General Introduction

by Karen Hill

The Devotional Bible is an exhilarating experience. As you read, you'll uncover a saga of suspense and intrigue. Flip over a few pages and find poetry and romance. Turn the pages again and read tales of clashing conquerors, brave shepherds, and a captivating Carpenter. Chronicles of faith, miracles, misdeeds, and good deeds. Kings, queens, peasants—the uncommon and the commonplace. Mystery, suspense, intrigue, drama, humor, poetry, romance ... it's all in these pages ... stories of real people, with real problems, real joys, and a real Savior. All of that, plus some distinctive features to help you see that what happened on these pages is still happening today—that the truths of old are truths for our age.

Features

Life Lessons

To enrich your study, this Bible has some unique features ... some helpful tools to expand your understanding. You'll notice Life Lessons in the margins. Each Life Lesson contains a Situation, Observation, Inspiration, Application, and Exploration.

The Situation gives a quick look into the context of the chapter: it answers the question, What's going on in this passage?

The Observation goes beneath the action to explain the point of the action. What truth or lesson is noticeable in the action of these people?

The Inspiration takes a point or lesson found in the chapter and amplifies it. Excerpted from the writings of Christian authors, these inspirations extend the main point and give it a contemporary message that will be useful in your private devotion or for sharing with a group.

The Application brings the message home. “How can I use what I’ve learned in this chapter?” “Is there anything about my life that I should change as a result of what I’ve already learned by reading this?”

The Exploration lists other scripture related to the same theme, for further study. Reading the Exploration verses provides a strong sense of the Bible as a complete story, rather than just a collection of short stories and lists of rules.

Full-Page Devotional Bible Studies

Scattered throughout the text you will discover full-page devotional Bible Studies. These encouraging pages will reveal what God thinks about you. Use the index to the topical inserts on page ix in the front of this Bible to locate specific topics covered on these pages.

Christ Through the Bible

The Christ Through the Bible articles are a helpful tool for understanding how the Bible truly is one story—the story of God’s plan of salvation as fulfilled through his Son, Jesus Christ. These notes help you discover the presence and attributes of Jesus Christ throughout the Old and New Testament. For example, observe how Jesus is foreshadowed as our high priest in the book of Exodus and how his title as Lamb of God can be seen in Leviticus.

New Life in Christ

The New Life in Christ articles help you walk through God's plan of salvation as it unfolds through the Old Testament and is fully revealed with the birth, life, and ministry of Jesus in the New Testament. This series of short articles will also help you explore the path of discipleship, as it delves into aspects of the Christian walk. Let the questions found at the end of each article prompt you to a closer walk with Christ.

He Did This Just for You Verses

These verses reveal more about who Christ is and what he did for you. They will help you personalize God's message and draw closer to your Savior.

New Believer Studies

These short studies will help you learn more about your faith and will answer some of the hard questions that may be on your mind. The studies cover a variety of topics, such as how to know that you're saved, how to pray, how to face temptation, and much more.

Spiritual Growth Verses

These verses cover topics of spiritual growth, such as your daily walk with God, listening to him, and forgiving others.

“The Big Picture” Reading Plan

This simple 30-day reading plan will introduce you to key passages throughout the New Testament.

“Where to Turn When ...” Index

This list leads you to relevant verses for many of life’s complicated questions and situations.

Reading Program

Designed to inspire you in your daily walk, the study helps are streamlined for ease of use. The comments are quick, tightly written nuggets to give you the most information in the briefest format possible, to assist your search for understanding. How do you use The Devotional Bible? The Life Lessons coincide with the chapters they address. It is best to read the Situation first. Then read the scripture referenced with the Life Lesson. Go to the Observation—is this the point you understood as you read the action? Move on to the Inspiration. If you’re in a class, read and discuss the Inspiration, then use the Application for further discussion. If you are studying alone, keep a journal of your commitment to new goals suggested by the Application.

A Brief Note to Parents and Teachers

This Bible is adaptable to any age group and is especially useful with mixed-age groups. For adults, the margin information can be used to initiate further study and discussion. For families or in children's classes, they can be used as self-contained devotionals. The Life Lessons are particularly useful in demonstrating that people of Bible times encountered similar problems to situations occurring today ... the same hopes, fears, desires, sins, and successes.

The General Editor's Acknowledgments

On the title page of my Bible, I have copied two verses. The first is from Mark 12:37.

The large crowd listened to Jesus with pleasure.

What a compliment! “You ought to go hear this guy speak,” people must have said, “It’s a treat to listen to him.” When Jesus spoke, people listened. And when the people listened, they listened with joy. His message was clear. His stories were stirring, and his point was unforgettable.

What if the same were true today? What if every time Jesus’ words were read, the people “listened with pleasure”? What if people perked up when the Bible was opened? What if people passed out copies of the Bible, saying, “You ought to read what this guy said. It’s a treat”?

Wouldn’t that be great? I know some people who are committed to seeing this happen.

Let me introduce you to Thomas Nelson Publishers. They are more than a publishing house, they are a people with a purpose. Every day they are thinking of ways to make God’s Word more accessible and understandable. This Bible is the product of that desire.

The New Century Version of the Bible is accurate, reliable, and reader-friendly. The language is not so lofty as to be distant, nor so earthy as to be irreverent. The language is the language of today, pure and simple.

This devotional version of the NCV is a library worth of books in one volume. A team of diligent researchers has taken the best from hundreds of books and put it right where you need it—in the margin of your Bible.

My hat is off to The Livingstone Corporation led by Bruce Barton, Christopher Hudson, Betsy Schmitt, and Dave Veerman. Dave, I especially appreciate your help with the minor prophets. Only God knows the number of hours you poured into this project. But God does know, he will not forget the work you did and the love you showed for him by helping his people (Hebrews 6:10).

I salute my friends at Thomas Nelson and W Publishing Group. What a terrific group! David Moberg deserves special mention. Without your devotion and dedication, this idea would still be that, an idea in a manila folder. Thanks for making it a reality.

Speaking of making ideas reality, Karen Hill does that for me every day. Thanks Karen, for being more than an administrative assistant, you are a lifesaver. You put many good hours into this effort. Thanks so much.

And Denalyn, my wife, what can I say? The reason Solomon had seven hundred wives is because he was searching for someone like you.

One final word of gratitude before you turn the page. A word of thanks to you the reader. I consider you my friend. How can I do that, being that we have never met? Remember I mentioned that I have a couple of verses penned on the title page of my Bible? This is the second,

I am a friend to everyone who fears you, to anyone who obeys your orders (Psalm 119:63).

You must be a person who fears God, or you wouldn't be reading his Word. You must be a person who obeys his teachings, or you wouldn't be studying them. I applaud your hunger for the Bible. I commend your desire to know his Word.

You are my friend. And for you, my friend, I pray as you study his message.

How to Study the Bible

by Max Lucado

This is a peculiar book you are holding. Words crafted in another language. Deeds done in a distant era. Events recorded in a far-off land. Counsel offered to a foreign people. This is a peculiar book.

It's surprising that anyone reads it. It's too old. Some of its writings date back five thousand years. It's too bizarre. The book speaks of incredible foods, fires, earthquakes, and people with supernatural abilities. It's too radical. The Bible calls for undying devotion to a carpenter who called himself God's Son.

Logic says this book shouldn't survive. Too old, too bizarre, too radical.

The Bible has been banned, burned, scoffed, and ridiculed. Scholars have mocked it as foolish. Kings have branded it as illegal. A thousand times over it the grave has been dug and the dirge has begun, but somehow the Bible never stays in the grave. Not only has it survived, it has thrived. It is the single most popular book in all of history. It has been the best-selling book in the world for years!

There is no way on earth to explain it. Which perhaps is the only explanation. The answer? The Bible's durability is not found on earth; it is found in heaven. For the millions who have tested its claims and claimed its promises there is but one answer—the Bible is God's book and God's voice.

As you read it, you would be wise to give some thought to two questions. What is the purpose of the Bible? and How do I study the Bible? Time spent reflecting on these two issues will greatly enhance your Bible study.

What is the purpose of the Bible?

Let the Bible itself answer that question.

Since you were a child you have known the Holy Scriptures which are able to make you wise. And that wisdom leads to salvation through faith in Christ Jesus (2 Timothy 3:15).

The purpose of the Bible? Salvation. God's highest passion is to get his children home. His book, the Bible, describes his plan of salvation. The purpose of the Bible is to proclaim God's plan and passion to save his children.

That is the reason this book has endured through the centuries. It dares to tackle the toughest questions about life. Where do I go after I die? Is there a God? What do I do with my fears? The Bible offers answers to these crucial questions. It is the treasure map that leads us to God's highest treasure, eternal life.

But how do we use the Bible? Countless copies of Scripture sit unread on bookshelves and nightstands simply because people don't know how to read it. What can we do to make the Bible real in our lives?

The clearest answer is found in the words of Jesus.

"Ask," he promised, "and God will give it to you. Search, and you will find. Knock, and the door will open for you" (Matthew 7:7).

The first step in understanding the Bible is asking God to help us. We should read prayerfully. If anyone understands God's Word it is because of God and not the reader.

But the Helper will teach you everything and will cause you to remember all that I told you. The Helper is the Holy Spirit whom the Father will send in my name (John 14:26).

Before reading the Bible, pray. Invite God to speak to you. Don't go to Scripture looking for your idea, go searching for his.

Not only should we read the Bible prayerfully, we should read it carefully. Search, and you will find, is the pledge. The Bible is not a newspaper to be skimmed but rather a mine to be quarried. Search for it like silver, and hunt for it like hidden treasure. Then you will understand respect for the Lord, and you will find that you know God (Proverbs 2:4, 5).

Any worthy find requires effort. The Bible is no exception. To understand the Bible you don't have to be brilliant, but you must be willing to roll up your sleeves and search.

Be a worker who is not ashamed and who uses the true teaching in the right way (2 Timothy 2:15).

Here's a practical point. Study the Bible a bit at a time. Hunger is not satisfied by eating twenty-one meals in one sitting once a week. The body needs a steady diet to remain strong. So does the soul. When God sent food to his people in the wilderness, he didn't provide loaves already made. Instead, he sent manna in the shape of thin flakes, like frost ... on the desert ground (Exodus 16:14).

God gave manna in limited portions.

God sends spiritual food the same way. He opens the heavens with just enough nutrients for today's hunger. He provides, a command here, a command there. A rule here, a rule there. A little lesson here, a little lesson there (Isaiah 28:10).

Don't be discouraged if your reading reaps a small harvest. Some days a lesser portion is all that is needed. What is important is to search every day for that day's message. A steady diet of God's Word over a lifetime builds a healthy soul and mind.

A little girl returned from her first day at school. Her mom asked, "Did you learn anything?" "Apparently not enough," the girl responded. "I have to go back tomorrow and the next day and the next ..."

Such is the case with learning. And such is the case with Bible study. Understanding comes little by little over a lifetime.

There is a third step in understanding the Bible. After the asking and seeking comes the knocking. After you ask and search, then knock.

Knock, and the door will open for you (Matthew 7:7).

To knock is to stand at God's door. To make yourself available. To climb the steps, cross the porch, stand at the doorway, and volunteer. Knocking goes beyond the realm of thinking and into the realm of acting.

To knock is to ask, What can I do? How do I obey? Where can I go?

It's one thing to know what to do. It's another to do it. But for those who do it, those who choose to obey, a special reward awaits them.

The truly happy people are those who carefully study God's perfect law that makes people free, and they continue to study it. They do not forget what they heard, but they obey what God's teaching says. Those who do this will be made happy (James 1:25).

What a promise. Happiness comes to those who do what they read! It's the same with medicine. If you only read the label but ignore the pills, it won't help. It's the same with food. If you only read the recipe but never cook, you won't be fed. And it's the same with the Bible. If you only read the words but never obey, you'll never know the joy God has promised.

Ask. Search. Knock. Simple, isn't it? Why don't you give it a try? If you do, you'll see why you are holding the most remarkable book in history.

Abundant Life

A friend of the late American jurist Oliver Wendell Holmes asked him why he had taken up the study of Greek at the age of ninety-four. Holmes replied, “Well, my good sir, it’s now or never.” When J. C. Penney was ninety-five years old, he affirmed, “My eyesight may be getting weaker, but my vision is increasing.”

Growing old can be dangerous. The trail is treacherous and the pitfalls are many. One is wise to be prepared. You know it’s coming. It’s not like God kept the process a secret. It’s not like you are blazing a trail as you grow older. It’s not as if no one has ever done it before. Look around you. You have ample opportunity to prepare and ample case studies to consider. If growing old catches you by surprise, don’t blame God. He gave you plenty of warning. He also gave you plenty of advice.

“Those who try to hold on to their lives will give up true life. Those who give up their lives for me will hold on to true life” (Matthew 10:39).

“There are two ways to view life,” Jesus is saying, “those who protect it or those who pursue it. The wisest are not the ones with the most years in their lives, but the most life in their years.”

There is a rawness and a wonder to life. Pursue it. Hunt for it. Sell out to get it. Don't listen to the whines of those who have settled for a second-rate life and want you to do the same so they won't feel guilty. Your goal is not to live long; it's to live.

Time slips. Days pass. Years fade. And life ends. And what we came to do must be done while there is time.

We would think it bizarre for a traveler not to be prepared for the end of the journey. We would pity the poor passenger who never read his itinerary. We'd be bewildered by someone who thought the purpose of the trip was the trip.

Others, however, are anticipating the destination. I hope you are. And I hope you'll be ready when you get home. For you, age is no enemy. Age is a mile-marker—a gentle reminder that home has never been so near.

Adopted

Can you imagine prospective parents saying, “We’d like to adopt Johnny, but first we want to know a few things. Does he have a house to live in? Does he have money for tuition? Does he have a ride to school every morning and clothes to wear every day? Can he prepare his own meals and mend his own clothes?”

No agency would stand for such talk. Its representative would lift her hand and say, “Wait a minute. You don’t understand. You don’t adopt Johnny because of what he has; you adopt him because of what he needs. He needs a home.”

The same is true with God. He doesn’t adopt us because of what we have. He doesn’t give us his name because of our wit or wallet or good attitude ... adoption is something we receive, not something we earn.

We are welcome in God’s house because we have been adopted by the owner. God has adopted you. God sought you, found you, signed the papers, and took you home.

It would be enough if God just cleansed your name, but he does more. He gives you his name. It would be enough if God just set you free, but he does more. He takes you home... . God adopted you simply because he wanted to. You were in his good will and pleasure. Knowing full well the trouble you would be and the price he would pay, he signed his name next to yours and changed your name to his and took you home. Your Abba adopted you and became your father.

Almighty God

Your achievements, however noble they may be, are not important. Your credentials, as starry as they may be, are of no concern. God is the foundation of this house. The key question in life is not “How strong am I?” but rather “How strong is God?” Focus on his strength, not yours. Occupy yourself with the nature of God, not the size of your biceps.

That’s what Moses did. Or at least that’s what God told Moses to do. Remember the conversation at the burning bush? The tone was set in the first sentence. “Take off your sandals, because you are standing on holy ground” (Exodus 3:5). With these eleven words Moses is enrolled in a class on God. Immediately the roles are defined. God is holy. Approaching him on even a quarter-inch of leather is too pompous. And as we read further, we discover that no time is spent convincing Moses what Moses can do, but much time is spent explaining to Moses what God can do.

The strength of Moses is never considered. No pep talk is given, no pats on the back are offered. Not one word is spoken to recruit Moses. But many words are used to reveal God. The strength of Moses is not the issue; the strength of God is.

Anger of God

We have to see the mess we are in before we can appreciate the God we have. Before presenting the grace of God, we must understand the wrath of God.

Many don't understand God's anger because they confuse the wrath of God with the wrath of man. The two have little in common. Human anger is typically self-driven and prone to explosions of temper and violent deeds. We get ticked off because we've been overlooked, neglected, or cheated. This is the anger of man. It is not, however, the anger of God.

God doesn't get angry because he doesn't get his way. He gets angry because disobedience always results in self-destruction. What kind of father sits by and watches his child hurt himself?

What kind of God would do the same? Do we think he giggles at adultery or snickers at murder? Do you think he looks the other way when we produce television talk shows based on perverse pleasures? Does he shake his head and say, "Humans will be humans"?

I don't think so. Mark it down and underline it in red. God is rightfully angry. God is a holy God. Our sins are an affront to his holiness. His eyes "are too good to look at evil; [he] cannot stand to see those who do wrong" (Habakkuk 1:13).

God is angry at the evil that ruins his children.

The question is not, "How dare a loving God be angry?" but rather, "How could a loving God feel anything less?"

Approach the Throne

Christ meets you outside the throne room, takes you by the hand, and walks you into the presence of God. Upon entrance we find grace, not condemnation; mercy, not punishment. Where we would never be granted an audience with the king, we are now welcomed into his presence.

If you are a parent you understand this. If a child you don't know appears on your doorstep and asks to spend the night, what would you do? Likely you would ask him his name, where he lives, find out why he is roaming the streets, and contact his parents.

On the other hand, if a youngster enters your house escorted by your child, that child is welcome. The same is true with God. By becoming friends with the Son, we gain access to the Father.

Jesus promised, "All who stand before others and say they believe in me, I will say before my Father in heaven that they belong to me" (Matthew 10:32). Because we are friends of his Son, we have entrance to the throne room. He ushers us into that "blessing of God's grace that we now enjoy" (Romans 5:2).

Bitterness

Black and cold, bitterness denies easy escape. The sides are slippery with resentment. A floor of muddy anger stills the feet. The stench of betrayal fills the air and stings the eyes. A cloud of self-pity blocks the view of the tiny exit above.

Step in and look at the prisoners. Victims are chained to the walls. Victims of betrayal. Victims of abuse. Victims of the government, the system, the military, the world. They lift their chains as they lift their voices and wail. Loud and long they wail.

They grumble. They're angry at others who got what they didn't.

They sulk. The world is against them...

You can choose, like many, to chain yourself to your hurt.

Or you can choose, like some, to put away your hurts before they become hates. You can choose to go to the party. You have a place there. Your name is beside a plate. If you are a child of God, no one can take away your sonship.

Which is precisely what the father said to the older son. "Son, you are always with me, and all that I have is yours..."

And that is precisely what the Father says to you. How does God deal with your bitter heart? He reminds you that what you have is more important than what you don't have. You still have your relationship with God. No one can take that. No one can touch it.

Bride of Christ

Look long enough in the eyes of our Savior and, there you will see a bride. . . . He sees her, he awaits her, he longs for her.

And who is that bride? Who is this beauty who occupies the heart of Jesus?

You are. You have captured the heart of God. “As a man rejoices over his new wife, so your God will rejoice over you” (Isaiah 62:5).

The challenge is to remember that. To meditate on it. To focus on it. To allow his love to change the way you look at you.

You have been chosen by Christ. You are released from your old life in your old house, and he has claimed you as his beloved. “Then where is he?” you might ask. “Why hasn’t he come?”

There is only one answer. His bride is not ready. She is still being prepared.

Engaged people are obsessed with preparation. The right dress. The right weight. The right hair and the right tux. They want everything to be right. Why? So their intended will marry them? No. Just the opposite. They want to look their best because their intended is marrying them.

The same is true for us. We want to look our best for Christ. We want our hearts to be pure and our thoughts to be clean. We want our faces to shine with grace and our eyes to sparkle with love. We want to be prepared.

Why? In hopes that he will love us? No. Just the opposite, because he already does.

You are spoken for. You are engaged, set apart, called out, a holy bride. Forbidden waters hold nothing for you. You have been chosen for his castle. Don't settle for one-night stands in the arms of a stranger. Be obsessed with your wedding date. Guard against forgetfulness. Be intolerant of memory lapses. Write yourself notes. Memorize verses. Do whatever you need to do to remember. " Aim at what is in heaven. Think only about the things in heaven" (Colossians 3:1-2). You are engaged to royalty, and your Prince is coming to take you home.

Brokenness

There is a window in your heart through which you can see God. Once upon a time that window was clear. Your view of God was crisp. You could see God as vividly as you could see a gentle valley or hillside. The glass was clear, the pane unbroken.

Then, suddenly, the window cracked. A pebble broke the window. A pebble of pain.

Perhaps the stone struck when you were a child and a parent left home—forever. Maybe the rock hit in adolescence when your heart was broken. Maybe you made it into adulthood before the window was cracked. But then the pebble came.

Whatever the pebble's form, the result was the same—a shattered window. The pebble missed into the pane and shattered it. The crash echoed down the halls of your heart ... and suddenly God was not so easy to see. The view that had been so crisp had changed. You turned to see God, and his figure was distorted. It was hard to see him through the pain. It was hard to see him through the fragments of hurt.

You were puzzled. God wouldn't allow something like this to happen, would he? Tragedy and travesty weren't on the agenda of the One you had seen, were they? Had you been fooled? Had you been blind?

The moment the pebble struck, the glass became a reference point for you. From then on, there was life before the pain and life after the pain. Before your pain, the view was clear; God seemed so near. After your pain, well, he was harder to see. He seemed a bit distant ... harder to perceive. Your pain distorted the view— not eclipsed it, but distorted it.

Change

Where did we get the idea we can't change? From whence come statements such as, "It's just my nature to worry," or "I'll always be pessimistic. I'm just that way," or "I have a bad temper. I can't help the way I react"? Who says? Would we make similar statements about our bodies? "It's just my nature to have a broken leg. I can't do anything about it." Of course not. If our bodies malfunction, we seek help. Shouldn't we do the same with our hearts? Shouldn't we seek aid for our sour attitudes? Can't we request treatment for our selfish tirades? Of course we can. Jesus can change our hearts. He wants us to have a heart like his.

Can you imagine a better offer?

The heart of Jesus was pure....

Jesus' heart was peaceful....

His heart was purposeful....

His heart was spiritual....

God's plan for you is nothing short of a new heart. If you were a car, God would want control of your engine. If you were a computer, God would claim the software and the hard drive. If you were an airplane, he'd take his seat in the cockpit. But you are a person, so God wants to change your heart.

Choice

He placed one scoop of clay upon another until a form lay lifeless on the ground....

All were silent as the Creator reached in himself and removed something yet unseen. "It's called 'choice.' The seed of choice."

Creation stood in silence and gazed upon the lifeless form.

An angel spoke, "But what if he ..."

"What if he chooses not to love?" the Creator finished. "Come, I will show you."

Unbound by today, God and the angel walked into the realm of tomorrow....

The angel gasped at what he saw. Spontaneous love. Voluntary devotion. Never had he seen anything like these.... The angel stood speechless as they passed through centuries of repugnance. Never had he seen such filth. Rotten hearts. Ruptured promises. Forgotten loyalties ...

The Creator walked on in time, further and further into the future, until he stood by a tree. A tree that would be fashioned into a cradle. Even then he could smell the hay that would surround him....

"Wouldn't it be easier to not plant the seed? Wouldn't it be easier to not give the choice?"

"It would," the Creator spoke slowly. "But to remove the choice is to remove the love."

... They stepped into the Garden again. The Maker looked earnestly at the clay creation.

A monsoon of love swelled up within him. He had died for the creation before he had made him. God's form bent over the sculptured face and breathed. Dust stirred on the lips of the new one. The chest rose, cracking the red mud. The cheeks fleshened. A finger moved. And an eye opened.

But more incredible than the moving of the flesh was the stirring of the spirit. Those who could see the unseen gasped.

Perhaps it was the wind who said it first. Perhaps what the star saw that moment is what has made it blink ever since. Maybe it was left to an angel to whisper it:

“It looks like ... it appears so much like ... it is him!”

The angel wasn't speaking of the face, the features, or the body. He was looking inside at the soul.

“It's eternal!” gasped another.

Within the man, God had placed a divine seed. A seed of his self. The God of might had created earth's mightiest. The Creator had created, not a creature, but another creator. And the One who had chosen to love had created one who could love in return.

Now it's our choice.

Confession

Perhaps we didn't take money but we've taken advantage or taken control or taken leave of our senses and then, like the thief, we've taken off. Dashing down alleys of deceit. Hiding behind buildings of work to be done or deadlines to be met. Though we try to act normal, anyone who looks closely at us can see we are on the lam: Eyes darting and hands fidgeting, we chatter nervously committed to the coverup, we scheme and squirm, changing the topic and changing direction. We don't want anyone to know the truth, especially God.

Am I missing the mark when I say that many of us attend church on the run? Am I out of line when I say many of us spend life on the run?

Am I overstating the case when I announce, "Grace means you don't have to run anymore!" It's the truth. Grace means it's finally safe to turn ourselves in.

Confession does for the soul what preparing the land does for the field. Before the farmer sows the seed he works the acreage, removing the rocks and pulling the stumps. He knows that seed grows better if the land is prepared. Confession is the act of inviting God to walk the acreage of our hearts. "There is a rock of greed over here, Father; I can't budge it. And that tree of guilt near the fence? Its roots are long and deep. And may I show you some dry soil, too crusty for seed?" God's seed grows better if the soil of the heart is cleared.

And so the Father and the Son walk the field together; digging and pulling, preparing the heart for fruit. Confession invites the Father to work the soil of the soul.

Contentment

Satisfied? That is one thing we are not. We are not satisfied.

We push back from the Thanksgiving table and pat our round bellies. “I’m satisfied,” we declare. But look at us a few hours later, back in the kitchen picking the meat from the bone.

We wake up after a good night’s rest and hop out of bed. We couldn’t go back to sleep if someone paid us. We are satisfied—for a while. But look at us a dozen or so hours later, crawling back in the sheets.

We take a vacation of a lifetime. For years we planned. For years we saved. And off we go. We satiate ourselves with sun, fun, and good food. But we are not even on the way home before we dread the end of the trip and begin planning another.

We are not satisfied.

As a child we say, “If only I were a teenager.” As a teen we say, “If only I were an adult.” As an adult, “If only I were married.” As a spouse, “If only I had kids.” As a parent, “If only my kids were grown.” In an empty house, “If only the kids would visit.” As a retiree in the rocking chair with stiff joints and fading sight, “If only I were a child again.”

We are not satisfied. Contentment is a difficult virtue. Why?

Because there is nothing on earth that can satisfy our deepest longing. We long to see God. The leaves of life are rustling with the rumor that we will—and we won’t be satisfied until we do.

Details

What matters to you, matters to God.

You probably think that's true when it comes to the big stuff. When it comes to the major-league difficulties like death, disease, sin, and disaster—you know that God cares.

But what about the smaller things? What about grouchy bosses or flat tires or lost dogs? What about broken dishes, late flights, toothaches, or a crashed hard disk? Do these matter to God?

He's got a universe to run. He's got the planets to keep balanced and presidents and kings to watch over. He's got wars to worry with and famines to fix.

“Who am I to tell him about my ingrown toenail?”

I'm glad you asked. Let me tell you who you are. In fact, let me proclaim who you are.

You are an heir of God.

You are eternal.

You have a crown.

You are a holy priest.

You were chosen before the creation.

But more than any of the above—more significant than any title or position—is the simple fact that you are God's child. “The Father has loved us so much that we are called children of God. And we really are his children” (1 John 3:1).

I love that last phrase! “We really are his children.” It's as if John knew some of us would shake our heads and say, “Naw, not me. Mother Teresa, maybe. Billy Graham, all right. But not me.” If those are your feelings, John added that phrase for you.

As a result, if something is important to you, it's important to God.

So go ahead. Tell God what hurts. Talk to him. He won't turn you away. He won't think it's silly. "For our high priest is able to understand our weaknesses. When he lived on earth, he was tempted in every way that we are, but he did not sin. Let us, then, feel very sure that we can come before God's throne where there is grace" (Hebrews 4:15-16).

Does God care about the little things in our lives? You better believe it.

If it matters to you, it matters to him.

Disappointment

If God is good, why do I hurt so bad?

Though the circumstances have changed, the questions haven't. They are asked anytime the faithful suffer the consequences of the faithless. Anytime a person takes a step in the right direction, only to have her feet knocked out from under her, anytime a person does a good deed but suffers evil results, anytime a person takes a stand, only to end up flat on his face ... the questions fall like rain.

"If God is really there, why am I here?"

"What did I do to deserve this?"

"Why are the righteous persecuted?"

Does God sometimes sit on his hands? Does God sometimes choose to do nothing? Does God sometimes opt for silence even when I'm screaming my loudest?

If you've asked for a mate, but you are still sleeping alone ... if you've asked for a child, but your womb stays barren ... if you've asked for healing, but are still hurting ... don't think God isn't listening. He is. And he is answering requests you are not even making.

Extending God's Grace

God's judgment has never been a problem for me. In fact, it always seemed right. Lightning bolts on Sodom. Fire on Gomorrah. Good job, God. Egyptians swallowed in the Red Sea. They had it coming. Forty years of wandering to loosen the stiff necks of the Israelites? Would've done it myself. Ananias and Sapphira? You bet.

Discipline is easy for me to swallow. Logical to assimilate. Manageable and appropriate.

But God's grace? Anything but.

Examples? How much time do you have?

David the psalmist becomes David the voyeur, but by God's grace becomes David the psalmist again.

Peter denied Christ before he preached Christ.

Zacchaeus, the crook. The cleanest part of his life was the money he'd laundered. But Jesus still had time for him.

The thief on the cross: hellbent and hung-out-to-die one minute, heaven-bound and smiling the next.

Story after story. Prayer after prayer. Surprise after surprise.

If God can tolerate my mistakes, can't I tolerate the mistakes of others? If God can overlook my errors, can't I overlook the errors of others? If God allows me with my foibles and failures to call him Father, shouldn't I extend the same grace to others?

Family

It's like a crammed and jammed elevator. People thrust together by chance on a short journey, saying as little as possible. The only difference is you'll eventually get off the elevator and never see these folks again—not so with the difficult relative. Family reunions, Christmas, Thanksgiving, weddings, funerals—they'll be there.

Does Jesus have anything to say about dealing with difficult relatives? Is there an example of Jesus bringing peace to a painful family? Yes, there is.

It may surprise you to know that Jesus had a difficult family. It may surprise you to know that Jesus had a family at all! You may not be aware that Jesus had brothers and sisters. He did. Quoting Jesus' hometown critics, Mark wrote, "[Jesus] is just the carpenter, the son of Mary and the brother of James, Joseph, Judas, and Simon. And his sisters are here with us" (Mark 6:3).

And it may surprise you to know that his family was less than perfect. They were. If your family doesn't appreciate you, take heart, neither did Jesus'.

It's worth noting that he didn't try to control his family's behavior, nor did he let their behavior control his. He didn't demand that they agree with him. He didn't sulk when they insulted him. He didn't make it his mission to try to please them.

When Jesus' brothers didn't share his convictions, he didn't try to force them. He recognized that his spiritual family could provide what his physical family didn't. If Jesus himself couldn't force his family to share his convictions, what makes you think you can force yours?

I can't assure you that your family will ever give you the blessing you seek, but I know God will. Let God give you what your family doesn't. If your earthly father doesn't affirm you, then let your heavenly Father take his place.

Fear

Faith is often the child of fear.

Fear propelled Peter out of the boat. He'd ridden these waves before. He knew what these storms could do. He'd heard the stories. He'd seen the wreckage. He knew the widows. He knew the storm could kill. And he wanted out...

Look into his eyes tonight and see fear—a suffocating, heart-racing fear of a man who has no way out.

But out of this fear would be born an act of faith, for faith is often the child of fear.

If Peter had seen Jesus walking on the water during a calm, peaceful day, do you think that he would have walked out to him?

Nor do I.

Had the lake been carpet smooth and the journey pleasant, do you think that Peter would have begged Jesus to take him on a stroll across the top of the water? Doubtful.

But give a man a choice between sure death and a crazy chance, and he'll take the chance ... every time.

Great acts of faith are seldom born out of calm calculation.

It wasn't logic that caused Moses to raise his staff on the bank of the Red Sea.

It wasn't medical research that convinced Naaman to dip seven times in the river.

It wasn't common sense that caused Paul to abandon the Law and embrace grace.

And it wasn't a confident committee that prayed in a small room in Jerusalem for Peter's release from prison. It was a fearful, desperate, band of backed-into-a-corner believers. It was a church with no options. A congregation of have-nots pleading for help.

And never were they stronger.

At the beginning of every act of faith, there is often a seed of fear.

Fruit of the Spirit

For the next twelve hours I will be exposed to the day's demands. It is now that I must make a choice. Because of Calvary, I'm free to choose. And so I choose.

I choose love

No occasion justifies hatred; no injustice warrants bitterness.

I choose love. Today I will love God and what God loves.

I choose joy

I will invite my God to be the God of circumstance.

I choose peace

I will live forgiven. I will forgive so that I may live.

I choose patience

I will overlook the inconveniences of the world. Instead of cursing the one who takes my place, I'll invite him to do so.

I choose kindness

I will be kind to the poor, for they are alone. Kind to the rich, for they are afraid. And kind to the unkind, for such is how God has treated me.

I choose goodness

I will go without a dollar before I take a dishonest one.

I choose faithfulness

Today I will keep my promises.

I choose gentleness

Nothing is won by force. I choose to be gentle.

I choose self-control

I refuse to let what will rot, rule the eternal.

I will be drunk only by joy.

Love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control. To these I commit my day. If I succeed, I will give thanks. If I fail, I will seek his grace. And then, when this day is done, I will place my head on my pillow and rest.

God Listens

You and I live in a loud world. To get someone's attention is no easy task. He must be willing to set everything aside to listen; turn down the radio, turn away from the monitor, turn the corner of the page and set down the book. When someone is willing to silence everything else so he can hear us clearly, it is a privilege. A rare privilege, indeed.

You can talk to God because God listens. Your voice matters in heaven. He takes you very seriously. When you enter his presence, the attendants turn to you to hear your voice. No need to fear that you will be ignored. Even if you stammer or stumble, even if what you have to say impresses no one, it impresses God, and he listens. He listens to the painful plea of the elderly in the rest home. He listens to the gruff confession of the death-row inmate. When the alcoholic begs for mercy, when the spouse seeks guidance, when the businessman steps off the street into the chapel, God listens.

Intently. Carefully. The prayers are honored as precious jewels ... your words do not stop until they reach the very throne of God.

Your prayers move God to change the world. You may not understand the mystery of prayer. You don't need to. But this much is clear: Actions in heaven begin when someone prays on earth. What an amazing thought!

God's Presence

Their question—What hope do we have of surviving a stormy night?

My question—Where is God when his world is stormy?

Doubtstorms: turbulent days when the enemy is too big, the task too great, the future too bleak, and the answers too few.

Every so often a storm will come and I'll look up into the blackening sky and say, "God, a little light, please?"

The light came for the disciples. A figure came to them walking on the water. It wasn't what they expected. Perhaps they were looking for angels to descend or heaven to open. Maybe they were listening for a divine proclamation to still the storm. We don't know what they were looking for. But one thing is for sure, they weren't looking for Jesus to come walking on the water ... and since Jesus came in a way they didn't expect, they almost missed seeing the answer to their prayers.

And unless we look, and listen closely, we risk making the same mistake. God's lights in our dark nights are as numerous as the stars, if only we'll look for them.

"When Jesus comes," the disciples in the boat may have thought, "he'll split the sky. The sea will be calm. The clouds will disperse."

"When God comes," we doubters think, "all pain will flee. Life will be tranquil. No questions will remain."

And because we look for the bonfire, we miss the candle. Because we listen for the shout, we miss the whisper.

But it is in burnished candles that God comes, and through whispered promises he speaks: "When you doubt, look around; I am closer than you think.”

God's Workmanship

If we don't acknowledge God, we are flotsam in the universe. At best we are developed animals. At worst we are rearranged space dust.

With God in your world, you aren't an accident or an incident; you are a gift to the world, a divine work of art, signed by God.

One of the finest gifts I ever received is a football signed by thirty former professional quarterbacks. There is nothing unique about this ball. For all I know it was bought at a discount sports store. What makes it unique is the signatures.

The same is true with us. In the scheme of nature Homo sapiens are not unique. We aren't the only creatures with flesh and hair and blood and hearts. What makes us special is not our bodies but the signature of God on our lives. We are his works of art. We are created in his image to do good deeds. We are significant, not because of what we do, but because of whose we are.

Who has more reason to worship than the astronomer who has seen the stars? Than the surgeon who has held a heart? Than the oceanographer who has pondered the depths? The more we know, the more we should be amazed.

Good Enough?

One would think that the Creator would not be easily impressed. But something about this woman brought a sparkle to his eyes and, most likely, a smile to his face.

The woman is desperate. Her daughter is demon-possessed.

The Canaanite woman has no right to ask anything of Jesus. She is not a Jew. She is not a disciple. She offers no money ... But that doesn't slow her down. She persists in her plea.

“Have mercy on me!”

Matthew notes that Jesus says nothing at first. Nothing. He doesn't open his mouth. Why?

I think that he was admiring her. I think that it did his heart good to see some spunky faith for a change. I think that it refreshed him to see someone asking him to do the very thing he came to do—give great gifts to unworthy children.

How strange that we don't allow him to do it more often for us.

Perhaps the most amazing response to God's gift is our reluctance to accept it. We want it. But on our terms. For some odd reason, we feel better if we earn it. So we create religious hoops and hop through them—making God a trainer, us his pets, and religion a circus.

The Canaanite woman knew better. She had no resume. She claimed no heritage. She had no earned degrees. She knew only two things: Her daughter was weak and Jesus was strong.

We prefer to get salvation the old-fashioned way: We earn it. To accept grace is to admit failure, a step we are hesitant to take. We opt to impress God with how good we are rather than confessing how great he is. We dizzy ourselves with doctrine. Burden ourselves with rules. Think that God will smile on our efforts.

He doesn't.

God's smile is not for the healthy hiker who boasts that he made the journey alone. It is instead, for the crippled leper who begs God for a back on which to ride.

Grief

We don't like to say goodbye to those we love.

But we have to. Try as we might to avoid it, as reluctant as we are to discuss it, death is a very real part of life. Each one of us must release the hand of one we love into the hand of one we have not seen.

Scripture is surprisingly quiet about this phase of our lives. When speaking about the period between the death of the body and the resurrection of the body, the Bible doesn't shout; it just whispers. But at the confluence of these whispers, a firm voice is heard. This authoritative voice assures us that, at death, the Christian immediately enters into the presence of God and enjoys conscious fellowship with the Father and with those who have gone before.

Where do I get such ideas?

"I want to leave this life and be with Christ, which is much better" (Philippians 1:23).

The language here suggests an immediate departure of the soul after death.

Isn't this the promise that Jesus gave the thief on the cross? "I tell you the truth, today you will be with me in paradise" (Luke 23:43).

If you'll celebrate a marriage anniversary alone this year, he speaks to you. If your child made it to heaven before making it to kindergarten, he speaks to you. If you lost a loved one in violence, if you learned more than you want to know about disease, if your dreams were buried as they lowered the casket, God speaks to you. He speaks to all of us who have stood or will stand in the soft dirt near an open grave. God transforms our hopeless grief into hope-filled grief. How? By telling us that we will see our loved ones again.

Grudges

“Grudge” is one of those words that defines itself. Its very sound betrays its meaning.

Say it slowly: “Grr-uuud-ge.”

It starts with a growl. “Grr ...” Like a bear with bad breath coming out of hibernation or a mangy mongrel defending his bone in an alley. “Grr ...”

Being near a resentful person and petting a growling dog are equally enjoyable.

Don’t you just love being next to people who are nursing a grudge? Isn’t it a delight to listen to them sing their songs of woe? They are so optimistic! They are so full of hope. They are bubbling with life.

You know better. You know as well as I that if they are bubbling with anything, it is anger. And if they are full of anything, it is poisonous barbs of condemnation for all the people who have hurt them. Grudge bearers and angry animals are a lot alike. Both are irritable. Both are explosive. Both can be rabid. Someone needs to make a sign that can be worn around the neck of the resentful: “Beware of the Grrrrrudge Bearer.”

Add an “M” to the second part of the word, and you see what grudge bearers throw. Mud. It’s not enough to accuse; the other person’s character must be attacked. It’s insufficient to point a finger; a rifle must be aimed. Slander is slung. Names are called. Circles are drawn. Walls are built. And enemies are made....

Is this the way you are coping with your hurts?

Guilt

Canyons of shame run deep. Gorges of never-ending guilt. Walls ribboned with the greens and grays of death. Unending echoes of screams. Put your hands over your ears. Splash water on your face. Stop looking over your shoulder. Try as you might to outrun yesterday's tragedies—their tentacles are longer than your hope.

Sometimes your shame is private. Pushed over the edge by an abusive spouse. Seduced by a compromising superior. No one else knows. But you know. And that's enough.

Sometimes it's public. Branded by a divorce you didn't want. Contaminated by a disease you never expected. Marked by a handicap you didn't create. And whether it's actually in their eyes or just in your imagination, you have to deal with it—you are marked: a divorcee, an invalid, an orphan, an AIDS patient.

Whether private or public, shame is always painful. And unless you deal with it, it is permanent. Unless you get help—the dawn will never come.

Take him with you to your canyon of shame. Invite Christ to journey with you. Let him stand beside you as you retell the events of the darkest nights of your soul.

And then listen. Listen carefully. He's speaking.

And watch. Watch carefully. He's writing. He's leaving a message. Not in the sand, but on a cross.

Not with his hand, but with his blood.

His message has two words: Not guilty.

Habits

I like the story of the little boy who fell out of bed. When his Mom asked him what happened, he answered, “I don’t know. I guess I stayed too close to where I got in.” Easy to do the same with our faith. It’s tempting just to stay where we got in and never move.

Growth is the goal of the Christian. Maturity is mandatory. If a child ceased to develop, the parent would be concerned, right? Doctors would be called. Tests would be run. When a child stops growing, something is wrong.

When a Christian stops growing, help is needed. If you are the same Christian you were a few months ago, be careful. You might be wise to get a checkup. Not on your body, but on your heart. Not a physical, but a spiritual.

May I suggest one?

First, the habit of prayer: “Base your happiness on your hope in Christ. When trials come endure them patiently; steadfastly maintain the habit of prayer” (Romans 12:12, PHILLIPS).

Second, the habit of study: “The man who looks into the perfect law and makes a habit of so doing, is not the man who sees and forgets. He puts that law into practice and he wins true happiness” (James 1:25, PHILLIPS).

Third, the habit of giving: “Every Sunday each of you should put aside something from what you have earned during the week, and use it for this offering. The amount depends on how much the Lord has helped you earn” (1 Corinthians 16:2, TLB).

And last of all, the habit of fellowship: “Let us not give up the habit of meeting together, as some are doing. Instead let us encourage one another” (Hebrews 10:25, TEV).

There they are ... habits worth having. Isn't it good to know that some habits are good for you? Make them a part of your day and grow. Don't make the mistake of the little boy. Don't stay too close to where you got in. It's risky resting on the edge.

Healing

A chronic menstrual disorder. A perpetual issue of blood. Such a condition would be difficult for any woman of any era. But for a Jewess, nothing could be worse. No part of her life was left unaffected.

Sexually ... she could not touch her husband.

Maternally ... she could not bear children. Domestically ... anything she touched was considered unclean. No washing dishes. No sweeping floors.

Spiritually ... she was not allowed to enter the temple.

She was physically exhausted and socially ostracized.

She had sought help “under the care of many doctors.”...

She was a bruised reed. She awoke daily in a body that no one wanted. She is down to her last prayer. And on the day we encounter her, she’s about to pray it.

By the time she gets to Jesus, he is surrounded by people. He’s on his way to help the daughter of Jairus, the most important man in the community. What are the odds that he will interrupt an urgent mission with a high official to help the likes of her?

Very few. But what are the odds that she will survive if she doesn’t take a chance? Fewer still. So she takes a chance.

“If I can just touch his clothes,” she thinks, “I will be healed.”

Risky decision. To touch him, she will have to touch the people. If one of them recognizes her ... But what choice does she have? She has no money, no clout, no friends, no solutions. All she has is a crazy hunch that Jesus can help and a high hope that he will...

There was no guarantee, of course. She hoped he’d respond ... she longed for it ... but she didn't know if he would. All she knew was that he was good. That's faith.

Faith is not the belief that God will do what you want. Faith is the belief that God will do what is right.

“Blessed are the dirt-poor, nothing-to-give, trapped-in-comer, destitute, diseased,” Jesus said, “for theirs is the kingdom of heaven” (Matthew 5:6, my translation).

God's economy is upside down (or rightside up and ours is upside down!). God says that the more hopeless your circumstance, the more likely your salvation. The greater your cares, the more genuine your prayers. The darker the room, the greater the need for light.

A healthy lady never would have appreciated the power of a touch of the hem of his robe. But this woman was sick ... and when her dilemma met his dedication, a miracle occurred.

Her part in the healing was very small. All she did was extend her arm through the crowd.

“If only I can touch him.”...

Healing begins when we do something. Healing begins when we reach out. Healing starts when we take a step.

Heaven (1)

The most hopeful words of that passage from Revelation are those of God's resolve: "I am making everything new!"

It's hard to see things grow old. The town in which I grew up is growing old. I was there recently. Some of the buildings are boarded up. Some of the houses are torn down. Some of my teachers are retired; some are buried. The old movie house where I took my dates has "For Sale" on the marquee, long since outdated by the newer theaters that give you eight choices. The only visitors to the drive-in theater are tumbleweeds and rodents. Memories of first dates and senior proms are weather-worn by the endless rain of years. High school sweethearts are divorced. A cheerleader died of an aneurysm. Our fastest halfback is buried only a few plots from my own father.

I wish I could make it all new again. I wish I could blow the dust off the streets. I wish I could walk through the familiar neighborhood, and wave at the familiar faces, and pet the familiar dogs, and hit one more home run in the Little League park. I wish I could walk down Main Street and call out to the merchants that have retired and open the doors that have been boarded up. I wish I could make everything new ... but I can't...

I can't. But God can. "He restores my soul," wrote the shepherd. He doesn't reform; he restores. He doesn't camouflage the old; he restores the new. The Master Builder will pull out the original plan and restore it. He will restore the vigor. He will restore the energy. He will restore the hope. He will restore the soul.

When you see how this world grows stooped and weary and then read of a home where everything is made new, tell me, doesn't that make you want to go home?

What would you give in exchange for a home like that? Would you really rather have a few possessions on earth than eternal possessions in heaven? Would you really choose a life of slavery to passion over a life of freedom? Would you honestly give up all of your heavenly mansions for a second-rate sleazy motel on earth?

"Great," Jesus said, "is your reward in heaven." He must have smiled when he said that line. His eyes must have danced, and his hand must have pointed skyward.

For he should know. It was his idea. It was his home.

Heaven (2)

The only ultimate disaster that can befall us, I have come to realize, is to feel ourselves to be home on earth. As long as we are aliens, we cannot forget our true homeland.

Unhappiness on earth cultivates a hunger for heaven. By gracing us with a deep dissatisfaction, God holds our attention. The only tragedy, then, is to be satisfied prematurely. To settle for earth. To be content in a strange land. . . .

We are not happy here because we are not at home here. We are not happy here because we are not supposed to be happy here. We are “like foreigners and strangers in this world” (1 Peter 2:11).

Take a fish and place him on the beach. Watch his gills gasp and scales dry. Is he happy? No! How do you make him happy? Do you cover him with a mountain of cash? Do you get a beach chair and sunglasses? Do you bring him a Playfish magazine and martini? Do you wardrobe him in double-breasted fins and peopleskinned shoes?

Of course not. Then how do you make him happy? You put him back in his element. You put him back in the water. He will never be happy on the beach simply because he was not made for the beach. And you will never be completely happy on earth simply because you were not made for earth. Oh, you will have moments of joy. You will catch glimpses of light. You will know moments or even days of peace. But they simply do not compare with the happiness that lies ahead.

Impossibilities

Consider the case of Sarai. She is in her golden years, but God promises her a son. She gets excited. She visits the maternity shop and buys a few dresses. She plans her shower and remodels her tent ... but no son. She eats a few birthday cakes and blows out a lot of candles ... still no son. She goes through a decade of wall calendars ... still no son....

Finally, fourteen years later, when Abram is pushing a century of years and Sarai ninety ... when Abram has stopped listening to Sarai's advice, and Sarai has stopped giving it ... when the wallpaper in the nursery is faded and the baby furniture is several seasons out of date ... when the topic of the promised child brings sighs and tears and long looks into a silent sky ... God pays them a visit and tells them they had better select a name for their new son.

Abram and Sarai have the same response: laughter. They laugh partly because it is too good to happen and partly because it might. They laugh because they have given up hope, and hope born anew is always funny before it is real....

They laugh because that is what you do when someone says he can do the impossible. They laugh a little at God, and a lot with God—for God is laughing, too. Then, with the smile still on his face, he gets busy doing what he does best—the unbelievable....

He changes their faith. He changes the number of their tax deductions. He changes the way they define the word “impossible.” But most of all, he changes Sarah's attitude about trusting God.

Jesus' Compassion

Interestingly, the stress seen that day is not on Jesus' face, but on the faces of the disciples.

"Send the crowds away," they demand. Fair request. "After all," they are saying, "You've taught them. You've healed them.

You've accommodated them. And now they're getting hungry. If we don't send them away, they'll want you to feed them, too!"

I wish I could have seen the expression on the disciples' faces when they heard the Master's response...

"You give them something to eat." ...

Rather than look to God, they looked in their wallets. "That would take eight months of a man's wages! Are we to go and spend that much on bread and give it to them to eat?"

"Y-y-y-you've got to be kidding."

"He can't be serious."

"It's one of Jesus' jokes."

"Do you know how many people are out there?"

Eyes watermelon wide. Jaws dangling open. One ear hearing the din of the crowd, the other the command of God.

Don't miss the contrasting views. When Jesus saw the people, he saw an opportunity to love and affirm value. When the disciples saw the people they saw thousands of problems.

Also, don't miss the irony. In the midst of a bakery—in the presence of the Eternal Baker—they tell the "Bread of Life" that there is no bread.

How silly we must appear to God.

Here's where Jesus should have given up. This is the point in the pressure-packed day where Jesus should have exploded.

The sorrow, the life threats, the exuberance, the crowds, the interruptions, the demands, and now this. His own disciples can't do what he asks them. In front of five thousand men, they let him down.

“Beam me up, Father,” should have been Jesus' next words. But they weren't. Instead he inquires, “How many loaves do you have?”

The disciples bring him a little boy's lunch.

A lunch pail becomes a banquet, and all are fed. No word of reprimand is given. No furrowed brow of anger is seen. No “Itold-you-so” speech is delivered. The same compassion Jesus extends to the crowd is extended to his friends.

Jesus Prayed

“He went up on a mountainside by Himself to pray.”

Jesus faced an impossible task. More than five thousand people were ready to fight a battle he had not come to fight. How could he show them that he didn't come to be a king, but to be a sacrifice? How could he take their eyes off an earthly kingdom so that they would see the spiritual one? How could they see the eternal when they only had eyes for the temporal?

What Jesus dreamed of doing and what he seemed about to do were separated by an impossible gulf. So Jesus prayed.

He prayed for the impossible to happen.

Maybe he didn't ask for anything. Maybe he just stood quietly in the presence of the Presence and basked in the majesty.

Maybe he lifted his head out of the confusion of earth long enough to hear the solution of heaven. Perhaps he was reminded that hard hearts don't faze the Father. That problem people don't perturb the Eternal One.

We don't know what he did or what he said. But we do know the result. The hill became a steppingstone; the storm became a path, and the disciples saw Jesus as they had never seen him before.

During the storm, Jesus prayed. The sky darkened. The winds howled. Yet he prayed. The people grumbled. The disciples doubted. Yet he prayed. When forced to choose between the muscles of men and the mountain of prayer, he prayed.

There are crevasses in your life that you cannot cross alone. There are hearts in your world that you cannot change without help. There are mountains that you cannot climb until you climb his mountain.

Climb it. You will be amazed.

Money

If money is the gauge of the heart, then this study revealed that money is on the heart of most Americans. In exchange for ten million dollars:

25 percent would abandon their family.

25 percent would abandon their church.

23 percent would become a prostitute for a week.

16 percent would give up their American citizenship.

13 percent would put their children up for adoption.

Even more revealing than what Americans would do for ten million dollars is that most would do something. Two-thirds of those polled would agree to at least one—some to several—of the options.

Jesus had a word for that: greed.

Jesus also had a definition for greed. He called it the practice of measuring life by possessions.

Greed equates a person's worth with a person's purse.

You got a lot = you are a lot.

You got a little = you are little.

The consequence of such a philosophy is predictable. If you are the sum of what you own, then by all means own it all. No price is too high. No payment is too much.

Greed is relative. Greed is not defined by what something costs; it is measured by what it costs you. If anything costs you your faith or your family, the price is too high.

New Creation

Matthew 5 describes God's radical reconstruction of the heart.

Observe the sequence. First, we recognize we are in need (we're poor in spirit). Next, we repent of our self-sufficiency (we're sad). We quit calling the shots and surrender control to God (we're humble). So grateful are we for his presence that we yearn for more of him (we want to do the right thing more than anything else). As we grow closer to him, we become more like him. We forgive others (we're merciful). We change our outlook (we're pure in our thinking). We love others (we're peacemakers). We endure injustice (we're treated badly for doing good).

It's no casual shift of attitude. It is a demolition of the old structure and a creation of the new. The more radical the change, the greater the joy. And it's worth every effort, for this is the joy of God.

And though your heart isn't perfect, it isn't rotten. And though you aren't invincible, at least you're plugged in. And you can bet that he who made you knows just how to purify you— from the inside out.

Old Wounds

Do you have a hole in your heart?

Perhaps the wound is old ... and you're angry. Or perhaps the wound is fresh ... and you're hurt.

Part of you is broken, and the other part is bitter. Part of you wants to cry, and part of you wants to fight. The tears you cry are hot because they come from your heart, and there is a fire burning in your heart. It's the fire of anger. It's blazing. It's consuming. Its flames leap up under a steaming pot of revenge.

And you are left with a decision: "Do I put the fire out or heat it up? Do I get over it or get even? Do I release it or resent it? Do I let my hurts heal, or do I let hurt turn into hate?"

Are you allowing your hurts to turn into hates? If so, ask yourself: Is it working? Has your hatred done you any good? Has your resentment brought you any relief, any peace? Has it granted you any joy?

Allow the hole in your heart to heal.

Peace

Want to see a miracle? Try this.

Take a seed the size of a freckle. Put it under several inches of dirt. Give it enough water, light, and fertilizer. And get ready. A mountain will be moved. It doesn't matter that the ground is a zillion times the weight of the seed. The seed will push it back.

Every spring, dreamers around the world plant tiny hopes in overturned soil. And every spring, their hopes press against impossible odds and blossom.

Never underestimate the power of a seed.

As far as I know, James, the epistle writer, wasn't a farmer, but he knew the power of a seed sown in fertile soil.

The principle for peace is the same as the principle for crops: Never underestimate the power of a seed.

How good are you at sowing seeds of peace?

Pause for a moment and think about the people who make up your world. Take a stroll through the gallery of faces that are significant to you.

Want to see a miracle? Plant a word of love heartdeep in a person's life. Nurture it with a smile and a prayer, and watch what happens ... Never underestimate the power of a seed.

Power

The pole of power is greasy.

The Roman emperor Charlemagne knew that. An interesting story surrounds the burial of this famous king. Legend has it that he asked to be entombed sitting upright in his throne. He asked that his crown be placed on his head and his scepter in his hand. He requested that the royal cape be draped around his shoulders and an open book be placed in his lap.

That was A. D. 814. Nearly two hundred years later, Emperor Othello determined to see if the burial request had been carried out. He allegedly sent a team of men to open the tomb and make a report. They found the body just as Charlemagne had requested. Only now, nearly two centuries later, the scene was gruesome. The crown was tilted, the mantle moth-eaten, the body disfigured. But open on the skeletal thighs was the book Charlemagne had requested—the Bible. One bony finger pointed to Matthew 16:26, “What good will it be for a man if he gains the whole world, yet forfeits his soul?”

Righteousness

Some would rather die than admit it. Others admit it and escape death.

“God, I need help.”

So the thirsty come. A ragged lot we are, bound together by broken dreams and collapsed promises. Fortunes that were never made. Families that were never built. Promises that were never kept. Wide-eyed children trapped in the basement of our own failures.

And we are very thirsty.

Not thirsty for fame, possessions, passion, or romance. We’ve drunk from those pools. They are salt water in the desert. They don’t quench—they kill.

Righteousness. That’s it. That’s what we are thirsty for. We’re thirsty for a clean conscience. We crave a clean slate. We yearn for a fresh start. We pray for a hand that will enter the dark cavern of our world and do for us the one thing we can’t do for ourselves—make us right again.

We usually get what we hunger and thirst for. The problem is, the treasures of earth don’t satisfy. The promise is, the treasures of heaven do.

Rivalry

Sweet milk turns sour from being too warm too long.

Sweet dispositions turn sour for the same reason. Let aggravation stew without a period of cooling down, and the result? A bad, bitter, clabberish attitude.

It's the story of Martha. A dear soul given to hospitality and organization. More frugal than frivolous, more practical than pensive. Ask her to choose between a book and a broom, and she'll take the broom.

Mary, however, will take the book. Mary is Martha's sister. Same parents, different priorities. Martha has things to do. Mary has thoughts to think.

Apparently Martha worried too much, too. So much so that she started bossing God around. Worry will do that to you. It makes you forget who's in charge.

What makes this case interesting, however, is that Martha is worried about something good. She's having Jesus over for dinner. She's literally serving God. Her aim was to please Jesus. But, as she began to work for him her work became more important than her Lord. What began as a way to serve Jesus, slowly and subtly became a way to serve self.

One look at the flour-covered scowl will tell you that. "That Mary. Here I am alone in the kitchen while she's out there."

Oh boy. She's miffed. Look at her glaring over her shoulder through the doorway. That's Mary she's staring at. The one seated on the floor, listening to Jesus. "Lord, don't you care that my sister has left me alone to do all the work? Tell her to help me" (Luke 10:40).

It's easy to forget who is the servant and who is to be served.

Satan knows that. This tool of distortion is one of Satan's slyest. Note: He didn't take Martha out of the kitchen; he took away her purpose in the kitchen. He won't take you away from your ministry; he'll disillusion you in your ministry.

Guard your attitude.

What matters more than the type of service is the heart behind the service. A bad attitude spoils the gift we leave on the altar for God.

God has gifted you with talents. He has done the same to your neighbor. If you concern yourself with your neighbor's talents, you will neglect yours. But if you concern yourself with yours, you could inspire both.

Salvation

Before he encountered Christ, Paul had been somewhat of a hero among the Pharisees....

Blueblooded and wild-eyed, this young zealot was hellbent on keeping the kingdom pure—and that meant keeping the Christians out. He marched through the countryside like a general demanding that backslidden Jews salute the flag of the motherland or kiss their family and hopes goodbye.

All this came to a halt, however, on the shoulder of a highway... . That's when someone slammed on the stadium lights, and he heard the voice.

When he found out whose voice it was, his jaw hit the ground, and his body followed. He braced himself for the worst. He knew it was all over... . He prayed that death would be quick and painless.

But all he got was silence and the first of a lifetime of surprises.

He ended up bewildered and befuddled in a borrowed bedroom. God left him there a few days with scales on his eyes so thick that the only direction he could look was inside himself. And he didn't like what he saw.

He saw himself for what he really was—to use his own words, the worst of sinners.

... Alone in the room with his sins on his conscience and blood on his hands, he asked to be cleansed.

... The legalist Saul was buried, and the liberator Paul was born. He was never the same afterwards. And neither was the world....

The message is gripping: Show a man his failures without Jesus, and the result will be found in the roadside gutter. Give a man religion without reminding him of his filth, and the result will be arrogance in a three-piece suit. But get the two in the same heart—get sin to meet Savior and Savior to meet sin—and the result just might be another Pharisee turned preacher who sets the world on fire.

Second Chances

The most difficult journey is back to the place where you failed.

Peter is in the boat, on the lake. Once again he's fished all night. Once again the sea has surrendered nothing.

His thoughts are interrupted by a shout from the shore. "Catch any fish?" Peter and John look up. Probably a villager. "No!" they yell. "Try the other side!" So out sails the net. Peter wraps the rope around his wrist to wait.

But there is no wait. The rope pulls taut and the net catches. Peter begins to bring in the net; reaching down, pulling up, reaching down, pulling up. He's so intense with the task, he misses the message.

John doesn't. "It's the Lord, Peter. It's the Lord!"

Peter plunges into the water, swims to the shore, and stumbles out wet and shivering and stands in front of the friend he betrayed. Jesus has prepared a bed of coals. Both are aware of the last time Peter had stood near a fire. Peter had failed God, but God had come to him.

For one of the few times in his life, Peter is silent. What words would suffice? The moment is too holy for words. God is offering breakfast to the friend who betrayed him. And Peter is once again finding grace at Galilee.

Now, it's just you and God. You and God both know what you did. And neither one of you is proud of it. What do you do?

You might consider doing what Peter did. Stand in God's presence. Stand in his sight. Stand still and wait. Sometimes that's all a soul can do. Too repentant to speak, but too hopeful to leave—we just stand.

Stand amazed.

He has come back.

He invites you to try again. This time, with him.

The Church

When those who are called to fish don't fish, they fight.

When energy intended to be used outside is used inside, the result is explosive. Instead of casting nets, we cast stones. Instead of extending helping hands, we point accusing fingers. Instead of being fishers of the lost, we become critics of the saved. Rather than helping the hurting, we hurt the helpers.

The result? Church Scrooges. "Bah humbug" spirituality. Beady eyes searching for warts on others while ignoring the wart on the nose below. Crooked fingers that bypass strengths and point out weaknesses.

Split churches. Poor testimonies. Broken hearts. Legalistic wars.

And, sadly, poor go unfed, confused go uncounseled, and lost go unreached.

When those who are called to fish don't fish, they fight.

But note the other side of this fish tale: When those who are called to fish, fish—they flourish!

Nothing handles a case of gripes like an afternoon service project. Nothing restores perspective better than a visit to a hospital ward. Nothing unites soldiers better than a common task.

Leave soldiers inside the barracks with no time on the front line and see what happens to their attitude. The soldiers will invent things to complain about. Bunks will be too hard. Food will be too cold. Leadership will be too tough. The company will be too stale. Yet place those same soldiers in the trench and let them duck a few bullets, and what was a boring barracks will seem like a haven. The beds will feel great. The food will be almost ideal. The leadership will be courageous.

The company will be exciting.

When those who are called to fish, fish—they flourish.

Tithing

You don't give for God's sake. You give for your sake. "The purpose of tithing is to teach you to always put God first in your lives" (Deuteronomy 14:23, TLB). How does tithing teach you? Consider the simple act of writing a check for the offering. First you enter the date. Already you are reminded that you are a timebound creature and every possession you have will rust or burn. Best to give it while you can.

Then you enter the name of the one to whom you are giving the money. If the bank would cash it, you'd write God. But they won't, so you write the name of the church or group that has earned your trust.

Next comes the amount. Ahh, the moment of truth. You're more than a person with a checkbook. You're David, placing a stone in the sling. You're Peter, one foot on the boat, one foot on the lake. You're a little boy in a big crowd. A picnic lunch is all the Teacher needs, but it's all you have.

What will you do? Sling the Stone? Take the Step? Give the Meal?

Careful now, don't move too quickly. You aren't just entering an amount ... you are making a confession. A confession that God owns it all anyway.

And then the line in the lower left-hand corner on which you write what the check is for. Hard to know what to put. It's for the light bills and literature. A little bit of outreach. A little bit of salary.

Better yet, its partial payment for what the church has done to help you raise your family ... keep your own priorities sorted out ... tune you in to his ever-nearness.

Or, perhaps, best yet, it's for you. It's a moment for you to clip yet another strand from the rope of earth so that when he returns you won't be tied up.

Truth

The plain fact is we don't like the truth. Our credo is: 'You shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you squirm.' Our dislike for the truth began at the age of three when mom asked, 'Did you hit your little brother?' We knew then and there that honesty had its consequences.

Not only do we not like the truth, we don't trust the truth. If we are brutally honest (which is advisable in a discussion on honesty), we'd have to admit that the truth seems inadequate to do what we need done.

We want our bosses to like us, so we flatter. We call it polishing the apple. God calls it a lie.

We want people to admire us, so we exaggerate. We call it stretching the truth. God calls it a lie.

We want people to respect us, so we live in houses we can't afford and charge bills we can't pay. We call it the American way. God calls it living a lie.

Do you tell the truth ... always? If not, start today. Don't wait until tomorrow. The ripple of today's lie is tomorrow's wave and next year's flood. Start today. Be just like Jesus. Tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

STUDY GUIDES

READ EPHESIANS 4:22-25

- Think of the most reliable and honest person you know. How do you feel when you are with that person?
- How does it change a relationship when you suspect someone is being dishonest with you?
- How can honesty keep us from getting ahead in our professional lives?
- How would you explain to a child the importance of truthfulness?
- List some dynamics that keep us from being brutally honest with ourselves and others.
- How do people usually respond when they get caught in a lie?
- What tactics do we use to avoid the truth about ourselves?
- Describe how important it is to you that the significant people in your life are truthful with you, even when it hurts.
- What truths do you need the courage to tell?

Unity

Grace makes three proclamations.

First, only God can forgive my godlessness....

Second, only God can judge my neighbor....

Third, I must accept who God accepts....

Easier said than done.

God has enlisted us in his navy and placed us on his ship. The boat has one purpose—to carry us safely to the other shore.

This is no cruise ship; it's a battleship. We aren't called to a life of leisure; we are called to a life of service. Each of us has a different task. Some, concerned with those who are drowning, are snatching people from the water. Others are occupied with the enemy, so they man the cannons of prayer and worship. Still others devote themselves to the crew, feeding and training the crew members.

Though different, we are the same. Each can tell of a personal encounter with the captain, for each has received a personal call. He found us among the shanties of the seaport and invited us to follow him....

Though the battle is fierce, the boat is safe, for our captain is God. The ship will not sink. For that, there is no concern.

There is concern, however, regarding the disharmony of the crew.

Unity creates belief. Disunity fosters disbelief. Who wants to board a ship of bickering sailors? Life on the ocean may be rough, but at least the waves don't call us names... . Could it be that unity is the key to reaching the world for Christ?

STUDY GUIDES

READ EPHESIANS 4:2-6, 31-32

- List some things that cause tension and disharmony among Christians.
- How has your personal encounter with God changed the way you relate to others?
- What kinds of disagreements cause people to give up on their relationships?
- Describe in practical terms what it means for Christians to live in unity.
- How does receiving God's grace enable us to practice Christian unity and love?
- Why is it often more challenging to love the people closest to us?
- What can people outside of the church learn from the way believers get along?
- If we are the army of Christ, what does division among the ranks cost us?

Usefulness

“Why do you think he’s blind?” one asked.

“He must have sinned.”

“Jesus, what do you think? Why is he blind?”

The apostles knew what was coming; they had seen this look in Jesus’ eyes before. They knew what he was going to do, but they didn’t know how he was going to do it. Lightning? Thunder? A shout? A clap of the hands? They all watched.

Jesus began to work his mouth a little. The onlookers stared. “What is he doing?” He moved his jaw as if he were chewing on something.

Some of the people began to get restless. Jesus just chewed. His jaw rotated around until he had what he wanted. Spit. Ordinary saliva.

If no one said it, somebody had to be thinking it: “Yuk!”

Jesus spat on the ground, stuck his finger into the puddle, and stirred. Soon it was a mud pie, and he smeared some of the mud across the blind man’s eyes.

The same One who’d turned a stick into a scepter and a pebble into a missile now turned saliva and mud into a balm for the blind.

Once again, the mundane became majestic. Once again the dull became divine, the humdrum holy. Once again God’s power was seen, not through the ability of the instrument, but through its availability.

“Blessed are the meek,” Jesus explained. Blessed are the available. Blessed are the conduits, the tunnels, the tools. Deliriously joyful are the ones who believe that if God has used sticks, rocks, and spit to do his will, then he can use us.

STUDY GUIDES

READ JOHN 9:1-12

- Why do you think Jesus chose to heal that way?
- If you had witnessed this event, how do you think you would have responded?
- Describe a time when you have witnessed God using something unlikely to accomplish his will.
- Think about your personal strengths and weaknesses. How has God worked through your weaknesses for his glory?
- When have you seen a person's weakness or even a specific disability used for God's glory?
- What does it feel like to be used by God?
- Put into your own words why the "availability" of an instrument is just as or even more important than the "ability."
- In what ways can you be more available to God?

Vengeance

Revenge belongs to God! If vengeance is God's, then it is not ours. God has not asked us to settle the score or get even. Ever. Judgment is God's job. To assume otherwise is to assume God can't do it.

When we are mistreated, our animalistic response is to go on the hunt. Instinctively, we double up our fists. Getting even is only natural. Which, incidentally, is precisely the problem. Revenge is natural, not spiritual. Getting even is the rule of the jungle. Giving grace is the rule of the kingdom.

X-ray the soul of the vengeful and behold the tumor of bitterness: black, menacing, malignant. Carcinoma of the spirit. Its fatal fibers creep around the edge of the heart and ravage it. Yesterday you can't alter, but your reaction to yesterday you can. The past you cannot change, but your response to the past you can.

Revenge is irreverent. When we strike back we are saying, "I know vengeance is yours, God, but I just didn't think you'd punish enough. I thought I'd better take this situation into my own hands. You have a tendency to be a little soft."

To forgive someone is to display reverence. Forgiveness is not saying the one who hurt you was right. Forgiveness is stating that God is fair and he will do what is right.

After all, don't we have enough things to do without trying to do God's work too?

STUDY GUIDES

READ LUKE 6:27-36

- Describe a situation from your childhood when you wanted to get even with someone.
- If left unchecked, how can anger and a thirst for revenge destroy a person's life?
- What is the balance between rightfully defending yourself and seeking revenge?
- How much of our desire for revenge do you think is merely a sense of justice?
- In what circumstances is it right and good to seek justice?
- How does it feel to let go of hurts or injustices?
- How do others typically respond when you repay evil with good?
- In what situation or relationship in your life are you still holding out for some revenge?

Where Is God?

It's called Bethesda [Bethzatha or Bethsaida]. It could be called Central Park, Metropolitan Hospital, or even Joe's Bar and Grill. It could be the homeless huddled beneath a downtown overpass. It could be Calvary Baptist. It could be any collection of hurting people.

An underwater spring caused the pool to bubble occasionally. The people believed the bubbles were caused by the dipping of angels' wings. They also believed that the first person to touch the water after the angel did would be healed. Did healing occur? I don't know. But I do know crowds of invalids came to give it a try.

Picture a battleground strewn with wounded bodies, and you see Bethesda. Imagine a nursing home overcrowded and understaffed, and you see the pool. Call to mind the orphans in Bangladesh or the abandoned in New Delhi, and you will see what people saw when they passed Bethesda. As they passed, what did they hear? An endless wave of groans. What did they witness? A field of faceless need. What did they do? Most walked past, ignoring the people.

But not Jesus. He is in Jerusalem for a feast. . . .

He is alone. He is not there to teach the disciples or to draw a crowd. The people need him—so he's there.

Can you picture it? Jesus walking among the suffering.

What is he thinking? When an infected hand touches his ankle, what does he do? When a blind child stumbles in Jesus' path, does he reach down to catch the child? When a wrinkled hand extends for alms, how does Jesus respond?

Whether the watering hole is Bethesda or Bill's Bar . . . how does God feel when people hurt?

It's worth the telling of the story if all we do is watch him walk. It's worth it just to know he even came. He didn't have to, you know. Surely there are more sanitary crowds in Jerusalem. Surely there are more enjoyable activities. After all, this is the Passover feast. It's an exciting time in the holy city. People have come from miles around to meet God in the temple.

Little do they know that God is with the sick.

Little do they know that God is walking slowly, stepping carefully between the beggars and the blind.

Little do they know that the strong, young carpenter who surveys the ragged landscape of pain is God.

STUDY GUIDES

READ JOHN 5:1-15

- Think of a time when a friend showed special concern for you during a difficult time in your life. How did that person's support help you?
- What do you think motivated Jesus to go to Bethesda during a celebration?
- What do Jesus' actions in this story teach us about his character?
- What are some of the challenges of ministering to people with a serious illness? What are the rewards?
- How can we demonstrate God's love to people who are suffering?
- Why is it important for believers to minister to hurting people?
- Think of someone you know who is hurting? How can you reach out to that person?
- How can the church become more sensitive to the suffering around it?

Preface to the New Century Version

God intended for everyone to be able to understand his Word. Earliest Scriptures were in Hebrew, ideally suited for a barely literate society because of its economy of words, acrostic literary form and poetic parallelism. The New Testament was first written in the simple Greek of everyday life, not in the Latin of Roman courts or the classical Greek of the academies. Even Jesus, the Master Teacher, taught spiritual principles by comparing them to such familiar terms as pearls, seeds, rocks, trees, and sheep. Likewise, the New Century Version translates the Scriptures in familiar, everyday words of our times.

The New Century Version is a translation of God's Word from the original Hebrew and Greek languages. Several previous editions of the complete New Century Version have been published, such as the International Children's Bible (1986); Time with God (1991); The Odyssey Bible (1994); The Answer (1993); and The Inspirational Study Bible (1995), among others.

A Trustworthy Translation

Two basic premises guided the translation process of the New Century Version. The first concern was that the translation be faithful to the manuscripts in the original languages. A team composed of the World Bible Translation Center and fifty additional, highly qualified and experienced Bible scholars and translators was assembled. The team included people with translation experience on such accepted versions as the New International Version, the New American Standard Bible, and the New King James Version. The most recent scholarship and the best available Hebrew and Greek texts were used, principally the third edition of the United Bible Societies' Greek text and the latest edition of the Biblia Hebraica, along with the Septuagint.

A Clear Translation

The second concern was to make the language clear enough for anyone to read the Bible and understand it for himself. In maintaining clear language, several guidelines were followed. Vocabulary choice has been based upon The Living Word Vocabulary by Dr. Edgar Dale and Dr. Joseph O'Rourke (Worldbook-Childcraft International), which is the standard used by the editors of The World Book Encyclopedia to determine appropriate vocabulary.

The New Century Version aids understanding by putting concepts into natural terms. Modern measurements and geographical locations have been used as much as possible. For instance, terms such as "shekels," "cubits," "omer," and "hin" have been converted to modern equivalents of weights and measures. Where geographical references are identical, the modern name has been used, such as the "Mediterranean Sea" instead of "Great Sea" or "Western Sea." Also, to minimize confusion, the most familiar name for a place is used consistently, instead of using variant names for the same place. "Lake Galilee" is used throughout rather than its variant forms, "Sea of Kinnereth," "Lake Gennesaret," and "Sea of Tiberias."

Ancient customs are often unfamiliar to modern readers.

Customs such as shaving a man's beard to shame him or walking between the halves of a dead animal to seal an agreement are meaningless to most people. So these are clarified either in the text or in a footnote.

Since meanings of words change with time, care has been taken to avoid potential misunderstandings. Frequently in the Old Testament God tells his people to "devote" something to him, as when he tells the Israelites to devote Jericho and everything in it to him. While we might understand this to mean he is telling them to keep it safe and holy, the exact opposite is true. He is telling them to destroy it totally as an offering to him. The New Century Version communicates the idea clearly by translating "devoted," in these situations, as "destroyed as an offering to the Lord."

Rhetorical questions have been stated according to their implied answers. The psalmist's question, "What god is so great as our God?" has been stated more directly as, "No god is as great as our God."

Figures of speech have been translated according to their meanings. For instance, the expression, "The Virgin Daughter of Zion," which is frequently used in the Old Testament, is simply translated "the people of Jerusalem."

Idiomatic expressions of the biblical languages are translated to communicate the same meaning to today's reader that would have been understood by the original audience. For example, the Hebrew idiom "he rested with his fathers" is translated by its corresponding meaning—"he died."

Obscure terms have been clarified. In the Old Testament God frequently condemns the people for their "high places" and "Asherah poles." The New Century Version translates these according to their meanings, which would have been understood by the Hebrews. “High places” is translated “places where gods were worshiped,” and “Asherah poles” is translated “Asherah idols.”

Gender language has also been translated with a concern for clarity. To avoid the misconception that “man” and “mankind” and “he” are exclusively masculine when they are being used in a generic sense, this translation has chosen to use less ambiguous language, such as “people” and “humans” and “human beings,” and has prayerfully attempted throughout to choose gender language that would accurately convey the intent of the original writers. Specifically and exclusively masculine and feminine references in the text have been retained.

Following in the tradition of other English versions, the New Century Version indicates the divine name YHWH, the Tetragrammaton, by putting Lord, and sometimes GOD, in capital letters. This is to distinguish it from Adonai, another Hebrew word that is translated Lord.

Every attempt has been made to maintain proper English style, while clarifying concepts and communication. The beauty of the Hebrew parallelism in poetry and the wordplays have been retained, and the images of the ancient languages have been captured in equivalent English images wherever possible.

Our Prayer

It is with great humility and prayerfulness that this Bible is presented. We acknowledge the infallibility of God’s Word and yet our own human frailty. We pray that God has worked through us as his vessels so that we all might better learn his truth for ourselves and that it might richly grow in our lives. It is to his glory that this Bible is given.

The Book of Genesis

Introduction

So there you are, a teenager at your grandparent's house. You don't really want to be there, but it's one of those family things and so you're there.

You sit politely and act like you are listening as your folks and grandparents talk. Then your grandmother says something that catches your attention. She refers to your great-grandfather and the trip he made to America from the "old country."

"What?" you ask.

Grandma smiles, knowing that at some point we all wonder about our origin and here you are wondering about yours.

She unravels a tale of your family escaping persecution and settling in eastern Virginia. Next she invites you into her room, where she opens a large chest that has sat at the foot of her bed for as long as you can remember. A rush of cedar and mothballs fills the room.

"Thought you might like to see this," she explains, handing you a black-and-white photo in a large walnut frame. "It's your great-grandpa." The only thing stiffer than his collar is his expression. "Here is his father," she hands you another photo, one of a cowboy wearing a wide-brimmed hat, riding a horse.

Piece by piece, the chest tells its family tales. Soon you find yourself lost in a floor covered with old wedding gowns, photo albums, diplomas, and bronzed baby shoes. And before you leave, you find yourself the owner of something precious—a heritage. An ancestry. A beginning. An origin.

You know that you are a part of a family tree. You aren't an isolated pond, but rather a part of a river winding through a great canyon.

You leave a richer person. Knowing where you came from says much about where you are going.

Perhaps that's why the first book of the Bible is a book of beginnings. God wants us to know from where we came. Learning that will teach us much about the place we are going.

About This Book

Author: Moses

Date Written: c. 1500 B.C.

Key Themes:

- In the ultimate act of creativity, God formed the sky and earth out of nothing.
- Sin entered the world through the wrong choices of the very first humans.
- Back in the Garden of Eden, God set into motion a plan for our redemption.
- God made a covenant with Abraham, to bless him and make him a blessing to all people. Jesus is the fulfillment of that promise.

Key Verse:

“In the beginning God created the sky and the earth” (Genesis 1:1).

Life Lessons

Genesis 1:1–2:3

Situation

The magnificent story of The Beginning revealed God's creativity, majesty, and love. Yet the most humbling, puzzling, and awe-inspiring act took place when God breathed the breath of life into humanity.

Observation

God demonstrated power and love by creating. With only a spoken word God created everything around us. Then, with loving care, he formed Adam out of the ground.

Inspiration

With one decision, history began. Existence became measurable.

Out of nothing came light.

Out of light came day.

Then came sky ... and earth.

And on this earth? A mighty hand went to work.

Canyons were carved. Oceans were dug. Mountains erupted out of flatlands. Stars were flung. A universe sparkled.

Our sun became just one of millions. Our galaxy became just one of thousands. Planets invisibly tethered to suns roared through space at breakneck speeds. Stars blazed with heat that could melt our planet in seconds.

The hand behind it was mighty. He is mighty.

And with this might, he created. As naturally as a bird sings and a fish swims, he created. Just as an artist can't not paint and a runner can't not run, he couldn't not create. He was the Creator. Through and through, he was the Creator. A tireless dreamer and designer.

From the pallet of the Ageless Artist came inimitable splendors. Before there was a person to see it, his creation was pregnant with wonder...

Mundaneness found no home in his universe...

Probe deep within him. Explore every corner. Search every angle. Love is all you find. Go to the beginning of every decision he has made and you'll find it. Go to the end of every story he has told and you'll see it.

Love...

He created a paradise. A sinless sanctuary. A haven before fear. A home before there was a human dweller. No time. No death. No hurt. A gift built by God for his ultimate creation. And when he was through, he knew "it was very good."

But it wasn't enough.

His greatest work hadn't been completed. One final masterpiece was needed before he would stop.

Look to the canyons to see the Creator's splendor. Touch the flowers and see his delicacy. Listen to the thunder and hear his power. But gaze on [humanity]—the zenith—and witness all three ... and more. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

Today you will encounter God's creation. When you see the beauty around you, let each detail remind you to lift your head in praise. Express your appreciation for God's creation. Encourage others to see the beauty of his creation.

The Beginning of the World

In the beginning God created the sky and the earth.<sup>2</sup>The earth was empty and had no form. Darkness covered the ocean, and God's Spirit was moving over the water.

<sup>3</sup>Then God said, "Let there be light," and there was light.<sup>4</sup>God saw that the light was good, so he divided the light from the darkness.<sup>5</sup>God named the light "day" and the darkness "night." Evening passed, and morning came. This was the first day.

<sup>6</sup>Then God said, "Let there be something to divide the water in two."<sup>7</sup>So God made the air and placed some of the water above the air and some below it.<sup>8</sup>God named the air "sky." Evening passed, and morning came. This was the second day.

<sup>9</sup>Then God said, "Let the water under the sky be gathered together so the dry land will appear." And it happened.<sup>10</sup>God named the dry land "earth" and the water that was gathered together "seas." God saw that this was good.

<sup>11</sup>Then God said, "Let the earth produce plants—some to make grain for seeds and others to make fruits with seeds in them. Every seed will produce more of its own kind of plant." And it happened.<sup>12</sup>The earth produced plants with grain for seeds and trees that made fruits with seeds in them. Each seed grew its own kind of plant. God saw that all this was good.

<sup>14</sup>Then God said, “Let there be lights in the sky to separate day from night. These lights will be used for signs, seasons, days, and years. <sup>15</sup>They will be in the sky to give light to the earth.” And it happened.

<sup>16</sup>So God made the two large lights. He made the brighter light to rule the day and made the smaller light to rule the night. He also made the stars. <sup>17</sup>God put all these in the sky to shine on the earth, <sup>18</sup>to rule over the day and over the night, and to separate the light from the darkness. God saw that all these things were good. <sup>19</sup>Evening passed, and morning came. This was the fourth day.

<sup>21</sup>So God created the large sea animals and every living thing that moves in the sea. The sea is filled with these living things, with each one producing more of its own kind. He also made every bird that flies, and each bird produced more of its own kind. God saw that this was good. <sup>22</sup>God blessed them and said, “Have many young ones so that you may grow in number. Fill the water of the seas, and let the birds grow in number on the earth.” <sup>23</sup>Evening passed, and morning came. This was the fifth day.

<sup>24</sup>Then God said, “Let the earth be filled with animals, each producing more of its own kind. Let there be tame animals and small crawling animals and wild animals, and let each produce more of its kind.” And it happened.

<sup>25</sup>So God made the wild animals, the tame animals, and all the small crawling animals to produce more of their own kind. God saw that this was good.

and likeness. And let them rule over the fish in the sea and the birds in the sky, over the tame animals, over all the earth, and over all the small crawling animals on the earth.”

<sup>27</sup>So God created human beings in his image. In the image of God he created them. He created them male and female. <sup>28</sup>God blessed them and said, “Have many children and grow in number. Fill the earth and be its master. Rule over the fish in the sea and over the birds in the sky and over every living thing that moves on the earth.”

<sup>29</sup>God said, “Look, I have given you all the plants that have grain for seeds and all the trees whose fruits have seeds in them. They will be food for you. <sup>30</sup>I have given all the green plants as food for every wild animal, every bird of the air, and every small crawling animal.” And it happened. <sup>31</sup>God looked at everything he had made, and it was very good. Evening passed, and morning came. This was the sixth day.

The Seventh Day—Rest

So the sky, the earth, and all that filled them were finished. <sup>2</sup>By the seventh day God finished the work he had been doing, so he rested from all his work. <sup>3</sup>God blessed the seventh day and made it a holy day, because on that day he rested from all the work he had done in creating the world.

The First People

<sup>4</sup>This is the story of the creation of the sky and the earth. When the Lord God first made the earth and the sky, <sup>5</sup>there were still no plants on the earth. Nothing was growing in the fields because the Lord God had not yet made it rain on the land. And there was no person to care for the ground, <sup>6</sup>but a mist would rise up from the earth and water all the ground.

<sup>7</sup>Then the Lord God took dust from the ground and formed a man from it. He breathed the breath of life into the man's nose, and the man became a living person. <sup>8</sup>Then the Lord God planted a garden in the east, in a place called Eden, and put the man he had formed into it. <sup>9</sup>The Lord God caused every beautiful tree and every tree that was good for food to grow out of the ground. In the middle of the garden, God put the tree that gives life and also the tree that gives the knowledge of good and evil.

Havilah, where there is gold.<sup>12</sup>The gold of that land is excellent. Bdellium and onyx are also found there.<sup>13</sup>The second river, named Gihon, flows around the whole land of Cush.<sup>14</sup>The third river, named Tigris, flows out of Assyria toward the east. The fourth river is the Euphrates.

<sup>15</sup>The Lord God put the man in the garden of Eden to care for it and work it. <sup>16</sup>The Lord God commanded him, “You may eat the fruit from any tree in the garden,<sup>17</sup> but you must not eat the fruit from the tree which gives the knowledge of good and evil. If you ever eat fruit from that tree, you will die!”

The First Woman

<sup>18</sup>Then the Lord God said, “It is not good for the man to be alone. I will make a helper who is right for him.”

<sup>19</sup>From the ground God formed every wild animal and every bird in the sky, and he brought them to the man so the man could name them. Whatever the man called each living thing, that became its name.<sup>20</sup>The man gave names to all the tame animals, to the birds in the sky, and to all the wild animals. But Adam did not find a helper that was right for him.<sup>21</sup>So the Lord God caused the man to sleep very deeply, and while he was asleep, God removed one of the man’s ribs. Then God closed up the man’s skin at the place where he took the rib.<sup>22</sup>The Lord God used the rib from the man to make a woman, and then he brought the woman to the man.

“Now, this is someone whose bones came from my bones, whose body came from my body.

I will call her ‘woman,’ because she was taken out of man.”

<sup>24</sup>So a man will leave his father and mother and be united with his wife, and the two will become one body.

<sup>25</sup>The man and his wife were naked, but they were not ashamed.

Life Lessons

Genesis 2:4–3:24

Situation

God the Creator completed his masterpiece by creating man and woman. God breathed life and spirit into his special handiwork. Though sin entered the world, God also provided for redemption from sin.

Observation

God created people with the freedom to choose or reject him. When his creation chose to rebel, God revealed his plan for salvation.

Inspiration

He placed one scoop of clay upon another until a form lay lifeless on the ground....

All were silent as the Creator reached in himself and removed something yet unseen. “It’s called ‘choice.’ The seed of choice.”

Creation stood in silence and gazed upon the lifeless form.

An angel spoke, “But what if he ...”

“What if he chooses not to love?” the Creator finished. “Come, I will show you.”

Unbound by today, God and the angel walked into the realm of tomorrow....

The angel gasped at what he saw. Spontaneous love. Voluntary devotion. Never had he seen anything like these.... The angel stood speechless as they passed through centuries of repugnance. Never had he seen such filth. Rotten hearts. Ruptured promises. Forgotten loyalties....

The Creator walked on in time, further and further into the future, until he stood by a tree. A tree that would be fashioned into a cradle. Even then he could smell the hay that would surround him....

... They stepped into the Garden again. The Maker looked earnestly at the clay creation. A monsoon of love swelled up within him. He had died for the creation before he had made him. God’s form bent over the sculptured face and breathed. Dust stirred on the lips of the new one. The chest rose, cracking the red mud. The cheeks fleshened. A finger moved. And an eye opened.

But more incredible than the moving of the flesh was the stirring of the spirit. Those who could see the unseen gasped.

Perhaps it was the wind who said it first. Perhaps what the star saw that moment is what has made it blink ever since. Maybe it was left to an angel to whisper it:

“It looks like ... it appears so much like ... it is him!”

The angel wasn't speaking of the face, the features, or the body. He was looking inside—at the soul.

“It's eternal!” gasped another.

Within the man, God had placed a divine seed. A seed of his self. The God of might had created earth's mightiest. The Creator had created, not a creature, but another creator. And the One who had chosen to love had created one who could love in return.

Now it's our choice.

The Beginning of Sin

Now the snake was the most clever of all the wild animals the Lord God had made. One day the snake said to the woman, “Did God really say that you must not eat fruit from any tree in the garden?”

<sup>2</sup>The woman answered the snake, “We may eat fruit from the trees in the garden. <sup>3</sup>But God told us, ‘You must not eat fruit from the tree that is in the middle of the garden. You must not even touch it, or you will die.’”

<sup>4</sup>But the snake said to the woman, “You will not die. <sup>5</sup>God knows that if you eat the fruit from that tree, you will learn about good and evil and you will be like God!”

<sup>6</sup>The woman saw that the tree was beautiful, that its fruit was good to eat, and that it would make her wise. So she took some of its fruit and ate it. She also gave some of the fruit to her husband, and he ate it.

<sup>7</sup>Then, it was as if their eyes were opened. They realized they were naked, so they sewed fig leaves together and made something to cover themselves.

<sup>8</sup>Then they heard the Lord God walking in the garden during the cool part of the day, and the man and his wife hid from the Lord God among the trees in the garden. <sup>9</sup>But the Lord God called to the man and said, “Where are you?”

<sup>11</sup>God asked, “Who told you that you were naked? Did you eat fruit from the tree from which I commanded you not to eat?”

<sup>12</sup>The man said, “You gave this woman to me and she gave me fruit from the tree, so I ate it.”

She answered, “The snake tricked me, so I ate the fruit.”

<sup>14</sup>The Lord God said to the snake, “Because you did this,

a curse will be put on you.

You will be cursed as no other animal, tame or wild, will ever be.

You will crawl on your stomach, and you will eat dust all the days of your life.

<sup>15</sup>I will make you and the woman enemies to each other.

Your descendants and her descendants will be enemies.

One of her descendants will crush your head, and you will bite his heel.”

<sup>16</sup>Then God said to the woman,

“I will cause you to have much trouble when you are pregnant, and when you give birth to children,
you will have great pain.

You will greatly desire your husband, but he will rule over you.”

<sup>17</sup>Then God said to the man, “You listened to what your wife said, and you ate fruit from the tree from which I commanded you not to eat.

“So I will put a curse on the ground, and you will have to work very hard for your food.
In pain you will eat its food all the days of your life.

<sup>18</sup>The ground will produce thorns and weeds for you, and you will eat the plants of the field.

Later you will return to the ground, because you were taken from it.

You are dust,

and when you die, you will return to the dust.”

<sup>21</sup>The Lord God made clothes from animal skins for the man and his wife and dressed them. <sup>22</sup>Then the Lord God said, “The man has become like one of us; he knows good and evil. We must keep him from eating some of the fruit from the tree of life, or he will live forever.” <sup>23</sup>So the Lord God forced the man out of the garden of Eden to work the ground from which he was taken. <sup>24</sup>After God forced the man out of the garden, he placed angels and a sword of fire that flashed around in every direction on its eastern border. This kept people from getting to the tree of life.

The First Family

Adam had sexual relations with his wife Eve, and she became pregnant and gave birth to Cain. Eve said, “With the Lord’s help, I have given birth to a man.”<sup>2</sup> After that, Eve gave birth to Cain’s brother Abel. Abel took care of flocks, and Cain became a farmer.

<sup>3</sup> Later, Cain brought some food from the ground as a gift to God. <sup>4</sup> Abel brought the best parts from some of the firstborn of his flock. The Lord accepted Abel and his gift, <sup>5</sup> but he did not accept Cain and his gift. So Cain became very angry and felt rejected.

<sup>6</sup> The Lord asked Cain, “Why are you angry? Why do you look so unhappy? <sup>7</sup> If you do things well, I will accept you, but if you do not do them well, sin is ready to attack you. Sin wants you, but you must rule over it.”

Cain answered, “I don’t know. Is it my job to take care of my brother?”

<sup>10</sup> Then the Lord said, “What have you done? Your brother’s blood is crying out to me from the ground. <sup>11</sup> And now you will be cursed in your work with the ground, the same ground where your brother’s blood fell and where your hands killed him. <sup>12</sup> You will work the ground, but it will not grow good crops for you anymore, and you will wander around on the earth.”

<sup>13</sup>Then Cain said to the Lord, “This punishment is more than I can stand! <sup>14</sup>Today you have forced me to stop working the ground, and now I must hide from you. I must wander around on the earth, and anyone who meets me can kill me.”

<sup>15</sup>The Lord said to Cain, “No! If anyone kills you, I will punish that person seven times more.” Then the Lord put a mark on Cain warning anyone who met him not to kill him.

Cain’s Family

<sup>16</sup>So Cain went away from the Lord and lived in the land of Nod, east of Eden. <sup>17</sup>He had sexual relations with his wife, and she became pregnant and gave birth to Enoch. At that time Cain was building a city, which he named after his son Enoch.

<sup>18</sup>Enoch had a son named Irad, Irad had a son named Mehujael, Mehujael had a son named Methushael, and Methushael had a son named Lamech.

You wives of Lamech, listen to what I say.
I killed a man for wounding me, a young man for hitting me.

<sup>24</sup>If Cain's killer is punished seven times, then Lamech's killer will be punished seventy-seven times.”

Adam and Eve Have a New Son

<sup>25</sup>Adam had sexual relations with his wife Eve again, and she gave birth to a son. She named him Seth and said, “God has given me another child. He will take the place of Abel, who was killed by Cain.” <sup>26</sup>Seth also had a son, and they named him Enosh. At that time people began to pray to the Lord.

Life Lessons

Genesis 4:1–5:32

Situation

After Adam sinned in the Garden of Eden (Genesis 3), sin affected the life and death of every living creature. Sin and death reigned in every individual. Enoch, the one notable exception to the punishment of death, “walked with God.”

Observation

Cain, like Adam and Eve, wanted to keep his distance from God. Rather than confess his sin, Cain tried to hide it to keep it from God.

Inspiration

Here is a good rule of thumb: Those who keep secrets from God keep their distance from God. Those who are honest with God draw near to God.

This is nothing novel. It happens between people. If you loan me your car and I wreck it, will I look forward to seeing you again? No. It is no coincidence that the result of the very first sin was to duck into the bushes. Adam and Eve ate the fruit, heard God in the garden, and crept between the leaves.

“Where are you?” God asked, not for his benefit. He knew exactly where they were. The question was spiritual, not geographical. “Examine where you are, children. You aren’t where you were. You were at my side; now you have hidden from me.”

Secrets erect a fence while confession builds a bridge.

Once there were a couple of farmers who couldn’t get along with each other. A wide ravine separated their two farms, but as a sign of their mutual distaste for each other, each constructed a fence on his side of the chasm to keep the other out.

In time, however, the daughter of one met the son of the other, and the couple fell in love. Determined not to be kept apart by the folly of their fathers, they tore down the fence and used the wood to build a bridge across the ravine.

Confession does that. Confessed sin becomes the bridge over which we can walk back into the presence of God. (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

Adam's Family History

This is the family history of Adam. When God created human beings, he made them in his own likeness.<sup>2</sup> He created them male and female, and on that day he blessed them and named them human beings.

<sup>3</sup>When Adam was 130 years old, he became the father of another son in his likeness and image, and Adam named him Seth.<sup>4</sup> After Seth was born, Adam lived 800 years and had other sons and daughters.<sup>5</sup> So Adam lived a total of 930 years, and then he died.

<sup>6</sup>When Seth was 105 years old, he had a son named Enosh.<sup>7</sup> After Enosh was born, Seth lived 807 years and had other sons and daughters.<sup>8</sup> So Seth lived a total of 912 years, and then he died.

<sup>9</sup>When Enosh was 90 years old, he had a son named Kenan.<sup>10</sup> After Kenan was born, Enosh lived 815 years and had other sons and daughters.<sup>11</sup> So Enosh lived a total of 905 years, and then he died.

<sup>12</sup>When Kenan was 70 years old, he had a son named Mahalalel.<sup>13</sup> After Mahalalel was born, Kenan lived 840 years and had other sons and daughters.<sup>14</sup> So Kenan lived a total of 910 years, and then he died.

<sup>15</sup>When Mahalalel was 65 years old, he had a son named Jared.<sup>16</sup> After Jared was born, Mahalalel lived 830 years and had other sons and daughters.<sup>17</sup> So Mahalalel lived a total of 895 years, and then he died.

Enoch. <sup>19</sup>After Enoch was born, Jared lived 800 years and had other sons and daughters. <sup>20</sup>So Jared lived a total of 962 years, and then he died.

<sup>21</sup>When Enoch was 65 years old, he had a son named Methuselah. <sup>22</sup>After Methuselah was born, Enoch walked with God 300 years more and had other sons and daughters. <sup>23</sup>So Enoch lived a total of 365 years. <sup>24</sup>Enoch walked with God; one day Enoch could not be found, because God took him.

<sup>25</sup>When Methuselah was 187 years old, he had a son named Lamech. <sup>26</sup>After Lamech was born, Methuselah lived 782 years and had other sons and daughters. <sup>27</sup>So Methuselah lived a total of 969 years, and then he died.

<sup>28</sup>When Lamech was 182, he had a son. <sup>29</sup>Lamech named his son Noah and said, "He will comfort us in our work, which comes from the ground the Lord has cursed." <sup>30</sup>After Noah was born, Lamech lived 595 years and had other sons and daughters. <sup>31</sup>So Lamech lived a total of 777 years, and then he died.

The Human Race Becomes Evil

The number of people on earth began to grow, and daughters were born to them.<sup>2</sup>When the sons of God saw that these girls were beautiful, they married any of them they chose.<sup>3</sup>The Lord said, “My Spirit will not remain in human beings forever, because they are flesh. They will live only 120 years.”

<sup>4</sup>The Nephilim were on the earth in those days and also later. That was when the sons of God had sexual relations with the daughters of human beings. These women gave birth to children, who became famous and were the mighty warriors of long ago.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord saw that the human beings on the earth were very wicked and that everything they thought about was evil.<sup>6</sup>He was sorry he had made human beings on the earth, and his heart was filled with pain.<sup>7</sup>So the Lord said, “I will destroy all human beings that I made on the earth. And I will destroy every animal and everything that crawls on the earth and the birds of the air, because I am sorry I have made them.”<sup>8</sup>But Noah pleased the Lord.

Noah and the Great Flood

<sup>9</sup>This is the family history of Noah. Noah was a good man, the most innocent man of his time, and he walked with God.<sup>10</sup>He had three sons: Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

<sup>11</sup>People on earth did what God said was evil, and violence was everywhere.<sup>12</sup>When God saw that everyone on the earth did only evil,<sup>13</sup> he said to Noah, “Because people have made the earth full of violence, I will destroy all of them from the earth.<sup>14</sup> Build a boat of cypress wood for yourself. Make rooms in it and cover it inside and outside with tar.<sup>15</sup> This is how big I want you to build the boat: four hundred fifty feet long, seventy-five feet wide, and forty-five feet high.<sup>16</sup> Make an opening around the top of the boat that is eighteen inches high from the edge of the roof down. Put a door in the side of the boat. Make an upper, middle, and lower deck in it.<sup>17</sup> I will bring a flood of water on the earth to destroy all living things that live under the sky, including everything that has the breath of life. Everything on the earth will die.<sup>18</sup> But I will make an agreement with you—you, your sons, your wife, and your sons’ wives will all go into the boat.<sup>19</sup> Also, you must bring into the boat two of every living thing, male and female. Keep them alive with you.<sup>20</sup> Two of every kind of bird, animal, and crawling thing will come to you to be kept alive.<sup>21</sup> Also gather some of every kind of food and store it on the boat as food for you and the animals.”

Life Lessons

Genesis 6:1–8:22

Situation

The size of Noah’s ark ensured that it could carry tens of thousands of animals. This dramatic event demonstrated God’s wrath toward sin, but also his mercy toward those who seek him.

Observation

Faithfulness to God remains vital, even if everyone around us marches to a different drumbeat.

Inspiration

“You’ll never catch me doing that,” one might say. “Oh yeah?”

Upright and obedient, Noah stood alone against a carousing, lustful world that drank itself silly. Who would have thought Noah would end up drunk? Abraham was ready to push obedience to the point of sacrificing his only son. Who would imagine he would lie straight-faced?

Look at Lot standing against the filthiness of Sodom. Hardly does he get delivered from the city’s destruction than he falls into incest. Who would have guessed? Bold and courageous David was brave enough to go up against Goliath, the warrior giant of the Philistines; later on he made believe that he was a madman for fear of his enemies.

And consider Elijah. We take him to be a rather brave man, wielding the sword of God’s vengeance against tens of thousands. But the threat of one woman then sends him into suicidal despair.

Peter, as part of the inner circle, followed the footsteps of Jesus closer than anyone. He ended up cursing and denying the Lord.

“These things happened to them as examples and were written down as warnings for us, on whom the fulfillment of the ages has come” (1 Corinthians 10:11).

Just when you think you know yourself, you do or say something that seems so out of character. But it's not. The character of our body of sin and death is to sin. Don't be surprised. Just be careful that you, too, don't fall. (From Diamonds in the Dust by Joni Eareckson Tada)

Application

God wants us to stand against sin. Sometimes we must do it all by ourselves, but it is always easier to stand with others. If you are slugging it out alone, pray for a friend—someone with whom you can share the joys and struggles of faith.

The Flood Begins

Then the Lord said to Noah, “I have seen that you are the best person among the people of this time, so you and your family can go into the boat. <sup>2</sup>Take with you seven pairs, each male with its female, of every kind of clean animal, and take one pair, each male with its female, of every kind of unclean animal. <sup>3</sup>Take seven pairs of all the birds of the sky, each male with its female. This will allow all these animals to continue living on the earth after the flood. <sup>4</sup>Seven days from now I will send rain on the earth. It will rain forty days and forty nights, and I will wipe off from the earth every living thing that I have made.”

<sup>13</sup>On that same day Noah and his wife, his sons Shem, Ham, and Japheth, and their wives went into the boat. <sup>14</sup>They had every kind of wild and tame animal, every kind of animal that crawls on the earth, and every kind of bird. <sup>15</sup>Every creature that had the breath of life came to Noah in the boat in groups of two. <sup>16</sup>One male and one female of every living thing came, just as God had commanded Noah. Then the Lord closed the door behind them.

<sup>21</sup>All living things that moved on the earth died. This included all the birds, tame animals, wild animals, and creatures that swarm on the earth, as well as all human beings. <sup>22</sup>So everything on dry land that had the breath of life in it died. <sup>23</sup>God destroyed from the earth every living thing that was on the land—every man, animal, crawling thing, and bird of the sky. All that was left was Noah and what was with him in the boat. <sup>24</sup>And the waters continued to cover the earth for one hundred fifty days.

The Flood Ends

But God remembered Noah and all the wild and tame animals with him in the boat. He made a wind blow over the earth, and the water went down.<sup>2</sup>The underground springs stopped flowing, and the clouds in the sky stopped pouring down rain.<sup>3-4</sup>The water that covered the earth began to go down. After one hundred fifty days it had gone down so much that the boat touched land again. It came to rest on one of the mountains of Ararat on the seventeenth day of the seventh month.<sup>5</sup>The water continued to go down so that by the first day of the tenth month the tops of the mountains could be seen.

<sup>6</sup>Forty days later Noah opened the window he had made in the boat, and <sup>7</sup>he sent out a raven. It flew here and there until the water had dried up from the earth. <sup>8</sup>Then Noah sent out a dove to find out if the water had dried up from the ground. <sup>9</sup>The dove could not find a place to land because water still covered the earth, so it came back to the boat. Noah reached out his hand and took the bird and brought it back into the boat.

<sup>13</sup>When Noah was six hundred and one years old, in the first day of the first month of that year, the water was dried up from the land. Noah removed the covering of the boat and saw that the land was dry. <sup>14</sup>By the twenty-seventh day of the second month the land was completely dry.

<sup>15</sup>Then God said to Noah, <sup>16</sup>“You and your wife, your sons, and their wives should go out of the boat. <sup>17</sup>Bring every animal out of the boat with you—the birds, animals, and everything that crawls on the earth. Let them have many young ones so that they might grow in number.”

<sup>20</sup>Then Noah built an altar to the Lord. He took some of all the clean birds and animals, and he burned them on the altar as offerings to God. <sup>21</sup>The Lord was pleased with these sacrifices and said to himself, “I will never again curse the ground because of human beings. Their thoughts are evil even when they are young, but I will never again destroy every living thing on the earth as I did this time.

planting and harvest,
cold and hot,
summer and winter,
day and night will not stop.”

Life Lessons

Genesis 9:1–10:32

Situation

God promised that he would never again destroy the earth with a flood. A rainbow would follow rain as a reminder that God keeps his promises. Man must treat all living creatures well.

Observation

God created a special covenant with humans that gave them dominance over the earth, yet made them accountable to God for each action.

Inspiration

There's hardly a more sobering statement in Scripture than Romans 14:12: “So then, each one of us will give an account of himself to God.” The words “each one of us” apply to Christians and non-Christians alike. And though believers will be saved by grace and not by works, once in Heaven our reward there will be determined on the basis of our works. The Lord will “test the quality of each man’s work,” and for each it will be either that “he will receive his reward” or “he will suffer loss; he himself will be saved, but only as one escaping through the flames” (1 Corinthians 3:13–15)...

Jesus said, “But I tell you that men will have to give account on the day of judgment for every careless word they have spoken” (Matthew 12:36).

If we must give an account to God for every word spoken, surely we must give an account for every hour spent carelessly (that is, wastefully, negligently)

The wise response to such truth is to evaluate your use of time now and spend it in a way that you would like to hear at the Judgment. And if you cannot answer your conscience regarding how you use your time in the growth of Christlikeness now, how will you be able to answer God then? ## The New Beginning

Then God blessed Noah and his sons and said to them, “Have many children; grow in number and fill the earth. <sup>2</sup>Every animal on earth, every bird in the sky, every animal that crawls on the ground, and every fish in the sea will respect and fear you. I have given them to you.

<sup>3</sup>“Everything that moves, everything that is alive, is yours for food. Earlier I gave you the green plants, but now I give you everything for food. <sup>4</sup>But you must not eat meat that still has blood in it, because blood gives life. <sup>5</sup>I will demand blood for life. I will demand the life of any animal that kills a person, and I will demand the life of anyone who takes another person’s life.

will be killed by a human being, because God made humans in his own image.

<sup>7</sup>“As for you, Noah, I want you and your family to have many children, to grow in number on the earth, and to become many.”

<sup>8</sup>Then God said to Noah and his sons, <sup>9</sup>“Now I am making my agreement with you and your people who will live after you, <sup>10</sup>and with every living thing that is with you—the birds, the tame and the wild animals, and with everything that came out of the boat with you—with every living thing on earth. <sup>11</sup>I make this agreement with you: I will never again destroy all living things by a flood. A flood will never again destroy the earth.”

<sup>12</sup>And God said, “This is the sign of the agreement between me and you and every living creature that is with you. <sup>13</sup>I am putting my rainbow in the clouds as the sign of the agreement between me and the earth. <sup>14</sup>When I bring clouds over the earth and a rainbow appears in them, <sup>15</sup>I will remember my agreement between me and you and every living thing. Floods will never again destroy all life on the earth. <sup>16</sup>When the rainbow appears in the clouds, I will see it and I will remember the agreement that continues forever between me and every living thing on the earth.”

<sup>17</sup>So God said to Noah, “The rainbow is a sign of the agreement that I made with all living things on earth.”

Noah and His Sons

<sup>19</sup>These three men were Noah’s sons, and all the people on earth came from these three sons.

<sup>24</sup>Noah was sleeping because of the wine. When he woke up and learned what his youngest son, Ham, had done to him, <sup>25</sup>he said, “May there be a curse on Canaan!

May he be the lowest slave to his brothers.”

“May the Lord, the God of Shem, be praised!
May Canaan be Shem's slave.
<sup>27</sup>May God give more land to Japheth.
May Japheth live in Shem's tents, and may Canaan be their slave.”

<sup>28</sup>After the flood Noah lived 350 years. <sup>29</sup>He lived a total of 950 years, and then he died.

Nations Grow and Spread

This is the family history of Shem, Ham, and Japheth, the sons of Noah. After the flood these three men had sons.

Japheth's Sons

Ham's Sons

The sons of Raamah were Sheba and Dedan.

Shem's Sons

<sup>24</sup>Arphaxad was the father of Shelah, who was the father of Eber. <sup>25</sup>Eber was the father of two sons—one named Peleg, because the earth was divided during his life, and the other was named Joktan.

Havilah, and Jobab. All these people were the sons of Joktan.
<sup>30</sup>They lived in the area between Mesha and Sephar in the hill country in the East.

<sup>32</sup>This is the list of the families from the sons of Noah, arranged according to their nations. From these families came all the nations who spread across the earth after the flood.

Life Lessons

Genesis 11:1–32

Situation

People built a tower and a city called Babel as a monument to their own greatness. God thwarted this arrogant behavior by causing all the people to speak in different languages. This caused the people to scatter all over the earth.

Observation

God will not permit us to replace him as supreme in the universe. We belong to him and are responsible for our actions.

Inspiration

The scene is almost spooky: a tall, unfinished tower looming solitarily on a dusty plain. Its base is wide and strong but covered with weeds. Large stones originally intended for use in the tower lie forsaken on the ground. Buckets, hammers, and pulleys—all lie abandoned. The silhouette cast by the structure is lean and lonely.

Not too long ago, this tower was buzzing with activity. A bystander would have been impressed with the smooth-running construction of the world's first sky scraper. One group of workers stirred freshly made mortar. Another team pulled bricks out of the oven. A third group carried the bricks to the construction site while a fourth shouldered the load up a winding path to the top of the tower where it was firmly set in place.

Their dream was a tower. A tower that would be taller than anyone had ever dreamed. A tower that would punch through the clouds and scratch the heavens. And what was the purpose of the tower? To glorify God? No. To try to find God? No. To call people to look upward to God? Try again. To provide a heavenly haven of prayer? Still wrong.

The purpose of the work caused its eventual abortion. The method was right. The plan was effective. But the motive was wrong. Dead wrong. Read these minutes from the “Tower Planning Committee Meeting” and see what I mean:

“Come, let us build ourselves a city, and a tower with its top in the heavens, and [watch out] let us make a name for ourselves.”

Why was the tower being built? Selfishness. Pure, 100 percent selfishness. The bricks were made of inflated egos and the mortar was made of pride. Men were giving sweat and blood for a pillar. Why? So that somebody’s name could be remembered.

We have a name for that: blind ambition.

We make heroes out of people who are ambitious.

And rightly so. This world would be in sad shape without people who dream of touching the heavens. Ambition is that grit in the soul which creates disenchantment with the ordinary and puts the dare into dreams.

But left unchecked it becomes an insatiable addition to power and prestige; a roaring hunger for achievement that devours people as a lion devours an animal, leaving behind only the skeletal remains of relationships.

Blind ambition. Distorted values.

God won't tolerate it. He didn't then and he won't now. He took the "Climb to Heaven Campaign" into his hands. With one sweep he painted the tower gray with confusion and sent workers babbling in all directions. He took man's greatest achievement and blew it into the winds like a child blows a dandelion.

Are you building any towers? Examine your motives. And remember the statement imprinted on the base of the windswept Tower of Babel: Blind ambition is a giant step away from God and one step closer to catastrophe. (From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

Application

The Languages Confused

At this time the whole world spoke one language, and everyone used the same words.<sup>2</sup> As people moved from the east, they found a plain in the land of Babylonia and settled there.

<sup>3</sup>They said to each other, "Let's make bricks and bake them to make them hard." So they used bricks instead of stones, and tar instead of mortar.<sup>4</sup> Then they said to each other, "Let's build a city and a tower for ourselves, whose top will reach high into the sky. We will become famous. Then we will not be scattered over all the earth."

<sup>5</sup>The Lord came down to see the city and the tower that the people had built.<sup>6</sup> The Lord said, "Now, these people are united, all speaking the same language. This is only the beginning of what they will do. They will be able to do anything they want."<sup>7</sup> Come, let us go down and confuse their language so they will not be able to understand each other."

<sup>8</sup>So the Lord scattered them from there over all the earth, and they stopped building the city.<sup>9</sup> The place is called Babel since that is where the Lord confused the language of the whole world. So the Lord caused them to spread out from there over the whole world.

The Story of Shem's Family

<sup>10</sup>This is the family history of Shem. Two years after the flood, when Shem was 100 years old, his son Arphaxad was born.

<sup>11</sup>After that, Shem lived 500 years and had other sons and daughters.

The Story of Terah's Family

<sup>27</sup>This is the family history of Terah. Terah was the father of Abram, Nahor, and Haran. Haran was the father of Lot. <sup>28</sup>While his father, Terah, was still alive, Haran died in Ur in Babylonia, where he was born. <sup>29</sup>Abram and Nahor both married. Abram's wife was named Sarai, and Nahor's wife was named Milcah. She was the daughter of Haran, who was the father of both Milcah and Iscah. <sup>30</sup>Sarai was not able to have children.

<sup>31</sup>Terah took his son Abram, his grandson Lot (Haran's son), and his daughter-in-law Sarai (Abram's wife) and moved out of Ur of Babylonia. They had planned to go to the land of Canaan, but when they reached the city of Haran, they settled there.

God Calls Abram

The Lord said to Abram, “Leave your country, your relatives, and your father’s family, and go to the land I will show you.

<sup>2</sup>I will make you a great nation, and I will bless you.
I will make you famous,
and you will be a blessing to others.

<sup>3</sup>I will bless those who bless you, and I will place a curse on those who harm you.
And all the people on earth will be blessed through you.”

<sup>6</sup>Abram traveled through that land as far as the great tree of Moreh at Shechem. The Canaanites were living in the land at that time. <sup>7</sup>The Lord appeared to Abram and said, “I will give this land to your descendants.” So Abram built an altar there to the Lord, who had appeared to him. <sup>8</sup>Then he traveled from Shechem to the mountain east of Bethel and set up his tent there. Bethel was to the west, and Ai was to the east. There Abram built another altar to the Lord and worshiped him. <sup>9</sup>After this, he traveled on toward southern Canaan.

Abram Goes to Egypt

<sup>10</sup>At this time there was not much food in the land, so Abram went down to Egypt to live because there was so little food. <sup>11</sup>Just before they arrived in Egypt, he said to his wife Sarai, “I know you are a very beautiful woman. <sup>12</sup>When the Egyptians see you, they will say, ‘This woman is his wife.’ Then they will kill me but let you live. <sup>13</sup>Tell them you are my sister so that things will go well with me and I may be allowed to live because of you.”

<sup>14</sup>When Abram came to Egypt, the Egyptians saw that Sarai was very beautiful. <sup>15</sup>The Egyptian officers saw her and told the king of Egypt how beautiful she was. They took her to the king’s palace, and <sup>16</sup>the king was kind to Abram because he thought Abram was her brother. He gave Abram sheep, cattle, male and female donkeys, male and female servants, and camels.

<sup>17</sup>But the Lord sent terrible diseases on the king and all the people in his house because of Abram’s wife Sarai. <sup>18</sup>So the king sent for Abram and said, “What have you done to me? Why didn’t you tell me Sarai was your wife? <sup>19</sup>Why did you say, ‘She is my sister’ so that I made her my wife? Now, here is your wife. Take her and leave!” <sup>20</sup>Then the king commanded his men to make Abram leave Egypt; so Abram and his wife left with everything they owned.

Abram and Lot Separate

So Abram, his wife, and Lot left Egypt, taking everything they owned, and traveled to southern Canaan. <sup>2</sup>Abram was very rich in cattle, silver, and gold.

<sup>3</sup>He left southern Canaan and went back to Bethel where he had camped before, between Bethel and Ai, <sup>4</sup>and where he had built an altar. So he worshiped the Lord there.

<sup>5</sup>During this time Lot was traveling with Abram, and Lot also had flocks, herds, and tents. <sup>6</sup>Abram and Lot had so many animals that the land could not support both of them together, <sup>7</sup>so Abram's herdsmen and Lot's herdsmen began to argue. The Canaanites and the Perizzites were living in the land at this time.

<sup>8</sup>Abram said to Lot, "There should be no arguing between you and me, or between your herdsmen and mine, because we are brothers. <sup>9</sup>We should separate. The whole land is there in front of you. If you go to the left, I will go to the right. If you go to the right, I will go to the left."

<sup>10</sup>Lot looked all around and saw the whole Jordan Valley and that there was much water there. It was like the Lord's garden, like the land of Egypt in the direction of Zoar. (This was before the Lord destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah.) <sup>11</sup>So Lot chose to move east and live in the Jordan Valley. In this way Abram and Lot separated. <sup>12</sup>Abram lived in the land of Canaan, but Lot lived among the cities in the Jordan Valley, very near to Sodom. <sup>13</sup>Now the people of Sodom were very evil and were always sinning against the Lord.

<sup>18</sup>So Abram moved his tents and went to live near the great trees of Mamre at the city of Hebron. There he built an altar to the Lord.

Life Lessons

Genesis 12:1–20

Situation

God promised Abram that many nations would come from his descendants. Abram believed God and obediently moved to an unknown land.

Observation

Although old, Abram left his comfortable life in Ur with only the Lord’s word as a guide. The life changes that he experienced were undoubtedly difficult, but he persevered through the difficult times.

Inspiration

A man once found a cocoon of an Emperor moth and kept it with the purpose of watching the beautiful creature emerge. Finally the day came and it began to struggle through the small opening at one end of the cocoon. The struggle continued for hours, but the moth could never force its body beyond a certain point.

Finally believing that something was wrong and that the opening should have been larger, the man took a pair of scissors and carefully clipped the restraining threads. The moth emerged easily, and crawled out onto the windowsill. Its body was large and swollen, its wings small and shriveled. He supposed that in a few hours the wings would develop into the beautiful objects that he had expected. But it did not happen. The moth that should have been a thing of great beauty free to float and fly, spent its short life dragging around the swollen body and shriveled wings.

The constricting threads and the struggle necessary to pass through the tiny opening had been God's method of forcing fluids from the body into the wings. The "merciful" snip of the threads was the most cruel thing possible.

Often God lets us struggle rather than stepping in like a big brother to do our fighting for us. No doubt he could make it all so easy and every moment of life so pleasant. But as we struggle, becoming exhausted almost beyond endurance, changes occur in us which could not happen otherwise: the "fluids" expand our wings, and in time we can fly. Cut the struggle short at some crucial point and we are crippled forever ... or until God gives another opportunity for struggle that will do what the first aborted struggle should have been allowed to do. Are you experiencing a painful restriction on your lifestyle right now: a broken relationship, a betrayal of trust, a budget squeeze, some debilitating illness, jail time or some other discipline from the Lord? Can you see the plan God may have for you, turning evil into good—as he did for Abraham? Face your struggle courageously and patiently; God may be using it to prepare you for his promised land.

Lot Is Captured

Now Amraphel was king of Babylonia, Arioch was king of Ellasar, Kedorlaomer was king of Elam, and Tidal was king of Goiim. <sup>2</sup>All these kings went to war against several other kings: Bera king of Sodom, Birsha king of Gomorrah, Shinab king of Admah, Shemeber king of Zeboiim, and the king of Bela. (Bela is also called Zoar.)

Abram Rescues Lot

<sup>14</sup>When Abram learned that Lot had been captured, he called out his 318 trained men who had been born in his camp. He led the men and chased the enemy all the way to the town of Dan. <sup>15</sup>That night he divided his men into groups, and they made a surprise attack against the enemy. They chased them all the way to Hobah, north of Damascus. <sup>16</sup>Then Abram brought back everything the enemy had stolen, the women and the other people, and Lot, and everything Lot owned.

<sup>17</sup>After defeating Kedorlaomer and the kings who were with him, Abram went home. As he was returning, the king of Sodom came out to meet him in the Valley of Shaveh (now called King's Valley).

<sup>18</sup>Melchizedek king of Salem brought out bread and wine. He was a priest for God Most High <sup>19</sup>and blessed Abram, saying, “Abram, may you be blessed by God Most High, the God who made heaven and earth.

<sup>20</sup>And we praise God Most High, who has helped you to defeat your enemies.”

Then Abram gave Melchizedek a tenth of everything he had brought back from the battle.

<sup>21</sup>The king of Sodom said to Abram, “You may keep all these things for yourself. Just give me my people who were captured.”

<sup>22</sup>But Abram said to the king of Sodom, “I make a promise to the Lord, the God Most High, who made heaven and earth. <sup>23</sup>I promise that I will not keep anything that is yours. I will not keep even a thread or a sandal strap so that you cannot say, ‘I made Abram rich.’ <sup>24</sup>I will keep nothing but the food my young men have eaten. But give Aner, Eshcol, and Mamre their share of what we won, because they went with me into battle.”

God's Agreement with Abram

After these things happened, the Lord spoke his word to Abram in a vision: "Abram, don't be afraid. I will defend you, and I will give you a great reward."

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: Grace Before the Cross

Abram was far from perfect. There were times when he trusted the Egyptians before he trusted God. He even lied, telling Pharaoh that his wife was his sister. But Abram made one decision that changed his eternal life: He "believed God, and God accepted [Abram's] faith, and that faith made him right with God" (Romans 4:3).

Here is a man justified by faith before his circumcision (v. 10), before the law (v. 13), before Moses and the Ten Commandments. Here is a man justified by faith before the cross! The sin-covering blood of Calvary extends as far into the past as it does into the future.

Abraham is not the only Old Testament hero to cast himself upon God's grace... . We must not see grace as a provision made after the law had failed. Grace was offered before the law was revealed. Indeed, grace was offered before man was created! "You were bought, not with something that ruins like gold or silver, but with the precious blood of Christ, who was like a pure and perfect lamb. Christ was chosen before the world was made, but he was shown to the world in these last times for your sake” (1 Peter 1:18–20). (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

<sup>2</sup>But Abram said, “Lord God, what can you give me? I have no son, so my slave Eliezer from Damascus will get everything I own after I die.” <sup>3</sup>Abram said, “Look, you have given me no son, so a slave born in my house will inherit everything I have.”

<sup>4</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word to Abram: “He will not be the one to inherit what you have. You will have a son of your own who will inherit what you have.”

<sup>5</sup>Then God led Abram outside and said, “Look at the sky. There are so many stars you cannot count them. Your descendants also will be too many to count.”

<sup>7</sup>God said to Abram, “I am the Lord who led you out of Ur of Babylonia so that I could give you this land to own.”

<sup>8</sup>But Abram said, “Lord God, how can I be sure that I will own this land?”

<sup>10</sup>Abram brought them all to God. Then Abram killed the animals and cut each of them into two pieces, laying each half opposite the other half. But he did not cut the birds in half.

<sup>12</sup>As the sun was going down, Abram fell into a deep sleep. While he was asleep, a very terrible darkness came. <sup>13</sup>Then the Lord said to Abram, “You can be sure that your descendants will be strangers and travel in a land they don’t own. The people there will make them slaves and be cruel to them for four hundred years.<sup>14</sup> But I will punish the nation where they are slaves. Then your descendants will leave that land, taking great wealth with them.<sup>15</sup> And you, Abram, will die in peace and will be buried at an old age.<sup>16</sup> After your great-great-grandchildren are born, your people will come to this land again. It will take that long, because I am not yet going to punish the Amorites for their evil behavior.”

<sup>17</sup>After the sun went down, it was very dark. Suddenly a smoking firepot and a blazing torch passed between the halves of the dead animals.<sup>18</sup> So on that day the Lord made an agreement with Abram and said, “I will give to your descendants the land between the river of Egypt and the great river Euphrates.<sup>19</sup> This is the land of the Kenites, Kenizzites, Kadmonites,<sup>20</sup> Hittites, Perizzites, Rephaites,<sup>21</sup> Amorites, Canaanites, Girgashites, and Jebusites.”

Life Lessons

Genesis 13:1–14:24

Situation

In response to God’s promise to give land and descendants, Abram’s family traveled from Haran through Canaan and Egypt (Genesis 11:27–12:20). God told them to avoid the land of Sodom, whose name became synonymous with gross sin (Genesis 13:13; 18:16–19:29). God would destroy that city, and Lot would barely escape.

Observation

Our decisions in life bear spiritual consequences.

Lot selfishly chose the lush Jordan Valley and got himself in trouble (captured by a gang of marauding kings). Abram was willing to take second choice and God blessed him.

Inspiration

Jim spent eight years in prison for murder. He was a drug dealer. In prison, Jim found a second chance in Christ. Now a minister, Jim often speaks to high school students about the decision to take drugs. “Don’t let anyone kid you,” he tells them. “Drugs are fun, drugs make you feel good, and getting high is fun. You know the beginning of drugs, and it’s fun. But I know the end of drugs... .” And then Jim tells them about the decisions that nearly ruined his life forever.

While most of us will never self-destruct in the way Jim did, we all face the choice of doing things that look like fun, but which result in a life of pain—divorce, financial disaster, disease, and relationship problems....

The big question for most of us: “Is life in the fast lane where God wants me to be?”

Ishmael Is Born

Sarai, Abram's wife, had no children, but she had a slave girl from Egypt named Hagar. <sup>2</sup>Sarai said to Abram, "Look, the Lord has not allowed me to have children, so have sexual relations with my slave girl. If she has a child, maybe I can have my own family through her."

Abram did what Sarai said. <sup>3</sup>It was after he had lived ten years in Canaan that Sarai gave Hagar to her husband Abram. (Hagar was her slave girl from Egypt.)

<sup>4</sup>Abram had sexual relations with Hagar, and she became pregnant. When Hagar learned she was pregnant, she began to treat her mistress Sarai badly. <sup>5</sup>Then Sarai said to Abram, "This is your fault. I gave my slave girl to you, and when she became pregnant, she began to treat me badly. Let the Lord decide who is right—you or me."

Hagar answered, "I am running away from my mistress Sarai."

<sup>9</sup>The angel of the Lord said to her, "Go home to your mistress and obey her." <sup>10</sup>The angel also said, "I will give you so many descendants they cannot be counted."

and you will have a son.
You will name him Ishmael, because the Lord has heard your cries.
<sup>12</sup>Ishmael will be like a wild donkey.
He will be against everyone, and everyone will be against him.
He will attack all his brothers.”

“You are ‘God who sees me,’ ” because she said to herself, “Have I really seen God who sees me?” <sup>14</sup>So the well there, between Kadesh and Bered, was called Beer Lahai Roi.

him Ishmael. <sup>16</sup>Abram was eighty-six years old when Hagar gave birth to Ishmael.

Proof of the Agreement

When Abram was ninety-nine years old, the Lord appeared to him and said, “I am God Almighty. Obey me and do what is right. <sup>2</sup>I will make an agreement between us, and I will make you the ancestor of many people.”

<sup>3</sup>Then Abram bowed facedown on the ground. God said to him, <sup>4</sup>“I am making my agreement with you: I will make you the father of many nations. <sup>5</sup>I am changing your name from Abram to Abraham because I am making you a father of many nations. <sup>6</sup>I will give you many descendants. New nations will be born from you, and kings will come from you. <sup>7</sup>And I will make an agreement between me and you and all your descendants from now on: I will be your God and the God of all your descendants. <sup>8</sup>You live in the land of Canaan now as a stranger, but I will give you and your descendants all this land forever. And I will be the God of your descendants.”

<sup>9</sup>Then God said to Abraham, “You and your descendants must keep this agreement from now on. <sup>10</sup>This is my agreement with you and all your descendants, which you must obey: Every male among you must be circumcised. <sup>11</sup>Cut away your foreskin to show that you are prepared to follow the agreement between me and you. <sup>12</sup>From now on when a baby boy is eight days old, you will circumcise him. This includes any boy born among your people or any who is your slave, who is not one of your descendants. <sup>13</sup>Circumcise every baby boy whether he is born in your family or bought as a slave. Your bodies will be marked to show that you are part of my agreement that lasts forever. <sup>14</sup>Any male who is not circumcised will be cut off from his people, because he has broken my agreement.”

Isaac—the Promised Son

<sup>15</sup>God said to Abraham, “I will change the name of Sarai, your wife, to Sarah. <sup>16</sup>I will bless her and give her a son, and you will be the father. She will be the mother of many nations. Kings of nations will come from her.”

<sup>17</sup>Abraham bowed facedown on the ground and laughed. He said to himself, “Can a man have a child when he is a hundred years old? Can Sarah give birth to a child when she is ninety?” <sup>18</sup>Then Abraham said to God, “Please let Ishmael be the son you promised.”

<sup>19</sup>God said, “No, Sarah your wife will have a son, and you will name him Isaac. I will make my agreement with him to be an agreement that continues forever with all his descendants.

<sup>20</sup>“As for Ishmael, I have heard you. I will bless him and give him many descendants. And I will cause their numbers to grow greatly. He will be the father of twelve great leaders, and I will make him into a great nation. <sup>21</sup>But I will make my agreement with Isaac, the son whom Sarah will have at this same time next year.” <sup>22</sup>After God finished talking with Abraham, God rose and left him.

<sup>23</sup>Then Abraham gathered Ishmael, all the males born in his camp, and the slaves he had bought. So that day Abraham circumcised every man and boy in his camp as God had told him to do. <sup>24</sup>Abraham was ninety-nine years old when he was circumcised. <sup>25</sup>And Ishmael, his son, was thirteen years old when he was circumcised. <sup>26</sup>Abraham and his son were circumcised on the same day.<sup>27</sup> Also on that day all the men in Abraham's camp were circumcised, including all those born in his camp and all the slaves he had bought from other nations.

Genesis 15:1–17:27

Situation

God promised descendants and land to the aging traveler, Abram. Despite God's promise to him, nagging doubt caused Abram to waver between shortsighted compromise and obedient faith.

Observation

God keeps his promises and rewards our obedient faith. When God promises to direct our paths, we can be confident he will carefully lead us.

Inspiration

I grew up in Southern California and my favorite activity was swimming. There was only one time I had to be rescued. When I was in ninth grade I went with some older friends to Tamarack State Beach near Oceanside, California, for a day of body-surfing. The waves were great that day. I decided to swim a little farther from shore in the hopes of catching some larger waves.

I was so intent on catching the waves I didn't notice that the waves were beginning to break in a pattern that can produce rip tides. As I was swimming farther out, I dove underneath a wave that was breaking right in front of me. Rather than immediately coming back up to the surface, I felt tremendous pressure pushing my body down and pulling me out to sea. I had no idea what was happening. My feet touched the bottom. I tried to push myself up but couldn't. I was almost out of air and I panicked. I also prayed.

I forgot what I said to God but obviously He heard me. Suddenly I found myself on the surface of the water. I was exhausted and afraid it would happen again. I heard a voice shouting to me. I turned towards the voice to see a lifeguard throwing a life preserver and hung on for dear life. With the rope in one hand the lifeguard pulled me in.

When I made it to shore I was a bit embarrassed, but most of all I was grateful. The lifeguard said he had been watching me. He could see there was rip tide condition and knew I wasn't aware of it. Before I had gone under he was already swimming towards me to warn me and, if necessary, rescue me.

Over the years I've realized that living the Christian life is a lot like the experience I had that day. Even though I wasn't aware of it, the lifeguard had his eyes on me and knew I was moving into dangerous water. He was in the water before I needed him—just in case.

God is our lifeguard. . . . God's promises are like life preservers. They keep the soul from sinking into the sea of discouragement. . . .

When your perspective becomes distorted and your problems begin to consume your entire field of vision, you need a perspective preserver. When it feels like God has deserted you and you begin to get discouraged, you will find that God's promises will always pull you out and bring you back to safety.

The Three Visitors

Later, the Lord again appeared to Abraham near the great trees of Mamre. Abraham was sitting at the entrance of his tent during the hottest part of the day. <sup>2</sup>He looked up and saw three men standing near him. When Abraham saw them, he ran from his tent to meet them. He bowed facedown on the ground before them<sup>3</sup>and said, “Sir, if you think well of me, please stay awhile with me, your servant. <sup>4</sup>I will bring some water so all of you can wash your feet. You may rest under the tree, <sup>5</sup>and I will get some bread for you so you can regain your strength. Then you may continue your journey.”

The three men said, “That is fine. Do as you said.”

“There, in the tent,” said Abraham.

<sup>10</sup>Then the Lord said, “I will certainly return to you about this time a year from now. At that time your wife Sarah will have a son.”

Sarah was listening at the entrance of the tent which was behind him. <sup>11</sup>Abraham and Sarah were very old. Since Sarah was past the age when women normally have children, <sup>12</sup>she laughed to herself, “My husband and I are too old to have a baby.”

<sup>13</sup>Then the Lord said to Abraham, “Why did Sarah laugh? Why did she say, ‘I am too old to have a baby’? <sup>14</sup>Is anything too hard for the Lord? No! I will return to you at the right time a year from now, and Sarah will have a son.”

But the Lord said, “No. You did laugh.”

<sup>16</sup>Then the men got up to leave and started out toward Sodom. Abraham walked along with them a short time to send them on their way.

Abraham’s Bargain with God

<sup>17</sup>The Lord said, “Should I tell Abraham what I am going to do now? <sup>18</sup>Abraham’s children will certainly become a great and powerful nation, and all nations on earth will be blessed through him. <sup>19</sup>I have chosen him so he would command his children and his descendants to live the way the Lord wants them to, to live right and be fair. Then I, the Lord, will give Abraham what I promised him.”

<sup>20</sup>Then the Lord said, “I have heard many complaints against the people of Sodom and Gomorrah. They are very evil. <sup>21</sup>I will go down and see if they are as bad as I have heard. If not, I will know.”

<sup>22</sup>So the men turned and went toward Sodom, but Abraham stood there before the Lord. <sup>23</sup>Then Abraham approached him and asked, “Do you plan to destroy the good people along with the evil ones? <sup>24</sup>What if there are fifty good people in that city? Will you still destroy it? Surely you will save the city for the fifty good people living there. <sup>25</sup>Surely you will not destroy the good people along with the evil ones; then they would be treated the same. You are the judge of all the earth. Won't you do what is right?"

<sup>26</sup>The Lord said, "If I find fifty good people in the city of Sodom, I will save the whole city because of them."

<sup>27</sup>Then Abraham said, "Though I am only dust and ashes, I have been brave to speak to the Lord. <sup>28</sup>What if there are only forty-five good people in the city? Will you destroy the whole city for the lack of five good people?"

The Lord said, "If I find forty-five there, I will not destroy the city."

<sup>29</sup>Again Abraham said to him, "If you find only forty good people there, will you destroy the city?"

The Lord said, "If I find forty, I will not destroy it."

<sup>30</sup>Then Abraham said, "Lord, please don't be angry with me, but let me ask you this. If you find only thirty good people in the city, will you destroy it?"

He said, "If I find thirty good people there, I will not destroy the city."

<sup>31</sup>Then Abraham said, "I have been brave to speak to the Lord. But what if there are twenty good people in the city?"

He answered, "If I find twenty there, I will not destroy the city."

<sup>32</sup>Then Abraham said, "Lord, please don't be angry with me, but let me bother you this one last time. What if you find ten there?"

He said, "If I find ten there, I will not destroy it."

Genesis 18:1–20:18

Situation

God planned to destroy Sodom and Gomorrah for their many sins. Abraham pleaded with God for Sodom in order to save Lot's life. God completely punished the city but rescued Lot by sending two angels to escort him away.

Observation

God punishes sin but protects righteousness. God destroyed entire cities because the evil practiced in them was great.

Inspiration

Though God's people often forgot their God, God didn't forget them. He kept his word... He could have given up. He could have turned his back. He could have walked away from the wretched mess, but he didn't.

He didn't give up.

When he became flesh and was the victim of an assassination attempt before he was two years old, he didn't give up.

When the people from his own home town tried to push him over a cliff, he didn't give up.

When his brothers ridiculed him, he didn't give up.

When he was accused of blaspheming God by people who didn't fear God, he didn't give up.

When Peter worshiped him at the supper and cursed him at the fire, he didn't give up.

When people spat in his face, he didn't spit back. When the bystanders slapped him, he didn't slap them. When a whip ripped his sides, he didn't turn and command the awaiting angels to stuff that whip down that soldier's throat.

And when human hands fastened the divine hands to a cross with spikes, it wasn't the soldiers who held the hands of Jesus steady. It was God who held them steady. For those wounded hands were the same hands that had ... brought light into thick and dreadful darkness. They had come to do it again.

Application

Does the place where you live resemble Sodom? Stand against evil in your town or city. Be a voice for righteousness. Brainstorm with a friend how you can make a difference.

Lot Leaves Sodom

The two angels came to Sodom in the evening as Lot was sitting near the city gate. When he saw them, he got up and went to them and bowed facedown on the ground. <sup>2</sup>Lot said, “Sirs, please come to my house and spend the night. There you can wash your feet, and then tomorrow you may continue your journey.”

The angels answered, “No, we will spend the night in the city’s public square.”

<sup>3</sup>But Lot begged them to come, so they agreed and went to his house. Then Lot prepared a meal for them. He baked bread without yeast, and they ate it.

<sup>4</sup>Before bedtime, men both young and old and from every part of Sodom surrounded Lot’s house. <sup>5</sup>They called to Lot, “Where are the two men who came to you tonight? Bring them out to us so we can have sexual relations with them.”

<sup>6</sup>Lot went outside to them, closing the door behind him. <sup>7</sup>He said, “No, my brothers! Do not do this evil thing. <sup>8</sup>Look! I have two daughters who have never slept with a man. I will give them to you, and you may do anything you want with them. But please don’t do anything to these men. They have come to my house, and I must protect them.”

<sup>9</sup>The men around the house answered, “Move out of the way!” Then they said to each other, “This man Lot came to our city as a stranger, and now he wants to tell us what to do!” They said to Lot, “We will do worse things to you than to them.” They started pushing him back and were ready to break down the door.

<sup>10</sup>But the two men staying with Lot opened the door, pulled him back inside the house, and then closed the door. <sup>11</sup>They struck those outside the door with blindness, so the men, both young and old, could not find the door.

<sup>12</sup>The two men said to Lot, “Do you have any other relatives in this city? Do you have any sons-in-law, sons, daughters, or any other relatives? If you do, tell them to leave now, <sup>13</sup>because we are about to destroy this city. The Lord has heard of all the evil that is here, so he has sent us to destroy it.”

<sup>14</sup>So Lot went out and said to his future sons-in-law who were pledged to marry his daughters, “Hurry and leave this city! The Lord is about to destroy it!” But they thought Lot was joking.

<sup>15</sup>At dawn the next morning, the angels begged Lot to hurry. They said, “Go! Take your wife and your two daughters with you so you will not be destroyed when the city is punished.”

<sup>16</sup>But Lot delayed. So the two men took the hands of Lot, his wife, and his two daughters and led them safely out of the city. So the Lord was merciful to Lot and his family. <sup>17</sup>After they brought them out of the city, one of the men said, “Run for your lives! Don’t look back or stop anywhere in the valley. Run to the mountains, or you will be destroyed.”

<sup>18</sup>But Lot said to one of them, “Sir, please don’t force me to go so far! <sup>19</sup>You have been merciful and kind to me and have saved my life. But I can’t run to the mountains. The disaster will catch me, and I will die. <sup>20</sup>Look, that little town over there is not too far away. Let me run there. It’s really just a little town, and I’ll be safe there.”

<sup>21</sup>The angel said to Lot, “Very well, I will allow you to do this also. I will not destroy that town. <sup>22</sup>But run there fast, because I cannot destroy Sodom until you are safely in that town.” (That town is named Zoar, because it is little.)

Sodom and Gomorrah Are Destroyed

<sup>23</sup>The sun had already come up when Lot entered Zoar. <sup>24</sup>The Lord sent a rain of burning sulfur down from the sky on Sodom and Gomorrah <sup>25</sup>and destroyed those cities. He also destroyed the whole Jordan Valley, everyone living in the cities, and even all the plants.

<sup>27</sup>Early the next morning, Abraham got up and went to the place where he had stood before the Lord. <sup>28</sup>He looked down toward Sodom and Gomorrah and all the Jordan Valley and saw smoke rising from the land, like smoke from a furnace.

<sup>29</sup>God destroyed the cities in the valley, but he remembered what Abraham had asked. So God saved Lot’s life, but he destroyed the city where Lot had lived.

Lot and His Daughters

<sup>30</sup>Lot was afraid to continue living in Zoar, so he and his two daughters went to live in the mountains in a cave. <sup>31</sup>One day the older daughter said to the younger, “Our father is old. Everywhere on the earth women and men marry, but there are no men around here for us to marry. <sup>32</sup>Let’s get our father drunk and have sexual relations with him. We can use him to have children and continue our family.”

<sup>33</sup>That night the two girls got their father drunk, and the older daughter went and had sexual relations with him. But Lot did not know when she lay down or when she got up.

<sup>34</sup>The next day the older daughter said to the younger, “Last night I had sexual relations with my father. Let’s get him drunk again tonight so you can go and have sexual relations with him, too. In this way we can use our father to have children to continue our family.” <sup>35</sup>So that night they got their father drunk again, and the younger daughter went and had sexual relations with him. Again, Lot did not know when she lay down or when she got up.

<sup>36</sup>So both of Lot’s daughters became pregnant by their father. <sup>37</sup>The older daughter gave birth to a son and named him Moab. He is the ancestor of all the Moabite people who are still living today. <sup>38</sup>The younger daughter also gave birth to a son and named him Ben-Ammi. He is the father of all the Ammonite people who are still living today.

Abraham Tricks Abimelech

Abraham left Hebron and traveled to southern Canaan where he stayed awhile between Kadesh and Shur. When he moved to Gerar, <sup>2</sup>he told people that his wife Sarah was his sister. Abimelech king of Gerar heard this, so he sent some servants to take her. <sup>3</sup>But one night God spoke to Abimelech in a dream and said, “You will die. The woman you took is married.”

<sup>4</sup>But Abimelech had not gone near Sarah, so he said, “Lord, would you destroy an innocent nation? <sup>5</sup>Abraham himself told me, ‘This woman is my sister,’ and she also said, ‘He is my brother.’ I am innocent. I did not know I was doing anything wrong.”

<sup>6</sup>Then God said to Abimelech in the dream, “Yes, I know you did not realize what you were doing. So I did not allow you to sin against me and touch her. <sup>7</sup>Give Abraham his wife back. He is a prophet. He will pray for you, and you will not die. But if you do not give Sarah back, you and all your family will surely die.”

<sup>8</sup>So early the next morning, Abimelech called all his officers and told them everything that had happened in the dream. They were very afraid. <sup>9</sup>Then Abimelech called Abraham to him and said, “What have you done to us? What wrong did I do against you? Why did you bring this trouble to my kingdom? You should not have done these things to me. <sup>10</sup>What were you thinking that caused you to do this?”

<sup>12</sup>And it is true that she is my sister. She is the daughter of my father, but she is not the daughter of my mother. <sup>13</sup>When God told me to leave my father's house and wander in many different places, I told Sarah, "You must do a special favor for me. Everywhere we go tell people I am your brother." "

<sup>14</sup>Then Abimelech gave Abraham some sheep, cattle, and male and female slaves. He also gave Sarah, Abraham's wife, back to him <sup>15</sup>and said, "Look around you at my land. You may live anywhere you want."

<sup>16</sup>Abimelech said to Sarah, "I gave your brother Abraham twenty-five pounds of silver to make up for any wrong that people may think about you. I want everyone to know that you are innocent."

<sup>17</sup>Then Abraham prayed to God, and God healed Abimelech, his wife, and his servant girls so they could have children. <sup>18</sup>The Lord had kept all the women in Abimelech's house from having children as a punishment on Abimelech for taking Abraham's wife Sarah.

A Baby for Sarah

The Lord cared for Sarah as he had said and did for her what he had promised. <sup>2</sup>Sarah became pregnant and gave birth to a son for Abraham in his old age. Everything happened at the time God had said it would. <sup>3</sup>Abraham named his son Isaac, the son Sarah gave birth to. <sup>4</sup>He circumcised Isaac when he was eight days old as God had commanded.

<sup>5</sup>Abraham was one hundred years old when his son Isaac was born. <sup>6</sup>And Sarah said, “God has made me laugh. Everyone who hears about this will laugh with me. <sup>7</sup>No one thought that I would be able to have Abraham’s child, but even though Abraham is old I have given him a son.”

Hagar and Ishmael Leave

<sup>11</sup>This troubled Abraham very much because Ishmael was also his son. <sup>12</sup>But God said to Abraham, “Don’t be troubled about the boy and the slave woman. Do whatever Sarah tells you. The descendants I promised you will be from Isaac. <sup>13</sup>I will also make the descendants of Ishmael into a great nation because he is your son, too.”

<sup>14</sup>Early the next morning Abraham took some food and a leather bag full of water. He gave them to Hagar and sent her away. Carrying these things and her son, Hagar went and wandered in the desert of Beersheba.

<sup>15</sup>Later, when all the water was gone from the bag, Hagar put her son under a bush. <sup>16</sup>Then she went away a short distance and sat down. She thought, “My son will die, and I cannot watch this happen.” She sat there and began to cry.

<sup>17</sup>God heard the boy crying, and God’s angel called to Hagar from heaven. He said, “What is wrong, Hagar? Don’t be afraid! God has heard the boy crying there. <sup>18</sup>Help him up and take him by the hand. I will make his descendants into a great nation.”

<sup>20</sup>God was with the boy as he grew up. Ishmael lived in the desert and became an archer. <sup>21</sup>He lived in the Desert of Paran, and his mother found a wife for him in Egypt.

Abraham’s Bargain with Abimelech

<sup>22</sup>Then Abimelech came with Phicol, the commander of his army, and said to Abraham, “God is with you in everything you do. <sup>23</sup>So make a promise to me here before God that you will be fair with me and my children and my descendants. Be kind to me and to this land where you have lived as a stranger—as kind as I have been to you.”

<sup>33</sup>Abraham planted a tamarisk tree at Beersheba and prayed to the Lord, the God who lives forever. <sup>34</sup>And Abraham lived as a stranger in the land of the Philistines for a long time.

Life Lessons

Genesis 21:1–23:20

Situation

Even though Sarah doubted, God demonstrated his faithfulness by providing a son for her. God also took care of Hagar after she was forced to leave Abraham’s camp. God fulfilled his promises when conditions appeared hopeless.

Observation

God will fulfill his promises, no matter how difficult our problems. Even when we don’t know how God will act, we must trust that he watches over us.

Inspiration

Consider the case of Sarai. She is in her golden years, but God promises her a son. She gets excited. She visits the maternity shop and buys a few dresses. She plans her shower and remodels her tent ... but no son. She eats a few birthday cakes and blows out a lot of candles ... still no son. She goes through a decade of wall calendars ... still no son....

Finally, fourteen years later, when Abram is pushing a century of years and Sarai ninety ... when Abram has stopped listening to Sarai's advice, and Sarai has stopped giving it ... when the wallpaper in the nursery is faded and the baby furniture is several seasons out of date ... when the topic of the promised child brings sighs and tears and long looks into a silent sky ... God pays them a visit and tells them they had better select a name for their new son.

Abram and Sarai have the same response: laughter. They laugh partly because it is too good to happen and partly because it might. They laugh because they have given up hope, and hope born anew is always funny before it is real....

They laugh because that is what you do when someone says he can do the impossible. They laugh a little at God, and a lot with God—for God is laughing, too. Then, with the smile still on his face, he gets busy doing what he does best—the unbelievable....

He changes their faith. He changes their names. He changes the number of their tax deductions. He changes the way they define the word “impossible.”

But most of all, he changes Sarah's attitude about trusting God. (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

When you've made big mistakes and your life appears to be headed for shipwreck, who can help? Are there any promises more comforting than God's? When you feel anxious today, STOP. Pray: "God, I trust in your faithfulness to change both my attitude and my circumstances."

God Tests Abraham

After these things God tested Abraham's faith. God said to him, "Abraham!"

And he answered, "Here I am."

<sup>2</sup>Then God said, "Take your only son, Isaac, the son you love, and go to the land of Moriah. Kill him there and offer him as a whole burnt offering on one of the mountains I will tell you about."

<sup>3</sup>Abraham got up early in the morning and saddled his donkey. He took Isaac and two servants with him. After he cut the wood for the sacrifice, they went to the place God had told them to go. <sup>4</sup>On the third day Abraham looked up and saw the place in the distance. <sup>5</sup>He said to his servants, "Stay here with the donkey. My son and I will go over there and worship, and then we will come back to you."

<sup>6</sup>Abraham took the wood for the sacrifice and gave it to his son to carry, but he himself took the knife and the fire. So he and his son went on together.

Abraham answered, "Yes, my son."

Isaac said, "We have the fire and the wood, but where is the lamb we will burn as a sacrifice?"

So Abraham and his son went on together <sup>9</sup>and came to the place God had told him about. Abraham built an altar there. He laid the wood on it and then tied up his son Isaac and laid him on the wood on the altar. <sup>10</sup>Then Abraham took his knife and was about to kill his son.

Abraham answered, “Yes.”

<sup>12</sup>The angel said, “Don’t kill your son or hurt him in any way. Now I can see that you trust God and that you have not kept your son, your only son, from me.”

<sup>13</sup>Then Abraham looked up and saw a male sheep caught in a bush by its horns. So Abraham went and took the sheep and killed it. He offered it as a whole burnt offering to God, and his son was saved. <sup>14</sup>So Abraham named that place The Lord Provides. Even today people say, “On the mountain of the Lord it will be provided.”

<sup>15</sup>The angel of the Lord called to Abraham from heaven a second time <sup>16</sup>and said, “The Lord says, ‘Because you did not keep back your son, your only son, from me, I make you this promise by my own name: <sup>17</sup>I will surely bless you and give you many descendants. They will be as many as the stars in the sky and the sand on the seashore, and they will capture the cities of their enemies. <sup>18</sup>Through your descendants all the nations on the earth will be blessed, because you obeyed me.’”

Rebekah. Milcah was the mother of these eight sons, and Nahor, Abraham's brother, was the father. <sup>24</sup>Also Nahor had four other sons by his slave woman Reumah. Their names were Tebah, Gaham, Tahash, and Maacah.

Sarah Dies

Sarah lived to be one hundred twenty-seven years old.<sup>2</sup>She died in Kiriath Arba (that is, Hebron) in the land of Canaan. Abraham was very sad and cried because of her.<sup>3</sup>After a while he got up from the side of his wife's body and went to talk to the Hittites. He said,<sup>4</sup>"I am only a stranger and a foreigner here. Sell me some of your land so that I can bury my dead wife."

<sup>5</sup>The Hittites answered Abraham, <sup>6</sup>"Sir, you are a great leader among us. You may have the best place we have to bury your dead. You may have any of our burying places that you want, and none of us will stop you from burying your dead wife."

<sup>7</sup>Abraham rose and bowed to the people of the land, the Hittites.<sup>8</sup>He said to them, "If you truly want to help me bury my dead wife here, speak to Ephron, the son of Zohar for me.<sup>9</sup>Ask him to sell me the cave of Machpelah at the edge of his field. I will pay him the full price. You can be the witnesses that I am buying it as a burial place."

<sup>12</sup>Then Abraham bowed down before the Hittites.<sup>13</sup>He said to Ephron before all the people, "Please let me pay you the full price for the field. Accept my money, and I will bury my dead there."

A Wife for Isaac

Abraham was now very old, and the Lord had blessed him in every way. <sup>2</sup>Abraham said to his oldest servant, who was in charge of everything he owned, “Put your hand under my leg. <sup>3</sup>Make a promise to me before the Lord, the God of heaven and earth. Don’t get a wife for my son from the Canaanite girls who live around here. <sup>4</sup>Instead, go back to my country, to the land of my relatives, and get a wife for my son Isaac.”

<sup>5</sup>The servant said to him, “What if this woman does not want to return with me to this land? Then, should I take your son with me back to your homeland?”

<sup>6</sup>Abraham said to him, “No! Don’t take my son back there. <sup>7</sup>The Lord, the God of heaven, brought me from the home of my father and the land of my relatives. And he promised me, ‘I will give this land to your descendants.’ The Lord will send his angel before you to help you get a wife for my son there. <sup>8</sup>If the girl won’t come back with you, you will be free from this promise. But you must not take my son back there.” <sup>9</sup>So the servant put his hand under his master’s leg and made a promise to Abraham about this.

kindness to my master Abraham. <sup>13</sup>Here I am, standing by the spring, and the girls from the city are coming out to get water. <sup>14</sup>I will say to one of them, 'Please put your jar down so I can drink.' Then let her say, 'Drink, and I will also give water to your camels.' If that happens, I will know she is the right one for your servant Isaac and that you have shown kindness to my master."

<sup>21</sup>The servant quietly watched her. He wanted to be sure the Lord had made his trip successful. <sup>22</sup>After the camels had finished drinking, he gave Rebekah a gold ring weighing one-fifth of an ounce and two gold arm bracelets weighing about four ounces each. <sup>23</sup>He asked, "Who is your father? Is there a place in his house for me and my men to spend the night?"

<sup>24</sup>Rebekah answered, "My father is Bethuel, the son of Milcah and Nahor." <sup>25</sup>Then she said, "And, yes, we have straw for your camels and a place for you to spend the night."

<sup>26</sup>The servant bowed and worshiped the Lord <sup>27</sup>and said, “Blessed is the Lord, the God of my master Abraham. The Lord has been kind and truthful to him and has led me to my master’s relatives.”

<sup>28</sup>Then Rebekah ran and told her mother’s family about all these things. <sup>29</sup>She had a brother named Laban, who ran out to Abraham’s servant, who was still at the spring. <sup>30</sup>Laban had heard what she had said and had seen the ring and the bracelets on his sister’s arms. So he ran out to the well, and there was the man standing by the camels at the spring. <sup>31</sup>Laban said, “Sir, you are welcome to come in; you don’t have to stand outside. I have prepared the house for you and also a place for your camels.”

<sup>32</sup>So Abraham’s servant went into the house. After Laban unloaded the camels and gave them straw and food, he gave water to Abraham’s servant so he and the men with him could wash their feet. <sup>33</sup>Then Laban gave the servant food, but the servant said, “I will not eat until I have told you why I came.”

So Laban said, “Then tell us.”

<sup>34</sup>He said, “I am Abraham’s servant. <sup>35</sup>The Lord has greatly blessed my master in everything, and he has become a rich man. The Lord has given him many flocks of sheep, herds of cattle, silver and gold, male and female servants, camels, and horses. <sup>36</sup>Sarah, my master’s wife, gave birth to a son when she was old, and my master has given everything he owns to that son. <sup>37</sup>My master had me make a promise to him and said, ‘Don’t get a wife for my son from the Canaanite girls who live around here. <sup>38</sup>Instead, you must go to my father’s people and to my family. There you must get a wife for my son.’ <sup>39</sup>I said to my master, ‘What if the woman will not come back with me?’

<sup>40</sup>But he said, ‘I serve the Lord, who will send his angel with you and will help you. You will get a wife for my son from my family and my father’s people. <sup>41</sup>Then you will be free from the promise. But if they will not give you a wife for my son, you will be free from this promise.’

<sup>42</sup>“Today I came to this spring. I said, ‘Lord, God of my master Abraham, please make my trip successful. <sup>43</sup>I am standing by this spring. I will wait for a young woman to come out to get water, and I will say, “Please give me water from your jar to drink.” <sup>44</sup>Then let her say, “Drink this water, and I will also get water for your camels.” By this I will know the Lord has chosen her for my master’s son.’

<sup>52</sup>When Abraham's servant heard these words, he bowed facedown on the ground before the Lord. <sup>53</sup>Then he gave Rebekah gold and silver jewelry and clothes. He also gave expensive gifts to her brother and mother. <sup>54</sup>The servant and the men with him ate and drank and spent the night there. When they got up the next morning, the servant said, "Now let me go back to my master."

<sup>56</sup>But the servant said to them, "Do not make me wait, because the Lord has made my trip successful. Now let me go back to my master."

<sup>57</sup>Rebekah's brother and mother said, "We will call Rebekah and ask her what she wants to do." <sup>58</sup>They called her and asked her, "Do you want to go with this man now?"

She said, "Yes, I do."

<sup>59</sup>So they allowed Rebekah and her nurse to go with Abraham's servant and his men. <sup>60</sup>They blessed Rebekah and said,

"Our sister, may you be the mother of thousands of people, and may your descendants capture the cities of their enemies."

to think, he looked up and saw camels coming. <sup>64</sup>Rebekah also looked and saw Isaac. Then she jumped down from the camel <sup>65</sup>and asked the servant, “Who is that man walking in the field to meet us?”

The servant answered, “That is my master.” So Rebekah covered her face with her veil.

<sup>66</sup>The servant told Isaac everything that had happened. <sup>67</sup>Then Isaac brought Rebekah into the tent of Sarah, his mother, and she became his wife. Isaac loved her very much, and so he was comforted after his mother’s death.

Genesis 24:1–25:18

Situation

Abraham obeyed God’s plan. Abraham might have married Isaac to a local girl or sent him back to his family’s land to find a wife. But Abraham obeyed God by selecting the right wife from the right spot. Abraham’s loyal servant discerned God’s will and found the right wife—Rebekah, a woman of good heart and determination.

Observation

In God’s will we find successful living. God’s way may be harder than the world’s way—but he rewards obedience!

Inspiration

If you want God’s will, give Him your total self—a living sacrifice—and that means your body and your thoughts, your mind, which He can renew from within, if you let Him. . . .

The guidance of God's Word is primary, basic. It's interesting to note that many of us say we are interested in God's will, but we balk at checking our plans and habits against the plain teaching of the Bible. How can you say you are seeking God's will, if you don't know what the Bible says? This is like going to someone for advice, but not letting him talk. You actually want him to agree with everything you say....

The witness of the Holy Spirit comes as you walk in the Spirit. Prayer is vital here. It's unfortunate that we have made "I'll have to pray about it" something of a cliché. Maybe we should change the phrase to "I will talk with God about it." With God, not at God. Some prayer lists sound like Christmas lists. Others sound like assignments that God should carry out because we are "so spiritual, so deserving."...

Take a look at outward circumstances LAST....

But suppose you feel you have the Word and the Spirit lined up fairly well. How do you evaluate or act upon circumstances? This can be intriguing, exciting. For one thing you have to act in faith on what you already know. Is it evident that there are certain actions that would be worth taking? Some people call this "trying different doors." Sometimes God will slam shut every door but the one He wants you to walk through. You may have to try several doors to learn which is the right one.

No, God's will doesn't drop out of the blue in a special delivery letter. But He has written to you—in His Word. He will talk to you, with the inner witness of His Spirit. And He will guide you as you weigh outward circumstances.

You can be “very religious” about these three checkpoints ... or you can use them like a Christian, in faith, trust, and commitment. Then you will see from your own experience how God’s ways will really satisfy you. (From How to Be a Christian Without Being Religious by Fritz Ridenour)

Application

As you read the Bible, ask God to show you how your plans, goals, and directions conform to his will. Ask him to reveal to you areas where you have strayed from his leading. Consult with other Christians. Ask them for help in thinking through how the Bible applies to your situation.

Abraham's Family

Abraham married again, and his new wife was Keturah.<sup>2</sup>She gave birth to Zimran, Jokshan, Medan, Midian, Ishbak, and Shuah.<sup>3</sup>Jokshan was the father of Sheba and Dedan. Dedan's descendants were the people of Assyria, Letush, and Leum.<sup>4</sup>The sons of Midian were Ephah, Epher, Hanoch, Abida, and Eldaah. All these were descendants of Keturah.<sup>5</sup>Abraham left everything he owned to Isaac.<sup>6</sup>But before Abraham died, he did give gifts to the sons of his other wives, then sent them to the East to be away from Isaac.

from Havilah to Shur, which is east of Egypt stretching toward Assyria. They often attacked the descendants of his brothers.

Isaac's Family

<sup>19</sup>This is the family history of Isaac. Abraham had a son named Isaac. <sup>20</sup>When Isaac was forty years old, he married Rebekah, who came from Northwest Mesopotamia. She was Bethuel's daughter and the sister of Laban the Aramean. <sup>21</sup>Isaac's wife could not have children, so Isaac prayed to the Lord for her. The Lord heard Isaac's prayer, and Rebekah became pregnant.

<sup>22</sup>While she was pregnant, the babies struggled inside her. She asked, "Why is this happening to me?" Then she went to get an answer from the Lord.

"Two nations are in your body, and two groups of people will be taken from you.
One group will be stronger than the other,
and the older will serve the younger."

<sup>24</sup>When the time came, Rebekah gave birth to twins. <sup>25</sup>The first baby was born red. Since his skin was like a hairy robe, he was named Esau. <sup>26</sup>When the second baby was born, he was holding on to Esau's heel, so that baby was named Jacob. Isaac was sixty years old when they were born.

<sup>27</sup>When the boys grew up, Esau became a skilled hunter. He loved to be out in the fields. But Jacob was a quiet man and stayed among the tents. <sup>28</sup>Isaac loved Esau because he hunted the wild animals that Isaac enjoyed eating. But Rebekah loved Jacob.

<sup>29</sup>One day Jacob was boiling a pot of vegetable soup. Esau came in from hunting in the fields, weak from hunger. <sup>30</sup>So Esau said to Jacob, “Let me eat some of that red soup, because I am weak with hunger.” (That is why people call him Edom.)

<sup>32</sup>Esau said, “I am almost dead from hunger. If I die, all of my father’s wealth will not help me.”

<sup>33</sup>But Jacob said, “First, promise me that you will give it to me.” So Esau made a promise to Jacob and sold his part of their father’s wealth to Jacob. <sup>34</sup>Then Jacob gave Esau bread and vegetable soup, and he ate and drank, and then left. So Esau showed how little he cared about his rights as the firstborn son.

Isaac Lies to Abimelech

Now there was a time of hunger in the land, besides the time of hunger that happened during Abraham's life. So Isaac went to the town of Gerar to see Abimelech king of the Philistines. <sup>2</sup>The Lord appeared to Isaac and said, "Don't go down to Egypt, but live in the land where I tell you to live. <sup>3</sup>Stay in this land, and I will be with you and bless you. I will give you and your descendants all these lands, and I will keep the oath I made to Abraham your father. <sup>4</sup>I will give you many descendants, as hard to count as the stars in the sky, and I will give them all these lands. Through your descendants all the nations on the earth will be blessed. <sup>5</sup>I will do this because your father Abraham obeyed me. He did what I said and obeyed my commands, my teachings, and my rules."

<sup>6</sup>So Isaac stayed in Gerar. <sup>7</sup>His wife Rebekah was very beautiful, and the men of that place asked Isaac about her. Isaac said, "She is my sister," because he was afraid to tell them she was his wife. He thought they might kill him so they could have her.

<sup>8</sup>Isaac lived there a long time. One day as Abimelech king of the Philistines looked out his window, he saw Isaac holding his wife Rebekah tenderly. <sup>9</sup>Abimelech called for Isaac and said, "This woman is your wife. Why did you say she was your sister?"

Isaac said to him, "I was afraid you would kill me so you could have her."

<sup>10</sup>Abimelech said, "What have you done to us? One of our men might have had sexual relations with your wife. Then we would have been guilty of a great sin.”

<sup>11</sup>So Abimelech warned everyone, “Anyone who touches this man or his wife will be put to death.”

Isaac Becomes Rich

<sup>12</sup>Isaac planted seed in that land, and that year he gathered a great harvest. The Lord blessed him very much, <sup>13</sup>and he became rich. He gathered more wealth until he became a very rich man. <sup>14</sup>He had so many slaves and flocks and herds that the Philistines envied him. <sup>15</sup>So they stopped up all the wells the servants of Isaac’s father Abraham had dug. (They had dug them when Abraham was alive.) The Philistines filled those wells with dirt. <sup>16</sup>And Abimelech said to Isaac, “Leave our country because you have become much more powerful than we are.”

to him that night and said, “I am the God of your father Abraham. Don’t be afraid, because I am with you. I will bless you and give you many descendants because of my servant Abraham.”<sup>25</sup> So Isaac built an altar and worshiped the Lord there. He also made a camp there, and his servants dug a well.

<sup>26</sup> Abimelech came from Gerar to see Isaac. He brought with him Ahuzzath, who advised him, and Phicol, the commander of his army. <sup>27</sup> Isaac asked them, “Why have you come to see me? You were my enemy and forced me to leave your country.”

<sup>28</sup> They answered, “Now we know that the Lord is with you. Let us swear an oath to each other. Let us make an agreement with you <sup>29</sup> that since we did not hurt you, you will not hurt us. We were good to you and sent you away in peace. Now the Lord has blessed you.”

<sup>30</sup> So Isaac prepared food for them, and they all ate and drank. <sup>31</sup> Early the next morning the men swore an oath to each other. Then Isaac sent them away, and they left in peace.

Telling the Truth

Are you in a dilemma, wondering if you should tell the truth or not? The question to ask in such moments is, Will God bless my deceit? Will he, who hates lies, bless a strategy built on lies? Will the Lord, who loves the truth, bless the business of falsehoods? Will God honor the career of the manipulator? Will God come to the aid of the cheater?

Will God bless my dishonesty?

I don't think so. Examine your heart. Ask yourself some tough questions.

Am I being completely honest with my spouse and children? Are my relationships marked by candor? What about my work or school environment? Am I honest in my dealings? Am I a trustworthy student? An honest taxpayer? A reliable witness at work?

Do you tell the truth ... always?

If not, start today. Don't wait until tomorrow. The ripple of today's lie is tomorrow's wave and next year's flood. Start today. Be just like Jesus. Tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Question: Are you telling the truth—the whole truth—to your friends and family? Is your life an open statement of truth?

Genesis 26:1–35

Situation

Despite God's clear promise to Isaac, he lacked faith. But through his encounter with Abimelech he learned to trust that God would protect him, provide for him, and fulfill his promise.

Observation

God protects and provides for people who follow him. Even though we may doubt, God's faithfulness does not waver.

Inspiration

Faith is a vital, life-changing, and creative power in human experience. It is belief in and intellectual assent to valid doctrine and acceptance of a sound theological position. But even more, faith is an in-depth assurance, a profound certainty that God will actually do what, in the Bible, He says He will do. The promises of Holy Scripture I personally believe to be true, without any doubt whatsoever.

So the reason for my strong faith is that the Bible teaches faith. Faith has demonstrated its validity in all kinds of circumstances in my life. As I have believed and practiced faith in God and in Jesus Christ, the most wonderful things have happened: peace, joy, and victory. Moreover, other people with deep faith, known to me, have experienced, unmistakably, the power of God operating in their lives. As a result, my own faith in faith as the power of God in action has become ever more certain. . . .

The Bible tells us that by faith we can move mountains of difficulty and trouble. “Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove: and nothing shall be impossible for you.” This means no superficial or a soft kind of faith, but instead the kind that makes and keeps us “Strong and of good courage.” It must be real, deep, positive faith. The sturdy, faith-believing, wonder-working New Testament tells us, “I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.”

(From The Positive Power of Jesus Christ by Norman Vincent Peale)

Application

What causes you to feel anxious? Bills? Boss? School? Work project? Pray when these situations arise. Believe that God will be faithful to you.

Jacob Tricks Isaac

When Isaac was old, his eyesight was poor, so he could not see clearly. One day he called his older son Esau to him and said, “Son.”

Esau answered, “Here I am.”

<sup>2</sup>Isaac said, “I am old and don’t know when I might die. <sup>3</sup>So take your bow and arrows and go hunting in the field for an animal for me to eat. <sup>4</sup>When you prepare the tasty food that I love, bring it to me, and I will eat. Then I will bless you before I die.” <sup>5</sup>So Esau went out in the field to hunt.

Rebekah was listening as Isaac said this to his son Esau. <sup>6</sup>She said to her son Jacob, “Listen, I heard your father saying to your brother Esau, <sup>7</sup>‘Kill an animal and prepare some tasty food for me to eat. Then I will bless you in the presence of the Lord before I die.’ <sup>8</sup>So obey me, my son, and do what I tell you. <sup>9</sup>Go out to our goats and bring me two of the best young ones. I will prepare them just the way your father likes them. <sup>10</sup>Then you will take the food to your father, and he will bless you before he dies.”

<sup>11</sup>But Jacob said to his mother Rebekah, “My brother Esau is a hairy man, and I am smooth! <sup>12</sup>If my father touches me, he will know I am not Esau. Then he will not bless me but will place a curse on me because I tried to trick him.”

<sup>13</sup>So Rebekah said to him, “If your father puts a curse on you, I will accept the blame. Just do what I said and go, get the goats for me.”

<sup>14</sup>So Jacob went out and got two goats and brought them to his mother, and she cooked them in the special way Isaac enjoyed. <sup>15</sup>She took the best clothes of her older son Esau that were in the house and put them on the younger son Jacob. <sup>16</sup>She also took the skins of the goats and put them on Jacob's hands and neck. <sup>17</sup>Then she gave Jacob the tasty food and the bread she had made.

And his father said, "Yes, my son. Who are you?"

<sup>19</sup>Jacob said to him, "I am Esau, your first son. I have done what you told me. Now sit up and eat some meat of the animal I hunted for you. Then bless me."

Jacob answered, "Because the Lord your God helped me to find it."

<sup>21</sup>Then Isaac said to Jacob, "Come near so I can touch you, my son. Then I will know if you are really my son Esau."

<sup>22</sup>So Jacob came near to Isaac his father. Isaac touched him and said, "Your voice sounds like Jacob's voice, but your hands are hairy like the hands of Esau." <sup>23</sup>Isaac did not know it was Jacob, because his hands were hairy like Esau's hands, so Isaac blessed him. <sup>24</sup>Isaac asked, "Are you really my son Esau?"

Jacob answered, "Yes, I am."

<sup>25</sup>Then Isaac said, "Bring me the food, and I will eat it and bless you." So Jacob gave him the food, and he ate. Jacob gave him wine, and he drank. <sup>26</sup>Then Isaac said to him, "My son, come near and kiss me." <sup>27</sup>So Jacob went to his father and kissed him. When Isaac smelled Esau's clothes, he blessed him and said,

“The smell of my son is like the smell of the field that the Lord has blessed.
<sup>28</sup>May God give you plenty of rain and good soil
so that you will have plenty of grain and new wine.
<sup>29</sup>May nations serve you and peoples bow down to you.
May you be master over your brothers, and may your mother’s sons bow down to you.
May everyone who curses you be cursed, and may everyone who blesses you be blessed.”

<sup>30</sup>Isaac finished blessing Jacob. Then, just as Jacob left his father Isaac, Esau came in from hunting. <sup>31</sup>He also prepared some tasty food and brought it to his father. He said, “Father, rise and eat the food that your son killed for you and then bless me.”

He answered, “I am your son—your firstborn son—Esau.”

<sup>33</sup>Then Isaac trembled greatly and said, “Then who was it that hunted the animals and brought me food before you came? I ate it, and I blessed him, and it is too late now to take back my blessing.”

<sup>34</sup>When Esau heard the words of his father, he let out a loud and bitter cry. He said to his father, “Bless me—me, too, my father!”

me these two times. He took away my share of everything you own, and now he has taken away my blessing.” Then Esau asked, “Haven’t you saved a blessing for me?”

“You will live far away from the best land, far from the rain.

<sup>40</sup>You will live by using your sword, and you will be a slave to your brother.
But when you struggle,
you will break free from him.”

<sup>41</sup>After that Esau hated Jacob because of the blessing from Isaac. He thought to himself, “My father will soon die, and I will be sad for him. Then I will kill Jacob.”

<sup>42</sup>Rebekah heard about Esau’s plan to kill Jacob. So she sent for Jacob and said to him, “Listen, your brother Esau is comforting himself by planning to kill you. <sup>43</sup>So, my son, do what I say. My brother Laban is living in Haran. Go to him at once! <sup>44</sup>Stay with him for a while, until your brother is not so angry. <sup>45</sup>In time, your brother will not be angry, and he will forget what you did to him. Then I will send a servant to bring you back. I don’t want to lose both of my sons on the same day.”

Genesis 27:1–28:9

Situation

After Jacob obtained Esau’s birthright, their mother, Rebekah, helped Jacob trick his father into giving him his brother’s blessing, too.

Observation

When people choose to hurt others, God disciplines. God seeks, through his discipline, to save his children from eternal harm.

Inspiration

As a Christian, I most certainly believe in punishment. Biblical justice demands that individuals be held accountable. Throughout the history of ancient Israel, to break God’s law was to invite swift, specific, and certain punishment. When a law was broken, the resulting imbalance could be righted only when the transgressor was punished and thus made to “pay” for his wrong.

Though modern sociologists take offense at this elemental concept of retribution, it is essential. If justice means getting one’s due, then justice is denied when deserved punishment is not received. And ultimately this undermines one’s role as a moral, responsible human being....

In this Biblical sense, punishment is not only just, it is very often redemptive—to the offender, the victim, and society at large. (From The God of Stones and Spiders by Charles Colson)

Application

Never discipline in anger, but always desire the best for the other person. If you are disciplined, take it joyfully. Then thank the individual for having your best interests in mind.

Jacob Searches for a Wife

Isaac called Jacob and blessed him and commanded him, “You must not marry a Canaanite woman.<sup>2</sup> Go to the house of Bethuel, your mother’s father, in Northwest Mesopotamia. Laban, your mother’s brother, lives there. Marry one of his daughters.<sup>3</sup> May God Almighty bless you and give you many children, and may you become a group of many peoples.<sup>4</sup> May he give you and your descendants the blessing of Abraham so that you may own the land where you are now living as a stranger, the land God gave to Abraham.”<sup>5</sup> So Isaac sent Jacob to Northwest Mesopotamia, to Laban the brother of Rebekah. Bethuel the Aramean was the father of Laban and Rebekah, and Rebekah was the mother of Jacob and Esau.

<sup>6</sup>Esau learned that Isaac had blessed Jacob and sent him to Northwest Mesopotamia to find a wife there. He also learned that Isaac had commanded Jacob not to marry a Canaanite woman<sup>7</sup> and that Jacob had obeyed his father and mother and had gone to Northwest Mesopotamia.<sup>8</sup> So Esau saw that his father Isaac did not want his sons to marry Canaanite women.<sup>9</sup> Now Esau already had wives, but he went to Ishmael son of Abraham, and he married Mahalath, Ishmael’s daughter. Mahalath was the sister of Nebaioth.

Jacob’s Dream at Bethel

<sup>10</sup>Jacob left Beersheba and set out for Haran.<sup>11</sup> When he came to a place, he spent the night there because the sun had set. He found a stone and laid his head on it to go to sleep. <sup>12</sup>Jacob dreamed that there was a ladder resting on the earth and reaching up into heaven, and he saw angels of God going up and coming down the ladder. <sup>13</sup>Then Jacob saw the Lord standing above the ladder, and he said, “I am the Lord, the God of Abraham your grandfather, and the God of Isaac. I will give you and your descendants the land on which you are now sleeping. <sup>14</sup>Your descendants will be as many as the dust of the earth. They will spread west and east, north and south, and all the families of the earth will be blessed through you and your descendants. <sup>15</sup>I am with you and will protect you everywhere you go and will bring you back to this land. I will not leave you until I have done what I have promised you.”

<sup>16</sup>Then Jacob woke from his sleep and said, “Surely the Lord is in this place, but I did not know it.” <sup>17</sup>He was afraid and said, “This place frightens me! It is surely the house of God and the gate of heaven.”

<sup>18</sup>Jacob rose early in the morning and took the stone he had slept on and set it up on its end. Then he poured olive oil on the top of it. <sup>19</sup>At first, the name of that city was Luz, but Jacob named it Bethel.

<sup>20</sup>Then Jacob made a promise. He said, “I want God to be with me and to protect me on this journey. I want him to give me food to eat and clothes to wear. <sup>21</sup>so I will be able to return in peace to my father’s house. If the Lord does these things, he will be my God. <sup>22</sup>This stone which I have set up on its end will be the house of God. And I will give God one-tenth of all he gives me.”

