little they thought I was worth. So I took the thirty pieces of silver and threw them to the potter in the Temple of the Lord.

<sup>14</sup>Then I broke the second stick, named Union, to break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

<sup>15</sup>Then the Lord said to me, “Get the things used by a foolish shepherd again, <sup>16</sup>because I am going to get a new shepherd for the country. He will not care for the dying sheep, or look for the young ones, or heal the injured ones, or feed the healthy. But he will eat the best sheep and tear off their hoofs.

<sup>17</sup>“How terrible it will be for the useless shepherd who abandoned the flock.

A sword will strike his arm and his right eye.

His arm will lose all its strength, and his right eye will go blind.”

Jerusalem Will Be Saved

This message is the word of the Lord to Israel. This is what the Lord says, who stretched out the skies, and laid the foundations of the earth, and put the human spirit within: <sup>2</sup>“I will make Jerusalem like a cup of poison to the nations around her. They will come and attack Jerusalem and Judah. <sup>3</sup>One day all the nations on earth will come together to attack Jerusalem, but I will make it like a heavy rock; anyone who tries to move it will get hurt. <sup>4</sup>At that time I will confuse every horse and cause its rider to go crazy,” says the Lord. “I will watch over Judah, but I will blind all the horses of the enemies. <sup>5</sup>Then the leaders of Judah will say to themselves, ‘The people of Jerusalem are strong, because the Lord All-Powerful is their God.’

<sup>6</sup>“At that time I will make the leaders of Judah like a fire burning a stack of wood or like a fire burning straw. They will destroy all the people around them left and right. But the people of Jerusalem will remain safe.

<sup>7</sup>“The Lord will save the homes of Judah first so that the honor given to David’s family and to the people of Jerusalem won’t be greater than the honor given to Judah. <sup>8</sup>At that time the Lord will protect the people in Jerusalem. Then even the weakest of them will be strong like David. And the family of David will be like God, like an angel of the Lord in front of them. <sup>9</sup>At that time I will go to destroy all the nations that attack Jerusalem.

Crying for the One They Stabbed

<sup>10c</sup>I will pour out on David's family and the people in Jerusalem a spirit of kindness and mercy. They will look at me, the one they have stabbed, and they will cry like someone crying over the death of an only child. They will be as sad as someone who has lost a firstborn son. <sup>11</sup>At that time there will be much crying in Jerusalem, like the crying for Hadad Rimmon in the plain of Megiddo. <sup>12</sup>The land will cry, each family by itself: the family of David by itself and their wives by themselves, the family of Nathan by itself and their wives by themselves, <sup>13</sup>the family of Levi by itself and their wives by themselves, the family of Shimei by itself and their wives by themselves, <sup>14</sup>and all the rest of the families by themselves and their wives by themselves.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord All-Powerful says, “At that time I will get rid of the names of the idols from the land; no one will remember them anymore. I will also remove the prophets and unclean spirits from the land. <sup>3</sup>If a person continues to prophesy, his own father and mother, the ones who gave birth to him, will tell him, ‘You have told lies using the Lord’s name, so you must die.’ When he prophesies, his own father and mother who gave birth to him will stab him.

<sup>4</sup>“At that time the prophets will be ashamed of their visions and prophecies. They won’t wear the prophet’s clothes made of hair to trick people. <sup>5</sup>Each of them will say, ‘I am not a prophet. I am a farmer and have been a farmer since I was young.’ <sup>6</sup>But someone will ask, ‘What are the deep cuts on your body?’ And each will answer, ‘I was hurt at my friend’s house.’

The Shepherd Is Killed

Attack the man who is my friend,”
says the Lord All-Powerful.
“Kill the shepherd,
and the sheep will scatter,
and I will punish the little ones.”

<sup>8</sup>The Lord says, “Two-thirds of the people through all the land will die. They will be gone, and one-third will be left.

<sup>9</sup>The third that is left I will test with fire, purifying them like silver,
testing them like gold.

Then they will call on me,
and I will answer them.

I will say, 'You are my people,'
and they will say, 'The Lord is our God.'”

The Day of Punishment

The Lord's day of judging is coming when the wealth you have taken will be divided among you.

<sup>2</sup>I will bring all the nations together to fight Jerusalem. They will capture the city and rob the houses and attack the women. Half the people will be taken away as captives, but the rest of the people won't be taken from the city.

<sup>3</sup>Then the Lord will go to war against those nations; he will fight as in a day of battle. <sup>4</sup>On that day he will stand on the Mount of Olives, east of Jerusalem. The Mount of Olives will split in two, forming a deep valley that runs east and west. Half the mountain will move toward the north, and half will move toward the south. <sup>5</sup>You will run through this mountain valley to the other side, just as you ran from the earthquake when Uzziah was king of Judah. Then the Lord my God will come and all the holy ones with him.

<sup>6</sup>On that day there will be no light, cold, or frost. <sup>7</sup>There will be no other day like it, and the Lord knows when it will come. There will be no day or night; even at evening it will still be light.

<sup>8</sup>At that time fresh water will flow from Jerusalem. Half of it will flow east to the Dead Sea, and half will flow west to the Mediterranean Sea. It will flow summer and winter.

He lived among us. He donned the costliest of robes: a human body. He made a throne out of a manger and a royal court out of some cows. He took a common name—Jesus—and made it holy. He took common people and made them the same. —Max Lucado (When Christ Comes) <sup>9</sup>Then the Lord will be king over the whole world. At that time there will be only one Lord, and his name will be the only name.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The Coming King

His Majesty. The emperor of Judah. The soaring eagle of eternity. The noble admiral of the Kingdom. All the splendor of heaven revealed in a human body. For a period ever so brief, the doors to the throne room were open and God came near. His Majesty was seen. Heaven touched the earth and, as a result, earth can know heaven. In astounding tandem a human body housed divinity. Holiness and earthliness intertwined.

This is no run-of-the-mill messiah. His story was extraordinary. He called himself divine, yet allowed a minimum-wage Roman soldier to drive a nail into his wrist. He demanded purity, yet stood for the rights of a repentant whore. He called men to march, yet refused to allow them to call him King. He sent men into all the world, yet equipped them with only bended knees and memories of a resurrected carpenter. . . .

Let's follow his sandalprints. Let's sit on the cold, hard floor of the cave in which he was born. Let's smell the sawdust of the carpentry shop. Let's hear his sandals slap the hard trails of Galilee. Let's sigh as we touch the healed sores of the leper. Let's smile as we see his compassion with the woman at the well.

Let's cringe as we hear the hissing of hell's Satan. Let's let our voices soar with the praises of the multitudes. Let's try to see him.

One warning. Something happens to a person who has witnessed his Majesty. He becomes addicted. One glimpse of the King and you are consumed by a desire to see more of him and say more about him. Pew-warming is no longer an option. Junk religion will no longer suffice. Sensation-seeking is needless. Once you have seen his face you will forever long to see it again. (From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

<sup>10</sup>All the land south of Jerusalem from Geba to Rimmon will be turned into a plain. Jerusalem will be raised up, but it will stay in the same place. The city will reach from the Benjamin Gate and to the First Gate to the Corner Gate, and from the Tower of Hananel to the king's vineyards. <sup>11</sup>People will live there, and it will never be destroyed again. Jerusalem will be safe.

<sup>12</sup>But the Lord will bring a terrible disease on the nations that fought against Jerusalem. Their flesh will rot away while they are still standing up. Their eyes will rot in their sockets, and their tongues will rot in their mouths. <sup>13</sup>At that time the Lord will cause panic. Everybody will grab his neighbor, and they will attack each other. <sup>14</sup>The people of Judah will fight in Jerusalem. And the wealth of the nations around them will be collected—much gold, silver, and clothes. <sup>15</sup>A similar disease will strike the horses, mules, camels, donkeys, and all the animals in the camps.

<sup>16</sup>All of those left alive of the people who came to fight Jerusalem will come back to Jerusalem year after year to worship the King, the Lord All-Powerful, and to celebrate the Feast of Shelters. <sup>17</sup>Anyone from the nations who does not go to Jerusalem to worship the King, the Lord All-Powerful, will not have rain fall on his land. <sup>18</sup>If the Egyptians do not go to Jerusalem, they will not have rain. Then the Lord will send them the same terrible disease he sent the other nations that did not celebrate the Feast of Shelters. <sup>19</sup>This will be the punishment for Egypt and any nation which does not go to celebrate the Feast of Shelters.

HOLY TO THE LORD. The cooking pots in the Temple of the Lord will be like the holy altar bowls. <sup>21</sup>Every pot in Jerusalem and Judah will be holy to the Lord All-Powerful, and everyone who offers sacrifices will be able to take food from them and cook in them. At that time there will not be any buyers or sellers in the Temple of the Lord All-Powerful.

The Book of Malachi

Introduction

“You have shown [me disrespect] by bringing unclean food to my altar” (1:7).

The image is vivid. A family on their way to the Temple realizes they have forgotten the sheep. He turns to her and says “Did you bring a sacrifice?” “No I thought you did,” she replies. He stops the wagon and says, “You go ahead and take the kids, I’ll go back.”

He goes back to the pen and begins to sort through the sheep looking for the one to be sacrificed. He picks up a big fat one with thick wool, “Too valuable,” he decides and puts it down. He picks up another fat one, “No, I want to enter this one in a contest.” He finds another healthy one, “No, I need to save this one for breeding.”

Finally comes upon a frail lamb with a broken leg and spotted wool. “Ahh,” he says. “This will be a good one to get rid of ...”

What the fellow doesn’t know is that God has been watching the process. God has been observing the choosing. What God has heard the man say is, “I will give a token, but I won’t give my heart.”

Such an attitude angers God. And such anger is found in this, the last book of the Old Testament.

“You bring hurt, crippled, and sick animals as gifts. You bring them as gifts, but I won’t accept them from you” (1:13).

We don’t offer sheep, but every Sunday we have an opportunity to give. Some people arrive at the altar with no thought given at all to their financial responsibility before God. As the plate comes she elbows him and says, “What do you want to give?”

He says, “Let me see what I’ve got.”

Wallets come out and the process of proclamation begins. We begin to sort through the sheep pen. We consider that big sheep with the picture of Franklin, no, that’s too much. We think about writing a check with a couple of zeros. “Better not,” we decide.

We forget that the process itself is a statement.

We forget that God is watching.

We forget that God has challenged us to challenge him.

“Bring to the storehouse a full tenth of what you earn so there will be food in my house. Test me in this,’ says the Lord All-Powerful. ‘I will open the windows of heaven for you and pour out all the blessings you need’” (3:10).

The Book of Malachi is a challenge to take God seriously, not just in giving but in every aspect of life.

Life Lessons

Malachi 1:1–4:6

Situation

God condemned Israel's complacent and contemptuous attitude toward him. The priests withheld their best animals from the sacrifice, and the people got tired of waiting for the Messiah.

Observation

We can learn the most from God when we give him our undivided attention.

Inspiration

I wish there were some way to announce over a loudspeaker system outside every worship gathering, “The pew zone is for learning and listening and changing only. No parking.” God is saying, “Guard your steps! You're about to take a risk. Watch out! Be alert! Listen carefully. Truth will be deposited in your head that is designed to change your life.” But chances are good that even though a loudspeaker made such an announcement, the same thing would occur—folks would still “park” and turn a deaf ear to the recording.

You see why that's important? Because our favorite place to park is in a pew. Just come, sit (“Whew! Finally got a seat!”), listen, and leave...

So much of today's worship is dull-edge stuff—meaningless words, clichés that sit like tombstones over dead ideas. God is speaking. That's the reason for the command. The living God is communicating.

Henry David Thoreau once wrote: “It takes two to speak the truth. One to speak and another to listen.” Walt Whitman confessed: “To have great poets there must be great audiences.” I like that!—someone to write and someone to appreciate. To have great messages from God, there must be a well-prepared spokesman and there must be an equally well-prepared congregation. They work in tandem with each other.

Come to terms with your lips, with your ears, as you envision yourself preparing for worship. Experiment with something different for a change. Be quiet. Try silence.

From the first strains of music to the last word of the benediction ... learn to hitchhike on God’s thoughts. Sometimes those thoughts come in the silence of the offertory. Sometimes they come as someone else is leading in prayer. Occasionally they come in the singing of a hymn. Draw near. Listen well, because God is communicating. (From Living on the Ragged Edge by Charles Swindoll)

Application

What steals your attention during worship? Do your thoughts wander toward the day’s demands? Do you become preoccupied with later activities? What are some strategies you could employ to help keep your mind focused?

Exploration

Faithful Worship—Joshua 22:27; Psalm 95:6; Daniel 3:16–18; John 4:23–24.

This message is the word of the Lord given to Israel through Malachi.

God Loves Israel

<sup>2</sup>The Lord said, “I have loved you.”

But you ask, “How have you loved us?”

The Lord said, “Esau and Jacob were brothers. I loved Jacob, <sup>3</sup>but I hated Esau. I destroyed his mountain country and left his land to the wild dogs of the desert.”

<sup>4</sup>The people of Edom might say, “We were destroyed, but we will go back and rebuild the ruins.”

But the Lord All-Powerful says, “If they rebuild them, I will destroy them. People will say, ‘Edom is a wicked country. The Lord is always angry with the Edomites.’ <sup>5</sup>You will see these things with your own eyes. And you will say, ‘The Lord is great, even outside the borders of Israel!’”

The Priests Don't Respect God

<sup>6</sup>The Lord All-Powerful says, “A child honors his father, and a servant honors his master. I am a father, so why don't you honor me? I am a master, so why don't you respect me? You priests do not respect me.

“But you ask, ‘How have we shown you disrespect?’

<sup>7</sup>“You have shown it by bringing unclean food to my altar.

“But you ask, ‘What makes it unclean?’

“It is unclean because you don’t respect the altar of the Lord. <sup>8</sup>When you bring blind animals as sacrifices, that is wrong. When you bring crippled and sick animals, that is wrong. Try giving them to your governor. Would he be pleased with you? He wouldn’t accept you,” says the Lord All-Powerful.

<sup>9</sup>“Now ask God to be kind to you, but he won’t accept you with such offerings,” says the Lord All-Powerful.

<sup>10</sup>“I wish one of you would close the Temple doors so that you would not light useless fires on my altar! I am not pleased with you and will not accept your gifts,” says the Lord All-Powerful. <sup>11</sup>“From the east to the west I will be honored among the nations. Everywhere they will bring incense and clean offerings to me, because I will be honored among the nations,” says the Lord All-Powerful.

<sup>12</sup>“But you don’t honor me. You say about the Lord’s altar, ‘It is unclean, and the food has no worth.’ <sup>13</sup>You say, ‘We are tired of doing this,’ and you sniff at it in disgust,” says the Lord All-Powerful.

“And you bring hurt, crippled, and sick animals as gifts. You bring them as gifts, but I won’t accept them from you,” says the Lord. <sup>14</sup>“The person who cheats will be cursed. He has a male animal in his flock and promises to offer it, but then he offers to the Lord an animal that has something wrong with it. I am a great king,” says the Lord All-Powerful, “and I am feared by all the nations.

Rules for Priests

“Priests, this command is for you. <sup>2</sup>Listen to me. Pay attention to what I say. Honor my name,” says the Lord All-Powerful. “If you don’t, I will send a curse on you and on your blessings. I have already cursed them, because you don’t pay attention to what I say.

<sup>3</sup>“I will punish your descendants. I will smear your faces with the animal insides left from your feasts, and you will be thrown away with it. <sup>4</sup>Then you will know that I am giving you this command so my agreement with Levi will continue,” says the Lord All-Powerful. <sup>5</sup>“My agreement for priests was with the tribe of Levi. I promised them life and peace so they would honor me. And they did honor me and fear me. <sup>6</sup>They taught the true teachings and spoke no lies. With peace and honesty they did what I said they should do, and they kept many people from sinning.

<sup>7</sup>“A priest should teach what he knows, and people should learn the teachings from him, because he is the messenger of the Lord All-Powerful. <sup>8</sup>But you priests have stopped obeying me. With your teachings you have caused many people to do wrong. You have broken the agreement with the tribe of Levi!” says the Lord All-Powerful. <sup>9</sup>“You have not been careful to do what I say, but instead you take sides in court cases. So I have caused you to be hated and disgraced in front of everybody.”

Judah Was Not Loyal to God

<sup>10</sup>We all have the same father; the same God made us. So why do people break their promises to each other and show no respect for the agreement our ancestors made with God? <sup>11</sup>The people of Judah have broken their promises. They have done something God hates in Israel and Jerusalem: The people of Judah did not respect the Temple that the Lord loves, and the men of Judah married women who worship foreign gods. <sup>12</sup>Whoever does this might bring offerings to the Lord All-Powerful, but the Lord will still cut that person off from the community of Israel.

<sup>13</sup>This is another thing you do. You cover the Lord's altar with your tears. You cry and moan, because he does not accept your offerings and is not pleased with what you bring. <sup>14</sup>You ask, "Why?" It is because the Lord sees how you treated the wife you married when you were young. You broke your promise to her, even though she was your partner and you had an agreement with her. <sup>15</sup>God made husbands and wives to become one body and one spirit for his purpose—so they would have children who are true to God.

So be careful, and do not break your promise to the wife you married when you were young.

<sup>16</sup>The Lord God of Israel says, "I hate divorce. And I hate people who do cruel things as easily as they put on clothes," says the Lord All-Powerful.

So be careful. And do not break your trust.

The Special Day of Judging

<sup>17</sup>You have tired the Lord with your words.

You ask, "How have we tired him?"

You did it by saying, “The Lord thinks anyone who does evil is good, and he is pleased with them.” Or you asked, “Where is the God who is fair?”

The Lord All-Powerful says, “I will send my messenger, who will prepare the way for me. Suddenly, the Lord you are looking for will come to his Temple; the messenger of the agreement, whom you want, will come.”<sup>2</sup>No one can live through that time; no one can survive when he comes. He will be like a purifying fire and like laundry soap.<sup>3</sup>Like someone who heats and purifies silver, he will purify the Levites and make them pure like gold and silver. Then they will bring offerings to the Lord in the right way.<sup>4</sup>And the Lord will accept the offerings from Judah and Jerusalem, as it was in the past.<sup>5</sup>The Lord All-Powerful says, “Then I will come to you and judge you. I will be quick to testify against those who take part in evil magic, adultery, and lying under oath, those who cheat workers of their pay and who cheat widows and orphans, those who are unfair to foreigners, and those who do not respect me.

Stealing from God

<sup>6</sup>“I the Lord do not change. So you descendants of Jacob have not been destroyed.<sup>7</sup>Since the time of your ancestors, you have disobeyed my rules and have not kept them. Return to me, and I will return to you,” says the Lord All-Powerful.

“But you ask, ‘How can we return?’

<sup>8</sup>“Should a person rob God? But you are robbing me.

“You ask, ‘How have we robbed you?’

“You have robbed me in your offerings and the tenth of your crops.<sup>9</sup>So a curse is on you, because the whole nation has robbed me.<sup>10</sup>Bring to the storehouse a full tenth of what you earn so there will be food in my house. Test me in this,” says the Lord All-Powerful. “I will open the windows of heaven for you and pour out all the blessings you need. <sup>11</sup>I will stop the insects so they won't eat your crops. The grapes won't fall from your vines before they are ready to pick," says the Lord All-Powerful. <sup>12</sup>"All the nations will call you blessed, because you will have a pleasant country," says the Lord All-Powerful.

The Lord's Promise of Mercy

<sup>13</sup>The Lord says, "You have said terrible things about me.

"But you ask, 'What have we said about you?'

<sup>14</sup>"You have said, 'It is useless to serve God. It did no good to obey his laws and to show the Lord All-Powerful that we were sorry for what we did. <sup>15</sup>So we say that proud people are happy. Evil people succeed. They challenge God and get away with it.'"

<sup>16</sup>Then those who honored the Lord spoke with each other, and the Lord listened and heard them. The names of those who honored the Lord and respected him were written in his presence in a book to be remembered.

<sup>17</sup>The Lord All-Powerful says, "They belong to me; on that day they will be my very own. As a parent shows mercy to his child who serves him, I will show mercy to my people. <sup>18</sup>You will again see the difference between good and evil people, between those who serve God and those who don't.

The Day of the Lord's Judging

“There is a day coming that will burn like a hot furnace, and all the proud and evil people will be like straw. On that day they will be completely burned up so that not a root or branch will be left,” says the Lord All-Powerful. <sup>2</sup>“But for you who honor me, goodness will shine on you like the sun, with healing in its rays. You will jump around, like well-fed calves. <sup>3</sup>Then you will crush the wicked like ashes under your feet on the day I will do this,” says the Lord All-Powerful.

<sup>4</sup>“Remember the teaching of Moses my servant, those laws and rules I gave to him on Mount Sinai for all the Israelites.

<sup>5</sup>“But I will send you Elijah the prophet before that great and terrifying day of the Lord's judging. <sup>6</sup>Elijah will help parents love their children and children love their parents. Otherwise, I will come and put a curse on the land.”

The New Testament

The Book of Matthew

Introduction

You gotta wonder what Jesus saw in Matthew.

He was a tax collector. The profession hasn't been too popular in any era, but especially not in the days of Christ. Tax collectors were the quislings of Palestine. They took from their own people and gave to Rome. As long as they met their quota, they could tax whatever they wanted and as much as they wanted.

People ducked when they saw these guys coming.

Not only was Matthew a tax collector, he was a public tax collector. Some collectors did their business underground. They hired runners to do their dirty work. Matthew did his own. He was the leech at the bottom of the pit. He pulled his stretch limo right into the greasiest parts of town and set up his table and held out his hand.

That's where he was when Jesus called him.

You gotta wonder what Jesus saw in Matthew. At the same time, you gotta wonder what Matthew saw in Jesus. I mean, look at him. Dirt under his nails. Calloused hands. Holes in his sandals. No headquarters. No office. No committee. No clout with the local church.

The clergy won't give him the time of day. His followers look more like dockhands or pool sharks than seminarians.

This guy claims to be the Messiah?

Quite a pair, these two. You gotta wonder what they saw in each other. Whatever it was, it must've been something. Matthew heard the call and never went back. He spent the rest of his life convincing folks that the carpenter was the King. Jesus gave the call and never took it back. He spent his life dying for people like Matthew, convincing a lot of us that if he had a place for Matthew, he just might have a place for us.

Life Lessons

Matthew 1:1-25

Situation

Because Matthew wrote for a Jewish audience, he began his Gospel by showing through family records that Jesus was a descendant of both King David and Abraham.

Observation

Joseph found it difficult to understand the supernatural conception and birth of Jesus Christ.

Inspiration

Perhaps changes are in the air right now. Maybe you're in the midst of a decision. It's disrupting, isn't it? You like your branch... And, like Joseph, you've been a pretty good branch-sitter. And then you hear the call. "I need you to go out on the limb and ... move. Take your family and move overseas, I have a special work for you."

... forgive. It doesn't matter who hurt who first. What matters is that you go and build the bridge."

... evangelize. That new family down the block? They don't know anyone in town. Go meet them."

... sacrifice. The orphanage has a mortgage payment due this month. They can't meet it. Remember the bonus you received last week?"

Regardless of the nature of the call, the consequences are the same: civil war. Though your heart may say yes, your feet say no. Excuses blow numerously as golden leaves in an autumn wind.

“That’s not my talent.” “It’s time for someone else to take charge.” “Not now. I’ll get to it tomorrow.”

But eventually you’re left staring at a bare tree and a hard choice: His will or yours?

The Family History of Jesus

This is the family history of Jesus Christ. He came from the family of David, and David came from the family of Abraham.

<sup>2</sup>Abraham was the father of Isaac.

Isaac was the father of Jacob.

Jacob was the father of Judah and his brothers.

<sup>3</sup>Judah was the father of Perez and Zerah.

(Their mother was Tamar.)

Perez was the father of Hezron.

Hezron was the father of Ram.

<sup>4</sup>Ram was the father of Amminadab.

Amminadab was the father of Nahshon.

Nahshon was the father of Salmon.

<sup>5</sup>Salmon was the father of Boaz.

(Boaz's mother was Rahab.)

Boaz was the father of Obed.

(Obed's mother was Ruth.)

Obed was the father of Jesse.

<sup>6</sup>Jesse was the father of King David.

David was the father of Solomon.

(Solomon's mother had been Uriah's wife.)

<sup>7</sup>Solomon was the father of Rehoboam.

Rehoboam was the father of Abijah.

Abijah was the father of Asa.

<sup>8</sup>Asa was the father of Jehoshaphat.
Jehoshaphat was the father of Jehoram.
Jehoram was the ancestor of Uzziah.

<sup>9</sup>Uzziah was the father of Jotham.
Jotham was the father of Ahaz.
Ahaz was the father of Hezekiah.

<sup>10</sup>Hezekiah was the father of Manasseh.
Manasseh was the father of Amon.
Amon was the father of Josiah.

<sup>11</sup>Josiah was the grandfather of Jehoiachin and his brothers.

(This was at the time that the people were taken to Babylon.)

<sup>12</sup>After they were taken to Babylon:
Jehoiachin was the father of Shealtiel.
Shealtiel was the grandfather of Zerubbabel.

<sup>13</sup>Zerubbabel was the father of Abiud.
Abiud was the father of Eliakim.
Eliakim was the father of Azor.

<sup>14</sup>Azor was the father of Zadok.
Zadok was the father of Akim.
Akim was the father of Eliud.

<sup>15</sup>Eliud was the father of Eleazar.
Eleazar was the father of Matthan.
Matthan was the father of Jacob.

<sup>16</sup>Jacob was the father of Joseph.
Joseph was the husband of Mary,
and Mary was the mother of Jesus.
Jesus is called the Christ.

<sup>17</sup>So there were fourteen generations from Abraham to David. And there were fourteen generations from David until the people were taken to Babylon. And there were fourteen generations from the time when the people were taken to Babylon until Christ was born.

The Birth of Jesus Christ

<sup>18</sup>This is how the birth of Jesus Christ came about. His mother Mary was engaged to marry Joseph, but before they married, she learned she was pregnant by the power of the Holy Spirit.

<sup>19</sup>Because Mary's husband, Joseph, was a good man, he did not want to disgrace her in public, so he planned to divorce her secretly.

<sup>20</sup>While Joseph thought about these things, an angel of the Lord came to him in a dream. The angel said, "Joseph, descendant of David, don't be afraid to take Mary as your wife, because the baby in her is from the Holy Spirit. <sup>21</sup>She will give birth to a son, and you will name him Jesus, because he will save his people from their sins."

<sup>22</sup>All this happened to bring about what the Lord had said through the prophet: <sup>23</sup>"The virgin will be pregnant. She will have a son, and they will name him Immanuel." which means "God is with us."

<sup>24</sup>When Joseph woke up, he did what the Lord's angel had told him to do. Joseph took Mary as his wife, <sup>25</sup>but he did not have sexual relations with her until she gave birth to the son. And Joseph named him Jesus.

Life Lessons

Matthew 2:1–23

Situation

Jesus was born a descendant of King David during the reign of King Herod. The Roman Senate had appointed Herod to rule Judea.

Observation

Reaction to Jesus' birth was mixed. The Magi came to worship Jesus, while King Herod tried to kill him.

Inspiration

Have you ever been at a party where an attempt was made to celebrate just for the sake of celebration? I have, and I found it to be exceptionally contrived and boring. A true celebration must be rooted in an event.

In both the Old and New Testaments, worship is rooted in an actual event. The content of Old Testament worship is determined by the Exodus-event, while the content of New Testament worship is determined by the Christ-event. In either case, biblical worship celebrates the event and makes it come alive again.

... We don't go to worship to celebrate what we have done. We don't say, "Look, Lord, isn't it wonderful that I believe in you!" No! We go to worship to praise and thank God for what he has done, is doing, and will do. God's work in Christ is the focus of worship. And it is the focus we need to recapture as we seek to renew our public worship experience. (From Worship Is a Verb by Robert E. Webber)

Application

How do I respond to Jesus, the King? Do I worship him? Do I celebrate his birth, life, death, and resurrection? What do I bring to give to him? Bring a gift to Jesus in your prayer, worship, or service.

Wise Men Come to Visit Jesus

Jesus was born in the town of Bethlehem in Judea during the time when Herod was king. When Jesus was born, some wise men from the east came to Jerusalem.<sup>2</sup> They asked, “Where is the baby who was born to be the king of the Jews? We saw his star in the east and have come to worship him.”

<sup>3</sup>When King Herod heard this, he was troubled, as well as all the people in Jerusalem. <sup>4</sup>Herod called a meeting of all the leading priests and teachers of the law and asked them where the Christ would be born. <sup>5</sup>They answered, “In the town of Bethlehem in Judea. The prophet wrote about this in the Scriptures:

<sup>6</sup>“But you, Bethlehem, in the land of Judah, are important among the tribes of Judah.
A ruler will come from you who will be like a shepherd for my people Israel.””

Micah 5:2

<sup>7</sup>Then Herod had a secret meeting with the wise men and learned from them the exact time they first saw the star. <sup>8</sup>He sent the wise men to Bethlehem, saying, “Look carefully for the child. When you find him, come tell me so I can worship him too.”

they had seen in the east went before them until it stopped above the place where the child was. <sup>10</sup>When the wise men saw the star, they were filled with joy. <sup>11</sup>They came to the house where the child was and saw him with his mother, Mary, and they bowed down and worshiped him. They opened their gifts and gave him treasures of gold, frankincense, and myrrh. <sup>12</sup>But God warned the wise men in a dream not to go back to Herod, so they returned to their own country by a different way.

Jesus' Parents Take Him to Egypt

<sup>13</sup>After they left, an angel of the Lord came to Joseph in a dream and said, "Get up! Take the child and his mother and escape to Egypt, because Herod is starting to look for the child so he can kill him. Stay in Egypt until I tell you to return."

<sup>14</sup>So Joseph got up and left for Egypt during the night with the child and his mother. <sup>15</sup>And Joseph stayed in Egypt until Herod died. This happened to bring about what the Lord had said through the prophet: "I called my son out of Egypt."

Herod Kills the Baby Boys

<sup>16</sup>When Herod saw that the wise men had tricked him, he was furious. So he gave an order to kill all the baby boys in Bethlehem and in the surrounding area who were two years old or younger. This was in keeping with the time he learned from the wise men. <sup>17</sup>So what God had said through the prophet Jeremiah came true:

<sup>18</sup><sup>c</sup>A voice was heard in Ramah

of painful crying and deep sadness:
Rachel crying for her children.
She refused to be comforted,
because her children are dead.”

Jeremiah 31:15

Joseph and Mary Return

<sup>19</sup>After Herod died, an angel of the Lord spoke to Joseph in a dream while he was in Egypt. <sup>20</sup>The angel said, “Get up! Take the child and his mother and go to the land of Israel, because the people who were trying to kill the child are now dead.”

<sup>21</sup>So Joseph took the child and his mother and went to Israel. <sup>22</sup>But he heard that Archelaus was now king in Judea since his father Herod had died. So Joseph was afraid to go there. After being warned in a dream, he went to the area of Galilee, <sup>23</sup>to a town called Nazareth, and lived there. And so what God had said through the prophets came true: “He will be called a Nazarene.”

Life Lessons

Matthew 3:1–17

Situation

Two major religious groups existed in Israel at the time of Jesus. The Pharisees were more religiously minded, while the Sadducees were more politically minded. These groups were united in their hatred of Jesus.

Observation

True repentance prepares the way for Jesus in our lives.

Inspiration

Then there was what John the Baptist said—that he had come to prepare the way for the Lord. And everyone got excited. They knew their prophecies, and were watching out for God to come and visit and redeem his people. Then Jesus suddenly appears on the scene. And John seems to have known something about Jesus—something that made him hesitate before baptizing him. That seems significant. It was as if he knew that Jesus didn't need to be baptized. It was as if he had no sin to be washed away. If anybody needed to baptize anyone else, it was John who needed to be baptized by Jesus....

What seemed ridiculous if Jesus was just a man makes perfect sense if he really was God... . Jesus conveyed the impression that he had the authority to act and speak as God. It is almost as if he anticipated the verdict of the resurrection—that he was authorized to speak and act in this way. And didn't people say that he taught with authority?

Suppose it were true... . If Jesus is God, it means we have a revelation of God which goes far beyond anything and everything we have ever had in the past....

It means that the great gulf between God and ourselves has been bridged....

And it would mean that any idea of God as some distant and remote figure would have to go. (From What Was God Doing on the Cross? by Alister E. McGrath)

Have you followed this example of Jesus through baptism? Give it prayerful consideration.

The Work of John the Baptist

About that time John the Baptist began preaching in the desert area of Judea.<sup>2</sup> John said, “Change your hearts and lives because the kingdom of heaven is near.”<sup>3</sup> John the Baptist is the one Isaiah the prophet was talking about when he said:

“This is a voice of one who calls out in the desert:
‘Prepare the way for the Lord.
Make the road straight for him.’”

Isaiah 40:3

<sup>4</sup>John’s clothes were made from camel’s hair, and he wore a leather belt around his waist. For food, he ate locusts and wild honey.<sup>5</sup> Many people came from Jerusalem and Judea and all the area around the Jordan River to hear John.<sup>6</sup> They confessed their sins, and he baptized them in the Jordan River.

<sup>7</sup>Many of the Pharisees and Sadducees came to the place where John was baptizing people. When John saw them, he said, “You are all snakes! Who warned you to run away from God’s coming punishment?”<sup>8</sup> Do the things that show you really have changed your hearts and lives.<sup>9</sup> And don’t think you can say to yourselves, ‘Abraham is our father.’ I tell you that God could make children for Abraham from these rocks.

<sup>10</sup>The ax is now ready to cut down the trees, and every tree that does not produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire.

<sup>11</sup>“I baptize you with water to show that your hearts and lives have changed. But there is one coming after me who is greater than I am, whose sandals I am not good enough to carry. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire. <sup>12</sup>He will come ready to clean the grain, separating the good grain from the chaff. He will put the good part of the grain into his barn, but he will burn the chaff with a fire that cannot be put out.”

Jesus Is Baptized by John

<sup>13</sup>At that time Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan River and wanted John to baptize him. <sup>14</sup>But John tried to stop him, saying, “Why do you come to me to be baptized? I need to be baptized by you!”

<sup>15</sup>Jesus answered, “Let it be this way for now. We should do all things that are God’s will.” So John agreed to baptize Jesus.

<sup>16</sup>As soon as Jesus was baptized, he came up out of the water. Then heaven opened, and he saw God’s Spirit coming down on him like a dove. <sup>17</sup>And a voice from heaven said, “This is my Son, whom I love, and I am very pleased with him.”

Life Lessons

Matthew 4:1–25

Situation

Jesus told John the Baptist, “We should do all things that are God’s will” (Matthew 3:15). Jesus followed God’s will by resisting the devil’s temptations and by teaching, preaching, and healing.

Observation

Jesus gave his disciples the most rewarding job. He taught them to reach out to people with the Good News of God.

Inspiration

When I was in high school, our family used to fish every year during spring break. One year my brother and my mom couldn’t go, so my dad let me invite a friend. I asked Mark. He was a good pal and a great sport. He got permission from his parents, and we began planning our trip. . . .

We loaded our camper and set out for the lake.

We arrived late at night, unfolded the camper, and went to bed—dreaming of tomorrow’s day in the sun. But during the night, an unseasonably strong norther blew in. It got cold fast! The wind was so strong that we could barely open the camper door the next morning. The sky was gray. The lake was a mountain range of white-topped waves. There was no way we could fish in that weather.

“No problem,” we said. “We’ll spend the day in the camper. After all, we have Monopoly. We have Reader's Digest. We all know a few jokes. It's not what we came to do, but we'll make the best of it and fish tomorrow."

We were in for a surprise. The next morning it wasn't the wind that made the door hard to open, it was the ice!

It was a long day. It was a long, cold night.

When we awoke the next morning to the sound of sleet slapping the canvas, we didn't even pretend to be cheerful. We were flat-out grumpy. Mark became more of a jerk with each passing moment; I wondered what spell of ignorance I must have been in when I invited him. Dad couldn't do anything right; I wondered how someone so irritable could have such an even-tempered son. We sat in misery the whole day, our fishing equipment still unpacked.

The next day was even colder. "We're going home" were my father's first words. No one objected.

I learned a hard lesson that week. Not about fishing, but about people.

When those who are called to fish don't fish, they fight.

But note the other side of this fish tale: When those who are called to fish, fish—they flourish!

Leave soldiers inside the barracks with no time on the front line and see what happens to their attitude. The soldiers will invent things to complain about. Bunks will be too hard. Food will be too cold. Leadership will be too tough. The company will be too stale. Yet place those same soldiers in the trench and let them duck a few bullets, and what was a boring barracks will seem like a haven. The beds will feel great. The food will be almost ideal. The leadership will be courageous. The company will be exciting.

When those who are called to fish, fish—they flourish! (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

The Temptation of Jesus

Then the Spirit led Jesus into the desert to be tempted by the devil. <sup>2</sup>Jesus ate nothing for forty days and nights. After this, he was very hungry. <sup>3</sup>The devil came to Jesus to tempt him, saying, “If you are the Son of God, tell these rocks to become bread.”

<sup>4</sup>Jesus answered, “It is written in the Scriptures, ‘A person does not live by eating only bread, but by everything God says.’”

<sup>5</sup>Then the devil led Jesus to the holy city of Jerusalem and put him on a high place of the Temple. <sup>6</sup>The devil said, “If you are the Son of God, jump down, because it is written in the Scriptures:

‘He has put his angels in charge of you.
They will catch you in their hands
so that you will not hit your foot on a rock.’”

Psalm 91:11–12

<sup>7</sup>Jesus answered him, “It also says in the Scriptures, ‘Do not test the Lord your God.’”

<sup>8</sup>Then the devil led Jesus to the top of a very high mountain and showed him all the kingdoms of the world and all their splendor. <sup>9</sup>The devil said, “If you will bow down and worship me, I will give you all these things.”

<sup>10</sup>Jesus said to the devil, “Go away from me, Satan! It is written in the Scriptures, ‘You must worship the Lord your God and serve only him.’”

<sup>11</sup>So the devil left Jesus, and angels came and took care of him.

Jesus Begins Work in Galilee

<sup>12</sup>When Jesus heard that John had been put in prison, he went back to Galilee. <sup>13</sup>He left Nazareth and went to live in Capernaum, a town near Lake Galilee, in the area near Zebulun and Naphtali. <sup>14</sup>Jesus did this to bring about what the prophet Isaiah had said:

<sup>15</sup>“Land of Zebulun and land of Naphtali along the sea,
beyond the Jordan River.

This is Galilee where the non-Jewish people live.

<sup>16</sup>These people who live in darkness will see a great light.

They live in a place covered with the shadows of death,
but a light will shine on them.”

Isaiah 9:1–2

Jesus Chooses Some Followers

<sup>17</sup>From that time Jesus began to preach, saying, “Change your hearts and lives, because the kingdom of heaven is near.”

<sup>18</sup>As Jesus was walking by Lake Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon (called Peter) and his brother Andrew. They were throwing a net into the lake because they were fishermen. <sup>19</sup>Jesus said, “Come follow me, and I will make you fish for people.” <sup>20</sup>So Simon and Andrew immediately left their nets and followed him.

<sup>21</sup>As Jesus continued walking by Lake Galilee, he saw two other brothers, James and John, the sons of Zebedee. They were in a boat with their father Zebedee, mending their nets. Jesus told them to come with him. <sup>22</sup>Immediately they left the boat and their father, and they followed Jesus.

Jesus Teaches and Heals People

<sup>23</sup>Jesus went everywhere in Galilee, teaching in the synagogues, preaching the Good News about the kingdom of heaven, and healing all the people’s diseases and sicknesses. <sup>24</sup>The news about Jesus spread all over Syria, and people brought all the sick to him. They were suffering from different kinds of diseases. Some were in great pain, some had demons, some were epileptics, and some were paralyzed. Jesus healed all of them. <sup>25</sup>Many people from Galilee, the Ten Towns, Jerusalem, Judea, and the land across the Jordan River followed him.

Life Lessons

Matthew 5:1–48

Situation

Jesus gave this sermon (chapters 5–7) on a hillside near the town of Capernaum. Matthew presented four other great discourses of Jesus (Matthew 10; 13; 18; 24–25).

Observation

Jesus did not come to destroy the law of Moses or the teaching of the prophets, but to fulfill what they said. Jesus told us to be perfect, just as our Father in heaven is perfect.

Inspiration

Sacred delight is good news coming through the back door of your heart. It's what you'd always dreamed but never expected. It's the too-good-to-be-true coming true. It's having God as your pinch-hitter, your lawyer, your dad, your biggest fan, and your best friend. God on your side, in your heart, out in front, and protecting your back. It's hope where you least expected it: a flower in life's sidewalk.

It is sacred because only God can grant it. It is a delight because it thrills. Since it is sacred, it can't be stolen. And since it is delightful, it can't be predicted.

It was this gladness that danced through the Red Sea. It was this joy that blew the trumpet at Jericho. It was this secret that made Mary sing. It was this surprise that put the springtime into Easter morning...

It is this sacred delight that Jesus promises in the Sermon on the Mount.

Nine times he promises it. And he promises it to an unlikely crowd:

“The poor in spirit ... Those who mourn ... The meek ... Those who hunger and thirst ... The merciful ... The pure in heart ... The peacemakers ... The persecuted ...”

It is to this band of pilgrims that God promises a special blessing. A heavenly joy. A sacred delight. (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

How are you fulfilling Jesus' command to be perfect before God? Do you fall short by lying, lust, cheating, coveting, or gossiping? When you battle one of these temptations, instead of giving in, pray, sing a worshipful song, or think of a memorized verse. Praise God instead of giving in.

Jesus Teaches the People

When Jesus saw the crowds, he went up on a hill and sat down. His followers came to him,<sup>2</sup> and he began to teach them, saying:

<sup>3</sup>“Those people who know they have great spiritual needs are happy, because the kingdom of heaven belongs to them.

<sup>4</sup>Those who are sad now are happy,

because God will comfort them.

<sup>5</sup>Those who are humble are happy,

because the earth will belong to them.

<sup>6</sup>Those who want to do right more than anything else are happy, because God will fully satisfy them.

<sup>7</sup>Those who show mercy to others are happy, because God will show mercy to them.

<sup>8</sup>Those who are pure in their thinking are happy, because they will be with God.

<sup>9</sup>Those who work to bring peace are happy, because God will call them his children.

<sup>10</sup>Those who are treated badly for doing good are happy,

because the kingdom of heaven belongs to them.

<sup>11</sup>“People will insult you and hurt you. They will lie and say all kinds of evil things about you because you follow me. But when they do, you will be happy. <sup>12</sup>Rejoice and be glad, because you have a great reward waiting for you in heaven. People did the same evil things to the prophets who lived before you.

You Are Like Salt and Light

<sup>13</sup>“You are the salt of the earth. But if the salt loses its salty taste, it cannot be made salty again. It is good for nothing, except to be thrown out and walked on.

<sup>14</sup>“You are the light that gives light to the world. A city that is built on a hill cannot be hidden. <sup>15</sup>And people don’t hide a light under a bowl. They put it on a lampstand so the light shines for all the people in the house. <sup>16</sup>In the same way, you should be a light for other people. Live so that they will see the good things you do and will praise your Father in heaven.

The Importance of the Law

<sup>17</sup>“Don’t think that I have come to destroy the law of Moses or the teaching of the prophets. I have not come to destroy them but to bring about what they said. <sup>18</sup>I tell you the truth, nothing will disappear from the law until heaven and earth are gone. Not even the smallest letter or the smallest part of a letter will be lost until everything has happened. <sup>19</sup>Whoever refuses to obey any command and teaches other people not to obey that command will be the least important in the kingdom of heaven. But whoever obeys the commands and teaches other people to obey them will be great in the kingdom of heaven.<sup>20</sup>I tell you that if you are no more obedient than the teachers of the law and the Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven.

Jesus Teaches About Anger

<sup>21</sup>“You have heard that it was said to our people long ago, ‘You must not murder anyone. Anyone who murders another will be judged.’<sup>22</sup>But I tell you, if you are angry with a brother or sister, you will be judged. If you say bad things to a brother or sister, you will be judged by the council. And if you call someone a fool, you will be in danger of the fire of hell.

<sup>23</sup>“So when you offer your gift to God at the altar, and you remember that your brother or sister has something against you,<sup>24</sup>leave your gift there at the altar. Go and make peace with that person, and then come and offer your gift.

<sup>25</sup>“If your enemy is taking you to court, become friends quickly, before you go to court. Otherwise, your enemy might turn you over to the judge, and the judge might give you to a guard to put you in jail.<sup>26</sup>I tell you the truth, you will not leave there until you have paid everything you owe.

Jesus Teaches About Sexual Sin

<sup>27</sup>“You have heard that it was said, ‘You must not be guilty of adultery.’<sup>28</sup>But I tell you that if anyone looks at a woman and wants to sin sexually with her, in his mind he has already done that sin with the woman.<sup>29</sup>If your right eye causes you to sin, take it out and throw it away. It is better to lose one part of your body than to have your whole body thrown into hell. <sup>30</sup>If your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. It is better to lose one part of your body than for your whole body to go into hell.

Jesus Teaches About Divorce

<sup>31</sup>“It was also said, ‘Anyone who divorces his wife must give her a written divorce paper.’ <sup>32</sup>But I tell you that anyone who divorces his wife forces her to be guilty of adultery. The only reason for a man to divorce his wife is if she has sexual relations with another man. And anyone who marries that divorced woman is guilty of adultery.

Make Promises Carefully

<sup>33</sup>“You have heard that it was said to our people long ago, ‘Don’t break your promises, but keep the promises you make to the Lord.’ <sup>34</sup>But I tell you, never swear an oath. Don’t swear an oath using the name of heaven, because heaven is God’s throne. <sup>35</sup>Don’t swear an oath using the name of the earth, because the earth belongs to God. Don’t swear an oath using the name of Jerusalem, because that is the city of the great King. <sup>36</sup>Don’t even swear by your own head, because you cannot make one hair on your head become white or black. <sup>37</sup>Say only yes if you mean yes, and no if you mean no. If you say more than yes or no, it is from the Evil One.

Don’t Fight Back

<sup>38</sup>“You have heard that it was said, ‘An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.’ <sup>39</sup>But I tell you, don’t stand up against an evil person. If someone slaps you on the right cheek, turn to him the other cheek also. <sup>40</sup>If someone wants to sue you in court and take your shirt, let him have your coat also. <sup>41</sup>If someone forces you to go with him one mile, go with him two miles. <sup>42</sup>If a person asks you for something, give it to him. Don’t refuse to give to someone who wants to borrow from you.

Love All People

<sup>43</sup>“You have heard that it was said, ‘Love your neighbor and hate your enemies.’ <sup>44</sup>But I say to you, love your enemies. Pray for those who hurt you. <sup>45</sup>If you do this, you will be true children of your Father in heaven. He causes the sun to rise on good people and on evil people, and he sends rain to those who do right and to those who do wrong. <sup>46</sup>If you love only the people who love you, you will get no reward. Even the tax collectors do that. <sup>47</sup>And if you are nice only to your friends, you are no better than other people. Even those who don’t know God are nice to their friends. <sup>48</sup>So you must be perfect, just as your Father in heaven is perfect.

Life Lessons

Matthew 6:1-34

Situation

After teaching about happiness and honoring the Law, Jesus taught about giving, praying, and worshiping.

Observation

The Lord's Prayer, a model prayer, is really the disciples' prayer.

Inspiration

When David says, "I will live in the house of the Lord forever" (Psalm 23:6), he's not saying he wants to get away from people. He's saying that he yearns to be in God's presence, wherever he is.

David longs to be in God's house.

I know what you're thinking: Sure, Max, but he was David. He was the poet and the prince and giant-killer. He didn't have carpools and diapers and a boss who breathes deadlines like a dragon breathes fire. I'd love to live in God's house, too, but for the time being, I'm stuck in the real world.

Forgive me, but I beg to differ. You aren't stuck in the real world. Just the opposite, you are one step away from the house of God. Wherever you are. Whatever time it is. Whether in the office on Thursday or at soccer practice on Saturday, you are only a decision away from the presence of your Father. You need never leave the house of God. You don't need to change your zip code or your neighborhood; all you need to change is your perception.

When your car is stuck in traffic, you can step into the chapel. When the gust of temptation unbalances your stride, step behind the wall of his strength. When the employees belittle you, take a seat in the porch swing next to your Father; he'll comfort you. Remember, this is no house of stone. You won't find it on a map. You won't find it described in a realtor journal.

But you will find it in your Bible. You've seen the blueprint before. You've read the names of the rooms and recited the layout. You're familiar with the design. But chances are you never considered it to be a house plan. You viewed the verses as a prayer.

Indeed they are. The Lord's Prayer. It would be difficult to find someone who hasn't quoted the prayer or read the words . . . .

Children memorize it. Parishioners recite it. Students study it . . . but I want to challenge us to do something different. I want us to live in it . . . to view it as the floor plan to our spiritual house. In these verses Christ has provided more than a model for prayer, he has provided a model for living. These words do more than tell us what to say to God; they tell us how to exist with God. These words describe a grand house in which God's children were intended to live . . . with him, forever. (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

Application

Take each section of the Lord's Prayer and recast

it in your own words. Consider what it means to you to have a Father in heaven. What aspects of God's kingdom can you help to build this week? Who do you need to forgive today? What "food" do you need for today? Live in the Lord's Prayer today!

Exploration

Jesus' Example—Matthew 14:23; Mark 6:46; Luke 6:12; 9:28–29.

Jesus Teaches About Giving

“Be careful! When you do good things, don’t do them in front of people to be seen by them. If you do that, you will have no reward from your Father in heaven.

<sup>2</sup>“When you give to the poor, don’t be like the hypocrites. They blow trumpets in the synagogues and on the streets so that people will see them and honor them. I tell you the truth, those hypocrites already have their full reward. <sup>3</sup>So when you give to the poor, don’t let anyone know what you are doing. <sup>4</sup>Your giving should be done in secret. Your Father can see what is done in secret, and he will reward you.

Jesus Teaches About Prayer

<sup>5</sup>“When you pray, don’t be like the hypocrites. They love to stand in the synagogues and on the street corners and pray so people will see them. I tell you the truth, they already have their full reward. <sup>6</sup>When you pray, you should go into your room and close the door and pray to your Father who cannot be seen. Your Father can see what is done in secret, and he will reward you.

<sup>7</sup>“And when you pray, don’t be like those people who don’t know God. They continue saying things that mean nothing, thinking that God will hear them because of their many words. <sup>8</sup>Don't be like them, because your Father knows the things you need before you ask him. <sup>9</sup>So when you pray, you should pray like this:

'Our Father in heaven,
may your name always be kept holy.

<sup>10</sup>May your kingdom come and what you want be done, here on earth as it is in heaven.

<sup>11</sup>Give us the food we need for each day.

<sup>12</sup>Forgive us for our sins,
just as we have forgiven those who sinned against us.

<sup>13</sup>And do not cause us to be tempted, but save us from the Evil One.'

<sup>14</sup>Yes, if you forgive others for their sins, your Father in heaven will also forgive you for your sins. <sup>15</sup>But if you don't forgive others, your Father in heaven will not forgive your sins.

Jesus Teaches About Worship

<sup>16</sup>“When you give up eating, don't put on a sad face like the hypocrites. They make their faces look sad to show people they are giving up eating. I tell you the truth, those hypocrites already have their full reward. <sup>17</sup>So when you give up eating, comb your hair and wash your face. <sup>18</sup>Then people will not know that you are giving up eating, but your Father, whom you cannot see, will see you. Your Father sees what is done in secret, and he will reward you.

God Is More Important than Money

<sup>19c</sup>Don't store treasures for yourselves here on earth where moths and rust will destroy them and thieves can break in and steal them. <sup>20</sup>But store your treasures in heaven where they cannot be destroyed by moths or rust and where thieves cannot break in and steal them. <sup>21</sup>Your heart will be where your treasure is.

<sup>22c</sup>The eye is a light for the body. If your eyes are good, your whole body will be full of light. <sup>23</sup>But if your eyes are evil, your whole body will be full of darkness. And if the only light you have is really darkness, then you have the worst darkness.

<sup>24c</sup>No one can serve two masters. The person will hate one master and love the other, or will follow one master and refuse to follow the other. You cannot serve both God and worldly riches.

Don't Worry

<sup>25c</sup>So I tell you, don't worry about the food or drink you need to live, or about the clothes you need for your body. Life is more than food, and the body is more than clothes. <sup>26</sup>Look at the birds in the air. They don't plant or harvest or store food in barns, but your heavenly Father feeds them. And you know that you are worth much more than the birds. <sup>27</sup>You cannot add any time to your life by worrying about it.

clothes the grass in the field, which is alive today but tomorrow is thrown into the fire. So you can be even more sure that God will clothe you. Don't have so little faith! <sup>31</sup>Don't worry and say, 'What will we eat?' or 'What will we drink?' or 'What will we wear?' <sup>32</sup>The people who don't know God keep trying to get these things, and your Father in heaven knows you need them. <sup>33</sup>The thing you should want most is God's kingdom and doing what God wants. Then all these other things you need will be given to you. <sup>34</sup>So don't worry about tomorrow, because tomorrow will have its own worries. Each day has enough trouble of its own.

Life Lessons

Matthew 7:1-29

Situation

Matthew recorded the ending of Jesus' sermon. Jesus called his hearers to put his teaching into practice.

Observation

Jesus said that the true way which leads to life is based on an internal transformation, not on external deeds.

Inspiration

You want to make a difference in your world? Live a holy life:

Be faithful to your spouse.

Be the one at the office who refuses to cheat.

Be the neighbor who acts neighborly.

Be the employee who does the work and doesn't complain.

Pay your bills.

Do your part and enjoy life.

Don't speak one message and live another.

Note the last line of Paul's words in 1 Thessalonians 4:11-12, "Do all you can to live a peaceful life. Take care of your own business, and do your own work as we have already told you. If you do, then people who are not believers will respect you."

A peaceful life leads nonbelievers to respect believers. What if John's life had not matched his words? What if he'd preached repentance and lived in immorality? What if he'd called for holiness and yet had a reputation for dishonesty? If John's life had not matched his words, his message would have fallen on deaf ears.

So will ours.

People are watching the way we act more than they are listening to what we say.

Saint Francis of Assisi once invited a young monk to accompany him to town to preach. The novice was honored at the opportunity. The two set out for the city, then walked up and down the main street, then several side streets. They chatted with peddlers and greeted the citizens. After some time they returned by another route to the abbey.

The younger man reminded Francis of his original intent. "You have forgotten, Father, that we went to town to preach."

"My son," he replied, "we have preached. We have been seen by many. Our behavior was closely watched. Our attitudes were closely measured. Our words have been overheard. It was by thus that we preached our morning sermon."

John was a voice for Christ with more than his voice. His life matched his words. When a person's ways and words are the same, the fusion is explosive. But when a person says one thing and lives another, the result is destructive. People will know we are Christians, not because we bear the name, but because we live the life. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

What would others say about your life? What kind of fruit are you producing? Think of three specific steps you can take to live the life of a Christian.

Exploration

Producing Fruit—Isaiah 3:10; Matthew 3:8; 21:43; John 15:1–17; Colossians 1:10; James 3:18.

Be Careful About Judging Others

“Don’t judge other people, or you will be judged. <sup>2</sup>You will be judged in the same way that you judge others, and the amount you give to others will be given to you.

<sup>3</sup>“Why do you notice the little piece of dust in your friend’s eye, but you don’t notice the big piece of wood in your own eye? <sup>4</sup>How can you say to your friend, ‘Let me take that little piece of dust out of your eye’ ? Look at yourself! You still have that big piece of wood in your own eye. <sup>5</sup>You hypocrite! First, take the wood out of your own eye. Then you will see clearly to take the dust out of your friend’s eye.

<sup>6</sup>“Don’t give holy things to dogs, and don’t throw your pearls before pigs. Pigs will only trample on them, and dogs will turn to attack you.

Christ Through the Bible

The Acceptance of Jesus

Labels. A fellow gave me one the other day. We got into a lively discussion about some ethical issues. Somewhere in our conversation he asked me what kind of work I was in. I told him I was minister, and he said, “Oh, I see,” and grew silent.

I wanted to say, “No, you don’t. Don’t you put me in that box. I’m not a minister. I am Max-who-ministers. Don't you put me in that box with all those hucksters and hypocrites you may know. That's not fair."

Labels. So convenient. Stick them on a person, and you know what pantry to use.

What if God did that with us? What if God judged us by our outward appearance? What if he judged us based on where we grew up? Or what we do for a living? Or the mistakes we made when we were young? He wouldn't do that, would he?

"Don't judge other people, or you will be judged. You will be judged in the same way that you judge others, and the amount you give to others will be given to you" (Matthew 7:1-2).

Be careful when you judge. That doesn't mean we shouldn't discern. That does mean we shouldn't pass the verdict. The amount of grace you give is the amount you get.

Jesus had another view of the man born blind. Rather than see him as an opportunity for discussion, he saw him as an opportunity for God. Why was he blind? "So that God's power could be shown in him" (John 9:3).

What a perspective! The man wasn't a victim of fate; he was a miracle waiting to happen. Jesus didn't label him. He helped him. Jesus was more concerned about the future than the past.

Who do you best relate to in this story? Some of you relate to the man born blind. You have been the topic of conversation. You have been left on the outside looking in. You've been labeled.

If so, learn what this man learned: When everyone else rejects you, Christ accepts you. When everyone else leaves you, Christ finds you. When no one else wants you, Christ claims you. When no one else will give you the time of day, Jesus will give you the words of eternity.

Others of you will relate to the observers. You've judged. You've labeled. You've slammed the gavel and proclaimed the guilt before knowing the facts. If that is you, go back to John 9:4 and understand what the work of God is: "While it is daytime, we must continue doing the work of the One who sent me."

What is the work of God? Accepting people. Loving before judging. Caring before condemning.

Look before you label. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Ask God for What You Need

<sup>7</sup>“Ask, and God will give to you. Search, and you will find. Knock, and the door will open for you. <sup>8</sup>Yes, everyone who asks will receive. Everyone who searches will find. And everyone who knocks will have the door opened.

<sup>9</sup>“If your children ask for bread, which of you would give them a stone? <sup>10</sup>Or if your children ask for a fish, would you give them a snake? <sup>11</sup>Even though you are bad, you know how to give good gifts to your children. How much more your heavenly Father will give good things to those who ask him!

The Most Important Rule

<sup>12</sup>“Do to others what you want them to do to you. This is the meaning of the law of Moses and the teaching of the prophets.

The Way to Heaven Is Hard

<sup>13</sup>“Enter through the narrow gate. The gate is wide and the road is wide that leads to hell, and many people enter through that gate. <sup>14</sup>But the gate is small and the road is narrow that leads to true life. Only a few people find that road.

People Know You by Your Actions

<sup>15</sup>“Be careful of false prophets. They come to you looking gentle like sheep, but they are really dangerous like wolves. <sup>16</sup>You will know these people by what they do. Grapes don’t come from thornbushes, and figs don’t come from thorny weeds. <sup>17</sup>In the same way, every good tree produces good fruit, but a bad tree produces bad fruit. <sup>18</sup>A good tree cannot produce bad fruit, and a bad tree cannot produce good fruit. <sup>19</sup>Every tree that does not produce good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. <sup>20</sup>In the same way, you will know these false prophets by what they do.

<sup>21</sup>“Not all those who say that I am their Lord will enter the kingdom of heaven. The only people who will enter the kingdom of heaven are those who do what my Father in heaven wants. <sup>22</sup>On the last day many people will say to me, ‘Lord, Lord, we spoke for you, and through you we forced out demons and did many miracles.’ <sup>23</sup>Then I will tell them clearly, ‘Get away from me, you who do evil. I never knew you.’

Two Kinds of People

<sup>24</sup>“Everyone who hears my words and obeys them is like a wise man who built his house on rock. <sup>25</sup>It rained hard, the floods came, and the winds blew and hit that house. But it did not fall, because it was built on rock. <sup>26</sup>Everyone who hears my words and does not obey them is like a foolish man who built his house on sand. <sup>27</sup>It rained hard, the floods came, and the winds blew and hit that house, and it fell with a big crash.”

<sup>28</sup>When Jesus finished saying these things, the people were amazed at his teaching, <sup>29</sup>because he did not teach like their teachers of the law. He taught like a person who had authority.

Life Lessons

Matthew 8:1-34

Situation

Matthew recorded Jesus' miracles involving people who were sick and diseased.

Observation

Jesus' display of power over nature was one way that the Lord revealed himself to his disciples. It illustrates faith and peace.

Inspiration

If you lose your faith, you will probably do so gradually. In tiny increments you will get spiritually sloppy. You will let a few days slip by without consulting your compass. Your sails will go untrimmed. Your rigging will go unprepared. And worst of all, you will forget to anchor your boat. And, before you know it, you'll be bouncing from wave to wave in stormy seas....

Stability in the storm comes not from seeking a new message, but from understanding an old one. The most reliable anchor points are not recent discoveries, but are time-tested truths that have held their ground against the winds of change....

Attach your soul to these boulders and no wave is big enough to wash you under.

(From Six Hours One Friday by Max Lucado)

Application

How faithfully do you pray, read the Bible, attend church? Are prayer and Bible study regular parts of your life, or do you just resort to them in emergency Situations? Ask God to help you become more faithful in anchoring your life in Jesus, even when there are no storms on the horizon.

Jesus Heals a Sick Man

When Jesus came down from the hill, great crowds followed him.<sup>2</sup> Then a man with a skin disease came to Jesus. The man bowed down before him and said, “Lord, you can heal me if you will.”

<sup>3</sup>Jesus reached out his hand and touched the man and said, “I will. Be healed!” And immediately the man was healed from his disease.<sup>4</sup> Then Jesus said to him, “Don’t tell anyone about this. But go and show yourself to the priest and offer the gift Moses commanded for people who are made well. This will show the people what I have done.”

Jesus Heals a Soldier’s Servant

<sup>5</sup>When Jesus entered the city of Capernaum, an army officer came to him, begging for help.<sup>6</sup> The officer said, “Lord, my servant is at home in bed. He can’t move his body and is in much pain.”

<sup>7</sup>Jesus said to the officer, “I will go and heal him.”

<sup>8</sup>The officer answered, “Lord, I am not worthy for you to come into my house. You only need to command it, and my servant will be healed.<sup>9</sup> I, too, am a man under the authority of others, and I have soldiers under my command. I tell one soldier, ‘Go,’ and he goes. I tell another soldier, ‘Come,’ and he comes. I say to my servant, ‘Do this,’ and my servant does it.

<sup>10</sup>When Jesus heard this, he was amazed. He said to those who were following him, “I tell you the truth, this is the greatest faith I have found, even in Israel. <sup>11</sup>Many people will come from the east and from the west and will sit and eat with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven. <sup>12</sup>But those people who should be in the kingdom will be thrown outside into the darkness, where people will cry and grind their teeth with pain.”

<sup>13</sup>Then Jesus said to the officer, “Go home. Your servant will be healed just as you believed he would.” And his servant was healed that same hour.

Jesus Heals Many People

<sup>14</sup>When Jesus went to Peter’s house, he saw that Peter’s mother-in-law was sick in bed with a fever. <sup>15</sup>Jesus touched her hand, and the fever left her. Then she stood up and began to serve Jesus.

<sup>16</sup>That evening people brought to Jesus many who had demons. Jesus spoke and the demons left them, and he healed all the sick. <sup>17</sup>He did these things to bring about what Isaiah the prophet had said:

“He took our suffering on him and carried our diseases.”

Isaiah 53:4

People Want to Follow Jesus

<sup>18</sup>When Jesus saw the crowd around him, he told his followers to go to the other side of the lake. <sup>19</sup>Then a teacher of the law came to Jesus and said, “Teacher, I will follow you any place you go.”

<sup>20</sup>Jesus said to him, “The foxes have holes to live in, and the birds have nests, but the Son of Man has no place to rest his head.”

<sup>21</sup>Another man, one of Jesus’ followers, said to him, “Lord, first let me go and bury my father.”

<sup>22</sup>But Jesus told him, “Follow me, and let the people who are dead bury their own dead.”

Jesus Calms a Storm

<sup>23</sup>Jesus got into a boat, and his followers went with him. <sup>24</sup>A great storm arose on the lake so that waves covered the boat, but Jesus was sleeping. <sup>25</sup>His followers went to him and woke him, saying, “Lord, save us! We will drown!”

<sup>26</sup>Jesus answered, “Why are you afraid? You don’t have enough faith.” Then Jesus got up and gave a command to the wind and the waves, and it became completely calm.

<sup>27</sup>The men were amazed and said, “What kind of man is this? Even the wind and the waves obey him!”

Jesus Heals Two Men with Demons

<sup>28</sup>When Jesus arrived at the other side of the lake in the area of the Gadarene people, two men who had demons in them met him. These men lived in the burial caves and were so dangerous that people could not use the road by those caves.

<sup>29</sup>They shouted, “What do you want with us, Son of God? Did you come here to torture us before the right time?”

<sup>30</sup>Near that place there was a large herd of pigs feeding.
<sup>31</sup>The demons begged Jesus, “If you make us leave these men, please send us into that herd of pigs.”

<sup>32</sup>Jesus said to them, “Go!” So the demons left the men and went into the pigs. Then the whole herd rushed down the hill into the lake and were drowned. <sup>33</sup>The herdsmen ran away and went into town, where they told about all of this and what had happened to the men who had demons. <sup>34</sup>Then the whole town went out to see Jesus. When they saw him, they begged him to leave their area.

Life Lessons

Matthew 9:1-38

Situation

Although he was neither rude nor arrogant, Jesus aggravated the teachers of the Law when he exercised his privileges as Son of God. When he forgave sins, mingled with sinners, raised the dead, and healed the sick, the teachers thought his actions were either inappropriate or unexplainable.

Observation

The Kingdom of God had come. Jesus used his power over sickness and death to show his compassion for needy humanity. As a true friend, he meets the needs we bring him. He asks us to join his mission and reach out to those around us.

Inspiration

Tell me, why are these stories in the Bible? Why are the Gospels full of such people? Such hopeless people? Though their Situations vary, their conditions don't. They are trapped. Estranged. Rejected. They have nowhere to turn. On their lips, a desperate prayer. In their hearts, desolate dreams. And in their hands, a broken rope. But before their eyes a never-say-die Galilean who majors in stepping in when everyone else steps out.

Surprisingly simple, the actions of this man. Just words of mercy or touches of kindness. Fingers on sightless eyes. A hand on a weary shoulder. Words for sad hearts ... all fulfilling the prophecy: "A bruised reed he will not break, and a smoldering wick he will not snuff out” (Isaiah 42:3, NIV).

Again I ask. Why are these portraits in the Bible? ... Why did God leave us one tale after another of wounded lives being restored? So we could be grateful for the past? So we could look back with amazement at what Jesus did?

No. No. No. A thousand times no. The purpose of these stories is not to tell us what Jesus did. Their purpose is to tell us what Jesus does.

“Everything that was written in the past was written to teach us,” Paul penned. “The Scriptures give us patience and encouragement so that we can have hope” (Romans 15:4).

These are not just Sunday school stories. Not romantic fables. Not somewhere-over-the-rainbow illusions. They are historic moments in which a real God met real pain so we could answer the question, “Where is God when I hurt?”

How does God react to dashed hopes? Read the story of Jairus. How does the Father feel about those who are ill? Stand with him at the pool of Bethesda. Do you long for God to speak to your lonely heart? Then listen as he speaks to the Emmaus-bound disciples. What is God’s word for the shameful? Watch as his finger draws in the dirt of the Jerusalem courtyard.

He’s not doing it just for them. He’s doing it for me. He’s doing it for you....

I know there used to be a stone in front of a tomb. And I do know it was moved. And I also know that there are stones in your path. Stones that trip and stones that trap. Stones too big for you.

Please remember, the goal of these stories is not to help us look back with amazement, but forward with faith. The God who spoke still speaks. The God who forgave still forgives. The God who came still comes. He comes into our world. He comes into your world. He comes to do what you can't. He comes to move the stones you can't budge.

Stones are no match for God. Not then and not now. He still moves stones. (From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

Jesus Heals a Paralyzed Man

Jesus got into a boat and went back across the lake to his own town. <sup>2</sup>Some people brought to Jesus a man who was paralyzed and lying on a mat. When Jesus saw the faith of these people, he said to the paralyzed man, “Be encouraged, young man. Your sins are forgiven.”

<sup>3</sup>Some of the teachers of the law said to themselves, “This man speaks as if he were God. That is blasphemy!”

<sup>4</sup>Knowing their thoughts, Jesus said, “Why are you thinking evil thoughts? <sup>5</sup>Which is easier: to say, ‘Your sins are forgiven,’ or to tell him, ‘Stand up and walk’? <sup>6</sup>But I will prove to you that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins.” Then Jesus said to the paralyzed man, “Stand up, take your mat, and go home.” <sup>7</sup>And the man stood up and went home. <sup>8</sup>When the people saw this, they were amazed and praised God for giving power like this to human beings.

Jesus Chooses Matthew

<sup>9</sup>When Jesus was leaving, he saw a man named Matthew sitting in the tax collector’s booth. Jesus said to him, “Follow me,” and he stood up and followed Jesus.

<sup>10</sup>As Jesus was having dinner at Matthew’s house, many tax collectors and “sinners” came and ate with Jesus and his followers.<sup>11</sup>When the Pharisees saw this, they asked Jesus' followers, "Why does your teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners?"

<sup>12</sup>When Jesus heard them, he said, "It is not the healthy people who need a doctor, but the sick. <sup>13</sup>Go and learn what this means: 'I want kindness more than I want animal sacrifices.' I did not come to invite good people but to invite sinners."

Jesus' Followers Are Criticized

<sup>14</sup>Then the followers of John came to Jesus and said, "Why do we and the Pharisees often give up eating for a certain time, but your followers don't?"

<sup>15</sup>Jesus answered, "The friends of the bridegroom are not sad while he is with them. But the time will come when the bridegroom will be taken from them, and then they will give up eating.

<sup>16</sup>"No one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth over a hole in an old coat. If he does, the patch will shrink and pull away from the coat, making the hole worse. <sup>17</sup>Also, people never pour new wine into old leather bags. Otherwise, the bags will break, the wine will spill, and the wine bags will be ruined. But people always pour new wine into new wine bags. Then both will continue to be good."

Jesus Gives Life to a Dead Girl and Heals a Sick Woman

<sup>18</sup>While Jesus was saying these things, a leader of the synagogue came to him. He bowed down before Jesus and said, “My daughter has just died. But if you come and lay your hand on her, she will live again.”<sup>19</sup> So Jesus and his followers stood up and went with the leader.

<sup>20</sup> Then a woman who had been bleeding for twelve years came behind Jesus and touched the edge of his coat. <sup>21</sup> She was thinking, “If I can just touch his clothes, I will be healed.”

<sup>22</sup> Jesus turned and saw the woman and said, “Be encouraged, dear woman. You are made well because you believed.” And the woman was healed from that moment on.

<sup>23</sup> Jesus continued along with the leader and went into his house. There he saw the funeral musicians and many people crying. <sup>24</sup> Jesus said, “Go away. The girl is not dead, only asleep.” But the people laughed at him. <sup>25</sup> After the crowd had been thrown out of the house, Jesus went into the girl’s room and took hold of her hand, and she stood up. <sup>26</sup> The news about this spread all around the area.

Jesus Heals More People

<sup>27</sup> When Jesus was leaving there, two blind men followed him. They cried out, “Have mercy on us, Son of David!”

<sup>28</sup> After Jesus went inside, the blind men went with him. He asked the men, “Do you believe that I can make you see again?”

They answered, “Yes, Lord.”

<sup>29</sup> Then Jesus touched their eyes and said, “Because you believe I can make you see again, it will happen.” <sup>30</sup> Then the men were able to see. But Jesus warned them strongly, saying, “Don’t tell anyone about this.” <sup>31</sup> But the blind men left and spread the news about Jesus all around that area.

<sup>32</sup>When the two men were leaving, some people brought another man to Jesus. This man could not talk because he had a demon in him. <sup>33</sup>After Jesus forced the demon to leave the man, he was able to speak. The crowd was amazed and said, “We have never seen anything like this in Israel.”

<sup>34</sup>But the Pharisees said, “The prince of demons is the one that gives him power to force demons out.”

<sup>35</sup>Jesus traveled through all the towns and villages, teaching in their synagogues, preaching the Good News about the kingdom, and healing all kinds of diseases and sicknesses.

<sup>36</sup>When he saw the crowds, he felt sorry for them because they were hurting and helpless, like sheep without a shepherd.

<sup>37</sup>Jesus said to his followers, “There are many people to harvest but only a few workers to help harvest them.” <sup>38</sup>Pray to the Lord, who owns the harvest, that he will send more workers to gather his harvest.”

Matthew 10:1–11:19

Situation

The Jews viewed suffering as God's punishment. The disciples could not understand Jesus' message that they would suffer for being obedient.

Observation

Although believers will be persecuted, they can trust that God has a plan for all difficult circumstances.

Inspiration

Could you use some courage? Are you backing down more than you are standing up? If so, let the Master lead you up the mountain again. Let him remind you why you should "fear not." Listen to the time Jesus scattered the butterflies out of the stomachs of his nervous disciples and see if his words help you.

We need to remember that the disciples were common men given a compelling task. Before they were the stained-glassed saints in the windows of cathedrals, they were somebody's next-door-neighbors trying to make a living and raise a family. They weren't cut from theological cloth or raised on supernatural milk. But they were an ounce more devoted than they were afraid and, as a result, did some extraordinary things....

Earthly fears are no fears at all. All the mystery is revealed. The final destination is guaranteed. Answer the big question of eternity, and the little questions of life fall into perspective. (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

Jesus promised hard times, but he also promised comfort. Are you experiencing opposition for being a Christian but neglecting to accept his comfort? Look forward to the day when you will no longer be persecuted but will be rewarded for persevering. Let the reality of that reward encourage you.

Jesus Sends Out His Apostles

Jesus called his twelve followers together and gave them authority to drive out evil spirits and to heal every kind of disease and sickness.<sup>2</sup>These are the names of the twelve apostles: Simon (also called Peter) and his brother Andrew; James son of Zebedee, and his brother John;<sup>3</sup>Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas and Matthew, the tax collector; James son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus;<sup>4</sup>Simon the Zealot and Judas Iscariot, who turned against Jesus.

<sup>11</sup>“When you enter a city or town, find some worthy person there and stay in that home until you leave. <sup>12</sup>When you enter that home, say, ‘Peace be with you.’ <sup>13</sup>If the people there welcome you, let your peace stay there. But if they don’t welcome you, take back the peace you wished for them. <sup>14</sup>And if a home or town refuses to welcome you or listen to you, leave that place and shake its dust off your feet.<sup>15</sup> I tell you the truth, on the Judgment Day it will be better for the towns of Sodom and Gomorrah than for the people of that town.

Jesus Warns His Apostles

<sup>16</sup>“Listen, I am sending you out like sheep among wolves. So be as smart as snakes and as innocent as doves. <sup>17</sup>Be careful of people, because they will arrest you and take you to court and whip you in their synagogues. <sup>18</sup>Because of me you will be taken to stand before governors and kings, and you will tell them and the non-Jewish people about me. <sup>19</sup>When you are arrested, don’t worry about what to say or how to say it. At that time you will be given the things to say. <sup>20</sup>It will not really be you speaking but the Spirit of your Father speaking through you.

<sup>21</sup>“Brothers will give their own brothers to be killed, and fathers will give their own children to be killed. Children will fight against their own parents and have them put to death. <sup>22</sup>All people will hate you because you follow me, but those people who keep their faith until the end will be saved. <sup>23</sup>When you are treated badly in one city, run to another city. I tell you the truth, you will not finish going through all the cities of Israel before the Son of Man comes.

<sup>24</sup>“A student is not better than his teacher, and a servant is not better than his master. <sup>25</sup>A student should be satisfied to become like his teacher; a servant should be satisfied to become like his master. If the head of the family is called Beelzebul, then the other members of the family will be called worse names!

Fear God, Not People

<sup>26</sup>“So don’t be afraid of those people, because everything that is hidden will be shown. Everything that is secret will be made known. <sup>27</sup>I tell you these things in the dark, but I want you to tell them in the light. What you hear whispered in your ear you should shout from the housetops. <sup>28</sup>Don’t be afraid of people, who can kill the body but cannot kill the soul. The only one you should fear is the one who can destroy the soul and the body in hell. <sup>29</sup>Two sparrows cost only a penny, but not even one of them can die without your Father’s knowing it. <sup>30</sup>God even knows how many hairs are on your head. <sup>31</sup>So don’t be afraid. You are worth much more than many sparrows.

Tell People About Your Faith

<sup>32</sup>“All those who stand before others and say they believe in me, I will say before my Father in heaven that they belong to me. <sup>33</sup>But all who stand before others and say they do not believe in me, I will say before my Father in heaven that they do not belong to me.

<sup>34</sup>“Don’t think that I came to bring peace to the earth. I did not come to bring peace, but a sword. <sup>35</sup>I have come so that

‘a son will be against his father, a daughter will be against her mother,
a daughter-in-law will be against her mother-in-law.

<sup>36</sup>A person’s enemies will be members of his own family.’

Micah 7:6

<sup>37</sup>“Those who love their father or mother more than they love me are not worthy to be my followers. Those who love their son or daughter more than they love me are not worthy to be my followers. <sup>38</sup>Whoever is not willing to carry the cross and follow me is not worthy of me. <sup>39</sup>Those who try to hold on to their lives will give up true life. Those who give up their lives for me will hold on to true life. <sup>40</sup>Whoever accepts you also accepts me, and whoever accepts me also accepts the One who sent me. <sup>41</sup>Whoever meets a prophet and accepts him will receive the reward of a prophet. And whoever accepts a good person because that person is good will receive the reward of a good person. <sup>42</sup>Those who give one of these little ones a cup of cold water because they are my followers will truly get their reward.”

Jesus and John the Baptist

After Jesus finished telling these things to his twelve followers, he left there and went to the towns in Galilee to teach and preach.

<sup>2</sup>John the Baptist was in prison, but he heard about what Christ was doing. So John sent some of his followers to Jesus. <sup>3</sup>They asked him, “Are you the One who is to come, or should we wait for someone else?”

<sup>7</sup>As John’s followers were leaving, Jesus began talking to the people about John. Jesus said, “What did you go out into the desert to see? A reed blown by the wind? <sup>8</sup>What did you go out to see? A man dressed in fine clothes? No, those who wear fine clothes live in kings’ palaces. <sup>9</sup>So why did you go out? To see a prophet? Yes, and I tell you, John is more than a prophet. <sup>10</sup>This was written about him:

‘I will send my messenger ahead of you,
who will prepare the way for you.’

Malachi 3:1

<sup>11</sup>I tell you the truth, John the Baptist is greater than any other person ever born, but even the least important person in the kingdom of heaven is greater than John. <sup>12</sup>Since the time John the Baptist came until now, the kingdom of heaven has been going forward in strength, and people have been trying to take it by force. <sup>13</sup>All the prophets and the law of Moses told about what would happen until the time John came. <sup>14</sup>And if you will believe what they said, you will believe that John is Elijah, whom they said would come. <sup>15</sup>You people who can hear me, listen!

<sup>16</sup>“What can I say about the people of this time? What are they like? They are like children sitting in the marketplace, who call out to each other,

<sup>17</sup>“We played music for you, but you did not dance; we sang a sad song, but you did not cry.”

<sup>18</sup>John came and did not eat or drink like other people. So people say, ‘He has a demon.’ <sup>19</sup>The Son of Man came, eating and drinking, and people say, ‘Look at him! He eats too much and drinks too much wine, and he is a friend of tax collectors and sinners.’ But wisdom is proved to be right by what it does.”

Life Lessons

Matthew 11:20–12:50

Situation

Fourteen hundred years before Jesus’ birth, Israel received God’s command to keep the Sabbath holy. In their zeal to obey this command, the Jewish leaders gradually developed many rules and traditions to avoid working on the Sabbath. Jesus overruled the traditions and focused on God's purpose in establishing this command.

Observation

When God commanded the Israelites not to work on the Sabbath, Jesus knew that law was given to relieve the people. Jesus focused on the purpose of the Sabbath. Therefore, he knew it was not sin to take care of one's needs or to help others on the Sabbath.

Inspiration

The purpose of Sabbath rest is physical and emotional renewal, but it is also fellowship—a delightful space on the weekly calendar reserved for becoming better acquainted with ourselves, others, and God; it is a time for good talk, holy laughter, serious ideas, and shared intimacies between Creator and creature. Our souls are replenished, quieted, nurtured, caressed. Rest without spiritual rest is incomplete. One of the reasons for the frantic search for leisure activities in our culture (the rushing off to one weekend event or another, then breathlessly returning when Sunday is ended) is that we cannot find true renewal when we deny the spiritual. . . .

When we cease from our work and let Christ do his work within us, we realize that our work is not so important. We can stop and the world goes on. It is God's activity that is important, not ours. It is finally the death and resurrection of Christ that allowed fellowship with God to be a perpetual covenant. When we participate in his resurrected life by the memorial of Sunday, when we bring to that memorial day a Sabbath understanding, "We should," as Jonathan Edwards says, “have sympathy with Christ in His joy. He was refreshed on this day; we should be refreshed as those whose hearts are united with His.” (From Making Sunday Special by Karen Burton Mains)

Application

How do you keep the Sabbath command? What makes Sunday a unique day for you? How can you avoid “business as usual” on Sunday?

Exploration

Sabbath—Exodus 20:8–11; 35:1–3; Deuteronomy 5:12–15; Isaiah 58:13–14; Luke 6:1–10; 13:10–17; John 7:22–24; 9:13–16; Colossians 2:16–17.

Jesus Warns Unbelievers

<sup>20</sup>Then Jesus criticized the cities where he did most of his miracles, because the people did not change their lives and stop sinning. <sup>21</sup>He said, “How terrible for you, Korazin! How terrible for you, Bethsaida! If the same miracles I did in you had happened in Tyre and Sidon, those people would have changed their lives a long time ago. They would have worn rough cloth and put ashes on themselves to show they had changed. <sup>22</sup>But I tell you, on the Judgment Day it will be better for Tyre and Sidon than for you. <sup>23</sup>And you, Capernaum, will you be lifted up to heaven? No, you will be thrown down to the depths. If the miracles I did in you had happened in Sodom, its people would have stopped sinning, and it would still be a city today. <sup>24</sup>But I tell you, on the Judgment Day it will be better for Sodom than for you.”

Jesus Offers Rest to People

<sup>25</sup>At that time Jesus said, “I praise you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because you have hidden these things from the people who are wise and smart. But you have shown them to those who are like little children. <sup>26</sup>Yes, Father, this is what you really wanted.

<sup>27</sup>“My Father has given me all things. No one knows the Son, except the Father. And no one knows the Father, except the Son and those whom the Son chooses to tell.

<sup>28</sup>“Come to me, all of you who are tired and have heavy loads, and I will give you rest. <sup>29</sup>Accept my teachings and learn from me, because I am gentle and humble in spirit, and you will find rest for your lives. <sup>30</sup>The teaching that I ask you to accept is easy; the load I give you to carry is light.”

Jesus Is Lord of the Sabbath

At that time Jesus was walking through some fields of grain on a Sabbath day. His followers were hungry, so they began to pick the grain and eat it. <sup>2</sup>When the Pharisees saw this, they said to Jesus, “Look! Your followers are doing what is unlawful to do on the Sabbath day.”

<sup>3</sup>Jesus answered, “Have you not read what David did when he and the people with him were hungry? <sup>4</sup>He went into God’s house, and he and those with him ate the holy bread, which was lawful only for priests to eat. <sup>5</sup>And have you not read in the law of Moses that on every Sabbath day the priests in the Temple break this law about the Sabbath day? But the priests are not wrong for doing that. <sup>6</sup>I tell you that there is something here that is greater than the Temple. <sup>7</sup>The Scripture says, ‘I want kindness more than I want animal sacrifices.’ You don’t really know what those words mean. If you understood them, you would not judge those who have done nothing wrong.

Jesus Heals a Man’s Hand

<sup>9</sup>Jesus left there and went into their synagogue, <sup>10</sup>where there was a man with a crippled hand. They were looking for a reason to accuse Jesus, so they asked him, “Is it right to heal on the Sabbath day?”

<sup>11</sup>Jesus answered, “If any of you has a sheep, and it falls into a ditch on the Sabbath day, you will help it out of the ditch. <sup>12</sup>Surely a human being is more important than a sheep. So it is lawful to do good things on the Sabbath day.”

<sup>13</sup>Then Jesus said to the man with the crippled hand, “Hold out your hand.” The man held out his hand, and it became well again, like the other hand. <sup>14</sup>But the Pharisees left and made plans to kill Jesus.

Jesus Is God’s Chosen Servant

<sup>15</sup>Jesus knew what the Pharisees were doing, so he left that place. Many people followed him, and he healed all who were sick. <sup>16</sup>But Jesus warned the people not to tell who he was. <sup>17</sup>He did these things to bring about what Isaiah the prophet had said:

<sup>18</sup>“Here is my servant whom I have chosen.
I love him, and I am pleased with him.
I will put my Spirit upon him,
and he will tell of my justice to all people.

<sup>19</sup>He will not argue or cry out;
no one will hear his voice in the streets.

<sup>20</sup>He will not break a crushed blade of grass or put out even a weak flame until he makes justice win the victory.

<sup>21</sup>In him will the non-Jewish people find hope.”

Isaiah 42:1-4

Jesus’ Power Is from God

<sup>22</sup>Then some people brought to Jesus a man who was blind and could not talk, because he had a demon. Jesus healed the man so that he could talk and see. <sup>23</sup>All the people were amazed and said, “Perhaps this man is the Son of David!”

<sup>24</sup>When the Pharisees heard this, they said, “Jesus uses the power of Beelzebul, the ruler of demons, to force demons out of people.”

<sup>25</sup>Jesus knew what the Pharisees were thinking, so he said to them, “Every kingdom that is divided against itself will be destroyed. And any city or family that is divided against itself will not continue. <sup>26</sup>And if Satan forces out himself, then Satan is divided against himself, and his kingdom will not continue. <sup>27</sup>You say that I use the power of Beelzebul to force out demons. If that is true, then what power do your people use to force out demons? So they will be your judges. <sup>28</sup>But if I use the power of God’s Spirit to force out demons, then the kingdom of God has come to you.

<sup>29</sup>“If anyone wants to enter a strong person’s house and steal his things, he must first tie up the strong person. Then he can steal the things from the house.

<sup>30</sup>“Whoever is not with me is against me. Whoever does not work with me is working against me. <sup>31</sup>So I tell you, people can be forgiven for every sin and everything they say against God. But whoever speaks against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven. <sup>32</sup>Anyone who speaks against the Son of Man can be forgiven, but anyone who speaks against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven, now or in the future.

People Know You by Your Words

<sup>33</sup>“If you want good fruit, you must make the tree good. If your tree is not good, it will have bad fruit. A tree is known by the kind of fruit it produces. <sup>34</sup>You snakes! You are evil people, so how can you say anything good? The mouth speaks the things that are in the heart. <sup>35</sup>Good people have good things in their hearts, and so they say good things. But evil people have evil in their hearts, so they say evil things. <sup>36</sup>And I tell you that on the Judgment Day people will be responsible for every careless thing they have said. <sup>37</sup>The words you have said will be used to judge you. Some of your words will prove you right, but some of your words will prove you guilty.”

The People Ask for a Miracle

<sup>38</sup>Then some of the Pharisees and teachers of the law answered Jesus, saying, “Teacher, we want to see you work a miracle as a sign.”

<sup>39</sup>Jesus answered, “Evil and sinful people are the ones who want to see a miracle for a sign. But no sign will be given to them, except the sign of the prophet Jonah. <sup>40</sup>Jonah was in the stomach of the big fish for three days and three nights. In the same way, the Son of Man will be in the grave three days and three nights. <sup>41</sup>On the Judgment Day the people from Nineveh will stand up with you people who live now, and they will show that you are guilty. When Jonah preached to them, they were sorry and changed their lives. And I tell you that someone greater than Jonah is here. <sup>42</sup>On the Judgment Day, the Queen of the South will stand up with you people who live today. She will show that you are guilty, because she came from far away to listen to Solomon’s wise teaching. And I tell you that someone greater than Solomon is here.

People Today Are Full of Evil

<sup>43</sup>“When an evil spirit comes out of a person, it travels through dry places, looking for a place to rest, but it doesn’t find it. <sup>44</sup>So the spirit says, ‘I will go back to the house I left.’ When the spirit comes back, it finds the house still empty, swept clean, and made neat. <sup>45</sup>Then the evil spirit goes out and brings seven other spirits even more evil than it is, and they go in and live there. So the person has even more trouble than before. It is the same way with the evil people who live today.”

Jesus’ True Family

<sup>46</sup>While Jesus was talking to the people, his mother and brothers stood outside, trying to find a way to talk to him. <sup>47</sup>Someone told Jesus, “Your mother and brothers are standing outside, and they want to talk to you.”

<sup>48</sup>He answered, “Who is my mother? Who are my brothers?” <sup>49</sup>Then he pointed to his followers and said, “Here are my mother and my brothers. <sup>50</sup>My true brother and sister and mother are those who do what my Father in heaven wants.”

Life Lessons

Matthew 13:1–58

Situation

The Jewish people eagerly looked forward to the kingdom of heaven but also had some mistaken ideas about it. Jesus' teaching told about this kingdom.

Observation

Jesus taught about the kingdom of heaven through parables in order to clear up wrong ideas. Many explanations in the Gospels show that the kingdom of heaven (or kingdom of God) means we must recognize God's authority and work to do his will.

Inspiration

The natural inclination in Christian living is to act on the impulse of a good idea. Not every good idea is from God. Sometimes good ideas get in the way of God ideas.

Where does your Inspiration come from? The vision of the transfigured Christ inspired Peter: "O Lord, it is good for us to be here. If you wish, I will put up three shelters—one for you, one for Moses and one for Elijah" (Matthew 17:4). Our natural impulse is to do something good for God and suggest it to Him.

The tendency of the well-meaning person is to prepare a plan to do some good idea, and then pray, "Jesus, this is my plan. It is a good plan. It hurts no one, and I want it to please You. Lord, please bless my plan.” It is plan, then pray.

So many of our ideas are impetuous. They are not what the Lord wants to do. They do not resemble in any way the things which concern Him. We have good ideas, but they are not God ideas. His agenda and our agenda conflict. We want to build Him a shelter, but that is not what He wants. . . .

When Peter, James, and John heard the voice of the Lord . . . they abandoned their inventive-but-self-made idea. The presence of the Lord magnified, and His holiness brought them to their senses. Jesus gained their attention, not by subduing them with a stern scolding, but by magnifying His presence until all the genius of their human ideas was bleached out by His refulgent face.

When they abandoned their good idea and fell facedown before the Lord, He could work with them again. . . .

When you and I abandon our good idea and fall to our face before the Lord, then He will come and touch us, too. When we pursue our own plan, He cannot use us. We must abandon our good idea and fall facedown before Him. Then He will be able to use us again. Then He will reveal what He is doing—a God idea. . . . It is pray, then plan. Through prayer, Jesus instructs of His plan, a God idea.

Prayer removes the impulse of the good idea, the good idea born of human ingenuity but not of God. Pray, then plan. It is the habit of the surrendered saint. (From Walking with Christ in the Details of Life by Patrick M. Morley)

A Story About Planting Seed

That same day Jesus went out of the house and sat by the lake. <sup>2</sup>Large crowds gathered around him, so he got into a boat and sat down, while the people stood on the shore. <sup>3</sup>Then Jesus used stories to teach them many things. He said: “A farmer went out to plant his seed. <sup>4</sup>While he was planting, some seed fell by the road, and the birds came and ate it all up. <sup>5</sup>Some seed fell on rocky ground, where there wasn’t much dirt. That seed grew very fast, because the ground was not deep. <sup>6</sup>But when the sun rose, the plants dried up, because they did not have deep roots. <sup>7</sup>Some other seed fell among thorny weeds, which grew and choked the good plants. <sup>8</sup>Some other seed fell on good ground where it grew and produced a crop. Some plants made a hundred times more, some made sixty times more, and some made thirty times more. <sup>9</sup>You people who can hear me, listen.”

Why Jesus Used Stories to Teach

<sup>10</sup>The followers came to Jesus and asked, “Why do you use stories to teach the people?”

<sup>11</sup>Jesus answered, “You have been chosen to know the secrets about the kingdom of heaven, but others cannot know these secrets. <sup>12</sup>Those who have understanding will be given more, and they will have all they need. But those who do not have understanding, even what they have will be taken away from them. <sup>13</sup>This is why I use stories to teach the people: They see, but they don't really see. They hear, but they don't really hear or understand. <sup>14</sup>So they show that the things Isaiah said about them are true:

'You will listen and listen, but you will not understand.
You will look and look, but you will not learn.

<sup>15</sup>For the minds of these people have become stubborn.

They do not hear with their ears,
and they have closed their eyes.
Otherwise they might really understand what they see with their eyes
and hear with their ears.

They might really understand in their minds
and come back to me and be healed.'

Isaiah 6:9-10

<sup>16</sup>But you are blessed, because you see with your eyes and hear with your ears. <sup>17</sup>I tell you the truth, many prophets and good people wanted to see the things that you now see, but they did not see them. And they wanted to hear the things that you now hear, but they did not hear them.

Jesus Explains the Seed Story

<sup>18</sup>“So listen to the meaning of that story about the farmer.

<sup>19</sup>What is the seed that fell by the road? That seed is like the person who hears the message about the kingdom but does not understand it. The Evil One comes and takes away what was planted in that person's heart. <sup>20</sup>And what is the seed that fell on rocky ground? That seed is like the person who hears the teaching and quickly accepts it with joy. <sup>21</sup>But he does not let the teaching go deep into his life, so he keeps it only a short time. When trouble or persecution comes because of the teaching he accepted, he quickly gives up. <sup>22</sup>And what is the seed that fell among the thorny weeds? That seed is like the person who hears the teaching but lets worries about this life and the temptation of wealth stop that teaching from growing. So the teaching does not produce fruit in that person's life. <sup>23</sup>But what is the seed that fell on the good ground? That seed is like the person who hears the teaching and understands it. That person grows and produces fruit, sometimes a hundred times more, sometimes sixty times more, and sometimes thirty times more."

God Speaks Our Language

God speaks all languages—including yours. Has he not said, "I will ... show you where to go" (Psalm 32:8)? Are we not urged to "accept teaching from his mouth" (Job 22:22)? What language is God speaking to you?

And aren't you glad he is speaking? Aren't you grateful that he cares enough to talk? Isn't it good to know that "the Lord tells his secrets to those who respect him" (Psalm 25:14)?

My Uncle Carl was grateful that someone spoke to him. A childhood case of the measles left him unable to hear or speak. Nearly all of his sixty-plus years were lived in stony silence. Few people spoke his language.

My father was one of them. Being the older brother, maybe he felt protective. After their father died, perhaps he felt he should take over. Whatever the reason, my dad learned sign language. Dad wasn't an avid student. He never finished high school. Never went to college. Never saw the need to learn Spanish or French. But he did take the time to learn the language of his brother.

Let Dad enter the room, and Carl's face would brighten. The two would find a corner, and the hands would fly, and they would have a great time. And though I never heard Carl say thanks (he couldn't), his huge smile left no doubt that he was grateful. My dad had learned his language.

Your father has learned to speak your language as well. "You have been chosen to know the secrets about the kingdom of heaven" (Matthew 13:11). Think a word of thanks to him would be appropriate? And while you're at it, ask him if you might be missing any signs he is sending your way.

It's one thing to miss a message from your wife about cleaning up a room. It's something else entirely to miss one from God about the destiny of your life.

Question: What can you do this week to thank God for speaking your language?

A Story About Wheat and Weeds

<sup>24</sup>Then Jesus told them another story: “The kingdom of heaven is like a man who planted good seed in his field. <sup>25</sup>That night, when everyone was asleep, his enemy came and planted weeds among the wheat and then left. <sup>26</sup>Later, the wheat sprouted and the heads of grain grew, but the weeds also grew. <sup>27</sup>Then the man’s servants came to him and said, ‘You planted good seed in your field. Where did the weeds come from?’ <sup>28</sup>The man answered, ‘An enemy planted weeds.’ The servants asked, ‘Do you want us to pull up the weeds?’ <sup>29</sup>The man answered, ‘No, because when you pull up the weeds, you might also pull up the wheat. <sup>30</sup>Let the weeds and the wheat grow together until the harvest time. At harvest time I will tell the workers, “First gather the weeds and tie them together to be burned. Then gather the wheat and bring it to my barn.” ’”

Stories of Mustard Seed and Yeast

<sup>31</sup>Then Jesus told another story: “The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed that a man planted in his field. <sup>32</sup>That seed is the smallest of all seeds, but when it grows, it is one of the largest garden plants. It becomes big enough for the wild birds to come and build nests in its branches.”

<sup>33</sup>Then Jesus told another story: “The kingdom of heaven is like yeast that a woman took and hid in a large tub of flour until it made all the dough rise.”

<sup>34</sup>Jesus used stories to tell all these things to the people; he always used stories to teach them. <sup>35</sup>This is as the prophet said:

“I will speak using stories;
I will tell things that have been secret since the world was made.”

Psalm 78:2

Jesus Explains About the Weeds

<sup>36</sup>Then Jesus left the crowd and went into the house. His followers came to him and said, “Explain to us the meaning of the story about the weeds in the field.”

<sup>37</sup>Jesus answered, “The man who planted the good seed in the field is the Son of Man. <sup>38</sup>The field is the world, and the good seed are all of God’s children who belong to the kingdom. The weeds are those people who belong to the Evil One. <sup>39</sup>And the enemy who planted the bad seed is the devil. The harvest time is the end of the world, and the workers who gather are God’s angels.

<sup>40</sup>“Just as the weeds are pulled up and burned in the fire, so it will be at the end of the world. <sup>41</sup>The Son of Man will send out his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all who cause sin and all who do evil. <sup>42</sup>The angels will throw them into the blazing furnace, where the people will cry and grind their teeth with pain. <sup>43</sup>Then the good people will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. You people who can hear me, listen.

Stories of a Treasure and a Pearl

<sup>44</sup>“The kingdom of heaven is like a treasure hidden in a field. One day a man found the treasure, and then he hid it in the field again. He was so happy that he went and sold everything he owned to buy that field.

<sup>45</sup>“Also, the kingdom of heaven is like a man looking for fine pearls. <sup>46</sup>When he found a very valuable pearl, he went and sold everything he had and bought it.

A Story of a Fishing Net

<sup>47</sup>“Also, the kingdom of heaven is like a net that was put into the lake and caught many different kinds of fish. <sup>48</sup>When it was full, the fishermen pulled the net to the shore. They sat down and put all the good fish in baskets and threw away the bad fish. <sup>49</sup>It will be this way at the end of the world. The angels will come and separate the evil people from the good people. <sup>50</sup>The angels will throw the evil people into the blazing furnace, where people will cry and grind their teeth with pain.”

They answered, “Yes, we understand.”

<sup>52</sup>Then Jesus said to them, “So every teacher of the law who has been taught about the kingdom of heaven is like the owner of a house. He brings out both new things and old things he has saved.”

Jesus Goes to His Hometown

<sup>53</sup>When Jesus finished teaching with these stories, he left there. <sup>54</sup>He went to his hometown and taught the people in the synagogue, and they were amazed. They said, “Where did this man get this wisdom and this power to do miracles? <sup>55</sup>He is just the son of a carpenter. His mother is Mary, and his brothers are James, Joseph, Simon, and Judas. <sup>56</sup>And all his sisters are here with us. Where then does this man get all these things?” <sup>57</sup>So the people were upset with Jesus.

But Jesus said to them, “A prophet is honored everywhere except in his hometown and in his own home.”

<sup>58</sup>So he did not do many miracles there because they had no faith.

Life Lessons

Matthew 14:1–36

Situation

Jesus demonstrated his power over the laws of nature when he fed the five thousand and walked on the water.

Observation

John's unfair execution disturbed Jesus deeply, but he could not escape either the crowds of people or his disciples. Yet, Jesus showed compassion on the people and met their needs.

Inspiration

“Come on” is the invitation.

And Peter doesn't have to be told twice. It's not every day that you walk on water through waves that are taller than you are. . . .

The first few steps go well. But a few strides out onto the water, and he forgets to look to the One who got him there in the first place, and down he plunges. . . .

Peter knows better than to bite the hand that can save him. His response may lack class—it probably wouldn't get him on the cover of Gentleman's Quarterly or even Sports Illustrated—but it gets him out of some deep water:

“Help me!”

And since Peter would rather swallow pride than water, a hand comes through the rain and pulls him up.

The message is clear.

As long as Jesus is one of many options, he is no option. As long as you can carry your burdens alone, you don't need a burden bearer. As long as your Situation brings you no grief, you will receive no comfort. And as long as you can take him or leave him, you might as well leave him, because he won't be taken halfheartedly. (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

Imitate Christ's compassion by putting the needs of others ahead of your own. Be willing to stay up late with a disappointed friend rather than getting your sleep. Let your schedule be interrupted to comfort or listen to somebody else.

How John the Baptist Was Killed

At that time Herod, the ruler of Galilee, heard the reports about Jesus. <sup>2</sup>So he said to his servants, “Jesus is John the Baptist, who has risen from the dead. That is why he can work these miracles.”

<sup>3</sup>Sometime before this, Herod had arrested John, tied him up, and put him into prison. Herod did this because of Herodias, who had been the wife of Philip, Herod’s brother. <sup>4</sup>John had been telling Herod, “It is not lawful for you to be married to Herodias.” <sup>5</sup>Herod wanted to kill John, but he was afraid of the people, because they believed John was a prophet.

<sup>6</sup>On Herod’s birthday, the daughter of Herodias danced for Herod and his guests, and she pleased him. <sup>7</sup>So he promised with an oath to give her anything she wanted. <sup>8</sup>Herodias told her daughter what to ask for, so she said to Herod, “Give me the head of John the Baptist here on a platter.” <sup>9</sup>Although King Herod was very sad, he had made a promise, and his dinner guests had heard him. So Herod ordered that what she asked for be done. <sup>10</sup>He sent soldiers to the prison to cut off John’s head. <sup>11</sup>And they brought it on a platter and gave it to the girl, and she took it to her mother. <sup>12</sup>John’s followers came and got his body and buried it. Then they went and told Jesus.

More than Five Thousand Fed

<sup>13</sup>When Jesus heard what had happened to John, he left in a boat and went to a lonely place by himself. But the crowds heard about it and followed him on foot from the towns.

<sup>14</sup>When he arrived, he saw a great crowd waiting. He felt sorry for them and healed those who were sick.

<sup>15</sup>When it was evening, his followers came to him and said, “No one lives in this place, and it is already late. Send the people away so they can go to the towns and buy food for themselves.”

<sup>17</sup>They said to him, “But we have only five loaves of bread and two fish.”

<sup>18</sup>Jesus said, “Bring the bread and the fish to me.” <sup>19</sup>Then he told the people to sit down on the grass. He took the five loaves and the two fish and, looking to heaven, he thanked God for the food. Jesus divided the bread and gave it to his followers, who gave it to the people. <sup>20</sup>All the people ate and were satisfied. Then the followers filled twelve baskets with the leftover pieces of food. <sup>21</sup>There were about five thousand men there who ate, not counting women and children.

Jesus Walks on the Water

<sup>22</sup>Immediately Jesus told his followers to get into the boat and go ahead of him across the lake. He stayed there to send the people home. <sup>23</sup>After he had sent them away, he went by himself up into the hills to pray. It was late, and Jesus was there alone. <sup>24</sup>By this time, the boat was already far away from land. It was being hit by waves, because the wind was blowing against it.

<sup>25</sup>Between three and six o'clock in the morning, Jesus came to them, walking on the water. <sup>26</sup>When his followers saw him walking on the water, they were afraid. They said, "It's a ghost!" and cried out in fear.

<sup>27</sup>But Jesus quickly spoke to them, "Have courage! It is I. Do not be afraid."

<sup>28</sup>Peter said, "Lord, if it is really you, then command me to come to you on the water."

<sup>29</sup>Jesus said, "Come."

And Peter left the boat and walked on the water to Jesus. <sup>30</sup>But when Peter saw the wind and the waves, he became afraid and began to sink. He shouted, "Lord, save me!"

<sup>31</sup>Immediately Jesus reached out his hand and caught Peter. Jesus said, "Your faith is small. Why did you doubt?"

<sup>32</sup>After they got into the boat, the wind became calm. <sup>33</sup>Then those who were in the boat worshiped Jesus and said, "Truly you are the Son of God!"

<sup>34</sup>When they had crossed the lake, they came to shore at Gennesaret. <sup>35</sup>When the people there recognized Jesus, they told people all around there that Jesus had come, and they brought all their sick to him. <sup>36</sup>They begged Jesus to let them touch just the edge of his coat, and all who touched it were healed.

Life Lessons

Matthew 15:1-39

Situation

Although Pharisees were experts in God's Law, they lacked proper understanding of the purpose of the Law. Most importantly, they lacked faith in God.

Observation

The Pharisees had faith in the religious system. Jesus pointed to God who was beyond the system.

Inspiration

The disciples are annoyed. As Jesus sits in silence, they grow more smug. "Send her away," they demand. The spotlight is put on Jesus. He looks at the disciples, then looks at the woman. And what follows is one of the most intriguing dialogues in the New Testament.

"I was sent only to the lost sheep of Israel," he says.

"Lord, help me!"

"It is not right to take the children's bread and toss it to their dogs," he answers.

"But even the dogs eat the crumbs that fall from their masters' tables," she responds.

Is Jesus being rude? Is he worn-out? Is he frustrated? Is he calling this woman a dog? How do we explain this dialogue? ...

Could it be that Jesus' tongue is poking his cheek? Could it be that he and the woman are engaging in satirical banter? Is it wry exchange in which God's unlimited grace is being highlighted? Could Jesus be so delighted to have found one who is not bartering with a religious system or proud of a heritage that he can't resist a bit of satire?

He knows he can heal her daughter. He knows he isn't bound by a plan. He knows her heart is good. So he decides to engage in a humorous moment with a faithful woman. In essence, here's what they said:

"Now, you know that God only cares about Jews," he says smiling.

And when she catches on, she volleys back, "But your bread is so precious, I'll be happy to eat the crumbs."

In a spirit of exuberance, he bursts out, "Never have I seen such faith! Your daughter is healed."

This story does not portray a contemptuous God. It portrays a willing One who delights in a sincere seeker.

Aren't you glad he does?

(From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

When you obey certain rules today, think through why you obey. "I don't speed because..." "I don't falsify expense reports because..." "I honor my parents because..."

Obey God's Law

Then some Pharisees and teachers of the law came to Jesus from Jerusalem. They asked him,<sup>2</sup>“Why don't your followers obey the unwritten laws which have been handed down to us? They don't wash their hands before they eat.”

<sup>3</sup>Jesus answered, “And why do you refuse to obey God's command so that you can follow your own teachings? <sup>4</sup>God said, ‘Honor your father and your mother,’ and ‘Anyone who says cruel things to his father or mother must be put to death.’

<sup>5</sup>But you say a person can tell his father or mother, ‘I have something I could use to help you, but I have given it to God already.’ <sup>6</sup>You teach that person not to honor his father or his mother. You rejected what God said for the sake of your own rules. <sup>7</sup>You are hypocrites! Isaiah was right when he said about you:

<sup>8</sup>“These people show honor to me with words,
but their hearts are far from me.

<sup>9</sup>Their worship of me is worthless.

The things they teach are nothing but human rules.”

Isaiah 29:13

<sup>10</sup>After Jesus called the crowd to him, he said, “Listen and understand what I am saying. <sup>11</sup>It is not what people put into their mouths that makes them unclean. It is what comes out of their mouths that makes them unclean.”

<sup>12</sup>Then his followers came to him and asked, “Do you know that the Pharisees are angry because of what you said?”

<sup>13</sup>Jesus answered, “Every plant that my Father in heaven has not planted himself will be pulled up by the roots. <sup>14</sup>Stay away from the Pharisees; they are blind leaders. And if a blind person leads a blind person, both will fall into a ditch.”

<sup>16</sup>Jesus said, “Do you still not understand? <sup>17</sup>Surely you know that all the food that enters the mouth goes into the stomach and then goes out of the body. <sup>18</sup>But what people say with their mouths comes from the way they think; these are the things that make people unclean. <sup>19</sup>Out of the mind come evil thoughts, murder, adultery, sexual sins, stealing, lying, and speaking evil of others. <sup>20</sup>These things make people unclean; eating with unwashed hands does not make them unclean.”

Jesus Helps a Non-Jewish Woman

<sup>22</sup>A Canaanite woman from that area came to Jesus and cried out, “Lord, Son of David, have mercy on me! My daughter has a demon, and she is suffering very much.”

<sup>23</sup>But Jesus did not answer the woman. So his followers came to Jesus and begged him, “Tell the woman to go away. She is following us and shouting.”

<sup>24</sup>Jesus answered, “God sent me only to the lost sheep, the people of Israel.”

<sup>25</sup>Then the woman came to Jesus again and bowed before him and said, “Lord, help me!”

<sup>27</sup>The woman said, “Yes, Lord, but even the dogs eat the crumbs that fall from their masters’ table.”

<sup>28</sup>Then Jesus answered, “Woman, you have great faith! I will do what you asked.” And at that moment the woman’s daughter was healed.

Jesus Heals Many People

<sup>29</sup>After leaving there, Jesus went along the shore of Lake Galilee. He went up on a hill and sat there.

<sup>30</sup>Great crowds came to Jesus, bringing with them the lame, the blind, the crippled, those who could not speak, and many others. They put them at Jesus’ feet, and he healed them. <sup>31</sup>The crowd was amazed when they saw that people who could not speak before were now able to speak. The crippled were made strong. The lame could walk, and the blind could see. And they praised the God of Israel for this.

More than Four Thousand Fed

<sup>32</sup>Jesus called his followers to him and said, “I feel sorry for these people, because they have already been with me three days, and they have nothing to eat. I don’t want to send them away hungry. They might faint while going home.”

<sup>33</sup>His followers asked him, “How can we get enough bread to feed all these people? We are far away from any town.”

<sup>34</sup>Jesus asked, “How many loaves of bread do you have?” They answered, “Seven, and a few small fish.”

<sup>35</sup>Jesus told the people to sit on the ground. <sup>36</sup>He took the seven loaves of bread and the fish and gave thanks to God. Then he divided the food and gave it to his followers, and they gave it to the people. <sup>37</sup>All the people ate and were satisfied. Then his followers filled seven baskets with the leftover pieces of food. <sup>38</sup>There were about four thousand men there who ate, besides women and children. <sup>39</sup>After sending the people home, Jesus got into the boat and went to the area of Magadan.

Life Lessons

Matthew 16:1–28

Situation

The Pharisees and the Sadducees were two prestigious groups of Jewish teachers who jockeyed for influence and power. Leaders in both groups failed to recognize Jesus as the Messiah.

Observation

Jesus did not seek to have earthly power like the Pharisees and Sadducees. He sought to build a kingdom that would last into eternity.

Inspiration

The pole of power is greasy.

The Roman emperor Charlemagne knew that. An interesting story surrounds the burial of this famous king. Legend has it that he asked to be entombed sitting upright in his throne. He asked that his crown be placed on his head and his scepter in his hand. He requested that the royal cape be draped around his shoulders and an open book be placed in his lap.

That was A.D. 814. Nearly two hundred years later, Emperor Othello determined to see if the burial request had been carried out. He allegedly sent a team of men to open the tomb and make a report. They found the body just as Charlemagne had requested. Only now, nearly two centuries later, the scene was gruesome... . But open on the skeletal thighs was the book Charlemagne had requested—the Bible. One bony finger pointed to Matthew 16:26: “What good will it be for a man if he gains the whole world, yet forfeits his soul?”

You can answer that one. (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

It is easy for us to be wary of false teachers who don't know Christ at all—such as people from other world religions. But we must also guard against those teachers who claim to follow Christ, yet misinterpret his Word.

Exploration

False Teaching—Jeremiah 50:6; Matthew 7:15–20; Romans 16:17–18; 2 Corinthians 11:13–15; 1 Timothy 1:6–7; 4:1–2; 2 Timothy 4:3–4; 2 Peter 2:1–3.

The ratio between those who missed him and those who sought him [baby Jesus] is thousands to one. But the ratio between those who sought him and those who found him was one to one. —Max Lucado (Just Like Jesus)

The Leaders Ask for a Miracle

The Pharisees and Sadducees came to Jesus, wanting to trick him. So they asked him to show them a miracle from God.

<sup>2</sup>Jesus answered, “At sunset you say we will have good weather, because the sky is red. <sup>3</sup>And in the morning you say that it will be a rainy day, because the sky is dark and red. You see these signs in the sky and know what they mean. In the same way, you see the things that I am doing now, but you don’t know their meaning. <sup>4</sup>Evil and sinful people ask for a miracle as a sign, but they will not be given any sign, except the sign of Jonah.” Then Jesus left them and went away.

Guard Against Wrong Teachings

<sup>5</sup>Jesus’ followers went across the lake, but they had forgotten to bring bread. <sup>6</sup>Jesus said to them, “Be careful! Beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and the Sadducees.”

<sup>7</sup>His followers discussed the meaning of this, saying, “He said this because we forgot to bring bread.”

<sup>8</sup>Knowing what they were talking about, Jesus asked them,

“Why are you talking about not having bread? Your faith is small. <sup>9</sup>Do you still not understand? Remember the five loaves of bread that fed the five thousand? And remember that you filled many baskets with the leftovers? <sup>10</sup>Or the seven loaves of bread that fed the four thousand and the many baskets you filled then also? <sup>11</sup>I was not talking to you about bread. Why don’t you understand that? I am telling you to beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and the Sadducees.” <sup>12</sup>Then the followers understood that Jesus was not telling them to beware of the yeast used in bread but to beware of the teaching of the Pharisees and the Sadducees.

Peter Says Jesus Is the Christ

<sup>13</sup>When Jesus came to the area of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his followers, “Who do people say the Son of Man is?”

<sup>14</sup>They answered, “Some say you are John the Baptist. Others say you are Elijah, and still others say you are Jeremiah or one of the prophets.”

<sup>16</sup>Simon Peter answered, “You are the Christ, the Son of the living God.”

<sup>17</sup>Jesus answered, “You are blessed, Simon son of Jonah, because no person taught you that. My Father in heaven showed you who I am. <sup>18</sup>So I tell you, you are Peter. On this rock I will build my church, and the power of death will not be able to defeat it. <sup>19</sup>I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven; the things you don’t allow on earth will be the things that God does not allow, and the things you allow on earth will be the things that God allows.” <sup>20</sup>Then Jesus warned his followers not to tell anyone he was the Christ.

Jesus Says that He Must Die

<sup>21</sup>From that time on Jesus began telling his followers that he must go to Jerusalem, where the older Jewish leaders, the leading priests, and the teachers of the law would make him suffer many things. He told them he must be killed and then be raised from the dead on the third day.

<sup>22</sup>Peter took Jesus aside and told him not to talk like that. He said, “God save you from those things, Lord! Those things will never happen to you!”

<sup>23</sup>Then Jesus said to Peter, “Go away from me, Satan! You are not helping me! You don’t care about the things of God, but only about the things people think are important.”

<sup>24</sup>Then Jesus said to his followers, “If people want to follow me, they must give up the things they want. They must be willing even to give up their lives to follow me. <sup>25</sup>Those who want to save their lives will give up true life, and those who give up their lives for me will have true life. <sup>26</sup>It is worth nothing for them to have the whole world if they lose their souls. They could never pay enough to buy back their souls. <sup>27</sup>The Son of Man will come again with his Father’s glory and with his angels. At that time, he will reward them for what they have done. <sup>28</sup>I tell you the truth, some people standing here will see the Son of Man coming with his kingdom before they die.”

Could someone build a temple and forget why?
Could someone construct a palace, yet forget the king?
Could someone sculpt a tribute and forget the hero?

You answer those questions. Answer them in a church. The next time you enter an assembly of worship, position yourself where you can see the people. Then decide.

You can tell the ones who remember the slain one. They're wide-eyed and expectant. They're children watching the unwrapping of a gift. They're servants standing still as a king passes. You don't doze in the presence of royalty. And you don't yawn while receiving a gift, especially when the giver is the king himself!

You can also tell the ones who see only the temple. Their eyes wander. Their feet shuffle. Their hands doodle, and their mouths open—not to sing, but to yawn. For no matter how hard they try to stay amazed, their eyes start to glaze over. All temples, even the Taj Mahal, lose their luster after a while.

The temple gazers don't mean to be bored. They love the church. They can cite its programs and praise its pastors. They don't mean to grow stale. They put on hats and hose and coats and ties and come every week. But still, something is missing. The one they once planned to honor hasn't been seen in a while.

But those who have seen him can't seem to forget him. They find him, often in spite of the temple rather than because of it. They brush the dust away and stand ever impressed before his tomb—his empty tomb.

The temple builders and the Savior seekers. You'll find them both in the same church, on the same pew—at times, even in the same suit. One sees the structure and says, "O What a great church." The other sees the Savior and says, "O What a great Christ!"

Which do you see? (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Matthew 17:1–18:14

Situation

Jesus' followers took a risk when they believed that Jesus was the Messiah and the Son of God.

Observation

Though they had seen Jesus' power and authority daily, this transformation of Jesus proved that Jesus was God's Son—the Messiah.

Inspiration

How deity and humanity can coexist in one person is beyond our understanding. Let me give an example. We know that God cannot die, and we know that Jesus is God. Yet Jesus died. How can that be? ... He did not lay aside the glory of deity; rather, He veiled that glory in a garb of flesh. If a prince leaves the royal palace to go and live in the slums, his position has changed, but he is still the same person. He can empty himself of his privileged place and veil his true identity, but he cannot empty himself of his personhood. So it was with the Lord Jesus. He did not consider His position with the Father in heaven something He had to hold on to at all costs. He came as a man so that He might die for humankind.

... We hold to the truth that “in Him dwells all the fullness of the Godhead bodily” (Colossians 2:9), and that means He always possessed all the attributes of deity. (From Alone in Majesty by William MacDonald)

Jesus Talks with Moses and Elijah

Six days later, Jesus took Peter, James, and John, the brother of James, up on a high mountain by themselves.<sup>2</sup> While they watched, Jesus' appearance was changed; his face became bright like the sun, and his clothes became white as light.<sup>3</sup> Then Moses and Elijah appeared to them, talking with Jesus.

<sup>4</sup>Peter said to Jesus, "Lord, it is good that we are here. If you want, I will put up three tents here—one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah."

<sup>5</sup>While Peter was talking, a bright cloud covered them. A voice came from the cloud and said, "This is my Son, whom I love, and I am very pleased with him. Listen to him!"

<sup>6</sup>When his followers heard the voice, they were so frightened they fell to the ground.<sup>7</sup> But Jesus went to them and touched them and said, "Stand up. Don't be afraid."<sup>8</sup> When they looked up, they saw Jesus was now alone.

<sup>9</sup>As they were coming down the mountain, Jesus commanded them not to tell anyone about what they had seen until the Son of Man had risen from the dead.

<sup>10</sup>Then his followers asked him, "Why do the teachers of the law say that Elijah must come first?"

<sup>11</sup>Jesus answered, “They are right to say that Elijah is coming and that he will make everything the way it should be. <sup>12</sup>But I tell you that Elijah has already come, and they did not recognize him. They did to him whatever they wanted to do. It will be the same with the Son of Man; those same people will make the Son of Man suffer.” <sup>13</sup>Then the followers understood that Jesus was talking about John the Baptist.

Jesus Heals a Sick Boy

<sup>14</sup>When Jesus and his followers came back to the crowd, a man came to Jesus and bowed before him. <sup>15</sup>The man said, “Lord, have mercy on my son. He has epilepsy and is suffering very much, because he often falls into the fire or into the water. <sup>16</sup>I brought him to your followers, but they could not cure him.”

<sup>17</sup>Jesus answered, “You people have no faith, and your lives are all wrong. How long must I put up with you? How long must I continue to be patient with you? Bring the boy here.” <sup>18</sup>Jesus commanded the demon inside the boy. Then the demon came out, and the boy was healed from that time on.

<sup>19</sup>The followers came to Jesus when he was alone and asked, “Why couldn’t we force the demon out?”

<sup>20</sup>Jesus answered, “Because your faith is too small. I tell you the truth, if your faith is as big as a mustard seed, you can say to this mountain, ‘Move from here to there,’ and it will move. All things will be possible for you.” <sup>21</sup>n

Jesus Talks About His Death

<sup>22</sup>While Jesus' followers were gathering in Galilee, he said to them, "The Son of Man will be handed over to people, <sup>23</sup>and they will kill him. But on the third day he will be raised from the dead." And the followers were filled with sadness.

Jesus Talks About Paying Taxes

<sup>24</sup>When Jesus and his followers came to Capernaum, the men who collected the Temple tax came to Peter. They asked, "Does your teacher pay the Temple tax?"

Peter went into the house, but before he could speak, Jesus said to him, "What do you think? The kings of the earth collect different kinds of taxes. But who pays the taxes—the king's children or others?"

Jesus said to Peter, "Then the children of the king don't have to pay taxes. <sup>27</sup>But we don't want to upset these tax collectors. So go to the lake and fish. After you catch the first fish, open its mouth and you will find a coin. Take that coin and give it to the tax collectors for you and me."

Who Is the Greatest?

At that time the followers came to Jesus and asked, “Who is greatest in the kingdom of heaven?”

<sup>2</sup>Jesus called a little child to him and stood the child before his followers. <sup>3</sup>Then he said, “I tell you the truth, you must change and become like little children. Otherwise, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. <sup>4</sup>The greatest person in the kingdom of heaven is the one who makes himself humble like this child.

<sup>5</sup>“Whoever accepts a child in my name accepts me. <sup>6</sup>If one of these little children believes in me, and someone causes that child to sin, it would be better for that person to have a large stone tied around the neck and be drowned in the sea. <sup>7</sup>How terrible for the people of the world because of the things that cause them to sin. Such things will happen, but how terrible for the one who causes them to happen! <sup>8</sup>If your hand or your foot causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. It is better for you to lose part of your body and live forever than to have two hands and two feet and be thrown into the fire that burns forever. <sup>9</sup>If your eye causes you to sin, take it out and throw it away. It is better for you to have only one eye and live forever than to have two eyes and be thrown into the fire of hell.

A Lost Sheep

<sup>10</sup>“Be careful. Don’t think these little children are worth nothing. I tell you that they have angels in heaven who are always with my Father in heaven. <sup>11</sup>n

<sup>12</sup>“If a man has a hundred sheep but one of the sheep gets lost, he will leave the other ninety-nine on the hill and go to look for the lost sheep. <sup>13</sup>I tell you the truth, he is happier about that one sheep than about the ninety-nine that were never lost. <sup>14</sup>In the same way, your Father in heaven does not want any of these little children to be lost.

Situation

Jesus crossed the Jordan River into Perea before coming back through Jericho to Jerusalem. Herod imprisoned and killed John the Baptist for expressing his opinion publicly on Herod’s marriage. The Jews hoped to trap Jesus also.

Observation

Jesus taught about the demands of discipleship. Disciples must honor marriage vows, have childlike humility, and refuse to be dominated by wealth.

Inspiration

Humility is a fruit of the Spirit, the result of his ministry in our hearts. But this ministry does not occur without deliberate, conscious effort on our part. The Spirit does not make us humble; he enables us to humble ourselves in these difficult Situations... . A very common occasion for showing humility is through servicing one another. In this area Jesus is our greatest teacher and pacesetter... . Jesus’ whole life was one of serving others. He said he did not come to be served but to serve; he went around doing good for others... . Jesus also taught us the importance of serving one another... . He promised blessing to those who followed his example in serving others... . Dependence upon the grace of God results in God being glorified; it also makes it possible for those who are not natural servants to practice humility. His grace is sufficient for all of our needs. We can, by his ennoblement, learn to serve one another. (From The Practice of Godliness by Jerry Bridges)

Application

When a Person Sins Against You

<sup>15</sup>“If your fellow believer sins against you, go and tell him in private what he did wrong. If he listens to you, you have helped that person to be your brother or sister again. <sup>16</sup>But if he refuses to listen, go to him again and take one or two other people with you. ‘Every case may be proved by two or three witnesses.’ <sup>17</sup>If he refuses to listen to them, tell the church. If he refuses to listen to the church, then treat him like a person who does not believe in God or like a tax collector.

<sup>18</sup>“I tell you the truth, the things you don’t allow on earth will be the things God does not allow. And the things you allow on earth will be the things that God allows.

<sup>19</sup>“Also, I tell you that if two of you on earth agree about something and pray for it, it will be done for you by my Father in heaven. <sup>20</sup>This is true because if two or three people come together in my name, I am there with them.”

An Unforgiving Servant

<sup>21</sup>Then Peter came to Jesus and asked, “Lord, when my fellow believer sins against me, how many times must I forgive him? Should I forgive him as many as seven times?”

<sup>22</sup>Jesus answered, “I tell you, you must forgive him more than seven times. You must forgive him even if he wrongs you seventy times seven.

<sup>26</sup>“But the servant fell on his knees and begged, ‘Be patient with me, and I will pay you everything I owe.’ <sup>27</sup>The master felt sorry for his servant and told him he did not have to pay it back. Then he let the servant go free.

<sup>28</sup>“Later, that same servant found another servant who owed him a few dollars. The servant grabbed him around the neck and said, ‘Pay me the money you owe me!’

<sup>29</sup>“The other servant fell on his knees and begged him, ‘Be patient with me, and I will pay you everything I owe.’

<sup>30</sup>“But the first servant refused to be patient. He threw the other servant into prison until he could pay everything he owed. <sup>31</sup>When the other servants saw what had happened, they were very sorry. So they went and told their master all that had happened.

<sup>32</sup>“Then the master called his servant in and said, ‘You evil servant! Because you begged me to forget what you owed, I told you that you did not have to pay anything. <sup>33</sup>You should have showed mercy to that other servant, just as I showed mercy to you.’ <sup>34</sup>The master was very angry and put the servant in prison to be punished until he could pay everything he owed.

<sup>35</sup>“This king did what my heavenly Father will do to you if you do not forgive your brother or sister from your heart.”

Christ Through the Bible

The Compassion of Christ

A boy went into a pet shop, looking for a puppy. The store owner showed him a litter in a box. The boy looked at the puppies. He picked each one up, examined it, and put it back into the box.

After several minutes, he walked back to the owner and said, “I picked one out. How much will it cost?”

The man gave him the price, and the boy promised to be back in a few days with the money. . . .

The boy went to work—weeding, washing windows, cleaning yards. He worked hard and saved his money. When he had enough for the puppy, he returned to the store.

He walked up to the counter and laid down a pocketful of wadded bills. The store owner sorted and counted the cash. . . . “All right, son, you can go get your puppy.”

The boy reached into the back of the box, pulled out a skinny dog with a limp leg, and started to leave.

The owner stopped him.

“Don’t take that puppy,” he objected. “He’s crippled. He can’t play. He’ll never run with you. He can’t fetch. Get one of the healthy pups.”

“No thank you, sir,” the boy replied. “This is exactly the kind of dog I’ve been looking for.”

As the boy turned to leave, the store owner started to speak but remained silent. Suddenly he understood. For extending from the bottom of the boy’s trousers was a brace—a brace for his crippled leg.

Why did the boy want the dog? Because he knew how it felt. And he knew it was very special. . . .

Jesus knows how you feel. You’re under the gun at work? Jesus knows how you feel. You’ve got more to do than is humanly possible? So did he. You’ve got children who make a “piranha hour” out of your dinner hour? Jesus knows what that’s like. People take more from you than they give? Jesus understands. . . . ## Jesus Teaches About Divorce

After Jesus said all these things, he left Galilee and went into the area of Judea on the other side of the Jordan River. <sup>2</sup>Large crowds followed him, and he healed them there.

<sup>3</sup>Some Pharisees came to Jesus and tried to trick him. They asked, “Is it right for a man to divorce his wife for any reason he chooses?”

<sup>4</sup>Jesus answered, “Surely you have read in the Scriptures: When God made the world, ‘he made them male and female.’ <sup>5</sup>And God said, ‘So a man will leave his father and mother and be united with his wife, and the two will become one body.’ <sup>6</sup>So there are not two, but one. God has joined the two together, so no one should separate them.”

<sup>7</sup>The Pharisees asked, “Why then did Moses give a command for a man to divorce his wife by giving her divorce papers?”

<sup>8</sup>Jesus answered, “Moses allowed you to divorce your wives because you refused to accept God’s teaching, but divorce was not allowed in the beginning. <sup>9</sup>I tell you that anyone who divorces his wife and marries another woman is guilty of adultery. The only reason for a man to divorce his wife is if his wife has sexual relations with another man.”

<sup>10</sup>The followers said to him, “If that is the only reason a man can divorce his wife, it is better not to marry.”

<sup>11</sup>Jesus answered, “Not everyone can accept this teaching, but God has made some able to accept it. <sup>12</sup>There are different reasons why some men cannot marry. Some men were born without the ability to become fathers. Others were made that way later in life by other people. And some men have given up marriage because of the kingdom of heaven. But the person who can marry should accept this teaching about marriage.”

Jesus Welcomes Children

<sup>13</sup>Then the people brought their little children to Jesus so he could put his hands on them and pray for them. His followers told them to stop, <sup>14</sup>but Jesus said, “Let the little children come to me. Don’t stop them, because the kingdom of heaven belongs to people who are like these children.” <sup>15</sup>After Jesus put his hands on the children, he left there.

A Rich Young Man’s Question

<sup>16</sup>A man came to Jesus and asked, “Teacher, what good thing must I do to have life forever?”

<sup>17</sup>Jesus answered, “Why do you ask me about what is good? Only God is good. But if you want to have life forever, obey the commands.”

Jesus answered, “You must not murder anyone; you must not be guilty of adultery; you must not steal; you must not tell lies about your neighbor; <sup>19</sup>honor your father and mother; and love your neighbor as you love yourself.”

<sup>20</sup>The young man said, “I have obeyed all these things. What else do I need to do?”

<sup>21</sup>Jesus answered, “If you want to be perfect, then go and sell your possessions and give the money to the poor. If you do this, you will have treasure in heaven. Then come and follow me.”

<sup>23</sup>Then Jesus said to his followers, “I tell you the truth, it will be hard for a rich person to enter the kingdom of heaven.

<sup>24</sup>Yes, I tell you that it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God.”

<sup>25</sup>When Jesus’ followers heard this, they were very surprised and asked, “Then who can be saved?”

<sup>26</sup>Jesus looked at them and said, “This is something people cannot do, but God can do all things.”

<sup>27</sup>Peter said to Jesus, “Look, we have left everything and followed you. So what will we have?”

<sup>28</sup>Jesus said to them, “I tell you the truth, when the age to come has arrived, the Son of Man will sit on his great throne. All of you who followed me will also sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. <sup>29</sup>And all those who have left houses, brothers, sisters, father, mother, children, or farms to follow me will get much more than they left, and they will have life forever. <sup>30</sup>Many who have the highest place now will have the lowest place in the future. And many who have the lowest place now will have the highest place in the future.

Life Lessons

Matthew 20:1–34

Situation

Jesus traveled toward Jerusalem for the last time. He refuted the Jewish leaders' ideas that their heritage would ensure them membership in heaven. His disciples were also slow to learn and argued over kingdom status for themselves.

Observation

Jesus emphasized that salvation depends on God's love, mercy, and kindness. No one deserves it.

Inspiration

A certain landowner needs workers. At 6:0 A.M. he picks his crew, they agree on a wage, and he puts them to work. At 9:0 he is back at the unemployment agency and picks a few more. At noon he is back and at 3:0 in the afternoon he is back and at 5:0, you guessed it. He's back again.

Now, the punchline of the story is the anger the twelve-hour laborers felt when the other guys got the same wage. That's a great message, but we'll save it for another book.

I want to hone in on an often forgotten scene in the story: the choosing. Can you see it? It happened at 9:0. It happened at noon. It happened at 3:0. But most passionately, it happened at 5:0.

Five in the afternoon. Tell me. What is a worker still doing in the yard at 5:0 in the afternoon? The best have long since gone. The mediocre workers went at lunch. The last string went at 3:0. What kind of worker is left at 5:0 P.M.?

All day they get passed by. They are unskilled. Untrained. Uneducated. They are hanging with one hand from the bottom of the ladder. They are absolutely dependent upon a merciful boss giving them a chance they don't deserve.

So, by the way, were we. Lest we get a bit cocky, we might take Paul's advice and look at what we were when God called us. Do you remember?

Some of us were polished and sharp but papier-mâché thin. Others of us didn't even try to hide our despair. We drank it. We smelled it. We shot it. We sold it. Life was a passion-pursuit. We were on a treasure hunt for an empty chest in a dead-end canyon.

Do you remember how you felt? Do you remember the perspiration on your forehead and the crack in your soul? Do you remember how you tried to hide the loneliness until it got bigger than you and then you just tried to survive?

Hold that picture for a moment. Now answer this. Why did he choose you? Why did he choose me? Honestly. Why? What do we have that he needs?

Intellect? Do we honestly think for one minute that we have—or ever will have—a thought he hasn't had?

Willpower? I can respect that. Some of us are stubborn enough to walk on water if we feel called to do so ... but to think God's kingdom would have done a belly-up without our determination?

How about money? We came into the kingdom with a nice little nest egg. Perhaps that's why we were chosen. Perhaps the creator of heaven and earth could use a little of our cash. Maybe the owner of every breath and every person and the author of history was getting low on capital and he saw us and our black ink and...

Get the point?

We were chosen for the same reason the five o'clock workers were. You and me? We are the five o'clock workers.

That's us leaning against the orchard fence sucking cigarettes we can't afford and betting beers we'll never buy on a game of penny-toss. Migrant workers with no jobs and no futures. The tattoo on your arm reads "Betty." The one on my biceps is nameless but her hips bounce when I flex. We should have given up and gone home after the lunch whistle but home is a one-bedroom motel with a wife whose first question will be, "Did you get on or not?"

So we wait. The too little, too late.

And Jesus? Well, Jesus is the guy in the black pickup who owns the hillside acreage. He's the fellow who noticed us as he drove by leaving us in his dust. He's the one who stopped the truck, put it in reverse, and backed up to where we were standing.

He's the one you'll tell your wife about tonight as you walk to the grocery with a jingle in your pocket. "I'd never seen this guy before. He just stopped, rolled down his window, and asked us if we wanted to work. It was already near quitting time, but he said he had some work that wouldn't wait. I swear, Martha, I only worked one hour and he paid me for the full day.”

“No, I don't know his name.”

“Of course, I'm gonna find out. Too good to be true, that guy.”

Why did he pick you? He wanted to. After all, you are his. He made you. He brought you home. He owns you. And once upon a time, he tapped you on the shoulder and reminded you of that fact. No matter how long you'd waited or how much time you'd wasted, you are his and he has a place for you. (From And the Angels Were Silent by Max Lucado)

A Story About Workers

“The kingdom of heaven is like a person who owned some land. One morning, he went out very early to hire some people to work in his vineyard. <sup>2</sup>The man agreed to pay the workers one coin for working that day. Then he sent them into the vineyard to work. <sup>3</sup>About nine o’clock the man went to the marketplace and saw some other people standing there, doing nothing. <sup>4</sup>So he said to them, ‘If you go and work in my vineyard, I will pay you what your work is worth.’ <sup>5</sup>So they went to work in the vineyard. The man went out again about twelve o’clock and three o’clock and did the same thing. <sup>6</sup>About five o’clock the man went to the marketplace again and saw others standing there. He asked them, ‘Why did you stand here all day doing nothing?’ <sup>7</sup>They answered, ‘No one gave us a job.’ The man said to them, ‘Then you can go and work in my vineyard.’

<sup>8</sup>“At the end of the day, the owner of the vineyard said to the boss of all the workers, ‘Call the workers and pay them. Start with the last people I hired and end with those I hired first.’

<sup>9</sup>“When the workers who were hired at five o’clock came to get their pay, each received one coin. <sup>10</sup>When the workers who were hired first came to get their pay, they thought they would be paid more than the others. But each one of them also received one coin. <sup>11</sup>When they got their coin, they complained to the man who owned the land.<sup>12</sup>They said, ‘Those people were hired last and worked only one hour. But you paid them the same as you paid us who worked hard all day in the hot sun.’<sup>13</sup>But the man who owned the vineyard said to one of those workers, ‘Friend, I am being fair to you. You agreed to work for one coin.’<sup>14</sup>So take your pay and go. I want to give the man who was hired last the same pay that I gave you.<sup>15</sup>I can do what I want with my own money. Are you jealous because I am good to those people?’

<sup>16</sup>“So those who have the last place now will have the first place in the future, and those who have the first place now will have the last place in the future.”

Jesus Talks About His Own Death

<sup>17</sup>While Jesus was going to Jerusalem, he took his twelve followers aside privately and said to them,<sup>18</sup>“Look, we are going to Jerusalem. The Son of Man will be turned over to the leading priests and the teachers of the law, and they will say that he must die.<sup>19</sup>They will give the Son of Man to the non-Jewish people to laugh at him and beat him with whips and crucify him. But on the third day, he will be raised to life again.”

A Mother Asks Jesus a Favor

<sup>20</sup>Then the wife of Zebedee came to Jesus with her sons. She bowed before him and asked him to do something for her.

<sup>21</sup>Jesus asked, “What do you want?”

She said, “Promise that one of my sons will sit at your right side and the other will sit at your left side in your kingdom.”

<sup>22</sup>But Jesus said, “You don’t understand what you are asking. Can you drink the cup that I am about to drink?”

The sons answered, “Yes, we can.”

<sup>23</sup>Jesus said to them, “You will drink from my cup. But I cannot choose who will sit at my right or my left; those places belong to those for whom my Father has prepared them.”

<sup>24</sup>When the other ten followers heard this, they were angry with the two brothers.

<sup>25</sup>Jesus called all the followers together and said, “You know that the rulers of the non-Jewish people love to show their power over the people. And their important leaders love to use all their authority. <sup>26</sup>But it should not be that way among you. Whoever wants to become great among you must serve the rest of you like a servant. <sup>27</sup>Whoever wants to become first among you must serve the rest of you like a slave. <sup>28</sup>In the same way, the Son of Man did not come to be served. He came to serve others and to give his life as a ransom for many people.”

Jesus Heals Two Blind Men

<sup>29</sup>When Jesus and his followers were leaving Jericho, a great many people followed him. <sup>30</sup>Two blind men sitting by the road heard that Jesus was going by, so they shouted, “Lord, Son of David, have mercy on us!”

<sup>31</sup>The people warned the blind men to be quiet, but they shouted even more, “Lord, Son of David, have mercy on us!”

<sup>32</sup>Jesus stopped and said to the blind men, “What do you want me to do for you?”

<sup>34</sup>Jesus felt sorry for the blind men and touched their eyes, and at once they could see. Then they followed Jesus.

As the husband looks in the jewelry case, he rationalizes, "Sure she would want the watch, but it's too expensive. She's a practical woman, she'll understand. I'll just get the bracelet today. I'll buy the watch ... someday."

Someday. The enemy of risky love is a snake whose tongue has mastered the talk of deception. "Someday," he hisses.

"Someday, I can take her on the cruise."

"Someday, I will have time to call and chat."

"Someday, the children will understand why I was so busy."

But you know the truth, don't you? You know even before I write it. You could say it better than I.

Some days never come.

And the price of practicality is sometimes higher than extravagance.

But the rewards of risky love are always greater than its cost.

Go to the effort. Invest the time. Write the letter. Make the apology. Take the trip. Purchase the gift. Do it. The seized opportunity renders joy. The neglected brings regret. (From And the Angels Were Silent by Max Lucado)

Jesus Enters Jerusalem as a King

As Jesus and his followers were coming closer to Jerusalem, they stopped at Bethphage at the hill called the Mount of Olives. From there Jesus sent two of his followers <sup>2</sup>and said to them, “Go to the town you can see there. When you enter it, you will quickly find a donkey tied there with its colt. Untie them and bring them to me. <sup>3</sup>If anyone asks you why you are taking the donkeys, say that the Master needs them, and he will send them at once.”

<sup>4</sup>This was to bring about what the prophet had said:

<sup>5</sup>“Tell the people of Jerusalem,
“Your king is coming to you.
He is gentle and riding on a donkey,
on the colt of a donkey.”

Isaiah 62:11; Zechariah 9:9

<sup>6</sup>The followers went and did what Jesus told them to do. <sup>7</sup>They brought the donkey and the colt to Jesus and laid their coats on them, and Jesus sat on them. <sup>8</sup>Many people spread their coats on the road. Others cut branches from the trees and spread them on the road. <sup>9</sup>The people were walking ahead of Jesus and behind him, shouting, “Praise to the Son of David!

God bless the One who comes in the name of the Lord!

Psalm 118:26

Praise to God in heaven!”

<sup>10</sup>When Jesus entered Jerusalem, all the city was filled with excitement. The people asked, “Who is this man?”

<sup>11</sup>The crowd said, “This man is Jesus, the prophet from the town of Nazareth in Galilee.”

Jesus Goes to the Temple

<sup>12</sup>Jesus went into the Temple and threw out all the people who were buying and selling there. He turned over the tables of those who were exchanging different kinds of money, and he upset the benches of those who were selling doves. <sup>13</sup>Jesus said to all the people there, “It is written in the Scriptures, ‘My Temple will be called a house for prayer.’ But you are changing it into a ‘hideout for robbers.’”

<sup>14</sup>The blind and crippled people came to Jesus in the Temple, and he healed them. <sup>15</sup>The leading priests and the teachers of the law saw that Jesus was doing wonderful things and that the children were praising him in the Temple, saying, “Praise to the Son of David.” All these things made the priests and the teachers of the law very angry.

Jesus answered, “Yes. Haven’t you read in the Scriptures, ‘You have taught children and babies to sing praises’?” <sup>17</sup>Then Jesus left and went out of the city to Bethany, where he spent the night.

The Power of Faith

<sup>18</sup>Early the next morning, as Jesus was going back to the city, he became hungry. <sup>19</sup>Seeing a fig tree beside the road, Jesus went to it, but there were no figs on the tree, only leaves. So Jesus said to the tree, “You will never again have fruit.” The tree immediately dried up.

<sup>20</sup>When his followers saw this, they were amazed. They asked, “How did the fig tree dry up so quickly?”

<sup>21</sup>Jesus answered, “I tell you the truth, if you have faith and do not doubt, you will be able to do what I did to this tree and even more. You will be able to say to this mountain, ‘Go, fall into the sea.’ And if you have faith, it will happen. <sup>22</sup>If you believe, you will get anything you ask for in prayer.”

Leaders Doubt Jesus’ Authority

<sup>23</sup>Jesus went to the Temple, and while he was teaching there, the leading priests and the older leaders of the people came to him. They said, “What authority do you have to do these things? Who gave you this authority?”

<sup>24</sup>Jesus answered, “I also will ask you a question. If you answer me, then I will tell you what authority I have to do these things. <sup>25</sup>Tell me: When John baptized people, did that come from God or just from other people?”

They argued about Jesus’ question, saying, “If we answer, ‘John’s baptism was from God,’ Jesus will say, ‘Then why didn’t you believe him?’ <sup>26</sup>But if we say, ‘It was from people,’ we are afraid of what the crowd will do because they all believe that John was a prophet.”

<sup>27</sup>So they answered Jesus, “We don’t know.”

Jesus said to them, “Then I won’t tell you what authority I have to do these things.

A Story About Two Sons

<sup>28</sup>“Tell me what you think about this: A man had two sons. He went to the first son and said, ‘Son, go and work today in my vineyard.’ <sup>29</sup>The son answered, ‘I will not go.’ But later the son changed his mind and went. <sup>30</sup>Then the father went to the other son and said, ‘Son, go and work today in my vineyard.’ The son answered, ‘Yes, sir, I will go and work,’ but he did not go. <sup>31</sup>Which of the two sons obeyed his father?”

The priests and leaders answered, “The first son.”

Jesus said to them, “I tell you the truth, the tax collectors and the prostitutes will enter the kingdom of God before you do. <sup>32</sup>John came to show you the right way to live. You did not believe him, but the tax collectors and prostitutes believed him. Even after seeing this, you still refused to change your ways and believe him.

A Story About God’s Son

<sup>33</sup>“Listen to this story: There was a man who owned a vineyard. He put a wall around it and dug a hole for a winepress and built a tower. Then he leased the land to some farmers and left for a trip. <sup>34</sup>When it was time for the grapes to be picked, he sent his servants to the farmers to get his share of the grapes. <sup>35</sup>But the farmers grabbed the servants, beat one, killed another, and then killed a third servant with stones. <sup>36</sup>So the man sent some other servants to the farmers, even more than he sent the first time. But the farmers did the same thing to the servants that they had done before.<sup>37</sup> So the man decided to send his son to the farmers. He said, 'They will respect my son.'<sup>38</sup> But when the farmers saw the son, they said to each other, 'This son will inherit the vineyard. If we kill him, it will be ours!'<sup>39</sup> Then the farmers grabbed the son, threw him out of the vineyard, and killed him.<sup>40</sup> So what will the owner of the vineyard do to these farmers when he comes?"

<sup>41</sup>The priests and leaders said, "He will surely kill those evil men. Then he will lease the vineyard to some other farmers who will give him his share of the crop at harvest time."

<sup>42</sup>Jesus said to them, "Surely you have read this in the Scriptures:

'The stone that the builders rejected
became the cornerstone.
The Lord did this,
and it is wonderful to us.'

Psalm 118:22-23

<sup>43</sup>"So I tell you that the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to people who do the things God wants in his kingdom.<sup>44</sup> The person who falls on this stone will be broken, and on whomever that stone falls, that person will be crushed."<sup>n</sup>

<sup>45</sup>When the leading priests and the Pharisees heard these stories, they knew Jesus was talking about them.<sup>46</sup> They wanted to arrest him, but they were afraid of the people, because the people believed that Jesus was a prophet.

Life Lessons

Matthew 22:1–46

Situation

Three Jewish factions confronted Jesus. The Pharisees opposed Roman occupation of Palestine. The Herodians supported Herod Antipas and Roman policies. The Sadducees did not believe in the resurrection, because they could not find it directly taught in the books of the Law.

Observation

Jesus continued to show that God's Word was superior to the Jewish leaders' human reasoning.

Inspiration

No doubt you've had your share of words that wound. You've felt the sting of a well-aimed gibe. Maybe you're still feeling it. Someone you love or respect slams you to the floor with a slur or slip of the tongue. And there you lie, wounded and bleeding. Perhaps the words were intended to hurt you, perhaps not; but that doesn't matter. The wound is deep. The injuries are internal. Broken heart, wounded pride, bruised feelings. Or maybe your wound is old... . The old pain flares unpredictably and decisively, reminding you of harsh words yet unforgiven. If you have suffered or are suffering because of someone else's words, you'll be glad to know there is a balm for this laceration... .

Did you see what Jesus did not do? He did not retaliate. He did not bite back. He did not say, "I'll get you!” . . . . He left the judging to God. He did not take on the task of seeking revenge. He demanded no apology. He hired no bounty hunters and sent out no posse. . . . If ever a person deserved a shot at revenge, Jesus did. But he didn’t take it. Instead he died for them. How could he do it? I don’t know. But I do know that all of a sudden my wounds seem very painless. My grudges and hard feelings are suddenly childish.

A Story About a Wedding Feast

Jesus again used stories to teach the people. He said, <sup>2</sup>“The kingdom of heaven is like a king who prepared a wedding feast for his son. <sup>3</sup>The king invited some people to the feast. When the feast was ready, the king sent his servants to tell the people, but they refused to come.

<sup>4</sup>“Then the king sent other servants, saying, ‘Tell those who have been invited that my feast is ready. I have killed my best bulls and calves for the dinner, and everything is ready. Come to the wedding feast.’

<sup>5</sup>“But the people refused to listen to the servants and left to do other things. One went to work in his field, and another went to his business. <sup>6</sup>Some of the other people grabbed the servants, beat them, and killed them. <sup>7</sup>The king was furious and sent his army to kill the murderers and burn their city.

<sup>8</sup>“After that, the king said to his servants, ‘The wedding feast is ready. I invited those people, but they were not worthy to come. <sup>9</sup>So go to the street corners and invite everyone you find to come to my feast.’ <sup>10</sup>So the servants went into the streets and gathered all the people they could find, both good and bad. And the wedding hall was filled with guests.

<sup>11</sup>“When the king came in to see the guests, he saw a man who was not dressed for a wedding. <sup>12</sup>The king said, ‘Friend, how were you allowed to come in here? You are not dressed for a wedding.’ But the man said nothing. <sup>13</sup>So the king told some servants, ‘Tie this man’s hands and feet. Throw him out into the darkness, where people will cry and grind their teeth with pain.’

<sup>14</sup>“Yes, many people are invited, but only a few are chosen.”

Is It Right to Pay Taxes or Not?

<sup>15</sup>Then the Pharisees left that place and made plans to trap Jesus in saying something wrong. <sup>16</sup>They sent some of their own followers and some people from the group called Herodians. They said, “Teacher, we know that you are an honest man and that you teach the truth about God’s way. You are not afraid of what other people think about you, because you pay no attention to who they are. <sup>17</sup>So tell us what you think. Is it right to pay taxes to Caesar or not?”

<sup>18</sup>But knowing that these leaders were trying to trick him, Jesus said, “You hypocrites! Why are you trying to trap me? <sup>19</sup>Show me a coin used for paying the tax.” So the men showed him a coin. <sup>20</sup>Then Jesus asked, “Whose image and name are on the coin?”

Then Jesus said to them, “Give to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and give to God the things that are God’s.”

<sup>22</sup>When the men heard what Jesus said, they were amazed and left him and went away.

Some Sadducees Try to Trick Jesus

<sup>23</sup>That same day some Sadducees came to Jesus and asked him a question. (Sadducees believed that people would not rise from the dead.) <sup>24</sup>They said, “Teacher, Moses said if a married man dies without having children, his brother must marry the widow and have children for him. <sup>25</sup>Once there were seven brothers among us. The first one married and died. Since he had no children, his brother married the widow. <sup>26</sup>Then the second brother also died. The same thing happened to the third brother and all the other brothers. <sup>27</sup>Finally, the woman died. <sup>28</sup>Since all seven men had married her, when people rise from the dead, whose wife will she be?”

<sup>29</sup>Jesus answered, “You don’t understand, because you don’t know what the Scriptures say, and you don’t know about the power of God. <sup>30</sup>When people rise from the dead, they will not marry, nor will they be given to someone to marry. They will be like the angels in heaven. <sup>31</sup>Surely you have read what God said to you about rising from the dead. <sup>32</sup>God said, ‘I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.’ God is the God of the living, not the dead.”

<sup>33</sup>When the people heard this, they were amazed at Jesus’ teaching.

The Most Important Command

<sup>34</sup>When the Pharisees learned that the Sadducees could not argue with Jesus’ answers to them, the Pharisees met together. <sup>35</sup>One Pharisee, who was an expert on the law of Moses, asked Jesus this question to test him: <sup>36</sup>“Teacher, which command in the law is the most important?”

<sup>37</sup>Jesus answered, “Love the Lord your God with all your heart, all your soul, and all your mind.' <sup>38</sup>This is the first and most important command. <sup>39</sup>And the second command is like the first: 'Love your neighbor as you love yourself.' <sup>40</sup>All the law and the writings of the prophets depend on these two commands."

Jesus Questions the Pharisees

<sup>41</sup>While the Pharisees were together, Jesus asked them, <sup>42</sup>"What do you think about the Christ? Whose son is he?"

They answered, "The Christ is the Son of David."

<sup>43</sup>Then Jesus said to them, "Then why did David call him 'Lord'? David, speaking by the power of the Holy Spirit, said, <sup>44</sup>"The Lord said to my Lord:

Sit by me at my right side,

until I put your enemies under your control."

Psalm 110:1

<sup>45</sup>David calls the Christ 'Lord,' so how can the Christ be his son?"

<sup>46</sup>None of the Pharisees could answer Jesus' question, and after that day no one was brave enough to ask him any more questions.

Life Lessons

Matthew 23:1-39

Situation

Human rules, practices, and interpretations became more important than God's Law; Jesus condemned the Pharisees as hypocrites.

Observation

God hates religious hypocrisy.

Inspiration

Consider for a moment a few brief epithets that Jesus reserved for the Pharisees: "You snakes!" "You brood of vipers!" "Blind guides!" "Children of hell!" "Blind fools!" These forms of address can hardly be considered compliments. Jesus spared no invectives in His denunciations of these men. His words were uncharacteristically harsh, though not unjustifiably harsh. They were different from His usual style. The normal form of rebuke He made to sinners was gentle. He spoke tenderly, though firmly to the woman caught in adultery, and to the woman at the well. It seems that Jesus saved His severe comments for the big boys, the theological professionals. With them He asked no quarter and gave none.

It has been said that nothing dispels a lie faster than the truth; nothing exposes the counterfeit faster than the genuine. Clever counterfeit dollars may be unnoticed by the untrained eye. What every counterfeiter fears is that someone will examine his bogus bill while holding a genuine one next to it. The presence of Jesus represented the presence of the genuine in the midst of the bogus. Here authentic holiness appeared.

Jesus Accuses Some Leaders

Then Jesus said to the crowds and to his followers,<sup>2</sup>“The teachers of the law and the Pharisees have the authority to tell you what the law of Moses says.<sup>3</sup>So you should obey and follow whatever they tell you, but their lives are not good examples for you to follow. They tell you to do things, but they themselves don’t do them.<sup>4</sup>They make strict rules and try to force people to obey them, but they are unwilling to help those who struggle under the weight of their rules.

<sup>5</sup>“They do good things so that other people will see them. They make the boxes of Scriptures that they wear bigger, and they make their special prayer clothes very long.<sup>6</sup>Those Pharisees and teachers of the law love to have the most important seats at feasts and in the synagogues.<sup>7</sup>They love people to greet them with respect in the marketplaces, and they love to have people call them ‘Teacher.’

<sup>8</sup>“But you must not be called ‘Teacher,’ because you have only one Teacher, and you are all brothers and sisters together.<sup>9</sup>And don’t call any person on earth ‘Father,’ because you have one Father, who is in heaven.<sup>10</sup>And you should not be called ‘Master,’ because you have only one Master, the Christ.<sup>11</sup>Whoever is your servant is the greatest among you.<sup>12</sup>Whoever makes himself great will be made humble. Whoever makes himself humble will be made great.

<sup>13</sup>“How terrible for you, teachers of the law and Pharisees! You are hypocrites! You close the door for people to enter the kingdom of heaven. You yourselves don’t enter, and you stop others who are trying to enter. <sup>14</sup>n

<sup>15</sup>“How terrible for you, teachers of the law and Pharisees! You are hypocrites! You travel across land and sea to find one person who will change to your ways. When you find that person, you make him more fit for hell than you are.

<sup>16</sup>“How terrible for you! You guide the people, but you are blind. You say, ‘If people swear by the Temple when they make a promise, that means nothing. But if they swear by the gold that is in the Temple, they must keep that promise.’ <sup>17</sup>You are blind fools! Which is greater: the gold or the Temple that makes that gold holy? <sup>18</sup>And you say, ‘If people swear by the altar when they make a promise, that means nothing. But if they swear by the gift on the altar, they must keep that promise.’ <sup>19</sup>You are blind! Which is greater: the gift or the altar that makes the gift holy? <sup>20</sup>The person who swears by the altar is really using the altar and also everything on the altar. <sup>21</sup>And the person who swears by the Temple is really using the Temple and also everything in the Temple. <sup>22</sup>The person who swears by heaven is also using God’s throne and the One who sits on that throne.

<sup>23</sup>“How terrible for you, teachers of the law and Pharisees! You are hypocrites! You give to God one-tenth of everything you earn—even your mint, dill, and cumin. But you don’t obey the really important teachings of the law—justice, mercy, and being loyal. These are the things you should do, as well as those other things. <sup>24</sup>You guide the people, but you are blind! You are like a person who picks a fly out of a drink and then swallows a camel!

<sup>25</sup>“How terrible for you, teachers of the law and Pharisees! You are hypocrites! You wash the outside of your cups and dishes, but inside they are full of things you got by cheating others and by pleasing only yourselves. <sup>26</sup>Pharisees, you are blind! First make the inside of the cup clean, and then the outside of the cup can be truly clean.

<sup>27</sup>“How terrible for you, teachers of the law and Pharisees! You are hypocrites! You are like tombs that are painted white. Outside, those tombs look fine, but inside, they are full of the bones of dead people and all kinds of unclean things. <sup>28</sup>It is the same with you. People look at you and think you are good, but on the inside you are full of hypocrisy and evil.

<sup>29</sup>“How terrible for you, teachers of the law and Pharisees! You are hypocrites! You build tombs for the prophets, and you show honor to the graves of those who lived good lives. <sup>30</sup>You say, ‘If we had lived during the time of our ancestors, we would not have helped them kill the prophets.’ <sup>31</sup>But you give proof that you are children of those who murdered the prophets. <sup>32</sup>And you will complete the sin that your ancestors started.

<sup>33</sup>“You are snakes! A family of poisonous snakes! How are you going to escape God’s judgment? <sup>34</sup>So I tell you this: I am sending to you prophets and wise men and teachers. Some of them you will kill and crucify. Some of them you will beat in your synagogues and chase from town to town. <sup>35</sup>So you will be guilty for the death of all the good people who have been killed on earth—from the murder of that good man Abel to the murder of Zechariah son of Berakiah, whom you murdered between the Temple and the altar. <sup>36</sup>I tell you the truth, all of these things will happen to you people who are living now.

Jesus Feels Sorry for Jerusalem

<sup>37</sup>“Jerusalem, Jerusalem! You kill the prophets and stone to death those who are sent to you. Many times I wanted to gather your people as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings, but you did not let me.<sup>38</sup>Now your house will be left completely empty. <sup>39</sup>I tell you, you will not see me again until that time when you will say, ‘God bless the One who comes in the name of the Lord.’”

Life Lessons

Matthew 24:1-51

Situation

Jesus prophesied about the second coming. He delivered this teaching from the Mount of Olives, where the prophet Zechariah predicted that the Messiah would stand when he came to establish his kingdom.

Observation

Christians need to be watchful and prepare for Jesus' return, because we don't know when it will be.

Inspiration

What kind of people should we be? Peter tells us: "You should live holy lives and serve God, as you wait for and [here is that word again] look forward to the coming of the day of God" [2 Peter 3:11-12].

Hope of the future is not a license for irresponsibility in the present. Let us wait forwardly, but let us wait.

But for most of us, waiting is not our problem Or, maybe I should state, waiting is our problem. We are so good at waiting that we don't wait forwardly. We forget to look. We are so patient that we become complacent. We are too content. We seldom search the skies. We rarely run to the temple. We seldom, if ever, allow the Holy Spirit to interrupt our plans and lead us to worship so that we might see Jesus.

It is to those of us who are strong in waiting and weak in watching that our Lord was speaking when he said, “No one knows when that day or time will be, not the angels in heaven, not even the Son. Only the Father knows... . So always be ready, because you don’t know the day your Lord will come... . The Son of Man will come at a time you don’t expect him” (Matthew 24:36, 42, 44).

Simeon reminds us to “wait forwardly.” Patiently vigilant. But not so patient that we lose our vigilance. Nor so vigilant that we lose our patience.

In the end, the prayer of Simeon was answered. “Simeon took the baby in his arms and thanked God; ‘Now, Lord, you can let me, your servant, die in peace as you said’” (Luke 2:28–29).

One look into the face of Jesus, and Simeon knew it was time to go home. And one look into the face of our Savior, and we will know the same. (From When Christ Comes by Max Lucado)

The Temple Will Be Destroyed

As Jesus left the Temple and was walking away, his followers came up to show him the Temple's buildings. <sup>2</sup>Jesus asked, "Do you see all these buildings? I tell you the truth, not one stone will be left on another. Every stone will be thrown down to the ground."

<sup>3</sup>Later, as Jesus was sitting on the Mount of Olives, his followers came to be alone with him. They said, "Tell us, when will these things happen? And what will be the sign that it is time for you to come again and for this age to end?"

<sup>4</sup>Jesus answered, "Be careful that no one fools you. <sup>5</sup>Many will come in my name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and they will fool many people. <sup>6</sup>You will hear about wars and stories of wars that are coming, but don't be afraid. These things must happen before the end comes. <sup>7</sup>Nations will fight against other nations; kingdoms will fight against other kingdoms. There will be times when there is no food for people to eat, and there will be earthquakes in different places. <sup>8</sup>These things are like the first pains when something new is about to be born.

<sup>9</sup>"Then people will arrest you, hand you over to be hurt, and kill you. They will hate you because you believe in me. <sup>10</sup>At that time, many will lose their faith, and they will turn against each other and hate each other. <sup>11</sup>Many false prophets will come and cause many people to believe lies. <sup>12</sup>There will be more and more evil in the world, so most people will stop showing their love for each other. <sup>13</sup>But those people who keep their faith until the end will be saved. <sup>14</sup>The Good News about God's kingdom will be preached in all the world, to every nation. Then the end will come.

<sup>15</sup>“Daniel the prophet spoke about ‘the destroying terror.’ You will see this standing in the holy place.” (You who read this should understand what it means.) <sup>16</sup>“At that time, the people in Judea should run away to the mountains. <sup>17</sup>If people are on the roofs of their houses, they must not go down to get anything out of their houses. <sup>18</sup>If people are in the fields, they must not go back to get their coats. <sup>19</sup>At that time, how terrible it will be for women who are pregnant or have nursing babies! <sup>20</sup>Pray that it will not be winter or a Sabbath day when these things happen and you have to run away, <sup>21</sup>because at that time there will be much trouble. There will be more trouble than there has ever been since the beginning of the world until now, and nothing as bad will ever happen again. <sup>22</sup>God has decided to make that terrible time short. Otherwise, no one would go on living. But God will make that time short to help the people he has chosen. <sup>23</sup>At that time, someone might say to you, ‘Look, there is the Christ!’ Or another person might say, ‘There he is!’ But don’t believe them. <sup>24</sup>False Christs and false prophets will come and perform great wonders and miracles. They will try to fool even the people God has chosen, if that is possible. <sup>25</sup>Now I have warned you about this before it happens.

<sup>26</sup>“If people tell you, ‘The Christ is in the desert,’ don’t go there. If they say, ‘The Christ is in the inner room,’ don’t believe it. <sup>27</sup>When the Son of Man comes, he will be seen by everyone, like lightning flashing from the east to the west. <sup>28</sup>Wherever the dead body is, there the vultures will gather.

<sup>29</sup>“Soon after the trouble of those days,
‘the sun will grow dark,
and the moon will not give its light.
The stars will fall from the sky.
And the powers of the heavens will be shaken.’

Isaiah 13:10; 34:4

<sup>30</sup>“At that time, the sign of the Son of Man will appear in the sky. Then all the peoples of the world will cry. They will see the Son of Man coming on clouds in the sky with great power and glory. <sup>31</sup>He will use a loud trumpet to send his angels all around the earth, and they will gather his chosen people from every part of the world.

<sup>32</sup>“Learn a lesson from the fig tree: When its branches become green and soft and new leaves appear, you know summer is near. <sup>33</sup>In the same way, when you see all these things happening, you will know that the time is near, ready to come. <sup>34</sup>I tell you the truth, all these things will happen while the people of this time are still living. <sup>35</sup>Earth and sky will be destroyed, but the words I have said will never be destroyed.

When Will Jesus Come Again?

<sup>36</sup>“No one knows when that day or time will be, not the angels in heaven, not even the Son. Only the Father knows. <sup>37</sup>When the Son of Man comes, it will be like what happened during Noah’s time. <sup>38</sup>In those days before the flood, people were eating and drinking, marrying and giving their children to be married, until the day Noah entered the boat. <sup>39</sup>They knew nothing about what was happening until the flood came and destroyed them. It will be the same when the Son of Man comes. <sup>40</sup>Two men will be in the field. One will be taken, and the other will be left. <sup>41</sup>Two women will be grinding grain with a mill. One will be taken, and the other will be left.

<sup>42</sup>“So always be ready, because you don’t know the day your Lord will come. <sup>43</sup>Remember this: If the owner of the house knew what time of night a thief was coming, the owner would watch and not let the thief break in. <sup>44</sup>So you also must be ready, because the Son of Man will come at a time you don’t expect him.

<sup>45</sup>“Who is the wise and loyal servant that the master trusts to give the other servants their food at the right time? <sup>46</sup>When the master comes and finds the servant doing his work, the servant will be blessed. <sup>47</sup>I tell you the truth, the master will choose that servant to take care of everything he owns. <sup>48</sup>But suppose that evil servant thinks to himself, ‘My master will not come back soon,’ <sup>49</sup>and he begins to beat the other servants and eat and get drunk with others like him? <sup>50</sup>The master will come when that servant is not ready and is not expecting him. <sup>51</sup>Then the master will cut him in pieces and send him away to be with the hypocrites, where people will cry and grind their teeth with pain.

Life Lessons

Matthew 25:1–46

Situation

Jesus used parables to teach his disciples to be ready for his return.

Observation

Jesus wants his followers to be busy in service and in sharing the good news right up until the day of his return. Watchfulness and active service go hand in hand.

Inspiration

I don't have to be afraid of Judgment Day because all my sins are forgiven and forgotten. They are blotted out and remembered no more... All the things in my life that are rotten and filthy, and all the things that are so shameful that I have never dared to share them with anyone, will be erased from my records. In place of all that garbage will be recorded all the magnificent things that Jesus did...

The joy that comes from thinking about glory is a joy available to all who have surrendered their lives to Christ. All they have to do is just stop and reflect on it all from time to time. (From Who Switched the Price Tags? by Tony Campolo)

Application

Do you know the joy of being forgiven? If not, come to Jesus and lay your past as well as your future in his hands. Take comfort in knowing that no matter what the circumstances, Christ remains within you.

A Story About Ten Bridesmaids

“At that time the kingdom of heaven will be like ten bridesmaids who took their lamps and went to wait for the bridegroom. <sup>2</sup>Five of them were foolish and five were wise. <sup>3</sup>The five foolish bridesmaids took their lamps, but they did not take more oil for the lamps to burn. <sup>4</sup>The wise bridesmaids took their lamps and more oil in jars. <sup>5</sup>Because the bridegroom was late, they became sleepy and went to sleep.

<sup>10</sup>“So while the five foolish bridesmaids went to buy oil, the bridegroom came. The bridesmaids who were ready went in with the bridegroom to the wedding feast. Then the door was closed and locked.

<sup>11</sup>“Later the others came back and said, ‘Sir, sir, open the door to let us in.’ <sup>12</sup>But the bridegroom answered, ‘I tell you the truth, I don’t want to know you.’

<sup>13</sup>“So always be ready, because you don’t know the day or the hour the Son of Man will come.

A Story About Three Servants

<sup>14</sup>“The kingdom of heaven is like a man who was going to another place for a visit. Before he left, he called for his servants and told them to take care of his things while he was gone. <sup>15</sup>He gave one servant five bags of gold, another servant two bags of gold, and a third servant one bag of gold, to each one as much as he could handle. Then he left. <sup>16</sup>The servant who got five bags went quickly to invest the money and earned five more bags. <sup>17</sup>In the same way, the servant who had two bags invested them and earned two more. <sup>18</sup>But the servant who got one bag went out and dug a hole in the ground and hid the master’s money.

<sup>19</sup>“After a long time the master came home and asked the servants what they did with his money. <sup>20</sup>The servant who was given five bags of gold brought five more bags to the master and said, ‘Master, you trusted me to care for five bags of gold, so I used your five bags to earn five more.’ <sup>21</sup>The master answered, ‘You did well. You are a good and loyal servant. Because you were loyal with small things, I will let you care for much greater things. Come and share my joy with me.’

<sup>22</sup>“Then the servant who had been given two bags of gold came to the master and said, ‘Master, you gave me two bags of gold to care for, so I used your two bags to earn two more.’ <sup>23</sup>The master answered, ‘You did well. You are a good and loyal servant. Because you were loyal with small things, I will let you care for much greater things. Come and share my joy with me.’

<sup>24</sup>“Then the servant who had been given one bag of gold came to the master and said, ‘Master, I knew that you were a hard man. You harvest things you did not plant. You gather crops where you did not sow any seed. <sup>25</sup>So I was afraid and went and hid your money in the ground. Here is your bag of gold.’ <sup>26</sup>The master answered, ‘You are a wicked and lazy servant! You say you knew that I harvest things I did not plant and that I gather crops where I did not sow any seed. <sup>27</sup>So you should have put my gold in the bank. Then, when I came home, I would have received my gold back with interest.’

<sup>28</sup>“So the master told his other servants, ‘Take the bag of gold from that servant and give it to the servant who has ten bags of gold. <sup>29</sup>Those who have much will get more, and they will have much more than they need. But those who do not have much will have everything taken away from them.’ <sup>30</sup>Then the master said, ‘Throw that useless servant outside, into the darkness where people will cry and grind their teeth with pain.’

The King Will Judge All People

<sup>31</sup>“The Son of Man will come again in his great glory, with all his angels. He will be King and sit on his great throne. <sup>32</sup>All the nations of the world will be gathered before him, and he will separate them into two groups as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. <sup>33</sup>The Son of Man will put the sheep on his right and the goats on his left.

<sup>34</sup>“Then the King will say to the people on his right, ‘Come, my Father has given you his blessing. Receive the kingdom God has prepared for you since the world was made. <sup>35</sup>I was hungry, and you gave me food. I was thirsty, and you gave me something to drink. I was alone and away from home, and you invited me into your house. <sup>36</sup>I was without clothes, and you gave me something to wear. I was sick, and you cared for me. I was in prison, and you visited me.’

<sup>37</sup>“Then the good people will answer, ‘Lord, when did we see you hungry and give you food, or thirsty and give you something to drink? <sup>38</sup>When did we see you alone and away from home and invite you into our house? When did we see you without clothes and give you something to wear? <sup>39</sup>When did we see you sick or in prison and care for you?’

<sup>40</sup>“Then the King will answer, ‘I tell you the truth, anything you did for even the least of my people here, you also did for me.’

<sup>41</sup>“Then the King will say to those on his left, ‘Go away from me. You will be punished. Go into the fire that burns forever that was prepared for the devil and his angels. <sup>42</sup>I was hungry, and you gave me nothing to eat. I was thirsty, and you gave me nothing to drink. <sup>43</sup>I was alone and away from home, and you did not invite me into your house. I was without clothes, and you gave me nothing to wear. I was sick and in prison, and you did not care for me.’

<sup>44</sup>“Then those people will answer, ‘Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty or alone and away from home or without clothes or sick or in prison? When did we see these things and not help you?’

<sup>45</sup>“Then the King will answer, ‘I tell you the truth, anything you refused to do for even the least of my people here, you refused to do for me.’

<sup>46</sup>“These people will go off to be punished forever, but the good people will go to live forever.”

Life Lessons

Matthew 26:1-75

Situation

Jesus looked toward the Passover and his death. He prepared his disciples by teaching them and spending time alone in prayer.

Observation

Jesus willingly obeyed God during the events leading up to his death. This obedience made salvation possible.

Inspiration

Consider the holiness of Christ. We need this first of all to be firmly grounded in our security in Christ. ... It is important therefore that we understand the righteousness of Christ, and the fact that His righteousness is credited to us.

On numerous occasions the Scriptures testify that Jesus during His time on earth lived a perfectly holy life...

But the holiness of Jesus was more than simply the absence of actual sin. It was also a perfect conformity to the will of His Father...

It is possible to do the right action from the wrong motive, but this does not please God. Holiness has to do with more than mere acts. Our motives must be holy, that is, arising from a desire to do something simply because it is the will of God...

Consider the holiness of Christ, because His life is meant to be an example of holiness for us...

Consider then His statement, “I always do what pleases Him.” Do we dare take that as our personal goal in life? Are we truly willing to scrutinize all our activities, our goals and plans, and all of our impulsive actions in the light of this statement: “I am doing this to please God”? ...

This is the example we are to follow. In all of our thoughts, all of our actions, in every part of our character, the ruling principle that motivates and guides us should be the desire to follow Christ in doing the will of the Father. This is the high road we must follow in the pursuit of holiness. (From The Pursuit of Holiness by Jerry Bridges)

Application

Do you really want to follow Christ’s example by doing the will of the Father? Are you ready and willing to submit your plans, thoughts, and behavior to him? If submitting is difficult for you in a particular area, pray specifically that God will help you.

Exploration

The Plan to Kill Jesus

After Jesus finished saying all these things, he told his followers,<sup>2</sup>“You know that the day after tomorrow is the day of the Passover Feast. On that day the Son of Man will be given to his enemies to be crucified.”

<sup>3</sup>Then the leading priests and the older leaders had a meeting at the palace of the high priest, named Caiaphas. <sup>4</sup>At the meeting, they planned to set a trap to arrest Jesus and kill him. <sup>5</sup>But they said, “We must not do it during the feast, because the people might cause a riot.”

Perfume for Jesus' Burial

<sup>6</sup>Jesus was in Bethany at the house of Simon, who had a skin disease. <sup>7</sup>While Jesus was there, a woman approached him with an alabaster jar filled with expensive perfume. She poured this perfume on Jesus' head while he was eating.

<sup>8</sup>His followers were upset when they saw the woman do this. They asked, “Why waste that perfume?” <sup>9</sup>It could have been sold for a great deal of money and the money given to the poor.”

<sup>10</sup>Knowing what had happened, Jesus said, “Why are you troubling this woman? She did an excellent thing for me. <sup>11</sup>You will always have the poor with you, but you will not always have me. <sup>12</sup>This woman poured perfume on my body to prepare me for burial. <sup>13</sup>I tell you the truth, wherever the Good News is preached in all the world, what this woman has done will be told, and people will remember her.”

Judas Becomes an Enemy of Jesus

<sup>14</sup>Then one of the twelve apostles, Judas Iscariot, went to talk to the leading priests. <sup>15</sup>He said, “What will you pay me for giving Jesus to you?” And they gave him thirty silver coins. <sup>16</sup>After that, Judas watched for the best time to turn Jesus in.

Jesus Eats the Passover Meal

<sup>17</sup>On the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, the followers came to Jesus. They said, “Where do you want us to prepare for you to eat the Passover meal?”

<sup>18</sup>Jesus answered, “Go into the city to a certain man and tell him, ‘The Teacher says: The chosen time is near. I will have the Passover with my followers at your house.’” <sup>19</sup>The followers did what Jesus told them to do, and they prepared the Passover meal.

<sup>20</sup>In the evening Jesus was sitting at the table with his twelve followers. <sup>21</sup>As they were eating, Jesus said, “I tell you the truth, one of you will turn against me.”

<sup>22</sup>This made the followers very sad. Each one began to say to Jesus, “Surely, Lord, I am not the one who will turn against you, am I?”

<sup>23</sup>Jesus answered, “The man who has dipped his hand with me into the bowl is the one who will turn against me. <sup>24</sup>The Son of Man will die, just as the Scriptures say. But how terrible it will be for the person who hands the Son of Man over to be killed. It would be better for him if he had never been born.”

<sup>25</sup>Then Judas, who would give Jesus to his enemies, said to Jesus, “Teacher, surely I am not the one, am I?”

Jesus answered, “Yes, it is you.”

The Lord’s Supper

<sup>27</sup>Then Jesus took a cup and thanked God for it and gave it to the followers. He said, “Every one of you drink this. <sup>28</sup>This is my blood which is the new agreement that God makes with his people. This blood is poured out for many to forgive their sins. <sup>29</sup>I tell you this: I will not drink of this fruit of the vine again until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father’s kingdom.”

Jesus’ Followers Will Leave Him

<sup>31</sup>Jesus told his followers, “Tonight you will all stumble in your faith on account of me, because it is written in the Scriptures:

‘I will kill the shepherd,
and the sheep will scatter.’

Zechariah 13:7

<sup>32</sup>But after I rise from the dead, I will go ahead of you into Galilee.”

<sup>33</sup>Peter said, “Everyone else may stumble in their faith because of you, but I will not.”

<sup>34</sup>Jesus said, “I tell you the truth, tonight before the rooster crows you will say three times that you don’t know me.”

<sup>35</sup>But Peter said, “I will never say that I don’t know you! I will even die with you!” And all the other followers said the same thing.

Jesus Prays Alone

<sup>36</sup>Then Jesus went with his followers to a place called Gethsemane. He said to them, “Sit here while I go over there and pray.” <sup>37</sup>He took Peter and the two sons of Zebedee with him, and he began to be very sad and troubled. <sup>38</sup>He said to them, “My heart is full of sorrow, to the point of death. Stay here and watch with me.”

<sup>39</sup>After walking a little farther away from them, Jesus fell to the ground and prayed, “My Father, if it is possible, do not give me this cup of suffering. But do what you want, not what I want.” <sup>40</sup>Then Jesus went back to his followers and found them asleep. He said to Peter, “You men could not stay awake with me for one hour? <sup>41</sup>Stay awake and pray for strength against temptation. The spirit wants to do what is right, but the body is weak.”

<sup>42</sup>Then Jesus went away a second time and prayed, “My Father, if it is not possible for this painful thing to be taken from me, and if I must do it, I pray that what you want will be done.”

<sup>43</sup>Then he went back to his followers, and again he found them asleep, because their eyes were heavy. <sup>44</sup>So Jesus left them and went away and prayed a third time, saying the same thing.

<sup>45</sup>Then Jesus went back to his followers and said, “Are you still sleeping and resting? The time has come for the Son of Man to be handed over to sinful people. <sup>46</sup>Get up, we must go. Look, here comes the man who has turned against me.”

Jesus Is Arrested

<sup>47</sup>While Jesus was still speaking, Judas, one of the twelve apostles, came up. With him were many people carrying swords and clubs who had been sent from the leading priests and the older Jewish leaders of the people. <sup>48</sup>Judas had planned to give them a signal, saying, “The man I kiss is Jesus. Arrest him.” <sup>49</sup>At once Judas went to Jesus and said, “Greetings, Teacher!” and kissed him.

Then the people came and grabbed Jesus and arrested him. <sup>51</sup>When that happened, one of Jesus’ followers reached for his sword and pulled it out. He struck the servant of the high priest and cut off his ear.

All who use swords will be killed with swords.<sup>53</sup> Surely you know I could ask my Father, and he would give me more than twelve armies of angels.<sup>54</sup> But it must happen this way to bring about what the Scriptures say.”

<sup>55</sup>Then Jesus said to the crowd, “You came to get me with swords and clubs as if I were a criminal. Every day I sat in the Temple teaching, and you did not arrest me there.<sup>56</sup> But all these things have happened so that it will come about as the prophets wrote.” Then all of Jesus’ followers left him and ran away.

Jesus Before the Leaders

<sup>57</sup>Those people who arrested Jesus led him to the house of Caiaphas, the high priest, where the teachers of the law and the older leaders were gathered.<sup>58</sup> Peter followed far behind to the courtyard of the high priest’s house, and he sat down with the guards to see what would happen to Jesus.

<sup>59</sup>The leading priests and the whole Jewish council tried to find something false against Jesus so they could kill him.<sup>60</sup> Many people came and told lies about him, but the council could find no real reason to kill him. Then two people came and said, <sup>61</sup>“This man said, ‘I can destroy the Temple of God and build it again in three days.’”

<sup>62</sup>Then the high priest stood up and said to Jesus, “Aren’t you going to answer? Don’t you have something to say about their charges against you?” <sup>63</sup>But Jesus said nothing.

Again the high priest said to Jesus, “I command you by the power of the living God: Tell us if you are the Christ, the Son of God.”

<sup>64</sup>Jesus answered, “Those are your words. But I tell you, in the future you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of God, the Powerful One, and coming on clouds in the sky.”

<sup>65</sup>When the high priest heard this, he tore his clothes and said, “This man has said things that are against God! We don’t need any more witnesses; you all heard him say these things against God. <sup>66</sup>What do you think?”

The people answered, “He should die.”

<sup>67</sup>Then the people there spat in Jesus’ face and beat him with their fists. Others slapped him. <sup>68</sup>They said, “Prove to us that you are a prophet, you Christ! Tell us who hit you!”

Peter Says He Doesn’t Know Jesus

<sup>69</sup>At that time, as Peter was sitting in the courtyard, a servant girl came to him and said, “You also were with Jesus of Galilee.”

<sup>70</sup>But Peter said to all the people there that he was never with Jesus. He said, “I don’t know what you are talking about.”

<sup>71</sup>When he left the courtyard and was at the gate, another girl saw him. She said to the people there, “This man was with Jesus of Nazareth.”

<sup>72</sup>Again, Peter said he was never with him, saying, “I swear I don’t know this man Jesus!”

<sup>73</sup>A short time later, some people standing there went to Peter and said, “Surely you are one of those who followed Jesus. The way you talk shows it.”

<sup>74</sup>Then Peter began to place a curse on himself and swear, “I don’t know the man.” At once, a rooster crowed. <sup>75</sup>And Peter remembered what Jesus had told him: “Before the rooster crows, you will say three times that you don't know me." Then Peter went outside and cried painfully.

