<sup>12</sup>Then Ahijah said to Jeroboam’s wife, “Go home now. As soon as you enter your city, your son will die, <sup>13</sup>and all Israel will be sad for him and bury him. He is the only one of Jeroboam’s family who will be buried, because he is the only one in the king’s family who pleased the Lord, the God of Israel.

<sup>14</sup>“The Lord will put a new king over Israel, who will destroy Jeroboam’s family, and this will happen soon. <sup>15</sup>Then the Lord will punish Israel, which will be like grass moving in the water. The Lord will pull up Israel from this good land, the land he gave their ancestors. He will scatter Israel beyond the Euphrates River, because he is angry with the people. They made the Lord angry when they set up idols to worship Asherah. <sup>16</sup>Jeroboam sinned, and then he made the people of Israel sin. So the Lord will let the people of Israel be defeated.”

<sup>17</sup>Then Jeroboam’s wife left and returned to Tirzah. As soon as she entered her home, the boy died. <sup>18</sup>After they buried him, all Israel had a time of sadness for him, just as the Lord had said through his servant, the prophet Ahijah.

<sup>19</sup>Everything else Jeroboam did is written in the book of the history of the kings of Israel. He fought wars and continued to rule the people, <sup>20</sup>servicing as king for twenty-two years. Then he died, and his son Nadab became king in his place.

The Death of Rehoboam

<sup>21</sup>Solomon's son Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he became king of Judah. His mother was Naamah from Ammon. Rehoboam ruled in Jerusalem for seventeen years. (The Lord had chosen that city from all the land of Israel as the place where he would be worshiped.)

<sup>29</sup>Everything else King Rehoboam did is written in the book of the history of the kings of Judah. <sup>30</sup>There was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam the whole time. <sup>31</sup>Rehoboam, son of Naamah from Ammon, died and was buried with his ancestors in Jerusalem, and his son Abijah became king in his place.

Life Lessons

1 Kings 15:1–16:34

Situation

The author of 1 Kings recounted the lives of seven evil kings. Only one king, Asa, did what was right in God's eyes. God blessed him with long life.

Observation

Asa undoubtedly faced opposition as he tore down the nation's idols. He made unpopular decisions, but remained faithful to God all his life.

Inspiration

We develop toughness or fortitude by repeatedly being tested and prevailing. The more tests we pass, the tougher we become. As a boxer engages in bout after bout, he toughens and becomes wiser and stronger. After a time he develops such fortitude, perseverance, and staying power that he can take on the best. There is no way a fighter, or any of us, can develop toughness without testing! The endurance and fortitude of the Apostle Paul or William Carey or Corrie ten Boom did not come overnight and did not come apart from trials. . . .

Nature teaches us the same principle. Free a butterfly from its chrysalis, and thus from the struggle of liberating itself, and you destroy its life, for it will never develop the strength to soar as it should. (From James by R. Kent Hughes)

Abijah King of Judah

Abijah became king of Judah during the eighteenth year Jeroboam son of Nebat was king of Israel.<sup>2</sup> Abijah ruled in Jerusalem for three years. His mother was Maacah daughter of Abishalom.<sup>3</sup> He did all the same sins his father before him had done. Abijah was not faithful to the Lord his God as David, his great-grandfather, had been.<sup>4</sup> Because the Lord loved David, the Lord gave him a kingdom in Jerusalem and allowed him to have a son to be king after him. The Lord also kept Jerusalem safe.<sup>5</sup> David always did what the Lord said was right and obeyed his commands all his life, except the one time when David sinned against Uriah the Hittite.

<sup>6</sup>There was war between Abijah and Jeroboam during Abijah's lifetime.<sup>7</sup> Everything else Abijah did is written in the book of the history of the kings of Judah. During the time Abijah ruled, there was war between Abijah and Jeroboam.<sup>8</sup> Abijah died and was buried in Jerusalem, and his son Asa became king in his place.

Asa King of Judah

became king of Judah. <sup>10</sup>His grandmother's name was Maacah, the daughter of Abishalom. Asa ruled in Jerusalem for forty-one years.

<sup>16</sup>There was war between Asa and Baasha king of Israel all the time they were kings. <sup>17</sup>Baasha attacked Judah, and he made the town of Ramah strong so he could keep people from leaving or entering Judah, Asa's country.

<sup>18</sup>Asa took the rest of the silver and gold from the treasuries of the Temple of the Lord and his own palace and gave it to his officers. Then he sent them to Ben-Hadad son of Tabrimmon, who was the son of Hezion. Ben-Hadad was the king of Aram and ruled in the city of Damascus. Asa said, <sup>19</sup>“Let there be a treaty between you and me as there was between my father and your father. I am sending you a gift of silver and gold. Break your treaty with Baasha king of Israel so he will leave my land.”

<sup>20</sup>Ben-Hadad agreed with King Asa, so he sent the commanders of his armies to attack the towns of Israel. They defeated the towns of Ijon, Dan, and Abel Beth Maacah, as well as all Galilee and the area of Naphtali. <sup>21</sup>When Baasha heard about these attacks, he stopped building up Ramah and returned to Tirzah. <sup>22</sup>Then King Asa gave an order to all the people of Judah; everyone had to help. They carried away all the stones and wood Baasha had been using in Ramah, and they used them to build up Geba and Mizpah in the land of Benjamin.

<sup>23</sup>Everything else Asa did—his victories and the cities he built—is written in the book of the history of the kings of Judah. When he became old, he got a disease in his feet. <sup>24</sup>After Asa died, he was buried with his ancestors in Jerusalem, the city of David, his ancestor. Then Jehoshaphat, Asa's son, became king in his place.

Nadab King of Israel

<sup>25</sup>Nadab son of Jeroboam became king of Israel during the second year Asa was king of Judah. Nadab was king of Israel for two years, <sup>26</sup>and he did what the Lord said was wrong. Jeroboam had led the people of Israel to sin, and Nadab sinned in the same way as his father Jeroboam.

<sup>27</sup>Baasha son of Ahijah, from the tribe of Issachar, made plans to kill Nadab. Nadab and all Israel were attacking the Philistine town of Gibbethon, so Baasha killed Nadab there. <sup>28</sup>This happened during Asa's third year as king of Judah, and Baasha became the next king of Israel.

Baasha King of Israel

<sup>29</sup>As soon as Baasha became king, he killed all of Jeroboam's family, leaving no one in Jeroboam's family alive. He destroyed them all as the Lord had said would happen through his servant Ahijah from Shiloh. <sup>30</sup>King Jeroboam had sinned very much and had led the people of Israel to sin, so he made the Lord, the God of Israel, very angry.

<sup>33</sup>Baasha son of Ahijah became king of Israel during Asa's third year as king of Judah. Baasha ruled in Tirzah for twenty-four years, <sup>34</sup>and he did what the Lord said was wrong. Jeroboam had led the people of Israel to sin, and Baasha sinned in the same way as Jeroboam.

Jehu son of Hanani spoke the word of the Lord against King Baasha. <sup>2</sup>The Lord said, “You were nothing, but I took you and made you a leader over my people Israel. But you have followed the ways of Jeroboam and have led my people Israel to sin. Their sins have made me angry, <sup>3</sup>so, Baasha, I will soon destroy you and your family. I will do to you what I did to the family of Jeroboam son of Nebat. <sup>4</sup>Anyone from your family who dies in the city will be eaten by dogs, and anyone from your family who dies in the fields will be eaten by birds.”

<sup>5</sup>Everything else Baasha did and all his victories are written down in the book of the history of the kings of Israel. <sup>6</sup>So Baasha died and was buried in Tirzah, and his son Elah became king in his place.

<sup>7</sup>The Lord spoke his word against Baasha and his family through the prophet Jehu son of Hanani. Baasha had done many things the Lord said were wrong, which made the Lord very angry. He did the same evil deeds that Jeroboam’s family had done before him. The Lord also spoke against Baasha because he killed all of Jeroboam’s family.

Elah King of Israel

<sup>9</sup>Zimri, one of Elah’s officers, commanded half of Elah’s chariots. Zimri made plans against Elah while the king was in Tirzah, getting drunk at Arza’s home. (Arza was in charge of the palace at Tirzah.) <sup>10</sup>Zimri went into Arza’s house and killed Elah during Asa’s twenty-seventh year as king of Judah. Then Zimri became king of Israel in Elah's place.

Zimri King of Israel

<sup>11</sup>As soon as Zimri became king, he killed all of Baasha's family, not allowing any of Baasha's family or friends to live. <sup>12</sup>So Zimri destroyed all of Baasha's family just as the Lord had said it would happen through the prophet Jehu. <sup>13</sup>Baasha and his son Elah sinned and led the people of Israel to sin, and they made the Lord, the God of Israel, angry because of their worthless idols.

The army of Israel was camped near Gibbethon, a Philistine town. <sup>16</sup>The men in the camp heard that Zimri had made secret plans against King Elah and had killed him. So that day in the camp they made Omri, the commander of the army, king over Israel. <sup>17</sup>So Omri and all the Israelite army left Gibbethon and attacked Tirzah. <sup>18</sup>When Zimri saw that the city had been captured, he went into the palace and set it on fire, burning the palace and himself with it. <sup>19</sup>So Zimri died because he had sinned by doing what the Lord said was wrong. Jeroboam had led the people of Israel to sin, and Zimri sinned in the same way as Jeroboam.

Omri King of Israel

<sup>21</sup>The people of Israel were divided into two groups. Half of the people wanted Tibni son of Ginath to be king, while the other half wanted Omri. <sup>22</sup>Omri's followers were stronger than the followers of Tibni son of Ginath, so Tibni died, and Omri became king.

<sup>25</sup>But Omri did what the Lord said was wrong; he did more evil than all the kings who came before him. <sup>26</sup>Jeroboam son of Nebat had led the people of Israel to sin, and Omri sinned in the same way as Jeroboam. The Israelites made the Lord, the God of Israel, very angry because they worshiped worthless idols.

<sup>27</sup>Everything else Omri did and all his successes are written in the book of the history of the kings of Israel. <sup>28</sup>So Omri died and was buried in Samaria, and his son Ahab became king in his place.

Ahab King of Israel

<sup>29</sup>Ahab son of Omri became king of Israel during Asa's thirty-eighth year as king of Judah, and Ahab ruled Israel in the city of Samaria for twenty-two years. <sup>30</sup>More than any king before him, Ahab son of Omri did many things the Lord said were wrong.<sup>31</sup>He sinned in the same ways as Jeroboam son of Nebat, but he did even worse things. He married Jezebel daughter of Ethbaal, the king of Sidon. Then Ahab began to serve Baal and worship him.<sup>32</sup>He built a temple in Samaria for worshiping Baal and put an altar there for Baal.<sup>33</sup>Ahab also made an idol for worshiping Asherah. He did more things to make the Lord, the God of Israel, angry than all the other kings before him.

<sup>34</sup>During the time of Ahab, Hiel from Bethel rebuilt the city of Jericho. It cost Hiel the life of Abiram, his oldest son, to begin work on the city, and it cost the life of Segub, his youngest son, to build the city gates. This happened just as the Lord, speaking through Joshua son of Nun, said it would happen.

Life Lessons

1 Kings 17:1-24

Situation

Elijah was the first of many important prophets God sent to warn Israel and Judah as the two kingdoms fell away from God. Israel especially needed these prophets because of an evil king and unfaithful priests.

Observation

The widow demonstrated her faith by feeding the prophet with her last meal. That devotion led to her son being restored to life.

Inspiration

We serve the God who designed the universe and set our world in motion. But those hands that hung the stars in the heavens also wiped away the tears of the widow and the leper. And they will wipe away your tears as well.

There has never been a time in the history of this globe when there was not a rain cloud somewhere on the earth. There may be blue skies for us occasionally, but the rain always comes. So, instead of looking for ways to escape problems, look for methods to face them head on.

Father, you are God and Creator, but we come to you as children coming to their father, as children who would ask their father to hold and comfort them, hoping to receive words of wisdom.

(From The Inspirational Bible, "Sorrow")

Application

Jesus Christ is not only the Sin-bearer but also the Sorrow-bearer. He can wipe away the tears of all who are hurting. You can run to God, the Friend who sticks closer than a brother. But God also uses human instruments. Let the body of Christ minister to you as well.

Exploration

Elijah Stops the Rain

Now Elijah the Tishbite was a prophet from the settlers in Gilead. “I serve the Lord, the God of Israel,” Elijah said to Ahab. “As surely as the Lord lives, no rain or dew will fall during the next few years unless I command it.”

<sup>2</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word to Elijah: <sup>3</sup>“Leave this place and go east and hide near Kerith Ravine east of the Jordan River. <sup>4</sup>You may drink from the stream, and I have commanded ravens to bring you food there.” <sup>5</sup>So Elijah did what the Lord said; he went to Kerith Ravine, east of the Jordan, and lived there. <sup>6</sup>The birds brought Elijah bread and meat every morning and evening, and he drank water from the stream.

<sup>7</sup>After a while the stream dried up because there was no rain. <sup>8</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word to Elijah, <sup>9</sup>“Go to Zarephath in Sidon and live there. I have commanded a widow there to take care of you.”

<sup>10</sup>So Elijah went to Zarephath. When he reached the town gate, he saw a widow gathering wood for a fire. Elijah asked her, “Would you bring me a little water in a cup so I may have a drink?” <sup>11</sup>As she was going to get his water, Elijah said, “Please bring me a piece of bread, too.”

<sup>12</sup>The woman answered, “As surely as the Lord your God lives, I have no bread. I have only a handful of flour in a jar and only a little olive oil in a jug. I came here to gather some wood so I could go home and cook our last meal. My son and I will eat it and then die from hunger.”

<sup>13</sup>“Don’t worry,” Elijah said to her. “Go home and cook your food as you have said. But first make a small loaf of bread from the flour you have, and bring it to me. Then cook something for yourself and your son. <sup>14</sup>The Lord, the God of Israel, says, ‘That jar of flour will never be empty, and the jug will always have oil in it, until the day the Lord sends rain to the land.’”

<sup>15</sup>So the woman went home and did what Elijah told her to do. And the woman and her son and Elijah had enough food every day. <sup>16</sup>The jar of flour and the jug of oil were never empty, just as the Lord, through Elijah, had promised.

Elijah Brings a Boy Back to Life

<sup>17</sup>Some time later the son of the woman who owned the house became sick. He grew worse and worse and finally stopped breathing. <sup>18</sup>The woman said to Elijah, “Man of God, what have you done to me? Did you come here to remind me of my sin and to kill my son?”

<sup>19</sup>Elijah said to her, “Give me your son.” Elijah took the boy from her, carried him upstairs, and laid him on the bed in the room where he was staying. <sup>20</sup>Then he prayed to the Lord: “Lord my God, this widow is letting me stay in her house. Why have you done this terrible thing to her and caused her son to die?” <sup>21</sup>Then Elijah lay on top of the boy three times. He prayed to the Lord, “Lord my God, let this boy live again!”

<sup>22</sup>The Lord answered Elijah’s prayer; the boy began breathing again and was alive. <sup>23</sup>Elijah carried the boy downstairs and gave him to his mother and said, “See! Your son is alive!”

<sup>24</sup>“Now I know you really are a man from God,” the woman said to Elijah. “I know that the Lord truly speaks through you!”

Elijah Kills the Prophets of Baal

During the third year without rain, the Lord spoke his word to Elijah: “Go and meet King Ahab, and I will soon send rain.” <sup>2</sup>So Elijah went to meet Ahab.

By this time there was no food in Samaria. <sup>3</sup>King Ahab sent for Obadiah, who was in charge of the king’s palace. (Obadiah was a true follower of the Lord. <sup>4</sup>When Jezebel was killing all the Lord’s prophets, Obadiah hid a hundred of them in two caves, fifty in one cave and fifty in another. He also brought them food and water.) <sup>5</sup>Ahab said to Obadiah, “Let’s check every spring and valley in the land. Maybe we can find enough grass to keep our horses and mules alive and not have to kill our animals.” <sup>6</sup>So each one chose a part of the country to search; Ahab went in one direction and Obadiah in another.

<sup>9</sup>Then Obadiah said, “What wrong have I done for you to hand me over to Ahab like this? He will put me to death. <sup>10</sup>As surely as the Lord your God lives, the king has sent people to every country to search for you. If the ruler said you were not there, Ahab forced the ruler to swear you could not be found in his country. <sup>11</sup>Now you want me to go to my master and tell him, ‘Elijah is here’? <sup>12</sup>The Spirit of the Lord may carry you to some other place after I leave. If I go tell King Ahab you are here, and he comes and doesn't find you, he will kill me! I have followed the Lord since I was a boy. <sup>13</sup>Haven't you been told what I did? When Jezebel was killing the Lord's prophets, I hid a hundred of them, fifty in one cave and fifty in another. I brought them food and water. <sup>14</sup>Now you want me to go and tell my master you are here? He will kill me!"

<sup>15</sup>Elijah answered, "As surely as the Lord All-Powerful lives, whom I serve, I will be seen by Ahab today."

<sup>16</sup>So Obadiah went to Ahab and told him where Elijah was. Then Ahab went to meet Elijah.

<sup>18</sup>Elijah answered, "I have not made trouble in Israel. You and your father's family have made all this trouble by not obeying the Lord's commands. You have gone after the Baals. <sup>19</sup>Now tell all Israel to meet me at Mount Carmel. Also bring the four hundred fifty prophets of Baal and the four hundred prophets of Asherah, who eat at Jezebel's table."

<sup>20</sup>So Ahab called all the Israelites and those prophets to Mount Carmel. <sup>21</sup>Elijah approached the people and said, "How long will you not decide between two choices? If the Lord is the true God, follow him, but if Baal is the true God, follow him!" But the people said nothing.

<sup>22</sup>Elijah said, "I am the only prophet of the Lord here, but there are four hundred fifty prophets of Baal. <sup>23</sup>Bring two bulls. Let the prophets of Baal choose one bull and kill it and cut it into pieces. Then let them put the meat on the wood, but they are not to set fire to it. I will prepare the other bull, putting the meat on the wood but not setting fire to it. <sup>24</sup>You prophets of Baal, pray to your god, and I will pray to the Lord. The god who answers by setting fire to his wood is the true God.”

All the people agreed that this was a good idea.

<sup>25</sup>Then Elijah said to the prophets of Baal, “There are many of you, so you go first. Choose a bull and prepare it. Pray to your god, but don’t start the fire.”

<sup>26</sup>So they took the bull that was given to them and prepared it. They prayed to Baal from morning until noon, shouting “Baal, answer us!” But there was no sound, and no one answered. They danced around the altar they had built.

<sup>27</sup>At noon Elijah began to make fun of them. “Pray louder!” he said. “If Baal really is a god, maybe he is thinking, or busy, or traveling! Maybe he is sleeping so you will have to wake him!” <sup>28</sup>The prophets prayed louder, cutting themselves with swords and spears until their blood flowed, which was the way they worshiped. <sup>29</sup>The afternoon passed, and the prophets continued to act like this until it was time for the evening sacrifice. But no voice was heard; Baal did not answer, and no one paid attention.

<sup>30</sup>Then Elijah said to all the people, “Now come to me.” So they gathered around him, and Elijah rebuilt the altar of the Lord, which had been torn down. <sup>31</sup>He took twelve stones, one stone for each of the twelve tribes, the number of Jacob’s sons. (The Lord changed Jacob’s name to Israel.) <sup>32</sup>Elijah used these stones to rebuild the altar in honor of the Lord. Then he dug a ditch around the altar that was big enough to hold about thirteen quarts of seed. <sup>33</sup>Elijah put the wood on the altar, cut the bull into pieces, and laid the pieces on the wood. <sup>34</sup>Then he said, “Fill four jars with water, and pour it on the meat and on the wood.” Then Elijah said, “Do it again,” and they did it again. Then he said, “Do it a third time,” and they did it the third time. <sup>35</sup>So the water ran off the altar and filled the ditch.

<sup>36</sup>At the time for the evening sacrifice, the prophet Elijah went near the altar. “Lord, you are the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel,” he prayed. “Prove that you are the God of Israel and that I am your servant. Show these people that you commanded me to do all these things. <sup>37</sup>Lord, answer my prayer so these people will know that you, Lord, are God and that you will change their minds.”

<sup>38</sup>Then fire from the Lord came down and burned the sacrifice, the wood, the stones, and the ground around the altar. It also dried up the water in the ditch. <sup>39</sup>When all the people saw this, they fell down to the ground, crying, “The Lord is God! The Lord is God!”

<sup>40</sup>Then Elijah said, “Capture the prophets of Baal! Don’t let any of them run away!” The people captured all the prophets. Then Elijah led them down to the Kishon Valley, where he killed them.

The Rain Comes Again

<sup>41</sup>Then Elijah said to Ahab, “Now, go, eat, and drink, because a heavy rain is coming.” <sup>42</sup>So King Ahab went to eat and drink. At the same time Elijah climbed to the top of Mount Carmel, where he bent down to the ground with his head between his knees.

The servant went and looked. “I see nothing,” he said.

Elijah told him to go and look again. This happened seven times. <sup>44</sup>The seventh time, the servant said, “I see a small cloud, the size of a human fist, coming from the sea.”

Elijah told the servant, “Go to Ahab and tell him to get his chariot ready and go home now. Otherwise, the rain will stop him.”

<sup>45</sup>After a short time the sky was covered with dark clouds. The wind began to blow, and soon a heavy rain began to fall. Ahab got in his chariot and started back to Jezreel. <sup>46</sup>The Lord gave his power to Elijah, who tightened his clothes around him and ran ahead of King Ahab all the way to Jezreel.

Life Lessons

1 Kings 18:1–46

Situation

King Ahab and his wife Jezebel worshiped Baal, the most popular Canaanite god. Baal idols were often cast in the form of a bull, which represented lust, power, and fertility. Baals were believed to supply rain for crops—an irony during this time of God-appointed drought.

Observation

God demonstrated, powerfully and dramatically, his superiority to all false gods and their prophets.

Inspiration

Fifty-six times in the Bible the word almighty is used. Always it is used of God; never of anyone else. God is all powerful, or omnipotent. Again we are forced to use a negative to explain the concept—there is nothing He can’t do. That is a staggering idea. He has no bounds to His energy.

God can do one thing as easily as He can do another. It is no more difficult for God to create a universe than it is for Him to make a butterfly, and He does everything without losing any of His strength. Isaiah 40:28 says, “The Everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth does not become weary or tired.” God never needs to be replenished. Where would He go for more strength? There is no power outside of God.

Built into absolute power is the authority to use it. God not only has the power but He has the authority to do anything He wants to do. While God can do anything He wants to do, however, His will is totally consistent with His nature. That’s why, for example, He cannot lie and will not tolerate sin. It is also why He shows grace and mercy. Psalm 115:3 says, “Our God is in the heavens; He does whatever He pleases.” Have you ever asked the question, “Why did God do this?” He did it because He wanted to. If this doesn’t seem like a sufficient answer to you, it’s because you don’t understand God. . . .

We worship an unchanging, all-powerful God. If that makes Him seem far beyond your ability to comprehend, that is good. If you think of God as someone simple enough for the human mind to understand, your god is not the true God.

What is your concept of God? Do you see Him as a timeless, infinite, all-powerful, unchanging, glorious being? Or do you, like many, tend to minimize God’s greatness, preferring to think of Him as one who may be manipulated or fooled by human hypocrisy, or one who may be mandated to do what we want? Such a view of God is utterly pagan.

A vision of the steadfastness of our immutable God brings a sense of security and stability to our unsettled lives. And the understanding that His power is unlimited and undiminishing strengthens and encourages even the weakest believer. The natural response to that is praise and adoration that overflows in a life that worships. (From The Ultimate Priority by John MacArthur, Jr.)

Application

Is your God too small? Take a moment to pray as you contemplate God's almighty power. Ask him to help you realize his greatness and worship him.

Exploration

God Is All-Powerful—Genesis 18:14; Exodus 15:6; 1 Samuel 14:6; Psalm 93:4; 115:3; Matthew 19:26; Luke 1:37; Revelation 19:6.

Elijah Runs Away

King Ahab told Jezebel every thing Elijah had done and how Elijah had killed all the prophets with a sword.<sup>2</sup> So Jezebel sent a messenger to Elijah, saying, “May the gods punish me terribly if by this time tomorrow I don’t kill you just as you killed those prophets.”

<sup>3</sup>When Elijah heard this, he was afraid and ran for his life, taking his servant with him. When they came to Beersheba in Judah, Elijah left his servant there.<sup>4</sup> Then Elijah walked for a whole day into the desert. He sat down under a bush and asked to die. “I have had enough, Lord,” he prayed. “Let me die. I am no better than my ancestors.”<sup>5</sup> Then he lay down under the tree and slept.

Suddenly an angel came to him and touched him. “Get up and eat,” the angel said.<sup>6</sup> Elijah saw near his head a loaf baked over coals and a jar of water, so he ate and drank. Then he went back to sleep.

<sup>7</sup>Later the Lord’s angel came to him a second time. The angel touched him and said, “Get up and eat. If you don’t, the journey will be too hard for you.”<sup>8</sup> So Elijah got up and ate and drank. The food made him strong enough to walk for forty days and nights to Mount Sinai, the mountain of God.<sup>9</sup> There Elijah went into a cave and stayed all night.

Then the Lord spoke his word to him: “Elijah! Why are you here?”

<sup>10</sup>He answered, “Lord God All-Powerful, I have always served you as well as I could. But the people of Israel have broken their agreement with you, destroyed your altars, and killed your prophets with swords. I am the only prophet left, and now they are trying to kill me, too.”

<sup>11</sup>The Lord said to Elijah, “Go, stand in front of me on the mountain, and I will pass by you.” Then a very strong wind blew until it caused the mountains to fall apart and large rocks to break in front of the Lord. But the Lord was not in the wind. After the wind, there was an earthquake, but the Lord was not in the earthquake. <sup>12</sup>After the earthquake, there was a fire, but the Lord was not in the fire. After the fire, there was a quiet, gentle sound. <sup>13</sup>When Elijah heard it, he covered his face with his coat and went out and stood at the entrance to the cave.

Then a voice said to him, “Elijah! Why are you here?”

<sup>14</sup>He answered, “Lord God All-Powerful, I have always served you as well as I could. But the people of Israel have broken their agreement with you, destroyed your altars, and killed your prophets with swords. I am the only prophet left, and now they are trying to kill me, too.”

<sup>15</sup>The Lord said to him, “Go back on the road that leads to the desert around Damascus. Enter that city, and pour olive oil on Hazael to make him king over Aram. <sup>16</sup>Then pour oil on Jehu son of Nimshi to make him king over Israel. Next, pour oil on Elisha son of Shaphat from Abel Meholah to make him a prophet in your place. <sup>17</sup>Jehu will kill anyone who escapes from Hazael’s sword, and Elisha will kill anyone who escapes from Jehu’s sword. <sup>18</sup>I have seven thousand people left in Israel who have never bowed down before Baal and whose mouths have never kissed his idol.”

Elisha Becomes a Prophet

Elijah answered, “Go back. It does not matter to me.”

<sup>21</sup>So Elisha went back and took his pair of oxen and killed them. He used their wooden yoke for a fire. Then he cooked the meat and gave it to the people. After they ate it, Elisha left and followed Elijah and became his helper.

Life Lessons

1 Kings 19:1–20:43

Situation

In one moment God displayed his power, and Elijah triumphed over the prophets of Baal. In the next, God’s prophet ran for his life from Jezebel who sought revenge. He hid in the desert.

Observation

God cares for his servants both in moments of triumph and defeat. He remains present with those who trust him.

Inspiration

In the barren prairie, the hiker huddles down. The cold northerly sweeps over him, stinging his face and numbing his fingers. The whistle of the wind is deafening. The hiker hugs his knees to his chest, yearning for warmth.

He doesn't move. The sky is orange with dirt. His teeth are grainy, his eyes sooty. He thinks of quitting, Going home. Home to the mountains.

"Ahh. The mountains." The spirit that moved him in the mountains seems so far away. For a moment, his mind wanders back to his homeland. Green country. Mountain trails. Fresh water. Hikers hiking on well-marked trails. No surprises, few fears, rich companionship.

One day, while on a brisk hike, he had stopped to look out from the mountains across the neighboring desert. He felt strangely pulled to the sweeping barrenness that lay before him. The next day he paused again. And the next, and the next. "Shouldn't someone try to take life to the desert?" Slowly the flicker in his heart became a flame.

Many agreed that someone should go, but no one volunteered.

Uncharted land, fearful storms, loneliness.

But the hiker, spurred by the enthusiasm of others, determined to go. After careful preparation, he set out, alone. With the cheers of his friends behind him, he descended the grassy highlands and entered the desolate wilderness.

The first few days his steps were springy and his eye was keen. He yearned to do his part to bring life to the desert. Then came the heat. The scorpions. The monotony. The snakes. Slowly, the fire diminished. And now ... the storm. The endless roar of the wind. The relentless, cursed cold.

"I don't know how much more I can take." Weary and beaten, the hiker considers going back. “At least I got this far.” Knees tucked under him, head bowed, almost touching the ground. “Will it ever stop?”

Grimly he laughs at the irony of the situation. “Some hiker. Too tired to go on, yet too ashamed to go home.” Deep, deep is the struggle. No longer can he hear the voices of friends. Long gone is the romance of his mission. No longer does he float on the fancifulness of a dream.

The hiker, now almost the storm’s victim, looks one last time for the fire. (Is there any greater challenge than of stirring a spirit while in the clutches of defeat?) Yearning and clawing, the temptation to quit is gradually overcome by the urge to go on. Blowing on the coals, the hiker once again hears the call to the desert. Though faint, the call is clear.

With all the strength he can summon, the hiker rises to his feet, bows his head, and takes his first step into the wind. (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Ben-Hadad and Ahab Go to War

Ben-Hadad king of Aram gathered together all his army. There were thirty-two kings with their horses and chariots who went with him and surrounded Samaria and attacked it.<sup>2</sup>The king sent messengers into the city to Ahab king of Israel.

This was his message: “Ben-Hadad says,<sup>3</sup>“Your silver and gold belong to me, as well as the best of your wives and children.””

<sup>5</sup>Then the messengers came to Ahab again. They said, “Ben-Hadad says, ‘I told you before that you must give me your silver and gold, your wives and your children.<sup>6</sup>About this time tomorrow I will send my men, who will search everywhere in your palace and in the homes of your officers. Whatever they want they will take and carry off.’”

<sup>7</sup>Then Ahab called a meeting of all the older leaders of his country. He said, “Ben-Hadad is looking for trouble. First he said I had to give him my wives, my children, my silver, and my gold, and I have not refused him.”

<sup>8</sup>The older leaders and all the people said, “Don’t listen to him or agree to this.”

<sup>9</sup>So Ahab said to Ben-Hadad’s messengers, “Tell my master the king: ‘I will do what you said at first, but I cannot allow this second command.’” And King Ben-Hadad’s men carried the message back to him.

<sup>10</sup>Then Ben-Hadad sent another message to Ahab: “May the gods punish me terribly if I don't completely destroy Samaria. There won't be enough left for each of my men to get a handful of dust!"

<sup>12</sup>Ben-Hadad was drinking in his tent with the other rulers when the message came from Ahab. Ben-Hadad commanded his men to prepare to attack the city, and they moved into place for battle.

<sup>13</sup>At the same time a prophet came to Ahab king of Israel. The prophet said, "Ahab, the Lord says to you, 'Do you see that big army? I will hand it over to you today so you will know I am the Lord.'"

<sup>14</sup>Ahab asked, "Who will you use to defeat them?"

The prophet answered, "The Lord says, 'The young officers of the district governors will defeat them.'"

Then the king asked, "Who will command the main army?"

The prophet answered, "You will."

<sup>15</sup>So Ahab gathered the young officers of the district governors, two hundred thirty-two of them. Then he called together the army of Israel, about seven thousand people in all.

<sup>17</sup>The young officers of the district governors attacked first. Ben-Hadad sent out scouts who told him that soldiers were coming from Samaria. <sup>18</sup>Ben-Hadad said, "They may be coming to fight, or they may be coming to ask for peace. In either case capture them alive."

attack, followed by the army of Israel.<sup>20</sup> Each officer of Israel killed the man who came against him. The men from Aram ran away as Israel chased them, but Ben-Hadad king of Aram escaped on a horse with some of his horsemen.<sup>21</sup> Ahab king of Israel led the army and destroyed the Arameans' horses and chariots. King Ahab thoroughly defeated the Aramean army.

<sup>22</sup> Then the prophet went to Ahab king of Israel and said, "The king of Aram will attack you again next spring. So go home now and strengthen your army and see what you need to do."

<sup>23</sup> Meanwhile the officers of Ben-Hadad king of Aram said to him, "The gods of Israel are mountain gods. Since we fought in a mountain area, Israel won. Let's fight them on the flat land, and then we will win."<sup>24</sup> This is what you should do. Don't allow the thirty-two rulers to command the armies, but put other commanders in their places.<sup>25</sup> Gather an army like the one that was destroyed and as many horses and chariots as before. We will fight the Israelites on flat land, and then we will win." Ben-Hadad agreed with their advice and did what they said.

<sup>27</sup> The Israelites also had prepared for war. They marched out to meet the Arameans and camped opposite them. The Israelites looked like two small flocks of goats, but the Arameans covered the area.

<sup>28</sup> A man of God came to the king of Israel with this message: "The Lord says, 'The people of Aram say that I, the Lord, am a god of the mountains, not a god of the valleys. So I will allow you to defeat this huge army, and then you will know I am the Lord.'"

<sup>29</sup>The armies were camped across from each other for seven days. On the seventh day the battle began. The Israelites killed one hundred thousand Aramean soldiers in one day. <sup>30</sup>The rest of them ran away to the city of Aphek, where a city wall fell on twenty-seven thousand of them. Ben-Hadad also ran away to the city and hid in a room.

<sup>31</sup>His officers said to him, “We have heard that the kings of Israel are trustworthy. Let’s dress in rough cloth to show our sadness, and wear ropes on our heads. Then we will go to the king of Israel, and perhaps he will let you live.”

<sup>32</sup>So they dressed in rough cloth and wore ropes on their heads and went to the king of Israel. They said, “Your servant Ben-Hadad says, ‘Please let me live.’”

Ahab answered, “Is he still alive? He is my brother.”

Ahab said, “Bring him to me.” When Ben-Hadad came, Ahab asked him to join him in the chariot.

<sup>34</sup>Ben-Hadad said to him, “Ahab, I will give you back the cities my father took from your father. And you may put shops in Damascus, as my father did in Samaria.”

Ahab said, “If you agree to this, I will allow you to go free.” So the two kings made a peace agreement. Then Ahab let Ben-Hadad go free.

A Prophet Speaks Against Ahab

<sup>35</sup>One prophet from one of the groups of prophets told another, “Hit me!” He said this because the Lord had commanded it, but the other man refused. <sup>36</sup>The prophet said, “You did not obey the Lord’s command, so a lion will kill you as soon as you leave me.” When the man left, a lion found him and killed him.

<sup>37</sup>The prophet went to another man and said, “Hit me, please!” So the man hit him and hurt him. <sup>38</sup>The prophet wrapped his face in a cloth so no one could tell who he was. Then he went and waited by the road for the king. <sup>39</sup>As Ahab king of Israel passed by, the prophet called out to him. “I went to fight in the battle,” the prophet said. “One of our men brought an enemy soldier to me. Our man said, ‘Guard this man. If he runs away, you will have to give your life in his place. Or, you will have to pay a fine of seventy-five pounds of silver.’ <sup>40</sup>But I was busy doing other things, so the man ran away.”

The king of Israel answered, “You have already said what the punishment is. You must do what the man said.”

<sup>43</sup>Then King Ahab went back to his palace in Samaria, angry and upset.

Life Lessons

1 Kings 21:1–22:53

Situation

King Ahab was not content with what he already had. In partnership with his wicked wife, Jezebel, he killed the owner of a choice vineyard, and they took it for themselves. God promised to bring them to justice.

Observation

Be on the alert: jealousy may creep into life and lead you to sin. Surrounding yourself with bad company during these vulnerable times can lead to sin.

Inspiration

Monkey see, monkey do. When we spend enough time around those in a particular scene, our actions usually become similar. It is just the way we're made. And it is especially true if the one in the minority is insecure and unsure. If you doubt that, you are merely deceiving yourself. Wake up, eagle! Realize the overwhelming power of peer pressure on you as well as your kids. Some call it the "herd instinct." All things being equal, if you run with bad company, you will be corrupted. The good won't rub off on them. Their bad will rub off on you.

Application

If parents in your church are worried about negative peer influence, start a kids' club. If you'd like to nurture better friendships, start a weekly Bible study group, a men's club, a women's club.

Ahab Takes Naboth's Vineyard

After these things had happened, this is what followed. A man named Naboth owned a vineyard in Jezreel, near the palace of Ahab king of Israel. <sup>2</sup>One day Ahab said to Naboth, “Give me your vineyard. It is near my palace, and I want to make it into a vegetable garden. I will give you a better vineyard in its place, or, if you prefer, I will pay you what it is worth.”

<sup>4</sup>Ahab went home angry and upset, because he did not like what Naboth from Jezreel had said. (Naboth had said, “I will not give you my family's land.”) Ahab lay down on his bed, turned his face to the wall, and refused to eat.

<sup>6</sup>Ahab answered, “I talked to Naboth, the man from Jezreel. I said, ‘Sell me your vineyard, or, if you prefer, I will give you another vineyard for it.’ But Naboth refused.”

<sup>8</sup>So Jezebel wrote some letters, signed Ahab's name to them, and used his own seal to seal them. Then she sent them to the older leaders and important men who lived in Naboth's town. <sup>9</sup>The letter she wrote said: “Declare a day during which the people are to give up eating. Call the people together, and give Naboth a place of honor among them.<sup>10</sup> Seat two troublemakers across from him, and have them say they heard Naboth speak against God and the king. Then take Naboth out of the city and kill him with stones.”

<sup>15</sup>When Jezebel heard that Naboth had been killed, she told Ahab, “Naboth of Jezreel is dead. Now you may go and take for yourself the vineyard he would not sell to you.” <sup>16</sup>When Ahab heard that Naboth of Jezreel was dead, he got up and went to the vineyard to take it for his own.

<sup>17</sup>At this time the Lord spoke his word to the prophet Elijah the Tishbite. The Lord said, <sup>18</sup>“Go to Ahab king of Israel in Samaria. He is at Naboth’s vineyard, where he has gone to take it as his own. <sup>19</sup>Tell Ahab that I, the Lord, say to him, ‘You have murdered Naboth and taken his land. So I tell you this: In the same place the dogs licked up Naboth’s blood, they will also lick up your blood!’”

Elijah answered, “Yes, I have found you. You have always chosen to do what the Lord says is wrong. <sup>21</sup>So the Lord says to you, 'I will soon destroy you. I will kill you and every male in your family, both slave and free. <sup>22</sup>Your family will be like the family of King Jeroboam son of Nebat and like the family of King Baasha son of Ahijah. I will destroy you, because you have made me angry and have led the people of Israel to sin.'

<sup>25</sup>There was no one like Ahab who had chosen so often to do what the Lord said was wrong, because his wife Jezebel influenced him to do evil. <sup>26</sup>Ahab sinned terribly by worshiping idols, just as the Amorite people did. And the Lord had taken away their land and given it to the people of Israel.

<sup>27</sup>After Elijah finished speaking, Ahab tore his clothes. He put on rough cloth, refused to eat, and even slept in the rough cloth to show how sad and upset he was.

<sup>28</sup>The Lord spoke his word to Elijah the Tishbite: <sup>29</sup>“I see that Ahab is now sorry for what he has done. So I will not cause the trouble to come to him during his life, but I will wait until his son is king. Then I will bring this trouble to Ahab’s family.”

The Death of Ahab

For three years there was peace between Israel and Aram.

<sup>3</sup>At that time Ahab asked his officers, “Do you remember that the king of Aram took Ramoth in Gilead from us? Why have we done nothing to get it back?” <sup>4</sup>So Ahab asked King Jehoshaphat, “Will you go with me to fight at Ramoth in Gilead?”

“I will go with you,” Jehoshaphat answered. “My soldiers are yours, and my horses are yours.” <sup>5</sup>Jehoshaphat also said to Ahab, “But first we should ask if this is the Lord’s will.”

They answered, “Go, because the Lord will hand them over to you.”

on their royal robes and were sitting on their thrones at the threshing floor, near the entrance to the gate of Samaria. All the prophets were standing before them, speaking their messages. <sup>11</sup>Zedekiah son of Kenaanah had made some iron horns. He said to Ahab, “This is what the Lord says, ‘You will use these horns to fight the Arameans until they are destroyed.’”

Micaiah answered, “Attack and win! The Lord will hand them over to you.”

killed?’

“Some said one thing; some said another. <sup>21</sup>Then one spirit came and stood before the Lord and said, ‘I will trick him.’

“The spirit answered, ‘I will go to Ahab’s prophets and make them tell lies.’

<sup>28</sup>Micaiah said, “Ahab, if you come back safely from battle, the Lord has not spoken through me. Remember my words, all you people!”

<sup>29</sup>So Ahab king of Israel and Jehoshaphat king of Judah went to Ramoth in Gilead. <sup>30</sup>King Ahab said to Jehoshaphat, “I will go into battle, but I will wear other clothes so no one will recognize me. But you wear your royal clothes.” So Ahab wore other clothes and went into battle.

unimportant—except the king of Israel.”<sup>32</sup>When these commanders saw Jehoshaphat, they thought he was certainly the king of Israel, so they turned to attack him. But Jehoshaphat began shouting.<sup>33</sup>When they saw he was not King Ahab, they stopped chasing him.

<sup>37</sup>In that way King Ahab died. His body was carried to Samaria and buried there.<sup>38</sup>The men cleaned Ahab’s chariot at a pool in Samaria where prostitutes bathed, and the dogs licked his blood from the chariot. These things happened as the Lord had said they would.

<sup>39</sup>Everything else Ahab did is written in the book of the history of the kings of Israel. It tells about the palace Ahab built and decorated with ivory and the cities he built.<sup>40</sup>So Ahab died, and his son Ahaziah became king in his place.

Jehoshaphat King of Judah

what the Lord said was right. But Jehoshaphat did not destroy the places where gods were worshiped, so the people continued offering sacrifices and burning incense there.<sup>44</sup>Jehoshaphat was at peace with the king of Israel.<sup>45</sup>Jehoshaphat fought many wars, and these wars and his successes are written in the book of the history of the kings of Judah.<sup>46</sup>There were male prostitutes still in the places of worship from the days of his father, Asa. So Jehoshaphat forced them to leave.

<sup>48</sup>King Jehoshaphat built trading ships to sail to Ophir for gold. But the ships were wrecked at Ezion Geber, so they never set sail.<sup>49</sup>Ahaziah son of Ahab went to help Jehoshaphat, offering to give Jehoshaphat some men to sail with his men, but Jehoshaphat refused.

Ahaziah King of Israel

<sup>51</sup>Ahaziah son of Ahab became king of Israel in Samaria during Jehoshaphat's seventeenth year as king over Judah. Ahaziah ruled Israel for two years,<sup>52</sup>and he did what the Lord said was wrong. He did the same evil his father Ahab, his mother Jezebel, and Jeroboam son of Nebat had done. All these rulers led the people of Israel into more sin.<sup>53</sup>Ahaziah worshiped and served the god Baal, and this made the Lord, the God of Israel, very angry. In these ways Ahaziah did what his father had done.

Kerethites and Pelethites These were probably special units of the army that were responsible for the king's safety, a kind of palace guard.

corners of the altar If a person were innocent of a crime, he could run into the Holy Place where the altar was. If he held on to the corners of the altar, which looked like horns, he would be safe.

corners of the altar If a person were innocent of a crime, he could run into the Holy Place where the altar was. If he held on to the corners of the altar, which looked like horns, he would be safe.

Dan to Beersheba Dan was the city farthest north in Israel, and Beersheba was the city farthest south. So this means all the people of Israel.

stone tablets They were the two tablets on which God wrote the Ten Commandments.

Cabul This name sounds like the Hebrew word for "worthless."

the Lord ... happen When Joshua destroyed Jericho, he said whoever rebuilt the city would lose his oldest and youngest sons. See Joshua 6:26.

Introduction

The tone for the book is set in the first two verses.

After Ahab died, Moab broke away from Israel's rule. Ahaziah fell down through the wooden bars in his upstairs room in Samaria and was badly hurt. He sent messengers and told them, "Go, ask Baal-Zebub, god of Ekron, if I will recover from my injuries" (1:1-2).

In those inaugural words you find death (Ahab died), rebellion (Moab broke away), calamity (Ahaziah fell down), and superstition (Go ask ... the god of Ekron).

What a beginning. It doesn't get any better. Second Kings is not a book for the faint of heart. But it is a book for the serious disciple. Its message is embossed at the top of every page: "The way of transgressors is hard."

Remember what Paul said about the wages of sin being death? This book proves his point. Twenty-five chapters of people reaping the harvest of sin. Story after story of people learning firsthand the eternal truth: The consequence of persistent sin is pain. Pain, not just in your life but in the lives of those you love.

The book relates the decline of two powers.

The Northern Kingdom, Israel, was headquartered in Samaria. Nineteen kings led this nation. Not one was godly. Not one! In spite of strong prophets like Jonah, Amos, Hosea, Elijah, and Elisha, the kings didn't listen.

The Southern Kingdom, Judah, used Jerusalem as its capital. Of its twenty sovereigns, only eight walked with God. Again powerful prophets challenged them. Obadiah, Joel, Isaiah, and Jeremiah were just a few of the men who proclaimed God's message.

But the people didn't listen. They slipped from conviction to compromise into captivity. The book ends with the battered nations of Israel and Judah dragged behind the horses of their conquerors. God will leave them in captivity for seventy years. Plenty of time for them to ponder the lesson: Do not be fooled: You cannot cheat God. People harvest only what they plant (Galatians 6:7).

It took these people several decades to get the point. I hope we are better listeners.

About This Book

Author:

Unknown, though some think Jeremiah the prophet

Date Written:

After the death of Solomon, 900–500 B.C.

Key Themes:

- Though Judah and Israel were declining both politically and spiritually, there were still strong spiritual leaders such as Elijah and Elisha.
- The hearts of the people were affected by the hearts of their king, whether wicked or righteous.
- Since God brought the Hebrews out of Egypt, he had promised that their disobedience would lead to destruction.
- God's promise was revealed in the exile of both Israel to the north and Judah to the south.

Key Verse:

“‘In the future everything in your palace and everything your ancestors have stored up until this day will be taken away to Babylon. Nothing will be left,’ says the Lord” (2 Kings 20:17).

Contents:

1. Elijah’s Final Days 1:1–2:14
2. The Work of Elisha 2:15–13:25
3. Judah and Israel’s Decline and Israel’s Exile 14:1–17:41
4. Judah’s Further Decline and Exile 18:1–25:30

Life Lessons

2 Kings 1:1-18

Situation

Ahaziah served as king of the Northern Kingdom (Israel) for two years. As an evil king, he followed Baal.

Observation

Pagan deities are no help, and God is offended when we think otherwise.

Inspiration

In Jude's brief letter to believers, the apostle firmly warns against false prophets and tells us how to respond to them. "Keep yourselves in the love of God" (Jude 21). Our primary response to false teaching is simply to be right with God in the first place, to make sure we are in fellowship with Him and receiving His blessing and power. Then we can "have mercy on some, who are doubting" (v. 22, NASB)—believers who doubt their faith because of false teachers need reassurance.

Another necessary response might be to "save others, snatching them out of the fire" (v. 23, NASB)—unbelievers bound for hell after hearing false teaching need to be rescued before it's too late.

Finally, Jude tells about a third response to false prophets: "On some have mercy with fear, hating even the garment polluted by the flesh" (v. 23, NASB). We sometimes must confront false prophets and their followers, doing so with a special dependence on the Lord and being careful not to get contaminated by their false teachings. (From Truth for Today by John MacArthur)

Application

False prophets and false gods have always been with us. Study the Scriptures to see their characteristics, and then adopt Jude's three-point plan: stay in God's love; guide believers away from false teachings back to God; and confront (with mercy) false teachers.

Elijah and King Ahaziah

After Ahab died, Moab broke away from Israel's rule. <sup>2</sup>Ahaziah fell down through the wooden bars in his upstairs room in Samaria and was badly hurt. He sent messengers and told them, "Go, ask Baal-Zebub, god of Ekron, if I will recover from my injuries."

<sup>3</sup>But the Lord's angel said to Elijah the Tishbite, "Go up and meet the messengers sent by the king of Samaria. Ask them, 'Why are you going to ask questions of Baal-Zebub, god of Ekron? Is it because you think there is no God in Israel?'" <sup>4</sup>This is what the Lord says: "You will never get up from the bed you are lying on; you will die." Then Elijah left.

<sup>6</sup>They said, "A man came to meet us. He said, 'Go back to the king who sent you and tell him what the Lord says: "Why do you send messengers to ask questions of Baal-Zebub, god of Ekron? Is it because you think there is no God in Israel? You will never get up from the bed you are lying on; you will die."'"

<sup>8</sup>They answered, "He was a hairy man and wore a leather belt around his waist."

Ahaziah said, "It was Elijah the Tishbite."

<sup>9</sup>Then he sent a captain with his fifty men to Elijah. The captain went to Elijah, who was sitting on top of the hill, and said to him, “Man of God, the king says, ‘Come down!’”

<sup>10</sup>Elijah answered the captain, “If I am a man of God, let fire come down from heaven and burn up you and your fifty men.” Then fire came down from heaven and burned up the captain and his fifty men.

<sup>11</sup>Ahaziah sent another captain and fifty men to Elijah. The captain said to him, “Man of God, this is what the king says: ‘Come down quickly!’”

<sup>12</sup>Elijah answered, “If I am a man of God, let fire come down from heaven and burn up you and your fifty men!” Then fire came down from heaven and burned up the captain and his fifty men.

<sup>15</sup>The Lord’s angel said to Elijah, “Go down with him and don’t be afraid of him.” So Elijah got up and went down with him to see the king.

<sup>16</sup>Elijah told Ahaziah, “This is what the Lord says: ‘You have sent messengers to ask questions of Baal-Zebub, god of Ekron. Is it because you think there is no God in Israel to ask? Because of this, you will never get up from your bed; you will die.’” <sup>17</sup>So Ahaziah died, just as the Lord, through Elijah, had said he would.

Joram became king in Ahaziah’s place during the second year Jehoram son of Jehoshaphat was king of Judah. Joram ruled because Ahaziah had no son to take his place.<sup>18</sup>The other things Ahaziah did are written in the book of the history of the kings of Israel.

Elijah Is Taken to Heaven

It was almost time for the Lord to take Elijah by a whirlwind up into heaven. While Elijah and Elisha were leaving Gilgal, <sup>2</sup>Elijah said to Elisha, “Please stay here. The Lord has told me to go to Bethel.”

But Elisha said, “As the Lord lives, and as you live, I won’t leave you.” So they went down to Bethel. <sup>3</sup>The groups of prophets at Bethel came out to Elisha and said to him, “Do you know the Lord will take your master away from you today?”

Elisha said, “Yes, I know, but don’t talk about it.”

<sup>4</sup>Elijah said to him, “Stay here, Elisha, because the Lord has sent me to Jericho.”

But Elisha said, “As the Lord lives, and as you live, I won’t leave you.”

So they went to Jericho. <sup>5</sup>The groups of prophets at Jericho came to Elisha and said, “Do you know that the Lord will take your master away from you today?”

Elisha answered, “Yes, I know, but don’t talk about it.”

<sup>6</sup>Elijah said to Elisha, “Stay here. The Lord has sent me to the Jordan River.”

Elisha answered, “As the Lord lives, and as you live, I won’t leave you.”

So the two of them went on. <sup>7</sup>Fifty men of the groups of prophets came and stood far from where Elijah and Elisha were by the Jordan. <sup>8</sup>Elijah took off his coat, rolled it up, and hit the water. The water divided to the right and to the left, and Elijah and Elisha crossed over on dry ground.

<sup>9</sup>After they had crossed over, Elijah said to Elisha, “What can I do for you before I am taken from you?”

Elisha said, “Leave me a double share of your spirit.”

<sup>10</sup>Elijah said, “You have asked a hard thing. But if you see me when I am taken from you, it will be yours. If you don’t, it won’t happen.”

<sup>11</sup>As they were walking and talking, a chariot and horses of fire appeared and separated Elijah from Elisha. Then Elijah went up to heaven in a whirlwind. <sup>12</sup>Elisha saw it and shouted, “My father! My father! The chariots of Israel and their horsemen!” And Elisha did not see him anymore. Then Elisha grabbed his own clothes and tore them to show how sad he was.

<sup>13</sup>He picked up Elijah’s coat that had fallen from him. Then he returned and stood on the bank of the Jordan. <sup>14</sup>Elisha hit the water with Elijah’s coat and said, “Where is the Lord, the God of Elijah?” When he hit the water, it divided to the right and to the left, and Elisha crossed over.

<sup>15</sup>The groups of prophets at Jericho were watching and said, “Elisha now has the spirit Elijah had.” And they came to meet him, bowing down to the ground before him. <sup>16</sup>They said to him, “There are fifty strong men with us. Please let them go and look for your master. Maybe the Spirit of the Lord has taken Elijah up and set him down on some mountain or in some valley.”

<sup>17</sup>When the groups of prophets had begged Elisha until he couldn’t refuse them anymore, he said, “Send them.” So they sent fifty men who looked for three days, but they could not find him. <sup>18</sup>Then they came back to Elisha at Jericho where he was staying. He said to them, “I told you not to go, didn’t I?”

Elisha Makes the Water Pure

<sup>19</sup>The people of the city said to Elisha, “Look, master, this city is a nice place to live as you can see. But the water is so bad the land cannot grow crops.”

<sup>20</sup>Elisha said, “Bring me a new bowl and put salt in it.” So they brought it to him.

<sup>21</sup>Then he went out to the spring and threw the salt in it. He said, “This is what the Lord says: ‘I have healed this water. From now on it won’t cause death, and it won’t keep the land from growing crops.’” <sup>22</sup>So the water has been healed to this day just as Elisha had said.

Boys Make Fun of Elisha

<sup>23</sup>From there Elisha went up to Bethel. On the way some boys came out of the city and made fun of him. They said to him, “Go up too, you baldhead! Go up too, you baldhead!” <sup>24</sup>Elisha turned around, looked at them, and put a curse on them in the name of the Lord. Then two mother bears came out of the woods and tore forty-two of the boys to pieces. <sup>25</sup>Elisha went to Mount Carmel and from there he returned to Samaria.

Life Lessons

2 Kings 2:1–3:27

Situation

As Elijah’s ministry came to a close, Elisha requested a double portion of the Holy Spirit that rested upon Elijah. Elisha’s request demonstrated his willingness to be God's prophet, no matter the cost.

Observation

The request was granted as Elijah's blessing fell on Elisha. From then on Elisha would wear Elijah's coat and serve with the authority and power it symbolized.

Inspiration

If I were to ask you to describe your heavenly Father, you'd give me a response. If I were to ask you to tell me what Jesus did for you, you'd likely give a cogent answer. But if I were to ask about the role of the Holy Spirit in your life ... ? Eyes would duck. Throats would be cleared. And it would soon be obvious that of the three persons of the Godhead, the Holy Spirit is the one we understand the least.

Perhaps the most common mistake made regarding the Spirit is perceiving him as a power but not a person, a force with no identity. Such is not true. The Holy Spirit is a person.

"The world cannot accept him, because it does not see him or know him. But you know him, because he lives with you and he will be in you" (John 14:17, emphasis mine).

The Holy Spirit is not an "it." He is a person. He has knowledge (1 Corinthians 2:11). He has a will (1 Corinthians 12:11). He has a mind (Romans 8:27). He has affections (Romans 15:30). You can lie to him (Acts 5:3-4). You can insult him (Hebrews 10:29). You can grieve him (Ephesians 4:30).

The Holy Spirit is not an impersonal force. He is not Popeye's spinach or the surfer's wave. He is God within you to help you. In fact John calls him the Helper.

Envision a father helping his son learn to ride a bicycle, and you will have a partial picture of the Holy Spirit. The father stays at the son's side. He pushes the bike and steadies it if the boy starts to tumble. The Spirit does that for us; he stays our step and strengthens our stride. Unlike the father, however, he never leaves. He is with us to the end of the age.

What does the Spirit do?

He comforts the saved. "When I go away, I will send the Helper to you" (John 16:7).

He convicts the lost. "When the Helper comes, he will prove to the people of the world the truth about sin, about being right with God, and about judgment" (John 16:8).

He conveys the truth. "I have many more things to say to you, but they are too much for you now. But when the Spirit of truth comes, he will lead you into all truth" (John 16:12).

Is John saying we don't need the book in order to dance? Of course not; he helped write it. Emotion without knowledge is as dangerous as knowledge without emotion. God seeks a balance. "God is spirit, and those who worship him must worship in spirit and truth" (John 4:24).

What is essential is that you know the music is in you. "If Christ is in you, then the Spirit gives you life" (Romans 8:10). You don't need a formula to hear it. I don't have a four-step plan to help you know it. What I do have is his promise that the Helper would come to comfort, convict, and convey.

So think about it; have you ever been comforted? Has God ever brought you peace when the world brought you pain? Then you heard the music.

Have you ever been convicted? Have you ever sensed a stab of sorrow for your actions? Then you've been touched by the Holy Spirit.

Or have you ever understood a new truth? Or seen an old principle in a new way? The light comes on. Your eyes pop open. "Aha, now I understand." Ever happen to you? If so, that was the Holy Spirit conveying to you a new truth.

What do you know? He's been working in your life already. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

Thank God for the work of the Holy Spirit in your life. Pray to be filled daily with his Spirit. Thank him for giving you the discernment to choose between good and evil.

War Between Israel and Moab

Joram son of Ahab became king over Israel at Samaria in Jehoshaphat's eighteenth year as king of Judah. And Joram ruled twelve years. <sup>2</sup>He did what the Lord said was wrong, but he was not like his father and mother; he removed the stone pillars his father had made for Baal. <sup>3</sup>But he continued to sin like Jeroboam son of Nebat who had led Israel to sin. Joram did not stop doing these same sins.

Jehoshaphat replied, "I will go with you. My soldiers and my horses are yours."

Joram answered, "Through the Desert of Edom."

<sup>9</sup>So the king of Israel went with the king of Judah and the king of Edom. After they had marched seven days, there was no more water for the army or for their animals that were with them. <sup>10</sup>The king of Israel said, "This is terrible! The Lord has called us three kings together to hand us over to the Moabites!"

here? We can ask the Lord through him.”

An officer of the king of Israel answered, “Elisha son of Shaphat is here. He was Elijah’s servant.”

<sup>12</sup>Jehoshaphat said, “He speaks the Lord’s truth.” So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat and the king of Edom went down to see Elisha.

<sup>13</sup>Elisha said to the king of Israel, “I have nothing to do with you. Go to the prophets of your father and to the prophets of your mother!”

The king of Israel said to Elisha, “No, the Lord has called us three kings together to hand us over to the Moabites.”

<sup>14</sup>Elisha said, “As surely as the Lord All-Powerful lives, whom I serve, I tell you the truth. I wouldn’t even look at you or notice you if Jehoshaphat king of Judah were not here. I respect him. <sup>15</sup>Now bring me someone who plays the harp.”

While the harp was being played, the Lord gave Elisha power. <sup>16</sup>Then Elisha said, “The Lord says to dig holes in the valley. <sup>17</sup>The Lord says you won’t see wind or rain, but the valley will be filled with water. Then you, your cattle, and your other animals can drink. <sup>18</sup>This is easy for the Lord to do; he will also hand Moab over to you. <sup>19</sup>You will destroy every strong, walled city and every important town. You will cut down every good tree and stop up all springs. You will ruin every good field with rocks.”

<sup>21</sup>All the Moabites heard that the kings had come up to fight against them. So they gathered everyone old enough to put on armor and waited at the border. <sup>22</sup>But when the Moabites got up early in the morning, the sun was shining on the water. They saw the water across from them, and it looked as red as blood.<sup>23</sup> Then they said, “This is blood! The kings must have fought and killed each other! Come, Moabites, let’s take the valuables from the dead bodies!”

<sup>24</sup>When the Moabites came to the camp of Israel, the Israelites came out and fought them until they ran away. Then the Israelites went on into the land, killing the Moabites.

<sup>25</sup>They tore down the cities and threw rocks all over every good field. They stopped up all the springs and cut down all the good trees. Kir Hareseth was the only city with its stones still in place, but the men with slingshots surrounded it and conquered it, too.

<sup>27</sup>Then the king of Moab took his oldest son, who would have been king after him, and offered him as a burnt offering on the wall. So there was great anger against the Israelites, who left and went back to their own land.

A Widow Asks Elisha for Help

The wife of a man from the groups of prophets said to Elisha, “Your servant, my husband, is dead. You know he honored the Lord. But now the man he owes money to is coming to take my two boys as his slaves!”

The woman said, “I don’t have anything there except a pot of oil.”

<sup>3</sup>Then Elisha said, “Go and get empty jars from all your neighbors. Don’t ask for just a few. <sup>4</sup>Then go into your house and shut the door behind you and your sons. Pour oil into all the jars, and set the full ones aside.”

<sup>5</sup>So she left Elisha and shut the door behind her and her sons. As they brought the jars to her, she poured out the oil. <sup>6</sup>When the jars were all full, she said to her son, “Bring me another jar.”

But he said, “There are no more jars.” Then the oil stopped flowing.

<sup>7</sup>She went and told Elisha. And the prophet said to her, “Go, sell the oil and pay what you owe. You and your sons can live on what is left.”

The Shunammite Woman

<sup>8</sup>One day Elisha went to Shunem, where an important woman lived. She begged Elisha to stay and eat. So every time Elisha passed by, he stopped there to eat. <sup>9</sup>The woman said to her husband, “I know that this is a holy man of God who passes by our house all the time. <sup>10</sup>Let’s make a small room on the roof and put a bed in the room for him. We can put a table, a chair, and a lampstand there. Then when he comes by, he can stay there.”

When the servant had called her, she stood in front of him. <sup>13</sup>Elisha had told his servant, “Now say to her, ‘You have gone to all this trouble for us. What can I do for you? Do you want me to speak to the king or the commander of the army for you?’”

She answered, “I live among my own people.”

He answered, “She has no son, and her husband is old.”

<sup>15</sup>Then Elisha said to Gehazi, “Call her.” When he called her, she stood in the doorway. <sup>16</sup>Then Elisha said, “About this time next year, you will hold a son in your arms.”

The woman said, “No, master, man of God, don’t lie to me, your servant!”

<sup>17</sup>But the woman became pregnant and gave birth to a son at that time the next year, just as Elisha had told her.

The father said to his servant, “Take him to his mother!”

<sup>20</sup>The servant took him to his mother, and he lay on his mother’s lap until noon. Then he died. <sup>21</sup>So she took him up and laid him on Elisha's bed. Then she shut the door and left.

<sup>23</sup>The husband said, "Why do you want to go to him today? It isn't the New Moon or the Sabbath day."

She said, "It will be all right."

<sup>24</sup>Then she saddled the donkey and said to her servant, "Lead on. Don't slow down for me unless I tell you." <sup>25</sup>So she went to Elisha, the man of God, at Mount Carmel.

When he saw her coming from far away, he said to his servant Gehazi, "Look, there's the Shunammite woman! <sup>26</sup>Run to meet her and ask, 'Are you all right? Is your husband all right? Is the boy all right?'"

She answered, "Everything is all right."

<sup>27</sup>Then she came to Elisha at the hill and grabbed his feet. Gehazi came near to pull her away, but Elisha said to him, "Leave her alone. She's very upset, and the Lord has not told me about it. He has hidden it from me."

<sup>28</sup>She said, "Master, did I ask you for a son? Didn't I tell you not to lie to me?"

<sup>29</sup>Then Elisha said to Gehazi, "Get ready. Take my walking stick in your hand and go quickly. If you meet anyone, don't say hello. If anyone greets you, don't respond. Lay my walking stick on the boy's face."

<sup>30</sup>The boy's mother said, "As surely as the Lord lives and as you live, I won't leave you!" So Elisha got up and followed her.

<sup>31</sup>Gehazi went on ahead and laid the walking stick on the boy's face, but the boy did not talk or move. Then Gehazi went back to meet Elisha. “The boy has not awakened,” he said.

<sup>32</sup>When Elisha came into the house, the boy was lying dead on his bed. <sup>33</sup>Elisha entered the room and shut the door, so only he and the boy were in the room. Then he prayed to the Lord. <sup>34</sup>He went to the bed and lay on the boy, putting his mouth on the boy’s mouth, his eyes on the boy’s eyes, and his hands on the boy’s hands. He stretched himself out on top of the boy. Soon the boy’s skin became warm. <sup>35</sup>Elisha turned away and walked around the room. Then he went back and put himself on the boy again. The boy sneezed seven times and opened his eyes.

<sup>36</sup>Elisha called Gehazi and said, “Call the Shunammite!” So he did. When she came, Elisha said, “Pick up your son.” <sup>37</sup>She came in and fell at Elisha’s feet, bowing facedown to the floor. Then she picked up her son and went out.

Elisha and the Stew

<sup>38</sup>When Elisha returned to Gilgal, there was a shortage of food in the land. While the groups of prophets were sitting in front of him, he said to his servant, “Put the large pot on the fire, and boil some stew for these men.”

<sup>39</sup>One of them went out into the field to gather plants. Finding a wild vine, he picked fruit from the vine and filled his robe with it. Then he came and cut up the fruit into the pot. But they didn’t know what kind of fruit it was. <sup>40</sup>They poured out the stew for the others to eat. When they began to eat it, they shouted, “Man of God, there’s death in the pot!” And they could not eat it.

<sup>41</sup>Elisha told them to bring some flour. He threw it into the pot and said, “Pour it out for the people to eat.” Then there was nothing harmful in the pot.

Elisha Feeds the People

<sup>42</sup>A man from Baal Shalishah came to Elisha, bringing him twenty loaves of barley bread from the first harvest. He also brought fresh grain in his sack. Elisha said, “Give it to the people to eat.”

“Give the bread to the people to eat,” Elisha said. “This is what the Lord says: ‘They will eat and will have food left over.’” <sup>44</sup>After he gave it to them, the people ate and had food left over, as the Lord had said.

Situation

God used Elisha to express divine power and concern by working wonders through this faithful servant. The miracles in this passage not only benefited the Israelites but also helped people whom the Israelites considered ungodly and unworthy of God’s attention.

Observation

The Shunammite’s son died. But the mother showed great faith by asking for “the man of God.” The son was brought back to life. Elijah had performed a similar miracle (see 1 Kings 17:17-24).

Inspiration

The problem with this world is that it doesn't fit. Oh, it will do for now, but it isn't tailor-made. We were made to live with God, but on earth we live by faith. We were made to live forever, but on this earth we live but for a moment. We were made to live holy lives, but this world is stained by sin.

This world wears like a borrowed shirt. Heaven, however, will fit like one tailor-made.

By the way, I've often thought it curious how few people Jesus raised from the dead. He healed hundreds and fed thousands, but as far as we know he only raised three: the daughter of Jairus, the boy near Nain, and Lazarus. Why so few? Could it be because he knew he'd be doing them no favors? Could it be because he couldn't get any volunteers? Could it be that once someone is there, the last place they want to return to is here?

My, what a thought. God is taking them away from the evil days ahead. Could death be God's grace? Could the funeral wreath be God's safety ring? Why does an eight-year-old die of cancer? Why is a young mother taken from her children? As horrible as the grave may be, could it be God's protection from the future?

Trust in God, Jesus urges, and trust in me.

Several years ago I heard then Vice President George Bush speak at a prayer breakfast. He told of his trip to Russia to represent the United States at the funeral of Leonid Brezhnev. The funeral was as precise and stoic as the communist regime. No tears were seen, and no emotion displayed. With one exception. Mr. Bush told how Brezhnev's widow was the last person to witness the body before the coffin was closed. For several seconds she stood at his side and then reached down and performed the sign of the cross on her husband's chest.

In the hour of her husband's death, she went not to Lenin, not to Karl Marx, not to Khrushchev. In the hour of death she turned to a Nazarene carpenter who had lived two thousand years ago and who dared to claim: "Don't let your hearts be troubled. Trust in God, and trust in me" [John 14:1]. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Naaman Is Healed

Naaman was commander of the army of the king of Aram. He was honored by his master, and he had much respect because the Lord used him to give victory to Aram. He was a mighty and brave man, but he had a skin disease.

<sup>7</sup>When the king of Israel read the letter, he tore his clothes to show how upset he was. He said, "I'm not God! I can't kill and make alive again! Why does this man send someone with a skin disease for me to heal? You can see that the king of Aram is trying to start trouble with me."

<sup>8</sup>When Elisha, the man of God, heard that the king of Israel had torn his clothes, he sent the king this message: "Why have you torn your clothes? Let Naaman come to me. Then he will know there is a prophet in Israel." <sup>9</sup>So Naaman went with his horses and chariots to Elisha's house and stood outside the door.

<sup>13</sup>Naaman’s servants came near and said to him, “My father, if the prophet had told you to do some great thing, wouldn’t you have done it? Doesn’t it make more sense just to do it? After all, he only told you, ‘Wash, and you will be clean.’” <sup>14</sup>So Naaman went down and dipped in the Jordan seven times, just as Elisha had said. Then his skin became new again, like the skin of a child. And he was clean.

<sup>15</sup>Naaman and all his group returned to Elisha. He stood before Elisha and said, “Look, I now know there is no God in all the earth except in Israel. Now please accept a gift from me.”

<sup>16</sup>But Elisha said, “As surely as the Lord lives whom I serve, I won’t accept anything.” Naaman urged him to take the gift, but he refused.

<sup>17</sup>Then Naaman said, “If you won’t take the gift, then please give me some soil—as much as two of my mules can carry. From now on I’ll not offer any burnt offering or sacrifice to any other gods but the Lord. <sup>18</sup>But let the Lord pardon me for this: When my master goes into the temple of Rimmon to worship, he leans on my arm. Then I must bow in that temple. May the

Naaman left Elisha and went a short way. <sup>20</sup>Gehazi, the servant of Elisha the man of God, thought, “My master has not accepted what Naaman the Aramean brought. As surely as the Lord lives, I’ll run after him and get something from him.” <sup>21</sup>So Gehazi went after Naaman.

When Naaman saw someone running after him, he got off the chariot to meet Gehazi. He asked, “Is everything all right?”

<sup>22</sup>Gehazi said, “Everything is all right. My master has sent me. He said, ‘Two young men from the groups of prophets in the mountains of Ephraim just came to me. Please give them seventy-five pounds of silver and two changes of clothes.’”

<sup>23</sup>Naaman said, “Please take one hundred fifty pounds,” and he urged Gehazi to take it. He tied one hundred fifty pounds of silver in two bags with two changes of clothes. Then he gave them to two of his servants to carry for Gehazi. <sup>24</sup>When they came to the hill, Gehazi took these things from Naaman’s servants and put them in the house. Then he let Naaman’s servants go, and they left.

“I didn’t go anywhere,” he answered.

<sup>26</sup>But Elisha said to him, “My spirit was with you. I knew when the man turned from his chariot to meet you. This isn’t a time to take money, clothes, olives, grapes, sheep, oxen, male servants, or female servants. <sup>27</sup>So Naaman’s skin disease will come on you and your children forever.” When Gehazi left Elisha, he had the disease and was as white as snow.

Life Lessons

2 Kings 5:1–6:7

Situation

A young Israelite slave girl showed courage and faith by speaking out and suggesting her master seek healing and help from the prophet Elisha.

Observation

God intends every Christian to grow in faith and become a mature Christian. But God welcomes, honors, and rewards those who come with the faith of a child.

Inspiration

One of the saddest experiences for a wife or husband is stillbirth, and there is often a tense moment when a baby is delivered as everyone waits for it to squawk and wave its limbs, and then suck, and so show itself to be fully alive. In the same way, not every churned-up soul becomes a live birth spiritually, and signs that new life has really come must be sought from people's actual behavior. The signs whereby a regenerate person may be known correspond to the natural actions of the newborn child.

First, the baby cries, instinctively; and the born-again person instinctively prays, crying to God in dependence, hope and trust as a child to his father. The gospel which he received and to which he responded by embracing Christ as his Saviour and Lord promised him adoption into God's family (Galatians 4:4f), and now it is his nature to treat God as his Father, bringing to him all his own felt needs

Second, the baby sucks, instinctively; and the born-again person also feels a hunger for spiritual food—first the milk and the meat of God’s revealed word (1 Peter 2:2; Hebrews 5:12–14; 1 Corinthians 3:2). He listens to the word preached and taught and discussed; he reads it in his Bible, and in books that throw light on the Bible; he asks questions about it; he meditates on it, memorizes it, chews the cud on it, labours to squeeze all the goodness out of it . . . .

Third, the baby moves, turning its head, flexing its limbs, later on rolling, crawling, tottering, toddling, exploring; and similarly the born-again person moves in the spiritual realm into which he has now come, sorting out priorities, reshaping his life in the light of his new allegiance, exploring Christian relationships and ways of worship, using enterprise for the Lord in many kinds of work and witness . . . .

Fourth, the baby rests, relaxing completely and sleeping soundly in adult arms and wherever else feels firm; and in the same way the born-again person rests in the knowledge that God’s everlasting arms are underneath him, and is able to spend his days, whatever pressures they bring, without panic and in peace . . . .

Childlikeness before God is what regeneration is really all about, inasmuch as the gospel calls for it and regeneration is no more (and no less!) than the work of God in our hearts which leads to the gospel being wholeheartedly received. If only God would make us all simple enough to see this and, having seen it, never to lose sight of it! Then the Christian world would be a very different place. (From God's Words by J. I. Packer)

Application

Grow in your faith: craving spiritual food, worshiping God, and resting in God's timing. Persevering in these areas will demonstrate that your spiritual life is alive!

An Axhead Floats

The groups of prophets said to Elisha, “The place where we meet with you is too small for us. <sup>2</sup>Let’s go to the Jordan River. There everyone can get a log, and let’s build a place there to live.”

Elisha answered, “I will go,” <sup>4</sup>so he went with them. When they arrived at the Jordan, they cut down some trees. <sup>5</sup>As one man was cutting down a tree, the head of his ax fell into the water. He yelled, “Oh, my master! I borrowed that ax!”

<sup>6</sup>Elisha asked, “Where did it fall?” The man showed him the place. Then Elisha cut down a stick and threw it into the water, and it made the iron head float. <sup>7</sup>Elisha said, “Pick up the axhead.” Then the man reached out and took it.

Elisha and the Blinded Arameans

<sup>8</sup>The king of Aram was at war with Israel. He had a council meeting with his officers and said, “I will set up my camp in this place.”

<sup>9</sup>Elisha, the man of God, sent a message to the king of Israel, saying, “Be careful! Don’t pass that place, because the Arameans are going down there!”

The servants came back and reported, “He is in Dothan.”

<sup>15</sup>Elisha’s servant got up early, and when he went out, he saw an army with horses and chariots all around the city. The servant said to Elisha, “Oh, my master, what can we do?”

The Lord opened the eyes of the young man, and he saw that the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire all around Elisha.

<sup>18</sup>As the enemy came down toward Elisha, he prayed to the Lord, “Make these people blind.” So he made the Aramean army blind, as Elisha had asked.

<sup>19</sup>Elisha said to them, “This is not the right road or the right city. Follow me and I’ll take you to the man you are looking for.” Then Elisha led them to Samaria.

<sup>20</sup>After they entered Samaria, Elisha said, “Lord, open these men’s eyes so they can see.” So the Lord opened their eyes, and the Aramean army saw that they were inside the city of Samaria!

<sup>21</sup>When the king of Israel saw the Aramean army, he said to Elisha, “My father, should I kill them? Should I kill them?”

<sup>22</sup>Elisha answered, “Don’t kill them. You wouldn’t kill people whom you captured with your sword and bow. Give them food and water, and let them eat and drink and then go home to their master.” <sup>23</sup>So he prepared a great feast for the Aramean army. After they ate and drank, the king sent them away, and they went home to their master. The soldiers of Aram did not come anymore into the land of Israel.

A Shortage of Food

<sup>24</sup>Later, Ben-Hadad king of Aram gathered his whole army and surrounded and attacked Samaria. <sup>25</sup>There was a shortage of food in Samaria. It was so bad that a donkey’s head sold for about two pounds of silver, and half of a pint of dove’s dung sold for about two ounces of silver.

She answered, “This woman said to me, ‘Give up your son so we can eat him today. Then we will eat my son tomorrow.’

<sup>29</sup>So we boiled my son and ate him. Then the next day I said to her, ‘Give up your son so we can eat him.’ But she had hidden him.”

<sup>30</sup>When the king heard the woman’s words, he tore his clothes in grief. As he walked along the wall, the people looked and saw he had on rough cloth under his clothes to show his sadness.<sup>31</sup> He said, “May God punish me terribly if the head of Elisha son of Shaphat isn’t cut off from his body today!”

<sup>32</sup>The king sent a messenger to Elisha, who was sitting in his house with the older leaders. But before the messenger arrived, Elisha said to them, “See, this murderer is sending men to cut off my head. When the messenger arrives, shut the door and hold it; don’t let him in. The sound of his master’s feet is behind him.”

<sup>33</sup>Elisha was still talking with the leaders when the messenger arrived. The king said, “This trouble has come from the Lord. Why should I wait for the Lord any longer?”

Life Lessons

2 Kings 6:8–8:15

Situation

Aram was a region in southern Syria. The kings of Aram and Israel frequently fought each other, with tenuous times of peace between the battles. During one raid, the Arameans arrived at night and surrounded the city. This caused Elisha’s servant to be greatly afraid, but the prophet told him not to fear.

Observation

Elisha was not disturbed by what he saw; instead, he gave his servant the ability to see the invisible spirits that are constantly ready to do God’s work. The Lord was in control, and there was no need to worry.

Inspiration

The same God that gave us commandments such as “Do not commit adultery, do not murder” said, “Do not worry.” It’s a violation of our relationship to God to question his authority by worrying.

Has any good ever come out of any worrying that you’ve ever done? Worry only compartmentalizes us and makes us unable to do what we set out to do. If you are worried about a problem, what you need to do is simply trust the Lord and do good.

The word “worry” comes from a word that means “to divide.” When you worry, you divide your energy. Do you worry? I worry about you if you don’t worry! All of us worry, but we shouldn’t. Jesus commands us half a dozen times, “Do not worry.” When we worry about a situation, the problem gets us instead of us getting it.

Jesus is not afraid of the things that cause us fear. He never said, “Don’t bring your fears to me; I’m too busy.” Instead, he said, “I’m not afraid of the things that cause you fear. Bring your fears to me.”

(From The Inspirational Bible, “Worry”)

Application

It has been noted that most of the things that we worry about don’t even come to pass. It’s proper to let God know about your concerns, for Jesus said he would provide rest for your soul.

Exploration

Worry—Deuteronomy 31:6–8; Joshua 1:5–9; Matthew 6:25–34; Philippians 4:6–9; Revelation 1:17–18.

Elisha said, “Listen to the Lord’s word. This is what the Lord says: ‘About this time tomorrow seven quarts of fine flour will be sold for two-fifths of an ounce of silver, and thirteen quarts of barley will be sold for two-fifths of an ounce of silver. This will happen at the gate of Samaria.’”

Elisha said, “You will see it with your eyes, but you will not eat any of it.”

<sup>3</sup>There were four men with a skin disease at the entrance to the city gate. They said to each other, “Why do we sit here until we die? <sup>4</sup>There is no food in the city. So if we go into the city, we will die there. If we stay here, we will die. So let’s go to the Aramean camp. If they let us live, we will live. If they kill us, we die.”

<sup>5</sup>So they got up at twilight and went to the Aramean camp, but when they arrived, no one was there. <sup>6</sup>The Lord had caused the Aramean army to hear the sound of chariots, horses, and a large army. They had said to each other, “The king of Israel has hired the Hittite and Egyptian kings to attack us!” <sup>7</sup>So they got up and ran away in the twilight, leaving their tents, horses, and donkeys. They left the camp standing and ran for their lives.

<sup>8</sup>When the men with the skin disease came to the edge of the camp, they went into one of the tents and ate and drank. They carried silver, gold, and clothes out of the camp and hid them. Then they came back and entered another tent. They carried things from this tent and hid them, also. <sup>9</sup>Then they said to each other, “We’re doing wrong. Today we have good news, but we are silent. If we wait until the sun comes up, we’ll

<sup>10</sup>So they went and called to the gatekeepers of the city. They said, "We went to the Aramean camp, but no one is there; we didn't hear anyone. The horses and donkeys were still tied up, and the tents were still standing." <sup>11</sup>Then the gatekeepers shouted out and told the people in the palace.

<sup>12</sup>The king got up in the night and said to his officers, "I'll tell you what the Arameans are doing to us. They know we are starving. They have gone out of the camp to hide in the field. They're saying, 'When the Israelites come out of the city, we'll capture them alive. Then we'll enter the city.'"

<sup>17</sup>The king chose the officer who was close to him to guard the gate, but the people trampled the officer to death. This happened just as Elisha had told the king when the king came to his house. <sup>18</sup>He had said, "Thirteen quarts of barley and seven quarts of fine flour will each sell for two-fifths of an ounce of silver about this time tomorrow at the gate of Samaria.”

<sup>19</sup>But the officer had answered, “Even if the Lord opened windows in the sky, that couldn’t happen.” And Elisha had told him, “You will see it with your eyes, but you won’t eat any of it.” <sup>20</sup>It happened to the officer just that way. The people trampled him in the gateway, and he died.

The Shunammite Regains Her Land

Elisha spoke to the woman whose son he had brought back to life. He said, “Get up and go with your family. Stay any place you can, because the Lord has called for a time without food that will last seven years.”<sup>2</sup> So the woman got up and did as the man of God had said. She left with her family, and they stayed in the land of the Philistines for seven years.<sup>3</sup> After seven years she returned from the land of the Philistines and went to beg the king for her house and land.<sup>4</sup> The king was talking with Gehazi, the servant of the man of God. The king had said, “Please tell me all the great things Elisha has done.”<sup>5</sup> Gehazi was telling the king how Elisha had brought a dead boy back to life. Just then the woman whose son Elisha had brought back to life came and begged the king for her house and land.

Gehazi said, “My master and king, this is the woman, and this is the son Elisha brought back to life.”

Ben-Hadad Is Killed

<sup>7</sup>Then Elisha went to Damascus, where Ben-Hadad king of Aram was sick. Someone told him, “The man of God has arrived.”

<sup>8</sup>The king said to Hazael, “Take a gift in your hand and go meet him. Ask the Lord through him if I will recover from my sickness.”

<sup>9</sup>So Hazael went to meet Elisha, taking with him a gift of forty camels loaded with every good thing in Damascus. He came and stood before Elisha and said, “Your son Ben-Hadad king of Aram sent me to you. He asks if he will recover from his sickness.”

Elisha answered, “Because I know what evil you will do to the Israelites. You will burn their strong, walled cities with fire and kill their young men with swords. You will throw their babies to the ground and split open their pregnant women.”

Elisha answered, “The Lord has shown me that you will be king over Aram.”

Hazael answered, “He told me that you will surely recover.”

<sup>15</sup>But the next day Hazael took a blanket and dipped it in water. Then he put it over Ben-Hadad’s face, and he died. So Hazael became king in Ben-Hadad’s place.

Life Lessons

2 Kings 8:16–9:37

Situation

With Jehoshaphat as a father, Jehoram had a good example to follow. When he became king, however, he foolishly chose to marry the daughter of Ahab and Jezebel (probably as a political alliance). This daughter, Athaliah, brought evil practices and the need for God's judgment to the Southern Kingdom.

Observation

If we purposely ignore God's desire for us, we will find ourselves candidates for his discipline.

Inspiration

In our less consistent moments we almost unconsciously see the conflict between God and Satan as an arm-wrestling match. Their wrists go first this way, then that; God's arm is on top one moment, Satan's the next. We remind ourselves that God will win in the end because He's slightly stronger and can hold out longer. But, we reason, it's going to take much time, effort, and a few close calls. We almost think Satan's schemes throw a monkey wrench into God's plans, catch Him off guard, and present Him with problems He wishes wouldn't happen.

That's silly. The truth is, God is infinitely more powerful than Satan. God, the One who is in you, is greater than Satan, the one who is in the world. Satan owes his very existence to God—he is a created being, an angel, and a fallen one at that. Satan had to receive God's permission before afflicting Job, and even then he was under definite restrictions. Satan's demonic hordes feared Jesus and obeyed Jesus' commands. And the Bible is clear that when our Lord is ready, He will crush the Evil One forever.

No, Satan doesn't sneak out and cause pneumonia and cancer while God happens to be looking the other way listening to the prayers of His saints. He can only do what our all-powerful and all-knowing God allows him to do.

Lord Jesus, I have nothing to fear, knowing that You are in control. There is no accident, injury, or circumstance that can happen beyond Your sovereign will. I recognize that the Devil cannot touch my life, that he cannot even tempt me without gaining Your permission. Help me to realize just how great and powerful You really are!

(From Diamonds in the Dust by Joni Eareckson Tada)

Application

Are you troubled by the evil that surrounds you? Leaders or managers who don't honor God? The suffering of the innocent? The influence of sin?—All of these can weigh you down and make you doubt God's ability to intervene. Remember: God has perfect timing. He has a plan to judge and punish evil. Bring your discouragement to him and rely on his victory.

Jehoram King of Judah

<sup>16</sup>While Jehoshaphat was king in Judah, Jehoram son of Jehoshaphat became king of Judah. This was during the fifth year Joram son of Ahab was king of Israel. <sup>17</sup>Jehoram was thirty-two years old when he began to rule, and he ruled eight years in Jerusalem. <sup>18</sup>He followed the ways of the kings of Israel, just as the family of Ahab had done, because he married Ahab's daughter. Jehoram did what the Lord said was wrong. <sup>19</sup>But the Lord would not destroy Judah because of his servant David. The Lord had promised that one of David's descendants would always rule.

<sup>23</sup>The other acts of Jehoram and all the things he did are written in the book of the history of the kings of Judah. <sup>24</sup>Jehoram died and was buried with his ancestors in Jerusalem, and Jehoram's son Ahaziah ruled in his place.

granddaughter of Omri king of Israel. <sup>27</sup>Ahaziah followed the ways of Ahab's family. He did what the Lord said was wrong, as Ahab's family had done, because he was a son-in-law to Ahab.

<sup>28</sup>Ahaziah went with Joram son of Ahab to Ramoth in Gilead, where they fought against Hazael king of Aram. The Arameans wounded Joram. <sup>29</sup>So King Joram returned to Jezreel to heal from the wound he had received from the Arameans at Ramoth when he fought Hazael king of Aram. Ahaziah son of Jehoram king of Judah went down to visit Joram son of Ahab at Jezreel, because he had been wounded.

Jehu Is Chosen King

At the same time, Elisha the prophet called a man from the groups of prophets. Elisha said, “Get ready, and take this small bottle of olive oil in your hand. Go to Ramoth in Gilead. <sup>2</sup>When you arrive, find Jehu son of Jehoshaphat, the son of Nimshi. Go in and make Jehu get up from among his brothers, and take him to an inner room. <sup>3</sup>Then take the bottle and pour the oil on Jehu’s head and say, ‘This is what the Lord says: I have appointed you king over Israel.’ Then open the door and run away. Don’t wait!”

<sup>4</sup>So the young man, the prophet, went to Ramoth in Gilead. <sup>5</sup>When he arrived, he saw the officers of the army sitting together. He said, “Commander, I have a message for you.”

Jehu asked, “For which one of us?”

The young man said, “For you, commander.”

<sup>6</sup>Jehu got up and went into the house. Then the young prophet poured the olive oil on Jehu’s head and said to him, “This is what the Lord, the God of Israel says: ‘I have appointed you king over the Lord’s people Israel. <sup>7</sup>You must destroy the family of Ahab your master. I will punish Jezebel for the deaths of my servants the prophets and for all the Lord’s servants who were murdered. <sup>8</sup>All of Ahab’s family must die. I will not let any male child in Ahab’s family live in Israel, whether slave or free. <sup>9</sup>I will make Ahab’s family like the family of Jeroboam son of Nebat and like the family of Baasha son of Ahijah. <sup>10</sup>The dogs will eat Jezebel at Jezreel, and no one will bury her.’”

Then the young prophet opened the door and ran away.

Jehu answered, "You know the man and how he talks."

Jehu said, "He said to me, 'This is what the Lord says: I have appointed you to be king over Israel.'"

<sup>13</sup>Then the officers hurried, and each man took off his own coat and put it on the stairs for Jehu. They blew the trumpet and shouted, "Jehu is king!"

Joram and Ahaziah Are Killed

<sup>14</sup>So Jehu son of Jehoshaphat, the son of Nimshi, made plans against Joram. Now Joram and all Israel had been defending Ramoth in Gilead from Hazael king of Aram. <sup>15</sup>But King Joram had to return to Jezreel to heal from the injuries the Arameans had given him when he fought against Hazael king of Aram.

Jehu said, "If you agree with this, don't let anyone leave the city. They might tell the news in Jezreel." <sup>16</sup>Then he got into his chariot and set out for Jezreel, where Joram was resting. Ahaziah king of Judah had gone down to see him.

Joram said, "Take a horseman and send him to meet them. Tell him to ask, 'Is all in order?'"

<sup>18</sup>The horseman rode out to meet Jehu, and he said, "This is what the king says: 'Is all in order?'"

Jehu said, “Why bother yourself with order? Come along behind me.”

The lookout reported, “The messenger reached them, but he is not coming back.”

<sup>19</sup>Then Joram sent out a second horseman. This rider came to Jehu’s group and said, “This is what the king says: ‘Is all in order?’”

Jehu answered, “Why bother yourself with order? Come along behind me.”

Jehu answered, “There will never be any order as long as your mother Jezebel worships idols and uses witchcraft.”

<sup>25</sup>Jehu ordered Bidkar, his chariot officer, “Pick up Joram’s body, and throw it into the field of Naboth the Jezreelite. Remember when you and I rode together with Joram’s father Ahab. The Lord made this prophecy against him: <sup>26</sup>‘Yesterday I saw the blood of Naboth and his sons, says the Lord, so I will punish Ahab in his field, says the Lord.’ Take Joram’s body and throw it into the field, as the Lord has said.”

<sup>30</sup>When Jehu came to Jezreel, Jezebel heard about it. She put on her eye makeup and fixed her hair. Then she looked out the window. <sup>31</sup>When Jehu entered the city gate, Jezebel said, “Have you come in peace, you Zimri, you who killed your master?”

<sup>32</sup>Jehu looked up at the window and said, “Who is on my side? Who?” Two or three servants looked out the window at Jehu. <sup>33</sup>He said to them, “Throw her down.” So they threw Jezebel down, and the horses ran over her. Some of her blood splashed on the wall and on the horses.

<sup>36</sup>When they came back and told Jehu, he said, “The Lord said this through his servant Elijah the Tishbite: ‘The dogs will eat Jezebel at Jezreel. <sup>37</sup>Her body will be like manure on the field in the land at Jezreel. No one will be able to say that this is Jezebel.’”

Families of Ahab and Ahaziah Killed

Ahab had seventy sons in Samaria. Jehu wrote letters and sent them to Samaria to the officers and older leaders of Jezreel and to the guardians of the sons of Ahab. Jehu said, <sup>2</sup>“You have your master’s sons with you, and you have chariots, horses, a city with strong walls, and weapons. When you get this letter, <sup>3</sup>choose the best and most worthy person among your master’s sons, and make him king. Then fight for your master’s family.”

<sup>4</sup>But the officers and leaders of Jezreel were frightened. They said, “Two kings could not stand up to Jehu, so how can we?”

<sup>5</sup>The palace manager, the city governor, the leaders, and the guardians sent a message to Jehu. “We are your servants,” they said. “We will do everything you tell us to do. We won’t make any man king, so do whatever you think is best.”

<sup>6</sup>Then Jehu wrote a second letter, saying, “If you are on my side and will obey me, cut off the heads of your master’s sons and come to me at Jezreel tomorrow about this time.”

Now the seventy sons of the king’s family were with the leading men of the city who were their guardians. <sup>7</sup>When the leaders received the letter, they took the king’s sons and killed all seventy of them. They put their heads in baskets and sent them to Jehu at Jezreel. <sup>8</sup>The messenger came to Jehu and told him, “They have brought the heads of the king’s sons.”

Then Jehu said, “Lay the heads in two piles at the city gate until morning.”

<sup>9</sup>In the morning, Jehu went out and stood before the people and said to them, “You are innocent. Look, I made plans against my master and killed him. But who killed all these?

<sup>10</sup>You should know that everything the Lord said about Ahab's family will come true. The Lord has spoken through his servant Elijah, and the Lord has done what he said." <sup>11</sup>So Jehu killed everyone of Ahab's family in Jezreel who was still alive. He also killed all Ahab's leading men, close friends, and priests. No one who had helped Ahab was left alive.

They answered, "We are relatives of Ahaziah. We have come down to get revenge for the families of the king and the king's mother."

<sup>14</sup>Then Jehu said, "Take them alive!" So they captured Ahaziah's relatives alive and killed them at the well near Beth Eked—forty-two of them. Jehu did not leave anyone alive.

<sup>15</sup>After Jehu left there, he met Jehonadab son of Recab, who was also on his way to meet Jehu. Jehu greeted him and said, "Are you as good a friend to me as I am to you?"

Jehonadab answered, "Yes, I am."

Jehu said, "If you are, then give me your hand." So Jehonadab gave him his hand, and Jehu pulled him into the chariot. <sup>16</sup>"Come with me," Jehu said. "You can see how strong my feelings are for the Lord." So Jehu had Jehonadab ride in his chariot.

<sup>17</sup>When Jehu came to Samaria, he killed all of Ahab's family in Samaria. He destroyed all those who were left, just as the Lord had told Elijah it would happen.

Baal Worshipers Killed

<sup>18</sup>Then Jehu gathered all the people together and said to them, “Ahab served Baal a little, but Jehu will serve Baal much. <sup>19</sup>Now call for me all Baal’s prophets and priests and all the people who worship Baal. Don’t let anyone miss this meeting, because I have a great sacrifice for Baal. Anyone who is not there will not live.” But Jehu was tricking them so he could destroy the worshipers of Baal. <sup>20</sup>He said, “Prepare a holy meeting for Baal.” So they announced the meeting. <sup>21</sup>Then Jehu sent word through all Israel, and all the worshipers of Baal came; not one stayed home. They came into the temple of Baal, and the temple was filled from one side to the other.

Jehu had eighty men waiting outside. He had told them, “Don’t let anyone escape. If you do, you must pay with your own life.”

<sup>25</sup>As soon as Jehu finished offering the burnt offering, he ordered the guards and the captains, “Go in and kill the worshipers of Baal. Don’t let anyone come out.” So the guards and captains killed the worshipers of Baal with the sword and threw their bodies out. Then they went to the inner rooms of the temple <sup>26</sup>and brought out the pillars of the temple of Baal and burned them. <sup>27</sup>They tore down the stone pillar of Baal, as well as the temple of Baal. And they made it into a sewage pit, as it is today.

<sup>28</sup>So Jehu destroyed Baal worship in Israel, <sup>29</sup>but he did not stop doing the sins Jeroboam son of Nebat had done. Jeroboam had led Israel to sin by worshipping the golden calves in Bethel and Dan.

<sup>30</sup>The Lord said to Jehu, “You have done well in obeying what I said was right. You have done to the family of Ahab as I wanted. Because of this, your descendants as far as your great-great-grandchildren will be kings of Israel.” <sup>31</sup>But Jehu was not careful to follow the teachings of the Lord, the God of Israel, with all his heart. He did not stop doing the same sins Jeroboam had done, by which he had led Israel to sin.

<sup>34</sup>The other things Jehu did—everything he did and all his victories—are recorded in the book of the history of the kings of Israel. <sup>35</sup>Jehu died and was buried in Samaria, and his son Jehoahaz became king in his place. <sup>36</sup>Jehu was king over Israel in Samaria for twenty-eight years.

Life Lessons

2 Kings 10:1–36

Situation

King Jehu drastically reformed society. He spoke out against practices that disregarded God’s law and called the people back to God’s standards. He killed wicked Ahab’s household and the prophets of Baal.

Although he led the way in these reforms, he failed to finish the job—he did not remove the idols set up in Dan and Bethel.

Observation

Jehu passionately opposed practices that were dishonoring to God, but some of his own efforts were sinful (Hosea 1:4-5).

Inspiration

It seems a couple of prowlers broke into a department store in a large city... . They took nothing. Absolutely nothing. No merchandise was stolen. No items were removed. But what they did was ridiculous.

Instead of stealing anything, they changed the cost of everything. Price tags were swapped. Values were exchanged. These clever pranksters took the tag off a $395 camera and stuck it on a $5.00 box of stationery. The $5.95 sticker on a paperback book was removed and placed on an outboard motor. They repriced everything in the store!

Crazy? You bet. But the craziest part of this story took place the next morning. The store opened as usual. Employees went to work. Customers began to shop. The place functioned as normal for four hours before anyone noticed what had happened.

Four hours! Some people got some great bargains. Others got fleeced. For four solid hours no one noticed that all the values had been swapped.

Hard to believe? It shouldn't be—we see the same thing happening every day. We are deluged by a distorted value system. We see the most valuable things in our lives peddled for pennies and we see the cheapest smut go for millions.

The salesman who defended his illegal practices by saying, "Let's not confuse business with ethics."

The military men who sold top-secret information (as well as their integrity) for $6,000.

The cabinet member of a large nation who was caught illegally dealing in semi-precious stones. His cabinet position? Minister of Justice.

The father who confessed to the murder of his twelve-year-old daughter. The reason he killed her? She refused to go to bed with him.

Why do we do what we do? Why do we take blatantly black-and-white and paint it gray? Why are priceless mores trashed while senseless standards are obeyed? What causes us to elevate the body and degrade the soul? What causes us to pamper the skin while we pollute the heart?

Our values are messed up. Someone broke into the store and exchanged all the price tags. Thrills are going for top dollar and the value of human beings is at an all-time low...

And you've seen the results of this. Our system goes haywire. We feel useless and worthless. We freak out. We play games. We create false value systems. We say that you are valuable if you are pretty. We say that you are valuable if you can produce...

Now please understand, this is man's value system. It is not God's...

In God's book man is heading somewhere. He has an amazing destiny. We are being prepared to walk down the church aisle and become the bride of Jesus. We are going to live with him. Share the throne with him. Reign with him. We count. We are valuable. And what's more, our worth is built in! Our value is inborn. (From No Wonder They Call Him the Savior by Max Lucado)

Athaliah and Joash

When Ahaziah's mother, Athaliah, saw that her son was dead, she killed all the royal family. <sup>2</sup>But Jehosheba, King Jehoram's daughter and Ahaziah's sister, took Joash, Ahaziah's son. She stole him from among the other sons of the king who were about to be murdered. She put Joash and his nurse in a bedroom to hide him from Athaliah, so he was not killed. <sup>3</sup>He hid with her in the Temple of the Lord for six years. During that time Athaliah ruled the land.

<sup>4</sup>In the seventh year Jehoiada sent for the commanders of groups of a hundred men, as well as the Carites. He brought them together in the Temple of the Lord and made an agreement with them. There, in the Temple of the Lord, he made them promise loyalty, and then he showed them the king's son. <sup>5</sup>He commanded them, "This is what you must do. A third of you who go on duty on the Sabbath will guard the king's palace. <sup>6</sup>A third of you will be at the Sur Gate, and another third will be at the gate behind the guard. This way you will guard the Temple. <sup>7</sup>The two groups who go off duty on the Sabbath must protect the Temple of the Lord for the king. <sup>8</sup>All of you must stand around the king, each man with his weapons in his hand. If anyone comes near, kill him. Stay close to the king when he goes out and when he comes in."

<sup>9</sup>The commanders over a hundred men obeyed everything Jehoiada the priest had commanded. Each one took his men who came on duty on the Sabbath and those who went off duty on the Sabbath, and they came to Jehoiada the priest.

<sup>10</sup>He gave the commanders the spears and shields that had belonged to King David and that were kept in the Temple of the Lord.

Joash Becomes King

<sup>13</sup>When Athaliah heard the noise of the guards and the people, she went to them at the Temple of the Lord. <sup>14</sup>She looked, and there was the king, standing by the pillar, as the custom was. The officers and trumpeters were standing beside him, and all the people of the land were very happy and were blowing trumpets. Then Athaliah tore her clothes and screamed, "Traitors! Traitors!"

<sup>15</sup>Jehoiada the priest gave orders to the commanders of a hundred men, who led the army. He said, "Surround her with soldiers and kill with a sword anyone who follows her." He commanded this because he had said, "Don't put Athaliah to death in the Temple of the Lord." <sup>16</sup>So they caught her when she came to the horses' entrance near the palace. There she was put to death.

<sup>17</sup>Then Jehoiada made an agreement between the Lord and the king and the people that they would be the Lord's special people. He also made an agreement between the king and the people. <sup>18</sup>All the people of the land went to the temple of Baal and tore it down, smashing the altars and idols. They also killed Mattan, the priest of Baal, in front of the altars.

Then Jehoiada the priest placed guards at the Temple of the Lord. <sup>19</sup>He took with him the commanders of a hundred men and the Carites, the royal bodyguards, as well as the guards and all the people of the land. Together they took the king out of the Temple of the Lord and went into the palace through the gate of the guards. Then the king sat on the royal throne. <sup>20</sup>So all the people of the land were very happy, and Jerusalem had peace, because Athaliah had been put to death with the sword at the palace.

Joash became king of Judah in Jehu's seventh year as king of Israel, and he ruled for forty years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Zibiah, and she was from Beersheba.<sup>2</sup> Joash did what the Lord said was right as long as Jehoiada the priest taught him.<sup>3</sup> But the places where gods were worshiped were not removed; the people still made sacrifices and burned incense there.

Joash Repairs the Temple

<sup>4</sup>Joash said to the priests, "Take all the money brought as offerings to the Temple of the Lord. This includes the money each person owes in taxes and the money each person promises or brings freely to the Lord.<sup>5</sup> Each priest will take the money from the people he serves. Then the priests must repair any damage they find in the Temple."

<sup>6</sup>But by the twenty-third year Joash was king, the priests still had not repaired the Temple.<sup>7</sup> So King Joash called for Jehoiada the priest and the other priests and said to them, "Why aren't you repairing the damage of the Temple? Don't take any more money from the people you serve, but hand over the money for the repair of the Temple."<sup>8</sup> The priests agreed not to take any more money from the people and not to repair the Temple themselves.

<sup>9</sup>Jehoiada the priest took a box and made a hole in the top of it. Then he put it by the altar, on the right side as the people came into the Temple of the Lord. The priests guarding the doorway put all the money brought to the Temple of the Lord into the box.

the king's royal secretary and the high priest came. They counted the money that had been brought to the Temple of the Lord, and they put it into bags. <sup>11</sup>Next they weighed the money and gave it to the people in charge of the work on the Temple. With it they paid the carpenters and the builders who worked on the Temple of the Lord, <sup>12</sup>as well as the bricklayers and stonecutters. They also used the money to buy timber and cut stone to repair the damage of the Temple of the Lord. It paid for everything.

<sup>13</sup>The money brought into the Temple of the Lord was not used to make silver cups, wick trimmers, bowls, trumpets, or gold or silver vessels. <sup>14</sup>They paid the money to the workers, who used it to repair the Temple of the Lord. <sup>15</sup>They did not demand to know how the money was spent, because the workers were honest. <sup>16</sup>The money from the penalty offerings and sin offerings was not brought into the Temple of the Lord, because it belonged to the priests.

Joash Saves Jerusalem

<sup>17</sup>About this time Hazael king of Aram attacked Gath and captured it. Then he went to attack Jerusalem. <sup>18</sup>Joash king of Judah took all the holy things given by his ancestors, the kings of Judah—Jehoshaphat, Jehoram, and Ahaziah. He also took his own holy things as well as the gold that was found in the treasuries of the Temple of the Lord and the gold from the palace. Joash sent all this treasure to Hazael king of Aram, who turned away from Jerusalem.

<sup>19</sup>Everything else Joash did is written in the book of the history of the kings of Judah. <sup>20</sup>His officers made plans against him and killed him at Beth Millo on the road down to Silla.

<sup>21</sup>The officers who killed him were Jozabad son of Shimeath and Jehozabad son of Shomer. Joash was buried with his ancestors in Jerusalem, and Amaziah, his son, became king in his place.

Situation

Joash, under the guidance of the priest Jehoiada, purged the land of idolatry. Joash collected money and ordered the priests to repair the Temple. When they failed, he brought in other workmen to complete the task.

Observation

God uses people other than priests and pastors. Sometimes the most effective workers God uses are just ordinary people.

Inspiration

Recently, I read a sociological study that has great significance for those of us who are trying to respond to champions of the yuppies value system. In this particular study fifty people over the age of ninety-five were asked one question: “If you could live your life over again, what would you do differently?”... Three answers constantly re-emerged and dominated the results of that study...

1. If I had it to do over again, I would reflect more.

2. If I had it to do over again, I would risk more.
3. If I had it to do over again, I would do more things that would live on after I am dead.

I think that these elderly people have a good handle on what life is all about. I believe that their perspective gives better direction on how to live life with joy and satisfaction than we can gain from listening to the new kids on the block... . I am convinced that people who want to have fun in life would do well to consider the observations of those whom time has made wise. (From Who Switched the Price Tags? by Tony Campolo)

Jehoahaz King of Israel

Jehoahaz son of Jehu became king over Israel in Samaria during the twenty-third year Joash son of Ahaziah was king of Judah. Jehoahaz ruled seventeen years,<sup>2</sup> and he did what the Lord said was wrong. Jehoahaz did the same sins Jeroboam son of Nebat had done. Jeroboam had led Israel to sin, and Jehoahaz did not stop doing these same sins.<sup>3</sup> So the Lord was angry with Israel and handed them over to Hazael king of Aram and his son Ben-Hadad for a long time.

<sup>8</sup>Everything else Jehoahaz did and all his victories are written in the book of the history of the kings of Israel.<sup>9</sup> Jehoahaz died and was buried in Samaria, and his son Jehoash became king in his place.

Jehoash King of Israel

<sup>10</sup>Jehoash son of Jehoahaz became king of Israel in Samaria during Joash's thirty-seventh year as king of Judah. Jehoash ruled sixteen years, <sup>11</sup>and he did what the Lord said was wrong. He did not stop doing the same sins Jeroboam son of Nebat had done. Jeroboam had led Israel to sin, and Jehoash continued to do the same thing. <sup>12</sup>Everything else he did and all his victories, including his war against Amaziah king of Judah, are written in the book of the history of the kings of Israel. <sup>13</sup>Jehoash died, and Jeroboam took his place on the throne. Jehoash was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel.

The Death of Elisha

<sup>14</sup>At this time Elisha became sick. Before he died, Jehoash king of Israel went to Elisha and cried for him. Jehoash said, "My father, my father! The chariots of Israel and their horsemen!"

<sup>15</sup>Elisha said to Jehoash, "Take a bow and arrows." So he took a bow and arrows. <sup>16</sup>Then Elisha said to him, "Put your hand on the bow." So Jehoash put his hand on the bow. Then Elisha put his hands on the king's hands. <sup>17</sup>Elisha said, "Open the east window." So Jehoash opened the window. Then Elisha said, "Shoot," and Jehoash shot. Elisha said, "The Lord's arrow of victory over Aram! You will defeat the Arameans at Aphek until you destroy them."

<sup>18</sup>Elisha said, "Take the arrows." So Jehoash took them. Then Elisha said to him, "Strike the ground." So Jehoash struck the ground three times and stopped. <sup>19</sup>The man of God was angry with him. "You should have struck five or six times!" Elisha said. "Then you would have struck Aram until you had completely destroyed it. But now you will defeat it only three times.”

At that time groups of Moabites would rob the land in the springtime. <sup>21</sup>Once as some Israelites were burying a man, suddenly they saw a group of Moabites coming. The Israelites threw the dead man into Elisha’s grave. When the man touched Elisha’s bones, the man came back to life and stood on his feet.

War with Aram

<sup>22</sup>During all the days Jehoahaz was king, Hazael king of Aram troubled Israel. <sup>23</sup>But the Lord was kind to the Israelites; he had mercy on them and helped them because of his agreement with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. To this day he has never wanted to destroy them or reject them.

Life Lessons

Situation

Under the domination of Syria, Israel became helpless. The Israelites lost the power to rule themselves and degraded their belief in God by corrupting their religion. Yet, when Jehoahaz prayed to God for the first time in seventeen years, God listened.

Observation

God always listens to a person who sincerely repents and returns to a life of obedience. God wants more than just an outward show of faith. He seeks true devotion.

Inspiration

Out of all the people of the earth, they [Israel] believed God had chosen them to be his own particular people. They described their unique relationship with God as a covenant or binding agreement. The covenant was not something that they invented. On the contrary, it was a gift of God's grace. It was offered to them purely out of God's love for them and for all men. As long as they remained faithful to their covenant with God, life was rich and moved in a purposive direction. But any reader of the Old Testament is familiar with the record of broken covenants, of unfaithfulness, and of growing estrangement between Israel and God. One of the astounding things about human life is that even when we know that the purpose of life is realized in relationship with God, we choose to rebel and try to walk alone. It has been this way from the beginning.

... If one part of the Old Testament is a record of broken covenants and unfaithfulness, the other is a story of continuing forgiveness and renewal. God continued to call man into relationship with himself even in the face of continuing rejection. To our astonishment the Old Testament ends with a promise that God's purpose will soon be even more clearly revealed in a Messiah, one whose life will be the supreme revelation of what every man's life is intended to be. (From Beyond Belief by Edward W. Bauman)

<sup>5</sup>As soon as Amaziah took control of the kingdom, he executed the officers who had murdered his father the king.<sup>6</sup> But he did not put to death the children of the murderers because of the rule written in the Book of the Teachings of Moses. The Lord had commanded: “Parents must not be put to death when their children do wrong, and children must not be put to death when their parents do wrong. Each must die for his own sins.”

<sup>7</sup>In battle Amaziah killed ten thousand Edomites in the Valley of Salt. He also took the city of Sela. He called it Joktheel, as it is still called today.

<sup>9</sup>Then Jehoash king of Israel answered Amaziah king of Judah, “A thornbush in Lebanon sent a message to a cedar tree in Lebanon. It said, ‘Let your daughter marry my son.’ But then a wild animal from Lebanon came by, walking on and crushing the thornbush. <sup>10</sup>You have defeated Edom, but you have become proud. Stay at home and brag. Don't ask for trouble, or you and Judah will be defeated."

<sup>15</sup>The other acts of Jehoash and his victories, including his war against Amaziah king of Judah, are written in the book of the history of the kings of Israel. <sup>16</sup>Jehoash died and was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel, and his son Jeroboam became king in his place.

the town of Elath and made it part of Judah again after Amaziah died.

Jeroboam King of Israel

<sup>23</sup>Jeroboam son of Jehoash became king of Israel in Samaria during the fifteenth year Amaziah was king of Judah. (Amaziah was the son of Joash.) Jeroboam ruled forty-one years, <sup>24</sup>and he did what the Lord said was wrong. Jeroboam son of Nebat had led Israel to sin, and Jeroboam son of Jehoash did not stop doing the same sins. <sup>25</sup>Jeroboam won back Israel's border from Lebo Hamath to the Dead Sea. This happened as the Lord, the God of Israel, had said through his servant Jonah son of Amittai, the prophet from Gath Hopher. <sup>26</sup>The Lord had seen how the Israelites, both slave and free, were suffering terribly. No one was left who could help Israel. <sup>27</sup>The Lord had not said he would completely destroy Israel from the world, so he saved the Israelites through Jeroboam son of Jehoash.

<sup>28</sup>Everything else Jeroboam did is written down—all his victories and how he won back from Judah the towns of Damascus and Hamath for Israel. All this is written in the book of the history of the kings of Israel. <sup>29</sup>Jeroboam died and was buried with his ancestors, the kings of Israel. Jeroboam's son Zechariah became king in his place.

Uzziah King of Judah

Uzziah son of Amaziah became king of Judah during Jeroboam's twenty-seventh year as king of Israel. <sup>2</sup>Uzziah was sixteen years old when he became king, and he ruled fifty-two years in Jerusalem. His mother was named Jecoliah, and she was from Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup>He did what the Lord said was right, just as his father Amaziah had done. <sup>4</sup>But the places where gods were worshiped were not removed, so the people still made sacrifices and burned incense there.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord struck Uzziah with a skin disease, which he had until the day he died. So he had to live in a separate house. Jotham, the king's son, was in charge of the palace, and he governed the people of the land.

<sup>6</sup>All the other things Uzziah did are written in the book of the history of the kings of Judah. <sup>7</sup>Uzziah died and was buried near his ancestors in Jerusalem, and his son Jotham became king in his place.

Zechariah King of Israel

<sup>8</sup>Zechariah son of Jeroboam was king over Israel in Samaria. He ruled for six months during Uzziah's thirty-eighth year as king of Judah. <sup>9</sup>Zechariah did what the Lord said was wrong, just as his ancestors had done. Jeroboam son of Nebat had led the people of Israel to sin, and Zechariah did not stop doing the same sins.

killed him in front of the people. Then Shallum became king in his place. <sup>11</sup>The other acts of Zechariah are written in the book of the history of the kings of Israel. <sup>12</sup>The Lord had told Jehu: “Your sons down to your great-great-grandchildren will be kings of Israel,” and the Lord’s word came true.

Shallum King of Israel

<sup>13</sup>Shallum son of Jabesh became king during Uzziah’s thirty-ninth year as king of Judah. Shallum ruled for a month in Samaria. <sup>14</sup>Then Menahem son of Gadi came up from Tirzah to Samaria and attacked Shallum son of Jabesh in Samaria. He killed him and became king in Shallum’s place.

<sup>15</sup>The other acts of Shallum and his secret plans are written in the book of the history of the kings of Israel.

Menahem King of Israel

<sup>16</sup>Menahem started out from Tirzah and attacked Tiphseh, destroying the city and the area nearby. This was because the people had refused to open the city gate for him. He defeated them and ripped open all their pregnant women.

<sup>17</sup>Menahem son of Gadi became king over Israel during Uzziah’s thirty-ninth year as king of Judah. Menahem ruled ten years in Samaria, <sup>18</sup>and he did what the Lord said was wrong. Jeroboam son of Nebat had led Israel to sin, and all the time Menahem was king, he did not stop doing the same sins.

<sup>19</sup>Pul king of Assyria came to attack the land. Menahem gave him about seventy-four thousand pounds of silver so Pul would support him and make his hold on the kingdom stronger.

Pekahiah King of Israel

<sup>23</sup>Pekahiah son of Menahem became king over Israel in Samaria during Uzziah's fiftieth year as king of Judah. Pekahiah ruled two years, <sup>24</sup>and he did what the Lord said was wrong. Jeroboam son of Nebat had led Israel to sin, and Pekahiah did not stop doing the same sins.

<sup>25</sup>Pekah son of Remaliah was one of Pekahiah's captains, and he made plans against Pekahiah. He took fifty men of Gilead with him and killed Pekahiah, as well as Argob and Arieah, in the palace at Samaria. Then Pekah became king in Pekahiah's place.

<sup>26</sup>Everything else Pekahiah did is written in the book of the history of the kings of Israel.

Pekah King of Israel

<sup>27</sup>Pekah son of Remaliah became king over Israel in Samaria during Uzziah's fifty-second year as king of Judah. Pekah ruled twenty years, <sup>28</sup>and he did what the Lord said was wrong. Jeroboam son of Nebat had led Israel to sin, and Pekah did not stop doing the same sins.

Pekah was king of Israel, capturing the cities of Ijon, Abel Beth Maacah, Janoah, Kedesh, and Hazor. He also captured Gilead and Galilee and all the land of Naphtali and carried the people away to Assyria.<sup>30</sup> Then Hoshea son of Elah made plans against Pekah son of Remaliah and attacked and killed him. Then Hoshea became king in Pekah's place during the twentieth year Jotham son of Uzziah was king.

Jotham King of Judah

<sup>32</sup>Jotham son of Uzziah became king of Judah during the second year Pekah son of Remaliah was king of Israel.<sup>33</sup> Jotham was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he ruled sixteen years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jerusha daughter of Zadok.<sup>34</sup> Jotham did what the Lord said was right, just as his father Uzziah had done.<sup>35</sup> But the places where gods were worshiped were not removed, and the people still made sacrifices and burned incense there. Jotham rebuilt the Upper Gate of the Temple of the Lord.

<sup>36</sup>The other things Jotham did while he was king are written in the book of the history of the kings of Judah.<sup>37</sup> At that time the Lord began to send Rezin king of Aram and Pekah son of Remaliah against Judah.<sup>38</sup> Jotham died and was buried with his ancestors in Jerusalem, the city of David, his ancestor. Then Jotham's son Ahaz became king in his place.

Life Lessons

2 Kings 15:1–16:20

Situation

During this time, all the kings of Israel did what God said was wrong. On the other hand, the kings of Judah did what God said was right. The one exception was Ahaz, who even dedicated his son to false gods. God used many prophets to speak to these rebellious kings: Jonah, Amos, Hosea, Micah, and Isaiah.

Observation

God loves his people even when they are unfaithful children. Israel and Judah remained God's chosen people despite their spiritual adultery.

Inspiration

Now God raised up the prophets, burned into their consciousness a lively awareness of his presence, and sent them to reveal him in a warmer, more passionate manner. Though Israel had played the prostitute whoring after false gods, the prophets cry the constancy of God in the face of human infidelity: "Israel, don't ever be so foolish as to measure my love for you in terms of your love for me! Don't ever compare your thin, pallid, wavering, and moody love with my love, for I am God, not man."

Human love will always be a faint shadow of God's love. Not because it is too sugary or sentimental but simply because it can never compare from whence it comes. Human love with all its passion and emotion is a thin echo of the passion/emotion love of Yahweh.

In the Sinai wilderness the covenant-God was faithful and just. Israel was faithful. They were related. But if Israel became unfaithful, logic and human justice required no further pursuit of Yahweh. He sees the contract broken, picks up his briefcase, and walks out of court. The relationship ended.

But we cannot apply human logic and justice to the living God. Human logic is based on human experience and human nature. Yahweh does not conform to this model. If Israel is unfaithful, God remains faithful against all logic and all limits of justice because he is. Love clarifies the happy irrationality of God's conduct. Love tends to be irrational at times. It pursues despite infidelity. It blossoms into jealousy and anger—which betrays keen interest. The more complex and emotional the image of God becomes in the Bible, the bigger he grows, and the more we approach the mystery of his indefinability. (From The Ragamuffin Gospel by Brennan Manning)

Application

Thank God for his faithfulness to you. Make that faithfulness the model for all your relationships: Concerning family members, how can you serve them? Concerning coworkers, how can you help them perform better? Concerning friends, how can you show your loyalty? All without regard for anything in return.

Ahaz King of Judah

Ahaz was the son of Jotham king of Judah. Ahaz became king of Judah in the seventeenth year Pekah son of Remaliah was king of Israel. <sup>2</sup>Ahaz was twenty years old when he became king, and he ruled sixteen years in Jerusalem. Unlike his ancestor David, he did not do what the Lord his God said was right. <sup>3</sup>Ahaz did the same things the kings of Israel had done. He even made his son pass through fire. He did the same hateful sins as the nations had done whom the Lord had forced out of the land ahead of the Israelites. <sup>4</sup>Ahaz offered sacrifices and burned incense at the places where gods were worshiped, on the hills, and under every green tree.

<sup>7</sup>Ahaz sent messengers to Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria, saying, "I am your servant and your friend. Come and save me from the king of Aram and the king of Israel, who are attacking me." <sup>8</sup>Ahaz took the silver and gold that was in the Temple of the Lord and in the treasuries of the palace, and he sent these as a gift to the king of Assyria. <sup>9</sup>So the king of Assyria listened to Ahaz. He attacked Damascus and captured it and sent all its people away to Kir. And he killed Rezin.

Pileser king of Assyria. Ahaz saw an altar at Damascus, and he sent plans and a pattern of this altar to Uriah the priest. <sup>11</sup>So Uriah the priest built an altar, just like the plans King Ahaz had sent him from Damascus. Uriah finished the altar before King Ahaz came back from Damascus. <sup>12</sup>When the king arrived from Damascus, he saw the altar and went near and offered sacrifices on it. <sup>13</sup>He burned his burnt offerings and grain offerings and poured out his drink offering. He also sprinkled the blood of his fellowship offerings on the altar.

<sup>14</sup>Ahaz moved the bronze altar that was before the Lord at the front of the Temple. It was between Ahaz's altar and the Temple of the Lord, but he put it on the north side of his altar. <sup>15</sup>King Ahaz commanded Uriah the priest, "On the large altar burn the morning burnt offering, the evening grain offering, the king's burnt offering and grain offering, and the whole burnt offering, the grain offering, and the drink offering for all the people of the land. Sprinkle on the altar all the blood of the burnt offering and of the sacrifice. But I will use the bronze altar to ask questions of God." <sup>16</sup>So Uriah the priest did everything as King Ahaz commanded him.

<sup>17</sup>Then King Ahaz took off the side panels from the bases and removed the washing bowls from the top of the bases. He also took the large bowl, which was called the Sea, off the bronze bulls that held it up, and he put it on a stone base. <sup>18</sup>Ahaz took away the platform for the royal throne, which had been built at the Temple of the Lord. He also took away the outside entrance for the king. He did these things because of the king of Assyria.

buried with his ancestors in Jerusalem, and Ahaz's son Hezekiah became king in his place.

Life Lessons

2 Kings 17:1–18:37

Situation

Because of its long history of sin and rebellion, the Northern Kingdom was invaded, beaten, and exiled. Foreigners settled the vacant land and practiced idolatry.

Observation

God consciously disciplines his people. He knows that it is the only way they can learn certain lessons.

Inspiration

The essential meaning of exile is that we are where we don't want to be. We are separated from home. We are not permitted to reside in the place where we comprehend and appreciate our surroundings. We are forced to be away from that which is most congenial to us. It is an experience of dislocation—everything is out of joint; nothing fits together. The thousand details that have been built up through the years that give a sense of at-home—gestures, customs, rituals, phrases—are all gone. Life is ripped out of the familiar soil of generations of language, habit, weather, storytelling, and rudely and unceremoniously dropped into some unfamiliar spot of earth. The place of exile may boast a higher standard of living. It may be more pleasant in its weather. That doesn't matter. It isn't home.

But this very strangeness can open up new reality to us. An accident, a tragedy, a disaster of any kind can force the realization that the world is not predictable, that reality is far more extensive than our habitual perception of it. With the pain and in the midst of alienation a sense of freedom can occur. (From Run with the Horses by Eugene Peterson)

Application

God permits some hard times into our lives to teach us. When hardship comes, thank God for this demonstration of love. Then ask him to help you learn from the situation.

Hoshea, Last King of Israel

Hoshea son of Elah became king over Israel during Ahaz's twelfth year as king of Judah. Hoshea ruled in Samaria nine years. <sup>2</sup>He did what the Lord said was wrong, but he was not as bad as the kings of Israel who had ruled before him.

<sup>3</sup>Shalmaneser king of Assyria came to attack Hoshea. Hoshea had been Shalmaneser's servant and had made the payments to Shalmaneser that he had demanded. <sup>4</sup>But the king of Assyria found out that Hoshea had made plans against him by sending messengers to So, the king of Egypt. Hoshea had also stopped giving Shalmaneser the payments, which he had paid every year in the past. For that, the king put Hoshea in prison. <sup>5</sup>Then the king of Assyria came and attacked all the land of Israel. He surrounded Samaria and attacked it for three years. <sup>6</sup>He defeated Samaria in the ninth year Hoshea was king, and he took the Israelites away to Assyria. He settled them in Halah, in Gozan on the Habor River, and in the cities of the Medes.

Israelites Punished for Sin

<sup>7</sup>All these things happened because the Israelites had sinned against the Lord their God. He had brought them out of Egypt and had rescued them from the power of the king of Egypt, but the Israelites had honored other gods.<sup>8</sup> They lived like the nations the Lord had forced out of the land ahead of them. They lived as their evil kings had shown them,<sup>9</sup> secretly sinning against the Lord their God. They built places to worship gods in all their cities, from the watchtower to the strong, walled city.<sup>10</sup> They put up stone pillars to gods and Asherah idols on every high hill and under every green tree.<sup>11</sup> The Israelites burned incense everywhere gods were worshiped, just as the nations who lived there before them had done, whom the Lord had forced out of the land. The Israelites did wicked things that made the Lord angry.<sup>12</sup> They served idols when the Lord had said, “You must not do this.”<sup>13</sup> The Lord used every prophet and seer to warn Israel and Judah. He said, “Stop your evil ways and obey my commands and laws. Follow all the teachings that I commanded your ancestors, the teachings that I gave you through my servants the prophets.”

<sup>14</sup>But the people would not listen. They were stubborn, just as their ancestors had been who did not believe in the Lord their God.<sup>15</sup> They rejected the Lord’s laws and the agreement he had made with their ancestors. And they refused to listen to his warnings. They worshiped useless idols and became useless themselves. They did what the nations around them did, which the Lord had warned them not to do.

<sup>16</sup>The people rejected all the commands of the Lord their God. They molded statues of two calves, and they made an Asherah idol. They worshiped all the stars of the sky and served Baal.<sup>17</sup> They made their sons and daughters pass through fire and tried to find out the future by magic and witchcraft. They always chose to do what the Lord said was wrong, which made him angry.<sup>18</sup> Because he was very angry with the people of Israel, he removed them from his presence. Only the tribe of Judah was left.

Judah Is Also Guilty

<sup>19</sup>But even Judah did not obey the commands of the Lord their God. They did what the Israelites had done,<sup>20</sup>so the Lord rejected all the people of Israel. He punished them and let others destroy them; he threw them out of his presence.<sup>21</sup>When the Lord separated them from the family of David, the Israelites made Jeroboam son of Nebat their king. Jeroboam led the Israelites away from the Lord and led them to sin greatly.<sup>22</sup>So they continued to do all the sins Jeroboam did. They did not stop doing these sins<sup>23</sup>until the Lord removed the Israelites from his presence, just as he had said through all his servants the prophets. So the Israelites were taken out of their land to Assyria, and they have been there to this day.

New Life in Christ

“Do not honor other gods. Instead worship the Lord your God, who will save you from all your enemies.”—2 Kings 17:38–39

The One Who Can Save You from Your Enemies

When Jesus says he will keep you safe, he means it. Hell will have to get through him to get to you. Jesus is able to protect you. When he says he will get you home, he will get you home.

Let me conclude this chapter with an important question. Has Satan invaded a garden of your life?

Has he profaned a holy part of your world? Your marriage? Your purity? Your honesty? Has he taken away from you a rose God gave? If so, let Jesus claim it back. Today. Now. Before you turn the page.

Forgive me for sounding urgent, but I am. Satan has no authority over you. If he has invaded a garden of your life, then invite Jesus to reclaim it. Open the gate to God. He will enter and do what he did at Gethsemane. He will pray, and he will protect.

Why don't you do that?

Don't know how? It's easy. I'll help you. Let's pray. You and me. I'll show you the way; you fill in the blanks.

Precious Father, I praise your name. You have reclaimed so much in my life. I was lost, and you found me. I was confused, and you guided me. I had nothing to offer, but still you loved me.

I confess that I still need help. I have a part of my life that needs your touch. Satan is battling for a garden in my heart. Don't let him win. Drive him out. He is a liar and has been since the beginning. Please defeat him. I'll give you the glory.

Father, here is the area where I need your strength: _____. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

The Beginning of the Samaritan People

<sup>27</sup>Then the king of Assyria commanded, “Send back one of the priests you took away. Let him live there and teach the people what the god wants.” <sup>28</sup>So one of the priests who had been carried away from Samaria returned to live in Bethel. And he taught the people how to honor the Lord.

for the people. <sup>33</sup>The people honored the Lord but also served their own gods, just as the nations did from which they had been brought. <sup>34</sup>Even today they do as they did in the past. They do not worship the Lord nor obey his rules and commands. They do not obey the teachings or the commands of the Lord, which he gave to the children of Jacob, whom he had named Israel. <sup>35</sup>The Lord had made an agreement with them and had commanded them, “Do not honor other gods. Do not bow down to them or worship them or offer sacrifices to them. <sup>36</sup>Worship the Lord who brought you up out of the land of Egypt with great power and strength. Bow down to him and offer sacrifices to him. <sup>37</sup>Always obey the rules, orders, teachings, and commands he wrote for you. Do not honor other gods. <sup>38</sup>Do not forget the agreement I made with you, and do not honor other gods. <sup>39</sup>Instead worship the Lord your God, who will save you from all your enemies.”

Hezekiah King of Judah

Hezekiah son of Ahaz king of Judah became king during the third year Hoshea son of Elah was king of Israel.<sup>2</sup> Hezekiah was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he ruled twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Abijah daughter of Zechariah.<sup>3</sup> Hezekiah did what the Lord said was right, just as his ancestor David had done.<sup>4</sup> He removed the places where gods were worshiped. He smashed the stone pillars and cut down the Asherah idols. Also the Israelites had been burning incense to Nehushtan, the bronze snake Moses had made. But Hezekiah broke it into pieces.

<sup>5</sup>Hezekiah trusted in the Lord, the God of Israel. There was no one like him among all the kings of Judah, either before him or after him.<sup>6</sup> Hezekiah was loyal to the Lord and did not stop following him; he obeyed the commands the Lord had given Moses.<sup>7</sup> And the Lord was with Hezekiah, so he had success in everything he did. He turned against the king of Assyria and stopped serving him.<sup>8</sup> Hezekiah defeated the Philistines all the way to Gaza and its borders, including the watchtowers and the strong, walled cities.

The Assyrians Capture Samaria

<sup>9</sup>Shalmaneser king of Assyria surrounded Samaria and attacked it in the fourth year Hezekiah was king. This was the seventh year Hoshea son of Elah was king of Israel.<sup>10</sup> After three years the Assyrians captured Samaria. This was in the sixth year

Hezekiah was king, which was Hoshea's ninth year as king of Israel. <sup>11</sup>The king of Assyria took the Israelites away to Assyria and settled them in Halah, in Gozan on the Habor River, and in the cities of the Medes. <sup>12</sup>This happened because they did not obey the Lord their God. They broke his agreement and did not obey all that Moses, the Lord's servant, had commanded. They would not listen to the commands or do them.

Assyria Attacks Judah

<sup>13</sup>During Hezekiah's fourteenth year as king, Sennacherib king of Assyria attacked all the strong, walled cities of Judah and captured them. <sup>14</sup>Then Hezekiah king of Judah sent a message to the king of Assyria at Lachish. He said, "I have done wrong. Leave me alone, and I will pay anything you ask." So the king of Assyria made Hezekiah pay about twenty-two thousand pounds of silver and two thousand pounds of gold. <sup>15</sup>Hezekiah gave him all the silver that was in the Temple of the Lord and in the palace treasuries. <sup>16</sup>Hezekiah stripped all the gold that covered the doors and doorposts of the Temple of the Lord. Hezekiah had put gold on these doors himself, but he gave it all to the king of Assyria.

recorder.

<sup>26</sup>Then Eliakim son of Hilkiah, Shebna, and Joah said to the field commander, “Please speak to us in the Aramaic language. We understand it. Don’t speak to us in Hebrew, because the people on the city wall can hear you.”

<sup>27</sup>“No,” the commander said, “my master did not send me to tell these things only to you and your king. He sent me to speak also to those people sitting on the wall who will have to eat their own dung and drink their own urine like you.”

Hebrew language, “Listen to what the great king, the king of Assyria, says!<sup>29</sup> The king says you should not let Hezekiah fool you, because he can’t save you from my power.<sup>30</sup> Don’t let Hezekiah talk you into trusting the Lord by saying, ‘The Lord will surely save us. This city won’t be handed over to the king of Assyria.’

<sup>37</sup>Then Eliakim, Shebna, and Joah tore their clothes to show how upset they were. (Eliakim son of Hilkiah was the palace manager, Shebna was the royal secretary, and Joah son of Asaph was the recorder.) The three men went to Hezekiah and told him what the field commander had said.

Jerusalem Will Be Saved

When King Hezekiah heard the message, he tore his clothes and put on rough cloth to show how sad he was. Then he went into the Temple of the Lord. <sup>2</sup>Hezekiah sent Eliakim, the palace manager, and Shebna, the royal secretary, and the older priests to Isaiah. They were all wearing rough cloth when they came to Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz. <sup>3</sup>They told Isaiah, “This is what Hezekiah says: Today is a day of sorrow and punishment and disgrace, as when a child should be born, but the mother is not strong enough to give birth to it. <sup>4</sup>The king of Assyria sent his field commander to make fun of the living God. Maybe the Lord your God will hear what the commander said and will punish him for it. So pray for the few of us who are left alive.”

over to the king of Assyria. <sup>11</sup>You have heard what the kings of Assyria have done. They have completely defeated every country, so do not think you will be saved. <sup>12</sup>Did the gods of those people save them? My ancestors destroyed them, defeating the cities of Gozan, Haran, and Rezeph, and the people of Eden living in Tel Assar. <sup>13</sup>Where are the kings of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the kings of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivvah?”

Hezekiah Prays to the Lord

<sup>14</sup>When Hezekiah received the letter from the messengers and read it, he went up to the Temple of the Lord. He spread the letter out before the Lord <sup>15</sup>and prayed to the Lord: “Lord, God of Israel, whose throne is between the gold creatures with wings, only you are God of all the kingdoms of the earth. You made the heavens and the earth. <sup>16</sup>Hear, Lord, and listen. Open your eyes, Lord, and see. Listen to the words Sennacherib has said to insult the living God. <sup>17</sup>It is true, Lord, that the kings of Assyria have destroyed these countries and their lands. <sup>18</sup>They have thrown the gods of these nations into the fire, but they were only wood and rock statues that people made. So the kings have destroyed them. <sup>19</sup>Now, Lord our God, save us from the king’s power so that all the kingdoms of the earth will know that you, Lord, are the only God.”

God Answers Hezekiah

<sup>20</sup>Then Isaiah son of Amoz sent a message to Hezekiah that said, “This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: I have heard your prayer to me about Sennacherib king of Assyria.

‘The people of Jerusalem
hate you and make fun of you.

The people of Jerusalem
laugh at you as you run away.

<sup>22</sup>You have insulted me and spoken against me;
you have raised your voice against me.

You have a proud look on your face,
which is against me, the Holy One of Israel.

You have said, “With my many chariots
I have gone to the tops of the mountains,
to the highest mountains of Lebanon.

I have cut down its tallest cedars
and its best pine trees.

I have gone to its farthest places and to its best forests.

and drunk water there.

By the soles of my feet,
I have dried up all the rivers of Egypt.”

Long ago I, the Lord, planned these things.

Long ago I designed them,
and now I have made them happen.

I allowed you to turn those strong, walled cities
into piles of rocks.

they were frightened and put to shame.
They were like grass in the field,
like tender, young grass,
like grass on the housetop
that is burned by the wind before it can grow.

when you come and go,
and how you rage against me.

<sup>28</sup>Because you rage against me,
and because I have heard your proud words,
I will put my hook in your nose
and my bit in your mouth.
Then I will force you to leave my country
the same way you came.’

<sup>29</sup>“Then the Lord said, ‘Hezekiah, I will give you this sign:

This year you will eat the grain that grows wild, and the second year you will eat what grows wild from
that.

But in the third year, plant grain and harvest it.
Plant vineyards and eat their fruit.

will escape.

Like plants that take root,
they will grow strong and have many children.

<sup>31</sup>A few people will come out of Jerusalem alive;
a few from Mount Zion will live.

The strong love of the Lord All-Powerful
will make this happen.’

‘He will not enter this city
or even shoot an arrow here.
He will not fight against it with shields
or build a ramp to attack the city walls.

<sup>33</sup>He will return to his country the same way he came,
and he will not enter this city,’
says the Lord.

<sup>34</sup>‘I will defend and save this city for my sake and for the sake of David, my servant.’”

<sup>35</sup>That night the angel of the Lord went out and killed one hundred eighty-five thousand men in the Assyrian camp. When the people got up early the next morning, they saw all the dead bodies. <sup>36</sup>So Sennacherib king of Assyria left and went back to Nineveh and stayed there.

<sup>37</sup>One day as Sennacherib was worshipping in the temple of his god Nisroch, his sons Adrammelech and Sharezer killed him with a sword. Then they escaped to the land of Ararat. So Sennacherib’s son Esarhaddon became king of Assyria.

Hezekiah's Illness

At that time Hezekiah became so sick he almost died. The prophet Isaiah son of Amoz went to see him and told him, “This is what the Lord says: Make arrangements because you are not going to live, but die.”

<sup>2</sup>Hezekiah turned toward the wall and prayed to the Lord, <sup>3</sup>“Lord, please remember that I have always obeyed you. I have given myself completely to you and have done what you said was right.” Then Hezekiah cried loudly.

<sup>7</sup>Then Isaiah said, “Make a paste from figs.” So they made it and put it on Hezekiah's boil, and he got well.

<sup>8</sup>Hezekiah had asked Isaiah, “What will be the sign that the Lord will heal me and that I will go up to the Temple of the Lord on the third day?”

<sup>11</sup>Then Isaiah the prophet called to the Lord, and the Lord brought the shadow ten steps back up the stairway of Ahaz that it had gone down.

Messengers from Babylon

<sup>12</sup>At that time Merodach-Baladan son of Baladan was king of Babylon. He sent letters and a gift to Hezekiah, because he had heard that Hezekiah was sick. <sup>13</sup>Hezekiah listened to the messengers, so he showed them what was in his storehouses: the silver, gold, spices, expensive perfumes, his swords and shields, and all his wealth. He showed them everything in his palace and his kingdom.

Hezekiah said, “They came from a faraway country—from Babylon.”

Hezekiah said, “They saw everything in my palace. I showed them all my wealth.”

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The Healer

[Matthew 9:20–22 tells the story of a woman who had] a chronic menstrual disorder. A perpetual issue of blood. Such a condition would be difficult for any woman of any era... . She was a bruised reed. She awoke daily in a body that no one wanted. She is down to her last prayer. And on the day we encounter her, she's about to pray it.

By the time she gets to Jesus, he is surrounded by people. He's on his way to help the daughter of Jairus, the most important man in the community. What are the odds that he will interrupt an urgent mission with a high official to help the likes of her? Very few. But what are the odds that she will survive if she doesn't take a chance? Fewer still. So she takes a chance.

"If I can just touch his clothes," she thinks, "I will be healed."

Risky decision. To touch him, she will have to touch the people. If one of them recognizes her... . But what choice does she have? She has no money, no clout, no friends, no solutions. All she has is a crazy hunch that Jesus can help and a high hope that he will...

God's economy is upside down (or rightside up and ours is upside down!). God says that the more hopeless your circumstance, the more likely your salvation. The greater your cares, the more genuine your prayers. The darker the room, the greater the need for light.

A healthy lady never would have appreciated the power of a touch of the hem of his robe. But this woman was sick ... and when her dilemma met his dedication, a miracle occurred.

Healing begins when we do something. Healing begins when we reach out. Healing starts when we take a step. (From He still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

<sup>20</sup>Everything else Hezekiah did—all his victories, his work on the pool, his work on the tunnel to bring water into the city—is written in the book of the history of the kings of Judah. <sup>21</sup>Then Hezekiah died, and his son Manasseh became king in his place.

Life Lessons

2 Kings 19:1–21:26

Situation

Because God loved Hezekiah, he healed him. Hezekiah prayed, God healed, and the king lived. His son, Manasseh, became the next king and led Israel into sin.

Observation

What a contrast! Hezekiah obeyed God and did what was right. His son Manasseh, however, made idolatry and defection from God a mark of his reign; and Hezekiah’s grandson Amon followed in Manasseh's wicked footsteps.

Inspiration

As a general rule, parents who follow biblical principles in bringing up their children will see a positive effect on the character of their children. From a purely statistical point of view, children who grow up in Christ-honoring homes are more likely to remain faithful to Christ in adulthood than kids growing up in homes where the parents dishonor the Lord. The truism of Proverbs 22:6 does apply. We're certainly not to think that God's sovereignty in salvation means the way we raise our kids is immaterial. God often uses faithful parents as instruments in the salvation of children.

Ultimately, however, your children's salvation is a matter to be settled between them and God. Nothing you can do will guarantee your kids' salvation. To that end you should be praying to God and instructing your child—using all available means to impress the truths of the gospel perpetually on the child's heart. But ultimately a grown child's spiritual fitness alone is not necessarily a reliable gauge of the parents' success.

Having said that, I want to stress that sometimes—I should say often—parents are partly to blame for their wayward children's rebellion. And it has been my observation over the years that parents are generally more to blame for wayward kids than society, or peers, or any of the other influences parents tend to blame. I occasionally encounter parents who have violated nearly every biblical principle of parenting, who nonetheless come to the pastor seeking some kind of absolution from the responsibility for their children's defiance. They want verbal assurance that they are in no way to blame; someone else is.

Yet God Himself has given the responsibility for raising children to parents—not to schoolteachers, peers, child-care workers, or other people outside the family—and therefore it is wrong for parents to attempt to unload that responsibility or shift the blame when things go wrong.

(From Successful Christian Parenting by John MacArthur)

If you are a parent, how would you evaluate your parenting skills? Study God's rules of parenting. Take responsibility for raising your children to honor and love God.

Manasseh King of Judah

Manasseh was twelve years old when he became king, and he was king fifty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hephzibah. <sup>2</sup>He did what the Lord said was wrong. He did the hateful things the other nations had done —the nations that the Lord had forced out of the land ahead of the Israelites. <sup>3</sup>Manasseh's father, Hezekiah, had destroyed the places where gods were worshiped, but Manasseh rebuilt them. He built altars for Baal, and he made an Asherah idol as Ahab king of Israel had done. Manasseh also worshiped all the stars of the sky and served them. <sup>4</sup>The Lord had said about the Temple, "I will be worshiped in Jerusalem," but Manasseh built altars in the Temple of the Lord. <sup>5</sup>He built altars to worship the stars in the two courtyards of the Temple of the Lord. <sup>6</sup>He made his own son pass through fire. He practiced magic and told the future by explaining signs and dreams, and he got advice from mediums and fortune-tellers. He did many things the Lord said were wrong, which made the Lord angry.

<sup>7</sup>Manasseh carved an Asherah idol and put it in the Temple. The Lord had said to David and his son Solomon about the Temple, "I will be worshiped forever in this Temple and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen from all the tribes of Israel. <sup>8</sup>I will never again make the Israelites wander out of the land I gave their ancestors. But they must obey everything I have commanded them and all the teachings my servant Moses gave them." <sup>9</sup>But the people did not listen. Manasseh led them to do more evil than the nations the Lord had destroyed ahead of the Israelites.

<sup>11</sup>“Manasseh king of Judah has done these hateful things. He has done more evil than the Amorites before him. He also has led Judah to sin with his idols. <sup>12</sup>So this is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: ‘I will bring so much trouble on Jerusalem and Judah that anyone who hears about it will be shocked. <sup>13</sup>I will stretch the measuring line of Samaria over Jerusalem, and the plumb line used against Ahab’s family will be used on Jerusalem. I will wipe out Jerusalem as a person wipes a dish and turns it upside down. <sup>14</sup>I will throw away the rest of my people who are left. I will give them to their enemies, and they will be robbed by all their enemies, <sup>15</sup>because my people did what I said was wrong. They have made me angry from the day their ancestors left Egypt until now.’”

<sup>16</sup>Manasseh also killed many innocent people, filling Jerusalem from one end to the other with their blood. This was besides the sin he led Judah to do; he led Judah to do what the Lord said was wrong.

<sup>17</sup>The other things Manasseh did as king, even the sin he did, are written in the book of the history of the kings of Judah. <sup>18</sup>Manasseh died and was buried in the garden of his own palace, the garden of Uzza. Then Manasseh’s son Amon became king in his place.

Amon King of Judah

<sup>19</sup>Amon was twenty-two years old when he became king, and he was king for two years in Jerusalem. His mother’s name was Meshullemeth daughter of Haruz, who was from Jotbah. <sup>20</sup>Amon did what the Lord said was wrong, as his father

Manasseh had done. <sup>21</sup>He lived in the same way his father had lived: he worshiped the idols his father had worshiped, and he bowed down before them. <sup>22</sup>Amon rejected the Lord, the God of his ancestors, and did not follow the ways of the Lord.

<sup>23</sup>Amon's officers made plans against him and killed him in his palace. <sup>24</sup>Then the people of the land killed all those who had made plans to kill King Amon, and they made his son Josiah king in his place.

<sup>25</sup>Everything else Amon did is written in the book of the history of the kings of Judah. <sup>26</sup>He was buried in his grave in the garden of Uzza, and his son Josiah became king in his place.

Life Lessons

2 Kings 22:1–23:35

Situation

Josiah obeyed God with undivided devotion and initiated thorough reforms. While repairing the formerly neglected Temple, God's Word was found. Josiah used God's Word to bring drastic changes to the nation's lifestyle.

Observation

God used one man to bring a revival to an entire nation.

Inspiration

Maybe your past isn't much to brag about. Maybe you've seen raw evil. And now you, like Josiah, have to make a choice. Do you rise above the past and make a difference? Or do you remain controlled by the past and make excuses?

Many choose the latter.

Many choose the convalescent homes of the heart. Healthy bodies. Sharp minds. But retired dreams. Back and forth they rock in the chair of regret, repeating the terms of surrender. Lean closely and you will hear them: "If only." The white flag of the heart.

"If only ..."

"If only I'd been born somewhere else ..."

"If only I'd been treated fairly ..."

"If only I'd had kinder parents, more money, greater opportunities ..."

Maybe you’ve used those words. Maybe you have every right to use them. Perhaps you, like Josiah, were hearing the ten count before you even got into the ring. For you to find an ancestor worth imitating, you, like Josiah, have to flip way back in your family album.

If such is the case, let me show you where to turn. Put down the scrapbook and pick up your Bible. Go to John’s Gospel and read Jesus’ words: “Human life comes from human parents, but spiritual life comes from the Spirit” (John 3:6).

Think about that. Spiritual life comes from the Spirit! Your parents may have given you genes, but God gives you grace. Your parents may be responsible for your body, but God has taken charge of your soul. You may get your looks from your mother, but you get eternity from your Father, your heavenly Father. . . .

God has not left you adrift on a sea of heredity. Just like Josiah, you cannot control the way your forefathers responded to God. But you can control the way you respond to him. The past does not have to be your prison. You have a voice in your destiny. You have a say in your life. You have a choice in the path you take.

Choose well and someday—generations from now—your grandchildren and great-grandchildren will thank God for the seeds you sowed. (From When God Whispers Your Name by Max Lucado)

Scripture—Deuteronomy 17:18–20; 2 Kings 22:11; Psalm 119:19, 105; 2 Timothy 3:15–17.

Josiah King of Judah

Josiah was eight years old when he became king, and he ruled thirty-one years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jedidah daughter of Adaiah, who was from Bozkath. <sup>2</sup>Josiah did what the Lord said was right. He lived as his ancestor David had lived, and he did not stop doing what was right.

<sup>3</sup>In Josiah's eighteenth year as king, he sent Shaphan to the Temple of the Lord. Shaphan son of Azaliah, the son of Meshullam, was the royal secretary. Josiah said, <sup>4</sup>"Go up to Hilkiah the high priest, and have him empty out the money the gatekeepers have gathered from the people. This is the money they have brought into the Temple of the Lord. <sup>5</sup>Have him give the money to the supervisors of the work on the Temple of the Lord. They must pay the workers who repair the Temple of the Lord— <sup>6</sup>the carpenters, builders, and bricklayers. Also use the money to buy timber and cut stone to repair the Temple. <sup>7</sup>They do not need to report how they use the money given to them, because they are working honestly."

The Book of the Teachings Is Found

<sup>8</sup>Hilkiah the high priest said to Shaphan the royal secretary, "I've found the Book of the Teachings in the Temple of the Lord." He gave it to Shaphan, who read it.

<sup>9</sup>Then Shaphan the royal secretary went to the king and reported to Josiah, “Your officers have paid out the money that was in the Temple of the Lord. They have given it to the workers and supervisors at the Temple.” <sup>10</sup>Then Shaphan the royal secretary told the king, “Hilkiah the priest has given me a book.” And Shaphan read from the book to the king.

<sup>14</sup>So Hilkiah the priest, Ahikam, Acbor, Shaphan, and Asaiah went to talk to Huldah the prophetess. She was the wife of Shallum son of Tikvah, the son of Harhas, who took care of the king’s clothes. Huldah lived in Jerusalem, in the new area of the city.

says about the words you heard: <sup>19</sup>When you heard my words against this place and its people, you became sorry for what you had done and humbled yourself before me. I said they would be cursed and would be destroyed. You tore your clothes to show how upset you were, and you cried in my presence. This is why I have heard you, says the Lord. <sup>20</sup>So I will let you die, and you will be buried in peace. You won't see all the trouble I will bring to this place.'"

So they took her message back to the king.

The People Hear the Agreement

Then the king gathered all the older leaders of Judah and Jerusalem together. <sup>2</sup>He went up to the Temple of the Lord, and all the people from Judah and Jerusalem went with him. The priests, prophets, and all the people—from the least important to the most important—went with him. He read to them all the words of the Book of the Agreement that was found in the Temple of the Lord. <sup>3</sup>The king stood by the pillar and made an agreement in the presence of the Lord to follow the Lord and obey his commands, rules, and laws with his whole being, and to obey the words of the agreement written in this book. Then all the people promised to obey the agreement.

Josiah Destroys the Places for Idol Worship

<sup>4</sup>The king commanded Hilkiah the high priest and the priests of the next rank and the gatekeepers to bring out of the Temple of the Lord everything made for Baal, Asherah, and all the stars of the sky. Then Josiah burned them outside Jerusalem in the open country of the Kidron Valley and carried their ashes to Bethel. <sup>5</sup>The kings of Judah had chosen priests for these gods. These priests burned incense in the places where gods were worshiped in the cities of Judah and the towns around Jerusalem. They burned incense to Baal, the sun, the moon, the planets, and all the stars of the sky. But Josiah took those priests away. <sup>6</sup>He removed the Asherah idol from the Temple of the Lord and took it outside Jerusalem to the Kidron Valley, where he burned it and beat it into dust. Then he threw the dust on the graves of the common people.<sup>7</sup> He also tore down the houses of the male prostitutes who were in the Temple of the Lord, where the women did weaving for Asherah.

Asherah idols. Then he covered the places with human bones.

<sup>15</sup>Josiah also broke down the altar at Bethel—the place of worship made by Jeroboam son of Nebat, who had led Israel to sin. Josiah burned that place, broke the stones of the altar into pieces, then beat them into dust. He also burned the Asherah idol. <sup>16</sup>When he turned around, he saw the graves on the mountain. He had the bones taken from the graves, and he burned them on the altar to ruin it. This happened as the Lord had said it would through the man of God.

The people of the city answered, “It’s the grave of the man of God who came from Judah. This prophet announced the things you have done against the altar of Bethel.”

<sup>19</sup>The kings of Israel had built temples for worshiping gods in the cities of Samaria, which had caused the Lord to be angry. Josiah removed all those temples and did the same things as he had done at Bethel. <sup>20</sup>He killed all the priests of those places of worship; he killed them on the altars and burned human bones on the altars. Then he went back to Jerusalem.

Josiah Celebrates the Passover

<sup>21</sup>The king commanded all the people, “Celebrate the Passover to the Lord your God as it is written in this Book of the Agreement.” <sup>22</sup>The Passover had not been celebrated like this since the judges led Israel. Nor had one like it happened while there were kings of Israel and kings of Judah. <sup>23</sup>This Passover was celebrated to the Lord in Jerusalem in the eighteenth year of King Josiah's rule.

<sup>24</sup>Josiah destroyed the mediums, fortune-tellers, house gods, and idols. He also destroyed all the hated gods seen in the land of Judah and Jerusalem. This was to obey the words of the teachings written in the book Hilkiah the priest had found in the Temple of the Lord.

<sup>25</sup>There was no king like Josiah before or after him. He obeyed the Lord with all his heart, soul, and strength, following all the Teachings of Moses.

<sup>26</sup>Even so, the Lord did not stop his strong and terrible anger. His anger burned against Judah because of all Manasseh had done to make him angry. <sup>27</sup>The Lord said, "I will send Judah out of my sight, as I have sent Israel away. I will reject Jerusalem, which I chose. And I will take away the Temple about which I said, 'I will be worshiped there.'"

Jehoahaz King of Judah

and he was king in Jerusalem for three months. His mother's name was Hamutal, who was the daughter of Jeremiah from Libnah. <sup>32</sup>Jehoahaz did what the Lord said was wrong, just as his ancestors had done.

<sup>33</sup>King Neco took Jehoahaz prisoner at Riblah in the land of Hamath so that Jehoahaz could not rule in Jerusalem. Neco made the people of Judah pay about seventy-five hundred pounds of silver and about seventy-five pounds of gold.

<sup>34</sup>King Neco made Josiah's son Eliakim the king in place of Josiah his father. Then Neco changed Eliakim's name to Jehoiakim. But Neco took Jehoahaz to Egypt, where he died.

<sup>35</sup>Jehoiakim gave King Neco the silver and gold he demanded. Jehoiakim taxed the land and took silver and gold from the people of the land to give to King Neco. Each person had to pay his share.

Jehoiakim King of Judah

<sup>36</sup>Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he was king in Jerusalem for eleven years. His mother's name was Zebidah daughter of Pedaiah, who was from Rumah.

<sup>37</sup>Jehoiakim did what the Lord said was wrong, just as his ancestors had done.

Life Lessons

2 Kings 23:36–25:30

Situation

Each of the last three kings of Judah rebelled against the Babylonians. Each time, Babylon brought quick and severe retribution. They displaced people, looted the Temple, and destroyed Jerusalem. Even though Israel's captivity had been foretold for over a century by various prophets, the people and their leaders refused to listen and stop sinning.

Observation

God warned the people for over one hundred years that continued disobedience would lead to disaster.

Inspiration

As long as men and women seek to gain their sense of significance and self-worth from anything other than God, they will be set up for temptation. Certain people, places, or things will always have an inordinate ability to lure them into sin. Until they change their definition of significance and until they transfer their security to Someone who can give them real security, they will never experience lasting victory in their lives...

Making the switch from your present set of values to God's involves two steps. First of all, you must identify the things and people from which you draw your identity. I call this step of the process reviewing your life...

A second step in making this switch involves renewing your mind to the truth. To renew your mind, you must remove the old ways of thinking and replace them with the truth... The truth is that all of your security and significance is wrapped up in your relationship with God through Jesus Christ. (From Winning the War Within by Charles Stanley)

Application

Are you most likely to disobey God with certain friends? At certain places? In certain moods? Ask Jesus to take charge of your relationships, desires, and moods. Then choose to spend your time wisely.

Exploration

Disobedience—Genesis 3:13–19; Exodus 8:15; Numbers 20:1–13; 1 Chronicles 10:13–14; Isaiah 3:1–9.

While Jehoiakim was king, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon attacked the land of Judah. So Jehoiakim became Nebuchadnezzar's servant for three years. Then he turned against Nebuchadnezzar and broke away from his rule.<sup>2</sup>The Lord sent raiding parties from Babylon, Aram, Moab, and Ammon against Jehoiakim to destroy Judah. This happened as the Lord had said it would through his servants the prophets.

<sup>3</sup>The Lord commanded this to happen to the people of Judah, to remove them from his presence, because of all the sins of Manasseh.<sup>4</sup>He had killed many innocent people and had filled Jerusalem with their blood. And the Lord would not forgive these sins.

<sup>5</sup>The other things that happened while Jehoiakim was king and all he did are written in the book of the history of the kings of Judah.<sup>6</sup>Jehoiakim died, and his son Jehoiachin became king in his place.

<sup>7</sup>The king of Egypt did not leave his land again, because the king of Babylon had captured all that belonged to the king of Egypt, from the brook of Egypt to the Euphrates River.

Jehoiachin King of Judah

<sup>8</sup>Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he became king, and he was king three months in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Nehushta daughter of Elnathan from Jerusalem.<sup>9</sup>Jehoiachin did what the Lord said was wrong, just as his father had done.

surrendered to the king of Babylon, along with Jehoiachin's mother, servants, older leaders, and officers. So Nebuchadnezzar made Jehoiachin a prisoner in the eighth year he was king of Babylon.<sup>13</sup> Nebuchadnezzar took all the treasures from the Temple of the Lord and from the palace. He cut up all the gold objects Solomon king of Israel had made for the Temple of the Lord. This happened as the Lord had said it would.<sup>14</sup> Nebuchadnezzar took away all the people of Jerusalem, including all the leaders, all the wealthy people, and all the craftsmen and metal workers. There were ten thousand prisoners in all. Only the poorest people in the land were left.<sup>15</sup> Nebuchadnezzar carried away Jehoiachin to Babylon, as well as the king's mother and his wives, the officers, and the leading men of the land. They were taken captive from Jerusalem to Babylon.<sup>16</sup> The king of Babylon also took all seven thousand soldiers, who were strong and able to fight in war, and about a thousand craftsmen and metal workers. Nebuchadnezzar took them as prisoners to Babylon.<sup>17</sup> Then he made Mattaniah, Jehoiachin's uncle, king in Jehoiachin's place. He also changed Mattaniah's name to Zedekiah.

Zedekiah King of Judah

<sup>18</sup>Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he was king in Jerusalem for eleven years. His mother's name was Hamutal daughter of Jeremiah from Libnah.<sup>19</sup> Zedekiah did what the Lord said was wrong, just as Jehoiakim had done.<sup>20</sup> All this happened in Jerusalem and Judah because the Lord was angry with them. Finally, he threw them out of his presence.

The Fall of Jerusalem

Zedekiah turned against the king of Babylon.

Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon marched against Jerusalem with his whole army during Zedekiah's ninth year as king, on the tenth day of the tenth month. He made a camp around the city and piled dirt against the city walls to attack it.<sup>2</sup>The city was under attack until Zedekiah's eleventh year as king.<sup>3</sup>By the ninth day of the fourth month, the hunger was terrible in the city. There was no food for the people to eat.<sup>4</sup>Then the city was broken into, and the whole army ran away at night through the gate between the two walls by the king's garden. While the Babylonians were still surrounding the city, Zedekiah and his men ran away toward the Jordan Valley.<sup>5</sup>But the Babylonian army chased King Zedekiah and caught up with him in the plains of Jericho. All of his army was scattered from him,<sup>6</sup>so they captured Zedekiah and took him to the king of Babylon at Riblah. There he passed sentence on Zedekiah.<sup>7</sup>They killed Zedekiah's sons as he watched. Then they put out his eyes and put bronze chains on him and took him to Babylon.

<sup>13</sup>The Babylonians broke up the bronze pillars, the bronze stands, and the large bronze bowl, which was called the Sea, in the Temple of the Lord. Then they carried the bronze to Babylon. <sup>14</sup>They also took the pots, shovels, wick trimmers, dishes, and all the bronze objects used to serve in the Temple. <sup>15</sup>The commander of the king's special guards took away the pans for carrying hot coals, the bowls, and everything made of pure gold or silver. <sup>16</sup>There were two pillars and the large bronze bowl and the movable stands which Solomon had made for the Temple of the Lord. There was so much bronze that it could not be weighed. <sup>17</sup>Each pillar was about twenty-seven feet high. The bronze capital on top of the pillar was about four and one-half feet high. It was decorated with a net design and bronze pomegranates all around it. The other pillar also had a net design and was like the first pillar.

Judah Is Taken Prisoner

<sup>18</sup>The commander of the guards took some prisoners—Seraiah the chief priest, Zephaniah the priest next in rank, and the three doorkeepers. <sup>19</sup>Of the people who were still in the city, he took the officer in charge of the fighting men, as well as five people who advised the king. He took the royal secretary who selected people for the army and sixty other men who were in the city. <sup>20</sup>Nebuzaradan, the commander, took all these people and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah. <sup>21</sup>There at Riblah, in the land of Hamath, the king had them killed. So the people of Judah were led away from their country as captives.

Gedaliah Becomes Governor

<sup>23</sup>The army captains and their men heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah governor, so they came to Gedaliah at Mizpah. They were Ishmael son of Nethaniah, Johanan son of Kareah, Seraiah son of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, Jaazaniah son of the Maacathite, and their men. <sup>24</sup>Then Gedaliah promised these army captains and their men, “Don’t be afraid of the Babylonian officers. Live in the land and serve the king of Babylon, and everything will go well for you.”

<sup>25</sup>In the seventh month Ishmael son of Nethaniah, son of Elishama from the king’s family, came with ten men and killed Gedaliah. They also killed the men of Judah and Babylon who were with Gedaliah at Mizpah. <sup>26</sup>Then all the people, from the least important to the most important, along with the army leaders, ran away to Egypt, because they were afraid of the Babylonians.

Jehoiachin Is Set Free

<sup>27</sup>Jehoiachin king of Judah was held in Babylon for thirty-seven years. In the thirty-seventh year Evil-Merodach became king of Babylon, and he let Jehoiachin out of prison on the twenty-seventh day of the twelfth month. <sup>28</sup>Evil-Merodach spoke kindly to Jehoiachin and gave him a seat of honor above the seats of the other kings who were with him in Babylon. <sup>29</sup>So Jehoiachin put away his prison clothes. For the rest of his life, he ate at the king's table. <sup>30</sup>Every day, for as long as Jehoiachin lived, the king gave him an allowance.

The Book of 1 Chronicles

Introduction

Ever been held up by a grandparent?

You naively ask how the grandkids are, and before you know it the purse opens and out pops a billfold thick with pictures.

“This is Joey in the third grade holding his puppy named Snapper. And this is Joey in the fourth grade on his little league team where he played second base. And this is Joey in the fifth grade. The kid behind him is his cousin Terry who is living in Seattle with his dad. I’ve got some pictures of them I’ll show you in just a minute. But first let me show you Joey in the seventh grade wearing his football uniform...”

Yawn.

Hard to stay interested hearing names of people you’ll never see who live in places you’ll never know.

Such is the case with the Book of 1 Chronicles. Full of names, many hard to pronounce. Full of places, most of which you’ll never see. The book won’t keep you on the edge of your seat. It wasn’t intended to. It will, however, provide you with a catalog of facts and names of people who matter to God.

Which reminds us of an encouraging truth: God keeps up with his children. He knows their names and keeps them in a book. What may be dry to us matters to him, because they are his kids. By the way, he’s working on a new volume. This one is entitled the Book of Life.

Is your name in it?

About This Book

Author:

Probably Ezra

Date Written:

500–400 B.C.

Key Themes:

- While David was not allowed to build the Temple, it was still his heart's desire that God be honored by a permanent place of worship.
- The people of David's kingdom honored God by contributing to the Temple construction.
- David was not a perfect king, but he was still a king who acknowledged God with his life.

Key Verse:

“You made the people of Israel your very own people forever, and, Lord, you are their God” (1 Chronicles 17:22).

Contents:

1. Genealogies 1:1–9:44
2. David's Reign 10:1–20:8
3. Preparations for the Temple 21:1–29:20
4. From David to Solomon 29:21–30

Life Lessons

1 Chronicles 1:1–3:24

Situation

Chronicles was written after the exile to help those returning to Israel understand how to worship God. The history focused on the Southern Kingdom—the tribes of Judah, Benjamin, and Levi. These tribes tended to be more faithful to God.

Observation

God knows every person who has ever lived. We are not just faceless numbers among the thousands of years of humanity. God concerns himself with every person and detail. We should never feel insignificant.

Inspiration

We can learn much about a person by looking at his or her track record, checking out how he or she has related to others in the past.

We can learn much about God by taking a close look at how he has acted in the past and how he has related to his people, the children of Israel. What we find is that God is profoundly loving. In fact, time after time when Israel would disobey his commands and even begin to worship idols, God would be slow to punish them and would take them back as soon as they turned from their sin.

The fact that God is “slow to anger” should not encourage us to take him for granted. Instead, we should remember his unending love and determine to live for him and close to him.

Thank God for what he has done in the past, for Israel and for you. And live in the light of his gracious and compassionate love. (From On Eagle's Wings by Dave Veerman)

Application

God knows your name, your history, your dreams, your future, your thoughts, and every detail of your life. Are you tempted to feel insignificant? Remember that he loves you intensely.

Exploration

Important to God—Isaiah 43:1; 49:16; Jeremiah 31:3; Luke 12:6–7; John 10:3; Romans 8:27; 1 John 3:1.

God adopted you simply because he wanted to. You were in his good will and pleasure. —Max Lucado (The Great House of God)

From Adam to Abraham

Adam was the father of Seth. Seth was the father of Enosh. Enosh was the father of Kenan.<sup>2</sup>Kenan was the father of Mahalalel. Mahalalel was the father of Jared. Jared was the father of Enoch.<sup>3</sup>Enoch was the father of Methuselah. Methuselah was the father of Lamech, and Lamech was the father of Noah.

Raamah's sons were Sheba and Dedan.

<sup>10</sup>Cush was the father of Nimrod, who grew up to become a mighty warrior on the earth.

Aram's sons were Uz, Hul, Gether, and Meshech.

Abraham's Family

Jokshan's sons were Sheba and Dedan.

<sup>33</sup>Midian's sons were Ephah, Ephher, Hanoch, Abida, and Eldaah. All these were descendants of Keturah.

The Edomites from Seir

Dishon's sons were Hemdan, Eshban, Ithran, and Keran.

Dishan's sons were Uz and Aran.

The Kings of Edom

<sup>43</sup>These kings ruled in Edom before there were kings in Israel. Bela son of Beor was king of Edom, and his city was named Dinhabah.

<sup>50</sup>When Baal-Hanan died, Hadad became king, and his city was named Pau. Hadad's wife was named Mehetabel, and she was the daughter of Matred, who was the daughter of Me-Zahab. <sup>51</sup>Then Hadad died.

The leaders of the family groups of Edom were Timna, Alvah, Jetheth, <sup>52</sup>Oholibamah, Elah, Pinon, <sup>53</sup>Kenaz, Teman, Mibzar, <sup>54</sup>Magdiel, and Iram. These were the leaders of Edom.

Israel's Family

The sons of Israel were Reuben, Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Zebulun, <sup>2</sup>Dan, Joseph, Benjamin, Naphtali, Gad, and Asher.

Judah's Family

<sup>3</sup>Judah's sons were Er, Onan, and Shelah. A Canaanite woman, the daughter of Shua, was their mother. Judah's first son, Er, did what the Lord said was wicked, so the Lord put him to death. <sup>4</sup>Judah's daughter-in-law Tamar gave birth to Perez and Zerah. Judah was the father, so Judah had five sons.

<sup>10</sup>Ram was Amminadab's father, and Amminadab was Nahshon's father. Nahshon was the leader of the people of Judah. <sup>11</sup>Nahshon was the father of Salmon, who was the father of Boaz. <sup>12</sup>Boaz was the father of Obed, and Obed was the father of Jesse.

was David. <sup>16</sup>Their sisters were Zeruiah and Abigail. Zeruiah's three sons were Abishai, Joab, and Asahel. <sup>17</sup>Abigail was the mother of Amasa, and his father was Jether, an Ishmaelite.

Caleb's Family

<sup>18</sup>Caleb son of Hezron had children by his wife Azubah and by Jerioth. Caleb and Azubah's sons were Jesher, Shobab, and Ardon. <sup>19</sup>When Azubah died, Caleb married Ephrath. They had a son named Hur, <sup>20</sup>who was the father of Uri, who was the father of Bezalel.

<sup>21</sup>Later, when Hezron was sixty years old, he married the daughter of Makir, Gilead's father. Hezron had sexual relations with Makir's daughter, and she had a son named Segub. <sup>22</sup>Segub was the father of Jair. Jair controlled twenty-three cities in the country of Gilead. <sup>23</sup>(But Geshur and Aram captured the Towns of Jair, as well as Kenath and the small towns around it—sixty towns in all.) All these were descendants of Makir, the father of Gilead.

Jerahmeel's Family

Shammai's sons were Nadab and Abishur.

Sheshan was the father of Ahlai.

These were Jerahmeel's descendants.

<sup>36</sup>Attai was the father of Nathan. Nathan was the father of Zabad. <sup>37</sup>Zabad was the father of Ephlal. Ephlal was the father of Obed. <sup>38</sup>Obed was the father of Jehu. Jehu was the father of Azariah. <sup>39</sup>Azariah was the father of Helez. Helez was the father of Eleasah. <sup>40</sup>Eleasah was the father of Sismai. Sismai was the father of Shallum. <sup>41</sup>Shallum was the father of Jekamiah, and Jekamiah was the father of Elishama.

Caleb's Family

<sup>44</sup>Shema was the father of Raham, who was the father of Jorkeam. Rekem was the father of Shammai. <sup>45</sup>Shammai was the father of Maon, and Maon was the father of Beth Zur.

<sup>50-51</sup>These were Caleb's descendants: Caleb's son Hur was the first son of his mother Ephrathah. Hur's sons were Shobal, Salma, and Hareph. Shobal was the father of Kiriath Jearim. Salma was the father of Bethlehem. And Hareph was the father of Beth Gader.

<sup>54</sup>Salma's descendants were Bethlehem, the Netophathites, Atroth Beth Joab, half the Manahathites, and the Zorites. <sup>55</sup>His descendants included the families who lived at Jabez, who wrote and copied important papers. They were called the Tirathites, Shimeathites, and Sucathites and were from the Kenite family group who came from Hammath. He was the father of the people living in Recab.

David's Family

These are David's sons who were born in Hebron. The first was Amnon, whose mother was Ahinoam from Jezreel. The second son was Daniel, whose mother was Abigail from Carmel.<sup>2</sup>The third son was Absalom, whose mother was Maacah daughter of Talmai, the king of Geshur. The fourth son was Adonijah, whose mother was Haggith.<sup>3</sup>The fifth son was Shephatiah, whose mother was Abital. The sixth son was Ithream, whose mother was Eglah.<sup>4</sup>These six sons of David were born to him in Hebron, where David ruled for seven and one-half years.

David ruled in Jerusalem thirty-three years.<sup>5</sup>These were his children who were born in Jerusalem: Shammua, Shobab, Nathan, and Solomon—the four children of David and Bathsheba, Ammiel's daughter.<sup>6-8</sup>David's other nine children were Ibhah, Elishua, Eliphelet, Nogah, Nepheg, Japhia, Elishama, Eliada, and Eliphelet.<sup>9</sup>These were all of David's sons, except for those born to his slave women. David also had a daughter named Tamar.

The Kings of Judah

<sup>11</sup>Jehoshaphat's son was Jehoram. Jehoram's son was Ahaziah. Ahaziah's son was Joash.<sup>12</sup>Joash's son was Amaziah. Amaziah's son was Azariah. Azariah's son was Jotham.

<sup>15</sup>These were Josiah's sons: His first son was Johanan, his second was Jehoiakim, his third was Zedekiah, and his fourth was Shallum.

David's Descendants After the Babylonian Captivity

Zerubbabel's sons were Meshullam and Hananiah, and their sister was Shelomith. <sup>20</sup>Zerubbabel also had five other sons: Hashubah, Ohel, Berekiah, Hasadiah, and Jushab-Hesed.

Other Family Groups of Judah

Judah's descendants were Perez, Hezron, Carmi, Hur, and Shobal.

<sup>2</sup>Reaiah was Shobal's son. Reaiah was the father of Jahath, and Jahath was the father of Ahumai and Lahad. They were the family groups of the Zorathite people.

<sup>3-4</sup>Hur was the oldest son of Caleb and his wife Ephrathah. Hur was the leader of Bethlehem. His three sons were Etam, Penuel, and Ezer. Etam's sons were Jezreel, Ishma, and Idbash. They had a sister named Hazzeleponi. Penuel was the father of Gedor, and Ezer was the father of Hushah.

<sup>9</sup>There was a man named Jabez, who was respected more than his brothers. His mother named him Jabez because she said, "I was in much pain when I gave birth to him." <sup>10</sup>Jabez prayed to the God of Israel, "Please do good things for me and give me more land. Stay with me, and don't let anyone hurt me. Then I won't have any pain." And God did what Jabez had asked.

was the father of Eshton.<sup>12</sup>Eshton was the father of Beth Rapha, Paseah, and Tehinnah. Tehinnah was the father of the people from the town of Nahash. These people were from Recah.

Othniel's sons were Hathath and Meonothai.<sup>14</sup>Meonothai was the father of Ophrah.

Seraiah was the father of Joab. Joab was the ancestor of the people from Craftsmen's Valley, named that because the people living there were craftsmen.

<sup>17-18</sup>Ezrah's sons were Jether, Mered, Epher, and Jalon. Mered married Bithiah, the daughter of the king of Egypt. The children of Mered and Bithiah were Miriam, Shammai, and Ishbah. Ishbah was the father of Eshtemoa. Mered also had a wife from Judah, who gave birth to Jered, Heber, and Jekuthiel. Jered became the father of Gedor. Heber became the father of Soco. And Jekuthiel became the father of Zanoah.

Ishi's sons were Zoheth and Ben-Zoheth.

<sup>21-22</sup>Shelah was Judah's son. Shelah's sons were Er, Laadah, Jokim, the men from Cozeba, Joash, and Saraph. Er was the father of Lecah. Laadah was the father of Mareshah and the family groups of linen workers at Beth Ashbea. Joash and Saraph ruled in Moab and Jashubi Lehem. The writings about this family are very old.<sup>23</sup>These sons of Shelah were potters. They lived in Netaim and Gederah and worked for the king.

Simeon's Children

<sup>26</sup>Mishma's son was Hammuel. Hammuel's son was Zaccur. Zaccur's son was Shimei. <sup>27</sup>Shimei had sixteen sons and six daughters, but his brothers did not have many children, so there were not as many people in their family group as there were in Judah.

<sup>34-38</sup>The men in this list were leaders of their family groups: Meshobab, Jamlech, Joshah son of Amaziah, Joel, Jehu son of Joshibiah (Joshibiah was the son of Seraiah, who was the son of Asiel), Elioenai, Jaakobah, Jeshohaiah, Asaiah, Adiel, Jesimiel, Benaiah, and Ziza. (Ziza was the son of Shiphi, who was the son of Allon. Allon was the son of Jedaiah, who was the son of Shimri. And Shimri was the son of Shemaiah.)

of Gedor to the east side of the valley to look for pasture for their flocks. <sup>40</sup>They found good pastures with plenty of grass, and the land was open country and peaceful and quiet. Ham's descendants had lived there in the past.

<sup>41</sup>These men who were listed came to Gedor while Hezekiah was king of Judah. They fought against the Hamites, destroying their tents, and also against the Meunites who lived there, and completely destroyed them. So there are no Meunites there even today. Then these men began to live there, because there was pasture for their flocks. <sup>42</sup>Ishi's sons, Pelatiah, Neariah, Rephaiah, and Uzziel, led five hundred of the Simeonites and attacked the people living in the mountains of Edom. <sup>43</sup>They killed the few Amalekites who were still alive. From that time until now these Simeonites have lived in Edom.

Life Lessons

1 Chronicles 4:1-9:1

Situation

An individual's lineage was very important in Bible times. A person's tribe determined where that person would live or what occupation he or she would pursue (for example, Levites served in the Temple). Prophecies stated that the Messiah would come from the line of David. Though careful records were kept, the genealogical listings in Chronicles were considered a condensed version, with certain names, lines, and generations omitted.

Observation

Rather than merely listing names, several times the genealogy reveals glimpses into individuals' lives. It mentions small acts of faith, small deeds of kindness, and even “small” sins. Many of these people used their years on earth to serve God.

Inspiration

A hospital is a microcosm of the world.

Why? Let me explain.

On the surface, a hospital appears to be a great place. The sheets are clean and the staff is friendly. Nurses come and go with warm smiles. Doctors periodically appear wearing nice loafers, a tie, and a kind face. Friends and family visit bringing pretty plants and friendly words.

There’s a curiously large number of smiles here. I’ve walked the halls and been greeted by the smiling Candy Stripers pushing the coffee cart. The gift shop downstairs is full of magazines with smiling people on the covers. The lady selling them smiled broadly at me when I bought one. The receptionist at the front desk smiles when you pass by. . . .

Smiles, efficiency, distraction. I’ve seen some resorts that don’t offer this kind of treatment. My, you almost forget where you are. . . .

But just when you relax—just when you begin to smile to yourself . . . a siren reminds you. The scream of the patient next door reminds you. Paramedics rushing a stretcher toward the emergency room remind you.

And the reminder is sobering. This is a hospital. The sole function of this building is to bargain with death. The walls can’t be white enough nor the staff polite enough to hide the stark reality of the bottom line: People come here to give all they have to postpone the inevitable.

We give it our best shot. We put up the best we have—the best technology, the best minds, the best equipment; and yet, at best we walk away with an extension, never a solution. And though we may walk or be wheeled out with smiles and waves of victory, down deep we know it is just a matter of time until the best we have won't be enough and the enemy will conquer...

Our world is identical to a hospital. Have you ever noticed the endless extremes to which a person will go to hide the realities of life?

Take age for example. Do you know anyone who has not aged? Do you know anyone who is younger today than when you met him? Aging is a universal condition. But the way we try to hide it, you would think it was a plague! ...

Dentures bring youth to the mouth, wrinkle cream brings youth to the face, and color in a bottle brings youth to the hair.

All to hide what everyone already knows—we're getting older.

Death is another lump in the carpet. We don't like it. (If you ever want to stall a conversation at a party just say, "How are you feeling about your approaching death?" It won't put much life into the conversation.)

I have a friend who has cancer. At present the cancer is in remission. Recently he had to go to the doctor for a physical. A nurse, apparently unaware of his condition, was asking him questions for his medical record. “Are you presently ill?”

“Well, yes. I have cancer.”

She dropped her pencil and looked up at him. “Are you terminal?” she asked.

“Yes, aren’t we all?”

You’d think we weren’t, the way the subject is kept hush-hush...

But this obsession with fleeing the facts is as maddening as it is futile. For, as in the case of the hospital, the truth always surfaces. A siren sounds causing reality to shock us out of our sleep.

An old college roomie retires and you have to admit that if he is in the autumn of his life, you must be too.

You walk your daughter down the aisle. “When did she grow up?”...

Be the event pleasant or painful, the result is the same. Reality breaks through the papier-maché mask and screams at you like a Marine drill sergeant. “You are getting old! You are going to die! You can’t be someone you are not!”...

The best thing for you to do now is pause and think. Take a good look at the facts. And while you’re looking at them, it would be wise to take a good look at him. To those perched on the peak of Mount Perspective, His Majesty takes on special significance.

Jesus does his best work at such moments. Just when the truth about life sinks in, his truth starts to surface. He takes us by the hand and dares us not to sweep the facts under the rug but to confront them with him at our side.

Aging? A necessary process to pass on to a better world.

Death? Merely a brief passage, a tunnel.

Self? Designed and created for a purpose, purchased by God himself.

There, was that so bad?

Funerals, divorces, illnesses, and stays in the hospital—you can't lie about life at such times. Maybe that's why he's always present at such moments.

The next time you find yourself alone in a dark alley facing the undeniableness of life, don't cover them with a blanket, or ignore them with a nervous grin. Don't turn up the TV and pretend they aren't there. Instead, stand still, whisper his name, and listen. He is nearer than you think. (From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

Application

What could you do for God this week? What are some ways you could serve that hardly seem worth mentioning (but could meet a real need)? Take the time to do even small deeds. They could be more important than the larger tasks you plan.

Reuben's Children

Reuben was Israel's first son. Reuben should have received the special privileges of the oldest son, but he had sexual relations with his father's slave woman. So those special privileges were given to Joseph's sons. (Joseph was a son of Israel.) In the family history Reuben's name is not listed as the first son.<sup>2</sup> Judah became stronger than his brothers, and a leader came from his family. But Joseph's family received the privileges that belonged to the oldest son.<sup>3</sup> Reuben was Israel's first son. Reuben's sons were Hanoah, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi.

<sup>4</sup>These were the children of Joel: Shemaiah was Joel's son. Gog was Shemaiah's son. Shimei was Gog's son. <sup>5</sup>Micah was Shimei's son. Reaiah was Micah's son. Baal was Reaiah's son. <sup>6</sup>Beerah was Baal's son. Beerah was a leader of the tribe of Reuben. Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria captured him and took him away.

<sup>7</sup>Joel's brothers and all his family groups are listed just as they are written in their family histories: Jeiel was the first, then Zechariah,<sup>8</sup> and Bela. (Bela was the son of Azaz. Azaz was the son of Shema, and Shema was the son of Joel.) They lived in the area of Aroer all the way to Nebo and Baal Meon. <sup>9</sup>Bela's people lived to the east—as far as the edge of the desert, which is beside the Euphrates River—because they had too many cattle for the land of Gilead.

<sup>10</sup>When Saul was king, Bela's people fought a war against the Hagrite people and defeated them. Then Bela's people lived in the tents that had belonged to the Hagarites in all the area east of Gilead.

Gad's Children

<sup>13</sup>The seven relatives in their families were Michael, Meshullam, Sheba, Jorai, Jacan, Zia, and Eber. <sup>14</sup>They were the descendants of Abihail. Abihail was Huri's son. Huri was Jaroah's son. Jaroah was Gilead's son. Gilead was Michael's son. Michael was Jeshishai's son. Jeshishai was Jahdo's son, and Jahdo was the son of Buz. <sup>15</sup>Ahi was Abdiel's son, and Abdiel was Guni's son. Ahi was the leader of their family.

<sup>17</sup>All these names were written in the family history of Gad during the time Jotham was king of Judah and Jeroboam was king of Israel.

Soldiers Skilled in War

<sup>18</sup>There were forty-four thousand seven hundred sixty soldiers from the tribes of Reuben and Gad and East Manasseh who carried shields and swords and bows. They were skilled in war.

Manasseh, Reuben, and Gad prayed to God during the war, asking him to help them. So he helped them because they trusted him. He handed over to them the Hagarites and all those who were with them.<sup>21</sup> They took the animals that belonged to the Hagarites: fifty thousand camels, two hundred fifty thousand sheep, and two thousand donkeys. They also captured one hundred thousand people.<sup>22</sup> Many Hagarites were killed because God helped the people of Reuben, Gad, and Manasseh. Then they lived there until Babylon captured them and took them away.

East Manasseh

<sup>24</sup>These were the family leaders: Ephraim, Ishi, Eliel, Azriel, Jeremiah, Hodaviah, and Jahdiel. They were all strong, brave, and famous men, and leaders in their families.<sup>25</sup> But they sinned against the God that their ancestors had worshiped. They began worshiping the gods of the people in that land, and those were the people God was destroying.<sup>26</sup> So the God of Israel made Pul king of Assyria want to go to war. (Pul was also called Tiglath-Pileser.) He captured the people of Reuben, Gad, and East Manasseh, and he took them away to Halah, Habor, Hara, and near the Gozan River. They have lived there from that time until this day.

Levi's Children

Levi's sons were Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.<sup>2</sup>Kohath's sons were Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel.

Aaron's sons were Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

<sup>4</sup>Eleazar was the father of Phinehas. Phinehas was the father of Abishua. <sup>5</sup>Abishua was the father of Bukki. Bukki was the father of Uzzi. <sup>6</sup>Uzzi was the father of Zerariah. Zerariah was the father of Meraioth. <sup>7</sup>Meraioth was the father of Amariah. Amariah was the father of Ahitub. <sup>8</sup>Ahitub was the father of Zadok. Zadok was the father of Ahimaaz. <sup>9</sup>Ahimaaz was the father of Azariah. Azariah was the father of Johanan. <sup>10</sup>Johanan was the father of Azariah. (Azariah was a priest in the Temple Solomon built in Jerusalem.) <sup>11</sup>Azariah was the father of Amariah. Amariah was the father of Ahitub. <sup>12</sup>Ahitub was the father of Zadok. Zadok was the father of Shallum. <sup>13</sup>Shallum was the father of Hilkiah. Hilkiah was the father of Azariah. <sup>14</sup>Azariah was the father of Seraiah, and Seraiah was the father of Jehozadak.

This is a list of the family groups of Levi, listed by the name of the father of each group.

<sup>20</sup>Gershon's son was Libni. Libni's son was Jehath. Jehath's son was Zimmah. <sup>21</sup>Zimmah's son was Joah. Joah's son was Iddo. Iddo's son was Zerah. And Zerah's son was Jeatherai.

<sup>22</sup>Kothath's son was Amminadab. Amminadab's son was Korah. Korah's son was Assir. <sup>23</sup>Assir's son was Elkanah. Elkanah's son was Ebiasaph. Ebiasaph's son was Assir. <sup>24</sup>Assir's son was Tahath. Tahath's son was Uriel. Uriel's son was Uziah, and Uziah's son was Shaul.

<sup>29</sup>Merari's son was Mahli. Mahli's son was Libni. Libni's son was Shimei. Shimei's son was Uzzah. <sup>30</sup>Uzzah's son was Shimea. Shimea's son was Haggiah, and Haggiah's son was Asaiah.

The Temple Musicians

<sup>31</sup>David chose some people to be in charge of the music in the house of the Lord. They began their work after the Ark of the Agreement was put there. <sup>32</sup>They served by making music at the Holy Tent (also called the Meeting Tent), and they served until Solomon built the Temple of the Lord in Jerusalem. They followed the rules for their work.

From Kohath's family there was Heman the singer. Heman was Joel's son. Joel was Samuel's son. <sup>34</sup>Samuel was Elkanah's son. Elkanah was Jeroham's son. Jeroham was Eliel's son. Eliel was Toah's son. <sup>35</sup>Toah was Zuph's son. Zuph was Elkanah's son. Elkanah was Mahath's son. Mahath was Amasai's son. <sup>36</sup>Amasai was Elkanah's son. Elkanah was Joel's son. Joel was Azariah's son. Azariah was Zephaniah's son. <sup>37</sup>Zephaniah was Tahath's son. Tahath was Assir's son. Assir was Ebiasaph's son. Ebiasaph was Korah's son. <sup>38</sup>Korah was Izhar's son. Izhar was Kohath's son. Kohath was Levi's son. Levi was Israel's son.

<sup>44</sup>Merari's family were the helpers of Heman and Asaph, and they stood by Heman's left side. In this group was Ethan son of Kishi. Kishi was Abdi's son. Abdi was Malluch's son. <sup>45</sup>Malluch was Hashabiah's son. Hashabiah was Amaziah's son. Amaziah was Hilkihah's son. <sup>46</sup>Hilkihah was Amzi's son. Amzi was Bani's son. Bani was Shemer's son. <sup>47</sup>Shemer was Mahli's son. Mahli was Mushi's son. Mushi was Merari's son, and Merari was Levi's son.

<sup>48</sup>The other Levites served by doing their own special work in the Holy Tent, the house of God. <sup>49</sup>Aaron and his descendants offered the sacrifices on the altar of burnt offering and burned the incense on the altar of incense. They offered the sacrifices that removed the Israelites' sins so they could belong to God. They did all the work in the Most Holy Place and followed all the laws that Moses, God's servant, had commanded.

<sup>50</sup>These were Aaron's sons: Eleazar was Aaron's son. Phinehas was Eleazar's son. Abishua was Phinehas' son. <sup>51</sup>Bukki was Abishua's son. Uzzi was Bukki's son. Zerahiah was Uzzi's son. <sup>52</sup>Meraioth was Zerahiah's son. Amariah was Meraioth's son. Ahitub was Amariah's son. <sup>53</sup>Zadok was Ahitub's son, and Ahimaaz was Zadok's son.

Land for the Levites

<sup>55</sup>They were given the city of Hebron in Judah and the pastures around it, <sup>56</sup>but the fields farther from the city and the villages near Hebron were given to Caleb son of Jephunneh. <sup>57</sup>So the descendants of Aaron were given Hebron, one of the cities of safety. They also received the towns and pastures of Libnah, Jattir, Eshtemoa, <sup>58</sup>Hilen, Debir, <sup>59</sup>Ashan, Juttah, and Beth Shemesh. <sup>60</sup>They also received these towns and pastures from the tribe of Benjamin: Gibeon, Geba, Alemeth, and Anathoth.

The Kohath family groups received a total of thirteen towns.

<sup>61</sup>The rest of the Kohath family group was given ten towns from the family groups of West Manasseh. The towns were chosen by throwing lots.

<sup>77</sup>The rest of the Levites, the people from the Merari family, received from the tribe of Zebulun the towns and pastures of Jokneam, Kartah, Rimmono, and Tabor.

<sup>80-81</sup>From the tribe of Gad, the Merari family received the towns and pastures of Ramoth in Gilead, Mahanaim, Heshbon, and Jazer.

Issachar's Children

Issachar had four sons: Tola, Puah, Jashub, and Shimron.

<sup>2</sup>Tola's sons were Uzzi, Rephaiah, Jeriel, Jahmai, Ibsam, and Samuel, and they were leaders of their families. In the family history of Tola's descendants, twenty-two thousand six hundred men were listed as fighting men during the time David was king.

Izrahiah's sons were Michael, Obadiah, Joel, and Isshiah. All five of them were leaders. <sup>4</sup>Their family history shows they had thirty-six thousand men ready to serve in the army, because they had many wives and children.

Benjamin's Children

<sup>7</sup>Bela had five sons: Ezbon, Uzzi, Uzziel, Jerimoth, and Iri, and they were leaders of their families. Their family history shows they had twenty-two thousand thirty-four fighting men.

Bilhan's sons were Jeush, Benjamin, Ehud, Kenaanah, Zethan, Tarshish, and Ahishahar. <sup>11</sup>All these sons of Jediael were leaders of their families. They had seventeen thousand two hundred fighting men ready to serve in the army.

Naphtali's Children

<sup>13</sup>Naphtali's sons were Jahziel, Guni, Jezer, and Shillem. They were Bilhah's grandsons.

Manasseh's Children

These were the sons of Gilead, who was the son of Makir. Makir was Manasseh's son. <sup>18</sup>Makir's sister Hammoleketh gave birth to Ishhod, Abiezer, and Mahlah.

Ephraim's Children

<sup>20</sup>These are the names of Ephraim's descendants. Ephraim's son was Shuthelah. Shuthelah's son was Bered. Bered's son was Tahath. Tahath's son was Eleadah. Eleadah's son was Tahath. <sup>21</sup>Tahath's son was Zabad. Zabad's son was Shuthelah.

Ezer and Elead went to Gath to steal cows and sheep and were killed by some men who grew up in that city. <sup>22</sup>Their father Ephraim cried for them many days, and his family came to comfort him. <sup>23</sup>Then he had sexual relations with his wife again. She became pregnant and gave birth to a son whom Ephraim named Beriah because of the trouble that had happened to his family. <sup>24</sup>Ephraim's daughter was Sheerah. She built Lower Beth Horon, Upper Beth Horon, and Uzen Sheerah.

<sup>25</sup>Rephah was Ephraim's son. Resheph was Rephah's son. Telah was Resheph's son. Tahan was Telah's son. <sup>26</sup>Ladan was Tahan's son. Ammihud was Ladan's son. Elishama was Ammihud's son. <sup>27</sup>Nun was Elishama's son, and Joshua was the son of Nun.

<sup>28</sup>Ephraim's descendants lived in these lands and towns: Bethel and the villages near it, Naaran on the east, Gezer and the villages near it on the west, and Shechem and the villages near it. These villages went all the way to Ayyah and its villages. <sup>29</sup>Along the borders of Manasseh's land were the towns of Beth Shan, Taanach, Megiddo, and Dor, and the villages near them. The descendants of Joseph son of Israel lived in these towns.