Life Lessons

Genesis 28:10–30:43

Situation

Jacob left his home and started a four hundred-mile trip north to Haran to search for a wife. Jacob married, secured work, and had twelve sons.

Observation

Jacob's wives knew that children were one way that God blesses his people. The meaning of many of the children's names reflect this understanding: "Judah" means "praise"; "Gad" means "lucky"; "Asher" means "happy"; "Zebulun" means "honor." More than merely status symbols, these children became the patriarchs of Israel.

Inspiration

Scripture clearly teaches that children are blessed gifts from the Lord. God designed them to be a blessing. They are supposed to be a joy. They are a benediction from the Lord to grace our lives with fulfillment, meaning, happiness, and satisfaction. Parenthood is God's gift to us.

This is true even in a fallen world, infected with the curse of sin. In the midst of all that's evil, children are tokens of God's lovingkindness. They are living proof that God's mercy extends even to fallen, sinful creatures ...

Throughout Scripture we find a running theme that highlights children as blessings from the hand of a loving and merciful God. This becomes evident, for example, in the contest between Leah and Rachel for Jacob's affection ...

Throughout this tale of the parents who gave birth to the various tribes of God's chosen people, one thing is clear: All parties understood that children signified the blessings of the Lord. (From Successful Christian Parenting by John MacArthur)

Application

Do you view children as a blessing or a hassle? What's your attitude when you hear children cry during church or when they get underfoot in the store? Catch yourself during the times when children frustrate you and remember that the even the smallest children are gifts from God.

Jacob Arrives in Northwest Mesopotamia

Then Jacob continued his journey and came to the land of the people of the East. <sup>2</sup>He looked and saw a well in the field and three flocks of sheep lying nearby, because they drank water from this well. A large stone covered the mouth of the well. <sup>3</sup>When all the flocks would gather there, the shepherds would roll the stone away from the well and water the sheep. Then they would put the stone back in its place.

They answered, “We are from Haran.”

They answered, “We know him.”

They answered, “He is well. Look, his daughter Rachel is coming now with his sheep.”

<sup>7</sup>Jacob said, “But look, it is still the middle of the day. It is not time for the sheep to be gathered for the night, so give them water and let them go back into the pasture.”

<sup>8</sup>But they said, “We cannot do that until all the flocks are gathered. Then we will roll away the stone from the mouth of the well and water the sheep.”

<sup>9</sup>While Jacob was talking with the shepherds, Rachel came with her father’s sheep, because it was her job to care for the sheep. <sup>10</sup>When Jacob saw Laban’s daughter Rachel and Laban’s sheep, he went to the well and rolled the stone from its mouth and watered Laban's sheep. Now Laban was the brother of Rebekah, Jacob's mother. <sup>11</sup>Then Jacob kissed Rachel and cried. <sup>12</sup>He told her that he was from her father's family and that he was the son of Rebekah. So Rachel ran home and told her father.

<sup>13</sup>When Laban heard the news about his sister's son Jacob, he ran to meet him. Laban hugged him and kissed him and brought him to his house, where Jacob told Laban everything that had happened.

Jacob Is Tricked

Jacob stayed there a month. <sup>15</sup>Then Laban said to Jacob, "You are my relative, but it is not right for you to work for me without pay. What would you like me to pay you?"

<sup>16</sup>Now Laban had two daughters. The older was Leah, and the younger was Rachel. <sup>17</sup>Leah had weak eyes, but Rachel was very beautiful. <sup>18</sup>Jacob loved Rachel, so he said to Laban, "Let me marry your younger daughter Rachel. If you will, I will work seven years for you."

<sup>19</sup>Laban said, "It would be better for her to marry you than someone else, so stay here with me." <sup>20</sup>So Jacob worked for Laban seven years so he could marry Rachel. But they seemed like just a few days to him because he loved Rachel very much.

<sup>21</sup>After seven years Jacob said to Laban, "Give me Rachel so that I may marry her. The time I promised to work for you is over."

<sup>22</sup>So Laban gave a feast for all the people there. <sup>23</sup>That evening he brought his daughter Leah to Jacob, and they had sexual relations.<sup>24</sup>(Laban gave his slave girl Zilpah to his daughter to be her servant.)<sup>25</sup>In the morning when Jacob saw that he had had sexual relations with Leah, he said to Laban, “What have you done to me? I worked hard for you so that I could marry Rachel! Why did you trick me?”

<sup>26</sup>Laban said, “In our country we do not allow the younger daughter to marry before the older daughter.<sup>27</sup>But complete the full week of the marriage ceremony with Leah, and I will give you Rachel to marry also. But you must serve me another seven years.”

<sup>28</sup>So Jacob did this, and when he had completed the week with Leah, Laban gave him his daughter Rachel as a wife.<sup>29</sup>(Laban gave his slave girl Bilhah to his daughter Rachel to be her servant.)<sup>30</sup>So Jacob had sexual relations with Rachel also, and Jacob loved Rachel more than Leah. Jacob worked for Laban for another seven years.

Jacob's Family Grows

<sup>31</sup>When the Lord saw that Jacob loved Rachel more than Leah, he made it possible for Leah to have children, but not Rachel.

<sup>32</sup>Leah became pregnant and gave birth to a son. She named him Reuben, because she said, “The Lord has seen my troubles. Surely now my husband will love me.”

<sup>33</sup>Leah became pregnant again and gave birth to another son. She named him Simeon and said, “The Lord has heard that I am not loved, so he has given me this son.”

<sup>34</sup>Leah became pregnant again and gave birth to another son. She named him Levi and said, “Now, surely my husband will be close to me, because I have given him three sons.”

<sup>35</sup>Then Leah gave birth to another son. She named him Judah, because she said, “Now I will praise the Lord.” Then Leah stopped having children.

When Rachel saw that she was not having children for Jacob, she envied her sister Leah. She said to Jacob, “Give me children, or I’ll die!”<sup>2</sup> Jacob became angry with her and said, “Can I do what only God can do? He is the one who has kept you from having children.”

<sup>4</sup>So Rachel gave Bilhah, her slave girl, to Jacob as a wife, and he had sexual relations with her. <sup>5</sup>She became pregnant and gave Jacob a son. <sup>6</sup>Rachel said, “God has judged me innocent. He has listened to my prayer and has given me a son,” so she named him Dan.

<sup>7</sup>Bilhah became pregnant again and gave Jacob a second son. <sup>8</sup>Rachel said, “I have struggled hard with my sister, and I have won.” So she named that son Naphtali.

<sup>9</sup>Leah saw that she had stopped having children, so she gave her slave girl Zilpah to Jacob as a wife. <sup>10</sup>When Zilpah had a son, <sup>11</sup>Leah said, “I am lucky,” so she named him Gad. <sup>12</sup>Zilpah gave birth to another son, <sup>13</sup>and Leah said, “I am very happy! Now women will call me happy,” so she named him Asher.

But Rachel answered, “If you will give me your son’s mandrakes, you may sleep with Jacob tonight.”

<sup>16</sup>When Jacob came in from the field that night, Leah went out to meet him. She said, “You will have sexual relations with me tonight because I have paid for you with my son’s mandrakes.” So Jacob slept with her that night.

<sup>17</sup>Then God answered Leah’s prayer, and she became pregnant again. She gave birth to a fifth son <sup>18</sup>and said, “God has given me what I paid for, because I gave my slave girl to my husband.” So Leah named her son Issachar.

<sup>19</sup>Leah became pregnant again and gave birth to a sixth son. <sup>20</sup>She said, “God has given me a fine gift. Now surely Jacob will honor me, because I have given him six sons,” so she named him Zebulun. <sup>21</sup>Later Leah gave birth to a daughter and named her Dinah.

<sup>22</sup>Then God remembered Rachel and answered her prayer, making it possible for her to have children. <sup>23</sup>When she became pregnant and gave birth to a son, she said, “God has taken away my shame,” <sup>24</sup>and she named him Joseph. Rachel said, “I wish the Lord would give me another son.”

Jacob Tricks Laban

<sup>25</sup>After the birth of Joseph, Jacob said to Laban, “Now let me go to my own home and country. <sup>26</sup>Give me my wives and my children and let me go. I have earned them by working for you, and you know that I have served you well.”

<sup>27</sup>Laban said to him, “If I have pleased you, please stay. I know the Lord has blessed me because of you. <sup>28</sup>Tell me what I should pay you, and I will give it to you.”

you, and your flocks have grown while I cared for them.
<sup>30</sup>When I came, you had little, but now you have much. Every time I did something for you, the Lord blessed you. But when will I be able to do something for my own family?"

<sup>31</sup>Laban asked, "Then what should I give you?"

Jacob answered, "I don't want you to give me anything. Just do this one thing, and I will come back and take care of your flocks.
<sup>32</sup>Today let me go through all your flocks. I will take every speckled or spotted sheep, every black lamb, and every spotted or speckled goat. That will be my pay.
<sup>33</sup>In the future you can easily see if I am honest. When you come to look at my flocks, if I have any goat that isn't speckled or spotted or any lamb that isn't black, you will know I stole it."

<sup>35</sup>But that day Laban took away all the male goats that had streaks or spots, all the speckled and spotted female goats (all those that had white on them), and all the black sheep. He told his sons to watch over them.
<sup>36</sup>Then he took these animals to a place that was three days' journey away from Jacob. Jacob took care of all the flocks that were left.

<sup>39</sup>so the flocks mated in front of the branches. Then the young that were born were streaked, speckled, or spotted.

flock were mating, Jacob put the branches before their eyes so they would mate near the branches.<sup>42</sup> But when the weaker animals mated, Jacob did not put the branches there. So the animals born from the weaker animals were Laban's, and those born from the stronger animals were Jacob's.<sup>43</sup> In this way Jacob became very rich. He had large flocks, many male and female servants, camels, and donkeys.

Life Lessons

Genesis 31:1–33:20

Situation

God commanded Jacob to return to his homeland after years of being mistreated by his father-in-law Laban. Jacob nervously prepared for his meeting with his brother, Esau, whom he'd wronged years ago. God turned Esau's heart to be reconciled with his brother.

Observation

God led Jacob through challenging trials and tests that increased his faith. Jacob realized that this deliverance from Esau's anger was of God.

Inspiration

A couple of weeks after I returned home [from a men's conference where I spoke on the topic of anger] I received this letter from a man named Harold Staub.

Max, Thank you so much for speaking on forgiveness at Promise Keepers in Syracuse, NY, on June 7 and 8. I was there. Just want you to know I went home, talked to my wife on many subjects about forgiveness—the best two weeks of my life. You see, she went home to be with the Lord on June 24, totally forgiven. How wonderful is his love. Thank you so very much.

When we called Harold to ask his permission to print his letter, he shared the touching details of his final days with his wife. He didn't know she was near death, nor did she. He did know, however, that some unresolved issues lay between them. Upon arriving home, he went to her, knelt before her and asked forgiveness for anything he'd ever done. The gesture opened a floodgate of emotions and the two talked late into the night. The initial effort at reconciliation continued for two weeks. The marriage enjoyed a depth not yet known. When Harold's wife died suddenly of an embolism, he was shocked. But he was ready and now he is at peace.

What about you? Would you like some peace? Then quit giving your neighbor such a hassle. Want to enjoy God's generosity? Then let others enjoy yours. Would you like assurance that God forgives you? I think you know what you need to do. (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

Application

What keeps you from reconciling with family and friends on earth? Base your ability to forgive on God's reconciling you to himself through Jesus Christ. An inability to forgive will hinder your relationship with God and others. Take the steps that will provide you with inner peace.

Jacob Runs Away

One day Jacob heard Laban's sons talking. They said, "Jacob has taken everything our father owned, and in this way he has become rich."<sup>2</sup> Then Jacob noticed that Laban was not as friendly as he had been before.<sup>3</sup> The Lord said to Jacob, "Go back to the land where your ancestors lived, and I will be with you."

<sup>4</sup>So Jacob told Rachel and Leah to meet him in the field where he kept his flocks.<sup>5</sup> He said to them, "I have seen that your father is not as friendly with me as he used to be, but the God of my father has been with me.<sup>6</sup> You both know that I have worked as hard as I could for your father,<sup>7</sup> but he cheated me and changed my pay ten times. But God has not allowed your father to harm me.<sup>8</sup> When Laban said, 'You can have all the speckled animals as your pay,' all the animals gave birth to speckled young ones. But when he said, 'You can have all the streaked animals as your pay,' all the flocks gave birth to streaked babies.<sup>9</sup> So God has taken the animals away from your father and has given them to me.

<sup>10</sup>"I had a dream during the season when the flocks were mating. I saw that the only male goats who were mating were streaked, speckled, or spotted.<sup>11</sup> The angel of God spoke to me in that dream and said, 'Jacob!' I answered, 'Yes!' <sup>12</sup>The angel said, 'Look! Only the streaked, speckled, or spotted male goats are mating. I have seen all the wrong things Laban has been doing to you. <sup>13</sup>I am the God who appeared to you at Bethel, where you poured olive oil on the stone you set up on end and where you made a promise to me. Now I want you to leave here and go back to the land where you were born.’”

<sup>14</sup>Rachel and Leah answered Jacob, “Our father has nothing to give us when he dies. <sup>15</sup>He has treated us like strangers. He sold us to you, and then he spent all of the money you paid for us. <sup>16</sup>God took all this wealth from our father, and now it belongs to us and our children. So do whatever God has told you to do.”

<sup>22</sup>Three days later Laban learned that Jacob had run away, <sup>23</sup>so he gathered his relatives and began to chase him. After seven days Laban found him in the mountains of Gilead. <sup>24</sup>That night God came to Laban the Aramean in a dream and said, “Be careful! Do not say anything to Jacob, good or bad.”

The Search for the Stolen Idols

camp in the mountains, so Laban and his relatives set up their camp in the mountains of Gilead.<sup>26</sup> Laban said to Jacob, “What have you done? You cheated me and took my daughters as if you had captured them in a war.<sup>27</sup> Why did you run away secretly and trick me? Why didn’t you tell me? Then I could have sent you away with joy and singing and with the music of tambourines and harps.<sup>28</sup> You did not even let me kiss my grandchildren and my daughters goodbye. You were very foolish to do this!<sup>29</sup> I have the power to harm you, but last night the God of your father spoke to me and warned me not to say anything to you, good or bad.<sup>30</sup> I know you want to go back to your home, but why did you steal my idols?”

<sup>31</sup>Jacob answered Laban, “I left without telling you, because I was afraid you would take your daughters away from me.<sup>32</sup> If you find anyone here who has taken your idols, that person will be killed! Your relatives will be my witnesses. You may look for anything that belongs to you and take anything that is yours.” (Now Jacob did not know that Rachel had stolen Laban’s idols.)

<sup>33</sup>So Laban looked in Jacob’s tent, in Leah’s tent, and in the tent where the two slave women stayed, but he did not find his idols. When he left Leah’s tent, he went into Rachel’s tent.<sup>34</sup> Rachel had hidden the idols inside her camel’s saddle and was sitting on them. Although Laban looked through the whole tent, he did not find them.

<sup>35</sup>Rachel said to her father, “Father, don’t be angry with me. I am not able to stand up before you because I am having my monthly period.” So Laban looked through the camp, but he did not find his idols.

have I done? What law have I broken to cause you to chase me? <sup>37</sup>You have looked through everything I own, but you have found nothing that belongs to you. If you have found anything, show it to everyone. Put it in front of your relatives and my relatives, and let them decide which one of us is right. <sup>38</sup>I have worked for you now for twenty years. During all that time none of the lambs and kids died during birth, and I have not eaten any of the male sheep from your flocks. <sup>39</sup>Any time an animal was killed by wild beasts, I did not bring it to you, but made up for the loss myself. You made me pay for any animal that was stolen during the day or night. <sup>40</sup>In the daytime the sun took away my strength, and at night I was cold and could not sleep. <sup>41</sup>I worked like a slave for you for twenty years—the first fourteen to get your two daughters and the last six to earn your flocks. During that time you changed my pay ten times. <sup>42</sup>But the God of my father, the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac, was with me. Otherwise, you would have sent me away with nothing. But he saw the trouble I had and the hard work I did, and last night he corrected you.”

Jacob and Laban’s Agreement

that place in his language A Pile to Remind Us, and Jacob gave the place the same name in Hebrew.

<sup>48</sup>Laban said to Jacob, “This pile of rocks will remind us of the agreement between us.” That is why the place was called A Pile to Remind Us. <sup>49</sup>It was also called Mizpah, because Laban said, “Let the Lord watch over us while we are separated from each other. <sup>50</sup>Remember that God is our witness even if no one else is around us. He will know if you harm my daughters or marry other women. <sup>51</sup>Here is the pile of rocks that I have put between us and here is the rock I set up on end. <sup>52</sup>This pile of rocks and this rock set on end will remind us of our agreement. I will never go past this pile to hurt you, and you must never come to my side of them to hurt me. <sup>53</sup>Let the God of Abraham, who is the God of Nahor and the God of their fathers, punish either of us if we break this agreement.”

So Jacob made a promise in the name of the God whom his father Isaac worshiped. <sup>54</sup>Then Jacob killed an animal and offered it as a sacrifice on the mountain, and he invited his relatives to share in the meal. After they finished eating, they spent the night on the mountain. <sup>55</sup>Early the next morning Laban kissed his grandchildren and his daughters and blessed them, and then he left to return home.

Jacob Meets Esau

When Jacob also went his way, the angels of God met him. <sup>2</sup>When he saw them, he said, “This is the camp of God!” So he named that place Mahanaim.

<sup>3</sup>Jacob’s brother Esau was living in the area called Seir in the country of Edom. Jacob sent messengers to Esau, <sup>4</sup>telling them, “Give this message to my master Esau: ‘This is what Jacob, your servant, says: I have lived with Laban and have remained there until now. <sup>5</sup>I have cattle, donkeys, flocks, and male and female servants. I send this message to you and ask you to accept us.’”

<sup>6</sup>The messengers returned to Jacob and said, “We went to your brother Esau. He is coming to meet you and has four hundred men with him.”

<sup>7</sup>Then Jacob was very afraid and worried. He divided the people who were with him and all the flocks, herds, and camels into two camps. <sup>8</sup>Jacob thought, “Esau might come and destroy one camp, but the other camp can run away and be saved.”

<sup>9</sup>Then Jacob said, “God of my father Abraham! God of my father Isaac! Lord, you told me to return to my country and my family. You said that you would treat me well. <sup>10</sup>I am not worthy of the kindness and continual goodness you have shown me. The first time I traveled across the Jordan River, I had only my walking stick, but now I own enough to have two camps. <sup>11</sup>Please save me from my brother Esau. I am afraid he will come and kill all of us, even the mothers with the children. <sup>12</sup>You said to me, ‘I will treat you well and will make your children as many as the sand of the seashore. There will be too many to count.’ ” <sup>13</sup>Jacob stayed there for the night and prepared a gift for Esau from what he had with him: <sup>14</sup>two hundred female goats and twenty male goats, two hundred female sheep and twenty male sheep, <sup>15</sup>thirty female camels and their young, forty cows and ten bulls, twenty female donkeys, and ten male donkeys. <sup>16</sup>Jacob gave each separate flock of animals to one of his servants and said to them, “Go ahead of me and keep some space between each herd.” <sup>17</sup>Jacob gave them their orders. To the servant with the first group of animals he said, “My brother Esau will come to you and ask, ‘Whose servant are you? Where are you going and whose animals are these?’” <sup>18</sup>Then you will answer, ‘They belong to your servant Jacob. He sent them as a gift to you, my master Esau, and he also is coming behind us.’ ”

<sup>19</sup>Jacob ordered the second servant, the third servant, and all the other servants to do the same thing. He said, “Say the same thing to Esau when you meet him. <sup>20</sup>Say, ‘Your servant Jacob is coming behind us.’ ” Jacob thought, “If I send these gifts ahead of me, maybe Esau will forgive me. Then when I see him, perhaps he will accept me.” <sup>21</sup>So Jacob sent the gifts to Esau, but he himself stayed that night in the camp.

Jacob Wrestles with God

he could not defeat Jacob, he struck Jacob's hip and put it out of joint. <sup>26</sup>Then he said to Jacob, "Let me go. The sun is coming up."

But Jacob said, "I will let you go if you will bless me."

And he answered, "Jacob."

<sup>28</sup>Then the man said, "Your name will no longer be Jacob. Your name will now be Israel, because you have wrestled with God and with people, and you have won."

But the man said, "Why do you ask my name?" Then he blessed Jacob there.

<sup>30</sup>So Jacob named that place Peniel, saying, "I have seen God face to face, but my life was saved." <sup>31</sup>Then the sun rose as he was leaving that place, and Jacob was limping because of his leg. <sup>32</sup>So even today the people of Israel do not eat the muscle that is on the hip joint of animals, because Jacob was touched there.

Jacob Shows His Bravery

Jacob looked up and saw Esau coming, and with him were four hundred men. So Jacob divided his children among Leah, Rachel, and the two slave girls. <sup>2</sup>Jacob put the slave girls with their children first, then Leah and her children behind them, and Rachel and Joseph last. <sup>3</sup>Jacob himself went out in front of them and bowed down flat on the ground seven times as he was walking toward his brother.

<sup>4</sup>But Esau ran to meet Jacob and put his arms around him and hugged him. Then Esau kissed him, and they both cried. <sup>5</sup>When Esau looked up and saw the women and children, he asked, “Who are these people with you?”

Jacob answered, “These are the children God has given me. God has been good to me, your servant.”

<sup>6</sup>Then the two slave girls and their children came up to Esau and bowed down flat on the earth before him. <sup>7</sup>Leah and her children also came up to Esau and also bowed down flat on the earth. Last of all, Joseph and Rachel came up to Esau, and they, too, bowed down flat before him.

<sup>8</sup>Esau said, “I saw many herds as I was coming here. Why did you bring them?”

Jacob answered, “They were to please you, my master.”

<sup>9</sup>But Esau said, “I already have enough, my brother. Keep what you have.”

<sup>10</sup>Jacob said, “No! Please! If I have pleased you, then accept the gift I give you. I am very happy to see your face again. It is like seeing the face of God, because you have accepted me. <sup>11</sup>So I beg you to accept the gift I give you. God has been very good to me, and I have more than I need.” And because Jacob begged, Esau accepted the gift.

<sup>13</sup>But Jacob said to him, “My master, you know that the children are weak. And I must be careful with my flocks and their young ones. If I force them to go too far in one day, all the animals will die. <sup>14</sup>So, my master, you go on ahead of me, your servant. I will follow you slowly and let the animals and the children set the speed at which we travel. I will meet you, my master, in Edom.”

“No, thank you,” said Jacob. “I only want to please you, my master.” <sup>16</sup>So that day Esau started back to Edom. <sup>17</sup>But Jacob went to Succoth, where he built a house for himself and shelters for his animals. That is why the place was named Succoth.

Dinah Is Attacked

At this time Dinah, the daughter of Leah and Jacob, went out to visit the women of the land. <sup>2</sup>When Shechem son of Hamor the Hivite, the ruler of the land, saw her, he took her and forced her to have sexual relations with him. <sup>3</sup>Shechem fell in love with Dinah, and he spoke kindly to her. <sup>4</sup>He told his father, Hamor, “Please get this girl for me so I can marry her.”

<sup>5</sup>Jacob learned how Shechem had disgraced his daughter, but since his sons were out in the field with the cattle, Jacob said nothing until they came home. <sup>6</sup>While he waited, Hamor father of Shechem went to talk with Jacob.

<sup>7</sup>When Jacob’s sons heard what had happened, they came in from the field. They were very angry that Shechem had done such a wicked thing to Israel. It was wrong for him to have sexual relations with Jacob’s daughter; a thing like this should not be done.

<sup>8</sup>But Hamor talked to Dinah’s brothers and said, “My son Shechem is deeply in love with Dinah. Please let him marry her. <sup>9</sup>Marry our people. Give your women to our men as wives and take our women for your men as wives. <sup>10</sup>You can live in the same land with us. You will be free to own land and to trade here.”

<sup>11</sup>Shechem also talked to Jacob and to Dinah’s brothers and said, “Please accept my offer. I will give anything you ask. <sup>12</sup>Ask as much as you want for the payment for the bride, and I will give it to you. Just let me marry Dinah.”

because Shechem had disgraced their sister Dinah.<sup>14</sup>The brothers said to them, “We cannot allow you to marry our sister, because you are not circumcised. That would be a disgrace to us.<sup>15</sup>But we will allow you to marry her if you do this one thing: Every man in your town must be circumcised like us.<sup>16</sup>Then your men can marry our women, and our men can marry your women, and we will live in your land and become one people.<sup>17</sup>If you refuse to be circumcised, we will take Dinah and leave.”

Now Shechem was the most respected man in his family. <sup>20</sup>So Hamor and Shechem went to the gate of their city and spoke to the men of their city, saying, <sup>21</sup>“These people want to be friends with us. So let them live in our land and trade here. There is enough land for all of us. Let us marry their women, and we can let them marry our women.<sup>22</sup>But we must agree to one thing: All our men must be circumcised as they are. Then they will agree to live in our land, and we will be one people.<sup>23</sup>If we do this, their cattle and their animals will belong to us. Let us do what they say, and they will stay in our land.” <sup>24</sup>All the people who had come to the city gate heard this. They agreed with Hamor and Shechem, and every man was circumcised.

<sup>25</sup>Three days later the men who were circumcised were still in pain. Two of Jacob’s sons, Simeon and Levi (Dinah’s brothers), took their swords and made a surprise attack on the city, killing all the men there. <sup>26</sup>They killed Hamor and his son Shechem and then took Dinah out of Shechem’s house and left.<sup>27</sup> Jacob's sons came upon the dead bodies and stole everything that was in the city, to pay them back for what Shechem had done to their sister.<sup>28</sup> So the brothers took the flocks, herds, and donkeys, and everything in the city and in the fields.<sup>29</sup> They took every valuable thing the people owned, even their wives and children and everything in the houses.

<sup>30</sup> Then Jacob said to Simeon and Levi, "You have caused me a lot of trouble. Now the Canaanites and the Perizzites who live in the land will hate me. Since there are only a few of us, if they join together to attack us, my people and I will be destroyed."

<sup>31</sup> But the brothers said, "We will not allow our sister to be treated like a prostitute."

Life Lessons

Genesis 34:1–36:43

Situation

Even though Shechem's rape of Dinah was wrong, Simeon and Levi over reacted and sinned. Consequently, God told Jacob to move to Bethel and Hebron.

Observation

In the middle of life's continuing problems and challenges, God reminded Jacob of his new name, Israel. Through this reminder, God shows he is faithful to his promises. God's promises set believers apart.

Inspiration

On the basis of the counseling I do, I would say that the two greatest problems among Christians are a lack of understanding their position in Christ and a lack of knowing God as their Father. They have no family image; therefore, they feel cut off from other family members—members of the Body of Christ, as well as feeling alienated from God. Our fellowship is made solid only as we renew our thinking about God. What grief it must bring to God's heart for us to cast an image on Him that is not true.

A man can be a teacher without being a father, but a true father will be a teacher. A man can be a lord without being a father, but a true father will be a good director of the home. A man can be a good provider without being a good father, but a true father will be a provider. It all fits. That is what motivates God—the delight in being a great father to His children on earth! What a joy to God's heart when we respond as Jesus did when He was in Gethsemane. It was as if He said, "I know it's going to hurt, but You are my Father, and I know You will be everything that I need. I will trust You."

In my own family the greatest times with my children have been crazy times that only a family could enjoy. Times when we just go outdoors and tumble through the leaves with each other. Times when my son Johnny and I have played the whole evening away with some small creative object. Times when my sons and I just grab each other and hang on each other's neck. Teachers and pupils do not do that; neither do sergeants and privates. There have been times when my little Ann, who is now nine, and I have gone on dates together. We come home with hearts so full of love for each other and so full of laughter that the joy of the Lord is our strength for days afterward. There have been times when we as a family sing at the top of our lungs. Only fathers take time for such activities.

God made us to enjoy Him. . . . God is our Father, and we are to enjoy Him forever. The family concept in heaven will be perfect in every way. Heaven on earth is the ability to bring that concept to our own hearts, friends, and churches. (Is your church characterized by a sense of family, or is it an army or a classroom?) What a comfort to enjoy God like that! I can act as a child and treat Him as a father. I am free to fail, free to speak what is a concern to me, free to be myself, free from fear, free from guilt. (From The God You Can Know by Dan DeHaan)

Application

Have you been wronged or harmed and responded, “I’m going to get even if it’s the last thing I do!” Each time you remember the hurt, consciously turn to God for his justice and comfort. When resentment enters your mind today, say a quick silent prayer: “Not a chance! God, you are my father. Take over; I’ll follow.”

Jacob in Bethel

God said to Jacob, “Go to the city of Bethel and live there. Make an altar to the God who appeared to you there when you were running away from your brother Esau.”

<sup>2</sup>So Jacob said to his family and to all who were with him, “Put away the foreign gods you have, and make yourselves clean, and change your clothes.” <sup>3</sup>We will leave here and go to Bethel. There I will build an altar to God, who has helped me during my time of trouble. He has been with me everywhere I have gone.” <sup>4</sup>So they gave Jacob all the foreign gods they had, and the earrings they were wearing, and he hid them under the great tree near the town of Shechem. <sup>5</sup>Then Jacob and his sons left there. But God caused the people in the nearby cities to be afraid, so they did not follow them. <sup>6</sup>And Jacob and all the people who were with him went to Luz, which is now called Bethel, in the land of Canaan. <sup>7</sup>There Jacob built an altar and named the place Bethel, after God, because God had appeared to him there when he was running from his brother.

<sup>8</sup>Deborah, Rebekah’s nurse, died and was buried under the oak tree at Bethel, so they named that place Oak of Crying.

Jacob’s New Name

<sup>9</sup>When Jacob came back from Northwest Mesopotamia, God appeared to him again and blessed him. <sup>10</sup>God said to him, “Your name is Jacob, but you will not be called Jacob any longer. Your new name will be Israel.” So he called him Israel.

<sup>11</sup>God said to him, “I am God Almighty. Have many children and grow in number as a nation. You will be the ancestor of many nations and kings. <sup>12</sup>The same land I gave to Abraham and Isaac I will give to you and your descendants.” <sup>13</sup>Then God left him. <sup>14</sup>Jacob set up a stone on edge in that place where God had talked to him, and he poured a drink offering and olive oil on it to make it special for God. <sup>15</sup>And Jacob named the place Bethel.

Rachel Dies Giving Birth

The Family of Israel

Jacob had twelve sons. <sup>23</sup>He had six sons by his wife Leah: Reuben, his first son, then Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, and

These are Jacob's sons who were born in Northwest Mesopotamia.

Esau's Family

This is the family history of Esau (also called Edom).<sup>2</sup>Esau married women from the land of Canaan: Adah daughter of Elon the Hittite; and Oholibamah daughter of Anah, the son of Zibeon the Hivite;<sup>3</sup>and Basemath, Ishmael's daughter, the sister of Nebaioth.

<sup>4</sup>Adah gave birth to Eliphaz for Esau. Basemath gave him Reuel,<sup>5</sup>and Oholibamah gave him Jeush, Jalam, and Korah. These were Esau's sons who were born in the land of Canaan.

<sup>6</sup>Esau took his wives, his sons, his daughters, and all the people who lived with him, his herds and other animals, and all the belongings he had gotten in Canaan, and he went to a land away from his brother Jacob.<sup>7</sup>Esau's and Jacob's belongings were becoming too many for them to live in the same land. The land where they had lived could not support both of them, because they had too many herds.<sup>8</sup>So Esau lived in the mountains of Edom. (Esau is also named Edom.)<sup>9</sup>This is the family history of Esau. He is the ancestor of the Edomites, who live in the mountains of Edom.

<sup>14</sup>Esau's third wife was Oholibamah the daughter of Anah. (Anah was the son of Zibeon.) Esau and Oholibamah gave birth to Jeush, Jalam, and Korah.

<sup>15</sup>These were the leaders that came from Esau: Esau's first son was Eliphaz. From him came these leaders: Teman, Omar, Zepho, Kenaz, <sup>16</sup>Korah, Gatam, and Amalek. These were the leaders that came from Eliphaz in the land of Edom. They were the grandsons of Adah.

<sup>17</sup>Esau's son Reuel was the father of these leaders: Nahath, Zerah, Shammah, and Mizzah. These were the leaders that came from Reuel in the land of Edom. They were the grandsons of Esau's wife Basemath.

These men were the leaders of the Horite families who lived in the land of Edom.

<sup>39</sup>When Baal-Hanan son of Acbor died, Hadad became king. He was from the city of Pau. His wife's name was Mehetabel daughter of Matred, who was the daughter of Me-Zahab.

Jetheth, <sup>41</sup>Oholibamah, Elah, Pinon, <sup>42</sup>Kenaz, Teman, Mibzar, <sup>43</sup>Magdiel, and Iram. They were the leaders of Edom. (Esau was the father of the Edomites.) The area where each of these families lived was named after that family.

Life Lessons

Genesis 37:1–36

Situation

Joseph, naïve and boastful, told his brothers of a dream that portrayed his superiority. Worse, his father Jacob showed him favoritism by giving Joseph a special robe. His brothers were jealous of him and plotted to kill him. But Reuben and Judah rescued Joseph, who was sold as a slave instead.

Observation

Although we don't want to admit it, we are by nature self-centered and self-serving. Even a cursory glance at the local newspaper reveals how jealousy can lead to death. We see these motives at work in the world all around us.

Inspiration

Resting at the end of this trail of thoughts is the deadly briefcase of envy....

Who is his victim? Anyone who has more than he has. More karats, more horsepower, more office space, more church members. Jealousy sets her crosshairs on the one who has more. "You want things, but you do not have them. So you are ready to kill and are jealous of other people, but still you cannot get what you want" (James 4:2).

Honestly, Max, I would never do that. I would never kill.

With a rifle, maybe not. But with your tongue? With your glare? Your gossip? "Jealousy," informs Proverbs 6:34, will make you “very angry.” Are your sights set on someone? If so, be careful; “jealousy will rot your bones” (Proverbs 14:30).

Need a deterrent for envy? An antidote for jealousy? ... Rather than bemoan what you don't have, rejoice in the abundant cup you do. “My cup overflows with blessings” (Psalm 23:5, NLT) ...

The last thing we need to worry about is not having enough. Our cup overflows with blessings.

Let me ask a question—a crucial question. If focusing on our diminishing items leads to envy, what would happen if we focused on the unending items? If awareness of what we don't have creates jealousy, is it possible that an awareness of our abundance will lead to contentment? Let's give it a try and see what happens. (From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

Application

Take an inventory of what you don't have that is causing you jealousy or envy. Then ask yourself if that item is really a necessity or a luxury. Next, take an inventory of what you do have. Ask God to give you a heart of thanksgiving that will lead to contentment.

Joseph the Dreamer

Jacob lived in the land of Canaan, where his father had lived.

Joseph was a young man, seventeen years old. He and his brothers, the sons of Bilhah and Zilpah, his father's wives, cared for the flocks. Joseph gave his father bad reports about his brothers. <sup>3</sup>Since Joseph was born when his father Israel was old, Israel loved him more than his other sons. He made Joseph a special robe with long sleeves. <sup>4</sup>When Joseph's brothers saw that their father loved him more than he loved them, they hated their brother and could not speak to him politely.

<sup>5</sup>One time Joseph had a dream, and when he told his brothers about it, they hated him even more. <sup>6</sup>Joseph said, "Listen to the dream I had. <sup>7</sup>We were in the field tying bundles of wheat together. My bundle stood up, and your bundles of wheat gathered around it and bowed down to it."

<sup>8</sup>His brothers said, "Do you really think you will be king over us? Do you truly think you will rule over us?" His brothers hated him even more because of his dreams and what he had said.

<sup>9</sup>Then Joseph had another dream, and he told his brothers about it also. He said, "Listen, I had another dream. I saw the sun, moon, and eleven stars bowing down to me."

<sup>10</sup>Joseph also told his father about this dream, but his father scolded him, saying, "What kind of dream is this? Do you really believe that your mother, your brothers, and I will bow down to you?”<sup>11</sup> Joseph’s brothers were jealous of him, but his father thought about what all these things could mean.

Joseph answered, “I will go.”

<sup>14</sup>His father said, “Go and see if your brothers and the flocks are all right. Then come back and tell me.” So Joseph’s father sent him from the Valley of Hebron.

When Joseph came to Shechem,<sup>15</sup> a man found him wandering in the field and asked him, “What are you looking for?”

<sup>16</sup>Joseph answered, “I am looking for my brothers. Can you tell me where they are grazing the flocks?”

<sup>17</sup>The man said, “They have already gone. I heard them say they were going to Dothan.” So Joseph went to look for his brothers and found them in Dothan.

Joseph Sold into Slavery

save Joseph later and send him back to his father. <sup>23</sup>So when Joseph came to his brothers, they pulled off his robe with long sleeves <sup>24</sup>and threw him into the well. It was empty, and there was no water in it.

<sup>25</sup>While Joseph was in the well, the brothers sat down to eat. When they looked up, they saw a group of Ishmaelites traveling from Gilead to Egypt. Their camels were carrying spices, balm, and myrrh.

<sup>26</sup>Then Judah said to his brothers, “What will we gain if we kill our brother and hide his death? <sup>27</sup>Let’s sell him to these Ishmaelites. Then we will not be guilty of killing our own brother. After all, he is our brother, our own flesh and blood.” And the other brothers agreed. <sup>28</sup>So when the Midianite traders came by, the brothers took Joseph out of the well and sold him to the Ishmaelites for eight ounces of silver. And the Ishmaelites took him to Egypt.

<sup>29</sup>When Reuben came back to the well and Joseph was not there, he tore his clothes to show he was upset. <sup>30</sup>Then he went back to his brothers and said, “The boy is not there! What shall I do?” <sup>31</sup>The brothers killed a goat and dipped Joseph’s robe in its blood. <sup>32</sup>Then they brought the long-sleeved robe to their father and said, “We found this robe. Look it over carefully and see if it is your son’s robe.”

<sup>33</sup>Jacob looked it over and said, “It is my son’s robe! Some savage animal has eaten him. My son Joseph has been torn to pieces!” <sup>34</sup>Then Jacob tore his clothes and put on rough cloth to show that he was upset, and he continued to be sad about his son for a long time. <sup>35</sup>All of his sons and daughters tried to comfort him, but he could not be comforted. He said, “I will be sad about my son until the day I die.” So Jacob cried for his son Joseph.

<sup>36</sup>Meanwhile the Midianites who had bought Joseph had taken him to Egypt. There they sold him to Potiphar, an officer to the king of Egypt and captain of the palace guard.

Genesis 38:1–30

Situation

Onan and Judah shirked their moral responsibilities to produce a child by Tamar and preserve her husband's line.

Observation

Trusting God is critical—especially when it is difficult to do so. Sometimes trusting in God's help and timing seems to fight against our own interests and aspirations. Still, obeying and trusting God yields his blessing.

Inspiration

All my life, I just wanted to be a mother. Every year I received only one Christmas gift that truly counted: a doll. Not a Barbie doll or a fashion doll, but a baby doll...

At thirty-five I married. I had waited, determined not to make a mistake, and though I had dated some very sharp, attractive men, it was only when Will Anderson appeared that I knew the right man had come... . Will and I decided we wanted to try for a baby right away... . Now we shared a common dream...

Somehow, though, I thought the dream of having a baby would be easier to attain [than running a marathon]. That the hardest part had been waiting so many years for the right man to be my husband. But I quickly learned the word “infertility.” Strictly speaking, of course, I was not infertile. I could become pregnant all right, but each time I would miscarry during the first few weeks. During one year I was hospitalized eight times with pregnancy-related problems....

In this situation, no matter what medication, what shots, what torment I subjected my body to through surgeries and other procedures, I could not make a baby. I was completely stripped and broken. And I was suddenly empty enough of myself to see God in a way I had never seen Him before. (From Open Adoption by Ann Kiemel Anderson)

Judah and Tamar

About that time, Judah left his brothers and went to stay with a man named Hirah in the town of Adullam. <sup>2</sup>There Judah met a Canaanite girl, the daughter of a man named Shua, and married her. Judah had sexual relations with her, <sup>3</sup>and she became pregnant and gave birth to a son, whom Judah named Er. <sup>4</sup>Later she gave birth to another son and named him Onan. <sup>5</sup>Still later she had another son and named him Shelah. She was at Kezib when this third son was born.

<sup>6</sup>Judah chose a girl named Tamar to be the wife of his first son Er. <sup>7</sup>But Er, Judah's oldest son, did what the Lord said was evil, so the Lord killed him. <sup>8</sup>Then Judah said to Er's brother Onan, "Go and have sexual relations with your dead brother's wife. It is your duty to provide children for your brother in this way."

<sup>9</sup>But Onan knew that the children would not belong to him, so when he was supposed to have sexual relations with Tamar he did not complete the sex act. This made it impossible for Tamar to become pregnant and for Er to have descendants. <sup>10</sup>The Lord was displeased by this wicked thing Onan had done, so the Lord killed Onan also. <sup>11</sup>Then Judah said to his daughter-in-law Tamar, "Go back to live in your father's house, and don't marry until my young son Shelah grows up." Judah was afraid that Shelah also would die like his brothers. So Tamar returned to her father's home.

<sup>12</sup>After a long time Judah's wife, the daughter of Shua, died. After Judah had gotten over his sorrow, he went to Timnah to his men who were cutting the wool from his sheep. His friend Hirah from Adullam went with him. <sup>13</sup>Tamar learned that Judah, her father-in-law, was going to Timnah to cut the wool from his sheep. <sup>14</sup>So she took off the clothes that showed she was a widow and covered her face with a veil to hide who she was. Then she sat down by the gate of Enaim on the road to Timnah. She did this because Judah's younger son Shelah had grown up, but Judah had not made plans for her to marry him.

<sup>15</sup>When Judah saw her, he thought she was a prostitute, because she had covered her face with a veil. <sup>16</sup>So Judah went to her and said, "Let me have sexual relations with you." He did not know that she was Tamar, his daughter-in-law.

She asked, "What will you give me if I let you have sexual relations with me?"

She answered, "First give me something to keep as a deposit until you send the goat."

Tamar answered, "Give me your seal and its cord, and give me your walking stick." So Judah gave these things to her. Then Judah and Tamar had sexual relations, and Tamar became pregnant. <sup>19</sup>When Tamar went home, she took off the veil that covered her face and put on the clothes that showed she was a widow.

<sup>20</sup>Judah sent his friend Hirah with the young goat to find the woman and get back his seal and the walking stick he had given her, but Hirah could not find her. <sup>21</sup>He asked some of the people at the town of Enaim, “Where is the prostitute who was here by the road?”

They answered, “There has never been a prostitute here.”

<sup>22</sup>So he went back to Judah and said, “I could not find the woman, and the people who lived there said, ‘There has never been a prostitute here.’ ”

<sup>23</sup>Judah said, “Let her keep the things. I don’t want people to laugh at us. I sent her the goat as I promised, but you could not find her.”

Then Judah said, “Bring her out and let her be burned to death.”

<sup>25</sup>When the people went to bring Tamar out, she sent a message to her father-in-law that said, “The man who owns these things has made me pregnant. Look at this seal and its cord and this walking stick, and tell me whose they are.”

<sup>26</sup>Judah recognized them and said, “She is more in the right than I. She did this because I did not give her to my son Shelah as I promised.” And Judah did not have sexual relations with her again.

Genesis 39:1–40:23

Situation

Even though Joseph's brothers sold him into slavery, God used the situation to bless Joseph. First, an Egyptian officer entrusted his household to Joseph. When Joseph rejected the sexual advances of the officer's wife, she falsely accused Joseph of rape and had him jailed. Again, even in prison, God developed Joseph's character.

Observation

In order to experience God's power, leaders must often endure hardship. Then they emerge to make their contribution.

Inspiration

[A] leader must prepare for leadership in the same way Jesus prepared: by being willing to suffer.

The words almost sound strange to modern ears. What do we know, in this wonderful country, of suffering? As a nation we have never known real want... . There have been, of course, earthquakes, floods ... illness. There are riots and strikes and crimes. Violent death threatens us on the highways, in the cities... .

To suffer simply means "to bear under." A leader is [someone] who does not groan under burdens, but takes them—and with a dash of humor. He knows how to keep his mouth shut about his difficulties and how to live a day at a time, doing quietly what needs doing at the moment.

... [D]on't do it alone. Perhaps I seem to be belaboring the point, but lest the “rules” for leadership appear impossibly supernatural, we need to recall constantly that it is Christ who calls us; it is Christ who enables us; it is Christ who promises His presence and His strength. Who did He call to be disciples? Weren't they quite ordinary men? None was outstanding, so far as we know, before his call to discipleship. It was not unusual gifts or an unusual spirituality or any position of temporal success already gained that drew Jesus' attention to them. He spent a night in prayer to His Father, prior to the decision, and then, in accord with the Father's will, issued the call. I pray ... that you (and others who may read this) will answer the call to be willing to suffer in order to lead, to be last in order to be first. (From The Mark of a Man by Elisabeth Elliot)

Application

God often develops leaders through humility and suffering. If you have a position of leadership, realize that suffering and success both come with the job. Both build character and ability. Take heart in the examples of Joseph and Jesus, two leaders who rose above suffering to lead and to love. Accept your problems today as opportunities for growth.

Joseph Is Sold to Potiphar

Now Joseph had been taken down to Egypt. An Egyptian named Potiphar was an officer to the king of Egypt and the captain of the palace guard. He bought Joseph from the Ishmaelites who had brought him down there.<sup>2</sup>The Lord was with Joseph, and he became a successful man. He lived in the house of his master, Potiphar the Egyptian.

<sup>3</sup>Potiphar saw that the Lord was with Joseph and that the Lord made Joseph successful in everything he did.<sup>4</sup>So Potiphar was very happy with Joseph and allowed him to be his personal servant. He put Joseph in charge of the house, trusting him with everything he owned.<sup>5</sup>When Joseph was put in charge of the house and everything Potiphar owned, the Lord blessed the people in Potiphar's house because of Joseph. And the Lord blessed everything that belonged to Potiphar, both in the house and in the field.<sup>6</sup>So Potiphar left Joseph in charge of everything he owned and was not concerned about anything except the food he ate.

Joseph Is Put into Prison

Now Joseph was well built and handsome.<sup>7</sup>After some time the wife of Joseph's master began to desire Joseph, and one day she said to him, "Have sexual relations with me."

<sup>8</sup>But Joseph refused and said to her, “My master trusts me with everything in his house. He has put me in charge of everything he owns. <sup>9</sup>There is no one in his house greater than I. He has not kept anything from me except you, because you are his wife. How can I do such an evil thing? It is a sin against God.”

<sup>19</sup>When Joseph’s master heard what his wife said Joseph had done, he became very angry. <sup>20</sup>So Potiphar arrested Joseph and put him into the prison where the king’s prisoners were put. And Joseph stayed there in the prison.

<sup>21</sup>But the Lord was with Joseph and showed him kindness and caused the prison warden to like Joseph. <sup>22</sup>The prison warden chose Joseph to take care of all the prisoners, and he was responsible for whatever was done in the prison. <sup>23</sup>The warden paid no attention to anything that was in Joseph's care because the Lord was with Joseph and made him successful in everything he did.

Joseph Interprets Two Dreams

After these things happened, two of the king's officers displeased the king—the man who served wine to the king and the king's baker. <sup>2</sup>The king became angry with his officer who served him wine and his baker, <sup>3</sup>so he put them in the prison of the captain of the guard, the same prison where Joseph was kept. <sup>4</sup>The captain of the guard put the two prisoners in Joseph's care, and they stayed in prison for some time.

<sup>5</sup>One night both the king's officer who served him wine and the baker had a dream. Each had his own dream with its own meaning. <sup>6</sup>When Joseph came to them the next morning, he saw they were worried. <sup>7</sup>He asked the king's officers who were with him, "Why do you look so unhappy today?"

Joseph said to them, "God is the only One who can explain the meaning of dreams. Tell me your dreams."

<sup>9</sup>So the man who served wine to the king told Joseph his dream. He said, "I dreamed I saw a vine, and <sup>10</sup>on the vine were three branches. I watched the branches bud and blossom, and then the grapes ripened. <sup>11</sup>I was holding the king's cup, so I took the grapes and squeezed the juice into the cup. Then I gave it to the king."

<sup>12</sup>Then Joseph said, "I will explain the dream to you. The three branches stand for three days. <sup>13</sup>Before the end of three days the king will free you, and he will allow you to return to your work. You will serve the king his wine just as you did before. <sup>14</sup>But when you are free, remember me. Be kind to me, and tell the king about me so I can get out of this prison. <sup>15</sup>I was taken by force from the land of the Hebrews, and I have done nothing here to deserve being put in prison.”

<sup>16</sup>The baker saw that Joseph’s explanation of the dream was good, so he said to him, “I also had a dream. I dreamed there were three bread baskets on my head. <sup>17</sup>In the top basket were all kinds of baked food for the king, but the birds were eating this food out of the basket on my head.”

<sup>20</sup>Three days later, on his birthday, the king gave a feast for all his officers. In front of his officers, he released from prison the chief officer who served his wine and the chief baker. <sup>21</sup>The king gave his chief officer who served wine his old position, and once again he put the king’s cup of wine into the king’s hand. <sup>22</sup>But the king hanged the baker on a pole. Everything happened just as Joseph had said it would, <sup>23</sup>but the officer who served wine did not remember Joseph. He forgot all about him.

Life Lessons

Genesis 41:1-57

Situation

The chief officer finally remembered that Joseph was able to interpret dreams. Joseph not only interpreted the king's dream, but he also advised Pharaoh how to plan for the upcoming years of famine. As a result, he became the second in command (v. 40).

Observation

Joseph had spent thirteen years in slavery, probably wondering if he would ever be able to get out. Sometimes God's plans differ from ours.

Inspiration

This is how Jesus chose to view the storm that came his way: necessary turbulence in the plan of God. Where others saw gray skies, Jesus saw a divine order. His suffering was necessary to fulfill prophecy, and his sacrifice was necessary to fulfill the law.

Wouldn't you love to have a hope-filled heart? Wouldn't you love to see the world through the eyes of Jesus? Where we see unanswered prayer, Jesus saw answered prayer. Where we see the absence of God, Jesus saw the plan of God. Note especially [Matthew 26] verse 53: "Surely you know I could ask my Father, and he would give me more than twelve armies of angels." Of all the treasures Jesus saw in the trash, this is most significant. He saw his father. He saw his father's presence in the problem. Twelve armies of angels were within his sight.

Sure, Max, but Jesus was God. He could see the unseen. He had eyes for heaven and a vision for the supernatural. I can't see the way he saw.

Not yet maybe, but don't underestimate God's power. He can change the way you look at life....

God never promises to remove us from our struggles. He does promise, however, to change the way we look at them. The apostle Paul dedicates a paragraph to listing trash bags: troubles, problems, sufferings, hunger, nakedness, danger, and violent death. These are the very dumpsters of difficulty we hope to escape. Paul, however, states their value. "In all these things we have full victory through God" (Romans 8:35–37). We'd prefer another preposition. We'd opt for "apart from all these things," or, "away from all these things," or even, "without all these things." But Paul says, "in" all these things. The solution is not to avoid trouble but to change the way we see our troubles.

God can correct your vision. (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you need to change the way you look at your problems? Try to look at them from God's perspective and divine order. Thank God that he is always present with you!

The King's Dreams

Two years later the king dreamed he was standing on the bank of the Nile River. <sup>2</sup>He saw seven fat and beautiful cows come up out of the river, and they stood there, eating the grass. <sup>3</sup>Then seven more cows came up out of the river, but they were thin and ugly. They stood beside the seven beautiful cows on the bank of the Nile. <sup>4</sup>The seven thin and ugly cows ate the seven beautiful fat cows. Then the king woke up. <sup>5</sup>The king slept again and dreamed a second time. In his dream he saw seven full and good heads of grain growing on one stalk. <sup>6</sup>After that, seven more heads of grain sprang up, but they were thin and burned by the hot east wind. <sup>7</sup>The thin heads of grain ate the seven full and good heads. Then the king woke up again, and he realized it was only a dream. <sup>8</sup>The next morning the king was troubled about these dreams, so he sent for all the magicians and wise men of Egypt. The king told them his dreams, but no one could explain their meaning to him.

<sup>9</sup>Then the chief officer who served wine to the king said to him, "Now I remember something I promised to do, but I forgot about it. <sup>10</sup>There was a time when you were angry with the baker and me, and you put us in prison in the house of the captain of the guard. <sup>11</sup>In prison we each had a dream on the same night, and each dream had a different meaning. <sup>12</sup>A young Hebrew man, a servant of the captain of the guard, was in the prison with us. When we told him our dreams, he explained their meanings to us. He told each man the meaning of his dream, and <sup>13</sup>things happened exactly as he said they would: I was given back my old position, and the baker was hanged.”

<sup>14</sup>So the king called for Joseph. The guards quickly brought him out of the prison, and he shaved, put on clean clothes, and went before the king.

<sup>15</sup>The king said to Joseph, “I have had a dream, but no one can explain its meaning to me. I have heard that you can explain a dream when someone tells it to you.”

<sup>17</sup>Then the king said to Joseph, “In my dream I was standing on the bank of the Nile River. <sup>18</sup>I saw seven fat and beautiful cows that came up out of the river and ate the grass. <sup>19</sup>Then I saw seven more cows come out of the river that were thin and lean and ugly—the worst looking cows I have seen in all the land of Egypt. <sup>20</sup>And these thin and ugly cows ate the first seven fat cows, <sup>21</sup>but after they had eaten the seven cows, no one could tell they had eaten them. They looked just as thin and ugly as they did in the beginning. Then I woke up.

Joseph Tells the Dreams’ Meaning

<sup>25</sup>Then Joseph said to the king, “Both of these dreams mean the same thing. God is telling you what he is about to do. <sup>26</sup>The seven good cows stand for seven years, and the seven good heads of grain stand for seven years. Both dreams mean the same thing. <sup>27</sup>The seven thin and ugly cows stand for seven years, and the seven thin heads of grain burned by the hot east wind stand for seven years of hunger. <sup>28</sup>This will happen as I told you. God is showing the king what he is about to do. <sup>29</sup>You will have seven years of good crops and plenty to eat in all the land of Egypt. <sup>30</sup>But after those seven years, there will come seven years of hunger, and all the food that grew in the land of Egypt will be forgotten. The time of hunger will eat up the land. <sup>31</sup>People will forget what it was like to have plenty of food, because the hunger that follows will be so great. <sup>32</sup>You had two dreams which mean the same thing. This shows that God has firmly decided that this will happen, and he will make it happen soon.

<sup>33</sup>“So let the king choose a man who is very wise and understanding and set him over the land of Egypt. <sup>34</sup>And let the king also appoint officers over the land, who should take one-fifth of all the food that is grown during the seven good years. <sup>35</sup>They should gather all the food that is produced during the good years that are coming, and under the king’s authority they should store the grain in the cities and guard it. <sup>36</sup>That food should be saved to use during the seven years of hunger that will come on the land of Egypt. Then the people in Egypt will not die during the seven years of hunger.”

Joseph Is Made Ruler over Egypt

<sup>37</sup>This seemed like a very good idea to the king, and all his officers agreed. <sup>38</sup>And the king asked them, “Can we find a better man than Joseph to take this job? God’s spirit is truly in him!”

<sup>39</sup>So the king said to Joseph, “God has shown you all this. There is no one as wise and understanding as you are, so <sup>40</sup>I will put you in charge of my palace. All the people will obey your orders, and only I will be greater than you.”

<sup>44</sup>The king said to him, “I am the king, and I say that no one in all the land of Egypt may lift a hand or a foot without your permission.” <sup>45</sup>The king gave Joseph the name Zaphenath-Paneah. He also gave Joseph a wife named Asenath, who was the daughter of Potiphera, priest of On. So Joseph traveled through all the land of Egypt.

seashore—so much that he could not measure it.

<sup>50</sup>Joseph's wife was Asenath daughter of Potiphera, the priest of On. Before the years of hunger came, Joseph and Asenath had two sons. <sup>51</sup>Joseph named the first son Manasseh and said, "God has made me forget all the troubles I have had and all my father's family." <sup>52</sup>Joseph named the second son Ephraim and said, "God has given me children in the land of my troubles."

<sup>53</sup>The seven years of good crops came to an end in the land of Egypt. <sup>54</sup>Then the seven years of hunger began, just as Joseph had said. In all the lands people had nothing to eat, but in Egypt there was food. <sup>55</sup>The time of hunger became terrible in all of Egypt, and the people cried to the king for food. He said to all the Egyptians, "Go to Joseph and do whatever he tells you."

<sup>56</sup>The hunger was everywhere in that part of the world. And Joseph opened the storehouses and sold grain to the people of Egypt, because the time of hunger became terrible in Egypt. <sup>57</sup>And all the people in that part of the world came to Joseph in Egypt to buy grain because the hunger was terrible everywhere in that part of the world.

The Dreams Come True

Jacob learned that there was grain in Egypt, so he said to his sons, “Why are you just sitting here looking at one another? <sup>2</sup>I have heard that there is grain in Egypt. Go down there and buy grain for us to eat, so that we will live and not die.”

<sup>3</sup>So ten of Joseph’s brothers went down to buy grain from Egypt. <sup>4</sup>But Jacob did not send Benjamin, Joseph’s brother, with them, because he was afraid that something terrible might happen to him. <sup>5</sup>Along with many other people, the sons of Israel went to Egypt to buy grain, because the people in the land of Canaan were also hungry.

<sup>6</sup>Now Joseph was governor over Egypt. He was the one who sold the grain to people who came to buy it. So Joseph’s brothers came to him and bowed facedown on the ground before him. <sup>7</sup>When Joseph saw his brothers, he knew who they were, but he acted as if he didn’t know them. He asked unkindly, “Where do you come from?”

They answered, “We have come from the land of Canaan to buy food.”

<sup>8</sup>Joseph knew they were his brothers, but they did not know who he was. <sup>9</sup>And Joseph remembered his dreams about his brothers bowing to him. He said to them, “You are spies! You came to learn where the nation is weak!”

<sup>10</sup>But his brothers said to him, “No, my master. We come as your servants just to buy food. <sup>11</sup>We are all sons of the same father. We are honest men, not spies.”

<sup>12</sup>Then Joseph said to them, “No! You have come to learn where this nation is weak!”

<sup>13</sup>And they said, “We are ten of twelve brothers, sons of the same father, and we live in the land of Canaan. Our youngest brother is there with our father right now, and our other brother is gone.”

<sup>14</sup>But Joseph said to them, “I can see I was right! You are spies! <sup>15</sup>But I will give you a way to prove you are telling the truth. As surely as the king lives, you will not leave this place until your youngest brother comes here. <sup>16</sup>One of you must go and get your brother. The rest of you will stay here in prison. We will see if you are telling the truth. If not, as surely as the king lives, you are spies.” <sup>17</sup>Then Joseph put them all in prison for three days.

<sup>18</sup>On the third day Joseph said to them, “I am a God-fearing man. Do this and I will let you live: <sup>19</sup>If you are honest men, let one of your brothers stay here in prison while the rest of you go and carry grain back to feed your hungry families. <sup>20</sup>Then bring your youngest brother back here to me. If you do this, I will know you are telling the truth, and you will not die.”

The brothers agreed to this. <sup>21</sup>They said to each other, “We are being punished for what we did to our brother. We saw his trouble, and he begged us to save him, but we refused to listen. That is why we are in this trouble now.”

<sup>22</sup>Then Reuben said to them, “I told you not to harm the boy, but you refused to listen to me. So now we are being punished for what we did to him.”

<sup>23</sup>When Joseph talked to his brothers, he used an interpreter, so they did not know that Joseph understood what they were saying. <sup>24</sup>Then Joseph left them and cried. After a short time he went back and spoke to them. He took Simeon and tied him up while the other brothers watched.<sup>25</sup> Joseph told his servants to fill his brothers' bags with grain and to put the money the brothers had paid for the grain back in their bags. The servants were also to give them what they would need for their trip back home. And the servants did this.

It isn't the circumstance that matters; it is God in the circumstance. It isn't the words; it is God speaking them.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: Restorer of Hope

Your Shepherd knows that you were not made for this place. He knows you are not equipped for this place. So he has come to guide you out.

He has come to restore your soul. He is the perfect one to do so.

He has the right vision... . He also has the right direction... . But most of all, he is the right person, for he is our God. Who knows the jungle better than the One who made it? And who knows the pitfalls of the path better than the One who has walked it? ... So rather than give us an answer, Jesus gives us a far greater gift. He gives us himself.

Does he remove the jungle? No, the vegetation is still thick.

Does he purge the predators? No, danger still lurks.

Jesus doesn't give us hope by changing the jungle; he restores our hope by giving us himself. And he promised to stay until the very end. "I will be with you always, even until the end of this age” (Matthew 28:20).

We need that reminder. We all need that reminder. For all of us need hope. . . .

And though you don’t need your hope restored today, you may tomorrow. And you need to know to whom to turn.

Or perhaps you do need hope today. You know you were not made for this place. You know you are not equipped. You want someone to lead you out.

If so, call out for your Shepherd. He knows your voice. And he’s just waiting for your request. (From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

The brothers were very frightened. They said to each other, “What has God done to us?”

The Brothers Return to Jacob

<sup>29</sup>The brothers went to their father Jacob in the land of Canaan and told him everything that had happened. <sup>30</sup>They said, “The master of that land spoke unkindly to us. He accused us of spying on his country, <sup>31</sup>but we told him that we were honest men, not spies. <sup>32</sup>We told him that we were ten of twelve brothers—sons of one father. We said that one of our brothers was gone and that our youngest brother was with our father in Canaan.

<sup>33</sup>“Then the master of the land said to us, ‘Here is a way I can know you are honest men: Leave one of your brothers with me, and take grain to feed your hungry families, and go. <sup>34</sup>And bring your youngest brother to me so I will know you are not spies but honest men. Then I will give you back your brother whom you leave with me, and you can move about freely in our land.’” were afraid.

<sup>36</sup>Their father Jacob said to them, “You are robbing me of all my children. Joseph is gone, Simeon is gone, and now you want to take Benjamin away, too. Everything is against me.”

<sup>37</sup>Then Reuben said to his father, “You may put my two sons to death if I don’t bring Benjamin back to you. Trust him to my care, and I will bring him back to you.”

<sup>38</sup>But Jacob said, “I will not allow Benjamin to go with you. His brother is dead, and he is the only son left from my wife Rachel. I am afraid something terrible might happen to him during the trip to Egypt. Then I would be sad until the day I die.”

Genesis 42:1–43:34

Situation

Severe famine afflicted Palestine. But under Joseph’s guidance, Egypt stored enough food for itself and other nations. Jacob sent his sons to Egypt to buy food.

Observation

Joseph’s brothers bowed before him in submission, fulfilling the dream God had given Joseph many years before. God’s Word always comes true.

Inspiration

Abraham, or Abram as he was known at the time, was finding God’s promises about as easy to swallow as a chicken bone. The promise? That his descendants would be as numerous as the stars. The problem? No son. “No problem,” came God’s response.

Abram looked over at his wife Sarah as she shuffled by in her gown and slippers with the aid of a walker. The chicken bone stuck for a few minutes but eventually slid down his throat.

Just as he was turning away to invite Sarah to a candlelight dinner he heard promise number two.

“Abram.”

“Yes, Lord.”

“All this land will be yours.”

Imagine God telling you that your children will someday own Fifth Avenue, and you will understand Abram’s hesitation.

“On that one, Father, I need a little help.”

And a little help was given.

It’s a curious scene.

Twilight. The sky is a soft blue ceiling with starry diamonds. The air is cool. The animals in the pasture are quiet. The trees are silhouettes. Abram dozes under a tree. His sleep is fitful.

It’s as if God is allowing Abram’s doubt to run its course. In his dreams Abram is forced to face the lunacy of it all. The voices of doubt speak convincingly.

How do I know God is with me?

What if this is all a hoax?

How do you know that is God who is speaking?

The thick and dreadful darkness of doubt....

God had told Abram to take three animals, cut them in half, and arrange the halves facing each other.

To us the command is mysterious. To Abram, it wasn't. He'd seen the ceremony before. He'd participated in it. He'd sealed many covenants by walking through the divided carcasses and stating, "May what has happened to these animals happen also to me if I fail to uphold my word."

That is why his heart must have skipped a beat when he saw the lights in the darkness passing between the carcasses. The soft golden glow from the coals in the fire pot and the courageous flames from the torch. What did they mean?

The invisible God had drawn near to make his immovable promise. "To your descendants I give this land."

And though God's people often forgot their God, God didn't forget them. He kept his word. The land became theirs.

God didn't give up. He never gives up. (From Six Hours One Friday by Max Lucado)

The Brothers Go Back to Egypt

Still no food grew in the land of Canaan. <sup>2</sup>When Jacob's family had eaten all the grain they had brought from Egypt, Jacob said to them, "Go to Egypt again and buy a little more grain for us to eat."

<sup>3</sup>But Judah said to Jacob, "The governor of that country strongly warned us, 'If you don't bring your brother back with you, you will not be allowed to see me.'<sup>4</sup>If you will send Benjamin with us, we will go down and buy food for you. <sup>5</sup>But if you refuse to send Benjamin, we will not go. The governor of that country warned us that we would not see him if we didn't bring Benjamin with us."

<sup>7</sup>The brothers answered, "He questioned us carefully about ourselves and our family. He asked us, 'Is your father still alive? Do you have another brother?' We just answered his questions. How could we know he would ask us to bring our other brother to him?"

<sup>8</sup>Then Judah said to his father Jacob, "Send Benjamin with me, and we will go at once so that we, you, and our children may live and not die. <sup>9</sup>I will guarantee you that he will be safe, and I will be personally responsible for him. If I don't bring him back to you, you can blame me all my life. <sup>10</sup>If we had not wasted all this time, we could have already made two trips."

<sup>11</sup>Then their father Jacob said to them, "If it has to be that way, then do this: Take some of the best foods in our land in your packs. Give them to the man as a gift: some balm, some honey, spices, myrrh, pistachio nuts, and almonds. <sup>12</sup>Take twice as much money with you this time, and take back the money that was returned to you in your sacks last time. Maybe it was a mistake. <sup>13</sup>And take Benjamin with you. Now leave and go to the man. <sup>14</sup>I pray that God Almighty will cause the governor to be merciful to you and that he will allow Simeon and Benjamin to come back with you. If I am robbed of my children, then I am robbed of them!”

<sup>15</sup>So the brothers took the gifts. They also took twice as much money as they had taken the first time, and they took Benjamin. They hurried down to Egypt and stood before Joseph.

<sup>16</sup>When Joseph saw Benjamin with them, he said to the servant in charge of his house, “Bring those men into my house. Kill an animal and prepare a meal. Those men will eat with me today at noon.” <sup>17</sup>The servant did as Joseph told him and brought the men to Joseph’s house.

<sup>18</sup>The brothers were afraid when they were brought to Joseph’s house and thought, “We were brought here because of the money that was put in our sacks on the first trip. He wants to attack us, make us slaves, and take our donkeys.” <sup>19</sup>So the brothers went to the servant in charge of Joseph’s house and spoke to him at the door of the house. <sup>20</sup>They said, “Master, we came here once before to buy food. <sup>21</sup>While we were going home, we stopped for the night and when we opened our sacks each of us found all his money in his sack. We brought that money with us to give it back to you. <sup>22</sup>And we have brought more money to pay for the food we want to buy this time. We don’t know who put that money in our sacks.”

<sup>23</sup>But the servant answered, “It’s all right. Don’t be afraid. Your God, the God of your father, must have put the money in your sacks. I got the money you paid me for the grain last time.” Then the servant brought Simeon out to them.

<sup>24</sup>The servant led the men into Joseph’s house and gave them water, and they washed their feet. Then he gave their donkeys food to eat. <sup>25</sup>The men prepared their gift to give to Joseph when he arrived at noon, because they had heard they were going to eat with him there.

<sup>26</sup>When Joseph came home, the brothers gave him the gift they had brought into the house and bowed down to the ground in front of him. <sup>27</sup>Joseph asked them how they were doing. He said, “How is your aged father you told me about? Is he still alive?”

<sup>29</sup>When Joseph saw his brother Benjamin, who had the same mother as he, Joseph asked, “Is this your youngest brother you told me about?” Then he said to Benjamin, “God be good to you, my son!” <sup>30</sup>Then Joseph hurried off because he had to hold back the tears when he saw his brother Benjamin. So Joseph went into his room and cried there. <sup>31</sup>Then he washed his face and came out. He controlled himself and said, “Serve the meal.”

him in order of their ages, from oldest to youngest. They looked at each other because they were so amazed.<sup>34</sup> Food from Joseph's table was taken to them, but Benjamin was given five times more food than the others. Joseph's brothers ate and drank freely with him.

Life Lessons

Genesis 44:1–45:28

Situation

Joseph tested his brothers' sincerity before he revealed himself to them. He realized that they were genuinely sorry for their sinful plot to get rid of him.

Observation

Joseph exemplified God's forgiveness. We, too, must learn not to harbor a grudge.

Inspiration

Our Savior kneels down and gazes upon the darkest acts of our lives. But rather than recoil in horror, he reaches out in kindness and says, "I can clean that if you want." And from the basin of his grace, he scoops a palm full of mercy and washes away our sin.

But that's not all he does. Because he lives in us, you and I can do the same. Because he has forgiven us, we can forgive others. Because he has a forgiving heart, we can have a forgiving heart. We can have a heart like his.

"If I, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you also should wash each other's feet. I did this as an example so that you should do as I have done for you" (John 13:14–15).

Jesus washes our feet for two reasons. The first is to give us mercy; the second is to give us a message, and that message is simply this: Jesus offers unconditional grace; we are to offer unconditional grace. The mercy of Christ preceded our mistakes; our mercy must precede the mistakes of others. Those in the circle of Christ had no doubt of his love; those in our circles should have no doubts about ours.

What does it mean to have a heart like his? It means to kneel as Jesus knelt, touching the grimy parts of the people we are stuck with and washing away their unkindnesses with kindness. Or as Paul wrote, “Be kind and loving to each other, and forgive each other just as God forgave you in Christ” (Ephesians 4:32).

“But, Max,” you are saying, “I’ve done nothing wrong. I’m not the one who cheated. I’m not the one who lied. I’m not the guilty party here.” Perhaps you aren’t. But neither was Jesus. Of all the men in that room, only one was worthy of having his feet washed. And he was the one who washed the feet. The one worthy of being served, served others. The genius of Jesus’ example is that the burden of bridgebuilding falls on the strong one, not on the weak one. The one who is innocent is the one who makes the gesture.

And you know what happens? More often than not, if the one in the right volunteers to wash the feet of the one in the wrong, both parties get on their knees. Don’t we all think we are right? Hence we wash each other’s feet.

Please understand. Relationships don’t thrive because the guilty are punished but because the innocent are merciful. (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Joseph Sets a Trap

Then Joseph gave a command to the servant in charge of his house. He said, “Fill the men’s sacks with as much grain as they can carry, and put each man’s money into his sack with the grain.<sup>2</sup>Put my silver cup in the sack of the youngest brother, along with his money for the grain.” The servant did what Joseph told him.

<sup>3</sup>At dawn the brothers were sent away with their donkeys.<sup>4</sup>They were not far from the city when Joseph said to the servant in charge of his house, “Go after the men. When you catch up with them, say, ‘Why have you paid back evil for good?’<sup>5</sup>The cup you have stolen is the one my master uses for drinking and for explaining dreams. You have done a very wicked thing!’”

<sup>7</sup>But the brothers said to the servant, “Why do you say these things? We would not do anything like that!<sup>8</sup>We brought back to you from the land of Canaan the money we found in our sacks. So surely we would not steal silver or gold from your master’s house.<sup>9</sup>If you find that silver cup in the sack of one of us, then let him die, and we will be your slaves.”

<sup>10</sup>The servant said, “We will do as you say, but only the man who has taken the cup will become my slave. The rest of you may go free.”

<sup>14</sup>When Judah and his brothers went back to Joseph's house, Joseph was still there, so the brothers bowed facedown on the ground before him. <sup>15</sup>Joseph said to them, "What have you done? Didn't you know that a man like me can learn things by signs and dreams?"

<sup>16</sup>Judah said, "Master, what can we say? And how can we show we are not guilty? God has uncovered our guilt, so all of us will be your slaves, not just Benjamin."

<sup>17</sup>But Joseph said, "I will not make you all slaves! Only the man who stole the cup will be my slave. The rest of you may go back safely to your father."

<sup>18</sup>Then Judah went to Joseph and said, "Master, please let me speak plainly to you, and please don't be angry with me. I know that you are as powerful as the king of Egypt himself. <sup>19</sup>When we were here before, you asked us, 'Do you have a father or a brother?' <sup>20</sup>And we answered you, 'We have an old father. And we have a younger brother, who was born when our father was old. This youngest son's brother is dead, so he is the only one of his mother's children left alive, and our father loves him very much.' <sup>21</sup>Then you said to us, 'Bring that brother to me. I want to see him.' <sup>22</sup>And we said to you, 'That young boy cannot leave his father, because if he leaves him, his father would die.' <sup>23</sup>But you said to us, 'If you don't bring your youngest brother, you will not be allowed to see me again.’<sup>24</sup> So we went back to our father and told him what you had said.

<sup>25</sup>“Later, our father said, ‘Go again and buy us a little more food.’<sup>26</sup> We said to our father, ‘We cannot go without our youngest brother. Without our youngest brother, we will not be allowed to see the governor.’<sup>27</sup> Then my father said to us, ‘You know that my wife Rachel gave me two sons.’<sup>28</sup> When one son left me, I thought, “Surely he has been torn apart by a wild animal,” and I haven’t seen him since.<sup>29</sup> Now you want to take this son away from me also. But something terrible might happen to him, and I would be miserable until the day I die.’<sup>30</sup> Now what will happen if we go home to our father without our youngest brother? He is so important in our father’s life that<sup>31</sup> when our father sees the young boy is not with us, he will die. And it will be our fault. We will cause the great sorrow that kills our father.

<sup>32</sup>“I gave my father a guarantee that the young boy would be safe. I said to my father, ‘If I don’t bring him back to you, you can blame me all my life.’<sup>33</sup> So now, please allow me to stay here and be your slave, and let the young boy go back home with his brothers.<sup>34</sup> I cannot go back to my father if the boy is not with me. I couldn’t stand to see my father that sad.”

Joseph Reveals Who He Is

Joseph could not control himself in front of his servants any longer, so he cried out, “Have everyone leave me.” When only the brothers were left with Joseph, he told them who he was. <sup>2</sup>Joseph cried so loudly that the Egyptians heard him, and the people in the king’s palace heard about it. <sup>3</sup>He said to his brothers, “I am Joseph. Is my father still alive?” But the brothers could not answer him, because they were very afraid of him.

<sup>4</sup>So Joseph said to them, “Come close to me.” When the brothers came close to him, he said to them, “I am your brother Joseph, whom you sold as a slave to go to Egypt. <sup>5</sup>Now don’t be worried or angry with yourselves because you sold me here. God sent me here ahead of you to save people’s lives. <sup>6</sup>No food has grown on the land for two years now, and there will be five more years without planting or harvest. <sup>7</sup>So God sent me here ahead of you to make sure you have some descendants left on earth and to keep you alive in an amazing way. <sup>8</sup>So it was not you who sent me here, but God. God has made me the highest officer of the king of Egypt. I am in charge of his palace, and I am the master of all the land of Egypt.

<sup>9</sup>“So leave quickly and go to my father. Tell him, ‘Your son Joseph says: God has made me master over all Egypt. Come down to me quickly. <sup>10</sup>Live in the land of Goshen where you will be near me. Your children, your grandchildren, your flocks and herds, and all that you have will also be near me. <sup>11</sup>I will care for you during the next five years of hunger so that you and your family and all that you have will not starve.’

<sup>12</sup>“Now you can see for yourselves, and so can my brother Benjamin, that the one speaking to you is really Joseph. <sup>13</sup>So tell my father about how powerful I have become in Egypt. Tell him about everything you have seen. Now hurry and bring him back to me.” <sup>14</sup>Then Joseph hugged his brother Benjamin and cried, and Benjamin cried also. <sup>15</sup>And Joseph kissed all his brothers and cried as he hugged them. After this, his brothers talked with him.

<sup>16</sup>When the king of Egypt and his officers learned that Joseph’s brothers had come, they were very happy. <sup>17</sup>So the king said to Joseph, “Tell your brothers to load their animals and go back to the land of Canaan <sup>18</sup>and bring their father and their families back here to me. I will give them the best land in Egypt, and they will eat the best food we have here. <sup>19</sup>Tell them to take some wagons from Egypt for their children and their wives and to bring their father back also. <sup>20</sup>Tell them not to worry about bringing any of their things with them, because we will give them the best of what we have in Egypt.”

is the ruler over all the land of Egypt.” Their father was shocked and did not believe them.<sup>27</sup> But when the brothers told him everything Joseph had said, and when Jacob saw the wagons Joseph had sent to carry him back to Egypt, he felt better.<sup>28</sup> Israel said, “Now I believe you. My son Joseph is still alive, and I will go and see him before I die.”

Life Lessons

Genesis 46:1–47:27

Situation

At the invitation of Joseph, Jacob and his family moved to Egypt. When they settled, Joseph arranged for them to receive the best land for their herds.

Observation

Jacob was reassured that God would not abandon him in Egypt. Yes, he was going to a foreign land with people who did not understand or know God. But God's reassuring words reminded Jacob that no matter where he went, God remained with him. The same is true for us. No matter what difficulty we face, God remains a faithful friend.

Inspiration

I am a giving God. I am neither cruel nor vindictive, as is common with man. Do not think of Me as a human being with human failings.

You can trust Me because I am not limited by your feelings, your ideas, your thoughts. I am bigger than these. I am bigger than any person's interpretation of Me.

I always prevail. People may lose, nations may lose, even churches may lose, but I never lose.

I will not lose you.

Hold fast to Me as I hold fast to you. Trust Me. Understand that even when you find it difficult to trust, I am with you.

Be as a little child, and trust. (From His Thoughts)

Jacob Goes to Egypt

So Israel took all he had and started his trip. He went to Beersheba, where he offered sacrifices to the God of his father Isaac.<sup>2</sup> During the night God spoke to Israel in a vision and said, “Jacob, Jacob.”

And Jacob answered, “Here I am.”

<sup>3</sup>Then God said, “I am God, the God of your father. Don’t be afraid to go to Egypt, because I will make your descendants a great nation there. <sup>4</sup>I will go to Egypt with you, and I will bring you out of Egypt again. Joseph’s own hands will close your eyes when you die.”

Jacob’s Family

<sup>8</sup>Now these are the names of the children of Israel who went into Egypt (Jacob and his descendants).

Reuben was Jacob’s first son. <sup>9</sup>Reuben’s sons were Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi.

<sup>12</sup>Judah's sons were Er, Onan, Shelah, Perez, and Zerah (but Er and Onan had died in the land of Canaan). Perez's sons were Hezron and Hamul.

Laban gave to his daughter Rachel. There were seven persons in this part of Jacob's family.

<sup>26</sup>So the total number of Jacob's direct descendants who went to Egypt was sixty-six, not counting the wives of Jacob's sons. <sup>27</sup>Joseph had two sons born in Egypt, so the total number in the family of Jacob in Egypt was seventy.

Jacob Arrives in Egypt

<sup>28</sup>Jacob sent Judah ahead of him to see Joseph in Goshen. When Jacob and his people came into the land of Goshen, <sup>29</sup>Joseph prepared his chariot and went to meet his father Israel in Goshen. As soon as Joseph saw his father, he hugged him, and cried there for a long time.

<sup>30</sup>Then Israel said to Joseph, "Now I am ready to die, because I have seen your face and I know you are still alive."

<sup>31</sup>Joseph said to his brothers and his father's family, "I will go and tell the king you are here. I will say, 'My brothers and my father's family have left the land of Canaan and have come here to me. <sup>32</sup>They are shepherds and take care of farm animals, and they have brought their flocks and their herds and everything they own with them.' <sup>33</sup>When the king calls you, he will ask, 'What work do you do?' <sup>34</sup>This is what you should tell him: 'We, your servants, have taken care of farm animals all our lives. Our ancestors did the same thing.' Then the king will allow you to settle in the land of Goshen, away from the Egyptians, because they don't like to be near shepherds."

Life Lessons

Genesis 47:28–48:22

Situation

Jacob was ill and near death, so Joseph brought his two sons—Jacob’s grandchildren—to the family patriarch for a formal blessing.

Observation

Jewish patriarchs blessed their children. This action models how parents should appreciate their children today. Parents should communicate each child’s high value and special strengths.

Inspiration

Looking to modern-day Jewish homes and practices, the blessing is still an important concept in many orthodox families. At many Shabat (Sabbath) services, the parents are to bring their children in the congregation forward to receive their blessing. Acting on behalf of the parents, the rabbi will lay his hand on the head of each child and repeat words like these, “May God bless you and make you as Ephraim and Manasseh.”

This blessing originally comes from Genesis 48:20, where Jacob was blessing Joseph’s two sons—Jacob’s grandchildren... . Even today, centuries later, in synagogues and in Jewish homes, this blessing is a favorite for parents to use with their children.

While studying how the blessing is given in modern Jewish homes, we had the privilege of speaking with several rabbis. In our interviews, we discovered that bestowing a family blessing is considered an important vehicle for communicating a sense of identity, meaning, love, and acceptance. In fact, in many orthodox homes, a weekly blessing is given by the father to each of his children. With the ceremonial candles lit, a time of blessing begins.

Sharing special meals; kissing, hugging, or the laying on of hands; creating a word picture or using one of the Scriptures to praise a child; even asking God to provide a special future for each child are common elements of blessing children in orthodox homes today.

While the blessing is an ancient practice, it still holds important keys to granting genuine acceptance. From a blessing to the firstborn to special words of love and acceptance for each child, the blessing remains a part of Jewish family life today. For Christian parents who have the hope and reality of Jesus, the Messiah, and His love, their blessing can be even more powerful. (From The Blessing by Gary Smalley and John Trent)

Application

Given the significance of the blessing in Jewish homes, consider how you could extend the blessing to your children—and their children—so that they grow up convinced of God’s steadfast love. Begin this week with meaningful touch, spoken words, and symbolic gestures that say, “I love you.”

Jacob Settles in Goshen

Joseph went in to the king and said, “My father and my brothers have arrived from Canaan with their flocks and herds and everything they own. They are now in the land of Goshen.”<sup>2</sup> Joseph chose five of his brothers to introduce to the king.

And they said to him, “We, your servants, are shepherds, just as our ancestors were.”<sup>4</sup> They said to the king, “We have come to live in this land, because there is no grass in the land of Canaan for our animals to eat, and the hunger is terrible there. So please allow us to live in the land of Goshen.”

<sup>5</sup>Then the king said to Joseph, “Your father and your brothers have come to you,<sup>6</sup> and you may choose any place in Egypt for them to live. Give your father and your brothers the best land; let them live in the land of Goshen. And if any of them are skilled shepherds, put them in charge of my sheep and cattle.”

<sup>9</sup>Jacob said to him, “My life has been spent wandering from place to place. It has been short and filled with trouble—only one hundred thirty years. My ancestors lived much longer than I.”<sup>10</sup> Then Jacob blessed the king and left.

<sup>11</sup>Joseph obeyed the king and gave his father and brothers the best land in Egypt, near the city of Rameses. <sup>12</sup>And Joseph gave his father, his brothers, and everyone who lived with them the food they needed.

Joseph Buys Land for the King

<sup>16</sup>Joseph answered, "Since you have no money, give me your farm animals, and I will give you food in return." <sup>17</sup>So people brought their farm animals to Joseph, and he gave them food in exchange for their horses, sheep, goats, cattle, and donkeys. And he kept them alive by trading food for their farm animals that year.

great. So the land became the king's,<sup>21</sup> and Joseph made the people slaves from one end of Egypt to the other.<sup>22</sup> The only land he did not buy was the land the priests owned. They did not need to sell their land because the king paid them for their work. So they had money to buy food.

<sup>23</sup>Joseph said to the people, "Now I have bought you and your land for the king, so I will give you seed and you can plant your fields.<sup>24</sup> At harvest time you must give one-fifth to the king. You may keep four-fifths for yourselves to use as seed for the field and as food for yourselves, your families, and your children."

<sup>26</sup>So Joseph made a law in Egypt, which continues today: One-fifth of everything from the land belongs to the king. The only land the king did not get was the priests' land.

"Don't Bury Me in Egypt"

<sup>28</sup>Jacob lived in Egypt seventeen years, so he lived to be one hundred forty-seven years old.<sup>29</sup> When Israel knew he soon would die, he called his son Joseph to him and said to him, "If you love me, put your hand under my leg. Promise me you will not bury me in Egypt.<sup>30</sup> When I die, carry me out of Egypt, and bury me where my ancestors are buried."

Joseph answered, "I will do as you say."

<sup>31</sup>Then Jacob said, "Promise me." And Joseph promised him that he would do this. Then Israel worshiped as he leaned on the top of his walking stick.

Blessings for Manasseh and Ephraim

Some time later Joseph learned that his father was very sick, so he took his two sons Manasseh and Ephraim and went to his father. <sup>2</sup>When Joseph arrived, someone told Jacob, “Your son Joseph has come to see you.” Jacob was weak, so he used all his strength and sat up on his bed.

<sup>3</sup>Then Jacob said to Joseph, “God Almighty appeared to me at Luz in the land of Canaan and blessed me there. <sup>4</sup>He said to me, ‘I will give you many children. I will make you the father of many peoples, and I will give your descendants this land forever.’ <sup>5</sup>Your two sons, who were born here in Egypt before I came, will be counted as my own sons. Ephraim and Manasseh will be my sons just as Reuben and Simeon are my sons. <sup>6</sup>But if you have other children, they will be your own, and their land will be part of the land given to Ephraim and Manasseh. <sup>7</sup>When I came from Northwest Mesopotamia, Rachel died in the land of Canaan, as we were traveling toward Ephrath. This made me very sad, and I buried her there beside the road to Ephrath.” (Today Ephrath is Bethlehem.) <sup>8</sup>Then Israel saw Joseph’s sons and said, “Who are these boys?”

Israel said, “Bring your sons to me so I may bless them.”

<sup>10</sup>At this time Israel’s eyesight was bad because he was old. So Joseph brought the boys close to him, and Israel kissed the boys and put his arms around them. <sup>11</sup>He said to Joseph, “I thought I would never see you alive again, and now God has let me see you and also your children.”<sup>12</sup> Then Joseph moved his sons off Israel’s lap and bowed facedown to the ground.<sup>13</sup> He put Ephraim on his right side and Manasseh on his left. (So Ephraim was near Israel’s left hand, and Manasseh was near Israel’s right hand.) Joseph brought the boys close to Israel.<sup>14</sup> But Israel crossed his arms and put his right hand on the head of Ephraim, who was younger. He put his left hand on the head of Manasseh, the firstborn son.<sup>15</sup> And Israel blessed Joseph and said, “My ancestors Abraham and Isaac served our God, and like a shepherd God has led me all my life.

<sup>16</sup>He was the Angel who saved me from all my troubles.
Now I pray that he will bless these boys.

May my name be known through these boys, and may the names of my ancestors Abraham and Isaac be known through them.

May they have many descendants on the earth.”

<sup>19</sup>But his father refused and said, “I know, my son, I know. Manasseh will be great and have many descendants. But his younger brother will be greater, and his descendants will be enough to make a nation.”

<sup>20</sup>So Israel blessed them that day and said,

“When a blessing is given in Israel, they will say:
‘May God make you like Ephraim and Manasseh.’”
In this way he made Ephraim greater than Manasseh.

<sup>21</sup>Then Israel said to Joseph, “Look at me; I am about to die. But God will be with you and will take you back to the land of your fathers. <sup>22</sup>I have given you something that I did not give your brothers—the land of Shechem that I took from the Amorite people with my sword and my bow.”

Life Lessons

Genesis 49:1–33

Situation

In previous chapters Joseph played an instrumental role in saving Egypt from the famine. In the process he revealed his identity to his brothers and called his father to join them in Egypt. As the entire family was reunited, Jacob delivered a final blessing to each of his sons.

Observation

Jacob reflected upon the lives of his sons and described what they could expect in the future.

Inspiration

Try to write through your life. In his fine autobiographies, Frederick Buechner advises us to listen to our lives, to seek those patterns and rhythms of meaning that we often miss in the living of life but can discover on looking back. Our lives are filled with significance—if only we have eyes to see.

Tell stories. We love to hear stories because they are mostly about human beings surviving trouble. And we all need the encouragement that comes from discovering that others have been afflicted as we and have found a way to the other side. In stories are pain and struggle and failure, but also laughter and wisdom and grace. Your stories will have these things as much as anyone's, and you do not have to be good with words to tell them powerfully.

A final word of advice—write letters and tell stories that are ultimately affirming. Don't settle scores or preach old sermons. Children are flesh of our flesh and bone of our bone. Their lives are and will be difficult—as yours may have been—and they need all the encouragement they can get. They might also need a kick in the seat, but there are many ways to give them that. Speak to them words of encouragement and love. They will learn, thereby, to speak such words to others.

In writing on what you care about to those you love, you will enrich the world eternally. (From Letters to My Children by Daniel Taylor)

Application

Write a letter or note to someone you love. Tell that person a story of what God is doing in your life. Express appreciation for what that person has done in your life.

Jacob Blesses His Sons

Then Jacob called his sons to him. He said, “Come here to me, and I will tell you what will happen to you in the future.

Listen to Israel, your father.”

<sup>3</sup>“Reuben, my first son, you are my strength.
Your birth showed I could be a father.
You have the highest position among my sons, and you are the most powerful.

so you will no longer lead your brothers.
This is because you got into your father’s bed and shamed me by having sexual relations with my slave girl.

who used their swords to do violence.

and I will not meet with them to plan evil.
They killed men because they were angry, and they crippled oxen just for fun.

May their violence be cursed, because it is too cruel.

I will divide them up among the tribes of Jacob and scatter them through all the tribes of Israel.

<sup>8c</sup>“Judah, your brothers will praise you.
You will grab your enemies by the neck, and your brothers will bow down to you.

You have returned from killing, my son.
Like a lion, he stretches out and lies down to rest, and no one is brave enough to wake him.

<sup>10</sup>Kings will come from Judah’s family;
someone from Judah will always be on the throne.
Judah will rule until Shiloh comes,
and the nations will obey him.

his young donkey to the best branch.
He can afford to use wine to wash his clothes and the best wine to wash his robes.

and his teeth are as white as the color of milk.

His shore will be a safe place for ships, and his land will reach as far as Sidon.

<sup>14c</sup>“Issachar is like a strong donkey who lies down while carrying his load.
<sup>15</sup>When he sees his resting place is good and how pleasant his land is, he will put his back to the load and become a slave.

like the other tribes in Israel.

<sup>17</sup>Dan will be like a snake by the side of the road,
a dangerous snake lying near the path.
That snake bites a horse’s leg, and the rider is thrown off backward.

but he will defeat them and drive them away.

he will grow food fit for a king.

that has beautiful fawns.

<sup>22c</sup>“Joseph is like a grapevine that produces much fruit, a healthy vine watered by a spring, whose branches grow over the wall.

<sup>23</sup>Archers attack him violently and shoot at him angrily,

His arms are made strong.

He gets his power from the Mighty God of Jacob and his strength from the Shepherd, the Rock of Israel.

God Almighty blesses you.

He blesses you with rain from above, with water from springs below,
with many babies born to your wives, and many young ones born to your animals.

<sup>26</sup>The blessings of your father are greater than the blessings of the oldest mountains, greater than the good things of the long-lasting hills. May these blessings rest on the head of Joseph, on the forehead of the one who was separated from his brothers.

In the morning he eats what he has caught, and in the evening he divides what he has taken.”

<sup>28</sup>These are the twelve tribes of Israel, and this is what their father said to them. He gave each son the blessing that was right for him. <sup>29</sup>Then Israel gave them a command and said, “I am about to die. Bury me with my ancestors in the cave in the field of Ephron the Hittite. <sup>30</sup>That cave is in the field of Machpelah east of Mamre in the land of Canaan. Abraham bought the field and cave from Ephron the Hittite for a burying place. <sup>31</sup>Abraham and Sarah his wife are buried there. Isaac and Rebekah his wife are buried there, and I buried my wife Leah there. <sup>32</sup>The field and the cave in it were bought from the Hittite people.” <sup>33</sup>After Jacob finished talking to his sons, he lay down. He put his feet back on the bed, took his last breath, and died.

Life Lessons

Genesis 50:1–26

Situation

Jacob died. Joseph mourned. His brothers feared Joseph's long smothered revenge would break out upon them. But Joseph forgave.

Observation

We face obstacles every day. We can have confidence, though, that through every struggle, God will help and guide us.

Inspiration

Judgment is God's job.

Revenge is irreverent.

Joseph understands that. Rather than get even, he reveals his identity and has his father and the rest of the family brought to Egypt.

But then Jacob dies and the moment of truth comes. The brothers go to Joseph and plead for mercy.

“Your father gave this command before he died... ‘Tell Joseph to forgive you’” (Genesis 50:16–17).

Joseph's response? “When Joseph received the message, he cried” (Genesis 50:17). “What more do I have to do?” his tears implore. “I've given you a home. I've provided for your families. Why do you still mistrust my grace?”

May I restate the obvious? Revenge belongs to God!

Why? The answer is found in the second part of Joseph's statement: "You meant to hurt me, but God turned your evil into good to save the lives of many people, which is being done" (v. 20).

Forgiveness comes easier with a wide-angle lens. Joseph uses one to get the whole picture.

It always helps to see the big picture... . (From When God Whispers Your Name by Max Lucado)

Application

To forgive, what rights must you give up? What sense of personal revenge must you release to God's control? Put these feelings behind you. Be like Joseph ... forgive!

Exploration

Forgiveness—Psalm 103:12; Matthew 6:14–15; Romans 12:17–21; Hebrews 10:17; 1 John 1:9.

Jacob's Burial

When Jacob died, Joseph hugged his father and cried over him and kissed him. <sup>2</sup>He commanded the doctors who served him to prepare his father's body, so the doctors prepared Jacob's body to be buried. <sup>3</sup>It took the doctors forty days to prepare his body (the usual time it took). And the Egyptians had a time of sorrow for Jacob that lasted seventy days.

<sup>4</sup>When this time of sorrow had ended, Joseph spoke to the king's officers and said, "If you think well of me, please tell this to the king: <sup>5</sup>'When my father was near death, I made a promise to him that I would bury him in a cave in the land of Canaan, in a burial place that he cut out for himself. So please let me go and bury my father, and then I will return.' " people that lived in Canaan saw the sadness at the threshing floor of Atad and said, “Those Egyptians are showing great sorrow!” So now that place is named Sorrow of the Egyptians.

The Brothers Fear Joseph

<sup>15</sup>After Jacob died, Joseph’s brothers said, “What if Joseph is still angry with us? We did many wrong things to him. What if he plans to pay us back?” <sup>16</sup>So they sent a message to Joseph that said, “Your father gave this command before he died. <sup>17</sup>He said to us, ‘You have done wrong and have sinned and done evil to Joseph. Tell Joseph to forgive you, his brothers.’ So now, Joseph, we beg you to forgive our wrong. We are the servants of the God of your father.” When Joseph received the message, he cried.

<sup>18</sup>And his brothers went to him and bowed low before him and said, “We are your slaves.”

<sup>19</sup>Then Joseph said to them, “Don’t be afraid. Can I do what only God can do? <sup>20</sup>You meant to hurt me, but God turned your evil into good to save the lives of many people, which is being done. <sup>21</sup>So don’t be afraid. I will take care of you and your children.” So Joseph comforted his brothers and spoke kind words to them.

<sup>22</sup>Joseph continued to live in Egypt with all his father's family. He died when he was one hundred ten years old. <sup>23</sup>During Joseph's life Ephraim had children and grandchildren, and Joseph's son Manasseh had a son named Makir. Joseph accepted Makir's children as his own.

The Death of Joseph

<sup>24</sup>Joseph said to his brothers, "I am about to die, but God will take care of you. He will lead you out of this land to the land he promised to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob." <sup>25</sup>Then Joseph had the sons of Israel make a promise. He said, "Promise me that you will carry my bones with you out of Egypt."

<sup>26</sup>Joseph died when he was one hundred ten years old. Doctors prepared his body for burial, and then they put him in a coffin in Egypt.

The Book of Exodus

Introduction

What follows is the greatest scene in the Book of Exodus.

Risky claim, you say? Exodus is one startling scene after another. Burning bushes, dividing seas, manna falling, quail scampering. The plagues, the slaves, the king of Egypt, and the fire. How could they be ranked?

Do we dare isolate one moment as the greatest?

Yes, we do.

We turn to the Hebrew slaves and stand silently as they perform an act of faith. A brush is dipped into a bowl of lamb's blood and streaked over the doorpost. Do it, they were told, and the angel of death will pass over. They obeyed. And death took an alternate route.

That's the peak of Exodus. Exodus is a book of deliverance. Liberation from slavery. The blood on the doorpost reminds us, however, that it wasn't Moses who set them free. It was God. The blood on the doorpost reminds us of blood smeared on another post.

Blood of another lamb.

The Lamb of God.

Because of his blood, we, too, are free.

About This Book

4. God Explains Worship in the Holy Tent 24:1–40:38

Life Lessons

Exodus 1:1–4:31

Situation

Moses, who saved the Hebrews from bondage, was born and raised under extraordinary circumstances. Son of a Hebrew slave, he became a member of the Egyptian royal family. Later he became an outcast to the Egyptians and fled to the desert, where God prepared him for his future role.

Observation

God's plans for us contain a lot of surprises. God leads and provides the means to reach his goals.

Inspiration

Consider the rod of Moses. By this time in his life, Moses had been a shepherd as long as he had been a prince, and he'd grown accustomed to it. Herding sheep wasn't as lively as living with Egyptian royalty, but it had its moments, especially the moment God spoke to him through a burning bush that didn't burn up. God announced that Moses was his man to deliver the Israelites. Moses wasn't convinced he was the one for the job. God said that who Moses was didn't matter; what mattered was who God was. And God set out to demonstrate.

"Moses," spoke the voice from the bush, "throw down your staff."

Moses, who had walked this mountain for forty years, was not comfortable with the command.

"God, you know a lot about a lot of things, but you may not know that out here, well, you just don't go around throwing down your staff. You never know when ...”

“Throw it down, Moses.”

Moses threw it down. The rod became a snake, and Moses began to run.

“Moses!”

The old shepherd stopped.

“Pick up the snake.”

Moses peered over his shoulder, first at the snake and then the bush, and then he gave the most courageous response he could muster.

“What?”

“God, I don't mean to object. I mean, you know a lot of things, but out here in the desert, well, you don't pick up snakes too often, and you never pick up snakes by the tail.”

“Moses!”

“Yessir.”

Just as Moses' hand touched the squirmy scales of the snake, it hardened. And Moses lifted up the rod. The same rod he would lift up in Pharaoh's court. The same rod he would lift up to divide the water and guide two million people through a desert. The rod that would remind Moses that if God can make a stick become a snake, then become a stick again—then perhaps he can do something with stubborn hearts and a stiff-necked people.

Perhaps he can do something with the common.

Application

Have you ever been in a hopeless position at work, school, or home? Have you felt trapped and powerless to act? Remember, God hears our needs and answers prayers in the manner that will help us, serve his will, and often surprise us. Trust God in prayer right now for special guidance today.

Exploration

Plans—Genesis 45:4–8; Matthew 2:16–23; Mark 1:2–3; 1 Corinthians 2:7.

Jacob's Family Grows Strong

When Jacob went to Egypt, he took his sons, and each son took his own family with him. These are the names of the sons of Israel: <sup>2</sup>Reuben, Simeon, Levi, Judah, <sup>3</sup>Issachar, Zebulun, Benjamin, <sup>4</sup>Dan, Naphtali, Gad, and Asher. <sup>5</sup>There was a total of seventy people who were descendants of Jacob. Jacob's son Joseph was already in Egypt.

<sup>6</sup>Some time later, Joseph and his brothers died, along with all the people who had lived at that same time. <sup>7</sup>But the people of Israel had many children, and their number grew greatly. They became very strong, and the country of Egypt was filled with them.

Trouble for the People of Israel

<sup>8</sup>Then a new king began to rule Egypt, who did not know who Joseph was. <sup>9</sup>This king said to his people, "Look! The people of Israel are too many and too strong for us to handle! <sup>10</sup>If we don't make plans against them, the number of their people will grow even more. Then if there is a war, they might join our enemies and fight us and escape from the country!"

<sup>11</sup>So the Egyptians made life hard for the Israelites. They put slave masters over them, who forced the Israelites to build the cities Pithom and Rameses as supply centers for the king.

<sup>12</sup>But the harder the Egyptians forced the Israelites to work, the more the Israelites grew in number and spread out. So the Egyptians became very afraid of them<sup>13</sup>and demanded even more of them. <sup>14</sup>They made their lives bitter. They forced the Israelites to work hard to make bricks and mortar and to do all kinds of work in the fields. The Egyptians were not merciful to them in all their painful work.

<sup>22</sup>So the king commanded all his people, “Every time a boy is born to the Hebrews, you must throw him into the Nile River, but let all the girl babies live.”

Baby Moses

Now a man from the family of Levi married a woman who was also from the family of Levi. <sup>2</sup>She became pregnant and gave birth to a son. When she saw how wonderful the baby was, she hid him for three months. <sup>3</sup>But after three months she was not able to hide the baby any longer, so she got a basket made of reeds and covered it with tar so that it would float. She put the baby in the basket. Then she put the basket among the tall stalks of grass at the edge of the Nile River. <sup>4</sup>The baby's sister stood a short distance away to see what would happen to him.

<sup>9</sup>The king's daughter said to the woman, "Take this baby and nurse him for me, and I will pay you." So the woman took her baby and nursed him. <sup>10</sup>When the child grew older, the woman took him to the king's daughter, and she adopted the baby as her own son. The king's daughter named him Moses, because she had pulled him out of the water.

Moses Tries to Help

<sup>11</sup>Moses grew and became a man. One day he visited his people and saw that they were forced to work very hard. He saw an Egyptian beating a Hebrew man, one of Moses' own people. <sup>12</sup>Moses looked all around and saw that no one was watching, so he killed the Egyptian and hid his body in the sand.

<sup>13</sup>The next day Moses returned and saw two Hebrew men fighting each other. He said to the one that was in the wrong, "Why are you hitting one of your own people?"

<sup>14</sup>The man answered, "Who made you our ruler and judge? Are you going to kill me as you killed the Egyptian?"

Moses was afraid and thought, "Now everyone knows what I did."

<sup>15</sup>When the king heard what Moses had done, he tried to kill him. But Moses ran away from the king and went to live in the land of Midian. There he sat down near a well.

Moses in Midian

<sup>16</sup>There was a priest in Midian who had seven daughters. His daughters went to that well to get water to fill the water troughs for their father's flock. <sup>17</sup>Some shepherds came and chased the girls away, but Moses defended the girls and watered their flock.

<sup>18</sup>When they went back to their father Reuel, he asked them, "Why have you come home early today?"

<sup>21</sup>Moses agreed to stay with Jethro, and he gave his daughter Zipporah to Moses to be his wife. <sup>22</sup>Zipporah gave birth to a son. Moses named him Gershom, because Moses was a stranger in a land that was not his own.

<sup>23</sup>After a long time, the king of Egypt died. The people of Israel groaned, because they were forced to work very hard. When they cried for help, God heard them. <sup>24</sup>God heard their cries, and he remembered the agreement he had made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. <sup>25</sup>He saw the troubles of the people of Israel, and he was concerned about them.

The Burning Bush

One day Moses was taking care of Jethro's flock. (Jethro was the priest of Midian and also Moses' father-in-law.) When Moses led the flock to the west side of the desert, he came to Sinai, the mountain of God.<sup>2</sup> There the angel of the Lord appeared to him in flames of fire coming out of a bush. Moses saw that the bush was on fire, but it was not burning up.<sup>3</sup> So he said, "I will go closer to this strange thing. How can a bush continue burning without burning up?"

And Moses said, "Here I am."

<sup>5</sup>Then God said, "Do not come any closer. Take off your sandals, because you are standing on holy ground. <sup>6</sup>I am the God of your ancestors—the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob." Moses covered his face because he was afraid to look at God.

<sup>7</sup>The Lord said, "I have seen the troubles my people have suffered in Egypt, and I have heard their cries when the Egyptian slave masters hurt them. I am concerned about their pain,<sup>8</sup> and I have come down to save them from the Egyptians. I will bring them out of that land and lead them to a good land with lots of room—a fertile land. It is the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites. <sup>9</sup>I have heard the cries of the people of Israel, and I have seen the way the Egyptians have made life hard for them. <sup>10</sup>So now I am sending you to the king of Egypt. Go! Bring my people, the Israelites, out of Egypt!”

<sup>11</sup>But Moses said to God, “I am not a great man! How can I go to the king and lead the Israelites out of Egypt?”

<sup>12</sup>God said, “I will be with you. This will be the proof that I am sending you: After you lead the people out of Egypt, all of you will worship me on this mountain.”

<sup>13</sup>Moses said to God, “When I go to the Israelites, I will say to them, ‘The God of your fathers sent me to you.’ What if the people say, ‘What is his name?’ What should I tell them?”

<sup>14</sup>Then God said to Moses, “I AM WHO I AM. When you go to the people of Israel, tell them, ‘I AM sent me to you.’”

<sup>15</sup>God also said to Moses, “This is what you should tell the people: ‘The Lord is the God of your ancestors—the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. He sent me to you.’ This will always be my name, by which people from now on will know me.

<sup>16</sup>“Go and gather the older leaders and tell them this: ‘The Lord, the God of your ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, has appeared to me. He said, I care about you, and I have seen what has happened to you in Egypt. <sup>17</sup>I promised I would take you out of your troubles in Egypt. I will lead you to the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites—a fertile land.’

<sup>18</sup>“The older leaders will listen to you. And then you and the older leaders of Israel will go to the king of Egypt and tell him, ‘The Lord, the God of the Hebrews, appeared to us. Let us travel three days into the desert to offer sacrifices to the Lord our God.’

<sup>19</sup>“But I know that the king of Egypt will not let you go. Only a great power will force him to let you go, <sup>20</sup>so I will use my great power against Egypt. I will strike Egypt with all the miracles that will happen in that land. After I do that, he will let you go.<sup>21</sup> I will cause the Egyptians to think well of the Israelites. So when you leave, they will give gifts to your people.<sup>22</sup> Each woman should ask her Egyptian neighbor and any Egyptian woman living in her house for gifts—silver, gold, and clothing. You should put those gifts on your children when you leave Egypt. In this way you will take with you the riches of the Egyptians.”

Proof for Moses

Then Moses answered, “What if the people of Israel do not believe me or listen to me? What if they say, ‘The Lord did not appear to you?’”

Moses answered, “It is my walking stick.”

So Moses threw it on the ground, and it became a snake. Moses ran from the snake, <sup>4</sup>but the Lord said to him, “Reach out and grab the snake by its tail.” When Moses reached out and took hold of the snake, it again became a stick in his hand.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord said, “This is so that the Israelites will believe that the Lord appeared to you. I am the God of their ancestors, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.”

<sup>6</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, “Put your hand inside your coat.” So Moses put his hand inside his coat. When he took it out, it was white with a skin disease.

<sup>7</sup>Then he said, “Now put your hand inside your coat again.” So Moses put his hand inside his coat again. When he took it out, his hand was healthy again, like the rest of his skin.

<sup>8</sup>Then the Lord said, “If the people do not believe you or pay attention to the first miracle, they may believe you when you show them this second miracle. <sup>9</sup>After these two miracles, if they still do not believe or listen to you, take some water from the Nile River and pour it on the dry ground. The water will become blood when it touches the ground.”

<sup>10</sup>But Moses said to the Lord, “Please, Lord, I have never been a skilled speaker. Even now, after talking to you, I cannot speak well. I speak slowly and can't find the best words."

<sup>11</sup>Then the Lord said to him, "Who made a person's mouth? And who makes someone deaf or not able to speak? Or who gives a person sight or blindness? It is I, the Lord. <sup>12</sup>Now go! I will help you speak, and I will teach you what to say."

<sup>14</sup>The Lord became angry with Moses and said, "Your brother Aaron, from the family of Levi, is a skilled speaker. He is already coming to meet you, and he will be happy when he sees you. <sup>15</sup>You will speak to Aaron and tell him what to say. I will help both of you to speak and will teach you what to do. <sup>16</sup>Aaron will speak to the people for you. You will tell him what God says, and he will speak for you. <sup>17</sup>Take your walking stick with you, and use it to do the miracles."

Moses Returns to Egypt

<sup>18</sup>Moses went back to Jethro, his father-in-law, and said to him, "Let me go back to my people in Egypt. I want to see if they are still alive."

Jethro said to Moses, "Go! I wish you well."

<sup>21</sup>The Lord said to Moses, "When you get back to Egypt, do all the miracles I have given you the power to do. Show them to the king of Egypt. But I will make the king very stubborn, and he will not let the people go.<sup>22</sup> Then say to the king, ‘This is what the Lord says: Israel is my firstborn son.<sup>23</sup> I told you to let my son go so he may worship me. But you refused to let Israel go, so I will kill your firstborn son.’”

<sup>27</sup>Meanwhile the Lord said to Aaron, “Go out into the desert to meet Moses.” When Aaron went, he met Moses at Sinai, the mountain of God, and kissed him.<sup>28</sup> Moses told Aaron everything the Lord had said to him when he sent him to Egypt. He also told him about the miracles which the Lord had commanded him to do.

<sup>29</sup>Moses and Aaron gathered all the older leaders of the Israelites,<sup>30</sup> and Aaron told them everything that the Lord had told Moses. Then Moses did the miracles for all the people to see,<sup>31</sup> and the Israelites believed. When they heard that the Lord was concerned about them and had seen their troubles, they bowed down and worshiped him.

Life Lessons

Exodus 5:1–6:27

Situation

Moses demanded that Pharaoh release the Hebrews so they could worship God. But Pharaoh refused and made the Hebrews work even harder. The discouraged Hebrews almost turned their backs on God. Moses asked God for help, and God assured him the Hebrews would leave Egypt.

Observation

When Moses complained to God, God answered him by reminding him about his character. God identifies himself as “Yahweh” four times in 6:2–8 (translated here as “the Lord”).

Inspiration

The Israelites considered the name too holy to be spoken by human lips. Whenever they needed to say Yahweh, they substituted the word Adonai, which means “Lord.” If the name needed to be written, the scribes would take a bath before they wrote it and destroy the pen afterward.

God never gives a definition of the word Yahweh, and Moses never requests one. Many scholars wish he had, for the study of the name has raised some healthy discussions.

The name “I AM” sounds strikingly close to the Hebrew word “to be”—havah. It’s quite possibly a combination of the present tense form (I am) and the causative tense (I cause to be). Yahweh, then, seems to mean “I AM” and “I cause.” God is the “One who is” and the “One who causes.”

Why is that important? Because we need a big God. And if God is the “One who is,” then he is an unchanging God.

Think about it. Do you know anyone who goes around saying, “I am”? Neither do I. When we say “I am,” we always add another word. “I am happy.” “I am sad.” “I am strong.” “I am Max.” God, however, starkly states, “I AM” and adds nothing else.

“You are what?” we want to ask. “I AM,” he replies. God needs no descriptive word because he never changes. God is what he is. He is what he has always been. His immutability motivated the psalmist to declare, “But you never change” (Psalm 102:27). The writer is saying, “You are the One who is. You never change.” Yahweh is an unchanging God. (From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

Application

The fact that God is an unchanging God should affect the way you worship and approach him. Look for ways this week that you can praise such a great God.

Moses and Aaron Before the King

After Moses and Aaron talked to the people, they went to the king of Egypt and said, “This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: ‘Let my people go so they may hold a feast for me in the desert.’”

<sup>2</sup>But the king of Egypt said, “Who is the Lord? Why should I obey him and let Israel go? I do not know the Lord, and I will not let Israel go.”

<sup>3</sup>Then Aaron and Moses said, “The God of the Hebrews has met with us. Now let us travel three days into the desert to offer sacrifices to the Lord our God. If we don’t do this, he may kill us with a disease or in war.”

<sup>4</sup>But the king said to them, “Moses and Aaron, why are you taking the people away from their work? Go back to your jobs! <sup>5</sup>There are very many Hebrews, and now you want them to quit working!”

<sup>10</sup>So the slave masters and foremen went to the Israelites and said, “This is what the king says: I will no longer give you straw. <sup>11</sup>Go and get your own straw wherever you can find it. But you must make as many bricks as you made before.” <sup>12</sup>So the people went everywhere in Egypt looking for dry stalks to use for straw. <sup>13</sup>The slave masters kept forcing the people to work harder. They said, “You must make just as many bricks as you did when you were given straw.” <sup>14</sup>The king’s slave masters had made the Israelite foremen responsible for the work the people did. The Egyptian slave masters beat these men and asked them, “Why aren’t you making as many bricks as you made in the past?”

<sup>15</sup>Then the Israelite foremen went to the king and complained, “Why are you treating us, your servants, this way? <sup>16</sup>You give us no straw, but we are commanded to make bricks. Our slave masters beat us, but it is your own people’s fault.”

<sup>17</sup>The king answered, “You are lazy! You don’t want to work! That is why you ask to leave here and make sacrifices to the Lord. <sup>18</sup>Now, go back to work! We will not give you any straw, but you must make just as many bricks as you did before.”

<sup>19</sup>The Israelite foremen knew they were in trouble, because the king had told them, “You must make just as many bricks each day as you did before.” <sup>20</sup>As they were leaving the meeting with the king, they met Moses and Aaron, who were waiting for them. <sup>21</sup>So they said to Moses and Aaron, “May the Lord punish you. You caused the king and his officers to hate us. You have given them an excuse to kill us.”

Moses Complains to God

<sup>22</sup>Then Moses returned to the Lord and said, “Lord, why have you brought this trouble on your people? Is this why you sent me here? <sup>23</sup>I went to the king and said what you told me to say, but ever since that time he has made the people suffer. And you have done nothing to save them.”

Then the Lord said to Moses, “Now you will see what I will do to the king of Egypt. I will use my great power against him, and he will let my people go. Because of my power, he will force them out of his country.”

<sup>2</sup>Then God said to Moses, “I am the Lord. <sup>3</sup>I appeared to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob by the name God Almighty, but they did not know me by my name, the Lord. <sup>4</sup>I also made my agreement with them to give them the land of Canaan. They lived in that land, but it was not their own. <sup>5</sup>Now I have heard the cries of the Israelites, whom the Egyptians are treating as slaves, and I remember my agreement. <sup>6</sup>So tell the people of Israel that I say to them, ‘I am the Lord. I will save you from the hard work the Egyptians force you to do. I will make you free, so you will not be slaves to the Egyptians. I will free you by my great power, and I will punish the Egyptians terribly. <sup>7</sup>I will make you my own people, and I will be your God. You will know that I am the Lord your God, the One who saves you from the hard work the Egyptians force you to do. <sup>8</sup>I will lead you to the land that I promised to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and I will give you that land to own. I am the Lord.’”

<sup>9</sup>So Moses told this to the Israelites, but they would not listen to him. They were discouraged, and their slavery was hard.

<sup>12</sup>But Moses answered, “The Israelites will not listen to me, so surely the king will not listen to me either. I am not a good speaker.”

<sup>13</sup>But the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron and gave them orders about the Israelites and the king of Egypt. He commanded them to lead the Israelites out of Egypt.

Families of Israel

<sup>14</sup>These are the leaders of the families of Israel:

Israel's first son, Reuben, had four sons: Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi. These are the family groups of Reuben.

These are the family groups of Levi, according to their family history.

These are the leaders of the family groups of the Levites.

<sup>27</sup>Aaron and Moses are the ones who talked to the king of Egypt and told him to let the Israelites leave Egypt.

God Repeats His Call to Moses

<sup>28</sup>The Lord spoke to Moses in the land of Egypt <sup>29</sup>and said, “I am the Lord. Tell the king of Egypt everything I tell you.”

<sup>30</sup>But Moses answered, “I am not a good speaker. The king will not listen to me.”

Life Lessons

Exodus 6:28–8:32

Situation

The Lord assured Moses that he would punish Egypt terribly and bring the Israelites out of the land in order to prove that he was the Lord. Although he thought he could not persuade Pharaoh, Moses saw that with God, nothing is impossible.

Observation

After the plague of flies, Pharaoh suggested two compromises. The Israelites could sacrifice to their God in Egypt, but not in the desert. And they could sacrifice—but only a short distance into the wilderness. Both were unacceptable, and Moses refused to compromise and make a deal with Pharaoh.

Inspiration

Similarly, [Proverbs 5:22] could just as easily be applied to a Christian who deliberately chooses to disobey his Lord. And instead of seeing the error of his way, he stays in a state of carnality, which grieves the Spirit of God living within him. Carnality occurs when a believer deliberately operates in the strength of his or her own will ... stubbornly refusing to acknowledge wrong and choosing to walk contrary to the teaching of Scripture. The promptings of God's Spirit are ignored as disobedience becomes a lifestyle. Choosing to live like that is like getting caught in a whirlpool. The wickedness intensifies. It gets more treacherous as he goes deeper into it. Like the prodigal son, he winds up in misery and filth. (From Wisdom for the Way by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Have you ever found yourself adjusting your beliefs to go along with the world's values, "making deals" with God? The Lord wants our obedience above everything else.

Exploration

Compromise with the World—1 Corinthians 1:26-31; 2 Corinthians 7:10; James 1:27; 1 John 2:15-17.

Rebellion results in thorns. —Max Lucado (He Chose the Nails)

The Lord said to Moses, “I have made you like God to the king of Egypt, and your brother Aaron will be like a prophet for you. <sup>2</sup>Tell Aaron your brother everything that I command you, and let him tell the king of Egypt to let the Israelites leave his country. <sup>3</sup>But I will make the king stubborn. I will do many miracles in Egypt, <sup>4</sup>but he will still refuse to listen. So then I will punish Egypt terribly, and I will lead my divisions, my people the Israelites, out of that land. <sup>5</sup>I will punish Egypt with my power, and I will bring the Israelites out of that land. Then they will know I am the Lord.”

Aaron’s Walking Stick Becomes a Snake

<sup>11</sup>So the king called in his wise men and his magicians, and with their tricks the Egyptian magicians were able to do the same thing. <sup>12</sup>They threw their walking sticks on the ground, and their sticks became snakes. But Aaron's stick swallowed theirs. <sup>13</sup>Still the king was stubborn and refused to listen to Moses and Aaron, just as the Lord had said.

The Water Becomes Blood

<sup>14</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, "The king is being stubborn and refuses to let the people go. <sup>15</sup>In the morning the king will go out to the Nile River. Go meet him by the edge of the river, and take with you the walking stick that became a snake. <sup>16</sup>Tell him: The Lord, the God of the Hebrews, sent me to you. He said, 'Let my people go worship me in the desert.' Until now you have not listened. <sup>17</sup>This is what the Lord says: 'This is how you will know that I am the Lord. I will strike the water of the Nile River with this stick in my hand, and the water will change into blood. <sup>18</sup>Then the fish in the Nile will die, and the river will begin to stink. The Egyptians will not be able to drink the water from the Nile.'"

<sup>19</sup>The Lord said to Moses, "Tell Aaron: 'Take the walking stick in your hand and stretch your hand over the rivers, canals, ponds, and pools in Egypt.' The water will become blood everywhere in Egypt, both in wooden buckets and in stone jars."

<sup>22</sup>Using their tricks, the magicians of Egypt did the same thing. So the king was stubborn and refused to listen to Moses and Aaron, just as the Lord had said. <sup>23</sup>The king turned and went into his palace and ignored what Moses and Aaron had done. <sup>24</sup>The Egyptians could not drink the water from the Nile, so all of them dug along the bank of the river, looking for water to drink.

The Frogs

Then the Lord told Moses, “Go to the king of Egypt and tell him, ‘This is what the Lord says: Let my people go to worship me.<sup>2</sup>If you refuse, I will punish Egypt with frogs.<sup>3</sup>The Nile River will be filled with frogs. They will come up into your palace, into your bedroom, on your bed, into the houses of your officers, and onto your people. They will come into your ovens and into your baking pans.<sup>4</sup>The frogs will jump all over you, your people, and your officers.’”

<sup>6</sup>So Aaron held his hand over all the waters of Egypt, and the frogs came up out of the water and covered the land of Egypt.<sup>7</sup>The magicians used their tricks to do the same thing, so even more frogs came up onto the land of Egypt.

<sup>8</sup>The king called for Moses and Aaron and said, “Pray to the Lord to take the frogs away from me and my people. I will let your people go to offer sacrifices to the Lord.”

<sup>9</sup>Moses said to the king, “Please set the time when I should pray for you, your people, and your officers. Then the frogs will leave you and your houses and will remain only in the Nile.”

Moses said, “What you want will happen. By this you will know that there is no one like the Lord our God.<sup>11</sup>The frogs will leave you, your houses, your officers, and your people. They will remain only in the Nile.”

<sup>12</sup>After Moses and Aaron left the king, Moses asked the Lord about the frogs he had sent to the king.<sup>13</sup>And the Lord did as Moses asked. The frogs died in the houses, in the yards, and in the fields. <sup>14</sup>The Egyptians put them in piles, and the whole country began to stink. <sup>15</sup>But when the king saw that they were free of the frogs, he became stubborn again. He did not listen to Moses and Aaron, just as the Lord had said.

The Gnats

<sup>16</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, “Tell Aaron to raise his walking stick and strike the dust on the ground. Then everywhere in Egypt the dust will change into gnats.” <sup>17</sup>They did this, and when Aaron raised the walking stick that was in his hand and struck the dust on the ground, everywhere in Egypt the dust changed into gnats. The gnats got on the people and animals. <sup>18</sup>Using their tricks, the magicians tried to do the same thing, but they could not make the dust change into gnats. The gnats remained on the people and animals. <sup>19</sup>So the magicians told the king that the power of God had done this. But the king was stubborn and refused to listen to them, just as the Lord had said.

The Flies

<sup>20</sup>The Lord told Moses, “Get up early in the morning, and meet the king of Egypt as he goes out to the river. Tell him, ‘This is what the Lord says: Let my people go so they can worship me. <sup>21</sup>If you don’t let them go, I will send swarms of flies into your houses. The flies will be on you, your officers, and your people. The houses of Egypt will be full of flies, and they will be all over the ground, too. <sup>22</sup>But I will not treat the Israelites the same as the Egyptian people. There will not be any flies in the land of Goshen, where my people live. By this you will know that I, the Lord, am in this land. <sup>23</sup>I will treat my people differently from your people. This miracle will happen tomorrow.”

<sup>24</sup>So the Lord did as he had said, and great swarms of flies came into the king’s palace and his officers’ houses. All over Egypt flies were ruining the land. <sup>25</sup>The king called for Moses and Aaron and told them, “Offer sacrifices to your God here in this country.”

<sup>26</sup>But Moses said, “It wouldn’t be right to do that, because the Egyptians hate the sacrifices we offer to the Lord our God. If they see us offering sacrifices they hate, they will throw stones at us and kill us. <sup>27</sup>Let us make a three-day journey into the desert. We must offer sacrifices to the Lord our God there, as the Lord told us to do.”

<sup>28</sup>The king said, “I will let you go so that you may offer sacrifices to the Lord your God in the desert, but you must not go very far away. Now go and pray for me.”

<sup>29</sup>Moses said, “I will leave and pray to the Lord, and he will take the flies away from you, your officers, and your people tomorrow. But do not try to trick us again. Do not stop the people from going to offer sacrifices to the Lord.”

<sup>30</sup>So Moses left the king and prayed to the Lord, <sup>31</sup>and the Lord did as he asked. He removed the flies from the king, his officers, and his people so that not one fly was left. <sup>32</sup>But the king became stubborn again and did not let the people go.

Life Lessons

Exodus 9:1–10:29

Situation

Moses began to reveal the majesty of God through individual miracles and plagues. The first four plagues turned the Nile to blood and infested the country with frogs, gnats, and flies. Though the entire country of Egypt suffered these plagues, the king refused to free the Israelites.

Observation

Pride makes us stubborn. Not only is pride unattractive, it can be ruinous (like it was to Pharaoh).

Inspiration

You've heard of God's children referred to as sheep. It isn't a bad picture, all things considered. The image conjures up visions of green pastures, still waters, and a gentle Shepherd, keeping watch over the flock.

But He also refers to us as mules. Sometimes, I think that's a better analogy.

Don't be like a balky mule! Don't be stubborn when God speaks. Don't continually fight and resist Him. Don't keep running away from Him so that He can't speak to you. Don't force Him to lasso you before you'll let Him draw near.

Why do we resist such a magnificent God who loves us? It makes no sense!

(From Wisdom for the Way by Charles Swindoll)

Application

What are some ways your pride has kept you from God? Has it ever ruined you? Acknowledge your bent toward independence, and ask the Lord to rid you of your self-reliance.

Exploration

Pride—Proverbs 8:13; 16:18; Mark 7:20–23; 1 John 2:16.

The framer of our destiny is familiar with our denseness. God knows we sometimes miss the signs. Maybe that's why he gave us so many. —Max Lucado (He Chose the Nails)

The Disease on the Farm Animals

Then the Lord told Moses, “Go to the king of Egypt and tell him, ‘This is what the Lord, the God of the Hebrews, says: Let my people go to worship me. <sup>2</sup>If you refuse to let them go and continue to hold them, <sup>3</sup>the Lord will punish you. He will send a terrible disease on your farm animals that are in the fields. He will cause your horses, donkeys, camels, cattle, goats, and sheep to become sick. <sup>4</sup>But the Lord will treat Israel’s animals differently from the animals of Egypt. None of the animals that belong to the Israelites will die. <sup>5</sup>The Lord has set tomorrow as the time he will do this in the land.’” <sup>6</sup>The next day the Lord did as he promised. All the farm animals in Egypt died, but none of the animals belonging to Israelites died. <sup>7</sup>The king sent people to see what had happened to the animals of Israel, and they found that not one of them had died. But the king was still stubborn and did not let the people go.

The Boils

ashes from a furnace. Moses, throw the ashes into the air in front of the king of Egypt. <sup>9</sup>The ashes will spread like dust through all the land of Egypt. They will cause boils to break out and become sores on the skin of people and animals everywhere in the land.”

The Hail

<sup>13</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, “Get up early in the morning and go to the king of Egypt. Tell him, ‘This is what the Lord, the God of the Hebrews, says: Let my people go to worship me. <sup>14</sup>If you don’t, this time I will punish you, your officers, and your people, with all my power. Then you will know there is no one in the whole land like me. <sup>15</sup>By now I could have used my power and caused a terrible disease that would have destroyed you and your people from the earth. <sup>16</sup>But I have let you live for this reason: to show you my power so that my name will be talked about in all the earth. <sup>17</sup>You are still against my people and do not want to let them go. <sup>18</sup>So at this time tomorrow, I will send a terrible hailstorm, the worst in Egypt since it became a nation. <sup>19</sup>Now send for your animals and whatever you have in the fields, and bring them into a safe place. The hail will fall on every person or animal that is still in the fields. If they have not been brought in, they will die.”<sup>20</sup> Some of the king’s officers respected the word of the Lord and hurried to bring their slaves and animals inside.<sup>21</sup> But others ignored the Lord’s message and left their slaves and animals in the fields.

<sup>22</sup>The Lord told Moses, “Raise your hand toward the sky. Then the hail will start falling in all the land of Egypt. It will fall on people, animals, and on everything that grows in the fields of Egypt.”<sup>23</sup> When Moses raised his walking stick toward the sky, the Lord sent thunder and hail, and lightning flashed down to the earth. So he caused hail to fall upon the land of Egypt.<sup>24</sup> There was hail, and lightning flashed as it hailed—the worst hailstorm in Egypt since it had become a nation.<sup>25</sup> The hail destroyed all the people and animals that were in the fields in all the land of Egypt. It also destroyed everything that grew in the fields and broke all the trees in the fields.<sup>26</sup> The only place it did not hail was in the land of Goshen, where the Israelites lived.

<sup>27</sup>The king sent for Moses and Aaron and told them, “This time I have sinned. The Lord is in the right, and I and my people are in the wrong.”<sup>28</sup> Pray to the Lord. We have had enough of God’s thunder and hail. I will let you go; you do not have to stay here any longer.”

<sup>29</sup>Moses told the king, “When I leave the city, I will raise my hands to the Lord in prayer, and the thunder and hail will stop. Then you will know that the earth belongs to the Lord.”<sup>30</sup> But I know that you and your officers do not yet fear the Lord God.”

<sup>31</sup>The flax was in bloom, and the barley had ripened, so these crops were destroyed.<sup>32</sup> But both wheat crops ripen later, so they were not destroyed.

<sup>33</sup>Moses left the king and went outside the city. He raised his hands to the Lord, and the thunder and hail stopped. The rain also stopped falling to the ground. <sup>34</sup>When the king saw that the rain, hail, and thunder had stopped, he sinned again, and he and his officers became stubborn. <sup>35</sup>So the king became stubborn and refused to let the Israelites go, just as the Lord had said through Moses.

The Locusts

The Lord said to Moses, “Go to the king of Egypt. I have made him and his officers stubborn so I could show them my powerful miracles.<sup>2</sup> I also did this so you could tell your children and your grandchildren how I was hard on the Egyptians. Tell them about the miracles I did among them so that all of you will know that I am the Lord.”

<sup>3</sup>So Moses and Aaron went to the king and told him, “This is what the Lord, the God of the Hebrews, says: ‘How long will you refuse to be sorry for what you have done? Let my people go to worship me. <sup>4</sup>If you refuse to let my people go, tomorrow I will bring locusts into your country. <sup>5</sup>They will cover the land so that no one will be able to see the ground. They will eat anything that was left from the hailstorm and the leaves from every tree growing in the field. <sup>6</sup>They will fill your palaces and all your officers’ houses, as well as the houses of all the Egyptians. There will be more locusts than your fathers or ancestors have ever seen—more than there have been since people began living in Egypt.’” Then Moses turned and walked away from the king.

<sup>7</sup>The king’s officers asked him, “How long will this man make trouble for us? Let the Israelites go to worship the Lord their God. Don’t you know that Egypt is ruined?”

<sup>8</sup>So Moses and Aaron were brought back to the king. He said to them, “Go and worship the Lord your God. But tell me, just who is going?”

<sup>9</sup>Moses answered, “We will go with our young and old people, our sons and daughters, and our flocks and herds, because we are going to have a feast to honor the Lord.”

<sup>10</sup>The king said to them, “The Lord will really have to be with you if ever I let you and all of your children leave Egypt. See, you are planning something evil! <sup>11</sup>No! Only the men may go and worship the Lord, which is what you have been asking for.” Then the king forced Moses and Aaron out of his palace.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord told Moses, “Raise your hand over the land of Egypt, and the locusts will come. They will spread all over the land of Egypt and will eat all the plants the hail did not destroy.”

<sup>13</sup>So Moses raised his walking stick over the land of Egypt, and the Lord caused a strong wind to blow from the east. It blew across the land all that day and night, and when morning came, the east wind had brought the locusts. <sup>14</sup>Swarms of locusts covered all the land of Egypt and settled everywhere. There were more locusts than ever before or after, <sup>15</sup>and they covered the whole land so that it was black. They ate everything that was left after the hail—every plant in the field and all the fruit on the trees. Nothing green was left on any tree or plant anywhere in Egypt.

<sup>16</sup>The king quickly called for Moses and Aaron. He said, “I have sinned against the Lord your God and against you. <sup>17</sup>Now forgive my sin this time. Pray to the Lord your God, and ask him to stop this punishment that kills.”

The Darkness

<sup>21</sup>Then the Lord told Moses, “Raise your hand toward the sky, and darkness will cover the land of Egypt. It will be so dark you will be able to feel it.” <sup>22</sup>Moses raised his hand toward the sky, and total darkness was everywhere in Egypt for three days. <sup>23</sup>No one could see anyone else, and no one could go anywhere for three days. But the Israelites had light where they lived.

<sup>24</sup>Again the king of Egypt called for Moses. He said, “All of you may go and worship the Lord. You may take your women and children with you, but you must leave your flocks and herds here.”

<sup>25</sup>Moses said, “You must let us have animals to use as sacrifices and burnt offerings, because we have to offer them to the Lord our God. <sup>26</sup>So we must take our animals with us; not a hoof will be left behind. We have to use some of the animals to worship the Lord our God. We won’t know exactly what we will need to worship the Lord until we get there.”

<sup>27</sup>But the Lord made the king stubborn again, so he refused to let them go. <sup>28</sup>Then he told Moses, “Get out of here, and don’t come again! The next time you see me, you will die.”

<sup>29</sup>Then Moses told the king, “I’ll do what you say. I will not come to see you again.”

Life Lessons

Exodus 11:1–12:50

Situation

In this passage, nine of the ten plagues in Egypt had already occurred. Pharaoh, despite the pleadings of Moses, refused to give in. God told the Israelites to prepare the Passover, which would protect his people from the final plague.

Observation

God did not protect the Israelites because they were better than the Egyptians, but because they were his people. God gives grace to his followers—whether through the blood of a lamb or the blood of the Lamb, Jesus—not based on merit but on his lovingkindness.

Inspiration

“God was in Christ, making peace between the world and himself. . . . Christ had no sin, but God made him become sin so that in Christ we could become right with God” (2 Corinthians 5:19, 21).

The perfect record of Jesus was given to you, and your imperfect record was given to Christ. Jesus was “not guilty, but he suffered for those who are guilty to bring you to God” (1 Peter 3:18). As a result, God’s holiness is honored and his children are forgiven.

By his perfect life Jesus fulfilled the commands of the law. By his death he satisfied the demands of sin. Jesus suffered not like a sinner, but as a sinner. Why else would he cry, “My God, my God, why have you rejected me” (Matthew 27:46)?

Ponder the achievement of God. He doesn't condone our sin; nor does he compromise his standard. He doesn't ignore our rebellion; nor does he relax his demands. Rather than dismiss our sin he assumes our sin and, incredibly, sentences himself. God's holiness is honored. Our sin is punished. And we are redeemed. God is still God. The wages of sin is still death. And we are made perfect.

That's right, perfect. “With one sacrifice he made perfect forever those who are being made holy” (Hebrews 10:14).

God justifies (makes perfect) then sanctifies (makes holy). God does what we cannot do so we can be what we dare not dream, perfect before God. He justly justifies the unjust. (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

Application

God has given grace to you—an unconditional gift. Receive it and accept it. Look for opportunities to be “graceful” to those around you.

Exploration

Grace—Exodus 33:19; Proverbs 3:34; Romans 3:23–24; 5:15–17; Ephesians 2:8.

The Death of the Firstborn

Now the Lord had told Moses, “I have one more way to punish the king and the people of Egypt. After this, the king will send all of you away from Egypt. When he does, he will force you to leave completely. <sup>2</sup>Tell the men and women of Israel to ask their neighbors for things made of silver and gold.” <sup>3</sup>The Lord had caused the Egyptians to respect the Israelites, and both the king’s officers and the Egyptian people considered Moses to be a great man.

<sup>4</sup>So Moses said to the king, “This is what the Lord says: ‘About midnight tonight I will go through all Egypt. <sup>5</sup>Every firstborn son in the land of Egypt will die—from the firstborn son of the king, who sits on his throne, to the firstborn of the slave girl grinding grain. Also the firstborn farm animals will die. <sup>6</sup>There will be loud outcries everywhere in Egypt, worse than any time before or after this. <sup>7</sup>But not even a dog will bark at the Israelites or their animals.’ Then you will know that the Lord treats Israel differently from Egypt. <sup>8</sup>All your officers will come to me. They will bow facedown to the ground before me and say, ‘Leave and take all your people with you.’ After that, I will leave.” Then Moses very angrily left the king.

<sup>9</sup>The Lord had told Moses, “The king will not listen to you and Aaron so that I may do many miracles in the land of Egypt.” <sup>10</sup>Moses and Aaron did all these great miracles in front of the king. But the Lord made him stubborn, and the king would not let the Israelites leave his country.

The First Passover

The Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt: <sup>2</sup>“This month will be the beginning of months, the first month of the year for you. <sup>3</sup>Tell the whole community of Israel that on the tenth day of this month each man must get one lamb for the people in his house. <sup>4</sup>If there are not enough people in his house to eat a whole lamb, he must share it with his closest neighbor, considering the number of people. There must be enough lamb for everyone to eat. <sup>5</sup>The lamb must be a one-year-old male that has nothing wrong with it. This animal can be either a young sheep or a young goat. <sup>6</sup>Take care of the animals until the fourteenth day of the month. On that day all the people of the community of Israel will kill them in the evening before dark. <sup>7</sup>The people must take some of the blood and put it on the sides and tops of the doorframes of the houses where they eat the lambs. <sup>8</sup>On this night they must roast the lamb over a fire. They must eat it with bitter herbs and bread made without yeast. <sup>9</sup>Do not eat the lamb raw or boiled in water. Roast the whole lamb over a fire—with its head, legs, and inner organs. <sup>10</sup>You must not leave any of it until morning, but if any of it is left over until morning, you must burn it with fire.

<sup>11</sup>“This is the way you must eat it: You must be fully dressed as if you were going on a trip. You must have your sandals on and your walking stick in your hand. You must eat it in a hurry; this is the Lord’s Passover.

<sup>12</sup>“That night I will go through the land of Egypt and kill all the firstborn animals and people in the land of Egypt. I will also punish all the gods of Egypt. I am the Lord. <sup>13</sup>But the blood will be a sign on the houses where you are. When I see the blood, I will pass over you. Nothing terrible will hurt you when I punish the land of Egypt.

<sup>14</sup>“You are always to remember this day and celebrate it with a feast to the Lord. Your descendants are to honor the Lord with this feast from now on. <sup>15</sup>For this feast you must eat bread made without yeast for seven days. On the first day, you are to remove all the yeast from your houses. No one should eat any yeast for the full seven days of the feast, or that person will be cut off from Israel. <sup>16</sup>You are to have holy meetings on the first and last days of the feast. You must not do any work on these days; the only work you may do is to prepare your meals. <sup>17</sup>You must celebrate the Feast of Unleavened Bread, because on this very day I brought your divisions of people out of Egypt. So all of your descendants must celebrate this day. This is a law that will last from now on. <sup>18</sup>In the first month of the year you are to eat bread made without yeast, from the evening of the fourteenth day until the evening of the twenty-first day. <sup>19</sup>For seven days there must not be any yeast in your houses. Anybody who eats yeast during this time, either an Israelite or non-Israelite, must be cut off from the community of Israel. <sup>20</sup>During this feast you must not eat anything made with yeast. You must eat only bread made without yeast wherever you live.”

<sup>21</sup>Then Moses called all the older leaders of Israel together and told them, “Get the animals for your families and kill the lamb for the Passover. <sup>22</sup>Take a branch of the hyssop plant, dip it into the bowl filled with blood, and then wipe the blood on the sides and tops of the doorframes. No one may leave that house until morning.<sup>23</sup>When the Lord goes through Egypt to kill the Egyptians, he will see the blood on the sides and tops of the doorframes, and he will pass over that house. He will not let the one who brings death come into your houses and kill you.

New Life in Christ

“When I see the blood, I will pass over you.”—Exodus 12:13

The Blood of Christ

“But one of the soldiers stuck his spear into Jesus’ side, and at once blood and water came out” (John 19:34). Even a casual student of Scripture notes the connection between blood and mercy. As far back as the son of Adam, worshipers knew “Sins cannot be forgiven without blood” (Hebrews 9:22)... . With a field as his temple and the ground as his altar, Abel became the first to do what millions would imitate. He offered a blood sacrifice for sin... .

Those who followed suit for a long line: Abraham, Moses, Gideon, Samson, Saul, David ... But the line ended at the cross. What Abel sought to accomplish in the field, God achieved with his Son. What Abel began, Christ completed... .

What needed to be paid was paid. What had to be done was done. Innocent blood was required. Innocent blood was offered, once and for all time... .

As a result of “being saved” (the work of the blood), what do we do? We obey God “with deep reverence” and shrink back “from all that might displease him” [Philippians 2:12-13, TLB]. (From He Chose the Nails by Max Lucado)

Question: What steps can you take today to learn obedience?

For more on “New Life in Christ.”

Israel Leaves Egypt

<sup>31</sup>During the night the king called for Moses and Aaron and said, “Get up and leave my people. You and your people may do as you have asked; go and worship the Lord. <sup>32</sup>Take all of your flocks and herds as you have asked, and go. And also bless me.” <sup>33</sup>The Egyptians also asked the Israelites to hurry and leave, saying, “If you don’t leave, we will all die!”

<sup>34</sup>So the people took their dough before the yeast was added. They wrapped the bowls for making dough in clothing and carried them on their shoulders. <sup>35</sup>The Israelites did what Moses told them to do and asked their Egyptian neighbors for things made of silver and gold and for clothing.<sup>36</sup>The Lord caused the Egyptians to think well of them, and the Egyptians gave the people everything they asked for. So the Israelites took rich gifts from them.

man who is not circumcised may not eat the Passover meal.
<sup>49</sup>The same rules apply to an Israelite born in the country or to a foreigner living there.”

<sup>50</sup>So all the Israelites did just as the Lord had commanded Moses and Aaron. <sup>51</sup>On that same day the Lord led the Israelites out of Egypt by their divisions.

Life Lessons

Exodus 13:1–15:21

Situation

The Israelites left Egypt. As they journeyed toward Israel, God chose to lead them through a longer route—a route that protected, trained, and tested them.

Observation

God can see needs and hazards we can't. He works to meet our needs and protect us. We must trust that his way is best.

Inspiration

Is this really true? Does God lead His children in this way? I want to listen with you to that which the Holy Spirit has to tell us about guidance, for this is sometimes a problem for me, as for many people. There are many who say, "I never hear anything when asking for guidance."

But then my question is, "Do you listen?" Sometimes we have to wait for the Lord, but this waiting can be a blessing in itself, if we do it in the presence of the Lord. Our quiet time is helpful for this.

If you want to hear God's voice clearly and you are uncertain, then remain in His presence until He changes this uncertainty. Often much can happen during this waiting for the Lord. Sometimes He changes pride into humility; doubt into faith and peace; sometimes lust into purity. The Lord can and will do it.

We must also understand that sometimes the silence of the Lord is His way of letting us grow, just as a mother allows her child to fall and get up again when he is learning to walk. If at times God allows a conflict, it may be His way of training us. (From Not I but Christ by Corrie ten Boom)

Application

Do you get impatient with God when he takes you the longer route? Accept the path he has placed you on. Be content with God's purpose in your life. Encourage others who are dissatisfied in their own circumstances to do the same.

Exploration

Guidance—Psalm 48:14; 139:9–10; Isaiah 30:21; 42:16; John 16:13.

The key question in life is not “How strong am I?” but rather “How strong is God?” Focus on his strength, not yours. Occupy yourself with the nature of God, not the size of your biceps. —Max Lucado (The Great House of God)

The Law of the Firstborn

Then the Lord said to Moses,<sup>2</sup>“Give every firstborn male to me. Every firstborn male among the Israelites belongs to me, whether human or animal.”

<sup>3</sup>Moses said to the people, “Remember this day, the day you left Egypt. You were slaves in that land, but the Lord with his great power brought you out of it. You must not eat bread made with yeast. <sup>4</sup>Today, in the month of Abib, you are leaving Egypt. <sup>5</sup>The Lord will lead you to the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Hivites, and Jebusites. This is the land he promised your ancestors he would give you, a fertile land. There you must celebrate this feast during the first month of every year. <sup>6</sup>For seven days you must eat bread made without yeast, and on the seventh day there will be a feast to honor the Lord. <sup>7</sup>So for seven days you must not eat any bread made with yeast. There must be no bread made with yeast anywhere in your land. <sup>8</sup>On that day you should tell your son: ‘We are having this feast because of what the Lord did for me when I came out of Egypt.’ <sup>9</sup>This feast will help you remember, like a mark on your hand or a reminder on your forehead. This feast will remind you to speak the Lord's teachings, because the Lord used his great power to bring you out of Egypt.<sup>10</sup> So celebrate this feast every year at the right time.

<sup>11</sup>“And when the Lord takes you into the land of the Canaanites, the land he promised to give you and your ancestors,<sup>12</sup> you must give him every firstborn male. Also every firstborn male animal must be given to the Lord.<sup>13</sup> Buy back every firstborn donkey by offering a lamb. But if you don't want to buy the donkey back, then break its neck. You must buy back from the Lord every firstborn of your sons.

<sup>14</sup>“From now on when your son asks you, ‘What does this mean?’ you will answer, ‘With his great power, the Lord brought us out from Egypt, the land where we were slaves.<sup>15</sup> The king of Egypt was stubborn and refused to let us leave. But the Lord killed every firstborn male in Egypt, both human and animal. That is why I sacrifice every firstborn male animal to the Lord, and that is why I buy back each of my firstborn sons from the Lord.’<sup>16</sup> This feast is like a mark on your hand and a reminder on your forehead to help you remember that the Lord brought us out of Egypt with his great power.”

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: Our Redeemer and Deliverer

Think about the first time you ever saw him. Think about your first encounter with Christ. Robe yourself in that moment. Resurrect the relief. Recall the purity. Summon forth the passion. Can you remember?

I can. 1965. A red-headed ten-year-old with a tornado of freckles sits in a Bible class on a Wednesday night. What I remember of the class are scenes—school desks with initials carved in them. A blackboard. A dozen or so kids, some listening, some not. A teacher wearing a suit coat too tight to button around his robust belly.

He is talking about Jesus. He is explaining the cross. I know I had heard it before, but that night I heard it for sure. “You can’t save yourself, you need a savior.” I can’t explain why it connected that night as opposed to another, but it did. He simply articulated what I was beginning to understand—I was lost—and he explained what I needed—a redeemer. From that night on, my heart belonged to Jesus.

Many would argue that a ten-year-old is too young for such a decision. And they may be right. All I know is that I never made a more earnest decision in my life. I didn’t know much about God, but what I knew was enough. I knew I wanted to go to heaven. And I knew I couldn’t do it alone.

No one had to tell me to be happy. No one had to tell me to tell others. They couldn’t keep me quiet. I told all my friends at school. I put a bumper sticker on my bicycle. (From Six Hours One Friday by Max Lucado)

The Way Out of Egypt

<sup>17</sup>When the king sent the people out of Egypt, God did not lead them on the road through the Philistine country, though that was the shortest way. God said, “If they have to fight, they might change their minds and go back to Egypt.” <sup>18</sup>So God led them through the desert toward the Red Sea. The Israelites were dressed for fighting when they left the land of Egypt.

<sup>19</sup>Moses carried the bones of Joseph with him, because before Joseph died, he had made the Israelites promise to do this. He had said, “When God saves you, remember to carry my bones with you out of Egypt.”

Then the Lord said to Moses,<sup>2</sup>“Tell the Israelites to turn back to Pi Hahiroth and to camp between Migdol and the Red Sea. Camp across from Baal Zephon, on the shore of the sea.<sup>3</sup>The king will think, ‘The Israelites are lost, trapped by the desert.’<sup>4</sup>I will make the king stubborn again so he will chase after them, but I will defeat the king and his army. This will bring honor to me, and the Egyptians will know that I am the Lord.” The Israelites did just as they were told.

The King Chases the Israelites

<sup>5</sup>When the king of Egypt was told that the Israelites had left, he and his officers changed their minds about them. They said, “What have we done? We have let the Israelites leave. We have lost our slaves!”<sup>6</sup>So the king prepared his war chariot and took his army with him.<sup>7</sup>He took six hundred of his best chariots, together with all the other chariots of Egypt, each with an officer in it.<sup>8</sup>The Lord made the king of Egypt stubborn, so he chased the Israelites, who were leaving victoriously.<sup>9</sup>The Egyptians—with all the king’s horses, chariot drivers, and army—chased the Israelites. They caught up with them while they were camped by the Red Sea, near Pi Hahiroth and Baal Zephon.

<sup>10</sup>When the Israelites saw the king and his army coming after them, they were very frightened and cried to the Lord for help.<sup>11</sup>They said to Moses, “What have you done to us? Why did you bring us out of Egypt to die in the desert? There were plenty of graves for us in Egypt.<sup>12</sup>We told you in Egypt, ‘Let us alone; we will stay and serve the Egyptians.’ Now we will die in the desert.”

<sup>13</sup>But Moses answered, “Don’t be afraid! Stand still and you will see the Lord save you today. You will never see these Egyptians again after today. <sup>14</sup>You only need to remain calm; the Lord will fight for you.”

<sup>15</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, “Why are you crying out to me? Command the Israelites to start moving. <sup>16</sup>Raise your walking stick and hold it over the sea so that the sea will split and the people can cross it on dry land. <sup>17</sup>I will make the Egyptians stubborn so they will chase the Israelites, but I will be honored when I defeat the king and all of his chariot drivers and chariots. <sup>18</sup>When I defeat the king, his chariot drivers, and chariots, the Egyptians will know that I am the Lord.”

<sup>26</sup>Then the Lord told Moses, “Hold your hand over the sea so that the water will come back over the Egyptians, their chariots, and chariot drivers.” <sup>27</sup>So Moses raised his hand over the sea, and at dawn the sea returned to its place. The Egyptians tried to run from it, but the Lord swept them away into the sea. <sup>28</sup>The water returned, covering the chariots, chariot drivers, and all the king’s army that had followed the Israelites into the sea. Not one of them survived.

The Song of Moses

Then Moses and the Israelites sang this song to the Lord:

“I will sing to the Lord,
because he is worthy of great honor.
He has thrown the horse and its rider
into the sea.

he has saved me.

He is my God,
and I will praise him.
He is the God of my fathers, and I will honor him.

<sup>3</sup>The Lord is a warrior;
the Lord is his name.

he has thrown into the sea.
The king’s best officers are drowned in the Red Sea.

and they sank to the bottom like a rock.

is amazingly strong.
Lord, your right hand broke the enemy to pieces.

you destroyed those who were against you.
Your anger destroyed them, like fire burning straw.

<sup>8</sup>Just a blast of your breath, and the waters piled up.

The moving water stood like a wall;

the deep waters became solid in the middle of the sea.

I’ll take all their riches;

I’ll take all I want.

I’ll pull out my sword, and my hand will destroy them.’

<sup>10</sup>But you blew on them with your breath and covered them with the sea.

They sank like lead in the raging water.

<sup>11</sup>“Are there any gods like you, Lord?

There are no gods like you.

You are wonderfully holy, amazingly powerful,

a worker of miracles.

and the earth swallowed our enemies.

and lead the people you have saved.

With your strength you will guide them to your holy place.

<sup>14</sup>“The other nations will hear this and tremble with fear; terror will take hold of the Philistines.

<sup>15</sup>The leaders of the tribes of Edom will be very frightened;

the powerful men of Moab will shake with fear;
the people of Canaan will lose all their courage.

When they see your strength, they will be as still as a rock.

They will be still until your people pass by, Lord.

They will be still until the people you have taken as your own pass by.

<sup>17</sup>You will lead your people and place them on your very own mountain, the place that you, Lord, made for yourself to live, the temple, Lord, that your hands have made.

<sup>18</sup>The Lord will be king forever!”

“Sing to the Lord,
because he is worthy of great honor;
he has thrown the horse and its rider
into the sea.”

Life Lessons

Exodus 15:22–17:7

Situation

For centuries the Israelites had lived on fertile farm land in Goshen. What a contrast the desert was to this previous comfort. With no way to provide for themselves, the Israelites complained to God. He performed daily miracles to provide water and food for them. Manna appeared in flake form with the morning dew. The Israelites ground it like grain and cooked with it.

Observation

The Israelites focused on physical needs, but God focused on their need to learn to trust him. The Israelites could not conquer the desert, but climate was not a problem for God. He sustained, tested, and encouraged them in a perfect way.

Inspiration

In order to reach the destination, we have to say no to some requests.

Can you imagine the outcome if a parent honored each request of each child during a trip? We'd inch our bloated bellies from one ice-cream store to the next. Our priority would be popcorn and our itinerary would read like a fast-food menu. "Go to the Cherry Malt and make a right. Head north until you find the Chili Cheeseburger. Stay north for 1,300 calories and bear left at the Giant Pizza. When you see the two-for-one Chili Dog Special, take the Pepto-Bismol Turnpike east for five convenience stores. At the sixth toilet ..."

Can you imagine the chaos if a parent indulged every indulgence?

Can you imagine the chaos if God indulged each of ours?

No is a necessary word to take on a trip. Destination has to reign over Dairy Deluxe Ice Cream Sundae.

Bitter Water Becomes Good

<sup>22</sup>Moses led the Israelites away from the Red Sea into the Desert of Shur. They traveled for three days in the desert but found no water. <sup>23</sup>Then they came to Marah, where there was water, but they could not drink it because it was too bitter. (That is why the place was named Marah.) <sup>24</sup>The people grumbled to Moses and asked, “What will we drink?”

<sup>25</sup>So Moses cried out to the Lord, and the Lord showed him a tree. When Moses threw the tree into the water, the water became good to drink.

There the Lord gave the people a rule and a law to live by, and there he tested their loyalty to him. <sup>26</sup>He said, “You must obey the Lord your God and do what he says is right. If you obey all his commands and keep his rules, I will not bring on you any of the sicknesses I brought on the Egyptians. I am the Lord who heals you.”

<sup>27</sup>Then the people traveled to Elim, where there were twelve springs of water and seventy palm trees. So the people camped there near the water.

The People Demand Food

The whole Israelite community left Elim and came to the Desert of Sin, which was between Elim and Sinai; they arrived there on the fifteenth day of the second month after they had left Egypt.<sup>2</sup> Then the whole Israelite community grumbled to Moses and Aaron in the desert.<sup>3</sup> They said to them, "It would have been better if the Lord had killed us in the land of Egypt. There we had meat to eat and all the food we wanted. But you have brought us into this desert to starve us to death."

<sup>4</sup> Then the Lord said to Moses, "I will cause food to fall like rain from the sky for all of you. Every day the people must go out and gather what they need for that day. I want to see if the people will do what I teach them."<sup>5</sup> On the sixth day of each week, they are to gather twice as much as they gather on other days. Then they are to prepare it."

<sup>6</sup> So Moses and Aaron said to all the Israelites: "This evening you will know that the Lord is the one who brought you out of Egypt."<sup>7</sup> Tomorrow morning you will see the glory of the Lord, because he has heard you grumble against him. We are nothing, so you are not grumbling against us, but against the Lord."<sup>8</sup> And Moses said, "Each evening the Lord will give you meat to eat, and every morning he will give you all the bread you want, because he has heard you grumble against him. You are not grumbling against Aaron and me, because we are nothing; you are grumbling against the Lord."

<sup>9</sup> Then Moses said to Aaron, "Speak to the whole community of the Israelites, and say to them, 'Meet together in the presence of the Lord, because he has heard your grumbings.”

<sup>10</sup>While Aaron was speaking to the whole community of the Israelites, they looked toward the desert. There the glory of the Lord appeared in a cloud.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>12</sup>“I have heard the grumbings of the people of Israel. So tell them, ‘At twilight you will eat meat, and every morning you will eat all the bread you want. Then you will know I am the Lord your God.’”

<sup>13</sup>That evening quail came and covered the camp, and in the morning dew lay around the camp. <sup>14</sup>When the dew was gone, thin flakes like frost were on the desert ground. <sup>15</sup>When the Israelites saw it, they asked each other, “What is it?” because they did not know what it was.

So Moses told them, “This is the bread the Lord has given you to eat. <sup>16</sup>The Lord has commanded, ‘Each one of you must gather what he needs, about two quarts for every person in your family.’”

<sup>17</sup>So the people of Israel did this; some people gathered much, and some gathered little. <sup>18</sup>Then they measured it. The person who gathered more did not have too much, nor did the person who gathered less have too little. Each person gathered just as much as he needed.

<sup>19</sup>Moses said to them, “Don’t keep any of it to eat the next day.” <sup>20</sup>But some of the people did not listen to Moses and kept part of it to eat the next morning. It became full of worms and began to stink, so Moses was angry with those people.

<sup>21</sup>Every morning each person gathered as much food as he needed, but when the sun became hot, it melted away.

<sup>22</sup>On the sixth day the people gathered twice as much food—four quarts for every person. When all the leaders of the community came and told this to Moses,<sup>23</sup>he said to them, “This is what the Lord commanded, because tomorrow is the Sabbath, the Lord’s holy day of rest. Bake what you want to bake, and boil what you want to boil today. Save the rest of the food until tomorrow morning.”

<sup>24</sup>So the people saved it until the next morning, as Moses had commanded, and none of it began to stink or have worms in it.<sup>25</sup>Moses told the people, “Eat the food you gathered yesterday. Today is a Sabbath, the Lord’s day of rest; you will not find any out in the field today.<sup>26</sup>You should gather the food for six days, but the seventh day is a Sabbath day. On that day there will not be any food on the ground.”

<sup>27</sup>On the seventh day some of the people went out to gather food, but they couldn’t find any.<sup>28</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, “How long will you people refuse to obey my commands and teachings?<sup>29</sup>Look, the Lord has made the Sabbath a day of rest for you. So on the sixth day he will give you enough food for two days, but on the seventh day each of you must stay where you are. Do not go anywhere.”<sup>30</sup>So the people rested on the seventh day.

<sup>32</sup>Then Moses said, “The Lord said, ‘Save two quarts of this food for your descendants. Then they can see the food I gave you to eat in the desert when I brought you out of Egypt.’”

<sup>33</sup>Moses told Aaron, “Take a jar and fill it with two quarts of manna. Then place it before the Lord, and save it for your descendants.”<sup>34</sup>So Aaron did what the Lord had commanded Moses. He put the jar of manna in front of the Agreement to keep it safe.<sup>35</sup>The Israelites ate manna for forty years, until they came to the land where they settled—the edge of the land of Canaan.<sup>36</sup>The measure they used for the manna was two quarts, or one-tenth of an ephah.

Water from a Rock

The whole Israelite community left the Desert of Sin and traveled from place to place, as the Lord commanded. They camped at Rephidim, but there was no water there for the people to drink. <sup>2</sup>So they quarreled with Moses and said, “Give us water to drink.”

Moses said to them, “Why do you quarrel with me? Why are you testing the Lord?”

<sup>3</sup>But the people were very thirsty for water, so they grumbled against Moses. They said, “Why did you bring us out of Egypt? Was it to kill us, our children, and our farm animals with thirst?”

<sup>5</sup>The Lord said to Moses, “Go ahead of the people, and take some of the older leaders of Israel with you. Carry with you the walking stick that you used to strike the Nile River. Now go! <sup>6</sup>I will stand in front of you on a rock at Mount Sinai. Hit that rock with the stick, and water will come out of it so that the people can drink.” Moses did these things as the older leaders of Israel watched. <sup>7</sup>He named that place Massah, because the Israelites tested the Lord when they asked, “Is the Lord with us or not?” He also named it Meribah, because they quarreled.

The Amalekites, descendants from Esau, hated the Israelites. God gave Moses victory against this enemy. After the victory, Moses was visited by his father-in-law, Jethro.

Observation

Moses knew that the Israelites required God's help if they were going to survive the Amalekites' attack. Moses relied on God's power and gave him credit for victory. Both large and small challenges are opportunities to rely on God for strength.

Inspiration

He is also Jehovah-nissi, the Lord my banner. In the heat of battle, soldiers feared getting separated from their army. For that reason a banner was carried into the conflict, and if a fighter found himself alone, the raised flag would signal safety. When the Amalekites (the big bad guys) attacked the Israelites (the little good guys), Moses went up on the mountain and prayed. As long as his hands were up, the Israelites prevailed. But when his hands were down, the Amalekites won. Moses was no dummy—he kept his hands up. The Israelites won, the Amalekites ran, and Moses built an altar for God and chiseled a new name on a stone—Jehovah-nissi—the Lord my banner (see Exodus 17:8–16).

There are just a few of the names of God, which describe his character. Study them, for in a given day, you may need each one of them. Let me show you what I mean.

When you are confused about the future, go to your Jehovah-raah, your caring shepherd. When you are anxious about provision, talk to Jehovah-jireh, the Lord who provides. Are your challenges too great? Seek the help of Jehovah-shalom, the Lord is peace. Is your body sick? Are your emotions weak? Jehovah-rophe, the Lord who heals you, will see you now. Do you feel like a soldier stranded behind enemy lines? Take refuge in Jehovah-nissi, the Lord my banner.

The Amalekites Fight Israel

<sup>9</sup>So Moses said to Joshua, “Choose some men and go and fight the Amalekites. Tomorrow I will stand on the top of the hill, holding the walking stick of God in my hands.”

<sup>14</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, “Write about this battle in a book so people will remember. And be sure to tell Joshua, because I will completely destroy the Amalekites from the earth.”

<sup>15</sup>Then Moses built an altar and named it The Lord Is My Banner. <sup>16</sup>Moses said, “I lifted my hands toward the Lord’s throne. The Lord will fight against the Amalekites forever.”

Jethro Visits Moses

Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, was the priest of Midian. He heard about everything that God had done for Moses and his people, the Israelites, and how the Lord had led the Israelites out of Egypt.<sup>2</sup> Now Moses had sent his wife Zipporah to Jethro, his father-in-law,<sup>3</sup> along with his two sons. The first son was named Gershom, because when he was born, Moses said, "I am a stranger in a foreign country."<sup>4</sup> The other son was named Eliezer, because when he was born, Moses said, "The God of my father is my help. He saved me from the king of Egypt."

<sup>5</sup>So Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, took Moses' wife and his two sons and went to Moses. He was camped in the desert near the mountain of God. <sup>6</sup>Jethro had sent a message ahead to Moses that said, "I, Jethro, your father-in-law, am coming to you with your wife and her two sons."

<sup>7</sup>So Moses went out to meet his father-in-law and bowed down and kissed him. After the two men asked about each other's health, they went into Moses' tent. <sup>8</sup>Moses told his father-in-law everything the Lord had done to the king and the Egyptians to help Israel. He told about all the problems they had faced along the way and how the Lord had saved them.

<sup>9</sup>Jethro was very happy to hear all the good things the Lord had done for Israel when he had saved them from the Egyptians. <sup>10</sup>He said, "Praise the Lord. He has saved you from the Egyptians and their king, and he has saved the people from the power of the Egyptians. <sup>11</sup>Now I know the Lord is greater than all gods, because he did this to those who looked down on Israel.”<sup>12</sup>Then Jethro, Moses’ father-in-law, gave a whole burnt offering and other sacrifices to God. Aaron and all the older leaders of Israel came to Moses’ father-in-law to eat the holy meal together before God.

<sup>13</sup>The next day Moses solved disagreements among the people, and the people stood around him from morning until night. <sup>14</sup>When Moses’ father-in-law saw all that Moses was doing for the people, he asked, “What is all this you are doing for the people? Why are you the only one to solve disagreements? All the people are standing around you from morning until night!”

<sup>15</sup>Then Moses said to his father-in-law, “It is because the people come to me for God’s help in solving their disagreements. <sup>16</sup>When people have a disagreement, they come to me, and I decide who is right. I tell them God’s laws and teachings.”

<sup>17</sup>Moses’ father-in-law said to him, “You are not doing this right. <sup>18</sup>You and the people who come to you will get too tired. This is too much work for you; you can’t do it by yourself. <sup>19</sup>Now listen to me, and I will give you some advice. I want God to be with you. You must speak to God for the people and tell him about their disagreements. <sup>20</sup>Warn them about the laws and teachings, and teach them the right way to live and what they should do. <sup>21</sup>But choose some capable men from among the people—men who respect God, who can be trusted, and who will not change their decisions for money. Make these men officers over the people, to rule over groups of thousands, hundreds, fifties, and tens. <sup>22</sup>Let these officers solve the disagreements among the people all the time. They can bring the hard cases to you, but they can decide the simple cases themselves. That will make it easier for you, because they will share the work with you.<sup>23</sup>If you do this as God commands you, then you will be able to do your job, and all the people will go home with their disagreements solved.”

<sup>24</sup>So Moses listened to his father-in-law and did everything he said.<sup>25</sup>He chose capable men from all the Israelites and made them leaders over the people; they were officers over groups of thousands, hundreds, fifties, and tens.<sup>26</sup>These officers solved disagreements among the people all the time. They brought the hard cases to Moses, but they decided the simple cases themselves.

Exodus 19:1-25

Situation

After God rescued the Israelites from the Egyptians, he led them into the Sinai Desert. Only God was able to keep them alive. He fed them and took care of them. Then God called for a huge prayer meeting, where he would come down to Mount Sinai in the sight of all the people.

Observation

When they needed him the most, God revealed his presence.

Inspiration

Why do all those great stories of miraculous answers to prayer come from African villages or obscure Chinese provinces? Why does it appear that God is visibly active only in the mission field? A skeptic may assume that providential drama gets added as the stories are passed along from hinterland to American Sunday school. A bigger reason, I think, is that God is most active when we are reaching out most. He stretches out when we stretch out.

Think about the classic examples. Why did George Müller report a book full of answers to specific prayer in complacent Victorian England? He was seeking to meet the needs of two thousand orphans. Why could Hudson Taylor in remotest China report such inspiring experiences about receiving just the funds or personnel needed without ever making an appeal to any human being? He was stretching out to share the gospel where it had not been shared before. Why did God's smuggler, Brother Andrew, have such an abundance of dramatic responses to his petitions? He was given completely to a mission: taking Bibles behind the iron curtain. God is most active in the thick of it. (From If Only God Would Answer by Steven Mosley)

Israel Camps at Sinai

Exactly three months after the Israelites had left Egypt, they reached the Desert of Sinai. <sup>2</sup>When they left Rephidim, they came to the Desert of Sinai and camped in the desert in front of the mountain. <sup>3</sup>Then Moses went up on the mountain to God. The Lord called to him from the mountain and said, “Say this to the family of Jacob, and tell the people of Israel: <sup>4</sup>‘Every one of you has seen what I did to the people of Egypt. You saw how I carried you out of Egypt, as if on eagle’s wings. And I brought you here to me. <sup>5</sup>So now if you obey me and keep my agreement, you will be my own possession, chosen from all nations. Even though the whole earth is mine, <sup>6</sup>you will be my kingdom of priests and a holy nation.’ You must tell the Israelites these words.”

<sup>7</sup>So Moses went down and called the older leaders of the people together. He told them all the words the Lord had commanded him to say. <sup>8</sup>All the people answered together, “We will do everything he has said.” Then Moses took their answer back to the Lord.

<sup>9</sup>And the Lord said to Moses, “I will come to you in a thick cloud and speak to you. The people will hear me speaking with you and will always trust you.” Then Moses told the Lord what the people had said.

<sup>10</sup>The Lord said to Moses, “Go to the people and have them spend today and tomorrow preparing themselves. They must wash their clothes <sup>11</sup>and be ready by the day after tomorrow. On that day I, the Lord, will come down on Mount Sinai, and all the people will see me. <sup>12</sup>But you must set a limit around the mountain that the people are not to cross. Tell them not to go up on the mountain and not to touch the foot of it. Anyone who touches the mountain must be put to death <sup>13</sup>with stones or shot with arrows. No one is allowed to touch him. Whether it is a person or an animal, he will not live. But the trumpet will make a long blast, and only then may the people go up on the mountain.”

<sup>14</sup>After Moses went down from the mountain to the people, he made them prepare themselves for service to God, and they washed their clothes. <sup>15</sup>Then Moses said to the people, “Be ready in three days. Do not have sexual relations during this time.”

<sup>16</sup>On the morning of the third day, there was thunder and lightning with a thick cloud on the mountain. There was a very loud blast from a trumpet, and all the people in the camp trembled. <sup>17</sup>Then Moses led the people out of the camp to meet God, and they stood at the foot of the mountain. <sup>18</sup>Mount Sinai was covered with smoke, because the Lord came down on it in fire. The smoke rose from the mountain like smoke from a furnace, and the whole mountain shook wildly. <sup>19</sup>The sound from the trumpet became louder. Then Moses spoke, and the voice of God answered him.

<sup>20</sup>When the Lord came down on top of Mount Sinai, he called Moses to come up to the top of the mountain, and Moses went up. <sup>21</sup>The Lord said to Moses, “Go down and warn the people that they must not force their way through to see me. If they do, many of them will die. <sup>22</sup>Even the priests, who may come near me, must first prepare themselves. If they don't, I, the Lord, will punish them.”

<sup>23</sup>Moses told the Lord, “The people cannot come up on Mount Sinai, because you yourself told us, ‘Set a limit around the mountain, and set it apart as holy.’”

<sup>24</sup>The Lord said to him, “Go down and bring Aaron up with you, but don't allow the priests or the people to force their way through. They must not come up to the Lord, or I will punish them.”

The Ten Commandments

Then God spoke all these words: <sup>2</sup>“I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt where you were slaves.

<sup>3</sup>“You must not have any other gods except me.

<sup>4</sup>“You must not make for yourselves an idol that looks like anything in the sky above or on the earth below or in the water below the land. <sup>5</sup>You must not worship or serve any idol, because I, the Lord your God, am a jealous God. If you hate me, I will punish your children, and even your grandchildren and great-grandchildren. <sup>6</sup>But I show kindness to thousands who love me and obey my commands.

<sup>8</sup>“Remember to keep the Sabbath holy. <sup>9</sup>Work and get everything done during six days each week, <sup>10</sup>but the seventh day is a day of rest to honor the Lord your God. On that day no one may do any work: not you, your son or daughter, your male or female slaves, your animals, or the foreigners living in your cities. <sup>11</sup>The reason is that in six days the Lord made everything—the sky, the earth, the sea, and everything in them. On the seventh day he rested. So the Lord blessed the Sabbath day and made it holy.

<sup>12</sup>“Honor your father and your mother so that you will live a long time in the land that the Lord your God is going to give you.

<sup>17</sup>“You must not want to take your neighbor’s house. You must not want his wife or his male or female slaves, or his ox or his donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor.”

<sup>18</sup>When the people heard the thunder and the trumpet, and when they saw the lightning and the smoke rising from the mountain, they shook with fear and stood far away from the mountain. <sup>19</sup>Then they said to Moses, “Speak to us yourself, and we will listen. But don’t let God speak to us, or we will die.”

<sup>20</sup>Then Moses said to the people, “Don’t be afraid, because God has come to test you. He wants you to respect him so you will not sin.”

<sup>21</sup>The people stood far away from the mountain while Moses went near the dark cloud where God was. <sup>22</sup>Then the Lord told Moses to say these things to the Israelites: “You yourselves have seen that I talked with you from heaven. <sup>23</sup>You must not use gold or silver to make idols for yourselves; do not worship these gods in addition to me.

<sup>24</sup>“Make an altar of dirt for me, and sacrifice on it your whole burnt offerings and fellowship offerings, your sheep and your cattle. Worship me in every place that I choose, and I will come and bless you. <sup>25</sup>If you use stones to make an altar for me, don’t use stones that you have shaped with tools. When you use any tools on them, you make them unsuitable for use in worship. <sup>26</sup>And you must not go up to my altar on steps, or people will be able to see under your clothes.”

Situation

God formed a covenant with Israel at Mount Sinai. The Ten Commandments changed history, giving us timeless truths and clear moral standards.

Observation

God demands total devotion. The Ten Commandments govern the relationship between God and those who love him.

Inspiration

Only 297 words are required to sum up in English all of God's moral law in the Ten Commandments. God distilled it even more when He said, "'You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.' This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like it, 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself'" (Matthew 22:37–39). Only sixty-five words make up the definitive teaching on prayer—the Lord's prayer—in Matthew 6:9–13.

Man doesn't have that capacity for essential brevity. There once was a government study to regulate the price of cabbage that ran over twenty-six thousand words!

Thank God for the provision of His profound Word.

Laws for Living

Then God said to Moses, “These are the laws for living that you will give to the Israelites:

<sup>2</sup>“If you buy a Hebrew slave, he will serve you for six years. In the seventh year you are to set him free, and he will have to pay nothing. <sup>3</sup>If he is not married when he becomes your slave, he must leave without a wife. But if he is married when he becomes your slave, he may take his wife with him. <sup>4</sup>If the slave’s master gives him a wife, and she gives birth to sons or daughters, the woman and her children will belong to the master. When the slave is set free, only he may leave.

<sup>5</sup>“But if the slave says, ‘I love my master, my wife and my children, and I don’t want to go free,’ <sup>6</sup>then the slave’s master must take him to God. The master is to take him to a door or doorframe and punch a hole through the slave’s ear using a sharp tool. Then the slave will serve that master all his life.

<sup>7</sup>“If a man sells his daughter as a slave, the rules for setting her free are different from the rules for setting the male slaves free. <sup>8</sup>If the master wanted to marry her but then decided he was not pleased with her, he must let one of her close relatives buy her back. He has no right to sell her to foreigners, because he has treated her unfairly. <sup>9</sup>If the man who bought her promises to let the woman marry his son, he must treat her as a daughter. <sup>10</sup>If the man who bought her marries another woman, he must not keep his first wife from having food or clothing or sexual relations. <sup>11</sup>If he does not give her these three things, she may go free, and she owes him no money.

Laws About Injuries

<sup>12c</sup>Anyone who hits a person and kills him must be put to death. <sup>13</sup>But if a person kills someone accidentally, God allowed that to happen, so the person must go to a place I will choose. <sup>14</sup>But if someone plans and murders another person on purpose, put him to death, even if he has run to my altar for safety.

<sup>16c</sup>Anyone who kidnaps someone and either sells him as a slave or still has him when he is caught must be put to death.

<sup>20c</sup>If a man beats his male or female slave with a stick, and the slave dies on the spot, the owner must be punished. <sup>21</sup>But if the slave gets well after a day or two, the owner will not be punished since the slave belongs to him.

<sup>22c</sup>Suppose two men are fighting and hit a pregnant woman, causing the baby to come out. If there is no further injury, the man who caused the accident must pay money—whatever amount the woman's husband says and the court allows. <sup>23</sup>But if there is further injury, then the punishment that must be paid is life for life, <sup>24</sup>eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot, <sup>25</sup>burn for burn, wound for wound, and bruise for bruise.

<sup>28</sup>“If a man’s bull kills a man or woman, you must kill that bull by throwing stones at it, and you should not eat the bull. But the owner of the bull is not guilty. <sup>29</sup>However, suppose the bull has hurt people in the past and the owner, though warned, did not keep it in a pen. Then if it kills a man or woman, the bull must be stoned to death, and the owner must also be put to death. <sup>30</sup>But if the family of the dead person accepts money, the one who owned the bull may buy back his life, but he must pay whatever is demanded. <sup>31</sup>Use this same law if the bull kills a person’s son or daughter. <sup>32</sup>If the bull kills a male or female slave, the owner must pay the master the price for a new slave, or twelve ounces of silver, and the bull must also be stoned to death.

<sup>35</sup>“If a man’s bull kills another man’s bull, they must sell the bull that is alive. Both men will get half of the money and half of the bull that was killed. <sup>36</sup>But if a person’s bull has hurt other animals in the past and the owner did not keep it in a pen, that owner must pay bull for bull, and the dead animal is his.

Exodus 21:1–22:31

Situation

After giving the Ten Commandments, God showed his people how to apply them in everyday matters. This section talks about worship, the care of servants and those physically injured, slaves, thieves, property and morality.

Observation

God provides guidelines for his people so their moral life will be pleasing to him.

Inspiration

Holiness doesn't seek to be odd. Holiness seeks to be like God.

You want to make a difference in your world? Live a holy life: Be faithful to your spouse. Be the one at the office who refuses to cheat. Be the neighbor who acts neighborly. Be the employee who does the work and doesn't complain. Pay your bills. Do your part and enjoy life. Don't speak one message and live another.

Note the last line of Paul's words in 1 Thessalonians 4:11–12: "Do all you can to live a peaceful life. Take care of your own business, and do your own work as we have already told you. If you do, then people who are not believers will respect you."

A peaceful life leads nonbelievers to respect believers. What if John [the Baptist's] life had not matched his words? What if he'd preached repentance and lived in immorality? What if he'd called for holiness and yet had a reputation for dishonesty? If John's life had not matched his words, his message would have fallen on deaf ears.