Life Lessons

Matthew 27:1–66

Situation

The Jewish leaders decided that Jesus must die. Because they were not allowed to execute anyone, they turned him over to the Romans. Jesus appeared before Pontius Pilate (governor of Samaria and Judea from A.D. 26 to 36) prior to his crucifixion.

Observation

Jewish leaders refused to believe Jesus was the Messiah and insisted that Pilate execute him. Yet Jesus died for their sins, and ours, too.

Inspiration

Six hours. One Friday.

Let me ask you a question: What do you do with that day in history? What do you do with its claims?

If it really happened ... if God did commandeer his own crucifixion ... if he did turn his back on his own son ... if he did storm Satan's gate, then those six hours that Friday were packed with tragic triumph. If that was God on that cross, then the hill called Skull is a granite studded with stakes to which you can anchor.

Those six hours were no normal six hours. They were the most critical hours in history. For during those six hours on that Friday, God embedded in the earth three anchor points sturdy enough to withstand any hurricane.

Anchor point #1—My life is not futile. This rock secures the hull of your heart. Its sole function is to give you something which you can grip when facing the surging tides of futility and relativism... . Someone is in control and I have a purpose.

Anchor point #2—My failures are not fatal. It's not that he loves what you did, but he loves who you are... . The one who has the right to condemn you has provided the way to acquit you. You make mistakes. God doesn't. And he made you.

Anchor point #3—My death is not final. There is one more stone to which you should tie... . It blocked the door of a grave. It wasn't big enough, though... . He only went in to prove he could come out. And on the way out he took the stone with him and turned it into an anchor point... . Tie it to his rock and the typhoon of the tomb becomes a spring breeze on Easter Sunday.

There they are. Three anchor points. The anchor points of the cross. (From Six Hours One Friday by Max Lucado)

Some people would rather see Jesus dead than controlling their lives. What room in the castle of your life (career, family, church) needs to be placed under Christ's control? Don't hesitate a day. Pray now. Give your life fully to him.

Jesus Is Taken to Pilate

Early the next morning, all the leading priests and older leaders of the people decided that Jesus should die. <sup>2</sup>They tied him, led him away, and turned him over to Pilate, the governor.

Judas Kills Himself

<sup>3</sup>Judas, the one who had given Jesus to his enemies, saw that they had decided to kill Jesus. Then he was very sorry for what he had done. So he took the thirty silver coins back to the priests and the leaders, <sup>4</sup>saying, “I sinned; I handed over to you an innocent man.”

The leaders answered, “What is that to us? That’s your problem, not ours.”

<sup>5</sup>So Judas threw the money into the Temple. Then he went off and hanged himself.

<sup>6</sup>The leading priests picked up the silver coins in the Temple and said, “Our law does not allow us to keep this money with the Temple money, because it has paid for a man’s death.” <sup>7</sup>So they decided to use the coins to buy Potter’s Field as a place to bury strangers who died in Jerusalem. <sup>8</sup>That is why that field is still called the Field of Blood. <sup>9</sup>So what Jeremiah the prophet had said came true: “They took thirty silver coins. That is how little the Israelites thought he was worth. 10They used those thirty silver coins to buy the potter's field, as the Lord commanded me."

Pilate Questions Jesus

<sup>11</sup>Jesus stood before Pilate the governor, and Pilate asked him, "Are you the king of the Jews?"

Jesus answered, "Those are your words."

<sup>12</sup>When the leading priests and the older leaders accused Jesus, he said nothing.

<sup>13</sup>So Pilate said to Jesus, "Don't you hear them accusing you of all these things?"

<sup>14</sup>But Jesus said nothing in answer to Pilate, and Pilate was very surprised at this.

Pilate Tries to Free Jesus

<sup>15</sup>Every year at the time of Passover the governor would free one prisoner whom the people chose. <sup>16</sup>At that time there was a man in prison, named Barabbas, who was known to be very bad. <sup>17</sup>When the people gathered at Pilate's house, Pilate said, "Whom do you want me to set free: Barabbas or Jesus who is called the Christ?" <sup>18</sup>Pilate knew that the people turned Jesus in to him because they were jealous.

<sup>19</sup>While Pilate was sitting there on the judge's seat, his wife sent this message to him: "Don't do anything to that man, because he is innocent. Today I had a dream about him, and it troubled me very much."

<sup>20</sup>But the leading priests and older leaders convinced the crowd to ask for Barabbas to be freed and for Jesus to be killed.

<sup>21</sup>Pilate said, “I have Barabbas and Jesus. Which do you want me to set free for you?”

The people answered, “Barabbas.”

<sup>22</sup>Pilate asked, “So what should I do with Jesus, the one called the Christ?”

They all answered, “Crucify him!”

<sup>23</sup>Pilate asked, “Why? What wrong has he done?”

But they shouted louder, “Crucify him!”

<sup>24</sup>When Pilate saw that he could do nothing about this and that a riot was starting, he took some water and washed his hands in front of the crowd. Then he said, “I am not guilty of this man’s death. You are the ones who are causing it!”

<sup>25</sup>All the people answered, “We and our children will be responsible for his death.”

<sup>26</sup>Then he set Barabbas free. But Jesus was beaten with whips and handed over to the soldiers to be crucified.

Jesus Is Crucified

<sup>32</sup>As the soldiers were going out of the city with Jesus, they forced a man from Cyrene, named Simon, to carry the cross for Jesus. <sup>33</sup>They all came to the place called Golgotha, which means the Place of the Skull. <sup>34</sup>The soldiers gave Jesus wine mixed with gall to drink. He tasted the wine but refused to drink it. <sup>35</sup>When the soldiers had crucified him, they threw lots to decide who would get his clothes. <sup>36</sup>The soldiers sat there and continued watching him. <sup>37</sup>They put a sign above Jesus' head with a charge against him. It said: THIS IS JESUS, THE KING OF THE JEWS. <sup>38</sup>Two robbers were crucified beside Jesus, one on the right and the other on the left. <sup>39</sup>People walked by and insulted Jesus and shook their heads, <sup>40</sup>saying, "You said you could destroy the Temple and build it again in three days. So save yourself! Come down from that cross if you are really the Son of God!"

<sup>41</sup>The leading priests, the teachers of the law, and the older Jewish leaders were also making fun of Jesus. <sup>42</sup>They said, "He saved others, but he can't save himself! He says he is the king of Israel! If he is the king, let him come down now from the cross. Then we will believe in him. <sup>43</sup>He trusts in God, so let God save him now, if God really wants him. He himself said, 'I am the Son of God.'" <sup>44</sup>And in the same way, the robbers who were being crucified beside Jesus also insulted him.

Jesus Dies

<sup>45</sup>At noon the whole country became dark, and the darkness lasted for three hours. <sup>46</sup>About three o'clock Jesus cried out in a loud voice, "Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani?" This means, "My God, my God, why have you rejected me?"

<sup>47</sup>Some of the people standing there who heard this said, “He is calling Elijah.”

<sup>48</sup>Quickly one of them ran and got a sponge and filled it with vinegar and tied it to a stick and gave it to Jesus to drink. <sup>49</sup>But the others said, “Don’t bother him. We want to see if Elijah will come to save him.”

<sup>51</sup>Then the curtain in the Temple was torn into two pieces, from the top to the bottom. Also, the earth shook and rocks broke apart. <sup>52</sup>The graves opened, and many of God’s people who had died were raised from the dead. <sup>53</sup>They came out of the graves after Jesus was raised from the dead and went into the holy city, where they appeared to many people.

<sup>54</sup>When the army officer and the soldiers guarding Jesus saw this earthquake and everything else that happened, they were very frightened and said, “He really was the Son of God!”

<sup>55</sup>Many women who had followed Jesus from Galilee to help him were standing at a distance from the cross, watching. <sup>56</sup>Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joseph, and the mother of James and John were there.

Jesus Is Buried

<sup>57</sup>That evening a rich man named Joseph, a follower of Jesus from the town of Arimathea, came to Jerusalem. <sup>58</sup>Joseph went to Pilate and asked to have Jesus’ body. So Pilate gave orders for the soldiers to give it to Joseph. <sup>59</sup>Then Joseph took the body and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth. <sup>60</sup>He put Jesus’ body in a new tomb that he had cut out of a wall of rock, and he rolled a very large stone to block the entrance of the tomb.

Then Joseph went away. <sup>61</sup>Mary Magdalene and the other woman named Mary were sitting near the tomb.

The Tomb of Jesus Is Guarded

<sup>62</sup>The next day, the day after Preparation Day, the leading priests and the Pharisees went to Pilate. <sup>63</sup>They said, “Sir, we remember that while that liar was still alive he said, ‘After three days I will rise from the dead.’ <sup>64</sup>So give the order for the tomb to be guarded closely till the third day. Otherwise, his followers might come and steal the body and tell people that he has risen from the dead. That lie would be even worse than the first one.”

<sup>65</sup>Pilate said, “Take some soldiers and go guard the tomb the best way you know.” <sup>66</sup>So they all went to the tomb and made it safe from thieves by sealing the stone in the entrance and putting soldiers there to guard it.

Life Lessons

Matthew 28:1-20

Situation

When Jesus rose from the dead, he conquered sin and death. Mary Magdalene and another Mary were the first to see the empty tomb and the risen Savior.

Observation

Jesus' resurrection proved that what he had taught was correct. He used his ultimate authority when he gave the Great Commission, but showed his unlimited power by promising to be with his followers forever.

Inspiration

Mary and Mary knew a task had to be done—Jesus' body had to be prepared for burial. Peter didn't offer to do it. Andrew didn't volunteer. The forgiven adulteress or healed lepers are nowhere to be seen. So the two Marys decide to do it.

I wonder if halfway to the tomb they had sat down and reconsidered. What if they'd looked at each other and shrugged, "What's the use?" What if they had given up? What if one had thrown up her arms in frustration and bemoaned, "I'm tired of being the only one who cares. Let Andrew do something for a change. Let Nathaniel show some leadership"?

Whether or not they were tempted to, I'm glad they didn't quit. That would have been tragic. You see, we know something they didn't. We know the Father was watching. Mary and Mary thought they were alone. They weren't. They thought their journey was unnoticed. They were wrong. God knew. He was watching them walk up the mountain. He was measuring their steps. He was smiling at their hearts and thrilled at their devotion. And he had a surprise waiting for them...

Why did the angel move the stone? For whom did he roll away the rock?

For Jesus? That's what I always thought. I just assumed that the angel moved the stone so Jesus could come out. But think about it. Did the stone have to be removed in order for Jesus to exit? Did God have to have help? Was the death conqueror so weak that he couldn't push away a rock? ("Hey, could somebody out there move this rock so I can get out?")

I don't think so. The text gives the impression that Jesus was already out when the stone was moved! Nowhere do the Gospels say that the angel moved the stone for Jesus. For whom, then was the stone moved?

Listen to what the angel says: "Come and see the place where his body was" (v. 6).

The stone was moved—not for Jesus—but for the women; not so Jesus could come out, but so the women could see in! ...

"Go quickly and tell his followers, 'Jesus has risen from the dead. He is going into Galilee ahead of you, and you will see him there'" (v. 7).

Mary and Mary don't have to be told twice. They turn and start running to Jerusalem. The darkness is gone. The sun is up. The Son is out. But the Son isn't finished.

One surprise still awaits them.

“Suddenly, Jesus met them and said, ‘Greetings.’ The women came up to him, took hold of his feet, and worshiped him. Then Jesus said to them, ‘Don’t be afraid. Go and tell my followers to go on to Galilee, and they will see me there’” (vv. 9–10).

The God of surprises strikes again. It’s as if he said, “I can’t wait any longer. They came this far to see me; I’m going to drop in on them.”

God does that for the faithful. Just when the womb gets too old for babies, Sarai gets pregnant. Just when the failure is too great for grace, David is pardoned. And just when the road is too dark for Mary and Mary, the angel glows and the Savior shows and the two women will never be the same.

The lesson? Three words. Don’t give up.

Is the trail dark? Don’t sit.

Is the road long? Don’t stop ...

Is the night black? Don’t quit.

God is watching. For all you know right at this moment he may be telling the angel to move the stone.

The check may be in the mail...

The apology may be in the making.

The job contract may be on the desk.

Don’t quit. For if you do, you may miss the answer to your prayers.

God still sends angels. And God still moves stones. (From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

Jesus Rises from the Dead

The day after the Sabbath day was the first day of the week. At dawn on the first day, Mary Magdalene and another woman named Mary went to look at the tomb.

<sup>2</sup>At that time there was a strong earthquake. An angel of the Lord came down from heaven, went to the tomb, and rolled the stone away from the entrance. Then he sat on the stone. <sup>3</sup>He was shining as bright as lightning, and his clothes were white as snow. <sup>4</sup>The soldiers guarding the tomb shook with fear because of the angel, and they became like dead men.

<sup>5</sup>The angel said to the women, “Don’t be afraid. I know that you are looking for Jesus, who has been crucified. <sup>6</sup>He is not here. He has risen from the dead as he said he would. Come and see the place where his body was. <sup>7</sup>And go quickly and tell his followers, ‘Jesus has risen from the dead. He is going into Galilee ahead of you, and you will see him there.’” Then the angel said, “Now I have told you.”

<sup>8</sup>The women left the tomb quickly. They were afraid, but they were also very happy. They ran to tell Jesus’ followers what had happened. <sup>9</sup>Suddenly, Jesus met them and said, “Greetings.” The women came up to him, took hold of his feet, and worshiped him. <sup>10</sup>Then Jesus said to them, “Don’t be afraid. Go and tell my followers to go on to Galilee, and they will see me there.”

The Soldiers Report to the Leaders

<sup>11</sup>While the women went to tell Jesus' followers, some of the soldiers who had been guarding the tomb went into the city to tell the leading priests everything that had happened. <sup>12</sup>Then the priests met with the older leaders and made a plan. They paid the soldiers a large amount of money <sup>13</sup>and said to them, "Tell the people that Jesus' followers came during the night and stole the body while you were asleep. <sup>14</sup>If the governor hears about this, we will satisfy him and save you from trouble." <sup>15</sup>So the soldiers kept the money and did as they were told. And that story is still spread among the people even today.

Jesus Talks to His Followers

<sup>16</sup>The eleven followers went to Galilee to the mountain where Jesus had told them to go. <sup>17</sup>On the mountain they saw Jesus and worshiped him, but some of them did not believe it was really Jesus. <sup>18</sup>Then Jesus came to them and said, "All power in heaven and on earth is given to me. <sup>19</sup>So go and make followers of all people in the world. Baptize them in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit. <sup>20</sup>Teach them to obey everything that I have taught you, and I will be with you always, even until the end of this age."

The Book of Mark

Introduction

The drama of Mark's Gospel peaks in Caesarea Philippi.

It's a religious mecca. Every major religion can be found here. Temples dot the landscape. Priests stride the streets.

Jesus and his followers are here? Why? If Jesus preached a sermon, it's not recorded. If he performed a miracle, we don't know it. As far as we know, all he did was ask two questions.

The first, "Who do people say that I am?"

The disciples are quick to respond. They've overheard the chatter. "Some say you are John the Baptist. Others say you are Elijah, and others say you are one of the prophets."

Good answers. True answers. But wrong answers.

Jesus then turns and asks them the question. The question. "But who do you say I am?"

He doesn't ask, "What do you think about what I've done." He asks, "Who do you say I am?"

He doesn't ask, "Who did you think I was when the crowds were great and the miracles were many?" He asks, "Who do you think I am? Here against the backdrop of religion. Me, a penniless itinerant surrounded by affluent temples. Who do you say I am?"

He doesn't ask, "Who do your friends think ... Who do your parents think ... Who do your peers think?" He poses instead a starkly personal query, "Who do you think I am?"

The disciples aren't as quick to respond. One ducks his eyes. Another shuffles his feet. A third clears his throat. But Peter lifts his head. He lifts his head and looks at the Nazarene and speaks the words heaven has longed to hear. "You are the Christ."

You have been asked some important questions in your life:
Will you marry me?

Would you be interested in a transfer?

What would you think if I told you I was pregnant?

You've been asked some important questions. But the grandest of them is an anthill compared to the Everest found in the eighth chapter of Mark.

Who do you say I am?

Life Lessons

Mark 1:1–45

Situation

Persecution and martyrdom in Rome created a dangerous environment for Christians. Mark wrote this Gospel to the Christians in Rome to encourage and strengthen their faith. He recorded Christ's baptism, temptation, and the beginning of his ministry with his disciples.

Observation

Jesus came to be active and compassionate to the people around him. He exemplified tenderness when he healed the leper by touching him.

Inspiration

Jesus was a master at communicating love and personal acceptance. He did so when He blessed and held ... little children. But another time His sensitivity to touch someone was even more graphic. This was when Jesus met a grown man's need for meaningful touch, a man who was barred by law from ever touching anyone again....

To touch a leper was unthinkable. Banishing lepers from society, people would not get within a stone's throw of them. (In fact, they would throw stones at them if they did come close!) ... With their open sores and dirty bandages, lepers were the last persons anyone would want to touch. Yet the first thing Christ did for this man was touch him.

Even before Jesus spoke to him, He reached out

His hand and touched him. Can you imagine what that scene must have looked like? Think how this man must have longed for someone to touch him, not throw stones at him to drive him away. Jesus could have healed him first and then touched him. But recognizing his deepest need, Jesus stretched out His hand even before He spoke words of physical and spiritual healing.

(From The Gift of the Blessing by Gary Smalley and John Trent)

Application

Jesus shows us the power of gentle compassion. Who do you have trouble “touching” because they are not attractive in any way? Compassion requires more than words; compassion requires action. Look for ways to express compassion to those who are starving for a tender touch.

Exploration

Jesus’ Compassion—Matthew 8:3, 15; 9:36; 14:14; 15:32; 17:7; 20:34; 23:37; Mark 10:13–16; Luke 7:13; 22:51; John 11:35.

John Prepares for Jesus

This is the beginning of the Good News about Jesus Christ, the Son of God,<sup>2</sup> as the prophet Isaiah wrote:

“I will send my messenger ahead of you,
who will prepare your way.”

Malachi 3:1

<sup>3</sup>“This is a voice of one who calls out in the desert:
‘Prepare the way for the Lord.
Make the road straight for him.’”

Isaiah 40:3

<sup>4</sup>John was baptizing people in the desert and preaching a baptism of changed hearts and lives for the forgiveness of sins. <sup>5</sup>All the people from Judea and Jerusalem were going out to him. They confessed their sins and were baptized by him in the Jordan River. <sup>6</sup>John wore clothes made from camel’s hair, had a leather belt around his waist, and ate locusts and wild honey. <sup>7</sup>This is what John preached to the people: “There is one coming after me who is greater than I; I am not good enough even to kneel down and untie his sandals. <sup>8</sup>I baptize you with water, but he will baptize you with the Holy Spirit.”

Jesus Is Baptized

<sup>9</sup>At that time Jesus came from the town of Nazareth in Galilee and was baptized by John in the Jordan River. <sup>10</sup>Immediately, as Jesus was coming up out of the water, he saw heaven open. The Holy Spirit came down on him like a dove, <sup>11</sup>and a voice came from heaven: “You are my Son, whom I love, and I am very pleased with you.”

<sup>12</sup>Then the Spirit sent Jesus into the desert. <sup>13</sup>He was in the desert forty days and was tempted by Satan. He was with the wild animals, and the angels came and took care of him.

Jesus Chooses Some Followers

<sup>14</sup>After John was put in prison, Jesus went into Galilee, preaching the Good News from God. <sup>15</sup>He said, “The right time has come. The kingdom of God is near. Change your hearts and lives and believe the Good News!”

<sup>16</sup>When Jesus was walking by Lake Galilee, he saw Simon and his brother Andrew throwing a net into the lake because they were fishermen. <sup>17</sup>Jesus said to them, “Come follow me, and I will make you fish for people.” <sup>18</sup>So Simon and Andrew immediately left their nets and followed him.

<sup>19</sup>Going a little farther, Jesus saw two more brothers, James and John, the sons of Zebedee. They were in a boat, mending their nets. <sup>20</sup>Jesus immediately called them, and they left their father in the boat with the hired workers and followed Jesus.

Jesus Forces Out an Evil Spirit

<sup>25</sup>Jesus commanded the evil spirit, “Be quiet! Come out of the man!” <sup>26</sup>The evil spirit shook the man violently, gave a loud cry, and then came out of him.

<sup>27</sup>The people were so amazed they asked each other, “What is happening here? This man is teaching something new, and with authority. He even gives commands to evil spirits, and they obey him.” <sup>28</sup>And the news about Jesus spread quickly everywhere in the area of Galilee.

Jesus Heals Many People

<sup>29</sup>As soon as Jesus and his followers left the synagogue, they went with James and John to the home of Simon and Andrew. <sup>30</sup>Simon’s mother-in-law was sick in bed with a fever, and the people told Jesus about her. <sup>31</sup>So Jesus went to her bed, took her hand, and helped her up. The fever left her, and she began serving them.

<sup>32</sup>That evening, after the sun went down, the people brought to Jesus all who were sick and had demons in them. <sup>33</sup>The whole town gathered at the door. <sup>34</sup>Jesus healed many who had different kinds of sicknesses, and he forced many demons to leave people. But he would not allow the demons to Speak, because they knew who he was.

<sup>35</sup>Early the next morning, while it was still dark, Jesus woke and left the house. He went to a lonely place, where he prayed.

<sup>36</sup>Simon and his friends went to look for Jesus. <sup>37</sup>When they found him, they said, “Everyone is looking for you!”

<sup>38</sup>Jesus answered, “We should go to other towns around here so I can preach there too. That is the reason I came.” <sup>39</sup>So he went everywhere in Galilee, preaching in the synagogues and forcing out demons.

Jesus Heals a Sick Man

<sup>40</sup>A man with a skin disease came to Jesus. He fell to his knees and begged Jesus, “You can heal me if you will.”

<sup>41</sup>Jesus felt sorry for the man, so he reached out his hand and touched him and said, “I will. Be healed!” <sup>42</sup>Immediately the disease left the man, and he was healed.

<sup>43</sup>Jesus told the man to go away at once, but he warned him strongly, <sup>44</sup>“Don’t tell anyone about this. But go and show yourself to the priest. And offer the gift Moses commanded for people who are made well. This will show the people what I have done.” <sup>45</sup>The man left there, but he began to tell everyone that Jesus had healed him, and so he spread the news about Jesus. As a result, Jesus could not enter a town if people saw him. He stayed in places where nobody lived, but people came to him from everywhere.

Life Lessons

Mark 2:1–28

Situation

Jesus' power over illness and evil spirits quickly became exciting news to the people around him. They came to him from everywhere, looking for help.

Observation

Jesus offers hope, healing, and new life to all who come to him in faith.

Inspiration

I'll never forget Steven. I met him in St. Louis. His twenty-three years had been hard on him, his arm scarred from the needle and his wrist scarred from the knife. His pride was his fist and his weakness was his girl... .

He wanted to change.

But his girlfriend would have none of it. Oh, she would listen politely and would be very sweet, but her heart was gripped by darkness. Any changes Steve made would be quickly muffled as she would craftily maneuver him back into his old habits. She was the last thing between him and the Kingdom. We begged him to leave her. He was trying to put new wine into an old wineskin.

He wrestled for days trying to decide what to do. Finally, he reached a conclusion. He couldn't leave her.

The last time I saw Steve he wept ... uncontrollably. I held big, tough, macho Steve in my arms. The prophecy of Jesus was true. By putting his new wine into an old skin, it was lost.

... No friendship or romance is worth your soul. Repentance means change. And change means purging your heart of anything that can't coexist with Christ.

You can't put new life into an old lifestyle. The inevitable tragedy occurs. The new life is lost. (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Jesus Heals a Paralyzed Man

A few days later, when Jesus came back to Capernaum, the news spread that he was at home.<sup>2</sup> Many people gathered together so that there was no room in the house, not even outside the door. And Jesus was teaching them God's message.<sup>3</sup> Four people came, carrying a paralyzed man.<sup>4</sup> Since they could not get to Jesus because of the crowd, they dug a hole in the roof right above where he was speaking. When they got through, they lowered the mat with the paralyzed man on it.<sup>5</sup> When Jesus saw the faith of these people, he said to the paralyzed man, "Young man, your sins are forgiven."

<sup>6</sup>Some of the teachers of the law were sitting there, thinking to themselves,<sup>7</sup> "Why does this man say things like that? He is speaking as if he were God. Only God can forgive sins."

<sup>8</sup>Jesus knew immediately what these teachers of the law were thinking. So he said to them, "Why are you thinking these things?<sup>9</sup> Which is easier: to tell this paralyzed man, 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to tell him, 'Stand up. Take your mat and walk'?"<sup>10</sup> But I will prove to you that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins." So Jesus said to the paralyzed man,<sup>11</sup> "I tell you, stand up, take your mat, and go home."<sup>12</sup> Immediately the paralyzed man stood up, took his mat, and walked out while everyone was watching him.

The people were amazed and praised God. They said, "We have never seen anything like this!"

<sup>13</sup>Jesus went to the lake again. The whole crowd followed him there, and he taught them. <sup>14</sup>While he was walking along, he saw a man named Levi son of Alphaeus, sitting in the tax collector's booth. Jesus said to him, "Follow me," and he stood up and followed Jesus.

<sup>15</sup>Later, as Jesus was having dinner at Levi's house, many tax collectors and "sinners" were eating there with Jesus and his followers. Many people like this followed Jesus. <sup>16</sup>When the teachers of the law who were Pharisees saw Jesus eating with the tax collectors and "sinners," they asked his followers, "Why does he eat with tax collectors and sinners?"

<sup>17</sup>Jesus heard this and said to them, "It is not the healthy people who need a doctor, but the sick. I did not come to invite good people but to invite sinners."

Jesus' Followers Are Criticized

<sup>18</sup>Now the followers of John and the Pharisees often gave up eating for a certain time. Some people came to Jesus and said, "Why do John's followers and the followers of the Pharisees often give up eating, but your followers don't?"

<sup>19</sup>Jesus answered, "The friends of the bridegroom do not give up eating while the bridegroom is still with them. As long as the bridegroom is with them, they cannot give up eating. <sup>20</sup>But the time will come when the bridegroom will be taken from them, and then they will give up eating.

<sup>21</sup>"No one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth over a hole in an old coat. Otherwise, the patch will shrink and pull away—the new patch will pull away from the old coat. Then the hole will be worse. <sup>22</sup>Also, no one ever pours new wine into old leather bags. Otherwise, the new wine will break the bags, and the wine will be ruined along with the bags. But new wine should be put into new leather bags.”

Jesus Is Lord of the Sabbath

<sup>23</sup>One Sabbath day, as Jesus was walking through some fields of grain, his followers began to pick some grain to eat. <sup>24</sup>The Pharisees said to Jesus, “Why are your followers doing what is not lawful on the Sabbath day?”

<sup>25</sup>Jesus answered, “Have you never read what David did when he and those with him were hungry and needed food? <sup>26</sup>During the time of Abiathar the high priest, David went into God’s house and ate the holy bread, which is lawful only for priests to eat. And David also gave some of the bread to those who were with him.”

<sup>27</sup>Then Jesus said to the Pharisees, “The Sabbath day was made to help people; they were not made to be ruled by the Sabbath day. <sup>28</sup>So then, the Son of Man is Lord even of the Sabbath day.”

Life Lessons

Mark 3:1–35

Situation

Mark affirmed the spiritual authority and power present in Jesus' ministry. Jesus properly interpreted the Mosaic Law. His power was greater than evil spirits. This passage also revealed Jesus' ministry to call his spiritual brothers and sisters to do the will of God.

Observation

Jesus demonstrated remarkable patience. Though many questioned his authority, he patiently refuted them. When his immediate family thought that Jesus was a lunatic, he expanded the concept of his family to include the kinship of people who love God.

Inspiration

Can you still remember? Are you still in love with Him? ... Remember Jesus. Before you remember anything, remember Him. If you forget anything, don't forget Him.

Oh, but how quickly we forget. So much happens through the years. So many changes within. So many alterations without. And, somewhere, back there, we leave Him. We don't turn away from Him ... we just don't take Him with us. Assignments come. Promotions come. Budgets are made. Kids are born, and the Christ ... the Christ is forgotten.

Has it been a while since you stared at the heavens in speechless amazement? Has it been a while since you realized God's divinity and your carnality?

If it has, then you need to know something. He is still there. He hasn't left. Under all those papers and books and reports and years. In the midst of all those voices and faces and memories and pictures, He is still there.

Jesus Heals a Man's Hand

Another time when Jesus went into a synagogue, a man with a crippled hand was there. <sup>2</sup>Some people watched Jesus closely to see if he would heal the man on the Sabbath day so they could accuse him.

<sup>3</sup>Jesus said to the man with the crippled hand, “Stand up here in the middle of everyone.”

<sup>4</sup>Then Jesus asked the people, “Which is lawful on the Sabbath day: to do good or to do evil, to save a life or to kill?” But they said nothing to answer him.

<sup>5</sup>Jesus was angry as he looked at the people, and he felt very sad because they were stubborn. Then he said to the man, “Hold out your hand.” The man held out his hand and it was healed. <sup>6</sup>Then the Pharisees left and began making plans with the Herodians about a way to kill Jesus.

Many People Follow Jesus

him to keep people from crowding against him. <sup>10</sup>He had healed many people, so all the sick were pushing toward him to touch him. <sup>11</sup>When evil spirits saw Jesus, they fell down before him and shouted, “You are the Son of God!” <sup>12</sup>But Jesus strongly warned them not to tell who he was.

Jesus Chooses His Twelve Apostles

<sup>13</sup>Then Jesus went up on a mountain and called to him the men he wanted, and they came to him. <sup>14</sup>Jesus chose twelve men and called them apostles. He wanted them to be with him, and he wanted to send them out to preach <sup>15</sup>and to have the authority to force demons out of people. <sup>16</sup>These are the twelve men he chose: Simon (Jesus named him Peter), <sup>17</sup>James and John, the sons of Zebedee (Jesus named them Boanerges, which means “Sons of Thunder”), <sup>18</sup>Andrew, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, Thaddaeus, Simon the Zealot, <sup>19</sup>and Judas Iscariot, who later turned against Jesus.

Some People Say Jesus Has a Devil

<sup>20</sup>Then Jesus went home, but again a crowd gathered. There were so many people that Jesus and his followers could not eat. <sup>21</sup>When his family heard this, they went to get him because they thought he was out of his mind. <sup>22</sup>But the teachers of the law from Jerusalem were saying, “Beelzebul is living inside him! He uses power from the ruler of demons to force demons out of people.”

<sup>30</sup>Jesus said this because the teachers of the law said that he had an evil spirit inside him.

Jesus’ True Family

<sup>31</sup>Then Jesus’ mother and brothers arrived. Standing outside, they sent someone in to tell him to come out. <sup>32</sup>Many people were sitting around Jesus, and they said to him, “Your mother and brothers are waiting for you outside.”

<sup>33</sup>Jesus asked, “Who are my mother and my brothers?” <sup>34</sup>Then he looked at those sitting around him and said, “Here are my mother and my brothers! <sup>35</sup>My true brother and sister and mother are those who do what God wants.”

Life Lessons

Mark 4:1-41

Situation

Jesus used parables to teach. These stories contained great truths and insights about God and man. While quoting from Isaiah, Jesus also demonstrated how he fulfilled prophecy through his stories. Mark related not only the power of Jesus in stories but also his authority over creation in his command of the weather at sea.

Observation

Even in the middle of a dangerous sea, when Jesus patiently calmed the storm, he showed the fearful disciples that he truly cared for them. Sometimes even those close to Jesus were slow to realize how much he loved them.

Inspiration

“God, don’t you care?”

Such an honest cry, a doggedly painful cry. I’ve asked that one before, haven’t you? It’s been screamed countless times...

A mother weeps over a stillborn child. A husband is torn from his wife by a tragic accident. The tears of an eight-year-old fall on a daddy’s casket. And the question wails.

“God, don’t you care?” “Why me?” “Why my friend?” “Why my business?” “Don’t you care?”

It’s the timeless question. The question asked by literally every person that has stalked this globe.

There has never been a president, a worker, or a businessman who hasn't asked it. There has never been a soul who hasn't wrestled with this aching question. Does my God care? Or is my pain God's great goof?

As the winds howled and the sea raged, the impatient and frightened disciples screamed their fear at the sleeping Jesus. "Teacher, don't you care that we are about to die?" He could have kept on sleeping. He could have told them to shut up. He could have impatiently jumped up and angrily dismissed the storm. He could have pointed out their immaturity... But he didn't.

With all the patience that only one who cares can have, he answered the question. He hushed the storm so the shivering disciples wouldn't miss his response. Jesus answered once and for all the aching dilemma of man—"Where is God when I hurt?"

Listening and healing. That's where he is. He cares.

A Story About Planting Seed

Again Jesus began teaching by the lake. A great crowd gathered around him, so he sat down in a boat near the shore. All the people stayed on the shore close to the water. <sup>2</sup>Jesus taught them many things, using stories. He said, <sup>3</sup>“Listen! A farmer went out to plant his seed. <sup>4</sup>While he was planting, some seed fell by the road, and the birds came and ate it up. <sup>5</sup>Some seed fell on rocky ground where there wasn’t much dirt. That seed grew very fast, because the ground was not deep. <sup>6</sup>But when the sun rose, the plants dried up because they did not have deep roots. <sup>7</sup>Some other seed fell among thorny weeds, which grew and choked the good plants. So those plants did not produce a crop. <sup>8</sup>Some other seed fell on good ground and began to grow. It got taller and produced a crop. Some plants made thirty times more, some made sixty times more, and some made a hundred times more.”

<sup>9</sup>Then Jesus said, “You people who can hear me, listen!”

Jesus Tells Why He Used Stories

<sup>10</sup>Later, when Jesus was alone, the twelve apostles and others around him asked him about the stories.

<sup>11</sup>Jesus said, “You can know the secret about the kingdom of God. But to other people I tell everything by using stories

<sup>12</sup>so that:

‘They will look and look, but they will not learn.
They will listen and listen, but they will not understand.
If they did learn and understand,
they would come back to me and be forgiven.’”

Isaiah 6:9–10

Jesus Explains the Seed Story

<sup>13</sup>Then Jesus said to his followers, “Don’t you understand this story? If you don’t, how will you understand any story? <sup>14</sup>The farmer is like a person who plants God’s message in people. <sup>15</sup>Sometimes the teaching falls on the road. This is like the people who hear the teaching of God, but Satan quickly comes and takes away the teaching that was planted in them. <sup>16</sup>Others are like the seed planted on rocky ground. They hear the teaching and quickly accept it with joy. <sup>17</sup>But since they don’t allow the teaching to go deep into their lives, they keep it only a short time. When trouble or persecution comes because of the teaching they accepted, they quickly give up. <sup>18</sup>Others are like the seed planted among the thorny weeds. They hear the teaching, <sup>19</sup>but the worries of this life, the temptation of wealth, and many other evil desires keep the teaching from growing and producing fruit in their lives. <sup>20</sup>Others are like the seed planted in the good ground. They hear the teaching and accept it. Then they grow and produce fruit—sometimes thirty times more, sometimes sixty times more, and sometimes a hundred times more.”

Use What You Have

<sup>21</sup>Then Jesus said to them, “Do you hide a lamp under a bowl or under a bed? No! You put the lamp on a lampstand.

<sup>22</sup>Everything that is hidden will be made clear and every secret thing will be made known. <sup>23</sup>You people who can hear me, listen!

<sup>24</sup>“Think carefully about what you hear. The way you give to others is the way God will give to you, but God will give you even more. <sup>25</sup>Those who have understanding will be given more. But those who do not have understanding, even what they have will be taken away from them.”

Jesus Uses a Story About Seed

<sup>26</sup>Then Jesus said, “The kingdom of God is like someone who plants seed in the ground. <sup>27</sup>Night and day, whether the person is asleep or awake, the seed still grows, but the person does not know how it grows. <sup>28</sup>By itself the earth produces grain. First the plant grows, then the head, and then all the grain in the head. <sup>29</sup>When the grain is ready, the farmer cuts it, because this is the harvest time.”

A Story About Mustard Seed

<sup>30</sup>Then Jesus said, “How can I show you what the kingdom of God is like? What story can I use to explain it? <sup>31</sup>The kingdom of God is like a mustard seed, the smallest seed you plant in the ground. <sup>32</sup>But when planted, this seed grows and becomes the largest of all garden plants. It produces large branches, and the wild birds can make nests in its shade.”

<sup>33</sup>Jesus used many stories like these to teach the crowd God’s message—as much as they could understand. <sup>34</sup>He always used stories to teach them. But when he and his followers were alone, Jesus explained everything to them.

Jesus Calms a Storm

<sup>35</sup>That evening, Jesus said to his followers, “Let’s go across the lake.” <sup>36</sup>Leaving the crowd behind, they took him in the boat just as he was. There were also other boats with them. <sup>37</sup>A very strong wind came up on the lake. The waves came over the sides and into the boat so that it was already full of water. <sup>38</sup>Jesus was at the back of the boat, sleeping with his head on a cushion. His followers woke him and said, “Teacher, don’t you care that we are drowning!”

<sup>39</sup>Jesus stood up and commanded the wind and said to the waves, “Quiet! Be still!” Then the wind stopped, and it became completely calm.

<sup>40</sup>Jesus said to his followers, “Why are you afraid? Do you still have no faith?”

<sup>41</sup>The followers were very afraid and asked each other, “Who is this? Even the wind and the waves obey him!”

Situation

Jesus ministered to the most important people and the most despised people in town. His power surpassed demons, sickness, and death.

Observation

Although Jesus brought life to those who were physically dead, he spent most of his energy reaching those who were spiritually dead. He wanted to give them a new spiritual life.

Inspiration

The funeral had begun. The people thought the best Jesus could do was offer some kind words about Jairus's girl. Jesus had some words all right. Not about the girl, but for the girl.

“My child, stand up!” ...

The next thing the father knew, she was eating, Jesus was laughing, and the hired mourners were sent home early....

He'll do it again, you know. He's promised he would. And he's shown that he can.

“The Lord himself will come down from heaven with a loud command” (1 Thessalonians 4:16).

The same voice that awoke the boy near Nain, that stirred the still daughter of Jairus, that awakened the corpse of Lazarus—the same voice will speak again. The earth and the sea will give up their dead. There will be no more death.

Jesus made sure of that. (From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

A Man with Demons Inside Him

Jesus and his followers went to the other side of the lake to the area of the Gerasene people. <sup>2</sup>When Jesus got out of the boat, instantly a man with an evil spirit came to him from the burial caves. <sup>3</sup>This man lived in the caves, and no one could tie him up, not even with a chain. <sup>4</sup>Many times people had used chains to tie the man's hands and feet, but he always broke them off. No one was strong enough to control him. <sup>5</sup>Day and night he would wander around the burial caves and on the hills, screaming and cutting himself with stones. <sup>6</sup>While Jesus was still far away, the man saw him, ran to him, and fell down before him.

<sup>7</sup>The man shouted in a loud voice, "What do you want with me, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I command you in God's name not to torture me!" <sup>8</sup>He said this because Jesus was saying to him, "You evil spirit, come out of the man."

<sup>9</sup>Then Jesus asked him, "What is your name?"

He answered, "My name is Legion, because we are many spirits." <sup>10</sup>He begged Jesus again and again not to send them out of that area.

<sup>11</sup>A large herd of pigs was feeding on a hill near there. <sup>12</sup>The demons begged Jesus, "Send us into the pigs; let us go into them." <sup>13</sup>So Jesus allowed them to do this. The evil spirits left the man and went into the pigs. Then the herd of pigs—about two thousand of them—rushed down the hill into the lake and were drowned.

<sup>14</sup>The herdsmen ran away and went to the town and to the countryside, telling everyone about this. So people went out to see what had happened. <sup>15</sup>They came to Jesus and saw the man who used to have the many evil spirits, sitting, clothed, and in his right mind. And they were frightened. <sup>16</sup>The people who saw this told the others what had happened to the man who had the demons living in him, and they told about the pigs. <sup>17</sup>Then the people began to beg Jesus to leave their area.

<sup>19</sup>But Jesus would not let him. He said, “Go home to your family and tell them how much the Lord has done for you and how he has had mercy on you.” <sup>20</sup>So the man left and began to tell the people in the Ten Towns about what Jesus had done for him. And everyone was amazed.

Jesus Gives Life to a Dead Girl and Heals a Sick Woman

<sup>21</sup>When Jesus went in the boat back to the other side of the lake, a large crowd gathered around him there. <sup>22</sup>A leader of the synagogue, named Jairus, came there, saw Jesus, and fell at his feet. <sup>23</sup>He begged Jesus, saying again and again, “My daughter is dying. Please come and put your hands on her so she will be healed and will live.” <sup>24</sup>So Jesus went with him.

A large crowd followed Jesus and pushed very close around him. <sup>25</sup>Among them was a woman who had been bleeding for twelve years. <sup>26</sup>She had suffered very much from many doctors and had spent all the money she had, but instead of improving, she was getting worse.<sup>27</sup> When the woman heard about Jesus, she came up behind him in the crowd and touched his coat.<sup>28</sup> She thought, “If I can just touch his clothes, I will be healed.”<sup>29</sup> Instantly her bleeding stopped, and she felt in her body that she was healed from her disease.

<sup>30</sup>At once Jesus felt power go out from him. So he turned around in the crowd and asked, “Who touched my clothes?”

<sup>31</sup>His followers said, “Look at how many people are pushing against you! And you ask, ‘Who touched me?’”

<sup>32</sup>But Jesus continued looking around to see who had touched him.<sup>33</sup> The woman, knowing that she was healed, came and fell at Jesus’ feet. Shaking with fear, she told him the whole truth.<sup>34</sup> Jesus said to her, “Dear woman, you are made well because you believed. Go in peace; be healed of your disease.”

<sup>35</sup>While Jesus was still speaking, some people came from the house of the synagogue leader. They said, “Your daughter is dead. There is no need to bother the teacher anymore.”

<sup>36</sup>But Jesus paid no attention to what they said. He told the synagogue leader, “Don’t be afraid; just believe.”

<sup>37</sup>Jesus let only Peter, James, and John the brother of James go with him.<sup>38</sup> When they came to the house of the synagogue leader, Jesus found many people there making lots of noise and crying loudly.<sup>39</sup> Jesus entered the house and said to them, “Why are you crying and making so much noise? The child is not dead, only asleep.”<sup>40</sup> But they laughed at him. So, after throwing them out of the house, Jesus took the child’s father and mother and his three followers into the room where the child was.<sup>41</sup> Taking hold of the girl’s hand, he said to her, “Talitha, koum!” (This means, “Young girl, I tell you to stand up!”)<sup>42</sup> At once the girl stood right up and began walking. (She was twelve years old.) Everyone was completely amazed.

<sup>43</sup>Jesus gave them strict orders not to tell people about this.
Then he told them to give the girl something to eat.

Life Lessons

Mark 6:1–7:23

Situation

This record of a particularly busy day is found in all four Gospels. Particularly significant is the feeding of the five thousand.

Observation

Jesus experienced stressful, chaotic days like ours. He knows what the pace of our life is like.

Inspiration

A day in the Life of Christ...

[A] day in which Jesus experiences more stress than he will any other day of his life—aside from his crucifixion. Before the morning becomes evening, he has reason to weep ... run ... shout ... curse ... praise ... doubt.

From calm to chaos. From peace to perplexity. Within moments his world is turned upside down....

The morning has been a jungle trail of the unexpected. First Jesus grieves over the death of a dear friend and relative. Then his life is threatened. Next he celebrates the triumphant return of his followers. Then he is nearly suffocated by a brouhaha of humanity.

Bereavement ... jeopardy ... jubilation ... bedlam...

Ponder this the next time your world goes from calm to chaos....

Jesus knows how you feel.

A friend of mine was recently trying to teach his six-year-old son how to shoot a basket. The boy would take the basketball and push it as hard as he could toward the goal, but it always fell short. The father would then take the ball and toss it toward the basket, saying something like, “Just do it like this, son. It’s easy.”

Then the boy would try, and miss, again. My friend would then take the ball and make another basket, encouraging his son to push the ball a bit harder.

After several minutes and many misses, the boy responded to his father’s encouragement by saying, “Yeah, but it’s easy for you up there. You don’t know how hard it is from down here.”

You and I can never say that about God. Of the many messages Jesus taught us that day about stress, the first one is this: “God knows how you feel.” (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

Follow Jesus’ example in handling stress. If today starts to get hectic, take five minutes to be alone with God. If your work gets interrupted, ask God for patience to deal with the interruption and for endurance to finish the task.

Exploration

Stress—Isaiah 26:3; Matthew 11:28; Luke 10:38–42; Philippians 4:6.

Jesus Goes to His Hometown

Jesus left there and went to his hometown, and his followers went with him.<sup>2</sup>On the Sabbath day he taught in the synagogue. Many people heard him and were amazed, saying, “Where did this man get these teachings? What is this wisdom that has been given to him? And where did he get the power to do miracles?”<sup>3</sup>He is just the carpenter, the son of Mary and the brother of James, Joseph, Judas, and Simon. And his sisters are here with us.” So the people were upset with Jesus.

<sup>4</sup>Jesus said to them, “A prophet is honored everywhere except in his hometown and with his own people and in his own home.”<sup>5</sup>So Jesus was not able to work any miracles there except to heal a few sick people by putting his hands on them.<sup>6</sup>He was amazed at how many people had no faith.

Then Jesus went to other villages in that area and taught.<sup>7</sup>He called his twelve followers together and got ready to send them out two by two and gave them authority over evil spirits.<sup>8</sup>This is what Jesus commanded them: “Take nothing for your trip except a walking stick. Take no bread, no bag, and no money in your pockets.<sup>9</sup>Wear sandals, but take only the clothes you are wearing.<sup>10</sup>When you enter a house, stay there until you leave that town.<sup>11</sup>If the people in a certain place refuse to welcome you or listen to you, leave that place. Shake its dust off your feet as a warning to them.”

<sup>12</sup>So the followers went out and preached that people should change their hearts and lives. <sup>13</sup>They forced many demons out and put olive oil on many sick people and healed them.

How John the Baptist Was Killed

<sup>14</sup>King Herod heard about Jesus, because he was now well known. Some people said, “He is John the Baptist, who has risen from the dead. That is why he can work these miracles.”

<sup>15</sup>Others said, “He is Elijah.”

Other people said, “Jesus is a prophet, like the prophets who lived long ago.”

<sup>16</sup>When Herod heard this, he said, “I killed John by cutting off his head. Now he has risen from the dead!”

<sup>17</sup>Herod himself had ordered his soldiers to arrest John and put him in prison in order to please his wife, Herodias. She had been the wife of Philip, Herod’s brother, but then Herod had married her. <sup>18</sup>John had been telling Herod, “It is not lawful for you to be married to your brother’s wife.” <sup>19</sup>So Herodias hated John and wanted to kill him. But she couldn’t, <sup>20</sup>because Herod was afraid of John and protected him. He knew John was a good and holy man. Also, though John’s preaching always bothered him, he enjoyed listening to John.

<sup>21</sup>Then the perfect time came for Herodias to cause John’s death. On Herod’s birthday, he gave a dinner party for the most important government leaders, the commanders of his army, and the most important people in Galilee. <sup>22</sup>When the daughter of Herodias came in and danced, she pleased Herod and the people eating with him.

So King Herod said to the girl, “Ask me for anything you want, and I will give it to you.”<sup>23</sup>He promised her, “Anything you ask for I will give to you—up to half of my kingdom.”

<sup>24</sup>The girl went to her mother and asked, “What should I ask for?”

Her mother answered, “Ask for the head of John the Baptist.”

<sup>25</sup>At once the girl went back to the king and said to him, “I want the head of John the Baptist right now on a platter.”

<sup>26</sup>Although the king was very sad, he had made a promise, and his dinner guests had heard it. So he did not want to refuse what she asked. <sup>27</sup>Immediately the king sent a soldier to bring John’s head. The soldier went and cut off John’s head in the prison <sup>28</sup>and brought it back on a platter. He gave it to the girl, and the girl gave it to her mother. <sup>29</sup>When John’s followers heard this, they came and got John’s body and put it in a tomb.

More than Five Thousand Fed

<sup>30</sup>The apostles gathered around Jesus and told him about all the things they had done and taught. <sup>31</sup>Crowds of people were coming and going so that Jesus and his followers did not even have time to eat. He said to them, “Come away by yourselves, and we will go to a lonely place to get some rest.”

<sup>32</sup>So they went in a boat by themselves to a lonely place. <sup>33</sup>But many people saw them leave and recognized them. So from all the towns they ran to the place where Jesus was going, and they got there before him. <sup>34</sup>When he arrived, he saw a great crowd waiting. He felt sorry for them, because they were like sheep without a shepherd. So he began to teach them many things.

<sup>35</sup>When it was late in the day, his followers came to him and said, “No one lives in this place, and it is already very late. <sup>36</sup>Send the people away so they can go to the countryside and towns around here to buy themselves something to eat.”

They said to him, “We would all have to work a month to earn enough money to buy that much bread!”

<sup>38</sup>Jesus asked them, “How many loaves of bread do you have? Go and see.”

When they found out, they said, “Five loaves and two fish.”

<sup>39</sup>Then Jesus told his followers to have the people sit in groups on the green grass. <sup>40</sup>So they sat in groups of fifty or a hundred. <sup>41</sup>Jesus took the five loaves and two fish and, looking up to heaven, he thanked God for the food. He divided the bread and gave it to his followers for them to give to the people. Then he divided the two fish among them all. <sup>42</sup>All the people ate and were satisfied. <sup>43</sup>The followers filled twelve baskets with the leftover pieces of bread and fish. <sup>44</sup>There were five thousand men who ate.

Jesus Walks on the Water

<sup>45</sup>Immediately Jesus told his followers to get into the boat and go ahead of him to Bethsaida across the lake. He stayed there to send the people home. <sup>46</sup>After sending them away, he went into the hills to pray.

<sup>47</sup>That night, the boat was in the middle of the lake, and Jesus was alone on the land. <sup>48</sup>He saw his followers struggling hard to row the boat, because the wind was blowing against them. Between three and six o'clock in the morning, Jesus came to them, walking on the water, and he wanted to walk past the boat. <sup>49</sup>But when they saw him walking on the water, they thought he was a ghost and cried out. <sup>50</sup>They all saw him and were afraid. But quickly Jesus spoke to them and said, "Have courage! It is I. Do not be afraid." <sup>51</sup>Then he got into the boat with them, and the wind became calm. The followers were greatly amazed. <sup>52</sup>They did not understand about the miracle of the five loaves, because their minds were closed.

<sup>53</sup>When they had crossed the lake, they came to shore at Gennesaret and tied the boat there. <sup>54</sup>When they got out of the boat, people immediately recognized Jesus. <sup>55</sup>They ran everywhere in that area and began to bring sick people on mats wherever they heard he was. <sup>56</sup>And everywhere he went—into towns, cities, or countryside—the people brought the sick to the marketplaces. They begged him to let them touch just the edge of his coat, and all who touched it were healed.

Obey God's Law

When some Pharisees and some teachers of the law came from Jerusalem, they gathered around Jesus. <sup>2</sup>They saw that some of Jesus' followers ate food with hands that were not clean, that is, they hadn't washed them. <sup>3</sup>(The Pharisees and all the Jews never eat before washing their hands in a special way according to their unwritten laws. <sup>4</sup>And when they buy something in the market, they never eat it until they wash themselves in a special way. They also follow many other unwritten laws, such as the washing of cups, pitchers, and pots.) <sup>5</sup>The Pharisees and the teachers of the law said to Jesus, "Why don't your followers obey the unwritten laws which have been handed down to us? Why do your followers eat their food with hands that are not clean?"

<sup>6</sup>Jesus answered, "Isaiah was right when he spoke about you hypocrites. He wrote,

'These people show honor to me with words,
but their hearts are far from me.

<sup>7</sup>Their worship of me is worthless.

The things they teach are nothing but human rules.'

Isaiah 29:13

<sup>8</sup>You have stopped following the commands of God, and you follow only human teachings."

<sup>9</sup>Then Jesus said to them, "You cleverly ignore the commands of God so you can follow your own teachings.

<sup>10</sup>Moses said, ‘Honor your father and your mother,’ and ‘Anyone who says cruel things to his father or mother must be put to death.’ <sup>11</sup>But you say a person can tell his father or mother, ‘I have something I could use to help you, but it is Corban—a gift to God.’ <sup>12</sup>You no longer let that person use that money for his father or his mother. <sup>13</sup>By your own rules, which you teach people, you are rejecting what God said. And you do many things like that.”

<sup>14</sup>After Jesus called the crowd to him again, he said, “Every person should listen to me and understand what I am saying. <sup>15</sup>There is nothing people put into their bodies that makes them unclean. People are made unclean by the things that come out of them.”<sup>16</sup> n

Life Lessons

Mark 7:24–8:38

Situation

The Pharisees doubted Jesus' divine nature. They asked him for a sign from heaven that would proclaim him as Messiah.

Observation

To see God's presence at work, we must look at the power behind the miracle first—God.

Inspiration

His lunch wasn't much. In fact, it wasn't anything compared to what was needed for more than five thousand people.

He probably wrestled with the silliness of it all. What was one lunch for so many.

How far could one lunch go?

I think that's why he didn't give the lunch to the crowd. Instead he gave it to Jesus. Something told him that if he would plant the seed, God would grant the crop.

So he did.

He summoned his courage, got up off the grass, and walked into the circle of grownups. He must have been nervous. No one likes to appear silly.

Someone probably snickered at him.

If they didn't snicker, they shook their heads. "The little fellow doesn't know any better."

If they didn't shake their heads, they rolled their eyes. "Here we have a hunger crisis, and this little boy thinks that a sack lunch will solve it."

But it wasn't the men's heads or eyes that the boy saw; he saw only Jesus. (From In the Eye of the Storm)

Application

What do you believe about miracles? Look for the amazing things that have happened in your life: at work, at home, and with friends. They are all God's blessings. Help meet the needs of another, and be a part of God's miracle in that life.

Jesus Helps a Non-Jewish Woman

<sup>24</sup>Jesus left that place and went to the area around Tyre. When he went into a house, he did not want anyone to know he was there, but he could not stay hidden.<sup>25</sup>A woman whose daughter had an evil spirit in her heard that he was there. So she quickly came to Jesus and fell at his feet.<sup>26</sup>She was Greek, born in Phoenicia, in Syria. She begged Jesus to force the demon out of her daughter.

<sup>30</sup>The woman went home and found her daughter lying in bed; the demon was gone.

Jesus Heals a Deaf Man

<sup>31</sup>Then Jesus left the area around Tyre and went through Sidon to Lake Galilee, to the area of the Ten Towns.<sup>32</sup>While he was there, some people brought a man to him who was deaf and could not talk plainly. The people begged Jesus to put his hand on the man to heal him.

<sup>33</sup>Jesus led the man away from the crowd, by himself. He put his fingers in the man's ears and then spit and touched the man's tongue. <sup>34</sup>Looking up to heaven, he sighed and said to the man, "Ephphatha!" (This means, "Be opened.") <sup>35</sup>Instantly the man was able to hear and to use his tongue so that he spoke clearly.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: Our Hope and Comfort

Jesus is presented with a man who is deaf and has a speech impediment. Perhaps he stammered. Maybe he spoke with a lisp. Perhaps, because of his deafness, he never learned to articulate words properly.

Jesus, refusing to exploit the situation, took the man aside. He looked him in the face. Knowing it would be useless to talk, he explained what he was about to do through gestures. He spat and touched the man's tongue, telling him that whatever restricted his speech was about to be removed. He touched his ears. They, for the first time, were about to hear.

But before the man said a word or heard a sound, Jesus did something I never would have anticipated.

He sighed. . . .

No doubt you've done your share of sighing.

If you have teenagers, you've probably sighed. If you're tried to resist temptation, you've probably sighed. If you've had your motives questioned or your best acts of love rejected, you have been forced to take a deep breath and let escape a painful sigh....

All these sighs come from the same anxiety; a recognition of pain that was never intended, or of hope deferred.

Man was not created to be separated from his creator; hence he sighs, longing for home. The creation was never intended to be inhabited by evil; hence she sighs, yearning for the Garden....

And when Jesus looked into the eyes of Satan's victim, the only appropriate thing to do was sigh. "It was never intended to be this way," the sigh said. "Your ears weren't made to be deaf, your tongue wasn't made to stumble." The imbalance of it all caused the Master to languish.

So, I found a place for the word. You might think it strange, but I placed it beside the word comfort, for in an indirect way, God's pain is our comfort.

And in the agony of Jesus lies our hope. Had he not sighed, had he not felt the burden for what was not intended, we would be in a pitiful condition. Had he simply chalked it all up to the inevitable or washed his hands of the whole stinking mess, what hope would we have?

But he didn't. That holy sigh assures us that God still groans for his people. He groans for the day when all sighs will cease, when what was intended to be will be. (From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

<sup>36</sup>Jesus commanded the people not to tell anyone about what happened. But the more he commanded them, the more they told about it. <sup>37</sup>They were completely amazed and said, “Jesus does everything well. He makes the deaf hear! And those who can’t talk he makes able to speak.”

More than Four Thousand People Fed

Another time there was a great crowd with Jesus that had nothing to eat. So Jesus called his followers and said,<sup>2</sup>“I feel sorry for these people, because they have already been with me for three days, and they have nothing to eat.<sup>3</sup>If I send them home hungry, they will faint on the way. Some of them live a long way from here.”

<sup>4</sup>Jesus’ followers answered, “How can we get enough bread to feed all these people? We are far away from any town.”

They answered, “Seven.”

<sup>6</sup>Jesus told the people to sit on the ground. Then he took the seven loaves, gave thanks to God, and divided the bread. He gave the pieces to his followers to give to the people, and they did so.<sup>7</sup>The followers also had a few small fish. After Jesus gave thanks for the fish, he told his followers to give them to the people also.<sup>8</sup>All the people ate and were satisfied. Then his followers filled seven baskets with the leftover pieces of food.<sup>9</sup>There were about four thousand people who ate. After they had eaten, Jesus sent them home.<sup>10</sup>Then right away he got into a boat with his followers and went to the area of Dalmanutha.

The Leaders Ask for a Miracle

<sup>11</sup>The Pharisees came to Jesus and began to ask him questions. Hoping to trap him, they asked Jesus for a miracle from God.

<sup>12</sup>Jesus sighed deeply and said, “Why do you people ask for a miracle as a sign? I tell you the truth, no sign will be given to you.” <sup>13</sup>Then Jesus left the Pharisees and went in the boat to the other side of the lake.

Guard Against Wrong Teachings

<sup>16</sup>His followers discussed the meaning of this, saying, “He said this because we have no bread.”

<sup>17</sup>Knowing what they were talking about, Jesus asked them, “Why are you talking about not having bread? Do you still not see or understand? Are your minds closed? <sup>18</sup>You have eyes, but you don’t really see. You have ears, but you don’t really listen. Remember when <sup>19</sup>I divided five loaves of bread for the five thousand? How many baskets did you fill with leftover pieces of food?”

They answered, “Twelve.”

<sup>20</sup>“And when I divided seven loaves of bread for the four thousand, how many baskets did you fill with leftover pieces of food?”

They answered, “Seven.”

<sup>21</sup>Then Jesus said to them, “Don’t you understand yet?”

Jesus Heals a Blind Man

<sup>22</sup>Jesus and his followers came to Bethsaida. There some people brought a blind man to Jesus and begged him to touch the man. <sup>23</sup>So Jesus took the blind man's hand and led him out of the village. Then he spit on the man's eyes and put his hands on the man and asked, "Can you see now?"

<sup>24</sup>The man looked up and said, "Yes, I see people, but they look like trees walking around."

<sup>25</sup>Again Jesus put his hands on the man's eyes. Then the man opened his eyes wide and they were healed, and he was able to see everything clearly. <sup>26</sup>Jesus told him to go home, saying, "Don't go into the town."

Peter Says Jesus Is the Christ

<sup>27</sup>Jesus and his followers went to the towns around Caesarea Philippi. While they were traveling, Jesus asked them, "Who do people say I am?"

<sup>28</sup>They answered, "Some say you are John the Baptist. Others say you are Elijah, and others say you are one of the prophets."

<sup>29</sup>Then Jesus asked, "But who do you say I am?"

Peter answered, "You are the Christ."

<sup>30</sup>Jesus warned his followers not to tell anyone who he was.

<sup>31</sup>Then Jesus began to teach them that the Son of Man must suffer many things and that he would be rejected by the older Jewish leaders, the leading priests, and the teachers of the law. He told them that the Son of Man must be killed and then rise from the dead after three days. <sup>32</sup>Jesus told them plainly what would happen. Then Peter took Jesus aside and began to tell him not to talk like that. <sup>33</sup>But Jesus turned and looked at his followers. Then he told Peter not to talk that way. He said, “Go away from me, Satan! You don’t care about the things of God, but only about things people think are important.”

<sup>34</sup>Then Jesus called the crowd to him, along with his followers. He said, “If people want to follow me, they must give up the things they want. They must be willing even to give up their lives to follow me. <sup>35</sup>Those who want to save their lives will give up true life. But those who give up their lives for me and for the Good News will have true life. <sup>36</sup>It is worth nothing for them to have the whole world if they lose their souls. <sup>37</sup>They could never pay enough to buy back their souls. <sup>38</sup>The people who live now are living in a sinful and evil time. If people are ashamed of me and my teaching, the Son of Man will be ashamed of them when he comes with his Father’s glory and with the holy angels.”

Life Lessons

Mark 9:1–50

Situation

Jesus explained what God's kingdom was about. The disciples could not fathom God's eternal plan. Jesus brought Peter, James, and John up on a mountaintop. There Jesus' true glory was revealed, and Elijah and Moses appeared to the disciples as God spoke to them.

Observation

Even the majestic Son of God sympathizes with our most desperate cries.

Inspiration

Some of you pray like a Concorde jet—smooth, sleek, high, and mighty. Your words reverberate in the clouds and send sonic booms throughout the heavens. If you pray like a Concorde, I salute you. If you don't, I understand.

Maybe you are like me, more a crop duster than a Concorde. You aren't flashy, you fly low, you seem to cover the same ground a lot, and some mornings it's tough to get the old engine cranked up.

Most of us are like that. Most of our prayer lives could use a tune-up.

Some prayer lives lack consistency. They're either a desert or an oasis. . . . We go days or weeks without consistent prayer, but then something happens—we hear a sermon, read a book, experience a tragedy—something leads us to pray, so we dive in. We submerge ourselves in prayer and leave refreshed and renewed. But as the journey resumes, our prayers don't.

Others of us need sincerity. Our prayers are a bit hollow, memorized, and rigid. More liturgy than life. And though they are daily, they are dull.

Still others lack, well, honesty. We honestly wonder if prayer makes a difference. Why on earth would God in heaven want to talk to me? ...

If you struggle with prayer, I've got just the guy for you. Don't worry, he's not a monastic saint. He's not a calloused-kneed apostle. Nor is he a prophet whose middle name is meditation. He's not a too-holy-to-be-you reminder of how far you need to go in prayer. He's just the opposite. A fellow crop duster. A parent with a sick son in need of a miracle. The father's prayer isn't much, but the answer is, and the result reminds us: The power is not in the prayer; it's in the one who hears it.

He prayed out of desperation. His son, his only son, was demon-possessed. Not only was he a deaf mute and an epileptic, he was also possessed by an evil spirit. Ever since the boy was young, the demon had thrown him into fires and water.

Imagine the pain of the father. Other dads could watch their children grow and mature; he could only watch his suffer. While others were teaching their sons an occupation, he was just trying to keep his son alive...

He was desperate and tired, and his prayer reflects both.

“If you can do anything for him, please have pity on us and help us.”

Listen to that prayer. Does it sound courageous? Confident? Strong? Hardly.

One word would have made a lot of difference. Instead of if, what if he'd said since? “Since you can do anything for him, please have pity on us and help us.”

But that's not what he said. He said if. The Greek is even more emphatic. The tense implies doubt. It's as if the man were saying, “This one's probably out of your league, but if you can...”

A classic crop-duster appeal. More meek than might. More timid than towering. More like a crippled lamb coming to a shepherd than a proud lion roaring in the jungle. If his prayer sounds like yours, then don't be discouraged, for that's where prayer begins.

It begins as a yearning. An honest appeal. Ordinary people staring at Mount Everest. No pretense. No boasting. No posturing. Just prayer. Feeble prayer, but prayer nonetheless. (From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

Application

What is your most desperate prayer? Does a rebellious child cause you grief? Is a parent dying without Christ? Are you frantic about tomorrow's bills? Tell God about your grief and anxiety.

Exploration

Accepting Christ—Luke 2:9-11; 19:6-20; John 3:1-20.

Then Jesus said to the people, “I tell you the truth, some people standing here will see the kingdom of God come with power before they die.”

Jesus Talks with Moses and Elijah

<sup>2</sup>Six days later, Jesus took Peter, James, and John up on a high mountain by themselves. While they watched, Jesus’ appearance was changed. <sup>3</sup>His clothes became shining white, whiter than any person could make them. <sup>4</sup>Then Elijah and Moses appeared to them, talking with Jesus.

<sup>5</sup>Peter said to Jesus, “Teacher, it is good that we are here. Let us make three tents—one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah.” <sup>6</sup>Peter did not know what to say, because he and the others were so frightened.

<sup>7</sup>Then a cloud came and covered them, and a voice came from the cloud, saying, “This is my Son, whom I love. Listen to him!”

<sup>8</sup>Suddenly Peter, James, and John looked around, but they saw only Jesus there alone with them.

<sup>9</sup>As they were coming down the mountain, Jesus commanded them not to tell anyone about what they had seen until the Son of Man had risen from the dead.

<sup>10</sup>So the followers obeyed Jesus, but they discussed what he meant about rising from the dead.

<sup>11</sup>Then they asked Jesus, “Why do the teachers of the law say that Elijah must come first?”

<sup>12</sup>Jesus answered, “They are right to say that Elijah must come first and make everything the way it should be. But why does the Scripture say that the Son of Man will suffer much and that people will treat him as if he were nothing? <sup>13</sup>I tell you that Elijah has already come. And people did to him whatever they wanted to do, just as the Scriptures said it would happen.”

Jesus Heals a Sick Boy

<sup>14</sup>When Jesus, Peter, James, and John came back to the other followers, they saw a great crowd around them and the teachers of the law arguing with them. <sup>15</sup>But as soon as the crowd saw Jesus, the people were surprised and ran to welcome him.

<sup>16</sup>Jesus asked, “What are you arguing about?”

<sup>17</sup>A man answered, “Teacher, I brought my son to you. He has an evil spirit in him that stops him from talking. <sup>18</sup>When the spirit attacks him, it throws him on the ground. Then my son foams at the mouth, grinds his teeth, and becomes very stiff. I asked your followers to force the evil spirit out, but they couldn’t.”

<sup>19</sup>Jesus answered, “You people have no faith. How long must I stay with you? How long must I put up with you? Bring the boy to me.”

<sup>20</sup>So the followers brought him to Jesus. As soon as the evil spirit saw Jesus, it made the boy lose control of himself, and he fell down and rolled on the ground, foaming at the mouth.

<sup>21</sup>Jesus asked the boy’s father, “How long has this been happening?”

The father answered, “Since he was very young.<sup>22</sup>The spirit often throws him into a fire or into water to kill him. If you can do anything for him, please have pity on us and help us.”

<sup>23</sup>Jesus said to the father, “You said, ‘If you can!’ All things are possible for the one who believes.”

<sup>24</sup>Immediately the father cried out, “I do believe! Help me to believe more!”

<sup>25</sup>When Jesus saw that a crowd was quickly gathering, he ordered the evil spirit, saying, “You spirit that makes people unable to hear or speak, I command you to come out of this boy and never enter him again!”

<sup>26</sup>The evil spirit screamed and caused the boy to fall on the ground again. Then the spirit came out. The boy looked as if he were dead, and many people said, “He is dead!”<sup>27</sup>But Jesus took hold of the boy’s hand and helped him to stand up.

<sup>28</sup>When Jesus went into the house, his followers began asking him privately, “Why couldn’t we force that evil spirit out?”

<sup>29</sup>Jesus answered, “That kind of spirit can only be forced out by prayer.”

Jesus Talks About His Death

<sup>30</sup>Then Jesus and his followers left that place and went through Galilee. He didn’t want anyone to know where he was,<sup>31</sup>because he was teaching his followers. He said to them, “The Son of Man will be handed over to people, and they will kill him. After three days, he will rise from the dead.”<sup>32</sup>But the followers did not understand what Jesus meant, and they were afraid to ask him.

Who Is the Greatest?

<sup>33</sup>Jesus and his followers went to Capernaum. When they went into a house there, he asked them, “What were you arguing about on the road?” <sup>34</sup>But the followers did not answer, because their argument on the road was about which one of them was the greatest.

<sup>35</sup>Jesus sat down and called the twelve apostles to him. He said, “Whoever wants to be the most important must be last of all and servant of all.”

<sup>36</sup>Then Jesus took a small child and had him stand among them. Taking the child in his arms, he said, <sup>37</sup>“Whoever accepts a child like this in my name accepts me. And whoever accepts me accepts the One who sent me.”

Anyone Not Against Us Is for Us

<sup>38</sup>Then John said, “Teacher, we saw someone using your name to force demons out of a person. We told him to stop, because he does not belong to our group.”

<sup>39</sup>But Jesus said, “Don’t stop him, because anyone who uses my name to do powerful things will not easily say evil things about me. <sup>40</sup>Whoever is not against us is with us. <sup>41</sup>I tell you the truth, whoever gives you a drink of water because you belong to the Christ will truly get his reward.

<sup>42</sup>“If one of these little children believes in me, and someone causes that child to sin, it would be better for that person to have a large stone tied around his neck and be drowned in the sea. <sup>43</sup>If your hand causes you to sin, cut it off. It is better for you to lose part of your body and live forever than to have two hands and go to hell, where the fire never goes out. <sup>44</sup>n <sup>45</sup>If your foot causes you to sin, cut it off. It is better for you to lose part of your body and to live forever than to have two feet and be thrown into hell. <sup>46</sup>n <sup>47</sup>If your eye causes you to sin, take it out. It is better for you to enter the kingdom of God with only one eye than to have two eyes and be thrown into hell. <sup>48</sup>In hell the worm does not die; the fire is never put out. <sup>49</sup>Every person will be salted with fire.

<sup>50</sup>“Salt is good, but if the salt loses its salty taste, you cannot make it salty again. So, be full of salt, and have peace with each other.”

Life Lessons

Mark 10:1–52

Situation

To serve others rather than to be served best exemplified Jesus' message to humanity. People, then as now, often hoped that others would meet their needs. They committed to ideals such as marriage and trust in God as long as these seemed convenient. Giving up personal freedoms, wealth, and status to serve others was too great a price for many people.

Observation

Jesus urges us to discard material security to follow him. By sacrificing the treasures of this world, we gain the treasures of heaven.

Inspiration

Jesus gets to the point. "If you want to be perfect, then go sell your possessions and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven."

The statement leaves the young man distraught and the disciples bewildered.

Their question could be ours: "Who then can be saved?"

Jesus' answer shell-shocks the listeners, "With man this is impossible...."

Impossible.

He doesn't say improbable. He doesn't say unlikely. He doesn't even say it will be tough. He says it is "impossible." ...

Does that strike you as cold? All your life you've been rewarded according to your performance. You get grades according to your study. You get commendations according to your success. You get money in response to your work.

That's why the rich young ruler thought heaven was just a payment away. It only made sense. You work hard, you pay your dues, and "zap"—your account is credited as paid in full. Jesus says, "No way." What you want costs far more than what you can pay. You don't need a system, you need a Savior. You don't need a resume, you need a Redeemer. For "what is impossible with men is possible with God."

... You see, it wasn't the money that hindered the rich man; it was the self-sufficiency. It wasn't the possessions; it was the pomp. It wasn't the big bucks; it was the big head....

Astounding. These people are standing before the throne of God and bragging about themselves. The great trumpet has sounded, and they are still tooting their own horns. Rather than sing his praises, they sing their own. Rather than worship God, they read their resumes. When they should be speechless, they speak. In the very aura of the King they boast of self. What is worse—their arrogance or their blindness?

... God does not save us because of what we've done....

And only a great God does for his children what they can't do for themselves.

That is the message of Paul: "For what the law was powerless to do ... God did" [Romans 8:3, NIV].

And that is the message of the first beatitude.

“Blessed are the poor in spirit ...” [Matthew 5:3, NIV].

The jewel of joy is given to the impoverished spirits, not the affluent. God’s delight is received upon surrender, not awarded upon conquest.

(From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

Don’t let money stand between you and God. You can’t buy a ticket into heaven, you only have to ask in faith. Think about the rich value of faith throughout the day.

Selfishness—Proverbs 28:25; Matthew 19:21–22; Mark 8:34–37; Luke 12:15–21; 16:19–31; Philippians 2:3.

Jesus Teaches About Divorce

Then Jesus left that place and went into the area of Judea and across the Jordan River. Again, crowds came to him, and he taught them as he usually did.

<sup>4</sup>They said, “Moses allowed a man to write out divorce papers and send her away.”

<sup>5</sup>Jesus said, “Moses wrote that command for you because you were stubborn. <sup>6</sup>But when God made the world, ‘he made them male and female.’ <sup>7</sup>‘So a man will leave his father and mother and be united with his wife, and the two will become one body.’ So there are not two, but one. <sup>9</sup>God has joined the two together, so no one should separate them.”

Jesus Accepts Children

touch them, but his followers told them to stop. <sup>14</sup>When Jesus saw this, he was upset and said to them, “Let the little children come to me. Don’t stop them, because the kingdom of God belongs to people who are like these children. <sup>15</sup>I tell you the truth, you must accept the kingdom of God as if you were a little child, or you will never enter it.” <sup>16</sup>Then Jesus took the children in his arms, put his hands on them, and blessed them.

A Rich Young Man’s Question

<sup>17</sup>As Jesus started to leave, a man ran to him and fell on his knees before Jesus. The man asked, “Good teacher, what must I do to have life forever?”

<sup>18</sup>Jesus answered, “Why do you call me good? Only God is good. <sup>19</sup>You know the commands: ‘You must not murder anyone. You must not be guilty of adultery. You must not steal. You must not tell lies about your neighbor. You must not cheat. Honor your father and mother.”

<sup>20</sup>The man said, “Teacher, I have obeyed all these things since I was a boy.”

<sup>21</sup>Jesus, looking at the man, loved him and said, “There is one more thing you need to do. Go and sell everything you have, and give the money to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven. Then come and follow me.”

<sup>22</sup>He was very sad to hear Jesus say this, and he left sorrowfully, because he was rich.

<sup>23</sup>Then Jesus looked at his followers and said, “How hard it will be for the rich to enter the kingdom of God!”

<sup>24</sup>The followers were amazed at what Jesus said. But he said again, “My children, it is very hard to enter the kingdom of God! <sup>25</sup>It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God.”

<sup>26</sup>The followers were even more surprised and said to each other, “Then who can be saved?”

<sup>27</sup>Jesus looked at them and said, “This is something people cannot do, but God can. God can do all things.”

<sup>29</sup>Jesus said, “I tell you the truth, all those who have left houses, brothers, sisters, mother, father, children, or farms for me and for the Good News <sup>30</sup>will get more than they left. Here in this world they will have a hundred times more homes, brothers, sisters, mothers, children, and fields. And with those things, they will also suffer for their belief. But in the age that is coming they will have life forever. <sup>31</sup>Many who have the highest place now will have the lowest place in the future. And many who have the lowest place now will have the highest place in the future.”

Jesus Talks About His Death

<sup>32</sup>As Jesus and the people with him were on the road to Jerusalem, he was leading the way. His followers were amazed, but others in the crowd who followed were afraid. Again Jesus took the twelve apostles aside and began to tell them what was about to happen in Jerusalem. <sup>33</sup>He said, “Look, we are going to Jerusalem. The Son of Man will be turned over to the leading priests and the teachers of the law. They will say that he must die, and they will turn him over to the non-Jewish people, <sup>34</sup>who will laugh at him and spit on him. They will beat him with whips and crucify him. But on the third day, he will rise to life again.”

Two Followers Ask Jesus a Favor

<sup>35</sup>Then James and John, sons of Zebedee, came to Jesus and said, “Teacher, we want to ask you to do something for us.”

<sup>36</sup>Jesus asked, “What do you want me to do for you?”

<sup>38</sup>Jesus said, “You don’t understand what you are asking. Can you drink the cup that I must drink? And can you be baptized with the same kind of baptism that I must go through?”

Jesus said to them, “You will drink the same cup that I will drink, and you will be baptized with the same baptism that I must go through. <sup>40</sup>But I cannot choose who will sit at my right or my left; those places belong to those for whom they have been prepared.”

<sup>41</sup>When the other ten followers heard this, they began to be angry with James and John.

<sup>42</sup>Jesus called them together and said, “The other nations have rulers. You know that those rulers love to show their power over the people, and their important leaders love to use all their authority. <sup>43</sup>But it should not be that way among you. Whoever wants to become great among you must serve the rest of you like a servant. <sup>44</sup>Whoever wants to become the first among you must serve all of you like a slave. <sup>45</sup>In the same way, the Son of Man did not come to be served. He came to serve others and to give his life as a ransom for many people.”

Jesus Heals a Blind Man

<sup>46</sup>Then they came to the town of Jericho. As Jesus was leaving there with his followers and a great many people, a blind beggar named Bartimaeus son of Timaeus was sitting by the road. <sup>47</sup>When he heard that Jesus from Nazareth was walking by, he began to shout, “Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me!”

<sup>48</sup>Many people warned the blind man to be quiet, but he shouted even more, “Son of David, have mercy on me!”

So they called the blind man, saying, “Cheer up! Get to your feet. Jesus is calling you.” <sup>50</sup>The blind man jumped up, left his coat there, and went to Jesus.

<sup>51</sup>Jesus asked him, “What do you want me to do for you?”

The blind man answered, “Teacher, I want to see.”

<sup>52</sup>Jesus said, “Go, you are healed because you believed.” At once the man could see, and he followed Jesus on the road.

Mark 11:1–33

Situation

Jesus and his disciples made a pilgrimage to the Temple in Jerusalem during the Passover. The people heralded Jesus, calling him the Messiah. He threw merchants and money changers out of the Temple for profiting from people's worship. During this week, he traveled between Bethany and Jerusalem frequently.

Observation

Have faith in God. He always fulfills his word. Jesus promised that through faith his disciples would accomplish great things.

Inspiration

The story is told about the time Napoleon's steed got away from him. An alert private jumped on his own horse and chased down the general's horse. When he presented the reins of the animal to Napoleon, the ruler took them, smiled at his willing private, and said, "Thank you, Captain."

The soldier's eyes widened at what he had heard. He then straightened. Saluted. And snapped, "Thank you, sir!"

He immediately went to the barracks. Got his bags. Moved into the officers' quarters. Took his uniform to the quartermaster and exchanged it for that of a captain. By the general's word, he had become a private-turned-commissioned officer. He didn't argue. He didn't shrug. He didn't doubt. He knew that the one who had the power to do it had done it. And he accepted that.

If only we would do the same. If only we would have the faith of the private... . If only, when God smiles and says we are saved, we'd salute him, and live like those who have just received a gift from the commander in chief.

Jesus Enters Jerusalem as a King

As Jesus and his followers were coming closer to Jerusalem, they came to the towns of Bethphage and Bethany near the Mount of Olives. From there Jesus sent two of his followers<sup>2</sup> and said to them, “Go to the town you can see there. When you enter it, you will quickly find a colt tied, which no one has ever ridden. Untie it and bring it here to me.<sup>3</sup> If anyone asks you why you are doing this, tell him its Master needs the colt, and he will send it at once.”

<sup>4</sup>The followers went into the town, found a colt tied in the street near the door of a house, and untied it.<sup>5</sup> Some people were standing there and asked, “What are you doing? Why are you untying that colt?”<sup>6</sup> The followers answered the way Jesus told them to answer, and the people let them take the colt.

<sup>7</sup>They brought the colt to Jesus and put their coats on it, and Jesus sat on it.<sup>8</sup> Many people spread their coats on the road. Others cut branches in the fields and spread them on the road.<sup>9</sup> The people were walking ahead of Jesus and behind him, shouting, “Praise God!

God bless the One who comes in the name of the Lord!

Psalm 118:26

<sup>10</sup>God bless the kingdom of our father David!

That kingdom is coming!
Praise to God in heaven!”

<sup>11</sup>Jesus entered Jerusalem and went into the Temple. After he had looked at everything, since it was already late, he went out to Bethany with the twelve apostles.

<sup>12</sup>The next day as Jesus was leaving Bethany, he became hungry. <sup>13</sup>Seeing a fig tree in leaf from far away, he went to see if it had any figs on it. But he found no figs, only leaves, because it was not the right season for figs. <sup>14</sup>So Jesus said to the tree, “May no one ever eat fruit from you again.” And Jesus’ followers heard him say this.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The One Who Kept His Focus

One of the incredible abilities of Jesus was to stay on target. His life never got off track. Not once do we find him walking down the wrong side of the fairway. He had no money, no computers, no jets, no administrative assistants or staff; yet Jesus did what many of us fail to do. He kept his life on course.

As Jesus looked across the horizon of his future, he could see many targets. Many flags were flapping in the wind, each of which he could have pursued. He could have been a political revolutionary. He could have been a national leader. He could have been content to be a teacher and educate minds or to be a physician and heal bodies. But in the end he chose to be a Savior and save souls.

Anyone near Christ for any length of time heard it from Jesus himself. “The Son of Man came to find lost people and save them” (Luke 19:10). “The Son of Man did not come to be served. He came to serve others and to give his life as a ransom for many people” (Mark 10:45).

The heart of Christ was relentlessly focused on one task. The day he left the carpentry shop of Nazareth he had one ultimate aim—the cross of Calvary. He was so focused that his final words were, “It is finished” (John 19:30).

How could Jesus say he was finished? There were still the hungry to feed, the sick to heal, the untaught to instruct, and the unloved to love. How could he say he was finished? Simple. He had completed his designated task. His commission was fulfilled. The painter could set aside his brush, the sculptor lay down his chisel, the writer put away his pen. The job was done. ## Jesus Goes to the Temple

<sup>15</sup>When Jesus returned to Jerusalem, he went into the Temple and began to throw out those who were buying and selling there. He turned over the tables of those who were exchanging different kinds of money, and he upset the benches of those who were selling doves. <sup>16</sup>Jesus refused to allow anyone to carry goods through the Temple courts. <sup>17</sup>Then he taught the people, saying, “It is written in the Scriptures, ‘My Temple will be called a house for prayer for people from all nations.’ But you are changing God’s house into a ‘hideout for robbers.’”

<sup>18</sup>The leading priests and the teachers of the law heard all this and began trying to find a way to kill Jesus. They were afraid of him, because all the people were amazed at his teaching. <sup>19</sup>That evening, Jesus and his followers left the city.

The Power of Faith

<sup>20</sup>The next morning as Jesus was passing by with his followers, they saw the fig tree dry and dead, even to the roots. <sup>21</sup>Peter remembered the tree and said to Jesus, “Teacher, look! The fig tree you cursed is dry and dead!”

<sup>22</sup>Jesus answered, “Have faith in God. <sup>23</sup>I tell you the truth, you can say to this mountain, ‘Go, fall into the sea.’ And if you have no doubts in your mind and believe that what you say will happen, God will do it for you. <sup>24</sup>So I tell you to believe that you have received the things you ask for in prayer, and God will give them to you. <sup>25</sup>When you are praying, if you are angry with someone, forgive him so that your Father in heaven will also forgive your sins.” <sup>26</sup>n

Leaders Doubt Jesus' Authority

<sup>27</sup>Jesus and his followers went again to Jerusalem. As Jesus was walking in the Temple, the leading priests, the teachers of the law, and the older leaders came to him. <sup>28</sup>They said to him, “What authority do you have to do these things? Who gave you this authority?”

<sup>29</sup>Jesus answered, “I will ask you one question. If you answer me, I will tell you what authority I have to do these things. <sup>30</sup>Tell me: When John baptized people, was that authority from God or just from other people?”

<sup>31</sup>They argued about Jesus' question, saying, “If we answer, ‘John's baptism was from God,’ Jesus will say, ‘Then why didn't you believe him?’ <sup>32</sup>But if we say, ‘It was from other people,’ the crowd will be against us.” (These leaders were afraid of the people, because all the people believed that John was a prophet.)

Jesus said to them, “Then I won't tell you what authority I have to do these things.”

Life Lessons

Mark 12:1–44

Situation

The time for Jesus' death was approaching quickly. Nearing his final hour, Jesus wanted God's love to be made clear through his teaching and example.

Observation

As a result of God's love for us, we can love God and others. God's love also gives us hope that we have eternal life.

Inspiration

Love for the Master is not some sweet sentimental emotion that sweeps over the soul in moments of special piety. Love for Christ is a deliberate setting of the will to carry out His commands at any cost. It is the fixed attitude of heart that decides to do His will at all times. It is the desire and delight of accomplishing our Father's highest purposes, no matter how challenging....

In our highly permissive society, where the so-called "me" generation is encouraged to be so self-centered and so self-preoccupied, the call to obey Christ and comply with His commands cuts across our culture and our cynical conduct.

It simply is not normal nor natural for most of us to "love" God or "love" others in the drastic discipline of a laid-down life. We are a selfish, self-serving people. And when called upon to serve others we feel insulted. We have the strange, worldly idea that to be of lowly service is to be “used” or “abused.”

Yet God, very God, in Christ came among us in lowly service. He came to minister to us. He came to give Himself to us. And so, because He first “loved” us, we in turn are to be willing and ready to “love” Him and others. (From Lessons from a Sheep Dog by Phillip Keller)

Application

When you are fed up with life and utterly exhausted, look for a way to love someone around you. Being patient and maintaining a caring attitude when you don't feel like it shows that you have experienced God's love.

Exploration

God's Sacrifice—Romans 5:8; Ephesians 5:2; 1 John 4:10.

Having pressed the grapes of service, we drink life's sweetest wine—the wine of giving. We are at our best when we are giving. In fact, we are most like God when we are giving. —Max Lucado (He Chose the Nails)

A Story About God's Son

Jesus began to use stories to teach the people. He said, “A man planted a vineyard. He put a wall around it and dug a hole for a winepress and built a tower. Then he leased the land to some farmers and left for a trip.<sup>2</sup> When it was time for the grapes to be picked, he sent a servant to the farmers to get his share of the grapes.<sup>3</sup> But the farmers grabbed the servant and beat him and sent him away empty-handed.<sup>4</sup> Then the man sent another servant. They hit him on the head and showed no respect for him.<sup>5</sup> So the man sent another servant, whom they killed. The man sent many other servants; the farmers beat some of them and killed others.

<sup>6</sup>“The man had one person left to send, his son whom he loved. He sent him last of all, saying, ‘They will respect my son.’

<sup>7</sup>“But the farmers said to each other, ‘This son will inherit the vineyard. If we kill him, it will be ours.’<sup>8</sup> So they took the son, killed him, and threw him out of the vineyard.

<sup>9</sup>“So what will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come and kill those farmers and will give the vineyard to other farmers.<sup>10</sup> Surely you have read this Scripture:

“The stone that the builders rejected
became the cornerstone.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord did this,
and it is wonderful to us.”

Psalm 118:22–23

<sup>12</sup>The Jewish leaders knew that the story was about them. So they wanted to find a way to arrest Jesus, but they were afraid of the people. So the leaders left him and went away.

Is It Right to Pay Taxes or Not?

<sup>13</sup>Later, the Jewish leaders sent some Pharisees and Herodians to Jesus to trap him in saying something wrong. <sup>14</sup>They came to him and said, “Teacher, we know that you are an honest man. You are not afraid of what other people think about you, because you pay no attention to who they are. And you teach the truth about God’s way. Tell us: Is it right to pay taxes to Caesar or not? <sup>15</sup>Should we pay them, or not?”

But knowing what these men were really trying to do, Jesus said to them, “Why are you trying to trap me? Bring me a coin to look at.” <sup>16</sup>They gave Jesus a coin, and he asked, “Whose image and name are on the coin?”

They answered, “Caesar’s.”

<sup>17</sup>Then Jesus said to them, “Give to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and give to God the things that are God’s.” The men were amazed at what Jesus said.

Some Sadducees Try to Trick Jesus

<sup>18</sup>Then some Sadducees came to Jesus and asked him a question. (Sadducees believed that people would not rise from the dead.) <sup>19</sup>They said, “Teacher, Moses wrote that if a man’s brother dies, leaving a wife but no children, then that man must marry the widow and have children for his brother. <sup>20</sup>Once there were seven brothers. The first brother married and died, leaving no children. <sup>21</sup>So the second brother married the widow, but he also died and had no children. The same thing happened with the third brother. <sup>22</sup>All seven brothers married her and died, and none of the brothers had any children. Finally the woman died too. <sup>23</sup>Since all seven brothers had married her, when people rise from the dead, whose wife will she be?”

<sup>24</sup>Jesus answered, “Why don’t you understand? Don’t you know what the Scriptures say, and don’t you know about the power of God? <sup>25</sup>When people rise from the dead, they will not marry, nor will they be given to someone to marry. They will be like the angels in heaven. <sup>26</sup>Surely you have read what God said about people rising from the dead. In the book in which Moses wrote about the burning bush, it says that God told Moses, ‘I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.’ <sup>27</sup>God is the God of the living, not the dead. You Sadducees are wrong!”

The Most Important Command

<sup>28</sup>One of the teachers of the law came and heard Jesus arguing with the Sadducees. Seeing that Jesus gave good answers to their questions, he asked Jesus, “Which of the commands is most important?”

<sup>29</sup>Jesus answered, “The most important command is this:

'Listen, people of Israel! The Lord our God is the only Lord.
<sup>30</sup>Love the Lord your God with all your heart, all your soul, all your mind, and all your strength.' <sup>31</sup>The second command is this: 'Love your neighbor as you love yourself.' There are no commands more important than these."

<sup>32</sup>The man answered, "That was a good answer, Teacher. You were right when you said God is the only Lord and there is no other God besides him. <sup>33</sup>One must love God with all his heart, all his mind, and all his strength. And one must love his neighbor as he loves himself. These commands are more important than all the animals and sacrifices we offer to God."

<sup>34</sup>When Jesus saw that the man answered him wisely, Jesus said to him, "You are close to the kingdom of God." And after that, no one was brave enough to ask Jesus any more questions.

<sup>35</sup>As Jesus was teaching in the Temple, he asked, "Why do the teachers of the law say that the Christ is the son of David?"
<sup>36</sup>David himself, speaking by the Holy Spirit, said:

'The Lord said to my Lord:
Sit by me at my right side,
until I put your enemies under your control.'

Psalm 110:1

<sup>37</sup>David himself calls the Christ 'Lord,' so how can the Christ be his son?" The large crowd listened to Jesus with pleasure.

<sup>38</sup>Jesus continued teaching and said, "Beware of the teachers of the law. They like to walk around wearing fancy clothes, and they love for people to greet them with respect in the marketplaces. <sup>39</sup>They love to have the most important seats in the synagogues and at feasts. <sup>40</sup>But they cheat widows and steal their houses and then try to make themselves look good by saying long prayers. They will receive a greater punishment.”

True Giving

<sup>41</sup>Jesus sat near the Temple money box and watched the people put in their money. Many rich people gave large sums of money. <sup>42</sup>Then a poor widow came and put in two small copper coins, which were only worth a few cents.

<sup>43</sup>Calling his followers to him, Jesus said, “I tell you the truth, this poor widow gave more than all those rich people. <sup>44</sup>They gave only what they did not need. This woman is very poor, but she gave all she had; she gave all she had to live on.”

Mark 13:1-37

Situation

Jesus taught his disciples about the signs of the end times. While he taught, he stood on the Mount of Olives directly opposite the Temple in Jerusalem. Peter, James, John, and Andrew asked him to explain when the end would come.

Observation

Be ready for the return of Christ. Some of the signs that will precede his coming are war, hunger, earthquakes, false Christs, false prophets, rumors of wars, loss of faith, persecution of believers, the increase of evil, and the preaching of the Good News to all the world.

Inspiration

I was with American soldiers, near the front line at Danang. Can you imagine what it meant to them that an old lady came to see them? Their wives and mothers were far away in America... . At first I made them laugh heartily. Americans have a great sense of humor. But then I spoke to them very seriously. "Boys," I said, "we all know that you are in danger of your lives. It is possible that tomorrow you will be killed. Are you ready to look a righteous God in the eyes? It is possible if you repent and take your sins to Jesus. He wants to forgive you and to cleanse your heart with His blood and fill it with His spirit. He said: 'Come to Me: and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out' (John 6:37).” Many of these boys and men came. It is quite possible that now they are in heaven.

What about you who are reading this? Perhaps you will say: I am not on the front line of a war; my life is not in danger. But we all know that every person will have to die one day and after that the judgment—everyone, whether he wants it or not. Are you ready? (From Not I but Christ by Corrie ten Boom)

The Temple Will Be Destroyed

As Jesus was leaving the Temple, one of his followers said to him, “Look, Teacher! How beautiful the buildings are! How big the stones are!”

<sup>2</sup>Jesus said, “Do you see all these great buildings? Not one stone will be left on another. Every stone will be thrown down to the ground.”

<sup>3</sup>Later, as Jesus was sitting on the Mount of Olives, opposite the Temple, he was alone with Peter, James, John, and Andrew. They asked Jesus, <sup>4</sup>“Tell us, when will these things happen? And what will be the sign that they are going to happen?”

<sup>5</sup>Jesus began to answer them, “Be careful that no one fools you. <sup>6</sup>Many people will come in my name, saying, ‘I am the One,’ and they will fool many people. <sup>7</sup>When you hear about wars and stories of wars that are coming, don’t be afraid. These things must happen before the end comes. <sup>8</sup>Nations will fight against other nations, and kingdoms against other kingdoms. There will be earthquakes in different places, and there will be times when there is no food for people to eat. These things are like the first pains when something new is about to be born.

<sup>9</sup>“You must be careful. People will arrest you and take you to court and beat you in their synagogues. You will be forced to stand before kings and governors, to tell them about me. This will happen to you because you follow me. <sup>10</sup>But before these things happen, the Good News must be told to all people. <sup>11</sup>When you are arrested and judged, don't worry ahead of time about what you should say. Say whatever is given you to say at that time, because it will not really be you speaking; it will be the Holy Spirit.

<sup>12</sup>“Brothers will give their own brothers to be killed, and fathers will give their own children to be killed. Children will fight against their own parents and cause them to be put to death. <sup>13</sup>All people will hate you because you follow me, but those people who keep their faith until the end will be saved.

<sup>14</sup>“You will see ‘the destroying terror’ standing where it should not be.” (You who read this should understand what it means.) “At that time, the people in Judea should run away to the mountains. <sup>15</sup>If people are on the roofs of their houses, they must not go down or go inside to get anything out of their houses. <sup>16</sup>If people are in the fields, they must not go back to get their coats. <sup>17</sup>At that time, how terrible it will be for women who are pregnant or have nursing babies! <sup>18</sup>Pray that these things will not happen in winter, <sup>19</sup>because those days will be full of trouble. There will be more trouble than there has ever been since the beginning, when God made the world, until now, and nothing as bad will ever happen again. <sup>20</sup>God has decided to make that terrible time short. Otherwise, no one would go on living. But God will make that time short to help the people he has chosen. <sup>21</sup>At that time, someone might say to you, ‘Look, there is the Christ!’ Or another person might say, ‘There he is!’ But don't believe them. <sup>22</sup>False Christs and false prophets will come and perform great wonders and miracles. They will try to fool even the people God has chosen, if that is possible. <sup>23</sup>So be careful. I have warned you about all this before it happens.

‘the sun will grow dark,
and the moon will not give its light.

<sup>25</sup>The stars will fall from the sky.

And the powers of the heavens will be shaken.’

Isaiah 13:10; 34:4

<sup>26</sup>“Then people will see the Son of Man coming in clouds with great power and glory. <sup>27</sup>Then he will send his angels all around the earth to gather his chosen people from every part of the earth and from every part of heaven.

<sup>28</sup>“Learn a lesson from the fig tree: When its branches become green and soft and new leaves appear, you know summer is near. <sup>29</sup>In the same way, when you see these things happening, you will know that the time is near, ready to come. <sup>30</sup>I tell you the truth, all these things will happen while the people of this time are still living. <sup>31</sup>Earth and sky will be destroyed, but the words I have said will never be destroyed.

<sup>32</sup>“No one knows when that day or time will be, not the angels in heaven, not even the Son. Only the Father knows. <sup>33</sup>Be careful! Always be ready, because you don’t know when that time will be. <sup>34</sup>It is like a man who goes on a trip. He leaves his house and lets his servants take care of it, giving each one a special job to do. The man tells the servant guarding the door always to be watchful. <sup>35</sup>So always be ready, because you don’t know when the owner of the house will come back. It might be in the evening, or at midnight, or in the morning while it is still dark, or when the sun rises. <sup>36</sup>Always be ready. Otherwise he might come back suddenly and find you sleeping.

The people thought that Jesus would be a glorious hero and give the nation a majestic destiny. Instead, Jesus humbled himself according to God's plan and won our salvation.

Inspiration

Would you do what Jesus did? He swapped a spotless castle for a grimy stable. He exchanged the worship of angels for the company of killers. He could hold the universe in his palm but gave it up to float in the womb of a maiden.

If you were God, would you sleep on straw, nurse from a breast, and be clothed in a diaper? I wouldn't, but Christ did.

If you knew that only a few would care that you came, would you still come? If you knew that those you loved would laugh in your face, would you still care? If you knew that the tongues you made would mock you, the mouths you made would spit at you, the hands you made would crucify you, would you still make them? Christ did. Would you regard the immobile and invalid more important than yourself? Jesus did.

He humbled himself. He went from commanding angels to sleeping in the straw. From holding stars to clutching Mary's finger. The palm that held the universe took the nail of a soldier.

Why? Because that's what love does. It puts the beloved before itself. Your soul was more important than his blood. Your eternal life was more important than his earthly life. Your place in heaven was more important to him than his place in heaven, so he gave up his so you could have yours.

He loves you that much, and because he loves you, you are of prime importance to him.

Christ stands in contrast to the barnyard. He points to the sparrow, the most inexpensive bird of his day, and says, "Five sparrows are sold for only two pennies, and God does not forget any of them. . . . You are worth much more than many sparrows" (Luke 12:6-7).

God remembers the small birds of the world. We remember the eagles. We make bronze statues of the hawk. We name our athletic teams after the falcons. But God notices the sparrows. He makes time for the children and takes note of the lepers. He offers the woman in adultery a second chance and the thief on the cross a personal invitation. Christ is partial to the beat up and done in and urges us to follow suit. "When you give a feast, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, and the blind" (Luke 14:13).

Want to love others as God has loved you? Come thirsty. Drink deeply of God's love for you, and ask him to fill your heart with a love worth giving. (From A Love Worth Giving by Max Lucado)

The Plan to Kill Jesus

It was now only two days before the Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread. The leading priests and teachers of the law were trying to find a trick to arrest Jesus and kill him.<sup>2</sup> But they said, “We must not do it during the feast, because the people might cause a riot.”

A Woman with Perfume for Jesus

<sup>3</sup>Jesus was in Bethany at the house of Simon, who had a skin disease. While Jesus was eating there, a woman approached him with an alabaster jar filled with very expensive perfume, made of pure nard. She opened the jar and poured the perfume on Jesus’ head.

<sup>4</sup>Some who were there became upset and said to each other, “Why waste that perfume? <sup>5</sup>It was worth a full year’s work. It could have been sold and the money given to the poor.” And they got very angry with the woman.

<sup>6</sup>Jesus said, “Leave her alone. Why are you troubling her? She did an excellent thing for me. <sup>7</sup>You will always have the poor with you, and you can help them anytime you want. But you will not always have me.<sup>8</sup>This woman did the only thing she could do for me; she poured perfume on my body to prepare me for burial.<sup>9</sup>I tell you the truth, wherever the Good News is preached in all the world, what this woman has done will be told, and people will remember her.”

Judas Becomes an Enemy of Jesus

<sup>10</sup>One of the twelve apostles, Judas Iscariot, went to talk to the leading priests to offer to hand Jesus over to them.<sup>11</sup>These priests were pleased about this and promised to pay Judas money. So he watched for the best time to turn Jesus in.

Jesus Eats the Passover Meal

<sup>12</sup>It was now the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread when the Passover lamb was sacrificed. Jesus’ followers said to him, “Where do you want us to go and prepare for you to eat the Passover meal?”

<sup>13</sup>Jesus sent two of his followers and said to them, “Go into the city and a man carrying a jar of water will meet you. Follow him.<sup>14</sup>When he goes into a house, tell the owner of the house, ‘The Teacher says: Where is my guest room in which I can eat the Passover meal with my followers?’<sup>15</sup>The owner will show you a large room upstairs that is furnished and ready. Prepare the food for us there.”

<sup>16</sup>So the followers left and went into the city. Everything happened as Jesus had said, so they prepared the Passover meal.

<sup>17</sup>In the evening, Jesus went to that house with the twelve. <sup>18</sup>While they were all eating, Jesus said, “I tell you the truth, one of you will turn against me—one of you eating with me now.”

<sup>19</sup>The followers were very sad to hear this. Each one began to say to Jesus, “I am not the one, am I?”

<sup>20</sup>Jesus answered, “It is one of the twelve—the one who dips his bread into the bowl with me. <sup>21</sup>The Son of Man will die, just as the Scriptures say. But how terrible it will be for the person who hands the Son of Man over to be killed. It would be better for him if he had never been born.”

The Lord’s Supper

<sup>22</sup>While they were eating, Jesus took some bread and thanked God for it and broke it. Then he gave it to his followers and said, “Take it; this is my body.”

<sup>23</sup>Then Jesus took a cup and thanked God for it and gave it to the followers, and they all drank from the cup.

<sup>24</sup>Then Jesus said, “This is my blood which is the new agreement that God makes with his people. This blood is poured out for many. <sup>25</sup>I tell you the truth, I will not drink of this fruit of the vine again until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God.”

Jesus’ Followers Will Leave Him

<sup>27</sup>Then Jesus told the followers, “You will all stumble in your faith, because it is written in the Scriptures:

‘I will kill the shepherd,
and the sheep will scatter.’

Zechariah 13:7

<sup>28</sup>But after I rise from the dead, I will go ahead of you into Galilee.”

<sup>29</sup>Peter said, “Everyone else may stumble in their faith, but I will not.”

<sup>30</sup>Jesus answered, “I tell you the truth, tonight before the rooster crows twice you will say three times you don’t know me.”

<sup>31</sup>But Peter insisted, “I will never say that I don’t know you! I will even die with you!” And all the other followers said the same thing.

Jesus Prays Alone

<sup>32</sup>Jesus and his followers went to a place called Gethsemane. He said to them, “Sit here while I pray.” <sup>33</sup>Jesus took Peter, James, and John with him, and he began to be very sad and troubled. <sup>34</sup>He said to them, “My heart is full of sorrow, to the point of death. Stay here and watch.”

<sup>35</sup>After walking a little farther away from them, Jesus fell to the ground and prayed that, if possible, he would not have this time of suffering. <sup>36</sup>He prayed, “Abba, Father! You can do all things. Take away this cup of suffering. But do what you want, not what I want.”

<sup>39</sup>Again Jesus went away and prayed the same thing.<sup>40</sup>Then he went back to his followers, and again he found them asleep, because their eyes were very heavy. And they did not know what to say to him.

<sup>41</sup>After Jesus prayed a third time, he went back to his followers and said to them, “Are you still sleeping and resting? That’s enough. The time has come for the Son of Man to be handed over to sinful people.”<sup>42</sup>Get up, we must go. Look, here comes the man who has turned against me.”

Jesus Is Arrested

<sup>43</sup>At once, while Jesus was still speaking, Judas, one of the twelve apostles, came up. With him were many people carrying swords and clubs who had been sent from the leading priests, the teachers of the law, and the older Jewish leaders.

<sup>44</sup>Judas had planned a signal for them, saying, “The man I kiss is Jesus. Arrest him and guard him while you lead him away.”<sup>45</sup>So Judas went straight to Jesus and said, “Teacher!” and kissed him.<sup>46</sup>Then the people grabbed Jesus and arrested him.<sup>47</sup>One of his followers standing nearby pulled out his sword and struck the servant of the high priest and cut off his ear.

<sup>48</sup>Then Jesus said, “You came to get me with swords and clubs as if I were a criminal.”<sup>49</sup>Every day I was with you teaching in the Temple, and you did not arrest me there. But all these things have happened to make the Scriptures come true.”

<sup>51</sup>A young man, wearing only a linen cloth, was following Jesus, and the people also grabbed him. <sup>52</sup>But the cloth he was wearing came off, and he ran away naked.

Jesus Before the Leaders

<sup>53</sup>The people who arrested Jesus led him to the house of the high priest, where all the leading priests, the older leaders, and the teachers of the law were gathered. <sup>54</sup>Peter followed far behind and entered the courtyard of the high priest’s house. There he sat with the guards, warming himself by the fire.

<sup>55</sup>The leading priests and the whole Jewish council tried to find something that Jesus had done wrong so they could kill him. But the council could find no proof of anything. <sup>56</sup>Many people came and told false things about him, but all said different things—none of them agreed.

<sup>57</sup>Then some people stood up and lied about Jesus, saying, <sup>58</sup>“We heard this man say, ‘I will destroy this Temple that people made. And three days later, I will build another Temple not made by people.’” <sup>59</sup>But even the things these people said did not agree.

<sup>60</sup>Then the high priest stood before them and asked Jesus, “Aren’t you going to answer? Don’t you have something to say about their charges against you?” <sup>61</sup>But Jesus said nothing; he did not answer.

The high priest asked Jesus another question: “Are you the Christ, the Son of the blessed God?”

<sup>62</sup>Jesus answered, “I am. And in the future you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of God, the Powerful One, and coming on clouds in the sky.”

<sup>63</sup>When the high priest heard this, he tore his clothes and said, “We don’t need any more witnesses! <sup>64</sup>You all heard him say these things against God. What do you think?”

They all said that Jesus was guilty and should die. <sup>65</sup>Some of the people there began to spit at Jesus. They blindfolded him and beat him with their fists and said, “Prove you are a prophet!” Then the guards led Jesus away and beat him.

Peter Says He Doesn’t Know Jesus

<sup>66</sup>While Peter was in the courtyard, a servant girl of the high priest came there. <sup>67</sup>She saw Peter warming himself at the fire and looked closely at him.

Then she said, “You also were with Jesus, that man from Nazareth.”

<sup>68</sup>But Peter said that he was never with Jesus. He said, “I don’t know or understand what you are talking about.” Then Peter left and went toward the entrance of the courtyard. And the rooster crowed.

<sup>69</sup>The servant girl saw Peter there, and again she said to the people who were standing nearby, “This man is one of those who followed Jesus.” <sup>70</sup>Again Peter said that it was not true.

A short time later, some people were standing near Peter saying, “Surely you are one of those who followed Jesus, because you are from Galilee, too.”

<sup>71</sup>Then Peter began to place a curse on himself and swear, “I don’t know this man you’re talking about!”

<sup>72</sup>At once, the rooster crowed the second time. Then Peter remembered what Jesus had told him: “Before the rooster crows twice, you will say three times that you don’t know me.” Then Peter lost control of himself and began to cry.

Mark 15:1-47

Situation

Judas betrayed Jesus, and the religious authorities arrested God's Son. The disciples scattered, and Peter denied him three times. Jesus, beaten and mocked throughout the night, provided salvation through his death and resurrection.

Observation

The hours before Jesus' crucifixion were extremely painful for him, yet he faced the sacrifice with love, courage, and conviction so great that he willingly gave up his life for us!

Inspiration

He looked around the hill and foresaw a scene. Three figures hung on three crosses. Arms spread. Heads fallen forward. They moaned with the wind.

Men clad in soldiers' garb sat on the ground near the trio. They played games in the dirt and laughed.

Men clad in religion stood off to one side. They smiled. Arrogant, cocky. They had protected God, they thought, by killing this false one.

Women clad in sorrow huddled at the foot of the hill. Speechless. Faces tear streaked. Eyes downward. One put her arm around another and tried to lead her away. She wouldn't leave. "I will stay," she said softly. "I will stay."

All heaven stood to fight. All nature rose to rescue. All eternity poised to protect. But the Creator gave no command.

“It must be done ...,” he said, and withdrew.

But as he stepped back in time, he heard the cry that he would someday scream: “My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?” He wrenched at tomorrow’s agony.

The angel spoke again. “It would be less painful ...”

The Creator interrupted softly. “But it wouldn’t be love.” (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Pilate Questions Jesus

Very early in the morning, the leading priests, the older leaders, the teachers of the law, and all the Jewish council decided what to do with Jesus. They tied him, led him away, and turned him over to Pilate, the governor.

Jesus answered, “Those are your words.”

<sup>3</sup>The leading priests accused Jesus of many things.<sup>4</sup>So Pilate asked Jesus another question, “You can see that they are accusing you of many things. Aren’t you going to answer?”

<sup>5</sup>But Jesus still said nothing, so Pilate was very surprised.

Pilate Tries to Free Jesus

<sup>6</sup>Every year at the time of the Passover the governor would free one prisoner whom the people chose.<sup>7</sup>At that time, there was a man named Barabbas in prison who was a rebel and had committed murder during a riot.<sup>8</sup>The crowd came to Pilate and began to ask him to free a prisoner as he always did.

<sup>9</sup>So Pilate asked them, “Do you want me to free the king of the Jews?”<sup>10</sup>Pilate knew that the leading priests had turned Jesus in to him because they were jealous. <sup>11</sup>But the leading priests had persuaded the people to ask Pilate to free Barabbas, not Jesus.

<sup>12</sup>Then Pilate asked the crowd again, “So what should I do with this man you call the king of the Jews?”

<sup>14</sup>Pilate asked, “Why? What wrong has he done?”

But they shouted even louder, “Crucify him!”

<sup>15</sup>Pilate wanted to please the crowd, so he freed Barabbas for them. After having Jesus beaten with whips, he handed Jesus over to the soldiers to be crucified.

<sup>16</sup>The soldiers took Jesus into the governor’s palace (called the Praetorium) and called all the other soldiers together. <sup>17</sup>They put a purple robe on Jesus and used thorny branches to make a crown for his head. <sup>18</sup>They began to call out to him, “Hail, King of the Jews!” <sup>19</sup>The soldiers beat Jesus on the head many times with a stick. They spit on him and made fun of him by bowing on their knees and worshiping him. <sup>20</sup>After they finished, the soldiers took off the purple robe and put his own clothes on him again. Then they led him out of the palace to be crucified.

Jesus Is Crucified

<sup>21</sup>A man named Simon from Cyrene, the father of Alexander and Rufus, was coming from the fields to the city. The soldiers forced Simon to carry the cross for Jesus. <sup>22</sup>They led Jesus to the place called Golgotha, which means the Place of the Skull. <sup>23</sup>The soldiers tried to give Jesus wine mixed with myrrh to drink, but he refused. <sup>24</sup>The soldiers crucified Jesus and divided his clothes among themselves, throwing lots to decide what each soldier would get.

<sup>25</sup>It was nine o'clock in the morning when they crucified Jesus. <sup>26</sup>There was a sign with this charge against Jesus written on it: THE KING OF THE JEWS. <sup>27</sup>They also put two robbers on crosses beside Jesus, one on the right, and the other on the left. <sup>28</sup>n <sup>29</sup>People walked by and insulted Jesus and shook their heads, saying, "You said you could destroy the Temple and build it again in three days. <sup>30</sup>So save yourself! Come down from that cross!"

<sup>31</sup>The leading priests and the teachers of the law were also making fun of Jesus. They said to each other, "He saved other people, but he can't save himself. <sup>32</sup>If he is really the Christ, the king of Israel, let him come down now from the cross. When we see this, we will believe in him." The robbers who were being crucified beside Jesus also insulted him.

Jesus Dies

<sup>33</sup>At noon the whole country became dark, and the darkness lasted for three hours. <sup>34</sup>At three o'clock Jesus cried in a loud voice, "Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani." This means, "My God, my God, why have you rejected me?"

<sup>35</sup>When some of the people standing there heard this, they said, "Listen! He is calling Elijah."

<sup>36</sup>Someone there ran and got a sponge, filled it with vinegar, tied it to a stick, and gave it to Jesus to drink. He said, "We want to see if Elijah will come to take him down from the cross."

<sup>37</sup>Then Jesus cried in a loud voice and died.

the top to the bottom.<sup>39</sup>When the army officer who was standing in front of the cross saw what happened when Jesus died, he said, “This man really was the Son of God!”

<sup>40</sup>Some women were standing at a distance from the cross, watching; among them were Mary Magdalene, Salome, and Mary the mother of James and Joseph. (James was her youngest son.)<sup>41</sup>These women had followed Jesus in Galilee and helped him. Many other women were also there who had come with Jesus to Jerusalem.

Jesus Is Buried

<sup>42</sup>This was Preparation Day. (That means the day before the Sabbath day.) That evening,<sup>43</sup>Joseph from Arimathea was brave enough to go to Pilate and ask for Jesus’ body. Joseph, an important member of the Jewish council, was one of the people who was waiting for the kingdom of God to come.

<sup>44</sup>Pilate was amazed that Jesus would have already died, so he called the army officer who had guarded Jesus and asked him if Jesus had already died.<sup>45</sup>The officer told Pilate that he was dead, so Pilate told Joseph he could have the body.<sup>46</sup>Joseph bought some linen cloth, took the body down from the cross, and wrapped it in the linen. He put the body in a tomb that was cut out of a wall of rock. Then he rolled a very large stone to block the entrance of the tomb.<sup>47</sup>And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joseph saw the place where Jesus was laid.

Life Lessons

Mark 16:1–20

Situation

Jesus was crucified and his body buried. His followers were dismayed because he did not create a kingdom on earth. Because he died so close to the Sabbath (a day on which Israelites could do no work), his body was not completely prepared for burial. Once the Sabbath was over, some women set out, intending to put sweet-smelling spices on his body.

Observation

Jesus was not simply a man who led a good life and died. He rose from the dead. Death cannot hold him or his followers. God conquered death, and gave us hope.

Inspiration

The year 1899 marked the deaths of two well-known men—Dwight L. Moody, the acclaimed evangelist, and Robert Ingersoll, the famous lawyer, orator, and political leader.

The two men had many similarities. Both were raised in Christian homes. Both were skilled orators... Both drew immense crowds when they spoke and attracted loyal followings. But there was one striking difference between them—their view of God.

Ingersoll was an agnostic; he had no belief in the eternal, but stressed the importance of living only in the here and now. Ingersoll made light of the Bible... The Bible was “a fable, an obscenity, a humbug, a sham and a lie.” ...

Dwight L. Moody, had different convictions. He dedicated his life to presenting a resurrected King to a dying people. He embraced the Bible as the hope for humanity and the cross as the turning point of history. He left behind a legacy of written and spoken words, institutions of education, churches, and changed lives.

Two men. Both powerful speakers and influential leaders. One rejected God; the other embraced him. The impact of their decisions is seen most clearly in the way they died....

Ingersoll died suddenly. The news of his death stunned his family. His body was kept at home for several days because his wife was reluctant to part with it. It was eventually removed for the sake of the family's health.

Ingersoll's remains were cremated, and the public response to his passing was altogether dismal. For a man who put all his hopes on the world, death was tragic and came without the consolation of hope....

Moody's legacy was different. On December 22, 1899, Moody awoke to his last winter dawn. Having grown increasingly weak during the night, he began to speak in slow measured words. "Earth recedes, heaven opens before me!" Son Will, who was nearby, hurried across the room to his father's side.

"Father, you are dreaming," he said.

"No. This is no dream, Will," Moody said. "It is beautiful. It is like a trance. If this is death, it is sweet. God is calling me, and I must go. Don't call me back."

At that point, the family gathered around, and moments later the great evangelist died. It was his coronation day—a day he had looked forward to for many years. He was with his Lord.

... There was no despair. Loved ones gathered to sing praise to God at a triumphant home-going service. Many remembered the words the evangelist had spoken earlier that year in New York City: “Someday you will read in the papers that Moody is dead. Don’t you believe a word of it. At that moment I shall be more alive than I am now. . . . I was born of the flesh in 1837, I was born of the spirit in 1855. That which is born of the flesh may die. That which is born of the Spirit shall live forever.” (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Jesus Rises from the Dead

The day after the Sabbath day, Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James, and Salome bought some sweet-smelling spices to put on Jesus' body. <sup>2</sup>Very early on that day, the first day of the week, soon after sunrise, the women were on their way to the tomb. <sup>3</sup>They said to each other, "Who will roll away for us the stone that covers the entrance of the tomb?"

<sup>4</sup>Then the women looked and saw that the stone had already been rolled away, even though it was very large. <sup>5</sup>The women entered the tomb and saw a young man wearing a white robe and sitting on the right side, and they were afraid.

<sup>6</sup>But the man said, "Don't be afraid. You are looking for Jesus from Nazareth, who has been crucified. He has risen from the dead; he is not here. Look, here is the place they laid him. <sup>7</sup>Now go and tell his followers and Peter, 'Jesus is going into Galilee ahead of you, and you will see him there as he told you before.'"

<sup>8</sup>The women were confused and shaking with fear, so they left the tomb and ran away. They did not tell anyone about what happened, because they were afraid.

Verses 9-20 are not included in two of the best and oldest Greek manuscripts of Mark.

Some Followers See Jesus

[<sup>9</sup>After Jesus rose from the dead early on the first day of the week, he showed himself first to Mary Magdalene. One time in the past, he had forced seven demons out of her. <sup>10</sup>After Mary saw Jesus, she went and told his followers, who were very sad and were crying. <sup>11</sup>But Mary told them that Jesus was alive. She said that she had seen him, but the followers did not believe her.

<sup>12</sup>Later, Jesus showed himself to two of his followers while they were walking in the country, but he did not look the same as before. <sup>13</sup>These followers went back to the others and told them what had happened, but again, the followers did not believe them.

Jesus Talks to the Apostles

<sup>14</sup>Later Jesus showed himself to the eleven apostles while they were eating, and he criticized them because they had no faith. They were stubborn and refused to believe those who had seen him after he had risen from the dead.

<sup>15</sup>Jesus said to his followers, “Go everywhere in the world, and tell the Good News to everyone. <sup>16</sup>Anyone who believes and is baptized will be saved, but anyone who does not believe will be punished. <sup>17</sup>And those who believe will be able to do these things as proof: They will use my name to force out demons. They will speak in new languages. <sup>18</sup>They will pick up snakes and drink poison without being hurt. They will touch the sick, and the sick will be healed.”

<sup>19</sup>After the Lord Jesus said these things to his followers, he was carried up into heaven, and he sat at the right side of God. <sup>20</sup>The followers went everywhere in the world and told the Good News to people, and the Lord helped them. The Lord proved that the Good News they told was true by giving them power to work miracles.]

cup Jesus is talking about the terrible things that will happen to him. Accepting these things will be very hard, like drinking a cup of something bitter.

And ... crowd. A few, early Greek copies leave out this phrase.

Verse 28 Some Greek copies add verse 28: “And the Scripture came true that says, ‘They put him with criminals.’” curtain in the Temple A curtain divided the Most Holy Place from the other part of the Temple. That was the special building in Jerusalem where God commanded the Jewish people to worship him.

languages This can also be translated “tongues.”

The Book of Luke

Introduction

Nearly two thousand years ago a doctor named Luke began a letter to a friend with these words:

Many have tried to report on the things that happened among us. They have written the same things that we learned from others—the people who saw those things from the beginning and served God by telling people his message. Since I myself have studied everything carefully from the beginning, most excellent Theophilus, it seemed good for me to write it out for you. I arranged it in order to help you know that what you have been taught is true (1:1–4).

Luke and Theophilus shared two loves: a love for Christ and a love for the facts. They didn't want legends, they wanted truth. And so Dr. Luke begins to sort the truth and report the facts to Theophilus. The result is part letter and part research paper.

It is part letter because it was written for a friend. What a bond must have existed between these two that Luke would labor so! It is part research paper, because Luke had studied everything carefully from the beginning and he wanted Theophilus to benefit from his study.

Can't you envision him in the home of Mary? "Tell me again what happened in Bethlehem." Can't you see him peppering Matthew with questions? "Let me see if I got this parable right." Or on long walks with Peter, "When you denied him the third time, did Jesus know?" With the skill of a surgeon, Luke probes for truth.

Why?

So his friend could know that what he had been taught was true.

Did Luke have any idea that millions of us would benefit from his study? I doubt it. All he did was share the truth with a friend.

Can you imagine what would happen if we all did the same?

Life Lessons

Luke 1:1–80

Situation

Scholars have suggested that these events took place around 6 B.C. during the rule of Herod the Great. God set the stage for the coming of Jesus into the world.

Observation

The events leading up to Jesus' birth can be summarized by the angel's words: "God can do anything!"

Inspiration

Hope is not what you expect; it is what you would never dream. It is a wild, improbable tale with a pinch-me-I'm-dreaming ending. It's Abraham adjusting his bifocals so he can see not his grandson, but his son. It's Moses standing in the Promised Land not with Aaron or Miriam at his side, but with Elijah and the transfigured Christ. It's Zechariah left speechless at the sight of wife Elizabeth, gray-headed and pregnant. And it is the two Emmaus-bound pilgrims reaching out to take a piece of bread only to see the hands from which it is offered are pierced.

Hope is not a granted wish or a favor performed; no, it is far greater than that. It is a zany, unpredictable dependence on a God who loves to surprise us out of our socks and be there in the flesh to see our reaction. (From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

Application

What are your greatest dreams? Remember, God can do anything, and he loves to fulfill dreams. Ask God to show you what he wants you to do, and then ask him for the power and courage to do it.

Luke Writes About Jesus' Life

Many have tried to report on the things that happened among us.<sup>2</sup>They have written the same things that we learned from others—the people who saw those things from the beginning and served God by telling people his message.<sup>3</sup>Since I myself have studied everything carefully from the beginning, most excellent Theophilus, it seemed good for me to write it out for you. I arranged it in order<sup>4</sup>to help you know that what you have been taught is true.

Zechariah and Elizabeth

<sup>5</sup>During the time Herod ruled Judea, there was a priest named Zechariah who belonged to Abijah's group. Zechariah's wife, Elizabeth, came from the family of Aaron.<sup>6</sup>Zechariah and Elizabeth truly did what God said was good. They did everything the Lord commanded and were without fault in keeping his law.<sup>7</sup>But they had no children, because Elizabeth could not have a baby, and both of them were very old.

<sup>8</sup>One day Zechariah was serving as a priest before God, because his group was on duty.<sup>9</sup>According to the custom of the priests, he was chosen by lot to go into the Temple of the Lord and burn incense.<sup>10</sup>There were a great many people outside praying at the time the incense was offered.<sup>11</sup>Then an angel of the Lord appeared to Zechariah, standing on the right side of the incense table. <sup>12</sup>When he saw the angel, Zechariah was startled and frightened. <sup>13</sup>But the angel said to him, “Zechariah, don’t be afraid. God has heard your prayer. Your wife, Elizabeth, will give birth to a son, and you will name him John. <sup>14</sup>He will bring you joy and gladness, and many people will be happy because of his birth. <sup>15</sup>John will be a great man for the Lord. He will never drink wine or beer, and even from birth, he will be filled with the Holy Spirit. <sup>16</sup>He will help many people of Israel return to the Lord their God. <sup>17</sup>He will go before the Lord in spirit and power like Elijah. He will make peace between parents and their children and will bring those who are not obeying God back to the right way of thinking, to make a people ready for the coming of the Lord.”

<sup>18</sup>Zechariah said to the angel, “How can I know that what you say is true? I am an old man, and my wife is old, too.”

<sup>19</sup>The angel answered him, “I am Gabriel. I stand before God, who sent me to talk to you and to tell you this good news. <sup>20</sup>Now, listen! You will not be able to speak until the day these things happen, because you did not believe what I told you. But they will really happen.”

<sup>21</sup>Outside, the people were still waiting for Zechariah and were surprised that he was staying so long in the Temple. <sup>22</sup>When Zechariah came outside, he could not speak to them, and they knew he had seen a vision in the Temple. He could only make signs to them and remained unable to speak. <sup>23</sup>When his time of service at the Temple was finished, he went home.

<sup>24</sup>Later, Zechariah’s wife, Elizabeth, became pregnant and did not go out of her house for five months. Elizabeth said, <sup>25</sup>“Look what the Lord has done for me! My people were ashamed of me, but now the Lord has taken away that shame.”

An Angel Appears to Mary

<sup>26</sup>During Elizabeth’s sixth month of pregnancy, God sent the angel Gabriel to Nazareth, a town in Galilee,<sup>27</sup> to a virgin. She was engaged to marry a man named Joseph from the family of David. Her name was Mary.<sup>28</sup> The angel came to her and said, “Greetings! The Lord has blessed you and is with you.”

<sup>29</sup>But Mary was very startled by what the angel said and wondered what this greeting might mean.

<sup>30</sup>The angel said to her, “Don’t be afraid, Mary; God has shown you his grace.<sup>31</sup> Listen! You will become pregnant and give birth to a son, and you will name him Jesus.<sup>32</sup> He will be great and will be called the Son of the Most High. The Lord God will give him the throne of King David, his ancestor.<sup>33</sup> He will rule over the people of Jacob forever, and his kingdom will never end.”

<sup>34</sup>Mary said to the angel, “How will this happen since I am a virgin?”

<sup>35</sup>The angel said to Mary, “The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will cover you. For this reason the baby will be holy and will be called the Son of God.<sup>36</sup> Now Elizabeth, your relative, is also pregnant with a son though she is very old. Everyone thought she could not have a baby, but she has been pregnant for six months.<sup>37</sup> God can do anything!”

<sup>38</sup>Mary said, “I am the servant of the Lord. Let this happen to me as you say!” Then the angel went away.

Mary Visits Elizabeth

<sup>39</sup>Mary got up and went quickly to a town in the hills of Judea.
<sup>40</sup>She came to Zechariah's house and greeted Elizabeth.
<sup>41</sup>When Elizabeth heard Mary's greeting, the unborn baby inside her jumped, and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit.
<sup>42</sup>She cried out in a loud voice, "God has blessed you more than any other woman, and he has blessed the baby to which you will give birth. <sup>43</sup>Why has this good thing happened to me, that the mother of my Lord comes to me? <sup>44</sup>When I heard your voice, the baby inside me jumped with joy. <sup>45</sup>You are blessed because you believed that what the Lord said to you would really happen."

Mary Praises God

<sup>46</sup>Then Mary said,

"My soul praises the Lord;

<sup>47</sup>my heart rejoices in God my Savior,

<sup>48</sup>because he has shown his concern for his humble servant girl.

From now on, all people will say that I am blessed,

<sup>49</sup>because the Powerful One has done great things for me.

His name is holy.

<sup>50</sup>God will show his mercy forever and ever to those who worship and serve him.

<sup>51</sup>He has done mighty deeds by his power. He has scattered the people who are proud and think great things about themselves.

<sup>52</sup>He has brought down rulers from their thrones and raised up the humble.

<sup>53</sup>He has filled the hungry with good things and sent the rich away with nothing.

<sup>54</sup>He has helped his servant, the people of Israel, remembering to show them mercy

<sup>56</sup>Mary stayed with Elizabeth for about three months and then returned home.

The Birth of John

<sup>57</sup>When it was time for Elizabeth to give birth, she had a boy.

<sup>58</sup>Her neighbors and relatives heard how good the Lord was to her, and they rejoiced with her.

<sup>59</sup>When the baby was eight days old, they came to circumcise him. They wanted to name him Zechariah because this was his father’s name, <sup>60</sup>but his mother said, “No! He will be named John.”

<sup>61</sup>The people said to Elizabeth, “But no one in your family has this name.” <sup>62</sup>Then they made signs to his father to find out what he would like to name him.

who heard about them wondered, saying, “What will this child be?” because the Lord was with him.

Zechariah Praises God

<sup>67</sup>Then Zechariah, John’s father, was filled with the Holy Spirit and prophesied:

<sup>68</sup>“Let us praise the Lord, the God of Israel, because he has come to help his people and has given them freedom.

<sup>69</sup>He has given us a powerful Savior from the family of God’s servant David.

<sup>70</sup>He said that he would do this through his holy prophets who lived long ago:

<sup>71</sup>He promised he would save us from our enemies and from the power of all those who hate us.

<sup>72</sup>He said he would give mercy to our fathers and that he would remember his holy promise.

<sup>74</sup>that he would save us from the power of our enemies so we could serve him without fear,

<sup>75</sup>being holy and good before God as long as we live.

<sup>76</sup>“Now you, child, will be called a prophet of the Most High God.

You will go before the Lord to prepare his way.

<sup>77</sup>You will make his people know that they will be saved

by having their sins forgiven.

<sup>78</sup>With the loving mercy of our God,

a new day from heaven will dawn upon us.
<sup>79</sup>It will shine on those who live in darkness, in the shadow of death.
It will guide us into the path of peace.”

<sup>80</sup>And so the child grew up and became strong in spirit.
John lived in the desert until the time when he came out to preach to Israel.

Life Lessons

Luke 2:1-52

Situation

Luke gave an account of the birth of Jesus and his early life. In his culture, boys were considered responsible adults around the age of twelve. It was not, therefore, irresponsible of Joseph and Mary to accidentally leave Jesus behind. They must have thought he was traveling with another part of the group.

Observation

God's Son became a person and lived with us for a while. During his life he was sad, happy, excited, and disappointed. God knows what life on earth is like.

Inspiration

The implications of the name "Immanuel" are both comforting and unsettling. Comforting, because He has come to share the danger as well as the drudgery of our everyday lives. He desires to weep with us and to wipe away our tears. And what seems most bizarre, Jesus Christ, the Son of God, longs to share in and to be the source of the laughter and the joy we all too rarely know.

The implications are unsettling. It is one thing to claim that God looks down upon us, from a safe distance, and speaks to us (via long distance, we hope). But to say that He is right here, is to put ourselves and Him in a totally new Situation. He is no longer the calm and benevolent observer in the sky, the kindly old caricature with the beard. His image becomes that of Jesus, who wept and laughed, who fasted and feasted, and who, above all, was fully present to those He loved. He was there with them. He is here with us . . . .

Most incredible, however, are the times we know He is with us in the midst of our daily, routine lives. In the middle of cleaning the house or driving somewhere in the pick-up, He stops us ... in our tracks and makes His presence known. Often it's in the middle of the most mundane task that He lets us know He is there with us. We realize, then, that there can be no "ordinary" moments for people who live their lives with Jesus.

Jesus paid a tremendous price to be with us. Certainly the cross was the most obvious cost. But I believe more is in view.

We focus so much on the fact that Jesus died for us, we sometimes forget that He also lived for us and lives for us still. If Jesus had simply come as Himself, and not as one of us, the Bible makes it quite clear that we could not have borne the sight of His presence, any more than Moses could have looked directly at the face of God.

Imagine what it would be like to be at the Father's side one moment and struggling to sleep in a cattle trough the next. Imagine what it would be like to go from hearing the praise of angels to suffering the taunts of stupid men. The cost to Jesus is an indication of the incredible value of what He came to give us. And because no one will ever fully know what that cost Jesus, we can only begin to understand the incredible value of His gift to us. (From Immanuel by Michael Card)

Application

Take a moment and reflect on what “Immanuel—God with us” means to you in your daily life. Make it a point to seek God even in the mundane tasks of your life.

Exploration

God with Us—Exodus 33:20–23; Isaiah 7:14; Matthew 1:23; John 14:18–21; Acts 17:28; 2 Corinthians 6:16.

The Birth of Jesus

At that time, Augustus Caesar sent an order that all people in the countries under Roman rule must list their names in a register. <sup>2</sup>This was the first registration; it was taken while Quirinius was governor of Syria. <sup>3</sup>And all went to their own towns to be registered.

<sup>4</sup>So Joseph left Nazareth, a town in Galilee, and went to the town of Bethlehem in Judea, known as the town of David. Joseph went there because he was from the family of David. <sup>5</sup>Joseph registered with Mary, to whom he was engaged and who was now pregnant. <sup>6</sup>While they were in Bethlehem, the time came for Mary to have the baby, <sup>7</sup>and she gave birth to her first son. Because there were no rooms left in the inn, she wrapped the baby with pieces of cloth and laid him in a box where animals are fed.

Shepherds Hear About Jesus

<sup>8</sup>That night, some shepherds were in the fields nearby watching their sheep. <sup>9</sup>Then an angel of the Lord stood before them. The glory of the Lord was shining around them, and they became very frightened. <sup>10</sup>The angel said to them, “Do not be afraid. I am bringing you good news that will be a great joy to all the people. <sup>11</sup>Today your Savior was born in the town of David. He is Christ, the Lord. <sup>12</sup>This is how you will know him: You will find a baby wrapped in pieces of cloth and lying in a feeding box.”

<sup>13</sup>Then a very large group of angels from heaven joined the first angel, praising God and saying:

<sup>14</sup>“Give glory to God in heaven, and on earth let there be peace among the people who please God.”

<sup>15</sup>When the angels left them and went back to heaven, the shepherds said to each other, “Let’s go to Bethlehem. Let’s see this thing that has happened which the Lord has told us about.”

<sup>16</sup>So the shepherds went quickly and found Mary and Joseph and the baby, who was lying in a feeding box. <sup>17</sup>When they had seen him, they told what the angels had said about this child. <sup>18</sup>Everyone was amazed at what the shepherds said to them. <sup>19</sup>But Mary treasured these things and continued to think about them. <sup>20</sup>Then the shepherds went back to their sheep, praising God and thanking him for everything they had seen and heard. It had been just as the angel had told them.

<sup>21</sup>When the baby was eight days old, he was circumcised and was named Jesus, the name given by the angel before the baby began to grow inside Mary.

Jesus Is Presented in the Temple

<sup>22</sup>When the time came for Mary and Joseph to do what the law of Moses taught about being made pure, they took Jesus to

Jerusalem to present him to the Lord. <sup>23</sup>(It is written in the law of the Lord: “Every firstborn male shall be given to the Lord.”)
<sup>24</sup>Mary and Joseph also went to offer a sacrifice, as the law of the Lord says: “You must sacrifice two doves or two young pigeons.”

Simeon Sees Jesus

<sup>25</sup>In Jerusalem lived a man named Simeon who was a good man and godly. He was waiting for the time when God would take away Israel’s sorrow, and the Holy Spirit was in him. <sup>26</sup>Simeon had been told by the Holy Spirit that he would not die before he saw the Christ promised by the Lord. <sup>27</sup>The Spirit led Simeon to the Temple. When Mary and Joseph brought the baby Jesus to the Temple to do what the law said they must do, <sup>28</sup>Simeon took the baby in his arms and thanked God:

<sup>29</sup>“Now, Lord, you can let me, your servant, die in peace as you said.

<sup>30</sup>With my own eyes I have seen your salvation, <sup>31</sup>which you prepared before all people.

and an honor for your people, the Israelites.”

<sup>33</sup>Jesus’ father and mother were amazed at what Simeon had said about him. <sup>34</sup>Then Simeon blessed them and said to Mary, “God has chosen this child to cause the fall and rise of many in Israel. He will be a sign from God that many people will not accept <sup>35</sup>so that the thoughts of many will be made known. And the things that will happen will make your heart sad, too.”

Anna Sees Jesus

<sup>36</sup>There was a prophetess, Anna, from the family of Phanuel in the tribe of Asher. Anna was very old. She had once been married for seven years. <sup>37</sup>Then her husband died, and she was a widow for eighty-four years. Anna never left the Temple but worshiped God, going without food and praying day and night. <sup>38</sup>Standing there at that time, she thanked God and spoke about Jesus to all who were waiting for God to free Jerusalem.

Joseph and Mary Return Home

<sup>39</sup>When Joseph and Mary had done everything the law of the Lord commanded, they went home to Nazareth, their own town in Galilee. <sup>40</sup>The little child grew and became strong. He was filled with wisdom, and God's goodness was upon him.

Jesus As a Boy

<sup>41</sup>Every year Jesus' parents went to Jerusalem for the Passover Feast. <sup>42</sup>When he was twelve years old, they went to the feast as they always did. <sup>43</sup>After the feast days were over, they started home. The boy Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem, but his parents did not know it. <sup>44</sup>Thinking that Jesus was with them in the group, they traveled for a whole day. Then they began to look for him among their family and friends. <sup>45</sup>When they did not find him, they went back to Jerusalem to look for him there. <sup>46</sup>After three days they found Jesus sitting in the Temple with the teachers, listening to them and asking them questions.<sup>47</sup>All who heard him were amazed at his understanding and answers.<sup>48</sup>When Jesus' parents saw him, they were astonished. His mother said to him, "Son, why did you do this to us? Your father and I were very worried about you and have been looking for you."

<sup>49</sup>Jesus said to them, "Why were you looking for me? Didn't you know that I must be in my Father's house?"<sup>50</sup>But they did not understand the meaning of what he said.

<sup>51</sup>Jesus went with them to Nazareth and was obedient to them. But his mother kept in her mind all that had happened.<sup>52</sup>Jesus became wiser and grew physically. People liked him, and he pleased God.

Life Lessons

Luke 3:1–38

Situation

John the Baptist began his ministry and called people to repent of their sins.

Observation

John was a humble man who submitted to God. Not concerned with his own popularity, he knew that his ministry was to point people to Jesus Christ.

Inspiration

John the Baptizer is a powerful example of a called man... . John seems to have had from the very beginning a vivid sense of destiny, the result of a heavenly assignment that came from deep inside himself...

To those who questioned him regarding his feelings about the growing popularity of the Man from Nazareth, he likened his purpose to that of the best man at a wedding: “He who has the bride is the Bridegroom; but the friend [that’s John] of the bridegroom, who stands and hears him, rejoices greatly because of the bridegroom’s voice” (John 3:29). The purpose of the best man is simply to stand with the groom, to make sure that all attention is riveted upon him. The best man would be a fool if in the middle of the wedding processional he suddenly turned to the wedding guests and began to sing a song or engage in a humorous monologue. The best man has fulfilled his purpose most admirably when he draws no attention to himself but focuses all attention upon the bride and groom.

And that is what John did. If Jesus Christ was the groom, to use John's metaphor, then the Baptizer was committed to being the best man and nothing else. That was the purpose that flowed from his call, and he had no desire to aspire to anything beyond. Thus to see the crowd headed toward Christ was all the affirmation John needed; his purpose had been fulfilled. (From Ordering Your Private World by Gordon MacDonald)

Application

Like John, Believers should point people to Jesus Christ. Who are the people God is placing on your heart to pray for, to witness to, and to help?

Exploration

Witnesses for Christ—Matthew 5:13–16; 28:18–20; Mark 16:15; John 15:26–27; 2 Timothy 4:2.

The Preaching of John

It was the fifteenth year of the rule of Tiberius Caesar. These men were under Caesar: Pontius Pilate, the ruler of Judea; Herod, the ruler of Galilee; Philip, Herod's brother, the ruler of Iturea and Traconitis; and Lysanias, the ruler of Abilene.<sup>2</sup> Annas and Caiaphas were the high priests. At this time, the word of God came to John son of Zechariah in the desert.<sup>3</sup> He went all over the area around the Jordan River preaching a baptism of changed hearts and lives for the forgiveness of sins.<sup>4</sup> As it is written in the book of Isaiah the prophet:

“This is a voice of one
who calls out in the desert:

‘Prepare the way for the Lord.
Make the road straight for him.

<sup>5</sup>Every valley should be filled in,
and every mountain and hill should be made flat.
Roads with turns should be made straight, and rough roads should be made smooth.

<sup>6</sup>And all people will know about the salvation of God!’

Isaiah 40:3–5

<sup>7</sup>To the crowds of people who came to be baptized by John, he said, “You are all snakes! Who warned you to run away from God's coming punishment? <sup>8</sup>Do the things that show you really have changed your hearts and lives. Don't begin to say to yourselves, 'Abraham is our father.' I tell you that God could make children for Abraham from these rocks. <sup>9</sup>The ax is now ready to cut down the trees, and every tree that does not produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire."

<sup>10</sup>The people asked John, "Then what should we do?"

<sup>11</sup>John answered, "If you have two shirts, share with the person who does not have one. If you have food, share that also."

<sup>12</sup>Even tax collectors came to John to be baptized. They said to him, "Teacher, what should we do?"

<sup>13</sup>John said to them, "Don't take more taxes from people than you have been ordered to take."

<sup>14</sup>The soldiers asked John, "What about us? What should we do?"

John said to them, "Don't force people to give you money, and don't lie about them. Be satisfied with the pay you get."

<sup>15</sup>Since the people were hoping for the Christ to come, they wondered if John might be the one.

<sup>16</sup>John answered everyone, "I baptize you with water, but there is one coming who is greater than I am. I am not good enough to untie his sandals. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire. <sup>17</sup>He will come ready to clean the grain, separating the good grain from the chaff. He will put the good part of the grain into his barn, but he will burn the chaff with a fire that cannot be put out." <sup>18</sup>And John continued to preach the Good News, saying many other things to encourage the people.

his sin with Herodias, the wife of Herod's brother, and because of the many other evil things Herod did.<sup>20</sup> So Herod did something even worse: He put John in prison.

Jesus Is Baptized by John

<sup>21</sup>When all the people were being baptized by John, Jesus also was baptized. While Jesus was praying, heaven opened <sup>22</sup>and the Holy Spirit came down on him in the form of a dove. Then a voice came from heaven, saying, "You are my Son, whom I love, and I am very pleased with you."

Luke 4:1–44

Situation

The Jewish people had been expecting the Messiah for a long time. They believed that he would free Israel from foreign rule and restore the nation to its prominence and greatness. As Jesus served, performed miracles, and spoke words with wisdom, the people were amazed and confused. Jesus was not the type of messiah they had been expecting.

Observation

Because the Jews assumed they knew what the Messiah would look like, they had a difficult time recognizing Jesus as God's Messiah.

Inspiration

Early one Saturday morning Jesus returned to Nazareth to speak in the synagogue. His friends and relatives and neighbors gathered in great excitement. They had watched Him grow to manhood; they knew His parents, Mary and Joseph. So they were astonished at His air of authority as He strode to the center of the crowded stone room and was handed the book of the prophet Isaiah from the Torah shrine. He found the passage He wanted, then read the ancient prophecy: "The Spirit of the Lord is on me, because he has anointed me to preach good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim freedom for the prisoners and recovery of sight for the blind, to release the oppressed, to proclaim the year of the Lord's favor.”

Jesus handed the Scriptures back to the attendant and stared quietly at the rows of townspeople. “Today,” He said slowly, “this Scripture is fulfilled in your hearing.”

At first there were gasps, then excited murmurings. Was Jesus claiming that their hopes were to be realized? Had the long-dreamed-of day of the Lord—the coming of Messiah—arrived?

Jesus knew what they were thinking. “No prophet,” He said steadily, “is accepted in his hometown.” Then He reminded them of two stories they knew well from their heritage: During a great drought, the prophet Elijah had brought water not to the dying widows of Israel, but to a heathen widow; and his successor Elisha had ignored Jewish lepers and cleansed a Syrian instead.

His words were like a dash of cold water in the faces of the crowd. They expected liberation for the Jews and judgment for all others. Now this arrogant young man was extending the long-awaited promise of their liberation with one hand and insinuating their own judgment with the other.

The crowd surged forward and dragged Jesus out of the building, shoving Him to the brow of the hill on which the synagogue perched. But when they reached the edge, they discovered that in the confusion, Jesus had slipped away.

This humble message at the remote Nazareth synagogue was the inaugural address for Jesus' entire ministry. Through it He formally announced His messiahship and the rule of God in this world. As a result, human history was forever altered.

The Kingdom of God had come. (From Kingdoms in Conflict by Charles Colson)

Jesus Is Tempted by the Devil

Jesus, filled with the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan River. The Spirit led Jesus into the desert <sup>2</sup>where the devil tempted Jesus for forty days. Jesus ate nothing during that time, and when those days were ended, he was very hungry.

<sup>3</sup>The devil said to Jesus, “If you are the Son of God, tell this rock to become bread.”

<sup>4</sup>Jesus answered, “It is written in the Scriptures: ‘A person does not live by eating only bread.’”

<sup>5</sup>Then the devil took Jesus and showed him all the kingdoms of the world in an instant. <sup>6</sup>The devil said to Jesus, “I will give you all these kingdoms and all their power and glory. It has all been given to me, and I can give it to anyone I wish. <sup>7</sup>If you worship me, then it will all be yours.”

<sup>8</sup>Jesus answered, “It is written in the Scriptures: ‘You must worship the Lord your God and serve only him.’”

<sup>9</sup>Then the devil led Jesus to Jerusalem and put him on a high place of the Temple. He said to Jesus, “If you are the Son of God, jump down. <sup>10</sup>It is written in the Scriptures:

‘He has put his angels in charge of you to watch over you.’

Psalm 91:11

<sup>11</sup>It is also written:

“They will catch you in their hands
so that you will not hit your foot on a rock.”

Psalm 91:12

<sup>12</sup>Jesus answered, “But it also says in the Scriptures: ‘Do not test the Lord your God.’”

<sup>13</sup>After the devil had tempted Jesus in every way, he left him to wait until a better time.

Jesus Teaches the People

<sup>14</sup>Jesus returned to Galilee in the power of the Holy Spirit, and stories about him spread all through the area. <sup>15</sup>He began to teach in their synagogues, and everyone praised him.

<sup>16</sup>Jesus traveled to Nazareth, where he had grown up. On the Sabbath day he went to the synagogue, as he always did, and stood up to read. <sup>17</sup>The book of Isaiah the prophet was given to him. He opened the book and found the place where this is written:

<sup>18</sup>“The Lord has put his Spirit in me, because he appointed me to tell the Good News to the poor.

He has sent me to tell the captives they are free and to tell the blind that they can see again.

Isaiah 61:1

God sent me to free those who have been treated unfairly

Isaiah 58:6

<sup>19</sup>and to announce the time when the Lord will show his kindness.”

Isaiah 61:2

<sup>20</sup>Jesus closed the book, gave it back to the assistant, and sat down. Everyone in the synagogue was watching Jesus closely. <sup>21</sup>He began to say to them, “While you heard these words just now, they were coming true!”

<sup>22</sup>All the people spoke well of Jesus and were amazed at the words of grace he spoke. They asked, “Isn’t this Joseph’s son?”

<sup>23</sup>Jesus said to them, “I know that you will tell me the old saying: ‘Doctor, heal yourself.’ You want to say, ‘We heard about the things you did in Capernaum. Do those things here in your own town!’” <sup>24</sup>Then Jesus said, “I tell you the truth, a prophet is not accepted in his hometown. <sup>25</sup>But I tell you the truth, there were many widows in Israel during the time of Elijah. It did not rain in Israel for three and one-half years, and there was no food anywhere in the whole country. <sup>26</sup>But Elijah was sent to none of those widows, only to a widow in Zarephath, a town in Sidon. <sup>27</sup>And there were many with skin diseases living in Israel during the time of the prophet Elisha. But none of them were healed, only Naaman, who was from the country of Syria.”

<sup>28</sup>When all the people in the synagogue heard these things, they became very angry. <sup>29</sup>They got up, forced Jesus out of town, and took him to the edge of the cliff on which the town was built. They planned to throw him off the edge, <sup>30</sup>but Jesus walked through the crowd and went on his way.

Jesus Forces Out an Evil Spirit

<sup>35</sup>Jesus commanded the evil spirit, “Be quiet! Come out of the man!” The evil spirit threw the man down to the ground before all the people and then left the man without hurting him.

<sup>36</sup>The people were amazed and said to each other, “What does this mean? With authority and power he commands evil spirits, and they come out.” <sup>37</sup>And so the news about Jesus spread to every place in the whole area.

Jesus Heals Many People

<sup>38</sup>Jesus left the synagogue and went to the home of Simon. Simon’s mother-in-law was sick with a high fever, and they asked Jesus to help her. <sup>39</sup>He came to her side and commanded the fever to leave. It left her, and immediately she got up and began serving them.

<sup>40</sup>When the sun went down, the people brought those who were sick to Jesus. Putting his hands on each sick person, he healed every one of them. <sup>41</sup>Demons came out of many people, shouting, “You are the Son of God.” But Jesus commanded the demons and would not allow them to speak, because they knew Jesus was the Christ.

looked for him. When they found him, they tried to keep him from leaving. <sup>43</sup>But Jesus said to them, “I must preach about God’s kingdom to other towns, too. This is why I was sent.”

<sup>44</sup>Then he kept on preaching in the synagogues of Judea.

Life Lessons

Luke 5:1–39

Situation

Luke continued to tell about what Jesus did on earth. Jesus began to call his disciples and perform various miracles.

Observation

Luke emphasized how people responded in faith to Jesus and were rewarded by blessings greater than they could imagine.

Inspiration

Whether he was born paralyzed or became paralyzed—the end result was the same: total dependence on others... . When people looked at him, they didn't see the man; they saw a body in need of a miracle. That's not what Jesus saw, but that's what the people saw. And that's certainly what his friends saw. So they did what any of us would do for a friend. They tried to get him some help... .

By the time his friends arrived at the place, the house was full. People jammed the doorways. Kids sat in the windows. Others peeked over shoulders. How would this small band of friends ever attract Jesus' attention? They had to make a choice. Do we go in or give up?

What would have happened had the friends given up? What if they had shrugged their shoulders and mumbled something about the crowd being big and dinner getting cold and turned and left? After all, they had done a good deed in coming this far. Who could fault them for turning back? You can only do so much for somebody. But these friends hadn't done enough.

One said that he had an idea. The four huddled over the paralytic and listened to the plan to climb to the top of the house, cut through the roof, and lower their friend down with their sashes.

It was risky—they could fall. It was dangerous—he could fall. It was unorthodox—de-roofing is antisocial. It was intrusive—Jesus was busy. But it was their only chance to see Jesus. So they climbed to the roof.

Faith does these things. Faith does the unexpected. And faith gets God's attention...

Jesus was moved by the scene of faith. So he applauds—if not with his hands, at least with his heart. And not only does he applaud, he blesses. And we witness a divine loveburst.

The friends want him to heal their friend. But Jesus won't settle for a simple healing of the body—he wants to heal the soul. He leapfrogs the physical and deals with the spiritual. To heal the body is temporal; to heal the soul is eternal... So strong was his love for this crew of faith that he went beyond their appeal and went straight to the cross.

Jesus already knows the cost of grace. He already knows the price of forgiveness. But he offers it anyway. Love bursts in his heart...

And though we can't hear it here, the angels can hear him there. All of heaven must pause as another burst of love declares the only words that really matter: “Your sins are forgiven.” (From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

Jesus' First Followers

One day while Jesus was standing beside Lake Galilee, many people were pressing all around him to hear the word of God.<sup>2</sup> Jesus saw two boats at the shore of the lake. The fishermen had left them and were washing their nets.<sup>3</sup> Jesus got into one of the boats, the one that belonged to Simon, and asked him to push off a little from the land. Then Jesus sat down and continued to teach the people from the boat.

<sup>4</sup>When Jesus had finished speaking, he said to Simon, "Take the boat into deep water, and put your nets in the water to catch some fish."

<sup>5</sup>Simon answered, "Master, we worked hard all night trying to catch fish, and we caught nothing. But you say to put the nets in the water, so I will."<sup>6</sup>When the fishermen did as Jesus told them, they caught so many fish that the nets began to break.<sup>7</sup>They called to their partners in the other boat to come and help them. They came and filled both boats so full that they were almost sinking.

<sup>8</sup>When Simon Peter saw what had happened, he bowed down before Jesus and said, "Go away from me, Lord. I am a sinful man!"<sup>9</sup>He and the other fishermen were amazed at the many fish they caught, as were<sup>10</sup>James and John, the sons of Zebedee, Simon's partners.

Jesus said to Simon, "Don't be afraid. From now on you will fish for people."<sup>11</sup>When the men brought their boats to the shore, they left everything and followed Jesus.

Jesus Heals a Sick Man

<sup>12</sup>When Jesus was in one of the towns, there was a man covered with a skin disease. When he saw Jesus, he bowed before him and begged him, “Lord, you can heal me if you will.”

<sup>13</sup>Jesus reached out his hand and touched the man and said, “I will. Be healed!” Immediately the disease disappeared. <sup>14</sup>Then Jesus said, “Don’t tell anyone about this, but go and show yourself to the priest and offer a gift for your healing, as Moses commanded. This will show the people what I have done.”

<sup>15</sup>But the news about Jesus spread even more. Many people came to hear Jesus and to be healed of their sicknesses, <sup>16</sup>but Jesus often slipped away to be alone so he could pray.

Jesus Heals a Paralyzed Man

<sup>17</sup>One day as Jesus was teaching the people, the Pharisees and teachers of the law from every town in Galilee and Judea and from Jerusalem were there. The Lord was giving Jesus the power to heal people. <sup>18</sup>Just then, some men were carrying on a mat a man who was paralyzed. They tried to bring him in and put him down before Jesus. <sup>19</sup>But because there were so many people there, they could not find a way in. So they went up on the roof and lowered the man on his mat through the ceiling into the middle of the crowd right before Jesus. <sup>20</sup>Seeing their faith, Jesus said, “Friend, your sins are forgiven.”

to themselves, “Who is this man who is speaking as if he were God? Only God can forgive sins.”

<sup>22</sup>But Jesus knew what they were thinking and said, “Why are you thinking these things? <sup>23</sup>Which is easier: to say, ‘Your sins are forgiven,’ or to say, ‘Stand up and walk?’ <sup>24</sup>But I will prove to you that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins.” So Jesus said to the paralyzed man, “I tell you, stand up, take your mat, and go home.”

<sup>25</sup>At once the man stood up before them, picked up his mat, and went home, praising God. <sup>26</sup>All the people were fully amazed and began to praise God. They were filled with much respect and said, “Today we have seen amazing things!”

Levi Follows Jesus

<sup>27</sup>After this, Jesus went out and saw a tax collector named Levi sitting in the tax collector’s booth. Jesus said to him, “Follow me!” <sup>28</sup>So Levi got up, left everything, and followed him.

<sup>29</sup>Then Levi gave a big dinner for Jesus at his house. Many tax collectors and other people were eating there, too. <sup>30</sup>But the Pharisees and the men who taught the law for the Pharisees began to complain to Jesus’ followers, “Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners?”

<sup>31</sup>Jesus answered them, “It is not the healthy people who need a doctor, but the sick. <sup>32</sup>I have not come to invite good people but sinners to change their hearts and lives.”

Jesus Answers a Question

<sup>33</sup>They said to Jesus, “John’s followers often give up eating for a certain time and pray, just as the Pharisees do. But your followers eat and drink all the time.”

<sup>34</sup>Jesus said to them, “You cannot make the friends of the bridegroom give up eating while he is still with them. <sup>35</sup>But the time will come when the bridegroom will be taken away from them, and then they will give up eating.”

<sup>36</sup>Jesus told them this story: “No one takes cloth off a new coat to cover a hole in an old coat. Otherwise, he ruins the new coat, and the cloth from the new coat will not be the same as the old cloth. <sup>37</sup>Also, no one ever pours new wine into old leather bags. Otherwise, the new wine will break the bags, the wine will spill out, and the leather bags will be ruined. <sup>38</sup>New wine must be put into new leather bags. <sup>39</sup>No one after drinking old wine wants new wine, because he says, ‘The old wine is better.’”

Life Lessons

Luke 6:1–49

Situation

Jesus called and appointed his apostles. He spent the next three years teaching them.

Observation

The night before Jesus appointed the Twelve Apostles, he prayed.

Inspiration

“Jesus went off to a mountain to pray ...” (Luke 6:12).

Maybe he didn't ask for anything. Maybe he just stood quietly in the presence of Presence and basked in the Majesty. Perhaps he placed his war-weary self before the throne and rested.

Maybe he lifted his head out of the confusion of earth long enough to hear the solution of heaven. Perhaps he was reminded that hard hearts don't faze the Father. That problem people don't perturb the Eternal One.

We don't know what he did or what he said. But we do know the result. The hill became a steppingstone; the storm became a path. And the disciples saw Jesus as they had never seen him before.

During the storm, Jesus prayed. The sky darkened. The winds howled. Yet he prayed. The people grumbled. The disciples doubted. Yet he prayed. When forced to choose between the muscles of men and the mountain of prayer, he prayed.

Jesus did not try to do it by himself. Why should you?

There are crevasses in your life that you cannot cross alone. There are hearts in your world that you cannot change without help. There are mountains that you cannot climb until you climb his mountain.

Climb it. You will be amazed. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Jesus Is Lord over the Sabbath

One Sabbath day Jesus was walking through some fields of grain. His followers picked the heads of grain, rubbed them in their hands, and ate them.<sup>2</sup> Some Pharisees said, “Why do you do what is not lawful on the Sabbath day?”

<sup>3</sup>Jesus answered, “Have you not read what David did when he and those with him were hungry?<sup>4</sup> He went into God’s house and took and ate the holy bread, which is lawful only for priests to eat. And he gave some to the people who were with him.”<sup>5</sup> Then Jesus said to the Pharisees, “The Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath day.”

Jesus Heals a Man’s Hand

<sup>6</sup>On another Sabbath day Jesus went into the synagogue and was teaching, and a man with a crippled right hand was there.<sup>7</sup> The teachers of the law and the Pharisees were watching closely to see if Jesus would heal on the Sabbath day so they could accuse him.<sup>8</sup> But he knew what they were thinking, and he said to the man with the crippled hand, “Stand up here in the middle of everyone.” The man got up and stood there.<sup>9</sup> Then Jesus said to them, “I ask you, which is lawful on the Sabbath day: to do good or to do evil, to save a life or to destroy it?”<sup>10</sup> Jesus looked around at all of them and said to the man, “Hold out your hand.” The man held out his hand, and it was healed.

<sup>11</sup>But the Pharisees and the teachers of the law were very angry and discussed with each other what they could do to Jesus.

Jesus Chooses His Apostles

<sup>12</sup>At that time Jesus went off to a mountain to pray, and he spent the night praying to God. <sup>13</sup>The next morning, Jesus called his followers to him and chose twelve of them, whom he named apostles: <sup>14</sup>Simon (Jesus named him Peter), his brother Andrew, James, John, Philip, Bartholomew, <sup>15</sup>Matthew, Thomas, James son of Alphaeus, Simon (called the Zealot), <sup>16</sup>Judas son of James, and Judas Iscariot, who later turned Jesus over to his enemies.

Jesus Teaches and Heals

<sup>17</sup>Jesus and the apostles came down from the mountain, and he stood on level ground. A large group of his followers was there, as well as many people from all around Judea, Jerusalem, and the seacoast cities of Tyre and Sidon. <sup>18</sup>They all came to hear Jesus teach and to be healed of their sicknesses, and he healed those who were troubled by evil spirits. <sup>19</sup>All the people were trying to touch Jesus, because power was coming from him and healing them all.

<sup>20</sup>Jesus looked at his followers and said,

“You people who are poor are happy,

because the kingdom of God belongs to you.

<sup>21</sup>You people who are now hungry are happy, because you will be satisfied.

You people who are now crying are happy, because you will laugh with joy.

<sup>22</sup>“People will hate you, shut you out, insult you, and say you are evil because you follow the Son of Man. But when they do, you will be happy. <sup>23</sup>Be full of joy at that time, because you have a great reward waiting for you in heaven. Their ancestors did the same things to the prophets.

<sup>24</sup>“But how terrible it will be for you who are rich, because you have had your easy life.

<sup>25</sup>How terrible it will be for you who are full now, because you will be hungry.

How terrible it will be for you who are laughing now, because you will be sad and cry.

<sup>26</sup>“How terrible when everyone says only good things about you, because their ancestors said the same things about the false prophets.

Love Your Enemies

<sup>27</sup>“But I say to you who are listening, love your enemies. Do good to those who hate you, <sup>28</sup>bless those who curse you, pray for those who are cruel to you. <sup>29</sup>If anyone slaps you on one cheek, offer him the other cheek, too. If someone takes your coat, do not stop him from taking your shirt. <sup>30</sup>Give to everyone who asks you, and when someone takes something that is yours, don't ask for it back.<sup>31</sup> Do to others what you would want them to do to you.<sup>32</sup> If you love only the people who love you, what praise should you get? Even sinners love the people who love them.<sup>33</sup> If you do good only to those who do good to you, what praise should you get? Even sinners do that!<sup>34</sup> If you lend things to people, always hoping to get something back, what praise should you get? Even sinners lend to other sinners so that they can get back the same amount!<sup>35</sup> But love your enemies, do good to them, and lend to them without hoping to get anything back. Then you will have a great reward, and you will be children of the Most High God, because he is kind even to people who are ungrateful and full of sin.<sup>36</sup> Show mercy, just as your Father shows mercy.

Look at Yourselves

<sup>37</sup>“Don't judge other people, and you will not be judged. Don't accuse others of being guilty, and you will not be accused of being guilty. Forgive, and you will be forgiven.<sup>38</sup> Give, and you will receive. You will be given much. Pressed down, shaken together, and running over, it will spill into your lap. The way you give to others is the way God will give to you.”

<sup>39</sup>Jesus told them this story: “Can a blind person lead another blind person? No! Both of them will fall into a ditch.<sup>40</sup> A student is not better than the teacher, but the student who has been fully trained will be like the teacher.

me take that little piece of dust out of your eye' when you cannot see that big piece of wood in your own eye! You hypocrite! First, take the wood out of your own eye. Then you will see clearly to take the dust out of your friend's eye.

Two Kinds of Fruit

Two Kinds of People

<sup>46</sup>“Why do you call me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ but do not do what I say? <sup>47</sup>I will show you what everyone is like who comes to me and hears my words and obeys. <sup>48</sup>That person is like a man building a house who dug deep and laid the foundation on rock. When the floods came, the water tried to wash the house away, but it could not shake it, because the house was built well. <sup>49</sup>But the one who hears my words and does not obey is like a man who built his house on the ground without a foundation. When the floods came, the house quickly fell and was completely destroyed.”

Life Lessons

Luke 7:1–50

Situation

People heard about the signs and wonders Jesus was performing and came to meet him. Jesus' popularity kept increasing.

Observation

Jesus pointed to people who had great faith in order to show what God desires from his people.

Inspiration

Two crowds. One entering the city and one leaving. They couldn't be more diverse. The group arriving buzzes with laughter and conversation. They follow Jesus. The group leaving the city is solemn—a herd of sadness hypnotized by the requiem of death. Above them rides the reason for their grief—a cold body on a wicker stretcher.

The woman at the back of the procession is the mother. She has walked this trail before. It seems like just yesterday she buried the body of her husband. Her son walked with her then. Now she walks alone, quarantined in her sadness. She is the victim of this funeral.

She is the one with no arm around her shoulder. She is the one who will sleep in the empty house tonight. She is the one who will make dinner for one and conversation with none. She is the one most violated. The thief stole her most treasured diamond—companionship.

The followers of Jesus stop and step aside as the procession shadows by. The blanket of mourning muffles the laughter of the disciples. No one spoke. What could they say? ...

Jesus, however, knew what to say and what to do. When he saw the mother, his heart began to break ... and his lips began to tighten. He glared at the angel of death that hovered over the body of the boy. "Not this time, Satan. This boy is mine."

At that moment the mother walked in front of him. Jesus spoke to her. "Don't cry." She stopped and looked into this stranger's face. If she wasn't shocked by his presumption, you can bet some of the witnesses were.

Don't cry? Don't cry? What kind of request is that?

A request only God can make.

Jesus stepped toward the bier and touched it. The pall-bearers stopped marching. The mourners ceased moaning. As Jesus stared at the boy, the crowd was silent....

Jesus turned his attention to the dead boy. "Young man," his voice was calm, "come back to life again."

The living stood motionless as the dead came to life. Wooden fingers moved. Gray-pale cheeks blushed. The dead man sat up....

Jesus must have smiled as the two embraced. Stunned, the crowd broke into cheers and applause. They hugged each other and slapped Jesus on the back. Someone proclaimed the undeniable, "God has come to help his people.”

Jesus gave the woman much more than her son. He gave her a secret—a whisper that was overheard by us. “That,” he said pointing at the cot, “that is fantasy. This,” he grinned, putting an arm around the boy, “this is reality.” (From Six Hours One Friday by Max Lucado)

Jesus Heals a Soldier's Servant

When Jesus finished saying all these things to the people, he went to Capernaum.<sup>2</sup> There was an army officer who had a servant who was very important to him. The servant was so sick he was nearly dead.<sup>3</sup> When the officer heard about Jesus, he sent some older Jewish leaders to him to ask Jesus to come and heal his servant.<sup>4</sup> The men went to Jesus and begged him, saying, "This officer is worthy of your help.<sup>5</sup> He loves our people, and he built us a synagogue."

<sup>6</sup>So Jesus went with the men. He was getting near the officer's house when the officer sent friends to say, "Lord, don't trouble yourself, because I am not worthy to have you come into my house."<sup>7</sup> That is why I did not come to you myself. But you only need to command it, and my servant will be healed.<sup>8</sup> I, too, am a man under the authority of others, and I have soldiers under my command. I tell one soldier, 'Go,' and he goes. I tell another soldier, 'Come,' and he comes. I say to my servant, 'Do this,' and my servant does it."

<sup>9</sup>When Jesus heard this, he was amazed. Turning to the crowd that was following him, he said, "I tell you, this is the greatest faith I have found anywhere, even in Israel."

<sup>10</sup>Those who had been sent to Jesus went back to the house where they found the servant in good health.

Jesus Brings a Man Back to Life

<sup>11</sup>Soon afterwards Jesus went to a town called Nain, and his followers and a large crowd traveled with him. <sup>12</sup>When he came near the town gate, he saw a funeral. A mother, who was a widow, had lost her only son. A large crowd from the town was with the mother while her son was being carried out. <sup>13</sup>When the Lord saw her, he felt very sorry for her and said, “Don’t cry.” <sup>14</sup>He went up and touched the coffin, and the people who were carrying it stopped. Jesus said, “Young man, I tell you, get up!” <sup>15</sup>And the son sat up and began to talk. Then Jesus gave him back to his mother.

<sup>16</sup>All the people were amazed and began praising God, saying, “A great prophet has come to us! God has come to help his people.”

<sup>17</sup>This news about Jesus spread through all Judea and into all the places around there.

John Asks a Question

<sup>18</sup>John’s followers told him about all these things. He called for two of his followers <sup>19</sup>and sent them to the Lord to ask, “Are you the One who is to come, or should we wait for someone else?”

<sup>20</sup>When the men came to Jesus, they said, “John the Baptist sent us to you with this question: ‘Are you the One who is to come, or should we wait for someone else?’”

<sup>21</sup>At that time, Jesus healed many people of their sicknesses, diseases, and evil spirits, and he gave sight to many blind people. <sup>22</sup>Then Jesus answered John’s followers,

“Go tell John what you saw and heard here. The blind can see, the crippled can walk, and people with skin diseases are healed. The deaf can hear, the dead are raised to life, and the Good News is preached to the poor. <sup>23</sup>Those who do not stumble in their faith because of me are blessed!”

<sup>24</sup>When John’s followers left, Jesus began talking to the people about John: “What did you go out into the desert to see? A reed blown by the wind? <sup>25</sup>What did you go out to see? A man dressed in fine clothes? No, people who have fine clothes and much wealth live in kings’ palaces. <sup>26</sup>But what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, and I tell you, John is more than a prophet. <sup>27</sup>This was written about him:

‘I will send my messenger ahead of you,
who will prepare the way for you.’

Malachi 3:1

<sup>28</sup>I tell you, John is greater than any other person ever born, but even the least important person in the kingdom of God is greater than John.”

<sup>29</sup>(When the people, including the tax collectors, heard this, they all agreed that God’s teaching was good, because they had been baptized by John. <sup>30</sup>But the Pharisees and experts on the law refused to accept God’s plan for themselves; they did not let John baptize them.)

<sup>31</sup>Then Jesus said, “What shall I say about the people of this time? What are they like? <sup>32</sup>They are like children sitting in the marketplace, calling to one another and saying,

‘We played music for you, but you did not dance;

we sang a sad song, but you did not cry.’

<sup>33</sup>John the Baptist came and did not eat bread or drink wine, and you say, ‘He has a demon in him.’ <sup>34</sup>The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and you say, ‘Look at him! He eats too much and drinks too much wine, and he is a friend of tax collectors and sinners!’ <sup>35</sup>But wisdom is proved to be right by what it does.”

A Woman Washes Jesus’ Feet

<sup>36</sup>One of the Pharisees asked Jesus to eat with him, so Jesus went into the Pharisee’s house and sat at the table. <sup>37</sup>A sinful woman in the town learned that Jesus was eating at the Pharisee’s house. So she brought an alabaster jar of perfume <sup>38</sup>and stood behind Jesus at his feet, crying. She began to wash his feet with her tears, and she dried them with her hair, kissing them many times and rubbing them with the perfume. <sup>39</sup>When the Pharisee who asked Jesus to come to his house saw this, he thought to himself, “If Jesus were a prophet, he would know that the woman touching him is a sinner!”

<sup>40</sup>Jesus said to the Pharisee, “Simon, I have something to say to you.”

Simon said, “Teacher, tell me.”

<sup>41</sup>Jesus said, “Two people owed money to the same banker. One owed five hundred coins and the other owed fifty. <sup>42</sup>They had no money to pay what they owed, but the banker told both of them they did not have to pay him. Which person will love the banker more?”

one who owed him the most money.”

Jesus said to Simon, “You are right.” <sup>44</sup>Then Jesus turned toward the woman and said to Simon, “Do you see this woman? When I came into your house, you gave me no water for my feet, but she washed my feet with her tears and dried them with her hair. <sup>45</sup>You gave me no kiss of greeting, but she has been kissing my feet since I came in. <sup>46</sup>You did not put oil on my head, but she poured perfume on my feet. <sup>47</sup>I tell you that her many sins are forgiven, so she showed great love. But the person who is forgiven only a little will love only a little.”

<sup>49</sup>The people sitting at the table began to say among themselves, “Who is this who even forgives sins?”

<sup>50</sup>Jesus said to the woman, “Because you believed, you are saved from your sins. Go in peace.”

Life Lessons

Luke 8:1–9:17

Situation

Because of increasing hostility from the Pharisees and Sadducees, Jesus stopped going to the synagogues. Instead, he began to preach in the countryside.

Observation

Jesus emphasized that not only must we hear God's words, but we must act on them, too.

Inspiration

Only when I reach the point where I solemnly place great store upon what He says will it ever become a powerful force in my life.

Only when I really take Him seriously will His word be made Spirit and life (supernatural life) to me.

Only when I recognize that what I am hearing is in fact and in truth divine revelation designed by deity for my own good, will I hear it as a word from above.

God has chosen to articulate Himself to me as a man in four ways: through the natural created universe around me; through His word expressed by inspired men who reported it in human language I can read and understand; through the person of Jesus Christ, the Word made flesh, exemplified in human form; through those other men and women in whom He deigns to reside by His own Gracious Spirit.

He may speak to me deliberately and distinctly through any one or all of these ways. It is my responsibility then to recognize: “O God, You are communicating with me. I will listen. I do recognize Your voice communing with me.” ...

I must set aside whatever else preoccupies my thoughts and give my undivided attention to the Lord.

It is not good enough to “half listen” to God. He demands my total concentration on what He is conveying to me. He knows that anything less will leave me halfhearted....

My positive response results in immediate action on my part. His will is done. His wishes are carried out. His desires are complied with happily. His commands are executed without delay or debate.

In short I simply do what He asks me to do.

This is faith in action—the faith of obedience.

This is the gateway into the good ground of God’s garden.

This is to “hear” the Word and have it come alive.

This is to have Him implant the good seed of His good intentions for me in the good, warm, open, prepared soil of my responsive soul.

The seed will germinate. The young plants will prosper and grow vigorously. There will be fruit production of His choosing—a harvest that delights Him and refreshes others. (From A Gardener Looks at the Fruits of the Spirit by Phillip Keller)

Application

As you read God’s Word, listen to the Holy Spirit. What is God telling you to do? Don’t ignore his prodding—obey him now.

The Group with Jesus

After this, while Jesus was traveling through some cities and small towns, he preached and told the Good News about God's kingdom. The twelve apostles were with him,<sup>2</sup> and also some women who had been healed of sicknesses and evil spirits: Mary, called Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone out;<sup>3</sup> Joanna, the wife of Cuza (the manager of Herod's house); Susanna; and many others. These women used their own money to help Jesus and his apostles.

A Story About Planting Seed

<sup>4</sup>When a great crowd was gathered, and people were coming to Jesus from every town, he told them this story:

<sup>5</sup>“A farmer went out to plant his seed. While he was planting, some seed fell by the road. People walked on the seed, and the birds ate it up. <sup>6</sup>Some seed fell on rock, and when it began to grow, it died because it had no water. <sup>7</sup>Some seed fell among thorny weeds, but the weeds grew up with it and choked the good plants. <sup>8</sup>And some seed fell on good ground and grew and made a hundred times more.”

As Jesus finished the story, he called out, “You people who can hear me, listen!”

<sup>10</sup>Jesus said, “You have been chosen to know the secrets about the kingdom of God. But I use stories to speak to other people so that:

‘They will look, but they may not see.
They will listen, but they may not understand.’

Isaiah 6:9

<sup>11</sup>“This is what the story means: The seed is God’s message. <sup>12</sup>The seed that fell beside the road is like the people who hear God’s teaching, but the devil comes and takes it away from them so they cannot believe it and be saved. <sup>13</sup>The seed that fell on rock is like those who hear God’s teaching and accept it gladly, but they don’t allow the teaching to go deep into their lives. They believe for a while, but when trouble comes, they give up. <sup>14</sup>The seed that fell among the thorny weeds is like those who hear God’s teaching, but they let the worries, riches, and pleasures of this life keep them from growing and producing good fruit. <sup>15</sup>And the seed that fell on the good ground is like those who hear God’s teaching with good, honest hearts and obey it and patiently produce good fruit.

Use What You Have

<sup>16</sup>“No one after lighting a lamp covers it with a bowl or hides it under a bed. Instead, the person puts it on a lampstand so those who come in will see the light. <sup>17</sup>Everything that is hidden will become clear, and every secret thing will be made known. <sup>18</sup>So be careful how you listen. Those who have understanding will be given more. But those who do not have understanding, even what they think they have will be taken away from them.”

Jesus' True Family

<sup>19</sup>Jesus' mother and brothers came to see him, but there was such a crowd they could not get to him. <sup>20</sup>Someone said to Jesus, “Your mother and your brothers are standing outside, wanting to see you.”

<sup>21</sup>Jesus answered them, “My mother and my brothers are those who listen to God's teaching and obey it!”

Jesus Calms a Storm

<sup>22</sup>One day Jesus and his followers got into a boat, and he said to them, “Let's go across the lake.” And so they started across. <sup>23</sup>While they were sailing, Jesus fell asleep. A very strong wind blew up on the lake, causing the boat to fill with water, and they were in danger.

<sup>24</sup>The followers went to Jesus and woke him, saying, “Master! Master! We will drown!”

Jesus got up and gave a command to the wind and the waves. They stopped, and it became calm. <sup>25</sup>Jesus said to his followers, “Where is your faith?”

The followers were afraid and amazed and said to each other, “Who is this that commands even the wind and the water, and they obey him?”

A Man with Demons Inside Him

<sup>26</sup>Jesus and his followers sailed across the lake from Galilee to the area of the Gerasene people. <sup>27</sup>When Jesus got out on the land, a man from the town who had demons inside him came to Jesus. For a long time he had worn no clothes and had lived in the burial caves, not in a house. <sup>28</sup>When he saw Jesus, he cried out and fell down before him. He said with a loud voice, “What do you want with me, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I beg you, don’t torture me!” <sup>29</sup>He said this because Jesus was commanding the evil spirit to come out of the man. Many times it had taken hold of him. Though he had been kept under guard and chained hand and foot, he had broken his chains and had been forced by the demon out into a lonely place.

He answered, “Legion.” because many demons were in him.

<sup>31</sup>The demons begged Jesus not to send them into eternal darkness. <sup>32</sup>A large herd of pigs was feeding on a hill, and the demons begged Jesus to allow them to go into the pigs. So Jesus allowed them to do this. <sup>33</sup>When the demons came out of the man, they went into the pigs, and the herd ran down the hill into the lake and was drowned.

<sup>34</sup>When the herdsmen saw what had happened, they ran away and told about this in the town and the countryside. <sup>35</sup>And people went to see what had happened. When they came to Jesus, they found the man sitting at Jesus’ feet, clothed and in his right mind, because the demons were gone. But the people were frightened. <sup>36</sup>The people who saw this happen told the others how Jesus had made the man well. <sup>37</sup>All the people of the Gerasene country asked Jesus to leave, because they were all very afraid. So Jesus got into the boat and went back to Galilee.

<sup>38</sup>The man whom Jesus had healed begged to go with him, but Jesus sent him away, saying, <sup>39</sup>“Go back home and tell people how much God has done for you.” So the man went all over town telling how much Jesus had done for him.

Jesus Gives Life to a Dead Girl and Heals a Sick Woman

<sup>40</sup>When Jesus got back to Galilee, a crowd welcomed him, because everyone was waiting for him. <sup>41</sup>A man named Jairus, a leader of the synagogue, came to Jesus and fell at his feet, begging him to come to his house. <sup>42</sup>Jairus’ only daughter, about twelve years old, was dying.

While Jesus was on his way to Jairus’ house, the people were crowding all around him. <sup>43</sup>A woman was in the crowd who had been bleeding for twelve years, but no one was able to heal her. <sup>44</sup>She came up behind Jesus and touched the edge of his coat, and instantly her bleeding stopped. <sup>45</sup>Then Jesus said, “Who touched me?”

When all the people said they had not touched him, Peter said, “Master, the people are all around you and are pushing against you.”

<sup>46</sup>But Jesus said, “Someone did touch me, because I felt power go out from me.” <sup>47</sup>When the woman saw she could not hide, she came forward, shaking, and fell down before Jesus. While all the people listened, she told why she had touched him and how she had been instantly healed. <sup>48</sup>Jesus said to her, “Dear woman, you are made well because you believed. Go in peace.”

<sup>49</sup>While Jesus was still speaking, someone came from the house of the synagogue leader and said to him, “Your daughter is dead. Don’t bother the teacher anymore.”

<sup>50</sup>When Jesus heard this, he said to Jairus, “Don’t be afraid. Just believe, and your daughter will be well.”

<sup>51</sup>When Jesus went to the house, he let only Peter, John, James, and the girl’s father and mother go inside with him. <sup>52</sup>All the people were crying and feeling sad because the girl was dead, but Jesus said, “Stop crying. She is not dead, only asleep.”

<sup>53</sup>The people laughed at Jesus because they knew the girl was dead. <sup>54</sup>But Jesus took hold of her hand and called to her, “My child, stand up!” <sup>55</sup>Her spirit came back into her, and she stood up at once. Then Jesus ordered that she be given something to eat. <sup>56</sup>The girl’s parents were amazed, but Jesus told them not to tell anyone what had happened.

Jesus Sends Out the Apostles

Jesus called the twelve apostles together and gave them power and authority over all demons and the ability to heal sicknesses.<sup>2</sup> He sent the apostles out to tell about God's kingdom and to heal the sick.<sup>3</sup> He said to them, "Take nothing for your trip, neither a walking stick, bag, bread, money, or extra clothes.<sup>4</sup> When you enter a house, stay there until it is time to leave.<sup>5</sup> If people do not welcome you, shake the dust off of your feet as you leave the town, as a warning to them."

<sup>6</sup>So the apostles went out and traveled through all the towns, preaching the Good News and healing people everywhere.

Herod Is Confused About Jesus

<sup>7</sup>Herod, the governor, heard about all the things that were happening and was confused, because some people said, "John the Baptist has risen from the dead."<sup>8</sup> Others said, "Elijah has come to us." And still others said, "One of the prophets who lived long ago has risen from the dead."<sup>9</sup> Herod said, "I cut off John's head, so who is this man I hear such things about?" And Herod kept trying to see Jesus.

More than Five Thousand Fed

<sup>10</sup>When the apostles returned, they told Jesus everything they had done. Then Jesus took them with him to a town called Bethsaida where they could be alone together. <sup>11</sup>But the people learned where Jesus went and followed him. He welcomed them and talked with them about God's kingdom and healed those who needed to be healed.

<sup>12</sup>Late in the afternoon, the twelve apostles came to Jesus and said, "Send the people away. They need to go to the towns and countryside around here and find places to sleep and something to eat, because no one lives in this place."

<sup>13</sup>But Jesus said to them, "You give them something to eat."

They said, "We have only five loaves of bread and two fish, unless we go buy food for all these people." <sup>14</sup>(There were about five thousand men there.)

Jesus said to his followers, "Tell the people to sit in groups of about fifty people."