Asher's Children

sister was Serah.

<sup>40</sup>All these men were descendants of Asher and leaders of their families. They were powerful warriors and outstanding leaders. Their family history lists that they had twenty-six thousand soldiers ready to serve in the army.

The Family History of King Saul

Benjamin was the father of Bela, his first son. Ashbel was his second son, Aharah was his third, <sup>2</sup>Nohah was his fourth, and Rapha was his fifth son.

<sup>6</sup>These were the descendants of Ehud and leaders of their families in Geba. They were forced to move to Manahath. <sup>7</sup>Ehud's descendants were Naaman, Ahijah, and Gera. Gera forced them to leave. He was the father of Uzza and Ahihud.

<sup>8-11</sup>Shaharaim and his wife Hushim had sons named Abitub and Elpaal. In Moab, Shaharaim divorced his wives Hushim and Baara. Shaharaim and his wife Hodesh had these sons: Jobab, Zibia, Mesha, Malcam, Jeuz, Sakia, and Mirmah. They were leaders of their families.

<sup>12-13</sup>Elpaal's sons were Eber, Misham, Shemed, Beriah, and Shema. Shemed built the towns of Ono and Lod and the villages around them. Beriah and Shema were leaders of the families living in Aijalon, and they forced out the people who lived in Gath.

<sup>33</sup>Ner was the father of Kish. Kish was the father of Saul, and Saul was the father of Jonathan, Malki-Shua, Abinadab, and EshBaal.

<sup>37</sup>Moza was the father of Binea. Raphah was Binea's son. Eleasah was Raphah's son, and Azel was Eleasah's son.

<sup>39</sup>Azel's brother was Eshek. Eshek's first son was Ulam, his second was Jeush, and Eliphelet was his third. <sup>40</sup>Ulam's sons were mighty warriors and good archers. They had many sons and grandsons—one hundred fifty of them in all.

All these men were Benjamin's descendants.

The names of all the people of Israel were listed in their family histories, and those family histories were put in the book of the kings of Israel.

Life Lessons

1 Chronicles 9:2–44

Situation

The families of Israel who lived in Jerusalem after the captivity were recorded.

Observation

God holds his people accountable for the stewardship of their belongings. Each person must contribute to God's work and to the upkeep of his house.

Inspiration

You have a responsibility to build up your church and help it to be and do what Jesus created it to be and do. You could do so much for your church if you would just give yourself and your church a chance. For instance, if your church has a weekly prayer meeting, you could get your whole youth group together and show up. It would be wild if you didn't tell your pastor in advance. You would blow his mind. Have you ever thought of doing that? Or, have you thought of going to a church business meeting to share your beliefs and convictions about how the church can minister to the world? Your church needs your input. If you come in a loving and humble manner, the faithful workers in the church will be thrilled to see you taking an active part in the life of the church. You will be a source of encouragement to everyone.

You need the church and the church desperately needs you. If you are not affiliated with the church, you have denied yourself one of the major means through which God wants to keep you faithful to Him. (From You Can Make a Difference by Tony Campolo)

The People in Jerusalem

The people of Judah were captured and forced to go to Babylon, because they were not faithful to God.<sup>2</sup>The first people to come back and live in their own lands and towns were some Israelites, priests, Levites, and Temple servants.

<sup>4</sup>There was Uthai son of Ammihud. (Ammihud was Omri’s son. Omri was Imri’s son. Imri was Bani’s son. Bani was a descendant of Perez, and Perez was Judah’s son.)

<sup>6</sup>Of the Zerahite people there were Jeuel and other relatives of Zerah. There were six hundred ninety of them in all.

<sup>7</sup>From the tribe of Benjamin there was Sallu son of Meshullam. (Meshullam was Hodaviah’s son, and Hodaviah was Hassenuah’s son.)<sup>8</sup>There was also Ibneiah son of Jeroham and Elah son of Uzzi. (Uzzi was Micri’s son.) And there was Meshullam son of Shephatiah. (Shephatiah was Reuel’s son, and Reuel was Ibnijah’s son.)<sup>9</sup>The family history of Benjamin lists nine hundred fifty-six people living in Jerusalem, and all these were leaders of their families.

<sup>11</sup>Azariah son of Hilkiah. (Hilkiah was Meshullam's son. Meshullam was Zadok's son. Zadok was Meraioth's son. Meraioth was Ahitub's son. Ahitub was the officer responsible for the Temple of God.) <sup>12</sup>Also there was Adaiah son of Jeroham. (Jeroham was Pashhur's son, and Pashhur was Malkijah's son.) And there was Maasai son of Adiel. (Adiel was Jahzerah's son. Jahzerah was Meshullam's son. Meshullam was Meshillemith's son, and Meshillemith was Immer's son.) <sup>13</sup>There were one thousand seven hundred sixty priests. They were leaders of their families, and they were responsible for serving in the Temple of God.

<sup>14</sup>Of the Levites there was Shemaiah son of Hasshub. (Hasshub was Azrikam's son, and Azrikam was Hashabiah's son. Hashabiah was from the family of Merari.) <sup>15</sup>There were also Bakbakkar, Heresh, Galal, and Mattaniah son of Mica. (Mica was Zicri's son, and Zicri was Asaph's son.) <sup>16</sup>There was also Obadiah son of Shemaiah. (Shemaiah was Galal's son, and Galal was Jeduthun's son.) And there was Berekiah son of Asa. (Asa was the son of Elkanah, who lived in the villages of the Netophathites.) <sup>17</sup>Of the gatekeepers there were Shallum, Akkub, Talmon, Ahiman, and their relatives. Shallum was their leader. <sup>18</sup>These gatekeepers from the tribe of Levi still stand next to the King's Gate on the east side of the city. <sup>19</sup>Shallum was Kore's son. Kore was Ebiasaph's son, and Ebiasaph was Korah's son. Shallum and his relatives from the family of Korah were gatekeepers and were responsible for guarding the gates of the Temple. Their ancestors had also been responsible for guarding the entrance to the Temple of the Lord. <sup>20</sup>In the past Phinehas, Eleazar's son, was in charge of the gatekeepers, and the Lord was with Phinehas. <sup>21</sup>Zechariah son of Meshelemiah was the gatekeeper at the entrance to the Temple.

<sup>22</sup>In all, two hundred twelve men were chosen to guard the gates, and their names were written in their family histories in their villages. David and Samuel the seer chose these men because they were dependable. <sup>23</sup>The gatekeepers and their descendants had to guard the gates of the Temple of the Lord. (The Temple took the place of the Holy Tent.) <sup>24</sup>There were gatekeepers on all four sides of the Temple: east, west, north, and south. <sup>25</sup>The gatekeepers' relatives who lived in the villages had to come and help them at times. Each time they came they helped the gatekeepers for seven days. <sup>26</sup>Because they were dependable, four gatekeepers were made the leaders of all the gatekeepers. They were Levites, and they were responsible for the rooms and treasures in the Temple of God. <sup>27</sup>They stayed up all night guarding the Temple of God, and they opened it every morning.

Since they were on duty day and night, they did not do other work in the Temple.

<sup>34</sup>These are the leaders of the Levite families. Their names were listed in their family histories, and they lived in Jerusalem.

The Family History of King Saul

<sup>42</sup>Ahaz was Jadah's father. Jadah was the father of Alemeth, Azmaveth, and Zimri. Zimri was Moza's father. <sup>43</sup>Moza was Binea's father. Rephaiah was Binea's son. Eleasah was Rephaiah's son, and Azel was Eleasah's son.

<sup>44</sup>Azel had six sons: Azrikam, Bokeru, Ishmael, Sheariah, Obadiah, and Hanan. They were Azel's sons.

Life Lessons

1 Chronicles 10:1–12:40

Situation

After Saul's death, David was anointed king of Judah. Even so, it was more than seven years later before he ruled over all of Israel. That seven-year period was marked by civil war and Philistine domination.

Observation

Failure results when people forsake God. We must choose to follow and fight for the kingdom that follows God rather than the one that forsakes him.

Inspiration

On the very spot where the evil ambitions of the Third Reich were born, we came to proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ. The Nazis had promised the German people a thousand-year regime of military might and power and awful judgment; I spoke to them of the good news of forgiveness and the love of God. It was a different time. It was a message for a people struggling between the failures of history and ideology and their hopes for peace and security.

The entire world watched via satellite when the Berlin Wall came down. I suspect a large part of the shock expressed by the world was not because the hideous wall had at last fallen, but that the emotional and political barriers to peace were being taken away, stone by stone....

The place where I stood to address the German people on that afternoon in March 1990 was only yards away from the shattered section of the Berlin Wall where workers with saws and torches were ripping out the bars that supported the barriers. By a show of hands, I learned that more than half of the fifteen thousand to seventeen thousand people who came out to brave the wind and rain were from East Germany. They listened attentively and hopefully, and I wanted to give them a message of peace, a message as big as their dreams.

I told these expectant men and women that the world was watching them by satellite and that Christians everywhere were praying for them. I said it was “with tears of rejoicing and happiness as we watched you coming through the wall.” Because of these events, there was a new “hope that peace was on its way to our world.” “God has answered our prayers,” I assured them, and the changes taking place in the world prove that He cares for us.

The Death of King Saul

The Philistines fought against Israel, and the Israelites ran away from them. Many Israelites were killed on Mount Gilboa.<sup>2</sup>The Philistines fought hard against Saul and his sons, killing his sons Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malki-Shua.<sup>3</sup>The fighting was heavy around Saul, and the archers shot him with their arrows and wounded him.

<sup>4</sup>Then Saul said to the officer who carried his armor, “Pull out your sword and stab me. If you don’t, these Philistines who are not circumcised will come and hurt me.” But Saul’s officer refused, because he was afraid. So Saul took his own sword and threw himself on it.<sup>5</sup>When the officer saw that Saul was dead, he threw himself on his own sword and died.<sup>6</sup>So Saul and three of his sons died; all his family died together.

<sup>7</sup>When the Israelites living in the valley saw that their army had run away and that Saul and his sons were dead, they left their towns and ran away. Then the Philistines came and settled in them.

<sup>11</sup>All the people in Jabesh Gilead heard what the Philistines had done to Saul. <sup>12</sup>So the brave men of Jabesh went and got the bodies of Saul and his sons and brought them to Jabesh. They buried their bones under the large tree in Jabesh. Then the people of Jabesh gave up eating for seven days.

<sup>13</sup>Saul died because he was not faithful to the Lord and did not obey the Lord. He even went to a medium and asked her for advice <sup>14</sup>instead of asking the Lord. This is why the Lord put Saul to death and gave the kingdom to Jesse's son David.

David Becomes King

Then the people of Israel came to David at the town of Hebron and said, “Look, we are your own family. <sup>2</sup>Even when Saul was king, you were the one who led Israel in battle. The Lord your God said to you, ‘You will be the shepherd for my people Israel. You will be their leader.’” <sup>3</sup>So all the older leaders of Israel came to King David at Hebron. He made an agreement with them in Hebron in the presence of the Lord. Then they poured oil on David to make him king over Israel. The Lord had promised through Samuel that this would happen.

David Captures Jerusalem

<sup>4</sup>David and all the Israelites went to the city of Jerusalem. At that time Jerusalem was called Jebus, and the people living there were named Jebusites. <sup>5</sup>They said to David, “You can’t get inside our city.” But David did take the city of Jerusalem with its strong walls, and it became the City of David.

<sup>6</sup>David had said, “The person who leads the attack against the Jebusites will become the commander over all my army.” Joab son of Zeruiah led the attack, so he became the commander of the army.

<sup>7</sup>Then David made his home in the strong, walled city, which is why it was named the City of David. <sup>8</sup>David rebuilt the city, beginning where the land was filled in and going to the wall that was around the city. Joab repaired the other parts of the city.<sup>9</sup> David became stronger and stronger, and the Lord All-Powerful was with him.

David's Mighty Warriors

<sup>10</sup>This is a list of the leaders over David's warriors who helped make David's kingdom strong. All the people of Israel also supported David's kingdom. These heroes and all the people of Israel made David king, just as the Lord had promised.

Jashobeam was from the Hacmonite people. He was the head of the Three, David's most powerful soldiers. He used his spear to fight three hundred men at one time, and he killed them all.

<sup>15</sup>Once, three of the Thirty, David's chief soldiers, came down to him at the rock by the cave near Adullam. At the same time the Philistine army had camped in the Valley of Rephaim.

<sup>16</sup>At that time David was in a stronghold, and some of the Philistines were in Bethlehem. <sup>17</sup>David had a strong desire for some water. He said, "Oh, I wish someone would get me water from the well near the city gate of Bethlehem!" <sup>18</sup>So the Three broke through the Philistine army and took water from the well near the city gate in Bethlehem. Then they brought it to David,

but he refused to drink it. He poured it out before the Lord,<sup>19</sup>saying, “May God keep me from drinking this water! It would be like drinking the blood of the men who risked their lives to bring it to me!” So David refused to drink it.

These were the brave things that the three warriors did.

<sup>20</sup>Abishai brother of Joab was the captain of the Three. Abishai fought three hundred soldiers with his spear and killed them. He became as famous as the Three<sup>21</sup>and was more honored than the Three. He became their commander even though he was not one of them.

<sup>22</sup>Benaiah son of Jehoiada was a brave fighter from Kabzeel who did mighty things. He killed two of the best warriors from Moab. He also went down into a pit and killed a lion on a snowy day. <sup>23</sup>Benaiah killed an Egyptian who was about seven and one-half feet tall and had a spear as large as a weaver’s rod. Benaiah had a club, but he grabbed the spear from the Egyptian’s hand and killed him with his own spear. <sup>24</sup>These were the things Benaiah son of Jehoiada did. He was as famous as the Three. <sup>25</sup>He received more honor than the Thirty, but he did not become a member of the Three. David made him leader of his bodyguards.

The Thirty Chief Soldiers

<sup>26</sup>These were also mighty warriors:

- Asahel brother of Joab;
- Elhanan son of Dodo from Bethlehem;
- <sup>27</sup>Shammoth the Harorite;

- Helez the Pelonite;
- <sup>28</sup>Ira son of Ikkesh from Tekoa;
- Abiezer the Anathothite;
- <sup>29</sup>Sibbecai the Hushathite;
- Ilai the Ahohite;
- <sup>30</sup>Maharai the Netophathite;
- Heled son of Baanah the Netophathite;
- <sup>31</sup>Ithai son of Ribai from Gibeah in Benjamin;
- Benaiah the Pirathonite;
- <sup>32</sup>Hurai from the ravines of Gaash;
- Abiel the Arbathite;
- <sup>33</sup>Azmaveth the Baharumite;
- Eliahba the Shaalbonite;
- <sup>34</sup>the sons of Hashem the Gizonite;
- Jonathan son of Shagee the Hararite;
- <sup>35</sup>Ahiam son of Sacar the Hararite;
- Eliphai son of Ur;
- <sup>36</sup>Hepher the Mekerathite;
- Ahijah the Pelonite;
- <sup>37</sup>Hezro the Carmelite;
- Naarai son of Ezbai;
- <sup>38</sup>Joel brother of Nathan;
- Mibhar son of Hagri;
- <sup>39</sup>Zelek the Ammonite;
- Naharai the Berothite, the officer who carried the armor for Joab son of Zeruiah;
- <sup>40</sup>Ira the Ithrite;
- Gareb the Ithrite;
- <sup>41</sup>Uriah the Hittite;
- Zabad son of Ahlai;

- <sup>42</sup>Adina son of Shiza the Reubenite, who was the leader of the Reubenites, and his thirty soldiers;
- <sup>43</sup>Hanan son of Maacah;
- Joshaphat the Mithnite;
- <sup>44</sup>Uzzia the Ashterathite;
- Shama and Jeiel sons of Hotham the Aroerite;
- <sup>45</sup>Jediael son of Shimri;
- Joha, Jediael's brother, the Tizite;
- <sup>46</sup>Eliel the Mahavite;
- Jeribai and Joshaviah, Elnaam's sons;
- Ithmah the Moabite;
- <sup>47</sup>Eliel, Obed, and Jaasiel the Mezobaites.

Warriors Join David

These were the men who came to David at Ziklag when David was hiding from Saul son of Kish. They were among the warriors who helped David in battle.<sup>2</sup>They came with bows for weapons and could use either their right or left hands to shoot arrows or to sling rocks. They were Saul's relatives from the tribe of Benjamin.<sup>3</sup>Ahiezer was their leader, and there was Joash. (Ahiezer and Joash were sons of Shemaah, who was from the town of Gibeah.) There were also Jeziel and Pelet, the sons of Azmaveth. There were Beracah and Jehu from the town of Anathoth.<sup>4</sup>And there was Ishmaiah from the town of Gibeon; he was one of the Thirty. In fact, he was the leader of the Thirty. There were Jeremiah, Jahaziel, Johanan, and Jozabad from Gederah.<sup>5</sup>There were Eluzai, Jerimoth, Bealiah, and Shemariah. There was Shephatiah from Haruph.<sup>6</sup>There were Elkanah, Isshiah, Azarel, Joezer, and Jashobeam from the family group of Korah.<sup>7</sup>And there were Joelah and Zebadiah, the sons of Jeroham, from the town of Gedor.

<sup>8</sup>Part of the people of Gad joined David at his stronghold in the desert. They were brave warriors trained for war and skilled with shields and spears. They were as fierce as lions and as fast as gazelles over the hills.

<sup>14</sup>They were the commanders of the army from Gad. The least of these leaders was in charge of a hundred soldiers, and the greatest was in charge of a thousand. <sup>15</sup>They crossed the Jordan River and chased away the people living in the valleys, to the east and to the west. This happened in the first month of the year when the Jordan floods the valley.

<sup>16</sup>Other people from the tribes of Benjamin and Judah also came to David at his stronghold. <sup>17</sup>David went out to meet them and said to them, “If you have come peacefully to help me, I welcome you. Join me. But if you have come to turn me over to my enemies, even though I have done nothing wrong, the God of our fathers will see this and punish you.”

“We belong to you, David.
We are with you, son of Jesse.
Success, success to you.
Success to those who help you,
because your God helps you.”

So David welcomed these men and made them leaders of his army.

<sup>19</sup>Some of the men from Manasseh also joined David when he went with the Philistines to fight Saul. But David and his men did not really help the Philistines. After talking about it, the Philistine leaders decided to send David away. They said, “If David goes back to his master Saul, we will be killed.”

<sup>20</sup>These are the men from Manasseh who joined David when he went to Ziklag: Adnah, Jozabad, Jediel, Michael, Jozabad, Elihu, and Zillethai. Each of them was a leader of a thousand men from Manasseh. <sup>21</sup>All these men of Manasseh were brave soldiers, and they helped David fight against groups of men who went around the country robbing people. These soldiers became commanders in David's army. <sup>22</sup>Every day more men joined David, and his army became large, like the army of God.

Others Join David at Hebron

<sup>26</sup>There were forty-six hundred men from Levi. <sup>27</sup>Jehoiada, a leader from Aaron's family, was in that group. There were thirty-seven hundred with him. <sup>28</sup>Zadok was also in that group. He was a strong young warrior, and with him came twenty-two leaders from his family.

<sup>29</sup>There were three thousand men from Benjamin, who were Saul's relatives. Most of them had remained loyal to Saul's family until then.

<sup>30</sup>There were twenty thousand eight hundred men from Ephraim. They were brave warriors and were famous men in their own family groups.

<sup>32</sup>There were two hundred leaders from Issachar. They knew what Israel should do, and they knew the right time to do it. Their relatives were with them and under their command.

<sup>33</sup>There were fifty thousand men from Zebulun. They were trained soldiers and knew how to use every kind of weapon of war. They followed David completely.

<sup>34</sup>There were one thousand officers from Naphtali. They had thirty-seven thousand soldiers with them who carried shields and spears.

<sup>37</sup>There were one hundred twenty thousand soldiers from the east side of the Jordan River from the people of Reuben, Gad, and East Manasseh. They had every kind of weapon.

<sup>38</sup>All these fighting men were ready to go to war. They came to Hebron fully agreed to make David king of all Israel. All the other Israelites also agreed to make David king. <sup>39</sup>They spent three days there with David, eating and drinking, because their relatives had prepared food for them. <sup>40</sup>Also, their neighbors came from as far away as Issachar, Zebulun, and Naphtali, bringing food on donkeys, camels, mules, and oxen. They brought much flour, fig cakes, raisins, wine, oil, cows, and sheep, because the people of Israel were very happy.

1 Chronicles 13:1–14:17

Situation

God had given specific instructions concerning the sacred objects (Numbers 4:15). God said he would put to death anyone who touched the Ark.

Observation

David became angry at God. Yet, it was David's own neglect that brought God's severe action.

Inspiration

Some time ago, I took my family to the bicycle store to purchase a bike for five-year-old Jenna. She picked out a shiny “Starlett” with a banana seat and training wheels. And Andrea, age three, decided she wanted one as well.

... I told her she was still having trouble with a tricycle and was too small for a two-wheeler. No luck; she still wanted a bike...

Finally I sighed and said this time her daddy knew best. Her response? ...

“Then I want a new daddy!”

Though the words were from a child's mouth, they carried an adult's sentiments.

... When we don't agree with the One who calls the shots, our reaction is often the same as Andrea's—the same as John's... . “Are you the one? Should we look for another?”

... John couldn't believe that anything less than his release would be for the best interest of all involved... . But the One who had the power was “sitting on his hands.”

... You may learn, as John did, that the problem is not as much in God’s silence as it is in your ability to hear.

Bringing Back the Ark

David talked with all the officers of his army, the commanders of a hundred men and the commanders of a thousand men. <sup>2</sup>Then David called the people of Israel together and said, “If you think it is a good idea, and if it is what the Lord our God wants, let’s send a message. Let’s tell our fellow Israelites in all the areas of Israel and the priests and Levites living with them in their towns and pastures to come and join us. <sup>3</sup>Let’s bring the Ark of our God back to us. We did not use it to ask God for help while Saul was king.” <sup>4</sup>All the people agreed with David, because they all thought it was the right thing to do.

<sup>7</sup>The people carried the Ark of God from Abinadab’s house on a new cart, and Uzzah and Ahio guided it. <sup>8</sup>David and all the Israelites were celebrating in the presence of God. With all their strength they were singing and playing lyres, harps, tambourines, cymbals, and trumpets.

the oxen stumbled, and Uzzah reached out his hand to steady the Ark.<sup>10</sup>The Lord was angry with Uzzah and killed him, because he had touched the Ark. So Uzzah died there in the presence of God.

<sup>12</sup>David was afraid of God that day and asked, “How can I bring the Ark of God home to me?”<sup>13</sup>So David did not take the Ark with him to Jerusalem. Instead, he took it to the house of Obed-Edom who was from Gath.<sup>14</sup>The Ark of God stayed with Obed-Edom’s family in his house for three months, and the Lord blessed Obed-Edom’s family and everything he owned.

David's Kingdom Grows

Hiram king of the city of Tyre sent messengers to David. He also sent cedar logs, bricklayers, and carpenters to build a palace for David.<sup>2</sup> Then David knew that the Lord really had made him king of Israel and that he had made his kingdom great. The Lord did this because he loved his people Israel.

David Defeats the Philistines

<sup>8</sup>When the Philistines heard that David had been made king of all Israel, they went to look for him. But David heard about it and went out to fight them. <sup>9</sup>The Philistines had attacked and robbed the people in the Valley of Rephaim. <sup>10</sup>David asked God, "Should I go and attack the Philistines? Will you hand them over to me?"

The Lord answered him, "Go, I will hand them over to you."

<sup>11</sup>So David and his men went up to the town of Baal Perazim and defeated the Philistines. David said, "Like a flood of water, God has broken through my enemies by using me." So that place was named Baal Perazim. <sup>12</sup>The Philistines had left their idols there, so David ordered his men to burn them.

again. <sup>14</sup>David prayed to God again, and God answered him, saying, “Don’t attack the Philistines from the front. Instead, go around them and attack them in front of the balsam trees. <sup>15</sup>When you hear the sound of marching in the tops of the balsam trees, then attack. I, God, will have gone out before you to defeat the Philistine army.” <sup>16</sup>David did as God commanded, and he and his men defeated the Philistine army all the way from Gibeon to Gezer.

The Ark Is Brought to Jerusalem

David built houses for himself in Jerusalem. Then he prepared a place for the Ark of God, and he set up a tent for it. <sup>2</sup>David said, “Only the Levites may carry the Ark of God. The Lord chose them to carry the Ark of the Lord and to serve him forever.”

<sup>3</sup>David called all the people of Israel to come to Jerusalem. He wanted to bring the Ark of the Lord to the place he had made for it. <sup>4</sup>David called together the descendants of Aaron and the Levites. <sup>5</sup>There were one hundred twenty people from Kohath’s family group, with Uriel as their leader. <sup>6</sup>There were two hundred twenty people from Merari’s family group, with Asaiah as their leader. <sup>7</sup>There were one hundred thirty people from Gershon’s family group, with Joel as their leader. <sup>8</sup>There were two hundred people from Elizaphan’s family group, with Shemaiah as their leader. <sup>9</sup>There were eighty people from Hebron’s family group, with Eliel as their leader. <sup>10</sup>And there were one hundred twelve people from Uzziel’s family group, with Amminadab as their leader.

<sup>11</sup>Then David asked the priests Zadok and Abiathar and these Levites to come to him: Uriel, Asaiah, Joel, Shemaiah, Eliel, and Amminadab. <sup>12</sup>David said to them, “You are the leaders of the families of Levi. You and the other Levites must give yourselves for service to the Lord. Bring up the Ark of the Lord, the God of Israel, to the place I have made for it. <sup>13</sup>The last time we did not ask the Lord how to carry it. You Levites didn’t carry it, so the Lord our God punished us.”

service to the Lord so they could carry the Ark of the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>15</sup>The Levites used special poles to carry the Ark of God on their shoulders, as Moses had commanded, just as the Lord had said they should.

<sup>17</sup>So the Levites appointed Heman and his relatives Asaph and Ethan. Heman was Joel's son. Asaph was Berekiah's son. And Ethan, from the Merari family group, was Kushaiah's son. <sup>18</sup>There was also a second group of Levites: Zechariah, Jaaziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattithiah, Eliphelehu, Mikneiah, Obed-Edom, and Jeiel. They were the Levite guards.

<sup>23</sup>Berekiah and Elkanah were two of the guards for the Ark of the Agreement. <sup>24</sup>The priests Shebaniah, Joshaphat, Nethanel, Amasai, Zechariah, Benaiah, and Eliezer had the job of blowing trumpets in front of the Ark of God. Obed-Edom and Jehiah were also guards for the Ark.

seven bulls and seven male sheep.<sup>27</sup>All the Levites who carried the Ark, and Kenaniah, the man in charge of the singing, and all the singers wore robes of fine linen. David also wore a robe of fine linen and a holy vest of fine linen.<sup>28</sup>So all the people of Israel brought up the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord. They shouted, blew horns and trumpets, and played cymbals, lyres, and harps.

<sup>29</sup>As the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord entered Jerusalem, Saul's daughter Michal watched from a window. When she saw King David dancing and celebrating, she hated him.

Life Lessons

1 Chronicles 15:1-17:27

Situation

David learned from his previous mistake. When they moved the Ark, David and his men carefully followed God's instructions.

Observation

David's praise-filled reception of God's Ark demonstrates genuine spiritual worship. God showed that he was greatly pleased with such worship and honor.

Inspiration

Although it is intensely personal, there is nothing self-centered about genuine worship. If believers are to maintain a consistent lifestyle of continuous worship, they need the fellowship and encouragement of other believers as they assemble for group worship. Individual worship and corporate worship feed each other. So on the one hand, I need the fellowship of the saints. On the other hand, the community of saints needs me to live a consistent life of worship.

The source of most of the problems people have in their Christian lives relates to two things: either they are not worshipping six days a week with their life, or they are not worshipping one day a week with the assembly of the saints. We need both.

If you go to church only when it is convenient, you will never be victorious and productive as a Christian. You can't succeed on your own; you need to have the spiritual stimulation of fellow believers. We live in such an easy-come, easy-go, casual, flippant society that people don't make consistent, faithful commitments, and then they wonder why they fail. The answer is clear. Spiritual success requires commitment to others. . . .

A pastor went to see a man who didn't attend church very faithfully. The man was sitting before a fire, watching the warm glow of the coals. It was a cold winter day, but the coals were red hot, and the fire was warm. The pastor pleaded with the man to be more faithful in meeting with the people of God, but the man didn't seem to be getting the message.

So the pastor took the tongs beside the fireplace, pulled open the screen, and reached in and began to separate all the coals. When none of the coals was touching the others, he stood and watched in silence. In a matter of moments, they were all cold. "That's what's happening in your life," he told the man. "As soon as you isolate yourself from God's people, the fire goes out." The man got the message.

The church is not the brick-and-mortar building in which the assembly meets; it is God's people in whom He dwells. In the church—among God's people, the true worshipers—we must bring a worshiping heart to stimulate others while being stimulated to love and good works. As that stimulation affects our souls we do good and share. The cycle is complete when we live out the overflow of praise and a continual heart of thanksgiving. Then worship is a way of life. For that we were redeemed. (From The Ultimate Priority by John MacArthur, Jr.)

Application

Plan for a special day this Sunday. On Saturday night, start preparing your heart and mind for worship. On Sunday, anticipate worship.

Exploration

Attitude of Worship—1 Chronicles 29:9; Psalm 27:4; 51:16–17; 84:1–3; John 4:23–24; Romans 12:1; Philippians 3:3; Hebrews 10:1–10.

They brought the Ark of God and put it inside the tent that David had set up for it. Then they offered burnt offerings and fellowship offerings to God. <sup>2</sup>When David had finished giving the burnt offerings and fellowship offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the Lord. <sup>3</sup>He gave a loaf of bread, some dates, and raisins to every Israelite man and woman.

<sup>4</sup>Then David appointed some of the Levites to serve before the Ark of the Lord. They had the job of leading the worship and giving thanks and praising the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>5</sup>Asaph, who played the cymbals, was the leader. Zechariah was second to him. The other Levites were Jaaziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Mattithiah, Eliab, Benaiah, Obed-Edom, and Jeiel. They played the lyres and harps. <sup>6</sup>Benaiah and Jahaziel were priests who blew the trumpets regularly before the Ark of the Agreement with God. <sup>7</sup>That day David first gave Asaph and his relatives the job of singing praises to the Lord.

David's Song of Thanks

<sup>8</sup>Give thanks to the Lord and pray to him.
Tell the nations what he has done.

Tell about all his miracles.

let those who seek the Lord be happy.

always go to him for help.

<sup>12</sup>Remember the miracles he has done,
his wonders, and his decisions.

<sup>13</sup>You are the descendants of his servant, Israel;
you are the children of Jacob, his chosen people.

<sup>14</sup>He is the Lord our God.
His laws are for all the world.

<sup>15</sup>He will keep his agreement forever;
he will keep his promises always.

<sup>16</sup>He will keep the agreement he made with Abraham
and the promise he made to Isaac.

he made it an agreement with Israel to last forever.

<sup>18</sup>He said, "I will give the land of Canaan to you, to belong to you."

<sup>19</sup>Then God's people were few in number,
and they were strangers in the land.

from one kingdom to another.

<sup>21</sup>But he did not let anyone hurt them;
he warned kings not to harm them.

and don't harm my prophets."

Every day tell how he saves us.

tell all peoples the miracles he does.

He should be respected more than all the gods.

but the Lord made the skies.

<sup>27</sup>He has glory and majesty;
he has power and joy in his Temple.

Praise the Lord's glory and power;

Bring an offering and come to him.

Worship the Lord because he is holy.

The earth is set, and it cannot be moved.

Let people everywhere say, "The Lord is king!"

<sup>32</sup>Let the sea and everything in it shout;

let the fields and everything in them rejoice.

<sup>33</sup>Then the trees of the forest will sing for joy before the Lord.

They will sing because he is coming to judge the world.

<sup>34</sup>Thank the Lord because he is good.

His love continues forever.

<sup>35</sup>Say to him, "Save us, God our Savior, and bring us back and save us from other nations.

Then we will thank you

He always was and always will be.

All the people said "Amen" and praised the Lord.

<sup>37</sup>Then David left Asaph and the other Levites there in front of the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord. They were to serve

there every day. <sup>38</sup>David also left Obed-Edom and sixty-eight other Levites to serve with them. Hosah and Obed-Edom son of Jeduthun were guards.

God's Promise to David

When David moved into his palace, he said to Nathan the prophet, "Look, I am living in a palace made of cedar, but the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord sits in a tent."

<sup>7</sup>"Now, tell my servant David: 'This is what the Lord All-Powerful says: I took you from the pasture and from tending the sheep and made you king of my people Israel. <sup>8</sup>I have been with you everywhere you have gone. I have defeated your enemies for you. I will make you as famous as any of the great people on the earth. <sup>9</sup>I will choose a place for my people Israel, and I will plant them so they can live in their own homes. They will not be bothered anymore. Wicked people will no longer hurt them as they have in the past <sup>10</sup>when I chose judges for my people Israel. I will defeat all your enemies.

"I tell you that the Lord will make your descendants kings of Israel after you. <sup>11</sup>When you die and join your ancestors, I will make one of your sons the new king, and I will set up his kingdom. <sup>12</sup>He will build a house for me, and I will let his kingdom rule always. <sup>13</sup>I will be his father, and he will be my son. I took away my love from Saul, who ruled before you, but I will never stop loving your son. <sup>14</sup>I will put him in charge of my house and kingdom forever. His family will rule forever.”

David Prays to God

<sup>16</sup>Then King David went in and sat in front of the Lord. David said, “Lord God, who am I? What is my family? Why did you bring me to this point? <sup>17</sup>But that was not enough for you, God. You have also made promises about my future family. Lord God, you have treated me like a very important person.

<sup>18</sup>“What more can I say to you for honoring me, your servant? You know me so well. <sup>19</sup>Lord, you have done this wonderful thing for my sake and because you wanted to. You have made known all these great things.

<sup>20</sup>“There is no one like you, Lord. There is no God except you. We have heard all this ourselves! <sup>21</sup>There is no nation like your people Israel. They are the only people on earth that God chose to be his own. You made your name well known by the great and wonderful things you did for them. You went ahead of them and forced other nations out of the land. You freed your people from slavery in Egypt. <sup>22</sup>You made the people of Israel your very own people forever, and, Lord, you are their God.

<sup>23</sup>“Lord, keep the promise forever that you made about my family and me, your servant. Do what you have said. <sup>24</sup>Then you will be honored always, and people will say, ‘The Lord All-Powerful, the God over Israel, is Israel’s God!’ And the family of your servant David will continue before you.

<sup>25</sup>“My God, you have told me that you would make my family great. So I, your servant, am brave enough to pray to you. <sup>26</sup>Lord, you are God, and you have promised these good things to me, your servant. <sup>27</sup>You have chosen to bless my family. Let it continue before you always. Lord, you have blessed my family, so it will always be blessed.”

1 Chronicles 18:1–22:1

Situation

God gave David victory over the surrounding kings. David congratulated himself by taking a census of the people to portray his power.

Observation

In repenting, David acknowledged that he would rather fall into the hands of the Lord than the hands of men (21:13). He called the Lord “very merciful.”

Inspiration

The beautiful thing about mercy is that it is demonstrated to the offender as well as to the victim. When the offender realizes his or her wrong, God brings mercy. When the victim needs help to go on, God gives mercy ...

The connecting link between a holy God and a sinful person is God’s love, which activates His grace, which, in turn, sets in motion His mercy. They’re like divine dominoes that bump up against one another. He loves us not because of something in ourselves but because of something in Himself. And in His love He demonstrates His grace, which brings forgiveness. And on top of that, grace prompts mercy ... and there it is: relief. (From The Mystery of God’s Will by Charles Swindoll)

Application

What an amazing concept: mercy. Spend the next week thanking God daily for his immeasurable mercy and grace. Thank him that you will receive more mercy from him than from others.

David Defeats Nations

Later, David defeated the Philistines, conquered them, and took the city of Gath and the small towns around it.

<sup>2</sup>He also defeated the people of Moab. So the people of Moab became servants of David and gave him the payment he demanded.

<sup>5</sup>Arameans from Damascus came to help Hadadezer king of Zobah, but David killed twenty-two thousand of them. <sup>6</sup>Then David put groups of soldiers in Damascus in Aram. The Arameans became David's servants and gave him the payments he demanded. So the Lord gave David victory everywhere he went.

<sup>12</sup>Abishai son of Zeruiah killed eighteen thousand Edomites in the Valley of Salt. <sup>13</sup>David put groups of soldiers in Edom, and all the Edomites became his servants. The Lord gave David victory everywhere he went.

David's Important Officers

<sup>14</sup>David was king over all of Israel, and he did what was fair and right for all his people. <sup>15</sup>Joab son of Zeruiah was commander over the army. Jehoshaphat son of Ahilud was the recorder. <sup>16</sup>Zadok son of Ahitub and Abiathar son of Ahimelech were priests. Shavsha was the royal secretary. <sup>17</sup>Benaiah son of Jehoiada was over the Kerethites and Pelethites. And David's sons were important officers who served at his side.

War with the Ammonites and Arameans

When Nahash king of the Ammonites died, his son became king after him. <sup>2</sup>David said, “Nahash was loyal to me, so I will be loyal to his son Hanun.” So David sent messengers to comfort Hanun about his father’s death.

David’s officers went to the land of the Ammonites to comfort Hanun. <sup>3</sup>But the Ammonite leaders said to Hanun, “Do you think David wants to honor your father by sending men to comfort you? No! David sent them to study the land and capture it and spy it out.” <sup>4</sup>So Hanun arrested David’s officers. To shame them he shaved their beards and cut off their clothes at the hips. Then he sent them away.

<sup>5</sup>When the people told David what had happened to his officers, he sent messengers to meet them, because they were very ashamed. King David said, “Stay in Jericho until your beards have grown back. Then come home.”

<sup>6</sup>The Ammonites knew that they had insulted David. So Hanun and the Ammonites sent about seventy-four thousand pounds of silver to hire chariots and chariot drivers from Northwest Mesopotamia, Aram Maacah, and Zobah. <sup>7</sup>The Ammonites hired thirty-two thousand chariots and the king of Maacah and his army. So they came and set up camp near the town of Medeba. The Ammonites themselves came out of their towns and got ready for battle.

<sup>8</sup>When David heard about this, he sent Joab with the whole army. <sup>9</sup>The Ammonites came out and prepared for battle at the city gate. The kings who had come to help were out in the field by themselves.

<sup>10</sup>Joab saw that there were enemies both in front of him and behind him. So he chose some of the best soldiers of Israel and sent them out to fight the Arameans. <sup>11</sup>Joab put the rest of the army under the command of Abishai, his brother. Then they went out to fight the Ammonites. <sup>12</sup>Joab said to Abishai, “If the Arameans are too strong for me, you must help me. Or, if the Ammonites are too strong for you, I will help you. <sup>13</sup>Be strong. We must fight bravely for our people and the cities of our God. The Lord will do what he thinks is right.”

<sup>14</sup>Then Joab and the army with him went to attack the Arameans, and the Arameans ran away. <sup>15</sup>When the Ammonites saw that the Arameans were running away, they also ran away from Joab’s brother Abishai and went back to their city. So Joab went back to Jerusalem.

<sup>16</sup>When the Arameans saw that Israel had defeated them, they sent messengers to bring other Arameans from east of the Euphrates River. Their leader was Shophach, the commander of Hadadezer’s army.

<sup>17</sup>When David heard about this, he gathered all the Israelites, and they crossed over the Jordan River. He prepared them for battle, facing the Arameans. The Arameans fought with him, <sup>18</sup>but they ran away from the Israelites. David killed seven thousand Aramean chariot drivers and forty thousand Aramean foot soldiers. He also killed Shophach, the commander of the Aramean army.

<sup>19</sup>When those who served Hadadezer saw that the Israelites had defeated them, they made peace with David and served him. So the Arameans refused to help the Ammonites again.

Joab Destroys the Ammonites

In the spring, the time of year when kings normally went out to battle, Joab led out the army of Israel. But David stayed in Jerusalem. The army of Israel destroyed the land of Ammon and went to the city of Rabbah and attacked it. <sup>2</sup>David took the crown off the head of their king, and had it placed on his own head. That gold crown weighed about seventy-five pounds, and it had valuable gems in it. And David took many valuable things from the city. <sup>3</sup>He also brought out the people of the city and forced them to work with saws, iron picks, and axes. David did this to all the Ammonite cities. Then David and all his army returned to Jerusalem.

Philistine Giants Are Killed

<sup>4</sup>Later, at Gezer, war broke out with the Philistines. Sibbecai the Hushathite killed Sippai, who was one of the descendants of the Rephaites. So those Philistines were defeated.

<sup>5</sup>Later, there was another battle with the Philistines. Elhanan son of Jair killed Lahmi, the brother of Goliath, who was from the town of Gath. His spear was as large as a weaver's rod.

<sup>6</sup>At Gath another battle took place. A huge man was there; he had six fingers on each hand and six toes on each foot—twenty-four fingers and toes in all. This man also was one of the sons of Rapha. <sup>7</sup>When he spoke against Israel, Jonathan son of Shimea, David's brother, killed him.

David and his men.

David Counts the Israelites

Satan was against Israel, and he caused David to count the people of Israel. <sup>2</sup>So David said to Joab and the commanders of the troops, “Go and count all the Israelites from Beersheba to Dan. Then tell me so I will know how many there are.”

<sup>3</sup>But Joab said, “May the Lord give the nation a hundred times more people. My master the king, all the Israelites are your servants. Why do you want to do this, my master? You will make Israel guilty of sin.”

<sup>4</sup>But the king commanded Joab, so Joab left and went through all Israel. Then he returned to Jerusalem. <sup>5</sup>Joab gave the list of the people to David. There were one million one hundred thousand men in all of Israel who could use the sword, and there were four hundred seventy thousand men in Judah who could use the sword. <sup>6</sup>But Joab did not count the tribes of Levi and Benjamin, because he didn't like King David's order. <sup>7</sup>David had done something God had said was wrong, so God punished Israel.

<sup>8</sup>Then David said to God, “I have sinned greatly by what I have done! Now, I beg you to forgive me, your servant, because I have been very foolish.”

<sup>11</sup>So Gad went to David and said to him, “This is what the Lord says: ‘Choose for yourself <sup>12</sup>three years of hunger. Or choose three months of running from your enemies as they chase you with their swords. Or choose three days of punishment from the Lord, in which a terrible disease will spread through the country. The angel of the Lord will go through Israel destroying the people.’ Now, David, decide which of these things I should tell the Lord who sent me.”

<sup>14</sup>So the Lord sent a terrible disease on Israel, and seventy thousand people died. <sup>15</sup>God sent an angel to destroy Jerusalem, but when the angel started to destroy it, the Lord saw it and felt very sorry about the terrible things that had happened. So he said to the angel who was destroying, “That is enough! Put down your arm!” The angel of the Lord was then standing at the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.

<sup>16</sup>David looked up and saw the angel of the Lord in the sky, holding his sword drawn and pointed at Jerusalem. Then David and the older leaders bowed facedown on the ground. They were wearing rough cloth to show their grief. <sup>17</sup>David said to God, “I am the one who sinned and did wrong. I gave the order for the people to be counted. These people only followed me like sheep. They did nothing wrong. Lord my God, please punish me and my family, but stop the terrible disease that is killing your people.”

<sup>18</sup>Then the angel of the Lord told Gad to tell David that he should build an altar to the Lord on the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite. <sup>19</sup>So David did what Gad told him to do, in the name of the Lord.

<sup>20</sup>Araunah was separating the wheat from the straw. When he turned around, he saw the angel. Araunah’s four sons who were with him hid.<sup>21</sup>David came to Araunah, and when Araunah saw him, he left the threshing floor and bowed facedown on the ground before David.

<sup>22</sup>David said to him, “Sell me your threshing floor so I can build an altar to the Lord here. Then the terrible disease will stop. Sell it to me for the full price.”

<sup>23</sup>Araunah said to David, “Take this threshing floor. My master the king, do anything you want. Look, I will also give you oxen for the whole burnt offerings, the threshing boards for the wood, and wheat for the grain offering. I give everything to you.”

<sup>25</sup>So David paid Araunah about fifteen pounds of gold for the place.<sup>26</sup>David built an altar to the Lord there and offered whole burnt offerings and fellowship offerings. David prayed to the Lord, and he answered him by sending down fire from heaven on the altar of burnt offering.<sup>27</sup>Then the Lord commanded the angel to put his sword back into its holder.

<sup>28</sup>When David saw that the Lord had answered him on the threshing floor of Araunah, he offered sacrifices there.<sup>29</sup>The Holy Tent that Moses made while the Israelites were in the desert and the altar of burnt offerings were in Gibeon at the place of worship.<sup>30</sup>But David could not go to the Holy Tent to speak with God, because he was afraid of the angel of the Lord and his sword.

David said, “The Temple of the Lord God and the altar for Israel’s burnt offerings will be built here.”

Situation

David planned the Temple. After the exile, these dimensions were used to rebuild the Temple.

Observation

In service to God, everyone’s job remains important. Each person’s part honors God.

Inspiration

When we compare the present day churches to the original blueprint it is strikingly apparent that many deviations have been permitted which have been detrimental to the life of the church. Through the centuries the church gradually turned away from the simple provisions which made it such a powerful and compelling force in its early years, and there came in terrible distortions from which we are suffering greatly today. The popular thinking fastened upon the building as the identifying symbol and emphasis was put upon great imposing structures and massive cathedrals. In the beginning, “working in the church” meant to exercise a gift or perform a ministry among Christian people wherever they were, but gradually it came to mean doing some religious act within a building.

Along with this came a gradual transfer of responsibility from the people to what was termed

“the clergy,” which is a term derived from the Latin clericus meaning a priest. The scriptural concept that every believer is a priest before God was gradually lost and a special body of super-Christians emerged who were looked to for practically everything and so came to be termed “the ministry.”...

When the ministry was thus left to the professionals there was nothing left for the people to do other than come to church and listen. They were told it was their responsibility to bring the world into the church building to hear the pastor preach the gospel. Soon Christianity became nothing but a spectator sport, very much akin to the definition of football—22 men down on the field, desperately in need of rest, and 20 thousand in the grandstands, desperately in need of exercise!

This unbiblical distortion has placed pastors under an unbearable burden. They have proved completely unequal to the task of evangelizing the world, counseling the distressed and brokenhearted, ministering to the poor and needy, relieving the oppressed and afflicted, expounding the Scriptures, and challenging the entrenched forces of evil in an increasingly darkened world. They were never meant to do it....

Nothing is more desperately needed than to return to the dynamic of the early church....

Again it is the entire body of believers who must attempt the work of the ministry, equipped and guided by gifted men who are able to expound and apply the Scriptures with such wisdom that even the least believer discovers and begins to exercise the gift or gifts the Holy Spirit has given him. The whole body then stirs with resurrection power. Boldness and power again become the trademarks of the church of Jesus Christ. (From Body Life by Ray C. Stedman)

David Makes Plans for the Temple

<sup>2</sup>So David ordered all foreigners living in Israel to gather together. From that group David chose stonecutters to cut stones to be used in building the Temple of God. <sup>3</sup>David supplied a large amount of iron to be used for making nails and hinges for the gate doors. He also supplied more bronze than could be weighed, <sup>4</sup>and he supplied more cedar logs than could be counted. Much of the cedar had been brought to David by the people from Sidon and Tyre.

<sup>5</sup>David said, “We should build a great Temple for the Lord, which will be famous everywhere for its greatness and beauty. But my son Solomon is young. He hasn’t yet learned what he needs to know, so I will prepare for the building of it.” So David got many of the materials ready before he died.

<sup>6</sup>Then David called for his son Solomon and told him to build the Temple for the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>7</sup>David said to him, “My son, I wanted to build a temple for worshiping the Lord my God. <sup>8</sup>But the Lord spoke his word to me, ‘David, you have killed many people. You have fought many wars. You cannot build a temple for worship to me, because you have killed many people. <sup>9</sup>But, you will have a son, a man of peace and rest. I will give him rest from all his enemies around him. His name will be Solomon, and I will give Israel peace and quiet while he is king. <sup>10</sup>Solomon will build a temple for worship to me. He will be my son, and I will be his father. I will make his kingdom strong; someone from his family will rule Israel

<sup>11</sup>David said, “Now, my son, may the Lord be with you. May you build a temple for the Lord your God, as he said you would. <sup>12</sup>He will make you the king of Israel. May the Lord give you wisdom and understanding so you will be able to obey the teachings of the Lord your God. <sup>13</sup>Be careful to obey the rules and laws the Lord gave Moses for Israel. If you obey them, you will have success. Be strong and brave. Don’t be afraid or discouraged.

<sup>14</sup>“Solomon, I have worked hard getting many of the materials for building the Temple of the Lord. I have supplied about seven and one-half million pounds of gold, about seventy-five million pounds of silver, so much bronze and iron it cannot be weighed, and wood and stone. You may add to them. <sup>15</sup>You have many workmen—stonecutters, bricklayers, carpenters, and people skilled in every kind of work. <sup>16</sup>They are skilled in working with gold, silver, bronze, and iron. You have more craftsmen than can be counted. Now begin the work, and may the Lord be with you.”

<sup>17</sup>Then David ordered all the leaders of Israel to help his son Solomon. <sup>18</sup>David said to them, “The Lord your God is with you. He has given you rest from our enemies. He has handed over to me the people living around us. The Lord and his people are in control of this land. <sup>19</sup>Now give yourselves completely to obeying the Lord your God. Build the holy place of the Lord God; build the Temple for worship to the Lord. Then bring the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord and the holy items that belong to God into the Temple.”

The Levites

After David had lived long and was old, he made his son Solomon the new king of Israel. <sup>2</sup>David gathered all the leaders of Israel, along with the priests and Levites. <sup>3</sup>He counted the Levites who were thirty years old and older. In all, there were thirty-eight thousand Levites. <sup>4</sup>David said, “Of these, twenty-four thousand Levites will direct the work of the Temple of the Lord, six thousand Levites will be officers and judges, <sup>5</sup>four thousand Levites will be gatekeepers, and four thousand Levites will praise the Lord with musical instruments I made for giving praise.”

<sup>6</sup>David separated the Levites into three groups that were led by Levi’s three sons: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

The People of Gershon

<sup>8</sup>Ladan had three sons. His first son was Jehiel, and his other sons were Zetham and Joel.

<sup>9</sup>Shimei’s sons were Shelomoth, Haziel, and Haran. These three sons were leaders of Ladan’s families. <sup>10</sup>Shimei had four sons: Jahath, Ziza, Jeush, and Beriah. <sup>11</sup>Jahath was the first son, and Ziza was the second son. But Jeush and Beriah did not have many children, so they were counted as if they were one family.

The People of Kohath

<sup>13</sup>Amram's sons were Aaron and Moses. Aaron and his descendants were chosen to be special forever. They were chosen to prepare the holy things for the Lord's service, to offer sacrifices before the Lord, and to serve him as priests. They were to give blessings in his name forever.

The People of Merari

<sup>21</sup>Merari's sons were Mahli and Mushi. Mahli's sons were Eleazar and Kish. <sup>22</sup>Eleazar died without sons; he had only daughters. Eleazar's daughters married their cousins, the sons of Kish. <sup>23</sup>Mushi's three sons were Mahli, Eder, and Jerimoth.

The Levites' Work

<sup>24</sup>These were Levi's descendants listed by their families. They were the leaders of families. Each person who was twenty years old or older was listed. They served in the Lord's Temple.

<sup>25</sup>David had said, "The Lord, the God of Israel, has given rest to his people. He has come to live in Jerusalem forever.

<sup>26</sup>So the Levites don't need to carry the Holy Tent or any of the things used in its services anymore.” <sup>27</sup>David's last instructions were to count the Levites who were twenty years old and older.

<sup>28</sup>The Levites had the job of helping Aaron's descendants in the service of the Temple of the Lord. They cared for the Temple courtyard and side rooms, and they made all the holy things pure. Their job was to serve in the Temple of God. <sup>29</sup>They were responsible for putting the holy bread on the table, for the flour in the grain offerings, for the bread made without yeast, for the baking and mixing, and for the measuring. <sup>30</sup>The Levites also stood every morning and gave thanks and praise to the Lord. They also did this every evening. <sup>31</sup>The Levites offered all the burnt offerings to the Lord on the special days of rest, at the New Moon festivals, and at all appointed feasts. They served before the Lord every day. They were to follow the rules for how many Levites should serve each time. <sup>32</sup>So the Levites took care of the Meeting Tent and the Holy Place. And they helped their relatives, Aaron's descendants, with the services at the Temple of the Lord.

The Groups of the Priests

These were the groups of Aaron's sons: Aaron's sons were Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar. <sup>2</sup>But Nadab and Abihu died before their father did, and they had no sons. So Eleazar and Ithamar served as the priests. <sup>3</sup>David, with the help of Zadok, a descendant of Eleazar, and Ahimelech, a descendant of Ithamar, separated their family groups into two different groups. Each group had certain duties. <sup>4</sup>There were more leaders from Eleazar's family than from Ithamar's—sixteen leaders from Eleazar's family and eight leaders from Ithamar's family. <sup>5</sup>Men were chosen from Eleazar's and Ithamar's families by throwing lots. Some men from each family were chosen to be in charge of the Holy Place, and some were chosen to serve as priests.

<sup>6</sup>Shemaiah son of Nethanel, from the tribe of Levi, was the secretary. He recorded the names of those descendants in front of King David, the officers, Zadok the priest, Ahimelech son of Abiathar, and the leaders of the families of the priests and Levites. The work was divided by lots among the families of Eleazar and Ithamar. The following men with their groups were chosen.

Jeshebeab.<sup>14</sup>The fifteenth was Bilgah. The sixteenth was Immer.<sup>15</sup>The seventeenth was Hezir. The eighteenth was Happizzetz.<sup>16</sup>The nineteenth was Pethahiah. The twentieth was Jehezkel.<sup>17</sup>The twenty-first was Jakin. The twenty-second was Gamul.<sup>18</sup>The twenty-third was Delaiah. The twenty-fourth was Maaziah.

<sup>19</sup>These were the groups chosen to serve in the Temple of the Lord. They obeyed the rules given them by Aaron, just as the Lord, the God of Israel, had commanded him.

The Other Levites

<sup>20</sup>These are the names of the rest of Levi's descendants:

Shubael was a descendant of Amram, and Jehdeiah was a descendant of Shubael.

These are the Levites, listed by their families.<sup>31</sup> They were chosen for special jobs by throwing lots in front of King David, Zadok, Ahimelech, the leaders of the families of the priests, and the Levites. They did this just as their relatives, the priests, Aaron's descendants, had done. The families of the oldest brother and the youngest brother were treated the same.

Life Lessons

1 Chronicles 25:1–27:34

Situation

King David hoped to build the Temple for God. In addition to planning and funding the Temple, David spent time preparing the Temple servants to be ready when Solomon finished the Temple.

Observation

David developed a plan so that operations would go smoothly. Each person fulfilled his or her role, working for the common good of God's people.

Inspiration

At a recent conference, I shared the platform with my friend, Camille. Actually, she doesn't speak. Camille is an interpreter for the deaf who often travels with me to sign my messages. As I talked, her hands were working a mile a minute just to keep up. I spoke for almost an hour, got a sore throat, and had to pop a lozenge.

During break time I noticed my friend Francie sitting with Camille, giving her hands a deep massage. Camille signed, "Joni, your throat may be sore, but my hands are sore from your talk. My tendons are tight and this handrub is as soothing as—well, that lozenge on your throat."

It never occurred to me that Camille's hands could get tired of talking, or I should say, signing. As I watched Francie give Camille back the "voice" in her hands, I thought, What a beautiful picture of the body of Christ working together. One part can't do the job alone. When I speak, I need someone else's hands to push my chair to the platform. My deaf friends who are present can't hear unless Camille offers her hands to interpret. And Camille can't use her hands very long unless someone else gives her wrists and fingers a massage.

When it comes to giving the Gospel, it's always a cooperative effort of love and support. The Lord takes delight when His body works that way.

Someone needs you today. You could be the hands or the ears or the voice of someone who needs help. We're in this together so find a part of the body that can't be complete without you.

The Music Groups

David and the commanders of the army chose some of the sons of Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun to preach and play harps, lyres, and cymbals. Here is a list of the men who served in this way:

<sup>3</sup>Jeduthun's sons who served were Gedaliah, Zeri, Jeshaiiah, Shimei, Hashabiah, and Mattithiah. There were six of them, and Jeduthun directed them. He preached and used a harp to give thanks and praise to the Lord.

<sup>5</sup>All these were sons of Heman, David's seer. God promised to make Heman strong, so Heman had many sons. God gave him fourteen sons and three daughters. <sup>6</sup>Heman directed all his sons in making music for the Temple of the Lord with cymbals, lyres, and harps; that was their way of serving in the Temple of God. King David was in charge of Asaph, Jeduthun, and Heman. <sup>7</sup>These men and their relatives were trained and skilled in making music for the Lord. There were two hundred eighty-eight of them. <sup>8</sup>Everyone threw lots to choose the time his family was to serve at the Temple. The young and the old, the teacher and the student, had to throw lots.

Second, twelve men were chosen from Gedaliah, his sons and relatives.

The Gatekeepers

These are the groups of the gatekeepers. From the family of Korah, there was Meshelemiah son of Kore, who was from Asaph's family. <sup>2</sup>Meshelemiah had sons. Zechariah was his first son, Jediael was second, Zebadiah was third, Jathniel was fourth, <sup>3</sup>Elam was fifth, Jehohanan was sixth, and Eliehoenai was seventh.

<sup>4</sup>Obed-Edom had sons. Shemaiah was his first son, Jehozabad was second, Joah was third, Sacar was fourth, Nethanel was fifth, <sup>5</sup>Ammiel was sixth, Issachar was seventh, and Peullethai was eighth. God blessed Obed-Edom with children.

<sup>6</sup>Obed-Edom's son Shemaiah also had sons. They were leaders in their father's family because they were capable men. <sup>7</sup>Shemaiah's sons were Othni, Rephael, Obed, Elzabad, Elihu, and Semakiah. Elihu, and Semakiah were skilled workers. <sup>8</sup>All these were Obed-Edom's descendants. They and their sons and relatives were capable men and strong workers. Obed-Edom had sixty-two descendants in all.

<sup>9</sup>Meshelemiah had sons and relatives who were skilled workers. In all, there were eighteen.

<sup>10</sup>From the Merari family, Hosah had sons. Shimri was chosen to be in charge. Although he was not the oldest son, his father chose him to be in charge. <sup>11</sup>Hilkiah was his second son, Tabaliah was third, and Zechariah was fourth. In all, Hosah had thirteen sons and relatives.

<sup>12</sup>These were the leaders of the groups of gatekeepers, and they served in the Temple of the Lord. Their relatives also worked in the Temple. <sup>13</sup>By throwing lots, each family chose a gate to guard. Young and old threw lots.

<sup>14</sup>Meshelemiah was chosen by lot to guard the East Gate. Then lots were thrown for Meshelemiah's son Zechariah. He was a wise counselor and was chosen for the North Gate. <sup>15</sup>Obed-Edom was chosen for the South Gate, and Obed-Edom's sons were chosen to guard the storehouse. <sup>16</sup>Shuppim and Hosah were chosen for the West Gate and the Shalleketh Gate on the upper road.

Guards stood side by side with guards. <sup>17</sup>Six Levites stood guard every day at the East Gate; four Levites stood guard every day at the North Gate; four Levites stood guard every day at the South Gate; and two Levites at a time guarded the storehouse. <sup>18</sup>There were two guards at the western court and four guards on the road to the court.

Other Leaders

<sup>20</sup>Other Levites were responsible for guarding the treasuries of the Temple of God and for the places where the holy items were kept.

<sup>21</sup>Ladan was Gershon's son and the ancestor of several family groups. Jehiel was a leader of one of the family groups. <sup>22</sup>His sons were Zetham and Joel his brother, and they were responsible for the treasuries of the Temple of the Lord.

Gershom, who was Moses' son, was the leader responsible for the treasuries.<sup>25</sup> These were Shubael's relatives from Eliezer: Eliezer's son Rehabiah, Rehabiah's son Jeshaiiah, Jeshaiiah's son Joram, Joram's son Zicri, and Zicri's son Shelomith.<sup>26</sup> Shelomith and his relatives were responsible for everything that had been collected for the Temple by King David, by the heads of families, by the commanders of a thousand men and of a hundred men, and by other army commanders.<sup>27</sup> They also gave some of the things they had taken in wars to be used in repairing the Temple of the Lord.<sup>28</sup> Shelomith and his relatives took care of all the holy items. Some had been given by Samuel the seer, Saul son of Kish, Abner son of Ner, and Joab son of Zeruah.

<sup>29</sup>Kenaniah was from the Izhar family. He and his sons worked outside the Temple as officers and judges in different places in Israel.

<sup>30</sup>Hashabiah was from the Hebron family. He and his relatives were responsible for the Lord's work and the king's business in Israel west of the Jordan River. There were seventeen hundred skilled men in Hashabiah's group.<sup>31</sup> The history of the Hebron family shows that Jeriah was their leader. In David's fortieth year as king, the records were searched, and some capable men of the Hebron family were found living at Jazer in Gilead.<sup>32</sup> Jeriah had twenty-seven hundred relatives who were skilled men and leaders of families. King David gave them the responsibility of directing the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and East Manasseh in God's work and the king's business.

Army Divisions

This is the list of the Israelites who served the king in the army. Each division was on duty one month each year. There were leaders of families, commanders of a hundred men, commanders of a thousand men, and other officers. Each division had twenty-four thousand men.

<sup>4</sup>Dodai, from the Ahohites, was in charge of the division for the second month. Mikloth was a leader in the division. There were twenty-four thousand men in Dodai's division.

<sup>5</sup>The third commander, for the third month, was Benaiah son of Jehoiada the priest. There were twenty-four thousand men in his division. <sup>6</sup>He was the Benaiah who was one of the Thirty soldiers. Benaiah was a brave warrior who led those men. Benaiah's son Ammizabad was in charge of Benaiah's division.

<sup>7</sup>The fourth commander, for the fourth month, was Asahel, the brother of Joab. Later, Asahel's son Zebadiah took his place as commander. There were twenty-four thousand men in his division.

<sup>8</sup>The fifth commander, for the fifth month, was Shamhuth, from Izrah's family. There were twenty-four thousand men in his division.

<sup>9</sup>The sixth commander, for the sixth month, was Ira son of Ikkesh from the town of Tekoa. There were twenty-four thousand men in his division.

<sup>10</sup>The seventh commander, for the seventh month, was Helez. He was from the Pelonites and a descendant of Ephraim. There were twenty-four thousand men in his division.

<sup>11</sup>The eighth commander, for the eighth month, was Sibbecai. He was from Hushah and was from Zerah's family. There were twenty-four thousand men in his division.

<sup>12</sup>The ninth commander, for the ninth month, was Abiezer. He was from Anathoth in Benjamin. There were twenty-four thousand men in his division.

<sup>13</sup>The tenth commander, for the tenth month, was Maharai. He was from Netophah and was from Zerah's family. There were twenty-four thousand men in his division.

<sup>14</sup>The eleventh commander, for the eleventh month, was Benaiah. He was from Pirathon in Ephraim. There were twenty-four thousand men in his division.

<sup>15</sup>The twelfth commander, for the twelfth month, was Heldai. He was from Netophah and was from Othniel's family. There were twenty-four thousand men in his division.

Leaders of the Tribes

<sup>16</sup>These were the leaders of the tribes of Israel. Eliezer son of Zicri was over the tribe of Reuben. Shephatiah son of Maacah was over the tribe of Simeon. <sup>17</sup>Hashabiah son of Kemuel was over the tribe of Levi. Zadok was over the people of Aaron. <sup>18</sup>Elihu, one of David's brothers, was over the tribe of Judah. Omri son of Michael was over the tribe of Issachar. <sup>19</sup>Ishmaiah son of Obadiah was over the tribe of Zebulun. Jerimoth son of Azriel was over the tribe of Naphtali. <sup>20</sup>Hoshea son of Azaziah was over the tribe of Ephraim. Joel son of Pedaiiah was over West Manasseh. <sup>21</sup>Iddo son of Zechariah was over East Manasseh. Jaasiel son of Abner was over the tribe of Benjamin. <sup>22</sup>Azarel son of Jeroham was over the tribe of Dan.

These were the leaders of the tribes of Israel.

<sup>23</sup>The Lord had promised to make the Israelites as many as the stars in the sky. So David only counted the men who were twenty years old and older. <sup>24</sup>Joab son of Zeruiah began to count the people, but he did not finish. God became angry with Israel for counting the people, so the number of the people was not put in the history book about King David's rule.

The King's Directors

<sup>25</sup>Azmaveth son of Adiel was in charge of the royal storehouses.

Jonathan son of Uzziah was in charge of the storehouses in the country, towns, villages, and towers.

<sup>26</sup>Ezri son of Kelub was in charge of the field workers who farmed the land.

Zabdi, from Shapham, was in charge of storing the wine that came from the vineyards.

Joash was in charge of storing the olive oil.

<sup>29</sup>Shitrai, from Sharon, was in charge of the herds that fed in the Plain of Sharon.

Shaphat son of Adlai was in charge of the herds in the valleys.

Jehdeiah, from Meronoth, was in charge of the donkeys.

All these men were the officers who took care of King David's property.

<sup>32</sup>Jonathan was David's uncle, and he advised David. Jonathan was a wise man and a teacher of the law. Jehiel son of Hacmoni took care of the king's sons. <sup>33</sup>Ahithophel advised the king. Hushai, from the Arkite people, was the king's friend. <sup>34</sup>Jehoiada and Abiathar later took Ahithophel's place in advising the king. Jehoiada was Benaiah's son. Joab was the commander of the king's army.

Life Lessons

1 Chronicles 28:1–29:30

Situation

As David grew old, he handed his Temple building plans to his son Solomon. God chose Solomon to reign after David (even though he wasn't the oldest son). David also gave Solomon wise advice about his relationship with God.

Observation

David's final words consisted of thanksgiving and praise. David recognized that even the gifts Israel presented to God came from the Lord.

Inspiration

God is committed to caring for our needs. Paul tells us that a man who won't feed his own family is worse than an unbeliever (1 Timothy 5:8). How much more will a holy God care for his children? After all, how can we fulfill his mission unless our needs are met? How can we teach or minister or influence unless we have our basic needs satisfied? Will God enlist us in his army and not provide a commissary? Of course not.

"I pray that the God of peace will give you every good thing you need so you can do what he wants" (Hebrews 13:20). Hasn't that prayer been answered in our life? We may not have had a feast, but haven't we always had food? Perhaps there was no banquet, but at least there was bread. And many times there was a banquet.

In fact, many of us in the United States have trouble relating to the phrase “Give us this day our daily bread” because our pantries are so packed and our bellies so full we seldom ask for food. We ask for self-control. We don’t say, “God let me eat.” We say, “God, help me not to eat so much.” You won’t find books in our stores on surviving starvation, but you’ll find shelves loaded with books on losing weight. This doesn’t negate the importance of this phrase, however. Just the opposite. For us, the blessed of belly, this prayer has double meaning.

We pray, only to find our prayer already answered! We are like the high school senior who decides to go to college and then learns the cost of tuition. He runs to his father and pleads, “I’m sorry to ask so much, Dad, but I have nowhere else to go. I want to go to college and I don’t have a penny.” The father puts his arms around the son and smiles and says, “Don’t worry, son. The day you were born I began saving for your education. I’ve already provided for your tuition.”

The boy made the request only to find the father had already met it. The same happens to you. At some point in your life it occurs to you that someone is providing for your needs. You take a giant step in maturity when you agree with David’s words in 1 Chronicles 29:14: “Everything comes from you; we have given you back what you gave us.” You may be writing a check and stirring the soup, but there’s more to putting food on the table than that. What about the ancient symbiosis of the seed and the soil and the sun and the rain? Who created animals for food and minerals for metal? Long before you knew you needed someone to provide for your needs, God already had.

So the first rule in the kitchen is one of dependence. Ask God for whatever you need. He is committed to you. God lives with the self-assigned task of providing for his own, and so far, you've got to admit, he's done pretty well at the job. (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you usually see yourself as self-sufficient or as someone whose needs are met directly by God? Acknowledge the fact that everything you have is a gift from God. Make a list of what you consider your “wants” and your “needs.” Thank him for his abundant goodness to you.

David's Plans for the Temple

David commanded all the leaders of Israel to come to Jerusalem. There were the leaders of the tribes, commanders of the divisions serving the king, commanders of a thousand men and of a hundred men, leaders who took care of the property and animals that belonged to the king and his sons, men over the palace, the powerful men, and all the brave warriors.

<sup>2</sup>King David stood up and said, "Listen to me, my relatives and my people. I wanted to build a place to keep the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord. I wanted it to be God's footstool. So I made plans to build a temple. <sup>3</sup>But God said to me, 'You must not build a temple for worshiping me, because you are a soldier and have killed many people.'

<sup>4</sup>"But the Lord, the God of Israel, chose me from my whole family to be king of Israel forever. He chose the tribe of Judah to lead, and from the people of Judah, he chose my father's family. From that family God was pleased to make me king of Israel. <sup>5</sup>The Lord has given me many sons, and from those sons he has chosen Solomon to be the new king of Israel. Israel is the Lord's kingdom. <sup>6</sup>The Lord said to me, 'Your son Solomon will build my Temple and its courtyards. I have chosen Solomon to be my son, and I will be his father. <sup>7</sup>He is obeying my laws and commands now. If he continues to obey them, I will make his kingdom strong forever.'"

Lord, and in the hearing of God, I tell you these things: Be careful to obey all the commands of the Lord your God. Then you will keep this good land and pass it on to your descendants forever.

<sup>9</sup>“And you, my son Solomon, accept the God of your father. Serve him completely and willingly, because the Lord knows what is in everyone’s mind. He understands everything you think. If you go to him for help, you will get an answer. But if you turn away from him, he will leave you forever. <sup>10</sup>Solomon, you must understand this. The Lord has chosen you to build the Temple as his holy place. Be strong and finish the job.”

<sup>11</sup>Then David gave his son Solomon the plans for building the Temple and the courtyard around the Temple. They included its buildings, its storerooms, its upper rooms, its inside rooms, and the place where the people’s sins were removed. <sup>12</sup>David gave him plans for everything he had in mind: the courtyards around the Lord’s Temple and all the rooms around it, the Temple treasuries, and the treasuries of the holy items used in the Temple. <sup>13</sup>David gave Solomon directions for the groups of the priests and Levites. David told him about all the work of serving in the Temple of the Lord and about the items to be used in the Temple service <sup>14</sup>that were made of gold or silver. David told Solomon how much gold or silver should be used to make each thing. <sup>15</sup>David told him how much gold to use for each gold lampstand and its lamps and how much silver to use for each silver lampstand and its lamps. The different lampstands were to be used where needed. <sup>16</sup>David told how much gold should be used for each table that held the holy bread and how much silver should be used for the silver tables. <sup>17</sup>He told how much pure gold should be used to make the forks, bowls, and pitchers and how much gold should be used to make each gold dish. He told how much silver should be used to make each silver dish <sup>18</sup>and how much pure gold should be used for the altar of incense. He also gave Solomon the plans for the chariot of the golden creatures that spread their wings over the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord.

<sup>20</sup>David also said to his son Solomon, “Be strong and brave, and do the work. Don’t be afraid or discouraged, because the Lord God, my God, is with you. He will not fail you or leave you until all the work for the Temple of the Lord is finished. <sup>21</sup>The groups of the priests and Levites are ready for all the work on the Temple of God. Every skilled worker is ready to help you with all the work. The leaders and all the people will obey every command you give.”

Gifts for Building the Temple

King David said to all the Israelites who were gathered, “God chose my son Solomon, who is young and hasn’t yet learned what he needs to know, but the work is important. This palace is not for people; it is for the Lord God. <sup>2</sup>I have done my best to prepare for building the Temple of God. I have given gold for the things made of gold and silver for the things made of silver. I have given bronze for the things made of bronze and iron for the things made of iron. I have given wood for the things made of wood and onyx for the settings. I have given turquoise gems of many different colors, valuable stones, and white marble. I have given much of all these things. <sup>3</sup>I have already given this for the Temple, but now I am also giving my own treasures of gold and silver, because I really want the Temple of my God to be built. <sup>4</sup>I have given about two hundred twenty thousand pounds of pure gold from Ophir and about five hundred twenty thousand pounds of pure silver. They will be used to cover the walls of the buildings <sup>5</sup>and for all the gold and silver work. Skilled men may use the gold and silver to make things for the Temple. Now, who is ready to give himself to the service of the Lord today?”

<sup>6</sup>The family leaders and the leaders of the tribes of Israel, the commanders of a thousand men and of a hundred men, and the leaders responsible for the king’s work gave their valuable things. <sup>7</sup>They donated about three hundred eighty thousand pounds of gold, about seven hundred fifty thousand pounds of silver, about one million three hundred fifty thousand pounds of bronze, and about seven million five hundred thousand pounds of iron to the Temple of God. <sup>8</sup>People who had valuable gems gave them to the treasury of the Temple of the Lord, and Jehiel, from the Gershon family, took care of the valuable gems. <sup>9</sup>The leaders gave willingly and completely to the Lord. The people rejoiced to see their leaders give so gladly, and King David was also very happy.

David's Prayer

<sup>10</sup>David praised the Lord in front of all the people who were gathered. He said:

“We praise you, Lord,

God of our father Israel.

We praise you forever and ever.

You have glory, victory, and honor.

Everything in heaven and on earth belongs to you.

The kingdom belongs to you, Lord;

you are the ruler over everything.

<sup>12</sup>Riches and honor come from you.

You rule everything.

You have the power and strength to make anyone great and strong.

<sup>13</sup>Now, our God, we thank you and praise your glorious name.

<sup>14</sup>“These things did not really come from me and my people.

Everything comes from you;

we have given you back what you gave us.

<sup>15</sup>We are like foreigners and strangers, as our ancestors were.

Our time on earth is like a shadow.

There is no hope.

<sup>16</sup>Lord our God, we have gathered all this to build your Temple for worship to you.
But everything has come from you;
everything belongs to you.

<sup>17</sup>I know, my God, that you test people's hearts.

You are happy when people do what is right.

I was happy to give all these things,
and I gave with an honest heart.

Your people gathered here are happy to give to you, and I rejoice to see their giving.

<sup>18</sup>Lord, you are the God of our ancestors,
the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Make your people want to serve you always,
and make them want to obey you.

<sup>19</sup>Give my son Solomon a desire to serve you.

Help him always obey your commands, laws, and rules.

Help him build the Temple for which I have prepared.”

<sup>20</sup>Then David said to all the people who were gathered, “Praise the Lord your God.” So they all praised the Lord, the God of their ancestors, and they bowed to the ground to give honor to the Lord and the king.

Solomon Becomes King

<sup>21</sup>The next day the people sacrificed to the Lord. They offered burnt offerings to him of a thousand bulls, a thousand male sheep, and a thousand male lambs. They also brought drink offerings. Many sacrifices were made for all the people of Israel. <sup>22</sup>That day the people ate and drank with much joy, and the Lord was with them.

And they made David's son Solomon king for the second time. They poured olive oil on Solomon to appoint him king in the presence of the Lord. And they poured oil on Zadok to appoint him as priest. <sup>23</sup>Then Solomon sat on the Lord's throne as king and took his father David's place. Solomon was very successful, and all the people of Israel obeyed him. <sup>24</sup>All the leaders and soldiers and King David's sons accepted Solomon as king and promised to obey him. <sup>25</sup>The Lord made Solomon great before all the Israelites and gave Solomon much honor. No king of Israel before Solomon had such honor.

David's Death

<sup>26</sup>David son of Jesse was king over all Israel. <sup>27</sup>He had ruled over Israel forty years—seven years in Hebron and thirty-three years in Jerusalem. <sup>28</sup>David died when he was old. He had lived a good, long life and had received many riches and honors. His son Solomon became king after him.

<sup>29</sup>Everything David did as king, from beginning to end, is recorded in the records of Samuel the seer, the records of Nathan the prophet, and the records of Gad the seer. <sup>30</sup>Those writings tell what David did as king of Israel. They tell about his power and what happened to him and to Israel and to all the kingdoms around them.

Kittim His descendants were the people of Cyprus.

Mizraim This is another name for Egypt.

Peleg This name sounds like the Hebrew word for “divided.”

Israel Another name for Jacob.

Jabez This name in Hebrew sounds like the word for “pain.”

cities of safety A person who had accidentally killed someone could go to one of the six cities of safety to receive protection and a fair trial.

Beriah This name sounds like the Hebrew word for “trouble.”

Three Or maybe “Thirty.” These were David’s most powerful soldiers. See 2 Samuel 23:8.

Baal Perazim This name means “the Lord breaks through.”

their king Or, “Milcom,” the god of the Ammonite people.

Beersheba to Dan Beersheba was the city farthest south in Israel. Dan was the city farthest north. So this means all the people of Israel.

Solomon This name sounds like the Hebrew word for “peace.”

Thirty These were David’s most powerful soldiers. See 2 Samuel 23:24.

Introduction

A friend tells me of the time his five-year-old daughter took inventory of her friends.

Seems she took a tumble down the stairs and banged her head on the wall. Her mom rushed her to the emergency room and, though the injury wasn't severe, the doctor felt it wise to keep her overnight for observation. So the little girl spent the night in the hospital.

The next morning they took her home, and the dad carried her upstairs and put her in bed for a nap. As he closed the door he heard her voice. At first he thought she was speaking to him, so he stopped to listen.

My friend smiled. Painted on his daughter's bedroom wall were the characters from the Snow White story. For his daughter they were more than characters, however, they were friends. Every day she spent time talking to them. The dad knew what she was doing. “She was taking inventory of her friends,” he said. “She'd been through a rough night and just wanted to make sure they were okay.”

God has been known to do that. His people have a tendency to take tumbles. Some of those tumbles are severe. Second Chronicles will give you a few examples.

They aren't very pretty.

Some are very shameful. Still, they are his children and every so often he takes inventory of those who matter to him.

Buried in this large quarry called Chronicles are several jewels worth mining.

Here are two of the finest:

Then if my people, who are called by my name, are sorry for what they have done, if they pray and obey me and stop their evil ways, I will hear them from heaven. I will forgive their sin, and I will heal their land (7:14).

The Lord searches all the earth for people who have given themselves completely to him. He wants to make them strong (16:9).

Keep those verses in your hip pocket. You never know when you may take a spill yourself. Those words might be just what you need to get back on your feet.

About This Book

Author:

Probably Ezra

Date Written:

500–400 B.C.

Key Themes:

- One of Solomon's greatest achievements was the construction of the Temple in Jerusalem.
- As kings came and went in the divided kingdom, each king had to make a choice whether to follow God or not.
- As God had warned, the disobedience of each kingdom led to their eventual destruction and loss of their land.

Key Verse:

“If my people, who are called by my name, are sorry for what they have done, if they pray and obey me and stop their evil ways, I will hear them from heaven. I will forgive their sin, and I will heal their land” (2 Chronicles 7:14).

3. Judah Is Taken into Exile 36:1–23

Life Lessons

2 Chronicles 1:1-17

Situation

Solomon became king over Israel. God gave him an opportunity to ask for anything.

Observation

Put God first, and he will provide other needed resources.

Inspiration

Ever have trouble determining God's will for your future? You are not alone. "Do I move to Mobile or Minnesota?" "Do I retire or keep working?" "An engineer at IBM or a clerk at Sears?" "Do I marry or stay single?" The questions are endless. One follows another. Every new responsibility brings new decisions. "What college should my son attend?"...

How in the world do we know what God wants? Do we set out a fleece? Seek advice? Pray? Read the Bible? All these are right yet there is one decision that must be made first. (Hang on, it's a tough one.)

To know God's will, we must totally surrender to God's will. Our tendency is to make God's decision for him. I used to do that with my mom. As a child, I hated to get the flu for two reasons: (1) it hurt; (2) my mom was a nurse. Since she was an RN, she knew the fastest way to tackle the flu bug was with a needle ... in my bottom. Ouch! (I grew up thinking penicillin was a dirty word.)

When she would tell me "to go get the medicine,"

I would get everything but the dreaded needle. I'd come back with an armful: aspirin, Pepto Bismol, ear drops, nose drops, ankle wraps—anything but penicillin. But as good moms do, she always got her point across. “Now you know better,” she'd say with a smile, and would go get the (gulp) needle.

Here's the point. Don't go to God with options and expect him to choose one of your preferences. Go to him with empty hands—no hidden agendas, no crossed fingers, nothing behind your back. Go to him with a willingness to do whatever he says. If you surrender your will, then he will “equip you with everything good for doing his will” (Hebrews 13:21). It's a promise. (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Solomon Asks for Wisdom

Solomon, David's son, became a powerful king, because the Lord his God was with him and made him very great.

<sup>2</sup>Solomon spoke to all the people of Israel—the commanders of a hundred men and of a thousand men, the judges, every leader in all Israel, and the leaders of the families.

<sup>3</sup>Then Solomon and all the people with him went to the place of worship at the town of Gibeon. God's Meeting Tent, which Moses the Lord's servant had made in the desert, was there.

<sup>4</sup>David had brought the Ark of God from Kiriath Jearim to Jerusalem, where he had made a place for it and had set up a tent for it. <sup>5</sup>The bronze altar that Bezalel son of Uri, who was the son of Hur, had made was in Gibeon in front of the Holy Tent. So Solomon and the people worshiped there. <sup>6</sup>Solomon went up to the bronze altar in the presence of the Lord at the Meeting Tent and offered a thousand burnt offerings on it.

<sup>8</sup>Solomon answered, "You have been very kind to my father David, and you have made me king in his place. <sup>9</sup>Now, Lord God, may your promise to my father David come true. You have made me king of a people who are as many as the dust of the earth. <sup>10</sup>Now give me wisdom and knowledge so I can lead these people in the right way, because no one can rule them without your help."

<sup>11</sup>God said to Solomon, “You have not asked for wealth or riches or honor, or for the death of your enemies, or for a long life. But since you have asked for wisdom and knowledge to lead my people, over whom I have made you king, <sup>12</sup>I will give you wisdom and knowledge. I will also give you more wealth, riches, and honor than any king who has lived before you or any who will live after you.”

Solomon's Wealth

Solomon Prepares for the Temple

Solomon decided to build a temple as a place to worship the Lord and also a palace for himself.<sup>2</sup> He chose seventy thousand men to carry loads, eighty thousand men to cut stone in the hill country, and thirty-six hundred men to direct the workers.

<sup>3</sup>Solomon sent this message to Hiram king of the city of Tyre: “Help me as you helped my father David by sending him cedar logs so he could build himself a palace to live in. <sup>4</sup>I will build a temple for worshiping the Lord my God, and I will give this temple to him. There we will burn sweet-smelling spices in his presence. We will continually set out the holy bread in God’s presence. And we will burn sacrifices every morning and evening, on Sabbath days and New Moons, and on the other feast days commanded by the Lord our God. This is a rule for Israel to obey forever.

<sup>5</sup>“The temple I build will be great, because our God is greater than all gods. <sup>6</sup>But no one can really build a house for our God. Not even the highest of heavens can hold him. How then can I build a temple for him except as a place to burn sacrifices to him?

<sup>7</sup>“Now send me a man skilled in working with gold, silver, bronze, and iron, and with purple, red, and blue thread. He must also know how to make engravings. He will work with my skilled craftsmen in Judah and Jerusalem, whom my father David chose.

<sup>8</sup>“Also send me cedar, pine, and juniper logs from Lebanon. I know your servants are experienced at cutting down the trees in Lebanon, and my servants will help them. <sup>9</sup>Send me a lot of wood, because the temple I am going to build will be large and wonderful. <sup>10</sup>I will give your servants who cut the wood one hundred twenty-five thousand bushels of wheat, one hundred twenty-five thousand bushels of barley, one hundred fifteen thousand gallons of wine, and one hundred fifteen thousand gallons of oil.”

<sup>11</sup>Then Hiram king of Tyre answered Solomon with this letter: “Solomon, because the Lord loves his people, he chose you to be their king.” <sup>12</sup>Hiram also said: “Praise the Lord, the God of Israel, who made heaven and earth! He has given King David a wise son, one with wisdom and understanding, who will build a temple for the Lord and a palace for himself.

<sup>15</sup>“Now send my servants the wheat, barley, oil, and wine you promised. <sup>16</sup>We will cut as much wood from Lebanon as you need and will bring it on rafts by sea to Joppa. Then you may carry it to Jerusalem.”

<sup>17</sup>Solomon counted all the foreigners living in Israel. (This was after the time his father David had counted the people.) There were one hundred fifty-three thousand six hundred foreigners in the country. <sup>18</sup>Solomon chose seventy thousand of them to carry loads, eighty thousand of them to cut stone in the mountains, and thirty-six hundred of them to direct the workers and to keep the people working.

Life Lessons

2 Chronicles 2:1–5:1

Situation

Solomon prepared to build a Temple in Jerusalem according to the plans his father, David, had given him. Only the best wood and precious metals were used for God's house.

Observation

God deserves the best we can give. God deserves our finest possessions, our most valuable time, and our precious money.

Inspiration

You don't give for God's sake. You give for your sake. The purpose of tithing is "so that you will learn to respect the Lord your God always" (Deuteronomy 14:23). How does tithing teach you? Consider the simple act of writing a check for the offering. First you enter the date. Already you are reminded that you are a timebound creature and every possession you have will rust or burn. Best to give it while you can.

Then you enter the name of the one to whom you are giving the money. If the bank would cash it, you'd write God. But they won't, so you write the name of the church or group that has earned your trust.

Next comes the amount. Ahh, the moment of truth. You're more than a person with a checkbook. You're David, placing a stone in the sling. You're Peter, one foot on the boat, one foot on the lake. You're a little boy in a big crowd. A picnic lunch is all the Teacher needs, but it's all you have.

What will you do? Sling the Stone? Take the Step? Give the Meal?

Careful now, don't move too quickly. You aren't just entering an amount ... you are making a confession. A confession that God owns it all anyway.

And then the line in the lower left-hand corner on which you write what the check is for. Hard to know what to put. It's for the light bills and literature. A little bit of outreach. A little bit of salary.

Better yet, it's partial payment for what the church has done to help you raise your family ... keep your own priorities sorted out ... tune you in to his ever-neariness.

Or, perhaps, best yet, it's for you. It's a moment for you to clip yet another strand from the rope of earth so that when he returns you won't be tied up. (From When God Whispers Your Name by Max Lucado)

Solomon Builds the Temple

Then Solomon began to build the Temple of the Lord in Jerusalem on Mount Moriah. This was where the Lord had appeared to David, Solomon's father. Solomon built the Temple on the place David had prepared on the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.<sup>2</sup>Solomon began building in the second month of the fourth year he ruled Israel.

<sup>3</sup>Solomon used these measurements for building the Temple of God. It was ninety feet long and thirty feet wide, using the old measurement.<sup>4</sup>The porch in front of the main room of the Temple was thirty feet long and thirty feet high.

He covered the inside of the porch with pure gold.<sup>5</sup>He put panels of pine on the walls of the main room and covered them with pure gold. Then he put designs of palm trees and chains in the gold.<sup>6</sup>He decorated the Temple with gems and gold from Parvaim.<sup>7</sup>He put gold on the Temple's ceiling beams, doorposts, walls, and doors, and he carved creatures with wings on the walls.

<sup>8</sup>Then he made the Most Holy Place. It was thirty feet long and thirty feet wide, as wide as the Temple. He covered its walls with about forty-six thousand pounds of pure gold.<sup>9</sup>The gold nails weighed over a pound. He also covered the upper rooms with gold.

creature's other wing was also seven and one-half feet long, and it touched a wing of the second creature. <sup>12</sup>One wing of the second creature touched the other side of the room and was also seven and one-half feet long. The second creature's other wing touched the first creature's wing, and it was also seven and one-half feet long. <sup>13</sup>Together, the creatures' wings were thirty feet across. The creatures stood on their feet, facing the main room.

<sup>15</sup>He made two pillars to stand in front of the Temple. They were about fifty-two feet tall, and the capital of each pillar was over seven feet tall. <sup>16</sup>He made a net of chains and put them on the tops of the pillars. He made a hundred pomegranates and put them on the chains. <sup>17</sup>Then he put the pillars up in front of the Temple. One pillar stood on the south side, the other on the north. He named the south pillar He Establishes and the north pillar In Him Is Strength.

Things for the Temple

He made a bronze altar thirty feet long, thirty feet wide, and fifteen feet tall. <sup>2</sup>Then he made from bronze a large round bowl, which was called the Sea. It was forty-five feet around, fifteen feet across, and seven and one-half feet deep. <sup>3</sup>There were carvings of bulls under the rim of the bowl—ten bulls every eighteen inches. They were in two rows and were made in one piece with the bowl.

<sup>4</sup>The bowl rested on the backs of twelve bronze bulls that faced outward from the center of the bowl. Three bulls faced north, three faced west, three faced south, and three faced east. <sup>5</sup>The sides of the bowl were four inches thick, and it held about seventeen thousand five hundred gallons. The rim of the bowl was like the rim of a cup or like a lily blossom.

<sup>6</sup>He made ten smaller bowls and put five on the south side and five on the north. They were for washing the animals for the burnt offerings, but the large bowl was for the priests to wash in.

<sup>7</sup>He made ten lampstands of gold, following the plans. He put them in the Temple, five on the south side and five on the north.

<sup>8</sup>He made ten tables and put them in the Temple, five on the south side and five on the north. And he used gold to make a hundred other bowls.

<sup>9</sup>He also made the priests' courtyard and the large courtyard. He made the doors that opened to the courtyard and covered them with bronze. <sup>10</sup>Then he put the large bowl in the southeast corner of the Temple.

<sup>11</sup>Huram also made bowls, shovels, and small bowls. So he finished his work for King Solomon on the Temple of God:

- <sup>12</sup>two pillars;
- two large bowls for the capitals on top of the pillars;
- two nets to cover the two large bowls for the capitals on top of the pillars;
- <sup>13</sup>four hundred pomegranates for the two nets (there were two rows of pomegranates for each net covering the bowls for the capitals on top of the pillars);
- <sup>14</sup>the stands with a bowl on each stand;
- <sup>15</sup>the large bowl with twelve bulls under it;
- <sup>16</sup>the pots, shovels, forks, and all the things to go with them.

All the things that Hiram-Abi made for King Solomon for the Temple of the Lord were made of polished bronze. <sup>17</sup>The king had these things poured into clay molds that were made in the plain of the Jordan River between Succoth and Zarethan. <sup>18</sup>Solomon had so many things made that the total weight of all the bronze was never known.

Finally all the work Solomon did for the Temple of the Lord was finished. He brought in everything his father David had set apart for the Temple—all the silver and gold and other articles. And he put everything in the treasuries of God's Temple.

The Ark Is Brought into the Temple

<sup>2</sup>Solomon called for the older leaders of Israel, the heads of the tribes, and the leaders of the families to come to him in Jerusalem. He wanted them to bring the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord from the older part of the city. <sup>3</sup>So all the Israelites came together with the king during the festival in the seventh month.

<sup>7</sup>Then the priests put the Ark of the Agreement with the Lord in its place inside the Most Holy Place in the Temple, under the wings of the golden creatures. <sup>8</sup>The wings of these creatures were spread out over the place for the Ark, covering it and its carrying poles. <sup>9</sup>The carrying poles were so long that anyone standing in the Holy Place in front of the Most Holy Place could see the ends of the poles. But no one could see them from outside the Holy Place. The poles are still there today. <sup>10</sup>The only things inside the Ark were two stone tablets that Moses had put in the Ark at Mount Sinai. That was where the Lord made his agreement with the Israelites after they came out of Egypt.

<sup>11</sup>Then all the priests left the Holy Place. (All the priests from each group had made themselves ready to serve the Lord.) <sup>12</sup>All the Levite musicians—Asaph, Heman, Jeduthun, and all their sons and relatives—stood on the east side of the altar. They were dressed in white linen and played cymbals, harps, and lyres. With them were one hundred twenty priests who blew trumpets. <sup>13</sup>Those who blew the trumpets and those who sang together sounded like one person as they praised and thanked the Lord. They sang as others played their trumpets, cymbals, and other instruments. They praised the Lord with this song:

“He is good;
his love continues forever.”

Then the Temple of the Lord was filled with a cloud. <sup>14</sup>The priests could not continue their work because of the cloud, because the Lord’s glory filled the Temple of God.

Situation

Solomon dedicated the new Temple in Jerusalem. He invited tribal elders and chiefs from throughout Israel. While the sacred furnishings from the Meeting Tent were moved inside the Temple, sacrifices began. Amid song, praise, and music, God’s glory filled the Temple.

Observation

The Lord appeared to Solomon and told him that his work on the Temple pleased him. He said that if his judgment fell on the nation due to sin, they could turn to the Lord in repentance. The Lord would then respond to true repentance by forgiving their sin and healing their land.

Inspiration

With each denial Peter inches closer to the edge of the canyon ... until the ground gives way and he falls.

Have you been there? Have you felt the ground of conviction give way beneath your feet? The ledge crumbles, your eyes widen, and down you go. Poof!

Now what do you do? You could stay in the canyon. Many do. Many live their lives in the shadows. Many never return. Some dismiss their deeds. "Well, everybody has a little slip now and then." Some deny their deeds. "Fall? Me? Are you kidding? These aren't bruises. These aren't cuts. I'm as healthy as I've ever been. Me and Jesus? We are tight." Some distort their deeds. "I'm not to blame. It's his fault. It's society's responsibility. If the people hadn't asked me, I wouldn't have answered. Don't point the finger at me."

When we fall, we can dismiss it. We can deny it. We can distort it. Or we can deal with it.

Luke adds a chilling phrase to his account of Peter's denial of Christ. When the cock crowed, "the Lord turned and looked straight at Peter" (Luke 22:61).

The rooster reminds Peter of Jesus' warning. Peter lifts his eyes and looks across the courtyard, only to find Jesus looking at him. Jesus is being assailed by accusations, but he doesn't hear them. He hears only the denial of his friend.

If Peter ever thought he could keep his fall a secret, he now knows he can't. "Nothing in all the world can be hidden from God. Everything is clear and lies open before him, and to him we must explain the way we have lived" (Hebrews 4:13).

We keep no secrets from God. Confession is not telling God what we did. He already knows. Confession is simply agreeing with God that our acts were wrong. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

If you know there is unconfessed sin in your life, confess it now. Also ask the Lord to search you to see if there is anything in your life that might be keeping you from full fellowship with him. Remember that God wants to forgive your sinful deeds and thoughts through his wonderful grace.

Solomon Speaks to the People

Then Solomon said, “The Lord said he would live in the dark cloud. <sup>2</sup>Lord, I have built a wonderful Temple for you—a place for you to live forever.”

<sup>3</sup>While all the Israelites were standing there, King Solomon turned to them and blessed them. <sup>4</sup>Then he said, “Praise the Lord, the God of Israel. He has done what he promised to my father David. The Lord said, <sup>5</sup>“Since the time I brought my people out of Egypt, I have not chosen a city in any tribe of Israel where a temple will be built for me. I did not choose a man to lead my people Israel. <sup>6</sup>But now I have chosen Jerusalem as the place I am to be worshiped, and I have chosen David to lead my people Israel.”

<sup>7</sup>“My father David wanted to build a temple for the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>8</sup>But the Lord said to my father David, ‘It was good that you wanted to build a temple for me. <sup>9</sup>But you are not the one to build it. Your son, who comes from your own body, is the one who will build my temple.’”

<sup>10</sup>“Now the Lord has kept his promise. I am the king now in place of David my father. Now I rule Israel as the Lord promised, and I have built the Temple for the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>11</sup>There I have put the Ark, in which is the Agreement the Lord made with the Israelites.”

Solomon’s Prayer

Israelites were standing behind him. He spread out his hands. <sup>13</sup>He had made a bronze platform seven and one-half feet long, seven and one-half feet wide, and seven and one-half feet high, and he had placed it in the middle of the outer courtyard. Solomon stood on the platform. Then he kneeled in front of all the people of Israel gathered there, and he spread out his hands toward the sky. <sup>14</sup>He said, “Lord, God of Israel, there is no god like you in heaven or on earth. You keep your agreement of love with your servants who truly follow you. <sup>15</sup>You have kept the promise you made to your servant David, my father. You spoke it with your own mouth and finished it with your hands today.

<sup>16</sup>“Now, Lord, God of Israel, keep the promise you made to your servant David, my father. You said, ‘If your sons are careful to obey my teachings as you have obeyed, there will always be someone from your family ruling Israel.’ <sup>17</sup>Now, Lord, God of Israel, please continue to keep that promise you made to your servant.

<sup>18</sup>“But, God, can you really live here on the earth with people? The sky and the highest place in heaven cannot contain you. Surely this house which I have built cannot contain you. <sup>19</sup>But please listen to my prayer and my request, because I am your servant. Lord my God, hear this prayer your servant prays to you. <sup>20</sup>Day and night please watch over this Temple where you have said you would be worshiped. Hear the prayer I pray facing this Temple. <sup>21</sup>Hear my prayers and the prayers of your people Israel when we pray facing this place. Hear from your home in heaven, and when you hear, forgive us.

the altar in this Temple. If he swears an oath that he is not guilty, <sup>23</sup>then hear in heaven. Judge the case, punish the guilty, but declare that the innocent person is not guilty.

<sup>24</sup>“When your people, the Israelites, sin against you, their enemies will defeat them. But if they come back to you and praise you and pray to you in this Temple, <sup>25</sup>then listen from heaven. Forgive the sin of your people Israel, and bring them back to the land you gave to them and their ancestors.

<sup>26</sup>“When they sin against you, you will stop the rain from falling on their land. Then they will pray, facing this place and praising you; they will stop sinning when you make them suffer. <sup>27</sup>When this happens, hear their prayer in heaven, and forgive the sins of your servants, the Israelites. Teach them to do what is right. Then please send rain to this land you have given particularly to them.

<sup>28</sup>“At times the land will get so dry that no food will grow, or a great sickness will spread among the people. Sometimes the crops will be destroyed by locusts or grasshoppers. Your people will be attacked in their cities by their enemies, or will become sick. <sup>29</sup>When any of these things happens, the people will become truly sorry. If your people spread their hands in prayer toward this Temple, <sup>30</sup>then hear their prayers from your home in heaven. Forgive and treat each person as he should be treated because you know what is in a person’s heart. Only you know what is in people’s hearts. <sup>31</sup>Then the people will respect and obey you as long as they live in this land you gave our ancestors.

<sup>32</sup>“People who are not Israelites, foreigners from other lands, will hear about your greatness and power. They will come from far away to pray at this Temple. <sup>33</sup>Then hear from your home in heaven, and do whatever they ask you. Then people everywhere will know you and respect you, just as your people Israel do. Then everyone will know that I built this Temple as a place to worship you.

<sup>34c</sup>When your people go out to fight their enemies along some road on which you send them, your people will pray to you, facing this city which you have chosen and the Temple I have built for you. <sup>35</sup>Then hear in heaven their prayers, and do what is right.

<sup>36c</sup>Everyone sins, so your people will also sin against you. You will become angry with them and will hand them over to their enemies. Their enemies will capture them and take them away to a country far or near. <sup>37</sup>Your people will be sorry for their sins when they are held as prisoners in another country. They will be sorry and pray to you in the land where they are held as prisoners, saying, ‘We have sinned. We have done wrong and acted wickedly.’ <sup>38</sup>They will truly turn back to you in the land where they are captives. They will pray, facing this land you gave their ancestors, this city you have chosen, and the Temple I have built for you. <sup>39</sup>Then hear their prayers from your home in heaven and do what is right. Forgive your people who have sinned against you.

Come with the Ark of the Agreement that shows your strength.

Let your priests receive your salvation, Lord God, and may your holy people be happy because of your goodness.

Remember your love for your servant David.”

The Temple Is Given to the Lord

When Solomon finished praying, fire came down from the sky and burned up the burnt offering and the sacrifices. The Lord's glory filled the Temple. <sup>2</sup>The priests could not enter the Temple of the Lord, because the Lord's glory filled it. <sup>3</sup>When all the people of Israel saw the fire come down from heaven and the Lord's glory on the Temple, they bowed down on the pavement with their faces to the ground. They worshiped and thanked the Lord, saying,

“He is good;

<sup>4</sup>Then King Solomon and all the people offered sacrifices to the Lord. <sup>5</sup>King Solomon offered a sacrifice of twenty-two thousand cattle and one hundred twenty thousand sheep. So the king and all the people gave the Temple to God. <sup>6</sup>The priests stood ready to do their work. The Levites also stood with the instruments of the Lord's music that King David had made for praising the Lord. The priests and Levites were saying, “His love continues forever.” The priests, who stood across from the Levites, blew their trumpets, and all the Israelites were standing.

<sup>7</sup>Solomon made holy the middle part of the courtyard, which is in front of the Temple of the Lord. There he offered whole burnt offerings and the fat of the fellowship offerings. He offered them in the courtyard, because the bronze altar he had made could not hold the burnt offerings, grain offerings, and fat.

<sup>8</sup>Solomon and all the Israelites celebrated the festival for seven days. There were many people, and they came from as far away as Lebo Hamath and the brook of Egypt. <sup>9</sup>For seven days they celebrated giving the altar for the worship of God. Then they celebrated the festival for seven days. On the eighth day they had a meeting. <sup>10</sup>On the twenty-third day of the seventh month Solomon sent the people home, full of joy. They were happy because the Lord had been so good to David, Solomon, and his people Israel.

The Lord Appears to Solomon

<sup>11</sup>Solomon finished the Temple of the Lord and his royal palace. He had success in doing everything he planned in the Temple of the Lord and his own palace. <sup>12</sup>Then the Lord appeared to Solomon at night and said to him, “I have heard your prayer and have chosen this place for myself to be a Temple for sacrifices.

<sup>13</sup>“I may stop the sky from sending rain. I may command the locusts to destroy the land. I may send sicknesses to my people. <sup>14</sup>Then if my people, who are called by my name, are sorry for what they have done, if they pray and obey me and stop their evil ways, I will hear them from heaven. I will forgive their sin, and I will heal their land. <sup>15</sup>Now I will see them, and I will listen to the prayers prayed in this place. <sup>16</sup>I have chosen this Temple and made it holy. So I will be worshiped there forever. Yes, I will always watch over it and love it.

<sup>17</sup>“But you must serve me as your father David did. You must obey all I have commanded and keep my laws and rules.

<sup>18</sup>If you do, I will make your kingdom strong. This is the agreement I made with your father David, saying, ‘Someone from your family will always rule in Israel.’

<sup>19</sup>“But you must follow me and obey the laws and commands I have given you. You must not serve or worship other gods. <sup>20</sup>If you do, I will take the Israelites out of my land, the land I have given them, and I will leave this Temple that I have made holy. All the nations will make fun of it and speak evil about it. <sup>21</sup>This Temple is honored now, but then, everyone who passes by will be shocked. They will ask, ‘Why did the Lord do this terrible thing to this land and this Temple?’ <sup>22</sup>People will answer, ‘This happened because they left the Lord, the God of their ancestors, the God who brought them out of Egypt. They decided to follow other gods and worshiped and served them, so he brought all this disaster on them.’”

Life Lessons

2 Chronicles 8:1–9:31

Situation

Solomon built Israel into a wealthy and powerful nation. Neighboring rulers came to visit him and sought to learn from his great wisdom. Solomon became caught up in worldly affairs, eventually marrying pagan women.

Observation

Solomon used his God-given wisdom to make Israel strong. But as Solomon became wealthy, he grew distant from God.

Inspiration

From the looks of things, you're pretty impressive. You've got a nice place. And I suppose your neighbors would agree that you're a hard worker ... climbing right on up that ladder toward success, right? I realize you're not into big bucks; but face it, nobody's going hungry. Far from it. Your job is fairly secure. Making more money than ever, you're on your way. But wait, I want to know about the "other half." These things I've mentioned are all external—physical and material stuff. What I want to know is how things are internally.

You look secure and successful, but the half has not been told, right? Part of you is insecure and fearful. Underneath, you're pretty weak. You appear to be happy, easy-going, and fulfilled; but the half has not been told, has it? You wonder about where all this is leading you. Your restless drive for more and your desire for calm, peaceful contentment seem poles apart ... because they are poles apart. Deep down, nothing within you smiles.

Your salary is good and your material possessions are growing in number, but again, the half has not been told. The truth is that you are empty on the inside and you're faking it on the outside. Not one thing you own in all your "kingdom" has brought you the happiness you long for. So you're thinking, "Maybe if I could land that better job," or "get into that bigger house," or ... or ...

But don't allow the smoke screen of more money to blind your eyes to the truth. There's a lot more to being rich than making more money. Seneca, the Roman, was right, "Money has never yet made anyone rich." Do you want riches? Then listen to Jesus: But seek first His kingdom and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added to you.

For the real riches, try switching kingdoms. (From Living on the Ragged Edge by Charles Swindoll)

Solomon's Other Achievements

By the end of twenty years, Solomon had built the Temple of the Lord and the royal palace.<sup>2</sup> Solomon rebuilt the towns that Hiram had given him, and Solomon sent Israelites to live in them.<sup>3</sup> Then he went to Hamath Zobah and captured it.<sup>4</sup> Solomon also built the town of Tadmor in the desert, and he built all the towns in Hamath as towns for storing grain and supplies.<sup>5</sup> He rebuilt the towns of Upper Beth Horon and Lower Beth Horon, protecting them with strong walls, gates, and bars in the gates.<sup>6</sup> He also rebuilt the town of Baalath. And he built all the other towns for storage and all the cities for his chariots and horses. He built all he wanted in Jerusalem, Lebanon, and everywhere he ruled.

<sup>7</sup>There were other people in the land who were not Israelites—the Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites.<sup>8</sup> They were descendants of the people that the Israelites had not destroyed. Solomon forced them to be slave workers, as is still true today.<sup>9</sup> But Solomon did not make slaves of the Israelites. They were his soldiers, chief captains, commanders of his chariots, and his chariot drivers.<sup>10</sup> These were his most important officers. There were two hundred fifty of them to direct the people.

<sup>11</sup>Solomon brought the daughter of the king of Egypt from the older part of Jerusalem to the palace he had built for her. Solomon said, “My wife must not live in King David’s palace, because the places where the Ark of the Agreement has been are holy.”

<sup>12</sup>Then Solomon offered burnt offerings to the Lord on the altar he had built for the Lord in front of the Temple porch. <sup>13</sup>He offered sacrifices every day as Moses had commanded. They were offered on the Sabbath days, New Moons, and the three yearly feasts—the Feast of Unleavened Bread, the Feast of Weeks, and the Feast of Shelters. <sup>14</sup>Solomon followed his father David’s instructions and chose the groups of priests for their service and the Levites to lead the praise and to help the priests do their daily work. And he chose the gatekeepers by their groups to serve at each gate, as David, the man of God, had commanded. <sup>15</sup>They obeyed all of Solomon’s commands to the priests and Levites, as well as his commands about the treasuries.

<sup>16</sup>All Solomon’s work was done as he had said from the day the foundation of the Temple of the Lord was begun, until it was finished. So the Temple was finished.

<sup>17</sup>Then Solomon went to the towns of Ezion Geber and Elath near the Red Sea in the land of Edom. <sup>18</sup>Hiram sent ships to Solomon that were commanded by his own men, who were skilled sailors. Hiram’s men went with Solomon’s men to Ophir and brought back about thirty-four thousand pounds of gold to King Solomon.

The Queen of Sheba Visits

When the queen of Sheba heard about Solomon's fame, she came to Jerusalem to test him with hard questions. She had a large group of servants with her and camels carrying spices, jewels, and much gold. When she came to Solomon, she talked with him about all she had in mind,<sup>2</sup> and Solomon answered all her questions. Nothing was too hard for him to explain to her.<sup>3</sup> The queen of Sheba saw that Solomon was very wise. She saw the palace he had built,<sup>4</sup> the food on his table, his many officers, the palace servants and their good clothes, the servants who served Solomon his wine and their good clothes. She saw the whole burnt offerings he made in the Temple of the Lord. All these things amazed her.

<sup>5</sup>So she said to King Solomon, "What I heard in my own country about your achievements and wisdom is true.<sup>6</sup> I did not believe it then, but now I have come and seen it with my own eyes. I was not told even half of your great wisdom! You are much greater than I had heard.<sup>7</sup> Your men and officers are very lucky, because in always serving you, they are able to hear your wisdom.<sup>8</sup> Praise the Lord your God who was pleased to make you king. He has put you on his throne to rule for the Lord your God, because your God loves the people of Israel and supports them forever. He has made you king over them to keep justice and to rule fairly."

<sup>12</sup>King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba everything she wanted and asked for, even more than she had brought to him. Then she and her servants returned to her own country.

Solomon's Wealth

<sup>13</sup>Every year King Solomon received about fifty thousand pounds of gold. <sup>14</sup>Besides that, he also received gold from traders and merchants. All the kings of Arabia and the governors of the land also brought gold and silver.

Solomon's Death

<sup>29</sup>Everything else Solomon did, from the beginning to the end, is written in the records of Nathan the prophet, and in the prophecy of Ahijah the Shilonite, and in the visions of Iddo the seer, who wrote about Jeroboam, Nebat's son. <sup>30</sup>Solomon ruled in Jerusalem over all Israel for forty years. <sup>31</sup>Then Solomon died and was buried in Jerusalem, the city of David, his father. And Solomon's son Rehoboam became king in his place.

Life Lessons

2 Chronicles 10:1–11:17

Situation

King Solomon died. Rehoboam, in prideful youth, turned down the wisdom of older counselors. His blunder sparked the division of Israel.

Observation

God used Rehoboam's pride to accomplish his divine plan. Due to Solomon's sin, God planned to divide the kingdom. God uses our sinful decisions to accomplish his plan.

Inspiration

My kids pulled a fast one on me one Christmas years ago. They teamed up, pooled their vast financial resources, and bought me a little motto to set on my desk. It was more than cute ... it was convicting. In bold, black letters it read:

Diets Are For People Who Are Thick And Tired Of It

At first you thmile ... then it makes you thad. Especially if you're not thick of being thick!

There's another thickness that's just as bad. We could call it an "inner thickness." I'm referring to insensitivity ... being unaware, out of touch, lacking insight, failing to pay attention. The Hebrew Scriptures occasionally mention those who are foolish and simple, as in the book of Proverbs (1:22–33). The original term means "thick, dull, sluggish." It's the picture of mental dullness, one who is virtually blind toward others ... failing to feel others' feelings, think others' thoughts, sense others' needs.

Professional insensitivity is painfully common. To some physicians you're case number twenty-three today ... a body, weighing so much ... a mouth, saying words ... a gall bladder, needing removal.

And how about insensitive teachers or speakers? Talk about painful! A block of information is dumped into your ears from their mouth. Whether it's interesting or well thought through is unimportant. The whole episode is about as memorable as changing a flat.

And have you come across an insensitive sales person lately? You can feel the thickness. Your exasperation leads to gross impatience ... and then, finally, confusion. You're not sure if the individual only understands Swahili ... or is recovering from advanced lockjaw.

Perhaps the most tragic shades of insensitivity occur in the home. Between mates, to begin with. Needs in the heart of a wife long to be discovered by her husband. She hides them until an appropriate moment ... but it never arrives. He's "too busy." What cursed words! "Other things are more important." Oh, really? Name one.

A husband wrestles with a matter down deep ... in the "combat zone" of his mind. Lacking perception, the preoccupied wife drives on—never pausing, never looking into his eyes, his soul-gate, reading the signs that spell

I A-M H-U-R-T-I-N-G.

... To be thick is understandable. To be thick and tired of it is commendable. To be thick and tired of it but unwilling to change—is inexcusable. (From Come Before Winter by Charles Swindoll)

Application

What is your reputation with family and friends? Do they see you as a sensitive person, or as a selfish person who has little time for their needs and concerns? Listen and be sensitive to their needs. Ask God for the opportunity to spend time with someone this week who needs a listening ear. Be prepared to respond when God sends someone.

Israel Turns Against Rehoboam

Rehoboam went to Shechem, where all the Israelites had gone to make him king. <sup>2</sup>Jeroboam son of Nebat was in Egypt, where he had gone to escape from King Solomon. When Jeroboam heard about Rehoboam being made king, he returned from Egypt. <sup>3</sup>After the people sent for him, he and the people went to Rehoboam and said to him, <sup>4</sup>“Your father forced us to work very hard. Now, make it easier for us, and don’t make us work as he did. Then we will serve you.”

<sup>8</sup>But Rehoboam rejected this advice. Instead, he asked the young men who had grown up with him and who served as his advisers. <sup>9</sup>Rehoboam asked them, “What is your advice? How should we answer these people who said, ‘Don’t make us work as hard as your father did’?”

<sup>10</sup>The young men who had grown up with him answered, “The people said to you, ‘Your father forced us to work very hard. Now make our work easier.’ You should tell them, ‘My little finger is bigger than my father’s legs. <sup>11</sup>He forced you to work hard, but I will make you work even harder. My father beat you with whips, but I will beat you with whips that have sharp points.”

<sup>12</sup>Rehoboam had told the people, “Come back to me in three days.” So after three days Jeroboam and all the people returned to Rehoboam. <sup>13</sup>King Rehoboam spoke cruel words to them, because he had rejected the advice of the older leaders. <sup>14</sup>He followed the advice of the young men and said, “My father forced you to work hard, but I will make you work even harder. My father beat you with whips, but I will beat you with whips that have sharp points.” <sup>15</sup>So the king did not listen to the people. God caused this to happen so that the Lord could keep the promise he had made to Jeroboam son of Nebat through Ahijah, a prophet from Shiloh.

<sup>16</sup>When all the Israelites saw that the king refused to listen to them, they said to the king,

“We have no share in David!
We have no part in the son of Jesse!
People of Israel, let’s go to our own homes!
Let David’s son rule his own people.”

So all the Israelites went home. <sup>17</sup>But Rehoboam still ruled over the Israelites who lived in the towns of Judah.

<sup>18</sup>Adoniram was in charge of the forced labor. When Rehoboam sent him to the people, they threw stones at him until he died. But King Rehoboam ran to his chariot and escaped to Jerusalem. <sup>19</sup>Since then, Israel has been against the family of David.

When Rehoboam arrived in Jerusalem, he gathered one hundred eighty thousand of the best soldiers from Judah and Benjamin. He wanted to fight Israel to take back his kingdom. <sup>2</sup>But the Lord spoke his word to Shemaiah, a man of God, saying, <sup>3</sup>“Speak to Solomon’s son Rehoboam, the king of Judah, and to all the Israelites living in Judah and Benjamin. Say to them, <sup>4</sup>“The Lord says you must not go to war against your brothers. Every one of you should go home, because I made all these things happen.”” So they obeyed the Lord’s command and turned back and did not attack Jeroboam.

Rehoboam Makes Judah Strong

sacrifice to the Lord, the God of their fathers. <sup>17</sup>These people made the kingdom of Judah strong, and they supported Solomon's son Rehoboam for three years. During this time they lived the way David and Solomon had lived.

Rehoboam's Family

<sup>22</sup>Rehoboam chose Abijah son of Maacah to be the leader of his own brothers, because he planned to make Abijah king. <sup>23</sup>Rehoboam acted wisely. He spread his sons through all the areas of Judah and Benjamin, sending them to every strong, walled city. He gave plenty of supplies to his sons, and he also found wives for them.

Life Lessons

2 Chronicles 11:18–15:19

Situation

King Rehoboam showed wisdom after Israel and Judah split. He sought to honor God as his father and grandfather had done. But after becoming well established, Rehoboam stopped depending on God. God used the ambitious king of Egypt to cause Rehoboam to look to God again. But the consequences of Rehoboam's decisions still followed him and affected the whole nation.

Observation

No matter what circumstance or temptation causes us to drift away from God, he still loves us and wants us back. God forgives us and calls us back to himself. Sometimes God uses a difficult situation to call us back, as in the case of Rehoboam. When we repent, we may still bear the consequences of our sin, but God forgives and restores us.

Inspiration

A lot of us live with a hidden fear that God is angry at us. Somewhere, sometime, some Sunday school class or some television show convinced us that God has a whip behind his back, a paddle in his back pocket, and he's going to nail us when we've gone too far. No concept could be more wrong! Your Savior's Father is very fond of you and only wants to share his love with you.

Could you use the genuine fresh air of God's forgiveness? Would you love to stand in the approval of God again? How do you do it? By genuinely admitting to God that you've made a mistake, knowing that God loves you more than he hates your mistakes. And knowing that he will forgive those mistakes.

Does the Word of God say, "There is limited condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus"? No.

Does it say, “There is some condemnation ...” ? No. It says, “There is no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus.” Think of it—regardless of our sin, we are not guilty! (From The Inspirational Bible, “God Forgives”)

Application

By his nature God wants to forgive and restore you. He wants to meet your deepest longings. What does it mean to you that your Father is “very fond of you”? Think about that through the next day. Then, think of at least one person with whom you can share this good news.

Shishak Attacks Jerusalem

After Rehoboam's kingdom was set up and he became strong, he and the people of Judah stopped obeying the teachings of the Lord.<sup>2</sup> During the fifth year Rehoboam was king, Shishak king of Egypt attacked Jerusalem, because Rehoboam and the people were unfaithful to the Lord.<sup>3</sup> Shishak had twelve hundred chariots and sixty thousand horsemen. He brought troops of Libyans, Sukkites, and Cushites from Egypt with him, so many they couldn't be counted.<sup>4</sup> Shishak captured the strong, walled cities of Judah and came as far as Jerusalem.

<sup>5</sup> Then Shemaiah the prophet came to Rehoboam and the leaders of Judah who had gathered in Jerusalem because they were afraid of Shishak. Shemaiah said to them, "This is what the Lord says: 'You have left me, so now I will leave you to face Shishak alone.'"

<sup>7</sup> When the Lord saw they were sorry for what they had done, the Lord spoke his word to Shemaiah, saying, "The king and the leaders are sorry. So I will not destroy them but will save them soon. I will not use Shishak to punish Jerusalem in my anger.<sup>8</sup> But the people of Jerusalem will become Shishak's servants so they may learn that serving me is different than serving the kings of other nations."

took everything, even the gold shields Solomon had made. <sup>10</sup>So King Rehoboam made bronze shields to take their place and gave them to the commanders of the guards for the palace gates. <sup>11</sup>Whenever the king went to the Temple of the Lord, the guards went with him, carrying the shields. Later, they would put them back in the guardroom.

<sup>12</sup>When Rehoboam was sorry for what he had done, the Lord held his anger back and did not fully destroy Rehoboam. There was some good in Judah.

<sup>13</sup>King Rehoboam made himself a strong king in Jerusalem. He was forty-one years old when he became king, and he was king in Jerusalem for seventeen years. Jerusalem is the city that the Lord chose from all the tribes of Israel in which he was to be worshiped. Rehoboam's mother was Naamah from the country of Ammon. <sup>14</sup>Rehoboam did evil because he did not want to obey the Lord.

<sup>15</sup>The things Rehoboam did as king, from the beginning to the end, are written in the records of Shemaiah the prophet and Iddo the seer, in the family histories. There were wars between Rehoboam and Jeroboam all the time they ruled. <sup>16</sup>Rehoboam died and was buried in Jerusalem, and his son Abijah became king in his place.

Abijah King of Judah

Abijah became the king of Judah during the eighteenth year Jeroboam was king of Israel.<sup>2</sup> Abijah ruled in Jerusalem for three years. His mother was Maacah daughter of Uriel from the town of Gibeah.

And there was war between Abijah and Jeroboam.<sup>3</sup> Abijah led an army of four hundred thousand capable soldiers into battle, and Jeroboam prepared to fight him with eight hundred thousand capable soldiers.

<sup>4</sup>Abijah stood on Mount Zemaraim in the mountains of Ephraim and said, "Jeroboam and all Israel, listen to me! <sup>5</sup>You should know that the Lord, the God of Israel, gave David and his sons the right to rule Israel forever by an agreement of salt. <sup>6</sup>But Jeroboam son of Nebat, one of the officers of Solomon, David's son, turned against his master. <sup>7</sup>Then worthless, evil men joined Jeroboam against Rehoboam, Solomon's son. He was young and didn't know what to do, so he could not stop them.

<sup>8</sup>"Now you people are making plans against the Lord's kingdom, which belongs to David's sons. There are many of you, and you have the gold calves Jeroboam made for you as gods. <sup>9</sup>You have thrown out the Levites and the Lord's priests, Aaron's sons. You have chosen your own priests as people in other countries do. Anyone who comes with a young bull and seven male sheep can become a priest of idols that are not gods.

The priests who serve the Lord are Aaron's sons, and the Levites help them.<sup>11</sup>They offer burnt offerings and sweet-smelling incense to the Lord every morning and evening. They put the bread on the special table in the Temple. And they light the lamps on the gold lampstand every evening. We obey the command of the Lord our God, but you have left him.<sup>12</sup>God himself is with us as our ruler. His priests blow the trumpet to call us to war against you. Men of Israel, don't fight against the Lord, the God of your ancestors, because you won't succeed."

<sup>19</sup>Abijah's army chased Jeroboam's army and captured from him the towns of Bethel, Jeshanah, and Ephron, and the small villages near them.<sup>20</sup>Jeroboam never became strong again while Abijah was alive. The Lord struck Jeroboam, and he died.

<sup>22</sup>Everything else Abijah did—what he said and what he did—is recorded in the writings of the prophet Iddo.

Abijah died and was buried in Jerusalem. His son Asa became king in his place, and there was peace in the country for ten years during Asa's time.

Asa King of Judah

<sup>2</sup>Asa did what the Lord his God said was good and right. <sup>3</sup>He removed the foreign altars and the places where gods were worshiped. He smashed the stone pillars that honored other gods, and he tore down the Asherah idols. <sup>4</sup>Asa commanded the people of Judah to follow the Lord, the God of their ancestors, and to obey his teachings and commandments. <sup>5</sup>He also removed the places where gods were worshiped and the incense altars from every town in Judah. So the kingdom had peace while Asa was king. <sup>6</sup>Asa built strong, walled cities in Judah during the time of peace. He had no war in these years, because the Lord gave him peace.

God is the one who heals. He may use a branch of medicine and a branch of a hospital or a branch of a live oak tree, but he is the one who takes the poison out of the system. —Max Lucado (The Great House of God)

<sup>7</sup>Asa said to the people of Judah, "Let's build up these towns and put walls around them. Let's make towers, gates, and bars in the gates. This country is ours, because we have obeyed the Lord our God. We have followed him, and he has given us peace all around." So they built and had success.

<sup>8</sup>Asa had an army of three hundred thousand men from Judah and two hundred eighty thousand men from Benjamin. The men from Judah carried large shields and spears. The men from Benjamin carried small shields and bows and arrows. All of them were brave fighting men.

Jesus: Our Physician

February 15, 1921. New York City. The operating room of the Kane Summit Hospital. A doctor is performing an appendectomy.

In many ways the events leading to the surgery are uneventful. The patient has complained of severe abdominal pain. The diagnosis is clear: an inflamed appendix. Dr. Evan O'Neill Kane is performing the surgery. In his distinguished thirty-seven-year medical career, he has performed nearly four thousand appendectomies, so this surgery will be uneventful in all ways except two ... The first novelty of this operation? The use of local anesthesia in major surgery... . The second is the patient. The courageous candidate for surgery by Dr. Kane was Dr. Kane.

To prove his point, Dr. Kane operated on himself!

A wise move. The doctor became a patient in order to convince the patients to trust the doctor.

... The story of the doctor who became his own patient is mild compared to the story of the God who became human. But Jesus did. So that you and I would believe that the Healer knows our hurts, he voluntarily became one of us. He placed himself in our position. He suffered our pains and felt our fears.

Rejection? He felt it. Temptation? He knew it. Loneliness? He experienced it. Death? He tasted it.

And stress? He could write a best-selling book about it.

Why did he do it? One reason. So that when you hurt you will go to him—your Father and your Physician—and let him heal. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

<sup>9</sup>Then Zerah from Cush came out to fight them with an enormous army and three hundred chariots. They came as far as the town of Mareshah. <sup>10</sup>So Asa went out to fight Zerah and prepared for battle in the Valley of Zephathah at Mareshah.

<sup>11</sup>Asa called out to the Lord his God, saying, “Lord, only you can help weak people against the strong. Help us, Lord our God, because we depend on you. We fight against this enormous army in your name. Lord, you are our God. Don’t let anyone win against you.”

<sup>12</sup>So the Lord defeated the Cushites when Asa’s army from Judah attacked them, and the Cushites ran away. <sup>13</sup>Asa’s army chased them as far as the town of Gerar. So many Cushites were killed that the army could not fight again; they were crushed by the Lord and his army. Asa and his army carried many valuable things away from the enemy. <sup>14</sup>They destroyed all the towns near Gerar, because the people living in these towns were afraid of the Lord. Since these towns had many valuable things, Asa’s army took them away. <sup>15</sup>Asa’s army also attacked the camps where the shepherds lived and took many sheep and camels. Then they returned to Jerusalem.

Asa's Changes

The Spirit of God entered Azariah son of Oded. <sup>2</sup>Azariah went to meet Asa and said, "Listen to me, Asa and all you people of Judah and Benjamin. The Lord is with you when you are with him. If you obey him, you will find him, but if you leave him, he will leave you. <sup>3</sup>For a long time Israel was without the true God and without a priest to teach them and without the teachings. <sup>4</sup>But when they were in trouble, they turned to the Lord, the God of Israel. They looked for him and found him. <sup>5</sup>In those days no one could travel safely. There was much trouble in all the nations. <sup>6</sup>One nation would destroy another nation, and one city would destroy another city, because God troubled them with all kinds of distress. <sup>7</sup>But you should be strong. Don't give up, because you will get a reward for your good work."

<sup>8</sup>Asa felt brave when he heard these words and the message from Azariah son of Oded the prophet. So he removed the hateful idols from all of Judah and Benjamin and from the towns he had captured in the hills of Ephraim. He repaired the Lord's altar that was in front of the porch of the Temple of the Lord.

<sup>9</sup>Then Asa gathered all the people from Judah and Benjamin and from the tribes of Ephraim, Manasseh, and Simeon who were living in Judah. Many people came to Asa even from Israel, because they saw that the Lord, Asa's God, was with him.

month of the fifteenth year of Asa's rule. <sup>11</sup>At that time they sacrificed to the Lord seven hundred bulls and seven thousand sheep and goats from the valuable things Asa's army had taken from their enemies. <sup>12</sup>Then they made an agreement to obey the Lord, the God of their ancestors, with their whole being. <sup>13</sup>Anyone who refused to obey the Lord, the God of Israel, was to be killed. It did not matter if that person was important or unimportant, a man or woman. <sup>14</sup>Then Asa and the people made a promise before the Lord, shouting with a loud voice and blowing trumpets and sheep's horns. <sup>15</sup>All the people of Judah were happy about the promise, because they had promised with all their heart. They looked for God and found him. So the Lord gave them peace in all the country.

<sup>16</sup>King Asa also removed Maacah, his grandmother, from being queen mother, because she had made a terrible Asherah idol. Asa cut down that idol, smashed it into pieces, and burned it in the Kidron Valley. <sup>17</sup>But the places of worship to gods were not removed from Judah. Even so, Asa was faithful all his life.

<sup>18</sup>Asa brought into the Temple of God the gifts he and his father had given: silver, gold, and utensils.

<sup>19</sup>There was no more war until the thirty-fifth year of Asa's rule.

Asa's Last Years

In the thirty-sixth year of Asa's rule, Baasha king of Israel attacked Judah. He made the town of Ramah strong so he could keep people from leaving or entering Judah, Asa's country.

<sup>2</sup>Asa took silver and gold from the treasuries of the Temple of the Lord and out of his own palace. Then he sent it with messengers to Ben-Hadad king of Aram, who lived in Damascus. Asa said, <sup>3</sup>“Let there be a treaty between you and me as there was between my father and your father. I am sending you silver and gold. Break your treaty with Baasha king of Israel so he will leave my land.”

<sup>7</sup>At that time Hanani the seer came to Asa king of Judah and said to him, “You depended on the king of Aram to help you and not on the Lord your God. So the king of Aram's army escaped from you. <sup>8</sup>The Cushites and Libyans had a large and powerful army and many chariots and horsemen. But you depended on the Lord to help you, so he handed them over to you. <sup>9</sup>The Lord searches all the earth for people who have given themselves completely to him. He wants to make them strong. Asa, you did a foolish thing, so from now on you will have wars.”

<sup>10</sup>Asa was angry with Hanani the seer because of what he had said; he was so angry that he put Hanani in prison. And Asa was cruel to some of the people at the same time.

<sup>11</sup>Everything Asa did as king, from the beginning to the end, is written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel. <sup>12</sup>In the thirty-ninth year of his rule, Asa got a disease in his feet. Though his disease was very bad, he did not ask for help from the Lord, but only from the doctors. <sup>13</sup>Then Asa died in the forty-first year of his rule. <sup>14</sup>The people buried Asa in the tomb he had made for himself in Jerusalem. They laid him on a bed filled with spices and different kinds of mixed perfumes, and they made a large fire to honor him.

2 Chronicles 16:1–19:3

Situation

Jehoshaphat feared and loved God. But he foolishly made an alliance with Ahab, the wicked king of Israel. Judah adopted Israel’s evil practices, which led to judgment on both nations.

Observation

Partnerships with non-Christians can bring compromise if the believer does not constantly guard against this danger.

Inspiration

We live in an age in which everything is working against the things we hold dear. Think about it. What force in our society is working to help you remain faithful to your partner? None that I can think of. The message of our world is just the opposite. What force in our society is working to help your kids remain true to principles the Bible sets forth in regard to sexual purity, honesty, loyalty, and the priority of character development? None! The message our kids are bombarded with is, "Acquire all you can and do whatever feels good." We don't live in a neutral world that beckons us to choose between right and wrong. The world we face everyday is one in which right has become wrong....

In addressing the believers of this city, Paul advised them to make the most of their time. That is, they should use their time carefully. Paul realized that it required absolutely no effort on their part to become like the world. They did not have to study or set goals or even make any plans to become worldly. All they had to do was get out in the world and live. If they took no precautions, it would be just a matter of time before they looked, acted, and thought just like the world. And that applies to us, too.

... In this evil day we need constant reminders of the truth. If we are not careful with our time, we will allow others to fill it up for us. There will be no time for God... . Wise men and women are careful with their time. They use their extra time to draw close to God....

If doing business with certain individuals or groups puts you in a position that causes you to violate your convictions time and time again, quit doing business with them. If watching certain television shows causes you to lust, don't excuse them because of their entertainment value. Just quit watching them. If being with a particular group of people causes you to stumble, don't rationalize by saying, "But they are my friends." Get some new friends!

In every area of life, face up to what God would have you do. As long as you play games, as long as you ignore what you know in your heart God would have you do, you set yourself up to fail...

God wants control over every area of your life. Not partial control, total control. He wants you to be victorious over temptation. But He wants you to be victorious for His purposes, not yours. You may not have achieved victory over temptation because you are holding to the reins of your life and trying to get God to intervene in the rough spots. That isn't the way God works. He wants all of you. And when He knows you are His, He will do whatever He needs to make you into an effective servant for His kingdom. (From Winning the War Within by Charles Stanley)

Jehoshaphat King of Judah

Jehoshaphat, Asa's son, became king of Judah in his place. Jehoshaphat made Judah strong so they could fight against Israel. <sup>2</sup>He put troops in all the strong, walled cities of Judah, in the land of Judah, and in the towns of Ephraim that his father Asa had captured.

<sup>3</sup>The Lord was with Jehoshaphat, because he lived as his ancestor David had lived when he first became king. Jehoshaphat did not ask for help from the Baal idols, <sup>4</sup>but from the God of his father. He obeyed God's commands and did not live as the people of Israel lived. <sup>5</sup>The Lord made Jehoshaphat a strong king over Judah. All the people of Judah brought gifts to Jehoshaphat, so he had much wealth and honor. <sup>6</sup>He wanted very much to obey the Lord. He also removed the places for worshiping gods and the Asherah idols from Judah.

Philistines brought gifts and silver to Jehoshaphat as he demanded. Some Arabs brought him flocks: seventy-seven hundred sheep and seventy-seven hundred goats.

<sup>12</sup>Jehoshaphat grew more and more powerful. He built strong, walled cities and towns for storing supplies in Judah. <sup>13</sup>He kept many supplies in the towns of Judah, and he kept trained soldiers in Jerusalem. <sup>14</sup>These soldiers were listed by families. From the families of Judah, these were the commanders of groups of a thousand men: Adnah was the commander of three hundred thousand soldiers; <sup>15</sup>Jehohanan was the commander of two hundred eighty thousand soldiers; <sup>16</sup>Amasiah was the commander of two hundred thousand soldiers. Amasiah son of Zicri had volunteered to serve the Lord.

Micaiah Warns King Ahab

Jehoshaphat had much wealth and honor, and he made an agreement with King Ahab through marriage.<sup>2</sup> A few years later Jehoshaphat went to visit Ahab in Samaria. Ahab sacrificed many sheep and cattle as a great feast to honor Jehoshaphat and the people with him. He encouraged Jehoshaphat to attack Ramoth in Gilead.<sup>3</sup> Ahab king of Israel asked Jehoshaphat king of Judah, “Will you go with me to attack Ramoth in Gilead?”

Jehoshaphat answered, “I will go with you, and my soldiers are yours. We will join you in the battle.”<sup>4</sup> Jehoshaphat also said to Ahab, “But first we should ask if this is the Lord’s will.”

<sup>5</sup>So King Ahab called four hundred prophets together and asked them, “Should we go to war against Ramoth in Gilead or not?”

They answered, “Go, because God will hand them over to you.”

Jehoshaphat said, “King Ahab, you shouldn’t say that!”

<sup>9</sup>Ahab king of Israel and Jehoshaphat king of Judah had on their royal robes and were sitting on their thrones at the threshing floor, near the entrance to the gate of Samaria. All the prophets were standing before them speaking their messages.

<sup>10</sup>Zedekiah son of Kenaanah had made some iron horns. He said to Ahab, “This is what the Lord says: ‘You will use these horns to fight the Arameans until they are destroyed.’”

Micaiah answered, “Attack and win! They will be handed over to you.”

<sup>16</sup>So Micaiah answered, “I saw the army of Israel scattered over the hills like sheep without a shepherd. The Lord said, ‘They have no leaders. They should go home and not fight.’”

“Some said one thing; some said another. <sup>20</sup>Then one spirit came and stood before the Lord and said, 'I will trick him.'

"The Lord asked, 'How will you do it?'

<sup>21</sup>"The spirit answered, 'I will go to Ahab's prophets and make them tell lies.'

"So the Lord said, 'You will succeed in tricking him. Go and do it.'"

<sup>27</sup>Micaiah said, "Ahab, if you come back safely from the battle, the Lord has not spoken through me. Remember my words, all you people!"

Ahab Is Killed

<sup>28</sup>So Ahab king of Israel and Jehoshaphat king of Judah went to Ramoth in Gilead. <sup>29</sup>King Ahab said to Jehoshaphat, "I will go into battle, but I will wear other clothes so no one will recognize me. But you wear your royal clothes." So Ahab wore other clothes, and they went into battle.

fight with anyone—important or unimportant—except the king of Israel.”<sup>31</sup>When these commanders saw Jehoshaphat, they thought he was the king of Israel, so they turned to attack him. But Jehoshaphat began shouting, and the Lord helped him. God made the chariot commanders turn away from Jehoshaphat.<sup>32</sup>When they saw he was not King Ahab, they stopped chasing him.

Jehoshaphat king of Judah came back safely to his palace in Jerusalem.<sup>2</sup>Jehu son of Hanani, a seer, went out to meet him and said to the king, “Why did you help evil people? Why do you love those who hate the Lord? That is the reason the Lord is angry with you.<sup>3</sup>But there is some good in you. You took the Asherah idols out of this country, and you have tried to obey God.”

2 Chronicles 19:4–21:3

Situation

Jehoshaphat concentrated on administration by appointing loyal, faithful, capable, and God-fearing judges throughout the land. To ensure justice, he laid down rules for judging the people.

Observation

Godly leaders focus on God’s power and answer to God for their judgments.

Inspiration

For many years I couldn’t talk without stammering and hesitating. This was very humiliating to me. That changed when I was forty-five years old, after I had known the Lord for twenty-five years.

I had been on the mission field for nearly twenty years when the Lord told me I must now learn to talk like the people in heaven. That meant I mustn’t grumble and complain anymore. I mustn’t talk about other people’s faults. I mustn’t say things behind their backs that I wouldn’t like them to say about me.

At that time I was accustomed to saying to a fellow missionary, “Let’s have a little prayer together to help you change, to see if God will help you stop stumbling.” The Lord Jesus said to me, “In heaven we don’t talk about faults. When you pray like that, I have to get up quietly and go out of the room. That leaves you talking to the four walls.”

I said, “Lord, I’m forty-five years old and my habits are fixed, but you help me alter them.”

He said, “Hannah, you’re an addict. You find fault and talk about people’s faults and criticize others all the time. There are plenty of other people to talk about faults—I don’t need you to do so. But you are like an alcoholic. You don’t dare give in to it once. If you promise not to make any exceptions, I’ll help you.”

And the Lord said, “I’m going to ask for one of the heavenly beings to take a coal from off the altar and to touch your lips with it.”

Jesus then told me all the things I should say—the kind, helpful good things they talk about in heaven. The language of heaven is called blessing. He taught me how lovely it is always to draw attention to what is good. Whenever Jesus spoke, the people “were amazed at the gracious words that came from his lips” (Luke 4:22).

Jehoshaphat Chooses Judges

<sup>4</sup>Jehoshaphat lived in Jerusalem. He went out again to be with the people, from Beersheba to the mountains of Ephraim, and he turned them back to the Lord, the God of their ancestors.

<sup>8</sup>And in Jerusalem Jehoshaphat appointed some of the Levites, priests, and leaders of Israelite families to be judges. They were to decide cases about the law of the Lord and settle problems between the people who lived in Jerusalem. <sup>9</sup>Jehoshaphat commanded them, “You must always serve the Lord completely, and you must fear him. <sup>10</sup>Your people living in the cities will bring you cases about killing, about the teachings, commands, rules, or some other law. In all these cases you must warn the people not to sin against the Lord. If you don’t, he will be angry with you and your people. But if you warn them, you won’t be guilty.

<sup>11</sup>“Amariah, the leading priest, will be over you in all cases about the Lord. Zebadiah son of Ishmael, a leader in the tribe of Judah, will be over you in all cases about the king. Also, the Levites will serve as officers for you. Have courage. May the Lord be with those who do what is right.”

Jehoshaphat Faces War

Later the Moabites, Ammonites, and some Meunites came to start a war with Jehoshaphat.<sup>2</sup> Messengers came and told Jehoshaphat, “A large army is coming against you from Edom, from the other side of the Dead Sea. They are already in Hazazon Tamar!” (Hazazon Tamar is also called En Gedi.)<sup>3</sup> Jehoshaphat was afraid, so he decided to ask the Lord what to do. He announced that no one in Judah should eat during this special time of prayer to God.<sup>4</sup> The people of Judah came together to ask the Lord for help; they came from every town in Judah.

<sup>5</sup>The people of Judah and Jerusalem met in front of the new courtyard in the Temple of the Lord. Then Jehoshaphat stood up,<sup>6</sup> and he said, “Lord, God of our ancestors, you are the God in heaven. You rule over all the kingdoms of the nations. You have power and strength, so no one can stand against you.<sup>7</sup> Our God, you forced out the people who lived in this land as your people Israel moved in. And you gave this land forever to the descendants of your friend Abraham.<sup>8</sup> They lived in this land and built a Temple for you. They said,<sup>9</sup> ‘If trouble comes upon us, or war, punishment, sickness, or hunger, we will stand before you and before this Temple where you have chosen to be worshiped. We will cry out to you when we are in trouble. Then you will hear and save us.’”

<sup>10</sup>“But now here are men from Ammon, Moab, and Edom. You wouldn’t let the Israelites enter their lands when the Israelites came from Egypt. So the Israelites turned away and did not destroy them.<sup>11</sup>But see how they repay us for not destroying them! They have come to force us out of your land, which you gave us as our own.<sup>12</sup>Our God, punish those people. We have no power against this large army that is attacking us. We don't know what to do, so we look to you for help.”

<sup>13</sup>All the men of Judah stood before the Lord with their babies, wives, and children.<sup>14</sup>Then the Spirit of the Lord entered Jahaziel. (Jahaziel was Zechariah's son. Zechariah was Benaiah's son. Benaiah was Jeiel's son, and Jeiel was Mattaniah's son.) Jahaziel, a Levite and a descendant of Asaph, stood up in the meeting.<sup>15</sup>He said, “Listen to me, King Jehoshaphat and all you people living in Judah and Jerusalem. The Lord says this to you: ‘Don't be afraid or discouraged because of this large army. The battle is not your battle, it is God's.’<sup>16</sup>Tomorrow go down there and fight those people. They will come up through the Pass of Ziz. You will find them at the end of the ravine that leads to the Desert of Jeruel.<sup>17</sup>You won't need to fight in this battle. Just stand strong in your places, and you will see the Lord save you. Judah and Jerusalem, don't be afraid or discouraged, because the Lord is with you. So go out against those people tomorrow.”

<sup>18</sup>Jehoshaphat bowed facedown on the ground. All the people of Judah and Jerusalem bowed down before the Lord and worshiped him.<sup>19</sup>Then some Levites from the Kohathite and Korahite people stood up and praised the Lord, the God of Israel, with very loud voices.

<sup>20</sup>Jehoshaphat's army went out into the Desert of Tekoa early in the morning. As they were starting out, Jehoshaphat stood and said, “Listen to me, people of Judah and Jerusalem.

Have faith in the Lord your God, and you will stand strong. Have faith in his prophets, and you will succeed.”

<sup>21</sup>Jehoshaphat listened to the people’s advice. Then he chose men to be singers to the Lord, to praise him because he is holy and wonderful. As they marched in front of the army, they said, “Thank the Lord,

because his love continues forever.”

<sup>22</sup>As they began to sing and praise God, the Lord set ambushes for the people of Ammon, Moab, and Edom who had come to attack Judah. And they were defeated. <sup>23</sup>The Ammonites and Moabites attacked the Edomites, destroying them completely. After they had killed the Edomites, they killed each other.

<sup>24</sup>When the men from Judah came to a place where they could see the desert, they looked at the enemy’s large army. But they only saw dead bodies lying on the ground; no one had escaped. <sup>25</sup>When Jehoshaphat and his army came to take their valuables, they found many supplies, much clothing, and other valuable things. There was more than they could carry away; there was so much it took three days to gather it all. <sup>26</sup>On the fourth day Jehoshaphat and his army met in the Valley of Beracah and praised the Lord. That is why that place has been called the Valley of Beracah to this day.

<sup>27</sup>Then Jehoshaphat led all the men from Judah and Jerusalem back to Jerusalem. The Lord had made them happy because their enemies were defeated. <sup>28</sup>They entered Jerusalem with harps, lyres, and trumpets and went to the Temple of the Lord.

how the Lord had fought Israel's enemies, they feared God.
<sup>30</sup>So Jehoshaphat's kingdom was not at war. His God gave him peace from all the countries around him.

Jehoshaphat's Rule Ends

<sup>31</sup>Jehoshaphat ruled over the country of Judah. He was thirty-five years old when he became king, and he ruled in Jerusalem for twenty-five years. His mother's name was Azubah daughter of Shilhi. <sup>32</sup>Jehoshaphat was good like his father Asa, and he did what the Lord said was right. <sup>33</sup>But the places where gods were worshiped were not removed, and the people did not really want to follow the God of their ancestors.

<sup>35</sup>Later, Jehoshaphat king of Judah made a treaty with Ahaziah king of Israel, which was a wrong thing to do. <sup>36</sup>Jehoshaphat agreed with Ahaziah to build trading ships, which they built in the town of Ezion Geber. <sup>37</sup>Then Eliezer son of Dodavahu from the town of Mareshah spoke against Jehoshaphat. He said, "Jehoshaphat, because you joined with Ahaziah, the Lord will destroy what you have made." The ships were wrecked so they could not sail out to trade.

Jehoshaphat died and was buried with his ancestors in Jerusalem, the city of David. Then his son Jehoram became king in his place.<sup>2</sup>Jehoram's brothers were Azariah, Jehiel, Zechariah, Azariahu, Michael, and Shephatiah. They were the sons of Jehoshaphat king of Judah.<sup>3</sup>Jehoshaphat gave his sons many gifts of silver, gold, and valuable things, and he gave them strong, walled cities in Judah. But Jehoshaphat gave the kingdom to Jehoram, because he was the first son.

Observation

Surrounded by company that honored God, Joash made God-honoring decisions. When his counselor died, he failed to replace this voice in his life. When Joash sinned, God gave him many chances to repent.

Inspiration

I don't believe it is possible for a person to be regenerated until the Holy Spirit has convicted that person of sin. Man can't be moral on his own. Given a choice, we will always choose the sinful way. I thought I was a moral person, but it wasn't until the moral person died that the Spirit of God could come to work in me. I love what William James said: "The death of a moral man is his spiritual birthday."...

The conviction of sin by the Holy Spirit is the beginning. Without it, we cannot understand our need for God, and we cannot understand God's grace. We must not ever leave that out of our preaching, teaching, or understanding of Christianity. To omit it is to trivialize the work of Christ on the cross.

... If I were asked today to name the one doctrine of the Christian faith being preached about the least, I would have to say repentance. Repentance means change, and we don't want to threaten people with the need to change.

Repentance is commonly thought of as breast-beating, but it is not that at all. The Greek word used in the New Testament means simply, "change of mind." When you come to God, you have a change of mind, from exalting yourself to exalting Christ. Repentance means turning from man's ways to embrace God's ways. It means a desire to be different, to belong to Christ and to live as he commands us to live. Repentance, then, is the longing to turn away from the old self and to live a new life in Christ.

In my own life, repentance meant that I wanted to adopt new values. I wanted to be forgiven of what I'd done in the past and not continue doing those things, but rather be led by the Spirit to the kinds of things that God wants from my life. There is a certain sorrow that goes with repentance, a sorrow over your sins, a desire to restore where you have done harm in the past. One thing I did was to apologize to some of the people I had hurt in politics. I went to them to seek their forgiveness because I realized that God had forgiven me and I should seek to restore my relationships with people I had injured. Some of them remained cynical about me. They had been political enemies, and they thought my seeking forgiveness was some sort of ploy. Some did not understand it. Others were deeply affected by it. And some people had trouble accepting my repentance. They would say, “Sure I forgive you,” but they were very uncomfortable because it convicted them as well.

A prime case of repentance leading to restoration is the well-known case of Cathleen Webb, who falsely accused Gary Dotson of raping her. When she came under the conviction of sin—six years later—she realized that she had to recant her story and tell the truth. You can just imagine the pain that was involved for that young girl in coming forward with the truth. I met with her, and I know that her decision was a moving of the Spirit. She was left with no choice but to confess.

That’s what happens when the conviction of sin leads to repentance. The yearning for God’s cleansing is so strong that we cannot find peace until we have accepted that “change of mind” and begin to walk in the new life with the Lord. ## Jehoram King of Judah

<sup>4</sup>When Jehoram took control of his father's kingdom, he killed all his brothers with a sword and also killed some of the leaders of Judah. <sup>5</sup>He was thirty-two years old when he began to rule, and he ruled eight years in Jerusalem. <sup>6</sup>He followed in the ways of the kings of Israel, just as the family of Ahab had done, because he married Ahab's daughter. Jehoram did what the Lord said was wrong. <sup>7</sup>But the Lord would not destroy David's family because of the agreement he had made with David. He had promised that one of David's descendants would always rule.

<sup>8</sup>In Jehoram's time, Edom broke away from Judah's rule and chose their own king. <sup>9</sup>So Jehoram went to Edom with all his commanders and chariots. The Edomites surrounded him and his chariot commanders, but Jehoram got up and attacked the Edomites at night. <sup>10</sup>From then until now the country of Edom has fought against the rule of Judah. At the same time the people of Libnah also broke away from Jehoram because Jehoram left the Lord, the God of his ancestors.

<sup>11</sup>Jehoram also built places to worship gods on the hills in Judah. He led the people of Jerusalem to sin, and he led the people of Judah away from the Lord. <sup>12</sup>Then Jehoram received this letter from Elijah the prophet:

This is what the Lord, the God of your ancestor David, says, "Jehoram, you have not lived as your father Jehoshaphat lived and as Asa king of Judah lived. <sup>13</sup>But you have lived as the kings of Israel lived, leading the people of Judah and Jerusalem to sin against God, as Ahab and his family did. You have killed your brothers, and they were better than you. <sup>14</sup>So now the Lord is about to punish your people, your children, wives, and everything you own. <sup>15</sup>You will have a terrible disease in your intestines that will become worse every day. Finally it will cause your intestines to come out.”

<sup>18</sup>After these things happened, the Lord gave Jehoram a disease in his intestines that could not be cured. <sup>19</sup>After he was sick for two years, Jehoram’s intestines came out because of the disease, and he died in terrible pain. The people did not make a fire to honor Jehoram as they had done for his ancestors.

<sup>20</sup>Jehoram was thirty-two years old when he became king, and he ruled eight years in Jerusalem. No one was sad when he died. He was buried in Jerusalem, but not in the graves for the kings.

Ahaziah King of Judah

The people of Jerusalem chose Ahaziah, Jehoram's youngest son, to be king in his place. The robbers who had come with the Arabs to attack Jehoram's camp had killed all of Jehoram's older sons. So Ahaziah began to rule Judah.<sup>2</sup> Ahaziah was twenty-two years old when he became king, and he ruled one year in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Athaliah, a granddaughter of Omri.<sup>3</sup> Ahaziah followed the ways of Ahab's family, because his mother encouraged him to do wrong.<sup>4</sup> Ahaziah did what the Lord said was wrong, as Ahab's family had done. They gave advice to Ahaziah after his father died, and their bad advice led to his death.<sup>5</sup> Following their advice, Ahaziah went with Joram son of Ahab to Ramoth in Gilead, where they fought against Hazael king of Aram. The Arameans wounded Joram.<sup>6</sup> So Joram returned to Jezreel to heal from the wounds he received at Ramoth when he fought Hazael king of Aram.

Ahaziah son of Jehoram and king of Judah went down to visit Joram son of Ahab at Jezreel because he had been wounded.

<sup>7</sup>God caused Ahaziah's death when he went to visit Joram. Ahaziah arrived and went out with Joram to meet Jehu son of Nimshi, whom the Lord had appointed to destroy Ahab's family.<sup>8</sup> While Jehu was punishing Ahab's family, he found the leaders of Judah and the sons of Ahaziah's relatives who served Ahaziah, and Jehu killed them all.<sup>9</sup> Then Jehu looked for Ahaziah. Jehu's men caught him hiding in Samaria, so they brought him to Jehu. Then they killed and buried him. They said, “Ahaziah is a descendant of Jehoshaphat, and Jehoshaphat obeyed the Lord with all his heart.” No one in Ahaziah’s family had the power to take control of the kingdom of Judah.

Athaliah and Joash

<sup>10</sup>When Ahaziah’s mother, Athaliah, saw that her son was dead, she killed all the royal family in Judah. <sup>11</sup>But Jehosheba, King Jehoram’s daughter, took Joash, Ahaziah’s son. She stole him from among the other sons of the king who were going to be murdered and put him and his nurse in a bedroom. So Jehosheba, who was King Jehoram’s daughter and Ahaziah’s sister and the wife of Jehoiada the priest, hid Joash so Athaliah could not kill him. <sup>12</sup>He hid with them in the Temple of God for six years. During that time Athaliah ruled the land.

In the seventh year Jehoiada decided to do something. He made an agreement with the commanders of the groups of a hundred men: Azariah son of Jeroham, Ishmael son of Jehohanan, Azariah son of Obed, Maaseiah son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat son of Zicri.<sup>2</sup>They went around in Judah and gathered the Levites from all the towns, and they gathered the leaders of the families of Judah. Then they went to Jerusalem.<sup>3</sup>All the people together made an agreement with the king in the Temple of God.

Jehoiada said to them, “The king’s son will rule, as the Lord promised about David’s descendants.<sup>4</sup>Now this is what you must do: You priests and Levites go on duty on the Sabbath. A third of you will guard the doors.<sup>5</sup>A third of you will be at the king’s palace, and a third of you will be at the Foundation Gate. All the other people will stay in the courtyards of the Temple of the Lord.<sup>6</sup>Don’t let anyone come into the Temple of the Lord except the priests and Levites who serve. They may come because they have been made ready to serve the Lord, but all the others must do the job the Lord has given them.<sup>7</sup>The Levites must stay near the king, each man with his weapon in his hand. If anyone tries to enter the Temple, kill him. Stay close to the king when he goes in and when he goes out.”

Joash Becomes King

<sup>8</sup>The Levites and all the people of Judah obeyed everything Jehoiada the priest had commanded. He did not excuse anyone from the groups of the priests. So each commander took his men who came on duty on the Sabbath with those who went off duty on the Sabbath.<sup>9</sup>Jehoiada gave the commanders of a hundred men the spears and the large and small shields that had belonged to King David and that were kept in the Temple of God. <sup>10</sup>Then Jehoiada told the men where to stand, each man with his weapon in his hand. There were guards from the south side of the Temple to the north side. They stood by the altar and the Temple and around the king.

<sup>11</sup>Jehoiada and his sons brought out the king's son and put the crown on him and gave him a copy of the agreement. Then they appointed him king and poured olive oil on him and shouted, "Long live the king!"

<sup>12</sup>When Athaliah heard the noise of the people running and praising the king, she went to them at the Temple of the Lord. <sup>13</sup>She looked, and there was the king standing by his pillar at the entrance. The officers and the trumpeters were standing beside him, and all the people of the land were happy and blowing trumpets. The singers were playing musical instruments and leading praises. Then Athaliah tore her clothes and screamed, "Traitors! Traitors!"

<sup>16</sup>Then Jehoiada made an agreement with the people and the king that they would be the Lord's special people. <sup>17</sup>All the people went to the temple of Baal and tore it down, smashing the altars and idols. They killed Mattan, the priest of Baal, in front of the altars.

<sup>18</sup>Then Jehoiada chose the priests, who were Levites, to be responsible for the Temple of the Lord. David had given them duties in the Temple of the Lord. They were to offer the burnt offerings to the Lord as the Teachings of Moses commanded, and they were to offer them with much joy and singing as David had commanded. <sup>19</sup>Jehoiada put guards at the gates of the Temple of the Lord so that anyone who was unclean in any way could not enter.

<sup>20</sup>Jehoiada took with him the commanders of a hundred men, the important men, the rulers of the people, and all the people of the land to take the king out of the Temple of the Lord. They went through the Upper Gate into the palace, and then they seated the king on the throne. <sup>21</sup>So all the people of the land were very happy, and Jerusalem had peace, because Athaliah had been put to death with the sword.

Joash Repairs the Temple

Joash was seven years old when he became king, and he ruled forty years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Zibiah, and she was from Beersheba.<sup>2</sup> Joash did what the Lord said was right as long as Jehoiada the priest was alive.<sup>3</sup> Jehoiada chose two wives for Joash, and Joash had sons and daughters.

<sup>4</sup>Later, Joash decided to repair the Temple of the Lord. <sup>5</sup>He called the priests and the Levites together and said to them, "Go to the towns of Judah and gather the money all the Israelites have to pay every year. Use it to repair the Temple of your God. Do this now." But the Levites did not hurry.

<sup>6</sup>So King Joash called for Jehoiada the leading priest and said to him, "Why haven't you made the Levites bring in from Judah and Jerusalem the tax money that Moses, the Lord's servant, and the people of Israel used for the Holy Tent?"

<sup>7</sup>In the past the sons of wicked Athaliah had broken into the Temple of God and used its holy things for worshiping the Baal idols.

<sup>8</sup>King Joash commanded that a box for contributions be made. They put it outside, at the gate of the Temple of the Lord. <sup>9</sup>Then the Levites made an announcement in Judah and Jerusalem, telling people to bring to the Lord the tax money Moses, the servant of God, had made the Israelites give while they were in the desert. <sup>10</sup>All the officers and people were happy to bring their money, and they put it in the box until the box was full. <sup>11</sup>When the Levites would take the box to the king's officers, they would see that it was full of money. Then the king's royal secretary and the leading priest's officer would come and take out the money and return the box to its place. They did this often and gathered much money. <sup>12</sup>King Joash and Jehoiada gave the money to the people who worked on the Temple of the Lord. And they hired stoneworkers and carpenters to repair the Temple of the Lord. They also hired people to work with iron and bronze to repair the Temple.

<sup>13</sup>The people worked hard, and the work to repair the Temple went well. They rebuilt the Temple of God to be as it was before, but even stronger. <sup>14</sup>When the workers finished, they brought the money that was left to King Joash and Jehoiada. They used that money to make utensils for the Temple of the Lord, utensils for the service in the Temple and for the burnt offerings, and bowls and other utensils from gold and silver. Burnt offerings were given every day in the Temple of the Lord while Jehoiada was alive.

<sup>15</sup>Jehoiada grew old and lived many years. Then he died when he was one hundred thirty years old. <sup>16</sup>Jehoiada was buried in Jerusalem with the kings, because he had done much good in Judah for God and his Temple.

Joash Does Evil

<sup>17</sup>After Jehoiada died, the officers of Judah came and bowed down to King Joash, and he listened to them. <sup>18</sup>The king and these leaders stopped worshiping in the Temple of the Lord, the God of their ancestors. Instead, they began to worship the Asherah idols and other idols. Because they did wrong, God was angry with the people of Judah and Jerusalem. <sup>19</sup>Even though the Lord sent prophets to the people to turn them back to him and even though the prophets warned them, they refused to listen.

<sup>20</sup>Then the Spirit of God entered Zechariah son of Jehoiada the priest. Zechariah stood before the people and said, “This is what God says: ‘Why do you disobey the Lord’s commands? You will not be successful. Because you have left the Lord, he has also left you.’”

<sup>26</sup>The officers who made plans against Joash were Jozabad and Jehozabad. Jozabad was the son of Shimeath, a woman from Ammon. And Jehozabad was the son of Shimrith, a woman from Moab. <sup>27</sup>The story of Joash’s sons, the great prophecies against him, and how he repaired the Temple of God are written in the book of the kings. Joash's son Amaziah became king in his place.

Life Lessons

2 Chronicles 25:1–26:23

Situation

Both Amaziah and Uzziah were God-fearing kings. As long as they acknowledged God's part in their achievements, they prospered. When ambition and pride caused them to forget God, they paid the price for their sin.

Observation

Pride causes us to set ourselves up as gods. Because of pride, we sin without regard to God's standards.

Inspiration

Do not be ashamed to serve others because of your love for Jesus Christ, or to appear poor in the world's eyes.

Do not count on your own strength; trust God. Do what you can, and God will supply the difference....

Take glory neither in money, if you have some, nor in influential friends, but in God who gives you everything and above all wants to give you himself.

Avoid boasting about the size or beauty of your body, which a little illness can disfigure or destroy.

Have no pride in your native wit and talent; that would displease God who gave you every good thing that you naturally possess.

Reject the thought that you are better than anyone else. If you think such haughty thoughts,

God (who knows what is in you) will consider you worse than they.

Pride about our good deeds is pointless. God has his own ideas regarding what is good, and he does not always agree with us. If there is anything good about you, believe better things of others. This will keep you humble.

It will not hurt you at all to consider yourself less righteous than others, but it will be disastrous for you to consider yourself better than even one person.

The humble are always at peace; the proud are often envious and angry. (From The Imitation of Christ by Thomas à Kempis)

Application

Pride and ambition may creep in and sweep away our devotion to God. Success often tries to squeeze God out of our mind. Check your attitudes. Resist pride. Focus on Christ.

Amaziah King of Judah

Amaziah was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he ruled for twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jehoaddin, and she was from Jerusalem.<sup>2</sup>Amaziah did what the Lord said was right, but he did not really want to obey him.<sup>3</sup>As soon as Amaziah took strong control of the kingdom, he executed the officers who had murdered his father the king.<sup>4</sup>But Amaziah did not put to death their children. He obeyed what was written in the Book of Moses, where the Lord commanded, “Parents must not be put to death when their children do wrong, and children must not be put to death when their parents do wrong. Each must die for his own sins.”

<sup>5</sup>Amaziah gathered the people of Judah together. He grouped all the people of Judah and Benjamin by families, and he put commanders over groups of a thousand and over groups of a hundred. He counted the men who were twenty years old and older. In all there were three hundred thousand soldiers ready to fight and skilled with spears and shields.<sup>6</sup>Amaziah also hired one hundred thousand soldiers from Israel for about seventy-five hundred pounds of silver.<sup>7</sup>But a man of God came to Amaziah and said, “My king, don't let the army of Israel go with you. The Lord is not with Israel or the people from the tribe of Ephraim.<sup>8</sup>You can make yourself strong for war, but God will defeat you. He has the power to help you or to defeat you.”

<sup>9</sup>Amaziah said to the man of God, “But what about the seventy-five hundred pounds of silver I paid to the Israelite army?”

The man of God answered, “The Lord can give you much more than that.”

<sup>10</sup>So Amaziah sent the Israelite army back home to Ephraim. They were very angry with the people of Judah and went home angry.

<sup>11</sup>Then Amaziah became very brave and led his army to the Valley of Salt in the country of Edom. There Amaziah’s army killed ten thousand Edomites. <sup>12</sup>The army of Judah also captured ten thousand and took them to the top of a cliff and threw them off so that they split open.

<sup>13</sup>At the same time the Israelite troops that Amaziah had not let fight in the war were robbing towns in Judah. From Samaria to Beth Horon they killed three thousand people and took many valuable things.

<sup>14</sup>When Amaziah came home after defeating the Edomites, he brought back the idols they worshiped and started to worship them himself. He bowed down to them and offered sacrifices to them. <sup>15</sup>The Lord was very angry with Amaziah, so he sent a prophet to him who said, “Why have you asked their gods for help? They could not even save their own people from you!”

<sup>16</sup>As the prophet spoke, Amaziah said to him, “We never gave you the job of advising the king. Stop, or you will be killed.”

The prophet stopped speaking except to say, “I know that God has decided to destroy you because you have done this. You did not listen to my advice.”

<sup>17</sup>Amaziah king of Judah talked with those who advised him. Then he sent a message to Jehoash son of Jehoahaz, who was the son of Jehu king of Israel. Amaziah said to Jehoash, “Come, let’s meet face to face.”

<sup>20</sup>But Amaziah would not listen. God caused this to happen so that Jehoash would defeat Judah, because Judah asked for help from the gods of Edom. <sup>21</sup>So Jehoash king of Israel went to attack. He and Amaziah king of Judah faced each other in battle at Beth Shemesh in Judah. <sup>22</sup>Israel defeated Judah, and every man of Judah ran away to his home. <sup>23</sup>At Beth Shemesh Jehoash king of Israel captured Amaziah king of Judah. (Amaziah was the son of Joash, who was the son of Ahaziah.) Then Jehoash brought him to Jerusalem. Jehoash broke down the wall of Jerusalem, from the Gate of Ephraim to the Corner Gate, about six hundred feet. <sup>24</sup>He took all the gold and silver and all the utensils from the Temple of God that Obad-Edom had taken care of. He also took the treasures from the palace and some hostages. Then he returned to Samaria.

Judah and Israel. <sup>27</sup>When Amaziah stopped obeying the Lord, the people in Jerusalem made plans against him. So he ran away to the town of Lachish, but they sent men after him to Lachish and killed him. <sup>28</sup>They brought his body back on horses, and he was buried with his ancestors in Jerusalem, the city of David.

Uzziah King of Judah

Then all the people of Judah made Uzziah king in place of his father Amaziah. Uzziah was sixteen years old. <sup>2</sup>He rebuilt the town of Elath and made it part of Judah again after Amaziah died.

<sup>3</sup>Uzziah was sixteen years old when he became king, and he ruled fifty-two years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jecoliah, and she was from Jerusalem. <sup>4</sup>He did what the Lord said was right, just as his father Amaziah had done. <sup>5</sup>Uzziah obeyed God while Zechariah was alive, because he taught Uzziah how to respect and obey God. And as long as Uzziah obeyed the Lord, God gave him success.

I know that a struggle today will result in music tomorrow.
—Max Lucado (A Gentle Thunder)

<sup>6</sup>Uzziah fought a war against the Philistines. He tore down the walls around their towns of Gath, Jabneh, and Ashdod and built new towns near Ashdod and in other places among the Philistines. <sup>7</sup>God helped Uzziah fight the Philistines, the Arabs living in Gur Baal, and the Meunites. <sup>8</sup>Also, the Ammonites made the payments Uzziah demanded. He was very powerful, so his name became famous all the way to the border of Egypt.

Obedience to Jesus Leads to Success

We ... learn God's will by spending time in his presence. The key to knowing God's heart is having a relationship with him. A personal relationship. God will speak to you differently than he will speak to others. Just because God spoke to Moses through a burning bush, that doesn't mean we should all sit next to a bush waiting for God to speak. God used a fish to convict Jonah. Does that mean we should have worship services at Sea World? No. God reveals his heart personally to each person.

For that reason, your walk with God is essential. His heart is not seen in an occasional chat or weekly visit. We learn his will as we take up residence in his house every single day.

If you were to take a name at random out of the phone book and ask me, "Max, how does Chester Whomever feel about adultery?" I couldn't answer. I don't know Chester Whomever. But if you were to ask me, "Max, how does Denalyn Lucado feel about adultery?" I wouldn't even have to call her. I know. She's my wife. We have walked together long enough that I know what she thinks.

The same is true with God. Walk with him long enough and you come to know his heart. When you spend time with him in his study, you see his passion. Welcome him to enter the gateway of your soul and you'll perceive his will. (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

<sup>9</sup>Uzziah built towers in Jerusalem at the Corner Gate, the Valley Gate, and where the wall turned, and he made them strong. <sup>10</sup>He also built towers in the desert and dug many wells, because he had many cattle on the western hills and in the plains. He had people who worked his fields and vineyards in the hills and in the fertile lands, because he loved the land.

<sup>19</sup>Uzziah was standing beside the altar for incense in the Temple of the Lord, and in his hand was a pan for burning incense. He was very angry with the priests. As he was standing in front of the priests, a skin disease broke out on his forehead. <sup>20</sup>Azariah, the leading priest, and all the other priests looked at him and saw the skin disease on his forehead. So they hurried him out of the Temple. Uzziah also rushed out, because the Lord was punishing him. <sup>21</sup>So King Uzziah had the skin disease until the day he died. He had to live in a separate house and could not enter the Temple of the Lord. His son Jotham was in charge of the palace, and he governed the people of the land.

<sup>22</sup>The other things Uzziah did as king, from beginning to end, were written down by the prophet Isaiah son of Amoz. <sup>23</sup>Uzziah died and was buried near his ancestors in a graveyard that belonged to the kings. This was because people said, "He had a skin disease." And his son Jotham became king in his place.

Situation

Although King Jotham obeyed God, his subjects did not. It seems he never encouraged them to walk in God's way.

Observation

God places people around us who can benefit from our influence.

Inspiration

Christianity roared across the civilized world because of integrity, not image. The best growth rates were the years without legal recognition or social clout. Why? Because God blessed authentic faith! Then, after the Edict of Constantine, when the Church received legal status and began to jockey for the support of political power, the Christian movement began to lose its steam.

We sometimes rely on “ministry by charisma.” We want preachers that can “wow” the audience. Let Christ be represented by a real charmer, someone who can bring in the crowds and excite the masses. Now, there is nothing wrong in utilizing God-given gifts of communication. But there is something wrong, even idolatrous, in replacing God's Holy Spirit with the force of human personality, or scholarship, or reputation....

We sometimes operate as if we expect kingdom growth through political posturing. We want to headline Christians who can impress. Wouldn't it be great if the governor was a part of our church? Wouldn't it be something if we could get a movie star to testify at our services? Or how about a converted porno publisher?

The truth is, all people need the gospel. And God doesn't need just the "influential" to carry His message. If He has succeeded in communicating through donkeys and tornadoes, He can probably use ordinary Joes like us.

Some of us may occasionally be guilty of intimidation by information as we go out to blow away people with the Bible. We may fire off our barrage of biblical bullets from six feet above criticism, quoting our repertoire of verses and packaged answers ready-made for any situation....

The difference between the prophet in the Bible and the professional in the limelight dangerously resembles the difference between authentic Christianity and insincerity....

Possibly prophets are needed more urgently than professionals—prophets who deny themselves rather than professionals who exalt themselves; prophets who are weak rather than professionals who are polished; prophets who may get stoned rather than professionals who get pampered; prophets walking with Christ, who hunger for God in prayer and who weep over sins. Prophets! Not more slick professionals with Teflon exteriors that slough off the messy painful side of life.

An authentic walk with Christ makes us hunger for God in prayer and weep over sins. God draws us toward the holiness of heaven. (From Heaven Came Down by Lynn Anderson)

Jotham King of Judah

Jotham was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he ruled sixteen years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jerusha daughter of Zadok. <sup>2</sup>Jotham did what the Lord said was right, just as his father Uzziah had done. But Jotham did not enter the Temple of the Lord to burn incense as his father had. But the people continued doing wrong. <sup>3</sup>Jotham rebuilt the Upper Gate of the Temple of the Lord, and he added greatly to the wall at Ophel. <sup>4</sup>He also built towns in the hill country of Judah, as well as walled cities and towers in the forests.

<sup>5</sup>Jotham also fought the king of the Ammonites and defeated them. So each year for three years they gave Jotham about seventy-five hundred pounds of silver, about sixty-two thousand bushels of wheat, and about sixty-two thousand bushels of barley. <sup>6</sup>Jotham became powerful, because he always obeyed the Lord his God.

<sup>7</sup>The other things Jotham did while he was king and all his wars are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah. <sup>8</sup>Jotham was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he ruled sixteen years in Jerusalem. <sup>9</sup>Jotham died and was buried in Jerusalem, the city of David. ## Ahaz King of Judah

Ahaz was twenty years old when he became king, and he ruled sixteen years in Jerusalem. Unlike his ancestor David, he did not do what the Lord said was right.<sup>2</sup> Ahaz did the same things the kings of Israel had done. He made metal idols to worship Baal.<sup>3</sup> He burned incense in the Valley of Ben Hinnom and made his children pass through the fire. He did the same hateful sins as the nations had done whom the Lord had forced out of the land ahead of the Israelites.<sup>4</sup> Ahaz offered sacrifices and burned incense at the places where gods were worshiped, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

<sup>5</sup>So the Lord his God handed over Ahaz to the king of Aram. The Arameans defeated Ahaz and took many people of Judah as prisoners to Damascus.

He also handed over Ahaz to Pekah king of Israel, and Pekah's army killed many soldiers of Ahaz.<sup>6</sup> The army of Pekah son of Remaliah killed one hundred twenty thousand brave soldiers from Judah in one day. Pekah defeated them because they had left the Lord, the God of their ancestors.<sup>7</sup> Zicri, a warrior from Ephraim, killed King Ahaz's son Maaseiah. He also killed Azrikam, the officer in charge of the palace, and Elkanah, who was second in command to the king.<sup>8</sup> The Israelite army captured two hundred thousand of their own relatives. They took women, sons and daughters, and many valuable things from Judah and carried them back to Samaria.<sup>9</sup> But a prophet of the Lord named Oded was there. He met the Israelite army when it returned to Samaria and said to them, "The Lord, the God of your ancestors, handed Judah over to you, because he was angry with those people. But God has seen the cruel way you killed them. <sup>10</sup>Now you plan to make the people of Judah and Jerusalem your slaves, but you also have sinned against the Lord your God. <sup>11</sup>Now listen to me. Send back your brothers and sisters whom you captured, because the Lord is very angry with you.”

and he was unfaithful to the Lord.<sup>20</sup>Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria came to Ahaz, but he gave Ahaz trouble instead of help.<sup>21</sup>Ahaz took some valuable things from the Temple of the Lord, from the palace, and from the princes, and he gave them to the king of Assyria, but it did not help.

<sup>22</sup>During Ahaz's troubles he was even more unfaithful to the Lord.<sup>23</sup>He offered sacrifices to the gods of the people of Damascus, who had defeated him. He thought, "The gods of the kings of Aram helped them. If I offer sacrifices to them, they will help me also." But this brought ruin to Ahaz and all Israel.

<sup>24</sup>Ahaz gathered the things from the Temple of God and broke them into pieces. Then he closed the doors of the Temple of the Lord. He made altars and put them on every street corner in Jerusalem.<sup>25</sup>In every town in Judah, Ahaz made places for burning sacrifices to worship other gods. So he made the Lord, the God of his ancestors, very angry.

<sup>26</sup>The other things Ahaz did as king, from beginning to end, are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.<sup>27</sup>Ahaz died and was buried in the city of Jerusalem, but not in the graves of the kings of Israel. Ahaz's son Hezekiah became king in his place.

Life Lessons

2 Chronicles 29:1–32:23

Situation

Kings who worshiped false gods ruled Judah. Hezekiah, however, followed God and desired to please him. He destroyed the pagan temples and altars that had become common in Judah and reopened the Temple in Jerusalem. He brought about a religious revival and sought to restore the nation to God.

Observation

God does not tolerate compromise with the pagans. The longer compromise goes unchecked, the harder it becomes to turn back.

Inspiration

Hezekiah, king of Israel, stirrer of religious revival in the land, calls upon the people to abandon false gods and return to the true God. He calls upon the people to come to Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover. But there are two problems.

One, it has been so long since the people partook of the Passover that no one is ceremonially clean. No one is prepared to partake. Even the priests have been worshiping idols and have failed to observe the necessary rituals for purity.

Two, God had commanded that the Passover be celebrated on the fourteenth day of the first month. By the time Hezekiah can assemble the people it is the second month.

So the Passover was kept a month late by impure participants.

Hezekiah prayed for them: “Lord, you are good... Please forgive all those who try to obey you even if they did not make themselves clean as the rules of the Temple command.”

Do you see the dilemma?

What does God do when the motive is pure but the method is poor?

The right heart with the wrong ritual is better than the wrong heart with the right ritual...

Some of you are scowling. “Wait a minute, Max. Are you saying that the method we use to approach God is immaterial? Are you saying that the only thing that matters is why we go to God and that how we approach him is relative?”

No, that’s not what I’m saying... Ideally, we approach God with the right motive and the right method. And sometimes we do. Sometimes the words of our prayer are as beautiful as the motive behind the prayer. Sometimes the way we sing is as strong as the reason we sing.

But many times it isn’t. Many times our words falter. Many times our music suffers. Many times our worship is less than what we want it to be...

God didn’t tell Hezekiah to shut down the celebration... Hezekiah did the best [he] could with what [he] had—and that was enough.

“You will search for me,” God declared. “And when you search for me with all your heart, you will find me! I will let you find me.”

What a promise! (From And the Angels Were Silent by Max Lucado)

Hezekiah Purifies the Temple

Hezekiah was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he ruled twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Abijah daughter of Zechariah. <sup>2</sup>Hezekiah did what the Lord said was right, just as his ancestor David had done.

<sup>3</sup>Hezekiah opened the doors of the Temple of the Lord and repaired them in the first month of the first year he was king. <sup>4</sup>Hezekiah brought in the priests and Levites and gathered them in the courtyard on the east side of the Temple. <sup>5</sup>Hezekiah said, "Listen to me, Levites. Make yourselves ready for the Lord's service, and make holy the Temple of the Lord, the God of your ancestors. Remove from the Temple everything that makes it impure. <sup>6</sup>Our ancestors were unfaithful to God and did what the Lord said was wrong. They left the Lord and stopped worshiping at the Temple where he lives. They rejected him. <sup>7</sup>They shut the doors of the porch of the Temple, and they let the fire go out in the lamps. They stopped burning incense and offering burnt offerings in the holy place to the God of Israel. <sup>8</sup>So the Lord became very angry with the people of Judah and Jerusalem, and he punished them. Other people are frightened and shocked by what he did to them. So they insult the people of Judah. You know these things are true. <sup>9</sup>That is why our ancestors were killed in battle and our sons, daughters, and wives were taken captive. <sup>10</sup>Now I, Hezekiah, have decided to make an agreement with the Lord, the God of Israel, so he will not be angry with us anymore. <sup>11</sup>My sons, don't waste any more time. The Lord chose you to stand before him, to serve him, to be his servants, and to burn incense to him."

<sup>12</sup>These are the Levites who started to work. From the Kohathite family there were Mahath son of Amasai and Joel son of Azariah. From the Merarite family there were Kish son of Abdi and Azariah son of Jehallelel. From the Gershonite family there were Joah son of Zimmah and Eden son of Joah. <sup>13</sup>From Elizaphan's family there were Shimri and Jeiel. From Asaph's family there were Zechariah and Mattaniah. <sup>14</sup>From Heman's family there were Jehiel and Shimei. From Jeduthun's family there were Shemaiah and Uzziel.

<sup>15</sup>These Levites gathered their brothers together and made themselves holy for service in the Temple. Then they went into the Temple of the Lord to purify it. They obeyed the king's command that had come from the Lord. <sup>16</sup>When the priests went into the Temple of the Lord to purify it, they took out all the unclean things they found in the Temple of the Lord and put them in the Temple courtyard. Then the Levites took these things out to the Kidron Valley. <sup>17</sup>Beginning on the first day of the first month, they made the Temple holy for the Lord's service. On the eighth day of the month, they came to the porch of the Temple, and for eight more days they made the Temple of the Lord holy. So they finished on the sixteenth day of the first month.

<sup>18</sup>Then they went to King Hezekiah and said, "We have purified the entire Temple of the Lord, the altar for burnt offerings and its utensils, and the table for the holy bread and all its utensils. <sup>19</sup>When Ahaz was king, he was unfaithful to God and removed some things from the Temple. But we have put them back and made them holy for the Lord. They are now in front of the Lord's altar."

<sup>20</sup>Early the next morning King Hezekiah gathered the leaders of the city and went up to the Temple of the Lord. <sup>21</sup>They brought seven bulls, seven male sheep, seven lambs, and seven male goats. These animals were an offering to remove the sin of the people and the kingdom of Judah and to make the Temple ready for service to God. King Hezekiah commanded the priests, the descendants of Aaron, to offer these animals on the Lord's altar. <sup>22</sup>So the priests killed the bulls and sprinkled their blood on the altar. They killed the sheep and sprinkled their blood on the altar. Then they killed the lambs and sprinkled their blood on the altar. <sup>23</sup>Then the priests brought the male goats for the sin offering before the king and the people there. After the king and the people put their hands on the goats, <sup>24</sup>the priests killed them. With the goats' blood they made an offering on the altar to remove the sins of the Israelites so they would belong to God. The king had said that the burnt offering and sin offering should be made for all Israel.

<sup>27</sup>Then Hezekiah gave the order to sacrifice the burnt offering on the altar. When the burnt offering began, the singing to the Lord also began. The trumpets were blown, and the musical instruments of David king of Israel were played.

<sup>29</sup>When the sacrifices were completed, King Hezekiah and everyone with him bowed down and worshiped. <sup>30</sup>King Hezekiah and his officers ordered the Levites to praise the Lord, using the words David and Asaph the seer had used. So they praised God with joy and bowed down and worshiped.

<sup>31</sup>Then Hezekiah said, “Now that you people of Judah have given yourselves to the Lord, come near to the Temple of the Lord. Bring sacrifices and offerings, to show thanks to him.” So the people brought sacrifices and thank offerings, and anyone who was willing also brought burnt offerings. <sup>32</sup>For burnt offerings they brought a total of seventy bulls, one hundred male sheep, and two hundred lambs; all these animals were sacrificed as burnt offerings to the Lord. <sup>33</sup>The holy offerings totaled six hundred bulls and three thousand sheep and goats. <sup>34</sup>There were not enough priests to skin all the animals for the burnt offerings. So their relatives the Levites helped them until the work was finished and other priests could be made holy. The Levites had been more careful to make themselves holy for the Lord’s service than the priests. <sup>35</sup>There were many burnt offerings along with the fat of fellowship offerings and drink offerings. So the service in the Temple of the Lord began again. <sup>36</sup>And Hezekiah and the people were very happy that God had made it happen so quickly for his people.

The Passover Celebration

King Hezekiah sent messages to all the people of Israel and Judah, and he wrote letters to the people of Ephraim and Manasseh. Hezekiah invited all these people to come to the Temple of the Lord in Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover for the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>2</sup>King Hezekiah, his officers, and all the people in Jerusalem agreed to celebrate the Passover in the second month. <sup>3</sup>They could not celebrate it at the normal time, because not enough priests had made themselves ready to serve the Lord, and the people had not yet gathered in Jerusalem. <sup>4</sup>This plan satisfied King Hezekiah and all the people. <sup>5</sup>So they made an announcement everywhere in Israel, from Beersheba to Dan, telling the people to come to Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover for the Lord, the God of Israel. For a long time most of the people had not celebrated the Passover as the law commanded. <sup>6</sup>At the king's command, the messengers took letters from him and his officers all through Israel and Judah. This is what the letters said:

People of Israel, return to the Lord, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel. Then God will return to you who are still alive, who have escaped from the kings of Assyria. <sup>7</sup>Don't be like your ancestors or your relatives. They turned against the Lord, the God of their ancestors, so he caused other people to be disgusted with them. You know this is true. <sup>8</sup>Don't be stubborn as your ancestors were, but obey the Lord willingly. Come to the Temple, which he has made holy forever. Serve the Lord your God so he will not be angry with you. <sup>9</sup>Come back to the Lord. Then the people who captured your relatives and children will be kind to them and will let them return to this land. The Lord your God is kind and merciful. He will not turn away from you if you return to him.

<sup>10</sup>The messengers went to every town in Ephraim and Manasseh, and all the way to Zebulun, but the people laughed at them and made fun of them. <sup>11</sup>But some men from Asher, Manasseh, and Zebulun were sorry for what they had done and went to Jerusalem. <sup>12</sup>And God united all the people of Judah in obeying King Hezekiah and his officers, because their command had come from the Lord.

<sup>13</sup>In the second month a large crowd came together in Jerusalem to celebrate the Feast of Unleavened Bread. <sup>14</sup>The people removed the altars and incense altars to gods in Jerusalem and threw them into the Kidron Valley.

<sup>15</sup>They killed the Passover lamb on the fourteenth day of the second month. The priests and the Levites were ashamed, so they made themselves holy and brought burnt offerings into the Temple of the Lord. <sup>16</sup>They took their regular places in the Temple as the Teachings of Moses, the man of God, commanded. The Levites gave the blood of the sacrifices to the priests, who sprinkled it on the altar. <sup>17</sup>Since many people in the crowd had not made themselves holy, the Levites killed the Passover lambs for everyone who was not clean. The Levites made each lamb holy for the Lord. <sup>18-19</sup>Although many people from Ephraim, Manasseh, Issachar, and Zebulun had not purified themselves for the feast, they ate the Passover even though it was against the law. So Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, "Lord, you are good. You are the Lord, the God of our ancestors. Please forgive all those who try to obey you even if they did not make themselves clean as the rules of the Temple command.”<sup>20</sup>The Lord listened to Hezekiah’s prayer, and he healed the people.<sup>21</sup>The Israelites in Jerusalem celebrated the Feast of Unleavened Bread for seven days with great joy to the Lord. The Levites and priests praised the Lord every day with loud music.<sup>22</sup>Hezekiah encouraged all the Levites who showed they understood well how to do their service for the Lord. The people ate the feast for seven days, offered fellowship offerings, and praised the Lord, the God of their ancestors.

<sup>23</sup>Then all the people agreed to stay seven more days, so they celebrated with joy for seven more days.<sup>24</sup>Hezekiah king of Judah gave one thousand bulls and seven thousand sheep to the people. The officers gave one thousand bulls and ten thousand sheep to the people. Many priests made themselves holy.<sup>25</sup>All the people of Judah, the priests, the Levites, those who came from Israel, the foreigners from Israel, and the foreigners living in Judah were very happy.<sup>26</sup>There was much joy in Jerusalem, because there had not been a celebration like this since the time of Solomon son of David and king of Israel.<sup>27</sup>The priests and Levites stood up and blessed the people, and God heard them because their prayer reached heaven, his holy home.

The Collection for the Priests

When the Passover celebration was finished, all the Israelites in Jerusalem went out to the towns of Judah. There they smashed the stone pillars used to worship gods. They cut down the Asherah idols and destroyed the altars and places for worshiping gods in all of Judah, Benjamin, Ephraim, and Manasseh. After they had destroyed all of them, the Israelites returned to their own towns and homes.

<sup>4</sup>Hezekiah commanded the people living in Jerusalem to give the priests and Levites the portion that belonged to them. Then the priests and Levites could give all their time to the Lord's Teachings. <sup>5</sup>As soon as the king's command went out to the Israelites, they gave freely of the first portion of their grain, new wine, oil, honey, and everything they grew in their fields. They brought a large amount, one-tenth of everything. <sup>6</sup>The people of Israel and Judah who lived in Judah also brought one-tenth of their cattle and sheep and one-tenth of the holy things that were given to the Lord their God, and they put all of them in piles. <sup>7</sup>The people began the piles in the third month and finished in the seventh month. <sup>8</sup>When Hezekiah and his officers came and saw the piles, they praised the Lord and his people, the people of Israel. <sup>9</sup>Hezekiah asked the priests and Levites about the piles. <sup>10</sup>Azariah, the leading priest from Zadok's family, answered Hezekiah, "Since the people began to bring their offerings to the Temple of the Lord, we have had plenty to eat and plenty left over, because the Lord has blessed his people. So we have all this left over."

<sup>11</sup>Then Hezekiah commanded the priests to prepare the storerooms in the Temple of the Lord. So this was done. <sup>12</sup>Then the priests brought in the offerings and the things given to the Lord and one-tenth of everything the people had given. Conaniah the Levite was in charge of these things, and his brother Shimei was second to him. <sup>13</sup>Conaniah and his brother Shimei were over these supervisors: Jehiel, Azariah, Nahath, Asahel, Jerimoth, Jozabad, Eliel, Ismakiah, Mahath, and Benaiah. King Hezekiah and Azariah the officer in charge of the Temple of God had chosen them.

<sup>14</sup>Kore son of Innah the Levite was in charge of the special gifts the people wanted to give to God. He was responsible for giving out the contributions made to the Lord and the holy gifts. Kore was the guard at the East Gate. <sup>15</sup>Eden, Miniamin, Jeshua, Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shecaniah helped Kore in the towns where the priests lived. They gave from what was collected to the other groups of priests, both young and old.

<sup>16</sup>From what was collected, these men also gave to the males three years old and older who had their names in the Levite family histories. They were to enter the Temple of the Lord for their daily service, each group having its own responsibilities. <sup>17</sup>The priests were given their part of the collection, by families, as listed in the family histories. The Levites twenty years old and older were given their part of the collection, based on their responsibilities and their groups.

<sup>18</sup>The Levites' babies, wives, sons, and daughters also got part of the collection. This was done for all the Levites who were listed in the family histories, because they always kept themselves ready to serve the Lord.

<sup>19</sup>Some of Aaron's descendants, the priests, lived on the farmlands near the towns or in the towns. Men were chosen by name to give part of the collection to these priests. All the males and those named in the family histories of the Levites received part of the collection.

<sup>21</sup>Hezekiah tried to obey God in his service of the Temple of God, and he tried to obey God's teachings and commands. He gave himself fully to his work for God. So he had success.

Assyria Attacks Judah

After Hezekiah did all these things to serve the Lord, Sennacherib king of Assyria came and attacked Judah. He and his army surrounded and attacked the strong, walled cities, hoping to take them for himself.<sup>2</sup> Hezekiah knew that Sennacherib had come to Jerusalem to attack it.<sup>3</sup> So Hezekiah and his officers and army commanders decided to cut off the water from the springs outside the city. So the officers and commanders helped Hezekiah.<sup>4</sup> Many people came and cut off all the springs and the stream that flowed through the land. They said, “The king of Assyria will not find much water when he comes here.”<sup>5</sup> Then Hezekiah made Jerusalem stronger. He rebuilt all the broken parts of the wall and put towers on it. He also built another wall outside the first one and strengthened the area that was filled in on the east side of the old part of Jerusalem. He also made many weapons and shields.

<sup>9</sup>After this King Sennacherib of Assyria and all his army surrounded and attacked Lachish. Then he sent his officers to Jerusalem with this message for King Hezekiah of Judah and all the people of Judah in Jerusalem:

<sup>10</sup>Sennacherib king of Assyria says this: “You have nothing to trust in to help you. It is no use for you to stay in Jerusalem under attack. <sup>11</sup>Hezekiah says to you, ‘The Lord our God will save us from the king of Assyria,’ but he is fooling you. If you stay in Jerusalem, you will die from hunger and thirst. <sup>12</sup>Hezekiah himself removed your Lord’s places of worship and altars. He told you people of Judah and Jerusalem that you must worship and burn incense on only one altar.

<sup>13</sup>“You know what my ancestors and I have done to all the people in other nations. The gods of those nations could not save their people from my power. <sup>14</sup>My ancestors destroyed those nations; none of their gods could save them from me. So your god cannot save you from my power. <sup>15</sup>Do not let Hezekiah fool you or trick you, and do not believe him. No god of any nation or kingdom has been able to save his people from me or my ancestors. Your god is even less able to save you from me.”

<sup>16</sup>Sennacherib’s officers said worse things against the Lord God and his servant Hezekiah. <sup>17</sup>King Sennacherib also wrote letters insulting the Lord, the God of Israel. They spoke against him, saying, “The gods of the other nations could not save their people from me. In the same way Hezekiah’s god won’t be able to save his people from me.” <sup>18</sup>Then the king’s officers shouted in Hebrew, calling out to the people of Jerusalem who were on the city wall. The officers wanted to scare the people away so they could capture Jerusalem. <sup>19</sup>They spoke about the God of Jerusalem as though he were like the gods the people of the world worshiped, which are made by human hands.

<sup>20</sup>King Hezekiah and the prophet Isaiah son of Amoz prayed to heaven about this. <sup>21</sup>Then the Lord sent an angel who killed all the soldiers, leaders, and officers in the camp of the king of Assyria. So the king went back to his own country in disgrace. When he went into the temple of his god, some of his own sons killed him with a sword.

<sup>22</sup>So the Lord saved Hezekiah and the people in Jerusalem from Sennacherib king of Assyria and from all other people. He took care of them on every side. <sup>23</sup>Many people brought gifts for the Lord to Jerusalem, and they also brought valuable gifts to King Hezekiah of Judah. From then on all the nations respected Hezekiah.

Inspiration

You know the story of Peter, the first sailor. Let me tell you about the second, whose name was John.

He had served on the seas since he was eleven years old. His father, an English shipmaster in the Mediterranean, took him aboard and trained him well for a life in the Royal Navy.

Yet what John gained in experience, he lacked in discipline. He mocked authority. Ran with the wrong crowd. Indulged in the sinful ways of a sailor. Although his training would have qualified him to serve as an officer, his behavior caused him to be flogged and demoted.

In his early twenties, he made his way to Africa, where he became intrigued with the lucrative slave trade. At age twenty-one, he made his living on the Greyhound, a slave ship crossing the Atlantic Ocean.

John ridiculed the moral and poked fun at the religious. He even made jokes about a book that would eventually help reshape his life: The Imitation of Christ. In fact, he was degrading that book a few hours before his ship sailed into an angry storm.