So will ours.

People are watching the way we act more than they are listening to what we say.

Saint Francis of Assisi once invited a young monk to accompany him to town to preach. The novice was honored at the opportunity. The two set out for the city, then walked up and down the main street, then several side streets. They chatted with peddlers and greeted the citizens. After some time they returned by another route to the abbey.

The younger man reminded Francis of his original intent. "You have forgotten, Father, that we went to town to preach."

"My son," he replied, "we have preached. We have been seen by many. Our behavior was closely watched. Our attitudes were closely measured. Our words have been overheard. It was by thus that we preached our morning sermon." (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

Do a self-examination: Do the moral guidelines that God gives you make a difference in your behavior? In your relationships with friends and acquaintances? Does your life match your words?

Property Laws

“If a man steals a bull or a sheep and kills or sells it, he must pay back five bulls for the one bull he stole and four sheep for the one sheep he stole.

<sup>2-4</sup>“The robber who is caught must pay back what he stole. If he owns nothing, he must be sold as a slave to pay for what he stole. If the stolen animal is found alive with the robber, he must give the owner two animals for every animal he stole, whether it was a bull, donkey, or sheep.

“If a thief is killed while breaking into a house at night, the one who killed him is not guilty of murder. But if this happens during the day, he is guilty of murder.

<sup>5</sup>“If a man lets his farm animal graze in his field or vineyard, and it wanders into another man’s field or vineyard, the owner of the animal must pay back the loss from the best of his crop.

<sup>6</sup>“Suppose a man starts a fire that spreads through the thornbushes to his neighbor’s field. If the fire burns his neighbor’s growing grain or grain that has been stacked, or if it burns his whole field, the person who started the fire must pay for what was burned.

<sup>7</sup>“Suppose a man gives his neighbor money or other things to keep for him and those things are stolen from the neighbor’s house. If the thief is caught, he must pay back twice as much as he stole. <sup>8</sup>But if the thief is never found, the owner of the house must make a promise before God that he has not stolen

<sup>9</sup>“Suppose two men disagree about who owns something—whether ox, donkey, sheep, clothing, or something else that is lost. If each says, ‘This is mine,’ each man must bring his case to God. God’s judges will decide who is guilty, and that person must pay the other man twice as much as the object is worth.

<sup>10</sup>“Suppose a man asks his neighbor to keep his donkey, ox, sheep, or some other animal for him, and that animal dies, gets hurt, or is taken away, without anyone seeing what happened. <sup>11</sup>That neighbor must promise before the Lord that he did not harm or kill the other man’s animal, and the owner of the animal must accept his promise made before God. The neighbor does not have to pay the owner for the animal. <sup>12</sup>But if the animal was stolen from the neighbor, he must pay the owner for it. <sup>13</sup>If wild animals killed it, the neighbor must bring the body as proof, and he will not have to pay for the animal that was killed.

<sup>14</sup>“If a man borrows an animal from his neighbor, and it gets hurt or dies while the owner is not there, the one who borrowed it must pay the owner for the animal. <sup>15</sup>But if the owner is with the animal, the one who borrowed it does not have to pay. If the animal was rented, the rental price covers the loss.

Laws and Relationships

<sup>16</sup>“Suppose a man finds a woman who is not pledged to be married and has never had sexual relations with a man. If he tricks her into having sexual relations with him, he must give her family the payment to marry her, and she will become his wife. <sup>17</sup>But if her father refuses to allow his daughter to marry him, the man must still give the usual payment for a bride who has never had sexual relations.

<sup>22c</sup>Do not cheat a widow or an orphan. <sup>23</sup>If you do, and they cry out to me for help, I certainly will hear their cry. <sup>24</sup>And I will be very angry and kill you in war. Then your wives will become widows, and your children will become orphans.

<sup>29c</sup>Do not hold back your offering from the first of your harvest and the first wine that you make. Also, you must give me your firstborn sons. <sup>30</sup>You must do the same with your bulls and your sheep. Let the firstborn males stay with their mothers for seven days, and on the eighth day you must give them to me.

<sup>31c</sup>You are to be my holy people. You must not eat the meat of any animal that has been killed by wild animals. Instead, give it to the dogs.

Laws About Fairness

“You must not tell lies. If you are a witness in court, don’t help a wicked person by telling lies.

<sup>2</sup>“You must not do wrong just because everyone else is doing it. If you are a witness in court, you must not ruin a fair trial. You must not tell lies just because everyone else is. <sup>3</sup>If a poor person is in court, you must not take his side just because he is poor.

<sup>4</sup>“If you see your enemy’s ox or donkey wandering away, you must return it to him. <sup>5</sup>If you see that your enemy’s donkey has fallen because its load is too heavy, do not leave it there. You must help your enemy get the donkey back on its feet.

<sup>6</sup>“You must not be unfair to a poor person when he is in court. <sup>7</sup>You must not lie when you accuse someone in court. Never allow an innocent or honest person to be put to death as punishment, because I will not treat guilty people as if they were innocent.

<sup>8</sup>“You must not accept money from a person who wants you to lie in court, because such money will not let you see what is right. Such money makes good people tell lies.

<sup>9</sup>“You must not mistreat a foreigner. You know how it feels to be a foreigner, because you were foreigners in Egypt.

Laws for the Sabbath

<sup>10</sup>“For six years you are to plant and harvest crops on your land. <sup>11</sup>Then during the seventh year, do not plow or plant your land. If any food grows there, allow the poor people to have it, and let the wild animals eat what is left. You should do the same with your vineyards and your orchards of olive trees.

<sup>12</sup>“You should work six days a week, but on the seventh day you must rest. This lets your ox and your donkey rest, and it also lets the slave born in your house and the foreigner be refreshed.

<sup>13</sup>“Be sure to do all that I have said to you. You must not even say the names of other gods; those names must not come out of your mouth.

Three Yearly Feasts

<sup>14</sup>“Three times each year you must hold a feast to honor me.

<sup>15</sup>You must celebrate the Feast of Unleavened Bread in the way I commanded you. For seven days you must eat bread that is made without yeast at the set time during the month of Abib, the month when you came out of Egypt. No one is to come to worship me without bringing an offering.

“You must celebrate the Feast of Shelters in the fall, when you gather all the crops from your fields.

<sup>17</sup>“So three times during every year all your males must come to worship the Lord God.

“You must not save any of the fat from the sacrifice for the next day.

<sup>19</sup>“You must bring the best of the firstfruits of your land to the Holy Tent of the Lord your God.

“You must not cook a young goat in its mother’s milk.

God Will Help Israel

<sup>20</sup>“I am sending an angel ahead of you, who will protect you as you travel. He will lead you to the place I have prepared. <sup>21</sup>Pay attention to the angel and obey him. Do not turn against him; he will not forgive such turning against him because my power is in him. <sup>22</sup>If you listen carefully to all he says and do everything that I tell you, I will be an enemy to your enemies. I will fight all who fight against you. <sup>23</sup>My angel will go ahead of you and take you into the land of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Canaanites, Hivites, and Jebusites, and I will destroy them.

<sup>24</sup>“You must not bow down to their gods or worship them. You must not live the way those people live. You must destroy their idols, breaking into pieces the stone pillars they use in worship. <sup>25</sup>If you worship the Lord your God, I will bless your bread and your water. I will take away sickness from you. <sup>26</sup>None of your women will have her baby die before it is born, and all women will have children. I will allow you to live long lives.

<sup>27</sup>“I will make your enemies afraid of me. I will confuse any people you fight against, and I will make all your enemies run away from you. <sup>28</sup>I will send terror ahead of you that will force the Hivites, Canaanites, and Hittites out of your way. <sup>29</sup>But I will not force all those people out in only one year. If I did, the land would become a desert and the wild animals would become too many for you.<sup>30</sup> Instead, I will force those people out slowly, until there are enough of you to take over the land.

<sup>31</sup>“I will give you the land from the Red Sea to the Mediterranean Sea, and from the desert to the Euphrates River. I will give you power over the people who now live in the land, and you will force them out ahead of you.<sup>32</sup> You must not make an agreement with those people or with their gods.<sup>33</sup> You must not let them live in your land, or they will make you sin against me. If you worship their gods, you will be caught in a trap.”

Life Lessons

Exodus 23:1–24:18

Situation

God gave the Israelites guidelines for their relationships with each other and with him. These guidelines set Israel apart from the other nations. God also gave a special ceremony that confirmed the agreement between God and his people. In the ceremony blood from animals symbolized forgiveness of sins and reconciliation to God.

Observation

God’s people ought to obey the standards that God lays out. One part of this is remembering their special relationship with him.

Inspiration

The Bible makes clear ... that unquestioning acceptance of and obedience to Jesus’ authority is the foundation of the Christian life. Everything else rests upon this. It also provides the key to understanding what is for many the great mystery of Christianity: faith.

Saving faith—that by which we are justified, made right with God—is a gift of God; and, yes, it involves a rational process as well since it comes from hearing the Word of God... . “All right,” the struggling Christian may say, “but practically speaking, how does my faith become real? How do I get that vibrant, strong faith of Christian maturity?”

That’s where obedience comes in. For maturing faith—faith which deepens and grows as we live our Christian life—is not just knowledge, but knowledge acted upon. It is not just belief, but belief lived out—practiced. James said we are to be doers of the Word, not just hearers. Dietrich Bonhoeffer, the German pastor martyred in a Nazi concentration camp, succinctly stated this crucial interrelationship: “Only he who believes is obedient; only he who is obedient believes.”

This may sound like a circular proposition, but many things are—in truth and in practice. Think of learning how to swim. We are told what to do. We gingerly enter the water, launch out, and promptly forget everything we’ve been told. We flail about, splashing frantically, gasping and sinking. Finally, usually at the point of utter despair, we capture for a moment the sensation of staying afloat. Realizing it is possible, we remember our instructions and begin to follow them. They work. Like learning to balance a bicycle or mastering a foreign language, faith is a state of mind that grows out of our actions, just as it governs them.

So obedience is the key to real faith. (From Loving God by Charles Colson)

Application

God makes several agreements with his people throughout the Bible, concluding with a new covenant in Christ. Communion reminds us that in this covenant, God forgives our sins through Christ. When you participate in communion, do not participate lightly. Be humbled by God's grace to you.

Guidance of Holy Spirit—1 Kings 18:12; Psalm 143:10; Isaiah 48:16; 63:14; John 16:13; Acts 16:6-7; Romans 8:14.

God and Israel Make Their Agreement

The Lord told Moses, “You, Aaron, Nadab, Abihu, and seventy of the older leaders of Israel must come up to me and worship me from a distance.<sup>2</sup> Then Moses alone must come near me; the others must not come near. The rest of the people must not come up the mountain with Moses.”

<sup>3</sup>Moses told the people all the Lord’s words and laws for living. Then all of the people answered out loud together, “We will do all the things the Lord has said.”<sup>4</sup> So Moses wrote down all the words of the Lord. And he got up early the next morning and built an altar near the bottom of the mountain. He set up twelve stones, one stone for each of the twelve tribes of Israel.<sup>5</sup> Then Moses sent young Israelite men to offer whole burnt offerings and to sacrifice young bulls as fellowship offerings to the Lord.<sup>6</sup> Moses put half of the blood of these animals in bowls, and he sprinkled the other half of the blood on the altar.<sup>7</sup> Then he took the Book of the Agreement and read it so the people could hear him. And they said, “We will do everything that the Lord has said; we will obey.”

<sup>8</sup>Then Moses took the blood from the bowls and sprinkled it on the people, saying, “This is the blood that begins the Agreement, the Agreement which the Lord has made with you about all these words.”

<sup>9</sup>Moses, Aaron, Nadab, Abihu, and seventy of the older leaders of Israel went up the mountain<sup>10</sup> and saw the God of Israel. Under his feet was a surface that looked as if it were paved with blue sapphire stones, and it was as clear as the sky!

<sup>11</sup>These leaders of the Israelites saw God, but God did not destroy them. Then they ate and drank together.

God Promises Moses the Stone Tablets

<sup>12</sup>The Lord said to Moses, “Come up the mountain to me. Wait there, and I will give you two stone tablets. On these are the teachings and the commands I have written to instruct the people.”

<sup>13</sup>So Moses and his helper Joshua set out, and Moses went up to Sinai, the mountain of God. <sup>14</sup>Moses said to the older leaders, “Wait here for us until we come back to you. Aaron and Hur are with you, and anyone who has a disagreement with others can take it to them.”

Moses Meets with God

<sup>15</sup>When Moses went up on the mountain, the cloud covered it. <sup>16</sup>The glory of the Lord came down on Mount Sinai, and the cloud covered it for six days. On the seventh day the Lord called to Moses from inside the cloud. <sup>17</sup>To the Israelites the glory of the Lord looked like a fire burning on top of the mountain. <sup>18</sup>Then Moses went into the cloud and went higher up the mountain. He was on the mountain for forty days and forty nights.

Life Lessons

Exodus 25:1–27:21

Situation

God provided precise instructions for building the Holy Tent. Detailed instructions for making the Ark, the table, and the lampstand demonstrated his transcendence above the common everyday features of the world. The Ark's portable nature represented God's desire to be with the Israelites wherever they traveled.

Observation

Throughout the Bible, God provides ways for his people to have fellowship with him.

Inspiration

We stream to the fellowship of our church to worship; there in that place, at that mountain of God, we are built up, established, equipped, encouraged, challenged....

I know that when I'm among the assembled people that God is here in our midst. The King is here seeking to rule in our hearts right now. So this concept that where two or three are gathered, there He is in our midst is a powerful truth. It challenges us because sometimes when we gather for worship, we simply go through the motions. I know I've done that a number of times, and others have told me they have done the same. But I remind myself and others that whenever the people of God gather in a theater, in an arena, or in a church for worship, God is there.

That's why I often say in an opening prayer "Lord, we don't take lightly the fact that You're here." I don't want to come into the presence of the King of kings, the Lord of lords, the Creator and Redeemer of the universe in a nonchalant, casual, and impertinent way. No, I want to come before God in all humility recognizing I am a mere creature and He is holiness. He is the Creator. (From In This Sanctuary by Twila Paris)

Application

The diligence and care with which the Israelites built the Holy Tent demonstrated their reverence for God. How do you show your reverence for him? Make your life a pure temple of faith that honors God in every action. What can you do today to tell God, "I want to honor you in all my plans"?

Exploration

Reverence—Psalm 34:9; Proverbs 1:7; 8:13; Ecclesiastes 12:13; 1 Peter 1:17.

Gifts for the Lord

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Tell the Israelites to bring me gifts. Receive for me the gifts each person wants to give. <sup>3</sup>These are the gifts that you should receive from them: gold, silver, bronze; <sup>4</sup>blue, purple, and red thread; fine linen, goat hair, <sup>5</sup>sheepskins that are dyed red; fine leather; acacia wood; <sup>6</sup>olive oil to burn in the lamps; spices for sweet-smelling incense, and the special olive oil poured on a person’s head to make him a priest; <sup>7</sup>onyx stones, and other jewels to be put on the holy vest and the chest covering.

<sup>8</sup>“The people must build a holy place for me so that I can live among them. <sup>9</sup>Build this Holy Tent and everything in it by the plan I will show you.

The Ark of the Agreement

Ark. Do not take them out.<sup>16</sup>Then put in the Ark the Agreement which I will make with you.

<sup>17</sup>“Then make a lid of pure gold for the Ark; this is the mercy seat. Make it forty-five inches long and twenty-seven inches wide.<sup>18</sup>Then hammer gold to make two creatures with wings, and put one on each end of the lid.<sup>19</sup>Attach one creature on one end of the lid and the other creature on the other end. Make them to be one piece with the lid at the ends.<sup>20</sup>The creatures’ wings should be spread upward, covering the lid, and the creatures are to face each other across the lid.<sup>21</sup>Put this lid on top of the Ark, and put in the Ark the Agreement which I will make with you.<sup>22</sup>I will meet with you there, above the lid between the two winged creatures on the Ark of the Agreement. There I will give you all my commands for the Israelites.

The Table

the bread that shows you are in my presence so that it is always there in front of me.

The Lampstand

<sup>31</sup>“Hammer pure gold to make a lampstand. Its base, stand, flower-like cups, buds, and petals must all be joined together in one piece. <sup>32</sup>The lampstand must have six branches going out from its sides—three on one side and three on the other. <sup>33</sup>Each branch must have three cups shaped like almond flowers on it. Each cup must have a bud and a petal. Each of the six branches going out from the lampstand must be the same. <sup>34</sup>And there must be four more cups made like almond flowers on the lampstand itself. These cups must also have buds and petals. <sup>35</sup>Put a bud under each pair of branches that goes out from the lampstand. Each of the six branches going out from the lampstand must be the same. <sup>36</sup>The branches, buds, and lampstand must be made of one piece, hammered out of pure gold.

The Holy Tent

<sup>7</sup>“Then make another tent that will cover the Holy Tent, using eleven curtains made from goat hair. <sup>8</sup>All these curtains must be the same size—forty-five feet long and six feet wide. <sup>9</sup>Sew five of the curtains together into one set. Then sew the other six curtains together into the second set. Fold the sixth curtain double over the front of the Tent. <sup>10</sup>Make fifty loops down the edge of the end curtain of one set, and do the same for the end curtain of the other set. <sup>11</sup>Then make fifty bronze hooks and put them in the loops to join the tent together so that the covering is one piece. <sup>12</sup>Let the extra half piece of cloth hang over the back of the Holy Tent. <sup>13</sup>There will be eighteen inches hanging over the sides of the Holy Tent, to protect it. <sup>14</sup>Make a covering for the Holy Tent from sheepskins colored red, and over that make a covering from fine leather.

roof, and put the Ark of the Agreement containing the two stone tablets behind it. This curtain will separate the Holy Place from the Most Holy Place. <sup>34</sup>Put the lid on the Ark of the Agreement in the Most Holy Place.

The Entrance of the Holy Tent

The Altar for Burnt Offerings

<sup>3</sup>“Use bronze to make all the tools and dishes that will be used on the altar: the pots to remove the ashes, the shovels, the bowls for sprinkling blood, the meat forks, and the pans for carrying the burning wood.

The Courtyard of the Holy Tent

long. Hang its curtains on silver hooks and bands on twenty bronze posts with twenty bronze bases.

<sup>12</sup>“The west end of the courtyard must have a wall of curtains seventy-five feet long, with ten posts and ten bases on that wall. <sup>13</sup>The east end of the courtyard must also be seventy-five feet long. <sup>14</sup>On one side of the entry, there is to be a wall of curtains twenty-two and one-half feet long, held up by three posts on three bases. <sup>15</sup>On the other side of the entry, there is also to be a wall of curtains twenty-two and one-half feet long, held up by three posts on three bases.

<sup>16</sup>“The entry to the courtyard is to be a curtain thirty feet wide, made of fine linen with blue, purple, and red thread. Someone who can sew well is to sew designs on it. It is to be held up by four posts on four bases. <sup>17</sup>All the posts around the courtyard must have silver bands and hooks and bronze bases. <sup>18</sup>The courtyard must be one hundred fifty feet long and seventy-five feet wide, with a wall of curtains around it seven and one-half feet high, made of fine linen. The bases in which the posts are set must be bronze. <sup>19</sup>All the things used in the Holy Tent and all the tent pegs for the Holy Tent and the wall around the courtyard must be made of bronze.

Oil for the Lamp

<sup>20</sup>“Command the people of Israel to bring you pure olive oil, made from pressed olives, to keep the lamps on the lampstand burning. <sup>21</sup>Aaron and his sons must keep the lamps burning before the Lord from evening till morning. This will be in the Meeting Tent, outside the curtain which is in front of the Ark. The Israelites and their descendants must obey this rule from now on.

Life Lessons

Exodus 28:1–29:46

Situation

God instructed Aaron and his sons to become the first Temple priests. These priests ministered to the people's spiritual needs and represented them before God.

Observation

Priests became mediators between God and the people. The priest carried God's wisdom to the people and the people's needs to God.

Inspiration

Each of us must see ourselves as ministers of the gospel. We don't simply attend church, consuming a religious product. Rather, our whole understanding of ourselves as members of the Body is directed toward being equipped to serve effectively in our vocation and our community—wherever God places us.

Many Christians have a bifurcated view of life: Faith is over here in this compartment, and the rest of life—work, family, leisure time, and everything else—is over there.

Like the young woman who stopped me in an airport recently, “Mr. Colson, I so admire the work that Prison Fellowship is doing. I'm a believer; I wish that I could be in full-time Christian service like you.”

“What is it you do?” I asked.

“Well, I'm still in school,” she said. “I'm finishing up my doctoral work in molecular biology. I had planned to teach full time. I love it. But lately I've realized I should do more for the Lord. My parents were missionaries. I'm thinking of going to Brazil as a missionary."

"You are in a tremendous position to be a missionary right where you are!" I said adamantly. "How many Christians are there who are molecular biologists? The university needs people like you!"

She looked relieved, even excited, as it sank in: She was a missionary right where she was.

There are thousands of Christians who suffer from this same kind of false understanding of the glory of vocation, and a parallel misunderstanding of how God places particular people in particular places in every arena to be salt and accomplish His preserving, flavoring purposes....

In seventeenth-century London, as Reformation thinking about the church's influences in society was making itself felt in the city, someone painted a billboard with a picture, among others, of a tailor, a cook, a porter, a blacksmith, and a saddle-maker. The inscription read: "These tradesmen are preachers in the city of London, 1647."

Who are the preachers of America ... ?

Each of us, as we infiltrate the arena in which God has placed us. (From The Body by Charles Colson)

Application

Because of Christ, we are all priests. How are you ministering to others? Pray with someone, find a way to encourage them. Be on the alert should God bring someone along your path today. Don't get so caught up in your agenda that you miss the needs in front of you.

Exploration

Priests—Exodus 19:4–6; 1 Chronicles 23:28–32;
John 16:23–27.

The blood of Christ does not cover your sins, conceal your sins, postpone your sins, or diminish your sins. It takes away your sins, once and for all time. —Max Lucado (He Chose the Nails)

Clothes for the Priests

“Tell your brother Aaron to come to you, along with his sons Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar. Separate them from the other Israelites to serve me as priests.<sup>2</sup> Make holy clothes for your brother Aaron to give him honor and beauty.<sup>3</sup> Tell all the skilled craftsmen to whom I have given wisdom to make special clothes for Aaron—clothes to show that he belongs to me so that he may serve me as a priest.<sup>4</sup> These are the clothes they must make: a chest covering, a holy vest, an outer robe, a woven inner robe, a turban, and a cloth belt. The craftsmen must make these holy clothes for your brother Aaron and his sons. Then they may serve me as priests.<sup>5</sup> The craftsmen must use gold and blue, purple and red thread, and fine linen.

The Holy Vest

<sup>9</sup>“Take two onyx stones and write the names of the twelve sons of Israel on them, <sup>10</sup>six on one stone and six on the other. Write the names in order, from the oldest son to the youngest. <sup>11</sup>Carve the names of the sons of Israel on these stones in the same way a person carves words and designs on a seal. Put gold around the stones to hold them on the holy vest. <sup>12</sup>Then put the two stones on the two straps of the holy vest as reminders of the twelve sons of Israel. Aaron is to wear their names on his shoulders in the presence of the Lord as reminders of the sons of Israel. <sup>13</sup>Make two gold pieces to hold the stones <sup>14</sup>and two chains of pure gold, twisted together like a rope. Attach the chains to the two gold pieces that hold the stones.

The Chest Covering

twelve jewels on the chest covering—one jewel for each of the names of the sons of Israel. Carve the name of one of the twelve tribes on each of the stones as you would carve a seal.

<sup>29c</sup>When Aaron enters the Holy Place, he will wear the names of the sons of Israel over his heart, on the chest covering that helps in making decisions. This will be a continual reminder before the Lord. <sup>30</sup>And put the Urim and Thummim inside the chest covering so that they will be on Aaron's heart when he goes before the Lord. They will help in making decisions for the Israelites. So Aaron will always carry them with him when he is before the Lord.

bells between them. <sup>34</sup>All around the bottom of the outer robe there should be a gold bell and a pomegranate ball, a gold bell and a pomegranate ball. <sup>35</sup>Aaron must wear this robe when he serves as priest. The ringing of the bells will be heard when he enters and leaves the Holy Place before the Lord so that Aaron will not die.

<sup>42</sup>“Make for them linen underclothes to cover them from the waist to the upper parts of the legs. <sup>43</sup>Aaron and his sons must wear these underclothes when they enter the Meeting Tent and anytime they come near the altar to serve as priests in the Holy Place. If they do not wear these clothes, they will be guilty of wrong, and they will die. This will be a law that will last from now on for Aaron and all his descendants.

Appointing the Priests

“This is what you must do to appoint Aaron and his sons to serve me as priests. Take one young bull and two male sheep that have nothing wrong with them.<sup>2</sup>Use fine wheat flour without yeast to make bread, cakes mixed with olive oil, and wafers brushed with olive oil.<sup>3</sup>Put these in one basket, and bring them along with the bull and two male sheep.<sup>4</sup>Bring Aaron and his sons to the entrance of the Meeting Tent and wash them with water.<sup>5</sup>Take the clothes and dress Aaron in the inner robe and the outer robe of the holy vest. Then put on him the holy vest and the chest covering, and tie the holy vest on him with its skillfully woven belt.<sup>6</sup>Put the turban on his head, and put the holy crown on the turban.<sup>7</sup>Take the special olive oil and pour it on his head to make him a priest.

<sup>8</sup>“Then bring his sons and put the inner robes on them.<sup>9</sup>Put the headbands on their heads, and tie cloth belts around their waists. Aaron and his descendants will be priests in Israel, according to a rule that will continue from now on. This is how you will appoint Aaron and his sons as priests.

bull's meat, skin, and intestines, and burn them outside the camp. This is an offering to take away sin.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: Our Very Own High Priest

... Let me tell you who you are. In fact, let me proclaim who you are.

You are an heir of God and a co-heir with Christ.

You are eternal, like an angel.

You have a crown that will last forever.

You are a holy priest, a treasured possession.

You were chosen before the creation of the world.

You are destined for “praise, fame, and honor, and you will be a holy people to the Lord your God” (Deuteronomy 26:19).

But more than any of the above—more significant than any title or position—is the simple fact that you are God’s child. “The Father has loved us so much that we are called children of God. And we really are his children” [1 John 3:1].

I love that last phrase! “We really are his children.” It’s as if John knew some of us would shake our heads and say, “Naw, not me. Mother Teresa, maybe. Billy Graham, all right. But not me.” If those are your feelings, John added that phrase for you.

As a result, if something is important to you, it’s important to God. . . .

So go ahead. Tell God what hurts. Talk to him. He won’t turn you away. He won’t think it’s silly. “For our high priest is able to understand our weaknesses. When he lived on earth, he was tempted in every way that we are, but he did not sin. Let us, then, feel very sure that we can come before God’s throne where there is grace” (Hebrews 4:15–16, emphasis added). (From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

For more on “Christ Through the Bible.”

<sup>22c</sup>Then take the fat from the male sheep, the fat tail, and the fat that covers the inner organs. In addition, take the best part of the liver, both kidneys, and the fat around them, and the right thigh. (This is the male sheep to be used in appointing priests.)

<sup>23c</sup>Then take the basket of bread that you made without yeast, which you put before the Lord. From it take a loaf of bread, a cake made with olive oil, and a wafer. <sup>24</sup>Put all of these in the hands of Aaron and his sons, and tell them to present them as an offering to the Lord. <sup>25</sup>Then take them from their hands and burn them on the altar with the whole burnt offering. This is an offering made by fire to the Lord; its smell is pleasing to the Lord. <sup>26</sup>Then take the breast of the male sheep used to appoint Aaron as priest, and present it before the Lord as an offering. This part of the animal will be your share. <sup>27</sup>Set aside the breast and the thigh of the sheep that were used to appoint Aaron and his sons as priests. These parts belong to them. <sup>28</sup>They are to be the regular share which the Israelites will always give to Aaron and his sons. It is the gift the Israelites must give to the Lord from their fellowship offerings.

<sup>29</sup>“The holy clothes made for Aaron will belong to his descendants so that they can wear these clothes when they are appointed as priests. <sup>30</sup>Aaron’s son, who will become high priest after Aaron, will come to the Meeting Tent to serve in the Holy Place. He is to wear these clothes for seven days.

<sup>35</sup>“Do all these things that I commanded you to do to Aaron and his sons, and spend seven days appointing them. <sup>36</sup>Each day you are to offer a bull to remove the sins of Aaron and his sons so they will be given for service to the Lord. Make the altar ready for service to the Lord, and pour oil on it to make it holy. <sup>37</sup>Spend seven days making the altar ready for service to God and making it holy. Then the altar will become very holy, and anything that touches it must be holy.

The Daily Sacrifices

<sup>38</sup>“Every day from now on, offer on the altar two lambs that are one year old. <sup>39</sup>Offer one lamb in the morning and the other in the evening before dark. <sup>40</sup>In the morning, when you offer the first lamb, offer also two quarts of fine flour mixed with one quart of oil from pressed olives. Pour out a quart of wine as a drink offering. <sup>41</sup>Offer the second lamb in the evening with the same grain offering and drink offering as you did in the morning. This is an offering made by fire to the Lord, and its smell is pleasing to him.

<sup>42</sup>“You must burn these things as an offering to the Lord every day, from now on, at the entrance of the Meeting Tent before the Lord. When you make the offering, I, the Lord, will meet you there and speak to you. <sup>43</sup>I will meet with the people of Israel there, and that place will be holy because of my glory.

<sup>44</sup>“So I will make the Meeting Tent and the altar holy; I will also make Aaron and his sons holy so they may serve me as priests. <sup>45</sup>I will live with the people of Israel and be their God. <sup>46</sup>And they will know that I am the Lord their God who led them out of Egypt so that I could live with them. I am the Lord their God.

Life Lessons

Exodus 30:1–38

Situation

God instructed Moses about the rituals of the Holy Tent, including burning incense, sacrificing, and anointing with oil.

Observation

God's specific instructions to Moses reminded the people of their pact with God. God demands faithfulness from his people.

Inspiration

The first Christians worshiped God and lived as a holy community, conforming their character to the demands of Christ rather than Caesar. They didn't purpose to turn the first-century world upside down. They did so because of who they were.

This character-oriented perspective is totally foreign to our achievement-oriented society, however, where we look at what people do rather than who they are... Rarely do we hear believers say, "I decided to join this church because of its character as a holy community." Nor do most choose a church on the basis of its capacity to disciple and equip them for ministry.

Yet that should be our very first consideration. If the church is the Body, the holy presence of Christ in the world, its most fundamental task is to build communities of holy character. And the first priority of those communities is to disciple men and women to maturity in Christ and then equip them to live their faith in every aspect of life and in every part of the world. (From The Body by Charles Colson)

Application

Rituals can be symbols of our relationship to God. We follow these practices to show our reverence for God, but they are never more important than faith.

Exploration

Faithfulness—Numbers 12:7; 14:24; 1 Kings 19:18; Nehemiah 7:2; 1 Corinthians 4:17; Colossians 1:7.

Worship is the act of magnifying God. Enlarging our vision of him. Stepping into the cockpit to see where he sits and observe how he works. —Max Lucado (Just Like Jesus)

The Altar for Burning Incense

“Make an altar out of acacia wood for burning incense. <sup>2</sup>Make it square—eighteen inches long and eighteen inches wide—and make it thirty-six inches high. The corners that stick out like horns must be one piece with the altar. <sup>3</sup>Cover its top, its sides, and its corners with pure gold, and put a gold strip all around the altar. <sup>4</sup>Make two gold rings beneath the gold strip on opposite sides of the altar, and slide poles through them to carry the altar. <sup>5</sup>Make the poles from acacia wood and cover them with gold. <sup>6</sup>Put the altar of incense in front of the curtain that is near the Ark of the Agreement, in front of the lid that covers that Ark. There I will meet with you.

<sup>7</sup>“Aaron must burn sweet-smelling incense on the altar every morning when he comes to take care of the oil lamps. <sup>8</sup>He must burn incense again in the evening when he lights the lamps, so incense will burn before the Lord every day from now on. <sup>9</sup>Do not use this altar for offering any other incense, or burnt offering, or any kind of grain offering, or drink offering. <sup>10</sup>Once a year Aaron must make the altar ready for service to God by putting blood on its corners—the blood of the animal offered to remove sins. He is to do this once a year from now on. This altar belongs completely to the Lord's service."

The Tax for the Meeting Tent

<sup>11</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>12</sup>"When you count the people of Israel, every person must buy back his life from the Lord so that no terrible things will happen to the people when you number them. <sup>13</sup>Every person who is counted must pay one-fifth of an ounce of silver. (This is set by using one-half of the Holy Place measure, which weighs two-fifths of an ounce.) This amount is a gift to the Lord. <sup>14</sup>Every person who is counted and is twenty years old or older must give this amount to the Lord. <sup>15</sup>A rich person must not give more than one-fifth of an ounce, and a poor person must not give less. You are paying this to the Lord to buy back your lives. <sup>16</sup>Gather from the people of Israel this money paid to buy back their lives, and spend it on things for the service in the Meeting Tent. This payment will remind the Lord that the Israelites' lives have been bought back."

The Bronze Bowl

they will not die. This is a rule which Aaron and his descendants are to keep from now on.”

Oil for Appointing

<sup>22</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, <sup>23</sup>“Take the finest spices: twelve pounds of liquid myrrh, half that amount (that is, six pounds) of sweet-smelling cinnamon, six pounds of sweet-smelling cane, <sup>24</sup>and twelve pounds of cassia. Weigh all these by the Holy Place measure. Also take four quarts of olive oil, <sup>25</sup>and mix all these things like a perfume to make a holy olive oil. This special oil must be put on people and things to make them ready for service to God. <sup>26</sup>Put this oil on the Meeting Tent and the Ark of the Agreement, <sup>27</sup>on the table and all its dishes, on the lampstand and all its tools, and on the incense altar. <sup>28</sup>Also, put the oil on the altar for burnt offerings and on all its tools, as well as on the bowl and the stand under the bowl. <sup>29</sup>You will prepare all these things for service to God, and they will be very holy. Anything that touches these things must be holy.

<sup>30</sup>“Put the oil on Aaron and his sons to give them for service to me, that they may serve me as priests. <sup>31</sup>Tell the Israelites, ‘This is to be my holy olive oil from now on. It is to be put on people and things to make them ready for service to God. <sup>32</sup>Do not pour it on the bodies of ordinary people, and do not make perfume the same way you make this oil. It is holy, and you must treat it as holy. <sup>33</sup>If anyone makes perfume like it or puts it on someone who is not a priest, that person must be cut off from his people.’”

Incense

<sup>34</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, “Take these sweet-smelling spices: resin, onycha, galbanum, and pure frankincense. Be sure that you have equal amounts of each. <sup>35</sup>Make incense as a person who makes perfume would do. Add salt to it to keep it pure and holy. <sup>36</sup>Beat some of the incense into a fine powder, and put it in front of the Ark of the Agreement in the Meeting Tent, where I will meet with you. You must use this incense powder only for its very special purpose. <sup>37</sup>Do not make incense for yourselves the same way you make this incense. Treat it as holy to the Lord. <sup>38</sup>Whoever makes incense like this to use as perfume must be cut off from his people.”

Bezalel and Oholiab Help

Then the Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“See, I have chosen Bezalel son of Uri from the tribe of Judah. (Uri was the son of Hur.) <sup>3</sup>I have filled Bezalel with the Spirit of God and have given him the skill, ability, and knowledge to do all kinds of work. <sup>4</sup>He is able to design pieces to be made from gold, silver, and bronze, <sup>5</sup>to cut jewels and put them in metal, to carve wood, and to do all kinds of work. <sup>6</sup>I have also chosen Oholiab son of Ahisamach from the tribe of Dan to work with Bezalel. I have given skills to all the craftsmen, and they will be able to make all these things I have commanded you: <sup>7</sup>the Meeting Tent, the Ark of the Agreement, the lid that covers the Ark, and everything in the Tent. <sup>8</sup>This includes the table and everything on it, the pure gold lampstand and everything with it, the altar of incense, <sup>9</sup>the altar for burnt offerings and everything used with it, and the bowl and the stand under it. <sup>10</sup>They will make the woven clothes and the holy clothes for Aaron and the clothes for his sons to wear when they serve as priests. <sup>11</sup>They will also make the special olive oil used in appointing people and things to the service of the Lord, and the sweet-smelling incense for the Holy Place.

“These workers will make all these things just as I have commanded you.”

The Day of Rest

keep the rules about my Sabbaths, because they will be a sign between you and me from now on. In this way you will know that I, the Lord, make you holy.

<sup>14</sup>“Make the Sabbath a holy day. If anyone treats the Sabbath like any other day, that person must be put to death; anyone who works on the Sabbath day must be cut off from his people. <sup>15</sup>There are six days for working, but the seventh day is a day of rest, a day holy for the Lord. Anyone who works during the Sabbath day must be put to death. <sup>16</sup>The Israelites must remember the Sabbath day as an agreement between them and me that will continue from now on. <sup>17</sup>The Sabbath day will be a sign between me and the Israelites forever, because in six days I, the Lord, made the sky and the earth. On the seventh day I did not work; I rested.”

<sup>18</sup>When the Lord finished speaking to Moses on Mount Sinai, he gave him the two stone tablets with the Agreement written on them, written by the finger of God.

Life Lessons

Exodus 31:1–18

Situation

God commanded certain craftsmen to furnish the Holy Tent with ornate wood, gold, silver, and precious stones. Finally, God called the Israelites to honor the Sabbath as a day of rest and worship.

Observation

God has given each one certain talents, abilities, and spiritual gifts. We need to be faithful in using our gifts to honor him.

Inspiration

God's plan for us embraces more than merely the events or circumstances that happen to us. It also embraces that which He wants us to be and to do. The Scriptures teach that God places each believer in the Body of Christ as it pleases Him... . Moreover, our spiritual gifts are generally consistent with the physical and mental abilities as well as the temperaments with which God created us... . Just as we must trust God for who we are, we must also trust Him for what we are—whether it be an engineer or missionary, a homemaker or a nurse. If there is one area of life where the saying “the grass is always greener on the other side of the fence” applies, surely it is in the area of vocational calling and station in life. Someone has estimated that as many as eighty percent of our work force are dissatisfied with the jobs they are in. For many of us that may be due to a reluctance to be what God planned for us to be....

God is the God of society as well as the Church, and He determines the course of our lives in the natural realm as well as in the Church. He ordained days for plumbers just as much as He did for pastors.

That thought should give meaning to the most humdrum of vocations. In fact, no vocation should be considered humdrum if God has ordained it for us. (From Trusting God by Jerry Bridges)

Application

What specific abilities and gifts do you have? What would you say is your spiritual gift? Think of three ways you can use your gifts and abilities to serve the church.

The People Make a Gold Calf

The people saw that a long time had passed and Moses had not come down from the mountain. So they gathered around Aaron and said, “Moses led us out of Egypt, but we don’t know what has happened to him. Make us gods who will lead us.”

<sup>2</sup>Aaron said to the people, “Take off the gold earrings that your wives, sons, and daughters are wearing, and bring them to me.” <sup>3</sup>So all the people took their gold earrings and brought them to Aaron. <sup>4</sup>He took the gold from the people and formed it with a tool and made a statue of a calf. Then the people said, “Israel, these are your gods who brought you out of the land of Egypt!”

<sup>5</sup>When Aaron saw all this, he built an altar before the calf and announced, “Tomorrow there will be a special feast to honor the Lord.” <sup>6</sup>The people got up early the next morning and offered whole burnt offerings and fellowship offerings. They sat down to eat and drink, and then they got up and sinned sexually.

<sup>7</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, “Go down from this mountain, because your people, the people you brought out of the land of Egypt, have ruined themselves. <sup>8</sup>They have quickly turned away from the things I commanded them to do. They have made for themselves a calf covered with gold, and they have worshiped it and offered sacrifices to it. They have said, ‘Israel, these are your gods who brought you out of Egypt.’” know that they are very stubborn.<sup>10</sup> So now do not stop me. I am so angry with them that I am going to destroy them. Then I will make you and your descendants a great nation.”

<sup>11</sup>But Moses begged the Lord his God and said, “Lord, don’t let your anger destroy your people, whom you brought out of Egypt with your great power and strength. <sup>12</sup>Don’t let the people of Egypt say, ‘The Lord brought the Israelites out of Egypt for an evil purpose. He planned to kill them in the mountains and destroy them from the earth.’ So stop being angry, and don’t destroy your people. <sup>13</sup>Remember the men who served you—Abraham, Isaac, and Israel. You promised with an oath to them and said, ‘I will make your descendants as many as the stars in the sky. I will give your descendants all this land that I have promised them, and it will be theirs forever.’” <sup>14</sup>So the Lord changed his mind and did not destroy the people as he had said he might.

<sup>15</sup>Then Moses went down the mountain, and in his hands he had the two stone tablets with the Agreement on them. The commands were written on both sides of each stone, front and back. <sup>16</sup>God himself had made the tablets, and God himself had written the commands on the tablets.

“It is not a shout of victory;
it is not a cry of defeat.
It is the sound of singing that I hear.”

<sup>19</sup>When Moses came close to the camp, he saw the gold calf and the dancing, and he became very angry. He threw down the stone tablets that he was carrying and broke them at the bottom of the mountain.<sup>20</sup> Then he took the calf that the people had made and melted it in the fire. He ground it into powder. Then he threw the powder into the water and forced the Israelites to drink it.

<sup>21</sup>Moses said to Aaron, “What did these people do to you? Why did you cause them to do such a terrible sin?”

<sup>22</sup>Aaron answered, “Don’t be angry, master. You know that these people are always ready to do wrong.<sup>23</sup> The people said to me, ‘Moses led us out of Egypt, but we don’t know what has happened to him. Make us gods who will lead us.’<sup>24</sup> So I told the people, ‘Take off your gold jewelry.’ When they gave me the gold, I threw it into the fire and out came this calf!”

<sup>25</sup>Moses saw that the people were acting wildly. Aaron had let them get out of control and become fools in front of their enemies.<sup>26</sup> So Moses stood at the entrance to the camp and said, “Let anyone who wants to follow the Lord come to me.” And all the people from the family of Levi gathered around Moses.

<sup>30</sup>The next day Moses told the people, “You have done a terrible sin. But now I will go up to the Lord. Maybe I can do something so your sins will be removed.”<sup>31</sup> So Moses went back to the Lord and said, “How terribly these people have sinned! They have made for themselves gods from gold.<sup>32</sup> Now, please forgive them of this sin. If you will not, then erase my name from the book in which you have written the names of your people.”

<sup>33</sup> But the Lord told Moses, “I will erase from my book the names of the people who sin against me.”<sup>34</sup> So now, go. Lead the people where I have told you, and my angel will lead you. When the time comes to punish, I will punish them for their sin.”

<sup>35</sup> So the Lord caused terrible things to happen to the people because of what they did with the calf Aaron had made.

Then the Lord said to Moses, “You and the people you brought out of Egypt must leave this place. Go to the land that I promised with an oath to give to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob when I said, ‘I will give that land to your descendants.’<sup>2</sup> I will send an angel to lead you, and I will force these people out of the land: the Canaanites, Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites.<sup>3</sup> Go up to a fertile land. But I will not go with you, because I might destroy you on the way, since you are such a stubborn people.”

<sup>4</sup>When the people heard this bad news, they became very sad, and none of them put on jewelry. <sup>5</sup>This was because the Lord had said to Moses, “Tell the Israelites, ‘You are a stubborn people. If I were to go with you even for a moment, I would destroy you. So take off all your jewelry, and I will decide what to do with you.’”<sup>6</sup> So the people of Israel took off their jewelry at Mount Sinai.

The Meeting Tent

<sup>7</sup>Moses used to take a tent and set it up a long way outside the camp; he called it the “Meeting Tent.” Anyone who wanted to ask the Lord about something would go to the Meeting Tent outside the camp. <sup>8</sup>Whenever Moses went out to the Tent, all the people would rise and stand at the entrances of their tents, watching him until he entered the Meeting Tent. <sup>9</sup>When Moses went into the Tent, the pillar of cloud would always come down and stay at the entrance of the Tent while the Lord spoke with Moses. <sup>10</sup>Whenever the people saw the pillar of cloud at the entrance of the Tent, they stood and worshiped, each person at the entrance of his own tent.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord spoke to Moses face to face as a man speaks with his friend. Then Moses would return to the camp, but Moses' young helper, Joshua son of Nun, did not leave the Tent.

<sup>12</sup>Moses said to the Lord, "You have told me to lead these people, but you did not say whom you would send with me. You have said to me, 'I know you very well, and I am pleased with you.' <sup>13</sup>If I have truly pleased you, show me your plans so that I may know you and continue to please you. Remember that this nation is your people."

<sup>14</sup>The Lord answered, "I myself will go with you, and I will give you victory."

Jesus: A Personal Shepherd Provides His Presence and Rest

Years after David wrote [Psalm 23], another Bethlehem Shepherd would say: "There are many rooms in my Father's house; I would not tell you this if it were not true. I am going there to prepare a place for you. After I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back and take you to be with me so that you may be where I am" (John 14:2-3).

Note the promises of Jesus. "I will come back and take you to be with me." He pledges to take us home. He does not delegate this task. He may send missionaries to teach you, angels to protect you, teachers to guide you, singers to inspire you, and physicians to heal you, but he sends no one to take you. He reserves this job for himself. "I will come back and take you home.” He is your personal Shepherd. And he is personally responsible to lead you home. And because he is present when any of his sheep dies, you can say what David said, “I will not be afraid” [Psalm 23:4].

... And when God calls us into the deep valley of death, he will be with us. Dare we think that he would abandon us in the moment of death? Would a father force his child to swim the deep alone? Would the shepherd require his sheep to journey to the highlands alone? Of course not. Would God require his child to journey to eternity alone? Absolutely not! He is with you!

What God said to Moses, he says to you: “I myself will go with you”(Exodus 33:14). (From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

<sup>15</sup>Then Moses said to him, “If you yourself don’t go with us, then don’t send us away from this place. <sup>16</sup>If you don’t go with us, no one will know that you are pleased with me and with your people. These people and I will be no different from any other people on earth.”

<sup>17</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, “I will do what you ask, because I know you very well, and I am pleased with you.”

Moses Sees God’s Glory

<sup>18</sup>Then Moses said, “Now, please show me your glory.”

<sup>19</sup>The Lord answered, “I will cause all my goodness to pass in front of you, and I will announce my name, the Lord, so you can hear it. I will show kindness to anyone to whom I want to show kindness, and I will show mercy to anyone to whom I want to show mercy. <sup>20</sup>But you cannot see my face, because no one can see me and live.

<sup>21</sup>“There is a place near me where you may stand on a rock. <sup>22</sup>When my glory passes that place, I will put you in a large crack in the rock and cover you with my hand until I have passed by. <sup>23</sup>Then I will take away my hand, and you will see my back. But my face must not be seen.”

Life Lessons

Exodus 32:1–34:35

Situation

God wrote the Ten Commandments, gave them to Moses, and revealed his glory to Moses. Because Moses took so long to come down from the mountain, the people grew weary and built a new god for themselves, made of gold.

Observation

We will never be able to see all of God's glory on this earth.

Inspiration

Read carefully, very carefully, the following verses. Read to answer this question—what did Moses do in order to see God? ...

“There is a place near me where you may stand on a rock. When my glory passes that place, I will put you in a large crack in the rock and cover you with my hand until I have passed by. Then I will take away my hand, and you will see my back. But my face must not be seen” (Exodus 33:21–23).

Did you see what Moses was to do? Neither did I. Did you note who did the work? So did I.

God did! God is active. God gave Moses a place to stand. God placed Moses in the crevice. God covered Moses with his hand. God passed by. And God revealed himself...

All Moses did was ask. But, oh, how he asked. All we can do is ask. But, oh, we must ask. For only in asking do we receive. And only in seeking do we find.

And (need I make the application?) God is the one who will equip us for our eternal moment in the Son. Hasn't he given us a rock, the Lord Jesus? Hasn't he given us a cleft, his grace? And hasn't he covered us with his hand, his pierced hand? (From When God

Whispers Your Name by Max Lucado)

Moses Gets New Stone Tablets

The Lord said to Moses, “Cut two more stone tablets like the first two, and I will write the same words on them that were on the first two stones which you broke.<sup>2</sup> Be ready tomorrow morning, and then come up on Mount Sinai. Stand before me there on the top of the mountain.<sup>3</sup> No one may come with you or even be seen any place on the mountain. Not even the flocks or herds may eat grass near that mountain.”

<sup>4</sup>So Moses cut two stone tablets like the first ones. Then early the next morning he went up Mount Sinai, just as the Lord had commanded him, carrying the two stone tablets with him.<sup>5</sup> Then the Lord came down in the cloud and stood there with Moses, and the Lord called out his name: the Lord.

<sup>6</sup>The Lord passed in front of Moses and said, “I am the Lord. The Lord is a God who shows mercy, who is kind, who doesn’t become angry quickly, who has great love and faithfulness<sup>7</sup> and is kind to thousands of people. The Lord forgives people for evil, for sin, and for turning against him, but he does not forget to punish guilty people. He will punish not only the guilty people, but also their children, their grandchildren, their great-grandchildren, and their great-great-grandchildren.”

<sup>8</sup>Then Moses quickly bowed to the ground and worshiped.<sup>9</sup> He said, “Lord, if you are pleased with me, please go with us. I know that these are stubborn people, but forgive our evil and our sin. Take us as your own people.”

<sup>10</sup>Then the Lord said, “I am making this agreement with you.

I will do miracles in front of all your people—things that have never before been done for any other nation on earth—and the people with you will see my work. I, the Lord, will do wonderful things for you. <sup>11</sup>Obey the things I command you today, and I will force out the Amorites, Canaanites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites ahead of you. <sup>12</sup>Be careful that you don't make an agreement with the people who live in the land where you are going, because it will bring you trouble. <sup>13</sup>Destroy their altars, break their stone pillars, and cut down their Asherah idols. <sup>14</sup>Don't worship any other god, because I, the Lord, the Jealous One, am a jealous God.

<sup>15</sup>“Be careful that you don't make an agreement with the people who live in that land. When they worship their gods, they will invite you to join them. Then you will eat their sacrifices. <sup>16</sup>If you choose some of their daughters as wives for your sons and those daughters worship gods, they will lead your sons to do the same thing.

<sup>18</sup>“Celebrate the Feast of Unleavened Bread. For seven days you must eat bread made without yeast as I commanded you. Do this during the month I have chosen, the month of Abib, because in that month you came out of Egypt.

<sup>19</sup>“The firstborn of every mother belongs to me, including every firstborn male animal that is born in your flocks and herds. <sup>20</sup>You may buy back a donkey by paying for it with a lamb, but if you don't want to buy back a donkey, you must break its neck. You must buy back all your firstborn sons.

“No one is to come before me without a gift.

<sup>21</sup>“You must work for six days, but on the seventh day you must rest—even during the planting season and the harvest season.

<sup>23</sup>“Three times each year all your males must come before the Lord God, the God of Israel. <sup>24</sup>I will force out nations ahead of you and expand the borders of your land. You will go before the Lord your God three times each year, and at that time no one will try to take your land from you.

<sup>26</sup>“Bring the best first crops that you harvest from your ground to the Tent of the Lord your God.

“You must not cook a young goat in its mother’s milk.”

<sup>27</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, “Write down these words, because with these words I have made an agreement with you and Israel.”

<sup>28</sup>Moses stayed there with the Lord forty days and forty nights, and during that time he did not eat food or drink water. And Moses wrote the words of the Agreement—the Ten Commandments—on the stone tablets.

The Face of Moses Shines

<sup>29</sup>Then Moses came down from Mount Sinai, carrying the two stone tablets of the Agreement in his hands. But he did not know that his face was shining because he had talked with the Lord. <sup>30</sup>When Aaron and all the people of Israel saw that Moses’ face was shining, they were afraid to go near him. <sup>31</sup>But Moses called to them, so Aaron and all the leaders of the people returned to Moses, and he talked with them.<sup>32</sup>After that, all the people of Israel came near him, and he gave them all the commands that the Lord had given him on Mount Sinai.

<sup>33</sup>When Moses finished speaking to the people, he put a covering over his face.<sup>34</sup>Anytime Moses went before the Lord to speak with him, Moses took off the covering until he came out. Then Moses would come out and tell the Israelites what the Lord had commanded.<sup>35</sup>They would see that Moses' face was shining. So he would cover his face again until the next time he went in to speak with the Lord.

Rules About the Sabbath

Moses gathered all the Israelite community together and said to them, “These are the things the Lord has commanded you to do. <sup>2</sup>You are to work for six days, but the seventh day will be a holy day, a Sabbath of rest to honor the Lord. Anyone who works on that day must be put to death. <sup>3</sup>On the Sabbath day you must not light a fire in any of your houses.”

burnt offering and its bronze screen, its poles and all its tools, the bronze bowl and its base;<sup>17</sup>the curtains around the courtyard, their posts and bases, and the curtain at the entry to the courtyard;<sup>18</sup>the pegs of the Holy Tent and of the courtyard and their ropes;<sup>19</sup>the special clothes that the priest will wear in the Holy Place. These are the holy clothes for Aaron the priest and his sons to wear when they serve as priests.”

<sup>20</sup>Then all the people of Israel went away from Moses. <sup>21</sup>Everyone who wanted to give came and brought a gift to the Lord for making the Meeting Tent, all the things in the Tent, and the special clothes. <sup>22</sup>All the men and women who wanted to give brought gold jewelry of all kinds—pins, earrings, rings, and bracelets. They all presented their gold to the Lord. <sup>23</sup>Everyone who had blue, purple, and red thread, and fine linen, and anyone who had goat hair or male sheepskins colored red or fine leather brought them to the Lord. <sup>24</sup>Everyone who could give silver or bronze brought that as a gift to the Lord, and everyone who had acacia wood to be used in the work brought it. <sup>25</sup>Every skilled woman used her hands to make the blue, purple, and red thread, and fine linen, and they brought what they had made. <sup>26</sup>All the women who were skilled and wanted to help made thread of the goat hair. <sup>27</sup>The leaders brought onyx stones and other jewels to put on the holy vest and chest covering for the priest. <sup>28</sup>They also brought spices and olive oil for the sweet-smelling incense, the special oil, and the oil to burn in the lamps. <sup>29</sup>All the men and women of Israel who wanted to help brought gifts to the Lord for all the work the Lord had commanded Moses and the people to do.

<sup>30</sup>Then Moses said to the Israelites, “Look, the Lord has chosen Bezalel son of Uri the son of Hur, from the tribe of Judah. <sup>31</sup>The Lord has filled Bezalel with the Spirit of God and has given him the skill, ability, and knowledge to do all kinds of work. <sup>32</sup>He is able to design pieces to be made of gold, silver, and bronze, <sup>33</sup>to cut stones and jewels and put them in metal, to carve wood, and to do all kinds of work. <sup>34</sup>Also, the Lord has given Bezalel and Oholiab, the son of Ahisamach from the tribe of Dan, the ability to teach others. <sup>35</sup>The Lord has given them the skill to do all kinds of work. They are able to cut designs in metal and stone. They can plan and sew designs in the fine linen with the blue, purple, and red thread. And they are also able to weave things.

Life Lessons

Exodus 35:1–38:31

Situation

Moses gave the Israelites instructions on how to build the Meeting Tent (Holy Tent). God designed each detail.

Observation

God, Master Architect, designed his house. Skilled people, such as Bezalel, worked to accomplish God's plans. They wanted to honor and please God by their efforts.

Inspiration

“The world is moved along not only by the mighty shoves of its heroes, but also by the aggregate of the tiny pushes of each honest worker.” (Helen Keller)

The story is told of a man who visited a stone quarry and asked three of the workers what they were doing.

“Can’t you see?” said the first one irritably. “I’m cutting a stone.”

The second one replied, “I’m earning a hundred pounds a week.”

But the third put down his pick and thrust out his chest proudly. “I’m building a cathedral,” he said.

People view work in many different ways: as a necessary evil to keep bread on the table; as a means to a sizable bank account; as self-fulfillment and identity; as an economic obligation within society; as a means to a life of leisure.

Yet none of these represents an adequate view of work that provides ongoing or complete satisfaction for our labors. We are more than material beings, more than social beings, and more than cogs in the machinery of work.

We are, above all, spiritual beings, and as such we need to rediscover the moral and spiritual significance for every area and aspect of our lives, including our work.

Why, then, should we work?

Because work gives expression to our creative gifts and thus fulfills our need for meaning and purpose.

Because work is intrinsically good when done with the proper attitude and motive.

Because we are commanded to exercise stewardship over the earth, participating in the work of Creation in a way that glorifies God.

Because we are citizens of this earth and have certain responsibilities to our fellow citizen. (From Why America Doesn't Work by Charles Colson and Jack Eckerd)

Application

The next time you go to church, take a closer look. Ask the Lord to show you an area where you can serve. If you can't find one, ask your pastor. God receives glory when you help to build his church.

Exploration

God's Workmanship—Genesis 1:31; 2 Corinthians 5:17; Ephesians 2:8-10, 19-22; Colossians 1:16; Revelation 4:11. Godly Action—Colossians 3:17, 23-24.

So Bezalel, Oholiab, and every skilled person will do the work the Lord has commanded, because he gave them the wisdom and understanding to do all the skilled work needed to build the Holy Tent.”

<sup>2</sup>Then Moses called Bezalel, Oholiab, and all the other skilled people to whom the Lord had given skills, and they came because they wanted to help with the work. <sup>3</sup>They received from Moses everything the people of Israel had brought as gifts to build the Holy Tent. The people continued to bring gifts each morning because they wanted to. <sup>4</sup>So all the skilled workers left the work they were doing on the Holy Tent, <sup>5</sup>and they said to Moses, “The people are bringing more than we need to do the work the Lord commanded.”

<sup>6</sup>Then Moses sent this command throughout the camp: “No man or woman should make anything else as a gift for the Holy Tent.” So the people were kept from giving more, <sup>7</sup>because what they had was already more than enough to do all the work.

The Holy Tent

<sup>8</sup>Then the skilled workers made the Holy Tent. They made the ten curtains of blue, purple, and red cloth, and they sewed designs of creatures with wings on the curtains. <sup>9</sup>Each curtain was the same size—forty-two feet long and six feet wide. <sup>10</sup>Five of the curtains were fastened together to make one set, and the other five were fastened together to make another set. <sup>11</sup>Then they made loops of blue cloth along the edge of the end curtain on the first set of five, and they did the same thing with the other set of five. <sup>12</sup>There were fifty loops on one curtain and fifty loops on the other curtain, with the loops opposite each other. <sup>13</sup>They made fifty gold hooks to join the two curtains together so that the Holy Tent was joined together as one piece.

<sup>14</sup>Then the workers made another tent of eleven curtains made of goat hair, to put over the Holy Tent. <sup>15</sup>All eleven curtains were the same size—forty-five feet long and six feet wide. <sup>16</sup>The workers sewed five curtains together into one set and six together into another set. <sup>17</sup>They made fifty loops along the edge of the outside curtain of one set and fifty loops along the edge of the outside curtain of the other set. <sup>18</sup>Then they made fifty bronze rings to join the two sets of cloth together and make the tent one piece. <sup>19</sup>They made two more coverings for the outer tent—one made of male sheepskins colored red and the other made of fine leather.

<sup>20</sup>Then they made upright frames of acacia wood for the Holy Tent. <sup>21</sup>Each frame was fifteen feet tall and twenty-seven inches wide, <sup>22</sup>and there were two pegs side by side on each one. Every frame of the Holy Tent was made this same way. <sup>23</sup>They made twenty frames for the south side of the Tent, <sup>24</sup>and they made forty silver bases that went under the twenty frames. There were two bases for every frame—one for each peg of each frame. <sup>25</sup>They also made twenty frames for the north side of the Holy Tent <sup>26</sup>and forty silver bases—two to go under each frame. <sup>27</sup>They made six frames for the rear or west end of the Holy Tent <sup>28</sup>and two frames for the corners at the rear of the Holy Tent. <sup>29</sup>These two frames were doubled at the bottom and joined at the top with a metal ring. They did this for each of these corners. <sup>30</sup>So there were eight frames and sixteen silver bases—two bases under each frame.

<sup>35</sup>Then they made the curtain of blue, purple, and red thread, and fine linen. A skilled craftsman sewed designs of creatures with wings on it. <sup>36</sup>They made four posts of acacia wood for it and covered them with gold. Then they made gold hooks for the posts, as well as four silver bases in which to set the posts. <sup>37</sup>For the entrance to the Tent, they made a curtain of blue, purple, and red thread, and fine linen. A person who sewed well sewed designs on it. <sup>38</sup>Then they made five posts and hooks for it. They covered the tops of the posts and their bands with gold, and they made five bronze bases for the posts.

The Ark of the Agreement

Bezalel made the Ark of acacia wood; it was forty-five inches long, twenty-seven inches wide, and twenty-seven inches high. <sup>2</sup>He covered it, both inside and out, with pure gold, and he put a gold strip around it. <sup>3</sup>He made four gold rings for it and attached them to its four feet, with two rings on each side. <sup>4</sup>Then he made poles of acacia wood and covered them with gold. <sup>5</sup>He put the poles through the rings on each side of the Ark to carry it. <sup>6</sup>Then he made a lid of pure gold that was forty-five inches long and twenty-seven inches wide. <sup>7</sup>Then Bezalel hammered gold to make two creatures with wings and attached them to each end of the lid. <sup>8</sup>He made one creature on one end of the lid and the other creature on the other end. He attached them to the lid so that it would be one piece. <sup>9</sup>The creatures' wings were spread upward, covering the lid, and the creatures faced each other across the lid.

The Table

<sup>10</sup>Then he made the table of acacia wood; it was thirty-six inches long, eighteen inches wide, and twenty-seven inches high. <sup>11</sup>He covered it with pure gold and put a gold strip around it. <sup>12</sup>He made a frame three inches high that stood up all around the edge, and he put a gold strip around it. <sup>13</sup>Then he made four gold rings for the table and attached them to the four corners of the table where the four legs were. <sup>14</sup>The rings were put close to the frame around the top of the table, because they held the poles for carrying it. <sup>15</sup>The poles for carrying the table were made of acacia wood and were covered with gold. <sup>16</sup>He made of pure gold all the things that were used on the table: the plates, bowls, cups, and jars used for pouring the drink offerings.

The Lampstand

<sup>17</sup>Then he made the lampstand of pure gold, hammering out its base and stand. Its flower-like cups, buds, and petals were joined together in one piece with the base and stand. <sup>18</sup>Six branches went out from the sides of the lampstand—three on one side and three on the other. <sup>19</sup>Each branch had three cups shaped like almond flowers, and each cup had a bud and a petal. Each of the six branches going out from the lampstand was the same. <sup>20</sup>There were four more cups shaped like almond flowers on the lampstand itself, each with its buds and petals. <sup>21</sup>Three pairs of branches went out from the lampstand. A bud was under the place where each pair was attached to the lampstand. Each of the six branches going out from the lampstand was the same. <sup>22</sup>The buds, branches, and lampstand were all one piece of pure, hammered gold. <sup>23</sup>He made seven pure gold lamps for this lampstand, and he made pure gold wick trimmers and trays. <sup>24</sup>He used about seventy-five pounds of pure gold to make the lampstand and all the things that go with it.

The Altar for Burning Incense

<sup>25</sup>Then he made the altar of incense out of acacia wood. It was square—eighteen inches long and eighteen inches wide—and it was thirty-six inches high. Each corner that stuck out like a horn was joined into one piece with the altar. <sup>26</sup>He covered the top and all the sides and the corners with pure gold, and he put gold trim around the altar. <sup>27</sup>He made two gold rings and put them below the trim on opposite sides of the altar; these rings held the poles for carrying it. <sup>28</sup>He made the poles of acacia wood and covered them with gold.

<sup>29</sup>Then he made the holy olive oil for appointing the priests and the pure, sweet-smelling incense. He made them like a person who mixes perfumes.

The Altar for Burnt Offerings

Then he built the altar for burnt offerings out of acacia wood. The altar was square—seven and one-half feet long and seven and one-half feet wide—and it was four and one-half feet high.<sup>2</sup>He made each corner stick out like a horn so that the horns and the altar were joined together in one piece. Then he covered the altar with bronze.<sup>3</sup>He made all the tools of bronze to use on the altar: the pots, shovels, bowls for sprinkling blood, meat forks, and pans for carrying the fire.<sup>4</sup>He made a large bronze screen to hold the burning wood for the altar and put it inside the altar, under its rim, halfway up from the bottom.<sup>5</sup>He made bronze rings to hold the poles for carrying the altar, and he put them at the four corners of the screen.<sup>6</sup>Then he made poles of acacia wood and covered them with bronze.<sup>7</sup>He put the poles through the rings on both sides of the altar, to carry it. He made the altar of boards and left the inside hollow.

The Bronze Bowl

<sup>8</sup>He made the bronze bowl for washing, and he built it on a bronze stand. He used the bronze from mirrors that belonged to the women who served at the entrance to the Meeting Tent.

The Courtyard of the Holy Tent

<sup>9</sup>Then he made a wall of curtains to form a courtyard around the Holy Tent. On the south side the curtains were one hundred fifty feet long and were made of fine linen.<sup>10</sup>The curtains hung on silver hooks and bands, placed on twenty bronze posts with twenty bronze bases.<sup>11</sup>On the north side the wall of curtains was also one hundred fifty feet long, and it hung on silver hooks and bands on twenty posts with twenty bronze bases.

make this list, and Ithamar son of Aaron was in charge of keeping it.<sup>22</sup>Bezalel son of Uri, the son of Hur of the tribe of Judah, made everything the Lord commanded Moses.<sup>23</sup>Oholiab son of Ahisamach of the tribe of Dan helped him. He could cut designs into metal and stone; he was a designer and also skilled at sewing the blue, purple, and red thread, and fine linen.

<sup>24</sup>The total amount of gold used to build the Holy Tent was presented to the Lord. It weighed over 2,000 pounds, as set by the Holy Place measure.

<sup>25</sup>The silver was given by the members of the community who were counted. It weighed 7,550 pounds, as set by the Holy Place measure.<sup>26</sup>All the men twenty years old or older were counted. There were 603,550 men, and each man had to pay one-fifth of an ounce of silver, as set by the Holy Place measure.<sup>27</sup>Of this silver, 7,500 pounds were used to make the one hundred bases for the Holy Tent and for the curtain—75 pounds of silver in each base.<sup>28</sup>They used 50 pounds of silver to make the hooks for the posts and to cover the tops of the posts and to make the bands on them.

<sup>29</sup>The bronze which was presented to the Lord weighed about 5,000 pounds.<sup>30</sup>They used the bronze to make the bases at the entrance of the Meeting Tent, to make the altar and the bronze screen, and to make all the tools for the altar.<sup>31</sup>This bronze was also used to make bases for the wall of curtains around the courtyard and bases for curtains at the entry to the courtyard, as well as to make the tent pegs for the Holy Tent and the curtains that surrounded the courtyard.

Life Lessons

Exodus 39:1–40:38

Situation

Moses provided instructions about the priestly garments and other matters pertaining to worship and the Holy Tent.

Observation

Some people believe that outward appearance determines inner quality. With God, it is the other way around: outward appearance should reflect inner reality. The priestly garments reflected the holy character of the priests as they were in communion with a holy God.

Inspiration

“But clothe yourselves with the Lord Jesus Christ and forget about satisfying your sinful self” (Romans 13:14).

“You were all baptized into Christ, and so you were all clothed with Christ. This means that you are all children of God through faith in Christ Jesus” (Galatians 3:26–27).

This clothing has nothing to do with dresses and jeans and suits. God’s concern is with our spiritual garment. He offers a heavenly robe that only heaven can see and only heaven can give. Listen to the words of Isaiah: “The Lord makes me very happy; all that I am rejoices in my God. He has covered me with clothes of salvation and wrapped me with a coat of goodness” (Isaiah 61:10).

Remember the words of the father when the prodigal son returned? He wanted his son to have new sandals, a new ring, and what else? New clothes. “Bring the best clothes and put them on him” (Luke 15:22). No son of his was going to be seen in shabby, muddy rags. The father wanted the son to have the best clothing available.

Your Father wants you to have the same.

Again, this discussion of clothing has nothing to do with what the store sells you. It has everything to do with what God gives you when you give your life to him.

Clothes for the Priests

They used blue, purple, and red thread to make woven clothes for the priests to wear when they served in the Holy Place. They made the holy clothes for Aaron as the Lord had commanded Moses.

<sup>2</sup>They made the holy vest of gold, and blue, purple, and red thread, and fine linen. <sup>3</sup>They hammered the gold into sheets and then cut it into long, thin strips. They worked the gold into the blue, purple, and red thread, and fine linen. This was done by skilled craftsmen. <sup>4</sup>They made the shoulder straps for the holy vest, which were attached to the top corners of the vest and tied together over each shoulder. <sup>5</sup>The skillfully woven belt was made in the same way; it was joined to the holy vest as one piece. It was made of gold, and blue, purple, and red thread, and fine linen, the way the Lord commanded Moses.

<sup>6</sup>They put gold around the onyx stones and then wrote the names of the sons of Israel on these gems, as a person carves words and designs on a seal. <sup>7</sup>Then they attached the gems on the shoulder straps of the holy vest, as reminders of the twelve sons of Israel. This was done just as the Lord had commanded Moses.

pocket. <sup>10</sup>Then they put four rows of beautiful jewels on it: In the first row there was a ruby, a topaz, and a yellow quartz; <sup>11</sup>in the second there was a turquoise, a sapphire, and an emerald; <sup>12</sup>in the third there was a jacinth, an agate, and an amethyst; <sup>13</sup>in the fourth there was a chrysolite, an onyx, and a jasper. Gold was put around these jewels to attach them to the chest covering, <sup>14</sup>and the names of the sons of Israel were carved on these twelve jewels as a person carves a seal. Each jewel had the name of one of the twelve tribes of Israel.

<sup>22</sup>Then they made the outer robe to be worn under the holy vest. It was woven only of blue cloth. <sup>23</sup>They made a hole in the center of the outer robe, with a woven collar sewn around it so it would not tear. <sup>24</sup>Then they made balls like pomegranates of blue, purple, and red thread, and fine linen and hung them around the bottom of the outer robe.<sup>25</sup> They also made bells of pure gold and hung these around the bottom of the outer robe between the balls.<sup>26</sup> So around the bottom of the outer robe there was a bell and a pomegranate ball, a bell and a pomegranate ball. The priest wore this outer robe when he served as priest, just as the Lord had commanded Moses.

<sup>30</sup>They made a strip of pure gold, which is the holy crown, and carved these words in the gold, as one might carve on a seal: "Holy to the Lord."<sup>31</sup> Then they tied this flat piece to the turban with a blue ribbon, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

<sup>32</sup>So all the work on the Meeting Tent was finished. The Israelites did everything just as the Lord had commanded Moses.<sup>33</sup> Then they brought the Holy Tent to Moses: the Tent and all its furniture, hooks, frames, crossbars, posts, and bases;<sup>34</sup> the covering made of male sheepskins colored red, the covering made of fine leather, and the curtain that covered the entrance to the Most Holy Place;<sup>35</sup> the Ark of the Agreement, its poles and lid;<sup>36</sup> the table, all its containers, and the bread that showed they were in God's presence;<sup>37</sup> the pure gold lampstand with its lamps in a row, all its tools, and the olive oil for the light;<sup>38</sup> the gold altar, the special olive oil used for appointing priests, the sweet-smelling incense, and the curtain that covered the entrance to the Tent;<sup>39</sup> the bronze altar and its screen, its poles and all its tools, the bowl and its stand;<sup>40</sup> the curtains for the courtyard with their posts and bases, the curtain that covered the entry to the courtyard, the cords, pegs, and all the things in the Meeting Tent. <sup>41</sup>They brought the clothes for the priests to wear when they served in the Holy Tent—the holy clothes for Aaron the priest and the clothes for his sons, which they wore when they served as priests.

<sup>42</sup>The Israelites had done all this work just as the Lord had commanded Moses. <sup>43</sup>Moses looked closely at all the work and saw they had done it just as the Lord had commanded. So Moses blessed them.

Setting Up the Holy Tent

Then the Lord said to Moses: <sup>2</sup>“On the first day of the first month, set up the Holy Tent, which is the Meeting Tent. <sup>3</sup>Put the Ark of the Agreement in it and hang the curtain in front of the Ark. <sup>4</sup>Bring in the table and arrange everything on the table that should be there. Then bring in the lampstand and set up its lamps. <sup>5</sup>Put the gold altar for burning incense in front of the Ark of the Agreement, and put the curtain at the entrance to the Holy Tent.

<sup>9</sup>“Use the special olive oil and pour it on the Holy Tent and everything in it, in order to give the Tent and all that is in it for service to the Lord. They will be holy. <sup>10</sup>Pour the special oil on the altar for burnt offerings and on all its tools. Give the altar for service to God, and it will be very holy. <sup>11</sup>Then pour the special olive oil on the bowl and the base under it so that they will be given for service to God.

<sup>12</sup>“Bring Aaron and his sons to the entrance of the Meeting Tent, and wash them with water. <sup>13</sup>Then put the holy clothes on Aaron. Pour the special oil on him, and give him for service to God so that he may serve me as a priest. <sup>14</sup>Bring Aaron’s sons and put the inner robes on them. <sup>15</sup>Pour the special oil on them in the same way that you appointed their father as priest so that they may also serve me as priests. Pouring oil on them will make them a family of priests, they and their descendants from now on.”<sup>16</sup> Moses did everything that the Lord commanded him.

<sup>20</sup>Moses put the stone tablets that had the Agreement written on them into the Ark. He put the poles through the rings of the Ark and put the lid on it. <sup>21</sup>Next he brought the Ark into the Tent and hung the curtain to cover the Ark, just as the Lord commanded him.

<sup>29</sup>He put the altar for burnt offerings at the entrance to the Holy Tent, the Meeting Tent, and offered a whole burnt offering and grain offerings on it, just as the Lord commanded him.<sup>30</sup> Moses put the bowl between the Meeting Tent and the altar for burnt offerings, and he put water in it for washing.<sup>31</sup> Moses, Aaron, and Aaron's sons used this water to wash their hands and feet.<sup>32</sup> They washed themselves every time they entered the Meeting Tent and every time they went near the altar for burnt offerings, just as the Lord commanded Moses.

<sup>33</sup>Then Moses set up the courtyard around the Holy Tent and the altar, and he put up the curtain at the entry to the courtyard. So Moses finished the work.

The Cloud over the Holy Tent

<sup>34</sup>Then the cloud covered the Meeting Tent, and the glory of the Lord filled the Holy Tent.<sup>35</sup> Moses could not enter the Meeting Tent, because the cloud had settled on it, and the glory of the Lord filled the Holy Tent.

<sup>36</sup>When the cloud rose from the Holy Tent, the Israelites would begin to travel,<sup>37</sup> but as long as the cloud stayed on the Holy Tent, they did not travel. They stayed in that place until the cloud rose.<sup>38</sup> So the cloud of the Lord was over the Holy Tent during the day, and there was a fire in the cloud at night. So all the Israelites could see the cloud while they traveled.

The Book of Leviticus

Introduction

Suppose your father grants you a piece of land. Free. You can farm it and make a living.

There is only one condition. You first have to get the rocks out. And so you work. For hours and days you work. With time, you see the task is too great. There's just no way you can do it.

You give up.

Then your father says you've done enough. "I have another plot of land for you," he explains. "This time the stones are gone."

"Who removed them?"

"I did."

You go to the acreage and find his promise to be true. The stones are gone, and you are left to farm. And so you sow in gratitude.

Nice story, Max, but what does this have to do with Leviticus?

The Book of Leviticus is the deed to the farm. A rocky farm given by God to his children ... laden with stones. Heavied with tasks. Loaded with rocky rules and regulations.

Three months after their deliverance, the children of Israel spent a year at the base of Mt. Sinai. They were nomadic people in a barren land. Suddenly forced to live together, suddenly forced to travel together, they needed guidelines for hygiene and health. They needed rules for worship and community. For that reason, God gave them Leviticus. A practical guide for community and worship. But for us, it serves a still higher purpose. Leviticus reminds us that God takes holiness seriously.

Any person who tries to be holy is soon convinced he can't. There are too many rules. Too many rocks to remove. We need help. We need a Savior. "In other words, the law was our guardian leading us to Christ so that we could be made right with God through faith" (Galatians 3:24).

Holiness is what God desires. But holiness is what we cannot achieve. Just like the son couldn't remove the rocks, so we can't remove our sins.

But just like the father surprised the son, so our Father surprises us. He removed the rocks for us.

About This Book

Author:

Moses

Date Written:

1500–1450 B.C.

Key Themes:

- God gave instructions for the offerings and sacrifices and the priests who will administrate them.
- Through Moses, God gave the people guidelines for keeping their camps safe, sanitary, and functional.
- God taught the people about various feasts that will remind them of his provision and goodness.

Key Verse:

"Be my holy people. Be holy because I am the Lord your God" (Leviticus 20:7).

4. Feasts, Festivals, and Tithes 23:1–27:34

Life Lessons

Leviticus 1:1–6:7

Situation

Blood sacrifices had great significance. Blood offered an atonement for sin, but its incompleteness required the perfect sacrifice, Jesus Christ. The sacrifices in these chapters taught the Israelites how to worship God through personal commitment.

Observation

God's people must revere him, commit themselves to his laws, and show sincere dedication to him.

Inspiration

Stories from the underground church in [the former Soviet Union] never fail to jolt us awake. I came across another one just this past week. A house church received one copy of Gospel by Luke, the only scripture most of these Christians had ever seen. They tore it into small sections and distributed them among the body of believers. Their plan was to memorize the portion they had been given, then on the next Lord's Day they would meet and redistribute the scriptural sections.

On Sunday these believers arrived inconspicuously in small groups throughout the day so as not to arouse the suspicion of KGB informers. By dusk they were all safely inside, windows closed and doors locked. They began by singing a hymn quietly but with deep emotion. Suddenly, the door was pushed open and in walked two soldiers with loaded automatic weapons at the ready. One shouted, “All right—everybody line up against the wall. If you wish to renounce your commitment to Jesus Christ, leave now!”

Two or three quickly left, then another. After a few more seconds, two more.

“This is your last chance. Either turn against your faith in Christ,” he ordered, “or stay and suffer the consequences.”

Another left. Finally, two more in embarrassed silence, their faces covered, slipped out into the night. No one else moved. Parents with small children trembling beside them looked down reassuringly. They fully expected to be gunned down or, at best, to be imprisoned.

After a few moments of complete silence, the other soldier closed the door, looked back at those who stood against the wall and said, “Keep your hands up—but this time in praise to our Lord Jesus Christ, brothers and sisters. We, too, are Christians. We were sent to another house church several weeks ago to a group of believers—”

The other soldier interrupted, “... but, instead, we were converted! We have learned by experience, however, that unless people are willing to die for their faith, they cannot be fully trusted.”

In segments of the world where Bibles are plentiful and churches are protected, faith can run awfully shallow. Commitment can stay rather lukewarm. Eagles can learn to fly dangerously low. “What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly.”

The Burnt Offering

The Lord called to Moses and spoke to him from the Meeting Tent, saying, <sup>2</sup>“Tell the people of Israel: ‘When you bring an offering to the Lord, bring as your offering an animal from the herd or flock.

<sup>3</sup>“If the offering is a whole burnt offering from the herd, it must be a male that has nothing wrong with it. The person must take the animal to the entrance of the Meeting Tent so that the Lord will accept the offering. <sup>4</sup>He must put his hand on the animal’s head, and the Lord will accept it to remove the person’s sin so he will belong to God. <sup>5</sup>He must kill the young bull before the Lord, and Aaron’s sons, the priests, must bring its blood and sprinkle it on all sides of the altar at the entrance to the Meeting Tent. <sup>6</sup>After that he will skin the animal and cut it into pieces. <sup>7</sup>The priests, when they have put wood and fire on the altar, <sup>8</sup>are to lay the head, the fat, and other pieces on the wood that is on the fire of the altar. <sup>9</sup>The animal’s inner organs and legs must be washed with water. Then the priest must burn all the animal’s parts on the altar. It is a whole burnt offering, an offering made by fire, and its smell is pleasing to the Lord.

<sup>10</sup>“If the burnt offering is a sheep or a goat from the flock, it must be a male that has nothing wrong with it. <sup>11</sup>The person must kill the animal on the north side of the altar before the Lord, and Aaron’s sons, the priests, must sprinkle its blood on all sides of the altar. <sup>12</sup>The person must cut the animal into pieces, and the priest must lay them, with the head and fat, on the wood that is on the fire of the altar. <sup>13</sup>The person must wash the animal's inner organs and legs with water, and then the priest must burn all its parts on the altar. It is a whole burnt offering, an offering made by fire, and its smell is pleasing to the Lord.

<sup>14</sup>“If the whole burnt offering for the Lord is a bird, it must be a dove or a young pigeon. <sup>15</sup>The priest will bring it to the altar and pull off its head, which he will burn on the altar; the bird's blood must be drained out on the side of the altar. <sup>16</sup>The priest must remove the bird's crop and its contents and throw them on the east side of the altar, where the ashes are. <sup>17</sup>Then he must tear the bird open by its wings without dividing it into two parts. He must burn the bird on the altar, on the wood which is on the fire. It is a whole burnt offering, an offering made by fire, and its smell is pleasing to the Lord.

The Grain Offering

“When anyone offers a grain offering to the Lord, it must be made from fine flour. The person must pour oil on it, put incense on it,<sup>2</sup> and then take it to Aaron’s sons, the priests. The priest must take a handful of the fine flour and oil and all the incense, and burn it on the altar as a memorial portion. It is an offering made by fire, and its smell is pleasing to the Lord.<sup>3</sup> The rest of the grain offering will belong to Aaron and the priests; it is a most holy part of the offerings made by fire to the Lord.

<sup>4</sup>“If you bring a grain offering that was baked in the oven, it must be made from fine flour. It may be loaves made without yeast and mixed with oil, or it may be wafers made without yeast that have oil poured over them.<sup>5</sup> If your grain offering is cooked on a griddle, it must be made, without yeast, of fine flour mixed with oil.<sup>6</sup> Crumble it and pour oil over it; it is a grain offering.<sup>7</sup> If your grain offering is cooked in a pan, it must be made from fine flour and oil.<sup>8</sup> Bring the grain offering made of these things to the Lord. Give it to the priest, and he will take it to the altar.<sup>9</sup> He will take out the memorial portion from the grain offering and burn it on the altar, as an offering made by fire. Its smell is pleasing to the Lord.<sup>10</sup> The rest of the grain offering belongs to Aaron and the priests. It is a most holy part of the offerings made to the Lord by fire.

<sup>11</sup>“Every grain offering you bring to the Lord must be made without yeast, because you must not burn any yeast or honey in an offering made by fire to the Lord.<sup>12</sup> You may bring yeast and honey to the Lord as an offering from the first harvest, but they must not be burned on the altar as a pleasing smell. <sup>13</sup>You must also put salt on all your grain offerings. Salt stands for your agreement with God that will last forever; do not leave it out of your grain offering. You must add salt to all your offerings.

<sup>14</sup>“If you bring a grain offering from the first harvest to the Lord, bring crushed heads of new grain roasted in the fire. <sup>15</sup>Put oil and incense on it; it is a grain offering. <sup>16</sup>The priest will burn the memorial portion of the crushed grain and oil, with the incense on it. It is an offering by fire to the Lord.

The Fellowship Offering

“If a person’s fellowship offering to the Lord is from the herd, it may be a male or female, but it must have nothing wrong with it. <sup>2</sup>The person must put his hand on the animal’s head and kill it at the entrance to the Meeting Tent. Then Aaron’s sons, the priests, must sprinkle the blood on all sides of the altar. <sup>3</sup>From the fellowship offering he must make a sacrifice by fire to the Lord. He must offer the fat of the animal’s inner organs (both the fat that is in them and that covers them), <sup>4</sup>both kidneys with the fat that is on them near the lower back muscle, and the best part of the liver, which he will remove with the kidneys. <sup>5</sup>Then the priests will burn these parts on the altar, on the whole burnt offering that is on the wood of the fire. It is an offering made by fire, and its smell is pleasing to the Lord.

<sup>6</sup>“If a person’s fellowship offering to the Lord is a lamb or a goat, it may be a male or female, but it must have nothing wrong with it. <sup>7</sup>If he offers a lamb, he must bring it before the Lord <sup>8</sup>and put his hand on its head. Then he must kill the animal in front of the Meeting Tent, and the priests must sprinkle its blood on all sides of the altar. <sup>9</sup>From the fellowship offering the person must make a sacrifice by fire to the Lord. He must bring the fat, the whole fat tail cut off close to the backbone, the fat of the inner organs (both the fat that is in them and that covers them), <sup>10</sup>both kidneys with the fat that is on them, near the lower back muscle, and the best part of the liver, which he will remove with the kidneys. <sup>11</sup>Then the priest will burn these parts on the altar as food; it will be an offering made by fire to the Lord.

<sup>12</sup>“If a person’s offering is a goat, he must offer it before the Lord <sup>13</sup>and put his hand on its head. Then he must kill it in front of the Meeting Tent, and the priests must sprinkle its blood on all sides of the altar. <sup>14</sup>From this offering the person must make a sacrifice by fire to the Lord. He must offer all the fat of the goat’s inner organs (both the fat that is in them and that covers them), <sup>15</sup>both kidneys with the fat that is on them near the lower back muscle, and the best part of the liver, which he will remove with the kidneys. <sup>16</sup>The priest will burn these parts on the altar as food. It is an offering made by fire, and its smell is pleasing to the Lord. All the fat belongs to the Lord.

<sup>17</sup>“This law will continue for people from now on, wherever you live: You must not eat any fat or blood.”

The Sin Offering

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Tell the people of Israel this: ‘When a person sins by accident and does some things the Lord has commanded not to be done, that person must do these things:

<sup>3</sup>“If the appointed priest sins so that he brings guilt on the people, then he must offer a young bull to the Lord, one that has nothing wrong with it, as a sin offering for the sin he has done. <sup>4</sup>He will bring the bull to the entrance of the Meeting Tent in front of the Lord, put his hand on its head, and kill it before the Lord. <sup>5</sup>Then the appointed priest must bring some of the bull’s blood into the Meeting Tent. <sup>6</sup>The priest is to dip his finger into the blood and sprinkle it seven times before the Lord in front of the curtain of the Most Holy Place. <sup>7</sup>The priest must also put some of the blood on the corners of the altar of incense that stands before the Lord in the Meeting Tent. The rest of the blood he must pour out at the bottom of the altar of burnt offering, which is at the entrance of the Meeting Tent. <sup>8</sup>He must remove all the fat from the bull of the sin offering—the fat on and around the inner organs, <sup>9</sup>both kidneys with the fat that is on them near the lower back muscle, and the best part of the liver which he will remove with the kidneys. <sup>10</sup>(He must do this in the same way the fat is removed from the bull of the fellowship offering.) Then the priest must burn the animal parts on the altar of burnt offering. <sup>11</sup>But the priest must carry off the skin of the bull and all its meat, along with the rest of the bull—its head, legs, intestines, and other inner organs. <sup>12</sup>He must take it outside the camp to the special clean place where the ashes are poured out. He must burn it on a wood fire on the pile of ashes.

<sup>13</sup>“If the whole nation of Israel sins accidentally without knowing it and does something the Lord has commanded not to be done, they are guilty. <sup>14</sup>When they learn about the sin they have done, they must offer a young bull as a sin offering and bring it before the Meeting Tent. <sup>15</sup>The older leaders of the group of people must put their hands on the bull’s head before the Lord, and it must be killed before the Lord. <sup>16</sup>Then the appointed priest must bring some of the bull’s blood into the Meeting Tent. <sup>17</sup>Dipping his finger in the blood, he must sprinkle it seven times before the Lord in front of the curtain. <sup>18</sup>Then he must put some of the blood on the corners of the altar that is before the Lord in the Meeting Tent. The priest must pour out the rest of the blood at the bottom of the altar of burnt offering, which is at the entrance to the Meeting Tent. <sup>19</sup>He must remove all the fat from the animal and burn it on the altar; <sup>20</sup>he will do the same thing with this bull that he did with the first bull of the sin offering. In this way the priest removes the sins of the people so they will belong to the Lord and be forgiven. <sup>21</sup>Then the priest must carry the bull outside the camp and burn it, just as he did with the first bull. This is the sin offering for the whole community.

his finger and put it on the corners of the altar of burnt offering. He must pour out the rest of the blood at the bottom of the altar of burnt offering.<sup>26</sup> He must burn all the goat's fat on the altar in the same way he burns the fat of the fellowship offerings. In this way the priest removes the ruler's sin so he belongs to the Lord, and the Lord will forgive him.

<sup>27</sup>“If any person in the community sins by accident and does something which the Lord has commanded must not be done, he is guilty.<sup>28</sup> When the person learns about his sin, he must bring a female goat that has nothing wrong with it as an offering for his sin.<sup>29</sup> He must put his hand on the animal's head and kill it at the place of the whole burnt offering.<sup>30</sup> Then the priest must take some of the goat's blood on his finger and put it on the corners of the altar of burnt offering. He must pour out the rest of the goat's blood at the bottom of the altar.<sup>31</sup> Then the priest must remove all the goat's fat in the same way the fat is removed from the fellowship offerings. He must burn it on the altar as a smell pleasing to the Lord. In this way the priest will remove that person's sin so he will belong to the Lord, and the Lord will forgive him.

<sup>32</sup>“If this person brings a lamb as his offering for sin, he must bring a female that has nothing wrong with it.<sup>33</sup> He must put his hand on the animal's head and kill it as a sin offering in the place where the whole burnt offering is killed.<sup>34</sup> The priest must take some of the blood from the sin offering on his finger and put it on the corners of the altar of burnt offering. He must pour out the rest of the lamb's blood at the bottom of the altar.<sup>35</sup> Then the priest must remove all the lamb's fat in the same way that the lamb's fat is removed from the fellowship offerings. He must burn the pieces on the altar on top of the offerings made by fire for the Lord. In this way the priest will remove that person's sins so he will belong to the Lord, and the Lord will forgive him.

Jesus: The Lamb of God

The annual event always drew a crowd. The priest would solemnly ascend the temple steps, cradling in his arms a lamb. As the people waited outside, he would pass through the great curtain and enter the Holy of Holies. He would kill the lamb upon the altar and pray that the blood would appease God. The sins would be rolled back. And the people would sigh with relief.

A great curtain hung as a reminder of the distance between God and man. It was like a deep chasm that no one could breach. Man on his island ... quarantined because of sin.

God could have left it like that. He could have left the people isolated. He could have washed his hands of the whole mess. He could have turned back, tossed in the towel, and started over on another planet. He could have, you know.

But he didn't.

God himself breached the chasm. In the darkness of an eclipsed sun, he and a Lamb stood in the Holy of Holies. He laid the Lamb on the altar. Not the lamb of a priest or a Jew or a shepherd, but the Lamb of God. The angels hushed as the blood of the Sufficient Sacrifice began to fall on the golden altar. Where had dripped the blood of lambs, now dripped the blood of life.

“Behold the Lamb of God.”

And then it happened. God turned and looked one last time at the curtain.

“No more.” And it was torn ... from top to bottom. Ripped in two.

“No more!”

“No more lambs!”

“No more curtain!”

“No more sacrifices!”

“No more separation!”

And the sun came out. (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Special Types of Accidental Sins

“If a person is ordered to tell in court what he has seen or what he knows and he does not tell the court, he is guilty of sin.

<sup>2</sup>“Or someone might touch something unclean, such as the dead body of an unclean wild animal or an unclean farm animal or an unclean crawling animal. Even if he does not know that he touched it, he will still be unclean and guilty of sin.

<sup>3</sup>“Someone might touch human uncleanness—anything that makes someone unclean—and not know it. But when he learns about it, he will be guilty.

<sup>4</sup>“Or someone might make a promise before the Lord without thinking. It might be a promise to do something bad or something good; it might be about anything. Even if he forgets about it, when he remembers, he will be guilty.

<sup>5</sup>“When anyone is guilty of any of these things, he must tell how he sinned. <sup>6</sup>He must bring an offering to the Lord as a penalty for sin; it must be a female lamb or goat from the flock. The priest will perform the acts to remove that person’s sin so he will belong to the Lord.

<sup>7</sup>“But if the person cannot afford a lamb, he must bring two doves or two young pigeons to the Lord as the penalty for his sin. One bird must be for a sin offering, and the other must be for a whole burnt offering. <sup>8</sup>He must bring them to the priest, who will first offer the one for the sin offering. He will pull the bird’s head from its neck, but he will not pull it completely off. <sup>9</sup>He must sprinkle the blood from the sin offering on the side of the altar, and then he must pour the rest of the blood at the bottom of the altar; it is a sin offering. <sup>10</sup>Then the priest must offer the second bird as a whole burnt offering, as the law says. In this way the priest will remove the person's sin so he will belong to the Lord, and the Lord will forgive him.

<sup>11</sup>“If the person cannot afford two doves or two pigeons, he must bring about two quarts of fine flour as an offering for sin. He must not put oil or incense on the flour, because it is a sin offering. <sup>12</sup>He must bring the flour to the priest. The priest will take a handful of the flour as a memorial offering and burn it on the altar on top of the offerings made by fire to the Lord; it is a sin offering. <sup>13</sup>In this way the priest will remove the person's sins so he will belong to the Lord, and the Lord will forgive him. What is left of the sin offering belongs to the priest, like the grain offering.”

The Penalty Offering

<sup>14</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>15</sup>“If a person accidentally sins and does something against the holy things of the Lord, he must bring from the flock a male sheep that has nothing wrong with it. This will be his penalty offering to the Lord. Its value in silver must be correct as set by the Holy Place measure. It is a penalty offering. <sup>16</sup>That person must pay for the sin he did against the holy thing, adding one-fifth to its value. Then he must give it all to the priest. In this way the priest will remove the person's sin so he will belong to the Lord, by using the male sheep as the penalty offering. And the Lord will forgive the person.

<sup>17</sup>“If a person sins and does something the Lord has commanded not to be done, even if he does not know it, he is still guilty. He is responsible for his sin. <sup>18</sup>He must bring the priest a male sheep from the flock, one that has nothing wrong with it and that is worth the correct amount. It will be a penalty offering. Though the person sinned without knowing it, with this offering the priest will remove the sin so the person will belong to the Lord, and the Lord will forgive him. <sup>19</sup>The person is guilty of doing wrong, so he must give the penalty offering to the Lord.”

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“A person might sin against the Lord by doing one of these sins: He might lie about what happened to something he was taking care of for someone else, or he might lie about a promise he made. He might steal something or cheat someone. <sup>3</sup>He might find something that had been lost and then lie about it. He might make a promise before the Lord about something and not mean it, or he might do some other sin. <sup>4</sup>If he does any of these things, he is guilty of sin. He must bring back whatever he stole or whatever he took by cheating. He must bring back the thing he took care of for someone else. He must bring back what he found and lied about <sup>5</sup>or what he made a false promise about. He must pay the full price plus an extra one-fifth of the value of what he took. He must give the money to the true owner on the day he brings his penalty offering. <sup>6</sup>He must bring his penalty to the priest—a male sheep from the flock, one that does not have anything wrong with it and that is worth the correct amount. It will be a penalty offering to the Lord. <sup>7</sup>Then the priest will perform the acts to remove that person’s sin so he will belong to the Lord, and the Lord will forgive him for the sins that made him guilty.”

The Whole Burnt Offering

<sup>8</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>9</sup>“Give this command to Aaron and the priests: ‘These are the teachings about the whole burnt offering: The burnt offering must stay on the altar all night until morning, and the altar’s fire must be kept burning. <sup>10</sup>The priest must put on his linen robe and linen underclothes next to his body. Then he will remove the ashes from the burnt offering on the altar and put them beside the altar. <sup>11</sup>Then he must take off those clothes and put on others and carry the ashes outside the camp to a special clean place.<sup>12</sup>But the fire must be kept burning on the altar; it must not be allowed to go out. The priest must put more firewood on the altar every morning, place the whole burnt offering on the fire, and burn the fat of the fellowship offerings.<sup>13</sup>The fire must be kept burning on the altar all the time; it must not go out.

The Grain Offering

<sup>14</sup>“These are the teachings about the grain offering: The priests must bring it to the Lord in front of the altar.<sup>15</sup>The priest must take a handful of fine flour, with the oil and all of the incense on it, and burn the grain offering on the altar as a memorial offering to the Lord. Its smell is pleasing to him.<sup>16</sup>Aaron and the priests may eat what is left, but it must be eaten without yeast in a holy place. They must eat it in the courtyard of the Meeting Tent.<sup>17</sup>It must not be cooked with yeast. I have given it as their share of the offerings made to me by fire; it is most holy, like the sin offering and the penalty offering.<sup>18</sup>Any male descendant of Aaron may eat it as his share of the offerings made to the Lord by fire, and this will continue from now on. Whatever touches these offerings shall become holy.”

<sup>19</sup>The Lord said to Moses,<sup>20</sup>“This is the offering Aaron and the priests must bring to the Lord on the day they appoint Aaron as high priest: They must bring two quarts of fine flour for a continual grain offering, half of it in the morning and half in the evening.<sup>21</sup>The fine flour must be mixed with oil and cooked on a griddle. Bring it when it is well mixed. Present the grain offering that is broken into pieces, and it will be a smell that is pleasing to the Lord.<sup>22</sup>One of the priests appointed to take Aaron's place as high priest must make the grain offering. It is a rule forever that the grain offering must be completely burned to the Lord.<sup>23</sup>Every grain offering made by a priest must be completely burned; it must not be eaten."

The Sin Offering

<sup>24</sup>The Lord said to Moses,<sup>25</sup>"Tell Aaron and the priests: 'These are the teachings about the sin offering: The sin offering must be killed in front of the Lord in the same place the whole burnt offering is killed; it is most holy.<sup>26</sup>The priest who offers the sin offering must eat it in a holy place, in the courtyard of the Meeting Tent.<sup>27</sup>Whatever touches the meat of the sin offering must be holy, and if the blood is sprinkled on any clothes, you must wash them in a holy place.<sup>28</sup>The clay pot the meat is cooked in must be broken, or if a bronze pot is used, it must be scrubbed and rinsed with water.<sup>29</sup>Any male in a priest's family may eat the offering; it is most holy.<sup>30</sup>But if the blood of the sin offering is taken into the Meeting Tent and used to remove sin in the Holy Place, that sin offering must be burned with fire. It must not be eaten.

The Penalty Offering

““These are the teachings about the penalty offering, which is most holy:<sup>2</sup>The penalty offering must be killed where the whole burnt offering is killed. Then the priest must sprinkle its blood on all sides of the altar. <sup>3</sup>He must offer all the fat from the penalty offering—the fat tail, the fat that covers the inner organs,<sup>4</sup>both kidneys with the fat that is on them near the lower back muscle, and the best part of the liver, which is to be removed with the kidneys.<sup>5</sup>The priest must burn all these things on the altar as an offering made by fire to the Lord. It is a penalty offering. <sup>6</sup>Any male in a priest’s family may eat it. It is most holy, so it must be eaten in a holy place.

<sup>7</sup>““The penalty offering is like the sin offering in that the teachings are the same for both. The priest who offers the sacrifice to remove sins will get the meat for food. <sup>8</sup>The priest who offers the burnt offering may also have the skin from it. <sup>9</sup>Every grain offering that is baked in an oven, cooked on a griddle, or baked in a dish belongs to the priest who offers it. <sup>10</sup>Every grain offering, either dry or mixed with oil, belongs to the priests, and all priests will share alike.

The Fellowship Offering

<sup>11</sup>““These are the teachings about the fellowship offering a person may offer to the Lord: <sup>12</sup>If he brings the fellowship offering to show his thanks, he should also bring loaves of bread made without yeast that are mixed with oil, wafers made without yeast that have oil poured over them, and loaves of fine flour that are mixed with oil. <sup>13</sup>He must also offer loaves of bread made with yeast along with his fellowship offering, which he gives to show thanks. <sup>14</sup>One of each kind of offering will be for the Lord; it will be given to the priest who sprinkles the blood of the fellowship offering. <sup>15</sup>When the fellowship offering is given to thank the Lord, the meat from it must be eaten the same day it is offered; none of it must be left until morning.

<sup>16</sup>“If a person brings a fellowship offering just to give a gift to God or because of a special promise to him, the sacrifice should be eaten the same day he offers it. If there is any left, it may be eaten the next day. <sup>17</sup>If any meat from this sacrifice is left on the third day, it must be burned up. <sup>18</sup>Any meat of the fellowship offering eaten on the third day will not be accepted, nor will the sacrifice count for the person who offered it. It will become unclean, and anyone who eats the meat will be guilty of sin.

<sup>21</sup>“If anyone touches something unclean—uncleanness that comes from people, from an animal, or from some hated thing—touching it will make him unclean. If he then eats meat from the fellowship offering that belongs to the Lord, he must be cut off from his people.”

animal is found dead or torn by wild animals, you may use its fat for other things, but you must not eat it.<sup>25</sup> If someone eats fat from an animal offering made by fire to the Lord, he must be cut off from his people.<sup>26</sup> No matter where you live, you must not eat blood from any bird or animal.<sup>27</sup> Anyone who eats blood must be cut off from his people.”

The Priests' Share

<sup>28</sup>The Lord said to Moses,<sup>29</sup> “Tell the people of Israel: ‘If someone brings a fellowship offering to the Lord, he must give part of it as his sacrifice to the Lord.<sup>30</sup> He must carry that part of the gift in his own hands as an offering made by fire to the Lord. He must bring the fat and the breast of the animal to the priest, to be presented to the Lord as the priests' share.<sup>31</sup> Then the priest must burn the fat on the altar, but the breast of the animal will belong to Aaron and the priests.<sup>32</sup> You must also give the right thigh from the fellowship offering to the priest as a gift;<sup>33</sup> it will belong to the priest who offers the blood and fat of the fellowship offering.<sup>34</sup> I have taken the breast and the thigh from the fellowship offerings of the Israelites, and I have given these parts to Aaron and the priests as their share for all time from the Israelites.’”

<sup>35</sup>This is the portion that belongs to Aaron and his sons from the offerings made by fire to the Lord. They were given this share on the day they were presented to the Lord as priests.<sup>36</sup> On the day the Lord appointed the priests, he commanded Israel to give this share to them, and it is to be given to the priests as their share from now on.

the grain offering, the sin offering, the penalty offering, the offering for the appointment of priests, and the fellowship offering.<sup>38</sup>The Lord gave these teachings to Moses on Mount Sinai on the day he commanded the Israelites to bring their offerings to the Lord in the Sinai Desert.

Life Lessons

Leviticus 6:8–10:20

Situation

The priests were the official communicators between God and man. God ordained priests as full-time spiritual leaders.

Observation

When God calls and ordains spiritual leaders, they have a special responsibility to live obediently as they walk close to him.

Inspiration

Let's take a look at the important balance between natural and spiritual leadership. A leader, obviously, must have some God-given natural qualities that cause others to respond to his or her influence. At the same time, the Christian leader must possess a marked degree of Spirit-directed, humble devotion to the Lord Jesus Christ ... lest he fall into the category of a self-appointed, ambitious creature who simply loves the spotlight. It is upon this point I want to camp for a few minutes.

Dr. A. W. Tozer wrote:

A true and safe leader is likely to be one who has no desire to lead, but is forced into a position of leadership by the inward pressure of the Holy Spirit and the press of the external situation. Such were Moses and David and the Old Testament prophets. I think there was hardly a great leader from Paul to the present day but was drafted by the Holy Spirit for the task, and commissioned by the Lord of the Church to fill a position he had little heart for. I believe it might be accepted as a fairly reliable rule of thumb that the man who is ambitious to lead is disqualified as a leader.

Spiritual leaders, you see, are not made by majority vote or ecclesiastical decisions, by conferences or synods. Only God can make them!

For not from the east, nor from the west,

Nor from the desert comes exaltation;

But God is the Judge;

He puts down one, and exalts another (Psalm 75:6-7).

This means, then, that God makes it His responsibility to prepare, nurture, train, and promote certain people to places of leadership. That's His business, not ours.

(From Growing Strong in the Seasons of Life by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Christ desires all believers to be priests and therefore spiritual leaders. He wants us to live holy and obedient lives. Which areas of your life are less than totally dependent on him? Write down three ways you can pursue holiness before God and start practicing them.

Aaron and His Sons Appointed

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Bring Aaron and his sons and their clothes, the special olive oil used in appointing people and things to the service of the Lord, the bull of the sin offering and the two male sheep, and the basket of bread made without yeast. <sup>3</sup>Then gather the people together at the entrance to the Meeting Tent.” <sup>4</sup>Moses did as the Lord commanded him, and the people met together at the entrance to the Meeting Tent.

<sup>5</sup>Then Moses spoke to the people and said, “This is what the Lord has commanded to be done.” <sup>6</sup>Bringing Aaron and his sons forward, Moses washed them with water. <sup>7</sup>He put the inner robe on Aaron and tied the cloth belt around him. Then Moses put the outer robe on him and placed the holy vest on him. He tied the skillfully woven belt around him so that the holy vest was tied to Aaron. <sup>8</sup>Then Moses put the chest covering on him and put the Urim and the Thummim in the chest covering. <sup>9</sup>He also put the turban on Aaron’s head. He put the strip of gold, the holy crown, on the front of the turban, as the Lord commanded him to do.

<sup>10</sup>Then Moses put the special oil on the Holy Tent and everything in it, making them holy for the Lord. <sup>11</sup>He sprinkled some oil on the altar seven times, sprinkling the altar and all its tools and the large bowl and its base. In this way he made them holy for the Lord. <sup>12</sup>He poured some of the special oil on Aaron’s head to make Aaron holy for the Lord. <sup>13</sup>Then Moses brought Aaron’s sons forward. He put the inner robes on them, tied cloth belts around them, and put headbands on them, as the Lord had commanded him.

the fat on the inner organs, the best part of the liver, both kidneys with their fat, and the right thigh.<sup>26</sup>From the basket of bread made without yeast that is put before the Lord each day, Moses took a loaf of bread, a loaf made with oil, and a wafer. He put these pieces of bread on the fat and right thigh of the male sheep.<sup>27</sup>All these things he put in the hands of Aaron and his sons and presented them as an offering before the Lord.<sup>28</sup>Then Moses took them from their hands and burned them on the altar on top of the burnt offering. So this was the offering for appointing Aaron and his sons as priests. It was an offering made by fire to the Lord, and its smell was pleasing to him.<sup>29</sup>Moses also took the breast and presented it as an offering before the Lord. It was Moses' share of the male sheep used in appointing the priests, as the Lord had commanded him.

<sup>31</sup>Then Moses said to Aaron and his sons, "I gave you a command, saying, 'Aaron and his sons will eat these things.' So take the meat and basket of bread from the offering for appointing priests. Boil the meat at the door of the Meeting Tent, and eat it there with the bread.<sup>32</sup>If any of the meat or bread is left, burn it.<sup>33</sup>The time of appointing will last seven days; you must not go outside the entrance of the Meeting Tent until that time is up. Stay there until the time of your appointing is finished.<sup>34</sup>The Lord commanded the things that were done today to remove your sins so you will belong to him.<sup>35</sup> You must stay at the entrance of the Meeting Tent day and night for seven days. If you don't obey the Lord's commands, you will die. The Lord has given me these commands."

Christ Through the Bible

Christ: The Perfect Priest

When we see Christ, what will we see?

We will see the perfect priest. "He was dressed in a long robe and had a gold band around his chest" (Revelation 1:13). The first readers of this message knew the significance of the robe and band. Jesus is wearing the clothing of a priest. A priest presents people to God and God to people.

You have known other priests. There have been others in your life, whether clergy or not, who sought to bring you to God. But they, too, needed a priest. Some needed a priest more than you did. They, like you, were sinful. Not so with Jesus. "Jesus is the kind of high priest we need. He is holy, sinless, pure, not influenced by sinners, and he is raised above the heavens" (Hebrews 7:26).

Jesus is the perfect priest.

He is also pure and purifying: "His head and hair were white like wool, as white as snow, and his eyes were like flames of fire" (Revelation 1:14).

What would a person look like if he had never sinned? If no worry wrinkled his brow and no anger shadowed his eyes? If no bitterness snarled his lips and no selfishness bowed his smile? If a person had never sinned, how would he appear? We'll know when we see Jesus. What John saw that Sunday on Patmos was absolutely spotless. He was reminded of the virgin wool of sheep and the untouched snow of winter.

And John was also reminded of fire. Others saw the burning bush, the burning altar, the fiery furnace, or the fiery chariots, but John saw the fiery eyes. And in those eyes he saw a purging blaze which will burn the bacteria of sin and purify the soul. (From When Christ Comes by Max Lucado)

Aaron and His Sons Offer Sacrifices

On the eighth day after the time of appointing, Moses called for Aaron and his sons and for the older leaders of Israel. <sup>2</sup>He said to Aaron, “Take a bull calf and a male sheep that have nothing wrong with them, and offer them to the Lord. The calf will be a sin offering, and the male sheep will be a whole burnt offering. <sup>3</sup>Tell the people of Israel, ‘Take a male goat for a sin offering and a calf and a lamb for a whole burnt offering; each must be one year old, and it must have nothing wrong with it. <sup>4</sup>Also take a bull and a male sheep for fellowship offerings, along with a grain offering mixed with oil. Offer all these things to the Lord, because the Lord will appear to you today.’”

<sup>5</sup>So all the people came to the front of the Meeting Tent, bringing the things Moses had commanded them to bring, and they stood before the Lord. <sup>6</sup>Moses said, “You have done what the Lord commanded, so you will see the Lord’s glory.”

<sup>7</sup>Then Moses told Aaron, “Go to the altar and offer sin offerings and whole burnt offerings. Do this to remove your sins and the people’s sins so you will belong to God. Offer the sacrifices for the people and perform the acts to remove their sins for them so they will belong to the Lord, as the Lord has commanded.”

of the liver from the sin offering and burned them on the altar, in the way the Lord had commanded Moses. <sup>11</sup>The meat and skin he burned outside the camp.

<sup>12</sup>Then Aaron killed the animal for the whole burnt offering. His sons brought the blood to him, and he sprinkled it on all sides of the altar. <sup>13</sup>As they gave him the pieces and head of the burnt offering, Aaron burned them on the altar. <sup>14</sup>He also washed the inner organs and the legs of the burnt offering and burned them on top of the burnt offering on the altar.

<sup>15</sup>Then Aaron brought the offering that was for the people. He took the goat of the people's sin offering and killed it and offered it for the sin offering, just as he had done the first sin offering.

<sup>16</sup>Then Aaron brought the whole burnt offering and offered it in the way that the Lord had commanded. <sup>17</sup>He also brought the grain offering to the altar. He took a handful of the grain and burned it on the altar, in addition to the morning's burnt offering.

<sup>18</sup>Aaron also killed the bull and the male sheep as the fellowship offerings for the people. His sons brought him the blood, and he sprinkled it on all sides of the altar. <sup>19</sup>Aaron's sons also brought to Aaron the fat of the bull and the male sheep—the fat tail, the fat covering the inner organs, the kidneys, and the best part of the liver. <sup>20</sup>Aaron's sons put them on the breasts of the bull and the sheep. Then Aaron burned these fat parts on the altar. <sup>21</sup>He presented the breasts and the right thigh before the Lord as the priests' share of the offering, as Moses had commanded.

<sup>22</sup>Then Aaron lifted his hands toward the people and blessed them. When he had finished offering the sin offering, the burnt offering, and the fellowship offering, he stepped down from the altar.

<sup>23</sup>Moses and Aaron went into the Meeting Tent. Then they came out and blessed the people, and the Lord's glory came to all the people. <sup>24</sup>Fire came out from the Lord and burned up the burnt offering and fat on the altar. When the people saw this, they shouted with joy and bowed facedown on the ground.

God Destroys Nadab and Abihu

Aaron's sons Nadab and Abihu took their pans for burning incense, put fire in them, and added incense; but they did not use the special fire Moses had commanded them to use in the presence of the Lord.<sup>2</sup> So fire came down from the Lord and destroyed Nadab and Abihu, and they died in front of the Lord.<sup>3</sup> Then Moses said to Aaron, "This is what the Lord was speaking about when he said,

'I must be respected as holy by those who come near me;
before all the people
I must be given honor.'"

So Aaron did not say anything about the death of his sons.

<sup>4</sup>Aaron's uncle Uzziel had two sons named Mishael and Elzaphan. Moses said to them, "Come here and pick up your cousins' bodies. Carry them outside the camp away from the front of the Holy Place."<sup>5</sup> So Mishael and Elzaphan obeyed Moses and carried the bodies of Nadab and Abihu, still clothed in the special priest's inner robes, outside the camp.

<sup>6</sup>Then Moses said to Aaron and his other sons, Eleazar and Ithamar, "Don't show sadness by tearing your clothes or leaving your hair uncombed. If you do, you will die, and the Lord will be angry with all the people. All the people of Israel, your relatives, may cry loudly about the Lord burning Nadab and Abihu,<sup>7</sup> but you must not even leave the Meeting Tent. If you go out of the entrance, you will die, because the Lord has appointed you to his service.” So Aaron, Eleazar, and Ithamar obeyed Moses.

<sup>8</sup>Then the Lord said to Aaron, <sup>9</sup>“You and your sons must not drink wine or beer when you go into the Meeting Tent. If you do, you will die. This law will continue from now on. <sup>10</sup>You must keep what is holy separate from what is not holy; you must keep what is clean separate from what is unclean. <sup>11</sup>You must teach the people all the laws that the Lord gave to them through Moses.”

<sup>12</sup>Moses said to Aaron and his remaining sons, Eleazar and Ithamar, “Eat the part of the grain offering that is left from the sacrifices offered by fire to the Lord, but do not add yeast to it. Eat it near the altar because it is most holy. <sup>13</sup>You must eat it in a holy place, because this part of the offerings made by fire to the Lord belongs to you and your sons. I have been commanded to tell you this.

<sup>14</sup>“Also, you and your sons and daughters may eat the breast and thigh of the fellowship offering that was presented to the Lord. You must eat them in a clean place; they are your share of the fellowship offerings given by the Israelites. <sup>15</sup>The people must bring the fat from their animals that was part of the offering made by fire, and they must present it to the Lord along with the thigh and the breast of the fellowship offering. They will be the regular share of the offerings for you and your children, as the Lord has commanded.”

<sup>16</sup>Moses looked for the goat of the sin offering, but it had already been burned up. So he became very angry with Eleazar and Ithamar, Aaron’s remaining sons. He said, <sup>17</sup>“Why didn’t you eat that goat in a holy place? It is most holy, and the Lord gave it to you to take away the guilt of the people, to remove their sins so they will belong to the Lord. <sup>18</sup>You didn't bring the goat's blood inside the Holy Place. You were supposed to eat the goat in a holy place, as I commanded!"

<sup>19</sup>But Aaron said to Moses, "Today they brought their sin offering and burnt offering before the Lord, but these terrible things have still happened to me! Do you think the Lord would be any happier if I ate the sin offering today?" <sup>20</sup>When Moses heard this, he was satisfied.

Rules About What May Be Eaten

The Lord said to Moses and Aaron, <sup>2</sup>“Tell the Israelites this: ‘These are the land animals you may eat: <sup>3</sup>You may eat any animal that has split hoofs completely divided and that chews the cud.

<sup>4</sup>“Some animals only chew the cud or only have split hoofs, and you must not eat them. The camel chews the cud but does not have a split hoof; it is unclean for you. <sup>5</sup>The rock badger chews the cud but does not have a split hoof; it is unclean for you. <sup>6</sup>The rabbit chews the cud but does not have a split hoof; it is unclean for you. <sup>7</sup>Now the pig has a split hoof that is completely divided, but it does not chew the cud; it is unclean for you. <sup>8</sup>You must not eat the meat from these animals or even touch their dead bodies; they are unclean for you.

<sup>9</sup>“Of the animals that live in the sea or in a river, if the animal has fins and scales, you may eat it. <sup>10</sup>But whatever lives in the sea or in a river and does not have fins and scales—including the things that fill the water and all other things that live in it—you should hate. <sup>11</sup>You must not eat any meat from them or even touch their dead bodies, because you should hate them. <sup>12</sup>You must hate any animal in the water that does not have fins and scales.

owls, ospreys, <sup>19</sup>storks, any kind of heron, hoopoes, or bats.

<sup>21</sup>“But you may eat certain insects that have wings and walk on four feet. You may eat those that have legs with joints above their feet so they can jump. <sup>22</sup>These are the insects you may eat: all kinds of locusts, winged locusts, crickets, and grasshoppers. <sup>23</sup>But all other insects that have wings and walk on four feet you are to hate. <sup>24</sup>Those insects will make you unclean, and anyone who touches the dead body of one of these insects will become unclean until evening. <sup>25</sup>Anyone who picks up one of these dead insects must wash his clothes and be unclean until evening.

<sup>26</sup>“Some animals have split hoofs, but the hoofs are not completely divided; others do not chew the cud. They are unclean for you, and anyone who touches the dead body of one of these animals will become unclean. <sup>27</sup>Of all the animals that walk on four feet, the animals that walk on their paws are unclean for you. Anyone who touches the dead body of one of these animals will become unclean until evening. <sup>28</sup>Anyone who picks up their dead bodies must wash his clothes and be unclean until evening; these animals are unclean for you.

<sup>32</sup>“If an unclean animal dies and falls on something, that item will also become unclean. This includes anything made from wood, cloth, leather, or rough cloth, regardless of its use.

Whatever the animal falls on must be washed with water and be unclean until evening; then it will become clean again.<sup>33</sup> If the dead, unclean animal falls into a clay bowl, anything in the bowl will become unclean, and you must break the bowl.<sup>34</sup> If water from the unclean clay bowl gets on any food, that food will become unclean.<sup>35</sup> If any dead, unclean animal falls on something, it becomes unclean. If it is a clay oven or a clay baking pan, it must be broken into pieces. These things will be unclean; they are unclean for you.

<sup>39</sup>“Also, if an animal which you use for food dies, anyone who touches its body will be unclean until evening.<sup>40</sup> Anyone who eats meat from this animal’s dead body must wash his clothes and be unclean until evening. Anyone who picks up the animal’s dead body must wash his clothes and be unclean until evening.

<sup>41</sup>“Every animal that crawls on the ground is to be hated; it must not be eaten.<sup>42</sup> You must not eat any of the animals that crawl on the ground, including those that crawl on their stomachs, that walk on all four feet, or on many feet. They are to be hated.<sup>43</sup> Do not make yourself unclean by these animals; you must not become unclean by them.<sup>44</sup> I am the Lord your God. Keep yourselves holy for me because I am holy. Don’t make yourselves unclean with any of these crawling animals.<sup>45</sup> I am the Lord who brought you out of Egypt to be your God; you must be holy because I am holy.

<sup>46</sup>“These are the teachings about all of the cattle, birds, and other animals on earth, as well as the animals in the sea and those that crawl on the ground. <sup>47</sup>These teachings help people know the difference between unclean animals and clean animals; they help people know which animals may be eaten and which ones must not be eaten.”

Life Lessons

Leviticus 11:1–15:33

Situation

God set forth his laws for purity. They included food, childbirth, skin diseases, and bodily fluids.

Observation

Failure to obey these regulations was considered sin. While following God’s laws did provide good hygienic results, they also separated the pure and clean from the impure and unclean. Israel was to be distinct from the pagan nations surrounding them. We make decisions daily that may not be popular but may be proper.

Inspiration

Anchor your convictions to the Word of God to help present crises from occurring in your life. When facing tough decisions, employ dogged and determined prayer and thinking grounded in the Word.

Do what is right this week, whatever it is, whatever comes down the path, whatever problems and dilemmas you face—just do what’s right. Maybe no one else is doing what's right, but you do what's right. You be honest. You take a stand. You be true. After all, regardless of what you do, God does what is right: he saves you with his grace.

Never let your decisions be made on the basis of the blowings of the winds of opinion and popularity.

The majority is not always right. If the majority had ruled, the children of Israel never would have left Egypt. They would have voted to stay in bondage. If the majority had ruled, David never would have fought Goliath. His brothers would have voted for him to stay with the sheep. What's the point? You must listen to your own heart.

God says you're on your way to becoming a disciple when you can keep a clear head and a pure heart.

Do you ever wonder if everything will turn out right as long as you do everything right? Do you ever try to do something right and yet nothing seems to turn out like you planned? Take heart—when people do what is right, God remembers. (From The Inspirational Bible, “Decisions”)

Application

What decisions do you need to make today? Before you make your choice, consider which options would most honor God.

Rules for New Mothers

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Tell the people of Israel this: ‘If a woman gives birth to a son, she will become unclean for seven days, as she is unclean during her monthly period. <sup>3</sup>On the eighth day the boy must be circumcised. <sup>4</sup>Then it will be thirty-three days before she becomes clean from her loss of blood. She must not touch anything that is holy or enter the Holy Tent until her time of cleansing is finished. <sup>5</sup>But if she gives birth to a daughter, the mother will be unclean for two weeks, as she is unclean during her monthly period. It will be sixty-six days before she becomes clean from her loss of blood.

<sup>6</sup>“After she has a son or daughter and her days of cleansing are over, the new mother must bring certain sacrifices to the Meeting Tent. She must give the priest at the entrance a year-old lamb for a burnt offering and a dove or young pigeon for a sin offering. <sup>7</sup>He will offer them before the Lord to make her clean so she will belong to the Lord again; then she will be clean from her loss of blood. These are the teachings for a woman who gives birth to a boy or girl.

<sup>8</sup>“If she cannot afford a lamb, she is to bring two doves or two young pigeons, one for a burnt offering and one for a sin offering. In this way the priest will make her clean so she will belong to the Lord again, and she will be clean.”

Rules About Skin Diseases

The Lord said to Moses and Aaron, <sup>2</sup>“Someone might have on his skin a swelling or a rash or a bright spot. If the sore looks like a harmful skin disease, the person must be brought to Aaron the priest or to one of Aaron’s sons, the priests. <sup>3</sup>The priest must look at the sore on the person’s skin. If the hair in the sore has become white, and the sore seems deeper than the person’s skin, it is a harmful skin disease. When he has finished looking at the person, the priest must announce that the person is unclean.

<sup>4</sup>“If there is a white spot on a person’s skin, but the spot does not seem deeper than the skin, and if the hair from the spot has not turned white, the priest must separate that person from other people for seven days. <sup>5</sup>On the seventh day the priest must look at the person again. If he sees that the sore has not changed and it has not spread on the skin, the priest must keep the person separated for seven more days. <sup>6</sup>On the seventh day the priest must look at the person again. If the sore has faded and has not spread on the skin, the priest must announce that the person is clean. The sore is only a rash. The person must wash his clothes, and he will become clean again.

<sup>7</sup>“But if the rash spreads again after the priest has announced him clean, the person must come again to the priest. <sup>8</sup>The priest must look at him, and if the rash has spread on the skin, the priest must announce that the person is unclean; it is a harmful skin disease.

brought to the priest,<sup>10</sup> and the priest must look at him. If there is a white swelling in the skin, and the hair has become white, and the skin looks raw in the swelling,<sup>11</sup> it is a harmful skin disease. It is one he has had for a long time. The priest must announce that the person is unclean. He will not need to separate that person from other people, because everyone already knows that the person is unclean.

<sup>18</sup>“Someone may have a boil on his skin that is healed. <sup>19</sup>If in the place where the boil was, there is a white swelling or a bright red spot, this place on the skin must be shown to the priest. <sup>20</sup>And the priest must look at it. If the spot seems deeper than the skin and the hair on it has become white, the priest must announce that the person is unclean. The spot is a harmful skin disease that has broken out from inside the boil. <sup>21</sup>But if the priest looks at the spot and there are no white hairs in it and the spot is not deeper than the skin and it has faded, the priest must separate the person from other people for seven days.<sup>22</sup>If the spot spreads on the skin, the priest must announce that the person is unclean; it is a disease that will spread.<sup>23</sup>But if the bright spot does not spread or change, it is only the scar from the old boil. Then the priest must announce that the person is clean.

<sup>24</sup>“When a person gets a burn on his skin, if the open sore becomes white or red,<sup>25</sup>the priest must look at it. If the white spot seems deeper than the skin and the hair at that spot has become white, it is a harmful skin disease. The disease has broken out in the burn, and the priest must announce that the person is unclean. It is a harmful skin disease.<sup>26</sup>But if the priest looks at the spot and there is no white hair in the bright spot, and the spot is no deeper than the skin and has faded, the priest must separate the person from other people for seven days.<sup>27</sup>On the seventh day the priest must look at him again. If the spot has spread on the skin, the priest must announce that the person is unclean. It is a harmful skin disease.<sup>28</sup>But if the bright spot has not spread on the skin but has faded, it is the swelling from the burn. The priest must announce that the person is clean, because the spot is only a scar from the burn.

yellow hairs growing in it, and the sore does not seem deeper than the skin,<sup>33</sup> the person must shave himself, but he must not shave the sore place. The priest must separate that person from other people for seven more days.<sup>34</sup> On the seventh day the priest must look at the sore. If it has not spread on the skin and it does not seem deeper than the skin, the priest must announce that the person is clean. So the person must wash his clothes and become clean.<sup>35</sup> But if the sore spreads on the skin after the person has become clean,<sup>36</sup> the priest must look at him again. If the sore has spread on the skin, the priest doesn't need to look for the yellowish hair; the person is unclean.<sup>37</sup> But if the priest thinks the sore has stopped spreading, and black hair is growing in it, the sore has healed. The person is clean, and the priest must announce that he is clean.

<sup>45</sup>“If a person has a skin disease that spreads, he must warn other people by shouting, ‘Unclean, unclean!’ His clothes must be torn at the seams, he must let his hair stay uncombed, and he must cover his mouth.<sup>46</sup> That person will be unclean the whole time he has the disease; he is unclean. He must live alone outside the camp.

Rules About Mildew

<sup>47</sup>“Clothing might have mildew on it. It might be clothing made of linen or wool<sup>48</sup> (either woven or knitted), or of leather, or something made from leather. <sup>49</sup>If the mildew in the clothing, leather, or woven or knitted material is green or red, it is a spreading mildew. It must be shown to the priest. <sup>50</sup>The priest must look at the mildew, and he must put that piece of clothing in a separate place for seven days. <sup>51</sup>On the seventh day he must look at the mildew again. If the mildew has spread on the cloth (either woven or knitted) or the leather, no matter what the leather was used for, it is a mildew that destroys; it is unclean. <sup>52</sup>The priest must burn the clothing. It does not matter if it is woven or knitted, wool or linen, or made of leather, because the mildew is spreading. It must be burned.

<sup>53</sup>“If the priest sees that the mildew has not spread in the cloth (either knitted or woven) or leather, <sup>54</sup>he must order the people to wash that piece of leather or cloth. Then he must separate the clothing for seven more days. <sup>55</sup>After the piece with the mildew has been washed, the priest must look at it again. If the mildew still looks the same, the piece is unclean, even if the mildew has not spread. You must burn it in fire; it does not matter if the mildew is on one side or the other.

or cloth (either woven or knitted).<sup>57</sup>But if the mildew comes back to that piece of leather or cloth (either woven or knitted), the mildew is spreading. And whatever has the mildew must be burned with fire.<sup>58</sup>When the cloth (either woven or knitted) or the leather is washed and the mildew is gone, it must be washed again; then it will be clean.

<sup>59</sup>“These are the teachings about mildew on pieces of cloth (either woven or knitted) or leather, to decide if they are clean or unclean.”

Rules for Cleansing from Skin Diseases

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“These are the teachings for the time at which people who had a harmful skin disease are made clean.

“The person shall be brought to the priest, <sup>3</sup>and the priest must go outside the camp and look at the one who had the skin disease. If the skin disease is healed, <sup>4</sup>the priest will command that two living, clean birds, a piece of cedar wood, a piece of red string, and a hyssop plant be brought for cleansing the person with the skin disease.

<sup>5</sup>“The priest must order one bird to be killed in a clay bowl containing fresh water. <sup>6</sup>Then he will take the living bird, the piece of cedar wood, the red string, and the hyssop; all these he will dip into the blood of the bird that was killed over the fresh water. <sup>7</sup>The priest will sprinkle the blood seven times on the person being cleansed from the skin disease. He must announce that the person is clean and then go to an open field and let the living bird go free.

<sup>8</sup>“The person to be cleansed must wash his clothes, shave off all his hair, and bathe in water. Then he will be clean and may go into the camp, though he must stay outside his tent for the first seven days. <sup>9</sup>On the seventh day he must shave off all his hair—the hair from his head, his beard, his eyebrows, and the rest of his hair. He must wash his clothes and bathe his body in water, and he will be clean.

must also take six quarts of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering and two-thirds of a pint of olive oil. <sup>11</sup>The priest who is to announce that the person is clean must bring him and his sacrifices before the Lord at the entrance of the Meeting Tent. <sup>12</sup>The priest will take one of the male lambs and offer it with the olive oil as a penalty offering; he will present them before the Lord as an offering. <sup>13</sup>Then he will kill the male lamb in the holy place, where the sin offering and the whole burnt offering are killed. The penalty offering is like the sin offering—it belongs to the priest and it is most holy.

<sup>14c</sup>The priest will take some of the blood of the penalty offering and put it on the bottom of the right ear of the person to be made clean. He will also put some of it on the thumb of the person's right hand and on the big toe of the person's right foot. <sup>15</sup>Then the priest will take some of the oil and pour it into his own left hand. <sup>16</sup>He will dip a finger of his right hand into the oil that is in his left hand, and with his finger he will sprinkle some of the oil seven times before the Lord. <sup>17</sup>The priest will put some oil from his hand on the bottom of the right ear of the person to be made clean, some on the thumb of the person's right hand, and some on the big toe of the person's right foot. The oil will go on these places on top of the blood for the penalty offering. <sup>18</sup>He will put the rest of the oil that is in his left hand on the head of the person to be made clean. In this way the priest will make that person clean so he can belong to the Lord again.

<sup>19c</sup>Next the priest will offer the sin offering to make that person clean so he can belong to the Lord again. After this the priest will kill the animal for the whole burnt offering, <sup>20</sup>and he will offer the burnt offering and grain offering on the altar. In this way he will make that person clean so he can belong to the Lord again.

<sup>21</sup>“But if the person is poor and unable to afford these offerings, he must take one male lamb for a penalty offering. It will be presented to the Lord to make him clean so he can belong to the Lord again. The person must also take two quarts of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering. He must also take two-thirds of a pint of olive oil<sup>22</sup> and two doves or two young pigeons, which he can afford. One bird is for a sin offering and the other for a whole burnt offering.<sup>23</sup> On the eighth day the person will bring them for his cleansing to the priest at the entrance of the Meeting Tent, before the Lord.<sup>24</sup> The priest will take the lamb for the penalty offering and the oil, and he will present them as an offering before the Lord.<sup>25</sup> Then he will kill the lamb of the penalty offering, take some of its blood, and put it on the bottom of the right ear of the person to be made clean. The priest will put some of this blood on the thumb of the person’s right hand and some on the big toe of the person’s right foot.<sup>26</sup> He will also pour some of the oil into his own left hand.<sup>27</sup> Then with a finger of his right hand, he will sprinkle some of the oil from his left hand seven times before the Lord.<sup>28</sup> The priest will take some of the oil from his hand and put it on the bottom of the right ear of the person to be made clean. He will also put some of it on the thumb of the person’s right hand and some on the big toe of the person’s right foot. The oil will go on these places on top of the blood from the penalty offering.<sup>29</sup> The priest must put the rest of the oil that is in his hand on the head of the person to be made clean, to make him clean so he can belong to the Lord again.<sup>30</sup> Then the priest will offer one of the doves or young pigeons, which the person can afford.<sup>31</sup> He must offer one of the birds for a sin offering and the other for a whole burnt offering, along with the grain offering. In this way the priest will make the person clean so he can belong to the Lord again; he will become clean.

<sup>32</sup>“These are the teachings for making a person clean after he has had a skin disease, if he cannot afford the regular sacrifices for becoming clean.”

Rules for Cleaning Mildew

<sup>33</sup>The Lord also said to Moses and Aaron, <sup>34</sup>“I am giving the land of Canaan to your people. When they enter that land, if I cause mildew to grow in someone’s house in that land, <sup>35</sup>the owner of that house must come and tell the priest. He should say, ‘I have seen something like mildew in my house.’ <sup>36</sup>Then the priest must order the people to empty the house before he goes in to look at the mildew. This is so he will not have to say that everything in the house is unclean. After this, the priest will go in to look at it. <sup>37</sup>He will look at the mildew, and if the mildew on the walls of the house is green or red and goes into the wall’s surface, <sup>38</sup>he must go out and close up the house for seven days. <sup>39</sup>On the seventh day the priest must come back and check the house. If the mildew has spread on the walls of the house, <sup>40</sup>the priest must order the people to tear out the stones with the mildew on them. They should throw them away, at a certain unclean place outside the city. <sup>41</sup>Then the priest must have all the inside of the house scraped. The people must throw away the plaster they scraped off the walls, at a certain unclean place outside the city. <sup>42</sup>Then the owner must put new stones in the walls, and he must cover the walls with new clay plaster.

<sup>43</sup>“Suppose a person has taken away the old stones and plaster and put in new stones and plaster. If mildew again appears in his house, <sup>44</sup>the priest must come back and check the house again. If the mildew has spread in the house, it is a mildew that destroys things; the house is unclean. <sup>45</sup>Then the owner must tear down the house, remove all its stones, plaster, and wood, and take them to the unclean place outside the city. <sup>46</sup>Anyone who goes into that house while it is closed up will be unclean until evening. <sup>47</sup>Anyone who eats in that house or lies down there must wash his clothes.

<sup>48</sup>“Suppose after new stones and plaster have been put in a house, the priest checks it again and the mildew has not spread. Then the priest will announce that the house is clean, because the mildew is gone.

bright spots on the skin;<sup>57</sup> they help people decide when things are unclean and when they are clean. These are the teachings about all these kinds of diseases.

Rules About a Person's Body

The Lord also said to Moses and Aaron, <sup>2</sup>“Say to the people of Israel: ‘When a fluid comes from a person’s body, the fluid is unclean. <sup>3</sup>It doesn’t matter if the fluid flows freely or if it is blocked from flowing; the fluid will make him unclean. This is the way the fluid makes him unclean:

<sup>4</sup>“If the person who discharges the body fluid lies on a bed, that bed becomes unclean, and everything he sits on becomes unclean. <sup>5</sup>Anyone who touches his bed must wash his clothes and bathe in water, and the person will be unclean until evening. <sup>6</sup>Whoever sits on something that the person who discharges the fluid sat on must wash his clothes and bathe in water; he will be unclean until evening. <sup>7</sup>Anyone who touches the person who discharges the body fluid must wash his clothes and bathe in water; he will be unclean until evening.

<sup>8</sup>“If the person who discharges the body fluid spits on someone who is clean, that person must wash his clothes and bathe in water; he will be unclean until evening. <sup>9</sup>Everything on which the person who is unclean sits when riding will become unclean. <sup>10</sup>Anyone who touches something that was under him will be unclean until evening. And anyone who carries these things must wash his clothes and bathe in water; he will be unclean until evening.

<sup>11</sup>“If the person who discharges a body fluid has not washed his hands in water and touches another person, that person must wash his clothes and bathe in water; he will be unclean until evening.

<sup>12</sup>“If a person who discharges a body fluid touches a clay bowl, that bowl must be broken. If he touches a wooden bowl, that bowl must be washed in water.

<sup>13</sup>“When a person who discharges a body fluid is made clean, he must count seven days for himself for his cleansing. He must wash his clothes and bathe his body in fresh water, and he will be clean. <sup>14</sup>On the eighth day he must take two doves or two young pigeons before the Lord at the entrance of the Meeting Tent. He will give the two birds to the priest. <sup>15</sup>The priest will offer the birds, one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering. And the priest will make that person clean so he can belong to the Lord again.

<sup>16</sup>“If semen goes out from a man, he must bathe in water; he will be unclean until evening. <sup>17</sup>If the fluid gets on any clothing or leather, it must be washed with water; it will be unclean until evening.

<sup>18</sup>“If a man has sexual relations with a woman and semen comes out, both people must bathe in water; they will be unclean until evening.

Rules About a Woman's Body

<sup>19</sup>“When a woman has her monthly period, she is unclean for seven days; anyone who touches her will be unclean until evening. <sup>20</sup>Anything she lies on during this time will be unclean, and everything she sits on during this time will be unclean. <sup>21</sup>Anyone who touches her bed must wash his clothes and bathe in water; that person will be unclean until evening. <sup>22</sup>Anyone who touches something she has sat on must wash his clothes and bathe in water; that person will be unclean until evening.<sup>23</sup>It does not matter if the person touched the woman's bed or something she sat on; he will be unclean until evening.

<sup>24</sup>“If a man has sexual relations with a woman and her monthly period touches him, he will be unclean for seven days; every bed he lies on will be unclean.

<sup>25</sup>“If a woman has a loss of blood for many days and it is not during her regular monthly period, or if she continues to have a loss of blood after her regular period, she will be unclean, as she is during her monthly period. She will be unclean for as long as she continues to bleed.<sup>26</sup>Any bed she lies on during all the time of her bleeding will be like her bed during her regular monthly period. Everything she sits on will be unclean, as during her regular monthly period.

<sup>27</sup>“Whoever touches those things will be unclean and must wash his clothes and bathe in water; he will be unclean until evening.<sup>28</sup>When the woman becomes clean from her bleeding, she must wait seven days, and after this she will be clean.<sup>29</sup>Then on the eighth day she must take two doves or two young pigeons and bring them to the priest at the entrance of the Meeting Tent.<sup>30</sup>The priest must offer one bird for a sin offering and the other for a whole burnt offering. In this way the priest will make her clean so she can belong to the Lord again.

<sup>31</sup>“So you must warn the people of Israel to stay separated from things that make them unclean. If you don't warn the people, they might make my Holy Tent unclean, and then they would have to die!”

coming out of his body.<sup>33</sup> These are the teachings for the woman who becomes unclean from her monthly period, for a man or woman who has a discharge, and for a man who becomes unclean by having sexual relations with a woman who is unclean.

Life Lessons

Leviticus 16:1–17:16

Situation

The Day of Atonement was the holiest day for the Israelites. The ceremonies included the sin offering of a bull for the high priest and his household, the sin offering of two goats for the people, and the ritual of sending a goat into the wilderness.

Observation

The number of sins atoned for by the Day of Atonement is staggering. The sin offering cleansed the place of God's dwelling from the pollution of the people's sins.

Inspiration

What prevents people from being rightly related to God? Sin. And if heaven promises a right relationship with God, what is missing in heaven? You got it, baby. Sin. Heaven will be sin-free. Both death and sin will be things of the past.

Is this a big deal? I think so... Can you imagine a world minus sin? Have you done anything recently because of sin?

At the very least, you've complained. You've worried. You've grumbled. You've hoarded when you should have shared. You've turned away when you should have helped. You've second-guessed, and you've covered up. But you won't do that in heaven.

Because of sin, you've snapped at the ones you love and argued with the ones you cherish. You have felt ashamed, guilty, bitter. You have ulcers, sleepless nights, cloudy days, and a pain in the neck. But you won't have those in heaven.

Because of sin, the young are abused and the elderly forgotten. Because of sin, God is cursed and drugs are worshiped. Because of sin, the poor have less and the affluent want more. Because of sin, babies have no daddies and husbands have no wives. But in heaven, sin will have no power; in fact, sin will have no presence. There will be no sin.

Sin has sired a thousand heartaches and broken a million promises. Your addiction can be traced back to sin. Your mistrust can be traced back to sin. Bigotry, robbery, adultery—all because of sin. But in heaven, all of this will end.

Can you imagine a world without sin? If so, you can imagine heaven. (From When Christ Comes by Max Lucado)

Application

Don't let sin get you down. If you've repented of your sins, you can accept God's forgiveness. So thank him for his mercy and move on.

The Day of Cleansing

Now two of Aaron's sons had died while offering incense to the Lord, and after that time the Lord spoke to Moses.<sup>2</sup>The Lord said to him, "Tell your brother Aaron that there are times when he cannot go behind the curtain into the Most Holy Place where the Ark is. If he goes in when I appear in a cloud over the lid on the Ark, he will die.

<sup>3</sup>"This is how Aaron may enter the Most Holy Place: Before he enters, he must offer a bull for a sin offering and a male sheep for a whole burnt offering.<sup>4</sup>He must put on the holy linen inner robe, with the linen underclothes next to his body. His belt will be the cloth belt, and he will wear the linen turban. These are holy clothes, so he must bathe his body in water before he puts them on.

<sup>5</sup>"Aaron must take from the people of Israel two male goats for a sin offering and one male sheep for a burnt offering.<sup>6</sup>Then he will offer the bull for the sin offering for himself to remove sins from him and his family so they will belong to the Lord.

<sup>7</sup>"Next Aaron will take the two goats and bring them before the Lord at the entrance to the Meeting Tent.<sup>8</sup>He will throw lots for the two goats—one will be for the Lord and the other for the goat that removes sin.<sup>9</sup>Then Aaron will take the goat that was chosen for the Lord by throwing the lot, and he will offer it as a sin offering.<sup>10</sup>The other goat, which was chosen by lot to remove the sin, must be brought alive before the Lord. The priest will use it to perform the acts that remove Israel's sin so they will belong to the Lord. Then this goat will be sent out into the desert as a goat that removes sin.

<sup>11</sup>“Then Aaron will offer the bull as a sin offering for himself, to remove the sins from him and his family so they will belong to the Lord; he will kill the bull for the sin offering for himself. <sup>12</sup>Then he must take a pan full of burning coals from the altar before the Lord and two handfuls of sweet incense that has been ground into powder. He must bring it into the room behind the curtain. <sup>13</sup>He must put the incense on the fire before the Lord so that the cloud of incense will cover the lid on the Ark. Then when Aaron comes in, he will not die. <sup>14</sup>Also, he must take some of the blood from the bull and sprinkle it with his finger on the front of the lid; with his finger he will sprinkle the blood seven times in front of the lid.

<sup>15</sup>“Then Aaron must kill the goat of the sin offering for the people and bring its blood into the room behind the curtain. He must do with the goat's blood as he did with the bull's blood, sprinkling it on the lid and in front of the lid. <sup>16</sup>Because the people of Israel have been unclean, Aaron will perform the acts to make the Most Holy Place ready for service to the Lord. Then it will be clean from the sins and crimes of the Israelites. He must also do this for the Meeting Tent, because it stays in the middle of unclean people. <sup>17</sup>When Aaron makes the Most Holy Place ready for service to the Lord, no one is allowed in the Meeting Tent until he comes out. So Aaron will perform the acts to remove sins from himself, his family, and all the people of Israel, so they will belong to the Lord. <sup>18</sup>Afterward he will go out to the altar that is before the Lord and will make it ready for service to the Lord. Aaron will take some of the bull's blood and some of the goat's blood and put it on the corners of the altar on all sides. <sup>19</sup>Then, with his finger, he will sprinkle some of the blood on the altar seven times to make the altar holy for the Lord and clean from all the sins of the Israelites.

<sup>20</sup>“When Aaron has finished making the Most Holy Place, the Meeting Tent, and the altar ready for service to the Lord, he will offer the living goat. <sup>21</sup>He will put both his hands on the head of the living goat, and he will confess over it all the sins and crimes of Israel. In this way Aaron will put the people's sins on the goat's head. Then he will send the goat away into the desert, and a man who has been appointed will lead the goat away. <sup>22</sup>So the goat will carry on itself all the people's sins to a lonely place in the desert. The man who leads the goat will let it loose there.

<sup>23</sup>“Then Aaron will enter the Meeting Tent and take off the linen clothes he had put on before he went into the Most Holy Place; he must leave these clothes there. <sup>24</sup>He will bathe his body in water in a holy place and put on his regular clothes. Then he will come out and offer the whole burnt offering for himself and for the people, to remove sins from himself and the people so they will belong to the Lord. <sup>25</sup>Then he will burn the fat of the sin offering on the altar.

<sup>26</sup>“The person who led the goat, the goat to remove sins, into the desert must wash his clothes and bathe his body in water. After that, he may come back into the camp.

<sup>27</sup>“The bull and the goat for the sin offerings, whose blood was brought into the Most Holy Place to make it ready for service to the Lord, must be taken outside the camp; the animals' skins, bodies, and intestines will be burned in the fire.

<sup>29</sup>“This law will always continue for you: On the tenth day of the seventh month, you must not eat and you must not do any work. The travelers or foreigners living with you must not work either. <sup>30</sup>It is on this day that the priests will make you clean so you will belong to the Lord again. All your sins will be removed. <sup>31</sup>This is a very important day of rest for you, and you must not eat. This law will continue forever.

<sup>32</sup>“The priest appointed to take his father’s place, on whom the oil was poured, will perform the acts for making things ready for service to the Lord. He must put on the holy linen clothes <sup>33</sup>and make the Most Holy Place, the Meeting Tent, and the altar ready for service to the Lord. He must also remove the sins of the priests and all the people of Israel so they will belong to the Lord. <sup>34</sup>That law for removing the sins of the Israelites so they will belong to the Lord will continue forever. You will do these things once a year.”

So they did the things the Lord had commanded Moses.

Offering Sacrifices

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Speak to Aaron, his sons, and all the people of Israel. Tell them: ‘This is what the Lord has commanded. <sup>3</sup>If an Israelite kills an ox, a lamb, or a goat either inside the camp or outside it, <sup>4</sup>when he should have brought the animal to the entrance of the Meeting Tent as a gift to the Lord in front of the Lord’s Holy Tent, he is guilty of killing. He has killed, and he must be cut off from the people. <sup>5</sup>This rule is so people will bring their sacrifices, which they have been sacrificing in the open fields, to the Lord. They must bring those animals to the Lord at the entrance of the Meeting Tent; they must bring them to the priest and offer them as fellowship offerings. <sup>6</sup>Then the priest will sprinkle the blood from those animals on the Lord’s altar near the entrance of the Meeting Tent. And he will burn the fat from those animals on the altar, as a smell pleasing to the Lord. <sup>7</sup>They must not offer any more sacrifices to their goat idols, which they have chased like prostitutes. These rules will continue for people from now on.’

<sup>8</sup>“Tell the people this: ‘If any citizen of Israel or foreigner living with you offers a burnt offering or sacrifice, <sup>9</sup>that person must take his sacrifice to the entrance of the Meeting Tent to offer it to the Lord. If he does not do this, he must be cut off from the people.

<sup>10</sup>“I will be against any citizen of Israel or foreigner living with you who eats blood. I will cut off that person from the people. <sup>11</sup>This is because the life of the body is in the blood, and I have given you rules for pouring that blood on the altar to remove your sins so you will belong to the Lord. It is the blood that removes the sins, because it is life.<sup>12</sup> So I tell the people of Israel this: “None of you may eat blood, and no foreigner living among you may eat blood.”

<sup>13</sup>“If any citizen of Israel or foreigner living among you catches a wild animal or bird that can be eaten, that person must pour the blood on the ground and cover it with dirt.<sup>14</sup> If blood is still in the meat, the animal’s life is still in it. So I give this command to the people of Israel: “Don’t eat meat that still has blood in it, because the animal’s life is in its blood. Anyone who eats blood must be cut off.”

<sup>15</sup>“If a person, either a citizen or a foreigner, eats an animal that died by itself or was killed by another animal, he must wash his clothes and bathe in water. He will be unclean until evening; then he will be clean.<sup>16</sup> If he does not wash his clothes and bathe his body, he will be guilty of sin.”

Rules About Sexual Relations

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Tell the people of Israel: ‘I am the Lord your God. <sup>3</sup>In the past you lived in Egypt, but you must not do what was done in that country. And you must not do as they do in the land of Canaan, where I am bringing you. Do not follow their customs. <sup>4</sup>You must obey my rules and follow them. I am the Lord your God. <sup>5</sup>Obey my laws and rules; a person who obeys them will live because of them. I am the Lord.

<sup>6</sup>“You must never have sexual relations with your close relatives. I am the Lord.

<sup>7</sup>“You must not shame your father by having sexual relations with your mother. She is your mother; do not have sexual relations with her. <sup>8</sup>You must not have sexual relations with your father’s wife; that would shame your father.

<sup>9</sup>“You must not have sexual relations with your sister, either the daughter of your father or your mother. It doesn’t matter if she was born in your house or somewhere else.

<sup>10</sup>“You must not have sexual relations with your son’s daughter or your daughter’s daughter; that would bring shame on you.

<sup>11</sup>“If your father and his wife have a daughter, she is your sister. You must not have sexual relations with her.

wife of your father's brother, because this would shame him. She is your aunt.

<sup>17</sup>“You must not have sexual relations with both a woman and her daughter. And do not have sexual relations with this woman's granddaughter, either the daughter of her son or her daughter; they are her close relatives. It is evil to do this.

<sup>21</sup>“You must not give any of your children to be sacrificed to Molech, because this would show that you do not respect your God. I am the Lord.

<sup>22</sup>“You must not have sexual relations with a man as you would a woman. That is a hateful sin.

<sup>23</sup>“You must not have sexual relations with an animal and make yourself unclean with it. Also a woman must not have sexual relations with an animal; it is not natural.

<sup>24</sup>“Don't make yourself unclean by any of these wrong things. I am forcing nations out of their countries because they did these sins, and I am giving their land to you. <sup>25</sup>The land has become unclean, and I punished it for its sins, so the land is throwing out those people who live there.

<sup>26</sup>“You must obey my laws and rules, and you must not do any of these hateful sins. These rules are for the citizens of Israel and for the people who live with you. <sup>27</sup>The people who lived in the land before you did all these hateful things and made the land unclean. <sup>28</sup>If you do these things, you will also make the land unclean, and it will throw you out as it threw out the nations before you. <sup>29</sup>Anyone who does these hateful sins must be cut off from the people. <sup>30</sup>Keep my command not to do these hateful sins that were done by the people who lived in the land before you. Don’t make yourself unclean by doing them. I am the Lord your God.”

Life Lessons

Leviticus 18:1–20:27

Situation

God was leading the Israelites from one pagan culture (Egypt) to another (Canaan). God wanted the people to follow his guidelines for sexual practices. He wanted them to abhor the sexual sins of the pagan cultures.

Observation

To obey God means fulfilling our sexual desires only with our spouse, as God intends.

Inspiration

Perhaps it is clear to you already that the strongest protection a marriage can have against adultery is in the attitude of the partners toward the marriage and toward each other. No one—absolutely no one, male or female—who has vowed faithfulness to another human deserves sexual satisfaction outside the marriage bond. Yet self-centered adulterers have justified their sin by the premise that sexual satisfaction is somehow their right—because God made them this way and they can't help it; because the world makes so much of sexual experience; because they don't receive enough "loving" from their spouses.

But in fact, the marriage vow subordinates one's individual satisfactions in all areas to one's marital partner—declaring publicly that sex is less important than one's spouse, less important than the health of the relationship. Sexual satisfaction is no longer a right, but a blessing, a gift of the relationship to its partners. This attitude, then—that the health of the relationship is infinitely more important than one's own desires, and that the sweet fulfillment of one's desires is an undeserved bounty within that relationship—not only closes the door to adulteries, but abolishes the door and the thought altogether.

He who worships anything of himself is a candidate for extramarital sex. His marriage is vulnerable. His desires have become his privileges. So long as he is his own god, he feels himself free to obey nothing and no one but himself.

But he who takes seriously his declared commitment to the mutual relationship with his spouse, will guard the marriage even against the assaults of his own desires. His attitude sensitizes him, making him careful, wary, and aware. He will be able to identify as threats those desires that are purely personal and merely self-satisfying. He will recognize them already when they are weak and small, before they grow monstrous and demanding; and then he will not nurse them to size, but, while he can, cut them off and quench them.

Application

The world promotes sex without restrictions as the key to happiness. Avoid that lie. Eliminate its deceitful influence. Build solid friendships and an active social life on a foundation of sexual purity. If you are married, renew your commitment to your spouse.

Other Laws

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Tell all the people of Israel: ‘I am the Lord your God. You must be holy because I am holy.

<sup>3</sup>“You must respect your mother and father, and you must keep my Sabbaths. I am the Lord your God.

<sup>4</sup>“Do not worship idols or make statues or gods for yourselves. I am the Lord your God.

<sup>5</sup>“When you sacrifice a fellowship offering to the Lord, offer it in such a way that will be accepted. <sup>6</sup>You may eat it the same day you offer it or on the next day. But if any is left on the third day, you must burn it up. <sup>7</sup>If any of it is eaten on the third day, it is unclean, and it will not be accepted. <sup>8</sup>Anyone who eats it then will be guilty of sin, because he did not respect the holy things that belong to the Lord. He must be cut off from the people.

<sup>9</sup>“When you harvest your crops on your land, do not harvest all the way to the corners of your fields. If grain falls onto the ground, don’t gather it up. <sup>10</sup>Don’t pick all the grapes in your vineyards, and don’t pick up the grapes that fall to the ground. You must leave those things for poor people and for people traveling through your country. I am the Lord your God.

<sup>11</sup>“You must not steal. You must not cheat people, and you must not lie to each other. <sup>12</sup>You must not make a false promise by my name, or you will show that you don’t respect your God. I am the Lord.

<sup>13</sup>“You must not cheat your neighbor or rob him. You must not keep a hired worker’s salary all night until morning. <sup>14</sup>You must not curse a deaf person or put something in front of a blind person to make him fall. But you must respect your God. I am the Lord.

<sup>15</sup>“Be fair in your judging. You must not show special favor to poor people or great people, but be fair when you judge your neighbor. <sup>16</sup>You must not spread false stories against other people, and you must not do anything that would put your neighbor’s life in danger. I am the Lord.

<sup>17</sup>“You must not hate your fellow citizen in your heart. If your neighbor does something wrong, tell him about it, or you will be partly to blame. <sup>18</sup>Forget about the wrong things people do to you, and do not try to get even. Love your neighbor as you love yourself. I am the Lord.

<sup>19</sup>“Obey my laws. You must not mate two different kinds of cattle or sow your field with two different kinds of seed. You must not wear clothing made from two different kinds of material mixed together.

<sup>20</sup>“If a man has sexual relations with a slave girl of another man, but this slave girl has not been bought or given her freedom, there must be punishment. But they are not to be put to death, because the woman was not free. <sup>21</sup>The man must bring a male sheep as his penalty offering to the Lord at the entrance to the Meeting Tent. <sup>22</sup>The priest will offer the sheep as a penalty offering before the Lord for the man’s sin, to remove the sins of the man so he will belong to the Lord. Then he will be forgiven for his sin.

<sup>23</sup>“In the future, when you enter your country, you will plant many kinds of trees for food. After planting a tree, wait three years before using its fruit. <sup>24</sup>In the fourth year the fruit from the tree will be the Lord’s, a holy offering of praise to him.

<sup>25</sup>Then in the fifth year, you may eat the fruit from the tree. The tree will then produce more fruit for you. I am the Lord your God.

“You must not try to tell the future by signs or black magic.

<sup>27</sup>“You must not cut the hair on the sides of your heads or cut the edges of your beard. <sup>28</sup>You must not cut your body to show sadness for someone who died or put tattoo marks on yourselves. I am the Lord.

<sup>30</sup>“Obey the laws about Sabbaths, and respect my Most Holy Place. I am the Lord.

<sup>31</sup>“Do not go to mediums or fortune-tellers for advice, or you will become unclean. I am the Lord your God.

<sup>32</sup>“Show respect to old people; stand up in their presence. Show respect also to your God. I am the Lord.

<sup>33</sup>“Do not mistreat foreigners living in your country, <sup>34</sup>but treat them just as you treat your own citizens. Love foreigners as you love yourselves, because you were foreigners one time in Egypt. I am the Lord your God.

<sup>35</sup>“Do not cheat when you measure the length or weight or amount of something. <sup>36</sup>Your weights and balances should weigh correctly, with your weighing baskets the right size and your jars holding the right amount of liquid. I am the Lord your God. I brought you out of the land of Egypt.

Warnings About Various Sins

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“You must also tell the people of Israel these things: ‘If a person in your country gives one of his children to Molech, that person must be killed. It doesn’t matter if he is a citizen or a foreigner living in Israel; you must throw stones at him and kill him. <sup>3</sup>I will be against him and cut him off from his people, because he gave his children to Molech. He showed that he did not respect my holy name, and he made my Holy Place unclean. <sup>4</sup>The people of the community might ignore that person and not kill the one who gave his children to Molech. <sup>5</sup>But I will be against him and his family, and I will cut him off from his people. I will do this to anyone who follows him in being unfaithful to me by worshiping Molech.

<sup>6</sup>“I will be against anyone who goes to mediums and fortune-tellers for advice, because that person is being unfaithful to me. So I will cut him off from his people.

<sup>7</sup>“Be my holy people. Be holy because I am the Lord your God. <sup>8</sup>Remember and obey my laws. I am the Lord, and I have made you holy.

<sup>9</sup>“Anyone who curses his father or mother must be put to death. He has cursed his father or mother, so he has brought his own death on himself.

Punishments for Sexual Sins

<sup>10</sup>“If a man has sexual relations with his neighbor’s wife, both the man and the woman are guilty of adultery and must be put to death. <sup>11</sup>If a man has sexual relations with his father's wife, he has shamed his father, and both the man and his father's wife must be put to death. They have brought it on themselves.

<sup>12</sup>“If a man has sexual relations with his daughter-in-law, both of them must be put to death. What they have done is not natural. They have brought their own deaths on themselves.

<sup>13</sup>“If a man has sexual relations with another man as a man does with a woman, these two men have done a hateful sin. They must be put to death. They have brought it on themselves.

<sup>14</sup>“If a man has sexual relations with both a woman and her mother, this is evil. The people must burn that man and the two women in fire so that your people will not be evil.

<sup>15</sup>“If a man has sexual relations with an animal, he must be put to death. You must also kill the animal. <sup>16</sup>If a woman approaches an animal and has sexual relations with it, you must kill the woman and the animal. They must be put to death. They have brought it on themselves.

<sup>19</sup>“Do not have sexual relations with your mother's sister or your father's sister, because that would shame a close relative. Both of you are guilty of this sin.

<sup>20</sup>“If a man has sexual relations with his uncle’s wife, he has shamed his uncle. That man and his uncle’s wife will die without children; they are guilty of sin.

<sup>22</sup>“Remember all my laws and rules, and obey them. I am leading you to your own land, and if you obey my laws and rules, that land will not throw you out. <sup>23</sup>I am forcing out ahead of you the people who live there. Because they did all these sins, I have hated them. Do not live the way those people lived.

<sup>24</sup>“I have told you that you will get their land, which I will give to you as your very own; it is a fertile land. I am the Lord your God, and I have set you apart from other people and made you my own. <sup>25</sup>So you must treat clean animals and birds differently from unclean animals and birds. Do not make yourselves unclean by any of these unclean birds or animals or things that crawl on the ground, which I have made unclean for you. <sup>26</sup>So you must be holy to me because I, the Lord, am holy, and I have set you apart from other people to be my own.

<sup>27</sup>“A man or woman who is a medium or a fortune-teller must be put to death. You must stone them to death; they have brought it on themselves.”

God invites us to see his face so he can change ours. He uses our uncovered faces to display his glory. The transformation isn't easy. —Max Lucado (Just Like Jesus)

How Priests Must Behave

The Lord said to Moses, “Tell these things to Aaron’s sons, the priests: ‘A priest must not make himself unclean by touching a dead person.<sup>2</sup> But if the dead person was one of his close relatives, he may touch him. The priest may make himself unclean if the dead person is his mother or father, son or daughter, brother or<sup>3</sup> unmarried sister who is close to him because she has no husband. The priest may make himself unclean for her if she dies.<sup>4</sup> But a priest must not make himself unclean if the dead person was only related to him by marriage.

<sup>5</sup>“Priests must not shave their heads, or shave off the edges of their beards, or cut their bodies.<sup>6</sup> They must be holy to their God and show respect for God’s name, because they present the offerings made by fire to the Lord, which is the food of their God. So they must be holy.

New Life in Christ

The Lord Is Holy

[Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name ... ] This phrase is a petition, not a proclamation. A request, not an announcement. Hallowed be your name. We enter the chapel and beseech, “Be hallowed, Lord.” Do whatever it takes to be holy in my life. Take your rightful place on the throne. Exalt yourself. Magnify yourself. Glorify yourself. You be Lord, and I’ll be quiet.

The word “hallowed” comes from the word “holy,” and the word “holy” means “to separate.” The ancestry of the term can be traced back to an ancient word which means “to cut.” To be holy, then, is to be a cut above the norm, superior, extraordinary... . The Holy One dwells on a different level from the rest of us. What frightens us does not frighten him. What troubles us does not trouble him.

I’m more a landlubber than a sailor, but I’ve puttered around in a bass boat enough to know the secret for finding land in a storm... . You don’t aim at another boat. You certainly don’t stare at the waves. You set your sights on an object unaffected by the wind—a light on the shore—and go straight toward it. The light is unaffected by the storm.

By seeking God ... , you do the same. When you set your eyes on our God, you focus on one “a cut above” any storm life may bring. (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

Question How can you focus your eyes on the holiness of the Lord?

For more on “New Life in Christ.”

<sup>7</sup>“A priest must not marry an unclean prostitute or a divorced woman, because he is holy to his God. <sup>8</sup>Treat him as holy, because he offers up the food of your God. Think of him as holy; I am the Lord who makes you holy, and I am holy.

<sup>9</sup>“If a priest’s daughter makes herself unclean by becoming a prostitute, she shames her father. She must be burned with fire.

<sup>10</sup>“The high priest, who was chosen from among his brothers, had the special olive oil poured on his head. He was also appointed to wear the priestly clothes. So he must not show his sadness by letting his hair go uncombed or tearing his clothes. <sup>11</sup>He must not go into a house where there is a dead body. He must not make himself unclean, even if it is for his own father or mother. <sup>12</sup>The high priest must not go out of the Holy Place, because if he does and becomes unclean, he will make God’s Holy Place unclean. The special oil used in appointing priests was poured on his head to separate him from the rest of the people. I am the Lord.

<sup>16</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>17</sup>“Tell Aaron: ‘If any of your descendants have something wrong with them, they must never come near to offer the special food of their God. <sup>18</sup>Anyone who has something wrong with him must not come near: blind men, crippled men, men with damaged faces, deformed men, <sup>19</sup>men with a crippled foot or hand, <sup>20</sup>hunchbacks, dwarfs, men who have something wrong with their eyes, men who have an itching disease or a skin disease, or men who have damaged sex glands.

<sup>21</sup>“If one of Aaron’s descendants has something wrong with him, he cannot come near to make the offerings made by fire to the Lord. He has something wrong with him; he cannot offer the food of his God. <sup>22</sup>He may eat the most holy food and also the holy food. <sup>23</sup>But he may not go through the curtain into the Most Holy Place, and he may not go near the altar, because he has something wrong with him. He must not make my Holy Place unfit. I am the Lord who makes these places holy.”

<sup>24</sup>So Moses told these things to Aaron, Aaron’s sons, and all the people of Israel.

Life Lessons

Leviticus 21:1–22:33

Situation

God gave instructions to Moses about the priesthood and sacrifices, and gave a code of moral principles.

Observation

Those who serve God must be totally dedicated, because he deserves only the best.

Inspiration

Purity, even purity of heart, is the main thing to be aimed at. We need to be made clean within through the Spirit and the Word, and then we shall be clean without consecration and obedience. Here is a close connection between the affections and the understanding: if we love evil we cannot understand that which is good. If the heart is foul, the eye will be dim. How can those men see a holy God who love unholy things?

What a privilege it is to see God here! A glimpse of Him is Heaven below! In Christ Jesus the pure in heart behold the Father. We see Him, His truth, His love, His purpose, His sovereignty, His covenant character, yea, we see Himself in Christ. But this is only apprehended as sin is kept out of the heart. Only those who aim at godliness can cry, "Mine eyes are ever towards the Lord." The desire of Moses, "I beseech thee, show me thy glory," can only be fulfilled in us as we purify ourselves from all iniquity. We shall "see him as he is"; and "every one that has this hope in him purifieth himself." The enjoyment of present fellowship and the hope of the beatific vision are urgent motives for purity of heart and life. Lord, make us pure in heart, that we may see Thee!

(From Faith's Checkbook by Charles H. Spurgeon)

Application

To arrive at holiness we must trust in Jesus Christ, who has become our great sacrifice. Every area of our lives must be placed in subjection to his lordship, every decision made with him taken into account, and every word honoring to him. Believe in him today and so begin the adventure of faith, hope, and love.

Holiness—Leviticus 20:7–8; Isaiah 6:3; Hebrews

7:26; 1 Peter 1:15–16.

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Tell Aaron and his sons: ‘The people of Israel will give offerings to me. I am the Lord.’ <sup>3</sup>Say to them: ‘If any one of your descendants from now on is unclean and comes near the offerings that the Israelites made holy for me, that person must be cut off from appearing before me. I am the Lord.

<sup>4</sup>“If one of Aaron’s descendants has a harmful skin disease, or if he discharges a body fluid, he cannot eat the holy offerings until he becomes clean. He could also become unclean from touching a dead body, from his own semen, <sup>5</sup>from touching any unclean crawling animal, or from touching an unclean person (no matter what made the person unclean). <sup>6</sup>Anyone who touches those things will become unclean until evening. That person must not eat the holy offerings unless he washes with water. <sup>7</sup>He will be clean only after the sun goes down. Then he may eat the holy offerings; the offerings are his food.

<sup>8</sup>“If a priest finds an animal that died by itself or that was killed by some other animal, he must not eat it. If he does, he will become unclean. I am the Lord.

<sup>9</sup>“If the priests keep all the rules I have given, they will not become guilty; if they are careful, they will not die. I am the Lord who has made them holy. <sup>10</sup>Only people in a priest’s family may eat the holy offering. A visitor staying with the priest or a hired worker must not eat it. <sup>11</sup>But if the priest buys a slave with his own money, that slave may eat the holy offerings; slaves who were born in his house may also eat his food. <sup>12</sup>If a priest’s daughter marries a person who is not a priest, she must not eat any of the holy offerings. <sup>13</sup>But if the priest's daughter becomes widowed or divorced, with no children to support her, and if she goes back to her father's house where she lived as a child, she may eat some of her father's food. But only people from a priest's family may eat this food.

<sup>14</sup>“If someone eats some of the holy offering by mistake, that person must pay back the priest for that holy food, adding another one-fifth of the price of that food.

<sup>15</sup>“When the Israelites give their holy offerings to the Lord, the priest must not treat these holy things as though they were not holy. <sup>16</sup>The priests must not allow those who are not priests to eat the holy offerings. If they do, they cause the ones who eat the holy offerings to become guilty, and they will have to pay for it. I am the Lord, who makes them holy.”

<sup>17</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>18</sup>“Tell Aaron and his sons and all the people of Israel: ‘A citizen of Israel or a foreigner living in Israel might want to bring a whole burnt offering, either for some special promise he has made or for a special gift he wants to give to the Lord. <sup>19</sup>If he does, he must bring a male animal that has nothing wrong with it—a bull, a sheep, or a goat—so it might be accepted for him. <sup>20</sup>He must not bring an animal that has something wrong with it, or it will not be accepted for him.

<sup>21</sup>“If someone brings a fellowship offering to the Lord, either as payment for a special promise the person has made or as a special gift the person wants to give the Lord, it might be from the herd or from the flock. But it must be healthy, with nothing wrong with it, so that it will be accepted. <sup>22</sup>You must not offer to the Lord any animal that is blind, that has broken bones or is crippled, that has running sores or any sort of skin disease. You must not offer any animals like these on the altar as an offering by fire to the Lord.

<sup>23</sup>“If an ox or lamb is smaller than normal or is not perfectly formed, you may give it as a special gift to the Lord; it will be accepted. But it will not be accepted as payment for a special promise you have made.

<sup>24</sup>“If an animal has bruised, crushed, torn, or cut sex glands, you must not offer it to the Lord. You must not do this in your own land, <sup>25</sup>and you must not take such animals from foreigners as sacrifices to the Lord. Because the animals have been hurt in some way and have something wrong with them, they will not be accepted for you.”

<sup>26</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>27</sup>“When an ox, a sheep, or a goat is born, it must stay seven days with its mother. But from the eighth day on, this animal will be accepted as a sacrifice by fire to the Lord. <sup>28</sup>But you must not kill the animal and its mother on the same day, either an ox or a sheep.

<sup>29</sup>“If you want to offer some special offering of thanks to the Lord, you must do it in a way that pleases him. <sup>30</sup>You must eat the whole animal that same day and not leave any of the meat for the next morning. I am the Lord.

<sup>31</sup>“Remember my commands and obey them; I am the Lord. <sup>32</sup>Show respect for my holy name. You Israelites must remember that I am holy; I am the Lord, who has made you holy. <sup>33</sup>I brought you out of Egypt to be your God. I am the Lord.”

Life Lessons

Leviticus 23:1–25:55

Situation

God established several holidays that symbolized the Israelites' special relationship with him. He also gave rules that governed interpersonal relationships.

Observation

Special holidays remind us of the past. Feasts help renew our commitment. In the New Testament, the celebration of the Lord's Supper reminds us of Christ's sacrificial death on the cross for our sins and calls us to renewed commitment.

Inspiration

A party was the last thing Mary Magdalene expected as she approached the tomb on that Sunday morning. The last few days had brought nothing to celebrate. The Jews could celebrate—Jesus was out of the way. The soldiers could celebrate—their work was done. But Mary couldn't celebrate. To her the last few days had brought nothing but tragedy. . . .

A gray sky gives way to gold as she walks up the narrow trail. As she rounds the final bend, she gasps. The rock in front of the grave is pushed back.

"Someone took the body." She runs to awaken Peter and John. They rush to see for themselves. She tries to keep up with them but can't.

Peter comes out of the tomb bewildered and John comes out believing, but Mary just sits in front of it weeping. The two men go home and leave her alone with her grief.

But something tells her she is not alone. Maybe she hears a noise. Maybe she hears a whisper. Or maybe she just hears her own heart tell her to take a look for herself.

Whatever the reason, she does. She stoops down, sticks her head into the hewn entrance and waits for her eyes to adjust to the dark.

“Why are you crying?” She sees what looks to be a man, but he’s white—radiantly white. He is one of two lights on either end of the vacant slab. Two candles blazing on an altar.

“Why are you crying?” An uncommon question to be asked in a cemetery. In fact, the question is rude. That is, unless the questioner knows something the questionee doesn’t. . . .

“Why are you crying? Who is it you are looking for?”

He doesn’t leave her wondering long, just long enough to remind us that he loves to surprise us. He waits for us to despair of human strength and then intervenes with heavenly. God waits for us to give up and then—surprise!

And listen to the surprise as Mary’s name is spoken by a man she loved—a man she had buried.

“Miriam.”

God appearing at the strangest of places. . . .
“Miriam,” he said softly, “surprise!”

Mary was shocked. It’s not often you hear your name spoken by an eternal tongue. But when she did, she recognized it. And when she did, she responded correctly. She worshiped him.

The scene had all the elements of a surprise party—secrecy, wide eyes, amazement, gratitude. But this celebration is timid in comparison with the one that is being planned for the future. It will be similar to Mary's but a lot bigger. Many more graves will open. Many more names will be called. Many more knees will bow. And many more seekers will celebrate.

It's going to be some party. I plan to make sure my name is on the guest list. How about you? (From Six Hours One Friday by Max Lucado)

Special Holidays

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Tell the people of Israel: ‘You will announce the Lord’s appointed feasts as holy meetings. These are my special feasts.

The Sabbath

<sup>3</sup>“There are six days for you to work, but the seventh day will be a special day of rest. It is a day for a holy meeting; you must not do any work. It is a Sabbath to the Lord in all your homes.

The Passover and Unleavened Bread

<sup>4</sup>“These are the Lord’s appointed feasts, the holy meetings, which you will announce at the times set for them. <sup>5</sup>The Lord’s Passover is on the fourteenth day of the first month, beginning at twilight. <sup>6</sup>The Feast of Unleavened Bread begins on the fifteenth day of the same month. You will eat bread made without yeast for seven days. <sup>7</sup>On the first day of this feast you will have a holy meeting, and you must not do any work. <sup>8</sup>For seven days you will bring an offering made by fire to the Lord. There will be a holy meeting on the seventh day, and on that day you must not do any regular work.”

The First of the Harvest

<sup>9</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>10</sup>“Tell the people of Israel: ‘You will enter the land I will give you and gather its harvest. At that time you must bring the first bundle of grain from your harvest to the priest. <sup>11</sup>The priest will present the bundle before the Lord, and it will be accepted for you; he will present the bundle on the day after the Sabbath.

<sup>12</sup>“On the day when you present the bundle of grain, offer a male lamb, one year old, that has nothing wrong with it, as a burnt offering to the Lord. <sup>13</sup>You must also offer a grain offering—four quarts of fine flour mixed with olive oil as an offering made by fire to the Lord; its smell will be pleasing to him. You must also offer a quart of wine as a drink offering. <sup>14</sup>Until the day you bring your offering to your God, do not eat any new grain, roasted grain, or bread made from new grain. This law will always continue for people from now on, wherever you live.

The Feast of Weeks

<sup>15</sup>“Count seven full weeks from the morning after the Sabbath. (This is the Sabbath that you bring the bundle of grain to present as an offering.) <sup>16</sup>On the fiftieth day, the first day after the seventh week, you will bring a new grain offering to the Lord. <sup>17</sup>On that day bring two loaves of bread from your homes to be presented as an offering. Use yeast and four quarts of flour to make those loaves of bread; they will be your gift to the Lord from the first wheat of your harvest.

<sup>18</sup>“Offer with the bread one young bull, two male sheep, and seven male lambs that are one year old and have nothing wrong with them. Offer them with their grain offerings and drink offerings, as a burnt offering to the Lord. They will be an offering made by fire, and the smell will be pleasing to the Lord. <sup>19</sup>You must also offer one male goat for a sin offering and two male, one-year-old lambs as a fellowship offering.

<sup>20</sup>“The priest will present the two lambs as an offering before the Lord, along with the bread from the first wheat of the harvest. They are holy to the Lord, and they will belong to the priest. <sup>21</sup>On that same day you will call a holy meeting; you must not do any work that day. This law will continue for you from now on, wherever you live.

<sup>22</sup>“When you harvest your crops on your land, do not harvest all the way to the corners of your field. If grain falls onto the ground, don’t gather it up. Leave it for poor people and foreigners in your country. I am the Lord your God.”

The Feast of Trumpets

<sup>23</sup>Again the Lord said to Moses, <sup>24</sup>“Tell the people of Israel: ‘On the first day of the seventh month you must have a special day of rest, a holy meeting, when you blow the trumpet for a special time of remembering. <sup>25</sup>Do not do any work, and bring an offering made by fire to the Lord.’”

The Day of Cleansing

<sup>26</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>27</sup>“The Day of Cleansing will be on the tenth day of the seventh month. There will be a holy meeting, and you will give up eating and bring an offering made by fire to the Lord. <sup>28</sup>Do not do any work on that day, because it is the Day of Cleansing. On that day the priests will go before the Lord and perform the acts to make you clean so you will belong to the Lord.

<sup>29</sup>“Anyone who refuses to give up food on this day must be cut off from the people. <sup>30</sup>If anyone works on this day, I will destroy that person from among the people. <sup>31</sup>You must not do any work at all; this law will continue for people from now on wherever you live. <sup>32</sup>It will be a special day of rest for you, and you must not eat. You will start this special day of rest on the evening after the ninth day of the month, and it will continue from that evening until the next evening.”

The Feast of Shelters

<sup>33</sup>Again the Lord said to Moses, <sup>34</sup>“Tell the people of Israel: ‘On the fifteenth day of the seventh month is the Feast of Shelters. This feast to the Lord will continue for seven days. <sup>35</sup>There will be a holy meeting on the first day; do not do any work. <sup>36</sup>You will bring an offering made by fire to the Lord each day for seven days. On the eighth day you will have another holy meeting, and you will bring an offering made by fire to the Lord. This will be a holy meeting; do not do any work.