<sup>15</sup>So the followers did this, and all the people sat down. <sup>16</sup>Then Jesus took the five loaves of bread and two fish, and looking up to heaven, he thanked God for the food. Then he divided the food and gave it to the followers to give to the people. <sup>17</sup>They all ate and were satisfied, and what was left over was gathered up, filling twelve baskets.

Life Lessons

Luke 9:18–10:42

Situation

Luke recorded the stories of busy people. Religious leaders neglected the injured Samaritan because they were too busy. Martha was too busy to merely listen to Jesus. He encouraged his hearers never to be too busy to love God or serve others.

Observation

Demonstrate your love for God by showing love to those who are difficult to love.

Inspiration

A driving rainstorm in an area suffering from drought does not discriminate. All receive the benefits. The same can be said for the sun. It bathes all homes alike with warmth and light. Why? Because God is love. Grace is His style. That is why Christ would minister so graciously to those who hated Him. Love and grace prompt the rain to fall on all the ground and the sun to shine on all the homes. For love to replace hate and grace to replace prejudice, playing favorites must cease. Love and grace befit those who are Fatherlike.

Then how far do we take this love-your-neighbor stuff? Do we love atheists? Yes! Scoffers? Yes! Criminals? Yes! Love, remember, sees the soul and focuses on the heart.

(From Simple Faith by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Jesus Is the Christ

<sup>18</sup>One time when Jesus was praying alone, his followers were with him, and he asked them, “Who do the people say I am?”

<sup>19</sup>They answered, “Some say you are John the Baptist. Others say you are Elijah. And others say you are one of the prophets from long ago who has come back to life.”

<sup>20</sup>Then Jesus asked, “But who do you say I am?”

Peter answered, “You are the Christ from God.”

<sup>21</sup>Jesus warned them not to tell anyone, saying, <sup>22</sup>“The Son of Man must suffer many things. He will be rejected by the older Jewish leaders, the leading priests, and the teachers of the law. He will be killed and after three days will be raised from the dead.”

<sup>23</sup>Jesus said to all of them, “If people want to follow me, they must give up the things they want. They must be willing to give up their lives daily to follow me. <sup>24</sup>Those who want to save their lives will give up true life. But those who give up their lives for me will have true life. <sup>25</sup>It is worth nothing for them to have the whole world if they themselves are destroyed or lost. <sup>26</sup>If people are ashamed of me and my teaching, then the Son of Man will be ashamed of them when he comes in his glory and with the glory of the Father and the holy angels. <sup>27</sup>I tell you the truth, some people standing here will see the kingdom of God before they die.”

Jesus Talks with Moses and Elijah

<sup>28</sup>About eight days after Jesus said these things, he took Peter, John, and James and went up on a mountain to pray. <sup>29</sup>While Jesus was praying, the appearance of his face changed, and his clothes became shining white. <sup>30</sup>Then two men, Moses and Elijah, were talking with Jesus. <sup>31</sup>They appeared in heavenly glory, talking about his departure which he would soon bring about in Jerusalem. <sup>32</sup>Peter and the others were very sleepy, but when they awoke fully, they saw the glory of Jesus and the two men standing with him. <sup>33</sup>When Moses and Elijah were about to leave, Peter said to Jesus, “Master, it is good that we are here. Let us make three tents—one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah.” (Peter did not know what he was talking about.) <sup>34</sup>While he was saying these things, a cloud came and covered them, and they became afraid as the cloud covered them. <sup>35</sup>A voice came from the cloud, saying, “This is my Son, whom I have chosen. Listen to him!”

<sup>36</sup>When the voice finished speaking, only Jesus was there. Peter, John, and James said nothing and told no one at that time what they had seen.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The Son of God

One of the most dramatic scenes in the New Testament occurred in a city known as Caesarea Phillipi... . It was indeed a dramatic picture. In the midst of this carnival of marble columns and golden idols, a penniless, homeless, nameless Nazarene asks his band of followers, “Who do you say that I am?”

The immensity of the question is staggering. I would imagine that Peter’s answer did not come without some hesitation. Shuffling of feet. Anxious silence. How absurd that this man should be the Son of God. No trumpets. No purple robes. No armies. Yet there was that glint of determination in his eye and that edge of certainty in his message. Peter’s response sliced the silence. “I believe that you are ... the Son of God.”

Many have looked at Jesus; but few have seen him. Many have seen his shadow, his people, his story. But only a handful have seen Jesus. Only a few have looked through the fog of religiosity and found him. Only a few have dared to stand eye to eye and heart to heart with Jesus and say, “I believe that you are the Son of God.” (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Jesus Heals a Sick Boy

<sup>37</sup>The next day, when they came down from the mountain, a large crowd met Jesus. <sup>38</sup>A man in the crowd shouted to him, “Teacher, please come and look at my son, because he is my only child. <sup>39</sup>An evil spirit seizes my son, and suddenly he screams. It causes him to lose control of himself and foam at the mouth. The evil spirit keeps on hurting him and almost never leaves him. <sup>40</sup>I begged your followers to force the evil spirit out, but they could not do it.”

<sup>41</sup>Jesus answered, “You people have no faith, and your lives are all wrong. How long must I stay with you and put up with you? Bring your son here.”

<sup>42</sup>While the boy was coming, the demon threw him on the ground and made him lose control of himself. But Jesus gave a strong command to the evil spirit and healed the boy and gave him back to his father. <sup>43</sup>All the people were amazed at the great power of God.

Jesus Talks About His Death

While everyone was wondering about all that Jesus did, he said to his followers, <sup>44</sup>“Don’t forget what I tell you now: The Son of Man will be handed over to people.” <sup>45</sup>But the followers did not understand what this meant; the meaning was hidden from them so they could not understand. But they were afraid to ask Jesus about it.

Who Is the Greatest?

<sup>46</sup>Jesus' followers began to have an argument about which one of them was the greatest. <sup>47</sup>Jesus knew what they were thinking, so he took a little child and stood the child beside him. <sup>48</sup>Then Jesus said, "Whoever accepts this little child in my name accepts me. And whoever accepts me accepts the One who sent me, because whoever is least among you all is really the greatest."

Anyone Not Against Us Is for Us

<sup>49</sup>John answered, "Master, we saw someone using your name to force demons out of people. We told him to stop, because he does not belong to our group."

<sup>50</sup>But Jesus said to him, "Don't stop him, because whoever is not against you is for you."

A Town Rejects Jesus

<sup>51</sup>When the time was coming near for Jesus to depart, he was determined to go to Jerusalem. <sup>52</sup>He sent some men ahead of him, who went into a town in Samaria to make everything ready for him. <sup>53</sup>But the people there would not welcome him, because he was set on going to Jerusalem. <sup>54</sup>When James and John, followers of Jesus, saw this, they said, "Lord, do you want us to call fire down from heaven and destroy those people?" n

<sup>55</sup>But Jesus turned and scolded them. <sup>56</sup>Then n they went to another town.

Following Jesus

<sup>57</sup>As they were going along the road, someone said to Jesus, “I will follow you any place you go.”

<sup>58</sup>Jesus said to them, “The foxes have holes to live in, and the birds have nests, but the Son of Man has no place to rest his head.”

<sup>59</sup>Jesus said to another man, “Follow me!”

But he said, “Lord, first let me go and bury my father.”

<sup>60</sup>But Jesus said to him, “Let the people who are dead bury their own dead. You must go and tell about the kingdom of God.”

<sup>61</sup>Another man said, “I will follow you, Lord, but first let me go and say goodbye to my family.”

<sup>62</sup>Jesus said, “Anyone who begins to plow a field but keeps looking back is of no use in the kingdom of God.”

Jesus Sends Out the Seventy-Two

After this, the Lord chose seventy-two others and sent them out in pairs ahead of him into every town and place where he planned to go.<sup>2</sup> He said to them, “There are a great many people to harvest, but there are only a few workers. So pray to God, who owns the harvest, that he will send more workers to help gather his harvest.<sup>3</sup> Go now, but listen! I am sending you out like sheep among wolves.<sup>4</sup> Don’t carry a purse, a bag, or sandals, and don’t waste time talking with people on the road.<sup>5</sup> Before you go into a house, say, ‘Peace be with this house.’<sup>6</sup> If peaceful people live there, your blessing of peace will stay with them, but if not, then your blessing will come back to you.<sup>7</sup> Stay in the peaceful house, eating and drinking what the people there give you. A worker should be given his pay. Don’t move from house to house.<sup>8</sup> If you go into a town and the people welcome you, eat what they give you.<sup>9</sup> Heal the sick who live there, and tell them, ‘The kingdom of God is near you.’<sup>10</sup> But if you go into a town, and the people don’t welcome you, then go into the streets and say,<sup>11</sup> ‘Even the dirt from your town that sticks to our feet we wipe off against you. But remember that the kingdom of God is near.’<sup>12</sup> I tell you, on the Judgment Day it will be better for the people of Sodom than for the people of that town.

Jesus Warns Unbelievers

Bethsaida! If the miracles I did in you had happened in Tyre and Sidon, those people would have changed their lives long ago. They would have worn rough cloth and put ashes on themselves to show they had changed. <sup>14</sup>But on the Judgment Day it will be better for Tyre and Sidon than for you. <sup>15</sup>And you, Capernaum, will you be lifted up to heaven? No! You will be thrown down to the depths!

<sup>16</sup>“Whoever listens to you listens to me, and whoever refuses to accept you refuses to accept me. And whoever refuses to accept me refuses to accept the One who sent me.”

Satan Falls

<sup>17</sup>When the seventy-two came back, they were very happy and said, “Lord, even the demons obeyed us when we used your name!”

<sup>18</sup>Jesus said, “I saw Satan fall like lightning from heaven. <sup>19</sup>Listen, I have given you power to walk on snakes and scorpions, power that is greater than the enemy has. So nothing will hurt you. <sup>20</sup>But you should not be happy because the spirits obey you but because your names are written in heaven.”

Jesus Prays to the Father

<sup>21</sup>Then Jesus rejoiced in the Holy Spirit and said, “I praise you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because you have hidden these things from the people who are wise and smart. But you have shown them to those who are like little children. Yes, Father, this is what you really wanted.

<sup>22</sup>“My Father has given me all things. No one knows who the Son is, except the Father. And no one knows who the Father is, except the Son and those whom the Son chooses to tell.”

<sup>23</sup>Then Jesus turned to his followers and said privately, “You are blessed to see what you now see. <sup>24</sup>I tell you, many prophets and kings wanted to see what you now see, but they did not, and they wanted to hear what you now hear, but they did not.”

The Good Samaritan

<sup>25</sup>Then an expert on the law stood up to test Jesus, saying, “Teacher, what must I do to get life forever?”

<sup>26</sup>Jesus said, “What is written in the law? What do you read there?”

<sup>27</sup>The man answered, “Love the Lord your God with all your heart, all your soul, all your strength, and all your mind.” Also, “Love your neighbor as you love yourself.”

<sup>28</sup>Jesus said to him, “Your answer is right. Do this and you will live.”

<sup>29</sup>But the man, wanting to show the importance of his question, said to Jesus, “And who is my neighbor?”

<sup>30</sup>Jesus answered, “As a man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, some robbers attacked him. They tore off his clothes, beat him, and left him lying there, almost dead. <sup>31</sup>It happened that a priest was going down that road. When he saw the man, he walked by on the other side. <sup>32</sup>Next, a Levite came there, and after he went over and looked at the man, he walked by on the other side of the road. <sup>33</sup>Then a Samaritan traveling down the road came to where the hurt man was. When he saw the man, he felt very sorry for him.<sup>34</sup>The Samaritan went to him, poured olive oil and wine on his wounds, and bandaged them. Then he put the hurt man on his own donkey and took him to an inn where he cared for him.<sup>35</sup>The next day, the Samaritan brought out two coins, gave them to the innkeeper, and said, “Take care of this man. If you spend more money on him, I will pay it back to you when I come again.”

<sup>36</sup>Then Jesus said, “Which one of these three men do you think was a neighbor to the man who was attacked by the robbers?”

<sup>37</sup>The expert on the law answered, “The one who showed him mercy.”

Jesus said to him, “Then go and do what he did.”

Mary and Martha

<sup>38</sup>While Jesus and his followers were traveling, Jesus went into a town. A woman named Martha let Jesus stay at her house.

<sup>39</sup>Martha had a sister named Mary, who was sitting at Jesus’ feet and listening to him teach.<sup>40</sup>But Martha was busy with all the work to be done. She went in and said, “Lord, don’t you care that my sister has left me alone to do all the work? Tell her to help me.”

<sup>41</sup>But the Lord answered her, “Martha, Martha, you are worried and upset about many things.<sup>42</sup>Only one thing is important. Mary has chosen the better thing, and it will never be taken away from her.”

Life Lessons

Luke 11:1–54

Situation

Jesus gave the disciples a good example by praying constantly. The disciples asked Jesus to teach them how to pray.

Observation

Jesus used a parable to show them they should be persistent in prayer. He said that everyone who asks would receive.

Inspiration

I like the King James translation of [Hebrews 11:6]: “He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him” (italics mine).

“Diligently”—what a great word. Be diligent in your search. Be hungry in your quest, relentless in your pilgrimage. Let this book be but one of dozens you read about Jesus and this hour be but one of hundreds in which you seek him. Step away from the puny pursuits of possessions and positions, and seek your king.

Don’t be satisfied with angels. Don’t be content with stars in the sky. Seek him out as the shepherds did. Long for him as Simeon did. Worship him as the wise men did. Do as John and Andrew did: ask for his address. Do as Matthew: invite Jesus into your house. Imitate Zacchaeus. Risk whatever it takes to see Christ.

God rewards those who seek him. Not those who seek doctrine or religion or systems or creeds. Many settle for these lesser passions, but the reward goes to those who settle for nothing less than Jesus himself. And what is the reward? What awaits those who seek Jesus? Nothing short of the heart of Jesus. “We all show the Lord’s glory, and we are being changed to be like him” (2 Corinthians 3:18).

Can you think of a greater gift than to be like Jesus? Christ felt no guilt; God wants to banish yours. Jesus had no bad habits; God wants to remove yours. Jesus had no fear of death; God wants you to be fearless. Jesus had kindness for the diseased and mercy for the rebellious and courage for the challenges. God wants you to have the same.

He loves you just the way you are, but he refuses to leave you that way. He wants you to be just like Jesus.

(From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Application

Describe your spiritual life. In what ways are you diligently seeking after God? How often do you pray, and what do you pray about? Develop a plan to increase your prayer life.

Unity creates belief. Disunity fosters disbelief. —Max Lucado (In the Grip of Grace)

Jesus Teaches About Prayer

One time Jesus was praying in a certain place. When he finished, one of his followers said to him, “Lord, teach us to pray as John taught his followers.”

<sup>2</sup>Jesus said to them, “When you pray, say:

‘Father, may your name always be kept holy.
May your kingdom come.

<sup>3</sup>Give us the food we need for each day.

<sup>4</sup>Forgive us for our sins, because we forgive everyone who has done wrong to us.

And do not cause us to be tempted.’”

Continue to Ask

<sup>5</sup>Then Jesus said to them, “Suppose one of you went to your friend’s house at midnight and said to him, ‘Friend, loan me three loaves of bread. <sup>6</sup>A friend of mine has come into town to visit me, but I have nothing for him to eat.’ <sup>7</sup>Your friend inside the house answers, ‘Don’t bother me! The door is already locked, and my children and I are in bed. I cannot get up and give you anything.’<sup>8</sup> I tell you, if friendship is not enough to make him get up to give you the bread, your boldness will make him get up and give you whatever you need.<sup>9</sup> So I tell you, ask, and God will give to you. Search, and you will find. Knock, and the door will open for you.<sup>10</sup> Yes, everyone who asks will receive. The one who searches will find. And everyone who knocks will have the door opened.<sup>11</sup> If your children ask for a fish, which of you would give them a snake instead?<sup>12</sup> Or, if your children ask for an egg, would you give them a scorpion?<sup>13</sup> Even though you are bad, you know how to give good things to your children. How much more your heavenly Father will give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him!”

Jesus’ Power Is from God

<sup>14</sup>One time Jesus was sending out a demon that could not talk. When the demon came out, the man who had been unable to speak, then spoke. The people were amazed.<sup>15</sup> But some of them said, “Jesus uses the power of Beelzebul, the ruler of demons, to force demons out of people.”

<sup>16</sup>Other people, wanting to test Jesus, asked him to give them a sign from heaven.<sup>17</sup> But knowing their thoughts, he said to them, “Every kingdom that is divided against itself will be destroyed. And a family that is divided against itself will not continue.<sup>18</sup> So if Satan is divided against himself, his kingdom will not continue. You say that I use the power of Beelzebul to force out demons.<sup>19</sup> But if I use the power of Beelzebul to force out demons, what power do your people use to force demons out? So they will be your judges.<sup>20</sup> But if I use the power of God to force out demons, then the kingdom of God has come to you.

<sup>21</sup>“When a strong person with many weapons guards his own house, his possessions are safe. <sup>22</sup>But when someone stronger comes and defeats him, the stronger one will take away the weapons the first man trusted and will give away the possessions.

<sup>23</sup>“Anyone who is not with me is against me, and anyone who does not work with me is working against me.

The Empty Person

<sup>24</sup>“When an evil spirit comes out of a person, it travels through dry places, looking for a place to rest. But when it finds no place, it says, ‘I will go back to the house I left.’ <sup>25</sup>And when it comes back, it finds that house swept clean and made neat. <sup>26</sup>Then the evil spirit goes out and brings seven other spirits more evil than it is, and they go in and live there. So the person has even more trouble than before.”

People Who Are Truly Happy

<sup>27</sup>As Jesus was saying these things, a woman in the crowd called out to Jesus, “Happy is the mother who gave birth to you and nursed you.”

<sup>28</sup>But Jesus said, “No, happy are those who hear the teaching of God and obey it.”

The People Want a Miracle

<sup>29</sup>As the crowd grew larger, Jesus said, “The people who live today are evil. They want to see a miracle for a sign, but no sign will be given them, except the sign of Jonah.<sup>30</sup>As Jonah was a sign for those people who lived in Nineveh, the Son of Man will be a sign for the people of this time.<sup>31</sup>On the Judgment Day the Queen of the South will stand up with the people who live now. She will show they are guilty, because she came from far away to listen to Solomon’s wise teaching. And I tell you that someone greater than Solomon is here.<sup>32</sup>On the Judgment Day the people of Nineveh will stand up with the people who live now, and they will show that you are guilty. When Jonah preached to them, they were sorry and changed their lives. And I tell you that someone greater than Jonah is here.

Be a Light for the World

<sup>33</sup>“No one lights a lamp and puts it in a secret place or under a bowl, but on a lampstand so the people who come in can see.<sup>34</sup>Your eye is a light for the body. When your eyes are good, your whole body will be full of light. But when your eyes are evil, your whole body will be full of darkness.<sup>35</sup>So be careful not to let the light in you become darkness.<sup>36</sup>If your whole body is full of light, and none of it is dark, then you will shine bright, as when a lamp shines on you.”

Jesus Accuses the Pharisees

<sup>37</sup>After Jesus had finished speaking, a Pharisee asked Jesus to eat with him. So Jesus went in and sat at the table.<sup>38</sup>But the Pharisee was surprised when he saw that Jesus did not wash his hands before the meal.<sup>39</sup>The Lord said to him, “You Pharisees clean the outside of the cup and the dish, but inside you are full of greed and evil.<sup>40</sup>You foolish people! The same one who made what is outside also made what is inside.<sup>41</sup>So give what is in your dishes to the poor, and then you will be fully clean.<sup>42</sup>How terrible for you Pharisees! You give God one-tenth of even your mint, your rue, and every other plant in your garden. But you fail to be fair to others and to love God. These are the things you should do while continuing to do those other things.<sup>43</sup>How terrible for you Pharisees, because you love to have the most important seats in the synagogues, and you love to be greeted with respect in the marketplaces.<sup>44</sup>How terrible for you, because you are like hidden graves, which people walk on without knowing.”

Jesus Talks to Experts on the Law

<sup>45</sup>One of the experts on the law said to Jesus, “Teacher, when you say these things, you are insulting us, too.”

<sup>46</sup>Jesus answered, “How terrible for you, you experts on the law! You make strict rules that are very hard for people to obey, but you yourselves don’t even try to follow those rules.<sup>47</sup>How terrible for you, because you build tombs for the prophets whom your ancestors killed!<sup>48</sup>And now you show that you approve of what your ancestors did. They killed the prophets, and you build tombs for them!<sup>49</sup>This is why in his wisdom God said, ‘I will send prophets and apostles to them. They will kill some, and they will treat others cruelly.’<sup>50</sup>So you who live now will be punished for the deaths of all the prophets who were killed since the beginning of the world—<sup>51</sup>from the killing of Abel to the killing of Zechariah, who died between the altar and the Temple. Yes, I tell you that you who are alive now will be punished for them all.

<sup>52</sup>“How terrible for you, you experts on the law. You have taken away the key to learning about God. You yourselves would not learn, and you stopped others from learning, too.”

<sup>53</sup>When Jesus left, the teachers of the law and the Pharisees began to give him trouble, asking him questions about many things, <sup>54</sup>trying to catch him saying something wrong.

Life Lessons

Luke 12:1-59

Situation

Thousands of people gathered around Jesus. Yet he spoke to his disciples, letting the crowd overhear.

Observation

Believers shouldn't worry about the basic necessities of life. If we keep God first in our lives, he will sustain us. He is in control.

Inspiration

Be honest. Are we glad he says no to what we want and yes to what we need? Not always. If we ask for a new marriage, and he says honor the one you've got, we aren't happy. If we ask for healing, and he says learn through the pain, we aren't happy. If we ask for more money, and he says treasure the unseen, we aren't always happy.

When God doesn't do what we want, it's not easy. Never has been. Never will be. But faith is the conviction that God knows more than we do about this life and he will get us through it.

Remember, disappointment is caused by unmet expectations. Disappointment is cured by revamped expectations.

I like that story about the fellow who went to the pet store in search of a singing parakeet. Seems he was a bachelor and his house was too quiet. The store owner had just the bird for him, so the man bought it. The next day the bachelor came home from work to a house full of music. He went to the cage to feed the bird and noticed for the first time that the parakeet had only one leg.

He felt cheated that he'd been sold a one-legged bird, so he called and complained.

“What do you want,” the store owner responded, “a bird who can sing or a bird who can dance?” ...

We need to hear that God is still in control. We need to hear that it's not over until he says so. We need to hear that life's mishaps and tragedies are not a reason to bail out. They are simply a reason to sit tight.

Corrie ten Boom used to say, “When the train goes through a tunnel and the world gets dark, do you jump out? Of course not. You sit still and trust the engineer to get you through.” ...

Next time you're disappointed, don't panic. Don't jump out. Don't give up. Just be patient and let God remind you he's still in control. It ain't over till it's over.

Don't Be Like the Pharisees

So many thousands of people had gathered that they were stepping on each other. Jesus spoke first to his followers, saying, "Beware of the yeast of the Pharisees, because they are hypocrites.<sup>2</sup> Everything that is hidden will be shown, and everything that is secret will be made known.<sup>3</sup> What you have said in the dark will be heard in the light, and what you have whispered in an inner room will be shouted from the housetops.

<sup>4</sup>"I tell you, my friends, don't be afraid of people who can kill the body but after that can do nothing more to hurt you.<sup>5</sup> I will show you the one to fear. Fear the one who has the power to kill you and also to throw you into hell. Yes, this is the one you should fear.

<sup>6</sup>"Five sparrows are sold for only two pennies, and God does not forget any of them.<sup>7</sup> But God even knows how many hairs you have on your head. Don't be afraid. You are worth much more than many sparrows.

Don't Be Ashamed of Jesus

<sup>8</sup>"I tell you, all those who stand before others and say they believe in me, I, the Son of Man, will say before the angels of God that they belong to me.<sup>9</sup> But all who stand before others and say they do not believe in me, I will say before the angels of God that they do not belong to me.

<sup>10</sup>“Anyone who speaks against the Son of Man can be forgiven, but anyone who speaks against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven.

<sup>11</sup>“When you are brought into the synagogues before the leaders and other powerful people, don’t worry about how to defend yourself or what to say. <sup>12</sup>At that time the Holy Spirit will teach you what you must say.”

Jesus Warns Against Selfishness

<sup>13</sup>Someone in the crowd said to Jesus, “Teacher, tell my brother to divide with me the property our father left us.”

<sup>14</sup>But Jesus said to him, “Who said I should judge or decide between you?” <sup>15</sup>Then Jesus said to them, “Be careful and guard against all kinds of greed. Life is not measured by how much one owns.”

<sup>16</sup>Then Jesus told this story: “There was a rich man who had some land, which grew a good crop. <sup>17</sup>He thought to himself, ‘What will I do? I have no place to keep all my crops.’

<sup>18</sup>Then he said, ‘This is what I will do: I will tear down my barns and build bigger ones, and there I will store all my grain and other goods. <sup>19</sup>Then I can say to myself, ‘I have enough good things stored to last for many years. Rest, eat, drink, and enjoy life!’”

<sup>20</sup>“But God said to him, ‘Foolish man! Tonight your life will be taken from you. So who will get those things you have prepared for yourself?’

<sup>21</sup>“This is how it will be for those who store up things for themselves and are not rich toward God.”

Don't Worry

<sup>22</sup>Jesus said to his followers, “So I tell you, don't worry about the food you need to live, or about the clothes you need for your body. <sup>23</sup>Life is more than food, and the body is more than clothes. <sup>24</sup>Look at the birds. They don't plant or harvest, they don't have storerooms or barns, but God feeds them. And you are worth much more than birds. <sup>25</sup>You cannot add any time to your life by worrying about it. <sup>26</sup>If you cannot do even the little things, then why worry about the big things? <sup>27</sup>Consider how the lilies grow; they don't work or make clothes for themselves. But I tell you that even Solomon with his riches was not dressed as beautifully as one of these flowers. <sup>28</sup>God clothes the grass in the field, which is alive today but tomorrow is thrown into the fire. So how much more will God clothe you? Don't have so little faith! <sup>29</sup>Don't always think about what you will eat or what you will drink, and don't keep worrying. <sup>30</sup>All the people in the world are trying to get these things, and your Father knows you need them. <sup>31</sup>But seek God's kingdom, and all the other things you need will be given to you.

Don't Trust in Money

<sup>32</sup>“Don't fear, little flock, because your Father wants to give you the kingdom. <sup>33</sup>Sell your possessions and give to the poor. Get for yourselves purses that will not wear out, the treasure in heaven that never runs out, where thieves can't steal and moths can't destroy. <sup>34</sup>Your heart will be where your treasure is.

Always Be Ready

<sup>35</sup>“Be dressed, ready for service, and have your lamps shining. <sup>36</sup>Be like servants who are waiting for their master to come home from a wedding party. When he comes and knocks, the servants immediately open the door for him. <sup>37</sup>They will be blessed when their master comes home, because he sees that they were watching for him. I tell you the truth, the master will dress himself to serve and tell the servants to sit at the table, and he will serve them. <sup>38</sup>Those servants will be happy when he comes in and finds them still waiting, even if it is midnight or later.

<sup>39</sup>“Remember this: If the owner of the house knew what time a thief was coming, he would not allow the thief to enter his house. <sup>40</sup>So you also must be ready, because the Son of Man will come at a time when you don't expect him!”

Who Is the Trusted Servant?

<sup>41</sup>Peter said, “Lord, did you tell this story to us or to all people?”

<sup>42</sup>The Lord said, “Who is the wise and trusted servant that the master trusts to give the other servants their food at the right time? <sup>43</sup>When the master comes and finds the servant doing his work, the servant will be blessed. <sup>44</sup>I tell you the truth, the master will choose that servant to take care of everything he owns.<sup>45</sup> But suppose the servant thinks to himself, ‘My master will not come back soon,’ and he begins to beat the other servants, men and women, and to eat and drink and get drunk.<sup>46</sup> The master will come when that servant is not ready and is not expecting him. Then the master will cut him in pieces and send him away to be with the others who don’t obey.

<sup>47</sup>“The servant who knows what his master wants but is not ready, or who does not do what the master wants, will be beaten with many blows!<sup>48</sup> But the servant who does not know what his master wants and does things that should be punished will be beaten with few blows. From everyone who has been given much, much will be demanded. And from the one trusted with much, much more will be expected.

Jesus Causes Division

<sup>49</sup>“I came to set fire to the world, and I wish it were already burning!<sup>50</sup> I have a baptism to suffer through, and I feel very troubled until it is over.<sup>51</sup> Do you think I came to give peace to the earth? No, I tell you, I came to divide it.<sup>52</sup> From now on, a family with five people will be divided, three against two, and two against three.<sup>53</sup> They will be divided: father against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law.”

Understanding the Times

<sup>54</sup>Then Jesus said to the people, “When you see clouds coming up in the west, you say, 'It's going to rain,' and it happens. <sup>55</sup>When you feel the wind begin to blow from the south, you say, 'It will be a hot day,' and it happens. <sup>56</sup>Hypocrites! You know how to understand the appearance of the earth and sky. Why don't you understand what is happening now?

Settle Your Problems

<sup>57</sup>“Why can't you decide for yourselves what is right? <sup>58</sup>If your enemy is taking you to court, try hard to settle it on the way. If you don't, your enemy might take you to the judge, and the judge might turn you over to the officer, and the officer might throw you into jail. <sup>59</sup>I tell you, you will not get out of there until you have paid everything you owe.”

Life Lessons

Luke 13:1–35

Situation

Many Jews believed that good fortune, health, and wealth were signs of God’s approval and that hardships or tragedies were signs of God’s judgment.

Observation

When others experience hardship, it is easy to judge them. Jesus taught that the best response is compassion.

Inspiration

God has a beautiful way of taking what is negative and turning it around for His glory—if we let Him... . If we will respond properly to our failure, God can use it to bring Himself glory and to better prepare us for His service.

The first stage in the recovery process is repentance... .

Genuine repentance involves several things. First of all, confession. Not just, “Lord, I am sorry for my mistake,” but, “Lord, I have sinned against You.” Confession acknowledges guilt. Second, repentance involves the recognition that the sin was against God... .

Last, repentance requires total honesty with God. You know, we won’t always be holy, but we can always be honest. I believe God is looking for us to be honest about our sin—honest about our weaknesses, our failures, and our frustrations.

Honesty promotes fellowship. As long as we continue to be open and honest with God, He can continue to work with us, even after we have committed our most grievous sin.

(From Winning the War Within by Charles Stanley)

Application

Don't fool yourself by thinking that sins will be ignored. Confess your sins today, and enjoy the freedom that God wants for you.

Exploration

Repentance—2 Chronicles 7:14; Psalm 51:17; Proverbs 28:13; Ezekiel 18:30-32; Matthew 3:2; Acts 3:19; 2 Corinthians 7:10; 1 John 1:9.

Change Your Hearts

At that time some people were there who told Jesus that Pilate had killed some people from Galilee while they were worshipping. He mixed their blood with the blood of the animals they were sacrificing to God.<sup>2</sup> Jesus answered, “Do you think this happened to them because they were more sinful than all others from Galilee?<sup>3</sup> No, I tell you. But unless you change your hearts and lives, you will be destroyed as they were!<sup>4</sup> What about those eighteen people who died when the tower of Siloam fell on them? Do you think they were more sinful than all the others who live in Jerusalem?<sup>5</sup> No, I tell you. But unless you change your hearts and lives, you will all be destroyed too!”

The Useless Tree

<sup>6</sup>Jesus told this story: “A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard. He came looking for some fruit on the tree, but he found none.<sup>7</sup> So the man said to his gardener, ‘I have been looking for fruit on this tree for three years, but I never find any. Cut it down. Why should it waste the ground?’<sup>8</sup> But the servant answered, ‘Master, let the tree have one more year to produce fruit. Let me dig up the dirt around it and put on some fertilizer.<sup>9</sup> If the tree produces fruit next year, good. But if not, you can cut it down.””

Jesus Heals on the Sabbath

<sup>10</sup>Jesus was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath day. <sup>11</sup>A woman was there who, for eighteen years, had an evil spirit in her that made her crippled. Her back was always bent; she could not stand up straight. <sup>12</sup>When Jesus saw her, he called her over and said, “Woman, you are free from your sickness.” <sup>13</sup>Jesus put his hands on her, and immediately she was able to stand up straight and began praising God.

<sup>14</sup>The synagogue leader was angry because Jesus healed on the Sabbath day. He said to the people, “There are six days when one has to work. So come to be healed on one of those days, and not on the Sabbath day.”

<sup>15</sup>The Lord answered, “You hypocrites! Doesn’t each of you untie your work animals and lead them to drink water every day—even on the Sabbath day? <sup>16</sup>This woman that I healed, a daughter of Abraham, has been held by Satan for eighteen years. Surely it is not wrong for her to be freed from her sickness on a Sabbath day!” <sup>17</sup>When Jesus said this, all of those who were criticizing him were ashamed, but the entire crowd rejoiced at all the wonderful things Jesus was doing.

Stories of Mustard Seed and Yeast

<sup>18</sup>Then Jesus said, “What is God’s kingdom like? What can I compare it with? <sup>19</sup>It is like a mustard seed that a man plants in his garden. The seed grows and becomes a tree, and the wild birds build nests in its branches.”

<sup>20</sup>Jesus said again, “What can I compare God’s kingdom with? <sup>21</sup>It is like yeast that a woman took and hid in a large tub of flour until it made all the dough rise.”

The Narrow Door

<sup>22</sup>Jesus was teaching in every town and village as he traveled toward Jerusalem. <sup>23</sup>Someone said to Jesus, “Lord, will only a few people be saved?”

Jesus said, <sup>24</sup>“Try hard to enter through the narrow door, because many people will try to enter there, but they will not be able. <sup>25</sup>When the owner of the house gets up and closes the door, you can stand outside and knock on the door and say, ‘Sir, open the door for us.’ But he will answer, ‘I don’t know you or where you come from.’ <sup>26</sup>Then you will say, ‘We ate and drank with you, and you taught in the streets of our town.’ <sup>27</sup>But he will say to you, ‘I don’t know you or where you come from. Go away from me, all you who do evil!’ <sup>28</sup>You will cry and grind your teeth with pain when you see Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and all the prophets in God’s kingdom, but you yourselves thrown outside. <sup>29</sup>People will come from the east, west, north, and south and will sit down at the table in the kingdom of God. <sup>30</sup>There are those who have the lowest place in life now who will have the highest place in the future. And there are those who have the highest place now who will have the lowest place in the future.”

Jesus Will Die in Jerusalem

<sup>31</sup>At that time some Pharisees came to Jesus and said, “Go away from here! Herod wants to kill you!”

<sup>32</sup>Jesus said to them, “Go tell that fox Herod, ‘Today and tomorrow I am forcing demons out and healing people. Then, on the third day, I will reach my goal.’ <sup>33</sup>Yet I must be on my way today and tomorrow and the next day. Surely it cannot be right for a prophet to be killed anywhere except in Jerusalem.

<sup>34</sup>“Jerusalem, Jerusalem! You kill the prophets and stone to death those who are sent to you. Many times I wanted to gather your people as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings, but you would not let me. <sup>35</sup>Now your house is left completely empty. I tell you, you will not see me until that time when you will say, ‘God bless the One who comes in the name of the Lord.’”

Life Lessons

Luke 14:1-35

Situation

While these characteristics are all too common, Jesus' stories explain that pride, laziness, and the desire for honor have no place among his disciples.

Observation

Being a disciple of Christ requires humility, commitment, and servanthood.

Inspiration

They splashed and they flopped, those aspiring wind surfers. Day after day we chronicled their struggles. It looked simple enough: a surfboard, a detachable sail with a length of rope tied to it, water, wind and, of course, instruction...

The following summer we discovered a few surfers who had more or less mastered the art. They skimmed about with surprising skill even on rough days. One had so much confidence that he even sailed with his jacket on, maneuvering his craft skillfully wherever he wished it to go. He was so cocky. I kept hoping he would flop just once, but he had learned well.

He was, we discovered, the instructor...

Like wind surfing, the Christian life is simple but not easy...

We who are older in the Christian walk and those who, through experience, have earned the status of instructor should be quick to encourage, quick to help the one who has fallen.

We who have not yet mastered the art of Christian living need to keep carefully studying our Book of Instructions, listening attentively when our Instructor speaks, and promptly following His instructions.

Alexander Whyte of Edinburgh once said: “The perseverance of the saints consists in ever new beginnings.”

Healing on the Sabbath

On a Sabbath day, when Jesus went to eat at the home of a leading Pharisee, the people were watching Jesus very closely. <sup>2</sup>And in front of him was a man with dropsy. <sup>3</sup>Jesus said to the Pharisees and experts on the law, “Is it right or wrong to heal on the Sabbath day?” <sup>4</sup>But they would not answer his question. So Jesus took the man, healed him, and sent him away. <sup>5</sup>Jesus said to the Pharisees and teachers of the law, “If your child or ox falls into a well on the Sabbath day, will you not pull him out quickly?” <sup>6</sup>And they could not answer him.

Don't Make Yourself Important

<sup>7</sup>When Jesus noticed that some of the guests were choosing the best places to sit, he told this story: <sup>8</sup>“When someone invites you to a wedding feast, don't take the most important seat, because someone more important than you may have been invited. <sup>9</sup>The host, who invited both of you, will come to you and say, ‘Give this person your seat.’ Then you will be embarrassed and will have to move to the last place. <sup>10</sup>So when you are invited, go sit in a seat that is not important. When the host comes to you, he may say, 'Friend, move up here to a more important place.' Then all the other guests will respect you. <sup>11</sup>All who make themselves great will be made humble, but those who make themselves humble will be made great."

You Will Be Rewarded

<sup>12</sup>Then Jesus said to the man who had invited him, "When you give a lunch or a dinner, don't invite only your friends, your family, your other relatives, and your rich neighbors. At another time they will invite you to eat with them, and you will be repaid. <sup>13</sup>Instead, when you give a feast, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, and the blind. <sup>14</sup>Then you will be blessed, because they have nothing and cannot pay you back. But you will be repaid when the good people rise from the dead."

A Story About a Big Banquet

<sup>15</sup>One of those at the table with Jesus heard these things and said to him, "Happy are the people who will share in the meal in God's kingdom."

<sup>16</sup>Jesus said to him, "A man gave a big banquet and invited many people. <sup>17</sup>When it was time to eat, the man sent his servant to tell the guests, 'Come. Everything is ready.'

<sup>18</sup>"But all the guests made excuses. The first one said, 'I have just bought a field, and I must go look at it. Please excuse me.' <sup>19</sup>Another said, 'I have just bought five pairs of oxen; I must go and try them. Please excuse me.' <sup>20</sup>A third person said, 'I just got married; I can't come.' <sup>21</sup>So the servant returned and told his master what had happened. Then the master became angry and said, ‘Go at once into the streets and alleys of the town, and bring in the poor, the crippled, the blind, and the lame.’ <sup>22</sup>Later the servant said to him, ‘Master, I did what you commanded, but we still have room.’ <sup>23</sup>The master said to the servant, ‘Go out to the roads and country lanes, and urge the people there to come so my house will be full. <sup>24</sup>I tell you, none of those whom I invited first will eat with me.’”

The Cost of Being Jesus’ Follower

<sup>25</sup>Large crowds were traveling with Jesus, and he turned and said to them, <sup>26</sup>“If anyone comes to me but loves his father, mother, wife, children, brothers, or sisters—or even life—more than me, he cannot be my follower. <sup>27</sup>Whoever is not willing to carry the cross and follow me cannot be my follower. <sup>28</sup>If you want to build a tower, you first sit down and decide how much it will cost, to see if you have enough money to finish the job. <sup>29</sup>If you don’t, you might lay the foundation, but you would not be able to finish. Then all who would see it would make fun of you, <sup>30</sup>saying, ‘This person began to build but was not able to finish.’

<sup>31</sup>“If a king is going to fight another king, first he will sit down and plan. He will decide if he and his ten thousand soldiers can defeat the other king who has twenty thousand soldiers. <sup>32</sup>If he can’t, then while the other king is still far away, he will send some people to speak to him and ask for peace. <sup>33</sup>In the same way, you must give up everything you have to be my follower.

Don't Lose Your Influence

<sup>34</sup>“Salt is good, but if it loses its salty taste, you cannot make it salty again. <sup>35</sup>It is no good for the soil or for manure; it is thrown away.

“You people who can hear me, listen.”

Life Lessons

Luke 15:1–32

Situation

The Pharisees and teachers of the Law were intrigued by Jesus' teaching; they were always nearby to hear him and watch him—and criticize him. The Pharisees went to great lengths to be ceremonially clean, which they believed made them righteous in God's sight. Jesus' great concern, however, was offering salvation to sinners.

Observation

Jesus told three parables to correct the Pharisees' misconception about God. These parables show that God loves all people and wants everyone—especially sinners—to come to him. God doesn't play favorites, and he rejoices when anyone turns to him.

Inspiration

Theresa Briones is a tender, loving mother. She also has a stout left hook that she used to punch a lady in a coin laundry. Why'd she do it?

Some kids were making fun of Theresa's daughter, Alicia.

Alicia is bald. Her knees are arthritic. Her nose is pinched. Her hips are creaky. Her hearing is bad. She has the stamina of a seventy-year-old. And she is only ten.

“Mom,” the kids taunted, “come and look at the monster!”

Alicia weighs only twenty-two pounds and is shorter than most preschoolers. She suffers from progeria—a genetic aging disease that strikes one child in eight million. The life expectancy of progeria victims is twenty years. There are only fifteen known cases of this disease in the world.

“She is not an alien. She is not a monster,” Theresa defended. “She is just like you and me.”

Mentally, Alicia is a bubbly, fun-loving third grader. She has a long list of friends. She watches television in a toddler-sized rocking chair. She plays with Barbie dolls and teases her younger brother.

Theresa has grown accustomed to the glances and questions. She is patient with the constant curiosity. Genuine inquiries she accepts. Insensitive slanders she does not.

The mother of the finger-pointing children came to investigate. “I see ‘it,’” she told the kids.

“My child is not an ‘it,’” Theresa stated. Then she decked the woman.

Who could blame her? Such is the nature of parental love. Mothers and fathers have a God-given ability to love their children regardless of imperfections. Not because the parents are blind. Just the opposite. They see vividly.

Theresa sees Alicia’s inability as clearly as anyone. But she also sees Alicia’s value.

So does God.

God sees us with the eyes of a Father. He sees our defects, errors, and blemishes. But he also sees our value.

... What did Jesus know that enabled him to do what he did?

Here's part of the answer. He knew the value of people. He knew that each human being is a treasure. And because he did, people were not a source of stress, but a source of joy. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

God offers salvation to everyone. If you find yourself judging others, remember that God values them. Think of what you can do to show God's love to the unlovely.

A Lost Sheep, a Lost Coin

The tax collectors and sinners all came to listen to Jesus. <sup>2</sup>But the Pharisees and the teachers of the law began to complain: “Look, this man welcomes sinners and even eats with them.”

<sup>3</sup>Then Jesus told them this story: <sup>4</sup>“Suppose one of you has a hundred sheep but loses one of them. Then he will leave the other ninety-nine sheep in the open field and go out and look for the lost sheep until he finds it. <sup>5</sup>And when he finds it, he happily puts it on his shoulders <sup>6</sup>and goes home. He calls to his friends and neighbors and says, ‘Be happy with me because I found my lost sheep.’ <sup>7</sup>In the same way, I tell you there is more joy in heaven over one sinner who changes his heart and life, than over ninety-nine good people who don’t need to change.

<sup>8</sup>“Suppose a woman has ten silver coins, but loses one. She will light a lamp, sweep the house, and look carefully for the coin until she finds it. <sup>9</sup>And when she finds it, she will call her friends and neighbors and say, ‘Be happy with me because I have found the coin that I lost.’ <sup>10</sup>In the same way, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God when one sinner changes his heart and life.”

The Son Who Left Home

<sup>11</sup>Then Jesus said, “A man had two sons. <sup>12</sup>The younger son said to his father, ‘Give me my share of the property.’ So the father divided the property between his two sons. <sup>13</sup>Then the younger son gathered up all that was his and traveled far away to another country. There he wasted his money in foolish living. <sup>14</sup>After he had spent everything, a time came when there was no food anywhere in the country, and the son was poor and hungry. <sup>15</sup>So he got a job with one of the citizens there who sent the son into the fields to feed pigs. <sup>16</sup>The son was so hungry that he wanted to eat the pods the pigs were eating, but no one gave him anything. <sup>17</sup>When he realized what he was doing, he thought, ‘All of my father’s servants have plenty of food. But I am here, almost dying with hunger. <sup>18</sup>I will leave and return to my father and say to him, ‘Father, I have sinned against God and have done wrong to you. <sup>19</sup>I am no longer worthy to be called your son, but let me be like one of your servants.’” <sup>20</sup>So the son left and went to his father.

“While the son was still a long way off, his father saw him and felt sorry for his son. So the father ran to him and hugged and kissed him. <sup>21</sup>The son said, ‘Father, I have sinned against God and have done wrong to you. I am no longer worthy to be called your son.’ <sup>22</sup>But the father said to his servants, ‘Hurry! Bring the best clothes and put them on him. Also, put a ring on his finger and sandals on his feet. <sup>23</sup>And get our fat calf and kill it so we can have a feast and celebrate. <sup>24</sup>My son was dead, but now he is alive again! He was lost, but now he is found!’ So they began to celebrate.

<sup>25</sup>“The older son was in the field, and as he came closer to the house, he heard the sound of music and dancing. <sup>26</sup>So he called to one of the servants and asked what all this meant.

<sup>27</sup>The servant said, ‘Your brother has come back, and your father killed the fat calf, because your brother came home safely.’ <sup>28</sup>The older son was angry and would not go in to the feast. So his father went out and begged him to come in. <sup>29</sup>But the older son said to his father, ‘I have served you like a slave for many years and have always obeyed your commands. But you never gave me even a young goat to have at a feast with my friends. <sup>30</sup>But your other son, who wasted all your money on prostitutes, comes home, and you kill the fat calf for him!’ <sup>31</sup>The father said to him, ‘Son, you are always with me, and all that I have is yours. <sup>32</sup>We had to celebrate and be happy because your brother was dead, but now he is alive. He was lost, but now he is found.’”

Life Lessons

Luke 16:1-31

Situation

Jesus taught the Pharisees to value the Law and the Prophets and the righteousness of God.

Observation

As convincing as it might be for someone to come back from the dead and warn others about hell, God provides his Word to be the most powerful testimony about Jesus Christ and the afterlife.

Inspiration

A physician, Dr. Marshall Goldberg, has interviewed many patients resuscitated from cardiac arrest. Since it takes three or four minutes for the brain to die after the heart ceases to function, some patients (interviewed before a rapidly developing amnesia effaces the memory) have related some remarkable visions, feelings, sounds, and related OBE [out-of-body experiences]. A few of the more recurrent descriptions include:

- Surprisingly peaceful surroundings
- An almost sound-proof, pain-deadening “curtain” that descends
- “Flashbacks,” in which one’s entire life passes in review—one person referred to it as “an autobiographical slide show”

- Bright light, warm feelings, buzzing, and ringing sounds....

I am grateful that we aren't limited to opinions of observers and feelings of people on deathbeds. The Scripture addresses the subject often and freely....

Even though we cannot turn to any Scripture that states that a believer was interviewed after death ... there is, however, an extremely vivid account where an unbeliever is interviewed. Don't misunderstand, we're not going to read of another fascinating OBE, but a startling narrative of the afterlife related by the ultimate authority on the subject—the Son of God Himself....

We will not read of some paranormal experience reported by a man who saw lights and heard buzzing. This, I believe, is an event, not a vision. It becomes an interview, as it were.

Notice several things that occur. First there is agony. There is literal pain. He is in torment. And somehow he catches a glimpse of those who are at peace. Second, he is fully conscious. Third he not only has his senses, he has his memory. Neither is obliterated by death....

Since he was unable to escape, his number-one concern was that someone might go to his brothers and communicate the truth about hell to those who are still living... . Talk about evangelistic zeal! If it exists nowhere else, an evangelistic passion exists in hell....

[Yet] if you could bring someone back from the dead—someone who has been in hell—to tell the people what the future holds, it would not be as effective as Holy Scripture! (From Growing Strong in the Seasons of Life by Charles Swindoll)

True Wealth

Jesus also said to his followers, “Once there was a rich man who had a manager to take care of his business. This manager was accused of cheating him. <sup>2</sup>So he called the manager in and said to him, ‘What is this I hear about you? Give me a report of what you have done with my money, because you can’t be my manager any longer.’ <sup>3</sup>The manager thought to himself, ‘What will I do since my master is taking my job away from me? I am not strong enough to dig ditches, and I am ashamed to beg. <sup>4</sup>I know what I’ll do so that when I lose my job people will welcome me into their homes.’

<sup>5</sup>“So the manager called in everyone who owed the master any money. He asked the first one, ‘How much do you owe?’ <sup>6</sup>He answered, ‘Eight hundred gallons of olive oil.’ The manager said to him, ‘Take your bill, sit down quickly, and write four hundred gallons.’ <sup>7</sup>Then the manager asked another one, ‘How much do you owe?’ He answered, ‘One thousand bushels of wheat.’ Then the manager said to him, ‘Take your bill and write eight hundred bushels.’ <sup>8</sup>So, the master praised the dishonest manager for being smart. Yes, worldly people are smarter with their own kind than spiritual people are.

<sup>9</sup>“I tell you, make friends for yourselves using worldly riches so that when those riches are gone, you will be welcomed in those homes that continue forever. <sup>10</sup>Whoever can be trusted with a little can also be trusted with a lot, and whoever is dishonest with a little is dishonest with a lot. <sup>11</sup>If you cannot be trusted with worldly riches, then who will trust you with true riches? <sup>12</sup>And if you cannot be trusted with things that belong to someone else, who will give you things of your own?

<sup>13</sup>“No servant can serve two masters. The servant will hate one master and love the other, or will follow one master and refuse to follow the other. You cannot serve both God and worldly riches.”

God's Law Cannot Be Changed

<sup>14</sup>The Pharisees, who loved money, were listening to all these things and made fun of Jesus. <sup>15</sup>He said to them, “You make yourselves look good in front of people, but God knows what is really in your hearts. What is important to people is hateful in God's sight.

<sup>16</sup>“The law of Moses and the writings of the prophets were preached until John came. Since then the Good News about the kingdom of God is being told, and everyone tries to enter it by force. <sup>17</sup>It would be easier for heaven and earth to pass away than for the smallest part of a letter in the law to be changed.

Divorce and Remarriage

<sup>18</sup>“If a man divorces his wife and marries another woman, he is guilty of adultery, and the man who marries a divorced woman is also guilty of adultery.”

The Rich Man and Lazarus

<sup>19</sup>Jesus said, “There was a rich man who always dressed in the finest clothes and lived in luxury every day. <sup>20</sup>And a very poor man named Lazarus, whose body was covered with sores, was laid at the rich man’s gate. <sup>21</sup>He wanted to eat only the small pieces of food that fell from the rich man’s table. And the dogs would come and lick his sores. <sup>22</sup>Later, Lazarus died, and the angels carried him to the arms of Abraham. The rich man died, too, and was buried. <sup>23</sup>In the place of the dead, he was in much pain. The rich man saw Abraham far away with Lazarus at his side. <sup>24</sup>He called, ‘Father Abraham, have mercy on me! Send Lazarus to dip his finger in water and cool my tongue, because I am suffering in this fire!’ <sup>25</sup>But Abraham said, ‘Child, remember when you were alive you had the good things in life, but bad things happened to Lazarus. Now he is comforted here, and you are suffering. <sup>26</sup>Besides, there is a big pit between you and us, so no one can cross over to you, and no one can leave there and come here.’ <sup>27</sup>The rich man said, ‘Father, then please send Lazarus to my father’s house. <sup>28</sup>I have five brothers, and Lazarus could warn them so that they will not come to this place of pain.’ <sup>29</sup>But Abraham said, ‘They have the law of Moses and the writings of the prophets; let them learn from them.’ <sup>30</sup>The rich man said, ‘No, father Abraham! If someone goes to them from the dead, they would believe and change their hearts and lives.’ <sup>31</sup>But Abraham said to him, ‘If they will not listen to Moses and the prophets, they will not listen to someone who comes back from the dead.’”

Life Lessons

Luke 17:1-37

Situation

Jesus taught about the power of sin, forgiveness, and faith. He instilled a passion in his disciples for the kingdom of God.

Observation

In this passage, Jesus warned his disciples against the danger of causing others to sin. Jesus said that their lives should be marked by forgiveness, thankfulness, and faith.

Inspiration

“Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth” (1 Corinthians 13:6, NIV). In this verse lies a test for love.

Want to separate the fake from the factual, the counterfeit from the real thing? Want to know if what you feel is genuine love? Ask yourself this:

Do I encourage this person to do what is right?

...

For instance, one lady calls another and says, “We’re friends, right?”

“Yeah, we’re friends.”

“If my husband asks, you tell him we were together at the movies last night.”

“But we weren’t.”

“I know, but I was, well, I was with another guy and—hey, you’ll do this for me, won’t you? We’re friends, right? Tighter than sisters, right?”

Does this person pass the test? No way. The room key doesn't work. Love doesn't ask someone to do what is wrong....

If you find yourself prompting evil in others, heed the alarm. This is not love. And if others prompt evil in you, be alert. Check the room key.

Here's an example. A classic one. A young couple are on a date. His affection goes beyond her comfort zone. She resists. But he tries to persuade her with the oldest line in the book: "But I love you. I just want to be near you. If you loved me ..."

That siren you hear? It's the phony-love detector. This guy doesn't love her. He may love having sex with her. He may love her body. He may love boasting to his buddies about his conquest. But he doesn't love her. True love will never ask the "beloved" to do what he or she thinks is wrong.

Love doesn't tear down the convictions of others. Quite the contrary.

"Love builds up" (1 Corinthians 8:1).

"Whoever loves a brother or sister lives in the light and will not cause anyone to stumble" (1 John 2:10).

"When you sin against your brothers and sisters in Christ like this and cause them to do what they feel is wrong, you are also sinning against Christ" (1 Corinthians 8:12).

Do you want to know if your love for someone is true? If your friendship is genuine? Check the room key. Ask yourself: Do I influence this person to do what is right? (From A Love Worth Giving by Max Lucado)

Application

Are you influencing people for good or for evil? Set aside some time to figure out your motivation for being involved in people's lives. Make sure you never get yourself in a Situation where you could cause someone to stumble.

Exploration

Loving Others—Leviticus 19:18; Proverbs 17:17; Matthew 5:44; 22:39; 1 John 4:7-8.

Sin and Forgiveness

Jesus said to his followers, “Things that cause people to sin will happen, but how terrible for the person who causes them to happen! <sup>2</sup>It would be better for you to be thrown into the sea with a large stone around your neck than to cause one of these little ones to sin. <sup>3</sup>So be careful!

“If another follower sins, warn him, and if he is sorry and stops sinning, forgive him. <sup>4</sup>If he sins against you seven times in one day and says that he is sorry each time, forgive him.”

How Big Is Your Faith?

<sup>5</sup>The apostles said to the Lord, “Give us more faith!”

<sup>6</sup>The Lord said, “If your faith were the size of a mustard seed, you could say to this mulberry tree, ‘Dig yourself up and plant yourself in the sea,’ and it would obey you.

Be Good Servants

<sup>7</sup>“Suppose one of you has a servant who has been plowing the ground or caring for the sheep. When the servant comes in from working in the field, would you say, ‘Come in and sit down to eat’? <sup>8</sup>No, you would say to him, ‘Prepare something for me to eat. Then get yourself ready and serve me. After I finish eating and drinking, you can eat.’<sup>9</sup>The servant does not get any special thanks for doing what his master commanded.<sup>10</sup>It is the same with you. When you have done everything you are told to do, you should say, ‘We are unworthy servants; we have only done the work we should do.’”

Be Thankful

<sup>11</sup>While Jesus was on his way to Jerusalem, he was going through the area between Samaria and Galilee.<sup>12</sup>As he came into a small town, ten men who had a skin disease met him there. They did not come close to Jesus<sup>13</sup>but called to him, “Jesus! Master! Have mercy on us!”

<sup>14</sup>When Jesus saw the men, he said, “Go and show yourselves to the priests.”

As the ten men were going, they were healed.<sup>15</sup>When one of them saw that he was healed, he went back to Jesus, praising God in a loud voice.<sup>16</sup>Then he bowed down at Jesus’ feet and thanked him. (And this man was a Samaritan.)<sup>17</sup>Jesus said, “Weren’t ten men healed? Where are the other nine? <sup>18</sup>Is this Samaritan the only one who came back to thank God?”<sup>19</sup>Then Jesus said to him, “Stand up and go on your way. You were healed because you believed.”

God’s Kingdom Is Within You

<sup>20</sup>Some of the Pharisees asked Jesus, “When will the kingdom of God come?”

Jesus answered, “God’s kingdom is coming, but not in a way that you will be able to see with your eyes. <sup>21</sup>People will not say, 'Look, here it is!' or, 'There it is!' because God's kingdom is within you."

<sup>22</sup>Then Jesus said to his followers, "The time will come when you will want very much to see one of the days of the Son of Man. But you will not see it. <sup>23</sup>People will say to you, 'Look, there he is!' or, 'Look, here he is!' Stay where you are; don't go away and search.

When Jesus Comes Again

<sup>24</sup>"When the Son of Man comes again, he will shine like lightning, which flashes across the sky and lights it up from one side to the other. <sup>25</sup>But first he must suffer many things and be rejected by the people of this time. <sup>26</sup>When the Son of Man comes again, it will be as it was when Noah lived. <sup>27</sup>People were eating, drinking, marrying, and giving their children to be married until the day Noah entered the boat. Then the flood came and killed them all. <sup>28</sup>It will be the same as during the time of Lot. People were eating, drinking, buying, selling, planting, and building. <sup>29</sup>But the day Lot left Sodom, fire and sulfur rained down from the sky and killed them all. <sup>30</sup>This is how it will be when the Son of Man comes again.

<sup>31</sup>"On that day, a person who is on the roof and whose belongings are in the house should not go inside to get them. A person who is in the field should not go back home. <sup>32</sup>Remember Lot's wife. <sup>33</sup>Those who try to keep their lives will lose them. But those who give up their lives will save them. <sup>34</sup>I tell you, on that night two people will be sleeping in one bed; one will be taken and the other will be left. <sup>35</sup>There will be two women grinding grain together; one will be taken, and the other will be left.”<sup>36</sup>n

<sup>37</sup>The followers asked Jesus, “Where will this be, Lord?”

Jesus answered, “Where there is a dead body, there the vultures will gather.”

Life Lessons

Luke 18:1–43

Situation

Through a series of short illustrations, Jesus taught the people how to obtain eternal life and how to pray so that God would hear.

Observation

When we pray we must be persistent and humble. Most of all, we can't depend on our own resources to get us through problems. We need to trust God and his strength.

Inspiration

One of my favorite stories concerns a bishop who was traveling by ship to visit a church across the ocean. While en route, the ship stopped at an island for a day. He went for a walk on a beach. He came upon three fishermen mending their nets.

Curious about their trade he asked them some questions. Curious about his ecclesiastical robes, they asked him some questions. When they found out he was a Christian leader, they got excited. "We Christians!" they said, proudly pointing to one another.

The bishop was impressed but cautious. Did they know the Lord's Prayer? They had never heard of it.

"What do you say, then, when you pray?"

"We pray, 'O We are three, you are three, have mercy on us.'"

The bishop was appalled at the primitive nature of the prayer. “That will not do.” So he spent the day teaching them the Lord’s Prayer. The fishermen were poor but willing learners. And before the bishop sailed away the next day, they could recite the prayer with no mistakes.

The bishop was proud.

On the return trip the bishop’s ship drew near the island again. When the island came into view the bishop came to the deck and recalled with pleasure the men he had taught and resolved to go see them again. As he was thinking a light appeared on the horizon near the island. It seemed to be getting nearer. As the bishop gazed in wonder he realized the three fishermen were walking toward him on the water. Soon all the passengers and crew were on the deck to see the sight.

When they were within speaking distance, the fisherman cried out, “Bishop, we come hurry to meet you.”

“What is it you want?” asked the stunned bishop.

“We are so sorry. We forget lovely prayer. We say, ‘O Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be your name ... ’ and then we forget. Please tell us prayer again.”

The bishop was humbled. “Go back to your homes, my friends, and when you pray say, ‘O We are three, you are three, have mercy on us.’”

(From And the Angels Were Silent by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you mean what you pray? Do you get caught up in just saying words and miss their meaning? Continue to pray often—but do so out of a humble, honest heart. If the fancy prayers and big words aren't you—use your own. God wants to hear what you honestly pray.

Prayer—Psalm 5:1-3; 55:17; 116:2.

God Will Answer His People

Then Jesus used this story to teach his followers that they should always pray and never lose hope. <sup>2</sup>“In a certain town there was a judge who did not respect God or care about people. <sup>3</sup>In that same town there was a widow who kept coming to this judge, saying, ‘Give me my rights against my enemy.’ <sup>4</sup>For a while the judge refused to help her. But afterwards, he thought to himself, ‘Even though I don’t respect God or care about people, <sup>5</sup>I will see that she gets her rights. Otherwise she will continue to bother me until I am worn out.’”

<sup>6</sup>The Lord said, “Listen to what the unfair judge said. <sup>7</sup>God will always give what is right to his people who cry to him night and day, and he will not be slow to answer them. <sup>8</sup>I tell you, God will help his people quickly. But when the Son of Man comes again, will he find those on earth who believe in him?”

Being Right with God

<sup>9</sup>Jesus told this story to some people who thought they were very good and looked down on everyone else: <sup>10</sup>“A Pharisee and a tax collector both went to the Temple to pray. <sup>11</sup>The Pharisee stood alone and prayed, ‘God, I thank you that I am not like other people who steal, cheat, or take part in adultery, or even like this tax collector. <sup>12</sup>I give up eating twice a week, and I give one-tenth of everything I get!’

<sup>13</sup>“The tax collector, standing at a distance, would not even look up to heaven. But he beat on his chest because he was so sad. He said, ‘God, have mercy on me, a sinner.’ <sup>14</sup>I tell you, when this man went home, he was right with God, but the Pharisee was not. All who make themselves great will be made humble, but all who make themselves humble will be made great.”

Who Will Enter God’s Kingdom?

<sup>15</sup>Some people brought even their babies to Jesus so he could touch them. When the followers saw this, they told them to stop. <sup>16</sup>But Jesus called for the children, saying, “Let the little children come to me. Don’t stop them, because the kingdom of God belongs to people who are like these children. <sup>17</sup>I tell you the truth, you must accept the kingdom of God as if you were a child, or you will never enter it.”

A Rich Man’s Question

<sup>18</sup>A certain leader asked Jesus, “Good Teacher, what must I do to have life forever?”

<sup>19</sup>Jesus said to him, “Why do you call me good? Only God is good. <sup>20</sup>You know the commands: ‘You must not be guilty of adultery. You must not murder anyone. You must not steal. You must not tell lies about your neighbor. Honor your father and mother.’”

<sup>21</sup>But the leader said, “I have obeyed all these commands since I was a boy.”

<sup>22</sup>When Jesus heard this, he said to him, “There is still one more thing you need to do. Sell everything you have and give it to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven. Then come and follow me.” <sup>23</sup>But when the man heard this, he became very sad, because he was very rich.

<sup>24</sup>Jesus looked at him and said, “It is very hard for rich people to enter the kingdom of God. <sup>25</sup>It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God.”

Who Can Be Saved?

<sup>26</sup>When the people heard this, they asked, “Then who can be saved?”

<sup>27</sup>Jesus answered, “God can do things that are not possible for people to do.”

<sup>29</sup>Jesus said, “I tell you the truth, all those who have left houses, wives, brothers, parents, or children for the kingdom of God <sup>30</sup>will get much more in this life. And in the age that is coming, they will have life forever.”

Jesus Will Rise from the Dead

<sup>31</sup>Then Jesus took the twelve apostles aside and said to them, “We are going to Jerusalem. Everything the prophets wrote about the Son of Man will happen. <sup>32</sup>He will be turned over to those who are evil. They will laugh at him, insult him, spit on him, <sup>33</sup>beat him with whips, and kill him. But on the third day, he will rise to life again.” <sup>34</sup>The apostles did not understand this; the meaning was hidden from them, and they did not realize what was said.

God Does What Is Best

Mark tells us that during the storm Jesus “saw his followers struggling” (Mark 6:48). Through the night he saw them. Through the storm he saw them. And like a loving father he waited. He waited until the right time, until the right moment. He waited until he knew it was time to come, and then he came.

What made it the right time? I don’t know. Why was the ninth hour better than the fourth or fifth? I can’t answer that. Why does God wait until the money is gone? Why does he wait until the sickness has lingered? Why does he choose to wait until the other side of the grave to answer the prayers for healing?

I don’t know. I only know his timing is always right. I can only say he will do what is best. “God will always give what is right to his people who cry to him night and day, and he will not be slow to answer them” (Luke 18:7).

Though you hear nothing, he is speaking.

Though you see nothing, he is acting. With God there are no accidents. Every incident is intended to bring us closer to him. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Jesus Heals a Blind Man

<sup>35</sup>As Jesus came near the city of Jericho, a blind man was sitting beside the road, begging. <sup>36</sup>When he heard the people coming down the road, he asked, “What is happening?”

<sup>38</sup>The blind man cried out, “Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me!”

<sup>39</sup>The people leading the group warned the blind man to be quiet. But the blind man shouted even more, “Son of David, have mercy on me!”

<sup>40</sup>Jesus stopped and ordered the blind man to be brought to him. When he came near, Jesus asked him, <sup>41</sup>“What do you want me to do for you?”

He said, “Lord, I want to see.”

<sup>42</sup>Jesus said to him, “Then see. You are healed because you believed.”

<sup>43</sup>At once the man was able to see, and he followed Jesus, thanking God. All the people who saw this praised God.

Life Lessons

Luke 19:1–48

Situation

The testimony of Zacchaeus as well as Jesus' tears for Jerusalem demonstrate that God desires genuine faith from his people.

Observation

God will judge those who peddle the faith and those who prevent people from worshipping.

Inspiration

It's tough to be let down. It's disappointing when you think someone is interested in you, only to find they are interested in your money. When salespeople do it, it's irritating—but when people of faith do it, it can be devastating.

It's a sad but true fact of the faith: religion is used for profit and prestige. When it is there are two results: people are exploited and God is infuriated.

There's no better example of this than what happened at the temple. After he had entered the city on the back of a donkey, Jesus “went into the Temple. After he had looked at everything, since it was already late, he went out to Bethany with the twelve apostles” [\[Mark 11:11\]](#) ...

Want to know what he saw? Then read what he did on Monday, the next morning when he returned. “Jesus went into the Temple and threw out all the people who were buying and selling there. He turned over the tables of those who were exchanging different kinds of money, and he upset the benches of those who were selling doves. Jesus said to all the people there, ‘It is written in the Scriptures, “My temple will be called a house for prayer.” But you are changing it into a “hideout for robbers”’” [Matthew 21:12–13].

What did he see? Hucksters. Faith peddlers. What lit the fire under Jesus’ broiler? What was his first thought on Monday? People in the temple making a franchise out of the faith.

It was Passover week. The Passover was the highlight of the Jewish calendar. People came from all regions and many countries to be present for the celebration. Upon arriving they were obligated to meet two requirements.

First, an animal sacrifice, usually a dove. The dove had to be perfect, without blemish. The animal could be brought in from anywhere, but odds were that if you brought a sacrifice from another place, yours would be considered insufficient by the authorities in the temple. So, under the guise of keeping the sacrifice pure, the dove sellers sold doves—at their price.

Second, the people had to pay a tax, a temple tax. It was due every year. During Passover the tax had to be rendered in local currency. Knowing many foreigners would be in Jerusalem to pay the tax, money changers conveniently set up tables and offered to exchange the foreign money for local—for a modest fee, of course.

It’s not difficult to see what angered Jesus.

Pilgrims journeyed days to see God, to witness the holy, to worship His Majesty. But before they were taken into the presence of God, they were taken to the cleaners. What was promised and what was delivered were two different things....

“I’ve had enough,” was written all over the Messiah’s face. In he stormed. Doves flapped and tables flew. People scampered and traders scattered.

This was not an impulsive show. This was not a temper tantrum. It was a deliberate act with an intentional message. Jesus had seen the money changers the day before. He went to sleep with pictures of this midway and its barkers in his memory. And when he woke up the next morning, knowing his days were drawing to a close, he chose to make a point: “You cash in on my people and you’ve got me to answer to.” God will never hold guiltless those who exploit the privilege of worship. (From And the Angels Were Silent by Max Lucado)

Zacchaeus Meets Jesus

Jesus was going through the city of Jericho. <sup>2</sup>A man was there named Zacchaeus, who was a very important tax collector, and he was wealthy. <sup>3</sup>He wanted to see who Jesus was, but he was not able because he was too short to see above the crowd. <sup>4</sup>He ran ahead to a place where Jesus would come, and he climbed a sycamore tree so he could see him. <sup>5</sup>When Jesus came to that place, he looked up and said to him, “Zacchaeus, hurry and come down! I must stay at your house today.”

<sup>6</sup>Zacchaeus came down quickly and welcomed him gladly. <sup>7</sup>All the people saw this and began to complain, “Jesus is staying with a sinner!”

<sup>8</sup>But Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord, “I will give half of my possessions to the poor. And if I have cheated anyone, I will pay back four times more.”

<sup>9</sup>Jesus said to him, “Salvation has come to this house today, because this man also belongs to the family of Abraham. <sup>10</sup>The Son of Man came to find lost people and save them.”

A Story About Three Servants

<sup>11</sup>As the people were listening to this, Jesus told them a story because he was near Jerusalem and they thought God’s kingdom would appear immediately. <sup>12</sup>He said: “A very important man went to a country far away to be made a king and then to return home. <sup>13</sup>So he called ten of his servants and gave a coin to each servant. He said, ‘Do business with this money until I get back.’ <sup>14</sup>But the people in the kingdom hated the man. So they sent a group to follow him and say, ‘We don’t want this man to be our king.’

<sup>15</sup>“But the man became king. When he returned home, he said, ‘Call those servants who have my money so I can know how much they earned with it.’

<sup>16</sup>“The first servant came and said, ‘Sir, I earned ten coins with the one you gave me.’ <sup>17</sup>The king said to the servant, ‘Excellent! You are a good servant. Since I can trust you with small things, I will let you rule over ten of my cities.’

<sup>18</sup>“The second servant said, ‘Sir, I earned five coins with your one.’ <sup>19</sup>The king said to this servant, ‘You can rule over five cities.’

<sup>20</sup>“Then another servant came in and said to the king, ‘Sir, here is your coin which I wrapped in a piece of cloth and hid. <sup>21</sup>I was afraid of you, because you are a hard man. You even take money that you didn’t earn and gather food that you didn’t plant.’ <sup>22</sup>Then the king said to the servant, ‘I will condemn you by your own words, you evil servant. You knew that I am a hard man, taking money that I didn’t earn and gathering food that I didn’t plant. <sup>23</sup>Why then didn’t you put my money in the bank? Then when I came back, my money would have earned some interest.’

<sup>24</sup>“The king said to the men who were standing by, ‘Take the coin away from this servant and give it to the servant who earned ten coins.’ <sup>25</sup>They said, ‘But sir, that servant already has ten coins.’ <sup>26</sup>The king said, ‘Those who have will be given more, but those who do not have anything will have everything taken away from them. <sup>27</sup>Now where are my enemies who didn’t want me to be king? Bring them here and kill them before me.’”

Jesus Enters Jerusalem as a King

<sup>28</sup>After Jesus said this, he went on toward Jerusalem. <sup>29</sup>As Jesus came near Bethphage and Bethany, towns near the hill called the Mount of Olives, he sent out two of his followers. <sup>30</sup>He said, “Go to the town you can see there. When you enter it, you will find a colt tied there, which no one has ever ridden. Untie it and bring it here to me. <sup>31</sup>If anyone asks you why you are untying it, say that the Master needs it.”

<sup>32</sup>The two followers went into town and found the colt just as Jesus had told them. <sup>33</sup>As they were untying it, its owners came out and asked the followers, “Why are you untying our colt?”

<sup>37</sup>As he was coming close to Jerusalem, on the way down the Mount of Olives, the whole crowd of followers began joyfully shouting praise to God for all the miracles they had seen. <sup>38</sup>They said, “God bless the king who comes in the name of the Lord!

There is peace in heaven and glory to God!”

<sup>39</sup>Some of the Pharisees in the crowd said to Jesus, “Teacher, tell your followers not to say these things.”

<sup>40</sup>But Jesus answered, “I tell you, if my followers didn’t say these things, then the stones would cry out.”

Jesus Cries for Jerusalem

<sup>41</sup>As Jesus came near Jerusalem, he saw the city and cried for it, <sup>42</sup>saying, “I wish you knew today what would bring you peace. But now it is hidden from you. <sup>43</sup>The time is coming when your enemies will build a wall around you and will hold you in on all sides. <sup>44</sup>They will destroy you and all your people, and not one stone will be left on another. All this will happen because you did not recognize the time when God came to save you.”

Jesus Goes to the Temple

<sup>45</sup>Jesus went into the Temple and began to throw out the people who were selling things there. <sup>46</sup>He said, “It is written in the Scriptures, ‘My Temple will be a house for prayer.’ But you have changed it into a ‘hideout for robbers.’”

<sup>47</sup>Jesus taught in the Temple every day. The leading priests, the experts on the law, and some of the leaders of the people wanted to kill Jesus. <sup>48</sup>But they did not know how they could do it, because all the people were listening closely to him.

Life Lessons

Luke 20:1–47

Situation

The Jewish leaders feared Jesus' popularity. They believed that an emotional crowd following Jesus would bring unwanted Roman oppression and undermine the limited self-rule the Jews were allowed to exercise.

Observation

Jesus hates a hypocritical and rebellious attitude from those who claim to be religious.

Inspiration

The Pharisees prayed, praised, and proclaimed in worship to God with their lips. But, as Christ points out in this text, their clinging to personal and false traditions demonstrated that their hearts were far from God.

We pastors are in a unique position to watch people worship on Sunday morning. Many have come to worship our true and living God, but I periodically notice other attitudes displayed. A few, while preparing for the awesome privilege of worship, see an activity in the bulletin that they do not like. They turn to their neighbor: "Did you see what the youth department is doing? We would never have done that when I was growing up."

Then the leader calls them to worship: "Let us all turn to hymn forty-two, 'Amazing Grace,' and lift our voices to our gracious Savior."

They sigh and reach for the hymnals. What was that number again? “Amazing Grace”? We sang that three weeks ago. Why don’t they pick something else?

“Let us stand as we worship Him.”

Stand! Why do we have to stand?

“We will sing all four stanzas.”

All four stanzas! Why not sing one and get on with it?

The lips move as they sing but the heart is far from Him.

Then comes the pastoral prayer. I once had a deacon who would time my pastoral prayers. At the deacon’s meeting he would report the length and denounce the fact that we spent too much time in prayer.

Then the Word of God is proclaimed. Sermon time, and they start dropping like flies. Twenty minutes into it and someone is checking his watch to see why it stopped. At noon all the wristwatch alarms start to go off.

Our worship traditions say a lot about our heart condition.

I think there must be times when God weeps at 11:0 A.M. on Sunday.

God measures us at the heart level. Externals are only symptomatic, superficial, and cosmetic. Externally we can fool all the people most of the time. But God? Never!

I was preparing to go into the evening service one Sunday night when I heard that Bob, my friend and a deacon in the church, had just collapsed on the sidewalk. As I approached, the emergency unit pulled up, and three medical technicians jumped out. Did they attempt to rearrange his motionless body? Did they straighten his tie? Did they comb his hair and polish his shoes?

Not on your life. It was no time for cosmetics. They went right for the heart. That was the crux of the matter.

God goes right for the heart. It is where He meets us. It is where He evaluates us. It is where He desires that the flame of an intimate, life-changing relationship with Him be fanned into a great source of spiritual heart and light. He desperately seeks to dwell with us at the core....

The call of authentic Christianity is to “have a heart”—a heart for God. A heart for God requires that we move from externals to internals, that we reject the easy way of ritual and habit. It requires that we develop a vibrant relationship with Christ at the very core of our being.

(From Fan the Flame by Joseph Stowell)

Jewish Leaders Question Jesus

One day Jesus was in the Temple, teaching the people and telling them the Good News. The leading priests, teachers of the law, and older leaders came up to talk with him, <sup>2</sup>saying, “Tell us what authority you have to do these things? Who gave you this authority?”

<sup>3</sup>Jesus answered, “I will also ask you a question. Tell me: <sup>4</sup>When John baptized people, was that authority from God or just from other people?”

<sup>5</sup>They argued about this, saying, “If we answer, ‘John’s baptism was from God,’ Jesus will say, ‘Then why did you not believe him?’ <sup>6</sup>But if we say, ‘It was from other people,’ all the people will stone us to death, because they believe John was a prophet.” <sup>7</sup>So they answered that they didn’t know where it came from.

<sup>8</sup>Jesus said to them, “Then I won’t tell you what authority I have to do these things.”

A Story About God’s Son

<sup>9</sup>Then Jesus told the people this story: “A man planted a vineyard and leased it to some farmers. Then he went away for a long time. <sup>10</sup>When it was time for the grapes to be picked, he sent a servant to the farmers to get some of the grapes. But they beat the servant and sent him away empty-handed. <sup>11</sup>Then he sent another servant. They beat this servant also, and showed no respect for him, and sent him away empty-handed. <sup>12</sup>So the man sent a third servant. The farmers wounded him and threw him out. <sup>13</sup>The owner of the vineyard said, ‘What will I do now? I will send my son whom I love. Maybe they will respect him.’ <sup>14</sup>But when the farmers saw the son, they said to each other, ‘This son will inherit the vineyard. If we kill him, it will be ours.’ <sup>15</sup>So the farmers threw the son out of the vineyard and killed him.

“What will the owner of this vineyard do to them? <sup>16</sup>He will come and kill those farmers and will give the vineyard to other farmers.”

When the people heard this story, they said, “Let this never happen!”

<sup>17</sup>But Jesus looked at them and said, “Then what does this verse mean:

‘The stone that the builders rejected
became the cornerstone’?”

Psalm 118:22

<sup>18</sup>Everyone who falls on that stone will be broken, and the person on whom it falls, that person will be crushed!”

<sup>19</sup>The teachers of the law and the leading priests wanted to arrest Jesus at once, because they knew the story was about them. But they were afraid of what the people would do.

Is It Right to Pay Taxes or Not?

<sup>20</sup>So they watched Jesus and sent some spies who acted as if they were sincere. They wanted to trap Jesus in saying something wrong so they could hand him over to the authority and power of the governor. <sup>21</sup>So the spies asked Jesus, “Teacher, we know that what you say and teach is true. You pay no attention to who people are, and you always teach the truth about God’s way. <sup>22</sup>Tell us, is it right for us to pay taxes to Caesar or not?”

<sup>23</sup>But Jesus, knowing they were trying to trick him, said, <sup>24</sup>“Show me a coin. Whose image and name are on it?”

They said, “Caesar’s.”

<sup>25</sup>Jesus said to them, “Then give to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and give to God the things that are God’s.”

<sup>26</sup>So they were not able to trap Jesus in anything he said in the presence of the people. And being amazed at his answer, they became silent.

Some Sadducees Try to Trick Jesus

<sup>27</sup>Some Sadducees, who believed people would not rise from the dead, came to Jesus. <sup>28</sup>They asked, “Teacher, Moses wrote that if a man’s brother dies and leaves a wife but no children, then that man must marry the widow and have children for his brother. <sup>29</sup>Once there were seven brothers. The first brother married and died, but had no children. <sup>30</sup>Then the second brother married the widow, and he died. <sup>31</sup>And the third brother married the widow, and he died. The same thing happened with all seven brothers; they died and had no children. <sup>32</sup>Finally, the woman died also. <sup>33</sup>Since all seven brothers had married her, whose wife will she be when people rise from the dead?”

<sup>34</sup>Jesus said to them, “On earth, people marry and are given to someone to marry. <sup>35</sup>But those who will be worthy to be raised from the dead and live again will not marry, nor will they be given to someone to marry. <sup>36</sup>In that life they are like angels and cannot die. They are children of God, because they have been raised from the dead. <sup>37</sup>Even Moses clearly showed that the dead are raised to life. When he wrote about the burning bush, he said that the Lord is ‘the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.’ <sup>38</sup>God is the God of the living, not the dead, because all people are alive to him.”

Is the Christ the Son of David?

<sup>41</sup>Then Jesus said, “Why do people say that the Christ is the Son of David? <sup>42</sup>In the book of Psalms, David himself says:

‘The Lord said to my Lord:

Sit by me at my right side,

<sup>43</sup>until I put your enemies under your control.’

Psalm 110:1

<sup>44</sup>David calls the Christ ‘Lord,’ so how can the Christ be his son?”

Jesus Accuses Some Leaders

<sup>45</sup>While all the people were listening, Jesus said to his followers, <sup>46</sup>“Beware of the teachers of the law. They like to walk around wearing fancy clothes, and they love for people to greet them with respect in the marketplaces. They love to have the most important seats in the synagogues and at feasts. <sup>47</sup>But they cheat widows and steal their houses and then try to make themselves look good by saying long prayers. They will receive a greater punishment.”

Life Lessons

Luke 21:1–22:71

Situation

The Temple was rebuilt about 516 B.C.. In addition, Herod had undertaken a massive renovation and enlargement of the Temple. Jesus prophesied that persecution would come and the Temple would be destroyed.

Observation

As Jesus' disciples, we should be prepared for persecution and be discerning about world events. In this world's turmoil, we can also have great comfort that Jesus will return.

Inspiration

When my wife flew to Canada to celebrate her parents' fiftieth wedding anniversary, my two sons and I remained at home. None of us was particularly adept at household things, proved by our initial meal of pizza and ice cream floats. There was one particular problem—we didn't know when my wife would return home. We divided the household responsibilities: preparing meals, doing the dishes, and washing the laundry. As we anticipated when she might be coming, we cleaned the house in earnest; we even decorated the living room with colorful streamers. She was coming at any time, and we wanted to be ready.

The teaching that Christ can come at anytime is called the "imminent" return of Christ. It does not say He is coming soon, but rather that He may come at any moment. What is the significance? Does that affect the way we live?

Reflecting on the trials and sufferings in this present age, Paul said we are “waiting eagerly” for the completion of our redemption (Romans 8:23, 25). As a pregnant mother anticipates the birth of her child, so all creation is groaning with labor pains, waiting for release. Paul exhorted the Philippians not to center their attention on earthly things because “our citizenship is in heaven, from which also we eagerly wait for a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ” (Philippians 3:20).

We eagerly wait for our Savior because He can come at any moment. If we know His coming is far off, we don't wait eagerly. As we look for Him, we want to be pleasing to Him when He returns; therefore we are instructed to “deny ungodliness and worldly desires and to live sensibly, righteously and godly in this present age” (Titus 2:12–13). The Thessalonian believers left their idolatry to search for the true God and “to wait for His Son from heaven” (1 Thessalonians 1:10). What a simple, beautiful statement. Are you waiting for your Savior each day? As G. Campbell Morgan said, “I never begin my work in the morning without thinking that perhaps He may interrupt my work and begin His own. I am not looking for death—I am looking for Him.” He may come today—what a glorious hope! (From Approaching God by Paul Enns)

Application

We have all eagerly waited for one event or another in our lives. Do you look forward to Christ's return? Do you get more excited anticipating a birthday or anniversary? Why or why not? What can you do to prepare for Christ's return?

True Giving

As Jesus looked up, he saw some rich people putting their gifts into the Temple money box.<sup>2</sup> Then he saw a poor widow putting two small copper coins into the box.<sup>3</sup> He said, “I tell you the truth, this poor widow gave more than all those rich people.<sup>4</sup> They gave only what they did not need. This woman is very poor, but she gave all she had to live on.”

The Temple Will Be Destroyed

<sup>5</sup>Some people were talking about the Temple and how it was decorated with beautiful stones and gifts offered to God.

But Jesus said, <sup>6</sup>“As for these things you are looking at, the time will come when not one stone will be left on another. Every stone will be thrown down.”

<sup>7</sup>They asked Jesus, “Teacher, when will these things happen? What will be the sign that they are about to take place?”

<sup>8</sup>Jesus said, “Be careful so you are not fooled. Many people will come in my name, saying, ‘I am the One’ and, ‘The time has come!’ But don’t follow them. <sup>9</sup>When you hear about wars and riots, don’t be afraid, because these things must happen first, but the end will come later.”

<sup>10</sup>Then he said to them, “Nations will fight against other nations, and kingdoms against other kingdoms.<sup>11</sup>In various places there will be great earthquakes, sicknesses, and a lack of food. Fearful events and great signs will come from heaven.

<sup>12</sup>“But before all these things happen, people will arrest you and treat you cruelly. They will judge you in their synagogues and put you in jail and force you to stand before kings and governors, because you follow me.<sup>13</sup>But this will give you an opportunity to tell about me.<sup>14</sup>Make up your minds not to worry ahead of time about what you will say.<sup>15</sup>I will give you the wisdom to say things that none of your enemies will be able to stand against or prove wrong.<sup>16</sup>Even your parents, brothers, relatives, and friends will turn against you, and they will kill some of you.<sup>17</sup>All people will hate you because you follow me.<sup>18</sup>But none of these things can really harm you.<sup>19</sup>By continuing to have faith you will save your lives.

Jerusalem Will Be Destroyed

<sup>20</sup>“When you see armies all around Jerusalem, you will know it will soon be destroyed.<sup>21</sup>At that time, the people in Judea should run away to the mountains. The people in Jerusalem must get out, and those who are near the city should not go in.<sup>22</sup>These are the days of punishment to bring about all that is written in the Scriptures.<sup>23</sup>How terrible it will be for women who are pregnant or have nursing babies! Great trouble will come upon this land, and God will be angry with these people.<sup>24</sup>They will be killed by the sword and taken as prisoners to all nations. Jerusalem will be crushed by non-Jewish people until their time is over.

Don't Fear

<sup>25</sup>“There will be signs in the sun, moon, and stars. On earth, nations will be afraid and confused because of the roar and fury of the sea. <sup>26</sup>People will be so afraid they will faint, wondering what is happening to the world, because the powers of the heavens will be shaken. <sup>27</sup>Then people will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. <sup>28</sup>When these things begin to happen, look up and hold your heads high, because the time when God will free you is near!”

Jesus' Words Will Live Forever

<sup>29</sup>Then Jesus told this story: “Look at the fig tree and all the other trees. <sup>30</sup>When their leaves appear, you know that summer is near. <sup>31</sup>In the same way, when you see these things happening, you will know that God's kingdom is near.

<sup>32</sup>“I tell you the truth, all these things will happen while the people of this time are still living. <sup>33</sup>Earth and sky will be destroyed, but the words I have spoken will never be destroyed.

Be Ready All the Time

<sup>34</sup>“Be careful not to spend your time feasting, drinking, or worrying about worldly things. If you do, that day might come on you suddenly, <sup>35</sup>like a trap on all people on earth. <sup>36</sup>So be ready all the time. Pray that you will be strong enough to escape all these things that will happen and that you will be able to stand before the Son of Man.”

<sup>37</sup>During the day, Jesus taught the people in the Temple, and at night he went out of the city and stayed on the Mount of Olives. <sup>38</sup>Every morning all the people got up early to go to the Temple to listen to him.

Judas Becomes an Enemy of Jesus

It was almost time for the Feast of Unleavened Bread, called the Passover Feast.<sup>2</sup>The leading priests and teachers of the law were trying to find a way to kill Jesus, because they were afraid of the people.

<sup>3</sup>Satan entered Judas Iscariot, one of Jesus' twelve apostles.<sup>4</sup>Judas went to the leading priests and some of the soldiers who guarded the Temple and talked to them about a way to hand Jesus over to them.<sup>5</sup>They were pleased and agreed to give Judas money.<sup>6</sup>He agreed and watched for the best time to hand Jesus over to them when he was away from the crowd.

Jesus Eats the Passover Meal

<sup>7</sup>The Day of Unleavened Bread came when the Passover lambs had to be sacrificed.<sup>8</sup>Jesus said to Peter and John, "Go and prepare the Passover meal for us to eat."

<sup>9</sup>They asked, "Where do you want us to prepare it?"<sup>10</sup>Jesus said to them, "After you go into the city, a man carrying a jar of water will meet you. Follow him into the house that he enters,<sup>11</sup>and tell the owner of the house, 'The Teacher says: Where is the guest room in which I may eat the Passover meal with my followers?'"<sup>12</sup>Then he will show you a large, furnished room upstairs. Prepare the Passover meal there."

<sup>13</sup>So Peter and John left and found everything as Jesus had said. And they prepared the Passover meal.

The Lord's Supper

<sup>14</sup>When the time came, Jesus and the apostles were sitting at the table. <sup>15</sup>He said to them, "I wanted very much to eat this Passover meal with you before I suffer. <sup>16</sup>I will not eat another Passover meal until it is given its true meaning in the kingdom of God."

<sup>17</sup>Then Jesus took a cup, gave thanks, and said, "Take this cup and share it among yourselves. <sup>18</sup>I will not drink again from the fruit of the vine until God's kingdom comes."

<sup>19</sup>Then Jesus took some bread, gave thanks, broke it, and gave it to the apostles, saying, "This is my body, which I am giving for you. Do this to remember me." <sup>20</sup>In the same way, after supper, Jesus took the cup and said, "This cup is the new agreement that God makes with his people. This new agreement begins with my blood which is poured out for you."

Who Will Turn Against Jesus?

<sup>21</sup>"But one of you will turn against me, and his hand is with mine on the table. <sup>22</sup>What God has planned for the Son of Man will happen, but how terrible it will be for that one who turns against the Son of Man."

<sup>23</sup>Then the apostles asked each other which one of them would do that.

Be Like a Servant

was the most important. <sup>25</sup>But Jesus said to them, “The kings of the non-Jewish people rule over them, and those who have authority over others like to be called ‘friends of the people.’ <sup>26</sup>But you must not be like that. Instead, the greatest among you should be like the youngest, and the leader should be like the servant. <sup>27</sup>Who is more important: the one sitting at the table or the one serving? You think the one at the table is more important, but I am like a servant among you.

<sup>28</sup>“You have stayed with me through my struggles. <sup>29</sup>Just as my Father has given me a kingdom, I also give you a kingdom <sup>30</sup>so you may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom. And you will sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

Don't Lose Your Faith!

<sup>31</sup>“Simon, Simon, Satan has asked to test all of you as a farmer sifts his wheat. <sup>32</sup>I have prayed that you will not lose your faith! Help your brothers be stronger when you come back to me.”

<sup>33</sup>But Peter said to Jesus, “Lord, I am ready to go with you to prison and even to die with you!”

<sup>34</sup>But Jesus said, “Peter, before the rooster crows this day, you will say three times that you don't know me.”

Be Ready for Trouble

<sup>35</sup>Then Jesus said to the apostles, “When I sent you out without a purse, a bag, or sandals, did you need anything?”

They said, “No.”

<sup>36</sup>He said to them, “But now if you have a purse or a bag, carry that with you. If you don’t have a sword, sell your coat and buy one. <sup>37</sup>The Scripture says, ‘He was treated like a criminal.’ and I tell you this scripture must have its full meaning. It was written about me, and it is happening now.”

He said to them, “That is enough.”

Jesus Prays Alone

<sup>39</sup>Jesus left the city and went to the Mount of Olives, as he often did, and his followers went with him. <sup>40</sup>When he reached the place, he said to them, “Pray for strength against temptation.”

<sup>41</sup>Then Jesus went about a stone’s throw away from them. He knelt down and prayed, <sup>42</sup>“Father, if you are willing, take away this cup of suffering. But do what you want, not what I want.” <sup>43</sup>Then an angel from heaven appeared to him to strengthen him. <sup>44</sup>Being full of pain, Jesus prayed even harder. His sweat was like drops of blood falling to the ground. <sup>45</sup>When he finished praying, he went to his followers and found them asleep because of their sadness. <sup>46</sup>Jesus said to them, “Why are you sleeping? Get up and pray for strength against temptation.”

Jesus: Master of God’s Domain

God hasn’t kept the ending a secret. He wants us to see the big picture. He wants us to know that he wins. And he also wants us to know that the evil we witness on the stage of life is not as mighty as we might think.

Many passages teach these truths, but my favorite is a couple of verses recorded by Luke. Jesus speaks the words on the night before his death. He is in the upper room with his followers. They are shocked to hear his prophecy that one of them will betray the Master. Their defensiveness leads to an argument, and the argument leads Jesus to exhort them to servanthood.

Then in an abrupt shift, Jesus turns to Simon Peter and makes this intriguing statement: “Simon, Simon, Satan has asked to test all of you as a farmer sifts his wheat. I have prayed that you will not lose your faith! Help your brothers be stronger when you come back to me” (Luke 22:31–32).

This passage gives us a glimpse into an unseen world. It raises many questions, but it also affords many assurances, the chief of which is the chain of command. God is clearly in control, and the devil is on a short leash. Did you notice the verb that followed Satan’s name? Ask. “Satan has asked....”

The devil didn’t demand, resolve, or decide. He asked. Just as he requested permission to tempt Job, he requested permission to tempt Simon Peter. Sort of recasts our image of the old snake, doesn’t it? Instead of the mighty Darth Vader of Gloom, a better caricature is a skinny, back-alley punk who acts tough, but ducks fast when God flexes. “Uh, uh ... I’d ... uh ... like to do a number on Peter—that is, if you don't mind." The chain of command is clear. Satan does nothing outside of God's domain, and God uses Satan to advance the cause of his kingdom. (From When Christ Comes by Max Lucado)

Jesus Is Arrested

<sup>47</sup>While Jesus was speaking, a crowd came up, and Judas, one of the twelve apostles, was leading them. He came close to Jesus so he could kiss him.

<sup>48</sup>But Jesus said to him, “Judas, are you using the kiss to give the Son of Man to his enemies?”

<sup>49</sup>When those who were standing around him saw what was happening, they said, “Lord, should we strike them with our swords?” <sup>50</sup>And one of them struck the servant of the high priest and cut off his right ear.

<sup>51</sup>Jesus said, “Stop! No more of this.” Then he touched the servant’s ear and healed him.

<sup>52</sup>Those who came to arrest Jesus were the leading priests, the soldiers who guarded the Temple, and the older leaders. Jesus said to them, “You came out here with swords and clubs as though I were a criminal. <sup>53</sup>I was with you every day in the Temple, and you didn’t arrest me there. But this is your time—the time when darkness rules.”

Peter Says He Doesn’t Know Jesus

<sup>54</sup>They arrested Jesus, and led him away, and brought him into the house of the high priest. Peter followed far behind them.

<sup>55</sup>After the soldiers started a fire in the middle of the courtyard and sat together, Peter sat with them. <sup>56</sup>A servant girl saw Peter sitting there in the firelight, and looking closely at him, she said, “This man was also with him.”

<sup>57</sup>But Peter said this was not true; he said, “Woman, I don’t know him.”

<sup>58</sup>A short time later, another person saw Peter and said, “You are also one of them.”

But Peter said, “Man, I am not!”

<sup>59</sup>About an hour later, another man insisted, “Certainly this man was with him, because he is from Galilee, too.”

<sup>60</sup>But Peter said, “Man, I don’t know what you are talking about!”

At once, while Peter was still speaking, a rooster crowed.

<sup>61</sup>Then the Lord turned and looked straight at Peter. And Peter remembered what the Lord had said: “Before the rooster crows this day, you will say three times that you don’t know me.”

<sup>62</sup>Then Peter went outside and cried painfully.

The People Make Fun of Jesus

<sup>63</sup>The men who were guarding Jesus began making fun of him and beating him.

<sup>64</sup>They blindfolded him and said, “Prove that you are a prophet, and tell us who hit you.” <sup>65</sup>They said many cruel things to Jesus.

Jesus Before the Leaders

<sup>66</sup>When day came, the council of the older leaders of the people, both the leading priests and the teachers of the law, came together and led Jesus to their highest court. <sup>67</sup>They said,

“If you are the Christ, tell us.”

Jesus said to them, “If I tell you, you will not believe me. <sup>68</sup>And if I ask you, you will not answer. <sup>69</sup>But from now on, the Son of Man will sit at the right hand of the powerful God.”

<sup>70</sup>They all said, “Then are you the Son of God?”

Jesus said to them, “You say that I am.”

<sup>71</sup>They said, “Why do we need witnesses now? We ourselves heard him say this.”

Luke 23:1-56

Situation

Incited by the Temple priests, an angry mob demanded that Pilate crucify Jesus. Pilate knew that he did not have justification for using the death penalty.

Observation

Through his sacrifice on the cross, Jesus fulfilled his earthly mission and atoned for sin.

Inspiration

The King swallowed...

He looked at the Prince of Light. "The darkness will be great." He passed his hand over the spotless face of his Son. "The pain will be awful." Then he paused and looked at his darkened dominion. When he looked up, his eyes were moist. "But there is no other way."

The Son looked into the stars as he heard the answer. "Then, let it be done."

Slowly the words that would kill the Son began to come from the lips of the Father.

"Hour of death, moment of sacrifice, it is your moment. Rehearsed a million times on false altars with false lambs; the moment of truth has come..."

"Oh, my Son, my Child. Look up into the heavens and see my face before I turn it. Hear my voice before I silence it. Would that I could save you and them. But they don't see and they don't hear."

“The living must die so that the dying can live. The time has come to kill the Lamb.” ...

God must have wept as he performed his task. Every lie, every lure, every act done in shadows was in that cup. Slowly, hideously they were absorbed into the body of the Son. The final act of incarnation....

The throne room is dark and cavernous. The eyes of the King are closed. He is resting.

In his dream he is again in the Garden. The cool of the evening floats across the river as the three walk. They speak of the Garden—of how it is, of how it will be.

“Father ...” the Son begins. The King replays the word again. Father. Father. The word was a flower, petal-delicate, yet so easily crushed. Oh, how he longed for his children to call him Father again.

A noise snaps him from his dream. He opens his eyes and sees a transcendent figure gleaming in the doorway. “It is finished, Father. I have come home.”

Pilate Questions Jesus

Then the whole group stood up and led Jesus to Pilate. <sup>2</sup>They began to accuse Jesus, saying, “We caught this man telling things that mislead our people. He says that we should not pay taxes to Caesar, and he calls himself the Christ, a king.”

<sup>3</sup>Pilate asked Jesus, “Are you the king of the Jews?”

Jesus answered, “Those are your words.”

<sup>4</sup>Pilate said to the leading priests and the people, “I find nothing against this man.”

<sup>5</sup>They were insisting, saying, “But Jesus makes trouble with the people, teaching all around Judea. He began in Galilee, and now he is here.”

Pilate Sends Jesus to Herod

<sup>6</sup>Pilate heard this and asked if Jesus was from Galilee. <sup>7</sup>Since Jesus was under Herod’s authority, Pilate sent Jesus to Herod, who was in Jerusalem at that time. <sup>8</sup>When Herod saw Jesus, he was very glad, because he had heard about Jesus and had wanted to meet him for a long time. He was hoping to see Jesus work a miracle. <sup>9</sup>Herod asked Jesus many questions, but Jesus said nothing. <sup>10</sup>The leading priests and teachers of the law were standing there, strongly accusing Jesus. <sup>11</sup>After Herod and his soldiers had made fun of Jesus, they dressed him in a kingly robe and sent him back to Pilate. <sup>12</sup>In the past, Pilate and Herod had always been enemies, but on that day they became friends.

Jesus Must Die

<sup>13</sup>Pilate called the people together with the leading priests and the rulers. <sup>14</sup>He said to them, “You brought this man to me, saying he makes trouble among the people. But I have questioned him before you all, and I have not found him guilty of what you say. <sup>15</sup>Also, Herod found nothing wrong with him; he sent him back to us. Look, he has done nothing for which he should die. <sup>16</sup>So, after I punish him, I will let him go free.” <sup>17</sup>n

<sup>18</sup>But the people shouted together, “Take this man away! Let Barabbas go free!” <sup>19</sup>(Barabbas was a man who was in prison for his part in a riot in the city and for murder.)

<sup>20</sup>Pilate wanted to let Jesus go free and told this to the crowd. <sup>21</sup>But they shouted again, “Crucify him! Crucify him!”

<sup>22</sup>A third time Pilate said to them, “Why? What wrong has he done? I can find no reason to kill him. So I will have him punished and set him free.”

<sup>23</sup>But they continued to shout, demanding that Jesus be crucified. Their yelling became so loud that <sup>24</sup>Pilate decided to give them what they wanted. <sup>25</sup>He set free the man who was in jail for rioting and murder, and he handed Jesus over to them to do with him as they wished.

Jesus Is Crucified

coming in from the fields. They forced him to carry Jesus' cross and to walk behind him.

<sup>27</sup>A large crowd of people was following Jesus, including some women who were sad and crying for him. <sup>28</sup>But Jesus turned and said to them, "Women of Jerusalem, don't cry for me. Cry for yourselves and for your children. <sup>29</sup>The time is coming when people will say, 'Happy are the women who cannot have children and who have no babies to nurse.' <sup>30</sup>Then people will say to the mountains, 'Fall on us!' And they will say to the hills, 'Cover us!' <sup>31</sup>If they act like this now when life is good, what will happen when bad times come?"

<sup>32</sup>There were also two criminals led out with Jesus to be put to death. <sup>33</sup>When they came to a place called the Skull, the soldiers crucified Jesus and the criminals—one on his right and the other on his left. <sup>34</sup>Jesus said, "Father, forgive them, because they don't know what they are doing." n

The soldiers threw lots to decide who would get his clothes. <sup>35</sup>The people stood there watching. And the leaders made fun of Jesus, saying, "He saved others. Let him save himself if he is God's Chosen One, the Christ."

<sup>36</sup>The soldiers also made fun of him, coming to Jesus and offering him some vinegar. <sup>37</sup>They said, "If you are the king of the Jews, save yourself!" <sup>38</sup>At the top of the cross these words were written: THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

<sup>39</sup>One of the criminals on a cross began to shout insults at Jesus: "Aren't you the Christ? Then save yourself and us."

<sup>40</sup>But the other criminal stopped him and said, "You should fear God! You are getting the same punishment he is. <sup>41</sup>We are punished justly, getting what we deserve for what we did. But this man has done nothing wrong." <sup>42</sup>Then he said, "Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom.”

<sup>43</sup>Jesus said to him, “I tell you the truth, today you will be with me in paradise.”

Jesus Dies

<sup>44</sup>It was about noon, and the whole land became dark until three o’clock in the afternoon, <sup>45</sup>because the sun did not shine. The curtain in the Temple was torn in two. <sup>46</sup>Jesus cried out in a loud voice, “Father, I give you my life.” After Jesus said this, he died.

<sup>47</sup>When the army officer there saw what happened, he praised God, saying, “Surely this was a good man!”

<sup>48</sup>When all the people who had gathered there to watch saw what happened, they returned home, beating their chests because they were so sad. <sup>49</sup>But those who were close friends of Jesus, including the women who had followed him from Galilee, stood at a distance and watched.

Joseph Takes Jesus’ Body

<sup>50</sup>There was a good and religious man named Joseph who was a member of the council. <sup>51</sup>But he had not agreed to the other leaders’ plans and actions against Jesus. He was from the town of Arimathea and was waiting for the kingdom of God to come.

<sup>52</sup>Joseph went to Pilate to ask for the body of Jesus. <sup>53</sup>He took the body down from the cross, wrapped it in cloth, and put it in a tomb that was cut out of a wall of rock. This tomb had never been used before. <sup>54</sup>This was late on Preparation Day, and when the sun went down, the Sabbath day would begin.

<sup>55</sup>The women who had come from Galilee with Jesus followed Joseph and saw the tomb and how Jesus' body was laid. <sup>56</sup>Then the women left to prepare spices and perfumes.

On the Sabbath day they rested, as the law of Moses commanded.

Life Lessons

Luke 24:1-53

Situation

The disciples failed to understand what Jesus was saying when he told them that he would rise again.

Observation

God uses other believers to reveal his will to us.

Inspiration

To pray, “Thy will be done” is to seek the heart of God. The word “will” means “strong desire.” The study is where we learn what God desires. What is his heart? His passion? He wants you to know it.

Shall God hide from us what he is going to do? Apparently not, for he has gone to great lengths to reveal his will to us. Could he have done more than send his Son to lead us? Could he have done more than give his word to teach us? Could he have done more than orchestrate events to awaken us? Could he have done more than send his Holy Spirit to counsel us?

God is not the God of confusion, and wherever he sees sincere seekers with confused hearts, you can bet your sweet December that he will do whatever it takes to help them see his will. That’s what he was doing on the road to Emmaus.

Everybody else was on-line, and they were on foot. They saw the death of Jesus as the death of the movement, and they packed their bags and headed home. And that is where they were going when Jesus appeared to them. How sweet is the appearance of Jesus on the road. Let a lamb take the wrong turn and miss the pasture and our Shepherd, unwilling to let him wander too far, comes to guide him home. How does he do this? How does he reveal his will to us? You might be surprised at the simplicity of the process.

The first mistake of the duo was to disregard the words of their fellow disciples. God reveals his will through a community of believers. On the first Easter, he spoke through women who spoke to the others. “Today some women among us amazed us. Early this morning they went to the tomb, but they did not find his body there. They came and told us that they had seen a vision of angels who said Jesus was alive!” (Luke 24:22–23).

His plan hasn’t changed. Jesus still speaks to believers through believers. “The whole body depends on Christ, and all the parts of the body are joined and held together. Each part does its own work to make the whole body grow and be strong with love” (Ephesians 4:15). (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

Jesus Rises from the Dead

Very early on the first day of the week, at dawn, the women came to the tomb, bringing the spices they had prepared.<sup>2</sup> They found the stone rolled away from the entrance of the tomb,<sup>3</sup> but when they went in, they did not find the body of the Lord Jesus.<sup>4</sup> While they were wondering about this, two men in shining clothes suddenly stood beside them.<sup>5</sup> The women were very afraid and bowed their heads to the ground. The men said to them, “Why are you looking for a living person in this place for the dead?<sup>6</sup> He is not here; he has risen from the dead. Do you remember what he told you in Galilee?<sup>7</sup> He said the Son of Man must be handed over to sinful people, be crucified, and rise from the dead on the third day.”<sup>8</sup> Then the women remembered what Jesus had said.

<sup>9</sup>The women left the tomb and told all these things to the eleven apostles and the other followers.<sup>10</sup> It was Mary Magdalene, Joanna, Mary the mother of James, and some other women who told the apostles everything that had happened at the tomb.<sup>11</sup> But they did not believe the women, because it sounded like nonsense.<sup>12</sup> But Peter got up and ran to the tomb. Bending down and looking in, he saw only the cloth that Jesus’ body had been wrapped in. Peter went away to his home, wondering about what had happened.

Jesus on the Road to Emmaus

<sup>13</sup>That same day two of Jesus' followers were going to a town named Emmaus, about seven miles from Jerusalem. <sup>14</sup>They were talking about everything that had happened. <sup>15</sup>While they were talking and discussing, Jesus himself came near and began walking with them, <sup>16</sup>but they were kept from recognizing him. <sup>17</sup>Then he said, "What are these things you are talking about while you walk?"

The two followers stopped, looking very sad. <sup>18</sup>The one named Cleopas answered, "Are you the only visitor in Jerusalem who does not know what just happened there?"

<sup>19</sup>Jesus said to them, "What are you talking about?"

They said, "About Jesus of Nazareth. He was a prophet who said and did many powerful things before God and all the people. <sup>20</sup>Our leaders and the leading priests handed him over to be sentenced to death, and they crucified him. <sup>21</sup>But we were hoping that he would free Israel. Besides this, it is now the third day since this happened. <sup>22</sup>And today some women among us amazed us. Early this morning they went to the tomb, <sup>23</sup>but they did not find his body there. They came and told us that they had seen a vision of angels who said that Jesus was alive! <sup>24</sup>So some of our group went to the tomb, too. They found it just as the women said, but they did not see Jesus."

<sup>25</sup>Then Jesus said to them, "You are foolish and slow to believe everything the prophets said. <sup>26</sup>They said that the Christ must suffer these things before he enters his glory." <sup>27</sup>Then starting with what Moses and all the prophets had said about him, Jesus began to explain everything that had been written about himself in the Scriptures.

<sup>28</sup>They came near the town of Emmaus, and Jesus acted as if he were going farther. <sup>29</sup>But they begged him, “Stay with us, because it is late; it is almost night.” So he went in to stay with them.

<sup>30</sup>When Jesus was at the table with them, he took some bread, gave thanks, divided it, and gave it to them. <sup>31</sup>And then, they were allowed to recognize Jesus. But when they saw who he was, he disappeared. <sup>32</sup>They said to each other, “It felt like a fire burning in us when Jesus talked to us on the road and explained the Scriptures to us.”

<sup>33</sup>So the two followers got up at once and went back to Jerusalem. There they found the eleven apostles and others gathered. <sup>34</sup>They were saying, “The Lord really has risen from the dead! He showed himself to Simon.”

<sup>35</sup>Then the two followers told what had happened on the road and how they recognized Jesus when he divided the bread.

Jesus Appears to His Followers

<sup>36</sup>While the two followers were telling this, Jesus himself stood right in the middle of them and said, “Peace be with you.”

<sup>37</sup>They were fearful and terrified and thought they were seeing a ghost. <sup>38</sup>But Jesus said, “Why are you troubled? Why do you doubt what you see? <sup>39</sup>Look at my hands and my feet. It is I myself! Touch me and see, because a ghost does not have a living body as you see I have.”

<sup>40</sup>After Jesus said this, he showed them his hands and feet. <sup>41</sup>While they still could not believe it because they were amazed and happy, Jesus said to them, “Do you have any food here?”<sup>42</sup>They gave him a piece of broiled fish.<sup>43</sup>While the followers watched, Jesus took the fish and ate it.

<sup>44</sup>He said to them, “Remember when I was with you before? I said that everything written about me must happen—everything in the law of Moses, the books of the prophets, and the Psalms.”

<sup>45</sup>Then Jesus opened their minds so they could understand the Scriptures.<sup>46</sup>He said to them, “It is written that the Christ would suffer and rise from the dead on the third day<sup>47</sup> and that a change of hearts and lives and forgiveness of sins would be preached in his name to all nations, starting at Jerusalem.<sup>48</sup>You are witnesses of these things.<sup>49</sup>I will send you what my Father has promised, but you must stay in Jerusalem until you have received that power from heaven.”

Jesus Goes Back to Heaven

<sup>50</sup>Jesus led his followers as far as Bethany, and he raised his hands and blessed them.<sup>51</sup>While he was blessing them, he was separated from them and carried into heaven.<sup>52</sup>They worshiped him and returned to Jerusalem very happy.<sup>53</sup>They stayed in the Temple all the time, praising God.

The Book of John

Introduction

He's an old man, this one who sits on the stool and leans against the wall. Eyes closed and face soft, were it not for his hand stroking his beard, you'd think he was asleep.

Some in the room assume he is. He does this often during worship. As the people sing, his eyes will close and his chin will fall until it rests on his chest, and there he will remain motionless. Silent.

Those who know him well know better. They know he is not resting. He is traveling. Atop the music he journeys back, back, back until he is young again. Strong again. There again. There on the seashore with James and the apostles. There on the trail with the disciples and the women. There in the Temple with Caiaphas and the accusers.

It's been sixty years, but John sees him still. The decades took John's strength, but they didn't take his memory. The years dulled his sight, but they didn't dull his vision. The seasons may have wrinkled his face, but they didn't soften his love.

He had been with God. God had been with him. How could he forget?

The wine that moments before had been water—John could still taste it.

The mud placed on the eyes of the blind man in Jerusalem—John could still remember it.

The aroma of Mary's perfume as it filled the room—John could still smell it.

And the voice. Oh, the voice. His voice. John could still hear it.

I am the light of the world, it rang ... I am the door ... I am the way, the truth, the life.

I will come back, it promised, and take you to be with me.

Those who believe in me, it assured, will have life even if they die.

John could hear him. John could see him. Scenes branded on his heart. Words seared into his soul. John would never forget. How could he? He had been there.

He opens his eyes and blinks. The singing has stopped. The teaching has begun. John looks at the listeners and listens to the teacher.

If only you could have been there, he thinks.

But he wasn't. Most weren't. Most weren't even born. And most who were there are dead. Peter is. So is James. Nathanael, Martha, Philip. They are all gone. Even Paul, the apostle who came late, is dead.

Only John remains.

He looks again at the church. Small but earnest. They lean forward to hear the teacher. John listens to him. What a task. Speaking of one he never saw. Explaining words he never heard. John is there if the teacher needs him.

But what will happen when John is gone? What will the teacher do then? When John's voice is silent and his tongue stilled? Who will tell them how Jesus silenced the waves? Will they hear how he fed the thousands? Will they remember how he prayed for unity?

How will they know? If only they could have been there.

Suddenly, in his heart he knows what to do.

Later, under the light of a sunlit shaft, the old fisherman unfolds the scroll and begins to write the story of his life ...

In the beginning there was the Word ...

Life Lessons

John 1:1–51

Situation

The Greeks and the Jews were familiar with the concept of the word. For the Jews it was an expression of God's wisdom, and for the Greeks it meant reason and intellect.

Observation

Leaving his heavenly home, Jesus put on human flesh to bring us God's Good News.

Inspiration

It all happened in a moment, a most remarkable moment... that was like none other. For through that segment of time a spectacular thing occurred. God became a man. While the creatures of earth walked unaware, Divinity arrived. Heaven opened herself and placed her most precious one in a human womb... .

God as a fetus. Holiness sleeping in a womb. The creator of life being created.

God was given eyebrows, elbows, two kidneys, and a spleen. He stretched against the walls and floated in the amniotic fluids of his mother.

God had come near... .

The hands that first held him were unmanicured, calloused, and dirty.

No silk. No ivory. No hype. No party. No hoopla.

Were it not for the shepherds, there would have been no reception. And were it not for a group of star-gazers, there would have been no gifts... .

For thirty-three years he would feel everything you and I have ever felt. He felt weak. He grew weary. He was afraid of failure. He was susceptible to wooing women. He got colds, burped, and had body odor. His feelings got hurt. His feet got tired. And his head ached.

To think of Jesus in such a light is—well, it seems almost irreverent, doesn't it? It's not something we like to do; it's uncomfortable. It is much easier to keep the humanity out of the incarnation. He's easier to stomach that way....

But don't do it. For heaven's sake, don't. Let him be as human as he intended to be. Let him into the mire and muck of our world. For only if we let him in can he pull us out.

(From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

Application

If people want to know what God is like, they can look at Jesus. If they want to know what Jesus is like, they should be able to look at his followers. Can people see Christ in you?

Exploration

The Word Is Born—John 14:6-7; 1 Corinthians 8:5-6; Galatians 4:4; Philippians 2:7-8; 1 Timothy 3:16; Hebrews 2:14; 1 John 1:1-2; 4:2.

Christ Comes to the World

In the beginning there was the Word. The Word was with God, and the Word was God. <sup>2</sup>He was with God in the beginning. <sup>3</sup>All things were made by him, and nothing was made without him. <sup>4</sup>In him there was life, and that life was the light of all people. <sup>5</sup>The Light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overpowered it.

<sup>6</sup>There was a man named John who was sent by God. <sup>7</sup>He came to tell people the truth about the Light so that through him all people could hear about the Light and believe. <sup>8</sup>John was not the Light, but he came to tell people the truth about the Light. <sup>9</sup>The true Light that gives light to all was coming into the world!

<sup>10</sup>The Word was in the world, and the world was made by him, but the world did not know him. <sup>11</sup>He came to the world that was his own, but his own people did not accept him. <sup>12</sup>But to all who did accept him and believe in him he gave the right to become children of God. <sup>13</sup>They did not become his children in any human way—by any human parents or human desire. They were born of God.

<sup>14</sup>The Word became a human and lived among us. We saw his glory—the glory that belongs to the only Son of the Father—and he was full of grace and truth. <sup>15</sup>John tells the truth about him and cries out, saying, “This is the One I told you about: “The One who comes after me is greater than I am, because he was living before me.”

<sup>16</sup>Because he was full of grace and truth, from him we all received one gift after another. <sup>17</sup>The law was given through Moses, but grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. <sup>18</sup>No one has ever seen God. But God the only Son is very close to the Father, and he has shown us what God is like.

John Tells People About Jesus

<sup>19</sup>Here is the truth John told when the leaders in Jerusalem sent priests and Levites to ask him, “Who are you?”

<sup>20</sup>John spoke freely and did not refuse to answer. He said, “I am not the Christ.”

<sup>21</sup>So they asked him, “Then who are you? Are you Elijah?”
He answered, “No, I am not.”

“Are you the Prophet?” they asked.
He answered, “No.”

<sup>22</sup>Then they said, “Who are you? Give us an answer to tell those who sent us. What do you say about yourself?”

<sup>23</sup>John told them in the words of the prophet Isaiah:

“I am the voice of one calling out in the desert:
‘Make the road straight for the Lord.’”

Isaiah 40:3

<sup>24</sup>Some Pharisees who had been sent asked John: <sup>25</sup>“If you are not the Christ or Elijah or the Prophet, why do you baptize people?”

<sup>26</sup>John answered, “I baptize with water, but there is one here with you that you don’t know about.<sup>27</sup>He is the One who comes after me. I am not good enough to untie the strings of his sandals.”

<sup>28</sup>This all happened at Bethany on the other side of the Jordan River, where John was baptizing people.

<sup>29</sup>The next day John saw Jesus coming toward him. John said, “Look, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world!<sup>30</sup>This is the One I was talking about when I said, ‘A man will come after me, but he is greater than I am, because he was living before me.’<sup>31</sup>Even I did not know who he was, although I came baptizing with water so that the people of Israel would know who he is.”

<sup>32–33</sup>Then John said, “I saw the Spirit come down from heaven in the form of a dove and rest on him. Until then I did not know who the Christ was. But the God who sent me to baptize with water told me, ‘You will see the Spirit come down and rest on a man; he is the One who will baptize with the Holy Spirit.’<sup>34</sup>I have seen this happen, and I tell you the truth: This man is the Son of God.”

The First Followers of Jesus

<sup>36</sup>When he saw Jesus walking by, he said, “Look, the Lamb of God!”

<sup>37</sup>The two followers heard John say this, so they followed Jesus.<sup>38</sup>When Jesus turned and saw them following him, he asked, “What are you looking for?”

They said, “Rabbi, where are you staying?” (“Rabbi” means “Teacher.”)

<sup>39</sup>He answered, “Come and see.” So the two men went with Jesus and saw where he was staying and stayed there with him that day. It was about four o’clock in the afternoon.

<sup>40</sup>One of the two men who followed Jesus after they heard John speak about him was Andrew, Simon Peter’s brother.

<sup>41</sup>The first thing Andrew did was to find his brother Simon and say to him, “We have found the Messiah.” (“Messiah” means “Christ.”)

<sup>42</sup>Then Andrew took Simon to Jesus. Jesus looked at him and said, “You are Simon son of John. You will be called Cephas.” (“Cephas” means “Peter.”)

<sup>43</sup>The next day Jesus decided to go to Galilee. He found Philip and said to him, “Follow me.”

<sup>44</sup>Philip was from the town of Bethsaida, where Andrew and Peter lived. <sup>45</sup>Philip found Nathanael and told him, “We have found the man that Moses wrote about in the law, and the prophets also wrote about him. He is Jesus, the son of Joseph, from Nazareth.”

<sup>46</sup>But Nathanael said to Philip, “Can anything good come from Nazareth?”

Philip answered, “Come and see.”

<sup>47</sup>As Jesus saw Nathanael coming toward him, he said, “Here is truly an Israelite. There is nothing false in him.”

<sup>48</sup>Nathanael asked, “How do you know me?”

Jesus answered, “I saw you when you were under the fig tree, before Philip told you about me.”

<sup>49</sup>Then Nathanael said to Jesus, “Teacher, you are the Son of God; you are the King of Israel.”

<sup>50</sup>Jesus said to Nathanael, “Do you believe simply because I told you I saw you under the fig tree? You will see greater things than that.”<sup>51</sup>And Jesus said to them, “I tell you the truth, you will all see heaven open and ‘angels of God going up and coming down’ on the Son of Man.”

John 2:1–25

Situation

Weddings were an important part of Jewish culture. An entire village or town often participated in the festivities. Jesus performed his first miracle at this wedding in Cana.

Observation

Jesus is concerned about us because we are his children and his friends.

Inspiration

Picture six men walking on a narrow road...

The men's faces are eager, but common. Their leader is confident, but unknown. They call him Rabbi...

Where are they going? ... They haven't been told, but they each have their own idea...

Then a chorus of confusion breaks out and ends only when Jesus lifts his hand and says softly, "We're on our way to a wedding." ...

"Why would we go to a wedding?" ...

The answer? It's found in the second verse of John 2. "Jesus and his followers were also invited to the wedding." ...

Big deal? I think so. I think it's significant that common folk in a little town enjoyed being with Jesus... Jesus was a likable fellow. And his disciples should be the same. I'm not talking debauchery, drunkenness, and adultery. I'm not endorsing compromise, coarseness, or obscenity. I am simply crusading for the freedom to enjoy a good joke, enliven a dull party, and appreciate a fun evening....

Application

How long has it been since you had a good laugh? A hilarious time of fun with Christian friends? Jesus wants us to rejoice and enjoy life. Celebrate!

The Wedding at Cana

Two days later there was a wedding in the town of Cana in Galilee. Jesus' mother was there,<sup>2</sup> and Jesus and his followers were also invited to the wedding.<sup>3</sup> When all the wine was gone, Jesus' mother said to him, "They have no more wine."

<sup>4</sup>Jesus answered, "Dear woman, why come to me? My time has not yet come."

<sup>6</sup>In that place there were six stone water jars that the Jews used in their washing ceremony. Each jar held about twenty or thirty gallons.

<sup>7</sup>Jesus said to the servants, "Fill the jars with water." So they filled the jars to the top.

<sup>8</sup>Then he said to them, "Now take some out and give it to the master of the feast."

So they took the water to the master.<sup>9</sup> When he tasted it, the water had become wine. He did not know where the wine came from, but the servants who had brought the water knew. The master of the wedding called the bridegroom<sup>10</sup> and said to him, "People always serve the best wine first. Later, after the guests have been drinking awhile, they serve the cheaper wine. But you have saved the best wine till now."

<sup>11</sup>So in Cana of Galilee Jesus did his first miracle. There he showed his glory, and his followers believed in him.

Jesus in the Temple

<sup>12</sup>After this, Jesus went to the town of Capernaum with his mother, brothers, and followers. They stayed there for just a few days. <sup>13</sup>When it was almost time for the Jewish Passover Feast, Jesus went to Jerusalem. <sup>14</sup>In the Temple he found people selling cattle, sheep, and doves. He saw others sitting at tables, exchanging different kinds of money. <sup>15</sup>Jesus made a whip out of cords and forced all of them, both the sheep and cattle, to leave the Temple. He turned over the tables and scattered the money of those who were exchanging it. <sup>16</sup>Then he said to those who were selling pigeons, “Take these things out of here! Don’t make my Father’s house a place for buying and selling!”

<sup>18</sup>Some of his people said to Jesus, “Show us a miracle to prove you have the right to do these things.”

<sup>19</sup>Jesus answered them, “Destroy this temple, and I will build it again in three days.”

<sup>20</sup>They answered, “It took forty-six years to build this Temple! Do you really believe you can build it again in three days?”

<sup>21</sup>(But the temple Jesus meant was his own body. <sup>22</sup>After Jesus was raised from the dead, his followers remembered that Jesus had said this. Then they believed the Scripture and the words Jesus had said.)

<sup>23</sup>When Jesus was in Jerusalem for the Passover Feast, many people believed in him because they saw the miracles he did. <sup>24</sup>But Jesus did not trust himself to them because he knew them all. <sup>25</sup>He did not need anyone to tell him about people, because he knew what was in people's minds.

Life Lessons

John 3:1–36

Situation

Nicodemus belonged to the highest governing body of the Jewish people, the Sanhedrin. Many of these Jewish leaders were bound by tradition and legalism.

Observation

Jesus came to free men and women from slavery to sin and from the chains of legalism.

Inspiration

The meeting between Jesus and Nicodemus was more than an encounter between two religious figures. It was a collision between two philosophies. Two opposing views on salvation.

Nicodemus thought the person did the work; Jesus says God does the work...

These two views encompass all views. All the world religions can be placed in one of two camps: legalism or grace...

A legalist believes the supreme force behind salvation is you. If you look right, speak right, and belong to the right segment of the right group, you will be saved. The brunt of responsibility doesn't lie with God; it lies within you...

Spirituality, Jesus says, comes not from church attendance or good deeds or correct doctrine, but from heaven itself. Such words must have set Nicodemus back on his heels. But Jesus was just getting started....

Salvation is God's business. Grace is his idea, his work, and his expense. He offers it to whom he desires, when he desires. Our job in the process is to inform the people, not screen the people.

The question must have been written all over Nicodemus's face. Why would God do this? What would motivate him to offer such a gift? What Jesus told Nicodemus, Nicodemus could never have imagined. The motive behind the gift of new birth? Love. "God loved the world so much that he gave his one and only Son so that whoever believes in him may not be lost, but have eternal life" (v. 16).

Nicodemus has never heard such words. Never. He has had many discussions of salvation. But this is the first in which no rules were given. No system was offered. No code or ritual. "Everyone who believes can have eternal life in him," Jesus told him. Could God be so generous? (From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

Application

Are there religious "rules" you observe but do not understand? Did God command them, or did mere men create them? Do they help you feel close to God? If so, keep them. Are some confusing to you? Ask your pastor to explain them to you.

Exploration

Legalism—Matthew 5:17, 21-22; 12:9-12; 1 Corinthians 10:25-27.

Nicodemus Comes to Jesus

There was a man named Nicodemus who was one of the Pharisees and an important Jewish leader.<sup>2</sup> One night Nicodemus came to Jesus and said, “Teacher, we know you are a teacher sent from God, because no one can do the miracles you do unless God is with him.”

<sup>3</sup>Jesus answered, “I tell you the truth, unless one is born again, he cannot be in God’s kingdom.”

<sup>4</sup>Nicodemus said, “But if a person is already old, how can he be born again? He cannot enter his mother’s body again. So how can a person be born a second time?”

<sup>5</sup>But Jesus answered, “I tell you the truth, unless one is born from water and the Spirit, he cannot enter God’s kingdom. <sup>6</sup>Human life comes from human parents, but spiritual life comes from the Spirit. <sup>7</sup>Don’t be surprised when I tell you, ‘You must all be born again.’ <sup>8</sup>The wind blows where it wants to and you hear the sound of it, but you don’t know where the wind comes from or where it is going. It is the same with every person who is born from the Spirit.”

<sup>10</sup>Jesus said, “You are an important teacher in Israel, and you don’t understand these things? <sup>11</sup>I tell you the truth, we talk about what we know, and we tell about what we have seen, but you don’t accept what we tell you. <sup>12</sup>I have told you about things here on earth, and you do not believe me. So you will not believe me if I tell you about things of heaven.<sup>13</sup>The only one who has ever gone up to heaven is the One who came down from heaven—the Son of Man.

NewLife in Christ

“I tell you the truth, unless one is born again, he cannot be in God’s kingdom.”—John 3:3

The Second Birth: Life Eternal

Changing the clothes doesn’t change the man. Outward discipline doesn’t alter what is within. New habits don’t make a new soul. That’s not to say that outward change is not good. That is to say that outward change is not enough. If one would see the kingdom, he must be born again.

That phrase, “born again,” belongs to Jesus. He first used it when he was talking to Nicodemus. Nicodemus was a good man. A very good man. He was a Pharisee, a religious ruler, a member of the Sanhedrin, one of the decision makers in Jerusalem. No doubt he had been taught and had taught that if you change the outside, you change the inside. He, like Paul, revered the law. He, like Paul, wanted to do right.

He thought the right training could make a waiter out of a cat.

But Jesus told him, “I tell you the truth, unless one is born again, he cannot be in God’s kingdom” (John 3:3). Nicodemus’s response is sincere. He didn’t ask Why? He asked How? Perhaps you are asking the same question. How is a person born again?

To get an idea, think back to your own birth. Put the VCR of your days in reverse, and pause at your first moments. Look at yourself. Brand-new. New hands. New eyes. New mouth. No pre-owned parts. All original material.

Now tell me, who gave you these parts? Who gave you eyes so you could see? Who gave you hands so you could work? Who gave you feet that you could walk? Did you make your own eyes? Your own hands? Your own feet?

No, you made nothing; God made everything. He was the one who made everything new the first time, and he is the one who makes everything new the second. The Creator creates again! "If anyone belongs to Christ, there is a new creation. The old things have gone; everything is made new!" (2 Corinthians 5:17)

Here is (dare I say it?) the greatest miracle of God. It is astounding when God heals the body. It is extraordinary when God hears the prayer. It is incredible when God provides the new job, the new car, the new child. But none of these compares to when God creates new life.

At our new birth God remakes our souls and gives us what we need, again. New eyes so we can see by faith. A new mind so we can have the mind of Christ. New strength so we won't grow tired. A new vision so we won't lose heart. A new voice for praise and new hands for service. And most of all, a new heart.

A heart that has been cleansed by Christ.

And, oh, how we need it. We have soiled what he gave us the first time. We have used our eyes to see impurity, our hands to give pain, our feet to walk the wrong path, our minds to think evil thoughts. All of us need to be made new again.

The first birth was for earthly life; the second one is for eternal life. The first time we received a physical heart; the second time we receive a spiritual heart. The first birth enabled us to have life on earth. The second birth enables us to have life eternal. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Question: How do you know for certain that you are born again and will have everlasting life?

For more on “New Life in Christ.”

<sup>14</sup>“Just as Moses lifted up the snake in the desert, the Son of Man must also be lifted up. <sup>15</sup>So that everyone who believes can have eternal life in him.

<sup>16</sup>“God loved the world so much that he gave his one and only Son so that whoever believes in him may not be lost, but have eternal life. <sup>17</sup>God did not send his Son into the world to judge the world guilty, but to save the world through him.

<sup>18</sup>People who believe in God’s Son are not judged guilty. Those who do not believe have already been judged guilty, because they have not believed in God’s one and only Son. <sup>19</sup>They are judged by this fact: The Light has come into the world, but they did not want light. They wanted darkness, because they were doing evil things. <sup>20</sup>All who do evil hate the light and will not come to the light, because it will show all the evil things they do. <sup>21</sup>But those who follow the true way come to the light, and it shows that the things they do were done through God.”

Jesus and John the Baptist

<sup>22</sup>After this, Jesus and his followers went into the area of Judea, where he stayed with his followers and baptized people.

<sup>23</sup>John was also baptizing in Aenon, near Salim, because there was plenty of water there. People were going there to be baptized. <sup>24</sup>(This was before John was put into prison.)

<sup>25</sup>Some of John’s followers had an argument with a Jew about religious washing. <sup>26</sup>So they came to John and said, “Teacher, remember the man who was with you on the other side of the Jordan River, the one you spoke about so much? He is baptizing, and everyone is going to him.”

<sup>27</sup>John answered, “A man can get only what God gives him. <sup>28</sup>You yourselves heard me say, ‘I am not the Christ, but I am the one sent to prepare the way for him.’ <sup>29</sup>The bride belongs only to the bridegroom. But the friend who helps the bridegroom stands by and listens to him. He is thrilled that he gets to hear the bridegroom’s voice. In the same way, I am really happy. <sup>30</sup>He must become greater, and I must become less important.

The One Who Comes from Heaven

<sup>31</sup>“The One who comes from above is greater than all. The one who is from the earth belongs to the earth and talks about things on the earth. But the One who comes from heaven is greater than all. <sup>32</sup>He tells what he has seen and heard, but no one accepts what he says. <sup>33</sup>Whoever accepts what he says has proven that God is true. <sup>34</sup>The One whom God sent speaks the words of God, because God gives him the Spirit fully. <sup>35</sup>The Father loves the Son and has given him power over everything. <sup>36</sup>Those who believe in the Son have eternal life, but those who do not obey the Son will never have life. God’s anger stays on them.”

John 4:1–54

Situation

Although the Jews did not like the Samaritans, Jesus purposely went through their territory. His disciples were amazed to find Jesus talking with a Samaritan—especially a woman!

Observation

Jesus knows everything about us before we tell him.

Inspiration

Remarkable... It wasn't within the colonnades of a Roman court that he announced his identity.

No, it was in the shade of a well in a rejected land to an ostracized woman. His eyes must have danced as he whispered the secret.

“I am the Messiah.” ...

Don't miss the drama of the moment. Look at her eyes, wide with amazement. Listen to her as she struggles for words. “Y-y-y-you a-a-a-are the M-m-m-messiah!” ...

Suddenly the insignificance of her life was swallowed by the significance of the moment. “God is here! God has come! God cares ... for me!” ...

That is why she grabbed the first person she saw and announced her discovery, “I just talked to a man who knows everything I ever did ... and he loves me anyway!”

The disciples offered Jesus some food. He refused it—he was too excited! He had just done what he does best. He had taken a life that was drifting and given it direction.

He was exuberant! (From Six Hours One Friday by Max Lucado)

Application

What doubts and misgivings about Jesus do you have that hinder your faith? First, realize that even the disciples doubted, right up to the end (Matthew 28:17). Second, commit your doubts to the Lord, and ask for faith to live for Christ. Third, have confidence in Jesus the living Word. He will refresh your faith.

Jesus and a Samaritan Woman

The Pharisees heard that Jesus was making and baptizing more followers than John,<sup>2</sup> although Jesus himself did not baptize people, but his followers did.<sup>3</sup> Jesus knew that the Pharisees had heard about him, so he left Judea and went back to Galilee.<sup>4</sup> But on the way he had to go through the country of Samaria.

<sup>5</sup>In Samaria Jesus came to the town called Sychar, which is near the field Jacob gave to his son Joseph.<sup>6</sup> Jacob's well was there. Jesus was tired from his long trip, so he sat down beside the well. It was about twelve o'clock noon.<sup>7</sup> When a Samaritan woman came to the well to get some water, Jesus said to her, "Please give me a drink."<sup>8</sup> (This happened while Jesus' followers were in town buying some food.)<sup>9</sup> The woman said, "I am surprised that you ask me for a drink, since you are a Jewish man and I am a Samaritan woman." (Jewish people are not friends with Samaritans.)

<sup>10</sup>Jesus said, "If you only knew the free gift of God and who it is that is asking you for water, you would have asked him, and he would have given you living water."

<sup>11</sup>The woman said, "Sir, where will you get this living water? The well is very deep, and you have nothing to get water with.

<sup>12</sup>Are you greater than Jacob, our father, who gave us this well and drank from it himself along with his sons and flocks?"

<sup>13</sup>Jesus answered, "Everyone who drinks this water will be thirsty again,<sup>14</sup> but whoever drinks the water I give will never be thirsty. The water I give will become a spring of water gushing up inside that person, giving eternal life.”

<sup>15</sup>The woman said to him, “Sir, give me this water so I will never be thirsty again and will not have to come back here to get more water.”

Jesus said to her, “You are right to say you have no husband. <sup>18</sup>Really you have had five husbands, and the man you live with now is not your husband. You told the truth.”

<sup>19</sup>The woman said, “Sir, I can see that you are a prophet. <sup>20</sup>Our ancestors worshiped on this mountain, but you say that Jerusalem is the place where people must worship.”

<sup>21</sup>Jesus said, “Believe me, woman. The time is coming when neither in Jerusalem nor on this mountain will you actually worship the Father. <sup>22</sup>You Samaritans worship something you don’t understand. We understand what we worship, because salvation comes from the Jews. <sup>23</sup>The time is coming when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, and that time is here already. You see, the Father too is actively seeking such people to worship him. <sup>24</sup>God is spirit, and those who worship him must worship in spirit and truth.”

<sup>25</sup>The woman said, “I know that the Messiah is coming.” (Messiah is the One called Christ.) “When the Messiah comes, he will explain everything to us.”

<sup>26</sup>Then Jesus said, “I am he—I, the one talking to you.”

<sup>27</sup>Just then his followers came back from town and were surprised to see him talking with a woman. But none of them asked, “What do you want?” or “Why are you talking with her?”

<sup>28</sup>Then the woman left her water jar and went back to town. She said to the people, <sup>29</sup>“Come and see a man who told me everything I ever did. Do you think he might be the Christ?”

<sup>34</sup>Jesus said, “My food is to do what the One who sent me wants me to do and to finish his work. <sup>35</sup>You have a saying, ‘Four more months till harvest.’ But I tell you, open your eyes and look at the fields ready for harvest now. <sup>36</sup>Already, the one who harvests is being paid and is gathering crops for eternal life. So the one who plants and the one who harvests celebrate at the same time. <sup>37</sup>Here the saying is true, ‘One person plants, and another harvests.’ <sup>38</sup>I sent you to harvest a crop that you did not work on. Others did the work, and you get to finish up their work.”

<sup>39</sup>Many of the Samaritans in that town believed in Jesus because of what the woman said: “He told me everything I ever did.” <sup>40</sup>When the Samaritans came to Jesus, they begged him to stay with them, so he stayed there two more days. <sup>41</sup>And many more believed because of the things he said.

<sup>42</sup>They said to the woman, “First we believed in Jesus because of your speech, but now we believe because we heard him ourselves. We know that this man really is the Savior of the world.”

Jesus Heals an Officer's Son

<sup>43</sup>Two days later, Jesus left and went to Galilee. <sup>44</sup>(Jesus had said before that a prophet is not respected in his own country.)

<sup>45</sup>When Jesus arrived in Galilee, the people there welcomed him. They had seen all the things he did at the Passover Feast in Jerusalem, because they had been there, too.

<sup>46</sup>Jesus went again to visit Cana in Galilee where he had changed the water into wine. One of the king's important officers lived in the city of Capernaum, and his son was sick.

<sup>47</sup>When he heard that Jesus had come from Judea to Galilee, he went to Jesus and begged him to come to Capernaum and heal his son, because his son was almost dead. <sup>48</sup>Jesus said to him, “You people must see signs and miracles before you will believe in me.”

<sup>50</sup>Jesus answered, “Go. Your son will live.”

The man believed what Jesus told him and went home. <sup>51</sup>On the way the man's servants came and met him and told him, “Your son is alive.”

They answered, “Yesterday at one o'clock the fever left him.”

<sup>53</sup>The father knew that one o'clock was the exact time that Jesus had said, “Your son will live.” So the man and all the people who lived in his house believed in Jesus.

<sup>54</sup>That was the second miracle Jesus did after coming from Judea to Galilee.

Life Lessons

John 5:1–47

Situation

While he was traveling to Jerusalem to attend the feast of the Passover, Jesus made a detour to Bethesda to meet the needs of the people.

Observation

Jesus had special concern for the suffering and the neglected.

Inspiration

Picture a battleground strewn with wounded bodies, and you see Bethesda. Imagine a nursing home overcrowded and understaffed, and you see the pool. Call to mind the orphans in Bangladesh or the abandoned in New Delhi, and you will see what people saw when they passed Bethesda. As they passed, what did they hear? An endless wave of groans. What did they witness? A field of faceless need. What did they do? Most walked past, ignoring the people.

But not Jesus....

He is alone... . The people need him—so he's there.

Can you picture it? Jesus walking among the suffering....

It's worth the telling of the story if all we do is watch him walk. It's worth it just to know he even came. He didn't have to, you know. Surely there are more sanitary crowds in Jerusalem. Surely there are more enjoyable activities. After all, this is the Passover feast. It's an exciting time in the holy city. People have come from miles around to meet God in the temple.

Little do they know that God is with the sick.

Little do they know that God is walking slowly, stepping carefully between the beggars and the blind.

Little do they know that the strong young carpenter who surveys the ragged landscape of pain is God. (From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you spend much time among suffering people? Think of how you can meet the needs of those who suffer, and with God's help, do it.

Meeting Needs—Exodus 20:1; Numbers 10:29–32; 35:2–3; 2 Kings 6:1–7; Matthew 25:34–40.

Jesus Heals a Man at a Pool

Later Jesus went to Jerusalem for a special feast. <sup>2</sup>In Jerusalem there is a pool with five covered porches, which is called Bethzatha in the Hebrew language. This pool is near the Sheep Gate. <sup>3</sup>Many sick people were lying on the porches beside the pool. Some were blind, some were crippled, and some were paralyzed. <sup>4</sup>n <sup>5</sup>A man was lying there who had been sick for thirty-eight years. <sup>6</sup>When Jesus saw the man and knew that he had been sick for such a long time, Jesus asked him, “Do you want to be well?”

<sup>7</sup>The sick man answered, “Sir, there is no one to help me get into the pool when the water starts moving. While I am coming to the water, someone else always gets in before me.”

<sup>8</sup>Then Jesus said, “Stand up. Pick up your mat and walk.” <sup>9</sup>And immediately the man was well; he picked up his mat and began to walk.

The day this happened was a Sabbath day. <sup>10</sup>So the Jews said to the man who had been healed, “Today is the Sabbath. It is against our law for you to carry your mat on the Sabbath day.”

<sup>11</sup>But he answered, “The man who made me well told me, ‘Pick up your mat and walk.’”

<sup>12</sup>Then they asked him, “Who is the man who told you to pick up your mat and walk?”

<sup>13</sup>But the man who had been healed did not know who it was, because there were many people in that place, and Jesus had left.

<sup>14</sup>Later, Jesus found the man at the Temple and said to him, “See, you are well now. Stop sinning so that something worse does not happen to you.”

<sup>15</sup>Then the man left and told his people that Jesus was the one who had made him well.

<sup>16</sup>Because Jesus was doing this on the Sabbath day, some evil people began to persecute him. <sup>17</sup>But Jesus said to them, “My Father never stops working, and so I keep working, too.”

<sup>18</sup>This made them try still harder to kill him. They said, “First Jesus was breaking the law about the Sabbath day. Now he says that God is his own Father, making himself equal with God!”

Jesus Has God’s Authority

<sup>19</sup>But Jesus said, “I tell you the truth, the Son can do nothing alone. The Son does only what he sees the Father doing, because the Son does whatever the Father does. <sup>20</sup>The Father loves the Son and shows the Son all the things he himself does. But the Father will show the Son even greater things than this so that you can all be amazed. <sup>21</sup>Just as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so also the Son gives life to those he wants to. <sup>22</sup>In fact, the Father judges no one, but he has given the Son power to do all the judging <sup>23</sup>so that all people will honor the Son as much as they honor the Father. Anyone who does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent him.

<sup>24</sup>“I tell you the truth, whoever hears what I say and believes in the One who sent me has eternal life. That person will not be judged guilty but has already left death and entered life. <sup>25</sup>I tell you the truth, the time is coming and is already here when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear will have life. <sup>26</sup>Life comes from the Father himself, and he has allowed the Son to have life in himself as well. <sup>27</sup>And the Father has given the Son the power to judge, because he is the Son of Man. <sup>28</sup>Don’t be surprised at this: A time is coming when all who are dead and in their graves will hear his voice. <sup>29</sup>Then they will come out of their graves. Those who did good will rise and have life forever, but those who did evil will rise to be judged guilty.

Jesus Is God’s Son

<sup>30</sup>“I can do nothing alone. I judge only the way I am told, so my judgment is fair. I don’t try to please myself, but I try to please the One who sent me.

<sup>31</sup>“If only I tell people about myself, what I say is not true. <sup>32</sup>But there is another who tells about me, and I know that the things he says about me are true.

<sup>33</sup>“You have sent people to John, and he has told you the truth. <sup>34</sup>It is not that I accept such human telling; I tell you this so you can be saved. <sup>35</sup>John was like a burning and shining lamp, and you were happy to enjoy his light for a while.

<sup>36</sup>“But I have a proof about myself that is greater than that of John. The things I do, which are the things my Father gave me to do, prove that the Father sent me. <sup>37</sup>And the Father himself who sent me has given proof about me. You have never heard his voice or seen what he looks like.<sup>38</sup> His teaching does not live in you, because you don't believe in the One the Father sent.<sup>39</sup> You carefully study the Scriptures because you think they give you eternal life. They do in fact tell about me,<sup>40</sup> but you refuse to come to me to have that life.

<sup>41</sup>“I don't need praise from people.<sup>42</sup> But I know you—I know that you don't have God's love in you.<sup>43</sup> I have come from my Father and speak for him, but you don't accept me. But when another person comes, speaking only for himself, you will accept him.<sup>44</sup> You try to get praise from each other, but you do not try to get the praise that comes from the only God. So how can you believe?<sup>45</sup> Don't think that I will stand before the Father and say you are wrong. The one who says you are wrong is Moses, the one you hoped would save you.<sup>46</sup> If you really believed Moses, you would believe me, because Moses wrote about me.<sup>47</sup> But if you don't believe what Moses wrote, how can you believe what I say?”

Life Lessons

John 6:1-71

Situation

Jesus demonstrated his power to meet spiritual and physical needs.

Observation

To gain eternal life, we must be nourished with God's Word, drawn to Christ, and united with him.

Inspiration

The stress seen that day is not on Jesus' face, but on the faces of the disciples. "Send the crowds away," they demand see [Matthew 14:15-16]. Fair request. "After all," they are saying, "You've taught them. You've healed them. You've accommodated them. And now they're getting hungry. If we don't send them away, they'll want you to feed them, too!"

I wish I could have seen the expression on the disciples' faces when they heard the Master's response....

"You give them something to eat." ...

Rather than look to God, they looked in their wallets. "That would take eight months of a man's wages! Are we to go and spend that much on bread and give it to them to eat?"

"Y-y-y-you've got to be kidding."

"He can't be serious."

"It's one of Jesus' jokes."

"Do you know how many people are out there?"

Eyes watermelon-wide. Jaws dangling open. One ear hearing the din of the crowd, the other the command of God.

Don't miss the contrasting views. When Jesus saw the people, he saw an opportunity to love and affirm value. When the disciples saw the people they saw thousands of problems.

Also, don't miss the irony. In the midst of a bakery—in the presence of the Eternal Baker—they tell the “Bread of Life” that there is no bread.

How silly we must appear to God.

Here's where Jesus should have given up. This is the point in the pressure-packed day where Jesus should have exploded. The sorrow, the life threats, the exuberance, the crowds, the interruptions, the demands, and now this. His own disciples can't do what he asks them. In front of five thousand men, they let him down.

“Beam me up, Father,” should have been Jesus' next words. But they weren't. Instead he inquires, “How many loaves do you have?”

The disciples bring him a little boy's lunch. A lunch pail becomes a banquet, and all are fed. No word of reprimand is given. No furrowed brow of anger is seen. No “I-told-you-so” speech is delivered. The same compassion Jesus extends to the crowd is extended to his friends. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

More than Five Thousand Fed

After this, Jesus went across Lake Galilee (or, Lake Tiberias).<sup>2</sup> Many people followed him because they saw the miracles he did to heal the sick. <sup>3</sup>Jesus went up on a hill and sat down there with his followers. <sup>4</sup>It was almost the time for the Jewish Passover Feast.

<sup>5</sup>When Jesus looked up and saw a large crowd coming toward him, he said to Philip, “Where can we buy enough bread for all these people to eat?” <sup>6</sup>(Jesus asked Philip this question to test him, because Jesus already knew what he planned to do.)

<sup>7</sup>Philip answered, “We would all have to work a month to buy enough bread for each person to have only a little piece.”

<sup>10</sup>Jesus said, “Tell the people to sit down.” This was a very grassy place, and about five thousand men sat down there. <sup>11</sup>Then Jesus took the loaves of bread, thanked God for them, and gave them to the people who were sitting there. He did the same with the fish, giving as much as the people wanted.

<sup>12</sup>When they had all had enough to eat, Jesus said to his followers, “Gather the leftover pieces of fish and bread so that nothing is wasted.” <sup>13</sup>So they gathered up the pieces and filled twelve baskets with the pieces left from the five barley loaves.

<sup>14</sup>When the people saw this miracle that Jesus did, they said, “He must truly be the Prophet who is coming into the world.”

<sup>15</sup>Jesus knew that the people planned to come and take him by force and make him their king, so he left and went into the hills alone.

Jesus Walks on the Water

<sup>16</sup>That evening Jesus’ followers went down to Lake Galilee. <sup>17</sup>It was dark now, and Jesus had not yet come to them. The followers got into a boat and started across the lake to Capernaum. <sup>18</sup>By now a strong wind was blowing, and the waves on the lake were getting bigger. <sup>19</sup>When they had rowed the boat about three or four miles, they saw Jesus walking on the water, coming toward the boat. The followers were afraid, <sup>20</sup>but Jesus said to them, “It is I. Do not be afraid.” <sup>21</sup>Then they were glad to take him into the boat. At once the boat came to land at the place where they wanted to go.

The People Seek Jesus

<sup>22</sup>The next day the people who had stayed on the other side of the lake knew that Jesus had not gone in the boat with his followers but that they had left without him. And they knew that only one boat had been there. <sup>23</sup>But then some boats came from Tiberias and landed near the place where the people had eaten the bread after the Lord had given thanks. <sup>24</sup>When the people saw that Jesus and his followers were not there now, they got into boats and went to Capernaum to find Jesus.

Jesus, the Bread of Life

<sup>25</sup>When the people found Jesus on the other side of the lake, they asked him, “Teacher, when did you come here?”

<sup>26</sup>Jesus answered, “I tell you the truth, you aren’t looking for me because you saw me do miracles. You are looking for me because you ate the bread and were satisfied. <sup>27</sup>Don’t work for the food that spoils. Work for the food that stays good always and gives eternal life. The Son of Man will give you this food, because on him God the Father has put his power.”

<sup>28</sup>The people asked Jesus, “What are the things God wants us to do?”

<sup>29</sup>Jesus answered, “The work God wants you to do is this: Believe the One he sent.”

<sup>30</sup>So the people asked, “What miracle will you do? If we see a miracle, we will believe you. What will you do? <sup>31</sup>Our fathers ate the manna in the desert. This is written in the Scriptures: ‘He gave them bread from heaven to eat.’”

<sup>32</sup>Jesus said, “I tell you the truth, it was not Moses who gave you bread from heaven; it is my Father who is giving you the true bread from heaven. <sup>33</sup>God’s bread is the One who comes down from heaven and gives life to the world.”

<sup>35</sup>Then Jesus said, “I am the bread that gives life. Whoever comes to me will never be hungry, and whoever believes in me will never be thirsty. <sup>36</sup>But as I told you before, you have seen me and still don’t believe. <sup>37</sup>The Father gives me my people. Every one of them will come to me, and I will always accept them. <sup>38</sup>I came down from heaven to do what God wants me to do, not what I want to do. <sup>39</sup>Here is what the One who sent me wants me to do: I must not lose even one whom God gave me, but I must raise them all on the last day. <sup>40</sup>Those who see the Son and believe in him have eternal life, and I will raise them on the last day. This is what my Father wants.”

<sup>41</sup>Some people began to complain about Jesus because he said, “I am the bread that comes down from heaven.” <sup>42</sup>They said, “This is Jesus, the son of Joseph. We know his father and mother. How can he say, ‘I came down from heaven’?”

<sup>43</sup>But Jesus answered, “Stop complaining to each other. <sup>44</sup>The Father is the One who sent me. No one can come to me unless the Father draws him to me, and I will raise that person up on the last day. <sup>45</sup>It is written in the prophets, ‘They will all be taught by God.’ Everyone who listens to the Father and learns from him comes to me. <sup>46</sup>No one has seen the Father except the One who is from God; only he has seen the Father. <sup>47</sup>I tell you the truth, whoever believes has eternal life. <sup>48</sup>I am the bread that gives life. <sup>49</sup>Your ancestors ate the manna in the desert, but still they died. <sup>50</sup>Here is the bread that comes down from heaven. Anyone who eats this bread will never die. <sup>51</sup>I am the living bread that came down from heaven. Anyone who eats this bread will live forever. This bread is my flesh, which I will give up so that the world may have life.”

<sup>53</sup>Jesus said, “I tell you the truth, you must eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood. Otherwise, you won’t have real life in you. <sup>54</sup>Those who eat my flesh and drink my blood have eternal life, and I will raise them up on the last day.

<sup>55</sup>My flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink. <sup>56</sup>Those who eat my flesh and drink my blood live in me, and I live in them. <sup>57</sup>The living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father. So whoever eats me will live because of me. <sup>58</sup>I am not like the bread your ancestors ate. They ate that bread and still died. I am the bread that came down from heaven, and whoever eats this bread will live forever.” <sup>59</sup>Jesus said all these things while he was teaching in the synagogue in Capernaum.

The Words of Eternal Life

<sup>60</sup>When the followers of Jesus heard this, many of them said, “This teaching is hard. Who can accept it?”

<sup>61</sup>Knowing that his followers were complaining about this, Jesus said, “Does this teaching bother you? <sup>62</sup>Then will it also bother you to see the Son of Man going back to the place where he came from? <sup>63</sup>It is the Spirit that gives life. The flesh doesn’t give life. The words I told you are spirit, and they give life. <sup>64</sup>But some of you don’t believe.” (Jesus knew from the beginning who did not believe and who would turn against him.) <sup>65</sup>Jesus said, “That is the reason I said, ‘If the Father does not bring a person to me, that one cannot come.’”

<sup>68</sup>Simon Peter answered him, “Lord, where would we go? You have the words that give eternal life. <sup>69</sup>We believe and know that you are the Holy One from God.”

<sup>70</sup>Then Jesus answered, “I chose all twelve of you, but one of you is a devil.”

<sup>71</sup>Jesus was talking about Judas, the son of Simon Iscariot. Judas was one of the twelve, but later he was going to turn against Jesus.

Jesus prepared his followers for his death, and the leading priests and Pharisees became more determined than ever to arrest him.

Observation

Jesus knows how it feels to be persecuted and threatened. His own family did not believe in him. When we encounter difficult times, Jesus knows how we feel.

Inspiration

These are distressing times for a new Christian, but they will make you a better person and prepare you for something magnificent. For a brief effort, you will receive an everlasting reward, and for a passing difficulty, infinite glory.

Will you always enjoy spiritual comfort? No, even my most devoted saints had problems, temptations, and feelings of desolation. But they endured it all patiently, trusting me rather than themselves, knowing that the suffering of “this present time cannot be compared at all with the glory that is going to be revealed” (Romans 8:18). It is ridiculous for you to expect to receive instantly what others have barely obtained after many tears and great spiritual fatigue.

Wait patiently for me. Control your behavior. Take courage and never stop serving me because of suffering or fear. Offer your very life for my glory. I will reward you for it, and I will not desert you when you are in trouble. (From Growing in His Image by Bernard Bangley)

Does Jesus have a slot in your schedule? Do you plan your day around your time with him, or does he get whatever time is left? Give Jesus priority by praying often and by making decisions you believe he would make.

Jesus' Brothers Don't Believe

After this, Jesus traveled around Galilee. He did not want to travel in Judea, because some evil people there wanted to kill him.<sup>2</sup>It was time for the Feast of Shelters.<sup>3</sup>So Jesus' brothers said to him, "You should leave here and go to Judea so your followers there can see the miracles you do."<sup>4</sup>Anyone who wants to be well known does not hide what he does. If you are doing these things, show yourself to the world."<sup>5</sup>(Even Jesus' brothers did not believe in him.)<sup>6</sup>Jesus said to his brothers, "The right time for me has not yet come, but any time is right for you."<sup>7</sup>The world cannot hate you, but it hates me, because I tell it the evil things it does.<sup>8</sup>So you go to the feast. I will not go yet to this feast, because the right time for me has not yet come."<sup>9</sup>After saying this, Jesus stayed in Galilee.

<sup>10</sup>But after Jesus' brothers had gone to the feast, Jesus went also. But he did not let people see him.<sup>11</sup>At the feast some people were looking for him and saying, "Where is that man?"

<sup>12</sup>Within the large crowd there, many people were whispering to each other about Jesus. Some said, "He is a good man."

Others said, "No, he fools the people."<sup>13</sup>But no one was brave enough to talk about Jesus openly, because they were afraid of the older leaders.

Jesus Teaches at the Feast

<sup>14</sup>When the feast was about half over, Jesus went to the Temple and began to teach. <sup>15</sup>The people were amazed and said, “This man has never studied in school. How did he learn so much?”

<sup>16</sup>Jesus answered, “The things I teach are not my own, but they come from him who sent me. <sup>17</sup>If people choose to do what God wants, they will know that my teaching comes from God and not from me. <sup>18</sup>Those who teach their own ideas are trying to get honor for themselves. But those who try to bring honor to the one who sent him speak the truth, and there is nothing false in them. <sup>19</sup>Moses gave you the law, but none of you obeys that law. Why are you trying to kill me?”

<sup>20</sup>The people answered, “A demon has come into you. We are not trying to kill you.”

<sup>21</sup>Jesus said to them, “I did one miracle, and you are all amazed. <sup>22</sup>Moses gave you the law about circumcision. (But really Moses did not give you circumcision; it came from our ancestors.) And yet you circumcise a baby on a Sabbath day. <sup>23</sup>If a baby can be circumcised on a Sabbath day to obey the law of Moses, why are you angry at me for healing a person’s whole body on the Sabbath day? <sup>24</sup>Stop judging by the way things look, but judge by what is really right.”

Is Jesus the Christ?

<sup>25</sup>Then some of the people who lived in Jerusalem said, “This is the man they are trying to kill. <sup>26</sup>But he is teaching where everyone can see and hear him, and no one is trying to stop him. Maybe the leaders have decided he really is the Christ.

<sup>27</sup>But we know where this man is from. And when the real Christ comes, no one will know where he comes from.”

<sup>28</sup>Jesus, teaching in the Temple, cried out, “Yes, you know me, and you know where I am from. But I have not come by my own authority. I was sent by the One who is true, whom you don’t know. <sup>29</sup>But I know him, because I am from him, and he sent me.”

<sup>30</sup>When Jesus said this, the people tried to take him. But no one was able to touch him, because it was not yet the right time. <sup>31</sup>But many of the people believed in Jesus. They said, “When the Christ comes, will he do more miracles than this man has done?”

The Leaders Try to Arrest Jesus

<sup>32</sup>The Pharisees heard the crowd whispering these things about Jesus. So the leading priests and the Pharisees sent some Temple guards to arrest him. <sup>33</sup>Jesus said, “I will be with you a little while longer. Then I will go back to the One who sent me. <sup>34</sup>You will look for me, but you will not find me. And you cannot come where I am.”

<sup>35</sup>Some people said to each other, “Where will this man go so we cannot find him? Will he go to the Greek cities where our people live and teach the Greek people there? <sup>36</sup>What did he mean when he said, ‘You will look for me, but you will not find me,’ and ‘You cannot come where I am?’”

Jesus Talks About the Spirit

<sup>37</sup>On the last and most important day of the feast Jesus stood up and said in a loud voice, “Let anyone who is thirsty come to me and drink. <sup>38</sup>If anyone believes in me, rivers of living water will flow out from that person’s heart, as the Scripture says.” <sup>39</sup>Jesus was talking about the Holy Spirit. The Spirit had not yet been given, because Jesus had not yet been raised to glory. But later, those who believed in Jesus would receive the Spirit.

The People Argue About Jesus

<sup>40</sup>When the people heard Jesus’ words, some of them said, “This man really is the Prophet.”

<sup>41</sup>Others said, “He is the Christ.”

Still others said, “The Christ will not come from Galilee.

<sup>42</sup>The Scripture says that the Christ will come from David’s family and from Bethlehem, the town where David lived.” <sup>43</sup>So the people did not agree with each other about Jesus. <sup>44</sup>Some of them wanted to arrest him, but no one was able to touch him.

Some Leaders Won’t Believe

<sup>45</sup>The Temple guards went back to the leading priests and the Pharisees, who asked, “Why didn’t you bring Jesus?”

<sup>46</sup>The guards answered, “The words he says are greater than the words of any other person who has ever spoken!”

<sup>47</sup>The Pharisees answered, “So Jesus has fooled you also!

<sup>48</sup>Have any of the leaders or the Pharisees believed in him? No!

<sup>50</sup>Nicodemus, who had gone to see Jesus before, was in that group. He said, <sup>51</sup>“Our law does not judge a man without hearing him and knowing what he has done.”

<sup>52</sup>They answered, “Are you from Galilee, too? Study the Scriptures, and you will learn that no prophet comes from Galilee.”

Some early Greek manuscripts do not contain 7:53–8:11.

[<sup>53</sup>And everyone left and went home.

Life Lessons

John 8:1–59

Situation

Jesus convinced the Pharisees that God could forgive the most hideous sins. He also tried to convince them of his divine lineage, but they assumed he was demon-possessed or mad. The Pharisees grew angry when Jesus told them that they had fallen out of favor with God.

Observation

We must seek God's wisdom to overcome difficult Situations in life.

Inspiration

Sightless and heartless redeemers... . That's not the Redeemer of the New Testament.

Compare the blind Christ I saw in Rio to the compassionate one seen by a frightened woman early one morning in Jerusalem.

Jesus sits surrounded by a horseshoe of listeners. Some nod their heads in agreement and open their hearts in obedience....

We don't know his topic that morning. Prayer, perhaps. Or maybe kindness or anxiety. But whatever it was, it was soon interrupted when people burst into the courtyard....

The listeners scramble to get out of the way. The mob is made up of religious leaders, the elders and deacons of their day... . And struggling to keep her balance on the crest of this angry wave is a scantilyclad woman.

Only moments before she had been in bed with a man who was not her husband. Was this how she made her living? Maybe. Maybe not. We don't know.

But we do know that a door was jerked open and she was yanked from a bed... .

And now, with holy strides, the mob storms toward the teacher. They throw the woman in his direction... .

“We found this woman in bed with a man!” cries the leader. “The law says to stone her. What do you say?” ...

The accusers are persistent. “Tell us, teacher! What do you want us to do with her?”

He just raised his head and offered an invitation, “I guess if you've never made a mistake, then you have a right to stone this woman.” He looked back down and began to draw on the earth again.

Someone cleared his throat as if to speak, but no one spoke. Feet shuffled. Eyes dropped. Then thud... . thud ... thud ... rocks fell to the ground... . And they walked away. They came as one, but they left one by one.

Jesus told the woman to look up. “Is there no one to condemn you?”

Maybe she expected him to scold her... . I'm not sure, but I do know this: What she got, she never expected. She got a promise and a commission.

The promise: “Then neither do I condemn you.”

The commission: “Go and sin no more.”

The woman turns and walks into anonymity... .

But we can be confident of one thing: On that morning in Jerusalem, she saw Jesus and Jesus saw her. And could we somehow transport her to Rio de Janeiro and let her stand at the base of the Crist redentor, I know what her response would be.

“That’s not the Jesus I saw,” she would say. For the Jesus she saw didn’t have a hard heart. And the Jesus that saw her didn’t have blind eyes.

However, if we could somehow transport her to Calvary and let her stand at the base of the cross ... you know what she would say. “That’s him.”

She would recognize his voice. It’s raspier and weaker, but the words are the same, “Father, forgive them... .” And she would recognize his eyes. Eyes that saw her not as she was, but as she was intended to be. (From Six Hours One Friday by Max Lucado)

The Woman Caught in Adultery

Jesus went to the Mount of Olives.<sup>2</sup> But early in the morning he went back to the Temple, and all the people came to him, and he sat and taught them.<sup>3</sup> The teachers of the law and the Pharisees brought a woman who had been caught in adultery. They forced her to stand before the people.<sup>4</sup> They said to Jesus, “Teacher, this woman was caught having sexual relations with a man who is not her husband.<sup>5</sup> The law of Moses commands that we stone to death every woman who does this. What do you say we should do?”<sup>6</sup> They were asking this to trick Jesus so that they could have some charge against him.

But Jesus bent over and started writing on the ground with his finger.<sup>7</sup> When they continued to ask Jesus their question, he raised up and said, “Anyone here who has never sinned can throw the first stone at her.”<sup>8</sup> Then Jesus bent over again and wrote on the ground.

<sup>9</sup>Those who heard Jesus began to leave one by one, first the older men and then the others. Jesus was left there alone with the woman standing before him.<sup>10</sup> Jesus raised up again and asked her, “Woman, where are they? Has no one judged you guilty?”

Then Jesus said, “I also don’t judge you guilty. You may go now, but don’t sin anymore.”]

Jesus Is the Light of the World

<sup>12</sup>Later, Jesus talked to the people again, saying, “I am the light of the world. The person who follows me will never live in darkness but will have the light that gives life.”

<sup>13</sup>The Pharisees said to Jesus, “When you talk about yourself, you are the only one to say these things are true. We cannot accept what you say.”

<sup>14</sup>Jesus answered, “Yes, I am saying these things about myself, but they are true. I know where I came from and where I am going. But you don’t know where I came from or where I am going. <sup>15</sup>You judge by human standards. I am not judging anyone. <sup>16</sup>But when I do judge, my judging is true, because I am not alone. The Father who sent me is with me. <sup>17</sup>Your own law says that when two witnesses say the same thing, you must accept what they say. <sup>18</sup>I am one of the witnesses who speaks about myself, and the Father who sent me is the other witness.”

Jesus answered, “You don’t know me or my Father. If you knew me, you would know my Father, too.” <sup>20</sup>Jesus said these things while he was teaching in the Temple, near where the money is kept. But no one arrested him, because the right time for him had not yet come.

The People Misunderstand Jesus

<sup>21</sup>Again, Jesus said to the people, “I will leave you, and you will look for me, but you will die in your sins. You cannot come where I am going.”

<sup>22</sup>So the Jews asked, “Will Jesus kill himself? Is that why he said, ‘You cannot come where I am going?’”

<sup>23</sup>Jesus said, “You people are from here below, but I am from above. You belong to this world, but I don’t belong to this world. <sup>24</sup>So I told you that you would die in your sins. Yes, you will die in your sins if you don’t believe that I am he.”

Jesus answered, “I am what I have told you from the beginning. <sup>26</sup>I have many things to say and decide about you. But I tell people only the things I have heard from the One who sent me, and he speaks the truth.”

<sup>27</sup>The people did not understand that he was talking to them about the Father. <sup>28</sup>So Jesus said to them, “When you lift up the Son of Man, you will know that I am he. You will know that these things I do are not by my own authority but that I say only what the Father has taught me. <sup>29</sup>The One who sent me is with me. I always do what is pleasing to him, so he has not left me alone.” <sup>30</sup>While Jesus was saying these things, many people believed in him.

Freedom from Sin

<sup>31</sup>So Jesus said to the Jews who believed in him, “If you continue to obey my teaching, you are truly my followers.

<sup>32</sup>Then you will know the truth, and the truth will make you free.”

<sup>33</sup>They answered, “We are Abraham’s children, and we have never been anyone’s slaves. So why do you say we will be free?”

<sup>34</sup>Jesus answered, “I tell you the truth, everyone who lives in sin is a slave to sin.<sup>35</sup> A slave does not stay with a family forever, but a son belongs to the family forever.<sup>36</sup> So if the Son makes you free, you will be truly free.<sup>37</sup> I know you are Abraham's children, but you want to kill me because you don't accept my teaching.<sup>38</sup> I am telling you what my Father has shown me, but you do what your father has told you."

Jesus said, "If you were really Abraham's children, you would do the things Abraham did.<sup>40</sup> I am a man who has told you the truth which I heard from God, but you are trying to kill me. Abraham did nothing like that.<sup>41</sup> So you are doing the things your own father did."

But they said, "We are not like children who never knew who their father was. God is our Father; he is the only Father we have."

<sup>42</sup>Jesus said to them, "If God were really your Father, you would love me, because I came from God and now I am here. I did not come by my own authority; God sent me.<sup>43</sup> You don't understand what I say, because you cannot accept my teaching.<sup>44</sup> You belong to your father the devil, and you want to do what he wants. He was a murderer from the beginning and was against the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he tells a lie, he shows what he is really like, because he is a liar and the father of lies.<sup>45</sup> But because I speak the truth, you don't believe me.<sup>46</sup> Can any of you prove that I am guilty of sin? If I am telling the truth, why don't you believe me?<sup>47</sup> The person who belongs to God accepts what God says. But you don't accept what God says, because you don't belong to God."

Jesus Is Greater than Abraham

<sup>48</sup>They answered, “We say you are a Samaritan and have a demon in you. Are we not right?”

<sup>49</sup>Jesus answered, “I have no demon in me. I give honor to my Father, but you dishonor me. <sup>50</sup>I am not trying to get honor for myself. There is One who wants this honor for me, and he is the judge. <sup>51</sup>I tell you the truth, whoever obeys my teaching will never die.”

<sup>52</sup>They said to Jesus, “Now we know that you have a demon in you! Even Abraham and the prophets died. But you say, ‘Whoever obeys my teaching will never die.’ <sup>53</sup>Do you think you are greater than our father Abraham, who died? And the prophets died, too. Who do you think you are?”

<sup>54</sup>Jesus answered, “If I give honor to myself, that honor is worth nothing. The One who gives me honor is my Father, and you say he is your God. <sup>55</sup>You don’t really know him, but I know him. If I said I did not know him, I would be a liar like you. But I do know him, and I obey what he says. <sup>56</sup>Your father Abraham was very happy that he would see my day. He saw that day and was glad.”

<sup>57</sup>They said to him, “You have never seen Abraham! You are not even fifty years old.”

<sup>58</sup>Jesus answered, “I tell you the truth, before Abraham was even born, I am!” <sup>59</sup>When Jesus said this, the people picked up stones to throw at him. But Jesus hid himself, and then he left the Temple.

Life Lessons

John 9:1–41

Situation

Jesus restored sight to a man born blind. The Pharisees questioned the man, but refused to believe that Jesus had healed him. Despite the obvious evidence, the scoffing Pharisees threw the healed man out of the Temple.

Observation

Some people doubt Christ's work, not for lack of evidence but because they don't want to believe it. Jesus' mission is often missed by the "wise" people of this world.

Inspiration

What about the blind man Jesus and the disciples discovered?

The followers thought he was a great theological case study.

"Why do you think he's blind?" one asked.

"He must have sinned."

"No, it's his folks' fault."

"Jesus, what do you think? Why is he blind?"

"He's blind to show what God can do."

The apostles knew what was coming; they had seen this look in Jesus' eyes before. They knew what he was going to do, but they didn't know how he was going to do it. "Lightning? Thunder? A shout? A clap of the hands?" They all watched.

Jesus began to work his mouth a little. The onlookers stared. “What is he doing?” He moved his jaw as if he were chewing on something.

Some of the people began to get restless. Jesus just chewed. His jaw rotated around until he had what he wanted. Spit. Ordinary saliva.

If no one said it, somebody had to be thinking it: “Yuk!”

Jesus spat on the ground, stuck his finger into the puddle, and stirred. Soon it was a mud pie, and he smeared some of the mud across the blind man’s eyes.

The same One who’d turned a stick into a scepter and a pebble into a missile now turned saliva and mud into a balm for the blind.

Once again, the mundane became majestic. Once again the dull became divine, the humdrum holy. Once again God’s power was seen, not through the ability of the instrument, but through its availability.

“Blessed are the meek,” Jesus explained. Blessed are the available. Blessed are the conduits, the tunnels, the tools. Deliriously joyful are the ones who believe that if God has used sticks, rocks, and spit to do his will, then he can use us. (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

Do Jesus’ miracles seem hard to believe? God can defy the laws of time and space because he created them. Miracles are easily within God’s power to perform. Remember, you serve a powerful God. Go ahead, then, and tell him how you need his help today.

Jesus Heals a Man Born Blind

As Jesus was walking along, he saw a man who had been born blind. <sup>2</sup>His followers asked him, “Teacher, whose sin caused this man to be born blind—his own sin or his parents’ sin?”

<sup>3</sup>Jesus answered, “It is not this man’s sin or his parents’ sin that made him be blind. This man was born blind so that God’s power could be shown in him. <sup>4</sup>While it is daytime, we must continue doing the work of the One who sent me. Night is coming, when no one can work. <sup>5</sup>While I am in the world, I am the light of the world.”

<sup>6</sup>After Jesus said this, he spit on the ground and made some mud with it and put the mud on the man’s eyes. <sup>7</sup>Then he told the man, “Go and wash in the Pool of Siloam.” (Siloam means Sent.) So the man went, washed, and came back seeing.

<sup>8</sup>The neighbors and some people who had earlier seen this man begging said, “Isn’t this the same man who used to sit and beg?”

<sup>9</sup>Some said, “He is the one,” but others said, “No, he only looks like him.”

The man himself said, “I am the man.”

<sup>11</sup>He answered, “The man named Jesus made some mud and put it on my eyes. Then he told me to go to Siloam and wash. So I went and washed, and then I could see.”

<sup>12</sup>They asked him, “Where is this man?”
“I don’t know,” he answered.

Pharisees Question the Healing

<sup>13</sup>Then the people took to the Pharisees the man who had been blind. <sup>14</sup>The day Jesus had made mud and healed his eyes was a Sabbath day. <sup>15</sup>So now the Pharisees asked the man, “How did you get your sight?”

He answered, “He put mud on my eyes, I washed, and now I see.”

<sup>16</sup>So some of the Pharisees were saying, “This man does not keep the Sabbath day, so he is not from God.”

But others said, “A man who is a sinner can’t do miracles like these.” So they could not agree with each other.

<sup>17</sup>They asked the man again, “What do you say about him since it was your eyes he opened?”

The man answered, “He is a prophet.”

<sup>18</sup>These leaders did not believe that he had been blind and could now see again. So they sent for the man’s parents <sup>19</sup>and asked them, “Is this your son who you say was born blind? Then how does he now see?”

<sup>20</sup>His parents answered, “We know that this is our son and that he was born blind. <sup>21</sup>But we don’t know how he can now see. We don’t know who opened his eyes. Ask him. He is old enough to speak for himself.” <sup>22</sup>His parents said this because they were afraid of the older leaders, who had already decided that anyone who said Jesus was the Christ would be avoided.

<sup>23</sup>That is why his parents said, “He is old enough. Ask him.”

<sup>24</sup>So for the second time, they called the man who had been blind. They said, “You should give God the glory by telling the truth. We know that this man is a sinner.”

<sup>25</sup>He answered, “I don’t know if he is a sinner. One thing I do know: I was blind, and now I see.”

<sup>26</sup>They asked, “What did he do to you? How did he make you see again?”

<sup>27</sup>He answered, “I already told you, and you didn’t listen. Why do you want to hear it again? Do you want to become his followers, too?”

<sup>28</sup>Then they insulted him and said, “You are his follower, but we are followers of Moses. <sup>29</sup>We know that God spoke to Moses, but we don’t even know where this man comes from.”

<sup>30</sup>The man answered, “This is a very strange thing. You don’t know where he comes from, and yet he opened my eyes. <sup>31</sup>We all know that God does not listen to sinners, but he listens to anyone who worships and obeys him. <sup>32</sup>Nobody has ever heard of anyone giving sight to a man born blind. <sup>33</sup>If this man were not from God, he could do nothing.”

<sup>34</sup>They answered, “You were born full of sin! Are you trying to teach us?” And they threw him out.

Spiritual Blindness

<sup>35</sup>When Jesus heard that they had thrown him out, Jesus found him and said, “Do you believe in the Son of Man?”

<sup>36</sup>He asked, “Who is the Son of Man, sir, so that I can believe in him?”

<sup>37</sup>Jesus said to him, “You have seen him. The Son of Man is the one talking with you.”

<sup>38</sup>He said, “Lord, I believe!” Then the man worshiped Jesus.

<sup>39</sup>Jesus said, “I came into this world so that the world could be judged. I came so that the blind would see and so that those who see will become blind.”

<sup>40</sup>Some of the Pharisees who were nearby heard Jesus say this and asked, “Are you saying we are blind, too?”

<sup>41</sup>Jesus said, “If you were blind, you would not be guilty of sin. But since you keep saying you see, your guilt remains.”

Situation

The parable of the Good Shepherd described Jesus' role perfectly. Unlike a hired worker, Jesus, through love and affection, offered to lay down his life for his flock. Believers trust and know him.

Observation

Christ is our faithful shepherd. Put your trust in him.

Inspiration

By the end of July 1941, Auschwitz was working like a well organized killing machine, and the Nazis congratulated themselves on their efficiency....

About the only problem was the occasional prisoner from the work side of the camp who would figure out a way to escape. When these escapees were caught, as they usually were, they would be hung with special nooses that slowly choked out their miserable lives—a grave warning to others who might be tempted to try.

Then one July night as the frogs and insects in the marshy land surrounding the camp began their evening chorus, the air was suddenly filled with the baying of dogs, the curses of soldiers, and the roar of motorcycles. A man had escaped from Barracks 14.

The next morning there was a peculiar tension as the ranks of phantom-thin prisoners lined up for morning roll call in the central square, their eyes on the large gallows before them. But there was no condemned man standing there, his hands bound behind him, his face bloodied from blows and dog bites. That meant the prisoner had made it out of Auschwitz. And that meant death for some of those who remained....

Soon there were ten men—ten numbers neatly listed on the death roll.

The chosen groaned, sweating with fear. “My poor wife!” one man cried. “My poor children! What will they do?” ...

Suddenly there was a commotion in the ranks. A prisoner had broken out of line, calling for the commandant....

The prisoners gasped. It was their beloved Father Kolbe, the priest who shared his last crust, who comforted the dying, who heard their confessions and nourished their souls.

The frail priest spoke softly, even calmly, to the Nazi butcher. “I would like to die in place of one of the men you condemned.” ...

“Why?” snapped the commandant....

“I am an old man, sir, and good for nothing. My life will serve no purpose.”

His ploy triggered the response Kolbe wanted. “In whose place do you want to die?” asked Fritsch.

“For that one,” Kolbe responded, pointing to the weeping prisoner who had bemoaned his wife and children....

Kolbe’s place on the death ledger was set....

Kolbe wasn’t looking for gratitude. If he was to lay down his life for another, the fulfillment had to be in the act of obedience itself. The joy must be found in submitting his small will to the will of One more grand... .

In the basement the ten men were herded into a dark, windowless cell.

As the hours and days passed, however, the camp became aware of something extraordinary happening in the death cell... . Coming from the death box, those outside heard the faint sounds of singing. For this time the prisoners had a shepherd to gently lead them through the shadows of the valley of death, pointing them to the Great Shepherd. And perhaps for that reason Father Kolbe was the last to die... .

For those with eyes to see, it points to the Man who laid down His life for His friends, on the cross. To the only King in history who died for His subjects. (From The Body by Charles Colson)

Shepherd—Genesis 48:15; Psalm 23.

The Shepherd and His Sheep

Jesus said, “I tell you the truth, the person who does not enter the sheepfold by the door, but climbs in some other way, is a thief and a robber. <sup>2</sup>The one who enters by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. <sup>3</sup>The one who guards the door opens it for him. And the sheep listen to the voice of the shepherd. He calls his own sheep by name and leads them out. <sup>4</sup>When he brings all his sheep out, he goes ahead of them, and they follow him because they know his voice. <sup>5</sup>But they will never follow a stranger. They will run away from him because they don’t know his voice.” <sup>6</sup>Jesus told the people this story, but they did not understand what it meant.

Jesus Is the Good Shepherd

<sup>7</sup>So Jesus said again, “I tell you the truth, I am the door for the sheep. <sup>8</sup>All the people who came before me were thieves and robbers. The sheep did not listen to them. <sup>9</sup>I am the door, and the person who enters through me will be saved and will be able to come in and go out and find pasture. <sup>10</sup>A thief comes to steal and kill and destroy, but I came to give life—life in all its fullness.

<sup>11</sup>“I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd gives his life for the sheep. <sup>12</sup>The worker who is paid to keep the sheep is different from the shepherd who owns them. When the worker sees a wolf coming, he runs away and leaves the sheep alone. Then the wolf attacks the sheep and scatters them.<sup>13</sup> The man runs away because he is only a paid worker and does not really care about the sheep.

<sup>14-15</sup>“I am the good shepherd. I know my sheep, as the Father knows me. And my sheep know me, as I know the Father. I give my life for the sheep.<sup>16</sup> I have other sheep that are not in this flock, and I must bring them also. They will listen to my voice, and there will be one flock and one shepherd.<sup>17</sup> The Father loves me because I give my life so that I can take it back again.<sup>18</sup> No one takes it away from me; I give my own life freely. I have the right to give my life, and I have the right to take it back. This is what my Father commanded me to do.”

<sup>19</sup>Again the leaders did not agree with each other because of these words of Jesus.<sup>20</sup> Many of them said, “A demon has come into him and made him crazy. Why listen to him?”

<sup>21</sup>But others said, “A man who is crazy with a demon does not say things like this. Can a demon open the eyes of the blind?”

Jesus Is Rejected

<sup>22</sup>The time came for the Feast of Dedication at Jerusalem. It was winter,<sup>23</sup> and Jesus was walking in the Temple in Solomon’s Porch.<sup>24</sup> Some people gathered around him and said, “How long will you make us wonder about you? If you are the Christ, tell us plainly.”

<sup>25</sup>Jesus answered, “I told you already, but you did not believe. The miracles I do in my Father’s name show who I am.