That night the waves pummeled the Greyhound, spinning the ship one minute on the top of a wave. Plunging her the next into a watery valley.

John awakened to find his cabin filled with water. A side of the Greyhound had collapsed. Ordinarily such damage would have sent a ship to the bottom in a matter of minutes. The Greyhound, however, was carrying buoyant cargo and remained afloat.

John worked at the pumps all night. For nine hours, he and the other sailors struggled to keep the ship from sinking. But he knew that it was a losing cause. Finally, when his hopes were more battered than the vessel, he threw himself on the saltwater-soaked deck and pleaded, “If this will not do, then Lord have mercy on us all.”

John didn’t deserve mercy, but he received it. The Greyhound and her crew survived.

John never forgot God’s mercy shown on that tempestuous day in the roaring Atlantic. He returned to England where he became a prolific composer. You’ve sung his songs, like this one:

Amazing grace! how sweet the sound,
That saved a wretch like me!
I once was lost, but now am found,
was blind, but now I see.

This slave-trader-turned-songwriter was John Newton.

Along with his hymn writing, he also became a powerful pulpiteer. For nearly fifty years, he filled pulpits and churches with the story of the Savior who meets you and me in the storm. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Hezekiah Dies

<sup>24</sup>At that time Hezekiah became so sick he almost died. When he prayed to the Lord, the Lord spoke to him and gave him a sign. <sup>25</sup>But Hezekiah did not thank God for his kindness, because he was so proud. So the Lord was angry with him and the people of Judah and Jerusalem. <sup>26</sup>But later Hezekiah and the people of Jerusalem were sorry and stopped being proud, so the Lord did not punish them while Hezekiah was alive.

<sup>30</sup>It was Hezekiah who cut off the upper pool of the Gihon spring and made those waters flow straight down to the west side of the older part of Jerusalem. And Hezekiah was successful in everything he did. <sup>31</sup>But one time the leaders of Babylon sent messengers to Hezekiah, asking him about a strange sign that had happened in the land. When they came, God left Hezekiah alone to test him so he could know everything that was in Hezekiah's heart.

<sup>32</sup>Hezekiah's love for God and the other things he did as king are written in the vision of the prophet Isaiah son of Amoz. This is in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel. <sup>33</sup>Hezekiah died and was buried on a hill, where the graves of David's ancestors are. All the people of Judah and Jerusalem honored Hezekiah when he died, and his son Manasseh became king in his place.

Manasseh King of Judah

Manasseh was twelve years old when he became king, and he was king for fifty-five years in Jerusalem.<sup>2</sup> He did what the Lord said was wrong. He did the hateful things the nations had done—the nations that the Lord had forced out of the land ahead of the Israelites.<sup>3</sup> Manasseh's father, Hezekiah, had torn down the places where gods were worshiped, but Manasseh rebuilt them. He also built altars for the Baal gods, and he made Asherah idols and worshiped all the stars of the sky and served them.<sup>4</sup> The Lord had said about the Temple, "I will be worshiped in Jerusalem forever," but Manasseh built altars in the Temple of the Lord.<sup>5</sup> He built altars to worship the stars in the two courtyards of the Temple of the Lord.<sup>6</sup> He made his children pass through fire in the Valley of Ben Hinnom. He practiced magic and witchcraft and told the future by explaining signs and dreams. He got advice from mediums and fortune-tellers. He did many things the Lord said were wrong, which made the Lord angry.

<sup>7</sup>Manasseh carved an idol and put it in the Temple of God. God had said to David and his son Solomon about the Temple, "I will be worshiped forever in this Temple and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen from all the tribes of Israel."<sup>8</sup> I will never again make the Israelites leave the land I gave to their ancestors. But they must obey everything I have commanded them in all the teachings, rules, and commands I gave them through Moses."<sup>9</sup> But Manasseh led the people of Judah and Jerusalem to do wrong. They did more evil than the nations the Lord had destroyed ahead of the Israelites.

<sup>14</sup>After that happened, Manasseh rebuilt the outer wall of Jerusalem and made it higher. It was in the valley on the west side of the Gihon spring and went to the entrance of the Fish Gate and around the hill of Ophel. Then he put commanders in all the strong, walled cities in Judah.

<sup>15</sup>Manasseh removed the idols of other nations, including the idol in the Temple of the Lord. He removed all the altars he had built on the Temple hill and in Jerusalem and threw them out of the city. <sup>16</sup>Then he set up the Lord's altar and sacrificed on it fellowship offerings and offerings to show thanks to God. Manasseh commanded all the people of Judah to serve the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>17</sup>The people continued to offer sacrifices at the places of worship, but their sacrifices were only to the Lord their God. <sup>18</sup>The other things Manasseh did as king, his prayer to his God, and what the seers said to him in the name of the Lord, the God of Israel—all are recorded in the book of the history of the kings of Israel. <sup>19</sup>Manasseh's prayer and God's pity for him, his sins, his unfaithfulness, the places he built for worshiping gods and the Asherah idols before he humbled himself—all are written in the book of the seers.

Amon King of Judah

<sup>21</sup>Amon was twenty-two years old when he became king, and he was king for two years in Jerusalem. <sup>22</sup>He did what the Lord said was wrong, as his father Manasseh had done. Amon worshiped and offered sacrifices to all the carved idols Manasseh had made. <sup>23</sup>Amon did not humble himself before the Lord as his father Manasseh had done. Instead, Amon sinned even more.

<sup>24</sup>King Amon's officers made plans against him and killed him in his palace. <sup>25</sup>Then the people of the land killed all those who had made plans to kill King Amon, and they made his son Josiah king in his place.

Life Lessons

2 Chronicles 34:1–28

Situation

As Josiah became king at age 8, he followed in his ancestor David's footsteps and obeyed God. One of the first steps he took was to remove all idols in the kingdom.

Observation

Faithful Christians love and obey God and should remove idols from their own lives.

Inspiration

It was the apostle John's final warning to his readers:

Little children, guard yourselves from idols (1 John 5:21).

“Watch out,” says John. “Be on guard against anything that might occupy the place in your heart that should be reserved for God.”

John never qualified that warning. The aged apostle deliberately refrained from classifying the idols or giving us a comprehensive list to follow. It's an unconditional command. Any idol, regardless of its beauty or usefulness or original purpose, is to be set aside so that Christ might reign supreme, without a single competitor.

I don't have many temptations to worship evil things. It's the good things that plague me. It isn't as difficult for me to reject something that is innately bad or wrong as it is to keep those good and wholesome things off the throne. That, I believe, is where the battle line begins....

... You can make an idol out of anything or anyone in life. A church building can become an idol to us, when all the while it is simply a place to meet and worship our Lord—nothing more. Your child can become your idol ... in subtle ways you can so adore that little one that your whole life revolves around the child. Your mate or date can be given first place in your life and literally idolized. Your work can easily become your God ... as can some pursuit in life. A house, a lawn, an antique, a car, a letter in sports, an education, a trip abroad, an achievement, and even that goal of “retirement”....

Don't miss my point. There's nothing necessarily wrong with any of these good things. To possess them—any or all of them—is not sinful. But it is sinful when they possess us! Therein lies the difference....

Honestly now ... can you testify to the fact that you've destroyed the idols? ... That Christ reigns without a rival? Or would you have to admit to a personal shrine in your inner temple where you privately burn incense? ...

Your Lord and Savior wants to occupy first place. Matthew 6:33 says that when he has it, everything else will be added to you. How long has it been since you've enlisted your Lord's help in a private, personal, temple-cleansing session? It's so easy to get attracted to idols—good things, inappropriately adorned. But when you have Jesus in the center of the room, everything else only junks up the decor.

(From Come Before Winter by Charles Swindoll)

Application

What or who are the “idols” that have been crowding out Jesus in your life? What has been keeping you from victory over sin? Have you really given your life to him? Let him take over each area: your past, present, and future. Allow him to direct your choice of school, job, and career.

Josiah King of Judah

Josiah was eight years old when he became king, and he ruled thirty-one years in Jerusalem.<sup>2</sup> He did what the Lord said was right. He lived as his ancestor David had lived, and he did not stop doing what was right.

<sup>3</sup>In his eighth year as king while he was still young, Josiah began to obey the God of his ancestor David. In his twelfth year as king, Josiah began to remove from Judah and Jerusalem the gods, the places for worshiping gods, the Asherah idols, and the wooden and metal idols.<sup>4</sup> The people tore down the altars for the Baal gods as Josiah directed. Then Josiah cut down the incense altars that were above them. He broke up the Asherah idols and the wooden and metal idols and beat them into powder. Then he sprinkled the powder on the graves of the people who had offered sacrifices to these gods.<sup>5</sup> He burned the bones of their priests on their own altars. So Josiah removed idol worship from Judah and Jerusalem,<sup>6</sup> and from the towns in the areas of Manasseh, Ephraim, and Simeon all the way to Naphtali, and in the ruins near these towns.<sup>7</sup> Josiah broke down the altars and Asherah idols and beat the idols into powder. He cut down all the incense altars in all of Israel. Then he went back to Jerusalem.

<sup>8</sup>In Josiah's eighteenth year as king, he made Judah and the Temple pure again. He sent Shaphan son of Azaliah, Maaseiah the city leader, and Joah son of Joahaz the recorder to repair the Temple of the Lord, the God of Josiah. <sup>9</sup>These men went to Hilkiah the high priest and gave him the money the Levite gatekeepers had gathered from the people of Manasseh, Ephraim, and all the Israelites who were left alive, and also from all the people of Judah, Benjamin, and Jerusalem. This is the money they had brought into the Temple of God. <sup>10</sup>Then the Levites gave it to the supervisors of the work on the Temple of the Lord, and they paid the workers who rebuilt and repaired the Temple. <sup>11</sup>They gave money to carpenters and builders to buy cut stone and wood. The wood was used to rebuild the buildings and to make beams for them, because the kings of Judah had let the buildings fall into ruin. <sup>12</sup>The men did their work well. Their supervisors were Jahath and Obadiah, who were Levites from the family of Merari, and Zechariah and Meshullam, who were from the family of Kohath. These Levites were all skilled musicians. <sup>13</sup>They were also in charge of the workers who carried loads and all the other workers. Some Levites worked as secretaries, officers, and gatekeepers.

The Book of the Teachings Is Found

<sup>14</sup>The Levites brought out the money that was in the Temple of the Lord. As they were doing this, Hilkiah the priest found the Book of the Lord's Teachings that had been given through Moses. <sup>15</sup>Hilkiah said to Shaphan the royal secretary, "I've found the Book of the Teachings in the Temple of the Lord!" Then he gave it to Shaphan.

<sup>16</sup>Shaphan took the book to the king and reported to Josiah, "Your officers are doing everything you told them to do.

<sup>17</sup>They have paid out the money that was in the Temple of the Lord and have given it to the supervisors and the workers.”

<sup>18</sup>Then Shaphan the royal secretary told the king, “Hilkiah the priest has given me a book.” And Shaphan read from the book to the king.

<sup>22</sup>So Hilkiah and those the king sent with him went to talk to Huldah the prophetess. She was the wife of Shallum son of Tikvah, the son of Harhas, who took care of the king’s clothes. Huldah lived in Jerusalem, in the new area of the city.

<sup>23</sup>She said to them, “This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: Tell the man who sent you to me, <sup>24</sup>“This is what the Lord says: I will bring trouble to this place and to the people living here. I will bring all the curses that are written in the book that was read to the king of Judah. <sup>25</sup>The people of Judah have left me and have burned incense to other gods. They have made me angry by all the evil things they have made. So I will punish them in my anger, which will not be put out.’ <sup>26</sup>Tell the king of Judah, who sent you to ask the Lord, ‘This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says about the words you heard: <sup>27</sup>When you heard my words against this place and its people, you became sorry for what you had done and you humbled yourself before me. You tore your clothes to show how upset you were, and you cried in my presence. This is why I have heard you, says the Lord. <sup>28</sup>So I will let you die and be buried in peace. You won't see all the trouble I will bring to this place and the people living here.”

So they took her message back to the king.

<sup>29</sup>Then the king gathered all the older leaders of Judah and Jerusalem together. <sup>30</sup>He went up to the Temple of the Lord, and all the people from Judah and from Jerusalem went with him. The priests, the Levites, and all the people—from the most important to the least important—went with him. He read to them all the words in the Book of the Agreement that was found in the Temple of the Lord. <sup>31</sup>The king stood by his pillar and made an agreement in the presence of the Lord to follow the Lord and obey his commands, rules, and laws with his whole being and to obey the words of the agreement written in this book. <sup>32</sup>Then Josiah made all the people in Jerusalem and Benjamin promise to accept the agreement. So the people of Jerusalem obeyed the agreement of God, the God of their ancestors.

<sup>33</sup>And Josiah threw out the hateful idols from all the land that belonged to the Israelites. He led everyone in Israel to serve the Lord their God. While Josiah lived, the people obeyed the Lord, the God of their ancestors.

Life Lessons

2 Chronicles 34:29–36:1

Situation

King Josiah led his people in committing their lives to God. He discovered the Mosaic law and celebrated the Passover on the plains of Megiddo.

Observation

Josiah, one of Judah's best kings, chose to focus on God. He did what the Lord said was right and "he did not stop doing what was right" (34:2).

Inspiration

There is a mystery, an aura about the living God that is designed to force us to trust Him, even when we cannot figure Him out (which is most of the time)

The mystery is purposeful, because His overall plan is profound ... His plan is not designed to make us uncomfortable; it's designed to make us more like Christ, to conform us to His will...

In this life, we have focus choices. We can focus on ourselves, we can focus on our circumstances, we can focus on other people, or we can focus on God. When you think biblically you focus first on God. Regardless of what you want, regardless of the circumstances you're under, regardless of what others say or think, regardless of how you feel, God and God alone is working out His great plan. And in the final tally, it will be fabulous! (From Wisdom for the Way by Charles Swindoll)

Application

You have choices in life, decisions to make. What are you pursuing now—God or some other pleasure? Where do you find your satisfaction? Take time to review the activities and pursuits that occupy your time. Ask God to help you discern what changes you may need to make to live a life that is truly God-focused.

Josiah Celebrates the Passover

King Josiah celebrated the Passover to the Lord in Jerusalem. The Passover lamb was killed on the fourteenth day of the first month.<sup>2</sup> Josiah chose the priests to do their duties, and he encouraged them as they served in the Temple of the Lord.<sup>3</sup> The Levites taught the Israelites and were made holy for service to the Lord. Josiah said to them, “Put the Holy Ark in the Temple that David’s son Solomon, the king of Israel, built. Do not carry it from place to place on your shoulders anymore. Now serve the Lord your God and his people Israel.”<sup>4</sup> Prepare yourselves by your family groups for service, and do the jobs that King David and his son Solomon gave you to do.

<sup>5</sup>“Stand in the holy place with a group of the Levites for each family group of the people.<sup>6</sup> Kill the Passover lambs, and make yourselves holy to the Lord. Prepare the lambs for your relatives, the people of Israel, as the Lord through Moses commanded us to do.”

<sup>7</sup>Josiah gave the Israelites thirty thousand sheep and goats to kill for the Passover sacrifices, and he gave them three thousand cattle. They were all his own animals.

<sup>8</sup>Josiah’s officers also gave willingly to the people, the priests, and the Levites. Hilkiah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, the officers in charge of the Temple, gave the priests twenty-six hundred lambs and goats and three hundred cattle for Passover sacrifices.<sup>9</sup> Conaniah, his brothers Shemaiah and Nethanel, and Hashabiah, Jeiel, and Jozabad gave the Levites five thousand sheep and goats and five hundred cattle for Passover sacrifices. These men were leaders of the Levites.

<sup>10</sup>When everything was ready for the Passover service, the priests and Levites went to their places, as the king had commanded. <sup>11</sup>The Passover lambs were killed. Then the Levites skinned the animals and gave the blood to the priests, who sprinkled it on the altar. <sup>12</sup>Then they gave the animals for the burnt offerings to the different family groups so the burnt offerings could be offered to the Lord as was written in the book of Moses. They also did this with the cattle. <sup>13</sup>The Levites roasted the Passover sacrifices over the fire as they were commanded, and they boiled the holy offerings in pots, kettles, and pans. Then they quickly gave the meat to the people. <sup>14</sup>After this was finished, the Levites prepared meat for themselves and for the priests, the descendants of Aaron. The priests worked until night, offering the burnt offerings and burning the fat of the sacrifices.

<sup>16</sup>So everything was done that day for the worship of the Lord, as King Josiah commanded. The Passover was celebrated, and the burnt offerings were offered on the Lord's altar. <sup>17</sup>The Israelites who were there celebrated the Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread for seven days. <sup>18</sup>The Passover had not been celebrated like this in Israel since the prophet Samuel was alive. None of the kings of Israel had ever celebrated a Passover like it was celebrated by King Josiah, the priests, the Levites, the people of Judah and Israel who were there, and the people of Jerusalem.<sup>19</sup>This Passover was celebrated in the eighteenth year Josiah was king.

The Death of Josiah

<sup>22</sup>But Josiah did not go away. He wore different clothes so no one would know who he was. Refusing to listen to what Neco said at God’s command, Josiah went to fight on the plain of Megiddo. <sup>23</sup>In the battle King Josiah was shot by archers. He told his servants, “Take me away because I am badly wounded.” <sup>24</sup>So they took him out of his chariot and put him in another chariot and carried him to Jerusalem. There he died and was buried in the graves where his ancestors were buried. All the people of Judah and Jerusalem were very sad because he was dead.

<sup>25</sup>Jeremiah wrote some sad songs about Josiah. Even to this day all the men and women singers remember and honor Josiah with these songs. It became a custom in Israel to sing these songs that are written in the collection of sad songs.

<sup>26-27</sup>The other things Josiah did as king, from beginning to end, are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah. It tells how he loved what was written in the Lord's teachings.

Life Lessons

2 Chronicles 36:2–23

Situation

The final four evil kings of Judah reigned and fell into sin. Babylon conquered Jerusalem, looted, and burned the Temple. They carried God's people into exile. But in the end, Judah returned from exile in Babylon, ready to rebuild.

Observation

God used the exile to cause the people to repent, and he used a pagan king to rebuild Jerusalem's Temple.

Inspiration

The exile was the “crucible of Israel's faith.” They were pushed to the edge of existence where they thought they were hanging on by the skin of their teeth, and they found that in fact they had been pushed to the center, where God was. They experienced not bare survival but abundant life. Now they saw their previous life as subsistence living, a marginal existence absorbed in consumption and fashion, empty ritual and insensitive exploitation. Exile pushed them from the margins of life to the vortex where all the issues of life and death, love and meaning, purpose and value formed the dynamic everyday, participation-demanding realities of God's future with them.

It keeps on happening. Exile is the worst that reveals the best. “It's hard believing,” says Faulkner,

“but disaster seems to be good for people.” When the superfluous is stripped away we find the essential—and the essential is God....

All of us are given moments, days, months, years of exile. What will we do with them? Wish we were someplace else? Complain? Escape into fantasies? Drug ourselves into oblivion? Or build and plant and marry and seek the shalom of the place we inhabit and the people we are with? Exile reveals what really matters and frees us to pursue what really matters, which is to seek the Lord with all our hearts. (From Run with the Horses by Eugene Peterson)

Application

Do you feel as if you are in exile? Let disaster develop your character. Do not spend all your time seeking relief but reflect on what God wants to teach you. Ask him to show you what is really important.

Jehoahaz King of Judah

The people of Judah chose Josiah's son Jehoahaz and made him king in Jerusalem in his father's place.

<sup>2</sup>Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he became king, and he was king in Jerusalem for three months. <sup>3</sup>Then King Neco of Egypt removed Jehoahaz from being king in Jerusalem. Neco made the people of Judah pay about seventy-five hundred pounds of silver and about seventy-five pounds of gold. <sup>4</sup>The king of Egypt made Jehoahaz's brother Eliakim the king of Judah and Jerusalem and changed his name to Jehoiakim. But Neco took his brother Jehoahaz to Egypt.

Jehoiakim King of Judah

<sup>5</sup>Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he was king in Jerusalem for eleven years. He did what the Lord his God said was wrong. <sup>6</sup>King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon attacked Judah, captured Jehoiakim, put bronze chains on him, and took him to Babylon. <sup>7</sup>Nebuchadnezzar removed some of the things from the Temple of the Lord, took them to Babylon, and put them in his own palace.

<sup>8</sup>The other things Jehoiakim did as king, the hateful things he did, and everything he was guilty of doing, are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah. And Jehoiakim's son Jehoiachin became king in his place.

Jehoiachin King of Judah

<sup>9</sup>Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he became king of Judah, and he was king in Jerusalem for three months and ten days. He did what the Lord said was wrong. <sup>10</sup>In the spring King Nebuchadnezzar sent for Jehoiachin and brought him and some valuable treasures from the Temple of the Lord to Babylon. Then Nebuchadnezzar made Jehoiachin's uncle Zedekiah the king of Judah and Jerusalem.

Zedekiah King of Judah

<sup>11</sup>Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king of Judah, and he was king in Jerusalem for eleven years. <sup>12</sup>Zedekiah did what the Lord his God said was wrong. The prophet Jeremiah spoke messages from the Lord, but Zedekiah did not obey. <sup>13</sup>Zedekiah turned against King Nebuchadnezzar, who had forced him to swear in God's name to be loyal to him. But Zedekiah became stubborn and refused to obey the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>14</sup>Also, all the leaders of the priests and the people of Judah became more wicked, following the evil example of the other nations. The Lord had made the Temple in Jerusalem holy, but the leaders made it unholy.

again to warn his people, because he had pity on them and on his Temple. <sup>16</sup>But they made fun of God's prophets and hated God's messages. They refused to listen to the prophets until, finally, the Lord became so angry with his people that he could not be stopped. <sup>17</sup>So God brought the king of Babylon to attack them. The king killed the young men even when they were in the Temple. He had no mercy on the young men or women, the old men or those who were sick. God handed all of them over to Nebuchadnezzar. <sup>18</sup>Nebuchadnezzar carried away to Babylon all the things from the Temple of God, both large and small, and all the treasures from the Temple of the Lord and from the king and his officers. <sup>19</sup>Nebuchadnezzar and his army set fire to God's Temple and broke down Jerusalem's wall and burned all the palaces. They took or destroyed every valuable thing in Jerusalem.

<sup>20</sup>Nebuchadnezzar took captive to Babylon the people who were left alive, and he forced them to be slaves for him and his descendants. They remained there as slaves until the Persian kingdom defeated Babylon. <sup>21</sup>And so what the Lord had told Israel through the prophet Jeremiah happened: The country was an empty wasteland for seventy years to make up for the years of Sabbath rest that the people had not kept.

<sup>22</sup>In the first year Cyrus was king of Persia, the Lord had Cyrus send an announcement to his whole kingdom. This happened so the Lord's message spoken by Jeremiah would come true. He wrote:

The Lord, the God of heaven, has given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and he has appointed me to build a Temple for him at Jerusalem in Judah. Now may the Lord your God be with all of you who are his people. You are free to go to Jerusalem.

Parvaim There was much gold there. It may have been in the country of Ophir.

The Book of Ezra

Introduction

Martin Luther you've heard of. Philipp Melanchthon, probably not. But Luther knew Melanchthon. And Luther was a better man as a result.

Melanchthon was the intellectual of the Reformation. He authored the Augsburg Confession. He was the first to put into writing an evangelical theology.

He was only eleven when his father died, only twelve when his grandfather presented him with a Bible and a Greek grammar. The next fifty years the three were inseparable. Melanchthon's one great love was to teach the Word of God.

He didn't just read the Bible, he devoured it. By the age of seventeen he was a faculty member at the University of Wittenberg. Though he was small of frame and frail of health, he was keen of mind.

And even more important, he was keen of purpose.

He lived to study and teach the Bible. He commanded the respect of Martin Luther. "I was born to fight," he said, "but Master Philipp, he comes along sowing with joy."

The prophet Ezra was the Philipp Melanchthon of his day.

Ezra was the second of three key leaders to leave Babylon for the reconstruction of Jerusalem. Zerubbabel was first. Then Ezra and then Nehemiah. Zerubbabel reconstructed the Temple, Nehemiah rebuilt the walls, and Ezra restored the worship.

Any person who has tackled the task of presenting the Bible to people will find a friend in Ezra. He was a student. He was an interpreter. In fact, the clearest Old Testament reference to exposition is attributed to Ezra. He was the head of the Levites who "read from the Book of the Teachings of God and explained what it meant so the people understood what was being read” (Nehemiah 8:8).

Don’t you appreciate that last phrase, “and explained what it meant so the people understood …”? Don’t you appreciate the person who can take the Word and reveal it for your life?

Perhaps you can do that. If so, stay faithful. There is no higher task.

Perhaps you have a teacher like that. If so, be grateful. There is no greater friend.

About This Book

Author:

Probably Ezra, the scribe

Date Written:

450–400 B.C.

Key Themes:

- When the Hebrews were allowed to return home their spiritual restoration was as important as their national restoration.
- Restoring the Temple was a significant step in the spiritual restoration of the people.
- The idolatry of the Hebrews was rooted in foreign wives who continued to worship their false gods. This is why the men were asked to divorce their foreign wives.

Key Verse:

“Ezra had worked hard to know and obey the Teachings of the Lord and to teach his rules and commands to the Israelites” (Ezra 7:10).

Contents:

1. The First Restoration Begins 1:1–4:24
2. The Temple Is Rebuilt 5:1–6:22
3. The Second Restoration with Ezra 7:1–8:36
4. Moral and Spiritual Reform 9:1–10:44

Situation

Cyrus, King of Persia, allowed the captive Jews to return to Jerusalem and rebuild the Temple. Cyrus blessed the venture and subsidized the journey back to their homeland.

Observation

Although Cyrus was not Jewish, God used this Persian king to restore his people and to rebuild Jerusalem.

Inspiration

The cross is the focal point in the life and ministry of Jesus Christ. Some think that God didn't want Christ to die, but was forced to adjust His plans to adapt to it. Scripture makes it very clear, however, that the cross was no afterthought with God. Christ was "delivered up by the predetermined plan and foreknowledge of God" (Acts 2:23).

God designed the cross to defeat Satan, who by deception had obtained squatters' rights to the title deed of the world. When Satan with all of his clever promises separated man from God in the Garden of Eden, he was more than the deceiver of Adam and Eve. In some mysterious manner he began to exert a kind of pseudovereignty over man. In his arrogant violence, Satan unleashed his fiercest attack to stop Christ's ministry by seeing that He was murdered. But Satan was stopped by God and caught in his own trap. He hadn't realized that God loved the world so intensely that He could let His own Son be subjected to the worst Satan could do... . (From How to Be Born Again by Billy Graham)

Cyrus Helps the Captives Return

In the first year Cyrus was king of Persia, the Lord caused Cyrus to send an announcement to his whole kingdom and to put it in writing. This happened so the Lord's message spoken by Jeremiah would come true. He wrote:

The Lord, the God of heaven, has given all the kingdoms of the earth to me, and he has appointed me to build a Temple for him at Jerusalem in Judah. <sup>3</sup>May God be with all of you who are his people. You are free to go to Jerusalem in Judah and build the Temple of the Lord, the God of Israel, who is in Jerusalem. <sup>4</sup>Those who stay behind, wherever they live, should support those who want to go. Give them silver and gold, supplies and cattle, and special gifts for the Temple of God in Jerusalem.

Mithredath the treasurer bring them and count them out for Sheshbazzar, the prince of Judah.

<sup>9</sup>He listed thirty gold dishes, one thousand silver dishes, twenty-nine pans,<sup>10</sup>thirty gold bowls, four hundred ten matching silver bowls, and one thousand other pieces.

<sup>11</sup>There was a total of fifty-four hundred pieces of gold and silver. Sheshbazzar brought all these things along when the captives went from Babylon to Jerusalem.

The Captives Who Returned

These are the people of the area who returned from captivity, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had taken away to Babylon. They returned to Jerusalem and Judah, each going back to his own town. <sup>2</sup>These people returned with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Seraiah, Reelaiah, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispar, Bigvai, Rehum, and Baanah.

not find them. So they could not be priests, because they were thought to be unclean. <sup>63</sup>The governor ordered them not to eat any of the food offered to God until a priest had settled this matter by using the Urim and Thummim.

<sup>68</sup>When they arrived at the Temple of the Lord in Jerusalem, some of the leaders of families gave offerings to rebuild the Temple of God on the same site as before. <sup>69</sup>They gave as much as they could to the treasury to rebuild the Temple—about 1,100 pounds of gold, about 6,000 pounds of silver, and 100 pieces of clothing for the priests.

<sup>70</sup>All the Israelites settled in their hometowns. The priests, Levites, singers, gatekeepers, and Temple servants, along with some of the other people, settled in their own towns as well.

Life Lessons

Ezra 3:1–4:24

Situation

Judah's jealous enemies to the north conspired to put an end to the rebuilding of Jerusalem. For several years, these enemies worked to hinder the Jews. Finally, they persuaded the Persian king, Artaxerxes, to stop the building.

Observation

When they had finished laying the foundation of the Temple of the Lord, great rejoicing took place. They praised the Lord and wept with joy. They recognized what God had done for them in the past and would do for them in the future.

Inspiration

Gratitude comes from having the right perspective. It's being able to look at what you have and being thankful for that, rather than longing for what you don't have.

Do you know why you should feel grateful? You are a part of God's plan, you are touched by God's tenderness, and you are a victor in God's victory. What greater blessing could there be?

It's incredible that anyone could look at the kindness of God, the faithfulness of God, and the goodness of God and not feel any emotion of gratitude.

Remember the Lord. Remember who is in control. Remember his goodness in the past. Remember God's closeness in the present. Remember his power for the future. (From The Inspirational Bible, “Thankfulness”)

Application

Rebuilding the Altar

In the seventh month, after the Israelites were settled in their hometowns, they met together in Jerusalem.<sup>2</sup> Then Jeshua son of Jozadak and his fellow priests joined Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel and began to build the altar of the God of Israel where they could offer burnt offerings, just as it is written in the Teachings of Moses, the man of God.<sup>3</sup> Even though they were afraid of the people living around them, they built the altar where it had been before. And they offered burnt offerings on it to the Lord morning and evening.<sup>4</sup> Then, to obey what was written, they celebrated the Feast of Shelters. They offered the right number of sacrifices for each day of the festival.<sup>5</sup> After the Feast of Shelters, they had regular sacrifices every day, as well as sacrifices for the New Moon and all the festivals commanded by the Lord. Also there were special offerings brought as gifts to the Lord.<sup>6</sup> On the first day of the seventh month they began to bring burnt offerings to the Lord, but the foundation of the Lord's Temple had not yet been laid.

Rebuilding the Temple

<sup>7</sup>Then they gave money to the bricklayers and carpenters. They also gave food, wine, and oil to the cities of Sidon and Tyre so they would float cedar logs from Lebanon to the seacoast town of Joppa. Cyrus king of Persia had given permission for this.

<sup>8</sup>In the second month of the second year after their arrival at the Temple of God in Jerusalem, Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, Jeshua son of Jozadak, their fellow priests and Levites, and all who had returned from captivity to Jerusalem began to work. They chose Levites twenty years old and older to be in charge of the building of the Temple of the Lord. <sup>9</sup>These men were in charge of the work of building the Temple of God: Jeshua and his sons and brothers; Kadmiel and his sons who were the descendants of Hodaviah; and the sons of Henadad and their sons and brothers. They were all Levites.

<sup>10</sup>The builders finished laying the foundation of the Temple of the Lord. Then the priests, dressed in their robes, stood with their trumpets, and the Levites, the sons of Asaph, stood with their cymbals. They all took their places and praised the Lord just as David king of Israel had said to do. <sup>11</sup>With praise and thanksgiving, they sang to the Lord:

“He is good;
his love for Israel continues forever.”

And then all the people shouted loudly, “Praise the Lord! The foundation of his Temple has been laid.” <sup>12</sup>But many of the older priests, Levites, and family leaders who had seen the first Temple cried when they saw the foundation of this Temple. Most of the other people were shouting with joy. <sup>13</sup>The people made so much noise it could be heard far away, and no one could tell the difference between the joyful shouting and the sad crying.

Enemies of the Rebuilding

When the enemies of the people of Judah and Benjamin heard that the returned captives were building a Temple for the Lord, the God of Israel,<sup>2</sup> they came to Zerubbabel and the leaders of the families. The enemies said, “Let us help you build, because we are like you and want to worship your God. We have been offering sacrifices to him since the time of Esarhaddon king of Assyria, who brought us here.”

<sup>3</sup>But Zerubbabel, Jeshua, and the leaders of Israel answered, “You will not help us build a Temple to our God. We will build it ourselves for the Lord, the God of Israel, as King Cyrus, the king of Persia, commanded us to do.”

<sup>4</sup>Then the people around them tried to discourage the people of Judah by making them afraid to build. <sup>5</sup>Their enemies hired others to delay the building plans during the time Cyrus was king of Persia. And it continued to the time Darius was king of Persia.

More Problems for the Builders

<sup>6</sup>When Xerxes first became king, those enemies wrote a letter against the people of Judah and Jerusalem.

<sup>7</sup>When Artaxerxes became king of Persia, Bishlam, Mithredath, Tabeel, and those with them wrote a letter to Artaxerxes. It was written in the Aramaic language and translated.

secretary wrote a letter against Jerusalem to Artaxerxes the king. It said:

To King Artaxerxes.

From your servants who live in Trans-Euphrates.

<sup>12</sup>King Artaxerxes, you should know that the Jewish people who came to us from you have gone to Jerusalem to rebuild that evil city that refuses to obey. They are fixing the walls and repairing the foundations of the buildings.

<sup>13</sup>Now, King Artaxerxes, you should know that if Jerusalem is built and its walls are fixed, Jerusalem will not pay taxes of any kind. Then the amount of money your government collects will be less. <sup>14</sup>Since we must be loyal to the government, we don't want to see the king dishonored. So we are writing to let the king know. <sup>15</sup>We suggest you search the records of the kings who ruled before you. You will find out that the city of Jerusalem refuses to obey and makes trouble for kings and areas controlled by Persia. Since long ago it has been a place where disobedience has started. That is why it was destroyed. <sup>16</sup>We want you to know, King Artaxerxes, that if this city is rebuilt and its walls fixed, you will be left with

To Rehum the governor and Shimshai the secretary, to all their fellow workers living in Samaria, and to those in other places in Trans-Euphrates.

Greetings.

<sup>18</sup>The letter you sent to us has been translated and read to me. <sup>19</sup>I ordered the records to be searched, and it was done. We found that Jerusalem has a history of disobedience to kings and has been a place of problems and trouble. <sup>20</sup>Jerusalem has had powerful kings who have ruled over the whole area of Trans-Euphrates, and taxes of all kinds have been paid to them. <sup>21</sup>Now, give an order for those men to stop work. The city of Jerusalem will not be rebuilt until I say so. <sup>22</sup>Make sure you do this, because if they continue, it will hurt the government.

<sup>23</sup>A copy of the letter that King Artaxerxes sent was read to Rehum and Shimshai the secretary and the others. Then they quickly went to the Jewish people in Jerusalem and forced them to stop building.

<sup>24</sup>So the work on the Temple of God in Jerusalem stopped until the second year Darius was king of Persia.

Ezra 5:1–6:22

Situation

The Gentiles in the area of Judah and Jerusalem tried to block the rebuilding of the Temple. But God used elders and prophets to secure permission to resume building.

Observation

God's influence supersedes the actions of secular authorities to accomplish his desires.

Inspiration

Nowadays, much of the time, life seems to have gone out of control. Several nations have the nuclear bomb, and several more will be developing it soon. History seems senseless. Men kill and order others to kill. Armies destroy and hurt. World leaders seem to do Satan's will, and Christians may wonder if God has lost control of his world.

He has not!

Although Satan is the prince of this world (John 12:31), he has been judged and condemned (John 16:11). God is sovereign over all men and nations, and all must make a final account with him. At the time of the final reckoning, every problem—personal and national—will be set right. But as of now, evil is a terrible thing, and until it is destroyed, life will sometimes appear out of control.

The trouble is that evil has burrowed into the human personality. It is in all of us. We don't always act in the best interest of others. Feeling coerced by the political system, or by what others will think of us, or by the values of those around us, we surrender our Christian freedom and choose to do what we know is wrong. At the end of World War II, the world was horrified to discover that brilliant men with PhDs could build gas chambers. Their level of intelligence had nothing to do with their ability to choose to do right. One military leader after another at the Nuremberg trials said, “I was only taking orders.”

How can I say God is in control when all around me I see evil? Consider the ending of the book of Habakkuk. The prophet is living in a time of natural and military calamities. “Destruction and violence are before me; there is strife, and conflict abounds. Therefore the law is paralyzed, and justice never prevails. The wicked hem in the righteous, so that justice is perverted” (1:3, 4).

But Habakkuk had faith that, in the end, the Lord will save his people. He describes the future day of judgement when “you came out to deliver your people” (3:13), and he proclaims his faith that God is in control in spite of appearances... . No matter how things look, we can have faith that God will never abandon his world. He is always sovereign in this universe. (From “God Is in Control” by Calvin Miller in Practical Christianity)

Governmental leaders, whether or not they are Christians, need our support. Do you honor those in government? Don't be quick to cut them down. Pray regularly for those in positions of authority.

Tattenai's Letter to Darius

The prophets Haggai and Zechariah, a descendant of Iddo, prophesied to the Jewish people in Judah and Jerusalem in the name of the God of Israel, who was over them.<sup>2</sup> Then Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel and Jeshua son of Jozadak started working again to rebuild the Temple of God in Jerusalem. And the prophets of God were there, helping them.

<sup>3</sup>At that time Tattenai, the governor of Trans-Euphrates, and Shethar-Bozenai, and their fellow workers went to the Jewish people and asked, "Who gave you permission to rebuild this Temple and fix these walls?" <sup>4</sup>They also asked, "What are the names of the men working on this building?" <sup>5</sup>But their God was watching over the older leaders of the Jewish people. The builders were not stopped until a report could go to King Darius and his written answer could be received.

<sup>6</sup>This is a copy of the letter that was sent to King Darius by Tattenai, the governor of Trans-Euphrates, Shethar-Bozenai, and the other important officers of Trans-Euphrates. <sup>7</sup>This is what was said in the report they sent to him:

To King Darius.

Greetings. May you have peace.

<sup>8</sup>King Darius, you should know that we went to the district of Judah where the Temple of the great God is. The people are building that Temple with large stones, and they are putting timbers in the walls. They are working very hard and are building very fast.

<sup>9</sup>We asked their older leaders, “Who gave you permission to rebuild this Temple and these walls?” <sup>10</sup>We also asked for their names, and we wrote down the names of their leaders so you would know who they are.

<sup>11</sup>This is the answer they gave to us: “We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth. We are rebuilding the Temple that a great king of Israel built and finished many years ago. <sup>12</sup>But our ancestors made the God of heaven angry, so he handed them over to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, who destroyed this Temple and took the people to Babylon as captives.

<sup>13</sup>“Later, in the first year Cyrus was king of Babylon, he gave a special order for this Temple to be rebuilt. <sup>14</sup>Cyrus brought out from the temple in Babylon the gold and silver bowls and pans that came from the Temple of God. Nebuchadnezzar had taken them from the Temple in Jerusalem and had put them in the temple in Babylon.

“Then King Cyrus gave them to Sheshbazzar, his appointed governor. <sup>15</sup>Cyrus said to him, ‘Take these gold and silver bowls and pans, and put them back in the Temple in Jerusalem and rebuild the Temple of God where it was.’ <sup>16</sup>So Sheshbazzar came and laid the foundations of the Temple of God in Jerusalem. From that day until now the work has been going on, but it is not yet finished.”

<sup>17</sup>Now, if the king wishes, let a search be made in the royal records of Babylon. See if King Cyrus gave an order to rebuild this Temple in Jerusalem. Then let the king write us and tell us what he has decided.

The Order of Darius

So King Darius gave an order to search the records kept in the treasury in Babylon.<sup>2</sup>A scroll was found in Ecbatana, the capital city of Media. This is what was written on it:

Note:

<sup>3</sup>King Cyrus gave an order about the Temple of God in Jerusalem in the first year he was king. This was the order:

“Let the Temple be rebuilt as a place to present sacrifices. Let its foundations be laid; it should be ninety feet high and ninety feet wide.<sup>4</sup>It must have three layers of large stones and then one layer of timbers. The costs should be paid from the king’s treasury.<sup>5</sup>The gold and silver utensils from the Temple of God should be put back in their places. Nebuchadnezzar took them from the Temple in Jerusalem and brought them to Babylon, but they are to be put back in the Temple of God in Jerusalem.”

<sup>6</sup>Now then, Tattenai, governor of Trans-Euphrates, Shethar-Bozenai, and all the officers of that area, stay away from there.<sup>7</sup>Do not bother the work on that Temple of God. Let the governor of the Jewish people and the older Jewish leaders rebuild this Temple where it was before.

<sup>8</sup>Also, I order you to do this for those older leaders of the Jewish people who are building this Temple: The cost of the building is to be fully paid from the royal treasury, from taxes collected from Trans-Euphrates. Do this so the work will not stop.<sup>9</sup>Give those people anything they need —young bulls, male sheep, or lambs for burnt offerings to the God of heaven, or wheat, salt, wine, or olive oil. Give the priests in Jerusalem anything they ask for every day without fail. <sup>10</sup>Then they may offer sacrifices pleasing to the God of heaven, and they may pray for the life of the king and his sons.

<sup>11</sup>Also, I give this order: If anyone changes this order, a wood beam is to be pulled from his house and driven through his body. Because of his crime, make his house a pile of ruins. <sup>12</sup>God has chosen Jerusalem as the place he is to be worshiped. May he punish any king or person who tries to change this order and destroy this Temple.

I, Darius, have given this order. Let it be obeyed quickly and carefully.

Completion of the Temple

<sup>13</sup>So, Tattenai, the governor of Trans-Euphrates, Shethar-Bozenai, and their fellow workers carried out King Darius' order quickly and carefully. <sup>14</sup>The older Jewish leaders continued to build and were successful because of the preaching of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah, a descendant of Iddo. They finished building the Temple as the God of Israel had commanded and as kings Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes of Persia had ordered. <sup>15</sup>The Temple was finished on the third day of the month of Adar in the sixth year Darius was king.

<sup>16</sup>Then the people of Israel celebrated and gave the Temple to God to honor him. Everybody was happy: the priests, the Levites, and the rest of the Jewish people who had returned from captivity. <sup>17</sup>They gave the Temple to God by offering a hundred bulls, two hundred male sheep, and four hundred lambs as sacrifices. And as an offering to forgive the sins of all Israel, they offered twelve male goats, one goat for each tribe in Israel. <sup>18</sup>Then they put the priests and the Levites into their separate groups. Each group had a certain time to serve God in the Temple at Jerusalem as it is written in the Book of Moses.

The Passover Is Celebrated

<sup>19</sup>The Jewish people who returned from captivity celebrated the Passover on the fourteenth day of the first month. <sup>20</sup>The priests and Levites had made themselves clean. Then the Levites killed the Passover lambs for all the people who had returned from captivity, for their relatives the priests, and for themselves. <sup>21</sup>So all the people of Israel who returned from captivity ate the Passover lamb. So did the people who had given up the unclean ways of their non-Jewish neighbors in order to worship the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>22</sup>For seven days they celebrated the Feast of Unleavened Bread in a very joyful way. The Lord had made them happy by changing the mind of the king of Assyria so that he helped them in the work on the Temple of the God of Israel.

Ezra 7:1–8:36

Situation

Sixty years elapsed between the events of Ezra 6 and 7. Although Ezra had previously remained in Babylon compiling a historical record, he obtained permission to return to Jerusalem. He led the Jews to a spiritual renewal.

Observation

Ezra's careful study of Scripture throughout his life enabled him to be an effective minister to those in need.

Inspiration

There is a well-known local coach in Fullerton, California, whose thirty-five-plus years in athletics have been eminently successful... . His incredible career in Southern California speaks for itself. When he was interviewed by the Los Angeles Times, the sportswriter wanted to know his secret. What was it that made him so successful? Without hesitation Coach Sherbeck said that his credo could best be stated in words written by an anonymous author. Ever since he was a boy growing up in Big Sandy, Montana, he has lived by these words:

Press on.

Nothing in the world

Can take the place of persistence.

Talent will not;

Nothing is more common

Than unsuccessful men
With talent.
Genius will not;
Unrewarded genius
Is almost a proverb.
Education will not;
The world is full of Educated derelicts.
Persistence and determination Alone are omnipotent.

Coach Sherbeck had no quick and easy formula for success; he lives by his strong commitment to persistence and determination.

Don't misunderstand. I have in mind being determined to accomplish what is right... . When the objective is good and the motive is pure, there is nothing more valuable in the pathway leading to genuine success than persistence and determination. Following one's dream requires these disciplines... . The thing that makes for greatness is determination, persisting in the right direction over the long haul, following your dream, staying at the task. Just as there is no thing such as instant failure, neither is there automatic or instant success. But success is the direct result of a process that is long, arduous, and often unappreciated by others. It also includes a willingness to sacrifice... . In our world of instant everything, these thoughts are not very popular... . If we really want to soar like an eagle, we must keep on continually pursuing—we must keep on seeking. (From Living Above the Level of Mediocrity by

Ezra Comes to Jerusalem

After these things during the rule of Artaxerxes king of Persia, Ezra came up from Babylon. Ezra was the son of Seraiah, the son of Azariah, the son of Hilkiah, <sup>2</sup>the son of Shallum, the son of Zadok, the son of Ahitub, <sup>3</sup>the son of Amariah, the son of Azariah, the son of Meraioth, <sup>4</sup>the son of Zerariah, the son of Uzzi, the son of Bukki, <sup>5</sup>the son of Abishua, the son of Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the high priest. <sup>6</sup>This Ezra came to Jerusalem from Babylon. He was a teacher and knew well the Teachings of Moses that had been given by the Lord, the God of Israel. Ezra received everything he asked for from the king, because the Lord his God was helping him. <sup>7</sup>In the seventh year of King Artaxerxes more Israelites came to Jerusalem. Among them were priests, Levites, singers, gatekeepers, and Temple servants.

<sup>8</sup>Ezra arrived in Jerusalem in the fifth month of Artaxerxes' seventh year as king. <sup>9</sup>Ezra had left Babylon on the first day of the first month, and he arrived in Jerusalem on the first day of the fifth month, because God was helping him. <sup>10</sup>Ezra had worked hard to know and obey the Teachings of the Lord and to teach his rules and commands to the Israelites.

Artaxerxes' Letter to Ezra

<sup>11</sup>King Artaxerxes had given a letter to Ezra, a priest and teacher who taught about the commands and laws the Lord gave Israel. This is a copy of the letter:

Greetings.

<sup>13</sup>Now I give this order: Any Israelite in my kingdom who wishes may go with you to Jerusalem, including priests and Levites. <sup>14</sup>Ezra, you are sent by the king and the seven people who advise him to ask how Judah and Jerusalem are obeying the Law of your God, which you are carrying with you. <sup>15</sup>Also take with you the silver and gold that the king and those who advise him have given freely to the God of Israel, whose Temple is in Jerusalem. <sup>16</sup>Also take the silver and gold you receive from the area of Babylon. Take the offerings the Israelites and their priests have given as gifts for the Temple of your God in Jerusalem. <sup>17</sup>With this money buy bulls, male sheep, and lambs, and the grain offerings and drink offerings that go with those sacrifices. Then sacrifice them on the altar in the Temple of your God in Jerusalem.

<sup>18</sup>You and your fellow Jews may spend the silver and gold left over as you want and as God wishes. <sup>19</sup>Take to the God of Jerusalem all the utensils for worship in the Temple of your God, <sup>20</sup>which we have given you. Use the royal treasury to pay for anything else you need for the Temple of your God.

<sup>21</sup>Now I, King Artaxerxes, give this order to all the men in charge of the treasury of Trans-Euphrates: Give Ezra, a priest and a teacher of the Law of the God of heaven, whatever he asks for.<sup>22</sup> Give him up to seventy-five hundred pounds of silver, six hundred bushels of wheat, six hundred gallons of wine, and six hundred gallons of olive oil. And give him as much salt as he wants.<sup>23</sup> Carefully give him whatever the God of heaven wants for the Temple of the God of heaven. We do not want God to be angry with the king and his sons.<sup>24</sup> Remember, you must not make these people pay taxes of any kind: priests, Levites, singers, gatekeepers, Temple servants, and other workers in this Temple of God.

<sup>25</sup> And you, Ezra, use the wisdom you have from your God to choose judges and lawmakers to rule the Jewish people of Trans-Euphrates. They know the laws of your God, and you may teach anyone who does not know them.<sup>26</sup> Whoever does not obey the law of your God or of the king must be punished. He will be killed, or sent away, or have his property taken away, or be put in jail.

<sup>27</sup> Praise the Lord, the God of our ancestors. He caused the king to want to honor the Temple of the Lord in Jerusalem.<sup>28</sup> The Lord has shown me, Ezra, his love in the presence of the king, those who advise the king, and the royal officers. Because the Lord my God was helping me, I had courage, and I gathered the leaders of Israel to return with me.

Leaders Who Returned with Ezra

These are the leaders of the family groups and those who were listed with them who came back with me from Babylon during the rule of King Artaxerxes.

From the descendants of Ithamar: Daniel.

From the descendants of David: Hattush<sup>3</sup> of the descendants of Shecaniah.

From the descendants of Parosh: Zechariah, with one hundred fifty men.

Hakkatan, with one hundred ten men.

The Return to Jerusalem

<sup>15</sup>I called all those people together at the canal that flows toward Ahava, where we camped for three days. I checked all the people and the priests, but I did not find any Levites. <sup>16</sup>So I called these leaders: Eliezer, Ariel, Shemaiah, Elnathan, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zechariah, and Meshullam. And I called Joiarib and Elnathan, who were teachers. <sup>17</sup>I sent these men to Iddo, the leader at Casiphia, and told them what to say to Iddo and his relatives, who are the Temple servants in Casiphia. I sent them to bring servants to us for the Temple of our God.

<sup>21</sup>There by the Ahava Canal, I announced we would all give up eating and humble ourselves before our God. We would ask God for a safe trip for ourselves, our children, and all our possessions. <sup>22</sup>I was ashamed to ask the king for soldiers and horsemen to protect us from enemies on the road. We had said to the king, “Our God helps everyone who obeys him, but he is very angry with all who reject him.”<sup>23</sup> So we gave up eating and prayed to our God about our trip, and he answered our prayers.

<sup>24</sup>Then I chose twelve of the priests who were leaders, Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and ten of their relatives. <sup>25</sup>I weighed the offering of silver and gold and the utensils given for the Temple of our God, and I gave them to the twelve priests I had chosen. The king, the people who advised him, his officers, and all the Israelites there with us had given these things for the Temple. <sup>26</sup>I weighed out and gave them about fifty thousand pounds of silver, about seventy-five hundred pounds of silver objects, and about seventy-five hundred pounds of gold. <sup>27</sup>I gave them twenty gold bowls that weighed about nineteen pounds and two fine pieces of polished bronze that were as valuable as gold.

<sup>28</sup>Then I said to the priests, “You and these utensils belong to the Lord for his service. The silver and gold are gifts to the Lord, the God of your ancestors. <sup>29</sup>Guard these things carefully. In Jerusalem, weigh them in front of the leading priests, Levites, and the leaders of the family groups of Israel in the rooms of the Temple of the Lord.” <sup>30</sup>So the priests and Levites accepted the silver, the gold, and the utensils that had been weighed to take them to the Temple of our God in Jerusalem.

<sup>31</sup>On the twelfth day of the first month we left the Ahava Canal and started toward Jerusalem. Our God helped us and protected us from enemies and robbers along the way. <sup>32</sup>Finally we arrived in Jerusalem where we rested three days.

<sup>33</sup>On the fourth day we weighed out the silver, the gold, and the utensils in the Temple of our God. We handed them to the priest Meremoth son of Uriah. Eleazar son of Phinehas was with him, as were the Levites Jozabad son of Jeshua and Noadiah son of Binnui. <sup>34</sup>We checked everything by number and by weight, and the total weight was written down.

<sup>35</sup>Then the captives who returned made burnt offerings to the God of Israel. They sacrificed twelve bulls for all Israel, ninety-six male sheep, and seventy-seven lambs. For a sin offering there were twelve male goats. All this was a burnt offering to the Lord. <sup>36</sup>They took King Artaxerxes' orders to the royal officers and to the governors of Trans-Euphrates. Then these men gave help to the people and the Temple of God.

Life Lessons

Ezra 9:1–10:44

Situation

Israelite men intermarried with women from the surrounding pagan countries. This practice violated God's law (Exodus 34:11–16) and allowed idolatry to pollute the Israelites.

Observation

Ezra modeled how believers should hate sin and disobedience.

Inspiration

It is the holiness of God that compels our hearts to cry out for the grace of God.

Holiness produces humility of heart. Grace is then applied to the heart of humility. The depth of our confession is only as great as the clarity of our view of the holiness of God. Too much confession is rooted in comparison to other people. We can always justify our attitudes and actions by thinking we are not as bad as some other Christians. Such comparisons only produce pride in our hearts. However, when we focus on the holy God, we must cry out with Isaiah, “Woe is me, for I am ruined! Because I am a man of unclean lips, and I live among a people of unclean lips; for my eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts” (Isaiah 6:5).

Isaiah had a vision of the glory of God. That vision produced a deep brokenness, confession, and repentance in his life. There were several characteristics of Isaiah's prayer that are important for us to recognize. They are the ingredients that result from a clear view of the holiness and grace of God.

Isaiah was transparent in his prayer. He did not try to impress God or anyone else with his piety. He was honest. He knew that God was able to search the heart of man. Because he knew that only truth would be pleasing to God, he was willing to admit his wrong.

This is one of the most difficult aspects of prayer. We live in a world that teaches us how to wear masks in order to impress others. We attempt to carry our masks into prayer. God's glory is only manifest, however, to the heart that has taken off its mask. We must come to the chamber of prayer with humility, honesty, and transparency....

Isaiah was also specific in his confession. There was a particular area of his life that needed the cleansing of God—the sin of an impure tongue. When he saw a holy, righteous, and glorious God, he could not help but ask God to purge and cleanse his lips. The high praises of God could never come from impure lips. Isaiah had an immensely high view of God. Such a view will spotlight the impurities of our lives.

Many Christians pray, "Forgive me of my sins." But such praying produces little repentance. Repentance is the forerunner of forgiveness, and God desires to forgive and cleanse His children. He loves us and wants to remove the burden of guilt. But we must be specific in our confession and repentance of sin.

(From The Prayer Factor by Sammy Tippet)

Application

Ask God to help you identify overlooked sin in your life. Pray and confess any sin you may need to repent of.

Ezra's Prayer

After these things had been done, the leaders came to me and said, “Ezra, the Israelites, including the priests and Levites, have not kept themselves separate from the people around us. Those neighbors do evil things, as the Canaanites, Hittites, Perizzites, Jebusites, Ammonites, Moabites, Egyptians, and Amorites did.<sup>2</sup>The Israelite men and their sons have married these women. They have mixed the people who belong to God with the people around them. The leaders and officers of Israel have led the rest of the Israelites to do this unfaithful thing.”

<sup>3</sup>When I heard this, I angrily tore my robe and coat, pulled hair from my head and beard, and sat down in shock. <sup>4</sup>Everyone who trembled in fear at the word of the God of Israel gathered around me because of the unfaithfulness of the captives who had returned. I sat there in shock until the evening sacrifice.

<sup>5</sup>At the evening sacrifice I got up from where I had shown my shame. My robe and coat were torn, and I fell on my knees with my hands spread out to the Lord my God. <sup>6</sup>I prayed,

“My God, I am too ashamed and embarrassed to lift up my face to you, my God, because our sins are so many. They are higher than our heads. Our guilt even reaches up to the sky. <sup>7</sup>From the days of our ancestors until now, our guilt has been great. Because of our sins, we, our kings, and our priests have been punished by the sword and captivity. Foreign kings have taken away our things and shamed us, even as it is today.

<sup>8</sup>“But now, for a short time, the Lord our God has been kind to us. He has let some of us come back from captivity and has let us live in safety in his holy place. And so our God gives us hope and a little relief from our slavery. <sup>9</sup>Even though we are slaves, our God has not left us. He caused the kings of Persia to be kind to us and has given us new life. We can rebuild the Temple and repair its ruins. And he has given us a wall to protect us in Judah and Jerusalem.

<sup>10</sup>“But now, our God, what can we say after you have done all this? We have disobeyed your commands <sup>11</sup>that you gave through your servants the prophets. You said, ‘The land you are entering to own is ruined; the people living there have spoiled it by the evil they do. Their evil filled the land with uncleanness from one end to the other. <sup>12</sup>So do not let your daughters marry their sons, and do not let their daughters marry your sons. Do not wish for their peace or success. Then you will be strong and eat the good things of the land. Then you can leave this land to your descendants forever.’

<sup>13</sup>“What has happened to us is our own fault. We have done evil things, and our guilt is great. But you, our God, have punished us less than we deserve; you have left a few of us alive. <sup>14</sup>We should not again break your commands by allowing marriages with these wicked people. If we did, you would get angry enough to destroy us, and none of us would be left alive. <sup>15</sup>Lord, God of Israel, by your goodness a few of us are left alive today. We admit that we are guilty and none of us should be allowed to stand before you.”

The People Confess Sin

As Ezra was praying and confessing and crying and throwing himself down in front of the Temple, a large group of Israelite men, women, and children gathered around him who were also crying loudly. <sup>2</sup>Then Shecaniah son of Jehiel the Elamite said to Ezra, “We have been unfaithful to our God by marrying women from the peoples around us. But even so, there is still hope for Israel. <sup>3</sup>Now let us make an agreement before our God. We will send away all these women and their children as you and those who respect the commands of our God advise. Let it be done to obey God’s Teachings. <sup>4</sup>Get up, Ezra. You are in charge, and we will support you. Have courage and do it.”

<sup>5</sup>So Ezra got up and made the priests, Levites, and all the people of Israel promise to do what was suggested; and they promised. <sup>6</sup>Then Ezra left the Temple and went to the room of Jehohanan son of Eliashib. While Ezra was there, he did not eat or drink, because he was still sad about the unfaithfulness of the captives who had returned.

<sup>7</sup>They sent an order in Judah and Jerusalem for all the captives who had returned to meet together in Jerusalem. <sup>8</sup>Whoever did not come to Jerusalem within three days would lose his property and would no longer be a member of the community of the returned captives. That was the decision of the officers and older leaders.

<sup>9</sup>So within three days all the people of Judah and Benjamin gathered in Jerusalem. It was the twentieth day of the ninth month. All the people were sitting in the open place in front of the Temple and were upset because of the meeting and because it was raining. <sup>10</sup>Ezra the priest stood up and said to them, “You have been unfaithful and have married non-Jewish women. You have made Israel more guilty. <sup>11</sup>Now, confess it to the Lord, the God of your ancestors. Do his will and separate yourselves from the people living around you and from your non-Jewish wives.”

<sup>12</sup>Then the whole group answered Ezra with a loud voice, “Ezra, you’re right! We must do what you say. <sup>13</sup>But there are many people here, and it’s the rainy season. We can’t stand outside, and this problem can’t be solved in a day or two, because we have sinned badly. <sup>14</sup>Let our officers make a decision for the whole group. Then let everyone in our towns who has married a non-Jewish woman meet with the older leaders and judges of each town at a planned time, until the hot anger of our God turns away from us.” <sup>15</sup>Only Jonathan son of Asahel, Jahzeiah son of Tikvah, Meshullam, and Shabbethai the Levite were against the plan.

<sup>16</sup>So the returned captives did what was suggested. Ezra the priest chose men who were leaders of the family groups and named one from each family division. On the first day of the tenth month they sat down to study each case. <sup>17</sup>By the first day of the first month, they had finished with all the men who had married non-Jewish women.

Those Guilty of Marrying Non-Jewish Women

<sup>18</sup>These are the descendants of the priests who had married foreign women:

From the descendants of Jeshua son of Jozadak and Jeshua’s brothers: Maaseiah, Eliezer, Jarib, and Gedaliah.

Among the gatekeepers: Shallum, Telem, and Uri.

<sup>25</sup>And among the other Israelites, these married non-Jewish women:

From the descendants of Parosh: Ramiah, Izziah, Malkijah, Mijamin, Eleazar, Malkijah, and Benaiah.

After these things There is a time period of about sixty years between chapters six and seven.

The Book of Nehemiah

Introduction

You are about to meet the Abraham Lincoln of the Old Testament. A respected leader with a tender heart. You will see his tears in the oval office as he weeps for people oppressed and vulnerable.

You are about to meet the General George Patton of the Old Testament. A rugged leader. Intolerant of compromise. Relentless in demanding perfection. He punished those who were soft by pushing them down and cursing their names.

You are about to meet the Winston Churchill of the Old Testament. A statesman. Tested and tried. Resisting the enemies who seek to lure him away from the task. Rising above the squabbling factions who could distract him.

The tenderness of Lincoln. The fire of Patton. The savvy of Churchill. All found in the same man.

Nehemiah.

When we meet him he is wearing the robe of royalty. He is the king's cupbearer. But though he was in a position of power, his heart beat for people in Israel. He was a Hebrew in Persia. When word reached him that the Temple was being reconstructed, he grew anxious. He knew there was no wall to protect it.

Nehemiah invited God to use him to save the city. God answered his prayer by softening the heart of the Persian king. Artaxerxes gave not only his blessing, but also supplies to be used in the project.

Nehemiah exchanged the royal robe for coveralls and got to work. The project took twelve years and was uphill all the way. He was accused of everything from allowing faulty construction to being power-hungry. In spite of grumpy workers and lurking enemies, he made it. With the wall built and the enemy silent, the people rejoiced and Nehemiah went back to Persia.

After twelve years he returned. The walls were strong, but the people had gone to pot. Faith was forgotten and discipline was a bad word. So Nehemiah got busy again.

He went to his closet, hung up his royal robe, bypassed his coveralls, and dusted off his frock and set about the task of teaching the people a few things about morality. He didn't mince words. "I argued with those people, put curses on them, hit some of them, and pulled out their hair" (13:25). Not what you'd call a typical Bible class.

But Nehemiah wasn't what you'd call a typical fellow.

About This Book

Author:

Probably Nehemiah, with perhaps some editing from Ezra

Date Written:

450–400 B.C.

Key Themes:

- Nehemiah was grieved that his homeland wasn't being resettled quickly.
- Nehemiah faced opposition in building the wall, but he overcame it through organization and the loyalty of his countrymen.

- Nehemiah dedicated the wall to the Lord before he returned to Babylon.

Key Verse:

“They read from the Book of the Teachings of God and explained what it meant so the people understood what was being read” (Nehemiah 8:8).

Contents:

1. The Wall Is Rebuilt 1:1–7:73
2. Spiritual Renewal 8:1–10:39
3. The People, Priests, and Levites 11:1–12:26
4. Nehemiah Dedicates the Wall and Institutes Change 12:27–13:31

Life Lessons

Nehemiah 1:1–2:10

Situation

Nehemiah, a Jew displaced by the Babylonian captivity, served in the king's court. When he heard of the decrepit condition of the gates and walls of Jerusalem, he wept and asked the king to send him to rebuild the walls.

Observation

When Nehemiah heard bad news, he prayed. He asked the Lord for success and kindness.

Inspiration

When God says to pray, he really means it. To pray is the most commonly mentioned command in Scripture. It is mentioned more than “love your neighbor,” more than “go to church,” and more than “evangelize.” More than anything else, God calls us to pray.

We should be people of great prayer. We should be prayer warriors. We should be people who use the ministry of prayer to its fullest capacity. The highest and greatest calling of Christians is the ministry of prayer.

I would like to encourage you, admonish you to make a decision to pray more and to set up some specific plans to support that decision. Will you determine in your heart to pray more? Will you start a prayer group in your home? Pray continually—live in a spirit of prayer. (From The Inspirational Bible, “Prayer”)

Application

Many Christians feel that prayer is the weakest part of their Christian walk, yet it's vital for your relationship with the Lord. Set up a regular time each day to commune with the Lord. For many people, that's early in the morning before they become so busy. If you get tired easily, pray out loud. And establish regular prayer times with friends and family.

Nehemiah's Prayer

These are the words of Nehemiah son of Hacaliah.

In the month of Kislev in the twentieth year, I, Nehemiah, was in the capital city of Susa.<sup>2</sup>One of my brothers named Hanani came with some other men from Judah. I asked them about Jerusalem and the Jewish people who lived through the captivity.

<sup>4</sup>When I heard these things, I sat down and cried for several days. I was sad and ate nothing. I prayed to the God of heaven,<sup>5</sup>“Lord, God of heaven, you are the great God who is to be respected. You are loyal, and you keep your agreement with those who love you and obey your commands.<sup>6</sup>Look and listen carefully. Hear the prayer that I, your servant, am praying to you day and night for your servants, the Israelites. I confess the sins we Israelites have done against you. My father's family and I have sinned against you.<sup>7</sup>We have been wicked toward you and have not obeyed the commands, rules, and laws you gave your servant Moses.

<sup>8</sup>“Remember what you taught your servant Moses, saying, ‘If you are unfaithful, I will scatter you among the nations. <sup>9</sup>But if you return to me and obey my commands, I will gather your people from the far ends of the earth. And I will bring them from captivity to where I have chosen to be worshiped.’

<sup>10</sup>“They are your servants and your people, whom you have saved with your great strength and power. <sup>11</sup>Lord, listen carefully to the prayer of your servant and the prayers of your servants who love to honor you. Give me, your servant, success today; allow this king to show kindness to me.”

I was the one who served wine to the king.

Nehemiah Is Sent to Jerusalem

It was the month of Nisan in the twentieth year Artaxerxes was king. He wanted some wine, so I took some and gave it to the king. I had not been sad in his presence before.<sup>2</sup> So the king said, “Why does your face look sad even though you are not sick? Your heart must be sad.”

Then I was very afraid.<sup>3</sup> I said to the king, “May the king live forever! My face is sad because the city where my ancestors are buried lies in ruins, and its gates have been destroyed by fire.”

First I prayed to the God of heaven.<sup>5</sup> Then I answered the king, “If you are willing and if I have pleased you, send me to the city in Judah where my ancestors are buried so I can rebuild it.”

<sup>6</sup>The queen was sitting next to the king. He asked me, “How long will your trip take, and when will you get back?” It pleased the king to send me, so I set a time.

<sup>7</sup>I also said to him, “If you are willing, give me letters for the governors of Trans-Euphrates. Tell them to let me pass safely through their lands on my way to Judah.<sup>8</sup> And may I have a letter for Asaph, the keeper of the king’s forest, telling him to give me timber? I will need it to make boards for the gates of the palace, which is by the Temple, and for the city wall, and for the house in which I will live.” So the king gave me the letters, because God was showing kindness to me.<sup>9</sup> Then I went to the governors of Trans-Euphrates and gave them the king’s letters. The king had also sent army officers and soldiers on horses with me.

<sup>10</sup>When Sanballat the Horonite and Tobiah the Ammonite officer heard about this, they were upset that someone had come to help the Israelites.

Nehemiah Inspects Jerusalem

<sup>11</sup>I went to Jerusalem and stayed there three days. <sup>12</sup>Then at night I started out with a few men. I had not told anyone what God had caused me to do for Jerusalem. There were no animals with me except the one I was riding.

<sup>13</sup>I went out at night through the Valley Gate. I rode toward the Dragon Well and the Trash Gate, inspecting the walls of Jerusalem that had been broken down and the gates that had been destroyed by fire. <sup>14</sup>Then I rode on toward the Fountain Gate and the King's Pool, but there was not enough room for the animal I was riding to pass through. <sup>15</sup>So I went up the valley at night, inspecting the wall. Finally, I turned and went back in through the Valley Gate. <sup>16</sup>The guards did not know where I had gone or what I was doing. I had not yet said anything to the Jewish people, the priests, the important men, the officers, or any of the others who would do the work.

<sup>17</sup>Then I said to them, "You can see the trouble we have here. Jerusalem is a pile of ruins, and its gates have been burned. Come, let's rebuild the wall of Jerusalem so we won't be full of shame any longer." <sup>18</sup>I also told them how God had been kind to me and what the king had said to me.

Then they answered, "Let's start rebuilding." So they began to work hard.

officer, and Geshem the Arab heard about it, they made fun of us and laughed at us. They said, “What are you doing? Are you turning against the king?”

<sup>20</sup>But I answered them, “The God of heaven will give us success. We, his servants, will start rebuilding, but you have no share, claim, or memorial in Jerusalem.”

Builders of the Wall

Eliashib the high priest and his fellow priests went to work and rebuilt the Sheep Gate. They gave it to the Lord's service and set its doors in place. They worked as far as the Tower of the Hundred and gave it to the Lord's service. Then they went on to the Tower of Hananel. <sup>2</sup>Next to them, the men of Jericho built part of the wall, and Zaccur son of Imri built next to them.

<sup>3</sup>The sons of Hassenaah rebuilt the Fish Gate, laying its boards and setting its doors, bolts, and bars in place. <sup>4</sup>Meremoth son of Uriah, the son of Hakkoz, made repairs next to them. Meshullam son of Berekiah, the son of Meshezabel, made repairs next to Meremoth. And Zadok son of Baana made repairs next to Meshullam. <sup>5</sup>The men from Tekoa made repairs next to them, but the leading men of Tekoa would not work under their supervisors.

<sup>6</sup>Joiada son of Paseah and Meshullam son of Besodeiah repaired the Old Gate. They laid its boards and set its doors, bolts, and bars in place. <sup>7</sup>Next to them, Melatiah from Gibeon, other men from Gibeon and Mizpah, and Jadon from Meronoth made repairs. These places were ruled by the governor of Trans-Euphrates. <sup>8</sup>Next to them, Uzziel son of Harhaiah, a goldsmith, made repairs. And next to him, Hananiah, a perfume maker, made repairs. These men rebuilt Jerusalem as far as the Broad Wall. <sup>9</sup>The next part of the wall was repaired by Rephaiah son of Hur, the ruler of half of the district of Jerusalem. <sup>10</sup>Next to him, Jedaiah son of Harumaph made repairs opposite his own house. And next to him, Hattush son of Hashabneiah made repairs. <sup>11</sup>Malkijah son of Harim and Hasshub son of Pahath-Moab repaired another part of the wall and the Tower of the Ovens. <sup>12</sup>Next to them Shallum son of Hallohesh, the ruler of half of the district of Jerusalem, and his daughters made repairs.

<sup>13</sup>Hanun and the people of Zanoah repaired the Valley Gate, rebuilding it and setting its doors, bolts, and bars in place. They also repaired the five hundred yards of the wall to the Trash Gate.

<sup>14</sup>Malkijah son of Recab, the ruler of the district of Beth Hakkerem, repaired the Trash Gate. He rebuilt that gate and set its doors, bolts, and bars in place.

<sup>15</sup>Shallun son of Col-Hozeh, the ruler of the district of Mizpah, repaired the Fountain Gate. He rebuilt it, put a roof over it, and set its doors, bolts, and bars in place. He also repaired the wall of the Pool of Siloam next to the King's Garden all the way to the steps that went down from the older part of the city. <sup>16</sup>Next to Shallun was Nehemiah son of Azbuk, the ruler of half of the district of Beth Zur. He made repairs opposite the tombs of David and as far as the man-made pool and the House of the Heroes.

<sup>17</sup>Next to him, the Levites made repairs, working under Rehum son of Bani. Next to him, Hashabiah, the ruler of half of the district of Keilah, for his district. <sup>18</sup>Next to him, Binnui son of Henadad and his Levites made repairs. Binnui was the ruler of the other half of the district of Keilah. <sup>19</sup>Next to them, Ezer son of Jeshua, the ruler of Mizpah, repaired another part of the wall. He worked across from the way up to the armory, as far as the bend. <sup>20</sup>Next to him, Baruch son of Zabbai worked hard on the wall that went from the bend to the entrance to the house of Eliashib, the high priest.<sup>21</sup>Next to him, Meremoth son of Uriah, the son of Hakkoz, repaired the wall that went from the entrance to Eliashib's house to the far end of it.

<sup>23</sup>Next to them, Benjamin and Hasshub made repairs in front of their own house. Next to them, Azariah son of Maaseiah, the son of Ananiah, made repairs beside his own house.<sup>24</sup>Next to him, Binnui son of Henadad repaired the wall that went from Azariah's house to the bend and on to the corner.<sup>25</sup>Palal son of Uzai worked across from the bend and by the tower on the upper palace, which is near the courtyard of the king's guard. Next to Palal, Pedaiah son of Parosh made repairs.<sup>26</sup>The Temple servants who lived on the hill of Ophel made repairs as far as a point opposite the Water Gate. They worked toward the east and the tower that extends from the palace.<sup>27</sup>Next to them, the people of Tekoa repaired the wall from the great tower that extends from the palace to the wall of Ophel.

<sup>28</sup>The priests made repairs above the Horse Gate, each working in front of his own house.<sup>29</sup>Next to them, Zadok son of Immer made repairs across from his own house. Next to him, Shemaiah son of Shecaniah, the guard of the East Gate, made repairs.<sup>30</sup>Next to him, Hananiah son of Shelemiah, and Hanun, the sixth son of Zalaph, made repairs on another part of the wall. Next to them, Meshullam son of Berekiah made repairs across from where he lived.<sup>31</sup>Next to him, Malkijah, one of the goldsmiths, made repairs. He worked as far as the house of the Temple servants and the traders, which is across from the Inspection Gate, and as far as the room above the corner of the wall.<sup>32</sup>The goldsmiths and the traders made repairs between the room above the corner of the wall and the Sheep Gate.

Life Lessons

Nehemiah 2:11–3:32

Situation

The king gave Nehemiah permission to travel to Jerusalem and rebuild the walls of the city. In spite of opposition from the surrounding nations, Nehemiah led the people to complete the reconstruction.

Observation

We can trust in God to help us accomplish his will.

Inspiration

What does a child say when he is face to face with the neighborhood bully? “My brother is bigger than your brother.” “My dad is stronger than your dad.” Then adults get into the act. . . .

What does a three-year-old do when he gets a knot in his shoelaces? He runs to Daddy. What does a five-year-old girl do when she falls and skins her knee? She cries to Mommy for comfort.

When faced with a problem, danger, difficulty or sadness, we naturally go to someone who is bigger, stronger, and more powerful. Just as a child wants to crawl up on Daddy’s lap or have Mommy’s arms wrapped around him, so we go to our heavenly Father. His is the fortress that protects us from attack, the refuge that grants us asylum from persecution, the safe harbor that shelters us from the storms of life.

(From A Dad’s Blessing by Gary Smalley and John Trent)

Application

Do you feel like you are being attacked? Are you up against a difficult situation or an imposing problem? Run to God and know that he is with you and will protect you. Thank him for protecting you in every circumstance—especially the one you are facing right now.

Those Against the Rebuilding

When Sanballat heard we were rebuilding the wall, he was very angry, even furious. He made fun of the Jewish people. <sup>2</sup>He said to his friends and those with power in Samaria, “What are these weak Jews doing? Will they rebuild the wall? Will they offer sacrifices? Can they finish it in one day? Can they bring stones back to life from piles of trash and ashes?”

<sup>4</sup>I prayed, “Hear us, our God. We are hated. Turn the insults of Sanballat and Tobiah back on their own heads. Let them be captured and stolen like valuables. <sup>5</sup>Do not hide their guilt or take away their sins so that you can’t see them, because they have insulted the builders.”

<sup>7</sup>But Sanballat, Tobiah, the Arabs, the Ammonites, and the people from Ashdod were very angry when they heard that the repairs to Jerusalem’s walls were continuing and that the holes in the wall were being closed. <sup>8</sup>So they all made plans to come to Jerusalem and fight and stir up trouble. <sup>9</sup>But we prayed to our God and appointed guards to watch for them day and night.

<sup>10</sup>The people of Judah said, “The workers are getting tired. There is so much trash we cannot rebuild the wall.”

<sup>11</sup>And our enemies said, “The Jews won’t know or see anything until we come among them and kill them and stop the work.”

<sup>12</sup>Then the Jewish people who lived near our enemies came and told us ten times, “Everywhere you turn, the enemy will attack us.” <sup>13</sup>So I put people behind the lowest places along the wall—the open places—and I put families together with their swords, spears, and bows. <sup>14</sup>Then I looked around and stood up and said to the important men, the leaders, and the rest of the people: “Don’t be afraid of them. Remember the Lord, who is great and powerful. Fight for your brothers, your sons and daughters, your wives, and your homes.”

<sup>15</sup>Then our enemies heard that we knew about their plans and that God had ruined their plans. So we all went back to the wall, each to his own work.

<sup>16</sup>From that day on, half my people worked on the wall. The other half was ready with spears, shields, bows, and armor. The officers stood in back of the people of Judah <sup>17</sup>who were building the wall. Those who carried materials did their work with one hand and carried a weapon with the other. <sup>18</sup>Each builder wore his sword at his side as he worked. The man who blew the trumpet to warn the people stayed next to me.

<sup>19</sup>Then I said to the important men, the leaders, and the rest of the people, “This is a very big job. We are spreading out along the wall so that we are far apart. <sup>20</sup>Wherever you hear the sound of the trumpet, assemble there. Our God will fight for us.”

<sup>21</sup>So we continued to work with half the men holding spears from sunrise till the stars came out. <sup>22</sup>At that time I also said to the people, “Let every man and his helper stay inside Jerusalem at night. They can be our guards at night and workmen during the day.”<sup>23</sup> Neither I, my brothers, my workers, nor the guards with me ever took off our clothes. Each person carried his weapon even when he went for water.

Life Lessons

Nehemiah 4:1–23

Situation

Sanballat and Tobiah were leaders in surrounding cities who wanted to spread their influence into Jerusalem. When the rebuilding of Jerusalem’s wall continued, they responded with opposition.

Observation

Taunted, ridiculed, threatened. Instead of giving in, Nehemiah and the Israelites chose to find new strength and determination through their faith in God.

Inspiration

After I spoke at a women’s retreat recently, a darling gal rushed up to me saying, “Oh, Barb, you are just SO LUCKY! You have come through all your trials with so much joy and victory! ...

I laughed and told the lady that I didn’t believe there was any such thing as luck for Christians...

Look at it this way: One family out of 500,000 lost a son in Vietnam ... we are one of those families. One family out of every 800 has a child killed by a drunk driver ... we experienced that, too. Statistics say that one family out of every ten will have a homosexual child ... we know all about that. And recently I became part of another set of statistics, namely that out of every forty women over middle-age, one will develop adult-onset diabetes.

This is something that is brand new in my life. Although it is considered milder than juvenile-onset, it carries with it all the life-threatening complications... I said a lot more, but the main thrust was that I chose to look at what seemed good to me rather than to anticipate all the gruesome complications that can happen at some point... We are all going to have pain, but misery is optional. We can decide how we will react to the pain that inevitably comes to us all.

(From Stick a Geranium in Your Hat and Be Happy by Barbara Johnson)

Application

The Israelites teach us to regard God as our only source of confidence! Today, when your life encounters friction, pray first and believe that God will smooth the road.

Nehemiah 5:1-19

Situation

When some of the people began exploiting the poor, Nehemiah cried foul. He considered the poor to be valuable members of society, and he protected them.

Observation

God concerns himself with poor and helpless people. People who have no power in society are not less important or less valuable but have great worth in God's eyes.

Inspiration

When Jesus chose his disciples, the persons who were to carry on his mission, all except Matthew were fishermen and other common folk. Those who think that only the rich and powerful change history continue to take offense at Jesus' preoccupation with the poor and weak.

Again we must oppose the view that God never uses rich, powerful people as his chosen instruments. He has and does. But we always choose such people. God, on the other hand, frequently selects the poor to carry out his most important tasks. He sees potential that we do not. And when the task is done, the poor and weak are less likely to boast that they deserve the credit. God's selection of the lowly to be his special messengers of salvation to the world is striking evidence of his special concern for them. And his incarnation as a poor Galilean suggests that the frequent use of the poor as his special instruments is not insignificant historical trivia. It points to something significant about the very nature of God. (From Rich Christians in an Age of Hunger by Ronald Sider)

Application

What can you do in the next month to help the poor? Consider giving your time or money to help a friend, a relative, or even a stranger who needs something you can spare. Volunteer in a homeless shelter, give money to your church's benevolent fund, or help a friend or relative with a purchase they are struggling to make.

Nehemiah Helps Poor People

The men and their wives complained loudly against their fellow Jews.<sup>2</sup> Some of them were saying, “We have many sons and daughters in our families. To eat and stay alive, we need grain.”

<sup>4</sup>And still others were saying, “We are borrowing money to pay the king’s tax on our fields and vineyards. <sup>5</sup>We are just like our fellow Jews, and our sons are like their sons. But we have to sell our sons and daughters as slaves. Some of our daughters have already been sold. But there is nothing we can do, because our fields and vineyards already belong to other people.”

<sup>6</sup>When I heard their complaints about these things, I was very angry. <sup>7</sup>After I thought about it, I accused the important people and the leaders, “You are charging your own brothers too much interest.” So I called a large meeting to deal with them. <sup>8</sup>I said to them, “As much as possible, we have bought freedom for our fellow Jews who had been sold to foreigners. Now you are selling your fellow Jews to us!” The leaders were quiet and had nothing to say.

<sup>9</sup>Then I said, “What you are doing is not right. Don’t you fear God? Don’t let our foreign enemies shame us. <sup>10</sup>I, my brothers, and my men are also lending money and grain to the people. But stop charging them so much for this. <sup>11</sup>Give back their fields, vineyards, olive trees, and houses right now. Also give back the extra amount you charged—the hundredth part of the money, grain, new wine, and oil.”

<sup>12</sup>They said, “We will give it back and not demand anything more from them. We will do as you say.”

Then I called for the priests, and I made the important men and leaders take an oath to do what they had said. <sup>13</sup>Also I shook out the folds of my robe and said, “In this way may God shake out everyone who does not keep his promise. May God shake him out of his house and out of the things that are his. Let that person be shaken out and emptied!”

Then the whole group said, “Amen,” and they praised the Lord. So the people did what they had promised.

<sup>14</sup>I was appointed governor in the land of Judah in the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes’ rule. I was governor of Judah for twelve years, until his thirty-second year. During that time neither my brothers nor I ate the food that was allowed for a governor. <sup>15</sup>But the governors before me had placed a heavy load on the people. They took about one pound of silver from each person, along with food and wine. The governors’ helpers before me also controlled the people, but I did not do that, because I feared God. <sup>16</sup>I worked on the wall, as did all my men who were gathered there. We did not buy any fields.

<sup>17</sup>Also, I fed one hundred fifty Jewish people and officers at my table, as well as those who came from the nations around us. <sup>18</sup>This is what was prepared every day: one ox, six good sheep, and birds. And every ten days there were all kinds of wine. But I never demanded the food that was due a governor, because the people were already working very hard.

<sup>19</sup>Remember to be kind to me, my God, for all the good I have done for these people.

Situation

Despite much opposition from Sanballat, Tobiah, and Geshem, Nehemiah and the Israelites finished the wall of Jerusalem.

Observation

Satan tries to discourage us. But we can survive setbacks if we stay focused and fulfill God's purposes.

Inspiration

An altogether different person was the man who was my seatmate on a flight to St. Louis...

"I happen to be facing a crisis at this time," went on my seatmate. "Just what it is, is irrelevant, but to get ready for it my mind must be working at maximum, so I follow a procedure. First, I sharpen my mind by reading [the Bible]..."

"Then I affirm God's presence. I remind myself that the Lord is with me, for He said: 'I am with you always.' I spend a moment sensing and feeling the Lord's actual presence ... Next, I pray that my decisions will be right.

"Having completed those procedures, I then practice one of the wisest bits of advice in the Bible. Know what that is?"

"You tell me," I urged.

"'Having done all, to stand.' When you've done all you can do, what more can you do? Just put everything confidently into God's hands. He will bring it out OK." (From The Positive Power of Jesus Christ by Norman Vincent Peale)

More Problems for Nehemiah

Then Sanballat, Tobiah, Geshem the Arab, and our other enemies heard that I had rebuilt the wall and that there was not one gap in it. But I had not yet set the doors in the gates.<sup>2</sup> So Sanballat and Geshem sent me this message: “Come, Nehemiah, let’s meet together in Kephirim on the plain of Ono.”

But they were planning to harm me.<sup>3</sup> So I sent messengers to them with this answer: “I am doing a great work, and I can’t come down. I don’t want the work to stop while I leave to meet you.”<sup>4</sup> Sanballat and Geshem sent the same message to me four times, and each time I sent back the same answer.

A report is going around to all the nations, and Geshem says it is true, that you and the Jewish people are planning to turn against the king and that you are rebuilding the wall. They say you are going to be their king<sup>7</sup> and that you have appointed prophets to announce in Jerusalem: “There is a king of Judah!” The king will hear about this. So come, let’s discuss this together.

<sup>8</sup>So I sent him back this answer: “Nothing you are saying is really happening. You are just making it up in your own mind.”

<sup>9</sup>Our enemies were trying to scare us, thinking, “They will get too weak to work. Then the wall will not be finished.”

But I prayed, “God, make me strong.”

<sup>10</sup>One day I went to the house of Shemaiah son of Delaiah, the son of Mehetabel. Shemaiah had to stay at home. He said, “Nehemiah, let’s meet in the Temple of God. Let’s go inside the Temple and close the doors, because men are coming at night to kill you.”

<sup>11</sup>But I said, “Should a man like me run away? Should I run for my life into the Temple? I will not go.” <sup>12</sup>I knew that God had not sent him but that Tobiah and Sanballat had paid him to prophesy against me. <sup>13</sup>They paid him to frighten me so I would do this and sin. Then they could give me a bad name to shame me.

<sup>14</sup>I prayed, “My God, remember Tobiah and Sanballat and what they have done. Also remember the prophetess Noadiah and the other prophets who have been trying to frighten me.”

The Wall Is Finished

<sup>15</sup>The wall of Jerusalem was completed on the twenty-fifth day of the month of Elul. It took fifty-two days to rebuild.

<sup>16</sup>When all our enemies heard about it and all the nations around us saw it, they were shamed. They then understood that the work had been done with the help of our God.

<sup>17</sup>Also in those days the important men of Judah sent many letters to Tobiah, and he answered them. <sup>18</sup>Many Jewish people had promised to be faithful to Tobiah, because he was the son-in-law of Shecaniah son of Arah. And Tobiah's son Jehohanan had married the daughter of Meshullam son of Berekiah. <sup>19</sup>These important men kept telling me about the good things Tobiah was doing, and then they would tell Tobiah what I said about him. So Tobiah sent letters to frighten me.

After the wall had been rebuilt and I had set the doors in place, the gatekeepers, singers, and Levites were chosen.<sup>2</sup> I put my brother Hanani, along with Hananiah, the commander of the palace, in charge of Jerusalem. Hananiah was honest and feared God more than most people.<sup>3</sup> I said to them, “The gates of Jerusalem should not be opened until the sun is hot. While the gatekeepers are still on duty, have them shut and bolt the doors. Appoint people who live in Jerusalem as guards, and put some at guard posts and some near their own houses.”

The Captives Who Returned

<sup>4</sup>The city was large and roomy, but there were few people in it, and the houses had not yet been rebuilt. <sup>5</sup>Then my God caused me to gather the important men, the leaders, and the common people so I could register them by families. I found the family history of those who had returned first. This is what I found written there:

<sup>64</sup>These people searched for their family records, but they could not find them. So they could not be priests, because they were thought to be unclean. <sup>65</sup>The governor ordered them not to eat any of the holy food until a priest settled this matter by using the Urim and Thummim.

<sup>70</sup>Some of the family leaders gave to the work. The governor gave to the treasury about 19 pounds of gold, 50 bowls, and 530 pieces of clothing for the priests. <sup>71</sup>Some of the family leaders gave about 375 pounds of gold and about 2,660 pounds of silver to the treasury for the work. <sup>72</sup>The total of what the other people gave was about 375 pounds of gold, about 2,250 pounds of silver, and 67 pieces of clothing for the priests. <sup>73</sup>So these people all settled in their own towns: the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, the Temple servants, and all the other people of Israel.

Nehemiah 8:1–18

Situation

Nehemiah and Ezra assembled the people in Jerusalem to hear the Law of Moses. Many wept when they realized how disobedient they had been. The assembly became a festive time when the people reclaimed their legacy as God's chosen people.

Observation

Nehemiah not only encouraged the people to consider the day sacred but also to rejoice in the Lord, their source of strength. They could seek God's holiness and be joyful at the same time.

Inspiration

Last night during family devotions, I called my daughters to the table and set a plate in front of each. In the center of the table I placed a collection of food: some fruit, some raw vegetables and some Oreo cookies. "Every day," I explained, "God prepares for us a plate of experiences. What kind of plate do you most enjoy?"

The answer was easy. Sara put three cookies on her plate. Some days are like that, aren't they? Some days are "three cookie days." Many are not. Sometimes our plate has nothing but vegetables—twenty-four hours of celery, carrots, and squash. Apparently God knows we need some strength, and though the portion may be hard to swallow, isn't it for our own good? Most days, however, have a bit of it all. Vegetables, which are healthy but dull. Fruit, which tastes better and we enjoy. And even an Oreo, which does little for our nutrition, but a lot for our attitude.

All are important and all are from God. “We know that in everything God works for the good of those who love him” (Romans 8:28). We, like Paul, must learn the “secret of being happy at any time in everything that happens, when I have enough to eat and when I go hungry, when I have more than I need and when I do not have enough. I can do all things through Christ, because he gives me strength” (Philippians 4:12).

Application

Seek to be holy as God is holy, and there find true inner joy. Are you a joyful Christian or a grumpy one? If you are the latter, see if there is something that is keeping you from the joy that the Holy Spirit would like you to experience. Ask God for contentment and joy in the midst of life’s experiences.

Joy—John 15:1–11; Romans 14:17; Galatians 5:22–23; James 1:2–3; 1 John 1:1–4.

All the people of Israel gathered together in the square by the Water Gate. They asked Ezra the teacher to bring out the Book of the Teachings of Moses, which the Lord had given to Israel.

<sup>5</sup>Ezra opened the book in full view of everyone, because he was above them. As he opened it, all the people stood up. <sup>6</sup>Ezra praised the Lord, the great God, and all the people held up their hands and said, "Amen! Amen!" Then they bowed down and worshiped the Lord with their faces to the ground.

<sup>7</sup>These Levites explained the Teachings to the people as they stood there: Jeshua, Bani, Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, and Pellaiah. <sup>8</sup>They read from the Book of the Teachings of God and explained what it meant so the people understood what was being read.

and the Levites who were teaching said to all the people, “This is a holy day to the Lord your God. Don’t be sad or cry.” All the people had been crying as they listened to the words of the Teachings.

<sup>10</sup>Nehemiah said, “Go and enjoy good food and sweet drinks. Send some to people who have none, because today is a holy day to the Lord. Don’t be sad, because the joy of the Lord will make you strong.”

<sup>13</sup>On the second day of the month, the leaders of all the families, the priests, and the Levites met with Ezra the teacher. They gathered to study the words of the Teachings. <sup>14</sup>This is what they found written in the Teachings: The Lord commanded through Moses that the people of Israel were to live in shelters during the feast of the seventh month. <sup>15</sup>The people were supposed to preach this message and spread it through all their towns and in Jerusalem: “Go out into the mountains, and bring back branches from olive and wild olive trees, myrtle trees, palms, and shade trees. Make shelters with them, as it is written.”

<sup>16</sup>So the people went out and got tree branches. They built shelters on their roofs, in their courtyards, in the courtyards of the Temple, in the square by the Water Gate, and in the square next to the Gate of Ephraim. <sup>17</sup>The whole group that had come back from captivity built shelters and lived in them. The Israelites had not done this since the time of Joshua son of

Nun. And they were very happy.

<sup>18</sup>Ezra read to them every day from the Book of the Teachings, from the first day to the last. The people of Israel celebrated the feast for seven days, and then on the eighth day the people gathered as the law said.

Israel Confesses Sins

On the twenty-fourth day of that same month, the people of Israel gathered. They did not eat, and they wore rough cloth and put dust on their heads to show their sadness.<sup>2</sup> Those people whose ancestors were from Israel had separated themselves from all foreigners. They stood and confessed their sins and their ancestors' sins.<sup>3</sup> For a fourth of the day they stood where they were and read from the Book of the Teachings of the Lord their God. For another fourth of the day they confessed their sins and worshiped the Lord their God.<sup>4</sup> These Levites were standing on the stairs: Jeshua, Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Kenani. They called out to the Lord their God with loud voices.<sup>5</sup> Then these Levites spoke: Jeshua, Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabneiah, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah. They said, "Stand up and praise the Lord your God, who lives forever and ever."

The People's Prayer

"Blessed be your wonderful name.

It is more wonderful than all blessing and praise.

You made the heavens, even the highest heavens,
with all the stars.

You made the earth and everything on it,
the seas and everything in them;
you give life to everything.

The heavenly army worships you.

<sup>7</sup>“You are the Lord,
the God who chose Abram and brought him out of Ur in Babylonia and named him Abraham.

<sup>8</sup>You found him faithful to you,
so you made an agreement with him to give his descendants the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Jebusites, and Gergashites.
You have kept your promise,
because you do what is right.

<sup>9</sup>“You saw our ancestors suffering in Egypt and heard them cry out at the Red Sea.

<sup>10</sup>You did signs and miracles against the king of Egypt, and against all his officers and all his people, because you knew how proud they were.
You became as famous as you are today.

<sup>11</sup>You divided the sea in front of our ancestors;
they walked through on dry ground.

But you threw the people chasing them into the deep water,

like a stone thrown into mighty waters.

<sup>12</sup>You led our ancestors with a pillar of cloud by day and with a pillar of fire at night.

It lit the way
they were supposed to go.

<sup>13</sup>You came down to Mount Sinai and spoke from heaven to our ancestors.

You gave them fair rules and true teachings,
good orders and commands.

<sup>14</sup>You told them about your holy Sabbath and gave them commands, orders, and teachings through your servant Moses.

<sup>15</sup>When they were hungry, you gave them bread from heaven.

When they were thirsty, you brought them water from the rock.

You told them to enter and take over the land you had promised to give them.

<sup>16</sup>“But our ancestors were proud and stubborn and did not obey your commands.

they forgot the miracles you did for them.
So they became stubborn and turned against you,
choosing a leader to take them back to slavery.

But you are a forgiving God.

You are kind and full of mercy.

You do not become angry quickly, and you have great love.

So you did not leave them.

<sup>18</sup>Our ancestors even made an idol of a calf for themselves.

They said, ‘This is your god, Israel, who brought you up out of Egypt.’

They spoke against you.

<sup>19</sup>“You have great mercy,
so you did not leave them in the desert.
The pillar of cloud guided them by day,

and the pillar of fire led them at night,
lighting the way they were to go.

<sup>20</sup>You gave your good Spirit to teach them.

You gave them manna to eat and water when they were thirsty.

<sup>21</sup>You took care of them for forty years in the desert;
they needed nothing.

Their clothes did not wear out,
and their feet did not swell.

<sup>22</sup>“You gave them kingdoms and nations;
you gave them more land.

They took over the country of Sihon king of Heshbon and the country of Og king of Bashan.

<sup>23</sup>You made their children as many as the stars in the sky,

and you brought them into the land that you told their fathers to enter and take over.

The Canaanites lived there, but you defeated them for our ancestors.

You handed over to them the Canaanites, their kings,
and the people of the land.

Our ancestors could do what they wanted with them.

<sup>25</sup>They captured strong, walled cities and fertile land.

They took over houses full of good things, wells that were already dug,

vineyards, olive trees, and many fruit trees.

They ate until they were full and grew fat;
they enjoyed your great goodness.

<sup>26</sup>But they were disobedient and turned against you and ignored your teachings.

Your prophets warned them to come back to you, but they killed those prophets and spoke against you.

<sup>27</sup>So you handed them over to their enemies, and their enemies treated them badly.

But in this time of trouble our ancestors cried out to you,
and you heard from heaven.
You had great mercy
and gave them saviors who saved them from the power of their enemies.

<sup>28</sup>But as soon as they had rest, they again did what was evil.
So you left them to their enemies who ruled over them.

When they cried out to you again, you heard from heaven.

Because of your mercy, you saved them again and again.

<sup>29</sup>You warned them to return to your teachings, but they were proud and did not obey your commands. If someone obeys your laws, he will live, but they sinned against your laws.

They were stubborn, unwilling, and disobedient.

<sup>30</sup>You were patient with them for many years and warned them by your Spirit through the prophets, but they did not pay attention.

So you handed them over to other countries.

<sup>31</sup>But because your mercy is great, you did not kill them all or leave them.

You are a kind and merciful God.

<sup>32c</sup>And so, our God, you are the great and mighty and wonderful God.

You keep your agreement of love.

Do not let all our trouble seem unimportant to you.

This trouble has come to us, to our kings and our leaders, to our priests and prophets,

to our ancestors and all your people from the days of the kings of Assyria until today.

<sup>33</sup>You have been fair in everything that has happened to us;

you have been loyal, but we have been wicked.

<sup>34</sup>Our kings, leaders, priests, and ancestors did not obey your teachings;

they did not pay attention to the commands and warnings you gave them.

<sup>35</sup>Even when our ancestors were living in their kingdom, enjoying all the good things you had given them, enjoying the land that was fertile and full of room,

they did not stop their evil ways.

<sup>36c</sup>Look, we are slaves today
in the land you gave our ancestors.

They were to enjoy its fruit and its good things,
but look, we are slaves here.

<sup>37</sup>The land's great harvest belongs to the kings you have put over us

because of our sins.
Those kings rule over us and our cattle as they please,
so we are in much trouble.

The People's Agreement

<sup>38</sup>“Because of all this, we are making an agreement in writing, and our leaders, Levites, and priests are putting their seals on it.”

Life Lessons

Nehemiah 9:1–10:39

Situation

Nehemiah helped the people to learn God's Law and to confess their sins. The people agreed to honor God in every aspect of their lives. They sought to eliminate relationships that would contaminate their culture and faith.

Observation

As the walls of Jerusalem were restored, the people renewed their devotion to God and his covenant.

Inspiration

Jesus told us we must be born again. The infinitive be is passive. It shows that it is something that must be done for us. No man can “born” himself. He must be born. The new birth is wholly foreign to our will. In other words, the new birth is a divine work —we are born of God.

Even though the new birth seems mysterious, that does not make it untrue. We may not understand the how of electricity, but we know that it lights our homes, runs our television and radio sets. We do not understand how the sheep grows wool, the cow grows hair, or the fowl grows feathers—but we know they do. We do not understand many mysteries, but we accept by faith the fact that at the moment we repent of sin and turn by faith to Jesus Christ we are born again.

It is the infusion of divine life into the human soul. It is the implementation or impartation of divine nature into the human soul whereby we become the children of God. We receive the breath of God. Christ through the Holy Spirit takes up residence in our hearts. We are attached to God for eternity. That means that if you have been born again, you will live as long as God lives, because you are now sharing His very life. The long-lost fellowship man had with God in the Garden of Eden has been restored. . . .

This new nature that you receive from God is bent to the will of God. You will want to do only His will. You are utterly and completely devoted to Him. There is a new self-determination, inclination, disposition, a new principle of living, new choices. You seek to glorify God. You seek fellowship with other Christians in the church. You love the Bible. You love to spend time in prayer with God. Your whole disposition is changed. Whereas your life once was filled with unbelief, the root and foundation of all sin, and you once doubted God, now you believe Him. Now you have utmost confidence and faith in God and His Word. (From Peace with God by Billy Graham)

Application

God saves us without expecting any additional payment. Those who love God, however, want to obey him. Repentance is the first step in placing our lives under his authority. What area of life do you want to turn over to God?

Covenant—Genesis 17:2–8; Deuteronomy 5:1–3; Isaiah 61:8; Matthew 26:28.

These are the men who sealed the agreement:

Nehemiah the governor, son of Hacaliah.

We promise not to let our daughters marry foreigners nor to let our sons marry their daughters.<sup>31</sup> Foreigners may bring goods or grain to sell on the Sabbath, but we will not buy on the Sabbath or any holy day. Every seventh year we will not plant, and that year we will forget all that people owe us.

<sup>32</sup>We will be responsible for the commands to pay for the service of the Temple of our God. We will give an eighth of an ounce of silver each year.<sup>33</sup> It is for the bread that is set out on the table; the regular grain offerings and burnt offerings; the offerings on the Sabbaths, New Moon festivals, and special feasts; the holy offerings; the offerings to remove the sins of the Israelites so they will belong to God; and for the work of the Temple of our God.

<sup>34</sup>We, the priests, the Levites, and the people, have thrown lots to decide at what time of year each family must bring wood to the Temple. The wood is for burning on the altar of the Lord our God, and we will do this as it is written in the Teachings.

<sup>35</sup>We also will bring the first fruits from our crops and the first fruits of every tree to the Temple each year.

<sup>36</sup>We will bring to the Temple our firstborn sons and cattle and the firstborn of our herds and flocks, as it is written in the Teachings. We will bring them to the priests who are serving in the Temple.

<sup>37</sup>We will bring to the priests at the storerooms of the Temple the first of our ground meal, our offerings, the fruit from all our trees, and our new wine and oil. And we will bring a tenth of our crops to the Levites, who will collect these things in all the towns where we work.<sup>38</sup> A priest of Aaron's family must be with the Levites when they receive the tenth of the people's crops. The Levites must bring a tenth of all they receive to the Temple of our God to put in the storerooms of the treasury. <sup>39</sup>The people of Israel and the Levites are to bring to the storerooms the gifts of grain, new wine, and oil. That is where the utensils for the Temple are kept and where the priests who are serving, the gatekeepers, and singers stay.

We will not ignore the Temple of our God.

New People Move into Jerusalem

The leaders of Israel lived in Jerusalem. But the rest of the people threw lots to choose one person out of every ten to come and live in Jerusalem, the holy city. The other nine could stay in their own cities.<sup>2</sup>The people blessed those who volunteered to live in Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup>These are the area leaders who lived in Jerusalem. (Some people lived on their own land in the cities of Judah. These included Israelites, priests, Levites, Temple servants, and descendants of Solomon's servants. <sup>4</sup>Others from the families of Judah and Benjamin lived in Jerusalem.)

These are the descendants of Judah who moved into Jerusalem. There was Athaiah son of Uzziah. (Uzziah was the son of Zechariah, the son of Amariah. Amariah was the son of Shephatiah, the son of Mahalalel. Mahalalel was a descendant of Perez.)<sup>5</sup>There was also Masseiah son of Baruch. (Baruch was the son of Col-Hozeh, the son of Hazaiah. Hazaiah was the son of Adaiah, the son of Joiarib. Joiarib was the son of Zechariah, a descendant of Shelah.)<sup>6</sup>All the descendants of Perez who lived in Jerusalem totaled 468 men. They were soldiers.

<sup>7</sup>These are descendants of Benjamin who moved into Jerusalem. There was Sallu son of Meshullam. (Meshullam was the son of Joed, the son of Pedaiah. Pedaiah was the son of Kolaiah, the son of Maaseiah. Maaseiah was the son of Ithiel, the son of Jeshaiiah.)<sup>8</sup>Following him were Gabbai and Sallai, for a total of 928 men. <sup>9</sup>Joel son of Zicri was appointed over them, and Judah son of Hassenuah was second in charge of the new area of the city.

<sup>10</sup>These are the priests who moved into Jerusalem. There was Jedaiah son of Joiarib, Jakin, <sup>11</sup>and Seraiah son of Hilkiyah, the supervisor in the Temple. (Hilkiyah was the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok. Zadok was the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub.) <sup>12</sup>And there were others with them who did the work for the Temple. All together there were 822 men. Also there was Adaiah son of Jeroham. (Jeroham was the son of Pelaliah, the son of Amzi. Amzi was the son of Zechariah, the son of Pashhur. Pashhur was the son of Malkijah.) <sup>13</sup>And there were family heads with him. All together there were 242 men. Also there was Amashsai son of Azarel. (Azarel was the son of Ahzai, the son of Meshillemoth. Meshillemoth was the son of Immer.) <sup>14</sup>And there were brave men with Amashsai. All together there were 128 men. Zabdiel son of Haggadolim was appointed over them.

<sup>15</sup>These are the Levites who moved into Jerusalem. There was Shemaiah son of Hasshub. (Hasshub was the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah. Hashabiah was the son of Bunni.) <sup>16</sup>And there were Shabbethai and Jozabad, two of the leaders of the Levites who were in charge of the work outside the Temple. <sup>17</sup>There was Mattaniah son of Mica. (Mica was the son of Zabdi, the son of Asaph.) Mattaniah was the director who led the people in thanksgiving and prayer. There was Bakkukiah, who was second in charge over his fellow Levites. And there was Abda son of Shammua. (Shammua was the son of Galal, the son of Jeduthun.) <sup>18</sup>All together 284 Levites lived in the holy city of Jerusalem.

<sup>19</sup>The gatekeepers who moved into Jerusalem were Akkub, Talmon, and others with them. There was a total of 172 men who guarded the city gates.

<sup>20</sup>The other Israelites, priests, and Levites lived on their own land in all the cities of Judah.

<sup>22</sup>Uzzi son of Bani was appointed over the Levites in Jerusalem. (Bani was the son of Hashabiah, the son of Mattaniah. Mattaniah was the son of Mica.) Uzzi was one of Asaph's descendants, who were the singers responsible for the service of the Temple. <sup>23</sup>The singers were under the king's orders, which regulated them day by day.

<sup>36</sup>Some groups of the Levites from Judah settled in the land of Benjamin.

Life Lessons

Nehemiah 11:1–13:31

Situation

To resettle Jerusalem, Nehemiah required ten percent of the people to move from their villages to the city. Many people disliked this plan because it forced them to move.

Observation

For the good of the whole community, Nehemiah required some people to sacrifice.

Inspiration

If you're the kind of Christian who really wants the whole purpose of God, then you dare not leave out kingdom commitment. That means your motives must be investigated. For example, every time you make plans to acquire a sizable possession—a car, an expensive boat, a house, and such like—you must deal with it before God and ask: Is this His will? Would this honor Him? Would this glorify Him?

Am I suggesting that you take a vow of poverty? No, no that. My message is not that you go hungry and give up all nice things. I just say you give up control of them. Give all you have to the Lord God and trust Him to give back all that you need.

(From Wisdom for the Way by Charles Swindoll)

Application

What are you willing to give up? Would you be willing to move? Change jobs? Face new challenges? Be flexible so that God can move you easily. Give him control of your possessions.

Priests and Levites

These are the priests and Levites who returned with Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel and with Jeshua. There were Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,<sup>2</sup> Amariah, Malluch, Hattush,<sup>3</sup> Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,<sup>4</sup> Iddo, Ginnethon, Abijah,<sup>5</sup> Mijamin, Moadiah, Bilgah,<sup>6</sup> Shemaiah, Joiarib, Jedaiah,<sup>7</sup> Sallu, Amok, Hilkiyah, and Jedaiah. They were the leaders of the priests and their relatives in the days of Jeshua.

<sup>8</sup>The Levites were Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, and Mattaniah. Mattaniah and his relatives were in charge of the songs of thanksgiving. <sup>9</sup>Bakbukiah and Unni, their relatives, stood across from them in the services.

<sup>10</sup>Jeshua was the father of Joiakim. Joiakim was the father of Eliashib. Eliashib was the father of Joiada. <sup>11</sup>Joiada was the father of Jonathan, and Jonathan was the father of Jaddua.

and Nethanel, from Jedaiah's family.

<sup>22</sup>The leaders of the families of the Levites and the priests were written down in the days of Eliashib, Joiada, Johanan, and Jaddua, while Darius the Persian was king. <sup>23</sup>The family leaders among the Levites were written down in the history book, but only up to the time of Johanan son of Eliashib. <sup>24</sup>The leaders of the Levites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, Jeshua son of Kadmiel, and their relatives. Their relatives stood across from them and gave praise and thanksgiving to God. One group answered the other group, as David, the man of God, had commanded.

<sup>25</sup>These were the gatekeepers who guarded the storerooms next to the gates: Mattaniah, Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, and Akkub. <sup>26</sup>They served in the days of Joiakim son of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak. They also served in the days of Nehemiah the governor and Ezra the priest and teacher.

The Wall of Jerusalem

<sup>27</sup>When the wall of Jerusalem was offered as a gift to God, they asked the Levites to come from wherever they lived to Jerusalem to celebrate with joy the gift of the wall. They were to celebrate with songs of thanksgiving and with the music of cymbals, harps, and lyres. <sup>28</sup>They also brought together singers from all around Jerusalem, from the Netophathite villages, <sup>29</sup>from Beth Gilgal, and from the areas of Geba and Azmaveth. The singers had built villages for themselves around Jerusalem. <sup>30</sup>The priests and Levites made themselves pure, and they also made the people, the gates, and the wall of Jerusalem pure.

appointed two large choruses to give thanks. One chorus went to the right on top of the wall, toward the Trash Gate.<sup>32</sup> Behind them went Hoshaiah and half the leaders of Judah.<sup>33</sup> Azariah, Ezra, Meshullam,<sup>34</sup> Judah, Benjamin, Shemaiah, and Jeremiah also went.<sup>35</sup> Some priests with trumpets also went, along with Zechariah son of Jonathan. (Jonathan was the son of Shemaiah, the son of Mattaniah. Mattaniah was the son of Micaiah, the son of Zaccur. Zaccur was the son of Asaph.)<sup>36</sup> Zechariah's relatives also went. They were Shemaiah, Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethanel, Judah, and Hanani. These men played the musical instruments of David, the man of God, and Ezra the teacher walked in front of them.<sup>37</sup> They went from the Fountain Gate straight up the steps to the highest part of the wall by the older part of the city. They went on above the house of David to the Water Gate on the east.

<sup>40</sup>The two choruses took their places at the Temple. Half of the leaders and I did also.<sup>41</sup> These priests were there with their trumpets: Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Micaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah.<sup>42</sup> These people were also there: Maaseiah, Shemaiah, Eleazar, Uzzi, Jehohanan, Malkijah, Elam, and Ezer. The choruses sang, led by Jezrahiah.<sup>43</sup> The people offered many sacrifices that day and were happy because God had given them great joy. The women and children were happy. The sound of happiness in Jerusalem could be heard far away.

<sup>44</sup>At that time the leaders appointed men to be in charge of the storerooms. These rooms were for the gifts, the first fruits, and the ten percent that the people brought. The Teachings said they should bring a share for the priests and Levites from the fields around the towns. The people of Judah were happy to do this for the priests and Levites who served.<sup>45</sup>They performed the service of their God in making things pure. The singers and gatekeepers also did their jobs, as David had commanded his son Solomon.<sup>46</sup>Earlier, in the time of David and Asaph, there was a leader of the singers and of the songs of praise and thanksgiving to God.<sup>47</sup>So it was in the days of Zerubbabel and Nehemiah. All the people of Israel gave something to the singers and gatekeepers, and they also set aside part for the Levites. Then the Levites set aside part for the descendants of Aaron.

Foreign People Are Sent Away

On that day they read the Book of Moses to the people, and they found that it said no Ammonite or Moabite should ever be allowed in the meeting to worship.<sup>2</sup>The Ammonites and Moabites had not welcomed the Israelites with food and water. Instead, they had hired Balaam to put a curse on Israel. (But our God turned the curse into a blessing.)<sup>3</sup>When the people heard this teaching, they separated all foreigners from Israel.

Nehemiah Returns to Jerusalem

<sup>4</sup>Before that happened, Eliashib the priest, who was in charge of the Temple storerooms, was friendly with Tobiah. <sup>5</sup>Eliashib let Tobiah use one of the large storerooms. Earlier it had been used for grain offerings, incense, the utensils, and the tenth offerings of grain, new wine, and olive oil that belonged to the Levites, singers, and gatekeepers. It had also been used for gifts for the priests.

<sup>6</sup>I was not in Jerusalem when this happened. I had gone back to Artaxerxes king of Babylon in the thirty-second year he was king. Finally I asked the king to let me leave. <sup>7</sup>When I returned to Jerusalem, I found out the evil Eliashib had done by letting Tobiah have a room in the Temple courtyard. <sup>8</sup>I was very upset at this, so I threw all of Tobiah's goods out of the room. <sup>9</sup>I ordered the rooms to be purified, and I brought back the utensils for God's Temple, the grain offerings, and the incense.

<sup>10</sup>Then I found out the people were not giving the Levites their shares. So the Levites and singers who served had gone back to their own farms. <sup>11</sup>I argued with the officers, saying, “Why haven’t you taken care of the Temple?” Then I gathered the Levites and singers and put them back at their places.

<sup>12</sup>All the people of Judah then brought to the storerooms a tenth of their crops, new wine, and olive oil. <sup>13</sup>I put these men in charge of the storerooms: Shelemiah the priest, Zadok the teacher, and Pedaiah a Levite. I made Hanan son of Zaccur, the son of Mattaniah, their helper. Everyone knew they were honest men. They gave out the portions that went to their relatives.

<sup>14</sup>Remember me, my God, for this. Do not ignore my love for the Temple and its service.

<sup>15</sup>In those days I saw people in Judah working in the winepresses on the Sabbath day. They were bringing in grain and loading it on donkeys. And they were bringing loads of wine, grapes, and figs into Jerusalem on the Sabbath day. So I warned them about selling food on that day. <sup>16</sup>People from the city of Tyre who were living in Jerusalem brought in fish and other things and sold them there on the Sabbath day to the people of Judah. <sup>17</sup>I argued with the important men of Judah and said to them, “What is this evil thing you are doing? You are ruining the Sabbath day. <sup>18</sup>This is just what your ancestors did. So our God did terrible things to us and this city. Now you are making him even more angry at Israel by ruining the Sabbath day.”

<sup>19</sup>So I ordered that the doors be shut at sunset before the Sabbath and not be opened until the Sabbath was over. I put my servants at the gates so no load could come in on the Sabbath.<sup>20</sup> Once or twice traders and sellers of all kinds of goods spent the night outside Jerusalem.<sup>21</sup> So I warned them, “Why are you spending the night by the wall? If you do it again, I will force you away.” After that, they did not come back on the Sabbath.<sup>22</sup> Then I ordered the Levites to purify themselves and to guard the city gates to make sure the Sabbath remained holy.

Remember me, my God, for this. Have mercy on me because of your great love.

<sup>23</sup>In those days I saw men of Judah who had married women from Ashdod, Ammon, and Moab. <sup>24</sup>Half their children were speaking the language of Ashdod or some other place, and they couldn’t speak the language of Judah. <sup>25</sup>I argued with those people, put curses on them, hit some of them, and pulled out their hair. I forced them to make a promise to God, saying, “Do not let your daughters marry the sons of foreigners, and do not take the daughters of foreigners as wives for your sons or yourselves. <sup>26</sup>Foreign women made King Solomon of Israel sin. There was never a king like him in any of the nations. God loved Solomon and made him king over all Israel, but foreign women made him sin. <sup>27</sup>And now you are not obedient when you do this evil thing. You are unfaithful to our God when you marry foreign wives.”

<sup>29</sup>Remember them, my God, because they made the priesthood unclean and the agreement of the priests and Levites unclean.

<sup>30</sup>So I purified them of everything that was foreign. I appointed duties for the priests and Levites, giving each man his own job. <sup>31</sup>I also made sure wood was brought for the altar at regular times and that the first fruits were brought.

Remember me, my God; be kind to me.

twentieth year This is probably referring to the twentieth year King Artaxerxes I ruled Persia.

Nehemiah This is a different Nehemiah than the one who wrote this book.

roofs In Bible times houses were built with flat roofs. The roof was used for drying things such as flax and fruit. And it was used as an extra room, as a place for worship, and as a cool place to sleep in the summer.

The Book of Esther

Introduction

The Book of Esther. Some things about it you love. Some things you admire. But there is one thing about it that leaves you scratching your head.

You love the story. A Jewish girl raised in Persia by a cousin named Mordecai. She becomes the wife of the king by winning the Miss Persia contest. Her husband is Xerxes. (Better known to some as Ahasuerus, which sounds like something you do when you have a bad cold.)

It's a rags-to-riches romance, though you've got to wonder how much romance could occur when you are married to a guy who would chop your head off if you popped into his office without an appointment. But that's what Esther did. She took the chance at the chance it would save her nation.

That is the part of Esther you admire. Aside from being a beauty, she was gutsy. Xerxes' right-hand man is Haman. (A name that, as you'll soon see, sounds curiously close to "hangman.") Haman was a raging Nazi. Nothing would suit him better than annihilation of the Jews. One day he got his chance. Mordecai, Esther's foster father, refused to bow before Haman. Haman was so mad he convinced Xerxes to let him do away with the whole nation.

That's where Esther comes in. Literally. She comes into the king's chambers uninvited but not unprepared. After getting the Jews to pray and fast for three days, she puts on her royal robes and stands at the door. Xerxes likes what he sees and invites her in. One invitation leads to another, and by the time she finishes, Xerxes not only agrees to call off the massacre but orders Haman to hang from the same gallows Haman had built for Mordecai.

Whew! Quite a lady, this Esther. You have to admire her courage. You have to love her story. But there is one thing that is tough to figure. God's name never appears in the entire book. His actions do. His thoughts do. His plan does. His fingerprints are on every page. But his name never appears. Could it be that God is more concerned about getting the job done than getting credit?

About This Book

Author:

Unknown, some say Mordecai

Date Written:

500–400 B.C.

Key Themes:

- Esther became queen even though she was an exile in the land.
- Because Esther was queen she was in a position to help when her people were endangered.
- Mordecai, Esther's cousin, helped her have the courage to stand up for her people even though it was dangerous.

Key Verse:

"... and who knows, you may have been chosen queen for just such a time as this" (Esther 4:14).

3. The Jews Are Delivered 8:1-10:3

Life Lessons

Esther 1:1-2:23

Situation

Trouble brewed in Persia. Queen Vashti refused to obey King Xerxes. In anger, the king banished the queen and got a new one. Esther, an adopted Jewish orphan, became queen of Persia because of her beauty.

Observation

God uses unlikely people in unusual situations to preserve his people.

Inspiration

John Eggen had never preached a sermon in his life. Never.

Wasn't that he didn't want to, just never needed to. But then one morning he did. The snow left his town of Colchester, England, buried in white. When he awoke on that January Sunday in 1850, he thought of staying home. Who would go to church in such weather?

But he reconsidered. He was, after all, a deacon. And if the deacons didn't go, who would? So he put on his boots, hat, and coat and walked the six miles to the Methodist Church.

He wasn't the only member who considered staying home. In fact, he was one of the few who came. Only thirteen people were present. Twelve members and one visitor. Even the minister was snowed in. Someone suggested they go home.

Egglen would hear none of that. They'd come this far; they would have a service. Besides, they had a visitor. A thirteen-year-old boy.

But who would preach? Egglen was the only deacon. It fell to him.

And so he did. His sermon lasted only ten minutes. It drifted and wandered and made no point in an effort to make several. But at the end, an uncharacteristic courage settled upon the man. He lifted his eyes and looked straight at the boy and challenged: "Young man, look to Jesus. Look! Look! Look!"

Did the challenge make a difference? Let the boy, now a man, answer. "I did look, and then and there the cloud on my heart lifted, the darkness rolled away, and at that moment I saw the sun."

The boy's name? Charles Haddon Spurgeon. England's prince of preachers. (From When God Whispers Your Name by Max Lucado)

Application

God raised Esther to a royal position to save her people. Look at your surroundings. How could God use you? Perhaps he has placed you in your job, school, or family to reach someone for Jesus. Be bold (but not brash). Share your faith. Encourage others to look to Jesus.

Queen Vashti Disobeys the King

This is what happened during the time of King Xerxes, the king who ruled the one hundred twenty-seven states from India to Cush.<sup>2</sup>In those days King Xerxes ruled from his capital city of Susa.<sup>3</sup>In the third year of his rule, he gave a banquet for all his important men and royal officers. The army leaders from the countries of Persia and Media and the important men from all Xerxes' empire were there.

<sup>10</sup>On the seventh day of the banquet, King Xerxes was very happy, because he had been drinking much wine. He gave a command to the seven eunuchs who served him—Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas. <sup>11</sup>He commanded them to bring him Queen Vashti, wearing her royal crown. She was to come to show her beauty to the people and important men, because she was very beautiful. <sup>12</sup>The eunuchs told Queen Vashti about the king's command, but she refused to come. Then the king became very angry; his anger was like a burning fire.

<sup>16</sup>Then Memucan said to the king and the other important men, "Queen Vashti has not done wrong to the king alone. She has also done wrong to all the important men and all the people in all the empire of King Xerxes. <sup>17</sup>All the wives of the important men of Persia and Media will hear about the queen's actions. Then they will no longer honor their husbands. They will say, 'King Xerxes commanded Queen Vashti to be brought to him, but she refused to come.' <sup>18</sup>Today the wives of the important men of Persia and Media have heard about the queen's actions. So they will speak in the same way to their husbands, and there will be no end to disrespect and anger.

<sup>19c</sup>“So, our king, if it pleases you, give a royal order, and let it be written in the laws of Persia and Media, which cannot be changed. The law should say Vashti is never again to enter the presence of King Xerxes. Also let the king give her place as queen to someone who is better than she is.<sup>20</sup> And let the king’s order be announced everywhere in his enormous kingdom. Then all the women will respect their husbands, from the greatest to the least.”

<sup>21</sup>The king and his important men were happy with this advice, so King Xerxes did as Memucan suggested.<sup>22</sup> He sent letters to all the states of the kingdom in the writing of each state and in the language of each group of people. These letters announced that each man was to be the ruler of his own family.

Esther Is Made Queen

Later, when King Xerxes was not so angry, he remembered Vashti and what she had done and his order about her. <sup>2</sup>Then the king's personal servants suggested, "Let a search be made for beautiful young girls for the king. <sup>3</sup>Let the king choose supervisors in every state of his kingdom to bring every beautiful young girl to the palace at Susa. They should be taken to the women's quarters and put under the care of Hegai, the king's eunuch in charge of the women. And let beauty treatments be given to them. <sup>4</sup>Then let the girl who most pleases the king become queen in place of Vashti." The king liked this idea, so he did as they said.

<sup>8</sup>When the king's command and order had been heard, many girls had been brought to the palace in Susa and put under the care of Hegai. Esther was also taken to the king's palace and put under the care of Hegai, who was in charge of the women. <sup>9</sup>Esther pleased Hegai, and he liked her. So Hegai quickly began giving Esther her beauty treatments and special food. He gave her seven servant girls chosen from the king's palace. Then he moved her and her seven servant girls to the best part of the women's quarters.

<sup>10</sup>Esther did not tell anyone about her family or who her people were, because Mordecai had told her not to. <sup>11</sup>Every day Mordecai walked back and forth near the courtyard where the king's women lived to find out how Esther was and what was happening to her.

<sup>12</sup>Before a girl could take her turn with King Xerxes, she had to complete twelve months of beauty treatments that were ordered for the women. For six months she was treated with oil and myrrh and for six months with perfumes and cosmetics.

<sup>13</sup>Then she was ready to go to the king. Anything she asked for was given to her to take with her from the women's quarters to the king's palace. <sup>14</sup>In the evening she would go to the king's palace, and in the morning she would return to another part of the women's quarters. There she would be placed under the care of Shaashgaz, the king's eunuch in charge of the slave women. The girl would not go back to the king again unless he was pleased with her and asked for her by name.

<sup>15</sup>The time came for Esther daughter of Abihail, Mordecai's uncle, who had been adopted by Mordecai, to go to the king. She asked for only what Hegai suggested she should take. (Hegai was the king's eunuch who was in charge of the women.) Everyone who saw Esther liked her. <sup>16</sup>So Esther was taken to King Xerxes in the royal palace in the tenth month, the month of Tebeth, during Xerxes' seventh year as king.

<sup>17</sup>And the king was pleased with Esther more than with any of the other girls. He liked her more than any of the other girls, so he put a royal crown on her head and made her queen in place of Vashti.<sup>18</sup> Then the king gave a great banquet for Esther and invited all his important men and royal officers. He announced a holiday for all the empire and had the government give away gifts.

Mordecai Discovers an Evil Plan

<sup>19</sup>Now Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate when the girls were gathered the second time.<sup>20</sup> Esther still had not told anyone about her family or who her people were, just as Mordecai had commanded her. She obeyed Mordecai just as she had done when she was under his care.

<sup>21</sup>Now Bigthana and Teresh were two of the king's officers who guarded the doorway. While Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate, they became angry and began to make plans to kill King Xerxes.<sup>22</sup> But Mordecai found out about their plans and told Queen Esther. Then Esther told the king how Mordecai had discovered the evil plan.<sup>23</sup> When the report was investigated, it was found to be true, and the two officers who had planned to kill the king were hanged. All this was written down in the daily court record in the king's presence.

Life Lessons

Esther 3:1–4:17

Situation

Haman conspired to destroy all the Jews. Mordecai learned of Haman's plot and urged Esther to intercede on behalf of the Jews.

Observation

Esther resolved to carry out the wishes of Mordecai and go to the king even if it meant her death.

Inspiration

When Jesus told the story of the missing sheep, some of the people who were listening wiped away a tear because they knew how it feels to be lost among the crowd. Jesus wanted us to understand that we have a Father who sees and cares for each one of his children—that we are all equally valuable to him.

No one is useless to God. No one, at any point in his life, is useless to God—not a little child, not the unattractive, not the clumsy, not the tired, not the discouraged. God uses his children.

Our value is inherent—it's not based on the Ph.D. after our name or the amount of money in our bank account. We have value simply because we are. In the eyes of God, every human has value simply because he is the creation of the almighty God.

You belong to God's eternal dream. Now you may not feel motivated, you may not feel like you have a reason for living, but you must renew your mind with the immovable fact that you are part of a commissioned people—you have a reason to be alive.

There is an eternal purpose. There is a great river of God's purpose that is moving toward an eternal home with him. You can't stop God's purpose. God's purpose is greater than you are, and if you are God's child, nothing is going to slow down God's purpose for your life. (From The Inspirational Bible, "You Are Worthwhile")

Haman Plans to Destroy the Jewish People

After these things happened, King Xerxes honored Haman son of Hammedatha the Agagite. He gave him a new rank that was higher than all the important men.<sup>2</sup>All the royal officers at the king's gate would bow down and kneel before Haman, as the king had ordered. But Mordecai would not bow down or show him honor.

<sup>3</sup>Then the royal officers at the king's gate asked Mordecai, "Why don't you obey the king's command?"<sup>4</sup>And they said this to him every day. When he did not listen to them, they told Haman about it. They wanted to see if Haman would accept Mordecai's behavior because Mordecai had told them he was Jewish.

<sup>5</sup>When Haman saw that Mordecai would not bow down to him or honor him, he became very angry.<sup>6</sup>He thought of himself as too important to try to kill only Mordecai. He had been told who the people of Mordecai were, so he looked for a way to destroy all of Mordecai's people, the Jews, in all of Xerxes' kingdom.

<sup>7</sup>It was in the first month of the twelfth year of King Xerxes' rule—the month of Nisan. Pur (that is, the lot) was thrown before Haman to choose a day and a month. So the twelfth month, the month of Adar, was chosen.

<sup>8</sup>Then Haman said to King Xerxes, “There is a certain group of people scattered among the other people in all the states of your kingdom. Their customs are different from those of all the other people, and they do not obey the king’s laws. It is not right for you to allow them to continue living in your kingdom. <sup>9</sup>If it pleases the king, let an order be given to destroy those people. Then I will pay seven hundred fifty thousand pounds of silver to those who do the king’s business, and they will put it into the royal treasury.”

<sup>10</sup>So the king took his signet ring off and gave it to Haman son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the enemy of the Jewish people. <sup>11</sup>Then the king said to Haman, “The money and the people are yours. Do with them as you please.”

<sup>12</sup>On the thirteenth day of the first month, the royal secretaries were called, and they wrote out all of Haman’s orders. They wrote to the king’s governors and to the captains of the soldiers in each state and to the important men of each group of people. The orders were written in the writing of each state and in the language of each people. They were written in the name of King Xerxes and sealed with his signet ring.

<sup>13</sup>Letters were sent by messengers to all the king’s empire ordering them to destroy, kill, and completely wipe out all the Jewish people. That meant young and old, women and little children, too. It was to happen on a single day—the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which was Adar. And they could take everything the Jewish people owned. <sup>14</sup>A copy of the order was given out as a law in every state so all the people would be ready for that day.

as soon as the order was given in the palace at Susa. The king and Haman sat down to drink, but the city of Susa was in confusion.

Mordecai Asks Esther to Help

When Mordecai heard about all that had been done, he tore his clothes, put on rough cloth and ashes, and went out into the city crying loudly and painfully. <sup>2</sup>But Mordecai went only as far as the king's gate, because no one was allowed to enter that gate dressed in rough cloth. <sup>3</sup>As the king's order reached every area, there was great sadness and loud crying among the Jewish people. They gave up eating and cried out loud, and many of them lay down on rough cloth and ashes to show how sad they were.

<sup>4</sup>When Esther's servant girls and eunuchs came to her and told her about Mordecai, she was very upset and afraid. She sent clothes for Mordecai to put on instead of the rough cloth, but he would not wear them. <sup>5</sup>Then Esther called for Hathach, one of the king's eunuchs chosen by the king to serve her. Esther ordered him to find out what was bothering Mordecai and why.

<sup>6</sup>So Hathach went to Mordecai, who was in the city square in front of the king's gate. <sup>7</sup>Mordecai told Hathach everything that had happened to him, and he told Hathach about the amount of money Haman had promised to pay into the king's treasury for the killing of the Jewish people. <sup>8</sup>Mordecai also gave him a copy of the order to kill the Jewish people, which had been given in Susa. He wanted Hathach to show it to Esther and to tell her about it. And Mordecai told him to order Esther to go into the king's presence to beg for mercy and to plead with him for her people.

Mordecai had said.<sup>10</sup> Then Esther told Hathach to tell Mordecai,<sup>11</sup> “All the royal officers and people of the royal states know that no man or woman may go to the king in the inner courtyard without being called. There is only one law about this: Anyone who enters must be put to death unless the king holds out his gold scepter. Then that person may live. And I have not been called to go to the king for thirty days.”

<sup>12</sup>Esther’s message was given to Mordecai.<sup>13</sup> Then Mordecai sent back word to Esther: “Just because you live in the king’s palace, don’t think that out of all the Jewish people you alone will escape.<sup>14</sup> If you keep quiet at this time, someone else will help and save the Jewish people, but you and your father’s family will all die. And who knows, you may have been chosen queen for just such a time as this.”

<sup>15</sup>Then Esther sent this answer to Mordecai:<sup>16</sup> “Go and get all the Jewish people in Susa together. For my sake, give up eating; do not eat or drink for three days, night and day. I and my servant girls will also give up eating. Then I will go to the king, even though it is against the law, and if I die, I die.”

<sup>17</sup>So Mordecai went away and did everything Esther had told him to do.

Esther 5:1–6:14

Situation

Esther gained an audience with King Xerxes, but delayed her request. Meanwhile, Haman unwittingly orchestrated his own death.

Observation

Esther's discretion contrasted with Haman's reckless conceit.

Inspiration

We must realize that the battle for self-control is fought primarily within our own minds; it is a battle with our passions, thoughts, and desires. In those areas where we have failed to curb our appetites and emotions, we seem to have invisible antennae sensitively attuned to the corresponding temptations. The proverbial “chip on his shoulder” describes the person whose antennae is constantly searching for the minor incident that he can magnify into an occasion for losing his temper. The person who habitually yields to some bodily appetite or lust is constantly alert for opportunities to indulge that carnal desire. We must learn to say no to those passions when they first enter our minds.

Above all, we must pray for the inner strength of will necessary to curb our passions and desires. It is God who works in us to will and to act. Our own particular areas of vulnerability must be made the subject of earnest, beseeching prayer for God's grace to work in our wills. At the same time we must realize that the will is strengthened by obedience. The more we say no to sinful desires, the more we will be able to say no. But to experience this, we must persevere through many failures. A large part of learning self-control is breaking bad habits and replacing them with good ones. . . .

As we grow in the grace of self-control, we will experience the liberation of those who, under the guidance and grace of the Holy Spirit, are freed from the shackles of self-indulgence and are brought into the freedom of true spiritual discipline. ## Esther Speaks to the King

On the third day Esther put on her royal robes and stood in the inner courtyard of the king's palace, facing the king's hall. The king was sitting on his royal throne in the hall, facing the doorway. <sup>2</sup>When the king saw Queen Esther standing in the courtyard, he was pleased. He held out to her the gold scepter that was in his hand, so Esther went forward and touched the end of it.

<sup>3</sup>The king asked, "What is it, Queen Esther? What do you want to ask me? I will give you as much as half of my kingdom."

<sup>4</sup>Esther answered, "My king, if it pleases you, come today with Haman to a banquet that I have prepared for him."

So the king and Haman went to the banquet Esther had prepared for them. <sup>6</sup>As they were drinking wine, the king said to Esther, "Now, what are you asking for? I will give it to you. What is it you want? I will give you as much as half of my kingdom."

<sup>7</sup>Esther answered, "This is what I want and what I ask for. <sup>8</sup>My king, if you are pleased with me and if it pleases you, give me what I ask for and do what I want. Come with Haman tomorrow to the banquet I will prepare for you. Then I will answer your question about what I want."

Haman's Plans Against Mordecai

Then Haman called together his friends and his wife, Zeresh. <sup>11</sup>He told them how wealthy he was and how many sons he had. He also told them all the ways the king had honored him and how the king had placed him higher than his important men and his royal officers. <sup>12</sup>He also said, "I'm the only person Queen Esther invited to come with the king to the banquet she gave. And tomorrow also the queen has asked me to be her guest with the king. <sup>13</sup>But all this does not really make me happy when I see that Jew Mordecai sitting at the king's gate."

<sup>14</sup>Then Haman's wife, Zeresh, and all his friends said, "Have a seventy-five foot platform built, and in the morning ask the king to have Mordecai hanged on it. Then go to the banquet with the king and be happy." Haman liked this suggestion, so he ordered the platform to be built.

Mordecai Is Honored

That same night the king could not sleep. So he gave an order for the daily court record to be brought in and read to him.<sup>2</sup> It was found recorded that Mordecai had warned the king about Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king's officers who guarded the doorway and who had planned to kill the king.

<sup>3</sup>The king asked, "What honor and reward have been given to Mordecai for this?"

The king's personal servants answered, "Nothing has been done for Mordecai."

<sup>4</sup>The king said, "Who is in the courtyard?" Now Haman had just entered the outer court of the king's palace. He had come to ask the king about hanging Mordecai on the platform he had prepared.

The king said, "Bring him in."

<sup>6</sup>So Haman came in. And the king asked him, "What should be done for a man whom the king wants very much to honor?"

And Haman thought to himself, "Whom would the king want to honor more than me?" <sup>7</sup>So he answered the king, "This is what you could do for the man you want very much to honor. <sup>8</sup>Have the servants bring a royal robe that the king himself has worn. And also bring a horse with a royal crown on its head, a horse that the king himself has ridden. <sup>9</sup>Let the robe and the horse be given to one of the king's most important men. Let the servants put the robe on the man the king wants to honor, and let them lead him on the horse through the city streets. As they are leading him, let them announce: “This is what is done for the man whom the king wants to honor!”

<sup>11</sup>So Haman took the robe and the horse, and he put the robe on Mordecai. Then he led him on horseback through the city streets, announcing before Mordecai: “This is what is done for the man whom the king wants to honor!”

<sup>12</sup>Then Mordecai returned to the king’s gate, but Haman hurried home with his head covered, because he was embarrassed and ashamed. <sup>13</sup>He told his wife, Zeresh, and all his friends everything that had happened to him.

Haman’s wife and the men who gave him advice said, “You are starting to lose power to Mordecai. Since he is a Jew, you cannot win against him. You will surely be ruined.” <sup>14</sup>While they were still talking, the king’s eunuchs came to Haman’s house and made him hurry to the banquet Esther had prepared.

Life Lessons

Esther 7:1-8:17

Situation

Esther asked that her people be allowed to live. King Xerxes granted her request and had Haman hanged. The Jews were rescued.

Observation

God used individual people and governments to enact his will.

Inspiration

In our “bootstrap” society, where you tough it up and do it on your own and take pride in being a rugged individualist, the one thing that seems to escape us is being before God on our knees, being before God aware that we are helpless, and allowing him to assist us.

Can you say to Jesus, “This burden’s too heavy for me. I want you to be my coworker. I want you to carry this burden with me. I cannot do it any longer.” He says if you will come to him, if you’ll allow him to carry that burden with you, his promise is that you will receive rest.

Surrendering our life to Christ means going to him and saying, “I’m yours; use me however you want to.” Once you’ve done this, you can begin to seek his will for your life.

Once we’re honest with ourselves about who we are, then God can begin to remold our hearts ... in total surrender. (From The Inspirational Bible,

Application

Don't get so busy securing your rights or accomplishing your agenda that you miss the opportunity to serve. Surrender your life to God so that he can use you to accomplish his goals, agenda, and will for your life.

Haman Is Hanged

So the king and Haman went in to eat with Queen Esther. <sup>2</sup>As they were drinking wine on the second day, the king asked Esther again, “What are you asking for? I will give it to you. What is it you want? I will give you as much as half of my kingdom.”

<sup>3</sup>Then Queen Esther answered, “My king, if you are pleased with me, and if it pleases you, let me live. This is what I ask. And let my people live, too. This is what I want. <sup>4</sup>My people and I have been sold to be destroyed, to be killed and completely wiped out. If we had been sold as male and female slaves, I would have kept quiet, because that would not be enough of a problem to bother the king.”

<sup>5</sup>Then King Xerxes asked Queen Esther, “Who is he, and where is he? Who has done such a thing?”

Then Haman was filled with terror before the king and queen. <sup>7</sup>The king was very angry, so he got up, left his wine, and went out into the palace garden. But Haman stayed inside to beg Queen Esther to save his life. He could see that the king had already decided to kill him.

<sup>8</sup>When the king returned from the palace garden to the banquet hall, he saw Haman falling on the couch where Esther was lying. The king said, “Will he even attack the queen while I am in the house?”

As soon as the king said that, servants came in and covered Haman’s face. <sup>9</sup>Harbona, one of the eunuchs there serving the king, said, “Look, a seventy-five foot platform stands near Haman’s house. This is the one Haman had prepared for Mordecai, who gave the warning that saved the king.”

The king said, “Hang Haman on it!” <sup>10</sup>So they hanged Haman on the platform he had prepared for Mordecai. Then the king was not so angry anymore.

The King Helps the Jewish People

That same day King Xerxes gave Queen Esther everything Haman, the enemy of the Jewish people, had left when he died. And Mordecai came in to see the king, because Esther had told the king how he was related to her. <sup>2</sup>Then the king took off his signet ring that he had taken back from Haman, and he gave it to Mordecai. Esther put Mordecai in charge of everything Haman left when he died.

<sup>3</sup>Once again Esther spoke to the king. She fell at the king's feet and cried and begged him to stop the evil plan that Haman the Agagite had planned against the Jews. <sup>4</sup>The king held out the gold scepter to Esther. So Esther got up and stood in front of him.

<sup>5</sup>She said, "My king, if you are pleased with me, and if it pleases you to do this, if you think it is the right thing to do, and if you are happy with me, let an order be written to cancel the letters Haman wrote. Haman the Agagite sent messages to destroy all the Jewish people in all of your kingdom. <sup>6</sup>I could not stand to see that terrible thing happen to my people. I could not stand to see my family killed."

<sup>7</sup>King Xerxes answered Queen Esther and Mordecai the Jew, "Because Haman was against the Jewish people, I have given his things to Esther, and my soldiers have hanged him. <sup>8</sup>Now, in the king's name, write another order to the Jewish people as it seems best to you. Then seal the order with the king's signet ring, because no letter written in the king's name and sealed with his signet ring can be canceled."

<sup>9</sup>At that time the king's secretaries were called. This was the twenty-third day of the third month, which is Sivan. The secretaries wrote out all of Mordecai's orders to the Jews, to the governors, to the captains of the soldiers in each state, and to the important men of the one hundred twenty-seven states that reached from India to Cush. They wrote in the writing of each state and in the language of each people. They also wrote to the Jewish people in their own writing and language. <sup>10</sup>Mordecai wrote orders in the name of King Xerxes and sealed the letters with the king's signet ring. Then he sent the king's orders by messengers on fast horses, horses that were raised just for the king.

<sup>11</sup>These were the king's orders: The Jewish people in every city have the right to gather together to protect themselves. They may destroy, kill, and completely wipe out the army of any state or people who attack them. And they are to do the same to the women and children of that army. They may also take by force the property of their enemies. <sup>12</sup>The one day set for the Jewish people to do this in all the empire of King Xerxes was the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, the month of Adar. <sup>13</sup>A copy of the king's order was to be sent out as a law in every state. It was to be made known to the people of every nation living in the kingdom so the Jewish people would be ready on that set day to strike back at their enemies.

<sup>14</sup>The messengers hurried out, riding on the royal horses, because the king commanded those messengers to hurry. And the order was also given in the palace at Susa.

<sup>15</sup>Mordecai left the king's presence wearing royal clothes of blue and white and a large gold crown. He also had a purple robe made of the best linen. And the people of Susa shouted for joy. <sup>16</sup>It was a time of happiness, joy, gladness, and honor for the Jewish people. <sup>17</sup>As the king's order went to every state and city, there was joy and gladness among the Jewish people. In every state and city to which the king's order went, they were having feasts and celebrating. And many people through all the empire became Jews, because they were afraid of the Jewish people.

Esther 9:1-10:3

Situation

Israel defeated its enemies and initiated the feast of Purim to commemorate its deliverance.

Observation

God is always faithful to his people.

Inspiration

Upon God's faithfulness rests our whole hope of future blessedness. Only as He is faithful will His covenants stand and His promises be honored. Only as we have complete assurance that He is faithful may we live in peace and look forward with assurance to the life to come.

Every heart can make its own application of this truth and draw from it such conclusions as the truth suggests and its own needs bring into focus. The tempted, the anxious, the fearful, the discouraged may all find new hope and good cheer in the knowledge that our Heavenly Father is faithful. He will ever be true to His pledged word. The hard-pressed sons of the covenant may be sure that He will never remove His lovingkindness from them nor suffer His faithfulness to fail.

Happy the man whose hopes rely On Israel's God; He made the sky,
And earth, and seas, with all their train;
His truth forever stands secure;
He saves the oppressed, He feeds the poor,

And none shall find His promise vain.

Victory for the Jewish People

The order the king had commanded was to be done on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, the month of Adar. That was the day the enemies of the Jewish people had hoped to defeat them, but that was changed. So the Jewish people themselves defeated those who hated them.<sup>2</sup>The Jews met in their cities in all the empire of King Xerxes in order to attack those who wanted to harm them. No one was strong enough to fight against them, because all the other people living in the empire were afraid of them.<sup>3</sup>All the important men of the states, the governors, captains of the soldiers, and the king's officers helped the Jewish people, because they were afraid of Mordecai.<sup>4</sup>Mordecai was very important in the king's palace. He was famous in all the empire, because he was becoming a leader of more and more people.

Jewish people have killed and destroyed five hundred people in the palace at Susa, and they have also killed Haman's ten sons. What have they done in the rest of the king's empire! Now what else are you asking? I will do it! What else do you want? It will be done!"

<sup>13</sup>Esther answered, "If it pleases the king, give the Jewish people who are in Susa permission to do again tomorrow what the king ordered for today. And let the bodies of Haman's ten sons be hanged on the platform."

<sup>14</sup>So the king ordered that it be done. A law was given in Susa, and the bodies of the ten sons of Haman were hanged.

<sup>15</sup>The Jewish people in Susa came together on the fourteenth day of the month of Adar. They killed three hundred people in Susa, but they did not take their belongings.

<sup>16</sup>At that same time, all the Jewish people in the king's empire also met to protect themselves and get rid of their enemies. They killed seventy-five thousand of those who hated them, but they did not take their belongings. <sup>17</sup>This happened on the thirteenth day of the month of Adar. On the fourteenth day they rested and made it a day of joyful feasting.

The Feast of Purim

<sup>18</sup>But the Jewish people in Susa met on the thirteenth and fourteenth days of the month of Adar. Then they rested on the fifteenth day and made it a day of joyful feasting.

<sup>19</sup>This is why the Jewish people who live in the country and small villages celebrate on the fourteenth day of the month of Adar. It is a day of joyful feasting and a day for exchanging gifts.

<sup>23</sup>So the Jewish people agreed to do what Mordecai had written to them, and they agreed to hold the celebration every year. <sup>24</sup>Haman son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, was the enemy of all the Jewish people. He had made an evil plan against the Jewish people to destroy them, and he had thrown the Pur (that is, the lot) to choose a day to ruin and destroy them. <sup>25</sup>But when the king learned of the evil plan, he sent out written orders that the evil plans Haman had made against the Jewish people would be used against him. And those orders said that Haman and his sons should be hanged on the platform. <sup>26</sup>So these days were called Purim, which comes from the word “Pur” (the lot). Because of everything written in this letter and what they had seen and what happened to them, <sup>27</sup>the Jewish people set up this custom. They and their descendants and all those who join them are always to celebrate these two days every year. They should do it in the right way and at the time Mordecai had ordered them in the letter. <sup>28</sup>These two days should be remembered and celebrated from now on in every family, in every state, and in every city. These days of Purim should always be celebrated by the Jewish people, and their descendants should always remember to celebrate them, too.

<sup>29</sup>So Queen Esther daughter of Abihail, along with Mordecai the Jew, wrote this second letter about Purim. Using the power they had, they wrote to prove the first letter was true. <sup>30</sup>And Mordecai sent letters to all the Jewish people in the one hundred twenty-seven states of the kingdom of Xerxes, writing them a message of peace and truth. <sup>31</sup>He wrote to set up these days of Purim at the chosen times. Mordecai the Jew and Queen Esther had sent out the order for the Jewish people, just as they had set up things for themselves and their descendants: On these two days the people should give up eating and cry loudly. <sup>32</sup>Esther's letter set up the rules for Purim, and they were written down in the records.

The Greatness of Mordecai

King Xerxes demanded taxes everywhere, even from the cities on the seacoast.<sup>2</sup> And all the great things Xerxes did by his power and strength are written in the record books of the kings of Media and Persia. Also written in those record books are all the things done by Mordecai, whom the king made great.<sup>3</sup> Mordecai the Jew was second in importance to King Xerxes, and he was the most important man among the Jewish people. His fellow Jews respected him very much, because he worked for the good of his people and spoke up for the safety of all the Jewish people.

The Book of Job

Introduction

It's easy to thank God when he does what we want. But God doesn't always do what we want. Ask Job.

His empire collapsed, his children were killed, and what was a healthy body became a rage of boils. From whence came this torrent? From whence will come any help?

Not from his wife. You can't blame her for telling Job to curse God. But to curse God and die?

Then come his friends. They mean well, but they comfort poorly. They tell him he must have been pretty bad to get it so bad.

"With friends like you guys ...," Job says and then tells them to take their theology back to the dime store where they bought it. Getting no comfort from family or friend, he goes straight to God and pleads his case. His head hurts. His body hurts. His heart hurts. And he can't tolerate any more half-baked answers. "Why is this happening to me?" he demands.

And God answers. Not with answers but with questions. An ocean of questions. Space doesn't permit their listing, but one or two will convey the point. "Can you shout an order to the clouds and cover yourself with a flood of water? Can you send lightning bolts on their way? Do they come to you and say, 'Here we are'?" (38:34-35).

After several dozen of these, Job is left on the beach drenched and wide-eyed, knowing he will never argue with the ocean again. He lifts his hand and cries, "Enough." He has gotten the point. What is it?

God owes no one anything. No reasons. No explanations. Nothing. If he gave them, we couldn't understand them.

Which makes the conclusion of the book all the more moving. Even though God owed Job nothing, he gave him everything. New health, new business, new family. And most of all, new insight.

God is God. He knows what he is doing. When you can't trace his hand, trust his heart.

About This Book

Author:

Unknown, some say Job, some say Moses

Date Written:

Unknown

Key Themes:

-
- Satan accused Job of having faith only because his life was easy so God let Satan attack Job.
- Job lost everything, yet did not curse God.
- Job's friends tried to reason out why such misfortune had fallen on him, assuming it must be something Job had done.
- In the end, Job acknowledged God's wisdom and discretion as he had at the beginning.

Key Verse:

“Even if God kills me, I have hope in him; I will still defend my ways to his face” (Job 13:15).

Contents:

1. Background and Prologue 1:1–2:13
2. Speeches of Job, His Friends, and God 3:1–42:6
3. Job's Life Restored 42:7–17

Life Lessons

Job 1:1–2:13

Situation

Satan hoped to convince God that Job was righteous only because of his comfortable life. God allowed Satan to bring disaster upon Job, but Job stayed loyal to God.

Observation

Suffering, of course, is one of the great subjects of this book. However, it also shows how a righteous man needed to repent.

Inspiration

Folks, if you're expecting to be given a fair shake in your life, forget it! You won't be. You're going to face illness. And your body is going to wear out. You may be the victim of someone else's mistake. But you can get through those tough times if you prepare your heart now, living to know and serve the Savior who loves you and died so that you might have an eternal home free of pain and sorrow.

The struggles that you're going through now—don't discard them. Listen to God as he teaches you so that you can teach others. You see, a time of suffering teaches us something we never knew before and may prepare us for a time of counsel that we will give someone years from now.

God is with you. God is with you! The same God that guided his Son through death and back to life said he will never leave us or forsake us. He is right there with you, perhaps even more in times of crisis than any other time. (From The Inspirational Bible, “Suffering”)

Application

Trying to avoid suffering in this life is like trying to avoid breathing. It can't be done. As a matter of fact, the Bible says that those who desire to live a godly lifestyle will suffer. Ask God how your suffering can bring you closer to him. Then thank him that he is a good God no matter what you're going through.

Exploration

Job, the Good Man

A man named Job lived in the land of Uz. He was an honest and innocent man; he honored God and stayed away from evil.<sup>2</sup> Job had seven sons and three daughters.<sup>3</sup> He owned seven thousand sheep, three thousand camels, five hundred teams of oxen, and five hundred female donkeys. He also had a large number of servants. He was the greatest man among all the people of the East.

<sup>4</sup>Job's sons took turns holding feasts in their homes and invited their sisters to eat and drink with them.<sup>5</sup> After a feast was over, Job would send and have them made clean. Early in the morning Job would offer a burnt offering for each of them, because he thought, "My children may have sinned and cursed God in their hearts." Job did this every time.

Satan Appears Before the Lord

<sup>6</sup>One day the angels came to show themselves before the Lord, and Satan was with them.<sup>7</sup> The Lord said to Satan, "Where have you come from?"

Satan answered the Lord, "I have been wandering around the earth, going back and forth in it."

<sup>8</sup>Then the Lord said to Satan, "Have you noticed my servant Job? No one else on earth is like him. He is an honest and innocent man, honoring God and staying away from evil.”

<sup>12</sup>The Lord said to Satan, “All right, then. Everything Job has is in your power, but you must not touch Job himself.” Then Satan left the Lord’s presence.

<sup>13</sup>One day Job’s sons and daughters were eating and drinking wine together at the oldest brother’s house. <sup>14</sup>A messenger came to Job and said, “The oxen were plowing and the donkeys were eating grass nearby, <sup>15</sup>when the Sabceans attacked and carried them away. They killed the servants with swords, and I am the only one who escaped to tell you!”

<sup>16</sup>The messenger was still speaking when another messenger arrived and said, “Lightning from God fell from the sky. It burned up the sheep and the servants, and I am the only one who escaped to tell you!”

<sup>17</sup>The second messenger was still speaking when another messenger arrived and said, “The Babylonians sent three groups of attackers that swept down and stole your camels and killed the servants. I am the only one who escaped to tell you!”

<sup>18</sup>The third messenger was still speaking when another messenger arrived and said, “Your sons and daughters were eating and drinking wine together at the oldest brother’s house. <sup>19</sup>Suddenly a great wind came from the desert, hitting all four corners of the house at once. The house fell in on the young people, and they are all dead. I am the only one who escaped to tell you!”

<sup>20</sup>When Job heard this, he got up and tore his robe and shaved his head to show how sad he was. Then he bowed down to the ground to worship God. <sup>21</sup>He said:

“I was naked when I was born,
and I will be naked when I die.
The Lord gave these things to me,
and he has taken them away.
Praise the name of the Lord.”

<sup>22</sup>In all this Job did not sin or blame God.

Satan Appears Before the Lord Again

On another day the angels came to show themselves before the Lord, and Satan was with them again. <sup>2</sup>The Lord said to Satan, “Where have you come from?”

Satan answered the Lord, “I have been wandering around the earth, going back and forth in it.”

<sup>3</sup>Then the Lord said to Satan, “Have you noticed my servant Job? No one else on earth is like him. He is an honest and innocent man, honoring God and staying away from evil. You caused me to ruin him for no good reason, but he continues to be without blame.”

<sup>10</sup>Job answered, “You are talking like a foolish woman. Should we take only good things from God and not trouble?” In spite of all this Job did not sin in what he said.

Job's Three Friends Come to Help

<sup>11</sup>Now Job had three friends: Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite. When these friends heard about Job's troubles, they agreed to meet and visit him. They wanted to show their concern and to comfort him. <sup>12</sup>They saw Job from far away, but he looked so different they almost didn't recognize him. They began to cry loudly and tore their robes and put dirt on their heads to show how sad they were. <sup>13</sup>Then they sat on the ground with Job seven days and seven nights. No one said a word to him because they saw how much he was suffering.

Life Lessons

Job 3:1–26

Situation

His wealth, gone. Children, dead. Health, failed. Despite these disasters, Job still held firmly to his faith. Friends came to visit and exhort him. Before they spoke, Job cursed the day he was born.

Observation

No matter how powerfully troubles crush, God's hold is more powerful.

Inspiration

Once the apostle Paul directly addressed the question of disappointment with God. He told the Corinthians that, in spite of incredible hardships, he did not “lose heart”: “Though outwardly we are wasting away, yet inwardly we are being renewed day by day. For our light and momentary [!] troubles are achieving for us an eternal glory that far outweighs them all. So we fix our eyes not on what is seen, but on what is unseen. For what is seen is temporary, but what is unseen is eternal.”

Paul endured trials and died a martyr, still anticipating his reward. Job endured trials, but received a fine reward in this life. So what, exactly, can we expect from God? Perhaps the best way to view the ending in Job is to see it not as a blueprint for what will happen to us in this life, but rather as a sign of what is to come. It stands as a sweet, satisfying symbol, a solution to one man's disappointment that offers us all a foretaste of the future....

The worst mistake of all would be to conclude that God is somehow content to make a few minor adjustments to this tragic, unfair world.

Some people stake all their faith on a miracle, as if a miracle would eliminate all disappointment with God. It wouldn't! ... Miracles serve as signs pointing on to the future. They are appetizers that awaken a longing for something more, something permanent... . The good news at the end of Job and the good news of Easter at the end of the Gospels are previews of the good news described at the end of Revelation. ## Job Curses His Birth

After seven days Job cried out and cursed the day he had been born, <sup>2</sup>saying:

<sup>3</sup>“Let the day I was born be destroyed, and the night it was said, ‘A boy is born!’

<sup>4</sup>Let that day turn to darkness.

Don’t let God care about it.

Don’t let light shine on it.

<sup>5</sup>Let darkness and gloom have that day.

Let a cloud hide it.

Let thick darkness cover its light.

<sup>6</sup>Let thick darkness capture that night.

Don’t count it among the days of the year or put it in any of the months.

<sup>7</sup>Let that night be empty, with no shout of joy to be heard.

<sup>8</sup>Let those who curse days curse that day.

Let them prepare to wake up the sea monster Leviathan.

<sup>9</sup>Let that day’s morning stars never appear;
let it wait for daylight that never comes.

Don’t let it see the first light of dawn,

<sup>10</sup>because it allowed me to be born and did not hide trouble from my eyes.

<sup>11</sup>“Why didn’t I die as soon as I was born?
Why didn’t I die when I came out of the womb?
<sup>12</sup>Why did my mother’s knees receive me,
and my mother’s breasts feed me?
<sup>13</sup>If they had not been there,
I would be lying dead in peace;
I would be asleep and at rest
<sup>14</sup>with kings and wise men of the earth who built places for themselves that are now ruined.
<sup>15</sup>I would be asleep with rulers who filled their houses with gold and silver.
<sup>16</sup>Why was I not buried like a child born dead, like a baby who never saw the light of day?
<sup>17</sup>In the grave the wicked stop making trouble, and the weary workers are at rest.
<sup>18</sup>In the grave there is rest for the captives who no longer hear the shout of the slave driver.
<sup>19</sup>People great and small are in the grave,
and the slave is freed from his master.

<sup>20</sup>“Why is light given to those in misery?
Why is life given to those who are so unhappy?
<sup>21</sup>They want to die, but death does not come.
They search for death more than for hidden treasure.
<sup>22</sup>They are very happy
when they get to the grave.
<sup>23</sup>They cannot see where they are going.
God has hidden the road ahead.
<sup>24</sup>I make sad sounds as I eat;
my groans pour out like water.

<sup>25</sup>Everything I feared and dreaded has happened to me.

<sup>26</sup>I have no peace or quietness.
I have no rest, only trouble.”

Eliphaz Speaks

Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered:

<sup>2</sup>“If someone tried to speak with you, would you be upset?

I cannot keep from speaking.

<sup>3</sup>Think about the many people you have taught and the weak hands you have made strong.

<sup>4</sup>Your words have comforted those who fell, and you have strengthened those who could not stand.

<sup>5</sup>But now trouble comes to you, and you are discouraged;

trouble hits you, and you are terrified.

<sup>6</sup>You should have confidence because you respect
God;

you should have hope because you are innocent.

<sup>7</sup>“Remember that the innocent will not die;
honest people will never be destroyed.

<sup>8</sup>I have noticed that people who plow evil and plant trouble, harvest it.

<sup>9</sup>God’s breath destroys them,
and a blast of his anger kills them.

<sup>10</sup>Lions may roar and growl,
but when the teeth of a strong lion are broken,

<sup>11</sup>that lion dies of hunger.

The cubs of the mother lion are scattered.

<sup>12c</sup> A word was brought to me in secret, and my ears heard a whisper of it.

<sup>13</sup> It was during a nightmare
when people are in deep sleep.

<sup>14</sup> I was trembling with fear;
all my bones were shaking.

<sup>15</sup> A spirit glided past my face, and the hair on my body stood on end.

<sup>16</sup> The spirit stopped,
but I could not see what it was.
A shape stood before my eyes,
and I heard a quiet voice.

<sup>17</sup> It said, 'Can a human be more right than God?
Can a person be pure before his maker?

<sup>18</sup> God does not trust his angels;
he blames them for mistakes.

<sup>19</sup> So he puts even more blame on people who live in clay houses,

whose foundations are made of dust,
who can be crushed like a moth.

<sup>20</sup> Between dawn and sunset many people are broken to pieces;

without being noticed, they die and are gone forever.

<sup>21</sup> The ropes of their tents are pulled up,
and they die without wisdom.'

“Call if you want to, Job, but no one will answer you.
You can’t turn to any of the holy ones.

<sup>2</sup>Anger kills the fool,
and jealousy slays the stupid.

<sup>3</sup>I have seen a fool succeed,
but I cursed his home immediately.

<sup>4</sup>His children are far from safety and are crushed in court with no defense.

<sup>5</sup>The hungry eat his harvest,
even taking what grew among the thorns,
and thirsty people want his wealth.

<sup>6</sup>Hard times do not come up from the ground, and trouble does not grow from the earth.

<sup>7</sup>People produce trouble
as surely as sparks fly upward.

<sup>8</sup>“But if I were you, I would call on God and bring my problem before him.

<sup>9</sup>God does wonders that cannot be understood;
he does so many miracles they cannot be counted.

<sup>10</sup>He gives rain to the earth and sends water on the fields.

<sup>11</sup>He makes the humble person important and lifts the sad to places of safety.

<sup>12</sup>He ruins the plans of those who trick others
so they have no success.

<sup>13</sup>He catches the wise in their own clever traps and sweeps away the plans of those who try to trick others.

<sup>14</sup>Darkness covers them up in the daytime;
even at noon they feel around in the dark.

<sup>15</sup>God saves the needy from their lies and from the harm done by powerful people.

<sup>16</sup>So the poor have hope,
while those who are unfair are silenced.

<sup>17</sup><sup>c</sup>The one whom God corrects is happy,
so do not hate being corrected by the Almighty.

<sup>18</sup>God hurts, but he also bandages up;
he injures, but his hands also heal.

<sup>19</sup>He will save you from six troubles;
even seven troubles will not harm you.

<sup>20</sup>God will buy you back from death in times of hunger, and in battle he will save you from the sword.

<sup>21</sup>You will be protected from the tongue that strikes like a whip,
and you will not be afraid when destruction comes.

<sup>22</sup>You will laugh at destruction and hunger,
and you will not fear the wild animals,

<sup>23</sup>because you will have an agreement with the stones in the field,
and the wild animals will be at peace with you.

<sup>24</sup>You will know that your tent is safe, because you will check the things you own and find nothing missing.

<sup>25</sup>You will know that you will have many children, and your descendants will be like the grass on the earth.

<sup>26</sup>You will come to the grave with all your strength, like bundles of grain gathered at the right time.

<sup>27</sup><sup>c</sup>We have checked this, and it is true,

so hear it and decide what it means to you.”

Life Lessons

Job 4:1–7:21

Situation

Job’s friends failed to understand his situation and wrongly accused him of bringing his troubles upon himself through sin. Job defended himself against these accusations.

Observation

Be careful in your assumptions. Don’t judge too quickly, because only God knows all the details of every situation.

Inspiration

It is overpowering to think of all the knowledge of God. In our generation, we have witnessed an enormous knowledge explosion. In science, literature, philosophy, geography, history, and every other sphere, new books pour out in seemingly endless procession. Our libraries are glutted. Specialization is the name of the game. Experts are proficient in only a small field; they can never hope to cover the spectrum. But God has full knowledge of everything in heaven and on earth, and He does this knowledge out to people in thimblefuls. Whenever He does, these people are promptly acclaimed as discoverers.

But there is still so much we do not know. Though we can travel to the moon, we can’t understand how a bee can fly. Though we can transplant human hearts, we can't cure the common cold. We can conquer outer space, but we cannot conquer inner space. We can make war, but we cannot make peace. We know so much, and yet we know so little. With God there are no mysteries, no insoluble problems, no puzzles...

This attribute of God should have a profound effect on our lives. How we should honor the Lord as we muse on the infinite dimensions of His knowledge! How we should sing His praises! (From Alone in Majesty by William MacDonald)

Application

Are you knowledgeable in a certain area? Do people ask you for help, advice, or an opinion? Refuse to be proud. Use your knowledge as a gift from God for the good of others. Praise God because of this gift.

Job Answers Eliphaz

Then Job answered:

<sup>2</sup>“I wish my suffering could be weighed and my misery put on scales.

<sup>3</sup>My sadness would be heavier than the sand of the seas.

No wonder my words seem careless.

<sup>4</sup>The arrows of the Almighty are in me;
my spirit drinks in their poison;
God’s terrors are gathered against me.

<sup>5</sup>A wild donkey does not bray when it has grass to eat, and an ox is quiet when it has feed.

<sup>6</sup>Tasteless food is not eaten without salt, and there is no flavor in the white of an egg.

<sup>7</sup>I refuse to touch it;
such food makes me sick.

<sup>8</sup>“How I wish that I might have what I ask for and that God would give me what I hope for.

<sup>9</sup>How I wish God would crush me and reach out his hand to destroy me.

<sup>10</sup>Then I would have this comfort and be glad even in this unending pain, because I would know I did not reject the words of the Holy One.

<sup>11</sup>“I do not have the strength to wait.

There is nothing to hope for,
so why should I be patient?

<sup>12</sup>I do not have the strength of stone;
my flesh is not bronze.

<sup>13</sup>I have no power to help myself,
because success has been taken away from me.

<sup>14</sup>“They say, ‘A man’s friends should be kind to him when he is in trouble,
even if he stops fearing the Almighty.’”

<sup>15</sup>But my brothers cannot be counted on.
They are like streams that do not always flow, streams that sometimes run over.

<sup>16</sup>They are made dark by melting ice and rise with melting snow.

<sup>17</sup>But they stop flowing in the dry season;
they disappear when it is hot.

<sup>18</sup>Travelers turn away from their paths and go into the desert and die.

<sup>19</sup>The groups of travelers from Tema look for water, and the traders of Sheba look hopefully.

<sup>20</sup>They are upset because they had been sure;
when they arrive, they are disappointed.

<sup>21</sup>You also have been no help.
You see something terrible, and you are afraid.

<sup>22</sup>I have never said, ‘Give me a gift.
Use your wealth to pay my debt.’

Buy me back from the clutches of cruel people.’

<sup>24</sup>“Teach me, and I will be quiet.”

Show me where I have been wrong.

<sup>25</sup>Honest words are painful,
but your arguments prove nothing.

<sup>26</sup>Do you mean to correct what I say?
Will you treat the words of a troubled man as if they were only wind?

<sup>27</sup>You would even gamble for orphans and would trade away your friend.

<sup>28</sup>“But now please look at me.
I would not lie to your face.

<sup>29</sup>Change your mind; do not be unfair; think again, because my innocence is being questioned.

<sup>30</sup>What I am saying is not wicked;
I can tell the difference between right and wrong.

“People have a hard task on earth,
and their days are like those of a laborer.

<sup>2</sup>They are like a slave wishing for the evening shadows,

like a laborer waiting to be paid.

<sup>3</sup>But I am given months that are empty, and nights of misery have been given to me.

<sup>4</sup>When I lie down, I think, ‘How long until I get up?’
The night is long, and I toss until dawn.

<sup>5</sup>My body is covered with worms and scabs,
and my skin is broken and full of sores.

<sup>6</sup>“My days go by faster than a weaver’s tool,
and they come to an end without hope.

<sup>7</sup>Remember, God, that my life is only a breath.
My eyes will never see happy times again.

<sup>8</sup>Those who see me now will see me no more;
you will look for me, but I will be gone.

<sup>9</sup>As a cloud disappears and is gone, people go to the grave and never return.

<sup>10</sup>They will never come back to their houses again,
and their places will not know them anymore.

<sup>11</sup>“So I will not stay quiet;
I will speak out in the suffering of my spirit.
I will complain because I am so unhappy.

<sup>12</sup>I am not the sea or the sea monster.
So why have you set a guard over me?

<sup>13</sup>Sometimes I think my bed will comfort me or that my couch will stop my complaint.

<sup>14</sup>Then you frighten me with dreams and terrify me with visions.

<sup>15</sup>My throat prefers to be choked;
my bones welcome death.

<sup>16</sup>I hate my life; I don't want to live forever.
Leave me alone, because my days have no meaning.

<sup>17</sup>“Why do you make people so important and give them so much attention?”

<sup>18</sup>You examine them every morning and test them every moment.

<sup>19</sup>Will you never look away from me or leave me alone even long enough to swallow?

<sup>20</sup>If I have sinned, what have I done to you,
you watcher of humans?

Why have you made me your target?
Have I become a heavy load for you?

<sup>21</sup>Why don't you pardon my wrongs and forgive my sins?

I will soon lie down in the dust of death.

Then you will search for me, but I will be no more.”

Bildad Speaks to Job

Then Bildad the Shuhite answered:

<sup>2</sup>“How long will you say such things?

Your words are no more than wind.

<sup>3</sup>God does not twist justice;

the Almighty does not make wrong what is right.

<sup>4</sup>Your children sinned against God,
and he punished them for their sins.

<sup>5</sup>But you should ask God for help and pray to the Almighty for mercy.

<sup>6</sup>If you are good and honest,
he will stand up for you and bring you back where you belong.

<sup>7</sup>Where you began will seem unimportant, because your future will be so successful.

<sup>8</sup>“Ask old people;
find out what their ancestors learned,

<sup>9</sup>because we were only born yesterday and know nothing.

Our days on earth are only a shadow.

<sup>10</sup>Those people will teach you and tell you and speak about what they know.

<sup>11</sup>Papyrus plants cannot grow where there is no swamp,

and reeds cannot grow tall without water.

<sup>12</sup>While they are still growing and not yet cut,

they will dry up quicker than grass.

<sup>13</sup>That is what will happen to those who forget God;
the hope of the wicked will be gone.

<sup>14</sup>What they hope in is easily broken;
what they trust is like a spider's web.

<sup>15</sup>They lean on the spider's web, but it breaks.
They grab it, but it does not hold up.

<sup>16</sup>They are like well-watered plants in the sunshine that spread their roots all through the garden.

<sup>17</sup>They wrap their roots around a pile of rocks and look for a place among the stones.

<sup>18</sup>But if a plant is torn from its place,
then that place rejects it and says, 'I never saw you.'

<sup>19</sup>Now joy has gone away;
other plants grow up from the same dirt.

<sup>20</sup>“Surely God does not reject the innocent or give strength to those who do evil.

<sup>21</sup>God will yet fill your mouth with laughter and your lips with shouts of joy.

<sup>22</sup>Your enemies will be covered with shame, and the tents of the wicked will be gone.”

Life Lessons

Job 8:1–10:22

Situation

Bildad told Job that his children had died because they sinned against God. Bildad believed that if Job repented, God would restore his wealth.

Observation

Bildad's ignorance proved that not all advice is worth heeding. Be careful to choose counselors who can listen as well as advise.

Inspiration

Some time ago Denalyn [my wife] was gone for a couple of days and left me alone with the girls. Though the time was not without the typical children's quarrels and occasional misbehavior, it went fine.

"How were the girls?" Denalyn asked when she got home.

"Good. No problem at all."

Jenna overheard my response. "We weren't good, Daddy," she objected. "We fought once, we didn't do what you said once. We weren't good. How can you say we were good?"

Jenna and I had different perceptions of what pleases a father. She thought it depended upon what she did. It didn't. We think the same about God. We think his love rises and falls with our performance. It doesn't. I don't love Jenna for what she does. I love her for whose she is. She is mine.

God loves you for the same reason. He loves you for whose you are, you are his child. It was this love that pursued the Israelites. It was this love that sent the prophets. It was this love which wrapped itself in human flesh and descended the birth canal of Mary. It was this love which walked the hard trails of Galilee and spoke to the hard hearts of the religious.

"This is not normal, Lord God," David exclaimed

as he considered God's love. You are right, David. God's love is not normal love. It's not normal to love a murderer and adulterer, but God did when he loved David. It isn't normal to love a man who takes his eyes off you, but such was God's love for Solomon. It isn't normal to love people who love stone idols more than they love you, but God did when he refused to give up on Israel. (From And the Angels Were Silent by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you wonder if God really cares? Do you feel like he has left you to face your problems alone? Trust God to work in your life day by day. Let God be your source of security.

Job Answers Bildad

Then Job answered:

<sup>2</sup>“Yes, I know that this is true, but how can anyone be right in the presence of God?

<sup>3</sup>Someone might want to argue with God,
but no one could answer God,
not one time out of a thousand.

<sup>4</sup>God’s wisdom is deep, and his power is great;
no one can fight him without getting hurt.

<sup>5</sup>God moves mountains without anyone knowing it and turns them over when he is angry.

<sup>6</sup>He shakes the earth out of its place and makes its foundations tremble.

<sup>7</sup>He commands the sun not to shine and shuts off the light of the stars.

<sup>8</sup>He alone stretches out the skies and walks on the waves of the sea.

<sup>9</sup>It is God who made the Bear, Orion, and the Pleiades and the groups of stars in the southern sky.

<sup>10</sup>He does wonders that cannot be understood;
he does so many miracles they cannot be counted.

<sup>11</sup>When he passes me, I cannot see him;
when he goes by me, I do not recognize him.

<sup>12</sup>If he snatches something away, no one can stop him or say to him, ‘What are you doing?’

<sup>13</sup>God will not hold back his anger.

Even the helpers of the monster Rahab lie at his feet in fear.

<sup>14</sup>So how can I argue with God, or even find words to argue with him?

<sup>15</sup>Even if I were right, I could not answer him;
I could only beg God, my Judge, for mercy.

<sup>16</sup>If I called to him and he answered,
I still don't believe he would listen to me.

<sup>17</sup>He would crush me with a storm and multiply my wounds for no reason.

<sup>18</sup>He would not let me catch my breath
but would overwhelm me with misery.

<sup>19</sup>When it comes to strength, God is stronger than I;
when it comes to justice, no one can accuse him.

<sup>20</sup>Even if I were right, my own mouth would say I was wrong;
if I were innocent, my mouth would say I was guilty.

<sup>21</sup>“I am innocent, but I don't care about myself.
I hate my own life.

<sup>22</sup>It is all the same. That is why I say,
'God destroys both the innocent and the guilty.'

<sup>23</sup>If the whip brings sudden death,
God will laugh at the suffering of the innocent.

Christ Through the Bible
Jesus: Mediator Between God and Men
No one but the high priest entered the Holy of Holies. No one. To do so meant death. Two of Aaron's sons died when they entered the Holy of Holies in order to offer sacrifices to the Lord (Leviticus 16:1-2). In no uncertain terms, the curtain declared: "This far and no farther!"

What did fifteen hundred years of a curtain-draped Holy of Holies communicate? Simple. God is holy ... separate from us and unapproachable. Even Moses was told, "You cannot see my face, because no one can see me and live" (Exodus 33:20). God is holy, and we are sinners, and there is a distance between us.

Isn't this our problem? We know God is good. We know we are not, and we feel far from God. The ancient words of Job are ours, "I wish there were someone to make peace between us" (Job 9:33).

Oh, but there is! Jesus hasn't left us with an unapproachable God. Yes, God is holy. Yes, we are sinful. But, yes, yes, yes, Jesus is our mediator... Is not a mediator one who "goes between"? Wasn't Jesus the curtain between us and God? And wasn't his flesh torn?

What appeared to be the cruelty of man was actually the sovereignty of God...

We are welcome to enter into God's presence—any day, any time. God has removed the barrier that separates us from him. The barrier of sin? Down. He has removed the curtain. (From He Chose the Nails by Max Lucado)

<sup>24</sup>When the land falls into the hands of evil people, they fly away without my seeing any joy.

<sup>26</sup>They glide past like paper boats.

They attack like eagles swooping down to feed.

<sup>27</sup>Even though I say, ‘I will forget my complaint;
I will change the look on my face and smile,’

<sup>28</sup>I still dread all my suffering.

I know you will hold me guilty.

<sup>29</sup>I have already been found guilty,
so why should I struggle for no reason?

<sup>30</sup>I might wash myself with soap and scrub my hands with strong soap,

<sup>31</sup>but you would push me into a dirty pit, and even my clothes would hate me.

<sup>32</sup>“God is not a man like me, so I cannot answer him.

We cannot meet each other in court.

<sup>33</sup>I wish there were someone to make peace between us,

someone to decide our case.

<sup>34</sup>Maybe he could remove God's punishment so his terror would no longer frighten me.

<sup>35</sup>Then I could speak without being afraid, but I am not able to do that.

“I hate my life,
so I will complain without holding back;
I will speak because I am so unhappy.
<sup>2</sup>I will say to God: Do not hold me guilty, but tell me what you have against me.
<sup>3</sup>Does it make you happy to trouble me?
Don't you care about me, the work of your hands?
Are you happy with the plans of evil people?
<sup>4</sup>Do you have human eyes that see as we see?
<sup>5</sup>Are your days like the days of humans,
and your years like our years?
<sup>6</sup>You look for the evil I have done and search for my sin.
<sup>7</sup>You know I am not guilty,
but no one can save me from your power.
<sup>8</sup>“Your hands shaped and made me.
Do you now turn around and destroy me?
<sup>9</sup>Remember that you molded me like a piece of clay.
Will you now turn me back into dust?
<sup>10</sup>You formed me inside my mother like cheese formed from milk.
<sup>11</sup>You dressed me with skin and flesh;
you sewed me together with bones and muscles.
<sup>12</sup>You gave me life and showed me kindness, and in your care you watched over my life.

<sup>13</sup>“But in your heart you hid other plans.
I know this was in your mind.
<sup>14</sup>If I sinned, you would watch me and would not let my sin go unpunished.

<sup>15</sup>How terrible it will be for me if I am guilty!

Even if I am right, I cannot lift my head.

I am full of shame

and experience only pain.

<sup>16</sup>If I hold up my head, you hunt me like a lion and again show your terrible power against me.

<sup>17</sup>You bring new witnesses against me and increase your anger against me.

Your armies come against me.

<sup>18</sup>“So why did you allow me to be born?

I wish I had died before anyone saw me.

<sup>19</sup>I wish I had never lived,

but had been carried straight from birth to the grave.

Leave me alone so I can have a moment of joy.

<sup>21</sup>Soon I will leave; I will not return from the land of darkness and gloom,

<sup>22</sup>the land of darkest night,
from the land of gloom and confusion,
where even the light is darkness.”

Job 11:1–14:22

Situation

Unsympathetic, Zophar tried to convince Job that his troubles stemmed from a hidden sin. Zophar believed that God was punishing Job for this sin.

Observation

No one can claim complete understanding of God's ways.

Inspiration

Once there was an old man who lived in a tiny village. Although poor, he was envied by all, for he owned a beautiful white horse. Even the king coveted his treasure. A horse like this had never been seen before—such was its splendor, its majesty, its strength.

People offered fabulous prices for the steed, but the old man always refused. “This horse is not a horse to me,” he would tell them. “It is a person. How could you sell a person? He is a friend, not a possession. How could you sell a friend?” The man was poor and the temptation was great. But he never sold the horse.

One morning he found that the horse was not in the stable. All the village came to see him. “You old fool,” they scoffed, “we told you that someone would steal your horse. We warned you that you would be robbed. You are so poor. How could you ever hope to protect such a valuable animal? It would have been better to have sold him. You could have gotten whatever price you wanted. No amount would have been too high. Now the horse is gone, and you've been cursed with misfortune."

The old man responded, "Don't speak too quickly. Say only that the horse is not in the stable. That is all we know; the rest is judgment. If I've been cursed or not, how can you know? How can you judge?"

The people contested, "Don't make us out to be fools! We may not be philosophers, but great philosophy is not needed. The simple fact that your horse is gone is a curse."

The old man spoke again. "All I know is that the stable is empty, and the horse is gone. The rest I don't know. Whether it be a curse or a blessing, I can't say. All we can see is a fragment. Who can say what will come next?"

The people of the village laughed. They thought that the man was crazy. They had always thought he was a fool; if he wasn't, he would have sold the horse and lived off the money. But instead, he was a poor woodcutter, an old man still cutting firewood and dragging it out of the forest and selling it. He lived hand to mouth in the misery of poverty. Now he had proven that he was, indeed, a fool.

After fifteen days, the horse returned. He hadn't been stolen; he had run away into the forest. Not only had he returned, he had brought a dozen wild horses with him. Once again the village people gathered around the woodcutter and spoke. "Old man, you were right and we were wrong. What we thought was a curse was a blessing. Please forgive us.”

The man responded, “Once again, you go too far. Say only that the horse is back. State only that a dozen horses returned with him, but don’t judge. How do you know if this is a blessing or not? You see only a fragment. Unless you know the whole story, how can you judge? You read only one page of a book. Can you judge the whole book? You read only one word of a phrase. Can you understand the entire phrase?”

“Life is so vast, yet you judge all of life with one page or one word. All you have is a fragment! Don’t say that this is a blessing. No one knows. I am content with what I know. I am not perturbed by what I don’t.”

“Maybe the old man is right,” they said to one another. So they said little. But down deep, they knew he was wrong. They knew it was a blessing. Twelve wild horses had returned with one horse. With a little bit of work, the animals could be broken and trained and sold for much money.

The old man had a son, an only son. The young man began to break the wild horses. After a few days, he fell from one of the horses and broke both legs. Once again the villagers gathered around the old man and cast their judgments.

“You were right,” they said. “You proved you were right. The dozen horses were not a blessing. They were a curse. Your only son has broken his legs, and now in your old age you have no one to help you. Now you are poorer than ever.”

The old man spoke again. “You people are obsessed with judging. Don’t go so far. Say only that my son broke his legs. Who knows if it is a blessing or a curse? No one knows. We only have a fragment. Life comes in fragments.”

It so happened that a few weeks later the country engaged in war against a neighboring country. All the young men of the village were required to join the army. Only the son of the old man was excluded, because he was injured. Once again the people gathered around the old man, crying and screaming because their sons had been taken. There was little chance that they would return. The enemy was strong, and the war would be a losing struggle. They would never see their sons again.

“You were right, old man,” they wept. “God knows you were right. This proves it. Your son’s accident was a blessing. His legs may be broken, but at least he is with you. Our sons are gone forever.”

The old man spoke again. “It is impossible to talk with you. You always draw conclusions. No one knows. Say only this. Your sons had to go to war, and mine did not. No one knows if it is a blessing or a curse. No one is wise enough to know. Only God knows.” (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

When someone else suffers, ask God for wisdom to be an instrument of healing. Remember that no matter what you feel, God is always good!

Zophar Speaks to Job

Then Zophar the Naamathite answered:

<sup>2</sup>“Should these words go unanswered?
Is this talker in the right?

<sup>3</sup>Your lies do not make people quiet;
people should correct you when you make fun of God.

<sup>4</sup>You say, ‘My teachings are right, and I am clean in God’s sight.’

<sup>5</sup>I wish God would speak and open his lips against you

<sup>6</sup>and tell you the secrets of wisdom, because wisdom has two sides.

Know this: God has even forgotten some of your sin.

<sup>7</sup>“Can you understand the secrets of God?
Can you search the limits of the Almighty?

<sup>8</sup>His limits are higher than the heavens; you cannot reach them!

They are deeper than the grave; you cannot understand them!

<sup>9</sup>His limits are longer than the earth and wider than the sea.

<sup>10</sup>“If God comes along and puts you in prison or calls you into court, no one can stop him.

<sup>11</sup>God knows who is evil,
and when he sees evil, he takes note of it.

<sup>12</sup>A fool cannot become wise any more than a wild donkey can be born tame.

<sup>13</sup>“You must give your whole heart to him and hold out your hands to him for help.

<sup>14</sup>Put away the sin that is in your hand;
let no evil remain in your tent.

<sup>15</sup>Then you can lift up your face without shame, and you can stand strong without fear.

<sup>16</sup>You will forget your trouble and remember it only as water gone by.

<sup>17</sup>Your life will be as bright as the noonday sun, and darkness will seem like morning.

<sup>18</sup>You will feel safe because there is hope;
you will look around and rest in safety.

<sup>19</sup>You will lie down, and no one will scare you.
Many people will want favors from you.

<sup>20</sup>But the wicked will not be able to see,
so they will not escape.

Their only hope will be to die.”

Job Answers Zophar

Then Job answered:

<sup>2</sup>“You really think you are the only wise people and that when you die, wisdom will die with you!

<sup>3</sup>But my mind is as good as yours;
you are not better than I am.
Everyone knows all these things.

<sup>4</sup>My friends all laugh at me when I call on God and expect him to answer me;
they laugh at me even though I am right and innocent!

<sup>5</sup>Those who are comfortable don't care that others have trouble;
they think it right that those people should have troubles.

<sup>6</sup>The tents of robbers are not bothered, and those who make God angry are safe.
They have their god in their pocket.

<sup>7</sup>“But ask the animals, and they will teach you, or ask the birds of the air, and they will tell you.

<sup>8</sup>Speak to the earth, and it will teach you, or let the fish of the sea tell you.

<sup>9</sup>Every one of these knows that the hand of the Lord has done this.

<sup>10</sup>The life of every creature and the breath of all people are in God's hand.

<sup>11</sup>The ear tests words
as the tongue tastes food.

<sup>12</sup>Older people are wise,
and long life brings understanding.

<sup>13</sup>“But only God has wisdom and power, good advice and understanding.

<sup>14</sup>What he tears down cannot be rebuilt;
anyone he puts in prison cannot be let out.

<sup>15</sup>If God holds back the waters, there is no rain;
if he lets the waters go, they flood the land.

<sup>16</sup>He is strong and victorious; both the one who fools others and the one who is fooled belong to him.

<sup>17</sup>God leads the wise away as captives and turns judges into fools.

<sup>18</sup>He takes off chains that kings put on and puts a garment on their bodies.

<sup>19</sup>He leads priests away naked and destroys the powerful.

<sup>20</sup>He makes trusted people be silent and takes away the wisdom of older leaders.

<sup>21</sup>He brings disgrace on important people and takes away the weapons of the strong.

<sup>22</sup>He uncovers the deep things of darkness and brings dark shadows into the light.

<sup>23</sup>He makes nations great and then destroys them;
he makes nations large and then scatters them.

<sup>24</sup>He takes understanding away from the leaders of the earth

and makes them wander through a pathless desert.

<sup>25</sup>They feel around in darkness with no light;

he makes them stumble like drunks.

“Now my eyes have seen all this;
my ears have heard and understood it.

<sup>2</sup>What you know, I also know.

You are not better than I am.

<sup>3</sup>But I want to speak to the Almighty and to argue my case with God.

<sup>4</sup>But you smear me with lies.

You are worthless doctors, all of you!

<sup>5</sup>I wish you would just stop talking;
then you would really be wise!

<sup>6</sup>Listen to my argument, and hear the pleading of my lips.

<sup>7</sup>You should not speak evil in the name of God;
you cannot speak God’s truth by telling lies.

<sup>8</sup>You should not unfairly choose his side against mine;
you should not argue the case for God.

<sup>9</sup>You will not do well if he examines you;
you cannot fool God as you might fool humans.

<sup>10</sup>God would surely scold you if you unfairly took one person’s side.

<sup>11</sup>His bright glory would scare you,
and you would be very much afraid of him.

<sup>12</sup>Your wise sayings are worth no more than ashes, and your arguments are as weak as clay.

<sup>13</sup>“Be quiet and let me speak.

Let things happen to me as they will.

<sup>14</sup>Why should I put myself in danger and take my life in my own hands?

<sup>15</sup>Even if God kills me, I have hope in him;

I will still defend my ways to his face.

<sup>16</sup>This is my salvation.

The wicked cannot come before him.

<sup>17</sup>Listen carefully to my words;
let your ears hear what I say.

<sup>18</sup>See, I have prepared my case,
and I know I will be proved right.

<sup>19</sup>No one can accuse me of doing wrong.
If someone can, I will be quiet and die.

<sup>20</sup>“God, please just give me these two things,
and then I will not hide from you:

<sup>21</sup>Take your punishment away from me,
and stop frightening me with your terrors.

<sup>22</sup>Then call me, and I will answer, or let me speak, and you answer.

<sup>23</sup>How many evil things and sins have I done?
Show me my wrong and my sin.

<sup>24</sup>Don't hide your face from me;
don't think of me as your enemy.

<sup>25</sup>Don't punish a leaf that is blown by the wind;
don't chase after straw.

<sup>26</sup>You write down cruel things against me and make me suffer for my boyhood sins.

<sup>27</sup>You put my feet in chains and keep close watch wherever I go.
You even mark the soles of my feet.

“Everyone wears out like something rotten,
like clothing eaten by moths.

<sup>1</sup>All of us born to women live only a few days and have lots of trouble.

<sup>2</sup>We grow up like flowers and then dry up and die.
We are like a passing shadow that does not last.

<sup>3</sup>Lord, do you need to watch me like this?
Must you bring me before you to be judged?

<sup>4</sup>No one can bring something clean from something dirty.

You have given us only so many months to live and have set limits we cannot go beyond.

<sup>6</sup>So look away from us and leave us alone until we put in our time like a laborer.

<sup>7</sup>“If a tree is cut down, there is hope that it will grow again
and will send out new branches.

<sup>8</sup>Even if its roots grow old in the ground, and its stump dies in the dirt,

<sup>9</sup>at the smell of water it will bud and put out new shoots like a plant.

<sup>10</sup>But we die, and our bodies are laid in the ground;
we take our last breath and are gone.

<sup>11</sup>Water disappears from a lake,
and a river loses its water and dries up.

<sup>12</sup>In the same way, we lie down and do not rise again;
we will not get up or be awakened until the heavens disappear.

<sup>13</sup>“I wish you would hide me in the grave;
hide me until your anger is gone.

I wish you would set a time
and then remember me!

<sup>14</sup>If a person dies, will he live again?

All my days are a struggle;

I will wait until my change comes.

<sup>15</sup>You will call, and I will answer you;
you will desire the creature your hands have made.

<sup>16</sup>Then you will count my steps,
but you will not keep track of my sin.

<sup>17</sup>My wrongs will be closed up in a bag,
and you will cover up my sin.

<sup>18</sup>“A mountain washes away and crumbles;
and a rock can be moved from its place.

<sup>19</sup>Water washes over stones and wears them down, and rushing waters wash away the dirt.

In the same way, you destroy my hope.

<sup>20</sup>You defeat a person forever, and he is gone;
you change his appearance and send him away.

<sup>21</sup>His sons are honored, but he does not know it;
his sons are disgraced, but he does not see it.

<sup>22</sup>He only feels the pain of his body and feels sorry for himself.”

Life Lessons

Job 15:1–17:16

Situation

Job's four friends gave their opinions concerning the reason for his troubles. Eliphaz argued that suffering resulted from sin. Job answered, hurt and grieved by his friend's harsh words.

Observation

Suffering is never easy to understand. Because he assumed that suffering resulted from sin, Eliphaz could not comfort his friend.

Inspiration

Some people see sin in every sickness. They make their friends miserable by probing for hidden sins whenever suffering enters their lives. Although there may be truth in their questioning, it also could be a cruel response to another's time of pain. They are like Job's so-called friends who pointed out all of his wrongs. Job called them "miserable comforters." ...

It is unkind to attribute every accident, every illness and sorrow to God's punishment for wrong behavior. It is appalling how many Christians approach suffering friends with that principle. They visit first with words of comfort, and then leave a load of guilt behind ("What could you have done to deserve this?") or pious advice ("Perhaps you need to pray harder").

Suffering people can be tormented with questions of guilt; however, if all suffering is punishment for sin, then God's signals must be mixed, for accidents occur at random and disease strikes without any relationship to a person's moral or immoral lifestyle.

God's teaching does not attribute all suffering to sin or punishment for human mistakes. I have no right to tell a suffering person that it is because he sinned that his child died, or that he has cancer, or that his house burned.

In John 9, the followers of Jesus pointed to a man born blind and asked, "Who sinned, this man or his parents?" Jesus told them that neither the man nor his parents sinned, "But this happened so that the work of God might be displayed in his life." The disciples wanted to look back, to probe into the behavior of the blind man or his parents, but Jesus pointed them to the future and the hope that even suffering can be used to glorify God. (From Hope for the Troubled Heart by Billy Graham)

Eliphaz Answers Job

Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered:

<sup>2</sup>“A wise person would not answer with empty words or fill his stomach with the hot east wind.

<sup>3</sup>He would not argue with useless words or make speeches that have no value.

<sup>4</sup>But you even destroy respect for God and limit the worship of him.

<sup>5</sup>Your sin teaches your mouth what to say;
you use words to trick others.

<sup>6</sup>It is your own mouth, not mine, that shows you are wicked;
your own lips testify against you.

<sup>7</sup>“You are not the first man ever born;
you are not older than the hills.

<sup>8</sup>You did not listen in on God’s secret council.
But you limit wisdom to yourself.

<sup>9</sup>You don’t know any more than we know.
You don’t understand any more than we understand.

<sup>10</sup>Old people with gray hair are on our side;
they are even older than your father.