<sup>37</sup>““These are the Lord’s special feasts, when there will be holy meetings and when you bring offerings made by fire to the Lord. You will bring whole burnt offerings, grain offerings, sacrifices, and drink offerings—each at the right time. <sup>38</sup>These offerings are in addition to those for the Lord's Sabbath days, in addition to offerings you give as payment for special promises, and in addition to special offerings you want to give to the Lord.)<sup>39</sup>“So on the fifteenth day of the seventh month, after you have gathered in the crops of the land, celebrate the Lord's festival for seven days. You must rest on the first day and the eighth day.<sup>40</sup>On the first day you will take good fruit from the fruit trees, as well as branches from palm trees, poplars, and other leafy trees. You will celebrate before the Lord your God for seven days.<sup>41</sup>Celebrate this festival to the Lord for seven days each year. This law will continue from now on; you will celebrate it in the seventh month.<sup>42</sup>Live in shelters for seven days. All the people born in Israel must live in shelters<sup>43</sup>so that all your descendants will know I made Israel live in shelters during the time I brought them out of Egypt. I am the Lord your God.”

The Lampstand and the Holy Bread

The Lord said to Moses,<sup>2</sup>“Command the people of Israel to bring you pure oil from crushed olives. That oil is for the lamps so that these lamps may never go out.<sup>3</sup>Aaron will keep the lamps burning in the Meeting Tent from evening until morning before the Lord; this is in front of the curtain of the Ark of the Agreement. This law will continue from now on.<sup>4</sup>Aaron must always keep the lamps burning on the lampstands of pure gold before the Lord.

The Man Who Cursed God

<sup>10</sup>Now there was a son of an Israelite woman and an Egyptian father who was walking among the Israelites. A fight broke out in the camp between him and an Israelite.<sup>11</sup>The son of the Israelite woman began cursing and speaking against the Lord, so the people took him to Moses. (The mother's name was Shelomith, the daughter of Dibri from the family of Dan.)<sup>12</sup>The people held him as a prisoner while they waited for the Lord's command to be made clear to them.

<sup>13</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, <sup>14</sup>“Take the one who spoke against me outside the camp. Then all the people who heard him must put their hands on his head, and all the people must throw stones at him and kill him. <sup>15</sup>Tell the people of Israel this: ‘If anyone curses his God, he is guilty of sin. <sup>16</sup>Anyone who speaks against the Lord must be put to death; all the people must kill him by throwing stones at him. Foreigners must be punished just like the people born in Israel; if they speak against the Lord, they must be put to death.

<sup>22</sup>“The law will be the same for the foreigner as for those from your own country. I am the Lord your God.”

<sup>23</sup>Then Moses spoke to the people of Israel, and they took the person who had cursed outside the camp and killed him by throwing stones at him. So the people of Israel did as the Lord had commanded Moses.

The Time of Rest for the Land

The Lord said to Moses at Mount Sinai, <sup>2</sup>“Tell the people of Israel this: ‘When you enter the land I will give you, let it have a special time of rest, to honor the Lord. <sup>3</sup>You may plant seed in your field for six years, and you may trim your vineyards for six years and bring in their fruits. <sup>4</sup>But during the seventh year, you must let the land rest. This will be a special time to honor the Lord. You must not plant seed in your field or trim your vineyards. <sup>5</sup>You must not cut the crops that grow by themselves after harvest, or gather the grapes from your vines that are not trimmed. The land will have a year of rest.

<sup>6</sup>“You may eat whatever the land produces during that year of rest. It will be food for your men and women servants, for your hired workers, and for the foreigners living in your country. <sup>7</sup>It will also be food for your cattle and the wild animals of your land. Whatever the land produces may be eaten.

The Year of Jubilee

<sup>8</sup>“Count off seven groups of seven years, or forty-nine years. During that time there will be seven years of rest for the land. <sup>9</sup>On the Day of Cleansing, you must blow the horn of a male sheep; this will be on the tenth day of the seventh month. You must blow the horn through the whole country. <sup>10</sup>Make the fiftieth year a special year, and announce freedom for all the people living in your country. This time will be called Jubilee.

You will each go back to your own property, each to your own family and family group. <sup>11</sup>The fiftieth year will be a special time for you to celebrate. Don't plant seeds, or harvest the crops that grow by themselves, or gather grapes from the vines that are not trimmed. <sup>12</sup>That year is Jubilee; it will be a holy time for you. You may eat only the crops that come from the field. <sup>13</sup>In the year of Jubilee you each must go back to your own property.

<sup>14</sup>“If you sell your land to your neighbor, or if you buy land from your neighbor, don't cheat each other. <sup>15</sup>If you want to buy your neighbor's land, count the number of years since the last Jubilee, and use that number to decide the right price. If your neighbor sells the land to you, count the number of years left for harvesting crops, and use that number to decide the right price. <sup>16</sup>If there are many years, the price will be high. But if there are only a few years, lower the price, because your neighbor is really selling only a few crops to you. <sup>17</sup>You must not cheat each other, but you must respect your God. I am the Lord your God.

<sup>18</sup>“Remember my laws and rules, and obey them so that you will live safely in the land. <sup>19</sup>The land will give good crops to you, and you will eat as much as you want and live safely in the land.

<sup>20</sup>“But you might ask, “If we don't plant seeds or gather crops, what will we eat the seventh year?” <sup>21</sup>I will send you such a great blessing during the sixth year that the land will produce enough crops for three years. <sup>22</sup>When you plant in the eighth year, you will still be eating from the old crop; you will eat the old crop until the harvest of the ninth year.

Property Laws

<sup>23</sup>“The land really belongs to me, so you can’t sell it for all time. You are only foreigners and travelers living for a while on my land. <sup>24</sup>People might sell their land, but it must always be possible for the family to get its land back. <sup>25</sup>If a person in your country becomes very poor and sells some land, then close relatives must come and buy it back. <sup>26</sup>If there is not a close relative to buy the land back, but if the person makes enough money to be able to buy it back, <sup>27</sup>the years must be counted since the land was sold. That number must be used to decide how much the first owner should pay back the one who bought it. Then the land will belong to the first owner again. <sup>28</sup>But if there is not enough money to buy it back, the one who bought it will keep it until the year of Jubilee. During that celebration, the land will go back to the first owner’s family.

<sup>29</sup>“If someone sells a home in a walled city, for a full year after it is sold, the person has the right to buy it back. <sup>30</sup>But if the owner does not buy back the house before a full year is over, it will belong to the one who bought it and to his future sons. The house will not go back to the first owner at Jubilee. <sup>31</sup>But houses in small towns without walls are like open country; they can be bought back, and they must be returned to their first owner at Jubilee.

<sup>32</sup>“The Levites may always buy back their houses in the cities that belong to them. <sup>33</sup>If someone buys a house from a Levite, that house in the Levites’ city will again belong to the Levites in the Jubilee. This is because houses in Levite cities belong to the people of Levi; the Israelites gave these cities to them. <sup>34</sup>Also the fields and pastures around the Levites’ cities cannot be sold, because those fields belong to the Levites forever.

Rules for Slave Owners

<sup>35</sup>“If anyone from your country becomes too poor to support himself, help him to live among you as you would a stranger or foreigner. <sup>36</sup>Do not charge him any interest on money you loan to him, but respect your God; let the poor live among you. <sup>37</sup>Don’t lend him money for interest, and don’t try to make a profit from the food he buys. <sup>38</sup>I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt to give the land of Canaan to you and to become your God.

<sup>39</sup>“If anyone from your country becomes very poor and sells himself as a slave to you, you must not make him work like a slave. <sup>40</sup>He will be like a hired worker and a visitor with you until the year of Jubilee. <sup>41</sup>Then he may leave you, take his children, and go back to his family and the land of his ancestors. <sup>42</sup>This is because the Israelites are my servants, and I brought them out of slavery in Egypt. They must not become slaves again. <sup>43</sup>You must not rule this person cruelly, but you must respect your God.

<sup>44</sup>“Your men and women slaves must come from other nations around you; from them you may buy slaves. <sup>45</sup>Also you may buy as slaves children from the families of foreigners living in your land. These child slaves will belong to you, <sup>46</sup>and you may even pass them on to your children after you die; you can make them slaves forever. But you must not rule cruelly over your own people, the Israelites.

If someone in your country becomes so poor that he has to sell himself as a slave to the foreigner living among you or to a member of the foreigner's family, <sup>48</sup>the poor person has the right to be bought back and become free. One of his relatives may buy him back: <sup>49</sup>His uncle, his uncle's son, or any one of his close relatives may buy him back. Or, if he gets enough money, he may pay the money to free himself.

<sup>50</sup>“He and the one who bought him must count the time from when he sold himself up to the next year of Jubilee. Use that number to decide the price, because the person really only hired himself out for a certain number of years. <sup>51</sup>If there are still many years before the year of Jubilee, the person must pay back a large part of the price. <sup>52</sup>If there are only a few years left until Jubilee, the person must pay a small part of the first price. <sup>53</sup>But he will live like a hired person with the foreigner every year; don't let the foreigner rule cruelly over him.

<sup>54</sup>“Even if no one buys him back, at the year of Jubilee, he and his children will become free. <sup>55</sup>This is because the people of Israel are servants to me. They are my servants, whom I brought out of Egypt. I am the Lord your God.

Life Lessons

Leviticus 26:1–27:34

Situation

God, through Moses, presented blessings as a reward for obedience and cursings as a punishment for habitual sin. This led the people to confess and reiterate their devotion to God with vows and tithes.

Observation

God sets boundaries for our own good. We suffer when we break them. We must respond to his love so that we will not have to face his discipline.

Inspiration

I once owned a ewe... She was one of the most attractive sheep that ever belonged to me. Her body was beautifully proportioned. She had a strong constitution and an excellent coat of wool. Her head was clean, alert, well-set with bright eyes. She bore sturdy lambs that matured rapidly.

But in spite of all these attributes, she had one pronounced fault. She was restless—discontented—a fence crawler.

So much so that I came to call her “Mrs. Gad-about.”

This one ewe produced more problems for me than almost all the rest of the flock combined.

No matter what field or pasture the sheep were in, she would search all along the fences or shoreline (we lived by the sea) looking for a loophole she could crawl through and start to feed on the other side.

It was not that she lacked pasturage. My fields were my joy and delight. No sheep in the district had better grazing.

With “Mrs. Gad-about” it was an ingrained habit. She was simply never contented with things as they were. Often when she had forced her way through some such spot in a fence or found a way around the end of the wire at low tide on the beaches, she would end up feeding on bare, brown, burned-up pasturage of a most inferior sort.

But she never learned her lesson and continued to fence crawl time after time.

Now it would have been bad enough if she was the only one who did this. It was a sufficient problem to find her and bring her back. But the further point was that she taught her lambs the same tricks. They simply followed her example and soon were as skilled at escaping as their mother.

Even worse, however, was the example she set for other sheep. In a short time she began to lead others over the same holes and over the same dangerous paths down by the sea.

After putting up with her perverseness for a summer I finally came to the conclusion that to save the rest of the flock from becoming unsettled, she would have to go. I could not allow one obstinate, discontented ewe to ruin the whole ranch operation.

It was a difficult decision to make, for I loved her in the same way I loved the rest. Her strength and beauty and alertness were a delight to the eye.

But one morning I took the killing knife in hand and butchered her. Her career of fence crawling was cut short. It was the only solution to the dilemma.

She was a sheep, who in spite of all that I had done to give her the very best care—still wanted something else.

Application

Consider all that God has done for you in redeeming you from sin's captivity and providing you with blessing. In what areas do you overstep God's boundaries? Consider the consequences. Stop in your tracks. Flee from tempting circumstances. Return to the Lord, the Good Shepherd.

Rewards for Obeying God

“Don’t make idols for yourselves or set up statues or memorials. Don’t put stone statues in your land to bow down to, because I am the Lord your God.

<sup>2</sup>“Remember my Sabbaths, and respect my Holy Place. I am the Lord.

<sup>3</sup>“If you remember my laws and commands and obey them, <sup>4</sup>I will give you rains at the right season; the land will produce crops, and the trees of the field will produce their fruit. <sup>5</sup>Your threshing will continue until the grape harvest, and your grape harvest will continue until it is time to plant. Then you will have plenty to eat and live safely in your land. <sup>6</sup>I will give peace to your country; you will lie down in peace, and no one will make you afraid. I will keep harmful animals out of your country, and armies will not pass through it.

<sup>7</sup>“You will chase your enemies and defeat them, killing them with your sword. <sup>8</sup>Five of you will chase a hundred men; a hundred of you will chase ten thousand men. You will defeat your enemies and kill them with your sword.

<sup>9</sup>“Then I will show kindness to you and let you have many children; I will keep my agreement with you. <sup>10</sup>You will have enough crops to last for more than a year. When you harvest the new crops, you will have to throw out the old ones to make room for them. <sup>11</sup>Also I will place my Holy Tent among you, and I will not turn away from you. <sup>12</sup>I will walk with you and be your God, and you will be my people. <sup>13</sup>I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt, where you were slaves. I broke the heavy weights that were on your shoulders and let you walk proudly again.

Punishment for Not Obeying God

<sup>14</sup>“But if you do not obey me and keep all my commands, <sup>15</sup>and if you turn away from my rules and hate my laws, refusing to obey all my commands, you have broken our agreement. <sup>16</sup>As a result, I will do this to you: I will cause terrible things to happen to you. I will cause you to have disease and fever that will destroy your eyes and slowly kill you. You will not have success when you plant your seed, and your enemy will eat your crops. <sup>17</sup>I will be against you, and your enemies will defeat you. These people who hate you will rule over you, and you will run away even when no one is chasing you.

<sup>18</sup>“If after all this you still do not obey me, I will punish you seven times more for your sins. <sup>19</sup>I will break your great pride, and I will make the sky like iron and the earth like bronze. <sup>20</sup>You will work hard, but it will not help. Your land will not grow any crops, and your trees will not give their fruit.

<sup>21</sup>“If you still turn against me and refuse to obey me, I will beat you seven times harder. The more you sin, the more you will be punished. <sup>22</sup>I will send wild animals to attack you, and they will take your children away from you and destroy your cattle. They will make you so few in number the roads will be empty.

if you still turn against me, <sup>24</sup>I will also turn against you. I will punish you seven more times for your sins. <sup>25</sup>You broke my agreement, and I will punish you. I will bring armies against you, and if you go into your cities for safety, I will cause diseases to spread among you so that your enemy will defeat you. <sup>26</sup>There will be very little bread to eat; ten women will be able to cook all your bread in one oven. They will measure each piece of bread, and you will eat, but you will still be hungry.

<sup>27</sup>“If you still refuse to listen to me and still turn against me, <sup>28</sup>I will show my great anger; I will punish you seven more times for your sins. <sup>29</sup>You will eat the bodies of your sons and daughters. <sup>30</sup>I will destroy your places where gods are worshiped and cut down your incense altars. I will pile your dead bodies on the lifeless forms of your idols. I will hate you. <sup>31</sup>I will destroy your cities and make your holy places empty, and I will not smell the pleasing smell of your offerings. <sup>32</sup>I will make the land empty so that your enemies who come to live in it will be shocked at it. <sup>33</sup>I will scatter you among the nations, and I will pull out my sword and destroy you. Your land will become empty, your cities a waste. <sup>34</sup>When you are taken to your enemy’s country, your land will finally get its rest. It will enjoy its time of rest all the time it lies empty. <sup>35</sup>During the time the land is empty, it will have the rest you should have given it while you lived in it.

<sup>36</sup>“Those of you who are left alive will lose their courage in the land of their enemies. They will be frightened by the sound of a leaf being blown by the wind. They will run as if someone were chasing them with a sword, and they will fall even when no one is chasing them. <sup>37</sup>They will fall over each other, as if someone were chasing them with a sword, even though no one is chasing them. You will not be strong enough to stand up against your enemies. <sup>38</sup>You will die among other nations and disappear in your enemies' countries. <sup>39</sup>So those who are left alive will rot away in their enemies' countries because of their sins. They will also rot away because of their ancestors' sins.

There Is Always Hope

<sup>40</sup>“But maybe the people will confess their sins and the sins of their ancestors; maybe they will admit they turned against me and sinned against me, <sup>41</sup>which made me turn against them and send them into the land of their enemies. If these disobedient people are sorry for what they did and accept punishment for their sin, <sup>42</sup>I will remember my agreement with Jacob, my agreement with Isaac, and my agreement with Abraham, and I will remember the land. <sup>43</sup>The land will be left empty by its people, and it will enjoy its time of rest as it lies bare without them. Then those who are left alive will accept the punishment for their sins. They will learn that they were punished because they hated my laws and refused to obey my rules. <sup>44</sup>But even though this is true, I will not turn away from them when they are in the land of their enemies. I will not hate them so much that I completely destroy them and break my agreement with them, because I am the Lord their God. <sup>45</sup>For their good I will remember the agreement with their ancestors, whom I brought out of the land of Egypt so I could become their God; the other nations saw these things. I am the Lord.”

Promises Are Important

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Speak to the people of Israel and tell them: ‘If someone makes a special promise to give a person as a servant to the Lord by paying a price that is the same value as that person, <sup>3</sup>the price for a man twenty to sixty years old is about one and one-fourth pounds of silver. (You must use the measure as set by the Holy Place.) <sup>4</sup>The price for a woman twenty to sixty years old is about twelve ounces of silver. <sup>5</sup>The price for a man five to twenty years old is about eight ounces of silver; for a woman it is about four ounces of silver. <sup>6</sup>The price for a baby boy one month to five years old is about two ounces of silver; for a baby girl the price is about one and one-half ounces of silver. <sup>7</sup>The price for a man sixty years old or older is about six ounces of silver; for a woman it is about four ounces of silver.

<sup>8</sup>“If anyone is too poor to pay the price, bring him to the priest, and the priest will set the price. The priest will decide how much money the person making the vow can afford to pay.

Gifts to the Lord

<sup>9</sup>“Some animals may be used as sacrifices to the Lord. If someone promises to bring one of these to the Lord, it will become holy. <sup>10</sup>That person must not try to put another animal in its place or exchange it, a good animal for a bad one, or a bad animal for a good one. If this happens, both animals will become holy.

<sup>11</sup>“Unclean animals cannot be offered as sacrifices to the Lord, and if someone brings one of them to the Lord, that animal must be brought to the priest. <sup>12</sup>The priest will decide a price for the animal, according to whether it is good or bad; as the priest decides, that is the price for the animal. <sup>13</sup>If the person wants to buy back the animal, an additional one-fifth must be added to the price.

Value of a House

<sup>14</sup>“If a person gives a house as holy to the Lord, the priest must decide its value, according to whether the house is good or bad; as the priest decides, that is the price for the house. <sup>15</sup>But if the person who gives the house wants to buy it back, an additional one-fifth must be added to the price. Then the house will belong to that person again.

Value of Land

<sup>16</sup>“If a person gives some family property to the Lord, the value of the fields will depend on how much seed is needed to plant them. It will cost about one and one-fourth pounds of silver for each six bushels of barley seed needed. <sup>17</sup>If the person gives a field at the year of Jubilee, its value will stay at what the priest has decided. <sup>18</sup>But if the person gives the field after the Jubilee, the priest must decide the exact price by counting the number of years to the next year of Jubilee. Then he will subtract that number from its value. <sup>19</sup>If the person who gave the field wants to buy it back, one-fifth must be added to that price, and the field will belong to the first owner again.

<sup>20</sup>“If the person does not buy back the field, or if it is sold to someone else, the first person cannot ever buy it back. <sup>21</sup>When the land is released at the year of Jubilee, it will become holy to the Lord, like land specially given to him. It will become the property of the priests.

<sup>22</sup>“If someone gives to the Lord a field he has bought, which is not a part of his family land, <sup>23</sup>the priest must count the years to the next Jubilee. He must decide the price for the land, and the price must be paid on that day. Then that land will be holy to the Lord. <sup>24</sup>At the year of Jubilee, the land will go back to its first owner, to the family who sold the land.

<sup>25</sup>“You must use the measure as set by the Holy Place in paying these prices; it weighs two-fifths of an ounce.

Value of Animals

<sup>26</sup>“If an animal is the first one born to its parent, it already belongs to the Lord, so people may not give it again. If it is a cow or a sheep, it is the Lord’s. <sup>27</sup>If the animal is unclean, the person must buy it back for the price set by the priest, and the person must add one-fifth to that price. If it is not bought back, the priest must sell it for the price he had decided.

<sup>28</sup>“There is a special kind of gift that people set apart to give to the Lord; it may be a person, animal, or field from the family property. That gift cannot be bought back or sold. Every special kind of gift is most holy to the Lord.

<sup>29</sup>“If anyone is given for the purpose of being destroyed, he cannot be bought back; he must be put to death.

<sup>30</sup>“One-tenth of all crops belongs to the Lord, including the crops from fields and the fruit from trees. That one-tenth is holy to the Lord.<sup>31</sup>If a person wants to get back that tenth, one-fifth must be added to its price.

<sup>32</sup>“The priest will take every tenth animal from a person’s herd or flock, and it will be holy to the Lord.<sup>33</sup>The owner should not pick out the good animals from the bad or exchange one animal for another. If that happens, both animals will become holy; they cannot be bought back.”

crop A small bag inside a bird's throat. When a bird eats, its food goes into this part first. There, the food is made soft before it goes into the stomach.

semen A man's body fluid by which he can make a woman pregnant.

semen A man's body fluid by which he can make a woman pregnant.

semen A man's body fluid by which he can make a woman pregnant.

Jubilee This word comes from the Hebrew word for a horn of a male sheep.

sky ... bronze This means the sky will give no rain and the earth will produce no crops.

The Book of Numbers

Introduction

Every life is a pilgrimage.

Every person is on a journey.

Every journey has its challenges.

The Book of Numbers is a travel diary. Two million ex-slaves weaving their way through a desert. The trip from Egypt to the Promised Land can be made in less than 11 days (Deuteronomy 1:2). It took the Israelites thirty-eight years.

What they should have done, they didn't. And what they didn't do, they should have. So God decided they needed some time to rethink a few things.

He took them the long way.

Maybe you're on a detour in your journey. Things seem slow. Road seems dark. Maybe God is wanting to teach you a few things. Pay attention.

You don't want to spend thirty-eight years missing the point.

About This Book

Author:

Moses

Date Written:

1500–1450 B.C.

Key Themes:

-
- When the Hebrews arrived at the border, they failed to trust God to keep his promise.

- Because of their lack of faith the Hebrews wandered miserably through the wilderness.
- When at last they returned to the border, the next Hebrew generation followed God as their parents had not.

Key Verse:

“The Lord said to Moses, ‘How long will these people ignore me? How long will they not believe me in spite of the miracles I have done among them?’”

\(Numbers 14:11\).

Life Lessons

Numbers 1:1–2:34

Situation

God directed Moses and others to take a census of the Israelites and to organize the tribes for specific duties.

Observation

Moses counted all of God's people and assigned certain people to lead in worship. Each role helped to shape the community.

Inspiration

Jonathan Edwards was one man who made a difference. Born in 1703, he was perhaps the most brilliant mind America ever produced. A pastor, writer, and later, president of Princeton, he and his wife had eleven children. Of his known male descendants:

More than 300 became pastors, missionaries, or theological professors;

120 were professors at various universities;

110 became attorneys;

60 were prominent authors;

30 were judges;

14 served as president of universities and colleges;

3 served in the U.S. Congress, and one became vice-president of the United States.

Jonathan Edwards ... was just one man, but he positively affected hundreds and even thousands of his descendants after his death....

The destiny of those future generations is in your hands. The choices you make with your family today will determine the quality of life in your family tree for generations to come. That's why one man can make a difference.

Application

You can make a difference in the lives of your children and grandchildren by serving God and dedicating your children to his service. The next time your family comes together, share about the “point people” who have most affected your life for the Lord. Help instill a vision for service in the kingdom of God. Then share with your children how they can pass along that vision.

The People of Israel Are Counted

The Lord spoke to Moses in the Meeting Tent in the Desert of Sinai. This was on the first day of the second month in the second year after the Israelites left Egypt. He said to Moses:

<sup>2</sup>“You and Aaron must count all the people of Israel by families and family groups, listing the name of each man.<sup>3</sup>You and Aaron must count every man twenty years old or older who will serve in the army of Israel, and list them by their divisions.

- from the tribe of Reuben—Elizur son of Shedeur;
- <sup>6</sup>from the tribe of Simeon—Shelumiel son of Zurishaddai;
- <sup>7</sup>from the tribe of Judah—Nahshon son of Amminadab;
- <sup>8</sup>from the tribe of Issachar—Nethanel son of Zuar;
- <sup>9</sup>from the tribe of Zebulun—Eliab son of Helon;
- <sup>10</sup>from the tribe of Ephraim son of Joseph—Elishama son of Ammihud;
- from the tribe of Manasseh son of Joseph—Gamaliel son of Pedahzur;
- <sup>11</sup>from the tribe of Benjamin—Abidan son of Gideoni;
- <sup>12</sup>from the tribe of Dan—Ahiezer son of Ammishaddai;

- <sup>13</sup>from the tribe of Asher—Pagiel son of Ocran;
- <sup>14</sup>from the tribe of Gad—Eliasaph son of Deuel;
- <sup>15</sup>from the tribe of Naphtali—Ahira son of Enan.”

<sup>17</sup>Moses and Aaron took these men who had been picked <sup>18</sup>and called all the people of Israel together on the first day of the second month. Then the people were listed by their families and family groups, and all the men who were twenty years old or older were listed by name. <sup>19</sup>Moses did exactly what the Lord had commanded and listed the people while they were in the Desert of Sinai.

<sup>20</sup>The tribe of Reuben, the first son born to Israel, was counted; all the men twenty years old or older who were able to serve in the army were listed by name with their families and family groups. <sup>21</sup>The tribe of Reuben totaled 46,500 men.

<sup>24</sup>The tribe of Gad was counted; all the men twenty years old or older who were able to serve in the army were listed by name with their families and family groups. <sup>25</sup>The tribe of Gad totaled 45,650 men.

<sup>26</sup>The tribe of Judah was counted; all the men twenty years old or older who were able to serve in the army were listed by name with their families and family groups. <sup>27</sup>The tribe of Judah totaled 74,600 men.

<sup>28</sup>The tribe of Issachar was counted; all the men twenty years old or older who were able to serve in the army were listed by name with their families and family groups.<sup>29</sup>The tribe of Issachar totaled 54,400 men.

<sup>30</sup>The tribe of Zebulun was counted; all the men twenty years old or older who were able to serve in the army were listed by name with their families and family groups.<sup>31</sup>The tribe of Zebulun totaled 57,400 men.

<sup>32</sup>The tribe of Ephraim, a son of Joseph, was counted; all the men twenty years old or older who were able to serve in the army were listed by name with their families and family groups.

<sup>34</sup>The tribe of Manasseh, also a son of Joseph, was counted; all the men twenty years old or older who were able to serve in the army were listed by name with their families and family groups.<sup>35</sup>The tribe of Manasseh totaled 32,200 men.

The Camp Arrangement

The Lord said to Moses and Aaron: <sup>2</sup>“The Israelites should make their camps around the Meeting Tent, but they should not camp too close to it. They should camp under their family flag and banners.”

<sup>3</sup>The camp of Judah will be on the east side, where the sun rises, and they will camp by divisions there under their flag. The leader of the people of Judah is Nahshon son of Amminadab. <sup>4</sup>There are 74,600 men in his division.

<sup>7</sup>Next is the tribe of Zebulun. The leader of the people of Zebulun is Eliab son of Helon. <sup>8</sup>There are 57,400 men in his division.

<sup>9</sup>There are a total of 186,400 men in the camps of Judah and its neighbors, in all their divisions. They will be the first to march out of camp.

<sup>10</sup>The divisions of the camp of Reuben will be on the south side, where they will camp under their flag. The leader of the people of Reuben is Elizur son of Shedeur. <sup>11</sup>There are 46,500 men in his division.

<sup>14</sup>Next is the tribe of Gad. The leader of the people of Gad is Eliasaph son of Deuel. <sup>15</sup>There are 45,650 men in his division.

<sup>16</sup>There are a total of 151,450 men in the camps of Reuben and its neighbors, in all their divisions. They will be the second group to march out of camp.

<sup>17</sup>When the Levites march out with the Meeting Tent, they will be in the middle of the other camps. The tribes will march out in the same order as they camp, each in its place under its flag.

<sup>24</sup>There are a total of 108,100 men in the camps of Ephraim and its neighbors, in all their divisions. They will be the third group to march out of camp.

<sup>31</sup>There are 157,600 men in the camps of Dan and its neighbors. They will be the last to march out of camp, and they will travel under their own flag.

<sup>32</sup>These are the Israelites who were counted by families. The total number of Israelites in the camps, counted by divisions, is 603,550. <sup>33</sup>Moses obeyed the Lord and did not count the Levites among the other people of Israel.

<sup>34</sup>So the Israelites obeyed everything the Lord commanded Moses. They camped under their flags and marched out by families and family groups.

Aaron's Family, the Priests

This is the family history of Aaron and Moses at the time the Lord talked to Moses on Mount Sinai.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord also said to Moses, <sup>12</sup>“I am choosing the Levites from all the Israelites to take the place of all the firstborn children of Israel. The Levites will be mine, <sup>13</sup>because the firstborn are mine. When you were in Egypt, I killed all the firstborn children of the Egyptians and took all the firstborn of Israel to be mine, both animals and children. They are mine. I am the Lord.”

These were the family groups of the Levites.

<sup>27</sup>The family groups of Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel belonged to Kohath; they were the Kohathite family groups. <sup>28</sup>They had 8,600 males one month old or older, and they were responsible for taking care of the Holy Place. <sup>29</sup>The Kohathite family groups camped south of the Holy Tent. <sup>30</sup>The leader of the Kohathite families was Elizaphan son of Uzziel. <sup>31</sup>They were responsible for the Ark, the table, the lampstand, the altars, the tools of the Holy Place which they were to use, the curtain, and all the work connected with these items. <sup>32</sup>The main leader of the Levites was Eleazar son of Aaron, the priest, who was in charge of all those responsible for the Holy Place.

<sup>33</sup>The family groups of Mahli and Mushi belonged to Merari; they were the Merarite family groups. <sup>34</sup>The number that was counted was 6,200 males one month old or older. <sup>35</sup>The leader of the Merari families was Zuriel son of Abihail, and they were to camp north of the Holy Tent. <sup>36</sup>The Merarites were responsible for the frames of the Holy Tent, the braces, the posts, the bases, and all the work connected with these items. <sup>37</sup>They were also responsible for the posts in the courtyard around the Holy Tent and their bases, tent pegs, and ropes.

<sup>38</sup>Moses, Aaron, and his sons camped east of the Holy Tent, toward the sunrise, in front of the Meeting Tent. They were responsible for the Holy Place for the Israelites. Anyone else who came near the Holy Place was to be put to death.

<sup>39</sup>Moses and Aaron counted the Levite men by their families, as the Lord commanded, and there were 22,000 males one month old or older.

Levites Take the Place of the Firstborn Sons

<sup>40</sup>The Lord said to Moses, “Count all the firstborn sons in Israel one month old or older, and list their names. <sup>41</sup>Take the Levites for me instead of the firstborn sons of Israel; take the animals of the Levites instead of the firstborn animals from the rest of Israel. I am the Lord.”

<sup>49</sup>So Moses collected the money for the people the Levites could not replace. <sup>50</sup>From the firstborn of the Israelites, he collected thirty-five pounds of silver, using the measure set by the Holy Place. <sup>51</sup>Moses obeyed the command of the Lord and gave the silver to Aaron and his sons.

Life Lessons

Numbers 3:1–5:31

Situation

God established the Levites as the tribe responsible for providing priests and caring for the Meeting Tent. God gave different tribes specific responsibilities to meet certain needs. Anyone entering the sanctuary other than Moses and Aaron or his sons was punished by death.

Observation

The Old Testament agreement (or covenant) between God and his people required special intermediaries—the priests. Now, Christ is the only intermediary needed for forgiveness of sins. We can go straight to him ourselves.

Inspiration

The crowd is waiting outside the temple in silence. The signal has already been given. The high priest has gone into the Holy of Holies and, for the only time in the year allowed, has spoken the sacred name of God. At that signal the Jews assembled outside in the courtyard fall to their faces in respect and fear, since the priest and presumably the temple will be destroyed if he has spoken “the name” with impure lips.

The crowd awaits the high priest’s return to the front of the temple with the announcement that the sacrifice has been accepted and that full forgiveness has been granted. The sacrifice he offers is for his sins and for the sins of the people. If he returns, all is well. If he does not return, the crowd outside will know that he has been struck down in the temple and they will remain guilty, unclean, hopeless. He is their only hope.

In the book of Hebrews, the writer presents Jesus as our High Priest. The high priest in the Old Testament offered up blood that was “not his own,” a lifeless sacrifice, but Jesus offered His own blood. His sacrifice was better because it was a living sacrifice, which was offered “once for all,” not every year. And unlike the high priest, who served only for a specific period of time, Jesus’ is an eternal priesthood (the order of Melchizedek).

Even as Jesus is our High Priest, so we are in the same position as those early Israelites. We wait expectantly, but without fear, for our High Priest’s return, for “He will appear a second time, not to bear sin, but to bring salvation to those who are waiting for Him.” The relief the children of Israel had at seeing their high priest return is nothing in comparison to the relief we will have at seeing the clouds roll back and Jesus, our High Priest, appear again. (From Immanuel by Michael Card)

Application

Under the old agreement, only the priests could approach God. Today, all who believe in Christ can approach God as members of the priesthood. Are you fully enjoying this privilege with God? Be thankful for Christ’s sacrifice which gives direct access to God at all times. Use the freedom often. Pray today for people who need help, for political leaders who need wisdom.

The Jobs of the Kohath Family

The Lord said to Moses and Aaron, <sup>2</sup>“Count the Kohathites among the Levites by family groups and families. <sup>3</sup>Count the men from thirty to fifty years old, all who come to serve in the Meeting Tent.

<sup>4</sup>“The Kohathites are responsible for the most holy things in the Meeting Tent. <sup>5</sup>When the Israelites are ready to move, Aaron and his sons must go into the Holy Tent, take down the curtain, and cover the Ark of the Agreement with it. <sup>6</sup>Over this they must put a covering made from fine leather, then spread the solid blue cloth over that, and put the poles in place.

<sup>7</sup>“Then they must spread a blue cloth over the table for the bread that shows a person is in God’s presence. They must put the plates, pans, bowls, and the jars for drink offerings on the table; they must leave the bread that is always there on the table. <sup>8</sup>Then they must put a red cloth over all of these things, cover everything with fine leather, and put the poles in place.

<sup>11</sup>“They must spread a blue cloth over the gold altar, cover it with fine leather, and put the poles in place.

<sup>13</sup>“They must clean the ashes off the bronze altar and spread a purple cloth over it. <sup>14</sup>They must gather all the things used for serving at the altar—the pans for carrying the fire, the meat forks, the shovels, and the bowls—and put them on the bronze altar. Then they must spread a covering of fine leather over it and put the poles in place.

<sup>15</sup>“When the Israelites are ready to move, and when Aaron and his sons have covered the holy furniture and all the holy things, the Kohathites may go in and carry them away. In this way they won’t touch the holy things and die. It is the Kohathites’ job to carry the things that are in the Meeting Tent.

<sup>16</sup>“Eleazar son of Aaron, the priest, will be responsible for the Holy Tent and for everything in it, for all the holy things it has: the oil for the lamp, the sweet-smelling incense, the continual grain offering, and the oil used to appoint priests and things to the Lord’s service.”

<sup>17</sup>The Lord said to Moses and Aaron, <sup>18</sup>“Don’t let the Kohathites be cut off from the Levites. <sup>19</sup>Do this for the Kohathites so that they may go near the Most Holy Place and not die: Aaron and his sons must go in and show each Kohathite what to do and what to carry. <sup>20</sup>The Kohathites must not enter and look at the holy things, even for a second, or they will die.”

The Jobs of the Gershon Family

<sup>24</sup>“This is what the Gershonite family groups must do and what they must carry. <sup>25</sup>They must carry the curtains of the Holy Tent, the Meeting Tent, its covering, and its outer covering made from fine leather. They must also carry the curtains for the entrance to the Meeting Tent, <sup>26</sup>the curtains of the courtyard that go around the Holy Tent and the altar, the curtain for the entry to the courtyard, the ropes, and all the things used with the curtains. They must do everything connected with these things. <sup>27</sup>Aaron and his sons are in charge of what the Gershonites do or carry; you tell them what they are responsible for carrying. <sup>28</sup>This is the work of the Gershonite family group at the Meeting Tent. Ithamar son of Aaron, the priest, will direct their work.

The Jobs of the Merari Family

The Levite Families

Kohathites by families and family groups,<sup>35</sup> the men from thirty to fifty years old who were to work at the Meeting Tent.<sup>36</sup> There were 2,750 men in the family groups.<sup>37</sup> This was the total of the Kohath family groups who worked at the Meeting Tent, whom Moses and Aaron counted as the Lord had commanded Moses.

<sup>46</sup>So Moses, Aaron, and the leaders of Israel counted all the Levites by families and family groups.<sup>47</sup> They counted the men from thirty to fifty who were given work at the Meeting Tent and who carried the Tent.<sup>48</sup> The total number of these men was 8,580.<sup>49</sup> Each man was counted as the Lord had commanded Moses; each man was given his work and told what to carry as the Lord had commanded Moses.

Rules About Cleanliness

The Lord said to Moses,<sup>2</sup>“Command the Israelites to send away from camp anyone with a harmful skin disease. Send away anyone who gives off body fluid or who has become unclean by touching a dead body. <sup>3</sup>Send both men and women outside the camp so that they won’t spread the disease there, where I am living among you.” <sup>4</sup>So Israel obeyed the Lord’s command and sent those people outside the camp. They did just as the Lord had told Moses.

Paying for Doing Wrong

<sup>5</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>6</sup>“Tell the Israelites: ‘When a man or woman does something wrong to another person, that is really sinning against the Lord. That person is guilty <sup>7</sup>and must admit the wrong that has been done. The person must fully pay for the wrong that has been done, adding one-fifth to it, and giving it to the person who was wronged. <sup>8</sup>But if that person is dead and does not have any close relatives to receive the payment, the one who did wrong owes the Lord and must pay the priest. In addition, the priest must sacrifice a male sheep to remove the wrong so that the person will belong to the Lord. <sup>9</sup>When an Israelite brings a holy gift, it should be given to the priest. <sup>10</sup>No one has to give these holy gifts, but if someone does give them, they belong to the priest.’”

Suspicious Husbands

<sup>11</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, <sup>12</sup>“Tell the Israelites: ‘A man’s wife might be unfaithful to him <sup>13</sup>and have sexual relations with another man. Her sin might be kept hidden from her husband so that he does not know about the wrong she did. Perhaps no one saw it, and she wasn’t caught. <sup>14</sup>But if her husband has feelings of jealousy and suspects she has sinned—whether she has or not—<sup>15</sup>he should take her to the priest. The husband must also take an offering for her of two quarts of barley flour. He must not pour oil or incense on it, because this is a grain offering for jealousy, an offering of remembrance. It is to find out if she is guilty.

<sup>16</sup>“The priest will bring in the woman and make her stand before the Lord. <sup>17</sup>He will take some holy water in a clay jar, and he will put some dirt from the floor of the Holy Tent into the water. <sup>18</sup>The priest will make the woman stand before the Lord, and he will loosen her hair. He will hand her the offering of remembrance, the grain offering for jealousy; he will hold the bitter water that brings a curse. <sup>19</sup>The priest will make her take an oath and ask her, “Has another man had sexual relations with you? Have you been unfaithful to your husband? If you haven’t, this bitter water that brings a curse won’t hurt you. <sup>20</sup>But if you have been unfaithful to your husband and have had sexual relations with a man besides him”—<sup>21</sup>the priest will then put on her the curse that the oath will bring—“the Lord will make the people curse and reject you. He will make your stomach get big, and he will make your body unable to give birth to another baby. <sup>22</sup>This water that brings a curse will go inside you and make your body unable to give birth to another baby.”

<sup>23</sup>“The priest should write these curses on a scroll, wash the words off into the bitter water, <sup>24</sup>and make the woman drink the bitter water that brings a curse. If she is guilty, the water will make her sick. <sup>25</sup>Then the priest will take the grain offering for jealousy from her. He will present it before the Lord and bring it to the altar. <sup>26</sup>He will take a handful of the grain, which is a memorial offering, and burn it on the altar. After that he will make the woman drink the water <sup>27</sup>to see if she is not pure and if she has sinned against her husband. When it goes into her, if her stomach gets big so that she is not able to have another baby, her people will reject her. <sup>28</sup>But if the woman has not sinned, she is pure. She is not guilty, and she will be able to have babies.

<sup>29</sup>“So this is the teaching about jealousy. This is what to do when a woman does wrong and is unfaithful while she is married to her husband. <sup>30</sup>It also should be done if the man gets jealous because he suspects his wife. The priest will have her stand before the Lord, and he will do all these things, just as the teaching commands. <sup>31</sup>In this way the husband can be proven correct, and the woman will suffer if she has done wrong.”

Life Lessons

Numbers 6:1-27

Situation

God established the Nazirite vow to form a small group who would serve God. The restrictions (abstaining from wine, cutting or shaving hair, and touching a dead body) were intended to keep a Nazirite's life holy and clean.

Observation

The Nazirites followed special rules to be closer in mind and spirit to God. They provide examples for us of dedication to God. Religious rules should only be followed by people who have a sincere heart.

Inspiration

The leading religious party members of the day quickly labeled Jesus an adversary because He had the capacity to do the one thing that terrified them most: expose the inner person. They were reasonably good people, but they put a premium on decorating the exterior of life with words, robes, and rituals and camouflaging the interior of life where the scenery was spoiled.

But others were actually drawn to Him because they sensed an overriding safety in being transparent with Him. Instead of heaping shame upon them as others did, He gave grace. That's it: self-disclosure always resulted in grace in the presence of Jesus. And grace meant reclamation from spoiledness. Grace meant a new start...

A powerful example of this is Zacchaeus, the Jericho tax collector who climbed a tree to be above the crowd and get a glimpse of Jesus. Why did the Lord stop and choose to visit at Zacchaeus's house that day? It's clear that He saw what no one else could see: the man known for his exploitation of people was ready to acknowledge the inner spoiledness that, in this case, was out-and-out greed. The grace of Christ was drawn to the openness of the sinner.

What is the point of all this? That Christ-following always involves exposure and renovation of the inner life. And not just a small part of the inner life, but an ever-enlarging section of it.

Rules for the Nazirites

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Tell the Israelites: ‘If men or women want to promise to belong to the Lord in a special way, they will be called Nazirites. <sup>3</sup>During this time, they must not drink wine or beer, or vinegar made from wine or beer. They must not even drink grape juice or eat grapes or raisins. <sup>4</sup>While they are Nazirites, they must not eat anything that comes from the grapevine, even the seeds or the skin.

<sup>5</sup>“During the time they have promised to belong to the Lord, they must not cut their hair. They must be holy until this special time is over. They must let their hair grow long. <sup>6</sup>During their special time of belonging to the Lord, Nazirites must not go near a dead body. <sup>7</sup>Even if their own father, mother, brother, or sister dies, they must not touch them, or they will become unclean. They must still keep their promise to belong to God in a special way. <sup>8</sup>While they are Nazirites, they belong to the Lord in a special way.

<sup>9</sup>“If they are next to someone who dies suddenly, their hair, which was part of their promise, has been made unclean. So they must shave their head seven days later to be clean. <sup>10</sup>Then on the eighth day, they must bring two doves or two young pigeons to the priest at the entrance to the Meeting Tent. <sup>11</sup>The priest will offer one as a sin offering and the other as a burnt offering. This removes sin so they will belong to the Lord. (They had sinned because they were near a dead body.) That same day they will again promise to let their hair grow<sup>12</sup> and give themselves to the Lord for another special time. They must bring a male lamb a year old as a penalty offering. The days of the special time before don't count, because they became unclean during their first special time.

<sup>13</sup>“This is the teaching for the Nazirites. When the promised time is over, they must go to the entrance of the Meeting Tent<sup>14</sup> and give their offerings to the Lord. They must offer a year-old male lamb that has nothing wrong with it, as a burnt offering, a year-old female lamb that has nothing wrong with it, as a sin offering, and a male sheep that has nothing wrong with it, for a fellowship offering.<sup>15</sup> They must also bring the grain offerings and drink offerings that go with them. And they must bring a basket of bread made without yeast, loaves made with fine flour mixed with oil, and wafers made without yeast spread with oil.

<sup>16</sup>“The priest will give these offerings to the Lord and make the sin offering and the burnt offering.<sup>17</sup> Then he will kill the male sheep as a fellowship offering to the Lord; along with it, he will present the basket of bread made without yeast, the grain offering, and the drink offering.

<sup>18</sup>“The Nazirites must go to the entrance of the Meeting Tent and shave off their hair that they grew for their promise. The hair will be put in the fire that is under the sacrifice of the fellowship offering.

<sup>19</sup>“After the Nazirites cut off their hair, the priest will give them a boiled shoulder from the male sheep. From the basket he will also give a loaf and a wafer, both made without yeast.<sup>20</sup> Then the priest will present them to the Lord. They are holy and belong to the priest. Also, he is to present the breast and the thigh from the male sheep. After that, the Nazirites may drink wine.

<sup>21</sup>“This is the teaching for the Nazirites who make a promise. Everyone who makes the Nazirite promise must give all of these gifts to the Lord. If they promised to do more, they must keep their promise, according to the teaching of the Nazirites.”

The Priests' Blessings

<sup>22</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>23</sup>“Tell Aaron and his sons, ‘This is how you should bless the Israelites. Say to them:

<sup>24</sup>“May the Lord bless you and keep you.

<sup>25</sup>May the Lord show you his kindness and have mercy on you.

<sup>26</sup>May the Lord watch over you and give you peace.” ’

<sup>27</sup>“So Aaron and his sons will bless the Israelites with my name, and I will bless them.”

Numbers 7:1-9:14

Situation

Moses consecrated and anointed the completed place of worship. The people brought gifts and offerings for the Meeting Tent.

Observation

In order to truly know God, we must worship him.

Inspiration

The Bible tells us that God speaks to us in four different ways.

God reveals himself in nature.

Psalm 19 describes this kind of revelation... .

Romans 1:20 also speaks of the revelation of God in nature... . Anyone who has seen nature knows enough about God to seek him out.

... Although this is a true revelation, it doesn't tell us anything of God's moral character. More important, it doesn't tell us anything of his love... .

God reveals himself in history.

In the Old Testament, God spoke to people personally and intervened in a miraculous way by altering the rules of nature. For example, in delivering the Jews from Egypt, he revealed his character and his moral law. He delivered the Israelites from bondage so they would follow him and obey his commandments.

The chief revelation of God in history is Jesus Christ... . In Jesus Christ we discover things about God we don't learn from nature. We learn that God is a person, that God is loving. Above all we find the way of salvation through Christ's death and resurrection.

God reveals himself in the Bible.

God's written revelation is crucial because whatever we say about God is based on his revelation in the Bible. The Bible is the record of what God has done, focusing on what he has done through Jesus Christ. The Old Testament anticipates Christ's coming. The four Gospels detail his earthly ministry. The Epistles and the other books of the New Testament explain the rest of the Bible for our benefit. More than nature and history, the Bible leads us to seek God.

God reveals himself through the Holy Spirit.

Through the illumination of the Holy Spirit a person experiences rebirth. This is the most personal form of God's revelation. Without the Spirit, we cannot understand spiritual things... . But the Holy Spirit makes us alive in Christ. He gives us a new nature. He gives us a new capacity to see God in nature and history and to read the Bible with new understanding.

A non-Christian will attend a Bible study, but nothing makes sense. Then suddenly something clicks and it becomes clear. The Holy Spirit has revealed to him in a personal way that Jesus Christ is God and that Jesus Christ is the Savior. He can now see what he couldn't see before. The person has been born again through the work of the Holy Spirit. (From

The Holy Tent

When Moses finished setting up the Holy Tent, he gave it for service to the Lord by pouring olive oil on the Tent and on everything used in it. He also poured oil on the altar and all its tools to prepare them for service to the Lord.<sup>2</sup> Then the leaders of Israel made offerings. These were the heads of the families, the leaders of each tribe who counted the people.<sup>3</sup> They brought to the Lord six covered carts and twelve oxen—each leader giving an ox, and every two leaders giving a cart. They brought these to the Holy Tent.

<sup>4</sup>The Lord said to Moses,<sup>5</sup> “Accept these gifts from the leaders and use them in the work of the Meeting Tent. Give them to the Levites as they need them.”

<sup>6</sup>So Moses accepted the carts and the oxen and gave them to the Levites.<sup>7</sup> He gave two carts and four oxen to the Gershonites, which they needed for their work.<sup>8</sup> Then Moses gave four carts and eight oxen to the Merarites, which they needed for their work. Ithamar son of Aaron, the priest, directed the work of all of them.<sup>9</sup> Moses did not give any oxen or carts to the Kohathites, because their job was to carry the holy things on their shoulders.

<sup>10</sup>When the oil was poured on the altar, the leaders brought their offerings to it to give it to the Lord’s service; they presented them in front of the altar.<sup>11</sup> The Lord told Moses, “Each day one leader must bring his gift to make the altar ready for service to me.”

<sup>12-83</sup>Each of the twelve leaders brought these gifts. Each leader brought one silver plate that weighed about three and one-fourth pounds, and one silver bowl that weighed about one and three-fourths pounds. These weights were set by the Holy Place measure. The bowl and the plate were filled with fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering. Each leader also brought a large gold dish that weighed about four ounces and was filled with incense.

In addition, each of the leaders brought one young bull, one male sheep, and one male lamb a year old for a burnt offering; one male goat for a sin offering; and two oxen, five male sheep, five male goats, and five male lambs a year old for a fellowship offering.

On the first day Nahshon son of Amminadab brought his gifts. He was the leader of the tribe of Judah.

On the second day Nethanel son of Zuar brought his gifts. He was the leader of the tribe of Issachar.

On the third day Eliab son of Helon brought his gifts. He was the leader of the tribe of Zebulun.

On the fourth day Elizur son of Shedeur brought his gifts. He was the leader of the tribe of Reuben.

On the fifth day Shelumiel son of Zurishaddai brought his gifts. He was the leader of the tribe of Simeon.

On the sixth day Eliasaph son of Deuel brought his gifts. He was the leader of the tribe of Gad.

On the seventh day Elishama son of Ammihud brought his gifts. He was the leader of the tribe of Ephraim.

On the eighth day Gamaliel son of Pedahzur brought his gifts. He was the leader of the tribe of Manasseh.

On the ninth day Abidan son of Gideoni brought his gifts.

He was the leader of the tribe of Benjamin.

On the tenth day Ahiezer son of Ammishaddai brought his gifts. He was the leader of the tribe of Dan.

On the eleventh day Pagiel son of Ocran brought his gifts. He was the leader of the tribe of Asher.

On the twelfth day Ahira son of Enan brought his gifts. He was the leader of the tribe of Naphtali.

<sup>84</sup>So these were the gifts from the Israelite leaders when oil was poured on the altar and it was given for service to the Lord: twelve silver plates, twelve silver bowls, and twelve gold dishes. <sup>85</sup>Each silver plate weighed about three and one-fourth pounds, and each bowl weighed about one and three-fourths pounds. All the silver plates and silver bowls together weighed about sixty pounds according to a weight set by the Holy Place measure. <sup>86</sup>The twelve gold dishes filled with incense weighed four ounces each, according to the weight set by the Holy Place measure. Together the gold dishes weighed about three pounds. <sup>87</sup>The total number of animals for the burnt offering was twelve bulls, twelve male sheep, and twelve male lambs a year old. There was also a grain offering, and there were twelve male goats for a sin offering. <sup>88</sup>The total number of animals for the fellowship offering was twenty-four bulls, sixty male sheep, sixty male goats, and sixty male lambs a year old. All these offerings were for giving the altar to the service of the Lord after the oil had been poured on it.

<sup>89</sup>When Moses went into the Meeting Tent to speak with the Lord, he heard the Lord speaking to him. The voice was coming from between the two gold creatures with wings that were above the lid of the Ark of the Agreement. In this way the Lord spoke with him.

The Lampstand

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Speak to Aaron and tell him, ‘Put the seven lamps where they can light the area in front of the lampstand.’”

<sup>3</sup>Aaron did this, putting the lamps so they lighted the area in front of the lampstand; he obeyed the command the Lord gave Moses. <sup>4</sup>The lampstand was made from hammered gold, from its base to the flowers. It was made exactly the way the Lord had showed Moses.

The Levites Are Given to God

<sup>5</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>6</sup>“Take the Levites away from the other Israelites and make them clean. <sup>7</sup>This is what you should do to make them clean: Sprinkle the cleansing water on them, and have them shave their bodies and wash their clothes so they will be clean. <sup>8</sup>They must take a young bull and the grain offering of flour mixed with oil that goes with it. Then take a second young bull for a sin offering. <sup>9</sup>Bring the Levites to the front of the Meeting Tent, and gather all the Israelites around. <sup>10</sup>When you bring the Levites before the Lord, the Israelites should put their hands on them. <sup>11</sup>Aaron will present the Levites before the Lord as an offering presented from the Israelites. Then the Levites will be ready to do the work of the Lord.

<sup>12</sup>“The Levites will put their hands on the bulls’ heads— one bull will be a sin offering to the Lord, and the other will be a burnt offering, to remove the sins of the Levites so they will belong to the Lord. <sup>13</sup>Make the Levites stand in front of Aaron and his sons and present the Levites as an offering to the Lord. <sup>14</sup>In this way you must set apart the Levites from the other Israelites; the Levites will be mine.

<sup>15</sup>“Make the Levites pure, and present them as an offering so that they may come to work at the Meeting Tent. <sup>16</sup>They will be given completely to me from the Israelites; I have taken them for myself instead of the firstborn of every Israelite woman. <sup>17</sup>All the firstborn in Israel—people or animals—are mine. When I killed all the firstborn in Egypt, I set the firstborn in Israel aside for myself. <sup>18</sup>But I have taken the Levites instead of all the firstborn in Israel. <sup>19</sup>From all the Israelites I have given the Levites to Aaron and his sons so that they may serve the Israelites at the Meeting Tent. They will help remove the Israelites’ sins so they will belong to the Lord and so that no disaster will strike the Israelites when they approach the Holy Place.”

<sup>23</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>24</sup>“This command is for the Levites. Everyone twenty-five years old or older must come to the Meeting Tent, because they all have jobs to do there. <sup>25</sup>At the age of fifty, they must retire from their jobs and not work again.<sup>26</sup>They may help their fellow Levites with their work at the Meeting Tent, but they must not do the work themselves. This is the way you are to give the Levites their jobs.”

The Passover Is Celebrated

The Lord spoke to Moses in the Desert of Sinai in the first month of the second year after the Israelites left Egypt. He said,<sup>2</sup>“Tell the Israelites to celebrate the Passover at the appointed time.<sup>3</sup>That appointed time is the fourteenth day of this month at twilight; they must obey all the rules about it.”

<sup>4</sup>So Moses told the Israelites to celebrate the Passover,<sup>5</sup>and they did; it was in the Desert of Sinai at twilight on the fourteenth day of the first month. The Israelites did everything just as the Lord commanded Moses.

<sup>6</sup>But some of the people could not celebrate the Passover on that day because they were unclean from touching a dead body. So they went to Moses and Aaron that day and <sup>7</sup>said to Moses, “We are unclean because of touching a dead body. But why should we be kept from offering gifts to the Lord at this appointed time? Why can’t we join the other Israelites?”

<sup>8</sup>Moses said to them, “Wait, and I will find out what the Lord says about you.”

<sup>9</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses,<sup>10</sup>“Tell the Israelites this: ‘If you or your descendants become unclean because of a dead body, or if you are away on a trip during the Passover, you must still celebrate the Lord’s Passover.<sup>11</sup>But celebrate it at twilight on the fourteenth day of the second month. Eat the lamb with bitter herbs and bread made without yeast.<sup>12</sup>Don’t leave any of it until the next morning or break any of its bones. When you celebrate the Passover, follow all the rules.<sup>13</sup>Anyone who is clean and is not away on a trip but does not eat the Passover must be cut off from the people. That person did not give an offering to the Lord at the appointed time and must be punished for the sin.

<sup>14</sup>“Foreigners among you may celebrate the Lord’s Passover, but they must follow all the rules. You must have the same rules for foreigners as you have for yourselves.”

Life Lessons

Numbers 9:15–10:10

Situation

God guided the Israelites in the wilderness with a cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night. The cloud and fire moved according to God’s will. When they moved, the people moved; where they stopped, the people stopped.

Observation

When we follow God’s guidance, we please him. Although his plan may not always be clear to us, we must follow.

Inspiration

Does God guide? Yes. Most times, I believe, he guides in subtle ways, by feeding ideas into our minds, speaking through a nagging sensation of dissatisfaction, inspiring us to choose better than we otherwise would have done, bringing to the surface hidden dangers of temptation, and perhaps by rearranging certain circumstances.

... Sociologist Bronislaw Malinowski suggested a distinction between magic and religion. Magic, he said, is when we manipulate the deities so that they perform our wishes; religion is when we subject ourselves to the will of the deities. True guidance cannot resemble magic, a way for God to give us shortcuts and genie bottles. It must, rather, fall under Malinowski's definition of religion. If so, it will occur in the context of a committed relationship between a Christian and God.

... A picture is being painted, for me, for all who are called the sons and daughters of God. Yet it does not take shape until enough time passes for me to stand up and look back on what colors and designs have been laid down. If I saw the pattern in advance, a sort of schema for "paint-by-numbers," that would leave no room for faith. And, besides, God does not paint numbers. ## The Cloud Above the Tent

The Silver Trumpets

The Lord said to Moses,<sup>2</sup>“Make two trumpets of hammered silver, and use them to call the people together and to march out of camp.<sup>3</sup>When both trumpets are blown, the people should gather before you at the entrance to the Meeting Tent.<sup>4</sup>If you blow only one trumpet, the leaders, the heads of the family groups of Israel, should meet before you.<sup>5</sup>When you loudly blow the trumpets, the tribes camping on the east should move.<sup>6</sup>When you loudly blow them again, the tribes camping on the south should move; the loud sound will tell them to move.<sup>7</sup>When you want to gather the people, blow the trumpets, but don’t blow them as loudly.

<sup>8</sup>“Aaron’s sons, the priests, should blow the trumpets. This is a law for you and your descendants from now on.<sup>9</sup>When you are fighting an enemy who attacks you in your own land, blow the trumpets loudly. The Lord your God will take notice of you and will save you from your enemies.<sup>10</sup>Also blow your trumpets at happy times and during your feasts and at New Moon festivals. Blow them over your burnt offerings and fellowship offerings, because they will help you remember your God. I am the Lord your God.”

The Israelites Move Camp

the cloud stopped in the Desert of Paran. <sup>13</sup>This was their first time to move, and they did it as the Lord had commanded Moses.

<sup>25</sup>The last ones were the rear guard for all the tribes. These were the divisions from the camp of Dan under their flag, and Ahiezer son of Ammishaddai was the commander. <sup>26</sup>Pagiel son of Ocran was over the division of the tribe of Asher; <sup>27</sup>Ahira son of Enan was over the division of the tribe of Naphtali. <sup>28</sup>This was the order the Israelite divisions marched in when they moved.

<sup>29</sup>Hobab was the son of Reuel the Midianite, who was Moses' father-in-law. Moses said to Hobab, "We are moving to the land the Lord promised to give us. Come with us and we will be good to you, because the Lord has promised good things to Israel.”

<sup>30</sup>But Hobab answered, “No, I will not go. I will go back to my own land where I was born.”

<sup>31</sup>But Moses said, “Please don’t leave us. You know where we can camp in the desert, and you can be our guide. <sup>32</sup>Come with us. We will share with you all the good things the Lord gives us.” <sup>33</sup>So they left the mountain of the Lord and traveled for three days. The Ark of the Lord’s Agreement went in front of the people for those three days, as they looked for a place to camp. <sup>34</sup>The Lord’s cloud was over them during the day when they left their camp.

“Rise up, Lord!
Scatter your enemies:
make those who hate you run from you.”

<sup>36</sup>And when the Ark was set down, Moses said, “Return, Lord, to the thousands of people of Israel.”

Life Lessons

Numbers 10:11–11:35

Situation

Approximately two years had passed since the departure of the Israelites from Egypt. During this time at Mount Sinai, God gave them the Meeting Tent, ceremonial and ritual laws, and travel instructions. Then they traveled from Mount Sinai into the wilderness of Paran en route to the Promised Land. When they faced many hardships, they forgot about God's provision and protection and began to curse and complain. God punished them for their lack of faith.

Observation

We show the same lack of faith when we think we can do as much (or more) than Almighty God. Such a lack of faith shows that we really don't know how to trust God.

Inspiration

We take a look at the money in our pockets and it says, "In God we trust." Trust Him to do what? Keep us free from invasion? Make us prosperous? Sustain our position of world power and leadership? Revolutionary soldiers used to say, "Trust in God but keep your powder dry." Yet as a nation today we are much more self-reliant (keeping our powder dry) than we are God-reliant (trusting in Him).

Here's a direct question: "Can you trust God?" There are two ways to look at that question. Can you trust God? That is, is He dependable in times of need? Will He do what He says? Or secondly, we might ask, "Can you trust God?" Do you have such a relationship with Him and such confidence in Him that you believe He is with you always even though you do not see any evidence of His presence and power? (From Wisdom for the Way by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Do you find it hard to trust God when things are going poorly? Or is it harder when things are going well because you're more self-sufficient? Consider the areas in your life where you are having a hard time trusting God right now. Pray for wisdom to trust God in that specific situation.

Exploration

Trust—Psalm 20:7; Proverbs 3:5; 16:20; Romans 4:5; 10:11; 1 Peter 2:6.

Fire from the Lord

Now the people complained to the Lord about their troubles, and when he heard them, he became angry. Then fire from the Lord burned among the people at the edge of the camp.<sup>2</sup>The people cried out to Moses, and when he prayed to the Lord, the fire stopped burning.<sup>3</sup>So that place was called Taberah, because the Lord's fire had burned among them.

Seventy Older Leaders Help Moses

<sup>4</sup>Some troublemakers among them wanted better food, and soon all the Israelites began complaining. They said, "We want meat!<sup>5</sup>We remember the fish we ate for free in Egypt. We also had cucumbers, melons, leeks, onions, and garlic.<sup>6</sup>But now we have lost our appetite; we never see anything but this manna!"

<sup>7</sup>The manna was like small white seeds.<sup>8</sup>The people would go to gather it, and then grind it in handmills, or crush it between stones. After they cooked it in a pot or made cakes with it, it tasted like bread baked with olive oil.<sup>9</sup>When the dew fell on the camp each night, so did the manna.

<sup>10</sup>Moses heard every family crying as they stood in the entrances of their tents. Then the Lord became very angry, and Moses got upset.<sup>11</sup>He asked the Lord, "Why have you brought me, your servant, this trouble? What have I done wrong that you made me responsible for all these people?<sup>12</sup>I am not the father of all these people, and I didn't give birth to them. So why do you make me carry them to the land you promised to our ancestors? Must I carry them in my arms as a nurse carries a baby? <sup>13</sup>Where can I get meat for all these people? They keep crying to me, ‘We want meat!’ <sup>14</sup>I can’t take care of all these people alone. It is too much for me. <sup>15</sup>If you are going to continue doing this to me, then kill me now. If you care about me, put me to death, and then I won’t have any more troubles.”

<sup>16</sup>The Lord said to Moses, “Bring me seventy of Israel’s older leaders, men that you know are leaders among the people. Bring them to the Meeting Tent, and have them stand there with you. <sup>17</sup>I will come down and speak with you there. I will take some of the Spirit that is in you, and I will give it to them. They will help you care for the people so that you will not have to care for them alone.

<sup>18</sup>“Tell the people this: ‘Make yourselves holy for tomorrow, and you will eat meat. You cried to the Lord, “We want meat! We were better off in Egypt!” So now the Lord will give you meat to eat. <sup>19</sup>You will eat it not for just one, two, five, ten, or even twenty days, <sup>20</sup>but you will eat that meat for a whole month. You will eat it until it comes out your nose, and you will grow to hate it. This is because you have rejected the Lord, who is with you. You have cried to him, saying, “Why did we ever leave Egypt?”’”

<sup>21</sup>Moses said, “Lord, here are six hundred thousand people standing around me, and you say, ‘I will give them enough meat to eat for a month!’ <sup>22</sup>If we killed all the flocks and herds, that would not be enough. If we caught all the fish in the sea, that would not be enough.”

<sup>23</sup>But the Lord said to Moses, “Do you think I’m weak? Now you will see if I can do what I say.”

<sup>24</sup>So Moses went out to the people and told them what the Lord had said. He gathered seventy of the older leaders together and had them stand around the Tent. <sup>25</sup>Then the Lord came down in the cloud and spoke to Moses. The Lord took some of the Spirit Moses had, and he gave it to the seventy leaders. With the Spirit in them, they prophesied, but just that one time.

<sup>26</sup>Two men named Eldad and Medad were also listed as leaders, but they did not go to the Tent. They stayed in the camp, but the Spirit was also given to them, and they prophesied in the camp. <sup>27</sup>A young man ran to Moses and said, “Eldad and Medad are prophesying in the camp.”

<sup>28</sup>Joshua son of Nun said, “Moses, my master, stop them!” (Ever since he was a young boy, Joshua had been Moses’ assistant.)

<sup>29</sup>But Moses answered, “Are you jealous for me? I wish all the Lord’s people could prophesy. I wish the Lord would give his Spirit to all of them!” <sup>30</sup>Then Moses and the leaders of Israel went back to the camp.

The Lord Sends Quail

<sup>31</sup>The Lord sent a strong wind from the sea, and it blew quail into the area all around the camp. The quail were about three feet deep on the ground, and there were quail a day’s walk in any direction. <sup>32</sup>The people went out and gathered quail all that day, that night, and the next day. Everyone gathered at least sixty bushels, and they spread them around the camp. <sup>33</sup>But the Lord became very angry, and he gave the people a terrible sickness that came while the meat was still in their mouths. <sup>34</sup>So the people named that place Kibroth Hattaavah, because there they buried those who wanted other food.

<sup>35</sup>From Kibroth Hattaavah the people went to stay at Hazeroth.

Life Lessons

Numbers 12:1-16

Situation

Jealousy caused Aaron and Miriam to speak out against Moses. God told them, however, that he spoke directly and openly with Moses. As a result, Aaron and Miriam received God's judgment.

Observation

A lack of contentment often leads to the problem of jealousy.

Inspiration

Are you hoping that a change in circumstances will bring a change in your attitude? If so, you are in prison, and you need to learn a secret of traveling light. What you have in your Shepherd is greater than what you don't have in life.

May I meddle for a moment? What is the one thing separating you from joy? How do you fill in this blank: "I will be happy when _____"? When I am healed. When I am promoted. When I am married. When I am single. When I am rich. How would you finish that statement?

Now, with your answer firmly in mind, answer this. If your ship never comes in, if your dream never comes true, if the situation never changes, could you be happy? If not, then you are sleeping in the cold cell of discontent. You are in prison. And you need to know what you have in your Shepherd.

You have a God who hears you, the power of love behind you, the Holy Spirit within you, and all of heaven ahead of you. If you have the Shepherd, you have grace for every sin, direction for every turn, a candle for every corner, and an anchor for every storm. You have everything you need.

And who can take it from you? Can leukemia infect your salvation? Can bankruptcy impoverish your prayers? A tornado might take your earthly house, but will it touch your heavenly home?

And look at your position. Why clamor for prestige and power? Are you not already privileged to be part of the greatest work in history? ...

Paul says that “Serving God does make us very rich, if we are satisfied with what we have”(1 Timothy 6:6). When we surrender to God the cumbersome sack of discontent, we don’t just give up something; we gain something. God replaces it with a lightweight, tailor-made, sorrow-resistant attaché of gratitude.

What will you gain with contentment? You may gain your marriage. You may gain precious hours with your children. You may gain your self-respect. You may gain joy. You may gain the faith to say, “The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.” (From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

Miriam and Aaron Speak Against Moses

Miriam and Aaron began to talk against Moses because of his Cushite wife (he had married a Cushite). <sup>2</sup>They said, “Is Moses the only one the Lord speaks through? Doesn’t he also speak through us?” And the Lord heard this.

<sup>3</sup>(Now Moses was very humble. He was the least proud person on earth.)

<sup>4</sup>So the Lord suddenly spoke to Moses, Aaron, and Miriam and said, “All three of you come to the Meeting Tent.” So they went. <sup>5</sup>The Lord came down in a pillar of cloud and stood at the entrance to the Tent. He called to Aaron and Miriam, and they both came near. <sup>6</sup>He said, “Listen to my words:

When a prophet is among you,
I, the Lord, will show myself to him in visions;
I will speak to him in dreams.

<sup>7</sup>But this is not true with my servant Moses.
I trust him to lead all my people.

<sup>8</sup>I speak face to face with him—clearly, not with hidden meanings.
He has even seen the form of the Lord.
You should be afraid to speak against my servant Moses.”

<sup>10</sup>When the cloud lifted from the Tent and Aaron turned toward Miriam, she was as white as snow; she had a skin disease. <sup>11</sup>Aaron said to Moses, “Please, my master, forgive us for our foolish sin. <sup>12</sup>Don’t let her be like a baby who is born dead. (Sometimes a baby is born with half of its flesh eaten away.)”

<sup>14</sup>The Lord answered Moses, “If her father had spit in her face, she would have been shamed for seven days, so put her outside the camp for seven days. After that, she may come back.” <sup>15</sup>So Miriam was put outside of the camp for seven days, and the people did not move on until she came back.

The Spies Explore Canaan

The Lord said to Moses,<sup>2</sup>“Send men to explore the land of Canaan, which I will give to the Israelites. Send one leader from each tribe.”

<sup>17</sup>Moses sent them to explore Canaan and said, “Go through southern Canaan and then into the mountains. <sup>18</sup>See what the land looks like. Are the people who live there strong or weak? Are there a few or many? <sup>19</sup>What kind of land do they live in? Is it good or bad? What about the towns they live in— are they open like camps, or do they have walls? <sup>20</sup>What about the soil? Is it fertile or poor? Are there trees there? Try to bring back some of the fruit from that land.” (It was the season for the first grapes.) <sup>21</sup>So they went up and explored the land, from the Desert of Zin all the way to Rehob by Lebo Hamath.<sup>22</sup>They went through the southern area to Hebron, where Ahiman, Sheshai, and Talmai, the descendants of Anak lived. (The city of Hebron had been built seven years before Zoan in Egypt.)<sup>23</sup>In the Valley of Eshcol, they cut off a branch of a grapevine that had one bunch of grapes on it and carried that branch on a pole between two of them. They also got some pomegranates and figs.<sup>24</sup>That place was called the Valley of Eshcol, because the Israelites cut off the bunch of grapes there.<sup>25</sup>After forty days of exploring the land, the men returned to the camp.

<sup>26</sup>They came back to Moses and Aaron and all the Israelites at Kadesh, in the Desert of Paran. The men reported to them and showed everybody the fruit from the land.<sup>27</sup>They told Moses, “We went to the land where you sent us, and it is a fertile land! Here is some of its fruit.”<sup>28</sup>But the people who live there are strong. Their cities are walled and very large. We even saw some Anakites there.<sup>29</sup>The Amalekites live in the southern area; the Hittites, Jebusites, and Amorites live in the mountains; and the Canaanites live near the sea and along the Jordan River.”

<sup>30</sup>Then Caleb told the people near Moses to be quiet, and he said, “We should certainly go up and take the land for ourselves. We can certainly do it.”

<sup>31</sup>But the men who had gone with him said, “We can’t attack those people; they are stronger than we are.”<sup>32</sup>And those men gave the Israelites a bad report about the land they explored, saying, “The land that we explored is too large to conquer. All the people we saw are very tall.”<sup>33</sup>We saw the Nephilim people there. (The Anakites come from the Nephilim people.) We felt like grasshoppers, and we looked like grasshoppers to them.”

Life Lessons

Numbers 13:1–14:45

Situation

The Promised Land flowed with milk and honey because of the abundance of figs, dates, and nuts there. But the land also contained many imposing cities with tall, thick walls.

Observation

Ten of the twelve spies discouraged the people from trying to conquer Canaan. Rather than trust in God’s promises, they looked at unfavorable military odds. Though God had promised to be faithful, his people did not believe him.

Inspiration

“Then Jesus took the loaves of bread, thanked God for them, and gave them to the people who were sitting there. He did the same with the fish, giving as much as the people wanted” (John 6:11).

When the disciples didn’t pray, Jesus prayed. When the disciples didn’t see God, Jesus sought God. When the disciples were weak, Jesus was strong. When the disciples had no faith, Jesus had faith. He thanked God.

For what? The crowds? The pandemonium? The weariness? The faithless disciples? No, he thanked God for the basket of bread. He ignored the clouds and found the ray and thanked God for it.

Look what he does next. “Jesus divided the bread and gave it to his followers, who gave it to the people” (Matthew 14:19).

Rather than punish the disciples, he employs them. There they go, passing out the bread they didn't request, enjoying the answer to the prayer they didn't even pray. If Jesus would have acted according to the faith of his disciples, the multitudes would have gone unfed. But he didn't, and he doesn't. God is true to us even when we forget him.

God's blessings are dispensed according to the riches of his grace, not according to the depth of our faith. “If we are not faithful, he will still be faithful, because he cannot be false to himself” (2 Timothy 2:13).

Why is that important to know? So you won't get cynical. Look around you. Aren't there more mouths than bread? Aren't there more wounds than physicians? Aren't there more who need the truth than those who tell it? Aren't there more churches asleep than churches afire?

So what do we do? Throw up our hands and walk away? Tell the world we can't help them? That's what the disciples wanted to do. Should we just give up on the church? ...

No, we don't give up. We look up. We trust. We believe. And our optimism is not hollow. Christ has proven worthy. He has shown that he never fails, though there is nothing but failure in us....

God is faithful even when his children are not.

That's what makes God, God. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

What “clouds” are there in your life that are keeping you from believing God? Commit your concerns to the Lord. Ask him to help you obey his leading despite any challenges you face.

Exploration

Faith—Matthew 17:20–21; Romans 10:17; 2 Corinthians 13:5; Colossians 1:23; 1 Timothy 1:19; 2 Timothy 2:22; Hebrews 11:1–6.

The People Complain Again

That night all the people in the camp began crying loudly. <sup>2</sup>All the Israelites complained against Moses and Aaron, and all the people said to them, “We wish we had died in Egypt or in this desert. <sup>3</sup>Why is the Lord bringing us to this land to be killed with swords? Our wives and children will be taken away. We would be better off going back to Egypt.” <sup>4</sup>They said to each other, “Let’s choose a leader and go back to Egypt.”

<sup>5</sup>Then Moses and Aaron bowed facedown in front of all the Israelites gathered there. <sup>6</sup>Joshua son of Nun and Caleb son of Jephunneh, who had explored the land, tore their clothes. <sup>7</sup>They said to all of the Israelites, “The land we explored is very good. <sup>8</sup>If the Lord is pleased with us, he will lead us into that land and give us that fertile land. <sup>9</sup>Don’t turn against the Lord! Don’t be afraid of the people in that land! We will chew them up. They have no protection, but the Lord is with us. So don’t be afraid of them.”

<sup>10</sup>Then all the people talked about killing them with stones. But the glory of the Lord appeared at the Meeting Tent to all the Israelites. <sup>11</sup>The Lord said to Moses, “How long will these people ignore me? How long will they not believe me in spite of the miracles I have done among them? <sup>12</sup>I will give them a terrible sickness and get rid of them. But I will make you into a great nation that will be stronger than they are.”

<sup>13</sup>Then Moses said to the Lord, “The Egyptians will hear about it! You brought these people from there by your great power, <sup>14</sup>and the Egyptians will tell this to those who live in this land. They have already heard about you, Lord. They know that you are with your people and that you were seen face to face. They know that your cloud stays over your people and that you lead your people with that cloud during the day and with fire at night. <sup>15</sup>If you put these people to death all at once, the nations who have heard about your power will say, <sup>16</sup>“The Lord was not able to bring them into the land he promised them. So he killed them in the desert.”

<sup>17</sup>“So show your strength now, Lord. Do what you said: <sup>18</sup>“The Lord doesn’t become angry quickly, but he has great love. He forgives sin and law breaking. But the Lord never forgets to punish guilty people. When parents sin, he will also punish their children, their grandchildren, their great-grandchildren, and their great-great-grandchildren.” <sup>19</sup>By your great love, forgive these people’s sin, just as you have forgiven them from the time they left Egypt until now.”

<sup>20</sup>The Lord answered, “I have forgiven them as you asked. <sup>21</sup>But, as surely as I live and as surely as my glory fills the whole earth, I make this promise: <sup>22</sup>All these men saw my glory and the miracles I did in Egypt and in the desert, but they disobeyed me and tested me ten times. <sup>23</sup>So not one of them will see the land I promised to their ancestors. No one who rejected me will see that land. <sup>24</sup>But my servant Caleb thinks differently and follows me completely. So I will bring him into the land he has already seen, and his children will own that land. <sup>25</sup>Since the Amalekites and the Canaanites are living in the valleys, leave tomorrow and follow the desert road toward the Red Sea.”

The Lord Punishes the People

<sup>26</sup>The Lord said to Moses and Aaron, <sup>27</sup>“How long will these evil people complain about me? I have heard the grumbling and complaining of these Israelites. <sup>28</sup>So tell them, ‘This is what the Lord says. I heard what you said, and as surely as I live, I will do those very things to you: <sup>29</sup>You will die in this desert. Every one of you who is twenty years old or older and who was counted with the people—all of you who complained against me—will die. <sup>30</sup>Not one of you will enter the land where I promised you would live; only Caleb son of Jephunneh and Joshua son of Nun will go in. <sup>31</sup>You said that your children would be taken away, but I will bring them into the land to enjoy what you refused. <sup>32</sup>As for you, you will die in this desert. <sup>33</sup>Your children will be shepherds here for forty years. Because you were not loyal, they will suffer until you lie dead in the desert. <sup>34</sup>For forty years you will suffer for your sins—a year for each of the forty days you explored the land. You will know me as your enemy.’ <sup>35</sup>I, the Lord, have spoken, and I will certainly do these things to all these evil people who have come together against me. So they will all die here in this desert.”

<sup>36</sup>The men Moses had sent to explore the land had returned and spread complaints among all the people. They had given a bad report about the land. <sup>37</sup>The men who gave a very bad report died; the Lord killed them with a terrible sickness. <sup>38</sup>Only two of the men who explored the land did not die—Joshua son of Nun and Caleb son of Jephunneh.

<sup>39</sup>When Moses told these things to all the Israelites, they were very sad. <sup>40</sup>Early the next morning they started to go toward the top of the mountains, saying, “We have sinned. We will go where the Lord told us.”

<sup>41</sup>But Moses said, “Why are you disobeying the Lord’s command? You will not win! <sup>42</sup>Don’t go, because the Lord is not with you and you will be beaten by your enemies. <sup>43</sup>You will run into the Amalekites and Canaanites, who will kill you with swords. You have turned away from the Lord, so the Lord will not be with you.”

<sup>44</sup>But they were proud. They went toward the top of the mountains, but Moses and the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord did not leave the camp. <sup>45</sup>The Amalekites and the Canaanites who lived in those mountains came down and attacked the Israelites and beat them back all the way to Hormah.

Rules About Sacrifices

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Speak to the Israelites and say to them, ‘When you enter the land that I am giving you as a home, <sup>3</sup>give the Lord offerings made by fire. These may be from your herds or flocks, as a smell pleasing to the Lord. These may be burnt offerings or sacrifices for special promises, or as gifts to him, or as festival offerings. <sup>4</sup>The one who brings the offering shall also give the Lord a grain offering. It should be two quarts of fine flour mixed with one quart of olive oil. <sup>5</sup>Each time you offer a lamb as a burnt offering or sacrifice, also prepare a quart of wine as a drink offering.

<sup>6</sup>“If you are giving a male sheep, also prepare a grain offering of four quarts of fine flour mixed with one and one-fourth quarts of olive oil. <sup>7</sup>Also prepare one and one-fourth quarts of wine as a drink offering. Its smell will be pleasing to the Lord.

<sup>8</sup>“If you prepare a young bull as a burnt offering or sacrifice, whether it is for a special promise or a fellowship offering to the Lord, <sup>9</sup>bring a grain offering with the bull. It should be six quarts of fine flour mixed with two quarts of olive oil. <sup>10</sup>Also bring two quarts of wine as a drink offering. This offering is made by fire, and its smell will be pleasing to the Lord. <sup>11</sup>Prepare each bull or male sheep, lamb or young goat this way. <sup>12</sup>Do this for every one of the animals you bring.

<sup>13</sup>“All citizens must do these things in this way, and the smell of their offerings by fire will be pleasing to the Lord. <sup>14</sup>From now on if foreigners who live among you want to make offerings by fire so the smell will be pleasing to the Lord, they must offer them the same way you do. <sup>15</sup>The law is the same for you and for foreigners, and it will be from now on; you and the foreigners are alike before the Lord. <sup>16</sup>The teachings and rules are the same for you and for the foreigners among you.”

<sup>25</sup>“The priest will remove that sin for all the Israelites so they will belong to the Lord. They are forgiven, because they didn’t know they were sinning. For the wrong they did they brought offerings to the Lord, an offering by fire and a sin offering. <sup>26</sup>So all of the people of Israel and the foreigners living among them will be forgiven. No one meant to do wrong.

<sup>27</sup>“If just one person sins without meaning to, a year-old female goat must be brought for a sin offering. <sup>28</sup>The priest will remove the sin of the person who sinned accidentally. He will remove it before the Lord, and the person will be forgiven.

<sup>29</sup>The same teaching is for everyone who sins accidentally—for those born Israelites and for foreigners living among you.

<sup>30</sup>“But anyone who sins on purpose is against the Lord and must be cut off from the people, whether it is someone born among you or a foreigner. <sup>31</sup>That person has turned against the Lord’s word and has not obeyed his commands. Such a person must surely be cut off from the others. He is guilty.”

A Man Worked on the Sabbath

<sup>32</sup>When the Israelites were still in the desert, they found a man gathering wood on the Sabbath day. <sup>33</sup>Those who found him gathering wood brought him to Moses and Aaron and all the people. <sup>34</sup>They held the man under guard, because they did not know what to do with him. <sup>35</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, “The man must surely die. All the people must kill him by throwing stones at him outside the camp.” <sup>36</sup>So all the people took him outside the camp and stoned him to death, as the Lord commanded Moses.

The Tassels

following what your bodies and eyes want.<sup>40</sup>Then you will remember to obey all my commands, and you will be God's holy people.<sup>41</sup>I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt to be your God. I am the Lord your God.”

Life Lessons

Numbers 15:1–41

Situation

God used tassels on garments as a visual reminder of his presence. Israel's religion contrasted with the pagan idol worship of other people in the land, worship led to self-centeredness and pride.

Observation

God still pointed his people toward the Promised Land, even after their rebellion in the desert. God has a purpose, and he will fulfill it. Follow him without grumbling.

Inspiration

God declares that He will faithfully remove the created things which can be shaken—the shakeable kingdom. Why? So that the unshakeable may remain. Created things give cultural Christianity its toehold. Created things defeat us and choke the Word—the worries of this life and the deceitfulness of wealth (Matthew 13:22).

When we cross over the line and refuse Him who speaks, He will separate us from the created things—the idols, the shakeable kingdom—which dilute our devotion to Him. If we cannot remain obedient, if we cannot be holy, then He will discipline us for our own good, “that we may share in his holiness.”...

Do not be alarmed if God shakes up your world. Though your first natural thought will disagree, it is a blessing. It is not a sign that you are unworthy—every one of us is unworthy. It is not a sign of hatred, but love. If He did not love you, He would let you completely self-destruct. As it is, He cleanses your life from sin....

When God disciplines you by removing created things, by shaking up your temporal kingdom, rejoice and be glad. Created things divide our affections from God and become competition to our devotion. They lure us into the wrong race. They consume our creativity and deflect our thoughts away from the Lord Jesus.

I became a cultural Christian. Created things became idols and divided me from complete, faithful devotion to our Lord. God removed most of the created things I accumulated. I built a shakeable kingdom, and God shook it. Words are inadequate to express the joy and gratitude I feel toward God for the wounds He faithfully inflicted. It may be the single greatest blessing of my spiritual pilgrimage. (From Walking with Christ in the Details of Life by Patrick M. Morley)

Application

What is your ideal day? Go ahead, dream a little. Does God have a place in it? If he is off to the side, you need realignment. Do something today to give God a greater share of your life.

Korah, Dathan, Abiram, and On

Korah, Dathan, Abiram, and On turned against Moses. (Korah was the son of Izhar, the son of Kohath, the son of Levi; Dathan and Abiram were brothers, the sons of Eliab; and On was the son of Peleth; Dathan, Abiram, and On were from the tribe of Reuben.)<sup>2</sup>These men gathered two hundred fifty other Israelite men, well-known leaders chosen by the community, and challenged Moses.<sup>3</sup>They came as a group to speak to Moses and Aaron and said, “You have gone too far. All the people are holy, every one of them, and the Lord is among them. So why do you put yourselves above all the people of the Lord?”

<sup>4</sup>When Moses heard this, he bowed facedown.<sup>5</sup>Then he said to Korah and all his followers: “Tomorrow morning the Lord will show who belongs to him. He will bring the one who is holy near to him; he will bring to himself the person he chooses.<sup>6</sup>So Korah, you and all your followers do this: Get some pans for burning incense.<sup>7</sup>Tomorrow put fire and incense in them and take them before the Lord. He will choose the man who is holy. You Levites have gone too far.”

<sup>8</sup>Moses also said to Korah, “Listen, you Levites.<sup>9</sup>The God of Israel has separated you from the rest of the Israelites. He brought you near to himself to do the work in the Lord’s Holy Tent and to stand before all the Israelites and serve them. Isn’t that enough?<sup>10</sup>He has brought you and all your fellow Levites near to himself, yet now you want to be priests.<sup>11</sup>You and your followers have joined together against the Lord. Your complaint is not against Aaron.”

<sup>12</sup>Then Moses called Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab, but they said, “We will not come! <sup>13</sup>You have brought us out of a fertile land to this desert to kill us, and now you want to order us around. <sup>14</sup>You haven’t brought us into a fertile land; you haven’t given us any land with fields and vineyards. Will you put out the eyes of these men? No! We will not come!”

<sup>15</sup>Then Moses became very angry and said to the Lord, “Don’t accept their gifts. I have not taken anything from them, not even a donkey, and I have not done wrong to any of them.”

<sup>16</sup>Then Moses said to Korah, “You and all your followers must stand before the Lord tomorrow. And Aaron will stand there with you and them. <sup>17</sup>Each of you must take your pan and put incense in it; present these two hundred fifty pans before the Lord. You and Aaron must also present your pans.” <sup>18</sup>So each man got his pan and put burning incense in it and stood with Moses and Aaron at the entrance to the Meeting Tent. <sup>19</sup>Korah gathered all his followers who were against Moses and Aaron, and they stood at the entrance to the Meeting Tent. Then the glory of the Lord appeared to everyone.

<sup>22</sup>But Moses and Aaron bowed facedown and cried out, “God, you are the God over the spirits of all people. Please don’t be angry with this whole group. Only one man has really sinned.”

“Move away from the tents of these evil men! Don’t touch anything of theirs, or you will be destroyed because of their sins.”<sup>27</sup> So they moved away from the tents of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram. Dathan and Abiram were standing outside their tents with their wives, children, and little babies.

<sup>28</sup>Then Moses said, “Now you will know that the Lord has sent me to do all these things; it was not my idea.<sup>29</sup> If these men die a normal death—the way men usually die—then the Lord did not really send me.<sup>30</sup> But if the Lord does something new, you will know they have insulted the Lord. The ground will open and swallow them. They will be buried alive and will go to the place of the dead, and everything that belongs to them will go with them.”

<sup>35</sup>Then a fire came down from the Lord and destroyed the two hundred fifty men who had presented the incense.

<sup>36</sup>The Lord said to Moses,<sup>37</sup> “Tell Eleazar son of Aaron, the priest, to take all the incense pans out of the fire. Have him scatter the coals a long distance away. But the incense pans are still holy.<sup>38</sup> Take the pans of these men who sinned and lost their lives, and hammer them into flat sheets that will be used to cover the altar. They are holy, because they were presented to the Lord, and they will be a sign to the Israelites.”

<sup>39</sup>So Eleazar the priest gathered all the bronze pans that had been brought by the men who were burned up. He had the pans hammered into flat sheets to put on the altar,<sup>40</sup> as the Lord had commanded him through Moses. These sheets were to remind the Israelites that only descendants of Aaron should burn incense before the Lord. Anyone else would die like Korah and his followers.

Aaron Saves the People

<sup>41</sup>The next day all the Israelites complained against Moses and Aaron and said, “You have killed the Lord’s people.”

<sup>44</sup>The Lord said to Moses,<sup>45</sup> “Move away from these people so I can destroy them quickly.” So Moses and Aaron bowed facedown.

<sup>46</sup>Then Moses said to Aaron, “Get your pan, and put fire from the altar and incense in it. Hurry to the people and remove their sin. The Lord is angry with them; the sickness has already started.”<sup>47</sup> So Aaron did as Moses said. He ran to the middle of the people, where the sickness had already started among them. So Aaron offered the incense to remove their sin.<sup>48</sup> He stood between the dead and the living, and the sickness stopped there.<sup>49</sup> But 14,700 people died from that sickness, in addition to those who died because of Korah.<sup>50</sup> Then Aaron went back to Moses at the entrance to the Meeting Tent. The terrible sickness had been stopped.

Numbers 16:1–18:32

Situation

God directed the Israelites back into the desert for forty years because of disobedience and unbelief. The people resisted this tough directive. Some of the Levites became disgruntled with Moses' leadership. Korah, one of the Levites, led a disastrous rebellion.

Observation

Leaders deserve our respect and support, even during trying times. We must not take part in a rebellion or gossip against a leader.

Inspiration

Recently, my wife and I had the pleasure of spending an evening with former astronaut General Charles M. Duke. All of us in the room sat in rapt fascination as the man told of the Apollo 16 mission to the moon, including some interesting tidbits related to driving "Rover," the lunar vehicle, and actually walking on the surface of the planet. We were full of questions which General Duke patiently and carefully answered one after another.

I asked, "Once you were there, weren't you free to make your own decisions and carry out some of your own experiments ... you know, sort of do as you pleased—maybe stay a little longer if you liked?" He smiled back, "Sure, Chuck, if we didn't want to return to earth!"

He then described the intricate plan, the exact and precise instructions, the essential discipline, the instant obedience that was needed right down to the split second. By the way, he said they had landed somewhat “heavy” when they touched down on the moon. He was referring to their fuel supply. They had plenty left. Guess how much. One minute. They landed with sixty seconds of fuel remaining. Talk about being exact! I got the distinct impression that a rebel spirit doesn’t fit inside a space suit. Whoever represents the United States in the space program must have an unconditional respect for authority.

Aaron's Walking Stick Buds

The Lord said to Moses,<sup>2</sup>“Speak to the people of Israel and get twelve walking sticks from them—one from the leader of each tribe. Write the name of each man on his stick, and<sup>3</sup> on the stick from Levi, write Aaron's name. There must be one stick for the head of each tribe.<sup>4</sup>Put them in the Meeting Tent in front of the Ark of the Agreement, where I meet with you.<sup>5</sup>I will choose one man whose walking stick will begin to grow leaves; in this way I will stop the Israelites from always complaining against you.”

<sup>6</sup>So Moses spoke to the Israelites. Each of the twelve leaders gave him a walking stick—one from each tribe—and Aaron's walking stick was among them.<sup>7</sup>Moses put them before the Lord in the Tent of the Agreement.

<sup>8</sup>The next day, when Moses entered the Tent, he saw that Aaron's stick (which stood for the family of Levi) had grown leaves. It had even budded, blossomed, and produced almonds.<sup>9</sup>So Moses brought out to the Israelites all the walking sticks from the Lord's presence. They all looked, and each man took back his stick.

<sup>10</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, “Put Aaron's walking stick back in front of the Ark of the Agreement. It will remind these people who are always turning against me to stop their complaining against me so they won't die.”<sup>11</sup>So Moses obeyed what the Lord commanded him.

<sup>12</sup>The people of Israel said to Moses, “We are going to die! We are destroyed. We are all destroyed!”<sup>13</sup>Anyone who even comes near the Holy Tent of the Lord will die. Will we all die?”

The Work of the Priests and Levites

The Lord said to Aaron, “You, your sons, and your family are now responsible for any wrongs done against the Holy Place; you and your sons are responsible for any wrongs done against the priests. <sup>2</sup>Bring with you your fellow Levites from your tribe, and they will help you and your sons serve in the Tent of the Agreement. <sup>3</sup>They are under your control, to do all the work that needs to be done in the Tent. But they must not go near the things in the Holy Place or near the altar. If they do, both you and they will die. <sup>4</sup>They will join you in taking care of the Meeting Tent. They must do the work at the Tent, and no one else may come near you.

<sup>5</sup>“You must take care of the Holy Place and the altar so that I won’t become angry with the Israelites again. <sup>6</sup>I myself chose your fellow Levites from among the Israelites as a gift given for you to the Lord, to work at the Meeting Tent. <sup>7</sup>But only you and your sons may serve as priests. Only you may serve at the altar or go behind the curtain. I am giving you this gift of serving as a priest, and anyone else who comes near the Holy Place will be put to death.”

<sup>8</sup>Then the Lord said to Aaron, “I myself make you responsible for the offerings given to me. All the holy offerings that the Israelites give to me, I give to you and your sons as your share, your continual portion. <sup>9</sup>Your share of the holy offerings is that part which is not burned. When the people bring me gifts as most holy offerings, whether they are grain or sin or penalty offerings, they will be set apart for you and your sons. <sup>10</sup>You must eat the offering in a most holy place. Any male may eat it, but you must respect it as holy.

<sup>11</sup>“I also give you the offerings the Israelites present to me. I give these to you and your sons and daughters as your continual share. Anyone in your family who is clean may eat it.

<sup>12</sup>“And I give you all the best olive oil and all the best new wine and grain. This is what the Israelites give to me, the Lord, from the first crops they harvest. <sup>13</sup>When they bring to the Lord all the first things they harvest, they will be yours. Anyone in your family who is clean may eat these things.

<sup>14</sup>“Everything in Israel that is given to the Lord is yours. <sup>15</sup>The first one born to any family, whether people or animals, will be offered to the Lord. And that will be yours. But you must make a payment for every firstborn child and every firstborn animal that is unclean. <sup>16</sup>When they are one month old, you must make a payment for them of two ounces of silver, as set by the Holy Place measure.

<sup>17</sup>“But you must not make a payment for the firstborn ox or sheep or goat. Those animals are holy. Sprinkle their blood on the altar and burn their fat as an offering made by fire. The smell is pleasing to the Lord. <sup>18</sup>But the meat will be yours, just as the breast that is presented and the right thigh will be yours. <sup>19</sup>Anything the Israelites present as holy gifts I, the Lord, give to you, your sons and daughters as your continual portion. This is a lasting agreement of salt before the Lord for you and your children forever.”

<sup>20</sup>The Lord also said to Aaron, “You will not inherit any of the land, and you will not own any land among the other people. I will be yours. Out of all the Israelites, only you will inherit me.

<sup>21</sup>“When the people of Israel give me a tenth of what they make, I will give that tenth to the Levites. This is their payment for the work they do serving at the Meeting Tent. <sup>22</sup>But the other Israelites must never go near the Meeting Tent, or they will die for their sin. <sup>23</sup>Only the Levites should work in the Meeting Tent and be responsible for any sins against it. This is a rule from now on. The Levites will not inherit any land among the other Israelites, <sup>24</sup>but when the Israelites give a tenth of everything they make to me, I will give that tenth to the Levites as a reward. That is why I said about the Levites: ‘They will not inherit any land among the Israelites.’”

<sup>25</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>26</sup>“Speak to the Levites and tell them: ‘You will receive a tenth of everything the Israelites make, which I will give to you. But you must give a tenth of that back to the Lord. <sup>27</sup>I will accept your offering just as much as I accept the offerings from others, who give new grain or new wine. <sup>28</sup>In this way you will present an offering to the Lord as the other Israelites do. When you receive a tenth from the Israelites, you will give a tenth of that to Aaron, the priest, as the Lord’s share. <sup>29</sup>Choose the best and holiest part from what you are given as the portion you must give to the Lord.’

<sup>30</sup>“Say to the Levites: ‘When you present the best, it will be accepted as much as the grain and wine from the other people. <sup>31</sup>You and your families may eat all that is left anywhere, because it is your pay for your work in the Meeting Tent. <sup>32</sup>And if you always give the best part to the Lord, you will never be guilty. If you do not sin against the holy offerings of the Israelites, you will not die.’”

The Offering for Cleansing

The Lord said to Moses and Aaron, <sup>2</sup>“These are the teachings that the Lord commanded. Tell the Israelites to get a young red cow that does not have anything wrong with it and that has never been worked. <sup>3</sup>Give the cow to Eleazar the priest; he will take it outside the camp and kill it. <sup>4</sup>Then Eleazar the priest must put some of its blood on his finger and sprinkle it seven times toward the front of the Meeting Tent. <sup>5</sup>The whole cow must be burned while he watches; the skin, the meat, the blood, and the intestines must all be burned. <sup>6</sup>Then the priest must take a cedar stick, a hyssop branch, and a red string and throw them onto the burning cow. <sup>7</sup>After the priest has washed himself and his clothes with water, he may come back into the camp, but he will be unclean until evening. <sup>8</sup>The man who burns the cow must wash himself and his clothes in water; he will be unclean until evening.

<sup>9</sup>“Then someone who is clean will collect the ashes from the cow and put them in a clean place outside the camp. The Israelites will keep these ashes to use in the cleansing water, in a special ceremony to cleanse away sin. <sup>10</sup>The man who collected the cow’s ashes must wash his clothes and be unclean until evening. This is a lasting rule for the Israelites and for the foreigners among them.

<sup>11</sup>“Those who touch a dead person’s body will be unclean for seven days. <sup>12</sup>They must wash themselves with the cleansing water on the third day and on the seventh day; then they will be clean. But if they do not wash themselves on the third day and the seventh day, they cannot be clean. <sup>13</sup>If those who touch a dead person's body stay unclean and go to the Lord's Holy Tent, it becomes unclean; they must be cut off from Israel. If the cleansing water is not sprinkled on them, they are unclean and will stay unclean.

<sup>14</sup>“This is the teaching about someone who dies in a tent: Anyone in the tent or anyone who enters it will be unclean for seven days. <sup>15</sup>And every open jar or pot without a cover becomes unclean. <sup>16</sup>If anyone is outside and touches someone who was killed by a sword or who died a natural death, or if anyone touches a human bone or a grave, that person will be unclean for seven days.

<sup>17</sup>“So you must use the ashes from the burnt offering to make that person clean again. Pour fresh water over the ashes into a jar. <sup>18</sup>A clean person must take a hyssop branch and dip it into the water, and then he must sprinkle it over the tent and all its objects. He must also sprinkle the people who were there, as well as anyone who touched a bone, or the body of someone who was killed, or a dead person, or a grave. <sup>19</sup>The person who is clean must sprinkle this water on the unclean people on the third day and on the seventh day. On the seventh day they will become clean. They must wash their clothes and take a bath, and they will be clean that evening. <sup>20</sup>If any who are unclean do not become clean, they must be cut off from the community. Since they were not sprinkled with the cleansing water, they stay unclean, and they could make the Lord's Holy Tent unclean. <sup>21</sup>This is a lasting rule. Those who sprinkle the cleansing water must also wash their clothes, and anyone who touches the water will be unclean until evening. <sup>22</sup>Anything an unclean person touches becomes unclean, and whoever touches it will be unclean until evening.”

Our Savior kneels down and gazes upon the darkest acts of our lives. But rather than recoil in horror, he reaches out in kindness and says, “I can clean that if you want.” — Max Lucado (Just Like Jesus)

Jesus: The One Who Purifies Our Hearts

The [oil] refinery does for petroleum and other products what your heart should do for you. It takes out the bad and utilizes the good.

We tend to think of the heart as the seat of emotion. We speak of “heartthrobs,” “heartaches,” and “broken hearts.”

But when Jesus said, “Blessed are the pure in heart” [Matthew 5:8], he was speaking in a different context. To Jesus’ listeners, the heart was the totality of the inner person—the control tower, the cockpit. The heart was thought of as the seat of the character—the origin of desires, affections, perceptions, thoughts, reasoning, imagination, conscience, intentions, purpose, will, and faith.

Thus a proverb admonished, “Above all else, guard your heart, for it is the wellspring of life” [Proverbs 4:23, NIV].

To the Hebrew mind, the heart is a freeway cloverleaf where all emotions and prejudices and wisdom converge. It is a switch house that receives freight cars loaded with moods, dead emotions and convictions and puts them on the right track.

And just as low-grade oil or alloyed gasoline would cause you to question the performance of a refinery, evil acts and impure thoughts cause us to question the condition of our hearts. . . .

The heart is the center of the spiritual life. If the fruit of a tree is bad, you don't try to fix the fruit; you treat the roots. And if a person's actions are evil, it's not enough to change habits; you have to go deeper. You have to go to the heart of the problem, which is the problem of the heart. . . .

And Jesus' statement rings true: "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God."

Note the order of this beatitude: first purify the heart, then you will see God. (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Numbers 19:1–21:35

Situation

The Israelites returned to Kadesh thirty-seven years after the disappointing spy mission. Nearly all of the generation that left Egypt had died. Moses felt the people were ready for a fresh start toward the Promised Land.

Observation

God continued to be in control as he led his people, even to the extent of denying the leaders, Moses and Aaron, entrance into the Promised Land. When the people entered the land without these great men, God showed that his power does not depend on any dynamic leader.

Inspiration

Human nature begs to construct a picture of what we think God is like, a kind of spiritual box we can fit Him into. We want a fix on God. The how-to formulas are actually comforting—tangible evidence that things will work out the way we want them to.

The kind of disappointment or letdown that jars our faith, though, also causes the walls of that box to dissolve. The spiritual territory here is uncharted and sometimes frightening. Perhaps you took a wrong turn to arrive at such a place. You don't know what else lurks in the darkness. As one friend said, “Suddenly, I realized that if the thing I feared had happened, then almost anything else was possible, too. I no longer felt safe.”

Can't I just return to the days when faith seemed sure and simple? Can't I just go back to where I was? These are natural questions to ask. We long for a Bible study or spiritual retreat or earnest effort or something that promises that old certainty. We long for faith to lose its tentative feel—to cease to feel like faith.

There is no going back, though. Our manageable belief system no longer works so well. The walls of the box begin to crumble. God often seems strangely absent, as though He has left us on our own to sort things out. Yet, in reality, what we are experiencing is this pain and confusion of letting go, not of God, but of the safe, secure, confines we built to house our concept of Him. God is not a concept to be mastered, a set of prescriptions we can control. He shows Himself to be much different than we thought—more loving, more exacting, more faithful.

Moses Disobeys God

In the first month all the people of Israel arrived at the Desert of Zin, and they stayed at Kadesh. There Miriam died and was buried.<sup>2</sup>There was no water for the people, so they came together against Moses and Aaron.<sup>3</sup>They argued with Moses and said, “We should have died in front of the Lord as our brothers did.<sup>4</sup>Why did you bring the Lord’s people into this desert? Are we and our animals to die here?<sup>5</sup>Why did you bring us from Egypt to this terrible place? It has no grain, figs, grapevines, or pomegranates, and there’s no water to drink!”

<sup>6</sup>So Moses and Aaron left the people and went to the entrance of the Meeting Tent. There they bowed facedown, and the glory of the Lord appeared to them.<sup>7</sup>The Lord said to Moses,<sup>8</sup>“Take your walking stick, and you and your brother Aaron should gather the people. Speak to that rock in front of them so that its water will flow from it. When you bring the water out from that rock, give it to the people and their animals.”

<sup>9</sup>So Moses took the stick from in front of the Lord, as he had said.<sup>10</sup>Moses and Aaron gathered the people in front of the rock, and Moses said, “Now listen to me, you who turn against God! Do you want us to bring water out of this rock?”

<sup>11</sup>Then Moses lifted his hand and hit the rock twice with his stick. Water began pouring out, and the people and their animals drank it.

<sup>12</sup>But the Lord said to Moses and Aaron, “Because you did not believe me, and because you did not honor me as holy before the people, you will not lead them into the land I will give them.”

<sup>13</sup>These are the waters of Meribah, where the Israelites argued with the Lord and where he showed them he was holy.

Edom Will Not Let Israel Pass

<sup>14</sup>From Kadesh, Moses sent messengers to the king of Edom. He said, “Your brothers, the Israelites, say to you: You know about all the troubles we have had, <sup>15</sup>how our ancestors went down into Egypt and we lived there for many years. The people of Egypt were cruel to us and our ancestors, <sup>16</sup>but when we cried out to the Lord, he heard us and sent us an angel to bring us out of Egypt.

“Now we are here at Kadesh, a town on the edge of your land. <sup>17</sup>Please let us pass through your country. We will not touch any fields of grain or vineyards, and will not drink water from the wells. We will travel only along the king’s road, not turning right or left until we have passed through your country.”

<sup>18</sup>But the king of Edom answered: “You may not pass through here. If you try, I will come and meet you with swords.”

<sup>19</sup>The Israelites answered: “We will go along the main road, and if we or our animals drink any of your water, we will pay for it. We only want to walk through. That’s all.”

Then the Edomites went out to meet the Israelites with a large and powerful army. <sup>21</sup>The Edomites refused to let them pass through their country, so the Israelites turned back.

Aaron Dies

<sup>27</sup>Moses obeyed the Lord’s command. They climbed up Mount Hor, and all the people saw them go. <sup>28</sup>Moses took off Aaron’s clothes and put them on Aaron’s son Eleazar. Then Aaron died there on top of the mountain. Moses and Eleazar came back down the mountain, <sup>29</sup>and when all the people learned that Aaron was dead, everyone in Israel cried for him for thirty days.

War with the Canaanites

The Canaanite king of Arad lived in the southern area. When he heard that the Israelites were coming on the road to Atharim, he attacked them and captured some of them.<sup>2</sup> Then the Israelites made this promise to the Lord: “If you will help us defeat these people, we will completely destroy their cities.”<sup>3</sup> The Lord listened to the Israelites, and he let them defeat the Canaanites. The Israelites completely destroyed the Canaanites and their cities, so the place was named Hormah.

The Bronze Snake

<sup>4</sup>The Israelites left Mount Hor and went on the road toward the Red Sea, in order to go around the country of Edom. But the people became impatient on the way<sup>5</sup> and grumbled at God and Moses. They said, “Why did you bring us out of Egypt to die in this desert? There is no bread and no water, and we hate this terrible food!”

<sup>6</sup>So the Lord sent them poisonous snakes; they bit the people, and many of the Israelites died.<sup>7</sup> The people came to Moses and said, “We sinned when we grumbled at you and the Lord. Pray that the Lord will take away these snakes.” So Moses prayed for the people.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord said to Moses, “Make a bronze snake, and put it on a pole. When anyone who is bitten looks at it, that person will live.”<sup>9</sup> So Moses made a bronze snake and put it on a pole. Then when a snake bit anyone, that person looked at the bronze snake and lived.

The Journey to Moab

<sup>10</sup>The Israelites went and camped at Oboth. <sup>11</sup>They went from Oboth to Iye Abarim, in the desert east of Moab. <sup>12</sup>From there they went and camped in the Zered Valley. <sup>13</sup>From there they went and camped across the Arnon, in the desert just inside the Amorite country. The Arnon is the border between the Moabites and the Amorites. <sup>14</sup>That is why the Book of the Wars of the Lord says:

“... and Waheb in Suphah, and the ravines, the Arnon, <sup>15</sup>and the slopes of the ravines that lead to the settlement of Ar.
These places are at the border of Moab.”

<sup>16</sup>The Israelites went from there to Beer; a well is there where the Lord said to Moses, “Gather the people and I will give them water.”

<sup>17</sup>Then the Israelites sang this song:

Sing about it.
<sup>18</sup>Princes dug this well.
Important men made it.
With their scepters and poles, they dug it.”

Between his hand and the wood is a list. A long list. A list of our mistakes: our lusts and lies and greedy moments and prodigal years. A list of our sins. —Max Lucado (He ### Chose the Nails)

The people went from the desert to Mattanah.<sup>19</sup>From Mattanah they went to Nahaliel and on to Bamoth.<sup>20</sup>From Bamoth they went to the valley of Moab where the top of Mount Pisgah looks over the desert.

New Life in Christ

“When anyone who is bitten looks at [the bronze snake], that person will live.” — Numbers 21:8

Jesus Made Sin for Us

God assigned himself the task of balancing your account. You cannot deal with your own sins. “Only God can forgive sins” (Mark 2:7). Jesus is “the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world.” It’s not you! (John 1:29)....

So what did he do? “God was in Christ, making peace between us and himself. In Christ, God did not hold the world guilty of its sins. And he gave us this message of peace.... Christ had no sin, but God made him become sin so that in Christ we could become right with God” (2 Corinthians 5:19–21).

Don’t miss what happened. He took your statement flowing with red ink and bad checks and put his name at the top. He took his statement, which listed a million deposits and not one withdrawal, and put your name at the top. He assumed your debt. You assumed his fortune. And that’s not all he did.

He also paid your penalty. If you are overdrawn at a bank, a fine must be paid. If you are overdrawn with God, a penalty must be paid as well. The fine at the bank is a hassle. But the penalty from God is hell. Jesus not only balanced your account, he paid your penalty. He took your place and paid the price for your sins. “He changed places with us and put himself under that curse” (Galatians 3:13). (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

Question: How have you responded to Christ becoming sin for you?

Israel Kills Sihon and Og

<sup>21</sup>The Israelites sent messengers to Sihon, king of the Amorites, saying, <sup>22</sup>“Let us pass through your country. We will not go through any fields of grain or vineyards, or drink water from the wells. We will travel only along the king’s road until we have passed through your country.”

<sup>23</sup>But King Sihon would not let the Israelites pass through his country. He gathered his whole army together, and they marched out to meet Israel in the desert. At Jahaz they fought the Israelites. <sup>24</sup>Israel killed the king and captured his land from the Arnon River to the Jabbok River. They took the land as far as the Ammonite border, which was strongly defended. <sup>25</sup>Israel captured all the Amorite cities and lived in them, taking Heshbon and all the towns around it. <sup>26</sup>Heshbon was the city where Sihon, the Amorite king, lived. In the past he had fought with the king of Moab and had taken all the land as far as the Arnon.

“Come to Heshbon and rebuild it;
rebuild Sihon’s city.

<sup>28</sup>A fire began in Heshbon;
flames came from Sihon’s city.
It destroyed Ar in Moab, and it burned the Arnon highlands.

<sup>29</sup>How terrible for you, Moab!

The people of Chemosh are ruined.
His sons ran away and his daughters were captured by Sihon, king of the Amorites.
<sup>30</sup>But we defeated those Amorites.
We ruined their towns from Heshbon to Dibon, and we destroyed them as far as Nophah, near Medeba.”

<sup>34</sup>The Lord said to Moses, “Don’t be afraid of him. I will hand him, his whole army, and his land over to you. Do to him what you did to Sihon, the Amorite king who lived in Heshbon.”

Balak Sends for Balaam

Then the people of Israel went to the plains of Moab, and they camped near the Jordan River across from Jericho.

<sup>4</sup>The Moabites said to the older leaders of Midian, “These people will take everything around us like an ox eating grass.”

Balak son of Zippor was the king of Moab at this time. <sup>5</sup>He sent messengers to Balaam son of Beor at Pethor, near the Euphrates River in his native land. Balak said, “A nation has come out of Egypt that covers the land. They have camped next to me, <sup>6</sup>and they are too powerful for me. So come and put a curse on them. Maybe then I can defeat them and make them leave the area. I know that if you bless someone, the blessings happen, and if you put a curse on someone, it happens.”

<sup>7</sup>The older leaders of Moab and Midian went with payment in their hands. When they found Balaam, they told him what Balak had said.

<sup>8</sup>Balaam said to them, “Stay here for the night, and I will tell you what the Lord tells me.” So the Moabite leaders stayed with him.

<sup>9</sup>God came to Balaam and asked, “Who are these men with you?”

<sup>10</sup>Balaam said to God, “The king of Moab, Balak son of Zippor, sent them to me with this message: <sup>11</sup>‘A nation has come out of Egypt that covers the land. So come and put a curse on them, and maybe I can fight them and force them out of my land.”

<sup>12</sup>But God said to Balaam, “Do not go with them. Don’t put a curse on those people, because I have blessed them.”

<sup>13</sup>The next morning Balaam awoke and said to Balak’s leaders, “Go back to your own country; the Lord has refused to let me go with you.”

<sup>14</sup>So the Moabite leaders went back to Balak and said, “Balaam refused to come with us.”

<sup>15</sup>So Balak sent other leaders—this time there were more of them, and they were more important. <sup>16</sup>They went to Balaam and said, “Balak son of Zippor says this: Please don’t let anything stop you from coming to me. <sup>17</sup>I will pay you very well, and I will do what you say. Come and put a curse on these people for me.”

<sup>18</sup>But Balaam answered Balak’s servants, “King Balak could give me his palace full of silver and gold, but I cannot disobey the Lord my God in anything, great or small. <sup>19</sup>You stay here tonight as the other men did, and I will find out what more the Lord tells me.”

<sup>20</sup>That night God came to Balaam and said, “These men have come to ask you to go with them. Go, but only do what I tell you.”

Balaam’s Donkey Speaks

<sup>21</sup>Balaam got up the next morning and put a saddle on his donkey. Then he went with the Moabite leaders. <sup>22</sup>But God became angry because Balaam went, so the angel of the Lord stood in the road to stop Balaam. Balaam was riding his donkey, and he had two servants with him. <sup>23</sup>When the donkey saw the angel of the Lord standing in the road with a sword in his hand, the donkey left the road and went into the field. Balaam hit the donkey to force her back on the road.

<sup>29</sup>Balaam answered the donkey, "You have made me look foolish! I wish I had a sword in my hand! I would kill you right now!"

<sup>30</sup>But the donkey said to Balaam, "I am your very own donkey, which you have ridden for years. Have I ever done this to you before?"

"No," Balaam said.

<sup>32</sup>The angel of the Lord asked Balaam, "Why have you hit your donkey three times? I have stood here to stop you, because what you are doing is wrong. <sup>33</sup>The donkey saw me and turned away from me three times. If she had not turned away, I would have killed you by now, but I would have let her live."

<sup>34</sup>Then Balaam said to the angel of the Lord, “I have sinned; I did not know you were standing in the road to stop me. If I am wrong, I will go back.”

<sup>35</sup>The angel of the Lord said to Balaam, “Go with these men, but say only what I tell you.” So Balaam went with Balak’s leaders.

<sup>36</sup>When Balak heard that Balaam was coming, he went out to meet him at Ar in Moab, which was beside the Arnon, at the edge of his country. <sup>37</sup>Balak said to Balaam, “I had asked you before to come quickly. Why didn’t you come to me? I am able to reward you well.”

<sup>41</sup>The next morning Balak took Balaam to Bamoth Baal; from there he could see the edge of the Israelite camp.

Life Lessons

Numbers 22:1–25:18

Situation

People in Old Testament times commonly believed in curses and blessings. Balak and the Moabites wanted the sorcerer, Balaam, to use his supposed influence with Israel’s God to curse the Israelites and halt their progress into Canaan.

Observation

God evaluates both motives and actions. Individuals' inner heart attitudes, such as Balaam's desire for power and money, will eventually be revealed no matter what outward disguise they use.

Inspiration

Character is what we truly are, compared with what we seem to be. You can appear to be generous even when your heart is that of a skinflint.

Character is different from piety. By piety, I mean a personal relationship with God. By character, I mean the quality of the person. Even so, they are certainly inseparable; God is quite interested in character, and there is something wrong if a pious person does not have a good moral character. . . .

When considering what makes for good moral character, the word virtue comes to mind. The ancient Greeks used the word to mean "excellence." I would like to consider the classic definition of virtue as part of our description of character.

In the Greek catalog, there were four cardinal virtues—four things that you should never leave home without. The first is discernment. Unless you are able to discern what is really going on in a situation, what people are feeling, and what is important, you will always make wrong decisions. My theory is that the greatest moral disputes of any age are differences not so much in moral theory as in the power of discernment. This virtue is the essence of Paul's advice: "Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind. Then you will be able to test and approve what God's will is—his good, pleasing and perfect will" (Romans 12:2).

The second virtue is courage. It is the power to do well when the air is turbulent and the going gets tough. It is having the character to do well when things are tempting, when things are painful. It is easy to be a mother when a baby is cooing and gurgling over breakfast; it takes courage to be a mother when the child suffers from a terrible and incurable handicap. Courage is the power to do well in the face of a threat—to your life, to your security, to your future, to the things you hold dear. The Old Testament is a symphony of variations on the theme of courage.

Temperance is the third virtue. It means being in charge of your own life. To manage, to control, to be able to orchestrate all the stuff that is going on inside. Of course, by control of one's life, I do not mean that a Christian gallops ahead on his own, oblivious of Christ's lordship. A temperate person gives control to God, and in turn accepts genuine responsibility as a challenge from God. The temperate person does not let circumstances, substances, or other people control him. Like other gifts of the Spirit, temperance needs to be practiced, lest we lose it.

The fourth virtue is justice. The person of justice determines always to be fair and does not treat one person differently from another. It is rejecting questions such as Whose wheel is squeaking the loudest? or Who will reward me the most? The prophets called out for justice, stating God's case against Israel: “He has showed you, O man, what is good. And what does the Lord require of you? To act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God” (Micah 6:8)... .

In the long run, God will not ask how happy you were. He will ask, What sort of person were you? (From “Basic Moral Characteristics” by Lewis Smedes in Practical Christianity)

Application

Which of these virtues do you most want to develop? Commit yourself during the next month to develop that virtue. Write a note to remind yourself of this goal. Put it on your mirror, in your locker, or car. Think about ways to develop virtue in your life.

Balaam's First Message

Balaam said to Balak, "Build me seven altars here, and prepare seven bulls and seven male sheep for me." <sup>2</sup>Balak did what Balaam asked, and they offered a bull and a male sheep on each of the altars.

<sup>3</sup>Then Balaam said to Balak, "Stay here beside your burnt offering and I will go. If the Lord comes to me, I will tell you whatever he shows me." Then Balaam went to a higher place.

<sup>4</sup>God came to Balaam there, and Balaam said to him, "I have prepared seven altars, and I have offered a bull and a male sheep on each altar."

<sup>5</sup>The Lord told Balaam what he should say. Then the Lord said, "Go back to Balak and give him this message."

<sup>6</sup>So Balaam went back to Balak. Balak and all the leaders of Moab were still standing beside his burnt offering <sup>7</sup>when Balaam gave them this message:

"Balak brought me here from Aram;
the king of Moab brought me from the eastern mountains.

Balak said, 'Come, put a curse on the people of Jacob for me.

Come, call down evil on the people of Israel.'

<sup>8</sup>But God has not cursed them, so I cannot curse them.

The Lord has not called down evil on them, so I cannot call down evil on them.

<sup>9</sup>I see them from the top of the mountains;

I see them from the hills.
I see a people who live alone, who think they are different from other nations.
<sup>10</sup>No one can number the many people of Jacob, and no one can count a fourth of Israel.
Let me die like good men, and let me end up like them!”

<sup>11</sup>Balak said to Balaam, “What have you done to me? I brought you here to curse my enemies, but you have only blessed them!”

Balaam's Second Message

<sup>13</sup>Then Balak said to him, “Come with me to another place, where you can also see the people. But you can only see part of them, not all of them. Curse them for me from there.” <sup>14</sup>So Balak took Balaam to the field of Zophim, on top of Mount Pisgah. There Balak built seven altars and offered a bull and a male sheep on each altar.

<sup>15</sup>So Balaam said to Balak, “Stay here by your burnt offering, and I will meet with God over there.”

<sup>16</sup>So the Lord came to Balaam and told him what to say. Then he said, “Go back to Balak and say such and such.”

<sup>17</sup>So Balaam went to Balak, where he and the leaders of Moab were standing beside his burnt offering. Balak asked him, “What did the Lord say?”

<sup>18</sup>Then Balaam gave this message:

“Stand up, Balak, and listen.
Hear me, son of Zippor.

<sup>19</sup>God is not a human being, and he will not lie.
He is not a human, and he does not change his mind.
What he says he will do, he does.
What he promises, he makes come true.

<sup>20</sup>He told me to bless them, so I cannot change the blessing.

<sup>21</sup>He has found no wrong in the people of Jacob;
he saw no fault in Israel.
The Lord their God is with them, and they praise their King.

<sup>22</sup>God brought them out of Egypt;
they are as strong as a wild ox.

<sup>23</sup>No tricks will work on the people of Jacob, and no magic will work against Israel.
People now say about them,
‘Look what God has done for Israel!’

<sup>24</sup>The people rise up like a lioness;
they get up like a lion.
Lions don’t rest until they have eaten, until they have drunk their enemies’ blood.”

<sup>25</sup>Then Balak said to Balaam, “You haven’t cursed these people, so at least, don’t bless them!”

Balaam’s Third Message

<sup>27</sup>Then Balak said to Balaam, “Come, I will take you to another place. Maybe God will be pleased to let you curse them from there.” <sup>28</sup>So Balak took Balaam to the top of Peor, the mountain that looks over the desert.

<sup>29</sup>Balaam told Balak, “Build me seven altars here and prepare for me seven bulls and seven male sheep.” <sup>30</sup>Balak did what Balaam asked, and he offered a bull and a male sheep on each altar.

Balaam saw that the Lord wanted to bless Israel, so he did not try to use any magic but looked toward the desert.<sup>2</sup> When Balaam saw the Israelites camped in their tribes, the Spirit of God took control of him,<sup>3</sup> and he gave this message:

“This is the message of Balaam son of Beor,
the message of a man who sees clearly;

<sup>4</sup>this is the message of a man who hears the words of God.

I see a vision from the Almighty,
and my eyes are open as I fall before him.

<sup>5</sup>Your tents are beautiful, people of Jacob!
So are your homes, Israel!

<sup>6</sup>Your tents spread out like valleys, like gardens beside a river.

They are like spices planted by the Lord, like cedar trees growing by the water.

<sup>7</sup>Israel’s water buckets will always be full,
and their crops will have plenty of water.

Their king will be greater than Agag;
their kingdom will be very great.

<sup>8</sup>God brought them out of Egypt;
they are as strong as a wild ox.

They will defeat their enemies and break their enemies’ bones;
they will shoot them with arrows.

<sup>9</sup>Like a lion, they lie waiting to attack;
like a lioness, no one would be brave enough to wake them.

Anyone who blesses you will be blessed, and anyone who curses you will be cursed.”

<sup>10</sup>Then Balak was angry with Balaam, and he pounded his fist. He said to Balaam, “I called you here to curse my enemies, but you have continued to bless them three times. <sup>11</sup>Now go home! I said I would pay you well, but the Lord has made you lose your reward.”

<sup>12</sup>Balaam said to Balak, “When you sent messengers to me, I told them, <sup>13</sup>‘Balak could give me his palace filled with silver and gold, but I still cannot go against the Lord’s commands. I could not do anything, good or bad, on my own, but I must say what the Lord says.’ <sup>14</sup>Now I am going back to my own people, but I will tell you what these people will do to your people in the future.”

Balaam’s Final Message

<sup>15</sup>Then Balaam gave this message:

“This is the message of Balaam son of Beor,
the message of a man who sees clearly;

<sup>16</sup>this is the message of a man who hears the words of God.

I know well the Most High God.
I see a vision from the Almighty,
and my eyes are open as I fall before him.

<sup>17</sup>I see someone who will come some day, someone who will come, but not soon.

A star will come from Jacob;
a ruler will rise from Israel.
He will crush the heads of the Moabites and smash the skulls of the sons of Sheth.

<sup>18</sup>Edom will be conquered; his enemy Edom will be conquered, but Israel will grow wealthy.

<sup>19</sup>A ruler will come from the descendants of Jacob and will destroy those left in the city.”

“Amalek was the most important nation, but Amalek will be destroyed at last.”

<sup>21</sup>Then Balaam saw the Kenites and gave this message:

like a nest on a cliff.
<sup>22</sup>But you Kenites will be burned up;
Assyria will keep you captive.”

<sup>23</sup>Then Balaam gave this message:

“No one can live when God does this.
<sup>24</sup>Ships will sail from the shores of Cyprus and defeat Assyria and Eber, but they will also be destroyed.”

<sup>25</sup>Then Balaam got up and returned home, and Balak also went on his way.

Israel Worships Baal at Peor

While the people of Israel were still camped at Acacia, the men began sinning sexually with Moabite women.<sup>2</sup>The women invited them to their sacrifices to their gods, and the Israelites ate food there and worshiped these gods.<sup>3</sup>So the Israelites began to worship Baal of Peor, and the Lord was very angry with them.

<sup>4</sup>The Lord said to Moses, “Get all the leaders of the people and kill them in open daylight in the presence of the Lord. Then the Lord will not be angry with the people of Israel.”

<sup>5</sup>So Moses said to Israel’s judges, “Each of you must put to death your people who have become worshipers of Baal of Peor.”

<sup>10</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>11</sup>“Phinehas son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron, the priest, has saved the Israelites from my anger. He hates sin as much as I do. Since he tried to save my honor among them, I will not kill them. <sup>12</sup>So tell Phinehas that I am making my peace agreement with him. <sup>13</sup>He and his descendants will always be priests, because he had great concern for the honor of his God. He removed the sins of the Israelites so they would belong to God.”

<sup>14</sup>The Israelite man who was killed with the Midianite woman was named Zimri son of Salu. He was the leader of a family in the tribe of Simeon. <sup>15</sup>And the name of the Midianite woman who was put to death was Cozbi daughter of Zur, who was the chief of a Midianite family.

<sup>16</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>17</sup>“The Midianites are your enemies, and you should kill them. <sup>18</sup>They have already made you their enemies, because they tricked you at Peor and because of their sister Cozbi, the daughter of a Midianite leader. She was the woman who was killed when the sickness came because the people sinned at Peor.”

Numbers 26:1-27:23

Situation

Israel needed a new census because everyone over age twenty at the previous census had died. Census-taking demonstrated that God was keeping his people united and organized.

Observation

From the appointment of Joshua as his successor to the taking of a new census, Moses demonstrated consistency in following God. Leaders today can learn from his example.

Inspiration

Two great problems in serving others are both problems of human nature, of focusing on our relationship with people instead of our relationship with Christ. The first problem is that people will expect too much of you; and the second, you will expect too much of them. Both of these problems are problems of unrealistic expectations. Expectations must be focused on Christ, not each other. He is the only One who will consistently not let us down.

The milk of human sympathy will undernourish your soul. No amount of human gratitude will properly compensate your effort to improve the human condition. When we focus on serving the person, we are inevitably disappointed. And what's more, we will disappoint them. Serving people for the sake of their gratitude is a guaranteed formula for disappointment. Just when you begin to feel good about your labors, someone lets you down. Or, more likely, someone will expect too much from you and accuse you of letting them down. Either way, your destiny is to be terribly discouraged. . . .

The key is the personal relationship with Christ. The focus must not be on serving others or on being served. The focus must be on Jesus, on becoming so absorbed in the relationship with Him that every other thing is a response to our relationship. We do not serve men; we serve God. Have no expectations of men. Focus on the personal relationship with Him, and there will be an overflow available for others.

Look to Christ alone for gratitude. If you serve Christ, then you will remember to look to Him for your approval, not to the milk of human sympathy. He will reward you for serving others; in fact, He is the reward.

When someone feels you let them down, you can surrender that relationship to Christ. You are serving Him only; He will give you the strength to serve that person more. You may want to flee from the ingratitude—the insatiable demands of other people—but Christ will empower you to be a servant if you take on His attitude. It can only come by devotion to the personal relationship.

The personal relationship with Christ is the oasis in the desert of human relations. When people begin to wear you down, let it remind you that you are not in the overflow. It is time to drink of Christ. (From Walking with Christ in the Details of Life by Patrick Morley)

Application

Take a motivation inventory. Do you serve others for the praise you receive or for the pleasure of serving Christ? When you have an opportunity to serve, ask God to help you have the right motives. Ask yourself: Why would I do this?

The People Are Counted

After the great sickness, the Lord said to Moses and Eleazar son of Aaron, the priest, <sup>2</sup>“Count all the people of Israel by families. Count all the men who are twenty years old or older who will serve in the army of Israel.” <sup>3</sup>Moses and Eleazar the priest spoke to the people on the plains of Moab near the Jordan River, across from Jericho. They said, <sup>4</sup>“Count the men twenty years old or older, as the Lord commanded Moses.”

Here are the Israelites who came out of Egypt:

<sup>5</sup>The tribe of Reuben, the first son born to Israel, was counted. From Hanoch came the Hanochite family group; from Pallu came the Palluite family group; <sup>6</sup>from Hezron came the Hezronite family group; from Carmi came the Carmite family group. <sup>7</sup>These were the family groups of Reuben, and the total number of men was 43,730.

<sup>8</sup>The son of Pallu was Eliab, <sup>9</sup>and Eliab’s sons were Nemuel, Dathan, and Abiram. Dathan and Abiram were the leaders who turned against Moses and Aaron and followed Korah when he turned against the Lord. <sup>10</sup>The earth opened up and swallowed them and Korah; they died at the same time the fire burned up the 250 men. This was a warning, <sup>11</sup>but the children of Korah did not die.

<sup>12</sup>These were the family groups in the tribe of Simeon: From Nemuel came the Nemuelite family group; from Jamin came the Jaminite family group; from Jakin came the Jakinite family group; <sup>13</sup>from Zerah came the Zerahite family group; from Shaul came the Shaulite family group. <sup>14</sup>These were the family groups of Simeon, and the total number of men was 22,200.

<sup>23</sup>These were the family groups in the tribe of Issachar: From Tola came the Tolaite family group; from Puah came the Puite family group; <sup>24</sup>from Jashub came the Jashubite family group; from Shimron came the Shimronite family group. <sup>25</sup>These were the family groups of Issachar, and the total number of men was 64,300.

<sup>26</sup>These were the family groups in the tribe of Zebulun: From Sered came the Seredite family group; from Elon came the Elonite family group; from Jahleel came the Jahleelite family group. <sup>27</sup>These were the family groups of Zebulun, and the total number of men was 60,500.

<sup>29</sup>These were the family groups of Manasseh: From Makir came the Makirite family group (Makir was the father of Gilead); from Gilead came the Gileadite family group. <sup>30</sup>These were the family groups that came from Gilead: From Iezer came the Iezerite family group; from Helek came the Helekite family group; <sup>31</sup>from Asriel came the Asrielite family group; from Shechem came the Shechemite family group; <sup>32</sup>from Shemida came the Shemidaite family group; from Hephher came the Hephherite family group. <sup>33</sup>(Zelophehad son of Hephher had no sons; he had only daughters, and their names were Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah.) <sup>34</sup>These were the family groups of Manasseh, and the total number of men was 52,700.

<sup>44</sup>These were the family groups in the tribe of Asher: From Innah came the Innite family group; from Ishvi came the Ishvite family group; from Beriah came the Beriite family group.

<sup>45</sup>These were the family groups that came from Beriah: From Heber came the Heberite family group; from Malkiel came the Malkielite family group. <sup>46</sup>(Asher also had a daughter named Serah.) <sup>47</sup>These were the family groups of Asher, and the total number of men was 53,400.

<sup>57</sup>The tribe of Levi was also counted. These were the family groups of Levi: From Gershon came the Gershonite family group; from Kohath came the Kohathite family group; from Merari came the Merarite family group. <sup>58</sup>These also were Levite family groups: the Libnite family group, the Hebronite family group, the Mahlite family group, the Mushite family group, and the Korahite family group. (Kohath was the ancestor of Amram, <sup>59</sup>whose wife was named Jochebed. She was from the tribe of Levi and she was born in Egypt. She and Amram had two sons, Aaron and Moses, and their sister Miriam. <sup>60</sup>Aaron was the father of Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar. <sup>61</sup>But Nadab and Abihu died because they made an offering before the Lord with the wrong kind of fire.) <sup>62</sup>The total number of male Levites one month old or older was 23,000. But these men were not counted with the other Israelites, because they were not given any of the land among the other Israelites.

Zelophehad's Daughters

Then the daughters of Zelophehad came near. Zelophehad was the son of Hopher, the son of Gilead, the son of Makir, the son of Manasseh. Zelophehad's daughters belonged to the family groups of Manasseh son of Joseph. The daughters' names were Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah. <sup>2</sup>They went to the entrance of the Meeting Tent and stood before Moses, Eleazar the priest, the leaders, and all the people. They said, <sup>3</sup>“Our father died in the desert. He was not one of Korah's followers who came together against the Lord, but he died because of his own sin, and he had no sons. <sup>4</sup>Our father's name will die out because he had no sons. Give us property among our father's relatives.”

<sup>8</sup>“Tell the Israelites, ‘If a man dies and has no son, then everything he owned should go to his daughter. <sup>9</sup>If he has no daughter, then everything he owned should go to his brothers. <sup>10</sup>If he has no brothers, then everything he owned should go to his father's brothers. <sup>11</sup>And if his father had no brothers, then everything he owned should go to the nearest relative in his family group. This should be a rule among the people of Israel, as the Lord has given this command to Moses.’”

Joshua Is the New Leader

<sup>12</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, “Climb this mountain in the Abarim Mountains, and look at the land I have given to the Israelites. <sup>13</sup>After you have seen it, you will die and join your ancestors as your brother Aaron did, <sup>14</sup>because you both acted against my command in the Desert of Zin. You did not honor me as holy before the people at the waters of Meribah.” (This was at Meribah in Kadesh in the Desert of Zin.) <sup>15</sup>Moses said to the Lord, <sup>16</sup>“The Lord is the God of the spirits of all people. May he choose a leader for these people, <sup>17</sup>who will go in and out before them. He must lead them out like sheep and bring them in; the Lord’s people must not be like sheep without a shepherd.”

<sup>18</sup>So the Lord said to Moses, “Take Joshua son of Nun, because my Spirit is in him. Put your hand on him, <sup>19</sup>and have him stand before Eleazar the priest and all the people. Then give him his orders as they watch. <sup>20</sup>Let him share your honor so that all the Israelites will obey him. <sup>21</sup>He must stand before Eleazar the priest, and Eleazar will get advice from the Lord by using the Urim. At his command all the Israelites will go out, and at his command they will all come in.”

<sup>22</sup>Moses did what the Lord told him. He took Joshua and had him stand before Eleazar the priest and all the people, <sup>23</sup>and he put his hands on him and gave him orders, just as the Lord had told him.

Life Lessons

Numbers 28:1–30:16

Situation

God commanded the Israelites to remember him. To do this, he assigned daily, weekly, and monthly offerings, as well as five annual events: Passover, Feast of Weeks, Feast of Trumpets, Feast of Shelters, and the Day of Cleansing.

Observation

God wants his people to be thankful to him. We can honor him by giving regular offerings. This reminds us to keep him the first priority in our lives.

Inspiration

The renowned British educator, Edward Thring, said, “The mighty leisure hours with their occupations are all-powerful... . The mighty question of leisure hours ought to be the most important question of all, since it affects our character most... . Leisure hours are the hinge on which true education turns.” This eminent authority in the field of education had seen that noble character and authentic being come first; after that, as a second, the training of skill and strength. He had seen, too, that though a teacher can do much by high belief and true work to stimulate and to guide, every student has to develop his own character. It is in the leisure hours, when free from constraint and observation, that the student shows what is really uppermost within him... .

In spiritual life this is intensely true... . When the time of relaxation comes, and one is free to do exactly as one likes, many a student finds that the morning watch and its fellowship with God had not become so natural, so necessary for spiritual life and joy. Therefore, observance is not included with vacation pleasure... . The question of leisure hours is crucial. In them one turns freely and naturally to what he loves most. In them one proves and increases the power to keep what he has... .

During vacation we are set free from the school laws under which we live during our stay there. But there are other laws: laws of morality, laws of health, from which there is no relaxation. Warn the student that the call to daily fellowship with God belongs not to the former but the latter category. As much as he needs during the vacation to daily eat and breathe, he needs to daily eat the bread and breathe the air of heaven.

Emphasize that the morning watch is not only a duty, but an unspeakable privilege and pleasure. Fellowship with God, abiding in Christ, loving the Word and meditating on it all the day are life and strength, health and gladness to the new nature. They should look upon them in this light, believe in the power of the new nature within, and act upon it. If they count it a joy, it will become a joy to them... .

God has created and redeemed you that through you He may, as through the sun He illuminates the world, shine His light and life and love upon men. You need to be in communication with the fountain of all light daily. Do not think of asking for a vacation relief from this communion, much less take it. Prize your vacation for the special opportunity of more fellowship with the Father and the Son. Don't allow it to become a snare, and exhaust all your energy in just keeping from losing ground. Prize the vacation as a blessed time for grace and victory over self and the world, of great increase of grace and strength, of being blessed and being made a blessing. (From The Believer's Daily Renewal by Andrew Murray)

Application

It takes time and effort to grow in our relationship with God. In what ways do you make God your daily priority? Think about the joy you have received from your growing friendship with the Lord; then decide how your daily worship needs to change to encourage a deeper and more joyful relationship with him.

Daily Offerings

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Give this command to the Israelites. Tell them: ‘Bring me food offerings made by fire, for a smell that is pleasing to me, and be sure to bring them at the right time.’ <sup>3</sup>Say to them, ‘These are the offerings you must bring to the Lord: two male lambs, a year old, as a burnt offering each day. They must have nothing wrong with them. <sup>4</sup>Offer one lamb in the morning and the other lamb at twilight. <sup>5</sup>Also bring a grain offering of two quarts of fine flour, mixed with one quart of oil from pressed olives. <sup>6</sup>This is the daily burnt offering which began at Mount Sinai; its smell is pleasing to the Lord. <sup>7</sup>Offer one quart of wine with each lamb as a drink offering; pour it out to the Lord at the Holy Place. <sup>8</sup>Offer the second lamb at twilight. As in the morning, also give a grain offering and a drink offering. This offering is made by fire, and its smell is pleasing to the Lord.

Sabbath Offerings

<sup>9</sup>“On the Sabbath day you must give two male lambs, a year old, that have nothing wrong with them. Also give a drink offering and a grain offering; the grain offering must be four quarts of fine flour mixed with olive oil. <sup>10</sup>This is the burnt offering for every Sabbath, in addition to the daily burnt offering and drink offering.

Monthly Offerings

<sup>11</sup>“On the first day of each month bring a burnt offering to the Lord. This will be two young bulls, one male sheep, and seven male lambs a year old, and they must have nothing wrong with them. <sup>12</sup>Give a grain offering with each bull of six quarts of fine flour mixed with olive oil. Also give a grain offering with the male sheep. It must be four quarts of fine flour mixed with olive oil. <sup>13</sup>And give a grain offering with each lamb of two quarts of fine flour mixed with olive oil. This is a burnt offering, and its smell is pleasing to the Lord. <sup>14</sup>The drink offering with each bull will be two quarts of wine, with the male sheep it will be one and one-third quarts, and with each lamb it will be one quart of wine. This is the burnt offering that must be offered each month of the year. <sup>15</sup>Besides the daily burnt offerings and drink offerings, bring a sin offering of one goat to the Lord.

The Passover

<sup>16</sup>“The Lord’s Passover will be on the fourteenth day of the first month. <sup>17</sup>The Feast of Unleavened Bread begins on the fifteenth day of that month. For seven days, you may eat only bread made without yeast. <sup>18</sup>Have a holy meeting on the first day of the festival, and don’t work that day. <sup>19</sup>Bring to the Lord an offering made by fire, a burnt offering of two young bulls, one male sheep, and seven male lambs a year old. They must have nothing wrong with them. <sup>20</sup>With each bull give a grain offering of six quarts of fine flour mixed with olive oil. With the male sheep it must be four quarts of fine flour mixed with oil. <sup>21</sup>With each of the seven lambs, it must be two quarts of fine flour mixed with oil. <sup>22</sup>Bring one goat as a sin offering, to remove your sins so you will belong to God. <sup>23</sup>Bring these offerings in addition to the burnt offerings you give every morning. <sup>24</sup>So bring food for the offering made by fire each day for seven days, for a smell that is pleasing to the Lord. Do it in addition to the daily burnt offering and its drink offering. <sup>25</sup>On the seventh day have a holy meeting, and don't work that day.

The Feast of Weeks

<sup>26</sup>“On the day of firstfruits when you bring new grain to the Lord during the Feast of Weeks, have a holy meeting. Don't work that day. <sup>27</sup>Bring this burnt offering to the Lord: two young bulls, one male sheep, and seven male lambs a year old. This smell is pleasing to the Lord. <sup>28</sup>Also, with each bull give a grain offering of six quarts of fine flour mixed with oil. With the male sheep, it must be four quarts of flour, <sup>29</sup>and with each of the seven lambs offer two quarts of flour. <sup>30</sup>Offer one male goat to remove your sins so you will belong to God. <sup>31</sup>Bring these offerings and their drink offerings in addition to the daily burnt offering and its grain offering. The animals must have nothing wrong with them.

The Feast of Trumpets

“Have a holy meeting on the first day of the seventh month, and don’t work on that day. That is the day you blow the trumpets. <sup>2</sup>Bring these burnt offerings as a smell pleasing to the Lord: one young bull, one male sheep, and seven male lambs a year old. They must have nothing wrong with them. <sup>3</sup>With the bull give a grain offering of six quarts of fine flour mixed with oil. With the male sheep offer four quarts, <sup>4</sup>and with each of the seven lambs offer two quarts. <sup>5</sup>Offer one male goat for a sin offering to remove your sins so you will belong to God. <sup>6</sup>These offerings are in addition to the monthly and daily burnt offerings. Their grain offerings and drink offerings must be done as you have been told. These offerings are made by fire to the Lord, and their smell is pleasing to him.

The Day of Cleansing

<sup>7</sup>“Have a holy meeting on the tenth day of the seventh month. On that day do not eat and do not work. <sup>8</sup>Bring these burnt offerings as a smell pleasing to the Lord: one young bull, one male sheep, and seven male lambs a year old. They must have nothing wrong with them. <sup>9</sup>With the bull give a grain offering of six quarts of fine flour mixed with oil. With the male sheep it must be four quarts, <sup>10</sup>and with each of the seven lambs it must be two quarts. <sup>11</sup>Offer one male goat as a sin offering. This will be in addition to the sin offering which removes your sins, the daily burnt offering with its grain offering, and the drink offerings.

The Feast of Shelters

<sup>12</sup>“Have a holy meeting on the fifteenth day of the seventh month, and do not work on that day. Celebrate a festival to the Lord for seven days. <sup>13</sup>Bring these burnt offerings, made by fire, as a smell pleasing to the Lord: thirteen young bulls, two male sheep, and fourteen male lambs a year old. They must have nothing wrong with them. <sup>14</sup>With each of the thirteen bulls offer a grain offering of six quarts of fine flour mixed with oil. With each of the two male sheep it must be four quarts, <sup>15</sup>and with each of the fourteen lambs it must be two quarts. <sup>16</sup>Offer one male goat as a sin offering in addition to the daily burnt offering with its grain and drink offerings.

with them.<sup>24</sup> Bring the grain and drink offerings for the bulls, sheep, and lambs, according to the number required.<sup>25</sup> Offer one male goat as a sin offering, in addition to the daily burnt offering with its grain and drink offerings.

offerings.

Rules About Special Promises

Moses spoke with the leaders of the Israelite tribes. He told them these commands from the Lord.

<sup>2</sup>“If a man makes a promise to the Lord or says he will do something special, he must keep his promise. He must do what he said. <sup>3</sup>If a young woman still living at home makes a promise to the Lord or pledges to do something special, <sup>4</sup>and if her father hears about the promise or pledge and says nothing, she must do what she promised. She must keep her pledge. <sup>5</sup>But if her father hears about the promise or pledge and does not allow it, then the promise or pledge does not have to be kept. Her father would not allow it, so the Lord will free her from her promise.

<sup>6</sup>“If a woman makes a pledge or a careless promise and then gets married, <sup>7</sup>and if her husband hears about it and says nothing, she must keep her promise or the pledge she made. <sup>8</sup>But if her husband hears about it and does not allow it, he cancels her pledge or the careless promise she made. The Lord will free her from keeping it.

<sup>9</sup>“If a widow or divorced woman makes a promise, she must do whatever she promised.

<sup>10</sup>“If a woman makes a promise or pledge while she is married, <sup>11</sup>and if her husband hears about it but says nothing and does not stop her, she must keep her promise or pledge. <sup>12</sup>But if her husband hears about it and cancels it, she does not have to do what she said. Her husband has canceled it, so the Lord will free her from it. <sup>13</sup>A woman’s husband may make her keep or cancel any promise or pledge she has made. <sup>14</sup>If he says nothing to her about it for several days, she must keep her promises. If he hears about them and says nothing, she must keep her promises. <sup>15</sup>But if he cancels them long after he heard about them, he is responsible if she breaks her promise.”

<sup>16</sup>These are commands that the Lord gave to Moses for husbands and wives, and for fathers with daughters living at home.

Life Lessons

Numbers 31:1–54

Situation

The Midianites tried to turn the Israelites away from God. Because of this, the two nomadic nations became enemies despite their common heritage, for the Midianites were descendants of Abraham and his second wife.

Observation

God's purpose for destroying the Midianites was to keep the people of Israel free from sin and ungodly influences. God desired moral purity in his followers. Not only were sinful influences to be completely destroyed, but the spoils of war—blessings to the people—were to be purified as well.

Inspiration

As Christians we live a life that is different—morally excellent, ethically beautiful. It's called a holy life. And God honors that. Because it's like He is...

All of our Christian lives we have sung the old hymn "Take Time to Be Holy." Those words are true. It does take time to be holy. It certainly takes time to be mature. It takes time to cultivate a walk with the Lord that begins to flow naturally because the enemy is so much more assertive and powerful than we are ... and so creative, so full of new ideas on how to derail us and demoralize us.

We need to lock onto the power that comes from God's presence and invite Him to cleanse our thoughts, to correct our foul speech, to forgive us completely, and make us holy vessels, who, like the winged seraphim, spend our days bringing glory to His holy name. (For Wisdom for the Way by Charles Swindoll)

Application

How have you seen God remove sin from your life? It may have felt unpleasant, unreasonable, or even unfair. Remember that whatever God allows into your life or withholds from you is in your best interest. Focus today on God's goal of making you like him—pure and holy.

Israel Attacks the Midianites

The Lord spoke to Moses and said,<sup>2</sup>“Pay back the Midianites for what they did to the Israelites; after that you will die.”

<sup>13</sup>Moses, Eleazar the priest, and all the leaders of the people went outside the camp to meet them. <sup>14</sup>Moses was angry with the army officers, the commanders over a thousand men, and those over a hundred men, who returned from war.

<sup>15</sup>He asked them, “Why did you let the women live? <sup>16</sup>They were the ones who followed Balaam’s advice and turned the Israelites from the Lord at Peor. Then a terrible sickness struck the Lord’s people. <sup>17</sup>Kill all the Midianite boys, and kill all the Midianite women who have had sexual relations. <sup>18</sup>But save for yourselves the girls who have not had sexual relations with a man.

<sup>19</sup>“All you men who killed anyone or touched a dead body must stay outside the camp for seven days. On the third and seventh days you and your captives must make yourselves clean. <sup>20</sup>You must clean all your clothes and anything made of leather, goat hair, or wood.”

<sup>21</sup>Then Eleazar the priest said to the soldiers who had gone to war, “These are the teachings that the Lord gave to Moses: <sup>22</sup>Put any gold, silver, bronze, iron, tin, or lead— <sup>23</sup>anything that will not burn—into the fire, and then it will be clean. But also purify those things with the cleansing water. Then they will be clean. If something cannot stand the fire, wash it with the water. <sup>24</sup>On the seventh day wash your clothes, and you will be clean. After that you may come into the camp.”

Dividing the Goods

<sup>25</sup>The Lord said to Moses, <sup>26</sup>“You, Eleazar the priest, and the leaders of the family groups should take a count of the goods, the men, and the animals that were taken. <sup>27</sup>Then divide those possessions between the soldiers who went to war and the rest of the people. <sup>28</sup>From the soldiers who went to war, take a tax for the Lord of one item out of every five hundred. This includes people, cattle, donkeys, or sheep.<sup>29</sup> Take it from the soldiers' half, and give it to Eleazar the priest as the Lord's share.<sup>30</sup> And from the people's half, take one item out of every fifty. This includes people, cattle, donkeys, sheep, or other animals. Give that to the Levites, who take care of the Lord's Holy Tent."<sup>31</sup> So Moses and Eleazar did as the Lord commanded Moses.

rings, earrings, and necklaces. These are to remove our sins so we will belong to the Lord.”

<sup>51</sup>So Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold from them, which had been made into all kinds of objects. <sup>52</sup>The commanders of a thousand men and the commanders of a hundred men gave the Lord the gold, and all of it together weighed about 420 pounds; <sup>53</sup>each soldier had taken something for himself. <sup>54</sup>Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold from the commanders of a thousand men and the commanders of a hundred men. Then they put it in the Meeting Tent as a memorial before the Lord for the people of Israel.

Life Lessons

Numbers 32:1–42

Situation

Three tribes asked to reside east rather than west of the Jordan in order to secure their flocks in simple livestock pens. The pens' four stone walls would be built tall enough to keep out predatory animals and thieves. Then the men of the tribes would be free to help the other nine tribes west of the Jordan.

Observation

The three tribes showed selfless effort in helping the other tribes west of the Jordan. We should help others finish a job, even if by doing so we receive no direct benefit.

Inspiration

Many people these days are accepting Christianity as an explanation of life, but they're not willing to accept it as a way of life... Christ calls us not only to accept an explanation, but to practice a way. That's tougher.

For one thing, it means meshing your life as closely as possible with other believers. No snobbery. No privileges. All together, sharing the same ideas (the apostles' doctrine), the same friends (fellowship), the same practices (breaking of bread), and the same religious habits (public prayers).

One of the young wives in our church was talking to me recently. She said, "Jerry and I have been praying over the passage that says if you have two coats, to give to him who has none. We discovered that we're now over the median income of our church members, so we're two-coat people, and that gives us responsibility of caring for others."

I said to her, "Do you remember, Linda, several years ago when Jerry was going through seminary, you were the no-coat ones; and how often believers would lovingly slip you money, or put a bag of groceries in the back door?"

She said, "Oh, yes! How could we forget? And now that it's the other way, we've upped our church giving, and we're also looking for the ones who need our help. They're all around us, and the Lord has already pointed out the first one."

She named a single mother raising teenagers, and she told gleefully about a sneaky plan to meet one of her needs anonymously. I couldn't help being tickled because she was so tickled!

Sharing in the family of God is a sure sign of authenticity. I love it when we get so comfortable with each other that we can think, "I do believe Sharon would look better in this sweater than I do; I think I'll offer it to her!" It's not a matter of charity as we now use the word—it's not who's richer and who's poorer; it's charity in its old usage—just pure love in the Body! (From Discipling One Another by Anne Ortlund)

The Tribes East of the Jordan

The people of Reuben and Gad had large flocks and herds. When they saw that the lands of Jazer and Gilead were good for the animals,<sup>2</sup>they came to Moses, Eleazar the priest, and the leaders of the people.<sup>3-4</sup>They said, “We, your servants, have flocks and herds. The Lord has captured for the Israelites a land that is good for animals—the land around Ataroth, Dibon, Jazer, Nimrah, Heshbon, Elealeh, Sebam, Nebo, and Beon.<sup>5</sup>If it pleases you, we would like this land to be given to us. Don’t make us cross the Jordan River.”

<sup>6</sup>Moses told the people of Gad and Reuben, “Shall your brothers go to war while you stay behind? <sup>7</sup>You will discourage the Israelites from going over to the land the Lord has given them. <sup>8</sup>Your ancestors did the same thing. I sent them from Kadesh Barnea to look at the land. <sup>9</sup>They went as far as the Valley of Eshcol, and when they saw the land, they discouraged the Israelites from going into the land the Lord had given them. <sup>10</sup>The Lord became very angry that day and made this promise: <sup>11</sup>‘None of the people who came from Egypt and who are twenty years old or older will see the land that I promised to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. These people have not followed me completely. <sup>12</sup>Only Caleb son of Jephunneh the Kenizzite and Joshua son of Nun followed the Lord completely.’

<sup>16</sup>Then the Reubenites and Gadites came up to Moses and said, “We will build pens for our animals and cities for our children here. <sup>17</sup>Then our children will be in strong, walled cities, safe from the people who live in this land. Then we will prepare for war. We will help the other Israelites get their land, <sup>18</sup>and we will not return home until every Israelite has received his land. <sup>19</sup>We won’t take any of the land west of the Jordan River; our part of the land is east of the Jordan.”

<sup>20</sup>So Moses told them, “You must do these things. You must go before the Lord into battle <sup>21</sup>and cross the Jordan River armed, until the Lord forces out the enemy. <sup>22</sup>After the Lord helps us take the land, you may return home. You will have done your duty to the Lord and Israel, and you may have this land as your own.

<sup>23</sup>“But if you don’t do these things, you will be sinning against the Lord; know for sure that you will be punished for your sin. <sup>24</sup>Build cities for your children and pens for your animals, but then you must do what you promised.”

<sup>25</sup>The Gadites and Reubenites said to Moses, “We are your servants, and we will do what you, our master, command. <sup>26</sup>Our children, wives, and all our cattle will stay in the cities of Gilead, <sup>27</sup>but we, your servants, will prepare for battle. We will go over and fight for the Lord, as you, our master, have said.”

<sup>28</sup>So Moses gave orders about them to Eleazar the priest, to Joshua son of Nun, and to the leaders of the tribes of Israel.

<sup>29</sup>Moses said to them, “If the Gadites and Reubenites prepare for battle and cross the Jordan River with you, to go before the Lord and help you take the land, give them the land of Gilead for their own. <sup>30</sup>But if they do not go over armed, they will not receive it; their land will be in Canaan with you.”

<sup>31</sup>The Gadites and Reubenites answered, “We are your servants, and we will do as the Lord said. <sup>32</sup>We will cross over into Canaan and go before the Lord ready for battle. But our land will be east of the Jordan River.”

<sup>33</sup>So Moses gave that land to the tribes of Gad, Reuben, and East Manasseh. (Manasseh was Joseph’s son.) That land had been the kingdom of Sihon, king of the Amorites, and the kingdom of Og, king of Bashan, as well as all the cities and the land around them.

<sup>39</sup>The descendants of Makir son of Manasseh went and captured Gilead and forced out the Amorites who were there. <sup>40</sup>So Moses gave Gilead to the family of Makir son of Manasseh, and they settled there. <sup>41</sup>Jair son of Manasseh went out and captured the small towns there, and he called them the Towns of Jair. <sup>42</sup>Nobah went and captured Kenath and the small towns around it; then he named it Nobah after himself.

Israel's Journey from Egypt

These are the places the Israelites went as Moses and Aaron led them out of Egypt in divisions.<sup>2</sup>At the Lord's command Moses recorded the places they went, and these are the places they went.

area of Canaan, heard that the Israelites were coming.

<sup>50</sup>On the plains of Moab by the Jordan River across from Jericho, the Lord spoke to Moses. He said, <sup>51</sup>“Speak to the Israelites and tell them, ‘When you cross the Jordan River and go into Canaan, <sup>52</sup>force out all the people who live there. Destroy all of their carved statues and metal idols. Wreck all of their places of worship. <sup>53</sup>Take over the land and settle there, because I have given this land to you to own. <sup>54</sup>Throw lots to divide up the land by family groups, giving larger portions to larger family groups and smaller portions to smaller family groups. The land will be given as the lots decide; each tribe will get its own land.

<sup>55</sup>“But if you don’t force those people out of the land, they will bring you trouble. They will be like sharp hooks in your eyes and thorns in your sides. They will bring trouble to the land where you live. <sup>56</sup>Then I will punish you as I had planned to punish them.”

Life Lessons

Numbers 33:1–36:13

Situation

God ordered the Israelites to destroy the Canaanites because of their wickedness. God wished to prevent the Canaanites' sinful practices from affecting the Israelites.

Observation

Learn to avoid sinful practices. Don't rub shoulders with those hostile to God. They will have a negative effect on you.

Inspiration

Suppose you gave yourself to the Lord—to be wholly and altogether His, made and molded according to His own divine purpose, determined to follow Him wherever He may lead you. It is just at this point that you are faced with a new and very practical difficulty.

How are you to know the voice of the Good Shepherd, whom you have pledged to follow?

Many Christians live in constant doubt and confusion as to His will for them.

And this confusion is further compounded. Maybe there are certain "paths" into which God seems to be calling you, of which your friends disapprove—and it may be that these disapproving friends are older than yourself in the Christian life. You can hardly bear to disagree with them, or to see the distress on their faces.

The first thing you must do is to ask the Lord to help you quietly examine the motives of your heart. Be sure that you really have set your will to obey the Lord in every respect. If this is your purpose then, and your soul is merely waiting to know the will of God in order to consent to it, then you have done your part.

From this point, you can be certain that He will make His mind known to you and will guide you on the right paths, for “He calls his own sheep by name, and leads them out ... he goes on ahead of them, and his sheep follow him because they know his voice” (John 10:3–4)... . And, “If any of you lacks wisdom, he should ask God, who gives generously to all without finding fault, and it will be given him” (James 1:5).

Let no hint of doubt turn you from a steadfast faith in God’s willingness and ability to guide you.

Remember this though: Our God has all knowledge and all wisdom. Therefore it is very possible He may guide you into paths wherein He knows great blessings are awaiting you just around the next fearsome turn—paths on which, to our shortsighted human eyes, there seems to be only confusion and loss.

You must become settled on this spiritual fact: God’s thoughts are not like man’s thoughts, nor are His ways like our ways. He alone, who knows the end of things from their beginning, is able to determine what the results of any course of action may be.

The Borders of Canaan

The Lord said to Moses, <sup>2</sup>“Give this command to the people of Israel: ‘You will soon enter Canaan and it will be yours. These shall be the borders: <sup>3</sup>On the south you will get part of the Desert of Zin near the border of Edom. On the east side your southern border will start at the south end of the Dead Sea, <sup>4</sup>cross south of Scorpion Pass, and go through the Desert of Zin and south of Kadesh Barnea. Then it will go to Hazar Addar and over to Azmon. <sup>5</sup>From Azmon it will go to the brook of Egypt, and it will end at the Mediterranean Sea.

<sup>7</sup>“Your northern border will begin at the Mediterranean Sea and go to Mount Hor. <sup>8</sup>From Mount Hor it will go to Lebo Hamath, and on to Zedad. <sup>9</sup>Then the border will go to Ziphron, and it will end at Hazar Enan. This will be your northern border.

“These are the borders around your country.”

<sup>13</sup>So Moses gave this command to the Israelites: “This is the land you will receive. Throw lots to divide it among the nine and one-half tribes, because the Lord commanded that it should be theirs. <sup>14</sup>The tribes of Reuben, Gad, and East Manasseh have already received their land. <sup>15</sup>These two and one-half tribes received land east of the Jordan River, across from Jericho.”

The Levites' Towns

The Lord spoke to Moses on the plains of Moab across from Jericho by the Jordan River. He said, <sup>2</sup>“Command the Israelites to give the Levites cities to live in from the land they receive. Also give the Levites the pastureland around these cities. <sup>3</sup>Then the Levites will have cities where they may live and pastureland for their cattle, flocks, and other animals. <sup>4</sup>The pastureland you give the Levites will extend fifteen hundred feet from the city wall. <sup>5</sup>Also measure three thousand feet in each direction outside the city wall—three thousand feet east of the city, three thousand feet south of the city, three thousand feet west of the city, and three thousand feet north of the city, with the city in the center. This will be pastureland for the Levites' cities.

Cities of Safety

<sup>6</sup>“Six of the cities you give the Levites will be cities of safety. A person who accidentally kills someone may run to one of those cities for safety. You must also give forty-two other cities to the Levites; <sup>7</sup>give the Levites a total of forty-eight cities and their pastures. <sup>8</sup>The larger tribes of Israel must give more cities, and the smaller tribes must give fewer cities. Each tribe must give some of its cities to the Levites, but the number of cities they give will depend on the size of their land.”

<sup>11</sup>you must choose cities to be cities of safety, so that a person who accidentally kills someone may run to them for safety. <sup>12</sup>There the person will be safe from the dead person's relative who has the duty of punishing the killer. He will not die before he receives a fair trial in court. <sup>13</sup>The six cities you give will be cities of safety. <sup>14</sup>Give three cities east of the Jordan River and three cities in Canaan as cities of safety. <sup>15</sup>These six cities will be places of safety for citizens of Israel, as well as for foreigners and other people living with you. Any of these people who accidentally kills someone may run to one of these cities.

<sup>22</sup>“But a person might suddenly shove someone, and not from hatred. Or a person might accidentally throw something and hit someone. <sup>23</sup>Or a person might drop a rock on someone he couldn't see and kill that person. There was no plan to hurt anyone and no hatred for the one who was killed. <sup>24</sup>If that happens, the community must judge between the relative of the dead person and the killer, according to these rules. <sup>25</sup>They must protect the killer from the dead person's relative, sending the killer back to the original city of safety, to stay there until the high priest dies (the high priest had the holy oil poured on him).

<sup>26</sup>“Such a person must never go outside the limits of the city of safety. <sup>27</sup>If a relative of the dead person finds the killer outside the city, the relative may kill that person and not be guilty of murder. <sup>28</sup>The killer must stay in the city of safety until the high priest dies. After the high priest dies, the killer may go home.

<sup>30</sup>“If anyone kills a person, the murderer may be put to death only if there are witnesses. No one may be put to death with only one witness.

<sup>32</sup>“If someone has run to a city of safety, don't take money to let the person go back home before the high priest dies.

<sup>33</sup>“Don't let murder spoil your land. The only way to remove the sin of killing an innocent person is for the murderer to be put to death. <sup>34</sup>I am the Lord, and I live among the Israelites. I live in that land with you, so do not spoil it with murder.”

Land for Zelophehad's Daughters

The leaders of Gilead's family group went to talk to Moses and the leaders of the families of Israel. (Gilead was the son of Makir, the son of Manasseh, the son of Joseph.) <sup>2</sup>They said, "The Lord commanded you, our master, to give the land to the Israelites by throwing lots, and the Lord commanded you to give the land of Zelophehad, our brother, to his daughters. <sup>3</sup>But if his daughters marry men from other tribes of Israel, then that land will leave our family, and the people of the other tribes will get that land. So we will lose some of our land. <sup>4</sup>When the time of Jubilee comes for the Israelites, their land will go to the tribes of the people they marry; their land will be taken away from us, the land we received from our fathers."

Milcah, and Noah—married their cousins, their father's relatives.<sup>12</sup> Their husbands were from the tribe of Manasseh son of Joseph, so their land stayed in their father's family group and tribe.

<sup>13</sup>These were the laws and commands that the Lord gave to the Israelites through Moses on the plains of Moab by the Jordan River, across from Jericho.

Introduction

If you've ever been a part of the following scene, you know you'll never forget it.

Inside the house is a quiet bedroom. Last spring's prom photo sits on the bedside table. A dried homecoming mum hangs from the bulletin board. Outside the house is a packed car. Both trunk and seat are full of clothes, books, and stereo. What was in the room is now in the car. The one who used to live in the room is about to drive the car ... to college.

Both parent and child are stunned by the moment. What happened to childhood? Who fast-forwarded the years? Why, just yesterday this child was filling the house with cartwheels and playdough—now look. He's so tall. She's such a beauty. The child is grown.

The grown child is equally stunned. The road ahead looks lonely and long. There is safety in these walls. Protection. Security. Those pleas for independence so recently voiced are unheard today. "Just say the word, Dad, I'll stay. Just ask me, Mom, I won't leave."

But Mom and Dad know better. They know that love releases the loved. They know the training is over. The last bell has rung. The class is dismissed, and the application has begun.

And so parent and child hesitate at the side of the car. There's no time to teach new truths. There's no time to instill values or lay foundations. There is only one word that can be said—Remember. Remember who loves you. Remember what matters. Remember what is right and what is wrong.

Remember.

In Deuteronomy God tells his children to remember.

Israel is about to make a transition. For forty years they have wandered. Now they are about to settle down in a new land. It's a time of transition. From Moses to Joshua. From the wilderness to the Promised Land. From nomads to farmers. From people with no land to people of the land.

God wants them to stay faithful. Stay distinctive. For forty days Moses teaches the words you are about to read. God repeats what he has already taught. Deutero means "second." Nomos means "law." Deuteronomy is a second hearing of the law.

God didn't want them to forget.

Life Lessons

Deuteronomy 1:1–3:29

Situation

In Moab, Moses recounted the struggles and victories that God had given the Israelites while they wandered for forty years. This book reviews Israel's history and restates God's covenant with his people.

Observation

The Lord demonstrated his faithfulness to the Israelites by providing great leaders and a land for them. He also gave them his law to govern their religious, civil, and personal life.

Inspiration

The Lord's mercies never cease. The Lord's compassion never fails. The Lord's faithfulness never diminishes.

That defines God's immutability, which is a four-bit word for "He doesn't change." He has to remain faithful. Being immutable, He not only will not change in His faithfulness, He cannot change. He never cools off in His commitment to us. He never breaks a promise or loses enthusiasm. He stays near us when we are zealous for the truth, and He stays near us when we reject His counsel and deliberately disobey. He remains intimately involved in our lives whether we are giving Him praise in prayer or grieving Him by our actions. Whether we are running to Him or from Him, He remains faithful. His faithfulness is unconditional, unending, and unswerving. Nothing we do can diminish it, and nothing we stop doing can increase it. It remains great. His immutability never diminishes. Mysterious though such incredible constancy may seem, it's true. (From The Mystery of God's Will by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Set aside time this week for reflection. Write down as many examples as you can of how the Lord has led you and of the Lord's faithfulness. Start a journal of events as they occur. Share these examples, as you are able, with your loved ones. Also, use them to begin a conversation with an unbeliever as you recount God's faithfulness.

Moses Talks to the Israelites

This is the message Moses gave to all the people of Israel in the desert east of the Jordan River. They were in the desert area near Suph, between Paran and the towns of Tophel, Laban, Hazeroth, and Dizahab.

<sup>5</sup>Now the Israelites were east of the Jordan River in the land of Moab, and there Moses began to explain what God had commanded. He said:

<sup>6</sup>The Lord our God spoke to us at Mount Sinai and said, “You have stayed long enough at this mountain. <sup>7</sup>Get ready, and go to the mountain country of the Amorites, and to all the places around there—the Jordan Valley, the mountains, the western hills, the southern area, the seacoast, the land of Canaan, and Lebanon. Go as far as the great river, the Euphrates. <sup>8</sup>See, I have given you this land, so go in and take it for yourselves. The Lord promised it to your ancestors—Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob and their descendants.”

Moses Appoints Leaders

<sup>9</sup>At that time I said, “I am not able to take care of you by myself. <sup>10</sup>The Lord your God has made you grow in number so that there are as many of you as there are stars in the sky. <sup>11</sup>I pray that the Lord, the God of your ancestors, will give you a thousand times more people and do all the wonderful things he promised. <sup>12</sup>But I cannot take care of your problems, your troubles, and your arguments by myself. <sup>13</sup>So choose some men from each tribe—wise men who have understanding and experience—and I will make them leaders over you.”

<sup>15</sup>So I took the wise and experienced leaders of your tribes, and I made them your leaders. I appointed commanders over a thousand people, over a hundred people, over fifty people, and over ten people and made them officers over your tribes. <sup>16</sup>Then I told your leaders, “Listen to the arguments between your people. Judge fairly between two Israelites or between an Israelite and a foreigner. <sup>17</sup>When you judge, be fair to everyone; don’t act as if one person is more important than another, and don’t be afraid of anyone, because your decision comes from God. Bring the hard cases to me, and I will judge them.” <sup>18</sup>At that time I told you everything you must do.

Spies Enter the Land

<sup>19</sup>Then, as the Lord our God commanded us, we left Mount Sinai and went toward the mountain country of the Amorite people. We went through that large and terrible desert you saw, and then we came to Kadesh Barnea. <sup>20</sup>I said to you, “You have now come to the mountain country of the Amorites, to the land the Lord our God will give us. <sup>21</sup>Look, here it is! Go up and take it. The Lord, the God of your ancestors, told you to do this, so don't be afraid and don't worry."

<sup>22</sup>Then all of you came to me and said, "Let's send men before us to spy out the land. They can come back and tell us about the way we should go and the cities we will find."

<sup>23</sup>I thought that was a good idea, so I chose twelve of your men, one for each tribe. <sup>24</sup>They left and went up to the mountains, and when they came to the Valley of Eshcol they explored it. <sup>25</sup>They took some of the fruit from that land and brought it down to us, saying, "It is a good land that the Lord our God is giving us."

Israel Refuses to Enter

<sup>26</sup>But you refused to go. You would not obey the command of the Lord your God, <sup>27</sup>but grumbled in your tents, saying, "The Lord hates us. He brought us out of Egypt just to give us to the Amorites, who will destroy us. <sup>28</sup>Where can we go now? The spies we sent have made us afraid, because they said, 'The people there are stronger and taller than we are. The cities are big, with walls up to the sky. And we saw the Anakites there!'"

<sup>29</sup>Then I said to you, "Don't be frightened; don't be afraid of those people. <sup>30</sup>The Lord your God will go ahead of you and fight for you as he did in Egypt; you saw him do it. <sup>31</sup>And in the desert you saw how the Lord your God carried you, like one carries a child. And he has brought you safely all the way to this place."

<sup>32</sup>But you still did not trust the Lord your God, even though <sup>33</sup>he had always gone before you to find places for you to camp. In a fire at night and in a cloud during the day, he showed you which way to go.

<sup>34</sup>When the Lord heard what you said, he was angry and made an oath, saying, <sup>35</sup>“I promised a good land to your ancestors, but none of you evil people will see it. <sup>36</sup>Only Caleb son of Jephunneh will see it. I will give him and his descendants the land he walked on, because he followed the Lord completely.”

<sup>37</sup>Because of you, the Lord was also angry with me and said, “You won’t enter the land either, <sup>38</sup>but your assistant, Joshua son of Nun, will enter it. Encourage him, because he will lead Israel to take the land for their own.

<sup>39</sup>“Your little children that you said would be captured, who do not know right from wrong at this time, will go into the land. I will give the land to them, and they will take it for their own. <sup>40</sup>But you must turn around and follow the desert road toward the Red Sea.”

<sup>41</sup>Then you said to me, “We have sinned against the Lord, but now we will go up and fight, as the Lord our God commanded us.” Then all of you put on weapons, thinking it would be easy to go into the mountains.

<sup>42</sup>But the Lord said to me, “Tell the people, ‘You must not go up there and fight. I will not be with you, and your enemies will defeat you.’”

<sup>43</sup>So I told you, but you would not listen. You would not obey the Lord’s command. You were proud, so you went on up into the mountains, <sup>44</sup>and the Amorites who lived in those mountains came out and fought you. They chased you like bes and defeated you from Edom to Hormah. <sup>45</sup>So you came back and cried before the Lord, but the Lord did not listen to you; he refused to pay attention to you. <sup>46</sup>So you stayed in Kadesh a long time.

Israel Wanders in the Desert

Then we turned around, and we traveled on the desert road toward the Red Sea, as the Lord had told me to do. We traveled through the mountains of Edom for many days.

<sup>2</sup>Then the Lord said to me, <sup>3</sup>“You have traveled through these mountains long enough. Turn north <sup>4</sup>and give the people this command: ‘You will soon go through the land that belongs to your relatives, the descendants of Esau who live in Edom. They will be afraid of you, but be very careful. <sup>5</sup>Do not go to war against them. I will not give you any of their land—not even a foot of it, because I have given the mountains of Edom to Esau as his own. <sup>6</sup>You must pay them in silver for any food you eat or water you drink.’”

<sup>7</sup>The Lord your God has blessed everything you have done; he has protected you while you traveled through this great desert. The Lord your God has been with you for the past forty years, and you have had everything you needed.

<sup>8</sup>So we passed by our relatives, the descendants of Esau who lived in Edom. We turned off the Jordan Valley road that comes from the towns of Elath and Ezion Geber and traveled along the desert road to Moab.

The Land of Ar

<sup>9</sup>Then the Lord said to me, “Don’t bother the people of Moab. Don’t go to war against them, because I will not give you any of their land as your own; I have given Ar to the descendants of Lot as their own.”<sup>10</sup>(The Emites, who lived in Ar before, were strong people, and there were many of them. They were very tall, like the Anakites. <sup>11</sup>The Emites were thought to be Rephaites, like the Anakites, but the Moabite people called them Emites. <sup>12</sup>The Horites also lived in Edom before, but the descendants of Esau forced them out and destroyed them, taking their place as Israel did in the land the Lord gave them as their own.)<sup>13</sup>And the Lord said to me, “Now get up and cross the Zered Valley.” So we crossed the valley. <sup>14</sup>It had been thirty-eight years from the time we left Kadesh Barnea until we crossed the Zered Valley. By then, all the fighting men from that time had died, as the Lord had promised would happen. <sup>15</sup>The Lord continued to work against them to remove them from the camp until they were all dead.

<sup>16</sup>When the last of those fighting men had died, <sup>17</sup>the Lord said to me, <sup>18</sup>“Today you will pass by Ar, on the border of Moab. <sup>19</sup>When you come near the people of Ammon, don’t bother them or go to war against them, because I will not give you any of their land as your own. I have given it to the descendants of Lot for their own.”

<sup>20</sup>(That land was also thought to be a land of the Rephaites, because those people used to live there, but the Ammonites called them Zamzummites. <sup>21</sup>They were strong people, and there were many of them; they were very tall, like the Anakites. The Lord destroyed the Zamzummites, and the Ammonites forced them out of the land and took their place. <sup>22</sup>The Lord did the same thing for the descendants of Esau, who lived in Edom, when he destroyed the Horites. The Edomites forced them out of the land and took their place, and they live there to this day.

Avvites, who lived in towns all the way to Gaza; the Cretans destroyed them and took their place.) Fighting the Amorites

<sup>24</sup>The Lord said, “Get up and cross the Arnon Ravine. See, I am giving you the power to defeat Sihon the Amorite, king of Heshbon, and I am giving you his land. So fight against him and begin taking his land. <sup>25</sup>Today I will begin to make all the people in the world afraid of you. When they hear reports about you, they will shake with fear, and they will be terrified of you.”

<sup>26</sup>I sent messengers from the desert of Kedemoth to Sihon king of Heshbon. They offered him peace, saying, <sup>27</sup>“If you let us pass through your country, we will stay on the road and not turn right or left. <sup>28</sup>We will pay you in silver for any food we eat or water we drink. We only want to walk through your country. <sup>29</sup>The descendants of Esau in Edom let us go through their land, and so did the Moabites in Ar. We want to cross the Jordan River into the land the Lord our God has given us.” <sup>30</sup>But Sihon king of Heshbon would not let us pass, because the Lord your God had made him stubborn. The Lord wanted you to defeat Sihon, and now this has happened.

<sup>32</sup>Then Sihon and all his army came out and fought us at Jahaz, <sup>33</sup>but the Lord our God gave Sihon to us. We defeated him, his sons, and all his army. <sup>34</sup>We captured all his cities at that time and completely destroyed them, as well as the men, women, and children. We left no one alive. <sup>35</sup>But we kept the cattle and valuable things from the cities for ourselves. <sup>36</sup>We defeated Aroer on the edge of the Arnon Ravine, and we defeated the town in the ravine, and even as far as Gilead. No town was too strong for us; the Lord our God gave us all of them. <sup>37</sup>But you did not go near the land of the Ammonites, on the shores of the Jabbok River, or the towns in the mountains, as the Lord our God had commanded.