<sup>26</sup>But you don't believe, because you are not my sheep. <sup>27</sup>My sheep listen to my voice; I know them, and they follow me. <sup>28</sup>I give them eternal life, and they will never die, and no one can steal them out of my hand. <sup>29</sup>My Father gave my sheep to me. He is greater than all, and no person can steal my sheep out of my Father's hand. <sup>30</sup>The Father and I are one."

<sup>33</sup>They answered, "We are not killing you because of any good work you did, but because you speak against God. You are only a human, but you say you are the same as God!"

<sup>34</sup>Jesus answered, "It is written in your law that God said, I said, you are gods.' <sup>35</sup>This Scripture called those people gods who received God's message, and Scripture is always true. <sup>36</sup>So why do you say that I speak against God because I said, 'I am God's Son'? I am the one God chose and sent into the world. <sup>37</sup>If I don't do what my Father does, then don't believe me. <sup>38</sup>But if I do what my Father does, even though you don't believe in me, believe what I do. Then you will know and understand that the Father is in me and I am in the Father."

<sup>40</sup>Then he went back across the Jordan River to the place where John had first baptized. Jesus stayed there, <sup>41</sup>and many people came to him and said, "John never did a miracle, but everything John said about this man is true." <sup>42</sup>And in that place many believed in Jesus.

Life Lessons

John 11:1-57

Situation

Jesus traveled from villages beyond the Jordan River to Bethany to raise Lazarus from the dead. Bethany was about two miles east of Jerusalem, and this miracle attracted the attention of many people, including the chief priests and Pharisees. As a result, the people welcomed him into Jerusalem like a king, but the Pharisees sought to kill him.

Observation

Jesus knew Lazarus would die, but he showed his power by raising him from the dead. Before seeing him perform this great miracle, however, we see that Jesus was sensitive to grief and pain.

Inspiration

Have you been there? Have you been called to stand at the thin line that separates the living from the dead? Have you lain awake at night listening to machines pumping air in and out of your lungs? Have you watched sickness corrode and atrophy the body of a friend? Have you lingered behind at the cemetery long after the others have left, gazing in disbelief at the metal casket that contains the body that contained the soul of the one you can't believe is gone?

If so, then this canyon is not unfamiliar to you.... Standing on the edge of the canyon draws all of life into perspective. What matters and what doesn't are easily distinguished...

It is possible that I'm addressing someone who is walking the canyon wall... . If this is the case, please read the rest of this piece very carefully. Look carefully at the scene described in John 11.

In this scene there are two people: Martha and Jesus. And for all practical purposes they are the only two people in the universe.

Her words were full of despair. "If you had been here... ." She stares into the Master's face with confused eyes... . Lazarus was dead. And the one man who could have made a difference didn't. He hadn't even made it for the burial...

You see, if God is God anywhere, he has to be God in the face of death. Pop psychology can deal with depression. Pep talks can deal with pessimism. Prosperity can handle hunger. But only God can deal with our ultimate dilemma—death. And only the God of the Bible has dared to stand on the canyon's edge and offer an answer...

Jesus then made one of those claims that place him either on the throne or in the asylum: "Your brother will rise and live again" (v. 23).

Martha misunderstood. (Who wouldn't have?) "I know that he will rise and live again in the resurrection on the last day" (v. 24).

That wasn't what Jesus meant... . Imagine the setting: Jesus has intruded on the enemy's turf; he's standing in Satan's territory, Death Canyon. His stomach turns as he smells the sulfuric stench of the ex-angel, and he winces as he hears the oppressed wails of those trapped in the prison. Satan has been here. He has violated one of God's creations.

With his foot planted on the serpent's head, Jesus speaks loudly enough that his words echo off the canyon walls.

"I am the resurrection and the life. Those who believe in me will have life even if they die. And everyone who lives and believes in me will never die" (vv. 25-26).

... Life confronts death—and wins! The wind stops. A cloud blocks the sun and a bird chirps in the distance while a humiliated snake slithers between the rocks and disappears into the ground....

But Jesus isn't through with Martha. With eyes locked on hers he asks the greatest question found in Scripture, a question meant as much for you and me as for Martha.

"Do you believe this?" ...

This is a canyon question... . For then we must face ourselves as we really are: rudderless humans tailspinning toward disaster. And we are forced to see him for what he claims to be: our only hope.

The Death of Lazarus

A man named Lazarus was sick. He lived in the town of Bethany, where Mary and her sister Martha lived. <sup>2</sup>Mary was the woman who later put perfume on the Lord and wiped his feet with her hair. Mary's brother was Lazarus, the man who was now sick. <sup>3</sup>So Mary and Martha sent someone to tell Jesus, "Lord, the one you love is sick."

<sup>4</sup>When Jesus heard this, he said, "This sickness will not end in death. It is for the glory of God, to bring glory to the Son of God." <sup>5</sup>Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus. <sup>6</sup>But when he heard that Lazarus was sick, he stayed where he was for two more days. <sup>7</sup>Then Jesus said to his followers, "Let's go back to Judea."

<sup>8</sup>The followers said, "But Teacher, some people there tried to stone you to death only a short time ago. Now you want to go back there?"

<sup>9</sup>Jesus answered, "Are there not twelve hours in the day? If anyone walks in the daylight, he will not stumble, because he can see by this world's light. <sup>10</sup>But if anyone walks at night, he stumbles because there is no light to help him see."

<sup>11</sup>After Jesus said this, he added, "Our friend Lazarus has fallen asleep, but I am going there to wake him."

<sup>12</sup>The followers said, "But Lord, if he is only asleep, he will be all right."

<sup>13</sup>Jesus meant that Lazarus was dead, but his followers thought he meant Lazarus was really sleeping. <sup>14</sup>So then Jesus said plainly, “Lazarus is dead. <sup>15</sup>And I am glad for your sakes I was not there so that you may believe. But let’s go to him now.”

<sup>16</sup>Then Thomas (the one called Didymus) said to the other followers, “Let us also go so that we can die with him.”

Jesus in Bethany

<sup>17</sup>When Jesus arrived, he learned that Lazarus had already been dead and in the tomb for four days. <sup>18</sup>Bethany was about two miles from Jerusalem. <sup>19</sup>Many of the Jews had come there to comfort Martha and Mary about their brother.

<sup>20</sup>When Martha heard that Jesus was coming, she went out to meet him, but Mary stayed home. <sup>21</sup>Martha said to Jesus, “Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died. <sup>22</sup>But I know that even now God will give you anything you ask.”

<sup>23</sup>Jesus said, “Your brother will rise and live again.”

<sup>24</sup>Martha answered, “I know that he will rise and live again in the resurrection on the last day.”

<sup>25</sup>Jesus said to her, “I am the resurrection and the life. Those who believe in me will have life even if they die. <sup>26</sup>And everyone who lives and believes in me will never die. Martha, do you believe this?”

<sup>27</sup>Martha answered, “Yes, Lord. I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, the One coming to the world.”

Jesus Cries

<sup>28</sup>After Martha said this, she went back and talked to her sister Mary alone. Martha said, “The Teacher is here and he is asking for you.” <sup>29</sup>When Mary heard this, she got up quickly and went to Jesus. <sup>30</sup>Jesus had not yet come into the town but was still at the place where Martha had met him. <sup>31</sup>The Jews were with Mary in the house, comforting her. When they saw her stand and leave quickly, they followed her, thinking she was going to the tomb to cry there.

<sup>32</sup>But Mary went to the place where Jesus was. When she saw him, she fell at his feet and said, “Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died.”

<sup>33</sup>When Jesus saw Mary crying and the Jews who came with her also crying, he was upset and was deeply troubled.

<sup>34</sup>He asked, “Where did you bury him?”

“Come and see, Lord,” they said.

<sup>37</sup>But some of them said, “If Jesus opened the eyes of the blind man, why couldn’t he keep Lazarus from dying?”

Jesus Raises Lazarus

<sup>38</sup>Again feeling very upset, Jesus came to the tomb. It was a cave with a large stone covering the entrance. <sup>39</sup>Jesus said, “Move the stone away.”

Martha, the sister of the dead man, said, “But, Lord, it has been four days since he died. There will be a bad smell.”

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The Resurrection and the Life

As youngsters, we neighborhood kids would play street football. The minute we got home from school, we'd drop the books and hit the pavement. The kid across the street had a dad with a great arm and a strong addiction to football. As soon as he'd pull in the driveway from work we'd start yelling for him to come and play ball. He couldn't resist. Out of fairness he'd always ask, "Which team is losing?" Then he would join that team, which often seemed to be mine.

His appearance in the huddle changed the whole ball game. He was confident, strong, and most of all, he had a plan. We'd circle around him, and he'd look at us and say, "OK boys, here is what we are going to do." The other side was groaning before we left the huddle. You see, we not only had a new plan, we had a new leader.

He brought new life to our team. God does precisely the same. We didn't need a new play; we needed a new plan. We didn't need to trade positions; we needed a new player. That player is Jesus Christ, God's firstborn son.

"Though we were spiritually dead because of the things we did against God, he gave us new Life with Christ" (Ephesians 2:5). God's solution is not to preserve the dead—but to raise the dead. "If anyone belongs to Christ, there is a new creation. The old things have gone; everything is made new!" (2 Corinthians 5:17).

What Jesus did with Lazarus, he is willing to do with us. Which is good to know, for what Martha said about Lazarus can be said about us, “But, Lord, it has been four days since he died. There will be a bad smell” (John 11:39). Martha was speaking for us all. The human race is dead, and there is a bad smell. We have been dead and buried a long time. We don’t need someone to fix us up; we need someone to raise us up. In the muck and mire of what we call life, there is death, and we have been in it so long we’ve grown accustomed to the stink. But Christ hasn’t.

And Christ can’t stand the thought of his kids rotting in the cemetery. So he comes in and calls us out. We are the corpse, and he is the corpse-caller. We are the dead, and he is the dead-raiser. Our task is not to get up but to admit we are dead. The only ones who remain in the grave are the ones who don’t think they are there. (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

For more on “Christ Through the Bible.”

<sup>40</sup>Then Jesus said to her, “Didn’t I tell you that if you believed you would see the glory of God?”

<sup>41</sup>So they moved the stone away from the entrance. Then Jesus looked up and said, “Father, I thank you that you heard me. <sup>42</sup>I know that you always hear me, but I said these things because of the people here around me. I want them to believe that you sent me.” <sup>43</sup>After Jesus said this, he cried out in a loud voice, “Lazarus, come out!” <sup>44</sup>The dead man came out, his hands and feet wrapped with pieces of cloth, and a cloth around his face.

Jesus said to them, “Take the cloth off of him and let him go.”

The Plan to Kill Jesus

<sup>45</sup>Many of the people, who had come to visit Mary and saw what Jesus did, believed in him. <sup>46</sup>But some of them went to the Pharisees and told them what Jesus had done. <sup>47</sup>Then the leading priests and Pharisees called a meeting of the council. They asked, “What should we do? This man is doing many miracles. <sup>48</sup>If we let him continue doing these things, everyone will believe in him. Then the Romans will come and take away our Temple and our nation.”

<sup>49</sup>One of the men there was Caiaphas, the high priest that year. He said, “You people know nothing! <sup>50</sup>You don’t realize that it is better for one man to die for the people than for the whole nation to be destroyed.”

<sup>51</sup>Caiaphas did not think of this himself. As high priest that year, he was really prophesying that Jesus would die for their nation <sup>52</sup>and for God's scattered children to bring them all together and make them one.

<sup>53</sup>That day they started planning to kill Jesus. <sup>54</sup>So Jesus no longer traveled openly among the people. He left there and went to a place near the desert, to a town called Ephraim and stayed there with his followers.

<sup>55</sup>It was almost time for the Passover Feast. Many from the country went up to Jerusalem before the Passover to do the special things to make themselves pure. <sup>56</sup>The people looked for Jesus and stood in the Temple asking each other, "Is he coming to the Feast? What do you think?" <sup>57</sup>But the leading priests and the Pharisees had given orders that if anyone knew where Jesus was, he must tell them. Then they could arrest him.

Life Lessons

John 12:1-50

Situation

Several groups turned out to see Jesus in the days just prior to his death. Some Jews still believed he was about to set up an earthly political kingdom. Others, especially the Pharisees, opposed Jesus.

Observation

Jesus proclaimed his kingship with an entry suitable for a king. In Jerusalem, he engaged the leaders and common folks alike in final words of teaching. He explained why he had to die and summarized his overall message.

Inspiration

“We would see Jesus.” ... It is a blessed thing for a man, when he has brought all his desires into a focus, so that they all center on one object. When he has fifty different desires, his heart resembles a mere of stagnant water, spread out into a marsh, breeding miasma and pestilence; but when all his desires are brought into one channel, his heart becomes like a river of pure water... . Happy is he who hath one desire, if that desire be set on Christ, though it may not yet have been realized. If Jesus be a soul's desire, it is a blessed sign of divine work within....

Is this thy condition, my reader, at this moment? Hast thou but one desire, and that is after Christ? Then thou are not far from the kingdom of heaven. Hast thou but one wish in thy heart, and that one wish that thou mayest be washed from all thy sins in Jesus' blood? Canst thou really say, "I would give all I have to be a Christian; I would give up everything I have and hope for, if I might but feel that I have an interest in Christ"? Then, despite all thy fears, be of good cheer, the Lord loveth thee, and thou shalt come out into daylight soon, and rejoice in the liberty wherewith Christ makes men free. ## Jesus with Friends in Bethany

Six days before the Passover Feast, Jesus went to Bethany, where Lazarus lived. (Lazarus is the man Jesus raised from the dead.)<sup>2</sup> There they had a dinner for Jesus. Martha served the food, and Lazarus was one of the people eating with Jesus.<sup>3</sup> Mary brought in a pint of very expensive perfume made from pure nard. She poured the perfume on Jesus' feet, and then she wiped his feet with her hair. And the sweet smell from the perfume filled the whole house.

<sup>4</sup>Judas Iscariot, one of Jesus' followers who would later turn against him, was there. Judas said,<sup>5</sup> "This perfume was worth three hundred coins. Why wasn't it sold and the money given to the poor?"<sup>6</sup> But Judas did not really care about the poor; he said this because he was a thief. He was the one who kept the money box, and he often stole from it.

<sup>7</sup>Jesus answered, "Leave her alone. It was right for her to save this perfume for today, the day for me to be prepared for burial."<sup>8</sup> You will always have the poor with you, but you will not always have me."

The Plot Against Lazarus

<sup>9</sup>A large crowd of people heard that Jesus was in Bethany. So they went there to see not only Jesus but Lazarus, whom Jesus raised from the dead. <sup>10</sup>So the leading priests made plans to kill Lazarus, too. <sup>11</sup>Because of Lazarus many of the Jews were leaving them and believing in Jesus.

Jesus Enters Jerusalem

<sup>12</sup>The next day a great crowd who had come to Jerusalem for the Passover Feast heard that Jesus was coming there. <sup>13</sup>So they took branches of palm trees and went out to meet Jesus, shouting, “Praise God!

God bless the One who comes in the name of the Lord!
God bless the King of Israel!”

Psalm 118:25–26

<sup>14</sup>Jesus found a colt and sat on it. This was as the Scripture says, <sup>15</sup>“Don’t be afraid, people of Jerusalem!

Your king is coming, sitting on the colt of a donkey.”

Zechariah 9:9

<sup>16</sup>The followers of Jesus did not understand this at first. But after Jesus was raised to glory, they remembered that this had been written about him and that they had done these things to him.

People Tell About Jesus

<sup>17</sup>There had been many people with Jesus when he raised Lazarus from the dead and told him to come out of the tomb. Now they were telling others about what Jesus did. <sup>18</sup>Many people went out to meet Jesus, because they had heard about this miracle. <sup>19</sup>So the Pharisees said to each other, “You can see that nothing is going right for us. Look! The whole world is following him.”

Jesus Talks About His Death

<sup>20</sup>There were some Greek people, too, who came to Jerusalem to worship at the Passover Feast. <sup>21</sup>They went to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, and said, “Sir, we would like to see Jesus.” <sup>22</sup>Philip told Andrew, and then Andrew and Philip told Jesus.

<sup>23</sup>Jesus said to them, “The time has come for the Son of Man to receive his glory. <sup>24</sup>I tell you the truth, a grain of wheat must fall to the ground and die to make many seeds. But if it never dies, it remains only a single seed. <sup>25</sup>Those who love their lives will lose them, but those who hate their lives in this world will keep true life forever. <sup>26</sup>Whoever serves me must follow me. Then my servant will be with me everywhere I am. My Father will honor anyone who serves me.

<sup>27</sup>“Now I am very troubled. Should I say, ‘Father, save me from this time’? No, I came to this time so I could suffer. <sup>28</sup>Father, bring glory to your name!”

Then a voice came from heaven, “I have brought glory to it, and I will do it again.”

<sup>29</sup>The crowd standing there, who heard the voice, said it was thunder.

But others said, “An angel has spoken to him.”

<sup>30</sup>Jesus said, “That voice was for your sake, not mine.
<sup>31</sup>Now is the time for the world to be judged; now the ruler of this world will be thrown down. <sup>32</sup>If I am lifted up from the earth, I will draw all people toward me.” <sup>33</sup>Jesus said this to show how he would die.

<sup>34</sup>The crowd said, “We have heard from the law that the Christ will live forever. So why do you say, ‘The Son of Man must be lifted up’? Who is this ‘Son of Man’?”

<sup>35</sup>Then Jesus said, “The light will be with you for a little longer, so walk while you have the light. Then the darkness will not catch you. If you walk in the darkness, you will not know where you are going. <sup>36</sup>Believe in the light while you still have it so that you will become children of light.” When Jesus had said this, he left and hid himself from them.

Some People Won't Believe in Jesus

<sup>37</sup>Though Jesus had done many miracles in front of the people, they still did not believe in him. <sup>38</sup>This was to bring about what Isaiah the prophet had said:

“Lord, who believed what we told them?
Who saw the Lord’s power in this?”

Isaiah 53:1

<sup>39</sup>This is why the people could not believe: Isaiah also had said,

<sup>40</sup>“He has blinded their eyes

... he has dimmed their eyes, and he has closed their minds.
Otherwise they would see with their eyes and understand in their minds and come back to me and be healed.”

Isaiah 6:10

<sup>41</sup>Isaiah said this because he saw Jesus’ glory and spoke about him.

<sup>42</sup>But many believed in Jesus, even many of the leaders. But because of the Pharisees, they did not say they believed in him for fear they would be put out of the synagogue. <sup>43</sup>They loved praise from people more than praise from God.

<sup>44</sup>Then Jesus cried out, “Whoever believes in me is really believing in the One who sent me. <sup>45</sup>Whoever sees me sees the One who sent me. <sup>46</sup>I have come as light into the world so that whoever believes in me would not stay in darkness.

<sup>47</sup>“Anyone who hears my words and does not obey them, I do not judge, because I did not come to judge the world, but to save the world. <sup>48</sup>There is a judge for those who refuse to believe in me and do not accept my words. The word I have taught will be their judge on the last day. <sup>49</sup>The things I taught were not from myself. The Father who sent me told me what to say and what to teach. <sup>50</sup>And I know that eternal life comes from what the Father commands. So whatever I say is what the Father told me to say.”

Life Lessons

John 13:1-38

Situation

Jesus began to teach in the upper room the night before his death. He looked forward to spending this last Passover with his disciples.

Observation

Jesus washed his disciples' feet, giving us a significant lesson in servanthood.

Inspiration

Of all the times we see the bowing knees of Jesus, none is so precious as when he kneels before his disciples and washes their feet.

It was just before the Passover Feast. Jesus knew that the time had come for him to leave this world and go to the Father. Having loved his own who were in the world, he now showed them the full extent of his love [John 13:1-5].

It has been a long day. Jerusalem is packed with Passover guests, most of whom clamor for a glimpse of the Teacher. The spring sun is warm. The streets are dry. And the disciples are a long way from home. A splash of cool water would be refreshing.

The disciples enter, one by one, and take their places around the table. On the wall hangs a towel, and on the floor sits a pitcher and a basin. Any one of the disciples could volunteer for the job, but not one does.

After a few moments, Jesus stands and removes his outer garment. He wraps a servant's girdle around his waist, takes up the basin, and kneels before one of the disciples. He unlaces a sandal and gently lifts the foot and places it in the basin, covers it with water, and begins to bathe it. One by one, one grimy foot after another, Jesus works his way down the row.

In Jesus' day the washing of feet was a task reserved not just for servants but for the lowest of servants. Every circle has its pecking order, and the circle of household workers was no exception. The servant at the bottom of the totem pole was expected to be the one on his knees with the towel and basin.

In this case the one with the towel and basin is the king of the universe. Hands that shaped the stars now wash away filth. Fingers that formed mountains now massage toes. And the one before whom all nations will one day kneel now kneels before his disciples. Hours before his own death, Jesus' concern is singular. He wants his disciples to know how much he loves them. More than removing dirt, Jesus is removing doubt.

Jesus knows what will happen to his hands at the crucifixion. Within twenty-four hours they will be pierced and lifeless. Of all the times we'd expect him to ask for the disciples' attention, this would be one. But he doesn't.

You can be sure Jesus knows the future of these feet he is washing. These twenty-four feet will not spend the next day following their master, defending his cause. These feet will dash for cover at the flash of a Roman sword. Only one pair of feet won't abandon him in the garden. One disciple won't desert him at Gethsemane—Judas won't even make it that far! He will abandon Jesus that very night at the table.

I looked for a Bible translation that reads, "Jesus washed all the disciples' feet except the feet of Judas," but I couldn't find one. What a passionate moment when Jesus silently lifts the feet of his betrayer and washes them in the basin! Within hours the feet of Judas, cleansed by the kindness of the one he will betray, will stand in Caiaphas's court.

Behold the gift Jesus gives his followers! He knows what these men are about to do. He knows they are about to perform the vilest act of their lives. By morning they will bury their heads in shame and look down at their feet in disgust. And when they do, he wants them to remember how his knees knelt before them and he washed their feet. He wants them to realize those feet are still clean. "You don't understand now what I am doing, but you will understand later" (John 13:7).

Remarkable. He forgave their sin before they even committed it. He offered mercy before they even sought it. (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Application

Take personal inventory of your life. Are there people you don't want to be around because you feel you're superior to them? Are there people you wouldn't "lower" yourself to help? Study the idea of servanthood. Ask God to put a particular person in your path over the course of the next few weeks.

Jesus Washes His Followers' Feet

It was almost time for the Passover Feast. Jesus knew that it was time for him to leave this world and go back to the Father. He had always loved those who were his own in the world, and he loved them all the way to the end.

<sup>2</sup>Jesus and his followers were at the evening meal. The devil had already persuaded Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon, to turn against Jesus. <sup>3</sup>Jesus knew that the Father had given him power over everything and that he had come from God and was going back to God. <sup>4</sup>So during the meal Jesus stood up and took off his outer clothing. Taking a towel, he wrapped it around his waist. <sup>5</sup>Then he poured water into a bowl and began to wash the followers' feet, drying them with the towel that was wrapped around him.

<sup>6</sup>Jesus came to Simon Peter, who said to him, "Lord, are you going to wash my feet?"

<sup>7</sup>Jesus answered, "You don't understand now what I am doing, but you will understand later."

<sup>8</sup>Peter said, "No, you will never wash my feet."

Jesus answered, "If I don't wash your feet, you are not one of my people."

<sup>9</sup>Simon Peter answered, "Lord, then wash not only my feet, but wash my hands and my head, too!"

<sup>10</sup>Jesus said, "After a person has had a bath, his whole body is clean. He needs only to wash his feet. And you men are clean, but not all of you.”<sup>11</sup> Jesus knew who would turn against him, and that is why he said, “Not all of you are clean.”

<sup>12</sup>When he had finished washing their feet, he put on his clothes and sat down again. He asked, “Do you understand what I have just done for you?”<sup>13</sup> You call me ‘Teacher’ and ‘Lord,’ and you are right, because that is what I am.<sup>14</sup> If I, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you also should wash each other’s feet.<sup>15</sup> I did this as an example so that you should do as I have done for you.<sup>16</sup> I tell you the truth, a servant is not greater than his master. A messenger is not greater than the one who sent him.<sup>17</sup> If you know these things, you will be happy if you do them.

<sup>18</sup>“I am not talking about all of you. I know those I have chosen. But this is to bring about what the Scripture said: ‘The man who ate at my table has turned against me.’<sup>19</sup> I am telling you this now before it happens so that when it happens, you will believe that I am he.<sup>20</sup> I tell you the truth, whoever accepts anyone I send also accepts me. And whoever accepts me also accepts the One who sent me.”

Jesus Talks About His Death

<sup>21</sup>After Jesus said this, he was very troubled. He said openly, “I tell you the truth, one of you will turn against me.”

<sup>22</sup>The followers all looked at each other, because they did not know whom Jesus was talking about.<sup>23</sup> One of the followers sitting next to Jesus was the follower Jesus loved.<sup>24</sup> Simon Peter motioned to him to ask Jesus whom he was talking about.

<sup>25</sup>That follower leaned closer to Jesus and asked, “Lord, who is it?”

<sup>26</sup>Jesus answered, “I will dip this bread into the dish. The man I give it to is the man who will turn against me.” So Jesus took a piece of bread, dipped it, and gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon. <sup>27</sup>As soon as Judas took the bread, Satan entered him. Jesus said to him, “The thing that you will do—do it quickly.” <sup>28</sup>No one at the table understood why Jesus said this to Judas. <sup>29</sup>Since he was the one who kept the money box, some of the followers thought Jesus was telling him to buy what was needed for the feast or to give something to the poor.

<sup>30</sup>Judas took the bread Jesus gave him and immediately went out. It was night.

<sup>31</sup>When Judas was gone, Jesus said, “Now the Son of Man receives his glory, and God receives glory through him. <sup>32</sup>If God receives glory through him, then God will give glory to the Son through himself. And God will give him glory quickly.”

<sup>33</sup>Jesus said, “My children, I will be with you only a little longer. You will look for me, and what I told the Jews, I tell you now: Where I am going you cannot come.

<sup>34</sup>“I give you a new command: Love each other. You must love each other as I have loved you. <sup>35</sup>All people will know that you are my followers if you love each other.”

Peter Will Say He Doesn't Know Jesus

Jesus answered, “Where I am going you cannot follow now, but you will follow later.”

<sup>37</sup>Peter asked, “Lord, why can't I follow you now? I am ready to die for you!”

<sup>38</sup>Jesus answered, “Are you ready to die for me? I tell you the truth, before the rooster crows, you will say three times that you don't know me.”

Life Lessons

John 14:1-31

Situation

Jesus knew that the disciples were troubled at the thought of his departure. He reassured them by teaching about the Holy Spirit, who would help them.

Observation

Death did not need to be a terror to the disciples because Jesus was preparing a place for them.

Inspiration

What do we do with these worries? Take your anxieties to the cross—literally. Next time you're worried about your health or house or finances or flights, take a mental trip up the hill. Spend a few moments looking again at the pieces of passion.

Run your thumb over the tip of the spear. Balance a spike in the palm of your hand. Read the wooden sign written in your own language. And as you do, touch the velvet dirt, moist with the blood of God.

Blood he bled for you.

The spear he took for you.

The nails he felt for you.

The sign he left for you.

He did all of this for you. Knowing this, knowing all he did for you there, don't you think he'll look out for you here?

Or as Paul wrote, "He did not spare his own Son but gave him for us all. So with Jesus, God will surely give us all things" (Romans 8:32).

Do yourself a favor; take your anxious moments to the cross. Leave them there with your bad moments, your mad moments, and your anxious moments. And may I suggest one more? Your final moment.

Barring the return of Christ first, you and I will have one. A final moment. A final breath. A final widening of the eyes and beating of the heart. In a split second you'll leave what you know and enter what you don't.

That's what bothers us. Death is the great unknown. We're always a bit skittish about the unknown.

Sara certainly was. Denalyn and I thought it was a great idea. We would kidnap the girls from school and take them on a weekend trip. We made reservations at a hotel and cleared the trip with their teachers but kept it a secret from our girls. When we showed up at Sara's fourth grade classroom on Friday afternoon, we thought she'd be thrilled. She wasn't. She was afraid. She didn't want to leave!

As we left, I assured her nothing was wrong. We had come to take her to a fun place. Didn't work. By the time we got to the car, she was crying. She was confused. She didn't like the interruption.

Nor do we. God promises to come at an unexpected hour and take us from the gray world we know to a golden world we don't. But since we don't, we aren't sure we want to go. We even get upset at the thought of his coming.

For that reason God wants us to do what Sara finally did—trust her father. “Don’t let your hearts be troubled,” he urged. “I will come back and take you to be with me so that you may be where I am” (John 14:1, 3).

By the way, in a short time Sara relaxed and enjoyed the trip. In fact, she didn’t want to come back. You won’t want to either.

Troubled about your final moments? Leave them at the foot of the cross.

Leave them there with your bad moments, mad moments, and anxious moments.

About this time someone is thinking, “You know, Max, if I leave all those moments at the cross, I won’t have any moments left but good ones.”

Well, what do you know? I guess you won’t.

Jesus Comforts His Followers

Jesus said, “Don’t let your hearts be troubled. Trust in God, and trust in me. <sup>2</sup>There are many rooms in my Father’s house; I would not tell you this if it were not true. I am going there to prepare a place for you. <sup>3</sup>After I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back and take you to be with me so that you may be where I am. <sup>4</sup>You know the way to the place where I am going.”

<sup>5</sup>Thomas said to Jesus, “Lord, we don’t know where you are going. So how can we know the way?”

<sup>6</sup>Jesus answered, “I am the way, and the truth, and the life. The only way to the Father is through me. <sup>7</sup>If you really knew me, you would know my Father, too. But now you do know him, and you have seen him.”

<sup>8</sup>Philip said to him, “Lord, show us the Father. That is all we need.”

<sup>9</sup>Jesus answered, “I have been with you a long time now. Do you still not know me, Philip? Whoever has seen me has seen the Father. So why do you say, ‘Show us the Father’? <sup>10</sup>Don’t you believe that I am in the Father and the Father is in me? The words I say to you don’t come from me, but the Father lives in me and does his own work. <sup>11</sup>Believe me when I say that I am in the Father and the Father is in me. Or believe because of the miracles I have done. <sup>12</sup>I tell you the truth, whoever believes in me will do the same things that I do. Those who believe will do even greater things than these, because I am going to the Father. <sup>13</sup>And if you ask for anything in my name, I will do it for you so that the Father's glory will be shown through the Son. <sup>14</sup>If you ask me for anything in my name, I will do it.

The Promise of the Holy Spirit

<sup>15</sup>“If you love me, you will obey my commands. <sup>16</sup>I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Helper to be with you forever— <sup>17</sup>the Spirit of truth. The world cannot accept him, because it does not see him or know him. But you know him, because he lives with you and he will be in you.

<sup>18</sup>“I will not leave you all alone like orphans; I will come back to you. <sup>19</sup>In a little while the world will not see me anymore, but you will see me. Because I live, you will live, too. <sup>20</sup>On that day you will know that I am in my Father, and that you are in me and I am in you. <sup>21</sup>Those who know my commands and obey them are the ones who love me, and my Father will love those who love me. I will love them and will show myself to them.”

<sup>22</sup>Then Judas (not Judas Iscariot) said, “But, Lord, why do you plan to show yourself to us and not to the rest of the world?”

<sup>23</sup>Jesus answered, “If people love me, they will obey my teaching. My Father will love them, and we will come to them and make our home with them. <sup>24</sup>Those who do not love me do not obey my teaching. This teaching that you hear is not really mine; it is from my Father, who sent me.

<sup>25</sup>“I have told you all these things while I am with you. <sup>26</sup>But the Helper will teach you everything and will cause you to remember all that I told you. This Helper is the Holy Spirit whom the Father will send in my name.

<sup>27</sup>“I leave you peace; my peace I give you. I do not give it to you as the world does. So don’t let your hearts be troubled or afraid. <sup>28</sup>You heard me say to you, ‘I am going, but I am coming back to you.’ If you loved me, you should be happy that I am going back to the Father, because he is greater than I am. <sup>29</sup>I have told you this now, before it happens, so that when it happens, you will believe. <sup>30</sup>I will not talk with you much longer, because the ruler of this world is coming. He has no power over me, <sup>31</sup>but the world must know that I love the Father, so I do exactly what the Father told me to do.

“Come now, let us go.

Life Lessons

John 15:1–16:4a

Situation

The Old Testament referred to Israel as the vine. The Jews in Jesus' day believed that because they belonged to Israel, they were connected to God. But Israel often failed to produce the fruit God looked for. Jesus made a radical statement by claiming to be the vine.

Observation

Jesus emphasized that Christians must produce fruit. He expected that of his followers then and he expects that of his followers now.

Inspiration

God loves to find anything that impedes our growth. Jesus portrays him as the Good Gardener who cuts and trims the vine. "I am the true vine; my Father is the gardener. He cuts off every branch of mine that does not produce fruit. And he trims and cleans every branch that produces fruit so that it will produce even more fruit" (John 15:1–3).

Jesus likely spoke these words while walking from the upper room to the Garden of Gethsemane. Perhaps he saw a vine hanging over a fence or draped along the wall. He lifted up a section of the plant and explained the chain of command in the universe. God is the Gardener. Jesus is the vine. We are the grapes.

Vines grew abundantly in Palestine. Carefully pruned, they produced sweet grapes. But left unkept, they crept everywhere and into everything. The gardener trimmed the vines. Why? So they could bear more fruit. God trims us. Why? For the same reason.

“I gave you this work,” he explained, “to go and produce fruit, fruit that will last” (John 15:16).

A good gardener will do what it takes to help a vine bear fruit. What fruit does God want? Love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control (see Galatians 5:22-23). These are the fruits of the Spirit. And this is what God longs to see in us. And like a careful gardener, he will clip and cut away anything that interferes.

A good track coach looks into the face of the runner and says, “We can break the record, but this is what it will take.” And then the coach lists a regimen of practice and discipline.

A good editor reads the manuscript and says, “This work has potential, but here is what we need to cut.” And the writer groans as the red ink flows.

A good piano instructor says, “I think you can master this piece for the competition, but to do so here is our rehearsal schedule.” And the pianist sighs as she sees the hours required....

God lifts up a branch of his vine and says, “You can be fruitful, but I’m going to have to clip some diseased leaves.” And though the process is painful, we can see on the soil below us the spotted greenery he has clipped. Arrogance. Vain ambitions. Bad relationships. Dangerous opportunities. Revenge.

Does God take this process lightly? I don’t think so. Listen to this serious statement. “He cuts off every branch of mine that does not produce fruit” (John 15:2). The verb “to cut off” is from the Greek word airo. It has at least two meanings; one is to “cut off,” and the other is to “pick up” or “lift up.” I believe both are implied.

Before God cuts a fruitless branch, he lifts it up. A gardener does this. He repositions the fruitless branch so it can get more sun or more space. Grapes are not like squash or pumpkins. They don’t develop while lying on the ground. They grow better hanging free. A good vine dresser will stretch the vine on the arbor to afford it more air and sun.

You’ve seen gardeners realign a plant, and you’ve probably seen God realign a life. The family uprooted and transferred to another city—was it so they could learn to trust God? The person so healthy, suddenly sick—was it to remind him to rely on the Gardener? The income stream dried up—was it God’s way of lifting you out of the soil of self and drawing you closer to himself? Leaders with questionable motives and morals are elected. Is it God’s way of stirring people to revival?

God “does everything just right and on time, but people can never completely understand what he is doing” (Ecclesiastes 3:11). (Did I just hear someone say “Amen”?) God is up to something. He is the busy, active Gardener who clears the field and removes the stones. He constructs the trellises and plants the seeds. He inspects the plants and pulls the weeds. And, most of all, he is good. He is the Good Gardener who cares for his vine. (From A Gentle

Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

What fruit do you see in your life? Do you see how God may be pruning you so that you can bear more and better fruit? Grow closer to Jesus. Yield your life to him, and allow him to do anything in your life if it will lead to bearing more fruit.

Jesus Is Like a Vine

“I am the true vine; my Father is the gardener. <sup>2</sup>He cuts off every branch of mine that does not produce fruit. And he trims and cleans every branch that produces fruit so that it will produce even more fruit. <sup>3</sup>You are already clean because of the words I have spoken to you. <sup>4</sup>Remain in me, and I will remain in you. A branch cannot produce fruit alone but must remain in the vine. In the same way, you cannot produce fruit alone but must remain in me.

<sup>5</sup>“I am the vine, and you are the branches. If any remain in me and I remain in them, they produce much fruit. But without me they can do nothing. <sup>6</sup>If any do not remain in me, they are like a branch that is thrown away and then dies. People pick up dead branches, throw them into the fire, and burn them. <sup>7</sup>If you remain in me and follow my teachings, you can ask anything you want, and it will be given to you. <sup>8</sup>You should produce much fruit and show that you are my followers, which brings glory to my Father. <sup>9</sup>I loved you as the Father loved me. Now remain in my love. <sup>10</sup>I have obeyed my Father’s commands, and I remain in his love. In the same way, if you obey my commands, you will remain in my love. <sup>11</sup>I have told you these things so that you can have the same joy I have and so that your joy will be the fullest possible joy.

you. <sup>13</sup>The greatest love a person can show is to die for his friends. <sup>14</sup>You are my friends if you do what I command you. <sup>15</sup>I no longer call you servants, because a servant does not know what his master is doing. But I call you friends, because I have made known to you everything I heard from my Father. <sup>16</sup>You did not choose me; I chose you. And I gave you this work: to go and produce fruit, fruit that will last. Then the Father will give you anything you ask for in my name. <sup>17</sup>This is my command: Love each other.

Jesus Warns His Followers

<sup>18</sup>“If the world hates you, remember that it hated me first. <sup>19</sup>If you belonged to the world, it would love you as it loves its own. But I have chosen you out of the world, so you don’t belong to it. That is why the world hates you. <sup>20</sup>Remember what I told you: A servant is not greater than his master. If people did wrong to me, they will do wrong to you, too. And if they obeyed my teaching, they will obey yours, too. <sup>21</sup>They will do all this to you on account of me, because they do not know the One who sent me. <sup>22</sup>If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not be guilty of sin, but now they have no excuse for their sin. <sup>23</sup>Whoever hates me also hates my Father. <sup>24</sup>I did works among them that no one else has ever done. If I had not done these works, they would not be guilty of sin. But now they have seen what I have done, and yet they have hated both me and my Father. <sup>25</sup>But this happened so that what is written in their law would be true: ‘They hated me for no reason.’

<sup>26</sup>“I will send you the Helper from the Father; he is the Spirit of truth who comes from the Father. When he comes, he will tell about me,<sup>27</sup> and you also must tell people about me, because you have been with me from the beginning.

“I have told you these things to keep you from giving up.
<sup>2</sup>People will put you out of their synagogues. Yes, the time is coming when those who kill you will think they are offering service to God.<sup>3</sup>They will do this because they have not known the Father and they have not known me.<sup>4</sup>I have told you these things now so that when the time comes you will remember that I warned you.

Life Lessons

John 16:4b-33

Situation

The disciples, who lived and worked with Jesus, had been his close friends for three years. They were saddened and afraid to hear him talk of leaving them. Jesus tried to help his friends see the bigger picture—that God had a purpose and a plan. But he also comforted them by promising to be with them through his Spirit.

Observation

The Holy Spirit was sent to complete several purposes among both Believers and nonBelievers, including pointing out sin and allowing people to understand truth. The Spirit always gives glory to Jesus. That should be our goal, too.

Inspiration

Spiritual greatness is not spiritual stardom; it is servanthood. God is looking for servants, not stars. The road to an improved contribution isn't moving up in the organization; it is surrendering your motives to the Holy Spirit. Don't ask the Holy Spirit to increase your skill; ask Him to increase Christ. As Jesus becomes greater, your impact will enlarge, but because Christ is growing larger, not you.

The servant no longer wants to become a great man of God; he wants to become less. His love for the Lord Jesus becomes such an intense fire that he abandons all desire to be liked, to do a good job, to have a winning way, to be a great man of God. He loses interest in who holds first place. He stakes out his claim on last place. His highest aim becomes for Christ to increase, for himself to decrease. (From Walking with Christ in the Details of Life by Patrick Morley)

Application

Think of an area where you would like to do better or be more effective for God. Then pray that the Spirit will bring glory to God through you. Ask him to show you how to be more of a servant so that Christ is more readily seen by others.

Exploration

Bringing Glory to Jesus—Matthew 5:16; Mark 10:43–45; John 13:14; Romans 12:1; 15:4–6; 1 Corinthians 6:20.

The Work of the Holy Spirit

“I did not tell you these things at the beginning, because I was with you then. <sup>5</sup>Now I am going back to the One who sent me. But none of you asks me, ‘Where are you going?’ <sup>6</sup>Your hearts are filled with sadness because I have told you these things. <sup>7</sup>But I tell you the truth, it is better for you that I go away. When I go away, I will send the Helper to you. If I do not go away, the Helper will not come. <sup>8</sup>When the Helper comes, he will prove to the people of the world the truth about sin, about being right with God, and about judgment. <sup>9</sup>He will prove to them that sin is not believing in me. <sup>10</sup>He will prove to them that being right with God comes from my going to the Father and not being seen anymore. <sup>11</sup>And the Helper will prove to them that judgment happened when the ruler of this world was judged.

<sup>12</sup>“I have many more things to say to you, but they are too much for you now. <sup>13</sup>But when the Spirit of truth comes, he will lead you into all truth. He will not speak his own words, but he will speak only what he hears, and he will tell you what is to come. <sup>14</sup>The Spirit of truth will bring glory to me, because he will take what I have to say and tell it to you. <sup>15</sup>All that the Father has is mine. That is why I said that the Spirit will take what I have to say and tell it to you.

Sadness Will Become Happiness

<sup>16</sup>“After a little while you will not see me, and then after a little while you will see me again.”

<sup>17</sup>Some of the followers said to each other, “What does Jesus mean when he says, ‘After a little while you will not see me, and then after a little while you will see me again’? And what does he mean when he says, ‘Because I am going to the Father?’” <sup>18</sup>They also asked, “What does he mean by ‘a little while’? We don’t understand what he is saying.”

<sup>19</sup>Jesus saw that the followers wanted to ask him about this, so he said to them, “Are you asking each other what I meant when I said, ‘After a little while you will not see me, and then after a little while you will see me again’? <sup>20</sup>I tell you the truth, you will cry and be sad, but the world will be happy. You will be sad, but your sadness will become joy. <sup>21</sup>When a woman gives birth to a baby, she has pain, because her time has come. But when her baby is born, she forgets the pain, because she is so happy that a child has been born into the world. <sup>22</sup>It is the same with you. Now you are sad, but I will see you again and you will be happy, and no one will take away your joy. <sup>23</sup>In that day you will not ask me for anything. I tell you the truth, my Father will give you anything you ask for in my name. <sup>24</sup>Until now you have not asked for anything in my name. Ask and you will receive, so that your joy will be the fullest possible joy.

Victory Over the World

<sup>25</sup>“I have told you these things, using stories that hide the meaning. But the time will come when I will not use stories like that to tell you things; I will speak to you in plain words about the Father. <sup>26</sup>In that day you will ask the Father for things in my name. I mean, I will not need to ask the Father for you. <sup>27</sup>The Father himself loves you. He loves you because you loved me and believed that I came from God. <sup>28</sup>I came from the Father into the world. Now I am leaving the world and going back to the Father.”

<sup>29</sup>Then the followers of Jesus said, “You are speaking clearly to us now and are not using stories that are hard to understand. <sup>30</sup>We can see now that you know all things. You can answer a person’s question even before it is asked. This makes us believe you came from God.”

<sup>31</sup>Jesus answered, “So now you believe? <sup>32</sup>Listen to me; a time is coming when you will be scattered, each to his own home. That time is now here. You will leave me alone, but I am never really alone, because the Father is with me.

<sup>33</sup>“I told you these things so that you can have peace in me. In this world you will have trouble, but be brave! I have defeated the world.”

John 17:1–26

Situation

This is the longest prayer of Jesus recorded in the Bible. It marked the end of Jesus' earthly ministry but looked forward to the ongoing ministry of the immediate and future disciples. Prayer was an important aspect of Jesus' ministry. Whenever a strategic time approached, Jesus spent time in prayer.

Observation

The world is a battleground. Constant spiritual and physical warfare wages between the forces of God and Satan. Jesus prayed that God would keep his people pure, give them abundant joy, give them peace and unity, and protect them from Satan's power.

Inspiration

Jesus frequently prayed alone, separating Himself from every earthly distraction. I would strongly urge you to select a place—a room or corner in your home, place of work, or in your yard or garden—where you can regularly meet God alone. . . .

A missionary and his family were forced to camp outside on a hill. They had money with them and were fearful of an attack by roving thieves. After praying, they went to sleep. Months later an injured man was brought into the mission hospital. He asked the missionary if he had soldiers guarding him on that special night. "We intended to rob you," he said, "but we were afraid of the twenty-seven soldiers."

When the missionary returned to his homeland, he related this strange story, and a member of his church said, “We had a prayer meeting that night, and I took the roll. There were just twenty-seven of us present.” (From Hope for the Troubled Heart by Billy Graham)

Application

Do you have special times reserved only for praying? Remember, Jesus regularly went to a quiet place and talked to God. Set up a prayer plan, keep it for a week, and ask God to bless it.

Jesus Prays for His Followers

After Jesus said these things, he looked toward heaven and prayed, “Father, the time has come. Give glory to your Son so that the Son can give glory to you. <sup>2</sup>You gave the Son power over all people so that the Son could give eternal life to all those you gave him. <sup>3</sup>And this is eternal life: that people know you, the only true God, and that they know Jesus Christ, the One you sent. <sup>4</sup>Having finished the work you gave me to do, I brought you glory on earth. <sup>5</sup>And now, Father, give me glory with you; give me the glory I had with you before the world was made.

<sup>6</sup>“I showed what you are like to those you gave me from the world. They belonged to you, and you gave them to me, and they have obeyed your teaching. <sup>7</sup>Now they know that everything you gave me comes from you. <sup>8</sup>I gave them the teachings you gave me, and they accepted them. They knew that I truly came from you, and they believed that you sent me. <sup>9</sup>I am praying for them. I am not praying for people in the world but for those you gave me, because they are yours. <sup>10</sup>All I have is yours, and all you have is mine. And my glory is shown through them. <sup>11</sup>I am coming to you; I will not stay in the world any longer. But they are still in the world. Holy Father, keep them safe by the power of your name, the name you gave me, so that they will be one, just as you and I are one. <sup>12</sup>While I was with them, I kept them safe by the power of your name, the name you gave me. I protected them, and only one of them, the one worthy of destruction, was lost so that the Scripture would come true.

<sup>13</sup>“I am coming to you now. But I pray these things while I am still in the world so that these followers can have all of my joy in them. <sup>14</sup>I have given them your teaching. And the world has hated them, because they don’t belong to the world, just as I don’t belong to the world. <sup>15</sup>I am not asking you to take them out of the world but to keep them safe from the Evil One. <sup>16</sup>They don’t belong to the world, just as I don’t belong to the world. <sup>17</sup>Make them ready for your service through your truth; your teaching is truth. <sup>18</sup>I have sent them into the world, just as you sent me into the world. <sup>19</sup>For their sake, I am making myself ready to serve so that they can be ready for their service of the truth.

<sup>20</sup>“I pray for these followers, but I am also praying for all those who will believe in me because of their teaching. <sup>21</sup>Father, I pray that they can be one. As you are in me and I am in you, I pray that they can also be one in us. Then the world will believe that you sent me. <sup>22</sup>I have given these people the glory that you gave me so that they can be one, just as you and I are one. <sup>23</sup>I will be in them and you will be in me so that they will be completely one. Then the world will know that you sent me and that you loved them just as much as you loved me.

<sup>24</sup>“Father, I want these people that you gave me to be with me where I am. I want them to see my glory, which you gave me because you loved me before the world was made. <sup>25</sup>Father, you are the One who is good. The world does not know you, but I know you, and these people know you sent me. <sup>26</sup>I showed them what you are like, and I will show them again. Then they will have the same love that you have for me, and I will live in them.”

Life Lessons

John 18:1-27

Situation

Events surrounding the crucifixion and the resurrection of Jesus form the climax of all four Gospels. The arrest of Jesus has the stamp of divine plan. Jesus suffered to give us eternal life.

Observation

The way of the cross provides the way to glory and victory, not defeat and humiliation.

Inspiration

“Dear friends, do not be surprised at the painful trial you are suffering, as though something strange were happening to you. But rejoice that you participate in the sufferings of Christ, so that you may be overjoyed when his glory is revealed” (1 Peter 4:12-13).

God works through pain to bring glory! All of us have to understand that God’s fabulous treasures aren’t bought with cash and credit, slapping down a contract on a bargaining table and scratching a signature and a date. They just don’t come that way!

Our Lord Jesus suffered too, to show us the way. He suffered first and most—to purchase for Himself glory in our eyes (Philippians 2:5-11). First the pain, and then the prize.

“Come, let us return to the Lord,” says the prophet Hosea:

“He has torn us to pieces, but he will heal us;

he has injured us,
but he will bind up our wounds.
After two days he will revive us;
on the third day he will restore us, that we may live in his presence.” (6:1-2)

Do you catch something here? It’s as if the shadow of a cross is falling across these words. God is totally involved in our suffering, as we will be totally involved in His ultimate triumph. The two processes are inseparable.

(From My Sacrifice, His Fire by Anne Ortlund)

Application

Think of specific instances when you have kept your Christian identity secret. Don’t be ashamed—Jesus paid such a high price for your life. Remember, God joins our suffering—strengthening and lifting us up so that we can share in his glory.

Jesus Is Arrested

When Jesus finished praying, he went with his followers across the Kidron Valley. On the other side there was a garden, and Jesus and his followers went into it.

<sup>2</sup>Judas knew where this place was, because Jesus met there often with his followers. Judas was the one who turned against Jesus. <sup>3</sup>So Judas came there with a group of soldiers and some guards from the leading priests and the Pharisees. They were carrying torches, lanterns, and weapons.

<sup>4</sup>Knowing everything that would happen to him, Jesus went out and asked, “Who is it you are looking for?”

“I am he,” Jesus said. (Judas, the one who turned against Jesus, was standing there with them.) <sup>6</sup>When Jesus said, “I am he,” they moved back and fell to the ground.

<sup>7</sup>Jesus asked them again, “Who is it you are looking for?”
They said, “Jesus of Nazareth.”

<sup>8</sup>“I told you that I am he,” Jesus said. “So if you are looking for me, let the others go.” <sup>9</sup>This happened so that the words Jesus said before would come true: “I have not lost any of the ones you gave me.”

<sup>10</sup>Simon Peter, who had a sword, pulled it out and struck the servant of the high priest, cutting off his right ear. (The servant’s name was Malchus.) <sup>11</sup>Jesus said to Peter, “Put your sword back. Shouldn’t I drink the cup the Father gave me?”

Jesus Is Brought Before Annas

<sup>12</sup>Then the soldiers with their commander and the guards arrested Jesus. They tied him <sup>13</sup>and led him first to Annas, the father-in-law of Caiaphas, the high priest that year. <sup>14</sup>Caiaphas was the one who told the Jews that it would be better if one man died for all the people.

Peter Says He Doesn't Know Jesus

<sup>15</sup>Simon Peter and another one of Jesus' followers went along after Jesus. This follower knew the high priest, so he went with Jesus into the high priest's courtyard. <sup>16</sup>But Peter waited outside near the door. The follower who knew the high priest came back outside, spoke to the girl at the door, and brought Peter inside. <sup>17</sup>The girl at the door said to Peter, "Aren't you also one of that man's followers?"

Peter answered, "No, I am not!"

<sup>18</sup>It was cold, so the servants and guards had built a fire and were standing around it, warming themselves. Peter also was standing with them, warming himself.

The High Priest Questions Jesus

<sup>19</sup>The high priest asked Jesus questions about his followers and his teaching. <sup>20</sup>Jesus answered, "I have spoken openly to everyone. I have always taught in synagogues and in the Temple, where all the Jews come together. I never said anything in secret. <sup>21</sup>So why do you question me? Ask the people who heard my teaching. They know what I said."

<sup>22</sup>When Jesus said this, one of the guards standing there hit him. The guard said, “Is that the way you answer the high priest?”

<sup>23</sup>Jesus answered him, “If I said something wrong, then show what it was. But if what I said is true, why do you hit me?”

<sup>24</sup>Then Annas sent Jesus, who was still tied, to Caiaphas the high priest.

Peter Says Again He Doesn't Know Jesus

<sup>25</sup>As Simon Peter was standing and warming himself, they said to him, “Aren't you one of that man's followers?”

Peter said it was not true; he said, “No, I am not.”

<sup>26</sup>One of the servants of the high priest was there. This servant was a relative of the man whose ear Peter had cut off. The servant said, “Didn't I see you with him in the garden?”

<sup>27</sup>Again Peter said it wasn't true. At once a rooster crowed.

Situation

Jewish leaders hoped to crucify Jesus but did not have the authority to do this, so they brought him to the Roman governor, Pilate. Shrewd Pilate knew that the Jewish leaders wanted him to act as their executioner. He pronounced Jesus innocent and tried to save him, but finally consented to the crucifixion because of public pressure.

Observation

Jesus knew that his trial was according to God's will and faced it with humility and self-control. In his cry, "It is finished," we hear the triumphant recognition that he has now fully accomplished God's will and paid for our sins in full.

Inspiration

Pilate wants to let Jesus go. Just give me a reason, he thinks, almost aloud. I'll set you free.

His thoughts are interrupted by a tap on the shoulder. A messenger leans and whispers. Strange. Pilate's wife has sent word not to get involved in the case. Something about a dream she had.

Pilate walks back to his chair, sits, and stares at Jesus. "Even the gods are on your side?" he states with no explanation....

How many wide eyes have stared at him, pleading for mercy, begging for acquittal?

But the eyes of this Nazarene are calm, silent....

He's not angry with me. He's not afraid ... he seems to understand....

"What should I do with Jesus, the one called the Christ?" ...

What do you do with a man who claims to be God, yet hates religion? ... What do you do with a man who knows the place and time of his death, yet goes there anyway? ...

You can reject him....

Or you can accept him. You can journey with him. You can listen for his voice amidst the hundreds of voices and follow him.

Jesus Is Brought Before Pilate

<sup>28</sup>Early in the morning they led Jesus from Caiaphas's house to the Roman governor's palace. They would not go inside the palace, because they did not want to make themselves unclean; they wanted to eat the Passover meal. <sup>29</sup>So Pilate went outside to them and asked, "What charges do you bring against this man?"

<sup>30</sup>They answered, "If he were not a criminal, we wouldn't have brought him to you."

<sup>31</sup>Pilate said to them, "Take him yourselves and judge him by your own law."

"But we are not allowed to put anyone to death," the Jews answered. <sup>32</sup>(This happened so that what Jesus said about how he would die would come true.)

<sup>33</sup>Then Pilate went back inside the palace and called Jesus to him and asked, "Are you the king of the Jews?"

<sup>34</sup>Jesus said, "Is that your own question, or did others tell you about me?"

<sup>35</sup>Pilate answered, "I am not one of you. It was your own people and their leading priests who handed you over to me. What have you done wrong?"

<sup>36</sup>Jesus answered, "My kingdom does not belong to this world. If it belonged to this world, my servants would fight so that I would not be given over to the Jews. But my kingdom is from another place."

<sup>37</sup>Pilate said, "So you are a king!"

Jesus answered, “You are the one saying I am a king. This is why I was born and came into the world: to tell people the truth. And everyone who belongs to the truth listens to me.”

<sup>38</sup>Pilate said, “What is truth?” After he said this, he went out to the crowd again and said to them, “I find nothing against this man. <sup>39</sup>But it is your custom that I free one prisoner to you at Passover time. Do you want me to free the ‘king of the Jews’?”

<sup>40</sup>They shouted back, “No, not him! Let Barabbas go free!” (Barabbas was a robber.)

Then Pilate ordered that Jesus be taken away and whipped.
<sup>2</sup>The soldiers made a crown from some thorny branches and put it on Jesus' head and put a purple robe around him. <sup>3</sup>Then they came to him many times and said, "Hail, King of the Jews!" and hit him in the face.

<sup>4</sup>Again Pilate came out and said to them, "Look, I am bringing Jesus out to you. I want you to know that I find nothing against him." <sup>5</sup>So Jesus came out, wearing the crown of thorns and the purple robe. Pilate said to them, "Here is the man!"

<sup>6</sup>When the leading priests and the guards saw Jesus, they shouted, "Crucify him! Crucify him!"

But Pilate answered, "Crucify him yourselves, because I find nothing against him."

<sup>7</sup>The leaders answered, "We have a law that says he should die, because he said he is the Son of God."

<sup>8</sup>When Pilate heard this, he was even more afraid. <sup>9</sup>He went back inside the palace and asked Jesus, "Where do you come from?" But Jesus did not answer him. <sup>10</sup>Pilate said, "You refuse to speak to me? Don't you know I have power to set you free and power to have you crucified?"

<sup>11</sup>Jesus answered, "The only power you have over me is the power given to you by God. The man who turned me in to you is guilty of a greater sin."

<sup>12</sup>After this, Pilate tried to let Jesus go. But some in the crowd cried out, "Anyone who makes himself king is against Caesar. If you let this man go, you are no friend of Caesar."

<sup>13</sup>When Pilate heard what they were saying, he brought Jesus out and sat down on the judge's seat at the place called The Stone Pavement. (In the Hebrew language the name is Gabbatha.)<sup>14</sup>It was about noon on Preparation Day of Passover week. Pilate said to the crowd, “Here is your king!”

<sup>15</sup>They shouted, “Take him away! Take him away! Crucify him!”

Pilate asked them, “Do you want me to crucify your king?”

The leading priests answered, “The only king we have is Caesar.”

<sup>16</sup>So Pilate handed Jesus over to them to be crucified.

Jesus Is Crucified

The soldiers took charge of Jesus.<sup>17</sup>Carrying his own cross, Jesus went out to a place called The Place of the Skull, which in the Hebrew language is called Golgotha.<sup>18</sup>There they crucified Jesus. They also crucified two other men, one on each side, with Jesus in the middle.<sup>19</sup>Pilate wrote a sign and put it on the cross. It read: JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE JEWS.<sup>20</sup>The sign was written in Hebrew, in Latin, and in Greek. Many of the people read the sign, because the place where Jesus was crucified was near the city.<sup>21</sup>The leading priests said to Pilate, “Don’t write, ‘The King of the Jews.’ But write, ‘This man said, “I am the King of the Jews.””

<sup>23</sup>After the soldiers crucified Jesus, they took his clothes and divided them into four parts, with each soldier getting one part. They also took his long shirt, which was all one piece of cloth, woven from top to bottom.<sup>24</sup>So the soldiers said to each other, “We should not tear this into parts. Let’s throw lots to see who will get it.” This happened so that this Scripture would come true:

“They divided my clothes among them, and they threw lots for my clothing.”

Psalm 22:18

So the soldiers did this.

<sup>25</sup>Standing near his cross were Jesus’ mother, his mother’s sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene. <sup>26</sup>When Jesus saw his mother and the follower he loved standing nearby, he said to his mother, “Dear woman, here is your son.” <sup>27</sup>Then he said to the follower, “Here is your mother.” From that time on, the follower took her to live in his home.

Jesus Dies

<sup>28</sup>After this, Jesus knew that everything had been done. So that the Scripture would come true, he said, “I am thirsty.” <sup>29</sup>There was a jar full of vinegar there, so the soldiers soaked a sponge in it, put the sponge on a branch of a hyssop plant, and lifted it to Jesus’ mouth. <sup>30</sup>When Jesus tasted the vinegar, he said, “It is finished.” Then he bowed his head and died.

<sup>31</sup>This day was Preparation Day, and the next day was a special Sabbath day. Since the religious leaders did not want the bodies to stay on the cross on the Sabbath day, they asked Pilate to order that the legs of the men be broken and the bodies be taken away. <sup>32</sup>So the soldiers came and broke the legs of the first man on the cross beside Jesus. Then they broke the legs of the man on the other cross beside Jesus. <sup>33</sup>But when the soldiers came to Jesus and saw that he was already dead, they did not break his legs. <sup>34</sup>But one of the soldiers stuck his spear into Jesus’ side, and at once blood and water came out.<sup>35</sup>(The one who saw this happen is the one who told us this, and whatever he says is true. And he knows that he tells the truth, and he tells it so that you might believe.)<sup>36</sup>These things happened to make the Scripture come true: “Not one of his bones will be broken.”<sup>37</sup>And another Scripture says, “They will look at the one they stabbed.”

Christ Through the Bible

The Clothing of Christ

Scripture says little about the clothes Jesus wore. We know what his cousin John the Baptist wore. We know what the religious leaders wore. But the clothing of Christ is nondescript: neither so humble as to touch hearts nor so glamorous as to turn heads.

One reference to Jesus’ garments is noteworthy. “They took his clothes and divided them into four parts, with each soldier getting one part. They also took his long shirt, which was all one piece of cloth, woven from top to bottom. So the soldiers said to each other, ‘We should not tear this into parts. Let’s throw lots to see who will get it’” (John 19:23–24).

It must have been Jesus’ finest possession. Jewish tradition called for a mother to make such a robe and present it to her son as a departure gift when he left home. Had Mary done this for Jesus? We don’t know. But we do know the tunic was without seam, woven from top to bottom. Why is this significant?

Scripture often describes our behavior as the clothes we wear... . Garments can symbolize character, and like his garment, Jesus' character was seamless. Coordinated. Unified. He was like his robe: uninterrupted perfection.

“Woven from top.” Jesus wasn't led by his own mind; he was led by the mind of his Father. Listen to his words:

“I tell you the truth, the Son can do nothing alone. The Son does only what he sees the Father doing, because the Son does whatever the Father does” (John 5:19).

“I can do nothing on my own. As I hear, I judge” (John 5:30, NRSV).

The character of Jesus was a seamless fabric woven from heaven to earth ... from God's thoughts to Jesus' actions. From God's tears to Jesus' compassion. From God's word to Jesus' response. All one piece. All a picture of the character of Jesus.

But when Christ was nailed to the cross, he took off his robe of seamless perfection and assumed a different wardrobe, the wardrobe of indignity.

The indignity of nakedness. Stripped before his own mother and loved ones. Shamed before his family.

The indignity of failure. For a few pain-filled hours, the religious leaders were the victors, and Christ appeared the loser. Shamed before his accusers.

Worst of all, he wore the indignity of sin. “Christ carried our sins in his body on the cross so we would stop living for sin and start living for what is right” (1 Peter 2:24).

The clothing of Christ on the cross? Sin—yours and mine. The sins of all humanity. (From He Chose the Nails by Max Lucado)

Jesus Is Buried

<sup>38</sup>Later, Joseph from Arimathea asked Pilate if he could take the body of Jesus. (Joseph was a secret follower of Jesus, because he was afraid of some of the leaders.) Pilate gave his permission, so Joseph came and took Jesus' body away.

<sup>39</sup>Nicodemus, who earlier had come to Jesus at night, went with Joseph. He brought about seventy-five pounds of myrrh and aloes. <sup>40</sup>These two men took Jesus' body and wrapped it with the spices in pieces of linen cloth, which is how they bury the dead. <sup>41</sup>In the place where Jesus was crucified, there was a garden. In the garden was a new tomb that had never been used before. <sup>42</sup>The men laid Jesus in that tomb because it was nearby, and they were preparing to start their Sabbath day.

Situation

Tombs in ancient times were closed by a circular stone across the mouth of a cave. Matthew tells us that authorities sealed the tomb and guarded it (Matthew 27:66). When Mary saw the stone rolled away, she was shocked and amazed. She ran to tell Peter and John.

Observation

The resurrection of Jesus is true. We worship a living Savior and can live forever because he does.

Inspiration

There is something about a living testimony that gives us courage. Once we see someone else emerging from life's dark tunnels we realize that we, too, can overcome....

In the eyes of humanity, death was still the black veil that separated them from joy. There was no victory over this hooded foe. Its putrid odor invaded the nostrils of every human, convincing them that life was only meant to end abruptly and senselessly.

It was left to the Son of God to disclose the true nature of this force. It was on the cross that the showdown occurred. Christ called for Satan's cards. Weary of seeing humanity fooled by a coverup, he entered the tunnel death to prove that there was indeed an exit. And, as the world darkened, creation held her breath....

Christ emerged from death's tunnel, lifted a triumphant fist toward the sky, and freed all from the fear of death.

“Death has been swallowed up in victory!” (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Jesus' Tomb Is Empty

Early on the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene went to the tomb while it was still dark. When she saw that the large stone had been moved away from the tomb,<sup>2</sup>she ran to Simon Peter and the follower whom Jesus loved. Mary said, “They have taken the Lord out of the tomb, and we don’t know where they have put him.”

<sup>3</sup>So Peter and the other follower started for the tomb. <sup>4</sup>They were both running, but the other follower ran faster than Peter and reached the tomb first. <sup>5</sup>He bent down and looked in and saw the strips of linen cloth lying there, but he did not go in. <sup>6</sup>Then following him, Simon Peter arrived and went into the tomb and saw the strips of linen lying there. <sup>7</sup>He also saw the cloth that had been around Jesus’ head, which was folded up and laid in a different place from the strips of linen. <sup>8</sup>Then the other follower, who had reached the tomb first, also went in. He saw and believed. <sup>9</sup>(They did not yet understand from the Scriptures that Jesus must rise from the dead.) Jesus Appears to Mary Magdalene

<sup>10</sup>Then the followers went back home. <sup>11</sup>But Mary stood outside the tomb, crying. As she was crying, she bent down and looked inside the tomb. <sup>12</sup>She saw two angels dressed in white, sitting where Jesus’ body had been, one at the head and one at the feet.

<sup>13</sup>They asked her, “Woman, why are you crying?”

She answered, “They have taken away my Lord, and I don’t know where they have put him.” <sup>14</sup>When Mary said this, she turned around and saw Jesus standing there, but she did not know it was Jesus.

<sup>15</sup>Jesus asked her, “Woman, why are you crying? Whom are you looking for?”

Thinking he was the gardener, she said to him, “Did you take him away, sir? Tell me where you put him, and I will get him.”

Mary turned toward Jesus and said in Hebrew, “Rabboni.” (This means Teacher.)

<sup>17</sup>Jesus said to her, “Don’t hold on to me, because I have not yet gone up to the Father. But go to my brothers and tell them, ‘I am going back to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God.’”

<sup>18</sup>Mary Magdalene went and said to the followers, “I saw the Lord!” And she told them what Jesus had said to her.

Jesus Appears to His Followers

<sup>19</sup>When it was evening on the first day of the week, the followers were together. The doors were locked, because they were afraid of the older leaders. Then Jesus came and stood right in the middle of them and said, “Peace be with you.”

<sup>20</sup>After he said this, he showed them his hands and his side. The followers were thrilled when they saw the Lord.

<sup>21</sup>Then Jesus said again, “Peace be with you. As the Father sent me, I now send you.” <sup>22</sup>After he said this, he breathed on them and said, “Receive the Holy Spirit.<sup>23</sup> If you forgive anyone his sins, they are forgiven. If you don’t forgive them, they are not forgiven.”

Jesus Appears to Thomas

But Thomas said, “I will not believe it until I see the nail marks in his hands and put my finger where the nails were and put my hand into his side.”

<sup>26</sup>A week later the followers were in the house again, and Thomas was with them. The doors were locked, but Jesus came in and stood right in the middle of them. He said, “Peace be with you.”<sup>27</sup> Then he said to Thomas, “Put your finger here, and look at my hands. Put your hand here in my side. Stop being an unbeliever and believe.”

<sup>28</sup>Thomas said to him, “My Lord and my God!”

<sup>29</sup>Then Jesus told him, “You believe because you see me. Those who believe without seeing me will be truly happy.”

Why John Wrote This Book

<sup>30</sup>Jesus did many other miracles in the presence of his followers that are not written in this book.<sup>31</sup> But these are written so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God. Then, by believing, you may have life through his name.

Life Lessons

John 21:1–25

Situation

John explained that the story has not ended. Jesus Christ formed, commissioned, and empowered his church. The church continued Jesus' ministry.

Observation

Jesus does not let his followers wallow in failure. He forgave Peter, and he forgives us.

Inspiration

“Catch any fish?” Peter and John look up. Probably a villager. “No!” they yell. “Try the other side!” the voice yells back. John looks at Peter. What harm? So out sails the net. Peter wraps the rope around his wrist to wait...

He's so intense with the task, he misses the message.

John doesn't. The moment is déjà vu... . He lifts his eyes to the man on the shore. “It's him,” he whispers.

Then louder, “It's Jesus.”

Then shouting, “It's the Lord, Peter. It's the Lord!”

Peter turns and looks. Jesus has come... . Jesus the victor over darkness. Jesus the God of heaven and earth is on the shore ...

Peter plunges into the water, swims to the shore, and stumbles out wet and shivering and stands in front of the friend he betrayed...

For one of the few times in his life, Peter is silent. What words would suffice? The moment is too holy for words. . . .

What do you say at a moment such as this?

It's just you and God. You and God both know what you did. And neither of you is proud of it. What do you do?

You might consider doing what Peter did. Stand in God's presence. Stand in his sight. Stand still and wait. Sometimes that's all a soul can do. Too repentant to speak, but too hopeful to leave—we just stand.

Stand amazed.

He has come back.

He invites you to try again. This time, with him.

Jesus Appears to Seven Followers

Later, Jesus showed himself to his followers again—this time at Lake Galilee. This is how he showed himself: <sup>2</sup>Some of the followers were together: Simon Peter, Thomas (called Didymus), Nathanael from Cana in Galilee, the two sons of Zebedee, and two other followers. <sup>3</sup>Simon Peter said, “I am going out to fish.”

The others said, “We will go with you.” So they went out and got into the boat. They fished that night but caught nothing.

<sup>4</sup>Early the next morning Jesus stood on the shore, but the followers did not know it was Jesus. <sup>5</sup>Then he said to them, “Friends, did you catch any fish?”

They answered, “No.”

<sup>6</sup>He said, “Throw your net on the right side of the boat, and you will find some.” So they did, and they caught so many fish they could not pull the net back into the boat.

<sup>7</sup>The follower whom Jesus loved said to Peter, “It is the Lord!” When Peter heard him say this, he wrapped his coat around himself. (Peter had taken his clothes off.) Then he jumped into the water. <sup>8</sup>The other followers went to shore in the boat, dragging the net full of fish. They were not very far from shore, only about a hundred yards. <sup>9</sup>When the followers stepped out of the boat and onto the shore, they saw a fire of hot coals. There were fish on the fire, and there was bread.

<sup>11</sup>Simon Peter went into the boat and pulled the net to the shore. It was full of big fish, one hundred fifty-three in all, but even though there were so many, the net did not tear. <sup>12</sup>Jesus said to them, “Come and eat.” None of the followers dared ask him, “Who are you?” because they knew it was the Lord. <sup>13</sup>Jesus came and took the bread and gave it to them, along with the fish.

<sup>14</sup>This was now the third time Jesus showed himself to his followers after he was raised from the dead.

Jesus Talks to Peter

<sup>15</sup>When they finished eating, Jesus said to Simon Peter, “Simon son of John do you love me more than these?”

He answered, “Yes, Lord, you know that I love you.”

Jesus said, “Feed my lambs.”

<sup>16</sup>Again Jesus said, “Simon son of John do you love me?”

He answered, “Yes, Lord, you know that I love you.”

Jesus said, “Take care of my sheep.”

<sup>17</sup>A third time he said, “Simon son of John do you love me?”

Peter was hurt because Jesus asked him the third time, “Do you love me?” Peter said, “Lord, you know everything; you know that I love you!”

He said to him, “Feed my sheep. <sup>18</sup>I tell you the truth, when you were younger, you tied your own belt and went where you wanted. But when you are old, you will put out your hands and someone else will tie you and take you where you don’t want to go.”<sup>19</sup>(Jesus said this to show how Peter would die to give glory to God.) Then Jesus said to Peter, “Follow me!”

<sup>20</sup>Peter turned and saw that the follower Jesus loved was walking behind them. (This was the follower who had leaned against Jesus at the supper and had said, “Lord, who will turn against you?”)<sup>21</sup>When Peter saw him behind them, he asked Jesus, “Lord, what about him?”

<sup>22</sup>Jesus answered, “If I want him to live until I come back, that is not your business. You follow me.”

<sup>23</sup>So a story spread among the followers that this one would not die. But Jesus did not say he would not die. He only said, “If I want him to live until I come back, that is not your business.”

<sup>24</sup>That follower is the one who is telling these things and who has now written them down. We know that what he says is true.

<sup>25</sup>There are many other things Jesus did. If every one of them were written down, I suppose the whole world would not be big enough for all the books that would be written.

The Book of Acts

Introduction

They aren't the same men.

Oh, I know they look like it. They have the same names. The same faces. The same mannerisms. They look the same. But they aren't. On the surface they appear no different. Peter is still brazen. Nathanael is still reflective. Philip is still calculating.

They look the same. But they aren't. They aren't the same men you read about in the last four books. The fellows you got to know in the Gospels? These are the ones, but they're different.

You'll see it. As you read you'll see it. In their eyes. You hear it in their voices. You feel it in their passion. These men have changed.

As you read you'll wonder—are these the same guys? The ones who doubted in Galilee? The ones who argued in Capernaum? The ones who ran for their lives in Gethsemane? You'll wonder, “Are these the same men?”

The answer is no. They are different. They have stood face-to-face with God. They have sat at the feet of the resurrected King. They are different.

Within them dwells a fire not found on earth. Christ has taught them. The Father has forgiven them. The Spirit indwells them. They are not the same.

And because they are different, so is the world.

Read their adventures and be encouraged. Read their adventures and be listening. What God did to them, he longs to do for you.

Life Lessons

Acts 1:1–2:47

Situation

The Book of Acts was written to give an accurate report of what happened to Jesus' followers and how the early church began and spread. It was written by Luke, the physician and historian, as a sequel to the Gospel that bears his name. Luke told how the gospel spread from Jerusalem to Samaria and finally to every part of the world.

Observation

God planned that the Holy Spirit would come to empower Believers. Jesus gave this plan to the apostles, his last promise before he ascended to heaven.

Inspiration

If the Christian life is simply a matter of doing our best, there was no need for God to send the Holy Spirit to help us. After all, our best is our best. How do we improve on that? Since God is omniscient, as we certainly believe He is, He knows when we have done all we can do. Why complicate matters?

Jesus let it be known, however, that God was looking for more than our best. He was looking for a lifestyle and attitude that superseded our best, a lifestyle and attitude that we could never attain through our own efforts...

Think about this. If we don't need any help, why send a Helper? The promise of a Helper presupposes that we need help. The promise of a Helper was Jesus' way of tipping us off to one of the most profound truths concerning the Christian life—it's impossible! The quality of life Jesus expects from His followers is unattainable apart from outside intervention.

Promises About the Spirit—John 14:16, 26, 15:26–27; 16:7–8, 13; Romans 8:11, 26; 2 Corinthians 1:21–22; 5:5; Ephesians 1:13–14; Hebrews 10:23.

To Theophilus.

The first book I wrote was about everything Jesus began to do and teach<sup>2</sup> until the day he was taken up into heaven. Before this, with the help of the Holy Spirit, Jesus told the apostles he had chosen what they should do.<sup>3</sup> After his death, he showed himself to them and proved in many ways that he was alive. The apostles saw Jesus during the forty days after he was raised from the dead, and he spoke to them about the kingdom of God.<sup>4</sup> Once when he was eating with them, he told them not to leave Jerusalem. He said, “Wait here to receive the promise from the Father which I told you about.<sup>5</sup> John baptized people with water, but in a few days you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit.”

Jesus Is Taken Up into Heaven

<sup>6</sup>When the apostles were all together, they asked Jesus, “Lord, are you now going to give the kingdom back to Israel?”

<sup>7</sup>Jesus said to them, “The Father is the only One who has the authority to decide dates and times. These things are not for you to know.<sup>8</sup> But when the Holy Spirit comes to you, you will receive power. You will be my witnesses—in Jerusalem, in all of Judea, in Samaria, and in every part of the world.”

<sup>9</sup>After he said this, as they were watching, he was lifted up, and a cloud hid him from their sight.<sup>10</sup> As he was going, they were looking into the sky. Suddenly, two men wearing white clothes stood beside them. <sup>11</sup>They said, “Men of Galilee, why are you standing here looking into the sky? Jesus, whom you saw taken up from you into heaven, will come back in the same way you saw him go.”

A New Apostle Is Chosen

<sup>12</sup>Then they went back to Jerusalem from the Mount of Olives. (This mountain is about half a mile from Jerusalem.) <sup>13</sup>When they entered the city, they went to the upstairs room where they were staying. Peter, John, James, Andrew, Philip, Thomas, Bartholomew, Matthew, James son of Alphaeus, Simon (known as the Zealot), and Judas son of James were there. <sup>14</sup>They all continued praying together with some women, including Mary the mother of Jesus, and Jesus’ brothers.

<sup>15</sup>During this time there was a meeting of the believers (about one hundred twenty of them). Peter stood up and said, <sup>16–17</sup>Brothers and sisters, in the Scriptures the Holy Spirit said through David something that must happen involving Judas. He was one of our own group and served together with us. He led those who arrested Jesus.” <sup>18</sup>(Judas bought a field with the money he got for his evil act. But he fell to his death, his body burst open, and all his intestines poured out.) <sup>19</sup>Everyone in Jerusalem learned about this so they named this place Akeldama. In their language Akeldama means “Field of Blood.” <sup>20</sup>“In the Book of Psalms,” Peter said, “this is written:

‘May his place be empty;
leave no one to live in it.’

And it is also written:

‘Let another man replace him as leader.’

<sup>21-22</sup>“So now a man must become a witness with us of Jesus’ being raised from the dead. He must be one of the men who were part of our group during all the time the Lord Jesus was among us—from the time John was baptizing people until the day Jesus was taken up from us to heaven.”

<sup>23</sup>They put the names of two men before the group. One was Joseph Barsabbas, who was also called Justus. The other was Matthias. <sup>24-25</sup>The apostles prayed, “Lord, you know the thoughts of everyone. Show us which one of these two you have chosen to do this work. Show us who should be an apostle in place of Judas, who turned away and went where he belongs.” <sup>26</sup>Then they used lots to choose between them, and the lots showed that Matthias was the one. So he became an apostle with the other eleven.

The Coming of the Holy Spirit

When the day of Pentecost came, they were all together in one place. <sup>2</sup>Suddenly a noise like a strong, blowing wind came from heaven and filled the whole house where they were sitting. <sup>3</sup>They saw something like flames of fire that were separated and stood over each person there. <sup>4</sup>They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and they began to speak different languages by the power the Holy Spirit was giving them.

<sup>5</sup>There were some religious Jews staying in Jerusalem who were from every country in the world. <sup>6</sup>When they heard this noise, a crowd came together. They were all surprised, because each one heard them speaking in his own language. <sup>7</sup>They were completely amazed at this. They said, “Look! Aren’t all these people that we hear speaking from Galilee?” <sup>8</sup>Then how is it possible that we each hear them in our own languages? We are from different places: <sup>9</sup>Parthia, Media, Elam, Mesopotamia, Judea, Cappadocia, Pontus, Asia, <sup>10</sup>Phrygia, Pamphylia, Egypt, the areas of Libya near Cyrene, Rome <sup>11</sup>(both Jews and those who had become Jews), Crete, and Arabia. But we hear them telling in our own languages about the great things God has done!” <sup>12</sup>They were all amazed and confused, asking each other, “What does this mean?”

Peter Speaks to the People

<sup>14</sup>But Peter stood up with the eleven apostles, and in a loud voice he spoke to the crowd: “My fellow Jews, and all of you who are in Jerusalem, listen to me. Pay attention to what I have to say. <sup>15</sup>These people are not drunk, as you think; it is only nine o’clock in the morning! <sup>16</sup>But Joel the prophet wrote about what is happening here today:

<sup>17</sup>‘God says: In the last days
I will pour out my Spirit on all kinds of people.
Your sons and daughters will prophesy.
Your young men will see visions,
and your old men will dream dreams.

<sup>18</sup>At that time I will pour out my Spirit also on my male slaves and female slaves, and they will prophesy.

<sup>19</sup>I will show miracles
in the sky and on the earth:
blood, fire, and thick smoke.

<sup>20</sup>The sun will become dark,
the moon red as blood,
before the overwhelming and glorious day of the Lord will come.

<sup>21</sup>Then anyone who calls on the Lord will be saved.’

Joel 2:28–32

<sup>22</sup>“People of Israel, listen to these words: Jesus from Nazareth was a very special man. God clearly showed this to you by the miracles, wonders, and signs he did through Jesus. You all know this, because it happened right here among you.

<sup>23</sup>Jesus was given to you, and with the help of those who don’t know the law, you put him to death by nailing him to a cross. But this was God's plan which he had made long ago; he knew all this would happen. <sup>24</sup>God raised Jesus from the dead and set him free from the pain of death, because death could not hold him. <sup>25</sup>For David said this about him:

'I keep the Lord before me always.
Because he is close by my side,
I will not be hurt.

<sup>26</sup>So I am glad, and I rejoice.

Even my body has hope,

<sup>27</sup>because you will not leave me in the grave.

You will not let your Holy One rot.

<sup>28</sup>You will teach me how to live a holy life.

Being with you will fill me with joy.'

Psalm 16:8-11

<sup>29c</sup>Brothers and sisters, I can tell you truly that David, our ancestor, died and was buried. His grave is still here with us today. <sup>30</sup>He was a prophet and knew God had promised him that he would make a person from David's family a king just as he was. <sup>31</sup>Knowing this before it happened, David talked about the Christ rising from the dead. He said:

'He was not left in the grave.
His body did not rot.'

<sup>32</sup>So Jesus is the One whom God raised from the dead. And we are all witnesses to this. <sup>33</sup>Jesus was lifted up to heaven and is now at God's right side. The Father has given the Holy Spirit to Jesus as he promised. So Jesus has poured out that Spirit, and this is what you now see and hear. <sup>34</sup>David was not the one who was lifted up to heaven, but he said:

‘The Lord said to my Lord,
“Sit by me at my right side,
<sup>35</sup>until I put your enemies under your control!” ’

Psalm 110:1

<sup>36</sup>“So, all the people of Israel should know this truly: God has made Jesus—the man you nailed to the cross—both Lord and Christ.”

<sup>37</sup>When the people heard this, they felt guilty and asked Peter and the other apostles, “What shall we do?”

<sup>38</sup>Peter said to them, “Change your hearts and lives and be baptized, each one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins. And you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. <sup>39</sup>This promise is for you, for your children, and for all who are far away. It is for everyone the Lord our God calls to himself.”

<sup>40</sup>Peter warned them with many other words. He begged them, “Save yourselves from the evil of today’s people!” <sup>41</sup>Then those people who accepted what Peter said were baptized. About three thousand people were added to the number of believers that day. <sup>42</sup>They spent their time learning the apostles’ teaching, sharing, breaking bread, and praying together.

Christ Through the Bible
Jesus: The Name That Saves

Let's go back to my sailing invitation. I know I said you probably wouldn't go, but let's pretend that you aren't as smart as you look, and you accept and board the boat.

You begin to worry when you notice that I lift the sail only a few inches on the mast. You think it even stranger that I position myself behind the partially raised sail and begin to blow.

"Why don't you raise the sail?" you ask.

"Because I can't blow on the whole thing," I pant.

"Let the wind blow it," you urge.

"Oh, I can't do that. I'm sailing this boat by myself."

Those are the words of a legalist, huffing and puffing to push his vessel to heaven. (Ever wonder why so many religious folk seem out of breath?)

With time we drift out to sea, and a powerful storm hits. Rain splatters on the deck, and the little vessel bounces on the waves. "I'm going to set the anchor!" I yell. You're relieved that I at least know where the anchor is, but then you are stunned at where I put it.

First, I take the anchor and set it up near the bow. "That should steady the boat!" I shout. But, of course, it doesn't. Next I carry the anchor to the stern. "Now we are secure!" But the bouncing continues. I hang the anchor on the mast, but it doesn't help. Finally, in fear and frustration, you take the anchor and throw it out to the deep and scream, "Don't you know you have to anchor to something other than yourself!"

A legalist doesn't know that. He anchors only to himself. His security comes from what he does; his lineage, his law, and his tattoo. When the storm blows the legalist casts his anchor on his own works. He will save himself. After all, isn't he in the right group? Doesn't he have the right law? And hasn't he passed through the right initiation? (Ever wonder why so many religious people have such stormy lives?)

Here is the point: Salvation is God's business.

... God is the One who saves his children. There is only one name under heaven that has the power to save, and that name is not yours. (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

The Believers Share

<sup>43</sup>The apostles were doing many miracles and signs, and everyone felt great respect for God. <sup>44</sup>All the believers were together and shared everything. <sup>45</sup>They would sell their land and the things they owned and then divide the money and give it to anyone who needed it. <sup>46</sup>The believers met together in the Temple every day. They ate together in their homes, happy to share their food with joyful hearts. <sup>47</sup>They praised God and were liked by all the people. Every day the Lord added those who were being saved to the group of believers.

Life Lessons

Acts 3:1–4:37

Situation

At the end of this chapter Luke described the beginning of the early church—a group that was marked by its generosity, its unity, and its care for each other.

Observation

God desires that his followers live in unity, generosity, and love with one another. This account stands in sharp contrast with the example of Ananias and Sapphira found in chapter 5.

Inspiration

Of all the lessons we can draw from [John 13:35], don't miss the most important: Unity matters to God. The Father does not want his kids to squabble. Disunity disturbs him. Why? Because “all people will know that you are my followers if you love each other” (John 13:35). Unity creates belief. How will the world believe that Jesus was sent by God? Not if we agree with each other. Not if we solve every controversy. Not if we are unanimous on each vote. Not if we never make a doctrinal error. But if we love one another.

Unity creates belief. Disunity fosters disbelief. Who wants to board a ship of bickering sailors? Life on the ocean may be rough, but at least the waves don't call us names.

Paul Billheimer may very well be right when he says:

“The continuous and widespread fragmentation of the Church has been the scandal of the ages. It has been Satan’s master strategy. The sin of disunity probably has caused more souls to be lost than all other sins combined.”

“All people will know that you are my followers if you love each other.” Stop and think about this verse for a minute. Could it be that unity is the key to reaching the world for Christ?

If unity is the key to evangelism, shouldn’t it have precedence in our prayers? Shouldn’t we, as Paul said, “make every effort to keep the unity of the Spirit through the bond of peace” (Ephesians 4:3, NIV)? If unity matters to God, then shouldn’t unity matter to us? If unity is a priority in heaven, then shouldn’t it be a priority on earth?

Nowhere, by the way, are we told to build unity. We are told simply to keep unity. From God’s perspective there is but “one flock and one shepherd” (John 10:16). Unity does not need to be created; it simply needs to be protected.

How do we do that? How do we make every effort to keep the unity? Does that mean we compromise our convictions? No. Does that mean we abandon the truths we cherish? No. But it does mean we look long and hard at the attitudes we carry.

(From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

Application

If unity is the way to reach the world for Christ, is there anything keeping you from pursuing that in your local church and with other believers? When attending church meetings or working on committees, ask God for a sense of oneness and unity.

Peter Heals a Crippled Man

One day Peter and John went to the Temple at three o'clock, the time set each day for the afternoon prayer service.<sup>2</sup> There, at the Temple gate called Beautiful Gate, was a man who had been crippled all his life. Every day he was carried to this gate to beg for money from the people going into the Temple.<sup>3</sup> The man saw Peter and John going into the Temple and asked them for money.<sup>4</sup> Peter and John looked straight at him and said, "Look at us!"<sup>5</sup> The man looked at them, thinking they were going to give him some money.<sup>6</sup> But Peter said, "I don't have any silver or gold, but I do have something else I can give you. By the power of Jesus Christ from Nazareth, stand up and walk!"<sup>7</sup> Then Peter took the man's right hand and lifted him up. Immediately the man's feet and ankles became strong.<sup>8</sup> He jumped up, stood on his feet, and began to walk. He went into the Temple with them, walking and jumping and praising God.<sup>9-10</sup> All the people recognized him as the crippled man who always sat by the Beautiful Gate begging for money. Now they saw this same man walking and praising God, and they were amazed. They wondered how this could happen.

Peter Speaks to the People

people were amazed and ran to them at Solomon's Porch. <sup>12</sup>When Peter saw this, he said to them, "People of Israel, why are you surprised? You are looking at us as if it were our own power or goodness that made this man walk. <sup>13</sup>The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the God of our ancestors, gave glory to Jesus, his servant. But you handed him over to be killed. Pilate decided to let him go free, but you told Pilate you did not want Jesus. <sup>14</sup>You did not want the One who is holy and good but asked Pilate to give you a murderer instead. <sup>15</sup>And so you killed the One who gives life, but God raised him from the dead. We are witnesses to this. <sup>16</sup>It was faith in Jesus that made this crippled man well. You can see this man, and you know him. He was made completely well because of trust in Jesus, and you all saw it happen!

<sup>17</sup>"Brothers and sisters, I know you did those things to Jesus because neither you nor your leaders understood what you were doing. <sup>18</sup>God said through the prophets that his Christ would suffer and die. And now God has made these things come true in this way. <sup>19</sup>So you must change your hearts and lives! Come back to God, and he will forgive your sins. Then the Lord will send the time of rest. <sup>20</sup>And he will send Jesus, the One he chose to be the Christ. <sup>21</sup>But Jesus must stay in heaven until the time comes when all things will be made right again. God told about this time long ago when he spoke through his holy prophets. <sup>22</sup>Moses said, 'The Lord your God will give you a prophet like me, who is one of your own people. You must listen to everything he tells you. <sup>23</sup>Anyone who does not listen to that prophet will die, cut off from God's people.' <sup>24</sup>Samuel, and all the other prophets who spoke for God after Samuel, told about this time now. <sup>25</sup>You are descendants of the prophets. You have received the agreement God made with your ancestors. He said to your father Abraham, 'Through your descendants all the nations on the earth will be blessed.'<sup>26</sup> God has raised up his servant Jesus and sent him to you first to bless you by turning each of you away from doing evil.”

Peter and John at the Council

While Peter and John were speaking to the people, priests, the captain of the soldiers that guarded the Temple, and Sadducees came up to them. <sup>2</sup>They were upset because the two apostles were teaching the people and were preaching that people will rise from the dead through the power of Jesus. <sup>3</sup>The older leaders grabbed Peter and John and put them in jail. Since it was already night, they kept them in jail until the next day. <sup>4</sup>But many of those who had heard Peter and John preach believed the things they said. There were now about five thousand in the group of believers.

<sup>8</sup>Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, said to them, "Rulers of the people and you older leaders, <sup>9</sup>are you questioning us about a good thing that was done to a crippled man? Are you asking us who made him well? <sup>10</sup>We want all of you and all the people to know that this man was made well by the power of Jesus Christ from Nazareth. You crucified him, but God raised him from the dead. This man was crippled, but he is now well and able to stand here before you because of the power of Jesus. <sup>11</sup>Jesus is 'the stone that you builders rejected, which has become the cornerstone.’

Psalm 118:22

<sup>12</sup>Jesus is the only One who can save people. His name is the only power in the world that has been given to save people. We must be saved through him.”

<sup>13</sup>The leaders saw that Peter and John were not afraid to speak, and they understood that these men had no special training or education. So they were amazed. Then they realized that Peter and John had been with Jesus. <sup>14</sup>Because they saw the healed man standing there beside the two apostles, they could say nothing against them. <sup>15</sup>After the leaders ordered them to leave the meeting, they began to talk to each other. <sup>16</sup>They said, “What shall we do with these men? Everyone in Jerusalem knows they have done a great miracle, and we cannot say it is not true. <sup>17</sup>But to keep it from spreading among the people, we must warn them not to talk to people anymore using that name.”

<sup>18</sup>So they called Peter and John in again and told them not to speak or to teach at all in the name of Jesus. <sup>19</sup>But Peter and John answered them, “You decide what God would want. Should we obey you or God? <sup>20</sup>We cannot keep quiet. We must speak about what we have seen and heard.” <sup>21</sup>The leaders warned the apostles again and let them go free. They could not find a way to punish them, because all the people were praising God for what had been done. <sup>22</sup>The man who received the miracle of healing was more than forty years old.

The Believers Pray

<sup>23</sup>After Peter and John left the meeting of leaders, they went to their own group and told them everything the leading priests and the older leaders had said to them. <sup>24</sup>When the believers heard this, they prayed to God together, “Lord, you are the One who made the sky, the earth, the sea, and everything in them. <sup>25</sup>By the Holy Spirit, through our father David your servant, you said:

‘Why are the nations so angry?
Why are the people making useless plans?
<sup>26</sup>The kings of the earth prepare to fight, and their leaders make plans together against the Lord and his Christ.’

Psalm 2:1-2

<sup>27</sup>These things really happened when Herod, Pontius Pilate, and some of the people all came together against Jesus here in Jerusalem. Jesus is your holy servant, the One you made to be the Christ. <sup>28</sup>These people made your plan happen because of your power and your will. <sup>29</sup>And now, Lord, listen to their threats. Lord, help us, your servants, to speak your word without fear. <sup>30</sup>Help us to be brave by showing us your power to heal. Give proofs and make miracles happen by the power of Jesus, your holy servant.”

<sup>31</sup>After they had prayed, the place where they were meeting was shaken. They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and they spoke God’s word without fear.

The Believers Share

<sup>32</sup>The group of believers were united in their hearts and spirit. All those in the group acted as though their private property belonged to everyone in the group. In fact, they shared everything. <sup>33</sup>With great power the apostles were telling people that the Lord Jesus was truly raised from the dead. And God blessed all the believers very much. <sup>34</sup>No one in the group needed anything. From time to time those who owned fields or houses sold them, brought the money, <sup>35</sup>and gave it to the apostles. Then the money was given to anyone who needed it.

<sup>36</sup>One of the believers was named Joseph, a Levite born in Cyprus. The apostles called him Barnabas (which means “one who encourages”). <sup>37</sup>Joseph owned a field, sold it, brought the money, and gave it to the apostles.

Life Lessons

Acts 5:1–42

Situation

When God empowered the apostles to perform miracles and amazing signs, the disciples caught the attention of jealous and skeptical religious leaders. Even some Pharisees came to believe in Jesus.

Observation

The story of the deceit of Ananias and Sapphira follows the account in Acts 4:32–35 where the believers shared their property and goods and gave to those in need.

Inspiration

Ananias and Sapphira represent just how much we humans do not trust the truth. They sold a piece of property and gave half the money to the church. They lied to Peter and the apostles, claiming that the land sold for the amount they gave. Their sin was not in holding back some of the money for themselves; it was in misrepresenting the truth. Their deceit resulted in their deaths. Luke writes: “The whole church and all the others who heard about these things were filled with fear” (Acts 5:11).

More than once I’ve heard people refer to this story with a nervous chuckle and say, “I’m glad God doesn’t still strike people dead for lying.” I’m not so sure he doesn’t. It seems to me that the wages of deceit is still death. Not death of the body, perhaps, but the death of:

- a marriage—Falsehoods are termites in the trunk of the family tree.
- a conscience—The tragedy of the second lie is that it is always easier to tell than the first.
- a career—Just ask the student who got booted out for cheating or the employee who got fired for embezzlement if the lie wasn't fatal.
- faith—The language of faith and the language of falsehood have two different vocabularies. Those fluent in the language of falsehood find terms like “confession” and “repentance” hard to pronounce.

We could also list the deaths of intimacy, trust, peace, credibility, and self-respect. But perhaps the most tragic death that occurs from deceit is our witness. The court won't listen to the testimony of a perjured witness. Neither will the world. Do we think our coworkers will believe our words about Christ when they can't even believe our words about how we handled our expense account? Even more significantly, do we think God will use us as a witness if we won't tell the truth?

Every high school football team has a player whose assignment is to carry the play from the coach to the huddle. What if the player doesn't tell the truth? What if the coach calls for a pass but the courier says the coach called for a run? One thing is certain: the coach won't call on that player very long. God says if we are faithful with the small things, he'll trust us with the greater things (Matthew 25:21). Can he trust you with the small things? (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Dishonesty can affect—and infect—every aspect of your life. In what areas of your life do you need to clear up deceitfulness? Ask the Holy Spirit to point out any deceitfulness in your life and pray for the courage to remove it from your life.

Christ Through the Bible

The Power of Christ

For three days Jesus' body decayed. It did not rest, mind you. It decayed. The cheeks sank and the skin paled. But after three days the process was reversed. There was a stirring, a stirring deep within the grave ... and the living Christ stepped forth.

And the moment he stepped forth, everything changed... . The resurrection is an exploding flare announcing to all sincere seekers that it is safe to believe. Safe to believe in ultimate justice. Safe to believe in eternal bodies. Safe to believe in heaven as our estate and the earth as its porch. Safe to believe in a time when questions won't keep us awake and pain won't keep us down. Safe to believe in open graves and endless days and genuine praise.

Because we can accept the resurrection story, it is safe to accept the rest of the story.

Because of the resurrection, everything changes.

Death changes. It used to be the end; now it is the beginning.

The cemetery changes. People once went there to say goodbye; now they go to say, "We'll be together again."

Even the coffin changes. The casket is no longer a box where we hide bodies, but rather a cocoon in which the body is kept until God sets it free to fly.

And someday, according to Christ, he will set us free. He will come back. “I will come back and take you to be with me” (John 14:3). And to prove that he was serious about his promise, the stone was rolled and his body was raised.

For he knows that someday this world will shake again. In the blink of an eye, as fast as the lightning flashes from the east to the west, he will come back. And everyone will see him—you will, I will. Bodies will push back the dirt and break the surface of the sea. The earth will tremble, the sky will roar, and those who do not know him will shudder. But in that hour you will not fear, because you know him. (From When Christ Comes by Max Lucado)

Ananias and Sapphira Die

But a man named Ananias and his wife Sapphira sold some land. <sup>2</sup>He kept back part of the money for himself; his wife knew about this and agreed to it. But he brought the rest of the money and gave it to the apostles. <sup>3</sup>Peter said, “Ananias, why did you let Satan rule your thoughts to lie to the Holy Spirit and to keep for yourself part of the money you received for the land? <sup>4</sup>Before you sold the land, it belonged to you. And even after you sold it, you could have used the money any way you wanted. Why did you think of doing this? You lied to God, not to us!” <sup>5-6</sup>When Ananias heard this, he fell down and died. Some young men came in, wrapped up his body, carried it out, and buried it. And everyone who heard about this was filled with fear.

<sup>7</sup>About three hours later his wife came in, but she did not know what had happened. <sup>8</sup>Peter said to her, “Tell me, was the money you got for your field this much?”

Sapphira answered, “Yes, that was the price.”

<sup>9</sup>Peter said to her, “Why did you and your husband agree to test the Spirit of the Lord? Look! The men who buried your husband are at the door, and they will carry you out.” <sup>10</sup>At that moment Sapphira fell down by his feet and died. When the young men came in and saw that she was dead, they carried her out and buried her beside her husband. <sup>11</sup>The whole church and all the others who heard about these things were filled with fear.

The Apostles Heal Many

<sup>12</sup>The apostles did many signs and miracles among the people. And they would all meet together on Solomon's Porch. <sup>13</sup>None of the others dared to join them, but all the people respected them. <sup>14</sup>More and more men and women believed in the Lord and were added to the group of believers. <sup>15</sup>The people placed their sick on beds and mats in the streets, hoping that when Peter passed by at least his shadow might fall on them. <sup>16</sup>Crowds came from all the towns around Jerusalem, bringing their sick and those who were bothered by evil spirits, and all of them were healed.

Leaders Try to Stop the Apostles

When the high priest and his friends arrived, they called a meeting of the leaders and all the important older men. They sent some men to the jail to bring the apostles to them. <sup>22</sup>But, upon arriving, the officers could not find the apostles. So they went back and reported to the leaders. <sup>23</sup>They said, “The jail was closed and locked, and the guards were standing at the doors. But when we opened the doors, the jail was empty!” <sup>24</sup>Hearing this, the captain of the Temple guards and the leading priests were confused and wondered what was happening.

<sup>25</sup>Then someone came and told them, “Listen! The men you put in jail are standing in the Temple teaching the people.” <sup>26</sup>Then the captain and his men went out and brought the apostles back. But the soldiers did not use force, because they were afraid the people would stone them to death.

<sup>27</sup>The soldiers brought the apostles to the meeting and made them stand before the leaders. The high priest questioned them, <sup>28</sup>saying, “We gave you strict orders not to continue teaching in that name. But look, you have filled Jerusalem with your teaching and are trying to make us responsible for this man’s death.”

<sup>29</sup>Peter and the other apostles answered, “We must obey God, not human authority! <sup>30</sup>You killed Jesus by hanging him on a cross. But God, the God of our ancestors, raised Jesus up from the dead! <sup>31</sup>Jesus is the One whom God raised to be on his right side, as Leader and Savior. Through him, all people could change their hearts and lives and have their sins forgiven. <sup>32</sup>We saw all these things happen. The Holy Spirit, whom God has given to all who obey him, also proves these things are true.”

<sup>33</sup>When the leaders heard this, they became angry and wanted to kill them. <sup>34</sup>But a Pharisee named Gamaliel stood up in the meeting. He was a teacher of the law, and all the people respected him. He ordered the apostles to leave the meeting for a little while. <sup>35</sup>Then he said, “People of Israel, be careful what you are planning to do to these men. <sup>36</sup>Remember when Theudas appeared? He said he was a great man, and about four hundred men joined him. But he was killed, and all his followers were scattered; they were able to do nothing. <sup>37</sup>Later, a man named Judas came from Galilee at the time of the registration. He also led a group of followers and was killed, and all his followers were scattered. <sup>38</sup>And so now I tell you: Stay away from these men, and leave them alone. If their plan comes from human authority, it will fail. <sup>39</sup>But if it is from God, you will not be able to stop them. You might even be fighting against God himself!”

The leaders agreed with what Gamaliel said. <sup>40</sup>They called the apostles in, beat them, and told them not to speak in the name of Jesus again. Then they let them go free. <sup>41</sup>The apostles left the meeting full of joy because they were given the honor of suffering disgrace for Jesus. <sup>42</sup>Every day in the Temple and in people’s homes they continued teaching the people and telling the Good News—that Jesus is the Christ.

Life Lessons

Acts 6:1–15

Situation

The twelve apostles established their priorities and recognized they needed additional help, so they recruited others to assist them.

Observation

With the recruiting of the seven men, the apostles were able to give their full attention to prayer and the teaching of the Word of God.

Inspiration

Some of us have tried to have a daily quiet time and have not been successful. Others of us have a hard time concentrating. And all of us are busy. So rather than spend time with God, listening for his voice, we'll let others spend time with him and then benefit from their experience. Let them tell us what God is saying. After all, isn't that why we pay preachers? Isn't that why we read Christian books? These folks are good at daily devotions. I'll just learn from them.

If that is your approach, if your spiritual experiences are secondhand and not firsthand, I'd like to challenge you with this thought: Do you do that with other parts of your life? I don't think so.

You don't do that with vacations. You don't say, "Vacations are such a hassle, packing bags and traveling. I'm going to send someone on vacation for me. When he returns, I'll hear all about it and be spared all the inconvenience.” Would you do that? No! You want the experience firsthand. You want the sights firsthand, and you want to rest firsthand. Certain things no one can do for you.

You don’t do that with romance. You don’t say, “I’m in love with that wonderful person, but romance is such a hassle. I’m going to hire a surrogate lover to enjoy the romance in my place. I’ll hear all about it and be spared the inconvenience.” Who would do that? Perish the thought. You want the romance firsthand. You don’t want to miss a word or a date, and you certainly don’t want to miss the kiss, right? Certain things no one can do for you.

You don’t let someone eat on your behalf, do you? You don’t say, “Chewing is such a bother. My jaws grow so tired, and the variety of tastes is so overwhelming. I’m going to hire someone to chew my food, and I’ll just swallow whatever he gives me.” Would you do that? Yuck! Of course not! Certain things no one can do for you.

And one of those is spending time with God.

Listening to God is a firsthand experience. When he asks for your attention, God doesn’t want you to send a substitute; he wants you. He invites you to vacation in his splendor. He invites you to feel the touch of his hand. He invites you to feast at his table. He wants to spend time with you. And with a little training, your time with God can be the highlight of your day. (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Application

Seven Leaders Are Chosen

The number of followers was growing. But during this same time, the Greek-speaking followers had an argument with the other followers. The Greek-speaking widows were not getting their share of the food that was given out every day. <sup>2</sup>The twelve apostles called the whole group of followers together and said, “It is not right for us to stop our work of teaching God’s word in order to serve tables. <sup>3</sup>So, brothers and sisters, choose seven of your own men who are good, full of the Spirit and full of wisdom. We will put them in charge of this work. <sup>4</sup>Then we can continue to pray and to teach the word of God.”

<sup>5</sup>The whole group liked the idea, so they chose these seven men: Stephen (a man with great faith and full of the Holy Spirit), Philip, Procorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolas (a man from Antioch who had become a follower of the Jewish religion). <sup>6</sup>Then they put these men before the apostles, who prayed and laid their hands on them.

<sup>7</sup>The word of God was continuing to spread. The group of followers in Jerusalem increased, and a great number of the Jewish priests believed and obeyed.

Stephen Is Accused

<sup>8</sup>Stephen was richly blessed by God who gave him the power to do great miracles and signs among the people.<sup>9</sup> But some people were against him. They belonged to the synagogue of Free Men (as it was called), which included people from Cyrene, Alexandria, Cilicia, and Asia. They all came and argued with Stephen.

<sup>10</sup>But the Spirit was helping him to speak with wisdom, and his words were so strong that they could not argue with him.

<sup>11</sup>So they secretly urged some men to say, “We heard Stephen speak against Moses and against God.”

<sup>12</sup>This upset the people, the older leaders, and the teachers of the law. They came and grabbed Stephen and brought him to a meeting of the leaders. <sup>13</sup>They brought in some people to tell lies about Stephen, saying, “This man is always speaking against this holy place and the law of Moses. <sup>14</sup>We heard him say that Jesus from Nazareth will destroy this place and that Jesus will change the customs Moses gave us.” <sup>15</sup>All the people in the meeting were watching Stephen closely and saw that his face looked like the face of an angel.

Life Lessons

Acts 7:1–8:1a

Situation

Stephen's speech summarized Jewish history. God had blessed the Hebrew nation magnificently, Stephen recalled, but once again their leaders had turned against God.

Observation

Stephen's speech repeatedly referred to human rebelliousness toward God. It shows how desperately we try to avoid God's truth—even to the extent of killing the messenger. At his death, Stephen looked to Christ.

Inspiration

The story of young Matthew Huffman came across my desk the week I was writing this chapter. He was the six-year-old son of missionaries in Salvador, Brazil. One morning he began to complain of fever. As his temperature went up, he began losing his eyesight. His mother and father put him in the car and raced him to the hospital.

As they were driving and he was lying on his mother's lap, he did something his parents will never forget. He extended his hand in the air. His mother took it and he pulled it away. He extended it again. She again took it and he, again, pulled it back and reached into the air. Confused, the mother asked her son, "What are you reaching for, Matthew?"

"I'm reaching for Jesus' hand," he answered. And with those words he closed his eyes and slid into a coma from which he never would awaken. He died two days later, a victim of bacterial meningitis.

Of all the things he didn't learn in his short life, he'd learned the most important: who to reach for in the hour of death. (From And the Angels Were Silent by Max Lucado)

Application

Have you developed the practice of constantly looking to Jesus? If you have, you will reach to him during your most difficult hour. If you haven't, ask him to accompany you in all your thoughts.

Stephen's Speech

The high priest said to Stephen, "Are these things true?"

<sup>2</sup>Stephen answered, "Brothers and fathers, listen to me. Our glorious God appeared to Abraham, our ancestor, in Mesopotamia before he lived in Haran. <sup>3</sup>God said to Abraham, 'Leave your country and your relatives, and go to the land I will show you.' <sup>4</sup>So Abraham left the country of Chaldea and went to live in Haran. After Abraham's father died, God sent him to this place where you now live. <sup>5</sup>God did not give Abraham any of this land, not even a foot of it. But God promised that he would give this land to him and his descendants, even before Abraham had a child. <sup>6</sup>This is what God said to him: 'Your descendants will be strangers in a land they don't own. The people there will make them slaves and will mistreat them for four hundred years. <sup>7</sup>But I will punish the nation where they are slaves. Then your descendants will leave that land and will worship me in this place.' <sup>8</sup>God made an agreement with Abraham, the sign of which was circumcision. And so when Abraham had his son Isaac, Abraham circumcised him when he was eight days old. Isaac also circumcised his son Jacob, and Jacob did the same for his sons, the twelve ancestors of our people.

<sup>9</sup>"Jacob's sons became jealous of Joseph and sold him to be a slave in Egypt. But God was with him<sup>10</sup>and saved him from all his troubles. The king of Egypt liked Joseph and respected him because of the wisdom God gave him. The king made him governor of Egypt and put him in charge of all the people in his palace.

<sup>11</sup>“Then all the land of Egypt and Canaan became so dry that nothing would grow, and the people suffered very much. Jacob’s sons, our ancestors, could not find anything to eat. <sup>12</sup>But when Jacob heard there was grain in Egypt, he sent his sons there. This was their first trip to Egypt. <sup>13</sup>When they went there a second time, Joseph told his brothers who he was, and the king learned about Joseph’s family. <sup>14</sup>Then Joseph sent messengers to invite Jacob, his father, to come to Egypt along with all his relatives (seventy-five persons altogether). <sup>15</sup>So Jacob went down to Egypt, where he and his sons died. <sup>16</sup>Later their bodies were moved to Shechem and put in a grave there. (It was the same grave Abraham had bought for a sum of money from the sons of Hamor in Shechem.) <sup>17</sup>“The promise God made to Abraham was soon to come true, and the number of people in Egypt grew large. <sup>18</sup>Then a new king, who did not know who Joseph was, began to rule Egypt. <sup>19</sup>This king tricked our people and was cruel to our ancestors, forcing them to leave their babies outside to die. <sup>20</sup>At this time Moses was born, and he was very beautiful. For three months Moses was cared for in his father’s house. <sup>21</sup>When they put Moses outside, the king’s daughter adopted him and raised him as if he were her own son. <sup>22</sup>The Egyptians taught Moses everything they knew, and he was a powerful man in what he said and did.

defended the Israelite and punished the Egyptian by killing him.<sup>25</sup> Moses thought his own people would understand that God was using him to save them, but they did not.<sup>26</sup> The next day when Moses saw two men of Israel fighting, he tried to make peace between them. He said, 'Men, you are brothers. Why are you hurting each other?'<sup>27</sup> The man who was hurting the other pushed Moses away and said, 'Who made you our ruler and judge?<sup>28</sup>Are you going to kill me as you killed the Egyptian yesterday?'<sup>29</sup> When Moses heard him say this, he left Egypt and went to live in the land of Midian where he was a stranger. While Moses lived in Midian, he had two sons.

<sup>30</sup>Forty years later an angel appeared to Moses in the flames of a burning bush as he was in the desert near Mount Sinai.<sup>31</sup> When Moses saw this, he was amazed and went near to look closer. Moses heard the Lord's voice say, <sup>32</sup>'I am the God of your ancestors, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.' Moses began to shake with fear and was afraid to look.<sup>33</sup> The Lord said to him, 'Take off your sandals, because you are standing on holy ground.'<sup>34</sup>I have seen the troubles my people have suffered in Egypt. I have heard their cries and have come down to save them. And now, Moses, I am sending you back to Egypt.'

<sup>35</sup>This Moses was the same man the two men of Israel rejected, saying, 'Who made you a ruler and judge?' Moses is the same man God sent to be a ruler and savior, with the help of the angel that Moses saw in the burning bush.<sup>36</sup> So Moses led the people out of Egypt. He worked miracles and signs in Egypt, at the Red Sea, and then in the desert for forty years.<sup>37</sup> This is the same Moses that said to the people of Israel, 'God will give you a prophet like me, who is one of your own people.'<sup>38</sup>This is the Moses who was with the gathering of the Israelites in the desert. He was with the angel that spoke to him at Mount Sinai, and he was with our ancestors. He received commands from God that give life, and he gave those commands to us.

<sup>39</sup>“But our ancestors did not want to obey Moses. They rejected him and wanted to go back to Egypt. <sup>40</sup>They said to Aaron, ‘Make us gods who will lead us. Moses led us out of Egypt, but we don’t know what has happened to him.’<sup>41</sup> So the people made an idol that looked like a calf. Then they brought sacrifices to it and were proud of what they had made with their own hands. <sup>42</sup>But God turned against them and did not try to stop them from worshiping the sun, moon, and stars. This is what is written in the book of the prophets: God says,

‘People of Israel, you did not bring me sacrifices and offerings while you traveled in the desert for forty years.

<sup>43</sup>You have carried with you the tent to worship Molech and the idols of the star god Rephan that you made to worship.

So I will send you away beyond Babylon.’

Amos 5:25–27

<sup>44</sup>“The Holy Tent where God spoke to our ancestors was with them in the desert. God told Moses how to make this Tent, and he made it like the plan God showed him. <sup>45</sup>Later, Joshua led our ancestors to capture the lands of the other nations. Our people went in, and God forced the other people out. When our people went into this new land, they took with them this same Tent they had received from their ancestors. They kept it until the time of David, <sup>46</sup>who pleased God and asked God to let him build a house for him, the God of Jacob. <sup>47</sup>But Solomon was the one who built the Temple.

<sup>48</sup>“But the Most High does not live in houses that people build with their hands. As the prophet says:

<sup>49</sup>“Heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool.

So do you think you can build a house for me? says
the Lord.

Do I need a place to rest?

<sup>50</sup>“Remember, my hand made all these things!””

Isaiah 66:1–2

<sup>51</sup>Stephen continued speaking: “You stubborn people! You have not given your hearts to God, nor will you listen to him! You are always against what the Holy Spirit is trying to tell you, just as your ancestors were. <sup>52</sup>Your ancestors tried to hurt every prophet who ever lived. Those prophets said long ago that the One who is good would come, but your ancestors killed them. And now you have turned against and killed the One who is good. <sup>53</sup>You received the law of Moses, which God gave you through his angels, but you haven’t obeyed it.”

Stephen Is Killed

<sup>54</sup>When the leaders heard this, they became furious. They were so mad they were grinding their teeth at Stephen. <sup>55</sup>But

Stephen was full of the Holy Spirit. He looked up to heaven and saw the glory of God and Jesus standing at God's right side. <sup>56</sup>He said, "Look! I see heaven open and the Son of Man standing at God's right side."

<sup>57</sup>Then they shouted loudly and covered their ears and all ran at Stephen. <sup>58</sup>They took him out of the city and began to throw stones at him to kill him. And those who told lies against Stephen left their coats with a young man named Saul. <sup>59</sup>While they were throwing stones, Stephen prayed, "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." <sup>60</sup>He fell on his knees and cried in a loud voice, "Lord, do not hold this sin against them." After Stephen said this, he died.

Saul agreed that the killing of Stephen was good.

Acts 8:1b-40

Situation

Persecution against the church after Stephen's death forced Believers to go beyond Jerusalem to share the gospel. Philip was the first example of such missionary activity.

Observation

The gospel is for everyone regardless of ethnic group. Therefore, Believers should be ready to witness to anyone who may be seeking.

You've heard the voice whispering your name, haven't you? You've felt the nudge to go and sensed the urge to speak. Hasn't it occurred to you?

You invite a couple over for coffee. Nothing heroic, just a nice evening with old friends. But from the moment you enter, you can feel the tension. Colder than glaciers, they are. You can tell something is wrong. Typically you're not one to inquire, but you feel a concern that won't be silent. So you ask.

You are in a business meeting where one of your coworkers gets raked over the coals. Everyone else is thinking, I'm glad that wasn't me. But the Holy Spirit is leading you to think, How hard this must be. So, after the meeting you approach the employee and express your concern.

You notice the fellow on the other side of the church auditorium. He looks a bit out of place, what with his strange clothing and all. You learn that he is from Africa, in town on business. The next Sunday he is back. And the third Sunday he is present. You introduce yourself. He tells you how he is fascinated by the faith and how he wants to learn more. Rather than offer to teach him, you simply urge him to read the Bible.

Later in the week, you regret not being more direct. You call the office where he is consulting and learn that he is leaving today for home. You know in your heart you can't let him leave. So you rush to the airport and find him awaiting his flight, with a Bible open on his lap.

"Do you understand what you are reading?" you inquire.

"How can I, unless someone explains it to me?"

And so you, like Philip, explain. And he, like the Ethiopian, believes. Baptism is requested and baptism is offered. He catches a later flight and you catch a glimpse of what it means to be led by the Spirit.

Were there lights? You just lit one. Were there voices? You just were one. Was there a miracle? You just witnessed one. Who knows? If the Bible were being written today, that might be your name in the eighth chapter of Acts.

Troubles for the Believers

On that day the church of Jerusalem began to be persecuted, and all the believers, except the apostles, were scattered throughout Judea and Samaria.

<sup>2</sup>And some religious people buried Stephen and cried loudly for him. <sup>3</sup>Saul was also trying to destroy the church, going from house to house, dragging out men and women and putting them in jail. <sup>4</sup>And wherever they were scattered, they told people the Good News.

Philip Preaches in Samaria

<sup>5</sup>Philip went to the city of Samaria and preached about the Christ. <sup>6</sup>When the people there heard Philip and saw the miracles he was doing, they all listened carefully to what he said. <sup>7</sup>Many of these people had evil spirits in them, but Philip made the evil spirits leave. The spirits made a loud noise when they came out. Philip also healed many weak and crippled people there. <sup>8</sup>So the people in that city were very happy.

<sup>9</sup>But there was a man named Simon in that city. Before Philip came there, Simon had practiced magic and amazed all the people of Samaria. He bragged and called himself a great man. <sup>10</sup>All the people—the least important and the most important—paid attention to Simon, saying, “This man has the power of God, called ‘the Great Power!’” <sup>11</sup>Simon had amazed them with his magic so long that the people became his followers.<sup>12</sup> But when Philip told them the Good News about the kingdom of God and the power of Jesus Christ, men and women believed Philip and were baptized.<sup>13</sup> Simon himself believed, and after he was baptized, he stayed very close to Philip. When he saw the miracles and the powerful things Philip did, Simon was amazed.

<sup>14</sup>When the apostles who were still in Jerusalem heard that the people of Samaria had accepted the word of God, they sent Peter and John to them.<sup>15</sup> When Peter and John arrived, they prayed that the Samaritan believers might receive the Holy Spirit.<sup>16</sup> These people had been baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus, but the Holy Spirit had not yet come upon any of them.<sup>17</sup> Then, when the two apostles began laying their hands on the people, they received the Holy Spirit.

<sup>18</sup>Simon saw that the Spirit was given to people when the apostles laid their hands on them. So he offered the apostles money,<sup>19</sup> saying, “Give me also this power so that anyone on whom I lay my hands will receive the Holy Spirit.”

<sup>20</sup>Peter said to him, “You and your money should both be destroyed, because you thought you could buy God’s gift with money.<sup>21</sup> You cannot share with us in this work since your heart is not right before God.<sup>22</sup> Change your heart! Turn away from this evil thing you have done, and pray to the Lord. Maybe he will forgive you for thinking this.<sup>23</sup> I see that you are full of bitter jealousy and ruled by sin.”

<sup>24</sup>Simon answered, “Both of you pray for me to the Lord so the things you have said will not happen to me.”

<sup>25</sup>After Peter and John told the people what they had seen Jesus do and after they had spoken the message of the Lord, they went back to Jerusalem. On the way, they went through many Samaritan towns and preached the Good News to the people.

Philip Teaches an Ethiopian

<sup>30</sup>So when Philip ran toward the chariot, he heard the man reading from Isaiah the prophet. Philip asked, “Do you understand what you are reading?”

<sup>31</sup>He answered, “How can I understand unless someone explains it to me?” Then he invited Philip to climb in and sit with him. <sup>32</sup>The portion of Scripture he was reading was this:

“He was like a sheep being led to be killed.

He was quiet, as a lamb is quiet while its wool is being cut;

he never opened his mouth.

<sup>33</sup>He was shamed and was treated unfairly.

He died without children to continue his family.

His life on earth has ended.”

Isaiah 53:7-8

<sup>34</sup>The officer said to Philip, “Please tell me, who is the prophet talking about—himself or someone else?” <sup>35</sup>Philip began to speak, and starting with this same Scripture, he told the man the Good News about Jesus.

<sup>36</sup>While they were traveling down the road, they came to some water. The officer said, “Look, here is water. What is stopping me from being baptized?” <sup>37</sup>n <sup>38</sup>Then the officer commanded the chariot to stop. Both Philip and the officer went down into the water, and Philip baptized him. <sup>39</sup>When they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord took Philip away; the officer never saw him again. And the officer continued on his way home, full of joy. <sup>40</sup>But Philip appeared in a city called Azotus and preached the Good News in all the towns on the way from Azotus to Caesarea.

Life Lessons

Acts 9:1–43

Situation

Saul (later known as Paul) continued his aggressive persecution of the church. Many Believers had fled Jerusalem to seek refuge in other cities. Saul went as far as Damascus, Syria (150 miles from Jerusalem), to track down Christians. It was on this trip that God saved him. After Saul's conversion, the church enjoyed a time of peace during which Peter ministered in Lydda and Joppa.

Observation

Even such an unlikely prospect as Saul, who was a fanatical enemy of the church, can be saved by God's power.

Inspiration

Before he encountered Christ, Paul had been somewhat of a hero among the Pharisees...

Blueblooded and wild-eyed, this young zealot was hellbent on keeping the kingdom pure—and that meant keeping the Christians out. He marched through the countryside like a general demanding that backslidden Jews salute the flag of the motherland or kiss their family and hopes goodbye.

All this came to a halt, however, on the shoulder of a highway... . That's when someone slammed on the stadium lights, and he heard the voice.

When he found out whose voice it was, his jaw hit the ground, and his body followed. He braced himself for the worst. He knew it was all over... He prayed that death would be quick and painless.

But all he got was silence and the first of a lifetime of surprises.

He ended up bewildered and befuddled in a borrowed bedroom. God left him there a few days with scales on his eyes so thick that the only direction he could look was inside himself. And he didn't like what he saw.

He saw himself for what he really was—to use his own words, the worst of sinners.

... Alone in the room with his sins on his conscience and blood on his hands, he asked to be cleansed.

... The legalist Saul was buried, and the liberator Paul was born. He was never the same afterwards. And neither was the world....

The message is gripping: Show a man his failures without Jesus, and the result will be found in the roadside gutter. Give a man religion without reminding him of his filth, and the result will be arrogance in a three-piece suit. But get the two in the same heart—get sin to meet Savior and Savior to meet sin—and the result just might be another Pharisee turned preacher who sets the world on fire. ## Saul Is Converted

In Jerusalem Saul was still threatening the followers of the Lord by saying he would kill them. So he went to the high priest<sup>2</sup> and asked him to write letters to the synagogues in the city of Damascus. Then if Saul found any followers of Christ's Way, men or women, he would arrest them and bring them back to Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup>So Saul headed toward Damascus. As he came near the city, a bright light from heaven suddenly flashed around him. <sup>4</sup>Saul fell to the ground and heard a voice saying to him, "Saul, Saul! Why are you persecuting me?"

<sup>5</sup>Saul said, "Who are you, Lord?"

The voice answered, "I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting. <sup>6</sup>Get up now and go into the city. Someone there will tell you what you must do."

<sup>7</sup>The people traveling with Saul stood there but said nothing. They heard the voice, but they saw no one. <sup>8</sup>Saul got up from the ground and opened his eyes, but he could not see. So those with Saul took his hand and led him into Damascus. <sup>9</sup>For three days Saul could not see and did not eat or drink.

<sup>10</sup>There was a follower of Jesus in Damascus named Ananias. The Lord spoke to Ananias in a vision, "Ananias!" Ananias answered, "Here I am, Lord."

<sup>11</sup>The Lord said to him, "Get up and go to Straight Street. Find the house of Judas, and ask for a man named Saul from the city of Tarsus. He is there now, praying. <sup>12</sup>Saul has seen a vision in which a man named Ananias comes to him and lays his hands on him. Then he is able to see again.”

<sup>13</sup>But Ananias answered, “Lord, many people have told me about this man and the terrible things he did to your holy people in Jerusalem. <sup>14</sup>Now he has come here to Damascus, and the leading priests have given him the power to arrest everyone who worships you.”

<sup>15</sup>But the Lord said to Ananias, “Go! I have chosen Saul for an important work. He must tell about me to those who are not Jews, to kings, and to the people of Israel. <sup>16</sup>I will show him how much he must suffer for my name.”

<sup>17</sup>So Ananias went to the house of Judas. He laid his hands on Saul and said, “Brother Saul, the Lord Jesus sent me. He is the one you saw on the road on your way here. He sent me so that you can see again and be filled with the Holy Spirit.”

<sup>18</sup>Immediately, something that looked like fish scales fell from Saul’s eyes, and he was able to see again! Then Saul got up and was baptized. <sup>19</sup>After he ate some food, his strength returned.

Saul Preaches in Damascus

Saul stayed with the followers of Jesus in Damascus for a few days. <sup>20</sup>Soon he began to preach about Jesus in the synagogues, saying, “Jesus is the Son of God.”

<sup>21</sup>All the people who heard him were amazed. They said, “This is the man who was in Jerusalem trying to destroy those who trust in this name! He came here to arrest the followers of Jesus and take them back to the leading priests.”

<sup>22</sup>But Saul grew more powerful. His proofs that Jesus is the Christ were so strong that his own people in Damascus could not argue with him.

<sup>23</sup>After many days, they made plans to kill Saul. <sup>24</sup>They were watching the city gates day and night, but Saul learned about their plan. <sup>25</sup>One night some followers of Saul helped him leave the city by lowering him in a basket through an opening in the city wall.

Saul Preaches in Jerusalem

<sup>26</sup>When Saul went to Jerusalem, he tried to join the group of followers, but they were all afraid of him. They did not believe he was really a follower. <sup>27</sup>But Barnabas accepted Saul and took him to the apostles. Barnabas explained to them that Saul had seen the Lord on the road and the Lord had spoken to Saul. Then he told them how boldly Saul had preached in the name of Jesus in Damascus.

<sup>28</sup>And so Saul stayed with the followers, going everywhere in Jerusalem, preaching boldly in the name of the Lord. <sup>29</sup>He would often talk and argue with the Jewish people who spoke Greek, but they were trying to kill him. <sup>30</sup>When the followers learned about this, they took Saul to Caesarea and from there sent him to Tarsus.

<sup>31</sup>The church everywhere in Judea, Galilee, and Samaria had a time of peace and became stronger. Respecting the Lord by the way they lived, and being encouraged by the Holy Spirit, the group of believers continued to grow.

Peter Heals Aeneas

<sup>32</sup>As Peter was traveling through all the area, he visited God's people who lived in Lydda. <sup>33</sup>There he met a man named Aeneas, who was paralyzed and had not been able to leave his bed for the past eight years. <sup>34</sup>Peter said to him, "Aeneas, Jesus Christ heals you. Stand up and make your bed." Aeneas stood up immediately. <sup>35</sup>All the people living in Lydda and on the Plain of Sharon saw him and turned to the Lord.

Peter Heals Tabitha

<sup>36</sup>In the city of Joppa there was a follower named Tabitha (whose Greek name was Dorcas). She was always doing good deeds and kind acts. <sup>37</sup>While Peter was in Lydda, Tabitha became sick and died. Her body was washed and put in a room upstairs. <sup>38</sup>Since Lydda is near Joppa and the followers in Joppa heard that Peter was in Lydda, they sent two messengers to Peter. They begged him, "Hurry, please come to us!" <sup>39</sup>So Peter got ready and went with them. When he arrived, they took him to the upstairs room where all the widows stood around Peter, crying. They showed him the shirts and coats Tabitha had made when she was still alive. <sup>40</sup>Peter sent everyone out of the room and knelt and prayed. Then he turned to the body and said, "Tabitha, stand up." She opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, she sat up. <sup>41</sup>He gave her his hand and helped her up. Then he called the saints and the widows into the room and showed them that Tabitha was alive. <sup>42</sup>People everywhere in Joppa learned about this, and many believed in the Lord. <sup>43</sup>Peter stayed in Joppa for many days with a man named Simon who was a tanner.

Acts 10:1–11:30

Situation

Peter explained to Jewish believers what happened to Cornelius. They needed clarification because they mistakenly thought that salvation was only for Jews.

Observation

Peter convinced the Jewish church leaders of the rightness of reaching out to the Gentiles, and many Gentiles were subsequently added to the church, notably at Antioch.

Inspiration

The Father sighs because he has a dream. “I have other sheep that are not in this flock, and I must bring them also. They will listen to my voice, and there will be one flock and one shepherd” (John 10:16).

God has only one flock. Somehow we missed that. Religious division is not his idea. Franchises and sectarianism are not in God’s plan. God has one flock. The flock has one shepherd. And though we may think there are many, we are wrong. There is only one.

Never in the Bible are we told to create unity. We are simply told to maintain the unity that exists. Paul exhorts us to preserve “the unity which the Spirit gives” (Ephesians 4:3, NEB). Our task is not to invent unity, but to acknowledge it.

I have two sisters and a brother. We are siblings because we came from the same family. We have the same father and mother. I'm sure there have been times when they didn't want to call me their brother, but they don't have that choice.

Nor do we. When I see someone calling God "Father" and Jesus "Savior," I meet a brother or a sister—regardless of the name of their church or denomination.

By the way, the church names we banter about? They do not exist in heaven. The Book of Life does not list your denomination next to your name. Why? Because it is not the denomination that saves you. And I wonder, if there are no denominations in heaven, why do we have denominations on earth?

What would happen (I know this is a crazy thought), but what would happen if all the churches agreed, on a given day, to change their names to simply "church"? What if any reference to any denomination were removed and we were all just Christians? And then when people chose which church to attend, they wouldn't do so by the sign outside ... they'd do so by the hearts of the people inside. And then when people were asked what church they attended, their answer wouldn't be a label but just a location.

And then we Christians wouldn't be known for what divides us; instead we'd be known for what unites us—our common Father.

Crazy idea? Perhaps.

But I think God would like it. It was his to begin with.

Peter Teaches Cornelius

At Caesarea there was a man named Cornelius, an officer in the Italian group of the Roman army. <sup>2</sup>Cornelius was a religious man. He and all the other people who lived in his house worshiped the true God. He gave much of his money to the poor and prayed to God often. <sup>3</sup>One afternoon about three o'clock, Cornelius clearly saw a vision. An angel of God came to him and said, "Cornelius!"

<sup>4</sup>Cornelius stared at the angel. He became afraid and said, "What do you want, Lord?"

The angel said, "God has heard your prayers. He has seen that you give to the poor, and he remembers you. <sup>5</sup>Send some men now to Joppa to bring back a man named Simon who is also called Peter. <sup>6</sup>He is staying with a man, also named Simon, who is a tanner and has a house beside the sea." <sup>7</sup>When the angel who spoke to Cornelius left, Cornelius called two of his servants and a soldier, a religious man who worked for him. <sup>8</sup>Cornelius explained everything to them and sent them to Joppa.

<sup>9</sup>About noon the next day as they came near Joppa, Peter was going up to the roof to pray. <sup>10</sup>He was hungry and wanted to eat, but while the food was being prepared, he had a vision.

<sup>11</sup>He saw heaven opened and something coming down that looked like a big sheet being lowered to earth by its four corners. <sup>12</sup>In it were all kinds of animals, reptiles, and birds.

<sup>14</sup>But Peter said, “No, Lord! I have never eaten food that is unholy or unclean.”

<sup>15</sup>But the voice said to him again, “God has made these things clean so don’t call them ‘unholy!’” <sup>16</sup>This happened three times, and at once the sheet was taken back to heaven.

<sup>19</sup>While Peter was still thinking about the vision, the Spirit said to him, “Listen, three men are looking for you. <sup>20</sup>Get up and go downstairs. Go with them without doubting, because I have sent them to you.”

<sup>21</sup>So Peter went down to the men and said, “I am the one you are looking for. Why did you come here?”

<sup>22</sup>They said, “A holy angel spoke to Cornelius, an army officer and a good man; he worships God. All the people respect him. The angel told Cornelius to ask you to come to his house so that he can hear what you have to say.” <sup>23</sup>So Peter asked the men to come in and spend the night.

The next day Peter got ready and went with them, and some of the followers from Joppa joined him. <sup>24</sup>On the following day they came to Caesarea. Cornelius was waiting for them and had called together his relatives and close friends. <sup>25</sup>When Peter entered, Cornelius met him, fell at his feet, and worshiped him. <sup>26</sup>But Peter helped him up, saying, “Stand up. I too am only a human.”<sup>27</sup> As he talked with Cornelius, Peter went inside where he saw many people gathered.<sup>28</sup> He said, “You people understand that it is against our law for Jewish people to associate with or visit anyone who is not Jewish. But God has shown me that I should not call any person ‘unholy’ or ‘unclean.’<sup>29</sup> That is why I did not argue when I was asked to come here. Now, please tell me why you sent for me.”

<sup>30</sup>Cornelius said, “Four days ago, I was praying in my house at this same time—three o’clock in the afternoon. Suddenly, there was a man standing before me wearing shining clothes.<sup>31</sup> He said, ‘Cornelius, God has heard your prayer and has seen that you give to the poor and remembers you.’<sup>32</sup> So send some men to Joppa and ask Simon Peter to come. Peter is staying in the house of a man, also named Simon, who is a tanner and has a house beside the sea.’<sup>33</sup> So I sent for you immediately, and it was very good of you to come. Now we are all here before God to hear everything the Lord has commanded you to tell us.”

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The Judge of the Living and the Dead

“If you think you can judge others, you are wrong. When you judge them, you are really judging yourself guilty, because you do the same things they do” (Romans 2:1).

Who is this person? It could be anyone (“O man, whoever you are”) who filters God’s grace through his own opinion. Anyone who dilutes God’s mercy with his own prejudice. He is the prodigal son’s elder brother who wouldn't attend the party (see Luke 15:11–32). He is the ten-hour worker, upset because the one-hour worker got the same wage (see Matthew 20:1–16). He is the fault-finding brother obsessed by his brother's sins and oblivious to his own.

If you “think you can judge others” (Romans 2:1), Paul has a stern reminder for you. It's not your job to hold the gavel. “God judges those who do wrong things, and we know that his judging is right” (Romans 2:2).

The key word here is “judges.” It's one thing to have an opinion. It's quite another to pass a verdict. It's one thing to have a conviction; it's another to convict the person. It's one thing to be repulsed at the acts of a Jeffrey Dahmer (and I am). It's another entirely to claim that I am superior (I'm not) or that he is beyond the grace of God (no one is).

As John Stott writes: “This [verse] is not a call either to suspend our critical faculties or to renounce all criticism and rebuke of others as illegitimate: it is rather a prohibition of standing in judgment on other people and condemning them (which as human beings we have no right to do), especially when we fail to condemn ourselves.”

It's our job to hate the sin. But it's God's job to deal with the sinner. God has called us to despise evil, but he's never called us to despise the evildoer.

But, oh, how we would like to. Is there any act more delightful than judging others? There is something smug and self-satisfying about donning the robe, stepping behind the bench, and slamming down the gavel. “Guilty!”

Besides, judging others is the quick and easy way to feel good about ourselves. A convenience-store ego-boost. Standing next to all the Mussolinis and Hitlers and Dahmers of the world, we boast, “Look, God, compared to them, I’m not too bad.”

But that’s the problem. God doesn’t compare us to them. They aren’t the standard. God is. And compared to him, Paul will argue, “There is no one who does anything good” (Romans 3:12). (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

For more on “Christ Through the Bible.”

<sup>34</sup>Peter began to speak: “I really understand now that to God every person is the same. <sup>35</sup>In every country God accepts anyone who worships him and does what is right. <sup>36</sup>You know the message that God has sent to the people of Israel is the Good News that peace has come through Jesus Christ. Jesus is the Lord of all people! <sup>37</sup>You know what has happened all over Judea, beginning in Galilee after John preached to the people about baptism. <sup>38</sup>You know about Jesus from Nazareth, that God gave him the Holy Spirit and power. You know how Jesus went everywhere doing good and healing those who were ruled by the devil, because God was with him. <sup>39</sup>We saw what Jesus did in Judea and in Jerusalem, but the Jews in Jerusalem killed him by hanging him on a cross. <sup>40</sup>Yet, on the third day, God raised Jesus to life and caused him to be seen, <sup>41</sup>not by all the people, but only by the witnesses God had already chosen. And we are those witnesses who ate and drank with him after he was raised from the dead. <sup>42</sup>He told us to preach to the people and to tell them that he is the one whom God chose to be the judge of the living and the dead. <sup>43</sup>All the prophets say it is true that all who believe in Jesus will be forgiven of their sins through Jesus’ name.”

<sup>44</sup>While Peter was still saying this, the Holy Spirit came down on all those who were listening. <sup>45</sup>The Jewish believers who came with Peter were amazed that the gift of the Holy Spirit had been given even to the nations. <sup>46</sup>These believers heard them speaking in different languages and praising God. Then Peter said, <sup>47</sup>“Can anyone keep these people from being baptized with water? They have received the Holy Spirit just as we did!”<sup>48</sup> So Peter ordered that they be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. Then they asked Peter to stay with them for a few days.

Peter Returns to Jerusalem

The apostles and the believers in Judea heard that some who were not Jewish had accepted God's teaching too. <sup>2</sup>But when Peter came to Jerusalem, some people argued with him. <sup>3</sup>They said, "You went into the homes of people who are not circumcised and ate with them!"

<sup>4</sup>So Peter explained the whole story to them. <sup>5</sup>He said, "I was in the city of Joppa, and while I was praying, I had a vision. I saw something that looked like a big sheet being lowered from heaven by its four corners. It came very close to me. <sup>6</sup>I looked inside it and saw animals, wild beasts, reptiles, and birds. <sup>7</sup>I heard a voice say to me, 'Get up, Peter. Kill and eat.' <sup>8</sup>But I said, 'No, Lord! I have never eaten anything that is unholy or unclean.' <sup>9</sup>But the voice from heaven spoke again, 'God has made these things clean, so don't call them unholy.' <sup>10</sup>This happened three times. Then the whole thing was taken back to heaven. <sup>11</sup>Right then three men who were sent to me from Caesarea came to the house where I was staying. <sup>12</sup>The Spirit told me to go with them without doubting. These six believers here also went with me, and we entered the house of Cornelius. <sup>13</sup>He told us about the angel he saw standing in his house. The angel said to him, 'Send some men to Joppa and invite Simon Peter to come. <sup>14</sup>By the words he will say to you, you and all your family will be saved.' <sup>15</sup>When I began my speech, the Holy Spirit came on them just as he came on us at the beginning. <sup>16</sup>Then I remembered the words of the Lord. He said, 'John baptized with water, but you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit.’ <sup>17</sup>Since God gave them the same gift he gave us who believed in the Lord Jesus Christ, how could I stop the work of God?”

<sup>18</sup>When the believers heard this, they stopped arguing. They praised God and said, “So God is allowing even other nations to turn to him and live.”

The Good News Comes to Antioch

<sup>19</sup>Many of the believers were scattered when they were persecuted after Stephen was killed. Some of them went as far as Phoenicia, Cyprus, and Antioch telling the message to others, but only to Jews. <sup>20</sup>Some of these believers were people from Cyprus and Cyrene. When they came to Antioch, they spoke also to Greeks, telling them the Good News about the Lord Jesus. <sup>21</sup>The Lord was helping the believers, and a large group of people believed and turned to the Lord.

<sup>22</sup>The church in Jerusalem heard about all of this, so they sent Barnabas to Antioch. <sup>23-24</sup>Barnabas was a good man, full of the Holy Spirit and full of faith. When he reached Antioch and saw how God had blessed the people, he was glad. He encouraged all the believers in Antioch always to obey the Lord with all their hearts, and many people became followers of the Lord.

<sup>25</sup>Then Barnabas went to the city of Tarsus to look for Saul, <sup>26</sup>and when he found Saul, he brought him to Antioch. For a whole year Saul and Barnabas met with the church and taught many people there. In Antioch the followers were called Christians for the first time.

Antioch. <sup>28</sup>One of them, named Agabus, stood up and spoke with the help of the Holy Spirit. He said, “A very hard time is coming to the whole world. There will be no food to eat.” (This happened when Claudius ruled.) <sup>29</sup>The believers all decided to help the followers who lived in Judea, as much as each one could. <sup>30</sup>They gathered the money and gave it to Barnabas and Saul, who brought it to the elders in Judea.

Acts 12:1–25

Situation

The Romans appointed Herod Agrippa I, grandson of Herod the Great, to rule much of Palestine during this time. He persecuted Christians, killed James, and planned to kill Peter.

Observation

God can rescue believers, like Peter, from the most difficult Situations.

Inspiration

On God's anvil. Perhaps you've been there.

Melted down. Formless. Undone.

I know. I've been on it. It's rough. It's a spiritual slump, a famine. The fire goes out. Although the fire may flame for a moment, it soon disappears. We drift downward. Downward into the foggy valley of question, the misty lowland of discouragement....

Passion? It slips out the door.

Enthusiasm? Are you kidding?

Anvil time... .

Pound, pound, pound.

I hope you're not on the anvil. (Unless you need to be, and, if so, I hope you are.) Anvil time is not to be avoided; it's to be experienced... . To escape it could be to escape God.

God sees our life from beginning to end. He may lead us through a storm at age thirty so we can endure a hurricane at age sixty. An instrument is useful only if it's in the right shape. A dull ax or a bent screwdriver needs attention, and so do we. A good blacksmith keeps his tools in shape. So does God.

Should God place you on his anvil, be thankful. It means he thinks you're still worth reshaping. (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Herod Agrippa Hurts the Church

During that same time King Herod began to mistreat some who belonged to the church.<sup>2</sup>He ordered James, the brother of John, to be killed by the sword.<sup>3</sup>Herod saw that some of the people liked this, so he decided to arrest Peter, too. (This happened during the time of the Feast of Unleavened Bread.)

<sup>4</sup>After Herod arrested Peter, he put him in jail and handed him over to be guarded by sixteen soldiers. Herod planned to bring Peter before the people for trial after the Passover Feast.<sup>5</sup>So Peter was kept in jail, but the church prayed earnestly to God for him.

Peter Leaves the Jail

<sup>6</sup>The night before Herod was to bring him to trial, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains. Other soldiers were guarding the door of the jail.<sup>7</sup>Suddenly, an angel of the Lord stood there, and a light shined in the cell. The angel struck Peter on the side and woke him up. “Hurry! Get up!” the angel said. And the chains fell off Peter’s hands.<sup>8</sup>Then the angel told him, “Get dressed and put on your sandals.” And Peter did. Then the angel said, “Put on your coat and follow me.”<sup>9</sup>So Peter followed him out, but he did not know if what the angel was doing was real; he thought he might be seeing a vision. <sup>10</sup>They went past the first and second guards and came to the iron gate that separated them from the city. The gate opened by itself for them, and they went through it. When they had walked down one street, the angel suddenly left him.

<sup>11</sup>Then Peter realized what had happened. He thought, “Now I know that the Lord really sent his angel to me. He rescued me from Herod and from all the things the people thought would happen.”

<sup>12</sup>When he considered this, he went to the home of Mary, the mother of John Mark. Many people were gathered there, praying. <sup>13</sup>Peter knocked on the outside door, and a servant girl named Rhoda came to answer it. <sup>14</sup>When she recognized Peter’s voice, she was so happy she forgot to open the door. Instead, she ran inside and told the group, “Peter is at the door!”

<sup>15</sup>They said to her, “You are crazy!” But she kept on saying it was true, so they said, “It must be Peter’s angel.”

<sup>16</sup>Peter continued to knock, and when they opened the door, they saw him and were amazed. <sup>17</sup>Peter made a sign with his hand to tell them to be quiet. He explained how the Lord led him out of the jail, and he said, “Tell James and the other believers what happened.” Then he left to go to another place.

<sup>18</sup>The next day the soldiers were very upset and wondered what had happened to Peter. <sup>19</sup>Herod looked everywhere for him but could not find him. So he questioned the guards and ordered that they be killed.

The Death of Herod Agrippa

Later Herod moved from Judea and went to the city of Caesarea, where he stayed.<sup>20</sup> Herod was very angry with the people of Tyre and Sidon, but the people of those cities all came in a group to him. After convincing Blastus, the king's personal servant, to be on their side, they asked Herod for peace, because their country got its food from his country.

<sup>25</sup>After Barnabas and Saul finished their task in Jerusalem, they returned to Antioch, taking John Mark with them.

Life Lessons

Acts 13:1–52

Situation

Luke shifts the focus of his book to Paul's ministry and the worldwide spread of the church. Paul stopped at key population and cultural centers, and spoke to both Jews and Gentiles.

Observation

God desires that the church will reach new people with the message of Jesus' hope. The preaching of the gospel will always draw new converts, in spite of difficulties and opposition.

Inspiration

The priority of spiritual awakening was so important that the Holy Spirit breathed on Luke to record His dealings with the early church. That first church was initiated and sustained by a prayer movement. The glory of God covered that early church.

Jesus told the disciples to wait in Jerusalem for the promise of the Father. The first call upon the New Testament church was prayer. Intense praying resulted in the powerful proclamation of Christ. In Acts 1:14 the church is found seeking the face of God: "These all with one mind were continually devoting themselves to prayer." In Acts 2:4–41 the church is empowered to proclaim the resurrection of Christ. Three thousand people were converted in this mighty visitation of God.

This incited the church to move forward in prayer. Acts 2:42 says, “They were continually devoting themselves to the apostles’ teaching and to fellowship, to the breaking of bread and to prayer.” The results were phenomenal. People came to know Christ daily. Peter and John are on their way to a prayer meeting in Acts 3, and five thousand are converted before they even arrive. The church continues to pray in Acts 4, which results in an even more powerful proclamation of the gospel. In Acts 5:14 they stop counting those who are being saved, simply stating, “All the more believers in the Lord, multitudes of men and women, were constantly added to their number.”

This should be ample evidence of the relationship between prayer and the phenomenal growth of the New Testament church. But we should also look at the apostle Paul. Paul’s ministry grew out of a prayer meeting. All of Europe and North America should be grateful for five humble men of prayer. The history of both continents would never be the same because of that prayer meeting, where a ministry was born that would ultimately shape much of Western civilization. The early church’s motto was “pray and proclaim.” It was said of them that they were “men who have upset the world” (Acts 17:6). (From The Prayer Factor by Sammy Tippet)

Barnabas and Saul Are Chosen

In the church at Antioch there were these prophets and teachers: Barnabas, Simeon (also called Niger), Lucius (from the city of Cyrene), Manaen (who had grown up with Herod, the ruler), and Saul. <sup>2</sup>They were all worshiping the Lord and giving up eating for a certain time. During this time the Holy Spirit said to them, “Set apart for me Barnabas and Saul to do a special work for which I have chosen them.”

<sup>3</sup>So after they gave up eating and prayed, they laid their hands on Barnabas and Saul and sent them out.

Barnabas and Saul in Cyprus

<sup>4</sup>Barnabas and Saul, sent out by the Holy Spirit, went to the city of Seleucia. From there they sailed to the island of Cyprus.

<sup>5</sup>When they came to Salamis, they preached the Good News of God in the synagogues. John Mark was with them to help.

<sup>6</sup>They went across the whole island to Paphos where they met a magician named Bar-Jesus. He was a false prophet <sup>7</sup>who always stayed close to Sergius Paulus, the governor and a smart man. He asked Barnabas and Saul to come to him, because he wanted to hear the message of God. <sup>8</sup>But Elymas, the magician, was against them. (Elymas is the name for Bar-Jesus in the Greek language.) He tried to stop the governor from believing in Jesus.<sup>9</sup> But Saul, who was also called Paul, was filled with the Holy Spirit. He looked straight at Elymas<sup>10</sup> and said, “You son of the devil! You are an enemy of everything that is right! You are full of evil tricks and lies, always trying to change the Lord’s truths into lies. <sup>11</sup>Now the Lord will touch you, and you will be blind. For a time you will not be able to see anything—not even the light from the sun.”

Then everything became dark for Elymas, and he walked around, trying to find someone to lead him by the hand.<sup>12</sup> When the governor saw this, he believed because he was amazed at the teaching about the Lord.

Paul and Barnabas Leave Cyprus

<sup>16</sup>Paul stood up, raised his hand, and said, “You Israelites and you who worship God, please listen! <sup>17</sup>The God of the Israelites chose our ancestors. He made the people great during the time they lived in Egypt, and he brought them out of that country with great power. <sup>18</sup>And he was patient with them for forty years in the desert. <sup>19</sup>God destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan and gave the land to his people. <sup>20</sup>All this happened in about four hundred fifty years.

“After this, God gave them judges until the time of Samuel the prophet. <sup>21</sup>Then the people asked for a king, so God gave them Saul son of Kish. Saul was from the tribe of Benjamin and was king for forty years. <sup>22</sup>After God took him away, God made David their king. God said about him: ‘I have found in David son of Jesse the kind of man I want. He will do all I want him to do.’ <sup>23</sup>So God has brought Jesus, one of David’s descendants, to Israel to be its Savior, as he promised. <sup>24</sup>Before Jesus came, John preached to all the people of Israel about a baptism of changed hearts and lives. <sup>25</sup>When he was finishing his work, he said, ‘Who do you think I am? I am not the Christ. He is coming later, and I am not worthy to untie his sandals.’

<sup>26</sup>“Brothers, sons of the family of Abraham, and others who worship God, listen! The news about this salvation has been sent to us. <sup>27</sup>Those who live in Jerusalem and their leaders did not realize that Jesus was the Savior. They did not understand the words that the prophets wrote, which are read every Sabbath day. But they made them come true when they said Jesus was guilty. <sup>28</sup>They could not find any real reason for Jesus to be put to death, but they asked Pilate to have him killed. <sup>29</sup>When they had done to him all that the Scriptures had said, they took him down from the cross and laid him in a tomb. <sup>30</sup>But God raised him up from the dead! <sup>31</sup>After this, for many days, those who had gone with Jesus from Galilee to Jerusalem saw him. They are now his witnesses to the people. <sup>32</sup>We tell you the Good News about the promise God made to our ancestors. <sup>33</sup>God has made this promise come true for us, his children, by raising Jesus from the dead. We read about this also in Psalm 2:

‘You are my Son.
Today I have become your Father.’

Psalm 2:7

<sup>34</sup>God raised Jesus from the dead, and he will never go back to the grave and become dust. So God said:

‘I will give you the holy and sure blessings that I promised to David.’

Isaiah 55:3

<sup>35</sup>But in another place God says:

‘You will not let your Holy One rot.’

Psalm 16:10

<sup>36</sup>David did God’s will during his lifetime. Then he died and was buried beside his ancestors, and his body did rot in the grave. <sup>37</sup>But the One God raised from the dead did not rot in the grave. <sup>38-39</sup>Brothers, understand what we are telling you: You can have forgiveness of your sins through Jesus. The law of Moses could not free you from your sins. But through Jesus everyone who believes is free from all sins. <sup>40</sup>Be careful! Don’t let what the prophets said happen to you:

<sup>41</sup>‘Listen, you people who doubt!
You can wonder, and then die.
I will do something in your lifetime
that you won’t believe even when you are told about
it!’”

Habakkuk 1:5

<sup>42</sup>While Paul and Barnabas were leaving the synagogue, the people asked them to tell them more about these things on the next Sabbath. <sup>43</sup>When the meeting was over, many people with those who had changed to worship God followed Paul and Barnabas from that place. Paul and Barnabas were persuading them to continue trusting in God's grace.

<sup>44</sup>On the next Sabbath day, almost everyone in the city came to hear the word of the Lord. <sup>45</sup>Seeing the crowd, the Jewish people became very jealous and said insulting things and argued against what Paul said. <sup>46</sup>But Paul and Barnabas spoke very boldly, saying, "We must speak the message of God to you first. But you refuse to listen. You are judging yourselves not worthy of having eternal life! So we will now go to the people of other nations. <sup>47</sup>This is what the Lord told us to do, saying:

'I have made you a light for the nations;
you will show people all over the world the way to be saved.'"

Isaiah 49:6

<sup>48</sup>When those who were not Jewish heard Paul say this, they were happy and gave honor to the message of the Lord. And the people who were chosen to have life forever believed the message.

<sup>49</sup>So the message of the Lord was spreading through the whole country. <sup>50</sup>But the Jewish people stirred up some of the important religious women and the leaders of the city. They started trouble against Paul and Barnabas and forced them out of their area. <sup>51</sup>So Paul and Barnabas shook the dust off their feet and went to Iconium. <sup>52</sup>But the followers were filled with joy and the Holy Spirit.

Life Lessons

Acts 14:1–28

Situation

After being expelled from Antioch, Paul and Barnabas continued to preach the gospel. They ventured into Iconium, Lystra, and Derbe performing great miracles and winning over great multitudes for Christ. Their adversaries, however, continued to oppose them in every city.

Observation

Their higher calling would not let Paul and Barnabas quit. They even went into hostile regions to deliver God's message of salvation.

Inspiration

I fear our generation has come dangerously near the “I’m-getting-tired-so-let’s-quit” mentality. And not just in the spiritual realm. Dieting is a discipline, so we stay fat. Finishing school is a hassle, so we bail out. Cultivating a close relationship is painful, so we back off. Getting a book written is demanding, so we stop short. Working through conflicts in marriage is a tiring struggle, so we walk away. Sticking with an occupation is tough, so we start looking elsewhere...

Ignace Jan Paderewski, the famous composer-pianist, was scheduled to perform at a great concert hall in America. It was an evening to remember—black tuxedos and long evening dresses, a high society extravaganza. Present in the audience that evening was a mother with her fidgety nine-year-old son. Weary of waiting, he squirmed constantly in his seat. His mother was in hopes that her boy would be encouraged to practice the piano if he could just hear the immortal Paderewski at the keyboard. So—against his wishes—he had come.

As she turned to talk with friends, her son could stay seated no longer. He slipped away from her side, strangely drawn to the ebony concert grand Steinway and its leather tufted stool, staring wide-eyed at the black and white keys. He placed his small, trembling fingers in the right location and began to play “chopsticks.” The roar of the crowd was hushed as hundreds of frowning faces turned in his direction. Irritated and embarrassed, they began to shout:

“Get that boy away from there!”

“Who’d bring a kid that young in here?”

“Where’s his mother?”

“Somebody stop him!”

Backstage, the master overheard the sounds out front and quickly put together in his mind what was happening. Hurriedly, he grabbed his coat and rushed toward the stage. Without one word of announcement he stooped over behind the boy, reached around both sides, and began to improvise a counter melody to harmonize and enhance “chopsticks.” As the two of them played together, Paderewski kept whispering in the boy’s ear:

Keep going. Don’t quit, son. Keep on playing ... don’t stop ... don’t quit.

And so it is with us. We hammer away on our project, which seems about as significant as “chopsticks” in a concert hall. And about the time we are ready to give up, along comes the Master, who leans over and whispers:

Now keep going; don’t quit. Keep on ... don’t stop; don’t quit. (From Growing Strong in the Seasons of Life by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Paul and Barnabas in Iconium

In Iconium, Paul and Barnabas went as usual to the synagogue. They spoke so well that a great many Jews and Greeks believed. <sup>2</sup>But some people who did not believe excited the others and turned them against the believers. <sup>3</sup>Paul and Barnabas stayed in Iconium a long time and spoke bravely for the Lord. He showed that their message about his grace was true by giving them the power to work miracles and signs. <sup>4</sup>But the city was divided. Some of the people agreed with the Jews, and others believed the apostles.

<sup>5</sup>Some who were not Jews, some Jews, and some of their rulers wanted to mistreat Paul and Barnabas and to stone them to death. <sup>6</sup>When Paul and Barnabas learned about this, they ran away to Lystra and Derbe, cities in Lycaonia, and to the areas around those cities. <sup>7</sup>They announced the Good News there, too.

Paul in Lystra and Derbe

<sup>8</sup>In Lystra there sat a man who had been born crippled; he had never walked. <sup>9</sup>As this man was listening to Paul speak, Paul looked straight at him and saw that he believed God could heal him. <sup>10</sup>So he cried out, “Stand up on your feet!” The man jumped up and began walking around. <sup>11</sup>When the crowds saw what Paul did, they shouted in the Lycaonian language, “The gods have become like humans and have come down to us!”

<sup>12</sup>Then the people began to call Barnabas “Zeus” and Paul “Hermes.” because he was the main speaker. <sup>13</sup>The priest in the temple of Zeus, which was near the city, brought some bulls and flowers to the city gates. He and the people wanted to offer a sacrifice to Paul and Barnabas. <sup>14</sup>But when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard about it, they tore their clothes. They ran in among the people, shouting, <sup>15</sup>“Friends, why are you doing these things? We are only human beings like you. We are bringing you the Good News and are telling you to turn away from these worthless things and turn to the living God. He is the One who made the sky, the earth, the sea, and everything in them. <sup>16</sup>In the past, God let all the nations do what they wanted. <sup>17</sup>Yet he proved he is real by showing kindness, by giving you rain from heaven and crops at the right times, by giving you food and filling your hearts with joy.” <sup>18</sup>Even with these words, they were barely able to keep the crowd from offering sacrifices to them.

<sup>19</sup>Then some evil people came from Antioch and Iconium and persuaded the people to turn against Paul. So they threw stones at him and dragged him out of town, thinking they had killed him. <sup>20</sup>But the followers gathered around him, and he got up and went back into the town. The next day he and Barnabas left and went to the city of Derbe.

The Return to Antioch in Syria

<sup>21</sup>Paul and Barnabas told the Good News in Derbe, and many became followers. Paul and Barnabas returned to Lystra, Iconium, and Antioch, <sup>22</sup>making the followers of Jesus stronger and helping them stay in the faith. They said, “We must suffer many things to enter God’s kingdom.” <sup>23</sup>They chose elders for each church, by praying and giving up eating for a certain time. These elders had trusted the Lord, so Paul and Barnabas put them in the Lord’s care.

<sup>24</sup>Then they went through Pisidia and came to Pamphylia. <sup>25</sup>When they had preached the message in Perga, they went down to Attalia. <sup>26</sup>And from there they sailed away to Antioch where the believers had put them into God’s care and had sent them out to do this work. Now they had finished.

<sup>27</sup>When they arrived in Antioch, Paul and Barnabas gathered the church together. They told the church all about what God had done with them and how God had made it possible for those who were not Jewish to believe. <sup>28</sup>And they stayed there a long time with the followers.

Life Lessons

Acts 15:1-41

Situation

Many Jewish Christians insisted that Gentile Christians had to follow Jewish traditions in order to become true Christians. The Jerusalem Council decided that only God's grace and individual faith in Jesus were necessary for salvation.

Observation

The Law can never save you. God saves only by grace through faith in Jesus Christ.

Inspiration

What exactly is grace? And is it limited to Jesus' life and ministry? You may be surprised to know that Jesus never used the word itself. He just taught it and, equally important, lived it. Furthermore, the Bible never gives us a one-statement definition, though grace appears throughout its pages ... not only the word itself but numerous demonstrations of it. Understanding what grace means requires our going back to an old Hebrew term that meant "to bend, to stoop." By and by, it came to include the idea of "condescending favor."

If you have traveled to London, you have perhaps seen royalty. If so, you must have noticed sophistication, aloofness, distance. On occasion, royalty in England will make the news because someone in the ranks of nobility will stop, kneel down and touch or bless a commoner. That is grace. There is nothing in the commoner that deserves being noticed or touched or blessed by the royal family. But because of grace in the heart of the queen, there is the desire at that moment to pause, to stoop, to touch, even to bless.

The late pastor and Bible scholar Donald Barnhouse perhaps said it best: “Love that goes upward is worship; love that goes outward is affection; love that stoops is grace.”

To show grace is to extend favor or kindness to one who doesn't deserve it and can never earn it. Receiving God's acceptance by grace always stands in sharp contrast to earning it on the basis of works. Every time the thought of grace appears, there is the idea of its being undeserved. In no way is the recipient getting what he or she deserves. Favor is being extended simply out of the goodness of the heart of the giver. . . .

One more thing should be emphasized about grace: It is absolutely and totally free. You will never be asked to pay it back. You couldn't even if you tried. Most of us have trouble with that thought, because we work for everything we get. The old saying goes, “There ain't no free lunch.” But in this case, grace comes to us free and clear, no strings attached. We should not even try to repay it; to do so is insulting. . . .

And now that Christ has come and died and thereby satisfied the Father's demands on sin, all we need to do is claim His grace by accepting the free gift of eternal life. Period. He smiles on us because of His Son's death and resurrection. It's grace, my friend, amazing grace. That is enough to give anybody a "Yes" face! (From The Grace Awakening by Charles Swindoll)

Application

How do you react to Christians whose worship style is different from your own? Remember God's gift of eternal life is free and for everybody, whatever the color, race, or worship preference. Have the same gracious attitude toward others that Jesus had.

Exploration

Grace—Romans 3:24; Galatians 2:16; Ephesians 2:5-8.

The Meeting at Jerusalem

Then some people came to Antioch from Judea and began teaching the non-Jewish believers: “You cannot be saved if you are not circumcised as Moses taught us.”<sup>2</sup> Paul and Barnabas were against this teaching and argued with them about it. So the church decided to send Paul, Barnabas, and some others to Jerusalem where they could talk more about this with the apostles and elders.

<sup>3</sup>The church helped them leave on the trip, and they went through the countries of Phoenicia and Samaria, telling all about how the other nations had turned to God. This made all the believers very happy.<sup>4</sup> When they arrived in Jerusalem, they were welcomed by the apostles, the elders, and the church. Paul, Barnabas, and the others told about everything God had done with them.<sup>5</sup> But some of the believers who belonged to the Pharisee group came forward and said, “The non-Jewish believers must be circumcised. They must be told to obey the law of Moses.”

<sup>6</sup>The apostles and the elders gathered to consider this problem.<sup>7</sup> After a long debate, Peter stood up and said to them, “Brothers, you know that in the early days God chose me from among you to preach the Good News to the nations. They heard the Good News from me, and they believed.<sup>8</sup> God, who knows the thoughts of everyone, accepted them. He showed this to us by giving them the Holy Spirit, just as he did to us.

<sup>9</sup>To God, those people are not different from us. When they believed, he made their hearts pure. <sup>10</sup>So now why are you testing God by putting a heavy load around the necks of the non-Jewish believers? It is a load that neither we nor our ancestors were able to carry. <sup>11</sup>But we believe that we and they too will be saved by the grace of the Lord Jesus.”

<sup>12</sup>Then the whole group became quiet. They listened to Paul and Barnabas tell about all the miracles and signs that God did through them among the people. <sup>13</sup>After they finished speaking, James said, “Brothers, listen to me. <sup>14</sup>Simon has told us how God showed his love for those people. For the first time he is accepting from among them a people to be his own. <sup>15</sup>The words of the prophets agree with this too:

<sup>16</sup>After these things I will return.
The kingdom of David is like a fallen tent.
But I will rebuild its ruins,
and I will set it up.

<sup>17</sup>Then those people who are left alive may ask the Lord for help,
and the other nations that belong to me,
says the Lord,
who will make it happen.

Amos 9:11–12

<sup>19</sup>“So I think we should not bother the other people who are turning to God. <sup>20</sup>Instead, we should write a letter to them telling them these things: Stay away from food that has been offered to idols (which makes it unclean), any kind of sexual sin, eating animals that have been strangled, and blood. <sup>21</sup>They should do these things, because for a long time in every city the law of Moses has been taught. And it is still read in the synagogue every Sabbath day.”

Letter to Non-Jewish Believers

<sup>22</sup>The apostles, the elders, and the whole church decided to send some of their men with Paul and Barnabas to Antioch. They chose Judas Barsabbas and Silas, who were respected by the believers. <sup>23</sup>They sent the following letter with them:

From the apostles and elders, your brothers.

To all the non-Jewish believers in Antioch, Syria, and Cilicia:

Greetings!

<sup>24</sup>We have heard that some of our group have come to you and said things that trouble and upset you. But we did not tell them to do this. <sup>25</sup>We have all agreed to choose some messengers and send them to you with our dear friends Barnabas and Paul—<sup>26</sup>people who have given their lives to serve our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>27</sup>So we are sending Judas and Silas, who will tell you the same things. <sup>28</sup>It has pleased the Holy Spirit that you should not have a heavy load to carry, and we agree. You need to do only these things: <sup>29</sup>Stay away from any food that has been offered to idols, eating any animals that have been strangled, and blood, and any kind of sexual sin. If you stay away from these things, you will do well.

Goodbye.

they gathered the church and gave them the letter. <sup>31</sup>When they read it, they were very happy because of the encouraging message. <sup>32</sup>Judas and Silas, who were also prophets, said many things to encourage the believers and make them stronger. <sup>33</sup>After some time Judas and Silas were sent off in peace by the believers, and they went back to those who had sent them. <sup>34</sup>u

<sup>35</sup>But Paul and Barnabas stayed in Antioch and, along with many others, preached the Good News and taught the people the message of the Lord.

Paul and Barnabas Separate

<sup>36</sup>After some time, Paul said to Barnabas, “We should go back to all those towns where we preached the message of the Lord. Let’s visit the believers and see how they are doing.”

<sup>37</sup>Barnabas wanted to take John Mark with them, <sup>38</sup>but he had left them at Pamphylia; he did not continue with them in the work. So Paul did not think it was a good idea to take him. <sup>39</sup>Paul and Barnabas had such a serious argument about this that they separated and went different ways. Barnabas took Mark and sailed to Cyprus, <sup>40</sup>but Paul chose Silas and left. The believers in Antioch put Paul into the Lord’s care, <sup>41</sup>and he went through Syria and Cilicia, giving strength to the churches.

Acts 16:1–40

Situation

During his second missionary journey, Paul visited and encouraged churches established during his first journey. Despite persecution, Paul boldly shared the gospel wherever he went.

Observation

Even when we are persecuted for the sake of the gospel, God can make us a powerful testimony. His Holy Spirit will work through us as we reach out to those around us.

Prayer Of Saint Patrick

I establish myself today in:

The power of God to guide me,

The might of God to uphold me,

The wisdom of God to teach me,

The eye of God to watch over me,

The ear of God to hear me,

The word of God to speak to me,

The hand of God to protect me,

The way of God to lie before me,

The shield of God to shelter me,

The hosts of God to defend me

Christ with me, Christ before me,

Christ behind me, Christ within me,

Christ beneath me, Christ above me,

Christ at my right, Christ at my left,

Christ in breadth, Christ in length,
Christ in height, Christ in the heart of every man who thinks of me,
Christ in the mouth of every man who speaks to me,
Christ in the ear of every man who hears me.
Confident in Christ.

Timothy Goes with Paul

Paul came to Derbe and Lystra, where a follower named Timothy lived. Timothy's mother was Jewish and a believer, but his father was a Greek.

<sup>2</sup>The believers in Lystra and Iconium respected Timothy and said good things about him. <sup>3</sup>Paul wanted Timothy to travel with him, but all the people living in that area knew that Timothy's father was Greek. So Paul circumcised Timothy to please his mother's people. <sup>4</sup>Paul and those with him traveled from town to town and gave the decisions made by the apostles and elders in Jerusalem for the people to obey. <sup>5</sup>So the churches became stronger in the faith and grew larger every day.

Paul Is Called Out of Asia

<sup>6</sup>Paul and those with him went through the areas of Phrygia and Galatia since the Holy Spirit did not let them preach the Good News in the country of Asia. <sup>7</sup>When they came near the country of Mysia, they tried to go into Bithynia, but the Spirit of Jesus did not let them. <sup>8</sup>So they passed by Mysia and went to Troas. <sup>9</sup>That night Paul saw in a vision a man from Macedonia. The man stood and begged, "Come over to Macedonia and help us." <sup>10</sup>After Paul had seen the vision, we immediately prepared to leave for Macedonia, understanding that God had called us to tell the Good News to those people.

Lydia Becomes a Christian

<sup>11</sup>We left Troas and sailed straight to the island of Samothrace. The next day we sailed to Neapolis. <sup>12</sup>Then we went by land to Philippi, a Roman colony and the leading city in that part of Macedonia. We stayed there for several days.

<sup>13</sup>On the Sabbath day we went outside the city gate to the river where we thought we would find a special place for prayer. Some women had gathered there, so we sat down and talked with them. <sup>14</sup>One of the listeners was a woman named Lydia from the city of Thyatira whose job was selling purple cloth. She worshiped God, and he opened her mind to pay attention to what Paul was saying. <sup>15</sup>She and all the people in her house were baptized. Then she invited us to her home, saying, “If you think I am truly a believer in the Lord, then come stay in my house.” And she persuaded us to stay with her.

Paul and Silas in Jail

<sup>16</sup>Once, while we were going to the place for prayer, a servant girl met us. She had a special spirit in her, and she earned a lot of money for her owners by telling fortunes. <sup>17</sup>This girl followed Paul and us, shouting, “These men are servants of the Most High God. They are telling you how you can be saved.”

<sup>18</sup>She kept this up for many days. This bothered Paul, so he turned and said to the spirit, “By the power of Jesus Christ, I command you to come out of her!” Immediately, the spirit came out.

<sup>19</sup>When the owners of the servant girl saw this, they knew that now they could not use her to make money. So they grabbed Paul and Silas and dragged them before the city rulers in the marketplace. <sup>20</sup>They brought Paul and Silas to the Roman rulers and said, “These men are Jews and are making trouble in our city. <sup>21</sup>They are teaching things that are not right for us as Romans to do.”

<sup>25</sup>About midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing songs to God as the other prisoners listened. <sup>26</sup>Suddenly, there was a strong earthquake that shook the foundation of the jail. Then all the doors of the jail broke open, and all the prisoners were freed from their chains. <sup>27</sup>The jailer woke up and saw that the jail doors were open. Thinking that the prisoners had already escaped, he got his sword and was about to kill himself. <sup>28</sup>But Paul shouted, “Don’t hurt yourself! We are all here.”

<sup>29</sup>The jailer told someone to bring a light. Then he ran inside and, shaking with fear, fell down before Paul and Silas. <sup>30</sup>He brought them outside and said, “Men, what must I do to be saved?”

<sup>31</sup>They said to him, “Believe in the Lord Jesus and you will be saved—you and all the people in your house.” <sup>32</sup>So Paul and Silas told the message of the Lord to the jailer and all the people in his house. <sup>33</sup>At that hour of the night the jailer took Paul and Silas and washed their wounds. Then he and all his people were baptized immediately. <sup>34</sup>After this the jailer took Paul and Silas home and gave them food. He and his family were very happy because they now believed in God.

<sup>35</sup>The next morning, the Roman officers sent the police to tell the jailer, “Let these men go free.”

<sup>36</sup>The jailer said to Paul, “The officers have sent an order to let you go free. You can leave now. Go in peace.”

<sup>37</sup>But Paul said to the police, “They beat us in public without a trial, even though we are Roman citizens. And they threw us in jail. Now they want to make us go away quietly. No! Let them come themselves and bring us out.”

<sup>38</sup>The police told the Roman officers what Paul said. When the officers heard that Paul and Silas were Roman citizens, they were afraid. <sup>39</sup>So they came and told Paul and Silas they were sorry and took them out of jail and asked them to leave the city. <sup>40</sup>So when they came out of the jail, they went to Lydia’s house where they saw some of the believers and encouraged them. Then they left.

Life Lessons

Acts 17:1–34

Situation

Banished from Philippi, Paul and his companions visited the cities of Thessalonica and Athens. In both places Paul boldly testified to the saving grace of God.

Observation

When we speak about Jesus, we should understand our audience well.

Inspiration

The prevailing world-view denies the existence of absolute truth. So when the Christian message, which is essentially historical and propositional, is proclaimed, modern listeners hear what they interpret as simply one person's preference—another autonomous human choice of lifestyle or belief...

What does this tell us? ... To evangelize today we must address the human condition at its point of felt need—conscience, guilt, dealing with others, finding a purpose for staying alive...

So we must be familiar enough with the prevailing world-view to look for points of contact and discern points of disagreement.

It is no different then if you or I were talking with a Hindu, for example, about issues of life and religion. We wouldn't assume that he or she was coming from a Judeo-Christian perspective. We would start from the Hindu presuppositions about the world, probe their world-view, find the points of contact and concern, and then begin to challenge or question those presuppositions. Only then could we begin to present our case effectively....

Our handy prepackaged God-talk won't do. Before we tell them what the Bible says, we may have to tell them why they should believe the Bible (there is a great case to be made). And we need a Christian apologetic that doesn't just make the case for us; it must touch the chords within our unbelieving friends and neighbors and begin to alter their view of reality. ## Paul and Silas in Thessalonica

Paul and Silas traveled through Amphipolis and Apollonia and came to Thessalonica where there was a synagogue.<sup>2</sup> Paul went into the synagogue as he always did, and on each Sabbath day for three weeks, he talked with his fellow Jews about the Scriptures.<sup>3</sup> He explained and proved that the Christ must die and then rise from the dead. He said, “This Jesus I am telling you about is the Christ.”<sup>4</sup> Some of them were convinced and joined Paul and Silas, along with many of the Greeks who worshiped God and many of the important women.

<sup>5</sup>But some others became jealous. So they got some evil men from the marketplace, formed a mob, and started a riot. They ran to Jason’s house, looking for Paul and Silas, wanting to bring them out to the people.<sup>6</sup> But when they did not find them, they dragged Jason and some other believers to the leaders of the city. The people were yelling, “These people have made trouble everywhere in the world, and now they have come here too! <sup>7</sup>Jason is keeping them in his house. All of them do things against the laws of Caesar, saying there is another king, called Jesus.”

<sup>8</sup>When the people and the leaders of the city heard these things, they became very upset.<sup>9</sup> They made Jason and the others put up a sum of money. Then they let the believers go free.

Paul and Silas Go to Berea

<sup>10</sup>That same night the believers sent Paul and Silas to Berea where they went to the synagogue. <sup>11</sup>These people were more willing to listen than the people in Thessalonica. The Bereans were eager to hear what Paul and Silas said and studied the Scriptures every day to find out if these things were true. <sup>12</sup>So, many of them believed, as well as many important Greek women and men. <sup>13</sup>But the people in Thessalonica learned that Paul was preaching the word of God in Berea, too. So they came there, upsetting the people and making trouble. <sup>14</sup>The believers quickly sent Paul away to the coast, but Silas and Timothy stayed in Berea. <sup>15</sup>The people leading Paul went with him to Athens. Then they carried a message from Paul back to Silas and Timothy for them to come to him as soon as they could.

Paul Preaches in Athens

<sup>16</sup>While Paul was waiting for Silas and Timothy in Athens, he was troubled because he saw that the city was full of idols. <sup>17</sup>In the synagogue, he talked with the Jews and the Greeks who worshiped God. He also talked every day with people in the marketplace.

“Some of the Jews were convinced and joined Paul and Silas ...”—Acts 17:4

Influencing Others for the Kingdom

It's been about six months since Paul left

Thessalonica. He, Timothy, and Silas spent three fruitful weeks in the city. The result of their stay was a nucleus of believers. Luke provides a one-sentence profile of the church when he writes: “Some of the Jews were convinced and joined Paul and Silas, along with many of the Greeks who worshiped God and many of the important women” (Acts 17:4).

An eclectic group attended the first church service: Some were Jews, some were Greeks, some were influential females, but all were convinced that Jesus was the Messiah. And in a short time, all paid a price for their belief. Literally. The young believers were dragged into the presence of the city leaders and forced to post bond for their own release. That night they helped Paul, Timothy, and Silas sneak out of the city.

Paul moves on, but part of his heart is still in Thessalonica. The little church is so young, so fragile, but oh-so-special. Just the thought of them makes him proud. He longs to see them again. “We always thank God for all of you and mention you when we pray” (1 Thessalonians 1:2). He dreams of the day he might see them again and, even more, dreams of the day they see Christ together.

Note what he says to them: “You are our hope, our joy, and the crown we will take pride in when our Lord Jesus Christ comes” (1 Thessalonians 2:19)... . In this case Paul will meet with the Thessalonians. He will search the sea of faces for his friends. They will find him, and he will find them. And, in the presence of Christ, they will enjoy an eternal reunion.

Try to imagine doing the same. Think about the day Christ comes. There you are in the great circle of the redeemed. Your body has been made new—no more pain or problems. Your mind has been made new—what you once understood in part, you now understand clearly. You feel no fear, no danger, no sorrow. Though you are one of a throng, it's as if you and Jesus are all alone.

And he asks you this question. I'm speculating now, but I wonder if Christ might say these words to you: "I'm so proud that you let me use you. Because of you, others are here today. Would you like to meet them?"

Chances are you'd be surprised at such a statement. It's one thing for the Apostle Paul to hear such words. He was an apostle. We can imagine a foreign missionary or famous evangelist hearing these words—but us? (From When Christ Comes by Max Lucado)

Question: What steps can you take this next year to influence others for the kingdom?

For more on "New Life in Christ."

<sup>18</sup>Some of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers argued with him, saying, “This man doesn’t know what he is talking about. What is he trying to say?” Others said, “He seems to be telling us about some other gods,” because Paul was telling them about Jesus and his rising from the dead. <sup>19</sup>They got Paul and took him to a meeting of the Areopagus, where they said, “Please explain to us this new idea you have been teaching. <sup>20</sup>The things you are saying are new to us, and we want to know what this teaching means.” <sup>21</sup>(All the people of Athens and those from other countries who lived there always used their time to talk about the newest ideas.) <sup>22</sup>Then Paul stood before the meeting of the Areopagus and said, “People of Athens, I can see you are very religious in all things. <sup>23</sup>As I was going through your city, I saw the objects you worship. I found an altar that had these words written on it: TO A GOD WHO IS NOT KNOWN. You worship a god that you don’t know, and this is the God I am telling you about! <sup>24</sup>The God who made the whole world and everything in it is the Lord of the land and the sky. He does not live in temples built by human hands. <sup>25</sup>This God is the One who gives life, breath, and everything else to people. He does not need any help from them; he has everything he needs. <sup>26</sup>God began by making one person, and from him came all the different people who live everywhere in the world. God decided exactly when and where they must live. <sup>27</sup>God wanted them to look for him and perhaps search all around for him and find him, though he is not far from any of us: <sup>28</sup>‘We live in him. We walk in him. We are in him.’ Some of your own poets have said: ‘For we are his children.’ <sup>29</sup>Since we are God’s children, you must not think that God is like something that people imagine or make from gold, silver, or rock.<sup>30</sup>In the past, people did not understand God, and he ignored this. But now, God tells all people in the world to change their hearts and lives.<sup>31</sup>God has set a day that he will judge all the world with fairness, by the man he chose long ago. And God has proved this to everyone by raising that man from the dead!”

<sup>32</sup>When the people heard about Jesus being raised from the dead, some of them laughed. But others said, “We will hear more about this from you later.”<sup>33</sup>So Paul went away from them.<sup>34</sup>But some of the people believed Paul and joined him. Among those who believed was Dionysius, a member of the Areopagus, a woman named Damaris, and some others.

Acts 18:1–28

Situation

Corinth, the commercial center of Greece, was a haven of corruption. It also held great ministry opportunities.

Observation

We must rejoice in the victories Jesus gives us and remain positive during persecution and suffering.

Inspiration

Today's world is joyless, full of shadows, disillusionment, and fear. Freedom is rapidly disappearing from the face of the earth. Along with the loss of freedom, a great many of the superficial joys and pleasures of life are also disappearing, but God, by His Spirit, directs His joy to our bleak, problem-riddled lives, making it possible for us to be filled with joy regardless of our circumstances....

I once visited Dohnavur in South India where Amy Carmichael had lived for fifty years, caring for hundreds of girls originally dedicated to temple service. She was bedridden for the last twenty years of her life, during which time she wrote books that have blessed millions. Joy filled her sick room so that everyone who visited her came away praising God....

Even after her death, when I visited the room where she had served the Lord for twenty years, writing from her bed, I was asked by her former nurse to lead in prayer. I began, but was so overwhelmed by a sense of God's presence I broke down (a thing I seldom ever do)... . As I left that room, I sensed the joy of the Lord in my own heart. Many times I have visited sick people to encourage them. Some suffered from terminal illnesses. Strangely enough, I have come away blessed in my own soul by their contagious joy.

(From The Holy Spirit by Billy Graham)

Application

It's not generated in your own mind or heart; it's not bought at a store. True joy is God's gift.

Exploration

Paul in Corinth

Later Paul left Athens and went to Corinth. <sup>2</sup>Here he met a Jew named Aquila who had been born in the country of Pontus. But Aquila and his wife, Priscilla, had recently moved to Corinth from Italy, because Claudius commanded that all Jews must leave Rome. Paul went to visit Aquila and Priscilla. <sup>3</sup>Because they were tentmakers, just as he was, he stayed with them and worked with them. <sup>4</sup>Every Sabbath day he talked with the Jews and Greeks in the synagogue, trying to persuade them to believe in Jesus.