<sup>11</sup>Is the comfort God gives you not enough for you, even when words are spoken gently to you?

<sup>12</sup>Has your heart carried you away from God?
Why do your eyes flash with anger?

<sup>13</sup>Why do you speak out your anger against God?
Why do these words pour out of your mouth?

<sup>14</sup>“How can anyone be pure?
How can someone born to a woman be good?

<sup>15</sup>God places no trust in his holy ones, and even the heavens are not pure in his eyes.

<sup>16</sup>How much less pure is one who is terrible and rotten and drinks up evil as if it were water!

<sup>17</sup>“Listen to me, and I will tell you about it;
I will tell you what I have seen.

<sup>18</sup>These are things wise men have told;
their fathers told them, and they have hidden nothing.

<sup>19</sup>(The land was given to their fathers only,
and no foreigner lived among them.)

<sup>20</sup>The wicked suffer pain all their lives;
the cruel suffer during all the years saved up for them.

<sup>21</sup>Terrible sounds fill their ears, and when things seem to be going well, robbers attack
them.

<sup>22</sup>Evil people give up trying to escape from the darkness;
it has been decided that they will die by the sword.

<sup>23</sup>They wander around and will become food for vultures.

They know darkness will soon come.

<sup>24</sup>Worry and suffering terrify them;

they overwhelm them, like a king ready to attack, <sup>25</sup>because they shake their fists at God and try to get their own way against the Almighty.
<sup>26</sup>They stubbornly charge at God with thick, strong shields.

<sup>27</sup>“Although the faces of the wicked are thick with fat, and their bellies are fat with flesh, <sup>28</sup>they will live in towns that are ruined,
in houses where no one lives,
which are crumbling into ruins.

<sup>29</sup>The wicked will no longer get rich, and the riches they have will not last;
the things they own will no longer spread over the land.

<sup>30</sup>They will not escape the darkness.
A flame will dry up their branches;
God’s breath will carry the wicked away.

<sup>31</sup>The wicked should not fool themselves by trusting what is useless.

If they do, they will get nothing in return.

<sup>32</sup>Their branches will dry up before they finish growing and will never turn green.

<sup>33</sup>They will be like a vine whose grapes are pulled off before they are ripe,
like an olive tree that loses its blossoms.

<sup>34</sup>People without God can produce nothing.

Fire will destroy the tents of those who take money to do evil,

<sup>35</sup>who plan trouble and give birth to evil, whose hearts plan ways to trick others.”

Job Answers Eliphaz

Then Job answered:

<sup>2</sup>“I have heard many things like these.

You are all painful comforters!

<sup>3</sup>Will your long-winded speeches never end?

What makes you keep on arguing?

<sup>4</sup>I also could speak as you do if you were in my place.

I could make great speeches against you and shake my head at you.

<sup>5</sup>But, instead, I would encourage you, and my words would bring you relief.

<sup>6</sup>“Even if I speak, my pain is not less,

and if I don’t speak, it still does not go away.

<sup>7</sup>God, you have surely taken away my strength and destroyed my whole family.

<sup>8</sup>You have made me thin and weak, and this shows I have done wrong.

<sup>9</sup>God attacks me and tears me with anger;

he grinds his teeth at me;

my enemy stares at me with his angry eyes.

<sup>10</sup>People open their mouths to make fun of me and hit my cheeks to insult me.

They join together against me.

<sup>11</sup>God has turned me over to evil people and has handed me over to the wicked.

<sup>12</sup>Everything was fine with me,
but God broke me into pieces;
he held me by the neck and crushed me.

He has made me his target;

<sup>13</sup>his archers surround me.

He stabs my kidneys without mercy;
he spills my blood on the ground.

<sup>14</sup>Again and again God attacks me;
he runs at me like a soldier.

<sup>15</sup>“I have sewed rough cloth over my skin to show my sadness

and have buried my face in the dust.

<sup>16</sup>My face is red from crying;

I have dark circles around my eyes.

<sup>17</sup>Yet my hands have never done anything cruel, and my prayer is pure.

<sup>18</sup>“Earth, please do not cover up my blood.
Don’t let my cry ever stop being heard!

<sup>19</sup>Even now I have one who speaks for me in heaven;
the one who is on my side is high above.

<sup>20</sup>The one who speaks for me is my friend.

My eyes pour out tears to God.

<sup>21</sup>He begs God on behalf of a human as a person begs for his friend.

<sup>22</sup>“Only a few years will pass before I go on the journey of no return.

My spirit is broken;
the days of my life are almost gone.
The grave is waiting for me.

<sup>2</sup>Those who laugh at me surround me;
I watch them insult me.

<sup>3</sup>“God, make me a promise.
No one will make a pledge for me.

<sup>4</sup>You have closed their minds to understanding.
Do not let them win over me.

<sup>5</sup>A person might speak against his friends for money,
but if he does, the eyes of his children go blind.

<sup>6</sup>“God has made my name a curse word;
people spit in my face.

<sup>7</sup>My sight has grown weak because of my sadness, and my body is as thin as a shadow.

<sup>8</sup>Honest people are upset about this;
innocent people are upset with those who do wrong.

<sup>9</sup>But those who do right will continue to do right, and those whose hands are not dirty with sin will grow stronger.

<sup>10</sup>“But, all of you, come and try again!
I do not find a wise person among you.

<sup>11</sup>My days are gone, and my plans have been destroyed,
along with the desires of my heart.

<sup>12</sup>These men think night is day;
when it is dark, they say, ‘Light is near.’

<sup>13</sup>If the only home I hope for is the grave, if I spread out my bed in darkness,

<sup>14</sup>if I say to the grave, 'You are my father,' and to the worm, 'You are my mother' or 'You are my sister,'

<sup>15</sup>where, then, is my hope?

Who can see any hope for me?

<sup>16</sup>Will hope go down to the gates of death?

Will we go down together into the dust?"

Bildad Answers Job

Then Bildad the Shuhite answered:

<sup>2</sup>“When will you stop these speeches?

Be sensible, and then we can talk.

<sup>3</sup>You think of us as cattle,

as if we are stupid.

<sup>4</sup>You tear yourself to pieces in your anger.

Should the earth be vacant just for you?

Should the rocks move from their places?

<sup>5</sup>“The lamp of the wicked will be put out, and the flame in their lamps will stop burning.

<sup>6</sup>The light in their tents will grow dark,
and the lamps by their sides will go out.

<sup>7</sup>Their strong steps will grow weak;
they will fall into their own evil traps.

<sup>8</sup>Their feet will be caught in a net
when they walk into its web.

<sup>9</sup>A trap will catch them by the heel and hold them tight.

<sup>10</sup>A trap for them is hidden on the ground,

<sup>11</sup>Terrible things startle them from every side and chase them at every step.

<sup>12</sup>Hunger takes away their strength, and disaster is at their side.

<sup>13</sup>Disease eats away parts of their skin;

death gnaws at their arms and legs.

<sup>14</sup>They are torn from the safety of their tents and dragged off to Death, the King of Terrors.

<sup>15</sup>Their tents are set on fire,
and sulfur is scattered over their homes.

<sup>16</sup>Their roots dry up below ground,
and their branches die above ground.

<sup>17</sup>People on earth will not remember them;
their names will be forgotten in the land.

<sup>18</sup>They will be driven from light into darkness and chased out of the world.

<sup>19</sup>They have no children or descendants among their people,

and no one will be left alive where they once lived.

<sup>20</sup>People of the west will be shocked at what has happened to them,

and people of the east will be very frightened.

<sup>21</sup>Surely this is what will happen to the wicked;
such is the place of one who does not know God.”

Life Lessons

Job 18:1–19:29

Situation

Because Job rejected his advice, Bildad grew frustrated. In an effort to convince Job, he told of the horrible fate of sinners. Job firmly believed that in the end God would vindicate him because of his innocence.

Observation

Job listened to Bildad, even though he knew Bildad was incorrect. Only when Bildad was finished speaking did Job answer.

Inspiration

Let me introduce you to several kinds of people who express various forms of destructive criticism. First are the blamers. They avoid accepting responsibility for their actions by criticizing other people or blaming past experiences which cannot be changed or undone....

Another negative critic is the hurtful joker. Humor is a positive method of relating to others... . But hurtful jokers make others the butt of their humor. They specialize in laughing at people instead of laughing with them....

A third kind of critic is the fault-finder. This person seems to have an insatiable need to point out others' defects... . And do you know what is so maddening about this person? He usually does what he does with a smile, saying, "I'm just trying to be helpful." ...

Another kind of critic at large in the world today is the cannibal. These people don't criticize in a joking manner or settle for mere nitpicking. They go for the jugular... . They attack through the most severe forms of personal criticism and put downs with complete disregard for the feelings of others....

Destructive critics may say they are only interested in remodeling you into a better person by sharing a little constructive criticism. But in reality,

[these] critics ... are intent on putting you down, tearing you down, punishing you, and manipulating you. Their brand of criticism does not nourish; it poisons....

When you are the target of another person's destructive criticism, the natural response is to become defensive. But in reality, the least effective way to respond to criticism is to defend yourself, make excuses, or counterattack....

Remind yourself that you are responsible to answer to God and to yourself, not to the critical person. Being responsible to God, you look to Him for direction and approval. Being responsible to yourself, you take ownership of your feelings, attitudes, and behavior. If you are aligned with God and with what He wants you to be, you don't need to fear criticism or try to justify your position. You have the power to make your own choices and grow through the experience of criticism.

As a nondefensive person, you respect and feel good about yourself. You believe in your worth and your capabilities. You possess your own identity and sense of security. Being nondefensive, you can listen to others more objectively and evaluate better what they are saying, even when they express themselves in a negative manner. You can accept the critical person for who he is, even if you don't agree with him. You can accept his right to see the world as he sees it, whether or not it coincides with your view. You're able to relate to him without making disparaging comments or negative judgments about him. (From How to Get Along with Almost Anyone by H. Norman Wright)

Application

What is your first response to criticism? Are you thin-skinned, touchy, or sensitive? Ask God to help you listen with interest. Take the criticism, evaluate it, and apply what will be helpful.

Exploration

Job Answers Bildad

Then Job answered:

<sup>2</sup>“How long will you hurt me and crush me with your words?

<sup>3</sup>You have insulted me ten times now and attacked me without shame.

<sup>4</sup>Even if I have sinned,
it is my worry alone.

<sup>5</sup>If you want to make yourselves look better than I,
you can blame me for my suffering.

<sup>6</sup>Then know that God has wronged me and pulled his net around me.

<sup>7</sup>“I shout, ‘I have been wronged!’

But I get no answer.

I scream for help

but I get no justice.

<sup>8</sup>God has blocked my way so I cannot pass;
he has covered my paths with darkness.

<sup>9</sup>He has taken away my honor and removed the crown from my head.

<sup>10</sup>He beats me down on every side until I am gone;
he destroys my hope like a fallen tree.

<sup>11</sup>His anger burns against me,
and he treats me like an enemy.

<sup>12</sup>His armies gather;
they prepare to attack me.

They camp around my tent.

<sup>13</sup>“God has made my brothers my enemies, and my friends have become strangers.

<sup>14</sup>My relatives have gone away,
and my friends have forgotten me.

<sup>15</sup>My guests and my female servants treat me like a stranger;

they look at me as if I were a foreigner.

<sup>16</sup>I call for my servant, but he does not answer, even when I beg him with my own mouth.

<sup>17</sup>My wife can't stand my breath,
and my own family dislikes me.

<sup>18</sup>Even the little boys hate me and talk about me when I leave.

<sup>19</sup>All my close friends hate me;
even those I love have turned against me.

<sup>20</sup>I am nothing but skin and bones;
I have escaped by the skin of my teeth.

<sup>21</sup>Pity me, my friends, pity me,
because the hand of God has hit me.

<sup>22</sup>Why do you chase me as God does?
Haven't you hurt me enough?

<sup>23</sup>“How I wish my words were written down, written on a scroll.

<sup>24</sup>I wish they were carved with an iron pen into lead, or carved into stone forever.

<sup>25</sup>I know that my Defender lives, and in the end he will stand upon the earth.

<sup>26</sup>Even after my skin has been destroyed, in my flesh I will see God.

<sup>27</sup>I will see him myself;
I will see him with my very own eyes.
How my heart wants that to happen!

<sup>28</sup>“If you say, ‘We will continue to trouble Job, because the problem lies with him,’

<sup>29</sup>you should be afraid of the sword yourselves.
God’s anger will bring punishment by the sword.
Then you will know there is judgment.”

Zophar Answers

Then Zophar the Naamathite answered:

<sup>2</sup>“My troubled thoughts cause me to answer,
because I am very upset.

<sup>3</sup>You correct me and I am insulted,
but I understand how to answer you.

<sup>4</sup>“You know how it has been for a long time, ever since people were first put on the earth.

<sup>5</sup>The happiness of evil people is brief,
and the joy of the wicked lasts only a moment.

<sup>6</sup>Their pride may be as high as the heavens, and their heads may touch the clouds,

<sup>7</sup>but they will be gone forever, like their own dung.
People who knew them will say, ‘Where are they?’

<sup>8</sup>They will fly away like a dream and not be found again;
they will be chased away like a vision in the night.

<sup>9</sup>Those who saw them will not see them again;
the places where they lived will see them no more.

<sup>10</sup>Their children will have to pay back the poor, and they will have to give up their wealth.

<sup>11</sup>They had the strength of their youth in their bones,
but it will lie with them in the dust of death.

<sup>12</sup>“Evil may taste sweet in their mouths,
and they may hide it under their tongues.

<sup>13</sup>They cannot stand to let go of it;
they keep it in their mouths.

<sup>14</sup>But their food will turn sour in their stomachs, like the poison of a snake inside them.

<sup>15</sup>They have swallowed riches, but they will spit them out;

God will make them vomit their riches up.

<sup>16</sup>They will suck the poison of snakes, and the snake's fangs will kill them.

<sup>17</sup>They will not admire the sparkling streams or the rivers flowing with honey and cream.

<sup>18</sup>They must give back what they worked for without eating it;

they will not enjoy the money they made from their trading,

<sup>19</sup>because they troubled the poor and left them with nothing.

They have taken houses they did not build.

<sup>20</sup>Evil people never lack an appetite, and nothing escapes their selfishness.

<sup>21</sup>But nothing will be left for them to eat;
their riches will not continue.

<sup>22</sup>When they still have plenty, trouble will catch up to
them,

and great misery will come down on them.

<sup>23</sup>When the wicked fill their stomachs,
God will send his burning anger against them,
and blows of punishment will fall on them like rain.

<sup>24</sup>The wicked may run away from an iron weapon,

but a bronze arrow will stab them.

<sup>25</sup>They will pull the arrows out of their backs and pull the points out of their livers.

Terrors will come over them;

<sup>26</sup>total darkness waits for their treasure.

A fire not fanned by people will destroy them and burn up what is left of their tents.

<sup>27</sup>The heavens will show their guilt,
and the earth will rise up against them.

<sup>28</sup>A flood will carry their houses away, swept away on the day of God's anger.

<sup>29</sup>This is what God plans for evil people;
this is what he has decided they will receive.”

Life Lessons

Job 20:1–21:34

Situation

Zophar joined Bildad in telling about the fate of the wicked. He assumed Job was a hypocrite.

Observation

God may allow one person to live in prosperity and health and another to die unhappy and with a bitter heart. In death, however, both are alike. We can't guess their character based on their wealth or health.

Inspiration

The key to forgiving others is to quit focusing on what they did to you and start focusing on what God did for you.

But, Max, that's not fair! Somebody has to pay for what he did.

I agree. Someone must pay, and Someone already has.

You don't understand, Max, this guy doesn't deserve grace. He doesn't deserve mercy. He's not worthy of forgiveness.

I'm not saying he is. But are you?

Besides, what other choice do you have? Hatred? The alternative is not appealing. Look what happens when we refuse to forgive, "The master was very angry and put the servant in prison to be punished until he could pay everything he owed" (Matthew 18:34).

Unforgiving servants always end up in prison. Prisons of anger, guilt, and depression. God doesn't have to put us in a jail; we create our own...

Oh, the gradual grasp of hatred. Its damage begins like the crack in my windshield. Thanks to a speeding truck on a gravel road, my window was chipped. With time the nick became a crack, and the crack became a winding tributary. Soon the windshield was a spider web of fragments. I couldn't drive my car without thinking of the jerk who drove too fast. Though I've never seen him, I could describe him. He is some deadbeat bum who cheats on his wife, drives with a six-pack on the seat, and keeps the television so loud the neighbors can't sleep. His carelessness blocked my vision. (Didn't do much for my view out the windshield either.)

Ever heard the expression "blind rage"?

Let me be very clear. Hatred will sour your outlook and break your back. The load of bitterness is simply too heavy. Your knees will buckle under the strain, and your heart will break beneath the weight. The mountain before you is steep enough without the heaviness of hatred on your back. The wisest choice—the only choice—is for you to drop the anger. You will never be called upon to give anyone more grace than God has already given you.

During World War I, a German soldier plunged into an out-of-the-way shell hole. There he found a wounded enemy. The fallen soldier was soaked with blood and only minutes from death. Touched by the plight of the man, the German soldier offered him water. Through this small kindness a bond was developed. The dying man pointed to his shirt pocket; the German soldier took from it a wallet and removed some family pictures. He held them so the wounded man could gaze at his loved ones one final time. With bullets raging over them and war all around them, these two enemies were, but for a few moments, friends.

What happened in that shell hole? Did all evil cease? Were all wrongs made right? No. What happened was simply this: Two enemies saw each other as humans in need of help. This is forgiveness. Forgiveness begins by rising above the war, looking beyond the uniform, and choosing to see the other, not as a foe or even as a friend, but simply as a fellow fighter longing to make it home safely. (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

Application

Are you harboring bitterness toward a friend, relative, or church member? Don't allow bitterness to spring up and destroy you (cf. Hebrews 12:15). Not only will the bitterness eat you alive, it will also negatively impact your spiritual life. Ask God to give you the ability to remove any bitterness you may be feeling.

Exploration

Bitterness—Proverbs 14:10; 17:25; Isaiah 38:15; Ephesians 4:31.

Before he heard God, Job couldn't speak enough. After he heard God, he couldn't speak at all. —Max Lucado (The Great House of God)

Job Answers Zophar

Then Job answered:

<sup>2</sup>“Listen carefully to my words,
and let this be the way you comfort me.

<sup>3</sup>Be patient while I speak.
After I have finished, you may continue to make fun of
me.

<sup>4</sup>“My complaint is not just against people;
I have reason to be impatient.

<sup>5</sup>Look at me and be shocked;
put your hand over your mouth in shock.

<sup>6</sup>When I think about this, I am terribly afraid and my body shakes.

<sup>7</sup>Why do evil people live a long time?
They grow old and become more powerful.

<sup>8</sup>They see their children around them;
they watch them grow up.

<sup>9</sup>Their homes are safe and without fear;
God does not punish them.

<sup>10</sup>Their bulls never fail to mate;
their cows have healthy calves.

<sup>11</sup>They send out their children like a flock;
their little ones dance about.

<sup>12</sup>They sing to the music of tambourines and harps,
and the sound of the flute makes them happy.

<sup>13</sup>Evil people enjoy successful lives and then go peacefully to the grave.

<sup>14</sup>They say to God, 'Leave us alone!

We don't want to know your ways.

<sup>15</sup>Who is the Almighty that we should serve him?

What would we gain by praying to him?'

Their way of thinking is different from mine.

How often does trouble come to them?

How often do they suffer God's angry punishment?

<sup>18</sup>How often are they like straw in the wind or like chaff that is blown away by a storm?

<sup>19</sup>It is said, 'God saves up a person's punishment for his children.'

But God should punish the wicked themselves so they will know it.

<sup>20</sup>Their eyes should see their own destruction, and they should suffer the anger of the Almighty.

<sup>21</sup>They do not care about the families they leave behind when their lives have come to an end.

he is the one who judges even the most important people.

<sup>23</sup>One person dies while he still has all his strength, feeling completely safe and comfortable.

<sup>24</sup>His body was well fed, and his bones were strong and healthy.

<sup>25</sup>But another person dies with an unhappy heart, never enjoying any happiness.

<sup>26</sup>They are buried next to each other,
and worms cover them both.

<sup>27</sup>“I know very well your thoughts and your plans to wrong me.

<sup>28</sup>You ask about me, ‘Where is this great man’s house?
Where are the tents where the wicked live?’

<sup>29</sup>Have you never asked those who travel?
Have you never listened to their stories?

<sup>30</sup>On the day of God’s anger and punishment, it is the wicked who are spared.

<sup>31</sup>Who will accuse them to their faces?
Who will pay them back for the evil they have done?

<sup>32</sup>They are carried to their graves, and someone keeps watch over their tombs.

<sup>33</sup>The dirt in the valley seems sweet to them.
Everybody follows after them,
and many people go before them.

<sup>34</sup>“So how can you comfort me with this nonsense?
Your answers are only lies!”

Eliphaz Answers

Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered:

<sup>2</sup>“Can anyone be of real use to God?
Can even a wise person do him good?

<sup>3</sup>Does it help the Almighty for you to be good?
Does he gain anything if you are innocent?

<sup>4</sup>Does God punish you for respecting him?
Does he bring you into court for this?

<sup>5</sup>No! It is because your evil is without limits and your sins have no end.

<sup>6</sup>You took your brothers’ things for a debt they didn’t owe;

you took clothes from people and left them naked.

<sup>7</sup>You did not give water to tired people,
and you kept food from the hungry.

<sup>8</sup>You were a powerful man who owned land;
you were honored and lived in the land.

<sup>9</sup>But you sent widows away empty-handed,
and you mistreated orphans.

<sup>10</sup>That is why traps are all around you and sudden danger frightens you.

<sup>11</sup>That is why it is so dark you cannot see and a flood of water covers you.

<sup>12</sup>“God is in the highest part of heaven.
See how high the highest stars are!

<sup>13</sup>But you ask, ‘What does God know?’

Can he judge us through the dark clouds?

<sup>14</sup>Thick clouds cover him so he cannot see us
as he walks around high up in the sky.’

<sup>15</sup>Are you going to stay on the old path where evil people walk?

<sup>16</sup>They were carried away before their time was up,
and their foundations were washed away by a flood.

<sup>17</sup>They said to God, ‘Leave us alone!
The Almighty can do nothing to us.’

<sup>18</sup>But it was God who filled their houses with good things.

Their way of thinking is different from mine.

<sup>19</sup>‘Good people can watch and be glad;
the innocent can laugh at them and say,

<sup>20</sup>‘Surely our enemies are destroyed, and fire burns up their wealth.’

<sup>21</sup>‘Obey God and be at peace with him;
this is the way to happiness.

<sup>22</sup>Accept teaching from his mouth,
and keep his words in your heart.

<sup>23</sup>If you return to the Almighty, you will be blessed again.

So remove evil from your house.

<sup>24</sup>Throw your gold nuggets into the dust and your fine gold among the rocks in the ravines.

<sup>25</sup>Then the Almighty will be your gold and the best silver for you.

<sup>26</sup>You will find pleasure in the Almighty, and you will look up to him.

<sup>27</sup>You will pray to him, and he will hear you,
and you will keep your promises to him.

<sup>28</sup>Anything you decide will be done, and light will shine on your ways.

<sup>29</sup>When people are made humble and you say, 'Have courage,'
then the humble will be saved.

<sup>30</sup>Even a guilty person will escape and be saved because your hands are clean."

Job Answers

Then Job answered:

<sup>2</sup>“My complaint is still bitter today.
I groan because God’s heavy hand is on me.

<sup>3</sup>I wish I knew where to find God
so I could go to where he lives.

<sup>4</sup>I would present my case before him and fill my mouth with arguments.

<sup>5</sup>I would learn how he would answer me and would think about what he would say.

<sup>6</sup>Would he not argue strongly against me?
No, he would really listen to me.

<sup>7</sup>Then an honest person could present his case to God,
and I would be saved forever by my judge.

<sup>8</sup>“If I go to the east, God is not there;
if I go to the west, I do not see him.

<sup>9</sup>When he is at work in the north, I catch no sight of
him;

when he turns to the south, I cannot see him.

<sup>10</sup>But God knows the way that I take,
and when he has tested me, I will come out like gold.

<sup>11</sup>My feet have closely followed his steps;
I have stayed in his way;
I did not turn aside.

<sup>12</sup>I have never left the commands he has spoken;
I have treasured his words more than my own.

<sup>13c</sup>“But he is the only God.
Who can come against him?
He does anything he wants.
<sup>14</sup>He will do to me what he said he would do,
and he has many plans like this.
<sup>15</sup>That is why I am frightened of him;
when I think of this, I am afraid of him.
<sup>16</sup>God has made me afraid;
the Almighty terrifies me.
<sup>17</sup>But I am not hidden by the darkness,
by the thick darkness that covers my face.

Life Lessons

Job 22:1–24:25

Situation

Eliphaz exhorted Job to admit that his sufferings resulted from sin. Job disagreed. He began to question whether or not God had treated him fairly.

Observation

Job knew he was righteous before God. Job wondered why he had been afflicted and if God cared for him.

Inspiration

Most of us tend to have this idea that since God is sovereign, He’s supposed to make everything work out perfectly. Nothing is supposed to touch us as long as we’re walking with Him.

This is the very problem that leads many Christians to despair when they go through trials.

They can't imagine how God could ever let anything bad happen to them. They turn His sovereignty into a magic genie that's supposed to push all problems, trials, difficulties, and irritations away the moment we say "Go!" As a result, when we suddenly find ourselves in the midst of terrible circumstances, we crumble, blame God, and accuse Him of not caring, not being just, not acting in a loving manner, not having our best interests in mind.

We must come back to the truth that while God is in absolute control of all life, He is not the cause of all life's mishaps. Rather, His plan allows those mishaps for the great purpose of raising up "many brethren conformed to the image of Christ" (Romans 8:29).

Job's trial exposed this important misinterpretation on Job's part... . He couldn't understand how God could allow these things to continue—let alone happen... . We can all identify with Job... . The reason we see things this way is because we don't understand how God thinks; we can't comprehend the nature of His wisdom. "His thoughts are not our thoughts; His ways are not our ways," said Isaiah (55:8). When we're new in the faith, or immature, we tend to think that God will always do what is best for us. Indeed, He will. But what we think is best and what He does are as different as whipped cream and concrete. We think He'll make us happy. In effect, we envision these warm, fuzzy feelings. But He plans to make us holy. That often calls for plenty of knocks and raps....

Job's problem was just like ours. We have one plan and God has another. But God's plan is the one that will be put into operation. And when those plans turn into real life circumstances, we can feel as though we've been drawn, quartered, and fed to the crows.

But it's through gaining God's perspective that we begin to see true wisdom. That was what God was bringing Job to understand. (From When God Seems Far Away by Mark R. Littleton)

Application

It is easy to question God in times of struggle. When you feel afflicted turn toward God, not away from him. Seek the counsel of Christian friends and remain active in your church.

Exploration

Suffering Has a Purpose—Mark 8:31–32; Luke 24:46–47; Romans 8:17–18; 1 Peter 2:21; 4:12–13.

“I wish the Almighty would set a time for judging.
Those who know God do not see such a day.

<sup>2</sup>Wicked people take other people’s land;
they steal flocks and take them to new pastures.

<sup>3</sup>They chase away the orphan’s donkey and take the widow’s ox when she has no money.

<sup>4</sup>They push needy people off the path;
all the poor of the land hide from them.

<sup>5</sup>The poor become like wild donkeys in the desert who go about their job of finding food.

The desert gives them food for their children.

<sup>6</sup>They gather hay and straw in the fields and pick up leftover grapes from the vineyard of the wicked.

<sup>7</sup>They spend the night naked, because they have no clothes,
nothing to cover themselves in the cold.

<sup>8</sup>They are soaked from mountain rains and stay near the large rocks because they have no shelter.

<sup>9</sup>The fatherless child is grabbed from its mother’s breast;
they take a poor mother’s baby to pay for what she owes.

<sup>10</sup>So the poor go around naked without any clothes;
they carry bundles of grain but still go hungry;

<sup>11</sup>they crush olives to get oil and grapes to get wine, but they still go thirsty.

<sup>12</sup>Dying people groan in the city, and the injured cry out for help,

but God accuses no one of doing wrong.

<sup>13</sup>“Those who fight against the light do not know God’s ways or stay in his paths.

<sup>14</sup>When the day is over, the murderers get up to kill the poor and needy.
At night they go about like thieves.

<sup>15</sup>Those who are guilty of adultery watch for the night, thinking, ‘No one will see us,’
and they keep their faces covered.

<sup>16</sup>In the dark, evil people break into houses.
In the daytime they shut themselves up in their own houses,

because they want nothing to do with the light.

<sup>17</sup>Darkness is like morning to all these evil people who make friends with the terrors of darkness.

<sup>18</sup>“They are like foam floating on the water.
Their part of the land is cursed;
no one uses the road that goes by their vineyards.

<sup>19</sup>As heat and dryness quickly melt the snow,
so the grave quickly takes away the sinners.

<sup>20</sup>Their mothers forget them,
and worms will eat their bodies.

They will not be remembered,
so wickedness is broken in pieces like a stick.

<sup>21</sup>These evil people abuse women who cannot have children

and show no kindness to widows.

Even though they seem strong, they do not know how long they will live.

<sup>23</sup>God may let these evil people feel safe, but he is watching their ways.

<sup>24</sup>For a little while they are important, and then they die;

they are laid low and buried like everyone else;
they are cut off like the heads of grain.

Who can show that my words are worth nothing?"

Bildad Answers

Then Bildad the Shuhite answered:

<sup>2</sup>“God rules and he must be honored;
he set up order in his high heaven.

<sup>3</sup>No one can count God’s armies.
His light shines on all people.

<sup>4</sup>So no one can be good in the presence of God,
and no one born to a woman can be pure.

<sup>5</sup>Even the moon is not bright and the stars are not pure in his eyes.

They are only worms!”

Job Answers Bildad

Then Job answered:

<sup>2</sup>“You are no help to the helpless!

You have not aided the weak!

<sup>3</sup>Your advice lacks wisdom!

You have shown little understanding!

<sup>4</sup>Who has helped you say these words?

And where did you get these ideas?

<sup>5</sup>“The spirits of the dead tremble, those who are beneath and in the waters.

<sup>6</sup>Death is naked before God;

destruction is uncovered before him.

<sup>7</sup>God stretches the northern sky out over empty space and hangs the earth on nothing.

<sup>8</sup>He wraps up the waters in his thick clouds,

but the clouds do not break under their weight.

<sup>9</sup>He covers the face of the moon, spreading his clouds over it.

<sup>10</sup>He draws the horizon like a circle on the water at the place where light and darkness meet.

<sup>11</sup>Heaven’s foundations shake

when he thunders at them.

<sup>12</sup>With his power he quiets the sea;

by his wisdom he destroys Rahab, the sea monster.

<sup>13</sup>He breathes, and the sky clears.

His hand stabs the fleeing snake.

<sup>14</sup>And these are only a small part of God's works.
We only hear a small whisper of him.
Who could understand God's thundering power?"

Life Lessons

Job 25:1–26:14

Situation

The discussion between Job and his friends continued. Bildad replied to Job's claim of innocence. Job responded sarcastically to Bildad (26:2–4) because his advice lacked consolation.

Observation

Man cannot be compared with God. God's immensity cannot be measured.

Inspiration

Ever get a song on your mind? ... It happened to me last week... I found myself listening to what Watts wrote over two centuries ago:

Alas! and did my Savior bleed?

And did my Sovereign die?

Would he devote that sacred head

For such a worm as I?

I frowned as that last line faded away. "A worm"? Does God see people as "worms"? When Christ died did He "devote that sacred head" for worms? Now, obviously, Watts wanted to portray a vivid illustration of sinful mankind—lost, undeserving, spiritually worthless, wicked within. Dipping his brush in Job 25 and Isaiah 41, the hymnist painted such a picture, using the very term Scripture uses—worm. He was biblical and therefore justified his choice of terms for the text. Frankly, we were worm-like when our righteous God found us—lowly, wandering, dirty, unattractive, grubby creatures.

But that doesn't mean we work hard at making ourselves into worms now. A child of God is not a worm. If God had wanted you to be a worm, He could have very easily made you one! ... When Watts wrote of worms he was merely using a word picture. Many others, however, have framed it as a model to follow, calling it humility. This “worm theology” creates enormous problems.

It wears many faces—all sad. It crawls out from between the mattress and springs in the morning, telling itself, “I'm nothing. I'm a worm. Woe, woe. I can't do anything and even if I appear to be doing something, it's not really me. Woe! I must annihilate self-respect ... crucify all motivation and ambition... I'm a worm. Good for nothing except crawling very slowly, drowning in mud puddles, or getting stepped on. Woe, woe, woe.”

There's one main problem with this sort of thinking—it's phony. No matter how diligently we labor to appear genuinely humble, it amounts to nothing more than trying to look good in another way....

And therein lies the ugly sin: PRIDE.

Heretical though it may sound, no one who actually hates himself can adequately share the love of Christ. Our Lord taught that we were to love our neighbors as we love ourselves....

Have you taken time this week to consider before your Lord who you really are? ...

Sinful? Oh yes. Undeserving? Absolutely. Imperfect? Who isn't. Selfish? Indeed! Wrong? More often than not.

But a worm? Useless? Unimportant? Spineless? Meaningless? No, not that. God declared us righteous. He lifted us out of miry clay and set us upon a rock. He invites us to approach Him with boldness. And He means it! (From Growing Strong in the Seasons of Life by Charles Swindoll)

Job 27:1–23

Situation

When Job claimed that his suffering did not result from sin, Bildad accused him of pride. Job responded with a passionate declaration of his integrity.

Observation

Despite the accusations being hurled at him, Job recognized that he had a clear conscience.

Inspiration

A few weeks ago, Roger's family was shopping for groceries. As they rounded a corner, he looked down at his two-year-old daughter who was riding in the basket. She was holding the carton of eggs. The carton was open and revealed that several of the eggs were broken and others were cracked. His first thought was, "Let's just put the carton back and get another. No one will notice."

Sometimes the same temptation occurs when one stays overnight in a motel. Occasionally, the thought comes to mind, "Why not watch one of those late night cable channels? Who's going to know?"

In both of these instances, and in countless others, it is helpful to ask yourself the question, "Who am I when no one's looking? Am I consistent, or do I act differently? Am I the same person Monday through Saturday that I am on Sunday? Will I be blameless and holy when I meet the Lord?" (From A Dad's Blessing by Gary Smalley and John Trent)

Application

Do you act differently when no one is looking? Is your conscience clear? If not, ask God to forgive your sin and help you live a life of integrity. Tell a trusted friend of any problem areas. Ask that person to hold you accountable.

Exploration

Clear Conscience—Acts 24:14–16; Romans 9:1; 1 Timothy 3:9; Hebrews 9:14; 1 Peter 3:16.

And Job continued speaking:

<sup>2</sup>“As surely as God lives, who has taken away my rights,

the Almighty, who has made me unhappy,

<sup>3</sup>as long as I am alive and God’s breath of life is in my nose,

<sup>4</sup>my lips will not speak evil, and my tongue will not tell a lie.

<sup>5</sup>I will never agree you are right;

until I die, I will never stop saying I am innocent.

<sup>6</sup>I will insist that I am right; I will not back down.

My conscience will never bother me.

<sup>7</sup>“Let my enemies be like evil people,

my foes like those who are wrong.

<sup>8</sup>What hope do the wicked have when they die,

when God takes their life away?

<sup>9</sup>God will not listen to their cries when trouble comes to them.

<sup>10</sup>They will not find joy in the Almighty,

even though they call out to God all the time.

<sup>11</sup>“I will teach you about the power of God and will not hide the ways of the Almighty.

<sup>12</sup>You have all seen this yourselves.

So why are we having all this talk that means nothing?

<sup>13</sup>“Here is what God has planned for evil people,
and what the Almighty will give to cruel people:

<sup>14</sup>They may have many children, but the sword will kill
them.

Their children who are left will never have enough to eat.

<sup>15</sup>Then they will die of disease and be buried,
and the widows will not even cry for them.

<sup>16</sup>The wicked may heap up silver like piles of dirt and have so many clothes they are like piles of clay.

<sup>17</sup>But good people will wear what evil people have gathered,
and the innocent will divide up their silver.

<sup>18</sup>The houses the wicked build are like a spider’s web, like a hut that a guard builds.

<sup>19</sup>The wicked are rich when they go to bed,
but they are rich for the last time;
when they open their eyes, everything is gone.

<sup>20</sup>Fears come over them like a flood,
and a storm snatches them away in the night.

<sup>21</sup>The east wind will carry them away, and then they are gone,
because it sweeps them out of their place.

<sup>22</sup>The wind will hit them without mercy
as they try to run away from its power.

<sup>23</sup>It will be as if the wind is clapping its hands;
it will whistle at them as they run from their place.

Life Lessons

Job 28:1–28

Situation

Job continued his long reply to Bildad and his other friends. In his speech, Job claimed that God's wisdom supersedes all human wisdom.

Observation

Nature cannot tell everything about God's wisdom. For further insight we must look at God's Word.

Inspiration

God knows me! He knows every tear I cry. "Thou hast taken account of my wanderings; put my tears in Thy bottle" [Psalm 56:8, NASB]. God knows every trial we go through, and His wisdom allows each to happen....

God is perfect in His wisdom. As the sun cannot be without light, neither can God be without wisdom. He was wisdom originally. Men acquire wisdom through experience; God has it by essence. He does not have to study or gain more experience. God has wisdom perfectly. He has absolutely no ignorance. He has wisdom universally. Men are wise in various things. God is wise in all things. He has wisdom perpetually. Man's wisdom fades near death. God's wisdom is perpetual. His wisdom is incomprehensible. The wisdom of one man may be comprehended by another. "Canst thou by searching find out God?" [Job 11:7, KJV]. His wisdom is infallible. Even the wisest men fall short of their goals. God never fails. (From The God You Can Know by Dan DeHaan)

Application

To know more of God's wisdom, we must study the Bible. Develop a plan for daily study. Memorize one verse by rewriting it each day for a week. Reflect on your selected verse throughout the day.

Exploration

God's Wisdom—Daniel 2:19–23; Romans 16:27; 1 Corinthians 1:21–24; Colossians 2:2–3.

“There are mines where people dig silver and places where gold is made pure.

<sup>2</sup>Iron is taken from the ground,
and copper is melted out of rocks.

<sup>3</sup>Miners bring lights and search deep into the mines for ore in thick darkness.

<sup>4</sup>Miners dig a tunnel far from where people live, where no one has ever walked;
they work far from people, swinging and swaying from ropes.

<sup>5</sup>Food grows on top of the earth,
but below ground things are changed as if by fire.

<sup>6</sup>Sapphires are found in rocks,
and gold dust is also found there.

<sup>7</sup>No hawk knows that path;
the falcon has not seen it.

<sup>8</sup>Proud animals have not walked there,
and no lions cross over it.

<sup>9</sup>Miners hit the rocks of flint and dig away at the bottom of the mountains.

<sup>10</sup>They cut tunnels through the rock and see all the treasures there.

<sup>11</sup>They search for places where rivers begin and bring things hidden out into the light.

<sup>12c</sup>“But where can wisdom be found,
and where does understanding live?”

<sup>13</sup>People do not understand the value of wisdom;
it cannot be found among those who are alive.

<sup>14</sup>The deep ocean says, 'It's not in me;'
the sea says, 'It's not in me.'

<sup>15</sup>Wisdom cannot be bought with gold, and its cost cannot be weighed in silver.

<sup>16</sup>Wisdom cannot be bought with fine gold or with valuable onyx or sapphire gems.

<sup>17</sup>Gold and crystal are not as valuable as wisdom, and you cannot buy it with jewels of gold.

<sup>18</sup>Coral and jasper are not worth talking about,
and the price of wisdom is much greater than rubies.

<sup>19</sup>The topaz from Cush cannot compare to wisdom;
it cannot be bought with the purest gold.

<sup>20</sup>“So where does wisdom come from,
and where does understanding live?

<sup>21</sup>It is hidden from the eyes of every living thing, even from the birds of the air.

<sup>22</sup>The places of destruction and death say,
'We have heard reports about it.'

<sup>23</sup>Only God understands the way to wisdom, and he alone knows where it lives,

<sup>24</sup>because he looks to the farthest parts of the earth and sees everything under the sky.

<sup>25</sup>When God gave power to the wind and measured the water,

<sup>26</sup>when he made rules for the rain and set a path for a thunderstorm to follow,

<sup>27</sup>then he looked at wisdom and decided its worth;

he set wisdom up and tested it.

<sup>28</sup>Then he said to humans,

‘The fear of the Lord is wisdom;
to stay away from evil is understanding.’”

Job Continues

Job continued to speak:

<sup>2</sup>“How I wish for the months that have passed and the days when God watched over me.

<sup>3</sup>God’s lamp shined on my head, and I walked through darkness by his light.

<sup>4</sup>I wish for the days when I was strong,
when God’s close friendship blessed my house.

<sup>5</sup>The Almighty was still with me, and my children were all around me.

<sup>6</sup>It was as if my path were covered with cream and the rocks poured out olive oil for me.

<sup>7</sup>I would go to the city gate and sit in the public square.

<sup>8</sup>When the young men saw me, they would step aside, and the old men would stand up in respect.

<sup>9</sup>The leading men stopped speaking and covered their mouths with their hands.

<sup>10</sup>The voices of the important men were quiet, as if their tongues stuck to the roof of their mouths.

<sup>11</sup>Anyone who heard me spoke well of me,
and those who saw me praised me,

<sup>12</sup>because I saved the poor who called out and the orphan who had no one to help.

<sup>13</sup>The dying person blessed me,
and I made the widow’s heart sing.

<sup>14</sup>I put on right living as if it were clothing;
I wore fairness like a robe and a turban.

<sup>15</sup>I was eyes for the blind and feet for the lame.

<sup>16</sup>I was like a father to needy people, and I took the side of strangers who were in trouble.

<sup>17</sup>I broke the fangs of evil people and snatched the captives from their teeth.

<sup>18</sup>“I thought, ‘I will live for as many days as there are grains of sand,

and I will die in my own house.

<sup>19</sup>My roots will reach down to the water.
The dew will lie on the branches all night.

<sup>20</sup>New honors will come to me continually, and I will always have great strength.’

<sup>21</sup>“People listened to me carefully and waited quietly for my advice.

<sup>22</sup>After I finished speaking, they spoke no more.
My words fell very gently on their ears.

<sup>23</sup>They waited for me as they would for rain and drank in my words like spring rain.

<sup>24</sup>I smiled at them when they doubted, and my approval was important to them.

<sup>25</sup>I chose the way for them and was their leader.
I lived like a king among his army,
like a person who comforts sad people.

“But now men who are younger than I make fun of me.

I would not have even let their fathers sit with my sheep dogs.

<sup>2</sup>What use did I have for their strength since they had lost their strength to work?

<sup>3</sup>They were thin from hunger and wandered the dry and ruined land at night.

<sup>4</sup>They gathered desert plants among the brush and ate the root of the broom tree.

<sup>5</sup>They were forced to live away from people;
people shouted at them as if they were thieves.

<sup>6</sup>They lived in dried up streambeds, in caves, and among the rocks.

<sup>7</sup>They howled like animals among the bushes and huddled together in the brush.

<sup>8</sup>They are worthless people without names and were forced to leave the land.

<sup>9</sup>“Now they make fun of me with songs;
my name is a joke among them.

<sup>10</sup>They hate me and stay far away from me,
but they do not mind spitting in my face.

<sup>11</sup>God has taken away my strength and made me suffer, so they attack me with all their anger.

<sup>12</sup>On my right side they rise up like a mob.
They lay traps for my feet and prepare to attack me.

<sup>13</sup>They break up my road and work to destroy me,

and no one helps me.

<sup>14</sup>They come at me as if through a hole in the wall, and they roll in among the ruins.

<sup>15</sup>Great fears overwhelm me.

They blow my honor away as if by a great wind,
and my safety disappears like a cloud.

<sup>16</sup>“Now my life is almost over;
my days are full of suffering.

<sup>17</sup>At night my bones ache;
gnawing pains never stop.

<sup>18</sup>In his great power God grabs hold of my clothing and chokes me with the collar of my coat.

<sup>19</sup>He throws me into the mud,
and I become like dirt and ashes.

<sup>20</sup>“I cry out to you, God, but you do not answer;
I stand up, but you just look at me.

<sup>21</sup>You have turned on me without mercy;
with your powerful hand you attacked me.

<sup>22</sup>You snatched me up and threw me into the wind and tossed me about in the storm.

<sup>23</sup>I know you will bring me down to death,
to the place where all living people must go.

<sup>24</sup>“Surely no one would hurt a ruined man
when he cries for help in his time of trouble.

<sup>25</sup>I cried for those who were in trouble;
I have been very sad for poor people.

<sup>26</sup>But when I hoped for good, only evil came to me;
when I looked for light, darkness came.

<sup>27</sup>I never stop being upset;
days of suffering are ahead of me.

<sup>28</sup>I have turned black, but not by the sun.
I stand up in public and cry for help.

<sup>29</sup>I have become a brother to wild dogs and a friend to ostriches.

<sup>30</sup>My skin has become black and peels off, as my body burns with fever.

<sup>31</sup>My harp is tuned to sing a sad song,
and my flute is tuned to moaning.

“But I made an agreement with my eyes not to look with desire at a girl.

What has the Almighty planned from on high?

<sup>3</sup>It is ruin for evil people and disaster for those who do wrong.

<sup>4</sup>God sees my ways and counts every step I take.

<sup>5</sup>“If I have been dishonest or lied to others,

<sup>6</sup>then let God weigh me on honest scales.
Then he will know I have done nothing wrong.

<sup>7</sup>If I have turned away from doing what is right, or my heart has been led by my eyes to do wrong,
or my hands have been made unclean,

<sup>8</sup>then let other people eat what I have planted, and let my crops be plowed up.

<sup>9</sup>“If I have desired another woman or have waited at my neighbor’s door for his wife,

<sup>10</sup>then let my wife grind another man’s grain, and let other men have sexual relations with her.

<sup>11</sup>That would be shameful,
a sin to be punished.

<sup>12</sup>It is like a fire that burns and destroys;
all I have done would be plowed up.

<sup>13</sup>“If I have been unfair to my male and female slaves when they had a complaint against me,

<sup>14</sup>how could I tell God what I did?

What will I answer when he asks me to explain what I've done?

<sup>15</sup>God made me in my mother's womb, and he also made them;

the same God formed both of us in our mothers' wombs.

<sup>16</sup>“I have never refused the appeals of the poor or let widows give up hope while looking for help.

<sup>17</sup>I have not kept my food to myself but have given it to the orphans.

<sup>18</sup>Since I was young, I have been like a father to the orphans.

From my birth I guided the widows.

<sup>19</sup>I have not let anyone die for lack of clothes or let a needy person go without a coat.

<sup>20</sup>That person's heart blessed me, because I warmed him with the wool of my sheep.

<sup>21</sup>I have never hurt an orphan even when I knew I could win in court.

<sup>22</sup>If I have, then let my arm fall off my shoulder and be broken at the joint.

<sup>23</sup>I fear destruction from God, and I fear his majesty, so I could not do such things.

<sup>24</sup>“I have not put my trust in gold or said to pure gold, ‘You are my security.’

<sup>25</sup>I have not celebrated my great wealth or the riches my hands had gained.

<sup>26</sup>I have not thought about worshiping the sun in its brightness

nor admired the moon moving in glory

<sup>27</sup>so that my heart was pulled away from God.

My hand has never offered the sun and moon a kiss of worship.

<sup>28</sup>If I had, these also would have been sins to be punished, because I would have been unfaithful to God.

<sup>29</sup>“I have not been happy when my enemy fell or laughed when he had trouble.

<sup>31</sup>The men of my house have always said, ‘Everyone has eaten all he wants of Job’s food.’

<sup>32</sup>No stranger ever had to spend the night in the street, because I always let travelers stay in my home.

<sup>33</sup>I have not hidden my sin as others do, secretly keeping my guilt to myself.

<sup>34</sup>I was not so afraid of the crowd that I kept quiet and stayed inside because I feared being hated by other families.

<sup>35</sup>(“How I wish a court would hear my case! Here I sign my name to show I have told the truth. Now let the Almighty answer me; let the one who accuses me write it down.

<sup>36</sup>I would wear the writing on my shoulder; I would put it on like a crown.

<sup>37</sup>I would explain to God every step I took, and I would come near to him like a prince.)

<sup>38</sup>“If my land cries out against me and its plowed rows are not wet with tears, <sup>39</sup>if I have taken the land’s harvest without paying or have broken the spirit of those who worked the
land,
<sup>40</sup>then let thorns come up instead of wheat, and let weeds come up instead of barley.”
The words of Job are finished.

Life Lessons

Job 29:1–31:40

Situation

Job described his role in the community. He may have been a judge or city official. In his position he sought justice and cared for the needy.

Observation

Be careful to avoid pride because of your status. Job did not use his position for evil.

Inspiration

The little house made me think of pictures I’d seen of the United States during the Depression. Unlit kerosene lanterns (no electricity). Basins of water to wash up in (no running water). A wall lined with well-worn hoes, shovels, and picks (no modern equipment). The kitchen was a separate hut that sat next to the front door of the house. I was intrigued by the stove. It was made of hard, backed mud, molded in a long narrow piece about four feet long and three feet tall. A four or five inch trough ran down the center to hold the wood. The ever-present pots cooking the beans and rice straddled the hot trough. I felt a long way from Rio.

Senor José took me on a tour through his segment of the world. For thirty-seven years he had plowed and tilled his two acres. It was obvious that he knew every hole and turn.

“I fed fourteen mouths off this land,” he smiled, fingering a lettuce plant. “Where did you say you were from?”

“The U.S.”

“What do you do there?”

I explained a bit about my work. . . .

“A missionary, huh? Your job must be pretty easy.”

“How’s that?” I asked.

“I have no trouble believing in God. After I see what he has done on my little farm, year after year, it is easy to believe.” He smiled another toothless grin and yelled to his wife to bring out some beans.

As we drove home, I couldn’t help thinking about Senor José. My, what a simple life. No traffic jams, airline schedules, or long lines. Far removed from Wall Street, IRS, and mortgages. Unacquainted with Johannine theology, Martin Luther, or Christian evidences.

I thought of his faith, his ability to believe, and his surprise that there were some who couldn’t. I compared his faith with others I knew had more difficulty believing; a university student, a wealthy import-export man, an engineer. There was such a difference between José and the others.

His faith was rooted in the simple miracles that he witnessed every day:

A small seed becoming a towering tree.

A thin stalk pushing back the earth.

A rainbow arching in the midst of the thundercloud.

It was easy for him to believe. I can see why. Someone who witnesses God's daily display of majesty doesn't find the secret of Easter absurd. Someone who depends upon the mysteries of nature for his livelihood doesn't find it difficult to depend on an unseen God for his salvation. . . .

God's testimony. When was the last time you witnessed it? A stroll through knee-high grass in a green meadow. An hour listening to seagulls or looking at seashells on the beach. Or witnessing the shafts of sunlight brighten the snow on a crisp winter dawn. Miracles that almost match the magnitude of the empty tomb happen all around us; we only have to pay attention. (From No Wonder They Call Him the Savior by Max Lucado)

Application

Look around. What can you observe that speaks mightily about God's care and concern in your family, in nature, and in world events? Use your simple discovery in a conversation with a younger person this week. Help that person to build trust in God.

Exploration

God's Care—Psalm 10:17–18; Proverbs 23:10–11; 1 Peter 3:15–16.

Don't think you are separated from God, he at the top end of a great ladder, you at the other. Dismiss any thought that God is on Venus while you are on earth. —Max Lucado (The Great House of God)

Elihu Speaks

These three men stopped trying to answer Job, because he was so sure he was right. <sup>2</sup>But Elihu son of Barakel the Buzite, from the family of Ram, became very angry with Job, because Job claimed he was right instead of God. <sup>3</sup>Elihu was also angry with Job's three friends who had no answer to show that Job was wrong, yet continued to blame him. <sup>4</sup>Elihu had waited before speaking to Job, because the three friends were older than he was. <sup>5</sup>But when Elihu saw that the three men had nothing more to say, he became very angry.

<sup>6</sup>So Elihu son of Barakel the Buzite said this:

“I am young,
and you are old.

That is why I was afraid to tell you what I know.

<sup>7</sup>I thought, ‘Older people should speak, and those who have lived many years should teach wisdom.’

<sup>8</sup>But it is the spirit in a person,
the breath of the Almighty, that gives understanding.

<sup>9</sup>It is not just older people who are wise;
they are not the only ones who understand what is right.

<sup>10</sup>So I say, listen to me.
I too will tell you what I know.

<sup>11</sup>I waited while you three spoke,
and listened to your explanations.

While you looked for words to use,

<sup>12</sup>I paid close attention to you.

But not one of you has proved Job wrong;

none of you has answered his arguments.

<sup>13</sup>Don't say, 'We have found wisdom;
only God will show Job to be wrong, not people.'

<sup>14</sup>Job has not spoken his words against me, so I will not use your arguments to answer Job.

<sup>15</sup>“These three friends are defeated and have no more to say;

words have failed them.

<sup>16</sup>Now they are standing there with no answers for Job.

Now that they are quiet, must I wait to speak?

<sup>17</sup>No, I too will speak and tell what I know.

<sup>18</sup>I am full of words, and the spirit in me causes me to speak.

<sup>19</sup>I am like wine that has been bottled up;

I am ready to burst like a new leather wine bag.

<sup>20</sup>I must speak so I will feel relief;

I must open my mouth and answer.

<sup>21</sup>I will be fair to everyone and not flatter anyone.

<sup>22</sup>I don't know how to flatter,

and if I did, my Maker would quickly take me away.

“Now, Job, listen to my words.
Pay attention to everything I say.

<sup>2</sup>I open my mouth and am ready to speak.

<sup>3</sup>My words come from an honest heart, and I am sincere in saying what I know.

<sup>4</sup>The Spirit of God created me,
and the breath of the Almighty gave me life.

<sup>5</sup>Answer me if you can;
get yourself ready and stand before me.

<sup>6</sup>I am just like you before God;
I too am made out of clay.

<sup>7</sup>Don't be afraid of me;
I will not be hard on you.

<sup>8</sup>“But I heard what you have said;
I heard every word.

<sup>9</sup>You said, ‘I am pure and without sin;
I am innocent and free from guilt.

<sup>10</sup>But God has found fault with me;
he considers me his enemy.

<sup>11</sup>He locks my feet in chains and closely watches everywhere I go.’

<sup>12</sup>“But I tell you, you are not right in saying this, because God is greater than we are.

<sup>13</sup>Why do you accuse God of not answering anyone?

<sup>14</sup>God does speak—sometimes one way and sometimes another—

even though people may not understand it.

<sup>15</sup>He speaks in a dream or a vision of the night when people are in a deep sleep, lying on their beds.

<sup>16</sup>He speaks in their ears and frightens them with warnings

<sup>17</sup>to turn them away from doing wrong and to keep them from being proud.

<sup>18</sup>God does this to save a person from death,
to keep him from dying.

<sup>19</sup>A person may be corrected while in bed in great pain;
he may have continual pain in his very bones.

<sup>20</sup>He may be in such pain that he even hates food, even the very best meal.

<sup>21</sup>His body becomes so thin there is almost nothing left of it,

and his bones that were hidden now stick out.

<sup>22</sup>He is near death,
and his life is almost over.

<sup>23</sup>“But there may be an angel to speak for him, one out of a thousand, who will tell him what to do.

<sup>24</sup>The angel will beg for mercy and say:
‘Save him from death.

I have found a way to pay for his life.’

<sup>25</sup>Then his body is made new like a child’s.
It will return to the way it was when he was young.

<sup>26</sup>That person will pray to God, and God will listen to him.

He will see God’s face and will shout with happiness.

And God will set things right for him again.

<sup>27</sup>Then he will say to others,

‘I sinned and twisted what was right,

but I did not receive the punishment I should have received.

<sup>28</sup>God bought my life back from death, and I will continue to enjoy life.’

<sup>29</sup>“God does all these things to a person
two or even three times

<sup>30</sup>so he won’t die as punishment for his sins and so he may still enjoy life.

<sup>31</sup>“Job, pay attention and listen to me;
be quiet, and I will speak.

<sup>32</sup>If you have anything to say, answer me;
speak up, because I want to prove you right.

<sup>33</sup>But if you have nothing to say, then listen to me;
be quiet, and I will teach you wisdom.”

Then Elihu said:

<sup>2</sup>“Hear my words, you wise men;
listen to me, you who know a lot.

<sup>3</sup>The ear tests words
as the tongue tastes food.

<sup>4</sup>Let’s decide for ourselves what is right, and let’s learn together what is good.

<sup>5</sup>“Job says, ‘I am not guilty,
and God has refused me a fair trial.

I am called a liar.

I have been seriously hurt,
even though I have not sinned.’

<sup>7</sup>There is no other man like Job;
he takes insults as if he were drinking water.

<sup>8</sup>He keeps company with those who do evil and spends time with wicked men,

<sup>9</sup>because he says, ‘It is no use to try to please God.’

<sup>10</sup>“So listen to me, you who can understand.
God can never do wrong!

It is impossible for the Almighty to do evil.

<sup>11</sup>God pays a person back for what he has done and gives him what his actions deserve.

<sup>12</sup>Truly God will never do wrong;
the Almighty will never twist what is right.

<sup>13</sup>No one chose God to rule over the earth or put him in charge of the whole world.

<sup>14</sup>If God should decide to take away life and breath, <sup>15</sup>then everyone would die together and turn back into dust.

<sup>16</sup>“If you can understand, hear this;
listen to what I have to say.

<sup>17</sup>Can anyone govern who hates what is right?
How can you blame God who is both fair and powerful?

<sup>18</sup>God is the one who says to kings, ‘You are worthless,’

or to important people, ‘You are evil.’

<sup>19</sup>He is not nicer to princes than other people, nor kinder to rich people than poor people,
because he made them all with his own hands.

<sup>20</sup>They can die in a moment, in the middle of the night.
They are struck down, and then they pass away;
powerful people die without help.

<sup>21</sup>“God watches where people go;
he sees every step they take.

<sup>22</sup>There is no dark place or deep shadow where those who do evil can hide from him.

<sup>23</sup>He does not set a time for people to come before him for judging.

<sup>24</sup>Without asking questions, God breaks powerful people into pieces

and puts others in their place.

<sup>25</sup>Because God knows what people do,

he defeats them in the night, and they are crushed.

<sup>26</sup>He punishes them for the evil they do so that everyone else can watch,

<sup>27</sup>because they stopped following God and did not care about any of his ways.

<sup>28</sup>The cry of the poor comes to God;
he hears the cry of the needy.

<sup>29</sup>But if God keeps quiet, who can blame him?
If he hides his face, who can see him?
God still rules over both nations and persons alike.

<sup>30</sup>He keeps the wicked from ruling and from trapping others.

<sup>31</sup>“But suppose someone says to God,
‘I am guilty, but I will not sin anymore.

<sup>32</sup>Teach me what I cannot see.
If I have done wrong, I will not do it again.’

<sup>33</sup>So, Job, should God reward you as you want when you refuse to change?

You must decide, not I,
so tell me what you know.

<sup>34</sup>“Those who understand speak,
and the wise who hear me say,

<sup>35</sup>‘Job speaks without knowing what is true;
his words show he does not understand.’

<sup>36</sup>I wish Job would be tested completely, because he answered like an evil man!

<sup>37</sup>Job now adds to his sin by turning against God.
He claps his hands in protest, speaking more and more against God.”

Life Lessons

Job 32:1–37:24

Situation

Elihu, the youngest of Job's friends, confronted Job. Elihu knew the advice of the other friends was wrong. Yet, he could not fully arrive at the right conclusion either.

Observation

Elihu turned Job's attention to some of God's attributes, including his eternity. Since God's years are innumerable, and since God is perfect, Job ought to turn reverently to the wonders of God's creation and turn from his rebellious ways.

Inspiration

Scripture says that the number of God's years is unsearchable (Job 36:26). We may search out the moment the first wave slapped on a shore or the first star burst in the sky, but we'll never find the first moment when God was God, for there is no moment when God was not God. He has never not been, for he is eternal. God is not bound by time.

But when Jesus came to the earth, all this changed. He heard for the first time a phrase never used in heaven: "Your time is up." As a child, he had to leave the Temple because his time was up. As a man, he had to leave Nazareth because his time was up. And as a Savior, he had to die because his time was up. For thirty-three years, the stallion of heaven lived in the corral of time.

That's certainly remarkable, but there is something even more so.

You want to see the brightest jewel in the treasure of incarnation? You might think it was the fact that he lived in a body. One moment he was a boundless spirit; the next he was flesh and bones. Remember these words of King David? “Where can I go to get away from your Spirit? Where can I run from you? If I go up to the heavens, you are there. If I lie down in the grave, you are there. If I rise with the sun in the east and settle in the west beyond the sea, even there you would guide me” (Psalm 139:7–10).

Our asking “Where is God?” is like a fish asking “Where is water?” or a bird asking “Where is air?” God is everywhere! Equally present in Peking and Peoria. As active in the lives of Icelanders as in the lives of Texans. The dominion of God is “from sea to sea, and from the Euphrates River to the ends of the earth” (Psalm 72:8). We cannot find a place where God is not. (From He Chose the Nails by Max Lucado)

Application

How do you react to that last sentence? How does that change your view of God? You can be comforted by the fact that God is everywhere. He cares about you no matter where you are or where you go.

Exploration

God's Eternality—Psalm 29:10; 48:14; 90:2; 93:2;
Jeremiah 10:10.

Then Elihu said:

<sup>2</sup>“Do you think this is fair?
You say, ‘God will show that I am right,’
<sup>3</sup>but you also ask, ‘What’s the use?’
I don’t gain anything by not sinning.’

<sup>4</sup>“I will answer you and your friends who are with you.

<sup>5</sup>Look up at the sky and see the clouds so high above you.

<sup>6</sup>If you sin, it does nothing to God;
even if your sins are many, they do nothing to him.

<sup>7</sup>If you are good, you give nothing to God;
he receives nothing from your hand.

<sup>8</sup>Your evil ways only hurt a man like yourself, and the good you do only helps other human beings.

<sup>9</sup>“People cry out when they are in trouble;
they beg for relief from powerful people.

<sup>10</sup>But no one asks, ‘Where is God, my Maker, who gives us songs in the night,

<sup>11</sup>who makes us smarter than the animals of the earth and wiser than the birds of the air?’

<sup>12</sup>God does not answer evil people when they cry out, because the wicked are proud.

<sup>13</sup>God does not listen to their useless begging;
the Almighty pays no attention to them.

<sup>14</sup>He will listen to you even less when you say that you do not see him,
that your case is before him,

that you must wait for him, <sup>15</sup>that his anger never punishes,
and that he doesn't notice evil.
<sup>16</sup>So Job is only speaking nonsense, saying many words without knowing what is true.”

Elihu's Speech Continues

Elihu continued:

<sup>2</sup>“Listen to me a little longer, and I will show you that there is more to be said for God.

<sup>3</sup>What I know comes from far away.
I will show that my Maker is right.

<sup>4</sup>You can be sure that my words are not false;
one who really knows is with you.

<sup>5</sup>“God is powerful, but he does not hate people;
he is powerful and sure of what he wants to do.

<sup>6</sup>He will not keep evil people alive,
but he gives the poor their rights.

<sup>7</sup>He always watches over those who do right;
he sets them on thrones with kings and they are honored forever.

<sup>8</sup>If people are bound in chains, or if trouble, like ropes, ties them up,

<sup>9</sup>God tells them what they have done,
that they have sinned in their pride.

<sup>10</sup>God makes them listen to his warning and commands them to change from doing evil.

<sup>11</sup>If they obey and serve him,
the rest of their lives will be successful,
and the rest of their years will be happy.

<sup>12</sup>But if they do not listen,
they will die by the sword,

and they will die without knowing why.

<sup>13</sup>“Those who have wicked hearts hold on to anger.
Even when God punishes them, they do not cry for help.

<sup>14</sup>They die while they are still young,
and their lives end in disgrace.

<sup>15</sup>But God saves those who suffer through their suffering;

he gets them to listen through their pain.

<sup>16</sup>“God is gently calling you from the jaws of trouble to an open place of freedom where he has set your table full of the best food.

<sup>17</sup>But now you are being punished like the wicked;
you are getting justice.

<sup>18</sup>Be careful! Don’t be led away from God by riches;
don’t let much money turn you away.

<sup>19</sup>Neither your wealth nor all your great strength will keep you out of trouble.

<sup>20</sup>Don’t wish for the night when people are taken from their homes.

<sup>21</sup>Be careful not to turn to evil,
which you seem to want more than suffering.

<sup>22</sup>“God is great and powerful;
no other teacher is like him.

<sup>23</sup>No one has planned his ways for him;
no one can say to God, ‘You have done wrong.’

<sup>24</sup>Remember to praise his work,
about which people have sung.

<sup>25</sup>Everybody has seen it;
people look at it from far off.

<sup>26</sup>God is so great, greater than we can understand!
No one knows how old he is.

<sup>27</sup>“He evaporates the drops of water from the earth and turns them into rain.

<sup>28</sup>The rain then pours down from the clouds, and showers fall on people.

<sup>29</sup>No one understands how God spreads out the clouds or how he sends thunder from where he lives.

<sup>30</sup>Watch how God scatters his lightning around him, lighting up the deepest parts of the sea.

<sup>31</sup>This is the way God governs the nations;
this is how he gives us enough food.

<sup>32</sup>God fills his hands with lightning and commands it to strike its target.

<sup>33</sup>His thunder announces the coming storm, and even the cattle know it is near.

“At the sound of his thunder, my heart pounds
as if it will jump out of my chest.

<sup>2</sup>Listen! Listen to the thunder of God’s voice and to the rumbling that comes from his mouth.

<sup>3</sup>He turns his lightning loose under the whole sky and sends it to the farthest parts of the earth.

<sup>4</sup>After that you can hear the roar
when he thunders with a great sound.
He does not hold back the flashing
when his voice is heard.

<sup>5</sup>God’s voice thunders in wonderful ways;
he does great things we cannot understand.

<sup>6</sup>He says to the snow, ‘Fall on the earth,’ and to the shower, ‘Be a heavy rain.’

<sup>7</sup>With it, he stops everyone from working so everyone knows it is the work of God.

<sup>8</sup>The animals take cover from the rain and stay in their dens.

<sup>9</sup>The storm comes from where it was stored;
the cold comes with the strong winds.

<sup>10</sup>The breath of God makes ice, and the wide waters become frozen.

<sup>11</sup>He fills the clouds with water and scatters his lightning through them.

<sup>12</sup>At his command they swirl around over the whole earth, doing whatever he commands.

<sup>13</sup>He uses the clouds to punish people or to water his earth and show his love.

JOB, LISTEN TO THIS.

Stop and notice God's miracles.

<sup>15</sup>Do you know how God controls the clouds and makes his lightning flash?

<sup>16</sup>Do you know how the clouds hang in the sky?
Do you know the miracles of God, who knows everything?

<sup>17</sup>You suffer in your clothes
when the land is silenced by the hot, south wind.

<sup>18</sup>You cannot stretch out the sky like God and make it look as hard as polished bronze.

<sup>19</sup>Tell us what we should say to him;
we cannot get our arguments ready because we do not have enough understanding.

<sup>20</sup>Should God be told that I want to speak?
Would a person ask to be swallowed up?

<sup>21</sup>No one can look at the sun
when it is bright in the sky
after the wind has blown all the clouds away.

<sup>22</sup>God comes out of the north in golden light, in overwhelming greatness.

<sup>23</sup>The Almighty is too high for us to reach.
He has great strength;
he is always right and never punishes unfairly.

<sup>24</sup>That is why people honor him;
he does not respect those who say they are wise.”

Life Lessons

Job 38:1–41:34

Situation

Job could not require God to give answers. Instead, through rhetorical questions, God revealed his power and perfection to Job. Job and his friends needed to decide how they would respond to God.

Observation

Elihu told Job that God was too powerful to communicate with people. God proved Elihu wrong by speaking to Job.

Inspiration

“God, why is this happening to me?”

So God speaks.

Out of the thunder, he speaks. Out of the sky, he speaks. For all of us who would put ditto marks under Job’s question and sign our names to it, he speaks. . . .

He speaks out of the storm and into the storm, for that is where Job is. That is where God is best heard.

God’s voice thunders in the room. Elihu sits down. Job sits up. And the two will never be the same again.

“Who is this that darkens my counsel with words without knowledge?” [Job 38:2, NIV].

Job doesn’t respond.

“Brace yourself like a man; I will question you, and you shall answer me” [Job 38:3, NIV].

“Where were you when I laid the foundations of the earth? Tell me, if you know so much” [Job 38:4, TLB].

One question would have been enough for Job, but it isn't enough for God.

“Do you know how its dimensions were determined and who did the surveying?” God asks. “What supports its foundations, and who laid its cornerstone, as the morning stars sang together and all the angels shouted for joy?” [Job 38:5–7, TLB].

Questions rush forth. They pour like sheets of rain out of the clouds. They splatter in the chambers of Job's heart with a wildness and a beauty and a terror that leave every Job who has ever lived drenched and speechless, watching the Master redefine who is who in the universe. . . .

God's questions aren't intended to teach; they are intended to stun. They aren't intended to enlighten; they are intended to awaken. They aren't intended to stir the mind; they are intended to bend the knees. . . .

Finally Job's feeble hand lifts, and God stops long enough for him to respond. “I am nothing—how could I ever find the answers? I lay my hand upon my mouth in silence. I have said too much already” [Job 40:4–5, TLB]. . . .

“I owe no one anything,” God declares in the crescendo of the wind. “Everything under the heaven is mine” [Job 41:11, TLB].

Job couldn't argue. God owes no one anything. No explanations. No excuses. No help. God has no debt, no outstanding balance, no favors to return. God owes no man anything.

Which makes the fact that he gave us everything even more astounding. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

Consider your understanding of God. Do you acknowledge God as the almighty creator and absolute authority? Can you accept his love and special concern for you? Today, take note of events or insights that remind you of these truths. Tonight, prayerfully reflect on God's greatness.

Exploration

God and People—Genesis 1:27; Exodus 15:11; Nehemiah 9:6; Psalm 103:13–18; Jeremiah 31:3; Zephaniah 3:17; Romans 3:23; Philippians 2:5–11; Hebrews 2:10–12; 1 John 3:1; Revelation 1:8.

The Lord Questions Job

Then the Lord answered Job from the storm. He said:

<sup>2</sup>“Who is this that makes my purpose unclear
by saying things that are not true?

<sup>3</sup>Be strong like a man!

I will ask you questions,
and you must answer me.

<sup>4</sup>Where were you when I made the earth’s foundation?
Tell me, if you understand.

<sup>5</sup>Who marked off how big it should be?
Surely you know!

Who stretched a ruler across it?

<sup>6</sup>What were the earth’s foundations set on,
or who put its cornerstone in place

<sup>7</sup>while the morning stars sang together and all the angels shouted with joy?

<sup>8</sup>“Who shut the doors to keep the sea in when it broke through and was born,

<sup>9</sup>when I made the clouds like a coat for the sea and wrapped it in dark clouds,

<sup>10</sup>when I put limits on the sea and put its doors and bars in place,

<sup>11</sup>when I said to the sea, ‘You may come this far, but no farther;

this is where your proud waves must stop’?

<sup>12</sup>“Have you ever ordered the morning to begin, or shown the dawn where its place was <sup>13</sup>in order to take hold of the earth by its edges and shake evil people out of it?

<sup>14</sup>At dawn the earth changes like clay being pressed by a seal;

the hills and valleys stand out like folds in a coat.

<sup>15</sup>Light is not given to evil people;
their arm is raised to do harm, but it is broken.

<sup>16</sup>“Have you ever gone to where the sea begins or walked in the valleys under the sea?

<sup>17</sup>Have the gates of death been opened to you?
Have you seen the gates of the deep darkness?

<sup>18</sup>Do you understand how wide the earth is?
Tell me, if you know all these things.

<sup>19</sup>“What is the path to light’s home, and where does darkness live?

<sup>20</sup>Can you take them to their places?
Do you know the way to their homes?

<sup>21</sup>Surely you know, if you were already born when all this happened!

Have you lived that many years?

<sup>22</sup>“Have you ever gone into the storehouse of the snow

or seen the storehouses for hail,

<sup>23</sup>which I save for times of trouble, for days of war and battle?

<sup>24</sup>Where is the place from which light comes?
Where is the place from which the east winds blow over the earth?

<sup>25</sup>Who cuts a waterway for the heavy rains and sets a path for the thunderstorm?

<sup>26</sup>Who waters the land where no one lives,
the desert that has no one in it?

<sup>27</sup>Who sends rain to satisfy the empty land
so the grass begins to grow?

<sup>28</sup>Does the rain have a father?
Who is father to the drops of dew?

<sup>29</sup>Who is the mother of the ice?
Who gives birth to the frost from the sky

<sup>30</sup>when the water becomes hard as stone, and even the surface of the ocean is frozen?

<sup>31</sup>“Can you tie up the stars of the Pleiades or loosen the ropes of the stars in Orion?

<sup>32</sup>Can you bring out the stars on time or lead out the stars of the Bear with its cubs?

<sup>33</sup>Do you know the laws of the sky and understand their rule over the earth?

<sup>34</sup>“Can you shout an order to the clouds and cover yourself with a flood of water?

<sup>35</sup>Can you send lightning bolts on their way?
Do they come to you and say, ‘Here we are’?

<sup>36</sup>Who put wisdom inside the mind or understanding in the heart?

<sup>37</sup>Who has the wisdom to count the clouds?

Who can pour water from the jars of the sky

<sup>38</sup>when the dust becomes hard and the clumps of dirt stick together?

<sup>39</sup>“Do you hunt food for the female lion to satisfy the hunger of the young lions

<sup>40</sup>while they lie in their dens or hide in the bushes waiting to attack?

<sup>41</sup>Who gives food to the birds

when their young cry out to God and wander about without food?

“Do you know when the mountain goats give birth?
Do you watch when the deer gives birth to her fawn?

<sup>2</sup>Do you count the months until they give birth and know the right time for them to give birth?

<sup>3</sup>They lie down, their young are born,
and then the pain of giving birth is over.

<sup>4</sup>Their young ones grow big and strong in the wild country.

Then they leave their homes and do not return.

<sup>5</sup>“Who let the wild donkey go free?

Who untied its ropes?

<sup>6</sup>I am the one who gave the donkey the desert as its home;

I gave it the desert lands as a place to live.

<sup>7</sup>The wild donkey laughs at the confusion in the city,
and it does not hear the drivers shout.

<sup>8</sup>It roams the hills looking for pasture, looking for anything green to eat.

<sup>9</sup>“Will the wild ox agree to serve you and stay by your feeding box at night?

<sup>10</sup>Can you hold it to the plowed row with a harness so it will plow the valleys for you?

<sup>11</sup>Will you depend on the wild ox for its great strength and leave your heavy work for it to do?

<sup>12</sup>Can you trust the ox to bring in your grain and gather it to your threshing floor?

<sup>13</sup>“The wings of the ostrich flap happily,
but they are not like the feathers of the stork.

<sup>14</sup>The ostrich lays its eggs on the ground and lets them warm in the sand.

<sup>15</sup>It does not stop to think that a foot might step on them and crush them;

it does not care that some animal might walk on them.

<sup>16</sup>The ostrich is cruel to its young, as if they were not even its own.

It does not care that its work is for nothing,

<sup>17</sup>because God did not give the ostrich wisdom;
God did not give it a share of good sense.

<sup>18</sup>But when the ostrich gets up to run, it is so fast that it laughs at the horse and its rider.

<sup>19c</sup>Job, are you the one who gives the horse its strength

or puts a flowing mane on its neck?

<sup>20</sup>Do you make the horse jump like a locust?

It scares people with its proud snorting.

<sup>21</sup>It paws wildly, enjoying its strength, and charges into battle.

it does not run away from the sword.

<sup>23</sup>The bag of arrows rattles against the horse's side, along with the flashing spears and swords.

<sup>24</sup>With great excitement, the horse races over the ground;

and it cannot stand still when it hears the trumpet.

<sup>25</sup>When the trumpet blows, the horse snorts, 'Aha!'

It smells the battle from far away;

it hears the shouts of commanders and the battle cry.

<sup>26</sup>“Is it through your wisdom that the hawk flies and spreads its wings toward the south?

<sup>27</sup>Are you the one that commands the eagle to fly and build its nest so high?

<sup>28</sup>It lives on a high cliff and stays there at night;
the rocky peak is its protected place.

<sup>29</sup>From there it looks for its food;
its eyes can see it from far away.

<sup>30</sup>Its young eat blood,
and where there is something dead, the eagle is there.”

The Lord said to Job:

<sup>2</sup>“Will the person who argues with the Almighty correct him?

Let the person who accuses God answer him.”

<sup>3</sup>Then Job answered the Lord:

<sup>4</sup>“I am not worthy; I cannot answer you anything, so I will put my hand over my mouth.

<sup>5</sup>I spoke one time, but I will not answer again; I even spoke two times, but I will say nothing more.”

I will ask you questions,
and you must answer me.

<sup>8</sup>Would you say that I am unfair?
Would you blame me to make yourself look right?

<sup>9</sup>Are you as strong as God?
Can your voice thunder like his?

<sup>10</sup>If so, then decorate yourself with glory and beauty;
dress in honor and greatness as if they were clothing.

<sup>11</sup>Let your great anger punish;
look at the proud and bring them down.

<sup>12</sup>Look at the proud and make them humble.
Crush the wicked wherever they are.

<sup>13</sup>Bury them all in the dirt together;
cover their faces in the grave.

<sup>14</sup>If you can do that, then I myself will praise you, because you are strong enough to save yourself.

<sup>15</sup>“Look at the behemoth, which I made just as I made you.

It eats grass like an ox.

<sup>16</sup>Look at the strength it has in its body;
the muscles of its stomach are powerful.

<sup>17</sup>Its tail is like a cedar tree;
the muscles of its thighs are woven together.

<sup>18</sup>Its bones are like tubes of bronze;
its legs are like bars of iron.

<sup>19</sup>It is one of the first of God’s works,
but its Maker can destroy it.

<sup>20</sup>The hills, where the wild animals play, provide food for it.

<sup>21</sup>It lies under the lotus plants,
hidden by the tall grass in the swamp.

<sup>22</sup>The lotus plants hide it in their shadow;
the poplar trees by the streams surround it.

<sup>23</sup>If the river floods, it will not be afraid;
it is safe even if the Jordan River rushes to its mouth.

<sup>24</sup>Can anyone blind its eyes and capture it?
Can anyone put hooks in its nose?

“Can you catch the leviathan on a fish hook or tie its tongue down with a rope?

<sup>2</sup>Can you put a cord through its nose or a hook in its jaw?

<sup>3</sup>Will it keep begging you for mercy and speak to you with gentle words?

<sup>4</sup>Will it make an agreement with you and let you take it as your slave for life?

<sup>5</sup>Can you make a pet of the leviathan as you would a bird

or put it on a leash for your girls?

<sup>6</sup>Will traders try to bargain with you for it?
Will they divide it up among the merchants?

<sup>7</sup>Can you stick darts all over its skin or fill its head with fishing spears?

<sup>8</sup>If you put one hand on it,
you will never forget the battle,
and you will never do it again!

<sup>9</sup>There is no hope of defeating it;
just seeing it overwhelms people.

<sup>10</sup>No one is brave enough to make it angry,
so who would be able to stand up against me?

<sup>11</sup>No one has ever given me anything that I must pay back,

because everything under the sky belongs to me.

<sup>12</sup>“I will speak about Leviathan’s arms and legs, its great strength and well-formed body.

<sup>13</sup>No one can tear off its outer hide or poke through its double armor.

<sup>14</sup>No one can force open its great jaws;
they are filled with frightening teeth.

<sup>15</sup>It has rows of shields on its back that are tightly sealed together.

<sup>16</sup>Each shield is so close to the next one that no air can go between them.

<sup>17</sup>They are joined strongly to one another;
they hold on to each other and cannot be separated.

<sup>18</sup>When it snorts, flashes of light are thrown out,
and its eyes look like the light at dawn.

<sup>19</sup>Flames blaze from its mouth;
sparks of fire shoot out.

<sup>20</sup>Smoke pours out of its nose,
as if coming from a large pot over a hot fire.

<sup>21</sup>Its breath sets coals on fire, and flames come out of its mouth.

<sup>22</sup>There is great strength in its neck.
People are afraid and run away.

<sup>23</sup>The folds of its skin are tightly joined;
they are set and cannot be moved.

<sup>24</sup>Its chest is as hard as a rock,
even as hard as a grinding stone.

<sup>25</sup>The powerful fear its terrible looks and draw back in fear as it moves.

<sup>26</sup>The sword that hits it does not hurt it, nor the arrows, darts, and spears.

<sup>27</sup>It treats iron as if it were straw and bronze metal as if it were rotten wood.

<sup>28</sup>It does not run away from arrows;
stones from slings are like chaff to it.

<sup>29</sup>Clubs feel like pieces of straw to it, and it laughs when they shake a spear at it.

<sup>30</sup>The underside of its body is like broken pieces of pottery.

It leaves a trail in the mud like a threshing board.

<sup>31</sup>It makes the deep sea bubble like a boiling pot;
it stirs up the sea like a pot of oil.

<sup>32</sup>When it swims, it leaves a shining path in the water that makes the sea look as if it had white hair.

<sup>33</sup>Nothing else on earth is equal to it;
it is a creature without fear.

<sup>34</sup>It looks down on all those who are too proud;
it is king over all proud creatures.”

Job Answers the Lord

Then Job answered the Lord:

<sup>2</sup>“I know that you can do all things and that no plan of yours can be ruined.

<sup>3</sup>You asked, ‘Who is this that made my purpose unclear by saying things that are not true?’

Surely I spoke of things I did not understand;
I talked of things too wonderful for me to know.

<sup>4</sup>You said, ‘Listen now, and I will speak.
I will ask you questions,
and you must answer me.’

<sup>5</sup>My ears had heard of you before, but now my eyes have seen you.

<sup>6</sup>So now I hate myself;
I will change my heart and life.

I will sit in the dust and ashes.”

End of the Story

<sup>7</sup>After the Lord had said these things to Job, he said to Eliphaz the Temanite, “I am angry with you and your two friends, because you have not said what is right about me, as my servant Job did. <sup>8</sup>Now take seven bulls and seven male sheep, and go to my servant Job, and offer a burnt offering for yourselves. My servant Job will pray for you, and I will listen to his prayer. Then I will not punish you for being foolish. You have not said what is right about me, as my servant Job did.”

<sup>9</sup>So Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite did as the Lord said, and the Lord listened to Job’s prayer.

<sup>10</sup>After Job had prayed for his friends, the Lord gave him success again. The Lord gave Job twice as much as he had owned before. <sup>11</sup>Job’s brothers and sisters came to his house, along with everyone who had known him before, and they all ate with him there. They comforted him and made him feel better about the trouble the Lord had brought on him, and each one gave Job a piece of silver and a gold ring.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord blessed the last part of Job’s life even more than the first part. Job had fourteen thousand sheep, six thousand camels, a thousand teams of oxen, and a thousand female donkeys. <sup>13</sup>Job also had seven sons and three daughters. <sup>14</sup>He named the first daughter Jemimah, the second daughter Keziah, and the third daughter Keren-Happuch. <sup>15</sup>There were no other women in all the land as beautiful as Job’s daughters. And their father Job gave them land to own along with their brothers.

<sup>16</sup>After this, Job lived one hundred forty years. He lived to see his children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and great-great-grandchildren. <sup>17</sup>Then Job died; he was old and had lived many years.

Life Lessons

Job 42:1–17

Situation

Job learned of God’s greatness and humbly prayed. God graciously restored Job's material blessings and family.

Observation

We are better able to appreciate blessings if we endure hardship.

Inspiration

All his life, Job had been a good man. All his life, he had believed in God. All his life, he had discussed God, had notions about him, and had prayed to him.

But in the storm Job sees him!

He sees Hope. Lover. Destroyer. Giver. Taker. Dreamer. Deliverer. Job sees the tender anger of a God whose unending love is often received with peculiar mistrust. Job stands as a blade of grass against the consuming fire of God's splendor. Job's demands melt like wax as God pulls back the curtain and heaven's light falls unclipped across the earth.

Job sees God.

God could turn away at this point. The gavel has been slammed, the verdict has been rendered. The Eternal Judge has spoken.

Ah, but God is not angry with Job. Firm? Yes. Direct? No doubt. Clear and convincing? Absolutely. But angry? No.

God is never irritated by the candle of an honest seeker.

If you underline any passage in the Book of Job, underline this one: "My ears had heard of you before, but now my eyes have seen you" [Job 42:5].

Job sees God—and that is enough.

But it isn't enough for God.

The years to come find Job once again sitting behind his mahogany desk with health restored and profits up. His lap is once again full of children and grandchildren and great-grandchildren—for four generations!

If Job ever wonders why God doesn't bring back the children he had taken away, he doesn't ask. Maybe he doesn't ask because he knows that his children could never be happier than they are in the presence of this One he has seen so briefly.

Something tells me that Job would do it all again, if that's what it took to hear God's voice and stand in the Presence. Even if God left him with his bedsores and bills, Job would do it again.

For God gave Job more than Job ever dreamed. God gave Job himself. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

The Book of Psalms

Introduction

Worship. In two thousand years we haven't worked out the kinks. We still struggle for the right words in prayer. We still fumble over Scripture. We don't know when to kneel. We don't know when to stand. We don't know how to pray.

Worship is a daunting task.

For that reason, God gave us the Psalms—a praisebook for God's people. The Psalms could be titled God's Book of Common Prayer. This collection of hymns and petitions are strung together by one thread—a heart hungry for God.

Some are defiant. Others are reverent. Some are to be sung. Others are to be prayed. Some are intensely personal. Others are written as if the whole world would use them. Some were penned in caves, others in temples.

But all have one purpose—to give us the words to say when we stand before God.

The very variety should remind us that worship is personal. No secret formula exists. What moves you may stymie another. Each worships differently. But each should worship.

This book will help you do just that.

Here is a hint. Don't just read the prayers of these saints, pray them. Experience their energy. Imitate their honesty. Enjoy their creativity. Let these souls lead you in worship.

And let's remember. The language of worship is not polished, perfect, or advanced. It's just honest.

Book 1

Life Lessons

Psalms 1:1–3:8

Situation

Life offers two roads to travel—the way of the righteous or the way of the wicked. God provides, protects, and nourishes the righteous.

Observation

Follow the faithful road. God’s rewards supersede the benefits of the wicked.

Inspiration

Many people in society want to live a more stable life. To those who are filled with anxiety and unable to cope with their circumstances, the world offers a myriad of solutions that don’t work.

Unfortunately, many churches have followed the world in believing that man can only solve his problems through secular psychology—a product that can’t live up to its promises.

Where can you find stability? The answer is in Psalm 1. It begins, “How blessed is the man who does not walk in the counsel of the wicked, nor stand in the path of sinners!” (v. 1, NASB) and ends, “Therefore the wicked will not stand in the judgment . . . For the Lord knows the way of the righteous, but the way of the wicked will perish” (vv. 5–6).

The person who walks with God knows stability, but the one who rejects Him flounders in meaningless existence. Which would you rather be?

(From Truth for Today by John MacArthur)

Application

God has set before you two choices. If you want the Lord to protect you, provide for you, and nourish you, why pursue the path that leads to judgment? Consider the path you now are on. What changes, if any, do you need to make in order to get back on the right track?

Exploration

Choices—Deuteronomy 4:25–31; 11:26–28; 30:19–20; Joshua 24:15; 1 Kings 18:21.

Two Ways to Live

Happy are those who don't listen to the wicked, who don't go where sinners go,
who don't do what evil people do.

<sup>2</sup>They love the Lord's teachings,
and they think about those teachings day and night.

The tree produces fruit in season,
and its leaves don't die.

Everything they do will succeed.

<sup>4</sup>But wicked people are not like that.

They are like chaff that the wind blows away.

<sup>5</sup>So the wicked will not escape God's punishment.
Sinners will not worship with God's people.

but the wicked will be destroyed.

The Lord's Chosen King

Why are the nations so angry?
Why are the people making useless plans?

<sup>2</sup>The kings of the earth prepare to fight,
and their leaders make plans together against the Lord
and his appointed one.

<sup>3</sup>They say, "Let's break the chains that hold us back and throw off the ropes that tie us down."

<sup>4</sup>But the one who sits in heaven laughs;
the Lord makes fun of them.

<sup>5</sup>Then the Lord warns them and frightens them with his anger.

<sup>6</sup>He says, "I have appointed my own king to rule in Jerusalem on my holy mountain, Zion."

<sup>7</sup>Now I will tell you what the Lord has declared:
He said to me, "You are my son.
Today I have become your father.

<sup>8</sup>If you ask me, I will give you the nations;
all the people on earth will be yours.

<sup>9</sup>You will rule over them with an iron rod.
You will break them into pieces like pottery."

<sup>10</sup>So, kings, be wise;
rulers, learn this lesson.

<sup>11</sup>Obey the Lord with great fear.
Be happy, but tremble.

<sup>12</sup>Show that you are loyal to his son, or you will be destroyed by his anger,
because he can quickly become angry.
But happy are those who trust him for protection.

A Morning Prayer

David sang this when he ran away from his son Absalom.

Lord, I have many enemies!
Many people have turned against me.
<sup>2</sup>Many are saying about me,
“God won’t rescue him.”

Selah

<sup>3</sup>But, Lord, you are my shield, my wonderful God who gives me courage.
<sup>4</sup>I will pray to the Lord,
and he will answer me from his holy mountain.

Selah

<sup>5</sup>I can lie down and go to sleep, and I will wake up again,
because the Lord gives me strength.
<sup>6</sup>Thousands of troops may surround me, but I am not afraid.

My God, come save me!
You have struck my enemies on the cheek;
you have broken the teeth of the wicked.
<sup>8</sup>The Lord can save his people.
Lord, bless your people.

Selah

Life Lessons

Psalms 4:1–6:10

Situation

David rejoiced because of God’s protection and peace. He encouraged others to trust in God.

Observation

Godly people can place their confidence in God because he listens to them and puts joy in their hearts.

Inspiration

In August of 1930, forty-five-year-old Joseph Crater waved goodbye to friends after an evening meal in a New York restaurant, flagged down a taxi, and rode off. He was never seen or heard from again....

A search of his apartment revealed one clue. It was a note attached to a check, and both were left for his wife. The check was for a sizable amount and the note simply read, “I am very weary. Love, Joe.”

The note could have been nothing more than a thought at the end of a hard day. Or it could have meant a great deal more—the epitaph of a despairing man.

Weariness is tough. I don’t mean the physical weariness that comes with mowing the lawn, or the mental weariness that follows a hard day of decisions and thinking. No, the weariness that attacked Judge Crater is much worse. It’s the weariness that comes just before you give up. That feeling of honest desperation. It's the dispirited father, the abandoned child, or the retiree with time on his hands. It's that stage in life when motivation disappears; the children grow up, a job is lost, a wife dies. The result is weariness—deep, lonely, frustrated weariness.

Only one man in history has claimed to have an answer for it. He stands before all the Joseph Craters of the world with the same promise: “Come to me, all you who are weary ... and I will give you rest” (Matthew 11:28). (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Application

Ask God for a new sense of joy and love. When tension mounts, pause to thank God for his love.

An Evening Prayer

For the director of music. With stringed instruments. A psalm of David.

Answer me when I pray to you,
my God who does what is right.
Make things easier for me when I am in trouble.
Have mercy on me and hear my prayer.

<sup>2</sup>People, how long will you turn my honor into shame?
How long will you love what is false and look for new lies?

Selah

<sup>3</sup>You know that the Lord has chosen for himself those who are loyal to him.

The Lord listens when I pray to him.

<sup>4</sup>When you are angry, do not sin.
Think about these things quietly
as you go to bed.

Selah

<sup>5</sup>Do what is right as a sacrifice to the Lord and trust the Lord.

<sup>6</sup>Many people ask,
“Who will give us anything good?”
Lord, be kind to us.

<sup>7</sup>But you have made me very happy, happier than they are,

even with all their grain and new wine.
<sup>8</sup>I go to bed and sleep in peace, because, Lord, only you keep me safe.

A Morning Prayer for Protection

For the director of music. For flutes. A psalm of David.

Lord, listen to my words.

Understand my sadness.

<sup>2</sup>Listen to my cry for help, my King and my God, because I pray to you.

<sup>3</sup>Lord, every morning you hear my voice.
Every morning, I tell you what I need,
and I wait for your answer.

<sup>4</sup>You are not a God who is pleased with the wicked;
you do not live with those who do evil.

<sup>5</sup>Those people who make fun of you cannot stand before you.

You hate all those who do evil.

<sup>6</sup>You destroy liars;
the Lord hates those who kill and trick others.

<sup>7</sup>Because of your great love,
I can come into your Temple.
Because I fear and respect you,
I can worship in your holy Temple.

<sup>8</sup>Lord, since I have many enemies, show me the right thing to do.
Show me clearly how you want me to live.

<sup>9</sup>My enemies' mouths do not tell the truth;
in their hearts they want to destroy others.

Their throats are like open graves;
they use their tongues for telling lies.

<sup>10</sup>God, declare them guilty!

Let them fall into their own traps.

Send them away because their sins are many;
they have turned against you.

<sup>11</sup>But let everyone who trusts you be happy;
let them sing glad songs forever.

Protect those who love you and who are happy because of you.

<sup>12</sup>Lord, you bless those who do what is right;
you protect them like a soldier's shield.

A Prayer for Mercy in Troubled Times

For the director of music. With stringed instruments. Upon the sheminith. A psalm of David.

Lord, don't correct me when you are angry;
don't punish me when you are very angry.

<sup>2</sup>Lord, have mercy on me because I am weak.
Heal me, Lord, because my bones ache.

<sup>3</sup>I am very upset.

Lord, how long will it be?

<sup>4</sup>Lord, return and save me;
save me because of your kindness.

<sup>5</sup>Dead people don't remember you;
those in the grave don't praise you.

<sup>6</sup>I am tired of crying to you.
Every night my bed is wet with tears;
my bed is soaked from my crying.

<sup>7</sup>My eyes are weak from so much crying;
they are weak from crying about my enemies.

<sup>8</sup>Get away from me, all you who do evil,
because the Lord has heard my crying.

<sup>9</sup>The Lord has heard my cry for help;
the Lord will answer my prayer.

<sup>10</sup>All my enemies will be ashamed and troubled.
They will turn and suddenly leave in shame.

Life Lessons

Psalms 7:1–8:9

Situation

This psalm may have been David's response to slanderous accusations. Some accused him of trying to kill King Saul and seize the throne (1 Samuel 24:9–11).

Observation

Depend on God to bring justice. God judges perfectly when you are falsely accused.

Inspiration

God's power to take the most negative situations and turn them into positive realities worthy of His praise is demonstrated throughout biblical history. There is not a crisis that goes beyond the bounds of God's creative power. Whether the difficulties come from Satan or other people, or are self-inflicted, or are experienced in the process of our obedience, it is the prerogative of God to rearrange, reconstruct, reinterpret, and realign the situation to bring glory and praise to His name... Even Christ's death on the cross was transformed by the power of God into positive results and residual benefits of the redemption that many of us have come to know and enjoy. Since God is just, all that He permits is consistent with His justice... God's justice guarantees that ultimately all that is unfair will be dealt with. We are naive to assume that all of life in its fallen condition is fair and just. It is only safe to realize that God is just and that in His time and in His own way He will deal with both the injustice and those who have been unjust. (From The Upside of Down by Joseph Stowell)

Application

Think of a time when you were falsely accused. What did you do? Did you turn to God as David did, or did you take matters into your own hands? The next time you face injustice, remember that God perfectly judges all difficult matters. Turn the injustices over to him.

Exploration

Justice of God—Exodus 34:6-7; Deuteronomy 32:4; Job 34:17-30; Psalm 58:11; 140:12; Luke 18:7-8.

A Prayer for Fairness

A shiggaion of David which he sang to the Lord about Cush, from the tribe of Benjamin.

Lord my God, I trust in you for protection.

Save me and rescue me from those who are chasing me.

<sup>2</sup>Otherwise, like a lion they will tear me apart.
They will rip me to pieces, and no one can save me.

<sup>3</sup>Lord my God, what have I done?
Have my hands done something wrong?

<sup>4</sup>Have I done wrong to my friend or stolen without reason from my enemy?

<sup>5</sup>If I have, let my enemy chase me and capture me.
Let him trample me into the dust
and bury me in the ground.

Selah

<sup>6</sup>Lord, rise up in your anger;
stand up against my enemies' anger.
Get up and demand fairness.

<sup>7</sup>Gather the nations around you and rule them from above.

<sup>8</sup>Lord, judge the people.
Lord, defend me because I am right,
because I have done no wrong, God Most High.

<sup>9</sup>God, you do what is right.
You know our thoughts and feelings.
Stop those wicked actions done by evil people,
and help those who do what is right.

<sup>10</sup>God protects me like a shield;
he saves those whose hearts are right.

<sup>11</sup>God judges by what is right,
and God is always ready to punish the wicked.

<sup>12</sup>If they do not change their lives,
God will sharpen his sword;
he will string his bow and take aim.

<sup>13</sup>He has prepared his deadly weapons;
he has made his flaming arrows.

<sup>14</sup>There are people who think up evil and plan trouble and tell lies.

<sup>15</sup>They dig a hole to trap others,
but they will fall into it themselves.

<sup>16</sup>They will get themselves into trouble;
the violence they cause will hurt only themselves.

<sup>17</sup>I praise the Lord because he does what is right.
I sing praises to the Lord Most High.

The Lord's Greatness

For the director of music. On the gittith. A psalm of David.

Lord our Lord,
your name is the most wonderful name in all the earth!
It brings you praise in heaven above.
<sup>2</sup>You have taught children and babies to sing praises to you
because of your enemies.
And so you silence your enemies and destroy those who try to get even.

<sup>3</sup>I look at your heavens, which you made with your fingers.
I see the moon and stars,
which you created.

<sup>4</sup>But why are people important to you?
Why do you take care of human beings?

<sup>5</sup>You made them a little lower than the angels and crowned them with glory and honor.

<sup>6</sup>You put them in charge of everything you made.
You put all things under their control:

<sup>7</sup>all the sheep, the cattle,
and the wild animals,

<sup>8</sup>the birds in the sky,
the fish in the sea,
and everything that lives under water.

<sup>9</sup>Lord our Lord,

your name is the most wonderful name in all the earth!

Life Lessons

Psalms 9:1–10:18

Situation

David and other psalmists praised God as a way of saying thank you. God helped David and the Israelites. They knew God would show his constant care in the future, too.

Observation

God is never deaf to his children's cries for help.

Inspiration

The Bible is a Christian's guidebook, and I believe the knowledge it sheds on pain and suffering is the great antidote to fear for suffering people....

When I suffer pain over any length of time I try to reflect on the good which the Bible has promised pain is producing in me....

"How does suffering accomplish this?" I ask myself. It produces perseverance, or steadiness, by slowing me down, by forcing me to turn to God, by proving to me that I can survive a crisis....

The Bible is filled with resources available to one trying to stave off fears and helplessness. Reading Job's thrashings in fear about God's seeming lack of concern can make mine easier to bear... . And knowledge about prayer to a loving God can ward off frenzied efforts to "muster up faith" in hopes of impressing God—prayer does not work that way, as the Bible shows. God is already full of loving concern; we do not need to impress Him with spiritual calisthenics....

Attitudes of fear and helplessness affect the quantity of suffering. At least we have the inspiring examples of those who have proved that the human spirit can ascend through the words of circumstances. And because man is both body and spirit, Christianity can offer a true and healing hope. (From Where Is God When It Hurts by Philip Yancey)

Application

Whenever you face a trial, pray for God's help. Pray that God will be glorified in the situation. And thank him for the care he shows.

Thanksgiving for Victory

For the director of music. To the tune of "The Death of the Son." A psalm of David.

I will praise you, Lord, with all my heart.

I will tell all the miracles you have done.

<sup>2</sup>I will be happy because of you;

God Most High, I will sing praises to your name.

<sup>3</sup>My enemies turn back;

they are overwhelmed and die because of you.

<sup>4</sup>You have heard my complaint;

you sat on your throne and judged by what was right.

<sup>5</sup>You spoke strongly against the foreign nations and destroyed the wicked;

you wiped out their names forever and ever.

You destroyed their cities;

no one even remembers them.

He sits on his throne to judge,

<sup>8</sup>and he will judge the world in fairness;

he will decide what is fair for the nations.

he defends them in times of trouble.

<sup>10</sup>Those who know the Lord trust him, because he will not leave those who come to him.

<sup>11</sup>Sing praises to the Lord who is king on Mount Zion.
Tell the nations what he has done.

<sup>12</sup>He remembers who the murderers are;
he will not forget the cries of those who suffer.

<sup>13</sup>Lord, have mercy on me.
See how my enemies hurt me.

Do not let me go through the gates of death.

<sup>14</sup>Then, at the gates of Jerusalem, I will praise you;
I will rejoice because you saved me.

<sup>15</sup>The nations have fallen into the pit they dug.
Their feet are caught in the nets they laid.

<sup>16</sup>The Lord has made himself known by his fair decisions;
the wicked get trapped by what they do.

Higgaion. Selah

<sup>17</sup>Wicked people will go to the grave, and so will all those who forget God.

<sup>18</sup>But those who have troubles will not be forgotten.
The hopes of the poor will never die.

<sup>19</sup>Lord, rise up and judge the nations.
Don't let people think they are strong.

<sup>20</sup>Teach them to fear you, Lord.
The nations must learn that they are only human.

Selah

A Complaint About Evil People

Lord, why are you so far away?
Why do you hide when there is trouble?

<sup>2</sup>Proudly the wicked chase down those who suffer.
Let them be caught in their own traps.

<sup>3</sup>They brag about the things they want.
They bless the greedy but hate the Lord.

<sup>4</sup>The wicked people are too proud.
They do not look for God;
there is no room for God in their thoughts.

<sup>5</sup>They always succeed.
They are far from keeping your laws;
they make fun of their enemies.

<sup>6</sup>They say to themselves, “Nothing bad will ever happen to me;

I will never be ruined.”

<sup>7</sup>Their mouths are full of curses, lies, and threats;
they use their tongues for sin and evil.

<sup>8</sup>They hide near the villages.
They look for innocent people to kill;
they watch in secret for the helpless.

<sup>9</sup>They wait in hiding like a lion.
They wait to catch poor people;
they catch the poor in nets.

<sup>10</sup>The poor are thrown down and crushed;
they are defeated because the others are stronger.

<sup>11</sup>The wicked think, “God has forgotten us.
He doesn’t see what is happening.”

<sup>12</sup>Lord, do not be angry with the wicked

“Lord, rise up and punish the wicked.
Don’t forget those who need help.

<sup>13</sup>Why do wicked people hate God?
They say to themselves, “God won’t punish us.”

<sup>14</sup>Lord, surely you see these cruel and evil things;
look at them and do something.

People in trouble look to you for help.
You are the one who helps the orphans.

<sup>15</sup>Break the power of wicked people.
Punish them for the evil they have done.

Destroy from your land those nations that do not worship you.

<sup>17</sup>Lord, you have heard what the poor people want.
Do what they ask, and listen to them.

<sup>18</sup>Protect the orphans and put an end to suffering so they will no longer be afraid of evil people.

Life Lessons

Psalms 11:1–13:6

Situation

David complained to God about the evil in society. The wicked seemed to prosper, while the righteous suffered.

Observation

God will punish evil at the proper time. Until then, he will protect us.

Inspiration

There are snowstorms. There are hailstorms. There are rainstorms. And there are doubtstorms.

Every so often a doubtstorm rolls into my life, bringing with it a flurry of questions and gale-force winds of fear. And, soon after it comes, a light shines through it.

Sometimes the storm comes after the evening news. Some nights I wonder why I watch it. Some nights it's just too much. From the steps of the Supreme Court to the steppes of South Africa, the news is usually gloomy ... thirty minutes of bite-sized tragedies. A handsome man in a nice suit with a warm voice gives bad news. They call him the anchorman. Good title. One needs an anchor in today's tempestuous waters....

Sometimes the storm comes when I'm at work. Story after story of homes that won't heal and hearts that won't melt. Always more hunger than food. More needs than money. More questions than answers. On Sundays I stand before a church with a three-point outline in my hand, thirty minutes on the clock, and a prayer on my lips. I do my best to say something that will convince a stranger that an unseen God still hears.

And I sometimes wonder why so many hearts have to hurt.

Do you ever get doubtstorms? Some of you don't, I know. I've talked to you. Some of you have a "Davidish" optimism that defies any Goliath. I used to think that you were naive at best and phony at worst.

I don't think that anymore.

I think you are gifted. You are gifted with faith. You can see the rainbow before the clouds part. If you have this gift, then skip this chapter. I won't say anything you need to hear.

But others of you wonder ...

You wonder what others know that you don't. You wonder if you are blind or if they are. You wonder why some proclaim "Eureka" before the gold is found. You wonder why some shout "Land ho" before the fog has cleared. You wonder how some people believe so confidently while you believe so reluctantly.

As a result, you are a bit uncomfortable on the padded pew of blind belief. Your Bible hero is Thomas. Your middle name is Caution. Your queries are the bane of every Sunday school teacher.

"If God is so good, why do I sometimes feel so bad?"

"If his message is so clear, why do I get so confused?”

“If the Father is in control, why do good people have gut-wrenching problems?”

You wonder if it is a blessing or a curse to have a mind that never rests. . . .

Tough questions. Throwin-the-towel questions. Questions the disciples must have asked. . . .

Where is God when his world is stormy?

Doubtstorms: turbulent days when the enemy is too big, the task too great, the future too bleak, and the answers too few. . . .

“When God comes,” we doubters think, “all pain will flee. Life will be tranquil. No questions will remain.”

And because we look for the bonfire, we miss the candle. Because we listen for the shout, we miss the whisper.

But it is in burnished candles that God comes, and through whispered promises he speaks: “When you doubt, look around; I am closer than you think.” (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

In what ways do you see evil people prospering and righteous people suffering? Your challenge is to wait; to trust that God will one day balance the scales.

Trust in the Lord

For the director of music. Of David.

I trust in the Lord for protection.

So why do you say to me,

“Fly like a bird to your mountain.

<sup>2</sup>Like hunters, the wicked string their bows;

they set their arrows on the bowstrings.

They shoot from dark places

at those who are honest.

<sup>3</sup>When all that is good falls apart, what can good people do?”

the Lord sits on his throne in heaven.

He sees what people do;

he keeps his eye on them.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord tests those who do right, but he hates the wicked and those who love to hurt

others.

<sup>6</sup>He will send hot coals and burning sulfur on the wicked.

A whirlwind is what they will get.

so honest people will see his face.

A Prayer Against Liars

For the director of music. Upon the sheminith. A psalm of David.

Save me, Lord, because the good people are all gone;
no true believers are left on earth.

<sup>2</sup>Everyone lies to his neighbors;
they say one thing and mean another.

<sup>3</sup>The Lord will stop those flattering lips and cut off those bragging tongues.

<sup>4</sup>They say, “Our tongues will help us win.
We can say what we wish; no one is our master.”

<sup>5</sup>But the Lord says,
“I will now rise up,
because the poor are being hurt.
Because of the moans of the helpless,
I will give them the help they want.”

<sup>6</sup>The Lord’s words are pure, like silver purified by fire,
like silver purified seven times over.

<sup>7</sup>Lord, you will keep us safe;
you will always protect us from such people.

<sup>8</sup>But the wicked are all around us;
everyone loves what is wrong.

A Prayer for God to Be Near

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

How long will you forget me, Lord? Forever?

How long will you hide from me?

<sup>2</sup>How long must I worry and feel sad in my heart all day?

How long will my enemy win over me?

<sup>3</sup>Lord, look at me.

Answer me, my God;
tell me, or I will die.

<sup>4</sup>Otherwise my enemy will say, "I have won!"
Those against me will rejoice that I've been defeated.

<sup>5</sup>I trust in your love.

My heart is happy because you saved me.

<sup>6</sup>I sing to the Lord because he has taken care of me.

Life Lessons

Psalms 14:1–15:5

Situation

David mourned or lamented. He may have written Psalm 14 when enemies pressed in on him. David wrote Psalm 15 in a liturgical style. Perhaps he taught this song to the Israelites as a reminder of godly living.

Observation

Evil, wickedness, and deceit define how a world without God behaves. Yet the righteous live according to God's commands. Truth, justice, and a passion for righteousness please God.

Inspiration

The goal of Christian growth is the achievement of righteousness. In the Christian world today such a statement may sound radical. Christians hardly ever talk about righteousness. The word has almost become a swear word. Nearly any other term is preferred to the word "righteousness." I have never had a student, a parishioner, or any other person come to me and ask, "How can I become righteous?"

To be spiritual has only one real purpose. It is a means to an end, not the end itself. The goal of all spiritual exercise must be the goal of righteousness. God calls us to be holy. Christ sets the priority of the Christian life: "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." The goal is righteousness. (From The

Holiness of God by R. C. Sproul)

Application

Live according to God's high moral standards. Make decisions as if God were your companion in all your activities—for he is!

Exploration

Righteousness—Daniel 4:27; Hosea 10:12; Matthew 5:20; Ephesians 6:14; Philippians 1:9–11; 1 Timothy 6:11; 2 Peter 3:11.

The Unbelieving Fool

For the director of music. Of David.

Fools say to themselves,
“There is no God.”
Fools are evil and do terrible things;
there is no one who does anything good.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord looked down from heaven on all people to see if anyone understood,
if anyone was looking to God for help.

<sup>3</sup>But all have turned away.
Together, everyone has become evil.
There is no one who does anything good,
not even one.

<sup>4</sup>Don't the wicked understand?
They destroy my people as if they were eating bread.
They do not ask the Lord for help.

<sup>5</sup>But the wicked are filled with terror,
because God is with those who do what is right.

<sup>6</sup>The wicked upset the plans of the poor,
but the Lord will protect them.

<sup>7</sup>I pray that victory will come to Israel from Mount Zion!

May the Lord bring them back.

Then the people of Jacob will rejoice,
and the people of Israel will be glad.

What the Lord Demands

A psalm of David.

Lord, who may enter your Holy Tent?
Who may live on your holy mountain?

<sup>2</sup>Only those who are innocent and who do what is right.
Such people speak the truth from their hearts <sup>3</sup>and do not tell lies about others.

They do no wrong to their neighbors and do not gossip.

<sup>4</sup>They do not respect hateful people but honor those who honor the Lord.
They keep their promises to their neighbors,
even when it hurts.

<sup>5</sup>They do not charge interest on money they lend and do not take money to hurt innocent people.
Whoever does all these things will never be destroyed.

Life Lessons

Psalms 16:1–17:15

Situation

David's prayers revealed his trust in and reliance upon God, both in this life and in the life to come.

Observation

David's trust in God inspires Christians today.

Inspiration

The Bible tells us our God is so trustworthy that we are to throw our confidence on Him, not leaning on our own understanding (Proverbs 3:5). God has already proved how much His love can be trusted by sending Christ to die for us. Wasn't that enough? Not for me. I always wanted to be on the inside looking out—sitting with the Lord up in the control tower instead of down on the confusing ground level. He couldn't be trusted unless I was there to oversee things! What a low view of my Master and Creator I had held all these years! How could I have dared to assume that almighty God owed me explanations! Did I think that because I had done God the "favor" of becoming a Christian, He must now check things out with me? Was the Lord of the universe under obligation to show me how the trials of every human being fit into the tapestry of life? Had I never read Deuteronomy 29:29, "There are secrets the Lord your God has not revealed to us" (LB)?

What made me think that even if He explained all His ways to me I would be able to understand them?

It would be like pouring million-gallon truths into my one-ounce brain. (From A Step Further by Joni Eareckson Tada)

Application

Find an enticing jigsaw puzzle and try putting it together. As you experience the challenge and frustration of finding the right pieces, stop and read these psalms again. Note the connections you can make with these psalms, the puzzle, and your life. Rest in the fact that God has already put together the “big picture” of your life.

Exploration

Trust—Proverbs 3:5–7; Victory—1 Timothy 1:18; 6:12; 2 Timothy 4:7.

The Lord Takes Care of His People

A miktam of David.

Protect me, God,
because I trust in you.

<sup>2</sup>I said to the Lord, "You are my Lord.
Every good thing I have comes from you."

<sup>3</sup>As for the godly people in the world, they are the wonderful ones I enjoy.

<sup>4</sup>But those who turn to idols will have much pain.
I will not offer blood to those idols or even speak their names.

<sup>5</sup>No, the Lord is all I need.
He takes care of me.

<sup>6</sup>My share in life has been pleasant;
my part has been beautiful.

<sup>7</sup>I praise the Lord because he advises me.
Even at night, I feel his leading.

<sup>8</sup>I keep the Lord before me always.
Because he is close by my side,
I will not be hurt.

<sup>9</sup>So I rejoice and am glad.
Even my body has hope,

<sup>10</sup>because you will not leave me in the grave.

You will not let your holy one rot.

<sup>11</sup>You will teach me how to live a holy life.

Being with you will fill me with joy;

at your right hand I will find pleasure forever.

A Prayer for Protection

A prayer of David.

Lord, hear me begging for fairness;
listen to my cry for help.

Pay attention to my prayer,
because I speak the truth.

<sup>2</sup>You will judge that I am right;
your eyes can see what is true.

<sup>3</sup>You have examined my heart;
you have tested me all night.

You questioned me without finding anything wrong;
I have not sinned with my mouth.

<sup>4</sup>I have obeyed your commands,
so I have not done what evil people do.

<sup>5</sup>I have done what you told me;
I have not failed.

<sup>6</sup>I call to you, God,
and you answer me.

Listen to me now,
and hear what I say.

<sup>7</sup>Your love is wonderful.

By your power you save those who trust you from their enemies.

<sup>8</sup>Protect me as you would protect your own eye.
Hide me under the shadow of your wings.

<sup>9</sup>Keep me from the wicked who attack me,
from my enemies who surround me.

<sup>10</sup>They are selfish and brag about themselves.

<sup>11</sup>They have chased me until they have surrounded me.
They plan to throw me to the ground.

<sup>12</sup>They are like lions ready to kill;
like lions, they sit in hiding.

<sup>13</sup>Lord, rise up, face the enemy, and throw them down.
Save me from the wicked with your sword.

<sup>14</sup>Lord, save me by your power from those whose reward is in this life.
They have plenty of food.
They have many sons
and leave much money to their children.

When I wake up, I will see your likeness and be satisfied.

Life Lessons

Psalm 18:1-50

Situation

King David cried out to God in great distress. He recognized that God would save him through his mighty power.

Observation

In this beautiful praise song to the Lord, David acknowledged that help and deliverance come only from God. David also included the many reasons that God saves and helps his people.

Inspiration

May I share with you a favorite verse of mine? I like it so much I wrote it on the first page of my Bible.

“Because he delights in me, he saved me” (Psalm 18:19).

And you thought he saved you because of your decency. You thought he saved you because of your good works or good attitude or good looks. Sorry. If that were the case, your salvation would be lost when your voice went south or your works got weak. There are many reasons God saves you: to bring glory to himself, to appease his justice, to demonstrate his sovereignty. But one of the sweetest reasons God saved you is because he is fond of you. He likes having you around. He thinks you are the best thing to come down the pike in quite awhile. “As a man rejoices over his new wife, so your God will rejoice over you” (Isaiah 62:5).

If God had a refrigerator, your picture would be on it. If he had a wallet, your photo would be in it. He sends you flowers every spring and a sunrise every morning. Whenever you want to talk, he'll listen. He can live anywhere in the universe, and he chose your heart. And the Christmas gift he sent you in Bethlehem? Face it, friend. He's crazy about you. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

When you feel overwhelmed and frightened by the “enemies” in your life, remember David’s song. God is your rock and your protector. He is able and willing to save you because he delights in you.

A Song of Victory

For the director of music. By the Lord's servant, David. David sang this song to the Lord when the Lord had saved him from Saul and all his other enemies.

I love you, Lord. You are my strength.

My God is my rock.

I can run to him for safety.

He is my shield and my saving strength, my defender.

<sup>3</sup>I will call to the Lord, who is worthy of praise, and I will be saved from my enemies.

<sup>4</sup>The ropes of death came around me;
the deadly rivers overwhelmed me.

<sup>5</sup>The ropes of death wrapped around me.
The traps of death were before me.

<sup>6</sup>In my trouble I called to the Lord.
I cried out to my God for help.
From his temple he heard my voice;
my call for help reached his ears.

<sup>7</sup>The earth trembled and shook.
The foundations of the mountains began to shake.
They trembled because the Lord was angry.

<sup>8</sup>Smoke came out of his nose,
and burning fire came out of his mouth.

Burning coals went before him.

<sup>9</sup>He tore open the sky and came down with dark clouds under his feet.

<sup>10</sup>He rode a creature with wings and flew.
He raced on the wings of the wind.

<sup>11</sup>He made darkness his covering, his shelter around
him,

surrounded by fog and clouds.

<sup>12</sup>Out of the brightness of his presence came clouds with hail and lightning.

the Most High raised his voice,
and there was hail and lightning.

<sup>14</sup>He shot his arrows and scattered his enemies.
His many bolts of lightning confused them with fear.

The wind blew from your nose.
Then the valleys of the sea appeared,
and the foundations of the earth were seen.

<sup>16</sup>The Lord reached down from above and took me;
he pulled me from the deep water.

<sup>17</sup>He saved me from my powerful enemies, from those who hated me, because they were too strong for me.

<sup>18</sup>They attacked me at my time of trouble,
but the Lord supported me.

<sup>19</sup>He took me to a safe place.
Because he delights in me, he saved me.

<sup>20</sup>The Lord spared me because I did what was right.

Because I have not done evil, he has rewarded me.

<sup>21</sup>I have followed the ways of the Lord;
I have not done evil by turning away from my God.

<sup>22</sup>I remember all his laws and have not broken his rules.

<sup>23</sup>I am innocent before him;
I have kept myself from doing evil.

<sup>24</sup>The Lord rewarded me because I did what was right, because I did what the Lord said was right.

<sup>25</sup>Lord, you are loyal to those who are loyal,
and you are good to those who are good.

<sup>26</sup>You are pure to those who are pure,
but you are against those who are bad.

<sup>27</sup>You save the humble,
but you bring down those who are proud.

<sup>28</sup>Lord, you give light to my lamp.
My God brightens the darkness around me.

<sup>29</sup>With your help I can attack an army.
With God's help I can jump over a wall.

<sup>30</sup>The ways of God are without fault.
The Lord's words are pure.
He is a shield to those who trust him.

<sup>31</sup>Who is God? Only the Lord.
Who is the Rock? Only our God.

<sup>32</sup>God is my protection.
He makes my way free from fault.

<sup>33</sup>He makes me like a deer that does not stumble;
he helps me stand on the steep mountains.

<sup>34</sup>He trains my hands for battle
so my arms can bend a bronze bow.

<sup>35</sup>You protect me with your saving shield.
You support me with your right hand.
You have stooped to make me great.

<sup>36</sup>You give me a better way to live,
so I live as you want me to.

<sup>37</sup>I chased my enemies and caught them.
I did not quit until they were destroyed.

<sup>38</sup>I crushed them so they couldn't rise up again.
They fell beneath my feet.

<sup>39</sup>You gave me strength in battle.
You made my enemies bow before me.

<sup>40</sup>You made my enemies turn back,
and I destroyed those who hated me.

<sup>41</sup>They called for help,
but no one came to save them.
They called to the Lord,
but he did not answer them.

<sup>42</sup>I beat my enemies into pieces, like dust in the wind.
I poured them out like mud in the streets.

<sup>43</sup>You saved me when the people attacked me.
You made me the leader of nations.
People I never knew serve me.

<sup>44</sup>As soon as they hear me, they obey me.
Foreigners obey me.

<sup>45</sup>They all become afraid and tremble in their hiding places.

May my Rock be praised.

Praise the God who saves me!

<sup>47</sup>God gives me victory over my enemies and brings people under my rule.

<sup>48</sup>He saves me from my enemies.

You set me over those who hate me.

You saved me from cruel men.

<sup>49</sup>So I will praise you, Lord, among the nations.

I will sing praises to your name.

<sup>50</sup>The Lord gives great victories to his king.

He is loyal to his appointed king,
to David and his descendants forever.

Life Lessons

Psalm 19:1-14

Situation

David praised God for the beauty of nature. David believed that rather than inhibiting actions, God's laws pointed out shortfalls and sins.

Observation

God's law helps us avoid sin and enjoy fellowship with him. The law does not prevent enjoyment but encourages it.

Inspiration

The Ten Commandments tell us not to covet or lust. However, all moral law is more than a test; it's for our own good. Every law which God has given has been for our benefit. If a person breaks it, he is not only rebelling against God, he is hurting himself. God gave "the law" because he loves man. It is for man's benefit. God's commandments were given to protect and promote man's happiness, not to restrict it. God wants the best for man. To ask God to revise his commandments would be to ask him to stop loving man...

In our universe, we live under God's law. In the physical realm, the planets move in split-second precision. There is no guesswork in the galaxies. We see in nature that everything is part of a plan which is harmonious, orderly, and obedient. Could a God who made the physical universe be any less exacting in the higher spiritual and moral order? God loves us with an infinite love, but he cannot and will not approve of disorder. Consequently, he has laid down spiritual laws which, if obeyed, bring harmony and fulfillment, but, if disobeyed, bring discord and disorder. (From How to Be Born Again by Billy Graham)

Application

Think of a few laws in your town. Rewrite a few that begin with “Do not” to begin with “You must.” Write them so that keeping them brings law-abiding citizens enjoyment. Harder than you thought? Thank God today for laws that promote justice and peace. Write a letter of encouragement to your mayor or police chief.

God's Works and Word

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

The heavens tell the glory of God,
and the skies announce what his hands have made.

<sup>2</sup>Day after day they tell the story;
night after night they tell it again.

<sup>3</sup>They have no speech or words;
they have no voice to be heard.

<sup>4</sup>But their message goes out through all the world;
their words go everywhere on earth.
The sky is like a home for the sun.

<sup>5</sup>The sun comes out like a bridegroom from his bedroom.

It rejoices like an athlete eager to run a race.

<sup>6</sup>The sun rises at one end of the sky and follows its path to the other end.
Nothing hides from its heat.

<sup>7</sup>The teachings of the Lord are perfect;
they give new strength.

The rules of the Lord can be trusted;
they make plain people wise.

they make people happy.

The commands of the Lord are pure;

they light up the way.

<sup>9</sup>Respect for the Lord is good;
it will last forever.

The judgments of the Lord are true;
they are completely right.

<sup>10</sup>They are worth more than gold,
even the purest gold.

They are sweeter than honey,
even the finest honey.

<sup>11</sup>By them your servant is warned.
Keeping them brings great reward.

<sup>12</sup>People cannot see their own mistakes.
Forgive me for my secret sins.

<sup>13</sup>Keep me from the sins of pride;
don't let them rule me.

Then I can be pure
and innocent of the greatest of sins.

<sup>14</sup>I hope my words and thoughts please you.
Lord, you are my Rock, the one who saves me.

Life Lessons

Psalms 20:1–22:31

Situation

Jesus quoted the first line of Psalm 22 when he suffered on the cross.

Observation

This psalm prophesied Jesus' suffering on the cross. It described his emotional, spiritual, and physical anguish.

Inspiration

Lord?

Yes.

I may be stepping out of line by saying this, but I need to tell you something that's been on my mind.

Go ahead.

I don't like this verse: "My God, my God, why have you abandoned me?" It doesn't sound like you; it doesn't sound like something you would say.

Usually I love it when you speak. I listen when you speak. I imagine the power of your voice, the thunder of your commands, the dynamism in your dictates.

That's what I like to hear.

Remember the creation song you sang into the soundless eternity? Ah, now that's you. That was the act of a God!

And when you ordained the waves to splash and they roared, when you declared that the stars be flung and they flew, when you proclaimed that life be alive and it all began? ... Or the whisper of breath into the clay-caked Adam? That was you at your best. That's the way I like to hear you. That's the voice I love to hear.

That's why I don't like this verse....

Look at the sentence. There is a "why" at the beginning and a question mark at the end. You don't ask questions....

And as long as I'm shooting straight with you—I don't like to see the word abandon, either. The source of life ... abandoned? The giver of love ... alone? The father of it all ... isolated?

Come on. Surely you don't mean it. Could deity feel abandoned?

Could we change the sentence a bit? Not much. Just the verb.

What would you suggest?

How about challenge? "My God, my God, why did you challenge me?" Isn't that better? Now we can applaud. Now we can lift banners for your dedication. Now we can explain it to our children. It makes sense now. You see, that makes you a hero. A hero. History is full of heroes.

And who is a hero but someone who survives a challenge.

Or, if that's not acceptable, I have another one. Why not afflict? "My God, my God, why did you afflict me?" Yes, that's it. Now you are a martyr, taking a stand for truth. A patriot, pierced by evil. A noble soldier who took the sword all the way to the hilt; bloody and beaten, but victorious.

Afflicted is much better than abandoned. You are a martyr. Right up there with Patrick Henry and Abraham Lincoln.

You are God, Jesus! You couldn't be abandoned. You couldn't be left alone. You couldn't be deserted in your most painful moment.

Abandonment. That is the punishment for a criminal. Abandonment. That is the suffering borne by the most evil. Abandonment. That's for the vile—not for you. Not you, the King of kings. Not you, the Beginning and the End. Not you, the One Unborn. After all, didn't John call you the Lamb of God? ...

"Who has come to take away the sins of the world." Wait a minute. "To take away the sins ..." I'd never thought about those words.

I'd read them but never thought about them. I thought you just, I don't know, sent sin away. Banished it. I thought you'd just stood in front of the mountains of our sins and told them to begone. Just like you did to the demons. Just like you did to the hypocrites in the temple.

I just thought you commanded the evil out. I never noticed that you took it out. It never occurred to me that you actually touched it—or worse still that it touched you.

That must have been a horrible moment. I know what it's like to be touched by sin. I know what it's like to smell the stench of that stuff. Remember what I used to be like? Before I knew you, I wallowed in that mire. I didn't just touch sin, I loved it. I drank it. I danced with it. I was in the middle of it.

But why am I telling you? You remember. You were the one who saw me. You were the one who found me. I was lonely. I was afraid. Remember? “Why? Why me? Why has all this hurt happened?”

I know it wasn’t much of a question. It wasn’t the right question. But it was all I knew to ask. You see, God, I felt so confused. So desolate. Sin will do that to you. Sin leaves you shipwrecked, orphaned, adrift. Sin leaves you aban—

Oh. Oh, my.

My, goodness, God. Is that what happened? You mean sin did the same to you that it did to me?

Oh, I’m sorry. I’m so sorry. I didn’t know. I didn’t understand. You really were alone, weren’t you?

Your question was real, wasn’t it, Jesus? You really were afraid. You really were alone. Just like I was. Only, I deserved it. You didn’t.

Forgive me, I spoke out of turn. (From And the Angels Were Silent by Max Lucado)

A Prayer for the King

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

May the Lord answer you in times of trouble.

May the God of Jacob protect you.

<sup>2</sup>May he send you help from his Temple and support you from Mount Zion.

<sup>3</sup>May he remember all your offerings and accept all your sacrifices.

Selah

<sup>4</sup>May he give you what you want and make all your plans succeed,

<sup>5</sup>and we will shout for joy when you succeed, and we will raise a flag in the name of our God.

May the Lord give you all that you ask for.

He answers him from his holy heaven and saves him with his strong right hand.

<sup>7</sup>Some trust in chariots, others in horses,
but we trust the Lord our God.

<sup>8</sup>They are overwhelmed and defeated,
but we march forward and win.

Answer us when we call for help.

Thanksgiving for the King

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

Lord, the king rejoices because of your strength;
he is so happy when you save him!

<sup>2</sup>You gave the king what he wanted and did not refuse what he asked for.

<sup>3</sup>You put good things before him and placed a gold crown on his head.

<sup>4</sup>He asked you for life,
and you gave it to him,
so his years go on and on.

<sup>5</sup>He has great glory because you gave him victories;
you gave him honor and praise.

<sup>6</sup>You always gave him blessings;
you made him glad because you were with him.

<sup>7</sup>The king truly trusts the Lord.
Because God Most High always loves him,
he will not be overwhelmed.

<sup>8</sup>Your hand is against all your enemies;
those who hate you will feel your power.

<sup>9</sup>When you appear,
you will burn them as in a furnace.
In your anger you will swallow them up,
and fire will burn them up.

<sup>10</sup>You will destroy their families from the earth;
their children will not live.

<sup>11</sup>They made evil plans against you,
but their traps won't work.

<sup>12</sup>You will make them turn their backs
when you aim your arrows at them.

We sing and praise your greatness.

The Prayer of a Suffering Man

For the director of music. To the tune of "The Doe of Dawn." A psalm of David.

My God, my God, why have you rejected me?
You seem far from saving me,
far from the words of my groaning.
<sup>2</sup>My God, I call to you during the day, but you do not answer.
I call at night;
I am not silent.

<sup>3</sup>You sit as the Holy One.
The praises of Israel are your throne.
<sup>4</sup>Our ancestors trusted you;
they trusted, and you saved them.
<sup>5</sup>They called to you for help and were rescued.
They trusted you
and were not disappointed.

<sup>6</sup>But I am like a worm instead of a man.
People make fun of me and hate me.
<sup>7</sup>Those who look at me laugh.
They stick out their tongues and shake their heads.
<sup>8</sup>They say, "Turn to the Lord for help.
Maybe he will save you.
If he likes you,
maybe he will rescue you."

<sup>9</sup>You had my mother give birth to me.

You made me trust you
while I was just a baby.

<sup>10</sup>I have leaned on you since the day I was born;
you have been my God since my mother gave me birth.

<sup>11</sup>So don't be far away from me.

Now trouble is near,
and there is no one to help.

<sup>12</sup>People have surrounded me like angry bulls.
Like the strong bulls of Bashan, they are on every side.

<sup>13</sup>Like hungry, roaring lions they open their mouths at me.

<sup>14</sup>My strength is gone, like water poured out onto the ground,
and my bones are out of joint.

My heart is like wax;
it has melted inside me.

<sup>15</sup>My strength has dried up like a clay pot,
and my tongue sticks to the top of my mouth.
You laid me in the dust of death.

<sup>16</sup>Evil people have surrounded me;
like dogs they have trapped me.
They have bitten my arms and legs.

<sup>17</sup>I can count all my bones;
people look and stare at me.

<sup>18</sup>They divided my clothes among them,
and they threw lots for my clothing.

You are my strength; hurry to help me.

<sup>20</sup>Save me from the sword;
save my life from the dogs.

<sup>21</sup>Rescue me from the lion's mouth;
save me from the horns of the bulls.

<sup>22</sup>Then I will tell my fellow Israelites about you;
I will praise you in the public meeting.

<sup>23</sup>Praise the Lord, all you who respect him.
All you descendants of Jacob, honor him;
fear him, all you Israelites.

<sup>24</sup>He does not ignore those in trouble.
He doesn't hide from them
but listens when they call out to him.

<sup>25</sup>Lord, I praise you in the great meeting of your
people;

these worshipers will see me do what I promised.

<sup>26</sup>Poor people will eat until they are full;
those who look to the Lord will praise him.
May your hearts live forever!

<sup>27</sup>People everywhere will remember and will turn to the Lord.
All the families of the nations will worship him

<sup>28</sup>because the Lord is King, and he rules the nations.

<sup>29</sup>All the powerful people on earth will eat and worship.
Everyone will bow down to him,
all who will one day die.

<sup>30</sup>The people in the future will serve him;
they will always be told about the Lord.

<sup>31</sup>They will tell that he does what is right.
People who are not yet born will hear what God has done.

Life Lessons

Psalms 23:1–24:10

Situation

David portrayed God as a caring shepherd. This shepherd protected his sheep from harm.

Observation

Although we may face stressful situations, God leads us safely through as a shepherd would do for his sheep.

Inspiration

“She’ll not live a day,” a physician told an attending nurse. Concerned, the nurse befriended the dying woman and in a few hours had won her confidence.

Motioning for the nurse to come near, the old woman said sorrowfully, “I have traveled all the way from California by myself, stopping at every city of importance between San Francisco and Boston. In each city I visit just two places: the police station and the hospital. You see, my boy ran away from home and I have no idea where he is. I’ve got to find him. . . .”

The mother’s eyes seemed to flash a ray of hope as she added, “Someday he may even come into this very hospital, and if he does, please promise me you’ll tell him his two best friends never gave up on him” . . .

Bending over the dying mother, the nurse whispered softly, “Tell me the names of those two friends so I can tell your son if I ever see him.”

With trembling lips and her eyes filled with tears the mother responded, “Tell him those two friends were God and his mother,” and she closed her eyes and died.

God, even more than a forgiving mother, never gives up on one of His children. His forgiveness is uniquely infinite... . And since God is the quintessence of forgiveness, to think on God is to immerse oneself in thoughts of forgiveness rather than failure. ## The Lord the Shepherd

A psalm of David.

The Lord is my shepherd;
I have everything I need.

<sup>2</sup>He lets me rest in green pastures.
He leads me to calm water.

<sup>3</sup>He gives me new strength.
He leads me on paths that are right for the good of his name.

<sup>4</sup>Even if I walk through a very dark valley,
I will not be afraid,
because you are with me.
Your rod and your walking stick comfort me.

and I will live in the house of the Lord forever.

A Welcome for God into the Temple

A psalm of David.

The earth belongs to the Lord, and everything in it—
the world and all its people.

<sup>2</sup>He built it on the waters and set it on the rivers.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The Shepherd Who Cares for Us and Guides Us

Aren't we glad Christ didn't call himself the Good Cowboy? But some do perceive God that way. A hard-faced, square-jawed ranch-hand from heaven who drives his church against its will to places it doesn't want to go.

But that's a wrong image. Jesus called himself the Good Shepherd. The Shepherd who knows his sheep by name and lays down his life for them. The Shepherd who protects, provides, and possesses his sheep. The Bible is replete with this picture of God....

Eighty percent of Jesus' listeners made their living off of the land. Many were shepherds. They lived on the mesa with the sheep. No flock ever grazed without a shepherd, and no shepherd was ever off duty. When sheep wandered, the shepherd found them. When they fell, he carried them. When they were hurt, he healed them.

Sheep aren't smart. They tend to wander into running creeks for water, then their wool grows heavy and they drown. They need a shepherd to lead them to "calm water" (Psalm 23:2). They have no natural defense—no claws, no horns, no fangs. They are helpless. Sheep need a shepherd with a "rod and ... walking stick" (Psalm 23:4) to protect them. They have no sense of direction. They need someone to lead them "on paths that are right" (Psalm 23:3).

So do we. We, too, tend to be swept away by waters we should have avoided. We have no defense against the evil lion who prowls about seeking who he might devour. We, too, get lost. "We all have wandered away like sheep; each of us has gone his own way" (Isaiah 53:6).

We need a shepherd. We don't need a cowboy to herd us; we need a shepherd to care for us and to guide us.

And we have one. One who knows us by name.

Life Lessons

Psalms 25:1–26:12

Situation

David prayed for God to give him mercy. He not only asked for forgiveness but for help to do right.

Observation

Trust God to forgive your sins. He shows us the right path to take and protects us from evil.

Inspiration

Poor memories are a part of the human condition. And so when God tells us that He will remember our sins no more, I'm puzzled. How could God possibly forget? That's our job! ...

Then why do we feel so bad about our past sins? Because we confuse sin with its impression. Got a notepad nearby? Let me show you how this can be so. Write the word "sin" on the page. Press hard. Now tear off that sheet of paper, crumple it up, and throw it across the room. That's how God forgets your sin.

Now take your pencil and rub it on the new page at an angle, back and forth, over the same location where you wrote. And guess what: The ghost of the word "sin" appears.

That's what our flawed memories do. We go back over the deep impression left by the transgressions in our life, and we feel just as guilty. It's as if the sin never left. But be encouraged, the impression of sin is not the same thing as sin. And with David you can cry out, “I can’t forget my scars, it seems, Lord. But You have forgotten their cause. Look upon me with loving, kind eyes.”

It’s your choice. Will you continue to work over forgiven sin as with a pencil? Or will you let the Holy Spirit work His lovingkindness? (From Diamonds in the Dust by Joni Eareckson Tada)

Application

Is there a sin in your past that you keep remembering, regretting, and confessing to God? Decide today to do with that sin what God does with all sin that he forgives—forget it!

A Prayer for God to Guide

Of David.

Lord, I give myself to you;

<sup>2</sup>my God, I trust you.

Do not let me be disgraced;

do not let my enemies laugh at me.

<sup>3</sup>No one who trusts you will be disgraced,

but those who sin without excuse will be disgraced.

<sup>4</sup>Lord, tell me your ways.

Show me how to live.

<sup>5</sup>Guide me in your truth,

and teach me, my God, my Savior.

I trust you all day long.

<sup>6</sup>Lord, remember your mercy and love that you have shown since long ago.

<sup>7</sup>Do not remember the sins and wrong things I did when I was young.

But remember to love me always because you are good, Lord.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord is good and right;

he points sinners to the right way.

<sup>9</sup>He shows those who are humble how to do right,

and he teaches them his ways.

<sup>10</sup>All the Lord's ways are loving and true for those who follow the demands of his agreement.

<sup>11</sup>For the sake of your name, Lord, forgive my many sins.

<sup>12</sup>Are there those who respect the Lord?
He will point them to the best way.

<sup>13</sup>They will enjoy a good life,
and their children will inherit the land.

<sup>14</sup>The Lord tells his secrets to those who respect him;
he tells them about his agreement.

<sup>15</sup>My eyes are always looking to the Lord for help.
He will keep me from any traps.

<sup>16</sup>Turn to me and have mercy on me, because I am lonely and hurting.

<sup>17</sup>My troubles have grown larger;
free me from my problems.

<sup>18</sup>Look at my suffering and troubles, and take away all my sins.

See how much they hate me!

<sup>20</sup>Protect me and save me.
I trust you, so do not let me be disgraced.

<sup>21</sup>My hope is in you, so may goodness and honesty guard me.

The Prayer of an Innocent Believer

Of David.

Lord, defend me because I have lived an innocent life.
I have trusted the Lord and never doubted.

<sup>2</sup>Lord, try me and test me;
look closely into my heart and mind.

<sup>3</sup>I see your love, and I live by your truth.

<sup>4</sup>I do not spend time with liars, nor do I make friends with those who hide their sin.

<sup>5</sup>I hate the company of evil people,
and I won't sit with the wicked.

<sup>6</sup>I wash my hands to show I am innocent, and I come to your altar, Lord.

<sup>7</sup>I raise my voice in praise and tell of all the miracles you have done.

<sup>8</sup>Lord, I love the Temple where you live, where your glory is.

<sup>9</sup>Do not kill me with those sinners or take my life with those murderers.

<sup>10</sup>Evil is in their hands,
and they do wrong for money.

<sup>11</sup>But I have lived an innocent life,
so save me and have mercy on me.

<sup>12</sup>I stand in a safe place.
Lord, I praise you in the great meeting.

Life Lessons

Psalm 27:1–28:9

Situation

In Psalm 27, David sought to be close to God. His No. 1 desire was to live in the constant presence of God, seeking the Lord's instruction, protection, and guidance.

Observation

God desires us to have singleness of purpose—to know him and abide with him.

Inspiration

If you could ask God for one thing, what would you request? David tells us what he would ask. He longs to live in the house of God. I emphasize the word “live,” because it deserves to be emphasized. David doesn't want to chat. He doesn't desire a cup of coffee on the back porch. He doesn't ask for a meal or to spend an evening in God's house. He wants to move in with him ... forever. He's asking for his own room ... permanently. He doesn't want to be stationed in God's house, he longs to retire there. He doesn't seek a temporary assignment, but rather lifelong residence.

When David says, “I will live in the house of the Lord forever” (Psalm 23:6), he's saying simply that he never wants to step away from God. He craves to remain in the aura, in the atmosphere, in the awareness that he is in God's house, wherever he is.

The Lord's Prayer is a floor plan of the house of God: a step-by-step description of how God meets our needs when we dwell in him. Everything that occurs in a healthy house is described in this prayer. Protection, instruction, forgiveness, provision ... all occur under God's roof.

"Then why," you might ask, "don't more people feel protected, forgiven, or instructed?"

My answer is as simple as the question is direct. Most have not learned to dwell in the house. Oh, we visit it. We stop in for the day or even drop by for a meal. But abide here? This is God's desire.

Remember the promise of his Son, "If people love me, they will obey my teaching. My Father will love them, and we will come to them and make our home with them" (John 14:23). (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you desire to spend all your time in God's presence? Are there activities, thoughts, even people that keep you from him? List three specific steps you can take to make knowing God your No. 1 priority.

Exploration

Abiding—Psalm 23:6, 84:1-4; John 8:31, 14:23; Ephesians 3:17; 1 John 4:16; Revelation 3:20; 21:3.

A Song of Trust in God

Of David.

The Lord is my light and the one who saves me.
I fear no one.

The Lord protects my life;
I am afraid of no one.

<sup>2</sup>Evil people may try to destroy my body.
My enemies and those who hate me attack me,
but they are overwhelmed and defeated.

<sup>3</sup>If an army surrounds me,
I will not be afraid.
If war breaks out,
I will trust the Lord.

<sup>4</sup>I ask only one thing from the Lord.

This is what I want:

Let me live in the Lord's house
all my life.

Let me see the Lord's beauty and look with my own eyes at his Temple.

<sup>5</sup>During danger he will keep me safe in his shelter.
He will hide me in his Holy Tent, or he will keep me safe on a high mountain.

<sup>6</sup>My head is higher than my enemies around me.
I will offer joyful sacrifices in his Holy Tent.

I will sing and praise the Lord.

<sup>7</sup>Lord, hear me when I call;
have mercy and answer me.

<sup>8</sup>My heart said of you, "Go, worship him."
So I come to worship you, Lord.

<sup>9</sup>Do not turn away from me.
Do not turn your servant away in anger;
you have helped me.
Do not push me away or leave me alone,
God, my Savior.

<sup>10</sup>If my father and mother leave me,
the Lord will take me in.

<sup>11</sup>Lord, teach me your ways, and guide me to do what is right
because I have enemies.

<sup>12</sup>Do not hand me over to my enemies, because they tell lies about me
and say they will hurt me.

<sup>13</sup>I truly believe
I will live to see the Lord's goodness.

<sup>14</sup>Wait for the Lord's help.
Be strong and brave,
and wait for the Lord's help.

A Prayer in Troubled Times

Of David.

Lord, my Rock, I call out to you for help.

Do not be deaf to me.

If you are silent,

I will be like those in the grave.

<sup>2</sup>Hear the sound of my prayer,
when I cry out to you for help.

I raise my hands toward your Most Holy Place.

<sup>3</sup>Don't drag me away with the wicked,
with those who do evil.

They say "Peace" to their neighbors,
but evil is in their hearts.

<sup>4</sup>Pay them back for what they have done, for their evil deeds.

Pay them back for what they have done;
give them their reward.

<sup>5</sup>They don't understand what the Lord has done or what he has made.

So he will knock them down
and not lift them up.

because he heard my prayer for help.

<sup>7</sup>The Lord is my strength and shield.

I trust him, and he helps me.

I am very happy,

and I praise him with my song.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord is powerful;

he gives victory to his chosen one.

<sup>9</sup>Save your people and bless those who are your own.

Be their shepherd and carry them forever.

Life Lessons

Psalms 29:1–30:12

Situation

David applauded God for his protection and help. Though David still had problems, he knew that God was powerful and faithful and always worthy of praise.

Observation

God satisfies us because he holds all the power and protection we need. Trusting him brings contentment.

Inspiration

Satisfied? That is one thing we are not. We are not satisfied. . . .

We push back from the Thanksgiving table and pat our round bellies. “I’m satisfied,” we declare. But look at us a few hours later, back in the kitchen picking the meat from the bone.

We take a vacation of a lifetime. For years we planned. For years we saved. And off we go. We satiate ourselves with sun, fun, and good food. But we are not even on the way home before we dread the end of the trip and begin planning another.

We are not satisfied.

As a child we say, “If only I were a teenager.” As a teen we say, “If only I were an adult.” As an adult, “If only I were married.” As a spouse, “If only I had kids.” As a parent, “If only my kids were grown.” In an empty house, “If only the kids would visit.” As a retiree in the rocking chair with stiff joints and fading sight, “If only I were a child again.”

We are not satisfied. Contentment is a difficult virtue. Why?

Because there is nothing on earth that can satisfy our deepest longing. We long to see God. The leaves of life are rustling with the rumor that we will—and we won’t be satisfied until we do. (From When God Whispers Your Name by Max Lucado)

Application

Enjoy your age, job, friends, and lifestyle. When you are tempted to be dissatisfied, pray, “God, help me to find my contentment in you.”

Exploration

Contentment—Exodus 20:17; Psalm 17:13–15; Matthew 6:24; Philippians 4:10–14.

God in the Thunderstorm

A psalm of David.

Praise the Lord, you angels;
praise the Lord's glory and power.
<sup>2</sup>Praise the Lord for the glory of his name;
worship the Lord because he is holy.

<sup>3</sup>The Lord's voice is heard over the sea.
The glorious God thunders;
the Lord thunders over the ocean.

<sup>4</sup>The Lord's voice is powerful;
the Lord's voice is majestic.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord's voice breaks the trees;
the Lord breaks the cedars of Lebanon.

<sup>6</sup>He makes the land of Lebanon dance like a calf and Mount Hermon jump like a baby bull.

the Lord shakes the Desert of Kadesh.

<sup>9</sup>The Lord's voice shakes the oaks and strips the leaves off the trees.
In his Temple everyone says, "Glory to God!"

<sup>10</sup>The Lord controls the flood.
The Lord will be King forever.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord gives strength to his people;

the Lord blesses his people with peace.

Thanksgiving for Escaping Death

A psalm of David. A song for giving the Temple to the Lord.

I will praise you, Lord,
because you rescued me.
You did not let my enemies laugh at me.

<sup>2</sup>Lord, my God, I prayed to you, and you healed me.

<sup>3</sup>You lifted me out of the grave;
you spared me from going down to the place of the dead.

<sup>4</sup>Sing praises to the Lord, you who belong to him;
praise his holy name.

<sup>5</sup>His anger lasts only a moment,
but his kindness lasts for a lifetime.
Crying may last for a night,
but joy comes in the morning.

<sup>6</sup>When I felt safe, I said,
“I will never fear.”

<sup>7</sup>Lord, in your kindness you made my mountain safe.
But when you turned away, I was frightened.

<sup>8</sup>I called to you, Lord, and asked you to have mercy on me.

<sup>9</sup>I said, “What good will it do if I die or if I go down to the grave?
Dust cannot praise you;
it cannot speak about your truth.

<sup>10</sup>Lord, hear me and have mercy on me.
Lord, help me.”

<sup>11</sup>You changed my sorrow into dancing.
You took away my clothes of sadness,
and clothed me in happiness.

<sup>12</sup>I will sing to you and not be silent.
Lord, my God, I will praise you forever.

Throughout trials God provides a place of refuge. God provides stability in a broken world.

Anyone who has read my books or heard me speak knows the profound impact William Wilberforce has had on my Christian life. That's why I refer so consistently to his radical stand for Christ in his culture and why I quote so often from a letter written by John Wesley to Wilberforce—then a recent convert. Wesley, who was to die only days later, commissioned Wilberforce to lead the radical campaign against slavery. I've carried this excerpt from Wesley's letter in my Bible for the past seven years:

“Unless the Divine Power has raised you up to be as Athanasius, contra mundum, I see not how you can go through your glorious enterprise in opposing that execrable villainy which is the scandal of religion, of England, and of human nature. Unless God has raised you up for this very thing, you will be worn out by the opposition of men and devils, but if God be for you, who can be against you? Are all of them stronger than God? Oh, be not weary in well doing.

Go on, in the name of the God and in the power of His might, till even American slavery, the vilest that ever saw the sun, shall vanish away before it.”

Wilberforce took his stand, at first but a single, lonely voice against a business that was the mainstay of the lucrative West Indies trade, employing some 5,500 sailors and 160 ships worth 6,000,000 pounds sterling a year. For twenty years the radical Wilberforce ... fought the economic and political might of the British Empire. In the end, righteousness prevailed, and for the next half century a mighty revival swept across England and the Western world. (From Loving God by Charles Colson)

A Prayer of Faith in Troubled Times

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

Lord, I trust in you;
let me never be disgraced.
Save me because you do what is right.
<sup>2</sup>Listen to me and save me quickly.
Be my rock of protection,
a strong city to save me.
<sup>3</sup>You are my rock and my protection.
For the good of your name, lead me and guide me.
<sup>4</sup>Set me free from the trap they set for me, because you are my protection.
<sup>5</sup>I give you my life.
Save me, Lord, God of truth.

<sup>6</sup>I hate those who worship false gods.
I trust only in the Lord.
<sup>7</sup>I will be glad and rejoice in your love, because you saw my suffering;
you knew my troubles.
<sup>8</sup>You have not handed me over to my enemies
but have set me in a safe place.

<sup>9</sup>Lord, have mercy, because I am in misery.

My eyes are weak from so much crying,
and my whole being is tired from grief.

<sup>10</sup>My life is ending in sadness, and my years are spent in crying.
My troubles are using up my strength,
and my bones are getting weaker.

<sup>11</sup>Because of all my troubles, my enemies hate me,
and even my neighbors look down on me.
When my friends see me,
they are afraid and run.

<sup>12</sup>I am like a piece of a broken pot.
I am forgotten as if I were dead.

<sup>13</sup>I have heard many insults.
Terror is all around me.
They make plans against me
and want to kill me.

<sup>14</sup>Lord, I trust you.
I have said, "You are my God."

<sup>15</sup>My life is in your hands.
Save me from my enemies and from those who are chasing me.

<sup>16</sup>Show your kindness to me, your servant.
Save me because of your love.

<sup>17</sup>Lord, I called to you,
so do not let me be disgraced.
Let the wicked be disgraced and lie silent in the grave.

<sup>18</sup>With pride and hatred
they speak against those who do right.

So silence their lying lips.

<sup>19</sup>How great is your goodness that you have stored up for those who fear you, that you have given to those who trust you.
You do this for all to see.

<sup>20</sup>You protect them by your presence from what people plan against them.
You shelter them from evil words.

His love to me was wonderful when my city was attacked.

<sup>22</sup>In my distress, I said,
“God cannot see me!”
But you heard my prayer
when I cried out to you for help.

<sup>23</sup>Love the Lord, all you who belong to him.
The Lord protects those who truly believe, but he punishes the proud as much as they have sinned.

<sup>24</sup>All you who put your hope in the Lord
be strong and brave.

Life Lessons

Psalms 32:1–33:22

Situation

In Psalm 33, we can delight with the psalmist in a God who not only created everything, but whose plan for this world will stand forever.

Observation

Praise God whose plans stand forever and who triumphed over Satan at the cross.

Inspiration

Remember, Satan cannot penetrate the walls of the Great House of God.

Is it still hard to imagine how your struggle could lead to any good? Still hard to conceive how your disease or debt or death could be a tool for anything worthwhile? If so, then I've got one final example. While not wanting to minimize your struggle, I must say yours is a cakewalk compared to this one. A sinless Savior was covered with sin. The author of life was placed in the cave of death. Satan's victory appeared sure. Finally, the devil had scored on the right end of the court. And not only had he scored, he'd slam-dunked the MVP and left him lying on the floor. The devil had blown it with everyone from Sara to Peter, but this time he'd done it right. The whole world had seen it. The victory dance had already begun.

But all of a sudden there was a light in the tomb and a rumbling of the rock; then Friday's tragedy emerged as Sunday's Savior, and even Satan knew he'd been had. He'd been a tool in the hand of the gardener. All the time he thought he was defeating heaven, he was helping heaven. God wanted to prove his power over sin and death, and that's exactly what he did. And guess who helped him do it? Once again Satan's lay-up becomes a foul-up. Only this time, he didn't give heaven some points, he gave heaven the championship game. (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

Application

Where are you struggling right now? Is there some area in your life where you are experiencing defeat? Remember the Cross and God's ultimate victory over Satan, sin, and death. Turn defeat into victory by praising and thanking God and trusting in him.

It Is Better to Confess Sin

A maskil of David.

Happy is the person
whose sins are forgiven, whose wrongs are pardoned.

<sup>2</sup>Happy is the person
whom the Lord does not consider guilty and in whom there is nothing false.

<sup>3</sup>When I kept things to myself,
I felt weak deep inside me.
I moaned all day long.

<sup>4</sup>Day and night you punished me.
My strength was gone as in the summer heat.

Selah

<sup>5</sup>Then I confessed my sins to you and didn't hide my guilt.
I said, "I will confess my sins to the Lord,"
and you forgave my guilt.

Selah

<sup>6</sup>For this reason, all who obey you should pray to you while they still can.
When troubles rise like a flood,
they will not reach them.

<sup>7</sup>You are my hiding place.
You protect me from my troubles and fill me with songs of salvation.

Selah

<sup>8</sup>The Lord says, “I will make you wise and show you where to go.

I will guide you and watch over you.

<sup>9</sup>So don't be like a horse or donkey, that doesn't understand.

They must be led with bits and reins,
or they will not come near you.”

<sup>10</sup>Wicked people have many troubles, but the Lord's love surrounds those who trust him.

Sing all you whose hearts are right.

Praise God Who Creates and Saves

Sing to the Lord, you who do what is right;
honest people should praise him.

<sup>2</sup>Praise the Lord on the harp;
make music for him on a ten-stringed lyre.

<sup>3</sup>Sing a new song to him;
play well and joyfully.

<sup>4</sup>God's word is true,
and everything he does is right.

<sup>5</sup>He loves what is right and fair;
the Lord's love fills the earth.

New Life in Christ

The Lord says, "I will make you wise and show you where to go."—Psalm 32:8

God Speaks to Us

There is no language he will not speak. Which leads us to a delightful question. What language is he speaking to you? I'm not referring to an idiom or dialect but to the day-to-day drama of your life. God does speak, you know. He speaks to us in whatever language we will understand.

There are times he speaks the "language of abundance." Is your tummy full? Are your bills paid? Got a little jingle in your pocket? Don't be so proud of what you have that you miss what you need to hear. Could it be you have much so you can give much? "God can give you more blessings than you need.

Then you will always have plenty of everything—enough to give to every good work” (2 Corinthians 9:8).

Is God talking in the “language of abundance”? Or are you hearing the “vernacular of want”? We’d rather he spoke the language of abundance, but he doesn’t always.

Are you hearing the “language of need”? Or how about the “language of affliction”? Talk about an idiom we avoid. But you and I both know how clearly God speaks in hospital hallways and sickbeds. We know what David meant with the words, “He makes me to lie down” (Psalm 23:2, NKJV, italics mine). Nothing seems to turn our ears toward heaven like a frail body.

God speaks all languages—including yours. Has he not said, “I will ... show you where to go” (Psalm 32:8)? Are we not urged to “accept teaching from his mouth” (Job 22:22)? What language is God speaking to you?

And aren’t you glad he is speaking? Aren’t you grateful that he cares enough to talk? Isn’t it good to know that “the Lord tells his secrets to those who respect him” (Psalm 25:14)? (From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

Question: What language is God using to speak to you? What specific steps can you take in response?

<sup>6</sup>The sky was made at the Lord's command.
By the breath from his mouth, he made all the stars.

<sup>7</sup>He gathered the water of the sea into a heap.
He made the great ocean stay in its place.

<sup>8</sup>All the earth should worship the Lord;
the whole world should fear him.

<sup>9</sup>He spoke, and it happened.
He commanded, and it appeared.

<sup>10</sup>The Lord upsets the plans of nations;
he ruins all their plans.

<sup>11</sup>But the Lord's plans will stand forever;
his ideas will last from now on.

<sup>12</sup>Happy is the nation whose God is the Lord,
the people he chose for his very own.

<sup>13</sup>The Lord looks down from heaven and sees every person.

<sup>14</sup>From his throne he watches
all who live on earth.

<sup>15</sup>He made their hearts and understands everything they do.

<sup>16</sup>No king is saved by his great army.
No warrior escapes by his great strength.

<sup>17</sup>Horses can't bring victory;
they can't save by their strength.

<sup>18</sup>But the Lord looks after those who fear him, those who put their hope in his love.

<sup>19</sup>He saves them from death and spares their lives in times of hunger.

<sup>20</sup>So our hope is in the Lord.
He is our help, our shield to protect us.

<sup>21</sup>We rejoice in him, because we trust his holy name.

<sup>22</sup>Lord, show your love to us as we put our hope in you.

Life Lessons

Psalm 34:1–22

Situation

David composed this psalm after he escaped King Achish in Gath by pretending to be insane (1 Samuel 21:10–15). David told how faithful God remained during a time of trouble.

Observation

God delivers those who persevere in their faith.

Inspiration

You may have heard it said that a person does not really know who his friends are until the bottom drops out. I think there is great truth to that. All of us have experienced the pain of discovering that people we thought would be faithful—no matter what—were simply “fair-weather friends.” You know, friends whose loyalty hinges upon the climate or circumstances. As long as the relationship is enjoyable, they are with you all the way. But when it begins to demand some sacrifice on their part, they are hard to find. The ultimate measure of friends is not where they stand in times of comfort and convenience, but where they stand in times of challenge and controversy. That being the case, apart from adversity of some kind, we would never know who our faithful friends really are.

In the same way, we will never know in a personal way the faithfulness of Christ apart from adversity. As a result, our faith in Him would never increase. It would remain static. One of the primary reasons God allows us to face adversity is so that He can demonstrate His faithfulness and in turn increase our faith. If you are a believer, you have made a decision to trust Christ with your eternal destiny. But you will not experience His faithfulness in that particular area until you die. God wants more from you and for you than simple intellectual acknowledgement of His faithfulness. It is His will that you experience it now.

If our lives are free from pain, turmoil, and sorrow, our knowledge of God will remain purely academic. Our relationship with Him could be compared with that of a great-great-grandfather about whom we have heard stories, yet never met personally. We would have great admiration, but no intimacy, no fellowship. There would always be a sense of distance and mystery.

That is not the kind of relationship God wants with His children. Through the death of Christ, God has opened the way for us to have direct access to Him. He went to great lengths to clear the way so that nothing stands between Him and His children. There is potential now for intimacy between us and our Creator...

God is in the process of engineering circumstances through which He can reveal Himself to each of us. And both history as well as our personal testimonies bear witness to the fact that it is in times of adversity that we come to a greater realization of God's incredible faithfulness to us. (From How to Handle Adversity by Charles Stanley)

Praise God Who Judges and Saves

David's song from the time he acted crazy so Abimelech would send him away, and David did leave.

I will praise the Lord at all times;
his praise is always on my lips.

<sup>2</sup>My whole being praises the Lord.

The poor will hear and be glad.

<sup>3</sup>Glorify the Lord with me,
and let us praise his name together.

<sup>4</sup>I asked the Lord for help, and he answered me.
He saved me from all that I feared.

<sup>5</sup>Those who go to him for help are happy, and they are never disgraced.

<sup>6</sup>This poor man called, and the Lord heard him and saved him from all his troubles.

<sup>7</sup>The angel of the Lord camps around those who fear
God,
and he saves them.

<sup>8</sup>Examine and see how good the Lord is.
Happy is the person who trusts him.

<sup>9</sup>You who belong to the Lord, fear him!
Those who fear him will have everything they need.

<sup>10</sup>Even lions may get weak and hungry, but those who look to the Lord will have every good thing.

<sup>11</sup>Children, come and listen to me.

I will teach you to worship the Lord.

<sup>12</sup>You must do these things to enjoy life and have many happy days.

<sup>13</sup>You must not say evil things, and you must not tell lies.

<sup>14</sup>Stop doing evil and do good.
Look for peace and work for it.

<sup>15</sup>The Lord sees the good people and listens to their prayers.

<sup>16</sup>But the Lord is against those who do evil;
he makes the world forget them.

<sup>17</sup>The Lord hears good people when they cry out to
him,

and he saves them from all their troubles.

<sup>18</sup>The Lord is close to the brokenhearted, and he saves those whose spirits have been crushed.

<sup>19</sup>People who do what is right may have many problems,

but the Lord will solve them all.

<sup>20</sup>He will protect their very bones;
not one of them will be broken.

<sup>21</sup>Evil will kill the wicked;
those who hate good people will be judged guilty.

<sup>22</sup>But the Lord saves his servants' lives;
no one who trusts him will be judged guilty.

Psalms 35:1–36:12

Situation

David begged God to rescue him from those who sought his demise. He recognized the wickedness of his enemies and asked God to intervene.

Observation

God fights on behalf of his children.

Inspiration

You feel unsafe, unsure.

You don't like to be alone.

You're frightened, and fear limits the joy you experience in your life. You're trapped in an adventureless existence. What are you afraid of? Pain? Rejection? Are you afraid of making a mistake? Of getting hurt? Of being robbed or killed? Of getting a disease?

... Did you know I am never afraid, worried, frenzied or never driven with terror? Did you know that your Lord is at peace always? Did you know my Spirit—the same as is in Me—lives in you?

I have built a wall of protection around you so that the invisible dragons of the night will not harm you....

I save you from the troubles and dangers of the daytime. I am for you. Who can be against you?

But you worry.

You worry because of past experiences when you were hurt. You are afraid to be hurt again. You are afraid I won't keep my word. You are afraid I don't care about you. But I do care. Every hair on your head is numbered.

... See Me surrounding you and keeping you from evil. See Me bringing you up out of a horrible pit, lifting you gently out of the miry clay of fear and worry. See yourself completely safe, with your feet upon a rock, established in the ways of God. (From His Thoughts Toward Me by Marie Chapien)

Application

A Prayer for Help

Of David.

Lord, battle with those who battle with me.

Fight against those who fight against me.

<sup>2</sup>Pick up the shield and armor.

Rise up and help me.

<sup>3</sup>Lift up your spears, both large and small,
against those who chase me.

Tell me, "I will save you."

<sup>4</sup>Make those who want to kill me
be ashamed and disgraced.

Make those who plan to harm me turn back and run away.

<sup>5</sup>Make them like chaff blown by the wind
as the angel of the Lord forces them away.

<sup>6</sup>Let their road be dark and slippery as the angel of the Lord chases them.

<sup>7</sup>For no reason they spread out their net to trap me;
for no reason they dug a pit for me.

<sup>8</sup>So let ruin strike them suddenly.
Let them be caught in their own nets;
let them fall into the pit and die.

<sup>9</sup>Then I will rejoice in the Lord;
I will be happy when he saves me.

<sup>10</sup>Even my bones will say,
“Lord, who is like you?
You save the weak from the strong,
the weak and poor from robbers.”

They ask me things I do not know.

<sup>12</sup>They repay me with evil for the good I have done, and they make me very sad.

<sup>13</sup>Yet when they were sick, I put on clothes of sadness and showed my sorrow by going without food.
But my prayers were not answered.

<sup>14</sup>I acted as if they were my friends or brothers.
I bowed in sadness as if I were crying for my mother.

<sup>15</sup>But when I was in trouble, they gathered and laughed;

they gathered to attack before I knew it.
They insulted me without stopping.

<sup>16</sup>They made fun of me and were cruel to me and ground their teeth at me in anger.

<sup>17</sup>Lord, how long will you watch this happen?
Save my life from their attacks;
save me from these people who are like lions.

<sup>18</sup>I will praise you in the great meeting.
I will praise you among crowds of people.

<sup>19</sup>Do not let my enemies laugh at me;
they hate me for no reason.

Do not let them make fun of me;
they have no cause to hate me.

<sup>20</sup>Their words are not friendly

but are lies about peace-loving people.

<sup>21</sup>They speak against me and say, “Aha! We saw what you did!”

Lord, do not leave me alone.

<sup>23</sup>Wake up! Come and defend me!
My God and Lord, fight for me!

<sup>24</sup>Lord my God, defend me with your justice.
Don't let them laugh at me.

<sup>25</sup>Don't let them think, “Aha! We got what we wanted!”

Don't let them say, “We destroyed him.”

<sup>26</sup>Let them be ashamed and embarrassed, because they were happy when I hurt.
Cover them with shame and disgrace, because they thought they were better than I was.

<sup>27</sup>May my friends sing and shout for joy.
May they always say, “Praise the greatness of the Lord,
who loves to see his servants do well.”

<sup>28</sup>I will tell of your goodness and will praise you every day.

Wicked People and a Good God

For the director of music. Of David, the servant of the Lord.

Sin speaks to the wicked in their hearts.
They have no fear of God.

<sup>2</sup>They think too much of themselves
so they don't see their sin and hate it.

<sup>3</sup>Their words are wicked lies;
they are no longer wise or good.

<sup>4</sup>At night they make evil plans;
what they do leads to nothing good.
They don't refuse things that are evil.

<sup>5</sup>Lord, your love reaches to the heavens, your loyalty to the skies.

<sup>6</sup>Your goodness is as high as the mountains.
Your justice is as deep as the great ocean.
Lord, you protect both people and animals.

<sup>7</sup>God, your love is so precious!
You protect people in the shadow of your wings.

<sup>8</sup>They eat the rich food in your house,
and you let them drink from your river of pleasure.

<sup>9</sup>You are the giver of life.
Your light lets us enjoy life.

<sup>10</sup>Continue to love those who know you and to do good to those who are good.

<sup>11</sup>Don't let proud people attack me and the wicked force me away.

<sup>12</sup>Those who do evil have been defeated.
They are overwhelmed;
they cannot do evil any longer.

Life Lessons

Psalm 37:1–40

Situation

David used a number of expressions to contrast the righteous and the wicked. David said that good consequences are a result of good behavior.

Observation

God's people will receive "what they want" as they trust God, commit their lives to him, and delight in serving the Lord.

Inspiration

What are my longings? This question may surprise you. Perhaps you thought your longings had nothing to do with keeping your life on track. I couldn't disagree more. Your heart is crucial. Psalm 37:4 says, "Enjoy serving the Lord, and he will give you what you want." When we submit to God's plans, we can trust our desires. Our assignment is found at the intersection of God's plan and our pleasures. What do you love to do? What brings you joy? What gives you a sense of satisfaction?

Some long to feed the poor. Others enjoy leading the church. Others relish singing or teaching or holding the hands of the sick or counseling the confused. Each of us has been made to serve God in a unique way.

"God has made us what we are. In Christ Jesus, God made us to do good works, which God planned in advance for us to live our lives doing" (Ephesians)

2:10).

“You made all the delicate, inner parts of my body, and knit them together in my mother’s womb. . . . Your workmanship is marvelous. . . . You were there while I was being formed. . . . You saw me before I was born and scheduled each day of my life before I began to breathe” (Psalm 139:13–16, TLB).

You are a custom design; you are tailor-made. God prescribed your birth. Regardless of the circumstances that surrounded your arrival, you are not an accident. God planned you before you were born.

The longings of your heart, then, are not incidental; they are critical messages. The desires of your heart are not to be ignored; they are to be consulted. As the wind turns the weather vane, so God uses your passions to turn your life. God is too gracious to ask you to do something you hate. (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Application

What is God calling you to do? What do you enjoy doing? Is there a connection? Ask your pastor and your friends for advice. Discover and use your spiritual gifts. Then you will find joy in serving God.

Exploration

God Will Reward Fairly

Of David.

Don't be upset because of evil people.
Don't be jealous of those who do wrong,
<sup>2</sup>because like the grass, they will soon dry up.
Like green plants, they will soon die away.

Live in the land and feed on truth.

<sup>4</sup>Enjoy serving the Lord,
and he will give you what you want.

<sup>5</sup>Depend on the Lord;
trust him, and he will take care of you.

<sup>6</sup>Then your goodness will shine like the sun, and your fairness like the noonday sun.

<sup>7</sup>Wait and trust the Lord.

Don't be upset when others get rich or when someone else's plans succeed.

<sup>8</sup>Don't get angry.

Don't be upset; it only leads to trouble.

<sup>9</sup>Evil people will be sent away,
but those who trust the Lord will inherit the land.

<sup>10</sup>In a little while the wicked will be no more.

You may look for them, but they will be gone.

<sup>11</sup>People who are not proud will inherit the land and will enjoy complete peace.

<sup>12</sup>The wicked make evil plans against good people.
They grind their teeth at them in anger.

<sup>13</sup>But the Lord laughs at the wicked,
because he sees that their day is coming.

<sup>14</sup>The wicked draw their swords and bend their bows
to kill the poor and helpless,
to kill those who are honest.

<sup>15</sup>But their swords will stab their own hearts, and their bows will break.

<sup>16</sup>It is better to have little and be right than to have much and be wrong.

<sup>17</sup>The power of the wicked will be broken, but the Lord supports those who do right.

<sup>18</sup>The Lord watches over the lives of the innocent, and their reward will last forever.

<sup>19</sup>They will not be ashamed when trouble comes.
They will be full in times of hunger.

<sup>20</sup>But the wicked will die.

The Lord's enemies will be like the flowers of the fields;

they will disappear like smoke.

<sup>21</sup>The wicked borrow and don't pay back,
but those who do right give freely to others.

<sup>22</sup>Those whom the Lord blesses will inherit the land,
but those he curses will be sent away.

God is pleased with his ways.

<sup>24</sup>If he stumbles, he will not fall, because the Lord holds his hand.

but I have never seen good people left helpless or their children begging for food.

<sup>26</sup>Good people always lend freely to others,
and their children are a blessing.

<sup>27</sup>Stop doing evil and do good,
so you will live forever.

<sup>28</sup>The Lord loves justice and will not leave those who worship him.
He will always protect them,
but the children of the wicked will die.

<sup>29</sup>Good people will inherit the land and will live in it forever.

<sup>30</sup>A good person speaks with wisdom,
and he says what is fair.

<sup>31</sup>The teachings of his God are in his heart,
so he does not fail to keep them.

<sup>32</sup>The wicked watch for good people
so that they may kill them.

<sup>33</sup>But the Lord will not take away his protection or let good people be judged guilty.

and follow him.

He will honor you and give you the land,
and you will see the wicked sent away.

<sup>35</sup>I saw a wicked and cruel man who looked strong like a healthy tree in good soil.

<sup>36</sup>But he died and was gone;
I looked for him, but he couldn't be found.

<sup>37</sup>Think of the innocent person,
and watch the honest one.
The man who has peace
will have children to live after him.

<sup>38</sup>But sinners will be destroyed;
in the end the wicked will die.

<sup>39</sup>The Lord saves good people;
he is their strength in times of trouble.

<sup>40</sup>The Lord helps them and saves them;
he saves them from the wicked,
because they trust in him for protection.

Life Lessons

Psalms 38:1–39:13

Situation

David prayed when he suffered. He knew only God could bring forgiveness and healing.

Observation

In the midst of our loneliness, despair, and confusion, we find hope in God alone.

Inspiration

For many people, life is—well, life is a jungle. Not a jungle of trees and beasts. Would that it were so simple. Would that our jungles could be cut with a machete or our adversaries trapped in a cage. But our jungles are comprised of the thicker thickets of failing health, broken hearts, and empty wallets. Our forests are framed with hospital walls and divorce courts. We don't hear the screeching of birds or the roaring of lions, but we do hear the complaints of neighbors and the demands of bosses. Our predators are our creditors, and the brush that surrounds us is the rush that exhausts us.

It's a jungle out there.

And for some, even for many, hope is in short supply. Hopelessness is an odd bag. Unlike the others, it isn't full. It is empty, and its emptiness creates the burden. Unzip the top and examine all the pockets. Turn it upside down and shake it hard. The bag of hopelessness is painfully empty.

Not a very pretty picture, is it? Let's see if we can brighten it up. We've imagined the emotions of being lost; you think we can do the same with being rescued? What would it take to restore your hope? What would you need to reenergize your journey?

Though the answers are abundant, three come quickly to mind.

The first would be a person. Not just any person. You don't need someone equally confused. You need someone who knows the way out.

And from him you need some vision. You need someone to lift your spirits. You need someone to look you in the face and say, "This isn't the end. Don't give up. There is a better place than this. And I'll lead you there."

And, perhaps most important, you need direction. If you have only a person but no renewed vision, all you have is company. If he has a vision but no direction, you have a dreamer for company. But if you have a person with direction—who can take you from this place to the right place—ah, then you have one who can restore your hope.

Or, to use David's words, "He restores my soul."

Our Shepherd majors in restoring hope to the soul. Whether you are a lamb lost on a craggy ledge or a city slicker alone in a deep jungle, everything changes when your rescuer appears.

Your loneliness diminishes, because you have fellowship.

Your despair decreases, because you have vision.

Your confusion begins to lift, because you have direction. (From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you feel hopeful or hopeless about the future? What kind of hope does the world provide? What kind of hope does your Shepherd provide? Ask God to diminish your loneliness, decrease your despair, and lift your confusion.

A Prayer in Time of Sickness

A psalm of David to remember.

Lord, don't correct me when you are angry.

Don't punish me when you are furious.

<sup>2</sup>Your arrows have wounded me,
and your hand has come down on me.

<sup>3</sup>My body is sick from your punishment.
Even my bones are not healthy because of my sin.

<sup>4</sup>My guilt has overwhelmed me;
like a load it weighs me down.

<sup>5</sup>My sores stink and become infected because I was foolish.

<sup>6</sup>I am bent over and bowed down;
I am sad all day long.

<sup>7</sup>I am burning with fever,
and my whole body is sore.

<sup>8</sup>I am weak and faint.
I moan from the pain I feel.

<sup>9</sup>Lord, you know everything I want;
my cries are not hidden from you.

<sup>10</sup>My heart pounds, and my strength is gone.
I am losing my sight.

<sup>11</sup>Because of my wounds, my friends and neighbors avoid me,

and my relatives stay far away.

<sup>12</sup>Some people set traps to kill me.

Those who want to hurt me plan trouble;
all day long they think up lies.

<sup>13</sup>I am like a deaf man; I cannot hear.

Like a mute, I cannot speak.

<sup>14</sup>I am like a person who does not hear,
who has no answer to give.

<sup>15</sup>I trust you, Lord.

You will answer, my Lord and God.

<sup>16</sup>I said, "Don't let them laugh at me or brag when I am defeated."

<sup>17</sup>I am about to die,
and I cannot forget my pain.

<sup>18</sup>I confess my guilt;

I am troubled by my sin.

<sup>19</sup>My enemies are strong and healthy, and many hate me for no reason.

<sup>20</sup>They repay me with evil for the good I did.
They lie about me because I try to do good.

<sup>21</sup>Lord, don't leave me;
my God, don't go away.

<sup>22</sup>Quickly come and help me,
my Lord and Savior.

Life Is Short

For the director of music. For Jeduthun. A psalm of David.

I said, "I will be careful how I act and will not sin by what I say.

I will be careful what I say around wicked people."

<sup>2</sup>So I kept very quiet.

I didn't even say anything good,
but I became even more upset.

<sup>3</sup>I became very angry inside, and as I thought about it, my anger burned.

So I spoke:

<sup>4</sup>"Lord, tell me when the end will come and how long I will live.

Let me know how long I have.

<sup>5</sup>You have given me only a short life;
my lifetime is like nothing to you.

Everyone's life is only a breath.

Selah

<sup>6</sup>People are like shadows moving about.

All their work is for nothing;
they collect things but don't know who will get them.

<sup>7</sup>"So, Lord, what hope do I have?

You are my hope.

<sup>8</sup>Save me from all my sins.

Don't let wicked fools make fun of me.

<sup>9</sup>I am quiet; I do not open my mouth, because you are the one who has done this.

<sup>10</sup>Quit punishing me;
your beating is about to kill me.

<sup>11</sup>You correct and punish people for their sins;
like a moth, you destroy what they love.
Everyone's life is only a breath.

Selah

<sup>12</sup>“Lord, hear my prayer,
and listen to my cry.
Do not ignore my tears.
I am like a visitor with you.
Like my ancestors, I'm only here a short time.

<sup>13</sup>Leave me alone so I can be happy before I leave and am no more.”

Life Lessons

Psalms 40:1–41:13

Situation

David fled from Saul prior to replacing him as king.

Observation

God delivers us from trouble. The wait may be difficult, but we can be thankful for the outcome and can tell others about it.

Inspiration

An old man walks down a Florida beach. The sun sets like an orange ball on the horizon. The waves slap the sand. The smell of saltwater stings the air. The beach is vacant. No sun to entice the sunbathers. Not enough light for the fishermen. So, aside from a few joggers and strollers, the gentleman is alone.

He carries a bucket in his bony hand. A bucket of shrimp. It's not for him. It's not for the fish. It's for the sea gulls.

He walks to an isolated pier cast in gold by the setting sun. He steps out to the end of the pier. The time has come for the weekly ritual.

He stands and waits.

Soon the sky becomes a mass of dancing dots. The evening silence gives way to the screeching of birds. They fill the sky and then cover the moorings. They are on a pilgrimage to meet the old man.

For a half hour or so, the bushy-browed, shoulder-bent gentleman will stand on the pier, surrounded by the birds of the sea, until his bucket is empty.

But even after the food is gone, his feathered friends still linger. They linger as if they're attracted to more than just food. They perch on his hat. They walk on the pier. And they all share a moment together....

The old man on the pier couldn't go a week without saying "thank you."

His name was Eddie Rickenbacker. If you were alive in October 1943, you probably remember the day that he was reported missing at sea.

He had been sent on a mission to deliver a message to Gen. Douglas MacArthur. With a handpicked crew in a B-17 known as the "Flying Fortress," he set off across the South Pacific. Somewhere the crew became lost, the fuel ran out, and the plane went down.

All eight crew members escaped into the life rafts. They battled the weather, the water, the sharks, and the sun. But most of all, they battled the hunger. After eight days, their rations were gone. They ran out of options. It would take a miracle for them to survive.

And a miracle occurred.

After an afternoon devotional service, the men said a prayer and tried to rest. As Rickenbacker was dozing with his hat over his eyes, something landed on his head. He would later say that he knew it was a sea gull. He didn't know how he knew; he just knew. That gull meant food ... if he could catch it. And he did.

The flesh was eaten. The intestines were used as fish bait. And the crew survived.

What was a sea gull doing hundreds of miles away from land?

Only God knows.

But whatever the reason, Rickenbacker was thankful. As a result, every Friday evening this old captain walked to the pier, his bucket full of shrimp and his heart full of thanks.

We'd be wise to do the same. We've much in common with Rickenbacker. We, too, were saved by a Sacrificial Visitor.

We, too, were rescued by One who journeyed far from only God knows where.

And we, like the captain, have every reason to look into the sky ... and worship. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

Tired of waiting for a career break? A loving spouse? Children? Pray through this psalm when you feel impatient. Let God know your feelings, and tell him your frustrations.

Praise and Prayer for Help

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

I waited patiently for the Lord.
He turned to me and heard my cry.
<sup>2</sup>He lifted me out of the pit of destruction, out of the sticky mud.
He stood me on a rock
and made my feet steady.
<sup>3</sup>He put a new song in my mouth,
a song of praise to our God.
Many people will see this and worship him.
Then they will trust the Lord.

who trusts the Lord,
who doesn't turn to those who are proud or to those who worship false gods.
<sup>5</sup>Lord my God, you have done many miracles.
Your plans for us are many.
If I tried to tell them all,
there would be too many to count.

<sup>6</sup>You do not want sacrifices and offerings.
But you have made a hole in my ear to show that my body and life are yours.
You do not ask for burnt offerings and sacrifices to take away sins.

<sup>7</sup>Then I said, "Look, I have come.
It is written about me in the book.

<sup>8</sup>My God, I want to do what you want.
Your teachings are in my heart."

<sup>9</sup>I will tell about your goodness in the great meeting of your people.

Lord, you know my lips are not silent.

<sup>10</sup>I do not hide your goodness in my heart;
I speak about your loyalty and salvation.
I do not hide your love and truth from the people in the great meeting.

<sup>11</sup>Lord, do not hold back your mercy from me;
let your love and truth always protect me.

<sup>12</sup>Troubles have surrounded me;
there are too many to count.
My sins have caught me
so that I cannot see a way to escape.
I have more sins than hairs on my head,
and I have lost my courage.

<sup>13</sup>Please, Lord, save me.
Hurry, Lord, to help me.

<sup>14</sup>People are trying to kill me.
Shame them and disgrace them.
People want to hurt me.

Let them run away in disgrace.

<sup>15</sup>People are making fun of me.

Let them be shamed into silence.

<sup>16</sup>But let those who follow you be happy and glad.

They love you for saving them.

May they always say, "Praise the Lord!"

<sup>17</sup>Lord, because I am poor and helpless, please remember me.

You are my helper and savior.

My God, do not wait.

A Prayer in Time of Sickness

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

Happy is the person who thinks about the poor.
When trouble comes, the Lord will save him.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord will protect him and spare his life and will bless him in the land.

He will not let his enemies take him.

<sup>3</sup>The Lord will give him strength when he is sick, and he will make him well again.

<sup>4</sup>I said, "Lord, have mercy on me.

Heal me, because I have sinned against you."

<sup>5</sup>My enemies are saying evil things about me.

They say, "When will he die and be forgotten?"

<sup>6</sup>Some people come to see me, but they lie.

They just come to get bad news.

Then they go and gossip.

<sup>7</sup>All my enemies whisper about me and think the worst about me.

<sup>8</sup>They say, "He has a terrible disease.

He will never get out of bed again."

<sup>9</sup>My best and truest friend, who ate at my table, has even turned against me.

<sup>10</sup>Lord, have mercy on me.

Give me strength so I can pay them back.

<sup>11</sup>Because my enemies do not defeat me,

I know you are pleased with me.

<sup>12</sup>Because I am innocent, you support me and will let me be with you forever.

<sup>13</sup>Praise the Lord, the God of Israel.

He has always been,
and he will always be.

Amen and amen.

Life Lessons

Psalms 42:1–43:5

Situation

Psalms 42 and 43 were probably written as one psalm. Though the writer felt separated from God, he recognized that he should put his hope in God.

Observation

Seek God even in times of discouragement, and he will provide hope.

Inspiration

What do you need most today? Do you need just a word of hope? That's what we all need. And that's what the Word of God does that nothing and no one else can. The Word of God says to us that there is no hopeless situation, no hopeless illness, no hopeless marriage. If there were hopeless situations, then God would have given up long ago.

Having a Savior in Christ means that the hopeless have hope, the dead have life, and the abandoned have Good News.

Our hope is the anchor for the soul. "Where's your hope?" Jesus asks. It is the confident hope of the return of Christ. (From The Inspirational Bible, "Hope")

Application

List the circumstances or events in your life that are preventing you from hoping in God. Pray through each one of them, asking God to give you renewed hope in each situation.

Exploration

Hope—Psalm 16:9–11; 31:24; 71:5; Proverbs 14:32;

Wishing to Be Near God

For the director of music. A maskil of the sons of Korah.

As a deer thirsts for streams of water,
so I thirst for you, God.

When can I go to meet with him?

<sup>3</sup>Day and night, my tears have been my food.

People are always saying,

“Where is your God?”

<sup>4</sup>When I remember these things,

I speak with a broken heart.

I used to walk with the crowd and lead them to God’s Temple with songs of praise.

<sup>5</sup>Why am I so sad?

Why am I so upset?

I should put my hope in God

and keep praising him,

my Savior and <sup>6</sup>my God.

I am very sad.

So I remember you where the Jordan River begins, near the peaks of Hermon and Mount Mizar.

<sup>7</sup>Troubles have come again and again, sounding like waterfalls.

Your waves are crashing all around me.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord shows his true love every day.

At night I have a song,
and I pray to my living God.

<sup>9</sup>I say to God, my Rock,
“Why have you forgotten me?

Why am I sad
and troubled by my enemies?”

<sup>10</sup>My enemies’ insults make me feel as if my bones were broken.

They are always saying,
“Where is your God?”

<sup>11</sup>Why am I so sad?

Why am I so upset?

I should put my hope in God
and keep praising him,
my Savior and my God.

A Prayer for Protection

God, defend me.

Argue my case against those who don't follow you.

Save me from liars and those who do evil.

<sup>2</sup>God, you are my strength.

Why have you rejected me?

Why am I sad

and troubled by my enemies?

<sup>3</sup>Send me your light and truth to guide me.

Let them lead me to your holy mountain, to where you live.

<sup>4</sup>Then I will go to the altar of God, to God who is my joy and happiness.

I will praise you with a harp,

God, my God.

<sup>5</sup>Why am I so sad?

Why am I so upset?

I should put my hope in God

and keep praising him,

my Savior and my God.

Life Lessons

Psalm 44:1–26

Situation

The sons of Korah wrote this psalm after Israel lost a war. The Israelites did not understand what caused them to lose.

Observation

Although disappointed and confused, Israel kept trusting in God. They praised him and knew that he continued to be strong.

Inspiration

Two-year-old Sara sits on my lap. We are watching a comedy on television about a guy who has a mouse in his room. He is asleep. He opens one eye and finds himself peering into the face of the rodent...

I laugh, but Sara panics. She turns away from the screen and buries her face in my shoulder. Her arms encircle my neck and clamp like a vise. Her little body grows rigid. She thinks the mouse is going to get her.

She is afraid.

But with time, I convince her... Sara has gone from white-faced fear to peaceful chuckles in a few moments. Why? Because her father spoke and she believed.

Would that we would do the same. Got any giant mice on your screen? Got any fears that won’t go away? ...

I wish the fears were just television images. They aren't. They lurk in hospital rooms and funeral homes. They stare at us from divorce papers and eviction notices. They glare through the eyes of cruel parents or an abusive mate. . . .

There are times when mice roar. There are times when we need a strong pair of arms. You need to know that the arms of God are there. (From Tell Me the Story by Max Lucado)

Application

What problem or fear do you need to trust God with today? Remember that God already knows your problem and wants you to trust him for strength to solve it. Tell God about your need.

Exploration

Trust God—Proverbs 3:5; Isaiah 26:3–4; 50:10; Jeremiah 17:7–8; Habakkuk 3:17–19; Romans 15:13; Hebrews 6:18–19.

A Prayer for Help

For the director of music. A maskil of the sons of Korah.

God, we have heard about you.
Our ancestors told us
what you did in their days,
in days long ago.

<sup>2</sup>With your power you forced the nations out of the land

and placed our ancestors here.
You destroyed those other nations,
but you made our ancestors grow strong.

<sup>3</sup>It wasn't their swords that took the land.
It wasn't their power that gave them victory.
But it was your great power and strength.
You were with them because you loved them.

<sup>4</sup>My God, you are my King.
Your commands led Jacob's people to victory.

<sup>5</sup>With your help we pushed back our enemies.
In your name we trampled those who came against us.

<sup>6</sup>I don't trust my bow to help me, and my sword can't save me.

<sup>7</sup>You saved us from our foes,
and you made our enemies ashamed.

<sup>8</sup>We will praise God every day;

we will praise your name forever.

Selah

<sup>9</sup>But you have rejected us and shamed us.
You don't march with our armies anymore.

<sup>10</sup>You let our enemies push us back,
and those who hate us have taken our wealth.

<sup>11</sup>You gave us away like sheep to be eaten and have scattered us among the nations.

<sup>12</sup>You sold your people for nothing and made no profit on the sale.

<sup>13</sup>You made us a joke to our neighbors;
those around us laugh and make fun of us.

<sup>14</sup>You made us a joke to the other nations;
people shake their heads.

<sup>15</sup>I am always in disgrace,
and I am covered with shame.

<sup>16</sup>My enemy is getting even with insults and curses.

<sup>17</sup>All these things have happened to us, but we have not forgotten you or failed to keep our agreement with you.

<sup>18</sup>Our hearts haven't turned away from you,
and we haven't stopped following you.

<sup>19</sup>But you crushed us in this place where wild dogs live,
and you covered us with deep darkness.

<sup>20</sup>If we had forgotten our God or lifted our hands in prayer to foreign gods,

<sup>21</sup>God would have known,

because he knows what is in our hearts.

<sup>22</sup>But for you we are in danger of death all the time.

People think we are worth no more than sheep to be killed.

Get up! Don't reject us forever.

<sup>24</sup>Why do you hide from us?

Have you forgotten our pain and troubles?

<sup>25</sup>We have been pushed down into the dirt;

we are flat on the ground.

Because of your love, save us.

Life Lessons

Psalms 45:1–46:11

Situation

God's strength provided safety, security, and peace. His power guaranteed victory. (Psalm 45 may have been written for a wedding).

Observation

Nothing occurs beyond the reach of God's power. Awareness of God's power provides rest and encouragement to Christians.

Inspiration

America is in a hurry. Time has skyrocketed in value. The value of any commodity depends on its scarcity. And time that once was abundant now is going to the highest bidder.

... "Time," according to pollster Louis Harris, "may have become the most precious commodity in the land."

Do we really have less time? Or is it just our imagination?

In 1965 a testimony before a Senate subcommittee claimed the future looked bright for free time in America. By 1985, predicted the report, Americans would be working twenty-two hours a week and would be able to retire at age thirty-eight.

The reason? The computer age would usher in a gleaming array of advances that would do our work for us while stabilizing our economy.

Take the household, they cited. Microwaves, quick-fix foods, and food processors will pave the way into the carefree future. And the office? Well, you know that old stencil machine? It'll be replaced by a copier. And the files? Computers are the files of the future. And that electric typewriter? Don't get too attached to it; a computer will do its work, too.

And now, years later, we have everything the report promised. The computers are byting, the VCRs are recording, the fax machines are faxing. Yet the clocks are still ticking, and people are still running. The truth is, the average amount of leisure time has shrunk 37 percent since 1973. The average work week has increased from forty-one to forty-seven hours. (And, for many of you, forty-seven hours would be a calm week.)

Why didn't the forecast come true? What did the committee overlook? They misjudged the appetite of the consumer. As the individualism of the sixties led to the materialism of the eighties, the free time gained for us by technology didn't make us relax; it made us run. Gadgets provided more time ... more time meant more potential money ... more potential money meant more time needed ... and round and round it went. Lives grew louder as demands became greater. And as demands became greater, lives grew emptier.

"I've got so many irons in the fire, I can't keep any of them hot," complained one young father.

Can you relate?

When I was ten years old, my mother enrolled me in piano lessons. Now, many youngsters excel at the keyboard. Not me. Spending thirty minutes every afternoon tethered to a piano bench was a torture just one level away from swallowing broken glass. The metronome inspected each second with glacial slowness before it was allowed to pass.

Some of the music, though, I learned to enjoy. I hammered the staccatos. I belabored the crescendos. The thundering finishes I kettle-drummed. But there was one instruction in the music I could never obey to my teacher's satisfaction. The rest. The zigzagged command to do nothing. Nothing! What sense does that make? Why sit at the piano and pause when you can pound?

"Because," my teacher patiently explained, "music is always sweeter after a rest."

It didn't make sense to me at age ten. But now, a few decades later, the words ring with wisdom—divine wisdom. (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

Are you weary? Look to the protection and strength of God. The world can be overwhelming at times, but remember that God has everything under control. Relax in him.

A Song for the King's Wedding

For the director of music. To the tune of "Lilies." A maskil. A love song of the sons of Korah.

Beautiful words fill my mind.
I am speaking of royal things.
My tongue is like the pen of a skilled writer.

<sup>2</sup>You are more handsome than anyone,
and you are an excellent speaker,
so God has blessed you forever.