The Battle at Bashan

When we turned and went up the road toward Bashan, Og king of Bashan and all his army came out to fight us at Edrei.<sup>2</sup>The Lord said to me, “Don’t be afraid of Og, because I will hand him, his whole army, and his land over to you. Do to him what you did to Sihon king of the Amorites, who ruled in Heshbon.”

<sup>3</sup>So the Lord our God gave us Og king of Bashan and all his army; we defeated them and left no one alive.<sup>4</sup>Then we captured all of Og’s cities, all sixty of them, and took the whole area of Argob, Og’s kingdom in Bashan. <sup>5</sup>All these were strong cities, with high walls and gates with bars. And there were also many small towns with no walls.<sup>6</sup>We completely destroyed them, just like the cities of Sihon king of Heshbon. We killed all the men, women, and children,<sup>7</sup>but we kept all the cattle and valuable things from the cities for ourselves.

<sup>8</sup>So at that time we took the land east of the Jordan River, from the Amon Ravine to Mount Hermon, from these two Amorite kings.<sup>9</sup>(Hermon is called Sirion by the Sidonian people, but the Amorites call it Senir.)<sup>10</sup>We captured all the cities on the high plain and all of Gilead, and we took all of Bashan as far as Salecah and Edrei, towns in Og’s kingdom of Bashan.<sup>11</sup>(Only Og king of Bashan was left of the few Rephaites. His bed was made of iron, and it was more than thirteen feet long and six feet wide! It is still in the Ammonite city of Rabbah.) The Land Is Divided people of Reuben and Gad the land from Aroer by the Arnon Ravine, as well as half of the mountain country of Gilead and the cities in it. <sup>13</sup>To the people of East Manasseh I gave the rest of Gilead and all of Bashan, the kingdom of Og. (The area of Argob in Bashan was called the land of the Rephaites. <sup>14</sup>Jair, a descendant of Manasseh, took the whole area of Argob, all the way to the border of the Geshurites and Maacathites. So that land was named for Jair, and even today Bashan is called the Towns of Jair.) <sup>15</sup>I gave Gilead to Makir. <sup>16</sup>I gave the Reubenites and the Gadites the land that begins at Gilead and goes from the Arnon Ravine (the middle of the Arnon is the border) to the Jabbok River, which is the Ammonite border. <sup>17</sup>The border on the west was the Jordan River in the Jordan Valley, and it goes from Lake Galilee to the Dead Sea west of Mount Pisgah.

<sup>18</sup>At that time I gave you this command: “The Lord your God has given you this land as your own. Now your fighting men must take their weapons, and you must lead the other Israelites across the river. <sup>19</sup>Your wives, your young children, and your cattle may stay here. I know you have many cattle, and they may stay here in the cities I have given you, <sup>20</sup>until the Lord also gives your Israelite relatives a place to rest. They will receive the land the Lord your God has given them on the other side of the Jordan River. After that, you may each return to the land I have given you.”

<sup>21</sup>Then I gave this command to Joshua: “You have seen for yourself all that the Lord your God has done to these two kings. The Lord will do the same thing to all the kingdoms where you are going. <sup>22</sup>Don’t be afraid of them, because the Lord your God will fight for you.”

Moses Cannot Enter the Land

<sup>23</sup>Then I begged the Lord: <sup>24</sup>“Lord God, you have begun to show me, your servant, how great you are. You have great strength, and no other god in heaven or on earth can do the powerful things you do. There is no other god like you. <sup>25</sup>Please let me cross the Jordan River so that I may see the good land by the Jordan. I want to see the beautiful mountains and Lebanon.”

<sup>26</sup>But the Lord was angry with me because of you, and he would not listen to me. The Lord said to me, “That’s enough. Don’t talk to me anymore about it. <sup>27</sup>Climb to the top of Mount Pisgah and look west, north, south, and east. You can look at the land, but you will not cross the Jordan River. <sup>28</sup>Appoint Joshua and help him be brave and strong. He will lead the people across the river and give them the land that they are to inherit, but you can only look at it.” <sup>29</sup>So we stayed in the valley opposite Beth Peor.

Life Lessons

Deuteronomy 4:1–43

Situation

After forty years of wandering in the desert, Moses carried out God's instructions to teach the people and prepare them to enter the Promised Land.

Observation

God loves his people with a jealous love that leaves no room for idolatry or other sin.

Inspiration

In the midst of playing baseball in the backyard, Jim's six-year-old son's best friend, and next door neighbor, came out of his house. "Dad, can I go play with Brad?" he asked. "But son, we're playing baseball. Don't you want to play with me?" Jim asked, not really wanting to hear the answer he knew was coming. "Nah, I'd rather play with Brad," his son replied, all too honestly. Jim had a rival for his son's affection, and he was a six-year-old.

As he struggled with that thought, knowing that he'd better get a handle on it because it was only going to escalate, he suddenly was reminded that God felt the same way about him. He jealously desires our affection and attention as well. It breaks his heart when we show more interest in cars, sports, newspapers, television, yard work, hobbies, books, and family activities than we do in reading his word and prayer. It saddens him when we are more committed to serving ourselves and pursuing our own interests than we are in serving him.

If God were to examine your heart today, what rivals for his attention would he find? (From A Dad's Blessing by Gary Smalley and John Trent)

Application

Idolatry makes anything but God the highest priority in life. Do you value your relationship with God more than anything else? Or have you allowed money, leisure, friendships—or anything else—to rule your life? Smash the idols in your life and make a fresh commitment to put God first. He alone is worthy of this position!

Moses Tells Israel to Obey

Now, Israel, listen to the laws and commands I will teach you. Obey them so that you will live and so that you will go over and take the land the Lord, the God of your ancestors, is giving to you.<sup>2</sup> Don't add to these commands, and don't leave anything out, but obey the commands of the Lord your God that I give you.

<sup>5</sup>Look, I have taught you the laws and rules the Lord my God commanded me. Now you can obey the laws in the land you are entering, in the land you will take. <sup>6</sup>Obey these laws carefully, in order to show the other nations that you have wisdom and understanding. When they hear about these laws, they will say, "This great nation of Israel is wise and understanding." <sup>7</sup>No other nation is as great as we are. Their gods do not come near them, but the Lord our God comes near when we pray to him. <sup>8</sup>And no other nation has such good teachings and commands as those I am giving to you today.

<sup>9</sup>But be careful! Watch out and don't forget the things you have seen. Don't forget them as long as you live, but teach them to your children and grandchildren. <sup>10</sup>Remember the day you stood before the Lord your God at Mount Sinai. He said to me, “Bring the people together so I can tell them what I have to say. Then they will respect me as long as they live in the land, and they will teach these things to their children.”<sup>11</sup> When you came and stood at the bottom of the mountain, it blazed with fire that reached to the sky, and black clouds made it very dark.<sup>12</sup> The Lord spoke to you from the fire. You heard the sound of words, but you did not see him; there was only a voice.<sup>13</sup> The Lord told you about his Agreement, the Ten Commandments. He told you to obey them, and he wrote them on two stone tablets.<sup>14</sup> Then the Lord commanded me to teach you the laws and rules that you must obey in the land you will take when you cross the Jordan River.

Laws About Idols

<sup>21</sup> The Lord was angry with me because of you, and he swore that I would not cross the Jordan River to go into the good land the Lord your God is giving you as your own.<sup>22</sup> I will die here in this land and not cross the Jordan, but you will soon go across and take that good land.<sup>23</sup>Be careful. Don't forget the Agreement of the Lord your God that he made with you, and don't make any idols for yourselves, as the Lord your God has commanded you not to do.<sup>24</sup>The Lord your God is a jealous God, like a fire that burns things up.

<sup>25</sup>Even after you have lived in the land a long time and have had children and grandchildren, don't do evil things. Don't make any kind of idol, and don't do what the Lord your God says is evil, because that will make him angry.<sup>26</sup>If you do, I ask heaven and earth to speak against you this day that you will quickly be removed from this land that you are crossing the Jordan River to take. You will not live there long after that, but you will be completely destroyed.<sup>27</sup>The Lord will scatter you among the other nations. Only a few of you will be left alive, and those few will be in other nations where the Lord will send you.<sup>28</sup>There you will worship gods made by people, gods made of wood and stone, that cannot see, hear, eat, or smell.<sup>29</sup>But even there you can look for the Lord your God, and you will find him if you look for him with your whole being.<sup>30</sup>It will be hard when all these things happen to you. But after that you will come back to the Lord your God and obey him,<sup>31</sup>because the Lord your God is a merciful God. He will not leave you or destroy you. He will not forget the Agreement with your ancestors, which he swore to them.

The Lord Is Great

<sup>32</sup>Nothing like this has ever happened before! Look at the past, long before you were even born. Go all the way back to when God made humans on the earth, and look from one end of heaven to the other. Nothing like this has ever been heard of!

<sup>33</sup>No other people have ever heard God speak from a fire and have still lived. But you have. <sup>34</sup>No other god has ever taken for himself one nation out of another. But the Lord your God did this for you in Egypt, right before your own eyes. He did it with tests, signs, miracles, war, and great sights, by his great power and strength.

<sup>35</sup>He showed you things so you would know that the Lord is God, and there is no other God besides him. <sup>36</sup>He spoke to you from heaven to teach you. He showed you his great fire on earth, and you heard him speak from the fire. <sup>37</sup>Because the Lord loved your ancestors, he chose you, their descendants, and he brought you out of Egypt himself by his great strength. <sup>38</sup>He forced nations out of their land ahead of you, nations that were bigger and stronger than you were. The Lord did this so he could bring you into their land and give it to you as your own, and this land is yours today.

<sup>39</sup>Know and believe today that the Lord is God. He is God in heaven above and on the earth below. There is no other god!
<sup>40</sup>Obey his laws and commands that I am giving you today so that things will go well for you and your children. Then you will live a long time in the land that the Lord your God is giving to you forever.

Cities of Safety

<sup>41</sup>Moses chose three cities east of the Jordan River, <sup>42</sup>where a person who accidentally killed someone could go. If the person was not killed because of hatred, the murderer's life could be saved by running to one of these cities. <sup>43</sup>These were the cities:

Bezer in the desert high plain was for the Reubenites; Ramoth in Gilead was for the Gadites; and Golan in Bashan was for the Manassites.

The Laws Moses Gave

<sup>44</sup>These are the teachings Moses gave to the people of Israel. <sup>45</sup>They are the rules, commands, and laws he gave them when they came out of Egypt. <sup>46</sup>They were in the valley near Beth Peor, east of the Jordan River, in the land of Sihon. Sihon king of the Amorites ruled in Heshbon and was defeated by Moses and the Israelites as they came out of Egypt. <sup>47</sup>The Israelites took his land and the land of Og king of Bashan, the two Amorite kings east of the Jordan River. <sup>48</sup>This land went from Aroer, on the edge of the Arnon Ravine, to Mount Hermon. <sup>49</sup>It included all the Jordan Valley east of the Jordan River, and it went as far as the Dead Sea below Mount Pisgah.

Life Lessons

Deuteronomy 4:44–5:33

Situation

Finally. The fortieth year of the Exodus from Egypt. Many Israelites had died since God gave the commandments at Mount Sinai. God held the entire nation responsible for obeying the commandments.

Observation

God longs for his people to abide by his stipulations, so that all will be well with them and the generations that follow them. It pleases him when his people profess willingness to obey his commandments, but he knows their hearts will lead them to disobey.

Inspiration

You lose your temper. You lust. You fall. You take a drag. You buy a drink. You kiss the woman. You follow the crowd. You rationalize. You say yes. You sign your name. You forget who you are. You walk into her room. You look in the window. You break your promise. You buy the magazine. You lie. You covet. You stomp your feet and demand your way. You deny your Master.

It's David disrobing Bathsheba. It's Adam accepting the fruit from Eve. It's Abraham lying about Sarah. It's Peter denying that he ever knew Jesus. It's Noah, drunk and naked in his tent. It's Lot in bed with his own daughter. It's your worst nightmare. It's sudden. It's sin.

Satan numbs our awareness and short-circuits our self-control. We know what we are doing and yet can't believe that we are doing it. In the fog of weakness we want to stop but haven't the will to do so. We want to turn around, but our feet won't move. We want to run and, pitifully, we want to stay...

No one who is reading these words is free from the treachery of sudden sin. No one is immune to this trick of perdition. This demon of hell can scale the highest monastery wall, penetrate the deepest faith, and desecrate the purest home.

Some of you know exactly what I mean. You could write these words better than I, couldn't you? Some of you, like me, have tumbled so often that the stench of Satan's breath is far from a novelty. You've asked for God's forgiveness so often that you worry that the well of mercy might run dry....

Romans chapter 7 is the Emancipation Proclamation for those of us who have a tendency to tumble. Look at verse 15: "I do not understand what I do. For what I want to do I do not do, but what I hate I do."

Sound familiar? Read on. Verses 18–19: "For I have the desire to do what is good, but I cannot carry it out. For what I do is not the good I want to do; no, the evil I do not want to do—this I keep on doing."

Man, that fellow has been reading my diary!

"What a wretched man I am! Who will rescue me from the body of death?" (v. 24).

Please, Paul, don't stop there! Is there no oasis in this barrenness of guilt? There is. Thank God and drink deeply as you read verse 25 and verse 1 of chapter 8: "Thanks be to God—through Jesus Christ our Lord! ... Therefore there is now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus."

Amen. There it is. You read it right. Underline it if you wish. For those in Christ there is no condemnation. Absolutely none. Claim the promise. Memorize the words. Accept the cleansing. Throw out the guilt. Praise the Lord. (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Application

Every Christian has suffered from the guilt that comes after sin. Remember, Christ's forgiveness covers every sin, every time. Don't let guilt drag you down after you have been forgiven. Believe it when he says you're forgiven!

The Ten Commandments

Moses called all the people of Israel together and said: Listen, Israel, to the commands and laws I am giving you today. Learn them and obey them carefully. <sup>2</sup>The Lord our God made an Agreement with us at Mount Sinai. <sup>3</sup>He did not make this Agreement with our ancestors, but he made it with us, with all of us who are alive here today. <sup>4</sup>The Lord spoke to you face to face from the fire on the mountain. <sup>5</sup>(At that time I stood between you and the Lord in order to tell you what the Lord said; you were afraid of the fire, so you would not go up on the mountain.) The Lord said: <sup>6</sup>“I am the Lord your God; I brought you out of the land of Egypt where you were slaves.

<sup>7</sup>“You must not have any other gods except me.

<sup>8</sup>“You must not make for yourselves any idols or anything to worship that looks like something in the sky above or on the earth below or in the water below the land. <sup>9</sup>You must not worship or serve any idol, because I, the Lord your God, am a jealous God. If people sin against me and hate me, I will punish their children, even their grandchildren and great-grandchildren. <sup>10</sup>But I will be very kind for a thousand lifetimes to those who love me and obey my commands.

<sup>11</sup>“You must not use the name of the Lord your God thoughtlessly, because the Lord will punish anyone who uses his name in this way.

<sup>12</sup>“Keep the Sabbath as a holy day, as the Lord your God has commanded you. <sup>13</sup>You may work and get everything done during six days each week, <sup>14</sup>but the seventh day is a day of rest to honor the Lord your God. On that day no one may do any work: not you, your son or daughter, your male or female slaves, your ox, your donkey, or any of your animals, or the foreigners living in your cities. That way your servants may rest as you do. <sup>15</sup>Remember that you were slaves in Egypt and that the Lord your God brought you out of there by his great power and strength. So the Lord your God has commanded you to rest on the Sabbath day.

<sup>16</sup>“Honor your father and your mother as the Lord your God has commanded you. Then you will live a long time, and things will go well for you in the land that the Lord your God is going to give you.

<sup>21</sup>“You must not want to take your neighbor’s wife. You must not want to take your neighbor’s house or land, his male or female slaves, his ox or his donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor.”

<sup>22</sup>The Lord spoke these commands to all of you on the mountain in a loud voice out of the fire, the cloud, and the deep darkness; he did not say anything else. Then he wrote them on two stone tablets, and he gave them to me.

<sup>23</sup>When you heard the voice from the darkness, as the mountain was blazing with fire, all your older leaders and leaders of your tribes came to me. <sup>24</sup>And you said, “The Lord our God has shown us his glory and majesty, and we have heard his voice from the fire. Today we have seen that a person can live even if God speaks to him. <sup>25</sup>But now, we will die! This great fire will burn us up, and we will die if we hear the Lord our God speak anymore.<sup>26</sup>No human being has ever heard the living God speaking from a fire and still lived, but we have.<sup>27</sup>Moses, you go near and listen to everything the Lord our God says. Then you tell us what the Lord our God tells you, and we will listen and obey.”

<sup>28</sup>The Lord heard what you said to me, and he said to me, “I have heard what the people said to you. Everything they said was good.<sup>29</sup>I wish their hearts would always respect me and that they would always obey my commands so that things would go well for them and their children forever!

<sup>30</sup>“Go and tell the people to return to their tents,<sup>31</sup>but you stay here with me so that I may give you all the commands, rules, and laws that you must teach the people to obey in the land I am giving them as their own.”

<sup>32</sup>So be careful to do what the Lord your God has commanded you, and follow the commands exactly.<sup>33</sup>Live the way the Lord your God has commanded you so that you may live and have what is good and have a long life in the land you will take.

The Command to Love God

These are the commands, rules, and laws that the Lord your God told me to teach you to obey in the land you are crossing the Jordan River to take.<sup>2</sup>You, your children, and your grandchildren must respect the Lord your God as long as you live. Obey all his rules and commands I give you so that you will live a long time.<sup>3</sup>Listen, Israel, and carefully obey these laws. Then all will go well for you, and you will become a great nation in a fertile land, just as the Lord, the God of your ancestors, has promised you.

<sup>10</sup>The Lord your God will bring you into the land he promised to your ancestors, to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and he will give it to you. The land has large, growing cities you did not build,<sup>11</sup>houses full of good things you did not buy, wells you did not dig, and vineyards and olive trees you did not plant. You will eat as much as you want.<sup>12</sup>But be careful! Do not forget the Lord, who brought you out of the land of Egypt where you were slaves.

make your promises only in his name. <sup>14</sup>Do not worship other gods as the people around you do, <sup>15</sup>because the Lord your God is a jealous God. He is present with you, and if you worship other gods, he will become angry with you and destroy you from the earth. <sup>16</sup>Do not test the Lord your God as you did at Massah. <sup>17</sup>Be sure to obey the commands of the Lord your God and the rules and laws he has given you. <sup>18</sup>Do what the Lord says is good and right so that things will go well for you. Then you may go in and take the good land the Lord promised to your ancestors. <sup>19</sup>He will force all your enemies out as you go in, as the Lord has said.

<sup>20</sup>In the future when your children ask you, “What is the meaning of the laws, commands, and rules the Lord our God gave us?” <sup>21</sup>tell them, “We were slaves to the king of Egypt, but the Lord brought us out of Egypt by his great power. <sup>22</sup>The Lord showed us great and terrible signs and miracles, which he did to Egypt, the king, and his whole family. <sup>23</sup>The Lord brought us out of Egypt to lead us here and to give us the land he promised our ancestors. <sup>24</sup>The Lord ordered us to obey all these commands and to respect the Lord our God so that we will always do well and stay alive, as we are today. <sup>25</sup>The right thing for us to do is this: Obey all these rules in the presence of the Lord our God, as he has commanded.”

You Are God's People

The Lord your God will bring you into the land that you are entering and that you will have as your own. As you go in, he will force out these nations: the Hittites, Girgashites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites—seven nations that are stronger than you. <sup>2</sup>The Lord your God will hand these nations over to you, and when you defeat them, you must destroy them completely. Do not make a peace treaty with them or show them any mercy. <sup>3</sup>Do not marry any of them, or let your daughters marry their sons, or let your sons marry their daughters. <sup>4</sup>If you do, those people will turn your children away from me, to begin serving other gods. Then the Lord will be very angry with you, and he will quickly destroy you. <sup>5</sup>This is what you must do to those people: Tear down their altars, smash their holy stone pillars, cut down their Asherah idols, and burn their idols in the fire. <sup>6</sup>You are holy people who belong to the Lord your God. He has chosen you from all the people on earth to be his very own.

Hearing God's Voice

It's not that we don't have ears; it's that we don't use them.

Scripture has always placed a premium on hearing God's voice. Indeed, the great command from God through Moses began with the words, “Listen, people of Israel! The Lord our God is the only Lord”(Deuteronomy 6:4). Nehemiah and his men were commended because they “listened carefully” to the book of the Law (Nehemiah 8:3). “Happy are those who listen to me” is the promise of Proverbs 8:34. Jesus urges us to learn to listen like sheep. “The sheep listen to the voice of the shepherd. He calls his own sheep by name and leads them out... . They follow him because they know his voice”(John 10:3-5). Each of the seven churches in Revelation is addressed in the same manner: “He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.”

Our ears, unlike our eyes, do not have lids. They are to remain open, but how easily they close. (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Question: What is God telling you in his Scriptures?

For more on “New Life in Christ.”

<sup>7</sup>The Lord did not care for you and choose you because there were many of you—you are the smallest nation of all. <sup>8</sup>But the Lord chose you because he loved you, and he kept his promise to your ancestors. So he brought you out of Egypt by his great power and freed you from the land of slavery, from the power of the king of Egypt. <sup>9</sup>So know that the Lord your God is God, the faithful God. He will keep his agreement of love for a thousand lifetimes for people who love him and obey his commands. <sup>10</sup>But he will pay back those people who hate him. He will destroy them, and he will not be slow to pay back those who hate him. <sup>11</sup>So be careful to obey the commands, rules, and laws I give you today.

<sup>12</sup>If you pay attention to these laws and obey them carefully, the Lord your God will keep his agreement and show his love to you, as he promised your ancestors. <sup>13</sup>He will love and bless you. He will make the number of your people grow; he will bless you with children. He will bless your fields with good crops and will give you grain, new wine, and oil. He will bless your herds with calves and your flocks with lambs in the land he promised your ancestors he would give you. <sup>14</sup>You will be blessed more than any other people. Every husband and wife will have children, and all your cattle will have calves. <sup>15</sup>The Lord will take away all disease from you; you will not have the terrible diseases that were in Egypt, but he will give them to all the people who hate you. <sup>16</sup>You must destroy all the people the Lord your God hands over to you. Do not feel sorry for them, and do not worship their gods, or they will trap you.

afraid of them. Remember what the Lord your God did to all of Egypt and its king.<sup>19</sup>You saw for yourselves the troubles, signs, and miracles he did, how the Lord's great power and strength brought you out of Egypt. The Lord your God will do the same thing to all the nations you now fear.<sup>20</sup>The Lord your God will also send terror among them so that even those who are alive and hiding from you will die.<sup>21</sup>Don't be afraid of them, because the Lord your God is with you; he is a great God and people are afraid of him.<sup>22</sup>When the Lord your God forces those nations out of the land, he will do it little by little ahead of you. You won't be able to destroy them all at once; otherwise, the wild animals will grow too many in number.<sup>23</sup>But the Lord your God will hand those nations over to you, confusing them until they are destroyed.<sup>24</sup>The Lord will help you defeat their kings, and the world will forget who they were. No one will be able to stop you; you will destroy them all.<sup>25</sup>Burn up their idols in the fire. Do not wish for the silver and gold they have, and don't take it for yourselves, or you will be trapped by it. The Lord your God hates it.<sup>26</sup>Do not bring one of those hateful things into your house, or you will be completely destroyed along with it. Hate and reject those things; they must be completely destroyed.

Life Lessons

Deuteronomy 6:1–7:26

Situation

God repeated these commands because of their importance. God wanted parents to teach his commandments to their children.

Observation

God gives parents the responsibility to teach his law to their children. This requires spending time with children daily and telling them about the commands of God.

Inspiration

Never underestimate the ponderings of a Christian parent. Never underestimate the power that comes when a parent pleads with God on behalf of a child. Who knows how many prayers are being answered right now because of the faithful ponderings of a parent ten or twenty years ago? God listens to thoughtful parents.

Praying for our children is a noble task. If what we are doing, in this fast-paced society, is taking us away from prayer time for our children, we're doing too much. There is nothing more special, more precious than that time that a parent spends struggling and pondering with God on behalf of a child.

It's not too late for the child who has brought only tears. Think of Jesus' parents; the mother who had to watch her son crucified saw her son raised from the dead. Though you may go to the grave wondering if your prayers will ever be answered, don't stop praying. God blesses faithfulness. (From The Inspirational Bible, "Parents")

Application

Spend time with your children, instructing them in the ways of God, modeling for them a Christ-centered lifestyle. Pray for your children daily. Pray that they would know and follow the one and only true God.

Remember the Lord

Carefully obey every command I give you today. Then you will live and grow in number, and you will enter and take the land the Lord promised your ancestors. <sup>2</sup>Remember how the Lord your God has led you in the desert for these forty years, taking away your pride and testing you, because he wanted to know what was in your heart. He wanted to know if you would obey his commands. <sup>3</sup>He took away your pride when he let you get hungry, and then he fed you with manna, which neither you nor your ancestors had ever seen. This was to teach you that a person does not live by eating only bread, but by everything the Lord says. <sup>4</sup>During these forty years, your clothes did not wear out, and your feet did not swell. <sup>5</sup>Know in your heart that the Lord your God corrects you as a parent corrects a child.

<sup>6</sup>Obey the commands of the Lord your God, living as he has commanded you and respecting him. <sup>7</sup>The Lord your God is bringing you into a good land, a land with rivers and pools of water, with springs that flow in the valleys and hills, <sup>8</sup>a land that has wheat and barley, vines, fig trees, pomegranates, olive oil, and honey. <sup>9</sup>It is a land where you will have plenty of food, where you will have everything you need, where the rocks are iron, and where you can dig copper out of the hills.

<sup>10</sup>When you have all you want to eat, then praise the Lord your God for giving you a good land. <sup>11</sup>Be careful not to forget the Lord your God so that you fail to obey his commands, laws, and rules that I am giving to you today. <sup>12</sup>When you eat all you want and build nice houses and live in them, <sup>13</sup>when your herds and flocks grow large and your silver and gold increase, when you have more of everything, <sup>14</sup>then your heart will become proud. You will forget the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, where you were slaves. <sup>15</sup>He led you through the large and terrible desert that was dry and had no water, and that had poisonous snakes and stinging insects. He gave you water from a solid rock <sup>16</sup>and manna to eat in the desert. Manna was something your ancestors had never seen. He did this to take away your pride and to test you, so things would go well for you in the end. <sup>17</sup>You might say to yourself, “I am rich because of my own power and strength,” <sup>18</sup>but remember the Lord your God! It is he who gives you the power to become rich, keeping the agreement he promised to your ancestors, as it is today.

<sup>19</sup>If you ever forget the Lord your God and follow other gods and worship them and bow down to them, I warn you today that you will be destroyed. <sup>20</sup>Just as the Lord destroyed the other nations for you, you can be destroyed if you do not obey the Lord your God.

Life Lessons

Deuteronomy 8:1–9:29

Situation

The Israelites were about to enter the Promised Land. They had experienced important victories, enjoyed unprecedented prosperity, and achieved a homeland. But with these blessings came certain risks that the people would forget God, that they would lose their belief and develop false pride of self-achievement. To avoid these dangers the people had to remember their past and how God had helped them. That would keep them properly focused.

Observation

Remember God's protection and bountiful provisions. Let these memories keep you humble, thankful, and full of belief.

Inspiration

It is not unusual for persons in their early twenties to defect from their early teaching. The reasons are many. Perhaps their exposure to unbelief "took" better than their exposure to belief. This is often the case, for the Bible says, "The heart of man is deceitful above all things." The human heart is as prepared by sin to accept unbelief as faith. Some person they regard very highly has undoubtedly influenced their thinking; and for the time being they look on their early training as "bunk." As someone has said, "A little learning may take a man away from God, but full understanding will bring him back." Some of the staunchest Christians I know are people who had periods in their life when they questioned the Bible, Christ, and God. But as they continued to examine the matter, there was overwhelming evidence that only “the fool hath said in his heart, There is no God.” (From Day by Day with Billy Graham by Joan W. Brown)

Application

How are your beliefs changing? Growing or dissolving? Maturing or disintegrating? Hang on to the elements in your life that promote growth. Cut off activities and relationships that cause you to sin and replace them with ones that help you grow.

Exploration

Unbelief—Exodus 11:9–10; Deuteronomy 9:23; Romans 11:20; Hebrews 3:19.

Nature is God's workshop. The sky is his resume. The universe is his calling card. —Max Lucado (The Great House of God)

The Lord Will Be with Israel

Listen, Israel. You will soon cross the Jordan River to go in and force out nations that are bigger and stronger than you. They have large cities with walls up to the sky. <sup>2</sup>The people there are Anakites, who are strong and tall. You know about them, and you have heard it said: “No one can stop the Anakites.” <sup>3</sup>But today remember that the Lord your God goes in before you to destroy them like a fire that burns things up. He will defeat them ahead of you, and you will force them out and destroy them quickly, just as the Lord has said.

<sup>4</sup>After the Lord your God has forced those nations out ahead of you, don't say to yourself, “The Lord brought me here to take this land because I am so good.” No! It is because these nations are evil that the Lord will force them out ahead of you. <sup>5</sup>You are going in to take the land, not because you are good and honest, but because these nations are evil. That is why the Lord your God will force them out ahead of you, to keep his promise to your ancestors, to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. <sup>6</sup>The Lord your God is giving you this good land to take as your own. But know this: It is not because you are good; you are a stubborn people.

Remember the Lord's Anger

<sup>7</sup>Remember this and do not forget it: You made the Lord your God angry in the desert. You would not obey the Lord from the day you left Egypt until you arrived here. <sup>8</sup>At Mount Sinai you made the Lord angry—angry enough to destroy you. <sup>9</sup>When I went up on the mountain to receive the stone tablets, the tablets with the Agreement the Lord had made with you, I stayed on the mountain for forty days and forty nights; I did not eat bread or drink water. <sup>10</sup>The Lord gave me two stone tablets, which God had written on with his own finger. On them were all the commands that the Lord gave to you on the mountain out of the fire, on the day you were gathered there.

<sup>11</sup>When the forty days and forty nights were over, the Lord gave me the two stone tablets, the tablets with the Agreement on them. <sup>12</sup>Then the Lord told me, “Get up and go down quickly from here, because the people you brought out from Egypt are ruining themselves. They have quickly turned away from what I commanded and have made an idol for themselves.”

<sup>13</sup>The Lord said to me, “I have watched these people, and they are very stubborn! <sup>14</sup>Get away so that I may destroy them and make the whole world forget who they are. Then I will make another nation from you that will be bigger and stronger than they are.”

<sup>15</sup>So I turned and came down the mountain that was burning with fire, and the two stone tablets with the Agreement were in my hands. <sup>16</sup>When I looked, I saw you had sinned against the Lord your God and had made an idol in the shape of a calf. You had quickly turned away from what the Lord had told you to do. <sup>17</sup>So I took the two stone tablets and threw them down, breaking them into pieces right in front of you.

<sup>18</sup>Then I again bowed facedown on the ground before the Lord for forty days and forty nights; I did not eat bread or drink water. You had sinned by doing what the Lord said was evil, and you made him angry. <sup>19</sup>I was afraid of the Lord's anger and rage, because he was angry enough with you to destroy you, but the Lord listened to me again. <sup>20</sup>And the Lord was angry enough with Aaron to destroy him, but then I prayed for Aaron, too. <sup>21</sup>I took that sinful calf idol you had made and burned it in the fire. I crushed it into a powder like dust and threw the dust into a stream that flowed down the mountain.

<sup>23</sup>Then the Lord sent you away from Kadesh Barnea and said, "Go up and take the land I have given you." But you rejected the command of the Lord your God. You did not trust him or obey him. <sup>24</sup>You have refused to obey the Lord as long as I have known you.

<sup>25</sup>The Lord had said he would destroy you, so I threw myself down in front of him for those forty days and forty nights. <sup>26</sup>I prayed to the Lord and said, "Lord God, do not destroy your people, your own people, whom you freed and brought out of Egypt by your great power and strength. <sup>27</sup>Remember your servants Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Don't look at how stubborn these people are, and don't look at their sin and evil. <sup>28</sup>Otherwise, Egypt will say, 'It was because the Lord was not able to take his people into the land he promised them, and it was because he hated them that he took them into the desert to kill them.' <sup>29</sup>But they are your people, Lord, your own people, whom you brought out of Egypt with your great power and strength.”

New Stone Tablets

At that time the Lord said to me, “Cut two stone tablets like the first ones and come up to me on the mountain. Also make a wooden Ark. <sup>2</sup>I will write on the tablets the same words that were on the first tablets, which you broke, and you will put the new tablets in the Ark.”

<sup>3</sup>So I made the Ark out of acacia wood, and I cut out two stone tablets like the first ones. Then I went up on the mountain with the two tablets in my hands. <sup>4</sup>The Lord wrote the same things on these tablets he had written before—the Ten Commandments that he had told you on the mountain from the fire, on the day you were gathered there. And the Lord gave them to me. <sup>5</sup>Then I turned and came down the mountain; I put the tablets in the Ark I had made, as the Lord had commanded, and they are still there.

<sup>6</sup>(The people of Israel went from the wells of the Jaakanites to Moserah. Aaron died there and was buried; his son Eleazar became priest in his place. <sup>7</sup>From Moserah they went to Gudgodah, and from Gudgodah they went to Jotbathah, a place with streams of water. <sup>8</sup>At that time the Lord chose the tribe of Levi to carry the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord. They were to serve the Lord and to bless the people in his name, which they still do today. <sup>9</sup>That is why the Levites did not receive any land of their own; instead, they received the Lord himself as their gift, as the Lord your God told them.) <sup>10</sup>I stayed on the mountain forty days and forty nights just like the first time, and the Lord listened to me this time also. He did not want to destroy you. <sup>11</sup>The Lord said to me, “Go and lead the people so that they will go in and take the land I promised their ancestors.”

What the Lord Wants You to Do

<sup>12</sup>Now, Israel, this is what the Lord your God wants you to do: Respect the Lord your God, and do what he has told you to do. Love him. Serve the Lord your God with your whole being, <sup>13</sup>and obey the Lord’s commands and laws that I am giving you today for your own good.

<sup>14</sup>The Lord owns the world and everything in it—the heavens, even the highest heavens, are his. <sup>15</sup>But the Lord cared for and loved your ancestors, and he chose you, their descendants, over all the other nations, just as it is today. <sup>16</sup>Give yourselves completely to serving him, and do not be stubborn any longer. <sup>17</sup>The Lord your God is God of all gods and Lord of all lords. He is the great God, who is strong and wonderful. He does not take sides, and he will not be talked into doing evil. <sup>18</sup>He helps orphans and widows, and he loves foreigners and gives them food and clothes. <sup>19</sup>You also must love foreigners, because you were foreigners in Egypt. <sup>20</sup>Respect the Lord your God and serve him. Be loyal to him and make your promises in his name. <sup>21</sup>He is the one you should praise; he is your God, who has done great and wonderful things for you, which you have seen with your own eyes. <sup>22</sup>There were only seventy of your ancestors when they went down to Egypt, and now the Lord your God has made you as many as the stars in the sky.

Deuteronomy 10:1–11:32

Situation

Moses continued to emphasize the requirements for a personal relationship with a holy God. He reminded the Israelites that God gave moral laws and that they were for their benefit. God set before Israel a blessing and a curse.

Observation

The Lord wants us to worship and praise him because the Lord has done great and wonderful things for us.

Inspiration

Praise is the highest occupation of any being. What happens when we praise the Father? We reestablish the proper chain of command; we recognize that the King is on the throne and that he has saved his people.

The whole purpose of coming before the King is to praise him, to live in recognition of his splendor. Praise—lifting up our heart and hands, exalting with our voices, singing his praises—is the occupation of those who dwell in the kingdom.

I believe that praise and prayer develop us for what we will do when we arrive in heaven. What's your picture of what you'll be doing there—sitting on a cloud? Polishing your halo? Playing your harp? That's not what you're going to be doing. You're going to be involved in the ongoing process of coreigning with God. (From The Inspirational Bible, "Praise")

Application

Israel was called to praise God because God had already fulfilled part of the promise he had made to the nation. Praise God by making a list of all the blessings he has given you. Then thank God for his work in your life.

Exploration

Great Things Israel Saw

Love the Lord your God and always obey his orders, rules, laws, and commands.<sup>2</sup>Remember today it was not your children who saw and felt the correction of the Lord your God. They did not see his majesty, his power, his strength,<sup>3</sup> or his signs and the things he did in Egypt to the king and his whole country.<sup>4</sup>They did not see what he did to the Egyptian army, its horses and chariots, when he drowned them in the Red Sea as they were chasing you. The Lord ruined them forever.<sup>5</sup>They did not see what he did for you in the desert until you arrived here.<sup>6</sup>They did not see what he did to Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab the Reubenite, when the ground opened up and swallowed them, their families, their tents, and everyone who stood with them in Israel.<sup>7</sup>It was you who saw all these great things the Lord has done.

<sup>8</sup>So obey all the commands I am giving you today so that you will be strong and can go in and take the land you are going to take as your own.<sup>9</sup>Then you will live a long time in the land that the Lord promised to give to your ancestors and their descendants, a fertile land.<sup>10</sup>The land you are going to take is not like Egypt, where you were. There you had to plant your seed and water it, like a vegetable garden, by using your feet.<sup>11</sup>But the land that you will soon cross the Jordan River to take is a land of hills and valleys, a land that drinks rain from heaven.<sup>12</sup>It is a land the Lord your God cares for. His eyes are on it continually, and he watches it from the beginning of the year to the end.

<sup>13</sup>If you carefully obey the commands I am giving you today and love the Lord your God and serve him with your whole being, <sup>14</sup>then he will send rain on your land at the right time, in the fall and spring, and you will be able to gather your grain, new wine, and oil. <sup>15</sup>He will put grass in the fields for your cattle, and you will have plenty to eat.

<sup>16</sup>Be careful, or you will be fooled and will turn away to serve and worship other gods. <sup>17</sup>If you do, the Lord will become angry with you and will shut the heavens so it will not rain. Then the land will not grow crops, and you will soon die in the good land the Lord is giving you. <sup>18</sup>Remember my words with your whole being. Write them down and tie them to your hands as a sign; tie them on your foreheads to remind you. <sup>19</sup>Teach them well to your children, talking about them when you sit at home and walk along the road, when you lie down and when you get up. <sup>20</sup>Write them on your doors and gates <sup>21</sup>so that both you and your children will live a long time in the land the Lord promised your ancestors, as long as the skies are above the earth.

<sup>22</sup>If you are careful to obey every command I am giving you to follow, and love the Lord your God, and do what he has told you to do, and are loyal to him, <sup>23</sup>then the Lord will force all those nations out of the land ahead of you, and you will take the land from nations that are bigger and stronger than you. <sup>24</sup>Everywhere you step will be yours. Your land will go from the desert to Lebanon and from the Euphrates River to the Mediterranean Sea. <sup>25</sup>No one will be able to stop you. The Lord your God will do what he promised and will make the people afraid everywhere you go.

<sup>27</sup>You will be blessed if you obey the commands of the Lord your God that I am giving you today. <sup>28</sup>But you will be cursed if you disobey the commands of the Lord your God. So do not disobey the commands I am giving you today, and do not worship other gods you do not know. <sup>29</sup>When the Lord your God brings you into the land you will take as your own, you are to announce the blessings from Mount Gerizim and the curses from Mount Ebal. <sup>30</sup>(These mountains are on the other side of the Jordan River, to the west, toward the sunset. They are near the great trees of Moreh in the land of the Canaanites who live in the Jordan Valley opposite Gilgal.) <sup>31</sup>You will soon cross the Jordan River to enter and take the land the Lord your God is giving you. When you take it over and live there, <sup>32</sup>be careful to obey all the commands and laws I am giving you today.

The Place for Worship

These are the commands and laws you must carefully obey in the land the Lord, the God of your ancestors, is giving you. Obey them as long as you live in the land. <sup>2</sup>When you inherit the lands of these nations, you must completely destroy all the places where they serve their gods, on high mountains and hills and under every green tree. <sup>3</sup>Tear down their altars, smash their holy stone pillars, and burn their Asherah idols in the fire. Cut down their idols and destroy their names from those places.

<sup>4</sup>Don't worship the Lord your God that way, <sup>5</sup>but look for the place the Lord your God will choose—a place among your tribes where he is to be worshiped. Go there, <sup>6</sup>and bring to that place your burnt offerings and sacrifices; bring a tenth of what you gain and your special gifts; bring what you have promised and the special gifts you want to give the Lord, and bring the first animals born to your herds and flocks.

<sup>7</sup>There you will be together with the Lord your God. There you and your families will eat, and you will enjoy all the good things for which you have worked, because the Lord your God has blessed you.

<sup>8</sup>Do not worship the way we have been doing today, each person doing what he thinks is right. <sup>9</sup>You have not yet come to a resting place, to the land the Lord your God will give you as your own. <sup>10</sup>But soon you will cross the Jordan River to live in the land the Lord your God is giving you as your own, where he will give you rest from all your enemies and you will live in safety. <sup>11</sup>Then the Lord your God will choose a place where he is to be worshiped. To that place you must bring everything I tell you: your burnt offerings and sacrifices, your offerings of a tenth of what you gain, your special gifts, and all your best things you promised to the Lord. <sup>12</sup>There rejoice before the Lord your God. Everyone should rejoice: you, your sons and daughters, your male and female servants, and the Levites from your towns who have no land of their own. <sup>13</sup>Be careful that you don't sacrifice your burnt offerings just anywhere you please. <sup>14</sup>Offer them only in the place the Lord will choose. He will choose a place in one of your tribes, and there you must do everything I am commanding you.

<sup>15</sup>But you may kill your animals in any of your towns and eat as much of the meat as you want, as if it were a deer or a gazelle; this is the blessing the Lord your God is giving you. Anyone, clean or unclean, may eat this meat, <sup>16</sup>but do not eat the blood. Pour it out on the ground like water. <sup>17</sup>Do not eat in your own towns what belongs to the Lord: one-tenth of your grain, new wine, or oil; the first animals born to your herds or flocks; whatever you have promised to give; the special gifts you want to give to the Lord, or any other gifts. <sup>18</sup>Eat these things when you are together with the Lord your God, in the place the Lord your God chooses to be worshiped. Everyone must do this: you, your sons and daughters, your male and female servants, and the Levites from your towns. Rejoice in the Lord your God's presence about the things you have worked for. <sup>19</sup>Be careful not to forget the Levites as long as you live in the land.

<sup>20</sup>When the Lord your God enlarges your country as he has promised, and you want some meat so you say, "I want some meat,” you may eat as much meat as you want. <sup>21</sup>If the Lord your God chooses a place where he is to be worshiped that is too far away from you, you may kill animals from your herds and flocks, which the Lord has given to you. I have commanded that you may do this. You may eat as much of them as you want in your own towns, <sup>22</sup>as you would eat gazelle or deer meat. Both clean and unclean people may eat this meat, <sup>23</sup>but be sure you don’t eat the blood, because the life is in the blood. Don’t eat the life with the meat. <sup>24</sup>Don’t eat the blood, but pour it out on the ground like water. <sup>25</sup>If you don’t eat it, things will go well for you and your children, because you will be doing what the Lord says is right.

<sup>26</sup>Take your holy things and the things you have promised to give, and go to the place the Lord will choose. <sup>27</sup>Present your burnt offerings on the altar of the Lord your God, both the meat and the blood. The blood of your sacrifices should be poured beside the altar of the Lord your God, but you may eat the meat. <sup>28</sup>Be careful to obey all the rules I am giving you so that things will always go well for you and your children, and you will be doing what the Lord your God says is good and right.

<sup>29</sup>You will enter the land and take it away from the nations that the Lord your God will destroy ahead of you. When you force them out and live in their land, <sup>30</sup>they will be destroyed for you, but be careful not to be trapped by asking about their gods. Don’t say, “How do these nations worship? I will do the same.” <sup>31</sup>Don’t worship the Lord your God that way, because the Lord hates the evil ways they worship their gods. They even burn their sons and daughters as sacrifices to their gods!

add anything to it, and do not take anything away from it.

Life Lessons

Deuteronomy 12:1–13:18

Situation

Moses continued to prepare the Israelites to inhabit their new land. He reminded them of the Ten Commandments, their special place in God’s eyes, and all the wondrous blessings God would give them.

Observation

The Israelites demonstrated that worship of God must be free from idolatry. God even used false prophets in order to test God’s people.

Inspiration

The most dangerous characteristic of false prophets is that they claim to be from God and to speak for Him. “The prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests rule by their own power; and My people love to have it so” (Jeremiah 5:31).

Such leaders nearly always appear pleasant and positive. They like to be with Christians, and they know how to talk and act like believers.

False prophets usually exude sincerity and thereby more easily deceive others (see 2 Timothy 3:13). But you can identify false teachers’ true colors by noting what they do not talk much about. They usually don’t deny basic doctrines such as Christ’s deity and substitutionary atonement, the sinfulness of humanity, or unbelievers’ going to hell. They simply ignore such “controversial” truths.

But whenever a false prophet is in your midst, you must not ignore his presence or the harmful effects of his heretical teaching. (From Truth for Today by John MacArthur)

Application

One of the best ways to avoid false teachers and their teachings is to know the Word of God. Apply yourself to reading and studying the Word of God daily.

Exploration

False Prophets—Deuteronomy 18:22; Jeremiah 14:13–16; Matthew 7:15; 2 Thessalonians 2:6–9.

If anybody understands God's ardor for his children, it's someone who has rescued an orphan from despair, for that is what God has done for us. —Max Lucado (The Great House of God)

False Prophets

Prophets or those who tell the future with dreams might come to you and say they will show you a miracle or a sign.<sup>2</sup>The miracle or sign might even happen, and then they might say, “Let’s serve other gods” (gods you have not known) “and let’s worship them.”<sup>3</sup>But you must not listen to those prophets or dreamers. The Lord your God is testing you, to find out if you love him with your whole being.<sup>4</sup>Serve only the Lord your God. Respect him, keep his commands, and obey him. Serve him and be loyal to him.<sup>5</sup>The prophets or dreamers must be killed, because they said you should turn against the Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt and saved you from the land where you were slaves. They tried to turn you from doing what the Lord your God commanded you to do. You must get rid of the evil among you.

<sup>6</sup>Someone might try to lead you to serve other gods—it might be your brother, your son or daughter, the wife you love, or a close friend. The person might say, “Let’s go and worship other gods.” (These are gods that neither you nor your ancestors have known,<sup>7</sup>gods of the people who live around you, either nearby or far away, from one end of the land to the other.)<sup>8</sup>Do not give in to such people. Do not listen or feel sorry for them, and do not let them go free or protect them.<sup>9</sup>You must put them to death. You must be the first one to start to kill them, and then everyone else must join in.<sup>10</sup>You must throw stones at them until they die, because they tried to turn you away from the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, where you were slaves. <sup>11</sup>Then everyone in Israel will hear about this and be afraid, and no one among you will ever do such an evil thing again.

Cities to Destroy

<sup>12</sup>The Lord your God is giving you cities in which to live, and you might hear something about one of them. Someone might say <sup>13</sup>that evil people have moved in among you. And they might lead the people of that city away from God, saying, “Let’s go and worship other gods.” (These are gods you have not known.) <sup>14</sup>Then you must ask about it, looking into the matter and checking carefully whether it is true. If it is proved that a hateful thing has happened among you, <sup>15</sup>you must kill with a sword everyone who lives in that city. Destroy the city completely and kill everyone in it, as well as the animals, with a sword. <sup>16</sup>Gather up everything those people owned, and put it in the middle of the city square. Then completely burn the city and everything they owned as a burnt offering to the Lord your God. That city should never be rebuilt; let it be ruined forever. <sup>17</sup>Don’t keep for yourselves any of the things found in that city, so the Lord will not be angry anymore. He will give you mercy and feel sorry for you, and he will make your nation grow larger, as he promised to your ancestors. <sup>18</sup>You will have obeyed the Lord your God by keeping all his commands that I am giving to you today, and you will be doing what the Lord says is right.

God's Special People

You are the children of the Lord your God. When someone dies, do not cut yourselves or shave your heads to show your sadness. <sup>2</sup>You are holy people, who belong to the Lord your God. He has chosen you from all the people on earth to be his very own.

<sup>9</sup>There are many things that live in the water. You may eat anything that has fins and scales, <sup>10</sup>but do not eat anything that does not have fins and scales. It is unclean for you.

<sup>21</sup>Do not eat anything you find that is already dead. You may give it to a foreigner living in your town, and he may eat it, or you may sell it to a foreigner. But you are holy people, who belong to the Lord your God.

Do not cook a baby goat in its mother's milk.

Giving One-Tenth

<sup>22</sup>Be sure to save one-tenth of all your crops each year. <sup>23</sup>Take it to the place the Lord your God will choose where he is to be worshiped. There, where you will be together with the Lord, eat the tenth of your grain, new wine, and oil, and eat the animals born first to your herds and flocks. Do this so that you will learn to respect the Lord your God always. <sup>24</sup>But if the place the Lord will choose to be worshiped is too far away and he has blessed you so much you cannot carry a tenth, <sup>25</sup>exchange your one-tenth for silver. Then take the silver with you to the place the Lord your God shall choose. <sup>26</sup>Use the silver to buy anything you wish—cattle, sheep, wine, beer, or anything you wish. Then you and your family will eat and celebrate there before the Lord your God. <sup>27</sup>Do not forget the Levites in your town, because they have no land of their own among you.

<sup>28</sup>At the end of every third year, everyone should bring one-tenth of that year's crop and store it in your towns. <sup>29</sup>This is for the Levites so they may eat and be full. (They have no land of their own among you.) It is also for strangers, orphans, and widows who live in your towns so that all of them may eat and be full. Then the Lord your God will bless you and all the work you do.

Life Lessons

Deuteronomy 14:1–16:20

Situation

God prepared Israel to inhabit the Promised Land. Everything he told the Israelites was designed to protect them from forgetting God and turning to idolatry.

Observation

God gave the Israelites rules that helped them keep his priorities. The principles we follow today also help us keep perspectives right.

Inspiration

One of the celebrated heroes of our century has been Mohandas Gandhi, the Indian leader who sparked the flame of independence for his country. Those who have read his biography or who have seen his story so brilliantly told upon the screen are often impressed with the tranquil spirit that “India’s George Washington” displayed... .

How could Gandhi maintain his private sense of order, his appropriate humility, and his base wisdom and judgment? How did he avoid losing his own identity and spirit of conviction as he moved between those enormous extremes? Where did the emotional and spiritual force come from?

Perhaps the beginning of an answer to those questions lies in Gandhi’s fascination with the simple spinning wheel. The wheel seems to have always been at the center of his life. Gandhi appears to have often returned from public exposure to his humble dwellings where he would, in Indian fashion, sit upon the floor and engage in the simple act of spinning the wool from which his clothes were made....

Gandhi's spinning wheel was his center of gravity in life. It was the great leveler in his human experience. When he returned from the great public moments in his life, the spinning-wheel experience restored him to his proper sense of proportion, so that he was not falsely swelled with pride due to the cheers of the people....

Gandhi was by no means a Christian, but what he was doing at the wheel is an indispensable lesson for any healthy Christian. For he shows us what every man or woman who wants to move in a public world without being pressed into its mold needs to do. We, too, need the spinning-wheel experience—the ordering of our private worlds so that they are constantly restructured with strength and vitality....

When we come from an experience at the spinning wheel, where all is returned to proper proportion and value, the public world can be managed and properly touched. Relationships with family and friends, with business associates, neighbors and even enemies take on a new and healthier perspective. It becomes possible to forgive, to serve, to not seek vengeance, to be generous.

(From Ordering Your Private World by Gordon MacDonald)

Application

Remind yourself of what is important. Take a walk with your family. Send money to someone in need. Be a volunteer. Spend time worshipping God. Allow your perspective to be refocused.

Exploration

Matthew 6:3; Luke 12:33; Romans 12:8; 2 Corinthians 9:7.

The Special Seventh Year

At the end of every seven years, you must tell those who owe you anything that they do not have to pay you back.<sup>2</sup>This is how you must do it: Everyone who has loaned money must cancel the loan and not make a neighbor or relative pay it back. This is the Lord's time for canceling what people owe.<sup>3</sup>You may make a foreigner pay what is owed to you, but you must not collect what another Israelite owes you.<sup>4</sup>But there should be no poor people among you, because the Lord your God will richly bless you in the land he is giving you as your own.<sup>5</sup>He will bless you if you obey the Lord your God completely, but you must be careful to obey all the commands I am giving you today.<sup>6</sup>The Lord your God will bless you as he promised, and you will lend to other nations, but you will not need to borrow from them. You will rule over many nations, but none will rule over you.

<sup>7</sup>If there are poor among you, in one of the towns of the land the Lord your God is giving you, do not be selfish or greedy toward them.<sup>8</sup>But give freely to them, and freely lend them whatever they need.<sup>9</sup>Beware of evil thoughts. Don't think, "The seventh year is near, the year to cancel what people owe." You might be mean to the needy and not give them anything. Then they will complain to the Lord about you, and he will find you guilty of sin.<sup>10</sup>Give freely to the poor person, and do not wish that you didn't have to give. The Lord your God will bless your work and everything you touch.

you to give freely to your neighbors and to the poor and needy in your land.

Letting Slaves Go Free

<sup>12</sup>If one of your own people sells himself to you as a slave, whether it is a Hebrew man or woman, that person will serve you for six years. But in the seventh year you must let the slave go free. <sup>13</sup>When you let slaves go, don't send them away without anything. <sup>14</sup>Give them some of your flock, your grain, and your wine, giving to them as the Lord has given to you. <sup>15</sup>Remember that you were slaves in Egypt, and the Lord your God saved you. That is why I am commanding this to you today.

<sup>16</sup>But if your slave says to you, "I don't want to leave you," because he loves you and your family and has a good life with you, <sup>17</sup>stick an awl through his ear into the door; he will be your slave for life. Also do this to a female slave.

<sup>18</sup>Do not think of it as a hard thing when you let your slaves go free. After all, they served you six years and did twice the work of a hired person. The Lord your God will bless you in everything you do.

Rules About Firstborn Animals

<sup>19</sup>Save all the first male animals born to your herds and flocks. They are for the Lord your God. Do not work the first calf born to your oxen, and do not cut off the wool from the first lamb born to your sheep. <sup>20</sup>Each year you and your family are to eat these animals in the presence of the Lord your God, in the place he will choose to be worshiped. <sup>21</sup>If an animal is crippled or blind or has something else wrong, do not sacrifice it to the Lord your God. <sup>22</sup>But you may eat that animal in your own town. Both clean and unclean people may eat it, as they would eat a gazelle or a deer. <sup>23</sup>But don't eat its blood; pour it out on the ground like water.

The Passover

Celebrate the Passover of the Lord your God during the month of Abib, because it was during Abib that he brought you out of Egypt at night. <sup>2</sup>As the sacrifice for the Passover to the Lord your God, offer an animal from your flock or herd at the place the Lord will choose to be worshiped. <sup>3</sup>Do not eat it with bread made with yeast. But for seven days eat bread made without yeast, the bread of suffering, because you left Egypt in a hurry. So all your life you will remember the time you left Egypt. <sup>4</sup>There must be no yeast anywhere in your land for seven days. Offer the sacrifice on the evening of the first day, and eat all the meat before morning; do not leave it overnight.

<sup>5</sup>Do not offer the Passover sacrifice in just any town the Lord your God gives you, <sup>6</sup>but offer it in the place he will choose to be worshiped. Offer it in the evening as the sun goes down, which is when you left Egypt. <sup>7</sup>Roast the meat and eat it at the place the Lord your God will choose. The next morning go back to your tents. <sup>8</sup>Eat bread made without yeast for six days. On the seventh day have a special meeting for the Lord your God, and do not work that day.

The Feast of Weeks

<sup>9</sup>Count seven weeks from the time you begin to harvest the grain, <sup>10</sup>and then celebrate the Feast of Weeks for the Lord your God. Bring an offering as a special gift to him, giving to him just as he has blessed you. <sup>11</sup>Rejoice before the Lord your God at the place he will choose to be worshiped. Everybody should rejoice: you, your sons and daughters, your male and female servants, the Levites in your town, the strangers, orphans, and widows living among you. <sup>12</sup>Remember that you were slaves in Egypt, and carefully obey all these laws.

The Feast of Shelters

<sup>13</sup>Celebrate the Feast of Shelters for seven days, after you have gathered your harvest from the threshing floor and winepress.

<sup>14</sup>Everybody should rejoice at your Feast: you, your sons and daughters, your male and female servants, the Levites, strangers, orphans, and widows who live in your towns.

<sup>15</sup>Celebrate the Feast to the Lord your God for seven days at the place he will choose, because the Lord your God will bless all your harvest and all the work you do, and you will be completely happy.

<sup>16</sup>All your men must come before the Lord three times a year to the place he will choose. They must come at these times: the Feast of Unleavened Bread, the Feast of Weeks, and the Feast of Shelters. No man should come before the Lord without a gift.

<sup>17</sup>Each of you must bring a gift that will show how much the Lord your God has blessed you.

Judges for the People

<sup>18</sup>Appoint judges and officers for your tribes in every town the Lord your God is giving you; they must judge the people fairly.

<sup>19</sup>Do not judge unfairly or take sides. Do not let people pay you to make wrong decisions, because that kind of payment makes wise people seem blind, and it changes the words of good people.<sup>20</sup> Always do what is right so that you will live and always have the land the Lord your God is giving you.

Life Lessons

Deuteronomy 16:21–18:22

Situation

Moses gave civil laws for ruling the nation. Even in this area, strict compliance with God's rules was necessary in order to avoid harsh punishment. Worshiping other gods would not be tolerated. The people were to comply with instructions from courts, kings, priests, and prophets. They were to be wary of kings who were tempted by wealth and power, and prophets whose predictions were not fulfilled.

Observation

God provided precise instructions to the Israelites for governing themselves and honoring the divine moral code.

Inspiration

As the Constitution is the highest law of the land, so the Bible is the highest law of God. For it is in the Bible that God sets forth His spiritual laws. It is in the Bible that God makes His enduring promises. It is in the Bible that God reveals the plan of redemption for the human race. . . .

The laws of our land find their genesis in the Ten Commandments. And Sir William Blackstone, the great English jurist, wrote: "The Bible has always been regarded as part of the Common Law of England.”

Christianity finds all its doctrines stated in the Bible, and Christianity denies no part, nor attempts to add anything to the Word of God. While the Constitution of the United States may be amended from time to time, no amendment is ever necessary for the Bible. We truly believe that the men who wrote the Bible were guided by the Holy Spirit, both in the thoughts they expressed and in their choice of words. As Peter said, “For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.”

In setting down their forthright messages, biblical scribes have never attempted to gloss over the realities of life. The sins of the great and small are freely admitted, the weaknesses of human nature are acknowledged, and life in biblical times is recorded as it was lived. The startling thing is that the lives and motivations of these people who lived so long ago have such a modern flavor! As we read, the pages seem like mirrors held up before our own minds and hearts, reflecting our own prides and prejudices, our own failures and humiliations, our own sins and sorrows.

Truth is timeless. Truth does not differ from one age to another, from one people to another, from one geographical location to another. Men’s ideas may differ, men’s customs may change, men’s moral codes may vary, but the great all-prevailing Truth stands for time and eternity.

The message of Jesus Christ, our Savior, is the story of the Bible—it is the story of salvation. Profound students of the Bible have traced the story of Jesus Christ from the beginning of the Old Testament, for He is the true theme of the Old as well as the New Testament.

The fact of Jesus Christ is the eternal message of the Bible. It is the story of life, peace, eternity, and heaven. The Bible has no hidden purpose. It has no need for special interpretation. It has a single, clear, bold message for every living being—the message of Christ and His offer of peace with God. (From Peace with God by Billy Graham)

Application

We like to rebel against laws when they limit our freedom. But God's law blesses us because it protects us and simplifies our decision-making. How do you view God's rules? If you view them as moral guideposts, your trail through life will have fewer twists and dead ends.

Exploration

God's Law—Exodus 15:25; Leviticus 19; Galatians 2:15–16.

God Hates Idols

<sup>21</sup>Do not set up a wooden Asherah idol next to the altar you build for the Lord your God, <sup>22</sup>and do not set up holy stone pillars. The Lord your God hates them.

If an ox or sheep has something wrong with it, do not offer it as a sacrifice to the Lord your God. He would hate that.

<sup>2</sup>A man or woman in one of the towns the Lord gave you might be found doing something evil and breaking the Agreement. <sup>3</sup>That person may have served other gods and bowed down to them or to the sun or moon or stars of the sky, which I have commanded should not be done. <sup>4</sup>If someone has told you about it, you must look into the matter carefully. If it is true that such a hateful thing has happened in Israel, <sup>5</sup>take the man or woman who has done the evil thing to the city gates and throw stones at that person until he dies. <sup>6</sup>There must be two or three witnesses that it is true before the person is put to death; if there is only one witness, the person should not be put to death. <sup>7</sup>The witnesses must be the first to throw stones at the person, and then everyone else will follow. You must get rid of the evil among you.

Courts of Law

<sup>8</sup>Some cases that come before you, such as murder, quarreling, or attack, may be too difficult to judge. Take these cases to the place the Lord your God will choose. <sup>9</sup>Go to the priests who are Levites and to the judge who is on duty at that time. Ask them about the case, and they will decide. <sup>10</sup>You must follow the decision they give you at the place the Lord your God will choose. Be careful to do everything they tell you. <sup>11</sup>Follow the teachings they give you, and do whatever they decide, exactly as they tell you. <sup>12</sup>The person who does not show respect for the judge or priest who is there serving the Lord your God must be put to death. You must get rid of that evil from Israel.

<sup>13</sup>Then everyone will hear about this and will be afraid, and they will not show disrespect anymore.

Choosing a King

<sup>14</sup>When you enter the land the Lord your God is giving you, taking it as your own and living in it, you will say, “Let’s appoint a king over us like the nations all around us.” <sup>15</sup>Be sure to appoint over you the king the Lord your God chooses. He must be one of your own people. Do not appoint as your king a foreigner who is not a fellow Israelite. <sup>16</sup>The king must not have too many horses for himself, and he must not send people to Egypt to get more horses, because the Lord has told you, “Don’t return that way again.” <sup>17</sup>The king must not have many wives, or his heart will be led away from God. He must not have too much silver and gold.

<sup>18</sup>When he becomes king, he should write a copy of the teachings on a scroll for himself, a copy taken from the priests and Levites. <sup>19</sup>He should keep it with him all the time and read from it every day of his life. Then he will learn to respect the Lord his God, and he will obey all the teachings and commands. <sup>20</sup>He should not think he is better than his fellow Israelites, and he must not stop obeying the law in any way so that he and his descendants may rule the kingdom for a long time.

Shares for Priests and Levites

The priests are from the tribe of Levi, and that tribe will not receive a share of the land with the Israelites. They will eat the offerings made to the Lord by fire, which is their share. <sup>2</sup>They will not inherit any of the land like their brothers, but they will inherit the Lord himself, as he has promised them.

<sup>3</sup>When you offer a bull or sheep as a sacrifice, you must share with the priests, giving them the shoulder, the cheeks, and the inner organs. <sup>4</sup>Give them the first of your grain, new wine, and oil, as well as the first wool you cut from your sheep. <sup>5</sup>The Lord your God has chosen the priests and their descendants out of all your tribes to stand and serve the Lord always.

<sup>6</sup>If a Levite moves from one of your towns anywhere in Israel where he lives and comes to the place the Lord will choose, because he wants to serve the Lord there, <sup>7</sup>he may serve the Lord his God. He will be like his fellow Levites who serve there before the Lord. <sup>8</sup>They all will have an equal share of the food. That is separate from what he has received from the sale of family possessions.

Do Not Follow Other Nations

<sup>9</sup>When you enter the land the Lord your God is giving you, don't learn to do the hateful things the other nations do.

<sup>10</sup>Don't let anyone among you offer a son or daughter as a sacrifice in the fire. Don't let anyone use magic or witchcraft, or try to explain the meaning of signs. <sup>11</sup>Don't let anyone try to control others with magic, and don't let them be mediums or try to talk with the spirits of dead people. <sup>12</sup>The Lord hates anyone who does these things. Because the other nations do these things, the Lord your God will force them out of the land ahead of you. <sup>13</sup>But you must be innocent in the presence of the Lord your God.

The Lord's Special Prophet

<sup>14</sup>The nations you will force out listen to people who use magic and witchcraft, but the Lord your God will not let you do those things. <sup>15</sup>The Lord your God will give you a prophet like me, who is one of your own people. Listen to him. <sup>16</sup>This is what you asked the Lord your God to do when you were gathered at Mount Sinai. You said, "Don't make us listen to the voice of the Lord our God again, and don't make us look at this terrible fire anymore, or we will die."

<sup>17</sup>So the Lord said to me, "What they have said is good. <sup>18</sup>So I will give them a prophet like you, who is one of their own people. I will tell him what to say, and he will tell them everything I command. <sup>19</sup>This prophet will speak for me; anyone who does not listen when he speaks will answer to me. <sup>20</sup>But if a prophet says something I did not tell him to say as though he were speaking for me, or if a prophet speaks in the name of other gods, that prophet must be killed."

<sup>21</sup>You might be thinking, "How can we know if a message is not from the Lord?" <sup>22</sup>If what a prophet says in the name of the Lord does not happen, it is not the Lord's message. That prophet was speaking his own ideas. Don't be afraid of him.

Cities of Safety

When the Lord your God gives you land that belongs to the other nations, nations that he will destroy, you will force them out and live in their cities and houses.<sup>2</sup> Then choose three cities in the middle of the land the Lord your God is giving you as your own.<sup>3</sup> Build roads to these cities, and divide the land the Lord is giving you into three parts so that someone who kills another person may run to these cities.

<sup>4</sup>This is the rule for someone who kills another person and runs to one of these cities in order to save his life. But the person must have killed a neighbor without meaning to, not out of hatred.<sup>5</sup> For example, suppose someone goes into the forest with a neighbor to cut wood and swings an ax to cut down a tree. If the ax head flies off the handle, hitting and killing the neighbor, the one who killed him may run to one of these cities to save his life.<sup>6</sup> Otherwise, the dead person's relative who has the duty of punishing a murderer might be angry and chase him. If the city is far away, the relative might catch and kill the person, even though he should not be killed because there was no intent to kill his neighbor.<sup>7</sup> This is why I command you to choose these three cities.

<sup>8-9</sup>Carefully obey all these laws I'm giving you today. Love the Lord your God, and always do what he wants you to do. Then the Lord your God will enlarge your land as he promised your ancestors, giving you the whole land he promised to them. After that, choose three more cities of safety <sup>10</sup>so that innocent people will not be killed in your land, the land that the Lord your God is giving you as your own. By doing this you will not be guilty of allowing the death of innocent people.

<sup>11</sup>But if a person hates his neighbor and, after hiding and waiting, attacks and kills him and then runs to one of these cities for safety, <sup>12</sup>the older leaders of his own city should send for the murderer. They should bring the person back from the city of safety and hand him over to the relative who has the duty of punishing the murderer. <sup>13</sup>Show no mercy. You must remove from Israel the guilt of murdering innocent people so that things will go well for you.

<sup>14</sup>Do not move the stone that marks the border of your neighbor's land, which people long ago set in place. It marks what you inherit in the land the Lord your God is giving you as your own.

Rules About Witnesses

<sup>15</sup>One witness is not enough to accuse a person of a crime or sin. A case must be proved by two or three witnesses.

Deuteronomy 19:1–20:20

Situation

Moses gave the people of Israel God's laws for ruling the nation. God's law stressed issues of safety, justice, and dealing with conflict. God promised to go with them in battle.

Observation

The cities of safety were designated towns to which people who had killed a person by accident could flee. Murderers who intentionally killed someone were not protected in those cities. This is an Old Testament illustration of grace. Believers, as refugees from sin, have a place to turn to—Jesus Christ.

Inspiration

The first step in finding your place in God's plan is to see his mercy—instead of looking inside yourself, look up to him and reflect upon and understand his mercy. How great is the call of God!

God forgave us before we even asked it. He extended mercy to us before we even knew we needed it. Why? Because the God of mercy took pity on us—a band of creatures who are incapable of saving themselves without his gift of mercy. (From The Inspirational Bible, “Mercy”)

Application

If you struggle with understanding God's mercy, reflect on where you would be today without God's grace. How have you experienced God as a place of safety? As a New Testament believer, you can now come before God's throne where there is grace and mercy when you need it (see Hebrews 4:16).

Laws for War

When you go to war against your enemies and you see horses and chariots and an army that is bigger than yours, don't be afraid of them. The Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt, will be with you. <sup>2</sup>The priest must come and speak to the army before you go into battle. <sup>3</sup>He will say, "Listen, Israel! Today you are going into battle against your enemies. Don't lose your courage or be afraid. Don't panic or be frightened, <sup>4</sup>because the Lord your God goes with you, to fight for you against your enemies and to save you."

<sup>5</sup>The officers should say to the army, "Has anyone built a new house but not given it to God? He may go home, because he might die in battle and someone else would get to give his house to God. <sup>6</sup>Has anyone planted a vineyard and not begun to enjoy it? He may go home, because he might die in battle and someone else would enjoy his vineyard. <sup>7</sup>Is any man engaged to a woman and not yet married to her? He may go home, because he might die in battle and someone else would marry her." <sup>8</sup>Then the officers should also say, "Is anyone here afraid? Has anyone lost his courage? He may go home so that he will not cause others to lose their courage, too." <sup>9</sup>When the officers finish speaking to the army, they should appoint commanders to lead it.

<sup>10</sup>When you march up to attack a city, first make them an offer of peace. <sup>11</sup>If they accept your offer and open their gates to you, all the people of that city will become your slaves and work for you. <sup>12</sup>But if they do not make peace with you and fight you in battle, you should surround that city. <sup>13</sup>The Lord your God will give it to you. Then kill all the men with your swords, <sup>14</sup>and you may take everything else in the city for yourselves. Take the women, children, and animals, and you may use these things the Lord your God gives you from your enemies. <sup>15</sup>Do this to all the cities that are far away, that do not belong to the nations nearby.

<sup>16</sup>But leave nothing alive in the cities of the land the Lord your God is giving you. <sup>17</sup>Completely destroy these people: the Hittites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites, as the Lord your God has commanded. <sup>18</sup>Otherwise, they will teach you what they do for their gods, and if you do these hateful things, you will sin against the Lord your God.

<sup>19</sup>If you surround and attack a city for a long time, trying to capture it, do not destroy its trees with an ax. You can eat the fruit from the trees, but do not cut them down. These trees are not the enemy, so don't make war against them. <sup>20</sup>But you may cut down trees that you know are not fruit trees and use them to build devices to attack the city walls, until the city is captured.

A Person Found Murdered

Suppose someone is found murdered, lying in a field in the land the Lord your God is giving you as your own, and no one knows who killed the person.<sup>2</sup>Your older leaders and judges should go to where the body was found, and they should measure how far it is to the nearby cities.<sup>3</sup>The older leaders of the city nearest the body must take a young cow that has never worked or worn a yoke,<sup>4</sup>and they must lead her down to a valley that has never been plowed or planted, with a stream flowing through it. There they must break the young cow's neck.<sup>5</sup>The priests, the sons of Levi, should come forward, because they have been chosen by the Lord your God to serve him and to give blessings in the Lord's name. They are the ones who decide cases of quarreling and attacks.<sup>6</sup>Then all the older leaders of the city nearest the murdered person should wash their hands over the young cow whose neck was broken in the valley.<sup>7</sup>They should declare: "We did not kill this person, and we did not see it happen."<sup>8</sup>Lord, remove this sin from your people Israel, whom you have saved. Don't blame your people, the Israelites, for the murder of this innocent person." And so the murder will be paid for.<sup>9</sup>Then you will have removed from yourselves the guilt of murdering an innocent person, because you will be doing what the Lord says is right.

Captive Women as Wives

<sup>10</sup>When you go to war against your enemies, the Lord will help you defeat them so that you will take them captive. <sup>11</sup>If you see a beautiful woman among the captives and are attracted to her, you may take her as your wife. <sup>12</sup>Bring her into your home, where she must shave her head and cut her nails <sup>13</sup>and change the clothes she was wearing when you captured her. After she has lived in your house and cried for her parents for a month, you may marry her. You will be her husband, and she will be your wife. <sup>14</sup>But if you are not pleased with her, you must let her go anywhere she wants. You must not sell her for money or make her a slave, because you have taken away her honor.

The Oldest Son

<sup>15</sup>A man might have two wives, one he loves and one he doesn't. Both wives might have sons by him. If the older son belongs to the wife he does not love, <sup>16</sup>when that man wills his property to his sons he must not give the son of the wife he loves what belongs to the older son, the son of the wife he does not love. <sup>17</sup>He must agree to give the older son two shares of everything he owns, even though the older son is from the wife he does not love. That son was the first to prove his father could have children, so he has the rights that belong to the older son.

Sons Who Refuse to Obey

<sup>18</sup>If someone has a son who is stubborn, who turns against his father and mother and doesn't obey them or listen when they correct him, <sup>19</sup>his parents must take him to the older leaders at the city gate.<sup>20</sup>They will say to the leaders, “Our son is stubborn and turns against us. He will not obey us. He eats too much, and he is always drunk.”<sup>21</sup>Then all the men in his town must throw stones at him until he dies. Get rid of the evil among you, because then all the people of Israel will hear about this and be afraid.

Other Laws

<sup>22</sup>If someone is guilty of a sin worthy of death, he must be put to death and his body displayed on a tree.<sup>23</sup>But don't leave his body hanging on the tree overnight; be sure to bury him that same day, because anyone whose body is displayed on a tree is cursed by God. You must not ruin the land the Lord your God is giving you as your own.

Christ Through the Bible

Christ Became a Curse for Us

Through the eyes of Scripture we see what others missed but what Jesus saw. “He cancelled the debt, which listed all the rules we failed to follow. He took away the record with its rules and nailed it to the cross”(Colossians 2:14).

Between his hand and the wood there was a list. A long list. A list of our mistakes: our lusts and lies and greedy moments and prodigal years. A list of our sins.

Dangling from the cross is an itemized catalog of your sins. The bad decisions from last year. The bad attitudes from last week. There, in broad daylight for all of heaven to see, is a list of your mistakes.

God ... penned a list of our faults. The list God has made, however, cannot be read. The words can't be deciphered. The mistakes are covered. The sins are hidden. Those at the top are hidden by his hand; those down the list are covered by his blood...

This is why he refused to close his fist. He saw the list! What kept him from resisting? This warrant, this tabulation of your failures. He knew the price of those sins was death. He knew the source of those sins was you, and since he couldn't bear the thought of eternity without you, he chose the nails.

The hand squeezing the handle was not a Roman infantryman.

The force behind the hammer was not an angry mob.

The verdict behind the death was not decided by jealous Jews.

Jesus himself chose the nails. (From He Chose the Nails by Max Lucado)

Deuteronomy 21:1–22:30

Situation

Moses gave the people laws on incest, murder, adultery, fornication, inheritance, discipline of children, and social responsibilities.

Observation

God gave us principles that we should honor. The ones here regarding marriage related to premarital sexual purity.

Inspiration

The Bible is the story of two gardens. Eden and Gethsemane. In the first, Adam took a fall. In the second, Jesus took a stand. In the first, God sought Adam. In the second, Jesus sought God. In Eden, Adam hid from God. In Gethsemane, Jesus emerged from the tomb. In Eden, Satan led Adam to a tree that led to his death. From Gethsemane, Jesus went to a tree that led to our life.

Satan was never invited to the Garden of Eden. He did not belong there. He was not wanted there. He slithered as a snake into God's garden and infected God's children.

That's all he's done since. Hasn't he entered a few of your holy gardens?

We even call it "holy matrimony." The word "altar" implies the presence of God. Marriage was God's idea. The first wedding occurred in the first garden. But that doesn't make any difference to the devil. He snakes his way into every home with one desire—to destroy.

Sexual intimacy is God's gift. Virginity is a rose plucked from the garden, given by God and intended to be shared with your forever partner. Satan mocks such loyalty. He is the father of incest and abuse. He is the author of immorality. He is the pimp of the garden.

We give sacred oaths and make solemn promises. We vow to be a good parent, a true companion, and a loyal friend. But Satan's head turns when he hears a pledge. "We'll see about that," the father of lies smirks.

In God's eyes, a child is holy. The innocence of youth, the freshness of childhood, the joy of an infant. There was never a moment when Jesus turned away a child. But there has never been a child Satan didn't despise. He was killing babies to kill Moses. He was destroying infants to destroy the Christ. His tactics haven't changed. Millions of babies are still aborted; thousands of children are abused. Jesus said of Satan, "He was a murderer from the beginning" (John 8:44).

Is there a realm untouched by Satan? Is there a place unscarred by his sword? The church? The government? Children? Purity? Promises?

And you! And me! We are called to be holy. We were made to be holy. Set apart for his good work. We are the prized flowers of the garden. But is there one person who has not felt the foot of the intruder?

What Satan did in Eden, he does today. For that reason we need to know that what Jesus did in Gethsemane, he does today. He reclaims the holy. He will not long sit silent while Satan strip-mines the sacred. At the right moment Jesus stands and speaks. And when he stands and speaks, Satan stumbles and is silent.

(From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

Are there areas in your life that Satan has taken hold of that need to be reclaimed? Don't let anything or anyone stand in the way of your leading a holy life. If you feel like you're in bondage, get help. See a pastor, friend, or counselor. Let them hold you accountable in the pursuit of holiness.

Exploration

Shun Evil—Psalm 34:14–16; 97:10; Romans 12:9; Colossians 3:5; 1 Peter 3:11.

If you see your fellow Israelite's ox or sheep wandering away, don't ignore it. Take it back to its owner. <sup>2</sup>If the owner does not live close to you, or if you do not know who the owner is, take the animal home with you. Keep it until the owner comes looking for it; then give it back. <sup>3</sup>Do the same thing if you find a donkey or coat or anything someone lost. Don't just ignore it.

<sup>4</sup>If you see your fellow Israelite's donkey or ox fallen on the road, don't ignore it. Help the owner get it up.

<sup>5</sup>A woman must not wear men's clothes, and a man must not wear women's clothes. The Lord your God hates anyone who does that.

<sup>6</sup>If you find a bird's nest by the road, either in a tree or on the ground, and the mother bird is sitting on the young birds or eggs, do not take the mother bird with the young birds. <sup>7</sup>You may take the young birds, but you must let the mother bird go free. Then things will go well for you, and you will live a long time.

Marriage Laws

<sup>13</sup>If a man marries a girl and has sexual relations with her but then decides he does not like her, <sup>14</sup>he might talk badly about her and give her a bad name. He might say, "I married this woman, but when I had sexual relations with her, I did not find that she was a virgin." <sup>15</sup>Then the girl's parents must bring proof that she was a virgin to the older leaders at the city gate. <sup>16</sup>The girl's father will say to the leaders, "I gave my daughter to this man to be his wife, but now he does not want her. <sup>17</sup>This man has told lies about my daughter. He has said, 'I did not find your daughter to be a virgin,' but here is the proof that my daughter was a virgin." Then her parents are to show the sheet to the city leaders, <sup>18</sup>and the leaders must take the man and punish him. <sup>19</sup>They must make him pay about two and one-half pounds of silver to the girl's father, because the man has given an Israelite virgin a bad name. The girl will continue to be the man's wife, and he may not divorce her as long as he lives.

<sup>20</sup>But if the things the husband said about his wife are true, and there is no proof that she was a virgin, <sup>21</sup>the girl must be brought to the door of her father's house. Then the men of the town must put her to death by throwing stones at her. She has done a disgraceful thing in Israel by having sexual relations before she was married. You must get rid of the evil among you.

<sup>23</sup>If a man meets a virgin in a city and has sexual relations with her, but she is engaged to another man, <sup>24</sup>you must take both of them to the city gate and put them to death by throwing stones at them. Kill the girl, because she was in a city and did not scream for help. And kill the man for having sexual relations with another man's wife. You must get rid of the evil among you.

<sup>25</sup>But if a man meets an engaged girl out in the country and forces her to have sexual relations with him, only the man who had sexual relations with her must be put to death. <sup>26</sup>Don't do anything to the girl, because she has not done a sin worthy of death. This is like the person who attacks and murders a neighbor; <sup>27</sup>the man found the engaged girl in the country and she screamed, but no one was there to save her.

<sup>28</sup>If a man meets a virgin who is not engaged to be married and forces her to have sexual relations with him and people find out about it, <sup>29</sup>the man must pay the girl's father about one and one-fourth pounds of silver. He must also marry the girl, because he has dishonored her, and he may never divorce her for as long as he lives.

<sup>30</sup>A man must not marry his father's wife; he must not dishonor his father in this way.

Life Lessons

Deuteronomy 23:1–25:19

Situation

God continued to give laws to his people. He wanted them to treat each other with respect.

Observation

God revealed his concern for families. For God's people, family responsibilities should be a higher priority than civil responsibilities.

Inspiration

I appeal to the young people: It is a very beautiful gift of God for a young man to love a young woman, and a young woman to love a young man, but you must love each other with a clean heart. The greatest gift you can give to each other on the day you get married is a pure heart—a virgin body, a virgin heart. And you need to pray for this purity.

A few weeks ago, two young people came to our house in Calcutta, and they offered me lots of money to feed our people (because we cook every day for 9,000 people). We asked them, "Where did you get this money?" And they said, "We were married two days ago. But we decided beforehand that we would not buy wedding clothes or have a wedding feast—we would give you the money instead." And again we asked, "But why are you doing this?" They answered, "We loved each other so much that we wanted to give something special to each other and begin our married life with a deep demonstration of our love for each other.” It was wonderful to see the true love and respect these two young people had for each other.

And I repeat: Young people, especially nowadays when “love” is shown so easily in the streets, don’t belittle the gift of God. Give the love of a clean heart to each other, and keep yourselves for each other so that God may always be with you; for a clean heart will always see God. He loves a heart that is totally given to him. And my prayer is that you may grow in holiness through this love for each other. (From Who Is for Life? by Mother Theresa)

Application

If you are married, schedule regular time to spend with your spouse. Communicate often. Don’t let even good things take a higher priority. If you are not married, look for ways to serve others in your immediate family or your church family. Ask God to help you have a pure heart.

Exploration

Marriage—Genesis 2:18–25; 24; Song of Solomon 4:15; 5:2–8; Hebrews 13:4.

The Lord's People

No man who has had part of his sex organ cut off may come into the meeting to worship the Lord.

<sup>2</sup>No one born to parents who were forbidden by law to marry may come into the meeting to worship the Lord. The descendants for ten generations may not come in either.

<sup>3</sup>No Ammonite or Moabite may come into the meeting to worship the Lord, and none of their descendants for ten generations may come in. <sup>4</sup>This is because the Ammonites and Moabites did not give you bread and water when you came out of Egypt. And they hired Balaam son of Beor, from Pethor in Northwest Mesopotamia, to put a curse on you. <sup>5</sup>But the Lord your God would not listen to Balaam. He turned the curse into a blessing for you, because the Lord your God loves you. <sup>6</sup>Don't wish for their peace or success as long as you live.

<sup>7</sup>Don't hate Edomites; they are your close relatives. Don't hate Egyptians, because you were foreigners in their country. <sup>8</sup>The great-grandchildren of these two peoples may come into the meeting to worship the Lord.

Keeping the Camp Clean

<sup>9</sup>When you are camped in time of war, keep away from unclean things. <sup>10</sup>If a man becomes unclean during the night, he must go outside the camp and not come back. <sup>11</sup>But when evening comes, he must wash himself, and at sunset he may come back into the camp.

<sup>12</sup>Choose a place outside the camp where people may go to relieve themselves. <sup>13</sup>Carry a tent peg with you, and when you relieve yourself, dig a hole and cover up your dung. <sup>14</sup>The Lord your God moves around through your camp to protect you and to defeat your enemies for you, so the camp must be holy. He must not see anything unclean among you so that he will not leave you.

Other Laws

<sup>15</sup>If an escaped slave comes to you, do not hand over the slave to his master. <sup>16</sup>Let the slave live with you anywhere he likes, in any town he chooses. Do not mistreat him.

<sup>17</sup>No Israelite man or woman must ever become a temple prostitute. <sup>18</sup>Do not bring a male or female prostitute's pay to the Temple of the Lord your God to pay what you have promised to the Lord, because the Lord your God hates prostitution.

<sup>19</sup>If you loan your fellow Israelites money or food or anything else, don't make them pay back more than you loaned them. <sup>20</sup>You may charge foreigners, but not fellow Israelites. Then the Lord your God will bless everything you do in the land you are entering to take as your own.

<sup>21</sup>If you make a promise to give something to the Lord your God, do not be slow to pay it, because the Lord your God demands it from you. Do not be guilty of sin. <sup>22</sup>But if you do not make the promise, you will not be guilty. <sup>23</sup>You must do whatever you say you will do, because you chose to make the promise to the Lord your God.

<sup>24</sup>If you go into your neighbor's vineyard, you may eat as many grapes as you wish, but do not put any grapes into your basket. <sup>25</sup>If you go into your neighbor's grainfield, you may pick grain with your hands, but you must not cut down your neighbor's grain with your sickle.

A man might marry a woman but later decide she doesn't please him because he has found something bad about her. He writes out divorce papers for her, gives them to her, and sends her away from his house. <sup>2</sup>After she leaves his house, she goes and marries another man, <sup>3</sup>but her second husband does not like her either. So he writes out divorce papers for her, gives them to her, and sends her away from his house. Or the second husband might die. <sup>4</sup>In either case, her first husband who divorced her must not marry her again, because she has become unclean. The Lord would hate this. Don't bring this sin into the land the Lord your God is giving you as your own.

<sup>5</sup>A man who has just married must not be sent to war or be given any other duty. He should be free to stay home for a year to make his new wife happy.

<sup>6</sup>If someone owes you something, do not take his two stones for grinding grain—not even the upper one—in place of what he owes, because this is how the person makes a living.

<sup>7</sup>If someone kidnaps a fellow Israelite, either to make him a slave or sell him, the kidnapper must be killed. You must get rid of the evil among you.

<sup>8</sup>Be careful when someone has a skin disease. Do exactly what the priests, the Levites, teach you, being careful to do what I have commanded them. <sup>9</sup>Remember what the Lord your God did to Miriam on your way out of Egypt.

<sup>10</sup>When you make a loan to your neighbors, don't go into their homes to get something in place of it. <sup>11</sup>Stay outside and let them go in and get what they promised you. <sup>12</sup>If a poor person gives you a coat to show he will pay the loan back, don't keep it overnight. <sup>13</sup>Give the coat back at sunset, because your neighbor needs that coat to sleep in, and he will be grateful to you. And the Lord your God will see that you have done a good thing.

<sup>14</sup>Don't cheat hired servants who are poor and needy, whether they are fellow Israelites or foreigners living in one of your towns. <sup>15</sup>Pay them each day before sunset, because they are poor and need the money. Otherwise, they may complain to the Lord about you, and you will be guilty of sin.

<sup>16</sup>Parents must not be put to death if their children do wrong, and children must not be put to death if their parents do wrong. Each person must die for his own sin.

<sup>17</sup>Do not be unfair to a foreigner or an orphan. Don't take a widow's coat to make sure she pays you back. <sup>18</sup>Remember that you were slaves in Egypt, and the Lord your God saved you from there. That is why I am commanding you to do this.

<sup>19</sup>When you are gathering your harvest in the field and leave behind a bundle of grain, don't go back and get it. Leave it there for foreigners, orphans, and widows so that the Lord your God can bless everything you do. <sup>20</sup>When you beat your olive trees to knock the olives off, don't beat the trees a second time. Leave what is left for foreigners, orphans, and widows. <sup>21</sup>When you harvest the grapes in your vineyard, don't pick the vines a second time. Leave what is left for foreigners, orphans, and widows. <sup>22</sup>Remember that you were slaves in Egypt; that is why I am commanding you to do this.

If two people have an argument and go to court, the judges will decide the case. They will declare one person right and the other guilty. <sup>2</sup>If the guilty person has to be punished with a beating, the judge will make that person lie down and be beaten in front of him. The number of lashes should match the crime. <sup>3</sup>But don't hit a person more than forty times, because more than that would disgrace him before others.

<sup>7</sup>But if a man does not want to marry his brother's widow, she should go to the older leaders at the town gate. She should say, "My brother-in-law will not carry on his brother's name in Israel. He refuses to do his duty for me."

<sup>8</sup>Then the older leaders of the town must call for the man and talk to him. But if he is stubborn and says, "I don't want to marry her," <sup>9</sup>the woman must go up to him in front of the leaders. She must take off one of his sandals and spit in his face and say, "This is for the man who won't continue his brother's family!" <sup>10</sup>Then that man's family shall be known in Israel as the Family of the Unsandaled.

one light. <sup>14</sup>Don't have two different sets of measures in your house, one large and one small. <sup>15</sup>You must have true and honest weights and measures so that you will live a long time in the land the Lord your God is giving you. <sup>16</sup>The Lord your God hates anyone who is dishonest and uses dishonest measures.

<sup>17</sup>Remember what the Amalekites did to you when you came out of Egypt. <sup>18</sup>When you were tired and worn out, they met you on the road and attacked all those lagging behind. They were not afraid of God. <sup>19</sup>When the Lord your God gives you rest from all the enemies around you in the land he is giving you as your own, you shall destroy any memory of the Amalekites on the earth. Do not forget!

The First Harvest

When you go into the land the Lord your God is giving you as your own, to take it over and live in it, <sup>2</sup>you must take some of the first harvest of crops that grow from the land the Lord your God is giving you. Put the food in a basket and go to the place where the Lord your God will choose to be worshiped. <sup>3</sup>Say to the priest on duty at that time, “Today I declare before the Lord your God that I have come into the land the Lord promised our ancestors that he would give us.” <sup>4</sup>The priest will take your basket and set it down in front of the altar of the Lord your God. <sup>5</sup>Then you shall announce before the Lord your God: “My father was a wandering Aramean. He went down to Egypt with only a few people, but they became a great, powerful, and large nation there. <sup>6</sup>But the Egyptians were cruel to us, making us suffer and work very hard. <sup>7</sup>So we prayed to the Lord, the God of our ancestors, and he heard us. When he saw our trouble, hard work, and suffering, <sup>8</sup>the Lord brought us out of Egypt with his great power and strength, using great terrors, signs, and miracles. <sup>9</sup>Then he brought us to this place and gave us this fertile land. <sup>10</sup>Now I bring part of the first harvest from this land that you, Lord, have given me.” Place the basket before the Lord your God and bow down before him. <sup>11</sup>Then you and the Levites and foreigners among you should rejoice, because the Lord your God has given good things to you and your family.

<sup>12</sup>Bring a tenth of all your harvest the third year (the year to give a tenth of your harvest). Give it to the Levites, foreigners, orphans, and widows so that they may eat in your towns and be full. <sup>13</sup>Then say to the Lord your God, “I have taken out of my house the part of my harvest that belongs to God, and I have given it to the Levites, foreigners, orphans, and widows. I have done everything you commanded me; I have not broken your commands, and I have not forgotten any of them. <sup>14</sup>I have not eaten any of the holy part while I was in sorrow. I have not removed any of it while I was unclean, and I have not offered it for dead people. I have obeyed you, the Lord my God, and have done everything you commanded me. <sup>15</sup>So look down from heaven, your holy home. Bless your people Israel and bless the land you have given us, which you promised to our ancestors—a fertile land.”

Obey the Lord’s Commands

<sup>16</sup>Today the Lord your God commands you to obey all these rules and laws; be careful to obey them with your whole being. <sup>17</sup>Today you have said that the Lord is your God, and you have promised to do what he wants you to do—to keep his rules, commands, and laws. You have said you will obey him. <sup>18</sup>And today the Lord has said that you are his very own people, as he has promised you. But you must obey his commands. <sup>19</sup>He will make you greater than all the other nations he made. He will give you praise, fame, and honor, and you will be a holy people to the Lord your God, as he has said.

Life Lessons

Deuteronomy 26:1–19

Situation

God reminded the Israelites how he had faithfully provided for all their needs. They were also instructed to give the first portion of each harvest to God, and he would bless them in the land.

Observation

God's Word reminds us to honor him by giving back a portion of what he has provided for us.

Inspiration

According to the dictionary, the original definition of tithe was one-tenth of the annual produce of one's land or of one's annual income. According to the Bible, that is merely the starting place of giving to the Lord. The Malachi passage refers to "tithes and offerings." One might say, then, that there is no offering until the tithe has been paid; it is the expected, minimum amount.

So a lot of people who practice this critical spiritual law give more than 10 percent of their income to the Lord's work. It's all His anyhow, they recognize... . Therefore, many people ignore any 10 percent cutoff and give out of the abundance of their provision. I know one New Jersey florist who had been thoroughly blessed by the Lord as he exercised the principles we are exploring in this book, and he frequently gave 90 percent of his annual income to the service of God. And the prosperity simply mounted. He was not able to outgive the Lord. That law is built into the kingdom. It never changes.

Application

Do you give money to God's work regularly? Is there money set apart in your budget so that he gets the first cut from your paycheck? Rework your budget or create one that will allow you to give to God's work before anything else. God deserves our first fruits, not whatever is left at the end.

God lives with the self-assigned task of providing for his own, and so far, you've got to admit, he's done pretty well at the job. —Max Lucado (The Great House of God)

The Law Written on Stones

Then Moses, along with the older leaders of Israel, commanded the people, saying, “Keep all the commands I have given you today. <sup>2</sup>Soon you will cross the Jordan River to go into the land the Lord your God is giving you. On that day set up some large stones and cover them with plaster. <sup>3</sup>When you cross over, write all the words of these teachings on them. Then you may enter the land the Lord your God is giving you, a fertile land, just as the Lord, the God of your ancestors, promised. <sup>4</sup>After you have crossed the Jordan River, set up these stones on Mount Ebal, as I command you today, and cover them with plaster. <sup>5</sup>Build an altar of stones there to the Lord your God, but don’t use any iron tool to cut the stones; <sup>6</sup>build the altar of the Lord your God with stones from the field. Offer burnt offerings on it to the Lord your God, <sup>7</sup>and offer fellowship offerings there, and eat them and rejoice before the Lord your God. <sup>8</sup>Then write clearly all the words of these teachings on the stones.”

Curses of the Law

<sup>9</sup>Then Moses and the Levites who were priests spoke to all Israel and said, “Be quiet, Israel. Listen! Today you have become the people of the Lord your God. <sup>10</sup>Obey the Lord your God, and keep his commands and laws that I give you today.”

on Mount Gerizim to bless the people: Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Joseph and Benjamin. <sup>13</sup>And these tribes must stand on Mount Ebal to announce the curses: Reuben, Gad, Asher, Zebulun, Dan, and Naphtali.

<sup>14</sup>The Levites will say to all the people of Israel in a loud voice:

<sup>15</sup>“Anyone will be cursed who makes an idol or statue and secretly sets it up, because the Lord hates the idols people make.”

Then all the people will say, “Amen!”

<sup>16</sup>“Anyone will be cursed who dishonors his father or mother.”

Then all the people will say, “Amen!”

<sup>17</sup>“Anyone will be cursed who moves the stone that marks a neighbor’s border.”

Then all the people will say, “Amen!”

<sup>18</sup>“Anyone will be cursed who sends a blind person down the wrong road.”

Then all the people will say, “Amen!”

<sup>19</sup>“Anyone will be cursed who is unfair to foreigners, orphans, or widows.”

Then all the people will say, “Amen!”

<sup>20</sup>“A man will be cursed who has sexual relations with his father’s wife, because it is a dishonor to his father.”

<sup>21</sup>“Anyone will be cursed who has sexual relations with an animal.”

Then all the people will say, “Amen!”

<sup>22</sup>“A man will be cursed who has sexual relations with his sister, whether she is his father’s daughter or his mother’s daughter.”

<sup>23</sup>“A man will be cursed who has sexual relations with his mother-in-law.”

<sup>24</sup>“Anyone will be cursed who kills a neighbor secretly.”

<sup>25</sup>“Anyone will be cursed who takes money to murder an innocent person.”

Then all the people will say, “Amen!”

<sup>26</sup>“Anyone will be cursed who does not agree with the words of these teachings and does not obey them.”

Then all the people will say, “Amen!”

Deuteronomy 27:1–28:68

Situation

The altar at Mount Ebal was to serve as a reminder of the blessings of obedience and the curses of disobedience.

Observation

Actions have consequences. Because the Israelites neglected to obey God, they fell into the hands of Assyria and Babylon.

Inspiration

The partially surrendered life may be Christian in spirit, but it is secular in practice. It may save one's soul, but it hardly leaves a noticeable ripple on one's lifestyle, life view, or the world and culture in which we live. Of what earthly value is Christianity if it leaves no indelible mark on one's lifestyle? It is of no value (in this life) to be Christian if you do not think Christianity—if you do not have a Christian life view.

We live in a broken generation. One doesn't need to be a rocket scientist to make this observation, but the obvious question, of course, is Why? Many think the answer is confusing, but it is not. It is found throughout the record of Scripture—it is disobedience. It is to lead a partially surrendered, or worse, an unsundered, unyielded life. How can we learn to be obedient? We must learn how to surrender, to submit to Christ in the details of daily life.

Over the past few decades, many of us started off on the wrong foot with Jesus Christ. It is the proposition that Jesus can be Savior without being Lord. It is the idea that one can add Christ, but not subtract sin. Many of us have merely added Christ to our lives as another interest in an already busy and otherwise overcrowded schedule. This sort of thinking has watered down the meaning of a personal relationship with Christ.

The problem is that we often seek the God we want, but do not know the God who is. Many men and women I have met express complete, utter frustration about leading this kind of defeated (sometimes counterfeit), partially surrendered life—the life of a cultural Christian.

How did this come about? The low demands of cultural Christianity have led to a low response—it has become the norm. But the Bible calls men and women to a turning point, to a radical, life-transforming change. This turning point is no mean challenge, but a full surrender to history's most ideal, most radical leader: the Lord Jesus Christ.

Blessings for Obeying

You must completely obey the Lord your God, and you must carefully follow all his commands I am giving you today. Then the Lord your God will make you greater than any other nation on earth. <sup>2</sup>Obey the Lord your God so that all these blessings will come and stay with you:

<sup>3</sup>You will be blessed in the city and blessed in the country.

<sup>4</sup>Your children will be blessed, as well as your crops; your herds will be blessed with calves and your flocks with lambs.

<sup>5</sup>Your basket and your kitchen will be blessed.

<sup>6</sup>You will be blessed when you come in and when you go out.

<sup>7</sup>The Lord will help you defeat the enemies that come to fight you. They will attack you from one direction, but they will run from you in seven directions.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord your God will bless you with full barns, and he will bless everything you do. He will bless the land he is giving you.

<sup>9</sup>The Lord will make you his holy people, as he promised. But you must obey his commands and do what he wants you to do. <sup>10</sup>Then everyone on earth will see that you are the Lord's people, and they will be afraid of you. <sup>11</sup>The Lord will make you rich: You will have many children, your animals will have many young, and your land will give good crops. It is the land that the Lord promised your ancestors he would give to you.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord will open up his heavenly storehouse so that the skies send rain on your land at the right time, and he will bless everything you do. You will lend to other nations, but you will not need to borrow from them. <sup>13</sup>The Lord will make you like the head and not like the tail; you will be on top and not on bottom. But you must obey the commands of the Lord your God that I am giving you today, being careful to keep them. <sup>14</sup>Do not disobey anything I command you today. Do exactly as I command, and do not follow other gods or serve them.

Curses for Disobeying

<sup>15</sup>But if you do not obey the Lord your God and carefully follow all his commands and laws I am giving you today, all these curses will come upon you and stay:

<sup>16</sup>You will be cursed in the city and cursed in the country.

<sup>17</sup>Your basket and your kitchen will be cursed.

<sup>18</sup>Your children will be cursed, as well as your crops; the calves of your herds and the lambs of your flocks will be cursed.

<sup>19</sup>You will be cursed when you go in and when you go out.

<sup>20</sup>The Lord will send you curses, confusion, and punishment in everything you do. You will be destroyed and suddenly ruined because you did wrong when you left him.

<sup>21</sup>The Lord will give you terrible diseases and destroy you from the land you are going to take. <sup>22</sup>The Lord will punish you with disease, fever, swelling, heat, lack of rain, plant diseases, and mildew until you die. <sup>23</sup>The sky above will be like bronze, and the ground below will be like iron. <sup>24</sup>The Lord will turn the rain into dust and sand, which will fall from the skies until you are destroyed.

<sup>25</sup>The Lord will help your enemies defeat you. You will attack them from one direction, but you will run from them in seven directions. And you will become a thing of horror among all the kingdoms on earth. <sup>26</sup>Your dead bodies will be food for all the birds and wild animals, and there will be no one to scare them away. <sup>27</sup>The Lord will punish you with boils like those the Egyptians had. You will have bad growths, sores, and itches that can't be cured. <sup>28</sup>The Lord will give you madness, blindness, and a confused mind. <sup>29</sup>You will have to feel around in the daylight like a blind person. You will fail in everything you do. People will hurt you and steal from you every day, and no one will save you.

<sup>30</sup>You will be engaged to a woman, but another man will force her to have sexual relations with him. You will build a house, but you will not live in it. You will plant a vineyard, but you will not get its grapes. <sup>31</sup>Your ox will be killed before your eyes, but you will not eat any of it. Your donkey will be taken away from you, and it will not be brought back. Your sheep will be given to your enemies, and no one will save you. <sup>32</sup>Your sons and daughters will be given to another nation, and you will grow tired looking for them every day, but there will be nothing you can do. <sup>33</sup>People you don't know will eat the crops your land and hard work have produced. You will be mistreated and abused all your life. <sup>34</sup>The things you see will cause you to go mad. <sup>35</sup>The Lord will give you sore boils on your knees and legs that cannot be cured, and they will go from the soles of your feet to the tops of your heads.

neither you nor your ancestors know, where you will serve other gods made of wood and stone.<sup>37</sup> You will become a hated thing to the nations where the Lord sends you; they will laugh at you and make fun of you.

<sup>38</sup>You will plant much seed in your field, but your harvest will be small, because locusts will eat the crop.<sup>39</sup> You will plant vineyards and work hard in them, but you will not pick the grapes or drink the wine, because the worms will eat them.<sup>40</sup> You will have olive trees in all your land, but you will not get any olive oil, because the olives will drop off the trees.<sup>41</sup> You will have sons and daughters, but you will not be able to keep them, because they will be taken captive.<sup>42</sup> Locusts will destroy all your trees and crops.

<sup>43</sup>The foreigners who live among you will get stronger and stronger, and you will get weaker and weaker.<sup>44</sup> Foreigners will lend money to you, but you will not be able to lend to them. They will be like the head, and you will be like the tail.

<sup>45</sup>All these curses will come upon you. They will chase you and catch you and destroy you, because you did not obey the Lord your God and keep the commands and laws he gave you.<sup>46</sup> The curses will be signs and miracles to you and your descendants forever.<sup>47</sup> You had plenty of everything, but you did not serve the Lord your God with joy and a pure heart,<sup>48</sup> so you will serve the enemies the Lord sends against you. You will be hungry, thirsty, naked, and poor, and the Lord will put a load on you until he has destroyed you.

The Curse of an Enemy Nation

the end of the world, and it will swoop down like an eagle. You won't understand their language,<sup>50</sup> and they will look mean. They will not respect old people or feel sorry for the young.<sup>51</sup> They will eat the calves from your herds and the harvest of your field, and you will be destroyed. They will not leave you any grain, new wine or oil, or any calves from your herds or lambs from your flocks. You will be ruined.<sup>52</sup> That nation will surround and attack all your cities. You trust in your high, strong walls, but they will fall down. That nation will surround all your cities everywhere in the land the Lord your God is giving you.

<sup>53</sup>Your enemy will surround you. Those people will make you starve so that you will eat your own babies, the bodies of the sons and daughters the Lord your God gave you.<sup>54</sup> Even the most gentle and kind man among you will become cruel to his brother, his wife whom he loves, and his children who are still alive.<sup>55</sup> He will not even give them any of the flesh of his children he is eating, because it will be all he has left. Your enemy will surround you and make you starve in all your cities.<sup>56</sup> The most gentle and kind woman among you, so gentle and kind she would hardly even walk on the ground, will be cruel to her husband whom she loves and to her son and daughter.<sup>57</sup> She will give birth to a baby, but she will plan to eat the baby and what comes after the birth itself. She will eat them secretly while the enemy surrounds the city. Those people will make you starve in all your cities.

<sup>58</sup>Be careful to obey everything in these teachings that are written in this book. You must respect the glorious and wonderful name of the Lord your God,<sup>59</sup> or the Lord will give terrible diseases to you and your descendants. You will have long and serious diseases, and long and miserable sicknesses. <sup>60</sup>He will give you all the diseases of Egypt that you dread, and the diseases will stay with you. <sup>61</sup>The Lord will also give you every disease and sickness not written in this Book of the Teachings, until you are destroyed. <sup>62</sup>You people may have outnumbered the stars, but only a few of you will be left, because you did not obey the Lord your God. <sup>63</sup>Just as the Lord was once happy with you and gave you good things and made you grow in number, so then the Lord will be happy to ruin and destroy you, and you will be removed from the land you are entering to take as your own.

<sup>64</sup>Then the Lord will scatter you among the nations—from one end of the earth to the other. There you will serve other gods of wood and stone, gods that neither you nor your ancestors have known. <sup>65</sup>You will have no rest among those nations and no place that is yours. The Lord will make your mind worried, your sight weak, and your soul sad. <sup>66</sup>You will live with danger and be afraid night and day. You will not be sure that you will live. <sup>67</sup>In the morning you will say, “I wish it were evening,” and in the evening you will say, “I wish it were morning.” Terror will be in your heart, and the things you have seen will scare you. <sup>68</sup>The Lord will send you back to Egypt in ships, even though I, Moses, said you would never go back to Egypt. And there you will try to sell yourselves as slaves to your enemies, but no one will buy you.

Deuteronomy 29:1–30:20

Situation

Moses summarized God’s guidance and provision for the Israelites during the previous forty years. The adults who originally escaped from Egypt had all died in the desert, but God’s agreement included their descendants. Many times throughout the Old Testament God renewed his agreement with them. Though all Israelites were invited to take part in God’s agreement, only those who chose to obey the agreement received his blessings.

Observation

To choose against God brings emptiness and pain—death. To choose God brings blessings and fulfillment—life.

Inspiration

Do you remember when you said “yes” to Jesus? How long ago was it? A few months, maybe years? I said “yes” to the Lord in November 1964 when I was a teenager. But I also said “yes” to Him just the other day.

After a row with Ken, I escaped to the shopping mall with a friend to get my mind off the quarrel. While meandering past a sales rack of blouses, I could no longer contain my self-pity. I began sobbing right next to a couple of mannequins. I couldn’t hide my face in a tissue, and my wheelchair was too big for me to escape behind several clothes racks. All I could do was sit there, cry, and stare at the mannequins with the plastic smiles.

While wiping my eyes with the backside of my hand splint, I knew what I had to do. In between sobs, I said out loud what I've said so many times before, "Yes, Jesus, I choose You. I don't choose self-pity or resentment. I say 'yes' to You!"

Even though my face was still wet, my heart filled with peace. Nothing about my husband had changed. Shoppers on the other side of the store still picked through the racks ... teenagers still ambled by, giggling, and eating popcorn ... but everything was different because of my peaceful heart. Because I said "yes" to Jesus. (From Diamonds in the Dust by Joni Eareckson Tada)

The Agreement in Moab

The Lord commanded Moses to make an agreement with the Israelites in Moab in addition to the agreement he had made with them at Mount Sinai. These are the words of that agreement.

You have seen everything the Lord did before your own eyes to the king of Egypt and to the king's leaders and to the whole country. <sup>3</sup>With your own eyes you saw the great troubles, signs, and miracles. <sup>4</sup>But to this day the Lord has not given you a mind that understands; you don't really understand what you see with your eyes or hear with your ears. <sup>5</sup>I led you through the desert for forty years, and during that time neither your clothes nor sandals wore out. <sup>6</sup>You ate no bread and drank no wine or beer. This was so you would understand that I am the Lord your God.

<sup>7</sup>When you came to this place, Sihon king of Heshbon and Og king of Bashan came out to fight us, but we defeated them. <sup>8</sup>We captured their land and gave it to the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and East Manasseh to be their own.

live among you, who chop your wood and carry your water. <sup>12</sup>You are all here to enter into an agreement and a promise with the Lord your God, an agreement the Lord your God is making with you today. <sup>13</sup>This will make you today his own people. He will be your God, as he told you and as he promised your ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. <sup>14</sup>But I am not just making this agreement and its promises with you <sup>15</sup>who are standing here before the Lord your God today, but also with those who are not here today.

<sup>16</sup>You know how we lived in Egypt and how we passed through the countries when we came here. <sup>17</sup>You saw their hateful idols made of wood, stone, silver, and gold. <sup>18</sup>Make sure no man, woman, family group, or tribe among you leaves the Lord our God to go and serve the gods of those nations. They would be to you like a plant that grows bitter, poisonous fruit.

<sup>19</sup>These are the kind of people who hear these curses but bless themselves, thinking, “We will be safe even though we continue doing what we want to do.” Those people may destroy all of your land, both wet and dry. <sup>20</sup>The Lord will not forgive them. His anger will be like a burning fire against those people, and all the curses written in this book will come on them. The Lord will destroy any memory of them on the earth. <sup>21</sup>He will separate them from all the tribes of Israel for punishment. All the curses of the Agreement that are written in this Book of the Teachings will happen to them.

<sup>22</sup>Your children who will come after you, as well as foreigners from faraway lands, will see the disasters that come to this land and the diseases the Lord will send on it. They will say, <sup>23</sup>“The land is nothing but burning cinders and salt.

Nothing is planted, nothing grows, and nothing blooms. It is like Sodom and Gomorrah, and Admah and Zeboiim, which the Lord destroyed because he was very angry.”<sup>24</sup> All the other nations will ask, “Why has the Lord done this to the land? Why is he so angry?”

<sup>25</sup>And the answer will be, “It is because the people broke the Agreement of the Lord, the God of their ancestors, which he made with them when he brought them out of Egypt.”<sup>26</sup> They went and served other gods and bowed down to gods they did not even know. The Lord did not allow that,<sup>27</sup> so he became very angry at the land and brought all the curses on it that are written in this book.<sup>28</sup> Since the Lord became angry and furious with them, he took them out of their land and put them in another land where they are today.”

<sup>29</sup>There are some things the Lord our God has kept secret, but there are some things he has let us know. These things belong to us and our children forever so that we will do everything in these teachings.

The Israelites Will Return

When all these blessings and curses I have described happen to you, and the Lord your God has sent you away to other nations, think about these things. <sup>2</sup>Then you and your children will return to the Lord your God, and you will obey him with your whole being in everything I am commanding you today. <sup>3</sup>Then the Lord your God will give you back your freedom. He will feel sorry for you, and he will bring you back again from the nations where he scattered you. <sup>4</sup>He may send you to the ends of the earth, but he will gather you and bring you back from there, <sup>5</sup>back to the land that belonged to your ancestors. It will be yours. He will give you success, and there will be more of you than there were of your ancestors. <sup>6</sup>The Lord your God will prepare you and your descendants to love him with your whole being so that you will live. <sup>7</sup>The Lord your God will put all these curses on your enemies, who hate you and are cruel to you. <sup>8</sup>And you will again obey the Lord, keeping all his commands that I give you today. <sup>9</sup>The Lord your God will make you successful in everything you do. You will have many children, your cattle will have many calves, and your fields will produce good crops, because the Lord will again be happy with you, just as he was with your ancestors. <sup>10</sup>But you must obey the Lord your God by keeping all his commands and rules that are written in this Book of the Teachings. You must return to the Lord your God with your whole being.

Choose Life or Death

<sup>11</sup>This command I give you today is not too hard for you; it is not beyond what you can do. <sup>12</sup>It is not up in heaven. You do not have to ask, “Who will go up to heaven and get it for us so we can obey it and keep it?” <sup>13</sup>It is not on the other side of the sea. You do not have to ask, “Who will go across the sea and get it? Who will tell it to us so we can keep it?” <sup>14</sup>No, the word is very near you. It is in your mouth and in your heart so you may obey it.

<sup>15</sup>Look, today I offer you life and success, death and destruction. <sup>16</sup>I command you today to love the Lord your God, to do what he wants you to do, and to keep his commands, his rules, and his laws. Then you will live and grow in number, and the Lord your God will bless you in the land you are entering to take as your own.

<sup>17</sup>But if you turn away from the Lord and do not obey him, if you are led to bow and serve other gods, <sup>18</sup>I tell you today that you will surely be destroyed. And you will not live long in the land you are crossing the Jordan River to enter and take as your own.

<sup>19</sup>Today I ask heaven and earth to be witnesses. I am offering you life or death, blessings or curses. Now, choose life! Then you and your children may live. <sup>20</sup>To choose life is to love the Lord your God, obey him, and stay close to him. He is your life, and he will let you live many years in the land, the land he promised to give your ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Situation

God instructed the Levites to read his laws to the people. Joshua took over the leadership from Moses.

Observation

God's Word benefits our lives. Because we need reminders to obey, we need to read the Bible and apply it often.

Inspiration

If we are to be Christians whose hearts beat and break with the rhythm of the heart of God, we must take on his whole Word wholeheartedly. That means reading the Bible, studying it, committing it to memory, allowing his words to dwell richly in our minds. It means understanding Scripture in its historic, classical context. It means accepting Christ as Savior and allowing his rule to permeate our thoughts, decisions, and actions.

If the church is to be the church in a darkening age, it must take its stand on the solid ground of biblical revelation and the historic confession of Christian truth. Another word for this is "orthodoxy" or "dogma." While it seems the dry and dusty stuff of theologians, dogma is actually the only bulwark that allows the church to both judge itself and stand fast against the currents of cultural trends. As surely as we yield the ground staked out for the church, the barbarians will advance to claim the terrain. (From

Joshua Takes Moses' Place

Then Moses went and spoke these words to all the Israelites: <sup>2</sup>“I am now one hundred twenty years old, and I cannot lead you anymore. The Lord told me I would not cross the Jordan River; <sup>3</sup>the Lord your God will lead you across himself. He will destroy those nations for you, and you will take over their land. Joshua will also lead you across, as the Lord has said. <sup>4</sup>The Lord will do to those nations what he did to Sihon and Og, the kings of the Amorites, when he destroyed them and their land. <sup>5</sup>The Lord will give those nations to you; do to them everything I told you. <sup>6</sup>Be strong and brave. Don't be afraid of them and don't be frightened, because the Lord your God will go with you. He will not leave you or forget you.”

<sup>7</sup>Then Moses called Joshua and said to him in front of the people, “Be strong and brave, because you will lead these people into the land the Lord promised to give their ancestors, and help them take it as their own. <sup>8</sup>The Lord himself will go before you. He will be with you; he will not leave you or forget you. Don't be afraid and don't worry.”

Moses Writes the Teachings

<sup>9</sup>So Moses wrote down these teachings and gave them to the priests and all the older leaders of Israel. (The priests are the sons of Levi, who carry the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord.)<sup>10-11</sup>Then Moses commanded them: “Read these teachings for all Israel to hear at the end of every seven years, which is the year to cancel what people owe. Do it during the Feast of Shelters, when all the Israelites will come to appear before the Lord your God and stand at the place he will choose.<sup>12</sup>Gather all the people: the men, women, children, and foreigners living in your towns so that they can listen and learn to respect the Lord your God and carefully obey everything in this law.<sup>13</sup>Since their children do not know this law, they must hear it. They must learn to respect the Lord your God for as long as they live in the land you are crossing the Jordan River to take for your own.”

The Lord Calls Moses and Joshua

<sup>14</sup>The Lord said to Moses, “Soon you will die. Get Joshua and come to the Meeting Tent so that I may command him.” So Moses and Joshua went to the Meeting Tent.

<sup>15</sup>The Lord appeared at the Meeting Tent in a cloud; the cloud stood over the entrance of the Tent.<sup>16</sup>And the Lord said to Moses, “You will soon die. Then these people will not be loyal to me but will worship the foreign gods of the land they are entering. They will leave me, breaking the Agreement I made with them.<sup>17</sup>Then I will become very angry at them, and I will leave them. I will turn away from them, and they will be destroyed. Many terrible things will happen to them. Then they will say, ‘It is because God is not with us that these terrible things are happening.’<sup>18</sup> I will surely turn away from them then, because they have done wrong and have turned to other gods.

<sup>19</sup>“Now write down this song and teach it to the Israelites. Then have them sing it, because it will be my witness against them.<sup>20</sup> When I bring them into the land I promised to their ancestors, a fertile land, they will eat as much as they want and get fat. Then they will turn to other gods and serve them. They will reject me and break my Agreement.<sup>21</sup> Then when many troubles and terrible things happen to them, this song will testify against them, because the song will not be forgotten by their descendants. I know what they plan to do, even before I take them into the land I promised them.”<sup>22</sup> So Moses wrote down the song that day, and he taught it to the Israelites.

<sup>23</sup> Then the Lord gave this command to Joshua son of Nun: “Be strong and brave, because you will lead the people of Israel to the land I promised them, and I will be with you.”

<sup>24</sup> After Moses finished writing all the words of the teachings in a book,<sup>25</sup> he gave a command to the Levites, who carried the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord.<sup>26</sup> He said, “Take this Book of the Teachings and put it beside the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord your God. It must stay there as a witness against you.<sup>27</sup> I know how stubborn and disobedient you are. You have disobeyed the Lord while I am alive and with you, and you will disobey even more after I die!<sup>28</sup> Gather all the older leaders of your tribes and all your officers to me so that I may say these things for them to hear, and so that I may ask heaven and earth to testify against them.<sup>29</sup> I know that after I die you will become completely evil. You will turn away from the commands I have given you. Terrible things will happen to you in the future when you do what the Lord says is evil, and you will make him angry with the idols you have made.”

Moses' Song

<sup>30</sup>And Moses spoke this whole song for all the people of Israel to hear:

Life Lessons

Deuteronomy 31:30–32:52

Situation

Moses' death was near. He gave his last sermon in the form of a song. He reminded the people of their history and warned them not to repeat their mistakes but instead to trust the Lord. He prophesied their future disloyalty and punishment, as well as God's forgiveness and mercy.

Observation

We have no excuse for abandoning God. He protects, provides, and leads us like a shepherd. We must always put our faith and trust in him.

Inspiration

To know the will of God is the highest of all wisdom. Living in the center of God's will rules out all falseness of religion and puts the stamp of true sincerity upon our service to God. You can be miserable with much, if you are out of His will; but you can have peace in your heart with little, if you are in the will of God. You can be wretched with wealth and fame, out of His will; but you can have joy in obscurity, if you are in the will of God. You can have agony in good health, out of His will; but you can be happy in the midst of suffering, if you are in God's will. You can be miserable and defeated in the midst of acclaim, if you are out of His will; but you can be calm and at peace in the midst of persecution, as long as you are in the will of God. The Bible reveals that God has a plan for every life, and that if we live in constant fellowship with Him, He will direct and lead us in the fulfillment of His plan. (From Day by Day with Billy Graham by Joan W. Brown)

Application

Plans rarely turn out as intended. Accidents happen. People move, die, or grow cold toward us. What is your anchor in a changing world? Thank God today for the immense security he provides. Take comfort in God's promises to you.

Exploration

Trust—Psalm 62:5–8; Proverbs 3:5–6; Romans 3:21–28; Hebrews 3:15–4:3.

The fruit of sin is thorns—spiny, prickly, cutting thorns.
—Max Lucado (He Chose the Nails)

Hear, heavens, and I will speak. Listen, earth, to what I say.

<sup>2</sup>My teaching will drop like rain;
my words will fall like dew.
They will be like showers on the grass;
they will pour down like rain on young plants.

<sup>3</sup>I will announce the name of the Lord.
Praise God because he is great!

<sup>4</sup>He is like a rock; what he does is perfect, and he is always fair.
He is a faithful God who does no wrong, who is right and fair.

<sup>5</sup>They have done evil against him.
To their shame they are no longer his children;
they are an evil and lying people.

you foolish and unwise people.
He is your Father and Maker, who made you and formed you.

<sup>7</sup>Remember the old days.
Think of the years already passed.
Ask your father and he will tell you;
ask your older leaders and they will inform you.

<sup>8</sup>God Most High gave the nations their lands, dividing up the human race.

He set up borders for the people and even numbered the Israelites.

<sup>9</sup>The Lord took his people as his share, the people of Jacob as his very own.

<sup>10</sup>He found them in a desert, a windy, empty land.
He surrounded them and brought them up, guarding them as those he loved very much.

<sup>11</sup>He was like an eagle building its nest that flutters over its young.
It spreads its wings to catch them and carries them on its feathers.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord alone led them, and there was no foreign god helping him.

<sup>13</sup>The Lord brought them to the heights of the land and fed them the fruit of the fields.
He gave them honey from the rocks, bringing oil from the solid rock.

<sup>14</sup>There were milk curds from the cows and milk from the flock;
there were fat sheep and goats.
There were sheep and goats from Bashan and the best of the wheat.
You drank the juice of grapes.

<sup>15</sup>Israel grew fat and kicked;
they were fat and full and firm.
They left the God who made them and rejected the Rock who saved them.

<sup>16</sup>They made God jealous with foreign gods and angry with hateful idols.

<sup>17</sup>They made sacrifices to demons, not God, to gods they had never known,
new gods from nearby, gods your ancestors did not fear.

<sup>18</sup>You left God who is the Rock, your Father, and you forgot the God who gave you birth.

<sup>19</sup>The Lord saw this and rejected them;
his sons and daughters had made him angry.

<sup>20</sup>He said, "I will turn away from them and see what will happen to them.

They are evil people, unfaithful children.

<sup>21</sup>They used things that are not gods to make me jealous

and worthless idols to make me angry.

So I will use those who are not a nation to make them
jealous;

I will use a nation that does not understand to make them angry.

<sup>22</sup>My anger has started a fire that burns down to the place of the dead.
It will burn up the ground and its crops, and it will set fire to the base of the mountains.

<sup>23</sup>"I will pile troubles upon them and shoot my arrows at them.

<sup>24</sup>They will be starved and sick, destroyed by terrible diseases.

I will send them vicious animals and gliding, poisonous snakes.
<sup>25</sup>In the streets the sword will kill;
in their homes there will be terror.
Young men and women will die, and so will babies and gray-haired men.
<sup>26</sup>I will scatter them as I said, and no one will remember them.
<sup>27</sup>But I didn't want their enemy to brag; their enemy might misunderstand and say, 'We have won!
The Lord has done none of this.'"

<sup>28</sup>Israel has no sense;
they do not understand.
<sup>29</sup>I wish they were wise and understood this;
I wish they could see what will happen to them.
<sup>30</sup>One person cannot chase a thousand people, and two people cannot fight ten thousand unless their Rock has sold them, unless the Lord has given them up.
<sup>31</sup>The rock of these people is not like our Rock;
our enemies agree to that.
<sup>32</sup>Their vine comes from Sodom, and their fields are like Gomorrah.
Their grapes are full of poison;
their bunches of grapes are bitter.
<sup>33</sup>Their wine is like snake poison, like the deadly poison of cobras.

<sup>34</sup>“I have been saving this,
and I have it locked in my storehouses.

<sup>35</sup>I will punish those who do wrong; I will repay them.
Soon their foot will slip, because their day of trouble is near,
and their punishment will come quickly.”

<sup>36</sup>The Lord will defend his people and have mercy on his servants.
He will see that their strength is gone, that nobody is left, slaves or free.

<sup>37</sup>Then he will say, “Where are their gods?
Where is the rock they trusted?

<sup>38</sup>Who ate the fat from their sacrifices, and who drank the wine of their drink offerings?
Let those gods come to help you!
Let them protect you!

<sup>39</sup>“Now you will see that I am the one God!
There is no god but me.
I send life and death;
I can hurt, and I can heal.
No one can escape from me.

<sup>40</sup>I raise my hand toward heaven and make this promise:

As surely as I live forever,
<sup>41</sup>I will sharpen my flashing sword, and I will take it in my hand to judge.
I will punish my enemies and pay back those who hate me.

<sup>42</sup>My arrows will be covered with their blood;

my sword will eat their flesh.

The blood will flow from those who are killed and the captives.

The heads of the enemy leaders will be cut off.”

<sup>43</sup>Be happy, nations, with his people, because he will repay you for the blood of his servants.

He will punish his enemies, and he will remove the sin of his land and people.

<sup>44</sup>Moses came with Joshua son of Nun, and they spoke all the words of this song for the people to hear. <sup>45</sup>When Moses finished speaking these words to all Israel, <sup>46</sup>he said to them: “Pay careful attention to all the words I have said to you today, and command your children to obey carefully everything in these teachings. <sup>47</sup>These should not be unimportant words for you, but rather they mean life for you! By these words you will live a long time in the land you are crossing the Jordan River to take as your own.”

Moses Goes Up to Mount Nebo

<sup>48</sup>The Lord spoke to Moses again that same day and said, <sup>49</sup>“Go up the Abarim Mountains, to Mount Nebo in the country of Moab, across from Jericho. Look at the land of Canaan that I am giving to the Israelites as their own. <sup>50</sup>On that mountain that you climb, you will die and join your ancestors, just as your brother Aaron died on Mount Hor and joined his ancestors. <sup>51</sup>You both sinned against me at the waters of Meribah Kadesh in the Desert of Zin, and you did not honor me as holy there among the Israelites.<sup>52</sup> So now you will only look at the land from far away. You will not enter the land I am giving the people of Israel.”

Moses Blesses the People

Moses, the man of God, gave this blessing to the Israelites before he died. <sup>2</sup>He said:

“The Lord came from Mount Sinai and rose like the sun from Edom;
he showed his greatness from Mount Paran.
He came with thousands of angels from the southern mountains.

<sup>3</sup>The Lord surely loves his people and takes care of all those who belong to him.
They bow down at his feet, and they are taught by him.

<sup>4</sup>Moses gave us the teachings that belong to the people of Jacob.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord became king of Israel when the leaders of the people gathered,
when the tribes of Israel came together.

<sup>6</sup>“Let the people of Reuben live and not die, but let the people be few.”

<sup>7</sup>Moses said this about the people of Judah:
“Lord, listen to Judah’s prayer;
bring them back to their people.
They defend themselves with their hands.
Help them fight their enemies!”

<sup>8</sup>Moses said this about the people of Levi:

“Lord, your Thummim and Urim belong to Levi, whom you love.

Lord, you tested him at Massah and argued with him at the waters of Meribah.

<sup>9</sup>He said about his father and mother,
‘I don’t care about them.’

He did not treat his brothers as favorites or give special favors to his children, but he protected your word and guarded your agreement.

<sup>10</sup>He teaches your laws to the people of Jacob and your teachings to the people of Israel.
He burns incense before you and makes whole burnt offerings on your altar.

<sup>11</sup>Lord, make them strong;
be pleased with the work they do.
Defeat those who attack them,
and don’t let their enemies rise up again.”

<sup>12</sup>Moses said this about the people of Benjamin:

“The Lord’s loved ones will lie down in safety, because he protects them all day long.
The ones he loves rest with him.”

<sup>13</sup>Moses said this about the people of Joseph:

“May the Lord bless their land with wonderful dew from heaven,

with water from the springs below,

<sup>14</sup>with the best fruits that the sun brings, and with the best fruits that the moon brings.

<sup>15</sup>Let the old mountains give the finest crops, and let the everlasting hills give the best fruits.

<sup>16</sup>Let the full earth give the best fruits, and let the Lord who lived in the burning bush be pleased.

May these blessings rest on the head of Joseph, on the forehead of the one who was blessed among his brothers.

<sup>17</sup>Joseph has the majesty of a firstborn bull;
he is as strong as a wild ox.
He will stab other nations,
even those nations far away.
These are the ten thousands of Ephraim, and these are the thousands of Manasseh.”

<sup>18</sup>Moses said this about the people of Zebulun:

“Be happy when you go out, Zebulun, and be happy in your tents, Issachar.

<sup>19</sup>They will call the people to the mountain, and there they will offer the right sacrifices.
They will do well from all that is in the sea, and they will do well from the treasures hidden in the sand on the shore.”

<sup>20</sup>Moses said this about the people of Gad:

“Praise God who gives Gad more land!
Gad lives there like a lion, who tears off arms and heads.

<sup>21</sup>They chose the best land for themselves.

They received a large share, like that given to an officer.

When the leaders of the people gathered,
the people of Gad did what the Lord said was right, and they judged Israel fairly.”

<sup>22</sup>Moses said this about the people of Dan:

“Dan is like a lion’s cub, who jumps out of Bashan.”

<sup>23</sup>Moses said this about the people of Naphtali:

“Naphtali enjoys special kindnesses, and they are full of the Lord’s blessings.
Take as your own the west and south.”

<sup>24</sup>Moses said this about the people of Asher:

“Asher is the most blessed of the sons;
let him be his brothers’ favorite.
Let him bathe his feet in olive oil.

<sup>25</sup>Your gates will have locks of iron and bronze, and you will be strong as long as you live.

<sup>26</sup>“There is no one like the God of Israel, who rides through the skies to help you,
who rides on the clouds in his majesty.

<sup>27</sup>The everlasting God is your place of safety, and his arms will hold you up forever.
He will force your enemy out ahead of you, saying, ‘Destroy the enemy!’

<sup>28</sup>The people of Israel will lie down in safety.

Jacob’s spring is theirs alone.

Theirs is a land full of grain and new wine, where the skies drop their dew.

<sup>29</sup>Israel, you are blessed!

No one else is like you, because you are a people saved by the Lord.

He is your shield and helper, your glorious sword.

Your enemies will be afraid of you, and you will walk all over their holy places.”

Life Lessons

Deuteronomy 33:1–34:12

Situation

Moses imparted his blessing shortly before his death. Before his death, the Lord allowed him to view the Promised Land. Though Moses was disciplined for his lack of obedience, he died in faith and in honor.

Observation

Moses was honored as the only man the Lord buried. The mourning time of 30 days exceeded the normal mourning time of 7 days.

Inspiration

We don’t like to say goodbye to those whom we love. Whether it be at a school or a cemetery, separation is tough. It is right for us to weep, but there is no need for us to despair. They had pain here. They have no pain there. They struggled here. They have no struggles there. You and I might wonder why God took them home. But they don't. They understand. They are, at this very moment, at peace in the presence of God.

I had been ministering in San Antonio for less than a year when one of our members asked me to speak at the funeral of his mother. Her name was Ida Glossbrenner, but her friends called her Polly.

As the son and I planned the service, he told me a fascinating story about the final words his mother spoke. Mrs. Glossbrenner was unresponsive for the last few hours of her life. She never spoke a word. But moments before her death, she opened her eyes and stated in a clear voice, "My name is Ida Glossbrenner, but my friends call me Polly."

Meaningless words of hallucination? Perhaps. Or, perhaps more. Perhaps Ida was, well, maybe she was at the schoolhouse doors of heaven. Her body behind her. Her soul in the presence of God. And maybe she was getting acquainted.

I don't know. But I do know this. When it is cold on earth, we can take comfort in knowing that our loved ones are in the warm arms of God. And when Christ comes, we will hold them, too. (From When Christ Comes by Max Lucado)

Application

God wants us to be prepared for death. The first step we take is to receive him by faith. Then we are to live a life holy and pleasing unto him. Grief is normal but, for the Christian, despair is not. What steps can you take today to help ensure that you die in faith and honor as Moses did.

Moses Dies

Then Moses climbed Mount Nebo from the plains of Moab to the top of Mount Pisgah, across from Jericho. From there the Lord showed him all the land from Gilead to Dan,<sup>2</sup>all of Naphtali and the lands of Ephraim and Manasseh, all the land of Judah as far as the Mediterranean Sea,<sup>3</sup>as well as the southern desert and the whole Valley of Jericho up to Zoar. (Jericho is called the city of palm trees.)<sup>4</sup>Then the Lord said to Moses, “This is the land I promised to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob when I said to them, ‘I will give this land to your descendants.’ I have let you look at it, Moses, but you will not cross over there.”

<sup>5</sup>Then Moses, the servant of the Lord, died there in Moab, as the Lord had said. <sup>6</sup>He buried Moses in Moab in the valley opposite Beth Peor, but even today no one knows where his grave is. <sup>7</sup>Moses was one hundred twenty years old when he died. His eyes were not weak, and he was still strong. <sup>8</sup>The Israelites cried for Moses for thirty days, staying in the plains of Moab until the time of sadness was over.

<sup>9</sup>Joshua son of Nun was then filled with wisdom, because Moses had put his hands on him. So the Israelites listened to Joshua, and they did what the Lord had commanded Moses.

<sup>10</sup>There has never been another prophet in Israel like Moses. The Lord knew Moses face to face <sup>11</sup>and sent him to do signs and miracles in Egypt—to the king, to all his officers, and to the whole land of Egypt. <sup>12</sup>Moses had great power, and he did great and wonderful things for all the Israelites to see.

awl A tool like a big needle with a handle at one end.

roof In Bible times houses were built with flat roofs. The roof was used for drying things such as flax and fruit. And it was used as an extra room, as a place for worship, and as a cool place to sleep in the summer.

sky ... bronze This means the sky will give no rain and the earth will produce no crops.

The Book of Joshua

Introduction

May I describe a few battles?

Let's say that you have a problem with a person—a rotten person. A scoundrel who has taken advantage of your kindness. Because of him you have less money, more headaches, and a bitter heart.

Let's also say that you've got the goods on this guy. Caught him. Aha! Red-handed. You can turn him in. Make a spectacle. Get even and get out. Give him what he deserves.

But something won't let you. A verse from your past tethers your heart. "Vengeance is mine," says the Lord. "I will repay."

Within you the battle rages. Let vengeance be mine, Lord, you pray. Just once. Let me get even. But the Word won't let you. And with time, you drop your fists to your side and just trust.

Here's another battle.

Let's say you have a problem with money. Every month you just barely make it. Each paycheck is spent before it's cashed. If just one month you could get a break. Just some cushion. That's all you need.

Poof, your prayer is answered. Unexpected bonus. An extra month's salary. Finally, some breathing room. First, pay off the credit card, next repay my sister, then get the bumper fixed and ... uh-oh-my giving. "Surely God doesn't want me to give 10 percent of the bonus? I mean, I give every month... . Surely, he'll understand if I use this for something else...."

But the words challenge faintly yet firmly, "Honor the Lord with the firstfruits of your labor... ." Within you the battle rages. One side says, “Believe.” The other, “Be real.” Finally, a truce is called and a white flag is waved and a check is written and placed in the plate.

But even as you give, you confess, “Doesn’t make sense, but because you say so ...”

Let’s go one more. This time let’s really stretch it. Let’s say you are a general. A general in the Israeli army. Moses is dead, the Jordan has been crossed, the mantle passed, and you are wearing it.

God has promised that you will take Jericho. But as you look at the city, you have to wonder ... the walls are high. The people are armed. The challenge is great.

But God has a plan.

You can’t wait to hear it. “Surely, he’ll give us more soldiers, stronger weapons, mightier swords. His plan must include this and more.”

So you sit and listen as God explains. As he talks you are stunned, “What? Walk around the city seven times, blow some trumpets, and ... Wait a minute, God, this doesn’t make sense.”

The Book of Joshua is a book of battles. A book for soldiers. A book for people who would dare to win God’s way. What applied then, applies today. It is the faithful who conquer. Those who follow the strategy win, those who don’t—don’t.

About This Book

Author:

Joshua, except for the end which describes his death

Date Written:

1400–1350 B.C.

Key Themes:

-
- The Hebrews crossed the border into Canaan because of their faith that God would give them the land.
- The Hebrews received God’s blessing when they obeyed his laws.
- Joshua led his people by obeying God.

Key Verse:

“Always remember what is written in the Book of the Teachings. Study it day and night to be sure to obey everything that is written there. If you do this, you will be wise and successful in everything” (Joshua 1:8).

Contents:

1. Joshua Becomes Israel’s Leader 1:1–18
2. The Hebrews Conquer Canaan 2:1–12:24
3. The Land Is Divided 13:1–22:34
4. Joshua Says Goodbye 23:1–24:33

Life Lessons

Joshua 1:1–2:24

Situation

The story of Joshua began after the death of Moses. God appointed Joshua to lead the Israelites across the Jordan River into the land of Canaan.

Observation

The Lord instructed Joshua to remember what was written in the Book of the Teachings. Wisdom and success come from obeying its commands.

Inspiration

We go to the Word of God for comfort, and when we do, the words pierce like a surgeon's scalpel, both cutting and healing. The Word of God cuts to the very place where thoughts and attitudes come together, at the juncture of soul and spirit, providing a healing that can be obtained in no other way on earth.

The Bible was provided for us as a vehicle to carry us so that we might be able to see Jesus Christ.

If you want to grow in the Word of God, become a person with a chisel and quarry the Word—look, explore, seek. Let the Word become your Word, and you will grow.

I challenge you to rediscover the Bible in your own life ... to regain the same hunger and enthusiasm you felt when you first heard the name of Jesus!
(From The Inspirational Bible, "Bible")

Application

Knowing, studying, and meditating on the Word of God is critical if you are to grow in your relationship with Jesus Christ. If you are not spending regular time in the Bible, ask yourself what changes you can make to your schedule to make that time a priority.

Exploration

Importance of the Scriptures—Psalm 119:1–8; John 10:35; Acts 18:24; Romans 15:4; Hebrews 4:12; 1 Peter 1:23–25.

God's Command to Joshua

After Moses, the servant of the Lord, died, the Lord spoke to Joshua son of Nun, Moses' assistant. <sup>2</sup>The Lord said, "My servant Moses is dead. Now you and all these people go across the Jordan River into the land I am giving to the Israelites. <sup>3</sup>I promised Moses I would give you this land, so I will give you every place you go in the land. <sup>4</sup>All the land from the desert in the south to Lebanon in the north will be yours. All the land from the great river, the Euphrates, in the east, to the Mediterranean Sea in the west will be yours, too, including the land of the Hittites. <sup>5</sup>No one will be able to defeat you all your life. Just as I was with Moses, so I will be with you. I will not leave you or forget you.

<sup>6</sup>"Joshua, be strong and brave! You must lead these people so they can take the land that I promised their fathers I would give them. <sup>7</sup>Be strong and brave. Be sure to obey all the teachings my servant Moses gave you. If you follow them exactly, you will be successful in everything you do. <sup>8</sup>Always remember what is written in the Book of the Teachings. Study it day and night to be sure to obey everything that is written there. If you do this, you will be wise and successful in everything. <sup>9</sup>Remember that I commanded you to be strong and brave. Don't be afraid, because the Lord your God will be with you everywhere you go."

Joshua's Orders to the People

<sup>10</sup>Then Joshua gave orders to the officers of the people: <sup>11</sup>“Go through the camp and tell the people, ‘Get your supplies ready. Three days from now you will cross the Jordan River and take the land the Lord your God is giving you.’”

<sup>12</sup>Then Joshua said to the people of Reuben, Gad, and East Manasseh, <sup>13</sup>“Remember what Moses, the servant of the Lord, told you. He said the Lord your God would give you rest and would give you this land. <sup>14</sup>Now the Lord has given you this land east of the Jordan River. Your wives, children, and animals may stay here, but your fighting men must dress for war and cross the Jordan River ahead of your brothers to help them. <sup>15</sup>The Lord has given you a place to rest and will do the same for your brothers. But you must help them until they take the land the Lord their God is giving them. Then you may return to your own land east of the Jordan River, the land that Moses, the servant of the Lord, gave you.”

<sup>16</sup>Then the people answered Joshua, “Anything you command us to do, we will do. Any place you send us, we will go. <sup>17</sup>Just as we fully obeyed Moses, we will obey you. We ask only that the Lord your God be with you just as he was with Moses. <sup>18</sup>Whoever refuses to obey your commands or turns against you will be put to death. Just be strong and brave!”

Spies Sent to Jericho

Joshua son of Nun secretly sent out two spies from Acacia and said to them, “Go and look at the land, particularly at the city of Jericho.”

So the men went to Jericho and stayed at the house of a prostitute named Rahab.

<sup>3</sup>So the king of Jericho sent this message to Rahab: “Bring out the men who came to you and entered your house. They have come to spy out our whole land.”

<sup>4</sup>But the woman had hidden the two men. She said, “They did come here, but I didn’t know where they came from. <sup>5</sup>In the evening, when it was time to close the city gate, they left. I don’t know where they went, but if you go quickly, maybe you can catch them.” <sup>6</sup>(The woman had taken the men up to the roof and had hidden them there under stalks of flax that she had spread out.) <sup>7</sup>So the king’s men went out looking for the spies on the road that leads to the crossings of the Jordan River. The city gate was closed just after the king’s men left the city.

<sup>8</sup>Before the spies went to sleep for the night, Rahab went up to the roof. <sup>9</sup>She said to them, “I know the Lord has given this land to your people. You frighten us very much. Everyone living in this land is terribly afraid of you <sup>10</sup>because we have heard how the Lord dried up the Red Sea when you came out of Egypt. We have heard how you destroyed Sihon and Og, two Amorite kings who lived east of the Jordan. <sup>11</sup>When we heard this, we were very frightened. Now our men are afraid to fight you because the Lord your God rules the heavens above and the earth below! <sup>12</sup>So now, promise me before the Lord that you will show kindness to my family just as I showed kindness to you. Give me some proof that you will do this. <sup>13</sup>Allow my father, mother, brothers, sisters, and all of their families to live. Save us from death.”

<sup>14</sup>The men agreed and said, “It will be our lives for your lives if you don’t tell anyone what we are doing. When the Lord gives us the land, we will be kind and true to you.”

<sup>15</sup>The house Rahab lived in was built on the city wall, so she used a rope to let the men down through a window. <sup>16</sup>She said to them, “Go into the hills so the king’s men will not find you. Hide there for three days. After the king’s men return, you may go on your way.”

<sup>17</sup>The men said to her, “You must do as we say. If not, we cannot be responsible for keeping this oath you have made us swear. <sup>18</sup>When we return to this land, you must tie this red rope in the window through which you let us down. Bring your father, mother, brothers, and all your family into your house. <sup>19</sup>If anyone leaves your house and is killed, it is his own fault. We cannot be responsible for him. If anyone in your house is hurt, we will be responsible. <sup>20</sup>But if you tell anyone about this, we will be free from the oath you made us swear.”

<sup>21</sup>Rahab answered, “I agree to this.” So she sent them away, and they left. Then she tied the red rope in the window.

<sup>22</sup>The men left and went into the hills where they stayed for three days. The king’s men looked for them all along the road, but after three days, they returned to the city without finding them. <sup>23</sup>Then the two men started back. They left the hills and crossed the river and came to Joshua son of Nun and told him everything that had happened to them. <sup>24</sup>They said, “The Lord surely has given us all of the land. All the people in that land are terribly afraid of us.”

Life Lessons

Joshua 3:1–5:12

Situation

As God guided the Israelites into the Promised Land he instructed them to purify themselves before crossing the Jordan River. In another powerful miracle, God stopped the Jordan River in flood stage so that the people easily crossed into Canaan. The Ark of the Agreement (Covenant) and the priests led this procession.

Observation

God guided the Israelites into the Promised Land as they continued to trust in him.

Inspiration

In reading carefully through the New Testament to see just what kind of an experience you can expect, I find that the New Testament sets forth only one. There is just one experience for which you can look—only one feeling you can expect—and that is the experience of faith. Believing is an experience as real as any experience, yet many are looking for something more—some dramatic sensation that will bring a physical thrill, while others look for some spectacular manifestation. Many have been told to look for such sensations, but the Bible says that a man is “justified by faith” and not by feeling. A man is saved by trusting in the finished work of Christ on the cross and not by physical excitement or religious ecstasy.

But you may say to me, “What about feeling? Is there no place in saving faith for any feeling?” Certainly there is room for feeling in saving faith, but we are not saved by it. Whatever feeling there may be is only the result of saving faith, but it in itself is not what does the saving! ...

Finally, someone may say, “I believe the historic facts of the gospel, but still I am not saved.” Perhaps so, for the faith that saves has one distinguishing quality—saving faith is a faith that produces obedience, it is a faith that brings about a way of life. Some have quite successfully imitated this way of life for a time, but for those who trust Christ for salvation, that faith brings about in them a desire to live out that inward experience of faith. It is a power that results in godly living and surrender. (From Peace with God by Billy Graham)

Crossing the Jordan

Early the next morning Joshua and all the Israelites left Acacia. They traveled to the Jordan River and camped there before crossing it.<sup>2</sup>After three days the officers went through the camp<sup>3</sup>and gave orders to the people: “When you see the priests and Levites carrying the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord your God, leave where you are and follow it.<sup>4</sup>That way you will know which way to go since you have never been here before. But do not follow too closely. Stay about a thousand yards behind the Ark.”

<sup>5</sup>Then Joshua told the people, “Make yourselves holy, because tomorrow the Lord will do amazing things among you.”

<sup>6</sup>Joshua said to the priests, “Take the Ark of the Agreement and go ahead of the people.” So the priests lifted the Ark and carried it ahead of the people.

<sup>7</sup>Then the Lord said to Joshua, “Today I will begin to make you great in the opinion of all the Israelites so the people will know I am with you just as I was with Moses.<sup>8</sup>Tell the priests who carry the Ark of the Agreement to go to the edge of the Jordan River and stand in the water.”

<sup>9</sup>Then Joshua said to the Israelites, “Come here and listen to the words of the Lord your God.<sup>10</sup>Here is proof that the living God is with you and that he will force out the Canaanites, Hittites, Hivites, Perizzites, Girschites, Amorites, and Jebusites. <sup>11</sup>The Ark of the Agreement with the Lord of the whole world will go ahead of you into the Jordan River. <sup>12</sup>Now choose twelve men from among you, one from each of the twelve tribes of Israel. <sup>13</sup>The priests will carry the Ark of the Lord, the Master of the whole world, into the Jordan ahead of you. When they step into the water, it will stop. The river will stop flowing and will stand up in a heap.”

Rocks to Remind the People

After all the people had finished crossing the Jordan, the Lord said to Joshua, <sup>2</sup>“Choose twelve men from among the people, one from each tribe. <sup>3</sup>Tell them to get twelve rocks from the middle of the river, from where the priests stood. Carry the rocks and put them down where you stay tonight.”

<sup>4</sup>So Joshua chose one man from each tribe. Then he called the twelve men together <sup>5</sup>and said to them, “Go out into the river where the Ark of the Lord your God is. Each of you bring back one rock, one for each tribe of Israel, and carry it on your shoulder. <sup>6</sup>They will be a sign among you. In the future your children will ask you, ‘What do these rocks mean?’ <sup>7</sup>Tell them the water stopped flowing in the Jordan when the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord crossed the river. These rocks will always remind the Israelites of this.”

<sup>8</sup>So the Israelites obeyed Joshua and carried twelve rocks from the middle of the Jordan River, one rock for each of the twelve tribes of Israel, just as the Lord had commanded Joshua. They carried the rocks with them and put them down where they made their camp. <sup>9</sup>Joshua also put twelve rocks in the middle of the Jordan River where the priests had stood while carrying the Ark of the Agreement. These rocks are still there today.

<sup>10</sup>The priests carrying the Ark continued standing in the middle of the river until everything was done that the Lord had commanded Joshua to tell the people, just as Moses had told Joshua. The people hurried across the river. <sup>11</sup>After they finished crossing the river, the priests carried the Ark of the Lord to the other side as the people watched.<sup>12</sup>The men from the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and East Manasseh obeyed what Moses had told them. They were dressed for war, and they crossed the river ahead of the other people.<sup>13</sup>About forty thousand soldiers prepared for war passed before the Lord as they marched across the river, going toward the plains of Jericho.

<sup>18</sup>Then the priests carried the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord out of the river. As soon as their feet touched dry land, the water began flowing again. The river again overflowed its banks, just as it had before they crossed.

<sup>19</sup>The people crossed the Jordan on the tenth day of the first month and camped at Gilgal, east of Jericho.<sup>20</sup>They carried with them the twelve rocks taken from the Jordan, and Joshua set them up at Gilgal.<sup>21</sup>Then he spoke to the Israelites: “In the future your children will ask you, ‘What do these rocks mean?’<sup>22</sup>Tell them, ‘Israel crossed the Jordan River on dry land.’<sup>23</sup>The Lord your God caused the water to stop flowing until you finished crossing it, just as the Lord did to the Red Sea. He stopped the water until we crossed it.<sup>24</sup>The Lord did this so all people would know he has great power and so you would always respect the Lord your God.”

All the kings of the Amorites west of the Jordan and the Canaanite kings living by the Mediterranean Sea heard that the Lord dried up the Jordan River until the Israelites had crossed it. After that they were scared and too afraid to face the Israelites.

The Israelites Are Circumcised

<sup>4</sup>This is why Joshua circumcised the men: After the Israelites left Egypt, all the men old enough to serve in the army died in the desert on the way out of Egypt. <sup>5</sup>The men who had come out of Egypt had been circumcised, but none of those who were born in the desert on the trip from Egypt had been circumcised. <sup>6</sup>The Israelites had moved about in the desert for forty years. During that time all the fighting men who had left Egypt had died because they had not obeyed the Lord. So the Lord swore they would not see the land he had promised their ancestors to give them, a fertile land. <sup>7</sup>Their sons took their places. But none of the sons born on the trip from Egypt had been circumcised, so Joshua circumcised them. <sup>8</sup>After all the Israelites had been circumcised, they stayed in camp until they were healed.

<sup>9</sup>Then the Lord said to Joshua, “As slaves in Egypt you were ashamed, but today I have removed that shame.” So Joshua named that place Gilgal, which it is still named today.

Jericho. It was there, on the evening of the fourteenth day of the month, they celebrated the Passover Feast. <sup>11</sup>The day after the Passover, the people ate food grown on that land: bread made without yeast and roasted grain. <sup>12</sup>The day they ate this food, the manna stopped coming. The Israelites no longer got the manna from heaven. They ate the food grown in the land of Canaan that year.

<sup>13</sup>Joshua was near Jericho when he looked up and saw a man standing in front of him with a sword in his hand. Joshua went to him and asked, “Are you a friend or an enemy?”

Then Joshua bowed facedown on the ground and asked, “Does my master have a command for me, his servant?”

<sup>15</sup>The commander of the Lord’s army answered, “Take off your sandals, because the place where you are standing is holy.” So Joshua did.

Situation

The commander of the Lord’s army appeared to Joshua, which showed Joshua that he didn’t have to bear the responsibility alone of conquering Jericho. After Jericho was taken, a curse was put on the city for anyone trying to rebuild it.

Observation

Rahab the prostitute and her family were spared by Joshua and his men because she had spared the spies earlier. She is mentioned by the author of the Book of Hebrews as an example of faith (11:31) and by James as someone who demonstrated good works (2:25). She had a choice to make, and she chose to help the spies.

Inspiration

There are times when God sends thunder to stir us. There are times when God sends blessings to lure us. But then there are times when God sends nothing but silence as he honors us with the freedom to choose where we spend eternity.

And what an honor it is! In so many areas of life we have no choice. Think about it. You didn't choose your gender. You didn't choose your siblings. You didn't choose your race or place of birth.

Sometimes our lack of choices angers us. "It's not fair," we say. It's not fair that I was born in poverty or that I sing so poorly or that I run so slowly. But the scales of life were forever tipped on the side of fairness when God planted a tree in the Garden of Eden. All complaints were silenced when Adam and his descendants were given free will, the freedom to make whatever eternal choice we desire. Any injustice in this life is offset by the honor of choosing our destiny in the next.

Wouldn't you agree? Would you have wanted otherwise? Would you have preferred the opposite? You choose everything in this life, and he chooses where you spend the next? You choose the size of your nose, the color of your hair, and your DNA structure, and he chooses where you spend eternity?

Is that what you would prefer?

It would have been nice if God had let us order life like we order a meal. I'll take good health and a high IQ. I'll pass on the music skills, but give me a fast metabolism ... Would've been nice. But it didn't happen. When it came to your life on earth, you weren't given a voice or a vote.

But when it comes to life after death, you were. In my book that seems like a good deal. Wouldn't you agree?

Have we been given any greater privilege than that of choice? Not only does this privilege offset any injustice, the gift of free will can offset any mistakes.

Think about the thief who repented. Though we know little about him, we know this: He made some bad mistakes in life. He chose the wrong crowd, the wrong morals, the wrong behavior. But would you consider his life a waste? Is he spending eternity reaping the fruit of all the bad choices he made? No, just the opposite. He is enjoying the fruit of the one good choice he made. In the end all his bad choices were redeemed by a solitary good one.

You've made some bad choices in life, haven't you? You've chosen the wrong friends, maybe the wrong career, even the wrong spouse. You look back over your life and say, "If only ... if only I could make up for those bad choices." You can. One good choice for eternity offsets a thousand bad ones on earth.

The choice is yours.

The Fall of Jericho

The people of Jericho were afraid because the Israelites were near. They closed the city gates and guarded them. No one went into the city, and no one came out.

<sup>6</sup>So Joshua son of Nun called the priests together and said to them, “Carry the Ark of the Agreement. Tell seven priests to carry trumpets and march in front of it.”<sup>7</sup>Then Joshua ordered the people, “Now go! March around the city. The soldiers with weapons should march in front of the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord.”

<sup>8</sup>When Joshua finished speaking to the people, the seven priests began marching before the Lord. They carried the seven trumpets and blew them as they marched. The priests carrying the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord followed them.<sup>9</sup>Soldiers with weapons marched in front of the priests, and armed men walked behind the Ark. The priests were blowing their trumpets.<sup>10</sup>But Joshua had told the people not to give a war cry. He said, “Don’t shout. Don’t say a word until the day I tell you. Then shout.”<sup>11</sup> So Joshua had the Ark of the Lord carried around the city one time. Then they went back to camp for the night.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The Commander of the Lord’s Army

An intriguing verse is found in 1 Thessalonians 4:16, “The Lord himself will come down from heaven with a loud command.”

Have you ever wondered what that command will be? It will be the inaugural word of heaven. It will be the first audible message most have heard from God. It will be the word which closes one age and opens a new one.

I think I know what the command will be. I could very well be wrong, but I think the command which puts an end to the pains of the earth and initiates the joys of heaven will be two words:

“No more.”

The King of kings will raise his pierced hand and proclaim, “No more.”

The angels will stand and the Father will speak, “No more.”

Every person who lives and who ever lived will turn toward the sky and hear God announce, “No more.”

No more loneliness. No more tears. No more death. No more sadness. No more crying. No more pain.

As John sat on the Island of Patmos surrounded by sea and separated from friends he dreamt of the day when God would say, “No more.”

This same disciple who had heard Jesus speak these words of assurance over a half a century before now knew what they meant. I wonder if he could hear the voice of Jesus in his memory.

“The end will come.”

For those who live for this world, that’s bad news. But for those who live for the world to come, it’s an encouraging promise.

You’re on a land mine, my friend, and it’s only a matter of time: “For in this world you will have trouble... .” Next time you are tossed into a river as you ride the rapids of life, remember his words of assurance.

Those who endure will be saved. The gospel will be preached. The end will come.

You can count on it. (From And the Angels Were Silent by Max Lucado)

<sup>12</sup>Early the next morning Joshua got up, and the priests carried the Ark of the Lord again. <sup>13</sup>The seven priests carried the seven trumpets and marched in front of the Ark of the Lord, blowing their trumpets. Soldiers with weapons marched in front of them, and other soldiers walked behind the Ark of the Lord. All this time the priests were blowing their trumpets. <sup>14</sup>So on the second day they marched around the city one time and then went back to camp. They did this every day for six days.

<sup>15</sup>On the seventh day they got up at dawn and marched around the city, just as they had on the days before. But on that day they marched around the city seven times. <sup>16</sup>The seventh time around the priests blew their trumpets. Then Joshua gave the command: “Now, shout! The Lord has given you this city! <sup>17</sup>The city and everything in it are to be destroyed as an offering to the Lord. Only Rahab the prostitute and everyone in her house should remain alive. They must not be killed, because Rahab hid the two spies we sent out. <sup>18</sup>Don’t take any of the things that are to be destroyed as an offering to the Lord. If you take them and bring them into our camp, you yourselves will be destroyed, and you will bring trouble to all of Israel. <sup>19</sup>All the silver and gold and things made from bronze and iron belong to the Lord and must be saved for him.”

<sup>20</sup>When the priests blew the trumpets, the people shouted. At the sound of the trumpets and the people’s shout, the walls fell, and everyone ran straight into the city. So the Israelites defeated that city. <sup>21</sup>They completely destroyed with the sword every living thing in the city—men and women, young and old, cattle, sheep, and donkeys.

“Go into the prostitute’s house. Bring her out and bring out those who are with her, because of the promise you made to her.”<sup>23</sup> So the two men went into the house and brought out Rahab, her father, mother, brothers, and all those with her. They put all of her family in a safe place outside the camp of Israel.

<sup>24</sup>Then Israel burned the whole city and everything in it, but they did not burn the things made from silver, gold, bronze, and iron. These were saved for the Lord.<sup>25</sup> Joshua saved Rahab the prostitute, her family, and all who were with her, because Rahab had helped the men he had sent to spy out Jericho. Rahab still lives among the Israelites today.

<sup>26</sup>Then Joshua made this oath:

“Anyone who tries to rebuild this city of Jericho will be cursed by the Lord.
The one who lays the foundation of this city will lose his oldest son, and the one who sets up the gates will lose his youngest son.”

<sup>27</sup>So the Lord was with Joshua, and Joshua became famous through all the land.

Situation

Observation

God insists on obedience to his commands no matter how small or strict they may seem. Only then can we enjoy his blessing.

Inspiration

Our greatest struggle is not in the realm of understanding the will of God; it's in the realm of obeying the God whose will it is. To be painfully honest, when you and I look back at our lives, we do not find ourselves puzzled and mystified about God's will nearly as much as we find ourselves stubborn and resistant to the One directing our steps. Our problem isn't that we don't know; our problem is that we do know but aren't willing to follow through.

That's the basic struggle of the Christian life. The clear truth of God is set before us time and time again. It's available to us, we read it, we hear it explained from the pulpit, in a Christian book, or on a Christian radio program, and we sense the Holy Spirit whispering, Yes, this means you. We understand Him clearly, but we resist. When the chips are down, our tendency is to say, “I’ve got it planned another way.”

The Sin of Achan

But the Israelites did not obey the Lord. There was a man from the tribe of Judah named Achan. (He was the son of Carmi and grandson of Zabdi, who was the son of Zerah.) Because Achan kept some of the things that were to be given to the Lord, the Lord became very angry at the Israelites.

<sup>2</sup>Joshua sent some men from Jericho to Ai, which was near Beth Aven, east of Bethel. He told them, “Go to Ai and spy out the area.” So the men went to spy on Ai.

<sup>3</sup>Later they came back to Joshua and said, “There are only a few people in Ai, so we will not need all our people to defeat them. Send only two or three thousand men to fight. There is no need to send all of our people.” <sup>4</sup>So about three thousand men went up to Ai, but the people of Ai beat them badly. <sup>5</sup>The people of Ai killed about thirty-six Israelites and then chased the rest from the city gate all the way down to the canyon, killing them as they went down the hill. When the Israelites saw this, they lost their courage.

<sup>6</sup>Then Joshua tore his clothes in sorrow. He bowed facedown on the ground before the Ark of the Lord and stayed there until evening. The leaders of Israel did the same thing. They also threw dirt on their heads to show their sorrow. <sup>7</sup>Then Joshua said, “Lord God, you brought our people across the Jordan River. Why did you bring us this far and then let the Amorites destroy us? We would have been happy to stay on the other side of the Jordan. <sup>8</sup>Lord, there is nothing I can say now. Israel has been beaten by the enemy. <sup>9</sup>The Canaanites and all the other people in this country will hear about this and will surround and kill us all! Then what will you do for your own great name?”

<sup>10</sup>The Lord said to Joshua, “Stand up! Why are you down on your face? <sup>11</sup>The Israelites have sinned; they have broken the agreement I commanded them to obey. They took some of the things I commanded them to destroy. They have stolen and lied and have taken those things for themselves. <sup>12</sup>That is why the Israelites cannot face their enemies. They turn away from the fight and run, because I have commanded that they be destroyed. I will not help you anymore unless you destroy everything as I commanded you.

<sup>13</sup>“Now go! Make the people holy. Tell them, ‘Set yourselves apart to the Lord for tomorrow. The Lord, the God of Israel, says some of you are keeping things he commanded you to destroy. You will never defeat your enemies until you throw away those things.

<sup>14</sup>“Tomorrow morning you must be present with your tribes. The Lord will choose one tribe to stand alone before him. Then the Lord will choose one family group from that tribe to stand before him. Then the Lord will choose one family from that family group to stand before him, person by person. <sup>15</sup>The one who is keeping what should have been destroyed will himself be destroyed by fire. Everything he owns will be destroyed with him. He has broken the agreement with the Lord and has done a disgraceful thing among the people of Israel!”

<sup>16</sup>Early the next morning Joshua led all of Israel to present themselves in their tribes, and the Lord chose the tribe of Judah. <sup>17</sup>So the family groups of Judah presented themselves, and the Lord then chose the family group of Zerah. When all the families of Zerah presented themselves, the family of Zabdi was chosen. <sup>18</sup>And Joshua told all the men in that family to present themselves. The Lord chose Achan son of Carmi. (Carmi was the son of Zabdi, who was the son of Zerah.) <sup>19</sup>Then Joshua said to Achan, “My son, tell the truth. Confess to the Lord, the God of Israel. Tell me what you did, and don’t try to hide anything from me.”

<sup>22</sup>So Joshua sent men who ran to the tent and found the things hidden there, with the silver. <sup>23</sup>The men brought them out of the tent, took them to Joshua and all the Israelites, and spread them out on the ground before the Lord. <sup>24</sup>Then Joshua and all the people led Achan son of Zerah to the Valley of Trouble. They also took the silver, the coat, the gold, Achan’s sons, daughters, cattle, donkeys, sheep, tent, and everything he owned. <sup>25</sup>Joshua said, “I don’t know why you caused so much trouble for us, but now the Lord will bring trouble to you.” Then all the people threw stones at Achan and his family until they died. Then the people burned them. <sup>26</sup>They piled rocks over Achan's body, and they are still there today. That is why it is called the Valley of Trouble. After this the Lord was no longer angry.

Ai Is Destroyed

Then the Lord said to Joshua, “Don’t be afraid or give up. Lead all your fighting men to Ai. I will help you defeat the king of Ai, his people, his city, and his land. <sup>2</sup>You will do to Ai and its king what you did to Jericho and its king. Only this time you may take all the wealth and keep it for yourselves. Now tell some of your soldiers to set up an ambush behind the city.”

<sup>3</sup>So Joshua led his whole army toward Ai. Then he chose thirty thousand of his best fighting men and sent them out at night. <sup>4</sup>Joshua gave them these orders: “Listen carefully. You must set up an ambush behind the city. Don’t go far from it, but continue to watch and be ready. <sup>5</sup>I and the men who are with me will march toward the city, and the men in the city will come out to fight us, just as they did before. Then we will turn and run away from them. <sup>6</sup>They will chase us away from the city, thinking we are running away from them as we did before. When we run away, <sup>7</sup>come out from your ambush and take the city. The Lord your God will give you the power to win. <sup>8</sup>After you take the city, burn it. See to it! You have your orders.”

<sup>10</sup>Early the next morning Joshua gathered his men together. He and the older leaders of Israel led them up to Ai. <sup>11</sup>All of the soldiers who were with Joshua marched up to Ai and stopped in front of the city and made camp north of it. There was a valley between them and the city. <sup>12</sup>Then Joshua chose about five thousand men and set them in ambush in the area west of the city between Bethel and Ai. <sup>13</sup>So the people took their positions; the main camp was north of the city, and the other men were hiding to the west. That night Joshua went down into the valley.

<sup>14</sup>Now when the king of Ai saw the army of Israel, he and his people got up early the next morning and hurried out to fight them. They went out to a place east of the city, but the king did not know soldiers were waiting in ambush behind the city. <sup>15</sup>Joshua and all the men of Israel let the army of Ai push them back. Then they ran toward the desert. <sup>16</sup>The men in Ai were called to chase Joshua and his men, so they left the city and went after them. <sup>17</sup>All the men of Ai and Bethel chased the army of Israel. The city was left open; not a man stayed to protect it.

<sup>18</sup>Then the Lord said to Joshua, "Hold your spear toward Ai, because I will give you that city." So Joshua held his spear toward the city of Ai. <sup>19</sup>When the Israelites who were in ambush saw this, they quickly came out of their hiding place and hurried toward the city. They entered the city, took control of it, and quickly set it on fire.

A Review of the Fighting

<sup>24</sup>During the fighting the army of Israel chased the men of Ai into the fields and desert and killed all of them. Then they went back to Ai and killed everyone there. <sup>25</sup>All the people of Ai died that day, twelve thousand men and women. <sup>26</sup>Joshua had held his spear toward Ai, as a sign to destroy the city, and did not draw it back until all the people of Ai were destroyed. <sup>27</sup>The people of Israel kept for themselves the animals and the other things the people of Ai had owned, as the Lord had commanded Joshua to do.

<sup>28</sup>Then Joshua burned the city of Ai and made it a pile of ruins. And it is still like that today. <sup>29</sup>Joshua hanged the king of Ai on a tree and left him there until evening. At sunset Joshua told his men to take the king's body down from the tree and to throw it down at the city gate. Then they covered it with a pile of rocks, which is still there today.

<sup>30</sup>Joshua built an altar for the Lord, the God of Israel, on Mount Ebal, as <sup>31</sup>Moses, the Lord's servant, had commanded. Joshua built the altar as it was explained in the Book of the Teachings of Moses. It was made from uncut stones; no tool was ever used on them. On that altar the Israelites offered burnt offerings to the Lord and fellowship offerings. <sup>32</sup>There Joshua wrote the teachings of Moses on stones for all the people of Israel to see. <sup>33</sup>The older leaders, officers, judges, and all the Israelites were there; Israelites and non-Israelites were all standing around the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord in front of the priests, the Levites who had carried the Ark. Half of the people stood in front of Mount Ebal, and half stood in front of Mount Gerizim. This was the way the Lord's servant Moses had earlier commanded the people to be blessed.

<sup>34</sup>Then Joshua read all the words of the teachings, the blessings and the curses, exactly as they were written in the Book of the Teachings. <sup>35</sup>All the Israelites were gathered together—men, women, and children—along with the non-Israelites who lived among them. Joshua read every command that Moses had given.

Life Lessons

Joshua 8:1–35

Situation

After Achan's sin, Joshua carefully obeyed all of God's instructions. Joshua completely destroyed Ai and built an altar to the Lord.

Observation

After the defeat at Ai, the Israelites could have given up and retreated. But after judging Achan's crime, God gave Israel a second chance. As Israel confessed and turned from sin, God's favor was restored, and Israel won a great victory.

Inspiration

I would like to confess a fall. I've kept it secret long enough. I can't deny the stumble; nor can I dismiss the truth. I fell. There were witnesses to my slip. They can tell you. Graciously, they have told no one. Out of concern for my reputation, they kept the event a secret. But it has been a secret long enough.

The time has come for my mistake to be shared.

I lost my footing at a family camp.

My daughters and I chose to climb a wall—a simulated rock climb. The wall is made of wood with occasional rock-shaped fingerholds bolted into the surface. For safety, the climber wears a harness around his waist. The harness is attached to a rope that runs up through a pulley and then down into the hands of a guide who secures it as the climber climbs.

I gave it a go. What’s a fifty-foot wall for a middle-aged author? I gave the guide the “thumbs-up” and began. The first half of the trip I did well. About midway, however, I began to get tired. These hands and feet are not accustomed to climbing.

With about twenty feet left to go, I honestly began to wonder if I would make it. I gave serious thought to telling the guide just to pull me up the rest of the way. My fingers were sore, and my legs were starting to tremble, and I was regretting every Big Mac I’d ever eaten, but the thought of surrender was lost in the cheers of my daughters who were already on the top.

“Come on, Dad. You can make it!”

So I gave it all I had. But all I had was not enough. My feet slipped, my hands slipped, and down I fell. I fell hard. But I didn’t fall far. My guide had a firm hold on the rope. Because he was alert and because he was strong, my tumble lasted only a couple of seconds. I bounced and swung in the harness, suspended in midair. Everyone watching let out a sigh, and I gulped and resumed the climb.

Guess what I did when I made it to the top? Do you think I boasted? Do you think I bragged about conquering the wall? No way. I looked down at the one who kept me from falling. “Thanks, pal,” I told him. I didn’t pat myself on the back or raise my fist in triumph. I didn’t ask everybody if they’d seen what I did. I did the only thing that was right; I said thanks to the one who held me.

Would that all my tumbles were so simple. So brief. So harmless. They haven’t been. I’ve been known to let go of much more than imitation rocks. I’ve let go of promises and convictions. There have been times when my fingers slipped off the very stones of truth I treasure. And I can’t tell you how many times I’ve expected to hit the bottom only to find myself suspended in midair, secured by a pair of nail-pierced hands.

“Try again,” he urges. And so I resume.

You and I are on a great climb. The wall is high, and the stakes are higher. You took your first step the day you confessed Christ as the Son of God. He gave you his harness—the Holy Spirit. In your hands he placed a rope—his Word.

Your first steps were confident and strong, but with the journey came weariness, and with the height came fear. You lost your footing. You lost your focus. You lost your grip, and you fell. For a moment, which seemed like forever, you tumbled wildly. Out of control. Out of self-control. Disoriented. Dislodged. Falling.

But then the rope tightened, and the tumble ceased. You hung in the harness and found it to be strong. You grasped the rope and found it to be true. You looked at your guide and found Jesus securing your soul. With a sheepish confession, you smiled at him and he smiled at you, and the journey resumed.

Now you are wiser. You have learned to go slowly. You are careful. You are cautious, but you are also confident. You trust the rope. You rely on the harness. And though you can't see your guide, you know him. You know he is strong. You know he is able to keep you from falling.

And you know you are only a few more steps from the top. So whatever you do, don't quit. Though your falls are great, his strength is greater. You will make it. You will see the summit. You will stand at the top. And when you get there, the first thing you'll do is join with all the others who have made the climb and sing this verse:

“God is strong and can help you not to fall. He can bring you before his glory without any wrong in you and can give you great joy. He is the only God, the One who saves us. To him be glory, greatness, power, and authority through Jesus Christ our Lord for all time past, now, and forever. Amen” (Jude 24).

(From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

Think of a time when you needed a second chance. How did it feel when you were given that opportunity? Remember, our God is a God of great mercy and grace, a God of third and fourth and fifth chances. Don't let your sins or your past keep you from enjoying a strong relationship with him. Look to God to forgive you, to strengthen you, and to give you another chance.

The Gibeonite Trickery

All the kings west of the Jordan River heard about these things: the kings of the Hittites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites. They lived in the mountains and on the western hills and along the whole Mediterranean Sea coast. <sup>2</sup>So all these kings gathered to fight Joshua and the Israelites.

<sup>3</sup>When the people of Gibeon heard how Joshua had defeated Jericho and Ai, <sup>4</sup>they decided to trick the Israelites. They gathered old sacks and old leather wine bags that were cracked and mended, and they put them on the backs of their donkeys. <sup>5</sup>They put old sandals on their feet and wore old clothes, and they took some dry, moldy bread. <sup>6</sup>Then they went to Joshua in the camp near Gilgal.

The men said to Joshua and the Israelites, “We have traveled from a faraway country. Make a peace agreement with us.”

<sup>7</sup>The Israelites said to these Hivites, “Maybe you live near us. How can we make a peace agreement with you?”

<sup>8</sup>The Hivites said to Joshua, “We are your servants.”

But Joshua asked, “Who are you? Where do you come from?”

<sup>9</sup>The men answered, “We are your servants who have come from a far country, because we heard of the fame of the Lord your God. We heard about what he has done and everything he did in Egypt. <sup>10</sup>We heard that he defeated the two kings of the Amorites from the east side of the Jordan River—Sihon king of Heshbon and Og king of Bashan who ruled in Ashtaroth. <sup>11</sup>So our older leaders and our people said to us, “Take food for your journey and go and meet the Israelites. Tell them, “We are your servants. Make a peace agreement with us.””

<sup>12</sup>“Look at our bread. On the day we left home to come to you it was warm and fresh, but now it is dry and moldy. <sup>13</sup>Look at our leather wine bags. They were new and filled with wine, but now they are cracked and old. Our clothes and sandals are worn out from the long journey.”

<sup>14</sup>The men of Israel tasted the bread, but they did not ask the Lord what to do. <sup>15</sup>So Joshua agreed to make peace with the Gibeonites and to let them live. And the leaders of the Israelites swore an oath to keep the agreement.

<sup>16</sup>Three days after they had made the agreement, the Israelites learned that the Gibeonites lived nearby. <sup>17</sup>So the Israelites went to where they lived and on the third day came to their cities: Gibeon, Kephirah, Beeroth, and Kiriath Jearim. <sup>18</sup>But the Israelites did not attack those cities, because they had made a promise to them before the Lord, the God of Israel.

All the Israelites grumbled against the leaders. <sup>19</sup>But the leaders answered, “We have given our promise before the Lord, the God of Israel, so we cannot attack them now. <sup>20</sup>This is what we must do. We must let them live. Otherwise, God’s anger will be against us for breaking the oath we swore to them. <sup>21</sup>So let them live, but they will cut wood and carry water for our people.” So the leaders kept their promise to them.

<sup>22</sup>Joshua called for the Gibeonites and asked, “Why did you lie to us? Your land was near our camp, but you told us you were from a far country. <sup>23</sup>Now, you will be placed under a curse to be our slaves. You will have to cut wood and carry water for the house of my God.”

<sup>24</sup>The Gibeonites answered Joshua, “We lied to you because we were afraid you would kill us. We heard that the Lord your God commanded his servant Moses to give you all of this land and to kill all the people who lived in it. That is why we did this.<sup>25</sup>Now you can decide what to do with us, whatever you think is right.”

<sup>26</sup>So Joshua saved their lives by not allowing the Israelites to kill them,<sup>27</sup>but he made the Gibeonites slaves. They cut wood and carried water for the Israelites, and they did it for the altar of the Lord—wherever he chose it to be. They are still doing this today.

The Sun Stands Still

At this time Adoni-Zedek king of Jerusalem heard that Joshua had defeated Ai and completely destroyed it, as he had also done to Jericho and its king. The king also learned that the Gibeonites had made a peace agreement with Israel and that they lived nearby.<sup>2</sup> Adoni-Zedek and his people were very afraid because of this. Gibeon was not a little town like Ai; it was a large city, as big as a city that had a king, and all its men were good fighters.<sup>3</sup> So Adoni-Zedek king of Jerusalem sent a message to Hoham king of Hebron, Piram king of Jarmuth, Japhia king of Lachish, and Debir king of Eglon. He begged them,<sup>4</sup> “Come with me and help me attack Gibeon, which has made a peace agreement with Joshua and the Israelites.”

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: Authority and Power

There are many examples of Jesus’ authority, but I’ll just mention one of my favorites. Jesus and the disciples are in a boat crossing the sea of Galilee. A storm arises suddenly and what was placid becomes violent—monstrous waves rise out of the sea and slap the boat....

... The very storm which made the disciples panic made him drowsy. What put fear in their eyes put him to sleep. The boat was a tomb to the followers and a cradle to Christ. How could he sleep through the storm? Simple, he was in charge of it.

“Jesus stood up and commanded the wind and said to the waves, ‘Quiet! Be still!’ Then the wind stopped, and it became completely calm. Jesus said to his followers, ‘Why are you afraid? Do you still have no faith?’” (Mark 4:39–40).