<sup>5</sup>Silas and Timothy came from Macedonia and joined Paul in Corinth. After this, Paul spent all his time telling people the Good News, showing them that Jesus is the Christ. <sup>6</sup>But they would not accept Paul's teaching and said some evil things. So he shook off the dust from his clothes and said to them, "If you are not saved, it will be your own fault! I have done all I can do! After this, I will go only to other nations." <sup>7</sup>Paul left the synagogue and moved into the home of Titius Justus, next to the synagogue. This man worshiped God. <sup>8</sup>Crispus was the leader of that synagogue, and he and all the people living in his house believed in the Lord. Many others in Corinth also listened to Paul and believed and were baptized.

<sup>9</sup>During the night, the Lord told Paul in a vision: "Don't be afraid. Continue talking to people and don't be quiet. <sup>10</sup>I am with you, and no one will hurt you because many of my people are in this city.”<sup>11</sup> Paul stayed there for a year and a half, teaching God’s word to the people.

Paul Is Brought Before Gallio

<sup>12</sup>When Gallio was the governor of the country of Southern Greece, some people came together against Paul and took him to the court.<sup>13</sup> They said, “This man is teaching people to worship God in a way that is against our law.”

<sup>14</sup>Paul was about to say something, but Gallio spoke, saying, “I would listen to you if you were complaining about a crime or some wrong.<sup>15</sup> But the things you are saying are only questions about words and names—arguments about your own law. So you must solve this problem yourselves. I don’t want to be a judge of these things.”<sup>16</sup> And Gallio made them leave the court.

<sup>17</sup>Then they all grabbed Sosthenes, the leader of the synagogue, and beat him there before the court. But this did not bother Gallio.

Paul Returns to Antioch

<sup>18</sup>Paul stayed with the believers for many more days. Then he left and sailed for Syria, with Priscilla and Aquila. At Cenchrea Paul cut off his hair, because he had made a promise to God.

<sup>19</sup>Then they went to Ephesus, where Paul left Priscilla and Aquila. While Paul was there, he went into the synagogue and talked with the people.<sup>20</sup> When they asked him to stay with them longer, he refused.<sup>21</sup> But as he left, he said, “I will come back to you again if God wants me to.” And so he sailed away from Ephesus.

<sup>22</sup>When Paul landed at Caesarea, he went and gave greetings to the church in Jerusalem. After that, Paul went to Antioch. <sup>23</sup>He stayed there for a while and then left and went through the regions of Galatia and Phrygia. He traveled from town to town in these regions, giving strength to all the followers.

Apollos in Ephesus and Corinth

<sup>24</sup>A Jew named Apollos came to Ephesus. He was born in the city of Alexandria and was a good speaker who knew the Scriptures well. <sup>25</sup>He had been taught about the way of the Lord and was always very excited when he spoke and taught the truth about Jesus. But the only baptism Apollos knew about was the baptism that John taught. <sup>26</sup>Apollos began to speak very boldly in the synagogue, and when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him to their home and helped him better understand the way of God. <sup>27</sup>Now Apollos wanted to go to the country of Southern Greece. So the believers helped him and wrote a letter to the followers there, asking them to accept him. These followers had believed in Jesus because of God’s grace, and when Apollos arrived, he helped them very much. <sup>28</sup>He argued very strongly with the Jews before all the people, clearly proving with the Scriptures that Jesus is the Christ.

Life Lessons

Acts 19:1–41

Situation

On Paul's third missionary journey he corrected doctrinal misunderstandings that had been creeping into the churches.

Observation

The power to change comes from God. Magical formulas and magic words cannot secure this power. Christ conquered evil.

Inspiration

At the center of the occult, either openly or disguised as an “angel of light,” is Satan. Peter exhorts believers concerning our chief foe when he writes, “Be of sober spirit, be on the alert. Your adversary, the devil, prowls about like a roaring lion, seeking someone to devour” (1 Peter 5:8, NASB).

Christians often have the tendency to “blame it all on the devil,” when in fact it was their own carelessness or fleshly nature which led to the sin or error. It can also be said, however, that even when it is our fleshly nature or the world which draws us from the Lord—and not the devil directly—it is nevertheless true that Satan and his army of demons desire that we be drawn to the world's standards.

Satan is the one who ultimately desires that we pursue the lusts of the flesh, and it is he who sits as the “god of this world” (Ephesians 2:1–10). Though not always directly involved, Satan's prime objective is the defeat of God, and for us that means our defeat....

As you study the Old Testament, you see that men and women were in a constant struggle with Satan, fighting many spiritual battles. As you study the life of Christ, and Paul, and the other Apostles, you see a constant spiritual struggle. Christians today face many spiritual battles.

I'm so glad I learned the authority of the believer before I went to South America. The authority of the believer is a possession that belongs to every true child of God. And it gives so much authority over the enemy that Satan has tried to blind most believers to the authority they have.

During Easter week at Balboa, I first learned of the authority of the believer. About 50,000 high school and college students came down for Easter. With Andre Kole, the illusionist, we packed out a big ballroom several nights in a row—for two or three meetings a night. So many people were coming to our meetings, in fact, that many of the bars were empty. It really irritated some of the people. The second night, one of the men from a night club came over to break up our meeting. They figured if they broke up one of them, that would finish it for us.

As Andre was performing, this guy pulled up with his Dodge Dart all souped up. With a deafening sound, he popped the clutch and went roaring down the street. Everyone inside, of course, turned around and looked out to see the commotion. Finally, Andre got them settled down.

Then the guy went around the block again. As he stopped out front, he revved it up again and roared down the street. By this time everyone was whispering and wondering what was going on. Some stood up, trying to look out the window.

When the guy went back around the block again, I knew that if he repeated his performance one more time, it would break up the meeting. Turning to Gene Huntsman, one of our staff members, I said, “I think Satan is trying to break up this meeting. Let’s step out in the doorway and exercise the authority of the believer.” So we stepped out and prayed a very simple prayer.

When the guy came back, he started to rev it up again, and as he popped the clutch—pow! The rear end of his car blew all over the street. By that time, we just thanked the Lord and went over and pushed him off the street. As I shared the Four Spiritual Laws with him, it reminded me that Jesus said all authority is given to the believer in heaven and in earth.

Occult practice is loathsome to God. By delving in the occult, people deny the victory God has over the powers of evil. Let the power of the resurrected Christ give you freedom from any and all forms of occultism.

Paul in Ephesus

While Apollos was in Corinth, Paul was visiting some places on the way to Ephesus. There he found some followers <sup>2</sup>and asked them, “Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you believed?”

They said, “We have never even heard of a Holy Spirit.”

<sup>3</sup>So he asked, “What kind of baptism did you have?”

They said, “It was the baptism that John taught.”

<sup>4</sup>Paul said, “John’s baptism was a baptism of changed hearts and lives. He told people to believe in the one who would come after him, and that one is Jesus.”

<sup>5</sup>When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. <sup>6</sup>Then Paul laid his hands on them, and the Holy Spirit came upon them. They began speaking different languages and prophesying. <sup>7</sup>There were about twelve people in this group.

<sup>8</sup>Paul went into the synagogue and spoke out boldly for three months. He talked with the people and persuaded them to accept the things he said about the kingdom of God. <sup>9</sup>But some of them became stubborn. They refused to believe and said evil things about the Way of Jesus before all the people. So Paul left them, and taking the followers with him, he went to the school of a man named Tyrannus. There Paul talked with people every day <sup>10</sup>for two years. Because of his work, every Jew and Greek in the country of Asia heard the word of the Lord.

The Sons of Sceva

<sup>11</sup>God used Paul to do some very special miracles. <sup>12</sup>Some people took handkerchiefs and clothes that Paul had used and put them on the sick. When they did this, the sick were healed and evil spirits left them.

<sup>13</sup>But some people also were traveling around and making evil spirits go out of people. They tried to use the name of the Lord Jesus to force the evil spirits out. They would say, “By the same Jesus that Paul talks about, I order you to come out!”

<sup>15</sup>But one time an evil spirit said to them, “I know Jesus, and I know about Paul, but who are you?”

<sup>16</sup>Then the man who had the evil spirit jumped on them. Because he was so much stronger than all of them, they ran away from the house naked and hurt. <sup>17</sup>All the people in Ephesus—Jews and Greeks—learned about this and were filled with fear and gave great honor to the Lord Jesus. <sup>18</sup>Many of the believers began to confess openly and tell all the evil things they had done. <sup>19</sup>Some of them who had used magic brought their magic books and burned them before everyone. Those books were worth about fifty thousand silver coins.

<sup>20</sup>So in a powerful way the word of the Lord kept spreading and growing.

<sup>21</sup>After these things, Paul decided to go to Jerusalem, planning to go through the countries of Macedonia and Southern Greece and then on to Jerusalem. He said, “After I have been to Jerusalem, I must also visit Rome.” <sup>22</sup>Paul sent Timothy and Erastus, two of his helpers, ahead to Macedonia, but he himself stayed in Asia for a while.

Trouble in Ephesus

<sup>23</sup>And during that time, there was some serious trouble in Ephesus about the Way of Jesus. <sup>24</sup>A man named Demetrius, who worked with silver, made little silver models that looked like the temple of the goddess Artemis. Those who did this work made much money. <sup>25</sup>Demetrius had a meeting with them and some others who did the same kind of work. He told them, “Men, you know that we make a lot of money from our business. <sup>26</sup>But look at what this man Paul is doing. He has convinced and turned away many people in Ephesus and in almost all of Asia! He says the gods made by human hands are not real. <sup>27</sup>There is a danger that our business will lose its good name, but there is also another danger: People will begin to think that the temple of the great goddess Artemis is not important. Her greatness will be destroyed, and Artemis is the goddess that everyone in Asia and the whole world worships.”

<sup>28</sup>When the others heard this, they became very angry and shouted, “Artemis, the goddess of Ephesus, is great!” <sup>29</sup>The whole city became confused. The people grabbed Gaius and Aristarchus, who were from Macedonia and were traveling with Paul, and ran to the theater. <sup>30</sup>Paul wanted to go in and talk to the crowd, but the followers did not let him. <sup>31</sup>Also, some leaders of Asia who were friends of Paul sent him a message, begging him not to go into the theater. <sup>32</sup>Some people were shouting one thing, and some were shouting another. The meeting was completely confused; most of them did not know why they had come together.<sup>33</sup>They put a man named Alexander in front of the people, and some of them told him what to do. Alexander waved his hand so he could explain things to the people.<sup>34</sup>But when they saw that Alexander was a Jew, they all shouted the same thing for two hours: “Great is Artemis of Ephesus!”

<sup>35</sup>Then the city clerk made the crowd be quiet. He said, “People of Ephesus, everyone knows that Ephesus is the city that keeps the temple of the great goddess Artemis and her holy stone that fell from heaven.<sup>36</sup>Since no one can say this is not true, you should be quiet. Stop and think before you do anything.<sup>37</sup>You brought these men here, but they have not said anything evil against our goddess or stolen anything from her temple.<sup>38</sup>If Demetrius and those who work with him have a charge against anyone they should go to the courts and judges where they can argue with each other.<sup>39</sup>If there is something else you want to talk about, it can be decided at the regular town meeting of the people.<sup>40</sup>I say this because some people might see this trouble today and say that we are rioting. We could not explain this, because there is no real reason for this meeting.”<sup>41</sup>After the city clerk said these things, he told the people to go home.

Acts 20:1–38

Situation

Paul strengthened and encouraged those who were Believers. He traveled to several recently planted churches and spent time with Christians there. Paul, knowing that he would never be back at Ephesus again, was careful to explain that his sacrificial love for the Ephesians was like Jesus' love for the church.

Observation

True Christianity is more than just going to church on Sundays. It's a genuine love for other people—a sacrificial love.

Inspiration

Take a trip to downtown Los Angeles. During the week it is a matrix of towering buildings and grand, paved canyons humming with people busily making money; on the weekends it is an empty glass-and-steel hive whose workers have buzzed home to the suburbs. Just a few blocks from the center of the hive, however, the neighborhoods start to change. Drive south, under the Santa Monica freeway, and you'll soon be in another world. Clusters of low-rise buildings scrawled with graffiti, razor-wire looped over parking lot fences, littered streets crowded with life.

And death. For this is where the gangs rule, and where drugs provide both an income and a way out.

Many of the young men in this primarily Hispanic area are in prison, on drugs, or in the cemetery.

In the middle of it all stands a white building that winds its way around the corner of a horseshoe-shaped street off Grand Avenue. “VICTORY OUTREACH” reads the bold sign.

Since [men] come here as addicts, those helped by Victory Outreach must first go through a cold-turkey detoxification. During that period Christians hold their hands and pray them through the violent agony as the drugs exit their systems. Most come to Christ during this time. They then enter a nine-month rehabilitation period, tightly structured with Bible studies, worship, classes, work, and prayer. And after that comes a nine-month reentry program, during which they are trained in skills and deeper Christian discipleship, equipping them to reenter society as whole, contributing individuals.

Photos on the walls of an upstairs conference room tell the story, smiling shots of Sylvia and Jose, for example. She was a member of the Playboys, and he was part of the inner circle of one of Los Angeles’s largest gangs, the Eighteenth Street Gang, which has about six thousand members. Then they met Christ, dried out, were disciplined, got married, and now they run the Victory Outreach women’s home several blocks away. (From The Body by Charles Colson)

Paul in Macedonia and Greece

When the trouble stopped, Paul sent for the followers to come to him. After he encouraged them and then told them goodbye, he left and went to the country of Macedonia.<sup>2</sup> He said many things to strengthen the followers in the different places on his way through Macedonia. Then he went to Greece,<sup>3</sup> where he stayed for three months. He was ready to sail for Syria, but some evil people were planning something against him. So Paul decided to go back through Macedonia to Syria.<sup>4</sup> The men who went with him were Sopater son of Pyrrhus, from the city of Berea; Aristarchus and Secundus, from the city of Thessalonica; Gaius, from Derbe; Timothy; and Tychicus and Trophimus, two men from the country of Asia.<sup>5</sup> These men went on ahead and waited for us at Troas.<sup>6</sup> We sailed from Philippi after the Feast of Unleavened Bread. Five days later we met them in Troas, where we stayed for seven days.

Paul's Last Visit to Troas

<sup>7</sup>On the first day of the week, we all met together to break bread, and Paul spoke to the group. Because he was planning to leave the next day, he kept on talking until midnight. <sup>8</sup>We were all together in a room upstairs, and there were many lamps in the room. <sup>9</sup>A young man named Eutychus was sitting in the window. As Paul continued talking, Eutychus was falling into a deep sleep. Finally, he went sound asleep and fell to the ground from the third floor. When they picked him up, he was dead. <sup>10</sup>Paul went down to Eutychus, knelt down, and put his arms around him. He said, “Don’t worry. He is alive now.” <sup>11</sup>Then Paul went upstairs again, broke bread, and ate. He spoke to them a long time, until it was early morning, and then he left. <sup>12</sup>They took the young man home alive and were greatly comforted.

The Trip from Troas to Miletus

<sup>13</sup>We went on ahead of Paul and sailed for the city of Assos, where he wanted to join us on the ship. Paul planned it this way because he wanted to go to Assos by land. <sup>14</sup>When he met us there, we took him aboard and went to Mitylene. <sup>15</sup>We sailed from Mitylene and the next day came to a place near Kios. The following day we sailed to Samos, and the next day we reached Miletus. <sup>16</sup>Paul had already decided not to stop at Ephesus, because he did not want to stay too long in the country of Asia. He was hurrying to be in Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost, if that were possible.

The Elders from Ephesus

<sup>17</sup>Now from Miletus Paul sent to Ephesus and called for the elders of the church. <sup>18</sup>When they came to him, he said, “You know about my life from the first day I came to Asia. You know the way I lived all the time I was with you. <sup>19</sup>The evil people made plans against me, which troubled me very much. But you know I always served the Lord unselfishly, and I often cried. <sup>20</sup>You know I preached to you and did not hold back anything that would help you. You know that I taught you in public and in your homes. <sup>21</sup>I warned both Jews and Greeks to change their lives and turn to God and believe in our Lord Jesus. <sup>22</sup>But now I must obey the Holy Spirit and go to Jerusalem. I don't know what will happen to me there. <sup>23</sup>I know only that in every city the Holy Spirit tells me that troubles and even jail wait for me. <sup>24</sup>I don't care about my own life. The most important thing is that I complete my mission, the work that the Lord Jesus gave me—to tell people the Good News about God's grace.

<sup>25</sup>“And now, I know that none of you among whom I was preaching the kingdom of God will ever see me again. <sup>26</sup>So today I tell you that if any of you should be lost, I am not responsible, <sup>27</sup>because I have told you everything God wants you to know. <sup>28</sup>Be careful for yourselves and for all the people the Holy Spirit has given to you to care for. You must be like shepherds to the church of God, which he bought with the death of his own son. <sup>29</sup>I know that after I leave, some people will come like wild wolves and try to destroy the flock. <sup>30</sup>Also, some from your own group will rise up and twist the truth and will lead away followers after them. <sup>31</sup>So be careful! Always remember that for three years, day and night, I never stopped warning each of you, and I often cried over you.

<sup>32</sup>“Now I am putting you in the care of God and the message about his grace. It is able to give you strength, and it will give you the blessings God has for all his holy people. <sup>33</sup>When I was with you, I never wanted anyone's money or fine clothes. <sup>34</sup>You know I always worked to take care of my own needs and the needs of those who were with me. <sup>35</sup>I showed you in all things that you should work as I did and help the weak. I taught you to remember the words Jesus said: ‘It is more blessed to give than to receive.’”

<sup>36</sup>When Paul had said this, he knelt down with all of them and prayed. <sup>37-38</sup>And they all cried because Paul had said they would never see him again. They put their arms around him and kissed him. Then they went with him to the ship.

Acts 21:1–40

Situation

After an emotional goodbye, Paul continued to visit many other churches throughout the region. When he was warned that he would be captured by the Jews and imprisoned, Paul assured the people that he was ready to die for the sake of the gospel.

Observation

Paul met hardships with the confidence that God's will would be accomplished.

Inspiration

In Poland, ... Father Jerzy felt a call to lay down his own life for his brothers.

Soon after the birth of Solidarity, Father Jerzy preached among the striking workers in Warsaw's huge steel works. He showed them how alcohol contributed to their oppression: If their drinking caused absenteeism or mistakes at work, it could be used to blackmail them. After that, alcoholism dropped dramatically.

... Not long after martial law was imposed and his foray into the night with Christmas peace for the soldiers, Father Jerzy instituted a monthly "Mass for the Homeland," dedicated to all victims of the repressive regime. Eventually thousands, then tens of thousands, attended these services at St. Stanislaw Kostka, with Father Jerzy ministering from a balcony and the people fanned out in the courtyard and streets below.

... Father Jerzy's influence did not escape the notice of the authorities. He was far too popular, far too independent, far too threatening to the regime's control. He must be silenced.

The secret police followed Father Jerzy everywhere. He received unsigned, threatening letters. On the first anniversary of martial law, a pipe bomb sailed through the front window of his small flat, exploding in his sitting room.

Then, on October 19, 1984, while driving back to Warsaw from Bydgoszcz where he had celebrated a special mass and delivered a homily called "Overcome Evil with Good," Father Jerzy disappeared.

On the last Sunday of October, as fifty thousand people filled St. Stanislaw Kostka in an emotional Mass for the Homeland and listened in tears to a tape of Father Jerzy's final sermon, Father Antoni Lewek, one of the thirty priests at the altar, received word: "Just a moment ago it was announced on the television that Father Jerzy's body has been found in the Vistula River."

Months later Father Lewek recalled the scene as he told the people the dreaded news.

"I shall never forget what happened," he said. "In a second, people went down on their knees, crying and shouting; what they had feared the most had happened ...

"And then something very moving happened. This crying crowd managed to show that they could forgive. Three times they repeated after the priest:

‘And forgive us our trespasses as we forgive them that trespass against us.’ It was a Christian answer to the unchristian deed of the murders.”

... On November 2, the day after Father Jerzy’s funeral, people marched the streets past the secret police headquarters bearing banners reading, “We forgive.”

Regardless of their expertise in murdering the body, the executioners could not kill the soul. Father Jerzy had taught his people well.

Paul Goes to Jerusalem

After we all said goodbye to them, we sailed straight to the island of Cos. The next day we reached Rhodes, and from there we went to Patara.<sup>2</sup>There we found a ship going to Phoenicia, so we went aboard and sailed away.<sup>3</sup>We sailed near the island of Cyprus, seeing it to the north, but we sailed on to Syria. We stopped at Tyre because the ship needed to unload its cargo there.<sup>4</sup>We found some followers in Tyre and stayed with them for seven days. Through the Holy Spirit they warned Paul not to go to Jerusalem.<sup>5</sup>When we finished our visit, we left and continued our trip. All the followers, even the women and children, came outside the city with us. After we all knelt on the beach and prayed,<sup>6</sup>we said goodbye and got on the ship, and the followers went back home.

<sup>7</sup>We continued our trip from Tyre and arrived at Ptolemais, where we greeted the believers and stayed with them for a day.<sup>8</sup>The next day we left Ptolemais and went to the city of Caesarea. There we went into the home of Philip the preacher, one of the seven helpers, and stayed with him.<sup>9</sup>He had four unmarried daughters who had the gift of prophesying.<sup>10</sup>After we had been there for some time, a prophet named Agabus arrived from Judea.<sup>11</sup>He came to us and borrowed Paul's belt and used it to tie his own hands and feet. He said, "The Holy Spirit says, 'This is how evil people in Jerusalem will tie up the man who wears this belt. Then they will give him to the older leaders.’”

<sup>12</sup>When we all heard this, we and the people there begged Paul not to go to Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup>But he said, “Why are you crying and making me so sad? I am not only ready to be tied up in Jerusalem, I am ready to die for the Lord Jesus!”

<sup>14</sup>We could not persuade him to stay away from Jerusalem. So we stopped begging him and said, “We pray that what the Lord wants will be done.”

<sup>15</sup>After this, we got ready and started on our way to Jerusalem. <sup>16</sup>Some of the followers from Caesarea went with us and took us to the home of Mnason, where we would stay. He was from Cyprus and was one of the first followers.

Paul Visits James

<sup>17</sup>In Jerusalem the believers were glad to see us. <sup>18</sup>The next day Paul went with us to visit James, and all the elders were there. <sup>19</sup>Paul greeted them and told them everything God had done among the other nations through him. <sup>20</sup>When they heard this, they praised God. Then they said to Paul, “Brother, you can see that many thousands of our people have become believers. And they think it is very important to obey the law of Moses. <sup>21</sup>They have heard about your teaching, that you tell our people who live among the nations to leave the law of Moses. They have heard that you tell them not to circumcise their children and not to obey customs. <sup>22</sup>What should we do? They will learn that you have come. <sup>23</sup>So we will tell you what to do: Four of our men have made a promise to God. <sup>24</sup>Take these men with you and share in their cleansing ceremony. Pay their expenses so they can shave their heads. Then it will prove to everyone that what they have heard about you is not true and that you follow the law of Moses in your own life.<sup>25</sup>We have already sent a letter to the non-Jewish believers. The letter said: ‘Do not eat food that has been offered to idols, or blood, or animals that have been strangled. Do not take part in sexual sin.’”

<sup>26</sup>The next day Paul took the four men and shared in the cleansing ceremony with them. Then he went to the Temple and announced the time when the days of the cleansing ceremony would be finished. On the last day an offering would be given for each of the men.

<sup>27</sup>When the seven days were almost over, some of his people from Asia saw Paul at the Temple. They caused all the people to be upset and grabbed Paul.<sup>28</sup>They shouted, “People of Israel, help us! This is the man who goes everywhere teaching against the law of Moses, against our people, and against this Temple. Now he has brought some Greeks into the Temple and has made this holy place unclean!”<sup>29</sup>(They said this because they had seen Trophimus, a man from Ephesus, with Paul in Jerusalem. They thought that Paul had brought him into the Temple.)<sup>30</sup>All the people in Jerusalem became upset. Together they ran, took Paul, and dragged him out of the Temple. The Temple doors were closed immediately.<sup>31</sup>While they were trying to kill Paul, the commander of the Roman army in Jerusalem learned that there was trouble in the whole city.<sup>32</sup>Immediately he took some officers and soldiers and ran to the place where the crowd was gathered. When the people saw them, they stopped beating Paul.<sup>33</sup>The commander went to Paul and arrested him. He told his soldiers to tie Paul with two chains. Then he asked who he was and what he had done wrong. <sup>34</sup>Some in the crowd were yelling one thing, and some were yelling another. Because of all this confusion and shouting, the commander could not learn what had happened. So he ordered the soldiers to take Paul to the army building. <sup>35</sup>When Paul came to the steps, the soldiers had to carry him because the people were ready to hurt him. <sup>36</sup>The whole mob was following them, shouting, “Kill him!”

<sup>37</sup>As the soldiers were about to take Paul into the army building, he spoke to the commander, “May I say something to you?”

The commander said, “Do you speak Greek? <sup>38</sup>I thought you were the Egyptian who started some trouble against the government not long ago and led four thousand killers out to the desert.”

<sup>39</sup>Paul said, “No, I am a Jew from Tarsus in the country of Cilicia. I am a citizen of that important city. Please, let me speak to the people.”

<sup>40</sup>The commander gave permission, so Paul stood on the steps and waved his hand to quiet the people. When there was silence, he spoke to them in the Hebrew language.

The sword of God's Holy Spirit is the Bible, the Word of God. When the Holy Spirit goes into action in your life, more than dust flies! Your bad thoughts come under control, your bad actions wither and decline, and all the good things within you flourish and blossom. Good intentions that were never put into effect can now become a way of life. Bad habits you couldn't conquer come under the knife of the Master Surgeon.

All this from Bible reading? Yes, but there is one vital factor I haven't mentioned: Read to discover what God wants you to do, and do it. Those who read the Bible as interesting literature will not find it very exciting; those who read it as God's guidebook for their lives will find it to be a fascinating adventure....

The Bible is "the sword of the Spirit" that cuts deep into our lives, opening the festering spiritual sores so that the healing of the Spirit can occur. Thus new life grows and flourishes. (From Next Steps for

Paul Speaks to the People

Paul said, “Friends, fellow Jews, listen to my defense to you.”<sup>2</sup>When they heard him speaking the Hebrew language, they became very quiet. Paul said,<sup>3</sup>“I am a Jew, born in Tarsus in the country of Cilicia, but I grew up in this city. I was a student of Gamaliel, who carefully taught me everything about the law of our ancestors. I was very serious about serving God, just as are all of you here today.<sup>4</sup>I persecuted the people who followed the Way of Jesus, and some of them were even killed. I arrested men and women and put them in jail.<sup>5</sup>The high priest and the whole council of older leaders can tell you this is true. They gave me letters to the brothers in Damascus. So I was going there to arrest these people and bring them back to Jerusalem to be punished.

<sup>6</sup>“About noon when I came near Damascus, a bright light from heaven suddenly flashed all around me.<sup>7</sup>I fell to the ground and heard a voice saying, ‘Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me?’<sup>8</sup>I asked, ‘Who are you, Lord?’ The voice said, ‘I am Jesus from Nazareth whom you are persecuting.’<sup>9</sup>Those who were with me did not hear the voice, but they saw the light.<sup>10</sup>I said, ‘What shall I do, Lord?’ The Lord answered, ‘Get up and go to Damascus. There you will be told about all the things I have planned for you to do.’<sup>11</sup>I could not see, because the bright light had made me blind. So my companions led me into Damascus.

<sup>12</sup>“There a man named Ananias came to me. He was a religious man; he obeyed the law of Moses, and all the Jews who lived there respected him. <sup>13</sup>He stood by me and said, ‘Brother Saul, see again!’ Immediately I was able to see him. <sup>14</sup>He said, ‘The God of our ancestors chose you long ago to know his plan, to see the Righteous One, and to hear words from him. <sup>15</sup>You will be his witness to all people, telling them about what you have seen and heard. <sup>16</sup>Now, why wait any longer? Get up, be baptized, and wash your sins away, trusting in him to save you.’

<sup>17</sup>“Later, when I returned to Jerusalem, I was praying in the Temple, and I saw a vision. <sup>18</sup>I saw the Lord saying to me, ‘Hurry! Leave Jerusalem now! The people here will not accept the truth about me.’ <sup>19</sup>But I said, ‘Lord, they know that in every synagogue I put the believers in jail and beat them. <sup>20</sup>They also know I was there when Stephen, your witness, was killed. I stood there agreeing and holding the coats of those who were killing him!’ <sup>21</sup>But the Lord said to me, ‘Leave now. I will send you far away to the other nations.’”

<sup>22</sup>The crowd listened to Paul until he said this. Then they began shouting, “Kill him! Get him out of the world! He should not be allowed to live!” <sup>23</sup>They shouted, threw off their coats, and threw dust into the air.

<sup>24</sup>Then the commander ordered the soldiers to take Paul into the army building and beat him. He wanted to make Paul tell why the people were shouting against him like this. <sup>25</sup>But as the soldiers were tying him up, preparing to beat him, Paul said to an officer nearby, “Do you have the right to beat a Roman citizen who has not been proven guilty?”

<sup>26</sup>When the officer heard this, he went to the commander and reported it. The officer said, “Do you know what you are doing? This man is a Roman citizen.”

<sup>27</sup>The commander came to Paul and said, “Tell me, are you really a Roman citizen?”

He answered, “Yes.”

<sup>28</sup>The commander said, “I paid a lot of money to become a Roman citizen.”

But Paul said, “I was born a citizen.”

<sup>29</sup>The men who were preparing to question Paul moved away from him immediately. The commander was frightened because he had already tied Paul, and Paul was a Roman citizen.

Among presidents, Abraham Lincoln stands head and shoulders above the rest. . . . [He said] “I desire to so conduct the affairs of this administration that if, at the end, when I come to lay down the reins of power, I have lost every other friend on earth, I shall at least have one friend left, and that friend shall be deep down inside me... I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live up to the light I have... Let us have the faith that right makes might, and in that faith, let us, to the end, dare to do our duty as we understand it...

Intelligence, patriotism, Christianity, and a firm reliance on Him, who has never forsaken this favored land, are still competent to adjust, in the best way, our present difficulties....”

The “present difficulties” of Lincoln’s day were hard but no harder than the present difficulties of our day. The power that Lincoln knew a faithful God could supply is still available. But Christians also have the same responsibility that Lincoln had—to stand for the right. It is a lonely, risky position, but as we stand for the right, God will supply the might. ## Paul Speaks to Leaders <sup>30</sup>The next day the commander decided to learn why the Jews were accusing Paul. So he ordered the leading priests and the council to meet. The commander took Paul's chains off. Then he brought Paul out and stood him before their meeting.

Paul looked at the council and said, “Brothers, I have lived my life without guilt feelings before God up to this day.” <sup>2</sup>Ananias, the high priest, heard this and told the men who were standing near Paul to hit him on the mouth. <sup>3</sup>Paul said to Ananias, “God will hit you, too! You are like a wall that has been painted white. You sit there and judge me, using the law of Moses, but you are telling them to hit me, and that is against the law.”

<sup>4</sup>The men standing near Paul said to him, “You cannot insult God’s high priest like that!”

<sup>5</sup>Paul said, “Brothers, I did not know this man was the high priest. It is written in the Scriptures, ‘You must not curse a leader of your people.’”

<sup>6</sup>Some of the men in the meeting were Sadducees, and others were Pharisees. Knowing this, Paul shouted to them, “My brothers, I am a Pharisee, and my father was a Pharisee. I am on trial here because I believe that people will rise from the dead.”

<sup>7</sup>When Paul said this, there was an argument between the Pharisees and the Sadducees, and the group was divided. <sup>8</sup>(The Sadducees do not believe in angels or spirits or that people will rise from the dead. But the Pharisees believe in them all.) <sup>9</sup>So there was a great uproar. Some of the teachers of the law, who were Pharisees, stood up and argued, “We find nothing wrong with this man. Maybe an angel or a spirit did speak to him.”

<sup>10</sup>The argument was beginning to turn into such a fight that the commander was afraid some evil people would tear Paul to pieces. So he told the soldiers to go down and take Paul away and put him in the army building.

“Be brave! You have told people in Jerusalem about me. You must do the same in Rome.”

<sup>12</sup>In the morning some evil people made a plan to kill Paul, and they took an oath not to eat or drink anything until they had killed him. <sup>13</sup>There were more than forty men who made this plan. <sup>14</sup>They went to the leading priests and the older leaders and said, “We have taken an oath not to eat or drink until we have killed Paul. <sup>15</sup>So this is what we want you to do: Send a message to the commander to bring Paul out to you as though you want to ask him more questions. We will be waiting to kill him while he is on the way here.”

<sup>16</sup>But Paul’s nephew heard about this plan and went to the army building and told Paul. <sup>17</sup>Then Paul called one of the officers and said, “Take this young man to the commander. He has a message for him.”

<sup>18</sup>So the officer brought Paul’s nephew to the commander and said, “The prisoner, Paul, asked me to bring this young man to you. He wants to tell you something.”

<sup>19</sup>The commander took the young man’s hand and led him to a place where they could be alone. He asked, “What do you want to tell me?”

<sup>20</sup>The young man said, “The Jews have decided to ask you to bring Paul down to their council meeting tomorrow. They want you to think they are going to ask him more questions. <sup>21</sup>But don’t believe them! More than forty men are hiding and waiting to kill Paul. They have all taken an oath not to eat or drink until they have killed him. Now they are waiting for you to agree.”

<sup>22</sup>The commander sent the young man away, ordering him, “Don’t tell anyone that you have told me about their plan.”

Paul Is Sent to Caesarea

<sup>23</sup>Then the commander called two officers and said, “I need some men to go to Caesarea. Get two hundred soldiers, seventy horsemen, and two hundred men with spears ready to leave at nine o’clock tonight. <sup>24</sup>Get some horses for Paul to ride so he can be taken to Governor Felix safely.” <sup>25</sup>And he wrote a letter that said:

<sup>26</sup>From Claudius Lysias.

To the Most Excellent Governor Felix
Greetings.

<sup>27</sup>Some of the Jews had taken this man and planned to kill him. But I learned that he is a Roman citizen, so I went with my soldiers and saved him. <sup>28</sup>I wanted to know why they were accusing him, so I brought him before their council meeting. <sup>29</sup>I learned that these people said Paul did some things that were wrong by their own laws, but no charge was worthy of jail or death. <sup>30</sup>When I was told that some of them were planning to kill Paul, I sent him to you at once. I also told them to tell you what they have against him.

<sup>31</sup>So the soldiers did what they were told and took Paul and brought him to the city of Antipatris that night. <sup>32</sup>The next day the horsemen went with Paul to Caesarea, but the other soldiers went back to the army building in Jerusalem. <sup>33</sup>When the horsemen came to Caesarea and gave the letter to the governor, they turned Paul over to him. <sup>34</sup>The governor read the letter and asked Paul, “What area are you from?” When he learned that Paul was from Cilicia, <sup>35</sup>he said, “I will hear your case when those who are against you come here, too.” Then the governor gave orders for Paul to be kept under guard in Herod’s palace.

Life Lessons

Acts 24:1–27

Situation

Foiled in their attempts to kill Paul, the priests hoped to manipulate the law against him before the Roman governor. Paul became Christ's mouthpiece; he defended himself and his faith against their accusations. Paul's powerful arguments thwarted the priests and won new converts at the governor's court, although some remained hesitant to receive God's Word.

Observation

Although God's wisdom is wiser than any other type of wisdom, some non-Christians will never accept it.

Inspiration

Most people I know look forward to payday. You do too, right? For a week, or perhaps a two-week period, you give time and effort to your job. When payday arrives, you receive a hard-earned, well-deserved paycheck....

But with God the economy is altogether different. There is no wage relationship with God. Spiritually speaking, you and I haven't earned anything but death....

Everyone who hopes to be eternally justified must come to God the same way: on the basis of grace; it is a gift. And that gift comes to us absolutely free. Any other view of salvation is heresy, plain and simple....

We being justified by faith, not works, get the one thing we've longed for—peace with God. Is it through our merits? Not at all. The verse states we've been justified by faith. It is through Jesus Christ our Lord who paid the absolute, final payment for sin when He died in our place at the Cross. Sin against God required the payment of death. And Jesus Christ, the perfect Substitute, made the ultimate, once-and-for-all payment on our behalf. It cost Him His life. As a result, God gives the free gift of salvation to all who believe in His Son...

Wonderful! Marvelous reassurance!

“You're telling me, Chuck, that by simply believing in Jesus Christ I can have eternal life with God, my sins forgiven, a destiny secure in heaven, all of this and much more without my working for that?” Yes, that is precisely what Scripture teaches. I remind you, it is called grace.

Application

You've probably met people who attend church regularly but are unmoved by the preaching of God's Word. Their attendance seems more of a social obligation than a means for sharing and being enriched with God's Word. Is that how life is for you or your family? Think about your relationship with Christ. Does it have a true and real meaning? Make your goal next Sunday to worship God through active participation and listening.

Paul Is Accused

Five days later Ananias, the high priest, went to the city of Caesarea with some of the older leaders and a lawyer named Tertullus. They had come to make charges against Paul before the governor. <sup>2</sup>Paul was called into the meeting, and Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, “Most Excellent Felix! Our people enjoy much peace because of you, and many wrong things in our country are being made right through your wise help. <sup>3</sup>We accept these things always and in every place, and we are thankful for them. <sup>4</sup>But not wanting to take any more of your time, I beg you to be kind and listen to our few words. <sup>5</sup>We have found this man to be a troublemaker, stirring up his people everywhere in the world. He is a leader of the Nazarene group. <sup>6</sup>Also, he was trying to make the Temple unclean, but we stopped him. <sup>7</sup>By asking him questions yourself, you can decide if all these things are true.” <sup>8</sup>The others agreed and said that all of this was true.

<sup>10</sup>When the governor made a sign for Paul to speak, Paul said, “Governor Felix, I know you have been a judge over this nation for a long time. So I am happy to defend myself before you. <sup>11</sup>You can learn for yourself that I went to worship in Jerusalem only twelve days ago. <sup>12</sup>Those who are accusing me did not find me arguing with anyone in the Temple or stirring up the people in the synagogues or in the city. <sup>13</sup>They cannot prove the things they are saying against me now. <sup>14</sup>But I will tell you this: I worship the God of our ancestors as a follower of the Way of Jesus. The others say that the Way of Jesus is not the right way. But I believe everything that is taught in the law of Moses and that is written in the books of the Prophets. <sup>15</sup>I have the same hope in God that they have—the hope that all people, good and bad, will surely be raised from the dead. <sup>16</sup>This is why I always try to do what I believe is right before God and people.

<sup>17</sup>“After being away from Jerusalem for several years, I went back to bring money to my people and to offer sacrifices. <sup>18</sup>I was doing this when they found me in the Temple. I had finished the cleansing ceremony and had not made any trouble; no people were gathering around me. <sup>19</sup>But there were some people from the country of Asia who should be here, standing before you. If I have really done anything wrong, they are the ones who should accuse me. <sup>20</sup>Or ask these people here if they found any wrong in me when I stood before the council in Jerusalem. <sup>21</sup>But I did shout one thing when I stood before them: ‘You are judging me today because I believe that people will rise from the dead!’”

<sup>22</sup>Felix already understood much about the Way of Jesus. He stopped the trial and said, “When commander Lysias comes here, I will decide your case.” <sup>23</sup>Felix told the officer to keep Paul guarded but to give him some freedom and to let his friends bring what he needed.

Paul Speaks to Felix and His Wife

Jewish, and asked for Paul to be brought to him. He listened to Paul talk about believing in Christ Jesus.<sup>25</sup> But Felix became afraid when Paul spoke about living right, self-control, and the time when God will judge the world. He said, “Go away now. When I have more time, I will call for you.”<sup>26</sup> At the same time Felix hoped that Paul would give him some money, so he often sent for Paul and talked with him.

<sup>27</sup>But after two years, Felix was replaced by Porcius Festus as governor. But Felix had left Paul in prison to please the Jews.

Situation

After two years in prison, Paul awaited a new trial before the Romans and the Jews. He hoped his appeal to be heard by Caesar would fulfill part of his task to spread the gospel.

Observation

Paul never lost hope or vision and made the most of his Situation to obtain safe passage to Rome to await trial. While preaching to everyone he came in touch with, Paul developed a positive and respected reputation among those he met.

Inspiration

Earl Palmer, in a fine little book entitled The Enormous Exception, tells the story of a pre-med student at the University of California, Berkeley “who became a Christian after a long journey through doubts and questions.” When Palmer asked the young man why he had chosen Jesus Christ, he answered that what had “tipped the scales” in his spiritual journey were the actions of a classmate who happened to be a Christian.

During the previous term the pre-med student had been very ill with the flu and, as a result, had missed ten days of school. “Without any fanfare or complaints,” his Christian classmate carefully collected all his class assignments and took time away from his own studies to help him catch up.

The pre-med student told Palmer, “You know, this kind of thing just isn’t done. I wanted to know what made this guy act the way he did. I even found myself asking if I could go to church with him.”

Paul Asks to See Caesar

Three days after Festus became governor, he went from Caesarea to Jerusalem.<sup>2</sup> There the leading priests and the important leaders made charges against Paul before Festus.<sup>3</sup> They asked Festus to do them a favor. They wanted him to send Paul back to Jerusalem, because they had a plan to kill him on the way.<sup>4</sup> But Festus answered that Paul would be kept in Caesarea and that he himself was returning there soon.<sup>5</sup> He said, “Some of your leaders should go with me. They can accuse the man there in Caesarea, if he has really done something wrong.”

<sup>6</sup>Festus stayed in Jerusalem another eight or ten days and then went back to Caesarea. The next day he told the soldiers to bring Paul before him. Festus was seated on the judge’s seat<sup>7</sup> when Paul came into the room. The people who had come from Jerusalem stood around him, making serious charges against him, which they could not prove.<sup>8</sup> This is what Paul said to defend himself: “I have done nothing wrong against the law, against the Temple, or against Caesar.”

<sup>9</sup>But Festus wanted to please the people. So he asked Paul, “Do you want to go to Jerusalem for me to judge you there on these charges?”

<sup>10</sup>Paul said, “I am standing at Caesar’s judgment seat now, where I should be judged. I have done nothing wrong to them; you know this is true.<sup>11</sup> If I have done something wrong and the law says I must die, I do not ask to be saved from death. But if these charges are not true, then no one can give me to them. I want Caesar to hear my case!”

<sup>12</sup>Festus talked about this with his advisers. Then he said, “You have asked to see Caesar, so you will go to Caesar!”

Paul Before King Agrippa

<sup>13</sup>A few days later King Agrippa and Bernice came to Caesarea to visit Festus. <sup>14</sup>They stayed there for some time, and Festus told the king about Paul’s case. Festus said, “There is a man that Felix left in prison. <sup>15</sup>When I went to Jerusalem, the leading priests and the older leaders there made charges against him, asking me to sentence him to death. <sup>16</sup>But I answered, ‘When a man is accused of a crime, Romans do not hand him over until he has been allowed to face his accusers and defend himself against their charges.’ <sup>17</sup>So when these people came here to Caesarea for the trial, I did not waste time. The next day I sat on the judge’s seat and commanded that the man be brought in. <sup>18</sup>They stood up and accused him, but not of any serious crime as I thought they would. <sup>19</sup>The things they said were about their own religion and about a man named Jesus who died. But Paul said that he is still alive. <sup>20</sup>Not knowing how to find out about these questions, I asked Paul, ‘Do you want to go to Jerusalem and be judged there?’ <sup>21</sup>But he asked to be kept in Caesarea. He wants a decision from the emperor. So I ordered that he be held until I could send him to Caesar.”

Festus said, “Tomorrow you will hear him.”

<sup>23</sup>The next day Agrippa and Bernice appeared with great show, acting like very important people. They went into the judgment room with the army leaders and the important men of Caesarea. Then Festus ordered the soldiers to bring Paul in. <sup>24</sup>Festus said, “King Agrippa and all who are gathered here with us, you see this man. All the people, here and in Jerusalem, have complained to me about him, shouting that he should not live any longer. <sup>25</sup>When I judged him, I found no reason to order his death. But since he asked to be judged by Caesar, I decided to send him. <sup>26</sup>But I have nothing definite to write the emperor about him. So I have brought him before all of you—especially you, King Agrippa. I hope you can question him and give me something to write. <sup>27</sup>I think it is foolish to send a prisoner to Caesar without telling what charges are against him.”

Acts 26:1–32

Situation

Festus asked Agrippa for advice on Paul's case. When Agrippa asked to hear Paul's case, Paul recounted how Jesus had changed his life.

Observation

Christ fills a Believer's new life with joy, hope, love, and peace. People still in the "old life" can see the difference but do not always understand it.

Inspiration

It is possible for God's people to live in moderation, wisdom, and exuberant joy. We can so conduct ourselves amid a corrupt society and sick culture that we are a credit to our Master. . . .

My walk with God need not in any sense be a spectacular display of special dedication. It need not have any carnival atmosphere about it to be convincing. I don't have to indulge in theatrics to impress either Him or other human beings.

What He desires most is that I walk with Him humbly, quietly, and obediently. The communion between shepherd and sheep is sweet and secure because He knows me and I know Him! (From A Shepherd Looks at the Good Shepherd and His Sheep by Phillip Keller)

Paul Defends Himself

Agrippa said to Paul, “You may now speak to defend yourself.”

Then Paul raised his hand and began to speak. <sup>2</sup>He said, “King Agrippa, I am very happy to stand before you and will answer all the charges the evil people make against me. <sup>3</sup>You know so much about all the customs and the things they argue about, so please listen to me patiently.

<sup>4</sup>“All my people know about my whole life, how I lived from the beginning in my own country and later in Jerusalem. <sup>5</sup>They have known me for a long time. If they want to, they can tell you that I was a good Pharisee. And the Pharisees obey the laws of my tradition more carefully than any other group. <sup>6</sup>Now I am on trial because I hope for the promise that God made to our ancestors. <sup>7</sup>This is the promise that the twelve tribes of our people hope to receive as they serve God day and night. My king, they have accused me because I hope for this same promise! <sup>8</sup>Why do any of you people think it is impossible for God to raise people from the dead?

<sup>9</sup>“I, too, thought I ought to do many things against Jesus from Nazareth. <sup>10</sup>And that is what I did in Jerusalem. The leading priests gave me the power to put many of God’s people in jail, and when they were being killed, I agreed it was a good thing. <sup>11</sup>In every synagogue, I often punished them and tried to make them speak against Jesus. I was so angry against them I even went to other cities to find them and punish them.

<sup>12</sup>“One time the leading priests gave me permission and the power to go to Damascus. <sup>13</sup>On the way there, at noon, I saw a light from heaven. It was brighter than the sun and flashed all around me and those who were traveling with me. <sup>14</sup>We all fell to the ground. Then I heard a voice speaking to me in the Hebrew language, saying, ‘Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me? You are only hurting yourself by fighting me.’ <sup>15</sup>I said, ‘Who are you, Lord?’ The Lord said, ‘I am Jesus, the one you are persecuting. <sup>16</sup>Stand up! I have chosen you to be my servant and my witness—you will tell people the things that you have seen and the things that I will show you. This is why I have come to you today. <sup>17</sup>I will keep you safe from your own people and also from the others. I am sending you to them <sup>18</sup>to open their eyes so that they may turn away from darkness to the light, away from the power of Satan and to God. Then their sins can be forgiven, and they can have a place with those people who have been made holy by believing in me.’

<sup>19</sup>“King Agrippa, after I had this vision from heaven, I obeyed it. <sup>20</sup>I began telling people that they should change their hearts and lives and turn to God and do things to show they really had changed. I told this first to those in Damascus, then in Jerusalem, and in every part of Judea, and also to the other people. <sup>21</sup>This is why the Jews took me and were trying to kill me in the Temple. <sup>22</sup>But God has helped me, and so I stand here today, telling all people, small and great, what I have seen. But I am saying only what Moses and the prophets said would happen— <sup>23</sup>that the Christ would die, and as the first to rise from the dead, he would bring light to all people.”

Paul Tries to Persuade Agrippa

<sup>24</sup>While Paul was saying these things to defend himself, Festus said loudly, “Paul, you are out of your mind! Too much study has driven you crazy!”

<sup>25</sup>Paul said, “Most excellent Festus, I am not crazy. My words are true and sensible. <sup>26</sup>King Agrippa knows about these things, and I can speak freely to him. I know he has heard about all of these things, because they did not happen off in a corner. <sup>27</sup>King Agrippa, do you believe what the prophets wrote? I know you believe.”

<sup>28</sup>King Agrippa said to Paul, “Do you think you can persuade me to become a Christian in such a short time?”

<sup>29</sup>Paul said, “Whether it is a short or a long time, I pray to God that not only you but every person listening to me today would be saved and be like me—except for these chains I have.”

<sup>30</sup>Then King Agrippa, Governor Festus, Bernice, and all the people sitting with them stood up <sup>31</sup>and left the room. Talking to each other, they said, “There is no reason why this man should die or be put in jail.” <sup>32</sup>And Agrippa said to Festus, “We could let this man go free, but he has asked Caesar to hear his case.”

Life Lessons

Acts 27:1–44

Situation

Paul proved to be a calming presence on board the ship as he was taken to Rome. His faith and confidence remained like a rock when trouble engulfed the ship.

Observation

Trust in God to fulfill his promises. He provides hope when there seems to be no way out.

Inspiration

The love of God is a subject that can never be exhausted. No human mind will ever be able to fathom it....

Think of all the hymns and poems that have been composed in praise of the love of God, the books that have been written, the messages that have been preached. And yet that is not enough. God's will is that His love be manifested in our lives! The world today is dying for lack of love, and only Christians can really fill the need.

We should never lose a sense of wonder that God's love for us is so undeserved.

We should love Him with a love that is undivided, obedient, and worshipful, allowing no rival to share the throne with Him.

We should love our brothers and sisters in Christ without regard to denominations or religious labels. John insists that if we do not love our brothers whom we have seen we cannot love God whom we have not seen.

When this is our spiritual craving, we are getting close to Calvary love. (From Alone in Majesty by William MacDonald)

Application

Imagine yourself on a plane flying through rough weather with engine trouble. Would you be bold enough to provide hope to the person next to you? Would you quickly share Christ with that person? ## Paul Sails for Rome

It was decided that we would sail for Italy. An officer named Julius, who served in the emperor's army, guarded Paul and some other prisoners. <sup>2</sup>We got on a ship that was from the city of Adramyttium and was about to sail to different ports in the country of Asia. Aristarchus, a man from the city of Thessalonica in Macedonia, went with us. <sup>3</sup>The next day we came to Sidon. Julius was very good to Paul and gave him freedom to go visit his friends, who took care of his needs. <sup>4</sup>We left Sidon and sailed close to the island of Cyprus, because the wind was blowing against us. <sup>5</sup>We went across the sea by Cilicia and Pamphylia and landed at the city of Myra, in Lycia. <sup>6</sup>There the officer found a ship from Alexandria that was going to Italy, so he put us on it.

<sup>7</sup>We sailed slowly for many days. We had a hard time reaching Cnidus because the wind was blowing against us, and we could not go any farther. So we sailed by the south side of the island of Crete near Salmone. <sup>8</sup>Sailing past it was hard. Then we came to a place called Fair Havens, near the city of Lasea.

<sup>9</sup>We had lost much time, and it was now dangerous to sail, because it was already after the Day of Cleansing. So Paul warned them, <sup>10</sup>“Men, I can see there will be a lot of trouble on this trip. The ship, the cargo, and even our lives may be lost.”

<sup>11</sup>But the captain and the owner of the ship did not agree with

Paul, and the officer believed what the captain and owner of the ship said.<sup>12</sup> Since that harbor was not a good place for the ship to stay for the winter, most of the men decided that the ship should leave. They hoped we could go to Phoenix and stay there for the winter. Phoenix, a city on the island of Crete, had a harbor which faced southwest and northwest.

The Storm

<sup>13</sup>When a good wind began to blow from the south, the men on the ship thought, “This is the wind we wanted, and now we have it.” So they pulled up the anchor, and we sailed very close to the island of Crete.<sup>14</sup> But then a very strong wind named the “northeaster” came from the island.<sup>15</sup> The ship was caught in it and could not sail against it. So we stopped trying and let the wind carry us.<sup>16</sup> When we went below a small island named Cauda, we were barely able to bring in the lifeboat.<sup>17</sup> After the men took the lifeboat in, they tied ropes around the ship to hold it together. The men were afraid that the ship would hit the sandbanks of Syrtis, so they lowered the sail and let the wind carry the ship.<sup>18</sup> The next day the storm was blowing us so hard that the men threw out some of the cargo.<sup>19</sup> A day later with their own hands they threw out the ship’s equipment.<sup>20</sup> When we could not see the sun or the stars for many days, and the storm was very bad, we lost all hope of being saved.

<sup>21</sup>After the men had gone without food for a long time, Paul stood up before them and said, “Men, you should have listened to me. You should not have sailed from Crete. Then you would not have all this trouble and loss.<sup>22</sup> But now I tell you to cheer up because none of you will die. Only the ship will be lost.<sup>23</sup>Last night an angel came to me from the God I belong to and worship.<sup>24</sup>The angel said, ‘Paul, do not be afraid. You must stand before Caesar. And God has promised you that he will save the lives of everyone sailing with you.’<sup>25</sup>So men, have courage. I trust in God that everything will happen as his angel told me.<sup>26</sup>But we will crash on an island.”

<sup>27</sup>On the fourteenth night we were still being carried around in the Adriatic Sea. About midnight the sailors thought we were close to land,<sup>28</sup>so they lowered a rope with a weight on the end of it into the water. They found that the water was one hundred twenty feet deep. They went a little farther and lowered the rope again. It was ninety feet deep.<sup>29</sup>The sailors were afraid that we would hit the rocks, so they threw four anchors into the water and prayed for daylight to come.<sup>30</sup>Some of the sailors wanted to leave the ship, and they lowered the lifeboat, pretending they were throwing more anchors from the front of the ship.<sup>31</sup>But Paul told the officer and the other soldiers, “If these men do not stay in the ship, your lives cannot be saved.”<sup>32</sup>So the soldiers cut the ropes and let the lifeboat fall into the water.

<sup>33</sup>Just before dawn Paul began persuading all the people to eat something. He said, “For the past fourteen days you have been waiting and watching and not eating.<sup>34</sup>Now I beg you to eat something. You need it to stay alive. None of you will lose even one hair off your heads.”<sup>35</sup>After he said this, Paul took some bread and thanked God for it before all of them. He broke off a piece and began eating.<sup>36</sup>They all felt better and started eating, too.<sup>37</sup>There were two hundred seventy-six people on the ship.<sup>38</sup>When they had eaten all they wanted, they began making the ship lighter by throwing the grain into the sea.

The Ship Is Destroyed

<sup>39</sup>When daylight came, the sailors saw land. They did not know what land it was, but they saw a bay with a beach and wanted to sail the ship to the beach if they could. <sup>40</sup>So they cut the ropes to the anchors and left the anchors in the sea. At the same time, they untied the ropes that were holding the rudders. Then they raised the front sail into the wind and sailed toward the beach. <sup>41</sup>But the ship hit a sandbank. The front of the ship stuck there and could not move, but the back of the ship began to break up from the big waves.

<sup>42</sup>The soldiers decided to kill the prisoners so none of them could swim away and escape. <sup>43</sup>But Julius, the officer, wanted to let Paul live and did not allow the soldiers to kill the prisoners. Instead he ordered everyone who could swim to jump into the water first and swim to land. <sup>44</sup>The rest were to follow using wooden boards or pieces of the ship. And this is how all the people made it safely to land.

Situation

Paul, Luke, and the others survived the crash. Paul arrived in Rome and attempted to bring the message of Jesus to the Jewish community in Rome, but they rejected the message.

Observation

The message of God is meant for all people. It cannot be limited by race or culture.

Inspiration

There, then, is the watchword of those men of the New Testament and the secret of their amazing, indomitable vitality—never “We are able,” but always “He is able.” God is able! Christ is able! Able to succour the tempted, able to save to the uttermost, able to support and keep you from failing, able to subdue all things to Himself, able to secure you in death’s decisive hour, able to surpass your dreams of immortality. All this is yours and mine, if we are Christ’s.... Why should we not believe it and confide in it, and lift up our hearts to its splendour? ... come, and let us walk in the light of the Lord! ## Paul on the Island of Malta

When we were safe on land, we learned that the island was called Malta.<sup>2</sup>The people who lived there were very good to us. Because it was raining and very cold, they made a fire and welcomed all of us.<sup>3</sup>Paul gathered a pile of sticks and was putting them on the fire when a poisonous snake came out because of the heat and bit him on the hand.<sup>4</sup>The people living on the island saw the snake hanging from Paul's hand and said to each other, "This man must be a murderer! He did not die in the sea, but Justice does not want him to live."<sup>5</sup>But Paul shook the snake off into the fire and was not hurt.<sup>6</sup>The people thought that Paul would swell up or fall down dead. They waited and watched him for a long time, but nothing bad happened to him. So they changed their minds and said, "He is a god!"

<sup>7</sup>There were some fields around there owned by Publius, an important man on the island. He welcomed us into his home and was very good to us for three days.<sup>8</sup>Publius' father was sick with a fever and dysentery. Paul went to him, prayed, and put his hands on the man and healed him.<sup>9</sup>After this, all the other sick people on the island came to Paul, and he healed them, too.<sup>10-11</sup>The people on the island gave us many honors. When we were ready to leave, three months later, they gave us the things we needed.

Paul Goes to Rome

We got on a ship from Alexandria that had stayed on the island during the winter. On the front of the ship was the sign of the twin gods.<sup>12</sup>We stopped at Syracuse for three days.<sup>13</sup>From there we sailed to Rhegium. The next day a wind began to blow from the south, and a day later we came to Puteoli.<sup>14</sup>We found some believers there who asked us to stay with them for a week. Finally, we came to Rome.<sup>15</sup>The believers in Rome heard that we were there and came out as far as the Market of Appius and the Three Inns to meet us. When Paul saw them, he was encouraged and thanked God.

Paul in Rome

<sup>16</sup>When we arrived at Rome, Paul was allowed to live alone, with the soldier who guarded him.

<sup>17</sup>Three days later Paul sent for the leaders there. When they came together, he said, “Brothers, I have done nothing against our people or the customs of our ancestors. But I was arrested in Jerusalem and given to the Romans.<sup>18</sup>After they asked me many questions, they could find no reason why I should be killed. They wanted to let me go free,<sup>19</sup>but the evil people there argued against that. So I had to ask to come to Rome to have my trial before Caesar. But I have no charge to bring against my own people.<sup>20</sup>That is why I wanted to see you and talk with you. I am bound with this chain because I believe in the hope of Israel.”

<sup>21</sup>They answered Paul, “We have received no letters from Judea about you. None of our Jewish brothers who have come from there brought news or told us anything bad about you.

<sup>22</sup>But we want to hear your ideas, because we know that people everywhere are speaking against this religious group.”

<sup>23</sup>Paul and the people chose a day for a meeting and on that day many more of the Jews met with Paul at the place he was staying. He spoke to them all day long. Using the law of Moses and the prophets’ writings, he explained the kingdom of God, and he tried to persuade them to believe these things about Jesus. <sup>24</sup>Some believed what Paul said, but others did not. <sup>25</sup>So they argued and began leaving after Paul said one more thing to them: “The Holy Spirit spoke the truth to your ancestors through Isaiah the prophet, saying,

<sup>26</sup>“Go to this people and say:

You will listen and listen, but you will not understand.

You will look and look, but you will not learn,

<sup>27</sup>because these people have become stubborn.

They don’t hear with their ears,

and they have closed their eyes.

Otherwise, they might really understand

what they see with their eyes

and hear with their ears.

They might really understand in their minds

and come back to me and be healed.’

The Book of Romans

Introduction

At the moment I don't feel too smart. I just got off the wrong plane that took me to the wrong city and left me at the wrong airport. I went east instead of west and ended up in Houston instead of Denver.

It didn't look like the wrong plane, but it was. I walked through the wrong gate, dozed off on the wrong flight, and ended up in the wrong place.

Paul says we've all done the same thing. Not with airplanes and airports, but with our lives and God. He tells the Roman readers,

There is no one who always does what is right, not even one (3:10).

All have sinned and are not good enough for God's glory ... (3:23).

We are all on the wrong plane, he says. All of us. Gentile and Jew. Every person has taken the wrong turn. And we need help.

In this profound Epistle, Paul explores all the wrong options and takes us to the only correct one. The wrong solutions are pleasure and pride (chs. 1 and 2); the correct solution is Christ Jesus (3:21–26). According to Paul, we are saved by grace, (undeserved, unearned favor) through faith (complete trust) in Jesus and his work.

The letter concludes with practical instruction for a growing church, including thoughts on spiritual gifts (12:3–8); genuine love (12:9–21); good citizenship (ch. 13). The final chapters provide brilliant instruction for dealing with everything from church division to difficult brethren.

Romans is a life-changing letter for people who are willing to admit they are sinners. For those who admit they are on the wrong plane, the letter provides the correct itinerary.

Read it and take note. That flight home is one you don't want to miss.

Life Lessons

Romans 1:1–32

Situation

Paul wrote this letter to teach the Christian faith to the first Believers in Rome. He taught that no one deserves God's love.

Observation

Sin paints an ugly picture in people and in a culture. Without God's intervention, we have no way to deal with sin.

Inspiration

What does it mean to be righteous? ...

Righteousness has nothing to do with doing good works, though good works are a byproduct of being righteous. Jesus spoke of God as the only one who is truly good. The word "good" is a synonym for righteous, so it follows that to be righteous is to be like God. But how can anyone be like God, who is holy and perfect?

... Righteousness, meaning to be right or just, begins with believing God. It sounds so simple, but how many times do we disbelieve God? God's formulas are so simple that we ignore them because we think there must be more to it than that.

All sin is rooted in unbelief. All righteousness is rooted in belief. Believe God for all His promises and He will count it unto you as righteousness. Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, God's ultimate standard and incarnation of righteousness, and be saved. Believe in Jesus Christ to deliver you in your day of trouble and learn what the righteousness of Christ can do in and through you. (From Unto the Hills by Billy Graham)

Application

How does the bleak side of life reflect your experience? Is that where you were? Is that where you are? If it is, switch sides—join God's side. If you already have, then thank him throughout the day for his mercy.

Exploration

Righteousness—1 Samuel 26:23; 1 Kings 10:9; Psalm 111:3; Habakkuk 2:4; Zephaniah 2:3; Malachi 4:2; Romans 3:21; 8:10; Galatians 3:11; 2 Timothy 3:16.

From Paul, a servant of Christ Jesus. God called me to be an apostle and chose me to tell the Good News.

<sup>2</sup>God promised this Good News long ago through his prophets, as it is written in the Holy Scriptures. <sup>3-4</sup>The Good News is about God's Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. As a man, he was born from the family of David. But through the Spirit of holiness he was appointed to be God's Son with great power by rising from the dead. <sup>5</sup>Through Christ, God gave me the special work of an apostle, which was to lead people of all nations to believe and obey. I do this work for him. <sup>6</sup>And you who are in Rome are also called to belong to Jesus Christ.

<sup>7</sup>To all of you in Rome whom God loves and has called to be his holy people:

Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

A Prayer of Thanks

<sup>8</sup>First I want to say that I thank my God through Jesus Christ for all of you, because people everywhere in the world are talking about your faith. <sup>9</sup>God, whom I serve with my whole heart by telling the Good News about his Son, knows that I always mention you <sup>10</sup>every time I pray. I pray that I will be allowed to come to you, and this will happen if God wants it. <sup>11</sup>I want very much to see you, to give you some spiritual gift to make you strong. <sup>12</sup>I mean that I want us to help each other with the faith we have. Your faith will help me, and my faith will help you. <sup>13</sup>Brothers and sisters, I want you to know that I planned many times to come to you, but this has not been possible. I wanted to come so that I could help you grow spiritually as I have helped the other non-Jewish people.

<sup>14</sup>I have a duty to all people—Greeks and those who are not Greeks, the wise and the foolish. <sup>15</sup>That is why I want so much to preach the Good News to you in Rome.

<sup>16</sup>I am proud of the Good News, because it is the power God uses to save everyone who believes—to save the Jews first, and also to save those who are not Jews. <sup>17</sup>The Good News shows how God makes people right with himself—that it begins and ends with faith. As the Scripture says, “But those who are right with God will live by trusting in him.”

All People Have Done Wrong

<sup>18</sup>God’s anger is shown from heaven against all the evil and wrong things people do. By their own evil lives they hide the truth. <sup>19</sup>God shows his anger because some knowledge of him has been made clear to them. Yes, God has shown himself to them. <sup>20</sup>There are things about him that people cannot see—his eternal power and all the things that make him God. But since the beginning of the world those things have been easy to understand by what God has made. So people have no excuse for the bad things they do. <sup>21</sup>They knew God, but they did not give glory to God or thank him. Their thinking became useless. Their foolish minds were filled with darkness. <sup>22</sup>They said they were wise, but they became fools. <sup>23</sup>They traded the glory of God who lives forever for the worship of idols made to look like earthly people, birds, animals, and snakes.

<sup>26</sup>Because people did those things, God left them and let them do the shameful things they wanted to do. Women stopped having natural sex and started having sex with other women. <sup>27</sup>In the same way, men stopped having natural sex and began wanting each other. Men did shameful things with other men, and in their bodies they received the punishment for those wrongs.

<sup>28</sup>People did not think it was important to have a true knowledge of God. So God left them and allowed them to have their own worthless thinking and to do things they should not do. <sup>29</sup>They are filled with every kind of sin, evil, selfishness, and hatred. They are full of jealousy, murder, fighting, lying, and thinking the worst about each other. They gossip <sup>30</sup>and say evil things about each other. They hate God. They are rude and conceited and brag about themselves. They invent ways of doing evil. They do not obey their parents. <sup>31</sup>They are foolish, they do not keep their promises, and they show no kindness or mercy to others. <sup>32</sup>They know God's law says that those who live like this should die. But they themselves not only continue to do these evil things, they applaud others who do them.

Life Lessons

Romans 2:1–3:8

Situation

Paul encouraged the church in Rome to be set apart from the world. God made a right relationship with him available to all people.

Observation

God hates sin and desires all to follow him in word and action.

Inspiration

I've wondered, at times, what kind of man this Judas was. What he looked like, how he acted, who his friends were...

But for all the things we don't know about Judas, there is one thing we know for sure: he had no relationship with the Master. He had seen Jesus, but he did not know him. He had heard Jesus, but he did not understand him. He had religion, but no relationship.

As Satan worked his way around the table in the Upper Room, he needed a special kind of man to betray our Lord. He needed a man who had seen Jesus, but did not know him. He needed a man who knew the actions of Jesus, but had missed out on the mission of Jesus. Judas was this man. He knew the empire but had never known the Man.

We learn this timeless lesson from the betrayer. Satan's best tools of destruction are not from outside the church, they are from within the church. A church will never die from the immorality in Hollywood or the corruption in Washington. But it will die from corrosion within—from those who bear the name of Jesus but have never met him, and from those who have religion, but no relationship.

Judas bore the cloak of religion, but he never knew the heart of Christ. Let's make it our goal to know ... deeply.

(From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Application

Spend uninterrupted time with Christ today. Tell him your thoughts, dreams, worries, sins.

Exploration

Relationship with Christ—Matthew 12:50; John 1:12; 15:5; Romans 8:15–17; 2 Corinthians 5:17; 6:18; Philippians 3:8.

You People Also Are Sinful

If you think you can judge others, you are wrong. When you judge them, you are really judging yourself guilty, because you do the same things they do. <sup>2</sup>God judges those who do wrong things, and we know that his judging is right. <sup>3</sup>You judge those who do wrong, but you do wrong yourselves. Do you think you will be able to escape the judgment of God? <sup>4</sup>He has been very kind and patient, waiting for you to change, but you think nothing of his kindness. Perhaps you do not understand that God is kind to you so you will change your hearts and lives. <sup>5</sup>But you are stubborn and refuse to change, so you are making your own punishment even greater on the day he shows his anger. On that day everyone will see God's right judgments. <sup>6</sup>God will reward or punish every person for what that person has done. <sup>7</sup>Some people, by always continuing to do good, live for God's glory, for honor, and for life that has no end. God will give them life forever. <sup>8</sup>But other people are selfish. They refuse to follow truth and, instead, follow evil. God will give them his punishment and anger. <sup>9</sup>He will give trouble and suffering to everyone who does evil—to the Jews first and also to those who are not Jews. <sup>10</sup>But he will give glory, honor, and peace to everyone who does good—to the Jews first and also to those who are not Jews. <sup>11</sup>For God judges all people in the same way.

<sup>12</sup>People who do not have the law and who are sinners will be lost, although they do not have the law. And, in the same way, those who have the law and are sinners will be judged by the law. <sup>13</sup>Hearing the law does not make people right with God. It is those who obey the law who will be right with him. <sup>14</sup>(Those who are not Jews do not have the law, but when they freely do what the law commands, they are the law for themselves. This is true even though they do not have the law. <sup>15</sup>They show that in their hearts they know what is right and wrong, just as the law commands. And they show this by their consciences. Sometimes their thoughts tell them they did wrong, and sometimes their thoughts tell them they did right.) <sup>16</sup>All these things will happen on the day when God, through Christ Jesus, will judge people's secret thoughts. The Good News that I preach says this.

The Jews and the Law

<sup>17</sup>What about you? You call yourself a Jew. You trust in the law of Moses and brag that you are close to God. <sup>18</sup>You know what he wants you to do and what is important, because you have learned the law. <sup>19</sup>You think you are a guide for the blind and a light for those who are in darkness. <sup>20</sup>You think you can show foolish people what is right and teach those who know nothing. You have the law; so you think you know everything and have all truth. <sup>21</sup>You teach others, so why don't you teach yourself? You tell others not to steal, but you steal. <sup>22</sup>You say that others must not take part in adultery, but you are guilty of that sin. You hate idols, but you steal from temples. <sup>23</sup>You brag about having God's law, but you bring shame to God by breaking his law, <sup>24</sup>just as the Scriptures say: “Those who are not Jews speak against God’s name because of you.”

<sup>25</sup>If you follow the law, your circumcision has meaning. But if you break the law, it is as if you were never circumcised. <sup>26</sup>People who are not Jews are not circumcised, but if they do what the law says, it is as if they were circumcised. <sup>27</sup>You Jews have the written law and circumcision, but you break the law. So those who are not circumcised in their bodies, but still obey the law, will show that you are guilty. <sup>28</sup>They can do this because a person is not a true Jew if he is only a Jew in his physical body; true circumcision is not only on the outside of the body. <sup>29</sup>A person is a Jew only if he is a Jew inside; true circumcision is done in the heart by the Spirit, not by the written law. Such a person gets praise from God rather than from people.

So, do Jews have anything that other people do not have? Is there anything special about being circumcised? <sup>2</sup>Yes, of course, there is in every way. The most important thing is this: God trusted the Jews with his teachings. <sup>3</sup>If some Jews were not faithful to him, will that stop God from doing what he promised? <sup>4</sup>No! God will continue to be true even when every person is false. As the Scriptures say:

“So you will be shown to be right when you speak, and you will win your case.”

Psalm 51:4

<sup>5</sup>When we do wrong, that shows more clearly that God is right. So can we say that God is wrong to punish us? (I am talking as people might talk.) <sup>6</sup>No! If God could not punish us, he could not judge the world.

<sup>7</sup>A person might say, “When I lie, it really gives him glory, because my lie shows God’s truth. So why am I judged a sinner?” <sup>8</sup>It would be the same to say, “We should do evil so that good will come.” Some people find fault with us and say we teach this, but they are wrong and deserve the punishment they will receive.

Life Lessons

Romans 3:9–31

Situation

Paul showed that no one can claim innocence. Everyone has sinned. But through Christ’s death on the cross God has redeemed us.

Observation

Willing and ready, God will forgive us if we come to him in faith.

Inspiration

Salvation is free! God puts no price tag on the Gift of gifts—it's free! Preachers are not salesmen for they have nothing to sell. They are bearers of Good News, the good tidings that "Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures." Money can't buy it. Man's righteousness can't earn it. Social prestige can't help you acquire it. Morality can't purchase it. It is, as Isaiah said, "without money and without price." God is not a bargaining God. You cannot barter with Him. You must do business with Him on His own terms. He holds in His omnipotent hand the priceless, precious, eternal gift of salvation, and He bids you to take it without money and without price. The best things in life are free, are they not? The air we breathe is not sold by the cubic foot. The water which flows crystal clear from the mountain stream is free for the taking. Love is free, faith is free, hope is free. (From Day by Day with Billy Graham by Joan W. Brown)

Application

Have you accepted the free gift of God, forgiveness and eternal life, won for you by Christ? Submit to Christ's rule in your life and kneel to his lordship. Don't wait.

Exploration

Faith—Acts 13:38-39; Romans 4:25; 5:16, 18; 10:10; Galatians 2:16; Titus 3:7.

All People Are Guilty

<sup>9</sup>So are we Jews better than others? No! We have already said that Jews and those who are not Jews are all guilty of sin. <sup>10</sup>As the Scriptures say:

“There is no one who always does what is right, not even one.

<sup>11</sup>There is no one who understands.
There is no one who looks to God for help.

<sup>12</sup>All have turned away.
Together, everyone has become useless.
There is no one who does anything good;
there is not even one.”

Psalm 14:1-3

<sup>13</sup>“Their throats are like open graves;
they use their tongues for telling lies.”

Psalm 5:9

“Their words are like snake poison.”

Psalm 140:3

<sup>14</sup>“Their mouths are full of cursing and hate.”

Psalm 10:7

<sup>15</sup>“They are always ready to kill people.

<sup>16</sup>Everywhere they go they cause ruin and misery.

<sup>17</sup>They don’t know how to live in peace.”

Isaiah 59:7-8

<sup>18</sup>“They have no fear of God.”

Psalm 36:1

<sup>19</sup>We know that the law’s commands are for those who have the law. This stops all excuses and brings the whole world under God’s judgment, <sup>20</sup>because no one can be made right with God by following the law. The law only shows us our sin.

How God Makes People Right

<sup>21</sup>But God has a way to make people right with him without the law, and he has now shown us that way which the law and the prophets told us about. <sup>22</sup>God makes people right with himself through their faith in Jesus Christ. This is true for all who believe in Christ, because all people are the same: <sup>23</sup>All have sinned and are not good enough for God’s glory, <sup>24</sup>and all need to be made right with God by his grace, which is a free gift. They need to be made free from sin through Jesus Christ. <sup>25</sup>God gave him as a way to forgive sin through faith in the blood of Jesus’ death. This showed that God always does what is right and fair, as in the past when he was patient and did not punish people for their sins. <sup>26</sup>And God gave Jesus to show today that he does what is right. God did this so he could judge rightly and so he could make right any person who has faith in Jesus.

<sup>27</sup>So do we have a reason to brag about ourselves? No! And why not? It is the way of faith that stops all bragging, not the way of trying to obey the law. <sup>28</sup>A person is made right with God through faith, not through obeying the law. <sup>29</sup>Is God only the God of the Jews? Is he not also the God of those who are not Jews? <sup>30</sup>Of course he is, because there is only one God. He will make Jews right with him by their faith, and he will also make those who are not Jews right with him through their faith. <sup>31</sup>So do we destroy the law by following the way of faith? No! Faith causes us to be what the law truly wants.

Life Lessons

Romans 4:1–25

Situation

Paul showed that Abraham's leadership in God's family was due to faith.

Observation

We accept God's gift by faith; we cannot earn it by good works.

Inspiration

Henry Drummond [writes:] "You will find, if you think for a moment, that the people who influence you are people who believe in you. In an atmosphere of suspicion men shrivel up; but in that atmosphere they expand and find encouragement and educative fellowship. It is a wonderful thing that here and there in this hard uncharitable world there should still be left a few rare souls who think no evil. This is the great unworldliness. Love sees the bright side, puts the best construction on every action. What a delightful state of mind to live in! What a stimulus and benediction even to meet with it for a day! To be trusted is to be saved. And if we try to influence or elevate others, we shall soon see that success is in proportion to their belief of our belief in them. For the respect of another is the first restoration of the self-respect a man has lost; our ideal of what he is becomes to him the hope and pattern of what he may become."

This faith moves mountains of inertia in other people. It pulverizes prejudices and impossibilities. This faith is the fruit of God's Gracious Spirit that sweetens a sour world. It replaces suspicion and distrust with friendship and hope and good cheer. It makes our friends, family, and casual acquaintances stand tall. (From A Gardener Looks at the Fruits of the Spirit by Phillip Keller)

Application

Picture yourself at a department store. On the shelf you see something you've wanted for years, but the price is still too high. How would you feel if a caring friend or relative bought the item, wrapped it, and gave it to you? Thank God for giving you a gift you could never afford.

Exploration

Faith—Genesis 15:6; 2 Chronicles 20:20; Psalm 32:1-2; Isaiah 7:9; Habakkuk 2:4; Matthew 9:29; Acts 15:9; Romans 4:16; 5:1; 10:17.

The Example of Abraham

So what can we say that Abraham, the father of our people, learned about faith? <sup>2</sup>If Abraham was made right by the things he did, he had a reason to brag. But this is not God's view, <sup>3</sup>because the Scripture says, "Abraham believed God, and God accepted Abraham's faith, and that faith made him right with God."

<sup>4</sup>When people work, their pay is not given as a gift, but as something earned. <sup>5</sup>But people cannot do any work that will make them right with God. So they must trust in him, who makes even evil people right in his sight. Then God accepts their faith, and that makes them right with him. <sup>6</sup>David said the same thing. He said that people are truly blessed when God, without paying attention to good deeds, makes people right with himself.

<sup>7</sup>"Happy are they whose sins are forgiven, whose wrongs are pardoned.

<sup>8</sup>Happy is the person whom the Lord does not consider guilty."

Psalm 32:1-2

<sup>9</sup>Is this blessing only for those who are circumcised or also for those who are not circumcised? We have already said that God accepted Abraham's faith and that faith made him right with God. <sup>10</sup>So how did this happen? Did God accept Abraham before or after he was circumcised? It was before his circumcision. <sup>11</sup>Abraham was circumcised to show that he was right with God through faith before he was circumcised. So Abraham is the father of all those who believe but are not circumcised; he is the father of all believers who are accepted as being right with God. <sup>12</sup>And Abraham is also the father of those who have been circumcised and who live following the faith that our father Abraham had before he was circumcised.

God Keeps His Promise

<sup>13</sup>Abraham and his descendants received the promise that they would get the whole world. He did not receive that promise through the law, but through being right with God by his faith. <sup>14</sup>If people could receive what God promised by following the law, then faith is worthless. And God's promise to Abraham is worthless, <sup>15</sup>because the law can only bring God's anger. But if there is no law, there is nothing to disobey.

<sup>16</sup>So people receive God's promise by having faith. This happens so the promise can be a free gift. Then all of Abraham's children can have that promise. It is not only for those who live under the law of Moses but for anyone who lives with faith like that of Abraham, who is the father of us all. <sup>17</sup>As it is written in the Scriptures: "I am making you a father of many nations." This is true before God, the God Abraham believed, the God who gives life to the dead and who creates something out of nothing.

But Abraham believed God and continued hoping, and so he became the father of many nations. As God told him, “Your descendants also will be too many to count.”<sup>19</sup> Abraham was almost a hundred years old, much past the age for having children, and Sarah could not have children. Abraham thought about all this, but his faith in God did not become weak.<sup>20</sup> He never doubted that God would keep his promise, and he never stopped believing. He grew stronger in his faith and gave praise to God.<sup>21</sup> Abraham felt sure that God was able to do what he had promised.<sup>22</sup> So, “God accepted Abraham’s faith, and that faith made him right with God.”<sup>23</sup> Those words (“God accepted Abraham’s faith”) were written not only for Abraham<sup>24</sup> but also for us. God will accept us also because we believe in the One who raised Jesus our Lord from the dead.<sup>25</sup> Jesus was given to die for our sins, and he was raised from the dead to make us right with God.

Life Lessons

Romans 5:1-21

Situation

Paul described the experience of salvation for Christians. He outlined the magnitude of God's love revealed in Jesus Christ.

Observation

God proved his love by giving his Son to die on the cross on our behalf while we were still sinners. Christians now have peace with God because they have been forgiven. They rejoice because they are assured of their salvation.

Inspiration

Notwithstanding all that has already been preached and published about God's love, it must be examined here. It is the first and foremost of the fruits of God's Spirit. It is much, much more than merely "one of the fruits." In reality it is the very basic, essential life of the living Christ which expresses itself in all the nine fruits enumerated both in Galatians 5:22, 23 and 1 Corinthians 13:1-7.

The love of God is the very life of God....

It must be emphasized here that I have the love of God only to the extent that I have God Himself. God does not dispense the fruits of His Spirit apart from Himself!

The more I have Christ the more I have His love.

The more I have God the more I have His goodness....

To begin with it is imperative to point out here that the “love of God” referred to so freely, especially in the New Testament, is selflessness: It is self-giving. It is self-sharing. It is self-sacrificing. It is self-losing. It is self-abandonment. It is self-serving others.

This kind of love found its supreme and most sublime expression in the life and death of our Lord Jesus Christ. He was the visible expression to our humanity of the invisible God. He was the love of God demonstrated indelibly in the perfect doing and perfect dying of deity. His transcendent life revealed the true nature of God. There simply was no greater means by which He could manifest His own character.

The love of God was shown to be one with the life of God. In no way could the one be separated from the other. They are one and the same. (From A Gardener Looks at the Fruits of the Spirit by Phillip Keller)

Application

When God’s love impacts our lives, it completely changes us so that selfishness turns to generosity. How would you describe your life before and after becoming a Christian? What major changes have you experienced since becoming a Christian? Write your story down and read it when you feel discouraged.

Exploration

Love—Exodus 15:13; Numbers 14:18;
Deuteronomy 7:12; Psalm 33:5; Isaiah 63:9; Joel 2:13;
Matthew 5:43–48; John 13:34; Romans 13:10; 1 Corinthians 13.

Right with God

Since we have been made right with God by our faith, we have peace with God. This happened through our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>2</sup>who has brought us into that blessing of God's grace that we now enjoy. And we are happy because of the hope we have of sharing God's glory. <sup>3</sup>We also have joy with our troubles, because we know that these troubles produce patience. <sup>4</sup>And patience produces character, and character produces hope. <sup>5</sup>And this hope will never disappoint us, because God has poured out his love to fill our hearts. He gave us his love through the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to us.

<sup>6</sup>When we were unable to help ourselves, at the moment of our need, Christ died for us, although we were living against God. <sup>7</sup>Very few people will die to save the life of someone else. Although perhaps for a good person someone might possibly die. <sup>8</sup>But God shows his great love for us in this way: Christ died for us while we were still sinners.

<sup>9</sup>So through Christ we will surely be saved from God's anger, because we have been made right with God by the blood of Christ's death. <sup>10</sup>While we were God's enemies, he made friends with us through the death of his Son. Surely, now that we are his friends, he will save us through his Son's life. <sup>11</sup>And not only that, but now we are also very happy in God through our Lord Jesus Christ. Through him we are now God's friends again.

Adam and Christ Compared

<sup>12</sup>Sin came into the world because of what one man did, and with sin came death. This is why everyone must die—because everyone sinned. <sup>13</sup>Sin was in the world before the law of Moses, but sin is not counted against us as breaking a command when there is no law. <sup>14</sup>But from the time of Adam to the time of Moses, everyone had to die, even those who had not sinned by breaking a command, as Adam had.

Adam was like the One who was coming in the future. <sup>15</sup>But God's free gift is not like Adam's sin. Many people died because of the sin of that one man. But the grace from God was much greater; many people received God's gift of life by the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ. <sup>16</sup>After Adam sinned once, he was judged guilty. But the gift of God is different. God's free gift came after many sins, and it makes people right with God. <sup>17</sup>One man sinned, and so death ruled all people because of that one man. But now those people who accept God's full grace and the great gift of being made right with him will surely have true life and rule through the one man, Jesus Christ.

<sup>18</sup>So as one sin of Adam brought the punishment of death to all people, one good act that Christ did makes all people right with God. And that brings true life for all. <sup>19</sup>One man disobeyed God, and many became sinners. In the same way, one man obeyed God, and many will be made right. <sup>20</sup>The law came to make sin worse. But when sin grew worse, God's grace increased. <sup>21</sup>Sin once used death to rule us, but God gave people more of his grace so that grace could rule by making people right with him. And this brings life forever through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Life Lessons

Romans 6:1–23

Situation

Since Christ's righteousness brought us into a favored relationship with God, we should live by God's standards.

Observation

Christians are not slaves to sin but can overcome by the power of God.

Inspiration

Think of it this way. Sin put you in prison. Sin locked you behind the bars of guilt and shame and deception and fear. Sin did nothing but shackle you to the wall of misery. Then Jesus came and paid your bail. He served your time; he satisfied the penalty and set you free. Christ died, and when you cast your lot with him, your old self died too.

The only way to be set free from the prison of sin is to serve its penalty. In this case the penalty is death. Someone has to die, either you or a heavensent substitute. You cannot leave prison unless there is a death. But that death has occurred at Calvary. And when Jesus died, you died to sin's claim on your life. You are free....

Christ has taken your place. There is no need for you to remain in the cell. Ever heard of a discharged prisoner who wanted to stay? Nor have I. When the doors open, prisoners leave. The thought of a person preferring jail over freedom doesn't compute. Once the penalty is paid, why live under bondage? You are discharged from the penitentiary of sin. Why, in heaven's name, would you ever want to set foot in that prison again?

Paul reminds us: "Our old life died with Christ on the cross so that our sinful selves would have no power over us and we would not be slaves to sin. Anyone who has died is made free from sin's control" (Romans 6:6-7).

He is not saying that it is impossible for believers to sin; he's saying it is stupid for believers to sin. "It's not the literal impossibility ... but the moral incongruity" of the saved returning to sin.

What does the prison have that you desire? Do you miss the guilt? Are you homesick for dishonesty? Do you have fond memories of being lied to and forgotten? Was life better when you were dejected and rejected? Do you have a longing to once again see a sinner in the mirror?

It makes no sense to go back to prison. (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

Dead to Sin but Alive in Christ

So do you think we should continue sinning so that God will give us even more grace? <sup>2</sup>No! We died to our old sinful lives, so how can we continue living with sin? <sup>3</sup>Did you forget that all of us became part of Christ when we were baptized? We shared his death in our baptism. <sup>4</sup>When we were baptized, we were buried with Christ and shared his death. So, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the wonderful power of the Father, we also can live a new life.

<sup>5</sup>Christ died, and we have been joined with him by dying too. So we will also be joined with him by rising from the dead as he did. <sup>6</sup>We know that our old life died with Christ on the cross so that our sinful selves would have no power over us and we would not be slaves to sin. <sup>7</sup>Anyone who has died is made free from sin's control.

<sup>8</sup>If we died with Christ, we know we will also live with him. <sup>9</sup>Christ was raised from the dead, and we know that he cannot die again. Death has no power over him now. <sup>10</sup>Yes, when Christ died, he died to defeat the power of sin one time—enough for all time. He now has a new life, and his new life is with God. <sup>11</sup>In the same way, you should see yourselves as being dead to the power of sin and alive with God through Christ Jesus.

<sup>12</sup>So, do not let sin control your life here on earth so that you do what your sinful self wants to do. <sup>13</sup>Do not offer the parts of your body to serve sin, as things to be used in doing evil. Instead, offer yourselves to God as people who have died and now live. Offer the parts of your body to God to be used in doing good. <sup>14</sup>Sin will not be your master, because you are not under law but under God's grace.

Be Slaves of Righteousness

<sup>15</sup>So what should we do? Should we sin because we are under grace and not under law? No! <sup>16</sup>Surely you know that when you give yourselves like slaves to obey someone, then you are really slaves of that person. The person you obey is your master. You can follow sin, which brings spiritual death, or you can obey God, which makes you right with him. <sup>17</sup>In the past you were slaves to sin—sin controlled you. But thank God, you fully obeyed the things that you were taught. <sup>18</sup>You were made free from sin, and now you are slaves to goodness. <sup>19</sup>I use this example because this is hard for you to understand. In the past you offered the parts of your body to be slaves to sin and evil; you lived only for evil. In the same way now you must give yourselves to be slaves of goodness. Then you will live only for God.

<sup>20</sup>In the past you were slaves to sin, and goodness did not control you. <sup>21</sup>You did evil things, and now you are ashamed of them. Those things only bring death. <sup>22</sup>But now you are free from sin and have become slaves of God. This brings you a life that is only for God, and this gives you life forever. <sup>23</sup>When people sin, they earn what sin pays—death. But God gives us a free gift—life forever in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Life Lessons

Romans 7:1–25

Situation

Paul taught the Romans that the Law could never guarantee eternal life. He proved again that Jesus Christ could save.

Observation

The Bible teaches us how sinful we have become, but Jesus Christ and his Holy Spirit provide the power to overcome sin.

Inspiration

Our country imprisons more people per capita than any other nation except the Soviet Union and South Africa; yet we have the highest crime rate in the world. If that's law and order, spare us any more.

Baffling? Yes, but nothing new. Eighteenth-century British officials tried to cut crime by promoting large crowds to witness the hanging of pickpockets. There was a problem, however. Other thieves had a field day stealing the wallets of those gathered to watch the execution of their fellow pickpockets.

The paradox makes no sense to the secular mind—but the Christian should understand. For where is the anguish of the human soul more poignantly expressed than in Paul's letter to the Romans. “The good I wish, I do not do; but I practice the very evil that I do not wish.” He never wanted to covet, Paul explains in Chapter 7, until the law said “thou shalt not covet.” Then he found himself filled with covetousness of every kind.

Why? The sin within us uses the law itself to produce the very offense the law is intended to prevent. But in the next chapter the apostle answers the dilemma: though the law alone could not restrain sin, through Christ we are set free, rescued from the sin which controls us. (From Who Speaks for God by Charles Colson)

Application

What sin do you struggle to avoid? Thank God that he will one day rescue you from the struggle. Until then, let a prayer for strength be a reflex reaction to temptations.

An Example from Marriage

Brothers and sisters, all of you understand the law of Moses. So surely you know that the law rules over people only while they are alive. <sup>2</sup>For example, a woman must stay married to her husband as long as he is alive. But if her husband dies, she is free from the law of marriage. <sup>3</sup>But if she marries another man while her husband is still alive, the law says she is guilty of adultery. But if her husband dies, she is free from the law of marriage. Then if she marries another man, she is not guilty of adultery.

<sup>4</sup>In the same way, my brothers and sisters, your old selves died, and you became free from the law through the body of Christ. This happened so that you might belong to someone else—the One who was raised from the dead—and so that we might be used in service to God. <sup>5</sup>In the past, we were ruled by our sinful selves. The law made us want to do sinful things that controlled our bodies, so the things we did were bringing us death. <sup>6</sup>In the past, the law held us like prisoners, but our old selves died, and we were made free from the law. So now we serve God in a new way with the Spirit, and not in the old way with written rules.

Our Fight Against Sin

<sup>7</sup>You might think I am saying that sin and the law are the same thing. That is not true. But the law was the only way I could learn what sin meant. I would never have known what it means to want to take something belonging to someone else if the law had not said, “You must not want to take your neighbor’s things.”<sup>8</sup> And sin found a way to use that command and cause me to want all kinds of things I should not want. But without the law, sin has no power. <sup>9</sup>I was alive before I knew the law. But when the law’s command came to me, then sin began to live,<sup>10</sup> and I died. The command was meant to bring life, but for me it brought death. <sup>11</sup>Sin found a way to fool me by using the command to make me die.

<sup>12</sup>So the law is holy, and the command is holy and right and good. <sup>13</sup>Does this mean that something that is good brought death to me? No! Sin used something that is good to bring death to me. This happened so that I could see what sin is really like; the command was used to show that sin is very evil.

The War Within Us

<sup>14</sup>We know that the law is spiritual, but I am not spiritual since sin rules me as if I were its slave. <sup>15</sup>I do not understand the things I do. I do not do what I want to do, and I do the things I hate. <sup>16</sup>And if I do not want to do the hated things I do, that means I agree that the law is good. <sup>17</sup>But I am not really the one who is doing these hated things; it is sin living in me that does them. <sup>18</sup>Yes, I know that nothing good lives in me—I mean nothing good lives in the part of me that is earthly and sinful. I want to do the things that are good, but I do not do them. <sup>19</sup>I do not do the good things I want to do, but I do the bad things

I do not want to do. <sup>20</sup>So if I do things I do not want to do, then I am not the one doing them. It is sin living in me that does those things.

<sup>21</sup>So I have learned this rule: When I want to do good, evil is there with me. <sup>22</sup>In my mind, I am happy with God's law. <sup>23</sup>But I see another law working in my body, which makes war against the law that my mind accepts. That other law working in my body is the law of sin, and it makes me its prisoner. <sup>24</sup>What a miserable man I am! Who will save me from this body that brings me death? <sup>25</sup>I thank God for saving me through Jesus Christ our Lord!

So in my mind I am a slave to God's law, but in my sinful self I am a slave to the law of sin.

Life Lessons

Romans 8:1–39

Situation

Although Christians still struggle with sin, the threat of judgment for their sin was removed at the Cross.

Observation

This great chapter begins with no condemnation and ends with no separation for those who are in Christ Jesus.

Inspiration

Why does a mother love her newborn? Because the baby is hers? Even more. Because the baby is her. Her blood. Her flesh. Her sinew and spine. Her hope. Her legacy. It bothers her not that the baby gives nothing. She knows a newborn is helpless, weak. She knows babies don't ask to come into this world.

And God knows we didn't either.

We are his idea. We are his. His face. His eyes. His hands. His touch. We are him. Look deeply into the face of every human being on earth, and you will see his likeness. Though some appear to be distant relatives, they are not. God has no cousins, only children.

We are, incredibly, the body of Christ. And though we may not act like our Father, there is no greater truth than this: We are his. Unalterably. He loves us. Undyingly. Nothing can separate us from the love of Christ (see Romans 8:38–39).

Had God not said those words, I would be a fool to write them. But since he did, I'm a fool not to believe them. Nothing can separate us from the love of Christ ... but how difficult it is for some to embrace this truth.

You think you've committed an act that places you outside his love. A treason. A betrayal. An aborted promise. You think he would love you more if you hadn't done it, right? You think he would love you more if you did more, right? You think if you were better his love would be deeper, right?

Wrong. Wrong. Wrong.

God's love is not human. His love is not normal. His love sees your sin and loves you still. Does he approve of your error? No. Do you need to repent? Yes. But do you repent for his sake or yours? Yours. His ego needs no apology. His love needs no bolstering.

And he could not love you more than he does right now.

(From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you sometimes feel that God can't really love you? If so, look at this chapter and commit it to memory. God is there whether you walk away from him or not. Thank God for his acceptance of you because it's based on the finished work of Christ and not on your own merit.

Exploration

No Separation—John 10:27-29; 17:1-3; Romans 5:8-9; 1 Thessalonians 4:16-17.

Be Ruled by the Spirit

So now, those who are in Christ Jesus are not judged guilty. <sup>2</sup>Through Christ Jesus the law of the Spirit that brings life made me free from the law that brings sin and death. <sup>3</sup>The law was without power, because the law was made weak by our sinful selves. But God did what the law could not do. He sent his own Son to earth with the same human life that others use for sin. By sending his Son to be an offering for sin, God used a human life to destroy sin. <sup>4</sup>He did this so that we could be the kind of people the law correctly wants us to be. Now we do not live following our sinful selves, but we live following the Spirit.

<sup>5</sup>Those who live following their sinful selves think only about things that their sinful selves want. But those who live following the Spirit are thinking about the things the Spirit wants them to do. <sup>6</sup>If people's thinking is controlled by the sinful self, there is death. But if their thinking is controlled by the Spirit, there is life and peace. <sup>7</sup>When people's thinking is controlled by the sinful self, they are against God, because they refuse to obey God's law and really are not even able to obey God's law. <sup>8</sup>Those people who are ruled by their sinful selves cannot please God.

<sup>9</sup>But you are not ruled by your sinful selves. You are ruled by the Spirit, if that Spirit of God really lives in you. But the person who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to Christ. <sup>10</sup>Your body will always be dead because of sin. But if Christ is in you, then the Spirit gives you life, because Christ made you right with God. <sup>11</sup>God raised Jesus from the dead, and if God's Spirit is living in you, he will also give life to your bodies that die. God is the One who raised Christ from the dead, and he will give life through his Spirit that lives in you.

<sup>12</sup>So, my brothers and sisters, we must not be ruled by our sinful selves or live the way our sinful selves want. <sup>13</sup>If you use your lives to do the wrong things your sinful selves want, you will die spiritually. But if you use the Spirit's help to stop doing the wrong things you do with your body, you will have true life.

<sup>14</sup>The true children of God are those who let God's Spirit lead them. <sup>15</sup>The Spirit we received does not make us slaves again to fear; it makes us children of God. With that Spirit we cry out, "Father." <sup>16</sup>And the Spirit himself joins with our spirits to say we are God's children. <sup>17</sup>If we are God's children, we will receive blessings from God together with Christ. But we must suffer as Christ suffered so that we will have glory as Christ has glory.

Our Future Glory

<sup>18</sup>The sufferings we have now are nothing compared to the great glory that will be shown to us. <sup>19</sup>Everything God made is waiting with excitement for God to show his children's glory completely. <sup>20</sup>Everything God made was changed to become useless, not by its own wish but because God wanted it and because all along there was this hope: <sup>21</sup>that everything God made would be set free from ruin to have the freedom and glory that belong to God's children.

<sup>22</sup>We know that everything God made has been waiting until now in pain, like a woman ready to give birth. <sup>23</sup>Not only the world, but we also have been waiting with pain inside us. We have the Spirit as the first part of God's promise. So we are waiting for God to finish making us his own children, which means our bodies will be made free. <sup>24</sup>We were saved, and we have this hope. If we see what we are waiting for, that is not really hope. People do not hope for something they already have. <sup>25</sup>But we are hoping for something we do not have yet, and we are waiting for it patiently.

NewLife in Christ

The Spirit we received ... makes us children of God. With that Spirit we cry out, "Father."—Romans 8:15

God Has Adopted Us

When we come to Christ, God not only forgives us, he also adopts us. Through a dramatic series of events, we go from condemned orphans with no hope to adopted children with no fear. Here is how it happens. You come before the judgment seat of God full of rebellion and mistakes. Because of his justice he cannot dismiss your sin, but because of his love he cannot dismiss you. So, in an act which stunned the heavens, he punished himself on the cross for your sins. God's justice and love are equally honored. And you, God's creation, are forgiven. But the story doesn't end with God's forgiveness....

It would be enough if God just cleansed your name, but he does more. He gives you his name. It would be enough if God just set you free, but he does more. He takes you home. He takes you home to the Great House of God.

Adoptive parents understand this more than anyone. I certainly don't mean to offend any biological parents—I'm one myself. We biological parents know well the earnest longing to have a child. But in many cases our cribs were filled easily. We decided to have a child and a child came. In fact, sometimes the child came with no decision. I've heard of unplanned pregnancies, but I've never heard of an unplanned adoption.

That's why adoptive parents understand God's passion to adopt us. They know what it means to feel an empty space inside. They know what it means to hunt, to set out on a mission, and take responsibility for a child with a spotted past and a dubious future. If anybody understands God's ardor for his children, it's someone who has rescued an orphan from despair, for that is what God has done for us.

God has adopted you. God sought you, found you, signed the papers and took you home. (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

Question: Knowing that God has adopted you, how should that change the way you approach him?

For more on "New Life in Christ."

<sup>26</sup>Also, the Spirit helps us with our weakness. We do not know how to pray as we should. But the Spirit himself speaks to God for us, even begs God for us with deep feelings that words cannot explain. <sup>27</sup>God can see what is in people's hearts. And he knows what is in the mind of the Spirit, because the Spirit speaks to God for his people in the way God wants.

<sup>28</sup>We know that in everything God works for the good of those who love him. They are the people he called, because that was his plan. <sup>29</sup>God knew them before he made the world, and he decided that they would be like his Son so that Jesus would be the firstborn of many brothers. <sup>30</sup>God planned for them to be like his Son; and those he planned to be like his Son, he also called; and those he called, he also made right with him; and those he made right, he also glorified.

God's Love in Christ Jesus

<sup>31</sup>So what should we say about this? If God is with us, no one can defeat us. <sup>32</sup>He did not spare his own Son but gave him for us all. So with Jesus, God will surely give us all things. <sup>33</sup>Who can accuse the people God has chosen? No one, because God is the One who makes them right. <sup>34</sup>Who can say God's people are guilty? No one, because Christ Jesus died, but he was also raised from the dead, and now he is on God's right side, begging God for us. <sup>35</sup>Can anything separate us from the love Christ has for us? Can troubles or problems or sufferings or hunger or nakedness or danger or violent death? <sup>36</sup>As it is written in the Scriptures:

“For you we are in danger of death all the time.
People think we are worth no more than sheep to be killed.”

Psalm 44:22

<sup>37</sup>But in all these things we have full victory through God who showed his love for us. <sup>38</sup>Yes, I am sure that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor ruling spirits, nothing now, nothing in the future, no powers, <sup>39</sup>nothing above us, nothing below us, nor anything else in the whole world will ever be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Life Lessons

Romans 9:1-33

Situation

Paul reminded the Romans that no good work could bring salvation. Rather, God saves his people through his love.

Observation

The sovereign God told Moses that he would show mercy where he wants to show mercy, although no one deserves or can earn his mercy.

Inspiration

Mercy is the deepest gesture of kindness. Paul equates the two. “Be kind and loving to each other, and forgive each other just as God forgave you in Christ” (Ephesians 4:32). Jesus said:

“Love your enemies. Do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you... . If you love only the people who love you, what praise should you get? ... [L]ove your enemies, do good to them, and lend to them without hoping to get anything back. Then you will have a great reward, and you will be children of the Most High God, because he is kind even to people who are ungrateful and full of sin. Show mercy, just as your Father shows mercy (Luke 6:27-28, 32, 35-36).

Kindness at home. Kindness in public. Kindness at church and kindness with your enemies. Pretty well covers the gamut, don't you think? Almost. Someone else needs your kindness. Who could that be? You.

Don't we tend to be tough on ourselves? And rightly so. Like the young couple at the wedding, we don't always plan ahead. Like Zacchaeus, we've cheated our share of friends. We've been self-serving. And like the woman with the illness, our world sometimes seems out of control.

But did Jesus scold the couple? No. Did he punish Zacchaeus? No. Was he hard on the woman? No. He is kind to the forgetful. He is kind to the greedy. He is kind to the sick.

And he is kind to us. And since he is so kind to us, can't we be a little kinder to ourselves? Oh, but you don't know me, Max. You don't know my faults and my thoughts. You don't know the gripes I grumble and the complaints I mumble. No, I don't, but he does. He knows everything about you, yet he doesn't hold back his kindness toward you. Has he, knowing all your secrets, retracted one promise or reclaimed one gift?

No, he is kind to you. Why don't you be kind to yourself? He forgives your faults. Why don't you do the same? He thinks tomorrow is worth living. Why don't you agree? He believes in you enough to call you his ambassador, his follower, even his child. Why not take his cue and believe in yourself?

In the book entitled Sweet Thursday, John Steinbeck introduces us to Madam Fauna. She runs a brothel and takes a liking to a prostitute by the name of Suzy. Madam Fauna sets Suzy up on a real date with a man, not a client. She buys Suzy a nice dress and helps her get ready for the evening. As Suzy is leaving, she, moved by Madam Fauna's kindness, asks her, "You have done so much for me. Can I do anything for you?"

"Yes," the older woman replies, "you can say, 'I'm Suzy and no one else.'"

Suzy does. Then Madam Fauna requests, "Now say, 'I'm Suzy, and I'm a good thing.'"

And so Suzy tries. "I'm Suzy, and I'm a good ..."
And Suzy begins to cry.

Wouldn't God want you to say the same words? In his book you are a good thing. Be kind to yourself. God thinks you're worth his kindness. And he's a good judge of character. (From A Love Worth Giving by Max Lucado)

Application

Since the Father has shown you mercy, you should show mercy to others. Make a list of those to whom it is hard for you to show mercy. What could you do to soften your heart toward them? Act on what you know to be true.

God and the Jewish People

I am in Christ, and I am telling you the truth; I do not lie. My conscience is ruled by the Holy Spirit, and it tells me I am not lying.<sup>2</sup>I have great sorrow and always feel much sadness.<sup>3</sup>I wish I could help my Jewish brothers and sisters, my people. I would even wish that I were cursed and cut off from Christ if that would help them.<sup>4</sup>They are the people of Israel, God's chosen children. They have seen the glory of God, and they have the agreements that God made between himself and his people. God gave them the law of Moses and the right way of worship and his promises.<sup>5</sup>They are the descendants of our great ancestors, and they are the earthly family into which Christ was born, who is God over all. Praise him forever! Amen.

<sup>6</sup>It is not that God failed to keep his promise to them. But only some of the people of Israel are truly God's people,<sup>7</sup> and only some of Abraham's descendants are true children of Abraham. But God said to Abraham: "The descendants I promised you will be from Isaac."<sup>8</sup>This means that not all of Abraham's descendants are God's true children. Abraham's true children are those who become God's children because of the promise God made to Abraham.<sup>9</sup>God's promise to Abraham was this: "At the right time I will return, and Sarah will have a son."<sup>10</sup>And that is not all. Rebekah's sons had the same father, our father Isaac.<sup>11-12</sup>But before the two boys were born, God told Rebekah, "The older will serve the younger." This was before the boys had done anything good or bad. God said this so that the one chosen would be chosen because of God's own plan. He was chosen because he was the one God wanted to call, not because of anything he did. <sup>13</sup>As the Scripture says, "I loved Jacob, but I hated Esau."

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: A God of Everlasting Love

Can anything separate us from the love Christ has for us? ...

Stepping from the throne, he removed his robe of light and wrapped himself in skin: pigmented, human skin. The light of the universe entered a dark, wet womb. He who angels worship nestled himself in the placenta of a peasant, was birthed into the cold night, and then slept on cow's hay.

Mary didn't know whether to give him milk or give him praise, but she gave him both since he was, as near as she could figure, hungry and holy.

Joseph didn't know whether to call him Junior or Father. But in the end called him Jesus, since that's what the angel said and since he didn't have the faintest idea what to name a God he could cradle in his arms.

... [D]on't you think their heads tilted and their minds wondered, "What in the world are you doing, God?" Or, better phrased, "God, what are you doing in the world?"

"Can anything make me stop loving you?" God asks. "Watch me speak your language, sleep on your earth, and feel your hurts. Behold the maker of sight and sound as he sneezes, coughs, and blows his nose. You wonder if I understand how you feel? Look into the dancing eyes of the kid in Nazareth; that's God walking to school. Ponder the toddler at Mary's table; that's God spilling his milk.

"You wonder how long my love will last? Find your answer on a splintered cross, on a craggy hill. That's me you see up there, your maker, your God, nail-stabbed and bleeding. Covered in spit and sin-soaked. That's your sin I'm feeling. That's your death I'm dying. That's your resurrection I'm living. That's how much I love you."

"Can anything come between you and me?" asks the firstborn Son.

Hear the answer and stake your future on the triumphant words of Paul: "I am sure that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor ruling spirits, nothing now, nothing in the future, no powers, nothing above us, nothing below us, nor anything else in the whole world will ever be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Romans 8:38-39). (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

For more on "Christ Through the Bible."

<sup>14</sup>So what should we say about this? Is God unfair? In no way. <sup>15</sup>God said to Moses, “I will show kindness to anyone to whom I want to show kindness, and I will show mercy to anyone to whom I want to show mercy.” <sup>16</sup>So God will choose the one to whom he decides to show mercy; his choice does not depend on what people want or try to do. <sup>17</sup>The Scripture says to the king of Egypt: “I made you king for this reason: to show my power in you so that my name will be talked about in all the earth.” <sup>18</sup>So God shows mercy where he wants to show mercy, and he makes stubborn the people he wants to make stubborn.

<sup>19</sup>So one of you will ask me: “Then why does God blame us for our sins? Who can fight his will?” <sup>20</sup>You are only human, and human beings have no right to question God. An object should not ask the person who made it, “Why did you make me like this?” <sup>21</sup>The potter can make anything he wants to make. He can use the same clay to make one thing for special use and another thing for daily use.

<sup>22</sup>It is the same way with God. He wanted to show his anger and to let people see his power. But he patiently stayed with those people he was angry with—people who were made ready to be destroyed. <sup>23</sup>He waited with patience so that he could make known his rich glory to the people who receive his mercy. He has prepared these people to have his glory, <sup>24</sup>and we are those people whom God called. He called us not from the Jews only but also from those who are not Jews. <sup>25</sup>As the Scripture says in Hosea:

“I will say, ‘You are my people’

to those I had called ‘not my people.’
And I will show my love to those people I did not love.”

Hosea 2:1, 23

<sup>26</sup>“They were called,
‘You are not my people,’ but later they will be called ‘children of the living God.’”

Hosea 1:10

<sup>27</sup>And Isaiah cries out about Israel:
“The people of Israel are many,
like the grains of sand by the sea.
But only a few of them will be saved, <sup>28</sup>because the Lord will quickly and completely punish the people on the earth.”

Isaiah 10:22–23

<sup>29</sup>It is as Isaiah said:

“The Lord All-Powerful
allowed a few of our descendants to live.
Otherwise we would have been completely destroyed like the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah.”

Isaiah 1:9

<sup>30</sup>So what does all this mean? Those who are not Jews were not trying to make themselves right with God, but they were made right with God because of their faith. <sup>31</sup>The people of Israel tried to follow a law to make themselves right with God.

But they did not succeed,<sup>32</sup>because they tried to make themselves right by the things they did instead of trusting in God to make them right. They stumbled over the stone that causes people to stumble.<sup>33</sup>As it is written in the Scripture:

“I will put in Jerusalem a stone that causes people to stumble,
a rock that makes them fall.
Anyone who trusts in him will never be disappointed.”

Isaiah 8:14; 28:16

Life Lessons

Romans 10:1-21

Situation

Though the Old Testament emphasized God's mercy and pointed to God's salvation by faith, many first-century Jews preferred to count on their own righteousness to make them acceptable to God. Paul admires their zeal but is heart-broken that they have failed to understand God's plan for salvation.

Observation

God offers salvation to every individual, regardless of ethnic background. Salvation comes through believing in Jesus—no amount of good works can ever be sufficient to win God's approval.

Inspiration

Remember when your mother caught you disobeying one of her orders? You were guilty, caught red-handed, and you knew it. And you had to accept your punishment.

Over the years, the Situations have changed drastically, but the results are the same—disobedience and guilt. The reality is that the deserved punishment for our sins is death—eternal death, separation from God forever. But this passage says we have been ... declared “not guilty.” No matter what we have done, we have been acquitted and forgiven because of Jesus. Thus we have “peace with God” and stand in a place of highest privilege. Not only has God declared us “not guilty,” he has drawn us close to himself. Instead of being his enemies, we have become his friends—in fact, his very own children.

Being freed from the shackles of sin and the burden of guilt, we are now free to serve our loving Lord. Thank you, Jesus. (From On Eagle's Wings by Dave Veerman)

Application

Have you understood God's plan for salvation? God welcomes you with open arms when you come to him in faith. Trust God's mercy, because it brings the joy of a relationship with God.

Exploration

Salvation Through Faith—Genesis 15:6; John 3:16; 5:24; 20:31; Galatians 2:16; Ephesians 2:8–9; Philippians 3:9.

Brothers and sisters, the thing I want most is for all the Jews to be saved. That is my prayer to God. <sup>2</sup>I can say this about them: They really try to follow God, but they do not know the right way. <sup>3</sup>Because they did not know the way that God makes people right with him, they tried to make themselves right in their own way. So they did not accept God's way of making people right. <sup>4</sup>Christ ended the law so that everyone who believes in him may be right with God.

<sup>5</sup>Moses writes about being made right by following the law. He says, "A person who obeys these things will live because of them." <sup>6</sup>But this is what the Scripture says about being made right through faith: "Don't say to yourself, 'Who will go up into heaven?'" (That means, "Who will go up to heaven and bring Christ down to earth?") <sup>7</sup>"And do not say, 'Who will go down into the world below?'" (That means, "Who will go down and bring Christ up from the dead?") <sup>8</sup>This is what the Scripture says: "The word is near you; it is in your mouth and in your heart." <sup>9</sup>That is the teaching of faith that we are telling. <sup>9</sup>If you use your mouth to say, "Jesus is Lord," and if you believe in your heart that God raised Jesus from the dead, you will be saved. <sup>10</sup>We believe with our hearts, and so we are made right with God. And we use our mouths to say that we believe, and so we are saved. <sup>11</sup>As the Scripture says, "Anyone who trusts in him will never be disappointed." <sup>12</sup>That Scripture says "anyone" because there is no difference between those who are Jews and those who are not. The same Lord is the Lord of all and gives many blessings to all who trust in him,<sup>13</sup> as the Scripture says, “Anyone who calls on the Lord will be saved.”

<sup>14</sup>But before people can ask the Lord for help, they must believe in him; and before they can believe in him, they must hear about him; and for them to hear about the Lord, someone must tell them; <sup>15</sup>and before someone can go and tell them, that person must be sent. It is written, “How beautiful is the person who comes to bring good news.” <sup>16</sup>But not all the Jews accepted the good news. Isaiah said, “Lord, who believed what we told them?” <sup>17</sup>So faith comes from hearing the Good News, and people hear the Good News when someone tells them about Christ.

<sup>18</sup>But I ask: Didn't people hear the Good News? Yes, they heard—as the Scripture says:

“Their message went out through all the world; their words go everywhere on earth.”

Psalm 19:4

<sup>19</sup>Again I ask: Didn't the people of Israel understand? Yes, they did understand. First, Moses says:

“I will use those who are not a nation to make you jealous.

I will use a nation that does not understand to make you angry.”

Deuteronomy 32:21

<sup>20</sup>Then Isaiah is bold enough to say:

“I was found by those who were not asking me for help.

I made myself known to people who were not looking for me.”

Isaiah 65:1

<sup>21</sup>But about Israel God says,

“All day long I stood ready to accept people who disobey and are stubborn.”

Isaiah 65:2

Life Lessons

Romans 11:1–36

Situation

Were the Jews still God’s chosen people? What role did the non-Jewish people have? Paul set out to answer these questions.

Observation

Christians often feel superior to other groups—as if we had done something great to earn our acceptance before God. Instead, God’s gift of salvation should make us humble and grateful.

Inspiration

The fact that God has chosen some to be saved does not mean that He has chosen the rest to be lost. The world is already lost and dead in sins. If left to ourselves, all of us would be condemned eternally. The question is, Does God have a right to stoop down, take a handful of already doomed clay, and fashion a vessel of beauty out of it? Of course He does. C. R. Erdman put it in right perspective when he said, “God’s sovereignty is never exercised in condemning men who ought to be saved, but rather it has resulted in the salvation of men who ought to be lost.”

The only way people can know if they are among the elect is by trusting Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior (1 Thessalonians 1:4–7). God holds people responsible to accept the Savior by an act of the will. In reproving those Jews who did not believe, Jesus placed the blame on their will. He did not say, “You cannot come to Me because you are not chosen.” Rather, He did say, “You are not willing to come to Me that you may have life” (John 5:40, emphasis added).

The real question of a believer is not, Does the sovereign God have the right to choose people to be saved? Rather, it is, Why did He choose me? This should make a person a worshiper for all eternity. (From Alone in Majesty by William MacDonald)

Application

Though we have a responsibility to follow Christ, we need to recognize we could only achieve it by God’s Spirit.

Exploration

God’s Choice in Salvation—Deuteronomy 9:4–5; Romans 2:4; 8:28–29; Ephesians 1:4–5, 11; 2:8–9; 1 Timothy 2:3–4; Titus 3:5.

God Shows Mercy to All People

So I ask: Did God throw out his people? No! I myself am an Israelite from the family of Abraham, from the tribe of Benjamin. <sup>2</sup>God chose the Israelites to be his people before they were born, and he has not thrown his people out. Surely you know what the Scripture says about Elijah, how he prayed to God against the people of Israel. <sup>3</sup>“Lord,” he said, “they have killed your prophets, and they have destroyed your altars. I am the only prophet left, and now they are trying to kill me, too.” <sup>4</sup>But what answer did God give Elijah? He said, “But I have left seven thousand people in Israel who have never bowed down before Baal.” <sup>5</sup>It is the same now. There are a few people that God has chosen by his grace. <sup>6</sup>And if he chose them by grace, it is not for the things they have done. If they could be made God’s people by what they did, God’s gift of grace would not really be a gift.

<sup>7</sup>So this is what has happened: Although the Israelites tried to be right with God, they did not succeed, but the ones God chose did become right with him. The others were made stubborn and refused to listen to God. <sup>8</sup>As it is written in the Scriptures:

“God gave the people a dull mind so they could not understand.”

Isaiah 29:10

“He closed their eyes so they could not see and their ears so they could not hear.
This continues until today.”

Deuteronomy 29:4

<sup>9</sup>And David says:

“Let their own feasts trap them and cause their ruin;
let their feasts cause them to stumble and be paid back.
<sup>10</sup>Let their eyes be closed so they cannot see and their backs be forever weak from troubles.”

Psalm 69:22–23

<sup>11</sup>So I ask: When the Jews fell, did that fall destroy them? No! But their mistake brought salvation to those who are not Jews, in order to make the Jews jealous. <sup>12</sup>The Jews’ mistake brought rich blessings for the world, and the Jews’ loss brought rich blessings for the non-Jewish people. So surely the world will receive much richer blessings when enough Jews become the kind of people God wants.

<sup>13</sup>Now I am speaking to you who are not Jews. I am an apostle to those who are not Jews, and since I have that work, I will make the most of it. <sup>14</sup>I hope I can make my own people jealous and, in that way, help some of them to be saved. <sup>15</sup>When God turned away from the Jews, he became friends with other people in the world. So when God accepts the Jews, surely that will bring them life after death.

<sup>16</sup>If the first piece of bread is offered to God, then the whole loaf is made holy. If the roots of a tree are holy, then the tree’s branches are holy too.

<sup>17</sup>It is as if some of the branches from an olive tree have been broken off. You non-Jewish people are like the branch of a wild olive tree that has been joined to that first tree. You now share the strength and life of the first tree, the Jews. <sup>18</sup>So do not brag about those branches that were broken off. If you brag, remember that you do not support the root, but the root supports you. <sup>19</sup>You will say, “Branches were broken off so that I could be joined to their tree.” <sup>20</sup>That is true. But those branches were broken off because they did not believe, and you continue to be part of the tree only because you believe. Do not be proud, but be afraid. <sup>21</sup>If God did not let the natural branches of that tree stay, then he will not let you stay if you don’t believe.

<sup>22</sup>So you see that God is kind and also very strict. He punishes those who stop following him. But God is kind to you, if you continue following in his kindness. If you do not, you will be cut off from the tree. <sup>23</sup>And if the Jews will believe in God again, he will accept them back. God is able to put them back where they were. <sup>24</sup>It is not natural for a wild branch to be part of a good tree. And you who are not Jews are like a branch cut from a wild olive tree and joined to a good olive tree. But since those Jews are like a branch that grew from the good tree, surely they can be joined to their own tree again.

<sup>25</sup>I want you to understand this secret, brothers and sisters, so you will understand that you do not know everything: Part of Israel has been made stubborn, but that will change when many who are not Jews have come to God. <sup>26</sup>And that is how all Israel will be saved. It is written in the Scriptures:

“The Savior will come from Jerusalem;

he will take away all evil from the family of Jacob.
<sup>27</sup>And I will make this agreement with those people when I take away their sins.”

Isaiah 59:20–21; 27:9

<sup>28</sup>The Jews refuse to accept the Good News, so they are God’s enemies. This has happened to help you who are not Jews. But the Jews are still God’s chosen people, and he loves them very much because of the promises he made to their ancestors. <sup>29</sup>God never changes his mind about the people he calls and the things he gives them. <sup>30</sup>At one time you refused to obey God. But now you have received mercy, because those people refused to obey. <sup>31</sup>And now the Jews refuse to obey, because God showed mercy to you. But this happened so that they also can receive mercy from him. <sup>32</sup>God has given all people over to their stubborn ways so that he can show mercy to all.

Praise to God

<sup>33</sup>Yes, God’s riches are very great, and his wisdom and knowledge have no end! No one can explain the things God decides or understand his ways. <sup>34</sup>As the Scripture says,

“Who has known the mind of the Lord, or who has been able to give him advice?”

Isaiah 40:13

<sup>35</sup>“No one has ever given God anything that he must pay back.”

Job 41:11

<sup>36</sup>Yes, God made all things, and everything continues through him and for him. To him be the glory forever! Amen.

Paul told the Roman Christians how to live so that their behavior would be worshipful to God.

Observation

God desires you to surrender every part of your life to him.

Inspiration

Would you buy a house if you were only allowed to see one of its rooms? Would you purchase a car if you were permitted to see only its tires and a taillight? Would you pass judgment on a book after reading only one paragraph?

Nor would I.

Good judgment requires a broad picture. Not only is that true in purchasing houses, cars, and books, it's true in evaluating life. One failure doesn't make a person a failure; one achievement doesn't make a person a success.

"The end of the matter is better than its beginning," penned the sage.

"Be patient when trouble comes ...," echoed the apostle Paul...

We only have a fragment. Life's mishaps and horrors are only a page out of a grand book. We must be slow about drawing conclusions. We must reserve judgment on life's storms until we know the whole story....

“Do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself.”

He should know. He is the Author of our story. And he has already written the final chapter. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Give Your Lives to God

So brothers and sisters, since God has shown us great mercy, I beg you to offer your lives as a living sacrifice to him. Your offering must be only for God and pleasing to him, which is the spiritual way for you to worship. <sup>2</sup>Do not change yourselves to be like the people of this world, but be changed within by a new way of thinking. Then you will be able to decide what God wants for you; you will know what is good and pleasing to him and what is perfect. <sup>3</sup>Because God has given me a special gift, I have something to say to everyone among you. Do not think you are better than you are. You must decide what you really are by the amount of faith God has given you. <sup>4</sup>Each one of us has a body with many parts, and these parts all have different uses. <sup>5</sup>In the same way, we are many, but in Christ we are all one body. Each one is a part of that body, and each part belongs to all the other parts. <sup>6</sup>We all have different gifts, each of which came because of the grace God gave us. The person who has the gift of prophecy should use that gift in agreement with the faith. <sup>7</sup>Anyone who has the gift of serving should serve. Anyone who has the gift of teaching should teach. <sup>8</sup>Whoever has the gift of encouraging others should encourage. Whoever has the gift of giving to others should give freely. Anyone who has the gift of being a leader should try hard when he leads. Whoever has the gift of showing mercy to others should do so with joy.

<sup>14</sup>Wish good for those who harm you; wish them well and do not curse them. <sup>15</sup>Be happy with those who are happy, and be sad with those who are sad. <sup>16</sup>Live in peace with each other. Do not be proud, but make friends with those who seem unimportant. Do not think how smart you are.

<sup>17</sup>If someone does wrong to you, do not pay him back by doing wrong to him. Try to do what everyone thinks is right. <sup>18</sup>Do your best to live in peace with everyone. <sup>19</sup>My friends, do not try to punish others when they wrong you, but wait for God to punish them with his anger. It is written: "I will punish those who do wrong; I will repay them." says the Lord. <sup>20</sup>But you should do this:

“If your enemy is hungry, feed him;
if he is thirsty, give him a drink.

Doing this will be like pouring burning coals on his head.”

Proverbs 25:21–22

<sup>21</sup>Do not let evil defeat you, but defeat evil by doing good.

Romans 13:1-14

Situation

Paul encouraged Christians to obey the government even though submitting to a pagan government would be difficult. He also encouraged Christians to love each other.

Observation

Christians should be well known in their communities for their obedience to government and their love for each other.

Inspiration

Let us pray for each other so that we grow in tender love, that we allow God to love us, and that we allow God to love others through us.

Where does that showing of love begin? At home; so let us bring that love to the sick, to the old, to the lonely, to the unwanted. For people do not hunger only for bread; they hunger for love, they hunger to be somebody to somebody.

I will never forget that I once met a man in the street who looked very lonely and miserable. So I walked right up to him, and I shook his hand. My hands are always very warm; and he looked up, gave me a beautiful smile, and he said, "Oh, it has been such a long, long time since I felt the warmth of a human hand!" How very wonderful and very beautiful that our simple actions can show love in that way.

And let us remember to bring that kind of love into our family. We can do this through prayer; for where there is prayer, there is love. And where there is love, there is the complete oneness that Jesus was talking about when he said, “Be one, as the Father and I are one. And love one another as I love you. As the Father loved me, I have loved you.” (From Who Is for Life? by Mother Theresa)

Application

Have you received love in an unusual way from someone? Look for a new way to show love to those who normally hear you say, “I love you.”

Exploration

Love—1 Corinthians 13; 1 John 3:16; 4:7–8.

Christians Should Obey the Law

All of you must yield to the government rulers. No one rules unless God has given him the power to rule, and no one rules now without that power from God.<sup>2</sup> So those who are against the government are really against what God has commanded. And they will bring punishment on themselves.<sup>3</sup> Those who do right do not have to fear the rulers; only those who do wrong fear them. Do you want to be unafraid of the rulers? Then do what is right, and they will praise you.<sup>4</sup> The ruler is God's servant to help you. But if you do wrong, then be afraid. He has the power to punish; he is God's servant to punish those who do wrong.<sup>5</sup> So you must yield to the government, not only because you might be punished, but because you know it is right.

<sup>6</sup>This is also why you pay taxes. Rulers are working for God and give their time to their work.<sup>7</sup> Pay everyone, then, what you owe. If you owe any kind of tax, pay it. Show respect and honor to them all.

Loving Others

<sup>8</sup>Do not owe people anything, except always owe love to each other, because the person who loves others has obeyed all the law.<sup>9</sup> The law says, "You must not be guilty of adultery. You must not murder anyone. You must not steal. You must not want to take your neighbor's things." All these commands and all others are really only one rule: "Love your neighbor as you love yourself." <sup>10</sup>Love never hurts a neighbor, so loving is obeying all the law.

<sup>11</sup>Do this because we live in an important time. It is now time for you to wake up from your sleep, because our salvation is nearer now than when we first believed. <sup>12</sup>The "night" is almost finished, and the "day" is almost here. So we should stop doing things that belong to darkness and take up the weapons used for fighting in the light. <sup>13</sup>Let us live in a right way, like people who belong to the day. We should not have wild parties or get drunk. There should be no sexual sins of any kind, no fighting or jealousy. <sup>14</sup>But clothe yourselves with the Lord Jesus Christ and forget about satisfying your sinful self.

Life Lessons

Romans 14:1–15:13

Situation

Paul continued to call Christians to unity and love, particularly between those who were weak or strong in their faith and walk with God. Paul addressed the habit of holy days and the eating of meat sacrificed to idols.

Observation

The church should be marked by how we love each other rather than how we judge each other.

Inspiration

Accepting others is basic to letting them be. Those who didn't eat [meat] (called here "weak in the faith") were exhorted to accept and not judge those who ate. And those who ate were exhorted to accept and not regard with contempt those who did not eat. The secret lies in accepting one another. All of this is fairly easy to read so long as I stay on the issue of eating meat. That one is safe because it isn't a current taboo. It's easy to accept those folks today because they don't exist!

How about those in our life who may disagree with us on issues that are taboos in evangelical Christian circles today? ... Going to movies ... Playing cards ... Not having a "quiet time" every morning ... Going to a restaurant that sells liquor ... Listening to certain music ... Dancing ... Drinking coffee ...

There are a dozen other things I could list, some of which would make you smile. But believe me, in various areas of our country or the world some or all of these things may be taboo... . [D]on't assume that all areas are identical when it comes to taboos... . (Remember, our goal is acceptance, the basis of a grace state of mind.) (From Grace Awakening by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Examine your own taboos and look for some that may be unnecessary points of contention with other Christians.

Exploration

Personal Responsibilities—Deuteronomy 24:16; Job 19:4; Proverbs 9:12; Jeremiah 31:30; Ezekiel 18:20.

Do Not Criticize Other People

Accept into your group someone who is weak in faith, and do not argue about opinions. <sup>2</sup>One person believes it is right to eat all kinds of food. But another, who is weak, believes it is right to eat only vegetables. <sup>3</sup>The one who knows that it is right to eat any kind of food must not reject the one who eats only vegetables. And the person who eats only vegetables must not think that the one who eats all foods is wrong, because God has accepted that person. <sup>4</sup>You cannot judge another person's servant. The master decides if the servant is doing well or not. And the Lord's servant will do well because the Lord helps him do well.

<sup>5</sup>Some think that one day is more important than another, and others think that every day is the same. Let all be sure in their own mind. <sup>6</sup>Those who think one day is more important than other days are doing that for the Lord. And those who eat all kinds of food are doing that for the Lord, and they give thanks to God. Others who refuse to eat some foods do that for the Lord, and they give thanks to God. <sup>7</sup>We do not live or die for ourselves. <sup>8</sup>If we live, we are living for the Lord, and if we die, we are dying for the Lord. So living or dying, we belong to the Lord.

<sup>9</sup>The reason Christ died and rose from the dead to live again was so he would be Lord over both the dead and the living.

<sup>10</sup>So why do you judge your brothers or sisters in Christ? And why do you think you are better than they are? We will all stand before God to be judged, <sup>11</sup>because it is written in the Scriptures:

“ ‘As surely as I live,’ says the Lord,
‘Everyone will bow before me;
everyone will say that I am God.’ ”

Isaiah 45:23

<sup>12</sup>So each of us will have to answer to God.

Do Not Cause Others to Sin

<sup>13</sup>For that reason we should stop judging each other. We must make up our minds not to do anything that will make another Christian sin. <sup>14</sup>I am in the Lord Jesus, and I know that there is no food that is wrong to eat. But if a person believes something is wrong, that thing is wrong for him. <sup>15</sup>If you hurt your brother's or sister's faith because of something you eat, you are not really following the way of love. Do not destroy someone's faith by eating food he thinks is wrong, because Christ died for him. <sup>16</sup>Do not allow what you think is good to become what others say is evil. <sup>17</sup>In the kingdom of God, eating and drinking are not important. The important things are living right with God, peace, and joy in the Holy Spirit. <sup>18</sup>Anyone who serves Christ by living this way is pleasing God and will be accepted by other people.

<sup>19</sup>So let us try to do what makes peace and helps one another. <sup>20</sup>Do not let the eating of food destroy the work of God. All foods are all right to eat, but it is wrong to eat food that causes someone else to sin. <sup>21</sup>It is better not to eat meat or drink wine or do anything that will cause your brother or sister to sin.

<sup>22</sup>Your beliefs about these things should be kept secret between you and God. People are happy if they can do what they think is right without feeling guilty. <sup>23</sup>But those who eat something without being sure it is right are wrong because they did not believe it was right. Anything that is done without believing it is right is a sin.

We who are strong in faith should help the weak with their weaknesses, and not please only ourselves.<sup>2</sup>Let each of us please our neighbors for their good, to help them be stronger in faith.<sup>3</sup>Even Christ did not live to please himself. It was as the Scriptures said: “When people insult you, it hurts me.”<sup>4</sup>Everything that was written in the past was written to teach us. The Scriptures give us patience and encouragement so that we can have hope.<sup>5</sup>Patience and encouragement come from God. And I pray that God will help you all agree with each other the way Christ Jesus wants.<sup>6</sup>Then you will all be joined together, and you will give glory to God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.<sup>7</sup>Christ accepted you, so you should accept each other, which will bring glory to God.<sup>8</sup>I tell you that Christ became a servant of the Jews to show that God’s promises to the Jewish ancestors are true.<sup>9</sup>And he also did this so that those who are not Jews could give glory to God for the mercy he gives to them. It is written in the Scriptures:

“So I will praise you among the non-Jewish people.
I will sing praises to your name.”

Psalm 18:49

<sup>10</sup>The Scripture also says,

“Be happy, you who are not Jews, together with his people.”

Deuteronomy 32:43

<sup>11</sup>Again the Scripture says,

“All you who are not Jews, praise the Lord.

All you people, sing praises to him.”

Psalm 117:1

<sup>12</sup>And Isaiah says,

“A new king will come from the family of Jesse.
He will come to rule over the non-Jewish people, and they will have hope because of him.”

Isaiah 11:10

<sup>13</sup>I pray that the God who gives hope will fill you with much joy and peace while you trust in him. Then your hope will overflow by the power of the Holy Spirit.

Situation

Having concluded his presentation of the gospel and its impact on those who believe, Paul turned his focus to his ministry.

Observation

Paul expressed his passion for the unsaved and his love for Christians.

Inspiration

A few nights ago a peculiar thing happened.

An electrical storm caused a blackout in our neighborhood. When the lights went out, I felt my way through the darkness into the storage closet where we keep the candles for nights like this... . I took my match and lit four of them. . . .

I was turning to leave with the large candle in my hand when I heard a voice, “Now, hold it right there.”

“Who said that?”

“I did.” The voice was near my hand.

“Who are you? What are you?”

“I’m a candle.”

I lifted up the candle to take a closer look. You won’t believe what I saw. There was a tiny face in the wax . . . a moving, functioning, fleshlike face full of expression and life.

“Don’t take me out of here!”

“What?”

“I said, Don’t take me out of this room.”

“What do you mean? I have to take you out. You’re a candle. Your job is to give light. It’s dark out there.”

“But you can’t take me out. I’m not ready,” the candle explained with pleading eyes. “I need more preparation.”

I couldn’t believe my ears. “More preparation?”

“Yeah, I’ve decided I need to research this job of light-giving so I won’t go out and make a bunch of mistakes. You’d be surprised how distorted the glow of an untrained candle can be. . . .”

“All right then, ” I said. “You’re not the only candle on the shelf. I’ll blow you out and take the others!”

But just as I got my cheeks full of air, I heard other voices.

“We aren’t going either!”

... I turned around and looked at the three other candles... . “You are candles and your job is to light dark places!”

“Well, that may be what you think,” said the candle on the far left... . “You may think we have to go, but I’m busy... . I’m meditating on the importance of light. It’s really enlightening.” ...

“And you other two,” I asked, “are you going to stay in here as well?”

A short, fat, purple candle with plump cheeks that reminded me of Santa Claus spoke up. “I’m waiting to get my life together. I’m not stable enough.”

The last candle had a female voice, very pleasant to the ear. “I’d like to help,” she explained, “but lighting the darkness is not my gift... . I’m a singer. I sing to other candles to encourage them to burn more brightly.”

... She began a rendition of “This Little Light of Mine.”... The other three joined in, filling the storage room with singing... . I took a step back and considered the absurdity of it all. Four perfectly healthy candles singing to each other about light but refusing to come out of the closet. (From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

Application

When was the last time you presented the gospel to someone? Are you scared to be the light-giver that God has created you to be? Pray today that God would bring you opportunities to share your faith and give you the courage to take them. Now step out in faith and keep your eyes open!

Evangelism—Matthew 5:13–16; 28:18–20; Acts 1:8; 2 Corinthians 2:14–17; 1 Thessalonians 2:8; 1 Peter 3:15–16.

Paul Talks About His Work

<sup>14</sup>My brothers and sisters, I am sure that you are full of goodness. I know that you have all the knowledge you need and that you are able to teach each other. <sup>15</sup>But I have written to you very openly about some things I wanted you to remember. I did this because God gave me this special gift: <sup>16</sup>to be a minister of Christ Jesus to those who are not Jews. I served God by teaching his Good News, so that the non-Jewish people could be an offering that God would accept—an offering made holy by the Holy Spirit.

<sup>17</sup>So I am proud of what I have done for God in Christ Jesus. <sup>18</sup>I will not talk about anything except what Christ has done through me in leading those who are not Jews to obey God. They have obeyed God because of what I have said and done, <sup>19</sup>because of the power of miracles and the great things they saw, and because of the power of the Holy Spirit. I preached the Good News from Jerusalem all the way around to Illyricum, and so I have finished that part of my work. <sup>20</sup>I always want to preach the Good News in places where people have never heard of Christ, because I do not want to build on the work someone else has already started. <sup>21</sup>But it is written in the Scriptures:

“Those who were not told about him will see,
and those who have not heard about him will understand.”

Paul's Plan to Visit Rome

<sup>22</sup>This is the reason I was stopped many times from coming to you. <sup>23</sup>Now I have finished my work here. Since for many years I have wanted to come to you, <sup>24</sup>I hope to visit you on my way to Spain. After I enjoy being with you for a while, I hope you can help me on my trip. <sup>25</sup>Now I am going to Jerusalem to help God's people. <sup>26</sup>The believers in Macedonia and Southern Greece were happy to give their money to help the poor among God's people at Jerusalem. <sup>27</sup>They were happy to do this, and really they owe it to them. These who are not Jews have shared in the Jews' spiritual blessings, so they should use their material possessions to help the Jews. <sup>28</sup>After I am sure the poor in Jerusalem get the money that has been given for them, I will leave for Spain and stop and visit you. <sup>29</sup>I know that when I come to you I will bring Christ's full blessing.

<sup>30</sup>Brothers and sisters, I beg you to help me in my work by praying to God for me. Do this because of our Lord Jesus and the love that the Holy Spirit gives us. <sup>31</sup>Pray that I will be saved from the nonbelievers in Judea and that this help I bring to Jerusalem will please God's people there. <sup>32</sup>Then, if God wants me to, I will come to you with joy, and together you and I will have a time of rest. <sup>33</sup>The God who gives peace be with you all. Amen.

Life Lessons

Romans 16:1-27

Situation

Paul sent his warmest greetings to his fellow workers in the kingdom of God.

Observation

Though often overlooked, the behind-the-scenes service of faithful Christians forms a vital part of any ministry. Paul expressed his thanks to a wide variety of people, most of whom are noted for simple, everyday acts of service.

Inspiration

For an extraordinary pitcher he performed few extraordinary feats. Though a veteran of twenty-one seasons, in only one did he win more than twenty games. He never pitched a no-hitter and only once did he lead the league in any category....

Yet on June 21, 1986, Don Sutton rubbed pitching elbows with the true legends of baseball by becoming the thirtieth pitcher to win 300 games.

His analysis of his success is worth noting.

“A grinder and a mechanic” is what he calls himself. “I never considered myself flamboyant or exceptional. But all my life I’ve found a way to get the job done.”

... He has been called the “family sedan” of baseball’s men on the mound. The connotation is accurate. He certainly boasted none of the Ferrari style of a Denny McClane nor the Mercedes sparkle of a Sandy Koufax, but after they and their types were parked in museums or garages, Don Sutton was still there.

He reminds us of a quality that is a common denominator in any form of greatness—reliability.

It's the bread and butter characteristic of achievement. It's the shared ingredient behind retirement pens, Hall of Fame awards, and golden anniversaries. It is the quality that produces not momentary heroics but monumental lives.

The Bible has its share of family sedans. Consistent and predictable, these saints were spurred by a gut-level conviction that they had been called by no one less than God himself. As a result, their work wasn't affected by moods, cloudy days, or rocky trails. Their performance graph didn't rise and fall with roller-coaster irregularity. They weren't addicted to accolades or applause nor deterred by grumpy bosses or empty wallets. Rather than strive to be spectacular, they aspired to be accountable and dependable. And since their loyalty was not determined by their comfort, they were just as faithful in dark prisons as they were in spotlighted pulpits.

Reliable servants. They're the binding of the Bible. Their acts are rarely recited and their names are seldom mentioned. Yet were it not for their loyal devotion to God, many great events never would have occurred. (From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

Application

Are you a sports car—flashy, fun, nice to look at, but expensive to keep up and not very practical for most of the daily jobs of life? Or are you a family sedan—maybe not always noticed at first, but reliable, and a dear friend of the family? Think through the attitudes you need to change to become more faithful and reliable. Start working on one attitude this week.

Greetings to the Christians

I recommend to you our sister Phoebe, who is a helper in the church in Cenchrea. <sup>2</sup>I ask you to accept her in the Lord in the way God's people should. Help her with anything she needs, because she has helped me and many other people also.

<sup>3</sup>Give my greetings to Priscilla and Aquila, who work together with me in Christ Jesus <sup>4</sup>and who risked their own lives to save my life. I am thankful to them, and all the non-Jewish churches are thankful as well. <sup>5</sup>Also, greet for me the church that meets at their house.

Greetings to my dear friend Epenetus, who was the first person in the country of Asia to follow Christ. <sup>6</sup>Greetings to Mary, who worked very hard for you. <sup>7</sup>Greetings to Andronicus and Junia, my relatives, who were in prison with me. They are very important apostles. They were believers in Christ before I was. <sup>8</sup>Greetings to Ampliatus, my dear friend in the Lord. <sup>9</sup>Greetings to Urbanus, a worker together with me for Christ. And greetings to my dear friend Stachys. <sup>10</sup>Greetings to Apelles, who was tested and proved that he truly loves Christ. Greetings to all those who are in the family of Aristobulus. <sup>11</sup>Greetings to Herodion, my fellow citizen. Greetings to all those in the family of Narcissus who belong to the Lord. <sup>12</sup>Greetings to Tryphena and Tryphosa, women who work very hard for the Lord. Greetings to my dear friend Persis, who also has worked very hard for the Lord. <sup>13</sup>Greetings to Rufus, who is a special person in the Lord, and to his mother, who has been like a mother to me also. <sup>14</sup>Greetings to Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas, and all the brothers who are with them. <sup>15</sup>Greetings to Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas, and to all God's people with them. <sup>16</sup>Greet each other with a holy kiss. All of Christ's churches send greetings to you.

<sup>17</sup>Brothers and sisters, I ask you to look out for those who cause people to be against each other and who upset other people's faith. They are against the true teaching you learned, so stay away from them. <sup>18</sup>Such people are not serving our Lord Christ but are only doing what pleases themselves. They use fancy talk and fine words to fool the minds of those who do not know about evil. <sup>19</sup>All the believers have heard that you obey, so I am very happy because of you. But I want you to be wise in what is good and innocent in what is evil.

<sup>20</sup>The God who brings peace will soon defeat Satan and give you power over him.

The grace of our Lord Jesus be with you.

<sup>21</sup>Timothy, a worker together with me, sends greetings, as well as Lucius, Jason, and Sosipater, my relatives.

<sup>22</sup>I am Tertius, and I am writing this letter from Paul. I send greetings to you in the Lord.

<sup>23</sup>Gaius is letting me and the whole church here use his home. He also sends greetings to you, as do Erastus, the city treasurer, and our brother Quartus. <sup>24</sup>n

<sup>25</sup>Glory to God who can make you strong in faith by the Good News that I tell people and by the message about Jesus Christ. The message about Christ is the secret that was hidden for long ages past but is now made known. <sup>26</sup>It has been made clear through the writings of the prophets. And by the command of the eternal God it is made known to all nations that they might believe and obey.

<sup>27</sup>To the only wise God be glory forever through Jesus Christ! Amen.

The Book of 1 Corinthians

Introduction

An Indian was walking up a mountain when he heard a voice.

“Carry me with you,” it requested.

The Indian turned and saw a snake. He refused. “If I carry you up the mountain, you will bite me.”

“I wouldn’t do that,” the snake assured. “All I need is some help. I am slow and you are fast; please be kind and carry me to the top of the mountain.”

It was against his better judgment, but the Indian agreed. He picked up the snake, put him in his shirt, and resumed the journey. When they reached the top, he reached in his shirt to remove the snake and got bit.

He fell to the ground, and the snake slithered away.

“You lied!” the Indian cried, “You said you wouldn’t bite me.”

The snake stopped and looked back, “I didn’t lie. You knew who I was when you picked me up.”

We hear the legend and shake our heads. He should have known better, we bemoan. And we are right. He should have.

And so should we. But don’t we do the same? Don’t we believe the lies of the snake? Don’t we pick up what we should leave alone?

The Corinthian Christians did. One snake after another had hissed his lies in their ears, and they had believed it. How many lies did they believe?

How much time do you have?

The list is long and ugly: sectarianism, disunity, sexual immorality. And that is only the first six chapters.

But 1 Corinthians is more than a list of sins; it is an epistle of patience. Paul initiates the letter by calling these Christians “brothers and sisters” [see NCV textual footnote]. He could have called them heretics or hypocrites (and in so many words he does), but not before he calls them brothers and sisters.

He patiently teaches them about worship, unity, the role of women, and the Lord’s Supper. He writes as if he can see them face-to-face. He is disturbed but not despondent. Angry but not desperate. His driving passion is love. And his treatise on love in chapter 13 remains the greatest essay ever penned.

The letter, however personal, is not just for Corinth. It is for all who have heard the whisper and felt the fangs.

We, like the Indian, should have known better. We, like the Corinthians, sometimes need a second chance.

1 Corinthians 1:1-31

Situation

In a constructive manner, Paul admonished Christians in Corinth for being divisive. Paul reminded them about the limits of human wisdom.

Observation

Christians must focus on Christ to understand God's will. Human wisdom won't do it.

Inspiration

Throughout the expanse of creation God has hidden things for humankind to discover, to enjoy, and with which to perceive the nature of the Creator Himself...

The work of the first man and woman was to discover and identify things God had made. Because of their disobedience against God's laws, some of the opportunity for that kind of marvelous work was forfeited. They now had to worry more about surviving in a hostile world than continuing to discover what was in it. The nature of work abruptly changed. I have a conviction that the heavenly life will in some way recover that original form of work.

But the principle and privilege of discovery still prevails in part...

And much of the Exploration of creation is done purely within the mind. We dig, as it were, and uncover ideas and truths; then we turn around to express them artistically, worshipfully, and inventively.

Thinking is a great work. It is best done with a mind that has trained and is in shape just as competitive running is done with a body that has trained and is in shape. The best kind of thinking is accomplished when it is done in the context of reverence for God's kingly reign over all creation. (From Ordering Your Private World by Gordon MacDonald)

Application

Human wisdom tells us to get as much as we can, believe only what we can see, enjoy pleasure, and avoid pain. God's wisdom tells us to give all we can, believe what we can't see, enjoy service, and expect persecution. See that your life reflects the difference.

Exploration

Wisdom—Job 28:13; Proverbs 1:7; 9:1; Ecclesiastes 8:1.

From Paul. God called me to be an apostle of Christ Jesus because that is what God wanted. Also from Sosthenes, our brother in Christ.

<sup>2</sup>To the church of God in Corinth, to you who have been made holy in Christ Jesus. You were called to be God's holy people with all people everywhere who pray in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ—their Lord and ours:

<sup>3</sup>Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Paul Gives Thanks to God

<sup>4</sup>I always thank my God for you because of the grace God has given you in Christ Jesus. <sup>5</sup>I thank God because in Christ you have been made rich in every way, in all your speaking and in all your knowledge. <sup>6</sup>Just as our witness about Christ has been guaranteed to you, <sup>7</sup>so you have every gift from God while you wait for our Lord Jesus Christ to come again. <sup>8</sup>Jesus will keep you strong until the end so that there will be no wrong in you on the day our Lord Jesus Christ comes again. <sup>9</sup>God, who has called you to share everything with his Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, is faithful.

Problems in the Church

<sup>10</sup>I beg you, brothers and sisters, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ that all of you agree with each other and not be split into groups. I beg that you be completely joined together by having the same kind of thinking and the same purpose. <sup>11</sup>My brothers and sisters, some people from Chloe's family have told me quite plainly that there are quarrels among you. <sup>12</sup>This is what I mean: One of you says, "I follow Paul"; another says, "I follow Apollos"; another says, "I follow Peter"; and another says, "I follow Christ." <sup>13</sup>Christ has been divided up into different groups! Did Paul die on the cross for you? No! Were you baptized in the name of Paul? No! <sup>14</sup>I thank God I did not baptize any of you except Crispus and Gaius <sup>15</sup>so that now no one can say you were baptized in my name. <sup>16</sup>(I also baptized the family of Stephanas, but I do not remember that I baptized anyone else.) <sup>17</sup>Christ did not send me to baptize people but to preach the Good News. And he sent me to preach the Good News without using words of human wisdom so that the cross of Christ would not lose its power.

Christ Is God's Power and Wisdom

<sup>18</sup>The teaching about the cross is foolishness to those who are being lost, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God. <sup>19</sup>It is written in the Scriptures:

"I will cause the wise men to lose their wisdom;
I will make the wise men unable to understand."

Isaiah 29:14

<sup>20</sup>Where is the wise person? Where is the educated person? Where is the skilled talker of this world? God has made the wisdom of the world foolish. <sup>21</sup>In the wisdom of God the world did not know God through its own wisdom. So God chose to use the message that sounds foolish to save those who believe. <sup>22</sup>The Jews ask for miracles, and the Greeks want wisdom. <sup>23</sup>But we preach a crucified Christ. This is a big problem to the Jews, and it is foolishness to those who are not Jews. <sup>24</sup>But Christ is the power of God and the wisdom of God to those people God has called—Jews and Greeks. <sup>25</sup>Even the foolishness of God is wiser than human wisdom, and the weakness of God is stronger than human strength.

<sup>26</sup>Brothers and sisters, look at what you were when God called you. Not many of you were wise in the way the world judges wisdom. Not many of you had great influence. Not many of you came from important families. <sup>27</sup>But God chose the foolish things of the world to shame the wise, and he chose the weak things of the world to shame the strong. <sup>28</sup>He chose what the world thinks is unimportant and what the world looks down on and thinks is nothing in order to destroy what the world thinks is important. <sup>29</sup>God did this so that no one can brag in his presence. <sup>30</sup>Because of God you are in Christ Jesus, who has become for us wisdom from God. In Christ we are put right with God, and have been made holy, and have been set free from sin. <sup>31</sup>So, as the Scripture says, “If someone wants to brag, he should brag only about the Lord.”

Life Lessons

1 Corinthians 2:1-16

Situation

The world cannot understand God's wisdom, nor can it comprehend that God's Son had to die to bring sinners back to God.

Observation

God reveals the mystery of the gospel to us when the Holy Spirit opens our spiritual eyes.

Inspiration

Men are always seeking for greater wisdom, but they usually bypass the Ultimate Source of wisdom. The Scriptures clearly point this direction. They reveal, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, and the knowledge of the Holy One is understanding" (Proverbs 9:10). But what has man done with this tremendous resource at his fingertips? Ignored it! "For even though they knew God, they did not honor Him as God, or give thanks; but they became futile in their speculations, and their foolish heart was darkened. Professing to be wise, they became fools" (Romans 1:21-22).

Since God's wisdom resides in His Word, it is imperative to know what He has revealed, but even many Christians ignore a regular time reading and studying the Scriptures. Therefore, many of their decisions are foolish, because they've not consulted the Ultimate Source of wisdom. (From Finding Time by Rick Yohn)

The Message of Christ's Death

Dear brothers and sisters, when I came to you, I did not come preaching God's secret with fancy words or a show of human wisdom.<sup>2</sup>I decided that while I was with you I would forget about everything except Jesus Christ and his death on the cross.<sup>3</sup>So when I came to you, I was weak and fearful and trembling.<sup>4</sup>My teaching and preaching were not with words of human wisdom that persuade people but with proof of the power that the Spirit gives.<sup>5</sup>This was so that your faith would be in God's power and not in human wisdom.

God's Wisdom

<sup>6</sup>However, I speak a wisdom to those who are mature. But this wisdom is not from this world or from the rulers of this world, who are losing their power.<sup>7</sup>I speak God's secret wisdom, which he has kept hidden. Before the world began, God planned this wisdom for our glory.<sup>8</sup>None of the rulers of this world understood it. If they had, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.<sup>9</sup>But as it is written in the Scriptures:

“No one has ever seen this,
and no one has ever heard about it.
No one has ever imagined what God has prepared for those who love him.”

Isaiah 64:4

<sup>10</sup>But God has shown us these things through the Spirit.

The Spirit searches out all things, even the deep secrets of God. <sup>11</sup>Who knows the thoughts that another person has? Only a person’s spirit that lives within him knows his thoughts. It is the same with God. No one knows the thoughts of God except the Spirit of God. <sup>12</sup>Now we did not receive the spirit of the world, but we received the Spirit that is from God so that we can know all that God has given us. <sup>13</sup>And we speak about these things, not with words taught us by human wisdom but with words taught us by the Spirit. And so we explain spiritual truths to spiritual people. <sup>14</sup>A person who does not have the Spirit does not accept the truths that come from the Spirit of God. That person thinks they are foolish and cannot understand them, because they can only be judged to be true by the Spirit. <sup>15</sup>The spiritual person is able to judge all things, but no one can judge him. The Scripture says:

<sup>16</sup>“Who has known the mind of the Lord?
Who has been able to teach him?”

Isaiah 40:13

But we have the mind of Christ.

Life Lessons

1 Corinthians 3:1-23

Situation

Paul wrote to a church that was young and immature. He corrected some misunderstandings in the Corinthian church and outlined how the people should act, live, and relate.

Observation

This chapter contains the most information on the subject of rewards.

Inspiration

Let's talk for a moment about rewards. Salvation is the result of grace. Without exception, no man or woman has ever done one work to enhance the finished work of the cross. Our service does not earn our salvation. Our service does, however, impact our rewards. As one writer stated, "We are accepted into heaven on the basis of faith alone, but we are adorned in heaven on the basis of the fruits of our faith."

If this strikes you as strange, you aren't alone. Scripture offers just enough teaching to convince us of rewards, but not enough to answer our questions about them. In what form do they come? How are they dispensed? We aren't told. We are simply assured they exist. In addition to the crowns of life, righteousness, and glory, Scripture indicates that there are other rewards.

Some of the clearest writing on the topic is found in 1 Corinthians 3:10–15. In these verses, Paul envisions two lives. Both are built on the foundation of Christ; that is to say, both are saved. One, however, adds to that foundation with valuable works of gold, silver, and jewels. The other is content to take the cheap route and makes no substantive contribution to the kingdom. His work is comprised of flammable wood, grass, and straw.

On the day of judgment, the nature of each work will be revealed. Paul writes: “That Day will appear with fire, and the fire will test everyone’s work to show what sort of work it was. If the building that has been put on the foundation still stands, the builder will get a reward. But if the building is burned up, the builder will suffer loss. The builder will be saved, but it will be as one who escaped from a fire” (1 Corinthians 3:13–15).

Please note: Both builders will be saved, but only one will be rewarded. And that reward will be on the basis of works. Exactly what forms the rewards will take, we do not know. I was once counseled to maintain a “reverent agnosticism” on the question. Translated: be peacefully ignorant.

My feeling is that the rewards will come in the form of added responsibility, not added privilege. Such is the indication from Matthew 25:21: “You did well. You are a good and loyal servant. Because you were loyal with small things, I will let you care for much greater things. Come and share my joy with me.” The worker appears to be given more duty rather than more relaxation. But again, we don’t know for sure.

What we do know is this: We are saved by grace, and we are rewarded according to deeds. Anything beyond that is speculation. In fact, any speculation beyond that is dangerous lest we grow competitive. (From When Christ Comes by Max Lucado)

Application

If the nature of your works is going to be revealed, how should that affect your daily behavior? Ask God to help you live a life that is pleasing to him. Then thank him that you are saved by grace alone.

Following People Is Wrong

Brothers and sisters, in the past I could not talk to you as I talk to spiritual people. I had to talk to you as I would to people without the Spirit—babies in Christ. <sup>2</sup>The teaching I gave you was like milk, not solid food, because you were not able to take solid food. And even now you are not ready. <sup>3</sup>You are still not spiritual, because there is jealousy and quarreling among you, and this shows that you are not spiritual. You are acting like people of the world. <sup>4</sup>One of you says, “I belong to Paul,” and another says, “I belong to Apollos.” When you say things like this, you are acting like people of the world.

<sup>5</sup>Is Apollos important? No! Is Paul important? No! We are only servants of God who helped you believe. Each one of us did the work God gave us to do. <sup>6</sup>I planted the seed, and Apollos watered it. But God is the One who made it grow. <sup>7</sup>So the one who plants is not important, and the one who waters is not important. Only God, who makes things grow, is important. <sup>8</sup>The one who plants and the one who waters have the same purpose, and each will be rewarded for his own work. <sup>9</sup>We are God’s workers, working together; you are like God’s farm, God’s house.

<sup>10</sup>Using the gift God gave me, I laid the foundation of that house like an expert builder. Others are building on that foundation, but all people should be careful how they build on it. <sup>11</sup>The foundation that has already been laid is Jesus Christ, and no one can lay down any other foundation. <sup>12</sup>But if people build on that foundation, using gold, silver, jewels, wood, grass, or straw, <sup>13</sup>their work will be clearly seen, because the Day of Judgment will make it visible. That Day will appear with fire, and the fire will test everyone's work to show what sort of work it was. <sup>14</sup>If the building that has been put on the foundation still stands, the builder will get a reward. <sup>15</sup>But if the building is burned up, the builder will suffer loss. The builder will be saved, but it will be as one who escaped from a fire.

<sup>16</sup>Don't you know that you are God's temple and that God's Spirit lives in you? <sup>17</sup>If anyone destroys God's temple, God will destroy that person, because God's temple is holy and you are that temple.

<sup>18</sup>Do not fool yourselves. If you think you are wise in this world, you should become a fool so that you can become truly wise, <sup>19</sup>because the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. It is written in the Scriptures, "He catches those who are wise in their own clever traps." <sup>20</sup>It is also written in the Scriptures, "The Lord knows what wise people think. He knows their thoughts are just a puff of wind." <sup>21</sup>So you should not brag about human leaders. All things belong to you: <sup>22</sup>Paul, Apollos, and Peter; the world, life, death, the present, and the future—all these belong to you. <sup>23</sup>And you belong to Christ, and Christ belongs to God.

Life Lessons

1 Corinthians 4:1-21

Situation

Paul hoped church leaders in Corinth would regard him and other apostles as fellow servants of God. Paul sought to correct the church, not abandon or demean it.

Observation

Paul said that ministers were servants accountable to God. Their faithful service would bring praise from God.

Inspiration

The last thing you should worry about is being a nuisance to God. All you need to concentrate on is doing what he tells you to do. Note the sequence of events in these verses from [John 2]: “Jesus said to the servants, ‘Fill the jars with water.’ So they filled the jars to the top. Then he said to them, ‘Now take some out and give it to the master of the feast.’ So they took the water to the master. When he tasted it, the water had become wine” (vv. 7-9).

Did you see the sequence? First the jars were filled with water. Then Jesus instructed the servants to take the water (not the wine) to the master.

Now, if I’m a servant, I don’t want to do that. How is that going to solve the problem? And what is the master going to say when I give him a cup of water? But these servants either had enough naiveté or trust to do what Jesus said, and so the problem was solved. Note, the water became wine after they had obeyed, not before.

What if the servants had refused? What if they had said, “No way”? Or, to bring the point closer to home, what if you refuse? What if you identify the problem, take it to Jesus, and then refuse to do what he says?

That’s possible. After all, God is asking you to take some pretty gutsy steps. Money is tight, but he still asks you to give. You’ve been offended, but he asks you to forgive your offender. Someone else blew the assignment, but he still asks you to be patient. You can’t see God’s face, but he still asks you to pray.

Not commands for the faint of faith. But then again, he wouldn’t ask you to do it if he thought you couldn’t. So go ahead. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

Evaluate your service for God. Are you a faithful steward? Are you using your spiritual gifts to build up the body of Christ? God’s first call to you, no matter what you do, is to display faithfulness and obedience to him.

Exploration

Servants of God—Matthew 20:25–27; Luke 12:41–48; 16:1–13; James 1:22–25.

Apostles Are Servants of Christ

People should think of us as servants of Christ, the ones God has trusted with his secrets.<sup>2</sup> Now in this way those who are trusted with something valuable must show they are worthy of that trust.<sup>3</sup> As for myself, I do not care if I am judged by you or by any human court. I do not even judge myself.<sup>4</sup> I know of no wrong I have done, but this does not make me right before the Lord. The Lord is the One who judges me.<sup>5</sup> So do not judge before the right time; wait until the Lord comes. He will bring to light things that are now hidden in darkness, and will make known the secret purposes of people's hearts. Then God will praise each one of them.

<sup>6</sup>Brothers and sisters, I have used Apollos and myself as examples so you could learn through us the meaning of the saying, "Follow only what is written in the Scriptures." Then you will not be more proud of one person than another.<sup>7</sup> Who says you are better than others? What do you have that was not given to you? And if it was given to you, why do you brag as if you did not receive it as a gift?

<sup>8</sup>You think you already have everything you need. You think you are rich. You think you have become kings without us. I wish you really were kings so we could be kings together with you.<sup>9</sup> But it seems to me that God has put us apostles in last place, like those sentenced to die. We are like a show for the whole world to see—angels and people.<sup>10</sup> We are fools for Christ's sake, but you are very wise in Christ. We are weak, but you are strong. You receive honor, but we are shamed. <sup>11</sup>Even to this very hour we do not have enough to eat or drink or to wear. We are often beaten, and we have no homes in which to live. <sup>12</sup>We work hard with our own hands for our food. When people curse us, we bless them. When they hurt us, we put up with it. <sup>13</sup>When they tell evil lies about us, we speak nice words about them. Even today, we are treated as though we were the garbage of the world—the filth of the earth.

<sup>14</sup>I am not trying to make you feel ashamed. I am writing this to give you a warning as my own dear children. <sup>15</sup>For though you may have ten thousand teachers in Christ, you do not have many fathers. Through the Good News I became your father in Christ Jesus, <sup>16</sup>so I beg you, please follow my example. <sup>17</sup>That is why I am sending to you Timothy, my son in the Lord. I love Timothy, and he is faithful. He will help you remember my way of life in Christ Jesus, just as I teach it in all the churches everywhere.

<sup>18</sup>Some of you have become proud, thinking that I will not come to you again. <sup>19</sup>But I will come to you very soon if the Lord wishes. Then I will know what the proud ones do, not what they say, <sup>20</sup>because the kingdom of God is present not in talk but in power. <sup>21</sup>Which do you want: that I come to you with punishment or with love and gentleness?

Life Lessons

1 Corinthians 5:1–6:20

Situation

Paul never permitted sexually immoral behavior in the church. Yet he remained compassionate when dealing with people.

Observation

Immoral behavior in the church must be handled firmly but sensitively.

Inspiration

So, do not look to prompt lust. Do not touch to stimulate lust. In today's terms, do not undress a man or woman in your mind as you stare at the physical appearance. Do not linger at the magazine rack or rent X-rated videos or watch films that stir your sensual desires. And, ladies, you can cooperate by refusing to wear seductive attire. By saying no to such things, you "tear out your eye" and you "cut off your hand." One of the best ways I have found to obey Jesus' instruction is simply to replace sensual thoughts with wholesome ones ... to occupy my mind with things that are pure, lovely, healthy, and positive rather than lurid, provocative and questionable. Scripture memory works wonders, frankly. I find it impossible to simultaneously lust and repeat verses on moral purity. (From Simple Faith by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Sexual desire must be directed and disciplined if we are to live as God intended. What is your strategy for curbing and controlling sexual appetite? Develop a strategy and stick to it. What is the cost of failure to control? Behave as Christ would on this sensitive subject.

Exploration

Immorality—Judges 3:5–7; 18:31; Job 31:1; 1 Corinthians 6:9–11; Revelation 9:20–21.

Wickedness in the Church

It is actually being said that there is sexual sin among you. And it is a kind that does not happen even among people who do not know God. A man there has his father's wife. <sup>2</sup>And you are proud! You should have been filled with sadness so that the man who did this should be put out of your group. <sup>3</sup>I am not there with you in person, but I am with you in spirit. And I have already judged the man who did that sin as if I were really there. <sup>4</sup>When you meet together in the name of our Lord Jesus, and I meet with you in spirit with the power of our Lord Jesus, <sup>5</sup>then hand this man over to Satan. So his sinful self will be destroyed, and his spirit will be saved on the day of the Lord.

<sup>6</sup>Your bragging is not good. You know the saying, "Just a little yeast makes the whole batch of dough rise." <sup>7</sup>Take out all the old yeast so that you will be a new batch of dough without yeast, which you really are. For Christ, our Passover lamb, has been sacrificed. <sup>8</sup>So let us celebrate this feast, but not with the bread that has the old yeast—the yeast of sin and wickedness. Let us celebrate this feast with the bread that has no yeast—the bread of goodness and truth.

<sup>9</sup>I wrote you in my earlier letter not to associate with those who sin sexually. <sup>10</sup>But I did not mean you should not associate with those of this world who sin sexually, or with the greedy, or robbers, or those who worship idols. To get away from them you would have to leave this world. <sup>11</sup>I am writing to tell you that you must not associate with those who call themselves believers in Christ but who sin sexually, or are greedy, or worship idols, or abuse others with words, or get drunk, or cheat people. Do not even eat with people like that.

<sup>12-13</sup>It is not my business to judge those who are not part of the church. God will judge them. But you must judge the people who are part of the church. The Scripture says, “You must get rid of the evil person among you.”

Judging Problems Among Christians

When you have something against another Christian, how can you bring yourself to go before judges who are not right with God? Why do you not let God's people decide who is right? <sup>2</sup>Surely you know that God's people will judge the world. So if you are to judge the world, are you not able to judge small cases as well? <sup>3</sup>You know that in the future we will judge angels, so surely we can judge the ordinary things of this life. <sup>4</sup>If you have ordinary cases that must be judged, are you going to appoint people as judges who mean nothing to the church? <sup>5</sup>I say this to shame you. Surely there is someone among you wise enough to judge a complaint between believers. <sup>6</sup>But now one believer goes to court against another believer—and you do this in front of unbelievers!

<sup>7</sup>The fact that you have lawsuits against each other shows that you are already defeated. Why not let yourselves be wronged? Why not let yourselves be cheated? <sup>8</sup>But you yourselves do wrong and cheat, and you do this to other believers!

<sup>9-10</sup>Surely you know that the people who do wrong will not inherit God's kingdom. Do not be fooled. Those who sin sexually, worship idols, take part in adultery, those who are male prostitutes, or men who have sexual relations with other men, those who steal, are greedy, get drunk, lie about others, or rob—these people will not inherit God's kingdom. <sup>11</sup>In the past, some of you were like that, but you were washed clean. You were made holy, and you were made right with God in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and in the Spirit of our God.

Use Your Bodies for God's Glory

<sup>12</sup>“I am allowed to do all things,” but all things are not good for me to do. “I am allowed to do all things,” but I will not let anything make me its slave. <sup>13</sup>“Food is for the stomach, and the stomach for food,” but God will destroy them both. The body is not for sexual sin but for the Lord, and the Lord is for the body. <sup>14</sup>By his power God has raised the Lord from the dead and will also raise us from the dead. <sup>15</sup>Surely you know that your bodies are parts of Christ himself. So I must never take the parts of Christ and join them to a prostitute! <sup>16</sup>It is written in the Scriptures, “The two will become one body.” So you should know that anyone who joins with a prostitute becomes one body with the prostitute. <sup>17</sup>But the one who joins with the Lord is one spirit with the Lord.

<sup>18</sup>So run away from sexual sin. Every other sin people do is outside their bodies, but those who sin sexually sin against their own bodies. <sup>19</sup>You should know that your body is a temple for the Holy Spirit who is in you. You have received the Holy Spirit from God. So you do not belong to yourselves, <sup>20</sup>because you were bought by God for a price. So honor God with your bodies.

Life Lessons

1 Corinthians 7:1–40

Situation

Since the residents of Corinth were renowned for godlessness, Paul explained how to honor God in Christian relationships, specifically sexual relations. Paul's teaching contrasted with the majority opinion in Corinth.

Observation

Whether single or married, we must live devoted to the Lord. God's design for marriage will glorify him, but Paul also points out advantages of being unmarried.

Inspiration

Marriage is like a ship going out to sea. Anyone setting sail knows buffeting will come, sometimes externally and other times internally....

When we exchange marriage vows, we vow a lifetime of mutual commitment. Nowhere else on earth is there an agreement quite like marriage vows. These vows are binding, and that is why they are so serious....

An ideal marriage is, of all things, a love triangle. In one corner is the wife; in the other, her husband. At the apex of the triangle is God Himself. The closer our communion which is expressed in loving and abiding with God, the closer our communion with each other. Many marriages are already a triangle. God is not at the apex, however. Instead, the third party may be money. Or career(s). Or golf. Or another person.

Does this mean that every marital problem has a spiritual solution? Human relationships are not quite that simplistic.

It does mean, however, that if you and your mate allow lifestyle worship to permeate your marriage, you will save yourselves a lot of grief and anxiety and give yourselves a lot of joy and peace. And God will be glorified in you. (From Lifestyle Worship by John Carmo)

Application

To honor God in all of our relationships, we must know what the Bible teaches and then obey. Are you familiar with the Bible's teachings on marriage, singleness, and sexuality? How can you take a step closer to God in this vulnerable area? Begin with the verses below and then do a thorough study.

Exploration

Marriage and Singleness—Genesis 2:24; Matthew 19:3–12; Romans 12:10; 1 Corinthians 6:9–10, 18–20; Ephesians 5:21–31; Colossians 3:12–13; 1 Timothy 5:5–6; Hebrews 13:4; 1 Peter 3:1, 7.

About Marriage

Now I will discuss the things you wrote me about. It is good for a man not to have sexual relations with a woman.<sup>2</sup> But because sexual sin is a danger, each man should have his own wife, and each woman should have her own husband.<sup>3</sup> The husband should give his wife all that he owes her as his wife. And the wife should give her husband all that she owes him as her husband.<sup>4</sup> The wife does not have full rights over her own body; her husband shares them. And the husband does not have full rights over his own body; his wife shares them.<sup>5</sup> Do not refuse to give your bodies to each other, unless you both agree to stay away from sexual relations for a time so you can give your time to prayer. Then come together again so Satan cannot tempt you because of a lack of self-control.<sup>6</sup> I say this to give you permission to stay away from sexual relations for a time. It is not a command to do so.<sup>7</sup> I wish that everyone were like me, but each person has his own gift from God. One has one gift, another has another gift.

<sup>8</sup>Now for those who are not married and for the widows I say this: It is good for them to stay unmarried as I am.<sup>9</sup> But if they cannot control themselves, they should marry. It is better to marry than to burn with sexual desire.

<sup>10</sup>Now I give this command for the married people. (The command is not from me; it is from the Lord.) A wife should not leave her husband.<sup>11</sup> But if she does leave, she must not marry again, or she should make up with her husband. Also the husband should not divorce his wife.

<sup>12</sup>For all the others I say this (I am saying this, not the Lord): If a Christian man has a wife who is not a believer, and she is happy to live with him, he must not divorce her. <sup>13</sup>And if a Christian woman has a husband who is not a believer, and he is happy to live with her, she must not divorce him. <sup>14</sup>The husband who is not a believer is made holy through his believing wife. And the wife who is not a believer is made holy through her believing husband. If this were not true, your children would not be clean, but now your children are holy.

<sup>15</sup>But if those who are not believers decide to leave, let them leave. When this happens, the Christian man or woman is free. But God called us to live in peace. <sup>16</sup>Wife, you don't know; maybe you will save your husband. And husband, you don't know; maybe you will save your wife.

Live as God Called You

<sup>17</sup>But in any case each one of you should continue to live the way God has given you to live—the way you were when God called you. This is a rule I make in all the churches. <sup>18</sup>If a man was already circumcised when he was called, he should not undo his circumcision. If a man was without circumcision when he was called, he should not be circumcised. <sup>19</sup>It is not important if a man is circumcised or not. The important thing is obeying God's commands. <sup>20</sup>Each one of you should stay the way you were when God called you. <sup>21</sup>If you were a slave when God called you, do not let that bother you. But if you can be free, then make good use of your freedom. <sup>22</sup>Those who were slaves when the Lord called them are free persons who belong to the Lord. In the same way, those who were free when they were called are now Christ's slaves. <sup>23</sup>You all were bought at a great price, so do not become slaves of people. <sup>24</sup>Brothers and sisters, each of you should stay as you were when you were called, and stay there with God.

Questions About Getting Married

<sup>25</sup>Now I write about people who are not married. I have no command from the Lord about this; I give my opinion. But I can be trusted, because the Lord has shown me mercy. <sup>26</sup>The present time is a time of trouble, so I think it is good for you to stay the way you are. <sup>27</sup>If you have a wife, do not try to become free from her. If you are not married, do not try to find a wife. <sup>28</sup>But if you decide to marry, you have not sinned. And if a girl who has never married decides to marry, she has not sinned. But those who marry will have trouble in this life, and I want you to be free from trouble.

<sup>29</sup>Brothers and sisters, this is what I mean: We do not have much time left. So starting now, those who have wives should live as if they had no wives. <sup>30</sup>Those who are crying should live as if they were not crying. Those who are happy should live as if they were not happy. Those who buy things should live as if they own nothing. <sup>31</sup>Those who use the things of the world should live as if they were not using them, because this world in its present form will soon be gone.

<sup>32</sup>I want you to be free from worry. A man who is not married is busy with the Lord's work, trying to please the Lord. <sup>33</sup>But a man who is married is busy with things of the world, trying to please his wife. <sup>34</sup>He must think about two things—pleasing his wife and pleasing the Lord. A woman who is not married or a girl who has never married is busy with the Lord's work. She wants to be holy in body and spirit. But a married woman is busy with things of the world, as to how she can please her husband. <sup>35</sup>I am saying this to help you, not to limit you. But I want you to live in the right way, to give yourselves fully to the Lord without concern for other things.

<sup>36</sup>If a man thinks he is not doing the right thing with the girl he is engaged to, if she is almost past the best age to marry and he feels he should marry her, he should do what he wants. They should get married. It is no sin. <sup>37</sup>But if a man is sure in his mind that there is no need for marriage, and has his own desires under control, and has decided not to marry the one to whom he is engaged, he is doing the right thing. <sup>38</sup>So the man who marries his girl does right, but the man who does not marry will do better.

<sup>39</sup>A woman must stay with her husband as long as he lives. But if her husband dies, she is free to marry any man she wants, but she must marry in the Lord. <sup>40</sup>The woman is happier if she does not marry again. This is my opinion, but I believe I also have God's Spirit.

Life Lessons

1 Corinthians 8:1–9:27

Situation

Some Believers questioned Paul's rights as an apostle. Paul responded by pointing out that the rights apostles claimed were very reasonable, yet he himself didn't claim them. To Paul, nothing was more important than spreading the gospel, so giving up his rights was a worthwhile sacrifice.

Observation

One of our top priorities should be enabling others to understand the gospel. Though God has given us many blessings and rights, we should be willing to give them up if it would help someone to know Christ.

Inspiration

I could see the blond head of "Big Daddy," England's most famous wrestler. He was taking his daily constitutional in the deep, choppy waters of the Mediterranean when suddenly I heard him shout to his daughter, "Jan! Jan! A jellyfish just got me. Help!"

Rolling over in the water, I watched to see how tiny Jan could help her enormous daddy.

"He got me again!" his voice boomed.

Suddenly I was struck. It was as if my right arm touched a high-voltage wire. Spinning violently, my leg caught in a viselike cramp, I glimpsed the tiny blue jellyfish swimming away. Grateful for the safety rope beside me, I hung on, weak with shock and the incredible stinging, my right calf painfully knotted. It seemed an eternity before I was able to make it back the short distance to the beach, petrified that there might be a second close encounter of the first kind. It wasn't long before ugly welts rose around my right forearm and a livid red line crossed my back. By dinner time the pain had subsided to a bone-deep ache; the swelling lasted six weeks; the scars will last my lifetime.

Later, as "Big Daddy" and I compared stings, he inquired solicitously, "I hope you won't let this keep you from going into the water, will you?" His voice was both compassionate and concerned, and his granite face, with its blue eyes, was friendly and kind. I hadn't the heart to tell him I'd lost all taste for the sea, all trust of its "critters."

But two painful days later, assured by the beachboys and bathers that the sea was clear, I ventured another swim. Suddenly a familiar voice boomed, "Good for you! Didn't let that jellyfish put you off, did you?"

It was "Big Daddy" out for his hourly workout in the deep water, shouting encouragement to this one timid swimmer. "Good girl!" he responded to my wave. "Keep it up!" Here was a professional athlete, a giant of a man, an experienced swimmer, looking out for one of the poorest, least enthusiastic swimmers in the sea.

Life is a lot like the sea: full of unseen hazards and venomous creatures that attack without warning. I kept thinking of baby Christians who, after that first painful encounter, lose heart. Hurting and fearful, they call it quits unless some more experienced, stronger Christian offers a word of sympathetic advice, a shout of encouragement, and a note of praise.

Long after I'd forgotten the jellyfish attack and its painful aftermath, I remembered those words, "You won't let it keep you from going into the water, will you?" And later, "Good for you! Keep it up!"

Has anybody around you been stung lately? (From Legacy of a Pack Rat by Ruth Bell Graham)

Application

Our culture encourages us to stand up for ourselves and demand our rights, even at the expense of others. Yet Jesus and the New Testament writers repeatedly point to the joy we receive from humility and self-sacrifice. Why not give up your right for free time or watching a movie and use the time to share with a new Christian a lesson you have learned recently.

Exploration

Self-Sacrifice—Micah 6:8; Matthew 16:24-25; 18:4; Mark 10:28; Luke 14:33; 1 Corinthians 10:24, 33; 2 Corinthians 8:9; Philippians 2:4-8; 3:8.

About Food Offered to Idols

Now I will write about meat that is sacrificed to idols. We know that “we all have knowledge.” Knowledge puffs you up with pride, but love builds up. <sup>2</sup>If you think you know something, you do not yet know anything as you should. <sup>3</sup>But if any person loves God, that person is known by God.

<sup>4</sup>So this is what I say about eating meat sacrificed to idols: We know that an idol is really nothing in the world, and we know there is only one God. <sup>5</sup>Even though there are things called gods, in heaven or on earth (and there are many “gods” and “lords”), <sup>6</sup>for us there is only one God—our Father. All things came from him, and we live for him. And there is only one Lord—Jesus Christ. All things were made through him, and we also were made through him.

<sup>7</sup>But not all people know this. Some people are still so used to idols that when they eat meat, they still think of it as being sacrificed to an idol. Because their conscience is weak, when they eat it, they feel guilty. <sup>8</sup>But food will not bring us closer to God. Refusing to eat does not make us less pleasing to God, and eating does not make us better in God’s sight.

<sup>9</sup>But be careful that your freedom does not cause those who are weak in faith to fall into sin. <sup>10</sup>You have “knowledge,” so you eat in an idol’s temple. But someone who is weak in faith might see you eating there and be encouraged to eat meat sacrificed to idols while thinking it is wrong to do so. <sup>11</sup>This weak believer for whom Christ died is ruined because of your “knowledge.”<sup>12</sup> When you sin against your brothers and sisters in Christ like this and cause them to do what they feel is wrong, you are also sinning against Christ.<sup>13</sup> So if the food I eat causes them to fall into sin, I will never eat meat again so that I will not cause any of them to sin.

Paul Is like the Other Apostles

I am a free man. I am an apostle. I have seen Jesus our Lord. You people are all an example of my work in the Lord. <sup>2</sup>If others do not accept me as an apostle, surely you do, because you are proof that I am an apostle in the Lord.

<sup>3</sup>This is the answer I give people who want to judge me: <sup>4</sup>Do we not have the right to eat and drink? <sup>5</sup>Do we not have the right to bring a believing wife with us when we travel as do the other apostles and the Lord's brothers and Peter? <sup>6</sup>Are Barnabas and I the only ones who must work to earn our living? <sup>7</sup>No soldier ever serves in the army and pays his own salary. No one ever plants a vineyard without eating some of the grapes. No person takes care of a flock without drinking some of the milk.

<sup>8</sup>I do not say this by human authority; God's law also says the same thing. <sup>9</sup>It is written in the law of Moses: "When an ox is working in the grain, do not cover its mouth to keep it from eating." When God said this, was he thinking only about oxen? No. <sup>10</sup>He was really talking about us. Yes, that Scripture was written for us, because it goes on to say: "The one who plows and the one who works in the grain should hope to get some of the grain for their work." <sup>11</sup>Since we planted spiritual seed among you, is it too much if we should harvest from you some things for this life? <sup>12</sup>If others have the right to get something from you, surely we have this right, too. But we do not use it. No, we put up with everything ourselves so that we will not keep anyone from believing the Good News of Christ. <sup>13</sup>Surely you know that those who work at the Temple get their food from the Temple, and those who serve at the altar get part of what is offered at the altar.<sup>14</sup>In the same way, the Lord has commanded that those who tell the Good News should get their living from this work.

<sup>15</sup>But I have not used any of these rights. And I am not writing this now to get anything from you. I would rather die than to have my reason for bragging taken away.<sup>16</sup>Telling the Good News does not give me any reason for bragging. Telling the Good News is my duty—something I must do. And how terrible it will be for me if I do not tell the Good News.<sup>17</sup>If I preach because it is my own choice, I have a reward. But if I preach and it is not my choice to do so, I am only doing the duty that was given to me.<sup>18</sup>So what reward do I get? This is my reward: that when I tell the Good News I can offer it freely. I do not use my full rights in my work of preaching the Good News.