<sup>3</sup>Put on your sword, powerful warrior.
Show your glory and majesty.

<sup>4</sup>In your majesty win the victory for what is true and right.
Your power will do amazing things.

<sup>5</sup>Your sharp arrows will enter the hearts of the king's enemies.
Nations will be defeated before you.

<sup>6</sup>God, your throne will last forever and ever.
You will rule your kingdom with fairness.

<sup>7</sup>You love right and hate evil,
so God has chosen you from among your friends;
he has set you apart with much joy.

<sup>8</sup>Your clothes smell like myrrh, aloes, and cassia.
From palaces of ivory

music comes to make you happy.

<sup>9</sup>Kings' daughters are among your honored women.
Your bride stands at your right side wearing gold from Ophir.

<sup>10</sup>Listen to me, daughter; look and pay attention.
Forget your people and your father's family.

<sup>11</sup>The king loves your beauty.
Because he is your master, you should obey him.

<sup>12</sup>People from the city of Tyre have brought a gift.
Wealthy people will want to meet you.

<sup>13</sup>The princess is very beautiful.
Her gown is woven with gold.

<sup>14</sup>In her beautiful clothes she is brought to the king.
Her bridesmaids follow behind her,
and they are also brought to him.

<sup>15</sup>They come with happiness and joy;
they enter the king's palace.

<sup>16</sup>You will have sons to replace your fathers.
You will make them rulers through all the land.

<sup>17</sup>I will make your name famous from now on,
so people will praise you forever and ever.

God Protects His People

For the director of music. By alamothe. A psalm of the sons of Korah.

God is our protection and our strength.
He always helps in times of trouble.
<sup>2</sup>So we will not be afraid even if the earth shakes, or the mountains fall into the sea, <sup>3</sup>even if the oceans roar and foam,
or the mountains shake at the raging sea.

Selah

<sup>4</sup>There is a river that brings joy to the city of God, the holy place where God Most High lives.
<sup>5</sup>God is in that city, and so it will not be shaken.
God will help her at dawn.
<sup>6</sup>Nations tremble and kingdoms shake.
God shouts and the earth crumbles.

<sup>7</sup>The Lord All-Powerful is with us;
the God of Jacob is our defender.

Selah

<sup>8</sup>Come and see what the Lord has done, the amazing things he has done on the earth.
<sup>9</sup>He stops wars everywhere on the earth.
He breaks all bows and spears and burns up the chariots with fire.
<sup>10</sup>God says, "Be quiet and know that I am God.
I will be supreme over all the nations;
I will be supreme in the earth."

<sup>11</sup>The Lord All-Powerful is with us;
the God of Jacob is our defender.

Selah

Life Lessons

Psalms 47:1–49:20

Situation

Psalm 47 is a festive song, celebrating the universal reign of God.

Observation

God reigns over all the earth and every nation. He deserves our adoration.

Inspiration

Some people have problems with the Lord Jesus Christ's command to love Him with all of their hearts, all of their souls, and all of their minds. "I do not like someone—even if that Someone is God—commanding me to love Him. I want my love to come freely."

Such a reservation melts when you consider why God sets the commandment of love above all others. As we allow the Holy Spirit to love Him through us, we love God with all of our strength because He is worthy of our devotion.

The Lord created the heavens and the earth and all that is in them, including you (Genesis 1:1; 2:7, 22). Christ has saved you from eternal destruction. He supplies all of your needs (Philippians 4:19). Christ Jesus died and rose again for you.

Understanding God's majesty and glory is the wellspring of your love. He has done so much for you. How can you not love such a One?

You also love God with all of your heart because

He knows that devotion given to any other person or things besides Himself is harmful. God created you for Himself. When your highest and noblest love is directed to something or someone else, you have been seduced into treachery. Loving God frees you from competing idols that only enslave you. (From A Gift of Love by Charles Stanley)

Application

If God deserves our adoration, what are you doing that reflects that? Ask God to put a song of worship in your heart. Start each day by spending a few moments in praise and adoration.

Exploration

Praise and Adoration—Deuteronomy 10:21; 1 Chronicles 16:8–10; Psalms 63:3–5; 66; 71:23; Matthew 11:25–27; Revelation 5:13.

God, the King of the World

For the director of music. A psalm of the sons of Korah.

Clap your hands, all you people.
Shout to God with joy.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord Most High is wonderful.
He is the great King over all the earth!

<sup>3</sup>He defeated nations for us and put them under our control.

<sup>4</sup>He chose the land we would inherit.
We are the children of Jacob, whom he loved.

Selah

<sup>5</sup>God has risen with a shout of joy;
the Lord has risen as the trumpets sounded.

<sup>6</sup>Sing praises to God. Sing praises.
Sing praises to our King. Sing praises.

<sup>7</sup>God is King of all the earth,
so sing a song of praise to him.

<sup>8</sup>God is King over the nations.
God sits on his holy throne.

<sup>9</sup>The leaders of the nations meet with the people of the God of Abraham, because the leaders of the earth belong to God.
He is supreme.

Jerusalem, the City of God

A psalm of the sons of Korah.

The Lord is great; he should be praised in the city of our God, on his holy mountain.

<sup>2</sup>It is high and beautiful and brings joy to the whole world.

Mount Zion is like the high mountains of the north;
it is the city of the Great King.

<sup>3</sup>God is within its palaces;
he is known as its defender.

<sup>4</sup>Kings joined together and came to attack the city.

<sup>5</sup>But when they saw it, they were amazed.
They ran away in fear.

<sup>6</sup>Fear took hold of them;
they hurt like a woman having a baby.

<sup>7</sup>You destroyed the large trading ships with an east wind.

<sup>8</sup>First we heard and now we have seen that God will always keep his city safe.
It is the city of the Lord All-Powerful,
the city of our God

Selah

<sup>9</sup>God, we come into your Temple to think about your love.

<sup>10</sup>God, your name is known everywhere;
all over the earth people praise you.
Your right hand is full of goodness.

<sup>11</sup>Mount Zion is happy and all the towns of Judah rejoice, because your decisions are fair.

<sup>12</sup>Walk around Jerusalem and count its towers.

<sup>13</sup>Notice how strong they are.
Look at the palaces.

Then you can tell your children about them.

<sup>14</sup>This God is our God forever and ever.
He will guide us from now on.

Trusting Money Is Foolish

For the director of music. A psalm of the sons of Korah.

Listen to this, all you nations;
listen, all you who live on earth.

<sup>2</sup>Listen, both great and small,
rich and poor together.

<sup>3</sup>What I say is wise, and my heart speaks with understanding.

<sup>4</sup>I will pay attention to a wise saying;
I will explain my riddle on the harp.

<sup>5</sup>Why should I be afraid of bad days?
Why should I fear when evil men surround me?

<sup>6</sup>They trust in their money and brag about their riches.

No one can pay God for his own life,

<sup>8</sup>because the price of a life is high.
No payment is ever enough.

<sup>9</sup>Do people live forever?
Don't they all face death?

<sup>10</sup>See, even wise people die.
Fools and stupid people also die and leave their wealth to others.

<sup>11</sup>Their graves will always be their homes.
They will live there from now on,
even though they named places after themselves.

<sup>12</sup>Even rich people do not live forever;
like the animals, people die.

<sup>13</sup>This is what will happen to those who trust in themselves
and to their followers who believe them.

Selah

<sup>14</sup>Like sheep, they must die, and death will be their shepherd.
Honest people will rule over them in the morning,
and their bodies will rot in a grave far from home.

<sup>15</sup>But God will save my life and will take me from the grave.

<sup>16</sup>Don't be afraid of rich people because their houses are more beautiful.

<sup>17</sup>They don't take anything to the grave;
their wealth won't go down with them.

<sup>18</sup>Even though they were praised when they were alive

---

and people may praise you when you succeed—

<sup>19</sup>they will go to where their ancestors are.

They will never see light again.

<sup>20</sup>Rich people with no understanding are just like animals that die.

Life Lessons

Psalms 50:1–52:9

Situation

David repented after Nathan confronted him. Nathan rightly pointed to David's sin of adultery and murder (2 Samuel 11–12).

Observation

David pled for restoration and renewal. He asked that God would purify his heart.

Inspiration

When I was ten years old, I had a puppy named Tina. You would have loved her. She was the perfect pet. An irresistible, pug-nosed Pekingese pup. One ear fell over and the other ear stood straight up. She never tired of playing and yet never got in the way.

Her mother died when she was born so the rearing of the puppy fell to me. I fed her milk from a doll bottle and used to sneak out at night to see if she was warm. I'll never forget the night I took her to bed with me only to have her mess on my pillow. We made quite a pair. My first brush with parenthood.

One day I went into the backyard to give Tina her dinner. I looked around and spotted her in a corner near the fence. She had cornered a butterfly (as much as a butterfly can be cornered) and was playfully yelping and jumping in the air trying to catch the butterfly in her mouth. Amused, I watched her for a few minutes and then called to her.

“Tina! Come here, girl! It's time to eat!”

What happened next surprised me. Tina stopped her playing and looked at me. But instead of immediately scampering in my direction, she sat back on her haunches. Then she tilted her head back toward the butterfly, looked back at me, then back to the butterfly, and then back to me. For the first time in her life, she had to make a decision....

And do you know what she did? She chased the butterfly! Scurrying and barking, she ignored my call and chased that silly thing until it flew over the fence.

That is when the guilt hit.

She stopped at the fence for a long time, sitting back on her hind legs looking up in the air where the butterfly had made its exit. Slowly, the excitement of the chase was overshadowed by the guilt of disobedience.

She turned painfully and walked back to encounter her owner. (To be honest, I was a little miffed.) Her head was ducked as she regretfully trudged across the yard.

For the first time in her life, she felt guilty.

She had violated her “should” and had given in to her “want.” My heart melted, however, and I called her name again. Sensing forgiveness, Tina darted into my hands. (I always was a softy.)

Now, I may be overdoing it a bit. I don’t know if a dog can really feel guilty or not. But I do know a human can. And whether the sin is as slight as chasing a butterfly or as serious as sleeping with another man’s wife, the effects are the same....

Man cannot cope with guilt alone....

... I don't care how many worship services you attend or good deeds you do, your goodness is insufficient. You can't be good enough to deserve forgiveness. No one bats a thousand. No one bowls three hundred. No one. Not you, not me, not anyone....

... Listen. Quit trying to quench your own guilt. You can't do it. There's no way. Not with a bottle of whiskey or perfect Sunday School attendance. Sorry. I don't care how bad you are. You can't be bad enough to forget it. And I don't care how good you are. You can't be good enough to overcome it.

You need a Savior. (From No Wonder They Call Him the Savior by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you think you have committed too great a sin for God to forget it? Do you think you have waited too long to ask for his pardon? Read this psalm to God as your own prayer. Experience God's forgiving grace as David did.

Exploration

Confession of Sin—Ezra 9:5-7; 10:1; Nehemiah 1:5-7; Psalm 32:5; 41:4; Luke 3:3; Acts 3:19.

God Wants True Worship

A psalm of Asaph.

The God of gods, the Lord, speaks.
He calls the earth from the rising to the setting sun.

<sup>2</sup>God shines from Jerusalem, whose beauty is perfect.

<sup>3</sup>Our God comes, and he will not be silent.
A fire burns in front of him,
and a powerful storm surrounds him.

<sup>4</sup>He calls to the sky above and to the earth that he might judge his people.

<sup>5</sup>He says, “Gather around, you who worship me, who have made an agreement with me, using a sacrifice.”

<sup>6</sup>God is the judge,
and even the skies say he is right.

Selah

<sup>7</sup>God says, “My people, listen to me;
Israel, I will testify against you.
I am God, your God.

<sup>8</sup>I do not scold you for your sacrifices.
You always bring me your burnt offerings.

<sup>9</sup>But I do not need bulls from your stalls or goats from your pens,

<sup>10</sup>because every animal of the forest is already mine.
The cattle on a thousand hills are mine.

<sup>11</sup>I know every bird on the mountains, and every living thing in the fields is mine.

<sup>12</sup>If I were hungry, I would not tell you, because the earth and everything in it are mine.

<sup>13</sup>I don't eat the meat of bulls or drink the blood of goats.

<sup>14</sup>Give an offering to show thanks to God.
Give God Most High what you have promised.

<sup>15</sup>Call to me in times of trouble.
I will save you, and you will honor me.”

<sup>16</sup>But God says to the wicked,
“Why do you talk about my laws?
Why do you mention my agreement?

<sup>17</sup>You hate my teachings and turn your back on what I say.

<sup>18</sup>When you see a thief, you join him.
You take part in adultery.

<sup>19</sup>You don't stop your mouth from speaking evil, and your tongue makes up lies.

<sup>20</sup>You speak against your brother and lie about your mother's son.

<sup>21</sup>I have kept quiet while you did these things, so you thought I was just like you.
But I will scold you and accuse you to your face.

<sup>22</sup>“Think about this, you who forget God.

Otherwise, I will tear you apart,
and no one will save you.

<sup>23</sup>Those people honor me who bring me offerings to show thanks.
And I, God, will save those who do that.”

A Prayer for Forgiveness

For the director of music. A psalm of David when the prophet Nathan came to David after David's sin with Bathsheba.

God, be merciful to me
because you are loving.
Because you are always ready to be merciful,
wipe out all my wrongs.
<sup>2</sup>Wash away all my guilt and make me clean again.

<sup>3</sup>I know about my wrongs,
and I can't forget my sin.
<sup>4</sup>You are the only one I have sinned against;
I have done what you say is wrong.
You are right when you speak and fair when you judge.
<sup>5</sup>I was brought into this world in sin.
In sin my mother gave birth to me.

<sup>6</sup>You want me to be completely truthful, so teach me wisdom.

<sup>7</sup>Take away my sin, and I will be clean.
Wash me, and I will be whiter than snow.

<sup>8</sup>Make me hear sounds of joy and gladness;
let the bones you crushed be happy again.

<sup>9</sup>Turn your face from my sins and wipe out all my guilt.

<sup>10</sup>Create in me a pure heart, God,

and make my spirit right again.

<sup>11</sup>Do not send me away from you or take your Holy Spirit away from me.

<sup>12</sup>Give me back the joy of your salvation.
Keep me strong by giving me a willing spirit.

<sup>13</sup>Then I will teach your ways to those who do wrong, and sinners will turn back to you.

<sup>14</sup>God, save me from the guilt of murder,
God of my salvation,
and I will sing about your goodness.

<sup>15</sup>Lord, let me speak
so I may praise you.

<sup>16</sup>You are not pleased by sacrifices, or I would give
them.

You don't want burnt offerings.

<sup>17</sup>The sacrifice God wants is a broken spirit.
God, you will not reject a heart that is broken and sorry for sin.

<sup>18</sup>Do whatever good you wish for Jerusalem.
Rebuild the walls of Jerusalem.

<sup>19</sup>Then you will be pleased with right sacrifices and whole burnt offerings,
and bulls will be offered on your altar.

God Will Punish the Proud

For the director of music. A maskil of David. When Doeg the Edomite came to Saul and said to him, "David is in Ahimelech's house."

Mighty warrior, why do you brag about the evil you do?

God's love will continue forever.

Your tongue is like a sharp razor, making up lies.

<sup>3</sup>You love wrong more than right and lies more than truth.

Selah

<sup>4</sup>You love words that bite and tongues that lie.

<sup>5</sup>But God will ruin you forever.

He will grab you and throw you out of your tent;
he will tear you away from the land of the living.

Selah

<sup>6</sup>Those who do right will see this and fear God.

They will laugh at you and say,

<sup>7</sup>"Look what happened to the man who did not depend on God
but depended on his money.
He grew strong by his evil plans."

<sup>8</sup>But I am like an olive tree growing in God's Temple.

I trust God's love
forever and ever.

<sup>9</sup>God, I will thank you forever for what you have done.

With those who worship you, I will trust you because you are good.

Life Lessons

Psalms 53:1–55:23

Situation

People who denied God were foolish, for they denied the one who could save them. David prayed for salvation to reach his people. He praised God for giving favor to an unworthy nation.

Observation

Denying God doesn't detract from his majesty, but it does separate you from your divine Father. Avoid this tragedy!

Inspiration

One Sunday afternoon I was reading a biography of Bill Borden, a Yale University student many years ago.

... [Bill's] father had been a millionaire and had left his fortune to Bill. But I was unsettled when I learned that Bill gave away his inheritance to missionary societies ... so that more people would hear and accept the good news... I read that Bill had decided to become a missionary.

As I read on ... I learned that only a few weeks after arriving in Cairo to begin his work as a missionary ... [Bill] woke up one morning feeling sick ... because of a high fever. The fever didn't go away, but became worse.

I had heard and read enough missionary stories to know how God sometimes heals people, so I was completely unprepared to find out that God didn't heal Bill. Instead, Bill died. I was utterly shocked....

God was unfair. God was ungrateful. I would never serve a God like that, I thought. So I decided, as I sat there reading, to go my own way and run my own life....

Then a strange thing happened. God had mercy on me. Even as I was defying Him and deciding to go my own way and do my own thing, my mind changed and I saw the fatal foolishness of that decision. A moment later I was down on my knees beside the chair where I had been reading. And I found myself praying and telling God that He could have my life, and I would do whatever He wanted me to do. It was as though He reached out for me as I was going over the edge and pulled me back and gave me a second chance.

From then on, although with some bumps, relapses, and detours along the way, I have stuck to my goal: to belong to Him alone and to be what He wants me to be, to do what He tells me to do. What happiness and joy I have had as a result! (From Next Steps for New Christians by Kenneth Taylor)

Application

Humanity has built tall buildings, gone to the moon, and transplanted organs. But we haven't overcome the penalty of sin. Such a challenge escapes us. Who has the cure for sin or for death? Open your heart to God today. Watch God accomplish changes in areas you have not been able to change.

Exploration

Denying God—Exodus 11:9–10; Matthew 10:32–33; 2 Timothy 2:12.

The Unbelieving Fool

For the director of music. By mahalath. A maskil of David.

Fools say to themselves,
“There is no God.”
Fools are evil and do terrible things;
none of them does anything good.

<sup>2</sup>God looked down from heaven on all people to see if anyone was wise,
if anyone was looking to God for help.

<sup>3</sup>But all have turned away.
Together, everyone has become evil;
none of them does anything good.
Not a single person.

<sup>4</sup>Don't the wicked understand?
They destroy my people as if they were eating bread.
They do not ask God for help.

<sup>5</sup>The wicked are filled with terror
where there had been nothing to fear.
God will scatter the bones of your enemies.
You will defeat them,
because God has rejected them.

<sup>6</sup>I pray that victory will come to Israel from Mount Zion!

May God bring them back.
Then the people of Jacob will rejoice,
and the people of Israel will be glad.

A Prayer for Help

For the director of music. With stringed instruments. A maskil of David when the Ziphites went to Saul and said, "We think David is hiding among our people."

God, save me because of who you are.
By your strength show that I am innocent.

<sup>2</sup>Hear my prayer, God;
listen to what I say.

<sup>3</sup>Strangers turn against me,
and cruel men want to kill me.
They do not care about God.

Selah

<sup>4</sup>See, God will help me;
the Lord will support me.

<sup>5</sup>Let my enemies be punished with their own evil.
Destroy them because you are loyal to me.

<sup>6</sup>I will offer a sacrifice as a special gift to you.
I will thank you, Lord, because you are good.

<sup>7</sup>You have saved me from all my troubles, and I have seen my enemies defeated.

A Prayer About a False Friend

For the director of music. With stringed instruments. A maskil of David.

God, listen to my prayer and do not ignore my cry for help.
<sup>2</sup>Pay attention to me and answer me.
I am troubled and upset
<sup>3</sup>by what the enemy says and how the wicked look at me.
They bring troubles down on me,
and in anger they attack me.

<sup>4</sup>I am frightened inside;
the terror of death has attacked me.
<sup>5</sup>I am scared and shaking,
and terror grips me.
<sup>6</sup>I said, "I wish I had wings like a dove.
Then I would fly away and rest.
<sup>7</sup>I would wander far away
and stay in the desert.

Selah

<sup>8</sup>I would hurry to my place of escape, far away from the wind and storm."
<sup>9</sup>Lord, destroy and confuse their words, because I see violence and fighting in the city.
<sup>10</sup>Day and night they are all around its walls, and evil and trouble are everywhere inside.
<sup>11</sup>Destruction is everywhere in the city;

trouble and lying never leave its streets.

<sup>12</sup>It was not an enemy insulting me.
I could stand that.

It was not someone who hated me.
I could hide from him.

<sup>13</sup>But it is you, a person like me,
my companion and good friend.

<sup>14</sup>We had a good friendship and walked together to God's Temple.

<sup>15</sup>Let death take away my enemies.
Let them die while they are still young because evil lives with them.

<sup>16</sup>But I will call to God for help, and the Lord will save me.

<sup>17</sup>Morning, noon, and night I am troubled and upset, but he will listen to me.

<sup>18</sup>Many are against me,
but he keeps me safe in battle.

<sup>19</sup>God who lives forever will hear me and punish them.

Selah

But they will not change;
they do not fear God.

<sup>20</sup>The one who was my friend attacks his friends and breaks his promises.

<sup>21</sup>His words are slippery like butter,
but war is in his heart.

His words are smoother than oil,
but they cut like knives.

<sup>22</sup>Give your worries to the Lord,
and he will take care of you.
He will never let good people down.

<sup>23</sup>But, God, you will bring down
the wicked to the grave.
Murderers and liars will live
only half a lifetime.
But I will trust in you.

Life Lessons

Psalms 56:1–57:11

Situation

David wrote Psalm 56 when the Philistines captured him in Gath (1 Samuel 21:10–15). He wrote Psalm 57 while hiding in a cave.

Observation

God is trustworthy. He is a rock, a hiding place, a fortress. We have safety and comfort in him.

Inspiration

Many years ago, Frederick Nolan was fleeing from his enemies during the North African persecution. Hounded by his pursuers over hill and valley with no place to hide, he fell exhausted into a wayside cave where he fully expected to be found. Awaiting his death, he saw a spider weaving a web. Within minutes, the little bug had woven a beautiful web across the mouth of the cave. The pursuers arrived and wondered if Nolan was hiding in there; but they thought it impossible for him to have entered the cave without dismantling the web. And so they went on. Having escaped, Nolan emerged from his hiding place and proclaimed, “Where God is, a spider’s web is like a wall. Where God is not, a wall is like a spider’s web.”

God is our wall of defense. He is the one who delivers us from those who want to hurt us. He is the one who gives us the comfort and strength we need to be courageous and to endure the trials and trouble that enter our lives. (From A Dad's Blessing by Gary Smalley and John Trent)

Application

Christians will be persecuted. In what ways are you persecuted? Who opposes you? When life gets hard, look to your refuge—God.

Exploration

God as Refuge—2 Samuel 22:31; Psalm 46:1; 59:16; 62:7; Isaiah 25:4; Jeremiah 16:19; Joel 3:16; Nahum 1:7.

Trusting God for Help

For the director of music. To the tune of "The Dove in the Distant Oak." A miktam of David when the Philistines captured him in Gath.

God, be merciful to me because people are chasing me;
the battle has pressed me all day long.

<sup>2</sup>My enemies have chased me all day;
there are many proud people fighting me.

<sup>3</sup>When I am afraid,
I will trust you.

I trust God, so I am not afraid.

What can human beings do to me?

New Life in Christ

When I am afraid, I will trust you.—Psalm 56:3

Trusting God With Your Fears

How did Jesus endure the terror of the crucifixion? He went first to the Father with his fears. He modeled the words of Psalm 56:3: "When I am afraid, I will trust you."

Do the same with yours. Don't avoid life's Gardens of Gethsemane. Enter them. Just don't enter them alone. And while there, be honest. Pounding the ground is permitted. Tears are allowed. And if you sweat blood, you won't be the first. Do what Jesus did; open your heart.

And be specific. Jesus was. "Take this cup," he prayed. Give God the number of the flight. Tell him the length of the speech. Share the details of the job transfer. He has plenty of time. He also has plenty of compassion.

He doesn't think your fears are foolish or silly. He won't tell you to "buck up" or "get tough." He's been where you are. He knows how you feel.

And he knows what you need. That's why we punctuate our prayers as Jesus did. "If you are willing ..."

Was God willing? Yes and no. He didn't take away the cross, but he took the fear. God didn't still the storm, but he calmed the sailor.

Who's to say he won't do the same for you?

"Do not worry about anything, but pray and ask God for everything you need, always giving thanks" (Philippians 4:6).

Don't measure the size of the mountain; talk to the One who can move it. Instead of carrying the world on your shoulders, talk to the One who holds the universe on his. Hope is a look away.

Now, what were you looking at? (From He Chose the Nails by Max Lucado)

Question: What are some specific fears you are struggling with that you can pray about today to Jesus?

For more on "New Life in Christ."

<sup>5</sup>All day long they twist my words;
all their evil plans are against me.

<sup>6</sup>They wait. They hide.
They watch my steps,
hoping to kill me.

<sup>7</sup>God, do not let them escape;
punish the foreign nations in your anger.

<sup>8</sup>You have recorded my troubles.
You have kept a list of my tears.
Aren't they in your records?

<sup>9</sup>On the day I call for help, my enemies will be defeated.
I know that God is on my side.

<sup>10</sup>I praise God for his word to me;
I praise the Lord for his word.

<sup>11</sup>I trust in God. I will not be afraid.
What can people do to me?

<sup>12</sup>God, I must keep my promises to you.
I will give you my offerings to thank you,
<sup>13</sup>because you have saved me from death.
You have kept me from being defeated.
So I will walk with God
in light among the living.

A Prayer in Troubled Times

For the director of music. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A miktam of David when he escaped from Saul in the cave.

Be merciful to me, God; be merciful to me because I come to you for protection.
Let me hide under the shadow of your wings
until the trouble has passed.

<sup>2</sup>I cry out to God Most High,
to the God who does everything for me.
<sup>3</sup>He sends help from heaven and saves me.
He punishes those who chase me.

Selah

God sends me his love and truth.

<sup>4</sup>Enemies, like lions, are all around me;
I must lie down among them.
Their teeth are like spears and arrows,
their tongues as sharp as swords.

<sup>5</sup>God is supreme over the skies;
his majesty covers the earth.

<sup>6</sup>They set a trap for me.
I am very worried.
They dug a pit in my path,
but they fell into it themselves.

Selah

<sup>7</sup>My heart is steady, God; my heart is steady.
I will sing and praise you.

<sup>8</sup>Wake up, my soul.
Wake up, harp and lyre!
I will wake up the dawn.

<sup>9</sup>Lord, I will praise you among the nations;
I will sing songs of praise about you to all the nations.

<sup>10</sup>Your great love reaches to the skies,
your truth to the clouds.

<sup>11</sup>God, you are supreme above the skies.
Let your glory be over all the earth.

Life Lessons

Psalms 58:1–59:17

Situation

David sang to God for his protection and justice. He asked God to stop the assault of evil people on the righteous.

Observation

God cares for people who try to live a life set apart for his service. He will bring the unrepentant to justice.

Inspiration

Many non-Christians try to convince themselves that they believe neither in the supernatural nor in the hereafter. Try as they will, however, there lingers the nagging, irrepressible realization that we have not been created just for time. We instinctively know that justice alone demands some judgment day. Unless we have knowingly settled the question of our sinful guilt, we are chronically beset by this fear. Until you acknowledge this fact, your fears will worsen. If you admit the possibility of the supernatural and acknowledge the facts of the gospel as they apply to your own life, you would find the fear of death removed and the glorious peace of believing present as a part of your life.

You can have peace in your heart and the personal and perennial assurance of salvation if you will humbly acknowledge yourself as a sinner in God's sight, ask for His forgiveness and cleansing by the blood of Christ shed on the cross, and trust in Jesus, God's Son, as your Savior and Lord. Christ died to do all this...

... This can be your experience today as you turn in faith to Christ and give your life to Him. Don't let another day go by without committing your life to Christ. (From Storm Warning by Billy Graham)

Application

Commit your life to Christ. First, appeal to God's mercy in prayer, then ask Jesus to enter your life as Lord and Savior. Develop a relationship with him.

Exploration

Judgment—Matthew 12:36; Romans 14:10–12; 2 Corinthians 5:10; Revelation 20:11–15. Salvation—John 3:16; Romans 3:23; 5:8; 6:23; 10:9–10.

Unfair Judges

For the director of music. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A miktam of David.

Do you rulers really say what is right?

Do you judge people fairly?

<sup>2</sup>No, in your heart you plan evil;
you think up violent crimes in the land.

<sup>3</sup>From birth, evil people turn away from God;
they wander off and tell lies as soon as they are born.

<sup>4</sup>They are like poisonous snakes, like deaf cobras that stop up their ears

<sup>5</sup>so they cannot hear the music of the snake charmer no matter how well he plays.

<sup>6</sup>God, break the teeth in their mouths!

Tear out the fangs of those lions, Lord!

<sup>7</sup>Let them disappear like water that flows away.

Let them be cut short like a broken arrow.

<sup>8</sup>Let them be like snails that melt as they move.

Let them be like a child born dead who never saw the sun.

<sup>9</sup>His anger will blow them away alive faster than burning thorns can heat a pot.

<sup>10</sup>Good people will be glad when they see him get even.
They will wash their feet in the blood of the wicked.

<sup>11</sup>Then people will say,
“There really are rewards for doing what is right.
There really is a God who judges the world.”

A Prayer for Protection

For the director of music. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A miktam of David when Saul sent men to watch David's house to kill him.

God, save me from my enemies.
Protect me from those who come against me.
<sup>2</sup>Save me from those who do evil and from murderers.

<sup>3</sup>Look, men are waiting to ambush me.
Cruel men attack me,
but I have not sinned or done wrong, Lord.

<sup>4</sup>I have done nothing wrong, but they are ready to attack me.

Wake up to help me, and look.

<sup>5</sup>You are the Lord God All-Powerful, the God of Israel.
Arise and punish those people.
Do not give those traitors any mercy.

Selah

<sup>6</sup>They come back at night.
Like dogs they growl and roam around the city.

<sup>7</sup>Notice what comes from their mouths.
Insults come from their lips,
because they say, "Who's listening?"

<sup>8</sup>But, Lord, you laugh at them;
you make fun of all of them.

<sup>9</sup>God, my strength, I am looking to you, because God is my defender.

<sup>10</sup>My God loves me, and he goes in front of me.
He will help me defeat my enemies.

<sup>11</sup>Lord, our protector, do not kill them, or my people will forget.

With your power scatter them and defeat them.

<sup>12</sup>They sin by what they say;
they sin with their words.

They curse and tell lies,
so let their pride trap them.

<sup>13</sup>Destroy them in your anger;
destroy them completely!

Then they will know
that God rules over Israel and to the ends of the earth.

Selah

<sup>14</sup>They come back at night.
Like dogs they growl
and roam around the city.

<sup>15</sup>They wander about looking for food, and they howl if they do not find enough.

<sup>16</sup>But I will sing about your strength.
In the morning I will sing about your love.
You are my defender,
my place of safety in times of trouble.

<sup>17</sup>God, my strength, I will sing praises to you.
God, my defender, you are the God who loves me.

Life Lessons

Psalms 60:1–62:12

Situation

Life on earth was difficult for David. He found satisfaction only in his relationship with God. God refreshed and fulfilled him.

Observation

To find joy and fulfillment, we should pursue fellowship with God.

Inspiration

The only ultimate disaster that can befall us, I have come to realize, is to feel ourselves to be home on earth. As long as we are aliens, we cannot forget our true homeland.

Unhappiness on earth cultivates a hunger for heaven. By gracing us with a deep dissatisfaction, God holds our attention. The only tragedy, then, is to be satisfied prematurely. To settle for earth. To be content in a strange land....

We are not happy here because we are not at home here. We are not happy here because we are not supposed to be happy here. We are “like foreigners and strangers in this world” (1 Peter 2:11).

Take a fish and place him on the beach. Watch his gills gasp and scales dry. Is he happy? No! How do you make him happy? Do you cover him with a mountain of cash? Do you get a beach chair and sunglasses? Do you bring him a Playfish magazine and martini? Do you wardrobe him in double-breasted fins and peopleskinned shoes?

Of course not. Then how do you make him happy? You put him back in his element. You put him back in the water. He will never be happy on the beach simply because he was not made for the beach.

And you will never be completely happy on earth simply because you were not made for earth. Oh, you will have moments of joy. You will catch glimpses of light. You will know moments or even days of peace. But they simply do not compare with the happiness that lies ahead. (From When God Whispers Your Name by Max Lucado)

Application

Where do you seek fulfillment? Love? Work? Money? Entertainment? Education? Refreshment and contentment can be found only in God. Memorize Psalm 62:1–2 and share it with a fellow believer.

Exploration

Rest—Psalm 55:22; 91:1; 116:7; Jeremiah 6:16; Matthew 6:25–34; Hebrews 4:9; 1 Peter 5:7; 1 John 3:19–20.

A Prayer After a Defeat

For the director of music. To the tune of "Lily of the Agreement." A miktam of David. For teaching. When David fought the Arameans of Northwest Mesopotamia and Zobah, and when Joab returned and defeated twelve thousand Edomites at the Valley of Salt.

God, you have rejected us and scattered us.

You have been angry, but please come back to us.

<sup>2</sup>You made the earth shake and crack.

Heal its breaks because it is shaking.

<sup>3</sup>You have given your people trouble.

You made us unable to walk straight, like people drunk with wine.

<sup>4</sup>You have raised a banner to gather those who fear you.

Now they can stand up against the enemy.

Selah

<sup>5</sup>Answer us and save us by your power
so the people you love will be rescued.

<sup>6</sup>God has said from his Temple,
"When I win, I will divide Shechem
and measure off the Valley of Succoth.

Ephraim is like my helmet.

Judah holds my royal scepter.

<sup>8</sup>Moab is like my washbowl.
I throw my sandals at Edom.
I shout at Philistia.”

<sup>9</sup>Who will bring me to the strong, walled city?
Who will lead me to Edom?

<sup>10</sup>God, surely you have rejected us;
you do not go out with our armies.

<sup>11</sup>Help us fight the enemy.

Human help is useless,

<sup>12</sup>but we can win with God’s help.

He will defeat our enemies.

A Prayer for Protection

For the director of music. With stringed instruments. Of David.

God, hear my cry;
listen to my prayer.

<sup>2</sup>I call to you from the ends of the earth
when I am afraid.

Carry me away to a high mountain.

<sup>3</sup>You have been my protection, like a strong tower against my enemies.

<sup>4</sup>Let me live in your Holy Tent forever.
Let me find safety in the shelter of your wings.

Selah

<sup>5</sup>God, you have heard my promises.
You have given me what belongs to those who fear
you.

<sup>6</sup>Give the king a long life;
let him live many years.

<sup>7</sup>Let him rule in the presence of God forever.
Protect him with your love and truth.

<sup>8</sup>Then I will praise your name forever, and every day I will keep my promises.

Trust Only in God

For the director of music. For Jeduthun. A psalm of David.

I find rest in God;
only he can save me.
<sup>2</sup>He is my rock and my salvation.
He is my defender;
I will not be defeated.

<sup>3</sup>How long will you attack someone?
Will all of you kill that person?
Who is like a leaning wall, like a fence ready to fall?
<sup>4</sup>They are planning to make that person fall.
They enjoy telling lies.
With their mouths they bless,
but in their hearts they curse.

Selah

<sup>5</sup>I find rest in God;
only he gives me hope.
<sup>6</sup>He is my rock and my salvation.
He is my defender;
I will not be defeated.
<sup>7</sup>My honor and salvation come from God.
He is my mighty rock and my protection.
<sup>8</sup>People, trust God all the time.
Tell him all your problems,
because God is our protection.

Selah

<sup>9</sup>The least of people are only a breath, and even the greatest are just a lie.
On the scales, they weigh nothing;
together they are only a breath.

<sup>10</sup>Do not trust in force.
Stealing is of no use.
Even if you gain more riches,
don't put your trust in them.

<sup>11</sup>God has said this,
and I have heard it over and over:
God is strong.

You reward people for what they have done.

Life Lessons

Psalms 63:1–65:13

Situation

David expressed joy and praise to God. He also wrote of his hope for God's protection from evildoers.

Observation

God meets every need and satisfies fully. You cannot improve on God's work.

Inspiration

It is ... weariness that makes the words of the carpenter so compelling. Listen to them. "Come to me, all of you who are tired and have heavy loads, and I will give you rest" [Matthew 11:28].

Come to me... . The invitation is to come to him. Why him?

He offers the invitation as a penniless rabbi in an oppressed nation. He has no political office, no connections with the authorities in Rome. He hasn't written a best-seller or earned a diploma.

Yet, he dares to look into the leathery faces of farmers and tired faces of housewives and offer rest. He looks into the disillusioned eyes of a preacher or two from Jerusalem. He gazes into the cynical stare of a banker and the hungry eyes of a bartender and makes this paradoxical promise: "Accept my teachings and learn from me, because I am gentle and humble in spirit, and you will find rest for your lives" [Matthew 11:29].

The people came. They came out of the cul-desacs and office complexes of their day. They brought him the burdens of their existence and he gave them, not religion, not doctrine, not systems, but rest.

As a result, they called him Lord.

As a result, they called him Savior.

Not so much because of what he said, but because of what he did.

What he did on the cross during six hours, one Friday....

Jesus was the only man to walk God's earth who claimed to have an answer for man's burdens. "Come to me," he invited them.

My prayer is that you, too, will find rest. And that you will sleep like a baby. (From Six Hours One Friday by Max Lucado)

Application

Make a list of five ways God has provided for you this past week. Go to God and praise him for those blessings.

Wishing to Be Near God

A psalm of David when he was in the desert of Judah.

God, you are my God.

I search for you.

I thirst for you like someone in a dry, empty land where there is no water.

<sup>2</sup>I have seen you in the Temple and have seen your strength and glory.

<sup>3</sup>Because your love is better than life,
I will praise you.

<sup>4</sup>I will praise you as long as I live.

I will lift up my hands in prayer to your name.

<sup>5</sup>I will be content as if I had eaten the best foods.
My lips will sing, and my mouth will praise you.

<sup>6</sup>I remember you while I'm lying in bed;
I think about you through the night.

<sup>7</sup>You are my help.

Because of your protection, I sing.

<sup>8</sup>I stay close to you;
you support me with your right hand.

<sup>9</sup>Some people are trying to kill me,
but they will go down to the grave.

<sup>10</sup>They will be killed with swords and eaten by wild dogs.

<sup>11</sup>But the king will rejoice in his God.
All who make promises in his name will praise him,
but the mouths of liars will be shut.

A Prayer Against Enemies

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

God, listen to my complaint.

I am afraid of my enemies;
protect my life from them.

<sup>2</sup>Hide me from those who plan wicked things,
from that gang who does evil.

<sup>3</sup>They sharpen their tongues like swords and shoot bitter words like arrows.

<sup>4</sup>From their hiding places they shoot at innocent
people;

they shoot suddenly and are not afraid.

<sup>5</sup>They encourage each other to do wrong.

They talk about setting traps, thinking no one will see them.

<sup>6</sup>They plan wicked things and say,
“We have a perfect plan.”

The mind of human beings is hard to understand.

<sup>7</sup>But God will shoot them with arrows;
they will suddenly be struck down.

<sup>8</sup>Their own words will be used against them.
All who see them will shake their heads.

<sup>9</sup>Then everyone will fear God.

They will tell what God has done,
and they will learn from what he has done.

<sup>10</sup>Good people will be happy in the Lord and will find protection in him.

Let everyone who is honest praise the Lord.

A Hymn of Thanksgiving

For the director of music. A psalm of David. A song.

God, you will be praised in Jerusalem.

We will keep our promises to you.

All people will come to you.

<sup>3</sup>Our guilt overwhelms us,
but you forgive our sins.

<sup>4</sup>Happy are the people you choose and invite to stay in your court.

We are filled with good things in your house,
your holy Temple.

<sup>5</sup>You answer us in amazing ways,
God our Savior.

People everywhere on the earth and beyond the sea trust you.

<sup>6</sup>You made the mountains by your strength;
you are dressed in power.

<sup>7</sup>You stopped the roaring seas,
the roaring waves,
and the uproar of the nations.

<sup>8</sup>Even those people at the ends of the earth fear your miracles.

You are praised from where the sun rises to where it sets.

<sup>9</sup>You take care of the land and water it;

you make it very fertile.

The rivers of God are full of water.

Grain grows because you make it grow.

<sup>10</sup>You send rain to the plowed fields;
you fill the rows with water.

You soften the ground with rain,
and then you bless it with crops.

<sup>11</sup>You give the year a good harvest, and you load the wagons with many crops.

<sup>12</sup>The desert is covered with grass and the hills with happiness.

<sup>13</sup>The pastures are full of flocks,
and the valleys are covered with grain.
Everything shouts and sings for joy.

Life Lessons

Psalms 66:1–67:7

Situation

This songwriter praised God for blessing the people. The writer promised to praise and offer sacrifice to God because God had always remained faithful.

Observation

God is worthy of praise. He not only grants us our life, but he guides us as well.

Inspiration

We are living in a time when more and more Christians direct their prayers to Jesus. I do not remember any occasion in the Scriptures where people prayed to the Son of God, so I suggest we follow His instructions... . When [Jesus] taught His followers to pray, it was always to the Father. So if you wish to be absolutely biblical about it, pray to the Father and call Him that. It will help you in praying to picture Him in your mind as Father more than Friend, or more than just a distant Deity. But of all the titles we could choose to use, “Father” says it best. He is our heavenly Father. He cares for His children. He knows how to handle His family... . I urge you to slow your pace, to approach His “hallowed name” thoughtfully. Take time! Give Him the respect He deserves. Wait on God. In return, He will give you a clearer vision. Furthermore, He will soften your will and make you want to know and do His will. (From

Simple Faith by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Make this your “thank God” day. Focus on the blessings, whether they are as simple as a beautiful tree or as profound as peace of mind. Perhaps you could thank him for your older neighbor, your stubborn child, your gas-guzzling car, your boss—thank God for all things.

Exploration

Praise—1 Chronicles 16:4; 2 Chronicles 5:13; Psalm 61:8; Isaiah 12:1; Acts 16:22–25.

Praise God for What He Has Done

For the director of music. A song. A psalm.

Everything on earth, shout with joy to God!

<sup>2</sup>Sing about his glory!

Make his praise glorious!

<sup>3</sup>Say to God, “Your works are amazing!

Because your power is great,
your enemies fall before you.

<sup>4</sup>All the earth worships you and sings praises to you.

They sing praises to your name.”

Selah

<sup>5</sup>Come and see what God has done, the amazing things he has done for people.

<sup>6</sup>He turned the sea into dry land.

The people crossed the river on foot.

So let us rejoice because of what he did.

<sup>7</sup>He rules forever with his power.

He keeps his eye on the nations,
so people should not turn against him.

Selah

<sup>8</sup>You people, praise our God;
loudly sing his praise.

<sup>9</sup>He protects our lives and does not let us be defeated.

<sup>10</sup>God, you have tested us;
you have purified us like silver.

<sup>11</sup>You let us be trapped and put a heavy load on us.

<sup>12</sup>You let our enemies walk on our heads.
We went through fire and flood,
but you brought us to a place with good things.

<sup>13</sup>I will come to your Temple with burnt offerings.

I will give you what I promised,

<sup>14</sup>things I promised when I was in trouble.

<sup>15</sup>I will bring you offerings of fat animals, and I will offer sheep, bulls, and goats.

Selah

<sup>16</sup>All of you who fear God, come and listen, and I will tell you what he has done for me.

<sup>17</sup>I cried out to him with my mouth and praised him with my tongue.

<sup>18</sup>If I had known of any sin in my heart,
the Lord would not have listened to me.

<sup>19</sup>But God has listened;
he has heard my prayer.

<sup>20</sup>Praise God, who did not ignore my prayer or hold back his love from me.

Everyone Should Praise God

For the director of music. With stringed instruments. A psalm. A song.

God, have mercy on us and bless us and show us your kindness

Selah

<sup>2</sup>so the world will learn your ways, and all nations will learn that you can save.

<sup>3</sup>God, the people should praise you;
all people should praise you.

<sup>4</sup>The nations should be glad and sing because you judge people fairly.
You guide all the nations on earth.

Selah

<sup>5</sup>God, the people should praise you;
all people should praise you.

<sup>6</sup>The land has given its crops.
God, our God, blesses us.

<sup>7</sup>God blesses us
so people all over the earth will fear him.

Life Lessons

Psalms 68:1–69:36

Situation

David led a joyful procession when the Ark of the Lord came to Jerusalem (2 Samuel 6:11–15).

Observation

Praise God for the provision and protection he gives his people throughout all time.

Inspiration

How precious are the promises when we lie sick, gazing into an empty month, sorely tried and tempted through pain and weariness! All depressing circumstances lose their power for evil when our faith takes hold upon the promises of God...

If such be the greatness and value of the promises, let us joyfully accept and believe them. Shall I urge the child of God to do this? No, I will not so dishonor Him; surely He will believe His own Father! Surely, surely, it ought to be the easiest thing in the world for the sons and daughters of the Most High to believe in Him who gave them the power to become the children of God! ...

Furthermore, let us know the promises. Should we not carry them at our fingers' ends? Should we not know them better than anything else? The promises should be the classics of all believers.... We ought to be so versed in Scripture as always to have at the tip of our tongue the promise that most exactly meets our case. We ought to be transcripts of Scripture; the divine promise should be as much written upon our hearts as upon the pages of the Book. (From “The Valuation of the Promises” by Charles H. Spurgeon in They Walked with God)

Application

Have you ever praised God for what he has done for his church? Isn't it easier to present your requests? During the next week, balance specific requests with specific thanks for deeds he has done.

Praise God Who Saved the Nation

For the director of music. A psalm of David. A song.

Let God rise up and scatter his enemies;
let those who hate him run away from him.

<sup>2</sup>Blow them away as smoke is driven away by the wind.

As wax melts before a fire,
let the wicked be destroyed before God.

<sup>3</sup>But those who do right should be glad and should rejoice before God;
they should be happy and glad.

<sup>4</sup>Sing to God; sing praises to his name.
Prepare the way for him
who rides through the desert,
whose name is the Lord.

Rejoice before him.

<sup>5</sup>God is in his holy Temple.
He is a father to orphans,
and he defends the widows.

<sup>6</sup>God gives the lonely a home.
He leads prisoners out with joy,
but those who turn against God will live in a dry land.

<sup>7</sup>God, you led your people out

God, you led your people out when you marched through the desert.

Selah

<sup>8</sup>The ground shook and the sky poured down rain before God, the God of Mount Sinai, before God, the God of Israel.

<sup>9</sup>God, you sent much rain;
you refreshed your tired land.

<sup>10</sup>Your people settled there.
God, in your goodness
you took care of the poor.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord gave the command,
and a great army told the news:

<sup>12</sup>“Kings and their armies run away.
In camp they divide the wealth taken in war.

<sup>13</sup>Those who stayed by the campfires will share the riches taken in battle.”

<sup>14</sup>The Almighty scattered kings like snow on Mount Zalmon.

<sup>15</sup>The mountains of Bashan are high;
the mountains of Bashan have many peaks.

<sup>16</sup>Why do you mountains with many peaks look with envy

on the mountain that God chose for his home?
The Lord will live there forever.

<sup>17</sup>God comes with millions of chariots;
the Lord comes from Mount Sinai to his holy place.

<sup>18</sup>When you went up to the heights,

you led a parade of captives.
You received gifts from the people,
even from those who turned against you.
And the Lord God will live there.

<sup>19</sup>Praise the Lord, God our Savior, who helps us every day.

Selah

<sup>20</sup>Our God is a God who saves us;
the Lord God saves us from death.

<sup>21</sup>God will crush his enemies' heads,
the hairy skulls of those who continue to sin.

<sup>22</sup>The Lord said, "I will bring the enemy back from Bashan;

I will bring them back from the depths of the sea.

<sup>23</sup>Then you can stick your feet in their blood, and your dogs can lick their share."

<sup>24</sup>God, people have seen your victory march;
God my King marched into the holy place.

<sup>25</sup>The singers are in front and the instruments are behind.

In the middle are the girls with the tambourines.

<sup>26</sup>Praise God in the meeting place;
praise the Lord in the gathering of Israel.

<sup>27</sup>There is the smallest tribe, Benjamin, leading them.
And there are the leaders of Judah with their group.
There also are the leaders of Zebulun and of Naphtali.

<sup>28</sup>God, order up your power;

show the mighty power you have used for us before.

<sup>29</sup>Kings will bring their wealth to you,
to your Temple in Jerusalem.

<sup>30</sup>Punish Egypt, the beast in the tall grass along the river.

Punish the leaders of nations, those bulls among the cows.

Defeated, they will bring you their silver.
Scatter those nations that love war.

<sup>31</sup>Messengers will come from Egypt;
the people of Cush will pray to God.

<sup>32</sup>Kingdoms of the earth, sing to God;
sing praises to the Lord.

<sup>33</sup>Sing to the one who rides through the skies, which are from long ago.

He speaks with a thundering voice.

<sup>34</sup>Announce that God is powerful.

He rules over Israel,
and his power is in the skies.

<sup>35</sup>God, you are wonderful in your Temple.

The God of Israel gives his people strength and power.
Praise God!

A Cry for Help

For the director of music. To the tune of "Lilies." A psalm of David.

God, save me,
because the water has risen to my neck.

<sup>2</sup>I'm sinking down into the mud, and there is nothing to stand on.

I am in deep water,
and the flood covers me.

<sup>3</sup>I am tired from calling for help;
my throat is sore.

My eyes are tired from waiting for God to help me.

<sup>4</sup>There are more people who hate me for no reason than hairs on my head;

powerful enemies want to destroy me for no reason.

They make me pay back
what I did not steal.

<sup>5</sup>God, you know what I have done wrong;
I cannot hide my guilt from you.

<sup>6</sup>Lord God All-Powerful, do not let those who hope in you be ashamed because of me.

God of Israel,
do not let your worshipers be disgraced because of
me.

<sup>7</sup>For you, I carry this shame, and my face is covered with disgrace.

<sup>8</sup>I am like a stranger to my closest relatives and a foreigner to my mother's children.

<sup>9</sup>My strong love for your Temple completely controls
me.

When people insult you, it hurts me.

<sup>10</sup>When I cry and go without food,
they make fun of me.

<sup>11</sup>When I wear clothes of sadness, they joke about me.

<sup>12</sup>They make fun of me in public places,
and the drunkards make up songs about me.

<sup>13</sup>But I pray to you, Lord, for favor.
God, because of your great love, answer me.
You are truly able to save.

<sup>14</sup>Pull me from the mud,
and do not let me sink.
Save me from those who hate me
and from the deep water.

<sup>15</sup>Do not let the flood drown me or the deep water swallow me or the grave close its mouth over me.

<sup>16</sup>Lord, answer me because your love is so good.
Because of your great kindness, turn to me.

<sup>17</sup>Do not hide from me, your servant.
I am in trouble. Hurry to help me!

<sup>18</sup>Come near and save me;
rescue me from my enemies.

<sup>19</sup>You see my shame and disgrace.

You know all my enemies and what they have said.

<sup>20</sup>Insults have broken my heart and left me weak.

I looked for sympathy, but there was none;
I found no one to comfort me.

<sup>21</sup>They put poison in my food and gave me vinegar to drink.

<sup>22</sup>Let their own feasts cause their ruin;
let their feasts trap them and pay them back.

<sup>23</sup>Let their eyes be closed so they cannot see and their backs be forever weak from troubles.

<sup>24</sup>Pour your anger out on them;
let your anger catch up with them.

<sup>25</sup>May their place be empty;
leave no one to live in their tents.

<sup>26</sup>They chase after those you have hurt, and they talk about the pain of those you have wounded.

<sup>27</sup>Charge them with crime after crime,
and do not let them have anything good.

<sup>28</sup>Wipe their names from the book of life, and do not list them with those who do what is right.

<sup>29</sup>I am sad and hurting.
God, save me and protect me.

<sup>30</sup>I will praise God in a song and will honor him by giving thanks.

<sup>31</sup>That will please the Lord more than offering him cattle,

more than sacrificing a bull with horns and hoofs.

<sup>32</sup>Poor people will see this and be glad.

Be encouraged, you who worship God.

<sup>33</sup>The Lord listens to those in need and does not look down on captives.

<sup>34</sup>Heaven and earth should praise him,
the seas and everything in them.

<sup>35</sup>God will save Jerusalem and rebuild the cities of Judah.

Then people will live there and own the land.

<sup>36</sup>The descendants of his servants will inherit that land, and those who love him will live there.

Psalms 70:1–71:24

Situation

These psalms were written as a cry for help in old age. Their writers longed to be testimonies of God's faithfulness and useful parts of God's work.

Observation

In the later years of his life, David looked for God's hand just as surely as he had during his younger years. His dependence on God did not lessen with age.

Inspiration

God had been [David's] trust and his hope from his youth—a remarkable distinction. His defense was God. His hope was God. In God he placed his trust.

This is what youth is seeking today: something that gives meaning to life, something to trust, a confident relationship with a protector, hope for an otherwise dull life. Youth has to feel his way through a maze of problems; and in finding himself, he needs a trust that does not waver.

Youth is a time filled with potentials. Every hour of it trembles with destiny. It would be tragic to twist and warp a life so soon begun. For its formation it should be given to God, like clay is given to the potter, for His own shaping and molding. The Scriptures bear out this suggestion. . . .

Unless real quality is ingrained in youth's fiber, the years will expose them as ordinary stuff. Like cheap cloth assumes a different appearance when washed, they too will shrink and fade when later tested and run through the wringer. (From A Psalm In My Heart by Leroy Brownlow)

Application

Are you young and looking for something to believe in? Are you older and looking for God's hand anew? God answers both needs. Look to him and no further.

Exploration

Encouragement and Examples for Old and Young — Psalm 119:9; Proverbs 16:31; Ecclesiastes 11:9; 12:1; Isaiah 46:4; Lamentations 3:27; 1 Timothy 4:12; Titus 2:2-3.

You cannot keep people from rejecting you. But you can keep rejections from enraging. —Max Lucado (A Love Worth Giving)

A Cry for God to Help Quickly

For the director of music. A psalm of David. To help people remember.

God, come quickly and save me.

Lord, hurry to help me.

<sup>2</sup>Let those who are trying to kill me
be ashamed and disgraced.

Let those who want to hurt me run away in disgrace.

<sup>3</sup>Let those who make fun of me stop because of their shame.

<sup>4</sup>But let all those who worship you rejoice and be glad.

Let those who love your salvation always say, "Praise the greatness of God."

<sup>5</sup>I am poor and helpless;

God, hurry to me.

You help me and save me.

Lord, do not wait.

An Old Person's Prayer

In you, Lord, is my protection.

Never let me be ashamed.

<sup>2</sup>Because you do what is right, save and rescue me;
listen to me and save me.

<sup>3</sup>Be my place of safety
where I can always come.

Give the command to save me,
because you are my rock and my strong, walled city.

<sup>4</sup>My God, save me from the power of the wicked and from the hold of evil and cruel people.

<sup>5</sup>Lord, you are my hope.

Lord, I have trusted you since I was young.

<sup>6</sup>I have depended on you since I was born;
you helped me even on the day of my birth.

I will always praise you.

<sup>7</sup>I am an example to many people, because you are my strong protection.

<sup>8</sup>I am always praising you;
all day long I honor you.

<sup>9</sup>Do not reject me when I am old;
do not leave me when my strength is gone.

<sup>10</sup>My enemies make plans against me,
and they meet together to kill me.

<sup>11</sup>They say, "God has left him.
Go after him and take him,
because no one will save him."

<sup>12</sup>God, don't be far off

God, don't be far off.

My God, hurry to help me.

<sup>13</sup>Let those who accuse me be ashamed and destroyed.

Let those who are trying to hurt me be covered with shame and disgrace.

<sup>14</sup>But I will always have hope and will praise you more and more.

<sup>15</sup>I will tell how you do what is right.
I will tell about your salvation all day long,
even though it is more than I can tell.

<sup>16</sup>I will come and tell about your powerful works, Lord
God.

I will remind people that only you do what is right.

<sup>17</sup>God, you have taught me since I was young.
To this day I tell about the miracles you do.

<sup>18</sup>Even though I am old and gray,
do not leave me, God.

I will tell the children about your power;
I will tell those who live after me about your might.

<sup>19</sup>God, your justice reaches to the skies.
You have done great things;
God, there is no one like you.

<sup>20</sup>You have given me many troubles and bad times, but you will give me life again.
When I am almost dead,
you will keep me alive.

<sup>21</sup>You will make me greater than ever,
and you will comfort me again.

<sup>22</sup>I will praise you with the harp.

I trust you, my God.

I will sing to you with the lyre,

Holy One of Israel.

<sup>23</sup>I will shout for joy when I sing praises to you.

You have saved me.

<sup>24</sup>I will tell about your justice all day long.

And those who want to hurt me will be ashamed and disgraced.

Life Lessons

Psalm 72:1–20

Situation

Solomon asked God to grant his son wisdom. In his prayer, he looked forward to the eternal, perfect reign of Christ.

Observation

Solomon asked God for sound judgment and goodness. The kings of Israel were called to help the poor. Even Jesus, the King of kings, ministered to those bound by oppression and poverty.

Inspiration

George is an evangelist in Malawi who uses an old badly battered wheelchair. Not long ago he wrote to ask me to send him my husband's used shirts—his were wearing out, and he wanted to dress his best as an ambassador for Christ.

George wheels himself from village to village over bumpy, rutted dirt roads that connect the small towns in Malawi... . Despite sore muscles and calluses on his hands, he keeps going. His deepest desire is to share Christ with others who are handicapped, to tell them that despite their poverty, God is in control for their good and His glory.

George is dirt poor. The people to whom he ministers are even more poor. But there is none so rich in faith as George.

Remember, Christ willed to be born poor, and He chose disciples who were living, for the most part, in poverty. Christ made Himself a servant of poor people. And He reminds us that whatever we do to help the least of the brethren—those most poor—we are personally ministering to Him. (From Diamonds in the Dust by Joni Eareckson Tada)

Application

Are you following the example of Jesus? Do you reach out to the poor? Find a way to help someone this week in a personal and material way. Take that person out for a meal. Anonymously provide a bag of groceries. Help that person work on his or her car. Watch for an opportunity.

Exploration

Helping the Poor—Proverbs 14:31; 19:17; Matthew 25:35–40; Luke 4:18; 1 John 3:17.

Hope is an olive leaf—evidence of dry land after a flood.
Proof to the dreamer that dreaming is worth the risk. —
Max Lucado (A Love Worth Giving)

A Prayer for the King

Of Solomon.

God, give the king your good judgment and the king's son your goodness.

<sup>2</sup>Help him judge your people fairly and decide what is right for the poor.

<sup>3</sup>Let there be peace on the mountains and goodness on the hills for the people.

<sup>4</sup>Help him be fair to the poor and save the needy
and punish those who hurt them.

<sup>5</sup>May they respect you as long as the sun shines and as long as the moon glows.

<sup>6</sup>Let him be like rain on the grass, like showers that water the earth.

<sup>7</sup>Let goodness be plentiful while he lives.
Let peace continue as long as there is a moon.

<sup>8</sup>Let his kingdom go from sea to sea, and from the Euphrates River to the ends of the earth.

<sup>9</sup>Let the people of the desert bow down to him, and make his enemies lick the dust.

<sup>10</sup>Let the kings of Tarshish and the faraway lands bring him gifts.

Let the kings of Sheba and Seba bring their presents to him.

<sup>11</sup>Let all kings bow down to him and all nations serve him.

<sup>12</sup>He will help the poor when they cry out and will save the needy when no one else will help.

<sup>13</sup>He will be kind to the weak and poor, and he will save their lives.

<sup>14</sup>He will save them from cruel people who try to hurt
them,
because their lives are precious to him.

<sup>15</sup>Long live the king!
Let him receive gold from Sheba.
Let people always pray for him and bless him all day long.

<sup>16</sup>Let the fields grow plenty of grain and the hills be covered with crops.
Let the land be as fertile as Lebanon, and let the cities grow like the grass in a field.

<sup>17</sup>Let the king be famous forever;
let him be remembered as long as the sun shines.
Let the nations be blessed because of him,
and may they all bless him.

<sup>18</sup>Praise the Lord God, the God of Israel, who alone does such miracles.

<sup>19</sup>Praise his glorious name forever.
Let his glory fill the whole world.
Amen and amen.

<sup>20</sup>This ends the prayers of David son of Jesse.

Life Lessons

Psalm 73:1–28

Situation

Asaph, a choir director, questioned God's wisdom. Asaph saw the wicked prospering and the righteous suffering.

Observation

When we are confused by events in our lives, remember to look at circumstances from God's perspective. God welcomes our questions and doubts when we come to him honestly seeking answers.

Inspiration

A misconception people have in dealing with life's troubles is that it's wrong to ask why—that a Christian simply accepts and never questions. Abraham, Moses, and David all interceded and struggled to understand God. But the lives of these men model for us a total reliance on God, even in the midst of questioning.

It's not a sin to doubt. Disbelief is sin, but questioning—sincerely seeking—is acceptable to God, because in the presence of God you may ask any question you want.

God never turns his back on those who ask honest questions. He never did in the Old Testament; he never did in the New Testament. So if you are asking honest questions of God, he will not turn away from you.

Perhaps the reason that God doesn't always give us the answer to the whys of our existence is that he knows we haven't got the capacity to understand the answer. In learning to depend on God, we must accept that we may not know all the answers, but we know who knows the answers. (From The Inspirational Bible, "Why?")

Application

Write down three questions that you are struggling with today. Talk to God about these situations. Ask him for wisdom to help you see these situations from his perspective.

Exploration

Wisdom—Ecclesiastes 8:17; Isaiah 55:6–9.
Guidance—Psalm 48:14; Isaiah 58:11.

The cure for jealousy? Trust. The cause of jealousy?
Distrust. —Max Lucado (A Love Worth Giving)

Should the Wicked Be Rich?

A psalm of Asaph.

God is truly good to Israel,
to those who have pure hearts.
<sup>2</sup>But I had almost stopped believing;
I had almost lost my faith
<sup>3</sup>because I was jealous of proud people.
I saw wicked people doing well.

<sup>4</sup>They are not suffering;
they are healthy and strong.

<sup>5</sup>They don't have troubles like the rest of us;
they don't have problems like other people.

<sup>6</sup>They wear pride like a necklace and put on violence as their clothing.

<sup>7</sup>They are looking for profits and do not control their selfish desires.

<sup>8</sup>They make fun of others and speak evil;
proudly they speak of hurting others.

<sup>9</sup>They brag to the sky.
They say that they own the earth.

<sup>10</sup>So their people turn to them and give them whatever they want.

What does God Most High know?”

<sup>12</sup>These people are wicked, always at ease, and getting richer.

<sup>13</sup>So why have I kept my heart pure?
Why have I kept my hands from doing wrong?

<sup>14</sup>I have suffered all day long;
I have been punished every morning.

<sup>15</sup>God, if I had decided to talk like this,
I would have let your people down.

<sup>16</sup>I tried to understand all this,
but it was too hard for me to see

<sup>17</sup>until I went to the Temple of God.
Then I understood what will happen to them.

<sup>18</sup>You have put them in danger;
you cause them to be destroyed.

<sup>19</sup>They are destroyed in a moment;
they are swept away by terrors.

<sup>20</sup>It will be like waking from a dream.
Lord, when you rise up, they will disappear.

<sup>21</sup>When my heart was sad and I was angry,

<sup>22</sup>I was senseless and stupid.
I acted like an animal toward you.

<sup>23</sup>But I am always with you;
you have held my hand.

<sup>24</sup>You guide me with your advice, and later you will receive me in honor.

<sup>25</sup>I have no one in heaven but you;

I want nothing on earth besides you.

<sup>26</sup>My body and my mind may become weak, but God is my strength.

He is mine forever.

<sup>27</sup>Those who are far from God will die;
you destroy those who are unfaithful.

<sup>28</sup>But I am close to God, and that is good.

The Lord God is my protection.

I will tell all that you have done.

Life Lessons

Psalm 74:1–23

Situation

Asaph was tired of being stepped on. He felt rejected, defeated, and forgotten. He prayed that God would restore Israel and grant revenge.

Observation

We want revenge. But only God can bring about justice.

Inspiration

Bernhard Goetz was an American fantasy come true. He did what every citizen wants to do. He fought back. He “kicked the bully in the shins.” He “punched the villain in the nose.” He “clobbered evil over the head.” This unassuming hero embodied a nationwide, even worldwide anger: a passion for revenge.

The outpouring of support gives clear evidence. People are mad. People are angry. There is a pent-up, boiling rage that causes us to toast a man who fearlessly says, “I ain’t taking it no more!” and then comes out with a hot pistol in each hand. . . .

Anger. It’s a peculiar yet predictable emotion. It begins as a drop of water. An irritant. A frustration. Nothing big, just an aggravation. Someone gets your parking place. Someone pulls in front of you on the freeway. A waitress is slow and you are in a hurry. The toast burns. Drops of water. Drip. Drip. Drip. Drip.

Yet, get enough of these seemingly innocent drops of anger and before long you've got a bucket full of rage....

Reality makes us ask the questions: What good was done? Is that really the way to reduce the crime rate? ... No. Anger doesn't do that. Anger only feeds a primitive lust for revenge that feeds our anger....

Yet, what do we do? ... Jesus speaks about the mob that killed. "Father forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing."

Have you ever wondered how Jesus kept from retaliating? ... Here's the answer. It's the second part of the statement, "for they do not know what they are doing... ." It's as if Jesus considered this bloodthirsty, death-hungry crowd not as murderers, but as victims. It's ... as [if they were] "sheep without a shepherd."

"They don't know what they are doing."

And when you think about it, they didn't ...

And for the most part, neither do we. We are still, as much as we hate to admit it, shepherdless sheep. All we know is that we were born out of one eternity and are frighteningly close to another....

My point is this: Uncontrolled anger won't better our world, but sympathetic understanding will. Once we see the world and ourselves for what we are, we can help. Once we understand ourselves, we begin to operate not from a posture of anger but one of compassion and concern. We look at the world not with bitter frowns but with extended hands. We realize that the lights are out and a lot of people are stumbling in the darkness. So we light the candles....

Instead of fighting back we help out. We go to the ghettos. We teach in the schools. We build hospitals and help orphans ... we put away our guns.

There is something about understanding the world that makes us want to save it, even to die for it. Anger? Anger never did anyone any good. Understanding? Well, the results are not as quick as the vigilante's bullet, but they are certainly much more constructive. (From No Wonder They Call Him the Savior by Max Lucado)

Application

As you watch the news, what makes you angry? What makes you want to get revenge? Next time you are tempted to seek revenge, stop. See aggressors as people who need God. Pray that God will meet that need.

Exploration

Revenge Is God's-Deuteronomy 32:43; Psalm 58:10; 94:1; Nahum 1:2.

A Nation in Trouble Prays

A maskil of Asaph.

God, why have you rejected us for so long?
Why are you angry with us, the sheep of your pasture?

<sup>2</sup>Remember the people you bought long ago.
You saved us, and we are your very own.
After all, you live on Mount Zion.

<sup>3</sup>Make your way through these old ruins;
the enemy wrecked everything in the Temple.

<sup>4</sup>Those who were against you shouted in your meeting place
and raised their flags there.

<sup>5</sup>They came with axes raised as if to cut down a forest of trees.

<sup>6</sup>They smashed the carved panels with their axes and hatchets.

<sup>7</sup>They burned your Temple to the ground;
they have made the place where you live unclean.

<sup>8</sup>They thought, "We will completely crush them!"
They burned every place where God was worshiped in the land.

<sup>9</sup>We do not see any signs.
There are no more prophets,

and no one knows how long this will last.

<sup>10</sup>God, how much longer will the enemy make fun of you?

Will they insult you forever?

<sup>11</sup>Why do you hold back your power?

Bring your power out in the open and destroy them!

<sup>12</sup>God, you have been our king for a long time.

You bring salvation to the earth.

<sup>13</sup>You split open the sea by your power and broke the heads of the sea monster.

<sup>14</sup>You smashed the heads of the monster Leviathan and gave him to the desert creatures as food.

<sup>15</sup>You opened up the springs and streams and made the flowing rivers run dry.

<sup>16</sup>Both the day and the night are yours;
you made the sun and the moon.

<sup>17</sup>You set all the limits on the earth;
you created summer and winter.

<sup>18</sup>Lord, remember how the enemy insulted you.

Remember how those foolish people made fun of you.

<sup>19</sup>Do not give us, your doves, to those wild animals.
Never forget your poor people.

<sup>20</sup>Remember the agreement you made with us, because violence fills every dark corner of this land.

<sup>21</sup>Do not let your suffering people be disgraced.
Let the poor and helpless praise you.

Remember the insults that come from those foolish people all day long.

<sup>23</sup>Don't forget what your enemies said;
don't forget their roar as they rise against you always.

Psalms 75:1–76:12

Situation

Asaph grew in confidence that God would bring the wicked to judgment. God would not let anyone deserving judgment slip free unnoticed.

Observation

God's holiness contrasts with our sinfulness. Without mercy from God, we all would be judged.

Inspiration

According to legend, the first American Indian to see the Grand Canyon tied himself to a tree in terror. According to Scripture, any man privileged to peek at God has felt the same.

Sheer terror. Remember the words of Isaiah after his vision of God? “Oh, no! I will be destroyed. I am not pure, and I live among people who are not pure, but I have seen the King, the Lord All-Powerful” (Isaiah 6:5).

Upon seeing God, Isaiah was terrified. Why such fear? Why did he tremble so? Because he was wax before the sun. A candle in a hurricane. A minnow at Niagara. God's glory was too great. His purity too sterling. His power too mighty. (From When God Whispers Your Name by Max Lucado)

Application

God is much more than a cosmic buddy. Be careful not to think too little of God. When you pray, approach him with a respectful, humble attitude.

God the Judge

*For the director of music. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A psalm of Asaph.
A song.*

God, we thank you;
we thank you because you are near.
We tell about the miracles you do.

<sup>2</sup>You say, "I set the time for trial, and I will judge fairly.

<sup>3</sup>The earth with all its people may shake,
but I am the one who holds it steady.

Selah

<sup>4</sup>I say to those who are proud, 'Don't brag,'
and to the wicked, 'Don't show your power.

<sup>5</sup>Don't try to use your power against heaven.
Don't be stubborn.'"

<sup>6</sup>No one from the east or the west
or the desert can judge you.

<sup>7</sup>God is the judge;
he judges one person as guilty and another as innocent.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord holds a cup of anger in his hand;
it is full of wine mixed with spices.
He pours it out even to the last drop,

and the wicked drink it all.

<sup>9</sup>I will tell about this forever;

I will sing praise to the God of Jacob.

<sup>10</sup>He will take all power away from the wicked, but the power of good people will grow.

The God Who Always Wins

For the director of music. With stringed instruments. A psalm of Asaph. A song.

People in Judah know God;
his fame is great in Israel.

<sup>2</sup>His Tent is in Jerusalem;
his home is on Mount Zion.

<sup>3</sup>There God broke the flaming arrows,
the shields, the swords, and the weapons of war.

Selah

<sup>4</sup>God, how wonderful you are!
You are more splendid than the hills full of animals.

<sup>5</sup>The brave soldiers were stripped as they lay asleep in death.

Not one warrior
had the strength to stop it.

<sup>6</sup>God of Jacob, when you spoke strongly, horses and riders fell dead.

<sup>7</sup>You are feared;
no one can stand against you when you are angry.

<sup>8</sup>From heaven you gave the decision, and the earth was afraid and silent.

<sup>9</sup>God, you stood up to judge and to save the needy people of the earth.

Selah

<sup>10</sup>People praise you for your anger against evil.
Those who live through your anger are stopped from doing more evil.

<sup>11</sup>Make and keep your promises to the Lord your God.
From all around, gifts should come to the God we worship.

<sup>12</sup>God breaks the spirits of great leaders;
the kings on earth fear him.

Life Lessons

Psalm 77:1–20

Situation

Asaph reviewed God’s past miracles and mighty works on behalf of the Israelites when they went to the Promised Land. Asaph needed courage during a time of personal distress.

Observation

Remembering and meditating upon God’s previous works can provide believers with courage during difficult times of struggle and trial.

Inspiration

What are we to do when even our trust in God seems shaky? When answers are not immediate and God seems far away? When we do not know how to tap His help and are left to wait passively for Him to answer, wishing for some spectacular flurry of divine activity to deliver us? What are we to do when that rescue doesn’t come, and unfulfilled expectations for help from Him turn our hearts toward doubt? When we begin to slip back to the “Whys?”—“Why me? Why not them? Why now?”—and tend to doubt His goodness and may even then doubt that He actually does love and care for us. . . .

Before that happens, we must turn to the entity over which we exercise exclusive control, our wills, to the choices we have to think correctly and respond constructively. . . . If we choose not to cultivate our hope in Him, where will we place our hope? Is there anything greater, more just, more equitable, more powerful, more reliable, more true than God? (From The Upside of Down by Joseph Stowell)

Application

Does stress keep you from sleeping? Next time, when you are awake and miserable, do what Asaph did. Remember God's faithfulness to you and to others. Praise him for what he has done.

Exploration

Remembering God's Help

For the director of music. For Jeduthun. A psalm of Asaph.

I cry out to God;

I call to God, and he will hear me.

All night long I reach out my hands,
but I cannot be comforted.

<sup>3</sup>When I remember God, I become upset;
when I think, I become afraid.

Selah

<sup>4</sup>You keep my eyes from closing.

I am too upset to say anything.

<sup>5</sup>I keep thinking about the old days,
the years of long ago.

<sup>6</sup>At night I remember my songs.

I think and I ask myself:

<sup>7</sup>“Will the Lord reject us forever?

Will he never be kind to us again?

<sup>8</sup>Is his love gone forever?

Has he stopped speaking for all time?

<sup>9</sup>Has God forgotten mercy?

Is he too angry to pity us?”

Selah

<sup>10</sup>Then I say “This is what makes me sad:

For years the power of God Most High was with us.”

<sup>11</sup>I remember what the Lord did;
I remember the miracles you did long ago.

<sup>12</sup>I think about all the things you did and consider your deeds.

<sup>13</sup>God, your ways are holy.
No god is as great as our God.

<sup>14</sup>You are the God who does miracles;
you have shown people your power.

<sup>15</sup>By your power you have saved your people, the descendants of Jacob and Joseph.

Selah

<sup>16</sup>God, the waters saw you;
they saw you and became afraid;
the deep waters shook with fear.
<sup>17</sup>The clouds poured down their rain.
The sky thundered.
Your lightning flashed back and forth like arrows.

<sup>18</sup>Your thunder sounded in the whirlwind.
Lightning lit up the world.
The earth trembled and shook.

<sup>19</sup>You made a way through the sea and paths through the deep waters,
but your footprints were not seen.

<sup>20</sup>You led your people like a flock
by using Moses and Aaron.

Life Lessons

Psalm 78:1-72

Situation

Asaph recounted Israel's history from slavery in Egypt until the reign of King David. He retold the story in order that the Jewish people would remember their past and be reminded of the mercy that God had shown them.

Observation

While the Israelites continually complained and were unfaithful, God faithfully blessed them. God cared for his people even as they dishonored him.

Inspiration

We should banish from our minds forever the common but erroneous notion that justice and judgment characterize the God of Israel, while mercy and grace belong to the Lord of the Church. Actually there is in principle no difference between the Old Testament and the New. In the New Testament Scriptures there is a fuller development of redemptive truth, but one God speaks in both dispensations, and what He speaks agrees with what He is. Wherever and whenever God appears to men, He acts like Himself. Whether in the Garden of Eden or the Garden of Gethsemane, God is merciful as well as just. He has always dealt in mercy with mankind and will always deal in justice when His mercy is despised. Thus He did in antediluvian times; thus when Christ walked among men; thus He is doing today and will continue always to do for no other reason than that He is God....

As judgment is God's justice confronting moral inequity, so mercy is the goodness of God confronting human suffering and guilt. Were there no guilt in the world, no pain and no tears, God would yet be infinitely merciful; but His mercy might well remain hidden in His heart, unknown to the created universe. No voice would be raised to celebrate the mercy of which none felt the need. It is human misery and sin that call forth the divine mercy. (From The Knowledge of the Holy by A. W. Tozer)

Application

Don't forget to praise God and thank him for what he has done. Prayerfully remember the steppingstones in your life. Thank God for molding you as he has seen fit throughout the years.

God Saved Israel from Egypt

A maskil of Asaph.

My people, listen to my teaching;
listen to what I say.

<sup>2</sup>I will speak using stories;
I will tell secret things from long ago.

<sup>3</sup>We have heard them and known them
by what our ancestors have told us.

<sup>4</sup>We will not keep them from our children;
we will tell those who come later about the praises of the Lord.

We will tell about his power and the miracles he has done.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord made an agreement with Jacob and gave the teachings to Israel, which he commanded our ancestors to teach to their children.

<sup>6</sup>Then their children would know them,
even their children not yet born.
And they would tell their children.

<sup>7</sup>So they would all trust God and would not forget what he had done
but would obey his commands.

<sup>8</sup>They would not be like their ancestors who were stubborn and disobedient.

Their hearts were not loyal to God,
and they were not true to him.

<sup>9</sup>The men of Ephraim had bows for weapons,
but they ran away on the day of battle.

<sup>10</sup>They didn't keep their agreement with God and refused to live by his teachings.

<sup>11</sup>They forgot what he had done and the miracles he had shown them.

<sup>12</sup>He did miracles while their ancestors watched,
in the fields of Zoan in Egypt.

<sup>13</sup>He divided the Red Sea and led them through.
He made the water stand up like a wall.

<sup>14</sup>He led them with a cloud by day and by the light of a fire by night.

<sup>15</sup>He split the rocks in the desert and gave them more than enough water, as if from the deep ocean.

<sup>16</sup>He brought streams out of the rock and caused water to flow down like rivers.

<sup>17</sup>But the people continued to sin against him;
in the desert they turned against God Most High.

<sup>18</sup>They decided to test God
by asking for the food they wanted.

<sup>19</sup>Then they spoke against God, saying, "Can God prepare food in the desert?"

<sup>20</sup>When he hit the rock, water poured out and rivers flowed down.

But can he give us bread also?

Will he provide his people with meat?"

<sup>21</sup>When the Lord heard them, he was very angry.

His anger was like fire to the people of Jacob;
his anger grew against the people of Israel.

<sup>22</sup>They had not believed God and had not trusted him to save them.

<sup>23</sup>But he gave a command to the clouds above and opened the doors of heaven.

<sup>24</sup>He rained manna down on them to eat;
he gave them grain from heaven.

<sup>25</sup>So they ate the bread of angels.
He sent them all the food they could eat.

<sup>26</sup>He sent the east wind from heaven and led the south wind by his power.

<sup>27</sup>He rained meat on them like dust.
The birds were as many as the sand of the sea.

<sup>28</sup>He made the birds fall inside the camp,
all around the tents.

<sup>29</sup>So the people ate and became very full.
God had given them what they wanted.

<sup>30</sup>While they were still eating,
and while the food was still in their mouths,

<sup>31</sup>God became angry with them.
He killed some of the healthiest of them;
he struck down the best young men of Israel.

<sup>32</sup>But they kept on sinning;
they did not believe even with the miracles.

<sup>33</sup>So he ended their days without meaning and their years in terror.

<sup>34</sup>Anytime he killed them, they would look to him for help;

they would come back to God and follow him.

<sup>35</sup>They would remember that God was their Rock, that God Most High had saved them.

<sup>36</sup>But their words were false, and their tongues lied to him.

<sup>37</sup>Their hearts were not really loyal to God; they did not keep his agreement.

<sup>38</sup>Still God was merciful.

He forgave their sins and did not destroy them.

Many times he held back his anger and did not stir up all his anger.

<sup>39</sup>He remembered that they were only human, like a wind that blows and does not come back.

<sup>40</sup>They turned against God so often in the desert and grieved him there.

<sup>41</sup>Again and again they tested God and brought pain to the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>42</sup>They did not remember his power or the time he saved them from the enemy.

<sup>43</sup>They forgot the signs he did in Egypt and his wonders in the fields of Zoan.

<sup>46</sup>He gave their crops to grasshoppers and what they worked for to locusts.

<sup>47</sup>He destroyed their vines with hail and their sycamore trees with sleet.

<sup>48</sup>He killed their animals with hail and their cattle with lightning.

<sup>49</sup>He showed them his hot anger.
He sent his strong anger against them,
his destroying angels.

<sup>50</sup>He found a way to show his anger.
He did not keep them from dying
but let them die by a terrible disease.

<sup>51</sup>God killed all the firstborn sons in Egypt, the oldest son of each family of Ham.

<sup>52</sup>But God led his people out like sheep and he guided them like a flock through the desert.

<sup>53</sup>He led them to safety so they had nothing to fear, but their enemies drowned in the sea.

<sup>54</sup>So God brought them to his holy land, to the mountain country he took with his own power.

<sup>55</sup>He forced out the other nations, and he had his people inherit the land.
He let the tribes of Israel settle there in tents.

<sup>56</sup>But they tested God and turned against God Most High;
they did not keep his rules.

<sup>57</sup>They turned away and were disloyal just like their ancestors.

They were like a crooked bow that does not shoot straight.

<sup>58</sup>They made God angry by building places to worship gods;

they made him jealous with their idols.

<sup>59</sup>When God heard them, he became very angry and rejected the people of Israel completely.

<sup>60</sup>He left his dwelling at Shiloh,
the Tent where he lived among the people.

<sup>61</sup>He let the Ark, his power, be captured;
he let the Ark, his glory, be taken by enemies.

<sup>62</sup>He let his people be killed;
he was very angry with his children.

<sup>63</sup>The young men died by fire, and the young women had no one to marry.

<sup>64</sup>Their priests fell by the sword,
but their widows were not allowed to cry.

<sup>65</sup>Then the Lord got up as if he had been asleep;
he awoke like a man who had been drunk with wine.

<sup>66</sup>He struck down his enemies and disgraced them forever.

<sup>67</sup>But God rejected the family of Joseph;
he did not choose the tribe of Ephraim.

<sup>68</sup>Instead, he chose the tribe of Judah and Mount Zion, which he loves.

<sup>69</sup>And he built his Temple high like the mountains.
Like the earth, he built it to last forever.

<sup>70</sup>He chose David to be his servant and took him from the sheep pens.

<sup>71</sup>He brought him from tending the sheep
so he could lead the flock, the people of Jacob, his own people, the people of Israel.

<sup>72</sup>And David led them with an innocent heart and guided them with skillful hands.

Life Lessons

Psalms 79:1–80:19

Situation

Israel was attacked by a heathen nation. God's people cried out for divine intervention and judgment upon their persecutors.

Observation

Stress helps us realize how much we need God to steady our lives.

Inspiration

When you recognize God as Creator, you will admire him. When you recognize his wisdom, you will learn from him. When you discover his strength, you will rely on him. But only when he saves you will you worship him.

It's a "before and after" scenario. Before your rescue, you could easily keep God at a distance. Comfortably dismissed. Neatly shelved. Sure he was important, but so was your career. Your status. Your salary. He was high on your priority list, but he shared the spot with others.

Then came the storm ... the rage ... the fight ... the ripped moorings ... the starless night. Despair fell like a fog; your bearings were gone. In your heart, you knew there was no exit.

Turn to your career for help? Only if you want to hide from the storm ... not escape it. Lean on your status for strength? A storm isn't impressed with your title. Rely on your salary for rescue? Many try ... genuinely ask ... he will come.

And from that moment on, he is not just a deity to admire, a teacher to observe, or a master to obey. He is the Savior. The Savior to be worshiped.... (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

Name your current hardships and trials. What lessons could you learn from them? How could God use these circumstances to draw you closer to him? Make the most of your trials. Let them be opportunities for increased spiritual growth and faith.

Exploration

God is Our Strength and Salvation—Psalm 106:8; 121:1-2; Jeremiah 3:23; Malachi 4:2.

If you have the Shepherd, you have grace for every sin, direction for every turn, a candle for every corner, and an anchor for every storm. —Max Lucado (Traveling Light)

The Nation Cries for Jerusalem

A psalm of Asaph.

God, nations have come against your chosen people.
They have ruined your holy Temple.
They have turned Jerusalem into ruins.

<sup>2</sup>They have given the bodies of your servants as food to the wild birds.

They have given the bodies of those who worship you to the wild animals.

<sup>3</sup>They have spilled blood like water all around Jerusalem.

No one was left to bury the dead.

<sup>4</sup>We are a joke to the other nations;
they laugh and make fun of us.

<sup>5</sup>Lord, how long will this last?

Will you be angry forever?

How long will your jealousy burn like a fire?

<sup>6</sup>Be angry with the nations that do not know you and with the kingdoms that do not honor you.

<sup>7</sup>They have gobbled up the people of Jacob and destroyed their land.

<sup>8</sup>Don't punish us for our past sins.
Show your mercy to us soon,
because we are helpless!

<sup>9</sup>God our Savior, help us
so people will praise you.
Save us and forgive our sins
so people will honor you.

<sup>10</sup>Why should the nations say,
"Where is their God?"
Tell the other nations in our presence that you punish those who kill your servants.

<sup>11</sup>Hear the moans of the prisoners.
Use your great power
to save those sentenced to die.

<sup>12</sup>Repay those around us seven times over for their insults to you, Lord.

<sup>13</sup>We are your people, the sheep of your flock.
We will thank you always;
forever and ever we will praise you.

A Prayer to Bring Israel Back

For the director of music. To the tune of "Lilies of the Agreement." A psalm of Asaph.

Shepherd of Israel, listen to us.

You lead the people of Joseph like a flock.

You sit on your throne between the gold creatures with wings.

Show your greatness <sup>2</sup>to the people of Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasseh.

Use your strength,
and come to save us.

<sup>3</sup>God, take us back.

Show us your kindness so we can be saved.

<sup>4</sup>Lord God All-Powerful,
how long will you be angry
at the prayers of your people?

<sup>5</sup>You have fed your people with tears;
you have made them drink many tears.

<sup>6</sup>You made those around us fight over us,
and our enemies make fun of us.

<sup>7</sup>God All-Powerful, take us back.

Show us your kindness so we can be saved.

<sup>8</sup>You brought us out of Egypt as if we were a vine.

You forced out other nations and planted us in the
land.

<sup>9</sup>You cleared the ground for us.
Like a vine, we took root and filled the land.
<sup>10</sup>We covered the mountains with our shade.
We had limbs like the mighty cedar tree.
<sup>11</sup>Our branches reached the Mediterranean Sea, and our shoots went to the Euphrates River.

<sup>12</sup>So why did you pull down our walls?
Now everyone who passes by steals from us.
<sup>13</sup>Like wild pigs they walk over us;
like wild animals they feed on us.

<sup>14</sup>God All-Powerful, come back.
Look down from heaven and see.
Take care of us, your vine.

<sup>15</sup>You planted this shoot with your own hands and strengthened this child.

<sup>16</sup>Now it is cut down and burned with fire;
you destroyed us by your angry looks.

<sup>17</sup>With your hand,
strengthen the one you have chosen for yourself.

<sup>18</sup>Then we will not turn away from you.
Give us life again, and we will call to you for help.

<sup>19</sup>Lord God All-Powerful, take us back.
Show us your kindness so we can be saved.

Life Lessons

Psalms 81:1–82:8

Situation

Asaph called Israel to sing praises to God and to obey God. The song was probably used as a hymn in the Temple.

Observation

“Please listen to me!” God pleaded with Israel to listen, but Israel ignored him.

Inspiration

You and I live in a loud world. To get someone’s attention is no easy task. He must be willing to set everything aside to listen: turn down the radio, turn away from the monitor, turn the corner of the page and set down the book. When someone is willing to silence everything else so he can hear us clearly, it is a privilege. A rare privilege, indeed.

So John’s message is critical. You can talk to God because God listens. Your voice matters in heaven. He takes you very seriously. When you enter his presence, the attendants turn to you to hear your voice. No need to fear that you will be ignored. Even if you stammer or stumble, even if what you have to say impresses no one, it impresses God—and he listens. He listens to the painful plea of the elderly in the rest home. He listens to the gruff confession of the death-row inmate. When the alcoholic begs for mercy, when the spouse seeks guidance, when the businessman steps off the street into the chapel, God listens.

Intently. Carefully. The prayers are honored as precious jewels. Purified and empowered, the words rise in a delightful fragrance to our Lord. “The smoke from the incense went up from the angel’s hand to God” [Revelation 8:4]. Incredible. Your words do not stop until they reach the very throne of God.

Then, the angel “filled the incense pan with fire from the altar and threw it on the earth” (Revelation 8:5). One call and Heaven’s fleet appears. Your prayer on earth activates God’s power in heaven, and “God’s will is done on earth as it is in heaven.”

You are the someone of God’s kingdom. You have access to God’s furnace. Your prayers move God to change the world. You may not understand the mystery of prayer. You don’t need to. But this much is clear: Actions in heaven begin when someone prays on earth. What an amazing thought! (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you take time to listen to God? What is God telling you to do? What is God asking you to change? The Israelites missed God’s best for them when they failed to listen. Take time out of each day to study God’s Word and listen for his direction.

Exploration

A Song for a Holiday

For the director of music. By the gittith. A psalm of Asaph.

Sing for joy to God, our strength;
shout out loud to the God of Jacob.

Play pleasant music on the harps and lyres.

when the moon is full, when our feast begins.

<sup>4</sup>This is the law for Israel;
it is the command of the God of Jacob.

<sup>5</sup>He gave this rule to the people of Joseph when they went out of the land of Egypt.

I heard a language I did not know, saying:

<sup>6</sup>“I took the load off their shoulders;

I let them put down their baskets.

<sup>7</sup>When you were in trouble, you called, and I saved
you.

I answered you with thunder.

I tested you at the waters of Meribah.

Selah

<sup>8</sup>My people, listen. I am warning you.

Israel, please listen to me!

<sup>9</sup>You must not have foreign gods;

you must not worship any false god.

<sup>10</sup>I, the Lord, am your God, who brought you out of Egypt.
Open your mouth and I will feed you.

<sup>11</sup>“But my people did not listen to me;
Israel did not want me.

<sup>12</sup>So I let them go their stubborn way and follow their own advice.

<sup>13</sup>I wish my people would listen to me;
I wish Israel would live my way.

<sup>14</sup>Then I would quickly defeat their enemies and turn my hand against their foes.

<sup>15</sup>Those who hate the Lord would bow before him.
Their punishment would continue forever.

<sup>16</sup>But I would give you the finest wheat and fill you with honey from the rocks.”

A Cry for Justice

A psalm of Asaph.

God is in charge of the great meeting;
he judges among the “gods.”

<sup>2</sup>He says, “How long will you defend evil people?
How long will you show greater kindness to the wicked?

Selah

<sup>3</sup>Defend the weak and the orphans; defend the rights of the poor and suffering.

<sup>4</sup>Save the weak and helpless;
free them from the power of the wicked.

<sup>5</sup>“You know nothing. You don’t understand.
You walk in the dark,
while the world is falling apart.

<sup>6</sup>I said, ‘You are “gods.”
You are all sons of God Most High.’

<sup>7</sup>But you will die like any other person;
you will fall like all the leaders.”

<sup>8</sup>God, come and judge the earth, because you own all the nations.

Life Lessons

Psalms 83:1–84:12

Situation

These songs celebrated God's strength, grace, and glory.

Observation

The blessings of God surely come to those who serve and trust in him...

Inspiration

Celebration praises God for His power and works, and it reinforces our confidence in Him to intervene in our lives.

With tears of joy, my friend Lori related, "I recently bought a house and last night three friends gave me a housewarming party to celebrate my new home. Looking around the room at the people who had gathered, I was in awe. God has been so good to me! I have a beautiful home and friends who really care about me. How much He has done for me! He has intervened in my life, time and time again, and has brought these people into my life. I am overwhelmed with love and gratitude for His kindness and for these friends!"

Celebrations not only praise God, but also they honor your friend for her desire to follow Jesus and her ability to make decisions or take steps that have brought positive changes in her life by His power.

Lori continued, "As I opened the housewarming gifts, I realized that the evening would never have occurred if I had not allowed Jesus to work in my life. Most of the people gathered were friends I had made because of my decision to follow Jesus. The party was not just a celebration of a new home, but for me, it was a celebration of a new way of life!” (From The Counsel of a Friend by Lynda D. Elliott)

Application

Praise God for the friends he has brought you. Be a friend that someone would praise God for. If you do not have a friend, ask God to give you one.

Exploration

Joy in God Our Strength—Exodus 15:2; 2 Samuel 22:33; Psalm 28:8; 46:1; 73:26; 81:1; 89:21.

A Prayer Against the Enemies

A song. A psalm of Asaph.

God, do not keep quiet;

God, do not be silent or still.

<sup>2</sup>Your enemies are making noises;

those who hate you are getting ready to attack.

<sup>3</sup>They are making secret plans against your people;
they plot against those you love.

Then no one will ever remember the name 'Israel.'"

<sup>5</sup>They are united in their plan.

These have made an agreement against you:

<sup>6</sup>the families of Edom and the Ishmaelites, Moab and the Hagrites,

<sup>7</sup>the people of Byblos, Ammon, Amalek, Philistia, and Tyre.

<sup>8</sup>Even Assyria has joined them to help Ammon and Moab, the descendants of Lot.

Selah

<sup>9</sup>God, do to them what you did to Midian, what you did to Sisera and Jabin at the Kishon River.

<sup>10</sup>They died at Endor,
and their bodies rotted on the ground.

<sup>11</sup>Do to their important leaders what you did to Oreb and Zeeb.

Do to their princes what you did to Zebah and Zalmunna.

<sup>12</sup>They said, "Let's take for ourselves the pasturelands that belong to God."

<sup>14</sup>Be like a fire that burns a forest or like flames that blaze through the hills.

Then people will look for you, Lord.

Disgrace them and destroy them.

<sup>18</sup>Then they will know that you are the Lord, that only you are God Most High over all the earth.

Wishing to Be in the Temple

For the director of music. On the gittith. A psalm of the sons of Korah.

Lord All-Powerful,
how lovely is your Temple!
<sup>2</sup>I want more than anything to be in the courtyards of the Lord's Temple.
My whole being wants to be with the living God.

<sup>3</sup>The sparrows have found a home,
and the swallows have nests.
They raise their young near your altars,
Lord All-Powerful, my King and my God.
<sup>4</sup>Happy are the people who live at your Temple;
they are always praising you.

Selah

<sup>5</sup>Happy are those whose strength comes from you, who want to travel to Jerusalem.

<sup>6</sup>As they pass through the Valley of Baca,
they make it like a spring.
The autumn rains fill it with pools of water.

<sup>7</sup>The people get stronger as they go,
and everyone meets with God in Jerusalem.

<sup>8</sup>Lord God All-Powerful, hear my prayer;
God of Jacob, listen to me.

<sup>9</sup>God, look at our shield;

be kind to your appointed king.

<sup>10</sup>One day in the courtyards of your Temple is better than a thousand days anywhere else.

I would rather be a doorkeeper in the Temple of my God than live in the homes of the wicked.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord God is like a sun and shield;
the Lord gives us kindness and honor.
He does not hold back anything good from those whose lives are innocent.

<sup>12</sup>Lord All-Powerful, happy are the people who trust you!

Life Lessons

Psalms 85:1–86:17

Situation

God confirmed that he had plans for Israel's future. No matter how difficult the circumstances, he promised to support them.

Observation

God faithfully restores his people after times of difficulty. We must be diligent by reading God's Word.

Inspiration

Be confident of this very thing, that the Father, who has begun a wonderful and good work in you will continue to work it in you and through you until He sends Me to the earth again to gather up My children.

Your heavenly Father never leaves a job half done, never walks away from a thing He has originated, leaving it unfinished.

I am the Alpha and Omega,
the beginning and the end.
I am altogether perfect.

My dealings with you are perfect. . . .

When you drink in My word and keep it in your mind continually, meditating on it day and night to observe and do according to all that is written in it, then you shall make your way prosperous, and then you shall deal wisely and have good success. (From His Thoughts Toward Me by Marie Chapien)

Application

The world trains you to think that success comes from demonstrating personal power and desire, and by networking with the right people. God says true success comes from knowing, contemplating, and memorizing his Word. Choose the best time for you to read your Bible and pray. Then do it faithfully every day.

A Prayer for the Nation

For the director of music. A psalm of the sons of Korah.

Lord, you have been kind to your land;
you brought back the people of Jacob.
<sup>2</sup>You forgave the guilt of the people and covered all their sins.

Selah

<sup>3</sup>You stopped all your anger;
you turned back from your strong anger.

<sup>4</sup>God our Savior, bring us back again.
Stop being angry with us.

<sup>5</sup>Will you be angry with us forever?
Will you stay angry from now on?

<sup>6</sup>Won't you give us life again?
Your people would rejoice in you.

<sup>7</sup>Lord, show us your love, and save us.

<sup>8</sup>I will listen to God the Lord.
He has ordered peace for those who worship him.
Don't let them go back to foolishness.

<sup>9</sup>God will soon save those who respect him,
and his glory will be seen in our land.

<sup>10</sup>Love and truth belong to God's people;

goodness and peace will be theirs.

<sup>11</sup>On earth people will be loyal to God, and God's goodness will shine down from heaven.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord will give his goodness, and the land will give its crops.

<sup>13</sup>Goodness will go before God and prepare the way for him.

A Cry for Help

A prayer of David.

Lord, listen to me and answer me.

I am poor and helpless.

<sup>2</sup>Protect me, because I worship you.

My God, save me, your servant who trusts in you.

<sup>3</sup>Lord, have mercy on me,
because I have called to you all day.

<sup>4</sup>Give happiness to me, your servant, because I give my life to you, Lord.

<sup>5</sup>Lord, you are kind and forgiving and have great love for those who call to you.

<sup>6</sup>Lord, hear my prayer,
and listen when I ask for mercy.

<sup>7</sup>I call to you in times of trouble, because you will answer me.

<sup>8</sup>Lord, there is no god like you and no works like yours.

<sup>9</sup>Lord, all the nations you have made will come and worship you.

They will honor you.

<sup>10</sup>You are great and you do miracles.
Only you are God.

<sup>11</sup>Lord, teach me what you want me to do, and I will live by your truth.

Teach me to respect you completely.

<sup>12</sup>Lord, my God, I will praise you with all my heart, and I will honor your name forever.

<sup>13</sup>You have great love for me.

You have saved me from death.

<sup>14</sup>God, proud men are attacking me;

a gang of cruel men is trying to kill me.

They do not respect you.

<sup>15</sup>But, Lord, you are a God who shows mercy and is kind.

You don't become angry quickly.

You have great love and faithfulness.

<sup>16</sup>Turn to me and have mercy.

Give me, your servant, strength.

Save me, the son of your female servant.

<sup>17</sup>Show me a sign of your goodness.

When my enemies look, they will be ashamed.

You, Lord, have helped me and comforted me.

Psalms 87:1–88:18

Situation

God was devoted to Jerusalem (Psalm 87). This psalm of celebration contrasted the heavy and sad tone of the subsequent psalm, which spoke of death and despair (Psalm 88).

Observation

God will hear your tearful prayers and heal your deepest wounds. His perfect love will reduce or take away anxiety.

Inspiration

When Becky Smith-Greer was growing up in North Carolina, she pretended she was Princess Rose and would someday marry the man of her dreams. Following a college romance, she married Sonny Smith, who became more than the husband of her fairy-tale fantasy. Sonny became her best friend and the loving father of their two children.

The Smiths became teachers in the Hendersonville, North Carolina, area. Sonny was the high school band director, and Becky taught kindergarten.

Then Becky's idyllic life was shattered when she heard the words, "There's been an accident!"

In one swift moment, she lost half her family—her husband and her 12-year-old son, Greg—in a plane crash. Two others also perished: Sonny's 26-year-old nephew, Richard, and his brother-in-law, Jack, the pilot of the single-engine craft....

Our story begins [twelve] months later.

... My will to survive was almost gone.... When I tried to sleep, visions of blood and twisted metal often invaded my dreams....

Finally I threw back the covers and stumbled through the darkness to Greg's room... In utter desperation, I screamed aloud, "God, if You're there, and if You're real, You've got to help me! I can't go on like this!"

... Not long after that frightful night, God did come to visit me in an unexpected time and place. He slipped quietly beside me on the steps of my classroom and used a little boy named Mark to teach me about Himself....

I looked up to see Mark chasing several girls with a stick.

Mark was so tiny, I didn't think he had the strength to hurt them. Actually, I was glad to see him interacting at any level. Mark was my puzzle and challenge. His frail body was spaghetti thin, his brown eyes hauntingly blank. In the classroom, he usually sat on the floor, folded his bony knees together, and stared at the carpet. The only way I could look into his eyes was to pull him to me and cup his face in my hands. Even then, he would not look directly at me.

"You know, Mark, I had a little boy just like you. His name was Greg, but I don't have him anymore. He died." Mark looked up at me now as I talked. "Greg loved Matchbox cars. Do you like those cars?"

He nodded his head vigorously.

“I’ll tell you what I’m going to do. Tomorrow I’ll bring you one of Greg’s cars. Would you like that? I know Greg would like you to have one.”

Mark nodded again and gently relaxed. I felt some of the fight drain out of him. I began to hum and rock. In a while, his body went limp as he fell asleep. I cradled him in my arms and wiped the perspiration from his tiny forehead.

Ever so quietly, God crept into my heart and whispered to me softly, “Becky, you’re just like Mark. I’ve tried to talk with you all these months, but you kicked and screamed so loudly you couldn’t hear Me. It’s okay. I know you’re hurt. I’ve just had to hold you tightly until you calm down. If you let Me now, I’ll cradle you in My arms, and you can rest. You can trust Me. I won’t let you go.” (From Keepsakes for the Heart by Becky Smith-Greer)

Application

Picture yourself climbing up into God’s lap, feeling his arms wrap around you, and receiving his hug. Tell him of your grief, anger, and despair. Share with one other trusted friend this week what you told God in the darkness.

God Loves Jerusalem

A song. A psalm of the sons of Korah.

The Lord built Jerusalem on the holy mountain.
<sup>2</sup>He loves its gates more than any other place in Israel.
<sup>3</sup>City of God, wonderful things are said about you.

Selah

<sup>4</sup>God says, “I will put Egypt and Babylonia on the list of nations that know me.
People from Philistia, Tyre, and Cush will be born there.”

<sup>5</sup>They will say about Jerusalem,
“This one and that one were born there.
God Most High will strengthen her.”

He will note, “This person was born there.”

Selah

<sup>7</sup>They will dance and sing,
“All good things come from Jerusalem.”

A Sad Complaint

A song. A psalm of the sons of Korah. For the director of music. By the mahalath leannoth. A maskil of Heman the Ezrahite.

Lord, you are the God who saves me.

I cry out to you day and night.

<sup>2</sup>Receive my prayer,
and listen to my cry.

<sup>3</sup>My life is full of troubles,
and I am nearly dead.

<sup>4</sup>They think I am on the way to my grave.
I am like a man with no strength.

<sup>5</sup>I have been left as dead,
like a body lying in a grave whom you don't remember anymore,
cut off from your care.

<sup>6</sup>You have brought me close to death;
I am almost in the dark place of the dead.

<sup>7</sup>You have been very angry with me;
all your waves crush me.

Selah

<sup>8</sup>You have taken my friends away from me and have made them hate me.

I am trapped and cannot escape.

<sup>9</sup>My eyes are weak from crying.

Lord, I have prayed to you every day;
I have lifted my hands in prayer to you.

<sup>10</sup>Do you show your miracles for the dead?
Do their spirits rise up and praise you?

Selah

<sup>11</sup>Will your love be told in the grave?
Will your loyalty be told in the place of death?

<sup>12</sup>Will your miracles be known in the dark grave?
Will your goodness be known in the land of forgetfulness?

<sup>13</sup>But, Lord, I have called out to you for help;
every morning I pray to you.

<sup>14</sup>Lord, why do you reject me?
Why do you hide from me?

<sup>15</sup>I have been weak and dying since I was young.
I suffer from your terrors, and I am helpless.

<sup>16</sup>You have been angry with me,
and your terrors have destroyed me.

<sup>17</sup>They surround me daily like a flood;
they are all around me.

<sup>18</sup>You have taken away my loved ones and friends.
Darkness is my only friend.

Life Lessons

Psalm 89:1-52

Situation

This psalm celebrated David's glorious reign. David's reign was successful because God sustained him.

Observation

One of David's descendants (Jesus Christ) would reign over God's people forever.

Inspiration

Children love to swing. There's nothing like it. Thrusting your feet toward the sky, leaning so far backward that everything looks upside down. Spinning trees, a stomach that jumps into your throat. Ah, swinging....

I learned a lot about trust on a swing. As a child, I only trusted certain people to push my swing. If I was being pushed by people I trusted (like Dad or Mom), they could do anything they wanted. They could twist me, turn me, stop me ... But let a stranger push my swing (which often happened at family reunions and Fourth of July picnics), and it was hang on, baby! Who knew what this newcomer would do? When a stranger pushes your swing, you tense up, ball up, and hang on....

We live in a stormy world. At this writing, wars rage in both hemispheres of our globe. World conflict is threatening all humanity. Jobs are getting scarce. Money continues to get tight. Families are coming apart at the seams . . . .

We must remember who is pushing the swing. We must put our trust in him. We can't grow fearful. He won't let us tumble out. (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

Application

When do you feel safe? When your spouse is with you? When the doors are locked? When the alarm is on? When you have enough money for any situation? All of these securities can fail. Ask God to help you depend on him for your security.

A Song About God's Loyalty

A maskil of Ethan the Ezrahite.

I will always sing about the Lord's love;
I will tell of his loyalty from now on.

<sup>2</sup>I will say, "Your love continues forever;
your loyalty goes on and on like the sky."

<sup>3</sup>You said, "I made an agreement with the man of my choice;

I made a promise to my servant David.

<sup>4</sup>I told him, 'I will make your family continue forever.
Your kingdom will go on and on.'"

Selah

<sup>5</sup>Lord, the heavens praise you for your miracles and for your loyalty in the meeting of your holy ones.

<sup>6</sup>Who in heaven is equal to the Lord?
None of the angels is like the Lord.

<sup>7</sup>When the holy ones meet, it is God they fear.
He is more frightening than all who surround him.

<sup>8</sup>Lord God All-Powerful, who is like you?
Lord, you are powerful and completely trustworthy.

<sup>9</sup>You rule the mighty sea and calm the stormy waves.

<sup>10</sup>You crushed the sea monster Rahab;
by your power you scattered your enemies.

<sup>11</sup>The skies and the earth belong to you.
You made the world and everything in it.

<sup>12</sup>You created the north and the south.
Mount Tabor and Mount Hermon sing for joy at your name.

<sup>13</sup>Your arm has great power.
Your hand is strong; your right hand is lifted up.

Love and truth are in all you do.

<sup>15</sup>Happy are the people who know how to praise you.
Lord, let them live in the light of your presence.

<sup>16</sup>In your name they rejoice and continually praise your goodness.

<sup>17</sup>You are their glorious strength, and in your kindness you honor our king.

<sup>18</sup>Our king, our shield, belongs to the Lord, to the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>19</sup>Once, in a vision, you spoke to those who worship you.
You said, "I have given strength to a warrior;
I have raised up a young man from my people.

<sup>20</sup>I have found my servant David;
I appointed him by pouring holy oil on him.

<sup>21</sup>I will steady him with my hand and strengthen him with my arm.

<sup>22</sup>No enemy will make him give forced payments, and wicked people will not defeat him.

<sup>23</sup>I will crush his enemies in front of him;

I will defeat those who hate him.

<sup>24</sup>My loyalty and love will be with him.

Through me he will be strong.

<sup>25</sup>I will give him power over the sea and control over the rivers.

<sup>26</sup>He will say to me, ‘You are my father, my God, the Rock, my Savior.’

<sup>27</sup>I will make him my firstborn son,
the greatest king on earth.

<sup>28</sup>My love will watch over him forever, and my agreement with him will never end.

<sup>29</sup>I will make his family continue,
and his kingdom will last as long as the skies.

<sup>30</sup>“If his descendants reject my teachings and do not follow my laws,

<sup>31</sup>if they ignore my demands and disobey my commands,

<sup>32</sup>then I will punish their sins with a rod and their wrongs with a whip.

<sup>33</sup>But I will not hold back my love from David,
nor will I stop being loyal.

<sup>34</sup>I will not break my agreement
nor change what I have said.

<sup>35</sup>I have promised by my holiness,
I will not lie to David.

<sup>36</sup>His family will go on forever.
His kingdom will last before me like the sun.

<sup>37</sup>It will continue forever, like the moon, like a dependable witness in the sky.”

Selah

<sup>38</sup>But now you have refused and rejected your appointed king.

You have been angry with him.

<sup>39</sup>You have abandoned the agreement with your servant and thrown his crown to the ground.

<sup>40</sup>You have torn down all his city walls;
you have turned his strong cities into ruins.

<sup>41</sup>Everyone who passes by steals from him.
His neighbors insult him.

<sup>42</sup>You have given strength to his enemies and have made them all happy.

<sup>43</sup>You have made his sword useless;
you did not help him stand in battle.

<sup>44</sup>You have kept him from winning and have thrown his throne to the ground.

<sup>45</sup>You have cut his life short and covered him with shame.

<sup>46</sup>Lord, how long will this go on?

Will you ignore us forever?

How long will your anger burn like a fire?

<sup>47</sup>Remember how short my life is.

Why did you create us? For nothing?

<sup>48</sup>What person alive will not die?

Who can escape the grave?

Selah

<sup>49</sup>Lord, where is your love from times past, which in your loyalty you promised to David?

<sup>50</sup>Lord, remember how they insulted your servant; remember how I have suffered the insults of the nations.

<sup>51</sup>Lord, remember how your enemies insulted you and how they insulted your appointed king wherever he went.

Amen and amen.

Book 4

Life Lessons

Psalms 90:1–91:16

Situation

In the only psalm attributed to him, Moses remembered his pain over the sins of the people (see Exodus 32:9–14).

Observation

Psalm 90 reminds us that we are only here for a brief time and that we should ask God to help us wisely make use of each day.

Inspiration

We sometimes act as if the Christian life is a retirement cruise. We have little fuel but lots of entertainment. We are more concerned with looking snappy than with being prepared. We give more thought to table settings than to surviving the journey. We give little thought to the destination, but we make sure there's plenty of silver to go around ...

Your Father is preparing a place for you. A place with many rooms. An ample place. A place with space for you. There is a special room for you. You will be welcome.

We don't always feel welcome here on earth. We wonder if there is a place here for us. People can make us feel unwanted. Tragedy leaves us feeling like intruders. Strangers. Interlopers in a land not ours. We don't always feel welcome here.

We shouldn't. This isn't our home. To feel unwelcome is no tragedy. Indeed it is healthy. We are not home here. This language we speak, it's not ours. This body we wear, it isn't us. And the world we live in, this isn't home.

Ours isn't finished yet.

But when it is, our brother will come and take us home. "I would not tell you this if it were not true. . . . I will come back," he said before he left, "and take you to be with me so that you may be where I am" (John 14:2-3).

General William Nelson was a Union general in the Civil War. Though he faced death every day, he never prepared for his own. Who knows what he was thinking as he rode into battle after battle? Maybe he was too busy staying alive to prepare for death.

All that changed, however, one day as he was relaxing in a house with his men. A brawl broke out, and he was shot in the chest. Knowing he was dying, he had only one request: "Send for a clergyman."

What had happened? Why the urgency? Did the general suddenly learn something about God that he had never known? No. But he did learn something about himself. He realized death was near. Suddenly only one thing mattered.

Why hadn't it mattered before? Couldn't he have said yes to God the week before or that very morning? Absolutely. Why didn't he? Why was the salvation of his soul so urgent after the shot and so optional before it? Why had he postponed his decision to accept Christ until his deathbed?

Because he assumed he had time.

A dangerous assumption. "Teach us how short our lives really are,” prayed Moses, “so that we may be wise” (Psalm 90:12).

What fear strikes a man when the end is near and he’s not prepared. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

What would you like to do before you die? What fulfillment will it bring you? When you die, what lasting effects, if any, will it have? Invest your time in people and projects that will last. Be a friend, share the gospel, mentor a young person, donate time or money to a Christian ministry or charity.

Exploration

Humans Are Finite—Genesis 6:3; Job 34:14–15; Psalm 78:39; Isaiah 40:6–8; Matthew 26:41.

God Is Eternal, and We Are Not

A prayer of Moses, the man of God.

Lord, you have been our home
since the beginning.

<sup>2</sup>Before the mountains were born and before you created the earth and the world, you are God.

You have always been, and you will always be.

You say, “Go back into dust, human beings.”

<sup>4</sup>To you, a thousand years is like the passing of a day, or like a few hours in the night.

They are like grass that grows up in the morning.

<sup>6</sup>In the morning they are fresh and new,
but by evening they dry up and die.

<sup>7</sup>We are destroyed by your anger;
we are terrified by your hot anger.

<sup>8</sup>You have put the evil we have done right in front of
you;

you clearly see our secret sins.

<sup>9</sup>All our days pass while you are angry.

Our years end with a moan.

<sup>10</sup>Our lifetime is seventy years or, if we are strong, eighty years.
But the years are full of hard work and pain.
They pass quickly, and then we are gone.

<sup>11</sup>Who knows the full power of your anger?
Your anger is as great as our fear of you should be.

<sup>12</sup>Teach us how short our lives really are so that we may be wise.

<sup>13</sup>Lord, how long before you return and show kindness to your servants?

<sup>14</sup>Fill us with your love every morning.
Then we will sing and rejoice all our lives.

<sup>15</sup>We have seen years of trouble.
Now give us as much joy as you gave us sorrow.

<sup>16</sup>Show your servants the wonderful things you do;
show your greatness to their children.

Give us success in what we do;
yes, give us success in what we do.

Safe in the Lord

Those who go to God Most High for safety will be protected by the Almighty.

<sup>2</sup>I will say to the Lord, “You are my place of safety and protection.

You are my God and I trust you.”

<sup>3</sup>God will save you from hidden traps and from deadly diseases.

<sup>4</sup>He will cover you with his feathers, and under his wings you can hide.
His truth will be your shield and protection.

<sup>5</sup>You will not fear any danger by night or an arrow during the day.

<sup>6</sup>You will not be afraid of diseases that come in the dark

or sickness that strikes at noon.

<sup>7</sup>At your side one thousand people may die, or even ten thousand right beside you,
but you will not be hurt.

<sup>8</sup>You will only watch and see the wicked punished.

<sup>9</sup>The Lord is your protection;
you have made God Most High your place of safety.

<sup>10</sup>Nothing bad will happen to you;
no disaster will come to your home.

<sup>11</sup>He has put his angels in charge of you to watch over you wherever you go.

<sup>12</sup>They will catch you in their hands
so that you will not hit your foot on a rock.

<sup>13</sup>You will walk on lions and cobras;
you will step on strong lions and snakes.

<sup>14</sup>The Lord says, “Whoever loves me, I will save.
I will protect those who know me.

<sup>15</sup>They will call to me, and I will answer them.
I will be with them in trouble;
I will rescue them and honor them.

<sup>16</sup>I will give them a long, full life, and they will see how I can save.”

Life Lessons

Psalms 92:1–93:5

Situation

As king, David discerned between evil and righteousness by using God's character as the criterion.

Observation

God rules his creation perfectly. We must be thankful and faithful to him.

Inspiration

We know that God will fulfill every promise made to the prophets; we know that sinners will someday be cleansed out of the earth; we know that a ransomed company will enter into the joy of God and that the righteous will shine forth in the kingdom of their Father; we know that God's perfections will yet receive universal acclamation, that all created intelligences will own Jesus Christ as Lord to the glory of God the Father, that the present imperfect order will be done away, and a new heaven and a new earth be established forever.

Toward all this God is moving with infinite wisdom and perfect precision of action. No one can dissuade Him from His purposes; nothing can turn Him aside from His plans. Since He is omniscient, there can be no unforeseen circumstances, no accidents. As He is sovereign, there can be no countermanded orders, no breakdown in authority; and as He is omnipotent, there can be no want of power to achieve His chosen ends. God is sufficient unto Himself for all these things. (From The Knowledge of the Holy by A. W. Tozer)

Application

Where in your life do you insist on calling the shots? In the kind of movies you watch? The employees you hire? Your spouse's behavior? Every choice your children make? Hand your need to control over to God—you'll be relieved by his loving administration!

Thanksgiving for God's Goodness

A psalm. A song for the Sabbath day.

It is good to praise you, Lord,
to sing praises to God Most High.

<sup>2</sup>It is good to tell of your love in the morning and of your loyalty at night.

<sup>3</sup>It is good to praise you with the ten-stringed lyre and with the soft-sounding harp.

<sup>4</sup>Lord, you have made me happy by what you have done;

I will sing for joy about what your hands have done.

<sup>5</sup>Lord, you have done such great things!
How deep are your thoughts!

<sup>6</sup>Stupid people don't know these things, and fools don't understand.

<sup>7</sup>Wicked people grow like the grass.
Evil people seem to do well,
but they will be destroyed forever.

<sup>8</sup>But, Lord, you will be honored forever.

<sup>9</sup>Lord, surely your enemies, surely your enemies will be destroyed,
and all who do evil will be scattered.

<sup>10</sup>But you have made me as strong as an ox.

You have poured fine oils on me.

<sup>11</sup>When I looked, I saw my enemies;

I heard the cries of those who are against me.

<sup>12</sup>But good people will grow like palm trees;

they will be tall like the cedars of Lebanon.

<sup>13</sup>Like trees planted in the Temple of the Lord,
they will grow strong in the courtyards of our God.

<sup>14</sup>When they are old, they will still produce fruit;
they will be healthy and fresh.

<sup>15</sup>They will say that the Lord is good.

He is my Rock, and there is no wrong in him.

The Majesty of the Lord

The Lord is king. He is clothed in majesty.
The Lord is clothed in majesty and armed with strength.
The world is set,
and it cannot be moved.

<sup>2</sup>Lord, your kingdom was set up long ago;
you are everlasting.

<sup>3</sup>Lord, the seas raise,
the seas raise their voice.
The seas raise up their pounding waves.

<sup>4</sup>The sound of the water is loud;
the ocean waves are powerful,
but the Lord above is much greater.

Your Temple will be holy forevermore.

Psalm 94:1–23

Situation

The psalm writer felt surrounded by people who did not seek after God. He rejoiced that God would protect and care for the righteous.

Observation

It is easy to grow weary and discouraged when we are surrounded by those who do not seek God. But God promises to be a shelter to those who are his children.

Inspiration

... Where do you turn when the bottom drops out of your life? Or when you face an issue that is embarrassing ... maybe even scandalous? ... What do you need when circumstances puncture your fragile dikes and threaten to engulf your life with pain and confusion?

You need a shelter. A listener. Someone who understands.

But to whom do you turn when there's no one to tell your troubles to? Where do you find encouragement? ...

Discouraged people don't need critics. They hurt enough already. They don't need more guilt or piled-on distress. They need encouragement. They need a refuge.

A place to hide and heal.

A willing, caring, available someone. A confidant and comrade-at-arms. Can't find one? Why not share David's shelter? The One he called My Strength, Mighty Rock, Fortress, Stronghold, and High Tower.

David's Refuge never failed. Not even once. And he never regretted the times he dropped his heavy load and ran for cover.

Neither will you. (From Growing Strong in the Seasons of Life by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Do you ever feel alone and discouraged in your faith? Become a part of a church and befriend a few other believers—people who will shelter you when you're facing life's storms.

God Will Pay Back His Enemies

The Lord is a God who punishes.
God, show your greatness and punish!

<sup>2</sup>Rise up, Judge of the earth, and give the proud what they deserve.

<sup>3</sup>How long will the wicked be happy?
How long, Lord?

<sup>4</sup>They are full of proud words;
those who do evil brag about what they have done.

<sup>5</sup>Lord, they crush your people and make your children suffer.

<sup>6</sup>They kill widows and foreigners and murder orphans.

<sup>7</sup>They say, "The Lord doesn't see;
the God of Jacob doesn't notice."

<sup>8</sup>You stupid ones among the people, pay attention.
You fools, when will you understand?

<sup>9</sup>Can't the creator of ears hear?
Can't the maker of eyes see?

<sup>10</sup>Won't the one who corrects nations punish you?
Doesn't the teacher of people know everything?

He knows their thoughts are just a puff of wind.

<sup>12</sup>Lord, those you correct are happy;

you teach them from your law.

<sup>13</sup>You give them rest from times of trouble until a pit is dug for the wicked.

<sup>14</sup>The Lord won't leave his people
nor give up his children.

<sup>15</sup>Judgment will again be fair,
and all who are honest will follow it.

<sup>16</sup>Who will help me fight against the wicked?
Who will stand with me against those who do evil?

<sup>17</sup>If the Lord had not helped me,
I would have died in a minute.

<sup>18</sup>I said, "I am about to fall,"
but, Lord, your love kept me safe.

<sup>19</sup>I was very worried,
but you comforted me and made me happy.

<sup>20</sup>Crooked leaders cannot be your friends.
They use the law to cause suffering.

<sup>21</sup>They join forces against people who do right and sentence to death the innocent.

<sup>22</sup>But the Lord is my defender;
my God is the rock of my protection.

<sup>23</sup>God will pay them back for their sins and will destroy them for their evil.

The Lord our God will destroy them.

Psalms 95:1–96:13

Situation

Everything that has been created gives glory to God. The psalm writer encouraged the people to bring an offering of worship to God.

Observation

As Creator, God calls for submission from his creation.

Inspiration

Devotion to God is the first aspect of Godliness; Godlike character is the second. There may be some question about whether or not humility is a Godlike quality, since humility is a trait befitting the creature, not the Creator. But there is no question that God commends humility and delights in it in his people...

Not only does God commend humility in his people; our Lord displayed it in his humanity. “And being found in appearance as a man, he humbled himself and became obedient to death—even death on a cross!” (Philippians 2:8). Jesus Christ exemplified humility in its utmost through his death for us. But he also exemplified humility throughout his life. He was born in the humblest of circumstances; he was obedient to his earthly parents; he called people to himself as one who was “gentle and humble in heart”; he said, “I am among you as one who serves”; he washed the disciples’ feet on the very night of his betrayal; and he taught, “he who humbles himself will be exalted.” If we question whether humility is a Godlike trait (as we view God in his majesty), we certainly cannot question that it is a Christlike trait. And we are to be imitators of him as he lived out his human life on earth... . (From The Practice of Godliness by Jerry Bridges)

Application

Read an episode from the life of Christ. What were some of his character traits? Try to be more like Christ in these areas.

Exploration

A Call to Praise and Obedience

Come, let's sing for joy to the Lord.
Let's shout praises to the Rock who saves us.

Let's sing songs to him,

<sup>3</sup>because the Lord is the great God,
the great King over all gods.

<sup>4</sup>The deepest places on earth are his,
and the highest mountains belong to him.

<sup>5</sup>The sea is his because he made it,
and he created the land with his own hands.

<sup>6</sup>Come, let's worship him and bow down.
Let's kneel before the Lord who made us,

<sup>7</sup>because he is our God and we are the people he takes care of and the sheep that he tends.

Today listen to what he says:

<sup>8</sup>“Do not be stubborn, as your ancestors were at Meribah,
as they were that day at Massah in the desert.

<sup>9</sup>There your ancestors tested me and tried me even though they saw what I did.

<sup>10</sup>I was angry with those people for forty years.
I said, ‘They are not loyal to me and have not understood my ways.’

<sup>11</sup>I was angry and made a promise,

‘They will never enter my rest.’”

Praise for the Lord's Glory

Sing to the Lord a new song;
sing to the Lord, all the earth.

<sup>2</sup>Sing to the Lord and praise his name;
every day tell how he saves us.

<sup>3</sup>Tell the nations of his glory;
tell all peoples the miracles he does,

<sup>4</sup>because the Lord is great; he should be praised at all times.

He should be honored more than all the gods, <sup>5</sup>because all the gods of the nations are only idols, but the Lord made the heavens.

<sup>6</sup>The Lord has glory and majesty;
he has power and beauty in his Temple.

<sup>7</sup>Praise the Lord, all nations on earth;
praise the Lord's glory and power.

<sup>8</sup>Praise the glory of the Lord's name.
Bring an offering and come into his Temple courtyards.

<sup>9</sup>Worship the Lord because he is holy.
Tremble before him, everyone on earth.

The earth is set, and it cannot be moved.
He will judge the people fairly.

<sup>11</sup>Let the skies rejoice and the earth be glad;
let the sea and everything in it shout.

<sup>12</sup>Let the fields and everything in them rejoice.
Then all the trees of the forest will sing for joy

<sup>13</sup>before the Lord, because he is coming.
He is coming to judge the world;
he will judge the world with fairness and the peoples with truth.

Life Lessons

Psalms 97:1–98:9

Situation

Like many psalms used at Jewish festivals, these psalms are a call to worship God our King, who reigns over all.

Observation

As we consider God’s goodness, his justice, power, and sovereignty in our lives and in the world, we respond with worship that is meaningful and life changing.

Inspiration

You’ll discover the purpose of worship—to change the face of the worshiper. This is exactly what happened to Christ on the mountain. Jesus’ appearance was changed: “His face became bright like the sun” (Matthew 17:2).

The connection between the face and worship is more than coincidental. Our face is the most public part of our bodies, covered less than any other area. It is also the most recognizable part of our bodies. We don’t fill a school annual with photos of people’s feet but rather with photos of faces. God desires to take our faces, this exposed and memorable part of our bodies, and use them to reflect his goodness. Paul writes: “Our faces, then, are not covered. We all show the Lord’s glory, and we are being changed to be like him. This change in us brings ever greater glory, which comes from the Lord, who is the Spirit” (2 Corinthians 3:18).

God invites us to see his face so he can change ours. He uses our uncovered faces to display his glory. The transformation isn't easy. The sculptor of Mount Rushmore faced a lesser challenge than does God. But our Lord is up to the task. He loves to change the faces of his children. By his fingers, wrinkles of worry are rubbed away. Shadows of shame and doubt become portraits of grace and trust. He relaxes clenched jaws and smoothes furrowed brows. His touch can remove the bags of exhaustion from beneath the eyes and turn tears of despair into tears of peace.

How? Through worship.

We'd expect something more complicated, more demanding. A forty-day fast or the memorization of Leviticus perhaps. No. God's plan is simpler. He changes our faces through worship.

Exactly what is worship? I like King David's definition. "Oh magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt His name together" (Psalm 34:3, NASB). Worship is the act of magnifying God. Enlarging our vision of him. Stepping into the cockpit to see where he sits and observe how he works. Of course, his size doesn't change, but our perception of him does. As we draw nearer, he seems larger. Isn't that what we need? A big view of God? Don't we have big problems, big worries, big questions? Of course we do. Hence we need a big view of God.

Worship offers that. (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Application

Next time you are in church, be purposeful about your worship. Allow the songs, the prayers, and the words spoken to change your attitude, your thoughts, your face. Ask God to help transform you as you worship him.

Exploration

Worship—Exodus 34:14; Luke 4:8; John 4:20–24.

A Hymn About the Lord's Power

The Lord is king. Let the earth rejoice; faraway lands should be glad.

<sup>2</sup>Thick, dark clouds surround him.
His kingdom is built on what is right and fair.

<sup>3</sup>A fire goes before him and burns up his enemies all around.

<sup>4</sup>His lightning lights up the world;
when the people see it, they tremble.

<sup>5</sup>The mountains melt like wax before the Lord,
before the Lord of all the earth.

<sup>6</sup>The heavens tell about his goodness,
and all the people see his glory.

<sup>7</sup>Those who worship idols should be ashamed;
they brag about their gods.

All the gods should worship the Lord.

<sup>8</sup>When Jerusalem hears this, she is glad,
and the towns of Judah rejoice.

They are happy because of your judgments, Lord.

<sup>9</sup>You are the Lord Most High over all the earth;
you are supreme over all gods.

<sup>10</sup>People who love the Lord hate evil.
The Lord watches over those who follow him and frees them from the power of the wicked.

<sup>11</sup>Light shines on those who do right;
joy belongs to those who are honest.
<sup>12</sup>Rejoice in the Lord, you who do right.
Praise his holy name.

The Lord of Power and Justice

A psalm.

Sing to the Lord a new song,
because he has done miracles.
By his right hand and holy arm
he has won the victory.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord has made known his power to save;
he has shown the other nations his victory for his people.

<sup>3</sup>He has remembered his love and his loyalty to the people of Israel.
All the ends of the earth have seen
God's power to save.

<sup>4</sup>Shout with joy to the Lord, all the earth;
burst into songs and make music.

<sup>5</sup>Make music to the Lord with harps, with harps and the sound of singing.

<sup>6</sup>Blow the trumpets and the sheep's horns;
shout for joy to the Lord the King.

<sup>7</sup>Let the sea and everything in it shout;
let the world and everyone in it sing.

<sup>8</sup>Let the rivers clap their hands;
let the mountains sing together for joy.

<sup>9</sup>Let them sing before the Lord, because he is coming to judge the world.
He will judge the world fairly;

he will judge the peoples with fairness.

Psalms 99:1–101:8

Situation

Although Psalms 99–100 have unknown authors, Psalm 101 was written by David. Early in his reign, he recorded the standards of conduct he wanted to follow.

Observation

God can be praised and trusted by believers because he is holy, good, and perfect. All believers should be motivated to honorable conduct.

Inspiration

At some point in life, each one of us must decide what is his highest joy; for the thing that delights us directs us. Generally speaking, a child finds his delight in what he has; a youth in what he does; and an adult in what he is. The first lives for possessions, the second for the experiences, and the third for character. We do not condemn the child or the youth for so living, because neither has reached maturity; but we would certainly wonder at an adult who lived on those lower levels. . . .

So, every person has an outlook on life; he is seeking his highest joy. Outlook determines outcome. Abraham lifted up his eyes and saw the stars and became the friend of God by faith. Lot lifted up his eyes and saw Sodom and became the friend of the world. Abraham inherited the city prepared for him by God, the city he had been seeking (Hebrews 11:13– 16); but Lot lost everything when Sodom went up in smoke.

If life is to be rich and meaningful, then our joys must be the highest possible; and Jesus tells us that the highest joy possible is to see God. (From Live Like a King by Warren Wiersbe)

Application

Take time to assess and write down your priorities and what they reveal about your trust in God.

Exploration

God Is Trustworthy—Deuteronomy 7:9; 1 Kings 8:56; Psalm 33:4; 89:2; 138:8; Lamentations 3:22–23; 1 Corinthians 1:9; 1 Thessalonians 5:23–24; Hebrews 10:23.

The Lord, the Fair and Holy King

The Lord is king.

Let the peoples shake with fear.

He sits between the gold creatures with wings.

Let the earth shake.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord in Jerusalem is great;
he is supreme over all the peoples.

<sup>3</sup>Let them praise your name;
it is great, holy and to be feared.

<sup>4</sup>The King is powerful and loves justice.
Lord, you made things fair;
you have done what is fair and right
for the people of Jacob.

<sup>5</sup>Praise the Lord our God,
and worship at the Temple, his footstool.
He is holy.

<sup>6</sup>Moses and Aaron were among his priests, and Samuel was among his worshipers.
They called to the Lord,
and he answered them.

<sup>7</sup>He spoke to them from the pillar of cloud.
They kept the rules and laws he gave them.

<sup>8</sup>Lord our God, you answered them.
You showed them that you are a forgiving God,
but you punished them for their wrongs.

<sup>9</sup>Praise the Lord our God,
and worship at his holy mountain, because the Lord our God is holy.

A Call to Praise the Lord

A psalm of thanks.

Shout to the Lord, all the earth.

<sup>2</sup>Serve the Lord with joy;
come before him with singing.

<sup>3</sup>Know that the Lord is God.
He made us, and we belong to him;
we are his people, the sheep he tends.

<sup>4</sup>Come into his city with songs of thanksgiving and into his courtyards with songs of praise.

Thank him and praise his name.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord is good. His love is forever, and his loyalty goes on and on.

A Promise to Rule Well

A psalm of David.

I will sing of your love and fairness;
Lord, I will sing praises to you.

<sup>2</sup>I will be careful to live an innocent life.
When will you come to me?

I will live an innocent life in my house.

<sup>3</sup>I will not look at anything wicked.

I hate those who turn against you;
they will not be found near me.

<sup>4</sup>Let those who want to do wrong stay away from me;
I will have nothing to do with evil.

<sup>5</sup>If anyone secretly says things against his neighbor,
I will stop him.

I will not allow people
to be proud and look down on others.

<sup>6</sup>I will look for trustworthy people
so I can live with them in the land.
Only those who live innocent lives will be my servants.

<sup>7</sup>No one who is dishonest will live in my house;
no liars will stay around me.

<sup>8</sup>Every morning I will destroy the wicked in the land.
I will rid the Lord's city of people who do evil.

Psalm 102:1–28

Situation

The psalmist's distress is not hopeless. Through faith he saw a glorious future for unborn generations.

Observation

God will never die or forget about us. He will protect and restore his people today as in the past.

Inspiration

A brighter prospect is before the true believer—restoration. God has no intention of leaving His investment in a shambles. There will be a divine housecleaning. That is a foregone conclusion. This is the message of all the prophets. But housecleaning is followed by restoration.

We know for instance that we are going to have a cleansed and restored heavens. We have filled the air with violence, brutality, and threat. We know that the brute creation is to be restored to dignity—that "... the wolf and the lamb will feed together ..."

I think the most encouraging sign I have seen this year—a sign that is becoming more and more evident in a catalogue of different places—is a dawning consciousness that we need something more than religious activity. ... You can feel a stirring. It's coming ... not reformation, but restoration. It must come! ...

There will be a new day for the oil and wine of the gospel. The presence of the Holy Spirit and the “good news” of abundant grace of God are the power of the gospel. Revival is not spurious, jazzed-up religious activity... . God is about to have His say in this world—and He is going to start with His Church. (From Revivaltime Pulpit by C. M. Ward)

Application

Don't suffer alone. When you feel attacked or overwhelmed, tell God. Then, look to another friend or family member who will help carry you through.

Exploration

Restoration—Exodus 30:11–16; Numbers 5:5–8; Psalm 126:5–6; Matthew 8:2–3; 2 Corinthians 2:5–11.

A Cry for Help

A prayer of a person who is suffering when he is discouraged and tells the Lord his complaints.

Lord, listen to my prayer;
let my cry for help come to you.

<sup>2</sup>Do not hide from me in my time of trouble.

Pay attention to me.

When I cry for help, answer me quickly.

<sup>3</sup>My life is passing away like smoke, and my bones are burned up with fire.

<sup>4</sup>My heart is like grass that has been cut and dried.

I forget to eat.

<sup>5</sup>Because of my grief,
my skin hangs on my bones.

<sup>6</sup>I am like a desert owl, like an owl living among the ruins.

<sup>7</sup>I lie awake.

I am like a lonely bird on a housetop.

<sup>8</sup>All day long enemies insult me;
those who make fun of me use my name as a curse.

<sup>9</sup>I eat ashes for food,
and my tears fall into my drinks.

<sup>10</sup>Because of your great anger,

you have picked me up and thrown me away.
<sup>11</sup>My days are like a passing shadow;
I am like dried grass.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: A Good Shepherd Tends to His Sheep

Like the sheep, the rest of our wounds come just from living in the pasture. The pasture of the sheep, however, is much more appealing. The sheep have to face wounds from thorns and thistles. We have to face aging, loss, and illness. Some of us face betrayal and injustice. Live long enough in this world, and most of us will face deep, deep hurts of some kind or another.

So we, like the sheep, get wounded. And we, like the sheep, have a shepherd. Remember the words we read? “We belong to him; we are his people, the sheep he tends” (Psalm 100:3). He will do for you what the shepherd does for the sheep. He will tend to you.

If the Gospels teach us anything, they teach us that Jesus is a Good Shepherd. “I am the good shepherd,” Jesus announces. “The good shepherd gives his life for the sheep” (John 10:11).

Didn't Jesus spread the oil of prevention on his disciples? He prayed for them. He equipped them before he sent them out. He revealed to them the secrets of the parables. He interrupted their arguments and calmed their fears. Because he was a good shepherd, he protected them against disappointments.

Not only did Jesus prevent wounds, he healed them. He touched the eyes of the blind man. He touched the disease of the leper. He touched the body of the dead girl. Jesus tends to his sheep. He touched the searching heart of Nicodemus. He touched the open heart of Zacchaeus. He touched the broken heart of Mary Magdalene. He touched the confused heart of Cleopas. And he touched the stubborn heart of Paul and the repentant heart of Peter. Jesus tends to his sheep. And he will tend to you. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

and your fame goes on and on.

<sup>13</sup>You will come and have mercy on Jerusalem, because the time has now come to be kind to her;
the right time has come.

<sup>14</sup>Your servants love even her stones;
they even care about her dust.

<sup>15</sup>Nations will fear the name of the Lord,
and all the kings on earth will honor you.

<sup>16</sup>The Lord will rebuild Jerusalem;
there his glory will be seen.

<sup>17</sup>He will answer the prayers of the needy;
he will not reject their prayers.

<sup>18</sup>Write these things for the future so that people who are not yet born will praise the Lord.

<sup>19</sup>The Lord looked down from his holy place above;
from heaven he looked down at the earth.

<sup>20</sup>He heard the moans of the prisoners, and he freed those sentenced to die.

<sup>21</sup>The name of the Lord will be heard in Jerusalem;
his praise will be heard there.

<sup>22</sup>People will come together, and kingdoms will serve the Lord.

<sup>23</sup>God has made me tired of living;
he has cut short my life.

<sup>24</sup>So I said, “My God, do not take me in the middle of my life.

Your years go on and on.

<sup>25</sup>In the beginning you made the earth, and your hands made the skies.

<sup>26</sup>They will be destroyed, but you will remain.

They will all wear out like clothes.

And, like clothes, you will change them
and throw them away.

<sup>27</sup>But you never change,
and your life will never end.

<sup>28</sup>Our children will live in your presence, and their children will remain with you.”

Psalm 103:1-22

Situation

David urged everyone to praise God. He told of God's faithfulness and praised him.

Observation

The first few verses set the tone for this psalm. David urged the reader to avoid allowing God to become so commonplace that he forgot to praise him.

Inspiration

Abraham Lincoln once listened to the pleas of the mother of a soldier who'd been sentenced to hang for treason. She begged the President to grant a pardon. Lincoln agreed. Yet, he's reported to have left the lady with the following words: "Still, I wish we could teach him a lesson. I wish we could give him just a little bit of hangin'."

I think I know what the old railsplitter had in mind. Yesterday, I got a little bit of hangin'.

We were having Sunday lunch at the home of a fellow missionary family. It was after the meal... Their three-year-old daughter Beth Ann was playing with our two-year-old Jenna in the front yard. All of a sudden Beth Ann rushed in with a look of panic on her face. "Jenna is in the pool!"

Paul was the first to arrive at the poolside ... [and] lifted her up out of the water to the extended hands of her mother. Jenna was simultaneously choking, crying, and coughing. She vomited a bellyful of water.

I held her as she cried. Denalyn began to weep. I began to sweat.

For the rest of the day I couldn't hold her enough, nor could we thank Beth Ann enough... I still can't thank God enough.

It was a little bit of hangin'... Because of it, I came face to face with one of the underground's slyest agents—the agent of familiarity...

To say that this agent of familiarity breeds contempt is to let him off easy. Contempt is just one of his offspring. He also sires broken hearts, wasted hours, and an insatiable desire for more... He won't take your children, he'll just make you too busy to notice them. His whispers to procrastinate are seductive. There is always next summer to coach the team, next month to go to the lake, and next week to teach Johnny how to pray. He'll make you forget that the faces around your table will soon be at tables of their own. Hence, books will go unread, games will go unplayed, hearts will go unnurtured, and opportunities will go ignored. All because the poison of the ordinary has deadened your senses to the magic of the moment...

On a shelf above my desk is a picture of two little girls. They're holding hands and standing in front of a swimming pool, the same pool from which the younger of the two had been pulled only minutes before. I put the picture where I would see it daily so I would remember what God doesn't want me to forget.

And you can bet this time I'm going to remember. I don't want any more hangin'. Not even a little bit.

(From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

Praise to the Lord of Love

Of David.

My whole being, praise the Lord;
all my being, praise his holy name.

<sup>2</sup>My whole being, praise the Lord and do not forget all his kindnesses.

<sup>3</sup>He forgives all my sins and heals all my diseases.

<sup>4</sup>He saves my life from the grave and loads me with love and mercy.

<sup>5</sup>He satisfies me with good things and makes me young again, like the eagle.

<sup>6</sup>The Lord does what is right and fair for all who are wronged by others.

<sup>7</sup>He showed his ways to Moses and his deeds to the people of Israel.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord shows mercy and is kind.

He does not become angry quickly, and he has great love.

<sup>9</sup>He will not always accuse us,
and he will not be angry forever.

<sup>10</sup>He has not punished us as our sins should be punished;

he has not repaid us for the evil we have done.

<sup>11</sup>As high as the sky is above the earth,
so great is his love for those who respect him.

<sup>12</sup>He has taken our sins away from us as far as the east is from west.

<sup>13</sup>The Lord has mercy on those who respect him, as a father has mercy on his children.

<sup>14</sup>He knows how we were made;
he remembers that we are dust.

<sup>15</sup>Human life is like grass;
we grow like a flower in the field.

<sup>16</sup>After the wind blows, the flower is gone, and there is no sign of where it was.

<sup>17</sup>But the Lord's love for those who respect him continues forever and ever,
and his goodness continues to their grandchildren

<sup>18</sup>and to those who keep his agreement and who remember to obey his orders.

<sup>19</sup>The Lord has set his throne in heaven, and his kingdom rules over everything.

<sup>20</sup>You who are his angels, praise the Lord.
You are the mighty warriors who do what he says and who obey his voice.

<sup>21</sup>You, his armies, praise the Lord;
you are his servants who do what he wants.

<sup>22</sup>Everything the Lord has made should praise him in all the places he rules.
My whole being, praise the Lord.

Psalm 104:1-35

Situation

This anonymous songwriter appreciated God's creation. God created and sustains the universe.

Observation

The universe bears witness to God's majesty, splendor, and lordship.

Inspiration

Nature is God's workshop. The sky is his resume. The universe is his calling card. You want to know who God is? See what he has done. You want to know his power? Take a look at his creation. Curious about his strength? Pay a visit to his home address: 1 Billion Starry Sky Avenue. Want to know his size? Step out into the night and stare at starlight emitted one million years ago and then read 2 Chronicles 2:6, "No one can really build a house for our God. Not even the highest of heavens can hold him."

He is untainted by the atmosphere of sin, unbridled by the time line of history, unhindered by the weariness of the body.

What controls you doesn't control him. What troubles you doesn't trouble him. What fatigues you doesn't fatigue him. Is an eagle disturbed by traffic? No, he rises above it. Is the whale perturbed by a hurricane? Of course not, he plunges beneath it. Is the lion flustered by the mouse standing directly in his way? No, he steps over it.

How much more is God able to soar above, plunge beneath, and step over the troubles of the earth! “This is something people cannot do, but God can do all things” (Matthew 19:26). (From The Great House of God by Max Lucado)

Application

Take a walk in the park. Gaze out the window at the clouds. Get away from the noise and listen to the sounds of nature. As you enjoy the beauty of creation, thank and praise God for his handiwork.

Praise to God Who Made the World

My whole being, praise the Lord.

Lord my God, you are very great.

You are clothed with glory and majesty;

<sup>2</sup>you wear light like a robe.

You stretch out the skies like a tent.

<sup>3</sup>You build your room above the clouds.

You make the clouds your chariot,
and you ride on the wings of the wind.

<sup>4</sup>You make the winds your messengers, and flames of fire are your servants.

<sup>5</sup>You built the earth on its foundations so it can never be moved.

<sup>6</sup>You covered the earth with oceans;
the water was above the mountains.

<sup>7</sup>But at your command, the water rushed away.
When you thundered your orders, it hurried away.

The water went to the places you made for it.

<sup>9</sup>You set borders for the seas that they cannot cross,
so water will never cover the earth again.

<sup>10</sup>You make springs pour into the ravines;
they flow between the mountains.

<sup>11</sup>They water all the wild animals;

the wild donkeys come there to drink.

<sup>12</sup>Wild birds make nests by the water;
they sing among the tree branches.

<sup>13</sup>You water the mountains from above.
The earth is full of the things you made.

<sup>14</sup>You make the grass for cattle and vegetables for the people.
You make food grow from the earth.

<sup>15</sup>You give us wine that makes happy hearts and olive oil that makes our faces shine.
You give us bread that gives us strength.

<sup>16</sup>The Lord's trees have plenty of water;
they are the cedars of Lebanon, which he planted.

<sup>17</sup>The birds make their nests there;
the stork's home is in the fir trees.

<sup>18</sup>The high mountains belong to the wild goats.
The rocks are hiding places for the badgers.

<sup>19</sup>You made the moon to mark the seasons, and the sun always knows when to set.

<sup>20</sup>You make it dark, and it becomes night.
Then all the wild animals creep around.

<sup>21</sup>The lions roar as they attack.
They look to God for food.

<sup>22</sup>When the sun rises, they leave and go back to their dens to lie down.

<sup>23</sup>Then people go to work
and work until evening.

<sup>24</sup>Lord, you have made many things;
with your wisdom you made them all.

The earth is full of your riches.

<sup>25</sup>Look at the sea, so big and wide, with creatures large and small that cannot be counted.

<sup>26</sup>Ships travel over the ocean,
and there is the sea monster Leviathan,
which you made to play there.

<sup>27</sup>All these things depend on you to give them their food at the right time.

<sup>28</sup>When you give it to them,
they gather it up.

When you open your hand,
they are filled with good food.

<sup>29</sup>When you turn away from them,
they become frightened.

When you take away their breath,
they die and turn to dust.

<sup>30</sup>When you breathe on them,
they are created,
and you make the land new again.

<sup>31</sup>May the glory of the Lord be forever.

May the Lord enjoy what he has made.

<sup>32</sup>He just looks at the earth, and it shakes.
He touches the mountains, and they smoke.

<sup>33</sup>I will sing to the Lord all my life;
I will sing praises to my God as long as I live.

<sup>34</sup>May my thoughts please him;
I am happy in the Lord.

<sup>35</sup>Let sinners be destroyed from the earth, and let the wicked live no longer.

My whole being, praise the Lord.
Praise the Lord.

Life Lessons

Psalm 105:1–45

Situation

David reminded the people of God’s mighty deeds. God’s past miracles encouraged Believers to remain loyal to him.

Observation

By recounting God’s work in history, Christians can be encouraged to praise God—because he is trustworthy.

Inspiration

“In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth.” It doesn’t say, “God made the heavens and the earth.” Nor does it say that he “Xeroxed” the heavens and the earth. Or “built” or “developed” or “mass-produced.” No, the word is “created.”

And that one word says a lot. Creating is something far different than constructing. The difference is pretty obvious. Constructing something engages only the hands while creating engages the heart and the soul...

Now, imagine God’s creativity. Of all we don’t know about the creation, there is one thing we do know—he did it with a smile. He must’ve had a blast. Painting the stripes on the zebra, hanging the stars in the sky, putting the gold in the sunset. What creativity! Stretching the neck of the giraffe, putting the flutter in the mockingbird’s wings, planting the giggle in the hyena.

What a time he had. Like a whistling carpenter in his workshop, he loved every bit of it. He poured himself into the work...

And then, as a finale to a brilliant performance, he made man. With his typical creative flair, he began with a useless mound of dirt and ended up with an invaluable species called a human. A human who had the unique honor to bear the stamp, "in His Image."

At this point in the story one would be tempted to jump and clap. "Bravo!" "Encore!" "Unmatchable!" "Beautiful!"

But the applause would be premature. The Divine Artist has yet to unveil his greatest creation.

As the story unfolds, a devil of a snake feeds man a line and an apple, and gullible Adam swallows them both. This one act of rebellion sets in motion a dramatic and erratic courtship between God and man. Though the characters and scenes change, the scenario repeats itself endlessly. God, still the compassionate Creator, woos his creation. Man, the creation, alternately reaches out in repentance and runs in rebellion.

It is within this simple script that God's creativity flourishes. If you thought he was imaginative with the sea and stars, just wait until you read what he does to get his creation to listen to him!

For example:

A ninety-year-old woman gets pregnant.

Another woman turns to salt.

A flood blankets the earth.

A bush burns (but doesn't burn up!)

The Red Sea splits in two.
The walls of Jericho fall.
The sky rains fire.
A donkey talks.

You talk about special effects! But these acts, be they very ingenious, still couldn't compare with what was to come.

Nearing the climax of the story, God, motivated by love and directed by divinity, surprised everyone. He became a man. In an untouchable mystery, he disguised himself as a carpenter and lived in a dusty Judean village. Determined to prove his love for his creation, he walked incognito through his own world. His callused hands touched wounds and his compassionate tongue touched hearts. He became one of us. (From No Wonder They Call Him the Savior by Max Lucado)

Application

Take a blank piece of paper and write "God is faithful" at the top. Then write as many instances as you can remember that show God's faithfulness to you. Use biblical examples and personal experiences. Don't stop until your page is full. Praise God for his faithfulness to you!

Exploration

God's Love for Israel

Give thanks to the Lord and pray to him.

Tell the nations what he has done.

Tell about all his miracles.

<sup>3</sup>Be glad that you are his;

let those who seek the Lord be happy.

always go to him for help.

<sup>5</sup>Remember the miracles he has done;
remember his wonders and his decisions.

the children of Jacob, his chosen people.

<sup>7</sup>He is the Lord our God.

His laws are for all the world.

<sup>8</sup>He will keep his agreement forever;

he will keep his promises always.

<sup>9</sup>He will keep the agreement he made with Abraham
and the promise he made to Isaac.

<sup>10</sup>He made it a law for the people of Jacob;

he made it an agreement with Israel to last forever.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord said, "I will give you the land of Canaan, and it will belong to you."

<sup>12</sup>Then God's people were few in number.

They were strangers in the land.

from one kingdom to another.

<sup>14</sup>But the Lord did not let anyone hurt them;
he warned kings not to harm them.

<sup>15</sup>He said, “Don’t touch my chosen people,
and don’t harm my prophets.”

<sup>16</sup>God ordered a time of hunger in the land, and he destroyed all the food.

<sup>17</sup>Then he sent a man ahead of them—
Joseph, who was sold as a slave.

<sup>18</sup>They put chains around his feet and an iron ring around his neck.

<sup>19</sup>Then the time he had spoken of came,
and the Lord’s words proved that Joseph was right.

<sup>20</sup>The king of Egypt sent for Joseph and freed him;
the ruler of the people set him free.

<sup>21</sup>He made him the master of his house;
Joseph was in charge of his riches.

<sup>22</sup>He could order the princes as he wished.
He taught the older men to be wise.

<sup>23</sup>Then his father Israel came to Egypt;
Jacob lived in Egypt.

<sup>24</sup>The Lord made his people grow in number,
and he made them stronger than their enemies.

<sup>25</sup>He caused the Egyptians to hate his people and to make plans against his servants.

<sup>26</sup>Then he sent his servant Moses, and Aaron, whom he had chosen.

<sup>27</sup>They did many signs among the Egyptians and worked wonders in Egypt.

<sup>28</sup>The Lord sent darkness and made the land dark, but the Egyptians turned against what he said.

<sup>29</sup>So he changed their water into blood and made their fish die.

<sup>30</sup>Then their country was filled with frogs, even in the bedrooms of their rulers.

<sup>31</sup>The Lord spoke and flies came, and gnats were everywhere in the country.

<sup>35</sup>They ate all the plants in the land and everything the earth produced.

<sup>36</sup>The Lord also killed all the firstborn sons in the land, the oldest son of each family.

<sup>41</sup>God split the rock, and water flowed out;
it ran like a river through the desert.

<sup>42</sup>He remembered his holy promise to his servant Abraham.

<sup>43</sup>So God brought his people out with joy, his chosen ones with singing.

<sup>44</sup>He gave them lands of other nations, so they received what others had worked for.

<sup>45</sup>This was so they would keep his orders and obey his teachings.

Praise the Lord!

Life Lessons

Psalm 106:1–48

Situation

Israel's rebellion and Divine patience. This common theme in the Old Testament is detailed in Psalm 106.

Observation

Because God forgives us, we can rejoice and sing about it.

Inspiration

Imagine the exhilaration of a former resident of death row who has just been pardoned by the governor. Condemned to death, he has been forgiven by the state and is released. Instead of waiting execution, he is free to leave and to live. He has been turned from death to life!

Sin drives a wedge in our relationship with God. Our disobedience breaks fellowship and scars our souls. And we sinners stand guilty, awaiting our deserved punishment. Like condemned murderers, we know that the just sentence is death.

But we can be pardoned, forgiven, set free. That's why David exclaims enthusiastically that we are blessed.

If you have given your life to Christ and are trusting in him alone for salvation, your transgressions are forgiven, your sins are covered by his blood. Thank God for his love and justice, and rejoice in your freedom. (From On Eagle's Wings by Dave Veerman)

Application

Confess your sins to God. Accept his forgiveness through Jesus Christ. Respond to his mercy with heart-filled praise. Find a new way to worship God by singing a song or writing a poem.

Exploration

God's Forgiveness—Psalm 78:38; 103:3; Isaiah 43:25; Joel 2:13; Micah 7:18-19; Ephesians 1:7; Colossians 1:13-14; 1 John 1:9.

Israel's Failure to Trust God

Praise the Lord!

Thank the Lord because he is good.

His love continues forever.

<sup>2</sup>No one can tell all the mighty things the Lord has done;

no one can speak all his praise.

<sup>3</sup>Happy are those who do right,
who do what is fair at all times.

<sup>4</sup>Lord, remember me when you are kind to your people;
help me when you save them.

<sup>5</sup>Let me see the good things you do for your chosen people.

Let me be happy along with your happy nation;
let me join your own people in praising you.

<sup>6</sup>We have sinned just as our ancestors did.
We have done wrong; we have done evil.

<sup>7</sup>Our ancestors in Egypt
did not learn from your miracles.

They did not remember all your kindnesses,
so they turned against you at the Red Sea.

<sup>8</sup>But the Lord saved them for his own sake, to show his great power.

<sup>9</sup>He commanded the Red Sea, and it dried up.

He led them through the deep sea as if it were a desert.

<sup>10</sup>He saved them from those who hated them.
He saved them from their enemies,

<sup>11</sup>and the water covered their foes.
Not one of them escaped.

<sup>12</sup>Then the people believed what the Lord said,
and they sang praises to him.

<sup>13</sup>But they quickly forgot what he had done;
they did not wait for his advice.

<sup>14</sup>They became greedy for food in the desert, and they tested God there.

<sup>15</sup>So he gave them what they wanted,
but he also sent a terrible disease among them.

<sup>16</sup>The people in the camp were jealous of Moses and of Aaron, the holy priest of the Lord.

<sup>17</sup>Then the ground opened up and swallowed Dathan and closed over Abiram's group.

<sup>18</sup>A fire burned among their followers,
and flames burned up the wicked.

<sup>19</sup>The people made a gold calf at Mount Sinai and worshiped a metal statue.

<sup>20</sup>They exchanged their glorious God
for a statue of a bull that eats grass.

<sup>21</sup>They forgot the God who saved them, who had done great things in Egypt,

<sup>22</sup>who had done miracles in Egypt and amazing things by the Red Sea.

<sup>23</sup>So God said he would destroy them.
But Moses, his chosen one, stood before him and stopped God's anger from destroying them.

<sup>24</sup>Then they refused to go into the beautiful land of Canaan;

they did not believe what God promised.

<sup>25</sup>They grumbled in their tents and did not obey the Lord.

<sup>26</sup>So he swore to them that they would die in the desert.

<sup>27</sup>He said their children would be killed by other nations and that they would be scattered among other countries.

<sup>28</sup>They joined in worshiping Baal at Peor and ate meat that had been sacrificed to lifeless statues.

<sup>29</sup>They made the Lord angry by what they did, so many people became sick with a terrible disease.

<sup>30</sup>But Phinehas prayed to the Lord,
and the disease stopped.

<sup>31</sup>Phinehas did what was right, and it will be remembered from now on.

<sup>32</sup>The people also made the Lord angry at Meribah, and Moses was in trouble because of them.

<sup>33</sup>The people turned against the Spirit of God, so Moses spoke without stopping to think.

<sup>34</sup>The people did not destroy the other nations as the Lord had told them to do.

<sup>35</sup>Instead, they mixed with the other nations and learned their customs.

<sup>36</sup>They worshiped other nations' idols and were trapped by them.

<sup>37</sup>They even killed their sons and daughters as sacrifices to demons.

<sup>38</sup>They killed innocent people,
their own sons and daughters,
as sacrifices to the idols of Canaan.
So the land was made unholy by their blood.

<sup>39</sup>The people became unholy by their sins;
they were unfaithful to God in what they did.

<sup>40</sup>So the Lord became angry with his people and hated his own children.

<sup>41</sup>He handed them over to other nations and let their enemies rule over them.

<sup>42</sup>Their enemies were cruel to them and kept them under their power.

<sup>43</sup>The Lord saved his people many times,
but they continued to turn against him.
So they became even more wicked.

<sup>44</sup>But God saw their misery
when he heard their cry.

<sup>45</sup>He remembered his agreement with them, and he felt sorry for them because of his great love.

<sup>46</sup>He caused them to be pitied
by those who held them captive.

<sup>47</sup>Lord our God, save us and bring us back from other nations.

Then we will thank you
and will gladly praise you.
<sup>48</sup>Praise the Lord, the God of Israel.
He always was and always will be.
Let all the people say, "Amen!"
Praise the Lord!

Psalm 107:1–43

Situation

Wanderers, prisoners, sick and storm-tossed people all suffered but were saved when they called upon God. This psalm tells why people should give thanks and praise to their Savior and Deliverer.

Observation

God will rescue us from trials if we are faithful to ask him for help.

Inspiration

“If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.” How wonderful is this provision! God knows our weaknesses, and Christ’s death for our sins included the sins we commit in the new life, as well as those before we came to Him for our salvation.

... He is faithful, that is, He doesn’t break His promise. And His promise to His Son is that all who receive His Son as Savior become God’s children, adopted into His own family. When a child does wrong, he isn’t kicked out of the family, though he may be disciplined... . He is faithful to His promise to His Son and to us to forgive us when we sin.

... To be just is to be fair. Is it really fair of God to forgive us no matter what sins we have committed? Don’t we have to be good enough to be saved?

No, I hope this is very clear to you by now—no one is good enough to claim a right to heaven. Christ died for us to make us good in the sight of God. Because of what Christ did for us in dying on the cross and rising again from the dead, God has taken away all our guilt. The Scriptures declare, “As far as the east is from the west, so far has He removed our transgressions from us.”

Though we had no right whatever, Christ has made a road to heaven for us, and He takes us with Him right into the throne room of God, right into His holy presence. There Christ presents each of us to His Father as a new child of God, as Christ’s new brother or sister. God welcomes us with warmth and excitement and joy as new members of His family. (From Next Steps for New Christians by Kenneth Taylor)

Application

God Saves from Many Dangers

Thank the Lord because he is good.
His love continues forever.

<sup>2</sup>That is what those whom the Lord has saved should say.

He has saved them from the enemy <sup>3</sup>and has gathered them from other lands, from east and west, north and south.

<sup>4</sup>Some people had wandered in the desert lands.
They found no city in which to live.

<sup>5</sup>They were hungry and thirsty, and they were discouraged.

and he saved them from their troubles.

<sup>7</sup>He led them on a straight road to a city where they could live.

<sup>8</sup>Let them give thanks to the Lord for his love
and for the miracles he does for people.

<sup>9</sup>He satisfies the thirsty and fills up the hungry.

<sup>10</sup>Some sat in gloom and darkness;
they were prisoners suffering in chains.

<sup>11</sup>They had turned against the words of God and had refused the advice of God Most High.

<sup>12</sup>So he broke their pride by hard work.
They stumbled, and no one helped.

and he saved them from their troubles.

<sup>14</sup>He brought them out of their gloom and darkness and broke their chains.

<sup>15</sup>Let them give thanks to the Lord for his love
and for the miracles he does for people.

<sup>16</sup>He breaks down bronze gates and cuts apart iron bars.

<sup>17</sup>Some fools turned against God and suffered for the evil they did.

<sup>18</sup>They refused to eat anything,
so they almost died.

<sup>19</sup>In their misery they cried out to the Lord,
and he saved them from their troubles.

<sup>20</sup>God gave the command and healed them,
so they were saved from dying.

<sup>21</sup>Let them give thanks to the Lord for his love
and for the miracles he does for people.

<sup>22</sup>Let them offer sacrifices to thank him.
With joy they should tell what he has done.

<sup>23</sup>Others went out to sea in ships and did business on the great oceans.

the miracles he did in the deep oceans.

<sup>25</sup>He spoke, and a storm came up, which blew up high waves.

<sup>26</sup>The ships were tossed as high as the sky and fell low to the depths.

The storm was so bad that they lost their courage.

<sup>27</sup>They stumbled and fell like people who were drunk. They did not know what to do.

<sup>30</sup>They were happy that it was quiet, and God guided them to the port they wanted.

<sup>31</sup>Let them give thanks to the Lord for his love and for the miracles he does for people.

<sup>32</sup>Let them praise his greatness in the meeting of the people;
let them praise him in the meeting of the older leaders.

<sup>33</sup>He changed rivers into a desert and springs of water into dry ground.

<sup>34</sup>He made fertile land salty, because the people there did evil.

<sup>35</sup>He changed the desert into pools of water and dry ground into springs of water.

<sup>36</sup>He had the hungry settle there so they could build a city in which to live.

<sup>37</sup>They planted seeds in the fields and vineyards, and they had a good harvest.

<sup>38</sup>God blessed them, and they grew in number. Their cattle did not become fewer.

<sup>39</sup>Because of disaster, troubles, and sadness.

-----,
their families grew smaller and weaker.

<sup>40</sup>He showed he was displeased with their leaders and made them wander in a pathless desert.

<sup>41</sup>But he lifted the poor out of their suffering and made their families grow like flocks of sheep.

<sup>42</sup>Good people see this and are happy,
but the wicked say nothing.

<sup>43</sup>Whoever is wise will remember these things and will think about the love of the Lord.

Psalms 108:1–109:31

Situation

Psalm 57:7–11 and Psalm 60:5–12 were combined to form Psalm 108. David celebrated his victory. He knew that without God, he would have been defeated.

Observation

With God on our side, we can do more than we think possible. God provides victory. We ought to praise God in both victory and defeat.

Inspiration

Christians are to rejoice. To do that, you need only to think of the great things God has done for you. Then we are told not to be anxious, but in our prayers to make our requests known to God. In your biggest problems, you have One that you can go to; and before Him you can pour out your heart with the assurance that He will not leave you without an answer to that great problem. Then we are to fill our minds with those things that are good. They are mentioned in the Scriptures as being things that are true, honorable, just, pure, lovely, of good report, and of virtue. It is upon these things that we are to think. Live positively, not negatively. Once you learn that secret, God will have given you the victory. (From Day by Day with Billy Graham by Joan W. Brown)

Application

When were you worried last? When you received relief, did you praise God? Next time God gives you a victory, give him praise.

A Prayer for Victory

A song. A psalm of David.

God, my heart is steady.

I will sing and praise you with all my being.

I will wake up the dawn.

<sup>3</sup>Lord, I will praise you among the nations;

I will sing songs of praise about you to all the nations.

<sup>4</sup>Your great love reaches to the skies,

your truth to the heavens.

Let your glory be over all the earth.

<sup>6</sup>Answer us and save us by your power
so the people you love will be rescued.

<sup>7</sup>God has said from his Temple,

“When I win, I will divide Shechem
and measure off the Valley of Succoth.

Ephraim is like my helmet.

Judah holds my royal scepter.

<sup>9</sup>Moab is like my washbowl.

I throw my sandals at Edom.

I shout at Philistia.”

<sup>10</sup>Who will bring me to the strong-walled city?

Who will bring me to the strong, walled city:

Who will lead me to Edom?

<sup>11</sup>God, surely you have rejected us;
you do not go out with our armies.

<sup>12</sup>Help us fight the enemy.

Human help is useless,

<sup>13</sup>but we can win with God's help.

He will defeat our enemies.

A Prayer Against an Enemy

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

God, I praise you.

Do not be silent.

<sup>2</sup>Wicked people and liars have spoken against me;
they have told lies about me.

<sup>3</sup>They have said hateful things about me and attack me for no reason.

<sup>4</sup>They attacked me, even though I loved them and prayed for them.

<sup>5</sup>I was good to them, but they repay me with evil.
I loved them, but they hate me in return.

<sup>6</sup>They say about me, "Have an evil person work against him,

and let an accuser stand against him.

<sup>7</sup>When he is judged, let him be found guilty, and let even his prayers show his guilt.

<sup>8</sup>Let his life be cut short,
and let another man replace him as leader.

<sup>9</sup>Let his children become orphans and his wife a widow.

Let them be forced out of the ruins in which they live.

<sup>11</sup>Let the people to whom he owes money take everything he owns,

and let strangers steal everything he has worked for.

<sup>12</sup>Let no one show him love or have mercy on his orphaned children.

<sup>13</sup>Let all his descendants die and be forgotten by those who live after him.

<sup>14</sup>Lord, remember how wicked his ancestors were,
and don't let the sins of his mother be wiped out.

<sup>15</sup>Lord, always remember their sins.
Then make people forget about them completely.

<sup>16</sup>“He did not remember to be loving.
He hurt the poor, the needy, and those who were sad until they were nearly dead.

<sup>17</sup>He loved to put curses on others,
so let those same curses fall on him.
He did not like to bless others,
so do not let good things happen to him.

<sup>18</sup>He cursed others as often as he wore clothes.
Cursing others filled his body and his life,
like drinking water and using olive oil.

<sup>19</sup>So let curses cover him like clothes and wrap around him like a belt.”

<sup>20</sup>May the Lord do these things to those who accuse
me,
to those who speak evil against me.

<sup>21</sup>But you, Lord God, be kind to me so others will know you are good.
Because your love is good, save me.

<sup>22</sup>I am poor and helpless
and very sad.

<sup>23</sup>I am dying like an evening shadow;
I am shaken off like a locust.

<sup>24</sup>My knees are weak from hunger,
and I have grown thin.

<sup>25</sup>My enemies insult me;
they look at me and shake their heads.

<sup>26</sup>Lord my God, help me;
because you are loving, save me.

<sup>27</sup>Then they will know that your power has done this;
they will know that you have done it, Lord.

<sup>28</sup>They may curse me, but you bless me.
They may attack me, but they will be disgraced.
Then I, your servant, will be glad.

<sup>29</sup>Let those who accuse me be disgraced and covered with shame like a coat.

<sup>30</sup>I will thank the Lord very much;
I will praise him in front of many people.

<sup>31</sup>He defends the helpless and saves them from those who accuse them.

Psalms 110:1–112:10

Situation

Although the Jews lived near nations that worshiped idols, God reminded Israel to worship him only. God promised to send the Messiah, indicating that full deliverance was yet to come. Psalms 111 and 112 begin each phrase with a successive letter of the Hebrew alphabet.

Observation

Praise the true God! Reading Scripture helps us know God better. When we know him better, we are equipped to worship him more earnestly.

Inspiration

The apostle Paul points out in Romans 1 that everyone knows that there is a God. His existence is revealed in creation; creation demands a Creator, and design demands a Designer. And it is revealed in conscience; we all have an innate consciousness of right and wrong....

The heathen do not want to retain the true God in their knowledge. They know that belief in such a God would cramp their lifestyles. So they turn to idolatry. They make images of people, birds, animals, and snakes and then worship them. Since each successive image represents a downward step in the scale of creation, it follows that they feel less and less responsible to live clean lives. If their god is a snake, it doesn't really matter how they live. This explains the close link between idolatry and immorality. Idols made by human beings do not make moral demands on their worshipers. . . .

Belief determines behavior. That is why it is so important to have true views of God. The higher our thoughts of Him, the more our lives will be exalted, holy, and glorious. (From Alone in Majesty by William MacDonald)

Application

Who is God? Answer the question by making a list of God's attributes from these psalms. Circle three from your list. Over the next three days, reflect on one attribute each day. As the day goes by, discover how this reality about God affects you.

Exploration

Knowing God—Hosea 6:3; Matthew 22:29; John 4:24; 7:16–17; 8:31–32; Romans 1:21–25; Ephesians 4:14–15, 18; 2 Peter 3:18.

The Lord Appoints a King

A psalm of David.

The Lord said to my Lord, “Sit by me at my right side until I put your enemies under your control.”

<sup>2</sup>The Lord will enlarge your kingdom beyond Jerusalem,

and you will rule over your enemies.

<sup>3</sup>Your people will join you on your day of battle.
You have been dressed in holiness from birth;
you have the freshness of a child.

<sup>4</sup>The Lord has made a promise and will not change his mind.
He said, “You are a priest forever,
a priest like Melchizedek.”

When he becomes angry, he will crush kings.

<sup>6</sup>He will judge those nations, filling them with dead bodies;

he will defeat rulers all over the world.

Then he will be strengthened.

Praise the Lord's Goodness

Praise the Lord!

I will thank the Lord with all my heart
in the meeting of his good people.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord does great things;
those who enjoy them seek them.

<sup>3</sup>What he does is glorious and splendid,
and his goodness continues forever.

<sup>4</sup>His miracles are unforgettable.
The Lord is kind and merciful.

<sup>5</sup>He gives food to those who fear him.
He remembers his agreement forever.

<sup>6</sup>He has shown his people his power
when he gave them the lands of other nations.

<sup>7</sup>Everything he does is good and fair;
all his orders can be trusted.

<sup>8</sup>They will continue forever.
They were made true and right.

<sup>9</sup>He sets his people free.
He made his agreement everlasting.
He is holy and wonderful.

<sup>10</sup>Wisdom begins with respect for the Lord;
those who obey his orders have good understanding.
He should be praised forever.

Honest People Are Blessed

Praise the Lord!

Happy are those who respect the Lord,
who want what he commands.

<sup>2</sup>Their descendants will be powerful in the land;
the children of honest people will be blessed.

<sup>3</sup>Their houses will be full of wealth and riches,
and their goodness will continue forever.

<sup>4</sup>A light shines in the dark for honest people, for those who are merciful and kind and good.

<sup>5</sup>It is good to be merciful and generous.

Those who are fair in their business

<sup>6</sup>will never be defeated.

Good people will always be remembered.

<sup>7</sup>They won't be afraid of bad news;
their hearts are steady because they trust the Lord.

<sup>8</sup>They are confident and will not be afraid;
they will look down on their enemies.

The things they do are right and will continue forever.

They will be given great honor.

<sup>10</sup>The wicked will see this and become angry;
they will grind their teeth in anger and then disappear.
The wishes of the wicked will come to nothing.

Life Lessons

Psalms 113:1–115:18

Situation

The next six psalms were used during the Passover, the Feast of Tabernacles, and other traditional Jewish festivals.

Observation

Although the Israelites set aside one day a week to revere God, they used many scriptures to encourage them to have a thankful, loving attitude toward God.

Inspiration

I had no problem recognizing the command to worship. My problem was understanding and obeying... . For years—too many years—I was content to let my local church define “worship” for me, accepting worship as practiced by my adult role models.

The word was used almost exclusively to refer to our Sunday morning services, which seemed to mark the last day of the week—an afterthought—rather than the first. There was a specific time and a place for worship. It happened on Sundays, it happened from 11:0 A.M. to noon, and it happened in “the sanctuary.”

As time passed, I became vaguely uneasy. Surely there had to be more to it than I and my role models understood.

Eventually, God’s patient and quickening Spirit moved me from a vague and passive acknowledgment of worship to a proactive pilgrimage of discovery. I began to explore worship in the Bible and to mull over the writing of others who were on this same quest long before I was....

I saw that real worship is much more than a Sunday experience. First as an intellectual acknowledgment and then sinking eighteen inches down into my heart as a deep-seated experience: Worship occurs throughout the week in a variety of ways....

So what? Does it make any difference?

For an answer, look at the people around you. Unless you live in a Christian cocoon—and even there you are probably not exempt—you are surrounded by those for whom high times bring hedonism, low times bring languidness, and in-between times bring the blahs. Offend them, and whether they're on a high, a low, or an in-between, out comes profanity.

Now consider David, in the Old Testament. Whether he was on a high, a low, or an in-between, out came psalms! From boyhood to mature adult, it was the same.

While not ignoring his well-chronicled humanity, observe that worship permeated his life and overflowed from his heart, saturating his lifestyle. No wonder God considered him a man after His own heart (Acts 13:22)!

In return, God took this man whose lifestyle of worship separated him from the ordinary, run-of-the-mill lifestyles of those around him and gave him a significant, fulfilling leadership role in His plan for Israel. (From Lifestyle Worship by John Garmo)

Application

Learn to continually praise God. Praise God while you do dishes and while you drive your car. Fill everyday moments with praise.

Exploration

Unceasing Praise—Psalm 71:14; Romans 12:1; Colossians 3:17; 1 Thessalonians 5:16–18; Hebrews 13:15; Revelation 4:8.

Praise for the Lord's Kindness

Praise the Lord!

Praise him, you servants of the Lord;
praise the name of the Lord.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord's name should be praised
now and forever.

<sup>3</sup>The Lord's name should be praised from where the sun rises to where it sets.

<sup>4</sup>The Lord is supreme over all the nations;
his glory reaches to the skies.

<sup>5</sup>No one is like the Lord our God, who rules from heaven,

<sup>6</sup>who bends down to look at the skies and the earth.

<sup>7</sup>The Lord lifts the poor from the dirt and takes the helpless from the ashes.

<sup>8</sup>He seats them with princes,
the princes of his people.

<sup>9</sup>He gives children to the woman who has none and makes her a happy mother.

Praise the Lord!

God Brought Israel from Egypt

When the Israelites went out of Egypt,
the people of Jacob left that foreign country.

<sup>2</sup>Then Judah became God's holy place;
Israel became the land he ruled.

<sup>3</sup>The Red Sea looked and ran away;
the Jordan River turned back.

<sup>4</sup>The mountains danced like sheep and the hills like little lambs.

<sup>5</sup>Sea, why did you run away?
Jordan, why did you turn back?

<sup>6</sup>Mountains, why did you dance like sheep?
Hills, why did you dance like little lambs?

<sup>7</sup>Earth, shake with fear before the Lord,
before the God of Jacob.

<sup>8</sup>He turned a rock into a pool of water, a hard rock into a spring of water.

The One True God

It does not belong to us, Lord.
The glory belongs to you because of your love and loyalty.

<sup>2</sup>Why do the nations ask,
“Where is their God?”

He does what he pleases.

<sup>4</sup>Their idols are made of silver and gold,
the work of human hands.

<sup>5</sup>They have mouths, but they cannot speak.
They have eyes, but they cannot see.

<sup>6</sup>They have ears, but they cannot hear.
They have noses, but they cannot smell.

<sup>7</sup>They have hands, but they cannot feel.
They have feet, but they cannot walk.
No sounds come from their throats.

<sup>8</sup>People who make idols will be like them,
and so will those who trust them.

<sup>9</sup>Family of Israel, trust the Lord;
he is your helper and your protection.

<sup>10</sup>Family of Aaron, trust the Lord;
he is your helper and your protection.

<sup>11</sup>You who respect the Lord should trust him;
he is your helper and your protection.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord remembers us and will bless us.

He will bless the family of Israel;
he will bless the family of Aaron.

<sup>13</sup>The Lord will bless those who respect him, from the smallest to the greatest.

<sup>14</sup>May the Lord give you success, and may he give you and your children success.

<sup>15</sup>May you be blessed by the Lord,
who made heaven and earth.

<sup>16</sup>Heaven belongs to the Lord,
but he gave the earth to people.

<sup>17</sup>Dead people do not praise the Lord;
those in the grave are silent.

<sup>18</sup>But we will praise the Lord
now and forever.

Praise the Lord!

Psalms 116:1–117:2

Situation

After a close call with death, this unknown psalmist thanked God for answering his prayers and praised God for his deliverance.

Observation

Praise should be the natural result of answered prayer.

Inspiration

Worshiping in spirit is the opposite of worshiping in merely external ways. It is the opposite of empty formalism and traditionalism. Worshiping in truth is the opposite of worship based on an inadequate view of God. Worship must have heart and head. Worship must engage emotions and thought.

Truth without emotion produces dead orthodoxy and a church full (or half-full) of artificial admirers (like people who write generic anniversary cards for a living). On the other hand, emotion without truth produces empty frenzy and cultivates shallow people who refuse the discipline of rigorous thought. But true worship comes from people who are deeply emotional and who love deep and sound doctrine. Strong affections for God rooted in truth are the bone and marrow of biblical worship.

Perhaps we can tie things together with this picture: The fuel of worship is the truth of God, the furnace of worship is the spirit of man, and the heat of worship is the vital affections of reverence, contrition, trust, gratitude, and joy.

But there is something missing from this picture. There is furnace, fuel and heat, but no fire. The fuel of truth in the furnace of our spirit does not automatically produce the heat of worship. There must be ignition and fire. This is the Holy Spirit. . . .

Now we can complete our picture. The fuel of worship is a true vision of the greatness of God; the fire that makes the fuel burn white-hot is the quickening of the Holy Spirit; the furnace made alive and warm by the flame of the truth is our renewed spirit; and the resulting heat of our affections is powerful worship, pushing its way out in confessions, longings, acclamations, tears, songs, shouts, bowed heads, lifted hands and obedient lives. (From Desiring God by John Piper)

Application

Have you ever been in a desperate situation? Did you ever thank God for saving you? It is never too late. Thank him. If you are at a loss for words, read this psalm as your prayer to God.

Exploration

Thankfulness—2 Chronicles 7:3; Psalm 8:2; 30:11–12; 107:31–32; Luke 17:15–16; 1 Corinthians 15:56–57; 2 Corinthians 1:10–11; Ephesians 5:19–20.

Thanksgiving for Escaping Death

I love the Lord,
because he listens to my prayers for help.
<sup>2</sup>He paid attention to me,
so I will call to him for help as long as I live.
<sup>3</sup>The ropes of death bound me,
and the fear of the grave took hold of me.
I was troubled and sad.
<sup>4</sup>Then I called out the name of the Lord.
I said, "Please, Lord, save me!"

<sup>5</sup>The Lord is kind and does what is right;
our God is merciful.
<sup>6</sup>The Lord watches over the foolish;
when I was helpless, he saved me.
<sup>7</sup>I said to myself, "Relax, because the Lord takes care of you."
<sup>8</sup>Lord, you saved me from death.
You stopped my eyes from crying;
you kept me from being defeated.
<sup>9</sup>So I will walk with the Lord in the land of the living.
<sup>10</sup>I believed, so I said,
"I am completely ruined."
<sup>11</sup>In my distress I said,
"All people are liars."

<sup>12</sup>What can I give the Lord for all the good things he has given to me?

<sup>13</sup>I will lift up the cup of salvation,
and I will pray to the Lord.

<sup>14</sup>I will give the Lord what I promised
in front of all his people.

<sup>15</sup>The death of one that belongs to the Lord is precious in his sight.

<sup>16</sup>Lord, I am your servant;
I am your servant and the son of your female servant.
You have freed me from my chains.

<sup>17</sup>I will give you an offering to show thanks to you,
and I will pray to the Lord.

<sup>18</sup>I will give the Lord what I promised
in front of all his people,

<sup>19</sup>in the Temple courtyards in Jerusalem.

Praise the Lord!

A Hymn of Praise

All you nations, praise the Lord.
All you people, praise him <sup>2</sup>because the Lord loves us very much,
and his truth is everlasting.
Praise the Lord!

Life Lessons

Psalm 118:1-29

Situation

The psalmist understood that in the midst of calamity, God was with him. God promised to guard and cherish his people forever.

Observation

We can live in assurance and calm. Despite troubles around us, if we love and trust God, he will be with us. We have nothing to fear if we put our trust in our Guardian.

Inspiration

We have the assurance that in the storms of life today, Jesus Himself will be standing just outside the door waiting to be invited in. He is waiting to share a meal with us, waiting to share our sorrows, to renew our courage, to come in and talk intimately.

We are not alone. We never shall be. He has to be there; all we need do is open the door to Him. What is your need today? Do you need comfort in your personal trials? Christ is waiting. Do you need forgiveness for your sins? He is knocking. Do you need to make a new commitment to serve God with your life? Whatever your spiritual need, right now Christ is knocking at the door of your heart. He is Lord of the universe, and He wants to be Lord of your life as well. (From Storm Warning by Billy Graham)

Application

What will you depend on today for your needs?

Although you may be tempted to trust earthly means more than God, have more confidence in God than anything else.

Exploration

Assurance—Psalm 46:1–3; Isaiah 43:1–7; Jeremiah 1:6–8; 1 Corinthians 2:4.

Thanksgiving for Victory

Thank the Lord because he is good.
His love continues forever.

<sup>2</sup>Let the people of Israel say,

<sup>3</sup>Let the family of Aaron say,

<sup>4</sup>Let those who respect the Lord say,
“His love continues forever.”

<sup>5</sup>I was in trouble, so I called to the Lord.
The Lord answered me and set me free.

<sup>6</sup>I will not be afraid, because the Lord is with me.
People can't do anything to me.

<sup>7</sup>The Lord is with me to help me,
so I will see my enemies defeated.

<sup>8</sup>It is better to trust the Lord
than to trust people.

<sup>9</sup>It is better to trust the Lord
than to trust princes.

<sup>10</sup>All the nations surrounded me,
but I defeated them in the name of the Lord.

<sup>11</sup>They surrounded me on every side,
but with the Lord's power I defeated them.

<sup>12</sup>They surrounded me like a swarm of bees,

but they died as quickly as thorns burn.
By the Lord's power, I defeated them.

<sup>13</sup>They chased me until I was almost defeated, but the Lord helped me.

<sup>14</sup>The Lord gives me strength and a song.
He has saved me.

<sup>15</sup>Shouts of joy and victory come from the tents of those who do right:
"The Lord has done powerful things."

<sup>16</sup>The power of the Lord has won the victory;
with his power the Lord has done mighty things.

<sup>17</sup>I will not die, but live,
and I will tell what the Lord has done.

<sup>18</sup>The Lord has taught me a hard lesson,
but he did not let me die.

Then I will come in and thank the Lord.

only those who are good may enter through it.

<sup>21</sup>Lord, I thank you for answering me.
You have saved me.

<sup>22</sup>The stone that the builders rejected became the cornerstone.

<sup>23</sup>The Lord did this,
and it is wonderful to us.

<sup>24</sup>This is the day that the Lord has made.
Let us rejoice and be glad today!

<sup>23</sup>Please, Lord, save us;
please, Lord, give us success.

<sup>26</sup>God bless the one who comes in the name of the Lord.

We bless all of you from the Temple of the Lord.

<sup>27</sup>The Lord is God,
and he has shown kindness to us.
With branches in your hands, join the feast.
Come to the corners of the altar.

<sup>28</sup>You are my God, and I will thank you;
you are my God, and I will praise your greatness.

<sup>29</sup>Thank the Lord because he is good.
His love continues forever.

Life Lessons

Psalm 119:1-176

Situation

This testimony exalted the Word of God—the complete and perfect standard of truth, values, reality, and behavior.

Observation

God's Word is wholly sufficient for godly living. By grasping its powerful message, God's children can be pure.

Inspiration

We need sound doctrine. The Spirit of holiness is also the Spirit of truth. Truth and righteousness go together....

Why? Why is sound doctrine necessary for sanctification? For real sanctification to occur in the Christian life at least three absolute changes are necessary. There must be a change in our consciousness. There must be a change in our convictions. There must be a change in our conscience. Consciousness, conviction, and conscience—these three are all vital to our sanctification.

Consciousness involves knowledge. Before we can willfully do what God commands and what pleases Him, we must first understand what it is that God requires. From the law comes a knowledge of sin. Also from the law comes a knowledge of righteousness.

A person could “accidentally” obey the law without doing so consciously. But such an action would have no moral virtue to it. Suppose a man enjoys driving his car at fifty miles an hour. It pleases him to ride at that rate of speed. He drives his car at fifty miles an hour in fifty-five-mile-per-hour zones and in fifteen-mile-per-hour zones. When he drives in the fifty-five-mile-per-hour zone, he is within the speed limit. He is obeying the law. But when he goes fifty in a fifteen-mile-per-hour-zone, he is a menace to those around him.

Suppose our mythical driver systematically refuses to look at speed limit signs. He averts his gaze from any sign that even appears to mark a speed limit. He keeps himself purposely unconscious of speed limits. At times he “happens” to obey the law, but purely by coincidence. If the man wants to achieve moral virtue as a driver and always drive within the speed limit, he must first become aware, he must become conscious of the law.

But consciousness is not enough. We all have seen people who are quite conscious of the speed limits while they are violating them. We don’t have to look beyond ourselves to discover the culprits. For our behavior to change we must move beyond consciousness to conviction.

Conviction is a matter of depth and intensity. It is one thing to be aware that a certain action is right. It is another to have a conviction about it. It is a lot easier for us to compromise our knowledge than to act against convictions. A conviction is knowledge that is settled. It has a firm hold on us. It goes beyond our brains and penetrates the conscience.

Our conscience acts as a kind of governor upon our behavior. It is the inner voice that either accuses or excuses us. It monitors our behavior by way of approval or disapproval. The problem is that our conscience doesn't always tell us the truth. We are adept at training it in the direction of self-approval...

For the conscience to function in a godly way it must be influenced by godly convictions. To gain godly consciences, our consciousness of what is right and what is wrong must be sharpened. This involves the mind. It is a matter of doctrine. (From Pleasing God by R. C. Sproul)

The Word of God

Happy are those who live pure lives, who follow the Lord's teachings.

<sup>2</sup>Happy are those who keep his rules,
who try to obey him with their whole heart.

<sup>3</sup>They don't do what is wrong;
they follow his ways.

<sup>4</sup>Lord, you gave your orders to be obeyed completely.

<sup>5</sup>I wish I were more loyal in obeying your demands.

<sup>6</sup>Then I would not be ashamed
when I study your commands.

<sup>7</sup>When I learned that your laws are fair,
I praised you with an honest heart.

<sup>8</sup>I will obey your demands,
so please don't ever leave me.

<sup>9</sup>How can a young person live a pure life?
By obeying your word.

<sup>10</sup>With all my heart I try to obey you.
Don't let me break your commands.

<sup>11</sup>I have taken your words to heart

so I would not sin against you.

<sup>12</sup>Lord, you should be praised.

Teach me your demands.

<sup>13</sup>My lips will tell about all the laws you have spoken.

<sup>14</sup>I enjoy living by your rules
as people enjoy great riches.

<sup>15</sup>I think about your orders and study your ways.

<sup>16</sup>I enjoy obeying your demands,
and I will not forget your word.

<sup>17</sup>Do good to me, your servant, so I can live, so I can obey your word.

<sup>18</sup>Open my eyes to see the miracles in your teachings.

<sup>19</sup>I am a stranger on earth.
Do not hide your commands from me.

<sup>20</sup>I wear myself out with desire for your laws all the time.

<sup>21</sup>You scold proud people;
those who ignore your commands are cursed.

<sup>22</sup>Don't let me be insulted and hated because I keep your rules.

<sup>23</sup>Even if princes speak against me,
I, your servant, will think about your demands.

<sup>24</sup>Your rules give me pleasure;
they give me good advice.

Give me life, as you have promised.

<sup>26</sup>I told you about my life, and you answered me.

Teach me your demands.

<sup>27</sup>Help me understand your orders.

Then I will think about your miracles.

<sup>28</sup>I am sad and tired.

Make me strong again as you have promised.

<sup>29</sup>Don't let me be dishonest;

have mercy on me by helping me obey your teachings.

<sup>30</sup>I have chosen the way of truth;

I have obeyed your laws.

<sup>31</sup>I hold on to your rules.

Lord, do not let me be disgraced.

<sup>32</sup>I will quickly obey your commands, because you have made me happy.

<sup>33</sup>Lord, teach me your demands,

and I will keep them until the end.

<sup>34</sup>Help me understand, so I can keep your teachings, obeying them with all my heart.

<sup>35</sup>Lead me in the path of your commands, because that makes me happy.

<sup>36</sup>Make me want to keep your rules

instead of wishing for riches.

<sup>37</sup>Keep me from looking at worthless things.

Let me live by your word.

<sup>38</sup>Keep your promise to me, your servant,

so you will be respected.

<sup>39</sup>Take away the shame I fear,

because your laws are good.

<sup>40</sup>How I want to follow your orders.
Give me life because of your goodness.

<sup>41</sup>Lord, show me your love, and save me as you have promised.

<sup>42</sup>I have an answer for people who insult me, because I trust what you say.

<sup>43</sup>Never keep me from speaking your truth, because I depend on your fair laws.

<sup>44</sup>I will obey your teachings
forever and ever.

<sup>45</sup>So I will live in freedom, because I want to follow your orders.

<sup>46</sup>I will discuss your rules with kings and will not be ashamed.

<sup>47</sup>I enjoy obeying your commands, which I love.

<sup>48</sup>I praise your commands, which I love, and I think about your demands.

<sup>49</sup>Remember your promise to me, your servant;
it gives me hope.

<sup>50</sup>When I suffer, this comforts me:
Your promise gives me life.

<sup>51</sup>Proud people always make fun of me, but I do not reject your teachings.

<sup>52</sup>I remember your laws from long ago,
and they comfort me, Lord.

<sup>53</sup>I become angry with wicked people who do not keep your teachings.

<sup>54</sup>I sing about your demands wherever I live.

<sup>55</sup>Lord, I remember you at night, and I will obey your teachings.

I follow your orders.

<sup>57</sup>Lord, you are my share in life;
I have promised to obey your words.

<sup>58</sup>I prayed to you with all my heart.
Have mercy on me as you have promised.

<sup>59</sup>I thought about my life,
and I decided to follow your rules.

<sup>60</sup>I hurried and did not wait to obey your commands.

<sup>61</sup>Wicked people have tied me up,
but I have not forgotten your teachings.

<sup>62</sup>In the middle of the night, I get up to thank you because your laws are right.

<sup>63</sup>I am a friend to everyone who fears you,
to anyone who obeys your orders.

<sup>64</sup>Lord, your love fills the earth.
Teach me your demands.

<sup>65</sup>You have done good things for your servant,
as you have promised, Lord.

<sup>66</sup>Teach me wisdom and knowledge
because I trust your commands.

<sup>67</sup>Before I suffered, I did wrong,
but now I obey your word.

<sup>68</sup>You are good, and you do what is good.
Teach me your demands.

<sup>69</sup>Proud people have made up lies about me,
but I will follow your orders with all my heart.

<sup>70</sup>Those people have no feelings,
but I love your teachings.

<sup>71</sup>It was good for me to suffer
so I would learn your demands.

<sup>72</sup>Your teachings are worth more to me than thousands of pieces of gold and silver.

<sup>73</sup>You made me and formed me with your hands.
Give me understanding so I can learn your commands.

<sup>74</sup>Let those who respect you rejoice when they see me, because I put my hope in your word.

<sup>75</sup>Lord, I know that your laws are right and that it was right for you to punish me.

<sup>76</sup>Comfort me with your love,
as you promised me, your servant.

<sup>77</sup>Have mercy on me so that I may live.
I love your teachings.

<sup>78</sup>Make proud people ashamed because they lied about
me.

But I will think about your orders.