Incredible. He doesn’t chant a mantra or wave a wand. No angels are called, no help is needed. The raging water becomes a stilled sea, instantly. Immediate calm. Not a ripple. Not a drop. Not a gust. In a moment the sea goes from a churning torrent to a peaceful pond. The reaction of the disciples? Read it in verse 41: “The followers were very afraid and asked each other, ‘Who is this? Even the wind and the waves obey him!’” (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

For more on “Christ Through the Bible.”

<sup>6</sup>The Gibeonites sent this message to Joshua in his camp at Gilgal: “Don’t let us, your servants, be destroyed. Come quickly and help us! Save us! All the Amorite kings from the mountains have joined their armies and are fighting against us.”

<sup>7</sup>So Joshua marched out of Gilgal with his whole army, including his best fighting men. <sup>8</sup>The Lord said to Joshua, “Don’t be afraid of those armies, because I will hand them over to you. None of them will be able to stand against you.”

<sup>12</sup>On the day that the Lord gave up the Amorites to the Israelites, Joshua stood before all the people of Israel and said to the Lord:

“Sun, stand still over Gibeon.
Moon, stand still over the Valley of Aijalon.”

<sup>13</sup>So the sun stood still, and the moon stopped until the people defeated their enemies.

These words are written in the Book of Jashar.

The sun stopped in the middle of the sky and waited to go down for a full day. <sup>14</sup>That has never happened at any time before that day or since. That was the day the Lord listened to a human being. Truly the Lord was fighting for Israel!

<sup>20</sup>So Joshua and the Israelites killed the enemy, but a few were able to get back to their strong, walled cities. <sup>21</sup>After the fighting, Joshua’s men came back safely to him at Makkedah. No one was brave enough to say a word against the Israelites.

<sup>22</sup>Joshua said, “Move the rocks that are covering the opening of the cave and bring those five kings out to me.” <sup>23</sup>So Joshua’s men brought the five kings out of the cave—the kings of Jerusalem, Hebron, Jarmuth, Lachish, and Eglon. <sup>24</sup>When they brought the five kings out to Joshua, he called for all his men. He said to the commanders of his army, “Come here! Put your feet on the necks of these kings.” So they came close and put their feet on their necks.

<sup>25</sup>Joshua said to his men, “Be strong and brave! Don’t be afraid, because I will show you what the Lord will do to the enemies you will fight in the future.”<sup>26</sup> Then Joshua killed the five kings and hung their bodies on five trees, where he left them until evening.

<sup>27</sup>At sunset Joshua told his men to take the bodies down from the trees. Then they threw them into the same cave where they had been hiding and covered the opening of the cave with large rocks, which are still there today.

<sup>28</sup>That day Joshua defeated Makkedah. He killed the king and completely destroyed all the people in that city as an offering to the Lord; no one was left alive. He did the same thing to the king of Makkedah that he had done to the king of Jericho.

Defeating Southern Cities

<sup>29</sup>Joshua and all the Israelites traveled from Makkedah to Libnah and attacked it. <sup>30</sup>The Lord handed over the city and its king. They killed every person in the city; no one was left alive. And they did the same thing to that king that they had done to the king of Jericho.

<sup>31</sup>Then Joshua and all the Israelites left Libnah and went to Lachish, which they surrounded and attacked. <sup>32</sup>The Lord handed over Lachish on the second day. The Israelites killed everyone in that city just as they had done to Libnah. <sup>33</sup>During this same time Horam king of Gezer came to help Lachish, but Joshua also defeated him and his army; no one was left alive.

<sup>34</sup>Then Joshua and all the Israelites went from Lachish to Eglon. They surrounded Eglon, attacked it, and <sup>35</sup>captured it the same day. They killed all its people and completely destroyed everything in it as an offering to the Lord, just as they had done to Lachish.

<sup>36</sup>Then Joshua and the Israelites went from Eglon to Hebron and attacked it, <sup>37</sup>capturing it and all the little towns near it. The Israelites killed everyone in Hebron; no one was left alive there. Just as they had done to Eglon, they completely destroyed the city and all its people as an offering to the Lord.

<sup>38</sup>Then Joshua and the Israelites went back to Debir and attacked it. <sup>39</sup>They captured that city, its king, and all the little towns near it, completely destroying everyone in Debir as an offering to the Lord; no one was left alive there. Israel did to Debir and its king just as they had done to Libnah and its king, just as they had done to Hebron.

<sup>40</sup>So Joshua defeated all the kings of the cities of these areas: the mountains, southern Canaan, the western hills, and the slopes. The Lord, the God of Israel, had told Joshua to completely destroy all the people as an offering to the Lord, so he left no one alive in those places. <sup>41</sup>Joshua captured all the cities from Kadesh Barnea to Gaza, and from Goshen to Gibeon. <sup>42</sup>He captured all these cities and their kings on one trip, because the Lord, the God of Israel, was fighting for Israel.

Life Lessons

Joshua 9:1–10:43

Situation

God did not promise the Israelites the land without giving them the strength to conquer it. God helped Joshua lead the people into possession of their land.

Observation

God does not give us commands or lead us to decisions and leave us to fight the obstacles in our own strength. He strengthens us and guides us in every detail.

Inspiration

You get impatient with your own life, trying to master a habit or control a sin—and in your frustration begin to wonder where the power of God is. Be patient. God is using today's difficulties to strengthen you for tomorrow. He is equipping you. The God who makes things grow will help you bear fruit.

God did not leave you as an orphan. He says he will be with you always. All of us could use some more strength—who isn't trying to tackle an attitude or put away a bad habit or overcome guilt? We can't see the power, but it's real—we're not alone.

As long as we have hope, as long as we recognize that this world is not our home, as long as we recognize that someday all of our problems will be solved, that is where we will gather our strength. (From The Inspirational Bible, "Strength")

Application

If you are struggling right now with an attitude or bad habit, stop and focus on the promise of God's strength and his presence. As God did with the Israelites, he will go with you into battle and will equip you for whatever you may face this day. Remember that God is in charge and controls everything.

Defeating Northern Kings

When Jabin king of Hazor heard about all that had happened, he sent messages to Jobab king of Madon, to the king of Shimron, and to the king of Acshaph. <sup>2</sup>He sent messages to the kings in the northern mountains and also to the kings in the Jordan Valley south of Lake Galilee and in the western hills. He sent a message to the king of Naphoth Dor in the west <sup>3</sup>and to the kings of the Canaanites in the east and in the west. He sent messages to the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, and Jebusites in the mountains. Jabin also sent one to the Hivites, who lived below Mount Hermon in the area of Mizpah. <sup>4</sup>So the armies of all these kings came together with their horses and chariots. There were as many soldiers as grains of sand on the seashore.

<sup>5</sup>All of these kings met together at the waters of Merom, joined their armies together into one camp, and made plans to fight against the Israelites.

<sup>6</sup>Then the Lord said to Joshua, “Don’t be afraid of them, because at this time tomorrow I will give them to you. You will cripple their horses and burn all their chariots.”

<sup>10</sup>Then Joshua went back and captured the city of Hazor and killed its king. (Hazor had been the leader of all the kingdoms that fought against Israel.) <sup>11</sup>Israel killed everyone in Hazor, completely destroying them; no one was left alive. Then they burned Hazor itself.

<sup>12</sup>Joshua captured all of these cities, killed all of their kings, and completely destroyed everything in these cities. He did this just as Moses, the servant of the Lord, had commanded.

<sup>13</sup>But the Israelites did not burn any cities that were built on their mounds, except Hazor; only that city was burned by Joshua. <sup>14</sup>The people of Israel kept for themselves everything they found in the cities, including all the animals. But they killed all the people there; they left no one alive. <sup>15</sup>Long ago the Lord had commanded his servant Moses to do this, and then Moses had commanded Joshua to do it. Joshua did everything the Lord had commanded Moses.

<sup>16</sup>So Joshua defeated all the people in the land. He had control of the mountains and the area of southern Canaan, all the areas of Goshen, the western hills, and the Jordan Valley. He controlled the mountains of Israel and all the hills near them. <sup>17</sup>Joshua controlled all the land from Mount Halak near Edom to Baal Gad in the Valley of Lebanon, below Mount Hermon. Joshua also captured all the kings in the land and killed them. <sup>18</sup>He fought against them for many years. <sup>19</sup>The people of only one city in all the land had made a peace agreement with Israel—the Hivites living in Gibeon. All the other cities were defeated in war. <sup>20</sup>The Lord made those people stubborn so they would fight against Israel and he could completely destroy them without mercy. This is what the Lord had commanded Moses to do.

completely destroyed them and their towns.<sup>22</sup> There were no Anakites left living in the land of the Israelites and only a few were left in Gaza, Gath, and Ashdod.<sup>23</sup> Joshua took control of all the land of Israel as the Lord had told Moses to do long ago. He gave the land to Israel, because he had promised it to them. Then Joshua divided the land among the tribes of Israel, and there was peace in the land.

Life Lessons

Joshua 11:1–12:24

Situation

Joshua led Israel's army to many victories over the Canaanites. Though the Israelites were outnumbered, God is never outnumbered. He encouraged, supported, and brought victory to them. After seven years of campaigning, the Israelites destroyed the alliance of Canaanite tribes.

Observation

The world sees “victory” in a different light than the Bible does. The Bible sees victory as the finished work of Jesus Christ at Calvary and his resurrection. It has a future look and understanding.

Inspiration

Sometimes life doesn't seem fair, does it? Have you ever wondered why good people have to hurt? Why the innocent suffer? Often it seems that those who have been most battered by life seem to understand Jesus best, and his assurance finds its way into the darkest corners of life, because regardless of our circumstances, God meets our needs. By surrendering to him, the ultimate victory is ours.

What is unique about the kingdom of God is that you are assured of victory. You have won! You are assured that you will someday stand before the face of God and see the King of kings. You are assured that someday you will enter a world where there will be no more pain, no more tears, nor more sorrow.

If you have no faith in the future, then you have no power in the present. If you have no faith in the life beyond this life, then your present life is going to be powerless. But if you believe in the future and are assured of victory, then there should be a dance in your step and a smile on your face. (From The Inspirational Bible, “Victory”)

Kings Defeated by Israel

The Israelites took control of the land east of the Jordan River from the Arnon Ravine to Mount Hermon and all the land along the eastern side of the Jordan Valley. These lands belonged to the kings whom the Israelites defeated.

<sup>2</sup>Sihon king of the Amorites lived in the city of Heshbon and ruled the land from Aroer at the Arnon Ravine to the Jabbok River. His land started in the middle of the ravine, which was their border with the Ammonites. Sihon ruled over half the land of Gilead <sup>3</sup>and over the eastern side of the Jordan Valley from Lake Galilee to the Dead Sea. And he ruled from Beth Jeshimoth south to the slopes of Pisgah.

<sup>4</sup>Og king of Bashan was one of the last of the Rephaites. He ruled the land in Ashtaroth and Edrei. <sup>5</sup>He ruled over Mount Hermon, Salecah, and all the area of Bashan up to where the people of Geshur and Maacah lived. Og also ruled half the land of Gilead up to the border of Sihon king of Heshbon.

<sup>6</sup>The Lord's servant Moses and the Israelites defeated all these kings, and Moses gave that land to the tribes of Reuben and Gad and to East Manasseh as their own.

defeated the king of each of the following cities: <sup>9</sup>Jericho, Ai (near Bethel), <sup>10</sup>Jerusalem, Hebron, <sup>11</sup>Jarmuth, Lachish, <sup>12</sup>Eglon, Gezer, <sup>13</sup>Debir, Geder, <sup>14</sup>Hormah, Arad, <sup>15</sup>Libnah, Adullam, <sup>16</sup>Makkedah, Bethel, <sup>17</sup>Tappuah, Hopher, <sup>18</sup>Aphek, Lasharon, <sup>19</sup>Madon, Hazor, <sup>20</sup>Shimron Meron, Acshaph, <sup>21</sup>Taanach, Megiddo, <sup>22</sup>Kedesh, Jokneam in Carmel, <sup>23</sup>Dor (in Naphoth Dor), Goyim in Gilgal, and <sup>24</sup>Tirzah.

The total number of kings was thirty-one.

Land Still to Be Taken

When Joshua was very old, the Lord said to him, “Joshua, you have grown old, but there is still much land for you to take. <sup>2</sup>This is what is left: the regions of Geshur and of the Philistines; <sup>3</sup>the area from the Shihor River at the border of Egypt to Ekron in the north, which belongs to the Canaanites; the five Philistine leaders at Gaza, Ashdod, Ashkelon, Gath, and Ekron; the Avvites, <sup>4</sup>who live south of the Canaanite land; <sup>5</sup>the Gebalites, and the area of Lebanon east of Baal Gad below Mount Hermon to Lebo Hamath.

<sup>6</sup>“The Sidonians are living in the hill country from Lebanon to Misrephoth Maim, but I will force all of them out ahead of the Israelites. Be sure to remember this land when you divide the land among the Israelites, as I told you.

Dividing the Land

<sup>8</sup>East Manasseh and the tribes of Reuben and Gad had received their land. The Lord’s servant Moses had given them the land east of the Jordan River. <sup>9</sup>Their land started at Aroer at the Arnon Ravine and continued to the town in the middle of the ravine, and it included the whole plain from Medeba to Dibon. <sup>10</sup>All the towns ruled by Sihon king of the Amorites, who ruled in the city of Heshbon, were in that land. The land continued to the area where the Ammonites lived. <sup>11</sup>Gilead was also there, as well as the area where the people of Geshur and Maacah lived, and all of Mount Hermon and Bashan as far as Salecah. <sup>12</sup>All the kingdom of Og king of Bashan was in the land. Og was one of the last of the Rephaites, and in the past he ruled in Ashtaroth and Edrei. Moses had defeated them and had taken their land. <sup>13</sup>Because the Israelites did not force out the people of Geshur and Maacah, they still live among the Israelites today.

<sup>14</sup>The tribe of Levi was the only one that did not get any land. Instead, they were given all the burned sacrifices made to the Lord, the God of Israel, as he had promised them.

<sup>15</sup>Moses had given each family group from the tribe of Reuben some land: <sup>16</sup>Theirs was the land from Aroer near the Arnon Ravine to the town of Medeba, including the whole plain and the town in the middle of the ravine; <sup>17</sup>Heshbon and all the towns on the plain: Dibon, Bamoth Baal, and Beth Baal Meon, <sup>18</sup>Jahaz, Kedemoth, Mephaath, <sup>19</sup>Kiriathaim, Sibmah, Zereth Shahaar on the hill in the valley, <sup>20</sup>Beth Peor, the hills of Pisgah, and Beth Jeshimoth. <sup>21</sup>So that land included all the towns on the plain and all the area that Sihon king of the Amorites had ruled from the town of Heshbon. Moses had defeated him along with the leaders of the Midianites, including Evi, Rekem, Zur, Hur, and Reba. All these leaders fought together with Sihon and lived in that country. <sup>22</sup>The Israelites killed many people during the fighting, including Balaam of Beor, who tried to use magic to tell the future. <sup>23</sup>The land given to Reuben stopped at the shore of the Jordan River. So the land given to the family groups of Reuben included all these towns and their villages that were listed.

family groups: <sup>25</sup>the land of Jazer and all the towns of Gilead; half the land of the Ammonites that went as far as Aroer near Rabbah; <sup>26</sup>the area from Heshbon to Ramath Mizpah and Betonim; the area from Mahanaim to the land of Debir; <sup>27</sup>in the valley, Beth Haram, Beth Nimrah, Succoth, and Zaphon, the other land Sihon king of Heshbon had ruled east of the Jordan River and continuing to the end of Lake Galilee. <sup>28</sup>All this land went to the family groups of Gad, including all these towns and their villages.

<sup>29</sup>This is the land Moses had given to East Manasseh. Half of all the family groups in the tribe of Manasseh were given this land. <sup>30</sup>The land started at Mahanaim and included all of Bashan and the land ruled by Og king of Bashan; all the towns of Jair in Bashan, sixty cities in all; <sup>31</sup>half of Gilead, Ashtaroth, and Edrei, the cities where Og king of Bashan had ruled. All this went to the family of Makir son of Manasseh, and half of all his sons were given this land.

<sup>32</sup>Moses had given this land to these tribes on the plains of Moab across the Jordan River east of Jericho. <sup>33</sup>But Moses had given no land to the tribe of Levi because the Lord, the God of Israel, promised that he himself would be the gift for the Levites.

Eleazar the priest, Joshua son of Nun, and the leaders of all the tribes of Israel decided what land to give to the people in the land of Canaan.<sup>2</sup>The Lord had commanded Moses long ago how he wanted the people to choose their land. The people of the nine-and-a-half tribes threw lots to decide which land they would receive.<sup>3</sup>Moses had already given the two-and-a-half tribes their land east of the Jordan River. But the tribe of Levi was not given any land like the others.<sup>4</sup>The sons of Joseph had divided into two tribes—Manasseh and Ephraim. The tribe of Levi was not given any land. It was given only some towns in which to live and pastures for its animals.<sup>5</sup>The Lord had told Moses how to give the land to the tribes of Israel, and the Israelites divided the land.

Caleb's Land

<sup>6</sup>One day some men from the tribe of Judah went to Joshua at Gilgal. Among them was Caleb son of Jephunneh the Kenizzite. He said to Joshua, "You remember what the Lord said at Kadesh Barnea when he was speaking to the prophet Moses about you and me.<sup>7</sup>Moses, the Lord's servant, sent me to look at the land where we were going. I was forty years old then. When I came back, I told Moses what I thought about the land.<sup>8</sup>The other men who went with me frightened the people, but I fully believed the Lord would allow us to take the land.<sup>9</sup>So that day Moses promised me, 'The land where you went will become your land, and your children will own it forever. I will give you that land because you fully believed in the Lord, my God.'

<sup>10c</sup>Now then, the Lord has kept his promise. He has kept me alive for forty-five years from the time he said this to Moses during the time we all wandered in the desert. Now here I am, eighty-five years old. <sup>11</sup>I am still as strong today as I was the day Moses sent me out, and I am just as ready to fight now as I was then. <sup>12</sup>So give me the mountain country the Lord promised me that day long ago. Back then you heard that the Anakite people lived there and the cities were large and well protected. But now with the Lord helping me, I will force them out, just as the Lord said.”

<sup>13</sup>Joshua blessed Caleb son of Jephunneh and gave him the city of Hebron as his own. <sup>14</sup>Hebron still belongs to the family of Caleb son of Jephunneh the Kenizzite because he had faith and obeyed the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>15</sup>(In the past it was called Kiriath Arba, named for Arba, the greatest man among the Anakites.)

After this there was peace in the land.

Life Lessons

Joshua 13:1–17:18

Situation

The twelve tribes of Israel divided the conquered lands according to God’s wishes. Joshua dismissed the army, leaving additional conquests as each tribe’s responsibility.

Observation

God rewards his people for following through on what he says. In these chapters, the Israelites were rewarded with a homeland.

Inspiration

God gives us “the real life” through His Son, Christ. And only through His Son. Please get that straight. That’s the basis of the gospel. That’s why Christ is the preeminent message—not good works, not positive thinking, not good books, not being widely traveled or earning a good education (as fine as all those things may be). Christ, and Christ alone, will give you the life of God, and He’s from outside this galaxy. He’s not within it....

Life from God is supernatural power now—not a vague force limited to a long time ago. You know, the greatest evidence of power is change. Take a trip to Hoover Dam and look at that massive amount of water; it’s really impressive. But you don’t say, “My! Look at that power.” What you see is not the greatest evidence of power. That’s just water going over a dam. If you want to see the evidence of power at Hoover Dam, you need to drive to a residential section in a nearby city that draws its source of electricity from the dam ... walk into a darkened room in the middle of the night and flip on the light. In one simple “click” you’ve got the greatest evidence of the power at that massive dam. It’s able to change darkness into light. It’s able to transform a cold house into a warm home.

Now, the wonderful news is that God dispenses His supernatural power to anyone who says, “I want it.” It doesn’t cost you a thing. You don’t have to see a film. You don’t have to visit a territory of the country. There are no Meccas. You don’t have to read a series of books. You don’t have to be on probation for a year and a half. You don't have to keep going to a church to earn your way in. You don't have to pray a whole lot.... Whether you're the richest of the rich, the poorest of the poor, or anywhere between, all you have to do is take a gift. And the gift is the power of God, through faith in His Son. ## Land for Judah

The land that was given to the tribe of Judah was divided among all the family groups. It went all the way to the Desert of Zin in the far south, at the border of Edom.

<sup>5</sup>The eastern border was the shore of the Dead Sea, as far as the mouth of the Jordan River.

The northern border started at the bay of the sea at the mouth of the Jordan River. <sup>6</sup>Then it went to Beth Hoglah and continued north of Beth Arabah to the stone of Bohan son of Reuben. <sup>7</sup>Then the northern border went through the Valley of Achor to Debir where it turned toward the north and went to Gilgal. Gilgal is across from the road that goes through Adummim Pass, on the south side of the ravine. The border continued to the waters of En Shemesh and stopped at En Rogel. <sup>8</sup>Then it went through the Valley of Ben Hinnom, next to the southern side of the Jebusite city (which is called Jerusalem). There the border went to the top of the hill on the west side of Hinnom Valley, at the northern end of the Valley of Giants. <sup>9</sup>From there it went to the spring of the waters of Nephtoah and then it went to the cities near Mount Ephron. There it turned and went toward Baalah, which is called Kiriath Jearim.<sup>10</sup>At Baalah the border turned west and went toward Mount Seir. It continued along the north side of Mount Jearim (also called Kesalon) and came to Beth Shemesh. From there it went past Timnah<sup>11</sup>to the hill north of Ekron. Then it turned toward Shikkeron and went past Mount Baalah and continued on to Jabneel, ending at the sea.

<sup>13</sup>The Lord had commanded Joshua to give Caleb son of Jephunneh part of the land in Judah, so he gave Caleb the town of Kiriath Arba, also called Hebron. (Arba was the father of Anak.)<sup>14</sup>Caleb forced out the three Anakite families living in Hebron: Sheshai, Ahiman, and Talmi, the descendants of Anak.<sup>15</sup>Then he left there and went to fight against the people living in Debir. (In the past Debir had been called Kiriath Sepher.)<sup>16</sup>Caleb said, "I will give Acsah, my daughter, as a wife to the man who attacks and captures the city of Kiriath Sepher."<sup>17</sup>Othniel son of Kenaz, Caleb's brother, captured the city, so Caleb gave his daughter Acsah to Othniel to be his wife.<sup>18</sup>When Acsah came to Othniel, she told him to ask her father for a field.

So Acsah went to her father. When she got down from her donkey, Caleb asked her, "What do you want?"

<sup>19</sup>Acsah answered, "Do me a special favor. Since you have given me land in southern Canaan, also give me springs of water." So Caleb gave her the upper and lower springs.

<sup>20</sup>The tribe of Judah got the land God had promised them. Each family group got part of the land.

and Giloh. There were eleven towns and their villages.

<sup>58</sup>They were also given these towns in the mountains: Halhul, Beth Zur, Gedor, <sup>59</sup>Maarath, Beth Anoth, and Eltekon. There were six towns and their villages.

<sup>60</sup>The people of Judah were also given the two towns of Rabbah and Kiriath Baal (also called Kiriath Jearim) and their villages.

<sup>61</sup>Judah was given these towns in the desert: Beth Arabah, Middin, Secacah, <sup>62</sup>Nibshan, the City of Salt, and En Gedi. There were six towns and all their villages.

<sup>63</sup>The army of Judah was not able to force out the Jebusites living in Jerusalem, so the Jebusites still live among the people of Judah to this day.

Land for Ephraim and Manasseh

This is the land the tribe of Joseph received. It started at the Jordan River near Jericho and continued to the waters of Jericho, just east of the city. The border went up from Jericho to the mountains of Bethel.<sup>2</sup> Then it continued from Bethel (also called Luz) to the Arkite border at Ataroth.<sup>3</sup> From there it went west to the border of the Japhletites and continued to the area of the Lower Beth Horon. Then it went to Gezer and ended at the sea.

<sup>5</sup>This is the land that was given to the family groups of Ephraim: Their border started at Ataroth Addar in the east, went to Upper Beth Horon,<sup>6</sup> and then to the sea. From Micmethath it turned eastward toward Taanath Shiloh and continued eastward to Janoah.<sup>7</sup> Then it went down from Janoah to Ataroth and to Naarah. It continued until it touched Jericho and stopped at the Jordan River.<sup>8</sup> The border went from Tappuah west to Kanah Ravine and ended at the sea. This is all the land that was given to each family group in the tribe of the Ephraimites.<sup>9</sup> Many of the towns were actually within Manasseh's borders, but the people of Ephraim got those towns and their villages.<sup>10</sup> The Ephraimites could not force the Canaanites to leave Gezer, so the Canaanites still live among the Ephraimites today, but they became slaves of the Ephraimites.

Then land was given to the tribe of Manasseh, Joseph's first son. Manasseh's first son was Makir, the father of Gilead. Makir was a great soldier, so the lands of Gilead and Bashan were given to his family.<sup>2</sup> Land was also given to the other family groups of Manasseh—Abiezer, Helek, Asriel, Shechem, Hopher, and Shemida. These were all the other sons of Manasseh son of Joseph.

<sup>3</sup>Zelophehad was the son of Hopher, who was the son of Gilead, who was the son of Makir, who was the son of Manasseh. Zelophehad had no sons, but he had five daughters, named Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah.<sup>4</sup> They went to Eleazar the priest and to Joshua son of Nun and all the leaders. They said, "The Lord told Moses to give us land like the men received." So Eleazar obeyed the Lord and gave the daughters some land, just like the brothers of their father.<sup>5</sup> So the tribe of Manasseh had ten sections of land west of the Jordan River and two more sections, Gilead and Bashan, on the east side of the Jordan River.<sup>6</sup> The daughters of Manasseh received land just as the sons did. Gilead was given to the rest of the families of Manasseh.

western border. The border touched Asher's land on the north and Issachar's land on the east.

<sup>11</sup>In the areas of Issachar and Asher, the people of Manasseh owned these towns: Beth Shan and its small towns; Ibleam and its small towns; the people who lived in Dor and its small towns; the people in Naphoth Dor and its small towns; the people who lived in Taanach and its small towns; the people in Megiddo and its small towns. <sup>12</sup>Manasseh was not able to defeat those cities, so the Canaanites continued to live there. <sup>13</sup>When the Israelites grew strong, they forced the Canaanites to work for them, although they did not force them to leave the land.

<sup>14</sup>The people from the tribes of Joseph said to Joshua, "You gave us only one area of land, but we are many people. Why did you give us only one part of all the land the Lord gave his people?"

<sup>15</sup>And Joshua answered them, "If you have too many people, go up to the forest and make a place for yourselves to live there in the land of the Perizzites and the Rephaites. The mountain country of Ephraim is too small for you."

<sup>16</sup>The people of Joseph said, "It is true. The mountain country of Ephraim is not enough for us, but the land where the Canaanites live is dangerous. They are skilled fighters. They have powerful weapons in Beth Shan and all the small towns in that area, and they are also in the Valley of Jezreel."

<sup>17</sup>Then Joshua said to the people of Joseph—to Ephraim and Manasseh, "There are many of you, and you have great power. You should be given more than one share of land. <sup>18</sup>You also will have the mountain country. It is a forest, but you can cut down the trees and make it a good place to live. You will own all of it because you will force the Canaanites to leave the land even though they have powerful weapons and are strong.”

Life Lessons

Joshua 18:1–19:51

Situation

Seven more tribes received their inheritance, which was administered by Joshua. He also took possession of the town, Timmath.

Observation

The children of Israel could not exercise full dominion over the land as its new tenants until each tribe had been assigned its portions. When this occurred, then the nation as a whole began to rule and have authority on the earth as God's representatives.

Inspiration

I was praying and fasting some years ago, seeking to understand God's purpose more fully. I heard his voice, level and conversational, "What do I desire for man?"

A bit surprised, I replied, "I don't know, Lord. You know." Then the Lord directed me to open my Bible. "Look at Genesis, and you will see, he said."

Genesis is one of the longest books in the Bible, but I opened it at the beginning. As I read along, my eyes fell on this passage:

And God said, let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creeps upon the earth. So God created man.

“Let them have dominion.” My eyes went over it several times. Then I knew the Lord’s purpose. He wanted man to have dominion—then and now.

It was very clear. This was a kingdom law. God wants man to have authority over the earth. He wants him to rule the way he was created to rule....

Almighty God wants us to recapture the dominion man held in the beginning. He has gone to great lengths to make that possible, sending His own Son as the second Adam to restore what was lost in Eden....

God gives man the authority to govern all that is willing to be governed... . He grants man authority over the untamed and rebellious. God gave man a sweeping and total mandate of dominion over this planet and everything in it.

But stewardship requires responsibility. And implicit in the grant was a requirement that man order the planet according to God’s will and for God’s purposes. This was a grant of freedom, not of license. As subsequent history proved, God’s intention was that His world be governed and subdued by those who themselves were governed by God. ## The Rest of the Land Divided

All of the Israelites gathered together at Shiloh where they set up the Meeting Tent. The land was now under their control. <sup>2</sup>But there were still seven tribes of Israel that had not yet received their land.

<sup>3</sup>So Joshua said to the Israelites: “Why do you wait so long to take your land? The Lord, the God of your ancestors, has given this land to you. <sup>4</sup>Choose three men from each tribe, and I will send them out to study the land. They will describe in writing the land their tribe wants as its share, and then they will come back to me. <sup>5</sup>They will divide the land into seven parts. The people of Judah will keep their land in the south, and the people of Joseph will keep their land in the north. <sup>6</sup>You should describe the seven parts of land in writing and bring what you have written to me. Then I will throw lots in the presence of the Lord our God. <sup>7</sup>But the Levites do not get any part of these lands, because they are priests, and their work is to serve the Lord. Gad, Reuben, and East Manasseh have received the land promised to them, which is east of the Jordan River. Moses, the servant of the Lord, gave it to them.”

<sup>8</sup>So the men who were chosen to map the land started out. Joshua told them, “Go and study the land and describe it in writing. Then come back to me, and I will throw lots in the presence of the Lord here in Shiloh.” <sup>9</sup>So the men left and went into the land. They described in a scroll each town in the seven parts of the land. Then they came back to Joshua, who was still at the camp at Shiloh. <sup>10</sup>There Joshua threw lots in the presence of the Lord to choose the lands that should be given to each tribe.

Land for Benjamin

<sup>11</sup>The first part of the land was given to the tribe of Benjamin. Each family group received some land between the land of Judah and the land of Joseph. This is the land chosen for Benjamin: <sup>12</sup>The northern border started at the Jordan River and went along the northern edge of Jericho, and then it went west into the mountains. That boundary continued until it was just east of Beth Aven. <sup>13</sup>From there it went south to Luz (also called Bethel) and then down to Ataroth Addar, which is on the hill south of Lower Beth Horon.

<sup>14</sup>At the hill to the south of Beth Horon, the border turned and went south near the western side of the hill. It went to Kiriath Baal (also called Kiriath Jearim), a town where people of Judah lived. This was the western border.

the northern part of Beth Hoglah and ended at the north shore of the Dead Sea, where the Jordan River flows into the sea. This was the southern border.

<sup>20</sup>The Jordan River was the border on the eastern side. So this was the land given to the family groups of Benjamin with the borders on all sides.

Land for Simeon

The second part of the land was given to the tribe of Simeon. Each family group received some of the land inside the area of Judah. <sup>2</sup>They received Beersheba (also called Sheba), Moladah, <sup>3</sup>Hazar Shual, Balah, Ezem, <sup>4</sup>Eltolad, Bethul, Hormah, <sup>5</sup>Ziklag, Beth Marcaboth, Hazar Susah, <sup>6</sup>Beth Lebaoth, and Sharuhem. There were thirteen towns and their villages.

<sup>7</sup>They received the towns of Ain, Rimmon, Ether, and Ashan, four towns and their villages. <sup>8</sup>They also received all the very small areas with people living in them as far as Baalath Beer (this is the same as Ramah in southern Canaan). So these were the lands given to the family groups in the tribe of Simeon. <sup>9</sup>The land of the Simeonites was taken from part of the land of Judah. Since Judah had much more land than they needed, the Simeonites received part of their land.

Land for Zebulun

<sup>10</sup>The third part of the land was given to the tribe of Zebulun. Each family group of Zebulun received some of the land. The border of Zebulun went as far as Sarid. <sup>11</sup>Then it went west to Maralah and came near Dabbesheth and then near Jokneam. <sup>12</sup>Then it turned to the east. It went from Sarid to the area of Kisloth Tabor and on to Daberath and to Japhia. <sup>13</sup>It continued eastward to Gath Hopher and Eth Kazin, ending at Rimmon. There the border turned and went toward Neah. <sup>14</sup>At Neah it turned again and went to the north to Hannathon and continued to the Valley of Iphtah El. <sup>15</sup>Inside this border were the cities of Kattath, Nahalal, Shimron, Idalah, and Bethlehem. There were twelve towns and their villages.

<sup>16</sup>So these are the towns and the villages that were given to the family groups of Zebulun.

Land for Issachar

<sup>23</sup>These cities and towns were part of the land that was given to the family groups of Issachar.

Land for Asher

The western border touched Mount Carmel and Shihor Libnath. <sup>27</sup>Then it turned east and went to Beth Dagon, touching Zebulun and the Valley of Iphtah El. Then it went north of Beth Emek and Neiel and passed north to Cabul.

Land for Naphtali

<sup>39</sup>The towns and the villages around them were in the land that was given to the family groups of Naphtali.

Land for Dan

<sup>47</sup>(But the Danites had trouble taking their land. They went and fought against Leshem, defeated it, and killed the people who lived there. So the Danites moved into the town of Leshem and changed its name to Dan, because he was the father of their tribe.) <sup>48</sup>All of these towns and villages were given to the family groups of Dan.

Land for Joshua

<sup>49</sup>After the leaders finished dividing the land and giving it to the different tribes, the Israelites gave Joshua son of Nun his land also. <sup>50</sup>They gave Joshua the town he asked for, Timnath Serah in the mountains of Ephraim, just as the Lord commanded. He built up the town and lived there.

<sup>51</sup>So these lands were given to the different tribes of Israel. Eleazar the priest, Joshua son of Nun, and the leaders of each tribe divided up the land by lots at Shiloh. They met in the presence of the Lord at the entrance to the Meeting Tent. Now they were finished dividing the land.

Life Lessons

Joshua 20:1–21:45

Situation

God set up cities of safety to protect the innocent and consecrated the Levites for service to him. Because of the Levites' position, they were not eligible to inherit land, but Joshua assigned them towns and pasturelands to provide for their needs.

Observation

The Lord, in justice and love for his people, provides for all their needs, even for unforeseen accidents.

Inspiration

To recognize God as Lord is to acknowledge that he is sovereign and supreme in the universe. To accept him as Savior is to accept his gift of salvation offered on the cross. To regard him as a Father is to go a step further. Ideally, a father is the one in your life who provides and protects. That is exactly what God has done.

He has provided for your needs. He has protected you from harm. He has adopted you. And he has given you his name.

God has proven himself as a faithful father. Now it falls to us to be trusting children. Let God give you what your family doesn't. Let him fill the void others have left. Rely upon him for your affirmation and encouragement. Look at Paul's words: "You are God's child, and God will give you the blessing he *promised, because you are his child” (Galatians 4:7, emphasis added). (From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)*

Application

As God’s children we have confidence in his provision for all our needs. We know that he even notices the unforeseen problems and our smallest concerns. Approach God as you would a loving father.

Exploration

God Provides—Psalm 103:3; 128:2; Proverbs 10:22; Isaiah 43:20; Matthew 6:26.

Cities of Safety

Then the Lord said to Joshua:<sup>2</sup>“Tell the Israelites to choose the special cities of safety, as I had Moses command you to do.<sup>3</sup>If a person kills someone accidentally and without meaning to kill him, that person may go to a city of safety to hide. There the killer will be safe from the relative who has the duty of punishing a murderer.

<sup>4</sup>“When the killer runs to one of those cities, he must stop at the entrance gate, stand there, and tell the leaders of the people what happened. Then that person will be allowed to enter the city and will be given a place to live among them.<sup>5</sup>But if the one who is chasing him follows him to that city, the leaders of the city must not hand over the killer. It was an accident. He did not hate him beforehand or kill him on purpose.<sup>6</sup>The killer must stay in the city until a court comes to a decision and until the high priest dies. Then he may go back home to the town from which he ran away.”

these cities of safety. There he would not be killed, before he was judged, by the relative who had the duty of punishing a murderer.

Towns for the Levites

The heads of the Levite families went to talk to Eleazar the priest, to Joshua son of Nun, and to the heads of the families of all the tribes of Israel. <sup>2</sup>At Shiloh in the land of Canaan, the heads of the Levite families said to them, “The Lord commanded Moses that you give us towns where we may live and pastures for our animals.” <sup>3</sup>So the Israelites obeyed this command of the Lord and gave the Levite people these towns and pastures for their own land: <sup>4</sup>The Kohath family groups were part of the tribe of Levi. Some of the Levites in the Kohath family groups were from the family of Aaron the priest. To these Levites were given thirteen towns in the areas of Judah, Simeon, and Benjamin. <sup>5</sup>The other family groups of Kohath were given ten towns in the areas of Ephraim, Dan, and West Manasseh.

<sup>7</sup>The family groups of Merari were given twelve towns in the areas of Reuben, Gad, and Zebulun.

<sup>8</sup>So the Israelites gave the Levites these towns and the pastures around them, just as the Lord had commanded Moses.

<sup>9</sup>These are the names of the towns that came from the lands of Judah and Simeon. <sup>10</sup>The first choice of towns was given to the Kohath family groups of the Levites. <sup>11</sup>They gave them Kiriath Arba, also called Hebron, and all its pastures in the mountains of Judah. (Arba was the father of Anak.) <sup>12</sup>But the fields and the villages around Kiriath Arba had been given to Caleb son of Jephunneh.

<sup>17</sup>They also gave the people of Aaron these cities that belonged to the tribe of Benjamin: Gibeon, Geba, <sup>18</sup>Anathoth, and Almon. They gave them these four towns and the pastures around them.

<sup>19</sup>So these thirteen towns with their pastures were given to the priests, who were from the family of Aaron.

<sup>26</sup>So these ten towns and the pastures around them were given to the rest of the Kohathite family groups.

<sup>27</sup>The Gershonite family groups of the Levite tribe were given these towns: East Manasseh gave them Golan in Bashan, which was a city of safety, and Be Eshtarath, and the pastures around these two towns.

<sup>43</sup>So the Lord gave the people all the land he had promised their ancestors. The people took the land and lived there. <sup>44</sup>The Lord gave them peace on all sides, as he had promised their ancestors. None of their enemies defeated them; the Lord handed all their enemies over to them. <sup>45</sup>He kept every promise he had made to the Israelites; each one came true.

Life Lessons

Joshua 22:1–34

Situation

The Israelites conquered and possessed the land. Reuben, Gad, and Manasseh fulfilled their obligations to conquer the western side of Jordan. Returning to the eastern side, the three tribes built an altar patterned after the Lord's altar. They were accused of idolatry and rebellion. But Phinehas declared that the altar was a token of solidarity with the rest of Israel and a reminder to the rest of the tribes that they all worshiped one God.

Observation

When conflict occurs we must not jump to a hasty conclusion, but listen to both sides of the story in order to make a wise decision.

Inspiration

These are ten questions you'll want to ask yourself and pray about when you're faced with a decision. The first five are generic. They represent moral issues and godly wisdom that are normative for all times. The next five are questions that you need to ask when facing a change in direction. Let's take a look at what each question entails.

First, have you prayed about it? The Lord's Prayer begins with a petition for His will. Prayer was never intended to be a fourth-down punting situation in which we ask God to bail us out of our hasty decisions. It was intended to be a first-down huddle.

We aren't supposed to ask God to bless our plans; we are supposed to ask God for His plans.

... Second, is it consistent with the Word of God? In our culture ignorance is no excuse since resources abound. I believe every home should have at least a concordance, Bible dictionary, topical Bible, a good commentary and a study Bible with notes.

... Third, can I do it and be a positive Christian witness?

... Fourth, will the Lord be glorified? ... Am I seeking the glory of man or glory of God? Am I doing this to be noticed by man or am I seeking to please the Lord?

... Fifth, am I acting responsibly? God doesn't bail us out of our irresponsibility. He will let us suffer the consequences of our sins and irresponsible choices. But when we are faithful in little things, He will put us in charge of greater things.

... Sixth, is it reasonable? God expects us to think. His guidance may transcend human reasoning, but it never excludes it. God doesn't bypass our mind... . We are warned in Scripture not to put our mind in neutral. We are to think and practice what we know to be true (Philippians 4:8-9).

Seventh, does a realistic opportunity exist? Closed doors are not meant to be knocked down. If you have a hopeless scheme let it go. If it isn't God's timing, wait. If a realistic opportunity exists, and all the other factors are in agreement, then take the plunge.

... Eighth, are unbiased, spiritually sensitive associates in agreement? Be careful not to consult only those who will agree with you. Give your advisors permission to ask hard questions. Don't be afraid of no answers. If it isn't God's will, don't you want to know before you make the mistake of acting impulsively?

Ninth, do I have a sanctified desire? Don't think that being in the will of God must always be an unpleasant task. The joy of the Lord should be our strength... . Is this a desire to satisfy a lust of the flesh, or a Spirit-filled desire to see God's kingdom established and people helped?

Tenth, do I have a peace about it? This is an inner peace. In the world you will have tribulation, but in Christ we have assurance of overcoming the world. Is the peace of God guarding your heart and your mind?

If you have been able to answer yes to all ten deciding factors, what are you waiting for? (From Walking in the Light by Neil Anderson)

Rewrite the ten questions listed above. Which questions have you neglected to consider? Are you facing a key decision? Evaluate your choice in light of these questions.

Three Tribes Go Home

Then Joshua called a meeting of all the people from the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and East Manasseh. <sup>2</sup>He said to them, “You have done everything Moses, the Lord’s servant, told you to do. You have also obeyed all my commands. <sup>3</sup>For a long time you have supported the other Israelites. You have been careful to obey the commands the Lord your God gave you. <sup>4</sup>The Lord your God promised to give the Israelites peace, and he has kept his promise. Now you may go back to your homes, to the land that Moses, the Lord’s servant, gave you, on the east side of the Jordan River. <sup>5</sup>But be careful to obey the teachings and laws Moses, the Lord’s servant, gave you: to love the Lord your God and obey his commands, to continue to follow him and serve him the very best you can.”

<sup>6</sup>Then Joshua said goodbye to them, and they left and went away to their homes. <sup>7</sup>Moses had given the land of Bashan to East Manasseh. Joshua gave land on the west side of the Jordan River to West Manasseh. And he sent them to their homes and he blessed them. <sup>8</sup>He said, “Go back to your homes and your riches. You have many animals, silver, gold, bronze, and iron, and many beautiful clothes. Also, you have taken many things from your enemies that you should divide among yourselves.”

<sup>9</sup>So the people from the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and East Manasseh left the other Israelites at Shiloh in Canaan and went back to Gilead. It was their own land, given to them by Moses as the Lord had commanded.

<sup>10</sup>The people of Reuben, Gad, and East Manasseh went to Gilead, near the Jordan River in the land of Canaan. There they built a beautiful altar. <sup>11</sup>The other Israelites still at Shiloh heard about the altar these three tribes built at the border of Canaan at Gilead, near the Jordan River on Israel’s side. <sup>12</sup>All the Israelites became very angry at these three tribes, so they met together and decided to fight them.

<sup>13</sup>The Israelites sent Phinehas son of Eleazar the priest to Gilead to talk to the people of Reuben, Gad, and East Manasseh. <sup>14</sup>They also sent one leader from each of the ten tribes at Shiloh. Each of them was a leader of his family group of Israelites.

<sup>15</sup>These leaders went to Gilead to talk to the people of Reuben, Gad, and East Manasseh. They said: <sup>16</sup>“All the Israelites ask you: ‘Why did you turn against the God of Israel by building an altar for yourselves? You know that this is against God’s law. <sup>17</sup>Remember what happened at Peor? We still suffer today because of that sin, for which God made many Israelites very sick. <sup>18</sup>And now are you turning against the Lord and refusing to follow him?

“If you don’t stop what you’re doing today, the Lord will be angry with everyone in Israel tomorrow. <sup>19</sup>If your land is unclean, come over into our land where the Lord’s Tent is. Share it with us. But don’t turn against the Lord and us by building another altar for the Lord our God. <sup>20</sup>Remember how Achan son of Zerah refused to obey the command about what must be completely destroyed. That one man broke God's law, but all the Israelites were punished. Achan died because of his sin, but others also died.”

<sup>21</sup>The people from Reuben, Gad, and East Manasseh answered, <sup>22</sup>“The Lord is God of gods! The Lord is God of gods! God knows, and we want you to know also. If we have done something wrong, you may kill us. <sup>23</sup>If we broke God's law, we ask the Lord himself to punish us. We did not build this altar to offer burnt offerings or grain and fellowship offerings.

<sup>24</sup>“We did not build it for that reason. We feared that some day your people would not accept us as part of your nation. Then they might say, ‘You cannot worship the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>25</sup>The Lord made the Jordan River a border between us and you people of Reuben and Gad. You cannot worship the Lord.’ So we feared that your children might make our children stop worshipping the Lord.

<sup>26</sup>“That is why we decided to build this altar. But it is not for burnt offerings and sacrifices. <sup>27</sup>This altar is proof to you and us and to all our children who will come after us that we worship the Lord with our whole burnt offerings, grain, and fellowship offerings. This was so your children would not say to our children, ‘You are not the Lord's.’

<sup>28</sup>“In the future if your children say that, our children can say, ‘See the altar made by our ancestors. It is exactly like the Lord's altar, but we do not use it for sacrifices. It shows that we are part of Israel.’

<sup>29</sup>“Truly, we don't want to be against the Lord or to stop following him by building an altar for burnt offerings, grain offerings, or sacrifices. We know the only true altar to the Lord our God is in front of the Holy Tent.”

<sup>30</sup>When Phinehas the priest and the ten leaders heard the people of Reuben, Gad, and East Manasseh, they were pleased.

<sup>31</sup>So Phinehas, son of Eleazar the priest, said, “Now we know the Lord is with us and that you didn’t turn against him. Now the Israelites will not be punished by the Lord.”

<sup>32</sup>Then Phinehas and the leaders left the people of Reuben and Gad in Gilead and went back to Canaan where they told the Israelites what had happened.<sup>33</sup>They were pleased and thanked God. So they decided not to fight the people of Reuben and Gad and destroy those lands.

<sup>34</sup>And the people of Reuben and Gad named the altar Proof That We Believe the Lord Is God.

The Last Words of Joshua

The Lord gave Israel peace from their enemies around them. Many years passed, and Joshua grew very old. <sup>2</sup>He called a meeting of all the older leaders, heads of families, judges, and officers of Israel. He said, “I am now very old. <sup>3</sup>You have seen what the Lord has done to our enemies to help us. The Lord your God fought for you. <sup>4</sup>Remember that your people have been given their land between the Jordan River and the Mediterranean Sea in the west, the land I promised to give you. <sup>5</sup>The Lord your God will force out the people living there. The Lord will push them out ahead of you. And you will own the land, as he has promised you.

<sup>6</sup>“Be strong. You must be careful to obey everything commanded in the Book of the Teachings of Moses. Do exactly as it says. <sup>7</sup>Don’t become friends with the people living among us who are not Israelites. Don’t say the names of their gods or make anyone swear by them. Don’t serve or worship them. <sup>8</sup>You must continue to follow the Lord your God, as you have done in the past.

<sup>9</sup>“The Lord has forced many great and powerful nations to leave ahead of you. No nation has been able to defeat you. <sup>10</sup>With his help, one Israelite could defeat a thousand, because the Lord your God fights for you, as he promised to do. <sup>11</sup>So you must be careful to love the Lord your God.

<sup>12</sup>“If you turn away from the way of the Lord and become friends with these people who are not part of Israel and marry them, <sup>13</sup>the Lord your God will not help you defeat your enemies. They will be like traps for you, like whips on your back and thorns in your eyes, and none of you will be left in this good land the Lord your God has given you.

<sup>14</sup>“It’s almost time for me to die. You know and fully believe that the Lord has done great things for you. You know that he has not failed to keep any of his promises. <sup>15</sup>Every good promise that the Lord your God made has come true, and in the same way, his other promises will come true. He promised that evil will come to you and that he will destroy you from this good land that he gave you. <sup>16</sup>This will happen if you don’t keep your agreement with the Lord your God. If you go and serve other gods and worship them, the Lord will become very angry with you. Then none of you will be left in this good land he has given you.”

Situation

God gave the people of Israel rest from all their enemies. In his farewell address, Joshua reminded the people of God’s bountiful grace and mercy. He gave the Israelites commands to help them avoid falling into most likely areas of temptation.

Several men went on a mission trip to Haiti where they met a nineteen-year-old boy who loved Christ deeply. He impressed them so profoundly that they invited him to visit the United States.

Upon arrival a whole new world opened up before this young Haitian's eyes. He had never slept between sheets, never had three meals on the same day, never used indoor plumbing, and never tasted McDonald's.

While traveling the U.S., this godly young man made many new friends. At the end of a six-week-long visit, his sponsors hosted a farewell dinner in his honor. After dinner several members of the group offered warm parting remarks. Then they asked the young Haitian if he would like to say anything.

"Yes," he said as he rose, "I would. I want to thank you so much for inviting me here. I have really enjoyed this time in the United States. But I am also very glad to be going home. You have so much in America, that I'm beginning to lose my grip on my day-to-day dependency on Christ."

Do you have "so much" that you find it hard to keep a grip on your day-to-day dependency on Christ? Or worse, have you lost your grip?

When we don't need to depend on Christ, we will not... Our natural tendency is to depend on self, not Christ. Depending on Christ is an act of the will by faith, not the natural disposition of our heart.

I have prayed that God will always keep some major unmet need in my life so that I will always depend upon Him. To be really in need, like the widow in 1 Timothy 5:5, creates dependency. To have so much, as the young Haitian observed, creates self-sufficiency. When our lives prosper, the natural tendency is to lose our grip.

Someone called my prayer courageous. I disagree. It is not of courage, but of fear—the fear of a holy God. For God has the power to give us what we deserve, whether good or bad. I have come to fear, with reverence and awe, the God who is, for He is a consuming fire. (From Walking with Christ in the Details of Life by Patrick Morley)

Joshua gathered all the tribes of Israel together at Shechem. He called the older leaders, heads of families, judges, and officers of Israel to stand before God.

<sup>2</sup>Then Joshua said to all the people, “Here’s what the Lord, the God of Israel, says to you: ‘A long time ago your ancestors lived on the other side of the Euphrates River. Terah, the father of Abraham and Nahor, worshiped other gods. <sup>3</sup>But I, the Lord, took your ancestor Abraham from the other side of the river and led him through the land of Canaan. And I gave him many children, including his son Isaac. <sup>4</sup>I gave Isaac two sons named Jacob and Esau. I gave the land around the mountains of Edom to Esau, but Jacob and his sons went down to Egypt. <sup>5</sup>Then I sent Moses and Aaron to Egypt, where I brought many disasters on the Egyptians. Afterwards I brought you out. <sup>6</sup>When I brought your ancestors out of Egypt, they came to the Red Sea, and the Egyptians chased them with chariots and men on horses. <sup>7</sup>So the people called out to the Lord. And I brought darkness between you and the Egyptians and made the sea to cover them. You yourselves saw what I did to the army of Egypt. After that, you lived in the desert for a long time.

<sup>8</sup>“Then I brought you to the land of the Amorites, east of the Jordan River. They fought against you, but I handed them over to you. I destroyed them before you, and you took control of that land. <sup>9</sup>But the king of Moab, Balak son of Zippor, prepared to fight against the Israelites. The king sent for Balaam son of Beor to curse you, <sup>10</sup>but I refused to listen to Balaam. So he asked for good things to happen to you! I saved you and brought you out of his power.

<sup>11</sup>“Then you crossed the Jordan River and came to Jericho, where the people of Jericho fought against you. Also, the Amorites, Perizzites, Canaanites, Hittites, Girgashites, Hivites, and Jebusites fought against you. But I handed them over to you. <sup>12</sup>I sent terror ahead of you to force out two Amorite kings. You took the land without using swords and bows. <sup>13</sup>I gave you that land where you did not have to work. I gave you cities that you did not have to build. And now you live in that land and in those cities, and you eat from vineyards and olive trees that you did not plant.”

<sup>14</sup>Then Joshua said to the people, “Now respect the Lord and serve him fully and sincerely. Throw away the gods that your ancestors worshiped on the other side of the Euphrates River and in Egypt. Serve the Lord. <sup>15</sup>But if you don’t want to serve the Lord, you must choose for yourselves today whom you will serve. You may serve the gods that your ancestors worshiped when they lived on the other side of the Euphrates River, or you may serve the gods of the Amorites who lived in this land. As for me and my family, we will serve the Lord.”

<sup>16</sup>Then the people answered, “We will never stop following the Lord to serve other gods! <sup>17</sup>It was the Lord our God who brought our ancestors out of Egypt. We were slaves in that land, but the Lord did great things for us there. He brought us out and protected us while we traveled through other lands. <sup>18</sup>Then he forced out all the people living in these lands, even the Amorites. So we will serve the Lord, because he is our God.”

<sup>19</sup>Then Joshua said, “You are not able to serve the Lord, because he is a holy God and a jealous God. If you turn against him and sin, he will not forgive you. <sup>20</sup>If you leave the Lord and serve other gods, he will send you great trouble. The Lord may have been good to you, but if you turn against him, he will destroy you.”

<sup>21</sup>But the people said to Joshua, “No! We will serve the Lord.”

<sup>22</sup>Then Joshua said, “You are your own witnesses that you have chosen to serve the Lord.”

The people said, “Yes, we are.”

<sup>23</sup>Then Joshua said, “Now throw away the gods that you have. Love the Lord, the God of Israel, with all your heart.”

<sup>24</sup>Then the people said to Joshua, “We will serve the Lord our God, and we will obey him.”

<sup>25</sup>On that day at Shechem Joshua made an agreement for the people. He made rules and laws for them to follow. <sup>26</sup>Joshua wrote these things in the Book of the Teachings of God. Then he took a large stone and set it up under the oak tree near the Lord’s Holy Tent.

<sup>27</sup>Joshua said to all the people, “See this stone! It will remind you of what we did today. It was here the Lord spoke to us today. It will remind you of what happened so you will not turn against your God.”

Joshua Dies

Joseph Comes Home

<sup>33</sup>And Eleazar son of Aaron died and was buried at Gibeah in the mountains of Ephraim, which had been given to Eleazar's son Phinehas.

roof In Bible times houses were built with flat roofs. The roof was used for drying things such as flax and fruit. And it was used as an extra room, as a place for worship, and as a cool place to sleep in the summer.

The Book of Judges

Introduction

It was a nation born out of a passion for religious freedom. Free practice of faith had been oppressed and forbidden in the old country. The people longed to be in a place where they could worship God as they desired.

So they left. Willing to battle the fears of the unknown in exchange for freedom. Only a small portion of those who began the journey survived it.

When the travelers reached the new country they celebrated. They gave thanks to God and praised him for guiding them to their new home.

But their new home was not a peaceful place. Nearby enemies attacked and years of battles ensued. The settlers, however, were men and women of faith and courage. With time they sank their roots in the new land and began a new life.

The first generation of settlers were hearty people. Though the hardships were great, their faith was greater. God answered their prayers and established them in the new land.

With time the new land was divided into states, and leaders were assigned to each region. The population grew, and the boundary of the country expanded.

But with the growth of the land and the passage of the decades, two troubling trends began.

The first was the disappearance of values. Early settlers had a common conviction as to what was right and wrong. The family was the core of society. Religion was the source of faith. Education was the highest task.

But by the end of the first hundred years in the new land, these virtues had begun to wane ... the family was under attack; sophisticated thinkers mocked religion.

The second alarming trend was the inconsistency of moral leadership. Early leaders—capable military and skillful politicians—were also men of God. Men prone to spend time in prayer and meditation. Men who listened to God and earnestly tried to follow his will.

Such leadership became rare, however. The nation we look at now lacks moral leadership. Leaders squabble and steal. Others are lazy and spoiled. There are even cases of national leaders accused of making sexual advances to women.

Though the nation has a glorious past, it is hidden in a cloudy present.

Sound familiar? Sound like any nation you know? Sound like us? It sounds like ours, could be ours, might be ours, but I didn't get the profile out of the newspaper. I read it in the Bible. In the Book of Judges.

Judges chronicles the dark ages of Israel, the death of Israel. The death of the heart. A three hundred-year era in which “everyone did what seemed right” (Judges 21:25).

Not a pretty story. Not intended to be. It's intended to be a warning. A warning of what happens when God is ignored and passions are worshiped.

A warning for our times.

About This Book

Author:

Probably Samuel, but possibly another prophet

Date Written:

1050–1043 B.C.

Key Themes:

- Israel continued to fall in and out of disobedience to God.
- God continued to call Israel back and save them from destruction.
- Without a moral leader and center, Israel went the way of nations who didn't know God.

Key Verse:

“In those days Israel did not have a king. Everyone did what seemed right” (Judges 21:25).

Contents:

1. Othniel, Ehud, and Shamgar 1:1–3:31
2. Deborah 4:1–5:31
3. Gideon 6:1–8:35

6. Civil Strife and Spiritual Disobedience 17:1–21:25

Life Lessons

Judges 1:1–2:5

Situation

God commanded Israel to destroy every enemy in the Promised Land. Yet, Israel decided to leave some “harmless” enemies alone. Not only was Israel disobedient, but the “harmless” residents of the land of Israel rose up to become dangerous enemies.

Observation

God foresees potential danger in our lives. He gives commands that, if followed, can protect us from dangerous consequences. If we neglect certain commands, we may reap painful consequences later.

Inspiration

The tables turned! Instead of the Hebrews’ keeping the upper hand, they loosened their grip on absolute obedience, they talked themselves out of Joshua’s game plan, they opted for compromise with wrong ... and they became victims instead of victors.

Compromises like that never work. We always get burned. Even though we rationalize around our weak decisions and tell ourselves that wicked associations really won’t harm us (“They’ll get better, our good will rub off on their bad!”), we get soiled in the process.

If you put on a pair of clean white gloves on a rainy day and then go out into the backyard to the flower bed and pick up a glob of mud, trust me, the mud will never get “glovey.” The gloves will definitely get muddy. Every time. In all my forty nine years on earth, I have never seen glovey mud. Not once. In simple terms that is what 1 Corinthians 15:33 is saying: “Do not be deceived: bad company corrupts good morals.”

... Just as the human body cannot grow and survive unless disease is removed ... and just as the national body of Israel could not remain strong and healthy unless Canaanite lifestyle was removed, so it is in the body of Christ. If our resistance breaks down, alien germs will cause us to lose our health and hinder our ability to function. (From Dropping Your Guard by Charles Swindoll)

Application

What sin did you purposely commit yesterday or today? Learn from Israel: Compromise can be deadly! Decide today to be totally faithful and obedient to God.

Judah Fights the Canaanites

After Joshua died, the Israelites asked the Lord, “Who will be first to go and fight for us against the Canaanites?”

<sup>2</sup>The Lord said to them, “The tribe of Judah will go. I have handed the land over to them.”

<sup>3</sup>The men of Judah said to the men of Simeon, their relatives, “Come and help us fight the Canaanites for our land. If you do, we will go and help you fight for your land.” So the men of Simeon went with them.

<sup>4</sup>When Judah attacked, the Lord handed over the Canaanites and the Perizzites to them, and they defeated ten thousand men at the city of Bezek. <sup>5</sup>There they found Adoni-Bezek, the ruler of the city, and fought him. The men of Judah defeated the Canaanites and the Perizzites, <sup>6</sup>but Adoni-Bezek ran away. The men of Judah chased him, and when they caught him, they cut off his thumbs and big toes.

<sup>7</sup>Adoni-Bezek said, “Seventy kings whose thumbs and big toes had been cut off used to eat scraps that fell from my table. Now God has paid me back for what I did to them.” The men of Judah took Adoni-Bezek to Jerusalem, and he died there.

<sup>8</sup>Then the men of Judah fought against Jerusalem and captured it. They attacked with their swords and burned the city.

<sup>9</sup>Later, they went down to fight the Canaanites who lived in the mountains, in the dry country to the south, and in the western hills.<sup>10</sup>The men of Judah went to fight against the Canaanites in the city of Hebron (which used to be called Kiriath Arba). And they defeated Sheshai, Ahiman, and Talmi.

Caleb and His Daughter

<sup>11</sup>Then they left there and went to fight against the people living in Debir. (In the past Debir had been called Kiriath Sepher.) <sup>12</sup>Before attacking the city, Caleb said, "I will give Acsah, my daughter, as a wife to the man who attacks and captures the city of Kiriath Sepher." <sup>13</sup>Othniel son of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother, captured the city, so Caleb gave his daughter Acsah to Othniel to be his wife. <sup>14</sup>When Acsah came to Othniel, she told him to ask her father for a field. When she got down from her donkey, Caleb asked her, "What do you want?"

<sup>15</sup>Acsah answered him, "Do me a special favor. Since you have given me land in southern Canaan, also give me springs of water." So Caleb gave her the upper and lower springs.

Fights with the Canaanites

<sup>16</sup>The Kenite people, who were from the family of Moses' father-in-law, left Jericho, the city of palm trees. They went with the men of Judah to the Desert of Judah to live with them there in southern Judah near the city of Arad.

<sup>17</sup>The men of Judah and the men of Simeon, their relatives, defeated the Canaanites who lived in Zephath. They completely destroyed the city, so they called it Hormah. <sup>18</sup>The men of Judah captured Gaza, Ashkelon, Ekron, and the lands around them.

<sup>19</sup>The Lord was with the men of Judah. They took the land in the mountains, but they could not force out the people living on the plain, because they had iron chariots. <sup>20</sup>As Moses had promised, Hebron was given to Caleb, and Caleb forced out the three sons of Anak. <sup>21</sup>But the people of Benjamin could not make the Jebusite people leave Jerusalem. Since that time the Jebusites have lived with the Benjaminites in Jerusalem.

<sup>22</sup>The men of Joseph went to fight against the city of Bethel, and the Lord was with them. <sup>23</sup>They sent some spies to Bethel (which used to be called Luz). <sup>24</sup>The spies saw a man coming out of the city and said to him, "Show us a way into the city, and we will be kind to you." <sup>25</sup>So the man showed them the way into the city. The men of Joseph attacked with swords the people in Bethel, but they let the man and his family go free. <sup>26</sup>He went to the land where the Hittites lived and built a city. He named it Luz, which it is called even today.

<sup>27</sup>There were Canaanites living in the cities of Beth Shan, Taanach, Dor, Ibleam, Megiddo, and the small towns around them. The people of Manasseh did not force those people out of their towns, because the Canaanites were determined to stay there. <sup>28</sup>Later, the Israelites grew strong and forced the Canaanites to work as slaves, but they did not make all the Canaanites leave their land. <sup>29</sup>The people of Ephraim did not force out all of the Canaanites living in Gezer. So the Canaanites continued to live in Gezer with the people of Ephraim. <sup>30</sup>The people of Zebulun did not force out the Canaanites living in the cities of Kitron and Nahalol. They stayed and lived with the people of Zebulun, but Zebulun made them work as slaves.

The Angel of the Lord at Bokim

The angel of the Lord went up from Gilgal to Bokim and said, “I brought you up from Egypt and led you to the land I promised to give your ancestors. I said, ‘I will never break my agreement with you.’<sup>2</sup>But you must not make an agreement with the people who live in this land. You must destroy their altars.’ But you did not obey me. How could you do this?<sup>3</sup>Now I tell you, ‘I will not force out the people in this land. They will be your enemies, and their gods will be a trap for you.’”

<sup>4</sup>After the angel gave Israel this message from the Lord, they cried loudly. <sup>5</sup>So they named the place Bokim. There they offered sacrifices to the Lord.

Life Lessons

Judges 2:6–3:6

Situation

A new generation of Israelites neglected their relationship with God. They did not see God’s hand at work like their parents had. When they turned away from God, God disciplined them.

Observation

Failing to teach our children to love and obey God will bring disaster on them.

Inspiration

Have you ever thought about what you are going to leave behind when you die? Most people think in terms of possessions—property, money, stocks and bonds, and so forth. But let's think in terms of what kind of spiritual heritage, what kind of lifestyle, what kind of understanding of who God is and of what the Scriptures say will be your legacy?

You may say, "Wait a minute. You can't give someone else your faith. That is something everyone has to experience on a personal basis. You can't really give your faith away." You cannot give away your experience, I admit, but you can hand down your faith. You can leave your sense of moral values, your understanding of the principles of Scripture, those principles of the Word of God that have guided you and led you as you made your decisions in life. . . .

If you are a godly parent, look at what you have to give to your children. You may not be able to leave them even a small amount of money but if you have loved God and practiced the principles of Scripture, if you have loved your children and listened to them, you will leave them a faith to sustain them through every difficulty, every heartache, and every trial of life.

My challenge to you is to build a strong Christian home. If you will purpose to do so, you will keep your kids on your team. (From How to Keep Your Kids on Your Team by Charles Stanley)

Application

Pray daily with your children and discipline them. Speak to them from your heart about the Lord.

Exploration

Handing Down Your Faith—Deuteronomy 6:4–7; 11:18–21; 32:46; Proverbs 20:7; 22:6; Isaiah 38:19;

Ephesians 6:4; 2 Timothy 1:1-9; 3:14-15.

Joshua Dies

<sup>6</sup>Then Joshua sent the people back to their land. <sup>7</sup>The people served the Lord during the lifetime of Joshua and during the lifetimes of the older leaders who lived after Joshua and who had seen what great things the Lord had done for Israel. <sup>8</sup>Joshua son of Nun, the servant of the Lord, died at the age of one hundred ten. <sup>9</sup>They buried him in his own land at Timnath Serah in the mountains of Ephraim, north of Mount Gaash.

The People Disobey

<sup>10</sup>After those people had died, their children grew up and did not know the Lord or what he had done for Israel. <sup>11</sup>So they did what the Lord said was wrong, and they worshiped the Baal idols. <sup>12</sup>They quit following the Lord, the God of their ancestors who had brought them out of Egypt. They began to worship the gods of the people who lived around them, and that made the Lord angry. <sup>13</sup>The Israelites quit following the Lord and worshiped Baal and Ashtoreth. <sup>14</sup>The Lord was angry with the people of Israel, so he handed them over to robbers who took their possessions. He let their enemies who lived around them defeat them; they could not protect themselves. <sup>15</sup>When the Israelites went out to fight, they always lost, because the Lord was not with them. The Lord had sworn to them this would happen. So the Israelites suffered very much.

God Chooses Judges

<sup>16</sup>Then the Lord chose leaders called judges, who saved the Israelites from the robbers. <sup>17</sup>But the Israelites did not listen to their judges. They were not faithful to God but worshiped other gods instead. Their ancestors had obeyed the Lord's commands, but they quickly turned away and did not obey.

<sup>18</sup>When their enemies hurt them, the Israelites cried for help. So the Lord felt sorry for them and sent judges to save them from their enemies. The Lord was with those judges all their lives.

<sup>19</sup>But when the judges died, the Israelites again sinned and worshiped other gods. They became worse than their ancestors. The Israelites were very stubborn and refused to change their evil ways.

<sup>20</sup>So the Lord became angry with the Israelites. He said, "These people have broken the agreement I made with their ancestors. They have not listened to me. <sup>21</sup>I will no longer defeat the nations who were left when Joshua died. <sup>22</sup>I will use them to test Israel, to see if Israel will keep the Lord's commands as their ancestors did." <sup>23</sup>In the past the Lord had permitted those nations to stay in the land. He did not quickly force them out or help Joshua's army defeat them.

These are the nations the Lord did not force to leave. He wanted to test the Israelites who had not fought in the wars of Canaan.<sup>2</sup>(The only reason the Lord left those nations in the land was to teach the descendants of the Israelites who had not fought in those wars how to fight.)<sup>3</sup>These are the nations: the five rulers of the Philistines, all the Canaanites, the people of Sidon, and the Hivites who lived in the Lebanon mountains from Mount Baal Hermon to Lebo Hamath.<sup>4</sup>Those nations were in the land to test the Israelites—to see if they would obey the commands the Lord had given to their ancestors by Moses.

<sup>5</sup>The people of Israel lived with the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites.<sup>6</sup>The Israelites began to marry the daughters of those people, and they allowed their daughters to marry the sons of those people. Israel also served their gods.

Othniel, the First Judge

<sup>7</sup>The Israelites did what the Lord said was wrong. They forgot about the Lord their God and served the idols of Baal and Asherah.<sup>8</sup>So the Lord was angry with Israel and allowed Cushan-Rishathaim king of Northwest Mesopotamia to rule over the Israelites for eight years.<sup>9</sup>When Israel cried to the Lord, the Lord sent someone to save them. Othniel son of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother, saved the Israelites.<sup>10</sup>The Spirit of the Lord entered Othniel, and he became Israel's judge. When he went to war, the Lord handed over to him Cushan-Rishathaim king of Northwest Mesopotamia.<sup>11</sup>So the land was at peace for forty years. Then Othniel son of Kenaz died.

Ehud, the Judge

<sup>12</sup>Again the people of Israel did what the Lord said was wrong. So the Lord gave Eglon king of Moab power to defeat Israel because of the evil Israel did. <sup>13</sup>Eglon got the Ammonites and the Amalekites to join him. Then he attacked Israel and took Jericho, the city of palm trees. <sup>14</sup>So the people of Israel were ruled by Eglon king of Moab for eighteen years.

<sup>15</sup>When the people cried to the Lord, he sent someone to save them. He was Ehud, son of Gera from the people of Benjamin, who was left-handed. Israel sent Ehud to give Eglon king of Moab the payment he demanded. <sup>16</sup>Ehud made himself a sword with two edges, about eighteen inches long, and he tied it to his right hip under his clothes. <sup>17</sup>Ehud gave Eglon king of Moab the payment he demanded. Now Eglon was a very fat man. <sup>18</sup>After he had given Eglon the payment, Ehud sent away the people who had carried it. <sup>19</sup>When he passed the statues near Gilgal, he turned around and said to Eglon, "I have a secret message for you, King Eglon."

The king said, "Be quiet!" Then he sent all of his servants out of the room. <sup>20</sup>Ehud went to King Eglon, as he was sitting alone in the room above his summer palace.

Ehud said, "I have a message from God for you." As the king stood up from his chair, <sup>21</sup>Ehud reached with his left hand and took out the sword that was tied to his right hip. Then he stabbed the sword deep into the king's belly! <sup>22</sup>Even the handle sank in, and the blade came out his back. The king's fat covered the whole sword, so Ehud left the sword in Eglon.

<sup>23</sup>Then he went out of the room and closed and locked the doors behind him.

<sup>24</sup>When the servants returned just after Ehud left, they found the doors to the room locked. So they thought the king was relieving himself. <sup>25</sup>They waited for a long time. Finally they became worried because he still had not opened the doors. So they got the key and unlocked them and saw their king lying dead on the floor!

<sup>26</sup>While the servants were waiting, Ehud had escaped. He passed by the statues and went to Seirah. <sup>27</sup>When he reached the mountains of Ephraim he blew the trumpet. The people of Israel heard it and went down from the hills with Ehud leading them.

<sup>28</sup>He said to them, “Follow me! The Lord has helped you to defeat your enemies, the Moabites.” So Israel followed Ehud and captured the crossings of the Jordan River. They did not allow the Moabites to cross the Jordan River. <sup>29</sup>Israel killed about ten thousand strong and able men from Moab; not one escaped. <sup>30</sup>So that day Moab was forced to be under the rule of Israel, and there was peace in the land for eighty years.

Shamgar, the Judge

<sup>31</sup>After Ehud, Shamgar son of Anath saved Israel. Shamgar killed six hundred Philistines with a sharp stick used to guide oxen.

Life Lessons

Judges 3:7–31

Situation

The Israelites rebelled against God. He used their enemies to exercise his discipline.

Observation

Despite their disobedience, God provided deliverers for the people of Israel in Othniel and later, Ehud. God is willing to provide safety and forgiveness for his people as long as they turn to him.

Inspiration

Our family used to go to Cape Cod every summer. Many times when the tide was low we looked eyeball to eyeball at some little sea creature in his shell. He wasn't a bit afraid of us; we were the ones who were afraid! There we were with all our sixty-nine hundred square inches apiece of exposed skin—and all his possible bites and pinches. But he was safe. He knew, as long as he stayed retracted in that nice, strong shell, that we couldn't get to him.

And as far as all eternity is concerned, you're safe in Christ.

As far as all the hassles in your life are concerned, you're safe in Him.

As far as all your unknowns are concerned, you're safe.

As far as all the world, the flesh and the devil are concerned—you're safe.

But what if that little fellow, instead of staying safe in his shell, comes right out and he's sunning himself on our hand, totally unconcerned? Now he's vulnerable to anything, everything.

If you refuse to learn what it means to abide in Christ; if you insist on living out there where you worry and you strive and you're insecure and even disobedient; if you deliberately choose to live as if you were not in Christ at all—you're totally vulnerable, and you're in deep trouble with yourself and with God.

He commands you to learn to abide in Him and stay there. He requires that you settle down and shelter yourself in Him and trust Him absolutely. He insists on your living your life in Him; with its resulting rest and joy. If you don't, He loves you too much to neglect you. He'll childtrain you and chastise you until you consciously come into Him.

You need the “holy habit” of saying to the Father under any circumstances, “You are my hiding place”—saying it continually, and saying it in peace and stability and joy.

(From My Sacrifice, His Fire by Anne Ortlund)

Deborah, the Woman Judge

After Ehud died, the Israelites again did what the Lord said was wrong. <sup>2</sup>So he let Jabin, a king of Canaan who ruled in the city of Hazor, defeat Israel. Sisera, who lived in Harosheth Haggoyim, was the commander of Jabin's army. <sup>3</sup>Because he had nine hundred iron chariots and was very cruel to the people of Israel for twenty years, they cried to the Lord for help.

<sup>4</sup>A prophetess named Deborah, the wife of Lappidoth, was judge of Israel at that time. <sup>5</sup>Deborah would sit under the Palm Tree of Deborah, which was between the cities of Ramah and Bethel, in the mountains of Ephraim. And the people of Israel would come to her to settle their arguments.

<sup>6</sup>Deborah sent a message to Barak son of Abinoam. Barak lived in the city of Kedesh, which is in the area of Naphtali. Deborah said to Barak, "The Lord, the God of Israel, commands you: 'Go and gather ten thousand men of Naphtali and Zebulun and lead them to Mount Tabor. <sup>7</sup>I will make Sisera, the commander of Jabin's army, and his chariots, and his army meet you at the Kishon River. I will hand Sisera over to you.'"

<sup>8</sup>Then Barak said to Deborah, "I will go if you will go with me, but if you won't go with me, I won't go."

<sup>9</sup>"Of course I will go with you," Deborah answered, "but you will not get credit for the victory. The Lord will let a woman defeat Sisera." So Deborah went with Barak to Kedesh. <sup>10</sup>At Kedesh, Barak called the people of Zebulun and Naphtali together. From them, he gathered ten thousand men to follow him, and Deborah went with him also.

<sup>12</sup>When Sisera was told that Barak son of Abinoam had gone to Mount Tabor, <sup>13</sup>Sisera gathered his nine hundred iron chariots and all the men with him, from Harosheth Haggoyim to the Kishon River.

<sup>14</sup>Then Deborah said to Barak, "Get up! Today is the day the Lord will hand over Sisera. The Lord has already cleared the way for you." So Barak led ten thousand men down Mount Tabor. <sup>15</sup>As Barak approached, the Lord confused Sisera and his army and chariots. The Lord defeated them with the sword, but Sisera left his chariot and ran away on foot. <sup>16</sup>Barak and his men chased Sisera's chariots and army to Harosheth Haggoyim. With their swords they killed all of Sisera's men; not one of them was left alive.

<sup>17</sup>But Sisera himself ran away to the tent where Jael lived. She was the wife of Heber, one of the Kenite family groups. Heber's family was at peace with Jabin king of Hazor. <sup>18</sup>Jael went out to meet Sisera and said to him, "Come into my tent, master! Come in. Don't be afraid." So Sisera went into Jael's tent, and she covered him with a rug.

<sup>19</sup>Sisera said to Jael, "I am thirsty. Please give me some water to drink." So she opened a leather bag of milk and gave him a drink. Then she covered him up.

<sup>20</sup>He said to her, "Go stand at the entrance to the tent. If anyone comes and asks you, 'Is anyone here?' say, 'No.'"

<sup>21</sup>But Jael, the wife of Heber, took a tent peg and a hammer and quietly went to Sisera. Since he was very tired, he was in a deep sleep. She hammered the tent peg through the side of Sisera's head and into the ground. And so Sisera died.

<sup>22</sup>At that very moment Barak came by Jael's tent, chasing Sisera. Jael went out to meet him and said, "Come. I will show you the man you are looking for." So Barak entered her tent, and there Sisera lay dead, with the tent peg in his head.

<sup>23</sup>On that day God defeated Jabin king of Canaan in the sight of Israel.

<sup>24</sup>Israel became stronger and stronger against Jabin king of Canaan until finally they destroyed him.

Life Lessons

Judges 4:1–5:31

Situation

Now the Israelites' enemy (the Canaanites) came from within their own territory. Deborah rose to national leadership.

Observation

God chooses the person with the strongest character to lead his people to victory at crucial times. The key elements for such leadership are faith, trust, and worship.

Inspiration

In the Old Testament almost every man and woman did the faith-oriented things for which we credit them not in religious environments but in real-world environments. Moses did most of his work in the Pharaoh's conference rooms and in the deserts. Esther did hers in a king's palace. Nehemiah did his on a construction project. These men and women were administrators, scholars, builders, warriors, and merchants. For the most part, they were not clergy. They were the people of the streets, and their faith was defined in terms of a God who wanted to be active in the streets.

Their faith language, recorded in the Bible, was the language of the streets; but we have taken it away from there and made it a religious language. Their jobs were the work of the streets; but we, in our lack of imagination, have taken these men and women off the streets (figuratively speaking) and made them seem like theologians and full-time religious workers. The problems to which they addressed themselves were usually the problems of the streets; but we have taken the problems and spiritualized them.

In short, we have tended to tame these men and women of the Bible, making them smaller than life. It is not that we have not admired them and revered them as heroes. And it is not that we have not wanted to be like them. But it has not occurred to us often enough to wonder if they could have been construction workers on a highway project, manufacturers, franchisees, secretaries, and managers in our day. The result? I'll say it one more time: we do not fully appreciate that their faith was a faith for the real world and not for the restricted environment of professional religion. ## The Song of Deborah

On that day Deborah and Barak son of Abinoam sang this song:

<sup>2</sup>“The leaders led Israel.
The people volunteered to go to battle.
Praise the Lord!
<sup>3</sup>Listen, kings.
Pay attention, rulers!
I myself will sing to the Lord.
I will make music to the Lord, the God of Israel.

<sup>4</sup>“Lord, when you came from Edom, when you marched from the land of Edom,
the earth shook,
the skies rained,
and the clouds dropped water.

<sup>5</sup>The mountains shook before the Lord, the God of
before the Lord, the God of Israel!

<sup>6</sup>“In the days of Shamgar son of Anath, in the days of Jael, the main roads were empty.
Travelers went on the back roads.

<sup>7</sup>There were no warriors in Israel until I, Deborah, arose, until I arose to be a mother to Israel.

<sup>8</sup>At that time they chose to follow new gods.
Because of this, enemies fought us at our city gates.
No one could find a shield or a spear among the forty thousand people of Israel.

<sup>9</sup>My heart is with the commanders of Israel.
They volunteered freely from among the people.
Praise the Lord!

<sup>10</sup>“You who ride on white donkeys and sit on saddle blankets, and you who walk along the road, listen!

<sup>11</sup>Listen to the sound of the singers at the watering holes.
There they tell about the victories of the Lord,
the victories of the Lord’s warriors in Israel.
Then the Lord’s people went down to the city gates.

<sup>12</sup>“Wake up, wake up, Deborah!
Wake up, wake up, sing a song!
Get up, Barak!
Go capture your enemies, son of Abinoam!

<sup>13</sup>“Then those who were left came down to the important leaders.

The Lord’s people came down to me with strong men.

<sup>14</sup>They came from Ephraim in the mountains of Amalek.
Benjamin was among the people who followed you.
From the family group of Makir, the commanders came down.

And from Zebulun came those who lead.

<sup>15</sup>The princes of Issachar were with Deborah.
The people of Issachar were loyal to Barak and followed him into the valley.

The Reubenites thought hard
about what they would do.

<sup>16</sup>Why did you stay by the sheepfold?
Was it to hear the music played for your sheep?
The Reubenites thought hard
about what they would do.

<sup>17</sup>The people of Gilead stayed east of the Jordan River.
People of Dan, why did you stay by the ships?
The people of Asher stayed at the seashore, at their safe harbors.

<sup>18</sup>But the people of Zebulun risked their lives, as did the people of Naphtali on the battlefield.

<sup>19</sup>“The kings came, and they fought.
At that time the kings of Canaan fought at Taanach, by the waters of Megiddo.
But they took away no silver or possessions of Israel.

<sup>20</sup>The stars fought from heaven;

<sup>21</sup>The Kishon River swept Sisera’s men away, that old river, the Kishon River.
March on, my soul, with strength!

<sup>22</sup>Then the horses’ hoofs beat the ground.
Galloping, galloping go Sisera’s mighty horses.

<sup>23</sup>“May the town of Meroz be cursed,” said the angel of the Lord.

‘Bitterly curse its people, because they did not come to help the Lord.

They did not fight the strong enemy.’

<sup>24</sup>“May Jael, the wife of Heber the Kenite, be blessed above all women who live in tents.

<sup>25</sup>Sisera asked for water, but Jael gave him milk.
In a bowl fit for a ruler,
she brought him cream.

<sup>26</sup>Jael reached out and took the tent peg.
Her right hand reached for the workman’s hammer.
She hit Sisera! She smashed his head!
She crushed and pierced the side of his head!

<sup>27</sup>At Jael’s feet he sank.
He fell, and he lay there.
At her feet he sank. He fell.
Where Sisera sank, there he fell, dead!

<sup>28</sup>“Sisera’s mother looked out through the window.
She looked through the curtains and cried out,
‘Why is Sisera’s chariot so late in coming?
Why are sounds of his chariots’ horses delayed?’

<sup>29</sup>The wisest of her servant ladies answer her, and Sisera’s mother says to herself,

<sup>30</sup>“Surely they are robbing the people they defeated!
Surely they are dividing those things among themselves!

Each soldier is given a girl or two.
Maybe Sisera is taking pieces of dyed cloth.
Maybe they are even taking pieces of dyed, embroidered cloth for the necks of the victors!'

<sup>31</sup>“Let all your enemies die this way, Lord!
But let all the people who love you be as strong as the rising sun!”

Then there was peace in the land for forty years.

Life Lessons

Judges 6:1–7:25

Situation

The Midianites were desert marauders related to the Israelites through Abraham's second wife, Keturah, and her son, Midian. For centuries they were at odds with Israel, especially during the period of the Judges.

Observation

At one point, when the Midianites and their allies were about to invade Israel again, God raised up the judge, Gideon. As a test, God asked Gideon to destroy his father's altar to Baal and offer one of his father's bulls as a burnt offering to the Lord. This step of obedience was the first step toward the defeat of the Midianites.

Inspiration

No one is happier than the one who has sincerely repented of wrong. Repentance is the decision to turn from selfish desires and seek God. It is a genuine, sincere regret that creates sorrow and moves us to admit wrong and desire to do better.

Genuine repentance is a moving condition of the heart that is testified and demonstrated by our deeds. It's an inward conviction that expresses itself in outward actions.

You look at the love of God and you can't believe he's loved you like he has, and it motivates you to change your life. That is the nature of repentance.

(From The Inspirational Bible, “Repentance”)

Application

What change is the love of God motivating you make? The Lord wants you to be obedient to him and to make your life a sacrifice to him.

The Midianites Attack Israel

Again the Israelites did what the Lord said was wrong. So for seven years the Lord handed them over to Midian. <sup>2</sup>Because the Midianites were very powerful and were cruel to Israel, the Israelites made hiding places in the mountains, in caves, and in safe places. <sup>3</sup>Whenever the Israelites planted crops, the Midianites, Amalekites, and other peoples from the east would come and attack them. <sup>4</sup>They camped in the land and destroyed the crops that the Israelites had planted as far away as Gaza. They left nothing for Israel to eat, and no sheep, cattle, or donkeys. <sup>5</sup>The Midianites came with their tents and their animals like swarms of locusts to ruin the land. There were so many people and camels they could not be counted. <sup>6</sup>Israel became very poor because of the Midianites, so they cried out to the Lord.

<sup>7</sup>When the Israelites cried out to the Lord against the Midianites, <sup>8</sup>the Lord sent a prophet to them. He said, “This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: I brought you out of Egypt, the land of slavery. <sup>9</sup>I saved you from the Egyptians and from all those who were against you. I forced the Canaanites out of their land and gave it to you. <sup>10</sup>Then I said to you, ‘I am the Lord your God. Live in the land of the Amorites, but do not worship their gods.’ But you did not obey me.”

The Angel of the Lord Visits Gideon

<sup>11</sup>The angel of the Lord came and sat down under the oak tree at Ophrah that belonged to Joash, one of the Abiezrite people. Gideon, Joash's son, was separating some wheat from the chaff in a winepress to keep the wheat from the Midianites. <sup>12</sup>The angel of the Lord appeared to Gideon and said, "The Lord is with you, mighty warrior!"

<sup>13</sup>Then Gideon said, "Sir, if the Lord is with us, why are we having so much trouble? Where are the miracles our ancestors told us he did when the Lord brought them out of Egypt? But now he has left us and has handed us over to the Midianites."

<sup>14</sup>The Lord turned to Gideon and said, "Go with your strength and save Israel from the Midianites. I am the one who is sending you."

<sup>15</sup>But Gideon answered, "Lord, how can I save Israel? My family group is the weakest in Manasseh, and I am the least important member of my family."

<sup>16</sup>The Lord answered him, "I will be with you. It will seem as if the Midianites you are fighting are only one man."

<sup>17</sup>Then Gideon said to the Lord, "If you are pleased with me, give me proof that it is really you talking with me. <sup>18</sup>Please wait here until I come back to you. Let me bring my offering and set it in front of you."

And the Lord said, "I will wait until you return."

<sup>19</sup>So Gideon went in and cooked a young goat, and with twenty quarts of flour, made bread without yeast. Then he put the meat into a basket and the broth into a pot. He brought them out and gave them to the angel under the oak tree.

<sup>20</sup>The angel of God said to Gideon, "Put the meat and the bread without yeast on that rock over there. Then pour the broth on them.” And Gideon did as he was told. <sup>21</sup>The angel of the Lord touched the meat and the bread with the end of the stick that was in his hand. Then fire jumped up from the rock and completely burned up the meat and the bread! And the angel of the Lord disappeared! <sup>22</sup>Then Gideon understood he had been talking to the angel of the Lord. So Gideon cried out, “Lord God! I have seen the angel of the Lord face to face!”

<sup>23</sup>But the Lord said to Gideon, “Calm down! Don’t be afraid! You will not die!”

<sup>24</sup>So Gideon built an altar there to worship the Lord and named it The Lord Is Peace. It still stands at Ophrah, where the Abiezrites live.

Gideon Tears Down the Altar of Baal

<sup>25</sup>That same night the Lord said to Gideon, “Take the bull that belongs to your father and a second bull seven years old. Pull down your father’s altar to Baal, and cut down the Asherah idol beside it. <sup>26</sup>Then build an altar to the Lord your God with its stones in the right order on this high ground. Kill and burn a second bull on this altar, using the wood from the Asherah idol.”

<sup>27</sup>So Gideon got ten of his servants and did what the Lord had told him to do. But Gideon was afraid that his family and the men of the city might see him, so he did it at night, not in the daytime.

<sup>28</sup>When the men of the city got up the next morning, they saw that the altar for Baal had been destroyed and that the Asherah idol beside it had been cut down! They also saw the altar Gideon had built and the second bull that had been sacrificed on it.<sup>29</sup>The men of the city asked each other, “Who did this?”

After they asked many questions, someone told them, “Gideon son of Joash did this.”

<sup>30</sup>So they said to Joash, “Bring your son out. He has pulled down the altar of Baal and cut down the Asherah idol beside it. He must die!”

<sup>31</sup>But Joash said to the angry crowd around him, “Are you going to take Baal’s side? Are you going to defend him? Anyone who takes Baal’s side will be killed by morning! If Baal is a god, let him fight for himself. It’s his altar that has been pulled down.”<sup>32</sup>So on that day Gideon got the name Jerub-Baal, which means “let Baal fight against him,” because Gideon pulled down Baal’s altar.

Gideon Defeats Midian

<sup>33</sup>All the Midianites, the Amalekites, and other peoples from the east joined together and came across the Jordan River and camped in the Valley of Jezreel.<sup>34</sup>But the Spirit of the Lord entered Gideon, and he blew a trumpet to call the Abiezrites to follow him.<sup>35</sup>He sent messengers to all of Manasseh, calling them to follow him. He also sent messengers to the people of Asher, Zebulun, and Naphtali. So they also went up to meet Gideon and his men.

<sup>36</sup>Then Gideon said to God, “You said you would help me save Israel.<sup>37</sup>I will put some wool on the threshing floor. If there is dew only on the wool but all of the ground is dry, then I will know that you will use me to save Israel, as you said.”

<sup>38</sup>And that is just what happened. When Gideon got up early the next morning and squeezed the wool, he got a full bowl of water from it.

<sup>39</sup>Then Gideon said to God, “Don’t be angry with me if I ask just one more thing. Please let me make one more test. Let only the wool be dry while the ground around it gets wet with dew.”

<sup>40</sup>That night God did that very thing. Just the wool was dry, but the ground around it was wet with dew.

Early in the morning Jerub-Baal (also called Gideon) and all his men set up their camp at the spring of Harod. The Midianites were camped north of them in the valley at the bottom of the hill called Moreh.<sup>2</sup> Then the Lord said to Gideon, “You have too many men to defeat the Midianites. I don’t want the Israelites to brag that they saved themselves.<sup>3</sup> So now, announce to the people, ‘Anyone who is afraid may leave Mount Gilead and go back home.’” So twenty-two thousand men returned home, but ten thousand remained.

<sup>4</sup>Then the Lord said to Gideon, “There are still too many men. Take the men down to the water, and I will test them for you there. If I say, ‘This man will go with you, he will go. But if I say, ‘That one will not go with you,’ he will not go.”

<sup>5</sup>So Gideon led the men down to the water. There the Lord said to him, “Separate them into those who drink water by lapping it up like a dog and those who bend down to drink.”<sup>6</sup> There were three hundred men who used their hands to bring water to their mouths, lapping it as a dog does. All the rest got down on their knees to drink.

<sup>7</sup>Then the Lord said to Gideon, “Using the three hundred men who lapped the water, I will save you and hand Midian over to you. Let all the others go home.”<sup>8</sup> So Gideon sent the rest of Israel to their homes. But he kept three hundred men and took the jars and the trumpets of those who left.

Now the camp of Midian was in the valley below Gideon.<sup>9</sup> That night the Lord said to Gideon, “Get up. Go down and attack the camp of the Midianites, because I will give them to you.<sup>10</sup> But if you are afraid to go down, take your servant Purah with you.<sup>11</sup> When you come to the camp of Midian, you will hear what they are saying. Then you will not be afraid to attack the camp.”

Gideon Is Encouraged

So Gideon and his servant Purah went down to the edge of the enemy camp.<sup>12</sup>The Midianites, the Amalekites, and all the peoples from the east were camped in that valley. There were so many of them they seemed like locusts. Their camels could not be counted because they were as many as the grains of sand on the seashore!

<sup>13</sup>When Gideon came to the enemy camp, he heard a man telling his friend about a dream. He was saying, “I dreamed that a loaf of barley bread rolled into the camp of Midian. It hit the tent so hard that the tent turned over and fell flat!”

<sup>14</sup>The man’s friend said, “Your dream is about the sword of Gideon son of Joash, a man of Israel. God will hand Midian and the whole army over to him!”

<sup>15</sup>When Gideon heard about the dream and what it meant, he worshiped God. Then Gideon went back to the camp of Israel and called out to them, “Get up! The Lord has handed the army of Midian over to you!”<sup>16</sup>Gideon divided the three hundred men into three groups. He gave each man a trumpet and an empty jar with a burning torch inside.

<sup>17</sup>Gideon told the men, “Watch me and do what I do. When I get to the edge of the camp, do what I do.”<sup>18</sup>Surround the enemy camp. When I and everyone with me blow our trumpets, you blow your trumpets, too. Then shout, ‘For the Lord and for Gideon!’”

Midian Is Defeated

<sup>19</sup>So Gideon and the one hundred men with him came to the edge of the enemy camp just after they had changed guards. It was during the middle watch of the night. Then Gideon and his men blew their trumpets and smashed their jars.<sup>20</sup>All three groups of Gideon's men blew their trumpets and smashed their jars. They held the torches in their left hands and the trumpets in their right hands. Then they shouted, "A sword for the Lord and for Gideon!"<sup>21</sup>Each of Gideon's men stayed in his place around the camp, but the Midianites began shouting and running to escape.

<sup>22</sup>When Gideon's three hundred men blew their trumpets, the Lord made all the Midianites fight each other with their swords! The enemy army ran away to the city of Beth Shittah toward Zererah. They ran as far as the border of Abel Meholah, near the city of Tabbath.<sup>23</sup>Then men of Israel from Naphtali, Asher, and all of Manasseh were called out to chase the Midianites.<sup>24</sup>Gideon sent messengers through all the mountains of Ephraim, saying, "Come down and attack the Midianites. Take control of the Jordan River as far as Beth Barah before the Midianites can get to it."

So they called out all the men of Ephraim, who took control of the Jordan River as far as Beth Barah.<sup>25</sup>The men of Ephraim captured two princes of Midian named Oreb and Zeeb. They killed Oreb at the rock of Oreb and Zeeb at the winepress of Zeeb, and they continued chasing the Midianites. They brought the heads of Oreb and Zeeb to Gideon, who was east of the Jordan River.

Life Lessons

Judges 8:1–9:57

Situation

Gideon and his army, though greatly outnumbered, defeated the Midianite invaders with God's blessing. Yet after Gideon died, the Israelites again abandoned God and worshiped Baal. The Israelites foolishly made Abimelech the king, helping him murder sixty-nine of his seventy brothers. God repaid the treachery and idolatry of Abimelech and the town of Shechem with death and destruction.

Observation

Sin will always be judged by God. Consequences from our past sins often come back to haunt us.

Inspiration

Sin entered the human race through Adam, and the human race has been trying without success to get rid of it ever since. And, short of that, mankind has been seeking in vain to reverse the curse. The Bible teaches that God warned Adam before he sinned that if he ate of the tree of knowledge he would surely die. The Bible also tells us that God instructed Adam and Eve to be fruitful and to multiply and to replenish the earth. But although they had been created in the image of God, after the Fall Adam and Eve gave birth to children after their own likeness and image. Consequently Cain and Abel were infected with the death-dealing disease of sin, which they inherited from their parents and which has been passed on to every generation since. We are all sinners by inheritance, and try as we will, we cannot escape our birthright.

We have resorted to every means to win back the position that Adam lost. We have tried through education, through philosophy, through religion, through governments to throw off our yoke of depravity and sin. We have sought to accomplish with our sin-limited minds the things that God intended to do with the clear vision that can come only from on high. Our motives have been good and some of our attempts have been commendable, but they have all fallen far, far short of the goal. All our knowledge, all our inventions, all our developments and ambitious plans move us ahead only a very little before we drop back again to the point from which we started. For we are still making the same mistake that Adam made—we are still trying to be king in our own right, and with our own power, instead of obeying God's laws....

Man's only salvation from sin stands on a lonely, barren, skull-shaped hill: a thief hangs on one cross, a murderer on another, and between them, a Man with a crown of thorns....

And who is this tortured figure, who is this Man whom other men seek to humiliate and kill? He is the Son of God, the Prince of Peace, heaven's own appointed Messenger to the sin-ridden earth.

Who inflicted this hideous torture upon the Man who came to teach us love? You did and I did, for it was for your sin and my sin that Jesus was nailed to the cross....

But sin overreached itself on the cross. Man's hideous injustice that crucified Christ became the means that opened the way for man to become free. Sin's masterpiece of shame and hate became God's masterpiece of mercy and forgiveness. Through the death of Christ upon the cross, sin itself was crucified for those who believe in Him. Sin was conquered on the cross. His death is the foundation of our hope, the promise of our triumph! Christ bore in His own body on the tree the sins that shackle us. He died for us and rose again. He proved the truth of all God's promises to man; and if you will accept Christ by faith today, you, too, can be forgiven for your sins. You can stand secure and free in the knowledge that through the love of Christ your soul is cleansed of sin and saved from damnation. (From Peace with God by Billy Graham)

Application

Sin brings judgment. Turn away from the sin that you enjoy. Seek help to remove the sin that reoccurs in your life. Don't let patterns of sinfulness destroy your life; repent and seek Christ's help.

Exploration

Sin—Genesis 3:6–7; 9:20–27; Exodus 2:12–14; 34:7; Deuteronomy 7:2; Nehemiah 13:14–18.

The men of Ephraim asked Gideon, “Why did you treat us this way? Why didn’t you call us when you went to fight against Midian?” They argued angrily with Gideon.

<sup>2</sup>But he answered them, “I have not done as well as you! The small part you did was better than all that my people of Abiezer did. <sup>3</sup>God let you capture Oreb and Zeeb, the princes of Midian. How can I compare what I did with what you did?” When the men of Ephraim heard Gideon’s answer, they were not as angry anymore.

Gideon Captures Two Kings

<sup>4</sup>When Gideon and his three hundred men came to the Jordan River, they were tired, but they chased the enemy across to the other side. <sup>5</sup>Gideon said to the men of Succoth, “Please give my soldiers some bread because they are very tired. I am chasing Zebah and Zalmunna, the kings of Midian.”

<sup>6</sup>But the leaders of Succoth said, “Why should we give your soldiers bread? You haven’t caught Zebah and Zalmunna yet.”

<sup>7</sup>Then Gideon said, “The Lord will surrender Zebah and Zalmunna to me. After that, I will whip your skin with thorns and briars from the desert.”

<sup>8</sup>Gideon left Succoth and went to the city of Peniel and asked them for food. But the people of Peniel gave him the same answer as the people of Succoth. <sup>9</sup>So Gideon said to the men of Peniel, “After I win the victory, I will return and pull down this tower.”

<sup>10</sup>Zebah and Zalmunna and their army were in the city of Karkor. About fifteen thousand men were left of the armies of the peoples of the east. Already one hundred twenty thousand soldiers had been killed. <sup>11</sup>Gideon went up the road of those who live in tents east of Nobah and Jogbehah, and he attacked the enemy army when they did not expect it. <sup>12</sup>Zebah and Zalmunna, the kings of Midian, ran away, but Gideon chased and captured them and frightened away their army.

<sup>13</sup>Then Gideon son of Joash returned from the battle by the Pass of Heres. <sup>14</sup>Gideon captured a young man from Succoth and asked him some questions. So the young man wrote down for Gideon the names of seventy-seven officers and older leaders of Succoth.

Gideon Punishes Succoth

<sup>15</sup>When Gideon came to Succoth, he said to the people of that city, “Here are Zebah and Zalmunna. You made fun of me by saying, ‘Why should we give bread to your tired men? You have not caught Zebah and Zalmunna yet.’” <sup>16</sup>So Gideon took the older leaders of the city and punished them with thorns and briars from the desert. <sup>17</sup>He also pulled down the tower of Peniel and killed the people in that city.

<sup>18</sup>Gideon asked Zebah and Zalmunna, “What were the men like that you killed on Mount Tabor?”

They answered, “They were like you. Each one of them looked like a prince.”

<sup>19</sup>Gideon said, “Those were my brothers, my mother’s sons.

As surely as the Lord lives, I would not kill you if you had spared them.”<sup>20</sup> Then Gideon said to Jether, his oldest son, “Kill them.” But Jether was only a boy and was afraid, so he did not take out his sword.

<sup>21</sup> Then Zebah and Zalmunna said to Gideon, “Come on. Kill us yourself. As the saying goes, ‘It takes a man to do a man’s job.’” So Gideon got up and killed Zebah and Zalmunna and took the decorations off their camels’ necks.

Gideon Makes an Idol

<sup>22</sup> The people of Israel said to Gideon, “You saved us from the Midianites. Now, we want you and your son and your grandson to rule over us.”

<sup>23</sup> But Gideon told them, “The Lord will be your ruler. I will not rule over you, nor will my son rule over you.”<sup>24</sup> He said, “I want you to do this one thing for me. I want each of you to give me a gold earring from the things you took in the fighting.” (The Ishmaelites wore gold earrings.)

<sup>25</sup> They said, “We will gladly give you what you want.” So they spread out a coat, and everyone threw down an earring from what he had taken.<sup>26</sup> The gold earrings weighed about forty-three pounds. This did not count the decorations, necklaces, and purple robes worn by the kings of Midian, nor the chains from the camels’ necks.<sup>27</sup> Gideon used the gold to make a holy vest, which he put in his hometown of Ophrah. But all the Israelites were unfaithful to God and worshiped it, so it became a trap for Gideon and his family.

The Death of Gideon

<sup>28</sup>So Midian was under the rule of Israel; they did not cause trouble anymore. And the land had peace for forty years, as long as Gideon was alive.

<sup>29</sup>Gideon son of Joash went to his home to live. <sup>30</sup>He had seventy sons of his own, because he had many wives. <sup>31</sup>He had a slave woman who lived in Shechem, and he had a son by her, whom he named Abimelech. <sup>32</sup>So Gideon son of Joash died at a good old age. He was buried in the tomb of Joash, his father, in Ophrah, where the Abiezrites live.

<sup>33</sup>As soon as Gideon died, the people of Israel were again unfaithful to God and followed the Baals. They made Baal-Berith their god. <sup>34</sup>The Israelites did not remember the Lord their God, who had saved them from all their enemies living all around them. <sup>35</sup>And they were not kind to the family of Jerub-Baal, also called Gideon, for all the good he had done for Israel.

Abimelech Becomes King

Abimelech son of Gideon went to his uncles in the city of Shechem. He said to his uncles and all of his mother's family group, <sup>2</sup>“Ask the leaders of Shechem, ‘Is it better for the seventy sons of Gideon to rule over you or for one man to rule?’ Remember, I am your relative.”

<sup>3</sup>Abimelech's uncles spoke to all the leaders of Shechem about this. And they decided to follow Abimelech, because they said, “He is our relative.” <sup>4</sup>So the leaders of Shechem gave Abimelech about one and three-quarter pounds of silver from the temple of the god Baal-Berith. Abimelech used the silver to hire some worthless, reckless men, who followed him wherever he went. <sup>5</sup>He went to Ophrah, the hometown of his father, and murdered his seventy brothers, the sons of Gideon. He killed them all on one stone. But Gideon's youngest son, Jotham, hid from Abimelech and escaped. <sup>6</sup>Then all of the leaders of Shechem and Beth Millo gathered beside the great tree standing in Shechem. There they made Abimelech their king.

Jotham's Story

<sup>7</sup>When Jotham heard this, he went and stood on the top of Mount Gerizim. He shouted to the people: “Listen to me, you leaders of Shechem, so that God will listen to you! <sup>8</sup>One day the trees decided to appoint a king to rule over them. They said to the olive tree, ‘You be king over us!’

<sup>9</sup>“But the olive tree said, ‘Men and gods are honored by my oil. Should I stop making it and go and sway over the other trees?’

<sup>10</sup>“Then the trees said to the fig tree, ‘Come and be king over us!’

<sup>11</sup>“But the fig tree answered, ‘Should I stop making my sweet and good fruit and go and sway over the other trees?’

<sup>12</sup>“Then the trees said to the vine, ‘Come and be king over us!’

<sup>13</sup>“But the vine answered, ‘My new wine makes men and gods happy. Should I stop making it and go and sway over the trees?’

<sup>14</sup>“Then all the trees said to the thornbush, ‘Come and be king over us.’

<sup>15</sup>“But the thornbush said to the trees, ‘If you really want to appoint me king over you, come and find shelter in my shade! But if not, let fire come out of the thornbush and burn up the cedars of Lebanon!’

<sup>16</sup>“Now, were you completely honest and sincere when you made Abimelech king? Have you been fair to Gideon and his family? Have you treated Gideon as you should? <sup>17</sup>Remember, my father fought for you and risked his life to save you from the power of the Midianites. <sup>18</sup>But now you have turned against my father’s family and have killed his seventy sons on one stone. You have made Abimelech, the son of my father’s slave girl, king over the leaders of Shechem just because he is your relative! <sup>19</sup>So then, if you have been honest and sincere to Gideon and his family today, be happy with Abimelech as your king. And may he be happy with you! <sup>20</sup>But if not, may fire come out of Abimelech and completely burn you leaders of Shechem and Beth Millo! Also may fire come out of the leaders of Shechem and Beth Millo and burn up Abimelech!”

<sup>21</sup>Then Jotham ran away and escaped to the city of Beer. He lived there because he was afraid of his brother Abimelech.

Abimelech Fights Against Shechem

<sup>22</sup>Abimelech ruled Israel for three years. <sup>23</sup>Then God sent an evil spirit to make trouble between Abimelech and the leaders of Shechem so that the leaders of Shechem turned against him.

<sup>24</sup>Abimelech had killed Gideon's seventy sons, his own brothers, and the leaders of Shechem had helped him. So God sent the evil spirit to punish them. <sup>25</sup>The leaders of Shechem were against Abimelech then. They put men on the hilltops in ambush who robbed everyone going by. And Abimelech was told.

<sup>26</sup>A man named Gaal son of Ebed and his brothers moved into Shechem, and the leaders of Shechem trusted him. <sup>27</sup>They went out to the vineyards to pick grapes, and they squeezed the grapes. Then they had a feast in the temple of their god, where they ate and drank and cursed Abimelech. <sup>28</sup>Gaal son of Ebed said, “We are the men of Shechem. Who is Abimelech that we should serve him? Isn't he one of Gideon's sons, and isn't Zebul his officer? We should serve the men of Hamor, Shechem's father. Why should we serve Abimelech? <sup>29</sup>If you made me commander of these people, I would get rid of Abimelech. I would say to him, ‘Get your army ready and come out to battle.’”

<sup>30</sup>Now when Zebul, the ruler of Shechem, heard what Gaal son of Ebed said, he was very angry. <sup>31</sup>He sent secret messengers to Abimelech, saying, “Gaal son of Ebed and Gaal's brothers have come to Shechem, and they are turning the city against you! <sup>32</sup>You and your men should get up during the night and hide in the fields outside the city. <sup>33</sup>As soon as the sun comes up in the morning, attack the city. When Gaal and his men come out to fight you, do what you can to them."

<sup>34</sup>So Abimelech and all his soldiers got up during the night and hid near Shechem in four groups. <sup>35</sup>Gaal son of Ebed went out and was standing at the entrance to the city gate. As he was standing there, Abimelech and his soldiers came out of their hiding places.

<sup>36</sup>When Gaal saw the soldiers, he said to Zebul, "Look! There are people coming down from the mountains!"

But Zebul said, "You are seeing the shadows of the mountains. The shadows just look like people."

<sup>37</sup>But again Gaal said, "Look, there are people coming down from the center of the land, and there is a group coming from the fortune-tellers' tree!"

<sup>38</sup>Zebul said to Gaal, "Where is your bragging now? You said, 'Who is Abimelech that we should serve him?' You made fun of these men. Now go out and fight them."

<sup>42</sup>The next day the people of Shechem went out to the fields. When Abimelech was told about it, <sup>43</sup>he separated his men into three groups and hid them in the fields. When he saw the people coming out of the city, he jumped up and attacked them. <sup>44</sup>Abimelech and his group ran to the entrance gate to the city. The other two groups ran out to the people in the fields and struck them down.<sup>45</sup> Abimelech and his men fought the city of Shechem all day until they captured it and killed its people. Then he tore it down and threw salt over the ruins.

The Tower of Shechem Burns

<sup>46</sup>When the leaders who were in the Tower of Shechem heard what had happened to Shechem, they gathered in the safest room of the temple of El Berith.<sup>47</sup> Abimelech heard that all the leaders of the Tower of Shechem had gathered there.<sup>48</sup> So he and all his men went up Mount Zalmon, near Shechem. Abimelech took an ax and cut some branches and put them on his shoulders. He said to all those with him, “Hurry! Do what I have done!”<sup>49</sup> So all those men cut branches and followed Abimelech and piled them against the safest room of the temple. Then they set them on fire and burned the people inside. So all the people who were at the Tower of Shechem also died—about a thousand men and women.

Abimelech’s Death

<sup>50</sup>Then Abimelech went to the city of Thebez. He surrounded the city, attacked it, and captured it.<sup>51</sup> But inside the city was a strong tower, so all the men, women, and leaders of that city ran to the tower. When they got inside, they locked the door behind them. Then they climbed up to the roof of the tower.<sup>52</sup> Abimelech came to the tower to attack it. He approached the door of the tower to set it on fire,<sup>53</sup> but as he came near, a woman dropped a grinding stone on his head, crushing his skull.

<sup>54</sup>He quickly called to the officer who carried his armor and said, “Take out your sword and kill me. I don’t want people to say, ‘A woman killed Abimelech.’” So the officer stabbed Abimelech, and he died. <sup>55</sup>When the people of Israel saw Abimelech was dead, they all returned home.

<sup>56</sup>In that way God punished Abimelech for all the evil he had done to his father by killing his seventy brothers. <sup>57</sup>God also punished the men of Shechem for the evil they had done. So the curse spoken by Jotham, the youngest son of Gideon, came true.

Tola, the Judge

After Abimelech died, another judge came to save Israel. He was Tola son of Puah, the son of Dodo. Tola was from the people of Issachar and lived in the city of Shamir in the mountains of Ephraim.<sup>2</sup>Tola was a judge for Israel for twenty-three years. Then he died and was buried in Shamir.

Jair, the Judge

<sup>3</sup>After Tola died, Jair from the region of Gilead became judge. He was a judge for Israel for twenty-two years.<sup>4</sup>Jair had thirty sons, who rode thirty donkeys. These thirty sons controlled thirty towns in Gilead, which are called the Towns of Jair to this day.<sup>5</sup>Jair died and was buried in the city of Kamon.

The Ammonites Trouble Israel

<sup>6</sup>Again the Israelites did what the Lord said was wrong. They worshiped Baal and Ashtoreth, the gods of Aram, Sidon, Moab, and Ammon, and the gods of the Philistines. The Israelites left the Lord and stopped serving him.<sup>7</sup>So the Lord was angry with them and handed them over to the Philistines and the Ammonites.<sup>8</sup>In the same year those people destroyed the Israelites who lived east of the Jordan River in the region of Gilead, where the Amorites lived. So the Israelites suffered for eighteen years.<sup>9</sup>The Ammonites then crossed the Jordan River to fight the people of Judah, Benjamin, and Ephraim, causing much trouble to the people of Israel. <sup>10</sup>So the Israelites cried out to the Lord, “We have sinned against you. We left our God and worshiped the Baal idols.”

<sup>11</sup>The Lord answered the Israelites, “When the Egyptians, Amorites, Ammonites, Philistines, <sup>12</sup>Sidonians, Amalekites, and Maonites were cruel to you, you cried out to me, and I saved you. <sup>13</sup>But now you have left me again and have worshiped other gods. So I refuse to save you again. <sup>14</sup>You have chosen those gods. So go call to them for help. Let them save you when you are in trouble.”

<sup>15</sup>But the people of Israel said to the Lord, “We have sinned. Do to us whatever you want, but please save us today!” <sup>16</sup>Then the Israelites threw away the foreign gods among them, and they worshiped the Lord again. So he felt sorry for them when he saw their suffering.

<sup>17</sup>The Ammonites gathered for war and camped in Gilead. The Israelites gathered and camped at Mizpah. <sup>18</sup>The leaders of the people of Gilead said, “Who will lead us to attack the Ammonites? He will become the head of all those who live in Gilead.”

Life Lessons

Judges 10:1–12:15

Situation

Turning away from God, the idol-worshipping Israelites suffered foreign invasion and devastation. Finally, desperate for relief, they turned to God, and God raised up a deliverer, Jephthah.

Observation

The act of getting rid of foreign gods showed that Israel was serious about its confession.

Inspiration

God loves you just the way you are. If you think his love for you would be stronger if your faith were, you are wrong. If you think his love would be deeper if your thoughts were, wrong again. Don't confuse God's love with the love of people. The love of people often increases with performance and decreases with mistakes. Not so with God's love. He loves you right where you are. To quote my wife's favorite author:

God's love never ceases. Never. Though we spurn him. Ignore him. Reject him. Despise him. Disobey him. He will not change. Our evil cannot diminish his love. Our goodness cannot increase it. Our faith does not earn it anymore than our stupidity jeopardizes it. God doesn't love us less if we fail or more if we succeed. God's love never ceases.

God loves you just the way you are, but he refuses to leave you that way.

When my daughter Jenna was a toddler, I used to take her to a park not far from our apartment. One day as she was playing in a sandbox, an ice-cream salesman approached us. I purchased her a treat, and when I turned to give it to her, I saw her mouth was full of sand. Where I intended to put a delicacy, she had put dirt.

Did I love her with dirt in her mouth? Absolutely. Was she any less my daughter with dirt in her mouth? Of course not. Was I going to allow her to keep the dirt in her mouth? No way. I loved her right where she was, but I refused to leave her there. I carried her over to the water fountain and washed out her mouth. Why? Because I love her.

God does the same for us. He holds us over the fountain. “Spit out the dirt, honey,” our Father urges. “I’ve got something better for you.” And so he cleanses us of filth: immorality, dishonesty, prejudice, bitterness, greed. We don’t enjoy the cleansing; sometimes we even opt for the dirt over the ice cream. “I can eat dirt if I want to!” we pout and proclaim. Which is true—we can. But if we do, the loss is ours. God has a better offer. He wants us to be just like Jesus.

Isn’t that good news? You aren’t stuck with today’s personality. You aren’t condemned to “grumpydom.” You are tweakable. Even if you’ve worried each day of your life, you needn’t worry the rest of your life. So what if you were born a bigot? You don’t have to die one.

Where did we get the idea we can’t change? From whence come statements such as, “It’s just my nature to worry,” or, “I’ll always be pessimistic. I’m just that way,” or, “I have a bad temper. I can’t help the way I react”? Who says? Would we make similar statements about our bodies? “It’s just my nature to have a broken leg. I can’t do anything about it.” Of course not. If our bodies malfunction, we seek help. Shouldn’t we do the same with our hearts? Shouldn’t we seek aid for our sour attitudes? Can’t we request treatment for our selfish tirades? Of course we can.

Jesus can change our hearts. He wants us to have a heart like his.

Can you imagine a better offer? (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Application

Isn't it good to know that God not only can change your heart but even desires to do so? Allow his cleansing to affect your life. Then ask the Lord to change your heart so your desires match his.

New Life in Christ

“We have sinned. Do to us whatever you want, but please save us today!” —Judges 10:15

Confessed Sin Releases Joy

Confession does not create a relationship with God, it simply nourishes it. If you are a believer, admission of sins does not alter your position before God, but it does enhance your peace with God. When you confess, you agree; you quit arguing with God and agree with him about your sin. Unconfessed sin leads to a state of disagreement. You may be God’s child, but you don’t want to talk to him. He still loves you, but until you admit what you’ve done, there’s going to be tension in the house.

But just as unconfessed sin hinders joy, confessed sin releases it. When we admit sin we are like a first grader standing before the teacher with a messy paper. “I colored outside the lines too many times. Could I start over on a clean sheet?” “Of course,” says the teacher. Happy is the first grader who gets a second chance, or as David wrote, “Happy is the person whose sins are forgiven, whose wrongs are pardoned” (Psalm 32:1). So we dash back to our seat and start over. (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

Jephthah Is Chosen as Leader

Jephthah was a strong soldier from Gilead. His father was named Gilead, and his mother was a prostitute.<sup>2</sup>Gilead's wife had several sons. When they grew up, they forced Jephthah to leave his home, saying to him, "You will not get any of our father's property, because you are the son of another woman."

<sup>3</sup>So Jephthah ran away from his brothers and lived in the land of Tob. There some worthless men began to follow him.

<sup>4</sup>After a time the Ammonites fought against Israel. <sup>5</sup>When the Ammonites made war against Israel, the older leaders of Gilead went to Jephthah to bring him back from Tob. <sup>6</sup>They said to him, "Come and lead our army so we can fight the Ammonites."

<sup>7</sup>But Jephthah said to them, "Didn't you hate me? You forced me to leave my father's house. Why are you coming to me now that you are in trouble?"

<sup>8</sup>The older leaders of Gilead said to Jephthah, "It is because of those troubles that we come to you now. Please come with us and fight against the Ammonites. You will be the ruler over everyone who lives in Gilead."

<sup>9</sup>Then Jephthah answered, "If you take me back to Gilead to fight the Ammonites and the Lord helps me win, I will be your ruler."

<sup>10</sup>The older leaders of Gilead said to him, "The Lord is listening to everything we are saying. We promise to do all that you tell us to do." <sup>11</sup>So Jephthah went with the older leaders of Gilead, and the people made him their leader and commander of their army. Jephthah repeated all of his words in front of the Lord at Mizpah.

Jephthah Sends Messengers to the Ammonite King

<sup>12</sup>Jephthah sent messengers to the king of the Ammonites, asking, “What have you got against Israel? Why have you come to attack our land?”

<sup>13</sup>The king of the Ammonites answered the messengers of Jephthah, “We are fighting Israel because you took our land when you came up from Egypt. You took our land from the Amon River to the Jabbok River to the Jordan River. Now give our land back to us peacefully.”

“This is what Jephthah says: Israel did not take the land of the people of Moab or Ammon. <sup>16</sup>When the Israelites came out of Egypt, they went into the desert to the Red Sea and then to Kadesh. <sup>17</sup>Israel sent messengers to the king of Edom, saying, ‘Let the people of Israel go across your land.’ But the king of Edom refused. We sent the same message to the king of Moab, but he also refused. So the Israelites stayed at Kadesh.

<sup>18</sup>“Then the Israelites went into the desert around the borders of the lands of Edom and Moab. Israel went east of the land of Moab and camped on the other side of the Amon River, the border of Moab. They did not cross it to go into the land of Moab.

<sup>19</sup>“Then Israel sent messengers to Sihon king of the Amorites, king of the city of Heshbon, asking, ‘Let the people of Israel pass through your land to go to our land.’ <sup>20</sup>But Sihon did not trust the Israelites to cross his land. So he gathered all of his people and camped at Jahaz and fought with Israel.

<sup>21</sup>“But the Lord, the God of Israel, handed Sihon and his army over to Israel. All the land of the Amorites became the property of Israel. <sup>22</sup>So Israel took all the land of the Amorites from the Arnon River to the Jabbok River, from the desert to the Jordan River.

<sup>23</sup>“It was the Lord, the God of Israel, who forced out the Amorites ahead of the people of Israel. So do you think you can make them leave? <sup>24</sup>Take the land that your god Chemosh has given you. We will live in the land the Lord our God has given us!

<sup>25</sup>“Are you any better than Balak son of Zippor, king of Moab? Did he ever quarrel or fight with the people of Israel? <sup>26</sup>For three hundred years the Israelites have lived in Heshbon and Aroer and the towns around them and in all the cities along the Arnon River. Why have you not taken these cities back in all that time? <sup>27</sup>I have not sinned against you, but you are sinning against me by making war on me. May the Lord, the Judge, decide whether the Israelites or the Ammonites are right.”

Jephthah's Promise

<sup>29</sup>Then the Spirit of the Lord entered Jephthah. Jephthah passed through Gilead and Manasseh and the city of Mizpah in Gilead to the land of the Ammonites. <sup>30</sup>Jephthah made a promise to the Lord, saying, “If you will hand over the Ammonites to me, <sup>31</sup>I will give you as a burnt offering the first thing that comes out of my house to meet me when I return from the victory. It will be the Lord's."

<sup>32</sup>Then Jephthah went over to fight the Ammonites, and the Lord handed them over to him. <sup>33</sup>In a great defeat Jephthah struck them down from the city of Aroer to the area of Minnith, and twenty cities as far as the city of Abel Keramim. So the Ammonites were defeated by the Israelites.

<sup>34</sup>When Jephthah returned to his home in Mizpah, his daughter was the first one to come out to meet him, playing a tambourine and dancing. She was his only child; he had no other sons or daughters. <sup>35</sup>When Jephthah saw his daughter, he tore his clothes to show his sorrow. He said, "My daughter! You have made me so sad because I made a promise to the Lord, and I cannot break it!"

<sup>36</sup>Then his daughter said, "Father, you made a promise to the Lord. So do to me just what you promised, because the Lord helped you defeat your enemies, the Ammonites." <sup>37</sup>She also said, "But let me do one thing. Let me be alone for two months to go to the mountains. Since I will never marry, let me and my friends go and cry together."

<sup>38</sup>Jephthah said, "Go." So he sent her away for two months. She and her friends stayed in the mountains and cried for her because she would never marry. <sup>39</sup>After two months she returned to her father, and Jephthah did to her what he had promised. Jephthah's daughter never had a husband.

From this came a custom in Israel that <sup>40</sup>every year the young women of Israel would go out for four days to remember the daughter of Jephthah from Gilead.

Jephthah and Ephraim

The men of Ephraim called all their soldiers together and crossed the river to the town of Zaphon. They said to Jephthah, “Why didn’t you call us to help you fight the Ammonites? We will burn your house down with you in it.”

<sup>2</sup>Jephthah answered them, “My people and I fought a great battle against the Ammonites. I called you, but you didn’t come to help me. <sup>3</sup>When I saw that you would not help me, I risked my own life and went against the Ammonites. The Lord handed them over to me. So why have you come to fight against me today?”

<sup>4</sup>Then Jephthah called the men of Gilead together and fought the men of Ephraim. The men of Gilead struck them down because the Ephraimites had said, “You men of Gilead are nothing but deserters from Ephraim—living between Ephraim and Manasseh.” <sup>5</sup>The men of Gilead captured the crossings of the Jordan River that led to the country of Ephraim. A person from Ephraim trying to escape would say, “Let me cross the river.” Then the men of Gilead would ask him, “Are you from Ephraim?” If he replied no, <sup>6</sup>they would say to him, “Say the word ‘Shibboleth.’” The men of Ephraim could not say that word correctly. So if the person from Ephraim said, “Sibboleth,” the men of Gilead would kill him at the crossing. So forty-two thousand people from Ephraim were killed at that time.

<sup>7</sup>Jephthah was a judge for Israel for six years. Then Jephthah, the man from Gilead, died and was buried in a town in Gilead.

Ibzan, the Judge

<sup>8</sup>After Jephthah died, Ibzan from Bethlehem was a judge for Israel. <sup>9</sup>He had thirty sons and thirty daughters. He let his daughters marry men who were not in his family group, and he brought thirty women who were not in his tribe to be wives for his sons. Ibzan judged Israel for seven years. <sup>10</sup>Then he died and was buried in Bethlehem.

Elon, the Judge

<sup>11</sup>After Ibzan died, Elon from the tribe of Zebulun was a judge for Israel. He judged Israel for ten years. <sup>12</sup>Then Elon, the man of Zebulun, died and was buried in the city of Aijalon in the land of Zebulun.

Abdon, the Judge

<sup>13</sup>After Elon died, Abdon son of Hillel from the city of Pirathon was a judge for Israel. <sup>14</sup>He had forty sons and thirty grandsons, who rode on seventy donkeys. He judged Israel for eight years. <sup>15</sup>Then Abdon son of Hillel died and was buried in Pirathon in the land of Ephraim, in the mountains where the Amalekites lived.

Life Lessons

Judges 13:1–25

Situation

As the Israelites settled into Palestine, they faced a struggle to retain their own identity as the Chosen Ones. Again and again they disregarded the commandments of God. Punishment often resulted. Yet, God retained his covenant with these obstinate people. At the time of the Judges, he provided a deliverer. A baby was promised to a childless couple. He was to deliver his people from the oppression of the Philistines. When he was born he was named Samson.

Observation

Pride makes us drift from God's commands. We feel "I can do it on my own," or we become confident in our own ability to handle each day. Yet, like Israel, we often remember to turn to God when life suddenly gets hard. Pride is idolatry—the idol is self.

Inspiration

In the rough and tumble of our abrasive twentieth century, humility is scarcely considered a virtue. Such qualities as meekness and gentleness are not the sort that most people seek in order to succeed. We are fast moving, masterful, permissive people who from the cradle learn to shove and push and scream and scramble to get ahead—to plant our proud feet on the top of the totem pole.

Fiercely we contend for our rights, believing the strange philosophy that to be big and bold and brazen is best. We subscribe to the idea that since no one else will blow my horn for me, I must blow my own bugle loudly and long. We are completely convinced that unless we make our own mark in the world we will be forgotten in the crush—obliterated from memory by the milling masses around us.

From the hour we begin to take our first feeble, frightened steps as tiny tots we are exhorted to “stand on your own feet.” We are urged and encouraged to “make it on your own.” We are told to “make your own decisions.” We are stimulated to be aggressive, self-assertive, and very self-assured. All of these attributes we are sure will lead to ultimate greatness.

In the face of all this it comes to us as a distinct shock to hear our Lord declare: “whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.” ...

The selfless, self-effacing character of God’s love simply does not permit it to strut and parade itself pompously. It will have no part of such a performance. It is not proud, arrogant, puffed up with its own importance.

The Birth of Samson

Again the people of Israel did what the Lord said was wrong. So he handed them over to the Philistines for forty years.

<sup>2</sup>There was a man named Manoah from the tribe of Dan, who lived in the city of Zorah. He had a wife, but she could not have children. <sup>3</sup>The angel of the Lord appeared to Manoah's wife and said, "You have not been able to have children, but you will become pregnant and give birth to a son. <sup>4</sup>Be careful not to drink wine or beer or eat anything that is unclean, <sup>5</sup>because you will become pregnant and have a son. You must never cut his hair, because he will be a Nazirite, given to God from birth. He will begin to save Israel from the power of the Philistines."

<sup>6</sup>Then Manoah's wife went to him and told him what had happened. She said, "A man from God came to me. He looked like an angel from God; his appearance was frightening. I didn't ask him where he was from, and he didn't tell me his name. <sup>7</sup>But he said to me, 'You will become pregnant and will have a son. Don't drink wine or beer or eat anything that is unclean, because the boy will be a Nazirite to God from his birth until the day of his death.'"

<sup>8</sup>Then Manoah prayed to the Lord: "Lord, I beg you to let the man of God come to us again. Let him teach us what we should do for the boy who will be born to us."

<sup>9</sup>God heard Manoah's prayer, and the angel of God came to Manoah's wife again while she was sitting in the field. But her husband Manoah was not with her. <sup>10</sup>So she ran to tell him, "He is here! The man who appeared to me the other day is here!"

<sup>11</sup>Manoah got up and followed his wife. When he came to the man, he said, "Are you the man who spoke to my wife?"

The man said, "I am."

<sup>12</sup>So Manoah asked, "When what you say happens, what kind of life should the boy live? What should he do?"

<sup>13</sup>The angel of the Lord said, "Your wife must be careful to do everything I told her to do. <sup>14</sup>She must not eat anything that grows on a grapevine, or drink any wine or beer, or eat anything that is unclean. She must do everything I have commanded her."

<sup>15</sup>Manoah said to the angel of the Lord, "We would like you to stay awhile so we can cook a young goat for you."

<sup>16</sup>The angel of the Lord answered, "Even if I stay awhile, I would not eat your food. But if you want to prepare something, offer a burnt offering to the Lord." (Manoah did not understand that the man was really the angel of the Lord.)

<sup>17</sup>Then Manoah asked the angel of the Lord, "What is your name? Then we will honor you when what you have said really happens."

<sup>18</sup>The angel of the Lord said, "Why do you ask my name? It is too amazing for you to understand." <sup>19</sup>So Manoah sacrificed a young goat on a rock and offered some grain as a gift to the Lord. Then an amazing thing happened as Manoah and his wife watched. <sup>20</sup>The flames went up to the sky from the altar. As the fire burned, the angel of the Lord went up to heaven in the flame. When Manoah and his wife saw that, they bowed facedown on the ground. <sup>21</sup>The angel of the Lord did not appear to them again. Then Manoah understood that the man was really the angel of the Lord. <sup>22</sup>Manoah said, “We have seen God, so we will surely die.”

<sup>23</sup>But his wife said to him, “If the Lord wanted to kill us, he would not have accepted our burnt offering or grain offering. He would not have shown us all these things or told us all this.”

<sup>24</sup>So the woman gave birth to a boy and named him Samson. He grew, and the Lord blessed him. <sup>25</sup>The Spirit of the Lord began to work in Samson while he was in the city of Mahaneh Dan, between the cities of Zorah and Eshtaol.

Life Lessons

Judges 14:1–20

Situation

The Philistines ruled over Israel. The Israelites cried to God to save them. God provided a leader called Samson.

Observation

God always provides strength to do his will. In Samson's case, God supplied extraordinary physical power.

Inspiration

People who have moved the world have been Spirit-filled. Filled with the Spirit, the first disciples “turned the world upside down.” Filled with the Spirit, the reformers started the spiritual blaze which became the Reformation. Filled with the Spirit, Francis Asbury, George Fox, Jonathan Edwards, Charles Finney, and David Brainerd set the mountains and prairies of America aglow with the fires of real Christianity. Filled with the Spirit, D. L. Moody and Ira Sankey shook two continents out of their spiritual lethargy. Corrie ten Boom and Mother Teresa impacted their world greatly.

The tides of civilization have risen, the courses of history have been brightened by people who have been filled with the Spirit of God. . . .

Have you yielded your life to Christ without reserve, asking Him to fill you and use you for His glory? (From The Secret of Happiness by Billy Graham)

Application

Pray for strength to do your work. Pray for yourself and others close to you: your family, pastor, friends. Let the Holy Spirit do extraordinary work in you.

Samson's First Marriage

Samson went down to the city of Timnah where he saw a Philistine woman.<sup>2</sup>When he returned home, he said to his father and mother, "I saw a Philistine woman in Timnah. I want you to get her for me so I can marry her."

<sup>3</sup>His father and mother answered, "Surely there is a woman from Israel you can marry. Do you have to marry a woman from the Philistines, who are not circumcised?"

But Samson said, "Get that woman for me! She is the one I want!"<sup>4</sup>(Samson's parents did not know that the Lord wanted this to happen because he was looking for a way to challenge the Philistines, who were ruling over Israel at this time.)<sup>5</sup>Samson went down with his father and mother to Timnah, as far as the vineyard near there. Suddenly, a young lion came roaring toward Samson!<sup>6</sup>The Spirit of the Lord entered Samson with great power, and he tore the lion apart with his bare hands. For him it was as easy as tearing apart a young goat. But Samson did not tell his father or mother what he had done.<sup>7</sup>Then he went down to the city and talked to the Philistine woman, and he liked her.

<sup>8</sup>Several days later Samson went back to marry her. On his way he went over to look at the body of the dead lion and found a swarm of bees and honey in it.<sup>9</sup>Samson got some of the honey with his hands and walked along eating it. When he came to his parents, he gave some to them. They ate it, too, but Samson did not tell them he had taken the honey from the body of the dead lion.

<sup>10</sup>Samson's father went down to see the Philistine woman. And Samson gave a feast, as was the custom for the bridegroom. <sup>11</sup>When the people saw him, they sent thirty friends to be with him.

Samson's Riddle

<sup>12</sup>Samson said to them, "Let me tell you a riddle. Try to find the answer during the seven days of the feast. If you can, I will give you thirty linen shirts and thirty changes of clothes. <sup>13</sup>But if you can't, you must give me thirty linen shirts and thirty changes of clothes."

So they said, "Tell us your riddle so we can hear it."

<sup>14</sup>Samson said,

"Out of the eater comes something to eat.
Out of the strong comes something sweet."

After three days, they had not found the answer.

<sup>15</sup>On the fourth day they said to Samson's wife, "Did you invite us here to make us poor? Trick your husband into telling us the answer to the riddle. If you don't, we will burn you and everyone in your father's house."

<sup>16</sup>So Samson's wife went to him, crying, and said, "You hate me! You don't really love me! You told my people a riddle, but you won't tell me the answer."

Samson said, "I haven't even told my father or mother. Why should I tell you?"

<sup>17</sup>Samson's wife cried for the rest of the seven days of the feast. So he finally gave her the answer on the seventh day, because she kept bothering him. Then she told her people the answer to the riddle.

<sup>18</sup>Before sunset on the seventh day of the feast, the Philistine men had the answer. They came to Samson and said, “What is sweeter than honey?

What is stronger than a lion?”

Then Samson said to them,

“If you had not plowed with my young cow, you would not have solved my riddle!”

<sup>19</sup>Then the Spirit of the Lord entered Samson and gave him great power. Samson went down to the city of Ashkelon and killed thirty of its men and took all that they had and gave the clothes to the men who had answered his riddle. Then he went to his father's house very angry. <sup>20</sup>And Samson's wife was given to his best man.

Life Lessons

Judges 15:1–16:31

Situation

Samson lost his betrothed wife to his best man. Obviously angry, Samson took revenge on the Philistines. Eventually, he died as a result of revealing the secret of his strength to Delilah.

Observation

Samson initiated a cycle of violence and revenge between himself and the Philistines. This vicious cycle continued to grow in scope.

Inspiration

“Grudge” is one of those words that defines itself. Its very sound betrays its meaning.

Say it slowly: “Grr-uuuud-ge.”

It starts with a growl. “Grr ...” Like a bear with bad breath coming out of hibernation or a mangy mongrel defending his bone in an alley. “Grr... .”

Being near a resentful person and petting a growling dog are equally enjoyable.

Don't you just love being next to people who are nursing a grudge? Isn't it a delight to listen to them sing their songs of woe? They are so optimistic! They are so full of hope. They are bubbling with life.

You know better. You know as well as I that if they are bubbling with anything it is anger. And if they are full of anything, it is poisonous barbs of condemnation for all the people who have hurt them. Grudge bearers and angry animals are a lot alike. Both are irritable. Both are explosive. Both can be rabid. Someone needs to make a sign that can be worn around the neck of the resentful: “Beware of the Grrrrrudge Bearer.”

Add an M to the second part of the word , and you will see what grudge bearers throw. Mud. It’s not enough to accuse; the other person’s character must be attacked. It’s insufficient to point a finger; a rifle must be aimed. Slander is slung. Names are called. Circles are drawn. Walls are built. And enemies are made....

Is this the way you are coping with your hurts?
(From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

Grudges can create emotional walls in families, between friends, at work or at church—places where people step on and over each other. Are you holding a grudge against someone? It is a negative factor in your life. Pray for God to help you change your attitude.

Exploration

Samson Troubles the Philistines

At the time of the wheat harvest, Samson went to visit his wife, taking a young goat with him. He said, "I'm going to my wife's room," but her father would not let him go in.

<sup>2</sup>He said to Samson, "I thought you really hated your wife, so I gave her to your best man. Her younger sister is more beautiful. Take her instead."

<sup>3</sup>But Samson said to them, "This time no one will blame me for hurting you Philistines!" <sup>4</sup>So Samson went out and caught three hundred foxes. He took two foxes at a time, tied their tails together, and then tied a torch to the tails of each pair of foxes. <sup>5</sup>After he lit the torches, he let the foxes loose in the grainfields of the Philistines so that he burned up their standing grain, the piles of grain, their vineyards, and their olive trees.

Someone told them, "Samson, the son-in-law of the man from Timnah, did because his father-in-law gave his wife to his best man."

So the Philistines burned Samson's wife and her father to death. <sup>7</sup>Then Samson said to the Philistines, "Since you did this, I won't stop until I pay you back!" <sup>8</sup>Samson attacked the Philistines and killed many of them. Then he went down and stayed in a cave in the rock of Etam.

<sup>9</sup>The Philistines went up and camped in the land of Judah, near a place named Lehi. <sup>10</sup>The men of Judah asked them,

“Why have you come here to fight us?”

They answered, “We have come to make Samson our prisoner, to pay him back for what he did to our people.”

<sup>11</sup>Then three thousand men of Judah went to the cave in the rock of Etam and said to Samson, “What have you done to us? Don’t you know that the Philistines rule over us?”

Samson answered, “I only paid them back for what they did to me.”

<sup>12</sup>Then they said to him, “We have come to tie you up and to hand you over to the Philistines.”

Samson said to them, “Promise me you will not hurt me yourselves.”

<sup>13</sup>The men from Judah said, “We agree. We will just tie you up and give you to the Philistines. We will not kill you.” So they tied Samson with two new ropes and led him up from the cave in the rock. <sup>14</sup>When Samson came to the place named Lehi, the Philistines came to meet him, shouting for joy. Then the Spirit of the Lord entered Samson and gave him great power. The ropes on him weakened like burned strings and fell off his hands! <sup>15</sup>Samson found the jawbone of a dead donkey, took it, and killed a thousand men with it!

<sup>16</sup>Then Samson said,

“With a donkey’s jawbone
I made donkeys out of them.
With a donkey’s jawbone
I killed a thousand men!”

<sup>17</sup>When he finished speaking, he threw away the jawbone. So that place was named Ramath Lehi.

<sup>18</sup>Samson was very thirsty, so he cried out to the Lord,

“You gave me, your servant, this great victory. Do I have to die of thirst now? Do I have to be captured by people who are not circumcised?”<sup>19</sup> Then God opened up a hole in the ground at Lehi, and water came out. When Samson drank, he felt better; he felt strong again. So he named that spring Caller’s Spring, which is still in Lehi.

<sup>20</sup>Samson judged Israel for twenty years in the days of the Philistines.

Samson Goes to the City of Gaza

One day Samson went to Gaza and saw a prostitute there. He went in to spend the night with her. <sup>2</sup>When the people of Gaza heard, “Samson has come here!” they surrounded the place and waited for him near the city gate all night. They whispered to each other, “When dawn comes, we will kill Samson!”

<sup>3</sup>But Samson only stayed with the prostitute until midnight. Then he got up and took hold of the doors and the two posts of the city gate and tore them loose, along with the bar. He put them on his shoulders and carried them to the top of the hill that faces the city of Hebron.

Samson and Delilah

<sup>4</sup>After this, Samson fell in love with a woman named Delilah, who lived in the Valley of Sorek. <sup>5</sup>The Philistine rulers went to Delilah and said, “Find out what makes Samson so strong. Trick him into telling you how we can overpower him and capture him and tie him up. If you do this, each one of us will give you twenty-eight pounds of silver.”

<sup>6</sup>So Delilah said to Samson, “Tell me why you are so strong. How can someone tie you up and capture you?”

<sup>7</sup>Samson answered, “Someone would have to tie me up with seven new bowstrings that have not been dried. Then I would be as weak as any other man.”

<sup>8</sup>The Philistine rulers brought Delilah seven new bowstrings that had not been dried, and she tied Samson with them.<sup>9</sup> Some men were hiding in another room. Delilah said to him, “Samson, the Philistines are here!” But Samson broke the bowstrings like pieces of burned string. So the Philistines did not find out the secret of Samson’s strength.

<sup>10</sup>Then Delilah said to Samson, “You made a fool of me. You lied to me. Now tell me how someone can tie you up.”

<sup>11</sup>Samson said, “They would have to tie me with new ropes that have not been used before. Then I would become as weak as any other man.”

<sup>12</sup>So Delilah took new ropes and tied Samson. Some men were hiding in another room. She called out to him, “Samson, the Philistines are here!” But he broke the ropes as easily as if they were threads.

<sup>13</sup>Then Delilah said to Samson, “Again you have made a fool of me. You lied to me. Tell me how someone can tie you up.”

He said, “Using the loom, weave the seven braids of my hair into the cloth, and tighten it with a pin. Then I will be as weak as any other man.”

While Samson slept, Delilah wove the seven braids of his hair into the cloth.<sup>14</sup> Then she fastened it with a pin.

Again she said to him, “Samson, the Philistines are here!” Samson woke up and pulled out the pin and the loom with the cloth.

<sup>15</sup>Then Delilah said to him, “How can you say, ‘I love you,’ when you don’t even trust me? This is the third time you have made a fool of me. You haven’t told me the secret of your great strength.”<sup>16</sup> She kept bothering Samson about his secret day after day until he felt he was going to die!

<sup>17</sup>So he told her everything. He said, “I have never had my hair cut, because I have been set apart to God as a Nazirite since I was born. If someone shaved my head, I would lose my strength and be as weak as any other man.”

<sup>18</sup>When Delilah saw that he had told her everything sincerely, she sent a message to the Philistine rulers. She said, “Come back one more time, because he has told me everything.” So the Philistine rulers came back to Delilah and brought the silver with them. <sup>19</sup>Delilah got Samson to sleep, lying in her lap. Then she called in a man to shave off the seven braids of Samson’s hair. In this way she began to make him weak, and his strength left him.

<sup>20</sup>Then she said, “Samson, the Philistines are here!”

He woke up and thought, “I’ll leave as I did before and shake myself free.” But he did not know that the Lord had left him.

<sup>21</sup>Then the Philistines captured Samson and tore out his eyes. They took him down to Gaza, where they put bronze chains on him and made him grind grain in the prison. <sup>22</sup>But his hair began to grow again.

Samson Dies

<sup>23</sup>The Philistine rulers gathered to celebrate and to offer a great sacrifice to their god Dagon. They said, “Our god has handed Samson our enemy over to us.” <sup>24</sup>When the people saw him, they praised their god, saying,

“This man destroyed our country.
He killed many of us!
But our god handed over our enemy to us.”

<sup>25</sup>While the people were enjoying the celebration, they said, “Bring Samson out to perform for us.” So they brought Samson from the prison, and he performed for them. They made him stand between the pillars. <sup>26</sup>Samson said to the servant holding his hand, “Let me feel the pillars that hold up the temple so I can lean against them.” <sup>27</sup>Now the temple was full of men and women. All the Philistine rulers were there, and about three thousand men and women were on the roof watching Samson perform. <sup>28</sup>Then Samson prayed to the Lord, “Lord God, remember me. God, please give me strength one more time so I can pay these Philistines back for putting out my two eyes!” <sup>29</sup>Then Samson turned to the two center pillars that supported the whole temple. He braced himself between the two pillars, with his right hand on one and his left hand on the other. <sup>30</sup>Samson said, “Let me die with these Philistines!” Then he pushed as hard as he could, causing the temple to fall on the rulers and all the people in it. So Samson killed more of the Philistines when he died than when he was alive.

<sup>31</sup>Samson’s brothers and his whole family went down to get his body. They brought him back and buried him in the tomb of Manoah, his father, between the cities of Zorah and Eshtaol. Samson was a judge for the people of Israel for twenty years.

Micah's Idols

There was a man named Micah who lived in the mountains of Ephraim. <sup>2</sup>He said to his mother, "I heard you speak a curse about the twenty-eight pounds of silver that were taken from you. I have the silver with me; I took it."

His mother said, "The Lord bless you, my son!"

<sup>3</sup>Micah gave the twenty-eight pounds of silver to his mother. Then she said, "I will give this silver to the Lord. I will have my son make an idol and a statue. So I will give the silver back to you."

<sup>4</sup>When he gave the silver back to his mother, she took about five pounds and gave it to a silversmith. With it he made an idol and a statue, which stood in Micah's house. <sup>5</sup>Micah had a special holy place, and he made a holy vest and some household idols. Then Micah chose one of his sons to be his priest. <sup>6</sup>At that time Israel did not have a king, so everyone did what seemed right.

<sup>7</sup>There was a young man who was a Levite from the city of Bethlehem in Judah who was from the people of Judah. <sup>8</sup>He left Bethlehem to look for another place to live, and on his way he came to Micah's house in the mountains of Ephraim. <sup>9</sup>Micah asked him, "Where are you from?"

He answered, "I'm a Levite from Bethlehem in Judah. I'm looking for a place to live."

<sup>10</sup>Micah said to him, "Live with me and be my father and my priest. I will give you four ounces of silver each year and clothes and food." So the Levite went in. <sup>11</sup>He agreed to live with Micah and became like one of Micah's own sons. <sup>12</sup>Micah made him a priest, and he lived in Micah's house. <sup>13</sup>Then Micah said, "Now I know the Lord will be good to me, because I have a Levite as my priest."

Life Lessons

Judges 17:1–18:31

Situation

Micah, a man who stole money from his mother, decided to confess when he heard his mother calling down curses upon the thief who stole her money. His mother blessed and forgave him. Micah's mother made an idol from the money to try to atone for the sin her son committed.

Observation

False religion seeks peace of heart through all the wrong ways. A true relationship with God requires wholehearted obedience, not a token sacrifice.

Inspiration

"Lord," I said, "I want to be your man, not my own. So to you I give my money, my car—even my home."

Then, smug and content, I relaxed with a smile and whispered to God, "I bet it's been a while since anyone has given so much—so freely?" His answer surprised me. He replied, "Not really."

Not a day has gone by since the beginning of time, that someone hasn't offered meager nickels and dimes, golden altars and crosses, contributions and penance, stone monuments and steeples; but why not repentance?

“The money, the statues, the cathedrals you’ve built, do you really think I need your offering of guilt?

“What good is money that’s meant only to salve the hurting conscience that so many of you have?

“Your lips know no prayers. Your eyes, no compassion.

But you will go to church (when church going’s in fashion).

“Just give me a tear—a heart ready to mold.

And I’ll give you a mission, a message so bold—

That a fire will be stirred where there was only death,

And your heart will be flamed by my life and my breath.”

I stuck my hands in my pockets and kicked at the dirt.

It’s tough to be corrected (I guess my feelings were hurt).

But it was worth the struggle to realize the thought.

That the cross isn’t for sale and Christ’s blood can’t be bought. (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Application

Are you trying to win God’s favor? Instead, accept his gift of salvation. God has no price tag attached to his mercy. Jesus paid the price himself.

Obedience Not Sacrifice—1 Samuel 15:22;
Proverbs 21:3; Hosea 6:6.

Dan's Family Captures Laish

At that time Israel did not have a king. And at that time the tribe of Dan was still looking for a land where they could live, a land of their own. The Danites had not yet been given their own land among the tribes of Israel.<sup>2</sup>So, from their family groups, they chose five soldiers from the cities of Zorah and Eshtaol to spy out and explore the land. They were told, “Go, explore the land.”

They came to the mountains of Ephraim, to Micah's house, where they spent the night.<sup>3</sup>When they came near Micah's house, they recognized the voice of the young Levite. So they stopped there and asked him, “Who brought you here? What are you doing here? Why are you here?”

<sup>4</sup>He told them what Micah had done for him, saying, “He hired me. I am his priest.”

<sup>5</sup>They said to him, “Please ask God if our journey will be successful.”

<sup>6</sup>The priest said to them, “Go in peace. The Lord is pleased with your journey.”

<sup>7</sup>So the five men left. When they came to the city of Laish, they saw that the people there lived in safety, like the people of Sidon. They thought they were safe and had plenty of everything. They lived a long way from the Sidonians and had no dealings with anyone else.

<sup>8</sup>When the five men returned to Zorah and Eshtaol, their relatives asked them, “What did you find?”

<sup>9</sup>They answered, “We have seen the land, and it is very good. We should attack them. Aren't you going to do something? Don't wait! Let's go and take that land! <sup>10</sup>When you go, you will see there is plenty of land—plenty of everything! The people are not expecting an attack. Surely God has handed that land over to us!”

<sup>11</sup>So six hundred Danites left Zorah and Eshtaol ready for war. <sup>12</sup>On their way they set up camp near the city of Kiriath Jearim in Judah. That is why the place west of Kiriath Jearim is named Mahaneh Dan to this day. <sup>13</sup>From there they traveled on to the mountains of Ephraim. Then they came to Micah's house.

<sup>14</sup>The five men who had explored the land around Laish said to their relatives, “Do you know in one of these houses there are a holy vest, household gods, an idol, and a statue? You know what to do.” <sup>15</sup>So they stopped at the Levite's house, which was also Micah's house, and greeted the Levite. <sup>16</sup>The six hundred Danites stood at the entrance gate, wearing their weapons of war. <sup>17</sup>The five spies went into the house and took the idol, the holy vest, the household idols, and the statue. The priest and the six hundred men armed for war stood by the entrance gate.

<sup>18</sup>When the spies went into Micah's house and took the image, the holy vest, the household idols, and the statue, the priest asked them, “What are you doing?”

<sup>19</sup>They answered, “Be quiet! Don't say a word. Come with us and be our father and priest. Is it better for you to be a priest for one man's house or for a tribe and family group in Israel?” <sup>20</sup>This made the priest happy. So he took the holy vest, the household idols, and the idol and went with the Danites. <sup>21</sup>They left Micah's house, putting their little children, their animals, and everything they owned in front of them.

<sup>22</sup>When they had gone a little way from Micah's house, the men who lived near Micah were called out and caught up with them. <sup>23</sup>The men with Micah shouted at the Danites, who turned around and said to Micah, "What's the matter with you? Why have you been called out to fight?"

<sup>24</sup>Micah answered, "You took my gods that I made and my priest. What do I have left? How can you ask me, 'What's the matter?'"

<sup>25</sup>The Danites answered, "You should not argue with us. Some of our angry men might attack you, killing you and your family." <sup>26</sup>Then the Danites went on their way. Micah knew they were too strong for him, so he turned and went back home.

<sup>27</sup>Then the Danites took what Micah had made and his priest and went on to Laish. They attacked those peaceful people and killed them with their swords and then burned the city. <sup>28</sup>There was no one to save the people of Laish. They lived too far from Sidon, and they had no dealings with anyone else. Laish was in a valley near Beth Rehob.

The people of Dan rebuilt the city and lived there. <sup>29</sup>They changed the name of Laish to Dan, naming it for their ancestor Dan, one of the sons of Israel.

<sup>30</sup>The people of Dan set up the idols in the city of Dan. Jonathan son of Gershom, Moses' son, and his sons served as priests for the tribe of Dan until the land was captured. <sup>31</sup>The people of Dan set up the idols Micah had made as long as the Holy Tent of God was in Shiloh.

A Levite and His Servant

At that time Israel did not have a king. There was a Levite who lived in the faraway mountains of Ephraim. He had taken a slave woman from the city of Bethlehem in the land of Judah to live with him,<sup>2</sup> but she was unfaithful to him. She left him and went back to her father's house in Bethlehem in Judah and stayed there for four months.<sup>3</sup> Then her husband went to ask her to come back to him, taking with him his servant and two donkeys. When the Levite came to her father's house, she invited him to come in, and her father was happy to see him.<sup>4</sup> The father-in-law, the young woman's father, asked him to stay. So he stayed for three days and ate, drank, and slept there.

<sup>5</sup>On the fourth day they got up early in the morning. The Levite was getting ready to leave, but the woman's father said to his son-in-law, "Refresh yourself by eating something. Then go."<sup>6</sup> So the two men sat down to eat and drink together. After that, the father said to him, "Please stay tonight. Relax and enjoy yourself."<sup>7</sup> When the man got up to go, his father-in-law asked him to stay. So he stayed again that night.<sup>8</sup> On the fifth day the man got up early in the morning to leave. The woman's father said, "Refresh yourself. Wait until this afternoon." So the two men ate together.

<sup>9</sup>When the Levite, his slave woman, and his servant got up to leave, the father-in-law, the young woman's father, said, "It's almost night. The day is almost gone. Spend the night here and enjoy yourself. Tomorrow morning you can get up early and go home.”<sup>10</sup>But the Levite did not want to stay another night. So he took his two saddled donkeys and his slave woman and traveled toward the city of Jebus (also called Jerusalem).

<sup>11</sup>As the day was almost over, they came near Jebus. So the servant said to his master, “Let’s stop at this city of the Jebusites, and spend the night here.”

<sup>12</sup>But his master said, “No. We won’t go inside a foreign city. Those people are not Israelites. We will go on to the city of Gibeah.”<sup>13</sup>He said, “Come on. Let’s try to make it to Gibeah or Ramah so we can spend the night in one of those cities.”

<sup>14</sup>So they went on. The sun went down as they came near Gibeah, which belongs to the tribe of Benjamin.<sup>15</sup>They stopped there to spend the night. They came to the public square of the city and sat down, but no one invited them home to spend the night.

<sup>16</sup>Finally, in the evening an old man came in from his work in the fields. His home was in the mountains of Ephraim, but now he was living in Gibeah. (The people of Gibeah were from the tribe of Benjamin.)<sup>17</sup>He saw the traveler in the public square and asked, “Where are you going? Where did you come from?”

<sup>18</sup>The Levite answered, “We are traveling from Bethlehem in Judah to my home in the mountains of Ephraim. I have been to Bethlehem in Judah, but now I am going to the Holy Tent of the Lord. No one has invited me to stay in his house.<sup>19</sup>We already have straw and food for our donkeys and bread and wine for me, the young woman, and my servant. We don’t need anything.”

<sup>20</sup>The old man said, “You are welcome to stay at my house.

Let me give you anything you need, but don't spend the night in the public square.”<sup>21</sup> So the old man took the Levite into his house, and he fed their donkeys. They washed their feet and had something to eat and drink.

<sup>22</sup>While they were enjoying themselves, some wicked men of the city surrounded the house and beat on the door. They shouted to the old man who owned the house, “Bring out the man who came to your house. We want to have sexual relations with him.”

<sup>23</sup>The owner of the house went outside and said to them, “No, my friends. Don't be so evil. This man is a guest in my house. Don't do this terrible thing!”<sup>24</sup> Look, here are my daughter, who has never had sexual relations before, and the man's slave woman. I will bring them out to you now. Do anything you want with them, but don't do such a terrible thing to this man.”

<sup>25</sup>But the men would not listen to him. So the Levite took his slave woman and sent her outside to them. They forced her to have sexual relations with them, and they abused her all night long. Then, at dawn, they let her go.<sup>26</sup> She came back to the house where her master was staying and fell down at the door and lay there until daylight.

<sup>27</sup>In the morning when the Levite got up, he opened the door of the house and went outside to go on his way. But his slave woman was lying at the doorway of the house, with her hands on the doorsill.<sup>28</sup> The Levite said to her, “Get up; let's go.” But she did not answer. So he put her on his donkey and went home.

<sup>29</sup>When the Levite got home, he took a knife and cut his slave woman into twelve parts, limb by limb. Then he sent a part to each area of Israel.<sup>30</sup>Everyone who saw this said, “Nothing like this has ever happened before, not since the people of Israel came out of Egypt. Think about it. Tell us what to do.”

Life Lessons

Judges 19:1–21:25

Situation

A Levite priest cruelly and unjustly handed over his concubine to be abused by wicked men living in Gibeah, a village of the Benjamites. When he got home, the priest cut her corpse into twelve parts and sent each tribe in Israel a part to dramatize the shamefulness of the act perpetrated by the men of Gibeah.

Observation

We must protect the helpless and vulnerable, as we trust God to protect us.

Inspiration

That was the night God gave me real compassion for whites—the night those Mississippi police officers beat me almost to death.

It was Saturday, February 7, 1970, about 6:30 p.m. Here’s how I described the scene later in the court trial: “When I got to the jail and saw the people in jail, of course I was horrified as to why we were arrested and when I got in the jail Sheriff Jonathan Edwards came over to me right away and said, ‘This is the smart nigger, and this is a new ballgame. You’re not in Simpson county now; you are in Brandon.’ He began to beat me, and from that time on they continued beating me.”

It got worse as the night wore on. One officer brought a fork over to me and said, “Do you see this?” And he jammed it up my nose. Then he crammed it down my throat. Then they beat me to the ground again and stomped on me.

... I remember their faces—so twisted with hate. It was like looking at white faced demons. For the first time I saw what hate had done to those people. These policemen were poor. They saw themselves as failures. The only way they knew how to find a sense of self worth was by beating us. Their racism made them feel like “somebody.”

My beating and the frustration and bitterness that followed took their toll. In July of 1970 I had a heart attack. I was hospitalized in Mound Bayou, a small black community where I had helped organize some co-ops. After a partial recovery I found myself back in the same hospital with ulcers. Dr. Harvey Sanders, a black doctor, had to take out two thirds of my stomach.

Lying in that hospital bed I had a lot of time to think. I thought about blacks and whites. About how, in a country that claimed to stand for “liberty and justice for all,” a black man in Mississippi could get no justice. I thought about how in Mississippi, “Christians” were the most racist whites of all.

... The Spirit of God worked on me as I lay in that bed. An image formed in my mind—the image of a cross, of Christ on the cross. This Jesus knew what I had suffered. He understood. He cared. Because he had gone through it all himself.

I read Matthew 6:14–15 again and again in that bed: “For if you forgive men for their transgressions, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if you do not forgive men, then your heavenly Father will not forgive your transgressions.” To receive God’s forgiveness I was going to have to forgive those who had hurt me. As I prayed, the faces of those policemen passed before me one by one and I forgave each one. Faces of other white people from the past came before me, and I forgave them. I could sense that God was working a deep inner healing in me that went back beyond February 7, 1970. It went clear back to my earliest memories of childhood. God was healing all those wounds that had kept me from loving whites. How sweet God’s forgiveness and healing was! (From With Justice for All by John Perkins)

The War Between Israel and Benjamin

So all the Israelites from Dan to Beersheba, including the land of Gilead, joined together before the Lord in the city of Mizpah.

<sup>2</sup>The leaders of all the tribes of Israel took their places in the meeting of the people of God. There were 400,000 soldiers with swords. <sup>3</sup>(The people of Benjamin heard that the Israelites had gone up to Mizpah.) Then the Israelites said to the Levite, “Tell us how this evil thing happened.”

<sup>4</sup>So the husband of the murdered woman answered, “My slave woman and I came to Gibeah in Benjamin to spend the night. <sup>5</sup>During the night the men of Gibeah came after me. They surrounded the house and wanted to kill me. They forced my slave woman to have sexual relations and she died. <sup>6</sup>I took her and cut her into parts and sent one part to each area of Israel because the people of Benjamin did this wicked and terrible thing in Israel. <sup>7</sup>Now, all you Israelites, speak up. What is your decision?”

<sup>8</sup>Then all the people stood up at the same time, saying, “None of us will go home. Not one of us will go back to his house! <sup>9</sup>Now this is what we will do to Gibeah. We will throw lots. <sup>10</sup>That way we will choose ten men from every hundred men from all the tribes of Israel, and we will choose a hundred men from every thousand, and a thousand men from every ten thousand. These will find supplies for the army. Then the army will go to the city of Gibeah of Benjamin to repay them for the terrible thing they have done in Israel.” <sup>11</sup>So all the men of Israel were united and gathered against the city.

<sup>12</sup>The tribes of Israel sent men throughout the tribe of Benjamin demanding, “What is this evil thing some of your men have done? <sup>13</sup>Hand over the wicked men in Gibeah so that we can put them to death. We must remove this evil from Israel.”

But the Benjaminites would not listen to their fellow Israelites. <sup>14</sup>The Benjaminites left their own cities and met at Gibeah to fight the Israelites. <sup>15</sup>In only one day the Benjaminites got 26,000 soldiers together who were trained with swords. They also had 700 chosen men from Gibeah. <sup>16</sup>Seven hundred of these trained soldiers were left-handed, each of whom could sling a stone at a hair and not miss!

<sup>18</sup>The Israelites went up to the city of Bethel and asked God, “Which tribe shall be first to attack the Benjaminites?”

The Lord answered, “Judah shall go first.”

The Lord answered, “Go up and fight them.” The men of Israel encouraged each other. So they took the same battle positions they had taken the first day.

<sup>24</sup>The Israelites came to fight the Benjaminites the second day. <sup>25</sup>The Benjaminites came out of Gibeah to attack the Israelites. This time, the Benjaminites killed 18,000 Israelites, all of whom carried swords.

<sup>26</sup>Then the Israelites went up to Bethel. There they sat down and cried to the Lord and went without food all day until evening. They also brought burnt offerings and fellowship offerings to the Lord. <sup>27</sup>The Israelites asked the Lord a question. (In those days the Ark of the Agreement with God was there at Bethel. <sup>28</sup>A priest named Phinehas son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron, served before the Ark of the Agreement.) They asked, “Shall we go to fight our relatives, the Benjaminites, again, or shall we stop fighting?”

The Lord answered, “Go, because tomorrow I will hand them over to you.”

<sup>29</sup>Then the Israelites set up ambushes all around Gibeah. <sup>30</sup>They went to fight against the Benjaminites at Gibeah on the third day, getting into position for battle as they had done before. <sup>31</sup>When the Benjaminites came out to fight them, the Israelites backed up and led the Benjaminites away from the city. The Benjaminites began to kill some of the Israelites as they had done before. About thirty Israelites were killed—some in the fields and some on the roads leading to Bethel and to Gibeah.

But the Israelites said, “Let’s run. Let’s trick them into going farther away from their city and onto the roads.”

<sup>33</sup>All the Israelites moved from their places and got into battle positions at a place named Baal Tamar. Then the Israelites ran out from their hiding places west of Gibeah. <sup>34</sup>Ten thousand of the best trained soldiers from all of Israel attacked Gibeah. The battle was very hard. The Benjaminites did not know disaster was about to come to them. <sup>35</sup>The Lord used the Israelites to defeat the Benjaminites. On that day the Israelites killed 25,100 Benjaminites, all armed with swords.<sup>36</sup> Then the Benjaminites saw that they were defeated.

The Israelites had moved back because they were depending on the surprise attack they had set up near Gibeah.<sup>37</sup> The men in hiding rushed into Gibeah, spread out, and killed everyone in the city with their swords.<sup>38</sup> Now the Israelites had set up a signal with the men in hiding. The men in the surprise attack were to send up a cloud of smoke from the city.<sup>39</sup> Then the army of Israel turned around in the battle.

The Benjaminites had killed about thirty Israelites. They were saying, “We are winning, as in the first battle!”<sup>40</sup> But then a cloud of smoke began to rise from the city. The Benjaminites turned around and saw that the whole city was going up in smoke.<sup>41</sup> Then the Israelites turned and began to fight. The Benjaminites were terrified because they knew that disaster was coming to them.<sup>42</sup> So the Benjaminites ran away from the Israelites toward the desert, but they could not escape the battle. And the Israelites who came out of the cities killed them.<sup>43</sup> They surrounded the Benjaminites and chased them and caught them in the area east of Gibeah.<sup>44</sup> So 18,000 brave Benjaminite fighters were killed.<sup>45</sup> The Benjaminites ran toward the desert to the rock of Rimmon, but the Israelites killed 5,000 Benjaminites along the roads. They chased them as far as Gidom and killed 2,000 more Benjaminites there.

<sup>46</sup>On that day 25,000 Benjaminites were killed, all of whom had fought bravely with swords.<sup>47</sup> But 600 Benjaminites ran to the rock of Rimmon in the desert, where they stayed for four months.<sup>48</sup> Then the Israelites went back to the land of Benjamin and killed the people in every city and also the animals and everything they could find. And they burned every city they found.

Wives for the Men of Benjamin

At Mizpah the men of Israel had sworn, “Not one of us will let his daughter marry a man from the tribe of Benjamin.”

<sup>2</sup>The people went to the city of Bethel and sat before God until evening, crying loudly. <sup>3</sup>They said, “Lord, God of Israel, why has this terrible thing happened to us so that one tribe of Israel is missing today?”

<sup>4</sup>Early the next day the people built an altar and put burnt offerings and fellowship offerings to God on it.

<sup>5</sup>Then the Israelites asked, “Did any tribe of Israel not come here to meet with us in the presence of the Lord?” They asked this question because they had sworn that anyone who did not meet with them at Mizpah would be killed.

<sup>6</sup>The Israelites felt sorry for their relatives, the Benjaminites. They said, “Today one tribe has been cut off from Israel. <sup>7</sup>We swore before the Lord that we would not allow our daughters to marry a Benjaminite. How can we make sure that the remaining men of Benjamin will have wives?” <sup>8</sup>Then they asked, “Which one of the tribes of Israel did not come here to Mizpah?” They found that no one from the city of Jabesh Gilead had come. <sup>9</sup>The people of Israel counted everyone, but there was no one from Jabesh Gilead.

<sup>10</sup>So the whole group of Israelites sent twelve thousand soldiers to Jabesh Gilead to kill the people with their swords, even the women and children.

hundred young unmarried women in Jabesh Gilead, so they brought them to the camp at Shiloh in Canaan.

<sup>13</sup>Then the whole group of Israelites sent a message to the men of Benjamin, who were at the rock of Rimmon, offering to make peace with them. <sup>14</sup>So the men of Benjamin came back at that time. The Israelites gave them the women from Jabesh Gilead who had not been killed, but there were not enough women.

<sup>15</sup>The people of Israel felt sorry for the Benjaminites because the Lord had separated the tribes of Israel. <sup>16</sup>The older leaders of the Israelites said, “The women of Benjamin have been killed. Where can we get wives for the men of Benjamin who are still alive? <sup>17</sup>These men must have children to continue their families so a tribe in Israel will not die out. <sup>18</sup>But we cannot allow our daughters to marry them, because we swore, ‘Anyone who gives a wife to a man of Benjamin is cursed.’ <sup>19</sup>We have an idea! There is a yearly festival of the Lord at Shiloh, which is north of the city of Bethel, east of the road that goes from Bethel to Shechem, and south of the city of Lebonah.”

<sup>23</sup>So that is what the Benjaminites did. While the young women were dancing, each man caught one of them, took her away, and married her. Then they went back to the land God had given them and rebuilt their cities and lived there.

<sup>24</sup>Then the Israelites went home to their own tribes and family groups, to their own land that God had given them.

<sup>25</sup>In those days Israel did not have a king. Everyone did what seemed right.

The Book of Ruth

Introduction

Here is a play with four characters.

Character number one is a prostitute.

Character number two is her son. By the time we meet him he is wealthy, powerful, and single. (We wonder if his bachelorhood has anything to do with being the son of a prostitute.)

Character number three is a foreign widow in a clannish culture. Everything about her is different. Speaks with an accent. Wears a different name. Eats different food. Has a different way. Her only friend is her mother-in-law who happens also to be a widow and happens to be:

Character number four. She is older than the first widow. Too old to have kids. When her two sons die and her husband dies, she is left alone. With only a foreigner as a friend.

Four people. Each rejected. Each alone. Four frazzled strings in the bottom of the knitting basket. Left untouched, awaiting the toss of the master-weaver. But he doesn't discard them.

He picks them up and weaves them together.

The result? The unmarried son of the prostitute meets the foreign widow who left her homeland to accompany her mother-in-law. The mother-in-law recognizes the bachelor as a relative and urges her daughter-in-law to make herself available. She does, the two marry, and the single bachelor has a wife—the young widow has a husband and the older widow has a grandson and we have a story of providential romance.

Such is the story of Ruth.

You'll recognize her as the younger widow. The older is named Naomi. Boaz is the son of the prostitute. And the prostitute? Well, she isn't mentioned in this book. But she is mentioned in, of all places, the Gospel of Matthew.

Read the words in the parentheses of Matthew 1:5. Go ahead and flip over there, I'll wait for you.

Did you see it? Salmon was the father of Boaz. (Boaz's mother was Rahab.)

Who would've thought? A harlot on Jesus' family tree.

But these kind of things happen in the Bible. Aren't we glad they do? Aren't we glad the master-weaver has a place in his plan for each of us?

About This Book

Author:

Jewish tradition says Samuel, others say Ezra, no one knows with certainty.

Date Written:

After the era of Judges which was 1375–1050 B.C.

Key Themes:

- Ruth was intensely loyal to her mother-in-law Naomi.
- Because of Ruth's loyalty she traveled to a new place and married into a Hebrew family.
- Obed was born to Ruth and was an ancestor of King David and Jesus Christ.

Key Verse:

“But Ruth said, ‘Don't beg me to leave you or to stop following you. Where you go, I will go. Where you live, I will live. Your people will be my people, and your God will be my God”(Ruth 1:16).

Contents:

1. Ruth and Naomi 1:1-22
2. Naomi’s Plan 3:1-18
3. The Marriage 4:1-22

Life Lessons

Ruth 1:1–22

Situation

The story of Ruth took place sometime during the rule of the Judges. Those were dark days for Israel, when “everyone did what seemed right” to him (Judges 17:6). But during those dark days and evil times many remained faithful to God.

Observation

Naomi and Ruth portrayed beautiful examples of loyalty, friendship, and commitment to each other and to God.

Inspiration

One relationship of this caliber can buoy us through the fiercest storms. It was the Beatles who sang, “Will you still need me, will you still feed me, when I’m sixty-four?” Oh, the agony of being sixty-four (or any age, for that matter) and having no one to care for you or need you. Happy are those who have one companion, one relationship that is not based on looks or performance. Every person is in dire need of at least one faithful friend, or a mate who will look him in the eye and say, “I will never leave you. You may grow old and gray, but I’ll never leave you. Your face may wrinkle and your body may ruin, but I’ll never leave you. The years may be cruel and the times may be hard, but I’ll be here. I will never leave you.” (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Application

Think for a minute about the people in your world. What do they think of your commitment to them? How would they rate your faithfulness? Does your loyalty ever waver? With whom are you a friend forever? Pray for that person(s) today.

Exploration

Commitment—1 Samuel 20:16–17; 2 Chronicles 15:14–15; Esther 4:16; Psalm 37:5; Proverbs 17:17; Luke 9:23–27.

Long ago when the judges ruled Israel, there was a shortage of food in the land. <sup>2</sup>So a man named Elimelech left the town of Bethlehem in Judah to live in the country of Moab with his wife and his two sons. His wife was named Naomi, and his two sons were named Mahlon and Kilion. They were Ephrathahites from Bethlehem in Judah. When they came to Moab, they settled there.

When Naomi kissed the women goodbye, they began to cry out loud. <sup>10</sup>They said to her, "No, we want to go with you to your people."

<sup>11</sup>But Naomi said, “My daughters, return to your own homes. Why do you want to go with me? I cannot give birth to more sons to give you new husbands; <sup>12</sup>go back, my daughters, to your own homes. I am too old to have another husband. Even if I told myself, ‘I still have hope’ and had another husband tonight, and even if I had more sons, <sup>13</sup>should you wait until they were grown into men? Should you live for so many years without husbands? Don’t do that, my daughters. My life is much too sad for you to share, because the Lord has been against me!”

<sup>15</sup>Naomi said to Ruth, “Look, your sister-in-law is going back to her own people and her own gods. Go back with her.”

Ruth Stays with Naomi

<sup>16</sup>But Ruth said, “Don’t beg me to leave you or to stop following you. Where you go, I will go. Where you live, I will live. Your people will be my people, and your God will be my God. <sup>17</sup>And where you die, I will die, and there I will be buried. I ask the Lord to punish me terribly if I do not keep this promise: Not even death will separate us.”

<sup>18</sup>When Naomi saw that Ruth had firmly made up her mind to go with her, she stopped arguing with her. <sup>19</sup>So Naomi and Ruth went on until they came to the town of Bethlehem. When they entered Bethlehem, all the people became very excited. The women of the town said, “Is this really Naomi?”

<sup>20</sup>Naomi answered the people, “Don’t call me Naomi. Call me Mara, because the Almighty has made my life very sad.

<sup>21</sup>When I left, I had all I wanted, but now, the Lord has brought me home with nothing. Why should you call me Naomi when the Lord has spoken against me and the Almighty has given me so much trouble?"

<sup>22</sup>So Naomi and her daughter-in-law Ruth, the Moabite, returned from Moab and arrived at Bethlehem at the beginning of the barley harvest.

Life Lessons

Ruth 2:1–23

Situation

God rewarded Ruth's loyalty to Naomi when she went to glean barley in the fields of Boaz. Boaz recognized her as a woman of worth and made sure his workers left extra barley stalks for her. Even though Ruth had to work hard, she was thankful for what she had; she was not bitter and despondent.

Observation

Boaz exhibited small acts of kindness. These small acts produced great rewards.

Inspiration

Sometimes people think that the only significant things they do are those for which they receive public recognition... . We think that in order to do something of ultimate importance we must write the great American novel or paint some artistic masterpiece. There is a common notion that significance in life depends on some kind of public recognition. But such is not the case. Really gratifying deeds are often done quietly and with hardly any recognition....

Some of the most important things we do in life are often neither dramatic nor memorable. Happily, on Judgment Day, Jesus will reward a lot of people who hardly remember the important things for which they will be honored. Sending a card of appreciation to someone who is a bit down and needs a lift, visiting a shut-in who is lonely, baby-sitting for a harried mother who needs a few hours off, calling someone on the phone to show that you care, and giving a glass of cool water in the name of Christ are not the sorts of things that we even remember doing after they are done. But the people we do them for often remember, and I know that Jesus never forgets.

Ruth Meets Boaz

Now Naomi had a rich relative named Boaz, from Elimelech's family.

<sup>2</sup>One day Ruth, the Moabite, said to Naomi, "I am going to the fields. Maybe someone will be kind enough to let me gather the grain he leaves behind."

Naomi said, "Go, my daughter."

<sup>4</sup>Soon Boaz came from Bethlehem and greeted his workers, "The Lord be with you!"

And the workers answered, "May the Lord bless you!"

<sup>5</sup>Then Boaz asked his servant in charge of the workers, "Whose girl is that?"

<sup>6</sup>The servant answered, "She is the young Moabite woman who came back with Naomi from the country of Moab. <sup>7</sup>She said, 'Please let me follow the workers cutting grain and gather what they leave behind.' She came and has remained here, from morning until just now. She has stopped only a few moments to rest in the shelter."

<sup>8</sup>Then Boaz said to Ruth, "Listen, my daughter. Don't go to gather grain for yourself in another field. Don't even leave this field at all, but continue following closely behind my women workers. <sup>9</sup>Watch to see into which fields they go to cut grain and follow them. I have warned the young men not to bother you. When you are thirsty, you may go and drink from the water jugs that the young men have filled.”

<sup>10</sup>Then Ruth bowed low with her face to the ground and said to him, “I am not an Israelite. Why have you been so kind to notice me?”

<sup>11</sup>Boaz answered her, “I know about all the help you have given your mother-in-law after your husband died. You left your father and mother and your own country to come to a nation where you did not know anyone. <sup>12</sup>May the Lord reward you for all you have done. May your wages be paid in full by the Lord, the God of Israel, under whose wings you have come for shelter.”

<sup>13</sup>Then Ruth said, “I hope I can continue to please you, sir. You have said kind and encouraging words to me, your servant, though I am not one of your servants.”

<sup>14</sup>At mealtime Boaz told Ruth, “Come here. Eat some of our bread and dip it in our sauce.”

So Ruth sat down beside the workers. Boaz handed her some roasted grain, and she ate until she was full; she even had some food left over. <sup>15</sup>When Ruth rose and went back to work, Boaz commanded his workers, “Let her gather even around the piles of cut grain. Don’t tell her to go away. <sup>16</sup>In fact, drop some full heads of grain for her from what you have in your hands, and let her gather them. Don’t tell her to stop.”

<sup>17</sup>So Ruth gathered grain in the field until evening. Then she separated the grain from the chaff, and there was about one-half bushel of barley. <sup>18</sup>Ruth carried the grain into town, and her mother-in-law saw how much she had gathered. Ruth also took out the food that was left over from lunch and gave it to Naomi.

<sup>19</sup>Naomi asked her, “Where did you gather all this grain today? Where did you work? Blessed be whoever noticed you!”

Ruth told her mother-in-law whose field she had worked in. She said, “The man I worked with today is named Boaz.”

<sup>20</sup>Naomi told her daughter-in-law, “The Lord bless him! He continues to be kind to us—both the living and the dead!” Then Naomi told Ruth, “Boaz is one of our close relatives, one who should take care of us.”

<sup>21</sup>Then Ruth, the Moabite, said, “Boaz also told me, ‘Keep close to my workers until they have finished my whole harvest.’”

<sup>22</sup>But Naomi said to her daughter-in-law Ruth, “It is better for you to continue working with his women workers. If you work in another field, someone might hurt you.” <sup>23</sup>So Ruth continued working closely with the workers of Boaz, gathering grain until the barley harvest and the wheat harvest were finished. And she continued to live with Naomi, her mother-in-law.