<sup>19</sup>I am free and belong to no one. But I make myself a slave to all people to win as many as I can.<sup>20</sup>To the Jews I became like a Jew to win the Jews. I myself am not ruled by the law. But to those who are ruled by the law I became like a person who is ruled by the law. I did this to win those who are ruled by the law.<sup>21</sup>To those who are without the law I became like a person who is without the law. I did this to win those people who are without the law. (But really, I am not without God's law—I am ruled by Christ's law.)<sup>22</sup>To those who are weak, I became weak so I could win the weak. I have become all things to all people so I could save some of them in any way possible.<sup>23</sup>I do all this because of the Good News and so I can share in its blessings.

gets the prize. So run to win! <sup>25</sup>All those who compete in the games use self-control so they can win a crown. That crown is an earthly thing that lasts only a short time, but our crown will never be destroyed. <sup>26</sup>So I do not run without a goal. I fight like a boxer who is hitting something—not just the air. <sup>27</sup>I treat my body hard and make it my slave so that I myself will not be disqualified after I have preached to others.

Life Lessons

1 Corinthians 10:1–11:1

Situation

Paul taught the Corinthians about the dangers of idol worship and petty arguments using lessons from history and faith.

Observation

In everything that we do, whether we relate to each other or worship, we ought to give glory to God. Though mindful not to offend other Christians, we should be focused on bringing praise to God.

Inspiration

Loving others requires us to express our liberty wisely. In other words, love must rule. I'm not my own, I'm bought with a price. My goal is not to please me, it is to please my Lord Jesus, my God. It is not to please you, it is to please my Lord. The same is true for you. So the bottom line is this: I don't adapt my life according to what you may say, I adapt my life according to the basis of my love for you because I answer to Christ. And so do you.

... Even if you personally would not do what another is doing, let it be. And you who feel the freedom to do so, don't flaunt it or mock those who disagree. We are in the construction business, not destruction. And let's all remember that God's big-picture kingdom plan is not being shaped by small things like what one person prefers over another, but by large things, like righteousness and peace and joy.

(From Grace Awakening by Charles Swindoll)

Application

What is your motivation for your daily tasks? Who gets the glory—you or God? Even the smallest decisions and the briefest interpersonal encounters should be done so that God receives glory.

Exploration

Bringing Glory to God—Psalm 22:23; Matthew 5:16; John 15:8; Romans 15:6; 1 Corinthians 6:20.

Warnings from Israel's Past

Brothers and sisters, I want you to know what happened to our ancestors who followed Moses. They were all under the cloud and all went through the sea.<sup>2</sup>They were all baptized as followers of Moses in the cloud and in the sea.<sup>3</sup>They all ate the same spiritual food,<sup>4</sup>and all drank the same spiritual drink. They drank from that spiritual rock that followed them, and that rock was Christ.<sup>5</sup>But God was not pleased with most of them, so they died in the desert.

<sup>6</sup>And these things happened as examples for us, to stop us from wanting evil things as those people did.<sup>7</sup>Do not worship idols, as some of them did. Just as it is written in the Scriptures: “They sat down to eat and drink, and then they got up and sinned sexually.”<sup>8</sup>We must not take part in sexual sins, as some of them did. In one day twenty-three thousand of them died because of their sins.<sup>9</sup>We must not test Christ as some of them did; they were killed by snakes.<sup>10</sup>Do not complain as some of them did; they were killed by the angel that destroys.

<sup>11</sup>The things that happened to those people are examples. They were written down to teach us, because we live in a time when all these things of the past have reached their goal.<sup>12</sup>If you think you are strong, you should be careful not to fall.<sup>13</sup>The only temptation that has come to you is that which everyone has. But you can trust God, who will not permit you to be tempted more than you can stand. But when you are tempted, he will also give you a way to escape so that you will be able to stand it.

<sup>14</sup>So, my dear friends, run away from the worship of idols. <sup>15</sup>I am speaking to you as to intelligent people; judge for yourselves what I say. <sup>16</sup>We give thanks for the cup of blessing, which is a sharing in the blood of Christ. And the bread that we break is a sharing in the body of Christ. <sup>17</sup>Because there is one loaf of bread, we who are many are one body, because we all share that one loaf.

<sup>18</sup>Think about the Israelites: Do not those who eat the sacrifices share in the altar? <sup>19</sup>I do not mean that the food sacrificed to an idol is important. I do not mean that an idol is anything at all. <sup>20</sup>But I say that what is sacrificed to idols is offered to demons, not to God. And I do not want you to share anything with demons. <sup>21</sup>You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons also. You cannot share in the Lord's table and the table of demons. <sup>22</sup>Are we trying to make the Lord jealous? We are not stronger than he is, are we?

How to Use Christian Freedom

<sup>23</sup>“We are allowed to do all things,” but all things are not good for us to do. “We are allowed to do all things,” but not all things help others grow stronger. <sup>24</sup>Do not look out only for yourselves. Look out for the good of others also.

<sup>25</sup>Eat any meat that is sold in the meat market. Do not ask questions to see if it is meat you think is wrong to eat. <sup>26</sup>You may eat it, “because the earth belongs to the Lord, and everything in it.”

<sup>27</sup>Those who are not believers may invite you to eat with them. If you want to go, eat anything that is put before you. Do not ask questions to see if you think it might be wrong to eat. <sup>28</sup>But if anyone says to you, “That food was offered to idols,” do not eat it. Do not eat it because of that person who told you and because eating it might be thought to be wrong. <sup>29</sup>I don’t mean you think it is wrong, but the other person might. But why, you ask, should my freedom be judged by someone else’s conscience? <sup>30</sup>If I eat the meal with thankfulness, why am I criticized because of something for which I thank God?

<sup>31</sup>The answer is, if you eat or drink, or if you do anything, do it all for the glory of God. <sup>32</sup>Never do anything that might hurt others—Jews, Greeks, or God’s church—<sup>33</sup>just as I, also, try to please everybody in every way. I am not trying to do what is good for me but what is good for most people so they can be saved.

Follow my example, as I follow the example of Christ.

Life Lessons

1 Corinthians 11:2-34

Situation

The Corinthians allowed some parts of their worship services to become times of selfishness and bickering. Lack of respect and concern for others undermined their gathering for worship.

Observation

The Lord's Supper was to be a celebration marked by unity, not dissension.

Inspiration

God gave Martha a bass drum of service. God gave Mary a flute for praise. And God gave Lazarus a trumpet. And he stood on center stage and played it.

God still gives trumpets. God still calls people from the pits. God still gives pinch-me-I'm-dreaming, too-good-to-be-true testimonies. But not everyone has a dramatic testimony. Who wants a band full of trumpets?

Some convert the lost. Some encourage the saved. And some keep the movement in step. All are needed.

If God has called you to be a Martha, then serve! Remind the rest of us that there is evangelism in feeding the poor and there is worship in nursing the sick.

If God has called you to be a Mary, then worship! Remind the rest of us that we don't have to be busy to be holy. Urge us with your example to put down our clipboards and megaphones and be quiet in worship.

If God has called you to be a Lazarus, then testify. Remind the rest of us that we, too, have a story to tell. We, too, have neighbors who are lost. We, too, have died and been resurrected.

Each of us has our place at the table.

Except one. There was one at Martha's house who didn't find his place. Though he had been near Jesus longer than any of the others, he was furthest in his faith. His name was Judas. He was a thief. When Mary poured the perfume he feigned spirituality. "The perfume could have been sold and given to the poor," he said. But Jesus knew Judas's heart, and Jesus defended Mary's worship. Years later, John, too, knew Judas's heart, and John explained that Judas was a thief (John 12:6). And all these years he had been dipping his hand in the treasury. The reason he wanted the perfume to be sold and the money put in the treasury was so that he could get his hands on it.

What a sad ending to a beautiful story. But what an appropriate ending. For in every church there are those like Martha who take time to serve. There are those like Mary who take time to worship. There are those like Lazarus who take time to testify.

And there are those like Judas who take, take, take, and never give in return. Are you a Judas? I ask the question carefully, yet honestly. Are you near Christ but far from his heart? Are you at the dinner with a sour soul? Are you always criticizing the gifts of others yet seldom, if ever, giving your own? Are you benefiting from the church while never giving to it? Do others give sacrificially while you give miserly? Are you a Judas?

Do you take, take, take, and never give? If so, you are the Judas in this story.

If you are a Martha, be strengthened. God sees your service.

If you are a Mary, be encouraged. God receives your worship.

If you are a Lazarus, be strong. God honors your conviction.

But if you are a Judas, be warned. God sees your selfishness. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

God knows what you are bringing to the table. You can't fool him. Ask the leaders of your local church how you can increase your service. Worship the Lord in spirit and truth. Don't let a difference in worship styles keep you from worshiping the Lord with all your heart, soul, and spirit.

Exploration

Worship—Exodus 34:14; Luke 4:8; John 4:20–24; Philippians 3:3.

Being Under Authority

<sup>2</sup>I praise you because you remember me in everything, and you follow closely the teachings just as I gave them to you. <sup>3</sup>But I want you to understand this: The head of every man is Christ, the head of a woman is the man, and the head of Christ is God. <sup>4</sup>Every man who prays or prophesies with his head covered brings shame to his head. <sup>5</sup>But every woman who prays or prophesies with her head uncovered brings shame to her head. She is the same as a woman who has her head shaved. <sup>6</sup>If a woman does not cover her head, she should have her hair cut off. But since it is shameful for a woman to cut off her hair or to shave her head, she should cover her head. <sup>7</sup>But a man should not cover his head, because he is the likeness and glory of God. But woman is man's glory. <sup>8</sup>Man did not come from woman, but woman came from man. <sup>9</sup>And man was not made for woman, but woman was made for man. <sup>10</sup>So that is why a woman should have a symbol of authority on her head, because of the angels.

<sup>11</sup>But in the Lord women are not independent of men, and men are not independent of women. <sup>12</sup>This is true because woman came from man, but also man is born from woman. But everything comes from God. <sup>13</sup>Decide this for yourselves: Is it right for a woman to pray to God with her head uncovered? <sup>14</sup>Even nature itself teaches you that wearing long hair is shameful for a man. <sup>15</sup>But long hair is a woman's glory. Long hair is given to her as a covering. <sup>16</sup>Some people may still want to argue about this, but I would add that neither we nor the churches of God have any other practice.

The Lord's Supper

<sup>17</sup>In the things I tell you now I do not praise you, because when you come together you do more harm than good. <sup>18</sup>First, I hear that when you meet together as a church you are divided, and I believe some of this. <sup>19</sup>(It is necessary to have differences among you so that it may be clear which of you really have God's approval.) <sup>20</sup>When you come together, you are not really eating the Lord's Supper. <sup>21</sup>This is because when you eat, each person eats without waiting for the others. Some people do not get enough to eat, while others have too much to drink. <sup>22</sup>You can eat and drink in your own homes! You seem to think God's church is not important, and you embarrass those who are poor. What should I tell you? Should I praise you? I do not praise you for doing this.

<sup>23</sup>The teaching I gave you is the same teaching I received from the Lord: On the night when the Lord Jesus was handed over to be killed, he took bread <sup>24</sup>and gave thanks for it. Then he broke the bread and said, "This is my body; it is for you. Do this to remember me." <sup>25</sup>In the same way, after they ate, Jesus took the cup. He said, "This cup is the new agreement that is sealed with the blood of my death. When you drink this, do it to remember me." <sup>26</sup>Every time you eat this bread and drink this cup you are telling others about the Lord's death until he comes.

<sup>27</sup>So a person who eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in a way that is not worthy of it will be guilty of sinning against the body and the blood of the Lord. <sup>28</sup>Look into your own hearts before you eat the bread and drink the cup, <sup>29</sup>because all who eat the bread and drink the cup without recognizing the body eat and drink judgment against themselves. <sup>30</sup>That is why many in your group are sick and weak, and many have died. <sup>31</sup>But if we judged ourselves in the right way, God would not judge us. <sup>32</sup>But when the Lord judges us, he punishes us so that we will not be destroyed along with the world.

<sup>33</sup>So my brothers and sisters, when you come together to eat, wait for each other. <sup>34</sup>Anyone who is too hungry should eat at home so that in meeting together you will not bring God's judgment on yourselves. I will tell you what to do about the other things when I come.

Life Lessons

1 Corinthians 12:1–31a

Situation

The Corinthians struggled with petty disagreements and offenses. Once again, Paul emphasized the need for unity in the church.

Observation

Though the church is a universal body, the gifts and skills of each Christian are unique. We can achieve unity by appreciating different abilities in others and empathizing with each other's joys and sorrows.

Inspiration

Abraham Lincoln once said, characteristically: "I am sorry for the man who can't feel the whip when it is laid on the other man's back...."

Jesus wept tears of compassion at the graveside of a friend. He mourned over Jerusalem because as a city it had lost its appreciation of the things of the spirit. His great heart was sensitive to the needs of others....

Tears shed for self are tears of weakness, but tears of love shed for others are a sign of strength. I am not as sensitive as I ought to be until I am able to "weep o'er the erring one and lift up the fallen." And until I have learned the value of compassionately sharing others' sorrow, distress, and misfortune, I cannot know real happiness.

(From The Secret of Happiness by Billy Graham)

Application

Are there fellow Believers around you who need someone to share in their sorrow or joy? Do you have trouble being happy with some, or sad with others? Look for challenging opportunities to share the emotions of other people's lives.

Exploration

Sympathy for Others—Isaiah 58:7; Acts 20:35; Romans 15:1; Galatians 6:2; Hebrews 13:3; James 1:27.

Gifts from the Holy Spirit

Now, brothers and sisters, I want you to understand about spiritual gifts. <sup>2</sup>You know the way you lived before you were believers. You let yourselves be influenced and led away to worship idols—things that could not speak. <sup>3</sup>So I want you to understand that no one who is speaking with the help of God’s Spirit says, “Jesus be cursed.” And no one can say, “Jesus is Lord,” without the help of the Holy Spirit.

<sup>4</sup>There are different kinds of gifts, but they are all from the same Spirit. <sup>5</sup>There are different ways to serve but the same Lord to serve. <sup>6</sup>And there are different ways that God works through people but the same God. God works in all of us in everything we do. <sup>7</sup>Something from the Spirit can be seen in each person, for the common good. <sup>8</sup>The Spirit gives one person the ability to speak with wisdom, and the same Spirit gives another the ability to speak with knowledge. <sup>9</sup>The same Spirit gives faith to one person. And, to another, that one Spirit gives gifts of healing. <sup>10</sup>The Spirit gives to another person the power to do miracles, to another the ability to prophesy. And he gives to another the ability to know the difference between good and evil spirits. The Spirit gives one person the ability to speak in different kinds of languages and to another the ability to interpret those languages. <sup>11</sup>One Spirit, the same Spirit, does all these things, and the Spirit decides what to give each person.

Christ Through the Bible

We Are One in Christ

There was some dice-throwing that went on at the foot of the cross... I've wondered what that scene must have looked like to Jesus. As he looked downward past his bloody feet at the circle of gamblers, what did he think? What emotions did he feel? He must have been amazed. Here are common soldiers witnessing the world's most uncommon event and they don't know it. As far as they're concerned, it's just another Friday morning and he is just another criminal. "Come on, hurry up; it's my turn!"

"All right, all right—this throw is for the sandals."

Casting lots for the possessions of Christ. Heads ducked. Eyes downward. Cross forgotten.

The symbolism is striking. Do you see it?

It makes me think of us. The religious. Those who claim heritage at the cross. I'm thinking of all of us. Every believer in the land. The stuffy. The loose. The strict. The simple. Upper church. Lower church. "Spirit-filled." Millennialists. Evangelical. Political. Mystical. Literal. Cynical. Robes. Collars. Three-piece suits. Born-againers. Ameners.

I'm thinking of us.

I'm thinking that we aren't so unlike those soldiers. (I'm sorry to say.)

We, too, play games at the foot of the cross. We compete for members. We scramble for status. We deal out judgments and condemnations. Competition. Selfishness. Personal gain. It's all there. We don't like what the other did so we take the sandal we won and walk away in a huff.

So close to the timbers yet so far from the blood.

We are so close to the world's most uncommon event, but we act like common crapshooters huddled in bickering groups and fighting over silly opinions.

How many pulpit hours have been wasted on preaching the trivial? How many churches have tumbled at the throes of minuscuity? How many leaders have saddled their pet peeves, drawn their swords of bitterness and launched into battle against brethren over issues that are not worth discussing?

So close to the cross but so far from the Christ.

We specialize in "I am right" rallies. We write books about what the other does wrong. We major in finding gossip and become experts in unveiling weaknesses. We split into little huddles and then, God forbid, we split again....

Are our differences that divisive? Are our opinions that obtrusive? Are our walls that wide? Is it that impossible to find a common cause?

"May they all be one," Jesus prayed.

One. Not one in groups of two thousand. But one in One. One church. One faith. One Lord. Not Baptist, not Methodist, not Adventist. Just Christian. No denominations. No hierarchies. No traditions. Just Christ. (From No Wonder They Call Him the Savior by Max Lucado)

The Body of Christ Works Together

<sup>12</sup>A person's body is only one thing, but it has many parts. Though there are many parts to a body, all those parts make only one body. Christ is like that also. <sup>13</sup>Some of us are Jews, and some are Greeks. Some of us are slaves, and some are free. But we were all baptized into one body through one Spirit. And we were all made to share in the one Spirit.

<sup>14</sup>The human body has many parts. <sup>15</sup>The foot might say, "Because I am not a hand, I am not part of the body." But saying this would not stop the foot from being a part of the body. <sup>16</sup>The ear might say, "Because I am not an eye, I am not part of the body." But saying this would not stop the ear from being a part of the body. <sup>17</sup>If the whole body were an eye, it would not be able to hear. If the whole body were an ear, it would not be able to smell. <sup>18-19</sup>If each part of the body were the same part, there would be no body. But truly God put all the parts, each one of them, in the body as he wanted them. <sup>20</sup>So then there are many parts, but only one body.

need it <sup>25</sup>so our body would not be divided. God wanted the different parts to care the same for each other. <sup>26</sup>If one part of the body suffers, all the other parts suffer with it. Or if one part of our body is honored, all the other parts share its honor.

<sup>27</sup>Together you are the body of Christ, and each one of you is a part of that body. <sup>28</sup>In the church God has given a place first to apostles, second to prophets, and third to teachers. Then God has given a place to those who do miracles, those who have gifts of healing, those who can help others, those who are able to govern, and those who can speak in different languages. <sup>29</sup>Not all are apostles. Not all are prophets. Not all are teachers. Not all do miracles. <sup>30</sup>Not all have gifts of healing. Not all speak in different languages. Not all interpret those languages. <sup>31</sup>But you should truly want to have the greater gifts.

Love Is the Greatest Gift

And now I will show you the best way of all.

Life Lessons

1 Corinthians 12:31b-13:13

Situation

The Corinthians compared spiritual gifts and ministries. They rated a person's value to the church by that person's gifts.

Observation

All spiritual gifts are equally valuable to the church. But love is even greater than all of them combined.

Inspiration

Paul used the metaphor of the body to illustrate the interdependence of individual Christians (1 Corinthians 12:12-13). When one part of our physical body suffers, the other parts suffer; when one part accomplishes its duty, it is always a cooperative effort....

This interdependence results in a cooperative concern for the various parts of the body... . Similarly, we as Christians are connected in Christ. When one Christian fails, we share his failure and care for his needs. When he is restored to fellowship, we rejoice with him.

We can't afford to believe that it doesn't matter whether we are actively involved in the struggles against the world or whether we are drifting aimlessly with the tide. When we lose our passion for the church (Christ's Body) and are preoccupied with our own concerns, our witness will be submerged. We will drown in the icy waters of indifference....

The same is true in the local church. A church preoccupied with its own differences or torn by schism is a good candidate for ultimate oblivion....

Differences must be held without bitterness, self-righteousness, and pride. In this way, a church can work out its differences and exercise discipline without diminishing its impact on the world. (From How in the World Can I Be Holy? by Erwin W. Lutzer)

Application

Teamwork is important, whether on the job or in a ministry. How are you doing as a team player? Are you using your spiritual gifts as well as you can? (If you're not sure about your gift, ask the Lord what contribution you can make.)

Exploration

Harmony of Believers—Leviticus 19:18; Psalm 133:1; Romans 15:5–7; 1 Corinthians 1:10; Philippians 2:1–2; 1 Peter 3:8.

I may speak in different languages of people or even angels. But if I do not have love, I am only a noisy bell or a crashing cymbal. <sup>2</sup>I may have the gift of prophecy. I may understand all the secret things of God and have all knowledge, and I may have faith so great I can move mountains. But even with all these things, if I do not have love, then I am nothing. <sup>3</sup>I may give away everything I have, and I may even give my body as an offering to be burned. n But I gain nothing if I do not have love.

NewLife in Christ

Love does not count up wrongs that have been done.—1 Corinthians 13:5

Don't Keep a List of Wrongs

Do you remember the story about the man who was bitten by the dog? When he learned the dog had rabies, he began making a list. The doctor told him there was no need to make a will, that rabies could be cured. “Oh, I’m not making a will,” he replied. “I’m making a list of all the people I want to bite.”

Couldn't we all make such a list? You've already learned, haven't you, that friends aren't always friendly? Neighbors aren't always neighborly? Some workers never work, and some bosses are always bossy?

You've already learned, haven't you, that a promise made is not always a promise kept? Just because someone is called your dad, that doesn't mean he will act like your dad. Even though they said "yes" on the altar, they may say "no" in the marriage.

You've already learned, haven't you, that we tend to fight back? To bite back? To keep lists and snarl lips and growl at people we don't like?

God wants your list. He inspired one servant to write, "Love does not count up wrongs that have been done" (1 Corinthians 13:5). He wants us to leave the list at the cross.

Not easy.

"Just look what they did to me!" we defy and point to our hurts.

"Just look what I did for you," he reminds and points to the cross.

Paul said it this way: "If someone does wrong to you, forgive that person because the Lord forgave you" (Colossians 3:13).

You and I are commanded—not urged, commanded—to keep no list of wrongs.

Besides, do you really want to keep one? Do you really want to catalog all your mistreatments? Do you really want to growl and snap your way through life? God doesn't want you to either. Give up your sins before they infect you and your bitterness before it incites you, and give God your anxiety before it inhibits you. Give God your anxious moments. (From He Chose the Nails by Max Lucado)

Question: Who do you need to forgive before bitterness consumes you?

For more on “New Life in Christ.”

<sup>8</sup>Love never ends. There are gifts of prophecy, but they will be ended. There are gifts of speaking in different languages, but those gifts will stop. There is the gift of knowledge, but it will come to an end. <sup>9</sup>The reason is that our knowledge and our ability to prophesy are not perfect. <sup>10</sup>But when perfection comes, the things that are not perfect will end. <sup>11</sup>When I was a child, I talked like a child, I thought like a child, I reasoned like a child. When I became a man, I stopped those childish ways. <sup>12</sup>It is the same with us. Now we see a dim reflection, as if we were looking into a mirror, but then we shall see clearly. Now I know only a part, but then I will know fully, as God has known me. <sup>13</sup>So these three things continue forever: faith, hope, and love. And the greatest of these is love.

Life Lessons

1 Corinthians 14:1-40

Situation

The Corinthian Believers were so impressed by the glitz and wonder of spiritual gifts that they lost their perspective and forgot the purpose of these gifts.

Observation

Spiritual gifts glorify God and build up the Body of Christ. Gifts should never be misused, envied, or cause division.

Inspiration

The mark of Spirit-filled men and women is the fruit they bear. Fruit is the standard by which our walk with God can be measured. The Bible is crystal clear at this point. Yet it never ceases to amaze me how prone believers are to substitute other measuring devices or standards....

The two most popular substitutes for fruit are (1) spiritual gifts and (2) natural talent....

It's not hard to figure out why gifts and talents are so readily substituted for fruit. It's easier to exercise a gift than to walk in the Spirit. Not only that, certain gifts and talents have a high entertainment value. When exploited in the right way, gifts and talents can be real crowd pleasers... . But none of these things are indications that a man or woman is under the control of the Holy Spirit....

Giftedness does not determine greatness in God's book. Jesus said, “You will know them by their fruits.” Not by how anointed they may appear to be. Not by the miracles they perform. Not by the revelation knowledge they claim to have. You will recognize God’s hand of blessing on men and women by the fruit they bear. A man who claims to be doing miracles by the power of the Spirit but who exhibits no fruit of the Spirit in his life is either lying or confused... . (From The Wonderful Spirit-Filled Life by Charles Stanley)

Application

What is your priority: becoming like Christ or getting a chance to use your gifts? Your gifts, talents, and abilities should build up other Believers and bring unity in the church. If they’re not quite doing that, check your attitudes.

Exploration

Spiritual Gifts and Unity—Romans 12:3–8; 14:19; 15:1–6; 2 Corinthians 12:19–20; Galatians 5:22–26; Ephesians 4:3–7, 11–16.

Desire Spiritual Gifts

You should seek after love, and you should truly want to have the spiritual gifts, especially the gift of prophecy. <sup>2</sup>I will explain why. Those who have the gift of speaking in different languages are not speaking to people; they are speaking to God. No one understands them; they are speaking secret things through the Spirit. <sup>3</sup>But those who prophesy are speaking to people to give them strength, encouragement, and comfort. <sup>4</sup>The ones who speak in different languages are helping only themselves, but those who prophesy are helping the whole church. <sup>5</sup>I wish all of you had the gift of speaking in different kinds of languages, but more, I wish you would prophesy. Those who prophesy are greater than those who can only speak in different languages—unless someone is there who can explain what is said so that the whole church can be helped.

<sup>6</sup>Brothers and sisters, will it help you if I come to you speaking in different languages? No! It will help you only if I bring you a new truth or some new knowledge, or prophecy, or teaching. <sup>7</sup>It is the same as with lifeless things that make sounds—like a flute or a harp. If they do not make clear musical notes, you will not know what is being played. <sup>8</sup>And in a war, if the trumpet does not give a clear sound, who will prepare for battle? <sup>9</sup>It is the same with you. Unless you speak clearly with your tongue, no one can understand what you are saying. You will be talking into the air! <sup>10</sup>It may be true that there are all kinds of sounds in the world, and none is without meaning. <sup>11</sup>But unless I understand the meaning of what someone says to me, I will be a foreigner to him, and he will be a foreigner to me. <sup>12</sup>It is the same with you. Since you want spiritual gifts very much, seek most of all to have the gifts that help the church grow stronger.

<sup>13</sup>The one who has the gift of speaking in a different language should pray for the gift to interpret what is spoken. <sup>14</sup>If I pray in a different language, my spirit is praying, but my mind does nothing. <sup>15</sup>So what should I do? I will pray with my spirit, but I will also pray with my mind. I will sing with my spirit, but I will also sing with my mind. <sup>16</sup>If you praise God with your spirit, those persons there without understanding cannot say amen to your prayer of thanks, because they do not know what you are saying. <sup>17</sup>You may be thanking God in a good way, but the other person is not helped.

<sup>18</sup>I thank God that I speak in different kinds of languages more than all of you. <sup>19</sup>But in the church meetings I would rather speak five words I understand in order to teach others than thousands of words in a different language.

<sup>20</sup>Brothers and sisters, do not think like children. In evil things be like babies, but in your thinking you should be like adults. <sup>21</sup>It is written in the Scriptures:

“With people who use strange words and foreign languages

I will speak to these people.

But even then they will not listen to me.”

says the Lord.

<sup>22</sup>So the gift of speaking in different kinds of languages is a proof for those who do not believe, not for those who do believe. And prophecy is for people who believe, not for those who do not believe. <sup>23</sup>Suppose the whole church meets together and everyone speaks in different languages. If some people come in who do not understand or do not believe, they will say you are crazy. <sup>24</sup>But suppose everyone is prophesying and some people come in who do not believe or do not understand. If everyone is prophesying, their sin will be shown to them, and they will be judged by all that they hear. <sup>25</sup>The secret things in their hearts will be made known. So they will bow down and worship God saying, “Truly, God is with you.”

Meetings Should Help the Church

<sup>26</sup>So, brothers and sisters, what should you do? When you meet together, one person has a song, and another has a teaching. Another has a new truth from God. Another speaks in a different language, and another person interprets that language. The purpose of all these things should be to help the church grow strong. <sup>27</sup>When you meet together, if anyone speaks in a different language, it should be only two, or not more than three, who speak. They should speak one after the other, and someone else should interpret. <sup>28</sup>But if there is no interpreter, then those who speak in a different language should be quiet in the church meeting. They should speak only to themselves and to God.

should judge what they say. <sup>30</sup>If a message from God comes to another person who is sitting, the first speaker should stop. <sup>31</sup>You can all prophesy one after the other. In this way all the people can be taught and encouraged. <sup>32</sup>The spirits of prophets are under the control of the prophets themselves. <sup>33</sup>God is not a God of confusion but a God of peace.

As is true in all the churches of God's people, <sup>34</sup>women should keep quiet in the church meetings. They are not allowed to speak, but they must yield to this rule as the law says. <sup>35</sup>If they want to learn something, they should ask their own husbands at home. It is shameful for a woman to speak in the church meeting. <sup>36</sup>Did God's teaching come from you? Or are you the only ones to whom it has come?

<sup>37</sup>Those who think they are prophets or spiritual persons should understand that what I am writing to you is the Lord's command. <sup>38</sup>Those who ignore this will be ignored by God.

<sup>39</sup>So my brothers and sisters, you should truly want to prophesy. But do not stop people from using the gift of speaking in different kinds of languages. <sup>40</sup>But let everything be done in a right and orderly way.

Life Lessons

1 Corinthians 15:1-58

Situation

Because of their culture, the Corinthians did not believe in the resurrection. Instead, they thought only the soul would rise from the dead, leaving behind the body.

Observation

Because Jesus rose from the dead, we have hope, salvation, victory, and purpose. We can be confident in faith and diligent in work for him.

Inspiration

A sudden breeze, surprisingly warm, whistles through the leaves scattering dust from the lifeless form. And with the breath of fresh air comes the difference. Winging on the warm wind is his image. Laughter is laid in the sculpted cheeks. A reservoir of tears is stored in the soul. A sprinkling of twinkle for the eyes. Poetry for the spirit. Logic. Loyalty. Like leaves on an autumn breeze, they float and land and are absorbed. His gifts become a part of him.

His Majesty smiles at his image. "It is good."

The eyes open.

Oneness. Creator and created walking on the river bank. Laughter. Purity. Innocent joy. Life unending.

Then the tree.

The struggle. The snake. The lie. The enticement. Heart torn, lured. Soul drawn to pleasure, to independence, to importance. Inner agony. Whose will?

The choice. Death of innocence. Entrance of death. The fall.

Tearstains mingling with fruit-stains....

[Then,] The Quest.

“Abram, you will father a nation! And Abram—tell the people I love them.”

“Moses, you will deliver my people! And Moses—tell the people I love them.”

“Joshua, you will lead the chosen ones! And Joshua—tell the people I love them.”

“David, you will reign over the people! And David—tell the people I love them.”

“Jeremiah, you will bear tidings of bondage! But Jeremiah, remind my children, remind my children that I love them.” ...

... God watching, never turning, ever loving, ever yearning for the Garden again....

[Finally,] Empty throne. Spirit descending. Hushed angels.

A girl ... a womb ... an egg.

The same Divine Artist again forms a body. This time his own. Fleshly divinity. Skin layered on spirit. Omnipotence with hair. Toenails. Knuckles. Molars. Kneecaps. Once again he walks with man. Yet the Garden is now thorny. Thorns that cut, thorns that poison, thorns that remain lodged, leaving bitter wounds. Disharmony. Sickness. Betrayal. Fear. Guilt....

And once again, a tree.

Once again the struggle. The snake. The enticement. Heart torn, lured. Once again the question, “Whose will?”

Then the choice. Tearstains mingle with bloodstains. Relationship restored. Bridge erected.

Once again he smiles. “It is good.”

“For just as death came by the means of a man, in the same way the rising from death comes by means of a man. For just as all people die because of their union with Adam, in the same way all will be raised to life because of their union with Christ” (1 Corinthians 15:21–22, TEV). (From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

Application

Be confident today in your faith because of what Jesus has done. He broke the power of death so that you might have eternal life with him.

Exploration

Confidence—John 6:40; 11:25; Romans 1:16; Galatians 5:1; 6:9; Philippians 1:6; 2 Timothy 1:8–10; Hebrews 4:16; 11:1; 1 John 2:28.

The Good News About Christ

Now, brothers and sisters, I want you to remember the Good News I brought to you. You received this Good News and continue strong in it.<sup>2</sup> And you are being saved by it if you continue believing what I told you. If you do not, then you believed for nothing.

<sup>3</sup>I passed on to you what I received, of which this was most important: that Christ died for our sins, as the Scriptures say; <sup>4</sup>that he was buried and was raised to life on the third day as the Scriptures say; <sup>5</sup>and that he was seen by Peter and then by the twelve apostles. <sup>6</sup>After that, Jesus was seen by more than five hundred of the believers at the same time. Most of them are still living today, but some have died. <sup>7</sup>Then he was seen by James and later by all the apostles. <sup>8</sup>Last of all he was seen by me—as by a person not born at the normal time. <sup>9</sup>All the other apostles are greater than I am. I am not even good enough to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. <sup>10</sup>But God's grace has made me what I am, and his grace to me was not wasted. I worked harder than all the other apostles. (But it was not I really; it was God's grace that was with me.) <sup>11</sup>So if I preached to you or the other apostles preached to you, we all preach the same thing, and this is what you believed.

We Will Be Raised from the Dead

<sup>12</sup>Now since we preached that Christ was raised from the dead, why do some of you say that people will not be raised from the dead? <sup>13</sup>If no one is ever raised from the dead, then Christ has not been raised. <sup>14</sup>And if Christ has not been raised, then our preaching is worth nothing, and your faith is worth nothing. <sup>15</sup>And also, we are guilty of lying about God, because we testified of him that he raised Christ from the dead. But if people are not raised from the dead, then God never raised Christ. <sup>16</sup>If the dead are not raised, Christ has not been raised either. <sup>17</sup>And if Christ has not been raised, then your faith has nothing to it; you are still guilty of your sins. <sup>18</sup>And those in Christ who have already died are lost. <sup>19</sup>If our hope in Christ is for this life only, we should be pitied more than anyone else in the world.

<sup>20</sup>But Christ has truly been raised from the dead—the first one and proof that those who sleep in death will also be raised. <sup>21</sup>Death has come because of what one man did, but the rising from death also comes because of one man. <sup>22</sup>In Adam all of us die. In the same way, in Christ all of us will be made alive again. <sup>23</sup>But everyone will be raised to life in the right order. Christ was first to be raised. When Christ comes again, those who belong to him will be raised to life, <sup>24</sup>and then the end will come. At that time Christ will destroy all rulers, authorities, and powers, and he will hand over the kingdom to God the Father. <sup>25</sup>Christ must rule until he puts all enemies under his control. <sup>26</sup>The last enemy to be destroyed will be death. <sup>27</sup>The Scripture says that God put all things under his control. When it says “all things” are under him, it is clear this does not include God himself. God is the One who put everything under his control.

<sup>28</sup>After everything has been put under the Son, then he will put himself under God, who had put all things under him. Then God will be the complete ruler over everything.

<sup>29</sup>If the dead are never raised, what will people do who are being baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why are people being baptized for them?

<sup>30</sup>And what about us? Why do we put ourselves in danger every hour? <sup>31</sup>I die every day. That is true, brothers and sisters, just as it is true that I brag about you in Christ Jesus our Lord. <sup>32</sup>If I fought wild animals in Ephesus only with human hopes, I have gained nothing. If the dead are not raised, “Let us eat and drink, because tomorrow we will die.”

<sup>33</sup>Do not be fooled: “Bad friends will ruin good habits.” <sup>34</sup>Come back to your right way of thinking and stop sinning. Some of you do not know God—I say this to shame you.

What Kind of Body Will We Have?

<sup>35</sup>But someone may ask, “How are the dead raised? What kind of body will they have?” <sup>36</sup>Foolish person! When you sow a seed, it must die in the ground before it can live and grow. <sup>37</sup>And when you sow it, it does not have the same “body” it will have later. What you sow is only a bare seed, maybe wheat or something else. <sup>38</sup>But God gives it a body that he has planned for it, and God gives each kind of seed its own body. <sup>39</sup>All things made of flesh are not the same: People have one kind of flesh, animals have another, birds have another, and fish have another. <sup>40</sup>Also there are heavenly bodies and earthly bodies. But the beauty of the heavenly bodies is one kind, and the beauty of the earthly bodies is another. <sup>41</sup>The sun has one kind of beauty, the moon has another beauty, and the stars have another. And each star is different in its beauty.

<sup>42</sup>It is the same with the dead who are raised to life. The body that is “planted” will ruin and decay, but it is raised to a life that cannot be destroyed. <sup>43</sup>When the body is “planted,” it is without honor, but it is raised in glory. When the body is “planted,” it is weak, but when it is raised, it is powerful. <sup>44</sup>The body that is “planted” is a physical body. When it is raised, it is a spiritual body.

There is a physical body, and there is also a spiritual body. <sup>45</sup>It is written in the Scriptures: “The first man, Adam, became a living person.” But the last Adam became a spirit that gives life. <sup>46</sup>The spiritual did not come first, but the physical and then the spiritual. <sup>47</sup>The first man came from the dust of the earth. The second man came from heaven. <sup>48</sup>People who belong to the earth are like the first man of earth. But those people who belong to heaven are like the man of heaven. <sup>49</sup>Just as we were made like the man of earth, so we will also be made like the man of heaven.

<sup>50</sup>I tell you this, brothers and sisters: Flesh and blood cannot have a part in the kingdom of God. Something that will ruin cannot have a part in something that never ruins. <sup>51</sup>But look! I tell you this secret: We will not all sleep in death, but we will all be changed. <sup>52</sup>It will take only a second—as quickly as an eye blinks—when the last trumpet sounds. The trumpet will sound, and those who have died will be raised to live forever, and we will all be changed. <sup>53</sup>This body that can be destroyed must clothe itself with something that can never be destroyed.

And this body that dies must clothe itself with something that can never die. <sup>54</sup>So this body that can be destroyed will clothe itself with that which can never be destroyed, and this body that dies will clothe itself with that which can never die. When this happens, this Scripture will be made true:

“Death is destroyed forever in victory.”

Isaiah 25:8

<sup>55</sup>“Death, where is your victory?
Death, where is your pain?”

Hosea 13:14

<sup>56</sup>Death’s power to hurt is sin, and the power of sin is the law. <sup>57</sup>But we thank God! He gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>58</sup>So my dear brothers and sisters, stand strong. Do not let anything change you. Always give yourselves fully to the work of the Lord, because you know that your work in the Lord is never wasted.

Life Lessons

1 Corinthians 16:1–24

Situation

Paul arranged for a collection to be taken among churches he had founded for poor Believers in Jerusalem. By telling the Corinthians of this need, Paul gave them opportunity to give willingly.

Observation

Paul encouraged the Corinthians to give joyfully—through finances, hospitality, and helping Believers who diligently work for the Lord. Giving builds up the Body of Christ and refreshes us.

Inspiration

So many people keep their money carefully tucked away, and when they die, they often leave it to people who don't really need it. What a wasted opportunity to do things that would live on. They could make a major difference in many lives... They could sponsor candidates for the ministry or the mission field. Every year, young people who are desperately needed in mission service drop out of school when a gift of a few thousand dollars could have kept them on track towards a church vocation. People with some extra money could have done things which might have had eternal significance for these missionary candidates...

Some people have contacted me to offer such financial support. In most cases, years after I have arranged for them to help ministerial students or missionary candidates, I get letters telling me about the fun they have had watching the ministries of the young men and women whose service they made possible. Many times, I have arranged support for the training of students who come to study with me from Third World nations. When these students graduate and return to their homelands to serve their native churches, their benefactors have the fun of visiting the work that is being done and of seeing the blessings their gifts made possible. To tell the truth, I can't think of anything people could do with their money that would give them more pleasure... (From Who Switched the Price Tags? by Tony Campolo)

Application

How do you give to help other Believers? Through time, money, hospitality, or physical help? Surprise someone this week with a unique offer of help.

The Gift for Other Believers

Now I will write about the collection of money for God's people. Do the same thing I told the Galatian churches to do: <sup>2</sup>On the first day of every week, each one of you should put aside money as you have been blessed. Save it up so you will not have to collect money after I come. <sup>3</sup>When I arrive, I will send whomever you approve to take your gift to Jerusalem. I will send them with letters of introduction, <sup>4</sup>and if it seems good for me to go also, they will go along with me.

Paul's Plans

<sup>5</sup>I plan to go through Macedonia, so I will come to you after I go through there. <sup>6</sup>Perhaps I will stay with you for a time or even all winter. Then you can help me on my trip, wherever I go. <sup>7</sup>I do not want to see you now just in passing. I hope to stay a longer time with you if the Lord allows it. <sup>8</sup>But I will stay at Ephesus until Pentecost, <sup>9</sup>because a good opportunity for a great and growing work has been given to me now. And there are many people working against me.

<sup>10</sup>If Timothy comes to you, see to it that he has nothing to fear with you, because he is working for the Lord just as I am. <sup>11</sup>So none of you should treat Timothy as unimportant, but help him on his trip in peace so that he can come back to me. I am expecting him to come with the brothers.

<sup>12</sup>Now about our brother Apollos: I strongly encouraged him to visit you with the other brothers. He did not at all want to come now; he will come when he has the opportunity.

Paul Ends His Letter

<sup>15</sup>You know that the family of Stephanas were the first believers in Southern Greece and that they have given themselves to the service of God's people. I ask you, brothers and sisters, <sup>16</sup>to follow the leading of people like these and anyone else who works and serves with them.

<sup>17</sup>I am happy that Stephanas, Fortunatus, and Achaicus have come. You are not here, but they have filled your place.

<sup>18</sup>They have refreshed my spirit and yours. You should recognize the value of people like these.

<sup>19</sup>The churches in the country of Asia send greetings to you. Aquila and Priscilla greet you in the Lord, as does the church that meets in their house. <sup>20</sup>All the brothers and sisters here send greetings. Give each other a holy kiss when you meet.

<sup>22</sup>If anyone does not love the Lord, let him be separated from God—lost forever!

Come, O Lord!

brothers and sisters Although the Greek text says “brothers” here and throughout this book, Paul’s words were meant for the entire church, including men and women.

The Book of 2 Corinthians

Introduction

Once there was a school in a village. Atop the school was a bell, which was rung every morning to call the children to class. The boys and girls arrived reluctantly and precisely at the hour. Never a minute early. The bell would ring again in the afternoon, liberating the children to their play. The children bolted out the door at the ringing of the bell. Never lingering a minute late. This is how it was with each child.

Except one.

There was a girl who came early. She helped the teacher prepare the room for the day. The same girl would stay late—cleaning the board and dusting the erasers. During class she was attentive. She sat close to the teacher, absorbing the lessons.

One day when the other children were unruly and inattentive, the teacher used the girl as an example. “Why can’t you be like her? She listens. She works. She comes early. She stays late.”

“It isn’t fair to ask us to be like her,” a boy blurted out from the rear of the room.

“Why?” asked the teacher.

The boy was uncomfortable, wishing he hadn’t spoken. “She has an advantage,” he shrugged.

“And what’s that?”

“She is an orphan,” he almost whispered as he sat down.

The boy was right. The girl had an advantage. An advantage of knowing that school, as tedious as it was, was better than the orphanage. Since she knew that, she appreciated what the others took for granted.

We, too, were orphans.

Alone.

No name. No future. No hope.

Were it not for our adoption as his children, we would have no place to belong. We sometimes forget that.

The Corinthians forgot.

They had grown puffy in their achievements and divisive in their fellowship. They argued over the correct leader, the greater gifts. They rebelled against Paul's leadership. They were indifferent to sin and insensitive in worship.

Paul defends his ministry and admonishes the Christians to remember to whom they belong. "Look closely at yourselves," Paul says (13:5). Paul's words are clear. "If anyone belongs to Christ, there is a new creation. The old things have gone; everything is made new!" (5:17).

Good reminder.

Not just for them but for us as well. For if we forget, we, too, will be like the students who did just enough to pass the grade and never enough to show their thanks.

Life Lessons

2 Corinthians 1:1–2:4

Situation

Second Corinthians was written less than a year after 1 Corinthians. Paul wrote because he was delayed in his visit to Corinth. Paul began explaining his actions among the Corinthians by reviewing his relationship with them.

Observation

God's comfort and deliverance are certainties, even in the middle of difficult trials. We can confidently rely upon him as we make our plans.

Inspiration

"Why?" we wonder as we struggle to put the pieces back in a broken relationship.

"Why?" we think as we read of a devastating earthquake halfway around the world.

"Why?" we cry as we stand at the grave of a loved one.

Life is short and sometimes tragic, and each day we are reminded of our finiteness. We don't know the future, we don't know the relationship between events, and we certainly don't know why.

But we do know that God is good and all-knowing—nothing catches him by surprise, not the car out of control, the malignant tumor, the hurricane, or the disease. So even as we wonder and question the reason and cause for each event, we can be confident that God knows and that in everything, even the senseless tragedy, he is working. (From On Eagle's Wings by Dave Veerman)

Application

What season of suffering have you known? What helped you move through it? Use the experience to help others whose hearts grieve. Write or call a friend today with encouragement.

Exploration

God's Comfort—Psalm 23:1-4; 119:50, 52; John 14:16-17; 2 Corinthians 1:3-5; Philippians 2:1-2.

From Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus. I am an apostle because that is what God wanted. Also from Timothy our brother in Christ.

To the church of God in Corinth, and to all of God's people everywhere in Southern Greece:

<sup>2</sup>Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Paul Gives Thanks to God

<sup>3</sup>Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. God is the Father who is full of mercy and all comfort. <sup>4</sup>He comforts us every time we have trouble, so when others have trouble, we can comfort them with the same comfort God gives us. <sup>5</sup>We share in the many sufferings of Christ. In the same way, much comfort comes to us through Christ. <sup>6</sup>If we have troubles, it is for your comfort and salvation, and if we have comfort, you also have comfort. This helps you to accept patiently the same sufferings we have. <sup>7</sup>Our hope for you is strong, knowing that you share in our sufferings and also in the comfort we receive.

<sup>8</sup>Brothers and sisters, we want you to know about the trouble we suffered in Asia. We had great burdens there that were beyond our own strength. We even gave up hope of living. <sup>9</sup>Truly, in our own hearts we believed we would die. But this happened so we would not trust in ourselves but in God, who raises people from the dead. <sup>10</sup>God saved us from these great dangers of death, and he will continue to save us. We have put our hope in him, and he will save us again.<sup>11</sup> And you can help us with your prayers. Then many people will give thanks for us—that God blessed us because of their many prayers.

The Change in Paul's Plans

<sup>12</sup>This is what we are proud of, and I can say it with a clear conscience: In everything we have done in the world, and especially with you, we have had an honest and sincere heart from God. We did this by God's grace, not by the kind of wisdom the world has.<sup>13-14</sup> We write to you only what you can read and understand. And I hope that as you have understood some things about us, you may come to know everything about us. Then you can be proud of us, as we will be proud of you on the day our Lord Jesus Christ comes again.

<sup>15</sup>I was so sure of all this that I made plans to visit you first so you could be blessed twice.<sup>16</sup> I planned to visit you on my way to Macedonia and again on my way back. I wanted to get help from you for my trip to Judea.<sup>17</sup> Do you think that I made these plans without really meaning it? Or maybe you think I make plans as the world does, so that I say yes, yes and at the same time no, no.

<sup>18</sup>But if you can believe God, you can believe that what we tell you is never both yes and no.<sup>19</sup> The Son of God, Jesus Christ, that Silas and Timothy and I preached to you, was not yes and no. In Christ it has always been yes.<sup>20</sup> The yes to all of God's promises is in Christ, and through Christ we say yes to the glory of God.<sup>21</sup> Remember, God is the One who makes you and us strong in Christ. God made us his chosen people. <sup>22</sup>He put his mark on us to show that we are his, and he put his Spirit in our hearts to be a guarantee for all he has promised.

<sup>23</sup>I tell you this, and I ask God to be my witness that this is true: The reason I did not come back to Corinth was to keep you from being punished or hurt. <sup>24</sup>We are not trying to control your faith. You are strong in faith. But we are workers with you for your own joy.

So I decided that my next visit to you would not be another one to make you sad.<sup>2</sup>If I make you sad, who will make me glad? Only you can make me glad—particularly the person whom I made sad.<sup>3</sup>I wrote you a letter for this reason: that when I came to you I would not be made sad by the people who should make me happy. I felt sure of all of you, that you would share my joy.<sup>4</sup>When I wrote to you before, I was very troubled and unhappy in my heart, and I wrote with many tears. I did not write to make you sad, but to let you know how much I love you.

Life Lessons

2 Corinthians 2:5–17

Situation

In his previous letter, Paul urged the Corinthians to put a particular unrepentant sinner out of the church (1 Corinthians 5). Perhaps this man repented and was the individual mentioned in this letter.

Observation

God eagerly forgives a repentant sinner. God puts forgiven sins out of his view.

Inspiration

We all find forgiveness exceedingly difficult. Sometimes forgiveness comes so hard that we can release our grudges only one level at a time. This means forgiveness is often granted only at superficial levels. These are qualified forgiveness. A key word is if. “I’ll forgive you, if you show proper remorse. . . .”

Another key word is when. “I’ll forgive you when I am able. You’ve got to give me some time to work through this...”

A second level is partial forgiveness. The key word here is but. “I’ll forgive you, but ... please get out of my life...”

You must do forgiveness. We do our way into better feelings. We do not feel our way into better doing. If we wait until all that bitterness is swept out of the corners of our feelings before we do right by someone who has hurt us, we might just as well give up. The bad feelings may never completely go away. But if we begin now dealing with that person, as if he had been totally forgiven and as if all the bad feelings were gone, giving him full personhood and affirmation, somehow the bitterness eventually dissipates. Jesus didn’t just tell us how to forgive, he showed us how on the cross.... (From Finding the Heart to Go On by Lynn Anderson)

Application

Are you holding on to a grudge? Pray, then go and make peace.

Forgive the Sinner

<sup>5</sup>Someone there among you has caused sadness, not to me, but to all of you. I mean he caused sadness to all in some way. (I do not want to make it sound worse than it really is.) <sup>6</sup>The punishment that most of you gave him is enough for him. <sup>7</sup>But now you should forgive him and comfort him to keep him from having too much sadness and giving up completely. <sup>8</sup>So I beg you to show that you love him. <sup>9</sup>I wrote you to test you and to see if you obey in everything. <sup>10</sup>If you forgive someone, I also forgive him. And what I have forgiven—if I had anything to forgive—I forgave it for you, as if Christ were with me. <sup>11</sup>I did this so that Satan would not win anything from us, because we know very well what Satan's plans are.

Paul's Concern in Troas

<sup>12</sup>When I came to Troas to preach the Good News of Christ, the Lord gave me a good opportunity there. <sup>13</sup>But I had no peace, because I did not find my brother Titus. So I said goodbye to them at Troas and went to Macedonia.

Victory Through Christ

<sup>14</sup>But thanks be to God, who always leads us in victory through Christ. God uses us to spread his knowledge everywhere like a sweet-smelling perfume. <sup>15</sup>Our offering to God is this: We are the sweet smell of Christ among those who are being saved and among those who are being lost. <sup>16</sup>To those who are lost, we are the smell of death that brings death, but to those who are being saved, we are the smell of life that brings life. So who is able to do this work? <sup>17</sup>We do not sell the word of God for a profit as many other people do. But in Christ we speak the truth before God, as messengers of God.

Life Lessons

2 Corinthians 3:1–4:15

Situation

Smooth-talking, slick-operating teachers impressed the Corinthians. Paul contrasted these teachers with humble and honest ones who gave credit to God.

Observation

People who minister in Christ's name must be honest and have a good reputation among believers and nonbelievers. Paul highlighted these qualities that he found in his young follower, Timothy.

Inspiration

A man of God has a good reputation. This quality is listed in both the [first] letter to Timothy (3:2) and the one to Titus (1:6–7). In fact, Paul mentions it twice in his letter to Titus. As Paul wrote these letters, he was probably using this characteristic as an overarching one. It was his proposition, his summary idea, as it were, for all the qualities he was about to list. This quality as listed by Paul in this correspondence is not a new idea in the New Testament. In fact, when the church faced its first organizational problem in Jerusalem, the apostles recommended that seven men “of good reputation” be selected to help solve the problem of food distribution (Acts 6:3).

Later when Paul came to Lystra on his second missionary journey, he heard about Timothy. “He was well spoken of by the brethren who were in Lystra and Iconium?” (Acts 16:2). In other words, he had a good reputation.

Notice three things. First, people were talking about Timothy. A good reputation creates conversation—positive feedback.

Second, it was more than one person who was doing the talking. A good test of whether or not a person has a good reputation is how many people are talking. All of us have one or two prejudiced friends. But what are people in general saying? This is the true test.

And third, people were talking about him in both Lystra and Iconium, that is, in more than one location. Timothy’s reputation was good both at home and abroad. When the two are in alignment, you can rest assured that you are getting a much clearer reading on a man’s inner qualities. Paul was impressed with Timothy’s reputation ...

It takes time to build a good reputation. But it should be a goal for every Christian, and your goal. In fact, it should happen naturally when a person is growing and maturing in his Christian life. Conversely, the Christian with a poor reputation is no doubt exhibiting traits that are not in harmony with Christian principles, nor are they in harmony with what people naturally expect from mature personalities.

(From The Measure of a Man by Gene Getz)

Application

The qualities Paul shared about Timothy are good goals for every Christian. How do you measure up? What would you say is your reputation among your friends and others? Focus on one area and pray for specific ways you can improve.

Exploration

Leadership—Numbers 8:14–18; John 13:13–17; 1 Timothy 3:1–4:16; 2 Timothy 2:1–7, 15.

Servants of the New Agreement

Are we starting to brag about ourselves again? Do we need letters of introduction to you or from you, like some other people? <sup>2</sup>You yourselves are our letter, written on our hearts, known and read by everyone. <sup>3</sup>You show that you are a letter from Christ sent through us. This letter is not written with ink but with the Spirit of the living God. It is not written on stone tablets but on human hearts.

<sup>4</sup>We can say this, because through Christ we feel certain before God. <sup>5</sup>We are not saying that we can do this work ourselves. It is God who makes us able to do all that we do. <sup>6</sup>He made us able to be servants of a new agreement from himself to his people. This new agreement is not a written law, but it is of the Spirit. The written law brings death, but the Spirit gives life.

<sup>7</sup>The law that brought death was written in words on stone. It came with God's glory, which made Moses' face so bright that the Israelites could not continue to look at it. But that glory later disappeared. <sup>8</sup>So surely the new way that brings the Spirit has even more glory. <sup>9</sup>If the law that judged people guilty of sin had glory, surely the new way that makes people right with God has much greater glory. <sup>10</sup>That old law had glory, but it really loses its glory when it is compared to the much greater glory of this new way. <sup>11</sup>If that law which disappeared came with glory, then this new way which continues forever has much greater glory.

<sup>12</sup>We have this hope, so we are very bold. <sup>13</sup>We are not like Moses, who put a covering over his face so the Israelites would not see it. The glory was disappearing, and Moses did not want them to see it end. <sup>14</sup>But their minds were closed, and even today that same covering hides the meaning when they read the old agreement. That covering is taken away only through Christ. <sup>15</sup>Even today, when they read the law of Moses, there is a covering over their minds. <sup>16</sup>But when a person changes and follows the Lord, that covering is taken away. <sup>17</sup>The Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. <sup>18</sup>Our faces, then, are not covered. We all show the Lord's glory, and we are being changed to be like him. This change in us brings ever greater glory, which comes from the Lord, who is the Spirit.

Preaching the Good News

God, with his mercy, gave us this work to do, so we don't give up. <sup>2</sup>But we have turned away from secret and shameful ways. We use no trickery, and we do not change the teaching of God. We teach the truth plainly, showing everyone who we are. Then they can know in their hearts what kind of people we are in God's sight. <sup>3</sup>If the Good News that we preach is hidden, it is hidden only to those who are lost. <sup>4</sup>The devil who rules this world has blinded the minds of those who do not believe. They cannot see the light of the Good News—the Good News about the glory of Christ, who is exactly like God. <sup>5</sup>We do not preach about ourselves, but we preach that Jesus Christ is Lord and that we are your servants for Jesus. <sup>6</sup>God once said, "Let the light shine out of the darkness!" This is the same God who made his light shine in our hearts by letting us know the glory of God that is in the face of Christ.

Spiritual Treasure in Clay Jars

<sup>7</sup>We have this treasure from God, but we are like clay jars that hold the treasure. This shows that the great power is from God, not from us. <sup>8</sup>We have troubles all around us, but we are not defeated. We do not know what to do, but we do not give up the hope of living. <sup>9</sup>We are persecuted, but God does not leave us. We are hurt sometimes, but we are not destroyed. <sup>10</sup>We carry the death of Jesus in our own bodies so that the life of Jesus can also be seen in our bodies. <sup>11</sup>We are alive, but for Jesus we are always in danger of death so that the life of Jesus can be seen in our bodies that die. <sup>12</sup>So death is working in us, but life is working in you.

<sup>13</sup>It is written in the Scriptures, “I believed, so I spoke.” Our faith is like this, too. We believe, and so we speak. <sup>14</sup>God raised the Lord Jesus from the dead, and we know that God will also raise us with Jesus. God will bring us together with you, and we will stand before him. <sup>15</sup>All these things are for you. And so the grace of God that is being given to more and more people will bring increasing thanks to God for his glory.

Life Lessons

2 Corinthians 4:16–6:13

Situation

Paul stressed that the Corinthians could have confidence in the bodily resurrection and afterlife. This contrasted with contemporary ideas that some Corinthians held—that bodily resurrection would not happen and that the soul was separate from the body.

Observation

Jesus’ followers know that God reserves bodily resurrection and a heavenly dwelling place for them.

Inspiration

It’s not easy for us to see a City we’ve never seen, either, especially when the road is bumpy ... the hour is late ... and companions are wanting to cancel the trip and take up residence in a motel. It’s not easy to fix our eyes on what is unseen. But it is necessary....

For some of you, the journey has been long. Very long and stormy. In no way do I wish to minimize the difficulties that you have had to face along the way...

And you are tired.

It's hard for you to see the City in the midst of the storms. The desire to pull over to the side of the road and get out entices you. You want to go on, but some days the road seems so long.

Let me encourage you ... It's worth it. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

You may be tempted to throw in the towel and walk away when life gets hard. When this impulse hits you: stop, relax, pray, and take that next step. Discover new faith and hope.

Exploration

Hope of Heaven—Job 19:25–27; Psalm 73:24–26; John 15:1–4; 1 Thessalonians 4:13–18; Revelation 21:27; 22:14.

Living by Faith

<sup>16</sup>So we do not give up. Our physical body is becoming older and weaker, but our spirit inside us is made new every day.

<sup>17</sup>We have small troubles for a while now, but they are helping us gain an eternal glory that is much greater than the troubles.

<sup>18</sup>We set our eyes not on what we see but on what we cannot see. What we see will last only a short time, but what we cannot see will last forever.

We know that our body—the tent we live in here on earth—will be destroyed. But when that happens, God will have a house for us. It will not be a house made by human hands; instead, it will be a home in heaven that will last forever.<sup>2</sup> But now we groan in this tent. We want God to give us our heavenly home,<sup>3</sup> because it will clothe us so we will not be naked.<sup>4</sup> While we live in this body, we have burdens, and we groan. We do not want to be naked, but we want to be clothed with our heavenly home. Then this body that dies will be fully covered with life.<sup>5</sup> This is what God made us for, and he has given us the Spirit to be a guarantee for this new life.

<sup>6</sup>So we always have courage. We know that while we live in this body, we are away from the Lord.<sup>7</sup> We live by what we believe, not by what we can see.<sup>8</sup> So I say that we have courage. We really want to be away from this body and be at home with the Lord.<sup>9</sup> Our only goal is to please God whether we live here or there,<sup>10</sup> because we must all stand before Christ to be judged. Each of us will receive what we should get—good or bad—for the things we did in the earthly body.

Becoming Friends with God

<sup>11</sup>Since we know what it means to fear the Lord, we try to help people accept the truth about us. God knows what we really are, and I hope that in your hearts you know, too.<sup>12</sup> We are not trying to prove ourselves to you again, but we are telling you about ourselves so you will be proud of us. Then you will have an answer for those who are proud about things that can be seen rather than what is in the heart.<sup>13</sup> If we are out of our minds, it is for God. If we have our right minds, it is for you.

<sup>14</sup>The love of Christ controls us, because we know that One died for all, so all have died. <sup>15</sup>Christ died for all so that those who live would not continue to live for themselves. He died for them and was raised from the dead so that they would live for him.

Christ Through the Bible

Christ Became Our Sin

Why is the cross the symbol of our faith? To find the answer look no farther than the cross itself. Its design couldn't be simpler. One beam horizontal—the other vertical. One reaches out—like God's love. The other reaches up—as does God's holiness. One represents the width of his love; the other reflects the height of his holiness. The cross is the intersection. The cross is where God forgave his children without lowering his standards.

How could he do this? In a sentence: God put our sin on his Son and punished it there.

“God put on him the wrong who never did anything wrong, so we could be put right with God” (2 Corinthians 5:21, MSG).

Envision the moment. God on his throne. You on the earth. And between you and God, suspended between you and heaven, is Christ on his cross. Your sins have been placed on Jesus. God, who punishes sin, releases his rightful wrath on your mistakes. Jesus receives the blow. Since Christ is between you and God, you don't. The sin is punished, but you are safe—safe in the shadow of the cross.

This is what God did, but why, why would he do it? Moral duty? Heavenly obligation? Paternal requirement? No. God is required to do nothing.

Besides, consider what he did. He gave his Son. His only Son. Would you do that? Would you offer the life of your child for someone else? I wouldn't. There are those for whom I would give my life. But ask me to make a list of those for whom I would kill my daughter? The sheet will be blank. I don't need a pencil. The list has no names.

But God's list contains the name of every person who ever lived. For this is the scope of his love. And this is the reason for the cross. He loves the world... .

<sup>16</sup>From this time on we do not think of anyone as the world does. In the past we thought of Christ as the world thinks, but we no longer think of him in that way. <sup>17</sup>If anyone belongs to Christ, there is a new creation. The old things have gone; everything is made new! <sup>18</sup>All this is from God. Through Christ, God made peace between us and himself, and God gave us the work of telling everyone about the peace we can have with him. <sup>19</sup>God was in Christ, making peace between the world and himself. In Christ, God did not hold the world guilty of its sins. And he gave us this message of peace. <sup>20</sup>So we have been sent to speak for Christ. It is as if God is calling to you through us. We speak for Christ when we beg you to be at peace with God. <sup>21</sup>Christ had no sin, but God made him become sin so that in Christ we could become right with God.

We are workers together with God, so we beg you: Do not let the grace that you received from God be for nothing.<sup>2</sup> God says,

“At the right time I heard your prayers.
On the day of salvation I helped you.”

Isaiah 49:8

I tell you that the “right time” is now, and the “day of salvation” is now.

<sup>3</sup>We do not want anyone to find fault with our work, so nothing we do will be a problem for anyone. <sup>4</sup>But in every way we show we are servants of God: in accepting many hard things, in troubles, in difficulties, and in great problems. <sup>5</sup>We are beaten and thrown into prison. We meet those who become upset with us and start riots. We work hard, and sometimes we get no sleep or food. <sup>6</sup>We show we are servants of God by our pure lives, our understanding, patience, and kindness, by the Holy Spirit, by true love, <sup>7</sup>by speaking the truth, and by God’s power. We use our right living to defend ourselves against everything. <sup>8</sup>Some people honor us, but others blame us. Some people say evil things about us, but others say good things. Some people say we are liars, but we speak the truth. <sup>9</sup>We are not known, but we are well known. We seem to be dying, but we continue to live. We are punished, but we are not killed. <sup>10</sup>We have much sadness, but we are always rejoicing. We are poor, but we are making many people rich in faith. We have nothing, but really we have everything.

<sup>11</sup>We have spoken freely to you in Corinth and have opened our hearts to you. <sup>12</sup>Our feelings of love for you have not stopped, but you have stopped your feelings of love for us. <sup>13</sup>I speak to you as if you were my children. Do to us as we have done—open your hearts to us.

Life Lessons

2 Corinthians 6:14–7:16

Situation

Paul warned Christians that intimate relationships with unbelievers are dangerous. He was glad that the Corinthians would apply his advice.

Observation

Christians should not marry unbelievers. Spiritually incompatible relationships weaken faith.

Inspiration

I love ocean sailing. Not long ago I took five men from my church ... ocean sailing for a week...

The first day out of the harbor was a sailor's dream: twenty-five-knot winds, clear sky, six-to eight-foot seas... . A couple hours out, I was standing at the helm singing at the top of my lungs—laughing, joking, having the time of my life. “Does it get any better than this?” I shouted. “Are we having fun, or what?”

No response. In fact, I noticed that some of the guys were looking a little green... . They both experienced “unplanned protein spills.” ... I tried to maintain my euphoria at sea, but with no one to share it, it faded. So, with a perfect wind still blowing, I headed back toward protected waters.

As much as I love ocean sailing, it is no match for how I feel about my relationship with Jesus Christ... . My wife ... loves Christ with a passion every bit as strong as mine. It would be torture for me not to be able to share the greatest treasure in my life with my wife. And that is nothing unique to me. To have a spouse yawn about that which means more than anything else in life would bring heartache to any true believer. (From Fit to Be Tied by Bill and Lynne Hybels)

Application

Are you in a relationship that shifts your loyalty away from God? Do you ever compromise God's desire in order to keep the relationship? What does God expect from you?

Warning About Non-Christians

<sup>14</sup>You are not the same as those who do not believe. So do not join yourselves to them. Good and bad do not belong together. Light and darkness cannot share together. <sup>15</sup>How can Christ and Belial, the devil, have any agreement? What can a believer have together with a nonbeliever? <sup>16</sup>The temple of God cannot have any agreement with idols, and we are the temple of the living God. As God said: “I will live with them and walk with them. And I will be their God, and they will be my people.”

<sup>17</sup>“Leave those people, and be separate, says the Lord.
Touch nothing that is unclean,
and I will accept you.”

Isaiah 52:11; Ezekiel 20:34, 41

<sup>18</sup>“I will be your father, and you will be my sons and daughters, says the Lord Almighty.”

2 Samuel 7:14

Dear friends, we have these promises from God, so we should make ourselves pure—free from anything that makes body or soul unclean. We should try to become holy in the way we live, because we respect God.

Paul's Joy

<sup>2</sup>Open your hearts to us. We have not done wrong to anyone, we have not ruined the faith of anyone, and we have not cheated anyone. <sup>3</sup>I do not say this to blame you. I told you before that we love you so much we would live or die with you. <sup>4</sup>I feel very sure of you and am very proud of you. You give me much comfort, and in all of our troubles I have great joy.

<sup>5</sup>When we came into Macedonia, we had no rest. We found trouble all around us. We had fighting on the outside and fear on the inside. <sup>6</sup>But God, who comforts those who are troubled, comforted us when Titus came. <sup>7</sup>We were comforted, not only by his coming but also by the comfort you gave him. Titus told us about your wish to see me and that you are very sorry for what you did. He also told me about your great care for me, and when I heard this, I was much happier.

<sup>8</sup>Even if my letter made you sad, I am not sorry I wrote it. At first I was sorry, because it made you sad, but you were sad only for a short time. <sup>9</sup>Now I am happy, not because you were made sad, but because your sorrow made you change your lives. You became sad in the way God wanted you to, so you were not hurt by us in any way. <sup>10</sup>The kind of sorrow God wants makes people change their hearts and lives. This leads to salvation, and you cannot be sorry for that. But the kind of sorrow the world has brings death. <sup>11</sup>See what this sorrow—the sorrow God wanted you to have—has done to you: It has made you very serious. It made you want to prove you were not wrong. It made you angry and afraid. It made you want to see me. It made you care. It made you want the right thing to be done. You proved you were innocent in the problem. <sup>12</sup>I wrote that letter, not because of the one who did the wrong or because of the person who was hurt. I wrote the letter so you could see, before God, the great care you have for us. <sup>13</sup>That is why we were comforted.

Not only were we very comforted, we were even happier to see that Titus was so happy. All of you made him feel much better. <sup>14</sup>I bragged to Titus about you, and you showed that I was right. Everything we said to you was true, and you have proved that what we bragged about to Titus is true. <sup>15</sup>And his love for you is stronger when he remembers that you were all ready to obey. You welcomed him with respect and fear. <sup>16</sup>I am very happy that I can trust you fully.

Life Lessons

2 Corinthians 8:1–9:15

Situation

Paul expressed confidence in the Corinthian church. He asked them to complete their collection for the Jerusalem church, which they had promised a year before.

Observation

Paul gave the Corinthians two examples of generous giving: the Macedonian churches and Christ. We should give according to our abilities, voluntarily and generously. God gives to us so that we can share with others.

Inspiration

Do you have eyesight? It's a gift. Do you have a good mind? It's a gift. Do you have leadership abilities that cause others to follow? A good education? These are all gifts. Has God given you a family? Has He given you sufficient clothes? ... These are all gifts from God's hand. Reflect on His numerous gifts to you. It will increase your joy....

Then remind yourself of God's promises regarding generosity. God promises if you sow bountifully, you will reap bountifully. So give! Give abundantly! Even extravagant giving is honored by God. I've never known anyone who went bad because he or she was too generous. Remind yourself of His promises regarding generosity and start giving!

Don't be afraid of outgiving God. It is absolutely impossible to do that. (From Wisdom for the Way by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Do you plan giving so that you can give regularly? Is it spontaneous enough so you can respond to needs right away or generous enough to show something of God's self-sacrifice? Today, make your gratitude to God tangible with a gift to your church or another trustworthy ministry.

Exploration

Giving—Deuteronomy 15:10–11; Isaiah 1:13; Malachi 3:8; Matthew 10:8; Luke 6:38; Acts 20:35; Romans 12:8.

Christian Giving

And now, brothers and sisters, we want you to know about the grace God gave the churches in Macedonia. <sup>2</sup>They have been tested by great troubles, and they are very poor. But they gave much because of their great joy. <sup>3</sup>I can tell you that they gave as much as they were able and even more than they could afford. No one told them to do it. <sup>4</sup>But they begged and pleaded with us to let them share in this service for God's people. <sup>5</sup>And they gave in a way we did not expect: They first gave themselves to the Lord and to us. This is what God wants. <sup>6</sup>So we asked Titus to help you finish this special work of grace since he is the one who started it. <sup>7</sup>You are rich in everything—in faith, in speaking, in knowledge, in truly wanting to help, and in the love you learned from us. In the same way, be strong also in the grace of giving.

<sup>8</sup>I am not commanding you to give. But I want to see if your love is true by comparing you with others that really want to help. <sup>9</sup>You know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ. You know that Christ was rich, but for you he became poor so that by his becoming poor you might become rich.

<sup>10</sup>This is what I think you should do: Last year you were the first to want to give, and you were the first who gave. <sup>11</sup>So now finish the work you started. Then your “doing” will be equal to your “wanting to do.” Give from what you have. <sup>12</sup>If you want to give, your gift will be accepted. It will be judged by what you have, not by what you do not have. <sup>13</sup>We do not want you to have troubles while other people are at ease, but we want everything to be equal. <sup>14</sup>At this time you have plenty. What you have can help others who are in need. Then later, when they have plenty, they can help you when you are in need, and all will be equal. <sup>15</sup>As it is written in the Scriptures, “The person who gathered more did not have too much, nor did the person who gathered less have too little.”

Titus and His Companions Help

<sup>16</sup>I thank God because he gave Titus the same love for you that I have. <sup>17</sup>Titus accepted what we asked him to do. He wanted very much to go to you, and this was his own idea. <sup>18</sup>We are sending with him the brother who is praised by all the churches because of his service in preaching the Good News. <sup>19</sup>Also, this brother was chosen by the churches to go with us when we deliver this gift of money. We are doing this service to bring glory to the Lord and to show that we really want to help.

<sup>20</sup>We are being careful so that no one will criticize us for the way we are handling this large gift. <sup>21</sup>We are trying hard to do what the Lord accepts as right and also what people think is right.

<sup>22</sup>Also, we are sending with them our brother, who is always ready to help. He has proved this to us in many ways, and he wants to help even more now, because he has much faith in you.

<sup>23</sup>Now about Titus—he is my partner who is working with me to help you. And about the other brothers—they are sent from the churches, and they bring glory to Christ.<sup>24</sup> So show these men the proof of your love and the reason we are proud of you. Then all the churches can see it.

Help for Fellow Christians

I really do not need to write you about this help for God's people. <sup>2</sup>I know you want to help. I have been bragging about this to the people in Macedonia, telling them that you in Southern Greece have been ready to give since last year. And your desire to give has made most of them ready to give also. <sup>3</sup>But I am sending the brothers to you so that our bragging about you in this will not be empty words. I want you to be ready, as I said you would be. <sup>4</sup>If any of the people from Macedonia come with me and find that you are not ready, we will be ashamed that we were so sure of you. (And you will be ashamed, too!) <sup>5</sup>So I thought I should ask these brothers to go to you before we do. They will finish getting in order the generous gift you promised so it will be ready when we come. And it will be a generous gift—not one that you did not want to give.

<sup>6</sup>Remember this: The person who plants a little will have a small harvest, but the person who plants a lot will have a big harvest. <sup>7</sup>Each one should give as you have decided in your heart to give. You should not be sad when you give, and you should not give because you feel forced to give. God loves the person who gives happily. <sup>8</sup>And God can give you more blessings than you need. Then you will always have plenty of everything—enough to give to every good work. <sup>9</sup>It is written in the Scriptures:

“He gives freely to the poor.

The things he does are right and will continue forever.”

Psalm 112:9

<sup>10</sup>God is the One who gives seed to the farmer and bread for food. He will give you all the seed you need and make it grow so there will be a great harvest from your goodness. <sup>11</sup>He will make you rich in every way so that you can always give freely. And your giving through us will cause many to give thanks to God. <sup>12</sup>This service you do not only helps the needs of God’s people, it also brings many more thanks to God. <sup>13</sup>It is a proof of your faith. Many people will praise God because you obey the Good News of Christ—the gospel you say you believe—and because you freely share with them and with all others. <sup>14</sup>And when they pray, they will wish they could be with you because of the great grace that God has given you. <sup>15</sup>Thanks be to God for his gift that is too wonderful for words.

2 Corinthians 10:1–11:15

Situation

Paul learned that certain rival preachers had succeeded in their attempt to discredit him before a few Corinthian Christians. Paul responded to the charges and accusations raised by them; he warned that he would exercise strict discipline, if that became necessary.

Observation

God gives spiritual leaders to provide order and direction. Be sure to uphold and respect these leaders.

Inspiration

We sometimes think that power comes only through aggressive self-promotion, but Jesus made it clear that this was not so. He explained to his disciples very bluntly that power and authority in his kingdom is based on servanthood.

Dee Jepson, who served as an assistant to her husband, a U. S. senator, quickly became aware of the power-hungry atmosphere of Washington, D.C. Political wheeling and dealing was the name of the game—always with an eye on gaining influence with high-ranking officials. Jesus' message of servanthood seemed entirely out of place, until one day when Dee observed an honored guest's visit to the city.

“The unimportance of sophistication was brought home to me,” she writes, “at a Capitol Hill luncheon for Mother Teresa. . . . In came this tiny woman, even smaller than I had expected, wearing that familiar blue and white habit, over it a gray sweater that had seen many better days, which she wore again to the White House the next day. As that little woman walked into the room, her bare feet in worn sandals, I saw some of the most powerful leaders in this country stand to their feet with tears in their eyes just to be in her presence.”

“As I listened that afternoon, I thought, ‘Don’t forget this, Dee. Here in this little woman who doesn’t want a thing, never asked for anything for herself; never demanded anything, or shook her fist in anger, here’s real power.’ It was a paradox. She has reached down into the gutter and loved and given. She has loved those the world sees as unlovable—the desolate, the dying—because they are created in the image of the God she serves. Ironically, seeking nothing for herself, she has been raised to the pinnacle of world recognition, received the Nobel Peace Prize, and is a figure known to most people, at least in the Western world, and revered by many. She has nothing, yet in a strange way, she has everything.”

Paul Defends His Ministry

I, Paul, am begging you with the gentleness and the kindness of Christ. Some people say that I am easy on you when I am with you and bold when I am away. <sup>2</sup>They think we live in a worldly way, and I plan to be very bold with them when I come. I beg you that when I come I will not need to use that same boldness with you. <sup>3</sup>We do live in the world, but we do not fight in the same way the world fights. <sup>4</sup>We fight with weapons that are different from those the world uses. Our weapons have power from God that can destroy the enemy's strong places. We destroy people's arguments <sup>5</sup>and every proud thing that raises itself against the knowledge of God. We capture every thought and make it give up and obey Christ. <sup>6</sup>We are ready to punish anyone there who does not obey, but first we want you to obey fully.

<sup>7</sup>You must look at the facts before you. If you feel sure that you belong to Christ, you must remember that we belong to Christ just as you do. <sup>8</sup>It is true that we brag freely about the authority the Lord gave us. But this authority is to build you up, not to tear you down. So I will not be ashamed. <sup>9</sup>I do not want you to think I am trying to scare you with my letters. <sup>10</sup>Some people say, "Paul's letters are powerful and sound important, but when he is with us, he is weak. And his speaking is nothing." <sup>11</sup>They should know this: We are not there with you now, so we say these things in letters. But when we are there with you, we will show the same authority that we show in our letters.

<sup>12</sup>We do not dare to compare ourselves with those who think they are very important. They use themselves to measure themselves, and they judge themselves by what they themselves are. This shows that they know nothing. <sup>13</sup>But we will not brag about things outside the work that was given us to do. We will limit our bragging to the work that God gave us, and this includes our work with you. <sup>14</sup>We are not bragging too much, as we would be if we had not already come to you. But we have come to you with the Good News of Christ. <sup>15</sup>We limit our bragging to the work that is ours, not what others have done. We hope that as your faith continues to grow, you will help our work to grow much larger. <sup>16</sup>We want to tell the Good News in the areas beyond your city. We do not want to brag about work that has already been done in another person's area. <sup>17</sup>But, "If someone wants to brag, he should brag only about the Lord." <sup>18</sup>It is not those who say they are good who are accepted but those who the Lord thinks are good.

NewLife in Christ

"We capture every thought and make it give up and obey Christ."—2 Corinthians 10:5

Your Thoughts Run Your Life

To listen to our vocabulary you'd think we are the victims of our thoughts. "Don't talk to me," we say. "I'm in a bad mood." As if a mood were a place to which we were assigned ("I can't call you. I'm in Bosnia.") rather than an emotion we permit.

Or we say, “Don’t mess with her. She has a bad disposition.” Is a disposition something we “have”? Like a cold or the flu? Are we the victims of the emotional bacteria of the season? Or do we have a choice?

Paul says we do: “We capture every thought and make it give up and obey Christ” (2 Corinthians 10:5).

Do you hear some battlefield jargon in that passage—“capture every thought,” “make it give up” and “obey Christ”? You get the impression that we are the soldiers and the thoughts are the enemies. Our assignment is to protect the boat and refuse entrance to trashy thoughts. The minute they appear on the dock we go into action. “This heart belongs to God,” we declare, “and you aren’t getting on board until you change your allegiance.”

Selfishness, step back! Envy, get lost! Find another boat, Anger! You aren’t allowed on this ship. Capturing thoughts is serious business.

It was for Jesus. Remember the thoughts that came his way courtesy of the mouth of Peter? Jesus had just prophesied his death, burial, and resurrection, but Peter couldn’t bear the thought of it. “Peter took Jesus aside and told him not to talk like that. . . . Jesus said to Peter, ‘Go away from me, Satan! You are not helping me! You don’t care about the things of God, but only about the things people think are important’” (Matthew 16:22–23).

See the decisiveness of Jesus? A trashy thought comes his way. He is tempted to entertain it. A cross-less life would be nice. But what does he do? He stands at the gangplank of the dock and says, “Get away from me.” As if to say, “You are not allowed to enter my mind.”

What if you did that? What if you took every thought captive? What if you refused to let any trash enter your mind? What if you took the counsel of Solomon: “Be careful what you think, because your thoughts run your life” (Proverbs 4:23). (From A Love Worth Giving by Max Lucado)

Question: If you were to take every thought captive to Christ, how would that change your life?

Paul and the False Apostles

I wish you would be patient with me even when I am a little foolish, but you are already doing that. <sup>2</sup>I am jealous over you with a jealousy that comes from God. I promised to give you to Christ, as your only husband. I want to give you as his pure bride. <sup>3</sup>But I am afraid that your minds will be led away from your true and pure following of Christ just as Eve was tricked by the snake with his evil ways. <sup>4</sup>You are very patient with anyone who comes to you and preaches a different Jesus from the one we preached. You are very willing to accept a spirit or gospel that is different from the Spirit and Good News you received from us.

<sup>5</sup>I do not think that those “great apostles” are any better than I am. <sup>6</sup>I may not be a trained speaker, but I do have knowledge. We have shown this to you clearly in every way.

<sup>7</sup>I preached God’s Good News to you without pay. I made myself unimportant to make you important. Do you think that was wrong? <sup>8</sup>I accepted pay from other churches, taking their money so I could serve you. <sup>9</sup>If I needed something when I was with you, I did not trouble any of you. The brothers who came from Macedonia gave me all that I needed. I did not allow myself to depend on you in any way, and I will never depend on you. <sup>10</sup>No one in Southern Greece will stop me from bragging about that. I say this with the truth of Christ in me. <sup>11</sup>And why do I not depend on you? Do you think it is because I do not love you? God knows that I love you.

<sup>12</sup>And I will continue doing what I am doing now, because I want to stop those people from having a reason to brag. They would like to say that the work they brag about is the same as ours. <sup>13</sup>Such men are not true apostles but are workers who lie. They change themselves to look like apostles of Christ. <sup>14</sup>This does not surprise us. Even Satan changes himself to look like a an angel of light. <sup>15</sup>So it does not surprise us if Satan's servants also make themselves look like servants who work for what is right. But in the end they will be punished for what they do.

Life Lessons

2 Corinthians 11:16–12:21

Situation

Paul promised to come to the Corinthians with the love of a father, but he feared that he might have to deal with troublemakers harshly.

Observation

God does not spare us trials, but he helps us overcome them. God works in our weakness, because when we are weak his strength accomplishes the task.

Inspiration

They aren't exactly what you'd call a list of "Who's Who in Purity and Sainthood." In fact, some of their antics and attitudes would make you think of the Saturday night crowd at the county jail. What few halos there are among this befuddled bunch could probably use a bit of straightening and polish. Yet, strange as it may seem, it is this very humanness that makes these people refreshing. They are so refreshing that should you ever need a reminder of God's tolerance, you'd find it in these people. If you ever wonder how in the world God could use you to change the world, look at these people....

What people? The people God used to change history. A ragbag of ne'er-do-wells and has-beens who found hope, not in their performance, but in God's proverbially open arms.

What can you say about a fellow whose lust got so lusty that he got a woman pregnant, tried to blame it on her husband, had her husband killed, and then went on living like nothing ever happened? Well, you could say he was a man after God's own heart. David's track record left little to be desired, but his repentant spirit was unquestionable.

Then comes Jonah. God's ambassador to Nineveh. Jonah, however, had other ideas. He had no desire to go to that heathen city. So he hopped on another boat while God wasn't looking (or at least that's what Jonah thought). God put him in a whale's belly to bring him back to his senses. But even the whale couldn't stomach this missionary for too long. A good burp and Jonah went flying over the surf and landed big-eyed and repentant on the beach. (Which just goes to show that you can't keep a good man down.)

And on and on the stories go: Elijah, the prophet who pouted; Solomon, the king who knew too much; Jacob, the wheeler-dealer; Gomer, the prostitute; Sarah, the woman who giggled at God. One story after another of God using man's best and overcoming man's worst.

Even the genealogy of Jesus is salted with a dubious character or two—Tamar the adulteress, Rahab the harlot, and Bathsheba ...

The reassuring lesson is clear. God used (and uses!) people to change the world. People! Not saints or superhumans or geniuses, but people. Crooks, creeps, lovers, and liars—he uses them all. And what they may lack in perfection, God makes up for in love. (From No Wonder They Call Him the Savior by Max Lucado)

Paul Tells About His Sufferings

<sup>16</sup>I tell you again: No one should think I am a fool. But if you think so, accept me as you would accept a fool. Then I can brag a little, too. <sup>17</sup>When I brag because I feel sure of myself, I am not talking as the Lord would talk but as a fool. <sup>18</sup>Many people are bragging about their lives in the world. So I will brag too. <sup>19</sup>You are wise, so you will gladly be patient with fools! <sup>20</sup>You are even patient with those who order you around, or use you, or trick you, or think they are better than you, or hit you in the face. <sup>21</sup>It is shameful to me to say this, but we were too “weak” to do those things to you!

But if anyone else is brave enough to brag, then I also will be brave and brag. (I am talking as a fool.) <sup>22</sup>Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they from Abraham’s family? So am I. <sup>23</sup>Are they serving Christ? I am serving him more. (I am crazy to talk like this.) I have worked much harder than they. I have been in prison more often. I have been hurt more in beatings. I have been near death many times. <sup>24</sup>Five times the Jews have given me their punishment of thirty-nine lashes with a whip. <sup>25</sup>Three different times I was beaten with rods. One time I was almost stoned to death. Three times I was in ships that wrecked, and one of those times I spent a night and a day in the sea. <sup>26</sup>I have gone on many travels and have been in danger from rivers, thieves, my own people, the Jews, and those who are not Jews. I have been in danger in cities, in places where no one lives, and on the sea. And I have been in danger with false Christians.<sup>27</sup>I have done hard and tiring work, and many times I did not sleep. I have been hungry and thirsty, and many times I have been without food. I have been cold and without clothes.<sup>28</sup>Besides all this, there is on me every day the load of my concern for all the churches.<sup>29</sup>I feel weak every time someone is weak, and I feel upset every time someone is led into sin.

<sup>30</sup>If I must brag, I will brag about the things that show I am weak. <sup>31</sup>God knows I am not lying. He is the God and Father of the Lord Jesus Christ, and he is to be praised forever. <sup>32</sup>When I was in Damascus, the governor under King Aretas wanted to arrest me, so he put guards around the city. <sup>33</sup>But my friends lowered me in a basket through a hole in the city wall. So I escaped from the governor.

A Special Blessing in Paul's Life

I must continue to brag. It will do no good, but I will talk now about visions and revelations from the Lord. <sup>2</sup>I know a man in Christ who was taken up to the third heaven fourteen years ago. I do not know whether the man was in his body or out of his body, but God knows. <sup>3-4</sup>And I know that this man was taken up to paradise. I don't know if he was in his body or away from his body, but God knows. He heard things he is not able to explain, things that no human is allowed to tell. <sup>5</sup>I will brag about a man like that, but I will not brag about myself, except about my weaknesses. <sup>6</sup>But if I wanted to brag about myself, I would not be a fool, because I would be telling the truth. But I will not brag about myself. I do not want people to think more of me than what they see me do or hear me say.

<sup>7</sup>So that I would not become too proud of the wonderful things that were shown to me, a painful physical problem was given to me. This problem was a messenger from Satan, sent to beat me and keep me from being too proud. <sup>8</sup>I begged the Lord three times to take this problem away from me. <sup>9</sup>But he said to me, "My grace is enough for you. When you are weak, my power is made perfect in you." So I am very happy to brag about my weaknesses. Then Christ's power can live in me. <sup>10</sup>For this reason I am happy when I have weaknesses, insults, hard times, sufferings, and all kinds of troubles for Christ. Because when I am weak, then I am truly strong.

Paul's Love for the Christians

<sup>11</sup>I have been talking like a fool, but you made me do it. You are the ones who should say good things about me. I am worth nothing, but those “great apostles” are not worth any more than I am!

<sup>12</sup>When I was with you, I patiently did the things that prove I am an apostle—signs, wonders, and miracles. <sup>13</sup>So you received everything that the other churches have received. Only one thing was different: I was not a burden to you. Forgive me for this!

<sup>14</sup>I am now ready to visit you the third time, and I will not be a burden to you. I want nothing from you, except you. Children should not have to save up to give to their parents. Parents should save to give to their children. <sup>15</sup>So I am happy to give everything I have for you, even myself. If I love you more, will you love me less?

<sup>16</sup>It is clear I was not a burden to you, but you think I was tricky and lied to catch you. <sup>17</sup>Did I cheat you by using any of the messengers I sent to you? No, you know I did not. <sup>18</sup>I asked Titus to go to you, and I sent our brother with him. Titus did not cheat you, did he? No, you know that Titus and I did the same thing and with the same spirit.

<sup>19</sup>Do you think we have been defending ourselves to you all this time? We have been speaking in Christ and before God. You are our dear friends, and everything we do is to make you stronger. <sup>20</sup>I am afraid that when I come, you will not be what I want you to be, and I will not be what you want me to be. I am afraid that among you there may be arguing, jealousy, anger, selfish fighting, evil talk, gossip, pride, and confusion. <sup>21</sup>I am afraid that when I come to you again, my God will make me ashamed before you. I may be saddened by many of those who have sinned because they have not changed their hearts or turned from their sexual sins and the shameful things they have done.

Life Lessons

2 Corinthians 13:1-14

Situation

In closing, Paul asked the Corinthians to examine themselves to see if they were growing in Christian understanding. Since gross sin or sin that affects the whole congregation cannot be tolerated in the church, members who refuse to give up their sinful ways should leave.

Observation

We should examine our lives regularly to see if there are sins we need to discard or practices we need to strengthen.

Inspiration

Temptation comes in various forms: obvious enticements to break the law, cheat, or forsake a commitment; subtle pressure to flirt with wrong, bend the rules, or delay doing right; nearly invisible urgings to gratify self, shift values, or take the easy way. Through the constant pull of our sinful nature and the consistent attacks of our enemy, Satan, we find ourselves tempted all day, daily. Facing such powerful and continual influences, we may consider giving up and giving in.

But God is more powerful ... and he is “faithful,” promising to keep temptation from overwhelming us and to provide an alternative course of action, a way of escape, a “way out.”

So when you are tempted, thank God for trusting you that much—he knows you can bear it. Then ask him what you should do next—look for his way out and take it. (From On Eagle's Wings by Dave Veerman)

Application

It is easy to yield to temptations if you're not careful. Are you indulging in minor temptations to perk up your lifestyle? Review your relationship with Christ and identify any vices. Get rid of them! Be excited about how much Jesus offers you.

Exploration

Lifestyle—Judges 1:1; 17:6; Proverbs 4:23; Daniel 1:8–19; Matthew 11:16–19; 1 Corinthians 9:24–27.

Final Warnings and Greetings

I will come to you for the third time. “Every case must be proved by two or three witnesses.”<sup>2</sup>When I was with you the second time, I gave a warning to those who had sinned. Now I am away from you, and I give a warning to all the others. When I come to you again, I will not be easy with them.<sup>3</sup>You want proof that Christ is speaking through me. My proof is that he is not weak among you, but he is powerful.<sup>4</sup>It is true that he was weak when he was killed on the cross, but he lives now by God’s power. It is true that we are weak in Christ, but for you we will be alive in Christ by God’s power.

<sup>5</sup>Look closely at yourselves. Test yourselves to see if you are living in the faith. You know that Jesus Christ is in you—unless you fail the test.<sup>6</sup>But I hope you will see that we ourselves have not failed the test.<sup>7</sup>We pray to God that you will not do anything wrong. It is not important to see that we have passed the test, but it is important that you do what is right, even if it seems we have failed.<sup>8</sup>We cannot do anything against the truth, but only for the truth.<sup>9</sup>We are happy to be weak, if you are strong, and we pray that you will become complete.<sup>10</sup>I am writing this while I am away from you so that when I come I will not have to be harsh in my use of authority. The Lord gave me this authority to build you up, not to tear you down.

complete. Do what I have asked you to do. Agree with each other, and live in peace. Then the God of love and peace will be with you.

<sup>12</sup>Greet each other with a holy kiss. <sup>13</sup>All of God's holy people send greetings to you.

<sup>14</sup>The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with you all.

Brothers and sisters Although the Greek text says “Brothers” here and throughout this book, Paul’s words were meant for the entire church, including men and women.

stone tablets Meaning the Law of Moses that was written on stone tablets (Exodus 24:12; 25:16).

“If... Lord.” Quotation from Jeremiah 9:24.

angel of light Messenger from God. The devil fools people so that they think he is from God.

Hebrews A name for the Jews that some Jews were very proud of.

revelations Revelation is making known a truth that was hidden.

paradise Another word for heaven.

painful physical problem Literally, “thorn in the flesh.”

“Every ... witnesses.” Quotation from Deuteronomy 19:15.

The Book of Galatians

Introduction

The Emancipation Proclamation was ready to be signed. The papers were complete. All that was lacking was the signature of the president. But Abraham Lincoln was not ready. He had spent the morning at a reception and his hand was swollen from greeting visitors.

“Let me wait until my hand is better,” he reportedly requested. “I don’t want my signature to be shaky. I want people to know I set the slaves free in confidence.”

Galatians states that Christ did the same for us. “He set the slaves free in confidence.” No hesitation. No reservation. No reluctance. No exceptions.

The Book of Galatians is the Emancipation Proclamation for the church. Written by the confident hand of one who had known slavery, it declares and defines Christian liberty. Paul wrote it to combat those in the church who were insisting that it was necessary to follow a law or code in order to be saved.

Many of the early Christians were Jewish Christians who were accustomed to following a law. Though they had accepted the gift of grace offered by Christ on the cross, some were falling away—substituting God’s gift for man’s works. Paul recognized this for what it was—legalism.

Legalism is not unique to the Galatians. Any time the gospel has been preached, there have been those who contend it is too good to be true. It’s not enough to be saved by faith, argues the legalist, we must earn God’s approval. Some teach that we earn God’s favor by what we know (intellectualism). Others insist we are saved by what we do (moralism). Still others claim that salvation is determined by what we feel (emotionalism).

However you package it, Paul contests, legalism is heresy. Any gospel other than the pure gospel is anathema. Salvation comes only through the cross—no additions, no alterations.

We are free in Christ. “We have freedom now, because Christ made us free. So stand strong. Do not change and go back into the slavery of the law” (5:1). Galatians is a document of freedom. As you read, note the confidence of the writer. His hand doesn’t shake, his conviction doesn’t waver, his belief doesn’t falter.

And so neither should ours.

Life Lessons

Galatians 1:1–24

Situation

Paul and Barnabas established churches in several cities in the Roman province of Galatia (in the south-central part of modern Turkey). These churches began to grow but needed to be reminded of certain lessons.

Observation

Paul formed his thinking not by consulting with others but by spending time alone with the Lord. Paul spent three years in Arabia in personal study and meditation.

Inspiration

Some of the most profound ministries of the Spirit of God are not public or loud or large. Sometimes His most meaningful touch on our lives comes when we are all alone.

I urge you to include in your schedule time to be alone with God... You do have places where you can get away for a long walk, don't you? I hope it's in a wooded area. The gentle breeze blowing through the forest is therapeutic. Sometimes just being alone out in God's marvelous creation is all that's needed for the scales to be removed from your eyes and for you to silence the harassment and the noise of your day and begin to hear from God. (From Wisdom for the Way by Charles Swindoll)

Application

If you have not done so, set apart a time and place to enjoy time alone with the Lord. Make that time special. Start a journal. Let God know what you're doing and feeling. Let Jesus be your example.

Exploration

Jesus' Solitude—Matthew 12:15; Mark 1:35; Luke 4:42; 5:16; 6:12.

From Paul, an apostle. I was not chosen to be an apostle by human beings, nor was I sent from human beings. I was made an apostle through Jesus Christ and God the Father who raised Jesus from the dead. <sup>2</sup>This letter is also from all those of God's family who are with me.

To the churches in Galatia:

<sup>3</sup>Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>4</sup>Jesus gave himself for our sins to free us from this evil world we live in, as God the Father planned. <sup>5</sup>The glory belongs to God forever and ever. Amen.

The Only Good News

<sup>6</sup>God, by his grace through Christ, called you to become his people. So I am amazed that you are turning away so quickly and believing something different than the Good News. <sup>7</sup>Really, there is no other Good News. But some people are confusing you; they want to change the Good News of Christ. <sup>8</sup>We preached to you the Good News. So if we ourselves, or even an angel from heaven, should preach to you something different, we should be judged guilty! <sup>9</sup>I said this before, and now I say it again: You have already accepted the Good News. If anyone is preaching something different to you, he should be judged guilty!

<sup>10</sup>Do you think I am trying to make people accept me? No, God is the One I am trying to please. Am I trying to please people? If I still wanted to please people, I would not be a servant of Christ.

Paul's Authority Is from God

<sup>11</sup>Brothers and sisters, I want you to know that the Good News I preached to you was not made up by human beings. <sup>12</sup>I did not get it from humans, nor did anyone teach it to me, but Jesus Christ showed it to me.

<sup>13</sup>You have heard about my past life in the Jewish religion. I attacked the church of God and tried to destroy it. <sup>14</sup>I was becoming a leader in the Jewish religion, doing better than most other Jews of my age. I tried harder than anyone else to follow the teachings handed down by our ancestors.

<sup>15</sup>But God had special plans for me and set me apart for his work even before I was born. He called me through his grace <sup>16</sup>and showed his son to me so that I might tell the Good News about him to those who are not Jewish. When God called me, I did not get advice or help from any person. <sup>17</sup>I did not go to Jerusalem to see those who were apostles before I was. But, without waiting, I went away to Arabia and later went back to Damascus.

<sup>18</sup>After three years I went to Jerusalem to meet Peter and stayed with him for fifteen days. <sup>19</sup>I met no other apostles, except James, the brother of the Lord. <sup>20</sup>God knows that these things I write are not lies. <sup>21</sup>Later, I went to the areas of Syria and Cilicia.

<sup>22</sup>In Judea the churches in Christ had never met me. <sup>23</sup>They had only heard it said, "This man who was attacking us is now preaching the same faith that he once tried to destroy." <sup>24</sup>And these believers praised God because of me.

Life Lessons

Galatians 2:1-21

Situation

When Paul visited Jerusalem he explained that God saves Gentiles, too. Later, when Peter showed favoritism to Jews, Paul corrected him.

Observation

Keeping thousands of laws does not save us. Because of this, God sent Jesus. Jesus paid the price that our actions never could.

Inspiration

There is a great deal of difference between law and grace... . There is no peace until we see the finished work of Jesus Christ—until we can look back and see the cross of Christ between us and our sins...

Then there is glory for the time to come. A great many people seem to forget that the best is before us... . The kingdom we are going to inherit is glorious: our crown is to be a “crown of glory”; the city we are going to inhabit is the city of the glorified; the songs we are to sing are the songs of the glorified; we are to wear garments of “glory and beauty.” ...

Many are always looking on the backward path and mourning over the troubles through which they have passed. They keep lugging up the cares and anxieties they have been called on to bear and are forever looking at them. Why should we go reeling and staggering under the burdens and cares of life when we have such prospects before us?

If there is nothing but glory beyond, our faces ought to shine brightly all the time.

(From “Peace, Grace, and Glory” by D. L. Moody in They Walked with God)

Application

Do you wonder if God approves of you? If Jesus reigns in your life, then God looks on you with favor. Rejoice! But, if you are trying to call the shots in your life, then you have disregarded his claim on your life. Surrender the remaining areas in your life to God.

Exploration

Grace—Psalm 130:3; Romans 3:19–24; Ephesians 1:3–14.

Other Apostles Accepted Paul

After fourteen years I went to Jerusalem again, this time with Barnabas. I also took Titus with me.<sup>2</sup>I went because God showed me I should go. I met with the believers there, and in private I told their leaders the Good News that I preach to the non-Jewish people. I did not want my past work and the work I am now doing to be wasted.<sup>3</sup>Titus was with me, but he was not forced to be circumcised, even though he was a Greek.<sup>4</sup>We talked about this problem because some false believers had come into our group secretly. They came in like spies to overturn the freedom we have in Christ Jesus. They wanted to make us slaves.<sup>5</sup>But we did not give in to those false believers for a minute. We wanted the truth of the Good News to continue for you.

<sup>6</sup>Those leaders who seemed to be important did not change the Good News that I preach. (It doesn't matter to me if they were "important" or not. To God everyone is the same.)<sup>7</sup>But these leaders saw that I had been given the work of telling the Good News to those who are not Jewish, just as Peter had the work of telling the Jews.<sup>8</sup>God gave Peter the power to work as an apostle for the Jewish people. But he also gave me the power to work as an apostle for those who are not Jews.<sup>9</sup>James, Peter, and John, who seemed to be the leaders, understood that God had given me this special grace, so they accepted Barnabas and me. They agreed that they would go to the Jewish people and that we should go to those who are not Jewish.<sup>10</sup>The only thing they asked us was to remember to help the poor—something I really wanted to do.

Paul Shows that Peter Was Wrong

<sup>11</sup>When Peter came to Antioch, I challenged him to his face, because he was wrong. <sup>12</sup>Peter ate with the non-Jewish people until some Jewish people sent from James came to Antioch. When they arrived, Peter stopped eating with those who weren't Jewish, and he separated himself from them. He was afraid of the Jews. <sup>13</sup>So Peter was a hypocrite, as were the other Jewish believers who joined with him. Even Barnabas was influenced by what these Jewish believers did. <sup>14</sup>When I saw they were not following the truth of the Good News, I spoke to Peter in front of them all. I said, "Peter, you are a Jew, but you are not living like a Jew. You are living like those who are not Jewish. So why do you now try to force those who are not Jewish to live like Jews?"

<sup>15</sup>We were not born as non-Jewish "sinners," but as Jews. <sup>16</sup>Yet we know that a person is made right with God not by following the law, but by trusting in Jesus Christ. So we, too, have put our faith in Christ Jesus, that we might be made right with God because we trusted in Christ. It is not because we followed the law, because no one can be made right with God by following the law.

<sup>17</sup>We Jews came to Christ, trying to be made right with God, and it became clear that we are sinners, too. Does this mean that Christ encourages sin? No! <sup>18</sup>But I would really be wrong to begin teaching again those things that I gave up. <sup>19</sup>It was the law that put me to death, and I died to the law so that I can now live for God. <sup>20</sup>I was put to death on the cross with Christ, and I do not live anymore—it is Christ who lives in me. I still live in my body, but I live by faith in the Son of God who loved me and gave himself to save me. <sup>21</sup>By saying these things I am not going against God's grace. Just the opposite, if the law could make us right with God, then Christ's death would be useless.

Life Lessons

Galatians 3:1-4:7

Situation

Some Galatian Believers were in Jerusalem on Pentecost (Acts 2). They already knew that God freely gave the Holy Spirit.

Observation

Paul used Abraham's example (Genesis 15) to prove that Old Testament Believers were also saved by faith.

Inspiration

I have often been asked by young Christians: "Why is it that I fail so? I did so solemnly vow with my whole heart, and did desire to serve God; why have I failed?" To such I always give the one answer: "My dear friend, you are trying to do in your own strength what Christ alone can do in you." And when they tell me: "I am sure I knew Christ alone could do it, I was not trusting in myself," my answer always is: "You were trusting in yourself or you could not have failed. If you had trusted Christ, He could not have failed." Oh, this perfecting in the flesh what was begun in the Spirit runs far deeper through us than we knew. Let us ask God to reveal to us that it is only when we are brought to utter shame and emptiness that we shall be prepared to receive the blessing that comes from on high... . I ask it of every member of Christ's church and of every believer: Are you living a life under the power of the Holy Spirit day by day, or are you attempting to live without that? Remember you cannot. Are you consecrated, given up to the Spirit to work and live in you? Oh, come and confess every failure of temper, every failure of the tongue however small, every failure owing to the absence of the Holy Spirit and the presence of the power of self.

(From “Having Begun in the Spirit” by Andrew Murray in They Walked with God)

Application

Paul warned: Don't be tricked. Don't let anyone think that you must win God's approval. Rejoice that if you are God's child his love toward you is endless.

Exploration

Law's Inferiority—Romans 3:19–20; 4:13–25; 8:3; Galatians 5:4–6; Hebrews 3:1–6; 8:7–13.

Blessing Comes Through Faith

You people in Galatia were told very clearly about the death of Jesus Christ on the cross. But you were foolish; you let someone trick you.<sup>2</sup>Tell me this one thing: How did you receive the Holy Spirit? Did you receive the Spirit by following the law? No, you received the Spirit because you heard the Good News and believed it.<sup>3</sup>You began your life in Christ by the Spirit. Now are you trying to make it complete by your own power? That is foolish.<sup>4</sup>Were all your experiences wasted? I hope not!<sup>5</sup>Does God give you the Spirit and work miracles among you because you follow the law? No, he does these things because you heard the Good News and believed it.

<sup>6</sup>The Scriptures say the same thing about Abraham: “Abraham believed God, and God accepted Abraham’s faith, and that faith made him right with God.”<sup>7</sup>So you should know that the true children of Abraham are those who have faith.<sup>8</sup>The Scriptures, telling what would happen in the future, said that God would make the non-Jewish people right through their faith. This Good News was told to Abraham beforehand, as the Scripture says: “All nations will be blessed through you.”<sup>9</sup>So all who believe as Abraham believed are blessed just as Abraham was.<sup>10</sup>But those who depend on following the law to make them right are under a curse, because the Scriptures say, “Anyone will be cursed who does not always obey what is written in the Book of the Law.”<sup>11</sup>Now it is clear that no one can be made right with God by the law, because the Scriptures say, “Those who are right with God will live by trusting in him.”<sup>12</sup> The law is not based on faith. It says, “A person who obeys these things will live because of them.”<sup>13</sup> Christ took away the curse the law put on us. He changed places with us and put himself under that curse. It is written in the Scriptures, “Anyone whose body is displayed on a tree is cursed.”<sup>14</sup> Christ did this so that God’s blessing promised to Abraham might come through Jesus Christ to those who are not Jews. Jesus died so that by our believing we could receive the Spirit that God promised.

The Law and the Promise

<sup>15</sup>Brothers and sisters, let us think in human terms: Even an agreement made between two persons is firm. After that agreement is accepted by both people, no one can stop it or add anything to it. <sup>16</sup>God made promises both to Abraham and to his descendant. God did not say, “and to your descendants.” That would mean many people. But God said, “and to your descendant.” That means only one person; that person is Christ. <sup>17</sup>This is what I mean: God had an agreement with Abraham and promised to keep it. The law, which came four hundred thirty years later, cannot change that agreement and so destroy God’s promise to Abraham. <sup>18</sup>If the law could give us Abraham’s blessing, then the promise would not be necessary. But that is not possible, because God freely gave his blessings to Abraham through the promise he had made.

<sup>19</sup>So what was the law for? It was given to show that the wrong things people do are against God’s will. And it continued until the special descendant, who had been promised, came. The law was given through angels who used Moses for a mediator to give the law to people.<sup>20</sup> But a mediator is not needed when there is only one side, and God is only one.

The Purpose of the Law of Moses

<sup>21</sup>Does this mean that the law is against God's promises? Never! That would be true only if the law could make us right. But God did not give a law that can bring life.<sup>22</sup> Instead, the Scriptures showed that the whole world is bound by sin. This was so the promise would be given through faith to people who believe in Jesus Christ.

<sup>23</sup>Before this faith came, we were all held prisoners by the law. We had no freedom until God showed us the way of faith that was coming.<sup>24</sup> In other words, the law was our guardian leading us to Christ so that we could be made right with God through faith.<sup>25</sup> Now the way of faith has come, and we no longer live under a guardian.

<sup>26-27</sup>You were all baptized into Christ, and so you were all clothed with Christ. This means that you are all children of God through faith in Christ Jesus.<sup>28</sup> In Christ, there is no difference between Jew and Greek, slave and free person, male and female. You are all the same in Christ Jesus.<sup>29</sup> You belong to Christ, so you are Abraham's descendants. You will inherit all of God's blessings because of the promise God made to Abraham.

I want to tell you this: While those who will inherit their fathers' property are still children, they are no different from slaves. It does not matter that the children own everything.<sup>2</sup> While they are children, they must obey those who are chosen to care for them. But when the children reach the age set by their fathers, they are free.<sup>3</sup> It is the same for us. We were once like children, slaves to the useless rules of this world.<sup>4</sup> But when the right time came, God sent his Son who was born of a woman and lived under the law.<sup>5</sup> God did this so he could buy freedom for those who were under the law and so we could become his children.

<sup>6</sup>Since you are God's children, God sent the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, and the Spirit cries out, "Father."<sup>7</sup> So now you are not a slave; you are God's child, and God will give you the blessing he promised, because you are his child.

Galatians 4:8–31

Situation

Judaizers taught that Gentile Believers had to obey Jewish laws in order to be saved. Paul wrote to correct this false teaching.

Observation

As a result of God's promise, Christians are children of God. As adopted children, Believers can enjoy all the benefits of being in God's family.

Inspiration

As a minister I have had the privilege of witnessing—up close—the emotion of adoption. On one occasion a lady in another state who had heard me speak called and asked if I knew any prospective adoptive parents. Her pregnant daughter was seeking a home for her unborn child. I put her in touch with a family from our congregation and took a front row seat as the drama unfolded.

I saw the joy at the possibility and the heartbreak at the roadblocks. I watched the resolve in the eyes of the father and the determination in the eyes of the mother. They would travel as far as it took and spend every penny they had. They wanted to adopt that child. And they did. Only moments after his birth, the infant was placed in their arms. And this is no exaggeration: They smiled for a month after they brought their son home. I'd see them in the church hallway; they'd be smiling. I'd see them in the parking lot, smiling. From the pulpit I could see them in the congregation, cradling the baby and smiling. I think if I'd preached a sermon on the agony of hell, they would have smiled through every sentence. Why? Because the child they had longed for had come into their home.

Let me ask you, why did this couple adopt that child? They had a happy marriage. They were financially secure and gainfully employed. What did they hope to gain? Did they adopt the baby so they might have a little extra cash or sleep? You know better. Their supply of both diminished the minute they brought the child home. Then why? Why do people adopt children? As you are thinking, let me tell you why God does....

God adopted you simply because he wanted to. You were in his good will and pleasure. Knowing full well the trouble you would be and the price he would pay, he signed his name next to yours and changed your name to his and took you home. Your Abba adopted you and became your Father. (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you see yourself from God's perspective? Ask God to reveal to you all the benefits of adoption. If you know young or struggling believers, go out of your way to help them see their benefits in Christ.

Paul's Love for the Christians

<sup>8</sup>In the past you did not know God. You were slaves to gods that were not real. <sup>9</sup>But now you know the true God. Really, it is God who knows you. So why do you turn back to those weak and useless rules you followed before? Do you want to be slaves to those things again? <sup>10</sup>You still follow teachings about special days, months, seasons, and years. <sup>11</sup>I am afraid for you, that my work for you has been wasted.

<sup>12</sup>Brothers and sisters, I became like you, so I beg you to become like me. You were very good to me before. <sup>13</sup>You remember that it was because of an illness that I came to you the first time, preaching the Good News. <sup>14</sup>Though my sickness was a trouble for you, you did not hate me or make me leave. But you welcomed me as an angel from God, as if I were Jesus Christ himself! <sup>15</sup>You were very happy then, but where is that joy now? I am ready to testify that you would have taken out your eyes and given them to me if that were possible. <sup>16</sup>Now am I your enemy because I tell you the truth?

<sup>17</sup>Those people are working hard to persuade you, but this is not good for you. They want to persuade you to turn against us and follow only them. <sup>18</sup>It is good for people to show interest in you, but only if their purpose is good. This is always true, not just when I am with you. <sup>19</sup>My little children, again I feel the pain of childbirth for you until you truly become like Christ. <sup>20</sup>I wish I could be with you now and could change the way I am talking to you, because I do not know what to think about you.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus Came at the Right Time

Imagine the change [Jesus] had to make, the distance he had to travel. What would it be like to become flesh?

This question surfaced as I was golfing recently. Waiting my turn to putt, I squatted down to clean my ball and noticed a mountain of ants beside it. Must have been dozens of them, all over each other. A pyramid of motion at least half an inch tall.

I don't know what you think when you see ants on a green as you are waiting to putt. But here is what I thought: Why are you guys all bunched up? You have the whole green. Why, the entire golf course is yours to spread out in. Then it occurred to me. These ants are nervous. Who could blame them? They live under a constant meteor shower. Every few minutes a dimpled orb comes crashing into their world. Bam! Bam! Bam! Just when the bombing stops, the mallet-swinging giants arrive. If you survive their feet and sticks, they roll a meteor at you. A golf green is no place for an ant.

So I tried to help them. Leaning down where they could hear me, I invited, "Come on, follow me. We'll find a nice spot in the rough. I know it well." Not one looked in my direction. "Hey, ants!" Still no reply. Then I realized, I don't speak their language. I don't speak Ant. Pretty fluent in the idiom of Uncle, but I don't speak Ant.

So what could I do to reach them? Only one thing. I needed to become an ant. Go from six feet two inches to teeny-weeny. From 200-plus pounds to tenths of an ounce. Swap my big world for their tiny one. Give up burgers and start eating grass. "No thanks," I said.

Love goes the distance ... and Christ traveled from limitless eternity to be confined by time in order to become one of us... . (From A Love Worth Giving by Max Lucado)

The Example of Hagar and Sarah

<sup>21</sup>Some of you still want to be under the law. Tell me, do you know what the law says? <sup>22</sup>The Scriptures say that Abraham had two sons. The mother of one son was a slave woman, and the mother of the other son was a free woman. <sup>23</sup>Abraham's son from the slave woman was born in the normal human way. But the son from the free woman was born because of the promise God made to Abraham.

<sup>24</sup>This story teaches something else: The two women are like the two agreements between God and his people. One agreement is the law that God made on Mount Sinai, and the people who are under this agreement are like slaves. The mother named Hagar is like that agreement. <sup>25</sup>She is like Mount Sinai in Arabia and is a picture of the earthly Jewish city of Jerusalem. This city and its people, the Jews, are slaves to the law. <sup>26</sup>But the heavenly Jerusalem, which is above, is like the free woman. She is our mother. <sup>27</sup>It is written in the Scriptures:

“Be happy, Jerusalem.
You are like a woman who never gave birth to children.
Start singing and shout for joy.
You never felt the pain of giving birth, but you will have more children than the woman who has a husband.”

Isaiah 54:1

<sup>28</sup>My brothers and sisters, you are God's children because of his promise, as Isaac was then. <sup>29</sup>The son who was born in the normal way treated the other son badly. It is the same today. <sup>30</sup>But what does the Scripture say? “Throw out the slave woman and her son. The son of the slave woman should not inherit anything. The son of the free woman should receive it all.” <sup>31</sup>So, my brothers and sisters, we are not children of the slave woman, but of the free woman.

Life Lessons

Galatians 5:1–26

Situation

Christians in Galatia faced a problem. Should they embrace the Jewish Law? Paul emphasized the importance of faith and warned about the danger of emphasizing law above faith.

Observation

Paul taught that if you begin to keep the Law, you are obligated to keep all of it. Instead, Christians ought to trust Jesus who makes them righteous.

Inspiration

The way we live, the things we say, the attitudes we entertain, the lifestyle we adopt, the enterprises in which we engage are all continuously producing either positive or negative results in society. Far too many people assume they can adopt a neutral stance. They feel they can be noncommittal. They try to remain detached, uninvolved with the trauma, turmoil and tension of their times.

Again and again Jesus pointed out that this was impossible. “Either you are for me, or against me,” He said. “You cannot serve two masters at once. Either you hate one and love the other or vice-versa...”

We live in an atmosphere of antagonism, an environment of enmity. Yet amid such adversity Christ calls us to produce peace.

This peace is love quietly, strongly, persistently meeting every onslaught against it with good will. It is that inner attitude of tranquility and tolerance in the face of angry attacks. It is the willingness to accept the assaults of others even at the price of personal humiliation. It implies that even though my enemies and detractors may be at war with me, I can be at peace with them. (From Salt for Society by Phillip Keller)

Application

How do you exhibit your faith? Do you hurry out the door after church on Sundays? Or, do you take the time to greet and listen to the concerns of others? Next Sunday, stay and listen. Remember that listening begins to help those in need.

Exploration

Faith—Romans 8; 1 Corinthians 13:2; James 2:14.

Keep Your Freedom

We have freedom now, because Christ made us free. So stand strong. Do not change and go back into the slavery of the law. <sup>2</sup>Listen, I Paul tell you that if you go back to the law by being circumcised, Christ does you no good. <sup>3</sup>Again, I warn every man: If you allow yourselves to be circumcised, you must follow all the law. <sup>4</sup>If you try to be made right with God through the law, your life with Christ is over—you have left God's grace. <sup>5</sup>But we have the true hope that comes from being made right with God, and by the Spirit we wait eagerly for this hope. <sup>6</sup>When we are in Christ Jesus, it is not important if we are circumcised or not. The important thing is faith—the kind of faith that works through love.

<sup>7</sup>You were running a good race. Who stopped you from following the true way? <sup>8</sup>This change did not come from the One who chose you. <sup>9</sup>Be careful! “Just a little yeast makes the whole batch of dough rise.” <sup>10</sup>But I trust in the Lord that you will not believe those different ideas. Whoever is confusing you with such ideas will be punished.

<sup>11</sup>My brothers and sisters, I do not teach that a man must be circumcised. If I teach circumcision, why am I still being attacked? If I still taught circumcision, my preaching about the cross would not be a problem. <sup>12</sup>I wish the people who are bothering you would castrate themselves!

<sup>13</sup>My brothers and sisters, God called you to be free, but do not use your freedom as an excuse to do what pleases your sinful self. Serve each other with love. <sup>14</sup>The whole law is made complete in this one command: “Love your neighbor as you love yourself.” <sup>15</sup>If you go on hurting each other and tearing each other apart, be careful, or you will completely destroy each other.

The Spirit and Human Nature

<sup>16</sup>So I tell you: Live by following the Spirit. Then you will not do what your sinful selves want. <sup>17</sup>Our sinful selves want what is against the Spirit, and the Spirit wants what is against our sinful selves. The two are against each other, so you cannot do just what you please. <sup>18</sup>But if the Spirit is leading you, you are not under the law.

<sup>19</sup>The wrong things the sinful self does are clear: being sexually unfaithful, not being pure, taking part in sexual sins, <sup>20</sup>worshipping gods, doing witchcraft, hating, making trouble, being jealous, being angry, being selfish, making people angry with each other, causing divisions among people, <sup>21</sup>feeling envy, being drunk, having wild and wasteful parties, and doing other things like these. I warn you now as I warned you before: Those who do these things will not inherit God’s kingdom. <sup>22</sup>But the Spirit produces the fruit of love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, <sup>23</sup>gentleness, self-control. There is no law that says these things are wrong. <sup>24</sup>Those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified their own sinful selves. They have given up their old selfish feelings and the evil things they wanted to do. <sup>25</sup>We get our new life from the Spirit, so we should follow the Spirit. <sup>26</sup>We must not be proud or make trouble with each other or be jealous of each other.

Life Lessons

Galatians 6:1–18

Situation

Paul warned the Galatians not to compare themselves with others. Rather, they had to be concerned with their own responsibility before God.

Observation

God transformed you into a new person. Live like it!

Inspiration

The Bible reveals that God has a plan for every life, and that if we live in constant fellowship with Him, He will direct and lead us in the fulfillment of this plan.

Many of us have God's second or third best. However, if you have substituted the good for the best, do not despair. Wherever you are at this moment, yield your life unconditionally to God, and He can still make it a thing of beauty and an honor to His name.

You cannot know the will of God for your life unless you first come to the cross and confess that you are a sinner and receive Christ as Lord and Savior. If you want the perfect plan that God has for your life, you will have to go by way of Calvary to get it. It is only through Christ that we can be on speaking terms with God and know God's plan for our lives. (From Unto the Hills by Billy Graham)

Application

Both legalism and sin end in frustration. But your freedom from sin and your desire to please God frees you to do your best before him. You can help others. You can do good.

Exploration

Paul's Suffering—Acts 14:19; 16:22; 2 Corinthians 11:23–29; 12:7; Galatians 4:13–14.

Help Each Other

Brothers and sisters, if someone in your group does something wrong, you who are spiritual should go to that person and gently help make him right again. But be careful, because you might be tempted to sin, too.<sup>2</sup>By helping each other with your troubles, you truly obey the law of Christ.<sup>3</sup>If anyone thinks he is important when he really is not, he is only fooling himself.<sup>4</sup>Each person should judge his own actions and not compare himself with others. Then he can be proud for what he himself has done.<sup>5</sup>Each person must be responsible for himself.

<sup>6</sup>Anyone who is learning the teaching of God should share all the good things he has with his teacher.

Life Is like Planting a Field

<sup>7</sup>Do not be fooled: You cannot cheat God. People harvest only what they plant.<sup>8</sup>If they plant to satisfy their sinful selves, their sinful selves will bring them ruin. But if they plant to please the Spirit, they will receive eternal life from the Spirit.<sup>9</sup>We must not become tired of doing good. We will receive our harvest of eternal life at the right time if we do not give up.<sup>10</sup>When we have the opportunity to help anyone, we should do it. But we should give special attention to those who are in the family of believers.

Paul Ends His Letter

<sup>11</sup>See what large letters I use to write this myself. <sup>12</sup>Some people are trying to force you to be circumcised so the Jews will accept them. They are afraid they will be attacked if they follow only the cross of Christ. <sup>13</sup>Those who are circumcised do not obey the law themselves, but they want you to be circumcised so they can brag about what they forced you to do. <sup>14</sup>I hope I will never brag about things like that. The cross of our Lord Jesus Christ is my only reason for bragging. Through the cross of Jesus my world was crucified, and I died to the world. <sup>15</sup>It is not important if a man is circumcised or uncircumcised. The important thing is being the new people God has made. <sup>16</sup>Peace and mercy to those who follow this rule—and to all of God's people.

<sup>17</sup>So do not give me any more trouble. I have scars on my body that show I belong to Christ Jesus.

<sup>18</sup>My brothers and sisters, the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

those ... family The Greek text says “brothers.”

Galatia Probably the same country where Paul preached and began churches on his first missionary trip. Read the Book of Acts, chapters 13 and 14.

Brothers and sisters Although the Greek text says “Brothers” here and throughout this book, Paul’s words were meant for the entire church, including men and women.

“Abraham ... God.” Quotation from Genesis 15:6.

“All ... you.” Quotation from Genesis 12:3 and 18:18.

“Anyone ... Law.” Quotation from Deuteronomy 27:26.

“Those ... him.” Quotation from Habakkuk 2:4.

“A person ... them.” Quotation from Leviticus 18:5.

displayed on a tree Deuteronomy 21:22–23 says that when a person was killed for doing wrong, the body was hung on a tree to show shame. Paul means that the cross of Jesus was like that.

mediator A person who helps one person talk to or give something to another person.

“Father” Literally, “Abba, Father.” Jewish children called their fathers “Abba.”

Those people They are the false teachers who were bothering the believers in Galatia (Galatians 1:7).

Mount Sinai Mountain in Arabia where God gave his Law to Moses (Exodus 19 and 20).

“Throw ... all.” Quotation from Genesis 21:10.

castrate To cut off part of the male sex organ. Paul uses this word because it is similar to “circumcision.” Paul wanted to show that he is very upset with the false teachers.

“Love ... yourself.” Quotation from Leviticus 19:18.

cross of Christ Paul uses the cross as a picture of the Good News, the story of Christ’s death and rising from the dead to pay for our sins. The cross, or Christ's death, was God's way to save us.

that show Many times Paul was beaten and whipped by people who were against him because he was teaching about Christ. The scars were from these beatings.

The Book of Ephesians

Introduction

I just witnessed a beautiful wedding. The most beautiful I've ever seen. That says a lot since I've seen a lot. Ministers see many weddings. It's a perk of the profession.

Is there anything more elegant than a wedding? Candles bathe a chapel in gold. Families fill the pews in love. Groomsmen and bridesmaids descend the aisles with bouquets of newness and rings of promise. What an occasion.

And nothing quite compares with that moment when the bride stands at the top of the aisle. Arm entwined with her father's, she takes those final steps with him and steps toward a new life with him.

Ahhh, the glory of a wedding. So to say I just saw the most beautiful one is no small thing. What made these nuptials so unforgettable? The groom. Usually the groom is not the star of the wedding. The fellow is typically upstaged by the girl. But this wedding was made special by the groom.

It was enhanced by something he did.

And who he was made what he did even more startling. You see, he's a cowboy: a stocky fellow who went to college on a rodeo scholarship. But what stood by me was not a macho calf roper, but a pinch-me-I'm-dreaming boy who'd never seen a bride so gorgeous.

He was composed as he walked down the aisle. He was fine as he took his place at the altar.

But when he saw the bride, he wept.

It was the moment he'd dreamed of. It was as if he'd been given life's greatest gift—a bride in all her beauty. By the way, those are the very words Paul uses to describe the church: a bride in all her beauty.

“He [Jesus] died so he could give the church to himself like a bride in all her beauty. He died so that the church could be pure and without fault, with no evil or sin or any other wrong thing in it” (5:27).

Ponder that verse. Jesus died for a bride. He died so he could be married. This passage anticipates the day when the groom will see his bride—when Christ will receive his church. Jesus’ fondest longing will be fulfilled. His bride will arrive.

The letter to the Ephesians celebrates the beauty of the church—the Bride of Christ. From our perspective, the church isn’t so pretty. We see the backbiting, the squabbling, the divisions. Heaven sees that, as well. But heaven sees more. Heaven sees the church as cleansed and made holy by Christ.

Heaven sees the church ascending to heaven. Heaven sees the Bride wearing the spotless gown of Jesus Christ.

It’s enough to make one weep.

Life Lessons

Ephesians 1:1-23

Situation

In a city with many sinful distractions, Paul wrote so that Christians would know what God thought of his people.

Observation

God cherishes us. The more we know him, the more we will understand his love toward us.

Inspiration

We all desire relationships in which we are accepted, valued, and wanted. We desperately long for this esteem from our peers, but seldom experience the “real thing.”

Countless stories are written about teenagers who accept life-threatening dares in the hopes of being accepted by their peers, or business people who compromise their integrity and ethics to join an elite, inner circle. We read of men and women who are driven to succeed because they believe the lie that says their value is determined by the quality and level of their performance. Or how about the teenager or lonely single who sacrifices his virginity for the chance to experience closeness and the feeling of being wanted.

For the Christian, none of this futile struggle is necessary because we have been chosen by God before time ever began. We belong, we matter, we have been accepted. No longer outcasts or second-class citizens, we are part of his family. (From A Dad's Blessing by Gary Smalley and John Trent)

Application

Tell someone what you've learned about who you are in Christ. Write a note, make a phone call, go to lunch, or share together on a walk.

Exploration

Adopted by God—Isaiah 43:6; 63:8; John 1:12; Romans 8:15; 2 Corinthians 6:16–18; Galatians 3:26–27; 4:6; Ephesians 2:19; 5:1; Hebrews 12:9.

From Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus. I am an apostle because that is what God wanted.

To God's holy people living in Ephesus, believers in Christ Jesus:

<sup>2</sup>Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Spiritual Blessings in Christ

<sup>3</sup>Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. In Christ, God has given us every spiritual blessing in the heavenly world. <sup>4</sup>That is, in Christ, he chose us before the world was made so that we would be his holy people—people without blame before him. <sup>5</sup>Because of his love, God had already decided to make us his own children through Jesus Christ. That was what he wanted and what pleased him, <sup>6</sup>and it brings praise to God because of his wonderful grace. God gave that grace to us freely, in Christ, the One he loves. <sup>7</sup>In Christ we are set free by the blood of his death, and so we have forgiveness of sins. How rich is God's grace, <sup>8</sup>which he has given to us so fully and freely. God, with full wisdom and understanding, <sup>9</sup>let us know his secret purpose. This was what God wanted, and he planned to do it through Christ. <sup>10</sup>His goal was to carry out his plan, when the right time came, that all things in heaven and on earth would be joined together in Christ as the head.

<sup>11</sup>In Christ we were chosen to be God's people, because from the very beginning God had decided this in keeping with his plan. And he is the One who makes everything agree with what he decides and wants. <sup>12</sup>We are the first people who hoped in Christ, and we were chosen so that we would bring praise to God's glory. <sup>13</sup>So it is with you. When you heard the true teaching—the Good News about your salvation—you believed in Christ. And in Christ, God put his special mark of ownership on you by giving you the Holy Spirit that he had promised. <sup>14</sup>That Holy Spirit is the guarantee that we will receive what God promised for his people until God gives full freedom to those who are his—to bring praise to God's glory.

Paul's Prayer

<sup>15</sup>That is why since I heard about your faith in the Lord Jesus and your love for all God's people, <sup>16</sup>I have not stopped giving thanks to God for you. I always remember you in my prayers, <sup>17</sup>asking the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the glorious Father, to give you a spirit of wisdom and revelation so that you will know him better. <sup>18</sup>I pray also that you will have greater understanding in your heart so you will know the hope to which he has called us and that you will know how rich and glorious are the blessings God has promised his holy people. <sup>19</sup>And you will know that God's power is very great for us who believe. That power is the same as the great strength <sup>20</sup>God used to raise Christ from the dead and put him at his right side in the heavenly world. <sup>21</sup>God has put Christ over all rulers, authorities, powers, and kings, not only in this world but also in the next. <sup>22</sup>God put everything under his power and made him the head over everything for the church,<sup>23</sup> which is Christ's body. The church is filled with Christ, and Christ fills everything in every way.

Life Lessons

Ephesians 2:1-22

Situation

The Ephesians forgot what God did to save them and to make them a part of his Body.

Observation

God's mercy plucks us from the destruction of our countless sins and places us in Jesus Christ's righteousness.

Inspiration

When I read a verse like Ephesians 2:4, I feel I have discovered God's roadblock on one's way to hell—[But God's mercy is great.] He is so rich in mercy that none need perish, but individuals must come to God in his appointed way. I adore the mercy that had lovingkindness, pity and compassion on me....

Let me give you a modern illustration of mercy in action. One day, a Christian named Paul went into a coffee shop, sat on a stool, and ordered his lunch. When he began speaking to the man next to him, he realized that Fred was in deep spiritual need. After sharing the gospel with him, Paul arranged to meet him again. It was at the second meeting that Fred was converted. Then Paul began to disciple him on a one-on-one basis, and Fred grew in grace and in knowledge of the Lord Jesus. But it wasn't long before Fred learned that he had a life-threatening disease. He had to go to a convalescent hospital that was sadly substandard. Paul visited him regularly, bathed him, changed the sheets, and did other chores that the staff should have been doing. The night Fred died, Paul was holding him in his arms, whispering verses of Scripture in his ear. That's mercy. It's a wonderful thing to see that Godlike quality in a human life. (From Alone in Majesty by William MacDonald)

Application

Are there some people around you who slip through the cracks unnoticed? Is there a lonely widow? An insecure junior-high student? A struggling single mother? Pay these people a visit—bring flowers or another gift; invest some time in their lives.

Mercy—Matthew 5:7; Luke 6:36; 2 Peter 3:9.

We Now Have Life

In the past you were spiritually dead because of your sins and the things you did against God. <sup>2</sup>Yes, in the past you lived the way the world lives, following the ruler of the evil powers that are above the earth. That same spirit is now working in those who refuse to obey God. <sup>3</sup>In the past all of us lived like them, trying to please our sinful selves and doing all the things our bodies and minds wanted. We should have suffered God's anger because of the way we were. We were the same as all other people.

<sup>4</sup>But God's mercy is great, and he loved us very much. <sup>5</sup>Though we were spiritually dead because of the things we did against God, he gave us new life with Christ. You have been saved by God's grace. <sup>6</sup>And he raised us up with Christ and gave us a seat with him in the heavens. He did this for those in Christ Jesus <sup>7</sup>so that for all future time he could show the very great riches of his grace by being kind to us in Christ Jesus. <sup>8</sup>I mean that you have been saved by grace through believing. You did not save yourselves; it was a gift from God. <sup>9</sup>It was not the result of your own efforts, so you cannot brag about it. <sup>10</sup>God has made us what we are. In Christ Jesus, God made us to do good works, which God planned in advance for us to live our lives doing.

One in Christ

<sup>11</sup>You were not born Jewish. You are the people the Jews call “uncircumcised.” Those who call you “uncircumcised” call themselves “circumcised.” (Their circumcision is only something they themselves do on their bodies.) <sup>12</sup>Remember that in the past you were without Christ. You were not citizens of Israel, and you had no part in the agreements with the promise that God made to his people. You had no hope, and you did not know God. <sup>13</sup>But now in Christ Jesus, you who were far away from God are brought near through the blood of Christ’s death. <sup>14</sup>Christ himself is our peace. He made both Jewish people and those who are not Jews one people. They were separated as if there were a wall between them, but Christ broke down that wall of hate by giving his own body. <sup>15</sup>The Jewish law had many commands and rules, but Christ ended that law. His purpose was to make the two groups of people become one new people in him and in this way make peace. <sup>16</sup>It was also Christ’s purpose to end the hatred between the two groups, to make them into one body, and to bring them back to God. Christ did all this with his death on the cross. <sup>17</sup>Christ came and preached peace to you who were far away from God, and to those who were near to God. <sup>18</sup>Yes, it is through Christ we all have the right to come to the Father in one Spirit.

<sup>19</sup>Now you who are not Jewish are not foreigners or strangers any longer, but are citizens together with God’s holy people. You belong to God’s family. <sup>20</sup>You are like a building that was built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets. Christ Jesus himself is the most important stone in that building, <sup>21</sup>and that whole building is joined together in Christ.

He makes it grow and become a holy temple in the Lord. <sup>22</sup>And in Christ you, too, are being built together with the Jews into a place where God lives through the Spirit.

Life Lessons

Ephesians 3:1-21

Situation

Paul told the Ephesians his goals for them. He shared his prayer for their growth in insight and strength.

Observation

Although God's love for us cannot be measured by any comprehensible standards, God wants us to know this ocean of love.

Inspiration

The promises of God's love and forgiveness are as real, as sure, as positive as human words can make them. But like describing the ocean, its total beauty cannot be understood until it is actually seen. It is the same with God's love. Until you actually accept it, until you actually experience it, until you actually possess true peace with God, no one can describe its wonders to you.

It is not something that you can do with your mind. Your finite mind is not capable of dealing with anything as great as the love of God. Your mind might have difficulty explaining how a black cow can eat green grass and give white milk—but you drink the milk and are nourished by it. Your mind can't reason through all the intricate processes that take place when you plant a small flat seed that produces a huge vine bearing luscious red and green watermelons—but you eat them and enjoy them! You can't understand radio, but you listen. Your mind can't explain the electricity that may be creating the light by which you are reading at this very moment—but you know that it's there and that it is making it possible for you to read!

Paul's Work in Telling the Good News

So I, Paul, am a prisoner of Christ Jesus for you who are not Jews.<sup>2</sup> Surely you have heard that God gave me this work through his grace to help you.<sup>3</sup> He let me know his secret by showing it to me. I have already written a little about this.<sup>4</sup> If you read what I wrote then, you can see that I truly understand the secret about the Christ.<sup>5</sup> People who lived in other times were not told that secret. But now, through the Spirit, God has shown that secret to his holy apostles and prophets.<sup>6</sup> This is that secret: that through the Good News those who are not Jews will share with the Jews in God's blessing. They belong to the same body, and they share together in the promise that God made in Christ Jesus.

<sup>7</sup>By God's special gift of grace given to me through his power, I became a servant to tell that Good News.<sup>8</sup> I am the least important of all God's people, but God gave me this gift—to tell those who are not Jews the Good News about the riches of Christ, which are too great to understand fully.<sup>9</sup> And God gave me the work of telling all people about the plan for his secret, which has been hidden in him since the beginning of time. He is the One who created everything.<sup>10</sup> His purpose was that through the church all the rulers and powers in the heavenly world will now know God's wisdom, which has so many forms.<sup>11</sup> This agrees with the purpose God had since the beginning of time, and he carried out his plan through Christ

Jesus our Lord. <sup>12</sup>In Christ we can come before God with freedom and without fear. We can do this through faith in Christ. <sup>13</sup>So I ask you not to become discouraged because of the sufferings I am having for you. My sufferings are for your glory.

The Love of Christ

<sup>14</sup>So I bow in prayer before the Father <sup>15</sup>from whom every family in heaven and on earth gets its true name. <sup>16</sup>I ask the Father in his great glory to give you the power to be strong inwardly through his Spirit. <sup>17</sup>I pray that Christ will live in your hearts by faith and that your life will be strong in love and be built on love. <sup>18</sup>And I pray that you and all God's holy people will have the power to understand the greatness of Christ's love—how wide and how long and how high and how deep that love is. <sup>19</sup>Christ's love is greater than anyone can ever know, but I pray that you will be able to know that love. Then you can be filled with the fullness of God.

<sup>20</sup>With God's power working in us, God can do much, much more than anything we can ask or imagine. <sup>21</sup>To him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus for all time, forever and ever. Amen.

Life Lessons

Ephesians 4:1-5:20

Situation

Paul labored to bring unity between Gentiles and Jews. He urgently defended the need for a unified and God-honoring lifestyle.

Observation

Attitudes of humility, gentleness, and patience should characterize Christians. We are told to accept each other in love.

Inspiration

Let's take inventory of our hearts. Am I living in the overflow of God's love? How well do I love the people in my life? Does the way I treat people reflect the way God has treated me?

Loving people isn't always easy. In fact, this book has been a challenging one for some of you. You've been forced to think again about some of the people in your life whom you find hard to love. This is serious business. It's not easy to love those who have been the source of heartache, abuse, rejection, or loneliness. Some of you wonder how you could ever love the people who have caused you such pain. So what can you do?

Conventional wisdom says that a lack of love implies a lack of effort, so we try harder, dig deeper, strain more.

But could a lack of love imply something else? Could we be skipping a step? An essential step?

Could it be that we are trying to give what we don't have? Are we forgetting to receive first?

The woman in Capernaum didn't forget. Read [Luke 7:36-50.] Remember how she lavished love on Christ? Bathing his feet with tears. Drying his feet with her hair. If love were a waterfall, she'd be a Niagara.

And Simon, well, Simon was a Sahara. Dry. Parched. Hard. His arid heart surprises us. He was the churchgoer, the pastor, the seminarian. She, on the other hand, was the town slut. He'd forgotten more Bible than she ever knew. But she'd discovered one truth Simon had somehow missed: God's love has no limits.

God's love meets the standard of our final passage. "Love," Paul says, "never fails" (1 Corinthians 13:8, NIV).

*How could God have a love like this? No one has unfailing love. No person can love with perfection. You're right. No person can. But God is not a person. Unlike our love, his never fails. His love is immensely different from ours. (From A Love Worth Giving by Max Lucado)*

Application

Is your attitude toward other believers marked by love, humility, patience, and gentleness? Paul encouraged us to display unity in the body of Christ and accept one another in love. If you're not doing that, check your attitudes. Your spiritual gifts and talents should help bring the body of Christ together.

Exploration

Unity—John 17:11, 20–23; Romans 12:9–21;
Philippians 2:1–2.

The Unity of the Body

I am in prison because I belong to the Lord. God chose you to be his people, so I urge you now to live the life to which God called you. <sup>2</sup>Always be humble, gentle, and patient, accepting each other in love. <sup>3</sup>You are joined together with peace through the Spirit, so make every effort to continue together in this way. <sup>4</sup>There is one body and one Spirit, and God called you to have one hope. <sup>5</sup>There is one Lord, one faith, and one baptism. <sup>6</sup>There is one God and Father of everything. He rules everything and is everywhere and is in everything.

<sup>7</sup>Christ gave each one of us the special gift of grace, showing how generous he is. <sup>8</sup>That is why it says in the Scriptures,

“When he went up to the heights, he led a parade of captives,
and he gave gifts to people.”

Psalm 68:18

<sup>9</sup>When it says, “He went up,” what does it mean? It means that he first came down to the earth. <sup>10</sup>So Jesus came down, and he is the same One who went up above all the heaven. Christ did that to fill everything with his presence. <sup>11</sup>And Christ gave gifts to people—he made some to be apostles, some to be prophets, some to go and tell the Good News, and some to have the work of caring for and teaching God's people. <sup>12</sup>Christ gave those gifts to prepare God's holy people for the work of serving, to make the body of Christ stronger. <sup>13</sup>This work must continue until we are all joined together in the same faith and in the same knowledge of the Son of God. We must become like a mature person, growing until we become like Christ and have his perfection.

<sup>14</sup>Then we will no longer be babies. We will not be tossed about like a ship that the waves carry one way and then another. We will not be influenced by every new teaching we hear from people who are trying to fool us. They make plans and try any kind of trick to fool people into following the wrong path. <sup>15</sup>No! Speaking the truth with love, we will grow up in every way into Christ, who is the head. <sup>16</sup>The whole body depends on Christ, and all the parts of the body are joined and held together. Each part does its own work to make the whole body grow and be strong with love.

The Way You Should Live

<sup>17</sup>In the Lord's name, I tell you this. Do not continue living like those who do not believe. Their thoughts are worth nothing. <sup>18</sup>They do not understand, and they know nothing, because they refuse to listen. So they cannot have the life that God gives. <sup>19</sup>They have lost all feeling of shame, and they use their lives for doing evil. They continually want to do all kinds of evil. <sup>20</sup>But what you learned in Christ was not like this. <sup>21</sup>I know that you heard about him, and you are in him, so you were taught the truth that is in Jesus. <sup>22</sup>You were taught to leave your old self—to stop living the evil way you lived before.

That old self becomes worse, because people are fooled by the evil things they want to do.<sup>23</sup> But you were taught to be made new in your hearts,<sup>24</sup> to become a new person. That new person is made to be like God—made to be truly good and holy.

<sup>25</sup>So you must stop telling lies. Tell each other the truth, because we all belong to each other in the same body.<sup>26</sup> When you are angry, do not sin, and be sure to stop being angry before the end of the day.<sup>27</sup> Do not give the devil a way to defeat you.<sup>28</sup> Those who are stealing must stop stealing and start working. They should earn an honest living for themselves. Then they will have something to share with those who are poor.

<sup>29</sup>When you talk, do not say harmful things, but say what people need—words that will help others become stronger. Then what you say will do good to those who listen to you.<sup>30</sup> And do not make the Holy Spirit sad. The Spirit is God's proof that you belong to him. God gave you the Spirit to show that God will make you free when the final day comes.<sup>31</sup> Do not be bitter or angry or mad. Never shout angrily or say things to hurt others. Never do anything evil.<sup>32</sup> Be kind and loving to each other, and forgive each other just as God forgave you in Christ.

Living in the Light

You are God's children whom he loves, so try to be like him. <sup>2</sup>Live a life of love just as Christ loved us and gave himself for us as a sweet-smelling offering and sacrifice to God.

<sup>3</sup>But there must be no sexual sin among you, or any kind of evil or greed. Those things are not right for God's holy people. <sup>4</sup>Also, there must be no evil talk among you, and you must not speak foolishly or tell evil jokes. These things are not right for you. Instead, you should be giving thanks to God. <sup>5</sup>You can be sure of this: No one will have a place in the kingdom of Christ and of God who sins sexually, or does evil things, or is greedy. Anyone who is greedy is serving a false god.

<sup>6</sup>Do not let anyone fool you by telling you things that are not true, because these things will bring God's anger on those who do not obey him. <sup>7</sup>So have nothing to do with them. <sup>8</sup>In the past you were full of darkness, but now you are full of light in the Lord. So live like children who belong to the light. <sup>9</sup>Light brings every kind of goodness, right living, and truth. <sup>10</sup>Try to learn what pleases the Lord. <sup>11</sup>Have nothing to do with the things done in darkness, which are not worth anything. But show that they are wrong. <sup>12</sup>It is shameful even to talk about what those people do in secret. <sup>13</sup>But the light makes all things easy to see, <sup>14</sup>and everything that is made easy to see can become light. This is why it is said:

“Wake up, sleeper!
Rise from death,

and Christ will shine on you.”

<sup>15</sup>So be very careful how you live. Do not live like those who are not wise, but live wisely. <sup>16</sup>Use every chance you have for doing good, because these are evil times. <sup>17</sup>So do not be foolish but learn what the Lord wants you to do. <sup>18</sup>Do not be drunk with wine, which will ruin you, but be filled with the Spirit. <sup>19</sup>Speak to each other with psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs, singing and making music in your hearts to the Lord. <sup>20</sup>Always give thanks to God the Father for everything, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Life Lessons

Ephesians 5:21–6:24

Situation

To fight effectively in their spiritual battle, the Ephesians must know Christ, obey his standards, and be prepared to fight.

Observation

Each Christian has a responsibility to love, honor, and respect. If faithful to these duties, Christians will find themselves united against the spiritual power of evil.

Inspiration

What does it mean to honor your parents? We can see that if we will look at the word “honor” in the Scriptures. In Hebrew, the word for “honor” is kabed. This word literally means, “to be heavy, weighty, to honor.” Even today, we still link the idea of being heavy with honoring a person.

When the President of the United States or some other important person speaks, people often say that his words “carry a lot of weight.” Someone whose words are weighty is someone worthy of honor and respect. However, we can learn even more about what it means to honor someone by looking at its opposite in Scriptures.

... [T]he literal meaning of the word “curse” (qalal) was “to make light, of little weight, to dishonor.” If we go back to our example above, if we dishonor a person we would say, “Their words carry little weight.” The contrast is striking!

When Paul tells us to honor our parents, he is telling us that they are worthy of high value and respect. In modern-day terms, we could call them a heavyweight in our lives! Just the opposite is true if we choose to dishonor our parents.

Some people treat their parents as if they are a layer of dust on a table. Dust weighs almost nothing and can be swept away with a brush of the hand. Dust is a nuisance and an eyesore that clouds any real beauty the table might have. Paul tells us that such an attitude should not be a part of how any child views his or her parents, and for good reason. If we fail to honor our parents, we not only do what is wrong and dishonor God, but we also literally drain ourselves of life! (From The Gift of the Blessing by Gary Smalley and John Trent)

Application

In what ways do you honor your boss, parents, children, or employees? How have you dishonored them? Pinpoint areas in which you need to improve. Honor others not only with your actions but with your thoughts, too.

Exploration

Obedience to Parents—Proverbs 1:8; 6:20; Colossians 3:20. Parental Duties—Deuteronomy 6:7; Proverbs 22:6; 2 Corinthians 12:14; 1 Timothy 3:4; Titus 2:4–5.

Wives and Husbands

<sup>21</sup>Yield to obey each other because you respect Christ.

<sup>22</sup>Wives, yield to your husbands, as you do to the Lord, <sup>23</sup>because the husband is the head of the wife, as Christ is the head of the church. And he is the Savior of the body, which is the church. <sup>24</sup>As the church yields to Christ, so you wives should yield to your husbands in everything.

<sup>25</sup>Husbands, love your wives as Christ loved the church and gave himself for it <sup>26</sup>to make it belong to God. Christ used the word to make the church clean by washing it with water. <sup>27</sup>He died so that he could give the church to himself like a bride in all her beauty. He died so that the church could be pure and without fault, with no evil or sin or any other wrong thing in it. <sup>28</sup>In the same way, husbands should love their wives as they love their own bodies. The man who loves his wife loves himself. <sup>29</sup>No one ever hates his own body, but feeds and takes care of it. And that is what Christ does for the church, <sup>30</sup>because we are parts of his body. <sup>31</sup>The Scripture says, “So a man will leave his father and mother and be united with his wife, and the two will become one body.” <sup>32</sup>That secret is very important—I am talking about Christ and the church. <sup>33</sup>But each one of you must love his wife as he loves himself, and a wife must respect her husband.

Children and Parents

Children, obey your parents as the Lord wants, because this is the right thing to do. <sup>2</sup>The command says, “Honor your father and mother.” This is the first command that has a promise with it— <sup>3</sup>“Then everything will be well with you, and you will have a long life on the earth.”

<sup>4</sup>Fathers, do not make your children angry, but raise them with the training and teaching of the Lord.

Slaves and Masters

<sup>5</sup>Slaves, obey your masters here on earth with fear and respect and from a sincere heart, just as you obey Christ. <sup>6</sup>You must do this not only while they are watching you, to please them. With all your heart you must do what God wants as people who are obeying Christ. <sup>7</sup>Do your work with enthusiasm. Work as if you were serving the Lord, not as if you were serving only men and women. <sup>8</sup>Remember that the Lord will give a reward to everyone, slave or free, for doing good.

<sup>9</sup>Masters, in the same way, be good to your slaves. Do not threaten them. Remember that the One who is your Master and their Master is in heaven, and he treats everyone alike.

Wear the Full Armor of God

<sup>10</sup>Finally, be strong in the Lord and in his great power. <sup>11</sup>Put on the full armor of God so that you can fight against the devil’s evil tricks. <sup>12</sup>Our fight is not against people on earth but against the rulers and authorities and the powers of this world's darkness, against the spiritual powers of evil in the heavenly world. <sup>13</sup>That is why you need to put on God's full armor. Then on the day of evil you will be able to stand strong. And when you have finished the whole fight, you will still be standing. <sup>14</sup>So stand strong, with the belt of truth tied around your waist and the protection of right living on your chest. <sup>15</sup>On your feet wear the Good News of peace to help you stand strong. <sup>16</sup>And also use the shield of faith with which you can stop all the burning arrows of the Evil One. <sup>17</sup>Accept God's salvation as your helmet, and take the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. <sup>18</sup>Pray in the Spirit at all times with all kinds of prayers, asking for everything you need. To do this you must always be ready and never give up. Always pray for all God's people.

<sup>19</sup>Also pray for me that when I speak, God will give me words so that I can tell the secret of the Good News without fear. <sup>20</sup>I have been sent to preach this Good News, and I am doing that now, here in prison. Pray that when I preach the Good News I will speak without fear, as I should.

Final Greetings

<sup>21</sup>I am sending to you Tychicus, our brother whom we love and a faithful servant of the Lord's work. He will tell you everything that is happening with me. Then you will know how I am and what I am doing. <sup>22</sup>I am sending him to you for this reason—so that you will know how we are, and he can encourage you.

<sup>23</sup>Peace and love with faith to you from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>24</sup>Grace to all of you who love our Lord Jesus Christ with love that never ends.

The Book of Philippians

Introduction

Perhaps the symbol of this generation is the exercise bike.

It represents what most have—excess weight.

It represents what most want—to be different.

It represents what most people spend most their time doing—pedaling furiously and getting nowhere. High activity but low achievement. Car pools, diapers, bills, time clocks. Office walls painted gray with routine. Houses framed with wooden humdrum. For many, life is lived on the exercise bicycle. Day after day in the same seat, doing the same thing but seeing the same scenery. Is there any end to this tunnel of grayness?

There is.

Go with me back in history a couple of thousand years. Let's go to the city of Rome. The thrilling metropolis of gladiators, chariots, and empires. But don't stop at the coliseum or palace. Go rather to a drab little room, surrounded by high walls. Let's imagine that we can peek into the room and look. Inside we see a man seated on the floor. He's an older fellow, shoulders stooped and balding. Chains are on his hands and feet. And chained to him is a guard from the Roman army.

It is the apostle Paul. The apostle who has traveled all over the world. The apostle who has liberated people in every port. The apostle who was bound only by the will of God is now in chains—stuck in a dingy house—attached to a Roman officer.

Here is a fellow who has every reason to be in a slump!

He is restricted by walls. He is afflicted by friends (1:15). He is conflicted by danger (1:21).

He is writing a letter. No doubt it is a complaint letter to God. No doubt it is a list of grievances. No doubt he is writing the New Testament version of Lamentations. He has every reason to be bitter and complain. But he doesn't. Instead, he writes a letter that two thousand years later is still known as the treatise on joy.

Sound interesting? Of course it does. Who couldn't use a guide to joy in this world? Why don't you spend some time with it? Dismount the bicycle to nowhere and follow Paul as he guides you down the trail to peace.

Life Lessons

Philippians 1:1–2:30

Situation

Paul pointed to Jesus as the ultimate example of servanthood and selflessness.

Observation

Imitate Jesus Christ, the humble servant of God. Jesus gave up his rights so that we could be saved.

Inspiration

Jesus deliberately stripped Himself of everything—His divine rights and privileges—and crossed the unthinkable chasm between God and man.

Try to imagine the span of that chasm... . The unlimited God became limited man... . Jesus Christ is God.

... From the world's viewpoint, Jesus had descended as low as a man—to say nothing of God—could go.

But there was one more downward step, in heaven's eyes the deepest descent of all: from sinless to sin stained... . Truly, He could go no lower.

... He knowingly and actively embraced a life of giving, serving, losing, and dying.

What was, and is, really hard for Jesus' followers to swallow is that we are called to do the same. To make ourselves nothing... . We must believe that as painful as it sometimes feels, descending is the only way to greatness... . Jesus obeyed for the sake of love.

And we, His followers and the recipients of His love, are called to do the same. When asked about the two greatest commands, Jesus replied: to love God and to love others. That is what motivated Jesus, and that is what is to motivate us. (From Descending into Greatness by Bill Hybels)

Application

God views service and humility as strengths, not weaknesses. What steps in your relationships can you take to show greater humility? How can you expand your service to others?

Exploration

Humility of Jesus—Zechariah 9:9; Matthew 11:29; John 13:5; 2 Corinthians 8:9.

From Paul and Timothy, servants of Christ Jesus.

To all of God's holy people in Christ Jesus who live in Philippi, including your elders and deacons:

<sup>2</sup>Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Paul's Prayer

<sup>3</sup>I thank my God every time I remember you, <sup>4</sup>always praying with joy for all of you. <sup>5</sup>I thank God for the help you gave me while I preached the Good News—help you gave from the first day you believed until now. <sup>6</sup>God began doing a good work in you, and I am sure he will continue it until it is finished when Jesus Christ comes again.

<sup>7</sup>And I know that I am right to think like this about all of you, because I have you in my heart. All of you share in God's grace with me while I am in prison and while I am defending and proving the truth of the Good News. <sup>8</sup>God knows that I want to see you very much, because I love all of you with the love of Christ Jesus.

<sup>9</sup>This is my prayer for you: that your love will grow more and more; that you will have knowledge and understanding with your love; <sup>10</sup>that you will see the difference between good and bad and will choose the good; that you will be pure and without wrong for the coming of Christ; <sup>11</sup>that you will do many good things with the help of Christ to bring glory and praise to

God.

Paul's Troubles Help the Work

<sup>12</sup>I want you brothers and sisters to know that what has happened to me has helped to spread the Good News. <sup>13</sup>All the palace guards and everyone else knows that I am in prison because I am a believer in Christ. <sup>14</sup>Because I am in prison, most of the believers have become more bold in Christ and are not afraid to speak the word of God.

<sup>15</sup>It is true that some preach about Christ because they are jealous and ambitious, but others preach about Christ because they want to help. <sup>16</sup>They preach because they have love, and they know that God gave me the work of defending the Good News. <sup>17</sup>But the others preach about Christ for selfish and wrong reasons, wanting to make trouble for me in prison.

<sup>18</sup>But it doesn't matter. The important thing is that in every way, whether for right or wrong reasons, they are preaching about Christ. So I am happy, and I will continue to be happy. <sup>19</sup>Because you are praying for me and the Spirit of Jesus Christ is helping me, I know this trouble will bring my freedom. <sup>20</sup>I expect and hope that I will not fail Christ in anything but that I will have the courage now, as always, to show the greatness of Christ in my life here on earth, whether I live or die. <sup>21</sup>To me the only important thing about living is Christ, and dying would be profit for me. <sup>22</sup>If I continue living in my body, I will be able to work for the Lord. I do not know what to choose—living or dying. <sup>23</sup>It is hard to choose between the two. I want to leave this life and be with Christ, which is much better, <sup>24</sup>but you need me here in my body. <sup>25</sup>Since I am sure of this, I know I will stay with you to help you grow and have joy in your faith.

<sup>26</sup>You will be very happy in Christ Jesus when I am with you again.

<sup>27</sup>Only one thing concerns me: Be sure that you live in a way that brings honor to the Good News of Christ. Then whether I come and visit you or am away from you, I will hear that you are standing strong with one purpose, that you work together as one for the faith of the Good News,<sup>28</sup> and that you are not afraid of those who are against you. All of this is proof that your enemies will be destroyed but that you will be saved by God.<sup>29</sup> God gave you the honor not only of believing in Christ but also of suffering for him, both of which bring glory to Christ.<sup>30</sup> When I was with you, you saw the struggles I had, and you hear about the struggles I am having now. You yourselves are having the same kind of struggles.

Does your life in Christ give you strength? Does his love comfort you? Do we share together in the spirit? Do you have mercy and kindness? <sup>2</sup>If so, make me very happy by having the same thoughts, sharing the same love, and having one mind and purpose. <sup>3</sup>When you do things, do not let selfishness or pride be your guide. Instead, be humble and give more honor to others than to yourselves. <sup>4</sup>Do not be interested only in your own life, but be interested in the lives of others.

Be Unselfish Like Christ

<sup>5</sup>In your lives you must think and act like Christ Jesus.

<sup>6</sup>Christ himself was like God in everything.

But he did not think that being equal with God was something to be used for his own benefit.

<sup>7</sup>But he gave up his place with God and made himself nothing.

He was born to be a man and became like a servant.

<sup>8</sup>And when he was living as a man, he humbled himself and was fully obedient to God,
even when that caused his death—death on a cross.

<sup>9</sup>So God raised him to the highest place.

God made his name greater than every other name

<sup>10</sup>so that every knee will bow to the name of Jesus—everyone in heaven, on earth, and under the earth.

<sup>11</sup>And everyone will confess that Jesus Christ is Lord and bring glory to God the Father.

Be the People God Wants You to Be

<sup>12</sup>My dear friends, you have always obeyed God when I was with you. It is even more important that you obey now while I am away from you. Keep on working to complete your salvation with fear and trembling, <sup>13</sup>because God is working in you to help you want to do and be able to do what pleases him.

<sup>14</sup>Do everything without complaining or arguing. <sup>15</sup>Then you will be innocent and without any wrong. You will be God's children without fault. But you are living with crooked and mean people all around you, among whom you shine like stars in the dark world. <sup>16</sup>You offer the teaching that gives life. So when Christ comes again, I can be happy because my work was not wasted. I ran the race and won.

<sup>17</sup>Your faith makes you offer your lives as a sacrifice in serving God. If I have to offer my own blood with your sacrifice, I will be happy and full of joy with all of you. <sup>18</sup>You also should be happy and full of joy with me.

Timothy and Epaphroditus

<sup>19</sup>I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy to you soon. I will be happy to learn how you are. <sup>20</sup>I have no one else like Timothy, who truly cares for you. <sup>21</sup>Other people are interested only in their own lives, not in the work of Jesus Christ. <sup>22</sup>You know the kind of person Timothy is. You know he has served with me in telling the Good News, as a son serves his father. <sup>23</sup>I plan to send him to you quickly when I know what will happen to me. <sup>24</sup>I am sure that the Lord will help me to come to you soon.

<sup>25</sup>Epaphroditus, my brother in Christ, works and serves with me in the army of Christ. When I needed help, you sent him to me. I think now that I must send him back to you, <sup>26</sup>because he wants very much to see all of you. He is worried because you heard that he was sick. <sup>27</sup>Yes, he was sick, and nearly died, but God had mercy on him and me too so that I would not have more sadness. <sup>28</sup>I want very much to send him to you so that when you see him you can be happy, and I can stop worrying about you. <sup>29</sup>Welcome him in the Lord with much joy. Give honor to people like him, <sup>30</sup>because he almost died for the work of Christ. He risked his life to give me the help you could not give in your service to me.

Life Lessons

Philippians 3:1–21

Situation

Paul reminded the Philippians that Christ guaranteed their position through faith alone.

Observation

As we know Christ more, we discover the insignificance of worldly treasures. Our true goal should be to know Christ and his power.

Inspiration

I was glad to see the plastic ball pit... It's a large, covered, shady, cool, soothing pavilion... But rather than being filled with water, it is loaded with balls—thousands and thousands of plastic, colorful, lightweight balls.

Three-year-old Andrea, however, had a few difficulties. As soon as she took one step into the pit, she filled her arms with balls...

Andrea took a step and fell... She began to cry. I walked over to the edge of the pit. “Andrea,” I said gently, “let go of the balls, and you can walk.”

“No!” she screamed, wiggling and submerging herself beneath the balls. I reached in and pulled her up. She was still clutching her armful of treasures...

Andrea's determination to hold those balls is nothing compared to the vise-grips we put on life... Try prying our fingers away from our earthly treasures... The way we clutch our possessions and our pennies, you'd think we couldn't live without them.

Ouch.

Jesus' promise is comprehensive: "Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be filled" [Matthew 5:6, NKJV]...

Blessed are those, then, who hold their earthly possessions in open palms... Blessed are those who are totally dependent upon Jesus for their joy. (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

The Importance of Christ

My brothers and sisters, be full of joy in the Lord. It is no trouble for me to write the same things to you again, and it will help you to be more ready. <sup>2</sup>Watch out for those who do evil, who are like dogs, who demand to cut the body. <sup>3</sup>We are the ones who are truly circumcised. We worship God through his Spirit, and our pride is in Christ Jesus. We do not put trust in ourselves or anything we can do, <sup>4</sup>although I might be able to put trust in myself. If anyone thinks he has a reason to trust in himself, he should know that I have greater reason for trusting in myself. <sup>5</sup>I was circumcised eight days after my birth. I am from the people of Israel and the tribe of Benjamin. I am a Hebrew, and my parents were Hebrews. I had a strict view of the law, which is why I became a Pharisee. <sup>6</sup>I was so enthusiastic I tried to hurt the church. No one could find fault with the way I obeyed the law of Moses. <sup>7</sup>Those things were important to me, but now I think they are worth nothing because of Christ. <sup>8</sup>Not only those things, but I think that all things are worth nothing compared with the greatness of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. Because of him, I have lost all those things, and now I know they are worthless trash. This allows me to have Christ <sup>9</sup>and to belong to him. Now I am right with God, not because I followed the law, but because I believed in Christ. God uses my faith to make me right with him. <sup>10</sup>I want to know Christ and the power that raised him from the dead. I want to share in his sufferings and become like him in his death. <sup>11</sup>Then I have hope that I myself will be raised from the dead.

Continuing Toward Our Goal

<sup>12</sup>I do not mean that I am already as God wants me to be. I have not yet reached that goal, but I continue trying to reach it and to make it mine. Christ wants me to do that, which is the reason he made me his. <sup>13</sup>Brothers and sisters, I know that I have not yet reached that goal, but there is one thing I always do. Forgetting the past and straining toward what is ahead, <sup>14</sup>I keep trying to reach the goal and get the prize for which God called me through Christ to the life above.

<sup>15</sup>All of us who are spiritually mature should think this way, too. And if there are things you do not agree with, God will make them clear to you. <sup>16</sup>But we should continue following the truth we already have.

<sup>17</sup>Brothers and sisters, all of you should try to follow my example and to copy those who live the way we showed you. <sup>18</sup>Many people live like enemies of the cross of Christ. I have often told you about them, and it makes me cry to tell you about them now. <sup>19</sup>In the end, they will be destroyed. They do whatever their bodies want, they are proud of their shameful acts, and they think only about earthly things. <sup>20</sup>But our homeland is in heaven, and we are waiting for our Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, to come from heaven. <sup>21</sup>By his power to rule all things, he will change our simple bodies and make them like his own glorious body.

Life Lessons

Philippians 4:1-23

Situation

Paul expressed joy and thanked the Philippians for their support. In addition to earlier gifts, they willingly sent financial support with Epaphroditus for Paul during his imprisonment.

Observation

God knows our needs and promises to provide for them. We are to trust him with an attitude of thanksgiving and find contentment in what we are given.

Inspiration

There are times when the one thing you want is the one thing you never get. You're not being picky or demanding; you're only obeying his command to "ask God for everything you need" (Philippians 4:6). All you want is an open door or an extra day or an answered prayer, for which you will be thankful.

And so you pray and wait.

No answer.

You pray and wait.

No answer.

You pray and wait.

May I ask a very important question? What if God says no?

What if the request is delayed or even denied? When God says no to you, how will you respond? If God says, "I've given you my grace, and that is enough,” will you be content?

Content. That’s the word. A state of heart in which you would be at peace if God gave you nothing more than he already has. Test yourself with this question: What if God’s only gift to you were his grace to save you? Would you be content? You beg him to save the life of your child. You plead with him to keep your business afloat. You implore him to remove the cancer from your body. What if his answer is, “My grace is enough”? Would you be content?

You see, from heaven’s perspective, grace is enough. If God did nothing more than save us from hell, could anyone complain? If God saved our souls and then left us to spend our lives leprosy-struck on a deserted island, would he be unjust? Having been given eternal life, dare we grumble at an aching body? Having been given heavenly riches, dare we bemoan earthly poverty?

Let me be quick to add, God has not left you with “just salvation.” If you have eyes to read these words, hands to hold this book, the means to own this volume, he has already given you grace upon grace. The vast majority of us have been saved and then blessed even more!

But there are those times when God, having given us his grace, hears our appeals and says, “My grace is sufficient for you.” Is he being unfair?

In God Came Near I’ve told how our oldest daughter fell into a swimming pool when she was two years old. A friend saw her and pulled her to safety.

What I didn't tell was what happened the next morning in my prayer time. I made a special effort to record my gratitude in my journal. I told God how wonderful he was for saving her. As clearly as if God himself were speaking, this question came to mind: Would I be less wonderful had I let her drown? Would I be any less a good God for calling her home? Would I still be receiving your praise this morning had I not saved her?

Is God still a good God when he says no? (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

Application

Make a mental list of how God has provided for you in the past. Use that as the basis for recognizing how he will provide for your needs in the future. Instead of complaining or worrying, take your requests directly to the Lord.

What the Christians Are to Do

My dear brothers and sisters, I love you and want to see you. You bring me joy and make me proud of you, so stand strong in the Lord as I have told you.

<sup>2</sup>I ask Euodia and Syntyche to agree in the Lord. <sup>3</sup>And I ask you, my faithful friend, to help these women. They served with me in telling the Good News, together with Clement and others who worked with me, whose names are written in the book of life.

<sup>4</sup>Be full of joy in the Lord always. I will say again, be full of joy.

<sup>5</sup>Let everyone see that you are gentle and kind. The Lord is coming soon. <sup>6</sup>Do not worry about anything, but pray and ask God for everything you need, always giving thanks. <sup>7</sup>And God's peace, which is so great we cannot understand it, will keep your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus.

<sup>8</sup>Brothers and sisters, think about the things that are good and worthy of praise. Think about the things that are true and honorable and right and pure and beautiful and respected. <sup>9</sup>Do what you learned and received from me, what I told you, and what you saw me do. And the God who gives peace will be with you.

Paul Thanks the Christians

<sup>10</sup>I am very happy in the Lord that you have shown your care for me again. You continued to care about me, but there was no way for you to show it. <sup>11</sup>I am not telling you this because I need anything. I have learned to be satisfied with the things I have and with everything that happens. <sup>12</sup>I know how to live when I am poor, and I know how to live when I have plenty. I have learned the secret of being happy at any time in everything that happens, when I have enough to eat and when I go hungry, when I have more than I need and when I do not have enough. <sup>13</sup>I can do all things through Christ, because he gives me strength.

<sup>14</sup>But it was good that you helped me when I needed it. <sup>15</sup>You Philippians remember when I first preached the Good News there. When I left Macedonia, you were the only church that gave me help. <sup>16</sup>Several times you sent me things I needed when I was in Thessalonica. <sup>17</sup>Really, it is not that I want to receive gifts from you, but I want you to have the good that comes from giving. <sup>18</sup>And now I have everything, and more. I have all I need, because Epaphroditus brought your gift to me. It is like a sweet-smelling sacrifice offered to God, who accepts that sacrifice and is pleased with it. <sup>19</sup>My God will use his wonderful riches in Christ Jesus to give you everything you need. <sup>20</sup>Glory to our God and Father forever and ever! Amen.

<sup>21</sup>Greet each of God's people in Christ. Those who are with me send greetings to you. <sup>22</sup>All of God's people greet you, particularly those from the palace of Caesar.

<sup>23</sup>The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

brothers and sisters Although the Greek text says “brothers” here and throughout this book, Paul’s words were meant for the entire church, including men and women.

cut The word in Greek is like the word “circumcise,” but it means “to cut completely off.”

book of life God’s book that has the names of all God’s chosen people (Revelation 3:5; 21:27).

The Book of Colossians

Introduction

To qualify for welfare, you have to admit you're poor.

To qualify for bankruptcy, you have to admit you are broke.

To be admitted to a hospital, you have to admit you're sick.

And to go to heaven, you have to admit you are hellbound.

We're willing to do the first three, but the fourth? That's a tough one. That's enough to trip up a fellow. Not easy for a decent guy to admit he's a sinner. Hard for a pretty good girl to confess spiritual destitution.

Oh, it isn't at first. When we first meet Christ. When life is a mess and the future is bleak. When we don't have anything to lose because we've lost it all. It's not hard to admit it at first.

But then, by God's grace, things get better. Bills get paid. The dog comes home. The pantry gets full. The face we see in the morning mirror has a smile on it. And with time, the person in the mirror grows a bit proud. A bit puffy. A bit, shall we say ... cocky?

We forget where we were. We forget what God gave. We gradually begin to think that God is lucky to have us on his side. We begin to see salvation not as a toss of the life preserver to the sinking but as a journey in a rowboat: God's grace handling one oar and our good deeds handling the other. It's not that Jesus isn't necessary, it's just that Jesus isn't enough.

Slowly, deftly, we begin believing in the doctrine of salvation by Jesus plus. Jesus plus good deeds. Jesus plus the right doctrine. Jesus plus the right Bible translation. Jesus plus the right charitable activities.

Or in the case of the church in Colossae, Jesus plus the right religious feast, New Moon Festival, and Sabbath Day. To the Christians in Colossae, the right ritual was just as important as the right Savior.

Paul would have none of this. He denounced the philosophy as heretical and stated in no uncertain terms that if we are saved it is because God rescued us and not because we learned to swim. God is the verb and we are the noun. God does the saving and we do the receiving.

All we do is accept it. We might as well admit it.

Life Lessons

Colossians 1:1–2:5

Situation

Paul's letter gave tribute to the power and glory of Christ. While commending the Colossians for their actions, he reminded them that Christ's power comes not from what we know, but who we know—Jesus Christ.

Observation

God provides salvation for anyone who will take it. God doesn't require that we know hidden secrets or certain inside information to accept Christ's message and enjoy eternal life.

Inspiration

When God chose to reveal himself, he did so (surprise of surprises) through a human body. The tongue that called forth the dead was a human one. The hand that touched the leper had dirt under its nails. The feet upon which the woman wept were calloused and dusty. And his tears ... oh, don't miss the tears ... they came from a heart as broken as yours or mine ever has been.

So, people came to him. My, how they came to him! They came at night; they touched him as he walked down the street; they followed him around the sea; they invited him into their homes and placed their children at his feet. Why? Because he refused to be a statue in a cathedral or a priest in an elevated pulpit. He chose instead to be Jesus.

... There were those who revered him. But there was not one person who considered him too holy, too divine, or too celestial to touch. There was not one person who was reluctant to approach him for fear of being rejected.

Remember. It is man who creates the distance. It is Jesus who builds the bridge.

(From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

Application

Pray this week that God will spark new love for him in your heart. Don't let this next week pass without finding a way of telling someone else about the Good News of God's love.

Exploration

Love—John 3:16; 13:34; Ephesians 3:15–18; 1 John 4:9–10.

From Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus. I am an apostle because that is what God wanted. Also from Timothy, our brother.

<sup>2</sup>To the holy and faithful brothers and sisters in Christ that live in Colossae:

Grace and peace to you from God our Father.

<sup>3</sup>In our prayers for you we always thank God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>4</sup>because we have heard about the faith you have in Christ Jesus and the love you have for all of God's people. <sup>5</sup>You have this faith and love because of your hope, and what you hope for is kept safe for you in heaven. You learned about this hope when you heard the message about the truth, the Good News <sup>6</sup>that was told to you. Everywhere in the world that Good News is bringing blessings and is growing. This has happened with you, too, since you heard the Good News and understood the truth about the grace of God. <sup>7</sup>You learned about God's grace from Epaphras, whom we love. He works together with us and is a faithful servant of Christ for us. <sup>8</sup>He also told us about the love you have from the Holy Spirit.

<sup>9</sup>Because of this, since the day we heard about you, we have continued praying for you, asking God that you will know fully what he wants. We pray that you will also have great wisdom and understanding in spiritual things <sup>10</sup>so that you will live the kind of life that honors and pleases the Lord in every way. You will produce fruit in every good work and grow in the knowledge of God. <sup>11</sup>God will strengthen you with his own great power so that you will not give up when troubles come, but you will be patient. <sup>12</sup>And you will joyfully give thanks to the Father who has made you able to have a share in all that he has prepared for his people in the kingdom of light. <sup>13</sup>God has freed us from the power of darkness, and he brought us into the kingdom of his dear Son. <sup>14</sup>The Son paid for our sins, and in him we have forgiveness.

The Importance of Christ

<sup>15</sup>No one can see God, but Jesus Christ is exactly like him. He ranks higher than everything that has been made. <sup>16</sup>Through his power all things were made—things in heaven and on earth, things seen and unseen, all powers, authorities, lords, and rulers. All things were made through Christ and for Christ. <sup>17</sup>He was there before anything was made, and all things continue because of him. <sup>18</sup>He is the head of the body, which is the church. Everything comes from him. He is the first one who was raised from the dead. So in all things Jesus has first place. <sup>19</sup>God was pleased for all of himself to live in Christ. <sup>20</sup>And through Christ, God has brought all things back to himself again—things on earth and things in heaven. God made peace through the blood of Christ's death on the cross.

<sup>21</sup>At one time you were separated from God. You were his enemies in your minds, and the evil things you did were against God. <sup>22</sup>But now God has made you his friends again. He did this through Christ's death in the body so that he might bring you into God's presence as people who are holy, with no wrong, and with nothing of which God can judge you guilty. <sup>23</sup>This will happen if you continue strong and sure in your faith. You must not be moved away from the hope brought to you by the Good News that you heard. That same Good News has been told to everyone in the world, and I, Paul, help in preaching that Good News.

Paul's Work for the Church

<sup>24</sup>I am happy in my sufferings for you. There are things that Christ must still suffer through his body, the church. I am accepting, in my body, my part of these things that must be suffered. <sup>25</sup>I became a servant of the church because God gave me a special work to do that helps you, and that work is to tell fully the message of God. <sup>26</sup>This message is the secret that was hidden from everyone since the beginning of time, but now it is made known to God's holy people. <sup>27</sup>God decided to let his people know this rich and glorious secret which he has for all people. This secret is Christ himself, who is in you. He is our only hope for glory. <sup>28</sup>So we continue to preach Christ to each person, using all wisdom to warn and to teach everyone, in order to bring each one into God's presence as a mature person in Christ. <sup>29</sup>To do this, I work and struggle, using Christ's great strength that works so powerfully in me.

I want you to know how hard I work for you, those in Laodicea, and others who have never seen me.<sup>2</sup> I want them to be strengthened and joined together with love so that they may be rich in their understanding. This leads to their knowing fully God's secret, that is, Christ himself.<sup>3</sup> In him all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge are safely kept.

<sup>4</sup>I say this so that no one can fool you by arguments that seem good, but are false.<sup>5</sup> Though I am absent from you in my body, my heart is with you, and I am happy to see your good lives and your strong faith in Christ.

Life Lessons

Colossians 2:6–23

Situation

Many distractions surround us, even religious ones or church-centered activities. The center of our faith, however, should always be Jesus Christ.

Observation

Followers of Christ do not become sidetracked by the insights of religious cults or modern philosophies. Only one person warrants our allegiance and trust—Jesus.

Inspiration

When you are not sure that something is from the Spirit, tread softly. Back off. Use the Scriptures as your guide. If they are of the Lord, those unidentified inner promptings won't contradict anything biblically. Peace will remain your companion. The Lord doesn't lead against His own revealed Word. So don't get on a hobbyhorse over something that is questionable or clearly unbiblical.

... When you are confident that it's of God, stand firm, even against other people's doubts. Be strong and resolute. That's a part of walking by faith. There are times when other people will say, "There is no way in the world God could be in this"; yet you know absolutely in your heart that He is. At times like that, simply stand firm. You won't be able to convince them, but that's all right. God is still doing unusual things. BUT don't get weird. You can be confident in God without becoming spooky or seeing lots of things no one else can see.

(From Flying Closer to the Flame by Charles Swindoll)

Application

If unusual religious rituals have made you feel uneasy, or scholars have put your mind in a maze, don't be troubled. Keep your focus on Christ through prayer, Bible reading, and Christian fellowship.

Exploration

Obedience—Luke 17:7–10; 1 John 2:6.

Continue to Live in Christ

<sup>6</sup>As you received Christ Jesus the Lord, so continue to live in him. <sup>7</sup>Keep your roots deep in him and have your lives built on him. Be strong in the faith, just as you were taught, and always be thankful.

<sup>8</sup>Be sure that no one leads you away with false and empty teaching that is only human, which comes from the ruling spirits of this world, and not from Christ. <sup>9</sup>All of God lives in Christ fully (even when Christ was on earth), <sup>10</sup>and you have a full and true life in Christ, who is ruler over all rulers and powers.

<sup>11</sup>Also in Christ you had a different kind of circumcision, a circumcision not done by hands. It was through Christ's circumcision, that is, his death, that you were made free from the power of your sinful self. <sup>12</sup>When you were baptized, you were buried with Christ, and you were raised up with him through your faith in God's power that was shown when he raised Christ from the dead. <sup>13</sup>When you were spiritually dead because of your sins and because you were not free from the power of your sinful self, God made you alive with Christ, and he forgave all our sins. <sup>14</sup>He canceled the debt, which listed all the rules we failed to follow. He took away that record with its rules and nailed it to the cross. <sup>15</sup>God stripped the spiritual rulers and powers of their authority. With the cross, he won the victory and showed the world that they were powerless.

Don't Follow People's Rules

<sup>16</sup>So do not let anyone make rules for you about eating and drinking or about a religious feast, a New Moon Festival, or a Sabbath day. <sup>17</sup>These things were like a shadow of what was to come. But what is true and real has come and is found in Christ.

<sup>18</sup>Do not let anyone disqualify you by making you humiliate yourself and worship angels. Such people enter into visions, which fill them with foolish pride because of their human way of thinking. <sup>19</sup>They do not hold tightly to Christ, the head. It is from him that all the parts of the body are cared for and held together. So it grows in the way God wants it to grow.

<sup>20</sup>Since you died with Christ and were made free from the ruling spirits of the world, why do you act as if you still belong to this world by following rules like these: <sup>21</sup>“Don't eat this,” “Don't taste that,” “Don't even touch that thing”? <sup>22</sup>These rules refer to earthly things that are gone as soon as they are used. They are only man-made commands and teachings. <sup>23</sup>They seem to be wise, but they are only part of a man-made religion. They make people pretend not to be proud and make them punish their bodies, but they do not really control the evil desires of the sinful self.

Life Lessons

Colossians 3:1–4:1

Situation

Paul provided the Colossian church with guidelines for proper conduct. Paul needed to remind the Colossians whom they served.

Observation

A deep personal relationship with God through Jesus Christ will transform every area of our lives.

Inspiration

If people love you at 6:30 in the morning, one thing is sure: They love you. They don't love your title. They don't love your style. They don't love your accomplishments. They just love you...

Sounds like God's love.

"He has made perfect forever those who are being made holy," wrote another [Hebrews 10:14].

Underline the word "perfect." Note that the word is not "better." Not "improving." Not "on the upswing." God doesn't improve; he perfects. He doesn't enhance; he completes. What does the perfect person lack?

Now I realize that there's a sense in which we're imperfect. We still err. We still stumble. We still do exactly what we don't want to do. And that part of us is, according to the verse, "being made holy."

But when it comes to our position before God, we're perfect. When he sees each of us, he sees one who has been made perfect through the One who is perfect—Jesus Christ...

You are absolute perfection. Flawless. Without defects or mistakes. Unsullied. Unrivaled. Unmarred. Peerless. Virgin pure. Undeserved yet unreserved perfection.

No wonder heaven applauds when you wake up. A masterpiece has stirred. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

Is your relationship with Jesus noticeable by your words? Ask God for a vocabulary that reflects love for others without any bitterness or hate.

Your New Life in Christ

Since you were raised from the dead with Christ, aim at what is in heaven, where Christ is sitting at the right hand of God.<sup>2</sup> Think only about the things in heaven, not the things on earth.<sup>3</sup> Your old sinful self has died, and your new life is kept with Christ in God.<sup>4</sup> Christ is our life, and when he comes again, you will share in his glory.

<sup>5</sup>So put all evil things out of your life: sexual sinning, doing evil, letting evil thoughts control you, wanting things that are evil, and greed. This is really serving a false god. These things make God angry. <sup>7</sup>In your past, evil life you also did these things.

<sup>8</sup>But now also put these things out of your life: anger, bad temper, doing or saying things to hurt others, and using evil words when you talk. <sup>9</sup>Do not lie to each other. You have left your old sinful life and the things you did before. <sup>10</sup>You have begun to live the new life, in which you are being made new and are becoming like the One who made you. This new life brings you the true knowledge of God. <sup>11</sup>In the new life there is no difference between Greeks and Jews, those who are circumcised and those who are not circumcised, or people who are foreigners, or Scythians. There is no difference between slaves and free people. But Christ is in all believers, and Christ is all that is important.