<sup>79</sup>Let those who respect you return to me,
those who know your rules.

<sup>80</sup>Let me obey your demands perfectly
so I will not be ashamed.

<sup>81</sup>I am weak from waiting for you to save me, but I hope in your word.

<sup>82</sup>My eyes are tired from looking for your promise.

When will you comfort me?

<sup>83</sup>Even though I am like a wine bag going up in smoke,
I do not forget your demands.

<sup>84</sup>How long will I live?

When will you judge those who are hurting me?

<sup>85</sup>Proud people have dug pits to trap me.

They have nothing to do with your teachings.

<sup>86</sup>All of your commands can be trusted.

Liars are hurting me. Help me!

<sup>87</sup>They have almost put me in the grave, but I have not rejected your orders.

<sup>88</sup>Give me life by your love
so I can obey your rules.

<sup>89</sup>Lord, your word is everlasting;

it continues forever in heaven.

<sup>90</sup>Your loyalty will go on and on;
you made the earth, and it still stands.

<sup>91</sup>All things continue to this day because of your laws, because all things serve you.

<sup>92</sup>If I had not loved your teachings,
I would have died from my sufferings.

<sup>93</sup>I will never forget your orders, because you have given me life by them.

<sup>94</sup>I am yours. Save me.

I want to obey your orders.

<sup>95</sup>Wicked people are waiting to destroy me, but I will think about your rules.

<sup>96</sup>Everything I see has its limits,
but your commands have none.

I think about them all day long.

<sup>98</sup>Your commands make me wiser than my enemies, because they are mine forever.

<sup>99</sup>I am wiser than all my teachers, because I think about your rules.

<sup>100</sup>I have more understanding than the older leaders, because I follow your orders.

<sup>101</sup>I have avoided every evil way
so I could obey your word.

<sup>102</sup>I haven't walked away from your laws, because you yourself are my teacher.

<sup>103</sup>Your promises are sweet to me, sweeter than honey in my mouth!

<sup>104</sup>Your orders give me understanding,
so I hate lying ways.

<sup>105</sup>Your word is like a lamp for my feet and a light for my path.

<sup>106</sup>I will do what I have promised and obey your fair laws.

<sup>107</sup>I have suffered for a long time.
Lord, give me life by your word.

<sup>108</sup>Lord, accept my willing praise and teach me your laws.

<sup>109</sup>My life is always in danger,
but I haven't forgotten your teachings.

<sup>110</sup>Wicked people have set a trap for me,
but I haven't strayed from your orders.

<sup>111</sup>I will follow your rules forever,
because they make me happy.

<sup>112</sup>I will try to do what you demand forever, until the end.

<sup>113</sup>I hate disloyal people,
but I love your teachings.

<sup>114</sup>You are my hiding place and my shield;
I hope in your word.

<sup>115</sup>Get away from me, you who do evil,
so I can keep my God's commands.

<sup>116</sup>Support me as you promised so I can live.
Don't let me be embarrassed because of my hopes.

<sup>117</sup>Help me, and I will be saved.
I will always respect your demands.

<sup>118</sup>You reject those who ignore your demands,
because their lies mislead them.

So I will love your rules.

<sup>120</sup>I shake in fear of you;
I respect your laws.

<sup>121</sup>I have done what is fair and right.
Don't leave me to those who wrong me.

<sup>122</sup>Promise that you will help me, your servant.
Don't let proud people wrong me.

<sup>123</sup>My eyes are tired from looking for your salvation and for your good promise.

<sup>124</sup>Show your love to me, your servant, and teach me your demands.

<sup>125</sup>I am your servant. Give me wisdom so I can understand your rules.

<sup>126</sup>Lord, it is time for you to do something,
because people have disobeyed your teachings.

<sup>127</sup>I love your commands more than the purest gold.

<sup>128</sup>I respect all your orders,
so I hate lying ways.

<sup>129</sup>Your rules are wonderful.
That is why I keep them.

<sup>130</sup>Learning your words gives wisdom and understanding for the foolish.

<sup>131</sup>I am nearly out of breath.
I really want to learn your commands.

<sup>132</sup>Look at me and have mercy on me as you do for those who love you.

<sup>133</sup>Guide my steps as you promised;
don't let any sin control me.

<sup>134</sup>Save me from harmful people
so I can obey your orders.

<sup>135</sup>Show your kindness to me, your servant.
Teach me your demands.

<sup>136</sup>Tears stream from my eyes, because people do not obey your teachings.

<sup>137</sup>Lord, you do what is right, and your laws are fair.

<sup>138</sup>The rules you commanded are right and completely trustworthy.

<sup>139</sup>I am so upset I am worn out, because my enemies have forgotten your words.

<sup>140</sup>Your promises are proven,
so I, your servant, love them.

<sup>141</sup>I am unimportant and hated,
but I have not forgotten your orders.

<sup>142</sup>Your goodness continues forever,
and your teachings are true.

<sup>143</sup>I have had troubles and misery,
but I love your commands.

<sup>144</sup>Your rules are always good.
Help me understand so I can live.

<sup>145</sup>Lord, I call to you with all my heart.
Answer me, and I will keep your demands.

<sup>146</sup>I call to you.

Save me so I can obey your rules.

I hope in your word.

<sup>148</sup>I stay awake all night
so I can think about your promises.

<sup>149</sup>Listen to me because of your love;
Lord, give me life by your laws.

<sup>150</sup>Those who love evil are near,
but they are far from your teachings.

<sup>151</sup>But, Lord, you are also near,
and all your commands are true.

<sup>152</sup>Long ago I learned from your rules that you made them to continue forever.

<sup>153</sup>See my suffering and rescue me.

see my suffering and rescue me,
because I have not forgotten your teachings.

<sup>154</sup>Argue my case and save me.

Let me live by your promises.

<sup>155</sup>Wicked people are far from being saved,
because they do not want your demands.

<sup>156</sup>Lord, you are very kind;
give me life by your laws.

<sup>157</sup>Many enemies are after me,
but I have not rejected your rules.

<sup>158</sup>I see those traitors, and I hate them, because they do not obey what you say.

<sup>159</sup>See how I love your orders.
Lord, give me life by your love.

<sup>160</sup>Your words are true from the start, and all your laws will be fair forever.

<sup>161</sup>Leaders attack me for no reason,
but I fear your law in my heart.

<sup>162</sup>I am as happy over your promises
as if I had found a great treasure.

<sup>163</sup>I hate and despise lies,
but I love your teachings.

<sup>164</sup>Seven times a day I praise you for your fair laws.

<sup>165</sup>Those who love your teachings will find true peace, and nothing will defeat them.

<sup>166</sup>I am waiting for you to save me, Lord.
I will obey your commands.

<sup>167</sup>I obey your rules, and I love them very much.

<sup>168</sup>I obey your orders and rules,
because you know everything I do.

<sup>169</sup>Hear my cry to you, Lord.
Let your word help me understand.

<sup>170</sup>Listen to my prayer;
save me as you promised.

<sup>171</sup>Let me speak your praise, because you have taught me your demands.

<sup>172</sup>Let me sing about your promises, because all your commands are fair.

<sup>173</sup>Give me your helping hand,
because I have chosen your commands.

<sup>174</sup>I want you to save me, Lord.
I love your teachings.

<sup>175</sup>Let me live so I can praise you,
and let your laws help me.

<sup>176</sup>I have wandered like a lost sheep.
Look for your servant, because I have not forgotten your commands.

Life Lessons

Psalms 120:1–123:4

Situation

Psalms 120–135 were sung during annual feasts. Pilgrims would also recite these psalms as they journeyed to the Temple in Jerusalem.

Observation

The writer (some believe Hezekiah) asked God to rescue him from false accusers.

Inspiration

All of us at times find ourselves and our futures seemingly in the hands of other people. Their decisions or their actions determine whether we get a good grade or a poor one, whether we are promoted or fired, whether our careers blossom or fold. I am not overlooking our own responsibility in these situations, but all of us know that even when we have, so to speak, done our best, we are still dependent upon the favor or frown of that teacher or boss or commanding officer. We are, from a human point of view, often at the mercy of other people and their decisions or actions. . . .

Can we trust God that He can and will work in the heart of that individual to bring about His plan for us? Or consider the instance when someone is out to harm us, to ruin our reputation, or jeopardize our career: Can we trust God to intervene in the heart of that person so that he does not carry out his evil intent? According to the Bible, the answer in both instances is yes. We can trust God. (From Trusting God by Jerry Bridges)

Application

Do you know someone who stirs up trouble? Have you seen that person develop enemies? What can you do? Can you help clear up a misunderstanding? Can you help make peace? If it is possible to resolve the conflict, be a peacemaker.

Exploration

Deceit—Exodus 20:16; Job 11:11; Psalm 5:6; 43:1; Proverbs 12:22; Acts 5:7-9; Ephesians 4:25; Colossians 3:9.

A Prayer of Someone Far from Home

A psalm for going up to worship.

When I was in trouble, I called to the Lord,
and he answered me.

<sup>2</sup>Lord, save me from liars and from those who plan evil.

<sup>3</sup>You who plan evil, what will God do to you?
How will he punish you?

<sup>4</sup>He will punish you with the sharp arrows of a warrior and with burning coals of wood.

<sup>5</sup>How terrible it is for me to live in the land of Meshech, to live among the people of Kedar.

<sup>6</sup>I have lived too long with people who hate peace.

<sup>7</sup>When I talk peace, they want war.

The Lord Guards His People

A song for going up to worship.

I look up to the hills,
but where does my help come from?
<sup>2</sup>My help comes from the Lord,
who made heaven and earth.

<sup>3</sup>He will not let you be defeated.
He who guards you never sleeps.

<sup>4</sup>He who guards Israel never rests or sleeps.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord guards you.
The Lord is the shade that protects you from the sun.

<sup>6</sup>The sun cannot hurt you during the day,
and the moon cannot hurt you at night.

<sup>7</sup>The Lord will protect you from all dangers;
he will guard your life.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord will guard you as you come and go, both now and forever.

Happy People in Jerusalem

A song for going up to worship. Of David.

I was happy when they said to me,
“Let’s go to the Temple of the Lord.”

<sup>2</sup>Jerusalem, we are standing at your gates.

<sup>3</sup>Jerusalem is built as a city with the buildings close together.

<sup>4</sup>The tribes go up there,
the tribes who belong to the Lord.

It is the rule in Israel to praise the Lord at Jerusalem.

<sup>5</sup>There the descendants of David set their thrones to judge the people.

“May those who love her be safe.

<sup>7</sup>May there be peace within her walls and safety within her strong towers.”

<sup>8</sup>To help my relatives and friends,
I say, “Let Jerusalem have peace.”

<sup>9</sup>For the sake of the Temple of the Lord our God,
I wish good for her.

A Prayer for Mercy

A song for going up to worship.

Lord, I look upward to you,
you who live in heaven.

<sup>2</sup>Slaves depend on their masters,
and a female servant depends on her mistress.
In the same way, we depend on the Lord our God;
we wait for him to show us mercy.

<sup>3</sup>Have mercy on us, Lord. Have mercy on us, because we have been insulted.

<sup>4</sup>We have suffered many insults from lazy people and much cruelty from the proud.

Life Lessons

Psalms 124:1–127:5

Situation

God rescued the Israelites from their enemies. Although the odds were against God's people, he saved them.

Observation

We should not seek strength in weapons, economic might, or political strength. Real power comes from God.

Inspiration

God has done everything possible to bring you salvation; you can add nothing to what He has done. He has shown us the vision of the coming storm to give advance warning of the judgment so that we can flee from His wrath and come to Him. If you wish to be saved and go to heaven, you can, by believing in the Lord Jesus Christ as your Savior.

Jesus Christ rose from the dead to be alive forever. Because He is alive and because He can be everywhere at once, He is right there where you're reading. All you have to do is take Him, receive Him, accept Him personally into your heart as your Lord and Savior...

What more could you desire, ask, or ever hope for than that the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you forever? (From Storm Warning by Billy Graham)

Application

How do you relieve stress? Do you take a nap, reach for a drink, read a book, or play a round of golf? Put a bookmark in this psalm. When you feel swamped with problems, call on a friend to help you avoid inappropriate ways to relieve stress. Review this psalm when you feel pressured. Then face the problem with God's help.

Exploration

Deliverance—Exodus 12:17, 23; 14:21–31; Judges 4:3; Mark 4:38–40.

The Lord Saves His People

A song for going up to worship. Of David.

What if the Lord had not been on our side?
(Let Israel repeat this.)

<sup>2</sup>What if the Lord had not been on our side
when we were attacked?

<sup>3</sup>When they were angry with us,
they would have swallowed us alive.

<sup>4</sup>They would have been like a flood drowning us;
they would have poured over us like a river.

who did not let them chew us up.

<sup>7</sup>We escaped like a bird from the hunter's trap.

The trap broke,
and we escaped.

<sup>8</sup>Our help comes from the Lord,
who made heaven and earth.

God Protects Those Who Trust Him

A song for going up to worship.

Those who trust the Lord are like Mount Zion, which sits unmoved forever.

<sup>2</sup>As the mountains surround Jerusalem, the Lord surrounds his people
now and forever.

<sup>3</sup>The wicked will not rule over those who do right.
If they did, the people who do right might use their power to do evil.

<sup>4</sup>Lord, be good to those who are good,
whose hearts are honest.

<sup>5</sup>But, Lord, when you remove those who do evil,
also remove those who stop following you.
Let there be peace in Israel.

Lord, Bring Your People Back

A song for going up to worship.

When the Lord brought the prisoners back to Jerusalem,

it seemed as if we were dreaming.

<sup>2</sup>Then we were filled with laughter,
and we sang happy songs.

Then the other nations said,

“The Lord has done great things for them.”

<sup>3</sup>The Lord has done great things for us, and we are very glad.

<sup>4</sup>Lord, return our prisoners again,
as you bring streams to the desert.

<sup>5</sup>Those who cry as they plant crops will sing at harvest time.

<sup>6</sup>Those who cry
as they carry out the seeds will return singing and carrying bundles of grain.

All Good Things Come from God

A song for going up to worship. Of Solomon.

If the Lord doesn't build the house,
the builders are working for nothing.

If the Lord doesn't guard the city,
the guards are watching for nothing.

<sup>2</sup>It is no use for you to get up early and stay up late,
working for a living.

The Lord gives sleep to those he loves.

<sup>3</sup>Children are a gift from the Lord;
babies are a reward.

<sup>4</sup>Children who are born to a young man are like arrows in the hand of a warrior.

<sup>5</sup>Happy is the man who has his bag full of arrows.
They will not be defeated
when they fight their enemies at the city gate.

Life Lessons

Psalms 128:1–131:3

Situation

Possibly written by King Hezekiah, these lyrics were often sung at Israelite weddings.

Observation

If you allow God to be head of your home, he will bless your family life.

Inspiration

Perhaps the most taxing of all, are the years a family finds itself in and out of crisis situations. Little babies that cooed and gurgled grow up into challenging, independent-thinking adolescents. The protective, sheltered environment of the home is broken into by the school, new friends, alien philosophies, financial strain, illness, accidents, hard questions, constant decisions, and busy schedules ... and it isn't difficult to feel the pressure mounting—especially when you add dating, new drivers in the family, leaving for college, talk of marriage, and moving out. Whew! And what does God say about these years? ...

He says we'll be "blessed." We'll be "happy." It will "be well" with us during these years... . In the family portrayed on this scriptural canvas, "the Lord" is still central...

Even before you finish, ... it may be the right time for you to come to terms with the truth regarding your family. I must be honest with you, in most of the family conflicts I have dealt with involving trouble with teenagers, the problem has been more with parents who were either too liberal and permissive or too inflexible, distant, rigid (and sometimes hypocritical) than with teenagers who were unwilling to cooperate. When the modeling is as it should be, there is seldom much trouble from those who fall under the shadow of the leader. Strengthening your grip on the family may start with an unguarded appraisal of the leadership your family is expected to follow. (From Strengthening Your Grip by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Do you look forward to going home or do you dread it? Is God the head of your home? Pray for your family daily. Memorize a favorite psalm as a family. After dinner, read a chapter from the Bible every day for a month.

Exploration

Marriage and Family—Genesis 2:18–25; Exodus 20:12; Matthew 19:5–6; Mark 7:9–13; Ephesians 5:22–33.

The Happy Home

A song for going up to worship.

Happy are those who respect the Lord and obey him.

<sup>2</sup>You will enjoy what you work for,
and you will be blessed with good things.

<sup>3</sup>Your wife will give you many children, like a vine that produces much fruit.
Your children will bring you much good,
like olive branches that produce many olives.

<sup>4</sup>This is how the man who respects the Lord will be blessed.

<sup>5</sup>May the Lord bless you from Mount Zion;
may you enjoy the good things of Jerusalem all your life.

<sup>6</sup>May you see your grandchildren.
Let there be peace in Israel.

A Prayer Against the Enemies

A song for going up to worship.

They have treated me badly all my life.

(Let Israel repeat this.)

<sup>2</sup>They have treated me badly all my life, but they have not defeated me.

<sup>3</sup>Like farmers plowing, they plowed over my back, making long wounds.

he has set me free from those wicked people.

<sup>5</sup>Let those who hate Jerusalem be turned back in shame.

<sup>6</sup>Let them be like the grass on the roof that dries up before it has grown.

<sup>7</sup>There is not enough of it to fill a hand or to make into a bundle to fill one's arms.

<sup>8</sup>Let those who pass by them not say,
“May the Lord bless you.
We bless you by the power of the Lord.”

A Prayer for Mercy

A song for going up to worship.

Lord, I am in great trouble,
so I call out to you.

<sup>2</sup>Lord, hear my voice;
listen to my prayer for help.

<sup>3</sup>Lord, if you punished people for all their sins, no one would be left, Lord.

<sup>4</sup>But you forgive us,
so you are respected.

<sup>5</sup>I wait for the Lord to help me,
and I trust his word.

<sup>6</sup>I wait for the Lord to help me
more than night watchmen wait for the dawn,
more than night watchmen wait for the dawn.

<sup>7</sup>People of Israel, put your hope in the Lord because he is loving and able to save.

<sup>8</sup>He will save Israel from all their sins.

Childlike Trust in the Lord

A song for going up to worship. Of David.

Lord, my heart is not proud;

I don't look down on others.

I don't do great things,

and I can't do miracles.

<sup>2</sup>But I am calm and quiet,

like a baby with its mother.

I am at peace, like a baby with its mother.

<sup>3</sup>People of Israel, put your hope in the Lord

now and forever.

Life Lessons

Psalms 132:1–134:3

Situation

These songs of worship, written by various writers, were also sung by pilgrims on their way to the Temple.

Observation

Honoring and worshipping God not only causes God's people to rejoice, it also unifies them.

Inspiration

I had a vision one day while our church was worshipping. As I looked around at the people I have come to love, I saw that each was an earthen vessel, a real mud pot... . But as I continued to look, in prayer and worship, I looked “into” each mud pot, and what I saw was exquisite molten gold. Each person, frail, vulnerable, and half-fashioned, had a treasure inside. But then I saw something more—each pot was cracked. Finally I looked again and saw something miraculous: the molten gold was oozing through the cracks. That is how ministry comes into the world, not poured out of expensive vases, but through the orifice of the faults and weaknesses of real people who are being transfigured by Christ... .

Relational life is not a mere accessory to spirituality or ministry, but the heart of it. Finding unity within diversity because of the diversity, and not in spite of it, is an important link with the unity within God himself and is both a mark of spirituality and true ministry. (From Disciplines of the Hungry Heart by Paul Stevens)

Application

Work to become unified. Don't avoid conversations that are necessary to make peace, but resist the temptation to become angry. Be quick to forgive and careful in your response. Hear the whole story first, then respond. Your opinions may differ, but part as friends.

In Praise of the Temple

A song for going up to worship.

Lord, remember David and all his suffering.

<sup>2</sup>He made an oath to the Lord,
a promise to the Mighty God of Jacob.

<sup>3</sup>He said, "I will not go home to my house, or lie down on my bed,

<sup>4</sup>or close my eyes, or let myself sleep

<sup>5</sup>until I find a place for the Lord.

I want to provide a home for the Mighty God of Jacob."

<sup>6</sup>We heard about the Ark in Bethlehem.

We found it at Kiriath Jearim.

<sup>7</sup>Let's go to the Lord's house.

Let's worship at his footstool.

<sup>8</sup>Rise, Lord, and come to your resting place;
come with the Ark that shows your strength.

<sup>9</sup>May your priests do what is right.

May your people sing for joy.

<sup>10</sup>For the sake of your servant David,
do not reject your appointed king.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord made a promise to David,
a sure promise that he will not take back.
He promised, “I will make one of your descendants rule as king after you.

<sup>12</sup>If your sons keep my agreement and the rules that I teach them, then their sons after them will rule on your throne forever and ever.”

<sup>13</sup>The Lord has chosen Jerusalem;
he wants it for his home.

<sup>14</sup>He says, “This is my resting place forever.
Here is where I want to stay.

<sup>15</sup>I will bless her with plenty;
I will fill her poor with food.

<sup>16</sup>I will cover her priests with salvation, and those who worship me will really sing for joy.

<sup>17</sup>“I will make a king come from the family of David.
I will provide my appointed one descendants to rule
after him.

<sup>18</sup>I will cover his enemies with shame,
but his crown will shine.”

The Love of God's People

A song for going up to worship. Of David.

It is good and pleasant
when God's people live together in peace!
<sup>2</sup>It is like perfumed oil poured on the priest's head and running down his beard.
It ran down Aaron's beard
and on to the collar of his robes.
<sup>3</sup>It is like the dew of Mount Hermon falling on the hills of Jerusalem.
There the Lord gives his blessing of life forever.

Temple Guards, Praise the Lord

A song for going up to worship.

Praise the Lord, all you servants of the Lord,
you who serve at night in the Temple of the Lord.

<sup>2</sup>Raise your hands in the Temple and praise the Lord.

<sup>3</sup>May the Lord bless you from Mount Zion,
he who made heaven and earth.

Psalm 135:1-21

Situation

This writer praised God because God chose Israel as his people, God created a beautiful world, and God has greater power than any other god.

Observation

God's children worship only him, while the heathen worship idols in vain.

Inspiration

We usually think of an idol as a religious figure carved out of wood or stone, perhaps in some primitive tribe, far removed from civilization. But we have our "idols" today, because an idol is something that you worship in place of the living God. Some people worship the idol of beauty or sexual pleasure. Some people worship the idol of money and security—although I have observed that the more money some people have the more insecure they become. Some people worship at the shrine of power, constantly scheming for ways they can dominate others.

... What is your idol? What really, honestly, dominates your life? What are your priorities, and what are the real (although perhaps hidden) motives in your everyday living? Is Christ on the throne of your life, or is it self? You don't have to practice voodoo or be a follower of a strange cult to have been deceived... . Anything that entices you away from a wholehearted commitment to Christ is being used of Satan to deceive you. (From Approaching Hoofbeats by Billy Graham)

Application

What inhibits your relationship with God? Get rid of distractions: pay off your credit cards, turn off the television for a night, and leave the motor home parked for the weekend. Take time to improve your friendship with God this week.

Exploration

Idols—Deuteronomy 32:16; Psalm 96:5; Isaiah 2:8–9; Colossians 3:5–6; Revelation 9:20.

The Lord Saves, Idols Do Not

Praise the Lord!

Praise the name of the Lord;
praise him, you servants of the Lord,
<sup>2</sup>you who stand in the Lord's Temple and in the Temple courtyards.

<sup>3</sup>Praise the Lord, because he is good;
sing praises to him, because it is pleasant.

<sup>4</sup>The Lord has chosen the people of Jacob for himself;
he has chosen the people of Israel for his very own.

<sup>5</sup>I know that the Lord is great.
Our Lord is greater than all the gods.

<sup>6</sup>The Lord does what he pleases,
in heaven and on earth,
in the seas and the deep oceans.

<sup>7</sup>He brings the clouds from the ends of the earth.
He sends the lightning with the rain.
He brings out the wind from his storehouses.

<sup>8</sup>He destroyed the firstborn sons in Egypt
the firstborn of both people and animals.

<sup>9</sup>He did many signs and miracles in Egypt against the king and his servants.

<sup>10</sup>He defeated many nations and killed powerful kings:

<sup>11</sup>Sihon king of the Amorites, Og king of Bashan,
and all the kings of Canaan.

<sup>12</sup>Then he gave their land as a gift,
a gift to his people, the Israelites.

<sup>13</sup>Lord, your name is everlasting;
Lord, you will be remembered forever.

<sup>14</sup>The Lord defends his people and has mercy on his servants.

<sup>15</sup>The idols of other nations are made of silver and gold,

the work of human hands.

<sup>16</sup>They have mouths, but they cannot speak.
They have eyes, but they cannot see.

<sup>17</sup>They have ears, but they cannot hear.
They have no breath in their mouths.

<sup>18</sup>People who make idols will be like them,
and so will those who trust them.

<sup>19</sup>Family of Israel, praise the Lord.
Family of Aaron, praise the Lord.

You who respect the Lord should praise him.

<sup>21</sup>You people of Jerusalem, praise the Lord on Mount Zion.

Praise the Lord!

Psalm 136:1-26

Situation

People cannot put a limit on God's patient care. He painstakingly created every detail of the universe and patiently provides for his people.

Observation

Thank God because he has more resources than we can ever exhaust.

Inspiration

We should never take any blessing for granted, but accept everything as a gift from the Father of Lights. Whole days may be spent occasionally in the holy practice of being thankful. We should write on a tablet one by one the things for which we are grateful to God and to our fellow men. And a constant return to this thought during the day as our minds get free will serve to fix the habit in our hearts....

In trying to count our many blessings, the difficulty is not to find things to count, but to find time to enumerate them all. Personally, I have gotten great help from the practice of talking over with God the many kindnesses I have received from my fellow men. To my parents I owe my life and my upbringing. To my teachers I owe that patient line-upon-line instruction that took me when I was a young, ignorant pagan and enabled me to read and write. To the patriots and statesmen of the past I owe the liberties I now enjoy. To numerous and unknown soldiers who shed their blood to keep our country free I owe a debt I can never pay. And I please God and enlarge my own heart when I remind the Lord that I am grateful for them. For every man and woman of every race and nationality who may have contributed anything to my peace and welfare I am grateful, and I shall not let God forget that I am. (From The Root of Righteousness by A. W. Tozer)

Application

How has God blessed you? How have others contributed to your life? Take time to thank God for ten blessings today.

God's Love Continues Forever

Give thanks to the Lord because he is good.

His love continues forever.

<sup>2</sup>Give thanks to the God of gods.

His love continues forever.

<sup>3</sup>Give thanks to the Lord of lords.

His love continues forever.

<sup>4</sup>Only he can do great miracles.

His love continues forever.

<sup>5</sup>With his wisdom he made the skies.

His love continues forever.

<sup>6</sup>He spread out the earth on the seas.

His love continues forever.

<sup>7</sup>He made the sun and the moon.

His love continues forever.

<sup>8</sup>He made the sun to rule the day.

His love continues forever.

<sup>9</sup>He made the moon and stars to rule the night.

His love continues forever.

<sup>10</sup>He killed the firstborn sons of the Egyptians.

His love continues forever.

<sup>11</sup>He brought the people of Israel out of Egypt.

His love continues forever.

<sup>12</sup>He did it with his great power and strength.

His love continues forever.

<sup>13</sup>He parted the water of the Red Sea.

His love continues forever.

<sup>14</sup>He brought the Israelites through the middle of it.

His love continues forever.

<sup>15</sup>But the king of Egypt and his army drowned in the Red Sea.

His love continues forever.

<sup>16</sup>He led his people through the desert.

His love continues forever.

<sup>17</sup>He defeated great kings.

His love continues forever.

<sup>18</sup>He killed powerful kings.

His love continues forever.

<sup>19</sup>He defeated Sihon king of the Amorites.

His love continues forever.

<sup>20</sup>He defeated Og king of Bashan.

His love continues forever.

<sup>21</sup>He gave their land as a gift.

His love continues forever.

<sup>22</sup>It was a gift to his servants, the Israelites.

His love continues forever.

<sup>23</sup>He remembered us when we were in trouble.

His love continues forever.

<sup>24</sup>He freed us from our enemies.

His love continues forever.

<sup>25</sup>He gives food to every living creature.

His love continues forever.

<sup>26</sup>Give thanks to the God of heaven.
His love continues forever.

Life Lessons

Psalms 137:1–138:8

Situation

During the Babylon captivity, the Israelites mourned for their lost land.

Observation

In times of trouble it is easy to wonder if God hears us. God does hear our prayers, and he carries us through the difficulties.

Inspiration

Since God is more moved by our hurt than our eloquence, he respond[s]. That's what fathers do.

That's exactly what Jim Redmond did.

His son Derek, a twenty-six-year-old Briton, was favored to win the four-hundred-meter race in the 1992 Barcelona Olympics. Halfway into his semifinal heat, a fiery pain seared through his right leg. He crumpled to the track with a torn hamstring.

As the medical attendants were approaching, Redmond fought to his feet. "It was animal instinct," he would later say. He set out hopping, pushing away the coaches in a crazed attempt to finish the race.

When he reached the stretch, a big man pushed through the crowd. He was wearing a t-shirt that read "Have you hugged your child today?" and a hat that challenged, "Just Do It." The man was Jim Redmond, Derek's father.

"You don't have to do this," he told his weeping son.

“Yes, I do,” Derek declared.

“Well, then,” said Jim, “we’re going to finish this together.”

And they did. Jim wrapped Derek’s arm around his shoulder and helped him hobble to the finish line. Fighting off security men, the son’s head sometimes buried in the father’s shoulder, they stayed in Derek’s lane to the end.

The crowd clapped, then stood, then cheered, and then wept as the father and the son finished the race.

What made the father do it? What made the father leave the stands to meet his son on the track? Was it the strength of his child? No, it was the pain of his child. His son was hurt and fighting to complete the race. So the father came to help him finish.

God does the same. Our prayers may be awkward. Our attempts may be feeble. But since the power of prayer is in the one who hears it and not the one who says it, our prayers do make a difference. (From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

Application

God wants us to pray to him without getting bogged down in proper words and phrases. Forget the fancy words and eloquent phrases. Don’t get caught up using the right prayer words. Pour out your joys, fears, concerns, and requests. He hears and will aid and comfort you.

Israelites in Captivity

By the rivers in Babylon we sat and cried when we remembered Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup>On the poplar trees nearby
we hung our harps.

<sup>3</sup>Those who captured us asked us to sing;
our enemies wanted happy songs.
They said, “Sing us a song about Jerusalem!”

<sup>4</sup>But we cannot sing songs about the Lord while we are in this foreign country!

<sup>5</sup>Jerusalem, if I forget you, let my right hand lose its skill.

<sup>6</sup>Let my tongue stick to the roof of my mouth
if I do not remember you,
if I do not think about Jerusalem
as my greatest joy.

<sup>7</sup>Lord, remember what the Edomites did on the day Jerusalem fell.
They said, “Tear it down!
Tear it down to its foundations!”

<sup>8</sup>People of Babylon, you will be destroyed.
The people who pay you back for what you did to us will be happy.

<sup>9</sup>They will grab your babies and throw them against the rocks.

A Hymn of Thanksgiving

A psalm of David.

Lord, I will thank you with all my heart;
I will sing to you before the gods.

<sup>2</sup>I will bow down facing your holy Temple, and I will thank you for your love and loyalty.
You have made your name and your word greater than anything.

<sup>3</sup>On the day I called to you, you answered me.
You made me strong and brave.

<sup>4</sup>Lord, let all the kings of the earth praise you when they hear the words you speak.

<sup>5</sup>They will sing about what the Lord has done, because the Lord's glory is great.

<sup>6</sup>Though the Lord is supreme,
he takes care of those who are humble,
but he stays away from the proud.

<sup>7</sup>Lord, even when I have trouble all around me,
you will keep me alive.

When my enemies are angry,
you will reach down and save me by your power.

<sup>8</sup>Lord, you do everything for me.
Lord, your love continues forever.
Do not leave us, whom you made.

Life Lessons

Psalm 139:1-24

Situation

David acknowledged that God knows everything, is everywhere, and is the creator and author of all life.

Observation

David recognized that the days of his life were written in God's book before he was even born.

Inspiration

Seated at the great desk, the Author opens the large book. It has no words. It has no words because no words exist. No words exist because no words are needed. There are no ears to hear them, no eyes to read them. The Author is alone.

And so he takes the great pen and begins to write. Like an artist gathers his colors and a woodcarver his tools, the Author assembles his words.

There are three. Three single words. Out of these three will pour a million thoughts. But on these three words, the story will suspend.

He takes his quill and spells the first. T-i-m-e.

Time did not exist until he wrote it. He, himself, is timeless, but his story would be encased in time. The story would have a first rising of the sun, a first shifting of the sand. A beginning ... and an end. A final chapter. He knows it before he writes it.

Time. A footspan on eternity's trail.

Slowly, tenderly, the Author writes the second word. A name. A-d-a-m.

As he writes, he sees him, the first Adam. Then he sees all the others. In a thousand eras in a thousand lands, the Author sees them. Each Adam. Each child. Instantly loved. Permanently loved. To each he assigns a time. To each he appoints a place. No accidents. No coincidences. Just design.

The Author makes a promise to these unborn: In my image, I will make you. You will be like me. You will laugh. You will create. You will never die. And you will write.

They must. For each life is a book, not to be read, but rather a story to be written. The Author starts each life story, but each life will write his or her own ending.

What a dangerous liberty. How much safer it would have been to finish the story for each Adam. To script every option. It would have been simpler. It would have been safer. But it would not have been love. Love is only love if chosen.

So the Author decides to give each child a pen. "Write carefully," he whispers.

Lovingly, deliberately, he writes the third word, already feeling the pain. E-m-m-a-n-u-e-l.

The greatest mind in the universe imagined time. The truest judge granted Adam a choice. But it was love that gave Emmanuel, God with us.

The Author would enter his own story.

The Word would become flesh. He, too, would be born. He, too, would be human. He, too, would have feet and hands. He, too, would have tears and trials.

And most importantly, he, too, would have a choice. Emmanuel would stand at the crossroads of life and death and make a choice.

The Author knows well the weight of that decision. He pauses as he writes the page of his own pain. He could stop. Even the Author has a choice. But how can a Creator not create? How can a Writer not write? And how can Love not love? So he chooses life, though it means death, with hope that his children will do the same.

And so the Author of Life completes the story. He drives the spike in the flesh and rolls the stone over the grave. Knowing the choice he will make, knowing the choice all Adams will make, he pens, “The End,” then closes the book and proclaims the beginning.

“Let there be light!” (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

What is your life story at this point? Write a psalm acknowledging, as David did, the Creator and Author of your life and how he has shaped and guided you. Thank him for designing you in a unique fashion.

God Knows Everything

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

Lord, you have examined me
and know all about me.

<sup>2</sup>You know when I sit down and when I get up.
You know my thoughts before I think them.

<sup>3</sup>You know where I go and where I lie down.
You know thoroughly everything I do.

you already know it.

<sup>5</sup>You are all around me—in front and in back—
and have put your hand on me.

<sup>6</sup>Your knowledge is amazing to me;
it is more than I can understand.

<sup>7</sup>Where can I go to get away from your Spirit?
Where can I run from you?

<sup>8</sup>If I go up to the heavens, you are there.
If I lie down in the grave, you are there.

<sup>9</sup>If I rise with the sun in the east and settle in the west beyond the sea,

<sup>10</sup>even there you would guide me.
With your right hand you would hold me.

<sup>11</sup>I could say, “The darkness will hide me.

Let the light around me turn into night.”

<sup>12</sup>But even the darkness is not dark to you.

The night is as light as the day;

darkness and light are the same to you.

<sup>13</sup>You made my whole being;

you formed me in my mother’s body.

<sup>14</sup>I praise you because you made me in an amazing and wonderful way.

What you have done is wonderful.

I know this very well.

<sup>15</sup>You saw my bones being formed as I took shape in my mother’s body.

When I was put together there,

<sup>16</sup>you saw my body as it was formed.

All the days planned for me were written in your book

before I was one day old.

<sup>17</sup>God, your thoughts are precious to me.

They are so many!

<sup>18</sup>If I could count them,

they would be more than all the grains of sand.

When I wake up,

I am still with you.

<sup>19</sup>God, I wish you would kill the wicked!

Get away from me, you murderers!

<sup>20</sup>They say evil things about you.

Your enemies use your name thoughtlessly.

<sup>21</sup>Lord, I hate those who hate you;

I hate those who rise up against you.

<sup>22</sup>I feel only hate for them;
they are my enemies.

<sup>23</sup>God, examine me and know my heart;
test me and know my nervous thoughts.

<sup>24</sup>See if there is any bad thing in me.
Lead me on the road to everlasting life.

Life Lessons

Psalms 140:1–144:15

Situation

David prayed for God’s strength when he felt overwhelmed.

Observation

God gives us the endurance we need to face whatever situation life brings us.

Inspiration

When I was a boy ... I told people that my father was stronger than anyone else in the world....

So I would go out on the front porch and roar to the neighborhood: “My daddy’s arm is as strong as trucks! The strongest man in the world.” ...

In those days a cherry tree grew in our backyard. This was my hiding place. Ten feet above the ground a stout limb made a horizontal fork, a cradle on which I could lie facedown, reading, thinking, being alone. Nobody bothered me here. Even my parents didn’t know where I went to hide. Sometimes Daddy would come out and call, “Wally? Wally?” but he didn’t see me in the leaves.

I felt very tricky.

Then came the thunderstorm ...

One day suddenly, a wind tore through the backyard and struck my cherry tree with such force that it ripped the book from my hands and nearly threw me from the limb. I locked my arms around the forking branches and hung on. My head hung down between them. I tried to wind my legs around the limb, but the whole tree was wallowing in the wind....

“Daddeeeeeeee !”

There he was... . The branches swept up and down, like huge waves on an ocean—and Daddy saw me, and right away he came out into the wind and the weather, and I felt so relieved because I just took it for granted that he would climb right up the tree to get me.

But that wasn't his plan at all.

He came to a spot right below me and lifted his arms and shouted, “Jump.”

“What?”

“Jump. I'll catch you.”

Jump? I had a crazy man for a father. He was standing six or seven miles beneath me, holding up two skinny arms and telling me to jump. If I jumped, he'd miss. I'd hit the ground and die....

But the wind and the rain slapped that cherry tree, bent it back, and cracked my limb at the trunk. I dropped a foot. My eyes flew open. Then the wood whined and splintered and sank, and so did I, in bloody terror.

No, I did not jump. I let go. I surrendered.

I fell.

In a fast, eternal moment I despaired and plummeted. This, I thought, is what it's like to die—

But my father caught me....

Now, in such a storm the tree which was our stable world is shaken, and instinct makes us grab it tighter: by our own strength we grip the habits that have helped us in the past, repeating them, believing them. We'd rather trust what is than what might be: that is, our power, our reason and feeling and endurance... . We spend a long time screaming No!

But always, God is present. God has always been present. And it is God who says, "Jump." (From Mourning Into Dancing by Walt Wangerin, Jr.)

A Prayer for Protection

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

Lord, rescue me from evil people;
protect me from cruel people <sup>2</sup>who make evil plans, who always start fights.

<sup>3</sup>They make their tongues sharp as a snake's;
their words are like snake poison.

Selah

<sup>4</sup>Lord, guard me from the power of wicked people;
protect me from cruel people
who plan to trip me up.

<sup>5</sup>The proud hid a trap for me.
They spread out a net beside the road;
they set traps for me.

Selah

<sup>6</sup>I said to the Lord, "You are my God."
Lord, listen to my prayer for help.

<sup>7</sup>Lord God, my mighty savior,
you protect me in battle.

<sup>8</sup>Lord, do not give the wicked what they want.
Don't let their plans succeed,
or they will become proud.

Selah

<sup>9</sup>Those around me have planned trouble.
Now let it come to them.

<sup>10</sup>Let burning coals fall on them.
Throw them into the fire or into pits from which they cannot escape.

<sup>11</sup>Don't let liars settle in the land.
Let evil quickly hunt down cruel people.

<sup>12</sup>I know the Lord will get justice for the poor and will defend the needy in court.

<sup>13</sup>Good people will praise his name;
honest people will live in his presence.

A Prayer Not to Sin

A psalm of David.

Lord, I call to you. Come quickly.

Listen to me when I call to you.

<sup>2</sup>Let my prayer be like incense placed before you,
and my praise like the evening sacrifice.

<sup>3</sup>Lord, help me control my tongue;
help me be careful about what I say.

<sup>4</sup>Take away my desire to do evil or to join others in doing wrong.
Don't let me eat tasty food
with those who do evil.

<sup>5</sup>If a good person punished me, that would be kind.
If he corrected me, that would be like perfumed oil on my head.

I shouldn't refuse it.

But I pray against those who do evil.

Then people will know that I have spoken correctly:

<sup>7</sup>“The ground is plowed and broken up.
In the same way, our bones have been scattered at the grave.”

<sup>8</sup>God, I look to you for help.

I trust in you, Lord. Don't let me die.

<sup>9</sup>Protect me from the traps they set for me and from the net that evil people have spread.

<sup>10</sup>Let the wicked fall into their own nets, but let me pass by safely.

A Prayer for Safety

A maskil of David when he was in the cave. A prayer.

I cry out to the Lord;
I pray to the Lord for mercy.
<sup>2</sup>I pour out my problems to him;
I tell him my troubles.

<sup>3</sup>When I am afraid,
you, Lord, know the way out.
In the path where I walk,
a trap is hidden for me.

<sup>4</sup>Look around me and see.
No one cares about me.
I have no place of safety;
no one cares if I live.

<sup>5</sup>Lord, I cry out to you.
I say, "You are my protection.
You are all I want in this life."

<sup>6</sup>Listen to my cry, because I am helpless.
Save me from those who are chasing me,
because they are too strong for me.

<sup>7</sup>Free me from my prison,
and then I will praise your name.
Then good people will surround me,
because you have taken care of me.

A Prayer Not to Be Killed

A psalm of David.

Lord, hear my prayer;
listen to my cry for mercy.

Answer me

because you are loyal and good.

<sup>2</sup>Don't judge me, your servant, because no one alive is right before you.

<sup>3</sup>My enemies are chasing me;
they crushed me to the ground.
They made me live in darkness like those long dead.

<sup>4</sup>I am afraid;
my courage is gone.

<sup>5</sup>I remember what happened long ago;
I consider everything you have done.
I think about all you have made.

<sup>6</sup>I lift my hands to you in prayer.
As a dry land needs rain, I thirst for you.

Selah

<sup>7</sup>Lord, answer me quickly, because I am getting weak.
Don't turn away from me,
or I will be like those who are dead.

<sup>8</sup>Tell me in the morning about your love, because I trust you.
Show me what I should do,

because my prayers go up to you.

<sup>9</sup>Lord, save me from my enemies;

I hide in you.

<sup>10</sup>Teach me to do what you want,

because you are my God.

Let your good Spirit

lead me on level ground.

<sup>11</sup>Lord, let me live

so people will praise you.

In your goodness

save me from my troubles.

<sup>12</sup>In your love defeat my enemies.

Destroy all those who trouble me, because I am your servant.

A Prayer for Victory

Of David.

Praise the Lord, my Rock, who trains me for war,
who trains me for battle.

<sup>2</sup>He protects me like a strong, walled city, and he loves
me.

He is my defender and my Savior,
my shield and my protection.
He helps me keep my people under control.

<sup>3</sup>Lord, why are people important to you?
Why do you even think about human beings?

<sup>4</sup>People are like a breath;
their lives are like passing shadows.

<sup>5</sup>Lord, tear open the sky and come down.
Touch the mountains so they will smoke.

<sup>6</sup>Send the lightning and scatter my enemies.
Shoot your arrows and force them away.

<sup>7</sup>Reach down from above.
Save me and rescue me out of this sea of enemies,
from these foreigners.

<sup>8</sup>They are liars;
they are dishonest.

<sup>9</sup>God, I will sing a new song to you;
I will play to you on the ten-stringed harp.

<sup>10</sup>You give victory to kings.
You save your servant David from cruel swords.
<sup>11</sup>Save me, rescue me from these foreigners.
They are liars; they are dishonest.

<sup>12</sup>Let our sons in their youth grow like plants.
Let our daughters be like the decorated stones in the Temple.

<sup>13</sup>Let our barns be filled with crops of all kinds.
Let our sheep in the fields have thousands and tens of thousands of lambs.

<sup>14</sup>Let our cattle be strong.
Let no one break in.
Let there be no war,
no screams in our streets.

<sup>15</sup>Happy are those who are like this;
happy are the people whose God is the Lord.

Life Lessons

Psalms 145:1–150:6

Situation

Some psalms directed people to praise God. The last four psalms were directed to God. They begin and end with hallelujah, the Hebrew word for “Praise the Lord.”

Observation

Praise God for his abundant provision, his greatness, and his love.

Inspiration

“The crowd,” Matthew wrote, “was amazed when they saw that people who could not speak before were now able to speak. The crippled were made strong. The lame could walk, and the blind could see” (Matthew 15:31).

... Then Matthew, still the great economizer of words, gave us another phrase on which I wish he would have elaborated:

“They praised the God of Israel.”

I wonder how they did that? I feel more certain of what they didn't do than of what they did do. I feel confident that they didn't form a praise committee. I feel confident that they didn't make any robes. I feel confident that they didn't sit in rows and stare at the back of each other's heads.

I doubt seriously if they wrote a creed on how they were to praise this God they had never before worshiped. I can't picture them getting into an argument over technicalities. I doubt if they felt it had to be done indoors.

And I know they didn't wait until the Sabbath to do it...

I can imagine throngs of people pushing and shoving. Wanting to get close. Not to request anything or demand anything, but just to say "thank you."

... However they did it, they did it. And Jesus was touched, so touched that he insisted they stay for a meal before they left...

Worship is the "thank you" that refuses to be silenced.

We have tried to make a science out of worship. We can't do that. We can't do that any more than we can "sell love" or "negotiate peace."

Worship is a voluntary act of gratitude offered by the saved to the Savior, by the healed to the Healer, and by the delivered to the Deliverer. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

Find a new way to praise God. Learn to play an instrument. Take up a new activity that will help you learn more about God or his creation. Sing a song of praise in your car. Praise the Lord!

Praise to God the King

A psalm of praise. Of David.

I praise your greatness, my God the King;
I will praise you forever and ever.

<sup>2</sup>I will praise you every day;

I will praise you forever and ever.

<sup>3</sup>The Lord is great and worthy of our praise;
no one can understand how great he is.

<sup>4</sup>Parents will tell their children what you have done.
They will retell your mighty acts,

<sup>5</sup>wonderful majesty, and glory.

And I will think about your miracles.

<sup>6</sup>They will tell about the amazing things you do, and I will tell how great you are.

<sup>7</sup>They will remember your great goodness and will sing about your fairness.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord is kind and shows mercy.
He does not become angry quickly but is full of love.

<sup>9</sup>The Lord is good to everyone;
he is merciful to all he has made.

<sup>10</sup>Lord, everything you have made will praise you;
those who belong to you will bless you.

<sup>11</sup>They will tell about the glory of your kingdom and will speak about your power.

<sup>12</sup>Then everyone will know the mighty things you do and the glory and majesty of your kingdom.

<sup>13</sup>Your kingdom will go on and on,
and you will rule forever.

The Lord will keep all his promises;
he is loyal to all he has made.

<sup>14</sup>The Lord helps those who have been defeated and takes care of those who are in trouble.

<sup>15</sup>All living things look to you for food,
and you give it to them at the right time.

<sup>16</sup>You open your hand,
and you satisfy all living things.

He is loyal to all he has made.

<sup>18</sup>The Lord is close to everyone who prays to him,
to all who truly pray to him.

<sup>19</sup>He gives those who respect him what they want.
He listens when they cry, and he saves them.

<sup>20</sup>The Lord protects everyone who loves him,
but he will destroy the wicked.

<sup>21</sup>I will praise the Lord.
Let everyone praise his holy name forever.

Praise God Who Helps the Weak

Praise the Lord!

My whole being, praise the Lord.

<sup>2</sup>I will praise the Lord all my life;

I will sing praises to my God as long as I live.

<sup>3</sup>Do not put your trust in princes or other people, who cannot save you.

<sup>4</sup>When people die, they are buried.

Then all of their plans come to an end.

Their hope is in the Lord their God.

<sup>6</sup>He made heaven and earth,
the sea and everything in it.

He remains loyal forever.

<sup>7</sup>He does what is fair for those who have been wronged.

He gives food to the hungry.

The Lord sets the prisoners free.

The Lord lifts up people who are in trouble.

The Lord loves those who do right.

He defends the orphans and widows,
but he blocks the way of the wicked.

<sup>10</sup>The Lord will be King forever.

Jerusalem, your God is everlasting.

Praise the Lord!

Praise God Who Helps His People

Praise the Lord!

It is good to sing praises to our God;
it is good and pleasant to praise him.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord rebuilds Jerusalem;
he brings back the captured Israelites.

<sup>3</sup>He heals the brokenhearted and bandages their wounds.

<sup>4</sup>He counts the stars and names each one.

There is no limit to what he knows.

<sup>6</sup>The Lord defends the humble,
but he throws the wicked to the ground.

<sup>7</sup>Sing praises to the Lord;
praise our God with harps.

<sup>8</sup>He fills the sky with clouds and sends rain to the earth and makes grass grow on the hills.

<sup>9</sup>He gives food to cattle and to the little birds that call.

<sup>10</sup>He does not enjoy the strength of a horse or the strength of a man.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord is pleased with those who respect him,
with those who trust his love.

Jerusalem, praise your God.

<sup>13</sup>He makes your city gates strong and blesses your children inside.

<sup>14</sup>He brings peace to your country and fills you with the finest grain.

<sup>15</sup>He gives a command to the earth, and it quickly obeys him.

<sup>16</sup>He spreads the snow like wool and scatters the frost like ashes.

<sup>17</sup>He throws down hail like rocks.

No one can stand the cold he sends.

<sup>18</sup>Then he gives a command, and it melts.
He sends the breezes, and the waters flow.

<sup>19</sup>He gave his word to Jacob,
his laws and demands to Israel.

They don't know his laws.

Praise the Lord!

The World Should Praise the Lord

Praise the Lord!

Praise the Lord from the skies.

Praise him high above the earth.

<sup>2</sup>Praise him, all you angels.

Praise him, all you armies of heaven.

Praise him, all you shining stars.

<sup>4</sup>Praise him, highest heavens and you waters above the sky.

<sup>5</sup>Let them praise the Lord, because they were created by his command.

<sup>6</sup>He put them in place forever and ever;
he made a law that will never change.

<sup>7</sup>Praise the Lord from the earth,
you large sea animals and all the oceans,

<sup>8</sup>lightning and hail, snow and mist,
and stormy winds that obey him,

<sup>9</sup>mountains and all hills,
fruit trees and all cedars,

<sup>10</sup>wild animals and all cattle,
crawling animals and birds,

<sup>11</sup>kings of the earth and all nations, princes and all rulers of the earth,

<sup>12</sup>young men and women,
old people and children.

because he alone is great.

He is more wonderful than heaven and earth.

<sup>14</sup>God has given his people a king.

He should be praised by all who belong to him;
he should be praised by the Israelites, the people closest to his heart.

Praise the Lord!

Praise the God of Israel

Praise the Lord!

Sing a new song to the Lord;
sing his praise in the meeting of his people.

<sup>2</sup>Let the Israelites be happy because of God, their Maker.

Let the people of Jerusalem rejoice because of their King.

<sup>3</sup>They should praise him with dancing.

They should sing praises to him with tambourines and harps.

he saves the humble.

<sup>5</sup>Let those who worship him rejoice in his glory.
Let them sing for joy even in bed!

<sup>6</sup>Let them shout his praise with their two-edged swords in their hands.

<sup>7</sup>They will punish the nations and defeat the people.

<sup>8</sup>They will put those kings in chains and those important men in iron bands.

<sup>9</sup>They will punish them as God has written.
God is honored by all who worship him.
Praise the Lord!

Praise the Lord with Music

Praise the Lord!

Praise God in his Temple;
praise him in his mighty heaven.

<sup>2</sup>Praise him for his strength;

<sup>3</sup>Praise him with trumpet blasts;
praise him with harps and lyres.

<sup>4</sup>Praise him with tambourines and dancing;
praise him with stringed instruments and flutes.

<sup>5</sup>Praise him with loud cymbals;
praise him with crashing cymbals.

<sup>6</sup>Let everything that breathes praise the Lord.

Praise the Lord!

The Book of Proverbs

Introduction

Proverbs is a collection of lamps.

Not spotlights that blind. Not bonfires that blaze. But lamps. Lamps that do for your heart what the lamps in your house do for your eyes. They chase away the darkness.

“These commands are like a lamp,” wrote Solomon. “This teaching is like a light. And the correction that comes from them will help you have life” (6:23).

Reading Proverbs turns on the lamps in the dark corners of life.

Corners such as: Foolishness. Wisdom. Pride. Humility. Fear. Insecurity. Wealth. Mercy. Lust. Diligence. Laziness. Prudence. Anger. Flattery. Gossip. Violence.

And that’s just a start.

Having trouble with an enemy? Turn on the lamp of patience:

A gentle answer will calm a person’s anger, but an unkind answer will cause more anger (15:1).

Having trouble with greed? Flip the switch of prudence:

It is better to be poor and respect the Lord than to be wealthy and have much trouble (15:16).

Anxious about tomorrow? Sit under the light of trust:

Depend on the Lord in whatever you do, and your plans will succeed (16:3).

See what I mean? Time spent with Proverbs makes a heart wise. It’s a practical guide for getting along with others. Whereas Psalms tells you how to get along with God, Proverbs tells you how to get along with people. Whereas Psalms is a book for Sunday, Proverbs is a book for Monday.

Why don't you flip on a few lights and see for yourself?

Life Lessons

Proverbs 1:1–33

Situation

Proverbs provide wisdom and guidance for living an obedient life. Simple words and common sense give us guidelines for daily life.

Observation

The Proverbs contain many instructions to help steer readers away from sin. Listen to this advice and grow in wisdom.

Inspiration

I've thought about what the Scriptures are teaching on wisdom and I've come up with this: Wisdom is the God-given ability to see life with rare objectivity and to handle life with rare stability.

When we operate in the sphere of the wisdom of God, when it is at work in our mind and in our life, we look at life through lenses of perception, and we respond to it in calm confidence. There's a remarkable absence of fear. We are not seized with panic. We can either lose our jobs or we can be promoted in our work, and neither will derail us. Why? Because we see it with God-given objectivity. And we handle it in His wisdom.

We can dip into an unexpected valley or we can soar to the pinnacle of prosperity, and we can cope with both extremes. His wisdom provides us the necessary objectivity and stability. That's the way life is when it is lived in the palm of His hand. This is not some dreamland fantasy. It is reality. It is the ability to live above the drag of human opinion and horizontal perspective. It is what happens within us when wisdom goes to work. (From Living on the Ragged Edge by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Today you may be bombarded by people giving advice—talk show hosts, psychics, psychologists. Take more time to listen to God than to television. At the end of the day, assess which words of wisdom you applied (or should have).

Exploration

Wisdom—1 Kings 3:6–12; Proverbs 1:7; 4:7–8; Luke 2:40.

The Importance of Proverbs

These are the wise words of Solomon son of David, king of Israel.

<sup>2</sup>They teach wisdom and self-control;
they will help you understand wise words.

<sup>3</sup>They will teach you how to be wise and self-controlled and will teach you to do what is honest and fair and right.

<sup>4</sup>They make the uneducated smarter and give knowledge and sense to the young.

<sup>5</sup>Wise people can also listen and learn;
even smart people can find good advice in these words.

<sup>6</sup>Then anyone can understand wise words and stories, the words of the wise and their riddles.

<sup>7</sup>Knowledge begins with respect for the Lord,
but fools hate wisdom and self-control.

Warnings Against Evil

<sup>8</sup>My child, listen to your father's teaching and do not forget your mother's advice.

<sup>9</sup>Their teaching will be like flowers in your hair or a necklace around your neck.

<sup>10</sup>My child, if sinners try to lead you into sin, do not follow them.

<sup>11</sup>They will say, "Come with us.
Let's ambush and kill someone;
let's attack some innocent people just for fun.

<sup>12</sup>Let's swallow them alive, as death does;
let's swallow them whole, as the grave does.

<sup>13</sup>We will take all kinds of valuable things and fill our houses with stolen goods.

<sup>14</sup>Come join us, and we will share with you stolen goods."

<sup>15</sup>My child, do not go along with them;
do not do what they do.

<sup>16</sup>They are eager to do evil and are quick to kill.

<sup>17</sup>It is useless to spread out a net right where the birds can see it.

<sup>18</sup>But sinners will fall into their own traps;
they will only catch themselves!

<sup>19</sup>All greedy people end up this way;
greed kills selfish people.

Wisdom Speaks

<sup>20</sup>Wisdom is like a woman shouting in the street;

she raises her voice in the city squares.

<sup>21</sup>She cries out in the noisy street and shouts at the city gates:

<sup>22</sup>“You fools, how long will you be foolish?
How long will you make fun of wisdom and hate knowledge?”

<sup>23</sup>If only you had listened when I corrected you,
I would have told you what’s in my heart;
I would have told you what I am thinking.

<sup>24</sup>I called, but you refused to listen;
I held out my hand, but you paid no attention.

<sup>25</sup>You did not follow my advice and did not listen when I corrected you.

<sup>26</sup>So I will laugh when you are in trouble.
I will make fun when disaster strikes you,

<sup>27</sup>when disaster comes over you like a storm,
when trouble strikes you like a whirlwind,
when pain and trouble overwhelm you.

<sup>28</sup>“Then you will call to me, but I will not answer.

You will look for me,
but you will not find me.

<sup>29</sup>It is because you rejected knowledge and did not choose to respect the Lord.

<sup>30</sup>You did not accept my advice,
and you rejected my correction.

<sup>31</sup>So you will get what you deserve;
you will get what you planned for others.

<sup>32</sup>Fools will die because they refuse to listen;

they will be destroyed because they do not care.
<sup>33</sup>But those who listen to me will live in safety and be at peace, without fear of injury.”

Life Lessons

Proverbs 2:1-22

Situation

Solomon warned his readers to heed God's word. He exhorted them to learn about God, who would help them to choose the right path.

Observation

Rebelling against God's wisdom leads to immorality and spiritual death. God's wisdom keeps us from living an immoral and defeated life.

Inspiration

The secret is making the right choices. Here's what I mean. In the light of truth, you and I are able to see both truth and lie, both light and darkness—that which is simple, pure, and clear and that which is deceptive. But enslaved to darkness and plunged into the pit of the lie, we no longer see the truth. We have no other option but to believe the lie. We become victimized in our addiction—in “sin's foul bondage.”

The secret, of course, is making the right choices every day. So? Watch those choices! Watch your decisions! ...

We need to keep asking ourselves, Does this honor the Savior? Does this exalt my Lord? Does this bring glory to His name? Does this lift Him up? How powerful is our focus! ...

Once you decide to trust God in simple faith and allow Him complete freedom to carry out His plan and purpose in you as well as through you, you need only relax and count on Him to take care of things you once tried to keep under control.

(From Simple Faith by Charles Swindoll)

Application

As you read the Bible this week, select a Proverb each day that will help you make wise decisions. Make a list of these Proverbs. Carry the list with you so you can remind yourself to use this wisdom.

Exploration

Moral Choices—Exodus 23:24–25; 2 Kings 17:27–29; 2 Chronicles 13:8; Romans 1:25; 1 Corinthians 6:19–20.

Rewards of Wisdom

My child, listen to what I say and remember what I command you.

<sup>2</sup>Listen carefully to wisdom;
set your mind on understanding.

<sup>3</sup>Cry out for wisdom,
and beg for understanding.

<sup>4</sup>Search for it like silver,
and hunt for it like hidden treasure.

<sup>5</sup>Then you will understand respect for the Lord, and you will find that you know God.

<sup>6</sup>Only the Lord gives wisdom;
he gives knowledge and understanding.

<sup>7</sup>He stores up wisdom for those who are honest.
Like a shield he protects the innocent.

<sup>8</sup>He makes sure that justice is done,
and he protects those who are loyal to him.

<sup>9</sup>Then you will understand what is honest and fair and what is the good and right thing to do.

<sup>10</sup>Wisdom will come into your mind,
and knowledge will be pleasing to you.

<sup>11</sup>Good sense will protect you;
understanding will guard you.

<sup>12</sup>It will keep you from the wicked,
from those whose words are bad,

<sup>13</sup>who don't do what is right but what is evil.

<sup>14</sup>They enjoy doing wrong and are happy to do what is crooked and evil.

<sup>15</sup>What they do is wrong, and their ways are dishonest.

<sup>16</sup>It will save you from the unfaithful wife who tries to lead you into adultery with pleasing words.

<sup>17</sup>She leaves the husband she married when she was young.

She ignores the promise she made before God.

<sup>18</sup>Her house is on the way to death;
those who took that path are now all dead.

<sup>19</sup>No one who goes to her comes back or walks the path of life again.

<sup>20</sup>But wisdom will help you be good
and do what is right.

<sup>21</sup>Those who are honest will live in the land, and those who are innocent will remain in it.

<sup>22</sup>But the wicked will be removed from the land, and the unfaithful will be thrown out of it.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 3:1-35

Situation

God promises to guide those who obey and trust him. Those who obey must actively explore God's Word.

Observation

Depend on God in every part of your life, and he will guide, protect, and comfort you.

Inspiration

This expression "God's guidance," or "God's will," is really quite confusing. It seems so far removed from selling insurance, cleaning house, or taking the dog to the vet for his shot. It seems to imply being constantly ecstatic over "finding Jesus," or living on Cloud Nine without interruption. I suppose this could be part of it. But so many Christians, new and old alike, drape so much glamorous ecclesiastical jargon around it, that it gives the impression of being for an elite few "spiritual" or "saintly" people. That would leave out most of us, wouldn't it, God? ... Jesus told His disciples that He was going away and would send someone to carry on for Him. This one would be a Comforter, a Helper, to remind and to guide. If He wasn't supposed to guide us in all things, how would we know when He was guiding and when He wasn't?

It occurs to me that if I'm tuned in to You, Jesus, I'm guided in everything I do. It could include simple things at the office, housework, even answering the presumptuous ring of the telephone to give some lonely forgotten soul a bit of myself.

After a lot of trial and error, God, I think I've learned something about Your will in my life. And the key is so simple. So often I have stubbornly knocked and banged my head against a door of decision or opportunity I wanted to push open. And so often nothing happened. The door just wouldn't budge. At other times when You and I were tuned in to the same channel, I barely touched the latch, and the door swung open. Everything poured out: happinesses, opportunities for creativity, spiritual presents, deeper relationships with friends, and, when the timing was right, a chance to share Your love with someone... . Your guidance kind of snowballs, God, from relying on You for dozens of little actions and decisions, we learn to seek Your guidance in times of big events, even tragedies, in our lives. Gradually we begin to rely on You in everything we do, no matter how insignificant. (From Struggles of a Sinner-Saint by Lucille Lavender)

Application

Is your life like a hotel, with certain rooms marked "Do Not Disturb"? Open one of those rooms to God. If you are a pianist, give your practice or performance to God. If you are a basketball referee, give your game to God. No matter what your role in life or your occupation, live every aspect of your life to honor God.

Advice to Children

My child, do not forget my teaching,
but keep my commands in mind.

<sup>2</sup>Then you will live a long time,
and your life will be successful.

<sup>3</sup>Don't ever forget kindness and truth.
Wear them like a necklace.
Write them on your heart as if on a tablet.

<sup>4</sup>Then you will be respected and will please both God and people.

<sup>5</sup>Trust the Lord with all your heart, and don't depend on your own understanding.

<sup>6</sup>Remember the Lord in all you do,
and he will give you success.

<sup>7</sup>Don't depend on your own wisdom.
Respect the Lord and refuse to do wrong.

<sup>8</sup>Then your body will be healthy, and your bones will be strong.

<sup>9</sup>Honor the Lord with your wealth and the firstfruits from all your crops.

<sup>10</sup>Then your barns will be full,
and your wine barrels will overflow with new wine.

“MY CHILD, do not reject the Lord’s discipline, and don’t get angry when he corrects you.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord corrects those he loves, just as parents correct the child they delight in.

<sup>13</sup>Happy is the person who finds wisdom,
the one who gets understanding.

<sup>14</sup>Wisdom is worth more than silver;
it brings more profit than gold.

<sup>15</sup>Wisdom is more precious than rubies;
nothing you could want is equal to it.

<sup>16</sup>With her right hand wisdom offers you a long life,
and with her left hand she gives you riches and honor.

<sup>17</sup>Wisdom will make your life pleasant and will bring you peace.

<sup>18</sup>As a tree produces fruit, wisdom gives life to those who use it,
and everyone who uses it will be happy.

<sup>19</sup>The Lord made the earth, using his wisdom.
He set the sky in place, using his understanding.

<sup>20</sup>With his knowledge, he made springs flow into rivers and the clouds drop rain on the earth.

Don’t let them out of your sight.

<sup>22</sup>They will give you life and beauty like a necklace around your neck.

<sup>23</sup>Then you will go your way in safety, and you will not get hurt.

<sup>24</sup>When you lie down, you won’t be afraid;

when you lie down, you will sleep in peace.

<sup>25</sup>You won't be afraid of sudden trouble;
you won't fear the ruin that comes to the wicked,

<sup>26</sup>because the Lord will keep you safe.
He will keep you from being trapped.

<sup>27</sup>Whenever you are able,
do good to people who need help.

<sup>28</sup>If you have what your neighbor asks for,
don't say, "Come back later.

I will give it to you tomorrow."

<sup>29</sup>Don't make plans to hurt your neighbor who lives nearby and trusts you.

<sup>30</sup>Don't accuse a person for no good reason;
don't accuse someone who has not harmed you.

<sup>31</sup>Don't be jealous of those who use violence, and don't choose to be like them.

<sup>32</sup>The Lord hates those who do wrong, but he is a friend to those who are honest.

<sup>33</sup>The Lord will curse the evil person's house, but he will bless the home of those who do right.

but he gives grace to those who are not proud.

<sup>35</sup>Wise people will receive honor,
but fools will be disgraced.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 4:1-27

Situation

The author emphasized that God's wisdom has been tested through the generations. These time-tested truths can help everyone avoid evil.

Observation

Listening and following the words of a wise father help children learn how to act.

Inspiration

Many passages in the Old Testament deal with the concept of wisdom. The book of Proverbs is especially concerned with it. Here are some general comments:

“Only the Lord gives wisdom; he gives knowledge and understanding. He stores up wisdom for those who are honest. Like a shield he protects the innocent” (Proverbs 2:6-7).

“Happy is the person who finds wisdom, the one who gets understanding. Wisdom is worth more than silver; it brings more profit than gold” (Proverbs 3:13-14).

“My child, hold on to wisdom and good sense. Don't let them out of your sight” (Proverbs 3:20-21).

There are really too many to include here. The book of Proverbs itself is worthy of a study on this subject, but I think you get some idea of what it has to say about wisdom.

One of the best passages dealing with this concept, however, is found in the New Testament. In Ephesians 5:3–14, the apostle Paul exhorted the Ephesian believers to live moral lives. He made it clear to them that they were neither to participate in evil nor to speak of it. On the contrary, he commanded them to expose immoral deeds of evil persons.

... Practically speaking, our goal as believers cannot simply be not to sin. Rather it must be to walk wisely because walking wisely is the means by which moral living is carried out. Wise living provides a safety factor. It is like putting a fence around a pit with a Keep Out sign on it. The fence serves as a means of keeping people out of the pit. As the fence is to the pit, so wisdom is to sin. When followed, wisdom keeps us out of trouble by eliminating the possibility in the first place. (From How to Keep Your Kids on Your Team by Charles Stanley)

Application

Did you ever read about different thinkers or philosophers? Did you ever notice that their ideas seem to go out of style after a few years? God's wisdom doesn't! Make living by God's Word your highest priority. Read it, memorize it, think about it often, and let it change your life every day.

Exploration

Listen and Obey—Proverbs 30:5; Isaiah 30:21.

Wisdom Is Important

My children, listen to your father's teaching;
pay attention so you will understand.

<sup>2</sup>What I am telling you is good,
so do not forget what I teach you.

<sup>3</sup>When I was a young boy in my father's house and like an only child to my mother,

<sup>4</sup>my father taught me and said,
“Hold on to my words with all your heart.
Keep my commands and you will live.

<sup>5</sup>Get wisdom and understanding.
Don't forget or ignore my words.

<sup>6</sup>Hold on to wisdom, and it will take care of you.
Love it, and it will keep you safe.

<sup>7</sup>Wisdom is the most important thing; so get wisdom.
If it costs everything you have, get understanding.

<sup>8</sup>Treasure wisdom, and it will make you great;
hold on to it, and it will bring you honor.

<sup>9</sup>It will be like flowers in your hair and like a beautiful crown on your head.”

<sup>10</sup>My child, listen and accept what I say.
Then you will have a long life.

<sup>11</sup>I am guiding you in the way of wisdom, and I am leading you on the right path.

<sup>12</sup>Nothing will hold you back;

you will not be overwhelmed.

<sup>13</sup>Always remember what you have been taught,
and don't let go of it.

Keep all that you have learned;
it is the most important thing in life.

<sup>14</sup>Don't follow the ways of the wicked;
don't do what evil people do.

<sup>15</sup>Avoid their ways, and don't follow them.
Stay away from them and keep on going,

<sup>16</sup>because they cannot sleep until they do evil.
They cannot rest until they harm someone.

<sup>17</sup>They feast on wickedness and cruelty
as if they were eating bread and drinking wine.

<sup>18</sup>The way of the good person is like the light of dawn, growing brighter and brighter until full daylight.

<sup>19</sup>But the wicked walk around in the dark;
they can't even see what makes them stumble.

<sup>20</sup>My child, pay attention to my words;
listen closely to what I say.

<sup>21</sup>Don't ever forget my words;
keep them always in mind.

<sup>22</sup>They are the key to life for those who find them;
they bring health to the whole body.

<sup>23</sup>Be careful what you think,
because your thoughts run your life.

<sup>24</sup>Don't use your mouth to tell lies;
don't ever say things that are not true.

<sup>25</sup>Keep your eyes focused on what is right, and look straight ahead to what is good.

<sup>26</sup>Be careful what you do,
and always do what is right.

<sup>27</sup>Don't turn off the road of goodness;
keep away from evil paths.

Warning About Adultery

My son, pay attention to my wisdom;
listen to my words of understanding.

<sup>2</sup>Be careful to use good sense, and watch what you say.

New Life in Christ

Be careful what you think, because your thoughts run your life.—Proverbs 4:23

Guarding Our Hearts

Jesus guarded his heart. If he did, shouldn't we do the same? Most certainly! "Be careful what you think, because your thoughts run your life" (Proverbs 4:23). Jesus wants your heart to be fertile and fruitful. He wants you to have a heart like his. That is God's goal for you. He wants you to "think and act like Christ Jesus" (Philippians 2:5). But how? The answer is surprisingly simple. We can be transformed if we make one decision: I will submit my thoughts to the authority of Jesus.

It's easy to overlook a significant claim made by Christ at the conclusion of Matthew's gospel. "All power in heaven and on earth is given to me" (Matthew 28:18). Jesus claims to be the CEO of heaven and earth. He has the ultimate say on everything, especially our thoughts. He has more authority, for example, than your parents. Your parents may say you are no good, but Jesus says you are valuable, and he has authority over parents. He even has more authority over you than you do. You may tell yourself that you are too bad to be forgiven, but Jesus has a different opinion. If you give him authority over you, then your guilty thoughts are no longer allowed.

Jesus also has authority over your ideas. Suppose you have an idea that you want to rob a grocery store. Jesus, however, has made it clear that stealing is wrong. If you have given him authority over your ideas, then the idea of stealing cannot remain in your thoughts.

See what I mean by authority? To have a pure heart, we must submit all thoughts to the authority of Christ. If we are willing to do that, he will change us to be like him. (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

Question: What thoughts do you need to submit to Jesus' authority today?

<sup>3</sup>The words of another man's wife may seem sweet as honey;

they may be as smooth as olive oil.

<sup>4</sup>But in the end she will bring you sorrow, causing you pain like a two-edged sword.

<sup>5</sup>She is on the way to death;
her steps are headed straight to the grave.

<sup>6</sup>She gives little thought to life.
She doesn't even know that her ways are wrong.

<sup>7</sup>Now, my sons, listen to me,
and don't ignore what I say.

<sup>8</sup>Stay away from such a woman.
Don't even go near the door of her house,

<sup>9</sup>or you will give your riches to others, and the best years of your life will be given to someone cruel.

<sup>10</sup>Strangers will enjoy your wealth, and what you worked so hard for will go to someone else.

<sup>11</sup>You will groan at the end of your life
when your health is gone.

<sup>12</sup>Then you will say, "I hated being told what to do!
I would not listen to correction!"

<sup>13</sup>I would not listen to my teachers or pay attention to my instructors.

<sup>14</sup>I came close to being completely ruined in front of a whole group of people."

<sup>14</sup>Be faithful to your own wife,
just as you drink water from your own well.

<sup>16</sup>Don't pour your water in the streets;
don't give your love to just any woman.

<sup>17</sup>These things are yours alone and shouldn't be shared with strangers.

<sup>18</sup>Be happy with the wife you married when you were young.

She gives you joy, as your fountain gives you water.

<sup>19</sup>She is as lovely and graceful as a deer.

Let her love always make you happy;
let her love always hold you captive.

<sup>20</sup>My son, don't be held captive by a woman who takes part in adultery.

Don't hug another man's wife.

<sup>21</sup>The Lord sees everything you do,
and he watches where you go.

<sup>22</sup>An evil man will be caught in his wicked ways;
the ropes of his sins will tie him up.

<sup>23</sup>He will die because he does not control himself, and he will be held captive by his foolishness.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 5:1–6:35

Situation

Solomon warned his son of the sin of adultery. He urged him to remember what he was taught and to avoid the temptation of having sex outside of marriage. Rather, he encouraged him to enjoy the love of his own wife.

Observation

Do not be seduced by lust. Falling prey to lust only leads to moral ruin and spiritual death.

Inspiration

As the national sales manager for his securities firm, Jeremy was on the road at least three days out of every five. After two years of countless hotel rooms, he found the boredom setting in. Retiring to his hotel room at night, he began channel surfing with the television, searching for something to catch his interest. Like a moth to a flame, he became increasingly curious about the X-rated cable channels.

Not wanting to give in, he asked the men in his Saturday morning Bible study to hold him accountable to three things. When he arrived at the hotel, he would ask the desk clerk to disconnect his television. The second was that he would maintain a list of and be accountable about the books and magazines that he bought and was currently reading. Finally, whenever he felt tempted morally, he asked permission to call one of the other men, regardless of where he was or the time of day. (From A Dad's Blessing by Gary Smalley and John Trent)

Application

When do you struggle with lust? How can you avoid those situations? Don't allow sexual thoughts to occupy your mind. If you are married, avoid anything that causes you to desire anyone other than your own spouse and take extra time to demonstrate love to your spouse.

Exploration

Dangers of Being Foolish

My child, be careful about giving a guarantee for somebody else's loan, about promising to pay what someone else owes.

<sup>2</sup>You might get trapped by what you say;
you might be caught by your own words.

<sup>3</sup>My child, if you have done this and are under your neighbor's control, here is how to get free.

Don't be proud. Go to your neighbor and beg to be free from your promise.

<sup>4</sup>Don't go to sleep or even rest your eyes,

<sup>5</sup>but free yourself like a deer running from a hunter, like a bird flying away from a trapper.

<sup>6</sup>Go watch the ants, you lazy person.

Watch what they do and be wise.

<sup>7</sup>Ants have no commander,

no leader or ruler,

<sup>8</sup>but they store up food in the summer and gather their supplies at harvest.

<sup>9</sup>How long will you lie there, you lazy person?

When will you get up from sleeping?

<sup>10</sup>You sleep a little; you take a nap.

You fold your hands and lie down to rest.

<sup>11</sup>So you will be as poor as if you had been robbed;
you will have as little as if you had been held up.

<sup>12</sup>Some people are wicked and no good

Some people are wicked and no good.
They go around telling lies,
<sup>13</sup>winking with their eyes, tapping with their feet, and making signs with their fingers.
<sup>14</sup>They make evil plans in their hearts and are always starting arguments.
<sup>15</sup>So trouble will strike them in an instant;
suddenly they will be so hurt no one can help them.

<sup>16</sup>There are six things the Lord hates.
There are seven things he cannot stand:
<sup>17</sup>a proud look,
a lying tongue,
hands that kill innocent people, <sup>18</sup>a mind that thinks up evil plans, feet that are quick to do evil, <sup>19</sup>a witness who lies,
and someone who starts arguments among families.

Warning About Adultery

<sup>20</sup>My son, keep your father's commands, and don't forget your mother's teaching.
<sup>21</sup>Keep their words in mind forever
as though you had them tied around your neck.
<sup>22</sup>They will guide you when you walk.
They will guard you when you sleep.
They will speak to you when you are awake.
<sup>23</sup>These commands are like a lamp;

this teaching is like a light.

And the correction that comes from them will help you have life.

<sup>24</sup>They will keep you from sinful women and from the pleasing words of another man's unfaithful wife.

Don't let her capture you by the way she looks at you.

<sup>26</sup>A prostitute will treat you like a loaf of bread, and a woman who takes part in adultery may cost you your life.

<sup>27</sup>You cannot carry hot coals against your chest without burning your clothes,

<sup>28</sup>and you cannot walk on hot coals without burning your feet.

<sup>29</sup>The same is true if you have sexual relations with another man's wife.

Anyone who does so will be punished.

<sup>30</sup>People don't hate a thief
when he steals because he is hungry.

<sup>31</sup>But if he is caught, he must pay back seven times what he stole,
and it may cost him everything he owns.

<sup>32</sup>A man who takes part in adultery has no sense;
he will destroy himself.

<sup>33</sup>He will be beaten up and disgraced, and his shame will never go away.

<sup>34</sup>Jealousy makes a husband very angry,
and he will have no pity when he gets revenge.

<sup>35</sup>He will accept no payment for the wrong;
he will take no amount of money.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 7:1-27

Situation

The writer of Proverbs warned against yielding to the temptation of extramarital sex and other sins.

Observation

Beware of being entrapped in the lies of the world that promise sensuality as the means of happiness and significance.

Inspiration

As I work on this manuscript, I'm seated at a desk in a hotel room. I'm away from home. Away from people who know me.

Voices that encourage and affirm are distant.

But voices that tantalize and entice are near. Although the room is quiet, if I listen, their voices are crystal clear.

A placard on my nightstand invites me to a lounge in the lobby, where I can "make new friends in a relaxing atmosphere." An advertisement on top of the television promises me that with the request of a late-night adult movie my "fantasies will come true." In the phone book, several columns of escort services offer "love away from home." ... On television a talk-show host discusses the day's topic: "How to succeed at sex in the office."

Voices. Some for pleasure. Some for power.

The world rams at your door; Jesus taps at your door. The voices scream for your allegiance; Jesus softly and tenderly requests it. The world promises flashy pleasure; Jesus promises a quiet dinner ... with God. "I will come in and eat."

Which voice do you hear?

(From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

We cannot stand firm against the lies of the world unless we are firmly grounded in Christ. Be diligent to read God's Word, and pray often. Promise yourself to pray at three different times today.

Exploration

Follow the Lord—Deuteronomy 4:30; Psalm 111:10; Proverbs 8; Luke 9:35; Revelation 3:20.

The Woman of Adultery

My son, remember what I say, and treasure my commands.

<sup>2</sup>Obey my commands, and you will live.

Guard my teachings as you would your own eyes.

<sup>3</sup>Remind yourself of them;

write them on your heart as if on a tablet.

<sup>4</sup>Treat wisdom as a sister,

and make understanding your closest friend.

<sup>5</sup>Wisdom and understanding will keep you away from adultery, away from the unfaithful wife and her pleasing words.

<sup>6</sup>Once while I was at the window of my house

I looked out through the shutters

<sup>7</sup>and saw some foolish, young men.

I noticed one of them had no wisdom.

<sup>8</sup>He was walking down the street near the corner on the road leading to her house.

<sup>9</sup>It was the twilight of the evening;

the darkness of the night was just beginning.

<sup>10</sup>Then the woman approached him,

dressed like a prostitute and planning to trick him.

<sup>11</sup>She was loud and stubborn and never stayed at home.

<sup>12</sup>She was always out in the streets or in the city squares, waiting around on the corners of the streets.

<sup>13</sup>She grabbed him and kissed him.

Without shame she said to him,

<sup>14</sup>“I made my fellowship offering and took some of the meat home.

Today I have kept my special promises.

<sup>15</sup>So I have come out to meet you;

I have been looking for you and have found you.

<sup>16</sup>I have covered my bed with colored sheets from Egypt.

<sup>17</sup>I have made my bed smell sweet with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

<sup>18</sup>Come, let's make love until morning.

Let's enjoy each other's love.

<sup>19</sup>My husband is not home;

he has gone on a long trip.

<sup>20</sup>He took a lot of money with him and won't be home for weeks.”

<sup>21</sup>By her clever words she made him give in;

by her pleasing words she led him into doing wrong.

<sup>22</sup>All at once he followed her,

like an ox led to the butcher,

like a deer caught in a trap

<sup>23</sup>and shot through the liver with an arrow.

Like a bird caught in a trap,

he didn't know what he did would kill him.

<sup>24</sup>Now, my sons, listen to me;

pay attention to what I say.

<sup>25</sup>Don't let yourself be tricked by such a woman;
don't go where she leads you.

<sup>26</sup>She has ruined many good men,
and many have died because of her.

<sup>27</sup>Her house is on the road to death,
the road that leads down to the grave.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 8:1–36

Situation

God's wisdom called the readers of Proverbs to make right choices rather than wicked ones.

Observation

God always makes his wisdom available to us. Human wisdom will fail.

Inspiration

Everything God made—even human beings—has as its key purpose the reflection of the honor of God.

Unfortunately, the power of sin has tarnished the capacity of some aspects of creation to reflect that honor. In fact, sin first appears to have done its job on humanity; then, through men and women, sin systematically tarnished everything else in creation. But where man has not been able to confuse the issue, the creation continues to shout out its message: God the Creator be praised!

The growing mind, filled with the love of Christ, searches creation for these messages. Because of our spiritual and natural gifts, each of us is able to see and hear them in particular areas more than in others. And we are enabled to take this creation material and identify it, shape it, reconfigure it, or in other ways use it so that God is further glorified. The carpenter works with wood; the physician listens to the body; the musician shapes sounds; the executive manages people; the educator trains youth; the researcher analyzes, innovates, and implements with the elements of the universe.

We develop our minds for these tasks and rejoice as we do them for all that God is revealing to us out of His loving heart. (From Ordering Your Private World by Gordon MacDonald)

Application

What is your toughest decision today? After you have prayed and searched God's Word for advice, call a Christian friend who can help.

Exploration

Wisdom's Call—Psalm 119:97-104; Proverbs 1:20-28; 2:3-6; 4:5-8.

Listen to Wisdom

Wisdom calls to you like someone shouting;
understanding raises her voice.

<sup>2</sup>On the hilltops along the road and at the crossroads, she stands calling.

<sup>3</sup>Beside the city gates,
at the entrances into the city, she calls out:

<sup>4</sup>“Listen, everyone, I’m calling out to you;
I am shouting to all people.

<sup>5</sup>You who are uneducated, be smarter.
You who are foolish, get understanding.

<sup>6</sup>Listen, because I have important things to say,
and what I tell you is right.

<sup>7</sup>What I say is true,
I refuse to speak evil.

<sup>8</sup>Everything I say is honest;
nothing I say is crooked or false.

<sup>9</sup>People with good sense know what I say is true;
and those with knowledge know my words are right.

<sup>10</sup>Choose my teachings instead of silver, and knowledge rather than the finest gold.

Nothing you could want is equal to it.

<sup>12</sup>“I am wisdom, and I am smart.
I also have knowledge and good sense.

<sup>13</sup>If you respect the Lord, you will also hate evil.
I hate pride and bragging,
evil ways and lies.

<sup>14</sup>I have good sense and advice,
and I have understanding and power.

<sup>15</sup>I help kings to govern and rulers to make fair laws.

<sup>16</sup>Princes use me to lead,
and so do all important people who judge fairly.

<sup>17</sup>I love those who love me,
and those who seek me find me.

<sup>18</sup>Riches and honor are mine to give.
So are wealth and lasting success.

<sup>19</sup>What I give is better than the finest gold, better than the purest silver.

<sup>20</sup>I do what is right and follow the path of justice.

<sup>21</sup>I give wealth to those who love me, filling their houses with treasures.

<sup>22</sup>“I, wisdom, was with the Lord when he began his work,

long before he made anything else.

<sup>23</sup>I was created in the very beginning, even before the world began.

<sup>24</sup>I was born before there were oceans, or springs overflowing with water,

<sup>25</sup>before the hills were there,
before the mountains were put in place.

<sup>26</sup>God had not made the earth or fields, not even the first dust of the earth.

<sup>27</sup>I was there when God put the skies in place, when he stretched the horizon over the oceans, <sup>28</sup>when he made the clouds above and put the deep underground springs in place.

<sup>29</sup>I was there when he ordered the sea not to go beyond the borders he had set.
I was there when he laid the earth's foundation.

<sup>30</sup>I was like a child by his side.
I was delighted every day,
enjoying his presence all the time, <sup>31</sup>enjoying the whole world,
and delighted with all its people.

<sup>32</sup>“Now, my children, listen to me, because those who follow my ways are happy.

<sup>33</sup>Listen to my teaching, and you will be wise;
do not ignore it.

<sup>34</sup>Happy are those who listen to me, watching at my door every day,
waiting at my open doorway.

<sup>35</sup>Those who find me find life,
and the Lord will be pleased with them.

<sup>36</sup>Those who do not find me hurt themselves.
Those who hate me love death.”

Life Lessons

Proverbs 9:1–18

Situation

By contrasting the invitations of wisdom and foolishness, chapter 9 provides a summary statement of the first eight chapters of Proverbs.

Observation

God's wisdom leads to life. Foolishness, personified by the adulteress, leads to death.

Inspiration

"If Satan were to blow you out of the water," he asked, "how do you think he would do it?"

"I'm not sure I know," I answered. "All sorts of ways, I suppose; but I know there's one way he wouldn't get me."

"What's that?"

"He'd never get me in the area of my personal relationships. That's one place where I have no doubt that I'm as strong as you can get."

A few years after that conversation my world broke wide open. A chain of seemingly innocent choices became destructive, and it was my fault. And then my world broke—in the very area I had predicted I was safe—and my world had to be rebuilt. . . .

I wondered why until I realized from personal experience that where we perceive ourselves to be the strongest is where we're least likely to be prepared for a battle that isn't psychological or emotional. It's spiritual! Let no person ever say, "I can't be taken."

Or as St. Paul wrote, “So, if you think you are standing firm, be careful that you don’t fall!” (1 Corinthians 10:12). (From Rebuilding Your Broken World by Gordon MacDonald )

Application

Have you been nurturing a “harmless” habit? If so, you are like the man who continually passes in front of the prostitute’s house, thinking he can withstand her alluring invitations! Stop that compromising habit today and return to God before it is too late!

Exploration

Avoiding Sin—Job 31:1; Proverbs 4:14–15; 6:20–26; 8:13; 1 Corinthians 10:12–13; 2 Timothy 2:22; James 1:13–15.

Being Wise or Foolish

Wisdom has built her house; she has made its seven columns.

<sup>2</sup>She has prepared her food and wine;
she has set her table.

<sup>3</sup>She has sent out her servant girls, and she calls out from the highest place in the city.

<sup>4</sup>She says to those who are uneducated,
“Come in here, you foolish people!

<sup>5</sup>Come and eat my food and drink the wine I have prepared.

<sup>6</sup>Stop your foolish ways, and you will live;
take the road of understanding.

<sup>7</sup>“If you correct someone who makes fun of wisdom, you will be insulted.

If you correct an evil person, you will get hurt.

<sup>8</sup>Do not correct those who make fun of wisdom, or they will hate you.

But correct the wise, and they will love you.

<sup>9</sup>Teach the wise, and they will become even wiser;
teach good people, and they will learn even more.

<sup>10</sup>“Wisdom begins with respect for the Lord,
and understanding begins with knowing the Holy One.

<sup>11</sup>If you live wisely, you will live a long time;
wisdom will add years to your life.

<sup>12</sup>The wise person is rewarded by wisdom,
but whoever makes fun of wisdom will suffer for it.”

<sup>13</sup>Foolishness is like a loud woman;
she does not have wisdom or knowledge.

<sup>14</sup>She sits at the door of her house at the highest place in the city.

<sup>15</sup>She calls out to those who are passing by,
who are going along, minding their own business.

<sup>16</sup>She says to those who are uneducated,
“Come in here, you foolish people!

<sup>17</sup>Stolen water is sweeter,
and food eaten in secret tastes better.”

<sup>18</sup>But these people don't know that everyone who goes there dies,
that her guests end up deep in the grave.

Proverbs 10:1–32

Situation

This chapter begins a collection of proverbs attributed to Solomon.

Observation

The actions of wise and good people are contrasted with the deeds of foolish and evil people. Solomon emphasizes the need for honesty and the wise choice of words.

Inspiration

Insensitivity makes a wound that heals slowly.

If someone hurts your feelings intentionally, you know how to react. You know the source of the pain. But if someone accidentally bruises your soul, it's difficult to know how to respond.

Someone at work criticizes the new boss, who also happens to be your dear friend. “Oh, I’m sorry—I forgot the two of you were so close.”

A joke is told at a party about overweight people. You’re overweight. You hear the joke. You smile politely while your heart sinks.

What was intended to be a reprimand for a decision or action becomes a personal attack. “You have a history of poor decisions, John.”

Someone chooses to wash your dirty laundry in public. “Sue, is it true that you and Jim are separated?”

Insensitive comments. Thoughts that should have remained thoughts. Feelings which had no business being expressed. Opinions carelessly tossed like a grenade into a crowd.

And if you were to tell the one who threw these thoughtless darts about the pain they caused, his response would be “Oh, but I had no intention... I didn’t realize you were so sensitive!” or “I forgot you were here.”

In a way, the words are comforting, until you stop to think about them (which is not recommended). For when you start to think about insensitive slurs, you realize they come from an infamous family whose father has bred generations of pain. His name? Egotism. His children? Three sisters: disregard, disrespect, and disappointment.

These three witches have combined to poison countless relationships and break innumerable hearts. Listed among their weapons are Satan’s cruelest artillery: gossip, accusations, resentment, impatience, and on and on....

God’s Word has strong medicine for those who carelessly wag their tongues. The message is clear: He who dares to call himself God’s ambassador is not afforded the luxury of idle words. Excuses such as “I didn’t know you were here” or “I didn’t realize this was so touchy” are shallow when they come from those who claim to be followers and imitators of the Great Physician. We have an added responsibility to guard our tongues. (From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

Application

Evaluate the words you have spoken in the past week. What statements have been sinful or harmful? Did your words build up or tear down? Were they critical? Were they vulgar? If so, ask for God's forgiveness and seek the forgiveness of anyone you have offended. Ask for God's help to use your words wisely.

The Wise Words of Solomon

These are the wise words of Solomon:

A wise son makes his father happy,
but a foolish son makes his mother sad.

<sup>2</sup>Riches gotten by doing wrong have no value,
but right living will save you from death.

but he keeps evil people from getting what they want.

<sup>4</sup>A lazy person will end up poor,
but a hard worker will become rich.

<sup>5</sup>Those who gather crops on time are wise, but those who sleep through the harvest are a disgrace.

<sup>6</sup>Good people will have rich blessings,
but the wicked will be overwhelmed by violence.

<sup>7</sup>Good people will be remembered as a blessing, but evil people will soon be forgotten.

<sup>8</sup>The wise do what they are told,
but a talkative fool will be ruined.

<sup>9</sup>The honest person will live in safety,
but the dishonest will be caught.

<sup>10</sup>A wink may get you into trouble, and foolish talk will lead to your ruin.

<sup>11</sup>The words of a good person give life, like a fountain of water,
but the words of the wicked contain nothing but violence.

<sup>12</sup>Hatred stirs up trouble,
but love forgives all wrongs.

<sup>13</sup>Smart people speak wisely,
but people without wisdom should be punished.

<sup>14</sup>The wise don't tell everything they know,
but the foolish talk too much and are ruined.

<sup>15</sup>Having lots of money protects the rich,
but having no money destroys the poor.

<sup>16</sup>Good people are rewarded with life,
but evil people are paid with punishment.

<sup>17</sup>Whoever accepts correction is on the way to life, but whoever ignores correction will lead others away from life.

<sup>18</sup>Whoever hides hate is a liar.
Whoever tells lies is a fool.

<sup>19</sup>If you talk a lot, you are sure to sin;
if you are wise, you will keep quiet.

<sup>20</sup>The words of a good person are like pure silver, but an evil person's thoughts are worth very little.

<sup>21</sup>Good people's words will help many others,
but fools will die because they don't have wisdom.

<sup>22</sup>The Lord's blessing brings wealth,
and no sorrow comes with it.

<sup>23</sup>A foolish person enjoys doing wrong, but a person with understanding enjoys doing what is wise.

<sup>24</sup>Evil people will get what they fear most,
but good people will get what they want most.

<sup>25</sup>A storm will blow the evil person away,
but a good person will always be safe.

<sup>26</sup>A lazy person affects the one he works for like vinegar on the teeth or smoke in the eyes.

<sup>27</sup>Whoever respects the Lord will have a long life, but the life of an evil person will be cut short.

<sup>28</sup>A good person can look forward to happiness, but an evil person can expect nothing.

<sup>29</sup>The Lord will protect good people
but will ruin those who do evil.

<sup>30</sup>Good people will always be safe,
but evil people will not remain in the land.

<sup>31</sup>A good person says wise things,
but a liar's tongue will be stopped.

<sup>32</sup>Good people know the right thing to say,
but evil people only tell lies.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 11:1-31

Situation

Solomon gave practical words of wisdom that would ensure long life to those who heed them.

Observation

Solomon contrasted righteous and wicked behavior, paying special attention to the best use of money.

Inspiration

I know two men who work for a nonprofit organization. Both travel on expense accounts. One lives as a friend of God; the other does not. Circumstances are the same for both, but their responses to those circumstances are opposite. This is how the difference shows:

“Go ahead and order the steak.”

“But I don’t eat like this at home; I can’t afford it.”

“You’re not at home; it’s going on your expense account.”

“No.”

“You work hard; you’ve earned it.”

“I’m paid to work hard. I am not paid to exploit.”

When those two men started their work, both had strong convictions about the high calling of their vocations. They felt a sense of mission in a worthwhile organization, one that helped people in need. They kept costs down so that the money could be used as the donors expected it to be used. But then they began to notice that others in their group weren't so fussy. After a while it became easier for one of those men to change from a high view of commitment to the rationalization, "You won't be appreciated any more if you don't take." Even worse, he gave in to the charge, "You make the rest of us look bad when we turn in our expenses."

... But the other man won't bend....

He just goes on, one day at a time, trying to do what is expected of him by God. And usually that's all we have to go on as we try to be a friend of God. What others say cannot be the measure of what is ethical, moral, or right, even if it is legal. The view of the majority is not necessarily the view of God. (From Enjoying the Closeness of God by Roger Palms)

Application

Take a minute to look through your checkbook. How do you spend your money? Where does extra money go—eating out, golf, movies? Over the next month, skip one of these extras and give the money you save to a Christian ministry.

Exploration

The Rich Ruler—Luke 18:18-30. The Faithful, Wise Servant—Luke 12:42-48.

The Lord hates dishonest scales, but he is pleased with honest weights.

<sup>2</sup>Pride leads only to shame;
it is wise to be humble.

<sup>3</sup>Good people will be guided by honesty;
dishonesty will destroy those who are not trustworthy.

<sup>4</sup>Riches will not help when it's time to die,
but right living will save you from death.

<sup>5</sup>The goodness of the innocent makes life easier,
but the wicked will be destroyed by their wickedness.

<sup>6</sup>Doing right brings freedom to honest people, but those who are not trustworthy will be caught by their own desires.

<sup>7</sup>When the wicked die, hope dies with them;
their hope in riches will come to nothing.

<sup>8</sup>The good person is saved from trouble;
it comes to the wicked instead.

<sup>9</sup>With words an evil person can destroy a neighbor, but a good person will escape by being smart.

When evil people die, there are shouts of joy.

<sup>11</sup>Good people bless and build up their city,
but the wicked can destroy it with their words.

<sup>12</sup>People without good sense find fault with their neighbors,
but those with understanding keep quiet.

<sup>13</sup>Gossips can't keep secrets,
but a trustworthy person can.

<sup>14</sup>Without leadership a nation falls,
but lots of good advice will save it.

<sup>15</sup>Whoever guarantees to pay somebody else's loan will suffer.
It is safer to avoid such promises.

<sup>16</sup>A kind woman gets respect,
but cruel men get only wealth.

<sup>17</sup>Kind people do themselves a favor,
but cruel people bring trouble on themselves.

<sup>18</sup>An evil person really earns nothing,
but a good person will surely be rewarded.

<sup>19</sup>Those who are truly good will live,
but those who chase after evil will die.

<sup>20</sup>The Lord hates those with evil hearts
but is pleased with those who are innocent.

<sup>21</sup>Evil people will certainly be punished.

but those who do right will be set free.

<sup>22</sup>A beautiful woman without good sense is like a gold ring in a pig's snout.

<sup>23</sup>Those who do right only wish for good, but the wicked can expect to be defeated by God's anger.

<sup>24</sup>Some people give much but get back even more.
Others don't give what they should and end up poor.

<sup>25</sup>Whoever gives to others will get richer;
those who help others will themselves be helped.

<sup>26</sup>People curse those who keep all the grain, but they bless the one who is willing to sell it.

<sup>27</sup>Whoever looks for good will find kindness, but whoever looks for evil will find trouble.

<sup>28</sup>Those who trust in riches will be ruined, but a good person will be healthy like a green leaf.

<sup>29</sup>Whoever brings trouble to his family will be left with nothing but the wind.
A fool will be a servant to the wise.

<sup>30</sup>A good person gives life to others;
the wise person teaches others how to live.

<sup>31</sup>Good people will be rewarded on earth, and the wicked and the sinners will be punished.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 12:1–13:25

Situation

Solomon gave instruction about life. He contrasted good with evil, wisdom with foolishness, and labor with laziness.

Observation

Do right and you will succeed. Wickedness leads to failure and death. Foolishness and laziness lead to ruin.

Inspiration

You want success? Here's your model. You want achievement? Here's your prototype. You want bright lights, pageants and media attention? Consider the front-page, center article of the nation's largest daily newspaper.

It is a caricature of "Miss America." The vital data of the fifty-one participants has been compiled to present the perfect woman. She has brown hair. She has brown eyes. She knows how to sing and has a perfect figure: 35–24–35. She is Miss America.

The message trumpets off the page: "This is the standard for American women." The implication is clear: Do what it takes to be like her. Firm your thighs. Deepen your cleavage. Pamper your hair. Improve your walk.

No reference is made to her convictions ... to her honesty ... to her ... faith ... or to her God. But you are told her hip size.

In a small photo, four inches to the left, is another woman. Her face is thin. Her skin is wrinkled, almost leathery. No makeup ... no blush ... no lipstick. There is a faint smile on her lips and a glint in her eyes. She looks pale. Perhaps it's my imagination or perhaps it's time. The caption reads, "Mother Teresa: In serious condition."

Mother Teresa. You know her story. When she won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1985, she gave the two hundred thousand dollars to the poor of Calcutta. When a business man bought her a new car, she sold it and gave the money to the underprivileged. She owns nothing. She owes nothing.

Two women: Miss America and Mother Teresa. One walks the boardwalk; the other walks the alley. Two voices. One promises crowns, flowers, and crowds. The other promises service, surrender, and joy.

Now I have nothing against beauty pageants (although I have my reservations about them). But I do have something against the lying voices that noise our world.

You've heard them. They tell you to swap your integrity for a new sale. To barter your convictions for an easy deal. To exchange your devotion for a quick thrill.

They whisper. They woo. They taunt. They tantalize. They flirt. They flatter. "Go ahead, it's O.K." "Just wait until tomorrow." "Don't worry, no one will know." "How could anything that feels so right be so wrong?" ...

For amidst the fleeting promises of pleasure is the timeless promise of [God's] presence.

“I will be with you always, even until the end of this age” (Matthew 28:20).

“I will never leave you; I will never forget you” (Hebrews 13:5).

There is no chorus so loud that the voice of God cannot be heard ... if we will but listen. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

What matters to you: looks or love, your job or service to God, wealth or sacrifice? Pattern your life after wise, spiritual, and devoted workers.

Exploration

Righteousness—Psalm 1; Proverbs 10:2; Romans 4:3.

Anyone who loves learning accepts correction,
but a person who hates being corrected is stupid.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord is pleased with a good person,
but he will punish anyone who plans evil.

<sup>3</sup>Doing evil brings no safety at all,
but a good person has safety and security.

<sup>4</sup>A good wife is like a crown for her husband,
but a disgraceful wife is like a disease in his bones.

<sup>5</sup>The plans that good people make are fair,
but the advice of the wicked will trick you.

<sup>6</sup>The wicked talk about killing people,
but the words of good people will save them.

<sup>7</sup>Wicked people die and they are no more,
but a good person's family continues.

<sup>8</sup>The wisdom of the wise wins praise,
but there is no respect for the stupid.

<sup>9</sup>A person who is not important but has a servant is better off
than someone who acts important but has no food.

<sup>10</sup>Good people take care of their animals, but even the kindest acts of the wicked are cruel.

<sup>11</sup>Those who work their land will have plenty of food,
but the one who chases empty dreams is not wise.

<sup>12</sup>The wicked want what other evil people have stolen, but good people want to give what they have to others.

<sup>13</sup>Evil people are trapped by their evil talk,
but good people stay out of trouble.

<sup>14</sup>People will be rewarded for what they say,
and they will also be rewarded for what they do.

<sup>15</sup>Fools think they are doing right,
but the wise listen to advice.

<sup>16</sup>Fools quickly show that they are upset,
but the wise ignore insults.

<sup>17</sup>An honest witness tells the truth,
but a dishonest witness tells lies.

<sup>18</sup>Careless words stab like a sword,
but wise words bring healing.

<sup>19</sup>Truth will continue forever,
but lies are only for a moment.

<sup>20</sup>Those who plan evil are full of lies,
but those who plan peace are happy.

but an evil person's life is full of trouble.

<sup>22</sup>The Lord hates those who tell lies but is pleased with those who keep their promises.

<sup>23</sup>Wise people keep what they know to themselves, but fools can't keep from showing how foolish they are.

<sup>24</sup>Hard workers will become leaders,
but those who are lazy will be slaves.

<sup>25</sup>Worry is a heavy load,
but a kind word cheers you up.

<sup>26</sup>Good people take advice from their friends,
but an evil person is easily led to do wrong.

<sup>27</sup>The lazy catch no food to cook,
but a hard worker will have great wealth.

<sup>28</sup>Doing what is right is the way to life,
but there is another way that leads to death.

Wise children take their parents' advice, but whoever makes fun of wisdom won't listen to correction.

<sup>2</sup>People will be rewarded for what they say,
but those who can't be trusted want only violence.

<sup>3</sup>Those who are careful about what they say protect their lives,
but whoever speaks without thinking will be ruined.

<sup>4</sup>The lazy will not get what they want,
but those who work hard will.

<sup>5</sup>Good people hate what is false,
but the wicked do shameful and disgraceful things.

<sup>6</sup>Doing what is right protects the honest person,
but doing evil ruins the sinner.

<sup>7</sup>Some people pretend to be rich but really have nothing.
Others pretend to be poor but really are wealthy.

<sup>8</sup>The rich may have to pay a ransom for their lives, but the poor will face no such danger.

<sup>9</sup>Good people can look forward to a bright future,
but the future of the wicked is like a flame going out.

<sup>10</sup>Pride only leads to arguments,
but those who take advice are wise.

<sup>11</sup>Money that comes easily disappears quickly, but money that is gathered little by little will grow.

<sup>12</sup>It is sad not to get what you hoped for.
But wishes that come true are like eating fruit from the tree of life.

<sup>13</sup>Those who reject what they are taught will pay for it, but those who obey what they are told will be rewarded.

<sup>14</sup>The teaching of a wise person gives life.
It is like a fountain that can save people from death.

<sup>15</sup>People with good understanding will be well liked, but the lives of those who are not trustworthy are hard.

<sup>16</sup>Every wise person acts with good sense, but fools show how foolish they are.

<sup>17</sup>A wicked messenger brings nothing but trouble,
but a trustworthy one makes everything right.

<sup>18</sup>A person who refuses correction will end up poor and disgraced,
but the one who accepts correction will be honored.

<sup>19</sup>It is so good when wishes come true, but fools hate to stop doing evil.

<sup>20</sup>Spend time with the wise and you will become wise, but the friends of fools will suffer.

<sup>21</sup>Trouble always comes to sinners,
but good people enjoy success.

<sup>22</sup>Good people leave their wealth to their grandchildren, but a sinner's wealth is stored up for good people.

but others often steal it away.

<sup>24</sup>If you do not punish your children, you don't love
them,
but if you love your children, you will correct them.

<sup>25</sup>Good people have enough to eat,
but the wicked will go hungry.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 14:1–35

Situation

Each proverb in this section was written to capture interest through contrast. Each one highlights the life of the wise and righteous person in contrast to life of the foolish and wicked.

Observation

If we choose to live by God's standards, we will be righteous. But if we choose to live by our own standards, we will be wicked and will face God's wrath.

Inspiration

The natural man is spiritually dead, separated from God. He has neither the presence of God in His life nor the knowledge of God's ways. He has learned to live his life independently of God. Essentially, this is what constitutes the "flesh." His mind has been conformed to this world. The brain, which is physical and part of the body, functions like a computer. The mind is the programmer. The body picks up data from the world through its five senses. The mind chooses and interprets the data, and the brain stores it. The emotions are essentially a product of how the mind chooses to think and interpret life's events.

When we are born again, the Holy Spirit takes up residence in our life. Because we are now spiritually alive and united with Christ, we have the mind of Christ. We have become a partaker of the divine nature. However, nobody pushed the clear button in the computer. The brain is still programmed to live independently of God...

The battle is for the mind: "For the flesh sets its desire against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; for these are in opposition to one another" (Galatians 5:17). God has given us the responsibility to choose. The carnal Christian chooses to walk according to the flesh. What governs his behavior are the old habit patterns and thoughts that were programmed over time. The spiritually defeated Christian fails to put on the armor of God, and ends up paying attention to deceiving spirits. The spiritual man has crucified the flesh and put on the armor of God; he chooses to think upon that which is true.

We are to be renewed in the spirit of our minds (Ephesians 4:23). The Holy Spirit discloses the mind of Christ. We must choose to no longer be conformed to this world. We are to be diligent to present ourselves approved to God as a workman who does not need to be ashamed, handling accurately the word of truth (2 Timothy 2:15). When we do, we are transformed by the renewing of our minds. We choose to think the truth, and the Holy Spirit enables our thoughts and renews our minds with the logos. Then the peace of God guards our hearts and minds. We let the peace of Christ rule in our hearts by letting the word of Christ richly dwell in us (Colossians 3:15-16). We are now equipped to discern.

(From Walking in the Light by Neil Anderson)

Application

Do you have a quick temper? Do you respond selfishly to others? Reread this chapter substituting the word “I” for the subject in sentences that deal with righteousness (“I strengthen my family ... I live a good life ... I am a truthful witness”). With each statement, ask, “Is this true of me?” When you answer no, look for ways to make it true!

Exploration

Wisdom—1 Kings 3:6–9, 12; Psalm 119:97–104; Proverbs 1:23–28; 2:3–6, 9–10; Ecclesiastes 8:1; Luke 2:40; James 1:5.

A wise woman strengthens her family,
but a foolish woman destroys hers by what she does.

<sup>2</sup>People who live good lives respect the Lord,
but those who live evil lives don't.

<sup>3</sup>Fools will be punished for their proud words, but the words of the wise will protect them.

<sup>4</sup>When there are no oxen, no food is in the barn.
But with a strong ox, much grain can be grown.

<sup>5</sup>A truthful witness does not lie,
but a false witness tells nothing but lies.

<sup>6</sup>Those who make fun of wisdom look for it and do not find it,
but knowledge comes easily to those with understanding.

<sup>7</sup>Stay away from fools,
because they can't teach you anything.

<sup>8</sup>A wise person will understand what to do, but a foolish person is dishonest.

<sup>9</sup>Fools don't care if they sin, but honest people work at being right.

<sup>10</sup>No one else can know your sadness, and strangers cannot share your joy.

<sup>11</sup>The wicked person's house will be destroyed, but a good person's tent will still be standing.

<sup>12</sup>Some people think they are doing right,
but in the end it leads to death.

<sup>13</sup>Someone who is laughing may be sad inside, and joy may end in sadness.

<sup>14</sup>Evil people will be paid back for their evil ways, and good people will be rewarded for their good ones.

<sup>15</sup>Fools will believe anything, but the wise think about what they do.

<sup>16</sup>Wise people are careful and stay out of trouble, but fools are careless and quick to act.

<sup>17</sup>Someone with a quick temper does foolish things, but someone with understanding remains calm.

<sup>18</sup>Fools are rewarded with nothing but more foolishness,
but the wise are rewarded with knowledge.

<sup>19</sup>Evil people will bow down to those who are good;
the wicked will bow down at the door of those who do right.

<sup>20</sup>The poor are rejected, even by their neighbors, but the rich have many friends.

<sup>21</sup>It is a sin to hate your neighbor,
but being kind to the needy brings happiness.

<sup>22</sup>Those who make evil plans will be ruined, but those who plan to do good will be loved and trusted.

<sup>23</sup>Those who work hard make a profit,
but those who only talk will be poor.

<sup>24</sup>Wise people are rewarded with wealth,
but fools only get more foolishness.

<sup>25</sup>A truthful witness saves lives,
but a false witness is a traitor.

<sup>26</sup>Those who respect the Lord will have security, and their children will be protected.

It is like a fountain that can save people from death.

<sup>28</sup>A king is honored when he has many people to rule, but a prince is ruined if he has none.

<sup>29</sup>Patient people have great understanding, but people with quick tempers show their foolishness.

<sup>30</sup>Peace of mind means a healthy body, but jealousy will rot your bones.

but whoever is kind to the needy honors God.

<sup>32</sup>The wicked are ruined by their own evil,
but those who do right are protected even in death.

<sup>33</sup>Wisdom lives in those with understanding, and even fools recognize it.

<sup>34</sup>Doing what is right makes a nation great,
but sin will bring disgrace to any people.

<sup>35</sup>A king is pleased with a wise servant,
but he will become angry with one who causes him
shame.

Proverbs 15:1–33

Situation

Wise and prudent followers of God solve their problems while pleasing God. The corrupt and foolish may gain wealth, but they also gain God’s wrath.

Observation

We should seek God’s wisdom in every part of life. A wise person solves problems peacefully.

Inspiration

“People who work for peace in a peaceful way plant a good crop of right-living” [James 3:18].

The principle for peace is the same as the principle for crops: Never underestimate the power of a seed.

The story of Heinz is a good example. Europe, 1934. Hitler’s plague of anti-Semitism was infecting a continent. Some would escape it. Some would die from it. But eleven-year-old Heinz would learn from it. He would learn the power of sowing seeds of peace.

Heinz was a Jew.

The Bavarian village of Furth, where Heinz lived, was being overrun by Hitler’s young thugs. Heinz’s father, a schoolteacher, lost his job. Recreational activities ceased. Tension mounted on the streets.

The Jewish families clutched the traditions that held them together—the observance of the Sabbath, of Rosh Hashanah, of Yom Kippur. Old ways took on new significance. As the clouds of persecution swelled and blackened, these ancient precepts were a precious cleft in a mighty rock.

And as the streets became a battleground, such security meant survival.

Hitler youth roamed the neighborhoods looking for trouble. Young Heinz learned to keep his eyes open. When he saw a band of troublemakers, he would step to the other side of the street. Sometimes he would escape a fight—sometimes not.

One day, in 1934, a pivotal confrontation occurred. Heinz found himself face-to-face with a Hitler bully. A beating appeared inevitable. This time, however, he walked away unhurt—not because of what he did, but because of what he said. He didn't fight back; he spoke up. He convinced the troublemakers that a fight was not necessary. His words kept battle at bay. And Heinz saw firsthand how the tongue can create peace.

He learned the skill of using words to avoid conflict. And for a young Jew in Hitler-ridden Europe, that skill had many opportunities to be honed.

Fortunately, Heinz's family escaped from Bavaria and made their way to America. Later in life, he would downplay the impact those adolescent experiences had on his development.

But one has to wonder. For after Heinz grew up, his name became synonymous with peace negotiations. His legacy became that of a bridgebuilder. Somewhere he had learned the power of the properly placed word of peace. And one has to wonder if his training didn't come on the streets of Bavaria.

You don't know him as Heinz. You know him by his Anglicized name, Henry. Henry Kissinger.

Never underestimate the power of a seed. (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

This chapter has nine proverbs that deal directly with your relationship with God. Select three of them to help you improve your relationship with him.

Exploration

Continual Devotion—Psalm 119:147–148; Matthew 13:44–46; Mark 12:28–30; Romans 12:11–12; Galatians 6:9.

A gentle answer will calm a person's anger,
but an unkind answer will cause more anger.

<sup>2</sup>Wise people use knowledge when they speak,
but fools pour out foolishness.

he watches both evil and good people.

<sup>4</sup>As a tree gives fruit, healing words give life, but dishonest words crush the spirit.

<sup>5</sup>Fools reject their parents' correction,
but anyone who accepts correction is wise.

but evil people get nothing but trouble.

<sup>7</sup>Wise people use their words to spread knowledge,
but there is no knowledge in the thoughts of fools.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord hates the sacrifice that the wicked offer,
but he likes the prayers of honest people.

<sup>9</sup>The Lord hates what evil people do,
but he loves those who do what is right.

<sup>10</sup>The person who quits doing what is right will be punished,
and the one who hates to be corrected will die.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord knows what is happening in the world of the dead, so he surely knows the thoughts of the living.

<sup>12</sup>Those who make fun of wisdom don't like to be corrected;
they will not ask the wise for advice.

<sup>13</sup>Happiness makes a person smile,
but sadness can break a person's spirit.

<sup>14</sup>People with understanding want more knowledge,
but fools just want more foolishness.

<sup>15</sup>Every day is hard for those who suffer,
but a happy heart is like a continual feast.

<sup>16</sup>It is better to be poor and respect the Lord than to be wealthy and have much trouble.

<sup>17</sup>It is better to eat vegetables with those who love you than to eat meat with those who hate you.

<sup>18</sup>People with quick tempers cause trouble,
but those who control their tempers stop a quarrel.

<sup>19</sup>A lazy person's life is like a patch of thorns,
but an honest person's life is like a smooth highway.

<sup>20</sup>A wise son makes his father happy,
but a foolish son disrespects his mother.

<sup>21</sup>A person without wisdom enjoys being foolish, but someone with understanding does what is right.

<sup>22</sup>Plans fail without good advice,
but they succeed with the advice of many others.

<sup>23</sup>People enjoy giving good advice.
Saying the right word at the right time is so pleasing.

<sup>24</sup>Wise people's lives get better and better.
They avoid whatever would cause their death.

<sup>25</sup>The Lord will tear down the proud person's house,
but he will protect the widow's property.

<sup>26</sup>The Lord hates evil thoughts
but is pleased with kind words.

<sup>27</sup>Greedy people bring trouble to their families, but the person who can't be paid to do wrong will live.

<sup>28</sup>Good people think before they answer,
but the wicked simply pour out evil.

<sup>29</sup>The Lord does not listen to the wicked, but he hears the prayers of those who do right.

<sup>30</sup>Good news makes you feel better.
Your happiness will show in your eyes.

<sup>31</sup>If you listen to correction to improve your life,
you will live among the wise.

<sup>52</sup>Those who refuse correction hate themselves, but those who accept correction gain understanding.

<sup>33</sup>Respect for the Lord will teach you wisdom.
If you want to be honored, you must be humble.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 16:1–33

Situation

Solomon knew that when his actions and motives pleased God, God rewarded him with peace. When pride and greed entered his heart, he began to travel down the road to chaos and destruction.

Observation

No matter what good we do, God knows our motivation for doing it. God judges our motives, not simply our actions.

Inspiration

Conscience is like a compass. If a compass is faulty, you'll quickly get off course. A conscience gets its signals from the heart, which can be dulled, hardened, or calloused. Furthermore, a conscience can be overly sensitive or can even drive one mad....

In order for one's conscience to be a good guide, one the Spirit can direct, it needs to be healthy, sensitive, and capable of getting God's message and truth.

... When one realizes the true condition of the heart without God and ponders the impact of his or her sinfulness, there is an emotional reaction—greater in some than in others. But there is an emotional reaction. I have offended. I have grieved the heart of God. I have driven nails into Christ's hands with my sins. That does something to my emotions when I, as a sinner, realize that. When the truth of forgiveness and grace and God's overwhelming love pour over me, there is an emotional reaction. And I must admit that. When I realize that God has reserved a home in heaven for me—a reprobate sinner who was running in the other direction when He stopped me, turned me around in grace, and brought me to Himself—that brings an emotional response. Don't deny those emotions! ...

God gave you a mind. Use it to know Him better. Study the doctrines that put steel into the cement of your faith. Exercise your mind!

God gave you a will. Use it to obey Him. Make decisions that honor Him and please Him. Exercise your will!

And God gave you emotions. Don't be afraid of them. Let them out. Allow your heart to show through. Exercise your emotions!

If we refuse to open up, to allow the full prism of His love and truth to shine through our lives, we will miss much of the color life has to offer. (From Flying Closer to the Flame by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Are you fooling God? It can't be done! You can't just "go through the motions." Live a genuine life of faith today by praying that God will guide your heart and mind. Then he will direct your actions.

Exploration

Heart—1 Samuel 16:7; Proverbs 4:23; Jeremiah 17:9-10; Luke 6:45.

People may make plans in their minds,
but only the Lord can make them come true.

<sup>2</sup>You may believe you are doing right,
but the Lord will judge your reasons.

<sup>3</sup>Depend on the Lord in whatever you do,
and your plans will succeed.

<sup>4</sup>The Lord makes everything go as he pleases.
He has even prepared a day of disaster for evil people.

They will surely be punished.

<sup>6</sup>Love and truth bring forgiveness of sin.
By respecting the Lord you will avoid evil.

<sup>7</sup>When people live so that they please the Lord, even their enemies will make peace with them.

<sup>8</sup>It is better to be poor and right than to be wealthy and dishonest.

<sup>9</sup>People may make plans in their minds,
but the Lord decides what they will do.

<sup>10</sup>The words of a king are like a message from God, so his decisions should be fair.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord wants honest balances and scales;

all the weights are his work.

<sup>12</sup>Kings hate those who do wrong,
because governments only continue if they are fair.

<sup>13</sup>Kings like honest people;
they value someone who speaks the truth.

<sup>14</sup>An angry king can put someone to death,
so a wise person will try to make him happy.

<sup>15</sup>A smiling king can give people life;
his kindness is like a spring shower.

<sup>16</sup>It is better to get wisdom than gold,
and to choose understanding rather than silver!

<sup>17</sup>Good people stay away from evil.
By watching what they do, they protect their lives.

<sup>18</sup>Pride will destroy a person;
a proud attitude leads to ruin.

<sup>19</sup>It is better to be humble and be with those who suffer than to share stolen property with the proud.

<sup>20</sup>Whoever listens to what is taught will succeed, and whoever trusts the Lord will be happy.

<sup>21</sup>The wise are known for their understanding.
Their pleasant words make them better teachers.

<sup>22</sup>Understanding is like a fountain which gives life to those who use it,

but foolishness brings punishment to fools.

<sup>23</sup>Wise people's minds tell them what to say,
and that helps them be better teachers.

<sup>24</sup>Pleasant words are like a honeycomb, making people happy and healthy.

but in the end it leads to death.

<sup>26</sup>The workers' hunger helps them,
because their desire to eat makes them work.

<sup>27</sup>Useless people make evil plans,
and their words are like a burning fire.

<sup>28</sup>A useless person causes trouble, and a gossip ruins friendships.

<sup>29</sup>Cruel people trick their neighbors and lead them to do wrong.

<sup>30</sup>Someone who winks is planning evil,
and the one who grins is planning something wrong.

<sup>31</sup>Gray hair is like a crown of honor;
it is earned by living a good life.

<sup>32</sup>Patience is better than strength.
Controlling your temper is better than capturing a city.

<sup>33</sup>People throw lots to make a decision, but the answer comes from the Lord.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 17:1-28

Situation

God judges every person by the same standard. He condemns evil.

Observation

Wisdom does not come naturally. We gain it by respecting God and making careful choices.

Inspiration

The God who has shown himself to be for us, will also to be with us. He is infinitely capable and desirous of relating himself to every person who freely opens himself to such a relationship. God wills this as the means of fulfilling his purpose in us, enabling us to become the kind of persons he intends us to be.

The divine capacity to be personally related to us is rooted in the richness and complexity of the very being of God. "God in Three Persons!" Transcendent above and eminent in all that exists. Disclosing himself dramatically and painfully in our history. Intimately and profoundly present with each who will open himself to the Spirit.

And we are built so that we may deeply receive his Spirit. We bear his image. Our person is patterned after his Person. Our spirit, at its deepest level, is kin to his Spirit.

As we, then, accept the loving knowledge of God made possible through Christ, we are drawn by the Spirit into a deeper knowledge which becomes trust, commitment, growth, fulfillment.

(From With Good Reason by Chester A. Pennington)

Application

Avoid the mistakes others have made. Spend time with a Christian older than you. Gain wisdom by hearing of that person's success and failures. Find answers to questions like: "What has helped you get to know God better? How do you resist temptation? How do you respond to stress?"

Exploration

Faith—Psalm 20:7; John 14:14–17; Hebrews 11:1.

It is better to eat a dry crust of bread in peace than to have a feast where there is quarreling.

<sup>2</sup>A wise servant will rule over the master's disgraceful child and will even inherit a share of what the master leaves his children.

<sup>3</sup>A hot furnace tests silver and gold,
but the Lord tests hearts.

<sup>4</sup>Evil people listen to evil words.
Liars pay attention to cruel words.

whoever enjoys someone's trouble will be punished.

<sup>6</sup>Old people are proud of their grandchildren,
and children are proud of their parents.

<sup>7</sup>Fools should not be proud, and rulers should not be liars.

<sup>8</sup>Some people think they can pay others to do anything they ask.
They think it will work every time.

<sup>9</sup>Whoever forgives someone's sin makes a friend,
but gossiping about the sin breaks up friendships.

<sup>10</sup>A wise person will learn more from a warning than a fool will learn from a hundred lashings.

<sup>11</sup>Disobedient people look only for trouble, so a cruel messenger will be sent against them.

<sup>12</sup>It is better to meet a bear robbed of her cubs than to meet a fool doing foolish things.

<sup>14</sup>Starting a quarrel is like a leak in a dam, so stop it before a fight breaks out.

<sup>16</sup>It won't do a fool any good to try to buy wisdom, because he doesn't have the ability to be wise.

<sup>17</sup>A friend loves you all the time, and a brother helps in time of trouble.

<sup>19</sup>Whoever loves to argue loves to sin. Whoever brags a lot is asking for trouble.

<sup>20</sup>A person with an evil heart will find no success, and the person whose words are evil will get into trouble.

<sup>21</sup>It is sad to have a foolish child;
there is no joy in being the parent of a fool.

<sup>22</sup>A happy heart is like good medicine,
but a broken spirit drains your strength.

<sup>23</sup>When the wicked accept money to do wrong
there can be no justice.

<sup>24</sup>The person with understanding is always looking for wisdom,
but the mind of a fool wanders everywhere.

<sup>25</sup>A foolish son makes his father sad and causes his mother great sorrow.

<sup>26</sup>It is not good to punish the innocent or to beat leaders for being honest.

<sup>27</sup>The smart person says very little,
and one with understanding stays calm.

<sup>28</sup>Even fools seem to be wise if they keep quiet;
if they don't speak, they appear to understand.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 18:1-24

Situation

For Jews, the individual was not separate from the community. Antisocial behavior was considered a terrible crime in Israel and Judah.

Observation

There are three warnings in this chapter against forming hasty opinions.

Inspiration

We aren't good enough to judge. Can the hungry accuse the beggar? Can the sick mock the ill? Can the blind judge the deaf? Can the sinner condemn the sinner? No. Only One can judge, and that One is neither writing nor reading this book.

Not only are we unworthy, we are unqualified. We don't know enough about the person to judge him. We don't know enough about his past. We condemn a man for stumbling this morning, but we didn't see the blows he took yesterday. We judge a woman for the limp in her walk but cannot see the tack in her shoe. We mock the fear in their eyes but have no idea how many stones they have ducked or darts they have dodged.

Are they too loud? Perhaps they fear being neglected again. Are they too timid? Perhaps they fear failing again. Too slow? Perhaps they fell the last time they hurried. You don't know. Only one who has followed yesterday's steps can be their judge.

Not only are we ignorant about yesterday, we are ignorant about tomorrow. Dare we judge a book while chapters are yet unwritten? Should we pass a verdict on a painting while the artist still holds the brush? How can you dismiss a soul until God's work is complete? "God began doing a good work in you, and I am sure he will continue it until it is finished when Jesus Christ comes again" (Philippians 1:6).

Be careful! The Peter who denies Jesus at tonight's fire may proclaim him with fire at tomorrow's Pentecost. The Samson who is blind and weak today may use his final strength to level the pillars of godlessness. A stammering shepherd in this generation may be the mighty Moses of the next. Don't call Noah a fool, you may be asking him for a lift. "Do not judge before the right time; wait until the Lord comes" (1 Corinthians 4:5).

A condemned criminal was sent to his death by his country. In his final moments, he asked for mercy. Had he asked for mercy from the people, it would have been denied. Had he asked it of the government, it would have been declined. Had he asked it of his victims, they would have turned a deaf ear. But it wasn't to these he turned for grace. He turned instead to the bloodied form of the One who hung on the cross next to his and pleaded, "Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom." And Jesus answered by saying, "I tell you the truth, today you will be with me in paradise" (Luke 23:43). (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

Application

Are you consciously or subconsciously judging someone? Try to determine what is behind your attitude. Are you jumping to conclusions? Do you know the whole story? List a number of reasons why you are unqualified to be that person's judge. Ask God to give you a heart of compassion instead.

Exploration

Warnings Against Judging—Matthew 7:1-5; 1 Corinthians 4:5; James 4:11-12.

Unfriendly people are selfish and hate all good sense.

<sup>2</sup>Fools do not want to understand anything.
They only want to tell others what they think.

<sup>3</sup>Do something evil, and people won't like you.
Do something shameful, and they will make fun of you.

<sup>4</sup>Spoken words can be like deep water,
but wisdom is like a flowing stream.

<sup>5</sup>It is not good to honor the wicked or to be unfair to the innocent.

<sup>6</sup>The words of fools start quarrels.
They make people want to beat them.

<sup>7</sup>The words of fools will ruin them;
their own words will trap them.

<sup>8</sup>The words of a gossip are like tasty bits of food.
People like to gobble them up.

<sup>9</sup>A person who doesn't work hard
is just like someone who destroys things.

those who do right can run to him for safety.

<sup>11</sup>Rich people trust their wealth to protect them.
They think it is like the high walls of a city.

<sup>12</sup>Proud people will be ruined,
but the humble will be honored.

<sup>13</sup>Anyone who answers without listening is foolish and confused.

<sup>14</sup>The will to live can get you through sickness, but no one can live with a broken spirit.

<sup>15</sup>The mind of a person with understanding gets knowledge;
the wise person listens to learn more.

<sup>16</sup>Taking a gift to an important man will help get you in to see him.

<sup>17</sup>The person who tells one side of a story seems right, until someone else comes and asks questions.

<sup>18</sup>Throwing lots can settle arguments and keep the two sides from fighting.

<sup>19</sup>A brother who has been insulted is harder to win back than a walled city, and arguments separate people like the barred gates of a palace.

<sup>20</sup>People will be rewarded for what they say;
they will be rewarded by how they speak.

<sup>21</sup>What you say can mean life or death.
Those who speak with care will be rewarded.

<sup>22</sup>When a man finds a wife, he finds something good.
It shows that the Lord is pleased with him.

<sup>23</sup>The poor beg for mercy,
but the rich give rude answers.

<sup>24</sup>Some friends may ruin you, but a real friend will be more loyal than a brother.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 19:1–29

Situation

Solomon contrasted foolishness with wisdom, wealth with poverty, and falsehood with truth.

Observation

Keep the highest standards for God in your thoughts and actions.

Inspiration

Jesus summarized the Christian life in the simplest summation of all: “Just as you want men to do to you, you also do to them likewise” (Luke 6:31). This we call the Golden Rule—the law of gold, a gold more precious than diamonds and rubies. Any child can recite the Golden Rule, but to make it an active part of daily living is no mean feat.

... Our response to petty criticism is often to retaliate in kind, instead of in kindness. This is where the Golden Rule touches life. Here is where Jesus spoke of not returning evil for evil. Doing to others what we want others to do to us is simply a matter of kindness. It involves being thoughtful and considerate. But it is more than mere politeness. It is doing what is right. It is doing what pleases God.

Righteousness means right living. It means treating people right. It means living with personal integrity. A righteous person is one whom we can trust. His integrity is consistent. It is not for sale. A righteous person is moral without being moralistic. He is pious without being pietistic. He has a sense of concern for other peoples' feelings. He wants to treat people right because he has the overarching desire to please a loving God. (From Pleasing God by R.C. Sproul)

Application

Do you give more than you take in your family, at church, and with friends? Do you look at any of these as people who “owe you” rather than you “owing them”? Put their needs ahead of your own. Practice the principles of Proverbs 19 with each of them.

Exploration

Obeying God's Principles—Matthew 7:24–27; 1 Corinthians 2:14–16; James 1:22–25; 1 Peter 1:13–16.

It is better to be poor and honest than to be foolish and tell lies.

<sup>2</sup>Enthusiasm without knowledge is not good.
If you act too quickly, you might make a mistake.

<sup>3</sup>People's own foolishness ruins their lives,
but in their minds they blame the Lord.

<sup>4</sup>Wealthy people are always finding more friends,
but the poor lose all theirs.

<sup>5</sup>A witness who lies will not go free;
liars will never escape.

<sup>6</sup>Many people want to please a leader,
and everyone is friends with those who give gifts.

<sup>7</sup>Poor people's relatives avoid them;
even their friends stay far away.
They run after them, begging,
but they are gone.

<sup>8</sup>Those who get wisdom do themselves a favor,
and those who love learning will succeed.

<sup>9</sup>A witness who lies will not go free,
liars will die.

<sup>10</sup>A fool should not live in luxury.

A slave should not rule over princes.

<sup>11</sup>Smart people are patient;
they will be honored if they ignore insults.

<sup>12</sup>An angry king is like a roaring lion,
but his kindness is like the dew on the grass.

<sup>13</sup>A foolish son will ruin his father,
and a quarreling wife is like dripping water.

<sup>14</sup>Houses and wealth are inherited from parents, but a wise wife is a gift from the Lord.

<sup>15</sup>Lazy people sleep a lot,
and idle people will go hungry.

<sup>16</sup>Those who obey the commands protect themselves, but those who are careless will die.

<sup>17</sup>Being kind to the poor is like lending to the Lord;
he will reward you for what you have done.

<sup>18</sup>Correct your children while there is still hope;
do not let them destroy themselves.

<sup>19</sup>People with quick tempers will have to pay for it.
If you help them out once, you will have to do it again.

<sup>20</sup>Listen to advice and accept correction, and in the end you will be wise.

<sup>21</sup>People can make all kinds of plans.

but only the Lord's plan will happen.

<sup>22</sup>People want others to be loyal,
so it is better to be poor than to be a liar.

<sup>23</sup>Those who respect the Lord will live and be satisfied, unbothered by trouble.

<sup>24</sup>Though the lazy person puts his hand in the dish,
he won't lift the food to his mouth.

<sup>25</sup>Whip those who make fun of wisdom, and perhaps foolish people will gain some wisdom.

Correct those with understanding, and they will gain knowledge.

<sup>26</sup>A son who robs his father and sends away his mother
brings shame and disgrace on himself.

<sup>27</sup>Don't stop listening to correction, my child, or you will forget what you have already learned.

<sup>28</sup>An evil witness makes fun of fairness, and wicked people love what is evil.

<sup>29</sup>People who make fun of wisdom will be punished, and the backs of foolish people will be beaten.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 20:1–30

Situation

Solomon wrote more proverbs. If readers followed these words of wisdom, Solomon promised that God would approve of their lives.

Observation

Sin takes many forms: gossip, laziness, drunkenness, and dishonesty.

Inspiration

My spiritual battleground is not over a pack of cigarettes or a bottle of port. It's not in a disco or a movie theater. My spiritual battleground is not a backyard fence over which I gossip to my neighbor, nor is it a fast car I race past the speed limit. My paralysis prevents me from reaching for the common temptations. That's why my spiritual battleground is on the field of my thoughts.

I possess a very unlovely trait: I waste precious time in idle daydreams. I hate it because wasteful fantasies distract me from the real concerns of life, causing me to feel restless and dissatisfied with the way things are.

... The very fact that I am ashamed of myself drives me to God. I lie in the dust of my self-despair at His feet and find safety and acceptance. My lazy thoughts make me contrite and repentant, and I am humbled that I have to come so often to God for cleansing.

If we are to have power with the Lord, to be dear to Him, if our prayers are to prevail and if we are to be most useful to Him, we must jerk rightside up those wrong and unlovely traits in our lives.

Amy Carmichael has said, “No word can declare with what longings Divine Love waits until the heart, all weary and sick of itself, turns to the Lord and says, “Take full possession.” (From Diamonds in the Dust by Joni Eareckson Tada)

Application

What sin do you wrestle with? How long has it been a problem? Seek God for victory. Ask him to help you throw that habit out of your life today.

Exploration

Victory over Sin and Temptation—Proverbs 1:10; Daniel 1:8; Romans 6:13; 1 Corinthians 10:13; 1 John 5:3–5.

Wine and beer make people loud and uncontrolled;
it is not wise to get drunk on them.

Making him angry may cost you your life.

<sup>3</sup>Foolish people are always fighting,
but avoiding quarrels will bring you honor.

<sup>4</sup>Lazy farmers don't plow when they should;
they expect a harvest, but there is none.

<sup>5</sup>People's thoughts can be like a deep well, but someone with understanding can find the wisdom
there.

<sup>6</sup>Many people claim to be loyal,
but it is hard to find a trustworthy person.

<sup>7</sup>The good people who live honest lives will be a blessing to their children.

<sup>8</sup>When a king sits on his throne to judge,
he knows evil when he sees it.

<sup>9</sup>No one can say, "I am innocent;
I have never done anything wrong."

<sup>10</sup>The Lord hates both these things:
dishonest weights and dishonest measures.

<sup>11</sup>Even children are known by their behavior;
their actions show if they are innocent and good.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord has made both these things:
ears to hear and eyes to see.

<sup>13</sup>If you love to sleep, you will be poor.
If you stay awake, you will have plenty of food.

Then they go away and brag about what they bought.

<sup>15</sup>There is gold and plenty of rubies, but only a few people speak with knowledge.

<sup>16</sup>Take the coat of someone who promises to pay a stranger’s debts,
and keep it until he pays what the stranger owes.

<sup>17</sup>Stolen food may taste sweet at first, but later it will feel like a mouth full of gravel.

<sup>18</sup>Get advice if you want your plans to work.
If you go to war, get the advice of others.

so avoid people who talk too much.

<sup>20</sup>Those who curse their father or mother will be like a light going out in darkness.

<sup>21</sup>Wealth inherited quickly in the beginning will do you no good in the end.

<sup>22</sup>Don't say, "I'll pay you back for the wrong you did."
Wait for the Lord, and he will make things right.

<sup>23</sup>The Lord hates dishonest weights, and dishonest scales do not please him.

<sup>24</sup>The Lord decides what a person will do;
no one understands what his life is all about.

<sup>25</sup>It's dangerous to promise something to God too quickly.

After you've thought about it, it may be too late.

<sup>26</sup>A wise king sorts out the evil people,
and he punishes them as they deserve.

<sup>27</sup>The Lord looks deep inside people and searches through their thoughts.

<sup>28</sup>Loyalty and truth keep a king in power;
he continues to rule if he is loyal.

<sup>29</sup>Young men glory in their strength, and old men are honored for their gray hair.

<sup>30</sup>Hard punishment will get rid of evil,
and whippings can change an evil heart.

Proverbs 21:1-31

Situation

Solomon gave advice to moral people and warnings to the wicked ones. A God-honoring lifestyle will bring God's reward, but a selfish, wicked lifestyle leads to ruin.

Observation

The wicked are marked by arrogance and pride. The righteous are marked by humility.

Inspiration

Be quick to applaud the success of others. To the Romans, Paul gives this counsel: "Give each other more honor than you want for yourselves" (Romans 12:10).

William Barclay tells of a respected educator of a century past. He was known not just for his success but the way he handled it. On one occasion as he stepped to a seat on a platform, the public noticed who he was and began to applaud. Shocked, he turned and asked the man behind him to go ahead. He then began to applaud the man, assuming the applause was for him, and he was quite willing to share in it.

The humble heart honors others.

Again, is Jesus not our example? Content to be known as a carpenter. Happy to be mistaken for the gardener. He served his followers by washing their feet. He serves us by doing the same. Each morning he gifts us with beauty. Each Sunday he calls us to his table. Each moment he dwells in our hearts. And does he not speak of the day when he as “the master will dress himself to serve and tell the servants to sit at the table, and he will serve them” (Luke 12:37)?

If Jesus is so willing to honor us, can we not do the same for others? Make people a priority. Accept your part in his plan. Be quick to share the applause. And, most of all, regard others as more important than yourself. Love does. For love “does not boast, it is not proud” (1 Corinthians 13:4, NIV).

Someone is piecing this all together. His thoughts are something like this: If I think you are more important than I am ... and you think I am more important than you are ... and he thinks she is more important than he is ... and she thinks he is more important than she is ... then in the end everyone feels important but no one acts important.

H'm. You think that's what God had in mind? (From A Love Worth Giving by Max Lucado)

Application

In what ways do you accept, respect, and honor those who have more than you? Practice humility not by putting yourself down, but by building others up. What friend, relative, or coworker can you regard as more important than yourself this week? Think of at least three specific ways you can build that person up this week.

Exploration

Humility—Proverbs 15:33; 18:12; Philippians 2:1–11; Colossians 3:12; 1 Peter 5:5.

The Lord can control a king's mind as he controls a river;
he can direct it as he pleases.

<sup>2</sup>You may believe you are doing right,
but the Lord judges your reasons.

<sup>3</sup>Doing what is right and fair is more important to the Lord than sacrifices.

<sup>4</sup>Proud looks, proud thoughts,
and evil actions are sin.

<sup>5</sup>The plans of hard-working people earn a profit, but those who act too quickly become poor.

<sup>6</sup>Wealth that comes from telling lies vanishes like a mist and leads to death.

<sup>7</sup>The violence of the wicked will destroy them, because they refuse to do what is right.

<sup>8</sup>Guilty people live dishonest lives,
but honest people do right.

<sup>9</sup>It is better to live in a corner on the roof
than inside the house with a quarreling wife.

<sup>10</sup>Evil people only want to harm others.
Their neighbors get no mercy from them.

<sup>11</sup>If you punish those who make fun of wisdom, a foolish person may gain some wisdom.

But if you teach the wise, they will get knowledge.

<sup>12</sup>God, who is always right, watches the house of the wicked and brings ruin on every evil person.

<sup>13</sup>Whoever ignores the poor when they cry for help will also cry for help and not be answered.

<sup>14</sup>A secret gift will calm an angry person;
a present given in secrecy will quiet great anger.

<sup>15</sup>When justice is done, good people are happy, but evil people are ruined.

<sup>16</sup>Whoever does not use good sense will end up among the dead.

<sup>17</sup>Whoever loves pleasure will become poor;
whoever loves wine and perfume will never be rich.

<sup>18</sup>Wicked people will suffer instead of good people, and those who cannot be trusted will suffer instead of those who do right.

<sup>19</sup>It is better to live alone in the desert than with a quarreling and complaining wife.

<sup>20</sup>Wise people's houses are full of the best foods and olive oil, but fools waste everything they have.

<sup>27</sup>The Lord hates sacrifices brought by evil people, particularly when they offer them for the wrong reasons.

<sup>28</sup>A lying witness will be forgotten, but a truthful witness will speak on.

<sup>30</sup>There is no wisdom, understanding, or advice that can succeed against the Lord.

<sup>31</sup>You can get the horses ready for battle

You can get the horses ready for battle, but it is the Lord who gives the victory.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 22:1–29

Situation

The proverbs in this chapter point to the way for proper living. The promised rewards are more than just earthly accolades.

Observation

Having a good reputation is wise. People should desire to have a good name, not because this brings status but because it honors God.

Inspiration

Each year we have a student recognition day at our church. On the Sunday between Christmas and New Year's Day, we ask the young people of our church who are students at colleges and universities to give us reports of how their educational experiences have been going. It is a very special Sunday because ours is a Black Baptist church. The older members of our congregation have not had the educational opportunities that our young people enjoy. Consequently, they love to hear about what their children and grandchildren are learning.

On one such Sunday, after half a dozen students had given their reports, my pastor got up and delivered some closing words. "Children," he said, "you are going to die! You may not think you're going to die. But you're going to die. One of these days, they're going to take you out to the cemetery, drop you in a hole, throw some dirt on your face, and go back to the church and eat potato salad.”

“When you were born,” he said, “you alone were crying and everybody else was happy. The important question I want to ask is this: When you die are you alone going to be happy, leaving everybody else crying? The answer depends on whether you live to get titles or you live to get testimonies. When they lay you in the grave, are people going to stand around reciting the fancy titles you earned, or are they going to stand around giving testimonies of the good things you did for them? Will they list your degrees and awards, or will they tell about what a blessing you were to them? Will you leave behind just a newspaper column telling people how important you were, or will you leave crying people who give testimonies of how they’ve lost the best friend they ever had? There’s nothing wrong with titles. Titles are good things to have. But if it ever comes down to a choice between a title or a testimony—go for the testimony.” (From Who Switched the Price Tags? by Tony Campolo)

Application

What are some of your goals for the next five years? Do they promise human recognition or a life that is faithful to God? Remember that a good, respected name does not always mean one of status, but rather one of stature and accomplishment for God.

Exploration

A Good Name—1 Samuel 18:30; Ecclesiastes 7:1; Acts 6:3; 10:22; 16:2; 22:12; 2 Corinthians 8:18; 3 John 12.

Being respected is more important than having great riches.

To be well thought of is better than silver or gold.

<sup>2</sup>The rich and the poor are alike
in that the Lord made them all.

<sup>3</sup>The wise see danger ahead and avoid it,
but fools keep going and get into trouble.

<sup>4</sup>Respecting the Lord and not being proud will bring you wealth, honor, and life.

<sup>5</sup>Evil people's lives are like paths covered with thorns and traps.

People who guard themselves don't have such problems.

<sup>6</sup>Train children how to live right,
and when they are old, they will not change.

<sup>7</sup>The rich rule over the poor,
and borrowers are servants to lenders.

<sup>8</sup>Those who plan evil will receive trouble.
Their cruel anger will come to an end.

<sup>9</sup>Generous people will be blessed,
because they share their food with the poor.

<sup>10</sup>Get rid of the one who makes fun of wisdom.
Then fighting, quarrels, and insults will stop.

<sup>11</sup>Whoever loves pure thoughts and kind words will have even the king as a friend.

but he destroys false words.

<sup>13</sup>The lazy person says, “There’s a lion outside!
I might get killed out in the street!”

<sup>14</sup>The words of an unfaithful wife are like a deep trap.
Those who make the Lord angry will get caught by
them.

<sup>15</sup>Every child is full of foolishness, but punishment can get rid of it.

<sup>16</sup>Whoever gets rich by mistreating the poor, and gives presents to the wealthy, will become poor.

Other Wise Sayings

<sup>17</sup>Listen carefully to what wise people say;
pay attention to what I am teaching you.

<sup>18</sup>It will be good to keep these things in mind so that you are ready to repeat them.

<sup>19</sup>I am teaching them to you now so that you will put your trust in the Lord.

<sup>20</sup>I have written thirty sayings for you,
which give knowledge and good advice.

<sup>21</sup>I am teaching you true and reliable words
so that you can give true answers to anyone who asks.

<sup>22</sup>Do not abuse poor people because they are poor,
and do not take away the rights of the needy in court.

<sup>23</sup>The Lord will defend them in court and will take the life of those who take away their rights.

<sup>24</sup>Don't make friends with quick-tempered people or spend time with those who have bad tempers.

<sup>25</sup>If you do, you will be like them.
Then you will be in real danger.

<sup>26</sup>Don't promise to pay what someone else owes,
and don't guarantee anyone's loan.

<sup>27</sup>If you cannot pay the loan,
your own bed may be taken right out from under you.

<sup>28</sup>Don't move an old stone that marks a border,
because those stones were set up by your ancestors.

<sup>29</sup>Do you see people skilled in their work?
They will work for kings, not for ordinary people.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 23:1-35

Situation

Solomon exhorted his hearers to avoid gluttony and drunkenness. He also advised them to respect older people.

Observation

Younger people can gain wisdom by learning from those who are older.

Inspiration

Don't you hate it when someone else reminds you?

The barber: "Getting a little thin on top here, Joe."

The stylist: "Next time you come in, Sue, we'll do something about these gray streaks."

The invitation: "You are invited to your thirtieth high school reunion."

Your doctor: "Nothing to worry about, Bill. Your condition is common for folks in their mid-age."

The dawning of old age. The first pages of the final chapters. A golden speck appears on the green leaves of your life, and you are brought face to wrinkled face with the fact that you are getting older...

Everything hurts when you wake up. What doesn't hurt, doesn't work.

Your parents begin acting like your children.

The smile lines don't go away when you stop smiling.

And then—boom! The rain becomes a torrent. The gentle taps become thunder. Cardiac arrest. Empty nest. Forty candles. Bifocals. Boom. Boom! BOOM!

Now there is no denial. Ponce de Leon didn't find the fountain of youth, and neither will you. Oh, but how we try. Barbells get pumped. Black hair gone gray goes black again, or better yet, blond. The van is traded in on a truck, a four-wheel-drive monster that will tackle the treacherous ravines of the interstate. The face gets stretched. The chin gets tucked. Breasts get a lift.

But try as we might, the calendar pages still turn. The clocks still tick. And the body still grows older. And with every new pill we take we are reminded that growing old is a pill that has to be swallowed....

But the real pain is deeper. For some it is the hollowness of success. Life at the top of the ladder can be lonely. Mahogany desks grow cold. Sales awards tarnish. Diplomas fade. Sometimes a dream-come-true world has come true and it's less than you'd hoped....

It can get even worse. Regret can lead to rebellion. Rebellion against the demands. Rebellion against the mundane. Rebellion against the ho-hum. Rebellion against whatever ties you down: your job, your government, your station wagon, or worse still ... your family....

Let me be very clear with my point: Growing old can be dangerous. The trail is treacherous and the pitfalls are many. One is wise to be prepared. You know it's coming. It's not like God kept the process a secret. It's not like you are blazing a trail as you grow older. It's not as if no one has ever done it before. Look around you. You have ample opportunity to prepare and ample case studies to consider. If growing old catches you by surprise, don't blame God. He gave you plenty of warning. He also gave you plenty of advice....

Read Jesus' admonition. "Those who want to save their lives will give up true life. But those who give up their lives for me will have true life" [Luke 9:24].

Your last chapters can be your best. Your final song can be your greatest. It could be that all of your life has prepared you for a grand exit. God's oldest have always been among his choicest....

As we get older, our vision should improve. Not our vision of earth but our vision of heaven. Those who have spent their life looking for heaven gain a skip in their step as the city comes into view....

And I hope you'll be ready when you get home. For you, age is no enemy. Age is a mile-marker—a gentle reminder that home has never been so near.

Tell that to your barber.

(From He Still Moves Stones by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you listen to the wisdom of the elderly? Take time this week to talk with an older person and gain wisdom from that individual.

Exploration

Overindulgence—Deuteronomy 21:20–21;

Proverbs 20:1; 28:7; Isaiah 5:11, 22; Habakkuk 2:15–16; Luke 21:34; Romans 13:13–14; 1 Thessalonians 5:7–8.

If you sit down to eat with a ruler, notice the food that is in front of you.

<sup>2</sup>Control yourself
if you have a big appetite.

<sup>3</sup>Don't be greedy for his fine foods, because that food might be a trick.

<sup>4</sup>Don't wear yourself out trying to get rich;
be wise enough to control yourself.

<sup>5</sup>Wealth can vanish in the wink of an eye.
It can seem to grow wings and fly away like an eagle.

<sup>6</sup>Don't eat the food of selfish people;
don't be greedy for their fine foods.

<sup>7</sup>Selfish people are always worrying about how much the food costs.
They tell you, "Eat and drink,"
but they don't really mean it.

<sup>8</sup>You will throw up the little you have eaten, and you will have wasted your kind words.

<sup>9</sup>Don't speak to fools;
they will only ignore your wise words.

and don't take fields that belong to orphans.

<sup>11</sup>God, their defender, is strong;
he will take their side against you.

<sup>12</sup>Remember what you are taught,
and listen carefully to words of knowledge.

<sup>13</sup>Don't fail to punish children.
If you spank them, they won't die.

<sup>14</sup>If you spank them,
you will save them from death.

<sup>15</sup>My child, if you are wise,
then I will be happy.

<sup>16</sup>I will be so pleased if you speak what is right.

<sup>17</sup>Don't envy sinners,
but always respect the Lord.

<sup>18</sup>Then you will have hope for the future,
and your wishes will come true.

<sup>19</sup>Listen, my child, and be wise.
Keep your mind on what is right.

<sup>20</sup>Don't drink too much wine or eat too much food.

<sup>21</sup>Those who drink and eat too much become poor.
They sleep too much and end up wearing rags.

<sup>22</sup>Listen to your father, who gave you life,
and do not forget your mother when she is old.

<sup>23</sup>Learn the truth and never reject it.
Get wisdom, self-control, and understanding.

<sup>24</sup>The father of a good child is very happy; parents who have wise children are glad because of

them.

<sup>25</sup>Make your father and mother happy;
give your mother a reason to be glad.

<sup>26</sup>My son, pay attention to me,
and watch closely what I do.

<sup>27</sup>A prostitute is as dangerous as a deep pit, and an unfaithful wife is like a narrow well.

<sup>28</sup>They ambush you like robbers and cause many men to be unfaithful to their wives.

<sup>29</sup>Who has trouble? Who has pain?
Who fights? Who complains?
Who has unnecessary bruises?
Who has bloodshot eyes?

<sup>30</sup>It is people who drink too much wine, who try out all different kinds of strong drinks.

<sup>31</sup>Don't stare at the wine when it is red,
when it sparkles in the cup,
when it goes down smoothly.

<sup>32</sup>Later it bites like a snake with poison in its fangs.

<sup>33</sup>Your eyes will see strange sights, and your mind will be confused.

<sup>34</sup>You will feel dizzy as if you're in a storm on the ocean,
as if you're on top of a ship's sails.

<sup>35</sup>You will think, "They hit me, but I'm not hurt.
They beat me up, but I don't remember it.
I wish I could wake up.
Then I would get another drink."

Life Lessons

Proverbs 24:1–34

Situation

Solomon admonished and warned, but he also motivated and encouraged.

Observation

Don't be jealous of evil people. Instead, live wisely—exemplify justice, honesty, and hard work.

Inspiration

The sluggard never seems to have time for the things that really matter, especially things that require discipline. But before he realizes it, his time and opportunities are lost. As Proverbs 24:33–34 observes, “A little sleep, a little slumber, . . .” Notice that it's just a “little” sleep, a “little” slumber, a “little” folding of the hands to rest that brought the ruin of lost time and opportunity. It's so easy to lose so much. You don't have to do anything to lose time.

Many people value time as silver was appraised in the days of Solomon. It is said of him in 1 Kings 10:27, “The king made silver as common in Jerusalem as stones.” Time appears to be so plentiful that losing much of it seems inconsequential. But money is easily wasted as well. And if people threw away their money as thoughtlessly as they throw away their time, we would think them insane. Yet time is infinitely more precious than money because money can't buy time. But you can minimize the loss and waste of time by disciplining yourself for the purpose of Godliness. . . .

If you suddenly realized that you had no more time, would you regret how you have spent your time in the past and how you spend it now? The way you have used your time can be of comfort to you in your last hour. You may not be happy with some of the ways you used your time, but won't you be pleased then for all the times of Spirit-filled living, for all occasions when you have obeyed Christ? Won't you be glad then for those parts of your life that you spent in the Scriptures, prayer, worship, evangelism, serving, fasting, etc., for the purpose of becoming more like the One before whom you are about to stand in judgment (John 5:22–29)? What great wisdom there is in living as Jonathan Edwards resolved to live: “Resolved, that I will live so, as I shall wish I had done when I come to die.”

Why not do something about it while you still have time? (From Spiritual Disciplines for the Christian Life by Donald S. Whitney)

Application

Approach your day in a new way. How much time do you spend driving, working, or eating? What time is wasted? Replace wasted time with an activity that has value in the kingdom of God.

Exploration

Laziness—Proverbs 6:6–11; 18:9; Ecclesiastes 10:18; Romans 12:11; 2 Thessalonians 3:11–12; Hebrews 6:11–12.

Don't envy evil people or try to be friends with them.

<sup>2</sup>Their minds are always planning violence, and they always talk about making trouble.

<sup>3</sup>It takes wisdom to have a good family,
and it takes understanding to make it strong.

<sup>4</sup>It takes knowledge to fill a home with rare and beautiful treasures.

<sup>5</sup>Wise people have great power,
and those with knowledge have great strength.

<sup>6</sup>So you need advice when you go to war.
If you have lots of good advice, you will win.

<sup>7</sup>Foolish people cannot understand wisdom.
They have nothing to say in a discussion.

<sup>8</sup>Whoever makes evil plans will be known as a troublemaker.

<sup>9</sup>Making foolish plans is sinful, and making fun of wisdom is hateful.

<sup>10</sup>If you give up when trouble comes,
it shows that you are weak.

<sup>11</sup>Save those who are being led to their death;
rescue those who are about to be killed.

<sup>12</sup>If you say, "We don't know anything about this,"

God, who knows what's in your mind, will notice.
He is watching you, and he will know.
He will reward each person for what he has done.

<sup>13</sup>My child, eat honey because it is good.
Honey from the honeycomb tastes sweet.

<sup>14</sup>In the same way, wisdom is pleasing to you.
If you find it, you have hope for the future,
and your wishes will come true.

<sup>15</sup>Don't be wicked and attack a good family's house;
don't rob the place where they live.

<sup>16</sup>Even though good people may be bothered by trouble seven times, they are never defeated, but the wicked are overwhelmed by trouble.

<sup>17</sup>Don't be happy when your enemy is defeated;
don't be glad when he is overwhelmed.

<sup>18</sup>The Lord will notice and be displeased.
He may not be angry with them anymore.

<sup>19</sup>Don't envy evil people,
and don't be jealous of the wicked.

<sup>20</sup>An evil person has nothing to hope for;
the wicked will die like a flame that is put out.

<sup>21</sup>My child, respect the Lord and the king.
Don't join those people who refuse to obey them.

<sup>22</sup>The Lord and the king will quickly destroy such people.

Those two can cause great disaster!

More Words of Wisdom

<sup>23</sup>These are also sayings of the wise:
It is not good to take sides when you are the judge.

<sup>24</sup>Don't tell the wicked that they are innocent;
people will curse you, and nations will hate you.

<sup>25</sup>But things will go well if you punish the guilty, and you will receive rich blessings.

<sup>26</sup>An honest answer is as pleasing as a kiss on the lips.

<sup>27</sup>First, finish your outside work
and prepare your fields.
After that, you can build your house.

<sup>28</sup>Don't testify against your neighbor for no good reason.

Don't say things that are false.

<sup>29</sup>Don't say, "I'll get even;
I'll do to him what he did to me."

<sup>30</sup>I passed by a lazy person's field and by the vineyard of someone with no sense.

<sup>31</sup>Thorns had grown up everywhere.
The ground was covered with weeds,
and the stone walls had fallen down.

<sup>32</sup>I thought about what I had seen;
I learned this lesson from what I saw.

<sup>33</sup>You sleep a little; you take a nap.
You fold your hands and lie down to rest.

<sup>34</sup>Soon you will be as poor as if you had been robbed;
you will have as little as if you had been held up.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 25:1–28

Situation

Solomon encouraged his hearers to be wise and careful in their conversations.

Observation

Learning to control the tongue is an important step in self-control.

Inspiration

The tongue—what a study in contrasts! To the physician it's merely a two-ounce slab of mucous membrane enclosing a complex array of muscles and nerves that enable our bodies to chew, taste, and swallow. How helpful! Equally significant, it is the major organ of communication that enables us to articulate distinct sounds so we can understand each other. How essential!

... But the tongue is as volatile as it is vital. It was Washington Irving who first said, "A sharp tongue is the only edge tool that grows keener with constant use." It was James, the half brother of Jesus, who first warned:

The tongue is a fire ... a restless evil and full of deadly poison (James 3:6, 8).

Verbal cyanide. A lethal, relentless, flaming missile which assaults with hellish power, blistering and destroying at will.

And yet it doesn't look anything like the brutal beast it is. Neatly hidden behind ivory palace gates, its movements are an intriguing study of coordination. It can curl itself either into a cheery whistle or manipulate a lazy, afternoon yawn. With no difficulty it can flick a husk of popcorn from between two jaw teeth or hold a thermometer just so. And it is tricky! It can help you enjoy the flavor of a stick of peppermint as it switches from side to side without once getting nipped. Moments later it can follow the directions of a trumpeter, allowing him to play “Flight of the Bumble Bee” without a single miscue.

But watch out! Let your thumb get smashed with a hammer or your toe get clobbered on a chair and that slippery creature in your mouth will suddenly play the flip side of its nature.

Not only is the tongue untamed, it's untamable! Meaning what? Meaning as long as you live it will never gain control of itself. It defies being tamed. Incredible! We can tame Flipper and Trigger and Shamu and Lassie ... but the tongue? Impossible to train!

... [I]t takes ... a tight, conscious muzzle on the muscle in your mouth. Harnessing such a wily creature requires a determined mindset... . It's a project you've put off long enough. (From Growing Strong in the Seasons of Life by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Have words ever popped out of your mouth before you thought about them? Think before you respond. Never just blurt out an answer. Don't insult someone or carelessly criticize. Never be sarcastic, and be careful how you tease.

More Wise Sayings of Solomon

These are more wise sayings of Solomon, copied by the men of Hezekiah king of Judah.

<sup>2</sup>God is honored for what he keeps secret.
Kings are honored for what they can discover.

<sup>3</sup>No one can measure the height of the skies or the depth of the earth.
So also no one can understand the mind of a king.

<sup>4</sup>Remove the scum from the silver,
so the silver can be used by the silversmith.

<sup>5</sup>Remove wicked people from the king's presence;
then his government will be honest and last a long time.

<sup>6</sup>Don't brag to the king and act as if you are great.

<sup>7</sup>It is better for him to give you a higher position than to bring you down in front of the prince.
Because of something you have seen,

<sup>8</sup>do not quickly take someone to court.
What will you do later
when your neighbor proves you wrong?

<sup>9</sup>If you have an argument with your neighbor, don't tell other people what was said.

<sup>10</sup>Whoever hears it might shame you,
and you might not ever be respected again.

<sup>11</sup>The right word spoken at the right time is as beautiful as gold apples in a silver bowl.

<sup>12</sup>A wise warning to someone who will listen is as valuable as gold earrings or fine gold jewelry.

<sup>13</sup>Trustworthy messengers refresh those who send
them,
like the coolness of snow in the summertime.

<sup>14</sup>People who brag about gifts they never give are like clouds and wind that give no rain.

<sup>15</sup>With patience you can convince a ruler,
and a gentle word can get through to the hard-headed.

<sup>16</sup>If you find honey, don't eat too much,
or it will make you throw up.

<sup>17</sup>Don't go to your neighbor's house too often;
too much of you will make him hate you.

<sup>18</sup>When you lie about your neighbors, it hurts them as much as a club, a sword, or a sharp arrow.

<sup>19</sup>Trusting unfaithful people when you are in trouble is like eating with a broken tooth or walking with a crippled foot.

<sup>20</sup>Singing songs to someone who is sad is like taking away his coat on a cold day or pouring vinegar on soda.

<sup>21</sup>If your enemy is hungry, feed him.
If he is thirsty, give him a drink.

<sup>22</sup>Doing this will be like pouring burning coals on his head,
and the Lord will reward you.

<sup>23</sup>As the north wind brings rain, telling gossip brings angry looks.

<sup>24</sup>It is better to live in a corner on the roof
than inside the house with a quarreling wife.

<sup>25</sup>Good news from a faraway place is like a cool drink when you are tired.

<sup>26</sup>A good person who gives in to evil is like a muddy spring or a dirty well.

<sup>27</sup>It is not good to eat too much honey,
nor does it bring you honor to brag about yourself.

<sup>28</sup>Those who do not control themselves are like a city whose walls are broken down.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 26:1–28

Situation

Solomon warned: Beware of negative people who can hurt you. The fool, the lazy, and the gossip bring nothing but damage to your life.

Observation

If you can't help them change, detach yourself from people with a negative attitude.

Inspiration

If it were not for the restraining presence of the Spirit, you and I would be the personification of wickedness. No sin would be too extreme. No act of disobedience too rebellious. . . .

Before we go further, perhaps I should clarify the meaning of the phrase, “those who practice such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God” [Galatians 5:21].

Paul selects words very carefully. For example, “practice.” The tense of the original verb suggests “habitually practice.” In other words, it refers to one whose entire life is consumed by such evil. . . .

But before we cluck our tongues at those who “habitually practice” such things, let's keep in mind that our old nature remains just as dark and depraved as theirs, even though the Spirit resides within us. Were it not for the presence of God's Spirit, our wickedness would know no bounds.

... The good news is: We don't have to serve the old master any longer! Now that we have our Lord's divine, dynamic presence perpetually living within us, we can live above all that ... and we can do so on a consistent basis. By the Spirit's filling, evidences of our new nature emerge.

... By turning the controls of our life over to Him who lives within, we begin to model the life Christ modeled when He lived and walked on earth...

Application

Put the brakes on gossip this week. Squash it like an intruding spider.

Exploration

Negative People—Leviticus 26:14–35; Nehemiah 13:25–29; Psalm 57:4; Matthew 7:1–5.

It shouldn't snow in summer or rain at harvest.
Neither should a foolish person ever be honored.

<sup>2</sup>Curses will not harm someone who is innocent; they are like sparrows or swallows that fly around and never land.

<sup>3</sup>Whips are for horses, and harnesses are for donkeys, so paddles are good for fools.

<sup>4</sup>Don't give fools a foolish answer,
or you will be just like them.

<sup>5</sup>But answer fools as they should be answered, or they will think they are really wise.

<sup>6</sup>Sending a message by a foolish person is like cutting off your feet or drinking poison.

<sup>7</sup>A wise saying spoken by a fool
is as useless as the legs of a crippled person.

<sup>8</sup>Giving honor to a foolish person is like tying a stone in a slingshot.

<sup>9</sup>A wise saying spoken by a fool
is like a thorn stuck in the hand of a drunk.

<sup>10</sup>Hiring a foolish person or anyone just passing by is like an archer shooting at just anything.

<sup>22</sup>The words of a gossip are like tasty bits of food;
people like to gobble them up.

<sup>23</sup>Kind words from a wicked mind are like a shiny coating on a clay pot.

<sup>24</sup>Those who hate you may try to fool you with their words,

but in their minds they are planning evil.

<sup>25</sup>People's words may be kind, but don't believe them, because their minds are full of evil thoughts.

<sup>26</sup>Lies can hide hate,
but the evil will be plain to everyone.

<sup>27</sup>Whoever digs a pit for others will fall into it.
Whoever tries to roll a boulder down on others will be crushed by it.

<sup>28</sup>Liar's hate the people they hurt,
and false praise can ruin others.

Proverbs 27:1–27

Situation

Many of these proverbs affirm the value of friends who will be honest about one's strengths and weaknesses.

Observation

Wise friends facilitate growth. Be a wise friend and help others grow.

Inspiration

Inwardly my soul was crying out for someone who would listen—someone who could listen without responding—without judging. Someone who could help me translate the meaningless jumble of scrambled thoughts without taking offense or being critical.

I was too closed, too masked, too threatened. I had never really bared my soul to anyone, not even myself. I was so afraid to take it out that again I slammed the lid shut and guarded it with all the emotional strength I had at my disposal.

Emery then told me a story.

“A man was walking in a wilderness. He became lost and was unable to find his way out. Another man met him. ‘Sir, I am lost, can you show me the way out of this wilderness?’ ‘No,’ said the stranger, ‘I cannot show you the way out of this wilderness, but maybe if I walk with you, we can find our way out together.’” so your mind shows what kind of person you are.

<sup>20</sup>People will never stop dying and being destroyed, and they will never stop wanting more than they have.

<sup>21</sup>A hot furnace tests silver and gold,
and people are tested by the praise they receive.

<sup>22</sup>Even if you ground up a foolish person like grain in a bowl,
you couldn't remove the foolishness.

<sup>23</sup>Be sure you know how your sheep are doing, and pay attention to the condition of your cattle.

<sup>24</sup>Riches will not go on forever,
nor do governments go on forever.

<sup>25</sup>Bring in the hay, and let the new grass appear.
Gather the grass from the hills.

<sup>26</sup>Make clothes from the lambs' wool,
and sell some goats to buy a field.

<sup>27</sup>There will be plenty of goat's milk to feed you and your family and to make your servant girls healthy.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 28:1–28

Situation

God wanted the Israelites to govern themselves with justice and wisdom.

Observation

The writers of Proverbs saw sin as a reality. Proverbs 28:13 says that confession of sin results in God's mercy and forgiveness.

Inspiration

We must face the fact that there is something beastly within each and every one of us. Something beastly that makes us do things that surprise even us. Haven't you surprised yourself? Haven't you reflected on an act and wondered, "What got into me?"

The Bible has a three-letter answer for that question: S-I-N. There is something bad—beastly—within each of us. In theological terms, we are "totally depraved." Though made in God's image, we have fallen. We're corrupt at the core. The very center of our being is selfish and perverse. David said, "I was brought into this world in sin. In sin my mother gave birth to me" (Psalm 51:5). Could any of us say any less? Each one of us was born with a tendency to sin. Depravity is a universal condition.

Some would disagree with such strong words. They look around and say, "Compared to everyone else, I'm a decent person." You know, a pig might say something similar. He might look at his trough partners and announce, “I’m just as clean as everyone else.” Compared to humans, however, that pig needs help. Compared to God, we humans need the same. The standard for sinlessness isn’t found at the pig troughs of earth but at the throne of heaven. God, himself, is the standard.

We are beasts. As French essayist Michel de Montaigne said, “There is no man so good, who, were he to submit all his thoughts and actions to the laws, would not deserve hanging ten times in his life.” Our deeds are ugly. Our actions are harsh. We don’t do what we want to do, we don’t like what we do, and what’s worse—yes, there is something worse—we can’t change.

We try, oh, how we try. But “Can a leopard change his spots? In the same way, Jerusalem, you cannot change and do good, because you are accustomed to doing evil” (Jeremiah 13:23).

Still disagree? Still think the assessment is too harsh? If so, accept this challenge. For the next twenty-four hours lead a sinless life. I’m not asking for a perfect decade or year or even a perfect month. Just one perfect day. Can you do it? Can you live without sin for one day?

No? How about one hour? Could you promise that for the next sixty minutes you will have only pure thoughts and actions?

Still hesitant? Then how about the next five minutes? Five minutes of worry-free, anger-free, unselfish living—can you do it?

No? Nor can I.

Then we have a problem: We are sinners, and “the wages of sin is death” (Romans 6:23, NIV).

We have a problem: We are not holy, and “anyone whose life is not holy will never see the Lord” (Hebrews 12:14).

We have a problem: We are evil, and “evil people are paid with punishment” (Proverbs 10:16). (From He Chose the Nails by Max Lucado)

Application

What sins do you need to confess in your life? Take time daily to come before God and ask him for forgiveness. Remember, he already knows your thoughts, your actions, everything you have done. There is nothing you can bring before him that will shock him. Ask for forgiveness and receive his grace and mercy thankfully.

Exploration

Confessing Sins—Psalm 32:1–5; 51:1–9; Luke 11:4; James 5:16; 1 John 1:5–10.

Evil people run even though no one is chasing them,
but good people are as brave as a lion.

<sup>2</sup>When a country is lawless, it has one ruler after another;

but when it is led by a man with understanding and knowledge, it continues strong.

<sup>3</sup>Rulers who mistreat the poor are like a hard rain that destroys the crops.

<sup>4</sup>Those who disobey what they have been taught praise the wicked,

but those who obey what they have been taught are against them.

<sup>5</sup>Evil people do not understand justice, but those who follow the Lord understand it completely.

<sup>6</sup>It is better to be poor and innocent than to be rich and wicked.

<sup>7</sup>Children who obey what they have been taught are smart,

but friends of troublemakers disgrace their parents.

<sup>8</sup>Some people get rich by overcharging others, but their wealth will be given to those who are kind to the poor.

<sup>9</sup>If you refuse to obey what you have been taught,
your prayers will not be heard.

<sup>10</sup>Those who lead good people to do wrong will be ruined by their own evil,
but the innocent will be rewarded with good things.

<sup>11</sup>Rich people may think they are wise, but the poor with understanding will prove them
wrong.

<sup>12</sup>When good people triumph, there is great happiness, but when the wicked get control, everybody hides.

<sup>13</sup>If you hide your sins, you will not succeed.
If you confess and reject them, you will receive mercy.

<sup>14</sup>Those who are always respectful will be happy, but those who are stubborn will get into trouble.

<sup>15</sup>A wicked ruler is as dangerous to poor people as a roaring lion or a charging bear.

<sup>16</sup>A ruler without wisdom will be cruel, but the one who refuses to take dishonest money will rule a long time.

<sup>17</sup>Don't help those who are guilty of murder;
let them run until they die.

<sup>18</sup>Innocent people will be kept safe innocent people will be kept safe, but those who are dishonest will suddenly be ruined.

<sup>19</sup>Those who work their land will have plenty of food, but the ones who chase empty dreams instead will end up poor.

<sup>20</sup>A truthful person will have many blessings, but those eager to get rich will be punished.

<sup>21</sup>It is not good for a judge to take sides,
but some will sin for only a piece of bread.

<sup>22</sup>Selfish people are in a hurry to get rich and do not realize they soon will be poor.

<sup>23</sup>Those who correct others will later be liked more than those who give false praise.

<sup>24</sup>Whoever robs his father or mother and says, “It’s not wrong,”
is just like someone who destroys things.

<sup>25</sup>A greedy person causes trouble,
but the one who trusts the Lord will succeed.

<sup>26</sup>Those who trust in themselves are foolish,
but those who live wisely will be kept safe.

<sup>27</sup>Whoever gives to the poor will have everything he needs,
but the one who ignores the poor will receive many curses.

<sup>28</sup>When the wicked get control, everybody hides, but when they die, good people do well.

Life Lessons

Proverbs 29:1–27

Situation

Without the love and fear of God, Israel made mistakes. Without restraint and discipline, sin took over.

Observation

God's standards are crucial to our lives. Those who ignore them drift apart from God, but loving, God-fearing people prosper.

Inspiration

I used to wonder how to remember all the commandments of God. As a child I memorized the Ten Commandments in the Bible, but there are so many other commandments in the Bible—hundreds of them. Then I discovered a wonderful fact, that the first and greatest commandment is to love God....

So it isn't as complicated as I had thought! Love God completely, and do to your neighbor as you, in your best moments, want him or her to do to you. If we obey only these two basic laws, we will be obeying all the others, too.

It is wonderful of God to tell us what He allows and what He prohibits, what He likes and dislikes, for we might otherwise be unsure of ourselves, and unsure whether or not we are loving God by obeying Him. (From Next Steps for New Christians by Kenneth Taylor)

Application

God has set the example for parents. Children need rules to guide and protect them. If you are a parent, set clear, fair guidelines. Then be firm in implementing them.

Exploration

God's Law—Exodus 15:25; 31:18; Deuteronomy 4:8; Galatians 2:15–16.

Whoever is stubborn after being corrected many times will suddenly be hurt beyond cure.

<sup>2</sup>When good people do well, everyone is happy,
but when evil people rule, everyone groans.

<sup>3</sup>Those who love wisdom make their parents happy,
but friends of prostitutes waste their money.

but if he takes gifts dishonestly, he tears his country down.

<sup>5</sup>Those who give false praise to their neighbors are setting a trap for them.

<sup>6</sup>Evil people are trapped by their own sin, but good people can sing and be happy.

<sup>7</sup>Good people care about justice for the poor,
but the wicked are not concerned.

<sup>8</sup>People who make fun of wisdom cause trouble in a city,
but wise people calm anger down.

<sup>9</sup>When a wise person takes a foolish person to court,
the fool only shouts or laughs, and there is no peace.

<sup>10</sup>Murderers hate an honest person

<sup>11</sup>Foolish people lose their tempers,
but wise people control theirs.

<sup>12</sup>If a ruler pays attention to lies,
all his officers will become wicked.

<sup>13</sup>The poor person and the cruel person are alike
in that the Lord gave eyes to both of them.

<sup>14</sup>If a king judges poor people fairly,
his government will continue forever.

<sup>15</sup>Correction and punishment make children wise, but those left alone will disgrace their mother.

<sup>16</sup>When there are many wicked people, there is much sin,
but those who do right will see them destroyed.

<sup>17</sup>Correct your children, and you will be proud;
they will give you satisfaction.

<sup>18</sup>Where there is no word from God, people are uncontrolled,
but those who obey what they have been taught are happy.

<sup>19</sup>Words alone cannot correct a servant,
because even if he understands, he won't respond.

<sup>20</sup>Do you see people who sneak too quickly?

Do you see people who speak too quickly?
There is more hope for a foolish person than for them.

<sup>21</sup>If you spoil your servants when they are young,
they will bring you grief later on.

<sup>22</sup>An angry person causes trouble;
a person with a quick temper sins a lot.

<sup>23</sup>Pride will ruin people,
but those who are humble will be honored.

If they have to testify in court, they are afraid to say anything.

<sup>25</sup>Being afraid of people can get you into trouble,
but if you trust the Lord, you will be safe.

<sup>26</sup>Many people want to speak to a ruler,
but justice comes only from the Lord.

<sup>27</sup>Good people hate those who are dishonest,
and the wicked hate those who are honest.

Proverbs 30:1–33

Situation

Agur was a descendant from Abraham's son, Ishmael. Agur came from the Ancient Near East, which was famous for its wisdom.

Observation

In verses 11–14 Agur described four kinds of people: those who are disrespectful, hypocritical, arrogant, and oppressive. From such seeds, all types of conflicts can evolve.

Inspiration

Conflict is inevitable, but combat is optional. Use your God-given creative energy to solve conflict before it escalates into combat.

Perhaps the seeds you sow in your areas of conflict won't reach maturity tomorrow, next week or even for a generation. Does that mean you shouldn't sow the seeds? No! It means you should sow the seeds immediately. Never underestimate the power of a seed of peace: the power of a kind word, a seed of apology, a phone call, an explanation. This is the way we serve a God of peace. (From The Inspirational Bible, "Conflict")

Application

List the ways in which you are sowing conflict and the ways in which you are sowing peace. If you are experiencing conflict with another person, ask God, a friend, or a pastor to intercede. Think of three ways you can begin to sow seeds of peace with that person.

Exploration

Reconciliation—Matthew 5:24; Luke 15; Romans 5:9–11; 1 Corinthians 7:11; 2 Corinthians 5:18–20; Ephesians 2:13–22.

Wise Words from Agur

These are the words of Agur son of Jakeh.

This is his message to Ithiel and Ucal:

<sup>2</sup>“I am the most stupid person there is,
and I have no understanding.

<sup>3</sup>I have not learned to be wise, and I don't know much about God, the Holy One.

<sup>4</sup>Who has gone up to heaven and come back down?

Who can hold the wind in his hand?

Who can gather up the waters in his coat?

Who has set in place the ends of the earth?

What is his name or his son's name?

Tell me, if you know!

<sup>5</sup>“Every word of God is true.

He guards those who come to him for safety.

<sup>6</sup>Do not add to his words, or he will correct you and prove you are a liar.

<sup>7</sup>“I ask two things from you, Lord.

Don't refuse me before I die.

<sup>8</sup>Keep me from lying and being dishonest.

And don't make me either rich or poor;
just give me enough food for each day.

<sup>9</sup>If I have too much, I might reject you and say, ‘I don't know the Lord.’

If I am poor, I might steal and disgrace the name of my God.

<sup>10</sup>“Do not say bad things about servants to their masters, or they will curse you, and you will suffer for it.

<sup>11</sup>“Some people curse their fathers and do not bless their mothers.

<sup>12</sup>Some people think they are pure,
but they are not really free from evil.

<sup>13</sup>Some people have such a proud look!
They look down on others.

<sup>14</sup>Some people have teeth like swords;
their jaws seem full of knives.
They want to remove the poor from the earth and the needy from the land.

<sup>15</sup>“Greed has two daughters named ‘Give’ and ‘Give.’

There are three things that are never satisfied, really four that never say, ‘I’ve had enough!’:

<sup>16</sup>the cemetery, the childless mother,
the land that never gets enough rain,
and fire that never says, ‘I’ve had enough!’

<sup>17</sup>“If you make fun of your father and refuse to obey your mother,
the birds of the valley will peck out your eyes,
and the vultures will eat them.

<sup>18</sup>“There are three things that are too hard for me.

There are three things that are too hard for me, really four I don't understand:

<sup>19</sup>the way an eagle flies in the sky,
the way a snake slides over a rock,
the way a ship sails on the sea,
and the way a man and a woman fall in love.

<sup>20</sup>“This is the way of a woman who takes part in adultery:

She acts as if she had eaten and washed her face;
she says, ‘I haven't done anything wrong.’

<sup>21</sup>“There are three things that make the earth tremble, really four it cannot stand:

<sup>22</sup>a servant who becomes a king,
a foolish person who has plenty to eat, <sup>23</sup>a hated woman who gets married,
and a maid who replaces her mistress.

<sup>24</sup>“There are four things on earth that are small,
but they are very wise:

<sup>25</sup>Ants are not very strong,
but they store up food in the summer.

<sup>26</sup>Rock badgers are not very powerful,
but they can live among the rocks.

<sup>27</sup>Locusts have no king,
but they all go forward in formation.

<sup>28</sup>Lizards can be caught in the hand,
but they are found even in kings' palaces.

<sup>29</sup>“There are three things that strut proudly, really four that walk as if they were important:

<sup>30</sup>a lion, the proudest animal,
which is strong and runs from nothing, <sup>31</sup>a rooster, a male goat,
and a king when his army is around him.

<sup>32</sup>“If you have been foolish and proud, or if you have planned evil, shut your mouth.
<sup>33</sup>Just as stirring milk makes butter, and twisting noses makes them bleed,
so stirring up anger causes trouble.”

Life Lessons

Proverbs 31:1-31

Situation

Proverbs began with a command to respect the Lord (1:7) and ended with the description of a woman who fulfilled this command.

Observation

A woman who respects God deserves more praise than one who is just physically beautiful.

Inspiration

Very little was said about the virtuous woman's outward appearance, quite in contrast from the lengthy description of the bride in the Song of Solomon. Apparently this writer was so impressed with the woman's inner qualities and her outward actions that he did not notice her looks.

The writer did mention that her clothing was of fine linen and purple, but just a few lines later he noted that strength and honor were her real clothing. It seems that her inner qualities showed in her face and stature. She even carried herself with regal bearing. How many millions of dollars do we women spend to look beautiful on the outside? True beauty comes from inner strength of character and cannot be bought or applied with expensive creams.

This description of the wise woman ended with the testimony of those who knew her best: her children and her husband. Her children blessed her for their early training as they grew up and went out into public life. “Many daughters have done well,” said her husband. “But you excel them all.” No one could give this woman greater compliments.

I could have plaques on my wall inscribed with flowery words of praise from the Chamber of Commerce, the Ladies Missionary Society, the PTA, the Girl Scouts, and my sorority alumnae group, but what would these mean in comparison with the praise of those who know me best? When people who live with me day in and day out say I have blessed them, it means something! Today as I sat writing about this woman, Jody came into the room and said, “Honey, you’re a fantastic wife.” Would ten thousand words from someone else have meant as much?

By now I’m sure you are thinking, This woman was perfect! I could never be like her! She was incredible, but God would not use her as an example of the “excellent wife” unless we, too, could grow to become like her.

As you look at the praise given to this woman and learn about her inward character, you should be encouraged to remember that she had grown children. Her inner qualities did not appear overnight but were hammered out in the trials of life as she trusted God and obeyed Him.

After giving us this long list of the woman’s virtues and the testimonies of her family’s praise, the writer ended by answering the important questions: How was the virtuous wife so perfect? How was she able to benefit her family, herself, and others?

The key to her success was that she feared the Lord. The writer said, “Charm is deceitful and beauty is vain, But a woman who fears God is truly charming and lovely.” The virtuous wife first and foremost feared and worshiped God. She was trustworthy, industrious, organized, loving, and much more. The key to becoming like this wife, to becoming a creative counterpart, is to begin where she did, with a vital relationship with God. (From Creative Counterpart by Linda Dillow)

Application

What would those who know you best say about you? The husband and children of this good wife spoke well of her; they praised her. Why? She respected God. You can see it in her actions. Look at the actions of your life. What reveals your respect for God?

Wise Words of King Lemuel

These are the words of King Lemuel, the message his mother taught him:

<sup>2</sup>“My son, I gave birth to you.
You are the son I prayed for.

<sup>3</sup>Don’t waste your strength on women or your time on those who ruin kings.

<sup>4</sup>“Kings should not drink wine, Lemuel,
and rulers should not desire beer.

<sup>5</sup>If they drink, they might forget the law and keep the needy from getting their rights.

<sup>6</sup>Give beer to people who are dying and wine to those who are sad.

<sup>7</sup>Let them drink and forget their need and remember their misery no more.

<sup>8</sup>“Speak up for those who cannot speak for themselves;

defend the rights of all those who have nothing.

<sup>9</sup>Speak up and judge fairly,
and defend the rights of the poor and needy.”

The Good Wife

<sup>10</sup>It is hard to find a good wife, because she is worth more than rubies.

<sup>11</sup>Her husband trusts her completely.
With her, he has everything he needs.

<sup>12</sup>She does him good and not harm for as long as she lives.

<sup>13</sup>She looks for wool and flax and likes to work with her hands.

<sup>14</sup>She is like a trader's ship, bringing food from far away.

<sup>15</sup>She gets up while it is still dark and prepares food for her family and feeds her servant girls.

<sup>16</sup>She inspects a field and buys it.
With money she earned, she plants a vineyard.

<sup>17</sup>She does her work with energy,
and her arms are strong.

<sup>18</sup>She knows that what she makes is good.
Her lamp burns late into the night.

<sup>19</sup>She makes thread with her hands and weaves her own cloth.

<sup>20</sup>She welcomes the poor and helps the needy.

<sup>21</sup>She does not worry about her family when it snows, because they all have fine clothes to keep them warm.

<sup>22</sup>She makes coverings for herself;
her clothes are made of linen and other expensive material.

<sup>23</sup>Her husband is known at the city meetings, where he makes decisions as one of the leaders of the land.

<sup>24</sup>She makes linen clothes and sells them and provides belts to the merchants.

<sup>25</sup>She is strong and is respected by the people.
She looks forward to the future with joy.

<sup>26</sup>She speaks wise words and teaches others to be kind.

<sup>27</sup>She watches over her family and never wastes her time.

<sup>28</sup>Her children speak well of her.
Her husband also praises her,

<sup>29</sup>saying, "There are many fine women,
but you are better than all of them."

<sup>30</sup>Charm can fool you, and beauty can trick you, but a woman who respects the Lord should be praised.

<sup>31</sup>Give her the reward she has earned;
she should be praised in public for what she has done.

The Book of Ecclesiastes

Introduction

She didn't want to share her name, just her pain. So I cradled the phone against my shoulder and listened. Her husband had cheated. She was angry. Angry at him. Angry at God. Angry at herself for being angry. In two months she'd gone through three bottles of antidepressants. She didn't want to leave her room or see her friends. Weak and bitter she finally asked, "Max, will I ever be happy again?"

She's not the first to wonder.

As the drinker orders a double, he wonders.

As the achiever logs another eighteen-hour day, she wonders.

As the boss reaches for his secretary's hand, both wonder.

"Will I ever be happy again?"

There is a great dissatisfaction across the land. Hand after hand reaching out to quench thirsts and scratch itches. But the thirst lingers, the itch remains. As one man told me, "I learned that once I had what I wanted, I found I didn't want what I had."

Solomon could have said those words. He was unlimited in what he could do. Unbridled in what he could own. Unharnessed in what he could experience. So he set out to do it all.

He tried knowledge (1:13), pleasure, possessions, and projects (2:3-8). He was serious about each. He built a Temple and a palace. He owned forty thousand horses with twelve thousand horsemen. He married the daughter of Pharaoh and built her a house (which was good because he had six hundred and ninety-nine more wives so his place was crowded).

In spite of it all, or because of it all, he was restless. “I hated life,” he journaled. He was isolated (3:22), frustrated (5:17), and longed for the good old days when things were simpler and the wine was sweeter.

For some reason, Solomon kept a record of his longings. And somehow, they became public. Maybe he knew that he wasn't the only one to get to the top of the ladder only to find it against the wrong building.

If that's where you are, or might be, this book is for you.

About This Book

Author:

Solomon, though he is not mentioned by name

Life Lessons

Ecclesiastes 1:1–2:26

Situation

The writer of Ecclesiastes wanted to help those who would live after him lead a fulfilling life. He taught lessons learned from his own life.

Observation

Without God, all of our work, pleasure, and wisdom are useless. Lasting fulfillment comes from honoring God in all we do.

Inspiration

It is as if we are on an ocean beach called Earth. We are frantic. We build castles—or at least we think we do. But what we are really doing is just throwing up sand piles as fast as we can before the next big wave comes in. And that wave is coming. We can't run from it; there's no escaping it. We will stay on the beach building our castles higher, bigger, more elaborate. We won't enjoy them. There will be no time for that. The wave is coming....

People have always built sand castles, and those castles have always crumbled. There have always been those who grabbed for things that break. But now it is like the beginning of the end, like the first moments of a stock market crash, and the scramble is on....

We have made Jesus to be our Jesus, and we are so accustomed to responding to “our” Jesus that we have forgotten how to respond to the Son of the living God.

His teachings have been taken with the pragmatic view of “helping me,” not followed because we must obey and can do nothing else. His words have been diluted by so many diverse therapies that all we know to respond to is a “feel-good” deity, a piece of religious plastic which we label “God.”

To reject God out of hand is one thing, but to acknowledge Him and then to live as if He is neither Lord nor God is a horrible existence. Then all we have left is sand.

God expects us to be disciplined. It is not the unnatural but rather the natural thing to be. We were created to be disciplined, put on this earth by God at this time and in this place not for personal gain or personal pleasure but for His purpose.

God is here in our world now. He has been all the time. He calls to scrambling, grasping people like us through the words of Jesus Christ. He says, “Come unto me.”

It is time for us to do what He asks. (From Enjoying the Closeness of God by Roger Palms)

Application

How do you seek intellectual knowledge? What pleasures do you seek? Solomon warns that these activities will never bring fulfillment by themselves. Learn to live your life so every detail pleases God. Mow the lawn, clean up your house, or enjoy a hobby in order to please God.

Exploration

Coming to God—Matthew 11:28–30. Persevering

—Jude 20–25. Heavenly Wisdom—James 3:17–18.

These are the words of the Teacher, a son of David, king in Jerusalem.

“Useless! Useless!
Completely useless!
Everything is useless.”

<sup>3</sup>What do people really gain from all the hard work they do here on earth?

Things Never Change

<sup>4</sup>People live, and people die, but the earth continues forever.

<sup>5</sup>The sun rises, the sun sets,
and then it hurries back to where it rises again.

<sup>6</sup>The wind blows to the south;
it blows to the north.

It blows from one direction and then another.

Then it turns around and repeats the same pattern, going nowhere.

<sup>7</sup>All the rivers flow to the sea,
but the sea never becomes full.

<sup>8</sup>Everything is boring,
so boring that you don't even want to talk about it.

Words come again and again to our ears,
but we never hear enough,
nor can we ever really see all we want to see.

<sup>9</sup>All things continue the way they have been since the beginning.

What has happened will happen again;
there is nothing new here on earth.

<sup>10</sup>Someone might say, “Look, this is new,”
but really it has always been here.
It was here before we were.

<sup>11</sup>People don't remember what happened long ago,
and in the future people will not remember what happens now.

Even later, other people will not remember what was done before them.

Does Wisdom Bring Happiness?

<sup>12</sup>I, the Teacher, was king over Israel in Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup>I decided to use my wisdom to learn about everything that happens on earth. I learned that God has given us terrible things to face. <sup>14</sup>I looked at everything done on earth and saw that it is all useless, like chasing the wind.

<sup>15</sup>If something is crooked, you can't make it straight.
If something is missing,
you can't say it is there.

<sup>16</sup>I said to myself, “I have become very wise and am now wiser than anyone who ruled Jerusalem before me. I know what wisdom and knowledge really are.” <sup>17</sup>So I decided to find out about wisdom and knowledge and also about foolish thinking, but this turned out to be like chasing the wind.

<sup>18</sup>With much wisdom comes much disappointment;
the person who gains more knowledge also gains more sorrow.

Does “Having Fun” Bring Happiness?

I said to myself, “I will try having fun. I will enjoy myself.” But I found that this is also useless.<sup>2</sup>It is foolish to laugh all the time, and having fun doesn’t accomplish anything.<sup>3</sup>I decided to cheer myself up with wine while my mind was still thinking wisely. I wanted to find a way to enjoy myself and see what was good for people to do during their few days of life.

Does Hard Work Bring Happiness?

<sup>4</sup>Then I did great things: I built houses and planted vineyards for myself.<sup>5</sup>I made gardens and parks, and I planted all kinds of fruit trees in them.<sup>6</sup>I made pools of water for myself and used them to water my growing trees.<sup>7</sup>I bought male and female slaves, and slaves were also born in my house. I had large herds and flocks, more than anyone in Jerusalem had ever had before.<sup>8</sup>I also gathered silver and gold for myself, treasures from kings and other areas. I had male and female singers and all the women a man could ever want.<sup>9</sup>I became very famous, even greater than anyone who had lived in Jerusalem before me. My wisdom helped me in all this.

I did not miss any pleasure I desired.
I was pleased with everything I did,
and this pleasure was the reward for all my hard work.

<sup>11</sup>But then I looked at what I had done, and I thought about all the hard work.
Suddenly I realized it was useless, like chasing the wind.