Life Lessons

Ruth 3:1–18

Situation

Naomi sought to find a husband for Ruth. She selected Boaz, a relative and a good-hearted man, to be someone who would care for Ruth, possibly even marry her according to custom. Ruth diligently followed Naomi's instructions and lay at the feet of Boaz at night as a servant would. Her loyalty met with Boaz's approval.

Observation

Both Ruth and Boaz were persons of high moral integrity who selflessly honored the customs and traditions of their people.

Inspiration

I don't see life divided into public and private, secular and sacred. It is all an open place of service before our God. My hope is to see this generation produce a group of Christians who will infiltrate our society—in fact, our entire world—with a pure, beautiful message of grace and honesty in the marketplace.

Recently I had a delightful talk with a keen-thinking young man following one of the worship services at our church. As we visited, I asked about his future plans. "Well, I've just graduated from law school," he said. "I want to be a man of integrity who practices law." What refreshing words! They reflected the right priority. There is not a career worth pursuing where you cannot have integrity. Every vocation cries out for it.

Naomi's Plan

Then Naomi, Ruth's mother-in-law, said to her, "My daughter, I must find a suitable home for you, one that will be good for you. <sup>2</sup>Now Boaz, whose young women you worked with, is our close relative. Tonight he will be working at the threshing floor. <sup>3</sup>Wash yourself, put on perfume, change your clothes, and go down to the threshing floor. But don't let him know you're there until he has finished his dinner. <sup>4</sup>Watch him so you will know where he lies down to sleep. When he lies down, go and lift the cover off his feet and lie down. He will tell you what you should do."

<sup>6</sup>So Ruth went down to the threshing floor and did all her mother-in-law told her to do. <sup>7</sup>After his evening meal, Boaz felt good and went to sleep lying beside the pile of grain. Ruth went to him quietly and lifted the cover from his feet and lay down.

<sup>8</sup>About midnight Boaz was startled and rolled over. There was a woman lying near his feet! <sup>9</sup>Boaz asked, "Who are you?"

She said, "I am Ruth, your servant girl. Spread your cover over me, because you are a relative who is supposed to take care of me."

<sup>10</sup>Then Boaz said, "The Lord bless you, my daughter. This act of kindness is greater than the kindness you showed to Naomi in the beginning. You didn't look for a young man to marry, either rich or poor. <sup>11</sup>Now, my daughter, don't be afraid. I will do everything you ask, because all the people in our town know you are a good woman. <sup>12</sup>It is true that I am a relative who is to take care of you, but you have a closer relative than I. <sup>13</sup>Stay here tonight, and in the morning we will see if he will take care of you. If he decides to take care of you, that is fine. But if he refuses, I will take care of you myself, as surely as the Lord lives. So stay here until morning."

<sup>14</sup>So Ruth stayed near his feet until morning but got up while it was still too dark to recognize anyone. Boaz thought, "People in town must not know that the woman came here to the threshing floor." <sup>15</sup>So Boaz said to Ruth, "Bring me your shawl and hold it open."

So Ruth held her shawl open, and Boaz poured six portions of barley into it. Boaz then put it on her head and went back to the city.

<sup>16</sup>When Ruth went back to her mother-in-law, Naomi asked, "How did you do, my daughter?"

Ruth told Naomi everything that Boaz did for her. <sup>17</sup>She said, "Boaz gave me these six portions of barley, saying, 'You must not go home without a gift for your mother-in-law.'"

<sup>18</sup>Naomi answered, "Ruth, my daughter, wait here until you see what happens. Boaz will not rest until he has finished doing what he should do today."

Life Lessons

Ruth 4:1–22

Situation

Naomi and Ruth waited for the decision of their close relatives. God blessed Ruth with marriage and children. David and Jesus were her descendants.

Observation

When life takes a negative turn, God can turn heartache (Ruth 1:21) into blessing (Ruth 4:14–15).

Inspiration

How far can we go with verses like this one: “In everything God works for the good of those who love him” (Romans 8:28)? Does “everything” include tumors and tests and tempers and terminations? John would answer yes. John would tell you that God can turn any tragedy into a triumph, if only you will wait and watch... .

Could there have been a greater tragedy for John than a dead Jesus? Three years earlier John had turned his back on his career and cast his lot with this Nazarene carpenter. Earlier in the week John had enjoyed a ticker-tape parade as Jesus and the disciples entered Jerusalem. Oh, how quickly things had turned! The people who had called him king on Sunday called for his death the following Friday. These linens were a tangible reminder that his friend and his future were wrapped in cloth and sealed behind a rock.

John didn't know on that Friday what you and I now know. He didn't know that Friday's tragedy would be Sunday's triumph. John would later confess that he "did not yet understand from the Scriptures that Jesus must rise from the dead" (John 20:9).

That's why what he did on Saturday is so important.

We don't know anything about this day; we have no passage to read, no knowledge to share. All we know is this: When Sunday came, John was still present. When Mary Magdalene came looking for him, she found him.

Jesus was dead. The Master's body was lifeless. John's friend and future were buried. But John had not left. Why? Was he waiting for the resurrection? No. As far as he knew, the lips were forever silent and the hands forever still. He wasn't expecting a Sunday surprise. Then why was he here?

You'd think he would have left. Who was to say that the men who crucified Christ wouldn't come after him? The crowds were pleased with one crucifixion; the religious leaders might have called for more. Why didn't John get out of town?

Perhaps the answer was pragmatic; perhaps he was taking care of Jesus' mother. Or perhaps he didn't have anywhere else to go. Could be he didn't have any money or energy or direction ... or all of the above.

Or maybe he lingered because he loved Jesus.

To others, Jesus was a miracle worker. To others, Jesus was a master teacher. To others, Jesus was the hope of Israel. But to John, he was all of these and more. To John, Jesus was a friend.

You don't abandon a friend—not even when that friend is dead. John stayed close to Jesus.

He had a habit of doing this. He was close to Jesus in the upper room. He was close to Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane. He was at the foot of the cross at the crucifixion, and he was a quick walk from the tomb at the burial.

Did he understand Jesus? No.

Was he glad Jesus did what he did? No.

But did he leave Jesus? No.

What about you? When you're in John's position, what do you do? When it's Saturday in your life, how do you react? When you are somewhere between yesterday's tragedy and tomorrow's triumph, what do you do? Do you leave God—or do you linger near him?

John chose to linger. And because he lingered on Saturday, he was around on Sunday to see the miracle...

Which takes us back to the question. Could God do something similar in your life? Could he take what today is a token of tragedy and turn it into a symbol of triumph? (From He Chose the Nails by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you feel like God's abandoned you? Don't give up! Pray that he will give you the patience to see the situation through, and thank him in advance for what he is going to do.

Boaz Marries Ruth

Boaz went to the city gate and sat there until the close relative he had mentioned passed by. Boaz called to him, “Come here, friend, and sit down.” So the man came over and sat down.

<sup>2</sup>Boaz gathered ten of the older leaders of the city and told them, “Sit down here!” So they sat down.

<sup>3</sup>Then Boaz said to the close relative, “Naomi, who has come back from the country of Moab, wants to sell the piece of land that belonged to our relative Elimelech. <sup>4</sup>So I decided to tell you about it: If you want to buy back the land, then buy it in front of the people who are sitting here and in front of the older leaders of my people. But if you don’t want to buy it, tell me, because you are the only one who can buy it, and I am next after you.”

The close relative answered, “I will buy back the land.”

<sup>5</sup>Then Boaz explained, “When you buy the land from Naomi, you must also marry Ruth, the Moabite, the dead man’s wife. That way, the land will stay in the dead man’s name.”

<sup>6</sup>The close relative answered, “I can’t buy back the land. If I did, I might harm what I can pass on to my own sons. I cannot buy the land back, so buy it yourself.”

<sup>7</sup>Long ago in Israel when people traded or bought back something, one person took off his sandal and gave it to the other person. This was the proof of ownership in Israel.

<sup>8</sup>So the close relative said to Boaz, “Buy the land yourself,” and he took off his sandal.

<sup>9</sup>Then Boaz said to the older leaders and to all the people, “You are witnesses today. I am buying from Naomi everything that belonged to Elimelech and Kilion and Mahlon. <sup>10</sup>I am also taking Ruth, the Moabite who was the wife of Mahlon, as my wife. I am doing this so her dead husband’s property will stay in his name and his name will not be separated from his family and his hometown. You are witnesses today.”

<sup>11</sup>So all the people and older leaders who were at the city gate said, “We are witnesses. May the Lord make this woman, who is coming into your home, like Rachel and Leah, who had many children and built up the people of Israel. May you become powerful in the district of Ephrathah and famous in Bethlehem. <sup>12</sup>As Tamar gave birth to Judah’s son Perez, may the Lord give you many children through Ruth. May your family be great like his.”

<sup>13</sup>So Boaz took Ruth home as his wife and had sexual relations with her. The Lord let her become pregnant, and she gave birth to a son. <sup>14</sup>The women told Naomi, “Praise the Lord who gave you this grandson. May he become famous in Israel. <sup>15</sup>He will give you new life and will take care of you in your old age because of your daughter-in-law who loves you. She is better for you than seven sons, because she has given birth to your grandson.”

<sup>16</sup>Naomi took the boy, held him in her arms, and cared for him. <sup>17</sup>The neighbors gave the boy his name, saying, “This boy was born for Naomi.” They named him Obed. Obed was the father of Jesse, and Jesse was the father of David.

<sup>18</sup>This is the family history of Perez, the father of Hezron. <sup>19</sup>Hezron was the father of Ram, who was the father of Amminadab.<sup>20</sup> Amminadab was the father of Nahshon, who was the father of Salmon.<sup>21</sup> Salmon was the father of Boaz, who was the father of Obed.<sup>22</sup> Obed was the father of Jesse, and Jesse was the father of David.

judges They were not judges in courts of law, but leaders of the people in times of emergency.

Naomi This name means “happy” or “pleasant.”

Mara This name means “bitter” or “sad.”

close relatives In Bible times the closest relative could marry a widow without children so she could have children. He would care for this family, but they and their property would not belong to him. They would belong to the dead husband.

lift ... feet This showed Ruth was asking him to be her husband.

Spread ... me By this, Ruth was asking Boaz to marry her.

Perez One of Boaz’s ancestors.

The Book of 1 Samuel

Introduction

It's the end of the race that matters.

Trophies aren't given for great starts. Medals aren't awarded for entering the race. A good start is crucial, but in the end, the end is all that matters.

First Samuel is a book of good starts but bad finishes.

It seems that every key character put his best foot forward and ended up in last place.

Take Eli for example.

A sterling religious leader. A man with a heart for God. Perceptive and strong, the last of the great priests. But look at the end of his life. The Ark of the Agreement has been captured. Two of his rebellious sons are killed. When he hears of their deaths, he falls over and breaks his neck.

Samuel is another case. Dedicated to God's service by Hannah, his mother, he anointed Israel's first kings. But he didn't learn from Eli's mistakes. Just like his mentor, he failed to train his family and his sons turned away from God.

But the most dramatic example is Saul, Israel's first king. He seemed to be the perfect man—handsome and meek, brave and victorious in battle. But success led to disobedience, and he slid from prominence to paranoia to suicide.

Why are these stories in the Bible? To remind us that we, too, are in a race. And that race isn't over. How we started isn't nearly as important as how we finish.

About This Book

Author:

Unknown, though some say Samuel, Nathan, and Gad

Date Written:

Possibly 1000–500 B.C.

Key Themes:

- Samuel's birth was a product of his mother's faith and prayer.
- Saul lost his power and even his sanity when he refused to trust God.
- David found victory against the odds because of his faith.

Key Verse:

“What pleases the Lord more: burnt offerings and sacrifices or obedience to his voice? It is better to obey than to sacrifice. It is better to listen to God than to offer the fat of sheep” (1 Samuel 15:22).

Contents:

1. Samuel's Rise to Power as Judge 1:1–7:17
2. Saul's Rise to Power as King 8:1–16:23
3. David's Rise to Power as King 17:1–31:13

Life Lessons

1 Samuel 1:1–2:11

Situation

As the book of 1 Samuel opens, judges had ruled Israel for more than two hundred years. Eli and Samuel were the last two judges, and Samuel was the first priest and prophet to serve when Israel had a king (Saul, David).

Observation

God rewards persevering faith. For example, Samuel's mother Hannah persevered in prayer, and God gave her a son. Faithful to her promise, she gave her son back to God.

Inspiration

Without continuance the prayer may go unanswered. Importunity is made up of the ability to hold on, to press on, to wait with unrelaxed and unrelaxable grasp, restless desire, and restful patience. Importunate prayer is not an incident but the main thing, not a performance but a passion, not a need but a necessity.

Prayer in its highest form and grandest success assumes the attitude of a wrestler with God. It is the contest, trial, and victory of faith; a victory not secured from an enemy, but from Him who tries our faith that He may enlarge it, who tests our strength to make us stronger. Few things give such quickened and permanent vigor to the soul as a long exhaustive search of importunate prayer. It makes an experience, an epoch, a new calendar for the spirit, a new life to religion, a soldierly training. The Bible never wearies in its pressure and illustration of the fact that the highest spiritual good is secured as the return of the out-going of the highest form of spiritual effort. There is neither encouragement nor room in Bible religion for feeble desires, listless efforts, lazy attitudes; all must be strenuous, urgent, ardent. Inflamed desires, impassioned, unwearied insistence delight heaven. God would have His children incorrigibly in earnest and persistently bold in their efforts . . . .

Our seasons of importunate prayer cut themselves, like the print of a diamond, into our hardest places, and mark with ineffaceable traces our characters. They are the salient periods of our lives, the memorial stones which endure and to which we turn . . . . Pray and never faint is the motto Christ gives us for praying. It is the test of our faith; and the severer the trial and the longer the waiting, the more glorious the result.

(From Purpose in Prayer by E. M. Bounds)

Application

How long do you hang on when it comes to praying for a specific need or desire? Do you give up or persevere? Try keeping a list: (1) what you pray for and when; (2) how God answers and when.

Samuel's Birth

There was a man named Elkanah son of Jeroham from Ramathaim in the mountains of Ephraim. Elkanah was from the family of Zuph. (Jeroham was Elihu's son. Elihu was Tohu's son, and Tohu was the son of Zuph from the family group of Ephraim.)<sup>2</sup>Elkanah had two wives named Hannah and Peninnah. Peninnah had children, but Hannah had none.

<sup>3</sup>Every year Elkanah left his town of Ramah and went up to Shiloh to worship the Lord All-Powerful and to offer sacrifices to him. Shiloh was where Hophni and Phinehas, the sons of Eli, served as priests of the Lord.<sup>4</sup>When Elkanah offered sacrifices, he always gave a share of the meat to his wife Peninnah and to her sons and daughters.<sup>5</sup>But Elkanah always gave a special share of the meat to Hannah, because he loved Hannah and because the Lord had kept her from having children.<sup>6</sup>Peninnah would tease Hannah and upset her, because the Lord had made her unable to have children.<sup>7</sup>This happened every year when they went up to the house of the Lord at Shiloh. Peninnah would upset Hannah until Hannah would cry and not eat anything.<sup>8</sup>Her husband Elkanah would say to her, "Hannah, why are you crying and why won't you eat? Why are you sad? Don't I mean more to you than ten sons?"

<sup>9</sup>Once, after they had eaten their meal in Shiloh, Hannah got up. Now Eli the priest was sitting on a chair near the entrance to the Lord's house.<sup>10</sup>Hannah was so sad that she cried and prayed to the Lord. <sup>11</sup>She made a promise, saying, “Lord All-Powerful, see how sad I am. Remember me and don’t forget me. If you will give me a son, I will give him back to you all his life, and no one will ever cut his hair with a razor.”

<sup>12</sup>While Hannah kept praying, Eli watched her mouth. <sup>13</sup>She was praying in her heart so her lips moved, but her voice was not heard. Eli thought she was drunk <sup>14</sup>and said to her, “Stop getting drunk! Throw away your wine!”

<sup>15</sup>Hannah answered, “No, sir, I have not drunk any wine or beer. I am a deeply troubled woman, and I was telling the Lord about all my problems. <sup>16</sup>Don’t think I am an evil woman. I have been praying because I have many troubles and am very sad.”

<sup>17</sup>Eli answered, “Go! I wish you well. May the God of Israel give you what you asked of him.”

<sup>18</sup>Hannah said, “May I always please you.” When she left and ate something, she was not sad anymore.

<sup>19</sup>Early the next morning Elkanah’s family got up and worshiped the Lord. Then they went back home to Ramah. Elkanah had sexual relations with his wife Hannah, and the Lord remembered her. <sup>20</sup>So Hannah became pregnant, and in time she gave birth to a son. She named him Samuel, saying, “His name is Samuel because I asked the Lord for him.”

Hannah Gives Samuel to God

<sup>21</sup>Every year Elkanah went with his whole family to Shiloh to offer sacrifices and to keep the promise he had made to God.

<sup>22</sup>But one time Hannah did not go with him. She told him, “When the boy is old enough to eat solid food, I will take him to Shiloh. Then I will give him to the Lord, and he will always live there.”

<sup>23</sup>Elkanah, Hannah’s husband, said to her, “Do what you think is best. You may stay home until the boy is old enough to eat. May the Lord do what you have said.” So Hannah stayed at home to nurse her son until he was old enough to eat.

<sup>24</sup>When Samuel was old enough to eat, Hannah took him to the house of the Lord at Shiloh, along with a three-year-old bull, one-half bushel of flour, and a leather bag filled with wine. <sup>25</sup>After they had killed the bull for the sacrifice, Hannah brought Samuel to Eli. <sup>26</sup>She said to Eli, “As surely as you live, sir, I am the same woman who stood near you praying to the Lord. <sup>27</sup>I prayed for this child, and the Lord answered my prayer and gave him to me. <sup>28</sup>Now I give him back to the Lord. He will belong to the Lord all his life.” And he worshiped the Lord there.

Hannah Gives Thanks

Hannah prayed: "The Lord has filled my heart with joy;

I feel very strong in the Lord.
I can laugh at my enemies;
I am glad because you have helped me!

<sup>2</sup>"There is no one holy like the Lord.
There is no God but you;
there is no Rock like our God.

<sup>3</sup>"Don't continue bragging, don't speak proud words.
The Lord is a God who knows everything, and he judges what people do.

<sup>4</sup>"The bows of warriors break, but weak people become strong.

<sup>5</sup>Those who once had plenty of food now must work for food,
but people who were hungry are hungry no more.
The woman who could not have children now has seven,
but the woman who had many children now is sad.

<sup>6</sup>"The Lord sends death, and he brings to life.
He sends people to the grave,
and he raises them to life again.

<sup>7</sup>The Lord makes some people poor, and others he makes rich.

He makes some people humble, and others he makes great.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord raises the poor up from the dust, and he lifts the needy from the ashes.

He lets the poor sit with princes and receive a throne of honor.

“The foundations of the earth belong to the Lord, and the Lord set the world upon them.

<sup>9</sup>He protects those who are loyal to him, but evil people will be silenced in darkness.

Power is not the key to success.

<sup>10</sup>The Lord destroys his enemies;
he will thunder in heaven against them.

The Lord will judge all the earth.

He will give power to his king and make his appointed king strong.”

Eli's Evil Sons

<sup>11</sup>Then Elkanah went home to Ramah, but the boy continued to serve the Lord under Eli the priest.

<sup>12</sup>Now Eli's sons were evil men; they did not care about the Lord. <sup>13</sup>This is what the priests would normally do to the people: Every time someone brought a sacrifice, the meat would be cooked in a pot. The priest's servant would then come carrying a fork that had three prongs. <sup>14</sup>He would plunge the fork into the pot or the kettle. Whatever the fork brought out of the pot belonged to the priest. But this is how they treated all the Israelites who came to Shiloh to offer sacrifices. <sup>15</sup>Even before the fat was burned, the priest's servant would come to the person offering sacrifices and say, "Give the priest some meat to roast. He won't accept boiled meat from you, only raw meat."

<sup>16</sup>If the one who offered the sacrifice said, "Let the fat be burned up first as usual, and then take anything you want," the priest's servant would answer, "No, give me the meat now. If you don't, I'll take it by force."

<sup>17</sup>The Lord saw that the sin of the servants was very great because they did not show respect for the offerings made to the Lord.

Samuel Grows Up

<sup>18</sup>But Samuel obeyed the Lord. As a boy he wore a linen holy vest. <sup>19</sup>Every year Samuel's mother made a little coat for him and took it to him when she went with her husband to Shiloh for the sacrifice. <sup>20</sup>When Eli blessed Elkanah and his wife, he would say, "May the Lord repay you with children through Hannah to take the place of the boy Hannah prayed for and gave back to the Lord." Then Elkanah and Hannah would go home. <sup>21</sup>The Lord was kind to Hannah, so she became the mother of three sons and two daughters. And the boy Samuel grew up serving the Lord.

<sup>22</sup>Now Eli was very old. He heard about everything his sons were doing to all the Israelites and how his sons had sexual relations with the women who served at the entrance to the Meeting Tent. <sup>23</sup>Eli said to his sons, “Why do you do these evil things that the people tell me about? <sup>24</sup>No, my sons. The Lord’s people are spreading a bad report about you. <sup>25</sup>If you sin against someone, God can help you. But if you sin against the Lord himself, no one can help you!” But Eli’s sons would not listen to him, because the Lord had decided to put them to death.

<sup>26</sup>The boy Samuel grew physically. He pleased the Lord and the people.

<sup>27</sup>A man of God came to Eli and said, “This is what the Lord says: ‘I clearly showed myself to the family of your ancestor Aaron when they were slaves to the king of Egypt. <sup>28</sup>I chose them from all the tribes of Israel to be my priests. I wanted them to go up to my altar, to burn incense, and to wear the holy vest. I also let the family of your ancestor have part of all the offerings sacrificed by the Israelites. <sup>29</sup>So why don’t you respect the sacrifices and gifts? You honor your sons more than me. You grow fat on the best parts of the meat the Israelites bring to me.’

<sup>30</sup>“So the Lord, the God of Israel, says: ‘I promised that your family and your ancestor’s family would serve me always.’ But now the Lord says: ‘This must stop! I will honor those who honor me, but I will dishonor those who ignore me. <sup>31</sup>The time is coming when I will destroy the descendants of both you and your ancestors. No man will grow old in your family. <sup>32</sup>You will see trouble in my house. No matter what good things happen to Israel, there will never be an old man in your family. <sup>33</sup>I will not totally cut off your family from my altar. But your eyes will cry and your heart be sad, because all your descendants will die.

<sup>34</sup>“I will give you a sign. Both your sons, Hophni and Phinehas, will die on the same day. <sup>35</sup>I will choose a loyal priest for myself who will listen to me and do what I want. I will make his family continue, and he will always serve before my appointed king. <sup>36</sup>Then everyone left in your family will come and bow down before him. They will beg for a little money or a little food and say, “Please give me a job as priest so I can have food to eat.” ”

Life Lessons

1 Samuel 2:12–3:21

Situation

Contempt, arrogance, and disobedience marked Eli’s sons. Eli dealt with them poorly himself. These major factors contributed to the bleak spiritual climate during Samuel’s childhood. For three centuries no prophet had spoken God’s Word until Samuel was chosen.

Observation

God honors and wants to use people, such as Samuel, who honor him. But those who flagrantly disobey, such as Eli’s sons, God will judge.

Inspiration

It is not only the greatness of the blessings promised by Jesus that encourages us in His service. Their security encourages us too. The young man turned away from Christ because he was unwilling to part with his possessions see [Matthew 19:16–30], but it is an irony of the story that he turned from possessions that were certain to possessions that were at best uncertain. Maybe he lost those possessions before the year was out. Maybe his gold was stolen. His land could have been taken. As in the prodigal's case, his friends could have grown cold and abandoned him.

This point can be made even stronger. God often allows the ungodly to amass great wealth—to their destruction. But if you are one with whom God is dealing and if you put the pursuit of riches (or anything else) before service to Christ, God may take away those riches (and other things) until you turn to Him.

Some years ago Donald Grey Barnhouse was counseling a young woman on the sidewalk in front of Tenth Presbyterian Church following an evening service. She said she was a Christian and that she wanted to follow Christ. But she wanted to be famous too. She wanted to pursue a stage career in New York. "After I have made it in the theater, I'll follow Christ completely," she said.

Barnhouse took a key out of his pocket and scratched a mark on a postal box standing on the corner. "That is what God will let you do," he said. "God will let you scratch the surface of success. He will let you get close enough to the top to know what it is, but He will never let you have it, because He will never let one of His children have anything rather than Himself."

Years later he met the girl again, and she confessed that this had indeed been her life story. She had dabbled in the stage. Once her picture had been in a national magazine. But she had never quite made it. She told Barnhouse, “I can’t tell you how many times in my discouragement I have closed my eyes and seen you scratching on that postal box with your key. God let me scratch the edges, but He gave me nothing in place of Himself.”

How different for those who deny themselves, take up their crosses, and follow Jesus. Their path begins with denial but ends in fulfillment, and the blessings given cannot be snatched away.

God Calls Samuel

The boy Samuel served the Lord under Eli. In those days the Lord did not speak directly to people very often; there were very few visions.

<sup>2</sup>Eli's eyes were so weak he was almost blind. One night he was lying in bed. <sup>3</sup>Samuel was also in bed in the Lord's house, where the Ark of the Agreement was. God's lamp was still burning.

<sup>4</sup>Then the Lord called Samuel, and Samuel answered, "I am here!" <sup>5</sup>He ran to Eli and said, "I am here. You called me."

But Eli said, "I didn't call you. Go back to bed." So Samuel went back to bed.

<sup>6</sup>The Lord called again, "Samuel!"

Samuel again went to Eli and said, "I am here. You called me."

Again Eli said, "I didn't call you. Go back to bed."

<sup>7</sup>Samuel did not yet know the Lord, and the Lord had not spoken directly to him yet.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord called Samuel for the third time. Samuel got up and went to Eli and said, "I am here. You called me."

Then Eli realized the Lord was calling the boy. <sup>9</sup>So he told Samuel, "Go to bed. If he calls you again, say, 'Speak, Lord. I am your servant and I am listening.'" So Samuel went and lay down in bed.

<sup>10</sup>The Lord came and stood there and called as he had before, "Samuel, Samuel!"

Samuel said, "Speak, Lord. I am your servant and I am listening.”

<sup>11</sup>The Lord said to Samuel, “Watch, I am going to do something in Israel that will shock those who hear about it.

<sup>12</sup>At that time I will do to Eli and his family everything I promised, from beginning to end. <sup>13</sup>I told Eli I would punish his family always, because he knew his sons were evil. They acted without honor, but he did not stop them. <sup>14</sup>So I swore to Eli’s family, ‘Your guilt will never be removed by sacrifice or offering.’”

<sup>15</sup>Samuel lay down until morning. Then he opened the doors of the house of the Lord. He was afraid to tell Eli about the vision, <sup>16</sup>but Eli called to him, “Samuel, my son!”

Samuel answered, “I am here.”

<sup>17</sup>Eli asked, “What did the Lord say to you? Don’t hide it from me. May God punish you terribly if you hide from me anything he said to you.” <sup>18</sup>So Samuel told Eli everything and did not hide anything from him. Then Eli said, “He is the Lord. Let him do what he thinks is best.”

<sup>19</sup>The Lord was with Samuel as he grew up; he did not let any of Samuel’s messages fail to come true. <sup>20</sup>Then all Israel, from Dan to Beersheba, knew Samuel was a true prophet of the Lord. <sup>21</sup>And the Lord continued to show himself at Shiloh, and he showed himself to Samuel through his word.

Life Lessons

1 Samuel 4:1–5:12

Situation

When the Israelites improperly brought the Ark of the Agreement into battle with the Philistines, they were routed and the Ark captured. Eli, who had grown lazy in his position, died when he heard that the battle had been lost and his sons killed. The Israelites thought God had abandoned them. At the same time, the Philistines endured plagues when they set the Ark among their idols.

Observation

God's power and support for us is not based on a lucky charm or holy object like the Ark, but on our constant faithfulness to him.

Inspiration

Whenever God appears to people, His glory is veiled. It would be impossible for unredeemed humanity to look on God's unveiled glory and live. Jacob was surprised that he survived after seeing God. And yet the Savior promised that the pure in heart will see God.

That brings us to the inevitable question, If God is Spirit and therefore invisible, will we see God in heaven? The simplest answer is that Jesus is God, and we will certainly see Jesus in heaven.

But perhaps there is more. In heaven the limitations of this earthly body will be set aside. We will have powers that we cannot imagine now.

Although we cannot see God with these mortal eyes, is it not possible that, as one youngster suggested, we will have bigger eyes in heaven? We cannot be wrong in claiming the absolute promise of the Lord Jesus: “Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.”...

True worship is not confined to any place or building on earth. It is not concerned with stained-glass windows, ecclesiastical garments, candles, liturgies, or incense. Rather, in genuine worship we pass from earth to heaven by faith, and there, in the presence of God, we pour out our souls in thanksgiving, praise, and homage to the Lord for all He is and for all He has done for us. (From Alone in Majesty by William MacDonald)

Application

The Israelites worshiped the Ark, rather than God himself. Is there an “ark” in your life? Does something get more attention than God? If so, turn your focus to the ever-present God, whose power transcends any object.

Exploration

Worship—Deuteronomy 5:7; Judges 17:6; 2 Kings 18:4; 2 Chronicles 4:11–16.

So, news about Samuel spread through all of Israel.

The Philistines Capture the Ark of the Agreement

At that time the Israelites went out to fight the Philistines. The Israelites camped at Ebenezer and the Philistines at Aphek.<sup>2</sup>The Philistines went to meet the Israelites in battle. And as the battle spread, they defeated the Israelites, killing about four thousand soldiers on the battlefield.<sup>3</sup>When some Israelite soldiers went back to their camp, the older leaders of Israel asked, “Why did the Lord let the Philistines defeat us? Let’s bring the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord here from Shiloh and take it with us into battle. Then God will save us from our enemies.”

<sup>4</sup>So the people sent men to Shiloh. They brought back the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord All-Powerful, who sits between the gold creatures with wings. Eli’s two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, were there with the Ark.

<sup>5</sup>When the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord came into the camp, all the Israelites gave a great shout of joy that made the ground shake.<sup>6</sup>When the Philistines heard Israel’s shout, they asked, “What’s all this shouting in the Hebrew camp?”

Then the Philistines found out that the Ark of the Lord had come into the Hebrew camp.<sup>7</sup>They were afraid and said, “A god has come into the Hebrew camp! We’re in trouble! This has never happened before!<sup>8</sup>How terrible it will be for us! Who can save us from these powerful gods? They are the ones who struck the Egyptians with all kinds of disasters in the desert. <sup>9</sup>Be brave, Philistines! Fight like men! In the past they were our slaves. So fight like men, or we will become their slaves.”

<sup>10</sup>So the Philistines fought hard and defeated the Israelites, and every Israelite soldier ran away to his own home. It was a great defeat for Israel, because thirty thousand Israelite soldiers were killed. <sup>11</sup>The Ark of God was taken by the Philistines, and Eli’s two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, died.

<sup>12</sup>That same day a man from the tribe of Benjamin ran from the battle. He tore his clothes and put dust on his head to show his great sadness. <sup>13</sup>When he arrived in Shiloh, Eli was by the side of the road. He was sitting there in a chair, watching, because he was worried about the Ark of God. When the Benjaminite entered Shiloh, he told the bad news. Then all the people in town cried loudly. <sup>14</sup>Eli heard the crying and asked, “What’s all this noise?”

The Benjaminite ran to Eli and told him what had happened. <sup>15</sup>Eli was now ninety-eight years old, and he was blind. <sup>16</sup>The Benjaminite told him, “I have come from the battle. I ran all the way here today.”

Eli asked, “What happened, my son?”

<sup>17</sup>The Benjaminite answered, “Israel ran away from the Philistines, and the Israelite army has lost many soldiers. Your two sons are both dead, and the Philistines have taken the Ark of God.”

<sup>18</sup>When he mentioned the Ark of God, Eli fell backward off his chair. He fell beside the gate, broke his neck, and died, because he was old and fat. He had led Israel for forty years.

The Glory Is Gone

<sup>19</sup>Eli's daughter-in-law, the wife of Phinehas, was pregnant and was about to give birth. When she heard the news that the Ark of God had been taken and that Eli, her father-in-law, and Phinehas, her husband, were both dead, she began to give birth to her child. The child was born, but the mother had much trouble in giving birth. <sup>20</sup>As she was dying, the women who helped her said, "Don't worry! You've given birth to a son!" But she did not answer or pay attention. <sup>21</sup>She named the baby Ichabod, saying, "Israel's glory is gone." She said this because the Ark of God had been taken and her father-in-law and husband were dead. <sup>22</sup>She said, "Israel's glory is gone, because the Ark of God has been taken away."

Trouble for the Philistines

After the Philistines had captured the Ark of God, they took it from Ebenezer to Ashdod. <sup>2</sup>They carried it into Dagon's temple and put it next to Dagon. <sup>3</sup>When the people of Ashdod rose early the next morning, they found that Dagon had fallen on his face on the ground before the Ark of the Lord. So they put Dagon back in his place. <sup>4</sup>The next morning when they rose, they again found Dagon fallen on the ground before the Ark of the Lord. His head and hands had broken off and were lying in the doorway. Only his body was still in one piece. <sup>5</sup>So, even today, Dagon's priests and others who enter his temple at Ashdod refuse to step on the doorsill.

<sup>6</sup>The Lord was hard on the people of Ashdod and their neighbors. He caused them to suffer and gave them growths on their skin. <sup>7</sup>When the people of Ashdod saw what was happening, they said, "The Ark of the God of Israel can't stay with us. God is punishing us and Dagon our god." <sup>8</sup>The people of Ashdod called all five Philistine kings together and asked them, "What should we do with the Ark of the God of Israel?"

The rulers answered, "Move the Ark of the God of Israel to Gath." So the Philistines moved it to Gath.

<sup>9</sup>But after they moved it to Gath, there was a great panic. The Lord was hard on that city also, and he gave both old and young people in Gath growths on their skin. <sup>10</sup>Then the Philistines sent the Ark of God to Ekron.

But when it came into Ekron, the people of Ekron yelled, "Why are you bringing the Ark of the God of Israel to our city?"

Do you want to kill us and our people?”<sup>11</sup> So they called all the kings of the Philistines together and said, “Send the Ark of the God of Israel back to its place before it kills us and our people!” All the people in the city were struck with terror because God was so hard on them there.<sup>12</sup> The people who did not die were troubled with growths on their skin. So the people of Ekron cried loudly to heaven.

Life Lessons

1 Samuel 6:1–7:17

Situation

Afflicted by plagues of rats and tumors, the Philistines returned the Ark to Israel. The Israelites rejoiced and under Samuel's direction discarded their idols and former arrogance. Later, when the Philistines invaded, Samuel offered up prayer and sacrifice to God, and the Philistines were routed. Israel lived in peace for many years under Samuel's wise leadership.

Observation

Chapter 7 provides a good illustration of the results of repentance. Israel's confession of sin led to the subduing of the Philistines. The end result was peace (v. 14).

Inspiration

By resisting authority, we bring judgment on ourselves. This judgment can include a lifting of God's presence coupled with some form of calamity...

Once judgment came, Aaron immediately cried out in repentance for himself and Miriam see [Numbers 12:1–15]. God forgave them, but per God's command, Miriam still had to be isolated from the congregation for seven days. There are many questions about why Miriam was struck, but Aaron was not. One reason may be that Miriam was more forceful in her verbal attack than Aaron was. Another common thought is that it was more unseemly for Miriam to speak that way as a woman, and she did not hold quite as pivotal a position. Another reason may be that Aaron, high priest, had to remain in his position with the anointing upon him. Whatever the reason, this incident shows how seriously God views this matter.

Judgment for resistance to spiritual authority is more often than not an opportunity to learn and grow. After such a close call, people who repent often end up among the most faithful in the church. Resistance does not always proceed from an evil heart; it is often committed out of ignorance. Once the realization comes, repentance immediately follows. Sometimes this can take a while because some people have a higher tolerance for the pain that results from kicking against the goads.

It is certain Miriam never forgot her time of humiliation. She did not repeat the behavior, for she was not insubordinate again. However, not all turn as Miriam and Aaron did or learn from their example. Others within the same congregation later rose up against God's established authority. They did not repent, and they received everlasting judgment. (From Under Cover by John Bevere)

Application

What is in your life right now that needs to be confessed? Repentance may be your first step toward true freedom in Christ. Examine your heart to see if there are any bad thoughts, feelings, or attitudes there. If necessary, confess them, and find the peace that comes from forgiveness.

The Ark of God Is Sent Home

The Philistines kept the Ark of God in their land seven months. <sup>2</sup>Then they called for their priests and magicians and said, “What should we do with the Ark of the Lord? Tell us how to send it back home!”

<sup>3</sup>The priests and magicians answered, “If you send back the Ark of the God of Israel, don’t send it back empty. You must give a penalty offering. If you are then healed, you will know that it was because of the Ark that you had such trouble.”

<sup>4</sup>The Philistines asked, “What kind of penalty offering should we send to Israel’s God?”

They answered, “Make five gold models of the growths on your skin and five gold models of rats. The number of models must match the number of Philistine kings, because the same sickness has come on you and your kings. <sup>5</sup>Make models of the growths and the rats that are ruining the country, and give honor to Israel’s God. Then maybe he will stop being so hard on you, your gods, and your land. <sup>6</sup>Don’t be stubborn like the king of Egypt and the Egyptians. After God punished them terribly, they let the Israelites leave Egypt.

<sup>7</sup>“You must build a new cart and get two cows that have just had calves. These must be cows that have never had yokes on their necks. Hitch the cows to the cart, and take the calves home, away from their mothers. <sup>8</sup>Put the Ark of the Lord on the cart and the gold models for the penalty offering in a box beside the Ark. Then send the cart straight on its way.

<sup>9</sup>Watch the cart. If it goes toward Beth Shemesh in Israel's own land, the Lord has given us this great sickness. But if it doesn't, we will know that Israel's God has not punished us. Our sickness just happened by chance."

<sup>10</sup>The Philistines did what the priests and magicians said. They took two cows that had just had calves and hitched them to the cart, but they kept their calves at home. <sup>11</sup>They put the Ark of the Lord and the box with the gold rats and models of growths on the cart. <sup>12</sup>Then the cows went straight toward Beth Shemesh. They stayed on the road, mooing all the way, and did not turn right or left. The Philistine kings followed the cows as far as the border of Beth Shemesh.

<sup>13</sup>Now the people of Beth Shemesh were harvesting their wheat in the valley. When they looked up and saw the Ark of the Lord, they were very happy. <sup>14</sup>The cart came to the field belonging to Joshua of Beth Shemesh and stopped near a large rock. The people of Beth Shemesh chopped up the wood of the cart. Then they sacrificed the cows as burnt offerings to the Lord. <sup>15</sup>The Levites took down the Ark of the Lord and the box that had the gold models, and they put both on the large rock. That day the people of Beth Shemesh offered whole burnt offerings and made sacrifices to the Lord. <sup>16</sup>After the five Philistine kings saw this, they went back to Ekron the same day.

<sup>17</sup>The Philistines had sent these gold models of the growths as penalty offerings to the Lord. They sent one model for each Philistine town: Ashdod, Gaza, Ashkelon, Gath, and Ekron. <sup>18</sup>And the Philistines also sent gold models of rats. The number of rats matched the number of towns belonging to the Philistine kings, including both strong, walled cities and country villages. The large rock on which they put the Ark of the Lord is still there in the field of Joshua of Beth Shemesh.

<sup>19</sup>But some of the men of Beth Shemesh looked into the Ark of the Lord. So God killed seventy of them. The people of Beth Shemesh cried because the Lord had struck them down. <sup>20</sup>They said, “Who can stand before the Lord, this holy God? Whom will he strike next?”

<sup>21</sup>Then they sent messengers to the people of Kiriath Jearim, saying, “The Philistines have brought back the Ark of the Lord. Come down and take it to your city.”

The men of Kiriath Jearim came and took the Ark of the Lord to Abinadab's house on a hill. There they made Abinadab's son Eleazar holy for the Lord so he could guard the Ark of the Lord.

The Lord Saves the Israelites

<sup>2</sup>The Ark stayed at Kiriath Jearim a long time—twenty years in all. And the people of Israel began to follow the Lord again.

<sup>3</sup>Samuel spoke to the whole group of Israel, saying, "If you're turning back to the Lord with all your hearts, you must remove your foreign gods and your idols of Ashtoreth. You must give yourselves fully to the Lord and serve only him. Then he will save you from the Philistines."

<sup>4</sup>So the Israelites put away their idols of Baal and Ashtoreth, and they served only the Lord.

<sup>5</sup>Samuel said, "All Israel must meet at Mizpah, and I will pray to the Lord for you." <sup>6</sup>So the Israelites met together at Mizpah. They drew water from the ground and poured it out before the Lord and did not eat that day. They confessed, "We have sinned against the Lord." And Samuel served as judge of Israel at Mizpah.

<sup>7</sup>The Philistines heard the Israelites were meeting at Mizpah, so the Philistine kings came up to attack them. When the Israelites heard they were coming, they were afraid. <sup>8</sup>They said to Samuel, "Don't stop praying to the Lord our God for us! Ask him to save us from the Philistines!" <sup>9</sup>Then Samuel took a baby lamb and offered it to the Lord as a whole burnt offering. He called to the Lord for Israel's sake, and the Lord answered him.

<sup>10</sup>While Samuel was burning the offering, the Philistines came near to attack Israel. But the Lord thundered against them with loud thunder. They were so frightened they became confused. So the Israelites defeated the Philistines in battle. <sup>11</sup>The men of Israel ran out of Mizpah and chased the Philistines almost to Beth Car, killing the Philistines along the way.

Peace Comes to Israel

<sup>12</sup>After this happened Samuel took a stone and set it up between Mizpah and Shen. He named the stone Ebenezer, saying, “The Lord has helped us to this point.” <sup>13</sup>So the Philistines were defeated and did not enter the Israelites’ land again.

The Lord was against the Philistines all Samuel’s life. <sup>14</sup>Earlier the Philistines had taken towns from the Israelites, but the Israelites won them back, from Ekron to Gath. They also took back from the Philistines the lands near these towns. There was peace also between Israel and the Amorites.

<sup>15</sup>Samuel continued as judge of Israel all his life. <sup>16</sup>Every year he went from Bethel to Gilgal to Mizpah and judged the Israelites in all these towns. <sup>17</sup>But Samuel always went back to Ramah, where his home was. There he judged Israel and built an altar to the Lord.

Life Lessons

1 Samuel 8:1-22

Situation

When Samuel retired, Israel rejected his sons as judges and asked for a king, in spite of God's warning against this. Their request for a king was based on a desire to be like all the other nations.

Observation

Israel demonstrates that our desire to imitate the world may seem righteous at first, but the final result will be destruction.

Inspiration

We need to show how cold, black, hard, and ugly we are, to get motivated to stay in that fire. Unless we do, we will never hate sin and fear sin and be repelled by sin enough to stay in the fire. (Says Tozer, "The Holy Spirit is first of all a moral flame.") ...

I see how, when liberalism waned and we evangelicals rose to popularity and were listened to, we could have given our authentic message and cried to the world, "Repent! Be radically cleansed of your sin! Receive Jesus Christ's purity and holiness for your lives!"

But instead, in that time of golden opportunity, we lost our courage. We Madison-Avenue-trivialized our glorious gospel. And we stained ourselves with the world's adulteries and fornications.

We must weep; we must mourn! We must hate what He hates! Let us ask Him to forgive our unwashed praises before Him, our sillinesses, our ignorances.

Let us see how our coldness, blackness, hardness, ugliness become colder, blacker, harder, uglier—unless in terror we wrench ourselves free and rush to His precious Fire!

Israel Asks for a King

When Samuel was old, he made his sons judges for Israel. <sup>2</sup>His first son was named Joel, and his second son was named Abijah. Joel and Abijah were judges in Beersheba. <sup>3</sup>But Samuel's sons did not live as he did. They tried to get money dishonestly, and they accepted money secretly to make wrong judgments.

<sup>4</sup>So all the older leaders came together and met Samuel at Ramah. <sup>5</sup>They said to him, "You're old, and your sons don't live as you do. Give us a king to rule over us like all the other nations."

<sup>6</sup>When the older leaders said that, Samuel was not pleased. He prayed to the Lord, <sup>7</sup>and the Lord told Samuel, "Listen to whatever the people say to you. They have not rejected you. They have rejected me from being their king. <sup>8</sup>They are doing as they have always done. When I took them out of Egypt, they left me and served other gods. They are doing the same to you. <sup>9</sup>Now listen to the people, but warn them what the king who rules over them will do."

<sup>10</sup>So Samuel told those who had asked him for a king what the Lord had said. <sup>11</sup>Samuel said, "If you have a king ruling over you, this is what he will do: He will take your sons and make them serve with his chariots and his horses, and they will run in front of the king's chariot. <sup>12</sup>The king will make some of your sons commanders over thousands or over fifties. He will make some of your other sons plow his ground and reap his harvest. He will take others to make weapons of war and equipment for his chariots. <sup>13</sup>He will take your daughters to make perfume and cook and bake for him. <sup>14</sup>He will take your best fields, vineyards, and olive groves and give them to his servants. <sup>15</sup>He will take one-tenth of your grain and grapes and give it to his officers and servants. <sup>16</sup>He will take your male and female servants, your best cattle, and your donkeys and use them all for his own work. <sup>17</sup>He will take one-tenth of your flocks, and you yourselves will become his slaves. <sup>18</sup>When that time comes, you will cry out because of the king you chose. But the Lord will not answer you then.”

<sup>19</sup>But the people would not listen to Samuel. They said, “No! We want a king to rule over us. <sup>20</sup>Then we will be the same as all the other nations. Our king will judge for us and go with us and fight our battles.”

<sup>21</sup>After Samuel heard all that the people said, he repeated their words to the Lord. <sup>22</sup>The Lord answered, “You must listen to them. Give them a king.”

Then Samuel told the people of Israel, “Go back to your towns.”

Saul Looks for His Father's Donkeys

Kish, son of Abiel from the tribe of Benjamin, was an important man. (Abiel was the son of Zeror, who was the son of Becorath, who was the son of Aphiah of Benjamin.)<sup>2</sup> Kish had a son named Saul, who was a fine young man. There was no Israelite better than he. Saul stood a head taller than any other man in Israel.

<sup>3</sup>Now the donkeys of Saul's father, Kish, were lost. So Kish said to Saul, his son, "Take one of the servants, and go and look for the donkeys."<sup>4</sup>Saul went through the mountains of Ephraim and the land of Shalisha, but he and the servant could not find the donkeys. They went into the land of Shaalim, but the donkeys were not there. They went through the land of Benjamin, but they still did not find them.<sup>5</sup>When they arrived in the area of Zuph, Saul said to his servant, "Let's go back or my father will stop thinking about the donkeys and will start worrying about us."

<sup>6</sup>But the servant answered, "A man of God is in this town. People respect him because everything he says comes true. Let's go into the town now. Maybe he can tell us something about the journey we have taken."

<sup>7</sup>Saul said to his servant, "If we go into the town, what can we give him? The food in our bags is gone. We have no gift to give him. Do we have anything?"

<sup>8</sup>Again the servant answered Saul. "Look, I have one-tenth of an ounce of silver. Give it to the man of God. Then he will tell us about our journey."<sup>9</sup>(In the past, if someone in Israel wanted to ask something from God, he would say, "Let's go to the seer.” We call the person a prophet today, but in the past he was called a seer.)

<sup>10</sup>Saul said to his servant, “That’s a good idea. Come, let’s go.” So they went toward the town where the man of God was.

<sup>11</sup>As Saul and the servant were going up the hill to the town, they met some young women coming out to get water. Saul and the servant asked them, “Is the seer here?”

<sup>12</sup>The young women answered, “Yes, he’s here. He’s ahead of you. Hurry now. He has just come to our town today, because the people will offer a sacrifice at the place of worship.

<sup>13</sup>As soon as you enter the town, you will find him before he goes up to the place of worship to eat. The people will not begin eating until the seer comes, because he must bless the sacrifice. After that, the guests will eat. Go now, and you should find him.”

Saul Meets Samuel

<sup>14</sup>Saul and the servant went up to the town. Just as they entered it, they saw Samuel coming toward them on his way up to the place of worship.

<sup>16</sup>“About this time tomorrow I will send you a man from the land of Benjamin. Appoint him to lead my people Israel. He will save my people from the Philistines. I have seen the suffering of my people, and I have listened to their cry.”

<sup>17</sup>When Samuel first saw Saul, the Lord said to Samuel, “This is the man I told you about. He will organize my people.”

<sup>18</sup>Saul approached Samuel at the gate and said, “Please tell me where the seer’s house is.”

<sup>19</sup>Samuel answered, “I am the seer. Go with me to the place of worship. Today you and your servant are to eat with me. Tomorrow morning I will answer all your questions and send you home. <sup>20</sup>Don’t worry about the donkeys you lost three days ago, because they have been found. Soon all the wealth of Israel will belong to you and your family.”

<sup>21</sup>Saul answered, “But I am from the tribe of Benjamin, the smallest tribe in Israel. And my family group is the smallest in the tribe of Benjamin. Why are you saying such things?”

<sup>22</sup>Then Samuel took Saul and his servant into a large room and gave them a choice place at the table. About thirty guests were there. <sup>23</sup>Samuel said to the cook, “Bring the meat I gave you, the portion I told you to set aside.”

<sup>24</sup>So the cook took the thigh and put it on the table in front of Saul. Samuel said, “This is the meat saved for you. Eat it, because it was set aside for you for this special time. As I said, ‘I had invited the people.’” So Saul ate with Samuel that day.

<sup>25</sup>After they finished eating, they came down from the place of worship and went to the town. Then Samuel talked with Saul on the roof of his house. <sup>26</sup>At dawn they got up, and Samuel called to Saul on the roof. He said, “Get up, and I will send you on your way.” So Saul got up and went out of the house with Samuel. <sup>27</sup>As Saul, his servant, and Samuel were getting near the edge of the city, Samuel said to Saul, “Tell the servant to go on ahead of us, but you stay, because I have a message from God for you.”

Life Lessons

1 Samuel 9:1–10:27

Situation

Samuel had been an exceptional judge over Israel. But when it was time for him to retire, his sons were corrupt and inadequate for leading the nation. The people failed to recognize that God alone was their king and that their disobedience to him was the reason for their problems. God knew that Israel's desire for a king was based on her reliance on human rather than divine strength.

Observation

In the life of Saul, we learn the important lesson that seeking God and being obedient to him is far more important than all of the human strengths we may possess.

Inspiration

Pick at random a score of great saints whose lives and testimonies are widely known. Let them be Bible characters or well-known Christians of post-biblical times. You will be struck instantly with the fact that the saints were not alike. Sometimes the unlikenesses were so great as to be positively glaring. How different, for example, was Moses from Isaiah; how different was Elijah from David; how unlike each other were John and Paul, St. Francis and Luther, Finney and Thomas á Kempis. The differences are as wide as human life itself—differences of race, nationality, education, temperament, habit and personal qualities. Yet they all walked, each in his day, upon a high road of spiritual living far above the common way.

Their differences must have been incidental and in the eyes of God of no significance. In some vital quality they must have been alike. What was it?

I venture to suggest that the one vital quality which they had in common was spiritual receptivity. Something in them was open to heaven, something which urged them Godward. Without attempting anything like a profound analysis, I shall say simply that they went on to cultivate it until it became the biggest thing in their lives. They differed from the average person in that when they felt the inward longing, they did something about it. They acquired the lifelong habit of spiritual response. They were not disobedient to the heavenly vision. As David put it neatly, “When thou saidst, Seek ye my face; my heart said unto thee, Thy face, Lord, will I seek” (Psalm 27:8).

Application

If you want to be used by God, what do you see as the source of your potential success? Are you relying too heavily on your human strengths or doubting because of your human weaknesses? Remember, only God’s power can make us useful for service in his kingdom, and with his power we are more than conquerors.

Samuel Appoints Saul

Samuel took a jar of olive oil and poured it on Saul's head. He kissed Saul and said, "The Lord has appointed you to lead his people. <sup>2</sup>After you leave me today, you will meet two men near Rachel's tomb on the border of Benjamin at Zelzah. They will say to you, 'The donkeys you were looking for have been found. But now your father has stopped thinking about his donkeys and is worrying about you. He is asking, "What will I do about my son?"' "

<sup>3</sup>"Then you will go on until you reach the big tree at Tabor. Three men on their way to worship God at Bethel will meet you there. One man will be carrying three goats. Another will be carrying three loaves of bread. And the third will have a leather bag full of wine. <sup>4</sup>They will greet you and offer you two loaves of bread, which you must accept. <sup>5</sup>Then you will go to Gibeath of God, where a Philistine camp is. When you approach this town, a group of prophets will come down from the place of worship. They will be playing harps, tambourines, flutes, and lyres, and they will be prophesying. <sup>6</sup>Then the Spirit of the Lord will rush upon you with power. You will prophesy with these prophets, and you will be changed into a different man. <sup>7</sup>After these signs happen, do whatever you find to do, because God will help you.

<sup>8</sup>"Go ahead of me to Gilgal. I will come down to you to offer whole burnt offerings and fellowship offerings. But you must wait seven days. Then I will come and tell you what to do."

Saul Made King

<sup>9</sup>When Saul turned to leave Samuel, God changed Saul's heart. All these signs came true that day. <sup>10</sup>When Saul and his servant arrived at Gibeah, Saul met a group of prophets. The Spirit of God rushed upon him, and he prophesied with the prophets. <sup>11</sup>When people who had known Saul before saw him prophesying with the prophets, they asked each other, "What has happened to Kish's son? Is even Saul one of the prophets?"

<sup>12</sup>A man who lived there said, "Who is the father of these prophets?" So this became a famous saying: "Is even Saul one of the prophets?" <sup>13</sup>When Saul finished prophesying, he entered the place of worship.

<sup>14</sup>Saul's uncle asked him and his servant, "Where have you been?"

Saul said, "We were looking for the donkeys. When we couldn't find them, we went to talk to Samuel."

<sup>15</sup>Saul's uncle asked, "Please tell me. What did Samuel say to you?"

<sup>16</sup>Saul answered, "He told us the donkeys had already been found." But Saul did not tell his uncle what Samuel had said about his becoming king.

<sup>17</sup>Samuel called all the people of Israel to meet with the Lord at Mizpah. <sup>18</sup>He said, "This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: 'I led Israel out of Egypt. I saved you from Egypt's control and from other kingdoms that were troubling you.'

<sup>19</sup>But now you have rejected your God. He saves you from all your troubles and problems, but you said, 'No! We want a king to rule over us.' Now come, stand before the Lord in your tribes and family groups.”

<sup>20</sup>When Samuel gathered all the tribes of Israel, the tribe of Benjamin was picked. <sup>21</sup>Samuel had them pass by in family groups, and Matri’s family was picked. Then he had each man of Matri’s family pass by, and Saul son of Kish was picked. But when they looked for Saul, they could not find him. <sup>22</sup>They asked the Lord, “Has Saul come here yet?”

The Lord said, “Yes. He’s hiding behind the baggage.”

<sup>23</sup>So they ran and brought him out. When Saul stood among the people, he was a head taller than anyone else. <sup>24</sup>Then Samuel said to the people, “See the man the Lord has chosen. There is no one like him among all the people.”

Then the people shouted, “Long live the king!”

<sup>25</sup>Samuel explained the rights and duties of the king and then wrote them in a book and put it before the Lord. Then he told the people to go to their homes.

<sup>26</sup>Saul also went to his home in Gibeah. God touched the hearts of certain brave men who went along with him. <sup>27</sup>But some troublemakers said, “How can this man save us?” They disapproved of Saul and refused to bring gifts to him. But Saul kept quiet.

Nahash Troubles Jabesh Gilead

About a month later Nahash the Ammonite and his army surrounded the city of Jabesh in Gilead. All the people of Jabesh said to Nahash, “Make a treaty with us, and we will serve you.”

<sup>2</sup>But he answered, “I will make a treaty with you only if I’m allowed to poke out the right eye of each of you. Then all Israel will be ashamed!”

<sup>3</sup>The older leaders of Jabesh said to Nahash, “Give us seven days to send messengers through all Israel. If no one comes to help us, we will give ourselves up to you.”

<sup>4</sup>When the messengers came to Gibeah where Saul lived and told the people the news, they cried loudly. <sup>5</sup>Saul was coming home from plowing the fields with his oxen when he heard the people crying. He asked, “What’s wrong with the people that they are crying?” Then they told Saul what the messengers from Jabesh had said. <sup>6</sup>When Saul heard their words, God’s Spirit rushed upon him with power, and he became very angry. <sup>7</sup>So he took a pair of oxen and cut them into pieces. Then he gave the pieces of the oxen to messengers and ordered them to carry them through all the land of Israel.

The messengers said, “This is what will happen to the oxen of anyone who does not follow Saul and Samuel.” So the people became very afraid of the Lord. They all came together as if they were one person. <sup>8</sup>Saul gathered the people together at Bezek. There were three hundred thousand men from Israel and thirty thousand men from Judah.

<sup>9</sup>They said to the messengers who had come, “Tell the people at Jabesh Gilead this: ‘Before the day warms up tomorrow, you will be saved.’” So the messengers went and reported this to the people at Jabesh, and they were very happy. <sup>10</sup>The people said to Nahash the Ammonite, “Tomorrow we will come out to meet you. Then you can do anything you want to us.”

<sup>11</sup>The next morning Saul divided his soldiers into three groups. At dawn they entered the Ammonite camp and defeated them before the heat of the day. The Ammonites who escaped were scattered; no two of them were still together.

<sup>12</sup>Then the people said to Samuel, “Who didn’t want Saul as king? Bring them here and we will kill them!”

<sup>13</sup>But Saul said, “No! No one will be put to death today. Today the Lord has saved Israel!”

<sup>14</sup>Then Samuel said to the people, “Come, let’s go to Gilgal. There we will again promise to obey the king.” <sup>15</sup>So all the people went to Gilgal, and there, before the Lord, the people made Saul king. They offered fellowship offerings to the Lord, and Saul and all the Israelites had a great celebration.

Life Lessons

1 Samuel 11:1–12:25

Situation

Saul’s strength and resolve as a ruler were tested soon after he was anointed by Samuel. Though some doubted whether Saul should be king, he acted to rescue Jabesh Gilead and united his people against the Ammonites. These events confirmed for the people his place as king.

Observation

Saul stepped out and took a risk to fulfill God's plan. He exemplifies that God protects us as we take intelligent risks to accomplish his will.

Inspiration

It is true that there are great possibilities for failure [when taking risks] and, if you fail, there will be those who will mock you. But mockers are not important. Those who like to point when the risk-takers stumble don't count. The criticisms of those who sit back, observe, and offer smug suggestions can be discounted. The Promised Land belongs to the person who takes the risks, whose face is marred with dust and sweat, who strives valiantly while daring everything, who may err and fall, but who has done his or her best. This person's place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.

Oh, if only I could persuade timid souls I meet to listen to that inner voice of the Spirit, which challenges us to attempt great things for God and expect great things from God. Oh, if only I could inspire them to heed that inner urging that tells them "Go for it!" I cannot say what a person should do with life, but I can say what a person should not do with it. No one should devote one's life to safety, to a course of action that offers no challenge and no fun. (From Who Switched the Price Tags? by Tony Campolo)

Application

Be encouraged to take risks for the sake of others.

Samuel's Farewell Speech

Samuel said to all Israel, "I have done everything you wanted me to do and have put a king over you. <sup>2</sup>Now you have a king to lead you. I am old and gray, and my sons are here with you. I have been your leader since I was young. <sup>3</sup>Here I am. If I have done anything wrong, you must testify against me before the Lord and his appointed king. Did I steal anyone's ox or donkey? Did I hurt or cheat anyone? Did I ever secretly accept money to pretend not to see something wrong? If I did any of these things, I will make it right."

<sup>4</sup>The Israelites answered, "You have not cheated us, or hurt us, or taken anything unfairly from anyone."

<sup>5</sup>Samuel said to them, "The Lord is a witness to what you have said. His appointed king is also a witness today that you did not find anything wrong in me."

"He is our witness," they said.

<sup>6</sup>Then Samuel said to the people, "It is the Lord who chose Moses and Aaron and brought your ancestors out of Egypt. <sup>7</sup>Now, stand there, and I will remind you of all the good things the Lord did for you and your ancestors.

<sup>8</sup>"After Jacob entered Egypt, his descendants cried to the Lord for help. So the Lord sent Moses and Aaron, who took your ancestors out of Egypt and brought them to live in this place.

<sup>9</sup>"But they forgot the Lord their God. So he handed them over as slaves to Sisera, the commander of the army of Hazor, and as slaves to the Philistines and the king of Moab. They all fought against your ancestors. <sup>10</sup>Then your ancestors cried to the Lord and said, ‘We have sinned. We have left the Lord and served the Baals and the Ashtoreths. But now save us from our enemies, and we will serve you.’ <sup>11</sup>So the Lord sent Gideon, Barak, Jephthah, and Samuel. He saved you from your enemies around you, and you lived in safety. <sup>12</sup>But when you saw Nahash king of the Ammonites coming against you, you said, ‘No! We want a king to rule over us!’—even though the Lord your God was your king. <sup>13</sup>Now here is the king you chose, the one you asked for. The Lord has put him over you. <sup>14</sup>You must honor the Lord and serve him. You must obey his word and not turn against his commands. Both you and the king ruling over you must follow the Lord your God. If you do, it will be well with you. <sup>15</sup>But if you don’t obey the Lord, and if you turn against his commands, he will be against you. He will do to you what he did to your ancestors.

<sup>16</sup>“Now stand still and see the great thing the Lord will do before your eyes. <sup>17</sup>It is now the time of the wheat harvest. I will pray for the Lord to send thunder and rain. Then you will know what an evil thing you did against the Lord when you asked for a king.”

<sup>18</sup>Then Samuel prayed to the Lord, and that same day the Lord sent thunder and rain. So the people were very afraid of the Lord and Samuel. <sup>19</sup>They said to Samuel, “Pray to the Lord your God for us, your servants! Don’t let us die! We’ve added to all our sins the evil of asking for a king.”

<sup>20</sup>Samuel answered, “Don’t be afraid. It’s true that you did wrong, but don’t turn away from the Lord. Serve the Lord with all your heart. <sup>21</sup>Idols are of no use, so don’t worship them. They can’t help you or save you. They are useless! <sup>22</sup>For his own sake, the Lord won't leave his people. Instead, he was pleased to make you his own people.<sup>23</sup> I will surely not stop praying for you, because that would be sinning against the Lord. I will teach you what is good and right.<sup>24</sup> You must honor the Lord and truly serve him with all your heart. Remember the wonderful things he did for you!<sup>25</sup> But if you are stubborn and do evil, he will sweep you and your king away.”

Saul was thirty years old when he became king, and he was king over Israel forty-two years. <sup>2</sup>Saul chose three thousand men from Israel. Two thousand men stayed with him at Micmash in the mountains of Bethel, and one thousand men stayed with Jonathan at Gibeah in Benjamin. Saul sent the other men in the army back home.

<sup>3</sup>Jonathan attacked the Philistine camp in Geba, and the other Philistines heard about it. Saul said, “Let the Hebrews hear what happened.” So he told the men to blow trumpets through all the land of Israel. <sup>4</sup>All the Israelites heard the news. The men said, “Saul has defeated the Philistine camp. Now the Philistines will really hate us!” Then the Israelites were called to join Saul at Gilgal.

<sup>5</sup>The Philistines gathered to fight Israel with three thousand chariots and six thousand men to ride in them. Their soldiers were as many as the grains of sand on the seashore. The Philistines went and camped at Micmash, which is east of Beth Aven. <sup>6</sup>When the Israelites saw that they were in trouble, they went to hide in caves and bushes, among the rocks, and in pits and wells. <sup>7</sup>Some Hebrews even went across the Jordan River to the land of Gad and Gilead.

But Saul stayed at Gilgal, and all the men in his army were shaking with fear. <sup>8</sup>Saul waited seven days, because Samuel had said he would meet him then. But Samuel did not come to Gilgal, and the soldiers began to leave.

<sup>9</sup>So Saul said, “Bring me the whole burnt offering and the fellowship offerings.” Then Saul offered the whole burnt offering. <sup>10</sup>Just as he finished, Samuel arrived, and Saul went to greet him.

<sup>11</sup>Samuel asked, “What have you done?”

Saul answered, “I saw the soldiers leaving me, and you were not here when you said you would be. The Philistines were gathering at Micmash. <sup>12</sup>Then I thought, ‘The Philistines will come against me at Gilgal, and I haven’t asked for the Lord’s approval.’ So I forced myself to offer the whole burnt offering.”

<sup>13</sup>Samuel said, “You acted foolishly! You haven’t obeyed the command of the Lord your God. If you had obeyed him, the Lord would have made your kingdom continue in Israel always, <sup>14</sup>but now your kingdom will not continue. The Lord has looked for the kind of man he wants. He has appointed him to rule his people, because you haven’t obeyed his command.”

<sup>15</sup>Then Samuel left Gilgal and went to Gibeah in Benjamin. Saul counted the men who were still with him, and there were about six hundred.

Hard Times for Israel

<sup>16</sup>Saul and his son Jonathan and the soldiers with him stayed in Gibeah in the land of Benjamin. The Philistines made their camp at Micmash. <sup>17</sup>Three groups went out from the Philistine camp to make raids. One group went on the Ophrah road in the land of Shual. <sup>18</sup>The second group went on the Beth Horon road. The third group went on the border road that overlooks the Valley of Zeboim toward the desert.

<sup>19</sup>The whole land of Israel had no blacksmith because the Philistines had said, “The Hebrews might make swords and spears.” <sup>20</sup>So all the Israelites had to go down to the Philistines to have their plows, hoes, axes, and sickles sharpened. <sup>21</sup>The Philistine blacksmiths charged about one-fourth of an ounce of silver for sharpening plows and hoes. And they charged one-eighth of an ounce of silver for sharpening picks, axes, and the sticks used to guide oxen.

<sup>22</sup>So when the battle came, the soldiers with Saul and Jonathan had no swords or spears. Only Saul and his son Jonathan had them.

Israel Defeats the Philistines

<sup>23</sup>A group from the Philistine army had gone out to the pass at Micmash.

Life Lessons

1 Samuel 13:1–15:35

Situation

When the Philistines gathered to attack Israel at Geba, the Israelites were badly outnumbered. King Saul grew tired of waiting for Samuel to instruct him about the battle at hand. Samuel delayed, and Saul's men began to desert; but he erred in his panic.

Observation

Obey God's command in all circumstances. Saul lost his kingdom because he disobeyed God. Saul was pressured to act before all his men deserted. Lack of patience cost him everything.

Inspiration

Have you heard the American's prayer?

"Lord, give me patience ... , And I want it right now!"

It's awfully hard for a country that exists on frozen dinners, instant mashed potatoes, powdered orange juice, packaged cake mixes, instant-print cameras, and freeway express lanes to teach its young how to wait. In fact, it's next to impossible.

One evening I was fussing about seeds in the grapes my wife had served for supper. After crunching into another seed, I laid down the law. "No more grapes served in the Swindoll home unless they are seedless!" I announced with characteristic dogmatism. Later, when nobody else was around to hear her reproof, Cynthia edged up to me and quietly asked: "Do you know why seeds in grapes bug you?"

"Sure," I said, "because I bite into those bitter little things and they scatter all over my mouth!"

"No." She smiled. "It's because you're too impatient to dig them out first. The purple grapes really taste better ... but they take a little more time."

There I stood, riveted to the pantry door by a very true (yet painful) set of facts. I was too busy, too much in a hurry to split open a grape and pull out the seeds. Wow! No wonder waiting is such a difficult hassle for me to handle.

Wouldn't you rather do anything than wait? If the truth were known, some of us would rather do the wrong thing than wait.

I have found, however, that waiting is the rule rather than the exception in life. The exception is an open door; when you have one—go! They don't happen very often! But waiting, when the door is closed doesn't mean you're out of the will of God.

You could be right in the center of His will.

The open door is the exception. The burst of green lights happen just a few seconds in life. The rest of the time is filled with a few yellow lights, and mostly red lights that flash, “Wait, wait, wait!” (From Three Steps Forward and Two Steps Back by Charles Swindoll)

Application

It’s easy to compromise when people are waiting for you to act. Determine that no matter the pressure, no matter the cost, no matter the delay, you will act only when your response honors God. Never compromise your integrity to satisfy others.

Exploration

Waiting—Psalm 27; 37:5–7.

One day Jonathan, Saul's son, said to the officer who carried his armor, "Come, let's go over to the Philistine camp on the other side." But Jonathan did not tell his father.

<sup>2</sup>Saul was sitting under a pomegranate tree at the threshing floor near Gibeah. He had about six hundred men with him. <sup>3</sup>One man was Ahijah who was wearing the holy vest. (Ahijah was a son of Ichabod's brother Ahitub. Ichabod was the son of Phinehas, the son of Eli, the Lord's priest in Shiloh.) No one knew Jonathan had left.

<sup>4</sup>There was a steep slope on each side of the pass that Jonathan planned to go through to reach the Philistine camp. The cliff on one side was named Bozez, and the cliff on the other side was named Seneh. <sup>5</sup>One cliff faced north toward Micmash. The other faced south toward Geba.

<sup>6</sup>Jonathan said to his officer who carried his armor, "Come. Let's go to the camp of those men who are not circumcised. Maybe the Lord will help us. The Lord can give us victory if we have many people, or just a few."

<sup>7</sup>The officer who carried Jonathan's armor said to him, "Do whatever you think is best. Go ahead. I'm with you."

<sup>8</sup>Jonathan said, "Then come. We will cross over to the Philistines and let them see us. <sup>9</sup>If they say to us, 'Stay there until we come to you,' we will stay where we are. We won't go up to them. <sup>10</sup>But if they say, 'Come up to us,' we will climb up, and the Lord will let us defeat them. This will be the sign for us."

<sup>11</sup>When both Jonathan and his officer let the Philistines see them, the Philistines said, "Look! The Hebrews are crawling out of the holes they were hiding in!" <sup>12</sup>The Philistines in the camp shouted to Jonathan and his officer, "Come up to us. We'll teach you a lesson!”

Jonathan said to his officer, “Climb up behind me, because the Lord has given the Philistines to Israel!”<sup>13</sup> So Jonathan climbed up, using his hands and feet, and his officer climbed just behind him. Jonathan struck down the Philistines as he went, and his officer killed them as he followed behind him.<sup>14</sup> In that first fight Jonathan and his officer killed about twenty Philistines over a half acre of ground.

<sup>15</sup>All the Philistine soldiers panicked—those in the camp and those in the raiding party. The ground itself shook! God had caused the panic.

<sup>16</sup>Saul’s guards were at Gibeah in the land of Benjamin when they saw the Philistine soldiers running in every direction.<sup>17</sup> Saul said to his army, “Check to see who has left our camp.” When they checked, they learned that Jonathan and his officer were gone.

<sup>18</sup>So Saul said to Ahijah the priest, “Bring the Ark of God.” (At that time it was with the Israelites.)<sup>19</sup> While Saul was talking to the priest, the confusion in the Philistine camp was growing. Then Saul said to Ahijah, “Put your hand down!”

Saul Makes Another Mistake

<sup>24</sup>The men of Israel were miserable that day because Saul had made an oath for all of them. He had said, “No one should eat food before evening and before I finish defeating my enemies. If he does, he will be cursed!” So no Israelite soldier ate food.

<sup>25</sup>Now the army went into the woods, where there was some honey on the ground. <sup>26</sup>They came upon some honey, but no one took any because they were afraid of the oath. <sup>27</sup>Jonathan had not heard the oath Saul had put on the army, so he dipped the end of his stick into the honey and lifted some out and ate it. Then he felt better. <sup>28</sup>Then one of the soldiers told Jonathan, “Your father made an oath for all the soldiers. He said any man who eats today will be cursed! That’s why they are so weak.”

<sup>29</sup>Jonathan said, “My father has made trouble for the land! See how much better I feel after just tasting a little of this honey! <sup>30</sup>It would have been much better for the men to eat the food they took from their enemies today. We could have killed many more Philistines!”

<sup>31</sup>That day the Israelites defeated the Philistines from Micmash to Aijalon. After that, they were very tired. <sup>32</sup>They had taken sheep, cattle, and calves from the Philistines. Now they were so hungry they killed the animals on the ground and ate them, without draining the blood from them! <sup>33</sup>Someone said to Saul, “Look! The men are sinning against the Lord. They’re eating meat without draining the blood from it!”

Saul said, “You have sinned! Roll a large stone over here now!” <sup>34</sup>Then he said, “Go to the men and tell them that each person must bring his ox and sheep to me and kill it here and eat it. Don’t sin against the Lord by eating meat without draining the blood from it.”

That night everyone brought his animals and killed them there. <sup>35</sup>Then Saul built an altar to the Lord. It was the first altar he had built to the Lord.

<sup>36</sup>Saul said, “Let’s go after the Philistines tonight and rob them. We won’t let any of them live!”

The men answered, “Do whatever you think is best.”

But the priest said, “Let’s ask God.”

<sup>37</sup>So Saul asked God, “Should I chase the Philistines? Will you let us defeat them?” But God did not answer Saul at that time. <sup>38</sup>Then Saul said to all the leaders of his army, “Come here. Let’s find out what sin has been done today. <sup>39</sup>As surely as the Lord lives who has saved Israel, even if my son Jonathan did the sin, he must die.” But no one in the army spoke.

<sup>40</sup>Then Saul said to all the Israelites, “You stand on this side. I and my son Jonathan will stand on the other side.”

The men answered, “Do whatever you think is best.”

<sup>41</sup>Then Saul prayed to the Lord, the God of Israel, “Give me the right answer.”

And Saul and Jonathan were picked; the other men went free. <sup>42</sup>Saul said, “Now let us discover if it is I or Jonathan my son who is guilty.” And Jonathan was picked.

<sup>43</sup>Saul said to Jonathan, “Tell me what you have done.”

So Jonathan told Saul, “I only tasted a little honey from the end of my stick. And must I die now?”

<sup>44</sup>Saul said, “Jonathan, if you don’t die, may God punish me terribly.”

<sup>45</sup>But the soldiers said to Saul, “Must Jonathan die? Never! He is responsible for saving Israel today! As surely as the Lord lives, not even a hair of his head will fall to the ground! Today Jonathan fought against the Philistines with God's help!" So the army saved Jonathan, and he did not die.

<sup>46</sup>Then Saul stopped chasing the Philistines, and they went back to their own land.

Saul Fights Israel's Enemies

<sup>47</sup>When Saul became king over Israel, he fought against Israel's enemies all around. He fought Moab, the Ammonites, Edom, the king of Zobah, and the Philistines. Everywhere Saul went he defeated Israel's enemies. <sup>48</sup>He fought bravely and defeated the Amalekites. He saved the Israelites from their enemies who had robbed them.

<sup>52</sup>All Saul's life he fought hard against the Philistines. When he saw strong or brave men, he took them into his army.

Saul Rejected as King

Samuel said to Saul, “The Lord sent me to appoint you king over Israel. Now listen to his message. <sup>2</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: ‘When the Israelites came out of Egypt, the Amalekites tried to stop them from going to Canaan. So I will punish them. <sup>3</sup>Now go, attack the Amalekites and destroy everything they own as an offering to the Lord. Don’t let anything live. Put to death men and women, children and small babies, cattle and sheep, camels and donkeys.’”

<sup>4</sup>So Saul called the army together at Telaim. There were two hundred thousand foot soldiers and ten thousand men from Judah. <sup>5</sup>Then Saul went to the city of Amalek and set up an ambush in the ravine. <sup>6</sup>He said to the Kenites, “Go away. Leave the Amalekites so that I won’t destroy you with them, because you showed kindness to the Israelites when they came out of Egypt.” So the Kenites moved away from the Amalekites.

<sup>7</sup>Then Saul defeated the Amalekites. He fought them all the way from Havilah to Shur, at the border of Egypt. <sup>8</sup>He took King Agag of the Amalekites alive, but he killed all of Agag’s army with the sword. <sup>9</sup>Saul and the army let Agag live, along with the best sheep, fat cattle, and lambs. They let every good animal live, because they did not want to destroy them. But when they found an animal that was weak or useless, they killed it.

<sup>10</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word to Samuel: <sup>11</sup>“I am sorry I made Saul king, because he has stopped following me and has not obeyed my commands.” Samuel was upset, and he cried out to the Lord all night long.

<sup>12</sup>Early the next morning Samuel got up and went to meet Saul. But the people told Samuel, “Saul has gone to Carmel, where he has put up a monument in his own honor. Now he has gone down to Gilgal.”

<sup>13</sup>When Samuel came to Saul, Saul said, “May the Lord bless you! I have obeyed the Lord’s commands.”

<sup>14</sup>But Samuel said, “Then why do I hear cattle mooing and sheep bleating?”

<sup>15</sup>Saul answered, “The soldiers took them from the Amalekites. They saved the best sheep and cattle to offer as sacrifices to the Lord your God, but we destroyed all the other animals.”

<sup>16</sup>Samuel said to Saul, “Stop! Let me tell you what the Lord said to me last night.”

Saul answered, “Tell me.”

<sup>17</sup>Samuel said, “Once you didn’t think much of yourself, but now you have become the leader of the tribes of Israel. The Lord appointed you to be king over Israel. <sup>18</sup>And he sent you on a mission. He said, ‘Go and destroy those evil people, the Amalekites. Make war on them until all of them are dead.’

<sup>19</sup>Why didn’t you obey the Lord? Why did you take the best things? Why did you do what the Lord said was wrong?”

<sup>20</sup>Saul said, “But I did obey the Lord. I did what the Lord told me to do. I destroyed all the Amalekites, and I brought back Agag their king. <sup>21</sup>The soldiers took the best sheep and cattle to sacrifice to the Lord your God at Gilgal.”

“What pleases the Lord more:

burnt offerings and sacrifices or obedience to his voice?

It is better to obey than to sacrifice.

It is better to listen to God than to offer the fat of sheep.

<sup>23</sup>Disobedience is as bad as the sin of sorcery.

Pride is as bad as the sin of worshiping idols.

You have rejected the Lord's command.

Now he rejects you as king."

<sup>24</sup>Then Saul said to Samuel, "I have sinned. I didn't obey the Lord's commands and your words. I was afraid of the people, and I did what they said. <sup>25</sup>Now, I beg you, forgive my sin. Come back with me so I may worship the Lord."

<sup>26</sup>But Samuel said to Saul, "I won't go back with you. You rejected the Lord's command, and now he rejects you as king of Israel."

<sup>27</sup>As Samuel turned to leave, Saul caught his robe, and it tore. <sup>28</sup>Samuel said to him, "The Lord has torn the kingdom of Israel from you today and has given it to one of your neighbors who is better than you. <sup>29</sup>The Lord is the Eternal One of Israel. He does not lie or change his mind. He is not a human being, so he does not change his mind.

<sup>30</sup>Saul answered, "I have sinned. But please honor me in front of the older leaders of my people and in front of the Israelites. Come back with me so that I can worship the Lord your God." <sup>31</sup>So Samuel went back with Saul, and Saul worshiped the Lord.

<sup>32</sup>Then Samuel said, "Bring me King Agag of the Amalekites."

Agag came to Samuel in chains, but Agag thought, “Surely the threat of death has passed.”

<sup>33</sup>Samuel said to him, “Your sword made other mothers lose their children. Now your mother will have no children.” And Samuel cut Agag to pieces before the Lord at Gilgal.

<sup>34</sup>Then Samuel left and went to Ramah, but Saul went up to his home in Gibeah. <sup>35</sup>And Samuel never saw Saul again the rest of his life, but he was sad for Saul. And the Lord was very sorry he had made Saul king of Israel.

Samuel Goes to Bethlehem

The Lord said to Samuel, “How long will you continue to feel sorry for Saul? I have rejected him as king of Israel. Fill your container with olive oil and go. I am sending you to Jesse who lives in Bethlehem, because I have chosen one of his sons to be king.”

<sup>2</sup>But Samuel said, “If I go, Saul will hear the news and will try to kill me.”

The Lord said, “Take a young calf with you. Say, ‘I have come to offer a sacrifice to the Lord.’<sup>3</sup> Invite Jesse to the sacrifice. Then I will tell you what to do. You must appoint the one I show you.”

<sup>4</sup>Samuel did what the Lord told him to do. When he arrived at Bethlehem, the older leaders of Bethlehem shook with fear. They met him and asked, “Are you coming in peace?”

<sup>5</sup>Samuel answered, “Yes, I come in peace. I have come to make a sacrifice to the Lord. Set yourselves apart to the Lord and come to the sacrifice with me.” Then he set Jesse and his sons apart to the Lord, and he invited them to come to the sacrifice.

<sup>6</sup>When they arrived, Samuel saw Eliab, and he thought, “Surely the Lord has appointed this person standing here before him.”

<sup>7</sup>But the Lord said to Samuel, “Don’t look at how handsome Eliab is or how tall he is, because I have not chosen him. God does not see the same way people see. People look at the outside of a person, but the Lord looks at the heart.”

<sup>8</sup>Then Jesse called Abinadab and told him to pass by Samuel. But Samuel said, “The Lord has not chosen this man either.”<sup>9</sup> Then Jesse had Shammah pass by. But Samuel said, “No, the Lord has not chosen this one.”<sup>10</sup> Jesse had seven of his sons pass by Samuel. But Samuel said to him, “The Lord has not chosen any of these.”

<sup>11</sup>Then he asked Jesse, “Are these all the sons you have?”

Jesse answered, “I still have the youngest son. He is out taking care of the sheep.”

Samuel said, “Send for him. We will not sit down to eat until he arrives.”

<sup>12</sup>So Jesse sent and had his youngest son brought in. He was a fine boy, tanned, and handsome.

The Lord said to Samuel, “Go, appoint him, because he is the one.”

<sup>13</sup>So Samuel took the container of olive oil and poured it on Jesse’s youngest son to appoint him in front of his brothers. From that day on, the Lord’s Spirit worked in David. Samuel then went back to Ramah.

David Serves Saul

<sup>15</sup>Saul’s servants said to him, “See, an evil spirit from God is troubling you.”<sup>16</sup> Give us the command to look for someone who can play the harp. When the evil spirit from God troubles you, he will play, and you will feel better.”

<sup>17</sup>So Saul said to his servants, “Find someone who can play well and bring him to me.”

Bethlehem play the harp. He is brave and courageous. He is a good speaker and handsome, and the Lord is with him.”

<sup>19</sup>Then Saul sent messengers to Jesse, saying, “Send me your son David, who is with the sheep.” <sup>20</sup>So Jesse loaded a donkey with bread, a leather bag full of wine, and a young goat, and he sent them with his son David to Saul.

<sup>21</sup>When David came to Saul, he began to serve him. Saul liked David and made him the officer who carried his armor. <sup>22</sup>Saul sent a message to Jesse, saying, “Let David stay and serve me because I like him.”

<sup>23</sup>When the evil spirit from God troubled Saul, David would take his harp and play. Then the evil spirit would leave him, and Saul would feel better.

1 Samuel 16:1–23

Situation

God sent Samuel to Bethlehem to anoint one of Jesse’s sons as king. This new king would replace King Saul, who had failed to obey God.

Observation

God does not see or judge in the same way that humans do. People look at the outside appearance or qualifications, but God looks at the heart. He evaluates our inner disposition and character.

Inspiration

None were more shunned by their culture than the blind, the lame, the lepers, and the deaf. They had no place. No name. No value. Canker sores on the culture. Excess baggage on the side of the road. But those whom the people called trash, Jesus called treasures.

In my closet hangs a sweater that I seldom wear. It is too small. The sleeves are too short, the shoulders too tight. Some of the buttons are missing, and the thread is frizzled. I should throw that sweater away. I have no use for it. I'll never wear it again. Logic says I should clear out the space and get rid of the sweater.

That's what logic says.

But love won't let me.

Something unique about the sweater makes me keep it. What is unusual about it? For one thing, it has no label. Nowhere on the garment will you find a tag that reads, "Made In Taiwan," or "Wash in Cold Water." It has no tag because it wasn't made in a factory. It has no label because it wasn't produced on an assembly line. It isn't the product of a nameless employee earning a living. It's the creation of a devoted mother expressing her love.

That sweater is unique. One of a kind. It can't be replaced. Each strand was chosen with care. Each thread was selected with affection.

And though the sweater has lost all of its use, it has lost none of its value. It is valuable not because of its function, but because of its maker.

That must have been what the psalmist had in mind when he wrote, "You knit me together in my mother's womb."

Think on those words. You were knitted together. You aren't an accident. You weren't mass produced.

You aren't an assembly-line product. You were deliberately planned, specifically gifted, and lovingly positioned on this earth by the Master Craftsman.

“God has made us what we are. In Christ Jesus, God made us to do good works, which God planned in advance for us to live our lives doing” [Ephesians 2:10].

In a society that has little room for second fiddles, that's good news. In a culture where the door of opportunity opens only once and then slams shut, that is a revelation. In a system that ranks the value of a human by the figures of his salary or the shape of her legs ... let me tell you something: Jesus' plan is a reason for joy! Jesus told John that a new kingdom was coming—a kingdom where people have value not because of what they do, but because of whose they are.

David and Goliath

The Philistines gathered their armies for war. They met at Socoh in Judah and camped at Ephes Dammim between Socoh and Azekah. <sup>2</sup>Saul and the Israelites gathered in the Valley of Elah and camped there and took their positions to fight the Philistines. <sup>3</sup>The Philistines controlled one hill while the Israelites controlled another. The valley was between them.

<sup>4</sup>The Philistines had a champion fighter from Gath named Goliath. He was about nine feet, four inches tall. He came out of the Philistine camp <sup>5</sup>with a bronze helmet on his head and a coat of bronze armor that weighed about one hundred twenty-five pounds. <sup>6</sup>He wore bronze protectors on his legs, and he had a bronze spear on his back. <sup>7</sup>The wooden part of his larger spear was like a weaver's rod, and its blade weighed about fifteen pounds. The officer who carried his shield walked in front of him.

<sup>8</sup>Goliath stood and shouted to the Israelite soldiers, "Why have you taken positions for battle? I am a Philistine, and you are Saul's servants! Choose a man and send him to fight me. <sup>9</sup>If he can fight and kill me, we will be your servants. But if I can kill him, you will be our servants." <sup>10</sup>Then he said, "Today I stand and dare the army of Israel! Send one of your men to fight me!" <sup>11</sup>When Saul and the Israelites heard the Philistine's words, they were very scared.

<sup>12</sup>Now David was the son of Jesse, an Ephrathite from Bethlehem in Judah. Jesse had eight sons. In Saul's time Jesse was an old man. <sup>13</sup>His three oldest sons followed Saul to the war. The first son was Eliab, the second was Abinadab, and the third was Shammah.<sup>14</sup> David was the youngest. Jesse's three oldest sons followed Saul,<sup>15</sup> but David went back and forth from Saul to Bethlehem, where he took care of his father's sheep.

<sup>16</sup>For forty days the Philistine came out every morning and evening and stood before the Israelite army.

<sup>17</sup>Jesse said to his son David, "Take this half bushel of cooked grain and ten loaves of bread to your brothers in the camp.<sup>18</sup> Also take ten pieces of cheese to the commander and to your brothers. See how your brothers are and bring back some proof to show me that they are all right.<sup>19</sup> Your brothers are with Saul and the army in the Valley of Elah, fighting against the Philistines."

<sup>25</sup>They said, "Look at this man! He keeps coming out to challenge Israel. The king will give much money to whoever kills him. He will also let whoever kills him marry his daughter. And his father's family will not have to pay taxes in Israel."

<sup>26</sup>David asked the men who stood near him, “What will be done to reward the man who kills this Philistine and takes away the shame from Israel? Who does this uncircumcised Philistine think he is? Does he think he can speak against the armies of the living God?”

<sup>28</sup>When David’s oldest brother Eliab heard David talking with the soldiers, he was angry with David. He asked David, “Why did you come here? Who’s taking care of those few sheep of yours in the desert? I know you are proud and wicked at heart. You came down here just to watch the battle.”

<sup>29</sup>David asked, “Now what have I done wrong? Can’t I even talk?” <sup>30</sup>When he turned to other people and asked the same questions, they gave him the same answer as before. <sup>31</sup>Yet what David said was told to Saul, and he sent for David.

<sup>32</sup>David said to Saul, “Don’t let anyone be discouraged. I, your servant, will go and fight this Philistine!”

<sup>33</sup>Saul answered, “You can’t go out against this Philistine and fight him. You’re only a boy. Goliath has been a warrior since he was a young man.”

<sup>34</sup>But David said to Saul, “I, your servant, have been keeping my father’s sheep. When a lion or bear came and took a sheep from the flock, <sup>35</sup>I would chase it. I would attack it and save the sheep from its mouth. When it attacked me, I caught it by its fur and hit it and killed it. <sup>36</sup>I, your servant, have killed both a lion and a bear! This uncircumcised Philistine will be like them, because he has spoken against the armies of the living God. <sup>37</sup>The Lord who saved me from a lion and a bear will save me from this Philistine.”

Saul said to David, “Go, and may the Lord be with you.”<sup>38</sup>Saul put his own clothes on David. He put a bronze helmet on his head and dressed him in armor.<sup>39</sup>David put on Saul’s sword and tried to walk around, but he was not used to all the armor Saul had put on him.

He said to Saul, “I can’t go in this, because I’m not used to it.” Then David took it all off.<sup>40</sup>He took his stick in his hand and chose five smooth stones from a stream. He put them in his shepherd’s bag and grabbed his sling. Then he went to meet the Philistine.

<sup>41</sup>At the same time, the Philistine was coming closer to David. The man who held his shield walked in front of him.<sup>42</sup>When Goliath looked at David and saw that he was only a boy, tanned and handsome, he looked down on David with disgust.<sup>43</sup>He said, “Do you think I am a dog, that you come at me with a stick?” He used his gods’ names to curse David.<sup>44</sup>He said to David, “Come here. I’ll feed your body to the birds of the air and the wild animals!”

<sup>45</sup>But David said to him, “You come to me using a sword and two spears. But I come to you in the name of the Lord All-Powerful, the God of the armies of Israel! You have spoken against him.<sup>46</sup>Today the Lord will hand you over to me, and I’ll kill you and cut off your head. Today I’ll feed the bodies of the Philistine soldiers to the birds of the air and the wild animals. Then all the world will know there is a God in Israel!<sup>47</sup>Everyone gathered here will know the Lord does not need swords or spears to save people. The battle belongs to him, and he will hand you over to us.”

<sup>48</sup>As Goliath came near to attack him, David ran quickly to meet him.<sup>49</sup>He took a stone from his bag, put it into his sling, and slung it. The stone hit the Philistine and went deep into his forehead, and Goliath fell facedown on the ground.

<sup>50</sup>So David defeated the Philistine with only a sling and a stone. He hit him and killed him. He did not even have a sword in his hand. <sup>51</sup>Then David ran and stood beside him. He took Goliath's sword out of its holder and killed him by cutting off his head.

When the Philistines saw that their champion was dead, they turned and ran. <sup>52</sup>The men of Israel and Judah shouted and chased the Philistines all the way to the entrance of the city of Gath and to the gates of Ekron.

The Philistines' bodies lay on the Shaaraim road as far as Gath and Ekron. <sup>53</sup>The Israelites returned after chasing the Philistines and robbed their camp. <sup>54</sup>David took Goliath's head to Jerusalem and put Goliath's weapons in his own tent.

<sup>55</sup>When Saul saw David go out to meet Goliath, Saul asked Abner, commander of the army, "Abner, who is that young man's father?"

Abner answered, "As surely as you live, my king, I don't know."

<sup>57</sup>When David came back from killing Goliath, Abner brought him to Saul. David was still holding Goliath's head.

<sup>58</sup>Saul asked him, "Young man, who is your father?"

David answered, "I am the son of your servant Jesse of Bethlehem."

1 Samuel 17:1-58

Situation

Earlier passages confirmed that Goliath came from an area that had many tall people. Even though it wasn't unusual for two armies to send out their best soldiers to fight in place of an all-out war, the Israelites had no one to compare to nine-foot-tall Goliath.

Observation

Though the Israelites feared losing to Goliath, they forgot who had called them to enter the Promised Land. Though they had seen God fight for them in many previous battles, they neglected to trust him in this one. David's focus was not on the size of the enemy, but on God.

Inspiration

There are certain things anyone knows not to do... . You don't fight a lion with a toothpick. You don't sneeze into the wind. You don't go bear hunting with a cork gun. And you don't send a shepherd boy to battle a giant.

You don't, that is, unless you are out of options. Saul was. And it is when we are out of options that we are most ready for God's surprises.

Was Saul ever surprised!

The king tried to give David some equipment. "What do you want, boy? Shield? Sword? Grenades? Rifles? A helicopter? We'll make a Rambo out of you."

David had something else in mind. Five smooth stones and an ordinary leather sling.

The soldiers gasped. Saul sighed. Goliath jeered.

David swung. And God made his point. “Anyone who underestimates what God can do with the ordinary has rocks in his head.” (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Saul Fears David

When David finished talking with Saul, Jonathan felt very close to David. He loved David as much as he loved himself. <sup>2</sup>Saul kept David with him from that day on and did not let him go home to his father's house. <sup>3</sup>Jonathan made an agreement with David, because he loved David as much as himself. <sup>4</sup>He took off his coat and gave it to David, along with his armor, including his sword, bow, and belt.

<sup>5</sup>Saul sent David to fight in different battles, and David was very successful. Then Saul put David over the soldiers, which pleased Saul's officers and all the other people.

<sup>6</sup>After David had killed the Philistine, he and the men returned home. Women came out from all the towns of Israel to meet King Saul. They sang songs of joy, danced, and played tambourines and stringed instruments. <sup>7</sup>As they played, they sang,

“Saul has killed thousands of his enemies,
but David has killed tens of thousands.”

<sup>8</sup>The women's song upset Saul, and he became very angry. He thought, “The women say David has killed tens of thousands, but they say I have killed only thousands. The only thing left for him to have is the kingdom!” <sup>9</sup>So Saul watched David closely from then on, because he was jealous.

<sup>10</sup>The next day an evil spirit from God rushed upon Saul, and he prophesied in his house. David was playing the harp as he usually did, but Saul had a spear in his hand. <sup>11</sup>He threw the spear, thinking, “I’ll pin David to the wall.” But David escaped from him twice.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord was with David but had left Saul. So Saul was afraid of David. <sup>13</sup>He sent David away and made him commander of a thousand soldiers. So David led them in battle. <sup>14</sup>He had great success in everything he did because the Lord was with him. <sup>15</sup>When Saul saw that David was very successful, he feared David even more. <sup>16</sup>But all the people of Israel and Judah loved David because he led them well in battle.

Saul’s Daughter Marries David

<sup>17</sup>Saul said to David, “Here is my older daughter Merab. I will let you marry her. All I ask is that you remain brave and fight the Lord’s battles.” Saul thought, “I won’t have to kill David. The Philistines will do that.”

<sup>18</sup>But David answered Saul, saying, “Who am I? My family is not important enough for me to become the king’s son-in-law.” <sup>19</sup>So, when the time came for Saul’s daughter Merab to marry David, Saul gave her instead to Adriel of Meholah.

<sup>20</sup>Now Saul’s other daughter, Michal, loved David. When they told Saul, he was pleased. <sup>21</sup>He thought, “I will let her marry David. Then she will be a trap for him, and the Philistines will defeat him.” So Saul said to David a second time, “You may become my son-in-law.”

<sup>23</sup>Saul’s servants said these words to David, but David answered, “Do you think it is easy to become the king’s son-in-law? I am poor and unimportant.”

<sup>26</sup>When Saul’s servants told this to David, he was pleased to become the king’s son-in-law. <sup>27</sup>So he and his men went out and killed two hundred Philistines. David brought all their foreskins to Saul so he could be the king’s son-in-law. Then Saul gave him his daughter Michal for his wife. <sup>28</sup>Saul saw that the Lord was with David and that his daughter Michal loved David. <sup>29</sup>So he grew even more afraid of David, and he was David’s enemy all his life.

<sup>30</sup>The Philistine commanders continued to go out to fight the Israelites, but every time, David was more skillful than Saul’s officers. So he became famous.

Life Lessons

1 Samuel 18:1–20:42

Situation

Though Saul was king and his son Jonathan first in line for succession, God had appointed David as the next king of Israel. David waited for God’s timing and did not try to dethrone Saul or eliminate the heir to the throne. Saul’s goal was to protect his family line at any cost.

Observation

In this tender story, Jonathan protects David. In hugging David, Jonathan was saying that his own bond of loyalty with David would never be broken.

Inspiration

The touch did not heal the disease, you know. Matthew is careful to mention that it was the pronouncement and not the touch of Christ that cured the condition. “Jesus reached out his hand and touched the man and said, ‘I will. Be healed!’ And immediately the man was healed from his disease” (Matthew 8:3).

The infection was banished by a word from Jesus.

The loneliness, however, was treated by a touch from Jesus.

Oh, the power of a godly touch. Haven't you known it? The doctor who treated you, or the teacher who dried your tears? Was there a hand holding yours at a funeral? Another on your shoulder during a trial? A handshake of welcome at a new job? A pastoral prayer for healing? Haven't we known the power of a godly touch?

Can't we offer the same?

Many of you already do. Some of you have the master touch of the Physician himself. You use your hands to pray over the sick and minister to the weak. If you aren't touching them personally, your hands are writing letters, dialing phones, baking pies. You have learned the power of a touch.

But others of us tend to forget. Our hearts are good; it's just that our memories are bad. We forget how significant one touch can be. We fear saying the wrong thing or using the wrong tone or acting the wrong way. So rather than do it incorrectly, we do nothing at all.

Aren't we glad Jesus didn't make the same mistake? If your fear of doing the wrong thing prevents you from doing anything, keep in mind the perspective of the lepers of the world. They aren't picky. They aren't finicky. They're just lonely. They are yearning for a godly touch.

Jesus touched the untouchables of the world. Will you do the same? (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Saul Tries to Kill David

Saul told his son Jonathan and all his servants to kill David, but Jonathan liked David very much.<sup>2</sup> So he warned David, “My father Saul is looking for a chance to kill you. Watch out in the morning. Hide in a secret place.<sup>3</sup> I will go out and stand with my father in the field where you are hiding, and I’ll talk to him about you. Then I’ll let you know what I find out.”

<sup>4</sup>When Jonathan talked to Saul his father, he said good things about David. Jonathan said, “The king should do no wrong to your servant David since he has done nothing wrong to you. What he has done has helped you greatly.<sup>5</sup> David risked his life when he killed Goliath the Philistine, and the Lord won a great victory for all Israel. You saw it and were happy. Why would you do wrong against David? He’s innocent. There’s no reason to kill him!”

<sup>6</sup>Saul listened to Jonathan and then made this promise: “As surely as the Lord lives, David won’t be put to death.”

<sup>7</sup>So Jonathan called to David and told him everything that had been said. He brought David to Saul, and David was with Saul as before.

<sup>8</sup>When war broke out again, David went out to fight the Philistines. He defeated them, and they ran away from him.

<sup>9</sup>But once again an evil spirit from the Lord rushed upon Saul as he was sitting in his house with his spear in his hand. David was playing the harp.<sup>10</sup> Saul tried to pin David to the wall with his spear, but David jumped out of the way. So Saul’s spear went into the wall, and David ran away that night.

<sup>11</sup>Saul sent messengers to David's house to watch it and to kill him in the morning. But Michal, David's wife, warned him, saying, "Tonight you must run for your life. If you don't, you will be dead in the morning."<sup>12</sup>So she let David down out of a window, and he ran away and escaped. <sup>13</sup>Then Michal took an idol, laid it on the bed, covered it with clothes, and put goats' hair at its head.

<sup>15</sup>Saul sent them back to see David, saying, "Bring him to me on his bed so I can kill him."

<sup>16</sup>When the messengers entered David's house, they found just an idol on the bed with goats' hair on its head.

<sup>17</sup>Saul said to Michal, "Why did you trick me this way? You let my enemy go so he could run away!"

Michal answered Saul, "David told me if I did not help him escape, he would kill me."

<sup>18</sup>After David had escaped from Saul, he went to Samuel at Ramah and told him everything Saul had done to him. Then David and Samuel went to Naioth and stayed there. <sup>19</sup>Saul heard that David was in Naioth at Ramah. <sup>20</sup>So he sent messengers to capture him. But they met a group of prophets prophesying, with Samuel standing there leading them. So the Spirit of God entered Saul's men, and they also prophesied.

<sup>21</sup>When Saul heard the news, he sent more messengers, but they also prophesied. Then he sent messengers a third time, but they also prophesied. <sup>22</sup>Finally, Saul himself went to Ramah, to the well at Secu. He asked, "Where are Samuel and David?"

The people answered, "In Naioth at Ramah."

<sup>23</sup>When Saul went to Naioth at Ramah, the Spirit of God also rushed upon him. And he walked on, prophesying until he came to Naioth at Ramah. <sup>24</sup>He took off his robes and prophesied in front of Samuel. He lay that way all day and all night. That is why people ask, “Is even Saul one of the prophets?”

Jonathan Helps David

Then David ran away from Naioth in Ramah. He went to Jonathan and asked, “What have I done? What is my crime? How did I sin against your father? Why is he trying to kill me?”

<sup>2</sup>Jonathan answered, “No! You won’t die! See, my father doesn’t do anything great or small without first telling me. Why would he keep this from me? It’s not true!”

<sup>3</sup>But David took an oath, saying, “Your father knows very well that you like me. He says to himself, ‘Jonathan must not know about it, or he will tell David.’ As surely as the Lord lives and as you live, I am only a step away from death!”

<sup>4</sup>Jonathan said to David, “I’ll do anything you want me to do.”

<sup>5</sup>So David said, “Look, tomorrow is the New Moon festival. I am supposed to eat with the king, but let me hide in the field until the third evening. <sup>6</sup>If your father notices I am gone, tell him, ‘David begged me to let him go to his hometown of Bethlehem. Every year at this time his family group offers a sacrifice.’ <sup>7</sup>If your father says, ‘Fine,’ I am safe. But if he becomes angry, you will know that he wants to hurt me. <sup>8</sup>Jonathan, be loyal to me, your servant. You have made an agreement with me before the Lord. If I am guilty, you may kill me yourself! Why hand me over to your father?”

<sup>9</sup>Jonathan answered, “No, never! If I learn that my father plans to hurt you, I will warn you!”

<sup>10</sup>David asked, “Who will let me know if your father answers you unkindly?”

<sup>11</sup>Then Jonathan said, “Come, let’s go out into the field.” So the two of them went out into the field.

<sup>12</sup>Jonathan said to David, “I promise this before the Lord, the God of Israel: At this same time the day after tomorrow, I will find out how my father feels. If he feels good toward you, I will send word to you and let you know. <sup>13</sup>But if my father plans to hurt you, I will let you know and send you away safely. May the Lord punish me terribly if I don’t do this. And may the Lord be with you as he has been with my father. <sup>14</sup>But show me the kindness of the Lord as long as I live so that I may not die. <sup>15</sup>You must never stop showing your kindness to my family, even when the Lord has destroyed all your enemies from the earth.”

<sup>16</sup>So Jonathan made an agreement with David. He said, “May the Lord hold David’s enemies responsible.” <sup>17</sup>And Jonathan asked David to repeat his promise of love for him, because he loved David as much as he loved himself.

<sup>18</sup>Jonathan said to David, “Tomorrow is the New Moon festival. Your seat will be empty, so my father will miss you. <sup>19</sup>On the third day go to the place where you hid when this trouble began. Wait by the rock Ezel. <sup>20</sup>On the third day I will shoot three arrows to the side of the rock as if I am shooting at a target. <sup>21</sup>Then I will send a boy to find the arrows. If I say to him, ‘The arrows are near you; bring them here,’ you may come out of hiding. You are safe. As the Lord lives, there is no danger. <sup>22</sup>But if I say to the boy, ‘Look, the arrows are beyond you,’ you must go, because the Lord is sending you away. <sup>23</sup>Remember what we talked about. The Lord is a witness between you and me forever.”

came, the king sat down to eat.<sup>25</sup> He sat where he always sat, near the wall. Jonathan sat across from him, and Abner sat next to Saul, but David's place was empty.<sup>26</sup> That day Saul said nothing. He thought, "Maybe something has happened to David so that he is unclean."<sup>27</sup> But the next day was the second day of the month, and David's place was still empty. So Saul said to Jonathan, "Why hasn't the son of Jesse come to the feast yesterday or today?"

<sup>28</sup>Jonathan answered, "David begged me to let him go to Bethlehem.<sup>29</sup> He said, 'Let me go, because our family has a sacrifice in the town, and my brother has ordered me to be there. Now if I am your friend, please let me go to see my brothers.' That is why he has not come to the king's table."

<sup>30</sup>Then Saul became very angry with Jonathan. He said, "You son of a wicked, worthless woman! I know you are on the side of David son of Jesse! You bring shame on yourself and on your mother who gave birth to you.<sup>31</sup> As long as Jesse's son lives, you will never be king or have a kingdom. Now send for David and bring him to me. He must die!"

<sup>32</sup>Jonathan asked his father, "Why should David be killed? What wrong has he done?"<sup>33</sup> Then Saul threw his spear at Jonathan, trying to kill him. So Jonathan knew that his father really wanted to kill David.<sup>34</sup> Jonathan was very angry and left the table. That second day of the month he refused to eat. He was ashamed of his father and upset over David.

<sup>35</sup>The next morning Jonathan went out to the field to meet David as they had agreed. He had a young boy with him.<sup>36</sup> Jonathan said to the boy, "Run and find the arrows I shoot." When he ran, Jonathan shot an arrow beyond him.<sup>37</sup> The boy ran to the place where Jonathan's arrow fell, but Jonathan called, “The arrow is beyond you!”<sup>38</sup> Then he shouted, “Hurry! Go quickly! Don’t stop!” The boy picked up the arrow and brought it back to his master.<sup>39</sup> (The boy knew nothing about what this meant; only Jonathan and David knew.)<sup>40</sup> Then Jonathan gave his weapons to the boy and told him, “Go back to town.”

<sup>41</sup>When the boy left, David came out from the south side of the rock. He bowed facedown on the ground before Jonathan three times. Then David and Jonathan kissed each other and cried together, but David cried the most.

<sup>42</sup>Jonathan said to David, “Go in peace. We have promised by the Lord that we will be friends. We said, ‘The Lord will be a witness between you and me, and between our descendants always.’” Then David left, and Jonathan went back to town.

Life Lessons

1 Samuel 21:1–22:23

Situation

David, pursued by Saul, sought rest at the town of Nob. Ahimelech the priest cared for David and his men. When Saul discovered David had been at Nob, he condemned the priests who aided David. Fearful of a conspiracy against himself, Saul ordered eighty-five priests killed and the town of Nob destroyed. Only one son of Ahimelech escaped to join David.

Observation

Saul's fear and resentment of David caused him to stray farther from God, committing rash crimes. Saul chose to disregard God's plan and God's priests.

Inspiration

Sharing your personal testimony may not necessarily be convicting.

I discovered this recently when talking with an acquaintance who happens to be a prominent journalist....

It's wonderful that you've found peace and fulfillment through Jesus, he said in effect, but I don't believe in Jesus. He told me he had friends in the New Age movement who had found spirituality too; it had worked for them as well as Christ had "worked" for me.

So I shifted gears and began to talk about eternal life. This man had had some health problems in the past; surely he had done some thinking about his own mortality.

Again he cut me off. Death was simply the end, he said. When we die we are just like a tree or an animal: we return to the dust. No such thing as an afterlife.

I talked about the Bible. He put his hand up, palm outward. “All legends,” he said firmly.

What could I say? He didn’t care about God’s plan for his life, getting into heaven, or what the Bible said.

Perhaps it’s when we are caught short—when our canned answers don’t work—that God uses us most effectively. For even as I was fumbling with my fork and my facts, an idea popped into my head.

“Have you seen Woody Allen’s Crimes and Misdemeanors?” I asked.

He had, and we talked about it for a few minutes. Then, catching him off guard, I asked, “Are you Judah Rosenthal?”

He laughed, but it was a nervous laugh.

“You may think this life is all there is,” I said, “but if so, then there is still an issue at hand—how do you live with yourself while you’re here? I know you have a conscience. So how do you deal with that when you know you do wrong?”

He picked at his food and told me that very issue gave him a lot of problems. Then somehow we moved into a discussion of Leo Tolstoy’s novel, War and Peace, in which Pierre, the central character, cries out, Why is it that I know what is right but do what is wrong? That in turn led us to C. S. Lewis’ concept of the natural law ingrained in all of us, and then to the central point of Romans 1: That we all are imbued with a conscience, run from it though we might, and that conscience itself points to questions which can only be answered outside of ourselves.

I don't know what's going to happen to this friend. My hunch is he's going to come to Christ, because I believe the Holy Spirit is hounding him. But I know one thing: without Woody Allen, Leo Tolstoy, and C. S. Lewis, I wouldn't have found a common ground and language with which to discuss the spiritual realm.

What does this tell us? Well, first of all, it does not mean that we must all run out to the video store and rent Crimes and Misdemeanors or slog through War and Peace. But it does mean that to evangelize today we must address the human condition at its point of felt need—conscience, guilt, dealing with others, finding a purpose for staying alive. Talking about the abundant life everlasting or Bible promises often just won't do it. (From The Body by Charles Colson)

Application

Sometimes our anger or fear causes us to act rashly and to displease God. Such acts separate us from our eternal Father and strain our relationship with him. What did you fear or get angry about yesterday? Repent and ask for God's forgiveness.

David Goes to See Ahimelech

David went to Nob to see Ahimelech the priest. Ahimelech shook with fear when he saw David, and he asked, “Why are you alone? Why is no one with you?”

<sup>2</sup>David answered him, “The king gave me a special order. He told me, ‘No one must know what I am sending you to do or what I told you to do.’ I told my men where to meet me. <sup>3</sup>Now, what food do you have with you? Give me five loaves of bread or anything you find.”

<sup>4</sup>The priest said to David, “I don’t have any plain bread here, but I do have some holy bread. You may eat it if your men have kept themselves from women.”

<sup>5</sup>David answered, “No women have been near us for days. My men always keep themselves holy, even when we do ordinary work. And this is especially true when the work is holy.”

<sup>6</sup>So the priest gave David the holy bread from the presence of God because there was no other. Each day the holy bread was replaced with hot bread.

<sup>7</sup>One of Saul’s servants happened to be there that day. He had been held there before the Lord. He was Doeg the Edomite, the chief of Saul’s shepherds.

<sup>8</sup>David asked Ahimelech, “Do you have a spear or sword here? The king’s business was very important, so I left without my sword or any other weapon.”

<sup>9</sup>The priest answered, “The sword of Goliath the Philistine, the one you killed in the Valley of Elah, is here. It is wrapped in a cloth behind the holy vest. If you want it, you may take it. There’s no other sword here but that one.”

David said, “There is no other sword like it. Give it to me.”

David Goes to Gath

<sup>10</sup>That day David ran away from Saul and went to Achish king of Gath. <sup>11</sup>But the servants of Achish said to him, “This is David, the king of the Israelites. He’s the man they dance and sing about, saying:

‘Saul has killed thousands of his enemies,
but David has killed tens of thousands.’”

<sup>12</sup>David paid attention to these words and was very much afraid of Achish king of Gath. <sup>13</sup>So he pretended to be crazy in front of Achish and his servants. While he was with them, he acted like a madman and clawed on the doors of the gate and let spit run down his beard.

<sup>14</sup>Achish said to his servants, “Look at the man! He’s crazy! Why do you bring him to me? <sup>15</sup>I have enough madmen. I don’t need you to bring him here to act like this in front of me! Don’t let him in my house!”

David at Adullam and Mizpah

David left Gath and escaped to the cave of Adullam. When his brothers and other relatives heard that he was there, they went to see him. <sup>2</sup>Everyone who was in trouble, or who owed money, or who was unsatisfied gathered around David, and he became their leader. About four hundred men were with him.

<sup>3</sup>From there David went to Mizpah in Moab and spoke to the king of Moab. He said, "Please let my father and mother come and stay with you until I learn what God is going to do for me." <sup>4</sup>So he left them with the king of Moab, and they stayed with him as long as David was hiding in the stronghold.

<sup>5</sup>But the prophet Gad said to David, "Don't stay in the stronghold. Go to the land of Judah." So David left and went to the forest of Hereth.

Saul Destroys Ahimelech's Family

<sup>6</sup>Saul heard that David and his men had been seen. Saul was sitting under the tamarisk tree on the hill at Gibeah, and all his officers were standing around him. He had a spear in his hand. <sup>7</sup>Saul said to them, "Listen, men of Benjamin! Do you think the son of Jesse will give all of you fields and vineyards? Will David make you commanders over thousands of men or hundreds of men? <sup>8</sup>You have all made plans against me! No one tells me when my son makes an agreement with the son of Jesse! No one cares about me! No one tells me when my son has encouraged my servant to ambush me this very day!"

<sup>9</sup>Doeg the Edomite, who was standing there with Saul's officers, said, "I saw the son of Jesse. He came to see Ahimelech son of Ahitub at Nob. <sup>10</sup>Ahimelech prayed to the Lord for David and gave him food and gave him the sword of Goliath the Philistine."

<sup>11</sup>Then the king sent for the priest Ahimelech son of Ahitub and for all of Ahimelech's relatives who were priests at Nob. And they all came to the king. <sup>12</sup>Saul said to Ahimelech, "Listen now, son of Ahitub."

Ahimelech answered, "Yes, master."

<sup>13</sup>Saul said, "Why are you and Jesse's son against me? You gave him bread and a sword! You prayed to God for him. David has turned against me and is waiting to attack me even now!"

<sup>14</sup>Ahimelech answered, "You have no other servant who is as loyal as David, your own son-in-law and captain of your bodyguards. Everyone in your house respects him. <sup>15</sup>That was not the first time I prayed to God for David. Don't blame me or any of my relatives. I, your servant, know nothing about what is going on."

<sup>16</sup>But the king said, "Ahimelech, you and all your relatives must die!" <sup>17</sup>Then he told the guards at his side, "Go and kill the priests of the Lord, because they are on David's side. They knew he was running away, but they didn't tell me."

But the king's officers refused to kill the priests of the Lord.

<sup>18</sup>Then the king ordered Doeg, "Go and kill the priests." So Doeg the Edomite went and killed the priests. That day he killed eighty-five men who wore the linen holy vest. <sup>19</sup>He also killed the people of Nob, the city of the priests. With the sword he killed men, women, children, babies, cattle, donkeys, and sheep.

<sup>20</sup>But Abiathar, a son of Ahimelech, who was the son of Ahitub, escaped. He ran away and joined David. <sup>21</sup>He told David that Saul had killed the Lord's priests. <sup>22</sup>Then David told him, "Doeg the Edomite was there at Nob that day. I knew he would surely tell Saul. So I am responsible for the death of all your father's family. <sup>23</sup>Stay with me. Don't be afraid. The man who wants to kill you also wants to kill me. You will be safe with me."

David Saves the People of Keilah

Someone told David, “Look, the Philistines are fighting against Keilah and stealing grain from the threshing floors.”

<sup>2</sup>David asked the Lord, “Should I go and fight these Philistines?”

The Lord answered him, “Go. Attack them, and save Keilah.”

<sup>3</sup>But David’s men said to him, “We’re afraid here in Judah. We will be more afraid if we go to Keilah where the Philistine army is.”

<sup>4</sup>David again asked the Lord, and the Lord answered, “Go down to Keilah. I will help you defeat the Philistines.” <sup>5</sup>So David and his men went to Keilah and fought the Philistines and took their cattle. David killed many Philistines and saved the people of Keilah. <sup>6</sup>(Now Abiathar son of Ahimelech had brought the holy vest with him when he came to David at Keilah.)

Saul Chases David

<sup>7</sup>Someone told Saul that David was now at Keilah. Saul said, “God has handed David over to me! He has trapped himself, because he has entered a town with gates and bars.” <sup>8</sup>Saul called all his army together for battle, and they prepared to go down to Keilah to attack David and his men.

<sup>9</sup>David learned Saul was making evil plans against him. So he said to Abiathar the priest, “Bring the holy vest.” <sup>10</sup>David prayed, “Lord, God of Israel, I have heard that Saul plans to come to Keilah to destroy the town because of me. <sup>11</sup>Will the leaders of Keilah hand me over to Saul? Will Saul come down to Keilah, as I heard? Lord, God of Israel, tell me, your servant!”

The Lord answered, “Saul will come down.”

<sup>12</sup>Again David asked, “Will the leaders of Keilah hand me and my men over to Saul?”

The Lord answered, “They will.”

<sup>14</sup>David stayed in the desert hideouts and in the hills of the Desert of Ziph. Every day Saul looked for David, but the Lord did not surrender David to him.

<sup>15</sup>While David was at Horesh in the Desert of Ziph, he learned that Saul was coming to kill him. <sup>16</sup>But Saul’s son Jonathan went to David at Horesh and strengthened his faith in God. <sup>17</sup>Jonathan told him, “Don’t be afraid, because my father won’t touch you. You will be king of Israel, and I will be second to you. Even my father Saul knows this.” <sup>18</sup>The two of them made an agreement before the Lord. Then Jonathan went home, but David stayed at Horesh.

<sup>19</sup>The people from Ziph went to Saul at Gibeah and told him, “David is hiding in our land. He’s at the hideouts of Horesh, on the hill of Hakilah, south of Jeshimon. <sup>20</sup>Now, our king, come down anytime you want. It’s our duty to hand David over to you.”

<sup>21</sup>Saul answered, “The Lord bless you for helping me. <sup>22</sup>Go and learn more about him. Find out where he is staying and who has seen him there. I have heard that he is clever. <sup>23</sup>Find all the hiding places he uses, and come back and tell me everything. Then I'll go with you. If David is in the area, I will track him down among all the families in Judah.”

<sup>24</sup>So they went back to Ziph ahead of Saul. Now David and his men were in the Desert of Maon in the desert area south of Jeshimon. <sup>25</sup>Saul and his men went to look for David, but David heard about it and went down to a rock and stayed in the Desert of Maon. When Saul heard that, he followed David into the Desert of Maon.

<sup>26</sup>Saul was going along one side of the mountain, and David and his men were on the other side. They were hurrying to get away from Saul, because Saul and his men were closing in on them. <sup>27</sup>But a messenger came to Saul, saying, “Come quickly! The Philistines are attacking our land!” <sup>28</sup>So Saul stopped chasing David and went to challenge the Philistines. That is why people call this place Rock of Parting. <sup>29</sup>David also left the Desert of Maon and stayed in the hideouts of En Gedi.

Situation

David, hotly pursued by King Saul, proved his honorable motivations by not killing Saul in the cave. Although his own men pressured him, he would not kill God's king.

Observation

By maintaining right priorities in life, you can withstand the fiery trials and temptations.

Inspiration

“Careful!” the craftsman exclaimed. “Please don’t touch the pottery on that shelf. You’ll ruin it.” Then he surprised us when he said, “Why don’t you touch the ones on the other shelf?” Needless to say, we were curious as to why some vases could be touched and not others.

Glancing at the “do-not-touch” shelf, he explained, “These haven’t been fired yet.” The potter told us then that there was more to masterpieces than just making blobs into beautiful shapes. If he stopped at that point, they would quickly be marred and misshapen. Without the fire, the potter’s work is still beautiful, but too fragile.

The other vases could be touched because they had twice been baked in his kiln at temperatures of more than 2,000 degrees! “The fire makes the clay firm and strong,” our host concluded. “Fire makes the beauty last.”

That was the trigger. My thoughts raced to Peter’s words: “All kinds of trials ... have come so that your faith—of greater worth than gold, which perishes even though refined by fire—may be proved genuine” (1 Peter 1:6–7).

Both Peter and the potter were talking to me about a fire that increases the value of something precious. Having spent my adult years in an oven—a pressure cooker to be exact—I knew about fire. Much of it could be traced to my overheated schedule and overcommitted lifestyle. That heat was my own fault.

But there is another fire that comes, not from me, but from the Master Potter. There is, to be sure, a heat that burns, and another heat that beautifies. (From Peaceful Living in a Stressful World by Ron Hutchcraft)

David Shames Saul

After Saul returned from chasing the Philistines, he was told, “David is in the Desert of En Gedi.”<sup>2</sup> So he took three thousand chosen men from all Israel and began looking for David and his men near the Rocks of the Wild Goats.

<sup>3</sup>Saul came to the sheep pens beside the road. A cave was there, and he went in to relieve himself. Now David and his men were hiding far back in the cave.<sup>4</sup> The men said to David, “Today is the day the Lord spoke of when he said, ‘I will give your enemy over to you. Do anything you want with him.’”

Then David crept up to Saul and quietly cut off a corner of Saul’s robe.<sup>5</sup> Later David felt guilty because he had cut off a corner of Saul’s robe.<sup>6</sup> He said to his men, “May the Lord keep me from doing such a thing to my master! Saul is the Lord’s appointed king. I should not do anything against him, because he is the Lord’s appointed king!”<sup>7</sup> David used these words to stop his men; he did not let them attack Saul. Then Saul left the cave and went his way.

<sup>8</sup>When David came out of the cave, he shouted to Saul, “My master and king!” Saul looked back, and David bowed facedown on the ground.<sup>9</sup> He said to Saul, “Why do you listen when people say, ‘David wants to harm you’? <sup>10</sup>You have seen something with your own eyes today. The Lord put you in my power in the cave. They said I should kill you, but I was merciful. I said, ‘I won’t harm my master, because he is the Lord’s appointed king.’ <sup>11</sup>My father, look at this piece of your robe in my hand! I cut off the corner of your robe, but I didn’t kill you. Now understand and know I am not planning any evil against you. I did nothing wrong to you, but you are hunting me to kill me. <sup>12</sup>May the Lord judge between us, and may he punish you for the wrong you have done to me! But I am not against you. <sup>13</sup>There is an old saying: 'Evil things come from evil people.' But I am not against you. <sup>14</sup>Whom is the king of Israel coming out against? Whom are you chasing? It's as if you are chasing a dead dog or a flea. <sup>15</sup>May the Lord be our judge and decide between you and me. May he support me and show that I am right. May he save me from you!"

<sup>16</sup>When David finished saying these words, Saul asked, "Is that your voice, David my son?" And he cried loudly. <sup>17</sup>He said, "You are a better man than I am. You have been good to me, but I have done wrong to you. <sup>18</sup>You told me what good things you did. The Lord handed me over to you, but you did not kill me. <sup>19</sup>If a person finds his enemy, he doesn't just send him on his way, does he? May the Lord reward you because you were good to me today. <sup>20</sup>I know you will surely be king, and you will rule the kingdom of Israel. <sup>21</sup>Now swear to me by the Lord that you will not kill my descendants and that you won't wipe out my name from my father's family."

<sup>22</sup>So David made the promise to Saul. Then Saul went back home, and David and his men went up to their hideout.

Nabal Insults David

Now Samuel died, and all the Israelites met and had a time of sadness for him. Then they buried him at his home in Ramah.

David moved to the Desert of Maon.<sup>2</sup> A man in Maon who had land at Carmel was very rich. He had three thousand sheep and a thousand goats. He was cutting the wool off his sheep at Carmel.<sup>3</sup> His name was Nabal, and he was a descendant of Caleb. His wife was named Abigail. She was wise and beautiful, but Nabal was cruel and mean.

<sup>4</sup>While David was in the desert, he heard that Nabal was cutting the wool from his sheep. <sup>5</sup>So he sent ten young men and told them, “Go to Nabal at Carmel, and greet him for me. <sup>6</sup>Say to Nabal, ‘May you and your family and all who belong to you have good health! <sup>7</sup>I have heard that you are cutting the wool from your sheep. When your shepherds were with us, we did not harm them. All the time your shepherds were at Carmel, we stole nothing from them. <sup>8</sup>Ask your servants, and they will tell you. We come at a happy time, so be kind to my young men. Please give anything you can find for them and for your son David.’”

<sup>9</sup>When David’s men arrived, they gave the message to Nabal, but Nabal insulted them. <sup>10</sup>He answered them, “Who is David? Who is this son of Jesse? Many slaves are running away from their masters today! <sup>11</sup>I have bread and water, and I have meat that I killed for my servants who cut the wool. But I won’t give it to men I don’t know.”

<sup>12</sup>David’s men went back and told him all Nabal had said.

<sup>13</sup>Then David said to them, “Put on your swords!” So they put on their swords, and David put on his also. About four hundred men went with David, but two hundred men stayed with the supplies.

<sup>14</sup>One of Nabal’s servants said to Abigail, Nabal’s wife, “David sent messengers from the desert to greet our master, but Nabal insulted them. <sup>15</sup>These men were very good to us. They did not harm us. They stole nothing from us during all the time we were out in the field with them. <sup>16</sup>Night and day they protected us. They were like a wall around us while we were with them caring for the sheep. <sup>17</sup>Now think about it, and decide what you can do. Terrible trouble is coming to our master and all his family. Nabal is such a wicked man that no one can even talk to him.”

<sup>20</sup>Abigail rode her donkey and came down toward the mountain hideout. There she met David and his men coming down toward her.

<sup>21</sup>David had just said, “It’s been useless! I watched over Nabal’s property in the desert. I made sure none of his sheep was missing. I did good to him, but he has paid me back with evil. <sup>22</sup>May God punish my enemies even more. I will not leave one of Nabal’s men alive until morning.”

David's feet and said, "My master, let the blame be on me! Please let me talk to you. Listen to what I say. <sup>25</sup>My master, don't pay attention to this worthless man Nabal. He is like his name. His name means 'fool,' and he is truly a fool. But I, your servant, didn't see the men you sent. <sup>26</sup>The Lord has kept you from killing and punishing anyone. As surely as the Lord lives and as surely as you live, may your enemies become like Nabal! <sup>27</sup>I have brought a gift to you for the men who follow you. <sup>28</sup>Please forgive my wrong. The Lord will certainly let your family have many kings, because you fight his battles. As long as you live, may you do nothing bad. <sup>29</sup>Someone might chase you to kill you, but the Lord your God will keep you alive. He will throw away your enemies' lives as he would throw a stone from a sling. <sup>30</sup>The Lord will keep all his promises of good things for you. He will make you leader over Israel. <sup>31</sup>Then you won't feel guilty or troubled because you killed innocent people and punished them. Please remember me when the Lord brings you success."

<sup>32</sup>David answered Abigail, "Praise the Lord, the God of Israel, who sent you to meet me. <sup>33</sup>May you be blessed for your wisdom. You have kept me from killing or punishing people today. <sup>34</sup>As surely as the Lord, the God of Israel, lives, he has kept me from hurting you. If you hadn't come quickly to meet me, not one of Nabal's men would have lived until morning."

<sup>35</sup>Then David accepted Abigail's gifts. He told her, "Go home in peace. I have heard your words, and I will do what you have asked."

Nabal's Death

<sup>36</sup>When Abigail went back to Nabal, he was in the house, eating like a king. He was very drunk and in a good mood. So she told him nothing until the next morning. <sup>37</sup>In the morning when he was not drunk, his wife told him everything. His heart stopped, and he became like stone. <sup>38</sup>About ten days later the Lord struck Nabal and he died.

<sup>39</sup>When David heard that Nabal was dead, he said, “Praise the Lord! Nabal insulted me, but the Lord has supported me! He has kept me from doing wrong. The Lord has punished Nabal for his wrong.”

Then David sent a message to Abigail, asking her to be his wife. <sup>40</sup>His servants went to Carmel and said to Abigail, “David sent us to take you so you can become his wife.”

<sup>41</sup>Abigail bowed facedown on the ground and said, “I am your servant. I’m ready to serve you and to wash the feet of my master’s servants.” <sup>42</sup>Abigail quickly got on a donkey and went with David’s messengers, with her five maids following her. And she became David’s wife.

<sup>43</sup>David also had married Ahinoam of Jezreel. So they were both David’s wives. <sup>44</sup>Saul’s daughter Michal was also David’s wife, but Saul had given her to Paltiel son of Laish, who was from Gallim.

Life Lessons

1 Samuel 25:1–26:25

Situation

As an outcast David lived by his wits in order to evade death at the hands of King Saul. During this time, David went to Nabal (a rich man he had aided in the past) for help. Nabal insulted David and his men, but God constrained David from killing Nabal. David then had an opportunity for the second time to kill Saul but respected his position instead.

Observation

Saul finally recognized that David was destined to be the leader of Israel. Apparently Saul never again tried to interfere with God's will for the kingdom (see 27:4).

Inspiration

What do you do when people mistreat you or those you love? Does the fire of anger boil within you, with leaping flames consuming your emotions? Or do you reach somewhere, to some source of cool water and pull out a bucket of mercy—to free yourself? Is there any emotion that imprisons the soul more than the unwillingness to forgive?

Don't get on the roller coaster of resentment and anger. You be the one who says, "Yes, he mistreated me, but I am going to be like Christ. I'll be the one who says, 'Forgive them, Father, they don't know what they're doing.'"

The first step toward forgiveness is to see the other person as a human being, not as a source of hurt. That's how God treated us with mercy—he became one of us, he felt as we feel, he understood our frustrations. And as a result, when he hung on the cross, he could look at those crucifying him and ask God to forgive them.

When you forgive someone, you are as close to God as you will ever be, because in that forgiveness you are demonstrating the very heart of God, the merciful King. If you want to understand God, if you want to draw closer to him, then forgive someone today. (From The Inspirational Bible, “Forgiveness”)

Application

Because of our inherent self-centeredness, it is never easy to forgive some people, especially those who have hurt us deeply. To keep yourself from allowing a root of bitterness to take hold, forgive those who have hurt you. Ask the Lord to impress on you the grace he bestowed on you at Calvary.

David Shames Saul Again

The people of Ziph went to Saul at Gibeah and said to him, “David is hiding on the hill of Hakilah opposite Jeshimon.”

<sup>2</sup>So Saul went down to the Desert of Ziph with three thousand chosen men of Israel to look for David there. <sup>3</sup>Saul made his camp beside the road on the hill of Hakilah opposite Jeshimon, but David stayed in the desert. When he heard Saul had followed him, <sup>4</sup>he sent out spies and learned for certain that Saul had come to Hakilah.

<sup>5</sup>Then David went to the place where Saul had camped. He saw where Saul and Abner son of Ner, the commander of Saul’s army, were sleeping. Saul was sleeping in the middle of the camp with all the army around him.

<sup>6</sup>David asked Ahimelech the Hittite and Abishai son of Zeruah, Joab’s brother, “Who will go down into Saul’s camp with me?”

Abishai answered, “I’ll go with you.”

<sup>7</sup>So that night David and Abishai went into Saul’s camp. Saul was asleep in the middle of the camp with his spear stuck in the ground near his head. Abner and the army were sleeping around Saul. <sup>8</sup>Abishai said to David, “Today God has handed your enemy over to you. Let me pin Saul to the ground with my spear. I’ll only have to do it once. I won’t need to hit him twice.”

<sup>9</sup>But David said to Abishai, “Don’t kill Saul! No one can harm the Lord’s appointed king and still be innocent! <sup>10</sup>As surely as the Lord lives, the Lord himself will punish Saul.

Maybe Saul will die naturally, or maybe he will go into battle and be killed.<sup>11</sup> But may the Lord keep me from harming his appointed king! Take the spear and water jug that are near Saul's head. Then let's go."

<sup>12</sup>So David took the spear and water jug that were near Saul's head, and they left. No one saw them or knew about it or woke up, because the Lord had put them sound asleep.

<sup>13</sup>David crossed over to the other side of the hill and stood on top of the mountain far from Saul's camp. They were a long way away from each other. <sup>14</sup>David shouted to the army and to Abner son of Ner, "Won't you answer me, Abner?"

Abner answered, "Who is calling for the king? Who are you?"

<sup>15</sup>David said, "You're the greatest man in Israel. Isn't that true? Why didn't you guard your master the king? Someone came into your camp to kill your master the king! <sup>16</sup>You have not done well. As surely as the Lord lives, you and your men should die. You haven't guarded your master, the Lord's appointed king. Look! Where are the king's spear and water jug that were near his head?"

<sup>17</sup>Saul knew David's voice. He said, "Is that your voice, David my son?"

David answered, "Yes, it is, my master and king." <sup>18</sup>David also said, "Why are you chasing me, my master? What wrong have I done? What evil am I guilty of? <sup>19</sup>My master and king, listen to me. If the Lord made you angry with me, let him accept an offering. But if people did it, may the Lord curse them! They have made me leave the land the Lord gave me. They have told me, 'Go and serve other gods.' <sup>20</sup>Now don't let me die far away from the Lord's presence. The king of Israel has come out looking for a flea! You're just hunting a bird in the mountains!"

<sup>21</sup>Then Saul said, "I have sinned. Come back, David my son. Today you respected my life, so I will not try to hurt you. I have been very stupid and foolish."

<sup>25</sup>Then Saul said to David, "You are blessed, my son David. You will do great things and succeed."

So David went on his way, and Saul went back home.

Life Lessons

1 Samuel 27:1-12

Situation

David knew that his life was in jeopardy as long as Saul was alive. David's problems drove him so far from his homeland and heritage that he resorted to an alliance with the Philistine king who allowed him to survive as an outlaw.

Observation

Troubles and conflicts sometimes cause us to make accommodations we normally would find unacceptable.

Inspiration

Jesus said that out of the nature of the heart a man speaks. There's nothing like a good thump to reveal the nature of a heart. The true character of a person is seen not in momentary heroics, but in the thump-packed humdrum of day-to-day living....

Begin by thanking God for thumps. I don't mean a halfhearted thank you. I mean a "rejoicing, jumping for joy" thank you from the bottom of your heart. Chances are that God is doing the thumping. And he's doing it for your own good. So every thump is a reminder that God is molding you....

Beware of "thump-slump" times. Know your pressure periods. For me, Mondays are infamous for causing thump-slumps. Fridays can be just as bad. For all of us there are times during the week that we can anticipate an unusual amount of thumping. The best way to handle thump-slump times? Bolster yourself with extra prayer and don't give up.

Remember, no thump is disastrous. All thumps work for good if we are living for and obeying God. (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Application

The problems and obstacles we encounter in life are meant to cultivate faith, wisdom, patience, and confidence. ## David Lives with the Philistines

But David thought to himself, “Saul will catch me someday. The best thing I can do is escape to the land of the Philistines. Then he will give up looking for me in Israel, and I can get away from him.”

New Life in Christ

Extending Grace to Others

When the church in Rome was debating whether to eat meat offered to idols, did Paul tell them to start two churches? One for the meat-eaters and one for the non-meat-eaters? No, on the contrary, he urged, “Christ accepted you, so you should accept each other, which will bring glory to God” (Romans 15:7).

“No one can harm the Lord’s appointed king and still be innocent!”—1 Samuel 26:9

Is God asking us to do anything more than what he has already done? Hasn’t he gone a long way in accepting us? If God can tolerate my mistakes, can't I tolerate the mistakes of others? If God allows me, with my foibles and failures, to call him Father, shouldn't I extend the same grace to others? In fact, who can offer grace except those secure in the grip of grace? If God doesn't demand perfection, should I? ...

God's ship is a grand vessel. Just as a ship has many rooms, so God's kingdom has room for many opinions. But just as a ship has one deck, God's kingdom has a common ground: the all-sufficient sacrifice of Jesus Christ.

Will you pray with me for the day when Jesus' prayer is answered?

Will you pray with me for the day when the world is won because the church is one?

Will you pray with me for the day when we come out of our rooms and stand together to salute our captain? When clusters cease and the chorus commences?

Jesus' final prayer before the cross was for the unity of his followers. Would he offer a prayer that couldn't be answered? I don't think so either. (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

Question: Is there anyone in your church, family, or circle of friends to whom you need to show grace?

<sup>5</sup>Then David said to Achish, “If you are pleased with me, give me a place in one of the country towns where I can live. I don’t need to live in the royal city with you.”

<sup>6</sup>That day Achish gave David the town of Ziklag, and Ziklag has belonged to the kings of Judah ever since. <sup>7</sup>David lived in the Philistine land a year and four months.

<sup>8</sup>David and his men raided the people of Geshur, Girzi, and Amalek. (These people had lived for a long time in the land that reached to Shur and Egypt.) <sup>9</sup>When David fought them, he killed all the men and women and took their sheep, cattle, donkeys, camels, and clothes. Then he returned to Achish.

<sup>10</sup>Achish would ask David, “Where did you go raiding today?” And David would tell him that he had gone to the southern part of Judah, or Jerahmeel, or to the land of the Kenites. <sup>11</sup>David never brought a man or woman alive to Gath. He thought, “If we bring people alive, they may tell Achish, ‘This is what David really did.’” David did this all the time he lived in the Philistine land. <sup>12</sup>So Achish trusted David and said to himself, “David’s own people, the Israelites, now hate him very much. He will serve me forever.”

1 Samuel 28:1-25

Situation

Saul discovered the Philistines massing for an attack. Unsure of his ability to lead the nation to victory, Saul turned to the witch of Endor for help.

Observation

Sometimes, in a struggle to solve our problems, we are tempted to turn away from God's help. Saul's life demonstrated the disastrous results of seeking help by means of spiritual forces other than God. The Holy Spirit had long abandoned him.

Inspiration

And, for some, the loss of mystery has led to the loss of majesty. The more we know, the less we believe. Strange, don't you think? Knowledge of the workings shouldn't negate wonder. Knowledge should stir wonder. Who has more reason to worship than the astronomer who has seen the stars? Than the surgeon who has held a heart? Than the oceanographer who has pondered the depths? The more we know, the more we should be amazed.

Ironically, the more we know, the less we worship. We are more impressed with our discovery of the light switch than with the one who invented electricity. Call it cricket-brained logic. Rather than worship the Creator, we worship the creation (see Romans 1:25).

No wonder there is no wonder. We've figured it all out.

One of the most popular attractions at Disney World is the Jungle Cruise. People will spend forty-five minutes waiting in the Florida heat for the chance to board the boat and wind through snake-infested forests. They come for the thrills. You never know when a native will jump out of the trees or a crocodile will peek out of the water. The waterfalls drench you, the rainbow inspires you, and the baby elephants playing in the water amuse you.

It's quite a trip—the first few times. But after four or five runs down the river, it begins to lose its zest. I should know. During the three years I lived in Miami, Florida, I made nearly twenty trips to Orlando. I was single and owned a van and was a sucker for anybody who wanted to spend a day at the Magic Kingdom. By the eighth or ninth trip I could tell you the names of the guides and the jokes they told.

A couple of times I actually dozed off on the journey. The trail had lost its secrets. Ever wonder why people sleep in on Sunday mornings (whether in the bed or in the sanctuary)? Now you know. They've seen it all. Why get excited? They know it all. There is nothing sacred. The holy becomes humdrum. Rather than dashing into life like kids to the park, we doze through our days like commuters on a train.

Can you see why people become “full of sexual sin, using their bodies wrongly with each other”? (Romans 1:24). You've got to get excitement somewhere.

According to Romans 1, godlessness is a bad swap. In living for today, the hut-building hedonist destroys his hope of living in a castle tomorrow.

What was true in Paul's day is still true in ours, and we would do well to heed his warning. Otherwise, what is to keep us from destroying ourselves? If there is no standard in this life, no purpose to this life, and nothing sacred about this life, what is to keep us from doing whatever we want? (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

Application

Ask yourself if you've allowed anything in your life to take the place of God. Do you find that God is not "exciting enough"? Do you prefer to go elsewhere to try to find answers to your problems? Admit the reality of spiritual warfare. Recognize that only in the true God can you find inner joy and peace.

Saul and the Witch of Endor

Later, the Philistines gathered their armies to fight against Israel. Achish said to David, “You understand that you and your men must join my army.”

<sup>2</sup>David answered, “You will see for yourself what I, your servant, can do!”

Achish said, “Fine, I’ll make you my permanent bodyguard.”

<sup>3</sup>Now Samuel was dead, and all the Israelites had shown their sadness for him. They had buried Samuel in his hometown of Ramah.

And Saul had forced out the mediums and fortune-tellers from the land.

<sup>4</sup>The Philistines came together and made camp at Shunem. Saul gathered all the Israelites and made camp at Gilboa. <sup>5</sup>When he saw the Philistine army, he was afraid, and his heart pounded with fear. <sup>6</sup>He prayed to the Lord, but the Lord did not answer him through dreams, Urim, or prophets. <sup>7</sup>Then Saul said to his servants, “Find me a woman who is a medium so I may go and ask her what will happen.”

His servants answered, “There is a medium in Endor.”

<sup>8</sup>Then Saul put on other clothes to disguise himself, and at night he and two of his men went to see the woman. Saul said to her, “Talk to a spirit for me. Bring up the person I name.”

<sup>9</sup>But the woman said to him, “Surely you know what Saul has done. He has forced the mediums and fortune-tellers from the land. You are trying to trap me and get me killed.”

<sup>10</sup>Saul made a promise to the woman in the name of the Lord. He said, “As surely as the Lord lives, you won’t be punished for this.”

<sup>11</sup>The woman asked, “Whom do you want me to bring up?”
He answered, “Bring up Samuel.”

<sup>12</sup>When the woman saw Samuel, she screamed. She said, “Why have you tricked me? You are Saul!”

<sup>13</sup>The king said to the woman, “Don’t be afraid! What do you see?”

The woman said, “I see a spirit coming up out of the ground.”

<sup>14</sup>Saul asked, “What does he look like?”

The woman answered, “An old man wearing a coat is coming up.”

Then Saul knew it was Samuel, and he bowed facedown on the ground.

<sup>15</sup>Samuel asked Saul, “Why have you disturbed me by bringing me up?”

Saul said, “I am greatly troubled. The Philistines are fighting against me, and God has left me. He won’t answer me anymore, either by prophets or in dreams. That’s why I called for you. Tell me what to do.”

<sup>16</sup>Samuel said, “The Lord has left you and has become your enemy. So why do you call on me? <sup>17</sup>He has done what he said he would do—the things he said through me. He has torn the kingdom out of your hands and given it to one of your neighbors, David. <sup>18</sup>You did not obey the Lord; you did not show the Amalekites how angry he was with them. That’s why he has done this to you today. <sup>19</sup>The Lord will hand over both Israel and you to the Philistines. Tomorrow you and your sons will be with me. The Lord will hand over the army of Israel to the Philistines.”

<sup>20</sup>Saul quickly fell flat on the ground and was afraid of what Samuel had said. He was also very weak because he had eaten nothing all that day and night.

<sup>21</sup>Then the woman came to Saul and saw that he was really frightened. She said, “Look, I, your servant, have obeyed you. I have risked my life and done what you told me to do. <sup>22</sup>Now please listen to me. Let me give you some food so you may eat and have enough strength to go on your way.”

His servants joined the woman in asking him to eat, and he listened to them. So he got up from the ground and sat on the bed.

<sup>24</sup>At the house the woman had a fat calf, which she quickly killed. She took some flour and mixed dough with her hands. Then she baked some bread without yeast. <sup>25</sup>She put the food before them, and they ate. That same night they got up and left.

David Goes Back to Ziklag

The Philistines gathered all their soldiers at Aphek. Israel camped by the spring at Jezreel.<sup>2</sup>The Philistine kings were marching with their groups of a hundred and a thousand men. David and his men were marching behind Achish.<sup>3</sup>The Philistine commanders asked, “What are these Hebrews doing here?”

Achish told them, “This is David. He served Saul king of Israel, but he has been with me for over a year now. I have found nothing wrong in David since the time he left Saul.”

<sup>4</sup>But the Philistine commanders were angry with Achish and said, “Send David back to the city you gave him. He cannot go with us into battle. If he does, we’ll have an enemy in our own camp. He could please his king by killing our own men. <sup>5</sup>David is the one the Israelites dance and sing about, saying:

‘Saul has killed thousands of his enemies,
but David has killed tens of thousands.’”

<sup>6</sup>So Achish called David and said to him, “As surely as the Lord lives, you are loyal. I would be pleased to have you serve in my army. Since the day you came to me, I have found no wrong in you. But the other kings don’t trust you. <sup>7</sup>Go back in peace. Don’t do anything to displease the Philistine kings.”

<sup>8</sup>David asked, “What wrong have I done? What evil have you found in me from the day I came to you until now? Why can’t I go fight your enemies, my lord and king?”

<sup>9</sup>Achish answered, “I know you are as good as an angel from God. But the Philistine commanders have said, ‘David must not go with us into battle.’ <sup>10</sup>Early in the morning you and your master’s servants should leave. Get up as soon as it is light and go.”

<sup>11</sup>So David and his men got up early in the morning and went back to the country of the Philistines. And the Philistines went up to Jezreel.

“Give me a word picture to describe a relative in your life who really bugs you.”...

“Tar baby in Brer Rabbit,” someone responded. Everyone understood the reference except me. I didn’t remember the story of Brer Rabbit. I asked for the short version. Wily Fox played a trick on Brer Rabbit. The fox made a doll out of tar and stuck it on the side of the road. When Rabbit saw the tar baby, he thought it was a person and stopped to visit.

It was a one-sided conversation. The tar baby’s silence bothered the rabbit... So in his frustration he hit the tar baby and stuck to it. He hit the tar baby again with the other hand and, you guessed it, the other hand got stuck.

“That’s how we are with difficult relatives,” my fable-using friend explained. “We’re stuck to someone we can’t communicate with.”...

You’ve probably got a tar baby in your life, someone you can’t talk to and can’t walk away from. A mother who whines, an uncle who slurps his soup, or a sister who flaunts her figure....

Tar-baby relationships—stuck together but falling apart....

I can’t assure you that your family will ever give you the blessing you seek, but I know God will. Let God give you what your family doesn’t. If your earthly father doesn’t affirm you, then let your heavenly Father take his place... . (From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

David's War with the Amalekites

On the third day, when David and his men arrived at Ziklag, he found that the Amalekites had raided southern Judah and Ziklag, attacking Ziklag and burning it.<sup>2</sup>They captured the women and everyone, young and old, but they had not killed anyone. They had only taken them away.

<sup>3</sup>When David and his men came to Ziklag, they found the town had been burned and their wives, sons, and daughters had been taken as prisoners.<sup>4</sup>Then David and his army cried loudly until they were too weak to cry anymore.<sup>5</sup>David's two wives had also been taken—Ahinoam of Jezreel and Abigail the widow of Nabal from Carmel.<sup>6</sup>The men in the army were threatening to kill David with stones, which greatly upset David. Each man was sad and angry because his sons and daughters had been captured, but David found strength in the Lord his God.<sup>7</sup>David said to Abiathar the priest, "Bring me the holy vest."

<sup>8</sup>Then David asked the Lord, "Should I chase the people who took our families? Will I catch them?"

The Lord answered, "Chase them. You will catch them, and you will succeed in saving your families."

<sup>9</sup>David and the six hundred men with him came to the Besor Ravine, where some of the men stayed.<sup>10</sup>David and four hundred men kept up the chase. The other two hundred men stayed behind because they were too tired to cross the ravine.

<sup>11</sup>They found an Egyptian in a field and brought him to David. They gave the Egyptian some water to drink and some food to eat. <sup>12</sup>And they gave him a piece of a fig cake and two clusters of raisins. Then he felt better, because he had not eaten any food or drunk any water for three days and nights.

<sup>13</sup>David asked him, “Who is your master? Where do you come from?”

He answered, “I’m an Egyptian, the slave of an Amalekite. Three days ago my master left me, because I was sick. <sup>14</sup>We had raided the southern area of the Kerethites, the land of Judah, and the southern area of Caleb. We burned Ziklag, as well.”

<sup>15</sup>David asked him, “Can you lead me to the people who took our families?”

He answered, “Yes, if you promise me before God that you won’t kill me or give me back to my master. Then I will take you to them.”

<sup>16</sup>So the Egyptian led David to the Amalekites. They were lying around on the ground, eating and drinking and celebrating with the things they had taken from the land of the Philistines and from Judah. <sup>17</sup>David fought them from sunset until the evening of the next day. None of them escaped, except four hundred young men who rode off on their camels. <sup>18</sup>David got his two wives back and everything the Amalekites had taken. <sup>19</sup>Nothing was missing. David brought back everyone, young and old, sons and daughters. He recovered the valuable things and everything the Amalekites had taken. <sup>20</sup>David took all the sheep and cattle, and his men made these animals go in front, saying, “They are David’s prize.”

<sup>21</sup>Then David came to the two hundred men who had been too tired to follow him, who had stayed at the Besor Ravine. They came out to meet David and the people with him. When he came near, David greeted the men at the ravine.

<sup>22</sup>But the evil men and troublemakers among those who followed David said, “Since these two hundred men didn’t go with us, we shouldn’t give them any of the things we recovered. Just let each man take his wife and children and go.”

<sup>23</sup>David answered, “No, my brothers. Don’t do that after what the Lord has given us. He has protected us and given us the enemy who attacked us.” <sup>24</sup>Who will listen to what you say? The share will be the same for the one who stayed with the supplies as for the one who went into battle. All will share alike.” <sup>25</sup>David made this an order and rule for Israel, which continues even today.

<sup>26</sup>When David arrived in Ziklag, he sent some of the things he had taken from the Amalekites to his friends, the leaders of Judah. He said, “Here is a present for you from the things we took from the Lord’s enemies.”

1 Samuel 30:1–31:13

Situation

When his own village was raided by the Amalekites, David pursued the raiders. But first he averted a mutiny by his warriors and sought God’s wisdom. After destroying the Amalekite band, David brought back the captured women, children, and plunder. He divided the plunder equally among those who had fought and those who had stayed behind. Elsewhere, Saul killed himself in a losing battle with the Philistines, who hung his headless body on a city wall as an insult to the defeated Israelites.

You came home cranky because a deadline got moved up. She came home grumpy because the day care forgot to give your five-year-old her throat medicine. Each of you was wanting a little sympathy from the other, but neither got any. So there you sit at the dinner table—cranky and grumpy—with little Emily. Emily folds her hands to pray (as she has been taught), and the two of you bow your heads (but not your hearts) and listen. From where this prayer comes, God only knows.

“God, it’s Emily. How are you? I’m fine, thank you. Mom and Dad are mad. I don’t know why. We’ve got birds and toys and mash potatoes and each other. Maybe you can get them to stop being mad? Please do, or it’s just gonna be you and me having any fun tonight. Amen.”

The prayer is answered before it’s finished, you both look up in the middle and laugh at the end and shake your heads and say you’re sorry. And you both thank God for the little voice who reminded you about what matters.

That's what "lovebursts" do ... Lovebursts. Spontaneous affection. Tender moments of radiant love. Ignited devotion. Explosions of tenderness ... They remind you about what matters. A telegram delivered to the back door of the familiar, telling you to treasure the treasure you've got while you've got it. A whisper from an angel, or someone who sounds like one, reminding you that what you have is greater than what you want and that what is urgent is not always what matters. ## The Death of Saul

The Philistines fought against Israel, and the Israelites ran away from them. Many Israelites were killed on Mount Gilboa. <sup>2</sup>The Philistines fought hard against Saul and his sons, killing his sons Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malki-Shua. <sup>3</sup>The fighting was heavy around Saul. The archers shot him, and he was badly wounded. <sup>4</sup>He said to the officer who carried his armor, "Pull out your sword and kill me. Then those uncircumcised men won't make fun of me and kill me." But Saul's officer refused, because he was afraid. So Saul took his own sword and threw himself on it. <sup>5</sup>When the officer saw that Saul was dead, he threw himself on his own sword, and he died with Saul. <sup>6</sup>So Saul, his three sons, and the officer who carried his armor died together that day.

<sup>7</sup>When the Israelites who lived across the Jezreel Valley and those who lived across the Jordan River saw how the Israelite army had run away, and that Saul and his sons were dead, they left their cities and ran away. Then the Philistines came and lived there.

<sup>8</sup>The next day when the Philistines came to take all the valuable things from the dead soldiers, they found Saul and his three sons dead on Mount Gilboa. <sup>9</sup>They cut off Saul's head and took off his armor. Then they sent messengers through all the land of the Philistines to tell the news in the temple of their idols and to their people. <sup>10</sup>They put Saul's armor in the temple of the Ashtoreths and hung his body on the wall of Beth Shan.

Philistines had done to Saul,<sup>12</sup>the brave men of Jabesh marched all night and came to Beth Shan. They removed the bodies of Saul and his sons from the wall of Beth Shan and brought them to Jabesh. There they burned the bodies.<sup>13</sup>They took their bones and buried them under the tamarisk tree in Jabesh. Then the people of Jabesh gave up eating for seven days.

The Book of 2 Samuel

Introduction

King David.

In the first ten chapters of 2 Samuel he can do no wrong. He is never defeated in battle. Never wrong in judgment. He begins his reign in prayer (2:1) and continues in faith. Enemies are subdued, the nation is unified, the capitol secured, and the boundary extends from six thousand to sixty thousand square miles.

But that is the first ten chapters.

Chapter 11 is a hinge on which hangs the cellar door. David opens it, and down he falls. By the time he lands on the cellar floor, he is bruised, confused, and staring into the darkness.

You know what happened. On a lazy afternoon his wandering eyes found a forbidden maiden. Testosterone surged and evil urged so he summoned her, slept with her, and then sent her home.

A rendezvous. So fast. So impulsive. So passionate. So pregnant.

Rather than repent, he connives and lies and leaves a soldier dead and a widow weeping and all of us wondering: Is this the same David? Is this the shepherd? Is this the boy of faith? The man of prayer? Is this the man after God's own heart?

With time, confession comes and forgiveness is given, but the scars remain. Nathan's prophecy proves true: the sword never departed from David's house (12:10). Bloodshed stained his home from then on.

Some of the final words written about David are some of the saddest, "King David was very old, and although his servants covered him with blankets, he could not keep warm” (1 Kings 1:1).

Mark it down. Compromise chills the soul.

If only David hadn't opened that cellar door.

About This Book

Author:

Unknown, though some say Samuel, Nathan, and Gad

Date Written:

Possibly 1000–500 B.C.

Key Themes:

- Though David had been mistreated by Saul, he mourned Saul's passing.
- David was a man after God's own heart, a man of faith, even though he made mistakes.
- Among the good things David did, he returned the Ark of the Agreement to Jerusalem.
- Among the mistakes David made was his affair with Bathsheba and the resulting family discord.

Key Verse:

“Your family and your kingdom will continue always before me. Your throne will last forever” (2 Samuel 7:16).

Life Lessons

2 Samuel 1:1-27

Situation

After hearing of the report of the deaths of Saul and Jonathan, David and his men wept and mourned.

Observation

David's lament showed his deep feelings for both men. He still showed respect for Saul, and he displayed his love for Jonathan.

Inspiration

In God's plan every life is long enough and every death is timely. And though you and I might wish for a longer life, God knows better.

And—this is important—though you and I may wish a longer life for our loved ones, they don't. Ironically, the first to accept God's decision of death is the one who dies.

While we are shaking heads in disbelief, they are lifting hands in worship. While we are mourning at a grave, they are marveling at heaven. While we are questioning God, they are praising God.

But, Max, what of those who die with no faith? My husband never prayed. My grandpa never worshiped. My mother never opened a Bible, much less her heart. What about the one who never believed?

How do we know he didn't?

Who among us is privy to a person's final thoughts? Who among us knows what transpires in those final moments? Are you sure no prayer was offered? Eternity can bend the proudest knees. Could a person stare into the yawning canyon of death without whispering a plea for mercy? And could our God, who is partial to the humble, resist it?

He couldn't on Calvary. The confession of the thief on the cross was both a first and final one. But Christ heard it. Christ received it. Maybe you never heard your loved one confess Christ, but who's to say Christ didn't?

We don't know the final thoughts of a dying soul, but we know this. We know our God is a good God. "He does not want anyone to be lost, but he wants all people to change their hearts and lives" (2 Peter 3:9). He wants your loved one in heaven more than you do. And he usually gets what he wants.

You know what else God wants? He wants you to face your sorrow. Denial and dismissal are not a part of God's grief therapy.

David faced his. When he learned of the death of Saul and Jonathan, David and the entire army tore their clothing, wept aloud, and fasted until sunset. His lament was intense and public. "May there be no dew or rain on the mountains of Gilboa," he mourned, "and may their fields produce no grain... We loved Saul and Jonathan and enjoyed them while they lived. They are together even in death. They were faster than eagles. They were stronger than lions" (2 Samuel 1:21-23).

David not only sang this dirge, he "ordered that the people of Judah be taught this song" (v. 18).

Death was not soft-pedaled or passed over. Face it, fight it, question it, or condemn it, but don't deny it... Don't heed, but do forgive, those who urge you not to.

God will lead you through, not around, the valley of the shadow of death. And, by the way, aren't you glad it's just a shadow? (From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

Application

Are you unable to face the death of someone? Face your sorrow head-on, and ask the Lord to provide you with inner peace.

David Learns About Saul's Death

Now Saul was dead. After David had defeated the Amalekites, he returned to Ziklag and stayed there two days. <sup>2</sup>On the third day a young man from Saul's camp came to Ziklag. To show his sadness, his clothes were torn and he had dirt on his head. He came and bowed facedown on the ground before David.

<sup>3</sup>David asked him, "Where did you come from?"

The man answered, "I escaped from the Israelite camp."

<sup>4</sup>David asked him, "What happened? Please tell me!"

The man answered, "The people have run away from the battle, and many of them have fallen and are dead. Saul and his son Jonathan are dead also."

<sup>5</sup>David asked him, "How do you know Saul and his son Jonathan are dead?"

<sup>6</sup>The young man answered, "I happened to be on Mount Gilboa. There I saw Saul leaning on his spear. The Philistine chariots and the men riding in them were coming closer to Saul. <sup>7</sup>When he looked back and saw me, he called to me. I answered him, 'Here I am!'

<sup>8</sup>"Then Saul asked me, 'Who are you?'

"I told him, 'I am an Amalekite.'

<sup>9</sup>"Then Saul said to me, 'Please come here and kill me. I am badly hurt and am almost dead already.'

<sup>10</sup>"So I went over and killed him. He had been hurt so badly I knew he couldn't live. Then I took the crown from his head and the bracelet from his arm, and I have brought them here to you, my master.”

<sup>11</sup>Then David tore his clothes to show his sorrow, and all the men with him did also. <sup>12</sup>They were very sad and cried and did not eat until evening. They cried for Saul and his son Jonathan and for all the people of the Lord and for all the Israelites who had died in the battle.

David Orders the Amalekite Killed

<sup>13</sup>David asked the young man who brought the report, “Where are you from?”

The young man answered, “I am the son of a foreigner, an Amalekite.”

<sup>14</sup>David asked him, “Why were you not afraid to kill the Lord’s appointed king?”

<sup>15</sup>Then David called one of his men and told him, “Go! Kill the Amalekite!” So the Israelite killed him. <sup>16</sup>David had said to the Amalekite, “You are responsible for your own death. You confessed by saying, ‘I have killed the Lord’s appointed king.’”

David’s Song About Saul and Jonathan

<sup>17</sup>David sang a funeral song about Saul and his son Jonathan, <sup>18</sup>and he ordered that the people of Judah be taught this song. It is called “The Bow,” and it is written in the Book of Jashar:

<sup>19</sup>“Israel, your leaders have been killed on the hills.
How the mighty have fallen in battle!

Don't announce it in the streets of Ashkelon.

If you do, the Philistine women will be happy.

The daughters of the Philistines will rejoice.

<sup>21</sup>“May there be no dew or rain on the mountains of Gilboa, and may their fields produce no grain, because there the mighty warrior's shield was dishonored.

Saul's shield will no longer be rubbed with oil.

<sup>22</sup>Jonathan's bow did not fail to kill many soldiers.

Saul's sword did not fail to wound many strong men.

<sup>23</sup>“We loved Saul and Jonathan and enjoyed them while they lived.

They are together even in death.

They were faster than eagles.

They were stronger than lions.

<sup>24</sup>“You daughters of Israel, cry for Saul.

Saul clothed you with red dresses and put gold decorations on them.

<sup>25</sup>“How the mighty have fallen in battle!

Jonathan is dead on Gilboa's hills.

<sup>26</sup>I cry for you, my brother Jonathan.

I enjoyed your friendship so much.

Your love to me was wonderful, better than the love of women.

<sup>27</sup>“How the mighty have fallen!
The weapons of war are gone.”

David Is Made King of Judah

Later, David prayed to the Lord, saying, “Should I go up to any of the cities of Judah?”

The Lord said to David, “Go.”

David asked, “Where should I go?”

The Lord answered, “To Hebron.”

<sup>2</sup>So David went up to Hebron with his two wives: Ahinoam from Jezreel and Abigail, the widow of Nabal from Carmel. <sup>3</sup>David also brought his men and their families, and they all made their homes in the cities of Hebron. <sup>4</sup>Then the men of Judah came to Hebron and appointed David king over Judah.

They told David that the men of Jabesh Gilead had buried Saul. <sup>5</sup>So David sent messengers to the men of Jabesh Gilead and said to them, “The Lord bless you. You have shown loyalty to your master Saul by burying him. <sup>6</sup>May the Lord now be loyal and true to you. I will also treat you well because you have done this. <sup>7</sup>Now be strong and brave. Saul your master is dead, and the people of Judah have appointed me their king.”

War Between Judah and Israel

<sup>8</sup>Abner son of Ner was the commander of Saul’s army. Abner took Saul’s son Ish-Bosheth to Mahanaim <sup>9</sup>and made him king of Gilead, Ashuri, Jezreel, Ephraim, Benjamin, and all Israel. <sup>10</sup>Saul’s son Ish-Bosheth was forty years old when he became king over Israel, and he ruled two years. But the people of Judah followed David. <sup>11</sup>David was king in Hebron for seven years and six months.

<sup>12</sup>Abner son of Ner and the servants of Ish-Bosheth son of Saul left Mahanaim and went to Gibeon. <sup>13</sup>Joab son of Zeruiah and David's men also went there and met Abner and Ish-Bosheth's men at the pool of Gibeon. Abner's group sat on one side of the pool; Joab's group sat on the other.

<sup>14</sup>Abner said to Joab, "Let the young men have a contest here."

Joab said, "Yes, let them have a contest."

<sup>15</sup>Then the men got up and were counted—twelve from the people of Benjamin for Ish-Bosheth son of Saul, and twelve from David's men. <sup>16</sup>Each man grabbed the one opposite him by the head and stabbed him in the side with a knife. So the men fell down together. For that reason, that place in Gibeon is called the Field of Knives. <sup>17</sup>That day there was a terrible battle, and David's men defeated Abner and the Israelites.

Abner Kills Asahel

<sup>18</sup>Zeruiah's three sons, Joab, Abishai, and Asahel, were there. Now Asahel was a fast runner, as fast as a deer in the field. <sup>19</sup>Asahel chased Abner, going straight toward him. <sup>20</sup>Abner looked back and asked, "Is that you, Asahel?"

Asahel said, "Yes, it is."

<sup>21</sup>Then Abner said to Asahel, "Turn to your right or left and catch one of the young men and take his armor." But Asahel refused to stop chasing him.

<sup>22</sup>Abner again said to Asahel, "Stop chasing me! If you don't stop, I'll have to kill you! Then I won't be able to face your brother Joab again!"

<sup>23</sup>But Asahel refused to stop chasing Abner. So using the back end of his spear, Abner stabbed Asahel in the stomach, and the spear came out of his back. Asahel died right there, and everyone stopped when they came to the place where Asahel's body lay.

<sup>26</sup>Abner shouted to Joab, "Must the sword kill forever? Surely you must know this will only end in sadness! Tell the people to stop chasing their own brothers!"

<sup>27</sup>Then Joab said, "As surely as God lives, if you had not said anything, the people would have chased their brothers until morning." <sup>28</sup>Then Joab blew a trumpet, and his people stopped chasing the Israelites. They did not fight them anymore.

<sup>29</sup>Abner and his men marched all night through the Jordan Valley. They crossed the Jordan River, and after marching all day, arrived at Mahanaim.

<sup>30</sup>After he had stopped chasing Abner, Joab came back and gathered the people together. Asahel and nineteen of David's men were missing. <sup>31</sup>But David's men had killed three hundred sixty Benjaminites who had followed Abner. <sup>32</sup>David's men took Asahel and buried him in the tomb of his father at Bethlehem. Then Joab and his men marched all night. The sun came up as they reached Hebron.

Life Lessons

2 Samuel 2:1–3:5

Situation

David mourned when he received the news of Saul's death. For years David had run from Saul; then he became king in Saul's place.

Observation

David courageously laid aside any hatred or hurt he felt toward his enemy, Saul. He waited for God to fulfill his promises.

Inspiration

That faith can and should grow is evident from the use of such phrases as “little faith” and “great faith.” Paul looked forward to the increase of the Corinthians' faith (2 Corinthians 10:15)....

The book of Acts speaks of certain men as being “full of faith” (Acts 6:5, 8; 11:24)... . All Christians experience the periodic gift of faith during times of extremity. But there is a vast difference between these intermittent acts of faith, “emergency rations,” as it were, and the continuing, day-by-day posture of faith. It is the difference between scraping the bottom of the barrel for a crumb of faith and a constant resting in an abundant supply. To one, faith is a last resort; to the other it is the first response.

(From The Faith Crises by Ronald Dunn)

Application

When was the last time you prayed, “God, why don't you act?” Develop trust in God's timing. Be confident that God's plans will be revealed. Until they are, let faith be your first resort.

Exploration

Faith—Isaiah 29:22–24; Psalm 24:4–6; Proverbs 3:5; Jeremiah 33:14–17; Matthew 1:1–17; Luke 20:41–44.

There was a long war between the people who supported Saul's family and those who supported David's family. The supporters of David's family became stronger and stronger, but the supporters of Saul's family became weaker and weaker.

David's Sons

<sup>2</sup>Sons were born to David at Hebron. The first was Amnon, whose mother was Ahinoam from Jezreel. <sup>3</sup>The second son was Kileab, whose mother was Abigail, the widow of Nabal from Carmel. The third son was Absalom, whose mother was Maacah daughter of Talmai, the king of Geshur. <sup>4</sup>The fourth son was Adonijah, whose mother was Haggith. The fifth son was Shephatiah, whose mother was Abital. <sup>5</sup>The sixth son was Ithream, whose mother was Eglah, David's wife. These sons were born to David at Hebron.

Situation

David welcomed Abner to join him in battle. All of his men did not share his enthusiasm, and Joab killed Abner. David sought justice for his murder.

Observation

David not only battled the house of Saul, but battled sin. Leaders can suffer from sinful decisions others make.

Inspiration

Real change is an inside job. You might alter things a day or two with money and systems, but the heart of the matter is and always will be, the matter of the heart.

Allow me to get specific. Our problem is sin. Not finances. Not budgets. Not overcrowded prisons or drug dealers. Our problem is sin. We are in rebellion against our Creator. We are separated from our Father. We are cut off from the source of life. A new president or policy won't fix that. It can only be solved by God.

That's why the Bible uses drastic terms like conversion, repentance, and lost and found. Society may renovate, but only God re-creates.

Here is a practical exercise to put this truth into practice. The next time alarms go off in your world, ask yourself three questions.

1. Is there any unconfessed sin in my life? ...
2. Are there any unresolved conflicts in my world?

...

3. Are there any unsundered worries in my heart? ...

Alarms serve a purpose. They signal a problem. Sometimes the problem is out there. More often it's in here. So before you peek outside, take a good look inside. (From When God Whispers Your Name by Max Lucado)

Application

Ask yourself the three questions in this lesson's "Inspiration." What alarms are sounding? Take a peek inside and turn those alarms off!

Abner Joins David

<sup>6</sup>During the war between the supporters of Saul's family and the supporters of David's family, Abner made himself a main leader among the supporters of Saul.

<sup>7</sup>Saul once had a slave woman named Rizpah, who was the daughter of Aiah. Ish-Bosheth said to Abner, "Why did you have sexual relations with my father's slave woman?"

<sup>8</sup>Abner was very angry because of what Ish-Bosheth said, and he replied, "I have been loyal to Saul and his family and friends! I didn't hand you over to David. I am not a traitor working for Judah! But now you are saying I did something wrong with this woman!" <sup>9</sup>May God help me if I don't join David! I will make sure that what the Lord promised does happen! <sup>10</sup>I will take the kingdom from the family of Saul and make David king of Israel and Judah, from Dan to Beersheba!"

<sup>11</sup>Ish-Bosheth couldn't say anything to Abner, because he was afraid of him.

<sup>12</sup>Then Abner sent messengers to ask David, "Who is going to rule the land? Make an agreement with me, and I will help you unite all Israel."

<sup>13</sup>David answered, "Good! I will make an agreement with you, but I ask you one thing. I will not meet with you unless you bring Saul's daughter Michal to me.”<sup>14</sup> Then David sent messengers to Saul's son Ish-Bosheth, saying, “Give me my wife Michal. She was promised to me, and I killed a hundred Philistines to get her.”

<sup>15</sup> So Ish-Bosheth sent men to take Michal from her husband Paltiel son of Laish. <sup>16</sup> Michal's husband went with her, crying as he followed her to Bahurim. But Abner said to Paltiel, “Go back home.” So he went home.

<sup>17</sup> Abner sent this message to the older leaders of Israel: “You have been wanting to make David your king. <sup>18</sup> Now do it! The Lord said of David, ‘Through my servant David, I will save my people Israel from the Philistines and all their enemies.’”

<sup>19</sup> Abner also said these things to the people of Benjamin. He then went to Hebron to tell David what the Benjaminites and Israel wanted to do. <sup>20</sup> Abner came with twenty men to David at Hebron. There David prepared a feast for them. <sup>21</sup> Abner said to David, “My master and king, I will go and bring all the Israelites to you. Then they will make an agreement with you so you will rule over all Israel as you wanted.” So David let Abner go, and he left in peace.

Abner's Death

<sup>22</sup> Just then Joab and David's men came from a battle, bringing many valuable things they had taken from the enemy. David had let Abner leave in peace, so he was not with David at Hebron. <sup>23</sup> When Joab and all his army arrived at Hebron, the army said to Joab, “Abner son of Ner came to King David, and David let him leave in peace.”

<sup>24</sup> Joab came to the king and said, “What have you done?”

Abner came to you. Why did you let him go? Now he's gone.
<sup>25</sup>You know Abner son of Ner! He came to trick you! He came to learn about everything you are doing!"

<sup>26</sup>After Joab left David, he sent messengers after Abner, and they brought him back from the well of Sirah. But David did not know this. <sup>27</sup>When Abner arrived at Hebron, Joab took him aside into the gateway. He acted as though he wanted to talk with Abner in private, but Joab stabbed him in the stomach, and Abner died. Abner had killed Joab's brother Asahel, so Joab killed Abner to pay him back.

<sup>28</sup>Later when David heard the news, he said, "My kingdom and I are innocent forever of the death of Abner son of Ner. The Lord knows this. <sup>29</sup>Joab and his family are responsible for this. May his family always have someone with sores or with a skin disease. May they always have someone who must lean on a crutch. May some of his family be killed in war. May they always have someone without food to eat."

<sup>31</sup>Then David said to Joab and to all the people with Joab, "Tear your clothes and put on rough cloth to show how sad you are. Cry for Abner." King David himself followed the body of Abner. <sup>32</sup>They buried Abner in Hebron, and David and all the people cried at Abner's grave.

<sup>33</sup>King David sang this funeral song for Abner.

"Did Abner die like a fool?

<sup>34</sup>His hands were not tied.

His feet were not in chains.

He fell at the hands of evil men."

Then all the people cried again for Abner. <sup>35</sup>They came to encourage David to eat while it was still day. But he made a promise, saying, “May God punish me terribly if I eat bread or anything else before the sun sets!”

<sup>36</sup>All the people saw what happened, and they agreed with what the king was doing, just as they agreed with everything he did. <sup>37</sup>That day all the people of Judah and Israel understood that David did not order the killing of Abner son of Ner.

<sup>38</sup>David said to his officers, “You know that a great man died today in Israel. <sup>39</sup>Even though I am the appointed king, I feel empty. These sons of Zeruiah are too much for me. May the Lord give them the punishment they should have.”

Ish-Bosheth's Death

When Ish-Bosheth son of Saul heard that Abner had died at Hebron, he was shocked and all Israel became frightened. <sup>2</sup>Two men who were captains in Saul's army came to Ish-Bosheth. One was named Baanah, and the other was named Recab. They were the sons of Rimmon of Beeroth, who was a Benjaminite. (The town Beeroth belonged to the tribe of Benjamin. <sup>3</sup>The people of Beeroth ran away to Gittaim, and they still live there as foreigners today.) <sup>4</sup>(Saul's son Jonathan had a son named Mephibosheth, who was crippled in both feet. He was five years old when the news came from Jezreel that Saul and Jonathan were dead. Mephibosheth's nurse had picked him up and run away. But as she hurried to leave, she dropped him, and now he was lame.)

<sup>5</sup>Recab and Baanah, sons of Rimmon from Beeroth, went to Ish-Bosheth's house in the afternoon while he was taking a nap. <sup>6-7</sup>They went into the middle of the house as if to get some wheat. Ish-Bosheth was lying on his bed in his bedroom. Then Recab and Baanah stabbed him in the stomach, killed him, cut off his head, and took it with them. They escaped and traveled all night through the Jordan Valley. <sup>8</sup>When they arrived at Hebron, they gave his head to David and said to the king, "Here is the head of Ish-Bosheth son of Saul, your enemy. He tried to kill you! Today the Lord has paid back Saul and his family for what they did to you!"

<sup>9</sup>David answered Recab and his brother Baanah, the sons of Rimmon of Beeroth, "As surely as the Lord lives, he has saved me from all trouble! <sup>10</sup>Once a man thought he was bringing me good news. When he told me, ‘Saul is dead!’ I seized him and killed him at Ziklag. That was the reward I gave him for his news! <sup>11</sup>So even more I must put you evil men to death because you have killed an innocent man on his own bed in his own house!”

<sup>12</sup>So David commanded his men to kill Recab and Baanah. They cut off the hands and feet of Recab and Baanah and hung them over the pool of Hebron. Then they took Ish-Bosheth’s head and buried it in Abner’s tomb at Hebron.

2 Samuel 5:1–6:23

Situation

At the beginning of David's reign, God enabled him to conquer Jerusalem and bring the Ark of God to this holy city. These accomplishments filled David with joy.

Observation

Through the high and low points of our lives, God graciously provides for our needs. As we experience this, our lives can be filled with joyful expressions of praise to him.

Inspiration

A heart filled with God's heart is free both to glorify and to enjoy God. There is no grimness in David's relationship with God. He could weep out his loneliness and fear to the Lord, but he could also dance with unrestrained fervor. When we love God with all our heart we can openly express our emotions to him, and then to others. He wants us to be real with him. When we are in the valley of despair or the mountain peaks of sublime joy, we can express it.

David's abandoned freedom to express his praise is contrasted with his wife Michal's reserve and contempt... Michal was like her father Saul. Her emotional energy was not guided by firm beliefs about God's sovereignty and grace. There was little in her mind about God's lovingkindness, and therefore, little capacity of emotional delight in him...

There are Michals in all our lives, people whose minds are starved for liberating truth about God and whose emotions are stunted by malnutrition of lively belief. The conviction of God's grace results in the expression of joy... . The tragedy of religion is that it produces more Michals than Davids... . A heart that has never felt God's presence in sorrow or pain will seldom express his delight in adoration and praise. (From Lord of the Impossible by Lloyd John Ogilvie)

Application

Keep a prayer journal. Be completely honest with God. Write down disappointments, then devote pages to successes.

David Is Made King of Israel

Then all the tribes of Israel came to David at Hebron and said to him, “Look, we are your own family. <sup>2</sup>Even when Saul was king, you were the one who led Israel in battle. The Lord said to you, ‘You will be a shepherd for my people Israel. You will be their leader.’” <sup>3</sup>So all the older leaders of Israel came to King David at Hebron, and he made an agreement with them in Hebron in the presence of the Lord. Then they poured oil on David to make him king over Israel.