<sup>12</sup>God has chosen you and made you his holy people. He loves you. So always do these things: Show mercy to others, be kind, humble, gentle, and patient. <sup>13</sup>Get along with each other, and forgive each other. If someone does wrong to you, forgive that person because the Lord forgave you. <sup>14</sup>Do all these things; but most important, love each other. Love is what holds you all together in perfect unity. <sup>15</sup>Let the peace that Christ gives control your thinking, because you were all called together in one body to have peace. Always be thankful. <sup>16</sup>Let the teaching of Christ live in you richly. Use all wisdom to teach and instruct each other by singing psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs with thankfulness in your hearts to God. <sup>17</sup>Everything you do or say should be done to obey Jesus your Lord. And in all you do, give thanks to God the Father through Jesus.

Your New Life with Other People

<sup>21</sup>Fathers, do not nag your children. If you are too hard to please, they may want to stop trying.

<sup>22</sup>Slaves, obey your masters in all things. Do not obey just when they are watching you, to gain their favor, but serve them honestly, because you respect the Lord. <sup>23</sup>In all the work you are doing, work the best you can. Work as if you were doing it for the Lord, not for people. <sup>24</sup>Remember that you will receive your reward from the Lord, which he promised to his people. You are serving the Lord Christ.<sup>25</sup> But remember that anyone who does wrong will be punished for that wrong, and the Lord treats everyone the same.

Masters, give what is good and fair to your slaves. Remember that you have a Master in heaven.

Life Lessons

Colossians 4:2–18

Situation

Paul concluded his letter with some final practical advice and greetings.

Observation

Christians who desire to share their faith must pray and watch for opportunities.

Inspiration

Disciplined thought and planning should go into evangelism... . We must think about evangelism whenever we talk with outsiders—wisely making the most of every opportunity....

Whether with someone you're around frequently or with someone you've met for the first time, the best way I've found to turn the conversation toward spiritual matters is to ask the person how you can pray for him or her. Although it's almost routine to the Christian, most non-Christians don't know of anyone who is praying for them. I've discovered that unbelievers are often deeply moved by this unusual expression of concern....

But the point in all these possibilities is that you will have to discipline yourself to bring them about. They won't just happen. You'll have to discipline yourself to ask your neighbors how you can pray for them or when you can share a meal with them. You'll have to discipline yourself to get with your coworkers during off-hours. Many such opportunities for evangelism will never take place if you wait for them to occur spontaneously. The world, the flesh, and the Devil will do their best to see to that. You, however, backed by the invincible power of the Holy Spirit, can make sure that these enemies of the gospel do not win. (From Spiritual Disciplines of the Christian Life by Donald S. Whitney)

Application

Do you share the message of the Lord Jesus with others? Pray and ask God to give you opportunities to tell others about Jesus, especially those you encounter regularly. Be sure that nothing in your daily conversation contradicts the message you proclaim. Be set apart from non-Christians by what you say.

What the Christians Are to Do

<sup>3</sup>Also pray for us that God will give us an opportunity to tell people his message. Pray that we can preach the secret that God has made known about Christ. This is why I am in prison.

<sup>4</sup>Pray that I can speak in a way that will make it clear, as I should.

<sup>5</sup>Be wise in the way you act with people who are not believers, making the most of every opportunity. <sup>6</sup>When you talk, you should always be kind and pleasant so you will be able to answer everyone in the way you should.

News About the People with Paul

<sup>7</sup>Tychicus is my dear brother in Christ and a faithful minister and servant with me in the Lord. He will tell you all the things that are happening to me. <sup>8</sup>This is why I am sending him: so you may know how we are and he may encourage you. <sup>9</sup>I send him with Onesimus, a faithful and dear brother in Christ, and one of your group. They will tell you all that has happened here.

<sup>10</sup>Aristarchus, a prisoner with me, and Mark, the cousin of Barnabas, greet you. (I have already told you what to do about Mark. If he comes, welcome him.) <sup>11</sup>Jesus, who is called Justus, also greets you. These are the only Jewish believers who work with me for the kingdom of God, and they have been a comfort to me.

<sup>12</sup>Epaphras, a servant of Jesus Christ, from your group, also greets you. He always prays for you that you will grow to be spiritually mature and have everything God wants for you. <sup>13</sup>I know he has worked hard for you and the people in Laodicea and in Hierapolis. <sup>14</sup>Demas and our dear friend Luke, the doctor, greet you.

<sup>15</sup>Greet the brothers in Laodicea. And greet Nympha and the church that meets in her house. <sup>16</sup>After this letter is read to you, be sure it is also read to the church in Laodicea. And you read the letter that I wrote to Laodicea. <sup>17</sup>Tell Archippus, “Be sure to finish the work the Lord gave you.”

<sup>18</sup>I, Paul, greet you and write this with my own hand. Remember me in prison. Grace be with you.

The Book of 1 Thessalonians

Introduction

In the third century, St. Cyprian wrote to a friend named Donatus:

This seems a cheerful world, Donatus, when I view it from this fair garden under the shadow of these vines. But if I climbed some great mountain and looked out over the wide lands, you know very well what I would see; brigands on the high road, pirates on the seas, in the amphitheaters men murdered to please the applauding crowds, under all roofs misery and selfishness. It really is a bad world, Donatus, an incredibly bad world.

*Yet, in the midst of it, I have found a quiet and holy people. They have discovered a joy which is a thousand times better than any pleasure of this sinful life. They are despised and persecuted, but they care not. They have overcome the world. These people, Donatus, are Christians ... and I am one of them (Gordon MacDonald, Forging a Realworld Faith).*

What a compliment! A quiet and holy people. Is there any phrase that captures the essence of the faith any better? A quiet and holy people.

Quiet.

Not obnoxious. Not boastful. Not demanding. Just quiet. Contagiously quiet.

Holy.

Set apart. Pure. Decent. Honest. Wholesome. Holy. A quiet and holy people.

Paul urges the same from us.

“Do all you can to live a peaceful life. Take care of your own business, and do your own work as we have already told you. If you do, then people who are not believers will respect you, and you will not have to depend on others for what you need” (4:11–12).

A quiet and holy people. That describes the church in Thessalonica. May that describe the church today.

Life Lessons

1 Thessalonians 1:1-10

Situation

Paul and Silas preached in Thessalonica and helped many new Christians. They left quickly because of persecution from the Jews (Acts 17) and could not return. The church in Thessalonica faced persecution. Paul wrote with encouragement and instructions for proper living.

Observation

The Thessalonians were commended for their faith and good works. They became an example of faith and love to all Believers.

Inspiration

I have found that the casual Christian has little or no influence upon others. I am finding that it is only the Christian who refuses to compromise in matters of honesty, integrity and morality who is bearing an effective witness for Christ. The worldly Christian is prepared to do as the world does and will condone practices which are dishonest and unethical because he is afraid of the world's displeasure. Only by a life of obedience to the voice of the Spirit, by daily dying to self, by a full dedication to Christ and constant fellowship with Him, are we able to live a godly life and have a positive influence in this present ungodly world. (From Unto the Hills by Billy Graham)

Application

Are you an example of faith and love to the people around you? Do you have a reputation for being faithful? What attitudes are typical of people whose faith you respect?

Exploration

Being an Example—Acts 17:1–9; 1 Corinthians 11:1; 2 Corinthians 2:14–17; 4:1–3; 1 Timothy 4:12.

From Paul, Silas, and Timothy.

To the church in Thessalonica, the church in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

Grace and peace to you.

The Faith of the Thessalonians

<sup>2</sup>We always thank God for all of you and mention you when we pray. <sup>3</sup>We continually recall before God our Father the things you have done because of your faith and the work you have done because of your love. And we thank him that you continue to be strong because of your hope in our Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>4</sup>Brothers and sisters, God loves you, and we know he has chosen you, <sup>5</sup>because the Good News we brought to you came not only with words, but with power, with the Holy Spirit, and with sure knowledge that it is true. Also you know how we lived when we were with you in order to help you. <sup>6</sup>And you became like us and like the Lord. You suffered much, but still you accepted the teaching with the joy that comes from the Holy Spirit. <sup>7</sup>So you became an example to all the believers in Macedonia and Southern Greece. <sup>8</sup>And the Lord's teaching spread from you not only into Macedonia and Southern Greece, but now your faith in God has become known everywhere. So we do not need to say anything about it. <sup>9</sup>People everywhere are telling about the way you accepted us when we were there with you. They tell how you stopped worshiping idols and began serving the living and true God.

<sup>10</sup>And you wait for God's Son, whom God raised from the dead, to come from heaven. He is Jesus, who saves us from God's angry judgment that is sure to come.

Life Lessons

1 Thessalonians 2:1–3:13

Situation

Paul encouraged Believers to be dedicated to God despite trying circumstances.

Observation

Dedicate your life to God. Speak with empathy, give with generosity, treat others gently.

Inspiration

Each of us should lead a life stirring enough to start a movement. We should yearn to change the world. We should love unquenchably, dream unflinching, and work unceasingly.

We should close our ears to the manifold voices of compromise and perch ourselves on the branch of truth. We should champion the value of people, proclaim the forgiveness of God, and claim the promise of heaven.

Will we see a movement occur? Perhaps and perhaps not. Movements never run their course in one generation. The great revivals and reformations that dot the history of humanity were never the work of just one person. Every movement is the sum of visionaries who have gone before, generations of uncompromised lives and non-negotiated truths. Let's live lives stirring and forceful enough to cause a movement. A true mark of a visionary is his willingness to lay down his life for those whom he'll never see. (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Paul's Work in Thessalonica

Brothers and sisters, you know our visit to you was not a failure. <sup>2</sup>Before we came to you, we suffered in Philippi. People there insulted us, as you know, and many people were against us. But our God helped us to be brave and to tell you his Good News. <sup>3</sup>Our appeal does not come from lies or wrong reasons, nor were we trying to trick you. <sup>4</sup>But we speak the Good News because God tested us and trusted us to do it. When we speak, we are not trying to please people, but God, who tests our hearts. <sup>5</sup>You know that we never tried to influence you by saying nice things about you. We were not trying to get your money; we had no selfishness to hide from you. God knows that this is true. <sup>6</sup>We were not looking for human praise, from you or anyone else, <sup>7</sup>even though as apostles of Christ we could have used our authority over you.

But we were very gentle with you, like a mother caring for her little children. <sup>8</sup>Because we loved you, we were happy to share not only God's Good News with you, but even our own lives. You had become so dear to us! <sup>9</sup>Brothers and sisters, I know you remember our hard work and difficulties. We worked night and day so we would not burden any of you while we preached God's Good News to you.

<sup>10</sup>When we were with you, we lived in a holy and honest way, without fault. You know this is true, and so does God.

<sup>11</sup>You know that we treated each of you as a father treats his own children. <sup>12</sup>We encouraged you, we urged you, and we insisted that you live good lives for God, who calls you to his glorious kingdom.

<sup>13</sup>Also, we always thank God because when you heard his message from us, you accepted it as the word of God, not the words of humans. And it really is God's message which works in you who believe. <sup>14</sup>Brothers and sisters, your experiences have been like those of God's churches in Christ that are in Judea. You suffered from the people of your own country, as they suffered from the Jews, <sup>15</sup>who killed both the Lord Jesus and the prophets and forced us to leave that country. They do not please God and are against all people. <sup>16</sup>They try to stop us from teaching those who are not Jews so they may be saved. By doing this, they are increasing their sins to the limit. The anger of God has come to them at last.

Paul Wants to Visit Them Again

<sup>17</sup>Brothers and sisters, though we were separated from you for a short time, our thoughts were still with you. We wanted very much to see you and tried hard to do so. <sup>18</sup>We wanted to come to you. I, Paul, tried to come more than once, but Satan stopped us. <sup>19</sup>You are our hope, our joy, and the crown we will take pride in when our Lord Jesus Christ comes. <sup>20</sup>Truly you are our glory and our joy.

When we could not wait any longer, we decided it was best to stay in Athens alone <sup>2</sup>and send Timothy to you. Timothy, our brother, works with us for God and helps us tell people the Good News about Christ. We sent him to strengthen and encourage you in your faith <sup>3</sup>so none of you would be upset by these troubles. You yourselves know that we must face these troubles. <sup>4</sup>Even when we were with you, we told you we all would have to suffer, and you know it has happened. <sup>5</sup>Because of this, when I could wait no longer, I sent Timothy to you so I could learn about your faith. I was afraid the devil had tempted you, and then our hard work would have been wasted.

<sup>6</sup>But Timothy now has come back to us from you and has brought us good news about your faith and love. He told us that you always remember us in a good way and that you want to see us just as much as we want to see you. <sup>7</sup>So, brothers and sisters, while we have much trouble and suffering, we are encouraged about you because of your faith. <sup>8</sup>Our life is really full if you stand strong in the Lord. <sup>9</sup>We have so much joy before our God because of you. We cannot thank him enough for all the joy we feel. <sup>10</sup>Night and day we continue praying with all our heart that we can see you again and give you all the things you need to make your faith strong.

<sup>11</sup>Now may our God and Father himself and our Lord Jesus prepare the way for us to come to you. <sup>12</sup>May the Lord make your love grow more and multiply for each other and for all people so that you will love others as we love you. <sup>13</sup>May your hearts be made strong so that you will be holy and without fault before our God and Father when our Lord Jesus comes with all his holy ones.

Life Lessons

1 Thessalonians 4:1–5:28

Situation

Paul expressed to the Thessalonians that their lives should remain pure as they watched for the second coming of Jesus.

Observation

Be pure in all that you do. We are commanded to keep ourselves busy. By doing this, we can keep ourselves from evil.

Inspiration

An intriguing verse is found in 1 Thessalonians 4:16, “The Lord himself will come down from heaven with a loud command.”

Have you ever wondered what that command will be? It will be the inaugural word of heaven. It will be the first audible message most have heard from God. It will be the word which closes one age and opens a new one.

I think I know what the command will be. I could very well be wrong, but I think the command which puts an end to the pains of the earth and initiates the joys of heaven will be two words:

“No more.”

The King of kings will raise his pierced hand and proclaim, “No more.”

The angels will stand and the Father will speak, “No more.”

Every person who lives and who ever lived will turn toward the sky and hear God announce, “No more.”

No more loneliness. No more tears. No more death. No more sadness. No more crying. No more pain.

As John sat on the Island of Patmos surrounded by sea and separated from friends he dreamt of the day when God would say, “No more.”

This same disciple who had heard Jesus speak these words of assurance over a half a century before now knew what they meant. I wonder if he could hear the voice of Jesus in his memory.

“The end will come.”

For those who live for this world, that’s bad news. But for those who live for the world to come, it’s an encouraging promise.

You’re on a land mine, my friend, and it’s only a matter of time: “For in this world you will have trouble. . . .” Next time you are tossed into a river as you ride the rapids of life, remember his words of assurance.

Those who endure will be saved. The gospel will be preached. The end will come.

You can count on it. (From And the Angels Were Silent by Max Lucado)

A Life that Pleases God

Brothers and sisters, we taught you how to live in a way that will please God, and you are living that way. Now we ask and encourage you in the Lord Jesus to live that way even more. <sup>2</sup>You know what we told you to do by the authority of the Lord Jesus. <sup>3</sup>God wants you to be holy and to stay away from sexual sins. <sup>4</sup>He wants each of you to learn to control your own body in a way that is holy and honorable. <sup>5</sup>Don't use your body for sexual sin like the people who do not know God. <sup>6</sup>Also, do not wrong or cheat another Christian in this way. The Lord will punish people who do those things as we have already told you and warned you. <sup>7</sup>God called us to be holy and does not want us to live in sin. <sup>8</sup>So the person who refuses to obey this teaching is disobeying God, not simply a human teaching. And God is the One who gives us his Holy Spirit.

<sup>9</sup>We do not need to write you about having love for your Christian family, because God has already taught you to love each other. <sup>10</sup>And truly you do love the Christians in all of Macedonia. Brothers and sisters, now we encourage you to love them even more.

<sup>11</sup>Do all you can to live a peaceful life. Take care of your own business, and do your own work as we have already told you. <sup>12</sup>If you do, then people who are not believers will respect you, and you will not have to depend on others for what you need.

The Lord's Coming

<sup>13</sup>Brothers and sisters, we want you to know about those Christians who have died so you will not be sad, as others who have no hope. <sup>14</sup>We believe that Jesus died and that he rose again. So, because of him, God will raise with Jesus those who have died. <sup>15</sup>What we tell you now is the Lord's own message. We who are living when the Lord comes again will not go before those who have already died. <sup>16</sup>The Lord himself will come down from heaven with a loud command, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trumpet call of God. And those who have died believing in Christ will rise first. <sup>17</sup>After that, we who are still alive will be gathered up with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And we will be with the Lord forever. <sup>18</sup>So encourage each other with these words.

Be Ready for the Lord's Coming

Now, brothers and sisters, we do not need to write you about times and dates. <sup>2</sup>You know very well that the day the Lord comes again will be a surprise, like a thief that comes in the night. <sup>3</sup>While people are saying, "We have peace and we are safe," they will be destroyed quickly. It is like pains that come quickly to a woman having a baby. Those people will not escape. <sup>4</sup>But you, brothers and sisters, are not living in darkness, and so that day will not surprise you like a thief. <sup>5</sup>You are all people who belong to the light and to the day. We do not belong to the night or to darkness. <sup>6</sup>So we should not be like other people who are sleeping, but we should be alert and have self-control. <sup>7</sup>Those who sleep, sleep at night. Those who get drunk, get drunk at night. <sup>8</sup>But we belong to the day, so we should control ourselves. We should wear faith and love to protect us, and the hope of salvation should be our helmet. <sup>9</sup>God did not choose us to suffer his anger but to have salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>10</sup>Jesus died for us so that we can live together with him, whether we are alive or dead when he comes. <sup>11</sup>So encourage each other and give each other strength, just as you are doing now.

Final Instructions and Greetings

<sup>12</sup>Now, brothers and sisters, we ask you to appreciate those who work hard among you, who lead you in the Lord and teach you. <sup>13</sup>Respect them with a very special love because of the work they do.

Live in peace with each other. <sup>14</sup>We ask you, brothers and sisters, to warn those who do not work. Encourage the people who are afraid. Help those who are weak. Be patient with everyone. <sup>15</sup>Be sure that no one pays back wrong for wrong, but always try to do what is good for each other and for all people.

<sup>23</sup>Now may God himself, the God of peace, make you pure, belonging only to him. May your whole self—spirit, soul, and body—be kept safe and without fault when our Lord Jesus Christ comes. <sup>24</sup>You can trust the One who calls you to do that for you.

<sup>25</sup>Brothers and sisters, pray for us.

<sup>26</sup>Give each other a holy kiss when you meet. <sup>27</sup>I tell you by the authority of the Lord to read this letter to all the believers.

<sup>28</sup>The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

Brothers and sisters Although the Greek text says “Brothers” here and throughout this book, Paul’s words were meant for the entire church, including men and women.

Judea The Jewish land where Jesus lived and taught and where the church first began.

learn ... body This might also mean “learn to live with your own wife.”

archangel The leader among God’s angels or messengers.

The Book of 2 Thessalonians

Introduction

I'm seated on an airplane. A grounded airplane.

I'm surrounded by kids. Restless kids.

The kids are mine. The plane is not. The plane is late, however, and my kids are restless. I took them with me on a trip so we'd have a bit of time together. This is more than I had in mind.

They ask the questions you'd expect of a five-and eight-year-old. "Are they bringing drinks yet?"

"When are we going to leave?"

"How much more time?"

"Are we nearly home?"

"Why is it taking so long?"

Questions. Lots of questions. The kind of questions that were circulating through the church at Thessalonica. They, too, were restless. Somewhere they got the idea that Jesus was returning tomorrow so they got ready. Some were selling their homes, others were quitting their work, and all were twiddling their thumbs while awaiting the return of Christ.

Paul gets wind of their assumption and writes them this letter. He urges them not to buy into the reports that the final days have already begun (2:1-2). Several things still need to occur first (2:3-12); and until they do, their task is to be patient and alert.

No easy task. Human nature tends to one or the other. We tend to be so patient we aren't alert, or so alert we aren't patient. The church becomes a hybrid of the restless and the resting. The result can be squabbling kids. Just like mine. They've done their best to be patient, but after a while a person can only take so much.

“Hang in there,” I say.

“We’ll be home soon,” I urge.

“Try to get along,” I exhort.

(I’m starting to sound a lot like Paul.)

Life Lessons

2 Thessalonians 1:1–12

Situation

Paul wrote a second letter to the Thessalonians less than a year after the first. The Thessalonians continued to grow in their new faith, but Paul needed to correct misunderstandings that resulted from his teaching on Christ's second coming.

Observation

Paul thanked God for the Thessalonians' spiritual growth, and he also urged them to persevere through persecution while they awaited Jesus' return.

Inspiration

All of us need encouragement—somebody to believe in us. To reassure and reinforce us. To help us pick up the pieces and go on. To provide us with increased determination in spite of the odds.

When you stop to analyze the concept, “encourage” takes on new meaning. It's the act of inspiring others with renewed courage, spirit, hope. When we encourage others we spur them on, we stimulate and affirm them. . . .

Most of us need massive doses of it as we slug it out in the trenches. But we are usually too proud to admit it. Unfortunately, this pride is as prevalent among members of God's family as it is on the streets of the world. . . .

The beautiful part about encouragement is this: Anybody can do it. You don't need a lot of money to carry it out. You don't even need to be a certain age. In fact, some of the most encouraging actions or words I've received have come from my own children at a time when my heart was heavy. They saw the need and moved right in... . They "came alongside and helped."

(From Strengthening Your Grip by Charles Swindoll)

Application

How would you feel if someone sent a letter to you thanking God for you, boasting of you, and telling you that they were praying for you? We could all use this kind of mail. Write a letter of encouragement to someone this week.

Exploration

Encouragement—Ezra 5:1-2; Acts 11:23-24; 14:21-22; 1 Corinthians 14:3; 1 Thessalonians 5:9-11.

From Paul, Silas, and Timothy.

To the church in Thessalonica in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

<sup>2</sup>Grace and peace to you from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Paul Talks About God's Judgment

<sup>3</sup>We must always thank God for you, brothers and sisters. This is only right, because your faith is growing more and more, and the love that every one of you has for each other is increasing.

<sup>4</sup>So we brag about you to the other churches of God. We tell them about the way you continue to be strong and have faith even though you are being treated badly and are suffering many troubles.

<sup>5</sup>This is proof that God is right in his judgment. He wants you to be counted worthy of his kingdom for which you are suffering. <sup>6</sup>God will do what is right. He will give trouble to those who trouble you. <sup>7</sup>And he will give rest to you who are troubled and to us also when the Lord Jesus appears with burning fire from heaven with his powerful angels. <sup>8</sup>Then he will punish those who do not know God and who do not obey the Good News about our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>9</sup>Those people will be punished with a destruction that continues forever. They will be kept away from the Lord and from his great power.

<sup>10</sup>This will happen on the day when the Lord Jesus comes to receive glory because of his holy people. And all the people who have believed will be amazed at Jesus. You will be in that group, because you believed what we told you.

<sup>11</sup>That is why we always pray for you, asking our God to help you live the kind of life he called you to live. We pray that with his power God will help you do the good things you want and perform the works that come from your faith. <sup>12</sup>We pray all this so that the name of our Lord Jesus Christ will have glory in you, and you will have glory in him. That glory comes from the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Life Lessons

2 Thessalonians 2:1–3:18

Situation

The term “day of the Lord” means the future, final judgment day. False teachers had told the Thessalonians that this day had already come. Many, therefore, had quit their jobs and were waiting for God to rescue them from suffering and persecution.

Observation

Paul asked God to encourage and strengthen the Thessalonians. God also gives us hope for the future, and that hope is good and beneficial.

Inspiration

How could he [Jesus] get by with such words [John 11:25–27]? Who was he to make such a claim? What qualified him to offer grace to one woman and a promise of resurrection to another? Simple. He had done what the dove did. He’d crossed the shoreline of the future land and journeyed among the trees. And from the grove of grace he plucked a leaf for the woman. And from the tree of life he pulled a sprig for Martha.

And from both he brings leaves to you. Grace and life. Forgiveness of sin. The defeat of death. This is the hope he gives. This is the hope we need.

In his book The Grand Essentials, Ben Patterson tells of an S-4 submarine that sank off the coast of Massachusetts. The entire crew was trapped. Every effort was made to rescue the sailors, but every effort failed. Near the end of the ordeal, a deep-sea diver heard tapping on the steel wall of the sunken sub. As he placed his helmet against the vessel, he realized he was hearing a sailor tap out this question in Morse code: “Is there any hope?”

To the guilty that ask that question, Jesus says, “Yes!”

To the death-struck that ask that question, Jesus answers, “Yes!”

To all the Noahs of the world, to all who search the horizon for a fleck of hope, he proclaims, “Yes!” And he comes. He comes as a dove. He comes bearing fruit from a distant land, from our future home. He comes with a leaf of hope.

Have you received yours? Don’t think your ark is too isolated. Don’t think your flood is too wide. Your toughest challenge is nothing more than bobby pins and rubber bands to God. Bobby pins and rubber bands?

My older sister used to give them to me when I was a child. I would ride my tricycle up and down the sidewalk, pretending that the bobby pins were keys and my trike was a truck. But one day I lost the “keys.” Crisis! What was I going to do? My search yielded nothing but tears and fear. But when I confessed my mistake to my sister, she just smiled. Being a decade older, she had a better perspective.

God has a better perspective as well. With all due respect, our severest struggles are, in his view, nothing worse than lost bobby pins and rubber bands. He is not confounded, confused, or discouraged.

Receive his hope, won't you? Receive it because you need it. Receive it so you can share it.

What do you suppose Noah did with his? What do you think he did with the leaf? Did he throw it overboard and forget about it? Do you suppose he stuck it in his pocket and saved it for a scrapbook? Or do you think he let out a whoop and assembled the troops and passed it around like the Hope Diamond it was?

Certainly he whooped. That's what you do with hope. What do you do with olive leaves? You pass them around. You don't stick them in your pocket. You give them to the ones you love. Love always hopes. "Love ... bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things" (1 Corinthians 13:4-7, NKJV, emphasis mine).

Love has hope in you. (From A Love Worth Giving by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you ever find yourself losing hope in this life? Recognize that your hope is based on what God has done for you in Christ. The world provides no hope. Reach out in love and compassion to the lost and let them know of your future hope.

Evil Things Will Happen

Brothers and sisters, we have something to say about the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and the time when we will meet together with him.<sup>2</sup>Do not become easily upset in your thinking or afraid if you hear that the day of the Lord has already come. Someone may say this in a prophecy or in a message or in a letter as if it came from us.<sup>3</sup>Do not let anyone fool you in any way. That day of the Lord will not come until the turning away from God happens and the Man of Evil, who is on his way to hell, appears.<sup>4</sup>He will be against and put himself above anything called God or anything that people worship. And that Man of Evil will even go into God's Temple and sit there and say that he is God.

<sup>5</sup>I told you when I was with you that all this would happen. Do you not remember?<sup>6</sup>And now you know what is stopping that Man of Evil so he will appear at the right time.<sup>7</sup>The secret power of evil is already working in the world, but there is one who is stopping that power. And he will continue to stop it until he is taken out of the way.<sup>8</sup>Then that Man of Evil will appear, and the Lord Jesus will kill him with the breath that comes from his mouth and will destroy him with the glory of his coming.<sup>9</sup>The Man of Evil will come by the power of Satan. He will have great power, and he will do many different false miracles, signs, and wonders.<sup>10</sup>He will use every kind of evil to trick those who are lost. They will die, because they refused to love the truth. (If they loved the truth, they would be saved.)

<sup>11</sup>For this reason God sends them something powerful that leads them away from the truth so they will believe a lie. <sup>12</sup>So all those will be judged guilty who did not believe the truth, but enjoyed doing evil.

You Are Chosen for Salvation

<sup>13</sup>Brothers and sisters, whom the Lord loves, God chose you from the beginning to be saved. So we must always thank God for you. You are saved by the Spirit that makes you holy and by your faith in the truth. <sup>14</sup>God used the Good News that we preached to call you to be saved so you can share in the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>15</sup>So, brothers and sisters, stand strong and continue to believe the teachings we gave you in our speaking and in our letter.

<sup>16-17</sup>May our Lord Jesus Christ himself and God our Father encourage you and strengthen you in every good thing you do and say. God loved us, and through his grace he gave us a good hope and encouragement that continues forever.

Pray for Us

And now, brothers and sisters, pray for us that the Lord's teaching will continue to spread quickly and that people will give honor to that teaching, just as happened with you.<sup>2</sup> And pray that we will be protected from stubborn and evil people, because not all people believe.

<sup>3</sup>But the Lord is faithful and will give you strength and will protect you from the Evil One.<sup>4</sup> The Lord makes us feel sure that you are doing and will continue to do the things we told you.<sup>5</sup> May the Lord lead your hearts into God's love and Christ's patience.

The Duty to Work

<sup>6</sup>Brothers and sisters, by the authority of our Lord Jesus Christ we command you to stay away from any believer who refuses to work and does not follow the teaching we gave you.<sup>7</sup> You yourselves know that you should live as we live. We were not lazy when we were with you.<sup>8</sup> And when we ate another person's food, we always paid for it. We worked very hard night and day so we would not be an expense to any of you.<sup>9</sup> We had the right to ask you to help us, but we worked to take care of ourselves so we would be an example for you to follow.<sup>10</sup> When we were with you, we gave you this rule: "Anyone who refuses to work should not eat."

<sup>11</sup>We hear that some people in your group refuse to work. They do nothing but busy themselves in other people's lives.

<sup>12</sup>We command those people and beg them in the Lord Jesus Christ to work quietly and earn their own food. <sup>13</sup>But you, brothers and sisters, never become tired of doing good.

<sup>14</sup>If some people do not obey what we tell you in this letter, then take note of them. Have nothing to do with them so they will feel ashamed. <sup>15</sup>But do not treat them as enemies. Warn them as fellow believers.

Final Words

<sup>16</sup>Now may the Lord of peace give you peace at all times and in every way. The Lord be with all of you.

<sup>17</sup>I, Paul, end this letter now in my own handwriting. All my letters have this to show they are from me. This is the way I write.

<sup>18</sup>The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

brothers and sisters Although the Greek text says “brothers” here and throughout this book, Paul’s words were meant for the entire church, including men and women.

The Book of 1 Timothy

Introduction

Watch a small boy follow his dad through the snow. He stretches to step where his dad stepped. Not an easy task. His small legs extend as far as they can so his feet can fall in his father's prints.

The father, seeing what the son is doing, smiles and begins taking shorter steps, so the son can follow.

It's a picture of discipleship.

In our faith we follow in someone's steps. A parent, a teacher, a hero—none of us are the first to walk the trail. All of us have someone we follow.

In our faith we leave footprints to guide others. A child, a friend, a recent convert. None should be left to walk the trail alone.

It's the principle of discipleship.

Timothy didn't walk the trail alone. He followed in the steps of Paul, his father in the faith. Paul knew he was following. He also knew the snow was getting deep. So he slowed his pace to help. He penned a letter to Timothy, giving him practical advice on how to lead a church.

As a young minister, Timothy was faced with all sorts of challenges. Step by step, Paul patiently instructs him, and in doing so, he instructs us.

A few questions to consider as you read. Who are you following? When you get where you are going, will it be where you intended? Also, what kind of trail are you leaving? If someone follows your steps, will they arrive at the right place?

The message of 1 Timothy urges you: Watch your step.

Life Lessons

1 Timothy 1:1-2:15

Situation

Paul laid down guidelines for proper worship. He emphasized the importance of prayer and orderly worship.

Observation

Prayer is an important part of public worship.

Inspiration

We live in a society that is reasonably organized. Put a letter in the box, and it usually ends up where you want it to go. Order an item from a catalog, and it usually comes to you in the right size, color, and model. Ask someone to provide you a service, and it is reasonable to expect that it will work out that way. In other words, we are used to results in response to our arrangements. That is why prayer can be discouraging for some of us. How can we predict the result? We are tempted to abandon prayer as a viable exercise and try getting the results ourselves.

But the fact is that my prayer life cannot be directly tied to the results I expect or demand. I have had many opportunities by now to see that the things I want God to do in response to my prayers can be unhealthy for me. I have begun to see that worship and intercession are far more the business of aligning myself with God's purposes than asking Him to align with mine.

Henri Nouwen says it best when he writes:

“Prayer is a radical conversion of all our mental processes because in prayer we move away from ourselves, our worries, preoccupation, and self-gratification—and direct all that we recognize as ours to God in the simple trust that through His love all will be made new.” (From Ordering Your Private World by Gordon MacDonald)

Application

Worship God today and join with other Christians this Sunday in public prayer, singing, and Bible teaching. Let corporate worship become a first priority to you.

Exploration

Worship—1 Chronicles 16:29; Nehemiah 9:2–3; Psalm 100:2; Jeremiah 7:2–3; John 4:24.

From Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus, by the command of God our Savior and Christ Jesus our hope.

<sup>2</sup>To Timothy, a true child to me because you believe:

Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

Warning Against False Teaching

<sup>3</sup>I asked you to stay longer in Ephesus when I went into Macedonia so you could command some people there to stop teaching false things. <sup>4</sup>Tell them not to spend their time on stories that are not true and on long lists of names in family histories. These things only bring arguments; they do not help God's work, which is done in faith. <sup>5</sup>The purpose of this command is for people to have love, a love that comes from a pure heart and a good conscience and a true faith. <sup>6</sup>Some people have missed these things and turned to useless talk. <sup>7</sup>They want to be teachers of the law, but they do not understand either what they are talking about or what they are sure about.

<sup>8</sup>But we know that the law is good if someone uses it lawfully. <sup>9</sup>We also know that the law is not made for good people but for those who are against the law and for those who refuse to follow it. It is for people who are against God and are sinful, who are not holy and have no religion, who kill their fathers and mothers, who murder, <sup>10</sup>who take part in sexual sins, who have sexual relations with people of the same sex, who sell slaves, who tell lies, who speak falsely, and who do anything against the true teaching of God.<sup>11</sup> That teaching is part of the Good News of the blessed God that he gave me to tell.

Thanks for God's Mercy

<sup>12</sup>I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who gave me strength, because he trusted me and gave me this work of serving him.<sup>13</sup> In the past I spoke against Christ and persecuted him and did all kinds of things to hurt him. But God showed me mercy, because I did not know what I was doing. I did not believe.<sup>14</sup> But the grace of our Lord was fully given to me, and with that grace came the faith and love that are in Christ Jesus.

<sup>15</sup>What I say is true, and you should fully accept it: Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am the worst.<sup>16</sup> But I was given mercy so that in me, the worst of all sinners, Christ Jesus could show that he has patience without limit. His patience with me made me an example for those who would believe in him and have life forever.<sup>17</sup> To the King that rules forever, who will never die, who cannot be seen, the only God, be honor and glory forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>18</sup>Timothy, my child, I am giving you a command that agrees with the prophecies that were given about you in the past. I tell you this so you can follow them and fight the good fight.<sup>19</sup> Continue to have faith and do what you know is right. Some people have rejected this, and their faith has been shipwrecked.<sup>20</sup> Hymenaeus and Alexander have done that, and I have given them to Satan so they will learn not to speak against God.

Some Rules for Men and Women

First, I tell you to pray for all people, asking God for what they need and being thankful to him. <sup>2</sup>Pray for rulers and for all who have authority so that we can have quiet and peaceful lives full of worship and respect for God. <sup>3</sup>This is good, and it pleases God our Savior, <sup>4</sup>who wants all people to be saved and to know the truth. <sup>5</sup>There is one God and one way human beings can reach God. That way is through Christ Jesus, who is himself human. <sup>6</sup>He gave himself as a payment to free all people. He is proof that came at the right time. <sup>7</sup>That is why I was chosen to tell the Good News and to be an apostle. (I am telling the truth; I am not lying.) I was chosen to teach those who are not Jews to believe and to know the truth.

<sup>8</sup>So, I want the men everywhere to pray, lifting up their hands in a holy manner, without anger and arguments.

<sup>9</sup>Also, women should wear proper clothes that show respect and self-control, not using braided hair or gold or pearls or expensive clothes. <sup>10</sup>Instead, they should do good deeds, which is right for women who say they worship God.

<sup>11</sup>Let a woman learn by listening quietly and being ready to cooperate in everything. <sup>12</sup>But I do not allow a woman to teach or to have authority over a man, but to listen quietly, <sup>13</sup>because Adam was formed first and then Eve. <sup>14</sup>And Adam was not tricked, but the woman was tricked and became a sinner. <sup>15</sup>But she will be saved through having children if they continue in faith, love, and holiness, with self-control.

Life Lessons

1 Timothy 3:1–16

Situation

Paul laid down certain qualifications for selecting leaders in the church. These qualifications would help the church weed out undeserving candidates, develop Christian maturity, and bring glory and honor to God.

Observation

Leaders must know God's Word and have a mature Christian lifestyle. Every Christian ought to pursue these characteristics. Leaders must already have them.

Inspiration

How do we tear down the pedestals? How do we vigorously assert the biblical mindset of servant leadership, so radically at odds with the celebrity-crazed culture in which we live? Like everything else, it begins with each of us coming under the conviction of God's truth. All of us—pastors and lay leaders and parishioners—need to take a hard look at ourselves.

First, we must reassess our objectives . . . .

The church, as a witness to the kingdom of God, is to be a community that worships God and equips men and women to be disciples, growing in holiness and service. How can the church fulfill these functions if it is not a servant church—from pulpit to pew? And this being the case, the principal job of the pastor is to equip others to serve . . . .

Our second task is to consciously strive to avoid the snares. This is not easy. Temptations surround us every day—both our natural inclinations and the world’s style of authoritarian leadership. But there are ways to protect ourselves....

William Booth, founder and first general of the Salvation Army, sent a command to all of his missionaries in India: “Go to the Indian as a brother, which indeed you are, and show the love which none can doubt you feel ... eat and drink and dress and live by his side. Speak his language, share his sorrow.” ...

As Dietrich Bonhoeffer put it: “The church is herself only when she exists for humanity... . She must take her part in the social life of the world, not lording it over men, but helping and serving them. She must tell men, whatever their calling, what it means to live in Christ, to exist for others.”

If the church can only be the church when it exists for others, then the Christian can only be truly Christian when he or she is willing to be emptied out for others. There are no harder words in all of Scripture than Jesus’ commandment that we love one another as He loved us—which means love that lays down its life for another. (From The Body by Charles Colson)

Application

Make a list of all the qualifications Paul gave Timothy for Christian leadership. Rate yourself on each item. What three need your attention most? What steps can you take toward maturity? Pray that your family and friends would notice a difference in the next weeks as you sharpen your character.

Exploration

Leadership—Exodus 15:13; Numbers 27:15–17;
Deuteronomy 1:9–18; Luke 22:24–27; Titus 1:5–9;
Hebrews 13:17–19.

Elders in the Church

What I say is true: Anyone wanting to become an elder desires a good work.<sup>2</sup>An elder must not give people a reason to criticize him, and he must have only one wife. He must be self-controlled, wise, respected by others, ready to welcome guests, and able to teach.<sup>3</sup>He must not drink too much wine or like to fight, but rather be gentle and peaceable, not loving money.<sup>4</sup>He must be a good family leader, having children who cooperate with full respect.<sup>5</sup>(If someone does not know how to lead the family, how can that person take care of God's church?)<sup>6</sup>But an elder must not be a new believer, or he might be too proud of himself and be judged guilty just as the devil was.<sup>7</sup>An elder must also have the respect of people who are not in the church so he will not be criticized by others and caught in the devil's trap.

Deacons in the Church

<sup>8</sup>In the same way, deacons must be respected by others, not saying things they do not mean. They must not drink too much wine or try to get rich by cheating others.<sup>9</sup>With a clear conscience they must follow the secret of the faith that God made known to us.<sup>10</sup>Test them first. Then let them serve as deacons if you find nothing wrong in them.<sup>11</sup>In the same way, women must be respected by others. They must not speak evil of others. They must be self-controlled and trustworthy in everything. <sup>12</sup>Deacons must have only one wife and be good leaders of their children and their own families. <sup>13</sup>Those who serve well as deacons are making an honorable place for themselves, and they will be very bold in their faith in Christ Jesus.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The Final Payment

“With one sacrifice, Jesus made perfect forever those who are being made holy” (Hebrews 10:14). No more sacrifice needs to be made. No more deposits are necessary. So complete was the payment that Jesus used a banking term to proclaim your salvation. “It is finished” (John 19:30). Tetelestai was a financial term used to announce the final installment, the ultimate payment.

Now, if the task is finished, is anything else required of you? Of course not. If the account is full, what more could you add? Even saying the phrase “forgive our debts” does not earn grace. We repeat the words to remind us of the forgiveness we have, not to attain a forgiveness we need....

For some of you these thoughts about bounced checks and God’s grace aren’t new, but aren’t they precious? Honestly, have you ever been given a gift which compares to God’s grace? Finding this treasure of mercy makes the poorest beggar a prince. Missing this gift makes the wealthiest man a pauper.

Again, many of you knew that. I pray the reminder encourages you.

But for others, this is more than good news ... it is new news. You never knew there was a roof of grace. And what a grand roof it is. The tiles are thick and the beams are sturdy. Under it you are shielded from the storms of guilt and shame. Beneath the covering of Christ, no accuser can touch you and no act can condemn you.

Isn't it good to know you don't have to stand outside in the storm anymore?

"But is it big enough for me?" you ask. Well, it was big enough for one who denied Christ (Peter). One who mocked Christ (the thief on the cross). One who persecuted Christ (Paul). Yes, it's big enough for you. Though you've spent a lifetime writing insufficient checks, God has stamped these words on your statement: MY GRACE IS SUFFICIENT FOR YOU.

Picture, if you will, a blank check. The amount of the check is "sufficient grace." The signer of the check is Jesus. The only blank line is for the payee. That part is for you. May I urge you to spend a few moments with your Savior receiving this check? Reflect on the work of his grace. Look toward the roof. Its beams are from Calvary and the nails once held a Savior to the cross. His sacrifice was for you.

Express your thanks for his grace. Whether for the first time or the thousandth, let him hear you whisper, "Forgive us our debts." And let him answer your prayer as you imagine writing your name on the check.

Perhaps I best slip out now and leave the two of you to talk. I'll be waiting in the hallway of the Great House of God. (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

The Secret of Our Life

<sup>14</sup>Although I hope I can come to you soon, I am writing these things to you now. <sup>15</sup>Then, even if I am delayed, you will know how to live in the family of God. That family is the church of the living God, the support and foundation of the truth.

<sup>16</sup>Without doubt, the secret of our life of worship is great:

He was shown to us in a human body, proved right in spirit,
and seen by angels.

He was preached to those who are not Jews, believed in by the world,
and taken up in glory.

Life Lessons

1 Timothy 4:1–6:21

Situation

False teachers have always blemished the church. The false teachers in the Ephesian church did not believe Jesus was really human. They contradicted Scripture while appearing to be self-disciplined and morally righteous.

Observation

Christian leaders must be disciplined. They must guard their motives, be faithful to God and his Word, and live commendable lives. A false teacher can easily be detected if the teacher's message differs from the Bible's truth.

Inspiration

For you to rest—that is, to live in total acceptance of God's way—demands quiet....

To rest in God permanently means to hand over each activity, each situation of your life, to Him and to learn the habit of trusting Him to work for you.

We don't naturally rest. Naturally we are stewers, tinkerers, and fussers....

Have you too much to do? Are you pushed, rushed, harried?

Said George Fox long ago, "Come out of the bustlings you that are bustling."

To guard your inner life, you must guard your outer life. How's your pace? Are you too busy? ...

Does your pace allow you to keep in touch with yourself—with your inner needs and feelings and longings? Does it allow you time to think, plan, make changes? Does it allow you time to observe carefully the dear ones around you and care for their needs—physical and emotional? Do you have time to really live? ...

Asian theologian Kosuke Koyama says that in human affairs God moves at something like three miles an hour, the pace at which a person walks, not runs! Are you synchronized to your world, maybe even to your Christian world, but out of sync with God? ...

You will change when your inner life changes. But I just said your inner life is affected by your outer life! Then is the whole thing a vicious circle that can't be stopped?

No, the change begins with a decision. Your heart is your headquarters. Even as you read this chapter, make the decision, by a conscious act of your will, that you will learn to rest in God both in your inner life and your outer life. Once the decision is made—and you implement it as God opens your eyes to ways to implement it—gradually, gradually over the weeks or years, the changes will come. Your heart will start listening to a different pulse deep within you, and with joy you'll begin to match your steps to that lovely, restful beat. (From Disciplines of the Heart by Anne Ortlund)

Application

Are you satisfied with God's plans for you? Are you discontent because you are too young or too old? Impatient because you are not advancing as high as you would like? Frustrated with your restrictions? Be content where God has placed you. Live your life as an example to others. Speak boldly of what Christ has done for you and what he can do for others.

Exploration

Discipline—Proverbs 3:11–12; 12:1; 1 Corinthians 5; 2 Corinthians 2:5–11; Hebrews 12:5–11; Revelation 3:19.

A Warning About False Teachers

Now the Holy Spirit clearly says that in the later times some people will stop believing the faith. They will follow spirits that lie and teachings of demons.<sup>2</sup>Such teachings come from the false words of liars whose consciences are destroyed as if by a hot iron.<sup>3</sup>They forbid people to marry and tell them not to eat certain foods which God created to be eaten with thanks by people who believe and know the truth.<sup>4</sup>Everything God made is good, and nothing should be refused if it is accepted with thanks,<sup>5</sup>because it is made holy by what God has said and by prayer.

Be a Good Servant of Christ

<sup>6</sup>By telling these things to the brothers and sisters, you will be a good servant of Christ Jesus. You will be made strong by the words of the faith and the good teaching which you have been following.<sup>7</sup>But do not follow foolish stories that disagree with God's truth, but train yourself to serve God.<sup>8</sup>Training your body helps you in some ways, but serving God helps you in every way by bringing you blessings in this life and in the future life, too.<sup>9</sup>What I say is true, and you should fully accept it.<sup>10</sup>This is why we work and struggle: We hope in the living God who is the Savior of all people, especially of those who believe.

<sup>11</sup>Command and teach these things. <sup>12</sup>Do not let anyone treat you as if you are unimportant because you are young. Instead, be an example to the believers with your words, your actions, your love, your faith, and your pure life. <sup>13</sup>Until I come, continue to read the Scriptures to the people, strengthen them, and teach them. <sup>14</sup>Use the gift you have, which was given to you through prophecy when the group of elders laid their hands on you. <sup>15</sup>Continue to do those things; give your life to doing them so your progress may be seen by everyone. <sup>16</sup>Be careful in your life and in your teaching. If you continue to live and teach rightly, you will save both yourself and those who listen to you.

Rules for Living with Others

Do not speak angrily to an older man, but plead with him as if he were your father. Treat younger men like brothers,<sup>2</sup> older women like mothers, and younger women like sisters. Always treat them in a pure way.

<sup>3</sup>Take care of widows who are truly widows. <sup>4</sup>But if a widow has children or grandchildren, let them first learn to do their duty to their own family and to repay their parents or grandparents. That pleases God. <sup>5</sup>The true widow, who is all alone, puts her hope in God and continues to pray night and day for God's help. <sup>6</sup>But the widow who uses her life to please herself is really dead while she is alive. <sup>7</sup>Tell the believers to do these things so that no one can criticize them. <sup>8</sup>Whoever does not care for his own relatives, especially his own family members, has turned against the faith and is worse than someone who does not believe in God.

<sup>9</sup>To be on the list of widows, a woman must be at least sixty years old. She must have been faithful to her husband. <sup>10</sup>She must be known for her good works—works such as raising her children, welcoming strangers, washing the feet of God's people, helping those in trouble, and giving her life to do all kinds of good deeds.

<sup>11</sup>But do not put younger widows on that list. After they give themselves to Christ, they are pulled away from him by their physical needs, and then they want to marry again. <sup>12</sup>They will be judged for not doing what they first promised to do. <sup>13</sup>Besides that, they learn to waste their time, going from house to house. And they not only waste their time but also begin to gossip and busy themselves with other people's lives, saying things they should not say. <sup>14</sup>So I want the younger widows to marry, have children, and manage their homes. Then no enemy will have any reason to criticize them. <sup>15</sup>But some have already turned away to follow Satan.

<sup>16</sup>If any woman who is a believer has widows in her family, she should care for them herself. The church should not have to care for them. Then it will be able to take care of those who are truly widows.

<sup>17</sup>The elders who lead the church well should receive double honor, especially those who work hard by speaking and teaching, <sup>18</sup>because the Scripture says: “When an ox is working in the grain, do not cover its mouth to keep it from eating.” and “A worker should be given his pay.”

<sup>19</sup>Do not listen to someone who accuses an elder, without two or three witnesses. <sup>20</sup>Tell those who continue sinning that they are wrong. Do this in front of the whole church so that the others will have a warning.

<sup>21</sup>Before God and Christ Jesus and the chosen angels, I command you to do these things without showing favor of any kind to anyone.

<sup>22</sup>Think carefully before you lay your hands on anyone, and don't share in the sins of others. Keep yourself pure.

<sup>23</sup>Stop drinking only water, but drink a little wine to help your stomach and your frequent sicknesses.

<sup>24</sup>The sins of some people are easy to see even before they are judged, but the sins of others are seen only later. <sup>25</sup>So also good deeds are easy to see, but even those that are not easily seen cannot stay hidden.

All who are slaves under a yoke should show full respect to their masters so no one will speak against God's name and our teaching. <sup>2</sup>The slaves whose masters are believers should not show their masters any less respect because they are believers. They should serve their masters even better, because they are helping believers they love.

You must teach and preach these things.

False Teaching and True Riches

<sup>3</sup>Anyone who has a different teaching does not agree with the true teaching of our Lord Jesus Christ and the teaching that shows the true way to serve God. <sup>4</sup>This person is full of pride and understands nothing, but is sick with a love for arguing and fighting about words. This brings jealousy, fighting, speaking against others, evil mistrust, <sup>5</sup>and constant quarrels from those who have evil minds and have lost the truth. They think that serving God is a way to get rich.

<sup>6</sup>Serving God does make us very rich, if we are satisfied with what we have. <sup>7</sup>We brought nothing into the world, so we can take nothing out. <sup>8</sup>But, if we have food and clothes, we will be satisfied with that. <sup>9</sup>Those who want to become rich bring temptation to themselves and are caught in a trap. They want many foolish and harmful things that ruin and destroy people. <sup>10</sup>The love of money causes all kinds of evil. Some people have left the faith, because they wanted to get more money, but they have caused themselves much sorrow.

Some Things to Remember

<sup>11</sup>But you, man of God, run away from all those things. Instead, live in the right way, serve God, have faith, love, patience, and gentleness. <sup>12</sup>Fight the good fight of faith, grabbing hold of the life that continues forever. You were called to have that life when you confessed the good confession before many witnesses. <sup>13</sup>In the sight of God, who gives life to everything, and of Christ Jesus, I give you a command. Christ Jesus made the good confession when he stood before Pontius Pilate. <sup>14</sup>Do what you were commanded to do without wrong or blame until our Lord Jesus Christ comes again. <sup>15</sup>God will make that happen at the right time. He is the blessed and only Ruler, the King of all kings and the Lord of all lords. <sup>16</sup>He is the only One who never dies. He lives in light so bright no one can go near it. No one has ever seen God, or can see him. May honor and power belong to God forever. Amen.

<sup>17</sup>Command those who are rich with things of this world not to be proud. Tell them to hope in God, not in their uncertain riches. God richly gives us everything to enjoy. <sup>18</sup>Tell the rich people to do good, to be rich in doing good deeds, to be generous and ready to share. <sup>19</sup>By doing that, they will be saving a treasure for themselves as a strong foundation for the future. Then they will be able to have the life that is true life.

<sup>20</sup>Timothy, guard what God has trusted to you. Stay away from foolish, useless talk and from the arguments of what is falsely called “knowledge.” <sup>21</sup>By saying they have that “knowledge,” some have missed the true faith.

Grace be with you.

The Book of 2 Timothy

Introduction

I have kept the faith.

They have taken everything else. They have taken his freedom—he's locked in a Roman prison. They have taken his possessions—he hasn't even a shawl to keep him warm. They have taken his churches—he will not see them again. They have taken his future—he is sentenced to die.

What do you have left, Paul? What do you have left to show for your life? Had you stayed a Jew in Jerusalem, you'd have a seat of status and a house of retirement. Had you been more compromising, you might have gone unnoticed by the Romans. Had you been less passionate, you might have pastored a church and stayed in one city. But you were too convinced to compromise—too convicted to stay home.

And now, with the end in sight, with the verdict rendered and the end in sight, what do you have left?

The old apostle leans forward with eyes twinkling and says, I have kept the faith.

That was the heart of the apostle. And that is the heart of this Epistle. As far as we know, this is the last one he ever wrote. Paul picks up his pen one final time. He knows the end is near, "My life is being given as an offering to God," he tells Timothy, his son in the faith.

But he has no regrets, only counsel—practical, inspirational counsel for young Timothy, who has been left to lead the church in Ephesus. His tenderness for the young minister peeks out from behind every word. "Make every effort," he urges, "to give yourself to God as the kind of person he will accept. Be a worker who is not ashamed and who uses the true teaching in the right way” (2:15).

Timothy never had another teacher like Paul. The world has never had another teacher like Paul. He was convinced of two facts—he was once lost but then saved. He spent a lifetime telling every person who would listen.

In the end it cost him everything. For in the end, all he had was his faith. But in the end, his faith was all he needed.

Life Lessons

2 Timothy 1:1–18

Situation

Paul gave hope and encouragement to Timothy. Christians came under increasing persecution from Romans throughout the empire. The pressure to abandon the faith was strong.

Observation

We must seek strength from the Lord to deal with daily stresses and the pressure to abandon our faith.

Inspiration

In our house we call 5:0 P.M. the piranha hour. That's the time of day when everyone wants a piece of Mom. Sara, the baby, is hungry. Andrea wants Mom to read her a book. Jenna wants help with her homework. And I—the ever-loving, ever-sensitive husband—want Denalyn to drop everything and talk to me about my day.

When is your piranha hour? When do people in your world demand much and offer little?

Every boss has had a day in which the requests outnumber the results. There's not a businessperson alive who hasn't groaned as an armada of assignments docks at his or her desk. For the teacher, the piranha hour often begins when the first student enters and ends when the last student leaves.

Piranha hours: parents have them, bosses endure them, secretaries dread them, teachers are besieged by them, and Jesus taught us how to live through them successfully.

When hands extended and voices demanded, Jesus responded with love. He did so because the code within him disarmed the alarm. The code is worth noting: “People are precious.” (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

Do daily stresses cause you to doubt the power of God? Guard your heart against the external influences that attack your faith. Turn to the Lord for wisdom and strength to counter these challenges.

Exploration

Pressure—Genesis 25:32–33; Judges 6:25–30; Proverbs 4:23; Matthew 4:1; James 1:2–4.

From Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God. God sent me to tell about the promise of life that is in Christ Jesus.

<sup>2</sup>To Timothy, a dear child to me:

Grace, mercy, and peace to you from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

Encouragement for Timothy

<sup>3</sup>I thank God as I always mention you in my prayers, day and night. I serve him, doing what I know is right as my ancestors did. <sup>4</sup>Remembering that you cried for me, I want very much to see you so I can be filled with joy. <sup>5</sup>I remember your true faith. That faith first lived in your grandmother Lois and in your mother Eunice, and I know you now have that same faith. <sup>6</sup>This is why I remind you to keep using the gift God gave you when I laid my hands on you. Now let it grow, as a small flame grows into a fire. <sup>7</sup>God did not give us a spirit that makes us afraid but a spirit of power and love and self-control.

<sup>8</sup>So do not be ashamed to tell people about our Lord Jesus, and do not be ashamed of me, in prison for the Lord. But suffer with me for the Good News. God, who gives us the strength to do that, <sup>9</sup>saved us and made us his holy people. That was not because of anything we did ourselves but because of God's purpose and grace. That grace was given to us through Christ Jesus before time began, <sup>10</sup>but it is now shown to us by the coming of our Savior Christ Jesus. He destroyed death, and through the Good News he showed us the way to have life that cannot be destroyed. <sup>11</sup>I was chosen to tell that Good News and to be an apostle and a teacher. <sup>12</sup>I am suffering now because I tell the Good News, but I am not ashamed, because I know Jesus, the One in whom I have believed. And I am sure he is able to protect what he has trusted me with until that day. <sup>13</sup>Follow the pattern of true teachings that you heard from me in faith and love, which are in Christ Jesus. <sup>14</sup>Protect the truth that you were given; protect it with the help of the Holy Spirit who lives in us.

<sup>15</sup>You know that everyone in the country of Asia has left me, even Phygelus and Hermogenes. <sup>16</sup>May the Lord show mercy to the family of Onesiphorus, who has often helped me and was not ashamed that I was in prison. <sup>17</sup>When he came to Rome, he looked eagerly for me until he found me. <sup>18</sup>May the Lord allow him to find mercy from the Lord on that day. You know how many ways he helped me in Ephesus.

Life Lessons

2 Timothy 2:1-26

Situation

Believers in Timothy's church had lost their focus on Christ. Paul knew that concentrating on Christ and ignoring personal annoyances would help Timothy's problems.

Observation

Christians, even those enduring suffering, must focus on Jesus the Savior and avoid being distracted by worldly problems.

Inspiration

In the shop of a blacksmith, there are three types of tools.

There are tools on the junkpile: outdated, broken, dull, rusty....

There are tools on the anvil: melted down, molten hot, moldable, changeable....

There are tools of usefulness: sharpened, primed, defined, mobile. They lie ready in the blacksmith's toolchest, available to their master, fulfilling their calling....

We are all somewhere in the blacksmith's shop. We are either on the scrap pile, on the anvil, in the Master's hands, or in the toolchest. (Some of us have been in all three.) ...

From the shelves to the workbench, from the water to the fire....

I'm sure that somewhere you'll see yourself....

The rubbish pile of broken tools, the anvil of recasting, the hands of the Master—it’s a simultaneously joyful and painful voyage.

And for you who make the journey—who leave the heap and enter the fire, dare to be pounded on God’s anvil, and doggedly seek to discover your own purpose—take courage, for you await the privilege of being called “God’s chosen instruments.”

Application

Is your walk with the Lord obscured by day-to-day annoyances? Remember the priority of your relationship with the Lord and get back on track through prayer, Bible study, and worship.

A Loyal Soldier of Christ Jesus

You then, Timothy, my child, be strong in the grace we have in Christ Jesus. <sup>2</sup>You should teach people whom you can trust the things you and many others have heard me say. Then they will be able to teach others. <sup>3</sup>Share in the troubles we have like a good soldier of Christ Jesus. <sup>4</sup>A soldier wants to please the enlisting officer, so no one serving in the army wastes time with everyday matters. <sup>5</sup>Also an athlete who takes part in a contest must obey all the rules in order to win. <sup>6</sup>The farmer who works hard should be the first person to get some of the food that was grown. <sup>7</sup>Think about what I am saying, because the Lord will give you the ability to understand everything.

Christ Through the Bible

Christ the Savior

Picture the scene. Peter, John, James. They came back. Banking on some zany possibility that the well of forgiveness still had a few drops, they came back. Daring to dream that the master had left them some word, some plan, some direction, they came back.

But little did they know, their wildest dream wasn't wild enough. Just as someone mumbles, "It's no use," they hear a noise. They hear a voice.

"Peace be with you."

Every head lifted. Every eye turned. Every mouth dropped open. Someone looked at the door.

It was still locked.

It was a moment the apostles would never forget, a story they would never cease to tell. The stone of the tomb was not enough to keep him in. The walls of the room were not enough to keep him out.

The one betrayed sought his betrayers. What did he say to them? Not “What a bunch of flops!” Not “I told you so.” No “Where-were-you-when-I-needed-you?” speeches. But simply one phrase, “Peace be with you.” The very thing they didn’t have was the very thing he offered: peace.

It was too good to be true! So amazing was the appearance that some were saying, “Pinch me, I’m dreaming” even at the ascension. No wonder they returned to Jerusalem with great joy! No wonder they were always in the temple praising God!

A transformed group stood beside a transformed Peter as he announced some weeks later: “So, all the people of Israel should know this truly: God has made Jesus—the man you nailed to the cross—both Lord and Christ” (Acts 2:36).

No timidity in his words. No reluctance. About three thousand people believed his message.

The apostles sparked a movement. The people became followers of the death-conqueror. They couldn’t hear enough or say enough about him. . . . Christ was their model, their message. They preached “Jesus Christ and him crucified,” not for the lack of another topic, but because they couldn’t exhaust this one.

What unlocked the doors of the apostles' hearts?

Simple. They saw Jesus. They encountered the Christ. Their sins collided with their Savior and their Savior won! ... (From Six Hours One Friday by Max Lucado)

<sup>8</sup>Remember Jesus Christ, who was raised from the dead, who is from the family of David. This is the Good News I preach, <sup>9</sup>and I am suffering because of it to the point of being bound with chains like a criminal. But God's teaching is not in chains. <sup>10</sup>So I patiently accept all these troubles so that those whom God has chosen can have the salvation that is in Christ Jesus. With that salvation comes glory that never ends.

<sup>11</sup>This teaching is true:

If we died with him, we will also live with him.

<sup>12</sup>If we accept suffering, we will also rule with him.

If we refuse to accept him, he will refuse to accept us.

<sup>13</sup>If we are not faithful, he will still be faithful, because he cannot be false to himself.

A Worker Pleasing to God

<sup>14</sup>Continue teaching these things, warning people in God's presence not to argue about words. It does not help anyone, and it ruins those who listen. <sup>15</sup>Make every effort to give yourself to God as the kind of person he will accept. Be a worker who is not ashamed and who uses the true teaching in the right way. <sup>16</sup>Stay away from foolish, useless talk, because that will lead people further away from God. <sup>17</sup>Their evil teaching will spread like a sickness inside the body. Hymenaeus and Philetus are like that. <sup>18</sup>They have left the true teaching, saying that the rising from the dead has already taken place, and so they are destroying the faith of some people.

<sup>19</sup>But God's strong foundation continues to stand. These words are written on the seal: "The Lord knows those who belong to him." and "Everyone who wants to belong to the Lord must stop doing wrong."

<sup>20</sup>In a large house there are not only things made of gold and silver, but also things made of wood and clay. Some things are used for special purposes, and others are made for ordinary jobs. <sup>21</sup>All who make themselves clean from evil will be used for special purposes. They will be made holy, useful to the Master, ready to do any good work.

<sup>22</sup>But run away from the evil young people like to do. Try hard to live right and to have faith, love, and peace, together with those who trust in the Lord from pure hearts. <sup>23</sup>Stay away from foolish and stupid arguments, because you know they grow into quarrels. <sup>24</sup>And a servant of the Lord must not quarrel but must be kind to everyone, a good teacher, and patient. <sup>25</sup>The Lord's servant must gently teach those who disagree. Then maybe God will let them change their minds so they can accept the truth. <sup>26</sup>And they may wake up and escape from the trap of the devil, who catches them to do what he wants.

Life Lessons

2 Timothy 3:1–4:22

Situation

Paul warned that godlessness and evil schemes would increase as the end of history approached. People would follow false teachers who would tell them what they wanted to hear. Paul's words warned and encouraged Timothy to teach the Scriptures soundly.

Observation

Christians must guard against deceit by knowing what Scripture teaches.

Inspiration

The apostle Paul warned that many will follow the false teachers, not knowing that in feeding upon what these people say they are taking the devil's poison into their own lives. Thousands of people in every walk of life are being deceived today. False teachers use high-sounding words that seem like the height of logic, scholarship, and sophistication. They are intellectually clever and crafty in their sophistry. They are adept at beguiling men and women whose spiritual foundations are weak.

These false teachers have departed from the faith of God revealed in the Scripture... .

Writing to Timothy, the apostle Paul warned, "Now the Spirit expressly says that in latter times some will depart from the faith, giving heed to deceiving spirits and doctrines of demons, speaking lies in hypocrisy, having their own conscience seared with a hot iron.”

Paul later wrote to Timothy, “For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but according to their own desires, because they have itching ears, they will heap up for themselves teachers; and they will turn their ears away from the truth, and be turned aside to fables.” Doesn’t this sound familiar today? ...

God’s plan is not abstract or unclear. It is not a secret. He says very clearly, “I love you!” He has called tens of thousands all over the world to proclaim His love to the world and to call every man, woman, and child to His loving arms. To exemplify the army of God that is going forth at this moment into the world I can think of no better example than the thousands of “barefoot preachers” and other itinerant evangelists we helped train in Amsterdam during the past decade....

Preachers, teachers, students, and mission helpers came from all over the world. Thousands came from Africa... . They came from all over Asia, Latin America, and Eastern Europe, and they went out into the streets of Amsterdam to see and learn and share the love of Jesus Christ with others.

Today that mighty army of traveling preachers from every corner of the world is traveling from village to village and house to house preaching the good news of God’s love. Why do they do it? For the money? No, they receive almost no support for what they do. Many are lucky if they have a bicycle, a Bible, and a change of clothes. Do they do it for fame and fortune? There is none. In most cases only God knows what good works these humble, sincere pastors have done.

They do it because Jesus Christ is alive! He is living in their hearts, and that good news is something worthy to share with the world. They are compelled by the life that is in them to tell everyone that Jesus is Lord. If Jesus Christ is not the son of God, nothing matters. But if He is, nothing else matters! (From Storm Warning by Billy Graham)

Application

False religious teachers today still deceive people with twisted versions of “truth” that hurt people and sidetrack lives. Keep such people away from your family and church. You will find strength in the true gospel, not in phony substitutes.

Exploration

False Teachers—Deuteronomy 13:1–3; Matthew 7:15; 24:11; Mark 13:22–23; 2 Corinthians 11:3–4; 1 Timothy 4:1–2; 1 John 4:1–6.

The Last Days

Remember this! In the last days there will be many troubles, <sup>2</sup>because people will love themselves, love money, brag, and be proud. They will say evil things against others and will not obey their parents or be thankful or be the kind of people God wants. <sup>3</sup>They will not love others, will refuse to forgive, will gossip, and will not control themselves. They will be cruel, will hate what is good, <sup>4</sup>will turn against their friends, and will do foolish things without thinking. They will be conceited, will love pleasure instead of God, <sup>5</sup>and will act as if they serve God but will not have his power. Stay away from those people. <sup>6</sup>Some of them go into homes and get control of silly women who are full of sin and are led by many evil desires. <sup>7</sup>These women are always learning new teachings, but they are never able to understand the truth fully. <sup>8</sup>Just as Jannes and Jambres were against Moses, these people are against the truth. Their thinking has been ruined, and they have failed in trying to follow the faith. <sup>9</sup>But they will not be successful in what they do, because as with Jannes and Jambres, everyone will see that they are foolish.

Obey the Teachings

<sup>10</sup>But you have followed what I teach, the way I live, my goal, faith, patience, and love. You know I never give up. <sup>11</sup>You know how I have been hurt and have suffered, as in Antioch, Iconium, and Lystra. I have suffered, but the Lord saved me from all those troubles. <sup>12</sup>Everyone who wants to live as God desires, in Christ Jesus, will be hurt. <sup>13</sup>But people who are evil and cheat others will go from bad to worse. They will fool others, but they will also be fooling themselves.

<sup>14</sup>But you should continue following the teachings you learned. You know they are true, because you trust those who taught you. <sup>15</sup>Since you were a child you have known the Holy Scriptures which are able to make you wise. And that wisdom leads to salvation through faith in Christ Jesus. <sup>16</sup>All Scripture is given by God and is useful for teaching, for showing people what is wrong in their lives, for correcting faults, and for teaching how to live right. <sup>17</sup>Using the Scriptures, the person who serves God will be capable, having all that is needed to do every good work.

I give you a command in the presence of God and Christ Jesus, the One who will judge the living and the dead, and by his coming and his kingdom: <sup>2</sup>Preach the Good News. Be ready at all times, and tell people what they need to do. Tell them when they are wrong. Encourage them with great patience and careful teaching, <sup>3</sup>because the time will come when people will not listen to the true teaching but will find many more teachers who please them by saying the things they want to hear. <sup>4</sup>They will stop listening to the truth and will begin to follow false stories. <sup>5</sup>But you should control yourself at all times, accept troubles, do the work of telling the Good News, and complete all the duties of a servant of God.

<sup>6</sup>My life is being given as an offering to God, and the time has come for me to leave this life. <sup>7</sup>I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. <sup>8</sup>Now, a crown is being held for me—a crown for being right with God. The Lord, the judge who judges rightly, will give the crown to me on that day—not only to me but to all those who have waited with love for him to come again.

Personal Words

<sup>9</sup>Do your best to come to me as soon as you can, <sup>10</sup>because Demas, who loved this world, left me and went to Thessalonica. Crescens went to Galatia, and Titus went to Dalmatia. <sup>11</sup>Luke is the only one still with me. Get Mark and bring him with you when you come, because he can help me in my work here. <sup>12</sup>I sent Tychicus to Ephesus. <sup>13</sup>When I was in Troas, I left my coat there with Carpus. So when you come, bring it to me, along with my books, particularly the ones written on parchment. <sup>14</sup>Alexander the metalworker did many harmful things against me. The Lord will punish him for what he did. <sup>15</sup>You also should be careful that he does not hurt you, because he fought strongly against our teaching.

<sup>16</sup>The first time I defended myself, no one helped me; everyone left me. May they be forgiven. <sup>17</sup>But the Lord stayed with me and gave me strength so I could fully tell the Good News to all those who are not Jews. So I was saved from the lion's mouth. <sup>18</sup>The Lord will save me when anyone tries to hurt me, and he will bring me safely to his heavenly kingdom. Glory forever and ever be the Lord's. Amen.

Final Greetings

Eubulus sends greetings to you. Also Pudens, Linus, Claudia, and all the brothers and sisters in Christ greet you.

laid my hands on The laying on of hands had many purposes, including the giving of a blessing, power, or authority.

The Book of Titus

Introduction

The letter to Titus was the result of a storm of relativism, which left the Cretans with little values.

“Cretans are always liars, evil animals, and lazy people who do nothing but eat.” The words didn’t originate with Paul but might as well have. He used them to summarize the state of affairs on the island (1:12).

He had reason to lament. By the time of Paul the society had a despicable reputation. Greed was god. Schemers were admired. Cheating was wrong only if you got caught. Right and wrong were determined by the situation, and rape was not a crime.

The economy was so bad that boys were sold as mercenaries as young as the age of twelve. Hence, the people were left with few male role models and fewer abiding beliefs.

Paul established the church in the society and sent Titus to “finish doing the things that still needed to be done ...” (1:5). Since Paul had definite ideas as to what still needed to be done, we are given definite principles of a healthy church. Strong leadership is the first item. Titus is instructed to select elders and to do so carefully (1:4-16).

Strong character is the next. Judging from the style of life in Crete, it would have been easy for the Cretan Christians to compromise their convictions. Paul urges them not to.

Judging from the style of life in our world, we could do with the same reminder.

By the way, don’t miss Paul’s eloquent paragraph on grace (2:11-14). We’re familiar with grace which saves, but grace does much more. It trains us, “to live now in a wise and right way ...”

Something told Paul the Cretans needed such instruction. Something tells me, we do, too.

Life Lessons

Titus 1:1–2:15

Situation

The Christians in Titus's church needed role models. Imitating those who lived a God-honoring life would help them be morally distinct from their culture.

Observation

As we grow to become more like Christ, our behavior grows more distinctive from the world. Believers should be known for their eagerness to do good and help others.

Inspiration

Get it straight: Someone who sees grace as permission to sin has missed grace entirely. Mercy understood is holiness desired. “[Jesus] gave himself for us so he might pay the price to free us from all evil and to make us pure people who belong only to him —people who are always wanting to do good deeds” (Titus 2:14, italics mine).

Note that last phrase: “people who are always wanting to do good deeds.” Grace fosters an eagerness for good. Grace doesn't spawn a desire to sin. If one has truly embraced God's gift, he will not mock it. In fact, if a person uses God's mercy as liberty to sin, one might wonder whether the person ever knew God's mercy at all.

When my father gave me his [credit] card, he didn't attach a list of regulations. There was no contract for me to sign or rules for me to read. He didn't tell me to place my hand on the Bible and pledge to reimburse him for any expenses. In fact, he didn't ask for any payment at all. As things turned out, I went a few weeks into the semester without using it. Why? Because he gave me more than a card; he gave me his trust. And where I might break his rules, I wasn't about to abuse his trust.

God's trust makes us eager to do right. Such is the genius of grace. The law can show us where we do wrong, but it can't make us eager to do right. Grace can. Or as Paul answers, "Faith causes us to be what the law truly wants" (Romans 3:31). (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you truly love Christ? Do you look forward to his return? If you truly understand grace and mercy, you will desire godly living and will be eager to do "good deeds." What good deeds can you do today to serve and love others?

Exploration

Good Works—Philippians 1:11; Colossians 1:10; 2 Timothy 2:14–26; Hebrews 6:10; James 3:17.

From Paul, a servant of God and an apostle of Jesus Christ. I was sent to help the faith of God's chosen people and to help them know the truth that shows people how to serve God.<sup>2</sup> That faith and that knowledge come from the hope for life forever, which God promised to us before time began. And God cannot lie.<sup>3</sup> At the right time God let the world know about that life through preaching. He trusted me with that work, and I preached by the command of God our Savior.

<sup>4</sup>To Titus, my true child in the faith we share:

Grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Savior.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus Is Truth

Dishonesty is absolutely contrary to the character of God. According to Hebrews 6:18, it is impossible for God to lie. It's not that God will not lie or that he has chosen not to lie—he cannot lie. For God to lie is for a dog to fly and a bird to bark. It simply cannot happen. The Book of Titus echoes the same three words as the Book of Hebrews: “God cannot lie” (Titus 1:2).

God always speaks truth. When he makes a covenant, he keeps it. When he makes a statement, he means it. And when he proclaims the truth, we can believe it. What he says is true. Even “if we are not faithful, [God] will still be faithful, because he cannot be false to himself” (2 Timothy 2:13).

Satan, on the other hand, finds it impossible to tell the truth. According to Jesus, the devil is “the father of lies” (John 8:44). If you’ll remember, deceit was the first tool out of the devil’s bag. In the Garden of Eden, Satan didn’t discourage Eve. He didn’t seduce her. He didn’t sneak up on her. He just lied to her. “God says you’ll die if you eat the fruit? You will not die” (see Genesis 3:1–4).

Big Fat Liar. But Eve was suckered, and the fruit was plucked, and it’s not more than a few paragraphs before husband and son are following suit and the honesty of Eden seems a distant memory.

It still does. Daniel Webster was right when he observed, “There is nothing as powerful as the truth and often nothing as strange.” (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Titus' Work in Crete

<sup>5</sup>I left you in Crete so you could finish doing the things that still needed to be done and so you could appoint elders in every town, as I directed you. <sup>6</sup>An elder must not be guilty of doing wrong, must have only one wife, and must have believing children. They must not be known as children who are wild and do not cooperate. <sup>7</sup>As God's manager, an elder must not be guilty of doing wrong, being selfish, or becoming angry quickly. He must not drink too much wine, like to fight, or try to get rich by cheating others. <sup>8</sup>An elder must be ready to welcome guests, love what is good, be wise, live right, and be holy and self-controlled. <sup>9</sup>By holding on to the trustworthy word just as we teach it, an elder can help people by using true teaching, and he can show those who are against the true teaching that they are wrong.

<sup>10</sup>There are many people who refuse to cooperate, who talk about worthless things and lead others into the wrong way—mainly those who say all who are not Jews must be circumcised. <sup>11</sup>These people must be stopped, because they are upsetting whole families by teaching things they should not teach, which they do to get rich by cheating people. <sup>12</sup>Even one of their own prophets said, “Cretans are always liars, evil animals, and lazy people who do nothing but eat.” <sup>13</sup>The words that prophet said are true. So firmly tell those people they are wrong so they may become strong in the faith, <sup>14</sup>not accepting Jewish false stories and the commands of people who reject the truth. <sup>15</sup>To those who are pure, all things are pure, but to those who are full of sin and do not believe, nothing is pure. Both their minds and their consciences have been ruined. <sup>16</sup>They say they know God, but their actions show they do not accept him. They are hateful people, they refuse to obey, and they are useless for doing anything good.

Following the True Teaching

But you must tell everyone what to do to follow the true teaching. <sup>2</sup>Teach older men to be self-controlled, serious, wise, strong in faith, in love, and in patience.

<sup>3</sup>In the same way, teach older women to be holy in their behavior, not speaking against others or enslaved to too much wine, but teaching what is good. <sup>4</sup>Then they can teach the young women to love their husbands, to love their children, <sup>5</sup>to be wise and pure, to be good workers at home, to be kind, and to yield to their husbands. Then no one will be able to criticize the teaching God gave us.

<sup>6</sup>In the same way, encourage young men to be wise. <sup>7</sup>In every way be an example of doing good deeds. When you teach, do it with honesty and seriousness. <sup>8</sup>Speak the truth so that you cannot be criticized. Then those who are against you will be ashamed because there is nothing bad to say about us.

<sup>9</sup>Slaves should yield to their own masters at all times, trying to please them and not arguing with them. <sup>10</sup>They should not steal from them but should show their masters they can be fully trusted so that in everything they do they will make the teaching of God our Savior attractive.

<sup>11</sup>That is the way we should live, because God's grace that can save everyone has come. <sup>12</sup>It teaches us not to live against God nor to do the evil things the world wants to do. Instead, that grace teaches us to live now in a wise and right way and in a way that shows we serve God. <sup>13</sup>We should live like that while we wait for our great hope and the coming of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ. <sup>14</sup>He gave himself for us so he might pay the price to free us from all evil and to make us pure people who belong only to him—people who are always wanting to do good deeds.

<sup>15</sup>Say these things and encourage the people and tell them what is wrong in their lives, with all authority. Do not let anyone treat you as if you were unimportant.

Life Lessons

Titus 3:1–15

Situation

Paul reminded Christians that Christ saved them from sin and death. Paul's teaching opposed false teachers who tried to win converts.

Observation

Christians need to be reminded of God's great forgiveness.

Inspiration

What's the toughest stain to remove? grape juice? coffee? mud? After soaking, scrubbing, and soaking some more, we often give up in frustration. It just won't come out, and the shirt is ruined!

The effects of sin run profoundly deeper than juice-soiled clothing, affecting all of life and staining the soul, with real guilt and painful estrangement from God. And this sin-stain resists every human effort to remove it. No matter how hard we work or hope, or even pray, the contaminating stain remains.

The truth is that only God can cleanse us and make us truly clean. And he promises to do just that ... through faith, faith in the Son.

Are you struggling with guilt from transgressions and omissions—the whole spectrum of God-ignoring or God-defying attitudes and acts? You can be forgiven, released, and set on the path of righteousness. For a new start and a new life, confess your sins to God and trust in Christ. His stain-

remover works! (From On Eagle's Wings by Dave Veerman)

Application

Good works are a sign that we are grateful to God and that we love him. What service project in your community or church could you join? Ask the Lord to guide you to service that pleases him.

Exploration

Service—Joshua 24:14–15; Matthew 25:35–45; 1 Corinthians 15:58; Colossians 3:23; 1 Timothy 1:12; 1 Peter 4:10–11.

The Right Way to Live

Remind the believers to yield to the authority of rulers and government leaders, to obey them, to be ready to do good,<sup>2</sup> to speak no evil about anyone, to live in peace, and to be gentle and polite to all people.

<sup>3</sup>In the past we also were foolish. We did not obey, we were wrong, and we were slaves to many things our bodies wanted and enjoyed. We spent our lives doing evil and being jealous. People hated us, and we hated each other.<sup>4</sup> But when the kindness and love of God our Savior was shown,<sup>5</sup> he saved us because of his mercy. It was not because of good deeds we did to be right with him. He saved us through the washing that made us new people through the Holy Spirit.<sup>6</sup> God poured out richly upon us that Holy Spirit through Jesus Christ our Savior.<sup>7</sup> Being made right with God by his grace, we could have the hope of receiving the life that never ends.

<sup>8</sup>This teaching is true, and I want you to be sure the people understand these things. Then those who believe in God will be careful to use their lives for doing good. These things are good and will help everyone.

<sup>9</sup>But stay away from those who have foolish arguments and talk about useless family histories and argue and quarrel about the law. Those things are worth nothing and will not help anyone.<sup>10</sup> After a first and second warning, avoid someone who causes arguments.<sup>11</sup> You can know that such people are evil and sinful; their own sins prove them wrong.

Some Things to Remember

<sup>12</sup>When I send Artemas or Tychicus to you, make every effort to come to me at Nicopolis, because I have decided to stay there this winter. <sup>13</sup>Do all you can to help Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their journey so that they have everything they need. <sup>14</sup>Our people must learn to use their lives for doing good deeds to provide what is necessary so that their lives will not be useless.

<sup>15</sup>All who are with me greet you. Greet those who love us in the faith.

Grace be with you all.

The Book of Philemon

Introduction

Philemon had every reason to be angry. His slave, Onesimus, had stolen from him and run away. He had escaped to Rome, where he met Paul and became a Believer.

Now Onesimus is returning to Philemon. Under normal circumstances, Philemon has the right to exact revenge. But these are not normal circumstances, Paul explains. Onesimus fled as a slave, he returns as a believer.

Paul doesn't ask Philemon to free Onesimus from slavery, but to free him from anger. He urges Philemon to offer grace rather than demand justice.

Does this short letter have any application for your life? It does if there is an Onesimus in your world. It does if someone has betrayed you or offended you or turned away from you. What they did wasn't right. And to demand justice is only natural, which is precisely the problem. Getting even is natural; it's not spiritual.

As you consider how to respond, consider a higher law. A law which sets all men, slave or nonslave, free.

About This Book

Author:

Paul

Date Written:

C. A.D. 60

Key Themes:

- Salvation is not determined or affected by a person's station in life.
- The love God expects from us goes beyond the standards of this world.

Key Verses:

“Maybe Onesimus was separated from you for a short time so you could have him back forever—no longer a slave, but better than a slave, as a loved brother....”(Philemon 15–16).

Contents:

1. Greetings 1–7
2. Appeal for Onesimus 8–21
3. Farewell 22–25

Life Lessons

Philemon 1–25

Situation

Both Christians and non-Christians owned slaves in the Roman Empire. Onesimus, a slave from Colossae, stole from his owner, Philemon. After stealing, Onesimus ran away to Rome where Paul met him. Paul led Onesimus to Jesus.

Observation

Paul asked Philemon to forgive and accept his runaway slave back without punishment.

Inspiration

Among the most wonderful gifts in the forgiveness of sins is this one, that God permits us poor children of the earth to become coworkers in His Kingdom. We are to help spread the knowledge of the availability of this forgiveness to our neighbor next door and in faraway places... . We are to speak a word for Him to those who need His comfort and courage... . We are to help promote understanding and goodwill. We are to help build the Kingdom of kindness. We are to live redeemed. (From Trustful Living by Carla Holtermann)

Application

Remember that time someone took advantage of you, misled you, or even cheated you? Ask God to help you put the offense out of your mind. Next time you interact with that person, treat the person with love and show that you don't hold a grudge.

Exploration

Respect—Job 31:13–15; Proverbs 22:2; Micah 6:8;
Romans 13:7; Galatians 3:28; 1 Peter 2:17.

To Philemon, our dear friend and worker with us; <sup>2</sup>to Apphia, our sister; to Archippus, a worker with us; and to the church that meets in your home:

<sup>3</sup>Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Philemon's Love and Faith

<sup>4</sup>I always thank my God when I mention you in my prayers, <sup>5</sup>because I hear about the love you have for all God's holy people and the faith you have in the Lord Jesus. <sup>6</sup>I pray that the faith you share may make you understand every blessing we have in Christ. <sup>7</sup>I have great joy and comfort, my brother, because the love you have shown to God's people has refreshed them.

Accept Onesimus as a Brother

<sup>8</sup>So, in Christ, I could be bold and order you to do what is right. <sup>9</sup>But because I love you, I am pleading with you instead. I, Paul, an old man now and also a prisoner for Christ Jesus, <sup>10</sup>am pleading with you for my child Onesimus, who became my child while I was in prison. <sup>11</sup>In the past he was useless to you, but now he has become useful for both you and me.

<sup>12</sup>I am sending him back to you, and with him I am sending my own heart. <sup>13</sup>I wanted to keep him with me so that in your place he might help me while I am in prison for the Good News. <sup>14</sup>But I did not want to do anything without asking you first so that any good you do for me will be because you want to do it, not because I forced you. <sup>15</sup>Maybe Onesimus was separated from you for a short time so you could have him back forever—<sup>16</sup>no longer as a slave, but better than a slave, as a loved brother. I love him very much, but you will love him even more, both as a person and as a believer in the Lord.

<sup>17</sup>So if you consider me your partner, welcome Onesimus as you would welcome me. <sup>18</sup>If he has done anything wrong to you or if he owes you anything, charge that to me. <sup>19</sup>I, Paul, am writing this with my own hand. I will pay it back, and I will say nothing about what you owe me for your own life. <sup>20</sup>So, my brother, I ask that you do this for me in the Lord: Refresh my heart in Christ. <sup>21</sup>I write this letter, knowing that you will do what I ask you and even more.

<sup>22</sup>One more thing—prepare a room for me in which to stay, because I hope God will answer your prayers and I will be able to come to you.

Final Greetings

<sup>23</sup>Epaphras, a prisoner with me for Christ Jesus, sends greetings to you. <sup>24</sup>And also Mark, Aristarchus, Demas, and Luke, workers together with me, send greetings.

<sup>25</sup>The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.

The Book of Hebrews

Introduction

The best just got better—it's a favorite slogan with advertisers.

It's not that our previous product was poor. It's just that the current one is superior.

The Book of Hebrews might well use the same slogan. The best just got better.

There was nothing inferior about the Jewish religion. It was given by God and designed by God. Every principle, rule, and ritual had a wealth of meaning. The Old Testament served as a faithful guide for thousands of people over thousands of years. It was the best offered to man.

But when Christ came, the best got better.

Hebrews was written for Jewish believers who were torn between their new faith and their old ways. The temptation was to slip back into familiar routines and rituals, settling for second best.

The author skillfully makes a case against such a digression. He argues that Jesus is better than every form of the old faith—better than the angels (1:4–2:18), better than their leaders (3:1–4:13), and better than their priests (4:14–7:28). When it comes to comparing the two, there is simply no comparison. Christianity has a better covenant (8:1–13), a better sanctuary, (9:1–10), and a better sacrifice for sins (9:11–10:18).

It's not that the old law was bad, it's just that the new law—salvation by faith in Christ—is better. Once you've known the best, why settle for second rate?

It's doubtful that you will ever be tempted to exchange your faith for an ancient system of priests and sacrifices. But you will be tempted to exchange it for something inferior.

If you are reading Hebrews, be reminded: Once you've known the best, why settle for anything less? (Hmmm, there's another catchy slogan.)

Life Lessons

Hebrews 1:1–14

Situation

The recipients of this letter thought highly of angels. This writer began by telling them that Jesus was greater than any other spiritual force.

Observation

Jesus reveals all we need to know about God. Jesus' power is like none other, and he holds the highest position over anyone else.

Inspiration

When I was working on my third book, Choices ... Changes, there was one episode I especially enjoyed writing. You guessed it. It was the last episode, about my husband.

It was great fun to sit at the computer with my friend and describe Ken Tada. How he looked the first time I saw him ... how he talked ... how he smiled ... how he carried himself ... how he moved when he played racquetball. The words about our dating days flowed effortlessly. Writing about our wedding day and marriage was pure joy. Obviously, I didn't need a Thesaurus to think of adjectives. I wanted to go on and on.

And sometimes I did! My friend would have to say, "Uh, Joni, don't you think you've talked enough about Ken's muscles? Or, "Joni, that's the fourth time in this chapter you've told us how handsome Ken is."

Isn't that funny? I just couldn't say enough good stuff about my husband.

I'll bet it's the same way with those you love, too. You want others to know how special that person is—whether it's your mate, your friend, your child, your niece, your nephew, or your grandchild. The best part is finding someone genuinely interested in listening to your glowing descriptions. It actually multiplies your pleasure.

Listen in as the author of Hebrews talks about his best Friend, Jesus. It's as if someone had approached him and said, "You seem to put great deal of stock in this Person, Jesus Christ. Just who is He, anyway? Why are you so excited about Him? Can you describe Him?"

Could he ever! Finding a listening ear, the writer can't say enough....

With the ink flowing fast on his parchment, the writer goes on and on. Chapter one, chapter two, chapter three, chapter four ... Jesus, Jesus, Jesus, Jesus.

How is it with you? Are you looking for listening ears, anxious to go on and on about the Lord Jesus and what He means to you?

If you find you don't have enough adjectives to describe Him, I'd like to introduce you to the author of Hebrews. Sorry I can't give you his name, but he got so excited about his Subject he forgot to introduce himself. Maybe the two of you can get away together for a few minutes today.

There's nothing that excited writer would love more than a listening ear. (From Secret Strength for Those Who Search by Joni Eareckson Tada)

Application

The author of Hebrews does not ask what you think about Christianity. He tells you about Jesus, God's Son, superior to the prophets of old, superior to the angels. Learn more about what Jesus reveals to us about God through church, friends, prayer, and Bible study. Is there any opinion you value more highly than his?

Exploration

Jesus Is God—John 1:1–18; Philippians 2:5–11.

God Spoke Through His Son

In the past God spoke to our ancestors through the prophets many times and in many different ways.<sup>2</sup> But now in these last days God has spoken to us through his Son. God has chosen his Son to own all things, and through him he made the world.<sup>3</sup> The Son reflects the glory of God and shows exactly what God is like. He holds everything together with his powerful word. When the Son made people clean from their sins, he sat down at the right side of God, the Great One in heaven.<sup>4</sup> The Son became much greater than the angels, and God gave him a name that is much greater than theirs.

<sup>5</sup>This is because God never said to any of the angels,

“You are my Son.
Today I have become your Father.”

Psalm 2:7

Nor did God say of any angel,

“I will be his Father,
and he will be my Son.”

2 Samuel 7:14

<sup>6</sup>And when God brings his firstborn Son into the world, he says,

“Let all God’s angels worship him.”

Psalm 97:7

<sup>7</sup>This is what God said about the angels:

“God makes his angels become like winds.
He makes his servants become like flames of fire.”

Psalm 104:4

<sup>8</sup>But God said this about his Son:

“God, your throne will last forever and ever.
You will rule your kingdom with fairness.
<sup>9</sup>You love right and hate evil, so God has chosen you from among your friends;
he has set you apart with much joy.”

Psalm 45:6–7

<sup>10</sup>God also says,

“Lord, in the beginning you made the earth, and your hands made the skies.
<sup>11</sup>They will be destroyed, but you will remain.
They will all wear out like clothes.
<sup>12</sup>You will fold them like a coat.
And, like clothes, you will change them.
But you never change,
and your life will never end.”

Psalm 102:25–27

<sup>13</sup>And God never said this to an angel:

“Sit by me at my right side
until I put your enemies under your control.”

Psalm 110:1

<sup>14</sup>All the angels are spirits who serve God and are sent to help those who will receive salvation.

Life Lessons

Hebrews 2:1–3:19

Situation

As God's Son, Jesus' authority surpassed any prophet or angel. He is God, yet he became man.

Observation

Because Jesus became man, we know he understands our human frustrations.

Inspiration

It is an undeniable fact that usually it is those who have suffered most who are best able to comfort others who are passing through suffering. I know of pastors whose ministries have been enriched by suffering. Through their trials they have learned to “live through” the difficulties of the people in their parish. They are able to empathize as well as sympathize with the afflictions of others because of what they have experienced in their own lives.

Our sufferings may be rough and hard to bear, but they teach us lessons which in turn equip and enable us to help others. Our attitude toward suffering should not be, “Grit your teeth and bear it,” hoping it will pass as quickly as possible. Rather, our goal should be to learn all we can from what we are called upon to endure, so that we can fulfill a ministry of comfort—as Jesus did. “Because he himself suffered when he was tempted, he is able to help those who are being tempted” (Hebrews 2:18, NIV). The sufferer becomes the comforter or helper in the service of the Lord.

By the way, by “enduring” suffering, God led me to my wonderful wife, Ruth, who was His intended one for me. (From Unto the Hills by Billy Graham)

Application

Jesus knows all about life on earth. Tell him what will be your biggest temptations and struggles today. Ask him to provide you with strength and encouragement. He knows how you feel.

Exploration

Christ’s Victory over Sin and Death—Romans 6:5–11.

Our Salvation Is Great

So we must be more careful to follow what we were taught. Then we will not stray away from the truth. <sup>2</sup>The teaching God spoke through angels was shown to be true, and anyone who did not follow it or obey it received the punishment that was earned. <sup>3</sup>So surely we also will be punished if we ignore this great salvation. The Lord himself first told about this salvation, and it was proven true to us by those who heard him. <sup>4</sup>God also proved it by using wonders, great signs, many kinds of miracles, and by giving people gifts through the Holy Spirit, just as he wanted.

Christ Became like Humans

<sup>5</sup>God did not choose angels to be the rulers of the new world that was coming, which is what we have been talking about. <sup>6</sup>It is written in the Scriptures, “Why are people important to you?

Why do you take care of human beings?

<sup>7</sup>You made them a little lower than the angels and crowned them with glory and honor.

<sup>8</sup>You put all things under their control.”

Psalm 8:4-6

When God put everything under their control, there was nothing left that they did not rule. Still, we do not yet see them ruling over everything. <sup>9</sup>But we see Jesus, who for a short time was made lower than the angels. And now he is wearing a crown of glory and honor because he suffered and died. And by God's grace, he died for everyone.

<sup>10</sup>God is the One who made all things, and all things are for his glory. He wanted to have many children share his glory, so he made the One who leads people to salvation perfect through suffering.

<sup>11</sup>Jesus, who makes people holy, and those who are made holy are from the same family. So he is not ashamed to call them his brothers and sisters. <sup>12</sup>He says,

“Then, I will tell my fellow Israelites about you;
I will praise you in the public meeting.”

Psalm 22:22

<sup>13</sup>He also says,

“I will trust in God.”

Isaiah 8:17

And he also says,

“I am here, and with me are the children God has given me.”

Isaiah 8:18

<sup>14</sup>Since these children are people with physical bodies, Jesus himself became like them. He did this so that, by dying, he could destroy the one who has the power of death—the devil—<sup>15</sup>and free those who were like slaves all their lives because of their fear of death. <sup>16</sup>Clearly, it is not angels that Jesus helps, but the people who are from Abraham. <sup>17</sup>For this reason Jesus had to be made like his brothers in every way so he could be their merciful and faithful high priest in service to God. Then Jesus could bring forgiveness for their sins. <sup>18</sup>And now he can help those who are tempted, because he himself suffered and was tempted.

Jesus Is Greater than Moses

So all of you holy brothers and sisters, who were called by God, think about Jesus, who was sent to us and is the high priest of our faith. <sup>2</sup>Jesus was faithful to God as Moses was in God's family. <sup>3</sup>Jesus has more honor than Moses, just as the builder of a house has more honor than the house itself. <sup>4</sup>Every house is built by someone, but the builder of everything is God himself. <sup>5</sup>Moses was faithful in God's family as a servant, and he told what God would say in the future. <sup>6</sup>But Christ is faithful as a Son over God's house. And we are God's house if we keep on being very sure about our great hope.

We Must Continue to Follow God

<sup>7</sup>So it is as the Holy Spirit says:

“Today listen to what he says.

<sup>8</sup>Do not be stubborn as in the past when you turned against God,
when you tested God in the desert.

<sup>9</sup>There your ancestors tried me and tested me and saw the things I did for forty years.

<sup>10</sup>I was angry with them.

I said, ‘They are not loyal to me and have not understood my ways.’

<sup>11</sup>I was angry and made a promise,
‘They will never enter my rest.’”

Psalm 95:7-11

<sup>12</sup>So brothers and sisters, be careful that none of you has an evil, unbelieving heart that will turn you away from the living God. <sup>13</sup>But encourage each other every day while it is “today.” Help each other so none of you will become hardened because sin has tricked you. <sup>14</sup>We all share in Christ if we keep till the end the sure faith we had in the beginning. <sup>15</sup>This is what the Scripture says:

“Today listen to what he says.
Do not be stubborn as in the past
when you turned against God.”

Psalm 95:7-8

<sup>16</sup>Who heard God’s voice and was against him? It was all those people Moses led out of Egypt. <sup>17</sup>And with whom was God angry for forty years? He was angry with those who sinned, who died in the desert. <sup>18</sup>And to whom was God talking when he promised that they would never enter his rest? He was talking to those who did not obey him. <sup>19</sup>So we see they were not allowed to enter and have God’s rest, because they did not believe.

Hebrews 4:1–5:10

Situation

Just as Jesus surpassed Moses, he also surpassed Aaron, God's high priest. The author of Hebrews continued presenting the reasons for Jesus' superiority.

Observation

Jesus intercedes for us before God.

Inspiration

Life is difficult ... really very little more than an endless series of problems. Do we want to moan and groan about them or face them? Do we want to teach the next generation the disciplines involved in accepting and solving them or encourage them to run and hide from them? ...

The tragedy, of course, is that the substitute itself ultimately becomes more painful than the "legitimate suffering" it was trying to avoid. And, adding insult to injury, the avoidance of legitimate suffering means we also avoid the growth that problems demand of us. Our determination to push pain away instead of meeting it head on creates a vicious circle.

Could this explain why God's wisest saints are often people who endure pain rather than escape it? Like their Savior, they are men and women "acquainted with grief." I recall that Jesus "learned obedience from the things which he suffered" (Hebrews 5:8), not in spite of those things.

Do you have a problem? You're smiling back at me. "A problem? Would you believe several dozen problems?" If you listen to the voices around you, you'll search for a substitute—an escape route. You'll miss the fact that each one of those problems is a God-appointed instructor ready to stretch you and challenge you and deepen your walk with Him. Growth and wisdom await you at the solution of each one, the pain and mess notwithstanding. (From Growing Strong in the Seasons of Life by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Because of Jesus, you can ask God to meet your needs.

Exploration

Aaron—Leviticus 8; Numbers 12. Melchizedek—Genesis 14; Hebrews 7.

Now, since God has left us the promise that we may enter his rest, let us be very careful so none of you will fail to enter. <sup>2</sup>The Good News was preached to us just as it was to them. But the teaching they heard did not help them, because they heard it but did not accept it with faith. <sup>3</sup>We who have believed are able to enter and have God's rest. As God has said,

“I was angry and made a promise,
“They will never enter my rest.””

Psalm 95:11

But God's work was finished from the time he made the world. <sup>4</sup>In the Scriptures he talked about the seventh day of the week: “And on the seventh day God rested from all his works.” <sup>5</sup>And again in the Scripture God said, “They will never enter my rest.”

<sup>6</sup>It is still true that some people will enter God's rest, but those who first heard the way to be saved did not enter, because they did not obey. <sup>7</sup>So God planned another day, called “today.” He spoke about that day through David a long time later in the same Scripture used before:

“Today listen to what he says.
Do not be stubborn.”

Psalm 95:7-8

<sup>8</sup>We know that Joshua did not lead the people into that rest, because God spoke later about another day. <sup>9</sup>This shows that the rest for God's people is still coming. <sup>10</sup>Anyone who enters God's rest will rest from his work as God did. <sup>11</sup>Let us try as hard as we can to enter God's rest so that no one will fail by following the example of those who refused to obey.

<sup>12</sup>God's word is alive and working and is sharper than a double-edged sword. It cuts all the way into us, where the soul and the spirit are joined, to the center of our joints and bones. And it judges the thoughts and feelings in our hearts. <sup>13</sup>Nothing in all the world can be hidden from God. Everything is clear and lies open before him, and to him we must explain the way we have lived.

Jesus Is Our High Priest

<sup>14</sup>Since we have a great high priest, Jesus the Son of God, who has gone into heaven, let us hold on to the faith we have. <sup>15</sup>For our high priest is able to understand our weaknesses. When he lived on earth, he was tempted in every way that we are, but he did not sin. <sup>16</sup>Let us, then, feel very sure that we can come before God's throne where there is grace. There we can receive mercy and grace to help us when we need it.

Every high priest is chosen from among other people. He is given the work of going before God for them to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins.<sup>2</sup>Since he himself is weak, he is able to be gentle with those who do not understand and who are doing wrong things.<sup>3</sup>Because he is weak, the high priest must offer sacrifices for his own sins and also for the sins of the people.

<sup>4</sup>To be a high priest is an honor, but no one chooses himself for this work. He must be called by God as Aaron was.<sup>5</sup>So also Christ did not choose himself to have the honor of being a high priest, but God chose him. God said to him,

“You are my Son.
Today I have become your Father.”

Psalm 2:7

<sup>6</sup>And in another Scripture God says,

“You are a priest forever,
a priest like Melchizedek.”

Psalm 110:4

<sup>7</sup>While Jesus lived on earth, he prayed to God and asked God for help. He prayed with loud cries and tears to the One who could save him from death, and his prayer was heard because he trusted God.<sup>8</sup>Even though Jesus was the Son of God, he learned obedience by what he suffered.<sup>9</sup>And because his obedience was perfect, he was able to give eternal salvation to all who obey him.<sup>10</sup>In this way God made Jesus a high priest, a priest like Melchizedek.

Life Lessons

Hebrews 5:11–7:28

Situation

Melchizedek, king of Salem, was greater than Abraham. Abraham, the father of all Jews, offered sacrifices to God through Melchizedek. Yet Jesus even surpassed Melchizedek's service.

Observation

Jesus is our perfect high priest. Only through Christ's perfect sacrifice are we able to find forgiveness for our sins. Jesus offered this sacrifice once for all.

Inspiration

What is the fruit of sin? Step into the briar patch of humanity and feel a few thistles. Shame. Fear. Disgrace. Discouragement. Anxiety. Haven't our hearts been caught in these brambles?

The heart of Jesus, however, had not. He had never been cut by the thorns of sin. What you and I face daily, he never knew. Anxiety? He never worried! Guilt? He was never guilty! Fear? He never left the presence of God! Jesus never knew the fruits of sin ... until he became sin for us.

And when he did, all the emotions of sin tumbled in on him like shadows in a forest. He felt anxious, guilty, and alone. Can't you hear the emotion in his prayer? "My God, my God, why have you rejected me?" (Matthew 27:46). These are not the words of a saint. This is the cry of a sinner.

And this prayer is one of the most remarkable parts of his coming. But I can think of something even greater. Want to know what it is? Want to know the coolest thing about the coming?

Not that the One who played marbles with the stars gave it up to play marbles with marbles. Or that the One who hung the galaxies gave it up to hang doorjambs to the displeasure of a cranky client who wanted everything yesterday but couldn't pay for anything until tomorrow.

Not that he, in an instant, went from needing nothing to needing air, food, a tub of hot water and salts for his tired feet, and, more than anything, needing somebody—anybody—who was more concerned about where he would spend eternity than where he would spend Friday's paycheck.

Or that he resisted the urge to fry the two-bit, self-appointed hall monitors of holiness who dared suggest that he was doing the work of the devil.

Not that he kept his cool while the dozen best friends he ever had felt the heat and got out of the kitchen. Or that he gave no command to the angels who begged, "Just give the nod, Lord. One word and these demons will be deviled eggs."

Not that he refused to defend himself when blamed for every sin of every slut and sailor since Adam. Or that he stood silent as a million guilty verdicts echoed in the tribunal of heaven and the giver of light was left in the chill of a sinner's night.

Not even that after three days in a dark hole he stepped into the Easter sunrise with a smile and a swagger and a question for lowly Lucifer—"Is that your best punch?"

That was cool, incredibly cool.

But want to know the coolest thing about the One who gave up the crown of heaven for a crown of thorns?

He did it for you. Just for you. (From He Chose the Nails by Max Luacdo)

Warning Against Falling Away

<sup>11</sup>We have much to say about this, but it is hard to explain because you are so slow to understand. <sup>12</sup>By now you should be teachers, but you need someone to teach you again the first lessons of God's message. You still need the teaching that is like milk. You are not ready for solid food. <sup>13</sup>Anyone who lives on milk is still a baby and knows nothing about right teaching. <sup>14</sup>But solid food is for those who are grown up. They have practiced in order to know the difference between good and evil.

So let us go on to grownup teaching. Let us not go back over the beginning lessons we learned about Christ. We should not again start teaching about faith in God and about turning away from those acts that lead to death. <sup>2</sup>We should not return to the teaching about baptisms, about laying on of hands, about the raising of the dead and eternal judgment. <sup>3</sup>And we will go on to grownup teaching if God allows.

<sup>4</sup>Some people cannot be brought back again to a changed life. They were once in God's light, and enjoyed heaven's gift, and shared in the Holy Spirit. <sup>5</sup>They found out how good God's word is, and they received the powers of his new world. <sup>6</sup>But they fell away from Christ. It is impossible to bring them back to a changed life again, because they are nailing the Son of God to a cross again and are shaming him in front of others.

<sup>7</sup>Some people are like land that gets plenty of rain. The land produces a good crop for those who work it, and it receives God's blessings. <sup>8</sup>Other people are like land that grows thorns and weeds and is worthless. It is in danger of being cursed by God and will be destroyed by fire.

<sup>9</sup>Dear friends, we are saying this to you, but we really expect better things from you that will lead to your salvation. <sup>10</sup>God is fair; he will not forget the work you did and the love you showed for him by helping his people. And he will remember that you are still helping them. <sup>11</sup>We want each of you to go on with the same hard work all your lives so you will surely get what you hope for. <sup>12</sup>We do not want you to become lazy. Be like those who through faith and patience will receive what God has promised.

<sup>13</sup>God made a promise to Abraham. And as there is no one greater than God, he used himself when he swore to Abraham, <sup>14</sup>saying, “I will surely bless you and give you many descendants.” <sup>15</sup>Abraham waited patiently for this to happen, and he received what God promised.

<sup>16</sup>People always use the name of someone greater than themselves when they swear. The oath proves that what they say is true, and this ends all arguing. <sup>17</sup>God wanted to prove that his promise was true to those who would get what he promised. And he wanted them to understand clearly that his purposes never change, so he made an oath. <sup>18</sup>These two things cannot change: God cannot lie when he makes a promise, and he cannot lie when he makes an oath. These things encourage us who came to God for safety. They give us strength to hold on to the hope we have been given. <sup>19</sup>We have this hope as an anchor for the soul, sure and strong. It enters behind the curtain in the Most Holy Place in heaven, <sup>20</sup>where Jesus has gone ahead of us and for us. He has become the high priest forever, a priest like Melchizedek.

The Priest Melchizedek

Melchizedek was the king of Salem and a priest for God Most High. He met Abraham when Abraham was coming back after defeating the kings. When they met, Melchizedek blessed Abraham,<sup>2</sup> and Abraham gave him a tenth of everything he had brought back from the battle. First, Melchizedek's name means "king of goodness," and he is king of Salem, which means "king of peace."<sup>3</sup> No one knows who Melchizedek's father or mother was, where he came from, when he was born, or when he died. Melchizedek is like the Son of God; he continues being a priest forever.

<sup>4</sup>You can see how great Melchizedek was. Abraham, the great father, gave him a tenth of everything that he won in battle.<sup>5</sup> Now the law says that those in the tribe of Levi who become priests must collect a tenth from the people—their own people—even though the priests and the people are from the family of Abraham.<sup>6</sup> Melchizedek was not from the tribe of Levi, but he collected a tenth from Abraham. And he blessed Abraham, the man who had God's promises.<sup>7</sup> Now everyone knows that the more important person blesses the less important person.<sup>8</sup> Priests receive a tenth, even though they are only men who live and then die. But Melchizedek, who received a tenth from Abraham, continues living, as the Scripture says.<sup>9</sup> We might even say that Levi, who receives a tenth, also paid it when Abraham paid Melchizedek a tenth.<sup>10</sup> Levi was not yet born, but he was in the body of his ancestor when Melchizedek met Abraham.

<sup>11</sup>The people were given the law based on a system of priests from the tribe of Levi, but they could not be made perfect through that system. So there was a need for another priest to come, a priest like Melchizedek, not Aaron. <sup>12</sup>And when a different kind of priest comes, the law must be changed, too. <sup>13</sup>We are saying these things about Christ, who belonged to a different tribe. No one from that tribe ever served as a priest at the altar. <sup>14</sup>It is clear that our Lord came from the tribe of Judah, and Moses said nothing about priests belonging to that tribe.

Jesus Is like Melchizedek

<sup>15</sup>And this becomes even more clear when we see that another priest comes who is like Melchizedek. <sup>16</sup>He was not made a priest by human rules and laws but through the power of his life, which continues forever. <sup>17</sup>It is said about him,

“You are a priest forever,
a priest like Melchizedek.”

Psalm 110:4

<sup>18</sup>The old rule is now set aside, because it was weak and useless. <sup>19</sup>The law of Moses could not make anything perfect. But now a better hope has been given to us, and with this hope we can come near to God. <sup>20</sup>It is important that God did this with an oath. Others became priests without an oath, <sup>21</sup>but Christ became a priest with God’s oath. God said:

“The Lord has made a promise and will not change his mind.

“You are a priest forever.””

Psalm 110:4

<sup>22</sup>This means that Jesus is the guarantee of a better agreement from God to his people.

<sup>23</sup>When one of the other priests died, he could not continue being a priest. So there were many priests. <sup>24</sup>But because Jesus lives forever, he will never stop serving as priest. <sup>25</sup>So he is able always to save those who come to God through him because he always lives, asking God to help them.

<sup>26</sup>Jesus is the kind of high priest we need. He is holy, sinless, pure, not influenced by sinners, and he is raised above the heavens. <sup>27</sup>He is not like the other priests who had to offer sacrifices every day, first for their own sins, and then for the sins of the people. Christ offered his sacrifice only once and for all time when he offered himself. <sup>28</sup>The law chooses high priests who are people with weaknesses, but the word of God’s oath came later than the law. It made God’s Son to be the high priest, and that Son has been made perfect forever.

Hebrews 8:1-13

Situation

Jewish Christians struggled to understand the relationship between God's free salvation and the Mosaic Law. The author explained that Jesus Christ was superior to the Law of Moses.

Observation

God does not keep a record of our sins in order to use them against us. Rather, he forgives and loves us even as we suffer through the consequences of our sins.

Inspiration

I was thanking the Father today for his mercy. I began listing the sins he'd forgiven. One by one I thanked God for forgiving my stumbles and tumbles. My motives were pure and my heart was thankful, but my understanding of God was wrong. It was when I used the word "remember" that it hit me...

God doesn't just forgive, he forgets. He erases the board. He destroys the evidence. He burns the microfilm. He clears the computer...

No, he doesn't remember. But I do, you do. You still remember. You're like me. You still remember what you did before you changed. In the cellar of your heart lurk the ghosts of yesterday's sins. Sins you've confessed; errors of which you've repented; damage you've done your best to repair.

And though you're a different person, the ghosts still linger. Though you've locked the basement door, they still haunt you. They float to meet you, spooking your soul and robbing your joy. With wordless whispers they remind you of moments when you forgot whose child you were....

Poltergeists from yesterday's pitfalls. Spiteful specters that slyly suggest, "Are you really forgiven? Sure God forgets most of our mistakes, but do you think he could actually forget the time you ..."

... Was [God] exaggerating when he said he would cast our sins as far as the east is from the west? Do you actually believe he would make a statement like "I will not hold their iniquities against them" and then rub our noses in them whenever we ask for help? ...

You see, God is either the God of perfect grace ... or he is not God. Grace forgets. Period. He who is perfect love cannot hold grudges. If he does, then he isn't perfect love. And if he isn't perfect love, you might as well put this book down and go fishing, because both of us are chasing fairy tales.

But I believe in his loving forgetfulness. And I believe he has a graciously terrible memory. (From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

Application

Because of Jesus' perfect sacrifice, God forgets our sins. Jesus paid the penalty for sins. We must no longer feel guilty for sins that God forgave.

Jesus Is Our High Priest

Here is the point of what we are saying: We have a high priest who sits on the right side of God's throne in heaven. <sup>2</sup>Our high priest serves in the Most Holy Place, the true place of worship that was made by God, not by humans.

<sup>3</sup>Every high priest has the work of offering gifts and sacrifices to God. So our high priest must also offer something to God. <sup>4</sup>If our high priest were now living on earth, he would not be a priest, because there are already priests here who follow the law by offering gifts to God. <sup>5</sup>The work they do as priests is only a copy and a shadow of what is in heaven. This is why God warned Moses when he was ready to build the Holy Tent: "Be very careful to make everything by the plan I showed you on the mountain." <sup>6</sup>But the priestly work that has been given to Jesus is much greater than the work that was given to the other priests. In the same way, the new agreement that Jesus brought from God to his people is much greater than the old one. And the new agreement is based on promises of better things.

<sup>7</sup>If there had been nothing wrong with the first agreement, there would have been no need for a second agreement. <sup>8</sup>But God found something wrong with his people. He says:

"Look, the time is coming, says the Lord,
when I will make a new agreement

with the people of Israel
and the people of Judah.

<sup>9</sup>It will not be like the agreement
I made with their ancestors
when I took them by the hand
to bring them out of Egypt.
But they broke that agreement,
and I turned away from them, says the Lord.

<sup>10</sup>This is the agreement I will make with the people of Israel at that time, says the Lord.
I will put my teachings in their minds
and write them on their hearts.
I will be their God,
and they will be my people.

<sup>11</sup>People will no longer have to teach their neighbors and relatives
to know the Lord,
because all people will know me,
from the least to the most important.

<sup>12</sup>I will forgive them for the wicked things they did,
and I will not remember their sins anymore.”

Jeremiah 31:31–34

<sup>13</sup>God called this a new agreement, so he has made the first agreement old. And anything that is old and worn out is ready to disappear.

Life Lessons

Hebrews 9:1-22

Situation

The writer of Hebrews emphasized that Christ's sacrifice surpassed the sacrifices of the Old Testament. There will never be a greater sacrifice.

Observation

Christ's perfect sacrifice should affect the way believers serve God.

Inspiration

Our safety in Christ results from "the answer of a good conscience toward God" (1 Peter 3:21). The Greek word for "answer" refers to a pledge, in this case agreeing to meet certain conditions required by God before being placed into the ark of safety (Christ).

Unregenerate men and women have consciences that condemn them. One who appeals to God for a good conscience is sick of his sin and desires to be delivered from the load of guilt he bears. He has a crushing and intimidating fear of coming judgment and knows only God can deliver him. He desires the cleansing that comes through the blood of Christ (cf. Hebrews 10:22). So he repents of his sin and pleads for forgiveness.

When Christ suffered on the cross, hell threw all its fury at Him, and wicked men vented their hatred on Him. Yet through that suffering, He served as an ark of safety for the redeemed of all ages. And because He triumphantly provided salvation through His suffering, we are safe in Him.

(From Truth for Today by John MacArthur)

Application

True repentance is not just confession of sin but a sincere willingness to not do that sin again. If your conscience is not clear toward God in even one area of your life, repent and ask God to cleanse you because of his shed blood.

Exploration

A Good Conscience—Acts 23:1; 1 Timothy 1:18–19; 3:8–9; Titus 1:15.

The Old Agreement

The first agreement had rules for worship and a man-made place for worship. <sup>2</sup>The Holy Tent was set up for this. The first area in the Tent was called the Holy Place. In it were the lamp and the table with the bread that was made holy for God. <sup>3</sup>Behind the second curtain was a room called the Most Holy Place. <sup>4</sup>In it was a golden altar for burning incense and the Ark covered with gold that held the old agreement. Inside this Ark was a golden jar of manna, Aaron's rod that once grew leaves, and the stone tablets of the old agreement. <sup>5</sup>Above the Ark were the creatures that showed God's glory, whose wings reached over the lid. But we cannot tell everything about these things now.

<sup>6</sup>When everything in the Tent was made ready in this way, the priests went into the first room every day to worship. <sup>7</sup>But only the high priest could go into the second room, and he did that only once a year. He could never enter the inner room without taking blood with him, which he offered to God for himself and for sins the people did without knowing they did them. <sup>8</sup>The Holy Spirit uses this to show that the way into the Most Holy Place was not open while the system of the old Holy Tent was still being used. <sup>9</sup>This is an example for the present time. It shows that the gifts and sacrifices offered cannot make the conscience of the worshiper perfect. <sup>10</sup>These gifts and sacrifices were only about food and drink and special washings. They were rules for the body, to be followed until the time of God's new way.

The New Agreement

<sup>11</sup>But when Christ came as the high priest of the good things we now have, he entered the greater and more perfect tent. It is not made by humans and does not belong to this world. <sup>12</sup>Christ entered the Most Holy Place only once—and for all time. He did not take with him the blood of goats and calves. His sacrifice was his own blood, and by it he set us free from sin forever. <sup>13</sup>The blood of goats and bulls and the ashes of a cow are sprinkled on the people who are unclean, and this makes their bodies clean again. <sup>14</sup>How much more is done by the blood of Christ. He offered himself through the eternal Spirit as a perfect sacrifice to God. His blood will make our consciences pure from useless acts so we may serve the living God.

<sup>15</sup>For this reason Christ brings a new agreement from God to his people. Those who are called by God can now receive the blessings he has promised, blessings that will last forever. They can have those things because Christ died so that the people who lived under the first agreement could be set free from sin.

<sup>16</sup>When there is a will, it must be proven that the one who wrote that will is dead. <sup>17</sup>A will means nothing while the person is alive; it can be used only after the person dies. <sup>18</sup>This is why even the first agreement could not begin without blood to show death. <sup>19</sup>First, Moses told all the people every command in the law. Next he took the blood of calves and mixed it with water. Then he used red wool and a branch of the hyssop plant to sprinkle it on the book of the law and on all the people.<sup>20</sup> He said, “This is the blood that begins the Agreement that God commanded you to obey.”<sup>21</sup> In the same way, Moses sprinkled the blood on the Holy Tent and over all the things used in worship.<sup>22</sup> The law says that almost everything must be made clean by blood, and sins cannot be forgiven without blood to show death.

Life Lessons

Hebrews 9:23–10:39

Situation

Once the author told that Jesus’ death surpassed any earthly sacrifice, he encouraged the Hebrew Christians to have confidence.

Observation

Jesus’ death not only provides salvation, but also great confidence for Christians. We can step boldly before the Lord in prayer, and boldly into the world in service and witness. Jesus has already won the battle!

Inspiration

Picture it this way. Imagine that you are an ice skater in competition. You are in first place with one more round to go. If you perform well, the trophy is yours. You are nervous, anxious, and frightened.

Then, only minutes before your performance, your trainer rushes to you with the thrilling news: “You’ve already won! The judges tabulated the scores, and the person in second place can’t catch you. You are too far ahead.”

Upon hearing that news, how will you feel? Exhilarated!

And how will you skate? Timidly? Cautiously? Of course not. How about courageously and confidently? You bet you will. You will do your best because the prize is yours. You will skate like a champion because that is what you are! You will hear the applause of victory....

The point is clear: the truth will triumph. The father of truth will win, and the followers of truth will be saved.

(From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

If you are a child of God, claim your victory over sin! Be confident. Nothing can ever take you out of God's hand. No one can ever take away your salvation. No matter what happens, you are always his.

Exploration

Christ's Death Takes Away Sins

<sup>23</sup>So the copies of the real things in heaven had to be made clean by animal sacrifices. But the real things in heaven need much better sacrifices. <sup>24</sup>Christ did not go into the Most Holy Place made by humans, which is only a copy of the real one. He went into heaven itself and is there now before God to help us. <sup>25</sup>The high priest enters the Most Holy Place once every year with blood that is not his own. But Christ did not offer himself many times. <sup>26</sup>Then he would have had to suffer many times since the world was made. But Christ came only once and for all time at just the right time to take away all sin by sacrificing himself. <sup>27</sup>Just as everyone must die once and be judged, <sup>28</sup>so Christ was offered as a sacrifice one time to take away the sins of many people. And he will come a second time, not to offer himself for sin, but to bring salvation to those who are waiting for him.

The law is only an unclear picture of the good things coming in the future; it is not the real thing. The people under the law offer the same sacrifices every year, but these sacrifices can never make perfect those who come near to worship God.<sup>2</sup>If the law could make them perfect, the sacrifices would have already stopped. The worshipers would be made clean, and they would no longer have a sense of sin.<sup>3</sup>But these sacrifices remind them of their sins every year,<sup>4</sup>because it is impossible for the blood of bulls and goats to take away sins.

<sup>5</sup>So when Christ came into the world, he said:

“You do not want sacrifices and offerings, but you have prepared a body for me.

<sup>6</sup>You do not ask for burnt offerings and offerings to take away sins.

<sup>7</sup>Then I said, ‘Look, I have come.
It is written about me in the book.
God, I have come to do what you want.’”

Psalm 40:6-8

<sup>8</sup>In this Scripture he first said, “You do not want sacrifices and offerings. You do not ask for burnt offerings and offerings to take away sins.” (These are all sacrifices that the law commands.)<sup>9</sup>Then he said, “Look, I have come to do what you want.” God ends the first system of sacrifices so he can set up the new system.<sup>10</sup>And because of this, we are made holy through the sacrifice Christ made in his body once and for all time.

<sup>11</sup>Every day the priests stand and do their religious service, often offering the same sacrifices. Those sacrifices can never take away sins. <sup>12</sup>But after Christ offered one sacrifice for sins, forever, he sat down at the right side of God. <sup>13</sup>And now Christ waits there for his enemies to be put under his power. <sup>14</sup>With one sacrifice he made perfect forever those who are being made holy.

<sup>15</sup>The Holy Spirit also tells us about this. First he says:

<sup>16</sup>“This is the agreement I will make with them at that time, says the Lord. I will put my teachings in their hearts and write them on their minds.”

Jeremiah 31:33

<sup>17</sup>Then he says:

“Their sins and the evil things they do—
I will not remember anymore.”

Jeremiah 31:34

<sup>18</sup>Now when these have been forgiven, there is no more need for a sacrifice for sins.

Continue to Trust God

<sup>19</sup>So, brothers and sisters, we are completely free to enter the Most Holy Place without fear because of the blood of Jesus’ death. <sup>20</sup>We can enter through a new and living way that Jesus opened for us. It leads through the curtain —Christ’s body. <sup>21</sup>And since we have a great priest over God’s house, <sup>22</sup>let us come near to God with a sincere heart and a sure faith, because we have been made free from a guilty conscience, and our bodies have been washed with pure water. <sup>23</sup>Let us hold firmly to the hope that we have confessed, because we can trust God to do what he promised.

<sup>24</sup>Let us think about each other and help each other to show love and do good deeds. <sup>25</sup>You should not stay away from the church meetings, as some are doing, but you should meet together and encourage each other. Do this even more as you see the day coming.

<sup>26</sup>If we decide to go on sinning after we have learned the truth, there is no longer any sacrifice for sins. <sup>27</sup>There is nothing but fear in waiting for the judgment and the terrible fire that will destroy all those who live against God. <sup>28</sup>Anyone who refused to obey the law of Moses was found guilty from the proof given by two or three witnesses. He was put to death without mercy. <sup>29</sup>So what do you think should be done to those who do not respect the Son of God, who look at the blood of the agreement that made them holy as no different from others' blood, who insult the Spirit of God's grace? Surely they should have a much worse punishment. <sup>30</sup>We know that God said, "I will punish those who do wrong; I will repay them." And he also said, "The Lord will judge his people." <sup>31</sup>It is a terrible thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

<sup>32</sup>Remember those days in the past when you first learned the truth. You had a hard struggle with many sufferings, but you continued strong. <sup>33</sup>Sometimes you were hurt and attacked before crowds of people, and sometimes you shared with those who were being treated that way. <sup>34</sup>You helped the prisoners. You even had joy when all that you owned was taken from you, because you knew you had something better and more lasting.

<sup>35</sup>So do not lose the courage you had in the past, which has a great reward. <sup>36</sup>You must hold on, so you can do what God wants and receive what he has promised. <sup>37</sup>For in a very short time,

“The One who is coming will come and will not be delayed.

<sup>38</sup>The person who is right with me will live by trusting in me.
But if he turns back with fear,
I will not be pleased with him.”

Habakkuk 2:3-4

<sup>39</sup>But we are not those who turn back and are lost. We are people who have faith and are saved.

Life Lessons

Hebrews 11:1–40

Situation

Old Testament heroes provided examples of faith and obedience to God.

Observation

Faith is more than a belief in God. It is also a way of life. Heroes of faith, although imperfect, trusted God and gave their lives to him.

Inspiration

Faith is the belief that God is real and that God is good... It is a choice to believe that the one who made it all hasn't left it all and that he still sends light into the shadows and responds to gestures of faith...

Faith is the belief that God will do what is right.

“Blessed are the dirt-poor, nothing-to-give, trapped-in-a-corner, destitute, diseased,” Jesus said, “for theirs is the kingdom of heaven” (Matthew 5:3, my translation)...

God says that the more hopeless your circumstances, the more likely your salvation. The greater your cares, the more genuine your prayers. The darker the room, the greater the need for light...

God's help is near and always available, but it is only given to those who seek it. Nothing results from apathy...

Compared to God's part, our part is minuscule but necessary... Write a letter. Ask forgiveness. Call a counselor. Confess. Call Mom. Visit a doctor. Be baptized. Feed a hungry person. Pray. Teach. Go.

Do something that demonstrates faith. For faith with no effort is no faith at all. God will respond. He has never rejected a genuine gesture of faith. Never. (From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

Application

Hebrews 11 can encourage you by telling about people's faith in the Old Testament. These examples encourage you. What are you doing to encourage others? Who will you tell?

Exploration

Remembering the Faithful—Proverbs 10:7; Matthew 26:13; 2 Timothy 1:5.

What Is Faith?

Faith means being sure of the things we hope for and knowing that something is real even if we do not see it. <sup>2</sup>Faith is the reason we remember great people who lived in the past.

<sup>3</sup>It is by faith we understand that the whole world was made by God's command so what we see was made by something that cannot be seen.

<sup>4</sup>It was by faith that Abel offered God a better sacrifice than Cain did. God said he was pleased with the gifts Abel offered and called Abel a good man because of his faith. Abel died, but through his faith he is still speaking.

<sup>5</sup>It was by faith that Enoch was taken to heaven so he would not die. He could not be found, because God had taken him away. Before he was taken, the Scripture says that he was a man who truly pleased God. <sup>6</sup>Without faith no one can please God. Anyone who comes to God must believe that he is real and that he rewards those who truly want to find him.

<sup>7</sup>It was by faith that Noah heard God's warnings about things he could not yet see. He obeyed God and built a large boat to save his family. By his faith, Noah showed that the world was wrong, and he became one of those who are made right with God through faith.

<sup>8</sup>It was by faith Abraham obeyed God's call to go to another place God promised to give him. He left his own country, not knowing where he was to go. <sup>9</sup>It was by faith that he lived like a foreigner in the country God promised to give him. He lived in tents with Isaac and Jacob, who had received that same promise from God. <sup>10</sup>Abraham was waiting for the city that has real foundations—the city planned and built by God.

<sup>11</sup>He was too old to have children, and Sarah could not have children. It was by faith that Abraham was made able to become a father, because he trusted God to do what he had promised. <sup>12</sup>This man was so old he was almost dead, but from him came as many descendants as there are stars in the sky. Like the sand on the seashore, they could not be counted.

<sup>13</sup>All these great people died in faith. They did not get the things that God promised his people, but they saw them coming far in the future and were glad. They said they were like visitors and strangers on earth. <sup>14</sup>When people say such things, they show they are looking for a country that will be their own. <sup>15</sup>If they had been thinking about the country they had left, they could have gone back. <sup>16</sup>But they were waiting for a better country—a heavenly country. So God is not ashamed to be called their God, because he has prepared a city for them.

<sup>17</sup>It was by faith that Abraham, when God tested him, offered his son Isaac as a sacrifice. God made the promises to Abraham, but Abraham was ready to offer his own son as a sacrifice. <sup>18</sup>God had said, “The descendants I promised you will be from Isaac.” <sup>19</sup>Abraham believed that God could raise the dead, and really, it was as if Abraham got Isaac back from death.

<sup>20</sup>It was by faith that Isaac blessed the future of Jacob and Esau. <sup>21</sup>It was by faith that Jacob, as he was dying, blessed each one of Joseph's sons. Then he worshiped as he leaned on the top of his walking stick.

<sup>22</sup>It was by faith that Joseph, while he was dying, spoke about the Israelites leaving Egypt and gave instructions about what to do with his body.

<sup>23</sup>It was by faith that Moses' parents hid him for three months after he was born. They saw that Moses was a beautiful baby, and they were not afraid to disobey the king's order.

<sup>24</sup>It was by faith that Moses, when he grew up, refused to be called the son of the king of Egypt's daughter. <sup>25</sup>He chose to suffer with God's people instead of enjoying sin for a short time. <sup>26</sup>He thought it was better to suffer for the Christ than to have all the treasures of Egypt, because he was looking for God's reward. <sup>27</sup>It was by faith that Moses left Egypt and was not afraid of the king's anger. Moses continued strong as if he could see the God that no one can see. <sup>28</sup>It was by faith that Moses prepared the Passover and spread the blood on the doors so the one who brings death would not kill the firstborn sons of Israel.

<sup>29</sup>It was by faith that the people crossed the Red Sea as if it were dry land. But when the Egyptians tried it, they were drowned.

<sup>30</sup>It was by faith that the walls of Jericho fell after the people had marched around them for seven days.

<sup>31</sup>It was by faith that Rahab, the prostitute, welcomed the spies and was not killed with those who refused to obey God.

<sup>32</sup>Do I need to give more examples? I do not have time to tell you about Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, David, Samuel, and the prophets.<sup>33</sup>Through their faith they defeated kingdoms. They did what was right, received God's promises, and shut the mouths of lions.<sup>34</sup>They stopped great fires and were saved from being killed with swords. They were weak, and yet were made strong. They were powerful in battle and defeated other armies.<sup>35</sup>Women received their dead relatives raised back to life. Others were tortured and refused to accept their freedom so they could be raised from the dead to a better life.<sup>36</sup>Some were laughed at and beaten. Others were put in chains and thrown into prison.<sup>37</sup>They were stoned to death, they were cut in half, and they were killed with swords. Some wore the skins of sheep and goats. They were poor, abused, and treated badly.<sup>38</sup>The world was not good enough for them! They wandered in deserts and mountains, living in caves and holes in the earth.

<sup>39</sup>All these people are known for their faith, but none of them received what God had promised.<sup>40</sup>God planned to give us something better so that they would be made perfect, but only together with us.

Hebrews 12:1–13:25

Situation

The Hebrew readers of this book needed encouragement to face persecution. They were called to follow the perfect example of Jesus, who overcame difficult circumstances.

Observation

Jesus, the perfect model of faith, obeyed God to the point of death. He looked beyond his immediate, painful circumstances and knew that his sacrifice would bring life to others.

Inspiration

He looked around the carpentry shop. He stood for a moment in the refuge of the little room that housed so many sweet memories. He balanced the hammer in his hand. He ran his fingers across the sharp teeth of the saw. He stroked the smoothly worn wood of the sawhorse. He had come to say goodbye.

It was time for him to leave. He had heard something that made him know it was time to go. So he came one last time to smell the sawdust and lumber.

Life was peaceful here. Life was so ... safe....

I wonder if he wanted to stay... . I wonder because I know he had already read the last chapter. He knew that the feet that would step out of the safe shadow of the carpentry shop would not rest until they'd been pierced and placed on a Roman cross.

... If there was any hesitation on the part of his humanity, it was overcome by the compassion of his divinity. His divinity heard the voices....

And his divinity saw the faces... . From the face of Adam to the face of the infant born somewhere in the world as you read these words, he saw them all.

And you can be sure of one thing. Among the voices that found their way into that carpentry shop in Nazareth was your voice....

And not only did he hear you, he saw you. He saw your face aglow the hour you first knew him. He saw your face in shame the hour you first fell. The same face that looked back at you from this morning's mirror, looked at him. And it was enough to kill him.

He left because of you.

He laid his security down with his hammer. He hung tranquility on the peg with his nail apron. He closed the window shutters on the sunshine of his youth and locked the door on the comfort and ease of anonymity.

Since he could bear your sins more easily than he could bear the thought of your hopelessness, he chose to leave.

It wasn't easy. Leaving the carpentry shop never has been. (From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

Application

Look for joy in difficult times. How can others benefit from your struggle? Look beyond the pain and find God's purpose for your struggle.

Exploration

Joy in Troubled Times—Psalm 126:2; Luke 15:5;

John 15:11.

In a world rocky with human failure, there is a land lush with divine mercy. Your Shepherd invites you there. He wants you to lie down. Nestle deeply until you are hidden, buried, in the tall shoots of his love, and there you will find rest. —Max Lucado (Traveling Light)

Follow Jesus' Example

We have around us many people whose lives tell us what faith means. So let us run the race that is before us and never give up. We should remove from our lives anything that would get in the way and the sin that so easily holds us back.<sup>2</sup> Let us look only to Jesus, the One who began our faith and who makes it perfect. He suffered death on the cross. But he accepted the shame as if it were nothing because of the joy that God put before him. And now he is sitting at the right side of God's throne.<sup>3</sup> Think about Jesus' example. He held on while wicked people were doing evil things to him. So do not get tired and stop trying.

God Is like a Father

<sup>4</sup>You are struggling against sin, but your struggles have not yet caused you to be killed.<sup>5</sup> You have forgotten the encouraging words that call you his children:

“My child, don't think the Lord's discipline is worth nothing,

and don't stop trying when he corrects you.
"The Lord disciplines those he loves, and he punishes everyone he accepts as his child."

Proverbs 3:11–12

<sup>7</sup>So hold on through your sufferings, because they are like a father's discipline. God is treating you as children. All children are disciplined by their fathers. <sup>8</sup>If you are never disciplined (and every child must be disciplined), you are not true children. <sup>9</sup>We have all had fathers here on earth who disciplined us, and we respected them. So it is even more important that we accept discipline from the Father of our spirits so we will have life. <sup>10</sup>Our fathers on earth disciplined us for a short time in the way they thought was best. But God disciplines us to help us, so we can become holy as he is. <sup>11</sup>We do not enjoy being disciplined. It is painful, but later, after we have learned from it, we have peace, because we start living in the right way.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The One Who Endured

Consider this admonition from the author of Hebrews: "Let us run the race that is before us and never give up" (Hebrews 12:1).

Had golf existed in the New Testament era, I'm sure the writers would have spoken of mulligans and foot wedges, but it didn't, so they wrote about running. The word race is from the Greek agon, from which we get the word agony. The Christian's race is not a jog but rather a demanding and grueling, sometimes agonizing race. It takes a massive effort to finish strong.

Likely you've noticed that many don't? Surely you've observed there are many on the side of the trail? They used to be running. There was a time when they kept the pace. But then weariness set in. They didn't think the run would be this tough. Or they were discouraged by a bump and daunted by a fellow runner. Whatever the reason, they don't run anymore. They may be Christians. They may come to church. They may put a buck in the plate and warm a pew, but their hearts aren't in the race. They retired before their time. Unless something changes, their best work will have been their first work, and they will finish with a whimper.

By contrast, Jesus' best work was his final work, and his strongest step was his last step. Our Master is the classic example of one who endured. The writer of Hebrews goes on to say that Jesus "held on while wicked people were doing evil things to him" (v. 3). The Bible says Jesus "held on," implying that Jesus could have "let go." The runner could have given up, sat down, gone home. He could have quit the race. But he didn't. "He held on while wicked people were doing evil things to him." (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Be Careful How You Live

<sup>12</sup>You have become weak, so make yourselves strong again.

<sup>13</sup>Live in the right way so that you will be saved and your weakness will not cause you to be lost.

<sup>14</sup>Try to live in peace with all people, and try to live free from sin. Anyone whose life is not holy will never see the Lord.

<sup>15</sup>Be careful that no one fails to receive God's grace and begins to cause trouble among you. A person like that can ruin many of you. <sup>16</sup>Be careful that no one takes part in sexual sin or is like Esau and never thinks about God. As the oldest son, Esau would have received everything from his father, but he sold all that for a single meal. <sup>17</sup>You remember that after Esau did this, he wanted to get his father's blessing, but his father refused. Esau could find no way to change what he had done, even though he wanted the blessing so much that he cried.

<sup>18</sup>You have not come to a mountain that can be touched and that is burning with fire. You have not come to darkness, sadness, and storms. <sup>19</sup>You have not come to the noise of a trumpet or to the sound of a voice like the one the people of Israel heard and begged not to hear another word. <sup>20</sup>They did not want to hear the command: "If anything, even an animal touches the mountain, it must be put to death with stones."

<sup>21</sup>What they saw was so terrible that Moses said, "I am shaking with fear."

<sup>22</sup>But you have come to Mount Zion, to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem. You have come to thousands of angels gathered together with joy. <sup>23</sup>You have come to the meeting of God's firstborn children whose names are written in heaven. You have come to God, the judge of all people, and to the spirits of good people who have been made perfect. <sup>24</sup>You have come to Jesus, the One who brought the new agreement from God to his people, and you have come to the sprinkled blood that has a better message than the blood of Abel.

<sup>25</sup>So be careful and do not refuse to listen when God speaks. Others refused to listen to him when he warned them on earth, and they did not escape. So it will be worse for us if we refuse to listen to God who warns us from heaven. <sup>26</sup>When he spoke before, his voice shook the earth, but now he has promised, "Once again I will shake not only the earth but also the heavens." <sup>27</sup>The words "once again" clearly show us that everything that was made—things that can be shaken—will be destroyed. Only the things that cannot be shaken will remain.

<sup>28</sup>So let us be thankful, because we have a kingdom that cannot be shaken. We should worship God in a way that pleases him with respect and fear, <sup>29</sup>because our God is like a fire that burns things up.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: Our Great Shepherd

Are you hoping that a change in circumstances will bring a change in your attitude? If so, you are in prison, and you need to learn a secret of traveling light. What you have in your Shepherd is greater than what you don't have in life.

May I meddle for a moment? What is the one thing separating you from joy? How do you fill in this blank: “I will be happy when _____”?

When I am healed. When I am promoted. When I am married. When I am single. When I am rich. How would you finish that statement?

Now, with your answer firmly in mind, answer this. If your ship never comes in, if your dream never comes true, if the situation never changes, could you be happy? If not, then you are sleeping in the cold cell of discontent. You are in prison. And you need to know what you have in your Shepherd.

You have a God who hears you, the power of love behind you, the Holy Spirit within you, and all of heaven ahead of you. If you have the Shepherd, you have grace for every sin, direction for every turn, a candle for every corner, and an anchor for every storm. You have everything you need.

And who can take it from you? Can leukemia infect your salvation? Can bankruptcy impoverish your prayers? A tornado might take your earthly house, but will it touch your heavenly home?

And look at your position. Why clamor for prestige and power? Are you not already privileged to be part of the greatest work in history? ...

Try saying it slowly. “The Lord is my shepherd; I have everything I need.”

Again, “The Lord is my shepherd; I have everything I need.”

Again, “The Lord is my shepherd; I have everything I need.”

Shhhhhhh. Did you hear something? I think I did.
I'm not sure ... but I think I heard the opening of a jail door. (From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

For more on “Christ Through the Bible.”

Keep on loving each other as brothers and sisters.<sup>2</sup>Remember to welcome strangers, because some who have done this have welcomed angels without knowing it.<sup>3</sup>Remember those who are in prison as if you were in prison with them. Remember those who are suffering as if you were suffering with them.

<sup>4</sup>Marriage should be honored by everyone, and husband and wife should keep their marriage pure. God will judge as guilty those who take part in sexual sins.<sup>5</sup>Keep your lives free from the love of money, and be satisfied with what you have. God has said,

“I will never leave you;
I will never forget you.”

Deuteronomy 31:6

<sup>6</sup>So we can be sure when we say,

“I will not be afraid, because the Lord is my helper.
People can't do anything to me.”

Psalm 118:6

<sup>7</sup>Remember your leaders who taught God's message to you. Remember how they lived and died, and copy their faith.<sup>8</sup>Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today, and forever.

<sup>9</sup>Do not let all kinds of strange teachings lead you into the wrong way. Your hearts should be strengthened by God's grace, not by obeying rules about foods, which do not help those who obey them.

<sup>10</sup>We have a sacrifice, but the priests who serve in the Holy Tent cannot eat from it.<sup>11</sup>The high priest carries the blood of animals into the Most Holy Place where he offers this blood for sins. But the bodies of the animals are burned outside the camp. <sup>12</sup>So Jesus also suffered outside the city to make his people holy with his own blood. <sup>13</sup>So let us go to Jesus outside the camp, holding on as he did when we are abused.

<sup>14</sup>Here on earth we do not have a city that lasts forever, but we are looking for the city that we will have in the future. <sup>15</sup>So through Jesus let us always offer to God our sacrifice of praise, coming from lips that speak his name. <sup>16</sup>Do not forget to do good to others, and share with them, because such sacrifices please God.

<sup>17</sup>Obey your leaders and act under their authority. They are watching over you, because they are responsible for your souls. Obey them so that they will do this work with joy, not sadness. It will not help you to make their work hard.

<sup>18</sup>Pray for us. We are sure that we have a clear conscience, because we always want to do the right thing. <sup>19</sup>I especially beg you to pray so that God will send me back to you soon.

<sup>20-21</sup>I pray that the God of peace will give you every good thing you need so you can do what he wants. God raised from the dead our Lord Jesus, the Great Shepherd of the sheep, because of the blood of his death. His blood began the eternal agreement that God made with his people. I pray that God will do in us what pleases him, through Jesus Christ, and to him be glory forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>22</sup>My brothers and sisters, I beg you to listen patiently to this message I have written to encourage you, because it is not very long. <sup>23</sup>I want you to know that our brother Timothy has been let out of prison. If he arrives soon, we will both come to see you.

<sup>24</sup>Greet all your leaders and all of God's people. Those from Italy send greetings to you.

<sup>25</sup>Grace be with you all.

The Book of James

Introduction

Here is a story James would have liked.

Francis of Assisi once invited an apprentice to go with him to a nearby village to preach. The young monk quickly agreed, seizing an opportunity to hear his teacher speak. When they arrived in the village, St. Francis began to visit with the people.

First he stopped in on the butcher. Next a visit with the cobbler. Then a short walk to the home of a woman who'd recently buried her husband. After that a stop at the school to chat with the teacher. This continued throughout the morning. After some time, Francis told his disciple that it was time to return to the abbey.

The student didn't understand. "But we came to preach," he reminded. "We haven't preached a sermon."

"Haven't we?" questioned the elder. "People have watched us, listened to us, responded to us. Every word we have spoken, every deed we have done has been a sermon. We have preached all morning."

James would have liked that. As far as he was concerned, Christianity was more action on Monday than worship on Sunday. "My brothers and sisters, if people say they have faith, but do nothing, their faith is worth nothing. Can faith like that save them?" (2:14).

His message is bare-knuckled; his style is bare-boned. Talk is cheap, he argues. Service is invaluable.

It's not that works save the Christian, but that works mark the Christian. In James's book of logic, it only makes sense that we who have been given much should give much. Not just with words. But with our lives.

Or as St. Francis is noted as saying, “Preach without ceasing. If you must, use words.”

James would have liked that, too.

James 1:1-27

Situation

James knew that Christians scattered all over the world would face challenges to their faith. If they were to remain faithful, their beliefs needed to be not only intellectual, but also very practical. He urged his readers to put their faith into action.

Observation

God allows tough situations in our lives in order to refine us and bring us closer to him. We should approach these times with a right attitude and seek wisdom from God.

Inspiration

When a potter bakes a pot, he checks its solidity by pulling it out of the oven and thumping it. If it “sings” it’s ready. If it “thuds,” it’s placed back in the oven. The character of a person is also checked by thumping.

Been thumped lately?

Late-night phone calls. Grouchy teacher. Grumpy moms. Burnt Meals. Flat tires. “You’ve got to be kidding” deadlines. Those are thumps. Thumps are those irritating inconveniences that trigger the worst in us. They catch us off guard. Flat footed. They aren’t big enough to be crises, but if you get enough of them, watch out! Traffic jams. Long lines. Empty mailboxes. Dirty clothes on the floor ... Thump. Thump. Thump. How do I respond? Do I sing? Or do

I thud? Jesus said that out of the nature of the heart a man speaks (Luke 6:45). There's nothing like a good thump to reveal the nature of a heart. The true character of a person is seen not in momentary heroics, but in the thump-packed humdrum of day-to-day living. (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Application

How do you respond when you are “thumped” by people at work, school, family, or people at the grocery store? Your initial reaction during these times reflects who you are. What responses need to change? Make the changes today.

Exploration

Perseverance—Romans 2:7; 8:24–25; 2 Corinthians 6:3–7.

From James, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ.

To all of God's people who are scattered everywhere in the world:

Greetings.

Faith and Wisdom

<sup>2</sup>My brothers and sisters, when you have many kinds of troubles, you should be full of joy, <sup>3</sup>because you know that these troubles test your faith, and this will give you patience. <sup>4</sup>Let your patience show itself perfectly in what you do. Then you will be perfect and complete and will have everything you need. <sup>5</sup>But if any of you needs wisdom, you should ask God for it. He is generous and enjoys giving to all people, so he will give you wisdom. <sup>6</sup>But when you ask God, you must believe and not doubt. Anyone who doubts is like a wave in the sea, blown up and down by the wind. <sup>7-8</sup>Such doubters are thinking two different things at the same time, and they cannot decide about anything they do. They should not think they will receive anything from the Lord.

True Riches

<sup>9</sup>Believers who are poor should be proud, because God has made them spiritually rich. <sup>10</sup>Those who are rich should be proud, because God has shown them that they are spiritually poor. The rich will die like a wild flower in the grass. <sup>11</sup>The sun rises with burning heat and dries up the plants. The flower falls off, and its beauty is gone. In the same way the rich will die while they are still taking care of business.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: One Who Understands Us

Jesus ... has been where you are and can relate to how you feel. And if his life on earth doesn't convince you, his death on the cross should. He understands what you are going through. Our Lord does not patronize us or scoff at our needs. He "... is generous and enjoys giving to all people, so he will give you wisdom" (James 1:5). How can he do this? No one penned it more clearly than did the author of Hebrews [Hebrews 4:15-16] ...

Why did the throat of heaven grow raw? So we would know that he understands; so all who struggle would hear his invitation: "You can trust me..."

Why, in his final moments, was Jesus determined to fulfill prophecy? He knew we would doubt. He knew we would question. And since he did not want our heads to keep his love from our hearts, he used his final moments to offer proof that he was the Messiah. He systematically fulfilled centuries-old prophecies. (From He Chose the Nails by Max Lucado)

Temptation Is Not from God

<sup>12</sup>When people are tempted and still continue strong, they should be happy. After they have proved their faith, God will reward them with life forever. God promised this to all those who love him. <sup>13</sup>When people are tempted, they should not say, “God is tempting me.” Evil cannot tempt God, and God himself does not tempt anyone. <sup>14</sup>But people are tempted when their own evil desire leads them away and traps them. <sup>15</sup>This desire leads to sin, and then the sin grows and brings death.

<sup>16</sup>My dear brothers and sisters, do not be fooled about this. <sup>17</sup>Every good action and every perfect gift is from God. These good gifts come down from the Creator of the sun, moon, and stars, who does not change like their shifting shadows. <sup>18</sup>God decided to give us life through the word of truth so we might be the most important of all the things he made.

Listening and Obeying

<sup>19</sup>My dear brothers and sisters, always be willing to listen and slow to speak. Do not become angry easily, <sup>20</sup>because anger will not help you live the right kind of life God wants. <sup>21</sup>So put out of your life every evil thing and every kind of wrong. Then in gentleness accept God’s teaching that is planted in your hearts, which can save you.

<sup>22</sup>Do what God’s teaching says; when you only listen and do nothing, you are fooling yourselves. <sup>23</sup>Those who hear

God's teaching and do nothing are like people who look at themselves in a mirror. <sup>24</sup>They see their faces and then go away and quickly forget what they looked like. <sup>25</sup>But the truly happy people are those who carefully study God's perfect law that makes people free, and they continue to study it. They do not forget what they heard, but they obey what God's teaching says. Those who do this will be made happy.

The True Way to Worship God

<sup>26</sup>People who think they are religious but say things they should not say are just fooling themselves. Their "religion" is worth nothing. <sup>27</sup>Religion that God accepts as pure and without fault is this: caring for orphans or widows who need help, and keeping yourself free from the world's evil influence.

Life Lessons

James 2:1-26

Situation

These Christians drew social lines among themselves. Certain cliques were more popular and more important in the church.

Observation

Christians should avoid forming cliques. God sees no difference between the social elite and the lowest class. All are called to serve and worship side-by-side.

Inspiration

Grant's church was beginning a ministry to people suffering from AIDS. At the initial planning session, an expert on this type of ministry was going to be present to speak to the group about the Dos and Don'ts of such a task. The catch was that the person who was coming had AIDS.

As he drove to the meeting, Grant struggled with what his response would be. "How should I address this individual? Would I shake hands with this person? Would I sit next to him? Would I pry into his lifestyle, demanding to know how he contracted the disease? How would I react if he volunteered that information? Is this a ministry that I should be involved in personally?" These questions and countless others were swirling through his mind.

As he pondered these issues, he was reminded of James 2:1 and the fact that favoritism is sin. The issue is not whether the distinction is made over economic, social, educational, physical, spiritual, or health concerns or differences. The issue is that our motives for making the distinction are immediately called into question because favoritism is sin. (From A Dad's Blessing by Gary Smalley and John Trent)

Application

Do you attend a church regularly? Are you involved enough to see which people are on the “outside”? If not, become more involved; then help break down walls by bringing people on the fringe into your circle.

Exploration

Unity—Psalm 133:1; John 10:16; 17:23; Acts 4:32; Romans 12:4–5; 15:5; 1 Corinthians 1:10; 10:17; Ephesians 2:14–20; Philippians 2:1–2.

Love All People

My dear brothers and sisters, as believers in our glorious Lord Jesus Christ, never think some people are more important than others.<sup>2</sup> Suppose someone comes into your church meeting wearing nice clothes and a gold ring. At the same time a poor person comes in wearing old, dirty clothes.<sup>3</sup> You show special attention to the one wearing nice clothes and say, "Please, sit here in this good seat." But you say to the poor person, "Stand over there," or, "Sit on the floor by my feet."<sup>4</sup> What are you doing? You are making some people more important than others, and with evil thoughts you are deciding that one person is better.

<sup>5</sup>Listen, my dear brothers and sisters! God chose the poor in the world to be rich with faith and to receive the kingdom God promised to those who love him.<sup>6</sup> But you show no respect to the poor. The rich are always trying to control your lives. They are the ones who take you to court.<sup>7</sup> And they are the ones who speak against Jesus, who owns you.

<sup>8</sup>This royal law is found in the Scriptures: "Love your neighbor as you love yourself." If you obey this law, you are doing right.<sup>9</sup> But if you treat one person as being more important than another, you are sinning. You are guilty of breaking God's law.<sup>10</sup> A person who follows all of God's law but fails to obey even one command is guilty of breaking all the commands in that law.<sup>11</sup> The same God who said, "You must not be guilty of adultery.” also said, “You must not murder anyone.” So if you do not take part in adultery but you murder someone, you are guilty of breaking all of God’s law. <sup>12</sup>In everything you say and do, remember that you will be judged by the law that makes people free. <sup>13</sup>So you must show mercy to others, or God will not show mercy to you when he judges you. But the person who shows mercy can stand without fear at the judgment.

Faith and Good Works

<sup>14</sup>My brothers and sisters, if people say they have faith, but do nothing, their faith is worth nothing. Can faith like that save them? <sup>15</sup>A brother or sister in Christ might need clothes or food. <sup>16</sup>If you say to that person, “God be with you! I hope you stay warm and get plenty to eat,” but you do not give what that person needs, your words are worth nothing. <sup>17</sup>In the same way, faith that is alone—that does nothing—is dead.

<sup>18</sup>Someone might say, “You have faith, but I have deeds.” Show me your faith without doing anything, and I will show you my faith by what I do. <sup>19</sup>You believe there is one God. Good! But the demons believe that, too, and they tremble with fear.

<sup>20</sup>You foolish person! Must you be shown that faith that does nothing is worth nothing? <sup>21</sup>Abraham, our ancestor, was made right with God by what he did when he offered his son Isaac on the altar. <sup>22</sup>So you see that Abraham’s faith and the things he did worked together. His faith was made perfect by what he did. <sup>23</sup>This shows the full meaning of the Scripture that says: “Abraham believed God, and God accepted Abraham’s faith, and that faith made him right with God.” And Abraham was called God’s friend.<sup>24</sup> So you see that people are made right with God by what they do, not by faith only.

<sup>25</sup> Another example is Rahab, a prostitute, who was made right with God by something she did. She welcomed the spies into her home and helped them escape by a different road.

<sup>26</sup> Just as a person’s body that does not have a spirit is dead, so faith that does nothing is dead!

Life Lessons

James 3:1–18

Situation

James described how faith works in everyday life. Everyday speech and actions should correspond with inward faith.

Observation

The tongue can build others up or tear them down. It needs to be controlled.

Inspiration

Each of us has a tongue and a voice. These instruments of speech can be used destructively or employed constructively. I can use my tongue to slander, to gripe, to scold, to nag, and to quarrel; or I can bring it under the control of God's Spirit and make it an instrument of blessing and praise... Only God can control it, as we yield it to Him.

The twentieth-century version of James 3:3 says, "When we put bits into the horses' mouths to make them obey us, we control the rest of their bodies also." Just so, when we submit to the claims of Christ upon our lives, our untamed natures are brought under His control. We become meek, tamed, and "fit for the Master's service." (From The Secret of Happiness by Billy Graham)

Application

Today, use your tongue to bring joy, peace, and happiness into the lives of others. Thank others for their friendship. Encourage those who are struggling.

Tell others of your love for them. Most of all, use your words to praise God throughout today.

Exploration

Restraining the Tongue—Psalm 34:13; Proverbs 13:3; 21:23; Titus 3:2; James 1:26; 1 Peter 3:10.

Controlling the Things We Say

My brothers and sisters, not many of you should become teachers, because you know that we who teach will be judged more strictly. <sup>2</sup>We all make many mistakes. If people never said anything wrong, they would be perfect and able to control their entire selves, too. <sup>3</sup>When we put bits into the mouths of horses to make them obey us, we can control their whole bodies. <sup>4</sup>Also a ship is very big, and it is pushed by strong winds. But a very small rudder controls that big ship, making it go wherever the pilot wants. <sup>5</sup>It is the same with the tongue. It is a small part of the body, but it brags about great things.

A big forest fire can be started with only a little flame. <sup>6</sup>And the tongue is like a fire. It is a whole world of evil among the parts of our bodies. The tongue spreads its evil through the whole body. The tongue is set on fire by hell, and it starts a fire that influences all of life. <sup>7</sup>People can tame every kind of wild animal, bird, reptile, and fish, and they have tamed them, <sup>8</sup>but no one can tame the tongue. It is wild and evil and full of deadly poison. <sup>9</sup>We use our tongues to praise our Lord and Father, but then we curse people, whom God made like himself. <sup>10</sup>Praises and curses come from the same mouth! My brothers and sisters, this should not happen. <sup>11</sup>Do good and bad water flow from the same spring? <sup>12</sup>My brothers and sisters, can a fig tree make olives, or can a grapevine make figs? No! And a well full of salty water cannot give good water.

True Wisdom

<sup>13</sup>Are there those among you who are truly wise and understanding? Then they should show it by living right and doing good things with a gentleness that comes from wisdom.

<sup>14</sup>But if you are selfish and have bitter jealousy in your hearts, do not brag. Your bragging is a lie that hides the truth. <sup>15</sup>That kind of “wisdom” does not come from God but from the world.

It is not spiritual; it is from the devil. <sup>16</sup>Where jealousy and selfishness are, there will be confusion and every kind of evil.

<sup>17</sup>But the wisdom that comes from God is first of all pure, then peaceful, gentle, and easy to please. This wisdom is always ready to help those who are troubled and to do good for others. It is always fair and honest. <sup>18</sup>People who work for peace in a peaceful way plant a good crop of right-living.

Life Lessons

James 4:1-17

Situation

God planned for his people to be distinct by their peaceful and humble attitudes. Both words and actions mark these qualities.

Observation

People who are self-sufficient must recognize that their plans and their lives are not their own but could change in a moment.

Inspiration

There are certain mountains only God can climb. The names of these mountains? You'll see them as you look from the window of the chapel in the Great House of God. "Thine is the kingdom, and the power and the glory forever." A trio of peaks mantled by the clouds. Admire them, applaud them, but don't climb them.

It's not that you aren't welcome to try, it's just that you aren't able. The pronoun is "thine," not "mine"; "thine" is the kingdom, not "mine" is the kingdom. If the word "Savior" is in your job description, it's because you put it there. Your role is to help the world, not save it. Mount Messiah is one mountain you weren't made to climb.

Nor is Mount Self-Sufficient. You aren't able to run the world, nor are you able to sustain it. Some of you think you can. You are self-made. You don't bow your knees, you just roll up your sleeves and put in another twelve-hour day ... which may be enough when it comes to making a living or building a business. But when you face your own grave or your own guilt, your power will not do the trick.

You were not made to run a kingdom, nor are you expected to be all-powerful. And you certainly can't handle all the glory. Mount Applause is the most seductive of the three peaks. The higher you climb the more people applaud, but the thinner the air becomes. More than one person has stood at the top and shouted, "Mine is the glory!" only to lose their balance and fall.

"Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever." What protection this final phrase affords. As you confess that God is in charge, you admit that you aren't. As you proclaim that God has power, you admit that you don't. And as you give God all the applause, there is none left to dizzy your brain. (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)]

Application

List five experiences that make you proud. Pray that real service would begin as God humbles you. Ask God to help you realize that you can't make life work on your own.

Exploration

Submission—Luke 14:27; John 14:23; 1 Corinthians 11:3; 1 Peter 3:5

Give Yourselves to God

Do you know where your fights and arguments come from? They come from the selfish desires that war within you. <sup>2</sup>You want things, but you do not have them. So you are ready to kill and are jealous of other people, but you still cannot get what you want. So you argue and fight. You do not get what you want, because you do not ask God. <sup>3</sup>Or when you ask, you do not receive because the reason you ask is wrong. You want things so you can use them for your own pleasures.

<sup>4</sup>So, you are not loyal to God! You should know that loving the world is the same as hating God. Anyone who wants to be a friend of the world becomes God's enemy. <sup>5</sup>Do you think the Scripture means nothing that says, "The Spirit that God made to live in us wants us for himself alone?" <sup>6</sup>But God gives us even more grace, as the Scripture says,

“God is against the proud,
but he gives grace to the humble.”

Proverbs 3:34

<sup>7</sup>So give yourselves completely to God. Stand against the devil, and the devil will run from you. <sup>8</sup>Come near to God, and God will come near to you. You sinners, clean sin out of your lives. You who are trying to follow God and the world at the same time, make your thinking pure. <sup>9</sup>Be sad, cry, and weep!

Change your laughter into crying and your joy into sadness.
<sup>10</sup>Don't be too proud in the Lord's presence, and he will make you great.

You Are Not the Judge

<sup>11</sup>Brothers and sisters, do not tell evil lies about each other. If you speak against your fellow believers or judge them, you are judging and speaking against the law they follow. And when you are judging the law, you are no longer a follower of the law. You have become a judge. <sup>12</sup>God is the only Lawmaker and Judge. He is the only One who can save and destroy. So it is not right for you to judge your neighbor.

Let God Plan Your Life

<sup>13</sup>Some of you say, "Today or tomorrow we will go to some city. We will stay there a year, do business, and make money."
<sup>14</sup>But you do not know what will happen tomorrow! Your life is like a mist. You can see it for a short time, but then it goes away. <sup>15</sup>So you should say, "If the Lord wants, we will live and do this or that." <sup>16</sup>But now you are proud and you brag. All of this bragging is wrong. <sup>17</sup>Anyone who knows the right thing to do, but does not do it, is sinning.

Life Lessons

James 5:1–20

Situation

Wealth can lead some into false security. Jesus and the Old Testament prophets defended the poor. James explained that instead of hoarding, exploiting, and self-indulging, Believers should share with those in need.

Observation

A Christian should be more concerned with sharing and meeting the needs of others than with accumulating earthly treasures.

Inspiration

We live at one of the great turning points in history. The present division of the World's resources dare not continue. And it will not. Either courageous pioneers will persuade reluctant nations to share the good earth's bounty, or we will enter an era of catastrophic conflict...

Do Christians today have that kind of faith and courage? Will we pioneer new models of sharing for our interdependent world? Will we dare to become the vanguard in the struggle for structural change? ...

I am not pessimistic. God regularly accomplishes his will through faithful remnants. Even in affluent nations, there are millions of Christians who love their Lord Jesus more than houses and lands...

If at this moment in history a few million Christians in affluent nations dare to join hands with the poor around the world, we will decisively influence the course of world history. Together we will strive to be a biblical people ready to follow wherever Scripture leads. We must pray for the courage to bear any cross, suffer any loss and joyfully embrace any sacrifice that biblical faith requires in an Age of Hunger. (From Rich Christians in an Age of Hunger by Ronald Sider)

Application

Are you free to lend your possessions? Is money set aside for giving? Develop a plan today, keep it for six months, and evaluate the results.

Exploration

Sharing—Acts 2:44; 4:32–35;

A Warning to the Rich

You rich people, listen! Cry and be very sad because of the troubles that are coming to you. <sup>2</sup>Your riches have rotted, and your clothes have been eaten by moths. <sup>3</sup>Your gold and silver have rusted, and that rust will be a proof that you were wrong. It will eat your bodies like fire. You saved your treasure for the last days. <sup>4</sup>The pay you did not give the workers who mowed your fields cries out against you, and the cries of the workers have been heard by the Lord All-Powerful. <sup>5</sup>Your life on earth was full of rich living and pleasing yourselves with everything you wanted. You made yourselves fat, like an animal ready to be killed. <sup>6</sup>You have judged guilty and then murdered innocent people, who were not against you.

Be Patient

<sup>7</sup>Brothers and sisters, be patient until the Lord comes again. A farmer patiently waits for his valuable crop to grow from the earth and for it to receive the autumn and spring rains. <sup>8</sup>You, too, must be patient. Do not give up hope, because the Lord is coming soon. <sup>9</sup>Brothers and sisters, do not complain against each other or you will be judged guilty. And the Judge is ready to come! <sup>10</sup>Brothers and sisters, follow the example of the prophets who spoke for the Lord. They suffered many hard things, but they were patient.<sup>11</sup>We say they are happy because they did not give up. You have heard about Job's patience, and you know the Lord's purpose for him in the end. You know the Lord is full of mercy and is kind.

Be Careful What You Say

<sup>12</sup>My brothers and sisters, above all, do not use an oath when you make a promise. Don't use the name of heaven, earth, or anything else to prove what you say. When you mean yes, say only yes, and when you mean no, say only no so you will not be judged guilty.

The Power of Prayer

<sup>13</sup>Anyone who is having troubles should pray. Anyone who is happy should sing praises. <sup>14</sup>Anyone who is sick should call the church's elders. They should pray for and pour oil on the person in the name of the Lord. <sup>15</sup>And the prayer that is said with faith will make the sick person well; the Lord will heal that person. And if the person has sinned, the sins will be forgiven. <sup>16</sup>Confess your sins to each other and pray for each other so God can heal you. When a believing person prays, great things happen. <sup>17</sup>Elijah was a human being just like us. He prayed that it would not rain, and it did not rain on the land for three and a half years! <sup>18</sup>Then Elijah prayed again, and the rain came down from the sky, and the land produced crops again.

Saving a Soul

<sup>19</sup>My brothers and sisters, if one of you wanders away from the truth, and someone helps that person come back, <sup>20</sup>remember this: Anyone who brings a sinner back from the wrong way will save that sinner's soul from death and will cause many sins to be forgiven.

brothers and sisters Although the Greek text says “brothers” here and throughout this book, James’s words were meant for the entire church, including men and women.

“Love ... yourself.” Quotation from Leviticus 19:18.

“You ... adultery.” Quotation from Exodus 20:14 and Deuteronomy 5:18.

“You ... anyone.” Quotation from Exodus 20:13 and Deuteronomy 5:17.

“Abraham ... God.” Quotation from Genesis 15:6.

God’s friend These words about Abraham are found in 2 Chronicles 20:7 and Isaiah 41:8.

“The Spirit ... alone?” These words may be from Exodus 20:5.

pour oil on the person Oil was used in the name of the Lord as a sign that the person was now set apart for God’s special attention and care.

The Book of 1 Peter

Introduction

The science teacher makes a derisive statement about God creating the world. You raise your hand and state your convictions. Your teacher rolls her eyes. The students behind you chuckle.

It's not easy being the only one in your family who goes to church. It's bad enough that they don't go. It's worse that they make fun of you for going.

If you would pad your expense account, so could the other salesmen. But if you don't, they can't. "Come on," they urge you, "just hedge a little." You refuse. The next day someone has spilled paint on your car.

Persecution. Not by firing squad. Not by death threats. Not by the government. But it's persecution nonetheless. A more subtle persecution. Persecution from friends, family, and peers. They won't take your life ... but they will take your peace ... and they'd like to take your faith, if you'd let them.

How do you respond? Begin with Peter's survival manual. He understood persecution. Beaten and jailed. Threatened and punished. He knew the sting of the false word and the angry whip. No doubt he'd seen some Christians stand and others fall. He'd seen enough to know what it takes to stay strong in tough times.

His counsel may surprise you.

His counsel may sustain you. It may be just what you need so that "the purity of your faith will bring you praise and glory and honor when Jesus Christ is shown to you" (1:7).

Life Lessons

1 Peter 1:1-25

Situation

Peter reminded Christians who were scattered all over the world that they were guaranteed an inheritance. They were to base their confidence on the indestructible truth of God's Word.

Observation

God promises us an inheritance that will never pass away.

Inspiration

Hollywood, California—many people come there from around the world frantically seeking success, fame, and fortune. For most, however, the quest is a futile one.

Only a few have actually “made it” to the sidewalk along Hollywood Boulevard, where embedded bronze symbols bear the names and faces of the famous. It appears that these men and women, in worldly terms, have mastered their destinies. And yet, upon passing this way and looking at these small monuments more carefully, one cannot help but be touched with a sense of irony. The same sidewalk in which the coveted star has been firmly laid is cluttered with debris, splattered with mud, and ground over in places with patches of gum.

In stark contrast, the promise of God to His people says “I lay ... a sure foundation.” ...

The reward of walking this “established” path is only found in God's Word. There is no bronze star waiting to be laid in concrete by the hands of man and tarnished by the passage of time. Rather, the redeemed of the Lord—those whose lives are built upon the sure foundation by God—shall shine forever. (From Living and Praying in Jesus' Name by Dick Eastman and Jack Hayford)

Application

How many times during the last week have you praised God because of the inheritance he has promised you?

Exploration

Security—Psalm 9:10; Zephaniah 2:3–7; Romans 6:6–11; 2 Corinthians 4:14; 1 John 5:13.

From Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ.

To God's chosen people who are away from their homes and are scattered all around the countries of Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia. <sup>2</sup>God planned long ago to choose you by making you his holy people, which is the Spirit's work. God wanted you to obey him and to be made clean by the blood of the death of Jesus Christ.

Grace and peace be yours more and more.

We Have a Living Hope

<sup>3</sup>Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. In God's great mercy he has caused us to be born again into a living hope, because Jesus Christ rose from the dead. <sup>4</sup>Now we hope for the blessings God has for his children. These blessings, which cannot be destroyed or be spoiled or lose their beauty, are kept in heaven for you. <sup>5</sup>God's power protects you through your faith until salvation is shown to you at the end of time. <sup>6</sup>This makes you very happy, even though now for a short time different kinds of troubles may make you sad. <sup>7</sup>These troubles come to prove that your faith is pure. This purity of faith is worth more than gold, which can be proved to be pure by fire but will ruin. But the purity of your faith will bring you praise and glory and honor when Jesus Christ is shown to you. <sup>8</sup>You have not seen Christ, but still you love him. You cannot see him now, but you believe in him. So you are filled with a joy that cannot be explained, a joy full of glory.

<sup>9</sup>And you are receiving the goal of your faith—the salvation of your souls.

<sup>10</sup>The prophets searched carefully and tried to learn about this salvation. They prophesied about the grace that was coming to you. <sup>11</sup>The Spirit of Christ was in the prophets, telling in advance about the sufferings of Christ and about the glory that would follow those sufferings. The prophets tried to learn about what the Spirit was showing them, when those things would happen, and what the world would be like at that time. <sup>12</sup>It was shown them that their service was not for themselves but for you, when they told about the truths you have now heard. Those who preached the Good News to you told you those things with the help of the Holy Spirit who was sent from heaven—things into which angels desire to look.

A Call to Holy Living

<sup>13</sup>So prepare your minds for service and have self-control. All your hope should be for the gift of grace that will be yours when Jesus Christ is shown to you. <sup>14</sup>Now that you are obedient children of God do not live as you did in the past. You did not understand, so you did the evil things you wanted. <sup>15</sup>But be holy in all you do, just as God, the One who called you, is holy. <sup>16</sup>It is written in the Scriptures: “You must be holy, because I am holy.”

<sup>17</sup>You pray to God and call him Father, and he judges each person’s work equally. So while you are here on earth, you should live with respect for God. <sup>18</sup>You know that in the past you were living in a worthless way, a way passed down from the people who lived before you. But you were saved from that useless life. You were bought, not with something that ruins like gold or silver,<sup>19</sup> but with the precious blood of Christ, who was like a pure and perfect lamb.<sup>20</sup> Christ was chosen before the world was made, but he was shown to the world in these last times for your sake.<sup>21</sup> Through Christ you believe in God, who raised Christ from the dead and gave him glory. So your faith and your hope are in God.

<sup>22</sup>Now that you have made your souls pure by obeying the truth, you can have true love for your Christian brothers and sisters. So love each other deeply with all your heart.<sup>23</sup> You have been born again, and this new life did not come from something that dies, but from something that cannot die. You were born again through God's living message that continues forever.<sup>24</sup> The Scripture says,

“All people are like the grass, and all their glory is like the flowers of the field.
The grass dies and the flowers fall,
<sup>25</sup>but the word of the Lord will live forever.”

Isaiah 40:6–8

And this is the word that was preached to you.

Life Lessons

1 Peter 2:1–25

Situation

Peter knew that loyal Christians suffered from the abuse of cruel Roman practices. He told them to expect suffering. Suffering might be endured so that others could see the Lord's power to help Christians endure.

Observation

Christians can encourage others who are suffering by showing mercy, humility, and kindness to them.

Inspiration

Is there anything more frail than a bruised reed? Look at the bruised reed at the water's edge. A once slender and tall stalk of sturdy river grass, it is now bowed and bent.

Are you a bruised reed? Was it so long ago that you stood so tall, so proud? ...

Then something happened. You were bruised ...

by harsh words

by a friend's anger

by a spouse's betrayal

by your own failure

by religion's rigidity.

... Your hollow reed, once erect, now stooped, and hidden in the bulrush.

And the smoldering wick on the candle... . Once aflame, now flickering and failing... . Was it that long ago you blazed with faith? Remember how you illuminated the path? ...

Painted on canvas after canvas is the tender touch of a Creator who has a special place for the bruised and weary of the world. (From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

Application

Find a story of a Christian who showed grace under pressure. Read it. Pray that you, too, will endure when and if the heat in your life is turned up.

Exploration

Suffering—Matthew 24:9–13; Mark 8:31–33; Romans 8:17; Philippians 1:12–14; 2 Thessalonians 1:4; 1 Peter 4:12–16.

Jesus Is the Living Stone

So then, rid yourselves of all evil, all lying, hypocrisy, jealousy, and evil speech. <sup>2</sup>As newborn babies want milk, you should want the pure and simple teaching. By it you can grow up and be saved, <sup>3</sup>because you have already examined and seen how good the Lord is.

<sup>4</sup>Come to the Lord Jesus, the “stone” that lives. The people of the world did not want this stone, but he was the stone God chose, and he was precious. <sup>5</sup>You also are like living stones, so let yourselves be used to build a spiritual temple—to be holy priests who offer spiritual sacrifices to God. He will accept those sacrifices through Jesus Christ. <sup>6</sup>The Scripture says:

“I will put a stone in the ground in Jerusalem.

Everything will be built on this important and precious rock.

Anyone who trusts in him will never be disappointed.”

Isaiah 28:16

<sup>7</sup>This stone is worth much to you who believe. But to the people who do not believe,

“the stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone.”

<sup>8</sup>Also, he is “a stone that causes people to stumble,

a rock that makes them fall.”

They stumble because they do not obey what God says, which is what God planned to happen to them.

<sup>9</sup>But you are a chosen people, royal priests, a holy nation, a people for God’s own possession. You were chosen to tell about the wonderful acts of God, who called you out of darkness into his wonderful light. <sup>10</sup>At one time you were not a people, but now you are God’s people. In the past you had never received mercy, but now you have received God’s mercy.

Live for God

<sup>11</sup>Dear friends, you are like foreigners and strangers in this world. I beg you to avoid the evil things your bodies want to do that fight against your soul. <sup>12</sup>People who do not believe are living all around you and might say that you are doing wrong. Live such good lives that they will see the good things you do and will give glory to God on the day when Christ comes again.

Yield to Every Human Authority

<sup>13</sup>For the Lord’s sake, yield to the people who have authority in this world: the king, who is the highest authority, <sup>14</sup>and the leaders who are sent by him to punish those who do wrong and to praise those who do right. <sup>15</sup>It is God's desire that by doing good you should stop foolish people from saying stupid things about you. <sup>16</sup>Live as free people, but do not use your freedom as an excuse to do evil. Live as servants of God. <sup>17</sup>Show respect for all people: Love the brothers and sisters of God's family, respect God, honor the king.

Follow Christ's Example

<sup>18</sup>Slaves, yield to the authority of your masters with all respect, not only those who are good and kind, but also those who are dishonest. <sup>19</sup>A person might have to suffer even when it is unfair, but if he thinks of God and stands the pain, God is pleased. <sup>20</sup>If you are beaten for doing wrong, there is no reason to praise you for being patient in your punishment. But if you suffer for doing good, and you are patient, then God is pleased. <sup>21</sup>This is what you were called to do, because Christ suffered for you and gave you an example to follow. So you should do as he did.

<sup>22</sup>“He had never sinned, and he had never lied.”

Isaiah 53:9

<sup>23</sup>People insulted Christ, but he did not insult them in return. Christ suffered, but he did not threaten. He let God, the One who judges rightly, take care of him. <sup>24</sup>Christ carried our sins in his body on the cross so we would stop living for sin and start living for what is right. And you are healed because of his wounds. <sup>25</sup>You were like sheep that wandered away, but now you have come back to the Shepherd and Protector of your souls.

Life Lessons

1 Peter 3:1-22

Situation

In Peter's day, women had little status. Peter encouraged wives and husbands to recognize each other's needs and respect them.

Observation

Submission does not indicate weakness or inferiority. Rather, one married partner demonstrates love for the other by yielding to the other.

Inspiration

A husband is to love his wife with the same sacrificial self-abandonment that Christ adopted toward each of us. When a man considers hardship in marriage, he needs to look at the life of Jesus. Jesus said, "The Son of Man came not to be served, but to serve" (Matthew 20:28). Jesus is presented in Scripture as both Head and Servant. He is the "head over everything for the church" (Ephesians 1:22) who took "the very nature of a servant" (Philippians 2:7). And Jesus instructed us, "The greatest among you will be your servant" (Matthew 23:11).

As believers, we are all called to servanthood as an expression of our new life in Christ. However, when it comes to marriage, modeling this attribute of God's Son is a calling extended to husbands. A husband expresses love to his wife by regarding her as a completely equal partner in everything that concerns their life together. He asserts his headship to see that this equal partnership works. Loving headship affirms and defers; it encourages and stimulates. Loving headship delights to delegate without demanding. (From Quiet Times for Couples by H. Norman Wright)

Application

Today, do something new to show your spouse how much you care, how happy you are together, how much God encourages you through your marriage. Do the dishes, give a flower, take a walk, or write a note. If you are unmarried, develop your character to match the one discussed by Peter. Put more attention on the beauty that comes from within than on physical appearance.

Exploration

Submission—Luke 14:27; John 14:23; 1 Corinthians 11:3, 9–12; Ephesians 5:21–24.

Wives and Husbands

In the same way, you wives should yield to your husbands. Then, if some husbands do not obey God's teaching, they will be persuaded to believe without anyone's saying a word to them. They will be persuaded by the way their wives live. <sup>2</sup>Your husbands will see the pure lives you live with your respect for God. <sup>3</sup>It is not fancy hair, gold jewelry, or fine clothes that should make you beautiful. <sup>4</sup>No, your beauty should come from within you—the beauty of a gentle and quiet spirit that will never be destroyed and is very precious to God. <sup>5</sup>In this same way the holy women who lived long ago and followed God made themselves beautiful, yielding to their own husbands. <sup>6</sup>Sarah obeyed Abraham, her husband, and called him her master. And you women are true children of Sarah if you always do what is right and are not afraid.

<sup>7</sup>In the same way, you husbands should live with your wives in an understanding way, since they are weaker than you. But show them respect, because God gives them the same blessing he gives you—the grace that gives true life. Do this so that nothing will stop your prayers.

Suffering for Doing Right

<sup>8</sup>Finally, all of you should be in agreement, understanding each other, loving each other as family, being kind and humble. <sup>9</sup>Do not do wrong to repay a wrong, and do not insult to repay an insult. But repay with a blessing, because you yourselves were called to do this so that you might receive a blessing. <sup>10</sup>The Scripture says,

“A person must do these things to enjoy life and have many happy days.
He must not say evil things,
and he must not tell lies.

<sup>11</sup>He must stop doing evil and do good.
He must look for peace and work for it.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord sees the good people and listens to their prayers.
But the Lord is against those who do evil.”

Psalm 34:12–16

<sup>13</sup>If you are trying hard to do good, no one can really hurt you. <sup>14</sup>But even if you suffer for doing right, you are blessed.

“Don’t be afraid of what they fear;
do not dread those things.”

Isaiah 8:12–13

<sup>15</sup>But respect Christ as the holy Lord in your hearts. Always be ready to answer everyone who asks you to explain about the hope you have, <sup>16</sup>but answer in a gentle way and with respect. Keep a clear conscience so that those who speak evil of your good life in Christ will be made ashamed. <sup>17</sup>It is better to suffer for doing good than for doing wrong if that is what God wants.<sup>18</sup> Christ himself suffered for sins once. He was not guilty, but he suffered for those who are guilty to bring you to God. His body was killed, but he was made alive in the spirit.<sup>19</sup> And in the spirit he went and preached to the spirits in prison<sup>20</sup> who refused to obey God long ago in the time of Noah. God was waiting patiently for them while Noah was building the boat. Only a few people—eight in all—were saved by water.<sup>21</sup> And that water is like baptism that now saves you—not the washing of dirt from the body, but the promise made to God from a good conscience. And this is because Jesus Christ was raised from the dead.<sup>22</sup> Now Jesus has gone into heaven and is at God's right side ruling over angels, authorities, and powers.

Life Lessons

1 Peter 4:1-19

Situation

Christians have shed an old set of rules and adopted a new set full of love and God's power. Following God's standards helps Christians face the difficult trials ahead.

Observation

Peter said that each believer has been given at least one gift to use to serve others. We are told to be good servants of those gifts.

Inspiration

Want to know God's will for your life? Then answer this question: What ignites your heart? Forgotten orphans? Untouched nations? The inner city? The outer limits?

Heed the fire within!

Do you have a passion to sing? Then sing!

Are you stirred to manage? Then manage!

Do you ache for the ill? Then treat them!

Do you hurt for the lost? Then teach them!

As a young man I felt the call to preach. Unsure if I was correct in my reading of God's will for me, I sought the counsel of a minister I admired. His counsel still rings true. "Don't preach," he said, "unless you have to."

As I pondered his words I found my answer: "I have to. If I don't, the fire will consume me."

What is the fire that consumes you?

Mark it down: Jesus comes to set you on fire! He walks as a torch from heart to heart, warming the cold and thawing the chilled and stirring the ashes. He is at once a Galilean wildfire and a welcome candle. He comes to purge infection and illuminate your direction.

The fire of your heart is the light of your path. Disregard it at your own expense. Fan it at your own delight. Blow it. Stir it. Nourish it. Cynics will doubt it. Those without it will mock it. But those who know it—those who know him—will understand it.

To meet the Savior is to be set aflame.

To discover the flame is to discover his will.

And to discover his will is to access a world like none you've ever seen. (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

Application

You have been given spiritual gifts. Have you identified them? If not, consider taking a spiritual inventory test (your local church can help you). Or ask friends and family to help you discover and use your gifts. Then pray about ways you can use your gifts to build up the body of believers and share the good news of salvation.