There is nothing to gain from anything we do here on earth.

Maybe Wisdom Is the Answer

<sup>12</sup>Then I began to think again about being wise, and also about being foolish and doing crazy things.
But after all, what more can anyone do?
He can't do more than what the other king has already done.

<sup>13</sup>I saw that being wise is certainly better than being foolish,

just as light is better than darkness.

<sup>14</sup>Wise people see where they are going,
but fools walk around in the dark.

Yet I saw that both wise and foolish people end the same way.

<sup>15</sup>I thought to myself,

“What happens to a fool will happen to me, too, so what is the reward for being wise?”

I said to myself,

“Being wise is also useless.”

<sup>16</sup>The wise person and the fool will both die,

and no one will remember either one for long.

In the future, both will be forgotten.

Is There Real Happiness in Life?

<sup>17</sup>So I hated life. It made me sad to think that everything here on earth is useless, like chasing the wind. <sup>18</sup>I hated all the things I had worked for here on earth, because I must leave them to someone who will live after me. <sup>19</sup>Someone else will control everything for which I worked so hard here on earth, and I don't know if he will be wise or foolish. This is also useless. <sup>20</sup>So I became sad about all the hard work I had done here on earth. <sup>21</sup>People can work hard using all their wisdom, knowledge, and skill, but they will die, and other people will get the things for which they worked. They did not do the work, but they will get everything. This is also unfair and useless. <sup>22</sup>What do people get for all their work and struggling here on earth? <sup>23</sup>All of their lives their work is full of pain and sorrow, and even at night their minds don't rest. This is also useless.

<sup>24</sup>The best that people can do is eat, drink, and enjoy their work. I saw that even this comes from God, <sup>25</sup>because no one can eat or enjoy life without him. <sup>26</sup>If people please God, God will give them wisdom, knowledge, and joy. But sinners will get only the work of gathering and storing wealth that they will have to give to the ones who please God. So all their work is useless, like chasing the wind.

Life Lessons

Ecclesiastes 3:1–5:17

Situation

The author gives insights on values. He encourages the reader to use time wisely by making right choices.

Observation

One of the key words in this section is the word “time.” Solomon said that God has an appropriate time for every activity and for every stage of life. How we use our time reflects our values and our understanding of our eternal destination.

Inspiration

You have an eternal address fixed in your mind as well. God has “set eternity in the hearts of men” (Ecclesiastes 3:11, NIV). Down deep you know you are not home yet.

So be careful not to act like you are. Don’t lower the duffel bag too soon. Would you hang pictures on the wall of a Greyhound bus? Do you set up a bedroom at the roadside rest stop? Do you load your king-size bed on a commercial flight?

Would you treat this world like home? It isn’t. The greatest calamity is not to feel far from home when you are, but to feel right at home when you are not. Don’t quench, but rather, stir this longing for heaven.

God’s home is a forever home. “And I will live in the house of the Lord forever” (Psalm 23:6).

My friends Jeff and Carol just adopted two small children. Christopher, the older, is only three, but he knows the difference between Jeff's house and the foster home from which he came. He tells all visitors, "This is my forever home."

Won't it be great when we say the same? Couldn't we use a forever home? This home we're in won't last forever. Birthdays remind us of that.

During the writing of this book I turned forty-six. I'm closer to ninety than I am to infancy. All those things they say about aging are coming true. I'm patting myself less on the back and more under the chin. I have everything I had twenty years ago, except now it's all lower. The other day I tried to straighten out the wrinkles in my socks and found out I wasn't wearing any.

Aging. It's no fun. The way we try to avoid it, you'd think we could. We paint the body, preserve the body, protect the body. And well we should. These bodies are God's gifts. We should be responsible. But we should also be realistic. This body must die so the new body can live. "Flesh and blood cannot have a part in the kingdom of God. Something that will ruin cannot have a part in something that never ruins" (1 Corinthians 15:50).

Aging is God's idea. It's one of the ways he keeps us headed homeward. We can't change the process, but we can change our attitude.

(From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

Application

Eternity seems like a long way away for some people. If you're avoiding thinking about it, start looking at your own mortality. What does it mean for you to live today in the knowledge that God has set eternity in your heart? What changes can you make in your lifestyle based on that knowledge?

Exploration

Eternity—Psalm 89:47; 139:24; Isaiah 26:4; John 5:39; Galatians 6:8; 1 Timothy 6:12.

There Is a Time for Everything

There is a time for everything,
and everything on earth has its special season.

<sup>2</sup>There is a time to be born and a time to die.

There is a time to plant
and a time to pull up plants.

<sup>3</sup>There is a time to kill and a time to heal.

There is a time to destroy and a time to build.

<sup>4</sup>There is a time to cry and a time to laugh.

There is a time to be sad
and a time to dance.

<sup>5</sup>There is a time to throw away stones and a time to gather them.

There is a time to hug
and a time not to hug.

<sup>6</sup>There is a time to look for something and a time to stop looking for it.

There is a time to keep things and a time to throw things away.

<sup>7</sup>There is a time to tear apart and a time to sew together.

There is a time to be silent and a time to speak.

<sup>8</sup>There is a time to love and a time to hate.
There is a time for war
and a time for peace.

God Controls His World

<sup>9</sup>Do people really gain anything from their work? <sup>10</sup>I saw the hard work God has given people to do. <sup>11</sup>God has given them a desire to know the future. He does everything just right and on time, but people can never completely understand what he is doing. <sup>12</sup>So I realize that the best thing for them is to be happy and enjoy themselves as long as they live. <sup>13</sup>God wants all people to eat and drink and be happy in their work, which are gifts from God. <sup>14</sup>I know that everything God does will continue forever. People cannot add anything to what God has done, and they cannot take anything away from it. God does it this way to make people respect him.

<sup>15</sup>What happens now has happened in the past, and what will happen in the future has happened before.

God makes the same things happen again and again.

Unfairness on Earth

<sup>16</sup>I also saw this here on earth:
Where there should have been justice, there was evil;

where there should have been right, there was wrong.

<sup>17</sup>I said to myself,

God has planned a time for every thing and every action,

so he will judge both good people and bad.

<sup>18</sup>I decided that God leaves it the way it is to test people and to show them they are just like animals. <sup>19</sup>The same thing happens to animals and to people; they both have the same breath, so they both die. People are no better off than the animals, because everything is useless. <sup>20</sup>Both end up the same way; both came from dust and both will go back to dust. <sup>21</sup>Who can be sure that the human spirit goes up to God and that the spirit of an animal goes down into the ground? <sup>22</sup>So I saw that the best thing people can do is to enjoy their work, because that is all they have. No one can help another person see what will happen in the future.

Is It Better to Be Dead?

Again I saw all the people who were mistreated here on earth.

I saw their tears
and that they had no one to comfort them.
Cruel people had all the power,
and there was no one to comfort those they hurt.

<sup>2</sup>I decided that the dead are better off than the living.

<sup>3</sup>But those who have never been born are better off still;
they have not seen the evil
that is done here on earth.

Why Work So Hard?

<sup>4</sup>I realized the reason people work hard and try to succeed:
They are jealous of each other. This, too, is useless, like chasing the wind.

<sup>5</sup>Some say it is foolish to fold your hands and do
nothing,

because you will starve to death.

<sup>6</sup>Maybe so, but I say it is better to be content with what little you have.

Otherwise, you will always be struggling for more,
and that is like chasing the wind.

<sup>7</sup>Again I saw something here on earth that was useless:

<sup>8</sup>I saw a man who had no family,
no son or brother.
He always worked hard
but was never satisfied with what he had.
He never asked himself, “For whom am I working so hard?
Why don’t I let myself enjoy life?”
This also is very sad and useless.

Friends and Family Give Strength

<sup>9</sup>Two people are better than one,
because they get more done by working together.
<sup>10</sup>If one falls down,
the other can help him up.
But it is bad for the person who is alone and falls,
because no one is there to help.
<sup>11</sup>If two lie down together, they will be warm, but a person alone will not be warm.
<sup>12</sup>An enemy might defeat one person,
but two people together can defend themselves;
a rope that is woven of three strings is hard to break.

Fame and Power Are Useless

<sup>13</sup>A poor but wise boy is better than a foolish but old king who doesn’t listen to advice. <sup>14</sup>A boy became king. He had been born poor in the kingdom and had even gone to prison before becoming king. <sup>15</sup>I watched all the people who live on earth follow him and make him their king. <sup>16</sup>Many followed him at first, but later, they did not like him, either. So fame and power are useless, like chasing the wind.

Be Careful About Making Promises

Be careful when you go to worship at the Temple. It is better to listen than to offer foolish sacrifices without even knowing you are doing wrong.

<sup>2</sup>Think before you speak,
and be careful about what you say to God.
God is in heaven,
and you are on the earth,
so say only a few words to God.

<sup>3</sup>The saying is true: Bad dreams come from too much worrying, and too many words come from foolish people.

<sup>4</sup>If you make a promise to God, don't be slow to keep it. God is not happy with fools, so give God what you promised. <sup>5</sup>It is better not to promise anything than to promise something and not do it. <sup>6</sup>Don't let your words cause you to sin, and don't say to the priest at the Temple, "I didn't mean what I promised." If you do, God will become angry with your words and will destroy everything you have worked for. <sup>7</sup>Many useless promises are like so many dreams; they mean nothing. You should respect God.

Officers Cheat Each Other

<sup>8</sup>In some places you will see poor people mistreated. Don't be surprised when they are not treated fairly or given their rights.

One officer is cheated by a higher officer who in turn is cheated by even higher officers.<sup>9</sup>The wealth of the country is divided up among them all. Even the king makes sure he gets his share of the profits.

Wealth Cannot Buy Happiness

<sup>10</sup>Whoever loves money will never have enough money; Whoever loves wealth
will not be satisfied with it.
This is also useless.

<sup>11</sup>The more wealth people have,
the more friends they have to help spend it.
So what do people really gain?
They gain nothing except to look at their riches.

<sup>12</sup>Those who work hard sleep in peace;
it is not important if they eat little or much.
But rich people worry about their wealth and cannot sleep.

Money saved is a curse to its owners.

<sup>14</sup>They lose it all in a bad deal and have nothing to give to their children.

<sup>15</sup>People come into this world with nothing,
and when they die they leave with nothing.
In spite of all their hard work,
they leave just as they came.

They leave just as they came.

So what do they gain from chasing the wind?
<sup>17</sup>All they get are days full of sadness and sorrow, and they end up sick, defeated, and angry.

Life Lessons

Ecclesiastes 5:18–8:17

Situation

Although people cannot fully understand all of God's plan, the author of Ecclesiastes believed people could find some of God's goodness.

Observation

In this passage, Solomon made it clear that wealth cannot buy happiness and that enjoying your work and life is a God-given gift.

Inspiration

Take your seat in the chair, and look across the table at the psalmist David. He motions for you to lean forward. "I have a secret to tell you," he whispers, "the secret of satisfaction. 'The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want'" (Psalm 23:1, NKJV).

David has found the pasture where discontent goes to die. It's as if he is saying, "What I have in God is greater than what I don't have in life."

You think you and I could learn to say the same?

Think for just a moment about the things you own. Think about the house you have, the car you drive, the money you've saved. Think about the jewelry you've inherited and the stocks you've traded and the clothes you've purchased. Envision all your stuff, and let me remind you of two biblical truths.

Your stuff isn't yours. Ask any coroner. Ask any embalmer. Ask any funeral-home director. No one takes anything with him. When one of the wealthiest men in history, John D. Rockefeller, died, his accountant was asked, "How much did John D. leave?" The accountant's reply? "All of it."

"People come into this world with nothing, and when they die they leave with nothing. In spite of all their hard work, they leave just as they came" (Ecclesiastes 5:15).

All that stuff—it's not yours. And you know what else about all that stuff? It's not you. Who you are has nothing to do with the clothes you wear or the car you drive. "Then Jesus said to them, 'Be careful and guard against all kinds of greed. Life is not measured by how much one owns'" (Luke 12:15). Heaven does not know you as the fellow with the nice suit or the woman with the big house or the kid with the new bike. Heaven knows your heart. "God does not see the same way people see. People look at the outside of a person, but the Lord looks at the heart" (1 Samuel 16:7). When God thinks of you, he may see your compassion, your devotion, your tenderness or quick mind, but he doesn't think of your things.

And when you think of you, you shouldn't either. Define yourself by your stuff, and you'll feel good when you have a lot and bad when you don't. Contentment comes when we can honestly say with Paul: “I have learned to be satisfied with the things I have... . I know how to live when I am poor, and I know how to live when I have plenty” (Philippians 4:11–12).

(From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

Application

Make a list of the ten most valuable possessions that you own. Now make a list of what God has given you. Consider which list contains the greater gifts. Take time to reflect on what changes you need to make in your attitude toward what God has given you and your earthly possessions.

Exploration

Contentment—2 Corinthians 9:8; Philippians 4:10–13; 1 Timothy 6:6; Hebrews 13:5.

Enjoy Your Life's Work

<sup>18</sup>I have seen what is best for people here on earth. They should eat and drink and enjoy their work, because the life God has given them on earth is short. <sup>19</sup>God gives some people the ability to enjoy the wealth and property he gives them, as well as the ability to accept their state in life and enjoy their work. <sup>20</sup>They do not worry about how short life is, because God keeps them busy with what they love to do.

I have seen something else wrong here on earth that causes serious problems for people. <sup>2</sup>God gives great wealth, riches, and honor to some people; they have everything they want. But God does not let them enjoy such things; a stranger enjoys them instead. This is useless and very wrong. <sup>3</sup>A man might have a hundred children and live a long time, but what good is it if he can't enjoy the good God gives him or have a proper burial? I say a baby born dead is better off than he is. <sup>4</sup>A baby born dead is useless. It returns to darkness without even a name. <sup>5</sup>That baby never saw the sun and never knew anything, but it finds more rest than that man. <sup>6</sup>Even if he lives two thousand years, he doesn't enjoy the good God gives him. Everyone is going to the same place.

but they never seem to get enough to eat.

<sup>8</sup>In this way a wise person is no better off than a fool.

Then, too, it does a poor person little good to know how to get along in life.

<sup>9</sup>It is better to see what you have than to want more.

Wanting more is useless—
like chasing the wind.

Who Can Understand God's Plan?

<sup>10</sup>Whatever happens was planned long ago.
Everyone knows what people are like.

No one can argue with God,
who is stronger than anyone.

<sup>11</sup>The more you say,
the more useless it is.
What good does it do?

<sup>12</sup>People have only a few useless days of life on the earth; their short life passes like a shadow. Who knows what is best for them while they live? Who can tell them what the future will bring?

Some Benefits of Serious Thinking

It is better to have respect than good perfume.
The day of death is better than the day of birth.

<sup>2</sup>It is better to go to a funeral than to a party.

We all must die,
and everyone living should think about this.

<sup>3</sup>Sorrow is better than laughter,
and sadness has a good influence on you.

<sup>4</sup>A wise person thinks about death,
but a fool thinks only about having a good time.

<sup>5</sup>It is better to be criticized by a wise person than to be praised by a fool.

<sup>6</sup>The laughter of fools is like the crackling of thorns in a cooking fire.
Both are useless.

<sup>7</sup>Even wise people are fools
if they let money change their thinking.

<sup>8</sup>It is better to finish something than to start it.

It is better to be patient than to be proud.

<sup>9</sup>Don't become angry quickly, because getting angry is foolish.

<sup>10</sup>Don't ask, "Why was life better in the 'good old days'?"

It is not wise to ask such questions.

<sup>11</sup>Wisdom is better when it comes with money.
They both help those who are alive.

<sup>12</sup>Wisdom is like money:
they both help.
But wisdom is better,
because it can save whoever has it.
<sup>13</sup>Look at what God has done:
No one can straighten what he has bent.
<sup>14</sup>When life is good, enjoy it.
But when life is hard, remember:
God gives good times and hard times,
and no one knows what tomorrow will bring.

It Is Impossible to Be Truly Good

<sup>15</sup>In my useless life I have seen both of these:
I have seen good people die in spite of their goodness and evil people live a long time in spite of their evil.
<sup>16</sup>Don't be too right,
and don't be too wise.
Why destroy yourself?
<sup>17</sup>Don't be too wicked,
and don't be foolish.
Why die before your time?
<sup>18</sup>It is good to grab the one and not let go of the other;
those who honor God will hold them both.
<sup>19</sup>Wisdom makes a person stronger than ten leaders in a city.
<sup>20</sup>Surely there is not a good person on earth who always does good and never sins.
<sup>21</sup>Don't listen to everything people say, or you might hear your servant insulting you.

<sup>22</sup>You know that many times
you have insulted others.

<sup>23</sup>I used wisdom to test all these things.
I wanted to be wise,
but it was too hard for me.

<sup>24</sup>I cannot understand why things are as they are.
It is too hard for anyone to understand.

<sup>25</sup>I studied and tried very hard to find wisdom,
to find some meaning for everything.
I learned that it is foolish to be evil,
and it is crazy to act like a fool.

<sup>26</sup>I found that some women are worse than death and are as dangerous as traps.

Their love is like a net,
and their arms hold men like chains.
A man who pleases God will be saved from them,
but a sinner will be caught by them.

<sup>27</sup>The Teacher says, "This is what I learned:
I added all these things together
to find some meaning for everything.

<sup>28</sup>While I was searching,
I did not find one man among the thousands I found.
Nor did I find a woman among all these.

<sup>29</sup>One thing I have learned:
God made people good,
but they have found all kinds of ways to be bad."

Obey the King

No one is like the wise person who can understand what things mean.
Wisdom brings happiness;
it makes sad faces happy.

<sup>6</sup>There is a right time and a right way for everything, yet people often have many troubles.
<sup>7</sup>They do not know what the future holds,
and no one can tell them what will happen.
<sup>8</sup>No one can control the wind or stop his own death.
No soldier is released in times of war,
and evil does not set free those who do evil.

Justice, Rewards, and Punishment

<sup>9</sup>I saw all of this as I considered all that is done here on earth. Sometimes men harm those they control. <sup>10</sup>I saw the funerals of evil people who used to go in and out of the holy place. They were honored in the same towns where they had done evil. This is useless, too.

<sup>11</sup>When evil people are not punished right away, it makes others want to do evil, too. <sup>12</sup>Though a sinner might do a hundred evil things and might live a long time, I know it will be better for those who honor God. <sup>13</sup>I also know it will not go well for evil people, because they do not honor God. Like a shadow, they will not last. <sup>14</sup>Sometimes something useless happens on earth. Bad things happen to good people, and good things happen to bad people. I say that this is also useless. <sup>15</sup>So I decided it was more important to enjoy life. The best that people can do here on earth is to eat, drink, and enjoy life, because these joys will help them do the hard work God gives them here on earth.

We Cannot Understand All God Does

<sup>16</sup>I tried to understand all that happens on earth. I saw how busy people are, working day and night and hardly ever sleeping. <sup>17</sup>I also saw all that God has done. Nobody can understand what God does here on earth. No matter how hard people try to understand it, they cannot. Even if wise people say they understand, they cannot; no one can really understand it.

Life Lessons

Ecclesiastes 9:1–12:14

Situation

Every person must face death. Those who are righteous and wise rest in God's hands.

Observation

Work hard, enjoy what you have in life, and seek wisdom. Wisdom provides greater assets than power. Although you still face death, you can be comforted to know that those who follow God will live forever with him.

Inspiration

Remarkable.

Each morning I climb into a truck that weighs half a ton and take it out on an interstate where I—and a thousand other drivers—turn our vehicles into sixty-mile-per-hour missiles. Although I've had a few scares and mishaps, I still whistle while I drive at a speed that would have caused my great-grandfather to pass out.

Remarkable.

Every day I have the honor of sitting down with a book that contains the words of the One who created me. Every day I have the opportunity to let him give me a thought or two on how to live.

If I don't do what he says, he doesn't burn the book or cancel my subscription. If I disagree with what he says, lightning doesn't split my swivel chair or an angel doesn't mark my name off the holy list. If I don't understand what he says, he doesn't call me a dummy.

In fact, he calls me "Son," and on a different page explains what I don't understand.

Remarkable.

At the end of the day when I walk through the house, I step into the bedrooms of three little girls. Their covers are usually kicked off, so I cover them up. Their hair usually hides their faces, so I brush it back. And one by one, I bend over and kiss the foreheads of the angels God has loaned me. Then I stand in the doorway and wonder why in the world he would entrust a stumbling, fumbling fellow like me with the task of loving and leading such treasures.

Remarkable.

Then I go and crawl into bed with a woman far wiser than I ... a woman who deserves a man much better looking than I ... but a woman who would argue that fact and tell me from the bottom of her heart that I'm the best thing to come down her pike.

After I think about the wife I have, and when I think that I get to be with her for a lifetime, I shake my head and thank the God of grace for grace and think, Remarkable.

In the morning, I'll do it all again. I'll drive down the same road. Go to the same office. Call on the same bank. Kiss the same girls. And crawl into bed with the same woman. But I'm learning not to take these everyday miracles for granted....

I'm discovering many things: traffic jams eventually clear up, sunsets are for free, Little League is a work of art, and most planes take off and arrive on time. I'm learning that most folks are good folks who are just as timid as I am about starting a conversation...

I'm learning that if I look ... if I open my eyes and observe ... there are many reasons to take off my hat, look at the source of it all, and just say thanks. (From In the Eye of the Storm by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you feel like you are falling behind in the rat race? Do you wonder how you will catch up? Look at your remarkable blessings, and give God thanks for what you do have.

Exploration

Life—Genesis 9:5–6; Deuteronomy 8:3; Psalm 90:12; 144:3–4; Matthew 10:39; Mark 8:35–37; John 4:13–14; Acts 20:24.

Is Death Fair?

I thought about all this and tried to understand it. I saw that God controls good people and wise people and what they do, but no one knows if they will experience love or hate.

<sup>2</sup>Good and bad people end up the same—
those who are right and those who are wrong,
those who are good and those who are evil,
those who are clean and those who are unclean,
those who sacrifice and those who do not.
The same things happen to a good person
as happen to a sinner, to a person who makes promises to God
and to one who does not.

<sup>3</sup>This is something wrong that happens here on earth: What happens to one happens to all. So people's minds are full of evil and foolish thoughts while they live. After that, they join the dead. <sup>4</sup>But anyone still alive has hope; even a live dog is better off than a dead lion!

<sup>5</sup>The living know they will die,
but the dead know nothing.
Dead people have no more reward,
and people forget them.

<sup>6</sup>After people are dead,
they can no longer love or hate or envy.

They will never again share in what happens here on earth.

Enjoy Life While You Can

<sup>7</sup>So go eat your food and enjoy it;
drink your wine and be happy,
because that is what God wants you to do.

<sup>8</sup>Put on nice clothes and make yourself look good.

<sup>9</sup>Enjoy life with the wife you love. Enjoy all the useless days of this useless life God has given you here on earth, because it is all you have. So enjoy the work you do here on earth. <sup>10</sup>Whatever work you do, do your best, because you are going to the grave, where there is no working, no planning, no knowledge, and no wisdom.

Time and Chance

<sup>11</sup>I also saw something else here on earth:
The fastest runner does not always win the race,
the strongest soldier does not always win the battle,
the wisest does not always have food,
the smartest does not always become wealthy,
and the talented one does not always receive praise.
Time and chance happen to everyone.

<sup>12</sup>No one knows what will happen next.

Like a fish caught in a net,
or a bird caught in a trap,
people are trapped by evil
when it suddenly falls on them.

Wisdom Does Not Always Win

<sup>13</sup>I also saw something wise here on earth that impressed me.
<sup>14</sup>There was a small town with only a few people in it. A great king fought against it and put his armies all around it. <sup>15</sup>Now there was a poor but wise man in the town who used his wisdom to save his town. But later on, everyone forgot about him. <sup>16</sup>I still think wisdom is better than strength. But those people forgot about the poor man's wisdom and stopped listening to what he said.

but one sinner can destroy much good.

Dead flies can make even perfume stink.
In the same way, a little foolishness can spoil wisdom.

<sup>2</sup>The heart of the wise leads to right,
but the heart of a fool leads to wrong.

<sup>3</sup>Even in the way fools walk along the road,
they show they are not wise;
they show everyone how stupid they are.

<sup>4</sup>Don't leave your job
just because your boss is angry with you.
Remaining calm solves great problems.

<sup>5</sup>There is something else wrong that happens here on earth.

It is the kind of mistake rulers make:

<sup>6</sup>Fools are given important positions
while gifted people are given lower ones;

<sup>7</sup>I have seen servants ride horses
while princes walk like servants on foot.

<sup>8</sup>Anyone who digs a pit might fall into it;
anyone who knocks down a wall might be bitten by a snake;

<sup>9</sup>anyone who moves boulders might be hurt by them;
and anyone who cuts logs might be harmed by them.

<sup>10</sup>A dull ax means harder work.

Being wise will make it easier.

<sup>11</sup>If a snake bites the tamer before it is tamed, what good is the tamer?

<sup>12</sup>The words of the wise bring them praise,
but the words of a fool will destroy them.

<sup>13</sup>A fool begins by saying foolish things and ends by saying crazy and wicked things.

No one knows the future,

and no one can tell what will happen after death.

<sup>15</sup>Work wears fools out;

they don't even know how to get home.

The Value of Work

<sup>16</sup>How terrible it is for a country whose king is a child and whose leaders eat all morning.

<sup>17</sup>How lucky a country is whose king comes from a good family,

whose leaders eat only at mealtime and for strength, not to get drunk.

<sup>18</sup>If someone is lazy, the roof will begin to fall.
If he doesn't fix it, the house will leak.

<sup>19</sup>A party makes you feel good,
wine makes you feel happy,
and money buys anything.

<sup>20</sup>Don't make fun of the king, and don't make fun of rich people, even in your bedroom.

A little bird might carry your words;
a bird might fly and tell what you said.

Boldly Face the Future

Invest what you have,
because after a while you will get a return.

<sup>2</sup>Invest what you have in several different businesses, because you don't know what disasters might happen.

<sup>3</sup>If clouds are full of rain,
they will shower on the earth.

A tree can fall to the north or south,
but it will stay where it falls.

<sup>4</sup>Those who wait for perfect weather will never plant seeds;
those who look at every cloud
will never harvest crops.

<sup>5</sup>You don't know where the wind will blow, and you don't know how a baby grows inside the mother.

In the same way, you don't know what God is doing,
or how he created everything.

<sup>6</sup>Plant early in the morning,
and work until evening,
because you don't know if this or that will succeed.
They might both do well.

Serve God While You Are Young

<sup>7</sup>Sunshine is sweet;
it is good to see the light of day.

<sup>8</sup>People ought to enjoy every day of their lives,
no matter how long they live.

But they should also remember this:

You will be dead a long time.

Everything that happens then is useless.

<sup>9</sup>Young people, enjoy yourselves while you are young;
be happy while you are young.

Do whatever your heart desires,
whatever you want to do.

But remember that God will judge you for everything you do.

<sup>10</sup>Don't worry,
and forget the troubles of your body,
because youth and childhood are useless.

The Problems of Old Age

Remember your Creator
while you are young,
before the days of trouble come
and the years when you say,
“I find no pleasure in them.”

<sup>2</sup>When you get old,
the light from the sun, moon, and stars will grow dark;
the rain clouds will never seem to go away.

<sup>3</sup>At that time your arms will shake and your legs will become weak.
Your teeth will fall out so you cannot chew,
and your eyes will not see clearly.

<sup>4</sup>Your ears will be deaf to the noise in the streets, and you will barely hear the millstone grinding grain.
You'll wake up when a bird starts singing,
but you will barely hear singing.

<sup>5</sup>You will fear high places and will be afraid to go for a walk.

Your hair will become white like the flowers on an almond tree.

You will limp along like a grasshopper when you walk.
Your appetite will be gone.

Then you will go to your everlasting home,
and people will go to your funeral.

<sup>6</sup>Soon your life will snap like a silver chain or break like a golden bowl.
You will be like a broken pitcher at a spring,
or a broken wheel at a well.

<sup>7</sup>You will turn back into the dust of the earth again, but your spirit will return to God who gave it.

<sup>8</sup>Everything is useless!

The Teacher says that everything is useless.

Conclusion: Honor God

<sup>9</sup>The Teacher was very wise and taught the people what he knew. He very carefully thought about, studied, and set in order many wise teachings. <sup>10</sup>The Teacher looked for just the right words to write what is dependable and true.

<sup>11</sup>Words from wise people are like sharp sticks used to guide animals. They are like nails that have been driven in firmly. Altogether they are wise teachings that come from one Shepherd. <sup>12</sup>So be careful, my son, about other teachings. People are always writing books, and too much study will make you tired.

<sup>13</sup>Now, everything has been heard,
so I give my final advice:
Honor God and obey his commands,
because this is all people must do.

<sup>14</sup>God will judge everything, even what is done in secret,
the good and the evil.

The Book of Song of Solomon

Introduction

Remember your love notes of young romance?

Come on, now. Think about it.

Flip back through the scrapbook of your heart. You'll find one.

You thought he was the only one. You knew she was the reason for creation. And with youthful passion, you expressed your love.

"I'll love you forever."

"You are my one and only."

"Had I the pen of a poet, had I the stars to give you, even then I couldn't show it ..."

Ahhh, the words of romance. (That last verse? That was mine, proving that even a crusty West Texan can be romantic.)

But the most daring Romeos will blush at what you are about to read—"The Song of Solomon." A love poem that chronicles the passion between starstruck Solomon and his spellbound bride.

It's unlike anything in the Bible. For that reason, it should be read differently than any book in the Bible. Don't take it literally. Don't search for hidden codes or submerged messages. Love letters are to be appreciated, not analyzed.

Appreciate this one. Don't get hung up on the ancient terms of affection. Sure, they sound strange. My wife wouldn't appreciate being told her neck was like David's tower (4:4) or that her limbs were like pomegranates (4:13). Just remember that these words were not written for you.

You are opening someone else's shoebox of letters and reading the correspondence between two people madly in love.

I guess God knew we needed a reminder that romance was his idea.

Life Lessons

Song of Solomon 1:1–2:7

Situation

Solomon's Song describes a relationship between a bride and groom. Solomon and the Shulammitte woman were about to be married in the king's palace. The woman was a peasant worker from Shunem, a farming town sixty miles north of Jerusalem.

Observation

God gives marriage as a gift. It is a gift based on unquestioning commitment and unconditional acceptance.

Inspiration

I sensed it as we were lying on the bed. It blew over me mixed with the sweet fragrance of fresh rain. My wife was lying silently at my side. Jenna was using my stomach for a pillow. She, too, was quiet. Our second child, only a month from birth, rested within the womb of her mother. They must have sensed it, for no one spoke. It entered our presence as if introduced by God himself. And no one dared stir for fear it leave prematurely.

What was it? An eternal instant.

An instant in time that had no time. A picture that froze in mid-frame, demanding to be savored. A minute that refused to die after sixty seconds. A moment that was lifted off the timeline and amplified into a forever so all the angels could witness its majesty.

An eternal instant.

A moment that reminds you of the treasures surrounding you. Your home. Your peace of mind. Your health. A moment that tenderly rebukes you for spending so much time on temporal preoccupations such as savings accounts, houses, and punctuality. A moment that can bring a mist to the manliest of eyes and perspective to the darkest life.

Eternal instants have dotted history.

It was an eternal instant when the Creator smiled and said, "It is good." It was a timeless moment when Abraham pleaded for mercy from the God of mercy, "But if there are just ten faithful." It was a moment without time when Noah pushed open the rain-soaked hatch and breathed in the clean air. And it was a moment in the "fullness of time" when a carpenter, some smelly shepherds, and an exhausted young mother stood in silent awe at the sight of the infant in the manger.

Eternal instants. You've had them. We all have.

Sharing a porch swing on a summer evening with your grandchild.

Seeing her face in the glow of a candle.

Putting your arm into your husband's as you stroll through the golden leaves and breathe the brisk autumn air.

Listening to your six year old thank God for everything from goldfish to Grandma.

Such moments are necessary because they remind us that everything is okay. The King is still on the throne and life is still worth living. Eternal instants remind us that love is still the greatest possession and the future is nothing to fear.

The next time an instant in your life begins to be eternal, let it. Put your head back on the pillow and soak it in. Resist the urge to cut it short. Don't interrupt the silence or shatter the solemnity. You are, in a very special way, on holy ground. (From God Came Near by Max Lucado)

Application

Schedule a night to get away from pressing commitments. Create a time when you put the cares of the world on hold, and simply enjoy your family.

Solomon's Greatest Song.

The Woman Speaks to the Man She Loves

<sup>2</sup>Kiss me with the kisses of your mouth, because your love is better than wine.

<sup>3</sup>The smell of your perfume is pleasant, and your name is pleasant like expensive perfume.
That's why the young women love you.

<sup>4</sup>Take me with you; let's run together.
The king takes me into his rooms.

Friends Speak to the Man

We will rejoice and be happy with you;
we praise your love more than wine.
With good reason, the young women love you.

The Woman Speaks

<sup>5</sup>I'm dark but lovely, women of Jerusalem,
dark like the tents of Kedar,

like the curtains of Solomon.

<sup>6</sup>Don't look at how dark I am,
at how dark the sun has made me.
My brothers were angry with me and made me tend the vineyards,
so I haven't tended my own vineyard!

<sup>7</sup>Tell me, you whom I love,
where do you feed your sheep?
Where do you let them rest at noon?
Why should I look for you near your friend's sheep,
like a woman who wears a veil?

The Man Speaks to the Woman

<sup>8</sup>You are the most beautiful of women.
Surely you know to follow the sheep and feed your young goats near the shepherds' tents.

<sup>9</sup>My darling, you are like a mare among the king's stallions.

<sup>10</sup>Your cheeks are beautiful with ornaments, and your neck with jewels.

<sup>11</sup>We will make for you gold earrings with silver hooks.

The Woman Speaks

<sup>12</sup>The smell of my perfume spreads out to the king on his couch.

<sup>13</sup>My lover is like a bag of myrrh that lies all night between my breasts.

<sup>14</sup>My lover is like a bunch of flowers from the vineyards at En Gedi.

The Man Speaks

<sup>15</sup>My darling, you are beautiful!
Oh, you are beautiful,
and your eyes are like doves.

The Woman Answers the Man

<sup>16</sup>You are so handsome, my lover, and so pleasant!
Our bed is the grass.
<sup>17</sup>Cedar trees form our roof;
our ceiling is made of juniper wood.

The Woman Speaks Again

I am a rose in the Plain of Sharon, a lily in the valleys.

The Man Speaks Again

<sup>2</sup>Among the young women, my darling is like a lily among thorns!

The Woman Answers

<sup>3</sup>Among the young men, my lover is like an apple tree in the woods!
I enjoy sitting in his shadow;
his fruit is sweet to my taste.

<sup>4</sup>He brought me to the banquet room, and his banner over me is love.

<sup>5</sup>Strengthen me with raisins, and refresh me with apples,
because I am weak with love.

<sup>6</sup>My lover's left hand is under my head,
and his right arm holds me tight.

The Woman Speaks to the Friends

<sup>7</sup>Women of Jerusalem, promise me
by the gazelles and the deer
not to awaken
or excite my feelings of love
until it is ready.

Life Lessons

Song of Solomon 2:8–3:4

Situation

Solomon's lover recalled their early courtship days and even remembered a dream that caused her concern about Solomon's whereabouts.

Observation

Good memories of courtship can keep fresh and alive the gift of love that God has given to partners in a marriage relationship.

Inspiration

Stacy and I rarely make big occasions out of anniversaries, but two years ago we took an exception. We decided to cash in airline mileage on a special trip to England to celebrate our fifteen years together.

The grandparents came to take care of their grandchildren, and we gathered our travel brochures and camera and headed off for a week... And we did have a good time... But I had to admit that our trip hardly resembled the pictures in the advertisements.

For one thing, the prices were almost double those we remembered from ten years previous. Rain or unexpected crowds canceled a number of our plans. And those little Cotswald cottages had beds made for two of the seven dwarfs... . Not exactly a second honeymoon....

Our trip—and our marriage—had been different from what we expected... . Having children and renovating houses, straining to find each of our career niches—our relationship was more than the sum of those parts, just as our vacation couldn't be defined by the places we visited....

The point was, we had made the trip together. We were beginning to learn something about what it meant to keep company on cold nights....

We discovered a love that is valuable precisely because it has been costly. (From The Cleavers Don't Live Here Anymore by Paula Rinehart)

Application

What could you do to strengthen your relationship? Ask God to show you how.

The Woman Speaks Again

<sup>8</sup>I hear my lover's voice.

Here he comes jumping across the mountains,
skipping over the hills.

<sup>9</sup>My lover is like a gazelle or a young deer.

Look, he stands behind our wall
peeking through the windows, looking through the blinds.

<sup>10</sup>My lover spoke and said to me,

“Get up, my darling;
let's go away, my beautiful one.

<sup>11</sup>Look, the winter is past;
the rains are over and gone.

<sup>12</sup>Blossoms appear through all the land.
The time has come to sing;
the cooing of doves is heard in our land.

<sup>13</sup>There are young figs on the fig trees,
and the blossoms on the vines smell sweet.

Get up, my darling;
let's go away, my beautiful one.”

The Man Speaks

<sup>14</sup>My beloved is like a dove hiding in the cracks of the rock,

in the secret places of the cliff.
Show me your face,
and let me hear your voice.
Your voice is sweet,
and your face is lovely.
<sup>15</sup>Catch the foxes for us—
the little foxes that ruin the vineyards while they are in blossom.

The Woman Speaks

<sup>16</sup>My lover is mine, and I am his.
He feeds among the lilies
<sup>17</sup>until the day dawns
and the shadows disappear.
Turn, my lover.
Be like a gazelle or a young deer
on the mountain valleys.

The Woman Dreams

At night on my bed,
I looked for the one I love;
I looked for him, but I could not find him.
<sup>2</sup>I got up and went around the city,
in the streets and squares,
looking for the one I love.
I looked for him, but I could not find him.
<sup>3</sup>The watchmen found me as they patrolled the city, so I asked, "Have you seen the one I love?"
<sup>4</sup>As soon as I had left them,
I found the one I love.
I held him and would not let him go until I brought him to my mother's house, to the room where I was born.

The Woman Speaks to the Friends

by the gazelles and the deer
not to awaken
or excite my feelings of love
until it is ready.
<sup>6</sup>Who is this coming out of the desert like a cloud of smoke?
Who is this that smells like myrrh, incense,
and other spices?
<sup>7</sup>Look, it's Solomon's couch

with sixty soldiers around it,
the finest soldiers of Israel.

<sup>8</sup>These soldiers all carry swords and have been trained in war.
Every man wears a sword at his side and is ready for the dangers of the night.

<sup>9</sup>King Solomon had a couch made for himself of wood from Lebanon.

<sup>10</sup>He made its posts of silver and its braces of gold.
The seat was covered with purple cloth that the women of Jerusalem wove with love.

<sup>11</sup>Women of Jerusalem, go out and see King Solomon.
He is wearing the crown his mother put on his head on his wedding day,
when his heart was happy!

Life Lessons

Song of Solomon 3:5–5:1

Situation

Solomon recalled the occasion when he declared his love to his bride. He offered his hand in marriage, and she accepted.

Observation

The Song of Solomon attests to the joy that comes from following guidelines from God.

Inspiration

There is no greater love than the love of God. However, here on earth God has given us certain relationships that give us a taste of or a glimpse into His divine love.

The first relationship that was created and ordained by God to help us understand in some small measure the greatness of His love is the marriage relationship. A well-balanced, loving marriage relationship is the nearest thing to “heaven on earth,” as so many of our writers have reminded us. Scripture includes many comparisons between our relationship with God and the marriage relationship.

I believe that one of the reasons that I came to know and love the Lord at an early age was because I saw His love manifest in the marriage relationship around me. From the time I was a very young girl, I knew Mother and Daddy loved each other. They were obviously sweethearts, and after almost sixty years of marriage, they are lovers still...

Mother and Daddy's marriage is an exception and not necessarily an example. God picked a very special woman and a very special man to do a very special job. Young Christians today can't look at Ruth and Billy Graham as an example of a “normal” marriage. So in that sense, I don't know whether I was fortunate or unfortunate. But from the moment I could sense things, I knew Mother and Daddy loved each other deeply and dearly. Even today in their older age, whenever I'm with them, Daddy's eyes light up and his whole demeanor changes when Mother is in the room. And Mother's eyes light up and she becomes happy and excited when he comes into the room. So I know there is a real love match there. It was a great sacrifice for them to be apart so much of the time because they were and are deeply in love....

One of the major magazines came out with an issue of the one hundred greatest love stories of the century. All kinds of celebrities were featured. And tucked in with the rest was a very small picture of Mother and Daddy. I looked at the other “great love stories” and thought, Most of these so-called love stories have ended in divorce, and many are not even married, so what exactly does this culture perceive as love?

Here is a couple who have been married almost sixty years, still together and still in love. They have endured ups and downs, hardships, stress, separations, sadness, and loneliness, as well as happy times. And their love story is tucked in between notorious love stories that have not lasted. Which is the true example of love? (From A Quiet Knowing by Gigi Graham Tchividjian)

Application

Think of a couple you know at church or within your family whose marriage relationship you admire. Ask them how they have been able to maintain a healthy marriage. Study the passages below and make your own list of guidelines that God gives for having a strong marriage.

The Man Speaks to the Woman

How beautiful you are, my darling!

Oh, you are beautiful!

Your eyes behind your veil are like doves.

Your hair is like a flock of goats streaming down Mount Gilead.

<sup>2</sup>Your teeth are white like newly sheared sheep
just coming from their bath.

Each one has a twin,
and none of them is missing.

<sup>3</sup>Your lips are like red silk thread,
and your mouth is lovely.

Your cheeks behind your veil
are like slices of a pomegranate.

<sup>4</sup>Your neck is like David's tower, built with rows of stones.

A thousand shields hang on its walls;
each shield belongs to a strong soldier.

<sup>5</sup>Your breasts are like two fawns,
like twins of a gazelle,
feeding among the lilies.

<sup>6</sup>Until the day dawns
and the shadows disappear,
I will go to that mountain of myrrh
and to that hill of incense.

<sup>7</sup>My darling, everything about you is beautiful, and there is nothing at all wrong with you.

<sup>8</sup>Come with me from Lebanon, my bride.
Come with me from Lebanon,

from the top of Mount Amana,
from the tops of Mount Senir and Mount Hermon.
Come from the lions' dens and from the leopards' hills.

<sup>9</sup>My sister, my bride,
you have thrilled my heart;
you have thrilled my heart
with a glance of your eyes,
with one sparkle from your necklace.

<sup>10</sup>Your love is so sweet, my sister, my bride.
Your love is better than wine,
and your perfume smells better than any spice.

<sup>11</sup>My bride, your lips drip honey;
honey and milk are under your tongue.
Your clothes smell like the cedars of Lebanon.

<sup>12</sup>My sister, my bride, you are like a garden locked up, like a walled-in spring, a closed-up fountain.

<sup>13</sup>Your limbs are like an orchard of pomegranates with all the best fruit, filled with flowers and nard,

<sup>14</sup>nard and saffron, calamus, and cinnamon, with trees of incense, myrrh, and aloes—
all the best spices.

<sup>15</sup>You are like a garden fountain—
a well of fresh water flowing down from the mountains of Lebanon.

The Woman Speaks

<sup>10</sup>Awake, north wind.
Come, south wind.
Blow on my garden,
and let its sweet smells flow out.
Let my lover enter the garden and eat its best fruits.

The Man Speaks

I have entered my garden, my sister, my bride.
I have gathered my myrrh with my spice.
I have eaten my honeycomb and my honey.
I have drunk my wine and my milk.

The Friends Speak

Eat, friends, and drink;
yes, drink deeply, lovers.

Life Lessons

Song of Solomon 5:2–6:3

Situation

Misunderstandings sprang up between Solomon and his wife. The bride took steps to heal the marriage breach. The growing maturity in this marriage was indicated by references to friendship and an understanding that Solomon and his bride belong exclusively to each other.

Observation

Marriage has several elements: love, commitment, sexual desire, admiration, and friendship. As a marriage matures, so does the commitment to resolve problems and to deepen the friendship.

Inspiration

The other night I fell into bed with a miserable cold. Mind you, I am not able to blow my nose because I can't use my hands, and I can't really cough because I have no chest muscles. I knew I was going to face a rough night. But not as rough as Ken.

I woke up at 3:0 a.m. and groaned, "Ken, please get up. Help me sit up so I can cough." The poor guy threw back the covers, stumbled out of bed, and sat me up to pound on my back. He held a tissue to my nose as I coughed and sputtered.

An hour-and-a-half later, we repeated the routine. We were both dead tired and somewhere in between squeezing my ribs and reaching for another tissue, he moaned, "Did our wedding vows include this stuff?"

I sniffed and reminded him, "Remember that part about 'for better or for worse'? Well, this is the worst part. And remember when we said we'd love each other through thick and thin?"

"I know, I know," Ken sighed. "This is the thin part."

Every couple agrees that marriage has its ups and downs. The up times are when love is as plain as day and fully visible. The down times are when love goes undercover and incognito. So commonplace are the ups and downs that one wonders why they aren't written into the wedding vows. But they are. When a husband and wife vow to love for better or for worse, it includes the full extent of the ups and downs.

Marriage will always ask you to prove love. To be married is not to be taken off the front lines of love but to be plunged into the thick and thin of the ups and downs.

(From Diamonds in the Dust by Joni Eareckson Tada)

Application

Marriage—and every other relationship in our lives—has ups and downs. How do you respond to problems or challenges in your friendships or in your marriage? It may be hard to work through problems, but it is the right way! Work it out. Don't give up!

The Woman Dreams

<sup>2</sup>I sleep, but my heart is awake.
I hear my lover knocking.
“Open to me, my sister, my darling,
my dove, my perfect one.
My head is wet with dew,
and my hair with the dampness of the night.”
<sup>3</sup>I have taken off my garment and don't want to put it on again.
I have washed my feet
and don't want to get them dirty again.
<sup>4</sup>My lover put his hand through the opening, and I felt excited inside.
<sup>5</sup>I got up to open the door for my lover.
Myrrh was dripping from my hands and flowing from my fingers, onto the handles of the lock.
<sup>6</sup>I opened the door for my lover,
but my lover had left and was gone.
When he spoke, he took my breath away.
I looked for him, but I could not find him;
I called for him, but he did not answer.
<sup>7</sup>The watchmen found me as they patrolled the city.
They hit me and hurt me;
the guards on the wall took away my veil.

<sup>8</sup>Promise me, women of Jerusalem,
if you find my lover,
tell him I am weak with love.

The Friends Answer the Woman

<sup>9</sup>How is your lover better than other lovers,
most beautiful of women?
How is your lover better than other lovers?
Why do you want us to promise this?

The Woman Answers the Friends

<sup>10</sup>My lover is healthy and tan,
the best of ten thousand men.
<sup>11</sup>His head is like the finest gold;
his hair is wavy and black like a raven.
<sup>12</sup>His eyes are like doves
by springs of water.
They seem to be bathed in cream
and are set like jewels.
<sup>13</sup>His cheeks are like beds of spices;
they smell like mounds of perfume.
His lips are like lilies flowing with myrrh.
<sup>14</sup>His hands are like gold hinges, filled with jewels.

His body is like shiny ivory covered with sapphires.

<sup>15</sup>His legs are like large marble posts,
standing on bases of fine gold.

He is like a cedar of Lebanon,
like the finest of the trees.

<sup>16</sup>His mouth is sweet to kiss,
and I desire him very much.

Yes, daughters of Jerusalem, this is my lover
and my friend.

The Friends Speak to the Woman

Where has your lover gone,
most beautiful of women?
Which way did your lover turn?
We will look for him with you.

The Woman Answers the Friends

<sup>2</sup>My lover has gone down to his garden, to the beds of spices,
to feed in the gardens
and to gather lilies.
<sup>3</sup>I belong to my lover,
and my lover belongs to me.
He feeds among the lilies.

Life Lessons

Song of Solomon 6:4–7:9

Situation

King Solomon expressed his love for his bride.

Observation

The Song of Solomon is traditionally considered to be a love poem. God used marriage as an illustration of Christ's love for the church.

Inspiration

What is more beautiful than a bride? One of the side benefits of being a minister is that I get an early glimpse of the bride as she stands at the top of the aisle. And I have to say that I have never seen an ugly bride. I've seen some grooms that could use an alteration or two, but never a bride. Maybe it is the aura of whiteness that clings to her as dew clings to a rose. Or perhaps it is the diamonds that glisten in her eyes. Or maybe it's the blush of love that pinks her cheeks or the bouquet of promises she carries. Whatever it is, there is the feeling that when you see a bride you are seeing the purest beauty the world can boast.

A bride. A commitment robed in elegance. "I'll be with you forever." Tomorrow bringing hope to today. Promised purity faithfully delivered.

When you read that our heavenly home is similar to a bride, tell me, doesn't it make you want to go home? (From The Applause of Heaven by Max Lucado)

Application

What are you doing to get ready for your spiritual wedding with Christ? Will you be pure, sinless, clean, without a spot? Get ready by being faithful today. When someone asks you to compromise your standards, say no. If they ask you to help them with something questionable, refuse.

Exploration

Bride and Bridegroom—Isaiah 62:5; Ezekiel 16:8.

The Man Speaks to the Woman

<sup>4</sup>My darling, you are as beautiful as the city of Tirzah, as lovely as the city of Jerusalem,
like an army flying flags.

<sup>5</sup>Turn your eyes from me,
because they excite me too much.
Your hair is like a flock of goats streaming down Mount Gilead.

<sup>6</sup>Your teeth are white like sheep
just coming from their bath;
each one has a twin,
and none of them is missing.

<sup>7</sup>Your cheeks behind your veil
are like slices of a pomegranate.

<sup>8</sup>There may be sixty queens and eighty slave women and so many girls you cannot count them,

<sup>9</sup>but there is only one like my dove, my perfect one.
She is her mother's only daughter,
the brightest of the one who gave her birth.

The young women saw her and called her happy;
the queens and the slave women also praised her.

The Young Women Praise the Woman

<sup>10</sup>Who is that young woman that shines out like the dawn?

She is as pretty as the moon,
as bright as the sun,
as wonderful as an army flying flags.

The Man Speaks

<sup>11</sup>I went down into the orchard of nut trees to see the blossoms of the valley, to look for buds on the vines,
to see if the pomegranate trees had bloomed.
<sup>12</sup>Before I realized it, my desire for you made me feel like a prince in a chariot.

The Friends Call to the Woman

<sup>13</sup>Come back, come back, woman of Shulam.
Come back, come back,
so we may look at you!

The Woman Answers the Friends

Why do you want to look at the woman of Shulam as you would at the dance of two armies?

The Man Speaks to the Woman

Your feet are beautiful in sandals, you daughter of a prince.

Your round thighs are like jewels shaped by an artist.

<sup>2</sup>Your navel is like a round drinking cup always filled with wine.

Your stomach is like a pile of wheat surrounded with lilies.

<sup>3</sup>Your breasts are like two fawns,
like twins of a gazelle.

<sup>4</sup>Your neck is like an ivory tower.

Your eyes are like the pools in Heshbon near the gate of Bath Rabbim.

Your nose is like the mountain of Lebanon that looks down on Damascus.

<sup>5</sup>Your head is like Mount Carmel,
and your hair is like purple cloth;
the king is captured in its folds.

<sup>6</sup>You are beautiful and pleasant;
my love, you are full of delights.

<sup>7</sup>You are tall like a palm tree,
and your breasts are like its bunches of fruit.

<sup>8</sup>I said, "I will climb up the palm tree and take hold of its fruit."

Let your breasts be like bunches of grapes,
the smell of your breath like apples,

<sup>9</sup>and your mouth like the best wine.

The Woman Speaks to the Man

Let this wine go down sweetly for my lover;
may it flow gently past the lips and teeth.

<sup>10</sup>I belong to my lover,
and he desires only me.

<sup>11</sup>Come, my lover, let's go out into the country and spend the night in the fields.

<sup>12</sup>Let's go early to the vineyards and see if the buds are on the vines.

Let's see if the blossoms have already opened and if the pomegranates have bloomed.

There I will give you my love.

<sup>13</sup>The mandrake flowers give their sweet smell,
and all the best fruits are at our gates.

I have saved them for you, my lover,
the old delights and the new.

Life Lessons

Song of Solomon 7:10–8:4

Situation

King Solomon knew that love between a husband and wife should be enjoyed and celebrated. God made human bodies to be enjoyable to their spouses.

Observation

Enjoy your spouse! Celebrate love! Never awaken these passions outside of marriage, and never let anything interfere with your enjoyment.

Inspiration

We all have some hurt that loves to come back and steal our joy. It sits on the back of our memory waiting for an opportunity to be recalled. It's always there, and no matter how hard we try, we can't remove it. There are a myriad of advantages of being human rather than a computer, but sometimes it would be nice to have all of our painful memories stored on a floppy disc stuck in the side of our head. A simple command could erase the hurt.

Even though we can't erase the hurts that lie stored in the file drawers of our memory, we can offset their negative impact. In chemistry, if I want to neutralize an acid, I must counter with the equivalent of an opposite substance. Forgiveness works like that. It's an alkaline nullifying the acidic nature of bitterness. It's that balancing presence that says "You can remind me of my pain, but you can't rob me of my rest."

If we don't deal with our unresolved conflicts, they'll deal with us. Bitterness is a slavemaster. It controls us. It demands too much.

(From Little House on the Freeway by Tim Kimmel)

Application

When you think about a memory with your spouse, does it still make you angry? It is time to resolve the conflict. True love cannot hold a grudge.

Exploration

<sup>2</sup>I would lead you and bring you to my mother's house;
she is the one who taught me.
I would give you a drink of spiced wine from my pomegranates.

The Woman Speaks to the Friends

<sup>3</sup>My lover's left hand is under my head,

Situation

Observation

The power of love that bonds husband and wife together provides them with satisfaction and enjoyment.

Inspiration

Relationships. America's most precious resource. Take our oil, take our weapons, but don't take what holds us together—relationships. A nation's strength is measured by the premium it puts on its own people. When people value people, an impenetrable web is drawn, a web of vitality and security.

A relationship. The delicate fusion of two human beings. The intricate weaving of two lives; two sets of moods, mentalities, and temperaments. Two intermingling hearts, both seeking solace and security.

A relationship. It has more power than any nuclear bomb and more potential than any promising seed. Nothing will drive a man to greater courage than a relationship. Nothing will spawn greater devotion than a relationship. Nothing will fire the heat of a patriot or purge the cynicism of a rebel like a relationship...

What matters most in life is not what ladders we climb or what ownings we accumulate. What matters most is a relationship.

What steps are you taking to protect your "possessions"? What measures are you using to insure that your relationships are strong and healthy? What are you doing to solidify the bridges between you and those in your world?

Do you resolve conflict as soon as possible, or do you "allow the sun to go down on your wrath"? Do you verbalize your love every day to your mate and children? Do you look for chances to forgive? Do you pray daily for those in your life? Do you count the lives of your family members and friends more important than your own?

Our Master knew the value of a relationship. It was through relationships that he changed the world. His movement thrived not on personality or power, but on championing the value of a person. He built bridges and crossed them. Touching the leper ... uniting the estranged ... exalting the prostitute. And what was that he said about loving your neighbor as yourself?

It's a wise man who values people above possessions. Many wealthy men have died paupers because they gave their lives to things and not to people. And many paupers have left this earth in contentment because they loved their neighbors. (From On the Anvil by Max Lucado)

The Book of Isaiah

Introduction

Isaiah was a blueblood among the prophets. His Hebrew was classic. His style was noble. His circles were influential. But his message was bare-knuckled.

Through the reigns of four kings he proclaimed one message: God will not forever wink at wrong.

He spoke with a grit in his gut and a fire in his eyes like one who had stood in hell and seen heaven, for that is exactly what had happened. Isaiah saw God.

Whether what he saw was in the sky or in his head matters little compared to the truth that it was in his heart. The lights danced and the angels chanted back and forth, “Holy, Holy, Holy,” as if they had nothing else to say, and they didn’t—for that is all you can say before him who is holy.

There are those who boast about having a vision of God like they boast about seeing the president. Not so with Isaiah. When he saw God he didn’t update his resume, he begged for mercy.

“Oh, no! I will be destroyed. I am not pure, and I live among people who are not pure, but I have seen the King, the Lord All-Powerful” (6:5).

No sooner is the mercy requested than it is received. An angel purges his mouth with a hot coal, teaching us that the only mouth worthy of speaking for God is the one cleansed by God.

Isaiah was never the same after that. Send me! he volunteered. And so God sent. And so Isaiah preached. He preached with the passion and fury of a man who’d seen his life pass before his eyes.

For he had. He preached with the passion and fury of a man sent by God. For he was.

And he preached with the passion and fury of a man who longed to join the angels and spend eternity singing, “Holy, Holy, Holy” at the top of his lungs.

Something tells me that’s what he is doing right now.

Isaiah 1:1-31

Situation

Isaiah revealed Judah's impending doom. God vowed not to listen to the prayers of his people because of their excessive sin. But God assured he would restore Israel after purging it of sin.

Observation

A loving and patient God continued to offer hope to the Israelites. He offered forgiveness if they repented.

Inspiration

In fact, it seems [God's] favorite word is "come."

"Come, let us talk about these things. Though your sins are like scarlet, they can be as white as snow."

"All you who are thirsty, come and drink."

"Come to me all, all of you who are tired and have heavy loads, and I will give you rest."

"Come to the wedding feast."

"Come follow me, and I will make you fish for people."

"Let anyone who is thirsty come to me and drink."

God is a God who invites. God is a God who calls. God is a God who opens the door and waves his hand pointing pilgrims to a full table.

His invitation is not just for a meal, however, it is for life. An invitation to come into his kingdom and take up residence in a tearless, graveless, painless world. Who can come? Whoever wishes. The invitation is at once universal and personal. (From And the Angels Were Silent by Max Lucado)

Application

To repent means being both remorseful for your sin and also acting so that you do not repeat the sin again. What sin are you enjoying? Repent of it. Then put the past behind and live a new day.

God's Forgiveness—Genesis 50:15–21; 1 Chronicles 21:8; Luke 11:4; Acts 8:18–23; Romans 12:17–21; 1 John 1:9.

We will never be pure until we admit we are filthy. And we will never be able to wash the feet of those who have hurt us until we allow Jesus, the one we have hurt, to wash ours. —Max Lucado (A Gentle Thunder)

This is the vision Isaiah son of Amoz saw about what would happen to Judah and Jerusalem. Isaiah saw these things while Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah were kings of Judah.

God's Case Against His Children

<sup>2</sup>Heaven and earth, listen, because the Lord is speaking:
“I raised my children and helped them grow up,
but they have turned against me.

<sup>3</sup>An ox knows its master,
and a donkey knows where its owner feeds it,
but the people of Israel do not know me;
my people do not understand.”

<sup>4</sup>How terrible! Israel is a nation of sin, a people loaded down with guilt,
a group of children doing evil,
children who are full of evil.
They have left the Lord;
they hate God, the Holy One of Israel, and have turned away from him as if he were a stranger.

<sup>5</sup>Why should you continue to be punished?
Why do you continue to turn against him?
Your whole head is hurt,
and your whole heart is sick.

<sup>6</sup>There is no healthy spot from the bottom of your foot to the top of your head;
you are covered with wounds, hurts, and open sores that are not cleaned and covered,
and no medicine takes away the pain.

<sup>7</sup>Your land is ruined;
your cities have been burned with fire.
While you watch,
your enemies are stealing everything from your land;
it is ruined like a country destroyed by enemies.

<sup>8</sup>Jerusalem is left alone like an empty shelter in a vineyard, like a hut left in a field of melons,
like a city surrounded by enemies.

<sup>9</sup>The Lord All-Powerful allowed a few of our people to live.
Otherwise we would have been completely destroyed like the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah.

<sup>10</sup>Jerusalem, your rulers are like those of Sodom, and your people are like those of Gomorrah.
Hear the word of the Lord;
listen to the teaching of our God!

<sup>11</sup>The Lord says,
“I do not want all these sacrifices.
I have had enough of your burnt sacrifices of male sheep and fat from fine animals.

I am not pleased

by the blood of bulls, lambs, and goats.

<sup>12</sup>You come to meet with me,
but who asked you to do all this running in and out of my Temple's rooms?

<sup>13</sup>Don't continue bringing me worthless sacrifices!
I hate the incense you burn.

I can't stand your New Moons, Sabbaths, and other feast days;

I can't stand the evil you do in your holy meetings.

<sup>14</sup>I hate your New Moon feasts and your other yearly feasts.

They have become a heavy weight on me,
and I am tired of carrying it.

<sup>15</sup>When you raise your arms to me in prayer,
I will refuse to look at you.

Even if you say many prayers,
I will not listen to you,

because your hands are full of blood.

<sup>16</sup>Wash yourselves and make yourselves clean.

Stop doing the evil things I see you do.

Stop doing wrong.

Seek justice.

Punish those who hurt others.

Help the orphans.

Stand up for the rights of widows.”

<sup>18</sup>The Lord says,

“Come, let us talk about these things.

Though your sins are like scarlet,
they can be as white as snow.

Though your sins are deep red,
they can be white like wool.

<sup>19</sup>If you become willing and obey me,
you will eat good crops from the land.

<sup>20</sup>But if you refuse to obey and if you turn against me, you will be destroyed by your enemies' swords."

The Lord himself said these things.

Jerusalem Is Not Loyal to God

<sup>21</sup>The city of Jerusalem once followed the Lord, but she is no longer loyal to him.

She used to be filled with fairness;
people there lived the way God wanted.

But now, murderers live there.

<sup>22</sup>Jerusalem, you have become like the scum left when silver is purified;

you are like wine mixed with water.

<sup>23</sup>Your rulers are rebels and friends of thieves.

They all accept money for doing wrong,
and they are paid to cheat people.

They don't seek justice for the orphans or listen to the widows' needs.

<sup>24</sup>So the Lord God All-Powerful,
the Mighty One of Israel, says:

"You, my enemies, will not cause me any more trouble.

I will pay you back for what you did.

<sup>25</sup>I will turn against you and clean away all your wrongs as if with soap;
I will take all the worthless things out of you.

<sup>26</sup>I will bring back judges as you had long ago;
your counselors will be like those you had in the beginning.

Then you will be called the City That Is Right with God,
the Loyal City.”

<sup>27</sup>By doing what is fair,
Jerusalem will be free again.
By doing what is right,
her people who come back to the Lord will have freedom.

<sup>28</sup>But sinners and those who turn against him will be destroyed;
those who have left the Lord will die.

<sup>29</sup>“You will be ashamed, because you have worshiped gods under the oak trees.

You will be disgraced,
because you have worshiped idols in your gardens.

<sup>30</sup>You will be like an oak whose leaves are dying or like a garden without water.

<sup>31</sup>Powerful people will be like small, dry pieces of wood, and their works will be like sparks.

They will burn together,
and no one will be able to put out that fire.”

Life Lessons

Isaiah 2:1–4:6

Situation

Isaiah's vision told both of God's judgment of the wicked and the promise of his coming kingdom for the righteous.

Observation

God can never approve of sin, but he longs to reward those who follow him.

Inspiration

In the moral conflict now raging around us, whoever is on God's side is on the winning side and cannot lose; whoever is on the other side is on the losing side and cannot win. Here there is no chance, no gamble. There is freedom to choose which side we shall be on but no freedom to negotiate the results of the choice once it is made. By the mercy of God we may repent a wrong choice and alter the consequences by making a new and right choice. Beyond that we cannot go.

The whole matter of moral choice centers around Jesus Christ. Christ stated it plainly: "He that is not with me is against me," and "No man cometh unto the Father, but by me." The gospel message embodies three distinct elements: an announcement, a command, and a call. It announces the good news of redemption accomplished in mercy; it commands all men everywhere to repent, and it calls all men to surrender to the terms of grace by believing on Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour.

We must all choose whether we will obey the gospel or turn away in unbelief and reject its authority. Our choice is our own, but the consequences of the choice have already been determined by the sovereign will of God, and from this there is no appeal. (From The Knowledge of the Holy by A. W. Tozer)

Application

Are you inside God's kingdom or do you find yourself peeking in, to see if it is for you? You cannot have one foot in and one foot out. Choose to be in God's kingdom. It will mean eternal rewards and fellowship with God.

Exploration

Wickedness or Righteousness—Psalm 1; Proverbs 3:33; Ezekiel 18:20–21; Malachi 3:18; Matthew 25:46; 1 Peter 3:12.

Our guilty conscience becomes a curtain that separates us from God. As a result, we hide from our Master. —Max Lucado (He Chose the Nails)

The Message About Jerusalem

Isaiah son of Amoz saw this message about Judah and Jerusalem:

<sup>2</sup>In the last days
the mountain on which the Lord's Temple stands will become the most important of all mountains.
It will be raised above the hills,
and people from all nations will come streaming to it.
<sup>3</sup>Many nations will come and say,
"Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord,
to the Temple of the God of Jacob.
Then God will teach us his ways,
and we will obey his teachings."
His teachings will go out from Jerusalem;
the message of the Lord will go out from Jerusalem.
<sup>4</sup>He will settle arguments among the nations and will make decisions for many nations.
Then they will make their swords into plows and their spears into hooks for trimming trees.
Nations will no longer fight other nations,
nor will they train for war anymore.

<sup>5</sup>Come, family of Jacob,
and let us follow the way of the Lord.

A Terrible Day Is Coming

<sup>6</sup>Lord, you have left your people,
the family of Jacob,
because they have become filled with wrong ideas
from people in the East.

They try to tell the future like the Philistines, and they have completely accepted those foreign ideas.

<sup>7</sup>Their land has been filled with silver and gold;
there are a great many treasures there.
Their land has been filled with horses;
there are many chariots there.

<sup>8</sup>Their land is full of idols.

The people worship these idols they made with their own hands

and shaped with their own fingers.

<sup>9</sup>People will not be proud any longer but will bow low with shame.
God, do not forgive them.

<sup>10</sup>Go into the caves of the cliffs;
dig holes and hide in the ground
from the anger of the Lord
and from his great power!

<sup>11</sup>Proud people will be made humble,

and they will bow low with shame.
At that time only the Lord will still be praised.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord All-Powerful has a certain day planned when he will punish the proud and those who brag, and they will no longer be important.

<sup>13</sup>He will bring down the tall cedar trees from Lebanon and the great oak trees of Bashan,

<sup>14</sup>all the tall mountains and the high hills,

<sup>15</sup>every tall tower and every high, strong wall,

<sup>16</sup>all the trading ships and the beautiful ships.

<sup>17</sup>At that time proud people will be made humble,
and they will bow low with shame.

At that time only the Lord will be praised,

<sup>18</sup>but all the idols will be gone.

<sup>19</sup>People will run to caves in the rocky cliffs and will dig holes and hide in the ground
from the anger of the Lord
and his great power,
when he stands to shake the earth.

<sup>20</sup>At that time people will throw away their gold and silver idols, which they made for themselves to worship;
they will throw them away to the bats and moles.

<sup>21</sup>Then the people will hide in caves and cracks in the rocks
from the anger of the Lord

and his great power,
when he stands to shake the earth.

<sup>22</sup>You should stop trusting in people to save you, because people are only human;
they aren't able to help you.

God Will Punish Judah and Jerusalem

Understand this:

The Lord God All-Powerful will take away everything Judah and Jerusalem need—all the food and water,

<sup>2</sup>the heroes and great soldiers,

the judges and prophets,

people who do magic and older leaders,

<sup>3</sup>the military leaders and government leaders, the counselors, the skilled craftsmen, and those who try to tell the future.

<sup>4</sup>The Lord says, “I will cause young boys to be your leaders,

and foolish children will rule over you.

<sup>5</sup>People will be against each other; everyone will be against his neighbor.

Young people will not respect older people,

and common people will not respect important people.”

<sup>6</sup>At that time a man will grab one of his brothers from his own family and say,

“You have a coat, so you will be our leader.

These ruins will be under your control.”

<sup>7</sup>But that brother will stand up and say,

“I cannot help you,

because I do not have food or clothes in my house.

You will not make me your leader.”

<sup>8</sup>This will happen because Jerusalem has stumbled, and Judah has fallen.

The things they say and do are against the Lord;
they turn against him.

<sup>9</sup>The look on their faces shows they are guilty;
like the people of Sodom, they are proud of their sin.
They don't care who sees it.

How terrible it will be for them, because they have brought much trouble on themselves.

<sup>10</sup>Tell those who do what is right that things will go well for them, because they will receive a reward for what they do.

<sup>11</sup>But how terrible it will be for the wicked!
They will be punished for all the wrong they have done.

<sup>12</sup>Children treat my people cruelly, and women rule over them.
My people, your guides lead you in the wrong way and turn you away from what is right.

<sup>13</sup>The Lord takes his place in court and stands to judge the people.

<sup>14</sup>The Lord presents his case against the older leaders and other leaders of his people:

“You have burned the vineyard.
Your houses are full of what you took from the poor.

<sup>15</sup>What gives you the right to crush my people and grind the faces of the poor into the dirt?”
The Lord God All-Powerful says this.

A Warning to Women of Jerusalem

<sup>16</sup>The Lord says,
“The women of Jerusalem are proud.
They walk around with their heads held high,
and they flirt with their eyes.
They take quick, short steps, making noise with their ankle bracelets.”

<sup>17</sup>So the Lord will put sores on the heads of those women in Jerusalem,
and he will make them lose their hair.

<sup>18</sup>At that time the Lord will take away everything that makes them proud: their beautiful ankle bracelets, their headbands, their necklaces shaped like the moon, <sup>19</sup>their earrings, bracelets, and veils, <sup>20</sup>their scarves, ankle chains, the cloth belts worn around their waists, their bottles of perfume, and charms, <sup>21</sup>their signet rings, nose rings, <sup>22</sup>their fine robes, capes, shawls, and purses, <sup>23</sup>their mirrors, linen dresses, turbans, and long shawls.

<sup>24</sup>Instead of wearing sweet-smelling perfume, they will stink.

Instead of fine cloth belts, they will wear the ropes of captives.

Instead of having their hair fixed in fancy ways, they will be bald.

Instead of fine clothes, they will wear clothes of sadness.

Instead of being beautiful, they will wear the brand of a captive.

<sup>25</sup>At that time your men will be killed with swords, and your heroes will die in war.

<sup>26</sup>There will be crying and sadness near the city gates.
Jerusalem will be like a woman who has lost everything and sits on the ground.

At that time seven women will grab one man and say, “We will eat our own bread and make our own clothes,
but please marry us!
Please, take away our shame.”

The Branch of the Lord

<sup>2</sup>At that time the Lord’s branch will be very beautiful and great. The people still living in Israel will be proud of what the land grows. <sup>3</sup>Those who are still living in Jerusalem will be called holy; their names are recorded among the living in Jerusalem. <sup>4</sup>The Lord will wash away the filth from the women of Jerusalem. He will wash the bloodstains out of Jerusalem and clean the city with the spirit of fairness and the spirit of fire. <sup>5</sup>Then the Lord will cover Mount Zion and the people who meet there with a cloud of smoke during the day and with a bright, flaming fire at night. There will be a covering over every person. <sup>6</sup>This covering will protect the people from the heat of the sun and will provide a safe place to hide from the storm and rain.

Life Lessons

Isaiah 5:1–30

Situation

In this passage, God condemns the nation of Israel for turning its back on the poor and exploiting them. He expected his people to be just and generous, a source of blessing, not proud and sinful, and a source of bloodshed.

Observation

God provides the means to be generous. Therefore, generosity gives glory to God. Most of all, God wants to see us give cheerfully.

Inspiration

In the earliest days of the church, the generosity of God's people was notorious (Acts 4:32–35).

There they were, a flock of sheep struggling for survival in a hostile world of Christ-hating citizens and politicians. They had every reason to live frightened, selfish lives of isolation and secrecy. Not so! Do you know why? We just read the answer:

Because “abundant grace was upon them all.” That prompted a spirit of generosity, a genuine desire to meet needs. Can you believe the results? “There was not a needy person among them...”

An atmosphere of grace creates an absence of selfishness. After all, it isn't your money, it's God's money. So you give it. It isn't your church, it's God's church; so you share it. They aren't your people, pastor, they're God's people; so you release them. It isn't your project, it's God's project; so you rely on Him. Even though you could raise twice the amount in the energy of the flesh, you refused to do so. You won't do it! You will trust God to work in His way and in His time....

By the way, I've noticed that words like mine and keep and ours are not heard in ministries of grace. Neither does a suspicious kind of spirit pervade a place where there is grace. Instead, there is open-handed generosity....

Another characteristic of a grace-awakening ministry is encouragement in unusual situations (absence of predictability). Where grace abounds you will not only find generosity with personal possessions, you will also find encouragement in unusual settings. Grace keeps us flexible, willing to adapt.

(From The Grace Awakening by Charles Swindoll)

Our gifts not only help others, but they encourage us, too. How have you been helped by giving? How have you been blessed by receiving?

Israel, the Lord's Vineyard

Now I will sing for my friend a song about his vineyard.

My friend had a vineyard
on a hill with very rich soil.

<sup>2</sup>He dug and cleared the field of stones and planted the best grapevines there.
He built a tower in the middle of it and cut out a winepress as well.
He hoped good grapes would grow there,
but only bad ones grew.

<sup>3</sup>My friend says, "You people living in Jerusalem, and you people of Judah,
judge between me and my vineyard.

<sup>4</sup>What more could I have done for my vineyard than I have already done?
Although I expected good grapes to grow,
why were there only bad ones?

<sup>5</sup>Now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard:
I will remove the hedge,
and it will be burned.
I will break down the stone wall,
and it will be walked on.

<sup>6</sup>I will ruin my field.
It will not be trimmed or hoed,
and weeds and thorns will grow there.
I will command the clouds not to rain on it.”

<sup>7</sup>The vineyard belonging to the Lord All-Powerful is the nation of Israel;
the garden that he loves
is the people of Judah.
He looked for justice, but there was only killing.
He hoped for right living, but there were only cries of pain.

<sup>8</sup>How terrible it will be for you who add more houses to your houses
and more fields to your fields until there is no room left for other people.
Then you are left alone in the land.

<sup>9</sup>The Lord All-Powerful said this to me:

“The fine houses will be destroyed;
the large and beautiful houses will be left empty.

<sup>10</sup>At that time a ten-acre vineyard will make only six gallons of wine, and ten bushels of seed will grow only half a bushel of grain.”

<sup>11</sup>How terrible it will be for people who rise early in the morning

to look for strong drink, who stay awake late at night,
becoming drunk with wine.

<sup>12</sup>At their parties they have lyres, harps, tambourines, flutes, and wine.
They don't see what the Lord has done or notice the work of his hands.

<sup>13</sup>So my people will be captured and taken away, because they don't really know me.
All the great people will die of hunger,
and the common people will die of thirst.

<sup>14</sup>So the place of the dead wants more and more people,

and it opens wide its mouth.

Jerusalem's important people and common people will go down into it,

with their happy and noisy ones.

<sup>15</sup>So the common people and the great people will be brought down;

those who are proud will be humbled.

<sup>16</sup>The Lord All-Powerful will receive glory by judging fairly;

the holy God will show himself holy by doing what is right.

<sup>17</sup>Then the sheep will go anywhere they want, and lambs will feed on the land that rich people once owned.

<sup>18</sup>How terrible it will be for those people!
They pull their guilt and sins behind them
as people pull wagons with ropes.

<sup>19</sup>They say, “Let God hurry;
let him do his work soon
so we may see it.
Let the plan of the Holy One of Israel happen soon so that we will know what it is.”

<sup>20</sup>How terrible it will be for people who call good things bad
and bad things good,
who think darkness is light
and light is darkness,
who think sour is sweet and sweet is sour.

<sup>21</sup>How terrible it will be for people who think they are wise
and believe they are clever.

<sup>22</sup>How terrible it will be for people who are famous for drinking wine
and are champions at mixing drinks.

<sup>23</sup>They take money to set the guilty free and don't allow good people to be judged fairly.

<sup>24</sup>They will be destroyed
just as fire burns straw or dry grass.

They will be destroyed
like a plant whose roots rot and whose flower dies and blows away like dust.

They have refused to obey the teachings of the Lord
All-Powerful
and have hated the message from the Holy God of Israel.

<sup>25</sup>So the Lord has become very angry with his people, and he has raised his hand to punish them.
Even the mountains are frightened.
Dead bodies lie in the streets like garbage.
But the Lord is still angry;
his hand is still raised to strike down the people.

<sup>26</sup>He raises a banner for the nations far away.
He whistles to call those people from the ends of the earth.

Look! The enemy comes quickly!

<sup>27</sup>Not one of them becomes tired or falls down.
Not one of them gets sleepy and falls asleep.
Their weapons are close at hand,
and their sandal straps are not broken.

<sup>28</sup>Their arrows are sharp,
and all of their bows are ready to shoot.
The horses' hoofs are hard as rocks,
and their chariot wheels move like a whirlwind.

<sup>29</sup>Their shout is like the roar of a lion;
it is loud like a young lion.
They growl as they grab their captives.
There is no one to stop them from taking their captives away.

<sup>30</sup>On that day they will roar like the waves of the sea.
And when people look at the land,
they will see only darkness and pain;
all light will become dark in this thick cloud.

Life Lessons

Isaiah 6:1–7:25

Situation

Isaiah recalled the commission God had given him. Isaiah carried a message of both hope and judgment. He described and predicted the coming Messiah: Jesus Christ.

Observation

We are commissioned to tell others about God and his plan for salvation.

Inspiration

It is no frivolous matter to hear the voice of God; and certainly it is an awesome trust to deign to speak for Him. Luther said that preaching made his knees knock. Spurgeon, the brilliant British preacher, said he “trembled” lest he should misinterpret the Word.

So, the only way we can ever speak with confidence is to speak from the Word. Jesus gives us the best example; He knew the Scriptures, drew His authority from them, and based His words upon them. Those who follow Him must do the same ... [T]he quiet, often unnoticed actions of “ordinary” Christians who believe and obey speak far more loudly than all the bombast of so-called religious leaders. Who speaks for God? He does quite nicely for Himself. Through His holy and infallible Word—and the quiet obedience of His servants.

Isaiah Becomes a Prophet

In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord sitting on a very high throne. His long robe filled the Temple. <sup>2</sup>Heavenly creatures of fire stood above him. Each creature had six wings: It used two wings to cover its face, two wings to cover its feet, and two wings for flying. <sup>3</sup>Each creature was calling to the others:

“Holy, holy, holy is the Lord All-Powerful.
His glory fills the whole earth.”

<sup>5</sup>I said, “Oh, no! I will be destroyed. I am not pure, and I live among people who are not pure, but I have seen the King, the Lord All-Powerful.”

<sup>6</sup>One of the heavenly creatures used a pair of tongs to take a hot coal from the altar. Then he flew to me with the hot coal in his hand. <sup>7</sup>The creature touched my mouth with the hot coal and said, “Look, your guilt is taken away, because this hot coal has touched your lips. Your sin is taken away.”

<sup>8</sup>Then I heard the Lord’s voice, saying, “Whom can I send? Who will go for us?”

So I said, “Here I am. Send me!”

<sup>9</sup>Then the Lord said, “Go and tell this to the people:

‘You will listen and listen, but you will not understand.
You will look and look, but you will not learn.’

<sup>10</sup>Make the minds of these people dumb.

Shut their ears. Cover their eyes.

Otherwise, they might really understand what they see with their eyes and hear with their ears.

They might really understand in their minds and come back to me and be healed.”

<sup>11</sup>Then I asked, “Lord, how long should I do this?”
He answered,

“Until the cities are destroyed and the people are gone,
until there are no people left in the houses,
until the land is destroyed and left empty.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord will send the people far away,
and the land will be left empty.

<sup>13</sup>One-tenth of the people will be left in the land,
but it will be destroyed again.

These people will be like an oak tree whose stump is left when the tree is chopped down.

The people who remain will be like a stump that will sprout again.”

Trouble with Aram

Now Ahaz was the son of Jotham, who was the son of Uzziah. When Ahaz was king of Judah, Rezin king of Aram and Pekah son of Remaliah, the king of Israel, went up to Jerusalem to fight against it. But they were not able to defeat the city.

When Ahaz heard this, he and the people were frightened. They shook with fear like trees of the forest blown by the wind.

<sup>3</sup>Then the Lord told Isaiah, “You and your son Shear-Jashub should go and meet Ahaz at the place where the water flows into the upper pool, on the road where people do their laundry. <sup>4</sup>Tell Ahaz, ‘Be careful. Be calm and don’t worry. Don’t let those two men, Rezin and Pekah son of Remaliah, scare you. Don’t be afraid of their anger or Aram’s anger, because they are like two barely burning sticks that are ready to go out. <sup>5</sup>They have made plans against you, saying, <sup>6</sup>“Let’s fight against Judah and tear it apart. We will divide the land for ourselves and make the son of Tabeel the new king of Judah.”

<sup>7</sup>But I, the Lord God, say,

““Their plan will not succeed;
it will not happen,

<sup>8</sup>because Aram is led by the city of Damascus, and Damascus is led by its weak king, Rezin.

Within sixty-five years Israel will no longer be a nation.

<sup>9</sup>Israel is led by the city of Samaria, and Samaria is led by its weak king, the son of Remaliah.

If your faith is not strong,
you will not have strength enough to last.”

Immanuel—God Is with Us

<sup>10</sup>Then the Lord spoke to Ahaz again, saying, <sup>11</sup>“Ask for a sign from the Lord your God to prove to yourself that these things are true. It may be a sign from as deep as the place of the dead or as high as the heavens.”

<sup>12</sup>But Ahaz said, “I will not ask for a sign or test the Lord.”

<sup>13</sup>Then Isaiah said, “Ahaz, descendant of David, listen carefully! Isn’t it bad enough that you wear out the patience of people? Do you also have to wear out the patience of my God?

<sup>14</sup>The Lord himself will give you a sign: The virgin will be pregnant. She will have a son, and she will name him Immanuel.

<sup>15</sup>He will be eating milk curds and honey when he learns to reject what is evil and to choose what is good. <sup>16</sup>You are afraid of the kings of Israel and Aram now. But before the child learns to choose good and reject evil, the lands of Israel and Aram will be empty. <sup>17</sup>The Lord will bring troubled times to you, your people, and to the people of your father’s family. They will be worse than anything that has happened since Israel separated from Judah. The Lord will bring the king of Assyria to fight against you.

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: Immanuel, God With Us

He could have given up. No one would have known otherwise. Jesus could have given up.

One look at the womb could have discouraged him. God is as unbridled as the air and limitless as the sky. Would he reduce his world to the belly of a girl for nine months?

And nine months? There is another reason to quit. Heaven has no months. Heaven has no time. Or, perhaps better said, heaven has all the time. It's we who are running out. Ours passes so quickly that we measure it by the second. Wouldn't Christ rather stay on the other side of the ridge of time? ...

And the stable. Is that not yet another reason for Christ to back out? Stables are smelly, dirty. Stables have no linoleum floors or oxygen tanks. How are they going to cut the umbilical cord? And who is going to cut the umbilical cord? Joseph? A small-time carpenter from a one-camel town? Is there not a better father for God? Someone with an education, a pedigree. Someone with a bit of clout? This fellow couldn't even swing a room at the hotel. You think he's got what it takes to be the father to the Maker of the universe? ...

Jesus could have given up. Imagine the change he had to make, the distance he had to travel. What would it be like to become flesh?

Love goes the distance ... and Christ traveled from limitless eternity to be confined by time in order to become one of us. He didn't have to. He could have given up. At any step along the way he could have called it quits.

He didn't, because he is love. And "love ...

endures all things” (1 Corinthians 13:4-7, NKJV). He endured the distance. What’s more, he endured the resistance.

“The Word became flesh and made his dwelling among us. We have seen his glory” (John 1:14, NIV).

<sup>18</sup>“At that time the Lord will whistle for the Egyptians, and they will come like flies from Egypt’s faraway streams. He will call for the Assyrians, and they will come like bees. <sup>19</sup>These enemies will camp in the deep ravines and in the cliffs, by the thornbushes and watering holes. <sup>20</sup>The Lord will hire Assyria and use it like a razor to punish Judah. It will be as if the Lord is shaving the hair from Judah’s head and legs and removing Judah’s beard.

<sup>21</sup>“At that time a person will be able to keep only one young cow and two sheep alive. <sup>22</sup>There will be only enough milk for that person to eat milk curds. All who remain in the land will go back to eating just milk curds and honey. <sup>23</sup>In this land there are now vineyards that have a thousand grapevines, which are worth about twenty-five pounds of silver. But these fields will become full of weeds and thorns. <sup>24</sup>The land will become wild and useful only as a hunting ground. <sup>25</sup>People once worked and grew food on these hills, but at that time people will not go there, because the land will be filled with weeds and thorns. Only sheep and cattle will go to those places.”

Life Lessons

Isaiah 8:1–10:34

Situation

Isaiah brought a shocking announcement that God planned to deliver Israel into the hands of Assyria. Israel would experience difficult days ahead. But during these hard times, God would not forget about his people.

Observation

God judges sin. But he also restores his people into a peaceful relationship with himself.

Inspiration

The struggle we have with a holy God is rooted in the conflict between God's righteousness and our unrighteousness. He is just and we are unjust. This tension creates fear, hostility, and anger within us toward God. The unjust person does not desire the company of a just judge. We become fugitives fleeing from the presence of One whose glory can blind us and whose justice can condemn us. We are at war with Him unless or until we are justified....

I remember the sultry summer day in 1945 when I was busy playing stickball in the streets of Chicago. At that time my world consisted of the piece of real estate that extended from one manhole cover to the next. All that was important to me was that my turn at bat had finally come. I was most annoyed when the first pitch was interrupted by an outbreak of chaos and noise all around me. People started running out of apartment doors screaming and beating dishpans with wooden spoons. I thought for a moment it might be the end of the world. It was certainly the end of my stickball game. In the riotous confusion I saw my mother rushing toward me with tears streaming down her face. She scooped me up in her arms and squeezed me, sobbing over and over again, “It’s over, it’s over, it’s over!”

It was VJ Day, 1945. I wasn’t sure what it all meant, but one thing was clear. It meant that the war had ended and my father was coming home. No more airmail to faraway countries. No more listening to the daily news reports about battle casualties. . . . The war was over and peace had come at last.

That moment of jubilation left a lasting impression in my childhood brain. I learned that peace was an important thing, a cause for unbridled celebration when it was established and for bitter remorse when it was lost. . . .

When God signs a peace treaty, it is a sign for perpetuity. The war is over forever and ever. Of course we still sin; we still rebel; we still commit acts of hostility toward God. But God is not a co-belligerent. He will not be drawn into warfare with us. We have an advocate with the Father. We have a mediator who keeps the peace. He rules over the peace because He is both the Prince of Peace and He is our peace. (From The Holiness of God by R. C. Sproul)

Application

Rejoice because you have peace with God!

Celebrate God's forgiveness for you. Demonstrate God's peace to others through your relationships. Help your coworkers and family to meet their needs. Relieve the disappointments of others.

Exploration

Peace—Psalm 29:11; 119:165; Isaiah 26:3; 48:18; John 14:27; Romans 5:1; Ephesians 2:14; Philippians 4:7; Colossians 1:20.

Assyria Will Come Soon

The Lord told me, “Take a large scroll and write on it with an ordinary pen: ‘Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz.’ <sup>2</sup>I will gather some men to be reliable witnesses: Uriah the priest and Zechariah son of Jeberekiah.”

<sup>3</sup>Then I went to the prophetess, and she became pregnant and had a son. The Lord told me, “Name the boy Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz, <sup>4</sup>because the king of Assyria will take away all the wealth and possessions of Damascus and Samaria before the boy learns to say ‘my father’ or ‘my mother.’”

<sup>6</sup>“These people refuse to accept the slow-moving waters of the pool of Shiloah and are terrified of Rezin and Pekah son of Remaliah.

<sup>7</sup>So I, the Lord, will bring the king of Assyria and all his power against them, like a powerful flood of water from the Euphrates River.
The Assyrians will be like water rising over the banks of the river,
flowing over the land.

<sup>8</sup>That water will flow into Judah and pass through it, rising to Judah’s throat.
Immanuel, this army will spread its wings like a bird until it covers your whole country.”

<sup>9</sup>Be broken, all you nations, and be smashed to pieces.
Listen, all you faraway countries.
Prepare for battle and be smashed to pieces!
Prepare for battle and be smashed to pieces!
<sup>10</sup>Make your plans for the fight,
but they will be defeated.
Give orders to your armies,
but they will be useless,
because God is with us.

Warnings to Isaiah

<sup>11</sup>The Lord spoke to me with his great power and warned me not to follow the lead of the rest of the people. He said, <sup>12</sup>“People are saying that others make plans against
them,
but you should not believe them.
Don’t be afraid of what they fear;
do not dread those things.
<sup>13</sup>But remember that the Lord All-Powerful is holy.
He is the one you should fear;
he is the one you should dread.
<sup>14</sup>Then he will be a place of safety for you.
But for the two families of Israel,
he will be like a stone that causes people to stumble,
like a rock that makes them fall.
He will be like a trap for the people of Jerusalem,
and he will catch them in his trap.

<sup>15</sup>Many people will fall over this rock.
They will fall and be broken;
they will be trapped and caught.”

<sup>16</sup>Make an agreement.
Seal up the teaching while my followers are watching.
<sup>17</sup>I will wait for the Lord to help us,
the Lord who is ashamed of the family of Israel.
I will wait for him.

<sup>18</sup>I am here, and with me are the children the Lord has given me. We are signs and proofs for the people of Israel from the Lord All-Powerful, who lives on Mount Zion.

<sup>19</sup>Some people say, “Ask the mediums and fortune-tellers, who whisper and mutter, what to do.” But I tell you that people should ask their God for help. Why should people who are still alive ask something from the dead? <sup>20</sup>You should follow the teachings and the agreement with the Lord. The mediums and fortune-tellers do not speak the word of the Lord, so their words are worth nothing.

<sup>21</sup>People will wander through the land troubled and hungry. When they become hungry, they will become angry and will look up and curse their king and their God. <sup>22</sup>They will look around them at their land and see only trouble, darkness, and awful gloom. And they will be forced into the darkness.

A New Day Is Coming

But suddenly there will be no more gloom for the land that suffered. In the past God made the lands of Zebulun and Naphtali hang their heads in shame, but in the future those lands will be made great. They will stretch from the road along the Mediterranean Sea to the land beyond the Jordan River and north to Galilee, the land of people who are not Israelites.

<sup>2</sup>Before those people lived in darkness,
but now they have seen a great light.

They lived in a dark land,
but a light has shined on them.

<sup>3</sup>God, you have caused the nation to grow and made the people happy.

And they have shown their happiness to you,
like the joy during harvest time,
like the joy of people
taking what they have won in war.

<sup>4</sup>Like the time you defeated Midian, you have taken away their heavy load and the heavy pole from their backs and the rod the enemy used to punish them.

<sup>5</sup>Every boot that marched in battle and every uniform stained with blood has been thrown into the fire.

<sup>6</sup>A child has been born to us;
God has given a son to us.

He will be responsible for leading the people.

His name will be Wonderful Counselor, Powerful God, Father Who Lives Forever, Prince of Peace.

<sup>7</sup>Power and peace will be in his kingdom and will continue to grow forever.

He will rule as king on David's throne and over David's kingdom.

He will make it strong by ruling with justice and goodness from now on and forever.

The Lord All-Powerful will do this because of his strong love for his people.

God Will Punish Israel

<sup>8</sup>The Lord sent a message against the people of Jacob;
it says that God will judge Israel.

<sup>9</sup>Then everyone in Israel, even the leaders in Samaria, will know that God has sent it.

Those people are proud and brag by saying,

<sup>10</sup>“These bricks have fallen,
but we will build again with cut stones.

These small trees have been chopped down,
but we will put great cedars there.”

<sup>11</sup>But the Lord has brought the enemies of Rezin against them;

he has stirred up their enemies against them.

<sup>12</sup>The Arameans came from the east and the Philistines from the west, and they ate up Israel with their armies.

But the Lord was still angry;
his hand was still raised to punish the people.
Stepping from the throne, he removed his robe of light and wrapped himself in skin: pigmented, human skin. The light of the universe entered a dark, wet womb. He who angels worship nestled himself in the placenta of a peasant, was birthed into the cold night, and then slept on cow's hay.
—Max Lucado (In the Grip of Grace)

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The Son of Man

He lived among us. He donned the costliest of robes: a human body. He made a throne out of a manger and a royal court out of some cows. He took a common name—Jesus—and made it holy. He took common people and made them the same. He could have lived over us or away from us. But he didn't. He lived among us.

He became a friend of the sinner and brother of the poor. He touched their sores and felt their tears and paid for their mistakes. He entered a tomb and came out and pledged that we'd do the same. And to us all, and to all the frightened Freds of the world, he shared the same message. "Don't let your hearts be troubled. Trust in God, and trust in me... I will come back and take you to be with me so that you may be where I am" (John 14:1, 3).

And how do we respond?

Some pretend he doesn't exist. They occupy themselves with a study of the piano and ask no questions about the Maestro.

Others hear him, but don't believe him. It's not easy to believe that God would go so far to take us home.

But then, a few decide to give it a try. They venture out of their corners and peek up through the opening. Each day they look toward the sky. They, like Simeon, "wait for" and "look forward to" the day Christ comes (2 Peter 3:11). They know there is more to life than the belly of a piano, and they want to be ready when Christ comes. (From When Christ Comes by Max Lucado)

<sup>13</sup>But the people did not return to the one who had struck them;

they did not follow the Lord All-Powerful.

<sup>14</sup>So the Lord cut off Israel's head and tail, taking away both the branch and stalk in one day.

<sup>15</sup>The older leaders and important men were the head, and the prophets who speak lies were the tail.

<sup>16</sup>Those who led the people led them in the wrong direction, and those who followed them were destroyed.

<sup>17</sup>So the Lord is not happy with the young people, nor will he show mercy to the orphans and widows.

All the people are separated from God and are very evil;

they all speak lies.

But the Lord is still angry;

his hand is still raised to strike down the people.

<sup>18</sup>Evil is like a small fire.

First, it burns weeds and thorns.

Next, it burns the larger bushes in the forest,
and they all go up in a column of smoke.

<sup>19</sup>The Lord All-Powerful is angry, so the land will be burned.

The people are like fuel for the fire;

no one will try to save his brother or sister.

<sup>20</sup>People will grab something on the right,
but they will still be hungry.

They will eat something on the left,
but they will not be filled.

Then they will each turn and eat their own children.

<sup>21</sup>The people of Manasseh will fight against the people of Ephraim,

and Ephraim will fight against Manasseh.

Then both of them will turn against Judah.

But the Lord is still angry;

his hand is still raised to strike down the people.

How terrible it will be for those who make unfair laws, and those who write laws that make life hard for
people.

<sup>2</sup>They are not fair to the poor, and they rob my people of their rights.
They allow people to steal from widows and to take from orphans what really belongs to them.

<sup>3</sup>How will you explain the things you have done?
What will you do when your destruction comes from far away?

Where will you run for help?
Where will you hide your riches then?

<sup>4</sup>You will have to bow down among the captives or fall down among the dead bodies.
But the Lord is still angry;
his hand is still raised to strike down the people.

God Will Punish Assyria

<sup>5</sup>God says, “How terrible it will be for the king of Assyria.

I use him like a rod to show my anger;
in anger I use Assyria like a club.

<sup>6</sup>I send it to fight against a nation that is separated from God.

I am angry with those people,
so I command Assyria to fight against them,
to take their wealth from them,
to trample them down like dirt in the streets.

<sup>7</sup>But Assyria's king doesn't understand that I am using him;

he doesn't know he is a tool for me.

He only wants to destroy other people and to defeat many nations.

<sup>8</sup>The king of Assyria says to himself,
'All of my commanders are like kings.

The city Hamath is like the city Arpad.

The city Samaria is like the city Damascus.

<sup>10</sup>I defeated those kingdoms that worship idols, and those idols were more than the idols of Jerusalem and Samaria.

<sup>11</sup>As I defeated Samaria and her idols,
I will also defeat Jerusalem and her idols.'"

<sup>12</sup>When the Lord finishes doing what he planned to Mount Zion and Jerusalem, he will punish Assyria. The king of Assyria is very proud, and his pride has made him do these evil things, so God will punish him. <sup>13</sup>The king of Assyria says this:

"By my own power I have done these things;
by my wisdom I have defeated many nations.
I have taken their wealth,
and, like a mighty one, I have taken their people.

<sup>14</sup>I have taken the riches of all these people, like a person reaching into a bird's nest.
I have taken these nations,
like a person taking eggs.

Not one raised a hand or opened its mouth to stop me."

<sup>15</sup>An ax is not better than the person who swings it.
A saw is not better than the one who uses it.
A stick cannot control the person who picks it up.
A club cannot pick up the person!

<sup>16</sup>So the Lord God All-Powerful will send a terrible disease upon Assyria's soldiers.
The strength of Assyria will be burned up like a fire burning until everything is gone.

<sup>17</sup>God, the Light of Israel, will be like a fire;
the Holy One will be like a flame.
He will be like a fire that suddenly burns the weeds and thorns.

<sup>18</sup>The fire burns away the great trees and rich farmlands,
destroying everything.
It will be like a sick person who wastes away.
<sup>19</sup>The trees left standing will be so few that even a child could count them.

<sup>20</sup>At that time some people will be left alive in Israel from the family of Jacob.
They will not continue to depend on the person who defeated them.
They will learn truly to depend on the Lord,
the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>21</sup>Those who are left alive in Jacob's family will again follow the powerful God.

<sup>22</sup>Israel, your people are many,
like the grains of sand by the sea.

But only a few of them will be left alive to return to the Lord.

God has announced that he will destroy the land completely and fairly.

<sup>23</sup>The Lord God All-Powerful will certainly destroy this land, as he has announced.

<sup>24</sup>This is what the Lord God All-Powerful says:

“My people living in Jerusalem, don’t be afraid of the Assyrians, who beat you with a rod
and raise a stick against you, as Egypt did.

<sup>25</sup>After a short time my anger against you will stop, and then I will turn my anger to destroying them.”

<sup>26</sup>Then the Lord All-Powerful will beat the Assyrians with a whip

as he defeated Midian at the rock of Oreb.
He will raise his stick over the waters
as he did in Egypt.

<sup>27</sup>Then the troubles that Assyria puts on you will be removed,
and the load they make you carry
will be taken away.

Assyria Invades Israel

<sup>28</sup>The army of Assyria will enter near Aiath.
Its soldiers will walk through Migron.
They will store their food in Micmash.

<sup>29</sup>The army will go over the pass.
The soldiers will sleep at Geba.
The people of Ramah will be afraid,
and the people at Gibeah of Saul will run away.

<sup>30</sup>Cry out, Bath Gallim!
Laishah, listen!
Poor Anathoth!

<sup>31</sup>The people of Madmenah are running away;
the people of Gebim are hiding.

<sup>32</sup>This day the army will stop at Nob.
They will shake their fist at Mount Zion,
at the hill of Jerusalem.

<sup>33</sup>Watch! The Lord God All-Powerful with his great power will chop them down like a great tree.

Those who are great will be cut down;
those who are important will fall to the ground.

<sup>34</sup>He will cut them down
as a forest is cut down with an ax.
And the great trees of Lebanon will fall by the power of the Mighty One.

Life Lessons

Isaiah 11:1–12:6

Situation

Isaiah prophesied about Jesus, who would establish a kingdom of peace and prosperity.

Observation

Jesus Christ ushered in a kingdom where God reigns in righteousness and justice. We will realize it fully when he comes again.

Inspiration

The government in God's kingdom is unique. It is not a democracy where the people govern, but a Christocracy where Christ is the supreme Authority. In a government of unredeemed men, democracy is the only fair and equitable system. But no democracy can ever be better than the people who make it up. When men are selfishly motivated, the government will be inequitable. When men are dishonest, the government will be the same. When everyone wants his own way, someone is going to get hurt.

But in God's kingdom, Christ is King. He is compassionate, fair, merciful, and just. When He is sovereign in men's hearts, anguish turns to peace, hatred is transformed into love, and misunderstanding into understanding.

Not only this, but God's kingdom is lasting. The history of man has been a continuous series of half successes and total failures. Prosperity exists for a time, only to be followed by war and depression.

Twenty-six civilizations have come and gone, and man still battles with the same problems, over and over again.

But the kingdom of God will abide forever. The fluctuations of time, the swinging of the pendulum from war to peace, from starvation to plenty, from chaos to order, will end forever. The Bible says, “And of his kingdom there shall be no end” (Luke 1:33). (From Unto the Hills by Billy Graham)

Application

Is your behavior appropriate for a citizen of God’s kingdom? Make adjustments so that you are fair in your business, loving to your family, considerate to your friends, and honest in everything you do.

Exploration

God’s Kingdom—Matthew 6:33; Luke 12:32–34; 1 Corinthians 15:23–28; Hebrews 12:28; James 2:5.

The King of Peace Is Coming

A new branch will grow
from a stump of a tree;
so a new king will come from the family of Jesse.

<sup>2</sup>The Spirit of the Lord will rest upon that king.
The Spirit will give him wisdom and understanding, guidance and power.

The Spirit will teach him to know and respect the Lord.

<sup>3</sup>This king will be glad to obey the Lord.
He will not judge by the way things look or decide by what he hears.

<sup>4</sup>But he will judge the poor honestly;
he will be fair in his decisions for the poor people of
the land.

At his command evil people will be punished,
and by his words the wicked will be put to death.

<sup>5</sup>Goodness and fairness will give him strength, like a belt around his waist.

<sup>6</sup>Then wolves will live in peace with lambs, and leopards will lie down to rest with goats.
Calves, lions, and young bulls will eat together,
and a little child will lead them.

<sup>7</sup>Cows and bears will eat together in peace.
Their young will lie down to rest together.

Lions will eat hay as oxen do.

<sup>8</sup>A baby will be able to play near a cobra's hole, and a child will be able to put his hand into the nest of a poisonous snake.

<sup>9</sup>They will not hurt or destroy each other
on all my holy mountain, because the earth will be full of the knowledge of the Lord,
as the sea is full of water.

<sup>10</sup>At that time the new king from the family of Jesse will stand as a banner for all peoples. The nations will come together around him, and the place where he lives will be filled with glory. <sup>11</sup>At that time the Lord will again reach out and take his people who are left alive in Assyria, North Egypt, South Egypt, Cush, Elam, Babylonia, Hamath, and all the islands of the sea.

<sup>12</sup>God will raise a banner as a sign for all nations, and he will gather the people of Israel who were forced from their country.

He will gather the scattered people of Judah from all parts of the earth.

<sup>13</sup>At that time Israel will not be jealous anymore, and Judah will have no more enemies.

Israel will not be jealous of Judah,
and Judah will not hate Israel.

<sup>14</sup>But Israel and Judah will attack the Philistines on the west.

Together they will take the riches from the people of the east.

They will conquer Edom and Moab,
and the people of Ammon will be under their control.

<sup>15</sup>The Lord will dry up the Red Sea of Egypt.

He will wave his arm over the Euphrates River and dry it up with a scorching wind.

He will divide it into seven small rivers
so that people can walk across them with their sandals on.

<sup>16</sup>So God's people who are left alive
will have a way to leave Assyria, just like the time the Israelites came out of Egypt.

A Song of Praise to God

At that time you will say:

“I praise you, Lord!
You were angry with me,
but you are not angry with me now!
You have comforted me.

<sup>2</sup>God is the one who saves me;
I will trust him and not be afraid.

The Lord, the Lord gives me strength and makes me sing.

He has saved me.”

<sup>3</sup>You will receive your salvation with joy
as you would draw water from a well.

<sup>4</sup>At that time you will say,
“Praise the Lord and worship him.
Tell everyone what he has done and how great he is.

<sup>5</sup>Sing praise to the Lord, because he has done great things.

Let all the world know what he has done.

<sup>6</sup>Shout and sing for joy, you people of Jerusalem, because the Holy One of Israel does great things before your eyes.”

Isaiah 13:1–21:17

Situation

Isaiah reminded Israel not to make alliances with pagan nations. If the people sought God, his strength would be adequate to protect them. God promised to punish each neighboring country for its arrogance, rebellion, and immorality.

Observation

God expects his people as a group to stand up for truth.

Inspiration

It was May Day, 1990. The place, Moscow's Red Square.

"Is it straight, Father?" one Orthodox priest asked another, shifting the heavy, eight-foot crucifix on his shoulder.

"Yes," said the other. "It is straight."

Together the two priests, along with a group of parishioners holding ropes that steadied the beams of the huge cross, walked the parade route. Before them had passed the official might of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics: the usual May Day procession of tanks, missiles, troops, and salutes to the Communist party elite.

Behind the tanks surged a giant crowd of protesters, shouting up at Mikhail Gorbachev. "Bread! ... Freedom! ... Truth!"

As the throng passed directly in front of the Soviet leader standing in his place of honor, the priests hoisted their heavy burden toward the sky. The cross emerged from the crowd. As it did, the figure of Jesus Christ obscured the giant poster faces of Karl Marx, Friedrich Engels, and Vladimir Lenin that provided the backdrop for Gorbachev's reviewing stand.

"Mikhail Sergeyevich!" one of the priests shouted, his deep voice cleaving the clamor of the protesters and piercing straight toward the angry Soviet leader. "Mikhail Sergeyevich! Christ is risen!"

In a matter of months after that final May Day celebration, the Soviet Union was officially dissolved. Christ is risen indeed and is building His church, "... and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." (From The Body by Charles Colson)

God's Message to Babylon

God showed Isaiah son of Amoz this message about Babylon:

<sup>2</sup>Raise a flag on the bare mountain.

Call out to the men.

Raise your hand to signal them
to enter through the gates for important people.

<sup>3</sup>I myself have commanded those people whom I have separated as mine.

I have called those warriors to carry out my anger.
They rejoice and are glad to do my will.

<sup>4</sup>Listen to the loud noise in the mountains,
the sound of many people.

Listen to the noise among the kingdoms,
the sound of nations gathering together.

The Lord All-Powerful is calling his army together for battle.

<sup>5</sup>This army is coming from a faraway land,
from the edge of the horizon.

In anger the Lord is using this army like a weapon to destroy the whole country.

<sup>6</sup>Cry, because the Lord's day of judging is near;
the Almighty is sending destruction.

<sup>7</sup>People will be weak with fear, and their courage will melt away.

<sup>8</sup>Everyone will be afraid.
Pain and hurt will grab them;
they will hurt like a woman giving birth to a baby.
They will look at each other in fear,
with their faces red like fire.

God's Judgment Against Babylon

<sup>9</sup>Look, the Lord's day of judging is coming—a terrible day, a day of God's anger.

He will destroy the land and the sinners who live in it.

<sup>10</sup>The stars will not show their light;
the skies will be dark.

The sun will grow dark as it rises,
and the moon will not give its light.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord says, "I will punish the world for its evil and wicked people for their sins.
I will cause proud people to lose their pride, and I will destroy the pride of those who are cruel to others.

<sup>12</sup>People will be harder to find than pure gold;
there will be fewer people than there is fine gold in Ophir.

<sup>13</sup>I will make the sky shake, and the earth will be moved from its place

by the anger of the Lord All-Powerful at the time of his burning anger.

<sup>14</sup>“Then the people from Babylon will run away like hunted deer

or like sheep who have no shepherd.

Everyone will turn back to his own people;
each will run back to his own land.

<sup>15</sup>Everyone who is captured will be killed;
everyone who is caught will be killed with a sword.

<sup>16</sup>Their little children will be beaten to death in front of
them.

Their houses will be robbed
and their wives raped.

<sup>17</sup>“Look, I will cause the armies of Media to attack Babylon.

They do not care about silver or delight in gold.

<sup>18</sup>Their soldiers will shoot the young men with arrows;
they will show no mercy on children,
nor will they feel sorry for little ones.

<sup>19</sup>Babylon is the most beautiful of all kingdoms, and the Babylonians are very proud of it.

But God will destroy it like Sodom and Gomorrah.

<sup>20</sup>No one will ever live there or settle there again.

No Arab will put a tent there;
no shepherd will bring sheep there.

<sup>21</sup>Only desert animals will live there, and their houses will be full of wild dogs.

Owls will live there,
and wild goats will leap about in the houses.
<sup>22</sup>Wolves will howl within the strong walls, and wild dogs will bark in the beautiful buildings.
The end of Babylon is near;
its time is almost over.”

Israel Will Return Home

The Lord will show mercy to the people of Jacob, and he will again choose the people of Israel. He will settle them in their own land. Then non-Israelite people will join the Israelites and will become a part of the family of Jacob. <sup>2</sup>Nations will take the Israelites back to their land. Then those men and women from the other nations will become slaves to Israel in the Lord's land. In the past the Israelites were their slaves, but now the Israelites will defeat those nations and rule over them.

The King of Babylon Will Fall

<sup>3</sup>The Lord will take away the Israelites' hard work and will comfort them. They will no longer have to work hard as slaves. <sup>4</sup>On that day Israel will sing this song about the king of Babylon:

The cruel king who ruled us is finished;
his angry rule is finished!

<sup>5</sup>The Lord has broken the scepter of evil rulers and taken away their power.

<sup>6</sup>The king of Babylon struck people in anger again and again.

He ruled nations in anger and continued to hurt them.

<sup>7</sup>But now, the whole world rests and is quiet.
Now the people begin to sing.

<sup>8</sup>Even the pine trees are happy,

and the cedar trees of Lebanon rejoice.
They say, “The king has fallen,
so no one will ever cut us down again.”

<sup>9</sup>The place of the dead is excited to meet you when you come.
It wakes the spirits of the dead,
the leaders of the world.
It makes kings of all nations stand up from their thrones to greet you.

<sup>10</sup>All these leaders will make fun of you and will say,
“Now you are weak, as we are.
Now you are just like us.”

<sup>11</sup>Your pride has been sent down to the place of the dead.

The music from your harps goes with it.
Flies are spread out like your bed beneath you,
and worms cover your body like a blanket.

<sup>12</sup>King of Babylon, morning star, you have fallen from heaven,
even though you were as bright as the rising sun!
In the past all the nations on earth bowed down before
you,
but now you have been cut down.

“I will go up to heaven.
I will put my throne
above God’s stars.
I will sit on the mountain of the gods,

on the slopes of the sacred mountain.

I will be like God Most High.”

<sup>15</sup>But you were brought down to the grave, to the deep places where the dead are.

<sup>16</sup>Those who see you stare at you.

They think about what has happened to you and say, “Is this the same man who caused great fear on earth,

who shook the kingdoms,

<sup>17</sup>who turned the world into a desert,

who destroyed its cities,

who captured people in war and would not let them go home?”

<sup>18</sup>Every king of the earth has been buried with honor, each in his own grave.

<sup>19</sup>But you are thrown out of your grave, like an unwanted branch.

You are covered by bodies that died in battle,

by bodies to be buried in a rocky pit.

You are like a dead body other soldiers walk on.

<sup>20</sup>You will not be buried with those bodies, because you ruined your own country and killed your own people.

The children of evil people will never be mentioned again.

<sup>21</sup>Prepare to kill his children,

because their father is guilty.
They will never again take control of the earth;
they will never again fill the world with their cities.

<sup>22</sup>The Lord All-Powerful says this:
“I will fight against those people;
I will destroy Babylon and its people,
its children and their descendants,” says the Lord.

<sup>23</sup>“I will make Babylon fit only for owls and for swamps.
I will sweep Babylon as with a broom of destruction,” says the Lord All-Powerful.

God Will Punish Assyria

<sup>24</sup>The Lord All-Powerful has made this promise:
“These things will happen exactly as I planned them;
they will happen exactly as I set them up.

<sup>25</sup>I will destroy the king of Assyria in my country;
I will trample him on my mountains.
He placed a heavy load on my people,
but that weight will be removed.

<sup>26</sup>“This is what I plan to do for all the earth.
And this is the hand that I have raised over all nations.”

<sup>27</sup>When the Lord All-Powerful makes a plan,
no one can stop it.
When the Lord raises his hand to punish people,

no one can stop it.

God's Message to Philistia

<sup>29</sup>Country of Philistia, don't be happy that the king who struck you is now dead.

He is like a snake that will give birth to another dangerous snake.

The new king will be like a quick, dangerous snake to bite you.

<sup>30</sup>Even the poorest of my people will be able to eat safely,

and people in need will be able to lie down in safety.

But I will kill your family with hunger,
and all your people who are left will die.

<sup>31</sup>People near the city gates, cry out!

Philistines, be frightened,

because a cloud of dust comes from the north.

It is an army, full of men ready to fight.

<sup>32</sup>What shall we tell the messengers from Philistia?

Say that the Lord has made Jerusalem strong and that his poor people will go there for safety.

God's Message to Moab

This is a message about Moab:

In one night armies took the wealth from Ar in Moab,
and it was destroyed.

In one night armies took the wealth from Kir in Moab,
and it was destroyed.

<sup>2</sup>The people of Dibon go to the places of worship to cry.

The people of Moab cry for the cities of Nebo and Medeba.

Every head and beard has been shaved to show how sad Moab is.

<sup>3</sup>In the streets they wear rough cloth to show their sadness.

On the roofs and in the public squares,
they are crying loudly.

You can hear their voices far away in the city Jahaz.
Even the soldiers are frightened;
they are shaking with fear.

Its people run away to Zoar for safety;
they run to Eglath Shelishiyah.

People are going up the mountain road to Luhith, crying as they go.

People are going on the road to Horonaim, crying over their destruction.

<sup>6</sup>But the water of Nimrim has dried up.

The grass has dried up,
and all the plants are dead;
nothing green is left.

<sup>7</sup>So the people gather up what they have saved and carry it across the Ravine of the Poplars.

Their crying is heard as far away as the city Eglaim;
it is heard as far away as Beer Elim.

<sup>9</sup>The water of the city Dibon is full of blood, and I, the Lord, will bring even more troubles to Dibon.
A few people living in Moab have escaped the enemy,
but I will send lions to kill them.

Send the king of the land
the payment he demands.
Send a lamb from Sela through the desert to the mountain of Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup>The women of Moab try to cross the river Arnon like little birds
that have fallen from their nest.

<sup>3</sup>They say: “Help us.
Tell us what to do.
Protect us from our enemies
as shade protects us from the noon sun.
Hide us, because we are running for safety!
Don’t give us to our enemies.

<sup>4</sup>Let those of us who were forced out of Moab live in your land.

Hide us from our enemies.”
The robbing of Moab will stop.
The enemy will be defeated;
those who hurt others will disappear from the land.

<sup>5</sup>Then a new loyal king will come;
this faithful king will be from the family of David.
He will judge fairly
and do what is right.

<sup>6</sup>We have heard that the people of Moab are proud and very conceited.

They are very proud and angry,
but their bragging means nothing.

<sup>7</sup>So the people of Moab will cry;

they will all be sad.

They will moan and groan

for the raisin cakes they had in Kir Hareseth.

<sup>8</sup>But the fields of Heshbon and the vines of Sibmah cannot grow grapes;

foreign rulers have destroyed the grapevines.

The grapevines once spread as far as the city of Jazer and into the desert;

they had spread as far as the sea.

<sup>9</sup>I cry with the people of Jazer for the grapevines of Sibmah.

I will cry with the people of Heshbon and Elealeh.

There will be no shouts of joy,

because there will be no harvest or ripe fruit.

<sup>10</sup>There will be no joy and happiness in the orchards and no songs or shouts of joy in the vineyards.

No one makes wine in the winepresses, because I have put an end to shouts of joy.

<sup>11</sup>My heart cries for Moab like a harp playing a funeral song;

I am very sad for Kir Hareseth.

<sup>12</sup>The people of Moab will go to their places of worship and will try to pray.

But when they go to their temple to pray,

they will not be able.

<sup>13</sup>Earlier the Lord said these things about Moab. <sup>14</sup>Now the Lord says, "In three years all those people and what they take pride in will be hated. (This is three years as a hired helper would count time.) There will be a few people left, but they will be weak."

God's Message to Aram

This is a message about Damascus:

<sup>1</sup>“The city of Damascus will be destroyed;
only ruins will remain.

<sup>2</sup>People will leave the cities of Aroer.
Flocks will wander freely in those empty towns,
and there will be no one to bother them.

<sup>3</sup>The strong, walled cities of Israel will be destroyed.
The government in Damascus will end.
Those left alive of Aram will be like the glory of Israel,” says the Lord All-Powerful.

<sup>4</sup>“At that time Israel's wealth will all be gone.
Israel will be like someone who has lost much weight from sickness.

<sup>5</sup>That time will be like the grain harvest in the Valley of Rephaim.

The workers cut the wheat.
Then they cut the heads of grain from the plants and collect the grain.

<sup>6</sup>That time will also be like the olive harvest,
when a few olives are left.
Two or three olives are left in the top branches.
Four or five olives are left on full branches,” says the Lord, the God of Israel.

<sup>7</sup>At that time people will look to God, their Maker;

their eyes will see the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>8</sup>They will not trust the altars they have made,
nor will they trust what their hands have made,
not even the Asherah idols and altars.

<sup>9</sup>In that day all their strong cities will be empty. They will be like the cities the Hivites and the Amorites left when the Israelites came to take the land. Everything will be ruined.

<sup>10</sup>You have forgotten the God who saves you;
you have not remembered that God is your place of safety.

You plant the finest grapevines and grapevines from faraway places.

<sup>11</sup>You plant your grapevines one day and try to make them grow, and the next day you make them blossom.
But at harvest time everything will be dead;
a sickness will kill all the plants.

<sup>12</sup>Listen to the many people!
Their crying is like the noise from the sea.
Listen to the nations!
Their crying is like the crashing of great waves.

<sup>13</sup>The people roar like the waves,
but when God speaks harshly to them, they will run away.

They will be like chaff on the hills being blown by the wind, or like tumbleweeds blown away by a storm.

<sup>14</sup>At night the people will be very frightened.

Before morning, no one will be left.
So our enemies will come to our land,
but they will become nothing.

God's Message to Cush

How terrible it will be for the land beyond the rivers of Cush.

It is filled with the sound of wings.

<sup>2</sup>That land sends messengers across the sea;
they go on the water in boats made of reeds.

Go, quick messengers,
to a people who are tall and smooth-skinned,
who are feared everywhere.

They are a powerful nation that defeats other nations.
Their land is divided by rivers.

<sup>3</sup>All you people of the world, look!
Everyone who lives in the world, look!
You will see a banner raised on a mountain.
You will hear a trumpet sound.

<sup>4</sup>The Lord said to me,
“I will quietly watch from where I live,
like heat in the sunshine,
like the dew in the heat of harvest time.”

<sup>5</sup>The time will come, after the flowers have bloomed and before the harvest,

when new grapes will be budding and growing.
The enemy will cut the plants with knives;
he will cut down the vines and take them away.

<sup>6</sup>They will be left for the birds of the mountains and for the wild animals.

Birds will feed on them all summer,
and wild animals will eat them that winter.”

<sup>7</sup>At that time a gift will be brought to the Lord All-
Powerful
from the people who are tall and smooth-skinned,
who are feared everywhere.
They are a powerful nation that defeats other nations.
Their land is divided by rivers.
These gifts will be brought to the place of the Lord All-Powerful,
to Mount Zion.

God's Message to Egypt

This is a message about Egypt:

Look, the Lord is coming on a fast cloud to enter Egypt.

The idols of Egypt will tremble before him,
and Egypt's courage will melt away.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord says, "I will cause the Egyptians to fight against themselves.

People will fight with their relatives;
neighbors will fight neighbors;
cities will fight cities;
kingdoms will fight kingdoms.

<sup>3</sup>The Egyptians will be afraid,
and I will ruin their plans.

They will ask advice from their idols and spirits of the
dead,
from their mediums and fortune-tellers."

<sup>4</sup>The Lord God All-Powerful says,
"I will hand Egypt over to a hard master,
and a powerful king will rule over them."

<sup>5</sup>The sea will become dry, and the water will disappear from the Nile River.

<sup>6</sup>The canals will stink;
the streams of Egypt will decrease and dry up.
All the water plants will rot;

<sup>7</sup>all the plants along the banks of the Nile will die.
Even the planted fields by the Nile will dry up, blow away, and disappear.

<sup>8</sup>The fishermen, all those who catch fish from the Nile, will groan and cry;
those who fish in the Nile will be sad.

<sup>9</sup>All the people who make cloth from flax will be sad, and those who weave linen will lose hope.

<sup>10</sup>Those who weave cloth will be broken.
All those who work for money will be sad.

<sup>11</sup>The officers of the city of Zoan are fools;
the wise men who advise the king of Egypt give wrong advice.

How can you say to him, 'I am wise'?

How can you say, 'I am from the old family of the
kings'?

<sup>12</sup>Egypt, where are your wise men?

Let them show you what the Lord All-Powerful has planned for Egypt.

<sup>13</sup>The officers of Zoan have been fooled;
the leaders of Memphis have believed false things.
So the leaders of Egypt lead that nation the wrong way.

<sup>14</sup>The Lord has made the leaders confused.
They have led Egypt to wander in the wrong ways,
like drunk people stumbling in their own vomit.

<sup>15</sup>There is nothing Egypt can do;
no one there can help.

<sup>16</sup>In that day the Egyptians will be like women. They will be afraid of the Lord All-Powerful, because he will raise his hand to strike them down.<sup>17</sup>The land of Judah will bring fear to Egypt. Anyone there who hears the name Judah will be afraid, because the Lord All-Powerful has planned terrible things for them.<sup>18</sup>At that time five cities in Egypt will speak Hebrew, the language of Canaan, and they will promise to be loyal to the Lord All-Powerful. One of these cities will be named the City of Destruction.<sup>19</sup>At that time there will be an altar for the Lord in the middle of Egypt and a monument to the Lord at the border of Egypt.<sup>20</sup>This will be a sign and a witness to the Lord All-Powerful in the land of Egypt. When the people cry to the Lord for help, he will send someone to save and defend them. He will rescue them from those who hurt them.

<sup>21</sup>So the Lord will show himself to the Egyptians, and then they will know he is the Lord. They will worship God and offer many sacrifices. They will make promises to the Lord and will keep them.<sup>22</sup>The Lord will punish the Egyptians, but then he will heal them. They will come back to the Lord, and he will listen to their prayers and heal them.

<sup>23</sup>At that time there will be a highway from Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrians will go to Egypt, and the Egyptians will go to Assyria. The Egyptians and Assyrians will worship God together.<sup>24</sup>At that time Israel, Assyria, and Egypt will join together, which will be a blessing for the earth.<sup>25</sup>The Lord All-Powerful will bless them, saying, "Egypt, you are my people. Assyria, I made you. Israel, I own you. You are all blessed!"

Assyria Will Defeat Egypt and Cush

Sargon king of Assyria sent a military commander to Ashdod to attack that city. So the commander attacked and captured it. <sup>2</sup>Then the Lord spoke through Isaiah son of Amoz, saying, “Take the rough cloth off your body, and take your sandals off your feet.” So Isaiah obeyed and walked around naked and barefoot.

<sup>3</sup>Then the Lord said, “Isaiah my servant has walked around naked and barefoot for three years as a sign against Egypt and Cush. <sup>4</sup>The king of Assyria will carry away prisoners from Egypt and Cush. Old people and young people will be led away naked and barefoot, with their buttocks bare. So the Egyptians will be shamed. <sup>5</sup>People who looked to Cush for help will be afraid, and those who were amazed by Egypt’s glory will be shamed. <sup>6</sup>People who live near the sea will say, ‘Look at those countries. We trusted them to help us. We ran to them so they would save us from the king of Assyria. So how will we be able to escape?’”

God's Message to Babylon

This is a message about the Desert by the Sea:

Disaster is coming from the desert like wind blowing in the south.
It is coming from a terrible country.

<sup>2</sup>I have seen a terrible vision.
I see traitors turning against you and people taking your wealth.
Elam, attack the people!
Media, surround the city and attack it!
I will bring an end to the pain the city causes.

<sup>3</sup>I saw those terrible things, and now I am in pain;
my pains are like the pains of giving birth.
What I hear makes me very afraid;
what I see causes me to shake with fear.

<sup>4</sup>I am worried, and I am shaking with fear.
My pleasant evening
has become a night of fear.

<sup>5</sup>They set the table;
they spread the rugs;
they eat and drink.
Leaders, stand up.
Prepare the shields for battle!

<sup>6</sup>The Lord said to me,

“Go, place a lookout for the city and have him report what he sees.

<sup>7</sup>If he sees chariots and teams of horses, donkeys, or camels,
he should pay very close attention.”

<sup>8</sup>Then the lookout called out,
“My master, each day I stand in the watchtower watching;

every night I have been on guard.

<sup>9</sup>Look, I see a man coming in a chariot with a team of horses.”

The man gives back the answer,

“Babylon has fallen. It has fallen!

All the statues of her gods lie broken on the ground.”

<sup>10</sup>My people are crushed like grain on the threshing floor.

My people, I tell you what I have heard from the Lord All-Powerful, from the God of Israel.

God's Message to Edom

<sup>11</sup>This is a message about Dumah:

Someone calls to me from Edom,

“Watchman, how much of the night is left?

Watchman, how much longer will it be night?”

“Morning is coming, but then night will come again.

If you have something to ask,
then come back and ask.”

God’s Message to Arabia

<sup>13</sup>This is a message about Arabia:

A group of traders from Dedan spent the night near some trees in Arabia.

<sup>14</sup>They gave water to thirsty travelers;
the people of Tema gave food
to those who were escaping.

<sup>15</sup>They were running from swords,
from swords ready to kill,
from bows ready to shoot,
from a hard battle.

<sup>16</sup>This is what the Lord said to me: “In one year all the glory of the country of Kedar will be gone. (This is a year as a hired helper counts time.) <sup>17</sup>At that time only a few of the archers, the soldiers of Kedar, will be left alive.” The Lord, the God of Israel, has spoken.

Life Lessons

Isaiah 22:1–23:18

Situation

Isaiah foretold the destruction of Jerusalem and Tyre. Both cities would be destroyed for ignoring God and trusting in their own ingenuity.

Observation

When faced with a dilemma, ask God for his help and guidance rather than depending on your own resources.

Inspiration

It is the same now as of old. Christ in His visible presence has left us, but the Ark of His Covenant remains, His sacramental presence. “Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.” Remember that word, “always.” Regardless of circumstances, He is still there. Another word in your New Testament says, “I will not leave you destitute, I will come to you.” ...

Who cares? To whom can you go? Where are decisions of right and wrong made? How can I fight on if there is no prevailing power of righteousness to check the erosion of sin?

How are we to go against our enemies? Shall we try it in our own strength?

... You can't do it by yourself! You can't overcome Satan in your own strength. Divine help is always available.

Live the life, and call on God. That's the combination that spells victory.

... If we go against our spiritual foes, we must go in the strength of God, having first put away from our hearts the evil we have done, through sincere repentance. Faith and a conscience void of offense toward God and man make a winning combination.

Are you in trouble? Has temptation backed you into a corner? Is your marriage partner unsaved? Has the one who promised to love you, honor you, and protect you, deserted you?

... Seek refuge and strength in God! ... You are not alone. Another shares your battle. He will support you and bring you through to victory....

None of us can make it through without God's help. I need an abiding sense of God's presence. I need a "cloud" by day and a "pillar of fire" by night. In the gloomiest hour, when the lights of this world have gone out, I need to know that He is there watching over me....

Sinner, what is your hope? Who will open a path for you at death? What friend will part the waters and let you through? ... You'll need to know that Jesus never fails. I ask you to turn toward Him now. (From Revivaltime Pulpit compiled by C. M. Ward)

Application

God's Message to Jerusalem

This is a message about the Valley of Vision:

What is wrong with you people?

Why are you on your roofs?

<sup>2</sup>This city was a very busy city, full of noise and wild parties.

Now your people have been killed,
but not with swords,
nor did they die in battle.

<sup>3</sup>All your leaders ran away together, but they have been captured without using a bow.
All you who were captured tried to run away before the enemy came.

<sup>4</sup>So I say, "Don't look at me.

Let me cry loudly.

Don't hurry to comfort me about the destruction of Jerusalem."

<sup>5</sup>The Lord God All-Powerful has chosen a special day of riots and confusion.

People will trample each other in the Valley of Vision.
The city walls will be knocked down,
and the people will cry out to the mountain.

<sup>6</sup>The soldiers from Elam will gather their arrows and their chariots and men on horses.

Kir will prepare their shields.

<sup>7</sup>Your nicest valleys will be filled with chariots.
Horsemen will be ordered to guard the gates of the city.

At that time the people of Jerusalem depended on the weapons kept at the Palace of the Forest.

<sup>9</sup>You saw that the walls of Jerusalem had many cracks that needed repairing.
You stored up water in the lower pool.

<sup>10</sup>You counted the houses of Jerusalem, and you tore down houses to repair the walls with their stones.

<sup>11</sup>You made a pool between the two walls to save water from the old pool, but you did not trust the God who made these things;
you did not respect the One who planned them long ago.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord God All-Powerful told the people to cry and be sad, to shave their heads and wear rough cloth.

<sup>13</sup>But look, the people are happy and are having wild parties.
They kill the cattle and the sheep;
they eat the food and drink the wine.
They say, "Let us eat and drink, because tomorrow we will die."

<sup>14</sup>The Lord All-Powerful said to me: "You people will die before this guilt is forgiven." The Lord God All-Powerful said this.

God's Message to Shebna

<sup>15</sup>This is what the Lord God All-Powerful says:

“Go to this servant Shebna,
the manager of the palace.

<sup>16</sup>Say to him, ‘What are you doing here?

Who said you could cut out a tomb for your self here?

Why are you preparing your tomb in a high place?

Why are you carving out a tomb from the rock?

<sup>17</sup>Look, mighty one! The Lord will throw you away.

He will take firm hold of you

<sup>18</sup>and roll you tightly into a ball and throw you into another country.

There you will die,

and there your fine chariots will remain.

You are a disgrace to your master's house.

<sup>19</sup>I will force you out of your important job,

and you will be thrown down from your important place.’

<sup>20</sup>“At that time I will call for my servant Eliakim son of Hilkiyah. <sup>21</sup>I will take your robe and put it on him and give him your belt. I will hand over to him the important job you have, and he will be like a father to the people of Jerusalem and the family of Judah. <sup>22</sup>I will put the key to the house of David around his neck. If he opens a door, no one will be able to close it; if he closes a door, no one will be able to open it. <sup>23</sup>He will be like an honored chair in his father's house. I will make him strong like a peg that is hammered into a strong board.

<sup>24</sup>All the honored and important things of his family will depend on him; all the adults and little children will depend on him. They will be like bowls and jars hanging on him.

<sup>25</sup>“At that time,” says the Lord All-Powerful, “the peg hammered into the strong board will weaken. It will break and fall, and everything hanging on it will be destroyed.” The Lord says this.

God's Message to Lebanon

This is a message about Tyre:

You trading ships, cry!
The houses and harbor of Tyre are destroyed.
This news came to the ships
from the land of Cyprus.

<sup>2</sup>Be silent, you who live on the island of Tyre;
you merchants of Sidon, be silent.
Sailors have made you rich.

<sup>3</sup>They traveled the sea to bring grain from Egypt;
the sailors of Tyre brought grain from the Nile Valley and sold it to other nations.

Strong city of the sea, be ashamed, because the sea says:

“I have not felt the pain of giving birth;
I have not reared young men or women.”

<sup>5</sup>Egypt will hear the news about Tyre, and it will make Egypt hurt with sorrow.

You people living near the sea should be sad.

<sup>7</sup>Look at your once happy city!
Look at your old, old city!
People from that city have traveled far away to live.

Tyre made others rich.

Its merchants were treated like princes,
and its traders were greatly respected.

<sup>9</sup>It was the Lord All-Powerful who planned this.

He decided to make these proud people unimportant;
he decided to disgrace those who were greatly respected.

<sup>10</sup>Go through your land, people of Tarshish, like the Nile goes through Egypt.

There is no harbor for you now!

<sup>11</sup>The Lord has stretched his hand over the sea and made its kingdoms tremble.

He commands that Canaan's strong, walled cities be destroyed.

<sup>12</sup>He said, "Sidon, you will not rejoice any longer, because you are destroyed.

Even if you cross the sea to Cyprus,
you will not find a place to rest."

<sup>13</sup>Look at the land of the Babylonians;
it is not a country now.

Assyria has made it a place for wild animals.

Assyria built towers to attack it;
the soldiers took all the treasures from its cities,
and they turned it into ruins.

<sup>14</sup>So be sad, you trading ships, because your strong city is destroyed.

<sup>15</sup>At that time people will forget about Tyre for seventy years, which is the length of a king's life. After seventy years, Tyre will be like the prostitute in this song:

<sup>16</sup>“Oh woman, you are forgotten.
Take your harp and walk through the city.
Play your harp well. Sing your song often.
Then people will remember you.”

<sup>17</sup>After seventy years the Lord will deal with Tyre, and it will again have trade. It will be like a prostitute for all the nations of the earth. <sup>18</sup>The profits will be saved for the Lord. Tyre will not keep the money she earns but will give them to the people who serve the Lord, so they will have plenty of food and nice clothes.

Life Lessons

Isaiah 24:1–27:13

Situation

God would step in and judge sin. Life would not be business as usual. God, the deliverer and comforter of Zion, would punish oppressors and preserve his people.

Observation

Sin corrupts the world. But God will judge the world and destroy death. God's people will enjoy eternity with him.

Inspiration

You were created in the image and likeness of God. You were made for God's fellowship and your heart can never be satisfied without His communion. Just as iron is attracted to a magnet, the soul in its state of hunger is drawn to God. Though you, like thousands of others, may feel in the state of sin that the world is more alluring and more to your liking, some day—perhaps even now as you read these words—you will acknowledge that there is something deep down inside you which cannot be satisfied by the alloy of earth. Then with David, the Psalmist who had sampled the delicacies of sin and had found them unsatisfying, you will say, "Oh God, you are my God; early will I seek you: my soul thirsteth for you, my flesh longs for you in a dry and thirsty land, where there is no water." (From Day by Day with Billy Graham by Joan W. Brown)

Application

How has moral sin entered your community? Find ways to stand for what is right: rent movies from stores that do not carry adult movies. Shop at the convenience store that does not carry pornography. Call your mayor and share that you do not want any more adult book shops. Make your godly preference known through your wallet and your voice.

The Lord Will Punish the World

Look! The Lord will destroy the earth and leave it empty;

he will ruin the surface of the land and scatter its people.

<sup>2</sup>At that time the same thing will happen to everyone:
to common people and priests,
to slaves and masters,
to women slaves and their women masters,
to buyers and sellers,
to those who borrow and those who lend,
to bankers and those who owe the bank.

<sup>3</sup>The earth will be completely empty.
The wealth will all be taken,
because the Lord has commanded it.

<sup>4</sup>The earth will dry up and die;
the world will grow weak and die;
the great leaders in this land will become weak.

<sup>5</sup>The people of the earth have ruined it, because they do not follow God's teachings or obey God's laws
or keep their agreement with God that was to last forever.

<sup>6</sup>So a curse will destroy the earth.
The people of the world are guilty,
so they will be burned up;

only a few will be left.

<sup>7</sup>The new wine will be bad, and the grapevines will die.
People who were happy will be sad.

<sup>8</sup>The happy music of the tambourines will end.
The happy sounds of wild parties will stop.
The joyful music from the harps will end.

The beer will taste bitter to those who drink it.

<sup>10</sup>The ruined city will be empty, and people will hide behind closed doors.

<sup>11</sup>People in the streets will ask for wine,
but joy will have turned to sadness;
all the happiness will have left.

<sup>12</sup>The city will be left in ruins,
and its gates will be smashed to pieces.

<sup>13</sup>This is what will happen all over the earth and to all the nations.

The earth will be like an olive tree after the harvest or like the few grapes left on a vine after harvest.

<sup>14</sup>The people shout for joy.

From the west they praise the greatness of the Lord.

<sup>15</sup>People in the east, praise the Lord.

People in the islands of the sea,
praise the name of the Lord, the God of Israel.

<sup>16</sup>We hear songs from every part of the earth praising God, the Righteous One.

But I said, "I am dying! I am dying!

How terrible it will be for me!

Traitors turn against people;

with their dishonesty, they turn against people.”

<sup>17</sup>There are terrors, holes, and traps for the people of the earth.

<sup>18</sup>Anyone who tries to escape from the sound of terror will fall into a hole.

Anyone who climbs out of the hole will be caught in a trap.

The clouds in the sky will pour out rain,
and the foundations of the earth will shake.

<sup>19</sup>The earth will be broken up;
the earth will split open;
the earth will shake violently.

<sup>20</sup>The earth will stumble around like someone who is drunk;

it will shake like a hut in a storm.
Its sin is like a heavy weight on its back;
it will fall and never rise again.

<sup>21</sup>At that time the Lord will punish the powers in the sky above and the rulers on earth below.

<sup>22</sup>They will be gathered together like prisoners thrown into a dungeon;
they will be shut up in prison.
After much time they will be punished.

<sup>23</sup>The moon will be embarrassed, and the sun will be ashamed,
because the Lord All-Powerful will rule as king on Mount Zion in Jerusalem.
Jerusalem’s leaders will see his greatness.

A Song of Praise to God

Lord, you are my God.
I honor you and praise you,
because you have done amazing things.
You have always done what you said you would do;
you have done what you planned long ago.
<sup>2</sup>You have made the city a pile of rocks and have destroyed her walls.
The city our enemies built with strong walls is gone;
it will never be built again.
<sup>3</sup>People from powerful nations will honor you;
cruel people from strong cities will fear you.
<sup>4</sup>You protect the poor;
you protect the helpless when they are in danger.
You are like a shelter from storms,
like shade that protects them from the heat.
The cruel people attack
like a rainstorm beating against the wall, <sup>5</sup>like the heat in the desert.
But you, God, stop their violent attack.
As a cloud cools a hot day,
you silence the songs of those who have no mercy.

God's Banquet for His Servants

<sup>6</sup>The Lord All-Powerful will prepare a feast on this mountain for all people.
It will be a feast with all the best food and wine,

the finest meat and wine.

<sup>7</sup>On this mountain God will destroy the veil that covers all nations,
the veil that stretches over all peoples;
<sup>8</sup>he will destroy death forever.

The Lord God will wipe away every tear from every face.

He will take away the shame of his people from the earth.

The Lord has spoken.

<sup>9</sup>At that time people will say,
“Our God is doing this!
We have waited for him, and he has come to save us.
This is the Lord. We waited for him, so we will rejoice and be happy when he saves us.”

<sup>10</sup>The Lord will protect Jerusalem, but he will crush our enemy Moab like straw that is trampled down in the manure.

<sup>11</sup>They will spread their arms in it like a person who is swimming.
But God will bring down their pride, and all the clever things they have made will mean
nothing.

<sup>12</sup>Moab’s high walls protect them,
but God will destroy these walls.
He will throw them down to the ground,
even to the dust.

If pride goes before the fall, then shame is what keeps you from getting up after one. —Max Lucado (He Chose the

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The One Who Takes Away Our Shame

I invite you to think carefully about the supreme test Jesus faced in the race. Hebrews 12:2 offers this intriguing statement: “[Jesus] accepted the shame as if it were nothing.”

Shame is a feeling of disgrace, embarrassment, humiliation. Forgive me for stirring the memory, but don't you have a shameful moment in your history? Can you imagine the horror you would feel if everyone knew about it? What if a videotape of that event were played before your family and friends? How would you feel?

That is exactly what Jesus felt. Why? you ask. He never did anything worthy of shame. No, but we did. And since on the cross God made him become sin (2 Corinthians 5:21), Jesus was covered with shame. He was shamed before his family. Stripped naked before his own mother and loved ones. Shamed before his fellow men. Forced to carry a cross until the weight caused him to stumble. Shamed before his church. The pastors and elders of his day mocked him, calling him names. Shamed before the city of Jerusalem. Condemned to die a criminal's death. Parents likely pointed to him from a distance and told their children, “That's what they do to evil men.”

But the shame before men didn't compare with the shame Jesus felt before his father. Our individual shame seems too much to bear. Can you imagine bearing the collective shame of all humanity? One wave of shame after another was dumped on Jesus. Though he never cheated, he was convicted as a cheat. Though he never stole, heaven regarded him as a thief. Though he never lied, he was considered a liar. Though he never lusted, he bore the shame of an adulterer. Though he always believed, he endured the disgrace of an infidel. (From Just Like Jesus by Max Lucado)

A Song of Praise to God

At that time people will sing this song in Judah:

We have a strong city.
God protects us with its strong walls and defenses.

<sup>2</sup>Open the gates, and the good people will enter,
those who follow God.

<sup>3</sup>You, Lord, give true peace
to those who depend on you,
because they trust you.

<sup>4</sup>So, trust the Lord always, because he is our Rock forever.

<sup>5</sup>He will destroy the proud city,
and he will punish the people living there.
He will bring that high city down to the ground and throw it down into the dust.

<sup>6</sup>Then those who were hurt by the city will walk on its ruins;
those who were made poor by the city will trample it under their feet.

<sup>7</sup>The path of life is level for those who are right with God;
Lord, you make the way of life smooth for those people.

<sup>8</sup>But, Lord, we are waiting for your way of justice.

Our souls want to remember you and your name.

<sup>9</sup>My soul wants to be with you at night, and my spirit wants to be with you at the dawn of every day.

When your way of justice comes to the land,
people of the world will learn the right way of living.

<sup>10</sup>Evil people will not learn to do good even if you show them kindness.

They will continue doing evil, even if they live in a good world;

they never see the Lord's greatness.

<sup>11</sup>Lord, you are ready to punish those people, but they do not see that.

Show them your strong love for your people.

Then those who are evil will be ashamed.

Burn them in the fire

you have prepared for your enemies.

<sup>12</sup>Lord, all our success is because of what you have done,

so give us peace.

<sup>13</sup>Lord, our God, other masters besides you have ruled us,

but we honor only you.

<sup>14</sup>Those masters are now dead;
their ghosts will not rise from death.

You punished and destroyed them and erased any memory of them.

<sup>15</sup>Lord, you multiplied the number of your people;
you multiplied them and brought honor to yourself.

You made the borders of the land wide.

<sup>16</sup>Lord, people remember you when they are in trouble;
they say quiet prayers to you when you punish them.

<sup>17</sup>Lord, when we are with you,
we are like a woman giving birth to a baby;
she cries and has pain from the birth.

<sup>18</sup>In the same way, we had pain.
We gave birth, but only to wind.
We don't bring salvation to the land or make new people for the world.

<sup>19</sup>Your people have died, but they will live again;
their bodies will rise from death.

You who lie in the ground,
wake up and be happy!
The dew covering you is like the dew of a new day;
the ground will give birth to the dead.

Judgment: Reward or Punishment

<sup>20</sup>My people, go into your rooms and shut your doors behind you.
Hide in your rooms for a short time until God's anger is finished.

<sup>21</sup>The Lord will leave his place
to punish the people of the world for their sins.
The earth will show the blood of the people who have been killed;
it will not cover the dead any longer.

At that time the Lord will punish Leviathan, the gliding snake.

He will punish Leviathan, the coiled snake,
with his great and hard and powerful sword.
He will kill the monster in the sea.

<sup>2</sup>At that time
people will sing about the pleasant vineyard.

<sup>3</sup>“I, the Lord, will care for that vineyard;
I will water it at the right time.

No one will hurt it,
because I will guard it day and night.

<sup>4</sup>I am not angry.

If anyone builds a wall of thornbushes in war,
I will march to it and burn it.

<sup>5</sup>But if anyone comes to me for safety and wants to make peace with me,
he should come and make peace with me.”

<sup>6</sup>In the days to come, the people of Jacob will be like a plant with good roots;

Israel will grow like a plant beginning to bloom.
Then the world will be filled with their children.

The Lord Will Send Israel Away

<sup>7</sup>The Lord has not hurt his people as he hurt their enemies;

his people have not been killed like those who tried to kill them.

<sup>8</sup>He will settle his argument with Israel by sending it far away.

Like a hot desert wind, he will drive it away.

<sup>9</sup>This is how Israel's guilt will be forgiven;

this is how its sins will be taken away:

Israel will crush the rocks of the altar to dust, and no statues or altars will be left standing for the Asherah idols.

<sup>10</sup>At that time the strong, walled city will be empty like a desert.

Calves will eat grass there.

They will lie down there and eat leaves from the branches.

<sup>11</sup>The limbs will become dry and break off,

so women will use them for firewood.

The people refuse to understand,

so God will not comfort them;

their Maker will not be kind to them.

<sup>12</sup>At that time the Lord will begin gathering his people one by one from the Euphrates River to the brook of Egypt. He will separate them from others as grain is separated from chaff.

<sup>13</sup>Many of my people are now lost in Assyria. Some have run away to Egypt. But at that time a great trumpet will be blown, and all those people will come and worship the Lord on that holy mountain in Jerusalem.

Life Lessons

Isaiah 28:1–31:9

Situation

God warned Judah by using Israel as an example. God offered peace and protection if Israel repented and turned to him, but the people jeered and scoffed at God's Word. They preferred to trust Assyria and Egypt.

Observation

God's righteousness is the standard by which everyone is measured. Yet, while God requires righteousness, he also helps and shows his people the right way to go.

Inspiration

Get the point? God is righteous. His decrees are righteous (Romans 1:32). His judgment is righteous (Romans 2:5). His requirements are righteous (Romans 8:4). His acts are righteous (Daniel 9:16). Daniel declared, "Our God is right in everything he does" (Daniel 9:14).

God is never wrong. He has never rendered a wrong decision, experienced the wrong attitude, taken the wrong path, said the wrong thing, or acted the wrong way. He is never too late or too early, too loud or too soft, too fast or too slow. He has always been and always will be right. He is righteous.

When it comes to righteousness, God runs the table without so much as a bank shot. And when it comes to righteousness, we don't know which end of the cue stick to hold. Hence, our plight.

Will God, who is righteous, spend eternity with those who are not? Would Harvard admit a third-grade dropout? If it did, the act might be benevolent, but it wouldn't be right. If God accepted the unrighteous, the invitation would be even nicer, but would he be right? Would he be right to overlook our sins? Lower his standards? No. He wouldn't be right. And if God is anything, he is right.

He told Isaiah that righteousness would be his plumb line, the standard by which his house is measured (Isaiah 28:17). (From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

Application

Though we are unrighteous by nature, we can have a righteous standing because of Christ's death on our behalf. Study the Scriptures to determine what it means to be righteous in his sight.

Warnings to Israel

How terrible it will be for Samaria, the pride of Israel's drunken people!

That beautiful crown of flowers is just a dying plant set on a hill above a rich valley where drunkards live.

<sup>2</sup>Look, the Lord has someone who is strong and powerful.

Like a storm of hail and strong wind,
like a sudden flood of water pouring over the country,
he will throw Samaria down to the ground.

<sup>3</sup>That city, the pride of Israel's drunken people, will be trampled underfoot.

<sup>4</sup>That beautiful crown of flowers is just a dying plant set on a hill above a rich valley.

That city will be like the first fig of summer.
Anyone who sees it quickly picks it and eats it.

<sup>5</sup>At that time the Lord All-Powerful will be like a beautiful crown, like a wonderful crown of flowers for his people who are left alive.

<sup>6</sup>Then he will give wisdom to the judges who must decide cases and strength to those who battle at the city gate.

<sup>7</sup>But now those leaders are drunk with wine;

they stumble from drinking too much beer.
The priests and prophets are drunk with beer and are filled with wine.

They stumble from too much beer.
The prophets are drunk when they see their visions;
the judges stumble when they make their decisions.

<sup>8</sup>Every table is covered with vomit,
so there is not a clean place anywhere.

<sup>9</sup>The Lord is trying to teach the people a lesson;
he is trying to make them understand his teachings.
But the people are like babies too old for breast milk,
like those who no longer nurse at their mother's breast.

<sup>10</sup>So they make fun of the Lord's prophet and say:
"A command here, a command there.
A rule here, a rule there.
A little lesson here, a little lesson there."

<sup>11</sup>So the Lord will use strange words and foreign languages
to speak to these people.

<sup>12</sup>God said to them,
"Here is a place of rest;
let the tired people come and rest.
This is the place of peace."
But the people would not listen.

<sup>13</sup>So the words of the Lord will be,
"A command here, a command there.
A rule here, a rule there.
A little lesson here, a little lesson there."
They will fall back and be defeated;
they will be trapped and captured.

<sup>14</sup>So listen to the Lord's message, you who brag, you leaders in Jerusalem.

<sup>15</sup>You say, "We have made an agreement with death;
we have a contract with death.

When terrible punishment passes by,
it won't hurt us.

Our lies will keep us safe,
and our tricks will hide us."

<sup>16</sup>Because of these things, this is what the Lord God says:

"I will put a stone in the ground in Jerusalem,
a tested stone.

Everything will be built on this important and precious
rock.

Anyone who trusts in it will never be disappointed.

<sup>17</sup>I will use justice as a measuring line and goodness as the standard.

The lies you hide behind will be destroyed as if by hail.
They will be washed away as if in a flood.

<sup>18</sup>Your agreement with death will be erased;
your contract with death will not help you.

When terrible punishment comes,
you will be crushed by it.

<sup>19</sup>Whenever punishment comes, it will take you away.

It will come morning after morning;
it will defeat you by day and by night.

Those who understand this punishment will be terrified."

<sup>20</sup>You will be like the person who tried to sleep on a bed that was too short and with a blanket that was too narrow to wrap around himself.

<sup>21</sup>The Lord will fight as he did at Mount Perazim.
He will be angry as he was in the Valley of Gibeon.
He will do his work, his strange work.
He will finish his job, his strange job.

<sup>22</sup>Now, you must not make fun of these things, or the ropes around you will become tighter.
The Lord God All-Powerful has told me how the whole earth will be destroyed.

The Lord Punishes Fairly

<sup>23</sup>Listen closely to what I tell you; listen carefully to what I say.

<sup>24</sup>A farmer does not plow his field all the time;
he does not go on working the soil.

<sup>25</sup>He makes the ground flat and smooth.
Then he plants the dill and scatters the cumin.
He plants the wheat in rows,
the barley in its special place,
and other wheat as a border around the field.

<sup>26</sup>His God teaches him
and shows him the right way.

<sup>27</sup>A farmer doesn't use heavy boards to crush dill;
he doesn't use a wagon wheel to crush cumin.
He uses a small stick to break open the dill,
and with a stick he opens the cumin.

<sup>28</sup>The grain is ground to make bread.

People do not ruin it by crushing it forever.

The farmer separates the wheat from the chaff with his cart, but he does not let his horses grind it.

<sup>29</sup>This lesson also comes from the Lord All-Powerful, who gives wonderful advice, who is very wise.

Warnings to Jerusalem

How terrible it will be for you, Jerusalem,
the city where David camped.
Your festivals have continued year after year.

<sup>2</sup>I will attack Jerusalem,
and that city will be filled with sadness and crying.
It will be like an altar to me.

<sup>3</sup>I will put armies all around you, Jerusalem;
I will surround you with towers and with devices to attack you.

<sup>4</sup>You will be pulled down and will speak from the ground;

I will hear your voice rising from the ground.
It will sound like the voice of a ghost;
your words will come like a whisper from the dirt.

<sup>5</sup>Your many enemies will become like fine dust;
the many cruel people will be like chaff that is blown away.

Everything will happen very quickly.

<sup>6</sup>The Lord All-Powerful will come with thunder, earthquakes, and great noises, with storms, strong winds, and a fire that destroys.

<sup>7</sup>Then all the nations that fight against Jerusalem will be like a dream;
all the nations that attack her will be like a vision in the night.

<sup>8</sup>They will be like a hungry man who dreams he is eating,

but when he awakens, he is still hungry.

They will be like a thirsty man who dreams he is drinking,

but when he awakens, he is still weak and thirsty.

It will be the same way with all the nations who fight against Mount Zion.

<sup>9</sup>Be surprised and amazed.

Blind yourselves so that you cannot see.

Become drunk, but not from wine.

Trip and fall, but not from beer.

<sup>10</sup>The Lord has made you go into a deep sleep.

He has closed your eyes. (The prophets are your eyes.)

He has covered your heads. (The seers are your heads.)

<sup>11</sup>This vision is like the words of a book that is closed and sealed. You may give the book to someone who can read and tell that person to read it. But he will say, "I can't read the book, because it is sealed." <sup>12</sup>Or you may give the book to someone who cannot read and tell him to read it. But he will say, "I don't know how to read."

<sup>13</sup>The Lord says:

"These people say they love me;
they show honor to me with words,

but their hearts are far from me.

The honor they show me
is nothing but human rules.

<sup>14</sup>So I will continue to amaze these people by doing more and more miracles.
Their wise men will lose their wisdom;
their wise men will not be able to understand.”

Warnings About Other Nations

<sup>15</sup>How terrible it will be for those who try to hide things from the Lord and who do their work in darkness.
They think no one will see them or know what they do.

<sup>16</sup>You are confused.
You think the clay is equal to the potter.
You think that an object can tell the one who made it,
“You didn’t make me.”
This is like a pot telling its maker,
“You don’t know anything.”

A Better Time Is Coming

<sup>17</sup>In a very short time, Lebanon will become rich farmland,
and the rich farmland will seem like a forest.

<sup>18</sup>At that time the deaf will hear the words in a book.
Instead of having darkness and gloom, the blind will see.

<sup>19</sup>The Lord will make the poor people happy;

they will rejoice in the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>20</sup>Then the people without mercy will come to an end;
those who do not respect God will disappear.

Those who enjoy doing evil will be gone:

<sup>21</sup>those who lie about others in court,

those who trap people in court,

those who lie and take justice from innocent people in court.

<sup>22</sup>This is what the Lord who set Abraham free says to the family of Jacob:

“Now the people of Jacob will not be ashamed or disgraced any longer.

<sup>23</sup>When they see all their children,
the children I made with my hands,
they will say my name is holy.

They will agree that the Holy One of Jacob is holy,
and they will respect the God of Israel.

<sup>24</sup>People who do wrong will now understand.

Those who complain will accept being taught.”

Warnings to the Stubborn Nation

The Lord said,

“How terrible it will be for these stubborn children.
They make plans, but they don’t ask me to help them.
They make agreements with other nations, without asking my Spirit.

They are adding more and more sins to themselves.

<sup>2</sup>They go down to Egypt for help without asking me about it first.

They hope they will be saved by the king of Egypt;
they want Egypt to protect them.

<sup>3</sup>But hiding in Egypt will bring you only shame;
Egypt’s protection will only disappoint you.

<sup>4</sup>Your officers have gone to Zoan, and your messengers have gone to Hanes,

<sup>5</sup>but they will be put to shame,
because Egypt is useless to them.

It will give no help and will be of no use;
it will cause them only shame and embarrassment.”

God’s Message to Judah

<sup>6</sup>This is a message about the animals in southern Judah:
Southern Judah is a dangerous place full of lions and lionesses, poisonous snakes and darting snakes.

The messengers travel through there with their wealth on the backs of donkeys and their treasure on the backs of camels.
They carry them to a nation that cannot help them,
<sup>7</sup>to Egypt whose help is useless.
So I call that country Rahab the Do-Nothing.

<sup>8</sup>Now write this on a sign for the people, write this on a scroll,
so that for the days to come
this will be a witness forever.

<sup>9</sup>These people are like children who lie and refuse to obey;
they refuse to listen to the Lord's teachings.

<sup>10</sup>They tell the seers,
"Don't see any more visions!"
They say to the prophets,
"Don't tell us the truth!
Say things that will make us feel good;
see only good things for us.

Get out of our way.
Stop telling us
about God, the Holy One of Israel."

<sup>12</sup>So this is what the Holy One of Israel says:

"You people have refused to accept this message and have depended on cruelty and lies to help you.

<sup>13</sup>You are guilty of these things.
So you will be like a high wall with cracks in it that falls suddenly and breaks into small pieces.

<sup>14</sup>You will be like a clay jar that breaks, smashed into many pieces.

Those pieces will be too small to take coals from the fire or to get water from a well.”

<sup>15</sup>This is what the Lord God, the Holy One of Israel, says:

“If you come back to me and trust me, you will be saved.

If you will be calm and trust me, you will be strong.”
But you don’t want to do that.

So you will run away on horses.

You say, “We will ride away on fast horses.”
So those who chase you will be fast.

<sup>17</sup>One enemy will make threats, and a thousand of your men will run away.

Five enemies will make threats,
and all of you will run from them.

You will be left alone like a flagpole on a hilltop,
like a banner on a hill.

<sup>18</sup>The Lord wants to show his mercy to you.
He wants to rise and comfort you.

The Lord is a fair God,
and everyone who waits for his help will be happy.

The Lord Will Help His People

<sup>19</sup>You people who live on Mount Zion in Jerusalem will not cry anymore. The Lord will hear your crying, and he will comfort you. When he hears you, he will help you. <sup>20</sup>The Lord has given you sorrow and hurt like the bread and water you ate every day. He is your teacher; he will not continue to hide from you, but you will see your teacher with your own eyes. <sup>21</sup>If you go the wrong way—to the right or to the left—you will hear a voice behind you saying, “This is the right way. You should go this way.” <sup>22</sup>You have statues covered with silver and gold, but you will ruin them for further use. You will throw them away like filthy rags and say, “Go away!”

<sup>23</sup>At that time the Lord will send rain for the seeds you plant in the ground, and the ground will grow food for you. The harvest will be rich and great, and you will have plenty of food in the fields for your animals. <sup>24</sup>Your oxen and donkeys that work the soil will have all the food they need. You will have to use shovels and pitchforks to spread all their food. <sup>25</sup>Every mountain and hill will have streams filled with water. These things will happen after many people are killed and the towers are pulled down. <sup>26</sup>At that time the light from the moon will be bright like the sun, and the light from the sun will be seven times brighter than now, like the light of seven days. These things will happen when the Lord bandages his broken people and heals the hurts he gave them.

His anger is like a fire with thick clouds of smoke.
His mouth is filled with anger,
and his tongue is like a burning fire.

<sup>28</sup>His breath is like a rushing river, which rises to the throat.

He will judge the nations as if he is sifting them through the strainer of destruction.

He will place in their mouths a bit that will lead them the wrong way.

<sup>29</sup>You will sing happy songs
as on the nights you begin a festival.
You will be happy like people listening to flutes
as they come to the mountain of the Lord, to the Rock of Israel.

<sup>30</sup>The Lord will cause all people to hear his great voice and to see his powerful arm come down with anger, like a great fire that burns everything,
like a great storm with much rain and hail.

<sup>31</sup>Assyria will be afraid when it hears the voice of the Lord, because he will strike Assyria with a rod.

<sup>32</sup>When the Lord punishes Assyria with a rod,
he will beat them to the music of tambourines and harps;

he will fight against them with his mighty weapons.

<sup>33</sup>Topheth has been made ready for a long time;
it is ready for the king.

It was made deep and wide with much wood and fire.

And the Lord's breath will come like a stream of burning sulfur and set it on fire.

Warnings About Relying on Egypt

How terrible it will be for those people who go down to Egypt for help.

They think horses will save them.

They think their many chariots and strong horsemen will save them.

But they don't trust God, the Holy One of Israel, or ask the Lord for help.

<sup>2</sup>But he is wise and can bring them disaster.

He does not change his warnings.

He will rise up and fight against the evil people and against those who try to help evil people.

<sup>3</sup>The Egyptians are only people and are not God.

Their horses are only animals and are not spirit.

The Lord will stretch out his arm,
and the one who helps will stumble,
and the people who wanted help will fall.

All of them will be destroyed together.

<sup>4</sup>The Lord says this to me:

“When a lion or a lion's cub kills an animal to eat, it stands over the dead animal and roars.

A band of shepherds

may be assembled against it, but the lion will not be afraid of their yelling or upset by their noise.

So the Lord All-Powerful will come down to fight on Mount Zion and on its hill.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord All-Powerful will defend Jerusalem like birds flying over their nests.

He will defend and save it;
he will 'pass over' and save Jerusalem.”

<sup>6</sup>You children of Israel, come back to the God you fought against.<sup>7</sup>The time is coming when each of you will stop worshiping idols of gold and silver, which you sinned by making.

<sup>8</sup>“Assyria will be defeated by a sword, but not the sword of a person;

Assyria will be destroyed, but not by a person's sword.

Assyria will run away from the sword of God,
but its young men will be caught and made slaves.

<sup>9</sup>They will panic, and their protection will be destroyed.
Their commanders will be terrified when they see God's battle flag,”

says the Lord,
whose fire is in Jerusalem and whose furnace is in Jerusalem.

Life Lessons

Isaiah 32:1–35:10

Situation

Isaiah spoke of God's coming judgment on both individuals and nations surrounding Judah. People's motives were clear to God, and he rewarded those who lived by his commandments and were honest. He punished sinners.

Observation

Although slow to anger, God punishes sin. Only the faithful will know God's bounty and security.

Inspiration

Almost every headline, every television news report, and every radio bulletin these days proclaims one essential truth: The modern world is in chaos and no one has a realistic solution....

The whole world is crying out for some word of hope, but all we hear is the babble of wishful thinkers and charlatans. Psychologists, educators, social scientists, physicians, and media wizards of every stripe offer pronouncements and preachments, but even the best ideas generally collapse under closer scrutiny. So far, our modern secular society has produced no positive answers; yet we continue to reach out in hope.

Actually, there is still good reason to hope; there is still time. For with society's failure comes the chance to repent and seek renewal. If we recognize the failures of living without God and turn from our foolishness and disobedience, we may yet be able to receive God's mercy and forgiveness.

Today's headlines are God's warning to a sinful world. The television news flashes are a shadow of His loving hand at work, pushing for the world's redemption. The radio bulletins are a reminder that in spite of our compulsive determination to ruin the earth and destroy God's program of salvation, He has not given up on us completely. Until that day when God's final judgment affixes each of us into place for eternity, there is a chance to begin again. Jesus said, "You must be born again" (John 3:7). That is the last best hope for this world. Ultimately it is our only hope.

(From Storm Warning by Billy Graham)

Application

Have you ever surrendered your life to God? Have you ever asked him to forgive your sins? Pray and ask him to be your Lord and Savior. Tell him you are sorry for your sins. Tell your pastor that you accept Christ as your Savior.

Judgment—Deuteronomy 7:2; Matthew 3:10; 13:30.

A Good Kingdom Is Coming

A king will rule in a way that brings justice, and leaders will make fair decisions.

<sup>2</sup>Then each ruler will be like a shelter from the wind, like a safe place in a storm,
like streams of water in a dry land,
like a cool shadow from a large rock in a hot land.

<sup>3</sup>People will look to the king for help,
and they will truly listen to what he says.

<sup>4</sup>People who are now worried will be able to understand.

Those who cannot speak clearly now will then be able to speak clearly and quickly.

<sup>5</sup>Fools will not be called great,
and people will not respect the wicked.

<sup>6</sup>A fool says foolish things,
and in his mind he plans evil.

A fool does things that are wicked,
and he says wrong things about the Lord.

A fool does not feed the hungry or let thirsty people drink water.

<sup>7</sup>The wicked person uses evil like a tool.
He plans ways to take everything from the poor.
He destroys the poor with lies,
even when the poor person is in the right.

<sup>8</sup>But a good leader plans to do good,
and those good things make him a good leader.

Hard Times Are Coming

<sup>9</sup>You women who are calm now, stand up and listen to me.
You women who feel safe now,
hear what I say.

<sup>10</sup>You women feel safe now,
but after one year you will be afraid.
There will be no grape harvest and no summer fruit to gather.

<sup>11</sup>Women, you are calm now, but you should shake with fear.

Women, you feel safe now, but you should tremble.
Take off your nice clothes and put rough cloth around your waist to show your sadness.

<sup>12</sup>Beat your breasts in grief, because the fields that were pleasant are now empty.

Cry, because the vines that once had fruit now have no more grapes.

<sup>13</sup>Cry for the land of my people,
in which only thorns and weeds now grow.
Cry for the city that once was happy and for all the houses that once were filled with joy.

<sup>14</sup>The palace will be empty;
people will leave the noisy city.

Strong cities and towers will be empty.
Wild donkeys will love to live there, and sheep will go there to eat.

Things Will Get Better

<sup>15</sup>This will continue until God pours his Spirit from above upon us.

Then the desert will be like a fertile field and the fertile field like a forest.

<sup>16</sup>Justice will be found even in the desert, and fairness will be found in the fertile fields.

<sup>17</sup>That fairness will bring peace,
and it will bring calm and safety forever.

<sup>18</sup>My people will live in peaceful places and in safe homes
and in calm places of rest.

<sup>19</sup>Hail will destroy the forest, and the city will be completely destroyed.

<sup>20</sup>But you will be happy as you plant seeds near every stream and as you let your cattle and donkeys wander freely.

Warnings to Assyria and Promises to God's People

How terrible it will be for you who destroy others
but have not been destroyed yet.

How terrible it will be for you, traitor, whom no one has turned against yet.

When you stop destroying,
others will destroy you.

When you stop turning against others,
they will turn against you.

We have waited for your help.

Give us strength every morning.

Save us when we are in trouble.

<sup>3</sup>Your powerful voice makes people run away in fear;
your greatness causes the nations to run away.

<sup>4</sup>Like locusts, your enemies will take away the things you stole in war.

Like locusts rushing about, they will take your wealth.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord is very great, and he lives in a high place.

He fills Jerusalem with fairness and justice.

<sup>6</sup>He will be your safety.

He is full of salvation, wisdom, and knowledge.

Respect for the Lord is the greatest treasure.

<sup>7</sup>See, brave men are crying out in the streets;
those who tried to bring peace are crying loudly.

<sup>8</sup>There is no one on the roads,
no one walking in the paths.

People have broken the agreements they made.
They refuse to believe the proof from witnesses.
No one respects other people.

<sup>9</sup>The land is sick and dying;
Lebanon is ashamed and dying.
The Plain of Sharon is dry like the desert,
and the trees of Bashan and Carmel are dying.

<sup>10</sup>The Lord says, “Now, I will stand up and show my greatness.
Now, I will become important to the people.

<sup>11</sup>You people do useless things that are like hay and straw.
A destructive wind will burn you like fire.

<sup>12</sup>People will be burned until their bones become like lime;
they will burn quickly like dry thornbushes.”

<sup>13</sup>You people in faraway lands, hear what I have done.
You people who are near me, learn about my power.

those who are separated from God shake with fear.
They say, “Can any of us live through this fire that destroys?

Who can live near this fire that burns on and on?”

<sup>15</sup>A person who does what is right and speaks what is right,
who refuses to take money unfairly,
who refuses to take money to hurt others,
who does not listen to plans of murder,
who refuses to think about evil—

<sup>16</sup>this is the kind of person who will be safe.
He will be protected as he would be in a high, walled city.

He will always have bread,
and he will not run out of water.

<sup>17</sup>Your eyes will see the king in his beauty.
You will see the land that stretches far away.

<sup>18</sup>You will think about the terror of the past:
“Where is that officer?
Where is the one who collected the taxes?
Where is the officer in charge of our defense towers?”

<sup>19</sup>No longer will you see those proud people from other countries, whose strange language you couldn't understand.

God Will Protect Jerusalem

<sup>20</sup>Look at Jerusalem, the city of our festivals.
Look at Jerusalem, that beautiful place of rest.
It is like a tent that will never be moved;
the pegs that hold her in place will never be pulled up,
and her ropes will never be broken.

<sup>21</sup>There the Lord will be our Mighty One.
That land is a place with streams and wide rivers,
but there will be no enemy boats on those rivers;
no powerful ship will sail on them.

<sup>22</sup>This is because the Lord is our judge.
The Lord makes our laws.
The Lord is our king.

He will save us.

<sup>23</sup>You sailors from other lands, hear:

The ropes on your boats hang loose.

The mast is not held firm.

The sails are not spread open.

Then your great wealth will be divided.

There will be so much wealth that even the crippled people will carry off a share.

The people who live there will have their sins forgiven.

God Will Punish His Enemies

All you nations, come near and listen.
Pay attention, you peoples!
The earth and all the people in it should listen,
the world and everything in it.

<sup>2</sup>The Lord is angry with all the nations;
he is angry with their armies.
He will destroy them and kill them all.

<sup>3</sup>Their bodies will be thrown outside.
The stink will rise from the bodies,
and the blood will flow down the mountains.

<sup>4</sup>The sun, moon, and stars will dissolve, and the sky will be rolled up like a scroll.
The stars will fall like dead leaves from a vine or dried-up figs from a fig tree.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord's sword in the sky is covered with blood.
It will cut through Edom and destroy those people as an offering to the Lord.

<sup>6</sup>The Lord's sword will be covered with blood;
it will be covered with fat,
with the blood from lambs and goats,
with the fat from the kidneys of sheep.

This is because the Lord decided there will be a sacrifice in Bozrah
and much killing in Edom.

<sup>7</sup>The oxen will be killed,
and the cattle and the strong bulls.
The land will be filled with their blood,

and the dirt will be covered with their fat.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord has chosen a time for punishment.
He has chosen a year when people must pay for the wrongs they did to Jerusalem.

<sup>9</sup>Edom's rivers will be like hot tar.
Its dirt will be like burning sulfur.
Its land will be like burning tar.

<sup>10</sup>The fires will burn night and day;
the smoke will rise from Edom forever.
Year after year that land will be empty;
no one will ever travel through that land again.

<sup>11</sup>Birds and small animals will own that land, and owls and ravens will live there.
God will make it an empty wasteland;
it will have nothing left in it.

<sup>12</sup>The important people will have no one left to rule
them;
the leaders will all be gone.

<sup>13</sup>Thorns will take over the strong towers, and wild bushes will grow in the walled cities.
It will be a home for wild dogs and a place for owls to live.

<sup>14</sup>Desert animals will live with the hyenas, and wild goats will call to their friends.
Night animals will live there and find a place of rest.

<sup>15</sup>Owls will nest there and lay eggs.
When they hatch open, the owls will gather their young under their wings.
Hawks will gather with their own kind.

<sup>16</sup>Look at the Lord's scroll and read what is written there:

None of these will be missing;
none will be without its mate.
God has given the command,
so his Spirit will gather them together.

<sup>17</sup>God has divided the land among them,
and he has given them each their portion.
So they will own that land forever and will live there year after year.

God Will Comfort His People

The desert and dry land will become happy;
the desert will be glad and will produce flowers.
Like a flower,<sup>2</sup> it will have many blooms.

It will show its happiness, as if it were shouting with joy.

It will be beautiful like the forest of Lebanon, as beautiful as the hill of Carmel and the Plain of Sharon.

Everyone will see the glory of the Lord and the splendor of our God.

<sup>3</sup>Make the weak hands strong and the weak knees steady.

<sup>4</sup>Say to people who are frightened,
“Be strong. Don’t be afraid.

Look, your God will come,
and he will punish your enemies.

He will make them pay for the wrongs they did,
but he will save you.”

<sup>5</sup>Then the blind people will see again, and the deaf will hear.

<sup>6</sup>Crippled people will jump like deer,
and those who can’t talk now will shout with joy.

Water will flow in the desert,
and streams will flow in the dry land.

<sup>7</sup>The burning desert will have pools of water, and the dry ground will have springs.

Where wild dogs once lived,

grass and water plants will grow.

<sup>8</sup>A road will be there;

this highway will be called “The Road to Being Holy.”

Evil people will not be allowed to walk on that road;

only good people will walk on it.

No fools will go on it.

<sup>9</sup>No lions will be there,

nor will dangerous animals be on that road.

They will not be found there.

That road will be for the people God saves;

<sup>10</sup>the people the Lord has freed will return there.

They will enter Jerusalem with joy, and their happiness will last forever.

Their gladness and joy will fill them completely,

and sorrow and sadness will go far away.

Life Lessons

Isaiah 36:1–39:8

Situation

King Hezekiah reigned in Israel during a time when the people had forgotten about God. Unlike his predecessors, Hezekiah tried to restore the worship of God. During these reforms, the expanding Assyrian empire threatened his kingdom.

Observation

Hezekiah was miraculously healed by God. But chapter 39 records his pride and Isaiah's announcement of judgment.

Inspiration

What is it that drives us on so relentlessly? Are you ready? Take a deep breath and allow yourself to tolerate the one-word answer: PRIDE. We work and push and strive so we can prove we are worthy ... we are the best ... we deserve top honors. And the hidden message: I can gain righteousness all on my own, by my own effort, ingenuity, and energy. And because I can, I must! And why is this heretical? Because ultimately this philosophy says: (1) I really don't need divine righteousness (after all, God helps those who help themselves, right?), and (2) I will find lasting joy in my own achievements. This will bring me ultimate satisfaction.

Both are dead-end roads found on Fantasy Island. (From Wisdom for the Way by Charles Swindoll)

Application

What accomplishments, awards, or recognitions bring you the most satisfaction? Since pride can often be hard to detect, ask a good friend, spouse, or family member to evaluate you. Take time to ask God to replace that pride with a spirit of humility.

The Assyrians Invade Judah

During Hezekiah's fourteenth year as king, Sennacherib king of Assyria attacked all the strong, walled cities of Judah and captured them.<sup>2</sup>The king of Assyria sent out his field commander with a large army from Lachish to King Hezekiah in Jerusalem. When the commander came near the waterway from the upper pool on the road where people do their laundry, he stopped.<sup>3</sup>Eliakim, Shebna, and Joah went out to meet him. Eliakim son of Hilkiah was the palace manager, Shebna was the royal secretary, and Joah son of Asaph was the recorder.

"The great king, the king of Assyria, says: What can you trust in now? <sup>5</sup>You say you have battle plans and power for war, but your words mean nothing. Whom are you trusting for help so that you turn against me? <sup>6</sup>Look, you are depending on Egypt to help you, but Egypt is like a splintered walking stick. If you lean on it for help, it will stab your hand and hurt you. The king of Egypt will hurt all those who depend on him. <sup>7</sup>You might say, "We are depending on the Lord our God," but Hezekiah destroyed the Lord's altars and the places of worship. Hezekiah told Judah and Jerusalem, "You must worship only at this one altar."

master's least important officers, so why do you depend on Egypt to give you chariots and horsemen? <sup>10</sup>I have not come to attack and destroy this country without an order from the Lord. The Lord himself told me to come to this country and destroy it.”

<sup>11</sup>Then Eliakim, Shebna, and Joah said to the field commander, “Please speak to us in the Aramaic language. We understand it. Don't speak to us in Hebrew, because the people on the city wall can hear you.”

<sup>12</sup>But the commander said, “My master did not send me to tell these things only to you and your king. He sent me to speak also to those people sitting on the wall who will have to eat their own dung and drink their own urine like you.”

<sup>16</sup>“Don't listen to Hezekiah. The king of Assyria says, ‘Make peace with me, and come out of the city to me. Then everyone will be free to eat the fruit from his own grapevine and fig tree and to drink water from his own well. <sup>17</sup>After that I will come and take you to a land like your own—a land with grain and new wine, bread and vineyards.’

<sup>18</sup>“Don't let Hezekiah fool you, saying, ‘The Lord will save us.’ Has a god of any other nation saved his people from the power of the king of Assyria? <sup>19</sup>Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim? They did not save Samaria from my power. <sup>20</sup>Not one of all the gods of these countries has saved his people from me. Neither can the Lord save Jerusalem from my power.”

<sup>22</sup>Then Eliakim, Shebna, and Joah tore their clothes to show how upset they were. (Eliakim son of Hilkiah was the palace manager, Shebna was the royal secretary, and Joah son of Asaph was the recorder.) The three men went to Hezekiah and told him what the field commander had said.

Hezekiah Asks God to Help

When King Hezekiah heard the message, he tore his clothes and put on rough cloth to show how sad he was. Then he went into the Temple of the Lord. <sup>2</sup>Hezekiah sent Eliakim, the palace manager, and Shebna, the royal secretary, and the older priests to Isaiah. They were all wearing rough cloth when they came to Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz. <sup>3</sup>They told Isaiah, “This is what Hezekiah says: Today is a day of sorrow and punishment and disgrace, as when a child should be born, but the mother is not strong enough to give birth to it. <sup>4</sup>The king of Assyria sent his field commander to make fun of the living God. Maybe the Lord your God will hear what the commander said and will punish him for it. So pray for the few of us who are left alive.”

over to the king of Assyria. <sup>11</sup>You have heard what the kings of Assyria have done. They have completely defeated every country, so do not think you will be saved. <sup>12</sup>Did the gods of those people save them? My ancestors destroyed them, defeating the cities of Gozan, Haran, and Rezeph, and the people of Eden living in Tel Assar. <sup>13</sup>Where are the kings of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the kings of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivvah?"

Hezekiah Prays to the Lord

<sup>14</sup>When Hezekiah received the letter from the messengers and read it, he went up to the Temple of the Lord. He spread the letter out before the Lord <sup>15</sup>and prayed to the Lord: <sup>16</sup>"Lord All-Powerful, you are the God of Israel, whose throne is between the gold creatures with wings, only you are God of all the kingdoms of the earth. You made the heavens and the earth. <sup>17</sup>Hear, Lord, and listen. Open your eyes, Lord, and see. Listen to all the words Sennacherib has said to insult the living God.

<sup>18</sup>"It is true, Lord, that the kings of Assyria have destroyed all these countries and their lands. <sup>19</sup>They have thrown the gods of these nations into the fire, but they were only wood and rock statues that people made. So the kings have destroyed them. <sup>20</sup>Now, Lord our God, save us from the king's power so that all the kingdoms of the earth will know that you, Lord, are the only God."

The Lord Answers Hezekiah

<sup>21</sup>Then Isaiah son of Amoz sent a message to Hezekiah that said, “This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: ‘You prayed to me about Sennacherib king of Assyria.’<sup>22</sup> So this is what the Lord has said against Sennacherib:

The people of Jerusalem
hate you and make fun of you;
the people of Jerusalem
laugh at you as you run away.

<sup>23</sup>You have insulted me and spoken against me;
you have raised your voice against me.
You have a proud look on your face,
which is against me, the Holy One of Israel!

<sup>24</sup>You have sent your messengers to insult the Lord.
You have said, “With my many chariots
I have gone to the tops of the mountains,
to the highest mountains of Lebanon.
I have cut down its tallest cedars
and its best pine trees.

I have gone to its greatest heights and its best forests.

<sup>25</sup>I have dug wells in foreign countries
and drunk water there.

By the soles of my feet,
I have dried up all the rivers of Egypt.”

<sup>26</sup>“King of Assyria, surely you have heard.

Long ago I, the Lord, planned these things.

Long ago I designed them,

and now I have made them happen.

I allowed you to turn those strong, walled cities
into piles of rocks.

<sup>27</sup>The people in those cities were weak;

they were frightened and put to shame.
They were like grass in the field,
like tender, young grass,
like grass on the housetop
that is burned by the wind before it can grow.

<sup>28</sup>“I know when you rest,
when you come and go,
and how you rage against me.
<sup>29</sup>Because you rage against me,
and because I have heard your proud words,
I will put my hook in your nose
and my bit in your mouth.
Then I will force you to leave my country
the same way you came.’

<sup>30</sup>“Then the Lord said, ‘Hezekiah, I will give you this sign:

This year you will eat the grain that grows wild,
and the second year you will eat what grows wild from
that.

But in the third year, plant grain and harvest it.
Plant vineyards and eat their fruit.

<sup>31</sup>Some of the people in the family of Judah
will escape.

Like plants that take root,
they will grow strong and have many children.

<sup>32</sup>A few people will come out of Jerusalem alive;
a few from Mount Zion will live.

The strong love of the Lord All-Powerful
will make this happen.’

‘He will not enter this city
or even shoot an arrow here.
He will not fight against it with shields
or build a ramp to attack the city walls.

<sup>34</sup>‘He will return to his country the same way he came,
and he will not enter this city,’
says the Lord.

<sup>35</sup>‘I will defend and save this city for my sake and for David, my servant.’”

<sup>36</sup>Then the angel of the Lord went out and killed one hundred eighty-five thousand men in the Assyrian camp. When the people got up early the next morning, they saw all the dead bodies. <sup>37</sup>So Sennacherib king of Assyria left and went back to Nineveh and stayed there.

<sup>38</sup>One day as Sennacherib was worshiping in the temple of his god Nisroch, his sons Adrammelech and Sharezer killed him with a sword. Then they escaped to the land of Ararat. So Sennacherib’s son Esarhaddon became king of Assyria.

Hezekiah's Illness

At that time Hezekiah became very sick; he was almost dead. The prophet Isaiah son of Amoz went to see him and told him, “This is what the Lord says: Make arrangements, because you are not going to live, but die.”

<sup>2</sup>Hezekiah turned toward the wall and prayed to the Lord, <sup>3</sup>“Lord, please remember that I have always obeyed you. I have given myself completely to you and have done what you said was right.” Then Hezekiah cried loudly.

<sup>4</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word to Isaiah: <sup>5</sup>“Go to Hezekiah and tell him: ‘This is what the Lord, the God of your ancestor David, says: I have heard your prayer and seen your tears. So I will add fifteen years to your life. <sup>6</sup>I will save you and this city from the king of Assyria; I will defend this city.

<sup>7</sup>“The Lord will do what he says. This is the sign from the Lord to show you: <sup>8</sup>The sun has made a shadow go down the stairway of Ahaz, but I will make it go back ten steps.” So the shadow made by the sun went back up the ten steps it had gone down.

<sup>10</sup>I said, “I am in the middle of my life.

Do I have to go through the gates of death?

Will I have the rest of my life taken away from me?”

<sup>11</sup>I said, “I will not see the Lord in the land of the living again.

I will not again see the people who live on the earth.

<sup>12</sup>Like a shepherd's tent,
my home has been pulled down and taken from me.
I am finished
like the cloth a weaver rolls up and cuts from the loom.
In one day you brought me to this end.

<sup>13</sup>All night I cried loudly.
Like a lion, he crushed all my bones.
In one day you brought me to this end.

<sup>14</sup>I cried like a bird and moaned like a dove.
My eyes became tired as I looked to the heavens.
Lord, I have troubles. Please help me.”

<sup>15</sup>What can I say?

The Lord told me what would happen and then made it happen.

I have had these troubles in my soul,
so now I will be humble all my life.

<sup>16</sup>Lord, because of you, people live.
Because of you, my spirit also lives;
you made me well and let me live.

<sup>17</sup>It was for my own good that I had such troubles.
Because you love me very much,
you did not let me die
but threw my sins
far away.

<sup>18</sup>People in the place of the dead cannot praise you;
those who have died cannot sing praises to you;
those who die don't trust you to help them.

<sup>19</sup>The people who are alive are the ones who praise you.

They praise you as I praise you today.

A father should tell his children that you provide help.

<sup>20</sup>The Lord saved me, so we will play songs on stringed instruments
in the Temple of the Lord
all the days of our lives.

<sup>21</sup>Then Isaiah said, “Make a paste from figs and put it on Hezekiah’s boil. Then he will get well.” <sup>22</sup>Hezekiah then asked Isaiah, “What will be the sign? What will show that I will go up to the Temple of the Lord?”

Messengers from Babylon

At that time Merodach-Baladan son of Baladan was king of Babylon. He sent letters and a gift to Hezekiah, because he had heard that Hezekiah had been sick and was now well. <sup>2</sup>Hezekiah was pleased and showed the messengers what was in his storehouses: the silver, gold, spices, expensive perfumes, his swords and shields, and all his wealth. He showed them everything in his palace and in his kingdom.

Hezekiah said, “They came from a faraway country—from Babylon.”

Hezekiah said, “They saw everything in my palace. I showed them all my wealth.”

<sup>5</sup>Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah: “Listen to the words of the Lord All-Powerful: <sup>6</sup>‘In the future everything in your palace and everything your ancestors have stored up until this day will be taken away to Babylon. Nothing will be left,’ says the Lord. <sup>7</sup>Some of your own children, those who will be born to you, will be taken away, and they will become servants in the palace of the king of Babylon.”

<sup>8</sup>Hezekiah told Isaiah, “These words from the Lord are good.” He said this because he thought, “There will be peace and security in my lifetime.”

Life Lessons

Isaiah 40:1–41:29

Situation

God promised to remain faithful to his people. The Jews felt that God had ignored them, but God would rescue them from captivity.

Observation

Because he is perfect, all-powerful, and knows everything, God transcends nature. Mysteriously, though, he still concerns himself with our lives.

Inspiration

God is always first, and God will surely be last.

To say this is not to draw God downward into the stream of time and involve Him in the flux and flow of the world. He stands above His own creation and outside of time; but for the convenience of His creatures, who are children of time, He makes free use of time-words when referring to Himself. So He says that He is the Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, the first and the last.

Man in the plan of God has been granted considerable say; but never is he permitted to utter the first word nor the last. That is the prerogative of the Deity, and one which He will never surrender to His creatures.

Man has no say about the time or place of his birth; God determines that without consulting the man himself. One day the little man finds himself in consciousness and accepts the fact that he is. There his volitional life begins. Before that he had nothing to say about anything. After that he struts and boasts and utters his defiant proclamations of individual freedom, and encouraged by the sound of his own voice he may declare his independence of God and call himself an “atheist” or an “agnostic.” Have your fun, little man; you are only chattering in the interim between first and last; you had no voice at the first and you will have none at the last. God reserves the right to take up at the last where He began at the first, and you are in the hands of God whether you will or not.

This knowledge should humble us and encourage us, too. It should humble us when we remember how frail we are, how utterly dependent on God; and it should encourage us to know that when everything else has passed we may still have God no less surely than before.

(From The Root of Righteousness by A. W. Tozer)

Application

Is anything in your life guaranteed? Is your career unshakable, your family immortal, your money eternal? Do not base your comfort and enjoyment on what could be gone tomorrow. Only God and his Word will last for ever—let these be the basis of everything in your life.

Israel's Punishment Will End

Your God says,

“Comfort, comfort my people.

<sup>2</sup>Speak kindly to the people of Jerusalem and tell them

that their time of service is finished, that they have paid for their sins, that the Lord has punished Jerusalem twice for every sin they did.”

<sup>3</sup>This is the voice of one who calls out:

“Prepare in the desert

the way for the Lord.

Make a straight road in the dry lands
for our God.

<sup>4</sup>Every valley should be raised up,
and every mountain and hill should be made flat.
The rough ground should be made level,
and the rugged ground should be made smooth.

<sup>5</sup>Then the glory of the Lord will be shown,
and all people together will see it.
The Lord himself said these things.”

Then I said, “What shall I cry out?”
“Say all people are like the grass, and all their glory is like the flowers of the field.
<sup>7</sup>The grass dies and the flowers fall
when the breath of the Lord blows on them.
Surely the people are like grass.
<sup>8</sup>The grass dies and the flowers fall,
but the word of our God will live forever.”
<sup>9</sup>Jerusalem, you have good news to tell.
Go up on a high mountain.
Jerusalem, you have good news to tell.
Shout out loud the good news.
Shout it out and don’t be afraid.
Say to the towns of Judah,
“Here is your God.”
<sup>10</sup>Look, the Lord God is coming with power to rule all the people.
Look, he will bring reward for his people;
he will have their payment with him.
<sup>11</sup>He takes care of his people like a shepherd.
He gathers them like lambs in his arms and carries them close to him.
He gently leads the mothers of the lambs.

God Is Supreme

<sup>12</sup>Who has measured the oceans in the palm of his hand?
Who has used his hand to measure the sky?

Who has used a bowl to measure all the dust of the earth and scales to weigh the mountains and hills?

<sup>13</sup>Who has known the mind of the Lord or been able to give him advice?

<sup>14</sup>Whom did he ask for help?

Who taught him the right way?

Who taught him knowledge and showed him the way to understanding?

<sup>15</sup>The nations are like one small drop in a bucket;
they are no more than the dust on his measuring scales.

To him the islands are no more than fine dust on his scales.

<sup>16</sup>All the trees in Lebanon are not enough for the altar fires,

and all the animals in Lebanon are not enough for burnt offerings.

<sup>17</sup>Compared to the Lord all the nations are worth
nothing;

to him they are less than nothing.

<sup>18</sup>Can you compare God to anything?

Can you compare him to an image of anything?

<sup>19</sup>An idol is formed by a craftsman, and a goldsmith covers it with gold and makes silver chains for it.

<sup>20</sup>A poor person cannot buy those expensive statues, so he finds a tree that will not rot.

Then he finds a skilled craftsman to make it into an idol that will not fall over.

<sup>21</sup>Surely you know. Surely you have heard.
Surely from the beginning someone told you.
Surely you understand how the earth was created.

<sup>22</sup>God sits on his throne above the circle of the earth, and compared to him, people are like grasshoppers.
He stretches out the skies like a piece of cloth and spreads them out like a tent to sit under.

<sup>23</sup>He makes rulers unimportant and the judges of this world worth nothing.

<sup>24</sup>They are like plants that are placed in the ground, like seeds that are planted.
As soon as they begin to grow strong,
he blows on them and they die,
and the wind blows them away like chaff.

<sup>25</sup>God, the Holy One, says, “Can you compare me to anyone?

Is anyone equal to me?”

<sup>26</sup>Look up to the skies.
Who created all these stars?
He leads out the army of heaven one by one and calls all the stars by name.
Because he is strong and powerful,
not one of them is missing.

<sup>27</sup>People of Jacob, why do you complain?
People of Israel, why do you say,
“The Lord does not see what happens to me;
he does not care if I am treated fairly”?

<sup>28</sup>Surely you know.

Surely you have heard.

The Lord is the God who lives forever, who created all the world.

He does not become tired or need to rest.

No one can understand how great his wisdom is.

<sup>29</sup>He gives strength to those who are tired and more power to those who are weak.

<sup>30</sup>Even children become tired and need to rest, and young people trip and fall.

<sup>31</sup>But the people who trust the Lord will become strong again.

They will rise up as an eagle in the sky;

they will run and not need rest;

they will walk and not become tired.

The Lord Will Help Israel

The Lord says, "Faraway countries, listen to me.
Let the nations become strong.
Come to me and speak;
we will meet together to decide who is right.

<sup>2</sup>"Who caused the one to come from the east?
Who gives him victories everywhere he goes?
The one who brought him gives nations over to him and defeats kings.
He uses his sword, and kings become like dust.
He uses his bow, and they are blown away like chaff.

<sup>3</sup>He chases them and is never hurt, going places he has never been before.

<sup>4</sup>Who caused this to happen?
Who has controlled history since the beginning?
I, the Lord, am the one. I was here at the beginning, and I will be here when all things are finished."

<sup>5</sup>All you faraway places, look and be afraid;
all you places far away on the earth, shake with fear.
Come close and listen to me.

<sup>6</sup>The workers help each other and say to each other, "Be strong!"

<sup>7</sup>The craftsman encourages the goldsmith, and the workman who smooths the metal with a hammer encourages the one who shapes the metal.
He says, "This metal work is good."
He nails the statue to a base so it can't fall over.

Only the Lord Can Save Us

<sup>8</sup>The Lord says, “People of Israel, you are my servants.
People of Jacob, I chose you.

You are from the family of my friend Abraham.

<sup>9</sup>I took you from places far away on the earth and called you from a faraway country.

I said, ‘You are my servants.’

I have chosen you and have not turned against you.

<sup>10</sup>So don’t worry, because I am with you.

Don’t be afraid, because I am your God.

I will make you strong and will help you;

I will support you with my right hand that saves you.

<sup>11</sup>“All those people who are angry with you
will be ashamed and disgraced.

Those who are against you will disappear and be lost.

<sup>12</sup>You will look for your enemies,
but you will not find them.

Those who fought against you will vanish completely.

<sup>13</sup>I am the Lord your God,
who holds your right hand,
and I tell you, ‘Don’t be afraid.