<sup>4</sup>David was thirty years old when he became king, and he ruled forty years. <sup>5</sup>He was king over Judah in Hebron for seven years and six months, and he was king over all Israel and Judah in Jerusalem for thirty-three years.

<sup>6</sup>When the king and his men went to Jerusalem to attack the Jebusites who lived there, the Jebusites said to David, “You can’t get inside our city. Even the blind and the crippled can stop you.” They thought David could not enter their city. <sup>7</sup>But David did take the city of Jerusalem with its strong walls, and it became the City of David.

<sup>8</sup>That day David said to his men, “To defeat the Jebusites you must go through the water tunnel. Then you can reach those ‘crippled’ and ‘blind’ enemies. This is why people say, ‘The blind and the crippled may not enter the palace.’”

<sup>9</sup>So David lived in the strong, walled city and called it the City of David. David built more buildings around it, beginning where the land was filled in. He also built more buildings inside the city. <sup>10</sup>He became stronger and stronger, because the Lord God All-Powerful was with him.

<sup>11</sup>Hiram king of the city of Tyre sent messengers to David, along with cedar logs, carpenters, and stonecutters. They built a palace for David. <sup>12</sup>Then David knew that the Lord really had made him king of Israel and that the Lord had made his kingdom great because the Lord loved his people Israel.

David Defeats the Philistines

<sup>17</sup>When the Philistines heard that David had been made king over Israel, all the Philistines went to look for him. But when David heard the news, he went down to the stronghold. <sup>18</sup>The Philistines came and camped in the Valley of Rephaim. <sup>19</sup>David asked the Lord, “Should I attack the Philistines? Will you hand them over to me?”

The Lord said to David, “Go! I will certainly hand them over to you.”

Philistines there. David said, “Like a flood of water, the Lord has broken through my enemies in front of me.” So David named the place Baal Perazim.<sup>21</sup>The Philistines left their idols behind at Baal Perazim, so David and his men carried them away.

The Ark Is Brought to Jerusalem

David again gathered all the chosen men of Israel—thirty thousand of them.<sup>2</sup> Then he and all his people went to Baalah in Judah to bring back the Ark of God. The Ark is called by the Name, the name of the Lord All-Powerful, whose throne is between the gold creatures with wings.<sup>3</sup> They put the Ark of God on a new cart and brought it out of Abinadab's house on the hill. Uzzah and Ahio, sons of Abinadab, led the new cart<sup>4</sup> which had the Ark of God on it. Ahio was walking in front of it.<sup>5</sup> David and all the Israelites were celebrating in the presence of the Lord. They were playing wooden instruments: lyres, harps, tambourines, rattles, and cymbals.

<sup>6</sup>When David's men came to the threshing floor of Nacon, the oxen stumbled. So Uzzah reached out to steady the Ark of God.<sup>7</sup> The Lord was angry with Uzzah and killed him because of what he did. So Uzzah died there beside the Ark of God.<sup>8</sup> David was angry because the Lord had killed Uzzah. Now that place is called the Punishment of Uzzah.

<sup>9</sup>David was afraid of the Lord that day, and he said, "How can the Ark of the Lord come to me now?"<sup>10</sup> So David would not move the Ark of the Lord to be with him in Jerusalem. Instead, he took it to the house of Obed-Edom, a man from Gath.<sup>11</sup> The Ark of the Lord stayed in Obed-Edom's house for three months, and the Lord blessed Obed-Edom and all his family.

<sup>12</sup>The people told David, "The Lord has blessed the family of Obed-Edom and all that belongs to him, because the Ark of God is there.” So David went and brought it up from Obed-Edom’s house to Jerusalem with joy. <sup>13</sup>When the men carrying the Ark of the Lord had walked six steps, David sacrificed a bull and a fat calf. <sup>14</sup>Then David danced with all his might before the Lord. He had on a holy linen vest. <sup>15</sup>David and all the Israelites shouted with joy and blew the trumpets as they brought the Ark of the Lord to the city.

<sup>16</sup>As the Ark of the Lord came into the city, Saul’s daughter Michal looked out the window. When she saw David jumping and dancing in the presence of the Lord, she hated him.

<sup>17</sup>David put up a tent for the Ark of the Lord, and then the Israelites put it in its place inside the tent. David offered whole burnt offerings and fellowship offerings before the Lord. <sup>18</sup>When David finished offering the whole burnt offerings and the fellowship offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the Lord All-Powerful. <sup>19</sup>David gave a loaf of bread, a cake of dates, and a cake of raisins to every Israelite, both men and women. Then all the people went home.

<sup>20</sup>David went back to bless the people in his home, but Saul’s daughter Michal came out to meet him. She said, “With what honor the king of Israel acted today! You took off your clothes in front of the servant girls of your officers like one who takes off his clothes without shame!”

<sup>21</sup>Then David said to Michal, “I did it in the presence of the Lord. The Lord chose me, not your father or anyone from Saul’s family. The Lord appointed me to be over Israel. So I will celebrate in the presence of the Lord. <sup>22</sup>Maybe I will lose even more honor, and maybe I will be brought down in my own opinion, but the girls you talk about will honor me!”

<sup>23</sup>And Saul’s daughter Michal had no children to the day she died.

Life Lessons

2 Samuel 7:1–29

Situation

David sought to honor God, and God rewarded him with promises for his future. David's response was humble, worshipful prayer.

Observation

David not only knew about God, he fellowshiped with God. David shows us the value of knowing God better.

Inspiration

What is prayer? What do we mean when we say that we pray? Some teaching on prayer makes it seem too vague, mystical, spiritual, or even too difficult for us simple, busy women. However, prayer is practical.

Others imagine that praying is kneeling with closed eyes and speaking in eloquent phrases. This is perhaps one kind of prayer, but I believe prayer is communication with the One who loves us most, the One who cares for us and cherishes us more than anyone else, the One who always has our best interest in His heart and mind. Prayer is an attitude of worship and thanksgiving. And this can be done in any position—standing, sitting, kneeling, or lying down. It can be done any time of day or night—as the old hymn says, “Waking or sleeping, Thy presence my light.” We can pray while driving, working, cleaning, playing, waking up to face our day, or when we can't sleep at night. The apostle Paul tells us to “pray without ceasing” (1 Thessalonians 5:17, KJV). For me, more often than not, this means that I pray without ceasing my work. I just talk to the Lord as I carry on my responsibilities.

Prayer is a vital part of every person’s spiritual experience. We are all aware of how important verbal communication is to any relationship, such as with our spouses, friends, or coworkers. A quick way to destroy a relationship is to avoid talking. Likewise, prayer is simply verbal communication with God. This simple principle was beautifully exemplified by a dear, older friend who passed away recently. He always started his prayers with, “And Lord... .” In other words, he was just continuing where he had left off with his last conversation with God.

Prayer is also the way we get to know God. We pray in order to receive a better understanding of God. Prayer is one of the important elements of nourishing our personal relationships with God. I have discovered that the more time I spend in prayer, the better I begin to know God Himself and the more I see things from His perspective. This in turn brings the needed transformation in my disposition and attitude, which gives me more strength and serenity.

Prayer doesn’t so often change the outward circumstances or our situations as much as it transforms the way we view those circumstances and situations. Often it is our spirits and our attitudes that need changing. (From A Quiet Knowing by Gigi Graham Tchividjian)

Application

Do you feel like you communicate with God when you pray? Or do your prayers merely fulfill an obligation? Next time you pray, talk to God as you would a friend. Ask God if you need a change in your attitude. Learn to pray continually.

David Wants to Build a Temple

King David was living in his palace, and the Lord had given him peace from all his enemies around him. <sup>2</sup>Then David said to Nathan the prophet, “Look, I am living in a palace made of cedar wood, but the Ark of God is in a tent!”

<sup>3</sup>Nathan said to the king, “Go and do what you really want to do, because the Lord is with you.”

<sup>4</sup>But that night the Lord spoke his word to Nathan, <sup>5</sup>“Go and tell my servant David, ‘This is what the Lord says: Will you build a house for me to live in? <sup>6</sup>From the time I brought the Israelites out of Egypt until now I have not lived in a house. I have been moving around all this time with a tent as my home. <sup>7</sup>As I have moved with the Israelites, I have never said to the tribes, whom I commanded to take care of my people Israel, ‘Why haven’t you built me a house of cedar?’”

<sup>8</sup>“You must tell my servant David, ‘This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: I took you from the pasture and from tending the sheep and made you leader of my people Israel. <sup>9</sup>I have been with you everywhere you have gone and have defeated your enemies for you. I will make you as famous as any of the great people on the earth. <sup>10</sup>Also I will choose a place for my people Israel, and I will plant them so they can live in their own homes. They will not be bothered anymore. Wicked people will no longer bother them as they have in the past <sup>11</sup>when I chose judges for my people Israel. But I will give you peace from all your enemies. I also tell you that I will make your descendants kings of Israel after you.

<sup>12</sup>“When you die and join your ancestors, I will make one of your sons the next king, and I will set up his kingdom. <sup>13</sup>He will build a house for me, and I will let his kingdom rule always. <sup>14</sup>I will be his father, and he will be my son. When he sins, I will use other people to punish him. They will be my whips. <sup>15</sup>I took away my love from Saul, whom I removed before you, but I will never stop loving your son. <sup>16</sup>But your family and your kingdom will continue always before me. Your throne will last forever.”

<sup>17</sup>Nathan told David everything God had said in this vision.

David Prays to God

<sup>18</sup>Then King David went in and sat in front of the Lord. David said, “Lord God, who am I? What is my family? Why did you bring me to this point? <sup>19</sup>But even this is not enough for you, Lord God. You have also made promises about my future family. This is not normal, Lord God.

<sup>20</sup>“What more can I say to you, Lord God, since you know me, your servant, so well! <sup>21</sup>You have done this great thing because you said you would and because you wanted to, and you have let me know about it. <sup>22</sup>This is why you are great, Lord God! There is no one like you. There is no God except you. We have heard all this ourselves! <sup>23</sup>There is no nation like your people Israel. They are the only people on earth that God chose to be his own. You made your name well known. You did great and wonderful miracles for them. You went ahead of them and forced other nations and their gods out of the land. You freed your people from slavery in Egypt. <sup>24</sup>You made the people of Israel your very own people forever, and, Lord, you are their God.

<sup>25</sup>“Now, Lord God, keep the promise forever that you made about my family and me, your servant. Do what you have said. <sup>26</sup>Then you will be honored always, and people will say, ‘The Lord All-Powerful is God over Israel!’ And the family of your servant David will continue before you.

<sup>27</sup>“Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, you have said to me, ‘I will make your family great.’ So I, your servant, am brave enough to pray to you. <sup>28</sup>Lord God, you are God, and your words are true. And you have promised these good things to me, your servant. <sup>29</sup>Please, bless my family. Let it continue before you always. Lord God, you have said so. With your blessing let my family always be blessed.”

Life Lessons

2 Samuel 8:1–10:19

Situation

David had defeated the Edomites, Moabites, Ammonites, and Philistines. These nations had been a constant military and religious threat to Israel.

Observation

The story of David and Mephibosheth is a striking picture of salvation by grace. It also beautifully shows how David remembered and followed through on his covenant with Jonathan.

Inspiration

Mephibosheth is bracketed into the Bible. [Second Samuel 4:4] doesn't tell us much, just his name (Mephibosheth), his calamity (dropped by his nurse), his deformity (crippled), and then it moves on.

But that's enough to raise a few questions. Who was this boy? Why is this story in Scripture? Why is Lucado mentioning him in a book about grace? A bit of background would be helpful.

Mephibosheth was the son of Jonathan, the grandson of Saul, who was the first king of Israel. Saul and Jonathan were killed in battle, leaving the throne to be occupied by David. In those days the new king often staked out his territory by exterminating the family of the previous king.

David had no intention of following this tradition, but the family of Saul didn't know that. So they hurried to escape. Of special concern to them was five-year-old Mephibosheth, for upon the deaths of his father and uncle, he was the presumptive heir to the throne. If David was intent on murdering Saul's heirs, this boy would be first on his list. So the family got out of Dodge. But in the haste of the moment, Mephibosheth slipped from the arms of his nurse, permanently damaging both feet. For the rest of his life he would be a cripple.

If his story is beginning to sound familiar, it should. You and he have a lot in common. Weren't you also born of royalty? And don't you carry the wounds of a fall? And hasn't each of us lived in fear of a king we have never seen?

Mephibosheth would understand Paul's portrait of us paupers, "when we were unable to help ourselves ..." (Romans 5:6). For nearly two decades the young prince lived in a distant land, unable to walk to the king, too fearful to talk to the king. He was unable to help himself.

Meanwhile, David's kingdom flourished. Under his leadership, Israel grew to ten times its original size. He knew no defeat on the battlefield nor insurrection in his court. Israel was at peace. The people were thankful. And David, the shepherd made king, did not forget his promise to Jonathan. (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

Application

During the course of our lives, we will come across many people who have needs that we are able to meet. What will be our response? Don't assume someone else will meet that need. And ask the Holy Spirit to prompt you to see if you've promised to help someone in the past but never followed through.

Exploration

David Wins Many Wars

Later, David defeated the Philistines, conquered them, and took the city of Metheg Ammah.

<sup>2</sup>He also defeated the people of Moab. He made them lie on the ground, and then he used a rope to measure them. Those who were measured within two rope lengths were killed, but those who were within the next rope length were allowed to live. So the people of Moab became servants of David and gave him the payment he demanded.

<sup>3</sup>David also defeated Hadadezer son of Rehob, king of Zobah, as he went to take control again at the Euphrates River. <sup>4</sup>David captured one thousand chariots, seven thousand men who rode in chariots, and twenty thousand foot soldiers. He crippled all but a hundred of the chariot horses.

<sup>5</sup>Arameans from Damascus came to help Hadadezer king of Zobah, but David killed twenty-two thousand of them. <sup>6</sup>Then David put groups of soldiers in Damascus in Aram. The Arameans became David's servants and gave him the payment he demanded. The Lord gave David victory everywhere he went.

<sup>7</sup>David took the shields of gold that had belonged to Hadadezer's officers and brought them to Jerusalem. <sup>8</sup>David also took many things made of bronze from Tebah and Berothai, which had been cities under Hadadezer's control.

army of Hadadezer. <sup>10</sup>So Toi sent his son Joram to greet and congratulate King David for defeating Hadadezer. (Hadadezer had been at war with Toi.) Joram brought items made of silver, gold, and bronze. <sup>11</sup>King David gave them to the Lord, along with the silver and gold he had taken from the other nations he had defeated. <sup>12</sup>These nations were Edom, Moab, Ammon, Philistia, and Amalek. David also gave the Lord what he had taken from Hadadezer son of Rehob, king of Zobah.

<sup>13</sup>David was famous after he returned from defeating eighteen thousand Arameans in the Valley of Salt. <sup>14</sup>He put groups of soldiers all over Edom, and all the Edomites became his servants. The Lord gave David victory everywhere he went.

<sup>15</sup>David was king over all Israel, and he did what was fair and right for all his people. <sup>16</sup>Joab son of Zeruiah was commander over the army. Jehoshaphat son of Ahilud was the recorder. <sup>17</sup>Zadok son of Ahitub and Abiathar son of Ahimelech were priests. Seraiah was the royal secretary. <sup>18</sup>Benaiah son of Jehoiada was over the Kerethites and Pelethites. And David's sons were priests.

David Helps Saul's Family

David asked, "Is anyone still left in Saul's family? I want to show kindness to that person for Jonathan's sake!"

<sup>2</sup>Now there was a servant named Ziba from Saul's family. So David's servants called Ziba to him. King David said to him, "Are you Ziba?"

He answered, "Yes, I am your servant."

Ziba answered the king, "Jonathan has a son still living who is crippled in both feet."

<sup>4</sup>The king asked Ziba, "Where is this son?"

Ziba answered, "He is at the house of Makir son of Ammiel in Lo Debar."

<sup>5</sup>Then King David had servants bring Jonathan's son from the house of Makir son of Ammiel in Lo Debar. <sup>6</sup>Mephibosheth, Jonathan's son, came before David and bowed facedown on the floor.

David said, "Mephibosheth!"

Mephibosheth said, "I am your servant."

<sup>7</sup>David said to him, "Don't be afraid. I will be kind to you for your father Jonathan's sake. I will give you back all the land of your grandfather Saul, and you will always eat at my table."

<sup>8</sup>Mephibosheth bowed to David again and said, "You are being very kind to me, your servant! And I am no better than a dead dog!"

<sup>9</sup>Then King David called Saul's servant Ziba. David said to him, "I have given your master's grandson everything that belonged to Saul and his family. <sup>10</sup>You, your sons, and your servants will farm the land and harvest the crops. Then your family will have food to eat. But Mephibosheth, your master's grandson, will always eat at my table.”

(Now Ziba had fifteen sons and twenty servants.) <sup>11</sup>Ziba said to King David, “I, your servant, will do everything my master, the king, commands me.”

So Mephibosheth ate at David's table as if he were one of the king's sons. <sup>12</sup>Mephibosheth had a young son named Mica. Everyone in Ziba's family became Mephibosheth's servants. <sup>13</sup>Mephibosheth lived in Jerusalem, because he always ate at the king's table. And he was crippled in both feet.

War with the Ammonites and Arameans

When Nahash king of the Ammonites died, his son Hanun became king after him. <sup>2</sup>David said, “Nahash was loyal to me, so I will be loyal to his son Hanun.” So David sent his messengers to comfort Hanun about his father’s death.

David’s officers went to the land of the Ammonites. <sup>3</sup>But the Ammonite leaders said to Hanun, their master, “Do you think David wants to honor your father by sending men to comfort you? No! David sent them to study the city and spy it out and capture it!” <sup>4</sup>So Hanun arrested David’s officers. To shame them he shaved off half their beards and cut off their clothes at the hips. Then he sent them away.

<sup>5</sup>When the people told David, he sent messengers to meet his officers because they were very ashamed. King David said, “Stay in Jericho until your beards have grown back. Then come home.”

<sup>6</sup>The Ammonites knew that they had insulted David. So they hired twenty thousand Aramean foot soldiers from Beth Rehob and Zobah. They also hired the king of Maacah with a thousand men and twelve thousand men from Tob.

<sup>7</sup>When David heard about this, he sent Joab with the whole army. <sup>8</sup>The Ammonites came out and prepared for battle at the city gate. The Arameans from Zobah and Rehob and the men from Tob and Maacah were out in the field by themselves.

<sup>9</sup>Joab saw that there were enemies both in front of him and behind him. So he chose some of the best soldiers of Israel and sent them out to fight the Arameans. <sup>10</sup>Joab put the rest of the army under the command of Abishai, his brother. Then he sent them out to fight the Ammonites. <sup>11</sup>Joab said to Abishai, “If the Arameans are too strong for me, you must help me. Or, if the Ammonites are too strong for you, I will help you. <sup>12</sup>Be strong. We must fight bravely for our people and the cities of our God. The Lord will do what he thinks is right.”

<sup>13</sup>Then Joab and the army with him went to attack the Arameans, and the Arameans ran away. <sup>14</sup>When the Ammonites saw that the Arameans were running away, they also ran away from Abishai and went back to their city. So Joab returned from the battle with the Ammonites and came to Jerusalem.

<sup>15</sup>When the Arameans saw that Israel had defeated them, they came together into one big army. <sup>16</sup>Hadadezer sent messengers to bring the Arameans from east of the Euphrates River, and they went to Helam. Their leader was Shobach, the commander of Hadadezer’s army.

<sup>17</sup>When David heard about this, he gathered all the Israelites together. They crossed over the Jordan River and went to Helam. There the Arameans prepared for battle and attacked him. <sup>18</sup>But the Arameans ran away from the Israelites. David killed seven hundred Aramean chariot drivers and forty thousand Aramean horsemen. He also killed Shobach, the commander of the Aramean army.

<sup>19</sup>When the kings who served Hadadezer saw that the Israelites had defeated them, they made peace with the Israelites and served them. And the Arameans were afraid to help the Ammonites again.

2 Samuel 11:1–12:31

Situation

David became king of Israel after Saul's death. Although a successful commander of Israel's army, he let himself be conquered by lust. He committed adultery with Bathsheba, then arranged to have her husband murdered.

Observation

David was not immune to temptation. When he sinned, God held him accountable for his actions.

Inspiration

As to our personal evil and the pain that comes from present sin, it was sin precisely like our sin that killed Christ, for sin is always the anxious pride of the creature by which we try to be our own god... Each man, each nation, each era must make its own choice under new options, yet the options in essence do not change, for always the alternatives are man's futile will or God's overruling will... .

As for the mystery of pain—why the snake appears in our natural world and as seducer in our world of human decision—the mystery remains: We do not know, though we do know that we cannot shelve responsibility for our choice.

The pain that comes of sin is the focal item in the whole “problem” and in the midst of it stand a Cross and a Resurrection... . Of us, you and me, the prayer is spoken, “Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do.”... Yes, the prayer is spoken of us. Yet because God raised him from the dead the prayer is already answered for us. We are forgiven! (From God, Pain, and Evil by George Arthur Buttrick)

Application

God has forgiven us. But, many times we have done something that is so painful it is difficult to forgive ourselves. You are sorry for what you have done. You have tried to make amends. Now, forgive yourself and begin to live life anew.

David Sins with Bathsheba

In the spring, when the kings normally went out to war, David sent out Joab, his servants, and all the Israelites. They destroyed the Ammonites and attacked the city of Rabbah. But David stayed in Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup>One evening David got up from his bed and walked around on the roof of his palace. While he was on the roof, he saw a woman bathing. She was very beautiful. <sup>3</sup>So David sent his servants to find out who she was. A servant answered, “That woman is Bathsheba daughter of Eliam. She is the wife of Uriah the Hittite.” <sup>4</sup>So David sent messengers to bring Bathsheba to him. When she came to him, he had sexual relations with her. (Now Bathsheba had purified herself from her monthly period.) Then she went back to her house. <sup>5</sup>But Bathsheba became pregnant and sent word to David, saying, “I am pregnant.”

<sup>6</sup>So David sent a message to Joab: “Send Uriah the Hittite to me.” And Joab sent Uriah to David. <sup>7</sup>When Uriah came to him, David asked him how Joab was, how the soldiers were, and how the war was going. <sup>8</sup>Then David said to Uriah, “Go home and rest.”

So Uriah left the palace, and the king sent a gift to him. <sup>9</sup>But Uriah did not go home. Instead, he slept outside the door of the palace as all the king's officers did.

<sup>10</sup>The officers told David, "Uriah did not go home."

Then David said to Uriah, "You came from a long trip. Why didn't you go home?"

<sup>11</sup>Uriah said to him, "The Ark and the soldiers of Israel and Judah are staying in tents. My master Joab and his officers are camping out in the fields. It isn't right for me to go home to eat and drink and have sexual relations with my wife!"

<sup>12</sup>David said to Uriah, "Stay here today. Tomorrow I'll send you back to the battle." So Uriah stayed in Jerusalem that day and the next. <sup>13</sup>Then David called Uriah to come to see him, so Uriah ate and drank with David. David made Uriah drunk, but he still did not go home. That evening Uriah again slept with the king's officers.

<sup>14</sup>The next morning David wrote a letter to Joab and sent it by Uriah. <sup>15</sup>In the letter David wrote, "Put Uriah on the front lines where the fighting is worst and leave him there alone. Let him be killed in battle."

<sup>16</sup>Joab watched the city and saw where its strongest defenders were and put Uriah there. <sup>17</sup>When the men of the city came out to fight against Joab, some of David's men were killed. And Uriah the Hittite was one of them.

<sup>18</sup>Then Joab sent David a complete account of the war. <sup>19</sup>Joab told the messenger, "Tell King David what happened in the war. <sup>20</sup>After you finish, the king may be angry and ask, 'Why did you go so near the city to fight? Didn't you know they would shoot arrows from the city wall?' <sup>21</sup>Do you remember who killed Abimelech son of Jerub-Besheth? It was a woman on the city wall. She threw a large stone for grinding grain on Abimelech and killed him there in Thebez. Why did you go so near the wall?’ If King David asks that, tell him, ‘Your servant Uriah the Hittite also died.’ ”

<sup>25</sup>David said to the messenger, “Say this to Joab: ‘Don’t be upset about this. The sword kills everyone the same. Make a stronger attack against the city and capture it.’ Encourage Joab with these words.”

<sup>26</sup>When Bathsheba heard that her husband was dead, she cried for him. <sup>27</sup>After she finished her time of sadness, David sent servants to bring her to his house. She became David’s wife and gave birth to his son, but the Lord did not like what David had done.

David's Son Dies

The Lord sent Nathan to David. When he came to David, he said, "There were two men in a city. One was rich, but the other was poor. <sup>2</sup>The rich man had many sheep and cattle. <sup>3</sup>But the poor man had nothing except one little female lamb he had bought. The poor man fed the lamb, and it grew up with him and his children. It shared his food and drank from his cup and slept in his arms. The lamb was like a daughter to him.

<sup>4</sup>"Then a traveler stopped to visit the rich man. The rich man wanted to feed the traveler, but he didn't want to take one of his own sheep or cattle. Instead, he took the lamb from the poor man and cooked it for his visitor."

<sup>5</sup>David became very angry at the rich man. He said to Nathan, "As surely as the Lord lives, the man who did this should die! <sup>6</sup>He must pay for the lamb four times for doing such a thing. He had no mercy!"

<sup>7</sup>Then Nathan said to David, "You are the man! This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: 'I appointed you king of Israel and saved you from Saul. <sup>8</sup>I gave you his kingdom and his wives. And I made you king of Israel and Judah. And if that had not been enough, I would have given you even more. <sup>9</sup>So why did you ignore the Lord's command? Why did you do what he says is wrong? You killed Uriah the Hittite with the sword of the Ammonites and took his wife to be your wife! <sup>10</sup>Now there will always be people in your family who will die by a sword, because you did not respect me; you took the wife of Uriah the Hittite for yourself!'

<sup>11</sup>“This is what the Lord says: ‘I am bringing trouble to you from your own family. While you watch, I will take your wives from you and give them to someone who is very close to you. He will have sexual relations with your wives, and everyone will know it.’<sup>12</sup>You had sexual relations with Bathsheba in secret, but I will do this so all the people of Israel can see it.”

Godly sorrow makes people change their hearts and lives.

This leads to salvation, and you cannot be sorry for that.

—Max Lucado (A Gentle Thunder)

<sup>13</sup>Then David said to Nathan, “I have sinned against the Lord.”

Nathan answered, “The Lord has taken away your sin. You will not die.<sup>14</sup>But what you did caused the Lord’s enemies to lose all respect for him. For this reason the son who was born to you will die.”

<sup>15</sup>Then Nathan went home. And the Lord caused the son of David and Bathsheba, Uriah’s widow, to be very sick.<sup>16</sup>David prayed to God for the baby. David refused to eat or drink. He went into his house and stayed there, lying on the ground all night.<sup>17</sup>The older leaders of David’s family came to him and tried to pull him up from the ground, but he refused to get up or to eat food with them.

<sup>18</sup>On the seventh day the baby died. David’s servants were afraid to tell him that the baby was dead. They said, “Look, we tried to talk to David while the baby was alive, but he refused to listen to us. If we tell him the baby is dead, he may do something awful.”

<sup>19</sup>When David saw his servants whispering, he knew that the baby was dead. So he asked them, “Is the baby dead?”

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus Washes Our Feet

I don't understand how God can be so kind to us, but he is. He kneels before us, takes our feet in his hands, and washes them. Please understand that in washing the disciples' feet, Jesus is washing ours. You and I are in this story. We are at the table. That's us being cleansed, not from our dirt, but from our sins

....

Don't miss the meaning here. To place our feet in the basin of Jesus is to place the filthiest parts of our lives into his hands. In the ancient East, people's feet were caked with mud and dirt. The servant of the feast saw to it that the feet were cleaned. Jesus is assuming the role of the servant. He will wash the grimeiest part of your life.

If you let him. The water of the Servant comes only when we confess that we are dirty. Only when we confess that we are caked with filth, that we have walked forbidden trails and followed the wrong paths.

We tend to be proud like Peter and resist. "I'm not that dirty, Jesus. Just sprinkle a few drops on me and I'll be fine."

What a lie! "If we say we have no sin, we are fooling ourselves, and the truth is not in us" (1 John 1:8).

We will never be cleansed until we confess we are dirty. We will never be pure until we admit we are filthy. And we will never be able to wash the feet of those who have hurt us until we allow Jesus, the one we have hurt, to wash ours.

You see, that is the secret of forgiveness. You will never forgive anyone more than God has already forgiven you. Only by letting him wash your feet can you have strength to wash those of another. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

They answered, “Yes, he is dead.”

<sup>20</sup>Then David got up from the floor, washed himself, put lotions on, and changed his clothes. Then he went into the Lord’s house to worship. After that, he went home and asked for something to eat. His servants gave him some food, and he ate.

<sup>21</sup>David’s servants said to him, “Why are you doing this? When the baby was still alive, you refused to eat and you cried. Now that the baby is dead, you get up and eat food.”

<sup>22</sup>David said, “While the baby was still alive, I refused to eat, and I cried. I thought, ‘Who knows? Maybe the Lord will feel sorry for me and let the baby live.’” <sup>23</sup>But now that the baby is dead, why should I go without food? I can’t bring him back to life. Some day I will go to him, but he cannot come back to me.”

David Captures Rabbah

<sup>26</sup>Joab fought against Rabbah, a royal city of the Ammonites, and he was about to capture it. <sup>27</sup>Joab sent messengers to David and said, “I have fought against Rabbah and have captured its water supply.” <sup>28</sup>Now bring the other soldiers together and attack this city. Capture it before I capture it myself and it is called by my name!”

<sup>29</sup>So David gathered all the army and went to Rabbah and fought against it and captured it. <sup>30</sup>David took the crown off their king’s head and had it placed on his own head. That gold crown weighed about seventy-five pounds, and it had valuable gems in it. And David took many valuable things from the city.

<sup>31</sup>He also brought out the people of the city and forced them to work with saws, iron picks, and axes. He also made them build with bricks. David did this to all the Ammonite cities. Then David and all his army returned to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 13:1–14:33

Situation

David's family was in conflict. His eldest son, Amnon, raped Tamar, his own half sister. Absalom, Tamar's brother, murdered Amnon in revenge.

Observation

Sexual sin produces disastrous consequences in a family.

Inspiration

What do you do with your failures? Our mistakes come to us as pebbles; small stones that serve as souvenirs of our stumbles... Here are some failures that have been drug into my office.

Unfaithfulness. He wanted to try again. She said, "No way." He wanted a second chance. She said, "You blew your chance." He admitted that he made a mistake by seeing another woman. He sees now that the mistake was fatal to his marriage.

Homosexuality. His wrists bore the scars of a suicide attempt. His arms had tracks from countless needles. His eyes reflected the spirit of one hellbent on self-destruction. His words were those of a prisoner grimly resigned to the judge's sentence. "I'm gay. My dad says I'm queer. I guess he's right..."

Immorality. She came to church with a pregnant womb and a repentant spirit. "I can't have a child," she pleaded. "We'll find a home for it," she was assured. She agreed. Then she changed her mind. Her boyfriend funded the abortion. “Can God ever forgive me?” she asked....

Could you do it all over again, you’d do it differently. You’d be a different person. You’d be more patient. You’d control your tongue. You’d finish what you started. You’d turn the other cheek instead of slapping his. You’d get married first. You wouldn’t marry at all. You’d be honest. You’d resist the temptation....

But you can’t. And as many times as you tell yourself, “What’s done is done,” what you did can’t be undone.

That’s part of what Paul meant when he said, “The wages of sin is death.” He didn’t say, “The wages of sin is a bad mood.” Or, “The wages of sin is a hard day.” Nor, “The wages of sin is depression.” Read it again. “The wages of sin is death.” Sin is fatal.

Can anything be done with it? ... What do you do with the stones from life’s stumbles?

My oldest daughter, Jenna, is four years old. Some time ago she came to me with a confession. “Daddy, I took a crayon and drew on the wall.” (Kids amaze me with their honesty.)

I sat down and lifted her up into my lap and tried to be wise. “Is that a good thing to do?” I asked her.

“No.”

“What does Daddy do when you write on the wall?”

“You spank me.”

“What do you think Daddy should do this time?”

“Love.”

Don't we all want that? Don't we all long for a father who even though our mistakes are written all over the wall, will love us anyway? Don't we want a father who cares for us in spite of our failures?

We do have that type of a father. A father who is at his best when we are at our worst. A father whose grace is strongest when our devotion is weakest. If your bag is bulky, then you're in for some thrilling news: Your failures are not fatal. (From Six Hours One Friday by Max Lucado)

Amnon and Tamar

David had a son named Absalom and a son named Amnon. Absalom had a beautiful sister named Tamar, and Amnon loved her.<sup>2</sup>Tamar was a virgin. Amnon made himself sick just thinking about her, because he could not find any chance to be alone with her.

<sup>3</sup>Amnon had a friend named Jonadab son of Shimeah, David's brother. Jonadab was a very clever man.<sup>4</sup>He asked Amnon, "Son of the king, why do you look so sad day after day? Tell me what's wrong!"

Amnon told him, "I love Tamar, the sister of my half-brother Absalom."

<sup>5</sup>Jonadab said to Amnon, "Go to bed and act as if you are sick. Then your father will come to see you. Tell him, 'Please let my sister Tamar come in and give me food to eat. Let her make the food in front of me so I can watch and eat it from her hand.'"

<sup>6</sup>So Amnon went to bed and acted sick. When King David came in to see him, Amnon said to him, "Please let my sister Tamar come in. Let her make two of her special cakes for me while I watch. Then I will eat them from her hands."

brother Amnon's house and make some food for him." <sup>8</sup>So Tamar went to her brother Amnon's house, and he was in bed. Tamar took some dough and pressed it together with her hands. She made some special cakes while Amnon watched. Then she baked them. <sup>9</sup>Next she took the pan and served him, but he refused to eat.

He said to his servants, "All of you, leave me alone!" So they all left him alone. <sup>10</sup>Amnon said to Tamar, "Bring the food into the bedroom so I may eat from your hand."

Tamar took the cakes she had made and brought them to her brother Amnon in the bedroom. <sup>11</sup>She went to him so he could eat from her hands, but Amnon grabbed her. He said, "Sister, come and have sexual relations with me."

<sup>12</sup>Tamar said to him, "No, brother! Don't force me! This should never be done in Israel! Don't do this shameful thing! <sup>13</sup>I could never get rid of my shame! And you will be like the shameful fools in Israel! Please talk with the king, and he will let you marry me."

<sup>14</sup>But Amnon refused to listen to her. He was stronger than she was, so he forced her to have sexual relations with him. <sup>15</sup>After that, Amnon hated Tamar. He hated her more than he had loved her before. Amnon said to her, "Get up and leave!"

<sup>16</sup>Tamar said to him, "No! Sending me away would be worse than what you've already done!"

But he refused to listen to her. <sup>17</sup>He called his young servant back in and said, "Get this woman out of here and away from me! Lock the door after her." <sup>18</sup>So his servant led her out of the room and bolted the door after her.

Tamar was wearing a special robe with long sleeves, because the king's virgin daughters wore this kind of robe.

<sup>19</sup>To show how upset she was, Tamar put ashes on her head and tore her special robe and put her hand on her head. Then she went away, crying loudly.

<sup>20</sup>Absalom, Tamar's brother, said to her, "Has Amnon, your brother, forced you to have sexual relations with him? For now, sister, be quiet. He is your half-brother. Don't let this upset you so much!" So Tamar lived in her brother Absalom's house and was sad and lonely.

<sup>21</sup>When King David heard the news, he was very angry. <sup>22</sup>Absalom did not say a word, good or bad, to Amnon. But he hated Amnon for disgracing his sister Tamar.

Absalom's Revenge

<sup>23</sup>Two years later Absalom had some men come to Baal Hazor, near Ephraim, to cut the wool from his sheep. Absalom invited all the king's sons to come also. <sup>24</sup>Absalom went to the king and said, "I have men coming to cut the wool. Please come with your officers and join me."

<sup>25</sup>King David said to Absalom, "No, my son. We won't all go, because it would be too much trouble for you." Although Absalom begged David, he would not go, but he did give his blessing.

<sup>26</sup>Absalom said, "If you don't want to come, then please let my brother Amnon come with us."

King David asked, "Why should he go with you?"

<sup>27</sup>Absalom kept begging David until he let Amnon and all the king's sons go with Absalom.

<sup>28</sup>Then Absalom instructed his servants, "Watch Amnon. When he is drunk, I will tell you, 'Kill Amnon.' Right then, kill him! Don't be afraid, because I have commanded you! Be strong and brave!"<sup>29</sup> So Absalom's young men killed Amnon as Absalom commanded, but all of David's other sons got on their mules and escaped.

<sup>30</sup>While the king's sons were on their way, the news came to David, "Absalom has killed all of the king's sons! Not one of them is left alive!"<sup>31</sup> King David tore his clothes and lay on the ground to show his sadness. All his servants standing nearby tore their clothes also.

<sup>32</sup>Jonadab son of Shimeah, David's brother, said to David, "Don't think all the young men, your sons, are killed. No, only Amnon is dead! Absalom has planned this ever since Amnon forced his sister Tamar to have sexual relations with him."<sup>33</sup> My master and king, don't think that all of the king's sons are dead. Only Amnon is dead!"

A guard standing on the city wall saw many people coming from the other side of the hill.<sup>35</sup> So Jonadab said to King David, "Look, I was right! The king's sons are coming!"

<sup>36</sup>As soon as Jonadab had said this, the king's sons arrived, crying loudly. David and all his servants began crying also.<sup>37</sup> David cried for his son every day.

But Absalom ran away to Talmi son of Ammihud, the king of Geshur.<sup>38</sup> After Absalom ran away to Geshur, he stayed there for three years.<sup>39</sup> When King David got over Amnon's death, he missed Absalom greatly.

Joab Sends a Wise Woman to David

Joab son of Zeruiah knew that King David missed Absalom very much. <sup>2</sup>So Joab sent messengers to Tekoa to bring a wise woman from there. He said to her, “Pretend to be very sad. Put on funeral clothes and don’t put lotion on yourself. Act like a woman who has been crying many days for someone who died. <sup>3</sup>Then go to the king and say these words.” Then Joab told her what to say.

<sup>4</sup>So the woman from Tekoa spoke to the king. She bowed facedown on the ground to show respect and said, “My king, help me!”

The woman said, “I am a widow; my husband is dead. <sup>6</sup>I had two sons. They were out in the field fighting, and no one was there to stop them. So one son killed the other son. <sup>7</sup>Now all the family group is against me. They said to me, ‘Bring the son who killed his brother so we may kill him for killing his brother. That way we will also get rid of the one who would receive what belonged to his father.’ My son is like the last spark of a fire. He is all I have left. If they kill him, my husband’s name and property will be gone from the earth.”

<sup>8</sup>Then the king said to the woman, “Go home. I will take care of this for you.”

<sup>9</sup>The woman of Tekoa said to him, “Let the blame be on me and my father’s family. My master and king, you and your throne are innocent.”

<sup>10</sup>King David said, “Bring me anyone who says anything bad to you. Then he won't bother you again."

<sup>11</sup>The woman said, "Please promise in the name of the Lord your God. Then my relative who has the duty of punishing a murderer won't add to the destruction by killing my son."

David said, "As surely as the Lord lives, no one will hurt your son. Not one hair from his head will fall to the ground."

<sup>12</sup>The woman said, "Let me say something to you, my master and king."

The king said, "Speak."

<sup>13</sup>Then the woman said, "Why have you decided this way against the people of God? When you judge this way, you show that you are guilty for not bringing back your son who was forced to leave home. <sup>14</sup>We will all die some day. We're like water spilled on the ground; no one can gather it back. But God doesn't take away life. Instead, he plans ways that those who have been sent away will not have to stay away from him! <sup>15</sup>My master and king, I came to say this to you because the people have made me afraid! I thought, 'Let me talk to the king. Maybe he will do what I ask. <sup>16</sup>Maybe he will listen. Perhaps he will save me from those who want to keep both me and my son from getting what God gave us.'

<sup>17</sup>"Now I say, 'May the words of my master the king give me rest. Like an angel of God, you know what is good and what is bad. May the Lord your God be with you!'"

<sup>18</sup>Then King David said, "Do not hide the truth. Answer me one question."

The woman said, "My master the king, please ask your question."

<sup>19</sup>The king said, "Did Joab tell you to say all these things?"

The woman answered, "As you live, my master the king, no one could avoid that question. You are right. Your servant Joab did tell me to say these things. <sup>20</sup>Joab did it so you would see things differently. My master, you are wise like an angel of God who knows everything that happens on earth.”

Absalom Returns to Jerusalem

<sup>21</sup>The king said to Joab, “Look, I will do what I promised. Bring back the young man Absalom.”

<sup>22</sup>Joab bowed facedown on the ground and blessed the king. Then he said, “Today I know you are pleased with me, because you have done what I asked.”

<sup>23</sup>Then Joab got up and went to Geshur and brought Absalom back to Jerusalem. <sup>24</sup>But King David said, “Absalom must go to his own house. He may not come to see me.” So Absalom went to his own house and did not go to see the king.

<sup>25</sup>Absalom was greatly praised for his handsome appearance. No man in Israel was as handsome as he. No blemish was on him from his head to his foot. <sup>26</sup>At the end of every year, Absalom would cut his hair, because it became too heavy. When he weighed it, it would weigh about five pounds by the royal measure.

<sup>27</sup>Absalom had three sons and one daughter. His daughter’s name was also Tamar, and she was a beautiful woman.

<sup>28</sup>Absalom lived in Jerusalem for two full years without seeing King David. <sup>29</sup>Then Absalom sent for Joab so he could send him to the king, but Joab would not come. Absalom sent a message a second time, but Joab still refused to come. <sup>30</sup>Then Absalom said to his servants, “Look, Joab’s field is next to mine, and he has barley growing there. Go burn it.” So Absalom’s servants set fire to Joab’s field.

<sup>31</sup>Then Joab went to Absalom’s house and said to him, “Why did your servants burn my field?”

<sup>32</sup>Absalom said to Joab, “I sent a message to you, asking you to come here. I wanted to send you to the king to ask him why he brought me home from Geshur. It would have been better for me to stay there! Now let me see the king. If I have sinned, he can put me to death!”

<sup>33</sup>So Joab went to the king and told him Absalom’s words. Then the king called for Absalom. Absalom came and bowed facedown on the ground before the king, and the king kissed him.

Life Lessons

2 Samuel 15:1–16:14

Situation

Absalom's charisma and charm won over many followers. His rebellion became so strong and widespread that David fled rather than engage in a long, bloody opposition.

Observation

Even though God had forgiven David, David's sins brought painful consequences. In this passage, David was forced to flee Jerusalem because of opposition from his own son. Imagine the pain and rejection David must have felt. Jesus could have associated with those emotions as his own family and followers fled from him.

Inspiration

Judas wasn't the only turncoat. Matthew is admirably honest when he confesses, "All of Jesus' followers left him and ran away" (26:56).

For such a short word, "all" sure packs some pain. "All of Jesus' followers ... ran away." John did. Matthew did. Simon did. Thomas did. They all did. We don't have to go far to find the last time this word was used. Note the verse just a few lines before our text: "But Peter said, 'I will never say that I don't know you! I will even die with you!' And all the other followers said the same thing" (26:35, italics mine).

All pledged loyalty, and yet all ran. From the outside looking in, all we see is betrayal. The disciples have left him. The people have rejected him. And God hasn't heard him. Never has so much trash been dumped on one being. Stack all the disloyalties of deadbeat dads and cheating wives and prodigal kids and dishonest workers in one pile, and you begin to see what Jesus had to face that night. From a human point of view, Jesus' world has collapsed. No answer from heaven, no help from the people, no loyalty from his friends.

Jesus, neck deep in rubbish. That's how I would have described the scene. That's how a reporter would have described it. That's how a witness would have portrayed it. But that's not how Jesus saw it. He saw something else entirely. He wasn't oblivious to the trash; he just wasn't limited to it. Somehow he was able to see good in the bad, the purpose in the pain, and God's presence in the problem.

We could use a little of Jesus' 20/20 vision, couldn't we? You and I live in a trashy world. Unwanted garbage comes our way on a regular basis. We, too, have unanswered prayers and unfruitful dreams and unbelievable betrayals, do we not? Haven't you been handed a trash sack of mishaps and heartaches? Sure you have. May I ask, what are you going to do with it? (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Application

So what are you going to do with the pain, rejection, and trash in your life? Take time to reflect on how Jesus dealt with his own pain and rejection. Ask him to help you overcome the negatives in your life with a positive response. Ask him to help you see the purpose in the pain.

Absalom Plans to Take David's Kingdom

After this, Absalom got a chariot and horses for himself and fifty men to run before him. <sup>2</sup>Absalom would get up early and stand near the city gate. Anyone who had a problem for the king to settle would come here. When someone came, Absalom would call out and say, "What city are you from?"

The person would answer, "I'm from one of the tribes of Israel."

<sup>3</sup>Then Absalom would say, "Look, your claims are right, but the king has no one to listen to you." <sup>4</sup>Absalom would also say, "I wish someone would make me judge in this land! Then people with problems could come to me, and I could help them get justice."

<sup>5</sup>People would come near Absalom to bow to him. When they did, Absalom would reach out his hand and take hold of them and kiss them. <sup>6</sup>Absalom did that to all the Israelites who came to King David for decisions. In this way, Absalom stole the hearts of all Israel.

<sup>7</sup>After four years Absalom said to King David, "Please let me go to Hebron. I want to carry out my promise that I made to the Lord <sup>8</sup>while I was living in Geshur in Aram. I said, 'If the Lord takes me back to Jerusalem, I will worship him in Hebron.'"

<sup>9</sup>The king said, "Go in peace."

So Absalom went to Hebron. <sup>10</sup>But he sent secret messengers through all the tribes of Israel. They told the people, “When you hear the trumpets, say this: ‘Absalom is the king at Hebron!’”

<sup>11</sup>Absalom had invited two hundred men to go with him. So they went from Jerusalem with him, but they didn’t know what he was planning. <sup>12</sup>While Absalom was offering sacrifices, he sent for Ahithophel, one of the people who advised David, to come from his hometown of Giloh. So Absalom’s plans were working very well. More and more people began to support him.

<sup>14</sup>Then David said to all his officers who were with him in Jerusalem, “We must leave quickly! If we don’t, we won’t be able to get away from Absalom. We must hurry before he catches us and destroys us and kills the people of Jerusalem.”

<sup>15</sup>The king’s officers said to him, “We will do anything you say.”

<sup>19</sup>The king said to Ittai, a man from Gath, “Why are you also going with us? Turn back and stay with King Absalom because you are a foreigner. This is not your homeland. <sup>20</sup>You joined me only a short time ago. Should I make you wander with us when I don’t even know where I’m going? Turn back and take your brothers with you. May kindness and loyalty be shown to you.”

<sup>21</sup>But Ittai said to the king, “As surely as the Lord lives and as you live, I will stay with you, whether it means life or death.”

<sup>22</sup>David said to Ittai, “Go, march on.” So Ittai from Gath and all his people with their children marched on. <sup>23</sup>All the people cried loudly as everyone passed by. King David crossed the Kidron Valley, and then all the people went on to the desert. <sup>24</sup>Zadok and all the Levites with him carried the Ark of the Agreement with God. They set it down, and Abiathar offered sacrifices until all the people had left the city.

<sup>25</sup>The king said to Zadok, “Take the Ark of God back into the city. If the Lord is pleased with me, he will bring me back and will let me see both it and Jerusalem again. <sup>26</sup>But if the Lord says he is not pleased with me, I am ready. He can do what he wants with me.”

<sup>27</sup>The king also said to Zadok the priest, “Aren’t you a seer? Go back to the city in peace and take your son Ahimaaz and Abiathar’s son Jonathan with you. <sup>28</sup>I will wait near the crossings into the desert until I hear from you.” <sup>29</sup>So Zadok and Abiathar took the Ark of God back to Jerusalem and stayed there.

So David prayed, “Lord, please make Ahithophel’s advice foolish.”

<sup>32</sup>When David reached the top of the mountain where people used to worship God, Hushai the Arkite came to meet him. Hushai's coat was torn, and there was dirt on his head to show how sad he was.<sup>33</sup> David said to Hushai, "If you go with me, you will be just one more person for me to take care of.<sup>34</sup> But if you return to the city, you can make Ahithophel's advice useless. Tell Absalom, 'I am your servant, my king. In the past I served your father, but now I will serve you.'<sup>35</sup> The priests Zadok and Abiathar will be with you. Tell them everything you hear in the royal palace.<sup>36</sup> Zadok's son Ahimaaz and Abiathar's son Jonathan are with them. Send them to tell me everything you hear."<sup>37</sup> So David's friend Hushai entered Jerusalem just as Absalom arrived.

Ziba Meets David

When David had passed a short way over the top of the Mount of Olives, Ziba, Mephibosheth's servant, met him. Ziba had a row of donkeys loaded with two hundred loaves of bread, one hundred cakes of raisins, one hundred cakes of figs, and leather bags full of wine. <sup>2</sup>The king asked Ziba, "What are these things for?"

Ziba answered, "The donkeys are for your family to ride. The bread and cakes of figs are for the servants to eat. And the wine is for anyone to drink who might become weak in the desert."

Ziba answered him, "Mephibosheth is staying in Jerusalem because he thinks, 'Today the Israelites will give my father's kingdom back to me!'"

<sup>4</sup>Then the king said to Ziba, "All right. Everything that belonged to Mephibosheth, I now give to you!"

Ziba said, "I bow to you. I hope I will always be able to please you."

Shimei Curses David

troublemaker. <sup>8</sup>The Lord is punishing you for the people in Saul's family you killed! You took Saul's place as king, but now the Lord has given the kingdom to your son Absalom! Now you are ruined because you are a murderer!"

<sup>9</sup>Abishai son of Zeruiah said to the king, "Why should this dead dog curse you, the king? Let me go over and cut off his head!"

<sup>10</sup>But the king answered, "This does not concern you, sons of Zeruiah! If he is cursing me because the Lord told him to, who can question him?"

<sup>11</sup>David also said to Abishai and all his officers, "My own son is trying to kill me! This man is a Benjaminite and has more right to kill me! Leave him alone, and let him curse me because the Lord told him to do this. <sup>12</sup>Maybe the Lord will see my misery and repay me with something good for Shimei's curses today!"

<sup>13</sup>So David and his men went on down the road, but Shimei followed on the nearby hillside. He kept cursing David and throwing stones and dirt at him. <sup>14</sup>When the king and all his people arrived at the Jordan, they were very tired, so they rested there.

Life Lessons

2 Samuel 16:15–17:23

Situation

Ahithophel and Hushai competed as advisers to Absalom during the revolution. Most leaders in those times relied on advisers to make important policy decisions.

Observation

God enables his chosen leaders (such as David) to prevail, even through the most complex and adverse circumstances.

Inspiration

In our day-to-day experience it is sometimes difficult to determine the source of our adversity. Adversity related to our personal sin is usually easy to identify. Beyond that, though, things begin to run together. We certainly do not want to rebuke the devil for something God is behind. Neither do we want to just grin and bear it if there is something we can do to put an end to our suffering.

The Bible does not give us three simple steps to aid us in determining the source of our adversity. This used to really bother me. For a long time, when I faced adversity, I would pray and pray for God to give me some indication as to why I was suffering. Then I realized why those kinds of prayers rarely seemed to be answered. There was and is a much more important issue at stake.

Far more important than the source of adversity is the response to adversity. Why? Because adversity, regardless of the source, is God's most effective tool for deepening your faith and commitment to Him. The areas in which you are experiencing the most adversity are the areas in which God is at work. When someone says, "God is not doing anything in my life," my response is always, "So, you don't have any problems?" Why? Because the best way to identify God's involvement in your life is to consider your response to adversity. God uses adversity, regardless of the source. But your response to adversity determines whether or not God is able to use it to accomplish His purpose....

As much as we all want to know the answer to the why question, it is really not the most significant question. The real question each of us needs to ask is, “How should I respond?” To spend too much time trying to answer the why question is to run the risk of missing what God wants to teach us. <sup>15</sup>Meanwhile, Absalom, Ahithophel, and all the Israelites arrived at Jerusalem. <sup>16</sup>David's friend Hushai the Arkite came to Absalom and said to him, "Long live the king! Long live the king!"

<sup>17</sup>Absalom asked, "Why are you not loyal to your friend David? Why didn't you leave Jerusalem with your friend?"

<sup>18</sup>Hushai said, "I belong to the one chosen by the Lord and by these people and everyone in Israel. I will stay with you. <sup>19</sup>In the past I served your father. So whom should I serve now? David's son! I will serve you as I served him."

Ahithophel's Advice

<sup>20</sup>Absalom said to Ahithophel, "Tell us what we should do."

<sup>21</sup>Ahithophel said, "Your father left behind some of his slave women to take care of the palace. Have sexual relations with them. Then all Israel will hear that your father is your enemy, and all your people will be encouraged to give you more support." <sup>22</sup>So they put up a tent for Absalom on the roof of the palace where everyone in Israel could see it. And Absalom had sexual relations with his father's slave women.

<sup>23</sup>At that time people thought Ahithophel's advice was as reliable as God's own word. Both David and Absalom thought it was that reliable.

Ahithophel said to Absalom, “Let me choose twelve thousand men and chase David tonight. <sup>2</sup>I’ll catch him while he is tired and weak, and I’ll frighten him so all his people will run away. But I’ll kill only King David. <sup>3</sup>Then I’ll bring everyone back to you. If the man you are looking for is dead, everyone else will return safely.” <sup>4</sup>This plan seemed good to Absalom and to all the leaders of Israel.

<sup>5</sup>But Absalom said, “Now call Hushai the Arkite, so I can hear what he says.” <sup>6</sup>When Hushai came to Absalom, Absalom said to him, “This is the plan Ahithophel gave. Should we follow it? If not, tell us.”

<sup>7</sup>Hushai said to Absalom, “Ahithophel’s advice is not good this time.” <sup>8</sup>Hushai added, “You know your father and his men are strong. They are as angry as a bear that is robbed of its cubs. Your father is a skilled fighter. He won’t stay all night with the army. <sup>9</sup>He is probably already hiding in a cave or some other place. If the first attack fails, people will hear the news and think, ‘Absalom’s followers are losing!’ <sup>10</sup>Then even the men who are as brave as lions will be frightened, because all the Israelites know your father is a fighter. They know his men are brave!

<sup>11</sup>“This is what I suggest: Gather all the Israelites from Dan to Beersheba. There will be as many people as grains of sand by the sea. Then you yourself must go into the battle. <sup>12</sup>We will go to David wherever he is hiding. We will fall on him as dew falls on the ground. We will kill him and all of his men so that no one will be left alive. <sup>13</sup>If David escapes into a city, all the Israelites will bring ropes to that city and pull it into the valley. Not a stone will be left!”

<sup>14</sup>Absalom and all the Israelites said, “The advice of Hushai

the Arkite is better than that of Ahithophel.” (The Lord had planned to destroy the good advice of Ahithophel so the Lord could bring disaster on Absalom.)

<sup>15</sup>Hushai told Zadok and Abiathar, the priests, what Ahithophel had suggested to Absalom and the older leaders of Israel. He also reported to them what he himself had suggested. Hushai said, <sup>16</sup>“Quickly! Send a message to David. Tell him not to stay tonight at the crossings into the desert but to cross over the Jordan River at once. If he crosses the river, he and all his people won’t be destroyed.”

<sup>17</sup>Jonathan and Ahimaaz were waiting at En Rogel. They did not want to be seen going into the city, so a servant girl would go out to them and give them messages. Then Jonathan and Ahimaaz would go and tell King David.

<sup>18</sup>But a boy saw Jonathan and Ahimaaz and told Absalom. So Jonathan and Ahimaaz left quickly and went to a man’s house in Bahurim. He had a well in his courtyard, and they climbed down into it. <sup>19</sup>The man’s wife spread a sheet over the opening of the well and covered it with grain. No one could tell that anyone was hiding there.

<sup>20</sup>Absalom’s servants came to the woman at the house and asked, “Where are Ahimaaz and Jonathan?”

She said to them, “They have already crossed the brook.”

Absalom’s servants then went to look for Jonathan and Ahimaaz, but they could not find them. So they went back to Jerusalem.

<sup>21</sup>After Absalom’s servants left, Jonathan and Ahimaaz climbed out of the well and went to tell King David. They said, “Hurry, cross over the river! Ahithophel has said these things against you!” <sup>22</sup>So David and all his people crossed the Jordan River. By dawn, everyone had crossed the Jordan.

<sup>23</sup>When Ahithophel saw that the Israelites did not accept his advice, he saddled his donkey and went to his hometown. He left orders for his family and property, and then he hanged himself. He died and was buried in his father's tomb.

War Between David and Absalom

<sup>27</sup>Shobi, Makir, and Barzillai were at Mahanaim when David arrived. Shobi son of Nahash was from the Ammonite town of Rabbah. Makir son of Ammiel was from Lo Debar, and Barzillai was from Rogelim in Gilead. <sup>28</sup>They brought beds, bowls, clay pots, wheat, barley, flour, roasted grain, beans, small peas, <sup>29</sup>honey, milk curds, sheep, and cheese made from cows' milk for David and his people. They said, "The people are hungry and tired and thirsty in the desert."

Observation

God desires that his people be unified and avoid petty squabbles, arguments and fights over minor issues. Just as brides are to be pure on their wedding day, so the church should be pure in its relationship with Christ.

Inspiration

In a parable she entitles “A Brawling Bride,” Karen Mains paints a vivid scene, describing a suspenseful moment in a wedding ceremony. Down front stands the groom in a spotless tuxedo—handsome, smiling, full of anticipation, shoes shined, every hair in place, anxiously awaiting the presence of his bride. All attendants are in place, looking joyful and attractive. The magical moment finally arrives as the pipe organ reaches full crescendo and the stately wedding march begins.

Everyone rises and looks toward the door for their first glimpse of the bride. Suddenly there is a horrified gasp. The wedding party is shocked. The groom stares in embarrassed disbelief. Instead of a lovely woman dressed in elegant white, smiling behind a lace veil, the bride is twisted. Ugly cuts and bruises cover her bare arms. Her nose is bleeding, one eye is purple and swollen, and her hair is disheveled.

“Does not this handsome groom deserve better than this?” asks the author. And then the clincher: “Alas, His bride, THE CHURCH, has been fighting again!”

... [What would] the wedding picture ... look like if Christ claimed His bride, the church, today? Try to picture Him standing next to his brawling bride. It is one thing for us to survive the blows of a world that is hostile to the things of Christ, but to be in disharmony with one another, fighting and arguing among ourselves—unthinkable....

Unthinkable and unnatural though it may seem, the bride has been brawling for centuries. We get along for a little while and then we are back at each others' throats....

In a “Peanuts” cartoon, Lucy says to Snoopy: “There are times when you really bug me, but I must admit there are also times when I feel like giving you a big hug.”

Snoopy replies: “That’s the way I am ... huggable and buggable.”

And so it is with us and our relationships within the ranks of God’s family. I’m not referring to the variety of our personalities, gifts, tastes, and preferences—that’s healthy. The Master made us like that. It’s our mistreatment of each other, the infighting, the angry assaults, the verbal misrepresentations, the choosing of sides, the stubborn wills, the childish squabbles. An objective onlooker who watches us from a distance could wonder how and why some of us call ourselves Christians... . Why so little acceptance and tolerance? Aren’t we given the direct command to “keep the unity of the “Spirit in the bond of peace”?

God's trust makes us eager to do right. Such is the genius of grace. —Max Lucado (In the Grip of Grace)

David counted his men and placed over them commanders of thousands and commanders of hundreds.<sup>2</sup> He sent the troops out in three groups. Joab commanded one-third of the men. Joab's brother Abishai son of Zeruiah commanded another third. And Ittai from Gath commanded the last third. King David said to them, "I will also go with you."

<sup>3</sup>But the men said, "You must not go with us! If we run away in the battle, Absalom's men won't care. Even if half of us are killed, Absalom's men won't care. But you're worth ten thousand of us! You can help us most by staying in the city."

<sup>4</sup>The king said to his people, "I will do what you think is best." So the king stood at the side of the gate as the army went out in groups of a hundred and a thousand.

<sup>5</sup>The king commanded Joab, Abishai, and Ittai, "Be gentle with young Absalom for my sake." Everyone heard the king's orders to the commanders about Absalom.

<sup>6</sup>David's army went out into the field against Absalom's Israelites, and they fought in the forest of Ephraim.<sup>7</sup> There David's army defeated the Israelites. Many died that day—twenty thousand men.<sup>8</sup> The battle spread through all the country, but that day more men died in the forest than in the fighting.

Absalom Dies

<sup>10</sup>When one of the men saw it happen, he told Joab, “I saw Absalom hanging in an oak tree!”

<sup>11</sup>Joab said to him, “You saw him? Why didn’t you kill him and let him fall to the ground? I would have given you a belt and four ounces of silver!”

<sup>12</sup>The man answered, “I wouldn’t touch the king’s son even if you gave me twenty-five pounds of silver. We heard the king command you, Abishai, and Ittai, ‘Be careful not to hurt young Absalom.’ <sup>13</sup>If I had killed him, the king would have found out, and you would not have protected me!”

<sup>14</sup>Joab said, “I won’t waste time here with you!” Absalom was still alive in the oak tree, so Joab took three spears and stabbed him in the heart. <sup>15</sup>Ten young men who carried Joab’s armor also gathered around Absalom and struck him and killed him.

<sup>16</sup>Then Joab blew the trumpet, so the troops stopped chasing the Israelites. <sup>17</sup>Then Joab’s men took Absalom’s body and threw it into a large pit in the forest and filled the pit with many stones. All the Israelites ran away to their homes.

<sup>18</sup>When Absalom was alive, he had set up a pillar for himself in the King’s Valley. He said, “I have no son to keep my name alive.” So he named the pillar after himself, and it is called Absalom’s Monument even today.

<sup>19</sup>Ahimaaz son of Zadok said to Joab, “Let me run and take the news to King David. I’ll tell him the Lord has saved him from his enemies.”

<sup>20</sup>Joab answered Ahimaaz, “No, you are not the one to take the news today. You may do it another time, but do not take it today, because the king’s son is dead.”

<sup>21</sup>Then Joab said to a man from Cush, “Go, tell the king what you have seen.” The Cushite bowed to Joab and ran to tell David.

<sup>22</sup>But Ahimaaz son of Zadok begged Joab again, “No matter what happens, please let me go along with the Cushite!”

Joab said, “Son, why do you want to carry the news? You won’t get any reward.”

So Joab said to Ahimaaz, “Run!” Then Ahimaaz ran by way of the Jordan Valley and passed the Cushite.

<sup>24</sup>David was sitting between the inner and outer gates of the city. The watchman went up to the roof of the gate by the walls, and as he looked up, he saw a man running alone. <sup>25</sup>He shouted the news to the king.

The king said, “If he is alone, he is bringing good news!”

The man came nearer and nearer to the city. <sup>26</sup>Then the watchman saw another man running, and he called to the gatekeeper, “Look! Another man is running alone!”

The king said, “He is also bringing good news!”

<sup>27</sup>The watchman said, “I think the first man runs like Ahimaaz son of Zadok.”

The king said, “Ahimaaz is a good man. He must be bringing good news!”

<sup>28</sup>Then Ahimaaz called a greeting to the king. He bowed facedown on the ground before the king and said, “Praise the Lord your God! The Lord has defeated those who were against you, my king.”

Ahimaaz answered, “When Joab sent me, I saw some great excitement, but I don’t know what it was.”

<sup>30</sup>The king said, “Step over here and wait.” So Ahimaaz stepped aside and stood there.

<sup>31</sup>Then the Cushite arrived. He said, “Master and king, hear the good news! Today the Lord has punished those who were against you!”

The Cushite answered, “May your enemies and all who come to hurt you be like that young man!”

<sup>33</sup>Then the king was very upset, and he went to the room over the city gate and cried. As he went, he cried out, “My son Absalom, my son Absalom! I wish I had died and not you. Absalom, my son, my son!”

Joab Scolds David

People told Joab, “Look, the king is sad and crying because of Absalom.”<sup>2</sup> David’s army had won the battle that day. But it became a very sad day for all the people, because they heard that the king was very sad for his son.<sup>3</sup> The people came into the city quietly that day. They were like an army that had been defeated in battle and had run away.<sup>4</sup> The king covered his face and cried loudly, “My son Absalom! Absalom, my son, my son!”

<sup>5</sup>Joab went into the king’s house and said, “Today you have shamed all your men. They saved your life and the lives of your sons, daughters, wives, and slave women.<sup>6</sup> You have shamed them because you love those who hate you, and you hate those who love you. Today you have made it clear that your commanders and men mean nothing to you. What if Absalom had lived and all of us were dead? I can see you would be pleased.<sup>7</sup> Now go out and encourage your servants. I swear by the Lord that if you don’t go out, no man will be left with you by tonight! That will be worse than all the troubles you have had from your youth until today.”

<sup>8</sup>So the king went to the city gate. When the news spread that the king was at the gate, everyone came to see him.

David Goes Back to Jerusalem

All the Israelites who had followed Absalom had run away to their homes.<sup>9</sup> People in all the tribes of Israel began to argue, saying, “The king saved us from the Philistines and our other enemies, but he left the country because of Absalom.<sup>10</sup> We appointed Absalom to rule us, but now he has died in battle. We should make David the king again.”

<sup>11</sup>King David sent a message to Zadok and Abiathar, the priests, that said, “Speak to the older leaders of Judah. Say, ‘Even in my house I have heard what all the Israelites are saying. So why are you the last tribe to bring the king back to his palace?’<sup>12</sup> You are my brothers, my own family. Why are you the last tribe to bring back the king?’<sup>13</sup> And say to Amasa, ‘You are part of my own family. May God punish me terribly if I don’t make you commander of the army in Joab’s place!’”

<sup>14</sup>David touched the hearts of all the people of Judah at once. They sent a message to the king that said, “Return with all your men.”<sup>15</sup> Then the king returned as far as the Jordan River. The men of Judah came to Gilgal to meet him and to bring him across the Jordan.

<sup>16</sup>Shimei son of Gera, a Benjaminite who lived in Bahurim, hurried down with the men of Judah to meet King David.<sup>17</sup> With Shimei came a thousand Benjaminites. Ziba, the servant from Saul’s family, also came, bringing his fifteen sons and twenty servants with him. They all hurried to the Jordan River to meet the king.<sup>18</sup> The people went across the Jordan to help bring the king’s family back to Judah and to do whatever the king wanted. As the king was crossing the river, Shimei son of Gera came to him and bowed facedown on the ground in front of the king.<sup>19</sup> He said to the king, “My master, don’t hold me guilty. Don’t remember the wrong I did when you left Jerusalem! Don’t hold it against me.”<sup>20</sup> I know I have sinned. That is why I am the first person from Joseph’s family to come down and meet you today, my master and king!”

<sup>21</sup>But Abishai son of Zeruiah said, “Shimei should die because he cursed you, the Lord’s appointed king!”

<sup>22</sup>David said, “This does not concern you, sons of Zeruiah! Today you’re against me! No one will be put to death in Israel today. Today I know I am king over Israel!” <sup>23</sup>Then the king promised Shimei, “You won’t die.”

<sup>24</sup>Mephibosheth, Saul’s grandson, also went down to meet King David. Mephibosheth had not cared for his feet, cut his beard, or washed his clothes from the time the king had left Jerusalem until he returned safely. <sup>25</sup>When Mephibosheth came from Jerusalem to meet the king, the king asked him, “Mephibosheth, why didn’t you go with me?”

<sup>26</sup>He answered, “My master, my servant Ziba tricked me! I said to Ziba, ‘I am crippled, so saddle a donkey. Then I will ride it so I can go with the king.’” <sup>27</sup>But he lied about me to you. You, my master and king, are like an angel from God. Do what you think is good. <sup>28</sup>You could have killed all my grandfather’s family. Instead, you put me with those people who eat at your own table. So I don’t have a right to ask anything more from the king!”

<sup>29</sup>The king said to him, “Don’t say anything more. I have decided that you and Ziba will divide the land.”

<sup>30</sup>Mephibosheth said to the king, “Let Ziba take all the land now that my master the king has arrived safely home.”

<sup>31</sup>Barzillai of Gilead came down from Rogelim to cross the Jordan River with the king. <sup>32</sup>Barzillai was a very old man, eighty years old. He had taken care of the king when David was staying at Mahanaim, because Barzillai was a very rich man. <sup>33</sup>David said to Barzillai, “Cross the river with me. Come with me to Jerusalem, and I will take care of you.”

<sup>34</sup>But Barzillai answered the king, “Do you know how old I am? Do you think I can go with you to Jerusalem? <sup>35</sup>I am eighty years old! I am too old to taste what I eat or drink. I am too old to hear the voices of men and women singers. Why should you be bothered with me? <sup>36</sup>I am not worthy of a reward from you, but I will cross the Jordan River with you. <sup>37</sup>Then let me go back so I may die in my own city near the grave of my father and mother. But here is Kimham, your servant. Let him go with you, my master and king. Do with him whatever you want.”

<sup>38</sup>The king answered, “Kimham will go with me. I will do for him anything you wish, and I will do anything for you that you wish.” <sup>39</sup>The king kissed Barzillai and blessed him. Then Barzillai returned home, and the king and all the people crossed the Jordan.

<sup>40</sup>When the king crossed over to Gilgal, Kimham went with him. All the troops of Judah and half the troops of Israel led David across the river.

<sup>41</sup>Soon all the Israelites came to the king and said to him, “Why did our relatives, the people of Judah, steal you away? Why did they bring you and your family across the Jordan River with your men?”

<sup>42</sup>All the people of Judah answered the Israelites, “We did this because the king is our close relative. Why are you angry about it? We have not eaten food at the king’s expense or taken anything for ourselves!”

<sup>43</sup>The Israelites answered the people of Judah, “We have ten tribes in the kingdom, so we have more right to David than you do! But you ignored us! We were the first ones to talk about bringing our king back!”

But the people of Judah spoke even more unkindly than the people of Israel.

Sheba, a Benjamite, called upon the Israelites to follow him and rebel against king David. David, who had just defeated Absalom's rebellion, put down Sheba's rebellion as well.

Observation

The house of Benjamin had been a rival of David since he became king of Israel. Old jealousies and bitterness prompted Sheba to call for a revolt against David. In doing so, Sheba hoped to take the monarchy by force and return it to the house of Benjamin.

Inspiration

Black and cold, bitterness denies easy escape. The sides are slippery with resentment. A floor of muddy anger stills the feet. The stench of betrayal fills the air and stings the eyes. A cloud of self-pity blocks the view of the tiny exit above....

You can choose, like many, to chain yourself to your hurt.

Or you can choose, like some, to put away your hurts before they become hates. You can choose to go to the party. You have a place there. Your name is beside a plate. If you are a child of God, no one can take away your sonship.

Which is precisely what the father said to the older son in Jesus' story of the prodigal son; see [Luke 15:11–32, particularly v. 31]. “Son, you are always with me, and all that I have is yours.”

And that is precisely what the Father says to you. How does God deal with your bitter heart? He reminds you that what you have is more important than what you don’t have. You still have your relationship with God. No one can take that. No one can touch it. (From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

Sheba Leads Israel Away from David

It happened that a troublemaker named Sheba son of Bicri from the tribe of Benjamin was there. He blew the trumpet and said:

“We have no share in David!
We have no part in the son of Jesse!
People of Israel, let's go home!”

<sup>3</sup>David came back to his palace in Jerusalem. He had left ten of his slave women there to take care of the palace. Now he put them in a locked house. He gave them food, but he did not have sexual relations with them. So they lived like widows until they died.

<sup>4</sup>The king said to Amasa, “Tell the men of Judah to meet with me in three days, and you must also be here.” <sup>5</sup>So Amasa went to call the men of Judah together, but he took more time than the king had said.

<sup>6</sup>David said to Abishai, “Sheba son of Bicri is more dangerous to us than Absalom was. Take my men and chase him before he finds walled cities and escapes from us.” <sup>7</sup>So Joab's men, the Kerethites and the Pelethites, and all the soldiers went with Abishai. They went out from Jerusalem to chase Sheba son of Bicri.

<sup>8</sup>When Joab and the army came to the great rock at Gibeon, Amasa came out to meet them. Joab was wearing his uniform, and at his waist he wore a belt that held his sword in its case. As Joab stepped forward, his sword fell out of its case.<sup>9</sup>Joab asked Amasa, "Brother, is everything all right with you?" Then with his right hand he took Amasa by the beard to kiss him.<sup>10</sup>Amasa was not watching the sword in Joab's hand. So Joab pushed the sword into Amasa's stomach, causing Amasa's insides to spill onto the ground. Joab did not have to stab Amasa again; he was already dead. Then Joab and his brother Abishai continued to chase Sheba son of Bicri.

<sup>11</sup>One of Joab's young men stood by Amasa's body and said, "Everyone who is for Joab and David should follow Joab!"<sup>12</sup>Amasa lay in the middle of the road, covered with his own blood. When the young man saw that everyone was stopping to look at the body, he dragged it from the road, laid it in a field, and put a cloth over it.<sup>13</sup>After Amasa's body was taken off the road, all the men followed Joab to chase Sheba son of Bicri.

<sup>14</sup>Sheba went through all the tribes of Israel to Abel Beth Maacah. All the Berites also came together and followed him.<sup>15</sup>So Joab and his men came to Abel Beth Maacah and surrounded it. They piled dirt up against the city wall, and they began hacking at the walls to bring them down.

<sup>16</sup>But a wise woman shouted out from the city, "Listen! Listen! Tell Joab to come here. I want to talk to him!"

<sup>17</sup>So Joab came near her. She asked him, "Are you Joab?"

He answered, “Yes, I am.”

Then she said, “Listen to what I say.”

Joab said, “I’m listening.”

<sup>18</sup>Then the woman said, “In the past people would say, ‘Ask for advice at Abel,’ and the problem would be solved. <sup>19</sup>I am one of the peaceful, loyal people of Israel. You are trying to destroy an important city of Israel. Why must you destroy what belongs to the Lord?”

<sup>20</sup>Joab answered, “I would prefer not to destroy or ruin anything! <sup>21</sup>That is not what I want. But there is a man here from the mountains of Ephraim, who is named Sheba son of Bicri. He has turned against King David. If you bring him to me, I will leave the city alone.”

The woman said to Joab, “His head will be thrown over the wall to you.”

<sup>22</sup>Then the woman spoke very wisely to all the people of the city. They cut off the head of Sheba son of Bicri and threw it over the wall to Joab. So he blew the trumpet, and the army left the city. Every man returned home, and Joab went back to the king in Jerusalem.

<sup>23</sup>Joab was commander of all the army of Israel. Benaiah son of Jehoiada led the Kerethites and Pelethites. <sup>24</sup>Adoniram was in charge of the men who were forced to do hard work. Jehoshaphat son of Ahilud was the recorder. <sup>25</sup>Sheba was the royal secretary. Zadok and Abiathar were the priests, <sup>26</sup>and Ira the Jairite was David’s priest.

Life Lessons

2 Samuel 21:1–23:7

Situation

The last four chapters of this book are an appendix. They record many events that occurred earlier in David's reign.

Observation

David remembered the pledge he had made to Jonathan that he would preserve his family forever. David's grace is seen in the way he continued that pledge by showing grace to Mephibosheth.

Inspiration

What is the grace of God? The grace of God says you serve God because you're saved, not in order to be saved. You love people because you're saved, and not in order to be saved. You're not trying to keep a legalistic system, you're responding to a system of love and peace.

What is grace? It's what someone gives us out of the goodness of their heart, not out of the perfection of ours. The story of grace is the good news that says that when we come, he gives. That's what grace is.

Grace is a pleasant surprise. Grace is a kind gesture. Grace is something you did not expect. It is something you certainly could never earn. But grace is something you'd never turn down.

You know what happens when someone sees the grace of God? When someone really tastes the forgiving and liberating grace of God? Someone who tastes God's grace is the hardest worker, the most morally pure individual, and the person most willing to forgive.

Always remember that Jesus says, "My grace is deeper than your sins." (From The Inspirational Bible, "Grace")

Application

David remembered his promise for the rest of his life. Is there someone in your circle of friends and family who needs some extra kindness right now? Make a list this week of a few people to whom you could extend God's grace. Then think of creative ways to show it!

The Gibeonites Punish Saul's Family

During the time David was king, there was a shortage of food that lasted for three years. So David prayed to the Lord.

The Lord answered, “Saul and his family of murderers are the reason for this shortage, because he killed the Gibeonites.”<sup>2</sup>(Now the Gibeonites were not Israelites; they were a group of Amorites who were left alive. The Israelites had promised not to hurt the Gibeonites, but Saul had tried to kill them, because he was eager to help the people of Israel and Judah.)

King David called the Gibeonites together and spoke to them.<sup>3</sup>He asked, “What can I do for you? How can I make up for the harm done so you can bless the Lord’s people?”

<sup>4</sup>The Gibeonites said to David, “We cannot demand silver or gold from Saul or his family. And we don’t have the right to kill anyone in Israel.”

Then David asked, “What do you want me to do for you?”

<sup>5</sup>The Gibeonites said, “Saul made plans against us and tried to destroy all our people who are left in the land of Israel. <sup>6</sup>So bring seven of his sons to us. Then we will kill them and hang them on stakes in the presence of the Lord at Gibeah, the hometown of Saul, the Lord’s chosen king.”

The king said, “I will give them to you.”<sup>7</sup> But the king protected Mephibosheth, the son of Jonathan, the son of Saul, because of the promise he had made to Jonathan in the Lord’s name.<sup>8</sup> The king did take Armoni and Mephibosheth, sons of Rizpah and Saul. (Rizpah was the daughter of Aiah.) And the king took the five sons of Saul’s daughter Merab. (Adriel son of Barzillai the Meholathite was the father of Merab’s five sons.)<sup>9</sup> David gave these seven sons to the Gibeonites. Then the Gibeonites killed them and hung them on stakes on a hill in the presence of the Lord. All seven sons died together. They were put to death during the first days of the harvest season at the beginning of barley harvest.

<sup>10</sup>Aiah’s daughter Rizpah took the rough cloth that was worn to show sadness and put it on a rock for herself. She stayed there from the beginning of the harvest until the rain fell on her sons’ bodies. During the day she did not let the birds of the sky touch her sons’ bodies, and during the night she did not let the wild animals touch them.

<sup>11</sup>People told David what Aiah’s daughter Rizpah, Saul’s slave woman, was doing.<sup>12</sup> Then David took the bones of Saul and Jonathan from the men of Jabesh Gilead. (The Philistines had hung the bodies of Saul and Jonathan in the public square of Beth Shan after they had killed Saul at Gilboa. Later the men of Jabesh Gilead had secretly taken them from there.)<sup>13</sup> David brought the bones of Saul and his son Jonathan from Gilead. Then the people gathered the bodies of Saul’s seven sons who were hanged on stakes.<sup>14</sup> The people buried the bones of Saul and his son Jonathan at Zela in Benjamin in the tomb of Saul’s father Kish. The people did everything the king commanded.

Then God answered the prayers for the land.

Wars with the Philistines

<sup>15</sup>Again there was war between the Philistines and Israel. David and his men went out to fight the Philistines, but David became tired. <sup>16</sup>Ishbi-Benob, one of the sons of Rapha, had a bronze spearhead weighing about seven and one-half pounds and a new sword. He planned to kill David, <sup>17</sup>but Abishai son of Zeruiah killed the Philistine and saved David's life.

Then David's men made a promise to him, saying, "Never again will you go out with us to battle. If you were killed, Israel would lose its greatest leader."

<sup>18</sup>Later, at Gob, there was another battle with the Philistines. Sibbecai the Hushathite killed Saph, another one of the sons of Rapha.

<sup>19</sup>Later, there was another battle at Gob with the Philistines. Elhanan son of Jaare-Oregim from Bethlehem killed Goliath from Gath. His spear was as large as a weaver's rod.

<sup>20</sup>At Gath another battle took place. A huge man was there; he had six fingers on each hand and six toes on each foot—twenty-four fingers and toes in all. This man also was one of the sons of Rapha. <sup>21</sup>When he challenged Israel, Jonathan son of Shimeah, David's brother, killed him.

<sup>22</sup>These four sons of Rapha from Gath were killed by David and his men.

David's Song of Praise

David sang this song to the Lord when the Lord saved him from Saul and all his other enemies. <sup>2</sup>He said:

“The Lord is my rock, my protection, my Savior.

<sup>3</sup>My God is my rock.

I can run to him for safety.

He is my shield and my saving strength, my defender and my place of safety.

The Lord saves me from those who want to harm me.

<sup>4</sup>I will call to the Lord, who is worthy of praise, and I will be saved from my enemies.

<sup>5</sup>“The waves of death came around me;
the deadly rivers overwhelmed me.

<sup>6</sup>The ropes of death wrapped around me.
The traps of death were before me.

<sup>7</sup>In my trouble I called to the Lord;
I cried out to my God.

From his temple he heard my voice;
my call for help reached his ears.

<sup>8</sup>“The earth trembled and shook.

The foundations of heaven began to shake.
They trembled because the Lord was angry.

<sup>9</sup>Smoke came out of his nose, and burning fire came out of his mouth.
Burning coals went before him.

<sup>10</sup>He tore open the sky and came down with dark clouds under his feet.

<sup>11</sup>He rode a creature with wings and flew.
He raced on the wings of the wind.

<sup>12</sup>He made darkness his shelter, surrounded by fog and clouds.

<sup>13</sup>Out of the brightness of his presence came flashes of lightning.

Let a lamb take the wrong turn and miss the pasture and our Shepherd, unwilling to let him wander too far, comes to guide him home. —Max Lucado (The Great House of God)

<sup>14</sup>The Lord thundered from heaven;
the Most High raised his voice.

<sup>15</sup>He shot his arrows and scattered his enemies.
His bolts of lightning confused them with fear.

The wind blew from his nose.

Then the valleys of the sea appeared, and the foundations of the earth were seen.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The Shepherd Who Knows Our Name

When I see a flock of sheep I see exactly that, a flock. A rabble of wool. A herd of hooves. I don't see a sheep. I see sheep. All alike. None different. That's what I see.

But not so with the shepherd. To him every sheep is different. Every face is special. Every face has a story. And every sheep has a name. The one with the sad eyes, that's Droopy. And the fellow with one ear up and the other down, I call him Oscar. And the small one with the black patch on his leg, he's an orphan with no brothers. I call him Joseph.

The shepherd knows his sheep. He calls them by name.

When we see a crowd, we see exactly that, a crowd. Filling a stadium or flooding a mall. When we see a crowd, we see people, not persons, but people. A herd of humans. A flock of faces. That's what we see.

But not so with the Shepherd. To him every face is different. Every face is a story. Every face is a child. Every child has a name. The one with the sad eyes, that's Sally. The old fellow with one eyebrow up and the other down, Harry's his name. And the young one with the limp? He's an orphan with no brothers. I call him Joey.

The shepherd knows his sheep. He knows each one by name. The Shepherd knows you. He knows your name. And he will never forget it. I have written your name on my hand (Isaiah 49:16).

Quite a thought, isn't it? Your name on God's hand. Your name on God's lips. Maybe you've seen your name in some special places. On an award or diploma or walnut door. Or maybe you've heard your name from some important people—a coach, a celebrity, a teacher. But to think that your name is on God's hand, on God's lips ... my, could it be?

David's Last Words

These are the last words of David.

This is the message of David son of Jesse.

The man made great by the Most High God speaks.
He is the appointed king of the God of Jacob;
he is the sweet singer of Israel:

<sup>2</sup>“The Lord’s Spirit spoke through me, and his word was on my tongue.

<sup>3</sup>The God of Israel spoke;
the Rock of Israel said to me:

‘Whoever rules fairly over people, who rules with respect for God,

<sup>4</sup>is like the morning light at dawn, like a morning without clouds.

He is like sunshine after a rain that makes the grass sprout from the ground.’

<sup>5</sup>“This is how God has cared for my family.

God made a lasting agreement with me, right and sure in every way.

He will accomplish my salvation and satisfy all my desires.

<sup>6</sup>“But all evil people will be thrown away like thorns that cannot be held in a hand.

<sup>7</sup>No one can touch them except with a tool of iron or wood.

They will be thrown in the fire and burned where they lie.”

Situation

David’s reign brought great peace, prosperity, and military success. David and the people began to be proud, and God punished them for this sin.

Observation

We must find our strength and security only in God and never in worldly possessions.

Inspiration

Do you think anything concerning you right now is too small?

Your house or apartment? Your personal reputation? Your influence? Your job? Your family? (You want to add a spouse or children)? Your circle of friends? Your salary? Your life?

Until I paid attention to Psalm 131, I chafed. Then I discovered that God’s leash wasn’t too tight—my heart was too proud! I thought I “deserved” more; my self-image had greater expectations, and that attitude was the very grease on which I slid into self-pity, discontent, ungratefulness, misery.

Then I fixed my eyes on Jesus and in my own eyes I became smaller and smaller. What was my stature, my purity, my power, my excellence compared with His?

I felt foolish, embarrassed, very small.

And now what did I deserve? Nothing—nothing at all. I was an “unworthy servant” (Luke 17:10).

Now I looked at all that the Lord God in His incredible grace had lavished on me—with such love and joy—and it was like Christmas in July! (From My Sacrifice, His Fire by Anne Ortlund)

David's Army

Josheb-Basshebeth, the Tahkemonite, was head of the Three. He killed eight hundred men at one time.

<sup>9</sup>Next was Eleazar son of Dodai the Ahohite. Eleazar was one of the three soldiers who were with David when they challenged the Philistines. The Philistines were gathered for battle, and the Israelites drew back. <sup>10</sup>But Eleazar stayed where he was and fought the Philistines until he was so tired his hand stuck to his sword. The Lord gave a great victory for the Israelites that day. The troops came back after Eleazar had won the battle, but only to take weapons and armor from the enemy.

<sup>11</sup>Next there was Shammah son of Agee the Hararite. The Philistines came together to fight in a vegetable field. Israel's troops ran away from the Philistines, <sup>12</sup>but Shammah stood in the middle of the field and fought for it and killed the Philistines. And the Lord gave a great victory.

<sup>13</sup>Once, three of the Thirty, David's chief soldiers, came down to him at the cave of Adullam during harvest. The Philistine army had camped in the Valley of Rephaim. <sup>14</sup>At that time David was in the stronghold, and some of the Philistines were in Bethlehem.

<sup>15</sup>David had a strong desire for some water. He said, "Oh, I wish someone would get me water from the well near the city gate of Bethlehem!”<sup>16</sup> So the three warriors broke through the Philistine army and took water from the well near the city gate of Bethlehem. Then they brought it to David, but he refused to drink it. He poured it out before the Lord,<sup>17</sup> saying, “May the Lord keep me from drinking this water! It would be like drinking the blood of the men who risked their lives!” So David refused to drink it. These were the brave things that the three warriors did.

<sup>18</sup>Abishai, brother of Joab son of Zeruiah, was captain of the Three. Abishai fought three hundred soldiers with his spear and killed them. He became as famous as the Three<sup>19</sup> and was more honored than the Three. He became their commander even though he was not one of them.

<sup>20</sup>Benaiah son of Jehoiada was a brave fighter from Kabzeel who did mighty things. He killed two of the best warriors from Moab. He also went down into a pit and killed a lion on a snowy day.<sup>21</sup> Benaiah killed a large Egyptian who had a spear in his hand. Benaiah had a club, but he grabbed the spear from the Egyptian’s hand and killed him with his own spear.<sup>22</sup> These were the things Benaiah son of Jehoiada did. He was as famous as the Three.<sup>23</sup> He received more honor than the Thirty, but he did not become a member of the Three. David made him leader of his bodyguards.

The Thirty Chief Soldiers

<sup>24</sup>The following men were among the Thirty:

- Asahel brother of Joab;
- Elhanan son of Dodo from Bethlehem;
- <sup>25</sup>Shammah the Harodite;
- Elikah the Harodite;
- <sup>26</sup>Helez the Paltite;
- Ira son of Ikkesh from Tekoa;
- <sup>27</sup>Abiezer the Anathothite;
- Mebunnai the Hushathite;
- <sup>28</sup>Zalmon the Ahohite;
- Maharai the Netophathite;
- <sup>29</sup>Heled son of Baanah the Netophathite;
- Ithai son of Ribai from Gibeah in Benjamin;
- <sup>30</sup>Benaiah the Pirathonite;
- Hiddai from the ravines of Gaash;
- <sup>31</sup>Abi-Albon the Arbathite;
- Azmaveth the Barhumite;
- <sup>32</sup>Eliabha the Shaalbonite;
- the sons of Jashen;
- Jonathan <sup>33</sup>son of Shammah the Hararite;
- Ahiam son of Sharar the Hararite;
- <sup>34</sup>Eliphelet son of Ahasbai the Maacathite;
- Eliam son of Ahithophel the Gilonite;
- <sup>35</sup>Hezro the Carmelite;
- Paarai the Arbite;
- <sup>36</sup>Igal son of Nathan of Zobah;
- the son of Hagri;
- <sup>37</sup>Zelek the Ammonite;
- Naharai the Beerothite, who carried the armor of Joab son of Zeruiah;
- <sup>38</sup>Ira the Ithrite;

- Gareb the Ithrite;
- <sup>39</sup>and Uriah the Hittite.

There were thirty-seven in all.

David Counts His Army

The Lord was angry with Israel again, and he caused David to turn against the Israelites. He said, “Go, count the people of Israel and Judah.”

<sup>2</sup>So King David said to Joab, the commander of the army, “Go through all the tribes of Israel, from Dan to Beersheba, and count the people. Then I will know how many there are.”

<sup>3</sup>But Joab said to the king, “May the Lord your God give you a hundred times more people, and may my master the king live to see this happen. Why do you want to do this?”

<sup>5</sup>After crossing the Jordan River, they camped near Aroer on the south side of the city in the ravine. They went through Gad and on to Jazer. <sup>6</sup>Then they went to Gilead and the land of Tahtim Hodshi and to Dan Jaan and around to Sidon. <sup>7</sup>They went to the strong, walled city of Tyre and to all the cities of the Hivites and Canaanites. Finally, they went to southern Judah, to Beersheba. <sup>8</sup>After nine months and twenty days, they had gone through all the land. Then they came back to Jerusalem.

<sup>9</sup>Joab gave the list of the people to the king. There were eight hundred thousand men in Israel who could use the sword and five hundred thousand men in Judah.

<sup>10</sup>David felt ashamed after he had counted the people. He said to the Lord, “I have sinned greatly by what I have done. Lord, I beg you to forgive me, your servant, because I have been very foolish.”

<sup>11</sup>When David got up in the morning, the Lord spoke his word to Gad, who was a prophet and David’s seer. <sup>12</sup>The Lord told Gad, “Go and tell David, ‘This is what the Lord says: I offer you three choices. Choose one of them and I will do it to you.’”

<sup>13</sup>So Gad went to David and said to him, “Should three years of hunger come to you and your land? Or should your enemies chase you for three months? Or should there be three days of disease in your land? Think about it. Then decide which of these things I should tell the Lord who sent me.”

<sup>14</sup>David said to Gad, “I am in great trouble. Let the Lord punish us, because the Lord is very merciful. Don’t let my punishment come from human beings!”

<sup>15</sup>So the Lord sent a terrible disease on Israel. It began in the morning and continued until the chosen time to stop. From Dan to Beersheba seventy thousand people died. <sup>16</sup>When the angel raised his arm toward Jerusalem to destroy it, the Lord felt very sorry about the terrible things that had happened. He said to the angel who was destroying the people, “That is enough! Put down your arm!” The angel of the Lord was then by the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.

<sup>17</sup>When David saw the angel that killed the people, he said to the Lord, “I am the one who sinned and did wrong. These people only followed me like sheep. They did nothing wrong. Please punish me and my family.”

<sup>18</sup>That day Gad came to David and said, “Go and build an altar to the Lord on the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.” <sup>19</sup>So David did what Gad told him to do, just as the Lord commanded.

<sup>20</sup>Araunah looked and saw the king and his servants coming to him. So he went out and bowed facedown on the ground before the king. <sup>21</sup>He said, “Why has my master the king come to me?”

David answered, “To buy the threshing floor from you so I can build an altar to the Lord. Then the terrible disease will stop.”

<sup>22</sup>Araunah said to David, “My master and king, you may take anything you want for a sacrifice. Here are some oxen for the whole burnt offering and the threshing boards and the yokes for the wood. <sup>23</sup>My king, I give everything to you.” Araunah also said to the king, “May the Lord your God be pleased with you.”

<sup>24</sup>But the king answered Araunah, “No, I will pay you for the land. I won’t offer to the Lord my God burnt offerings that cost me nothing.”

So David bought the threshing floor and the oxen for one and one-fourth pounds of silver. <sup>25</sup>He built an altar to the Lord there and offered whole burnt offerings and fellowship offerings. Then the Lord answered his prayer for the country, and the disease in Israel stopped.

Dan to Beersheba Dan was the city farthest north in Israel, and Beersheba was the city farthest south. So this means all the people of Israel.

Baal Perazim This name means “the Lord breaks through.”

Baalath in Judah Another name for Kiriath Jearim.

Kerethites and Pelethites These were probably special units of the army that were responsible for the king’s safety, a kind of palace guard.

roof In Bible times houses were built with flat roofs. The roof was used for drying things such as flax and fruit. And it was used as an extra room, as a place for worship, and as a cool place to sleep in the summer.

Jerub-Besheth Another name for Gideon.

Jedidiah This name means “loved by the Lord.”

Talmai He was Absalom’s grandfather.

city gate People came here to conduct business. Public meetings and court cases were also held here.

Kerethites and Pelethites These were probably special units of the army that were responsible for the king’s safety, a kind of palace guard.

The Book of 1 Kings

Introduction

The book starts with Solomon and ends with Elijah. The difference between the two gives you an idea as to what lies between.

Solomon might never have been born had it not been for the palace scandal between David and Bathsheba. Not the best of beginnings. He picked up some of his father's traits, both good and bad. Like his dad, he got off to a good start. But like his dad, he had a weakness for women that undid him.

You have to wonder what it was like growing up in a house where your father had several wives and your siblings wore swords to the dinner table. Solomon did well at first, praying for wisdom and building a temple that would have bankrupted most nations.

He took seven years building it. But then he spent thirteen years building a palace for himself. Somewhere around mid-life he got off track. His taste for wives (he was known to have accumulated some seven hundred or so) led him to worship whom they worshiped. This, in turn, led him away from God. His nation followed suit, and even the preaching of Elijah couldn't bring them back.

Not that Elijah didn't try. Toward the end of this book you'll read of the contest between Elijah and the prophets of Baal. In a classic my-God-is-greater-than-yours encounter, Jehovah won hands down. God was exalted. But Queen Jezebel, a leading Baal-worshiper, was infuriated.

She ordered Elijah's death, so Elijah ran. He ran until he was so tired and discouraged that he sat down under a bush and said, "Let me die" (19:4).

What does God do with tired servants who want to quit? In a tender moment the God who'd brought fire on the mountain sent food to the prophet and whispered his affection in a "quiet, gentle sound" (19:12).

What a Father.

What a book! In between Solomon and Elijah, you'll find it all. Rebellion, corruption, courage, faith. You'll see that their world is much like ours. Things haven't changed much.

And God? God hasn't changed at all. The quiet, gentle sound that encouraged Elijah? Listen as you read. It will encourage you.

About This Book

Author:

Unknown, though some think Jeremiah the prophet

Date Written:

After the death of Solomon, 900–500 B.C.

Key Themes:

- Solomon's priority on wisdom gave him everything he needed.
- Even the greatest and richest King Solomon was not happy once he lost sight of his relationship with God.
- After the kingdom divided, prophets such as Elijah still spoke out for God.

Key Verse:

“But I will not take all the kingdom away from Solomon. I will let him rule all his life because of my servant David, whom I chose, who obeyed all my commands and laws” (1 Kings 11:34).

Contents:

1. The Rise of Solomon’s Kingdom 1:1–10:29
2. Solomon’s Decline 11:1–43
3. The Divided Kingdom 12:1–22:53

Life Lessons

1 Kings 1:1–53

Situation

When David's life and reign drew to a close, his sons competed for his throne. David appointed Solomon as his heir.

Observation

Although David served well as a king, he often failed as a parent. We can be successful in our public life and a failure in private. Our families should be our first ministry priority.

Inspiration

When Daddy came to tuck me in, he would sit on the bed, and I would often kneel, reaching up to put my hands on his knees. With his huge hands on mine he prayed for me. . . . The biggest decisions of his life—his salvation, his marriage, his life's work—were made on the basis of eternal, not temporal value. . . .

As Christ's submission to His Father meant also His submission to the needs of His disciples, so a father's submission to a Heavenly Father means submission to the needs of his children, in other words, sacrifice and humble service, always the conditions of Godlike authority. "I am among you as one who serves," Jesus said (Luke 22:27, RSV). . . .

It is sad to read that the average father nowadays spends three minutes per week with each child. Home, frankly, is just "not his scene." He'd rather be elsewhere. What does he do with the rest of his time?

Is it a relentless frantic scramble to earn money five or six days a week, with a frantic scramble on weekends to “relax” and enjoy himself, often in expensive and sometimes dangerous ways? Can this really be what God wants for Christian families? If there were the willingness to be content with less money, fewer activities which eat into the budget and take the family away from home, fewer possessions; if there were the willingness to “be content with such things as you have,” would we not sooner find the truth of God’s Word, “A man’s real life in no way depends upon the number of his possessions” (Luke 12:15)? The willingness to be and to have just what God wants us to be and to have, nothing more, nothing less, and nothing else, would set our hearts at rest, and we would discover that the simpler the life the greater the peace. (From The Shaping of a Christian Family by Elisabeth Elliot)

Application

If you are a parent, take time with each child today: listen, talk, and care. As a son or daughter, plan to spend time with your parents. Be concerned for their needs. Be eager to pray for family needs.

Adonijah Tries to Become King

At this time King David was very old, and although his servants covered him with blankets, he could not keep warm. <sup>2</sup>They said to him, “We will look for a young woman to care for you. She will lie close to you and keep you warm.” <sup>3</sup>After searching everywhere in Israel for a beautiful young woman, they found a girl named Abishag from Shunam and brought her to the king. <sup>4</sup>The girl was very beautiful, and she cared for the king and served him. But the king did not have sexual relations with her.

<sup>5</sup>Adonijah was the son of King David and Haggith, and he was very proud. “I will be the king,” he said. So he got chariots and horses for himself and fifty men for his personal bodyguard. <sup>6</sup>Now David had never interfered with Adonijah by questioning what he did. Born next after Absalom, Adonijah was a very handsome man.

<sup>7</sup>Adonijah spoke with Joab son of Zeruiah and Abiathar the priest, and they agreed to help him. <sup>8</sup>But Zadok the priest, Benaiah son of Jehoiada, Nathan the prophet, Shimei, Rei, and King David’s special guard did not join Adonijah.

<sup>9</sup>Then Adonijah killed some sheep, cows, and fat calves for sacrifices at the Stone of Zoheleth near the spring of Rogel. He invited all his brothers, the other sons of King David, to come, as well as all the men of Judah. <sup>10</sup>But Adonijah did not invite Nathan the prophet, Benaiah, his father’s special guard, or his brother Solomon.

<sup>11</sup>When Nathan heard about this, he went to Bathsheba, Solomon's mother. "Have you heard that Adonijah, Haggith's son, has made himself king?" Nathan asked. "Our real king, David, does not know it. <sup>12</sup>I strongly advise you to save yourself and your sons. <sup>13</sup>Go to King David and tell him, 'My master and king, you promised that my son Solomon would be king and would rule on your throne after you. Why then has Adonijah become king?' <sup>14</sup>While you are still talking to the king, I will come in and tell him that what you have said about Adonijah is true."

<sup>15</sup>So Bathsheba went in to see the aged king in his bedroom, where Abishag, the girl from Shunam, was caring for him. <sup>16</sup>Bathsheba bowed and knelt before the king. He asked, "What do you want?"

<sup>17</sup>She answered, "My master, you made a promise to me in the name of the Lord your God. You said, 'Your son Solomon will become king after me, and he will rule on my throne.' <sup>18</sup>But now, unknown to you, Adonijah has become king. <sup>19</sup>He has killed many cows, fat calves, and sheep for sacrifices. And he has invited all your sons, as well as Abiathar the priest and Joab the commander of the army, but he did not invite Solomon, who serves you. <sup>20</sup>My master and king, all the Israelites are watching you, waiting for you to decide who will be king after you. <sup>21</sup>As soon as you die, Solomon and I will be treated as criminals."

<sup>24</sup>Nathan said, “My master and king, have you said that Adonijah will be the king after you and that he will rule on your throne? <sup>25</sup>Today he has sacrificed many cows, fat calves, and sheep, and he has invited all your other sons, the commanders of the army, and Abiathar the priest. Right now they are eating and drinking with him. They are saying, ‘Long live King Adonijah!’ <sup>26</sup>But he did not invite me, your own servant, or Zadok the priest, or Benaiah son of Jehoiada, or your son Solomon. <sup>27</sup>Did you do this? Since we are your servants, why didn’t you tell us who should be king after you?”

David Makes Solomon King

<sup>28</sup>Then the king said, “Tell Bathsheba to come in!” So she came in and stood before the king.

<sup>29</sup>Then the king made this promise, “The Lord has saved me from all trouble. As surely as he lives, <sup>30</sup>I will do today what I have promised you in the name of the Lord, the God of Israel. I promised that your son Solomon would be king after me and rule on my throne in my place.”

<sup>31</sup>Then Bathsheba bowed facedown on the ground and knelt before the king and said, “Long live my master King David!”

<sup>32</sup>Then King David said, “Tell Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah son of Jehoiada to come in.” When they came before the king, <sup>33</sup>he said to them, “Take my servants with you and put my son Solomon on my own mule. Take him down to the spring called Gihon. <sup>34</sup>There Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet should pour olive oil on him and make him king over Israel. Blow the trumpet and shout, ‘Long live King Solomon!’<sup>35</sup>Then come back up here with him. He will sit on my throne and rule in my place, because he is the one I have chosen to be the ruler over Israel and Judah.”

<sup>36</sup>Benaiah son of Jehoiada answered the king, “Amen! This is what the Lord, the God of my master, has declared!<sup>37</sup>The Lord has always helped you, our king. May he also help Solomon and make King Solomon’s throne an even greater throne than yours.”

<sup>38</sup>So Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah son of Jehoiada left with the Kerethites and Pelethites. They put Solomon on King David’s mule and took him to the spring called Gihon.<sup>39</sup>Zadok the priest took the container of olive oil from the Holy Tent and poured the oil on Solomon’s head to show he was the king. Then they blew the trumpet, and all the people shouted, “Long live King Solomon!”<sup>40</sup>All the people followed Solomon into the city. Playing flutes and shouting for joy, they made so much noise the ground shook.

<sup>41</sup>At this time Adonijah and all the guests with him were finishing their meal. When he heard the sound from the trumpet, Joab asked, “What does all that noise from the city mean?”

<sup>42</sup>While Joab was speaking, Jonathan son of Abiathar the priest arrived. Adonijah said, “Come in! You are an important man, so you must be bringing good news.”

<sup>43</sup>But Jonathan answered, “No! Our master King David has made Solomon the new king.<sup>44</sup>King David sent Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah son of Jehoiada, and all the king’s bodyguards with him, and they have put Solomon on the king’s own mule.<sup>45</sup>Then Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet poured olive oil on Solomon at Gihon to make him king. After that they went into the city, shouting with joy. Now the whole city is excited, and that is the noise you hear.<sup>46</sup> Solomon has now become the king.<sup>47</sup> All the king's officers have come to tell King David that he has done a good thing. They are saying, 'May your God make Solomon even more famous than you and an even greater king than you.'" Jonathan continued, "And King David bowed down on his bed to worship God,<sup>48</sup> saying, 'Bless the Lord, the God of Israel. Today he has made one of my sons the king and allowed me to see it.'"

<sup>49</sup>Then all of Adonijah's guests were afraid, and they left quickly and scattered.<sup>50</sup> Adonijah was also afraid of Solomon, so he went and took hold of the corners of the altar.<sup>51</sup> Then someone told Solomon, "Adonijah is afraid of you, so he is at the altar, holding on to its corners. He says, 'Tell King Solomon to promise me today that he will not kill me.'"

<sup>52</sup>So Solomon answered, "Adonijah must show that he is a man of honor. If he does that, I promise he will not lose even a single hair from his head. But if he does anything wrong, he will die."<sup>53</sup> Then King Solomon sent some men to get Adonijah. When he was brought from the altar, he came before King Solomon and bowed down. Solomon told him, "Go home."

Life Lessons

1 Kings 2:1-46

Situation

David gave final instructions to Solomon that would ensure success. At David's death, Solomon consolidated his power and administration.

Observation

At his death, the great King David exhorted his son: obey God, follow him, and be kind to others.

Inspiration

Successful people are at the right place at the right time to a great extent because they have learned how to take certain action steps in proper sequence. They have learned that scriptural truth, "To everything there is a season, a time for every purpose under heaven." They know that everything they desire has an appropriate place and time for accomplishment, and toward that end, they set their priorities in certain orders, prepare themselves in certain ways, and refuse to give in to discouragement or failures along the way.

What about those who are unsuccessful?

Some fail because they lack dreams or they don't believe in the possibility of their dreams becoming reality. Some fail to reach their full potential of a rewarding harvest in life because they have not turned their dreams into specific goals and plans of action for reaching those goals. Many others fail, however, because they are out of sync with time and place:

—They planted or fertilized their goals in the wrong season.

—They planted before they fully planned.

—They attempted to harvest a goal before it was fully developed.

Such failures arise not from a lack of determination or willingness to keep trying but from efforts that are out of proper sequence. The result is that those who fail because of their improper alignment of time and place soon become frustrated, begin to believe that it's impossible for them to achieve anything significant, or allow their disappointments to develop into a failure-anticipating mindset.

... The opportunity for success is yours. Believe it. Regardless of what you experienced in your past, the future can hold success for you.

(From Timing Is Everything by Denis Waitley)

Application

If you want success in life, then all your activities must reflect God's will. Today, make God the center of your life. Ask God to show you what successful living means for you. Then, rest easy in God's peace and his plans.

Exploration

The Death of David

Since it was almost time for David to die, he gave his son Solomon his last commands. <sup>2</sup>David said, “My time to die is near. Be a good and strong leader. <sup>3</sup>Obey the Lord your God. Follow him by obeying his demands, his commands, his laws, and his rules that are written in the teachings of Moses. If you do these things, you will be successful in all you do and wherever you go. <sup>4</sup>And if you obey the Lord, he will keep the promise he made to me. He said: ‘If your descendants live as I tell them and have complete faith in me, a man from your family will always be king over the people of Israel.’

<sup>5</sup>“Also, you remember what Joab son of Zeruiah did to me. He killed the two commanders of Israel’s armies: Abner son of Ner and Amasa son of Jether. He did this as if he and they were at war, although it was a time of peace. He put their blood on the belt around his waist and on his sandals on his feet. <sup>6</sup>Punish him in the way you think is wisest, but do not let him die peacefully of old age.

<sup>7</sup>“Be kind to the children of Barzillai of Gilead, and allow them to eat at your table. They welcomed me when I ran away from your brother Absalom.

<sup>8</sup>“And remember, Shimei son of Gera, the Benjaminite, is here with you. He cursed me the day I went to Mahanaim. But when he came down to meet me at the Jordan River, I promised him before the Lord, ‘Shimei, I will not kill you.’ <sup>9</sup>But you should not leave him unpunished. You are a wise man, and you will know what to do to him, but you must be sure he is killed.”

<sup>10</sup>Then David died and was buried with his ancestors in Jerusalem. <sup>11</sup>He had ruled over Israel forty years—seven years in Hebron and thirty-three years in Jerusalem.

Solomon Takes Control as King

<sup>12</sup>Solomon became king after David, his father, and he was in firm control of his kingdom.

<sup>13</sup>At this time Adonijah son of Haggith went to Bathsheba, Solomon’s mother. “Do you come in peace?” Bathsheba asked.

“Yes. This is a peaceful visit,” Adonijah answered. <sup>14</sup>“I have something to say to you.”

“You may speak,” she said.

<sup>15</sup>“You remember that at one time the kingdom was mine,” Adonijah said. “All the people of Israel recognized me as their king, but things have changed. Now my brother is the king, because the Lord chose him. <sup>16</sup>Now I have one thing to ask you; please do not refuse me.”

Bathsheba answered, “What do you want?”

<sup>17</sup>“I know King Solomon will do anything you ask him,” Adonijah continued. “Please ask him to give me Abishag the Shunammite to be my wife.”

<sup>18</sup>“Very well,” she answered. “I will speak to the king for you.”

<sup>19</sup>So Bathsheba went to King Solomon to speak to him for Adonijah. When Solomon saw her, he stood up to meet her, then bowed down, and sat on the throne. He told some servants to bring another throne for his mother. Then she sat

<sup>20</sup>Bathsheba said, “I have one small thing to ask you. Please do not refuse me.”

“Ask, mother,” the king answered. “I will not refuse you.”

<sup>21</sup>So she said, “Allow Abishag the Shunammite to marry your brother Adonijah.”

<sup>22</sup>King Solomon answered his mother, “Why do you ask me to give him Abishag? Why don’t you also ask for him to become the king since he is my older brother? Abiathar the priest and Joab son of Zeruiah would support him!”

<sup>23</sup>Then King Solomon swore by the name of the Lord, saying, “May God punish me terribly if this doesn’t cost Adonijah his life! <sup>24</sup>By the Lord who has given me the throne that belonged to my father David and who has kept his promise and given the kingdom to me and my people, Adonijah will die today!” <sup>25</sup>Then King Solomon gave orders to Benaiah son of Jehoiada, and he went and killed Adonijah.

<sup>26</sup>King Solomon said to Abiathar the priest, “I should kill you too, but I will allow you to go back to your fields in Anathoth. I will not kill you at this time, because you helped carry the Ark of the Lord God while marching with my father David. And I know you shared in all the hard times with him.”

<sup>27</sup>Then Solomon removed Abiathar from being the Lord’s priest. This happened as the Lord had said it would, when he was speaking in Shiloh about the priest Eli and his descendants.

<sup>28</sup>When Joab heard about what had happened, he was afraid. He had supported Adonijah but not Absalom. So Joab ran to the Tent of the Lord and took hold of the corners of the altar. <sup>29</sup>Someone told King Solomon that Joab had run to the Tent of the Lord and was beside the altar. Then Solomon ordered Benaiah to go and kill him.

<sup>30</sup>Benaiah went into the Tent of the Lord and said to Joab, “The king says, ‘Come out!’”

But Joab answered, “No, I will die here.”

So Benaiah went back to the king and told him what Joab had said. <sup>31</sup>Then the king ordered Benaiah, “Do as he says! Kill him there and bury him. Then my family and I will be free of the guilt of Joab, who has killed innocent people. <sup>32</sup>Without my father knowing it, he killed two men who were much better than he was—Abner son of Ner, the commander of Israel’s army, and Amasa son of Jether, the commander of Judah’s army. So the Lord will pay him back for those deaths. <sup>33</sup>Joab and his family will be forever guilty for their deaths, but there will be peace from the Lord for David, his descendants, his family, and his throne forever.”

<sup>34</sup>So Benaiah son of Jehoiada killed Joab, and he was buried near his home in the desert. <sup>35</sup>The king then made Benaiah son of Jehoiada commander of the army in Joab’s place. He also made Zadok the new high priest in Abiathar’s place.

<sup>36</sup>Next the king sent for Shimei. Solomon said to him, “Build a house for yourself in Jerusalem and live there. Don’t leave the city. <sup>37</sup>The very day you leave and cross the Kidron Valley, someone will kill you, and it will be your own fault.”

<sup>38</sup>So Shimei answered the king, “I agree with what you say. I will do what you say, my master and king.” So Shimei lived in Jerusalem for a long time.

<sup>39</sup>But three years later two of Shimei’s slaves ran away to Achish king of Gath, who was the son of Maacah. Shimei heard that his slaves were in Gath, <sup>40</sup>so he put his saddle on his donkey and went to Achish at Gath to find them. Then he brought them back from Gath.

<sup>41</sup>Someone told Solomon that Shimei had gone from Jerusalem to Gath and had returned. <sup>42</sup>So Solomon sent for Shimei and said, “I made you promise in the name of the Lord not to leave Jerusalem. I warned you if you went out anywhere you would die, and you agreed to what I said. <sup>43</sup>Why did you break your promise to the Lord and disobey my command?”

<sup>44</sup>The king also said, “You know the many wrong things you did to my father David, so now the Lord will punish you for those wrongs. <sup>45</sup>But the Lord will bless me and make the rule of David safe before the Lord forever.”

<sup>46</sup>Then the king ordered Benaiah to kill Shimei, and he did. Now Solomon was in full control of his kingdom.

Life Lessons

1 Kings 3:1–4:34

Situation

Solomon carefully lived by God's rules, and God gave him success. Solomon asked God for wisdom, and with it, God gave him economic prosperity and fame.

Observation

God expects all people to use their gifts to do his will. When they do, everyone else benefits.

Inspiration

The enemy emphasizes the past, with its mistakes and heartaches; the Comforter exalts the present help of our Lord (Psalm 46:1). The devil delights in taunting us with our weaknesses, and the Lord reminds us of the wealth of His riches in grace. Condemnation concerns itself with our failures; conviction shows us the faithfulness of God. The tempter teases us with immediate gain, at any cost; the Trustworthy One tells us of eternal gain, and reminds us of Passion and Patience in Bunyan's House of the Interpreter. The father of lies magnifies our problems, by showing their hopelessness, impossibility, and pain; the God of all grace reminds us of the promises, whereby we can hope against hope; for "suffering produces perseverance; perseverance, character; and character, hope; and hope does not disappoint us" (Romans 5:3–5). Thus we know that pain can mean gain.

The false angel of light would have us walk by sight and earthly wisdom (“the counsel of the ungodly,” Psalm 1:1); the Lord of life, who sees the end from the beginning, would have us walk by faith (2 Corinthians 5:7), and thereby please our heavenly Father (Hebrews 11:6). The enemy would have us see the hosts of evil against us rather than the hillsides covered with ministering spirits (2 Kings 6:15–17). He would keep us dwelling upon the injuries from others, until we become ineffective in service, rather than forgetting the things that are behind and pressing forward (Philippians 3:13, 14) in the spirit of Him who said, “Father, forgive them.” The Vanquished would have us feel the nails and the thorns, the Victor would have us see the triumph of Calvary’s tree.

The discipline of discernment requires that we follow the tenets of divine revelation, lest we fall before the wrath of the tempter. We are to meet his subtlety, selfishness and sophistry in the same way as did the Captain of our salvation, with the unequivocal statement, “It is written” (Matthew 4:4, 7, 10). We also are to live by the Word of God, are not to tempt the Lord our God, and are to worship Him only. We are to believe that as we commit our way unto the Lord and trust also in Him, He brings to pass His will (Psalm 37:5). We are to trust that He is able to fill us with the knowledge of His will (Colossians 1:9), and to protect us from ways of the destroyer. “When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him” (Isaiah 59:19). As we submit ourselves without reservation unto God, and resist the devil, the latter will flee from us (James 4:7).

By the Word, by the Spirit, by faith, by submission to the divine will, and by resistance to any appeal to self and sin we discern between the way of God and the path of the destroyer. (From The Disciplines of Life by V. Raymond Edman)

Solomon Asks for Wisdom

Solomon made an agreement with the king of Egypt by marrying his daughter and bringing her to Jerusalem. At this time Solomon was still building his palace and the Temple of the Lord, as well as a wall around Jerusalem.<sup>2</sup>The Temple for the worship of the Lord had not yet been finished, so people were still sacrificing at altars in many places of worship.<sup>3</sup>Solomon showed he loved the Lord by following the commands his father David had given him, except many other places of worship were still used to offer sacrifices and to burn incense.

<sup>4</sup>King Solomon went to Gibeon to offer a sacrifice, because it was the most important place of worship. He offered a thousand burnt offerings on that altar.<sup>5</sup>While he was at Gibeon, the Lord appeared to him in a dream during the night. God said, “Ask for whatever you want me to give you.”

<sup>6</sup>Solomon answered, “You were very kind to your servant, my father David. He obeyed you, and he was honest and lived right. You showed great kindness to him when you allowed his son to be king after him.<sup>7</sup>Lord my God, now you have made me, your servant, king in my father’s place. But I am like a little child; I don’t know how to do what must be done.<sup>8</sup>I, your servant, am here among your chosen people, and there are too many of them to count.<sup>9</sup>I ask that you give me an obedient heart so I can rule the people in the right way and will know the difference between right and wrong. Otherwise, it is impossible to rule this great people of yours.”

<sup>10</sup>The Lord was pleased that Solomon had asked this. <sup>11</sup>So God said to him, “You did not ask for a long life, or riches for yourself, or the death of your enemies. Since you asked for wisdom to make the right decisions, <sup>12</sup>I will do what you asked. I will give you wisdom and understanding that is greater than anyone has had in the past or will have in the future. <sup>13</sup>I will also give you what you did not ask for: riches and honor. During your life no other king will be as great as you. <sup>14</sup>If you follow me and obey my laws and commands, as your father David did, I will also give you a long life.”

<sup>15</sup>After Solomon woke up from the dream, he went to Jerusalem. He stood before the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord, where he made burnt offerings and fellowship offerings. After that, he gave a feast for all his leaders and officers.

Solomon Makes a Wise Decision

<sup>16</sup>One day two women who were prostitutes came to Solomon. As they stood before him, <sup>17</sup>one of the women said, “My master, this woman and I live in the same house. I gave birth to a baby while she was there with me. <sup>18</sup>Three days later this woman also gave birth to a baby. No one else was in the house with us; it was just the two of us. <sup>19</sup>One night this woman rolled over on her baby, and he died. <sup>20</sup>So she took my son from my bed during the night while I was asleep, and she carried him to her bed. Then she put the dead baby in my bed. <sup>21</sup>The next morning when I got up to feed my baby, I saw that he was dead! When I looked at him more closely, I realized he was not my son.”

<sup>22</sup>“No!” the other woman cried. “The living baby is my son, and the dead baby is yours!”

But the first woman said, “No! The dead baby is yours, and the living one is mine!” So the two women argued before the king.

<sup>23</sup>Then King Solomon said, “One of you says, ‘My son is alive and your son is dead.’ Then the other one says, ‘No! Your son is dead and my son is alive.’”

<sup>24</sup>The king sent his servants to get a sword. When they brought it to him, <sup>25</sup>he said, “Cut the living baby into two pieces, and give each woman half.”

<sup>26</sup>The real mother of the living child was full of love for her son. So she said to the king, “Please, my master, don’t kill him! Give the baby to her!”

But the other woman said, “Neither of us will have him. Cut him into two pieces!”

<sup>27</sup>Then King Solomon said, “Don’t kill him. Give the baby to the first woman, because she is the real mother.”

<sup>28</sup>When the people of Israel heard about King Solomon’s decision, they respected him very much. They saw he had wisdom from God to make the right decisions.

Solomon's Officers

King Solomon ruled over all Israel. <sup>2</sup>These are the names of his leading officers:

Azariah son of Zadok was the priest;

<sup>3</sup>Elihoreph and Ahijah, sons of Shisha, recorded what happened in the courts;

Jehoshaphat son of Ahilud recorded the history of the people;

<sup>4</sup>Benaiah son of Jehoiada was commander of the army;
Zadok and Abiathar were priests;

<sup>5</sup>Azariah son of Nathan was in charge of the district governors;

Zabud son of Nathan was a priest and adviser to the king;

<sup>6</sup>Ahishar was responsible for everything in the palace;

Adoniram son of Abda was in charge of the labor force.

<sup>7</sup>Solomon placed twelve governors over the districts of Israel, who gathered food from their districts for the king and his family. Each governor was responsible for bringing food to the king one month of each year. <sup>8</sup>These are the names of the twelve governors:

Ben-Hur was governor of the mountain country of Ephraim.

<sup>12</sup>Baana son of Ahilud was governor of Taanach, Megiddo, and all of Beth Shan next to Zarethan. This was below Jezreel from Beth Shan to Abel Meholah across from Jokmeam.

<sup>13</sup>Ben-Geber was governor of Ramoth in Gilead. (He was governor of all the towns of Jair in Gilead. Jair was the son of Manasseh. Ben-Geber was also over the district of Argob in Bashan, which had sixty large, walled cities with bronze bars on their gates.)

<sup>19</sup>Geber son of Uri was governor of Gilead. Gilead had been the country of Sihon king of the Amorites and Og king of Bashan. But Geber was the only governor over this district.

Solomon's Kingdom

<sup>20</sup>There were as many people in Judah and Israel as grains of sand on the seashore. The people ate, drank, and were happy.

<sup>21</sup>Solomon ruled over all the kingdoms from the Euphrates River to the land of the Philistines, as far as the border of Egypt. These countries brought Solomon the payments he demanded, and they were under his control all his life.

<sup>22</sup>Solomon needed much food each day to feed himself and all the people who ate at his table: one hundred ninety-five bushels of fine flour, three hundred ninety bushels of grain, <sup>23</sup>ten cows that were fed on good grain, twenty cows that were raised in the fields, one hundred sheep, three kinds of deer, and fattened birds.

<sup>24</sup>Solomon controlled all the countries west of the Euphrates River—the land from Tiphseh to Gaza. And he had peace on all sides of his kingdom. <sup>25</sup>During Solomon's life Judah and Israel, from Dan to Beersheba, also lived in peace; all of his people were able to sit under their own fig trees and grapevines.

<sup>26</sup>Solomon had four thousand stalls for his chariot horses and twelve thousand horses. <sup>27</sup>Each month one of the district governors gave King Solomon all the food he needed—enough for every person who ate at the king's table. The governors made sure he had everything he needed. <sup>28</sup>They also brought enough barley and straw for Solomon's chariot and work horses; each person brought this grain to the right place.

Solomon's Wisdom

<sup>29</sup>God gave Solomon great wisdom so he could understand many things. His wisdom was as hard to measure as the grains of sand on the seashore. <sup>30</sup>His wisdom was greater than any wisdom of the East, or any wisdom in Egypt. <sup>31</sup>He was wiser than anyone on earth. He was even wiser than Ethan the Ezrahite, as well as Heman, Calcol, and Darda—the three sons of Mahol. King Solomon became famous in all the surrounding countries. <sup>32</sup>During his life he spoke three thousand wise sayings and also wrote one thousand five songs. <sup>33</sup>He taught about many kinds of plants—everything from the great cedar trees of Lebanon to the weeds that grow out of the walls. He also taught about animals, birds, crawling things, and fish.

<sup>34</sup>People from all nations came to listen to King Solomon's wisdom. The kings of all nations sent them to him, because they had heard of Solomon's wisdom.

Life Lessons

1 Kings 5:1–6:38

Situation

Solomon began to build the great Temple in Jerusalem. The king of Tyre allowed the wood from his forest to be used for building materials. In order to keep family ties strong, Solomon rotated the workmen so that only one-third of the workforce lived away from home at a time.

Observation

During the Temple construction, God reaffirmed to Solomon the promise he had previously made to David. It was predicated on Solomon obeying the Lord's laws and commands.

Inspiration

It's a wonderful day indeed when we stop working for God and begin working with God. (Go ahead, read the sentence again.)

For years I viewed God as a compassionate CEO and my role as a loyal sales representative. He had his office, and I had my territory. I could contact him as much as I wanted. He was always a phone or fax away. He encouraged me, rallied behind me, and supported me, but he didn't go with me. At least I didn't think he did. Then I read 2 Corinthians 6:1: "We are workers together with God."

Workers with God? Colaborers? God and I work together? Imagine the paradigm shift this truth creates. Rather than report to God, we work with God.

Rather than check in with him and then leave, we check in with him and then follow. We are always in the presence of God. We never leave church. There is never a nonsacred moment! His presence never diminishes. Our awareness of his presence may falter, but the reality of his presence never changes. (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Preparing to Build the Temple

Hiram, the king of Tyre, had always been David's friend. When Hiram heard that Solomon had been made king in David's place, he sent his messengers to Solomon. <sup>2</sup>Solomon sent this message back to King Hiram: <sup>3</sup>"You remember my father David had to fight many wars with the countries around him, so he was never able to build a temple for worshipping the Lord his God. David was waiting until the Lord allowed him to defeat all his enemies. <sup>4</sup>But now the Lord my God has given me peace on all sides of my country. I have no enemies now, and no danger threatens my people.

<sup>5</sup>"The Lord promised my father David, 'I will make your son king after you, and he will build a temple for worshipping me.' Now, I plan to build that temple for worshipping the Lord my God. <sup>6</sup>So send your men to cut down cedar trees for me from Lebanon. My servants will work with yours, and I will pay them whatever wages you decide. We don't have anyone who can cut down trees as well as the people of Sidon."

<sup>7</sup>When Hiram heard what Solomon asked, he was very happy. He said, "Praise the Lord today! He has given David a wise son to rule over this great nation!" <sup>8</sup>Then Hiram sent back this message to Solomon: "I received the message you sent, and I will give you all the cedar and pine trees you want. <sup>9</sup>My servants will bring them down from Lebanon to the sea. There I will tie them together and float them along the shore to the place you choose. Then I will separate the logs there, and you can take them away. In return it is my wish that you give food to all those who live with me.”<sup>10</sup> So Hiram gave Solomon as much cedar and pine as he wanted.<sup>11</sup> And Solomon gave Hiram about one hundred twenty-five thousand bushels of wheat each year to feed the people who lived with him. Solomon also gave him about one hundred fifteen thousand gallons of pure olive oil every year.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord gave Solomon wisdom as he had promised. And there was peace between Hiram and Solomon; these two kings made a treaty between themselves.

<sup>13</sup>King Solomon forced thirty thousand men of Israel to help in this work.<sup>14</sup> He sent a group of ten thousand men each month to Lebanon. Each group worked in Lebanon one month, then went home for two months. A man named Adoniram was in charge.<sup>15</sup> Solomon forced eighty thousand men to work in the hill country, cutting stone, and he had seventy thousand men to carry the stones.<sup>16</sup> There were also thirty-three hundred men who directed the workers.<sup>17</sup> King Solomon commanded them to cut large blocks of fine stone to be used for the foundation of the Temple.<sup>18</sup> Solomon’s and Hiram’s builders and the men from Byblos carved the stones and prepared the stones and the logs for building the Temple.

Solomon Builds the Temple

Solomon began to build the Temple four hundred eighty years after the people of Israel had left Egypt. This was during the fourth year of King Solomon's rule over Israel. It was the second month, the month of Ziv.

<sup>2</sup>The Temple was ninety feet long, thirty feet wide, and forty-five feet high. <sup>3</sup>The porch in front of the main room of the Temple was fifteen feet deep and thirty feet wide. This room ran along the front of the Temple itself. Its width was equal to that of the Temple. <sup>4</sup>The Temple also had windows that opened and closed. <sup>5</sup>Solomon also built some side rooms against the walls of the main room and the inner room of the Temple. He built rooms all around. <sup>6</sup>The rooms on the bottom floor were seven and one-half feet wide. Those on the middle floor were nine feet wide, and the rooms above them were ten and one-half feet wide. The Temple wall that formed the side of each room was thinner than the wall in the room below. These rooms were pushed against the Temple wall, but they did not have their main beams built into this wall.

<sup>7</sup>The stones were prepared at the same place where they were cut from the ground. Since these stones were the only ones used to build the Temple, there was no noise of hammers, axes, or any other iron tools at the Temple.

<sup>8</sup>The entrance to the lower rooms beside the Temple was on the south side. From there, stairs went up to the second-floor rooms. And from there, stairs went on to the third-floor rooms.

Temple. So he finished building the Temple <sup>10</sup>as well as the bottom floor that was beside the Temple. This bottom floor was seven and one-half feet high and was attached to the Temple by cedar beams.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord said to Solomon: <sup>12</sup>“If you obey all my laws and commands, I will do for you what I promised your father David. <sup>13</sup>I will live among the Israelites in this Temple, and I will never leave my people Israel.”

<sup>14</sup>So Solomon finished building the Temple. <sup>15</sup>The inside walls were covered from floor to ceiling with cedar boards. The floor was made from pine boards. <sup>16</sup>A room thirty feet long was built in the back part of the Temple. This room, called the Most Holy Place, was separated from the rest of the Temple by cedar boards which reached from floor to ceiling. <sup>17</sup>The main room, the one in front of the Most Holy Place, was sixty feet long. <sup>18</sup>Everything inside the Temple was covered with cedar, which was carved with pictures of flowers and plants. A person could not see the stones of the wall, only the cedar.

<sup>19</sup>Solomon prepared the inner room at the back of the Temple to keep the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord. <sup>20</sup>This inner room was thirty feet long, thirty feet wide, and thirty feet high. He covered this room with pure gold, and he also covered the altar of cedar. <sup>21</sup>He covered the inside of the Temple with pure gold, placing gold chains across the front of the inner room, which was also covered with gold. <sup>22</sup>So all the inside of the Temple, as well as the altar of the Most Holy Place, was covered with gold.

<sup>23</sup>Solomon made two creatures from olive wood and placed them in the Most Holy Place. Each creature was fifteen feet tall <sup>24</sup>and had two wings. Each wing was seven and one-half feet long, so it was fifteen feet from the end of one wing to the end of the other. <sup>25</sup>The creatures were the same size and shape; <sup>26</sup>each was fifteen feet tall. <sup>27</sup>These creatures were put beside each other in the Most Holy Place with their wings spread out. One creature's wing touched one wall, and the other creature's wing touched the other wall with their wings touching each other in the middle of the room. <sup>28</sup>These two creatures were covered with gold.

<sup>29</sup>All the walls around the Temple were carved with pictures of creatures with wings, as well as palm trees and flowers. This was true for both the main room and the inner room. <sup>30</sup>The floors of both rooms were covered with gold.

<sup>31</sup>Doors made from olive wood were placed at the entrance to the Most Holy Place. These doors had five-sided frames. <sup>32</sup>Creatures with wings, as well as palm trees and flowers, were also carved on the two olive wood doors that were covered with gold. The creatures and the palm trees on the doors were covered with gold as well. <sup>33</sup>At the entrance to the main room there was a square door frame made of olive wood. <sup>34</sup>Two doors were made from pine. Each door had two parts so the doors folded. <sup>35</sup>The doors were covered with pictures of creatures with wings, as well as palm trees and flowers. All of the carvings were covered with gold, which was evenly spread over them.

<sup>36</sup>The inner courtyard was enclosed by walls, which were made of three rows of cut stones and one row of cedar boards.

<sup>37</sup>Work began on the Temple in Ziv, the second month, during the fourth year Solomon was king over Israel. <sup>38</sup>The Temple was finished during the eleventh year he was king, in the eighth month, the month of Bul. It was built exactly as it was planned. Solomon had spent seven years building it.

Solomon's Palace

King Solomon also built a palace for himself; it took him thirteen years to finish it.<sup>2</sup>Built of cedars from the Forest of Lebanon, it was one hundred fifty feet long, seventy-five feet wide, and forty-five feet high. It had four rows of cedar columns which supported the cedar beams.<sup>3</sup>There were forty-five beams on the roof, with fifteen beams in each row, and the ceiling was covered with cedar above the beams.<sup>4</sup>Windows were placed in three rows facing each other.<sup>5</sup>All the doors were square, and the three doors at each end faced each other.

<sup>6</sup>Solomon also built the porch that had pillars. This porch was seventy-five feet long and forty-five feet wide. Along the front of the porch was a roof supported by pillars.

<sup>7</sup>Solomon also built a throne room where he judged people, called the Hall of Justice. This room was covered with cedar from the floor to the ceiling.<sup>8</sup>The palace where Solomon lived was built like the Hall of Justice, and it was behind this hall. Solomon also built the same kind of palace for his wife, who was the daughter of the king of Egypt.

<sup>9</sup>All these buildings were made with blocks of fine stone. First they were carefully cut. Then they were trimmed with a saw in the front and back. These fine stones went from the foundations of the buildings to the top of the walls. Even the courtyard was made with blocks of stone.<sup>10</sup>The foundations were made with large blocks of fine stone, some as long as fifteen feet. Others were twelve feet long.<sup>11</sup>On top of these foundation stones were other blocks of fine stone and cedar beams.<sup>12</sup>The palace courtyard, the courtyard inside the Temple, and the porch of the Temple were surrounded by walls. All of these walls had three rows of stone blocks and one row of cedar beams.

The Temple Is Completed Inside

<sup>13</sup>King Solomon sent to Tyre and had Hiram brought to him. <sup>14</sup>Hiram's mother was a widow from the tribe of Naphtali. His father was from Tyre and had been skilled in making things from bronze. Hiram was also very skilled and experienced in bronze work. So he came to King Solomon and did all the bronze work.

<sup>15</sup>He made two bronze pillars, each one twenty-seven feet tall and eighteen feet around. <sup>16</sup>He also made two bronze capitals that were seven and one-half feet tall, and he put them on top of the pillars. <sup>17</sup>Then he made a net of seven chains for each capital, which covered the capitals on top of the two pillars. <sup>18</sup>He made two rows of bronze pomegranates to go on the nets. These covered the capitals at the top of the pillars. <sup>19</sup>The capitals on top of the pillars in the porch were shaped like lilies, and they were six feet tall. <sup>20</sup>The capitals were on top of both pillars, above the bowl-shaped section and next to the nets. At that place there were two hundred pomegranates in rows all around the capitals. <sup>21</sup>Hiram put these two bronze pillars at the porch of the Temple. He named the south pillar He Establishes and the north pillar In Him Is Strength. <sup>22</sup>The capitals on top of the pillars were shaped like lilies. So the work on the pillars was finished.

was called the Sea. It was forty-five feet around, fifteen feet across, and seven and one-half feet deep.<sup>24</sup> Around the outer edge of the bowl was a rim. Under this rim were two rows of bronze plants which surrounded the bowl. There were ten plants every eighteen inches, and these plants were made in one piece with the bowl.<sup>25</sup> The bowl rested on the backs of twelve bronze bulls that faced outward from the center of the bowl. Three bulls faced north, three faced west, three faced south, and three faced east.<sup>26</sup> The sides of the bowl were four inches thick, and it held about eleven thousand gallons. The rim of the bowl was like the rim of a cup or like a lily blossom.

<sup>27</sup> Then Hiram made ten bronze stands, each one six feet long, six feet wide, and four and one-half feet high.<sup>28</sup> The stands were made from square sides, which were put on frames.<sup>29</sup> On the sides were bronze lions, bulls, and creatures with wings. On the frames above and below the lions and bulls were designs of flowers hammered into the bronze.<sup>30</sup> Each stand had four bronze wheels with bronze axles. At the corners there were bronze supports for a large bowl, and the supports had designs of flowers.<sup>31</sup> There was a frame on top of the bowls, eighteen inches high above the bowls. The opening of the bowl was round, twenty-seven inches deep. Designs were carved into the bronze on the frame, which was square, not round.<sup>32</sup> The four wheels, placed under the frame, were twenty-seven inches high. The axles between the wheels were made as one piece with the stand.<sup>33</sup> The wheels were like a chariot's wheels. Everything on the wheels—the axles, rims, spokes, and hubs—were made of bronze.

<sup>34</sup> The four supports were on the four corners of each stand. They were made as one piece with the stand.<sup>35</sup> A strip of bronze around the top of each stand was nine inches deep. It was also made as one piece with the stand.<sup>36</sup>The sides of the stand and the frames were covered with carvings of creatures with wings, as well as lions, palm trees, and flowers.<sup>37</sup>This is the way Hiram made the ten stands. The bronze for each stand was melted and poured into a mold, so all the stands were the same size and shape.

<sup>38</sup>Hiram also made ten bronze bowls, one bowl for each of the ten stands. Each bowl was six feet across and could hold about two hundred thirty gallons.<sup>39</sup>Hiram put five stands on the south side of the Temple and five on the north side. He put the large bowl in the southeast corner of the Temple.<sup>40</sup>Hiram also made bowls, shovels, and small bowls.

So Hiram finished all his work for King Solomon on the Temple of the Lord:

- <sup>41</sup>two pillars;
- two large bowls for the capitals on top of the pillars;
- two nets to cover the two large bowls for the capitals on top of the pillars;
- <sup>42</sup>four hundred pomegranates for the two nets (there were two rows of pomegranates for each net covering the bowls for the capitals on top of the pillars);
- <sup>43</sup>ten stands with a bowl on each stand;
- <sup>44</sup>the large bowl with twelve bulls under it;
- <sup>45</sup>the pots, shovels, small bowls, and all the utensils for the Temple of the Lord.

Hiram made everything King Solomon wanted from polished bronze.<sup>46</sup>The king had these things poured into clay molds that were made in the plain of the Jordan River between Succoth and Zarethan.<sup>47</sup> Solomon never weighed the bronze used to make these things, because there was too much to weigh. So the total weight of all the bronze was never known.

<sup>48</sup>Solomon also made all the items for the Temple of the Lord:

- the golden altar;
- the golden table which held the bread that shows God's people are in his presence;
- <sup>49</sup>the lampstands of pure gold (five on the right side and five on the left side in front of the Most Holy Place);
- the flowers, lamps, and tongs of gold;
- <sup>50</sup>the pure gold bowls, wick trimmers, small bowls, pans, and dishes used to carry coals;
- the gold hinges for the doors of the Most Holy Place and the main room of the Temple.

<sup>51</sup>Finally the work King Solomon did for the Temple of the Lord was finished. Solomon brought in everything his father David had set apart for the Temple—silver, gold, and other articles. He put everything in the treasuries of the Temple of the Lord.

Life Lessons

1 Kings 7:1–8:66

Situation

After lavishly constructing and decorating the Temple, Solomon offered a prayer of thanksgiving and blessing to God. He praised God and prayed for the people.

Observation

As he finished his blessing, Solomon said that God had given rest to his people and had kept his good promises.

Inspiration

The bow cannot always be bent without fear of breaking. For a field to bear fruit, it must occasionally lie fallow. And for you to be healthy, you must rest. Slow down, and God will heal you. He will bring rest to your mind, to your body, and most of all to your soul. He will lead you to green pastures.

Green pastures were not the natural terrain of Judea. The hills around Bethlehem where David kept his flock were not lush and green. Even today they are white and parched. Any green pasture in Judea is the work of some shepherd. He has cleared the rough, rocky land. Stumps have been torn out, and brush has been burned. Irrigation. Cultivation. Such are the work of a shepherd.

Hence, when David says, “He lets me rest in green pastures” [Psalm 23:2], he is saying, “My shepherd makes me lie down in his finished work.” With his own pierced hands, Jesus created a pasture for the soul. He tore out the thorny underbrush of condemnation. He pried loose the huge boulders of sin. In their place he planted seeds of grace and dug ponds of mercy.

And he invites us to rest there. Can you imagine the satisfaction in the heart of the shepherd when, with work completed, he sees his sheep rest in the tender grass?

Can you imagine the satisfaction in the heart of God when we do the same? His pasture is his gift to us. This is not a pasture that you have made. Nor is it a pasture that you deserve. It is a gift of God. “I mean that you have been saved by grace through believing. You did not save yourselves; it was a gift from God” (Ephesians 2:8).

In a world rocky with human failure, there is a land lush with divine mercy. Your Shepherd invites you there. He wants you to lie down. Nestle deeply until you are hidden, buried, in the tall shoots of his love, and there you will find rest. (From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

Application

Jesus said that those who are tired and have heavy loads will find rest in his presence. Ask him to loosen your heavy load. Ask him to give you peace and rest. If necessary, take steps to slow down your hectic pace so you can spend more time with the Lord.

The Ark Is Brought into the Temple

King Solomon called for the older leaders of Israel, the heads of the tribes, and the leaders of the families to come to him in Jerusalem. He wanted them to bring the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord from the older part of the city.<sup>2</sup> So all the Israelites came together with King Solomon during the festival in the month of Ethanim, the seventh month.

<sup>3</sup>When all the older leaders of Israel arrived, the priests lifted up the Ark.<sup>4</sup> They carried the Ark of the Lord, the Meeting Tent, and the holy utensils; the priests and the Levites brought them up.<sup>5</sup> King Solomon and all the Israelites gathered before the Ark and sacrificed so many sheep and cattle no one could count them all.<sup>6</sup> Then the priests put the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord in its place inside the Most Holy Place in the Temple, under the wings of the golden creatures.<sup>7</sup> The wings of these creatures were spread out over the place for the Ark, covering it and its carrying poles.<sup>8</sup> The carrying poles were so long that anyone standing in the Holy Place in front of the Most Holy Place could see the ends of the poles, but no one could see them from outside the Holy Place. The poles are still there today.<sup>9</sup> The only things inside the Ark were two stone tablets that Moses had put in the Ark at Mount Sinai. That was where the Lord made his agreement with the Israelites after they came out of Egypt.

Solomon Speaks to the People

<sup>12</sup>Then Solomon said, “The Lord said he would live in a dark cloud. <sup>13</sup>Lord, I have truly built a wonderful Temple for you—a place for you to live forever.”

<sup>14</sup>While all the Israelites were standing there, King Solomon turned to them and blessed them.

<sup>15</sup>Then he said, “Praise the Lord, the God of Israel. He has done what he promised to my father David. The Lord said, <sup>16</sup>“Since the time I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I have not chosen a city in any tribe of Israel where a temple will be built for me. But I have chosen David to lead my people Israel.”

<sup>17</sup>“My father David wanted to build a temple for the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>18</sup>But the Lord said to my father David, ‘It was good that you wanted to build a temple for me. <sup>19</sup>But you are not the one to build it. Your son, who comes from your own body, is the one who will build my temple.’

<sup>20</sup>“Now the Lord has kept his promise. I am the king now in place of David my father. Now I rule Israel as the Lord promised, and I have built the Temple for the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>21</sup>I have made a place there for the Ark, in which is the Agreement the Lord made with our ancestors when he brought them out of Egypt.”

Solomon’s Prayer

<sup>22</sup>Then Solomon stood facing the Lord’s altar, and all the Israelites were standing behind him. He spread out his hands toward the sky <sup>23</sup>and said:

“Lord, God of Israel, there is no god like you in heaven above or on earth below. You keep your agreement of love with your servants who truly follow you.<sup>24</sup>You have kept the promise you made to your servant David, my father. You spoke it with your own mouth and finished it with your hands today.<sup>25</sup>Now Lord, God of Israel, keep the promise you made to your servant David, my father. You said, ‘If your sons are careful to obey me as you have obeyed me, there will always be someone from your family ruling Israel.’<sup>26</sup>Now, God of Israel, please continue to keep that promise you made to your servant David, my father.

<sup>27</sup>“But, God, can you really live here on the earth? The sky and the highest place in heaven cannot contain you. Surely this house which I have built cannot contain you.<sup>28</sup>But please listen to my prayer and my request, because I am your servant. Lord my God, hear this prayer your servant prays to you today.<sup>29</sup>Night and day please watch over this Temple where you have said, ‘I will be worshiped there.’ Hear the prayer I pray facing this Temple.<sup>30</sup>Hear my prayers and the prayers of your people Israel when we pray facing this place. Hear from your home in heaven, and when you hear, forgive us.

<sup>31</sup>“If someone wrongs another person, he will be brought to the altar in this Temple. If he swears an oath that he is not guilty,<sup>32</sup>then hear in heaven. Judge the case, punish the guilty, but declare that the innocent person is not guilty.

<sup>33</sup>“When your people, the Israelites, sin against you, their enemies will defeat them. But if they come back to you and praise you and pray to you in this Temple,<sup>34</sup>then hear them in heaven. Forgive the sins of your people Israel, and bring them back to the land you gave to their ancestors.

<sup>35c</sup>When they sin against you, you will stop the rain from falling on their land. Then they will pray, facing this place and praising you; they will stop sinning when you make them suffer. <sup>36</sup>When this happens, please hear their prayer in heaven, and forgive the sins of your servants, the Israelites. Teach them to do what is right. Then please send rain to this land you have given particularly to them.

<sup>37c</sup>At times the land will become so dry that no food will grow, or a great sickness will spread among the people. Sometimes all the crops will be destroyed by locusts or grasshoppers. Your people will be attacked in their cities by their enemy or will become sick. <sup>38</sup>When any of these things happen, the people will become truly sorry. If your people spread their hands in prayer toward this Temple, <sup>39</sup>then hear their prayers from your home in heaven. Forgive and treat each person as he should be treated because you know what is in a person's heart. Only you know what is in everyone's heart. <sup>40</sup>Then your people will respect you as long as they live in this land you gave to our ancestors.

<sup>41-42c</sup>People who are not Israelites, foreigners from other lands, will hear about your greatness and power. They will come from far away to pray at this Temple. <sup>43</sup>Then hear from your home in heaven, and do whatever they ask you. Then people everywhere will know you and respect you, just as your people in Israel do. Then everyone will know I built this Temple as a place to worship you.

<sup>44c</sup>When your people go out to fight their enemies along some road on which you send them, your people will pray to you, facing the city which you have chosen and the Temple I have built for you. <sup>45</sup>Then hear in heaven their prayers, and do what is right.

<sup>46</sup>“Everyone sins, so your people will also sin against you. You will become angry with them and hand them over to their enemies. Their enemies will capture them and take them away to their countries far or near. <sup>47</sup>Your people will be sorry for their sins when they are held as prisoners in another country. They will be sorry and pray to you in the land where they are held as prisoners, saying, ‘We have sinned. We have done wrong and acted wickedly.’ <sup>48</sup>They will truly turn back to you in the land of their enemies. They will pray to you, facing this land you gave their ancestors, this city you have chosen, and the Temple I have built for you. <sup>49</sup>Then hear their prayers from your home in heaven, and do what is right. <sup>50</sup>Forgive your people of all their sins and for turning against you. Make those who have captured them show them mercy. <sup>51</sup>Remember, they are your special people. You brought them out of Egypt, as if you were pulling them out of a blazing furnace.

<sup>52</sup>“Give your attention to my prayers and the prayers of your people Israel. Listen to them anytime they ask you for help. <sup>53</sup>You chose them from all the nations on earth to be your very own people. This is what you promised through Moses your servant when you brought our ancestors out of Egypt, Lord God.”

<sup>54</sup>Solomon prayed this prayer to the Lord, kneeling in front of the altar with his arms raised toward heaven. When he finished praying, he got up. <sup>55</sup>Then, in a loud voice, he stood and blessed all the people of Israel, saying: <sup>56</sup>“Praise the Lord! He promised he would give rest to his people Israel, and he has given us rest. The Lord has kept all the good promises he gave through his servant Moses. <sup>57</sup>May the Lord our God be with us as he was with our ancestors. May he never leave us,<sup>58</sup> and may he turn us to himself so we will follow him. Let us obey all the laws and commands he gave our ancestors.<sup>59</sup> May the Lord our God remember this prayer day and night and do what is right for his servant and his people Israel day by day.<sup>60</sup> Then all the people of the world will know the Lord is the only true God.<sup>61</sup> You must fully obey the Lord our God and follow all his laws and commands. Continue to obey in the future as you do now.”

Sacrifices Are Offered

<sup>62</sup>Then King Solomon and all Israel with him offered sacrifices to the Lord.<sup>63</sup> Solomon killed twenty-two thousand cattle and one hundred twenty thousand sheep as fellowship offerings. So the king and all the people gave the Temple to the Lord.

<sup>64</sup>On that day King Solomon made holy the middle part of the courtyard which is in front of the Temple of the Lord. There he offered whole burnt offerings, grain offerings, and the fat of the fellowship offerings. He offered them in the courtyard, because the bronze altar before the Lord was too small to hold all the burnt offerings, the grain offerings, and the fat of the fellowship offerings.

<sup>65</sup>Solomon and all the Israelites celebrated the other festival that came at that time. People came from as far away as Lebo Hamath and the brook of Egypt. A great many people celebrated before the Lord for seven days, then seven more days, for a total of fourteen days.<sup>66</sup> On the following day Solomon sent the people home. They blessed the king as they went, happy because of all the good things the Lord had done for his servant David and his people Israel.

Life Lessons

1 Kings 9:1-28

Situation

This is the story of Solomon's greatness and decline. God appeared to Solomon and promised blessing in exchange for obedience.

Observation

Solomon's sin did not catch God off guard. Although God knew Solomon would sin, he continued to bless Solomon because of God's promise to David.

Inspiration

God is outside and above the Timeline. In that case, what we call "tomorrow" is visible to Him in just the same way as what we call "today." All the days are "now" for Him. He does not remember you doing things yesterday; He simply sees you doing because, though you have lost yesterday, He has not. He does not "foresee" you doing things tomorrow; He simply sees you doing them: because, though tomorrow is not yet here for you, it is for Him. You must never suppose that your actions at this moment are any less free because God knows what you are doing. (From The Quotable Lewis edited by Wayne Martindale and Jerry Root)

The Lord Appears to Solomon Again

Solomon finished building the Temple of the Lord and his royal palace and everything he wanted to build.<sup>2</sup> Then the Lord appeared to him again just as he had done before, in Gibeon.<sup>3</sup> The Lord said to him: “I have heard your prayer and what you have asked me to do. You built this Temple, and I have made it a holy place. I will be worshiped there forever and will watch over it and protect it always.

<sup>4</sup>“But you must serve me as your father David did; he was fair and sincere. You must obey all I have commanded and keep my laws and rules.<sup>5</sup> If you do, I will make your kingdom strong. This is the promise I made to your father David—that someone from his family would always rule Israel.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The Sinless Savior

The figure on the center cross ... has no such shadow of sin. “When he lived on earth, he was tempted in every way that we are, but he did not sin” (Hebrews 4:15). Stainless. Selfless. Even on a sinner’s cross Jesus’ holiness illuminates heaven ...

Many could have spoken on behalf of Jesus, but none did. Until now. Kind words from the lips of a thief. He makes his request. “Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom” (Luke 23:42).

The Savior turns his heavy head toward the prodigal child and promises, “I tell you the truth, today you will be with me in paradise” (Luke 23:43).

To those at the foot of the cross, the dialogue was curious. But to those at the foot of the throne, the dialogue was outrageous. They couldn’t imagine it. How could the thief come to paradise? How could a soul speckled by sin go to heaven? How could a sinner be saved? They were about to see.

Did an angel move, did a demon stir as they witnessed the answering of the prayer? The sins of the thief (and all us thieves!) leave him and go to Jesus. Tiny specks at first, then large flakes, and finally layers of filth. Every evil thought. Each vile deed. The thief’s ravings. His cursings. His greed. His sin. All now covering Jesus Christ. What nauseates God now covers his son. . . .

The One with no sin becomes sin-filled. The one sin-filled becomes sinless.

It is eternity’s most bizarre exchange. Paul explained it like this: “Christ took away the curse the law put on us. He changed places with us and put himself under that curse” (Galatians 3:13). (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

<sup>6</sup>“But you and your children must follow me and obey the laws and commands I have given you. You must not serve or worship other gods. <sup>7</sup>If you do, I will force Israel to leave the land I have given them, and I will leave this Temple that I have made holy. All the nations will make fun of Israel and speak evil about them. <sup>8</sup>If the Temple is destroyed, everyone who passes by will be shocked. They will make fun of you and ask, ‘Why did the Lord do this terrible thing to this land and this Temple?’ <sup>9</sup>People will answer, ‘This happened because they left the Lord their God. This was the God who brought their ancestors out of Egypt, but they decided to follow other gods. They worshiped and served those gods, so the Lord brought all this disaster on them.’”

Solomon’s Other Achievements

<sup>10</sup>By the end of twenty years, King Solomon had built two buildings—the Temple of the Lord and the royal palace. <sup>11</sup>At that time King Solomon gave twenty towns in Galilee to Hiram king of Tyre, because Hiram had helped with the buildings. Hiram had given Solomon all the cedar, pine, and gold he wanted. <sup>12</sup>So Hiram traveled from Tyre to see the towns Solomon had given him, but when he saw them, he was not pleased. <sup>13</sup>He asked, “What good are these towns you have given me, my brother?” So he named them the Land of Cabul, and they are still called that today. <sup>14</sup>Hiram had sent Solomon about nine thousand pounds of gold.

build the Temple and the palace. He had them fill in the land and build the wall around Jerusalem. He also had them rebuild the cities of Hazor, Megiddo, and Gezer. <sup>16</sup>(In the past the king of Egypt had attacked and captured Gezer. After burning it, he killed the Canaanites who lived there. Then he gave it as a wedding present to his daughter, who married Solomon. <sup>17</sup>So Solomon rebuilt it.) He also built the cities of Lower Beth Horon <sup>18</sup>and Baalath, as well as Tadmor, which is in the desert. <sup>19</sup>King Solomon also built cities for storing grain and supplies and cities for his chariots and horses. He built whatever he wanted in Jerusalem, Lebanon, and everywhere he ruled.

<sup>20</sup>There were other people in the land who were not Israelites—Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites. <sup>21</sup>They were descendants of people that the Israelites had not destroyed. Solomon forced them to work for him as slaves, as is still true today. <sup>22</sup>But Solomon did not make slaves of the Israelites. They were his soldiers, government leaders, officers, captains, chariot commanders, and drivers.

<sup>23</sup>These were his most important officers over the work. There were five hundred fifty supervisors over the people who did the work on Solomon's projects.

<sup>25</sup>Three times each year Solomon offered whole burnt offerings and fellowship offerings on the altar he had built for the Lord. He also burned incense before the Lord. So he finished the work on the Temple.

<sup>26</sup>King Solomon also built ships at Ezion Geber, a town near Elath on the shore of the Red Sea, in the land of Edom. <sup>27</sup>Hiram had skilled sailors, so he sent them to serve in these ships with Solomon's men.<sup>28</sup> The ships sailed to Ophir and brought back about thirty-two thousand pounds of gold to King Solomon.

The Queen of Sheba Visits Solomon

When the queen of Sheba heard about Solomon, she came to test him with hard questions.<sup>2</sup> She traveled to Jerusalem with a large group of servants and camels carrying spices, jewels, and much gold. When she came to Solomon, she talked with him about all she had in mind,<sup>3</sup> and Solomon answered all her questions. Nothing was too hard for him to explain to her.<sup>4</sup> The queen of Sheba learned that Solomon was very wise. She saw the palace he had built,<sup>5</sup> the food on his table, his many officers, the palace servants, and their good clothes. She saw the servants who served him at feasts and the whole burnt offerings he made in the Temple of the Lord. All these things amazed her.

<sup>6</sup>So she said to King Solomon, “What I heard in my own country about your achievements and wisdom is true.<sup>7</sup> I could not believe it then, but now I have come and seen it with my own eyes. I was not told even half of it! Your wisdom and wealth are much greater than I had heard.<sup>8</sup> Your men and officers are very lucky, because in always serving you, they are able to hear your wisdom.<sup>9</sup> Praise the Lord your God, who was pleased to make you king of Israel. The Lord has constant love for Israel, so he made you king to keep justice and to rule fairly.”

<sup>10</sup>Then she gave the king about nine thousand pounds of gold and many spices and jewels. No one since that time has brought more spices than the queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon.

<sup>11</sup>(Hiram's ships brought gold from Ophir, as well as much juniper wood and jewels. <sup>12</sup>Solomon used the juniper wood to build supports for the Temple of the Lord and the palace, and to make harps and lyres for the musicians. Such fine juniper wood has not been brought in or been seen since that time.)

<sup>13</sup>King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba everything she wanted and asked for, in addition to what he had already given her of his wealth. Then she and her servants returned to her own country.

Solomon's Wealth

<sup>14</sup>Every year King Solomon received about fifty thousand pounds of gold. <sup>15</sup>Besides that, he also received gold from the traders and merchants, as well as from the kings of Arabia and governors of the land.

<sup>16</sup>King Solomon made two hundred large shields of hammered gold, each of which contained about seven and one-half pounds of gold. <sup>17</sup>He also made three hundred smaller shields of hammered gold, each of which contained about four pounds of gold. The king put them in the Palace of the Forest of Lebanon.

<sup>18</sup>The king built a large throne of ivory and covered it with fine gold. <sup>19</sup>The throne had six steps on it, and its back was round at the top. There were armrests on both sides of the chair, and each armrest had a lion beside it. <sup>20</sup>Twelve lions stood on the six steps, one lion at each end of each step. Nothing like this had ever been made for any other kingdom. <sup>21</sup>All of Solomon's drinking cups, as well as the dishes in the Palace of the Forest of Lebanon, were made of pure gold.

Nothing was made from silver, because silver was not valuable in Solomon's time.

<sup>22</sup>King Solomon also had many trading ships at sea, along with Hiram's ships. Every three years the ships returned, bringing back gold, silver, ivory, apes, and baboons.

<sup>23</sup>So Solomon had more riches and wisdom than all the other kings on earth. <sup>24</sup>People everywhere wanted to see King Solomon and listen to the wisdom God had given him. <sup>25</sup>Every year those who came brought gifts of silver and gold, clothes, weapons, spices, horses, and mules.

<sup>26</sup>Solomon had fourteen hundred chariots and twelve thousand horses. He kept some in special cities for the chariots, and others he kept with him in Jerusalem. <sup>27</sup>In Jerusalem Solomon made silver as common as stones and cedar trees as common as the fig trees on the western hills. <sup>28</sup>He imported horses from Egypt and Kue. His traders bought them in Kue. <sup>29</sup>A chariot from Egypt cost about fifteen pounds of silver, and a horse cost nearly four pounds of silver. Solomon's traders also sold horses and chariots to all the kings of the Hittites and the Arameans.

Life Lessons

1 Kings 10:1–11:43

Situation

The queen of Sheba heard of Solomon's wisdom and came to see if the reports were true. Finally, toward the end of his life, Solomon's many wives influenced him to turn away from God.

Observation

Solomon had been given great gifts from God, but instead of responsibly using those gifts in obedience to God, the king allowed himself to be influenced by others. Christ's followers need to stand against pressure to compromise our faith and what we know to be true.

Inspiration

Jesus made it clear that with blessings also come responsibilities. He summed it up succinctly: "Unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more" [Luke 12:48, KJV].

... Those who are given understanding, ability, goods, money, authority, or fame have a responsibility that the less favored do not bear; failure to fulfill it produces fearful punishment...

Whatever level of opportunity is given to us, both God and man expect us to give a certain standard of performance. Favor carries with it responsibility. As the favor increases, the responsibility increases...

Arthur Rubinstein, the great pianist, capsulized this principle when he remarked that should he fail to practice one day, he would know it; should he skip practice for two days, the critics would know it; but should that extend to three days "the whole world knows it." A part-time church pianist might get away with a bit of a letdown, but not an internationally acclaimed musician. More is required of the professional.

Harry Truman said it well when remarking on the burden of the presidency: "If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen.” The sign on his Oval office desk said, “The buck stops here.” (From The Secret Kingdom by Pat Robertson)

Solomon's Many Wives

King Solomon loved many women who were not from Israel. He loved the daughter of the king of Egypt, as well as women of the Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, Sidonians, and Hittites.<sup>2</sup>The Lord had told the Israelites, "You must not marry people of other nations. If you do, they will cause you to follow their gods." But Solomon fell in love with these women.<sup>3</sup>He had seven hundred wives who were from royal families and three hundred slave women who gave birth to his children. His wives caused him to turn away from God.<sup>4</sup>As Solomon grew old, his wives caused him to follow other gods. He did not follow the Lord completely as his father David had done.<sup>5</sup>Solomon worshiped Ashtoreth, the goddess of the people of Sidon, and Molech, the hated god of the Ammonites.<sup>6</sup>So Solomon did what the Lord said was wrong and did not follow the Lord completely as his father David had done.

<sup>7</sup>On a hill east of Jerusalem, Solomon built two places for worship. One was a place to worship Chemosh, the hated god of the Moabites, and the other was a place to worship Molech, the hated god of the Ammonites.<sup>8</sup>Solomon did the same thing for all his foreign wives so they could burn incense and offer sacrifices to their gods.

<sup>9</sup>The Lord had appeared to Solomon twice, but the king turned away from following the Lord, the God of Israel. The Lord was angry with Solomon,<sup>10</sup>because he had commanded Solomon not to follow other gods. But Solomon did not obey the Lord's command.<sup>11</sup>So the Lord said to Solomon, "Because you have chosen to break your agreement with me and have not obeyed my commands, I will tear your kingdom away from you and give it to one of your officers.<sup>12</sup> But I will not take it away while you are alive because of my love for your father David. I will tear it away from your son when he becomes king.<sup>13</sup> I will not tear away all the kingdom from him, but I will leave him one tribe to rule. I will do this because of David, my servant, and because of Jerusalem, the city I have chosen.”

Solomon's Enemies

<sup>14</sup>The Lord caused Hadad the Edomite, a member of the family of the king of Edom, to become Solomon's enemy.<sup>15</sup> Earlier, David had defeated Edom. When Joab, the commander of David's army, went into Edom to bury the dead, he killed all the males.<sup>16</sup> Joab and all the Israelites stayed in Edom for six months and killed every male in Edom.<sup>17</sup> At that time Hadad was only a young boy, so he ran away to Egypt with some of his father's officers.<sup>18</sup> They left Midian and went to Paran, where they were joined by other men. Then they all went to Egypt to see the king, who gave Hadad a house, some food, and some land.

<sup>19</sup>The king liked Hadad so much he gave Hadad a wife—the sister of Tahpenes, the king's wife.<sup>20</sup> They had a son named Genubath. Queen Tahpenes brought him up in the royal palace with the king's own children.

<sup>21</sup>While he was in Egypt, Hadad heard that David had died and that Joab, the commander of the army, was dead also. So Hadad said to the king, “Let me go; I will return to my own country.”

<sup>22</sup>“Why do you want to go back to your own country?” the king asked. “What haven’t I given you here?”

“Nothing,” Hadad answered, “but please, let me go.”

<sup>23</sup>God also caused another man to be Solomon’s enemy—Rezon son of Eliada. Rezon had run away from his master, Hadadezer king of Zobah. <sup>24</sup>After David defeated the army of Zobah, Rezon gathered some men and became the leader of a small army. They went to Damascus and settled there, and Rezon became king of Damascus. <sup>25</sup>Rezon ruled Aram, and he hated Israel. So he was an enemy of Israel all the time Solomon was alive. Both Rezon and Hadad made trouble for Israel.

<sup>26</sup>Jeroboam son of Nebat was one of Solomon’s officers. He was an Ephraimite from the town of Zeredah, and he was the son of a widow named Zeruah. Jeroboam turned against the king.

<sup>27</sup>This is the story of how Jeroboam turned against the king. Solomon was filling in the land and repairing the wall of Jerusalem, the city of David, his father. <sup>28</sup>Jeroboam was a capable man, and Solomon saw that this young man was a good worker. So Solomon put him over all the workers from the tribes of Ephraim and Manasseh.

<sup>29</sup>One day as Jeroboam was leaving Jerusalem, Ahijah, the prophet from Shiloh, who was wearing a new coat, met him on the road. The two men were alone out in the country. <sup>30</sup>Ahijah took his new coat and tore it into twelve pieces. <sup>31</sup>Then he said to Jeroboam, “Take ten pieces of this coat for yourself. The Lord, the God of Israel, says: ‘I will tear the kingdom away from Solomon and give you ten tribes. <sup>32</sup>But I will allow him to control one tribe. I will do this for the sake of my servant David and for Jerusalem, the city I have chosen from all the tribes of Israel. <sup>33</sup>I will do this because Solomon has stopped following me and has worshiped the Sidonian god Ashtoreth, the Moabite god Chemosh, and the Ammonite god Molech. Solomon has not obeyed me by doing what I said is right and obeying my laws and commands, as his father David did.

<sup>34</sup>“But I will not take all the kingdom away from Solomon. I will let him rule all his life because of my servant David, whom I chose, who obeyed all my commands and laws. <sup>35</sup>But I will take the kingdom away from his son, and I will allow you to rule over the ten tribes. <sup>36</sup>I will allow Solomon’s son to continue to rule over one tribe so that there will always be a descendant of David, my servant, in Jerusalem, the city where I chose to be worshiped. <sup>37</sup>But I will make you rule over everything you want. You will rule over all of Israel, <sup>38</sup>and I will always be with you if you do what I say is right. You must obey all my commands. If you obey my laws and commands as David did, I will be with you. I will make your family a lasting family of kings, as I did for David, and give Israel to you. <sup>39</sup>I will punish David’s children because of this, but I will not punish them forever.”

Solomon’s Death

<sup>41</sup>Everything else King Solomon did, and the wisdom he showed, is written in the book of the history of Solomon.

<sup>43</sup>Then he died and was buried in Jerusalem, the city of David, his father. And his son Rehoboam became king in his place.

Life Lessons

1 Kings 12:1–14:31

Situation

Rehoboam, Solomon's heir, rejected the advice of experienced elders in favor of the harsh counsel of friends. This action placed such a burden on the country that the Northern Kingdom (Israel) chose to rebel, expressing its rebellion through idolatry.

Observation

God provides elders to help us lead well. The older and more experienced person often speaks with wisdom.

Inspiration

Cattle are driven; sheep are led; and our Lord compares His people to sheep, not to cattle.

He did not and does not drive His people; rather He leads the way Himself and enables His followers to come after Him. He suffered at the hands of men and can therefore fairly ask His people to suffer as He did. While He lived on earth He went about doing good, walking in dignified poverty, and it is no injustice when He calls His followers to lives of frugality and simplicity. He lived in the bosom of the Father even while here below (John 1:18), and led the way for us so we may do the same. He bore His cross and died upon it, so the New Testament requirement of personal crucifixion for all believers is morally logical. Finally, He arose and ascended to sit in heavenly places and thus give foundation to Paul's words in Colossians: “Since, then, you have been raised with Christ, set your hearts on things above, where Christ is seated at the right hand of God. Set your minds on things above, not on earthly things. For you died, and your life is now hidden with Christ in God” (3:1–3). (From The Price of Neglect by A. W. Tozer)

Israel Turns Against Rehoboam

Rehoboam went to Shechem, where all the Israelites had gone to make him king. <sup>2</sup>Jeroboam son of Nebat was still in Egypt, where he had gone to escape from Solomon. When Jeroboam heard about Rehoboam being made king, he was living in Egypt. <sup>3</sup>After the people sent for him, he and the people went to Rehoboam and said to him, <sup>4</sup>“Your father forced us to work very hard. Now, make it easier for us, and don’t make us work as hard as he did. Then we will serve you.”

<sup>5</sup>Rehoboam answered, “Go away for three days, and then come back to me.” So the people left.

<sup>6</sup>King Rehoboam asked the older leaders who had advised Solomon during his lifetime, “How do you think I should answer these people?”

<sup>7</sup>They said, “You should be like a servant to them today. If you serve them and give them a kind answer, they will serve you always.”

<sup>8</sup>But Rehoboam rejected this advice. Instead, he asked the young men who had grown up with him and who served as his advisers. <sup>9</sup>Rehoboam asked them, “What is your advice? How should we answer these people who said, ‘Don’t make us work as hard as your father did’?”

<sup>10</sup>The young men who had grown up with him answered, “Those people said to you, ‘Your father forced us to work very hard. Now make our work easier.’ You should tell them, ‘My little finger is bigger than my father’s legs. <sup>11</sup>He forced you to work hard, but I will make you work even harder. My father beat you with whips, but I will beat you with whips that have sharp points.’”

<sup>12</sup>Rehoboam had told the people, “Come back to me in three days.” So after three days Jeroboam and all the people returned to Rehoboam. <sup>13</sup>King Rehoboam spoke cruel words to them, because he had rejected the advice the older leaders had given him. <sup>14</sup>He followed the advice of the young men and said to the people, “My father forced you to work hard, but I will make you work even harder. My father beat you with whips, but I will beat you with whips that have sharp points.” <sup>15</sup>So the king did not listen to the people. The Lord caused this to happen to keep the promise he had made to Jeroboam son of Nebat through Ahijah, a prophet from Shiloh.

<sup>16</sup>When all the Israelites saw that the new king refused to listen to them, they said to the king,

“We have no share in David!
We have no part in the son of Jesse!
People of Israel, let’s go to our own homes!
Let David’s son rule his own people!”

So the Israelites went home. <sup>17</sup>But Rehoboam still ruled over the Israelites who lived in the towns of Judah.

<sup>18</sup>Adoniram was in charge of the forced labor. When Rehoboam sent him to the people of Israel, they threw stones at him until he died. But King Rehoboam ran to his chariot and escaped to Jerusalem. <sup>19</sup>Since then, Israel has been against the family of David.

<sup>20</sup>When all the Israelites heard that Jeroboam had returned, they called him to a meeting and made him king over all Israel. Only the tribe of Judah continued to follow the family of David.

<sup>21</sup>When Rehoboam arrived in Jerusalem, he gathered one hundred eighty thousand of the best soldiers from the tribes of Judah and Benjamin. As son of Solomon, Rehoboam wanted to fight the people of Israel to take back his kingdom.

<sup>22</sup>But God spoke his word to Shemaiah, a man of God, saying, <sup>23</sup>“Speak to Solomon’s son Rehoboam, the king of Judah, and to all the people of Judah and Benjamin and the rest of the people. Say to them, <sup>24</sup>“The Lord says you must not go to war against your brothers, the Israelites. Every one of you should go home, because I made all these things happen.”” So they obeyed the Lord’s command and went home as the Lord had commanded.

<sup>25</sup>Then Jeroboam made Shechem in the mountains of Ephraim a very strong city, and he lived there. He also went to the city of Peniel and made it stronger.

Jeroboam Builds Golden Calves

<sup>26</sup>Jeroboam said to himself, “The kingdom will probably go back to David’s family. <sup>27</sup>If the people continue going to the Temple of the Lord in Jerusalem to offer sacrifices, they will want to be ruled again by Rehoboam. Then they will kill me and follow Rehoboam king of Judah.”

<sup>28</sup>King Jeroboam asked for advice. Then he made two golden calves. “It is too long a journey for you to go to Jerusalem to worship,” he said to the people. “Israel, here are your gods who brought you out of Egypt.”<sup>29</sup> Jeroboam put one golden calf in the city of Bethel and the other in the city of Dan.<sup>30</sup> This became a very great sin, because the people traveled as far as Dan to worship the calf there.

<sup>31</sup> Jeroboam built temples on the places of worship. He also chose priests from all the people, not just from the tribe of Levi.<sup>32</sup> And he started a new festival on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, just like the festival in Judah. During that time the king offered sacrifices on the altar, along with sacrifices to the calves in Bethel he had made. He also chose priests in Bethel to serve at the places of worship he had made.<sup>33</sup> So Jeroboam chose his own time for a festival for the Israelites—the fifteenth day of the eighth month. During that time he offered sacrifices on the altar he had built in Bethel. He set up a festival for the Israelites and offered sacrifices on the altar.

The Man of God Speaks Against Bethel

The Lord commanded a man of God from Judah to go to Bethel. When he arrived, Jeroboam was standing by the altar to offer a sacrifice. <sup>2</sup>The Lord had commanded the man of God to speak against the altar. The man said, “Altar, altar, the Lord says to you: ‘David’s family will have a son named Josiah. The priests for the places of worship now make their sacrifices on you, but Josiah will sacrifice those priests on you. Human bones will be burned on you.’” <sup>3</sup>That same day the man of God gave proof that these things would happen. “This is the Lord’s sign that this will happen,” he said. “This altar will break apart, and the ashes on it will fall to the ground.”

<sup>4</sup>When King Jeroboam heard what the man of God said about the altar in Bethel, the king raised his hand from the altar and pointed at the man. “Take him!” he said. But when the king said this, his arm was paralyzed, and he could not move it. <sup>5</sup>The altar also broke into pieces, and its ashes fell to the ground. This was the sign the Lord had told the man of God to give.

<sup>6</sup>Then the king said to the man of God, “Please pray to the Lord your God for me, and ask him to heal my arm.”

So the man of God prayed to the Lord, and the king’s arm was healed, becoming as it was before.

<sup>7</sup>Then the king said to the man of God, “Please come home and eat with me, and I will give you a gift.”

<sup>8</sup>But the man of God answered the king, “Even if you gave me half of your kingdom, I would not go with you. I will not eat or drink anything in this place. <sup>9</sup>The Lord commanded me not to eat or drink anything nor to return on the same road by which I came.”<sup>10</sup> So he took a different road and did not return on the same road by which he had come to Bethel.

<sup>11</sup>Now an old prophet was living in Bethel. His sons came and told him what the man of God had done there that day. They also told their father what he had said to King Jeroboam.

<sup>12</sup>The father asked, “Which road did he use when he left?” So his sons showed him the road the man of God from Judah had taken. <sup>13</sup>Then the prophet told his sons to put a saddle on his donkey. So they saddled the donkey, and he left.

<sup>14</sup>He went after the man of God and found him sitting under an oak tree. The prophet asked, “Are you the man of God who came from Judah?”

The man answered, “Yes, I am.”

<sup>15</sup>The prophet said, “Please come home and eat with me.”

<sup>16</sup>“I can’t go home with you,” the man of God answered. “I can’t eat or drink with you in this place. <sup>17</sup>The Lord said to me, ‘Don’t eat or drink anything there or return on the same road by which you came.’”

<sup>18</sup>Then the old prophet said, “But I also am a prophet like you.” Then he told a lie. He said, “An angel from the Lord came to me and told me to bring you to my home. He said you should eat and drink with me.” <sup>19</sup>So the man of God went to the old prophet’s house, and he ate and drank with him there.

<sup>26</sup>The old prophet who had brought back the man of God heard what had happened. “It is the man of God who did not obey the Lord’s command,” he said. “So the Lord sent a lion to kill him, just as he said he would.”

<sup>27</sup>Then the prophet said to his sons, “Put a saddle on my donkey,” which they did. <sup>28</sup>The old prophet went out and found the body lying on the road, with the donkey and the lion still standing nearby. The lion had not eaten the body or hurt the donkey. <sup>29</sup>The prophet put the body on his donkey and carried it back to the city to have a time of sadness for him and to bury him. <sup>30</sup>The prophet buried the body in his own family grave, and they were sad for the man of God and said, “Oh, my brother.”

<sup>31</sup>After the prophet buried the body, he said to his sons, “When I die, bury me in this same grave. Put my bones next to his. <sup>32</sup>Through him the Lord spoke against the altar at Bethel and against the places of worship in the towns of Samaria. What the Lord spoke through him will certainly come true.”

<sup>33</sup>After this incident King Jeroboam did not stop doing evil. He continued to choose priests for the places of worship from among all the people. Anyone who wanted to be a priest for the places of worship was allowed to be one. <sup>34</sup>In this way the family of Jeroboam sinned, and this sin caused its ruin and destruction from the earth.

Jeroboam's Son Dies

At that time Jeroboam's son Abijah became very sick. <sup>2</sup>So Jeroboam said to his wife, "Go to Shiloh to see the prophet Ahijah. He is the one who said I would become king of Israel. But dress yourself so people won't know you are my wife. <sup>3</sup>Take the prophet ten loaves of bread, some cakes, and a jar of honey. Then ask him what will happen to our son, and he will tell you." <sup>4</sup>So the king's wife did as he said and went to Ahijah's home in Shiloh.

Now Ahijah was very old and blind. <sup>5</sup>The Lord said to him, "Jeroboam's son is sick, and Jeroboam's wife is coming to ask you about him. When she arrives, she will pretend to be someone else." Then the Lord told Ahijah what to say.

<sup>6</sup>When Ahijah heard her walking to the door, he said, "Come in, wife of Jeroboam. Why are you pretending to be someone else? I have bad news for you. <sup>7</sup>Go back and tell Jeroboam that this is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: 'Jeroboam, I chose you from among all the people and made you the leader of my people Israel. <sup>8</sup>I tore the kingdom away from David's family, and I gave it to you. But you are not like my servant David, who always obeyed my commands and followed me with all his heart. He did only what I said was right. <sup>9</sup>But you have done more evil than anyone who ruled before you. You have quit following me and have made other gods and idols of metal. This has made me very angry, <sup>10</sup>so I will soon bring disaster to your family. I will kill all the men in your family, both slaves and free men. I will destroy your family as completely as fire burns up manure. <sup>11</sup>Anyone from your family who dies in the city will be eaten by dogs, and those who die in the fields will be eaten by the birds. The Lord has spoken.”