Exploration

Spiritual Gifts—Romans 12:4–8; 1 Corinthians 12:12–31; Ephesians 4:11–16.

Change Your Lives

Since Christ suffered while he was in his body, strengthen yourselves with the same way of thinking Christ had. The person who has suffered in the body is finished with sin.<sup>2</sup> Strengthen yourselves so that you will live here on earth doing what God wants, not the evil things people want.<sup>3</sup> In the past you wasted too much time doing what nonbelievers enjoy. You were guilty of sexual sins, evil desires, drunkenness, wild and drunken parties, and hateful idol worship.<sup>4</sup> Nonbelievers think it is strange that you do not do the many wild and wasteful things they do, so they insult you.<sup>5</sup> But they will have to explain this to God, who is ready to judge the living and the dead.<sup>6</sup> For this reason the Good News was preached to those who are now dead. Even though they were judged like all people, the Good News was preached to them so they could live in the spirit as God lives.

Use God's Gifts Wisely

<sup>7</sup>The time is near when all things will end. So think clearly and control yourselves so you will be able to pray.<sup>8</sup> Most importantly, love each other deeply, because love will cause many sins to be forgiven.<sup>9</sup> Open your homes to each other, without complaining.<sup>10</sup> Each of you has received a gift to use to serve others. Be good servants of God's various gifts of grace.

<sup>11</sup>Anyone who speaks should speak words from God. Anyone who serves should serve with the strength God gives so that in everything God will be praised through Jesus Christ. Power and glory belong to him forever and ever. Amen.

Suffering as a Christian

<sup>12</sup>My friends, do not be surprised at the terrible trouble which now comes to test you. Do not think that something strange is happening to you. <sup>13</sup>But be happy that you are sharing in Christ's sufferings so that you will be happy and full of joy when Christ comes again in glory. <sup>14</sup>When people insult you because you follow Christ, you are blessed, because the glorious Spirit, the Spirit of God, is with you. <sup>15</sup>Do not suffer for murder, theft, or any other crime, nor because you trouble other people. <sup>16</sup>But if you suffer because you are a Christian, do not be ashamed. Praise God because you wear that name. <sup>17</sup>It is time for judgment to begin with God's family. And if that judging begins with us, what will happen to those people who do not obey the Good News of God?

<sup>18</sup>“If it is very hard for a good person to be saved, the wicked person and the sinner will surely be lost!”

<sup>19</sup>So those who suffer as God wants should trust their souls to the faithful Creator as they continue to do what is right.

Life Lessons

1 Peter 5:1–14

Situation

Peter challenged the elders to be good shepherds of their churches, just as Christ was a good shepherd with his disciples. He urged elders to look out for struggling Christians as shepherds would for lost sheep.

Observation

Elders and leaders play a vital role in leading and protecting young Christians. Because elders face temptation, too, God will hold them accountable for their actions.

Inspiration

The attitude Christ modeled for us is one that should typify every Christian, whether in pulpit or pew, whether leader of a vast organization or solitary prayer warrior. Not puffed up with self-importance, but poured out for others...

That doesn't mean we shrink from responsibility. God calls each of us to a particular task. But when the temptation of pride comes knocking ... as it will ... we must lock the door against it—whatever that takes.

But the toughest question is, How do we know? Because usually the knock is very faint, and we don't listen for it. The best protection I have discovered is accountability. Since we all have blind spots, we must, as we mentioned earlier, submit ourselves to those who can see the logs floating in our eyes.

How often does your church governing body review 1 Peter 5:2? ... Or Paul's first letter to Timothy? We must constantly check each other on how well we are measuring up to the clear biblical requirements of leadership.

(From The Body by Charles Colson)

Application

Christians who are younger in their faith need close fellowship with those further along in their Christian life. Do you have someone who helps refine, confront, disciple, and encourage you? Do you serve in that role for someone else? Pray that God would raise up someone to help you, as you help someone else.

Exploration

Church Leaders—1 Timothy 3:8–13; Titus 1:5–9; Revelation 4:4.

The Flock of God

Now I have something to say to the elders in your group. I also am an elder. I have seen Christ's sufferings, and I will share in the glory that will be shown to us. I beg you to <sup>2</sup>shepherd God's flock, for whom you are responsible. Watch over them because you want to, not because you are forced. That is how God wants it. Do it because you are happy to serve, not because you want money. <sup>3</sup>Do not be like a ruler over people you are responsible for, but be good examples to them. <sup>4</sup>Then when Christ, the Chief Shepherd, comes, you will get a glorious crown that will never lose its beauty.

<sup>5</sup>In the same way, younger people should be willing to be under older people. And all of you should be very humble with each other.

“God is against the proud,
but he gives grace to the humble.”

Proverbs 3:34

<sup>6</sup>Be humble under God's powerful hand so he will lift you up when the right time comes. <sup>7</sup>Give all your worries to him, because he cares about you.

<sup>8</sup>Control yourselves and be careful! The devil, your enemy, goes around like a roaring lion looking for someone to eat. <sup>9</sup>Refuse to give in to him, by standing strong in your faith. You know that your Christian family all over the world is having the same kinds of suffering.

<sup>10</sup>And after you suffer for a short time, God, who gives all grace, will make everything right. He will make you strong and support you and keep you from falling. He called you to share in his glory in Christ, a glory that will continue forever. <sup>11</sup>All power is his forever and ever. Amen.

Final Greetings

<sup>12</sup>I wrote this short letter with the help of Silas, who I know is a faithful brother in Christ. I wrote to encourage you and to tell you that this is the true grace of God. Stand strong in that grace.

<sup>13</sup>The church in Babylon, who was chosen like you, sends you greetings. Mark, my son in Christ, also greets you. <sup>14</sup>Give each other a kiss of Christian love when you meet.

Peace to all of you who are in Christ.

“You must be ... holy.” Quotation from Leviticus 11:45; 19:2; 20:7.

brothers and sisters Although the Greek text says “brothers” here and throughout this book, Peter’s words were meant for the entire church, including men and women.

“stone” The most important stone in God’s spiritual temple or house (his people).

“If ... lost!” Quotation from Proverbs 11:31 in the Septuagint, the Greek version of the Old Testament.

2 Peter

Introduction

If a friend warns you, it's one thing. If a doctor warns you, you listen. But if your friend is your doctor, you lean forward and take note.

My friend is my doctor. My doctor is my friend. Most of my physical exams are salted with friendly chatter and jokes. There have been occasions, however, when his tone gets solemn and his voice urgent.

“We’re going to have to watch this, Max.”

“You haven’t been exercising, have you ...”

“With your family’s history, you have to watch your diet.”

When it’s a warning from a friend, you listen.

The second letter from Peter is a warning from a friend. His first letter was a warning about trials from without (persecution). His second caution is a warning about trials from within (heresy).

In this the last letter we have from him, he urges Christians to be careful. Avoid shortsightedness (1:2–11). Be on guard for false teachers (2:1–22). And, most importantly, be vigilant against personal complacency which will lead to a lazy faith.

The doctor’s task is to detect concerns from within and urge you to take caution. Peter’s task is the same. Heed his counsel.

Life Lessons

2 Peter 1:1-21

Situation

The Believers had weathered persecution from the outside. Now Peter encouraged them to withstand attacks from within the church.

Observation

Continue to grow in your faith and knowledge of Jesus.

Inspiration

“Add to your faith”: Supplement it, flesh it out. Being a Christian doesn’t mean believing and then just sitting around. Now that you have faith in God’s part, make every effort—that’s your part.

That’s disciplines.

That’s regular “holy habits.”

That’s pacing yourself for the cross-country run to your future.

Says Henri Nouwen, “A spiritual life without discipline is impossible.” Tighten your belt. Get tough on yourself. GO FOR IT.

A woman once said to the great Paderewski, “Sir, you are truly a genius.”

“Well,” he answered, “before I was a genius, I was a drudge!”

To get there, to win—your life needs discipline, order, and arrangement.

“If one examines the secret behind a championship football team, a magnificent orchestra, or a successful business, the principle ingredient is invariably discipline” (James Dobson, Disciplines of the Home).

You will only discover excellence on the other side of hard work. (From My Sacrifice His Fire by Anne Ortlund)

Application

Write down on an index card the characteristics listed in verses 5-7. Put it in a strategic position, such as on your bedroom mirror, for two weeks. Whenever you pass by, take a moment and read through the list. Which are you adding to your life? Which need more effort?

Exploration

Perseverance—Nehemiah 4:6; Matthew 24:13; Mark 13:13; Hebrews 3:6; 12:1-3.

From Simon Peter, a servant and apostle of Jesus Christ.

To you who have received a faith as valuable as ours, because our God and Savior Jesus Christ does what is right.

<sup>2</sup>Grace and peace be given to you more and more, because you truly know God and Jesus our Lord.

God Has Given Us Blessings

<sup>3</sup>Jesus has the power of God, by which he has given us everything we need to live and to serve God. We have these things because we know him. Jesus called us by his glory and goodness.<sup>4</sup>Through these he gave us the very great and precious promises. With these gifts you can share in being like God, and the world will not ruin you with its evil desires.

<sup>5</sup>Because you have these blessings, do your best to add these things to your lives: to your faith, add goodness; and to your goodness, add knowledge;<sup>6</sup>and to your knowledge, add self-control; and to your self-control, add patience; and to your patience, add service for God;<sup>7</sup>and to your service for God, add kindness for your brothers and sisters in Christ; and to this kindness, add love.<sup>8</sup>If all these things are in you and are growing, they will help you to be useful and productive in your knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.<sup>9</sup>But anyone who does not have these things cannot see clearly. He is blind and has forgotten that he was made clean from his past sins.

<sup>10</sup>My brothers and sisters, try hard to be certain that you really are called and chosen by God. If you do all these things, you will never fall.<sup>11</sup> And you will be given a very great welcome into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

<sup>12</sup>You know these things, and you are very strong in the truth, but I will always help you remember them. <sup>13</sup>I think it is right for me to help you remember as long as I am in this body. <sup>14</sup>I know I must soon leave this body, as our Lord Jesus Christ has shown me. <sup>15</sup>I will try my best so that you may be able to remember these things even after I am gone.

We Saw Christ's Glory

<sup>16</sup>When we told you about the powerful coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, we were not telling just smart stories that someone invented. But we saw the greatness of Jesus with our own eyes. <sup>17</sup>Jesus heard the voice of God, the Greatest Glory, when he received honor and glory from God the Father. The voice said, "This is my Son, whom I love, and I am very pleased with him." <sup>18</sup>We heard that voice from heaven while we were with Jesus on the holy mountain.

<sup>19</sup>This makes us more sure about the message the prophets gave. It is good for you to follow closely what they said as you would follow a light shining in a dark place, until the day begins and the morning star rises in your hearts. <sup>20</sup>Most of all, you must understand this: No prophecy in the Scriptures ever comes from the prophet's own interpretation. <sup>21</sup>No prophecy ever came from what a person wanted to say, but people led by the Holy Spirit spoke words from God.

Life Lessons

2 Peter 2:1-22

Situation

Some teachers in this church were teaching ideas that did not agree with God's Word. Peter harshly opposed them.

Observation

Beware of false teachers. God will punish them severely.

Inspiration

Jesus was warning the people of His day to be on the lookout for gifted leaders who would take advantage of them and lead them astray. They would be men who looked good on the outside but were corrupt on the inside. They would perform well...

To put it bluntly, great preachers are not necessarily great Christians. The same goes for famous gospel singers and best-selling Christian writers...

The best picture of what a Spirit-filled man looks like is Christ. His life was characterized by love, joy, peace, patience, and so on in the midst of a world characterized by just the opposite of those things. He was certainly no wimp. He stood up to His detractors when it was appropriate. But He knew when to be silent as well. He had the courage and wit to take on the intellectuals of His day on their turf according to their terms. He spoke with authority. People, especially children, were attracted to Him. Even sinners loved to be with Him. He was a very secure man. There was nothing pretentious or intimidating about Him. He didn't need those props. And at the end of His life He tackled the toughest account of all—death. And He won! (From The Wonderful Spirit-Filled Life by Charles Stanley)

Dangers of False Teachers—Isaiah 56:10–12; Jeremiah 23:1–2; 50:6; Ezekiel 34:2–3; Matthew 7:15–23; John 10:12; Philippians 1:15; 1 Timothy 6:3–5.

False Teachers

There used to be false prophets among God's people, just as you will have some false teachers in your group. They will secretly teach things that are wrong—teachings that will cause people to be lost. They will even refuse to accept the Master, Jesus, who bought their freedom. So they will bring quick ruin on themselves. <sup>2</sup>Many will follow their evil ways and say evil things about the way of truth. <sup>3</sup>Those false teachers only want your money, so they will use you by telling you lies. Their judgment spoken against them long ago is still coming, and their ruin is certain.

<sup>4</sup>When angels sinned, God did not let them go free without punishment. He sent them to hell and put them in caves of darkness where they are being held for judgment. <sup>5</sup>And God punished the world long ago when he brought a flood to the world that was full of people who were against him. But God saved Noah, who preached about being right with God, and seven other people with him. <sup>6</sup>And God also destroyed the evil cities of Sodom and Gomorrah by burning them until they were ashes. He made those cities an example of what will happen to those who are against God. <sup>7</sup>But he saved Lot from those cities. Lot, a good man, was troubled because of the filthy lives of evil people. <sup>8</sup>(Lot was a good man, but because he lived with evil people every day, his good heart was hurt by the evil things he saw and heard.) <sup>9</sup>So the Lord knows how to save those who serve him when troubles come. He will hold evil people and punish them, while waiting for the Judgment Day. <sup>10</sup>That punishment is especially for those who live by doing the evil things their sinful selves want and who hate authority.

These false teachers are bold and do anything they want. They are not afraid to speak against the angels. <sup>11</sup>But even the angels, who are much stronger and more powerful than false teachers, do not accuse them with insults before the Lord. <sup>12</sup>But these people speak against things they do not understand. They are like animals that act without thinking, animals born to be caught and killed. And, like animals, these false teachers will be destroyed. <sup>13</sup>They have caused many people to suffer, so they themselves will suffer. That is their pay for what they have done. They take pleasure in openly doing evil, so they are like dirty spots and stains among you. They delight in trickery while eating meals with you. <sup>14</sup>Every time they look at a woman they want her, and their desire for sin is never satisfied. They lead weak people into the trap of sin, and they have taught their hearts to be greedy. God will punish them! <sup>15</sup>These false teachers left the right road and lost their way, following the way Balaam went. Balaam was the son of Beor, who loved being paid for doing wrong. <sup>16</sup>But a donkey, which cannot talk, told Balaam he was sinning. It spoke with a man's voice and stopped the prophet's crazy thinking.

<sup>17</sup>Those false teachers are like springs without water and clouds blown by a storm. A place in the blackest darkness has been kept for them. <sup>18</sup>They brag with words that mean nothing. By their evil desires they lead people into the trap of sin—people who are just beginning to escape from others who live in error. <sup>19</sup>They promise them freedom, but they themselves are not free. They are slaves of things that will be destroyed. For people are slaves of anything that controls them.<sup>20</sup> They were made free from the evil in the world by knowing our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. But if they return to evil things and those things control them, then it is worse for them than it was before.<sup>21</sup> Yes, it would be better for them to have never known the right way than to know it and to turn away from the holy teaching that was given to them.<sup>22</sup> What they did is like this true saying: “A dog goes back to what it has thrown up.” and, “After a pig is washed, it goes back and rolls in the mud.”

Life Lessons

2 Peter 3:1–18

Situation

Peter reminded his readers that God would faithfully keep every promise.

Observation

Christ's coming should motivate all Believers to live in anticipation of his arrival.

Inspiration

The late Francis Schaeffer asked the right question, "How Should We Then Live?" What ought to occupy our time? What do we do between now and when He returns? ...

Let me interject a telltale sign of heresy: a ministry that emphasizes the Lord's return but does not, with equal gusto, emphasize a godly life. Mark it down. Whoever highlights the coming of Christ is also responsible to teach the importance of a pure life. Why not? They mesh together, like teeth in gears. If indeed He is coming again, there is one thing we want to have in place—personal purity....

"At the appointed time, the end shall be." One of these days will be "the appointed time." You are ready, aren't you? (From Growing Deep in the Christian Life by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Do you look forward to Christ's return? Choose actions you would want him to see and words you would want him to hear. Make decisions he would approve.

Jesus Will Come Again

My friends, this is the second letter I have written you to help your honest minds remember. <sup>2</sup>I want you to think about the words the holy prophets spoke in the past, and remember the command our Lord and Savior gave us through your apostles. <sup>3</sup>It is most important for you to understand what will happen in the last days. People will laugh at you. They will live doing the evil things they want to do. <sup>4</sup>They will say, “Jesus promised to come again. Where is he? Our fathers have died, but the world continues the way it has been since it was made.” <sup>5</sup>But they do not want to remember what happened long ago. By the word of God heaven was made, and the earth was made from water and with water. <sup>6</sup>Then the world was flooded and destroyed with water. <sup>7</sup>And that same word of God is keeping heaven and earth that we now have in order to be destroyed by fire. They are being kept for the Judgment Day and the destruction of all who are against God.

<sup>8</sup>But do not forget this one thing, dear friends: To the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years is as one day. <sup>9</sup>The Lord is not slow in doing what he promised—the way some people understand slowness. But God is being patient with you. He does not want anyone to be lost, but he wants all people to change their hearts and lives.

<sup>10</sup>But the day of the Lord will come like a thief. The skies will disappear with a loud noise. Everything in them will be destroyed by fire, and the earth and everything in it will be burned up.<sup>11</sup>In that way everything will be destroyed. So what kind of people should you be? You should live holy lives and serve God,<sup>12</sup>as you wait for and look forward to the coming of the day of God. When that day comes, the skies will be destroyed with fire, and everything in them will melt with heat.<sup>13</sup>But God made a promise to us, and we are waiting for a new heaven and a new earth where goodness lives.

<sup>14</sup>Dear friends, since you are waiting for this to happen, do your best to be without sin and without fault. Try to be at peace with God.<sup>15</sup>Remember that we are saved because our Lord is patient. Our dear brother Paul told you the same thing when he wrote to you with the wisdom that God gave him.<sup>16</sup>He writes about this in all his letters. Some things in Paul's letters are hard to understand, and people who are ignorant and weak in faith explain these things falsely. They also falsely explain the other Scriptures, but they are destroying themselves by doing this.

<sup>17</sup>Dear friends, since you already know about this, be careful. Do not let those evil people lead you away by the wrong they do. Be careful so you will not fall from your strong faith.<sup>18</sup>But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Glory be to him now and forever! Amen.

brothers and sisters Although the Greek text reads “brothers” here and throughout this book, Peter’s words were meant for the entire church, including men and women.

Sodom and Gomorrah Two cities God destroyed because the people were so evil.

“A dog ... up” Quotation from Proverbs 26:11.

will be burned up Many Greek copies say, “will be found.” One copy says, “will disappear.”

1 John

Introduction

Tolerance. A prized virtue today. The ability to be understanding of those with whom you differ is a sign of sophistication. Jesus, too, was a champion of tolerance:

- Tolerant of the disciples when they doubted
- Tolerant of the crowds when they misunderstood
- Tolerant of us when we fall

But there is one area where Jesus was intolerant. There was one area where he was unindulgent and dogmatic. Were he to share his opinion today, he would be accused of being narrow, biased, one-sided, even bigoted.

But as far as he was concerned, when it comes to salvation, there aren't several roads ... there is only one road. There aren't several ways ... there is only one way ... there aren't several paths ... there is only one path. And that path is Jesus himself.

That is why it is so hard for people to believe in Jesus. It's much easier to consider him one of several options rather than the option. But such a philosophy is no option. Jesus closed that door. Jesus positioned himself as the peerless Savior of the world. In defining who he is, Jesus is bold and unapologetic.

His disciple John was equally firm.

First John was written to dispel doubts about Jesus. False teachers had entered the church, denying the incarnation of Christ. John steps up to the bench and makes his defense. John knew him, walked with him, lived with him. He saw him heal. He heard his words. John had been to the empty tomb and he knew ... Jesus is not one of many options. He is the only option or nothing at all.

There are times to be tolerant. And there are times to take a stand for truth. In this letter, John takes a stand.

“We announce to you what we have seen and heard, because we want you also to have fellowship with us. Our fellowship is with God the Father and with his Son, Jesus Christ” (1 John 1:3).

Contents:

1. Fellowship with God 1:1–2:14
2. Beware of Enemies 2:15–3:10

3. The Command to Love 3:11–4:21
4. Victory in Jesus 5:1–21

Life Lessons

1 John 1:1–10

Situation

Because John was Jesus' friend, he could speak with authority about maintaining true fellowship with God—and what hinders it!

Observation

Living in fellowship with God means that we will have joy. Yet, our pride causes us to forfeit that joy when we hide our own sin. We cannot be in a right relationship with God unless we live humbly, honestly, and dependently on him.

Inspiration

“If we confess our sins ...” The biggest word in Scriptures just might be that two letter one, if. For confessing sins—admitting failure—is exactly what prisoners of pride refuse to do.

“Well, I may not be perfect, but I'm better than Hitler and certainly kinder than Idi Amin!”

“Me a sinner? Oh, sure, I get rowdy every so often, but I'm a pretty good ol' boy.”

“Listen, I'm just as good as the next guy. I pay my taxes. I coach the Little League team. I even make donations to Red Cross. Why, God's probably proud to have someone like me on his team.”

Justification. Rationalization. Comparison. These are the tools of the jailbird. They sound good. They sound familiar. They even sound American. But in the kingdom, they sound hollow....

When you get to the point of sorrow for your sins, when you admit that you have no other option but to cast all your cares on him, and when there is truly no other one that you can call, then cast all your cares on him, for he is waiting. (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

What activities in your life need forgiveness? Confess them. Then remove every sinful activity from your life.

Exploration

Confessing Sin—2 Chronicles 7:14; Psalm 32:5; Mark 1:5.

We write you now about what has always existed, which we have heard, we have seen with our own eyes, we have looked at, and we have touched with our hands. We write to you about the Word that gives life.<sup>2</sup>He who gives life was shown to us. We saw him and can give proof about it. And now we announce to you that he has life that continues forever. He was with God the Father and was shown to us.<sup>3</sup>We announce to you what we have seen and heard, because we want you also to have fellowship with us. Our fellowship is with God the Father and with his Son, Jesus Christ.<sup>4</sup>We write this to you so you can be full of joy with us.

God Forgives Our Sins

<sup>5</sup>Here is the message we have heard from Christ and now announce to you: God is light, and in him there is no darkness at all.<sup>6</sup>So if we say we have fellowship with God, but we continue living in darkness, we are liars and do not follow the truth.<sup>7</sup>But if we live in the light, as God is in the light, we can share fellowship with each other. Then the blood of Jesus, God's Son, cleanses us from every sin.

<sup>8</sup>If we say we have no sin, we are fooling ourselves, and the truth is not in us.<sup>9</sup>But if we confess our sins, he will forgive our sins, because we can trust God to do what is right. He will cleanse us from all the wrongs we have done.<sup>10</sup>If we say we have not sinned, we make God a liar, and we do not accept God's teaching.

Life Lessons

1 John 2:1-29

Situation

John advised that Christians should have integrity. Obedience and repentance are the marks of those who love God.

Observation

Christians avoid the temptation to compromise their standards. If we fail, however, Jesus stands ready to forgive.

Inspiration

Adam Clarke was an assistant in a dry goods store, selling silks and satins to a cultured clientele. One day, his employer suggested to him that he try stretching the silk as he measured it out; this would increase sales and profits, and also increase Adam's value to the company. Young Clarke straightened up from his work, faced his boss courageously, and said, "Sir, your silk may stretch, but my conscience won't."

Unfortunately, some of us are not so honest. The book The Day America Told the Truth reported the following: 91 percent of those surveyed admitted to lying about something on a regular basis; 50 percent procrastinate, in effect doing nothing, one full day out of every five; and 74 percent steal from those who will not miss it. Examples of such stealing include taking office supplies from work, long lunches, extravagant meals, accepting gifts from customers, ignoring copyright laws, claiming improper deductions, etc. But the man of integrity avoids all such temptations. He is ethically righteous. (From A Dad's Blessing by Gary Smalley and John Trent)

Application

Is there a situation in which you have not been completely honest? Admit to God that you have sinned and ask for his forgiveness. Then seek the forgiveness of the person you have deceived and take steps to make things right. Pray that God would keep you honest.

Exploration

Honesty—Psalm 51:6; Proverbs 12:22; Romans 9:1; Colossians 3:9.

Jesus Is Our Helper

My dear children, I write this letter to you so you will not sin. But if anyone does sin, we have a helper in the presence of the Father—Jesus Christ, the One who does what is right. <sup>2</sup>He is the way our sins are taken away, and not only our sins but the sins of all people.

<sup>3</sup>We can be sure that we know God if we obey his commands. <sup>4</sup>Anyone who says, “I know God,” but does not obey God’s commands is a liar, and the truth is not in that person. <sup>5</sup>But if someone obeys God’s teaching, then in that person God’s love has truly reached its goal. This is how we can be sure we are living in God: <sup>6</sup>Whoever says that he lives in God must live as Jesus lived.

The Command to Love Others

<sup>7</sup>My dear friends, I am not writing a new command to you but an old command you have had from the beginning. It is the teaching you have already heard. <sup>8</sup>But also I am writing a new command to you, and you can see its truth in Jesus and in you, because the darkness is passing away, and the true light is already shining.

<sup>9</sup>Anyone who says, “I am in the light,” but hates a brother or sister, is still in the darkness. <sup>10</sup>Whoever loves a brother or sister lives in the light and will not cause anyone to stumble in his faith. <sup>11</sup>But whoever hates a brother or sister is in darkness, lives in darkness, and does not know where to go, because the darkness has made that person blind.

<sup>12</sup>I write to you, dear children, because your sins are forgiven through Christ.

<sup>13</sup>I write to you, parents,
because you know the One who existed from the beginning.

I write to you, young people,
because you have defeated the Evil One.

<sup>14</sup>I write to you, children, because you know the Father.

I write to you, parents,
because you know the One who existed from the beginning.

I write to you, young people,
because you are strong;
the teaching of God lives in you,
and you have defeated the Evil One.

<sup>15</sup>Do not love the world or the things in the world. If you love the world, the love of the Father is not in you. <sup>16</sup>These are the ways of the world: wanting to please our sinful selves, wanting the sinful things we see, and being too proud of what we have. None of these come from the Father, but all of them come from the world. <sup>17</sup>The world and everything that people want in it are passing away, but the person who does what God wants lives forever.

Reject the Enemies of Christ

<sup>18</sup>My dear children, these are the last days. You have heard that the enemy of Christ is coming, and now many enemies of Christ are already here. This is how we know that these are the last days. <sup>19</sup>These enemies of Christ were in our fellowship, but they left us. They never really belonged to us; if they had been a part of us, they would have stayed with us. But they left, and this shows that none of them really belonged to us.

<sup>20</sup>You have the gift that the Holy One gave you, so you all know the truth. <sup>21</sup>I do not write to you because you do not know the truth but because you do know the truth. And you know that no lie comes from the truth.

<sup>22</sup>Who is the liar? It is the person who does not accept Jesus as the Christ. This is the enemy of Christ: the person who does not accept the Father and his Son. <sup>23</sup>Whoever does not accept the Son does not have the Father. But whoever confesses the Son has the Father, too.

<sup>24</sup>Be sure you continue to follow the teaching you heard from the beginning. If you continue to follow what you heard from the beginning, you will stay in the Son and in the Father. <sup>25</sup>And this is what the Son promised to us—life forever.

<sup>26</sup>I am writing this letter about those people who are trying to lead you the wrong way. <sup>27</sup>Christ gave you a special gift that is still in you, so you do not need any other teacher. His gift teaches you about everything, and it is true, not false. So continue to live in Christ, as his gift taught you.

<sup>28</sup>Yes, my dear children, live in him so that when Christ comes back, we can be without fear and not be ashamed in his presence. <sup>29</sup>If you know that Christ is all that is right, you know that all who do right are God's children.

Life Lessons

1 John 3:1-24

Situation

John wrote that Christians should become more like Jesus. Their actions should prove that they unite in love as the church of God.

Observation

Believers' future transformation will take place when we see him as he is.

Inspiration

Why do Jesus and his angels rejoice over one repenting sinner? Can they see something we can't? Do they know something we don't? Absolutely. They know what heaven holds. They've seen the table, and they've heard the music, and they can't wait to see your face when you arrive. Better still, they can't wait to see you.

When you arrive and enter the party, something wonderful will happen. A final transformation will occur. You will be just like Jesus. Drink deeply from 1 John 3:2: "We have not yet been shown what we will be in the future. But we know that when Christ comes again, we will be like him" (italics mine).

Of all the blessings of heaven, one of the greatest will be you! You will be God's magnum opus, his work of art. The angels will gasp. God's work will be completed. At last, you will have a heart like his.

You will love with a perfect love.

You will worship with a radiant face.

You'll hear each word God speaks.

Your heart will be pure, your words will be like jewels, your thoughts will be like treasures.

You will be just like Jesus. You will, at long last, have a heart like his. Envision the heart of Jesus and you'll be envisioning your own. Guiltless. Fearless. Thrilled and joyous. Tirelessly worshiping. Flawlessly discerning. As the mountain stream is pristine and endless, so will be your heart. You will be like him.

And if that were not enough, everyone else will be like him as well. "Heaven is the perfect place for people made perfect." Heaven is populated by those who let God change them. Arguments will cease, for jealousy won't exist. Suspicions won't surface, for there will be no secrets. Every sin is gone. Every insecurity is forgotten. Every fear is past. Pure wheat. No weeds. Pure gold. No alloy. Pure love. No lust. Pure hope. No fear. No wonder the angels rejoice when one sinner repents; they know another work of art will soon grace the gallery of God. They know what heaven holds. (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you really believe that you will be a blessing in heaven? Make your own list of the types of transformations you'll be looking forward to. Thank God that you will be perfect then, and strive to live like it now.

Exploration

Transformation—Romans 8:18–25; 2 Corinthians 3:18; 4:16–18; 2 Peter 1:3–4.

We Are God's Children

The Father has loved us so much that we are called children of God. And we really are his children. The reason the people in the world do not know us is that they have not known him.

<sup>2</sup>Dear friends, now we are children of God, and we have not yet been shown what we will be in the future. But we know that when Christ comes again, we will be like him, because we will see him as he really is. <sup>3</sup>Christ is pure, and all who have this hope in Christ keep themselves pure like Christ.

<sup>4</sup>The person who sins breaks God's law. Yes, sin is living against God's law. <sup>5</sup>You know that Christ came to take away sins and that there is no sin in Christ. <sup>6</sup>So anyone who lives in Christ does not go on sinning. Anyone who goes on sinning has never really understood Christ and has never known him.

<sup>7</sup>Dear children, do not let anyone lead you the wrong way. Christ is all that is right. So to be like Christ a person must do what is right. <sup>8</sup>The devil has been sinning since the beginning, so anyone who continues to sin belongs to the devil. The Son of God came for this purpose: to destroy the devil's work.

<sup>9</sup>Those who are God's children do not continue sinning, because the new life from God remains in them. They are not able to go on sinning, because they have become children of God. <sup>10</sup>So we can see who God's children are and who the devil's children are: Those who do not do what is right are not God's children, and those who do not love their brothers and sisters are not God's children.

We Must Love Each Other

<sup>11</sup>This is the teaching you have heard from the beginning: We must love each other. <sup>12</sup>Do not be like Cain who belonged to the Evil One and killed his brother. And why did he kill him? Because the things Cain did were evil, and the things his brother did were good.

<sup>13</sup>Brothers and sisters, do not be surprised when the people of the world hate you. <sup>14</sup>We know we have left death and have come into life because we love each other. Whoever does not love is still dead. <sup>15</sup>Everyone who hates a brother or sister is a murderer, and you know that no murderers have eternal life in them. <sup>16</sup>This is how we know what real love is: Jesus gave his life for us. So we should give our lives for our brothers and sisters. <sup>17</sup>Suppose someone has enough to live and sees a brother or sister in need, but does not help. Then God's love is not living in that person. <sup>18</sup>My children, we should love people not only with words and talk, but by our actions and true caring.

<sup>19-20</sup>This is the way we know that we belong to the way of truth. When our hearts make us feel guilty, we can still have peace before God. God is greater than our hearts, and he knows everything. <sup>21</sup>My dear friends, if our hearts do not make us feel guilty, we can come without fear into God's presence. <sup>22</sup>And God gives us what we ask for because we obey God's commands and do what pleases him. <sup>23</sup>This is what God commands: that we believe in his Son, Jesus Christ, and that we love each other, just as he commanded. <sup>24</sup>The people who obey God's commands live in God, and God lives in them. We know that God lives in us because of the Spirit God gave us.

Life Lessons

1 John 4:1–5:21

Situation

John reminded Believers to reject the lies of false teachers. He also told them that God illustrates perfect love to us.

Observation

Because of God's self-sacrificing love for us, we should love him and love others.

Inspiration

We aren't always sure ourselves what we mean when we use the term "love." That word has become one of the most widely misused words in our language. We use the word "love" to describe the basest as well as the most exalted of human relationships. We say we "love" to travel, we "love" to eat chocolate cake, we "love" our new car, or the pattern in the wallpaper in our home. Why, we even say we "love" our neighbors—but most of us don't do much more than just say it and let it go at that! No wonder we don't have a very clear idea of what the Bible means when it says: "God is Love."

Don't make the mistake of thinking that because God is Love that everything is going to be sweet, beautiful, and happy and that no one will be punished for his sins. God's holiness demands that all sin be punished, but God's love provides the plan and way of redemption for sinful man. God's love is the cross of Jesus, by which man can have forgiveness and cleansing. It was the love of God that sent Jesus Christ to the cross!

Never question God's great love, for it is as unchangeable a part of God as His holiness. No matter how terrible your sins, God loves you. Were it not for the love of God, none of us would ever have a chance in the future life. But God is Love and his love for us is everlasting! (From Peace with God by Billy Graham)

Application

Who is one person you have difficulty loving? What three steps can you take this week to show love to that person? Pray that God would give you a loving heart; then show your love.

Exploration

Loving Others—John 15:9–13; Galatians 5:6, 13; Ephesians 5:1; Colossians 3:12; 1 Peter 1:22; 1 John 3:11–24.

Warning Against False Teachers

My dear friends, many false prophets have gone out into the world. So do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see if they are from God. <sup>2</sup>This is how you can know God's Spirit: Every spirit who confesses that Jesus Christ came to earth as a human is from God. <sup>3</sup>And every spirit who refuses to say this about Jesus is not from God. It is the spirit of the enemy of Christ, which you have heard is coming, and now he is already in the world.

<sup>4</sup>My dear children, you belong to God and have defeated them; because God's Spirit, who is in you, is greater than the devil, who is in the world. <sup>5</sup>And they belong to the world, so what they say is from the world, and the world listens to them. <sup>6</sup>But we belong to God, and those who know God listen to us. But those who are not from God do not listen to us. That is how we know the Spirit that is true and the spirit that is false.

Love Comes from God

<sup>7</sup>Dear friends, we should love each other, because love comes from God. Everyone who loves has become God's child and knows God. <sup>8</sup>Whoever does not love does not know God, because God is love. <sup>9</sup>This is how God showed his love to us: He sent his one and only Son into the world so that we could have life through him. <sup>10</sup>This is what real love is: It is not our love for God; it is God's love for us in sending his Son to be the way to take away our sins.

<sup>11</sup>Dear friends, if God loved us that much we also should love each other. <sup>12</sup>No one has ever seen God, but if we love each other, God lives in us, and his love is made perfect in us.

<sup>13</sup>We know that we live in God and he lives in us, because he gave us his Spirit. <sup>14</sup>We have seen and can testify that the Father sent his Son to be the Savior of the world. <sup>15</sup>Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God has God living inside, and that person lives in God. <sup>16</sup>And so we know the love that God has for us, and we trust that love.

God is love. Those who live in love live in God, and God lives in them. <sup>17</sup>This is how love is made perfect in us: that we can be without fear on the day God judges us, because in this world we are like him. <sup>18</sup>Where God's love is, there is no fear, because God's perfect love drives out fear. It is punishment that makes a person fear, so love is not made perfect in the person who fears.

<sup>19</sup>We love because God first loved us. <sup>20</sup>If people say, "I love God," but hate their brothers or sisters, they are liars. Those who do not love their brothers and sisters, whom they have seen, cannot love God, whom they have never seen. <sup>21</sup>And God gave us this command: Those who love God must also love their brothers and sisters.

Faith in the Son of God

Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ is God's child, and whoever loves the Father also loves the Father's children. <sup>2</sup>This is how we know we love God's children: when we love God and obey his commands. <sup>3</sup>Loving God means obeying his commands. And God's commands are not too hard for us, <sup>4</sup>because everyone who is a child of God conquers the world. And this is the victory that conquers the world—our faith. <sup>5</sup>So the one who wins against the world is the person who believes that Jesus is the Son of God.

<sup>6</sup>Jesus Christ is the One who came by water and blood. He did not come by water only, but by water and blood. And the Spirit says that this is true, because the Spirit is the truth. <sup>7</sup>So there are three witnesses that tell us about Jesus: <sup>8</sup>the Spirit, the water, and the blood; and these three witnesses agree. <sup>9</sup>We believe people when they say something is true. But what God says is more important, and he has told us the truth about his own Son. <sup>10</sup>Anyone who believes in the Son of God has the truth that God told us. Anyone who does not believe makes God a liar, because that person does not believe what God told us about his Son. <sup>11</sup>This is what God told us: God has given us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. <sup>12</sup>Whoever has the Son has life, but whoever does not have the Son of God does not have life.

We Have Eternal Life Now

<sup>13</sup>I write this letter to you who believe in the Son of God so you will know you have eternal life. <sup>14</sup>And this is the boldness we have in God's presence: that if we ask God for anything that agrees with what he wants, he hears us. <sup>15</sup>If we know he hears us every time we ask him, we know we have what we ask from him.

Jesus: True God, Our Source

Should a man see only popularity, he becomes a mirror, reflecting whatever needs to be reflected to gain acceptance... . He is everyone and no one.

Should a man see only power, he becomes a wolf—prowling, hunting, and stalking the elusive game. Recognition is his prey and people are his prizes. His quest is endless... . As a result, he who sees only power is degraded to an animal, an insatiable scavenger, controlled not by a will from within, but by luring from without.

Should a man see only pleasure, he becomes a carnival thrill-seeker, alive only in bright lights, wild rides, and titillating entertainment. With lustful fever he races from ride to ride, satisfying his insatiable passion for sensations only long enough to look for another... .

Seekers of popularity, power, and pleasure. The end result is the same: painful unfulfillment.

Only in seeking his Maker does a man truly become man. For in seeing his Creator man catches a glimpse of what he was intended to be. He who would see his God would then see the reason for death and the purpose of time. Destiny? Tomorrow? Truth? All are questions within the reach of the man who knows his source. . . . (From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

<sup>16</sup>If anyone sees a brother or sister sinning (sin that does not lead to eternal death), that person should pray, and God will give the sinner life. I am talking about people whose sin does not lead to eternal death. There is sin that leads to death. I do not mean that a person should pray about that sin. <sup>17</sup>Doing wrong is always sin, but there is sin that does not lead to eternal death.

<sup>18</sup>We know that those who are God's children do not continue to sin. The Son of God keeps them safe, and the Evil One cannot touch them. <sup>19</sup>We know that we belong to God, but the Evil One controls the whole world. <sup>20</sup>We also know that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding so that we can know the True One. And our lives are in the True One and in his Son, Jesus Christ. He is the true God and the eternal life.

Word The Greek word is “logos,” meaning any kind of communication. Here, it means Christ, who was the way God told people about himself.

light Here, it is used as a symbol of God’s goodness or truth.

brother or sister Although the Greek text says “brother” here and throughout this book, the writer’s words were meant for the entire church, including men and women.

gift This might mean the Holy Spirit, or it might mean teaching or truth as in verse 24.

Everyone ... murderer If one person hates a brother or sister, then in the heart that person has killed that brother or sister. Jesus taught about this sin to his followers (Matthew 5:21–26).

water This probably means the water of Jesus’ baptism.

blood This probably means the blood of Jesus’ death.

The Book of 2 John

Introduction

The single most difficult pursuit is truth and love.

That sentence is grammatically correct. I know every English teacher wanted to pluralize it to read: The most difficult pursuits are those of truth and love. But that's not what I meant to say.

True, love is a difficult pursuit.

Correct, truth is a tough one, too.

But put them together, pursue truth and love at the same time, and hang on, baby, you're in for the ride of your life.

But that's the task of the Christian. Love in truth. Truth in love. Never one at the expense of the other. Never the embrace of love without the torch of truth. Never the heat of truth without the warmth of love.

Never would be easier if we could choose between the two, but we can't. So John, in this second letter, calls for a hybrid.

"I love all of you in the truth, and all those who know the truth love you. We love you because of the truth that lives in us and will be with us forever. Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and his Son, Jesus Christ, will be with us in truth and love" (vv. 2-3).

Truth and love. Love and truth. Never one without the other. To pursue both is our singular task.

John

Date Written:

Key Themes:

- Love is an ultimate force, the essence of God and his command to us.
- The truth of Jesus Christ is the foundation of the gospel.
- Those who do not teach the truth do serious harm and should be treated seriously.

Key Verse:

“Anyone who goes beyond Christ’s teaching and does not continue to follow only his teaching does not have God. But whoever continues to follow the teaching of Christ has both the Father and the Son” (2 John 9).

Contents:

1. Truth and Love 1-6
2. False Teachers 7-13

<sup>1</sup>From the Elder.

To the chosen lady and her children:

I love all of you in the truth, and all those who know the truth love you. <sup>2</sup>We love you because of the truth that lives in us and will be with us forever.

<sup>3</sup>Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and his Son, Jesus Christ, will be with us in truth and love.

<sup>4</sup>I was very happy to learn that some of your children are following the way of truth, as the Father commanded us. <sup>5</sup>And now, dear lady, this is not a new command but is the same command we have had from the beginning. I ask you that we all love each other. <sup>6</sup>And love means living the way God commanded us to live. As you have heard from the beginning, his command is this: Live a life of love.

<sup>7</sup>Many false teachers are in the world now who do not confess that Jesus Christ came to earth as a human. Anyone who does not confess this is a false teacher and an enemy of Christ. <sup>8</sup>Be careful yourselves that you do not lose everything you have worked for, but that you receive your full reward.

<sup>9</sup>Anyone who goes beyond Christ's teaching and does not continue to follow only his teaching does not have God. But whoever continues to follow the teaching of Christ has both the Father and the Son. <sup>10</sup>If someone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not welcome or accept that person into your house. <sup>11</sup>If you welcome such a person, you share in the evil work.

<sup>12</sup>I have many things to write to you, but I do not want to use paper and ink. Instead, I hope to come to you and talk face to face so we can be full of joy. <sup>13</sup>The children of your chosen sister greet you.

Life Lessons

2 John 1–13

Situation

John exhorted Christians to live in a way that pleased God and to be aware of those who did not speak God's truth.

Observation

God's Word and God's Spirit provide what we need to detect false teachers.

Inspiration

The devil is declared by Scriptures to be an enemy of God and of all good men. Because he is a spirit he is able to "walk up and down in the earth" at his pleasure.

While we must not underestimate the strength of our foe, we must at the same time recognize that we need not live in constant fear of him! If he cannot make skeptics of us he will make us devil-conscious and thus throw a permanent shadow across our lives, for there is but a hairline between truth and superstition.

We should learn the truth about the enemy, but we must stand bravely against every superstitious notion he would introduce about himself. The truth will set us free but superstition will enslave us!

... The best way to keep the enemy out is to keep Christ in! The sheep need not be terrified by the wolf; they have but to stay close to the shepherd. The instructed Christian whose faculties have been developed by the Word and the Spirit will practice the presence of God moment by moment! (From Renewed Day by Day by A. W. Tozer)

Application

In order to resist Satan and his false teachers, Christians must know God's Word and depend on the Spirit for discernment. Study the Scriptures daily and become involved in a Bible study with other Christians through your local church.

Exploration

Truth—Psalm 25:5; 51:6; 119:160; John 14:6; Colossians 1:5-6; 2 Timothy 2:15; 2 Peter 1:12.

Elder “Elder” means an older person. It can also mean a special leader in the church (as in Titus 1:5).

lady This might mean a woman, or in this letter it might mean a church. If it is a church, then “her children” would be the people of the church.

truth The truth or “Good News” about Jesus Christ that joins all believers together.

sister Sister of the “lady” in verse 1. This might be another woman or another church.

The Book of 3 John

Introduction

It's like finding a postcard written from one friend to another. The writer is John; the recipient is Gaius.

John we know. We met him when he was a young man in the shadow of John the Baptist. We saw him as he stood in the shadow of the cross. We now read him as he writes as the elder statesman of the church.

He writes to Gaius. Whoever Gaius was, he had a special place in John's heart. John is writing to thank him for his hospitality. Word was out that Gaius kept his door open and pantry stocked for traveling missionaries, and John is writing to commend him.

His words are not so kind, however, for Diotrephes. Apparently, he was the opposite of Gaius. Where Gaius was accepting, Diotrephes was judgmental. Where Gaius was a servant, Diotrephes was demanding.

In a way, it's like reading a postcard that wasn't intended for you. But in another, it's like getting a personal letter from John. By the way, are you more like Gaius or Diotrephes? Or better, do you love people or love the limelight?

If John were writing a note to you, what would he say?

About This Book

Key Themes:

- When we help ministers of the gospel we become part of their ministry.
- We need to be generous toward one another.
- Personal pride has no place in ministry.

Key Verse:

“My dear friend, do not follow what is bad; follow what is good. The one who does good belongs to God. But the one who does evil has never known God” (3 John 11).

Contents:

1. Gaius 1-8
2. Diotrephes 9-14

<sup>1</sup>From the Elder.

To my dear friend Gaius, whom I love in the truth:

<sup>2</sup>My dear friend, I know your soul is doing fine, and I pray that you are doing well in every way and that your health is good. <sup>3</sup>I was very happy when some brothers and sisters came and told me about the truth in your life and how you are following the way of truth. <sup>4</sup>Nothing gives me greater joy than to hear that my children are following the way of truth.

<sup>5</sup>My dear friend, it is good that you help the brothers and sisters, even those you do not know. <sup>6</sup>They told the church about your love. Please help them to continue their trip in a way worthy of God. <sup>7</sup>They started out in service to Christ, and they have been accepting nothing from nonbelievers. <sup>8</sup>So we should help such people; when we do, we share in their work for the truth.

<sup>9</sup>I wrote something to the church, but Diotrephes, who loves to be their leader, will not listen to us. <sup>10</sup>So if I come, I will talk about what Diotrephes is doing, about how he lies and says evil things about us. But more than that, he refuses to accept the other brothers and sisters; he even stops those who do want to accept them and puts them out of the church.

<sup>11</sup>My dear friend, do not follow what is bad; follow what is good. The one who does good belongs to God. But the one who does evil has never known God.

<sup>12</sup>Everyone says good things about Demetrius, and the truth agrees with what they say. We also speak well of him, and you know what we say is true.

<sup>13</sup>I have many things I want to write you, but I do not want to use pen and ink. <sup>14</sup>I hope to see you soon and talk face to face. <sup>15</sup>Peace to you. The friends here greet you. Please greet each friend there by name.

Life Lessons

3 John 1–15

Situation

In the early church, Christians showed hospitality to traveling prophets, teachers, and evangelists. Gaius, as a church elder, was exemplary in providing hospitality and walking in truth.

Observation

Believers should live by appropriate standards—be faithful to the truth and show hospitality to fellow Believers, especially teachers. John cites Gaius and Demetrius as good examples and warns against the ways of Diotrephes.

Inspiration

The truth was in Gaius, and Gaius walked in the truth. If the first had not been the case, the second could never have occurred; and if the second could not have been said of him the first would have been a mere pretense. Truth must enter into the soul, penetrate and saturate it, or else it is of no value. . . .

Be it ours today, O gracious Spirit, to be ruled and governed by Thy divine authority, so that nothing false or sinful may reign in our hearts. (From Morning and Evening by Charles H. Spurgeon)

Application

How hospitable are you? Do you feel as if you can't entertain much because of poor circumstances? Fellowship with other Christians doesn't require silver, china, and fine dining. During the next three months, look for ways you can help other Christians, especially those who are traveling.

Exploration

Hospitality—Mark 9:41; Romans 12:13; 16:23; 2 Timothy 1:16–18; 1 Peter 4:9–11; James 2:15–16.

Elder “Elder” means an older person. It can also mean a special leader in the church (as in Titus 1:5).

truth The truth or “Good News” about Jesus Christ that joins all believers together.

brothers and sisters Although the Greek text says “brothers” here and throughout this book, the writer’s words were meant for the entire church, including men and women.

The Book of Jude

Introduction

A redwood tree fell in a California forest. Four hundred years old.

It wasn't destroyed by lightning. Storms had come and gone, but the tree stood. It wasn't felled by winds. Bent by their force, but never uprooted. The tree didn't fall to fire. It had stood when others collapsed.

What destroyed the redwood?

Insects. Termites devoured it from within. It had stood for four centuries against the elements from without, but collapsed because of an attack within.

Jude warns that the same can happen to the church.

He wanted to write “about the salvation we all share” (v. 3).

But he felt compelled to address a more somber issue—the danger of false teachers.

Apparently, some had entered the church (v. 8). They were not students of the Word but, rather, promoters of sexual sin. They used God's grace as a license for passion (v. 4). The only solution? “Fight hard for the faith that was given the holy people of God once and for all time” (v. 3).

Jude is urgent in his warning. What destroyed the redwood can destroy a church. But he is equally urgent in his encouragement. “God is strong,” Jude concludes, “and can help you not to fall” (v. 24).

Can God really keep you from falling? To answer that, go to another tree on a barren hill. A tree older than time. A tree which covers the mistakes of your past and the problems of your future. Be assured—that tree will never fall.

- Each Christian should feel a responsibility to defend the truth.
- Stand against false teachers when you recognize them.
- Trust God to give you the strength and awareness to represent him in the world.

Key Verse:

Contents:

2. Standing Against False Teachers 17–25

Life Lessons

Jude 1–25

Situation

Jude warned Jewish Christians about false teachers and wicked people who found their way into the church. These people taught that because God's grace was free, behavior didn't matter. Jude reminds Believers of the punishment immoral people receive.

Observation

Some people claim to love God but don't obey him. Be careful that disobedience does not create a wedge between you and God.

Inspiration

According to Gallup surveys, confirmed by other polls taken over the past fifteen years, 33 percent of all Americans over age eighteen indicate they are evangelical or "born again" Christians. That translates into 59 million Christians, or one in every three adults, who experienced a turning point in their lives as they made a personal commitment to Jesus Christ.

This information should grip us with terror. It means that the greatest revival in history has so far been impotent to change society. It's revival without reformation. It's a revival which left the country floundering in spiritual ignorance. It's a change in belief without a corresponding change in behavior...

How did the building blocks of the gospel become glued together with the cement of self-centeredness? The American gospel has evolved into a gospel of addition without subtraction. It is the belief that we can add Christ to our lives, but not subtract sin. It is a change in belief without a change in behavior. It is a spiritual experience without any cultural impact. It is revival without reformation, without repentance. . . .

The proof of religious conversion is to demonstrate that we have both added a relationship with Christ and that we have subtracted sin (repentance). And we multiply proof to a weary world by what we do—our deeds, our obedience. What we do must confirm what we say. Our deeds are the proof of our repentance. . . .

A changed life is one that has added Christ and subtracted sin, that attracts a world weary of worn-out words. Obedience is the proof. (From Walking with Christ in the Details of Life by Patrick Morley)

Application

You may be great at obeying some commands of God but lax in obeying others. Which biblical teachings do you struggle to obey? Help others who are struggling, and let them help you. Depend on God, who can help you stand firm.

Exploration

Grace and Sin—Leviticus 19:2; Romans 6; 2 Corinthians 7:1; Galatians 5:13, 16–17; 6:7–8; Hebrews 12:14; 2 Peter 2:1–2, 17–20; 3:11, 14, 17.

To all who have been called by God. God the Father loves you, and you have been kept safe in Jesus Christ:

<sup>2</sup>Mercy, peace, and love be yours richly.

God Will Punish Sinners

<sup>3</sup>Dear friends, I wanted very much to write you about the salvation we all share. But I felt the need to write you about something else: I want to encourage you to fight hard for the faith that was given the holy people of God once and for all time. <sup>4</sup>Some people have secretly entered your group. Long ago the prophets wrote about these people who will be judged guilty. They are against God and have changed the grace of our God into a reason for sexual sin. They also refuse to accept Jesus Christ, our only Master and Lord.

<sup>5</sup>I want to remind you of some things you already know: Remember that the Lord saved his people by bringing them out of the land of Egypt. But later he destroyed all those who did not believe. <sup>6</sup>And remember the angels who did not keep their place of power but left their proper home. The Lord has kept these angels in darkness, bound with everlasting chains, to be judged on the great day. <sup>7</sup>Also remember the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah and the other towns around them. In the same way they were full of sexual sin and people who desired sexual relations that God does not allow. They suffer the punishment of eternal fire, as an example for all to see.

<sup>8</sup>It is the same with these people who have entered your group. They are guided by dreams and make themselves filthy with sin. They reject God's authority and speak against the angels. <sup>9</sup>Not even the archangel Michael, when he argued with the devil about who would have the body of Moses, dared to judge the devil guilty. Instead, he said, "The Lord punish you."

<sup>10</sup>But these people speak against things they do not understand. And what they do know, by feeling, as dumb animals know things, are the very things that destroy them. <sup>11</sup>It will be terrible for them. They have followed the way of Cain, and for money they have given themselves to doing the wrong that Balaam did. They have fought against God as Korah did, and like Korah, they surely will be destroyed. <sup>12</sup>They are like dirty spots in your special Christian meals you share. They eat with you and have no fear, caring only for themselves. They are clouds without rain, which the wind blows around. They are autumn trees without fruit that are pulled out of the ground. So they are twice dead. <sup>13</sup>They are like wild waves of the sea, tossing up their own shameful actions like foam. They are like stars that wander in the sky. A place in the blackest darkness has been kept for them forever.

<sup>14</sup>Enoch, the seventh descendant from Adam, said about these people: "Look, the Lord is coming with many thousands of his holy angels to <sup>15</sup>judge every person. He is coming to punish all who are against God for all the evil they have done against him. And he will punish the sinners who are against God for all the evil they have said against him."

<sup>16</sup>These people complain and blame others, doing the evil things they want to do. They brag about themselves, and they flatter others to get what they want.

A Warning and Things to Do

<sup>17</sup>Dear friends, remember what the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ said before. <sup>18</sup>They said to you, “In the last times there will be people who laugh about God, following their own evil desires which are against God.” <sup>19</sup>These are the people who divide you, people whose thoughts are only of this world, who do not have the Spirit.

<sup>20</sup>But dear friends, use your most holy faith to build yourselves up, praying in the Holy Spirit. <sup>21</sup>Keep yourselves in God’s love as you wait for the Lord Jesus Christ with his mercy to give you life forever.

<sup>22</sup>Show mercy to some people who have doubts. <sup>23</sup>Take others out of the fire, and save them. Show mercy mixed with fear to others, hating even their clothes which are dirty from sin.

Praise God

<sup>24</sup>God is strong and can help you not to fall. He can bring you before his glory without any wrong in you and can give you great joy. <sup>25</sup>He is the only God, the One who saves us. To him be glory, greatness, power, and authority through Jesus Christ our Lord for all time past, now, and forever. Amen.

Sodom and Gomorrah Two cities God destroyed because they were so evil.

archangel The leader among God's angels or messengers.

Revelation

Introduction

An ancient legend tells of a general whose army was afraid to fight. The soldiers were frightened. The enemy was too strong. Its fortress was too high and weapons too mighty.

The king, however, was not afraid. He knew his men would win. How could he convince them?

He had an idea. He told his soldiers that he possessed a magical coin. A prophetic coin. A coin which would foretell the outcome of the battle. On one side was an eagle and on the other a bear. He would toss the coin. If it landed eagle-side up, they would win. If it landed with the bear up, they would lose.

The army was silent as the coin flipped in the air. Soldiers circled as it fell to the ground. They held their breath as they looked and shouted when they saw the eagle. The army would win.

Bolstered by the assurance of victory, the men marched against the castle and won.

It was only after the victory that the king showed the men the coin. The two sides were identical.

Though the story is fictional, the truth is reliable: assured victory empowers the army.

That may be the reason God gives us the Book of Revelation. In it he assures victory. We, the soldiers, are privileged a glimpse into the final battlefield. All hell breaks loose as all heaven comes forth. The two collide in the ultimate battle of good and evil. Left standing amidst the smoke and thunder is the Son of God. Jesus, born in a manger—now triumphant over Satan.

Satan is defeated. Christ is triumphant. And we, the soldiers, are assured of victory.

Let us march.

Life Lessons

Revelation 1:1–20

Situation

John wrote Revelation to encourage Christians to resist the cult of emperor worship and to stand firm during persecution.

Observation

Jesus, the Mighty One, cares for us and stands with us. No matter what we face, he gives us his love and power.

Inspiration

As the Christian with the Bible in his hand surveys the world scene, he is aware that we do not worship an absentee God. He is aware that God is in the shadows of history and that He has a plan. The Christian is not to be disturbed by the chaos, violence, strife, bloodshed, and threat of war that fill the pages of our daily newspapers. We know that these things are the consequences of sin and greed. Every day we see a thousand evidences of the fulfillment of biblical prophecy. Every day as I read my newspaper I say: “The Bible is true.”

No matter how foreboding the future, the Christian knows the end of the story. We are heading toward a glorious climax. Every writer of the New Testament believes that “the best is yet to be.”

As John Baillie has said: “The Bible indicates that the future is in God’s hands. If it were in our hands, we would make a mess of it. The future is not in the devil's hands, for then he would lead us to destruction. The future is not at the mercy of any historical determinism leading us blindly forward, for then life would be without meaning. But the future is in the hands of One who is preparing something better than the eye hath seen, or ear heard, or has entered into the heart of man to conceive." ... (From Unto the Hills by Billy Graham)

Application

God has told you he will destroy Satan and his works that oppose you. Do your actions prove that you believe him?

Exploration

Sovereignty—Job 37:23; Ezekiel 6:14; Daniel 4:25; Jude 4; Revelation 19:16.

John Tells About This Book

This is the revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave to him, to show his servants what must soon happen. And Jesus sent his angel to show it to his servant John,<sup>2</sup> who has told everything he has seen. It is the word of God; it is the message from Jesus Christ.<sup>3</sup> Happy is the one who reads the words of God's message, and happy are the people who hear this message and do what is written in it. The time is near when all of this will happen.

Jesus' Message to the Churches

<sup>4</sup>From John.

To the seven churches in the country of Asia:

Grace and peace to you from the One who is and was and is coming, and from the seven spirits before his throne,<sup>5</sup> and from Jesus Christ. Jesus is the faithful witness, the first among those raised from the dead. He is the ruler of the kings of the earth.

He is the One who loves us, who made us free from our sins with the blood of his death.<sup>6</sup> He made us to be a kingdom of priests who serve God his Father. To Jesus Christ be glory and power forever and ever! Amen.

<sup>7</sup>Look, Jesus is coming with the clouds, and everyone will see him, even those who stabbed him. And all peoples of the earth will cry loudly because of him. Yes, this will happen! Amen.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord God says, “I am the Alpha and the Omega. I am the One who is and was and is coming. I am the Almighty.”

<sup>9</sup>I, John, am your brother. All of us share with Christ in suffering, in the kingdom, and in patience to continue. I was on the island of Patmos, because I had preached the word of God and the message about Jesus. <sup>10</sup>On the Lord’s day I was in the Spirit, and I heard a loud voice behind me that sounded like a trumpet. <sup>11</sup>The voice said, “Write what you see in a book and send it to the seven churches: to Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia, and Laodicea.”

<sup>12</sup>I turned to see who was talking to me. When I turned, I saw seven golden lampstands <sup>13</sup>and someone among the lampstands who was “like a Son of Man.” He was dressed in a long robe and had a gold band around his chest. <sup>14</sup>His head and hair were white like wool, as white as snow, and his eyes were like flames of fire. <sup>15</sup>His feet were like bronze that glows hot in a furnace, and his voice was like the noise of flooding water. <sup>16</sup>He held seven stars in his right hand, and a sharp double-edged sword came out of his mouth. He looked like the sun shining at its brightest time.

<sup>17</sup>When I saw him, I fell down at his feet like a dead man. He put his right hand on me and said, “Do not be afraid. I am the First and the Last. <sup>18</sup>I am the One who lives; I was dead, but look, I am alive forever and ever! And I hold the keys to death and to the place of the dead. <sup>19</sup>So write the things you see, what is now and what will happen later. <sup>20</sup>Here is the secret of the seven stars that you saw in my right hand and the seven golden lampstands: The seven lampstands are the seven churches, and the seven stars are the angels of the seven churches.

Life Lessons

Revelation 2:1–29

Situation

John commended various churches in Asia Minor regarding their faithfulness and fervor for God. He highlights the importance of applying God's Word and avoiding sin.

Observation

Believers remain faithful to the truth of God's Word by keeping their eyes on Jesus. Those who overcome will share in God's glory.

Inspiration

Good things take time before they're good... .

Develop an attitude of trust. God can change situations; His name is Deliverer... .

One of the most often-repeated commands in the Bible is to "wait on the Lord." Waiting on Him "grows you up"; it keeps your eyes off yourself and on Him; it gives you staying power... .

John could have spent his time pacing that barren little beach, feeling bitter about what "they" did to him, and scanning the horizon every minute for a rescuer. But he didn't.

Quieted under the hand of God into a position of trust and receptivity, John received the most fabulous revelation of Jesus Christ and His future that any man has ever received, and as a result he wrote the Spirit-breathed book of Revelation.

Do you feel as if you're on a "Patmos" in your life? Are you feeling caught and trapped? Settle down. Look up. Let God decide whether He will act according to One, Two, or Three. For you, it will be perfect... . (From You Don't Have to Quit by Anne and Ray Ortlund)

Application

To the Church in Ephesus

“Write this to the angel of the church in Ephesus:

“The One who holds the seven stars in his right hand and walks among the seven golden lampstands says this: <sup>2</sup>I know what you do, how you work hard and never give up. I know you do not put up with the false teachings of evil people. You have tested those who say they are apostles but really are not, and you found they are liars. <sup>3</sup>You have patience and have suffered troubles for my name and have not given up.

<sup>4</sup>“But I have this against you: You have left the love you had in the beginning. <sup>5</sup>So remember where you were before you fell. Change your hearts and do what you did at first. If you do not change, I will come to you and will take away your lampstand from its place. <sup>6</sup>But there is something you do that is right: You hate what the Nicolaitans do, as much as I.

<sup>7</sup>“Every person who has ears should listen to what the Spirit says to the churches. To those who win the victory I will give the right to eat the fruit from the tree of life, which is in the garden of God.

To the Church in Smyrna

<sup>8</sup>“Write this to the angel of the church in Smyrna:

“The One who is the First and the Last, who died and came to life again, says this: <sup>9</sup>I know your troubles and that you are poor, but really you are rich! I know the bad things some people say about you. They say they are Jews, but they are not true Jews. They are a synagogue that belongs to Satan. <sup>10</sup>Do not be afraid of what you are about to suffer. I tell you, the devil will put some of you in prison to test you, and you will suffer for ten days. But be faithful, even if you have to die, and I will give you the crown of life.

<sup>11</sup>“Everyone who has ears should listen to what the Spirit says to the churches. Those who win the victory will not be hurt by the second death.

To the Church in Pergamum

“The One who has the sharp, double-edged sword says this: <sup>13</sup>I know where you live. It is where Satan has his throne. But you are true to me. You did not refuse to tell about your faith in me even during the time of Antipas, my faithful witness who was killed in your city, where Satan lives.

<sup>14</sup>“But I have a few things against you: You have some there who follow the teaching of Balaam. He taught Balak how to cause the people of Israel to sin by eating food offered to idols and by taking part in sexual sins. <sup>15</sup>You also have some who follow the teaching of the Nicolaitans. <sup>16</sup>So change your hearts and lives. If you do not, I will come to you quickly and fight against them with the sword that comes out of my mouth.

<sup>17</sup>“Everyone who has ears should listen to what the Spirit says to the churches.

“I will give some of the hidden manna to everyone who wins the victory. I will also give to each one who wins the victory a white stone with a new name written on it. No one knows this new name except the one who receives it.

To the Church in Thyatira

“The Son of God, who has eyes that blaze like fire and feet like shining bronze, says this: <sup>19</sup>I know what you do. I know about your love, your faith, your service, and your patience. I know that you are doing more now than you did at first.

<sup>20</sup>“But I have this against you: You let that woman Jezebel spread false teachings. She says she is a prophetess, but by her teaching she leads my people to take part in sexual sins and to eat food that is offered to idols. <sup>21</sup>I have given her time to change her heart and turn away from her sin, but she does not want to change. <sup>22</sup>So I will throw her on a bed of suffering. And all those who take part in adultery with her will suffer greatly if they do not turn away from the wrongs she does. <sup>23</sup>I will also kill her followers. Then all the churches will know I am the One who searches hearts and minds, and I will repay each of you for what you have done.

<sup>24</sup>“But others of you in Thyatira have not followed her teaching and have not learned what some call Satan’s deep secrets. I say to you that I will not put any other load on you.

<sup>26</sup>“I will give power over the nations to everyone who wins the victory and continues to be obedient to me until the end.

<sup>27</sup>“You will rule over them with an iron rod, as when pottery is broken into pieces.’

Psalm 2:9

<sup>28</sup>This is the same power I received from my Father. I will also give him the morning star. <sup>29</sup>Everyone who has ears should listen to what the Spirit says to the churches.

Life Lessons

Revelation 3:1–22

Situation

God continued to address the spiritual lives of his churches. He encouraged the church in the Asian city of Philadelphia to persevere through difficult times. But the churches in Sardis and Laodicea were told to repent of their sin.

Observation

God does not tolerate a mediocre spiritual life. He wants all Christians to be involved in loving and serving.

Inspiration

Consider the Laodicean church. This church was wealthy and self-sufficient. But the church had a problem—hollow, fruitless faith. “I know what you do,” God spoke to this group, “that you are not hot nor cold. I wish that you were hot or cold! But because you are lukewarm—neither hot, nor cold—I am ready to spit you out of my mouth.”

The literal translation is “to vomit.” Why does the body vomit something? Why does it recoil violently at the presence of certain substances? Because they are incompatible with the body. Vomiting is the body’s way of rejecting anything it cannot handle.

What’s the point? God can’t stomach lukewarm faith. He is angered by a religion that puts on a show but ignores the service. (From And the Angels Were Silent by Max Lucado)

Application

If God gave you a report card on your relationship with him, what would it say? Which are the areas you neglect? Continue what you are doing well; aggressively improve an area you have neglected.

Exploration

To the Church in Sardis

“The One who has the seven spirits and the seven stars says this: I know what you do. People say that you are alive, but really you are dead. <sup>2</sup>Wake up! Make yourselves stronger before what you have left dies completely. I have found that what you are doing is less than what my God wants. <sup>3</sup>So do not forget what you have received and heard. Obey it, and change your hearts and lives. So you must wake up, or I will come like a thief, and you will not know when I will come to you. <sup>4</sup>But you have a few there in Sardis who have kept their clothes unstained, so they will walk with me and will wear white clothes, because they are worthy. <sup>5</sup>Those who win the victory will be dressed in white clothes like them. And I will not erase their names from the book of life, but I will say they belong to me before my Father and before his angels. <sup>6</sup>Everyone who has ears should listen to what the Spirit says to the churches.

To the Church in Philadelphia

“This is what the One who is holy and true, who holds the key of David, says. When he opens a door, no one can close it. And when he closes it, no one can open it. <sup>8</sup>I know what you do. I have put an open door before you, which no one can close. I know you have a little strength, but you have obeyed my teaching and were not afraid to speak my name.<sup>9</sup> Those in the synagogue that belongs to Satan say they are Jews, but they are not true Jews; they are liars. I will make them come before you and bow at your feet, and they will know that I have loved you.<sup>10</sup> You have obeyed my teaching about not giving up your faith. So I will keep you from the time of trouble that will come to the whole world to test those who live on earth.

<sup>11</sup>“I am coming soon. Continue strong in your faith so no one will take away your crown. <sup>12</sup>I will make those who win the victory pillars in the temple of my God, and they will never have to leave it. I will write on them the name of my God and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, that comes down out of heaven from my God. I will also write on them my new name. <sup>13</sup>Everyone who has ears should listen to what the Spirit says to the churches.

To the Church in Laodicea

“The Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of all God has made, says this: <sup>15</sup>I know what you do, that you are not hot or cold. I wish that you were hot or cold! <sup>16</sup>But because you are lukewarm—neither hot, nor cold—I am ready to spit you out of my mouth. <sup>17</sup>You say, ‘I am rich, and I have become wealthy and do not need anything.’ But you do not know that you are really miserable, pitiful, poor, blind, and naked. <sup>18</sup>I advise you to buy from me gold made pure in fire so you can be truly rich. Buy from me white clothes so you can be clothed and so you can cover your shameful nakedness. Buy from me medicine to put on your eyes so you can truly see.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The One Who Stands at the Door

Let me state something important. There is never a time during which Jesus is not speaking. Never. There is never a place in which Jesus is not present. Never. There is never a room so dark ... a lounge so sensual ... an office so sophisticated ... that the ever-present, ever-pursuing, relentlessly tender Friend is not there, tapping gently on the doors of our hearts—waiting to be invited in.

Few hear his voice. Fewer still open the door.

But never interpret our numbness as his absence. For amidst the fleeting promises of pleasure is the timeless promise of his presence....

There is no chorus so loud that the voice of God cannot be heard ... if we will but listen. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

<sup>21</sup>“Those who win the victory will sit with me on my throne in the same way that I won the victory and sat down with my Father on his throne. <sup>22</sup>Everyone who has ears should listen to what the Spirit says to the churches.”

Life Lessons

Revelation 4:1–6:17

Situation

John reported that Jesus Christ would initiate the final conflict against Satan. At the end, God would defeat Satan and throw him into hell.

Observation

For Believers, the end will be a time of rejoicing. There will be worship in heaven (4:9–11).

Inspiration

What is it, then, that God wants us to do? What is the work he seeks? Just believe. Believe the One he sent. “The work God wants you to do is this: Believe the One he sent” (John 6:29).

Someone is reading this and shaking his or her head and asking, “Are you saying it is possible to go to heaven with no good works?” The answer is no. Good works are a requirement. Someone else is reading and asking, “Are you saying it is possible to go to heaven without good character?” My answer again is no. Good character is also required. In order to enter heaven one must have good works and good character.

But, alas, there is the problem. You have neither.

Oh, you’ve done some nice things in your life. But you do not have enough good works to go to heaven regardless of your sacrifice. No matter how noble your gifts, they are not enough to get you into heaven.

Nor do you have enough character to go to heaven. Please don't be offended. (Then, again, be offended, if necessary.) You're probably a very decent person. But decency isn't enough. Those who see God are not the decent; they are the holy. "Anyone whose life is not holy will never see the Lord" (Hebrews 12:14).

You may be decent. You may pay taxes and kiss your kids and sleep with a clean conscience. But apart from Christ you aren't holy. So how can you go to heaven?

Only believe.

Accept the work already done, the work of Jesus on the cross.

Only believe.

Accept the goodness of Jesus Christ. Abandon your own works and accept his. Abandon your own decency and accept his. Stand before God in his name, not yours. "Anyone who believes and is baptized will be saved, but anyone who does not believe will be punished" (Mark 16:16).

It's that simple? It's that simple. It's that easy? There was nothing easy at all about it. The cross was heavy, the blood was real, and the price was extravagant. It would have bankrupted you or me, so he paid it for us. Call it simple. Call it a gift. But don't call it easy.

Call it what it is. Call it grace. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Luacdo)

Application

Imagine, like John, you are peering into the very doors of heaven. Why will you be allowed to enter? Jesus' only request is that you believe. Then, like the apostle John, you will be accepted.

John Sees Heaven

After the vision of these things I looked, and there before me was an open door in heaven. And the same voice that spoke to me before, that sounded like a trumpet, said, “Come up here, and I will show you what must happen after this.”<sup>2</sup> Immediately I was in the Spirit, and before me was a throne in heaven, and someone was sitting on it.<sup>3</sup> The One who sat on the throne looked like precious stones, like jasper and carnelian. All around the throne was a rainbow the color of an emerald.<sup>4</sup> Around the throne there were twenty-four other thrones with twenty-four elders sitting on them. They were dressed in white and had golden crowns on their heads.<sup>5</sup> Lightning flashes and noises and thundering came from the throne. Before the throne seven lamps were burning, which are the seven spirits of God.<sup>6</sup> Also before the throne there was something that looked like a sea of glass, clear like crystal.

In the center and around the throne were four living creatures with eyes all over them, in front and in back.<sup>7</sup> The first living creature was like a lion. The second was like a calf. The third had a face like a man. The fourth was like a flying eagle.<sup>8</sup> Each of these four living creatures had six wings and was covered all over with eyes, inside and out. Day and night they never stop saying:

“Holy, holy, holy is the Lord God Almighty.

He was, he is, and he is coming.”

<sup>9</sup>These living creatures give glory, honor, and thanks to the One who sits on the throne, who lives forever and ever. <sup>10</sup>Then the twenty-four elders bow down before the One who sits on the throne, and they worship him who lives forever and ever. They put their crowns down before the throne and say:

<sup>11</sup>“You are worthy, our Lord and God, to receive glory and honor and power,
because you made all things.
Everything existed and was made,
because you wanted it.”

Then I saw a scroll in the right hand of the One sitting on the throne. The scroll had writing on both sides and was kept closed with seven seals. <sup>2</sup>And I saw a powerful angel calling in a loud voice, “Who is worthy to break the seals and open the scroll?” <sup>3</sup>But there was no one in heaven or on earth or under the earth who could open the scroll or look inside it. <sup>4</sup>I cried hard because there was no one who was worthy to open the scroll or look inside. <sup>5</sup>But one of the elders said to me, “Do not cry! The Lion from the tribe of Judah, David’s descendant, has won the victory so that he is able to open the scroll and its seven seals.”

<sup>6</sup>Then I saw a Lamb standing in the center of the throne and in the middle of the four living creatures and the elders. The Lamb looked as if he had been killed. He had seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven spirits of God that were sent into all the world. <sup>7</sup>The Lamb came and took the scroll from the right hand of the One sitting on the throne. <sup>8</sup>When he took the scroll, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders bowed down before the Lamb. Each one of them had a harp and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of God’s holy people. <sup>9</sup>And they all sang a new song to the Lamb:

“You are worthy to take the scroll and to open its seals,
because you were killed,
and with the blood of your death you bought people for God
from every tribe, language, people, and nation.

<sup>10</sup>You made them to be a kingdom of priests for our God,

and they will rule on the earth.”

<sup>11</sup>Then I looked, and I heard the voices of many angels around the throne, and the four living creatures, and the elders. There were thousands and thousands of angels, <sup>12</sup>saying in a loud voice:

“The Lamb who was killed is worthy to receive power, wealth, wisdom, and strength, honor, glory, and praise!”

<sup>13</sup>Then I heard all creatures in heaven and on earth and under the earth and in the sea saying:

“To the One who sits on the throne and to the Lamb
be praise and honor and glory and power forever and ever.”

<sup>14</sup>The four living creatures said, “Amen,” and the elders bowed down and worshiped.

Then I watched while the Lamb opened the first of the seven seals. I heard one of the four living creatures say with a voice like thunder, “Come!”<sup>2</sup> I looked, and there before me was a white horse. The rider on the horse held a bow, and he was given a crown, and he rode out, determined to win the victory.

<sup>3</sup>When the Lamb opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature say, “Come!”<sup>4</sup> Then another horse came out, a red one. Its rider was given power to take away peace from the earth and to make people kill each other, and he was given a big sword.

<sup>5</sup>When the Lamb opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature say, “Come!” I looked, and there before me was a black horse, and its rider held a pair of scales in his hand.

<sup>6</sup>Then I heard something that sounded like a voice coming from the middle of the four living creatures. The voice said, “A quart of wheat for a day’s pay, and three quarts of barley for a day’s pay, and do not damage the olive oil and wine!”

<sup>7</sup>When the Lamb opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature say, “Come!”<sup>8</sup> I looked, and there before me was a pale horse. Its rider was named death, and Hades was following close behind him. They were given power over a fourth of the earth to kill people by war, by starvation, by disease, and by the wild animals of the earth.

<sup>9</sup>When the Lamb opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of those who had been killed because they were faithful to the word of God and to the message they had received.<sup>10</sup> These souls shouted in a loud voice, “Holy and true Lord, how long until you judge the people of the earth and punish them for killing us?”<sup>11</sup> Then each one of them was given a white robe and was told to wait a short time longer. There were still some of their fellow servants and brothers and sisters in the service of Christ who must be killed as they were. They had to wait until all of this was finished.

<sup>12</sup>Then I watched while the Lamb opened the sixth seal, and there was a great earthquake. The sun became black like rough black cloth, and the whole moon became red like blood. <sup>13</sup>And the stars in the sky fell to the earth like figs falling from a fig tree when the wind blows. <sup>14</sup>The sky disappeared as a scroll when it is rolled up, and every mountain and island was moved from its place.

<sup>15</sup>Then the kings of the earth, the rulers, the generals, the rich people, the powerful people, the slaves, and the free people hid themselves in caves and in the rocks on the mountains. <sup>16</sup>They called to the mountains and the rocks, "Fall on us. Hide us from the face of the One who sits on the throne and from the anger of the Lamb!" <sup>17</sup>The great day for their anger has come, and who can stand against it?"

Life Lessons

Revelation 7:1–17

Situation

John assured his readers that God would not lose track of his faithful people during the judgment of the world. He would rescue them.

Observation

All Believers are important to God. God guarantees his protection to his followers by placing his seal over them. Nothing can remove that seal.

Inspiration

Unlike the 144,000 mentioned in Revelation, our seal is not visible. We have been sealed “in Him.” Our seal is spiritual, not physical. Instead of receiving a mark on our foreheads, we were given the Holy Spirit as a pledge of God’s intent to preserve us: ... The Holy Spirit is a pledge of God’s intentions. He is not finished with us yet. But the presence of the Spirit demonstrates God’s commitment to complete what He has started. If salvation is not permanent, God is simply playing games by sending the Spirit into our hearts. It would be like a man’s giving a woman an engagement ring when he knows he has no intention of marrying her.

We are sealed right up through the “day of redemption.” The day of redemption refers to that day when our salvation will be complete—body and spirit.

There are no exceptions. Everyone who has been sealed in Christ will remain sealed right up through the end.

Only God can break the seal (see Revelation 5:1–3). And the Scriptures clearly teach that He has already determined to leave the seal intact until our salvation is complete. (From Eternal Security by Charles Stanley)

Application

How have you sensed God's protection? Note three people who may be in jeopardy of God's punishment. Pray for them during the day.

Exploration

Protection—Psalm 17:8; 18:2–3; Proverbs 2:8; 2 Thessalonians 3:3.

The 144,000 People of Israel

After the vision of these things I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth. The angels were holding the four winds of the earth to keep them from blowing on the land or on the sea or on any tree. <sup>2</sup>Then I saw another angel coming up from the east who had the seal of the living God. And he called out in a loud voice to the four angels to whom God had given power to harm the earth and the sea. <sup>3</sup>He said to them, “Do not harm the land or the sea or the trees until we mark with a sign the foreheads of the people who serve our God.” <sup>4</sup>Then I heard how many people were marked with the sign. There were one hundred forty-four thousand from every tribe of the people of Israel.

<sup>5</sup>From the tribe of Judah twelve thousand were marked with the sign, from the tribe of Reuben twelve thousand, from the tribe of Gad twelve thousand,

<sup>6</sup>from the tribe of Asher twelve thousand, from the tribe of Naphtali twelve thousand,

from the tribe of Manasseh twelve thousand,

<sup>7</sup>from the tribe of Simeon twelve thousand, from the tribe of Levi twelve thousand,

from the tribe of Issachar twelve thousand,

<sup>8</sup>from the tribe of Zebulun twelve thousand, from the tribe of Joseph twelve thousand, and from the tribe of Benjamin twelve thousand were marked with the sign.

The Great Crowd Worships God

<sup>9</sup>After the vision of these things I looked, and there was a great number of people, so many that no one could count them. They were from every nation, tribe, people, and language of the earth. They were all standing before the throne and before the Lamb, wearing white robes and holding palm branches in their hands. <sup>10</sup>They were shouting in a loud voice, “Salvation belongs to our God, who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb.”

<sup>11</sup>All the angels were standing around the throne and the elders and the four living creatures. They all bowed down on their faces before the throne and worshiped God, <sup>12</sup>saying, “Amen! Praise, glory, wisdom, thanks, honor, power, and strength belong to our God forever and ever. Amen!”

<sup>13</sup>Then one of the elders asked me, “Who are these people dressed in white robes? Where did they come from?”

And the elder said to me, “These are the people who have come out of the great distress. They have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. <sup>15</sup>Because of this, they are before the throne of God. They worship him day and night in his temple. And the One who sits on the throne will be present with them. <sup>16</sup>Those people will never be hungry again, and they will never be thirsty again. The sun will not hurt them, and no heat will burn them, <sup>17</sup>because the Lamb at the center of the throne will be their shepherd. He will lead them to springs of water that give life. And God will wipe away every tear from their eyes.”

Life Lessons

Revelation 8:1–9:21

Situation

John had a vision of a supernatural battle waged between God's and Satan's forces. Although God disciplined his own people, they refused to repent.

Observation

Sin comes subtly into a person's life. Before we know it, it takes control and alienates us from God. We must repent and turn to God in faith.

Inspiration

John was also a prophet. The prophets often held out hope for the present—hope that God's judgment could be delayed if people would repent and turn to God in faith and obedience. That does not mean that the prophets offered an easy way out of all difficulties, as if somehow all problems would vanish if people would just profess their faith in God. Instead, like Winston Churchill standing amidst the bombed ruins of London, the prophets offered “blood, sweat, and tears” for those who would follow God. It would not be easy to serve God and fight against the evil of this present, dark and sinful world, and yet the prophets knew that God would be victorious in the end and His people would share in that victory.

So John was a prophet, calling his generation—and ours—to repentance and faith and action. He knew that we could never build the kingdom of God on earth, no matter how hard we might try. Only God can do that—and someday he will, when Christ comes again. But John also knew that God’s judgment on this world could be delayed if we would repent and turn to Christ.

To some, John’s message of the future may have sounded gloomy and depressing. John knew, however, that the worst thing he could do would be to assure people that everything was all right and that there was no need to be concerned about the evil in the world or God’s judgment. But John’s message is ultimately a message of the good news of salvation in Jesus Christ. (From Storm Warning by Billy Graham)

Application

What is the really good news in your life right now? Tell someone about it today. What sin needs to be confessed? Pray, telling God you are sorry, and resist the temptation to give in to it again.

Exploration

Repentance—Deuteronomy 31:27–29; 2 Chronicles 7:14; Nehemiah 9:28–31; Isaiah 30:15; Luke 13:3; 2 Peter 3:9.

The Seventh Seal

When the Lamb opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for about half an hour. <sup>2</sup>And I saw the seven angels who stand before God and to whom were given seven trumpets.

<sup>3</sup>Another angel came and stood at the altar, holding a golden pan for incense. He was given much incense to offer with the prayers of all God's holy people. The angel put this offering on the golden altar before the throne. <sup>4</sup>The smoke from the incense went up from the angel's hand to God with the prayers of God's people. <sup>5</sup>Then the angel filled the incense pan with fire from the altar and threw it on the earth, and there were flashes of lightning, thunder and loud noises, and an earthquake.

The Seven Angels and Trumpets

<sup>6</sup>Then the seven angels who had the seven trumpets prepared to blow them.

<sup>7</sup>The first angel blew his trumpet, and hail and fire mixed with blood were poured down on the earth. And a third of the earth, and all the green grass, and a third of the trees were burned up.

<sup>8</sup>Then the second angel blew his trumpet, and something that looked like a big mountain, burning with fire, was thrown into the sea. And a third of the sea became blood, <sup>9</sup>a third of the living things in the sea died, and a third of the ships were destroyed.

<sup>10</sup>Then the third angel blew his trumpet, and a large star, burning like a torch, fell from the sky. It fell on a third of the rivers and on the springs of water. <sup>11</sup>The name of the star is Wormwood. And a third of all the water became bitter, and many people died from drinking the water that was bitter.

<sup>12</sup>Then the fourth angel blew his trumpet, and a third of the sun, and a third of the moon, and a third of the stars were struck. So a third of them became dark, and a third of the day was without light, and also the night.

<sup>13</sup>While I watched, I heard an eagle that was flying high in the air cry out in a loud voice, “Trouble! Trouble! Trouble for those who live on the earth because of the remaining sounds of the trumpets that the other three angels are about to blow!”

Then the fifth angel blew his trumpet, and I saw a star fall from the sky to the earth. The star was given the key to the deep hole that leads to the bottomless pit.<sup>2</sup> Then it opened up the hole that leads to the bottomless pit, and smoke came up from the hole like smoke from a big furnace. Then the sun and sky became dark because of the smoke from the hole.<sup>3</sup> Then locusts came down to the earth out of the smoke, and they were given the power to sting like scorpions.<sup>4</sup> They were told not to harm the grass on the earth or any plant or tree. They could harm only the people who did not have the sign of God on their foreheads.<sup>5</sup> These locusts were not given the power to kill anyone, but to cause pain to the people for five months. And the pain they felt was like the pain a scorpion gives when it stings someone.<sup>6</sup> During those days people will look for a way to die, but they will not find it. They will want to die, but death will run away from them.

<sup>12</sup>The first trouble is past; there are still two other troubles that will come.

<sup>13</sup>Then the sixth angel blew his trumpet, and I heard a voice coming from the horns on the golden altar that is before God.

<sup>14</sup>The voice said to the sixth angel who had the trumpet, “Free the four angels who are tied at the great river Euphrates.”

<sup>15</sup>And they let loose the four angels who had been kept ready for this hour and day and month and year so they could kill a third of all people on the earth. <sup>16</sup>I heard how many troops on horses were in their army—two hundred million.

<sup>17</sup>The horses and their riders I saw in the vision looked like this: They had breastplates that were fiery red, dark blue, and yellow like sulfur. The heads of the horses looked like heads of lions, with fire, smoke, and sulfur coming out of their mouths.

<sup>18</sup>A third of all the people on earth were killed by these three terrible disasters coming out of the horses’ mouths: the fire, the smoke, and the sulfur. <sup>19</sup>The horses’ power was in their mouths and in their tails; their tails were like snakes with heads, and with them they hurt people.

<sup>20</sup>The other people who were not killed by these terrible disasters still did not change their hearts and turn away from what they had made with their own hands. They did not stop worshiping demons and idols made of gold, silver, bronze, stone, and wood—things that cannot see or hear or walk.

<sup>21</sup>These people did not change their hearts and turn away from murder or evil magic, from their sexual sins or stealing.

Life Lessons

Revelation 10:1-11

Situation

A mighty angel appeared with an open book and announced that time would end. The angel announced the final universal judgment.

Observation

The reality of judgment and hell is foreign to our culture, but it is often talked about in the Bible.

Inspiration

One phrase summarizes the horror of hell. “God isn’t there.”

Think for a moment about this question: What if God weren’t here on earth? You think people can be cruel now, imagine us without the presence of God. You think we are brutal to each other now, imagine the world without the Holy Spirit. You think there is loneliness and despair and guilt now, imagine life without the touch of Jesus. No forgiveness. No hope. No acts of kindness. No words of love. No more food given in his name. No more songs sung to his praise. No more deeds done in his honor. If God took away his angels, his grace, his promise of eternity, and his servants, what would the world be like?

In a word, hell. No one to comfort you and no music to soothe you. A world where poets don’t write of love and minstrels don’t sing of hope, for love and hope were passengers on the last ship. The final vessel has departed, and the anthem of hell has only two words: “if only.”

According to Jesus hell knows only one sound, the “weeping and gnashing of teeth” (Matthew 22:13, NIV). From hell comes a woeful, unending moan as its inhabitants realize the opportunity they have missed. What they would give for one more chance. But that chance is gone (Hebrews 9:27).

Can you see now why the angels rejoice when one sinner repents? Jesus knows what awaits the saved. He also knows what awaits the condemned. Can you see why we should rejoice as well? How can we? How can our hearts be changed so we rejoice like Jesus rejoices?

Ask God to help you have his eternal view of the world. His view of humanity is starkly simple. From his perspective every person is either:

- entering through the small gate or the wide gate (Matthew 7:13–14)
- traveling the narrow road or the wide road (Matthew 7:13–14)
- building on rock or sand (Matthew 7:24–27)
- wise or foolish (Matthew 25:2)
- prepared or unprepared (Matthew 24:45–51)
- fruitful or fruitless (Matthew 25:14–27)
- heaven called or hell bound (Mark 16:15–16)
(From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Application

Are you prepared to die? If you are not a believer in Jesus Christ, you will be separated from God for all eternity. Don't allow that to happen. Repent of your sins and turn to Jesus Christ for salvation today. If you are a believer, make yourself available to share the good news of Jesus.

The Angel and the Small Scroll

Then I saw another powerful angel coming down from heaven dressed in a cloud with a rainbow over his head. His face was like the sun, and his legs were like pillars of fire. <sup>2</sup>The angel was holding a small scroll open in his hand. He put his right foot on the sea and his left foot on the land. <sup>3</sup>Then he shouted loudly like the roaring of a lion. And when he shouted, the voices of seven thunders spoke. <sup>4</sup>When the seven thunders spoke, I started to write. But I heard a voice from heaven say, “Keep hidden what the seven thunders said, and do not write them down.”

<sup>5</sup>Then the angel I saw standing on the sea and on the land raised his right hand to heaven, <sup>6</sup>and he made a promise by the power of the One who lives forever and ever. He is the One who made the skies and all that is in them, the earth and all that is in it, and the sea and all that is in it. The angel promised, “There will be no more waiting! <sup>7</sup>In the days when the seventh angel is ready to blow his trumpet, God’s secret will be finished. This secret is the Good News God told to his servants, the prophets.”

<sup>8</sup>Then I heard the same voice from heaven again, saying to me: “Go and take the open scroll that is in the hand of the angel that is standing on the sea and on the land.”

<sup>9</sup>So I went to the angel and told him to give me the small scroll. And he said to me, “Take the scroll and eat it. It will be sour in your stomach, but in your mouth it will be sweet as honey.”<sup>10</sup> So I took the small scroll from the angel’s hand and ate it. In my mouth it tasted sweet as honey, but after I ate it, it was sour in my stomach.<sup>11</sup> Then I was told, “You must prophesy again about many peoples, nations, languages, and kings.”

Revelation 11:1-19

Situation

God will protect people who are faithful to him, but unbelievers do not enjoy this privilege.

Observation

God will protect the faithful until the end, while preparing to judge evil once and for all.

Inspiration

Why do I not take him seriously when he questions, “If you, then, though you are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in Heaven give good gifts to those who ask him!”

Why don't I let my Father do for me what I am more than willing to do for my own children?

I'm learning, though. Being a parent is better than a course on theology. Being a father is teaching me that when I am criticized, injured, or afraid, there is a Father who is ready to comfort me. There is a Father who will hold me until I'm better, help me until I can live with the hurt, and who won't go to sleep when I'm afraid of waking up and seeing the dark. Ever. And that's enough. (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

Revelation is a great source of encouragement to Christians that the Lord will protect them from evil. Do you feel the Lord has his sheltering arm around you? Look for someone today who needs that encouragement and give it.

The Two Witnesses

I was given a measuring stick like a rod, and I was told, “Go and measure the temple of God and the altar, and count the people worshiping there. <sup>2</sup>But do not measure the yard outside the temple. Leave it alone, because it has been given to those who are not God’s people. And they will trample on the holy city for forty-two months. <sup>3</sup>And I will give power to my two witnesses to prophesy for one thousand two hundred sixty days, and they will be dressed in rough cloth to show their sadness.”

<sup>4</sup>These two witnesses are the two olive trees and the two lampstands that stand before the Lord of the earth. <sup>5</sup>And if anyone tries to hurt them, fire comes from their mouths and kills their enemies. And if anyone tries to hurt them in whatever way, in that same way that person will die. <sup>6</sup>These witnesses have the power to stop the sky from raining during the time they are prophesying. And they have power to make the waters become blood, and they have power to send every kind of trouble to the earth as many times as they want.

<sup>7</sup>When the two witnesses have finished telling their message, the beast that comes up from the bottomless pit will fight a war against them. He will defeat them and kill them. <sup>8</sup>The bodies of the two witnesses will lie in the street of the great city where the Lord was killed. This city is named Sodom and Egypt, which has a spiritual meaning. <sup>9</sup>Those from every race of people, tribe, language, and nation will look at the bodies of the two witnesses for three and one-half days, and they will refuse to bury them.<sup>10</sup> People who live on the earth will rejoice and be happy because these two are dead. They will send each other gifts, because these two prophets brought much suffering to those who live on the earth.

<sup>11</sup>But after three and one-half days, God put the breath of life into the two prophets again. They stood on their feet, and everyone who saw them became very afraid.<sup>12</sup> Then the two prophets heard a loud voice from heaven saying, “Come up here!” And they went up into heaven in a cloud as their enemies watched.

<sup>13</sup>In the same hour there was a great earthquake, and a tenth of the city was destroyed. Seven thousand people were killed in the earthquake, and those who did not die were very afraid and gave glory to the God of heaven.

<sup>14</sup>The second trouble is finished. Pay attention: The third trouble is coming soon.

The Seventh Trumpet

<sup>15</sup>Then the seventh angel blew his trumpet. And there were loud voices in heaven, saying:

“The power to rule the world now belongs to our Lord and his Christ, and he will rule forever and ever.”

<sup>16</sup>Then the twenty-four elders, who sit on their thrones before God, bowed down on their faces and worshiped God.

<sup>17</sup>They said:

“We give thanks to you, Lord God Almighty, who is and who was,
because you have used your great power
and have begun to rule!

<sup>18</sup>The people of the world were angry, but your anger has come.

The time has come to judge the dead, and to reward your servants the prophets and your holy people,
all who respect you, great and small.

The time has come to destroy those who destroy the earth!”

<sup>19</sup>Then God’s temple in heaven was opened. The Ark that holds the agreement God gave to his people could be seen in his temple. Then there were flashes of lightning, noises, thunder, an earthquake, and a great hailstorm.

Life Lessons

Revelation 12:1-18

Situation

This chapter symbolizes conflict between God and Satan. The woman gave birth to Christ. The dragon, Satan, sought to destroy Christ, but his attempts were futile. A heavenly battle between Satan with his demons and God's angels resulted in Satan's defeat.

Observation

The contest between good and evil is a great, cosmic battle that God will win. We can experience God's victory in our lives through faith in Jesus as Lord and Savior.

Inspiration

Life is so short. The Bible says that we must be prepared to meet God at all times. We never know when we step into our car, walk out the door of our home, or just open our eyes to a new day, what lies ahead. "Since his days are determined, the number of his months is with Thee, and his limits Thou hast set so that he cannot pass" (Job 14:5).

Millions of people on earth are walking around physically alive, but spiritually dead. When your eyes and ears become attuned to the cries of others, you hear those who say they are empty and lost. They are separated from the source of life and like a lamp which is unattached, they are dark and lifeless. The lamp may be very expensive, may have a beautiful shade which draws attention, but has no light without being plugged into the source of energy. Jesus said, “I am the life.” (From How to Be Born Again by Billy Graham)

Application

Revelation is a beautiful, but often frightening account of the great battle for spiritual supremacy. Be sure not to take your situation for granted. Ask God to keep you aware of Satan’s attacks. Depend on God for your strength and victory.

Exploration

Souls—Job 32:8; Ecclesiastes 12:7; Isaiah 26:9; John 10:28–29; 2 Corinthians 4:16–17.

The Woman and the Dragon

And then a great wonder appeared in heaven: A woman was clothed with the sun, and the moon was under her feet, and a crown of twelve stars was on her head. <sup>2</sup>She was pregnant and cried out with pain, because she was about to give birth. <sup>3</sup>Then another wonder appeared in heaven: There was a giant red dragon with seven heads and seven crowns on each head. He also had ten horns. <sup>4</sup>His tail swept a third of the stars out of the sky and threw them down to the earth. He stood in front of the woman who was ready to give birth so he could eat her baby as soon as it was born. <sup>5</sup>Then the woman gave birth to a son who will rule all the nations with an iron rod. And her child was taken up to God and to his throne. <sup>6</sup>The woman ran away into the desert to a place God prepared for her where she would be taken care of for one thousand two hundred sixty days.

<sup>7</sup>Then there was a war in heaven. Michael and his angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon and his angels fought back. <sup>8</sup>But the dragon was not strong enough, and he and his angels lost their place in heaven. <sup>9</sup>The giant dragon was thrown down out of heaven. (He is that old snake called the devil or Satan, who tricks the whole world.) The dragon with his angels was thrown down to the earth.

<sup>10</sup>Then I heard a loud voice in heaven saying:

“The salvation and the power and the kingdom of our

God

and the authority of his Christ have now come.
The accuser of our brothers and sisters, who accused them day and night before our God,
has been thrown down.

<sup>11</sup>And our brothers and sisters defeated him by the blood of the Lamb's death and by the message they preached.
They did not love their lives so much that they were afraid of death.

<sup>12</sup>So rejoice, you heavens and all who live there!
But it will be terrible for the earth and the sea,
because the devil has come down to you!
He is filled with anger,
because he knows he does not have much time.”

<sup>13</sup>When the dragon saw he had been thrown down to the earth, he hunted for the woman who had given birth to the son.
<sup>14</sup>But the woman was given the two wings of a great eagle so she could fly to the place prepared for her in the desert. There she would be taken care of for three and one-half years, away from the snake. <sup>15</sup>Then the snake poured water out of its mouth like a river toward the woman so the flood would carry her away. <sup>16</sup>But the earth helped the woman by opening its mouth and swallowing the river that came from the mouth of the dragon. <sup>17</sup>Then the dragon was very angry at the woman, and he went off to make war against all her other children—those who obey God's commands and who have the message Jesus taught.

<sup>18</sup>And the dragon stood on the seashore.

Life Lessons

Revelation 13:1–18

Situation

Before the final battle, Christians would be challenged. God promised, though, that no spiritual harm could come to Believers, although they might have to endure persecution and pain.

Observation

Christians must discern false prophets who claim to perform miracles and exercise authority from God.

Inspiration

Counterfeit Christians, like counterfeit twenty dollar bills, are not easily detected. It takes a trained, discerning eye.

This is a good moment for me to encourage you to be a careful student of the Scriptures and a watchful follower of spiritual (perhaps a better word would be religious) leaders ... in that order. The better you come to know God's truth, the keener will be your watchfulness. When Jesus spoke of checking the fruit of another's life, He was emphasizing the importance of paying attention to what is being taught—both what is said and what is left unsaid—as well as that which is taught as it is being lived out. In the final analysis, a tree cannot hide what it is. Take a close look. Slowly and carefully taste the fruit (if you can't tell by looking), get a respected second and even third opinion, and stay on the alert. (From Simple Faith by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Can you tell the difference between Christian teaching and false doctrine? Such decisions require careful discernment, ensuring that actions and words spoken are consistent with God's wisdom in the Bible. In your Bible reading this week look for ways to distinguish true teaching from false.

Exploration

Discernment—Matthew 7:6; Philippians 1:10; James 1:5.

The Two Beasts

Then I saw a beast coming up out of the sea. It had ten horns and seven heads, and there was a crown on each horn. A name against God was written on each head. <sup>2</sup>This beast looked like a leopard, with feet like a bear's feet and a mouth like a lion's mouth. And the dragon gave the beast all of his power and his throne and great authority. <sup>3</sup>One of the heads of the beast looked as if it had been killed by a wound, but this death wound was healed. Then the whole world was amazed and followed the beast. <sup>4</sup>People worshiped the dragon because he had given his power to the beast. And they also worshiped the beast, asking, "Who is like the beast? Who can make war against it?"

<sup>5</sup>The beast was allowed to say proud words and words against God, and it was allowed to use its power for forty-two months. <sup>6</sup>It used its mouth to speak against God, against God's name, against the place where God lives, and against all those who live in heaven. <sup>7</sup>It was given power to make war against God's holy people and to defeat them. It was given power over every tribe, people, language, and nation. <sup>8</sup>And all who live on earth will worship the beast—all the people since the beginning of the world whose names are not written in the Lamb's book of life. The Lamb is the One who was killed.

<sup>9</sup>Anyone who has ears should listen:

<sup>10</sup>If you are to be a prisoner, then you will be a prisoner.
If you are to be killed with the sword,
then you will be killed with the sword.

This means that God's holy people must have patience and faith.

<sup>11</sup>Then I saw another beast coming up out of the earth. It had two horns like a lamb, but it spoke like a dragon. <sup>12</sup>This beast stands before the first beast and uses the same power the first beast has. By this power it makes everyone living on earth worship the first beast, who had the death wound that was healed. <sup>13</sup>And the second beast does great miracles so that it even makes fire come down from heaven to earth while people are watching. <sup>14</sup>It fools those who live on earth by the miracles it has been given the power to do. It does these miracles to serve the first beast. The second beast orders people to make an idol to honor the first beast, the one that was wounded by the deadly sword but sprang to life again. <sup>15</sup>The second beast was given power to give life to the idol of the first one so that the idol could speak. And the second beast was given power to command all who will not worship the image of the beast to be killed. <sup>16</sup>The second beast also forced all people, small and great, rich and poor, free and slave, to have a mark on their right hand or on their forehead. <sup>17</sup>No one could buy or sell without this mark, which is the name of the beast or the number of its name. <sup>18</sup>This takes wisdom. Let the one who has understanding find the meaning of the number, which is the number of a person. Its number is six hundred sixty-six.

Revelation 14:1–15:8

Situation

God's judgment arrived. Only those who were cleansed from sin through faith in Christ remained protected from God's anger against sin. This chapter provided assurance and comfort to the faithful.

Observation

God's judgment of evil will not be put off indefinitely. Only by submitting our life to him can we avoid his wrath.

Inspiration

I'll be home soon. My plane is nearing San Antonio. I can feel the nose of the jet dipping downward. I can see the flight attendants getting ready. [My wife], Denalyn, is somewhere in the parking lot, parking the car and hustling the girls toward the terminal.

I'll be home soon. The plane will land. I'll walk down that ramp and hear my name and see their faces. I'll be home soon.

You'll be home soon, too. You may not have noticed it, but you are closer to home than ever before. Each moment is a step taken. Each breath is a page turned. Each day is a mile marked, a mountain climbed. You are closer to home than you've ever been.

Before you know it, your appointed arrival time will come; you'll descend the ramp and enter the City.

You'll see faces that are waiting for you. You'll hear your name spoken by those who love you. And, maybe, just maybe—in the back, behind the crowds—the One who would rather die than live without you will remove his pierced hands from his heavenly robe and ... applaud.

(From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

Have you accepted Christ as your Savior? Have you confessed your sins? If so, you have nothing to fear from God's judgment of the world. The judge is on our side! If you are unsure, pray to receive Christ right now.

Exploration

Judgment—Deuteronomy 7:2; Matthew 13:30; 16:27; Luke 11:29–32.

The Song of the Saved

Then I looked, and there before me was the Lamb standing on Mount Zion. With him were one hundred forty-four thousand people who had his name and his Father's name written on their foreheads.<sup>2</sup> And I heard a sound from heaven like the noise of flooding water and like the sound of loud thunder. The sound I heard was like people playing harps.<sup>3</sup> And they sang a new song before the throne and before the four living creatures and the elders. No one could learn the new song except the one hundred forty-four thousand who had been bought from the earth.<sup>4</sup> These are the ones who did not do sinful things with women, because they kept themselves pure. They follow the Lamb every place he goes. These one hundred forty-four thousand were bought from among the people of the earth as people to be offered to God and the Lamb.<sup>5</sup> They were not guilty of telling lies; they are without fault.

The Three Angels

<sup>6</sup>Then I saw another angel flying high in the air. He had the eternal Good News to preach to those who live on earth—to every nation, tribe, language, and people.<sup>7</sup> He preached in a loud voice, “Fear God and give him praise, because the time has come for God to judge all people. So worship God who made the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the springs of water.”

<sup>8</sup>Then the second angel followed the first angel and said, “Ruined, ruined is the great city of Babylon! She made all the nations drink the wine of the anger of her adultery.”

<sup>9</sup>Then a third angel followed the first two angels, saying in a loud voice: “If anyone worships the beast and his idol and gets the beast’s mark on the forehead or on the hand, <sup>10</sup>that one also will drink the wine of God’s anger, which is prepared with all its strength in the cup of his anger. And that person will be put in pain with burning sulfur before the holy angels and the Lamb. <sup>11</sup>And the smoke from their burning pain will rise forever and ever. There will be no rest, day or night, for those who worship the beast and his idol or who get the mark of his name.” <sup>12</sup>This means God’s holy people must be patient. They must obey God’s commands and keep their faith in Jesus.

The Spirit says, “Yes, they will rest from their hard work, and the reward of all they have done stays with them.”

The Earth Is Harvested

<sup>14</sup>Then I looked, and there before me was a white cloud, and sitting on the white cloud was One who looked like a Son of Man. He had a gold crown on his head and a sharp sickle in his hand. <sup>15</sup>Then another angel came out of the temple and called out in a loud voice to the One who was sitting on the cloud, “Take your sickle and harvest from the earth, because the time to harvest has come, and the fruit of the earth is ripe.” <sup>16</sup>So the

One who was sitting on the cloud swung his sickle over the earth, and the earth was harvested.

<sup>17</sup>Then another angel came out of the temple in heaven, and he also had a sharp sickle. <sup>18</sup>And then another angel, who has power over the fire, came from the altar. This angel called to the angel with the sharp sickle, saying, “Take your sharp sickle and gather the bunches of grapes from the earth’s vine, because its grapes are ripe.” <sup>19</sup>Then the angel swung his sickle over the earth. He gathered the earth’s grapes and threw them into the great winepress of God’s anger. <sup>20</sup>They were trampled in the winepress outside the city, and blood flowed out of the winepress as high as horses’ bridles for a distance of about one hundred eighty miles.

The Last Troubles

Then I saw another wonder in heaven that was great and amazing. There were seven angels bringing seven disasters. These are the last disasters, because after them, God's anger is finished.

<sup>2</sup>I saw what looked like a sea of glass mixed with fire. All of those who had won the victory over the beast and his idol and over the number of his name were standing by the sea of glass. They had harps that God had given them. <sup>3</sup>They sang the song of Moses, the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb:

“You do great and wonderful things,

Psalm 111:2

Lord God Almighty.

Amos 3:13

Everything the Lord does is right and true,

Psalm 145:17

King of the nations.

<sup>4</sup>Everyone will respect you, Lord,

Jeremiah 10:7

and will honor you.

Only you are holy.

All the nations will come

Deuteronomy 32:4

<sup>5</sup>After this I saw that the temple (the Tent of the Agreement) in heaven was opened. <sup>6</sup>And the seven angels bringing the seven disasters came out of the temple. They were dressed in clean, shining linen and wore golden bands tied around their chests. <sup>7</sup>Then one of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden bowls filled with the anger of God, who lives forever and ever. <sup>8</sup>The temple was filled with smoke from the glory and the power of God, and no one could enter the temple until the seven disasters of the seven angels were finished.

Revelation 16:1-21

Situation

The seven terrible plagues are poured out on the earth. Much sorrow and trouble await those who are not protected from God's judgment. Despite the power of the plagues, people will curse God rather than praise him.

Observation

God's terrifying wrath purges the earth of evil.

Inspiration

The Bible says that, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." We don't fear Him as a tyrant but as a loving and just Father who leads us in wisdom and truth to do what is good for us, what will prolong and preserve our lives. But since God is a just Father, we know He will discipline and punish us when we defy Him and break His rules. If we break those rules often enough and carelessly enough, He will take our privileges away completely. That is the risk this world faces even now....

Peace with God, the peace of God, and peace between nations is possible, if we repent of our sins, listen to Him, believe in Him, and follow Him. As servants, followers, brothers, and sisters of the Savior, we are commanded to be His allies in the cause of the true and lasting peace that He can bring....

We are to expect the coming of Christ at any time, but we are to work as if He were not to come for a thousand years....

In the meantime, we are to work for peace and harmony among the nations of the earth and to love our neighbors even as we love ourselves. (From Storm Warning by Billy Graham)

Application

Before the final judgment begins, witness to friends and neighbors about God's offer of eternal life in Christ. Tell them the story of Jesus. Share how God has made a difference in your life.

The Bowls of God's Anger

Then I heard a loud voice from the temple saying to the seven angels, "Go and pour out the seven bowls of God's anger on the earth."

<sup>2</sup>The first angel left and poured out his bowl on the land. Then ugly and painful sores came upon all those who had the mark of the beast and who worshiped his idol.

<sup>3</sup>The second angel poured out his bowl on the sea, and it became blood like that of a dead man, and every living thing in the sea died.

<sup>4</sup>The third angel poured out his bowl on the rivers and the springs of water, and they became blood. <sup>5</sup>Then I heard the angel of the waters saying:

"Holy One, you are the One who is and who was.
You are right to decide to punish these evil people.

<sup>6</sup>They have poured out the blood of your holy people and your prophets.

So now you have given them blood to drink as they deserve."

<sup>7</sup>And I heard a voice coming from the altar saying:

"Yes, Lord God Almighty,
the way you punish evil people is right and fair."

<sup>8</sup>The fourth angel poured out his bowl on the sun, and he was given power to burn the people with fire. <sup>9</sup>They were burned by the great heat, and they cursed the name of God, who had control over these disasters. But the people refused to change their hearts and lives and give glory to God.

<sup>10</sup>The fifth angel poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast, and darkness covered its kingdom. People gnawed their tongues because of the pain. <sup>11</sup>They also cursed the God of heaven because of their pain and the sores they had, but they refused to change their hearts and turn away from the evil things they did.

<sup>12</sup>The sixth angel poured out his bowl on the great river Euphrates so that the water in the river was dried up to prepare the way for the kings from the east to come. <sup>13</sup>Then I saw three evil spirits that looked like frogs coming out of the mouth of the dragon, out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet. <sup>14</sup>These evil spirits are the spirits of demons, which have power to do miracles. They go out to the kings of the whole world to gather them together for the battle on the great day of God Almighty.

<sup>15</sup>“Listen! I will come as a thief comes! Happy are those who stay awake and keep their clothes on so that they will not walk around naked and have people see their shame.”

<sup>16</sup>Then the evil spirits gathered the kings together to the place that is called Armageddon in the Hebrew language.

<sup>17</sup>The seventh angel poured out his bowl into the air. Then a loud voice came out of the temple from the throne, saying, “It is finished!” <sup>18</sup>Then there were flashes of lightning, noises, thunder, and a big earthquake—the worst earthquake that has ever happened since people have been on earth. <sup>19</sup>The great city split into three parts, and the cities of the nations were destroyed. And God remembered the sins of Babylon the Great, so he gave that city the cup filled with the wine of his terrible anger.<sup>20</sup> Then every island ran away, and mountains disappeared.<sup>21</sup> Giant hailstones, each weighing about a hundred pounds, fell from the sky upon people. People cursed God for the disaster of the hail, because this disaster was so terrible.

Revelation 17:1-18

Situation

The “great prostitute” referred to Babylon. John’s readers probably equated it with the Roman Empire, but it also symbolized any system hostile to God.

Observation

Using symbolic language, John described the destruction of evil and systems energized by Satan. God triumphs over evil.

Inspiration

There is a flip side to the issue of believers who struggle. It is, “Why do I struggle when wicked people seem to be so free of trouble?”

We should not be surprised when the righteous suffer. It conforms us to the image of Christ. It gives us power in witness. It instills the valuable strength of God-sufficiency and reduces the risk in our ministry for God. It refines us to make us capable and usable. It catches the attention of a watching world so that God’s glory may be seen as He becomes credible and visible through our suffering. It may even be used in a sphere far beyond ourselves to glorify God in the universe.

Don’t pity the righteous who suffer. They have a divine edge. Their resource in pain is the reality that God is there and they only experience what He permits. And all that He permits is guaranteed by the kind of God He is. The righteous suffer with the knowledge that Christ has conquered and gives grace, growth, and glory in the midst of pain. (From The Upside of Down by Joseph M. Stowell)

Application

In the middle of struggle, God's promises are vital. Memorize verse 17; it shows that God accomplishes his plan by overcoming those who oppose him.

The Woman on the Animal

Then one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and spoke to me. He said, “Come, and I will show you the punishment that will be given to the great prostitute, the one sitting over many waters.<sup>2</sup>The kings of the earth sinned sexually with her, and the people of the earth became drunk from the wine of her sexual sin.”

<sup>3</sup>Then the angel carried me away by the Spirit to the desert. There I saw a woman sitting on a red beast. It was covered with names against God written on it, and it had seven heads and ten horns.<sup>4</sup>The woman was dressed in purple and red and was shining with the gold, precious jewels, and pearls she was wearing. She had a golden cup in her hand, a cup filled with evil things and the uncleanness of her sexual sin.<sup>5</sup>On her forehead a title was written that was secret. This is what was written: THE GREAT BABYLON

MOTHER OF PROSTITUTES AND OF THE EVIL THINGS OF THE EARTH

<sup>6</sup>Then I saw that the woman was drunk with the blood of God’s holy people and with the blood of those who were killed because of their faith in Jesus.

When I saw the woman, I was very amazed. <sup>7</sup>Then the angel said to me, “Why are you amazed? I will tell you the secret of this woman and the beast she rides—the one with seven heads and ten horns. <sup>8</sup>The beast you saw was once alive but is not alive now. But soon it will come up out of the bottomless pit and go away to be destroyed. There are people who live on earth whose names have not been written in the book of life since the beginning of the world. They will be amazed when they see the beast, because he was once alive, is not alive now, but will come again.

<sup>9</sup>“You need a wise mind to understand this. The seven heads on the beast are seven mountains where the woman sits. <sup>10</sup>And they are seven kings. Five of the kings have already been destroyed, one of the kings lives now, and another has not yet come. When he comes, he must stay a short time. <sup>11</sup>The beast that was once alive, but is not alive now, is also an eighth king. He belongs to the first seven kings, and he will go away to be destroyed.

<sup>12</sup>“The ten horns you saw are ten kings who have not yet begun to rule, but they will receive power to rule with the beast for one hour. <sup>13</sup>All ten of these kings have the same purpose, and they will give their power and authority to the beast. <sup>14</sup>They will make war against the Lamb, but the Lamb will defeat them, because he is Lord of lords and King of kings. He will defeat them with his called, chosen, and faithful followers.”

<sup>15</sup>Then the angel said to me, “The waters that you saw, where the prostitute sits, are peoples, races, nations, and languages. <sup>16</sup>The ten horns and the beast you saw will hate the prostitute. They will take everything she has and leave her naked. They will eat her body and burn her with fire. <sup>17</sup>God made the ten horns want to carry out his purpose by agreeing to give the beast their power to rule, until what God has said comes about. <sup>18</sup>The woman you saw is the great city that rules over the kings of the earth.”

Revelation 18:1–24

Situation

John pointed out that although society was built around the economy, only what was built on God would last forever.

Observation

Greed and materialism will be judged and crushed. Christians must derive their security from faith in Christ.

Inspiration

Accepting my role as a servant to properly handle the assets of the Prince brings a real-world meaning to my faith. It causes me to think ecologically about my responsibility for Christ's environment...

It is enjoyable to consider what a greater world under the reign of the Prince would be like, where all things—humanity, living things, the stuff of creation—might exist as they were meant to be in the creative mind of God. Such a dream is not idle fantasy. It answers to something I believe is hidden within each one of us: a memory deep in our spiritual genes that knew of a time when God came down and walked with man, and everything was good. And the dream also answers a hope deep within us—some have called it a healthy homesickness—that one day all things will be restored to their original creative intent by the hand of God.

Believing that this is exactly what will happen when the Prince returns in glorious triumph, the servant of the kingdom makes a little history each day by claiming hunks of a spoiled creation and establishing Christ's presence in it. It cannot be done permanently (picked-up streets get dirty again, and work done well the first time has to be done over again), but it can be done with the conviction that it makes a statement and brings Christ to places where He might otherwise never have been known. ## Babylon Is Destroyed

After the vision of these things, I saw another angel coming down from heaven. This angel had great power, and his glory made the earth bright. <sup>2</sup>He shouted in a powerful voice:

“Ruined, ruined is the great city of Babylon!
She has become a home for demons and a prison for every evil spirit, and a prison for every unclean bird and unclean beast.

<sup>3</sup>She has been ruined, because all the peoples of the earth have drunk the wine of the desire of her sexual sin.
She has been ruined also because the kings of the earth have sinned sexually with her, and the merchants of the earth have grown rich from the great wealth of her luxury.”

<sup>4</sup>Then I heard another voice from heaven saying:

“Come out of that city, my people, so that you will not share in her sins, so that you will not receive the disasters that will come to her.

<sup>5</sup>Her sins have piled up as high as the sky, and God has not forgotten the wrongs she has done.

<sup>6</sup>Give that city the same as she gave to others.
Pay her back twice as much as she did.

Prepare wine for her that is twice as strong as the wine she prepared for others.

<sup>7</sup>She gave herself much glory and rich living.
Give her that much suffering and sadness.

She says to herself, ‘I am a queen sitting on my throne.
I am not a widow; I will never be sad.’

<sup>8</sup>So these disasters will come to her in one day:
death, and crying, and great hunger,
and she will be destroyed by fire, because the Lord God who judges her is powerful.”

<sup>9</sup>The kings of the earth who sinned sexually with her and shared her wealth will see the smoke from her burning. Then they will cry and be sad because of her death. <sup>10</sup>They will be afraid of her suffering and stand far away and say:

“Terrible! How terrible for you, great city, powerful city of Babylon,
because your punishment has come in one hour!”

<sup>11</sup>And the merchants of the earth will cry and be sad about her, because now there is no one to buy their cargoes—
<sup>12</sup>cargoes of gold, silver, jewels, pearls, fine linen, purple cloth, silk, red cloth; all kinds of citron wood and all kinds of things made from ivory, expensive wood, bronze, iron, and marble;
<sup>13</sup>cinnamon, spice, incense, myrrh, frankincense, wine, olive oil, fine flour, wheat, cattle, sheep, horses, carriages, slaves, and human lives.

<sup>14</sup>The merchants will say,

“Babylon, the good things you wanted are gone from you.

All your rich and fancy things have disappeared.
You will never have them again.”

<sup>15</sup>The merchants who became rich from selling to her will be afraid of her suffering and will stand far away. They will cry and be sad <sup>16</sup>and say:

“Terrible! How terrible for the great city!
She was dressed in fine linen, purple and red cloth, and she was shining with gold, precious jewels, and pearls!

Every sea captain, every passenger, the sailors, and all those who earn their living from the sea stood far away from Babylon. <sup>18</sup>As they saw the smoke from her burning, they cried out loudly, “There was never a city like this great city!” <sup>19</sup>And they threw dust on their heads and cried out, weeping and being sad. They said:

“Terrible! How terrible for the great city!
All the people who had ships on the sea became rich because of her wealth!
But she has been destroyed in one hour!

<sup>20</sup>Be happy because of this, heaven!

Be happy, God’s holy people and apostles and prophets!

God has punished her because of what she did to you.”

<sup>21</sup>Then a powerful angel picked up a large stone, like one used for grinding grain, and threw it into the sea. He said:

“In the same way, the great city of Babylon will be thrown down, and it will never be found again.

<sup>22</sup>The music of people playing harps and other instruments, flutes, and trumpets, will never be heard in you again.
No workman doing any job will ever be found in you again.
The sound of grinding grain
will never be heard in you again.

<sup>23</sup>The light of a lamp will never shine in you again, and the voices of a bridegroom and bride
will never be heard in you again.
Your merchants were the world’s great people, and all the nations were tricked by your magic.

<sup>24</sup>You are guilty of the death of the prophets and God’s holy people and all who have been killed on earth.”

Revelation 19:1-21

Situation

The heavenly multitude responded to God's judgment with enthusiasm and praise. Jesus, suffering Servant of the Gospels, became the righteous Judge.

Observation

When Jesus returns, he will complete the work he began. He will gather his people and destroy Satan.

Inspiration

Triumph is a precious thing. We honor the triumphant. The gallant soldier sitting astride his steed. The determined explorer returning from his discovery. The winning athlete holding aloft the triumphant trophy of victory. Yes, we love triumph....

Triumph is fleeting, though. Hardly does one taste victory before it is gone; achieved, yet now history. No one remains champion forever. Time for yet another conquest, another victory. Perhaps this is the absurdity of Paul's claim: "But thanks be to God, who always leads us in triumphal procession ... " (2 Corinthians 2:14).

Here is the big difference between victory in Christ and victory in the world: A victor in the world rejoices over something he did—swimming the English Channel, climbing Everest, making a million. But the believer rejoices over who he is—a child of God, a forgiven sinner, an heir of eternity....

Nothing can separate us from our triumph in Christ. Nothing! Our triumph is not based upon our feelings, but upon God's gift. Our triumph is based not upon our perfection, but upon God's forgiveness. How precious is this triumph! For even though we are pressed on every side, the victory is still ours. Nothing can alter the loyalty of God...

“Triumphant in Christ.” It is not something we do. It's something we are. (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Christ has made you triumphant. Throughout the stress of daily living, look to Christ with joy. He has conquered sin, defeated Satan, and will one day take you home with him.

People in Heaven Praise God

After this vision and announcement I heard what sounded like a great many people in heaven saying:

“Hallelujah!

Salvation, glory, and power belong to our God, <sup>2</sup>because his judgments are true and right.
He has punished the prostitute who made the earth evil with her sexual sin.
He has paid her back for the death of his servants.”

<sup>3</sup>Again they said:

“Hallelujah!

She is burning, and her smoke will rise forever and ever.”

<sup>4</sup>Then the twenty-four elders and the four living creatures bowed down and worshiped God, who sits on the throne. They said:

“Amen, Hallelujah!”

<sup>5</sup>Then a voice came from the throne, saying:

“Praise our God, all you who serve him and all you who honor him, both small and great!”

<sup>6</sup>Then I heard what sounded like a great many people, like the noise of flooding water, and like the noise of loud thunder. The people were saying:

“Hallelujah!

Our Lord God, the Almighty, rules.

<sup>7</sup>Let us rejoice and be happy and give God glory,

because the wedding of the Lamb has come,

and the Lamb’s bride has made herself ready.

<sup>8</sup>Fine linen, bright and clean, was given to her to wear.”

(The fine linen means the good things done by God’s holy people.)

<sup>9</sup>And the angel said to me, “Write this: Happy are those who have been invited to the wedding meal of the Lamb!” And the angel said, “These are the true words of God.”

<sup>10</sup>Then I bowed down at the angel’s feet to worship him, but he said to me, “Do not worship me! I am a servant like you and your brothers and sisters who have the message of Jesus. Worship God, because the message about Jesus is the spirit that gives all prophecy.”

The Rider on the White Horse

<sup>11</sup>Then I saw heaven opened, and there before me was a white horse. The rider on the horse is called Faithful and True, and he is right when he judges and makes war. <sup>12</sup>His eyes are like burning fire, and on his head are many crowns. He has a name written on him, which no one but himself knows. <sup>13</sup>He is dressed in a robe dipped in blood, and his name is the Word of God. <sup>14</sup>The armies of heaven, dressed in fine linen, white and clean, were following him on white horses. <sup>15</sup>Out of the rider's mouth comes a sharp sword that he will use to defeat the nations, and he will rule them with a rod of iron. He will crush out the wine in the winepress of the terrible anger of God the Almighty. <sup>16</sup>On his robe and on his upper leg was written this name: KING OF KINGS AND LORD OF LORDS.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: King of Kings

You are in your car driving home. Thoughts wander to the game you want to see or meal you want to eat, when suddenly a sound unlike any you've ever heard fills the air. The sound is high above you. A trumpet? A choir? A choir of trumpets? You don't know, but you want to know. So you pull over, get out of your car, and look up. As you do, you see you aren't the only curious one. The roadside has become a parking lot. Car doors are open, and people are staring at the sky. Shoppers are racing out of the grocery store. The Little League baseball game across the street has come to a halt. Players and parents are searching the clouds.

And what they see, and what you see, has never before been seen.

As if the sky were a curtain, the drapes of the atmosphere part. A brilliant light spills onto the earth. There are no shadows. None. From whence came the light begins to tumble a river of color—spiking crystals of every hue ever seen and a million more never seen. Riding on the flow is an endless fleet of angels. They pass through the curtains one myriad at a time, until they occupy every square inch of the sky. North. South. East. West. Thousands of silvery wings rise and fall in unison, and over the sound of the trumpets, you can hear the cherubim and seraphim chanting, “Holy, holy, holy.”

The final flank of angels is followed by twenty-four silver-bearded elders and a multitude of souls who join the angels in worship. Presently the movement stops and the trumpets are silent, leaving only the triumphant triplet: “Holy, holy, holy.” Between each word is a pause. With each word, a profound reverence. You hear your voice join in the chorus. You don’t know why you say the words, but you know you must.

Suddenly, the heavens are quiet. All is quiet. The angels turn, you turn, the entire world turns—and there he is. Jesus. Through waves of light you see the silhouetted figure of Christ the King. He is atop a great stallion, and the stallion is atop a billowing cloud. He opens his mouth, and you are surrounded by his declaration: “I am the Alpha and the Omega.”

The angels bow their heads. The elders remove their crowns. And before you is a figure so consuming that you know, instantly you know: Nothing else matters. Forget stock markets and school reports. Sales meetings and football games. Nothing is newsworthy. All that mattered, matters no more, for Christ has come... . (From When Christ

<sup>17</sup>Then I saw an angel standing in the sun, and he called with a loud voice to all the birds flying in the sky: “Come and gather together for the great feast of God <sup>18</sup>so that you can eat the bodies of kings, generals, mighty people, horses and their riders, and the bodies of all people—free, slave, small, and great.”

<sup>19</sup>Then I saw the beast and the kings of the earth. Their armies were gathered together to make war against the rider on the horse and his army. <sup>20</sup>But the beast was captured and with him the false prophet who did the miracles for the beast. The false prophet had used these miracles to trick those who had the mark of the beast and worshiped his idol. The false prophet and the beast were thrown alive into the lake of fire that burns with sulfur. <sup>21</sup>And their armies were killed with the sword that came out of the mouth of the rider on the horse, and all the birds ate the bodies until they were full.

When we pray, "Thy kingdom come," it is a desire expressed from our hearts for the continued forceful advancement of God's cause on the earth. ## The Thousand Years

I saw an angel coming down from heaven. He had the key to the bottomless pit and a large chain in his hand.<sup>2</sup>The angel grabbed the dragon, that old snake who is the devil and Satan, and tied him up for a thousand years.<sup>3</sup>Then he threw him into the bottomless pit, closed it, and locked it over him. The angel did this so he could not trick the people of the earth anymore until the thousand years were ended. After a thousand years he must be set free for a short time.

<sup>4</sup>Then I saw some thrones and people sitting on them who had been given the power to judge. And I saw the souls of those who had been killed because they were faithful to the message of Jesus and the message from God. They had not worshiped the beast or his idol, and they had not received the mark of the beast on their foreheads or on their hands. They came back to life and ruled with Christ for a thousand years.<sup>5</sup>(The others that were dead did not live again until the thousand years were ended.) This is the first raising of the dead.<sup>6</sup>Happy and holy are those who share in this first raising of the dead. The second death has no power over them. They will be priests for God and for Christ and will rule with him for a thousand years.

<sup>7</sup>When the thousand years are over, Satan will be set free from his prison.<sup>8</sup>Then he will go out to trick the nations in all the earth—Gog and Magog—to gather them for battle. There are so many people they will be like sand on the seashore. <sup>9</sup>And Satan's army marched across the earth and gathered around the camp of God's people and the city God loves. But fire came down from heaven and burned them up. <sup>10</sup>And Satan, who tricked them, was thrown into the lake of burning sulfur with the beast and the false prophet. There they will be punished day and night forever and ever.

People of the World Are Judged

<sup>11</sup>Then I saw a great white throne and the One who was sitting on it. Earth and sky ran away from him and disappeared. <sup>12</sup>And I saw the dead, great and small, standing before the throne. Then books were opened, and the book of life was opened. The dead were judged by what they had done, which was written in the books. <sup>13</sup>The sea gave up the dead who were in it, and Death and Hades gave up the dead who were in them. Each person was judged by what he had done. <sup>14</sup>And Death and Hades were thrown into the lake of fire. The lake of fire is the second death. <sup>15</sup>And anyone whose name was not found written in the book of life was thrown into the lake of fire.

Observation

Finally. Sin will be destroyed. Death will die. Tears, anger, and frustrations will be gone.

Inspiration

The most hopeful words of that passage from Revelation are those of God's resolve: "I am making everything new."

It's hard to see things grow old. The town in which I grew up is growing old. I was there recently. Some of the buildings are boarded up. Some of the houses are torn down. Some of my teachers are retired; some are buried. The old movie house where I took my dates has "For Sale" on the marquee, long since outdated by the newer theaters that give you eight choices. The only visitors to the drive-in theater are tumbleweeds and rodents. Memories of first dates and senior proms are weather-worn by the endless rain of years. High school sweethearts are divorced. A cheerleader died of an aneurysm. Our fastest halfback is buried only a few plots from my own father.

I wish I could make it all new again. I wish I could blow the dust off the streets. I wish I could walk through the familiar neighborhood, and wave at the familiar faces, and pet the familiar dogs, and hit one more home run in the Little League park. I wish I could walk down Main Street and call out to the merchants that have retired and open the doors that have been boarded up. I wish I could make everything new ... but I can't....

I can't. But God can. "He restores my soul," wrote the shepherd. He doesn't reform; he restores. He doesn't camouflage the old; he restores the new. The Master Builder will pull out the original plan and restore it. He will restore the vigor. He will restore the energy. He will restore the hope. He will restore the soul.

When you see how this world grows stooped and weary and then read of a home where everything is made new, tell me, doesn't that make you want to go home?

What would you give in exchange for a home like that? Would you really rather have a few possessions on earth than eternal possessions in heaven? Would you really choose a life of slavery to passion over a life of freedom? Would you honestly give up all of your heavenly mansions for a second-rate sleazy motel on earth?

"Great," Jesus said, "is your reward in heaven." He must have smiled when he said that line. His eyes must have danced, and his hand must have pointed skyward.

For he should know. It was his idea. It was his home.

The New Jerusalem

Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth. The first heaven and the first earth had disappeared, and there was no sea anymore. <sup>2</sup>And I saw the holy city, the new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God. It was prepared like a bride dressed for her husband. <sup>3</sup>And I heard a loud voice from the throne, saying, “Now God’s presence is with people, and he will live with them, and they will be his people. God himself will be with them and will be their God. <sup>4</sup>He will wipe away every tear from their eyes, and there will be no more death, sadness, crying, or pain, because all the old ways are gone.”

<sup>5</sup>The One who was sitting on the throne said, “Look! I am making everything new!” Then he said, “Write this, because these words are true and can be trusted.”

<sup>6</sup>The One on the throne said to me, “It is finished. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. I will give free water from the spring of the water of life to anyone who is thirsty. <sup>7</sup>Those who win the victory will receive this, and I will be their God, and they will be my children. <sup>8</sup>But cowards, those who refuse to believe, who do evil things, who kill, who sin sexually, who do evil magic, who worship idols, and who tell lies—all these will have a place in the lake of burning sulfur. This is the second death.”

<sup>9</sup>Then one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls full of the seven last troubles came to me, saying, “Come with me, and I will show you the bride, the wife of the Lamb.”<sup>10</sup> And the angel carried me away by the Spirit to a very large and high mountain. He showed me the holy city, Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God.<sup>11</sup> It was shining with the glory of God and was bright like a very expensive jewel, like a jasper, clear as crystal.<sup>12</sup> The city had a great high wall with twelve gates with twelve angels at the gates, and on each gate was written the name of one of the twelve tribes of Israel.<sup>13</sup> There were three gates on the east, three on the north, three on the south, and three on the west.<sup>14</sup> The walls of the city were built on twelve foundation stones, and on the stones were written the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

<sup>15</sup>The angel who talked with me had a measuring rod made of gold to measure the city, its gates, and its wall.<sup>16</sup> The city was built in a square, and its length was equal to its width. The angel measured the city with the rod. The city was twelve thousand stadia long, twelve thousand stadia wide, and twelve thousand stadia high.<sup>17</sup> The angel also measured the wall. It was one hundred forty-four cubits high, by human measurements, which the angel was using.<sup>18</sup> The wall was made of jasper, and the city was made of pure gold, as pure as glass.<sup>19</sup> The foundation stones of the city walls were decorated with every kind of jewel. The first foundation was jasper, the second was sapphire, the third was chalcedony, the fourth was emerald,<sup>20</sup> the fifth was onyx, the sixth was carnelian, the seventh was chrysolite, the eighth was beryl, the ninth was topaz, the tenth was chrysoprase, the eleventh was jacinth, and the twelfth was amethyst.<sup>21</sup> The twelve gates were twelve pearls, each gate having been made from a single pearl. And the street of the city was made of pure gold as clear as glass.

<sup>22</sup>I did not see a temple in the city, because the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are the city's temple. <sup>23</sup>The city does not need the sun or the moon to shine on it, because the glory of God is its light, and the Lamb is the city's lamp. <sup>24</sup>By its light the people of the world will walk, and the kings of the earth will bring their glory into it. <sup>25</sup>The city's gates will never be shut on any day, because there is no night there. <sup>26</sup>The glory and the honor of the nations will be brought into it. <sup>27</sup>Nothing unclean and no one who does shameful things or tells lies will ever go into it. Only those whose names are written in the Lamb's book of life will enter the city.

Then the angel showed me the river of the water of life. It was shining like crystal and was flowing from the throne of God and of the Lamb <sup>2</sup>down the middle of the street of the city. The tree of life was on each side of the river. It produces fruit twelve times a year, once each month. The leaves of the tree are for the healing of all the nations. <sup>3</sup>Nothing that God judges guilty will be in that city. The throne of God and of the Lamb will be there, and God's servants will worship him. <sup>4</sup>They will see his face, and his name will be written on their foreheads. <sup>5</sup>There will never be night again. They will not need the light of a lamp or the light of the sun, because the Lord God will give them light. And they will rule as kings forever and ever.

<sup>6</sup>The angel said to me, "These words can be trusted and are true." The Lord, the God of the spirits of the prophets, sent his angel to show his servants the things that must happen soon.

<sup>7</sup>"Listen! I am coming soon! Happy is the one who obeys the words of prophecy in this book."

<sup>8</sup>I, John, am the one who heard and saw these things. When I heard and saw them, I bowed down to worship at the feet of the angel who showed these things to me. <sup>9</sup>But the angel said to me, "Do not worship me! I am a servant like you, your brothers the prophets, and all those who obey the words in this book. Worship God!"

<sup>10</sup>Then the angel told me, "Do not keep secret the words of prophecy in this book, because the time is near for all this to happen. <sup>11</sup>Let whoever is doing evil continue to do evil. Let whoever is unclean continue to be unclean. Let whoever is doing right continue to do right. Let whoever is holy continue to be holy."

<sup>12</sup>"Listen! I am coming soon! I will bring my reward with me, and I will repay each one of you for what you have done. <sup>13</sup>I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End.

<sup>14</sup>“Happy are those who wash their robes so that they will receive the right to eat the fruit from the tree of life and may go through the gates into the city. <sup>15</sup>Outside the city are the evil people, those who do evil magic, who sin sexually, who murder, who worship idols, and who love lies and tell lies.

<sup>16</sup>“I, Jesus, have sent my angel to tell you these things for the churches. I am the descendant from the family of David, and I am the bright morning star.”

<sup>17</sup>The Spirit and the bride say, “Come!” Let the one who hears this say, “Come!” Let whoever is thirsty come; whoever wishes may have the water of life as a free gift.

<sup>18</sup>I warn everyone who hears the words of the prophecy of this book: If anyone adds anything to these words, God will add to that person the disasters written about in this book. <sup>19</sup>And if anyone takes away from the words of this book of prophecy, God will take away that one’s share of the tree of life and of the holy city, which are written about in this book.

<sup>20</sup>Jesus, the One who says these things are true, says, “Yes, I am coming soon.”

Amen. Come, Lord Jesus!

- Why Jesus came to earth?
- If there are any other ways to get to heaven?

Read: John 10:10; John 14:6; Acts 4:12; 1 Timothy 1:15

Many people search for faith like they shop for clothes. They browse the racks of religion, pick an item, and try it on for size. If it doesn't fit, they throw it right back on the rack. If it's comfortable and makes them look good, then they buy it. Besides, it can always be returned.

Some people claim that Christianity is too narrow. Jesus clearly said that there's only one way to heaven and one narrow path that leads to God—and he is the way. He's not the least bit tolerant or accepting of other methods, sincere as they might be.

Why is that so hard to accept? In every other area of life, we accept absolutes. When we bake, we put in the exact ingredients. When we drive somewhere, we follow the directions. When we seek God, he requires only one thing—Christ—and that's the only way to God.

We're not saved by a system of religion. Salvation is beautifully, incredibly simple. Jesus is the one Savior, and he's free for the taking.

The woman said, "I know that the Messiah is coming." (Messiah is the One called Christ.) "When the Messiah comes, he will explain everything to us." Then Jesus said, "I am he—I, the one talking to you" (John 4:25–26).

Some personal applications:

- - Do you believe that Jesus is the only way to the Father?
  - Why do some people struggle with this concept? _____
- For a more in-depth study, read: Hebrews 5:7–9

"Let us ask our Father humbly, yet confidently in the name of Jesus, to remind us of the empty tomb. Let us see the victorious Jesus: the conqueror of the tomb, the one who defied death. And let us be reminded that we, too, will be granted that same victory!"

Day 2: Coming Home to Your Father

Have you ever wondered ...

- What it means to be a child of God?
- If you've run too far to come home?

Read: Romans 8:15–16; Luke 15:11–32; 2 Corinthians 6:18

When you hold up your arms to your heavenly Father, he reaches down to scoop you up. These passages remind us that accepting God's gift of salvation is not a formal business deal. It's the picture of a father welcoming home his rebellious child, just like the story of the prodigal son in Luke 15:11–32.

Just like the ungrateful son, we have run far from God. At some point in our lives, we've tried to live on our own, apart from him. We packed a knapsack, bought a bus ticket, and took off for the lights of the city. Somehow, the plan didn't work out as we expected. But God, your Father, was waiting up for you when you came home.

With joy in his eyes, God adopted you as soon as you held up your arms to him. He's your Abba Father. It doesn't matter how far you've run or how long you've been gone. His love doesn't change. You are his child.

But when the right time came, God sent his Son who was born of a woman and lived under the law. God did this so he could buy freedom for those who were under the law and so we could become his children (Galatians 4:4–5).

Some personal applications:

- When do you become a child of God? _____
- What does it mean to you that God is your Father? _____
- How can you approach God as his child? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: 1 John 3:1–10; Hebrews 12:4–11

“When we come to Christ, God not only forgives us, he also adopts us... It would be enough if God just cleansed your name, but he does more. He gives you his name. It would be enough if God just set you free, but he does more. He takes you home. He takes you home to the Great House of God.”

Day 3: God’s Love

Have you ever wondered ...

- Just how much God really loves you?
- If you can fall out of God’s love?
- Why you deserve to be loved so much?

Read: John 13:1; Ephesians 3:14–19; Romans 8:35–39

God’s Word is the most beautiful expression of love ever written. Shakespeare’s sonnets pale in comparison to the Bible’s descriptions of love. His love transcends every kind of earthly love. His love is stronger than any bond between parent and child or husband and wife. No earthly image can accurately portray God’s love for us.

Galatians 2:20 explains that Jesus loved you enough to die in your place. He chose to accept your punishment so that you could spend eternity with the father. In his death, Christ committed the greatest act of love ever seen by human eyes.

With a love so devoted, so sacrificial, so extreme—nothing can ever interfere. Nothing can squelch or diminish that love. You cannot fall beyond the reach of his love. You can’t lose it. You can’t change it, win it, or control it. His love extends before and beyond time, and he loved you before you knew him. When you choose to accept his love, you begin the most amazing relationship of your life.

And from far away the Lord appeared to his people and said,

*“I love you people
with a love that will last forever.*

*That is why I have continued
showing you kindness”*

(Jeremiah 31:3).

Some personal applications:

- Can you ever lose God’s love? _____
- Can you trust a loving God with the direction of your life? _____
- How much do you love God in return? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: Psalm 145:8; Isaiah 54:10

“Run to Jesus. Jesus wants you to go to him. He wants to become the most important person in your life, the greatest love you’ll ever know. He wants you to love him so much that there’s no room in your heart and in your life for sin. Invite him to take up residence in your heart.”

Day 4: Growing in God

Have you ever wondered ...

- How to grow in your faith?

Read: 2 Peter 3:18; Colossians 1:9–10; 1 Peter 2:2

There's more to Paris than the Eiffel Tower. If you walk off the main tourist paths, you'll discover quaint cafés waiting to be enjoyed, fragrant flower shops tucked away, private bed and breakfasts unlisted in the tourist guides.

Ironically, visiting Paris has many similarities to the Christian walk. You can't miss salvation. It looms high above the skyline. It's what really makes your trip. But you'll find even more places you can visit to get to know God in a deeper way.

That's what the Bible reveals. Inside are countless passages of insight for you to consider so that you can learn more about God's personality. As you spend time with other Christians, in the Word, in prayer, and in accountability, you can draw from their strengths and experiences and share yours as well. Search the pages of Scripture to discover new places in God's Word.

Most of all, be willing to take the trip and grow in your relationship with God. You'll be surprised at what awaits you around the next corner!

But the truly happy people are those who carefully study God's perfect law that makes people free, and they continue to study it. They do not forget what they heard, but they obey what God's teaching says. Those who do this will be made happy

(James 1:25).

For a more in-depth study, read: Philippians 1:6; Psalm 32:8

“Growth is the goal of the Christian. Maturity is mandatory. If a child ceased to develop, the parent would be concerned, right? Doctors would be called. Tests would be run. When a child stops growing, something is wrong.”

—Max Lucado

Day 5: The Bible: God’s Scrapbook

Have you ever wondered ...

- If God’s Word is any more than a bunch of good stories?

Read: Romans 15:4; Psalm 119:9–18

The Bible comes even more alive when we realize that it’s God’s scrapbook. Paging through it, you learn more about him with each turn. It overflows with collages of pictures, stories, poems, and letters. You’ll discover a piece of music that David wrote for him and a prayer God received from Job. You’ll glimpse a snapshot of God’s face as he watched his Son die.

What makes the Bible a unique scrapbook is that it doesn’t just commemorate the past—it provides guidance for today and hope for tomorrow. You can find your name and face in its pages. Next to each Bible promise is a picture of you. The same hope, the same gifts, and the same salvation recorded in the Bible apply to you. This scrapbook isn’t a nostalgic keepsake. It’s a living, dynamic, hopeful expectation of God’s plans for the future.

All Scripture is given by God and is useful for teaching, for showing people what is wrong in their lives, for correcting faults, and for teaching how to live right. Using the Scriptures, the person who serves God will be capable, having all that is needed to do every good work (2 Timothy 3:16–17).

Some personal applications:

- How can you personalize the message of the Bible?
- Which Bible promises will you claim for yourself today?

For a more in-depth study, read: 2 Peter 1:20–21; Deuteronomy 17:18–20

“Please remember, the goal of these stories is not to help us look back with amazement, but forward with faith. The God who spoke still speaks. The God who forgave still forgives. The God who came still comes. He comes into our world.”

—Max Lucado

Day 6: No Appointment Necessary

Have you ever wondered ...

- How to talk to God?
- If God really listens to you?

Read: Mark 11:20–24; James 5:15

Maybe it seems too good to be true that you have immediate access to the Creator of the universe. No appointment is necessary. You don't need to ask his secretary if he is busy. You can bypass the lobby, phones, and security guards and walk right into his office. His focus is completely on you, and his time is unlimited.

You would expect nothing less from your father, right? God doesn't treat you like a stranger or a business partner. You are his child, dearly loved and cherished. If you believe that God loves you, then you can trust that he will listen to your prayers.

In Mark 11, Jesus told us not to waste our words in prayer if we do not believe that God will answer us. But, if we are confident that he will meet our requests, then be ready! Ephesians 3:20 tells us that God wants to bless us beyond our wildest dreams.

So I tell you to believe that you have received the things you ask for in prayer, and God will give them to you
(Mark 11:24).

Some personal applications:

- Do your prayers reflect your faith in God's power? _____
- How do you approach God in prayer? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: Psalm 66:16–20; Ephesians 6:18

"You can talk to God because God listens. Your voice matters in heaven. He takes you very seriously. When you enter his presence, the attendants turn to you to hear your voice. No need to fear that you will be ignored. Even if you stammer or stumble, even if what you have to say impresses no one, it impresses God—and he listens.”

—Max Lucado

Day 7: The Holy Spirit

Have you ever wondered ...

- What the Holy Spirit’s role is in your life?
- What the Holy Spirit is like?

Read: Acts 2:1–4; Romans 8:26–27; John 14:17; 1 John 4:13

Before he left earth, Jesus promised to send someone to be with us continually. He promised to send the comforter, one who would bear our burdens, warm our hearts, and urge us to pray. He knows our worries, desires, feelings, and thoughts. At those times when you feel like you can’t express your thoughts to God, the Holy Spirit acts as your liaison.

The Holy Spirit is not a ghost that haunts churches. He is God. He is equal to and synonymous with the Father and Son, but he plays a different role. He knows you better than anyone else on earth does. He lives in you, so you are never alone. When you struggle with feelings of pain and depression, the Holy Spirit comforts you. When you’re listening hard for God’s voice, the Holy Spirit speaks to you. When you’re down to your last ounce of strength, the Spirit lifts and carries you.

Jesus didn’t leave us to fend for ourselves when he returned to heaven. He left us with the Holy Spirit. He lives in you, understanding every thought, emotion, and desire that you ever feel. You can't earn his services. As soon as you embrace Christ, the Holy Spirit lives within you.

I ask the Father in his great glory to give you the power to be strong inwardly through his Spirit. I pray that Christ will live in your hearts by faith and that your life will be strong in love and be built on love (Ephesians 3:16–17).

Some personal applications:

- Have you sensed the Holy Spirit's presence in your life?

• How can you rely on him and his strength today? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: 1 Corinthians 3:16; 12:4–11

"Spiritual life is not a human endeavor. It is rooted in and orchestrated by the Holy Spirit."

—Max Lucado

Day 8: On Your Feet in Praise

Have you ever wondered ...

- Why worship is so important?
- How to praise the Creator of the universe?

Read: Psalm 150; Luke 19:36–40

We shouldn't hesitate to give God a standing ovation. We should always be on our feet, lifting our hearts and our voices to him in praise. Psalm 150 clearly tells us that he deserves all the credit. Creation cannot help praising the Creator. Jesus said that if people did not praise God, then the stones would cry out a hearty "Bravo!" to their God.

We can spend hours in worship of our Lord, but if our praise comes from an insincere heart, our efforts are wasted. God listens attentively, his head resting in his hand, peering into our hearts. He isn't impressed if our lips move without our hearts moving as well. Worship isn't a duty. It's a privilege, an act of obedience, an urge to satisfy a heart that longs to praise God.

God is the focus, the reason, and the joy of our worship. No matter what problems you're facing, don't let them distract you from your focus. Because of his work on the cross—for that reason alone—he deserves an unending stream of praise from our lips forever.

The time is coming when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, and that time is here already. You see, the Father too is actively seeking such people to worship him. God is spirit, and those who worship him must worship in spirit and truth
(John 4:23–24).

Some personal applications:

- Believers worship God in a variety of ways. What is your personal worship style? _____

- Do you spend enough time and energy in praise? _____
- For what are you thankful? _____

“Let me urge you to come to worship prepared to worship. Pray before you come so you will be ready to pray when you arrive. Sleep before you come so you’ll stay alert when you arrive. Read the Word before you come so your heart will be soft when you worship. Come hungry. Come willing. Come expecting God to speak.”

—Max Lucado

Day 9: Forgiveness

Have you ever wondered ...

- How you could forgive an enemy?
- What sins are unforgivable?

Read: Genesis 45:4–15; Matthew 18:21–35

It goes beyond our human nature to forgive the unforgivable. We hold grudges and harbor resentment. We battle and bicker among ourselves. It is God’s nature, however, to forgive anything and everything. The worst crime ever committed? God can forgive that. Your worst mistakes and harshest moments? God can forgive those, too. Even when you feel that God would never accept you as you are, he invites you to come just as you are, and he forgives you completely.

Joseph’s brothers did the unforgivable—they sold their little brother into slavery. What an awful thing to do! They did not deserve to be forgiven. As readers, we long for a moment of vengeance, when Joseph can get back at them for the years of pain and rejection they caused him. But Joseph held off. He could have gloated, mocked, yelled, or punished. Instead, he embraced them. Tears spilled down his cheeks as he forgave them. As Jesus taught in Matthew 18:35, Joseph managed to forgive his brothers from his heart.

Perhaps you can empathize with Joseph's situation. Maybe you're face-to-face with someone who doesn't deserve to be forgiven. Through Jesus' grace, you can forgive. Only when you are bathed in God's forgiveness can you extend that same, rich, ungrudging forgiveness to others.

But God shows his great love for us in this way: Christ died for us while we were still sinners (Romans 5:8).

Some personal applications:

- - Are you holding back from forgiving someone in your life? _____
  - From whom do you need to ask forgiveness? _____
- For a more in-depth study, read: Genesis 37 and 42

"Forgiveness comes easier with a wide-angle lens. Joseph uses one to get the whole picture. He refuses to focus on the betrayal of his brothers without also seeing the loyalty of his God. It always helps to see the big picture."

—Max Lucado

Day 10: Confession: A Sure Win

Have you ever wondered ...

- If God could ever forgive your sin?
- Why you should confess?

Read: Psalm 32:5; James 5:16

Thirty thousand runners. Twenty-six miles. Thirteen water stations. Two tired feet. The olympic marathon—a colossal challenge that dares runners to attempt its course.

The Christian life is like a marathon. It's a lifelong, often grueling race for which we train, sweat, and persevere. We condition ourselves to prepare for the race. We find ourselves running among countless other runners with the same goal in mind: complete the race.

But not everyone makes it to the finish line. Some runners allow sin to begin piling up on their backs, slowing their strides until they eventually collapse on the curb. The course is difficult enough without having to carry around the heavy burden of unconfessed sin.

Confession is the only way to unload it from your back. God is watching and waiting for you at the finish line. He wants to see you run across it free of injury. There is no sin that he won't forgive. Can you hear him calling your name?

If we say we have no sin, we are fooling ourselves, and the truth is not in us. But if we confess our sins, he will forgive our sins, because we can trust God to do what is right. He will cleanse us from all the wrongs we have done

(1 John 1:8-9).

Some personal applications:

- What's holding you back from confessing the sin in your life? _____
- How will confession relieve your burdens? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: Psalm 51

"You know when God knows. You know when he is looking. Your heart tells you. The longer you run, the more complicated life gets. But the sooner you confess, the lighter your load becomes."

—Max Lucado

Day 11: No More Than We Can Bear

Have you ever wondered ...

- How to respond when you're tempted?
- What God expects of you?

Read: 1 Corinthians 10:13; Matthew 4:1–11

The question isn't if you'll be tempted to sin. It's just a matter of when, what, and how creative Satan will be. First Corinthians describes temptation as something everybody faces. We're vulnerable, and Satan knows it.

Jesus is our lifeline out of temptation. He sees the storm coming. He watches us struggling to stay afloat as wave after wave crashes over us. Just when we are about to drown, Jesus reaches in and offers his hand to pull us to safety. It is our choice to either take his strong hand or to sink.

God's Word is our harbor from the storm. When we recognize temptation approaching, then we can gear up for it by asking for God's help. He knows our weaknesses. He understands our pressures and temptations. Jesus himself was tempted, and he is strong enough to overcome it all.

And now he can help those who are tempted, because he himself suffered and was tempted... . Let us, then, feel very sure that we can come before God's throne where there is grace. There we can receive mercy and grace to help us when we need it
(Hebrews 2:18; 4:16).

Some personal applications:

- What are some particular areas of temptation with which you struggle? _____
- How can you recognize and respond to temptation when you sense it? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: Ephesians 6:10–18

"He placed himself in our position. He suffered our pains and felt our fears. Rejection? He felt it. Temptation? He knew it. Loneliness? He experienced it. Death? He tasted it."

—Max Lucado

Day 12: Too Good to Be True

Have you ever wondered ...

- If you can lose your salvation?
- If you have to repent over and over again?

Read: John 10:27–29; Romans 8:38–39

Some things just seem too good to be true. For you, heaven might be one of those things—unattainable and out of reach. Maybe you feel like you could never be good enough to deserve going there. The Bible, however, tries to erase that insecurity from your mind. These two verses shout, “Don’t worry everybody, God has got you!” Once we yield our lives to him, God holds us with his strong arm. He never lets go of us, no matter what. It’s not our job to keep our souls from slipping outside of heaven’s bounds—it’s God’s! He is the ultimate protector who grips our souls for eternity.

Having surrendered yourself to God, your salvation is a done deal. Your prayer is signed, sealed, and delivered straight to God. First John 1:9 says, “If we confess our sins, he will forgive our sins, because we can trust God to do what is right. He will cleanse us from all the wrongs we have done.” The Bible reassures you that at the moment of your repentance, you became God’s child. Nothing you can do will change God’s mind.

And this is the boldness we have in God’s presence: that if we ask God for anything that agrees with what he wants, he hears us. If we know he hears us every time we ask him, we know we have what we ask from him (1 John 5:14–15).

Some personal applications:

- At some point in your life, have you given your heart to God? _____
- How do you know that no one can take away your place in heaven? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: 1 John 1:5–2:5

“Just because you were grumpy at breakfast doesn’t mean you were condemned at breakfast. When you lost your temper yesterday, you didn’t lose your salvation. Your name doesn’t disappear and reappear in the Book of Life according to your moods and actions. Such is the message of grace.”

—Max Lucado

Day 13: A Heavenly Home

Have you ever wondered ...

- What happens after you die?
- What heaven is like?

Read: John 14:1–4 and Revelation 21:1–4

Many people believe in heaven, but what is it really like? Is it somewhere up in the sky? What will eternity feel like?

Actually, heaven is far greater than we can imagine. The Bible doesn’t tell us exactly what heaven will be like, but today’s reading gives us an idea. Heaven is a place where there is no more pain, a place where you’ll never be lonely and you’ll never grow old. Heaven is like nothing that we’ve ever seen or experienced. But best of all, heaven is where Jesus lives, and we'll be there with him. He is waiting for the perfect time for us all to be there together.

Before Jesus returned to heaven, he promised that he was going to prepare a place for us—in one of his Father's mansions! As a believer, your name is in the Book of Life. Your place will be worshipping God, and you will never grow tired of it. Heaven is a sigh of relief, a warm hug of welcome, the end of the journey ... home.

We know that our body—the tent we live in here on earth—will be destroyed. But when that happens, God will have a house for us. It will not be a house made by human hands; instead, it will be a home in heaven that will last forever. But now we groan in this tent. We want God to give us our heavenly home
(2 Corinthians 5:1–2).

Some personal applications:

- Based on God's Word, what do Christians know about death? _____
- How would you describe heaven? _____
- In what ways are you preparing for heaven? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: 1 Corinthians 15

"You'll be home soon, too. You may not have noticed it, but you are closer to home than ever before. Each moment is a step taken. Each breath is a page turned. Each day is a mile marked, a mountain climbed. You are closer to home than you've ever been."

—Max Lucado

Day 14: The Creator

Have you ever wondered ...

- If the story of Creation is true?
- Why God bothered to create you?

Read: Nehemiah 9:6; Job 26:7–14; Acts 14:15

In the beginning, God breathed life into Adam. God formed each living thing out of nothing. God's color palette is richer than any human artist's. His brush strokes are light and precise. The Bible praises God for his creativity. He left his stamp of craftsmanship on each one of us.

When he created you, he deliberately chose the shape of your face and the color of your eyes. In addition to your physical features, he combined a unique mix of talents and traits. And since that initial moment of creation, he has watched you ever since. Anyone who would labor so much to form you would naturally care enough to lead you the rest of the way through life. You are his child, his artwork.

Perhaps you've wondered why he bothered creating you. What can you possibly give to God that he doesn't already have? Certainly, you can't bring him power, glory, or holiness, but you can bring him one thing that he dearly wants—yourself. You are the masterpiece that the Great Artist treasures.

It is by faith we understand that the whole world was made by God's command so what we see was made by something that cannot be seen
(Hebrews 11:3).

Some personal applications:

- What does it mean to you that you were created in God's image? _____
- For what can you choose to praise the Creator today?

For a more in-depth study, read: Psalm 8

“Only in seeking his Maker does a man truly become man. For in seeing his Creator man catches a glimpse of what he was intended to be. He who would see his God would then see the reason for death and the purpose of time. Destiny? Tomorrow? Truth? All are questions within the reach of the man who knows his source. It is in seeing Jesus that man sees his Source.”

—Max Lucado

Day 15: Cheering on the Church

Have you ever wondered ...

- Why you should go to church?
- What Christ's church is supposed to be like?

Read: Ephesians 1:22–23; Acts 4:32–35

Joe was tired of the complaints. Every time his crew of little baseball players ran off the field, he was bombarded with grumbling. “Mark keeps dropping the ball!” “Why can't I play pitcher?” “I'm tired of being in the outfield!” “I won't catch if Timmy pitches!” Joe wasn't at all surprised that his team had yet to win a game.

The church is a team. The success of the church depends on the commitment of the players. The church can only win when its members cheer each other on. Our Captain knows that if his team isn't unified, we will fail. Every time we take the field of life, we can choose to cheer or complain, encourage or criticize, laugh or groan. If we listen carefully to our Coach, we can beat Satan's team in a shutout!

The church team isn't complete without you. God designed it that way. You're the number one draft pick for God's roster. He wants you to be bold and step up to the plate. On God's team, you have the ability to hit a home run.

*It is good and pleasant when God's people live together in peace!
(Psalm 133:1).*

Some personal applications:

- How can you get more involved with your church? _____
- How are you contributing to the overall morale of your church team? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: Matthew 16:16–19

"Unity matters to God. The Father does not want his kids to squabble. Disunity disturbs him. Why? Because 'all people will know that you are my followers if you love each other' (John 13:35). Unity creates belief."

—Max Lucado

Day 16: Freedom to Obey

Have you ever wondered ...

- Why God asks you to obey him?
- If obedience will ever become easier and more natural for you?

Read: James 1:22–25; Romans 6:22; John 8:31–32

Sometimes it seems that rules are posted everywhere to limit our fun. “No running.” “No loitering.” “No diving.” “Shirt and shoes required.” Some people equate Christianity with a list of rules and regulations. They assume that God surrounds his children with rules just as the fun is getting started. These verses clarify that God’s commands aren’t meant to limit you. On the contrary, God’s instructions free you. His motivation is love, and his goal is to enhance your life, not limit it.

When you live within God’s boundaries, you’re free—free to enjoy life without worry, free to approach God without guilt, free to begin relationships without pain. Because of his blessings, obedience becomes fun. You obey not because you have to, but because you want to.

But now you are free from sin and have become slaves of God. This brings you a life that is only for God, and this gives you life forever
(Romans 6:22).

Some personal applications:

- Do you view God's commandments as a burden or a privilege? _____
- What motivates you to obey God's Word? _____
- What benefits come from obedience? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: Proverbs 3

"That is the unique characteristic of the new kingdom. Its subjects aren't working in order to go to heaven; they work because they are going to heaven. Arrogance and fear are replaced with gratitude and joy."

—Max Lucado

Day 17: Getting Right with God

Have you ever wondered ...

- How you can become righteous?
- If following the rules is good enough for God?

Read: Romans 3:19–26; 1 John 2:1–2; Proverbs 2:7–8

Try to think of someone who was righteous, someone who never did anything wrong. Mother Teresa? No. The Apostle Paul? Hardly. The Pope, Joan of Arc, or John the Baptist? None of these characters were righteous of their own accord, and neither are you. There's nothing you can do to make up for your foul behavior.

Sin stinks, and God hates it. Face it: Flowers won't appease him. Gifts and apology cards won't cut it. The grander tributes—an afternoon serving at the city mission, a fat check in the offering plate—won't make you look any better or any more righteous. We always want to do what is right, but somehow, it just doesn't happen.

God's not surprised. Reading Romans chapter three may help you breathe a little easier. Deeds aren't the way to righteousness—Jesus is. He frees you from your sin when you hand over your life to him. Righteousness is a free gift. Take it. Wear it confidently by obeying God's Word. Then you'll receive all the positive things that God wants to give you along with it.

But the truly happy people are those who carefully study God's perfect law that makes people free, and they continue to study it. They do not forget what they heard, but they obey what God's teaching says. Those who do this will be made happy
(James 1:25).

Some personal applications:

- Have you been trying to get into heaven by what you do for God? _____
- Have you been living out your righteousness by obeying God's Word? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: Matthew 5:6; Hosea 10:12

"The world rams at your door; Jesus taps at your door. The voices scream for your allegiance; Jesus softly and tenderly requests it. The world promises flashy pleasure; Jesus promises a quiet dinner ... with God. 'I will come in and eat.' Which voice do you hear?"

Day 18: Becoming Like Jesus

Have you ever wondered ...

- What sanctification is?
- How you become sanctified?

Read: John 17:17–19; 1 Corinthians 6:11; 1 Peter 1:2

Sanctification is the ongoing process of growing toward holiness. Once you've accepted Christ as your Savior, your salvation is secure, but God isn't finished with you yet. As long as you're alive, he wants you to become more like him. Sanctification is the Holy Spirit's job. Through his leading, you become more and more like Jesus each day.

Sanctification lasts a lifetime. While you're on earth, you'll never be perfect, but you should become more perfect with each passing day. God gives you the tools—the handbook (the Bible), the guide (the Holy Spirit), and the companions (the church).

You don't have to do anything to get salvation. You just embrace it. It's a gift, pure and simple. But from that moment on, God does expect something from you. He expects you to abandon your old lifestyle and grow into Christ's likeness. It's your part in God's plan.

You have begun to live the new life, in which you are being made new and are becoming like the One who made you. This new life brings you the true knowledge of God
(Colossians 3:10).

Some personal applications:

- How are you growing to be more like Jesus in your lifestyle? _____
- Why would God want you to have a part in sanctification? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: Matthew 7:24–27

“Positional sanctification comes because of Christ’s work for us.

“Progressive sanctification comes because of Christ’s work in us.

“Both are gifts from God.

“‘With one sacrifice he made perfect forever those who are being made holy’ (Hebrews 10:14). See the blending of tenses? ‘He made perfect’ (positional sanctification) those who are ‘being made holy’ (progressive sanctification).

“Positional and progressive sanctification. God’s work for us and God’s work in us. Neglect the first, and you grow fearful. Neglect the second, and you grow lazy. Both are essential, and both are seen in the moistened dirt at the base of the cross of Christ.”

—Max Lucado

Day 19: Holy and Clean

Have you ever wondered ...

-
- What it means to be holy?
- How you could ever be considered holy?

Read: Leviticus 11:45; Ephesians 1:4–6; 2 Corinthians 7:1

Holiness is one of those intimidating religious words that we always hear but generally don’t understand. Holiness means set apart, sinless, and perfect. God is holy; we are not.

God loves us despite our dirty, sin-soiled clothes. He wears his holiness like a dazzling, spotless, white robe. These verses encourage us to purify ourselves so that we can be holy, just as God intended us to be.

See that big black spot on your collar? That's lust. Don't forget that smear on the right sleeve. That's jealousy. There's a spot on your cuff and a streak on your lapel. Those are pride and dishonesty. What an eyesore we are next to God's purity!

But we can wear holiness, too. We don't wear our own; we wear Christ's. We are covered in his holiness. Once we have been cleansed white as snow, we can stand next to God in pure, holy garments.

But be holy in all you do, just as God, the One who called you, is holy. It is written in the Scriptures: "You must be holy, because I am holy"
(1 Peter 1:15–16).

Some personal applications:

- What sins have stained your soul? _____
- How can you be more holy today, just as God is holy?

_____

For a more in-depth study, read: 2 Timothy 2:21–22; 1 Thessalonians 3:12–13

"And what will happen when you see Jesus? You will see unblemished purity and unbending strength. You will feel his unending presence and know his unbridled protection. And—all that he is, you will be, for you will be like Jesus."

—Max Lucado

Day 20: Getting to Know a New Friend

Have you ever wondered ...

- How to get to know God?

Read: 1 Samuel 3:2–10, 19, Proverbs 3:1–4

Making time to get alone with God may seem tough—at times even impossible. Stress, deadlines, relationships, and responsibilities compete for your time. How can you set aside time to pause, open the Bible, study, and listen to God? Those are the meetings that God longs for. He wants to meet with you for your sake, so that you can get to know him and his Word better.

When the prophet Samuel was young, he had never heard God's voice before. Actually hearing God speak was a rare occurrence in those days. The boy had not yet met God in a personal way (1 Samuel 3:7).

But God was eager for Samuel to meet him, so he called his name. Once Samuel's ears were open, he listened for God's voice. From that moment on, he formed a special friendship with God.

Once you hear God, don't hesitate to invite him in. Just as you would spend time getting to know a new friend, spend that kind of time with your Lord. Ask him to sit and chat. Ask him more about himself, and learn about his past, his family, and his plans. Tell him all about your situation, your goals, and your struggles. Once you've shared those heart-to-heart conversations, never grow apart. Let him be more than a mere acquaintance.

Do not change yourselves to be like the people of this world, but be changed within by a new way of thinking. Then you will be able to decide what God wants for you; you will know what is good and pleasing to him and what is perfect
(Romans 12:2).

Some personal applications:

- What times can you set aside to spend alone with God this week? _____
- How can you pause to listen for God's voice today?
_____

For a more in-depth study, read: Colossians 3:1-17

"In the midst of your daily storms, make it a point to be still and set your sights on him. Let God be God. Let him bathe you in his glory so that both your breath and your troubles are sucked from your soul. Be still. Be quiet. Be open and willing."

—Max Lucado

Day 21: Justification: Your Ticket into Heaven

Have you ever wondered ...

- What you have to do to be admitted into heaven?
- How you can have a right relationship with God?

Read: Romans 4:16–25

As high school students prepare for college, they face four years of late-night study, rounds of admissions tests, and long-term career planning. The stress and strain of their preparation and decisions builds up to a single goal. They anxiously wait, day after day, checking and rechecking the mail box, looking for just one item: the college acceptance letter.

But what if they didn't need a letter? What if getting a spot at the most prestigious school in the country simply required signing up? What if degrees were given away as freely as coupons? This would be a student's dream!

Instant admission into heaven, however, isn't just a dream—it is a reality for all who turn to Jesus. Heaven doesn't require a test or a class. Nothing we do can make us good enough for God and heaven. Jesus does it all. He took the test for us and already filled out our paperwork. The one thing he requires is that we believe that he'll uphold his end of the bargain.

I mean that you have been saved by grace through believing. You did not save yourselves; it was a gift from God
\(Ephesians 2:8\).

Some personal applications:

- Are you still trying to earn your way into heaven? _____

- Have you acknowledged that only Christ can make you worthy of heaven? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: Hebrews 11

“Ponder the achievement of God. He doesn’t condone our sin; nor does he compromise his standard. He doesn’t ignore our rebellion; nor does he relax his demands. Rather than dismiss our sin he assumes our sin and, incredibly, sentences himself. God’s holiness is honored. Our sin is punished. And we are redeemed. God is still God. The wages is still death. And we are made perfect.”

—Max Lucado

Day 22: Christian Friendships

Have you ever wondered ...

- How to develop friendships with other Christians?
- About the importance of having Christian friendships?

Read: Acts 14:21–22; Ephesians 2:19

God never intended for us to struggle through life alone. You’ll notice a pattern in the Scriptures that God provides friends for our support. During tough times, King David turned to his dear friend Jonathan. When Naomi lost her husband and sons, she leaned on her daughter-in-law Ruth. And even Jesus, when he felt anxious about dying on the cross, asked his three closest friends, Peter, James, and John, to come pray with him.

Friends share our joys and sorrows. Friends pray for us. Friends balance us out. Friends help us see beyond our immediate circumstances to God’s grand, sweeping plan. And we can do the same for our friends.

So do we need Christian friends? When we truly love Jesus more than anything else, then we want to be able to share what's most important to us with our closest friends. Only other believers can fully understand our passion for Christ.

Let's face it—we need each other. And that's just what God had in mind.

The greatest love a person can show is to die for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. I no longer call you servants, because a servant does not know what his master is doing. But I call you friends, because I have made known to you everything I heard from my Father
(John 15:13–15).

Some personal applications:

- How have you felt encouragement from other Christians? _____
- Who can you encourage today in their faith? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: Proverbs 27:17; Acts 11:23–24

“We know the importance of a friend. All of us need friends, don't we? Whether or not you are friendly could determine whether or not someone hears about Jesus Christ. Your handshake, your warmth, your walk, your friendliness could make the difference in someone's life.”

—Max Lucado

Day 23: Spiritual Gifts

Have you ever wondered ...

- What spiritual gifts God has given you?
- How you can use them?

Read: 1 Corinthians 12:4–11; Hebrews 2:4

Since God is the giver, he chooses what gifts to give each person. He selects from his infinite pool of talents and blessings and chooses something appropriate for you. Every gift is good. You can't walk away slighted. It's up to you to discover what gifts he's placed in your heart and to use them.

Perhaps you wonder why God gives special gifts. In a “fair” economy, every person would receive the same gifts, in the same measure, at the same time. But God's economy operates differently. To some, he gives the gift of teaching. To others, he gives the gift of hospitality. These are very different gifts, right? God's family needs all of the gifts in order to function smoothly. We are dependent upon each other.

Study Romans 12:3–8 and ask God which gifts he has given you. Ask your family, friends, pastor, and yourself. Consider your talents and your passions, and pray that God would show you how he wants you to serve the family. Then snatch up your prize and use it for God.

We all have different gifts, each of which came because of the grace God gave us (Romans 12:6A).

Some personal applications:

- How can you discover your spiritual gifts? _____
- What do you think your spiritual gifts might be? _____
- How can you use your gifts? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: 1 Thessalonians 5:19–22

“God loves you just the way you are. If you think his love for you would be stronger if your faith were, you are wrong. If you think his love would be deeper if your thoughts were, wrong again. Don’t confuse God’s love with the love of people. The love of people often increases with performance and decreases with mistakes. Not so with God’s love. He loves you right where you are.”

—Max Lucado

Day 24: Good Stewards

Have you ever wondered ...

-
- What stewardship is?
- What God expects you to do with your possessions?

Read: 1 Peter 4:10–11; Luke 12:41–48

It’s no secret that our society is materialistic. God has a different perspective. When you consider God’s part in creating the world, you’ll realize that everything you “own” is really God’s. Not yours—God’s. While you are here on earth, he is entrusting you with it.

Because all you have is on loan from God, you know not to cling to your possessions. They will only slip through your fingers. When God entrusts you with possessions, he expects you to honor him with what you have.

The Bible teaches that we are to give God our firstfruits—meaning the first and best of all we have. Is that because God needs your money? You must be kidding. Why, then, is giving so important? When you give, you put your possessions in proper perspective. Giving helps you participate in God’s work. Giving helps you and your heart condition far more than it helps God.

Good stewardship means that you work and give cheerfully. Take inventory of your gifts, talents, and possessions. Invest them in the world around you so that with a glad heart you can report back to the giver.

Each one should give as you have decided in your heart to give. You should not be sad when you give, and you should not give because you feel forced to give. God loves the person who gives happily
(2 Corinthians 9:7).

Some personal applications:

- Are you abusing what God has entrusted to you? _____
- What gifts can you invest in God’s kingdom? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: Matthew 25:15–23

“God’s foremost rule of finance is this: We own nothing. We are managers, not owners. Stewards, not landlords. Maintenance people, not proprietors. Our money is not ours; it is his.”

—Max Lucado

Day 25: Accountable to God

Have you ever wondered ...

- Once you're saved, are you accountable to God for your actions?
- What God requires from you?

Read: Romans 14:10–12; Matthew 5:13–16; 1 Corinthians 9:16

Romans reminds us that it doesn't matter much what people on earth think about us. It's God who matters. It's a scary thought to realize that one day each of us will stand alone before the judgment seat of Christ. God sees our hearts. He knows our thoughts. He watches every move we make.

If you know Christ, then you don't have to fear him. Your eternity is secure. But, we are accountable to him for our choices. Someday we will stand before him and answer for our decisions.

Sometimes it's hard to hold ourselves to God's strict standards. Good friends can hold each other accountable. A close friend can ask how you're responding to a particular temptation that always seems to break you. A fellow believer can help you live up to God's standards. Remember, ultimately you're accountable only to him—but in the meantime, we can help each other.

The Lord knows what is happening in the world of the dead, so he surely knows the thoughts of the living (Proverbs 15:11).

Some personal applications:

- For what things do you need someone to hold you accountable? _____
- How can you live in light of the judgment seat of Christ—not in fear, but in wisdom? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: Proverbs 15:2–3

“Listen to the Christ rather than to the voices of men. Jesus says you can’t please men and still be a servant of God. Those who listen and follow Christ will be received into heaven by the pierced hands of the one who knows the freedom of giving up what you cannot own in order to receive what no one can take from you—eternal life.”

—Max Lucado

Day 26: Believe and Be Baptized

Have you ever wondered ...

-
- What baptism is?
- If you must be baptized in order to be a Christian?

Read: Matthew 3:11, 13–17; 1 Peter 3:21

John (a man), baptized Jesus (the Savior of humanity). Does that sound a bit ironic to you? It did to John the Baptist—and he told Jesus so. But Jesus wanted to stress the importance of baptism, and he wanted to leave us a model to follow, so he was baptized. Jesus didn’t need forgiveness; he was perfect.

But he followed the will of his Father, which included baptism.

A marriage commitment begins with a ring. The couple publicly commits to each other. At the ceremony, the couple declares, “I’m no longer my own—I’m married!” Baptism announces that you are no longer your former, independent self. You have chosen a relationship, and you take Jesus’ name, “Christian.”

Baptism is a blessing, not a burden; an honor, not a chore; a privilege, not a punishment. By obeying Jesus’ command to be baptized, you symbolically die to sin and are reborn with Christ.

Paul said, “John’s baptism was a baptism of changed hearts and lives. He told people to believe in the one who would come after him, and that one is Jesus”

(Acts 19:4).

Some personal applications:

- If you have not yet been baptized, when can you follow Christ’s command? _____
- If you have already been baptized, what does your baptism symbolize in your walk with the Lord? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: Acts 2:38–39

“Please understand, it is not the act that saves us. But it is the act that symbolizes how we are saved! The invisible work of the Holy Spirit is visibly dramatized in the water... Remove your shoes, bow your head, and bend your knees; this is a holy event. Baptism is not to be taken lightly.”

—Max Lucado

Day 27: Three in One

Have you ever wondered ...

- About the Trinity?
- How to relate to the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit?

Read: Mark 1:10–11; Matthew 28:19

In two thousand years, biblical scholars have yet to explain the Trinity in fewer than five hundred words. The Trinity is one of those beautiful, divine mysteries that we'll never fully understand—not until we stand in heaven and share God's wisdom. We can accept that God doesn't intend for us to understand everything in life. We can be satisfied that God understands, and he has revealed as much as our limited minds can contain.

These verses from Matthew and Mark shed some light on the Trinity. It's astounding to imagine a God who is everywhere all the time, and yet was also crucified on one cross thousands of years ago. This God is not a cold spirit, watching from atop a cloud. He is with you—right here, right now.

The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with you all
\(2 Corinthians 13:14\).

Some personal applications:

- When you pray, do you address God, the Holy Spirit, and Jesus? _____
- How have you experienced the touch of the Father, the Son, and the Spirit? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: John 14:16–17; Romans 5:5–6

“All the splendor of heaven revealed in a human body. For a period ever so brief, the doors to the throne room were open and God came near. His Majesty was seen. Heaven touched the earth and, as a result, earth can know heaven. In astounding tandem a human body housed divinity. Holiness and earthliness intertwined.”

—Max Lucado

Day 28: Finding Comfort in the Dark

Have you ever wondered ...

- Why Christians suffer?
- Where to turn for comfort in tough times?

Read: Psalm 18:1–6; 34:19

Christians are certainly not exempt from trouble, but when we feel as if we are buried in pain, God offers us comfort to carry us through. Life after conversion doesn't suddenly become a smooth, easy ride, but it is different. We have access to God's richest treasures. His comfort is one of them.

In difficult times, he pours comfort on our weary souls. When life seems good, it's easy to call on God. We casually toss prayers in his direction. We walk with a light step until pain stops us abruptly. Suddenly, God seems far away. We flounder in our pain, struggling to cry out, and all we can muster is a faint whisper.

With compassion, God hears. He sees you, fighting against despair. If we can only lift our eyes to him, we will see him rushing to share his comfort with us. He is our hero, our savior, our peace.

Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. God is the Father who is full of mercy and all comfort. He comforts us every time we have trouble, so when others have trouble, we can comfort them with the same comfort God gives us
(2 Corinthians 1:3-4).

Some personal applications:

- - How can you use the difficult times in your past to empathize with others who are struggling? _____
  - When do you take advantage of God's comfort? _____
- For a more in-depth study, read: Habakkuk 3:17-19

"Being a father is teaching me that when I am criticized, injured, or afraid, there is a Father who is ready to comfort me. There is a Father who will hold me until I'm better; help me until I can live with the hurt, and who won't go to sleep when I'm afraid of waking up and seeing the dark. Ever. And that's enough."

—Max Lucado

Day 29: Spreading the Good News

Have you ever wondered ...

- How to share the good news of salvation?
- With whom you can share your faith?

Read: Acts 8:4–40; Colossians 4:5–6

Spill your news. Shout your joy. Spread your announcement. After all, good news is meant to be shared! Why stifle the best message ever known to humanity? So you've met this Jesus Christ? You know him personally? Then tell your friends and family all about your new friend.

When we are enjoying God's goodness, it's natural to want to talk about him. It's refreshing. Just as you'd share your latest announcement—a new car, a baby on the way, a broken relationship restored—the best news ever should always be on the tip of your tongue. Tell others about the person who has changed your life. Don't push away an opportunity to speak.

Jesus' disciples couldn't contain themselves. They heard. They believed. Then they told everybody. Can you identify with their energy and enthusiasm? Have you felt the undeniable urge to tell someone how Jesus changed your life?

“Go home to your family and tell them how much the Lord has done for you and how he has had mercy on you.” So the man left and began to tell the people in the Ten Towns about what Jesus had done for him. And everyone was amazed
(Mark 5:19–20).

Some personal applications:

- Can you think of someone who needs to hear the best message ever? _____
- How can you keep your first joy of knowing Jesus fresh and contagious in your life? _____

For a more in-depth study, read: Matthew 5:13–16

“You’ve heard the voice whispering your name, haven’t you? You’ve felt the nudge to go and sensed the urge to speak. Hasn’t it occurred to you? ... If the Bible were being written today, that might be your name in the eighth chapter of Acts.”

—Max Lucado

Day 30: A Leader Who Serves

Have you ever wondered ...

- What it really means to be a servant?
- How to serve as Jesus did?

Read: Matthew 20:25–27; Philippians 2:5–11

Jesus doesn’t ask us to serve any differently than he served. He’s been here—on earth, among grumpy, demanding people, feeling tired and worn thin. Paul explains in Philippians 2:5–11 that Jesus was the ultimate servant. Reading those passages may make you feel like Jesus is a tough act to follow. But Jesus made it clear in Matthew 20:25–27 that it is your attitude that matters most.

When you see life through Jesus’ eyes, it’s natural to spot opportunities to serve. Too often we miss them because we focus on ourselves. We can't see beyond the wall of our own problems and concerns. Only when we look beyond ourselves can we be the servants that Jesus desires us to be.

In Luke 22:24–27, Jesus tells his disciples that the leader among them would be a servant. By setting your heart on serving, you can follow in Jesus' footsteps.

This is what you were called to do, because Christ suffered for you and gave you an example to follow. So you should do as he did
(1 Peter 2:21).

Some personal applications:

- Starting in your hometown, how can you serve other people? _____
- How can you model your attitude after Christ's attitude?

For a more in-depth study, read: Philippians 2:14–17; 1 Corinthians 12:5–11

"Reliable servants. They're the binding of the Bible. Their acts are rarely recited and their names are seldom mentioned. Yet were it not for their loyal devotion to God, many great events never would have occurred."