I will help you.’

<sup>14</sup>You few people of Israel who are left,
do not be afraid even though you are weak as a worm.

I myself will help you,” says the Lord.

“The one who saves you is the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>15</sup>Look, I have made you like a new threshing board with many sharp teeth.

So you will walk on mountains and crush them;
you will make the hills like chaff.

<sup>16</sup>You will throw them into the air, and the wind will carry them away;

a windstorm will scatter them.

Then you will be happy in the Lord;
you will be proud of the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>17c</sup>The poor and needy people look for water, but they can't find any.

Their tongues are dry with thirst.

But I, the Lord, will answer their prayers;

I, the God of Israel, will not leave them to die.

<sup>18</sup>I will make rivers flow on the dry hills and springs flow through the valleys.

I will change the desert into a lake of water and the dry land into fountains of water.

<sup>19</sup>I will make trees grow in the desert—cedars, acacia, myrtle, and olive trees.

I will put pine, fir, and cypress trees growing together in the desert.

<sup>20</sup>People will see these things and understand;
they will think carefully about these things and learn that the Lord's power did this,
that the Holy One of Israel made these things.”

The Lord Challenges False Gods

The King of Jacob says, “Tell me your arguments.

<sup>22</sup>Bring in your idols to tell us what is going to happen.
Have them tell us what happened in the beginning.
Then we will think about these things,
and we will know how they will turn out.
Or tell us what will happen in the future.

<sup>23</sup>Tell us what is coming next so we will believe that you are gods.
Do something, whether it is good or bad,
and make us afraid.

<sup>24</sup>You gods are less than nothing;
you can't do anything.
Those who worship you should be hated.

<sup>25</sup>“I have brought someone to come out of the north
I have called by name a man from the east, and he knows me.

He walks on kings as if they were mud,
just as a potter walks on the clay.

<sup>26</sup>Who told us about this before it happened?
Who told us ahead of time so we could say, ‘He was right’?

None of you told us anything;
none of you told us before it happened;
no one heard you tell about it.

<sup>27</sup>I, the Lord, was the first one to tell Jerusalem that the people were coming home.

I sent a messenger to Jerusalem with the good news.

<sup>28</sup>I look at the idols, but there is not one that can answer.

None of them can give advice;
none of them can answer my questions.

<sup>29</sup>Look, all these idols are false.

They cannot do anything;
they are worth nothing.

Life Lessons

Isaiah 42:1–43:28

Situation

Isaiah looked ahead to the time when Jesus would bring justice to the world. Isaiah pointed out that although the Israelites were unfaithful to God, God would still deliver them from captivity (43:8–28).

Observation

God never gives up on us. He always pursues us when we wander from him.

Inspiration

John the Baptist saw a dove and believed. James Whittaker saw a sea gull and believed. Who's to say the one who sent the first didn't send the second?

James Whittaker was a member of the handpicked crew that flew the B-17 Flying Fortress captained by Eddie Rickenbacker. Anybody who remembers October of 1942 remembers the day Rickenbacker and his crew were reported lost at sea.

Somewhere over the Pacific, out of radio range, the plane ran out of fuel and crashed into the ocean. The nine men spent the next month floating in three rafts. They battled the heat, the storms, and the water. Sharks, some ten feet long, would ram their nine-foot boats. After only eight days their rations were eaten or destroyed by saltwater. It would take a miracle to survive.

One morning after their daily devotions, Rickenbacker leaned his head back against the raft and pulled his hat over his eyes. A bird landed on his head. He peered out from under his hat. Every eye was on him. He instinctively knew it was a sea gull.

Rickenbacker caught it, and the crew ate it. The bird's intestines were used for bait to catch fish ... and the crew survived to tell the story. A story about a stranded crew with no hope or help in sight. A story about prayers offered and prayers answered. A story about a visitor from an unknown land traveling a great distance to give his life as a sacrifice.

A story of salvation.

A story much like our own. Weren't we, like the crew, stranded? Weren't we, like the crew, praying? And weren't we, like the crew, rescued by a visitor we've never seen through a sacrifice we'll never forget?

You may have heard the Rickenbacker story before. You may have even heard it from me. You may have read it in one of my books. Coreen Schwenk did. She was engaged to the only crew member who did not survive, young Sgt. Alex Kacymarcyck. As a result of a 1985 reunion of the crew, Mrs. Schwenk learned that the widow of James Whittaker lived only eighty miles from her house. The two women met and shared their stories.

After reading this story in my book In the Eye of the Storm, Mrs. Schwenk felt compelled to write to me. The real miracle, she informed me, was not a bird on the head of Eddie Rickenbacker but a change in the heart of James Whittaker. The greatest event of that day was not the rescue of a crew but the rescue of a soul.

James Whittaker was an unbeliever. The plane crash didn't change his unbelief. The days facing death didn't cause him to reconsider his destiny. In fact, Mrs. Whittaker said her husband grew irritated with John Bartak, a crew member who continually read his Bible privately and aloud.

But his protests didn't stop Bartak from reading. Nor did Whittaker's resistance stop the Word from penetrating his soul. Unknown to Whittaker, the soil of his heart was being plowed. For it was one morning after a Bible reading that the sea gull landed on Captain Rickenbacker's head.

And at that moment Jim became a believer.

I chuckled when I read the letter. Not at the letter; I believe every word of it. Nor at James Whittaker. I have every reason to believe his conversion was real. But I had to chuckle at ... please excuse me ... I had to chuckle at God.

Isn't that just like him? Who would go to such extremes to save a soul? Such an effort to get a guy's attention. The rest of the world is occupied with Germany and Hitler. Every headline is reporting the actions of Roosevelt and Churchill. The globe is locked in a battle for freedom ... and the Father is in the Pacific sending a missionary pigeon to save a soul. Oh, the lengths to which God will go to get our attention and win our affection. (From A Gentle Thunder by Max Lucado)

Application

Thank God for the lengths he went to bring you to himself. Reflect on the extreme measures Jesus took to purchase your salvation. Remember, that as you go through each day, Jesus continues to work in your life to bring you back to himself each time you stray.

The Lord's Special Servant

“Here is my servant, the one I support.
He is the one I chose, and I am pleased with him.
I have put my Spirit upon him,
and he will bring justice to all nations.

<sup>2</sup>He will not cry out or yell or speak loudly in the streets.

<sup>3</sup>He will not break a crushed blade of grass or put out even a weak flame.
He will truly bring justice;

<sup>4</sup>he will not lose hope or give up until he brings justice to the world.
And people far away will trust his teachings.”

<sup>5</sup>God, the Lord, said these things.
He created the skies and stretched them out.
He spread out the earth and everything on it.
He gives life to all people on earth,
to everyone who walks on the earth.

<sup>6</sup>The Lord says, “I, the Lord, called you to do right, and I will hold your hand
and protect you.

You will be the sign of my agreement with the people,
a light to shine for all people.

<sup>7</sup>You will help the blind to see.
You will free those who are in prison, and you will lead those who live in darkness out of their prison.

<sup>8</sup>“I am the Lord. That is my name.
I will not give my glory to another;
I will not let idols take the praise that should be mine.
<sup>9</sup>The things I said would happen have happened, and now I tell you about new things.
Before those things happen,
I tell you about them.”

A Song of Praise to the Lord

<sup>10</sup>Sing a new song to the Lord;
sing his praise everywhere on the earth.
Praise him, you people who sail on the seas and you animals who live in them.

Praise him, you people living in faraway places.

<sup>11</sup>The deserts and their cities should praise him.
The settlements of Kedar should praise him.
The people living in Sela should sing for joy;
they should shout from the mountaintops.

<sup>12</sup>They should give glory to the Lord.
People in faraway lands should praise him.

<sup>13</sup>The Lord will march out like a strong soldier;
he will be excited like a man ready to fight a war.
He will shout out the battle cry and defeat his enemies.

<sup>14</sup>The Lord says. “For a long time I have said nothing:

~~14~~ I have been quiet and held myself back.

But now I will cry out and strain like a woman giving birth to a child.

<sup>15</sup>I will destroy the hills and mountains and dry up all their plants.

I will make the rivers become dry land and dry up the pools of water.

<sup>16</sup>Then I will lead the blind along a way they never knew;

I will guide them along paths they have not known.
I will make the darkness become light for them,
and the rough ground smooth.

These are the things I will do;
I will not leave my people.

<sup>17</sup>But those who trust in idols,
who say to their statues,
'You are our gods'
will be rejected in disgrace.

Israel Refused to Listen to the Lord

<sup>18</sup>“You who are deaf, hear me.
You who are blind, look and see.

<sup>19</sup>No one is more blind than my servant Israel or more deaf than the messenger I send.
No one is more blind than the person I own or more blind than the servant of the Lord.

<sup>20</sup>Israel, you have seen much, but you have not obeyed.

You hear, but you refuse to listen.”

<sup>21</sup>The Lord made his teachings wonderful, because he is good.

<sup>22</sup>These people have been defeated and robbed.
They are trapped in pits or locked up in prison.

Like robbers, enemies have taken them away,
and there is no one to save them.

Enemies carried them off,
and no one said, “Bring them back.”

<sup>23</sup>Will any of you listen to this?
Will you listen carefully in the future?

<sup>24</sup>Who let the people of Jacob be carried off?
Who let robbers take Israel away?

The Lord allowed this to happen,
because we sinned against him.

We did not live the way he wanted us to live and did not obey his teaching.

<sup>25</sup>So he became very angry with us and brought terrible wars against us.

It was as if the people of Israel had fire all around them,
but they didn't know what was happening.

It was as if they were burning,
but they didn't pay any attention.

God Is Always with His People

Now this is what the Lord says.
He created you, people of Jacob;
he formed you, people of Israel.
He says, “Don’t be afraid, because I have saved you.
I have called you by name, and you are mine.
<sup>2</sup>When you pass through the waters, I will be with you.
When you cross rivers, you will not drown.
When you walk through fire, you will not be burned,
nor will the flames hurt you.
<sup>3</sup>This is because I, the Lord, am your God,
the Holy One of Israel, your Savior.
I gave Egypt to pay for you,
and I gave Cush and Seba to make you mine.
<sup>4</sup>Because you are precious to me, because I give you honor and love you,
I will give other people in your place;
I will give other nations to save your life.
<sup>5</sup>Don’t be afraid, because I am with you.
I will bring your children from the east and gather you from the west.
<sup>6</sup>I will tell the north: Give my people to me.
I will tell the south: Don’t keep my people in prison.
Bring my sons from far away
and my daughters from faraway places.
<sup>7</sup>Bring to me all the people who are mine, whom I made for my glory, whom I formed and made.”

Judah Is God's Witness

<sup>8</sup>Bring out the people who have eyes but don't see and those who have ears but don't hear.

<sup>9</sup>All the nations gather together,
and all the people come together.

Which of their gods said this would happen?

Which of their gods can tell what happened in the beginning?

Let them bring their witnesses to prove they were right.

Then others will say, "It is true."

<sup>10</sup>The Lord says, "You are my witnesses and the servant I chose.

I chose you so you would know and believe me,
so you would understand that I am the true God.

There was no God before me,
and there will be no God after me.

<sup>11</sup>I myself am the Lord;
I am the only Savior.

<sup>12</sup>I myself have spoken to you, saved you, and told you these things.

It was not some foreign god among you.
You are my witnesses, and I am God,"
says the Lord.

<sup>13</sup>"I have always been God.

No one can save people from my power;
when I do something, no one can change it."

<sup>14</sup>This is what the Lord, who saves you,

the Holy One of Israel, says:

“I will send armies to Babylon for you,
and I will knock down all its locked gates.
The Babylonians will shout their cries of sorrow.

<sup>15</sup>I am the Lord, your Holy One,
the Creator of Israel, your King.”

God Will Save His People Again

He is the one who made a road through the sea and a path through rough waters.

<sup>17</sup>He is the one who defeated the chariots and horses and the mighty armies.

They fell together and will never rise again.
They were destroyed as a flame is put out.

<sup>18</sup>The Lord says, “Forget what happened before,
and do not think about the past.

<sup>19</sup>Look at the new thing I am going to do.
It is already happening. Don’t you see it?
I will make a road in the desert
and rivers in the dry land.

<sup>20</sup>Even the wild animals will be thankful to me—
the wild dogs and owls.

They will honor me when I put water in the desert
and rivers in the dry land
to give water to my people, the ones I chose.

<sup>21</sup>The people I made will sing songs to praise me.

<sup>22c</sup>“People of Jacob, you have not called to me;
people of Israel, you have become tired of me.

<sup>23</sup>You have not brought me your sacrifices of sheep nor honored me with your sacrifices.

I did not weigh you down with sacrifices to offer or make you tired with incense to burn.

<sup>24</sup>So you did not buy incense for me;
you did not freely bring me fat from your sacrifices.

Instead you have weighed me down with your many sins;
you have made me tired of your many wrongs.

<sup>25c</sup>I, I am the One who forgives all your sins, for my sake;

I will not remember your sins.

<sup>26</sup>But you should remind me.

Let’s meet and decide what is right.

Tell what you have done and show you are right.

<sup>27</sup>Your first father sinned, and your leaders have turned against me.

<sup>28</sup>So I will make your holy rulers unholy.
I will bring destruction on the people of Jacob,
and I will let Israel be insulted.”

Life Lessons

Isaiah 44:1–46:13

Situation

God reaffirmed Israel as his chosen people. He warned them that practicing idolatry was foolish.

Observation

God reminded the Israelites that worshiping an inanimate object, such as a piece of firewood, as a god was not only futile but stupid.

Inspiration

You can make an idol out of anything or anyone in life. A church building can become an idol to us, when all the while it is simply a place to meet and worship our Lord—nothing more. Your child can become your idol ... in subtle ways you can so adore that little one that your whole life revolves around the child. Your mate or date can be given first place in your life and literally idolized. Your work can easily become your God ... as can some pursuit in life. A house, a lawn, an antique car, a letter sport, an education, a trip abroad, and even that goal of “retirement.”...

Your Lord and Savior wants to occupy first place. Matthew 6:33 says that when He has it, everything else will be added to you. How long has it been since you’ve enlisted your Lord’s help in a private, personal temple-cleansing session? It’s so easy to get attached to idols—good things, inappropriately adored. But when you have Jesus in the center of the room, everything else only junks up the decor. (From Come Before Winter by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Who created you? Who can you ultimately depend on? Where can you find supreme truth? Where can you find happiness? Did you answer anything but God for these questions? If so, you may be in danger of falling into idolatry. Pull yourself out of that trap and let God be the one you rely on.

God, I have a question: Why do you love your children? I don't want to sound irreverent, but only heaven knows how much pain we've brought you. —Max Lucado (A Gentle Thunder)

The Lord Is the Only God

The Lord says, “People of Jacob, you are my servants.
Listen to me!

People of Israel, I chose you.”

<sup>2</sup>This is what the Lord says, who made you,
who formed you in your mother's body,
who will help you:

“People of Jacob, my servants, don't be afraid.
Israel, I chose you.

<sup>3</sup>I will pour out water for the thirsty land and make streams flow on dry land.
I will pour out my Spirit into your children and my blessing on your descendants.

<sup>4</sup>Your children will grow like a tree in the grass, like poplar trees growing beside streams of water.

<sup>5</sup>One person will say, ‘I belong to the Lord,’
and another will use the name Jacob.
Another will sign his name ‘I am the Lord's,’
and another will use the name Israel.”

<sup>6</sup>The Lord, the king of Israel, is the Lord All-Powerful, who saves Israel.

This is what he says: "I am the beginning and the end.
I am the only God.

<sup>7</sup>Who is a god like me?

That god should come and prove it.

Let him tell and explain all that has happened since I set up my ancient people.

He should also tell what will happen in the future.

I have always told you what will happen.

You are my witnesses.

There is no other God but me.

I know of no other Rock; I am the only One."

Idols Are Useless

<sup>9</sup>Some people make idols, but they are worth nothing.

People treasure them, but they are useless.

Those people are witnesses for the statues, but those people cannot see.

They know nothing, so they will be ashamed.

<sup>10</sup>Who made these gods?

Who made these useless idols?

<sup>11</sup>The workmen who made them will be ashamed, because they are only human.

If they all would come together,
they would all be ashamed and afraid.

<sup>12</sup>One workman uses tools to heat iron,
and he works over hot coals.

With his hammer he beats the metal and makes a statue,
using his powerful arms.
But when he becomes hungry, he loses his power.
If he does not drink water, he becomes tired.

<sup>13</sup>Another workman uses a line and a compass to draw on the wood.
Then he uses his chisels to cut a statue and his calipers to measure the statue.
In this way, the workman makes the wood look exactly like a person,
and this statue of a person sits in the house.

<sup>14</sup>He cuts down cedars or cypress or oak trees.
Those trees grew by their own power in the forest.
Or he plants a pine tree, and the rain makes it grow.

<sup>15</sup>Then he burns the tree.
He uses some of the wood for a fire to keep himself warm.

He also starts a fire to bake his bread.
But he uses part of the wood to make a god, and then he worships it!

He makes the idol and bows down to it!
<sup>16</sup>The man burns half of the wood in the fire.
He uses the fire to cook his meat,
and he eats the meat until he is full.

He also burns the wood to keep himself warm. He says, “Good! Now I am warm. I can see because of the fire’s light.”

<sup>17</sup>But he makes a statue from the wood that is left and calls it his god.

He bows down to it and worships it.

He prays to it and says,

“You are my god. Save me!”

<sup>18</sup>Those people don't know what they are doing. They don't understand!

It is as if their eyes are covered so they can't see.

Their minds don't understand.

<sup>19</sup>They have not thought about these things;

they don't understand.

They have never thought to themselves,

“I burned half of the wood in the fire and used the hot coals to bake my bread.

I cooked and ate my meat.

And I used the wood that was left to make this hateful thing.

I am worshiping a block of wood!”

<sup>20</sup>He doesn't know what he is doing;

his confused mind leads him the wrong way.

He cannot save himself or say, “This statue I am holding is a false god.”

The Lord Is the True God

People of Israel, remember you are my servants.

I made you, and you are my servants.

So Israel, I will not forget you.

<sup>22</sup>I have swept away your sins like a big cloud;

I have removed your sins like a cloud that disappears into the air.

Come back to me because I saved you.”

<sup>23</sup>Skies, sing for joy because the Lord did great things!

Earth, shout for joy, even in your deepest parts!

Sing, you mountains, with thanks to God.

Sing, too, you trees in the forest!

The Lord saved the people of Jacob!

He showed his glory when he saved Israel.

<sup>24</sup>This is what the Lord says, who saved you,
who formed you in your mother’s body:

“I, the Lord, made everything, stretching out the skies by myself and spreading out the earth all alone.

<sup>25</sup>I show that the lying prophets’ signs are false;
I make fools of those who do magic.

I confuse even wise men;

they think they know much, but I make them look foolish.

<sup>26</sup>I make the messages of my servants come true;
I make the advice of my messengers come true.

I say to Jerusalem,

‘People will live in you again!’

I say to the towns of Judah,

‘You will be built again!’

I say to Jerusalem’s ruins,

‘I will repair you.’

<sup>27</sup>I tell the deep waters, ‘Become dry!

I will make your streams become dry!’

<sup>28</sup>I say of Cyrus, ‘He is my shepherd and will do all that I want him to do.

He will say to Jerusalem, “You will be built again!”

He will tell the Temple, “Your foundations will be rebuilt.” ””

God Chooses Cyrus to Free Israel

This is what the Lord says to Cyrus, his appointed king:

“I hold your right hand and will help you defeat nations and take away other kings’ power.

I will open doors for you
so city gates will not stop you.

<sup>2</sup>I will go before you and make the mountains flat.

I will break down the bronze gates of the cities and cut through their iron bars.

<sup>3</sup>I will give you the wealth that is stored away and the hidden riches
so you will know I am the Lord,
the God of Israel, who calls you by name.

<sup>4</sup>I do these things for my servants, the people of Jacob, and for my chosen people, the Israelites.

Cyrus, I call you by name, and I give you a title of honor even though you don’t know me.

<sup>5</sup>I am the Lord. There is no other God;
I am the only God.

I will make you strong,
even though you don’t know me,

<sup>6</sup>so that everyone will know
there is no other God.

From the east to the west they will know
I alone am the Lord.

<sup>7</sup>I made the light and the darkness.
I bring peace, and I cause troubles.
I, the Lord, do all these things.

<sup>8</sup>“Sky above, make victory fall like rain;
clouds, pour down victory.
Let the earth receive it,
and let salvation grow,
and let victory grow with it.
I, the Lord, have created it.

<sup>9</sup>“How terrible it will be for those who argue with the God who made them.

They are like a piece of broken pottery among many pieces.

The clay does not ask the potter,
‘What are you doing?’
The thing that is made doesn’t say to its maker,
‘You have no hands.’

<sup>10</sup>How terrible it will be for the child who says to his father,

‘Why are you giving me life?’

How terrible it will be for the child who says to his mother,

‘Why are you giving birth to me?’”

<sup>11</sup>This is what the Lord,
the Holy One of Israel, and its Maker, says:
“You ask me about what will happen.
You question me about my children.
You give me orders about what I have made.

<sup>12</sup>I made the earth and all the people living on it.
With my own hands I stretched out the skies,
and I commanded all the armies in the sky.
<sup>13</sup>I will bring Cyrus to do good things, and I will make his work easy.
He will rebuild my city
and set my people free
without any payment or reward.
The Lord All-Powerful says this.”

<sup>14</sup>The Lord says,
“The goods made in Egypt and Cush and the tall people of Seba will come to you
and will become yours.
The Sabeans will walk behind you,
coming along in chains.
They will bow down before you
and pray to you, saying, ‘God is with you,
and there is no other God.’”

<sup>15</sup>God and Savior of Israel, you are a God that people cannot see.

<sup>16</sup>All the people who make idols will be put to great shame;
they will go off together in disgrace.
<sup>17</sup>But Israel will be saved by the Lord, and that salvation will continue forever.
Never again will Israel be put to shame.

He is the God who formed the earth and made it.
He did not want it to be empty,
but he wanted life on the earth.
This is what the Lord says:
“I am the Lord. There is no other God.

<sup>19</sup>I did not speak in secret or hide my words in some dark place.
I did not tell the family of Jacob to look for me in empty places.
I am the Lord, and I speak the truth;
I say what is right.

<sup>20</sup>“You people who have escaped from other nations, gather together and come before me;
come near together.
People who carry idols of wood don’t know what they are doing.

They pray to a god who cannot save them.
<sup>21</sup>Tell these people to come to me.
Let them talk about these things together.
Who told you long ago that this would happen?
Who told about it long ago?
I, the Lord, said these things.
There is no other God besides me.
I am the only good God. I am the Savior.
There is no other God.

<sup>22</sup>“All people everywhere,
follow me and be saved.
I am God. There is no other God.

<sup>23</sup>I will make a promise by my own power,
and my promise is true;
what I say will not be changed.

I promise that everyone will bow before me and will promise to follow me.

<sup>24</sup>People will say about me, ‘Goodness and power come only from the Lord.’”

Everyone who has been angry with him will come to him and be ashamed.

<sup>25</sup>But with the Lord’s help, the people of Israel will be found to be good,
and they will praise him.

False Gods Are Useless

Bel and Nebo bow down.
Their idols are carried by animals.
The statues are only heavy loads that must be carried;
they only make people tired.

<sup>2</sup>These gods will all bow down.
They cannot save themselves
but will all be carried away like prisoners.

<sup>3</sup>“Family of Jacob, listen to me!
All you people from Israel who are still alive, listen!
I have carried you since you were born;
I have taken care of you from your birth.

<sup>4</sup>Even when you are old, I will be the same.
Even when your hair has turned gray, I will take care of
you.

I made you and will take care of you.
I will carry you and save you.

<sup>5</sup>“Can you compare me to anyone?
No one is equal to me or like me.

<sup>6</sup>Some people are rich with gold and weigh their silver on the scales.
They hire a goldsmith, and he makes it into a god.
Then they bow down and worship it.

<sup>7</sup>They put it on their shoulders and carry it.
They set it in its place, and there it stands;
it cannot move from its place.
People may yell at it, but it cannot answer.

It cannot save them from their troubles.

<sup>8</sup>“Remember this, and do not forget it!

Think about these things, you who turn against God.

<sup>9</sup>Remember what happened long ago.

Remember that I am God, and there is no other God.

I am God, and there is no one like me.

<sup>10</sup>From the beginning I told you what would happen in the end.

A long time ago I told you things that have not yet happened.

When I plan something, it happens.

What I want to do, I will do.

<sup>11</sup>I am calling a man from the east to carry out my plan; he will come like a hawk from a country far away.

I will make what I have said come true;

I will do what I have planned.

I will bring salvation soon.

I will save Jerusalem and bring glory to Israel.”

Life Lessons

Isaiah 47:1–48:22

Situation

Isaiah celebrated the overthrow of Babylon with a song of victory. God continued to rebuke Israel for its stubbornness.

Observation

Israel had a history of unyielding stubbornness in its relationship with God. This led to idolatry and unnecessary suffering.

Inspiration

When we are yielded to God and His will, we are filled with the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit controls and dominates us. Now we are to act on that truth and walk or live with full assurance that God has already filled us, and we are under His control. . . .

Personally, I find it helpful to begin each day silently committing that day into God's hands. I thank Him that I belong to Him, and I thank Him that He knows what the day holds for me. I ask Him to take my life that day and use it for His glory. I ask Him to cleanse me from anything which would hinder His work in my life. And then I step out in faith, knowing that His Holy Spirit is filling me continually as I trust in Him and obey His Word. Sometimes during the day I may not be aware of His presence; sometimes I am. But at the end of the day, I can look back and thank Him, because I see His hand at work. He promised to be with me that day—and He has been! (From The Holy Spirit by Billy Graham)

Application

God Will Destroy Babylon

The Lord says, “City of Babylon, go down and sit in the dirt.

People of Babylon, sit on the ground.

You are no longer the ruler.

You will no longer be called tender or beautiful.

Remove your veil and your nice skirts.

Uncover your legs and cross the rivers.

<sup>3</sup>People will see your nakedness;

they will see your shame.

I will punish you;

I will punish every one of you.”

<sup>4</sup>Our Savior is named the Lord All-Powerful;

he is the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>5</sup>“Babylon, sit in darkness and say nothing.

You will no longer be called the queen of kingdoms.

<sup>6</sup>I was angry with my people,

so I rejected those who belonged to me.

I gave them to you,

but you showed them no mercy.

You even made the old people work very hard.

<sup>7</sup>You said, 'I will live forever
as the queen.'

But you did not think about these things or consider what would happen.

<sup>8</sup>'Now, listen, you lover of pleasure.

You think you are safe.

You tell yourself,

'I am the only important person.

I will never be a widow or lose my children.'

<sup>9</sup>Two things will happen to you suddenly, in a single day.

You will lose your children and your husband.

These things will truly happen to you,

in spite of all your magic,

in spite of your powerful tricks.

<sup>10</sup>You do evil things, but you feel safe and say, 'No one sees what I do.'

Your wisdom and knowledge have fooled you.

You say to yourself,

'I am God, and no one is equal to me.'

<sup>11</sup>But troubles will come to you, and you will not know how to stop them.

Disaster will fall on you,

and you will not be able to keep it away.

You will be destroyed quickly;

you will not even see it coming.

“Keep on using your tricks and doing all your magic that you have used since you were young.
Maybe they will help you;
maybe you will be able to scare someone.

<sup>13</sup>You are tired of the advice you have received.
So let those who study the sky—those who tell the future by looking at the stars and the new moons—
let them save you from what is about to happen to
you.

<sup>14</sup>But they are like straw;
fire will quickly burn them up.
They cannot save themselves
from the power of the fire.
They are not like coals that give warmth nor like a fire that you may sit beside.

<sup>15</sup>You have worked with these people, and they have been with you since you were young,
but they will not be able to help you.
Everyone will go his own way,
and there will be no one left to save you.”

God Controls the Future

The Lord says, “Family of Jacob, listen to me.
You are called Israel,
and you come from the family of Judah.
You swear by the Lord’s name and praise the God of Israel,
but you are not honest or sincere.

<sup>2</sup>You call yourselves people of the holy city,
and you depend on the God of Israel,
who is named the Lord All-Powerful.

<sup>3</sup>Long ago I told you what would happen.
I said these things and made them known;
suddenly I acted, and these things happened.

<sup>4</sup>I knew you were stubborn;
your neck was like an iron muscle,
and your head was like bronze.

<sup>5</sup>So a long time ago I told you about these things;
I told you about them before they happened
so you couldn’t say, ‘My idols did this,
and my wooden and metal statues made these things happen.’

<sup>6</sup>“You heard and saw everything that happened, so you should tell this news to others.
Now I will tell you about new things,
hidden things that you don’t know yet.

<sup>7</sup>These things are happening now, not long ago;
you have not heard about them before today.
So you cannot say, ‘We already knew about that.’

<sup>8</sup>But you have not heard me; you have not understood.

Even long ago you did not listen to me.

I knew you would surely turn against me;
you have fought against me since you were born.

<sup>9</sup>But for my own sake I will be patient.

People will praise me for not becoming angry and destroying you.

<sup>10</sup>I have made you pure, but not by fire, as silver is made pure.

I have purified you by giving you troubles.

<sup>11</sup>I do this for myself, for my own sake.

I will not let people speak evil against me,
and I will not let some god take my glory.

Israel Will Be Free

<sup>12</sup>“People of Jacob, listen to me.

People of Israel, I have called you to be my people.

I am God;

I am the beginning and the end.

<sup>13</sup>I made the earth with my own hands.

With my right hand I spread out the skies.

When I call them,

they come together before me.”

<sup>14</sup>All of you, come together and listen.

None of the gods said these things would happen.

The Lord has chosen someone to attack the Babylonians;

he will carry out his wishes against Babylon.

<sup>15</sup>“I have spoken; I have called him.
I have brought him, and I will make him successful.

<sup>16</sup>“Come to me and listen to this.
From the beginning I have spoken openly.
From the time it began, I was there.”

Now, the Lord God has sent me with his Spirit.

<sup>17</sup>This is what the Lord, who saves you,
the Holy One of Israel, says:

“I am the Lord your God, who teaches you to do what is good,
who leads you in the way you should go.

<sup>18</sup>If you had obeyed me,
you would have had peace like a full-flowing river.
Good things would have flowed to you like the waves of the sea.

<sup>19</sup>You would have had many children,
as many as the grains of sand.
They would never have died out nor been destroyed.”

<sup>20</sup>My people, leave Babylon!
Run from the Babylonians!
Tell this news with shouts of joy to the people;
spread it everywhere on earth.
Say, “The Lord has saved his servants, the people of Jacob.”

<sup>21</sup>They did not become thirsty when he led them through the deserts.

He made water flow from a rock for them.

He split the rock,
and water flowed out.

<sup>22</sup>“There is no peace for evil people,” says the Lord.

Life Lessons

Isaiah 49:1–52:12

Situation

Isaiah introduced the purpose of the Servant-Messiah. Isaiah reminded the Israelites of God's previous rescue of them and of the Messiah's future saving work.

Observation

God has a long history when it comes to being faithful. He has kept his people safe for thousands of years.

Inspiration

We have already seen that the Bible teaches that God was a God of love. He wanted to do something for man. He wanted to save man. He wanted to free man from the curse of sin. How could He do it? God was a just God. He was righteous, and holy. He had warned man from the beginning that if he obeyed the Devil and disobeyed God, he would die physically and spiritually. . . .

All through the Old Testament, God gave man the promise of salvation if by faith he would believe in the coming Redeemer. Therefore God began to teach His people that man could only be saved by substitution. Someone else would have to pay the bill for man's redemption. . . .

Thanks be to God—that is exactly what happened! Looking down over the battlements of heaven He saw this planet swinging in space—doomed, damned, crushed, and bound for hell. He saw you and me struggling beneath our load of sin and bound in the chains and ropes of sin. He made His decision in the council halls of God. The angelic hosts bowed in humility and awe as heaven's Prince of Princes and Lord of Lords, who could speak worlds into space, got into His jeweled chariot, went through pearly gates, across the steep of the skies, and on a black Judean night, while the stars sang together and the escorting angels chanted praises, stepped out of the chariot, threw off His robes, and became man!

(From Peace with God by Billy Graham)

Application

Meditate on the things God has saved you from: hell, drugs, despair, alcohol, sinful habits, hopelessness, restlessness, and selfishness. Thank God for this most wonderful gift of redemption.

God Calls His Special Servant

All of you people in faraway places, listen to me.
Listen, all you nations far away.
Before I was born, the Lord called me to serve him.
The Lord named me while I was still in my mother's body.

<sup>2</sup>He made my tongue like a sharp sword.
He hid me in the shadow of his hand.
He made me like a sharp arrow.
He hid me in the holder for his arrows.

<sup>3</sup>He told me, "Israel, you are my servant.
I will show my glory through you."

<sup>4</sup>But I said, "I have worked hard for nothing;
I have used all my power, but I did nothing useful.
But the Lord will decide what my work is worth;
God will decide my reward."

<sup>5</sup>The Lord made me in the body of my mother to be his servant,
to lead the people of Jacob back to him
so that Israel might be gathered to him.
The Lord will honor me,
and I will get my strength from my God.

<sup>6</sup>Now he told me,
"You are an important servant to me to bring back the tribes of Jacob, to bring back the people of Israel who are left alive.

But, more importantly, I will make you a light for all nations to show people all over the world the way to be saved.”

<sup>7</sup>The Lord who saves you is the Holy One of Israel.
He speaks to the one who is hated by the people,
to the servant of rulers.

This is what he says: “Kings will see you and stand to honor you;
great leaders will bow down before you,
because the Lord can be trusted.
He is the Holy One of Israel, who has chosen you.”

The Day of Salvation

<sup>8</sup>This is what the Lord says:
“At the right time I will hear your prayers.
On the day of salvation I will help you.
I will protect you,
and you will be the sign of my agreement with the people.
You will bring back the people to the land and give the land that is now ruined back to its owners.

<sup>9</sup>You will tell the prisoners, ‘Come out of your prison.’
You will tell those in darkness, ‘Come into the light.’
The people will eat beside the roads, and they will find food even on bare hills.

<sup>10</sup>They will not be hungry or thirsty.

Neither the hot sun nor the desert wind will hurt them.

The God who comforts them will lead them and guide them by springs of water.

<sup>11</sup>I will make my mountains into roads,
and the roads will be raised up.

<sup>12</sup>Look, people are coming to me from far away, from the north and from the west,
from Aswan in southern Egypt.”

<sup>13</sup>Heavens and earth, be happy.

Mountains, shout with joy,

because the Lord comforts his people and will have pity on those who suffer.

Jerusalem and Her Children

<sup>14</sup>But Jerusalem said, “The Lord has left me;
the Lord has forgotten me.”

she nurses?

Can she feel no kindness for the child to which she gave birth?

Even if she could forget her children,

I will not forget you.

<sup>16</sup>See, I have written your name on my hand.
Jerusalem, I always think about your walls.

<sup>17</sup>Your children will soon return to you, and the people who defeated you and destroyed you will leave.

<sup>18</sup>Look up and look around you.
All your children are gathering to return to you.”
The Lord says, “As surely as I live, your children will be like jewels that a bride wears proudly.

<sup>19</sup>“You were destroyed and defeated, and your land was made useless.
But now you will have more people than the land can hold,

and those people who destroyed you will be far away.

<sup>20</sup>Children were born to you while you were sad,
but they will say to you,
‘This place is too small for us.
Give us a bigger place to live.’

<sup>21</sup>Then you will say to yourself,
‘Who gave me all these children?
I was sad and lonely,
defeated and separated from my people.
So who reared these children?
I was left all alone.
Where did all these children come from?’”

<sup>22</sup>This is what the Lord God says:
“See, I will lift my hand to signal the nations;
I will raise my banner for all the people to see.
Then they will bring your sons back to you in their arms,

and they will carry your daughters on their shoulders.
<sup>23</sup>Kings will teach your children,
and daughters of kings will take care of them.
They will bow down before you
and kiss the dirt at your feet.
Then you will know I am the Lord.
Anyone who trusts in me will not be disappointed.”

<sup>24</sup>Can the wealth a soldier wins in war be taken away from him?

Can a prisoner be freed from a powerful soldier?

“The prisoners will be taken from the strong soldiers.

What the soldiers have taken will be saved.

I will fight your enemies,

and I will save your children.

<sup>26</sup>I will force those who trouble you to eat their own flesh.

Their own blood will be the wine that makes them
drunk.

Then everyone will know

I, the Lord, am the One who saves you;

I am the Powerful One of Jacob who saves you.”

Israel Was Punished for Its Sin

This is what the Lord says:

“People of Israel, you say I divorced your mother.
Then where is the paper that proves it?
Or do you think I sold you
to pay a debt?
Because of the evil things you did, I sold you.
Because of the times she turned against me, your mother was sent away.
<sup>2</sup>I came home and found no one there;
I called, but no one answered.
Do you think I am not able to save you?
Do I not have the power to save you?
Look, I need only to shout and the sea becomes dry.
I change rivers into a desert,
and their fish rot because there is no water;
they die of thirst.
<sup>3</sup>I can make the skies dark;
I can make them black like clothes of sadness.”

God's Servant Obeys

<sup>4</sup>The Lord God gave me the ability to teach so that I know what to say to make the weak strong.
Every morning he wakes me.
He teaches me to listen like a student.

<sup>5</sup>The Lord God helps me learn, and I have not turned against him
nor stopped following him.

<sup>6</sup>I offered my back to those who beat me.
I offered my cheeks to those who pulled my beard.
I won't hide my face from them
when they make fun of me and spit at me.

<sup>7</sup>The Lord God helps me,
so I will not be ashamed.
I will be determined,
and I know I will not be disgraced.

<sup>8</sup>He shows that I am innocent, and he is close to me.
So who can accuse me?
If there is someone, let us go to court together.
If someone wants to prove I have done wrong, he should come and tell me.

<sup>9</sup>Look! It is the Lord God who helps me.
So who can prove me guilty?
Look! All those who try will become useless like old clothes;
moths will eat them.

<sup>10</sup>Who among you fears the Lord and obeys his servant?
That person may walk in the dark and have no light.
Then let him trust in the Lord and depend on his God.

<sup>11</sup>But instead, some of you want to light your own fires and make your own light.
So, go, walk in the light of your fires,

and trust your own light to guide you.
But this is what you will receive from me:
You will lie down in a place of pain.

Jerusalem Will Be Saved

The Lord says, “Listen to me,
those of you who try to live right and follow the Lord.
Look at the rock from which you were cut;
look at the stone quarry from which you were dug.

<sup>2</sup>Look at Abraham, your ancestor, and Sarah, who gave birth to your ancestors.
Abraham had no children when I called him,
but I blessed him and gave him many descendants.

<sup>3</sup>So the Lord will comfort Jerusalem;
he will show mercy to those who live in her ruins.
He will change her deserts into a garden like Eden;
he will make her empty lands like the garden of the Lord.

People there will be very happy;
they will give thanks and sing songs.

<sup>4</sup>“My people, listen to me;
my nation, pay attention to me.
I will give the people my teachings, and my decisions will be like a light to all people.

<sup>5</sup>I will soon show that I do what is right.
I will soon save you.
I will use my power and judge all nations.
All the faraway places are waiting for me;
they wait for my power to help them.

<sup>6</sup>Look up to the heavens.
Look around you at the earth below.
The skies will disappear like clouds of smoke.

The earth will become useless like old clothes,
and its people will die like flies.
But my salvation will continue forever,
and my goodness will never end.

<sup>7</sup>“You people who know what is right should listen to
me;
you people who follow my teachings should hear what
I say.

Don't be afraid of the evil things people say,
and don't be upset by their insults.

<sup>8</sup>Moths will eat those people as if they were clothes, and worms will eat them as if they were wool.
But my goodness will continue forever, and my salvation will continue from now on.”

<sup>9</sup>Wake up, wake up, and use your strength, powerful Lord.

Wake up as you did in the old times,
as you did a long time ago.

With your own power, you cut Rahab into pieces and killed that sea monster.

<sup>10</sup>You dried up the sea and the waters of the deep ocean.

You made the deepest parts of the sea into a road for your people to cross over and be saved.

<sup>11</sup>The people the Lord has freed will return and enter Jerusalem with joy.

Their happiness will last forever.

They will have joy and gladness,
and all sadness and sorrow will be gone far away.

<sup>12</sup>The Lord says, “I am the one who comforts you.
So why should you be afraid of people, who die?
Why should you fear people who die like the grass?”

<sup>13</sup>Have you forgotten the Lord who made you, who stretched out the skies
and made the earth?

Why are you always afraid of those angry people who trouble you and who want to destroy?

But where are those angry people now?

<sup>14</sup>People in prison will soon be set free;
they will not die in prison,
and they will have enough food.

<sup>15</sup>I am the Lord your God,
who stirs the sea and makes the waves roar.
My name is the Lord All-Powerful.

<sup>16</sup>I will give you the words I want you to say.
I will cover you with my hands and protect you.
I made the heavens and the earth,
and I say to Jerusalem, ‘You are my people.’”

God Punished Israel

<sup>17</sup>Awake! Awake!

Get up, Jerusalem.

The Lord was very angry with you;
your punishment was like wine in a cup.

The Lord made you drink that wine;
you drank the whole cup until you stumbled.

<sup>18</sup>Jerusalem had many people,
but there was not one to lead her.
Of all the people who grew up there,
no one was there to guide her.

<sup>19</sup>Troubles came to you two by two,
but no one will feel sorry for you.
There was ruin and disaster, great hunger and fighting.
No one can comfort you.

<sup>20</sup>Your people have become weak.
They fall down and lie on every street corner,
like animals caught in a net.
They have felt the full anger of the Lord and have heard God's angry shout.

<sup>21</sup>So listen to me, poor Jerusalem, you who are drunk but not from wine.

<sup>22</sup>Your God will defend his people.
This is what the Lord your God says:
"The punishment I gave you is like a cup of wine.
You drank it and could not walk straight.
But I am taking that cup of my anger away from you,
and you will never be punished by my anger again.

<sup>23</sup>I will now give that cup of punishment to those who gave you pain,
who told you,
'Bow down so we can walk over you.'
They made your back like dirt for them to walk on;
you were like a street for them to travel on."

Jerusalem Will Be Saved

Wake up, wake up, Jerusalem! Become strong!

Be beautiful again,
holy city of Jerusalem.

The people who do not worship God and who are not pure

will not enter you again.

<sup>2</sup>Jerusalem, you once were a prisoner.

Now shake off the dust and stand up.

Jerusalem, you once were a prisoner.

Now free yourself from the chains around your neck.

“You were not sold for a price,
so you will be saved without cost.”

<sup>4</sup>This is what the Lord God says:

“First my people went down to Egypt to live.

Later Assyria made them slaves.

<sup>5</sup>“Now see what has happened,” says the Lord.

“Another nation has taken away my people for
nothing.

This nation who rules them makes fun of me,” says the
Lord.

“All day long they speak against me.

<sup>6</sup>This has happened so my people will know who I am,
and so, on that future day, they will know that I am the one speaking to them.

It will really be me.”

<sup>7</sup>How beautiful is the person who comes over the mountains to bring good news, who announces peace
and brings good news,
who announces salvation
and says to Jerusalem,
“Your God is King.”

<sup>8</sup>Listen! Your guards are shouting.
They are all shouting for joy!
They all will see with their own eyes
when the Lord returns to Jerusalem.

<sup>9</sup>Jerusalem, your buildings are destroyed now,
but shout and rejoice together,
because the Lord has comforted his people.
He has saved Jerusalem.

<sup>10</sup>The Lord will show his holy power to all the nations.
Then everyone on earth will see the salvation of our God.

<sup>11</sup>You people, leave, leave; get out of Babylon!
Touch nothing that is unclean.
You men who carry the Lord’s things used in worship,
leave there and make yourselves pure.

<sup>12</sup>You will not be forced to leave Babylon quickly;
you will not be forced to run away,
because the Lord will go before you,
and the God of Israel will guard you from behind.

Life Lessons

Isaiah 52:13–53:12

Situation

Isaiah prophesied about the coming of the Messiah, the Suffering Servant—Jesus Christ. He referred to the Servant’s lowly existence, agonizing death, and honorable purpose.

Observation

We needed Christ to die for our sins and provide forgiveness because we’re not going to find it any other way.

Inspiration

We humans want to do things our way. Forget the easy way. Forget the common way. Forget the best way. Forget God’s way. We want to do things our way.

And, according to the Bible, that’s precisely our problem. “We all have wandered away like sheep; each of us has gone his own way” (Isaiah 53:6).

You wouldn’t think sheep would be obstinate. Of all God’s animals, the sheep is the least able to take care of himself.

Sheep are dumb! Have you ever met a sheep trainer? Ever seen sheep tricks? Know anyone who has taught his sheep to roll over? Ever witnessed a circus sideshow featuring “Mazadon and his jumping sheep”? No. Sheep are just too dumb.

And defenseless. They have no fangs or claws. They can’t bite you or outrun you. That’s why you never see sheep as team mascots. We've heard of the St. Louis Rams and the Chicago Bulls and the Seattle Seahawks, but the New York Lambs? Who wants to be a lamb? You couldn't even stir up a decent yell for the cheerleaders.

We are the sheep.

We don't make a peep.

Victory is yours to keep.

But count us if you want to sleep ...

Still uncomfortable with being considered a sheep? Will you humor me and take a simple quiz? See if you succeed in self-reliance. Raise your hand if any of the following describe you.

You can control your moods. You're never grumpy or sullen. You can't relate to Jekyll and Hyde. You're always upbeat and upright. Does that describe you? No? Well, let's try another.

You are at peace with everyone. Every relationship as sweet as fudge. Even your old flames speak highly of you. Love all and are loved by all. Is that you? If not, how about this description?

You have no fears. Call you the Teflon toughie. Wall Street plummets—no problem. Heart condition discovered—yawn. World War III starts—what's for dinner? Does this describe you?

You need no forgiveness. Never made a mistake. As square as a game of checkers. As clean as grandma's kitchen. Never cheated, never lied, never lied about cheating. Is that you? No?

Let's evaluate this. You can't control your moods. A few of your relationships are shaky. You have fears and faults. Hmm. Do you really want to hang on to your chest of self-reliance? Sounds to me as if you could use a shepherd. (From Traveling Light by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you think you can make it through life by yourself—even as a Christian? It may be time to check your self-sufficiency at the door. Confess your natural desire to do things your way and ask God to give you a spirit of dependence upon him.

Exploration

Trusting in God—Psalm 20:7; Proverbs 3:5; 16:20; Romans 4:5; 10:11; 1 Peter 2:6.

When we come to Christ, God not only forgives us, he also adopts us. Through a dramatic series of events, we go from condemned orphans with no hope to adopted children with no fear. —Max Lucado (The Great House of God)

The Lord's Suffering Servant

<sup>13</sup>The Lord says, “See, my servant will act wisely.
People will greatly honor and respect him.

<sup>14</sup>Many people were shocked when they saw him.
His appearance was so changed he did not look like a man;
his form was changed so much they could barely tell he was human.

<sup>15</sup>But now he will surprise many nations.
Kings will be amazed and shut their mouths.
They will see things they had not been told about him,
and they will understand things they had not heard.”

Who would have believed what we heard?
Who saw the Lord's power in this?

<sup>2</sup>He grew up like a small plant before the Lord,
like a root growing in a dry land.

He had no special beauty or form to make us notice
him;

there was nothing in his appearance to make us desire
him.

<sup>3</sup>He was hated and rejected by people.

He had much pain and suffering.

People would not even look at him.

He was hated, and we didn't even notice him.

<sup>4</sup>But he took our suffering on him and felt our pain for us.

We saw his suffering and thought God was punishing him.

<sup>5</sup>But he was wounded for the wrong we did;

he was crushed for the evil we did.

The punishment, which made us well, was given to
him,

and we are healed because of his wounds.

<sup>6</sup>We all have wandered away like sheep;

each of us has gone his own way.

But the Lord has put on him the punishment for all the evil we have done.

<sup>7</sup>He was beaten down and punished,

but he didn't say a word.

He was like a lamb being led to be killed.

He was quiet, as a sheep is quiet while its wool is being cut;

he never opened his mouth.

Jesus: The Bread of Life

Can you see why Jesus called himself the Bread of Life?

I can think of one other similarity. Consider how bread is made. Think about the process. Wheat grows in the field, then it is cut down, winnowed, and ground into flour. It passes through the fire of the oven and is then distributed around the world. Only by this process does bread become bread. Each step is essential. Eliminate the plant, and you have no wheat. Eliminate the winnowing, and you have no flour. Eliminate the fire, and you have no product. Eliminate the distribution, and you have no satisfaction. Each step is essential.

Now, consider Jesus. He grew up as a “small plant before the Lord” (Isaiah 53:2). One of millions of boys on the planet. One of thousands in Israel. One of dozens in Nazareth. Indistinguishable from the person down the street or the child in the next chair. Had you seen him as a youngster, you wouldn't have thought he was the Son of God. You might have thought him polite or courteous or diligent, but God on earth? Not a chance. He was just a boy. One of hundreds. Like a staff of wheat in the wheat field.

But like wheat, he was cut down. Like chaff he was pounded and beaten. “He was wounded for the wrong we did; he was crushed for the evil we did”

\(Isaiah 53:5\). And like bread he passed through the fire. On the cross he passed through the fire of God's anger, not because of his sin, but because of ours. "The Lord has put on him the punishment for all the evil we have done" \(Isaiah 53:6\).

Jesus experienced each part of the process of making bread: the growing, the pounding, the firing. And just as each is necessary for bread, each was also necessary for Christ to become the bread of life. "The Christ must suffer these things before he enters his glory" \(Luke 24:26\). ### Peace with God Through Christ

“Since we have been made right with God by our faith, we have peace with God” (Romans 5:1).

Peace with God. What a happy consequence of faith! Not just peace between countries, peace between neighbors, or peace at home; salvation brings peace with God.

Once a monk and his apprentice traveled from the abbey to a nearby village. The two parted at the city gates, agreeing to meet the next morning after completing their tasks. According to plan, they met and began the long walk back to the abbey. The monk noticed that the younger man was unusually quiet. He asked him if anything was wrong. “What business is it of yours?” came the terse response.

Now the monk was sure his brother was troubled, but he said nothing. The distance between the two began to increase. The apprentice walked slowly, as if to separate himself from his teacher. When the abbey came in sight, the monk stopped at the gate and waited on the student. “Tell me, my son. What troubles your soul?”

The boy started to react again, but when he saw the warmth in his master's eyes, his heart began to melt. "I have sinned greatly," he sobbed. "Last night I slept with a woman and abandoned my vows. I am not worthy to enter the abbey at your side."

The teacher put his arm around the student and said, "We will enter the abbey together. And we will enter the cathedral together. And together we will confess your sin. No one but God will know which of the two of us fell."

Doesn't that describe what God has done for us? When we kept our sin silent, we withdrew from him. We saw him as an enemy. We took steps to avoid his presence. But our confession of faults alters our perception. God is no longer a foe but a friend. We are at peace with him. He did more than the monk did, much more. More than share in our sin, Jesus was "crushed for the evil we did. The punishment, which made us well, was given to him" (Isaiah 53:5). "He accepted the shame" (Hebrews 12:2). He leads us into the presence of God. (From In the Grip of Grace by Max Lucado)

Question: What sin do you need to bring into God's presence today and confess?

<sup>8</sup>Men took him away roughly and unfairly.
He died without children to continue his family.
He was put to death;
he was punished for the sins of my people.

<sup>9</sup>He was buried with wicked men,
and he died with the rich.
He had done nothing wrong,
and he had never lied.

<sup>10</sup>But it was the Lord who decided to crush him and make him suffer.
The Lord made his life a penalty offering,
but he will still see his descendants and live a long life.
He will complete the things the Lord wants him to do.

<sup>11</sup>“After his soul suffers many things,
he will see life and be satisfied.

My good servant will make many people right with God;
he will carry away their sins.

<sup>12</sup>For this reason I will make him a great man among
people,
and he will share in all things with those who are

He willingly gave his life and was treated like a criminal.
But he carried away the sins of many people and asked forgiveness for those who sinned.”

Life Lessons

Isaiah 54:1–55:13

Situation

Isaiah comforted the Israelites by telling them of God's power.

Observation

God is compassionate on those who come to him, but we cannot even begin to understand his ways and thoughts.

Inspiration

We ask for grace, only to find forgiveness already offered. (How did you know I would sin?)

We ask for food, only to find provision already made. (How did you know I would be hungry?)

We ask for guidance, only to find answers in God's ancient story. (How did you know what I would ask?)

God dwells in a different realm. "The foolishness of God is wiser than human wisdom, and the weakness of God is stronger than human strength" (1 Corinthians 1:25). He occupies another dimension. "My thoughts are not like your thoughts. Your ways are not like my ways. Just as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts higher than your thoughts" (Isaiah 55:8–9).

Make special note of the word "like." God's thoughts are not our thoughts, nor are they even like ours. We aren't even in the same neighborhood.

We're thinking, Preserve the body; he's thinking, Save the soul. We dream of a pay raise. He dreams of raising the dead. We avoid pain and seek peace. God uses pain to bring peace. "I'm going to live before I die," we resolve. "Die, so you can live," he instructs. We love what rusts. He loves what endures. We rejoice at our successes. He rejoices at our confessions. We show our children the Nike star with the million-dollar smile and say, "Be like Mike." God points to the crucified carpenter with bloody lips and a torn side and says, "Be like Christ."

Our thoughts are not like God's thoughts. Our ways are not like his ways. He has a different agenda. He dwells in a different dimension. He lives on another plane. And that plane is named in the first phrase of the Lord's prayer, "Our Father in heaven."

People Will Return to Jerusalem

The Lord says, “Sing, Jerusalem.
You are like a woman who never gave birth to children.
Start singing and shout for joy.
You never felt the pain of giving birth,
but you will have more children than the woman who has a husband.

<sup>2</sup>Make your tent bigger;
stretch it out and make it wider.

Do not hold back.
Make the ropes longer

Your children will take over other nations, and they will again live in cities that once were destroyed.

<sup>4</sup>“Don’t be afraid, because you will not be ashamed.
Don’t be embarrassed, because you will not be disgraced.

You will forget the shame you felt earlier;
you will not remember the shame you felt when you lost your husband.

<sup>5</sup>The God who made you is like your husband.
His name is the Lord All-Powerful.
The Holy One of Israel is the one who saves you.

He is called the God of all the earth.

<sup>6</sup>You were like a woman whose husband left her,
and you were very sad.

You were like a wife who married young and then her husband left her.

But the Lord called you to be his,”
says your God.

<sup>7</sup>God says, “I left you for a short time, but with great kindness I will bring you back again.

<sup>8</sup>I became very angry and hid from you for a time, but I will show you mercy with kindness forever,” says the Lord who saves you.

<sup>9</sup>The Lord says, “This day is like the time of Noah to
me.

I promised then that I would never flood the world
again.

In the same way, I promise I will not be angry with you or punish you again.

<sup>10</sup>The mountains may disappear,
and the hills may come to an end,
but my love will never disappear;
my promise of peace will not come to an end,”
says the Lord who shows mercy to you.

<sup>11</sup>“You poor city. Storms have hurt you, and you have not been comforted.
But I will rebuild you with turquoise stones,
and I will build your foundations with sapphires.

<sup>12</sup>I will use rubies to build your walls and shining jewels for the gates and precious jewels for all your outer walls.

<sup>13</sup>All your children will be taught by the Lord, and they will have much peace.

<sup>14</sup>I will build you using fairness.
You will be safe from those who would hurt you,
so you will have nothing to fear.
Nothing will come to make you afraid.

<sup>15</sup>I will not send anyone to attack you,
and you will defeat those who do attack you.

<sup>16</sup>“See, I made the blacksmith.
He fans the fire to make it hotter,
and he makes the kind of tool he wants.
In the same way I have made the destroyer to destroy.

<sup>17</sup>So no weapon that is used against you will defeat
you.

You will show that those who speak against you are wrong.

These are the good things my servants receive.
Their victory comes from me,” says the Lord.

God Gives What Is Good

The Lord says, “All you who are thirsty, come and drink.

Those of you who do not have money,
come, buy and eat!

Come buy wine and milk without money and without cost.

<sup>2</sup>Why spend your money on something that is not real food?

Why work for something that doesn't really satisfy
you?

Listen closely to me, and you will eat what is good;
your soul will enjoy the rich food that satisfies.

<sup>3</sup>Come to me and listen;
listen to me so you may live.

I will make an agreement with you that will last forever.

I will give you the blessings I promised to David.

... I can't tell you how many times I've expected to hit the bottom only to find myself suspended in midair, secured by a pair of nail-pierced hands. —Max Lucado (*A Gentle

Christ Through the Bible

Jesus: The Invitation

You are tired.

You are weary.

Weary of being slapped by the waves of broken dreams.

Weary of being stepped on and run over in the endless marathon to the top.

Weary of trusting in someone only to have that trust returned in an envelope with no return address.

Weary of staring into the future and seeing only futility.

What steals our childhood zeal? ...

It is this weariness that makes the words of the carpenter so compelling. Listen to them. "Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened and I will give you rest."

Come to me. ... The invitation is to come to him. Why him?

He offers the invitation as a penniless rabbi in an oppressed nation. He has no connections with the authorities in Rome. He hasn't written a best-seller or earned a diploma.

Yet, he dares to look into the leathery faces of farmers and tired faces of housewives and offer rest. He looks into the disillusioned eyes of a bartender and makes this paradoxical promise: "Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls."

The people came. They came out of the cul-de-sacs and office complexes of their existence and he gave them, not religion, not doctrine, not systems, but rest.

As a result, they called him Lord.

As a result, they called him Savior.

Not so much because of what he said, but because of what he did.

What he did on the cross during six hours, one Friday. (From Six Hours One Friday by Max Lucado)
For more on “Christ Through the Bible.”

<sup>4</sup>I made David a witness of my power for all nations, a ruler and commander of many nations.

<sup>5</sup>You will call for nations that you don't yet know.

And these nations that do not know you will run to
you

because of the Lord your God,
because of the Holy One of Israel who honors you.”

<sup>6</sup>So you should look for the Lord before it is too late;
you should call to him while he is near.

<sup>7</sup>The wicked should stop doing wrong,
and they should stop their evil thoughts.

They should return to the Lord so he may have mercy on them.

They should come to our God, because he will freely forgive them.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord says, “My thoughts are not like your thoughts.

Your ways are not like my ways.

<sup>9</sup>Just as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts higher than your thoughts.

<sup>10</sup>Rain and snow fall from the sky and don't return without watering the ground.
They cause the plants to sprout and grow, making seeds for the farmer and bread for the people.

<sup>11</sup>The same thing is true of the words I speak.

They will not return to me empty.
They make the things happen that I want to happen,
and they succeed in doing what I send them to do.

<sup>12</sup>“So you will go out with joy and be led out in peace.

The mountains and hills will burst into song before
you,
and all the trees in the fields will clap their hands.

<sup>13</sup>Large cypress trees will grow where thornbushes were.

Myrtle trees will grow where weeds were.
These things will be a reminder of the Lord’s promise, and this reminder will never be destroyed.”

Life Lessons

Isaiah 56:1–57:21

Situation

Isaiah reported God's message to Israel. He exhorted the people to observe God's laws concerning the Sabbath.

Observation

God gives peace and satisfaction to those who love him, but he punishes the wicked for their sins.

Inspiration

Read what Jesus did during the last Sabbath of his life... Looks like Jesus was quiet that day.

“Wait a minute. That's it?” That's it.

“You mean with one week left to live, Jesus observed the Sabbath?” As far as we can tell.

“You mean with all those apostles to train and people to teach, he took a day to rest and worship?” Apparently so.

“You're telling me that Jesus thought worship was more important than work?” That's exactly what I'm telling you.

For such is the purpose of the Sabbath. And such was the practice of Jesus. “On the Sabbath day he went to the synagogue, as he always did, and stood up to read.” Should we do any less?

If Jesus found time in the midst of a racing agenda to stop the rush and sit in the silence, do you think we could, too?

Ahh, I know what you're thinking. I can see it in your face. There you are. Looking at me from my monitor with dubious eyes and furrowed brows. “But, Max, Sunday is the only day I have to get caught up at the office.” Or, “Good idea, Max, but have you heard our preacher? He provides the rest all right—I fall asleep! But the worship?” Or, “That’s easy for you to say, Max. You’re a preacher. If you were a housewife like me and had four kids like mine....” It’s not easy to slow down.

It’s almost as if activity is a sign of maturity. After all, isn’t there a beatitude which reads, “Blessed are the busy”? No, there isn’t. But there is a verse which summarizes many lives: “Man is a mere phantom as he goes to and fro: He bustles about, but only in vain; he heaps up wealth, not knowing who will get it” [Psalm 39:6].

Does that sound like your life? Are you so seldom in one place that your friends regard you as a phantom? Are you so constantly on the move that your family is beginning to question your existence? Do you take pride in your frenzy at the expense of your faith?

Are [these] words yours? “I don’t remember how to stop.” If so, you are headed for a crash.

Slow down. If God commanded it, you need it. If Jesus modeled it, you need it. God still provides the manna. Trust him. Take a day to say no to work and yes to worship. (From And the Angels Were Silent by Max Lucado)

Application

Do you need to slow down? Why not leave

Sunday agenda-free? Do something you find relaxing. Take the day off. Take a nap. Read a book. Spend it doing ... nothing.

All Nations Will Obey the Lord

This is what the Lord says:

“Give justice to all people,
and do what is right,
because my salvation will come to you soon.
Soon everyone will know that I do what is right.

<sup>2</sup>The person who obeys the law about the Sabbath will be blessed,
and the person who does no evil
will be blessed.”

<sup>3</sup>Foreigners who have joined the Lord should not say,
“The Lord will not accept me with his people.”

The eunuch should not say, “Because I cannot have children, the Lord will not accept me.”

<sup>4</sup>This is what the Lord says:

“The eunuchs should obey the law about the Sabbath and do what I want
and keep my agreement.

<sup>5</sup>If they do, I will make their names remembered within my Temple and its walls.

It will be better for them than children.
I will give them a name that will last forever,
that will never be forgotten.

<sup>6</sup>Foreigners will join the Lord to worship him and love him,

to serve him,
to obey the law about the Sabbath,
and to keep my agreement.

<sup>7</sup>I will bring these people to my holy mountain and give them joy in my house of prayer.

The offerings and sacrifices
they place on my altar will please me, because my Temple will be called a house for prayer for people from all nations.”

<sup>8</sup>The Lord God says—

he who gathers the Israelites that were forced to leave their country:

“I will bring together other people to join those who are already gathered.”

Israel's Leaders Are Evil

<sup>9</sup>All you animals of the field, all you animals of the forest, come to eat.

<sup>10</sup>The leaders who are to guard the people are blind;
they don't know what they are doing.

All of them are like quiet dogs that don't know how to bark.

They lie down and dream
and love to sleep.

<sup>11</sup>They are like hungry dogs that are never satisfied.

They are like shepherds who don't know what they are doing.

They all have gone their own way;
all they want to do is satisfy themselves.
<sup>12</sup>They say, "Come, let's drink some wine;
let's drink all the beer we want.
And tomorrow we will do this again,
or, maybe we will have an even better time."

Israel Does Not Follow God

Those who are right with God may die, but no one pays attention.

Good people are taken away,
but no one understands.

Those who do right are being taken away from evil <sup>2</sup>and are given peace.

Those who live as God wants find rest in death.

<sup>3</sup>“Come here, you magicians!

Come here, you sons of prostitutes and those who take part in adultery!

<sup>4</sup>Of whom are you making fun?

Whom are you insulting?

At whom do you stick out your tongue?

You turn against God,
and you are liars.

<sup>5</sup>You have sexual relations under every green tree to worship your gods.

You kill children in the ravines and sacrifice them in the rocky places.

<sup>6</sup>You take the smooth rocks from the ravines as your portion.

You pour drink offerings on them to worship them,
and you give grain offerings to them.

Do you think this makes me want to show you mercy?

<sup>7</sup>You make your bed on every hill and mountain, and there you offer sacrifices.

<sup>8</sup>You have hidden your idols behind your doors and doorposts.

You have left me, and you have uncovered yourself.
You have pulled back the covers and climbed into bed.
You have made an agreement with those whose beds
you love,
and you have looked at their nakedness.

<sup>9</sup>You use your oils and perfumes to look nice for Molech.

You have sent your messengers to faraway lands;
you even tried to send them to the place of the dead.

<sup>10</sup>You were tired from doing these things, but you never gave up.

You found new strength,
so you did not quit.

<sup>11</sup>“Whom were you so afraid of that you lied to me?

You have not remembered me
or even thought about me.

I have been quiet for a long time.

Is that why you are not afraid of me?

<sup>12</sup>I will tell about your ‘goodness’ and what you do,
and those things will do you no good.

<sup>13</sup>When you cry out for help,
let the gods you have gathered help you.

The wind will blow them all away;
just a puff of wind will take them away.

But the person who depends on me will receive the
land
and own my holy mountain.”

The Lord Will Save His People

<sup>14</sup>Someone will say, “Build a road! Build a road!
Prepare the way!

Make the way clear for my people.”

<sup>15</sup>And this is the reason: God lives forever and is holy.
He is high and lifted up.

He says, “I live in a high and holy place,
but I also live with people who are sad and humble.
I give new life to those who are humble and to those whose hearts are broken.

<sup>16</sup>I will not accuse forever,
nor will I always be angry,
because then human life would grow weak.
Human beings, whom I created, would die.

<sup>17</sup>I was angry because they were dishonest in order to make money.

I punished them and turned away from them in anger,
but they continued to do evil.

<sup>18</sup>I have seen what they have done, but I will heal them.
I will guide them and comfort them and those who felt sad for them.

They will all praise me.

<sup>19</sup>I will give peace, real peace, to those far and near,
and I will heal them,” says the Lord.

<sup>20</sup>But evil people are like the angry sea, which cannot rest,
whose waves toss up waste and mud.

<sup>21</sup>“There is no peace for evil people,” says my God.

Life Lessons

Isaiah 58:1–59:21

Situation

God ordered Isaiah to remind the people of their rebellion. Even their efforts to be religious had selfish motivations.

Observation

Seek God with pure motives. Do good works because you love God, not because others expect them.

Inspiration

Holy living demands constant examination of our actions and motives. But in doing so we must guard against the tendency to focus totally on self, which is easy to do—especially as the culture’s egocentric values invade the church. In fact, this self-indulgent character of our times is a major reason the topic of true holiness is so neglected today by Christian teachers, leaders, writers, and speakers. We have, perhaps unconsciously, substituted a secularized self-centered message in its place. For when we speak of “victory” in the Christian life, we all-too-often mean personal victory—how God will conquer sin FOR US (at least those sins we would like to be rid of—those extra ten pounds, that annoying habit, maybe a quick temper). This reflects not only egocentricity but an incorrect view of sin.

... The Christian life begins with obedience, depends on obedience, and results in obedience. We can't escape it. The orders from our commander-in-chief are plain: "Whoever has my commandments and obeys them, he is the one who loves me."

Loving God—really loving Him—means living out His commands no matter what the cost. (From Loving God by Charles Colson)

Application

The next time you sing at church, during the second stanza ask yourself, "Why am I doing this? Why am I here? Why am I singing? Why did I bring my Bible?" Examine your motives!

Exploration

Obey from Your Heart—Isaiah 1:11–20; Hosea 6:6; Joel 2:12–13; Amos 5:23–24; Matthew 15:6–9.

If a society deletes God from the human equation, what sandbags will they stack against the swelling tide of barbarism and hedonism? —Max Lucado (In the Grip of Grace)

How to Honor God

The Lord says, “Shout out loud. Don’t hold back.
Shout out loud like a trumpet.

Tell my people what they have done against their God;
tell the family of Jacob about their sins.

<sup>2</sup>They still come every day looking for me and want to learn my ways.

They act just like a nation that does what is right, that obeys the commands of its God.

They ask me to judge them fairly.
They want God to be near them.

<sup>3</sup>They say, “To honor you we had special days when we gave up eating,
but you didn’t see.

We humbled ourselves to honor you,
but you didn’t notice.”

But the Lord says, “You do what pleases yourselves on these special days,
and you are unfair to your workers.

<sup>4</sup>On these special days when you do not eat, you argue and fight
and hit each other with your fists.

You cannot do these things as you do now and believe your prayers are heard in heaven.

<sup>5</sup>This kind of special day is not what I want.

This is not the way I want people to be sorry for what they have done.

I don't want people just to bow their heads like a plant and wear rough cloth and lie in ashes to show their sadness.

This is what you do on your special days when you do not eat,

but do you think this is what the Lord wants?

<sup>6</sup>“I will tell you the kind of special day I want:

Free the people you have put in prison unfairly and undo their chains.

Free those to whom you are unfair and stop their hard labor.

<sup>7</sup>Share your food with the hungry and bring poor, homeless people into your own homes.

When you see someone who has no clothes, give him
yours,

and don't refuse to help your own relatives.

<sup>8</sup>Then your light will shine like the dawn, and your wounds will quickly heal.

Your God will walk before you,
and the glory of the Lord will protect you from behind.

<sup>9</sup>Then you will call out, and the Lord will answer.

You will cry out, and he will say, ‘Here I am.’

“If you stop making trouble for others, if you stop using cruel words and pointing your finger
at others,

<sup>10</sup>if you feed those who are hungry and take care of the needs of those who are troubled,
then your light will shine in the darkness,
and you will be bright like sunshine at noon.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord will always lead you.
He will satisfy your needs in dry lands and give strength to your bones.
You will be like a garden that has much water,
like a spring that never runs dry.

<sup>12</sup>Your people will rebuild the old cities that are now in ruins;
you will rebuild their foundations.
You will be known for repairing the broken places and for rebuilding the roads and houses.

<sup>13</sup>“You must obey God’s law about the Sabbath and not do what pleases yourselves on that holy day.
You should call the Sabbath a joyful day and honor it as the Lord’s holy day.
You should honor it by not doing whatever you please nor saying whatever you please on that day.

<sup>14</sup>Then you will find joy in the Lord, and I will carry you to the high places above the earth.
I will let you eat the crops of the land your ancestor Jacob had.”

The Lord has said these things.

The Evil That People Do

Surely the Lord's power is enough to save you.
He can hear you when you ask him for help.

<sup>2</sup>It is your evil that has separated
you from your God.

Your sins cause him to turn away from you,
so he does not hear you.

<sup>3</sup>With your hands you have killed others,
and with your fingers you have done wrong.
With your lips you have lied,
and with your tongue you say evil things.

<sup>4</sup>People take each other to court unfairly, and no one tells the truth in arguing his case.
They accuse each other falsely and tell lies.
They cause trouble and create more evil.

<sup>5</sup>They hatch evil like eggs from poisonous snakes.
If you eat one of those eggs, you will die, and if you break one open, a poisonous snake comes out.

People tell lies as they would spin a spider's web.

<sup>6</sup>The webs they make cannot be used for clothes;
you can't cover yourself with those webs.

The things they do are evil,
and they use their hands to hurt others.

<sup>7</sup>They eagerly run to do evil,
and they are always ready to kill innocent people.
They think evil thoughts.

Everywhere they go they cause ruin and destruction.

<sup>8</sup>They don't know how to live in peace, and there is no fairness in their lives.

They are dishonest.
Anyone who lives as they live will never have peace.

Israel's Sin Brings Trouble

<sup>9</sup>Fairness has gone far away;
goodness is nowhere to be found.

We wait for the light, but there is only darkness now.
We hope for a bright light, but all we have is darkness.

<sup>10</sup>We are like the blind feeling our way along a wall.
We feel our way as if we had no eyes.

In the brightness of day we trip as if it were night.
We are like dead men among the strong.

<sup>11</sup>All of us growl like the bears.
We call out sadly like the doves.
We look for justice, but there isn't any.
We want to be saved, but salvation is far away.

<sup>12</sup>We have done many wrong things against our God;
our sins show we are wrong.

We know we have turned against God;
we know the evil things we have done:

<sup>13</sup>sinning and rejecting the Lord,
turning away from our God,
planning to hurt others and to disobey God,
planning and speaking lies.

<sup>14</sup>So we have driven away justice,
and we have kept away from what is right.

Truth is not spoken in the streets;
what is honest is not allowed to enter the city.

<sup>15</sup>Truth cannot be found anywhere, and people who refuse to do evil are attacked.
The Lord looked and could not find any justice,
and he was displeased.

<sup>16</sup>He could not find anyone to help the people, and he was surprised that there was no one to help.
So he used his own power to save the people;
his own goodness gave him strength.

<sup>17</sup>He covered himself with goodness like armor.
He put the helmet of salvation on his head.
He put on the clothes of punishment and wrapped himself in the coat of his strong love.

<sup>18</sup>The Lord will pay back his enemies for what they have done.

He will show his anger to those who were against him;
he will punish the people in faraway places as they deserve.

<sup>19</sup>Then people from the west will fear the Lord, and people from the east will fear his glory.
The Lord will come quickly like a fast-flowing river, driven by the breath of the Lord.

<sup>20</sup>“Then a Savior will come to Jerusalem and to the people of Jacob who have turned from sin,”
says the Lord.

<sup>21</sup>The Lord says, “This is my agreement with these people:
My Spirit and my words that I give you will never leave you or your children or your grandchildren, now and forever.”

Life Lessons

Isaiah 60:1–61:11

Situation

Isaiah continued to prophesy. He reported the deliverance that the Messiah would bring to Israel.

Observation

Because of God's great love for his people, he would send a Savior to comfort, heal, and set his people free. He would clothe his people with goodness and salvation (61:10).

Inspiration

We eat our share of forbidden fruit. We say what we shouldn't say. Go where we shouldn't go. Pluck fruit from trees we shouldn't touch.

And when we do, the door opens, and the shame tumbles in. And we hide. We sew fig leaves. Flimsy excuses. See-through justifications. We cover ourselves in good works and good deeds, but one gust of the wind of truth, and we are naked again—stark naked in our own failure.

So what does God do? Exactly what he did for our parents in the garden. He sheds innocent blood. He offers the life of his Son. And from the scene of the sacrifice the Father takes a robe—not the skin of an animal—but the robe of righteousness. And does he throw it in our direction and tell us to shape up? No, he dresses us himself. He dresses us with himself. “You were all baptized into Christ, and so you were all clothed with Christ” (Galatians 3:26–27).

The robing is his work, not ours. Did you note the inactivity of Adam and Eve? They did nothing. Absolutely nothing. They didn't request the sacrifice; they didn't think of the sacrifice; they didn't even dress themselves. They were passive in the process. So are we. "You have been saved by grace through believing. You did not save yourselves; it was a gift from God. It was not the result of your own efforts, so you cannot brag about it. God has made us what we are" (Ephesians 2:8-10).

We hide. He seeks. We bring sin. He brings a sacrifice. We try fig leaves. He brings the robe of righteousness. And we are left to sing the song of the prophet: "He has covered me with clothes of salvation and wrapped me with a coat of goodness, like a bridegroom dressed for his wedding, like a bride dressed in jewels" (Isaiah 61:10).

God has clothed us. He protects us with a cloak of love. Can you look back over your life and see instances of God's protection? I can too.

(From A Love Worth Giving by Max Lucado)

Jerusalem Will Be Great

“Jerusalem, get up and shine, because your light has come, and the glory of the Lord shines on you.

<sup>2</sup>Darkness now covers the earth;
deep darkness covers her people.

But the Lord shines on you,
and people see his glory around you.

<sup>3</sup>Nations will come to your light;
kings will come to the brightness of your sunrise.

<sup>4</sup>“Look around you.

People are gathering and coming to you.
Your sons are coming from far away,
and your daughters are coming with them.

<sup>5</sup>When you see them, you will shine with happiness;
you will be excited and full of joy, because the wealth of the nations across the seas will be given to you;

the riches of the nations will come to you.

<sup>6</sup>Herds of camels will cover your land, young camels from Midian and Ephah.
People will come from Sheba bringing gold and incense, and they will sing praises to the Lord.

<sup>7</sup>All the sheep from Kedar will be given to you;

the sheep from Nebaioth will be brought to you.
They will be pleasing sacrifices on my altar,
and I will make my beautiful Temple more beautiful.

<sup>8</sup>“The people are returning to you like clouds, like doves flying to their nests.

<sup>9</sup>People in faraway lands are waiting for me.
The great trading ships will come first,
bringing your children from faraway lands,
and with them silver and gold.
This will honor the Lord your God,
the Holy One of Israel,
who does wonderful things for you.

<sup>10</sup>“Jerusalem, foreigners will rebuild your walls, and their kings will serve you.
When I was angry, I hurt you,
but now I want to be kind to you and comfort you.

<sup>11</sup>Your gates will always be open;
they will not be closed day or night
so the nations can bring their wealth to you,
and their kings will be led to you.

<sup>12</sup>The nation or kingdom that doesn't serve you will be destroyed;
it will be completely ruined.

<sup>13</sup>“The great trees of Lebanon will be given to you:
its pine, fir, and cypress trees together.
You will use them to make my Temple beautiful, and I will give much honor to this place where I rest my feet.

<sup>14</sup>The people who have hurt you will bow down to you;

those who hated you will bow down at your feet.
They will call you The City of the Lord,
Jerusalem, city of the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>15</sup>“You have been hated and left empty with no one passing through.
But I will make you great from now on;
you will be a place of happiness forever and ever.

<sup>16</sup>You will be given what you need from the nations, like a child drinking milk from its mother.
Then you will know that it is I, the Lord, who saves
you.

You will know that the Powerful One of Jacob protects
you.

<sup>17</sup>I will bring you gold in place of bronze, silver in place of iron,
bronze in place of wood,
iron in place of rocks.
I will change your punishment into peace,
and you will be ruled by what is right.

<sup>18</sup>There will be no more violence in your country;
it will not be ruined or destroyed.
You will name your walls Salvation and your gates Praise.

<sup>19</sup>The sun will no longer be your light during the day nor will the brightness from the moon be your light,
because the Lord will be your light forever,
and your God will be your glory.

<sup>20</sup>Your sun will never set again, and your moon will never be dark,

because the Lord will be your light forever,
and your time of sadness will end.

<sup>21</sup>All of your people will do what is right.
They will receive the earth forever.
They are the plant I have planted,
the work of my own hands
to show my greatness.

<sup>22</sup>The smallest family will grow to a thousand.
The least important of you will become a powerful nation.

I am the Lord,
and when it is time, I will make these things happen
quickly.”

The Lord's Message of Freedom

The Lord God has put his Spirit in me, because the Lord has appointed me to tell the good news to the poor.

He has sent me to comfort those whose hearts are broken,

to tell the captives they are free,
and to tell the prisoners they are released.

<sup>2</sup>He has sent me to announce the time when the Lord will show his kindness and the time when our God will punish evil people.

He has sent me to comfort all those who are sad

<sup>3</sup>and to help the sorrowing people of Jerusalem.

I will give them a crown to replace their ashes,
and the oil of gladness to replace their sorrow,
and clothes of praise to replace their spirit of sadness.

Then they will be called Trees of Goodness, trees planted by the Lord to show his greatness.

<sup>4</sup>They will rebuild the old ruins and restore the places destroyed long ago.

They will repair the ruined cities that were destroyed for so long.

<sup>5</sup>My people, foreigners will come to tend your sheep.
People from other countries will tend your fields and vineyards.

<sup>6</sup>You will be called priests of the Lord;
you will be named the servants of our God.
You will have riches from all the nations on earth, and you will take pride in them.

<sup>7</sup>Instead of being ashamed, my people will receive twice as much wealth.

Instead of being disgraced, they will be happy because of what they receive.

They will receive a double share of the land,
so their happiness will continue forever.

<sup>8</sup>“I, the Lord, love justice.

I hate stealing and everything that is wrong.

I will be fair and give my people what they should have,

and I will make an agreement with them that will continue forever.

<sup>9</sup>Everyone in all nations will know the children of my people, and their children will be known among the nations.

Anyone who sees them will know that they are people the Lord has blessed.”

When asked to describe the width of his love, he stretched one hand to the right and the other to the left and had them nailed in that position so you would know he died loving you. —Max Lucado (He Chose the Nails)

<sup>10</sup>The Lord makes me very happy;

all that I am rejoices in my God.

He has covered me with clothes of salvation and wrapped me with a coat of goodness, like a bridegroom dressed for his wedding,
like a bride dressed in jewels.

<sup>11</sup>The earth causes plants to grow, and a garden causes the seeds planted in it to grow.

In the same way the Lord God will make goodness and praise come from all the nations.

New Life in Christ

The Lord ... has covered me with clothes of salvation and wrapped me with a coat of goodness.

—Isaiah 61:10

Seeing Ourselves as God Sees Us

Look long enough into the eyes of our Savior and, there, too, you will see a bride. Dressed in fine linen. Clothed in pure grace. From the wreath in her hair to the clouds at her feet, she is royal; she is the princess. She is the bride. His bride. Walking toward him, she is not yet with him. But he sees her, he awaits her, he longs for her.

“Who could bear to live without her?” you hear him whisper.

And who is that bride? Who is this beauty who occupies the heart of Jesus?

It is not nature. He loves his creation and creation groans to be with him, but he never called creation his bride.

It is not his angels. His angels are ever present to worship and serve him, but he never called the heavenly beings his bride.

Then who? Who is this bride about whom Jesus speaks and for whom Jesus longs? Who is this maiden who has captured the heart of God’s son?

You are. You have captured the heart of God. “As a man rejoices over his new wife, so your God will rejoice over you” (Isaiah 62:5).

The challenge is to remember that. To meditate on it. To focus on it. To allow his love to change the way you look at you.

Do you ever feel unnoticed? New clothes and styles may help for a while. But if you want permanent change, learn to see yourself as God sees you: “He has covered me with clothes of salvation and wrapped me with a coat of goodness, like a bridegroom dressed for his wedding, like a bride dressed in jewels” (Isaiah 61:10). (From When Christ Comes by Max Lucado)

Isaiah 62:1–64:12

Situation

Isaiah prophesied that God would one day be proud of his people—a day to long for, prepare for, and pray for. Recollecting God’s past favors and faithfulness, Isaiah passionately pleaded for God’s compassion and mercy. He asked that Israel’s enemies be punished.

Observation

When Jesus Christ came and provided a way for salvation, God would exalt his people. God would see his children as people without sin because Jesus paid their penalty.

Inspiration

The holiness we are to exhibit is not our own, but the holiness of Christ in us. We are not holy, and we will not become holy humans. Christ in us can manifest His holiness if we will yield our flesh to Him. This is not a human operation; it is a spiritual one. Jesus installs His holiness in us by grace. Not a once-for-all-time transaction, this is a daily, moment-by-moment striving to live more by the Spirit and less by the flesh.

... A friend bought his daughter a new car, but it must sit in the garage until she reaches the legal driving age. Until her sixteenth birthday she only has partial use of the car, when accompanied by an adult. Similarly, holiness is like a gift already purchased for us (by the blood of Christ), but we cannot have full use of it until a certain date in the future (our glorification).

Becoming holy is a process which includes God's part and our part. On one hand, our part is to stay out of God's part—to yield, to surrender, to stop seeking God on our own terms. But our part also is to obey. It is to enter His rehabilitation program.

When you put yourself under a doctor's care, he cannot help you if you don't follow his instructions. As the patient surrenders his own good ideas and obeys the doctor's instruction, he becomes well. The same is true in sanctification. If you and I want to be made holy, then we must willingly surrender ourselves to His care, and we must also actively obey His instructions.

We have no more power to make ourselves holy than a dying man has to save himself. We are weak and tired, and we cannot offer much help. However, we can submit to His rehabilitation program—sanctification. The key to our part is faith—to seek Him in obedience. (From Walking with Christ in the Details of Life by Patrick Morley)

Application

Are you working for God's kingdom? Are you active in spreading the gospel of Jesus Christ? Do you tell others what God has done for you? All these things are done by those who desire to see God's kingdom come. Be an active member of God's kingdom.

New Jerusalem

Because I love Jerusalem, I will continue to speak for her;

for Jerusalem's sake I will not stop speaking until her goodness shines like a bright light, until her salvation burns bright like a flame.

<sup>2</sup>Jerusalem, the nations will see your goodness, and all kings will see your glory.

Then you will have a new name, which the Lord himself will give you.

<sup>3</sup>You will be like a beautiful crown in the Lord's hand, like a king's crown in your God's hand.

<sup>4</sup>You will never again be called the People that God Left, nor your land the Land that God Destroyed.

You will be called the People God Loves, and your land will be called the Bride of God, because the Lord loves you.

And your land will belong to him as a bride belongs to her husband.

<sup>5</sup>As a young man marries a woman, so your children will marry your land.

As a man rejoices over his new wife, so your God will rejoice over you.

<sup>6</sup>Jerusalem, I have put guards on the walls to watch. They must not be silent day or night.

You people who remind the Lord of your needs in prayer should never be quiet.

<sup>7</sup>You should not stop praying to him until he builds up Jerusalem and makes it a city all people will praise.

<sup>8</sup>The Lord has made a promise,
and by his power he will keep his promise.

He said, "I will never again give your grain
as food to your enemies.

I will not let your enemies drink the new wine that you have worked to make.

<sup>9</sup>The person who gathers food will eat it,
and he will praise the Lord.

The person who gathers the grapes will drink the wine
in the courts of my Temple."

<sup>10</sup>Go through, go through the gates!

Make the way ready for the people.

Build up, build up the road!

Move all the stones off the road.

Raise the banner as a sign for the people.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord is speaking to all the faraway lands:

"Tell the people of Jerusalem,

'Look, your Savior is coming.

He is bringing your reward to you;

he is bringing his payment with him.'"

<sup>12</sup>His people will be called the Holy People, the Saved People of the Lord, and Jerusalem will be called the City God Wants,

the City God Has Not Rejected.

The Lord Judges His People

Who is this coming from Edom,
from the city of Bozrah, dressed in red?
Who is this dressed in fine clothes and marching forward with his great power?
He says, “I, the Lord, speak what is right.
I have the power to save you.”

<sup>2</sup>Someone asks, “Why are your clothes bright red as if you had walked on the grapes to make wine?”

<sup>3</sup>The Lord answers, “I have walked in the winepress alone,

and no one among the nations helped me.
I was angry and walked on the nations and crushed them because of my anger.
Blood splashed on my clothes,
and I stained all my clothing.

<sup>4</sup>I chose a time to punish people, and the time has come for me to save.

<sup>5</sup>I looked around, but I saw no one to help me.
I was surprised that no one supported me.
So I used my own power to save my people;
my own anger supported me.

<sup>6</sup>While I was angry, I walked on the nations.
In my anger I punished them and poured their blood on the ground.”

The Lord's Kindness to His People

<sup>7</sup>I will tell about the Lord's kindness and praise him for everything he has done.

I will praise the Lord for the many good things he has given us

and for his goodness to the people of Israel.

He has shown great mercy to us and has been very kind to us.

<sup>8</sup>He said, "These are my people;
my children will not lie to me."

So he saved them.

<sup>9</sup>When they suffered, he suffered also.

He sent his own angel to save them.

Because of his love and kindness, he saved them.

Since long ago he has picked them up and carried
them.

<sup>10</sup>But they turned against him and made his Holy Spirit very sad.

So he became their enemy,
and he fought against them.

<sup>11</sup>But then his people remembered what happened long ago,

in the days of Moses and the Israelites with him.

Where is the Lord who brought the people through the sea,

with the leaders of his people?

Where is the one who put his Holy Spirit among them,

<sup>12</sup>who led Moses by the right hand with his wonderful power, who divided the water before them
to make his name famous forever, <sup>13</sup>who led the people through the deep waters?
Like a horse walking through a desert,
the people did not stumble.
<sup>14</sup>Like cattle that go down to the valley,
the Spirit of the Lord gave the people a place to rest.
Lord, that is the way you led your people,
and by this you won for yourself wonderful fame.

A Prayer for Help

<sup>15</sup>Lord, look down from the heavens and see;
look at us from your wonderful and holy home in heaven.
Where is your strong love and power?
Why are you keeping your love and mercy from us?
<sup>16</sup>You are our father.
Abraham doesn't know we are his children,
and Israel doesn't recognize us.
Lord, you are our father.
You are called "the one who has always saved us."
<sup>17</sup>Lord, why are you making us wander from your ways?
Why do you make us stubborn so that we don't honor
you?
For our sake come back to us,

your servants, who belong to you.

<sup>18</sup>Your people had your Temple for a while, but now our enemies have walked on your holy place and crushed it.

<sup>19</sup>We have become like people you never ruled over,
like those who have never worn your name.

Tear open the skies and come down to earth
so that the mountains will tremble before you.

<sup>2</sup>Like a fire that burns twigs,
like a fire that makes water boil,
let your enemies know who you are.

Then all nations will shake with fear when they see
you.

<sup>3</sup>You have done amazing things we did not expect.

You came down, and the mountains trembled before
you.

<sup>4</sup>From long ago no one has ever heard of a God like
you.

No one has ever seen a God besides you,
who helps the people who trust you.

<sup>5</sup>You help those who enjoy doing good,
who remember how you want them to live.

But you were angry because we sinned.
For a long time we disobeyed,
so how can we be saved?

<sup>6</sup>All of us are dirty with sin.

All the right things we have done are like filthy pieces of cloth.

All of us are like dead leaves,
and our sins, like the wind, have carried us away.

<sup>7</sup>No one worships you or even asks you to help us.

That is because you have turned away from us
and have let our sins destroy us.

<sup>8</sup>But Lord, you are our father.

We are like clay, and you are the potter;

your hands made us all.

<sup>9</sup>Lord, don't continue to be angry with us;
don't remember our sins forever.

Please, look at us,
because we are your people.

<sup>10</sup>Your holy cities are empty like the desert.
Jerusalem is like a desert;
it is destroyed.

<sup>11</sup>Our ancestors worshiped you in our holy and wonderful Temple, but now it has been burned with fire,
and all our precious things have been destroyed.

<sup>12</sup>When you see these things, will you hold yourself back from helping us, Lord?

Will you be silent and punish us beyond what we can stand?

Life Lessons

Isaiah 65:1–66:24

Situation

God answered the prayers of his people. Those who remained faithful would receive life, joy, and peace beyond imagination. The disobedient would receive judgment and death.

Observation

God cannot overlook sin, and he will punish it; but the faithful will know the eternal blessings of God's new kingdom.

Inspiration

While the kingdom is full of righteousness, peace, and joy, it isn't a physical, tangible thing. It isn't something we touch or see...

Furthermore, this kingdom isn't verbal, something we can actually hear with our ears, even though it is powerful...

If that isn't mysterious enough, I should add that while it is unshakable, it isn't visible either!

... How about that! We're supposed to seek something we cannot feel, or hear. And we're expected to embrace something that is intangible, inaudible, and invisible.

... God's kingdom is a synonym for God's rule. Those who choose to live in His kingdom (though still very much alive on Planet Earth) choose to live under His authority.

Maybe a super-simple outline of the Bible will help us understand the definition of God's kingdom even better. But first let me warn you—it's so basic you'll probably sneer!

I. God creates the heavens and earth and all things in them, including mankind. That's Genesis 1 and 2.

II. Mankind, alone, rebels against God's authority. That's covered in Genesis 3.

III. God moves through history to reestablish His authority over all creation. That's Genesis 4 through Revelation 22.

... If you are wondering where you and I fit into this outline, take a look at category three. For centuries God has been at work reestablishing His rulership....

All this leads me to some helpful news, some bad news, and some good news! The kingdom is the invisible realm where God rules as supreme authority. That's helpful news. The bad news is that we, by nature, don't want Him to rule over us; we much prefer to please ourselves. We'd much rather serve mammon (the word means "money") than the Master... . More bad news is this: Most people do serve mammon. Just look around. Who's in charge, God or mammon? What's happening? The mediocre majority have bought into a mammon lifestyle.

Now, the good news. We don't have to live that way. God has given us an avenue of escape. It's called a birth from above... . Not until we experience a spiritual rebirth will we submit to God's rule.

So when I write of God's kingdom, I'm referring to

His right-authority over our lives. Only then can we experience true excellence. (From Living Above the Level of Mediocrity by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Become a citizen in God's kingdom today by trusting in Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior. Reserve your place in his new creation. You can have permanent hope and eternal life! There is no better way to live than by following him.

All People Will Learn About God

The Lord says, “I made myself known to people who were not looking for me.

I was found by those who were not asking me for help.
I said, ‘Here I am. Here I am,’
to a nation that was not praying to me.

<sup>2</sup>All day long I stood ready to accept people who turned against me,
but the way they continue to live is not good;
they do anything they want to do.

<sup>3</sup>Right in front of me
they continue to do things that make me angry.
They offer sacrifices to their gods in their gardens,
and they burn incense on altars of brick.

<sup>4</sup>They sit among the graves and spend their nights waiting to get messages from the dead.

They eat the meat of pigs, and their pots are full of soup made from meat that is wrong to eat.

<sup>5</sup>But they tell others, ‘Stay away, and don’t come near
me.

I am too holy for you.’

These people are like smoke in my nose.

Like a fire that burns all the time, they continue to make me angry.

<sup>6</sup>“Look, it is written here before me.

I will not be quiet; instead, I will repay you in full.

I will punish you for what you have done.

<sup>7</sup>I will punish you for your sins and your ancestors’ sins,”

says the Lord.

“They burned incense to gods on the mountains and shamed me on those hills.

So I will punish them as they should be punished for what they did.”

<sup>8</sup>This is what the Lord says:

“When there is juice left in the grapes,

people do not destroy them,

because they know there is good left in them.

So I will do the same thing to my servants—

I will not completely destroy them.

<sup>9</sup>I will leave some of the children of Jacob, and some of the people of Judah will receive my mountain.

I will choose the people who will live there;

my servants will live there.

<sup>10</sup>Then the Plain of Sharon will be a field for flocks, and the Valley of Achor will be a place for herds to rest.

They will be for the people who want to follow me.

<sup>11</sup>“But as for you who left the Lord, who forgot about my holy mountain, who worship the god Luck,

who hold religious feasts for the god Fate,

<sup>12</sup>I decide your fate, and I will punish you with my sword.

You will all be killed,
because I called you, but you refused to answer.
I spoke to you, but you wouldn't listen.
You did the things I said were evil and chose to do things that displease me.”

<sup>13</sup>So this is what the Lord God says:

“My servants will eat,
but you evil people will be hungry.
My servants will drink,
but you evil people will be thirsty.
My servants will be happy,
but you evil people will be shamed.

<sup>14</sup>My servants will shout for joy because of the goodness of their hearts, but you evil people will cry,
because you will be sad.

You will cry loudly, because your spirits will be broken.

<sup>15</sup>Your names will be like curses to my servants, and the Lord God will put you to death.
But he will call his servants by another name.

<sup>16</sup>People in the land who ask for blessings will ask for them from the faithful God.
And people in the land who make a promise will promise in the name of the faithful God, because the troubles of the past will be forgotten.
I will make those troubles go away.

A New Time Is Coming

<sup>17</sup>“Look, I will make new heavens and a new earth, and people will not remember the past or think about those things.

<sup>18</sup>My people will be happy forever because of the things I will make.
I will make a Jerusalem that is full of joy,
and I will make her people a delight.

<sup>19</sup>Then I will rejoice over Jerusalem and be delighted with my people.
There will never again be heard in that city
the sounds of crying and sadness.

<sup>20</sup>There will never be a baby from that city who lives only a few days.
And there will never be an older person who doesn't have a long life.

A person who lives a hundred years will be called
young,
and a person who dies before he is a hundred will be thought of as a sinner.

<sup>21</sup>In that city those who build houses will live there.
Those who plant vineyards will get to eat their grapes.

<sup>22</sup>No more will one person build a house and someone else live there.

One person will not plant a garden and someone else
eat its fruit.

My people will live a long time,
as trees live long.
My chosen people will live there and enjoy the things they make.

<sup>23</sup>They will never again work for nothing.

They will never again give birth to children who die young.

All my people will be blessed by the Lord;
they and their children will be blessed.

<sup>24</sup>I will provide for their needs before they ask,
and I will help them while they are still asking for help.

<sup>25</sup>Wolves and lambs will eat together in peace.

Lions will eat hay like oxen,
and a snake on the ground will not hurt anyone.

They will not hurt or destroy each other
on all my holy mountain,"

says the Lord.

The Lord Will Judge All Nations

This is what the Lord says:

“Heaven is my throne,
and the earth is my footstool.
So do you think you can build a house for me?
Do I need a place to rest?

<sup>2</sup>My hand made all things.
All things are here because I made them,”
says the Lord.

“These are the people I am pleased with:
those who are not proud or stubborn and who fear my word.

<sup>3</sup>But those people who kill bulls as a sacrifice to me are like those who kill people.

Those who kill sheep as a sacrifice are like those who break the necks of dogs.

Those who give me grain offerings are like those who offer me the blood of pigs.

Those who burn incense are like those who worship idols.

These people choose their own ways, not mine,
and they love the terrible things they do.

<sup>4</sup>So I will choose their punishments, and I will punish them with what they fear most.

This is because I called to them, but they did not listen.

I spoke to them, but they did not hear me.

They did things I said were evil;
they chose to do things I did not like.”

<sup>5</sup>You people who obey the words of the Lord, listen to what he says:
“Your brothers hated you
and turned against you because you followed me.
Your brothers said, ‘Let the Lord be honored so we may see you rejoice,’ but they will be punished.

<sup>6</sup>Listen to the loud noise coming from the city;
hear the noise from the Temple.
It is the Lord punishing his enemies, giving them the punishment they should have.

<sup>7</sup>“A woman does not give birth before she feels the pain;

she does not give birth to a son before the pain starts.

<sup>8</sup>No one has ever heard of that happening;
no one has ever seen that happen.

In the same way no one ever saw a country begin in one day;

no one has ever heard of a new nation beginning in one moment.

But Jerusalem will give birth to her children
just as soon as she feels the birth pains.

<sup>9</sup>In the same way I will not cause pain without allowing something new to be born,” says the Lord.

“If I cause you the pain,
I will not stop you from giving birth to your new nation,” says your God.

<sup>10</sup>“Jerusalem, rejoice.

All you people who love Jerusalem, be happy.

Those of you who felt sad for Jerusalem should now feel happy with her.

<sup>11</sup>You will take comfort from her and be satisfied, as a child is nursed by its mother.

You will receive her good things and enjoy her wealth.”

<sup>12</sup>This is what the Lord says:

“I will give her peace that will flow to her like a river.

The wealth of the nations will come to her like a river overflowing its banks.

Like babies you will be nursed and held in my arms and bounced on my knees.

<sup>13</sup>I will comfort you as a mother comforts her child.

You will be comforted in Jerusalem.”

<sup>14</sup>When you see these things, you will be happy, and you will grow like the grass.

The Lord’s servants will see his power,
but his enemies will see his anger.

<sup>15</sup>Look, the Lord is coming with fire and his armies with clouds of dust.

He will punish those people with his anger;
he will punish them with flames of fire.

<sup>16</sup>The Lord will judge the people with fire, and he will destroy many people with his sword;

he will kill many people.

<sup>17</sup>“These people make themselves holy and pure to go to worship their gods in their gardens. Following each other into their special gardens, they eat the meat of pigs and rats and other hateful things. But they will all be destroyed together,” says the Lord.

<sup>18</sup>“I know they have evil thoughts and do evil things, so I am coming to punish them. I will gather all nations and all people, and they will come together and see my glory.

<sup>19</sup>“I will put a mark on some of the people, and I will send some of these saved people to the nations: to Tarshish, Libya, Lud (the land of archers), Tubal, Greece, and all the faraway lands. These people have never heard about what I have done nor seen my glory. So the saved people will tell the nations about my glory. <sup>20</sup>And they will bring all your fellow Israelites from all nations to my holy mountain in Jerusalem. Your fellow Israelites will come on horses, donkeys, and camels and in chariots and wagons. They will be like the grain offerings that the people bring in clean containers to the Temple,” says the Lord. <sup>21</sup>“And I will choose even some of these people to be priests and Levites,” says the Lord.

<sup>22</sup>“I will make new heavens and the new earth, which will last forever,” says the Lord. “In the same way, your names and your children will always be with me. <sup>23</sup>All people will come to worship me every Sabbath and every New Moon,” says the Lord. <sup>24</sup>“They will go out and see the dead bodies of the people who sinned against me. The worms that eat them will never die, and the fires that burn them will never stop, and everyone will hate to see those bodies.”

The Book of Jeremiah

Introduction

No church would hire Jeremiah. He wouldn't make it past the first interview. Better still, he wouldn't even make it to the interview.

He had little stomach for organized religion. One can hardly blame him. What he saw would nauseate the worst of us.

He saw raging immorality. He saw blatant idolatry. He saw unbridled hypocrisy. He saw priests who sold out to the highest bidder. He saw kings who lived out his worst nightmare.

Were his head a Niagara, it wouldn't generate enough tears for him to weep. Like Job, he cursed the day he was born, and again, you can hardly blame him. It was a rotten day in which to live.

He could see the writing on the Babylonian wall, but you'd think he was the only one who knew how to read.

In the end, the walls fell, just like he said. The Temple was raided, just like he prophesied. And the people were bound like slaves and led into Babylon.

To his credit, he never said, "I told you so."

He remained behind and walked among the ruins and did what he did most of his life. He wept.

About This Book

Author:

The prophet Jeremiah

Date Written:

630–580 B.C.

Key Themes:

- Only God understands the hearts of people.
- God wants to reward righteousness and punish evil.
- Within his timing, God is willing to forgive and restore.
- There is a cost as well as a reward to obedience.

Key Verse:

“Obey me, and I will be your God and you will be my people. Do all that I command so that good things will happen to you” (Jeremiah 7:23).

4. Destruction of Jerusalem 52:1–34

Life Lessons

Jeremiah 1:1–19

Situation

Jeremiah, the weeping prophet, was called to minister to Judah during the reigns of its last five kings: Josiah, Jehoahaz, Jehoiakim, Jehoiachin, and Zedekiah (627–586 B.C.). Other prophets, such as Habakkuk and Zephaniah, ministered during Jeremiah's time.

Observation

Before Jeremiah was conceived God had singled him out for his special work. The prophet had been set apart (or sanctified) for God to use in a particular way.

Inspiration

Both the original Hebrew and Greek terms that are translated “holy” in the Scriptures convey the idea of “separateness” or “separation, a setting apart.” In the Bible, when something is said to be “holy,” that something is set apart for God, like our two words “dedicated” and “consecrated.” The furniture in the tabernacle was “dedicated” furniture; the robes worn by the priests were “consecrated” robes. They were holy, in the sense of being set apart for the purpose, the work, and the glory of God. “Holiness” carries the concept to its maximum expression, indicating a total separation from all that is sinful, impure, and imperfect. Moral wholeness is encompassed within the word “holiness,” meaning that God is absolutely separate from any and all contamination ...

But because the human race is contaminated by sin (thanks to Adam and Eve's fall in the Garden), we, during our earthly lives, cannot ever know complete holiness. At salvation, we are made holy before God by our position in Christ, but we can never know a complete sinless experience during our earthly existence. (From The Mystery of God's Will by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Though you can't live a completely sinless life, are there parts of your lifestyle that do not conform to God's standards of holiness and separation? Ask God to show you his desire for your life. Confess and turn from any thoughts or behaviors that would keep you from living a life set apart for God.

Exploration

Holiness—Ephesians 1:4; Colossians 1:22–23; 3:2; 1 Peter 1:15–16.

Before presenting the grace of God, we must understand the wrath of God. —Max Lucado (In the Grip of Grace)

These are the words of Jeremiah son of Hilkiah. He belonged to the family of priests who lived in the town of Anathoth in the land of Benjamin. <sup>2</sup>The Lord spoke his word to Jeremiah during the thirteenth year that Josiah son of Amon was king of Judah. <sup>3</sup>The Lord also spoke to Jeremiah while Jehoiakim son of Josiah was king of Judah and during the eleven years that Zedekiah son of Josiah was king of Judah. In the fifth month of his last year, the people of Jerusalem were taken away as captives.

The Lord Calls Jeremiah

<sup>4</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me, saying:

<sup>5</sup>“Before I made you in your mother’s womb, I chose you.

Before you were born, I set you apart for a special work.

I appointed you as a prophet to the nations.”

<sup>6</sup>Then I said, “But Lord God, I don’t know how to speak. I am only a boy.”

<sup>7</sup>But the Lord said to me, “Don’t say, ‘I am only a boy.’ You must go everywhere I send you, and you must say everything I tell you to say. <sup>8</sup>Don’t be afraid of anyone, because I am with you to protect you,” says the Lord.

<sup>9</sup>Then the Lord reached out his hand and touched my mouth. He said to me, “See, I am putting my words in your mouth. <sup>10</sup>Today I have put you in charge of nations and kingdoms. You will pull up and tear down, destroy and overthrow, build up and plant.”

Jeremiah Sees Two Visions

<sup>11</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me, saying: “Jeremiah, what do you see?”

I answered, “I see a stick of almond wood.”

<sup>12</sup>The Lord said to me, “You have seen correctly, because I am watching to make sure my words come true.”

<sup>13</sup>The Lord spoke his word to me again: “What do you see?”

I answered, “I see a pot of boiling water, tipping over from the north.”

<sup>14</sup>The Lord said to me, “Disaster will come from the north and strike all the people who live in this country. <sup>15</sup>In a short time I will call all of the people in the northern kingdoms,” said the Lord.

“Those kings will come and set up their thrones near the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem.

They will attack all the city walls around Jerusalem and all the cities in Judah.

<sup>16</sup>And I will announce my judgments against my people because of their evil in turning away from me.

They offered sacrifices to other gods and worshiped idols they had made with their own hands.

<sup>17c</sup>Jeremiah, get ready. Stand up and tell them everything I command you to say. Don't be afraid of the people, or I will give you good reason to be afraid of them. <sup>18</sup>Today I am going to make you a strong city, an iron pillar, a bronze wall. You will be able to stand against everyone in the land: Judah's kings, officers, priests, and the people of the land. <sup>19</sup>They will fight against you, but they will not defeat you, because I am with you to protect you!" says the Lord.

Life Lessons

Jeremiah 2:1–6:30

Situation

Many sinful kings led the people astray in both Judah and the Northern Kingdom. Eventually, the Assyrians captured the Northern Kingdom (722 B.C.). Judah was on the verge of similar punishment from Babylon. Jeremiah began his prophecy against Judah by outlining the people's unfaithfulness to God and urging them to repent or face strong punishment.

Observation

Any severe and prolonged pattern of sin, practiced by people who claim to be devoted to God, invites punishment from God.

Inspiration

Many people will profess faithfulness, but very few will demonstrate it. The virtue of faithfulness is often costly, and few people are willing to pay the price. But for the godly person, faithfulness is an absolutely essential quality of his character, regardless of what it might cost.

What is faithfulness? How do we practice it, and when do we exhibit it in our lives? The biblical word denotes that which is firm and can be counted upon... . The faithful person is one who is dependable, trustworthy, and loyal, who can be depended upon in all of his relationships, and who is absolutely honest and ethical in all of his affairs....

If we are careful to be honest in the little things, we will certainly be careful to be honest in the more important things of life... . If our society needs to reemphasize the virtue of honesty, it certainly needs to place great importance on dependability... .

Reliability is not just a social obligation; it is a spiritual obligation. God is even more concerned about our faithfulness than the person who is relying on us in some particular situation... . The faithful person is not only honest and dependable, but also loyal... .

Whether it be in honesty or dependability or loyalty, faithfulness is frequently a costly virtue. Only the Holy Spirit can enable us to pay that price. (From The Practice of Godliness by Jerry Bridges)

Application

Do you gossip about others? Do you criticize others? Do you lustfully think about someone? Last April, did you cheat the government? Do you work hard on your job, or do you waste time? If you repeat sin again and again, you will experience God's discipline! Consider your life and ask the Holy Spirit to help you get rid of sin.

Backsliding—Psalm 78:56–58; Jeremiah 17:5; Ezekiel 18:24–26; Matthew 5:13; Galatians 5:7–9; Hebrews 5:11–6:12.

Israel Turns from God

The Lord spoke his word to me, saying:<sup>2</sup>“Go and speak to the people of Jerusalem, saying: This is what the Lord says:

‘I remember how faithful you were to me when you were a young nation.

You loved me like a young bride.
You followed me through the desert,
a land that had never been planted.

<sup>3</sup>The people of Israel were holy to the Lord,
like the first fruits from his harvest.
Those who tried to hurt Israel were judged guilty.
Disasters struck them,’” says the Lord.

<sup>4</sup>Hear the word of the Lord, family of Jacob,
all you family groups of Israel.

“I was fair to your ancestors,
so why did they turn away from me?
Your ancestors worshiped useless idols and became useless themselves.

<sup>6</sup>Your ancestors didn’t say,
‘Where is the Lord who brought us out of Egypt?
He led us through the desert,

through a dry and rocky land,
through a dark and dangerous land.
He led us where no one travels or lives.’

<sup>7</sup>I brought you into a fertile land so you could eat its fruit and produce.
But you came and made my land unclean;
you made it a hateful place.

<sup>8</sup>The priests didn’t ask,
‘Where is the Lord?’
The people who know the teachings didn’t know me.
The leaders turned against me.
The prophets prophesied in the name of Baal
and worshiped useless idols.

<sup>9</sup>“So now I will again tell what I have against you,”
says the Lord.

“And I will tell what I have against your grandchildren.
<sup>10</sup>Go across the sea to the island of Cyprus and see.
Send someone to the land of Kedar to look closely.
See if there has ever been anything like this.

<sup>11</sup>Has a nation ever exchanged its gods?
(Of course, its gods are not really gods at all.)
But my people have exchanged their glorious God for idols worth nothing.

<sup>12</sup>Skies, be shocked at the things that have happened and shake with great fear!” says the Lord.

<sup>13</sup>“My people have done two evils:
They have turned away from me,
the spring of living water.
And they have dug their own wells,
which are broken wells that cannot hold water.

<sup>14</sup>Have the people of Israel become slaves?
Have they become like someone who was born a slave?

Why were they taken captive?

<sup>15</sup>Enemies have roared like lions at Israel;
they have growled at Israel.

They have destroyed the land of Israel.

The cities of Israel lie in ruins,
and all the people have left.

<sup>16</sup>The men from the cities of Memphis and Tahpanhes have disgraced you by shaving the top of your head.

<sup>17</sup>Haven't you brought this on yourselves by turning away from the Lord your God when he was leading you in the right way?

<sup>18</sup>It did not help to go to Egypt and drink from the Shihor River.

It did not help to go to Assyria and drink from the Euphrates River.

<sup>19</sup>Your evil will bring punishment to you, and the wrong you have done will teach you a lesson.

Think about it and understand that it is a terrible evil to turn away from the Lord your God.

It is wrong not to fear me," says the Lord God All-Powerful.

<sup>20c</sup>Long ago you refused to obey me as an ox breaks its yoke.

You broke the ropes I used to hold you and said, 'I will not serve you!'

In fact, on every high hill and under every green tree

you lay down as a prostitute.

<sup>21</sup>But I planted you as a special vine, as a very good seed.

How then did you turn into a wild vine that grows bad fruit?

<sup>22</sup>Although you wash yourself with cleanser and use much soap,

I can still see the stain of your guilt,” says the Lord
God.

<sup>23</sup>“How can you say to me, ‘I am not guilty.

I have not worshiped the Baal idols?’?

Look at the things you did in the valley.

Think about what you have done.

You are like a she-camel in mating season that runs from place to place.

<sup>24</sup>You are like a wild donkey that lives in the desert and sniffs the wind at mating time.

At that time who can hold her back?

Any male who chases her will easily catch her;
at mating time, it is easy to find her.

<sup>25</sup>Don’t run until your feet are bare or until your throat is dry.

But you say, ‘It’s no use!

I love those other gods,
and I must chase them!’

<sup>26</sup>“A thief is ashamed when someone catches him stealing.

In the same way, the family of Israel is ashamed—
they, their kings, their officers, their priests, and their prophets.

<sup>27</sup>They say to things of wood, ‘You are my father,’ and to idols of stone, ‘You gave birth to me.’

Those people won’t look at me;

they have turned their backs to me.

But when they get into trouble, they say,

‘Come and save us!’

<sup>28</sup>Where are the idols you made for yourselves?

Let them come and save you when you are in trouble!

People of Judah, you have as many idols

as you have towns!

<sup>29</sup>“Why do you complain to me?

All of you have turned against me,” says the Lord.

<sup>30</sup>“I punished your people, but it did not help.

They didn’t come back when they were punished.

With your swords you killed your prophets like a hungry lion.

<sup>31</sup>“People of Judah, pay attention to the word of the Lord:

Have I been like a desert to the people of Israel or like a dark and dangerous land?

Why do my people say, ‘We are free to wander.

We won’t come to you anymore’?

<sup>32</sup>A young woman does not forget her jewelry, and a bride does not forget the decorations for her dress.

But my people have forgotten me for more days than can be counted.

<sup>33</sup>You really know how to chase after love.
Even the worst women can learn evil ways from you.

<sup>34</sup>Even on your clothes you have the blood of poor and innocent people, but they weren't thieves you caught breaking in.
You do all these things,

<sup>35</sup>but you say, 'I am innocent.
God is not angry with me.'
But I will judge you guilty of lying, because you say, 'I have not sinned.'

<sup>36</sup>It is so easy for you to change your mind.
Even Egypt will let you down,
as Assyria let you down.

<sup>37</sup>You will eventually leave that place with your hands on your head, like captives.
You trusted those countries,
but you will not be helped by them,
because the Lord has rejected them.

Judah Is Unfaithful

“If a man divorces his wife and she leaves him and marries another man, should her first husband come back to her again?
If he went back to her, wouldn't the land become completely unclean?

But you have acted like a prostitute with many lovers, and now you want to come back to me?” says the Lord.

<sup>2</sup>“Look up to the bare hilltops, Judah.

Is there any place where you have not been a prostitute?

You have sat by the road waiting for lovers,
like an Arab in the desert.

You made the land unclean,
because you did evil and were like a prostitute.

<sup>3</sup>So the rain has not come,
and there have not been any spring rains.

But your face still looks like the face of a prostitute.
You refuse even to be ashamed of what you did.

<sup>4</sup>Now you are calling to me,
‘My father, you have been my friend since I was young.

<sup>5</sup>Will you always be angry at me?
Will your anger last forever?’

Judah, you said this,
but you did as much evil as you could!”

Judah and Israel Are like Sisters

<sup>6</sup>When King Josiah was ruling Judah, the Lord said to me, “Did you see what unfaithful Israel did? She was like a prostitute with her idols on every hill and under every green tree. <sup>7</sup>I said to myself, ‘Israel will come back to me after she does this evil,’ but she didn’t come back. And Israel’s wicked sister Judah saw what she did. <sup>8</sup>Judah saw that I divorced unfaithful Israel because of her adultery, but that didn’t make Israel’s wicked sister Judah afraid. She also went out and acted like a prostitute! <sup>9</sup>And she didn’t care that she was acting like a prostitute. So she made her country unclean and was guilty of adultery, because she worshiped idols made of stone and wood. <sup>10</sup>Israel’s wicked sister didn’t even come back to me with her whole heart, but only pretended,” says the Lord.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord said to me, “Unfaithful Israel had a better excuse than wicked Judah. <sup>12</sup>Go and speak this message toward the north:

‘Come back, unfaithful people of Israel,’ says the Lord.

‘I will stop being angry at you,

because I am full of mercy,’ says the Lord.

‘I will not be angry with you forever.

<sup>13</sup>All you have to do is admit your sin—

that you turned against the Lord your God and worshiped gods under every green tree and didn’t obey me,” says the Lord.

<sup>14</sup>“Come back to me, you unfaithful children,” says the Lord, “because I am your master. I will take one person from every city and two from every family group, and I will bring you to Jerusalem. <sup>15</sup>Then I will give you new rulers who will be faithful to me, who will lead you with knowledge and understanding. <sup>16</sup>In those days there will be many of you in the land,” says the Lord. “At that time people will no longer say, ‘I remember the Ark of the Agreement.’ They won’t think about it anymore or remember it or miss it or make another one. <sup>17</sup>At that time people will call Jerusalem The Throne of the Lord, and all nations will come together in Jerusalem to show respect to the Lord. They will not follow their stubborn, evil hearts anymore. <sup>18</sup>In those days the family of Judah will join the family of Israel. They will come together from a land in the north to the land I gave their ancestors.

<sup>19</sup>“I, the Lord, said,

‘How happy I would be to treat you as my own children and give you a pleasant land,

a land more beautiful than that of any other nation.’

I thought you would call me ‘My Father’ and not turn away from me.

<sup>20</sup>But like a woman who is unfaithful to her husband, family of Israel, you have been unfaithful to me,” says the Lord.

<sup>21</sup>You can hear crying on the bare hilltops.

It is the people of Israel crying and praying for mercy.

They have become very evil and have forgotten the Lord their God.

<sup>22</sup>“Come back to me, you unfaithful children, and I will forgive you for being unfaithful.”

“Yes, we will come to you, because you are the Lord our God.

<sup>23</sup>It was foolish to worship idols on the hills and on the mountains.

Surely the salvation of Israel comes from the Lord our God.

<sup>24</sup>Since our youth, shameful gods have eaten up in sacrifice

everything our ancestors worked for—their flocks and herds,
their sons and daughters.

<sup>25</sup>Let us lie down in our shame,
and let our disgrace cover us like a blanket.
We have sinned against the Lord our God,
both we and our ancestors.
From our youth until now,
we have not obeyed the Lord our God.”

“If you will return, Israel, then return to me,” says the Lord.

“If you will throw away your idols that I hate,
then don’t wander away from me.

<sup>2</sup>If you say when you make a promise,
‘As surely as the Lord lives,’ and you can say it in a truthful, honest, and right way, then the nations will be blessed by him,
and they will praise him for what he has done.”

<sup>3</sup>This is what the Lord says to the people of Judah and to Jerusalem:

“Plow your unplowed fields,
and don’t plant seeds among thorns.

<sup>4</sup>Give yourselves to the service of the Lord,
and decide to obey him,
people of Judah and people of Jerusalem.

If you don’t, my anger will spread among you like a fire,
and no one will be able to put it out,
because of the evil you have done.

Trouble from the North

<sup>5</sup>“Announce this message in Judah and say it in Jerusalem:

‘Blow the trumpet throughout the country!’
Shout out loud and say,

‘Come together!
Let’s all escape to the strong, walled cities!’
‘Raise the signal flag toward Jerusalem!
Run for your lives, and don’t wait,
because I am bringing disaster from the north
There will be terrible destruction.’

<sup>7</sup>A lion has come out of his den;
a destroyer of nations has begun to march.
He has left his home
to destroy your land.
Your towns will be destroyed with no one left to live in them.

<sup>8</sup>So put on rough cloth, show how sad you are, and cry loudly.
The terrible anger of the Lord has not turned away from us.

<sup>9</sup>“When this happens,” says the Lord,
“the king and officers will lose their courage.
The priests will be terribly afraid,
and the prophets will be shocked!”

<sup>10</sup>Then I said, “Lord God, you have tricked the people of Judah and Jerusalem. You said, ‘You will have peace,’ but now the sword is pointing at our throats!”

<sup>11</sup>At that time this message will be given to Judah and Jerusalem: “A hot wind blows from the bare hilltops of the desert toward the Lord’s people. It is not a gentle wind to separate grain from chaff. <sup>12</sup>I feel a stronger wind than that. Now even I will announce judgments against the people of

<sup>13</sup>Look! The enemy rises up like a cloud, and his chariots come like a tornado.

His horses are faster than eagles.

How terrible it will be for us! We are ruined!

<sup>14</sup>People of Jerusalem, clean the evil from your hearts so that you can be saved.

Don't continue making evil plans.

<sup>15</sup>A voice from Dan makes an announcement and brings bad news from the mountains of Ephraim.

<sup>16</sup>“Report this to the nations.

Spread this news in Jerusalem:

“Invaders are coming from a faraway country, shouting words of war against the cities of Judah.

<sup>17</sup>The enemy has surrounded Jerusalem as men guard a field,

because Judah turned against me,” says the Lord.

<sup>18</sup>“The way you have lived and acted has brought this trouble to you.

This is your punishment.

How terrible it is!

The pain stabs your heart!”

Jeremiah's Cry

<sup>19</sup>Oh, how I hurt! How I hurt!

I am bent over in pain.

Oh, the torture in my heart!

My heart is pounding inside me.
I cannot keep quiet,
because I have heard the sound of the trumpet.
I have heard the shouts of war.

<sup>20</sup>Disaster follows disaster;
the whole country has been destroyed.
My tents are destroyed in only a moment.
My curtains are torn down quickly.

<sup>21</sup>How long must I look at the war flag?
How long must I listen to the war trumpet?

<sup>22</sup>The Lord says, “My people are foolish.
They do not know me.
They are stupid children;
they don’t understand.
They are skillful at doing evil,
but they don’t know how to do good.”

Disaster Is Coming

<sup>23</sup>I looked at the earth, and it was empty and had no shape.
I looked at the sky,
and its light was gone.

<sup>24</sup>I looked at the mountains, and they were shaking.
All the hills were trembling.

<sup>25</sup>I looked, and there were no people.
Every bird in the sky had flown away.

<sup>26</sup>I looked, and the good, rich land had become a desert.

All its towns had been destroyed by the Lord and his great anger.

“All the land will be ruined,
but I will not completely destroy it.

<sup>28</sup>So the people in the land will loudly,
and the sky will grow dark,
because I have spoken and will not change my mind.
I have made a decision, and I will not change it.”

<sup>29</sup>At the sound of the horsemen and the archers, all the people in the towns run away.
They hide in the thick bushes and climb up into the rocks.
All of the cities of Judah are empty;
no one lives in them.

<sup>30</sup>Judah, you destroyed nation, what are you doing?
Why do you put on your finest dress and decorate yourself with gold jewelry?
Why do you put color around your eyes?
You make yourself beautiful, but it is all useless.
Your lovers hate you;
they want to kill you.

<sup>31</sup>I hear a cry like a woman having a baby, distress like a woman having her first child.
It is the sound of Jerusalem gasping for breath.

She lifts her hands in prayer and says, “Oh! I am about to faint before my murderers!”

No One Is Right

The Lord says, “Walk up and down the streets of Jerusalem.

Look around and discover these things.

Search the public squares of the city.

If you can find one person who does honest things,
who searches for the truth,

I will forgive this city.

<sup>2</sup>Although the people say, ‘As surely as the Lord lives!’

they don’t really mean it.”

<sup>3</sup>Lord, don’t you look for truth in people?

You struck the people of Judah,
but they didn’t feel any pain.

You crushed them,

but they refused to learn what is right.

They became more stubborn than a rock;
they refused to turn back to God.

<sup>4</sup>But I thought,

“These are only the poor, foolish people.

They have not learned the way of the Lord and what their God wants them to do.

<sup>5</sup>So I will go to the leaders of Judah and talk to them.

Surely they understand the way of the Lord and know what God wants them to do.”

But even the leaders had all joined together to break away from the Lord;

they had broken their ties with him.

<sup>6</sup>So a lion from the forest will attack them.

A wolf from the desert will kill them.

A leopard is waiting for them near their towns.

It will tear to pieces anyone who comes out of the city,
because the people of Judah have sinned greatly.

They have wandered away from the Lord many times.

<sup>7</sup>The Lord said, “Tell me why I should forgive you.

Your children have left me and have made promises to idols that are not gods at all.

I gave your children everything they needed,
but they still were like an unfaithful wife to me.

They spent much time in houses of prostitutes.

<sup>8</sup>They are like well-fed horses filled with sexual desire;
each one wants another man’s wife.

<sup>9</sup>Shouldn’t I punish the people of Judah for doing these things?” says the Lord.

“Shouldn’t I give a nation such as this the punishment it deserves?

<sup>10</sup>“Go along and cut down Judah’s vineyards, but do not completely destroy them.

Cut off all her people as if they were branches,
because they do not belong to the Lord.

<sup>11</sup>The families of Israel and Judah have been completely unfaithful to me,” says the Lord.

<sup>12</sup>Those people have lied about the Lord and said, “He will not do anything to us!

Nothing bad will happen to us!
We will never see war or hunger!
<sup>13</sup>The prophets are like an empty wind;
the word of God is not in them.
Let the bad things they say happen to them.”

<sup>14</sup>So this is what the Lord God All-Powerful says:

“The people said I would not punish them.
So, the words I give you will be like fire,
and these people will be like wood that it burns up.
<sup>15</sup>Listen, family of Israel,” says the Lord,
“I will soon bring a nation from far away to attack you.
It is an old nation that has lasted a long time.
The people there speak a language you do not know;
you cannot understand what they say.
<sup>16</sup>Their arrows bring death.
All their people are strong warriors.
<sup>17</sup>They will eat your crops and your food.
They will eat your sons and daughters.
They will eat your flocks and herds.
They will eat your grapes and figs.
They will destroy with their swords
the strong, walled cities you trust.

<sup>18</sup>“Yet even then,” says the Lord, “I will not destroy you completely. <sup>19</sup>When the people of Judah ask, ‘Why has the Lord our God done all these terrible things to us?’ then give them this answer: ‘You have left the Lord and served foreign idols in your own land. So now you will serve foreigners in a land that does not belong to you.’”

<sup>20c</sup>Announce this message to the family of Jacob, and tell it to the nation of Judah:

<sup>21</sup>Hear this message, you foolish people who have no sense.

They have eyes, but they don't really see.

They have ears, but they don't really listen.

<sup>22</sup>Surely you are afraid of me," says the Lord.

"You should shake with fear in my presence.

I am the one who made the beaches to be a border for
the sea,

a border the water can never go past.

The waves may pound the beach, but they can't win over it.

They may roar, but they cannot go beyond it.

<sup>23</sup>But the people of Judah are stubborn and have turned against me.

They have turned aside and gone away from me.

<sup>24</sup>They do not say to themselves,

'We should fear the Lord our God, who gives us autumn and spring rains in their seasons, who makes sure we have the harvest at the right time.'

<sup>25</sup>But your evil has kept away both rain and harvest.

Your sins have kept you from enjoying good things.

<sup>26</sup>There are wicked men among my people.

Like those who make nets for catching birds,
they set their traps to catch people.

<sup>27</sup>Like cages full of birds,
their houses are full of lies.

They have become rich and powerful.

<sup>28</sup>They have grown big and fat.

There is no end to the evil things they do.
They won't plead the case of the orphan or help the poor be judged fairly.

<sup>29</sup>“Shouldn't I punish the people of Judah for doing these things?” says the Lord.

“Shouldn't I give a nation such as this the punishment it deserves?”

<sup>30</sup>“A terrible and shocking thing has happened in the land of Judah:

<sup>31</sup>The prophets speak lies,
and the priests take power into their own hands,
and my people love it this way.
But what will you do when the end comes?”

Jerusalem Is Surrounded

“Run for your lives, people of Benjamin!

Run away from Jerusalem!

Blow the war trumpet in the town of Tekoa!

Raise the warning flag over the town of Beth Hakkerem!

Disaster is coming from the north;
terrible destruction is coming to you.

<sup>2</sup>Jerusalem, I will destroy you,
you who are fragile and gentle.

<sup>3</sup>Shepherds with their flocks will come against Jerusalem.

They will set up their tents all around her,
each shepherd taking care of his own section.”

<sup>4</sup>They say, “Get ready to fight against Jerusalem!
Get up! We will attack at noon!

But it is already getting late;
the evening shadows are growing long.

<sup>5</sup>So get up! We will attack at night.

We will destroy the strong towers of Jerusalem!”

<sup>6</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says:

“Cut down the trees around Jerusalem, and build an attack ramp to the top of its walls.

This city must be punished.

Inside it is nothing but slavery.

<sup>7</sup>Jerusalem pours out her evil
as a well pours out its water.

The sounds of violence and destruction are heard within her.

I can see the sickness and hurts of Jerusalem.

<sup>8</sup>Listen to this warning, Jerusalem, or I will turn my back on you and make your land an empty desert where no one can live.”

<sup>9</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful says:

“Gather the few people of Israel who are left alive,
as you would gather the last grapes on a grapevine.
Check each vine again,
like someone who gathers grapes.”

<sup>10</sup>To whom can I speak? Whom can I warn?
Who will listen to me?

The people of Israel have closed ears,
so they cannot hear my warnings.
They don't like the word of the Lord;
they don't want to listen to it!

<sup>11</sup>But I am full of the anger of the Lord, and I am tired of holding it in.

“Pour out my anger on the children who play in the street

and on the young men gathered together.

A husband and his wife will both be caught in his anger,
as will the very old.

<sup>12</sup>Their houses will be turned over to others, along with their fields and wives,
because I will raise my hand and punish the people of Judah,” says the Lord.

<sup>13</sup>“Everyone, from the least important to the greatest,
is greedy for money.

Even the prophets and priests
all tell lies.

<sup>14</sup>They tried to heal my people’s serious injuries
as if they were small wounds.

They said, ‘It’s all right, it’s all right.’

But really, it is not all right.

<sup>15</sup>They should be ashamed of the terrible way they act,
but they are not ashamed at all.

They don’t even know how to blush about their sins.

So they will fall, along with everyone else.

They will be thrown to the ground when I punish them,” says the Lord.

“Stand where the roads cross and look.

Ask where the old way is,

where the good way is, and walk on it.

If you do, you will find rest for yourselves.

But they have said, ‘We will not walk on the good way.’

<sup>17</sup>I set watchmen over you and told you, ‘Listen for the sound of the war trumpet!’

But they said, ‘We will not listen.’

<sup>18</sup>So listen, all you nations, and pay attention, you witnesses.

Watch what I will do to the people of Judah.

<sup>19</sup>Hear this, people of the earth:

I am going to bring disaster to the people of Judah
because of the evil they plan.

They have not listened to my messages and have rejected my teachings.

<sup>20</sup>Why do you bring me offerings of incense from the land of Sheba?

Why do you bring me sweet-smelling cane from a faraway land?

Your burnt offerings will not be accepted;
your sacrifices do not please me.”

<sup>21</sup>So this is what the Lord says:

“I will put problems in front of Judah.
Fathers and sons will stumble over them together.
Neighbors and friends will die.”

<sup>22</sup>This is what the Lord says:

“Look, an army is coming from the land of the north;
a great nation is coming from the far sides of the earth.

<sup>23</sup>The soldiers carry bows and spears.
They are cruel and show no mercy.
They sound like the roaring ocean
when they ride their horses.
That army is coming lined up for battle,
ready to attack you, Jerusalem.”

<sup>24</sup>We have heard the news about that army and are helpless from fear.

We are gripped by our pain,
like a woman having a baby.

<sup>25</sup>Don't go out into the fields or walk down the roads,
because the enemy has swords.
There is terror on every side.

<sup>26</sup>My people, put on rough cloth and roll in the ashes to show how sad you are.
Cry loudly for those who are dead,
as if your only son were dead,
because the destroyer
will soon come against us.

<sup>27</sup>“Jeremiah, I have made you like a worker who tests metal,
and my people are like the ore.
You must observe their ways and test them.

<sup>28</sup>All my people have turned against me and are stubborn.

They go around telling lies about others.
They are like bronze and iron that became covered with rust.
They all act dishonestly.

<sup>29</sup>The fire is fanned to make it hotter,
but the lead does not melt.
The pure metal does not come out;
the evil is not removed from my people.

<sup>30</sup>My people will be called rejected silver,
because the Lord has rejected them.”

Life Lessons

Jeremiah 7:1–10:25

Situation

Jeremiah prophesied from the Temple gates and challenged the people. He told them that even if it meant destroying the Temple, God would bring discipline on Jerusalem. The nation had forgotten God after the death of good King Josiah.

Observation

True religion must have substance, integrity, and purity. God will uncover and rebuke sin, especially when people minimize it or let it go unacknowledged.

Inspiration

Habits are the thought and emotional patterns engraved on our minds. These internal habit patterns play just as forceful a role as external influences on our actions—in fact, perhaps more so. . . .

As unbelievers, we formerly gave ourselves to developing habits of unholiness—what Paul called “ever-increasing wickedness” (Romans 6:19). Every time we sinned—every time we lusted, coveted, hated, cheated, or lied—we were developing habits of ever-increasing wickedness. These repeated acts of unrighteousness became habits that made us, in fact, slaves to sin. . . .

Though we are to deal with these habits of unholiness, we must not try to do it in our own strength. Breaking sinful habits must be done in cooperation with the Holy Spirit and in dependence upon Him. The determination that “I’ll not do that anymore,” based upon sheer human resolve, has never once broken the shackles of sin. But there are practical principles which we can follow to train ourselves in godliness.

The first principle is that habits are developed and reinforced by frequent repetition. ... This is the principle underlying the fact that the more we sin the more we are inclined to sin. But the converse is also true. The more we say no to sin, the more we are inclined to say no.

Therefore, in dependence on the Holy Spirit, we must systematically work at acquiring the habit of saying no to the sins that so easily entangle us. We all know what these sins are; the sins to which we are particularly vulnerable. We begin by concentrating on saying no to these. Then God will lead us to work on other sins which we may not even be aware of at this time. The more we succeed in saying no to our sinful desires, the easier it becomes to say no.

In the same manner we can develop positive habits of holiness. We can develop the habit of thinking thoughts that are pure, true, and good. We can develop the habits of prayer and meditating on the Scriptures. But these habits will only be developed through frequent repetition.

(From The Pursuit of Holiness by Jerry Bridges)

Application

Are you a person of integrity? How do you work without supervision? Do you work harder if your boss is around? Do you cut corners you know your supervisor will never notice? Work for your employer as you would for Jesus Christ. Work hard, with or without supervision.

Jeremiah's Temple Message

This is the word that the Lord spoke to Jeremiah: <sup>2</sup>“Stand at the gate of the Temple and preach this message there:

“Hear the word of the Lord, all you people of the nation of Judah! All you who come through these gates to worship the Lord, listen to this message! <sup>3</sup>This is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: Change your lives and do what is right! Then I will let you live in this place. <sup>4</sup>Don't trust the lies of people who say, “This is the Temple of the Lord. This is the Temple of the Lord. This is the Temple of the Lord!” <sup>5</sup>You must change your lives and do what is right. Be fair to each other. <sup>6</sup>You must not be hard on strangers, orphans, and widows. Don't kill innocent people in this place! Don't follow other gods, or they will ruin your lives. <sup>7</sup>If you do these things, I will let you live in this land that I gave to your ancestors to keep forever.

<sup>8</sup>“But look, you are trusting lies, which is useless. <sup>9</sup>Will you steal and murder and be guilty of adultery? Will you falsely accuse other people? Will you burn incense to the god Baal and follow other gods you have not known? <sup>10</sup>If you do that, do you think you can come before me and stand in this place where I have chosen to be worshiped? Do you think you can say, “We are safe!” when you do all these hateful things? <sup>11</sup>This place where I have chosen to be worshiped is nothing more to you than a hideout for robbers. I have been watching you, says the Lord.

<sup>12</sup>“You people of Judah, go now to the town of Shiloh, where I first made a place to be worshiped. See what I did to it because of the evil things the people of Israel had done. <sup>13</sup>You people of Judah have done all these evil things too, says the Lord. I spoke to you again and again, but you did not listen to me. I called you, but you did not answer. <sup>14</sup>So I will destroy the place where I have chosen to be worshiped in Jerusalem. You trust in that place, which I gave to you and your ancestors, but I will destroy it just as I destroyed Shiloh. <sup>15</sup>I will push you away from me just as I pushed away your relatives, the people of Israel!”

<sup>16</sup>“As for you, Jeremiah, don’t pray for these people. Don’t cry out for them or ask anything for them or beg me to help them, because I will not listen to you. <sup>17</sup>Don’t you see what they are doing in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? <sup>18</sup>The children gather wood, and the fathers use the wood to make a fire. The women make the dough for cakes of bread, and they offer them to the Queen Goddess. They pour out drink offerings to other gods to make me angry. <sup>19</sup>But I am not the one the people of Judah are really hurting, says the Lord. They are only hurting themselves and bringing shame upon themselves.

<sup>20</sup>“So this is what the Lord God says: I will pour out my anger on this place, on people and animals, on the trees in the field and the crops in the ground. My anger will be like a hot fire that no one can put out.

Obedience Is More than Sacrifice

<sup>21</sup>“This is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: Offer burnt offerings along with your other sacrifices, and eat the meat yourselves! <sup>22</sup>When I brought your ancestors out of Egypt, I did not speak to them and give them commands only about burnt offerings and sacrifices. <sup>23</sup>I also gave them this command: Obey me, and I will be your God and you will be my people. Do all that I command so that good things will happen to you. <sup>24</sup>But your ancestors did not listen or pay attention to me. They were stubborn and did whatever their evil hearts wanted. They went backward, not forward. <sup>25</sup>Since the day your ancestors left Egypt, I have sent my servants, the prophets, again and again to you. <sup>26</sup>But your ancestors did not listen or pay attention to me. They were very stubborn and did more evil than their ancestors.’

<sup>27</sup>“Jeremiah, you will tell all these things to the people of Judah, but they will not listen to you. You will call to them, but they will not answer you. <sup>28</sup>So say to them, ‘This is the nation that has not obeyed the Lord its God. These people do nothing when I correct them. They do not tell the truth; it has disappeared from their lips.

The Valley of Killing

<sup>29</sup>“Cut off your hair and throw it away. Go up to the bare hilltop and cry out, because the Lord has rejected these people. He has turned his back on them, and in his anger will punish them. <sup>30</sup>The people of Judah have done what I said was evil, says the Lord. They have set up their hateful idols in the place where I have chosen to be worshiped and have made it unclean. <sup>31</sup>The people of Judah have built places of worship at Topheth in the Valley of Ben Hinnom. There they burned their own sons and daughters as sacrifices, something I never commanded. It never even entered my mind. <sup>32</sup>So, I warn you. The days are coming, says the Lord, when people will not call this place Topheth or the Valley of Ben Hinnom anymore. They will call it the Valley of Killing. They will bury the dead in Topheth until there is no room to bury anyone else. <sup>33</sup>Then the bodies of the dead will become food for the birds of the sky and for the wild animals. There will be no one left alive to chase them away. <sup>34</sup>I will end the happy sounds of the bride and bridegroom. There will be no happy sounds in the cities of Judah or in the streets of Jerusalem, because the land will become an empty desert!

“The Lord says: At that time they will remove from their tombs the bones of Judah’s kings and officers, priests and prophets, and the people of Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup>The bones will be spread on the ground under the sun, moon, and stars that the people loved and served and went after and searched for and worshiped. No one will gather up the bones and bury them. So they will be like dung thrown on the ground. <sup>3</sup>I will force the people of Judah to leave their homes and their land. Those of this evil family who are not dead will wish they were, says the Lord All-Powerful.’

Sin and Punishment

<sup>4</sup>“Say to the people of Judah: ‘This is what the Lord says:
When people fall down, don’t they get up again?
And when someone goes the wrong way, doesn’t he turn back?
<sup>5</sup>Why, then, have the people of Jerusalem gone the wrong way
and not turned back?
They believe their own lies and refuse to turn around and come back.
<sup>6</sup>I have listened to them very carefully,
but they do not say what is right.
They do not feel sorry about their wicked ways, saying, “What have I done?”
Each person goes his own way,
like a horse charging into a battle.
<sup>7</sup>Even the birds in the sky know the right times to do things.
The storks, doves, swifts, and thrushes know when it is time to migrate.

But my people don't know what the Lord wants them to do.

<sup>8</sup>“You keep saying, “We are wise, because we have the teachings of the Lord.”
But actually, those who explain the Scriptures have written lies with their pens.

<sup>9</sup>These wise men refused to listen to the word of the Lord,

so they are not really wise at all.
They will be ashamed.
They will be shocked and trapped.

<sup>10</sup>So I will give their wives to other men and their fields to new owners.

Everyone, from the least important to the greatest,
is greedy for money.
Even the prophets and priests
all tell lies.

<sup>11</sup>They tried to heal my people's serious injuries
as if they were small wounds.

They said, “It's all right, it's all right.”
But really, it is not all right.

<sup>12</sup>They should be ashamed of the terrible way they act,
but they are not ashamed at all.

They don't even know how to blush about their sins.
So they will fall, along with everyone else.

They will be thrown to the ground when I punish them,
says the Lord.

<sup>13</sup>“I will take away their crops, says the Lord.

There will be no grapes on the vine
and no figs on the fig tree.
Even the leaves will dry up and die.
I will take away what I gave them.”

<sup>14</sup>“Why are we just sitting here?
Let’s get together!
We have sinned against the Lord,
so he has given us poisoned water to drink.
Come, let’s run to the strong, walled cities.
The Lord our God has decided that we must die,
so let’s die there.

<sup>15</sup>We hoped to have peace,
but nothing good has come.
We hoped for a time when he would heal us,
but only terror has come.

<sup>16</sup>From the land of Dan,
the snorting of the enemy’s horses is heard.
The ground shakes from the neighing of their large horses.

They have come and destroyed
the land and everything in it,
the city and all who live there.”

<sup>17</sup>“Look! I am sending poisonous snakes to attack you.
These snakes cannot be charmed,
and they will bite you,” says the Lord.

Jeremiah’s Sadness

<sup>18</sup>God, you are my comfort when I am very sad and when I am afraid.

<sup>19</sup>Listen to the sound of my people.

They cry from a faraway land:

“Isn’t the Lord still in Jerusalem?

Isn’t Jerusalem’s king still there?”

But God says, “Why did the people make me angry by worshiping idols,
useless foreign idols?”

<sup>20</sup>And the people say, “Harvest time is over;
summer has ended,
and we have not been saved.”

<sup>21</sup>Because my people are crushed, I am crushed.
I cry loudly and am afraid for them.

<sup>22</sup>Isn’t there balm in the land of Gilead?

Isn’t there a doctor there?

So why aren’t the hurts of my people healed?

I wish my head were like a spring of water and my eyes like a fountain of tears!
Then I could cry day and night
for my people who have been killed.
<sup>2</sup>I wish I had a place in the desert—
a house where travelers spend the night—
so I could leave my people.
I could go away from them,
because they are all unfaithful to God;
they are all turning against him.

Judah's Failures

<sup>3</sup>“They use their tongues like a bow, shooting lies from their mouths like arrows.
Lies, not truth,
have grown strong in the land.
They go from one evil thing to another.
They do not know who I am,” says the Lord.

<sup>4</sup>“Watch out for your friends, and don't trust your own relatives,
because every relative is a cheater,
and every friend tells lies about you.

<sup>5</sup>Everyone lies to his friend,
and no one speaks the truth.
The people of Judah have taught their tongues to lie.
They have become tired from sinning.

<sup>6</sup>Jeremiah, you live in the middle of lies.
With their lies the people refuse to know me,” says the

Lord.

<sup>7</sup>So this is what the Lord All-Powerful says:

“I will test the people of Judah as a person tests metal in a fire.

I have no other choice,
because my people have sinned.

<sup>8</sup>Their tongues are like sharp arrows.

Their mouths speak lies.

Everyone speaks nicely to his neighbor,
but he is secretly planning to attack him.

<sup>9</sup>“Shouldn’t I punish the people for doing this?” says the Lord.

“Shouldn’t I give a nation like this the punishment it deserves?”

<sup>10</sup>I, Jeremiah, will cry loudly for the mountains and sing a funeral song for the empty fields.

They are empty, and no one passes through.

The mooing of cattle cannot be heard.

The birds have flown away,
and the animals are gone.

<sup>11</sup>“I, the Lord, will make the city of Jerusalem a heap of ruins, a home for wild dogs.

I will destroy the cities of Judah

so no one can live there.”

Is there someone who has been taught by the Lord who can explain them? Why was the land ruined? Why has it been made like an empty desert where no one goes?

<sup>13</sup>The Lord answered, “It is because Judah quit following my teachings that I gave them. They have not obeyed me or done what I told them to do. <sup>14</sup>Instead, they were stubborn and followed the Baals, as their ancestors taught them to do. <sup>15</sup>So this is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: “I will soon make the people of Judah eat bitter food and drink poisoned water. <sup>16</sup>I will scatter them through other nations that they and their ancestors never knew about. I will chase the people of Judah with the sword until they are all killed.”

“Now, think about these things!

Call for the women who cry at funerals to come.
Send for those women who are good at that job.

<sup>18</sup>Let them come quickly and cry loudly for us.

Then our eyes will fill with tears,
and streams of water will flow from our eyelids.

“We are truly ruined!

We are truly ashamed!

We must leave our land,
because our houses are in ruins.”

<sup>20</sup>Now, women of Judah, listen to the word of the Lord;
open your ears to hear the words of his mouth.

Teach your daughters how to cry loudly.

Teach one another a funeral song.

<sup>21</sup>Death has climbed in through our windows and has entered our strong cities.

Death has taken away our children who play in the streets and the young men who meet in the city squares.

<sup>22</sup>Say, “This is what the Lord says:

“The dead bodies of people will lie in the open field like dung.
They will lie like grain a farmer has cut,
but there will be no one to gather them.”

“The wise must not brag about their wisdom.
The strong must not brag about their strength.
The rich must not brag about their money.
<sup>24</sup>But if someone wants to brag, let him brag that he understands and knows me.
Let him brag that I am the Lord,
and that I am kind and fair,
and that I do things that are right on earth.
This kind of bragging pleases me,” says the Lord.

<sup>25</sup>The Lord says, “The time is coming when I will punish all those who are circumcised only in the flesh: <sup>26</sup>the people of Egypt, Judah, Edom, Ammon, Moab, and the desert people who cut their hair short. The men in all those countries are not circumcised. And the whole family of Israel does not give itself to serving me.”

The Lord and the Idols

Family of Israel, listen to what the Lord says to you. <sup>2</sup>This is what he says:

“Don’t live like the people from other nations, and don’t be afraid of special signs in the sky,
even though the other nations are afraid of them.

<sup>3</sup>The customs of other people are worth nothing.
Their idols are just wood cut from the forest, shaped by a worker with his chisel.

<sup>4</sup>They decorate their idols with silver and gold.
With hammers and nails they fasten them down
so they won’t fall over.

<sup>5</sup>Their idols are like scarecrows in melon fields;
they cannot talk.

Since they cannot walk,
they must be carried.

Do not be afraid of those idols,
because they can’t hurt you,
and they can’t help you either.”

<sup>6</sup>Lord, there is no one like you.

You are great,
and your name is great and powerful.

<sup>7</sup>Everyone should respect you, King of the nations;
you deserve respect.

Of all the wise people among the nations
and in all the kingdoms,

none of them is as wise as you.

<sup>8</sup>Those wise people are stupid and foolish.
Their teachings come from worthless wooden idols.

<sup>9</sup>Hammered silver is brought from Tarshish and gold from Uphaz,
so the idols are made by craftsmen and goldsmiths.
They put blue and purple clothes on the idols.
All these things are made by skilled workers.

<sup>10</sup>But the Lord is the only true God.
He is the only living God, the King forever.
The earth shakes when he is angry,
and the nations cannot stand up to his anger.

<sup>11</sup>“Tell them this message: ‘These gods did not make heaven and earth; they will be destroyed and disappear from heaven and earth.’”

<sup>12</sup>God made the earth by his power.
He used his wisdom to build the world and his understanding to stretch out the skies.

<sup>13</sup>When he thunders, the waters in the skies roar.
He makes clouds rise in the sky all over the earth.
He sends lightning with the rain and brings out the wind from his storehouses.

<sup>14</sup>People are so stupid and know so little.
Goldsmiths are made ashamed by their idols,
because those statues are only false gods.
They have no breath in them.

<sup>15</sup>They are worth nothing; people make fun of them.
When they are judged, they will be destroyed.

<sup>16</sup>But God, who is Jacob's Portion, is not like the idols.
He made everything,
and he chose Israel to be his special people.
The Lord All-Powerful is his name.

Destruction Is Coming

<sup>17</sup>Get everything you own and prepare to leave, you people who are trapped by your enemies.

“At this time I will throw out the people who live in this land.

I will bring trouble to them
so that they may be captured.”

<sup>19</sup>How terrible it will be for me because of my injury.
My wound cannot be healed.

Yet I told myself,

“This is my sickness; I must suffer through it.”

<sup>20</sup>My tent is ruined, and all its ropes are broken.

My children have gone away and left me.

No one is left to put up my tent again or to set up a shelter for me.

<sup>21</sup>The shepherds are stupid and don't ask the Lord for advice.

So they do not have success,

and all their flocks are scattered and lost.

<sup>22</sup>Listen! The news is coming.

A loud noise comes from the north to make the towns of Judah an empty desert and a home for wild dogs!

Jeremiah's Prayer

<sup>23</sup>Lord, I know that a person's life doesn't really belong to him.

No one can control his own life.

<sup>24</sup>Lord, correct me, but be fair.

Don't punish me in your anger,
or you will destroy me.

<sup>25</sup>Pour out your anger on other nations that do not know you
and do not pray to you.

Those nations have destroyed Jacob's family.
They have eaten him up completely and destroyed his homeland.

Life Lessons

Jeremiah 11:1–23

Situation

God would bring disaster on Israel if they would not repent. He would refuse to hear their prayers and let foreigners invade who would kill and exile many. God granted the Israelites an opportunity to acknowledge their sin and repent.

Observation

After rebuking the people for their sin, Jeremiah overheard about a plot to kill him. The prophet complained to the Lord. He was frustrated and hurt by the hostility he continued to endure.

Inspiration

Where is God when we hurt? Where is he when sleep won't come? Where is he when we awaken in a hospital bed with pain that won't subside? He's right here! He hung on the gallows to prove once and for all, with pierced hands and bloodstained face—that he's here—that he didn't create the hurt, but he came to take it away.

When you hurt, God hurts with you. When no one listens to you, God listens to you. When you wipe away tears of loneliness or frustration or anguish, in heaven there's a pierced hand approaching a heavenly face wiping away a tear.

Sometimes storms of life come to teach us that God is in control, that we must lean on him and learn to be thankful for the richness of his blessings to us.

We should serve God even if there is darkness enveloping our life and even if we don't understand what's happening ... even when the circumstances of our life don't make sense: Because he is worthy of praise, because he is God. (From The Inspirational Bible, "Hurt")

Application

In what areas of your life do you need to trust God to do what is right? What does it mean to you to believe that he is a sovereign God, in control of every aspect of your life? Thank God that he knows everything about you and still loves you.

Exploration

The Agreement Is Broken

These are the words that the Lord spoke to Jeremiah: <sup>2</sup>“Listen to the words of this agreement and tell them to the people of Judah and those living in Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup>Tell them this is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: ‘Cursed is the person who does not obey the words of this agreement <sup>4</sup>that I made with your ancestors when I brought them out of Egypt. Egypt was like a furnace for melting iron!’ I told them, ‘Obey me and do everything I command you. Then you will be my people, and I will be your God. <sup>5</sup>Then I will keep the promise I made to your ancestors to give them a fertile land.’ And you are living in that country today.”

I answered, “Amen, Lord.”

<sup>6</sup>The Lord said to me, “Announce this message in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem: ‘Listen to the words of this agreement and obey them. <sup>7</sup>I warned your ancestors to obey me when I brought them out of Egypt. I have warned them again and again to this very day: “Obey me!” <sup>8</sup>But your ancestors did not listen to me. They were stubborn and did what their own evil hearts wanted. So I made all the curses of this agreement come upon them. I commanded them to obey the agreement, but they did not.”

<sup>9</sup>Then the Lord said to me, “I know the people of Judah and those living in Jerusalem have made secret plans. <sup>10</sup>They have gone back to the same sins their ancestors did. Their ancestors refused to listen to my message and followed and worshiped other gods instead. The families of Israel and Judah have broken the agreement I made with their ancestors. <sup>11</sup>So this is what the Lord says: ‘I will soon bring a disaster on the people of Judah which they will not be able to escape. They will cry to me for help, but I will not listen to them. <sup>12</sup>The people living in the towns of Judah and the city of Jerusalem will pray to their idols to whom they burn incense. But those idols will not be able to help when disaster comes. <sup>13</sup>Look, people of Judah, you have as many idols as there are towns in Judah. You have built as many altars to burn incense to that shameful god Baal as there are streets in Jerusalem.’

<sup>14</sup>“As for you, Jeremiah, don’t pray for these people or cry out for them or ask anything for them. I will not listen when they call to me in the time of their trouble.

<sup>15</sup>“What is my beloved Judah doing in my Temple when she makes many evil plans?

Do you think animal sacrifices will stop your punishment?

When you do your evil, then you are happy.”

But with the roar of a strong storm
he will set that tree on fire, and its branches will be burned up.

<sup>17</sup>The Lord All-Powerful, who planted you, has announced that disaster will come to you. This is because the families of Israel and Judah have done evil and have made him angry by burning incense to Baal.

Evil Plans Against Jeremiah

<sup>18</sup>The Lord showed me that men were making plans against me. Because he showed me what they were doing, I knew they were against me. <sup>19</sup>Before this, I was like a gentle lamb waiting to be butchered. I did not know they had made plans against me, saying:

“Let us destroy the tree and its fruit.

Let’s kill him so people will forget him.”

<sup>20</sup>But, Lord All-Powerful, you are a fair judge.

You know how to test peoples’ hearts and minds.

I have told you what I have against them.

So let me see you give them the punishment they deserve.

<sup>21</sup>So the Lord speaks about the men from Anathoth who plan to kill Jeremiah and say, “Don’t prophesy in the name of the Lord, or we will kill you!” <sup>22</sup>So this is what the Lord All-Powerful says: “I will soon punish the men from Anathoth. Their young men will die in war. Their sons and daughters will die from hunger. <sup>23</sup>No one from the city of Anathoth will be left alive, because I will cause a disaster to happen to them that year.”

Life Lessons

Jeremiah 12:1–13:27

Situation

Jeremiah complained to God that the people of Israel were evil and questioned God's justice regarding these people. God responded that he will punish Israel, but he also would restore them in his mercy and grace.

Observation

While it is tempting to judge others, particularly other Christians, we shouldn't look down on them. Instead, we should reach out to them with God's love and mercy.

Inspiration

Not everyone has the strength of courage and character to live a life worthy of the calling they have received. To live up to our calling is itself a gift from God. "But to each one of us grace has been given as Christ apportioned it" (Ephesians 4:7, NIV). Some of us are impeded from living up to Christ. It may be a troubled childhood, a tough marriage, difficult children, or ... you may have seen too much evil.

If Christ has apportioned you with enough grace to live a life worthy of the calling you received, are you applying it? ... Many Christians under-apply their grace. It is such a waste.

If you are living a life worthy of the calling you received, how do you treat your weaker brother? Do you look in disgust at another who can't quite seem to get his act together? Does your mind get stuck thinking about how weak he is? Pray for him, that God's grace to him may increase. Fall to your face and implore God to have mercy on your weaker brother or sister with tears of remorse. Thank Him with tears of gratitude that He has mercifully given you so much grace. Why should it be the other person and not you that is weak? There is no reason except the grace Christ has apportioned to you at His sole discretion. "But for the grace of God, there go I."

... Every Christian is one for whom Christ died. If Jesus thought that person was worth dying for, why do you despise him? ...

Let us, therefore, concentrate on living up to the calling we have received. Part of our calling is to bear with our weaker brothers, to not revel in the smug satisfaction that we overcome but they don't. If we overcome, it is because of the grace apportioned to us. And if we ourselves are not living a life worthy of our calling, then ask for more grace. Work out your salvation with fear and trembling, but know that the strength of courage and character to do so comes from the grace apportioned to you. (From Walking with Christ in the Details of Life by Patrick M. Morley)

Application

On what issues do you disagree with other believers—a disagreement caused because you both want to honor God and do what is best? How can you best show love (as opposed to giving them "right answers") to help them live out their faith?

Exploration

Judging Others—Psalm 1:1; Matthew 13:40–43;
John 8:7; 1 Corinthians 4:5; 1 Corinthians 5:12.

Jeremiah's First Complaint

Lord, when I bring my case to you,
you are always right.
But I want to ask you about the justice you give.
Why are evil people successful?
Why do dishonest people have such easy lives?
<sup>2</sup>You have put the evil people here like plants with strong roots.
They grow and produce fruit.
With their mouths they speak well of you,
but their hearts are really far away from you.
<sup>3</sup>But you know my heart, Lord.
You see me and test my thoughts about you.
Drag the evil people away like sheep to be butchered.
Set them aside for the day of killing.
<sup>4</sup>How much longer will the land stay dried up and the grass in every field be dead?
The animals and birds in the land have died,
because the people are evil.
Yes, they are even saying,
“God does not see what happens to us.”

The Lord's Answer to Jeremiah

<sup>5</sup>“If you get tired while racing against people, how can you race against horses?

If you stumble in a country that is safe, what will you do in the thick thornbushes along the Jordan River?

<sup>6</sup>Even your own brothers and members of your own family are making plans against you.

They are crying out against you.
Don't trust them,
even when they say nice things to you!

<sup>7</sup>"I have left Israel;
I have left my people.
I have given the people I love
over to their enemies.

<sup>8</sup>My people have become to me
like a lion in the forest.
They roar at me,
so I hate them.

<sup>9</sup>My people have become to me
like a speckled bird attacked on all sides by hawks.
Go, gather the wild animals.
Bring them to get something to eat.

<sup>10</sup>Many shepherds have ruined my vineyards and trampled the plants in my field.
They have turned my beautiful field into an empty desert.

<sup>11</sup>They have turned my field into a desert that is wilted and dead.
The whole country is an empty desert,
because no one who lives there cares.

<sup>12</sup>Many soldiers have marched over those barren hills.
The Lord is using the armies to punish that land from one end to the other.

No one is safe.

<sup>13</sup>The people have planted wheat,
but they have harvested only thorns.
They have worked hard until they were very tired,
but they have nothing for all their work.
They are ashamed of their poor harvest, because the Lord's terrible anger has caused this.”

<sup>14</sup>This is what the Lord said to me: “Here is what I will do to all my wicked neighbors who take the land I gave my people Israel. I will pull them up and throw them out of their land. And I will pull up the people of Judah from among them. <sup>15</sup>But after I pull them up, I will feel sorry for them again. I will bring each person back to his own property and to his own land. <sup>16</sup>I want them to learn their lessons well. In the past they taught my people to swear by Baal's name. But if they will now learn to swear by my name, saying, ‘As surely as the Lord lives ...’ I will allow them to rebuild among my people. <sup>17</sup>But if a nation will not listen to my message, I will pull it up completely and destroy it,” says the Lord.

Jeremiah's Linen Belt

This is what the Lord said to me: “Go and buy a linen belt and put it around your waist. Don't let the belt get wet.”

<sup>2</sup>So I bought a linen belt, just as the Lord told me, and put it around my waist. <sup>3</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word to me a second time: <sup>4</sup>“Take the belt you bought and are wearing, and go to Perath. Hide the belt there in a crack in the rocks.” <sup>5</sup>So I went to Perath and hid the belt there, just as the Lord told me.

<sup>6</sup>Many days later the Lord said to me, “Now go to Perath and get the belt I told you to hide there.” <sup>7</sup>So I went to Perath and dug up the belt and took it from where I had hidden it. But now it was ruined; it was good for nothing.

<sup>8</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word to me. <sup>9</sup>This is what the Lord said: “In the same way I will ruin the pride of the people of Judah and the great pride of Jerusalem. <sup>10</sup>These evil people refuse to listen to my warnings. They stubbornly do only what they want to do, and they follow other gods to serve and worship them. So they will become like this linen belt—good for nothing. <sup>11</sup>As a belt is wrapped tightly around a person's waist, I wrapped the families of Israel and Judah around me,” says the Lord. “I did that so they would be my people and bring fame, praise, and honor to me. But my people would not listen.

Warnings About Leather Wine Bags

<sup>12</sup>“Say to them: ‘This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says:

All leather bags for holding wine should be filled with wine.’ People will say to you: ‘Of course, we know all wine bags should be filled with wine.’<sup>13</sup> Then you will say to them, ‘This is what the Lord says: I will make everyone in this land like a drunken person—the kings who sit on David’s throne, the priests and the prophets, and all the people who live in Jerusalem.<sup>14</sup> I will make them smash against one another, fathers and sons alike, says the Lord. I will not feel sorry or have pity on them or show mercy that would stop me from destroying them.’”

Threat of Slavery

<sup>15</sup>Listen and pay attention.

Don’t be too proud,
because the Lord has spoken to you.

<sup>16</sup>Give glory to the Lord your God before he brings darkness and before you slip and fall on the dark hills.

You hope for light,
but he will turn it into thick darkness;
he will change it into deep gloom.

<sup>17</sup>If you don’t listen to him,
I will cry secretly
because of your pride.
I will cry painfully,
and my eyes will overflow with tears,
because the Lord’s people will be captured.

~ I tell this to the king and the queen mother:

“Come down from your thrones, because your beautiful crowns have fallen from your heads.”

<sup>19</sup>The cities of southern Judah are locked up, and no one can open them.

All Judah will be taken as captives to a foreign land;
they will be carried away completely.

<sup>20</sup>Jerusalem, look up and see the people coming from the north.

Where is the flock God gave you to care for,
the flock you bragged about?

<sup>21</sup>What will you say when they appoint as your heads those you had thought were your friends?

Won't you have much pain and trouble,
like a woman giving birth to a baby?

<sup>22</sup>You might ask yourself,

“Why has this happened to me?”

It happened because of your many sins.

Because of your sins, your skirt was torn off and your body has been treated badly.

<sup>23</sup>Can a person from Cush change the color of his skin?
Can a leopard change his spots?

In the same way, Jerusalem, you cannot change and do good,

because you are accustomed to doing evil.

<sup>24</sup>“I will scatter you like chaff that is blown away by the desert wind.

<sup>25</sup>This is what will happen to you;

this is your part in my plans,” says the Lord.

“Because you forgot me
and trusted in false gods,

<sup>26</sup>I will pull your skirts up over your face so everyone will see your shame.

<sup>27</sup>I have seen the terrible things you have done:
your acts of adultery and your snorting,
your prostitution,
your hateful acts
on the hills and in the fields.

How terrible it will be for you, Jerusalem.

How long will you continue being unclean?”

Life Lessons

Jeremiah 14:1–17:27

Situation

Jeremiah prophesied drought, famine, and days of disaster for God's people.

Observation

Sin requires judgment. Sin can distort our judgment of good and evil. God calls us to repent and to have moral outrage for violations of his holiness.

Inspiration

Where is our sense of moral outrage? Perhaps our moral sensibilities have been dulled because of today's dazzling instant communications. We sit mesmerized in front of our TVs, unable to turn the sets off, so we turn our minds off instead.

Over time, so much trash is heaped upon us that we come to expect and accept it; the bizarre becomes commonplace. Morally exhausted, we lose our capacity to discern good from evil.

The brilliant essayist Charles Krauthammer, citing economist Thomas Sowell, sums up our predicament beautifully: "The inability to make moral distinctions is the AIDS of the intellectuals: an acquired immune deficiency syndrome ... moral blindness of this caliber requires practice. It has to be learned."

In a culture with moral AIDS, words lose all meaning; or they are manipulated to obscure meaning... . But when words lose their meaning, it is nearly impossible for the Word of God to be received.

If sin and repentance mean nothing, then God's grace is irrelevant. Our preaching falls on deaf ears.

This moral deafness leads to disaster. The Scriptures tell us it was when people accepted King Ahab's gross evils as "trivial" that fearsome judgment befell ancient Israel.

Certainly evil is to be expected in a fallen world. What is not expected is for a holy people to accept it. If Christ is Lord of all, Christians must recapture their sense of moral outrage. (From Who Speaks for God by Charles Colson)

A Time Without Rain

These are the words that the Lord spoke to Jeremiah about the time when there was no rain:

<sup>2</sup>“The nation of Judah cries as if someone has died, and her cities are very sad.

They are distressed over the land.

A cry goes up to God from Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup>The important men send their servants to get water.

They go to the wells,
but they find no water.

So they return with empty jars.

They are ashamed and embarrassed and cover their heads in shame.

<sup>4</sup>The ground is dry and cracked open, because no rain falls on the land.

The farmers are upset and sad,
so they cover their heads in shame.

<sup>5</sup>Even the mother deer in the field leaves her newborn fawn to die, because there is no grass.

<sup>6</sup>Wild donkeys stand on the bare hills and sniff the wind like wild dogs.

But their eyes go blind,
because there is no food.”

<sup>7</sup>We know that we suffer because of our sins.
Lord, do something to help us for the good of your name.

We have left you many times;
we have sinned against you.

<sup>8</sup>God, the Hope of Israel,
you have saved Israel in times of trouble.

Why are you like a stranger in the land,
or like a traveler who only stays one night?

<sup>9</sup>Why are you like someone who has been attacked by surprise, like a warrior who is not able to save anyone?

But you are among us, Lord,
and we are called by your name
so don't leave us without help!

<sup>10</sup>This is what the Lord says about the people of Judah:

“They really love to wander from me;
they don't stop themselves from leaving me.
So now the Lord will not accept them.
He will now remember the evil they do and will punish them for their sins.”

<sup>11</sup>Then the Lord said, “Don't pray for good things to happen to the people of Judah. <sup>12</sup>Even if they give up eating, I will not listen to their prayers. Even if they offer burnt offerings and grain offerings to me, I will not accept them. Instead, I will destroy the people of Judah with war, hunger, and terrible diseases.”

<sup>13</sup>But I said, “Oh, Lord God, the prophets keep telling the people, ‘You will not suffer from an enemy's sword or from hunger. I, the Lord, will give you peace in this land.”

<sup>14</sup>Then the Lord said to me, “Those prophets are prophesying lies in my name. I did not send them or appoint them or speak to them. They have been prophesying false visions, idolatries, worthless magic, and their own wishful thinking. <sup>15</sup>So this is what I say about the prophets who are prophesying in my name. I did not send them. They say, ‘No enemy will attack this country with swords. There will never be hunger in this land.’ So those prophets will die from hunger and from an enemy’s sword. <sup>16</sup>And the people to whom the prophets speak will be thrown into the streets of Jerusalem. There they will die from hunger and from an enemy’s sword. And no one will be there to bury them, or their wives, or their sons, or their daughters. I will punish them.

‘Let my eyes be filled with tears night and day, without stopping.
My people have received a terrible blow;
they have been hurt badly.

<sup>18</sup>If I go into the country,
I see people killed by swords.
If I go into the city,
I see much sickness, because the people have no food.
Both the priests and the prophets have been taken to a foreign land.’”

<sup>19</sup>Lord, have you completely rejected the nation of Judah?

Do you hate Jerusalem?
Why have you hurt us so badly that we cannot be made well again?

We hoped for peace,
but nothing good has come.
We looked for a time of healing,
but only terror came.

<sup>20</sup>Lord, we admit that we are wicked and that our ancestors did evil things.
We have sinned against you.

<sup>21</sup>For your sake, do not hate us.
Do not take away the honor from your glorious throne.
Remember your agreement with us,
and do not break it.

<sup>22</sup>Do foreign idols have the power to bring rain?
Does the sky itself have the power to send down showers?

No, it is you, Lord our God.
You are our only hope,
because you are the one who made all these things.

Then the Lord said to me: “I would not feel sorry for the people of Judah even if Moses and Samuel prayed for them. Send them away from me! Tell them to go! <sup>2</sup>When they ask you, ‘Where will we go?’ tell them: ‘This is what the Lord says:

Those who are meant to die will die.

Those who are meant to die in war will die in war.

Those who are meant to die from hunger will die from hunger.

Those who are meant to be taken captive will be taken captive.’

<sup>3</sup>“I will send four kinds of destroyers against them,” says the Lord. “I will send war to kill, dogs to drag the bodies away, and the birds of the air and wild animals to eat and destroy the bodies. <sup>4</sup>I will make the people of Judah hated by everyone on earth because of what Manasseh did in Jerusalem. (Manasseh son of Hezekiah was king of the nation of Judah.)

<sup>5</sup>“Who will feel sorry for you, Jerusalem?

Who will be sad and cry for you?

Who will go out of his way to ask how you are?

<sup>6</sup>Jerusalem, you have left me,” says the Lord.

“You keep going farther and farther away,
so I have taken hold of you and destroyed you.

I was tired of holding back my anger.

<sup>7</sup>I have separated the people of Judah with my pitchfork

and scattered them at the city gates of the land.

My people haven't changed their ways.
So I have destroyed them and taken away their children.

<sup>8</sup>There are more widows than grains of sand in the sea.
I brought a destroyer at noontime against the mothers of the young men of Judah.
I suddenly brought pain and fear
on the people of Judah.

<sup>9</sup>When the enemy attacked, a woman with seven sons felt faint because they would all die.
She became weak and unable to breathe.
Her bright day became dark from sadness.
She felt shame and disgrace.
And everyone else left alive in Judah
I will hand over to the enemies, too!" says the Lord.

Jeremiah's Second Complaint

<sup>10</sup>Mother, I am sorry that you gave birth to me
since I must accuse and criticize the whole land.
I have not loaned or borrowed anything,
but everyone curses me.

<sup>11</sup>The Lord said,
"I have saved you for a good reason.
I have made your enemies beg you in times of disaster and trouble.

<sup>12</sup>No one can smash a piece of iron or bronze that comes from the north.

<sup>13</sup>Your wealth and treasures

I will give to others free of charge, because the people of Judah have sinned
throughout the country.

<sup>14</sup>I will make you slaves to your enemies in a land you have never known.
My anger is like a hot fire,
and it will burn against you.”

<sup>15</sup>Lord, you understand.
Remember me and take care of me.
Punish for me those who are hurting me.
Don't destroy me while you remain patient with them.
Think about the shame I suffer for you.

<sup>16</sup>Your words came to me, and I listened carefully to
them.

Your words made me very happy,
because I am called by your name,
Lord God All-Powerful.

<sup>17</sup>I never sat with the crowd
as they laughed and had fun.
I sat by myself, because you were there,
and you filled me with anger at the evil around me.

<sup>18</sup>I don't understand why my pain has no end.
I don't understand why my injury is not cured or healed.

Will you be like a brook that goes dry?
Will you be like a spring that stops flowing?

<sup>19</sup>So this is what the Lord says:

“If you change your heart and return to me, I will take you back.

Then you may serve me.

And if you speak things that have worth,
not useless words,

then you may speak for me.

Let the people of Judah turn to you,
but you must not change and be like them.

<sup>20</sup>I will make you as strong as a wall to this people, as strong as a wall of bronze.

They will fight against you,
but they will not defeat you,
because I am with you.

I will rescue you and save you," says the Lord.

<sup>21</sup>"I will save you from these wicked people and rescue you from these cruel people."

The Day of Disaster

Then the Lord spoke his word to me:<sup>2</sup>“You must not get married or have sons or daughters in this place.”

<sup>3</sup>The Lord says this about the sons and daughters born in this land and their mothers and fathers:<sup>4</sup>“They will die of terrible diseases, and no one will cry for them or bury them. Their bodies will lie on the ground like dung. They will die in war, or they will starve to death. Their bodies will be food for the birds of the sky and for the wild animals.”

<sup>5</sup>So this is what the Lord says: “Jeremiah, do not go into a house where there is a funeral meal. Do not go there to cry for the dead or to show your sorrow for them, because I have taken back my blessing, my love, and my pity from these people,” says the Lord.<sup>6</sup>“Important people and common people will die in the land of Judah. No one will bury them or cry for them or cut himself or shave his head to show sorrow for them.<sup>7</sup>No one will bring food to comfort those who are crying for the dead. No one will offer a drink to comfort someone whose mother or father has died.

<sup>8</sup>“Do not go into a house where the people are having a feast to sit down to eat and drink,<sup>9</sup>because this is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: I will soon stop the sounds of joy and gladness and the happy sounds of brides and bridegrooms in this place. This will happen during your lifetime.

<sup>10</sup>“When you tell the people of Judah these things, they will ask you, ‘Why has the Lord said these terrible things to us?’

What have we done wrong? What sin have we done against the Lord our God?

<sup>11</sup>“Then say to them: ‘This is because your ancestors quit following me,’ says the Lord. ‘And they followed other gods and served and worshiped them. Your ancestors left me and quit obeying my teaching. <sup>12</sup>But you have done even more evil than your ancestors. You are very stubborn and do only what you want to do; you have not obeyed me. <sup>13</sup>So I will throw you out of this country and send you into a land that you and your ancestors never knew. There you can serve other gods day and night, because I will not help you or show you any favors.’

<sup>14</sup>“People say, ‘As surely as the Lord lives, who brought the people of Israel out of Egypt ...’ But the time is coming,” says the Lord, “when people will not say this anymore. <sup>15</sup>They will say instead, ‘As surely as the Lord lives, who brought the Israelites from the northern land and from all the countries where he had sent them ...’ And I will bring them back to the land I gave to their ancestors.

<sup>16</sup>“I will soon send for many fishermen to come to this land,” says the Lord. “And they will catch the people of Judah. After that, I will send for many hunters to come to this land. And they will hunt the people of Judah on every mountain and hill and in the cracks of the rocks. <sup>17</sup>I see everything they do. They cannot hide from me the things they do; their sin is not hidden from my eyes. <sup>18</sup>I will pay back the people of Judah twice for every one of their sins, because they have made my land unclean. They have filled my country with their hateful idols.”

<sup>19</sup>Lord, you are my strength and my protection, my safe place in times of trouble.

The nations will come to you from all over the world and say, “Our ancestors had only false gods, useless idols that didn’t help them.

<sup>20</sup>Can people make gods for themselves?

They will not really be gods!”

<sup>21</sup>The Lord says, “So I will teach those who make idols.

This time I will teach them about my power and my strength.

Then they will know

that my name is the Lord.

Judah's Guilty Heart

“The sin of the people of Judah is written with an iron tool.

Their sins were cut with a hard point into the stone that is their hearts.

Their sins were cut into the corners of their altars.

<sup>2</sup>Even their children remember their altars to idols and their Asherah idols beside the green trees and on the high hills.

<sup>3</sup>My mountain in the open country and your wealth and treasures
I will give away to other people.
I will give away the places of worship in your country,
because you sinned by worshipping there.

<sup>4</sup>You will lose the land I gave you,
and it is your own fault.

I will let your enemies take you as their slaves to a land you have never known.

This is because you have made my anger burn like a hot fire,
and it will burn forever.”

Trusting in Humans or God

<sup>5</sup>This is what the Lord says:

“A curse is placed on those who trust other people,
who depend on humans for strength,

who have stopped trusting the Lord.

<sup>6</sup>They are like a bush in a desert that grows in a land where no one lives,
a hot and dry land with bad soil.
They don't know about the good things God can give.

<sup>7</sup>“But the person who trusts in the Lord will be blessed.

The Lord will show him that he can be trusted.

<sup>8</sup>He will be strong, like a tree planted near water that sends its roots by a stream.
It is not afraid when the days are hot;
its leaves are always green.
It does not worry in a year when no rain comes;
it always produces fruit.

<sup>9</sup>“More than anything else, a person's mind is evil and cannot be healed.

No one truly understands it.

<sup>10</sup>But I, the Lord, look into a person's heart and test the mind.
So I can decide what each one deserves;
I can give each one the right payment for what he does.”

<sup>11</sup>Like a bird hatching an egg it did not lay, so are the people who get rich by cheating.
When their lives are half finished, they will lose their riches.

At the end of their lives, it will be clear they were fools.

<sup>12</sup>From the beginning our Temple has been honored

From the beginning, our Temple has been honored as a glorious throne for God.

<sup>13</sup>Lord, hope of Israel,
those who leave you will be shamed.
People who quit following the Lord will be like a name written in the dust, because they have left the Lord, the spring of living
water.

Jeremiah's Third Complaint

<sup>14</sup>Lord, heal me, and I will truly be healed.
Save me, and I will truly be saved.
You are the one I praise.

<sup>15</sup>The people of Judah keep asking me, “Where is the word from the Lord?
Let's see that message come true!”

<sup>16</sup>Lord, I didn't run away from being the shepherd you wanted.

I didn't want the terrible day to come.
You know everything I have said;
you see all that is happening.

<sup>17</sup>Don't be a terror to me.
I run to you for safety in times of trouble.

<sup>18</sup>Make those who are hurting me be ashamed, but don't bring shame to me.

Let them be terrified,
but keep me from terror.
Bring the day of disaster on my enemies.

Destroy them, and destroy them again.

Keeping the Sabbath Holy

<sup>19</sup>This is what the Lord said to me: “Go and stand at the People’s Gate of Jerusalem, where the kings of Judah go in and out. And then go to all the other gates of Jerusalem. <sup>20</sup>Say to them there: ‘Hear the word of the Lord, kings of Judah, all you people of Judah, and all who live in Jerusalem, who come through these gates into the city. <sup>21</sup>This is what the Lord says: Be careful not to carry a load on the Sabbath day or bring it through the gates of Jerusalem. <sup>22</sup>Don’t take a load out of your houses on the Sabbath or do any work on that day. But keep the Sabbath as a holy day, as I commanded your ancestors. <sup>23</sup>But your ancestors did not listen or pay attention to me. They were very stubborn and did not listen. I punished them, but it didn’t do any good. <sup>24</sup>But you must be careful to obey me, says the Lord. You must not bring a load through the gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath, but you must keep the Sabbath as a holy day and not do any work on that day.

<sup>25</sup>“If you obey this command, kings who sit on David’s throne will come through the gates of Jerusalem with their officers. They will come riding in chariots and on horses, along with the people of Judah and Jerusalem. And the city of Jerusalem will have people living in it forever. <sup>26</sup>People will come to Jerusalem from the villages around it, from the towns of Judah, from the land of Benjamin, from the western hills, from the mountains, and from southern Judah. They will all bring to the Temple of the Lord burnt offerings, sacrifices, grain offerings, incense, and offerings to show thanks to God.

<sup>27</sup>But you must obey me and keep the Sabbath day as a holy day. You must not carry any loads into Jerusalem on the Sabbath. If you don't obey me, I will start a fire at the gates of Jerusalem, and it will burn until it burns even the strong towers. And it will not be put out.”

Life Lessons

Jeremiah 18:1–20:18

Situation

God sent Jeremiah to a potter's shop. While there, God told him that Jerusalem would be destroyed as easily as a clay pot. The people persecuted Jeremiah for his unpopular message.

Observation

God shapes our lives like a potter shapes clay.

Inspiration

The prophet was in the pits. Literally. Like Poe's fanciful character, he was "sick, sick unto death." Swamped with disillusionment and drowning in despair, he cursed the day he was born and wondered why an abortion wasn't performed, killing him prior to his birth....

An exaggeration? Not hardly. Read the record for yourself. Jeremiah's journal holds nothing back. In chapter 20 the chief officer in the temple had him beaten (forty lashes), then placed in stocks. That means his feet, hands, and neck were secured in a torturous device that caused the body to be bent almost double. That happened after he was beaten! Why? Had he committed some crime? No. He had simply declared the truth. He had done what was right—and this is what he got in return. It hurt him deeply.

On top of all that, sarcastic whisperings swirled about. His once-trusted friends tagged him with a nickname—MAGOR-MISSABIB—meaning "terror on every side.” That also hurt. He must have felt like a limp rag doll in the mouth of a snarling Doberman....

The man is in anguish. Prophet or not, he is struggling with God’s justice, His strange treatment. Deep down he is questioning His presence. “Where is He? Why has Jehovah vanished at a time when I need Him the most?” ...

What desperate feelings!

And one need not be ... doubled over in stocks and beaten with rods. No, sometimes they come in the dark, long tunnel of suffering when pain won’t go away. Or when a marriage partner who promised to stay “for better or worse” breaks that vow. Or when a long-sought-after dream goes up in smoke. Or when we kiss a loved one goodbye for the last time.

Not always ... but sometimes (usually unspoken and hidden away in the secret vaults of our minds) we question Jehovah’s justice. We ask, “Is He absent today?”...

At those times I’m tempted to say what the prophet said:

I will not remember Him or speak anymore in His name ... (20:9a).

“That’s it! I’m tossing in my collar. No more sermons or devotionals for this preacher. Secular job here I come!” But right about the time I start to jump I experience what Jeremiah admitted:

... Then in my heart it becomes like a burning fire shut up in my bones; and I am weary of holding it in, and I cannot endure it (20:9b).

Directly sent from God is this surge of hope, this cleansing fire of confidence, this renewed sense of determination swelling up within me. And the disillusionment is quietly replaced with His reassurance as He reminds me of that glorious climax to the hymn I often sing back to Him in full volume:

“All is well, all is well!”

Thank God, it is. Recently, I doubted that—like Jeremiah. But not today. Reassurance has returned. Divine perspective has provided a fresh breeze of hope in the pits. I have determined that disillusionment must go. Now ... not later. (From Growing Strong in the Seasons of Life by Charles Swindoll)

Application

Is your minister close to being burned out? Does he ever feel like throwing in the towel? Look for ways to encourage him. After church on Sunday, tell him what you learned from the message. During the week, call, write, or stop by the church office and share what makes his ministry helpful to you.

The Potter and the Clay

This is the word the Lord spoke to Jeremiah: <sup>2</sup>“Go down to the potter’s house, and I will give you my message there.” <sup>3</sup>So I went down to the potter’s house and saw him working at the potter’s wheel. <sup>4</sup>He was using his hands to make a pot from clay, but something went wrong with it. So he used that clay to make another pot the way he wanted it to be.

<sup>5</sup>Then the Lord spoke his word to me: <sup>6</sup>“Family of Israel, can’t I do the same thing with you?” says the Lord. “You are in my hands like the clay in the potter’s hands. <sup>7</sup>There may come a time when I will speak about a nation or a kingdom that I will pull up by its roots or that I will pull down to destroy it. <sup>8</sup>But if the people of that nation stop doing the evil they have done, I will change my mind and not carry out my plans to bring disaster to them. <sup>9</sup>There may come another time when I will speak about a nation that I will build up and plant. <sup>10</sup>But if I see it doing evil by not obeying me, I will change my mind and not carry out my plans to do good for them.

<sup>11</sup>“So, say this to the people of Judah and those who live in Jerusalem: ‘This is what the Lord says: I am preparing disaster for you and making plans against you. So stop doing evil. Change your ways and do what is right.’ <sup>12</sup>But the people of Judah will answer, ‘It won’t do any good to try! We will continue to do what we want. Each of us will do what his stubborn, evil heart wants!’”

<sup>13</sup>So this is what the Lord says:

“Ask the people in other nations this question:
‘Have you ever heard anything like this?’
The people of Israel have done a horrible thing.

<sup>14</sup>The snow on the mountains of Lebanon never melts from the rocks.
Its cool, flowing streams
do not dry up.

<sup>15</sup>But my people have forgotten me.
They burn incense to worthless idols and have stumbled in what they do and in the old ways of their ancestors.
They walk along back roads and on poor highways.

<sup>16</sup>So Judah’s country will become an empty desert.
People will not stop making fun of it.
They will shake their heads as they pass by;
they will be shocked at how the country was destroyed.

<sup>17</sup>Like a strong east wind,
I will scatter them before their enemies.
At that awful time they will not see me coming to help
them;
they will see me leaving.”

Jeremiah’s Fourth Complaint

<sup>18</sup>Then the people said, “Come, let’s make plans against Jeremiah. Surely the teaching of the law by the priest will not be lost. We will still have the advice from the wise men and the words of the prophets. So let’s ruin him by telling lies about him. We won’t pay attention to anything he says.”

<sup>19</sup>Lord, listen to me.

Listen to what my accusers are saying!

<sup>20</sup>Good should not be paid back with evil,
but they have dug a pit in order to kill me.

Remember that I stood before you and asked you to do good things for these people and to turn your anger away from them.

<sup>21</sup>So now, let their children starve,
and let their enemies kill them with swords.

Let their wives lose their children and husbands.

Let the men from Judah be put to death and the young men be killed with swords in battle.

<sup>22</sup>Let them cry out in their houses
when you bring an enemy against them suddenly.
Let all this happen, because my enemies have dug a pit to capture me and have hidden traps for my feet.

<sup>23</sup>Lord, you know about all their plans to kill me.

Don’t forgive their crimes or erase their sins from your mind.
Make them fall from their places;
punish them while you are angry.

Judah Is like a Broken Jar

This is what the Lord said to me: “Go and buy a clay jar from a potter. <sup>2</sup>Take some of the older leaders of the people and the priests, and go out to the Valley of Ben Hinnom, near the front of the Potsherd Gate. There speak the words I tell you. <sup>3</sup>Say, ‘Kings of Judah and people of Jerusalem, listen to this message from the Lord. This is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: I will soon bring a disaster on this place that will amaze and frighten everyone who hears about it. <sup>4</sup>The people of Judah have quit following me. They have made this a place for foreign gods. They have burned sacrifices to other gods that neither they, nor their ancestors, nor the kings of Judah had ever known before. They filled this place with the blood of innocent people. <sup>5</sup>They have built places on hilltops to worship Baal, where they burn their children in the fire to Baal. That is something I did not command or speak about; it never even entered my mind. <sup>6</sup>Now people call this place the Valley of Ben Hinnom or Topheth, but the days are coming, says the Lord, when people will call it the Valley of Killing.

<sup>7</sup>“At this place I will ruin the plans of the people of Judah and Jerusalem. The enemy will chase them, and I will have them killed with swords. I will make their dead bodies food for the birds and wild animals. <sup>8</sup>I will completely destroy this city. People will make fun of it and shake their heads when they pass by. They will be shocked when they see how the city was destroyed. <sup>9</sup>An enemy army will surround the city and will not let anyone go out to get food. I will make the people so hungry that they will eat the bodies of their own sons and daughters, and then they will begin to eat each other.’

<sup>10</sup>“While the people with you are watching, break that jar. <sup>11</sup>Then say this: ‘The Lord All-Powerful says: I will break this nation and this city just as someone breaks a clay jar that cannot be put back together again. The dead people will be buried here in Topheth, because there is no other place for them. <sup>12</sup>This is what I will do to these people and to this place, says the Lord. I will make this city like Topheth. <sup>13</sup>The houses in Jerusalem and the king’s palaces will become as unclean as this place, Topheth, because the people worshiped gods on the roofs of their houses. They worshiped the stars and burned incense to honor them and gave drink offerings to gods.’”

<sup>14</sup>When Jeremiah left Topheth where the Lord had sent him to prophesy, he went to the Lord’s Temple, stood in the courtyard, and said to all the people: <sup>15</sup>“This is what the Lord All-Powerful, the God of Israel, says: ‘I will soon bring disaster to Jerusalem and the villages around it, as I said I would. This will happen because the people are very stubborn and do not listen at all to what I say.’”

Pashhur Will Be Captured

Pashhur son of Immer was a priest and the highest officer in the Temple of the Lord. When he heard Jeremiah prophesying in the Temple courtyard, <sup>2</sup>he had Jeremiah the prophet beaten. And he locked Jeremiah's hands and feet between large blocks of wood at the Upper Gate of Benjamin of the Lord's Temple. <sup>3</sup>The next day when Pashhur took Jeremiah out of the blocks of wood, Jeremiah said to him, "The Lord's name for you is not Pashhur. Now his name for you is Terror on Every Side. <sup>4</sup>This is what the Lord says: 'I will soon make you a terror to yourself and to all your friends. You will watch enemies killing your friends with swords. And I will give all the people of Judah to the king of Babylon, who will take them away as captives to Babylon and then will kill them with swords. <sup>5</sup>I will give all the wealth of this city to its enemies—its goods, its valuables, and the treasures of the kings of Judah. The enemies will carry all those valuables off to Babylon. <sup>6</sup>And Pashhur, you and everyone in your house will be taken captive. You will be forced to go to Babylon, where you will die and be buried, you and your friends to whom you have prophesied lies.'"

Jeremiah's Fifth Complaint

<sup>7</sup>Lord, you tricked me, and I was fooled.
You are stronger than I am, so you won.
I have become a joke;
everyone makes fun of me all day long.

<sup>8</sup>Every time I speak, I shout.
I am always shouting about violence and destruction.
I tell the people about the message I received from the Lord,
but this only brings me insults.
The people make fun of me all day long.
<sup>9</sup>Sometimes I say to myself,
“I will forget about the Lord.
I will not speak anymore in his name.”
But then his message becomes like a burning fire inside me,
deep within my bones.
I get tired of trying to hold it inside of me,
and finally, I cannot hold it in.
<sup>10</sup>I hear many people whispering about me:
“Terror on every side!
Tell on him! Let’s tell the rulers about him.”
My friends are all just waiting for me to make some mistake.
They are saying,
“Maybe we can trick him
so we can defeat him
and pay him back.”

<sup>11</sup>But the Lord is with me like a strong warrior, so those who are chasing me will trip and fall;
they will not defeat me.
They will be ashamed because they have failed,
and their shame will never be forgotten.

<sup>12</sup>Lord All-Powerful, you test good people;

you look deeply into the heart and mind of a person.
I have told you my arguments against these people, so let me see you give them the punishment they deserve.

<sup>13</sup>Sing to the Lord!
Praise the Lord!
He saves the life of the poor
from the power of the wicked.

Jeremiah's Sixth Complaint

<sup>14</sup>Let there be a curse on the day I was born; let there be no blessing on the day when my mother gave birth to me.

<sup>15</sup>Let there be a curse on the man who brought my father the news:
"You have a son!"
This made my father very glad.

<sup>16</sup>Let that man be like the towns
the Lord destroyed without pity.
Let him hear loud crying in the morning
and battle cries at noon,

<sup>17</sup>because he did not kill me before I was born.
Then my mother would have been my grave;
she would have stayed pregnant forever.

<sup>18</sup>Why did I have to come out of my mother's body?
All I have known is trouble and sorrow,
and my life will end in shame.

Life Lessons

Jeremiah 21:1–23:40

Situation

God had allowed many disobedient kings to continue ruling. But now God forewarned the people of his plan for a harsh discipline if they once again refused to return to him. Nebuchadnezzar, the Babylonian king, attacked Jerusalem between 588 and 586 B.C. When he destroyed the city, he was fulfilling God's prophecy.

Observation

God makes clear what is right and wrong. When people choose to do wrong, God helps them see their sin. God's discipline arises from his love for his people.

Inspiration

Oftentimes we do not recognize the disciplining hand of God. When there are personal consequences resulting from our sin, such as an injury or a financial loss, we can usually recognize those right away. But sometimes God's discipline comes in forms that at first seem to have no relationship to what we have done. In time, however, the truth usually becomes apparent...

People who accept the discipline of God realize that His discipline is for their own protection. They do not view it as something negative. They see it as an expression of His love, for that is exactly what it is.

Imagine for a moment a child who has been told repeatedly not to play in the street. But he goes right ahead and does it anyway. His parents, if they are wise, will discipline him. Why? Because they are the parents and he is just a child and how dare he break their rules? No. They know that if he doesn't learn to stay out of the street, he could be killed or crippled. The disciplinary action they choose may seem painful to their child, but a simple spanking is far better than being hit by a car. A lesser evil is used to guard the child from a much greater evil.

So it is when God disciplines us. He is trying to keep us from the greater harm that comes from involvement with sin. We will not fully appreciate the love God has expressed toward us through His discipline until we get to heaven. (From Winning the War Within by Charles Stanley)

Application

Do you love your children? Don't be afraid to discipline them! Your thankless work will help them to become respected adults. Are you still a young person at home? When you are disciplined, realize that your parents want to help you become a respected adult. Thank them for it!

God Rejects King Zedekiah's Request

This is the word that the Lord spoke to Jeremiah. It came when Zedekiah king of Judah sent Pashhur son of Malkijah and the priest Zephaniah son of Maaseiah to Jeremiah.<sup>2</sup>They said, "Ask the Lord for us what will happen, because Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon is attacking us. Maybe the Lord will do miracles for us as he did in the past so Nebuchadnezzar will stop attacking us and leave."
